President Schneider presented Major General Benjamin Corell, Adjutant General of the Iowa National Guard. Major General Corell delivered the following Condition of the Guard Address:

President Schneider, Speaker Grassley, Governor Reynolds, Lieutenant Governor Gregg

Distinguished members of the Iowa General Assembly, state officials, friends, family and my fellow Iowans

Good morning and thank you for allowing me this opportunity to provide you an update on the Iowa National Guard.

I am honored and humbled to be here today representing the nearly 9,000 members of the Iowa National Guard.

As the newly appointed Adjutant General this is my first opportunity to stand before you, introduce myself and share my vision for the Iowa National Guard,

A vision focused on remaining always ready to defend our country and come to the aid of Iowans in their time of need.

I realize as I stand at this podium for the first time, many of you don't know me, let me share a little bit about myself:

My journey began in the Northeast Iowa farming communities of Manchester where I was born, and Strawberry Point where I grew up.

There I learned the values of hard work, respect for others and the importance of honesty and integrity—pillars of what it is to be an Iowan.

I was taught to value everyone for their individual contributions to the collective good of our community.

I am the proud grandson of a Marine combat veteran who fought for our nation in the Pacific Campaign during WWII. I am a proud son whose father served in that same Marine Corps.

I am the proud father of three sons who are all veterans of our recent conflicts overseas; 1SG Wade, SFC Travis, and SFC Tyler Corell, all who serve as Non-Commissioned Officers in the Iowa National Guard.

Forty years ago, I married my high school sweetheart Beth, who has stood by me and kept me grounded as we have made our way together on this journey. Beth and our 3 sons are here with me this morning.

I enlisted in the Iowa National Guard 34 years ago.

I have spent most of my career as a traditional citizen-soldier balancing the demands of part-time military service with the full-time responsibilities of running the family fuel distribution business in Strawberry Point, working in that community as a volunteer EMT, and helping to raise our family.

I originally enlisted for extra money and benefits; I have stayed because I find purpose and meaning in service above one's self.

This is what has driven me throughout my more than three decades of military service and during my six overseas deployments.

These experiences gave me true understanding of both the responsibility and the privilege to lead our men and women who were conducting combat operations or providing support to fellow Iowans in times of need.

My previous deployments are where I experienced firsthand the true cost of armed conflict as we dealt with the reality of taking casualties and losing Soldiers in battle.

These experiences along with a desire to set the conditions for future success of this unique organization are what motivated me to accept the Governor's request for me to lead the Iowa National Guard.

I will use my experience and insights to move the Iowa National Guard forward, ensuring that it is always ready and can always meet the demands expected of us in an uncertain world.

I stand here today because of the quality senior leaders who came before me, officers and noncommissioned officers alike who mentored me throughout my career.

Leaders like Bud Lawson, Ron Dardis and my predecessor Tim Orr, inspiring leaders who helped shape me into the leader I am today.

Leader's whose vision delivered the Iowa National Guard to be one of the finest military organizations in our nation, and a trusted resource for the citizens of Iowa.

I am grateful for their leadership, their vision and their service to our state and nation.

The mantle of leadership has now been passed to me to shape and develop the next generation of leaders.

Those who will one day lead the Iowa National Guard into its third century of service to our state and nation and make sure the Iowa National Guard is Always Ready.

To do this, we have developed and are now implementing the Iowa National Guard Strategy (2028).

This strategic plan will guide us over the next eight years to ensure that we are prepared to mobilize, deploy and execute diverse missions as part of the U.S. military or in support of the Governor for the people of Iowa.

In pursuit of this strategy, my goal is to be the most trusted organization in the state of Iowa.

We will accomplish this through careful stewardship of the resources we are provided, we will keep fully focused on individual and unit readiness.

We must ensure that we can always provide on time and capable response options for all federal and state missions we are asked to perform.

Our National Guard is a uniquely American institution. We are a locally based force from small and large communities across our state, yet we are a resource that has global reach. We exist to meet security needs both here at home and abroad.

This requires an agile and responsive organization filled with motivated and trained people, Iowans who are willing to serve for something bigger than themselves, capable of quickly adapting to uncertain future demands and requirements.

The National Guard recruiting slogan from when I first joined stated "One weekend a month, two weeks a year," this has evolved significantly over my career.

I believe the demand signal for our Citizen Soldiers will continue to remain high as we look into the future and assess the global challenges that exist today.

As a result, the individual and organizational requirements for all services and all components has increased as we posture our military to ensure our nation is prepared to defend our way of life and our nations interests around the globe with an all-volunteer force.

As a Reserve Component of our nation's military, these additional requirements put increased demands on our stakeholders; our service members, their families and our employers.

We must work to build and maintain trust in all that we do. It requires us to be responsible stewards of resources, this includes our people, training time, state and federal funding, and continue to provide our Iowa National Guard units quality infrastructure across the state.

The citizens of Iowa expect and depend on us to be always ready. To do so we need teams that are fit, disciplined and result-oriented.

It is not enough to just be ready, we must also be able to respond with competent, proficient and prepared military personnel wherever their mission takes them.

This requires forward-thinking leaders, properly trained personnel and adequate programs to care for our service members and their families when our forces are engaged in operations.

We are at our best when we remember we are built on a foundation of integrity, individual moral conviction and organizational character.

This requires us to match our words to our actions, which must be consistent with our military values.

Nationally, our defense strategy is changing as the United States refocuses on its ability to conduct large-scale combat operations against near peer threats after decades focused on counterinsurgency and counterterrorism.

Yet, even as this rebalancing takes shape, we continue to deploy rotational force units in support of our strategic partners and maintain a presence in or near conflict prone areas.

To meet all these requirements, the Reserve Components are increasingly relied upon by our nation to meet mission requirements abroad as well as respond to natural and manmade disasters here at home.

The strategic threats to our country are complex and diverse.

China and Russia, great power competitors, present security challenges across the full spectrum of national power, demonstrating an increasing ability to act with debilitating effects through both kinetic and non-kinetic means.

Adversaries like Iran and North Korea continue to disrupt regional security and threaten our international partners and interests.

As we work to ensure we remain ready to meet these evolving threats, there are certain realities that influence our actions in the Iowa National Guard.

Strength readiness, keeping our positions filled with quality members is a critical task that must be at the forefront of everything we do.

There are challenges in meeting our readiness goals as we compete with a robust job market and face competition from other services, border-state National Guards and out of state educational incentives.

In order to succeed in this area we must ensure that young Iowans who want to serve choose to remain in Iowa and be a part of the Iowa National Guard.

Thanks to the funding that this legislative body has provided, we remain competitive with our state educational incentives for our members who want to stay in the state and pursue their educational goals at Iowa colleges and universities.

Equipment modernization must continue to accelerate across our military, including the National Guard, as peer threats and evolving technology expand across multiple fronts including the cyber and space domains.

In order to remain competitive in this evolving environment and best position the Iowa National Guard for future success;

I have identified Four Lines of Effort that will focus our efforts and drive the Iowa National Guard's strategic objectives for the next eight years.

First, we must Field a Competent and Ready Force.

Second, we must maintain the right Force Structure in Iowa.

Third, we must develop and maintain Sustainable Infrastructure across the state.

Lastly, we must Take Care of our Service Members, our Employees and our families.

I will elaborate on these Lines of Effort for you:

We must remain focused on fielding a competent and ready force. This ensures our ability to support missions abroad and meet security needs here in the homeland.

Success in this area requires us to anticipate future state and national requirements while developing plans that increase predictability for our members, our families and employers.

I define success as achieving or exceeding all directed unit readiness objectives across all our formations in the Iowa National Guard.

These defined and measured benchmarks are reported and evaluated quarterly giving us a clear and precise picture of the readiness of our organization.

It is critical that we seek out and leverage opportunities that enhance our service member's military trained skills.

We must develop new partnerships as we maintain the relationships we already have with other state agencies and businesses across the state.

We are proud of our established partnerships with sister departments within the State of Iowa and other community partners across the state.

These partnerships are focused on STEM initiatives, specifically in the area of cyber security and cyber defense.

With more than 100 different military specialties available in the Iowa National Guard, many of which fall into STEM related career fields, we contribute directly to the State's Future Ready Iowa initiative.

Our 168th Cyber Defense Squadron based out of the Des Moines Airbase is on the front lines of Cyber Defense.

This Iowa Guard unit is a prime example of a National Guard resource we use to collaborate with other state and federal partners enhancing the state's election security efforts and protocols.

These cyber initiatives also demonstrate how our state security mission is adapting and taking steps to defend against the evolving threats we face here at home.

Being prepared to respond to floods, tornadoes, severe winter storms and similar natural threats will remain the priority focus of our homeland response efforts.

But thanks to partnerships with other state entities and businesses, our ability to quickly respond to emerging domestic threats will continue to improve.

We must ensure we are prepared to provide Iowa National Guard units identified for federal mobilizations.

Over the past several years, the number of federal mobilizations have been relatively light for Iowa National Guard units.

This will change over the course of the next 12 months as a number of Iowa Army National Guard units will mobilize and deploy.

Currently, we have about 100 Iowa National Guard Soldiers and Airmen deployed.

By this time next year we expect to see over 2,000 Iowa National Guard members deployed overseas.

They will be in support of operations in:

EUCOM,

CENTCOM,

And AFRICOM.

This will be the largest number of our personnel deployed since 2011, involving nearly 30 percent of our Iowa Army National Guard force structure.

Based on projections, these mobilizations will begin this May, continue through this summer and be completed by early next year.

Mission requirements can and do change, but this is what we are currently expecting.

I recognize the challenges these deployments represent for our service members, their families and employers, and our Iowa National Guard communities.

We have always been fortunate here in Iowa to have incredible support from across the state.

We are reassured by our previous experiences as the Iowa National Guard once again prepares to send its Soldiers and Airmen into harm's way.

We know that the people of Iowa, its elected leaders and institutions throughout the state, will again step forward to support our men and women in uniform as we execute what our nation has ask of us.

As we prepare for large scale overseas deployments, we continue to enhance our traditional domestic response capability.

This past year, Iowa Army National Guard aviation units began conducting search and rescue exercises with Iowa Task Force One, a specialized urban search and rescue element.

We continue to work hand and hand with the Iowa Department of Emergency Management and prepare for all aspects of support to the people of Iowa.

In addition, I have committed to the Governor that the Iowa National Guard is now, and will always be ready to respond to the needs of the people of Iowa.

We will not be late to need.

We must ensure we have the right Force Structure in the Iowa National Guard.

This means we have the right size and type of units, stationed in the right location that are able to quickly respond when needed.

This effort will complement our efforts as we seek to recruit a diversified force, one that reflects our communities and the current demographics of our state.

This is a significant endeavor that requires a total team effort to achieve.

It starts with efforts to retain high quality Soldiers and Airmen who are currently serving in the Iowa National Guard.

We must maintain emphasis on our recruiting programs.

We must ensure that the Iowa National Guard continues to be the service of choice among Iowans seeking to serve their nation in uniform.

To achieve success, we must improve our efforts in the recruitment of diverse Iowa citizens.

Many of these diverse communities are unfamiliar with the benefits and opportunities of military service in the Iowa National Guard.

We must highlight all that we have to offer including financial support for post-secondary education degree programs along with skills training, and leadership development.

We have to demonstrate to our diverse communities that they are represented in leadership positions within the Iowa National Guard.

This will be a long process with deliberate management efforts to grow future leaders who are reflective of the changing demographics in our state.

Just as critical to having the right force structure in place for the future is our ability to maintain and develop sustainable infrastructure.

This means we must invest our limited financial resources now into our existing facilities that are in optimal locations as we identify future locations that offer strategic advantage as we posture ourselves for future success.

We recognize the hard reality that we will need to divest ourselves of some legacy properties and infrastructure that is no longer sustainable to maintain,

Facilities that are located where it has been proven that we can no longer recruit enough people from that local area to meet the manning requirements required to keep a facility open.

We can no longer delay the inevitable. At some point very soon, we will start the process to close select Army Guard facilities within the state that no longer can support the needs of the Iowa National Guard.

We have initiated a careful and deliberate process to assess the future viability of all of our facilities measured against the needs of future force structure requirements and forecasted state demographic patterns.

As we start this process we will work closely with affected communities, along with local and state leadership in a transparent process to minimize the impacts of any future facility closures.

In April, we will dedicate our state of the art Davenport Readiness Center, the newest military facility in the state.

This $23-million dollar, federally funded project, represents the culmination of many years of work to replace the historic but outdated Davenport Brady Street Armory which was one of our oldest active facilities.

This project was made possible through our great partnership with the Davenport Community School District.

Thanks to this partnership along with the support of state and federal resources, we have replaced an obsolete facility with a new modern facility that accommodates multiple units.

This investment provides the necessary space to store and maintain equipment and supports the training requirements for the future of the Iowa National Guard.

As we look to the future, we believe a Readiness Center located south of the Des Moines metro area will maximize opportunities presented by shifting demographics within the state.

We are currently in discussions for the potential development of a multi-use facility between the Iowa National Guard and the City of West Des Moines.

Completion of this project would posture the Iowa National Guard for future success and provide us with ready access to multiple interstate and state highway systems, as well as the proposed Des Moines railroad transfer station providing a quick and streamlined response capability for state emergencies and federal deployments.

The most critical component of everything we do in the Iowa National Guard is taking care of our service members, our employees and our families.

Without our people, we do not exist. Military service places significant demands and stress on our members and their families.

We separate them for days, weeks and at times, more than a year.

We send them into harm's way with the mission to protect and defend all that we hold dear.

They do so willingly because they believe in something greater than their own self-interest and find purpose and meaning in serving their state and nation.

In return, we owe them an organizational culture that recognizes and values their individual contributions and sacrifices.

We must continue to invest in programs and activities that increase our service members' safety, security and resiliency.

The Iowa National Guard is a reflection of our society and is not immune from the challenges we face in today's complex environment.

Like all organizations made up of people, we must deal with disciplinary issues stemming from substance abuse, sexual harassment and sexual misconduct.

Left unchecked, these oftentimes-interrelated problems can weaken an organization's morale and undermine its ability to accomplish its mission.

I am committed to maintaining the trust of those we serve and what is expected of us by our citizens.

I hold everyone—Leaders, Soldiers, Airmen and civilian employees alike to a standard of conduct that represents a professional organization that cares about each other.

Those that cross the line will be held accountable.

Taking care of our service members also includes frank and open discussions about a national issue that impacts the military including the Iowa National Guard and that is the issue of suicide.

This is not just a military or National Guard issue, this is an issue within our society. Suicide is the 9th leading cause of death in Iowa. As a state, our statistics are higher than the national average.

The Iowa National Guard is a family, we grieve anytime we lose one of our own, and it is devastating when we learn it was by their own hand.

I will spare no resource in educating our Soldiers, Airmen and our families on prevention and intervention to ensure our service members get the help they need, when they need it.

As I close, I highlight for you the Iowa National Guard is among the oldest institutions in the state, first formed during territorial times.

Over the last 181 years, thousands of Iowans have proudly served their state and our nation through service in the Iowa National Guard.

The Iowa National Guard has always been there, we proudly stand today Always Ready to respond.

We must at all times remain worthy of the confidence bestowed on us by the people of Iowa.

We will continue to work each and every day to earn and keep that trust.

With your continued support and the support of Iowans everywhere,

We are always ready—warriors, citizens, neighbors—working together to strengthen the future of Iowa.

I can confirm to each of you today,

The Condition of the Iowa National Guard is strong.

Thank you!
