OPENING REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE

President Schneider addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

Good morning.

Welcome to the First Session of the 88th General Assembly.

I would like to offer a special welcome to the new members of the Iowa Senate – Senator Whiting, Senator J. Smith, Senator Nunn, Senator Celsi, Senator Koelker, Senator T. Taylor, Senator Wahls, Senator Miller-Meeks and Senator Cournoyer.

It strikes me the new members hold almost 1 in 5 seats of this body. This is a positive sign that Iowans are willing to give their time and talents at the state Capitol in the service of their neighbors. While this is a sacrifice for some, especially those who come from the far corners of our state, I can speak for those who have served in this chamber before when I say it is also extremely humbling and a unique honor to serve the people of this state in the Iowa Senate. I wish you all the best during this General Assembly.

I am proud to say Iowa is thriving. Our state boasts the lowest unemployment rate in the country. Thanks in part to the reforms passed during the last General Assembly, Iowans' incomes are rising, their taxes are shrinking, and our economy is growing.

Most of you have probably heard that US News & World Report ranked Iowa the #1 state in the country. This recognition is something we should all be proud of. After all, it didn't come about because of one General Assembly. It is something that we have worked on collectively over many years, and through split control of government.

Being #1 doesn't give us the freedom to rest on our laurels. Iowa may be the #1 state in America today, but the other 49 states are looking for opportunities to make their states more desirable. Becoming the best hard, but it's more difficult to stay there.

Being #1 does not mean that we have achieved perfection. We still face many challenges: brain drain; workforce training; improving our business climate; improving student achievement in education; enhancing our quality of life. Most of us would agree that these are all areas that need our attention. I believe we are up to the challenge.

Addressing some of these challenges means getting government out of the way. Taxes that hinder growth will result in fewer jobs, lower incomes, and less economic development.

We need to find ways to continue to reduce the tax burden on hardworking Iowans – particularly when it comes to property taxes, which have an unfair, disparate impact on Iowans who live on fixed incomes, like many seniors.

Regulations and job licensing requirements can go too far. Some regulations and requirements are necessary for public health or safety reasons. But if they go too far, they can trap the unwary in debt and discourage people with ambition from taking a chance to start a business or a new career, crushing the American dream.

Addressing some of these challenges requires government involvement. We must continue to invest in education and workforce development if we want to ensure that all Iowans are able to share in the state's success. We must ensure we have a safety net for those who are most in need.

As we make these and other investments, we need to remember that taxpayers expect us to use their tax dollars wisely. Doing so requires setting priorities.

I look forward to working with my colleagues in the Senate, and with the House and Governor Reynolds, to address these challenges. It won't be easy, but I have faith in our ability to overcome adversity.

Part of my faith lies in our proud tradition of being a true citizen legislature. In this chamber today, virtually none of us is a career politician. Many of us leave our regular occupations as farmers, teachers, lawyers, or business owners to serve in the state capitol. We know that we need to get our work done so we can return to our normal lives.

I hope this means the Iowa Senate can operate without the harsh partisanship that is infecting our current political discourse. For too many politicians, politics has become a sport. Some politicians focus on supporting their own team, or furthering their own ambitions, rather than shaping good public policy. When that happens, discourse suffers.

As we all know, it is a violation of a long-time Senate rule to question the motives of another senator on the floor. The rule justifiably recognizes what we sometimes forget – every senator deserves the benefit of the doubt when it comes to his or her motives on an issue. I believe that every person here decided to run because they have the best interests of their constituents in mind. I believe that is what drives the passion each of us has for the work we do here. I hope we can all aspire to keep this in mind as we go through this legislative session.

As elected officials and leaders of our state, we have a responsibility to bring people together. The time for drawing contrasts is over. The time to govern has arrived. We are all Iowans. We are all here to make our state a better place for our families, neighbors and communities. Now is the time to come together and focus on Iowa's future.

I wish everyone in this chamber, including the staff, clerks and pages, a happy, healthy and productive legislative session. I look forward to working with all of you to continue the success of our state.

REMARKS BY THE MINORITY LEADER

Senator Petersen addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

Thank you, President Schneider.

Welcome to the Iowa Senate and the beginning of the 2019 Legislative Session.

Welcome back to our returning Senators and staff and a warm welcome to our new Senators, pages, clerks and staff.

The Iowa Senate has called this chamber home for more than 130 years.

The laws and budgets we pass or don't pass this session have the ability to impact the lives of every Generation living in our state today – and Generations who will be sitting in our chairs long after we are gone.

We have six generations represented in this chamber – the Greatest Generation, the Silent Generation, Baby Boomers, Generation X, Millennials, and even Generation Z with our Senate Pages.

I fall into the category of Generation X. I have seen how public policies and leaders can shape our lives and even impact our future.

My pathway to public service began with my mom – a member of the Silent Generation.

She is the youngest of 10 children. Her mom, my grandma, was born in 1891. My grandparents had children in public schools for nearly 50 consecutive years and each one of them graduated from high school.

With 10 kids, you can imagine, my maternal grandparents didn't have much money. Social Security wasn't offered to farm families until the mid-1950s when my mom was in high school.

When the federal government made a decision to let farmers and domestic workers sign up for Social Security – my mom took her parents to the nearest city to apply.

My grandma was born before the state of Missouri kept birth records so she brought a family Bible that had her birthdate written in it and letters attesting to its accuracy from her living siblings. Fortunately, the federal government accepted it as proof. It was Social Security and Medicare that gave my grandma enough economic security to stay in her home until she was 97. It also allowed her children to focus forward on the financial needs of their own families instead of worrying about their mom.

My mom got to go to college thanks to small acts of kindness from people who wanted to help her succeed.

My uncle Earl was one of those people. He is a quiet, unassuming man – a retired pig farmer who lives in Bedford, Iowa.

As a new farmer, he gave his little sister an old sow and told her she could have the litter. That helped pay for a year of her college.

My grandpa made a similar deal with her another year.

And a woman from Bedford who had taught home ec at my mom's high school just across the state line in Missouri encouraged my mom to go to college, and offered her an interest-free loan. My mom took her up on her offer and borrowed $300, which she paid back before she graduated.

My mom was lucky. College was within reach for families – even if you grew up without means. And she had amazing public school teachers who pushed her to follow her dreams.

We must work together to put the opportunity to go to college and community college back in the hands of more Iowa families. And we cannot afford to strap our Millennials and Generation Z with student debt – that holds them back from getting married, starting a family, and starting a new business.

My mom left Missouri and moved to Iowa for a job – as a high school home ec teacher in Brooklyn. There, she met my dad – the ag teacher. Unlike my mom, my dad was an only child. My grandparents met on my grandpa's family farm in Denmark while they were teenagers.

My grandpa dreamed of coming to the United States and at 22 he left Denmark and made his way to West Branch to farm. Five years later, he had enough money to go back to Denmark to ask my grandma to marry him. This was just a few years before WWII.

My grandma followed my grandpa back to the United States two weeks later— not knowing a word of English. They spoke Danish at home and relied on public school teachers to help my dad learn English.

Immigrants make our state stronger. I am so proud to be the granddaughter of immigrants. I am proud of the financial assistance other immigrants offered me in the form of a college scholarship. I am also proud of our state's reputation of supporting refugees. Democrats stand ready to work on immigration policy that will help our state's economy and continue its reputation of being a welcoming place to live.

My parents taught school in Brooklyn and Pella before Pioneer Hi-Bred recruited my dad away from teaching to Des Moines when my mom was pregnant with me.

Three years later, my mom would find herself a single parent with two young girls to raise after losing my dad to cancer.

My sister Barb and I are so grateful our mom had an education to fall back on when she needed to re-enter the workforce to keep our family out of poverty. Democrats believe public education is the great equalizer.

As my mom looked for work, the minister at our church, Jim Kratz, encouraged her to apply for a new job – as a lobbyist for a coalition of various faith communities who were coming together to push social justice policies.

I watched her spend her career standing up for people and being a strong voice for people who needed it most.

Each generation is impacted by previous generations...

Both of my grandmas were born before women had the right to vote.

Today, just two generations later in my family – I serve as a leader in the Iowa Senate, and our state has its first elected female governor, we have gender balance in our federal delegation in Washington, DC, and more women than ever before are serving in the Iowa Legislature.

Next year, 2020, will mark the 100th anniversary of women's right to vote. Let's put Iowans at the front of the line in elections. IT IS TIME to expand voting rights for our next generation. Let's restore voting rights for felons. Let's help every Iowa teen-ager, angler, hunter, taxpayer and new citizen get automatic voter registration. We should be doing all we can to make Iowa the #1 voting state in the nation to go along with our status as the first caucus state in the nation.

We can make this happen.

My grandpa was born the year the bicycle was invented. My grandma was born the year before the first gasoline-powered tractor was invented in Clayton County, Iowa.

My parents were born the same year as Iowa State University (then Iowa State College) built the first automatic electronic digital computer that weighed 700 pounds. I was born the same year the pocket calculator was invented and my youngest was born the year the iPhone was invented.

Getting electricity to rural areas was the issue of my grandparents' generation.

Let's help more Iowans enjoy the many advantages of innovative renewable energy and renewable fuels – to help lower their utility bills and reduce our dependence on foreign oil. Unfortunately, last year's energy power grab legislation pushed by Republican lawmakers, the Governor and government-protected energy monopolies shoved Iowans to the back of the line, making energy efficiency less accessible to hard-working Iowans and seniors.

Communications is one of the biggest infrastructure needs of our time. No matter where you live in Iowa, you should have access to technology. Let's make a commitment to put Iowans at the front of the line for access to technology before another multi-billion dollar company gets access to another big check from the economic development cookie jar.

Let's put workers and businesses begging for a bigger, more skilled workforce at the front of the line this year. Democrats will be at the center of the fight to fully fund job training programs and apprenticeships that help Iowa workers get better opportunities for a decent life and human dignity.

Instead of campaign rhetoric and empty promises, we need to offer Iowans a brighter future. It's time to give Iowans a raise, provide equal pay for equal work, safe pregnancy accommodations in the workplace, affordable safe child care options, and let's quit sticking it to Iowa taxpayers to subsidize low-wage employers who don't pay enough for their employees to have a decent place to live and enough money to feed their families. Democrats stand ready to reward businesses that put their employees at the front of the line.

When we put people at the front of the line, good things can happen.

Instead of "reforming" stuff that isn't broken, let's fix the things that are broken like...

Medicaid Privatization – Let's finally get honest answers and more accountability for Iowa Medicaid recipients, health care providers and taxpayers.

Protecting our Children – It shouldn't be too much to ask to put our kids at the front of the line.

Today, I renew my call to get rid of the Statute of Limitations that puts the rights of serial predators ahead of survivors. As William Paul Young, author of "The Shack," once said: "I don't think there is anything that is the equivalent of sexual abuse that tears apart the fabric of the human soul. It empowers the lies of shame."

Let's Care for Our Seniors

There's no reason to push seniors to the back of the line by "fixing" or "tweaking" a retirement system doesn't need to be fixed. Hard-working Iowans deserve retirement security.

Let's Keep Our Promises

Let's keep our promises by fully funding the water quality initiative and mental health expansion...and let's not renege on any promises that will result in higher property taxes for homeowners!!!

And let's restore safe health care for women

Republicans "reformed" family planning program has not improved access – in fact, participation has dropped more than 70 percent. Democrats stand ready to help women – especially those in rural areas and small towns – get access to affordable health care.

When we lift up Iowans, we create a better society for all.

Finally, I renew my commitment today to Senators Whitver and Schneider to continue working in a bipartisan manner to make the Iowa Capitol a safe environment for everyone. That includes making appropriate changes to the Senate's Code of Ethics and Harassment Prevention Policy to ensure better pathways to justice.

Thank you to my Iowa Senate Democratic colleagues and staff for their support. It is an honor to be part of a team of people who have such a heart for public service. I promise to listen, to learn and to fight for bluer skies in Iowa's future.

Now, let's get to work!!

REMARKS BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Senator Whitver addressed the Senate with the following remarks:

Thank you Mr. President.

Mr. President, Senators, staff, families, and friends—Good morning and welcome to the 88th General Assembly of the Iowa Legislature.

It is great to be back today in this historic chamber, and great to see so many friends and colleagues. We are a citizen legislature, here from all walks of life. We are mothers, fathers, grandparents, small business owners, and farmers, to name a few. We bring a variety of experiences to the table, and represent even more back in our home districts. We are here to represent the interests of everyone who has the privilege of calling our great state home.

To our nine new members in this chamber, I want to welcome you to the Iowa Senate. I wish you the best as you are sworn in and represent your respective districts. My hope for you as you begin your time serving in the Iowa Senate is that you never forget WHY you ran. No matter if you serve one term, or 5 terms, it is extremely important to always remember why you first put your name on the ballot.

And, that is a question I would ask all of you here in this room...why is it that you first ran for office. What is your WHY?

As I begin my (first session) as Majority Leader and have been thinking a lot about our agenda for the upcoming session, it is a question I have found myself thinking a lot about lately.

I am blessed to have my wife and children here today. For years, when my kids asked me what we do in the Iowa Senate, I always said “We make laws.” Last week, my oldest daughter Ella asked me what we do in the Senate and I had a different answer. I told her, “We work to make your life better.” Shortly after saying that, it struck me.....We are not here to change laws; we are here to change lives.

Our mission is simple: Improve the lives of Iowans through challenging the status quo and reforming Iowa for the next generation.

Looking toward the next generation is extremely important to me. Not just because I have three young children of my own, but because too often politicians are too worried about the next election to think about the next generation.

This should never be the case. As we begin our 2019 session, our focus should not be on the next election; instead we must look toward lifting up our next generation.

When I think about the last two years, I often think about a quote I first heard while in business school at Iowa State—from a best-selling business author—he said, “Greatness is not a matter of circumstance, greatness is a choice.”

Over the past two years, this body has CHOSEN greatness. We have made a conscious decision to make our state the Number One state in the nation. We have made tough decisions, taken political risks - we have chosen greatness for the state of Iowa.

Those choices are not always easy. Often in politics, the greatest challenge is not finding the solution. We often know what the solution is. The greatest challenge is finding the political will to make it happen.

I am proud this body has shown the political will to make those tough decisions.

Two years ago, we set out to implement a better job climate in the state of Iowa. Today, we have THE LOWEST unemployment rate in the entire nation. We went from a state asking “where are the jobs” to a state asking “where are the workers?”

Two years ago, we set out to improve our educational system in the state of Iowa. Today, schools have more local control over their school districts; have more flexibility with the financial resources we give them and more funding for transportation in our rural districts.

Two years ago, we inherited a budget with a $113 million deficit. Today we have a balanced budget, our cash reserves are full, and we have an expected surplus of over $196 million in the current budget year.

Two years ago, we had one of the highest tax burdens in America. Last year we passed historic tax reform resulting in the largest tax cut in Iowa history for hard-working Iowans.

Additionally over the past two years we have passed mental health reform, water quality legislation, tort reform, strengthened Iowans 2nd Amendment rights, and protected the sanctity of life.

The past two years have been the most productive and historic two years this state has ever seen. It is hard to argue with the results—we were named the Number One state in the nation by US News and World Report.

As I traveled the state this last election cycle meeting with Iowans, we talked about the progress we have made. At every stop, I said that this last election would be a defining moment in the history of our state - where the people would decide which direction we want to go and what kind of state we want to be.

I am grateful the people of Iowa have given us the responsibility and honor of continuing to lead in the Iowa Senate. They expect us to step up to make tough decisions and continue down the path that has made us Number One. We are grateful the voters have joined us in choosing greatness for the state of Iowa!

Now, as we look toward the upcoming session, we will continue to deliver bold action to build our workforce, continue to reduce taxes, and reduce government dependence in our state.

We will continue to be dedicated to our pro-growth agenda for Iowa—growth for our businesses, growth for our schools, and growth for our rural and urban areas.

We are devoted to the Iowans who elected us to this chamber and we are committed to keeping the promises we made on the campaign trail.

We will continue to challenge the status quo and continue to push reforms that will keep us as the Number One state in the nation.

I am honored to serve as the majority leader of Iowa Senate, and look forward to working with each and every one of you to make Iowa the best we can.

Let's get to work!
