2. In the circumstances described in subsection 1, any peace officer who has reasonable grounds to believe that a person is mentally ill, and because of that illness is likely to physically injure himself or herself or others if not immediately detained, may without a warrant take or cause that person to be taken to the nearest available facility as defined in section 229.11, subsections 2 and 3. A person believed mentally ill, and likely to injure himself or herself or others if not immediately detained, may be delivered to a hospital by someone other than a peace officer. Upon delivery of the person believed mentally ill to the hospital, the chief medical officer may order treatment of that person, including chemotherapy, but only to the extent necessary to preserve the person's life or to appropriately control behavior by the person which is likely to result in physical injury to that person or others if allowed to continue. The peace officer who took the person into custody, or other party who brought the person to the hospital, shall describe the circumstances of the matter to the chief medical officer. If the chief medical officer finds that there is reason to believe that the person is seriously mentally impaired, and because of that impairment is likely to physically injure himself or herself or others if not immediately detained, the chief medical officer shall ~~enter a written order for the person to be detained in custody~~ at once communicate with the nearest available magistrate as defined in section eight hundred one point four (801.4), subsection six (6) of the Code Supplement. The magistrate shall immediately proceed to the facility where the person is detained, except that if the chief medical officer's communication with the magistrate occurs between the hours of midnight and the next succeeding seven o'clock a.m. and the magistrate deems it appropriate under the circumstances described by the chief medical officer, the magistrate may delay going to the facility and in that case shall give the chief medical officer verbal instructions either directing that the person be released forthwith or authorizing the person's continued detention at that facility. In the latter case, the magistrate shall:

a. By the close of business on the next working day, file with the clerk a written report stating the substance of the information on the basis of which the person's continued detention was ordered; and

b. Arrive at the facility where the person is being detained not later than eight o'clock a.m. of the same day on which the chief medical officer's notification occurs.

3. Upon arrival at the hospital, the magistrate shall at once review the matter. Unless convinced upon initial inquiry that there are no grounds for further detention of the person, the magistrate shall in the manner prescribed by section two hundred twenty-nine point eight (229.8), subsection one (1) of the Code insure that the person has or is provided legal counsel at the earliest practicable time, and shall arrange for the counsel to be present, if practicable, before proceeding further under this section. If the magistrate finds upon review of the report prepared by the chief medical officer under subsection two (2) of this section, and of such other information or evidence as the magistrate deems pertinent, that there is probable cause to believe that the person is seriously mentally impaired and because of that impairment is likely to physically injure himself or herself or others if not detained, the magistrate shall enter a written order for the person to be detained in custody and, if the facility where the person is at that time is not an appropriate hospital, transported to an appropriate hospital. The magistrate's order shall state the circumstances under which the person was taken into custody or otherwise brought to a hospital and the grounds supporting the finding of probable cause to believe that he or she is seriously mentally impaired and likely to physically injure himself or herself or others if not immediately detained. The order shall be filed with the clerk of the district court in the county where it is anticipated that an application will be filed under section two hundred twenty-nine point six (229.6) of the Code, and a certified copy of the order shall be delivered to the chief medical officer of the hospital where the person is detained, at the earliest practicable time.
