The Board of Parole is charged with the duty of investigating and studying the cases of prisoners confined in the penitentiary and the men's and women's reformatories and is authorized to release on parole any prisoner, except those serving life terms, after serving the portion of the maximum time it deems proper. Parole rules are provided which must be observed by the person on parole and for the violation of which he may be remanded to prison. The board through its parole agents supervise probationers placed under its supervision by the district courts and also parolees and probationers from other states by reciprocal agreement. The board serves in an advisory capacity to the governor, since under the law all applicants for pardons or commutations in felony cases must be referred to the board by the governor for recommendation before he may act upon them. By statute, each member serves as chairman during the last two years of his appointment.
