

REMARKS BY MR. JACOBSON.

Mr. Lomen was born in Norway, June 10, 1825, and, with his wife, emigrated to America in 1848. He resided in Wisconsin two years, moving from there to Winneshiek county, Iowa, in 1850. Being one of the very earliest settlers in that part of the State, the government lands not yet being for sale, he took a preemption claim to which he afterwards acquired title. Like all early settlers Mr. Lomen had to encounter the hardships and privations of pioneer life but with a brave heart and willing hands these were surmounted. He grew up with the country, acquired a competency, and was surrounded by a large family of children whose education was one of the chief aims of his life.

Mr. Lomen was twice married. Six children by his first wife, and his second wife survive him.

During his lifetime he held numerous offices, serving more particularly for many years as a member of the Board of County Supervisors representing his home town of Springfield in that capacity. In 1869 he was elected as a member of the House of Representatives for the Thirteenth General Assembly in which position he served his constituents ably and faithfully and with honor to himself. He lived a long, useful and honorable life to which fact all who knew him will bear cheerful testimony.

HON. L. G. KINNE.

MR. SPEAKER: The committee appointed to draft resolutions of the death of Judge L. G. Kinne, beg leave to report:

Judge L. G. Kinne was born in Syracuse, N. Y., November 5, 1846, and died at Des Moines, Iowa, March 16, 1906. He was a graduate from the Law Department of the University of Michigan. After his graduation he practiced law at Mendota, Illinois and at Toledo, Iowa. At Toledo he held the offices of Mayor, City Attorney, and President of the School Board. In 1881 and 1883 he was the nominee of the Democratic party for governor. He was prominent in the councils of his party. For many years he was secretary and chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. He represented at different times his party in national conventions as a delegate from his district and as a delegate at large. For many years he served as judge of the district court of the 17th Judicial District of Iowa, and later as judge of the Supreme Court. He has been a continuous member of the Board of Control of State Institutions since the date of its organization. As president of the State Bar Association, as a lecturer in the law departments of the State University and the Iowa College of Law in Des Moines, and as a member of important committees of the American
