CARES Act Funding — Child Nutrition Programs

Summer Food Service Program and Other Child Nutrition Programs

Beginning in March 2020, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) began approving waivers that allowed child nutrition sponsors to provide meals to children during COVID-19 school closures under the USDA Summer Food Service Program (SFSP). Not all school districts participate in SFSP as eligibility is limited to low-income areas; however, the waivers allowed for all children in all areas to receive free meals through SFSP.

USDA's Food and Nutrition Service is extending a series of nationwide waivers for the SFSP and Seamless Summer Option (SSO) through the end of 2020, or until available funding runs out. This includes:

- Allowing SFSP and SSO meals to be served in all areas and at no cost.
- Permitting meals to be served outside of the typically-required group settings and meal times.
- Waiving meal pattern requirements as necessary.
- Allowing parents and guardians to pick up meals for their children.

The Center on Budget and Policy Priorities (CBPP) has been providing updated information on different ways that states have been providing meals to children outside of school food service meal programs. The report describes strategies used by states including:

- A pandemic Electronic Benefit Transfer Program (P-EBT), which was a program used in Iowa.
- An emergency allotment to provide emergency supplementary benefits.
- A pilot of an online purchasing program.
