

Resolved, That we extend to his family and those nearest him, our sincere sympathy in their sorrow. That the Secretary of the Senate is hereby instructed to transmit an engrossed copy of these resolutions to the bereaved family, and to enter the same upon the Journal of the Senate.

L. L. TAYLOR,
S. H. HARPER,
MARION F. STOOKEY,
Committee.

Senator Harper spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—I have been requested to submit a few remarks on the memory of the late Col. Moore, but will make them brief, owing to the value of time.

I knew Col. Moore and I valued him as one of my most cherished friends. His was a splendid illustration, a living example of the simple life; an orphan, an apprentice, a printer, a newspaper editor, a farmer, a country merchant, a postmaster, a soldier and a legislator. He was one of the common people. He did not aspire to riches, greatness or fame. He was in touch always with the plain people. He knew their wants, their needs, their foibles, their faults and their grievances. He knew their virtues and their good qualities. He was always ready to aid them, to sympathize with them and to be one of them. Col. Moore was a good citizen, a kind and loving husband, a good neighbor, a warm-hearted friend, a gallant soldier, a patriotic American. He has passed away. He died at his home in Bloomfield, peacefully, among his friends, where he had lived so long, mourned by all who knew him. He has fought the good fight, he has finished the course, he has crossed the bar, he has answered to taps, he has been summoned above by the Grand Commander of the Universe.

Senator Harper moved the adoption of the resolutions by a rising vote.

Carried unanimously.

Senator Stookey moved that the remarks made by Senator Harper be printed in the Journal.

Carried.

The President announced that he had signed in the presence of the Senate, Senate files Nos. 315, 347, 16, 329, 216, 277, 246, 205, 247, 110.
