

the Waterloo Business College and at the age of 18 taught his first term of school. He followed the profession of teacher for five years and during vacation read law in the office of Boies & Boies.

When the Spanish-American war broke out he enlisted as a private in Co. B, forty-ninth Iowa volunteer infantry, and served through the war. In common with many of his companions in southern camps, he became ill and for a time his life was despaired of. He suffered from typhoid fever and pneumonia, and never fully recovered from the effects of the illness.

At the close of the war Mr. Feely entered the Iowa State University and was graduated from the law department in 1901. June 12 of that year he was admitted to practice. He formed a partnership with John H. Hildebrand, also a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and a classmate in the university. This partnership continued until November 1, 1904, when it was dissolved and the firm of Feely & Feely was formed. Guy A. Feely was the senior partner and Elmer F. Feely the junior member.

Mr. Feely was married to Miss Delia Mae Burk, in Waterloo, October 19, 1904. One daughter, Irene Mae, was born.

In 1906 Guy A. Feely was elected to membership in the thirty-second general assembly, and was re-elected to the thirty-third general assembly. So deeply was he enshrined in the affections of his fellow members of the general assembly that they elected him speaker of the House at the opening of the thirty-third session, in 1909.

Few men of his years ever attained a greater popularity in his community than did Mr. Feely. Few had a brighter prospect for the future. He was public spirited, and a devoted husband and father. Mr. Feely, who was gifted with a cheery disposition, always ready with a witty remark or story, won to himself a wide circle of friends. He was a member of the Masonic, Elks and Knights of Pythias orders. His friendships were state wide. As an attorney he attained well-merited honor at the Black Hawk county bar.

Resolved, that in the death of Guy A. Feely the state and county have lost an honorable and worthy citizen, and we hereby extend to the relatives and friends our tribute of respect; and be it further

Resolved, that these resolutions of respect be printed in the journal of the House and the chief clerk be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

ARCH W. McFARLANE,

STANLEY R. SMITH,

T. J. O'DONNELL,

Committee.

Adopted February 8, 1917.

HON. TIMOTHY C. CLARY.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions respecting the life, character and public services of the Hon. Timothy C. Clary, late member of the House of Representatives of the Thirtieth,

Thirty-first, Thirty-second and Thirty-second extra General Assemblies of Iowa, beg leave to report the following memorial:

Hon. Timothy C. Clary was born in Manitowoc, Wisconsin, November 18, 1855, and came with his parents to this state in 1876, or about that time, and settled in Chickasaw county, where his entire life has been spent. Mr. Clary attended the public school in Lawler, and when he arrived at suitable age commenced teaching, and remained in the profession for several years. He then went to Valparaiso, Indiana, where he took a law course and when he graduated returned home and entered upon the practice of his profession. He entered into partnership with W. J. Springer, now Judge Springer, and they were together until Judge Springer's appointment to the bench. In the meantime, however, they had taken into the firm M. F. Condon, and the firm name was Springer, Clary & Condon. This firm had a large practice in all the courts of this state and tried many cases in other states and were regarded as a strong firm of lawyers. As a lawyer T. C. Clary had few equals; he devoted himself to the work and prepared his cases with great care and was very successful in the trial of some very difficult and important cases both here and in Minnesota.

In 1891 on the 27th of May, he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Martin of Lawler, and they immediately moved to New Hampton, Iowa, and have resided there ever since. Eight children were the fruit of this union, seven of whom with the wife and mother survive him.

Twice the people of New Hampton chose him mayor, five times the people of the county chose him for county attorney, and he was elected to represent the county of Chickasaw in the Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second and Thirty-second extra General Assemblies of the State of Iowa.

He was a good citizen, loyal and true, a dependable man and honest in his law practice as he was in business, a good neighbor, and a good friend. His life as a whole stands out very clear in nobility of purpose and breadth of sound character. He had just reached the years where, coupled with great energy and wide, accurate knowledge of the law made him a formidable man at the bar. His clearness of vision relative to legal points applicable to a case gave him great power. His knowledge of men made him a most formidable man to meet in any case tried to a jury. A splendid prosecutor in criminal matters, because of his innate sense of right. He went to the heart of a case with directness and force and his ability as an orator was not by any means the least of his accomplishments.

Now Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives presents this tribute to the memory of a faithful public servant and mourns that a life so useful was not longer spared to the community and the state that he was so well calculated to serve.

Be It Further Resolved, That this memorial be spread upon the journal of the House and that an engrossed copy of the same be prepared and forwarded to the bereaved family of the deceased.

Respectfully submitted,

P. L. KEPPLÉ,
T. F. GRIFFIN,
LEE W. ELWOOD,
Committee.

Adopted March 20, 1917.

HON. CHARLES N. DOANE.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to prepare and present suitable resolutions respecting the life, character and public services of the Hon. Charles N. Doane, who represented Jasper County in the 24th and 25th general assemblies, beg to submit the following report:

Hon. Charles Nelson Doane was borne at Bellows Falls, Vt., July 31, 1842 and died in the hospital at Kirksville, Mo., March 28, 1916, aged 73 years, 7 months and 28 days.

He came to Chicago when ten years of age and later moved to Yorkville, Ill., here he joined the 36th Illinois, Company E, and served eighteen months. After eighteen months he was discharged on account of wounds. He enlisted again August 18, 1861.

After his discharge he did bridge work in Tennessee helping to transport troops. He was bridge foreman and followed this profession from 1863 to 1869. He was one of the bridge foremen who built the first bridges for the Union Pacific from Council Bluffs to Cheyenne.

In 1869 he came to Iowa and settled upon a farm situated in Richland Township, Jasper County, Iowa. He was married to Mary F. Dean, April 26, 1870. Three children were born to them, Albert M., Warren L., and Henry C. Doane.

Mr. Doane was secretary of the school board in Richland Township for 18 years. He was a member of the soldiers relief commission for 21 years and elected representative for Jasper County, serving two terms in the 24th and 25th general assemblies in 1892 and 1894.

He left the farm in 1899 and was engaged in the insurance business until his death. He was president of the Mutual Fire & Tornado Association at Newton, Iowa, from 1902 until 1916.

He was also president of the Protected Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Des Moines from 1910 until 1916.

He was director of the Iowa Mercantile Company of Spencer, Iowa, for several years, also a member of the Masonic order, G. A. R. and Yeoman.

In the death of Charles N. Doane the state has lost a good and worthy citizen and a man of strong character.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we hereby extend our sympathy to the surviving family, and