

and Taylor counties) in the Forty-first and Forty-second General Assemblies.

In paying tribute to a friend and citizen of the past fifty years so many splendid actions of kindness and deeds of mercy come to the mind that it is almost impossible in a short space of time to enumerate them. Those who knew our friend for so many years will remember many times when some one destitute or in dire need was very quietly helped by having the necessities of life brought to their home, or assistance given enabling someone more unfortunate to obtain a position. These acts of kindness were all very quietly done, with no particular demonstration.

To be universally spoken of as a good man is as high a tribute as can be paid to anyone. This was a common expression to all who knew him, or came within the range of his influence. He was a good man, not negatively or positively, but actively, consistently, efficiently, persistently, and quietly. He loved his fellowmen, his community, his state, and his nation, and offered to each the fullest measure of devotion. To his loved ones and friends his useful life will be entrenched in their memories, and although he is gone from our sight the shadows will disappear and the sunshine will return and into eternity the stars of hope shall shine brighter unto the perfect day.

Therefore, Be It Resolved By the House of Representatives of the Forty-eighth General Assembly, That in the passing of the Honorable Samuel Edwin Fackler, the state of Iowa has lost a valued and honored citizen, a man of great character and worth, and the House of Representatives of Iowa, by this resolution, tenders its sympathy to the family of the deceased.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House, and that the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.
