CARL M. REED,
JOHN R. PRICE,
H. S. VAN ALSTINE.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

Senator Holdoegel spoke as follows:

The president has just extended to me, the opportunity of speaking a few words in memory of this distinguished senator, this friend whom we remember as one who was always directed by the best of motives while serving here. We who served with him in the Senate, those of us who were in the Thirty-seventh General Assembly as beginners, were very much benefited by his friendship and his advice. Senator Enger was a man of clean life, a man of strong personality, a man of self-sacrificing disposition, one who put the interests of the state above his own private interests, one who did not hesitate to take his own time and expense to go into other states to investigate the workings of state institutions and manufacturers there, one who was particularly interested that Iowa government should be a particularly clean government, one which should be divested of all of the things that go to make up questionable features of government, one who was always interested in the economical and just administration of our laws. In fact, we knew Senator Enger to be a very fine Christian gentleman, of a sympathetic nature, always able to assist new men, always able to devote his energies for the benefit of the state.

Senator Van Alstine spoke as follows:

I was one of the committee on that report, and I want to say that I believe I met Senator Enger at the time he was a member of the Thirty-third or Thirty-fourth General Assembly, when I came down here with reference to some matter before the legislature, and I was greatly impressed when I met Senator Enger with the cordial sympathy which he gave to me always, and the conscientious interest which he displayed in everything pertaining to everything that he conceived to be for the welfare of the state. Then when I came into this body as a novice, it was my good fortune to be seated next to Senator Enger, and as suggested by the Senator from Calhoun, his experience in legislative matters and his kindly attitude and sympathy was a wonderful help to me, and a help which came at a time when I needed it. I shall never forget the kindly soul that went when Senator Enger took the long journey.
