679.1 What controversies. All controversies which might be the subject of civil action may be submitted to the decision of one or more arbitrators, as hereafter provided. [C51,§12695; R60,§3675; C73,§3416; C97,§4385; C24,27,31,35,39,§12695; C46,50,54,58,62,§679.1]

679.2 Written agreement. The parties themselves, or those persons who might lawfully have controlled a civil action in their behalf for the same subject matter, must sign and acknowledge a written agreement, specifying particularly what demands are to be submitted, the names of the arbitrators, and court by which the judgment on their award is to be rendered. [C51, §§2099, 2100; R60, §§3676, 3677; C73, §3417; C97, §4386; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12696; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.2]

679.3 What submitted. The submission may be of some particular matters or demands, or of all demands which the one party has against the other, or of all mutual demands on both sides. [C51, §2101; R60, §3678; C73, §3418; C97, §4387; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12697; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.3]

All the rules prescribed by law in cases of referees are applicable to arbitrators, except as herein otherwise expressed, or except as otherwise agreed upon by the parties. Any member of a board of arbitration, whether composed of one or more arbitrators may administer oaths to witnesses, and the board may accept, demand and call for such evidence as in equity and good conscience the board may deem material and proper, whether strictly legal evidence or not. [C51, §2103; R60, §3680; C73, §3420; C97, §4389; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12699; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.5]

679.7 Neglect to appear. If either party neglects to appear before the arbitrators after due notice, except in case of sickness, they may nevertheless proceed to hear and determine the controversy upon the evidence which is produced before them. [C51, §2105; R60, §3682; C73, §3422; C97, §4391; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12701; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.7]

679.8 Time for award. If the time within which the award is to be made is fixed in the submission, one made after that time shall not have any legal effect, unless made upon a recommittal of the matter by the court to which it is returned. [C51, §2106; R60, §3683; C73, §3423; C97, §4392; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12702; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.8]

[C51, §2108; R60, §3685; C73, §3425; C97, §4394; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12704; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.10]

679.11 Hearing in court. The award shall be entered on the docket of the court at the term to which it is returned, as an action is entered, and shall be called up and acted upon in its order, but the court may require actual notice to be given to either party, when it appears necessary and proper, before proceeding to act on the award. [C51, §2109; R60, §3686; C73, §3426; C97, §4396; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12705; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.11]

679.13 Force and effect of award. When the award has been adopted, it shall be filed and entered on the records, and shall have the same force and effect as the verdict of a jury. Judgment may be entered and execution issued accordingly. [C51, §2111; R60, §3688; C73, §3428; C97, §4398; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12707; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.13]

679.14 Appeal. When an appeal is taken from such judgment, copies of the submission and award, together with all affidavits, shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court. [C51, §2112; R60, §3689; C73, §3429; C97, §4399; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12708; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.14]

679.16 Rights saved. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect in any manner the control of the court over the parties, the arbitrators, or their award; nor to impair or affect any action upon an award, or upon any bond or other engagement to abide an award. [C51, §2115; R60, §3692; C73, §3431; C97, §4401; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12710; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.16]

679.17 Compensation of arbitrators. 679.18 Arbitration by agreement. Awards by arbitrators who may have been chosen without complying with the provisions of this chapter shall nevertheless be valid and binding upon the parties thereto, as other contracts, and may be impeached only for fraud or mistake, but such award can only be enforced by an action. [C97, §4395; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12712; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §679.18]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 331
From final judgment.

(a) All final judgments and decisions of courts of record, and any final adjudication in the trial court under rule 86 involving the merits or materially affecting the final decision, may be appealed to the supreme court, except as provided in this rule and in rule 333. For the purpose of this rule any order granting a new trial (not including an order setting aside a judgment by default other than in actions for divorce or annulment) and any order denying a new trial shall be deemed a final decision. Any order setting aside a default decree of divorce or annulment shall also be deemed a final decision.

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 332
From interlocutory orders.

(a) Any party aggrieved by an interlocutory ruling or decision, including one to rule 331, from any objections to jurisdiction have been overruled, may apply to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment. Such appeal may be granted, after notice and hearing as provided in rules 347 and 353, on finding that such ruling or decision involves substantial rights and will materially affect the final decision, and that a determination of its correctness before trial on the merits will better serve the interests of justice. No such application is necessary where the appeal is, pursuant to rule 331, from a final adjudication in the trial court under rule 86.

(b) The order granting such appeal may be on terms of advancing it for prompt submission. It shall stay further proceedings below, and may require bond. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 333
Amount in controversy.

686.1 Mistake of clerk below. A mistake of the clerk shall not be ground for an appeal until the same has been presented to and acted upon by the court below. [R60,§3498; C73,§3167; C97,§4104; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12826; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§686.1]

686.2 Motion for new trial. The supreme court on appeal may review and reverse any judgment or order of the municipal, superior, or district court, although no motion for a new trial was made in such court. [C73,§3169; C97,§4106; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12828; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§686.2]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 335
Time for appeal. Appeals to the supreme court must be taken within, and not after, thirty days from the entry of the order, judgment or decree, unless a motion for new trial or for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is filed as provided in rule 247, and then within thirty days after the ruling on such motion; provided however, that, where an application to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment under rule 332 is made within thirty days from the date of such ruling or decision, the supreme court or any justice thereof may extend the time for filing the notice of appeal in the event the appeal is granted and the appeal, in such event, may be perfected within the time thus specified.

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 334
Scope of review.

686.4 Coparties not joining. Coparties, refusing to join in an appeal, cannot afterwards appeal, or derive any benefit therefrom, unless from the necessity of the case, but they shall be held to have joined, and be liable for their proportion of the costs, unless they appear and object thereto. [C51,§§1980, 1981; R60, §§3518, 3519; C73, §§3175, 3176; C97, §4112; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12835; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §686.4]

686.5 Appeal from part of judgment or order—effect. An appeal from part of an order, or from one of the judgments of a final adjudication, or from part of a judgment, shall not disturb, delay, or affect the rights of any party to any judgment or order, or part of a judgment or order, not appealed from. [R60, §3510; C73, §3177; C97, §4113; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12836; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §686.5]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 336

How taken—notice—delivery. Appeal is taken and perfected by filing a notice with the clerk of the court where the order, judgment or decree was entered, signed by the appellant or his attorney. It shall specify the parties taking the appeal, and the decree, judgment, order or part thereof appealed from. The clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver a copy of such notice to the attorneys of record for all parties other than the appellant, or to any such party who has no attorney of record, at his last known address. No failure of the clerk to mail or deliver any notice shall affect the validity of the appeal. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 342, 383 and 371

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 340

Record on appeal.

(a) Promptly after taking an appeal to the supreme court, appellant shall file with the clerk of the trial court duplicate typewritten abstract of so much of the record in that court, including pleadings, evidence, rulings, orders, judgment and all proceedings in the case, as is material to the appeal. Where exhibits will so state and refer to them by letter, number or other appropriate designation, without copying them.

The reporter's transcript shall be filed at the same time; and these rules relative to it shall also apply to bills of exceptions under rule 241. The cost of the transcript shall be taxed in the trial court.

The clerk shall forthwith notify the attorneys of record for the appellee of such filing.

(b) If the abstract does not embrace the whole record, and all evidence and proceedings in the transcript, depositions and exhibits, it shall include a concise statement of all points upon which appellant will rely on the appeal, which shall be limited thereto.

(c) Within twenty days after such filing, or such longer time as the trial court may allow or the parties agree to in writing, any other party to the appeal may, in like manner, file duplicate amendments to appellant's abstract, proposing corrections, substitutions or additions thereto. At the expiration of the time for amendment, either party, on not less than three days written notice, may present the proposed abstract and all such proposed amendments, if any, to the judge before whom the case was tried, who shall settle any differences to the end that the abstract correctly shows the evidence and proceedings at the trial, and is in form as provided by these rules. The trial court shall then append to appellant's proposed abstract an order settling the same with any corrections, substitutions or additions it has allowed in conformity with these rules.

(d) If a party to the appeal shows the trial court a good reason for setting out part of the testimony in question and answer form, such part may appear by questions and answers. If this is not done, testimony of witnesses shall be abstracted in condensed or narrative form.

(e) Formal parts of all exhibits, and more than one copy of any document, shall be omitted. Documents shall be abridged by omitting formal or irrelevant parts. This rule shall also apply to exhibits to pleadings.

(f) The abstract allowed as above or under paragraph "b" hereof shall constitute the record on which the cause shall be submitted on the appeal. The appellant shall cause it to be printed, so as also to contain in full any exhibits designated in the abstract by number alone, as provided in paragraph "a" hereof.

For correcting record, see rule 341

(g) The supreme court may impose or withhold costs for any addition or substitution of irrelevant matter, or the use of needless questions and answers for the narrative statement. To aid it in this respect only, the clerk of the trial court, at the request of the aggrieved party, shall certify to the supreme court the reporter's transcript, depositions, exhibits and proposed abstract and amendments thereto.

(h) Instead of proceeding under paragraphs "b" and "c" hereof, the parties may file with or include in the abstract proposed by any party to the appeal, their written agreement that it is correct. The trial court shall thereupon certify that such abstract has been so agreed to, and is the record on appeal.

(i) Abstracts and the printed record shall contain a brief index of their con-
686.6 Filing in re action to test constitutionality. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, an abstract of record shall be filed within five days after the service of notice of appeal, unless additional time, not to exceed three days, be granted by the chief justice. [C31, §12847-dl; C39, §12847.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §686.6]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 342

Correcting record—certification.

(a) If anything material to either party is omitted from the record on appeal by error or accident, or is misstated therein, the parties by stipulation, or the trial court, either before or after the record is transmitted to the supreme court, or the supreme court on its own initiative or proper suggestion, may direct the correction thereof; and, if necessary, that further proceedings be had and a supplemental record be prepared and certified in the trial court; or may require the clerk of the trial court to certify to the supreme court any or all of the evidence or proceedings below.

(b) Any part or all of the record, including exhibits, in the trial court shall, at the request of the supreme court or any justice thereof, be certified and transmitted by the clerk of the court below to the supreme court. [Report 1943]

686.7 Transmission. The transcript of any paper or exhibit required for use in the supreme court may be transmitted thereto by the clerk of the trial court by express or other safe and speedy method, but not by a party or any attorney of a party. [C51, §§1975, 1976;
§686.8 Return of original papers. If a new trial is granted by the supreme court, the clerk, as soon as the cause is at an end therein, shall transmit to the clerk of the court below all original papers or exhibits certified up from said court, and may at any time return any such papers when no new trial is awarded. [C97, §4125; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12856; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §686.7]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 337
Supersedeas—bond.

(a) No appeal shall stay proceedings under a judgment or order unless appellant executes a bond with sureties, to be filed with and approved by the clerk of the court where the judgment or order was entered. The condition of such bond shall be that he will satisfy and perform the judgment if affirmed, or any judgment or order, not exceeding in amount or value, the obligation of the judgment or order appealed from, which the supreme court may render or order to be rendered by the trial court; and also all costs and damages adjudged against him on the appeal, and all rents of or damage to property during the pendency of the appeal, of which appellee is deprived by reason of the appeal.

(b) If the judgment or order appealed from be for money, the penalty of such bond shall be one hundred twenty-five percent of the amount, including costs, unless, in exceptional cases, the trial court fix a larger amount; in all other cases, an amount sufficient to save appellee harmless from the consequences of the appeal, but in no event less than three hundred dollars.

(c) No appeal shall vacate or affect the judgment or order appealed from; but the clerk shall issue a written order requiring the appellee and all others to show as plaintiffs in civil actions in the inferior court may be. [R60, §3526; C73, §3210; C97, §4135; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12862; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §686.12]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 344
Form and contents of briefs.

(a) Appellant's opening brief shall contain:

(1) A statement of the case, not ordinarily to exceed one page, showing the nature of the action, what the issues were, and how they were decided, and what questions are presented by the appeal.

(2) A statement of the facts, stating what questions are presented by the appeal.

(3) A statement of errors relied on for reversal when the appeal presents questions of law; or a statement of propositions relied on, when it is triable de novo. The errors or propositions shall be separately stated and numbered, in substantially the order they are presented in the division of the brief.

(4) In separately numbered divisions:

(First) A statement of the "error" or "proposition" relied on and discussed in that division, with references to the pages and lines of the record, sufficient to show fully the manner in which the error arose and the ruling of the trial court thereon.

(Second) Separately numbered or lettered brief points substantially conforming to the "Statement of Errors" or "Propositions" and stating without argument the grounds of complaint of the ruling and citing authorities supporting each point.

(Third) The argument shall follow the statement of the brief points and authorities in each division, and be confined thereto. Errors or propositions not stated or argued shall be deemed waived.

(b) If two or more errors relied on present closely related propositions of law or fact, the brief points and arguments may be presented in one division.

(c) Argument of any error which relates to the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain a ruling on any point shall supply full references to the pages and lines of the record, unless such evidence is fully stated, with such references, in the statement of facts.

(d) Appellee's brief and appellant's reply shall follow the above outline as nearly as may be, but without unnecessary repetition.

(e) In citing cases the names of parties must be given. And in citing cases determined by this court, which have been officially reported, reference must be made to the volume and page where the case may be found in the Iowa Reports and also in the North Western Reporter, if reported therein. In citing cases from other jurisdictions, reference must be made to the court that rendered the opinion and the volume and page where the same may be found in the National Reporter System, if reported therein. When textbooks are cited, the edition must be designated with the proper volume and page.

(f) The following propositions are deemed so well established that authorities need not be cited in support of any of them:

(1) Findings of fact in a law action, which means generally any action triable by ordinary proceedings, are binding upon the appellate court if supported by substantial evidence.

(2) In considering the propriety of a directed verdict for defendant the court gives plaintiff's evidence the most favorable construction it will reasonably bear.

(3) In ruling upon motions for a new trial the trial court has a broad but not unlimited discretion in determining whether the verdict effectuates substantial justice between the parties.

(4) The court is slower to interfere with the grant of a new trial than with its denial.

(5) Ordinarily the burden of proof follows the pleading; that is, he who pleads and relies upon the affirmative of an issue must carry the burden of proving it.

(6) In civil cases the burden of proof is measured by the test of preponderance of the evidence.

(7) In equity cases, especially when considering the credibility of witnesses, the court gives weight to the fact findings of the trial court; but is not bound by them.

(8) Negligence and freedom from contributory negligence must, unless otherwise provided by statute, be proven by plaintiff by a preponderance of the evidence.

(9) A motorist upon a public highway has a right to assume that others using the road will obey the law, including statutes, rules of the road and necessity for due care, at least until he knows, or in the exercise of due care should have known otherwise.

(10) Generally questions of negligence, contributory negligence, and proximate cause are for the jury; it is only in exceptional cases that they may be decided as matters of law.

(11) Reformation of written instruments may be granted only upon clear, satisfactory and convincing evidence of fraud, deceit, duress, or mutual mistake.

(12) Written instruments affecting real estate may be set aside only upon evidence that is clear, satisfactory and convincing.

(13) In construing statutes the courts search for the legislative intent as shown by what the legislature said, rather than what it should or might have said.

(14) In the construction of written contracts, the cardinal principle is that the intent of the parties must control; and except in cases of ambiguity, this is determined by what the contract itself says.

(15) In child custody cases the first and governing consideration of the courts must be the best interest of the child.

(16) An issue may be proven by circumstantial evidence; but this evidence must be such as to make the theory of causation reasonably probable, not merely possible, and more probable than any other theory based on such evidence. Generally, however, it will be for the jury or other trier of the facts to say whether circumstantial evidence meets this test.

(17) Even when the facts are not in dispute or contradicted, if reasonable minds might draw different inferences from them, a jury question is engendered. [Report 1943; Court Order Dec. 12, 1945; Court Order, Sept. 17, 1962]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 343

Filing briefs. In all cases, whether in equity or at law, the appellant shall file his brief with the clerk of the trial court within forty-five days after filing his record, unless such time is enlarged in accordance with rule 347 "b" or suspended under rule 349 "d". He shall also file one "service copy" for the clerk's certification, and copies for the other parties or their attorneys as provided in rule 342, which copies the clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver in like manner. The clerk shall indorse upon the "service copy" his certificate of such filing and mailing, and mail it, so indorsed, to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.

Within thirty days after appellant's brief is thus filed, the appellee shall serve and file his brief in like manner. If he is a cross-appellant he may have until the same time in which to file his opening brief as such cross-appellant and combine it with his brief as appellee. Appellant shall, within fifteen days thereafter file and serve his reply brief, if any, in like manner. [Report 1943; amendment 1949; amendment 1953]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 346

Submission and oral argument. A party desiring to be heard orally shall so state at the end of his brief; and unless he does so he will be heard orally only in reply to his adversary's oral argument, if any. The oral arguments shall conform to rules prescribed by the supreme court. [Report 1943]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 339

Judgment on bond. If the supreme court affirms the judgment appealed from, it may, on motion of the appellee, render judgment against appellant and the sureties on the appeal bond for the amount of the judgment, with damages and costs; or may remand the cause to the trial court for the determination of such damages and costs, and the entry of judgment on the bond. [Report 1943]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 345

Printing and costs. All records and briefs filed in the supreme court shall be clear and legible and printed on unrelated white paper with type not smaller than small pica. The printing may be with type and leaded lines, offset printing, multigraph, mimeograph, duplicator, or other similar process approved by the court. The printed portion of each page shall be four inches wide and seven inches long with margins of two inches. Headings, and matter specially emphasized, may be printed in bold face. The lines of the Record must be numbered consecutively on each page.

The amount actually paid for printing, exclusive of stenographic expense, shall be certified by the attorney, and if reasonable, taxed in the supreme court as costs. [Report 1943, amended January 16, 1947 and June 18, 1948 by order of court under authority of R.C.P. 371]

686.14 Remand—process. If the supreme court affirms the judgment or order, it may send the cause to the court below to have the same carried into effect, or may issue the necessary process for this purpose, directed to the sheriff of the proper county, as the party may require. [C51,§1991; R60,§3539; C73,§3197; C97,§4143; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12875; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§686.14]

686.15 Restitution of property. If, by the decision of the supreme court, the appellant becomes entitled to a restoration of any part of the money or property that was taken from him by means of such judgment or order, either the supreme court or the court below may direct execution or writ of restitution to issue for the purpose of restoring to him such property or its value. [C51,§1992; R60,§3540; C73,§3198; C97,§4145; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12877; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§686.15]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 347

Writs and orders in the supreme court.

(a) Writs and process. The supreme court shall issue all writs and processes necessary for the exercise and enforcement of its appellate jurisdiction and in the furtherance of its supervisory control over all inferior judicial tribunals and officers thereof throughout the state; and may enforce its mandates by fine and imprisonment, and imprisonment may be continued until obeyed.

(b) Orders. Every application for an order in the supreme court shall be in writing, served upon the adverse party or his attorney of record, with a notice that it will come on for hearing before the supreme court or a justice thereof at a stated time and place. By stipulation and arrangement with the court or justice the parties may fix the time and place of hearing.

(c) Hearings. No order shall be issued except upon reasonable notice and opportunity to make resistance, but if it be made to appear that great and irreparable loss would ensue if the matter were delayed, an order may be entered effective only until final order is made. The supreme court may hear oral arguments on an application for order if it deems them desirable; otherwise, the matter shall be submitted without oral argument. One or more justices may act for the court in such matters. [Report 1943]

Rehearings.

(a) No notice of intention to file a petition for rehearing need be given; but the petition and brief thereon shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court within thirty days after filing the opinion, or such longer time as the chief justice, on written application served on the opposing parties, may allow. The petition and supporting brief must be printed either separately or together. Petitioner shall file eighteen copies thereof, together with one additional copy for the attorney or attorneys for each other party to the appeal, and each party not represented by attorney. The clerk shall mail or deliver one copy to each such attorney or party forthwith; but his failure shall not impair the petitioner's right to consideration of his petition. The opposing party shall have fifteen days after filing of the petition and brief, in which to file resistance thereto.

(b) The parties shall have such right to argue a petition for rehearing orally on its submission as the court may prescribe by rule.

(c) The court may deny a rehearing, modify its opinion or order a resubmission. If resubmission is ordered, it shall designate the time for filing briefs and counsel shall be entitled to oral argument on the resubmission; but the order therefor may designate the point or points to be argued. RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 352

Certiorari or appeal. If any case is brought to the supreme court by appeal or certiorari, and the court is of the opinion that the other of these remedies was the proper one, the case shall not be dismissed, but shall proceed as though the proper form of review had been sought.

A petition for writ of certiorari may under this rule be treated by the court as application to grant an appeal (as provided in rule 332) and conversely an application to grant an appeal may be treated as a petition for certiorari.

Provided, however, nothing in this rule shall operate to extend the time within which an appeal may be taken. [Report 1943; amendment 1949]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE NO. 353

Service by mail is complete on mailing. Proof of service may be made by written acknowledgment, or by affidavit of the person making the service, who may be an attorney in the case or his clerk. 686.17 Death of party — continuance. The death of one or all of the parties shall not cause the proceedings to abate, but the names of the proper persons shall be substituted, as is provided in such cases in the district court, and the case may proceed. The court may also, in such case, grant a continuance when such a course will be calculated to promote... the ends of justice. [R60,§3520; C73,§3211; C97, §4150; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12884; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §686.17]

Motions to dismiss or affirm.

(a) Appellee's motion to dismiss an appeal or motion to affirm must be in printing or typewriting, supported by printed or typewritten brief, and served on appellant's counsel and filed with the clerk of the supreme court within twenty days after filing the record, if the grounds therefor then exist. If appellee desires to present the motion orally, he shall so request therein, and the court may make such order as it deems proper in regard thereto.

(b) The day immediately preceding the first day of each period, as fixed by the docket for the term, shall be and is hereby designated as motion day and, except when otherwise specially ordered by the court or judge thereof, such motion day shall be and the same is hereby fixed as the time for submission of every such motion to dismiss, served and filed ten days or more prior thereto, and also every such motion to dismiss to which resistance has been filed. If the chief justice or the court determines oral argument is desirable, such motion shall be assigned for oral argument, otherwise it shall be assigned for submission on the briefs. The clerk shall forthwith notify each party of the time and manner of the submission.

(c) Appellant's resistance, if any, shall be served and filed not less than three days prior to the date fixed for such submission.

(d) The court may rule on the motion to dismiss or motion to affirm before requiring submission of the appeal or may order the motion submitted with the appeal. The time intervening between service of the motion and the court's order overruling the motion, or providing that it be submitted with the appeal, shall be excluded in determining the time within which the parties' respective briefs on the merits must be filed.

(e) If grounds for dismissal of an appeal or affirmation arise after the record is filed, appellee may file and serve such motion to dismiss or motion to affirm and supporting brief. The court shall then determine when and on what notice, the same shall be heard, and whether submission of the appeal shall be stayed and may make appropriate orders respecting the time for filing briefs on the merits. CHAPTER 754
PRELIMINARY INFORMATION AND WARRANTS OF ARREST

754.1 Definition.
754.2 Form.
754.3 Filing—issuing warrant.
754.4 Form of warrant.

754.1 Definition. A complaint or preliminary information is a statement in writing, under oath or affirmation, made before a magistrate, of the commission or threatened commission of a public offense, and accusing someone thereof. [C51, §2822; R60, §4530; C73, §4111; C97, §5101; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13458; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §754.1]

754.2 Form. The information may be substantially in the form required in criminal actions triable before a justice of the peace. [C73, §4185; C97, §5182; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13459; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §754.2]

754.3 Filing—issuing warrant. When a preliminary information is made before a magistrate, charging the commission of some designated public offense triable on indictment in the county in which such magistrate has local jurisdiction, by some person named therein, he may issue a warrant for the arrest of such person.

Whenever the preliminary information charges a misdemeanor the magistrate may in his discretion issue a summons instead of a warrant of arrest. The summons shall set forth substantially the nature of the offense and shall command the person against whom the complaint was made to appear before the magistrate issuing the summons at a time and place stated therein.

The summons may be served in the same manner as an original notice in a civil action. If the person named in the summons is actually served as provided herein and fails without good cause to appear as commanded by the summons, he shall be considered in contempt of court and may be punished by a fine of not more than twenty dollars. Upon such failure to appear, the magistrate shall issue a warrant of arrest for the offense originally charged, and institute proceedings in contempt as provided by chapter 665.

If after issuing a summons the magistrate becomes satisfied that the person to whom such summons has been directed will not appear, he may at once issue a warrant of arrest without waiting for the date mentioned in the summons. [C73, §4185; C97, §5182; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13460; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §754.2]

754.4 Form of warrant. The warrant of arrest on a preliminary information must be substantially in the following form:

State of Iowa, County of .................
To any peace officer of the state:

Preliminary information upon oath having been this day filed with me, charging that the crime (naming it) has been committed and accusing A. . . . . . . . . . . . thereof:

You are commanded forthwith to arrest the said A. . . . . . . . . . . . and bring him before me.

there is sufficient ground for a trial or preliminary examination, as the case may require, and it will not be inconvenient for the witnesses on the part of the state that it should be had before him, he shall proceed as if the person arrested had been brought before him on arrest under a warrant, and, if the case be one within his jurisdiction to try and determine, shall order an information to be filed against him.

§758.3 Transfer for convenience. If the magistrate finds that it will be more convenient for the witnesses on the part of the state that such trial or examination should be had before some other magistrate in the county, he shall, by a written order, commit the person arrested to a peace officer, to be by him taken before the other magistrate, together with the order of commitment and affidavits, unless the person arrested give bail, when authorized, for his appearance, as in case of arrest under a warrant.

§758.4 Proceedings—same as under warrant. Unless bail is given, the peace officer shall take the arrested person before the designated magistrate, and in any case shall deliver to him the affidavits and order of commitment, and when the person arrested is brought or appears before him, he shall proceed as on an arrest under a warrant, and, when necessary, shall order an information to be filed against the person arrested.

§758.5 Offense triable in another county—transfer. If the magistrate believes from the statements in the affidavit that the offense charged is triable in a county different from that in which the arrest is made, and there is sufficient ground for a trial or preliminary examination, he shall, by a written order, commit the person arrested to a peace officer, to be by him taken before a magistrate in the county in which the offense is triable, and if the offense be a misdemeanor triable on indictment, shall fix in the order the amount of bail which the person arrested may give for his appearance at the district court of the county (naming it) in which the offense is indictable, on the next day of the next term thereof, to answer to an indictment. If the offense charged be a bailable crime, the arrested person may give bail, conditioned as above provided, before a clerk of the district court.

759.6 Criminal acts committed in third state. The governor of this state may also surrender, on demand of the executive authority of any other state, any person in this state charged in such other state in the manner provided in section 759.3 with committing an act in this state, or in a third state, intentionally resulting in a crime in the state whose executive authority is making the demand, and the provisions of this chapter not otherwise inconsistent, shall apply to such cases, even though the accused was not in that state at the time of the commission of the crime, and has not fled therefrom. [R60,§4521; C73,§4174; C97,§5171; C24,27,31,35,39,§13501; C46,§759.5; C50,54,58,62,§759.6]

759.7 Warrant for arrest. If the governor decides that the demand should be complied with, he shall sign a warrant of arrest, which shall be sealed with the state seal, and be directed to any peace officer or other person whom he may think fit to entrust with the execution thereof. The warrant must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance. [C51,§§3283, 3289; R60,§§4522,4528; C73,§§4175,4181; C97,§§5172,5178; C24,27,31,35,39,§§13502,13508; C46,§§759.6,759.12; C50,54,58,62,§759.7]

[C51,§3289; R60,§4528; C73,§4181; C97,§5178; C24,27,31,35,39,§13506; C46,§759.12; C50,54,58,62,§759.8]

Referred to in §759.25

759.9 Authority of peace officer. Every such peace officer or other person empowered to make the arrest, shall have the same authority, in arresting the accused, to command assistance therein, as peace officers have by law in the execution of any criminal process directed to them, with like penalties against those who refuse their assistance. [C24,27,31,35,39,§13512; C46,§750.16; C50,54,58,62,§759.9]

759.10 Testing legality of arrest. No person arrested upon such warrant shall be delivered over to the agent whom the executive authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court of record in this state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his surrender and of the crime with which he is charged, and that he has the right to demand and procure legal counsel; and if the prisoner or his counsel shall state that he or they desire to test the legality of his arrest, the judge of such court of record shall fix a reasonable time within which to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. When such writ is applied for, notice thereof, and of the time and place of hearing thereon, shall be given to the prosecuting officer of the county in which the arrest is made and in which the accused is in custody, and to the said agent of the demanding state. [C51,§§3284,3285; R60,§§4523,4524; C73,§§4176,4177; C97,§§5173,5174; C24,27,31,35,39,§§13508,13504; C46,§§759.7,759.8; C50,54,58,62,§759.10]

Any officer who shall deliver to the agent for extradition of the demanding state a person in his custody under the governor's warrant, in willful disobedience to the last section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction, shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned not more than thirty days. [C50,54,58,62,§759.11]

759.12 Confinement in jail. The officer or persons executing the governor's warrant of arrest, or the agent of the demanding state to whom the prisoner may have been delivered may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail must receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or person having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or person being chargeable with the expense of keeping.

The officer or agent of a demanding state to whom a prisoner may have been delivered following extradition proceedings in another state, or to whom a prisoner may have been delivered after waiving extradition in such other state, and who is passing through this state with such a prisoner for the purpose of immediately returning such prisoner to the demanding state may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail must receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or agent having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or agent, however, being chargeable with the expense of keeping; provided, however, that such officer or agent shall produce and show to the keeper of such jail satisfactory written evidence of the fact that he is actually transporting such prisoner to the demanding state after a requisition by the executive authority of such demanding state. Such prisoner shall not be delivered over to the demanding state while in this state. [C51,§3290; R60,§4529; C73,§4182; C97,§6179; C24,27,31,35,
759.13 Arrest on affidavit. Whenever any person within this state shall be charged on the oath of any credible person before any judge or magistrate of this state with the commission of any crime in any other state and, except in cases under section 759.6, with having fled from justice, or with having been convicted of a crime in that state and having escaped from confinement, or having broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, or whenever complaint shall have been made before any judge or magistrate in this state setting forth on the affidavit of any credible person in another state that a crime has been committed in such other state and that the accused has been charged in such state with the commission of the crime, and, except in cases arising under section 759.6, has fled from justice, or with having been convicted of a crime in that state and having escaped from confinement, or having broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole and is believed to be in this state, the judge or magistrate shall issue a warrant directed to any peace officer commanding him to apprehend the person named therein, wherever he may be found in this state, and to bring him before the same or any other judge, magistrate or court who or which may be available in or convenient of access to the place where the arrest may be made, to answer the charge or complaint and affidavit, and a certified copy of the sworn charge or complaint and affidavit upon which the warrant is issued shall be attached to the warrant. [R60,§4521; C73,§4174; C97,§5171; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13501; C46,§759.5; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.13]

759.14 Arrest without warrant. The arrest of a person may be lawfully made also by any peace officer or a private person, without a warrant upon reasonable information that the accused stands charged in the courts of a state with a crime punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, but when so arrested the accused must be taken before a judge or magistrate with all practicable speed and complaint must be made against him under oath setting forth the ground for the arrest as in the preceding section; and thereafter his answer shall be heard as if he had been arrested on a warrant. [C51,§3284; R60,§4523; C73,§4176; C97,§5173; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13503; C46,§759.7; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.14]

759.15 Holding to await requisition. If from the examination before the judge or magistrate it appears that the person held is the person charged with having committed the crime alleged and, except in cases arising under section 759.6, that he has fled from justice, the judge or magistrate must, by a warrant reciting the accusation, commit him to the county jail for such a time not exceeding thirty days and specified in the warrant, as will enable the arrest of the accused to be made under a warrant of the governor on a requisition of the executive authority of the state having jurisdiction of the offense, unless the accused give bail as provided in the next section, or until he shall be legally discharged. [C51, §3285; R60,§4524; C73,§4177; C97,§5174; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13504; C46,§759.8; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.15]

759.16 Ball—exceptions. Unless the offense with which the prisoner is charged is shown to be an offense punishable by death or life imprisonment under the laws of the state in which it was committed, a judge or magistrate in this state may admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties, and in such sum as he deems proper, conditioned for his appearance and surrender, to be arrested upon the warrant of the governor of this state. [C51,§3285; R60,§4524; C73,§4177; C97, §5174; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13504; C46,§759.8; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.16]

759.17 Discharge or recommitment. If the accused is not arrested under warrant of the governor by the expiration of the time specified in the warrant or bond, a judge or magistrate may discharge him or may recommit him for a further period not to exceed sixty days, or a judge or magistrate may again take bail for his appearance and surrender, as provided in section 759.16, but within a period not to exceed sixty days after the date of such new bond. [C51,§3286; R60,§4525; C73,§4178; C97,§5175; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13503; C46,§759.9; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.17]

759.18 Forfeiture of bond. If the prisoner is admitted to bail, and fails to appear and surrender himself according to the conditions of his bond, the judge, or magistrate by proper order, shall declare the bond forfeited and order his immediate arrest without warrant if he be within this state. Recovery may be had on such bond in the name of the state as in the case of other bonds given by the accused in criminal proceedings within this state. [C51, §3287; R60,§4526; C73,§4179; C97,§5176; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13506; C46,§759.10; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.18]

759.19 Criminal prosecution pending. If a criminal prosecution has been instituted against such person under the laws of this state and is still pending the governor, in his discretion, either may surrender him on demand of the executive authority of another state or hold him until he has been tried and discharged or convicted and punished in this state. [C51,§3284; R60,§4523; C73,§4176; C97, §5173; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13503; C46,§759.7; C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.19]

759.20 Guilt or innocence of person held. The guilt or innocence of the accused as to the crime of which he is charged may not be inquired into by the governor or in any proceeding after the demand for extradition accompanied by a charge of crime in legal form

When the return to this state is required of a person who has been convicted of a crime in this state and has escaped from confinement or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offense was committed, the parole board, or the warden of the institution or sheriff of the county, from which escape was made, shall present to the governor a written application for a requisition for the return of such person, in which application shall be stated the name of the person, the crime of which he was convicted, the circumstances of his escape from confinement or of the breach of the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the person therein at the time application is made.

If and when such consent has been duly executed it shall forthwith be forwarded to the office of the governor of this state and filed therein. The judge shall direct the officer having such person in custody to deliver forthwith such person to the duly accredited agent or agents of the demanding state, and shall deliver or cause to be delivered to such agent or agents a copy of such consent; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit the rights of the accused person to return voluntarily and without formality to the demanding state, nor shall this waiver procedure be deemed to be an exclusive procedure or to limit the powers, rights or duties of the officers of the demanding state or of this state. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §759.25]

§759.26 State’s rights not deemed waived. CHAPTER 759A
AGREEMENT ON DETAINERS COMPACT

759A.1 Agreement with other states.
759A.2 Court defined.
759A.3 Co-operation.
759A.4 Habitual criminals.
759A.5 Escape in another state.
759A.6 Transfer of custody.
759A.7 Detainer administrator.
759A.8 Copies of law transmitted.

b. “Sending state” shall mean a state in which a prisoner is incarcerated at the time that he initiates a request for final disposition pursuant to Article III hereof or at the time that a request for custody or availability is initiated pursuant to Article IV hereof.

c. “Receiving state” shall mean the state in which trial is to be had on an indictment, information or complaint pursuant to Article III or Article IV hereof.

ARTICLE I

The party states find that charges outstanding against a prisoner, detainers based on untried indictments, informations or complaints, and difficulties in securing speedy trial of persons already incarcerated in other jurisdictions, produce uncertainties which obstruct programs of prisoner treatment and rehabilitation. Accordingly, it is the policy of the party states and the purpose of this agreement to encourage the expeditious and orderly disposition of such charges and determination of the proper status of any and all detainers based on untried indictments, informations or complaints. The party states also find that proceedings with reference to such charges and detainers, when emanating from another jurisdiction, cannot properly be had in the absence of co-operative procedures. It is the further purpose of this agreement to provide such co-operative procedures.

ARTICLE II

As used in this agreement:

a. “State” shall mean a state of the United States; the United States of America; a territory or possession of the United States; the District of Columbia; the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
custody of the prisoner, stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner.

b. The written notice and request for final disposition referred to in paragraph "a" hereof shall be given or sent by the prisoner to the warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of him, who shall promptly forward it together with the certificate to the appropriate prosecuting official and court by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested.

c. The warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of the prisoner shall promptly inform him of the source and contents of any detainer lodged against him and shall also inform him of his right to make a request for final disposition of the indictment, information or complaint on which the detainer is based.

d. Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to paragraph "a" hereof shall operate as a request for final disposition of all untried indictments, informations or complaints on the basis of which detainers have been lodged against the prisoner from the state to whose prosecuting official the request for final disposition is specifically directed. The warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of the prisoner shall forthwith notify all appropriate prosecuting officers and courts in the several jurisdictions within the state to which the prisoner's request for final disposition is being sent of the proceeding being initiated by the prisoner. Any notification sent pursuant to this paragraph shall be accompanied by copies of the prisoner's written notice, request, and the certificate. If trial is not had on any indictment, information or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the return of the prisoner to the original place of imprisonment, such indictment, information or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

e. Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to paragraph "a" hereof shall also be deemed to be a waiver of extradition, with respect to any charge or proceeding contemplated thereby or included therein by reason of paragraph "d" hereof, and a waiver of extradition to the receiving state to serve any sentence there imposed upon him, after completion of his term of imprisonment in the sending state. The request for final disposition shall also constitute a consent by the prisoner to the production of his body in any court where his presence may be required in order to effectuate the purposes of this agreement and a further consent voluntarily to be returned to the original place of imprisonment in accordance with the provisions of this agreement. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the imposition of a concurrent sentence if otherwise permitted by law.

f. Escape from custody by the prisoner subsequent to his execution of the request for final disposition referred to in paragraph "a" hereof shall void the request.

ARTICLE IV
Referred to in Articles II, V and VI
a. The appropriate officer of the jurisdiction in which an untried indictment, information or complaint is pending shall be entitled to have a prisoner against whom he has lodged a detainer and who is serving a term of imprisonment in any party state made available in accordance with Article V "a" hereof upon presentation of a written request for temporary custody or availability to the appropriate authorities of the state in which the prisoner is incarcerated: provided that the court having jurisdiction of such indictment, information or complaint shall have duly approved, recorded and transmitted the request: and provided further that there shall be a period of thirty days after receipt by the appropriate authorities before the request be honored, within which period the governor of the sending state may disapprove the request for temporary custody or availability, either upon his own motion or upon motion of the prisoner.

b. Upon receipt of the officer's written request as provided in paragraph "a" hereof, the appropriate authorities having the prisoner in custody shall furnish the officer with a certificate stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner. Said authorities simultaneously shall furnish all other officers and appropriate courts in the receiving state who have lodged detainers against the prisoner with similar certificates and with notices informing them of the request for custody or availability and of the reasons therefor.

c. In respect of any proceeding made possible by this Article, trial shall be commenced within one hundred twenty days of the arrival of the prisoner in the receiving state, but for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance.

d. Nothing contained in this Article shall be construed to deprive any prisoner of any right which he may have to contest the legality of his delivery as provided in paragraph "a" hereof, but such delivery may not be opposed on the ground that the executive authority of the sending state has not affirmatively consented to or ordered such delivery.
e. If trial is not had on any indictment, information or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the prisoner's being returned to the original place of imprisonment pursuant to Article V "e" hereof, such indictment, information or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

ARTICLE V
Referred to in Article IV(a,e)

a. In response to a request made under Article III or Article IV hereof, the appropriate authority in a sending state shall offer to deliver temporary custody of such prisoner to the appropriate authority in the state where such indictment, information or complaint is pending against such person in order that speedy and efficient prosecution may be had. If the request for final disposition is made by the prisoner, the offer of temporary custody shall accompany the written notice provided for in Article III of this agreement. In the case of a federal prisoner, the appropriate authority in the receiving state shall be entitled to temporary custody as provided by this agreement or to the prisoner's presence in federal custody at the place for trial, whichever custodial arrangement may be approved by the custodian.

b. The officer or other representative of a state accepting an offer of temporary custody shall present the following upon demand:

(1) Proper identification and evidence of his authority to act for the state into whose temporary custody the prisoner is to be given.

(2) A duly certified copy of the indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged and on the basis of which the request for temporary custody of the prisoner has been made.

c. If the appropriate authority shall refuse or fail to accept temporary custody of said person, or in the event that an action on the indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged is not brought to trial within the period provided in Article III or Article IV hereof, the appropriate court of the jurisdiction where the indictment, information or complaint has been pending shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice, and any detainer based thereon shall cease to be of any force or effect.

d. The temporary custody referred to in this agreement shall be only for the purpose of permitting prosecution on the charge or charges contained in one or more untried indictments, informations or complaints which form the basis of the detainer or detainers or for prosecution on any other charge or charges arising out of the same transaction. Except for his attendance at court and while being transported to or from any place at which his presence may be required, the prisoner shall be held in a suitable jail or other facility regularly used for persons awaiting prosecution.

e. At the earliest practicable time consonant with the purposes of this agreement, the prisoner shall be returned to the sending state.

f. During the continuance of temporary custody or while the prisoner is otherwise being made available for trial as required by this agreement, time being served on the sentence shall continue to run but good time shall be earned by the prisoner only if, and to the extent that, the law and practice of the jurisdiction which imposed the sentence may allow.

g. For all purposes other than that for which temporary custody as provided in this agreement is exercised, the prisoner shall be deemed to remain in the custody of and subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and any escape from temporary custody may be dealt with in the same manner as an escape from the original place of imprisonment or in any other manner permitted by law.

h. From the time that a party state receives custody of a prisoner pursuant to this agreement until such prisoner is returned to the territory and custody of the sending state, the state in which the one or more untried indictments, informations or complaints are pending or in which trial is being had shall be responsible for the prisoner and shall also pay all costs of transporting, caring for, keeping and returning the prisoner. The provisions of this paragraph shall govern unless the states concerned shall have entered into a supplementary agreement providing for a different allocation of costs and responsibilities as between or among themselves. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

ARTICLE VI

a. In determining the duration and expiration dates of the time periods provided in Articles III and IV of this agreement, the running of said time periods shall be tolled whenever and for as long as the prisoner is unable to stand trial, as determined by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

b. No provision of this agreement, and no remedy made available by this agreement, shall apply to any person who is adjudged to be mentally ill.

ARTICLE VII

Each state party to this agreement shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this agreement, and who shall provide, within and without the state, information necessary to the effective operation of this agreement.

ARTICLE VIII

This agreement shall enter into full force and effect as to a party state when such state has enacted the same into law. A state party to this agreement may withdraw herefrom by enacting a statute repealing the same. However, the withdrawal of any state shall not affect the status of any proceedings already initiated by inmates or by state officers at the time such withdrawal takes effect, nor shall it affect their rights in respect thereof.
§759A.1, CRIMINAL DETAINERS COMPACT

ARTICLE IX

This agreement shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate its purposes. The provisions of this agreement shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this agreement is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this agreement and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this agreement shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party hereto, the agreement shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. [61GA, ch 445, §1]

759A.2 Court defined. The phrase “appropriate court” as used in the agreement on detainers shall, with reference to the courts of this state, mean any court with criminal jurisdiction in the matter involved. [61GA, ch 445, §2]

759A.4 Habitual criminals. Nothing in this chapter or in the agreement on detainers shall be construed to require the application of chapter 747 to any person on account of any conviction had in a proceeding brought to final disposition by reason of the use of this agreement. [61GA, ch 445, §4]

759A.5 Escape in another state. Escape from custody while in another state, pursuant to this agreement on detainers shall constitute an offense against the laws of this state to the same extent and degree as an escape from the institution in which the prisoner was confined immediately prior to having been sent to another state pursuant to the provisions of the agreement on detainers and shall be punishable in the same manner as an escape from said institution. [61GA, ch 445, §5]

759A.6 Transfer of custody. It shall be lawful and mandatory upon the warden or other official in charge of a penal or correctional institution in this state to give over the person of any inmate thereof whenever so required by the operation of the agreement on detainers. [61GA, ch 445, §6]

759A.8 Copies of law transmitted. Copies of this chapter shall, upon its approval, be transmitted to the governor of each state, the attorney general, and the administrator of general services of the United States, and the council of state governments. [61GA, ch 445, §8]

CHAPTER 770

IMPANELING GRAND JURY

770.1 Drawing grand jurors.

770.2 Additional drawings.

770.3 Challenge to panel—motion.
770.1 Drawing grand jurors. At the term of court at which grand jurors are required to appear, the names of the twelve persons constituting the panel of the grand jury, except such as may have died, removed from the county, or have been excused by the court, shall, on the second day of each term of court, unless otherwise ordered by the court or judge, be placed by the clerk in a box, and after thoroughly mixing the same, he shall draw therefrom seven names, and the persons so drawn shall constitute the grand jury for that term. Should any of the persons so drawn be excused or fail to attend on said second day of the court, the clerk shall draw other names until the seven grand jurors are secured. [C51, §2881; R60, §§4608-4610; C73, §§4255-4257; C97, §5240; S13, §5240; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.1]

§18, §5240, editorially divided

770.2 Additional drawings. If, for any reason, the number of grand jurors required is not secured from the twelve persons so constituting such panel, the clerk shall draw from the grand jury box such number of names as the court may direct, and from the persons whose names are so drawn the panel of the grand jury for the term shall be filled, and the court shall issue a venire to secure their attendance. [C51, §2885; R60, §§4609, 4610; C73, §§4256, 4257; C97, §5240; S13, §5240; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.2]

770.3 Challenge to panel — motion. A defendant held to answer for a public offense may, before the grand jury is sworn, challenge the panel, only for the reason that it was not selected, drawn, or summoned as prescribed by law. A defendant indicted not having been held to answer, or having been so held after the impaneling of the grand jury, may for the same reasons object to the panel by motion, but the right to make such motion is waived by entering a plea to an indictment. [C51, §§2882, 2883, 2890; R60, §§4611, 4612, 4619; C73, §§4258, 4260, 4266; C97, §5241; C46, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13679; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.3]

770.4 Joinder in challenges. When several persons are held to answer for one and the same offense, no challenge to the panel can be made unless they all join therein. [C51, §2880; R60, §§4610; C73, §4256; C97, §5242; C46, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13681; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.4]

770.5 Grounds of challenge. A challenge to an individual grand juror may be made before the grand jury is sworn as follows:
1. By the state or the defendant, because the grand juror does not possess the qualifications required by law.
2. By the state only because:
   a. He is related either by affinity or consanguinity nearer than in the fifth degree, or stands in the relation of agent, clerk, servant, or employee, to any person held to answer for a public offense, whose case may come before the grand jury.
   b. He has, or within one year preceding has been, engaged or interested in carrying on any business, calling, or employment the carrying on of which is a violation of law, and for which the juror may be indicted by the grand jury.
3. By the defendant only because:
   a. He is a prosecutor upon a charge against the defendant.
   b. He has formed or expressed such an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner as would prevent him from rendering a true verdict upon the evidence submitted on the trial. [C51, §§2882, 2884, 2890; R60, §§4611, 4613, 4619; C73, §§4258, 4259, 4261, 4266; C97, §5243; C46, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13682; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.5]

Computing relationship, §6.1

770.6 Decided by the court. Challenges to the panel or to an individual grand juror must be decided by the court. [C51, §2886; R60, §4615; C73, §4262; C97, §5244; C46, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13683; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.6]

770.7 Effect of allowing challenge to panel. 770.8 Dismissal of jurors—new panels. If a challenge to the panel is allowed, he shall not be present at or take any part in the consideration of the charge against the defendant. If a challenge to the panel is allowed, or if by reason of challenges to individual grand jurors being allowed, or if for any cause at any time, the grand jury is reduced to a less number than seven, a new grand jury shall be impaneled to inquire into the charge against the defendant in whose behalf the challenge to the panel has been allowed, or the panel of the jury so reduced below the number required by law shall be filled as the case may be. If a challenge is allowed to the panel, the names of jurors required to impanel a new jury shall be drawn from the grand jury list. [C51, §2888; R60, §4617; C73, §4264; C97, §5246; S13, §5246; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13685; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.8]

Referred to in §770.10

770.9 Summoning additional jurors. If such grand jury has been reduced to a less number than seven by reason of challenges to individual jurors being allowed, or from any other cause, the additional jurors required to fill the panel shall be summoned, first, from such of the twelve jurors originally summoned which were not drawn on the grand jury as first impaneled, or, second, and if they are exhausted, the additional number required shall be drawn from the grand jury list and the court shall, when necessary, issue a venire to secure the attendance of such additional jurors. The persons so summoned shall serve only in the case, or cases, in which, by reason of challenges, or other causes, the regular panel is set aside or is insufficient in number to find an indictment. [S13, §5246; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13686; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.9]

Referred to in §770.10

770.10 Effect of violation. The grand jury must inform the court of any violation of sections 770.8 and 770.9, which offense shall be punished as a contempt. [C51, §2890; R60, §4618; C73, §4265; C97, §5247; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13687; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.10]

Contempt, ch 665

770.11 Refilling panel. If for any cause the number of grand jurors is reduced below twelve, the court or judge may ordre the clerk to immediately draw from the grand jury list sufficient additional names to fill the panel, and such new grand jurors so drawn may, if so ordered by the court, serve as regular grand jurors for the county in which they are drawn for the remainder of the year. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13688; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.11]

770.12 Foreman appointed. From the persons impaneled as grand jurors the court must appoint a foreman, or when the foreman already appointed is discharged, excused, or from any cause becomes unable to act, before the grand jury is finally discharged. [C51, §2891; R60, §4620; C73, §4270; C97, §5251; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13692; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.12]

770.13 Oath of foreman. The following oath must be administered to the foreman of the grand jury: "You, as foreman of the grand jury, shall diligently inquire and true presentment make of all public offenses against the people of this state, triable on indictment within this county, of which you have or can obtain legal evidence; you shall present no person through malice, hatred, or ill will, nor leave any unpresented through fear, favor, or affection, or for any reward, or the promise or hope thereof, but in all your presentments you shall present the skill and truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, according to the best of your skill and understanding." [C51, §2892; R60, §4621; C73, §4289; C97, §5248; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13693; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.13]

The following oath must thereupon be administered to the other grand jurors: "The same oath which your foreman has now taken before you on his part, you and each of you shall well and truly observe on your part." [C51, §2893; R60, §4622; C73, §4269; C97, §5250; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13691; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.14]

770.15 General charge of court. The grand jury, being impaneled and sworn, may be charged by the court, who shall give them such information as may be proper as to the nature of their duties, and any charges for public offenses returned to the court or likely to come before that body. [C51, §2894; R60, §4623; C73, §4270; C97, §5251; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13692; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §770.15]

CHAPTER 773

INDICTMENT

Applicable to county attorney information, §769.13

773.1 Definition. An indictment is an accusation in writing, found and presented by a grand jury legally impaneled and sworn to the court in which it is impaneled, charging that a person therein named has done some act, or been guilty of some omission, which by law is a public offense, punishable on indictment. [C51, §2915; R60, §4649; C73, §4295; C97, §5279; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13732; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §773.1]

773.2 Form of indictment. The indictment may be in substantially the following form:

State of Iowa vs. A. B.

The grand jurors of the county of ......... accuse A. B. of (here state the offense, e. g., treason, manslaughter, robbery, or larceny) and charge that (here the particulars of the offense, for instance, as set forth in section 773.35 may be added with the view to avoiding the necessity for a bill of particulars)."

773.3 Allegations of prior convictions. If the offense charged is one for which the defendant, if convicted, will be subject by reason of the Code, to an increased penalty because of prior convictions, the allegation of such convictions, if any, shall be contained in the indictment. A supplemental indictment shall be prepared for the purpose of trial of the facts of the current offense only, and shall satisfy all pertinent requirements of the Code, except that it shall make no mention, directly or indirectly, of the allegation of the prior convictions, and shall be the only indictment read or otherwise presented to the jury prior to conviction of the current offense. The effect of this section shall be to alter the procedure for trying, in one criminal proceeding, the offenses appropriate to its provisions, and not to alter in any manner the basic elements of an offense as provided by law. [61GA, ch 444, §4]

§773.4 Contents of indictment. The indictment may charge, and is valid and sufficient if it charges, the offense for which the accused is being prosecuted in one or more of the following ways:

1. By using the name given to the offense by statute.
2. By stating so much of the definition of the offense, either in terms of the common law or of the statute defining the offense, or in terms of substantially the same meaning, as is sufficient to give the court and the accused notice of what offense is intended to be charged.

The indictment may refer to a section or subsection of any statute creating the crime charged therein, and in determining the validity or sufficiency of such indictment regard shall be had to such reference. [C51, §2916; R60, §§4650, 4652, 4659; C73, §§4296, 4298, 4305; C97, §§5280, 5282, 5289; S13, §§5289; C24, 27, §§13733, 13735, 13743; C31, 35, §13732-c2; C39, §13732-c2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §773.3]

§773.5 Absence of particulars—effect. No indictment which charges the offense in accordance with the provisions of section 773.4 shall be held to be insufficient on the ground that it fails to inform the defendant of the particulars of the offense. [C31, 35, §13732-c3; C39, §13732-03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §773.4]

§773.6 Bill of particulars. 1. When an indictment charges an offense in accordance with the provisions of section 773.4, but such indictment together with the minutes of the evidence filed therewith fails to inform the defendant of the particulars of the offense sufficiently to enable him to prepare his defense, or to give him such information as he is entitled to under the constitution of this state, the court may, of its own motion, and shall, at the request of the defendant, order the county attorney to furnish a bill of particulars containing such information as may be necessary for these purposes, or the county attorney may of his own motion furnish such bill of particulars.
2. When the court deems it to be in the interest of justice that facts not set out in the indictment or in the minutes of the evidence or in any previous bill of particulars, should be furnished to the defendant, it may order the county attorney to furnish a bill of particulars containing such facts. In determining whether such facts and, if so, what facts, should be so furnished the court shall consider the whole record of the case and the entire course of the proceedings against the defendant.
3. Supplemental bills of particulars or a new bill may be ordered by the court or furnished voluntarily under the conditions above stated.
4. Each supplemental bill shall operate to amend any and all previous bills and a new bill shall supersede any previous bill.
5. When any bill of particulars is furnished it shall be filed and become a part of the record and a copy of such bill shall be given to the defendant upon his request. [C31, 35, §13732-c4; C39, §13732-04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §773.5]

§773.7 Setting aside indictment. If it appears from the bill of particulars furnished under section 773.6 that the particulars stated do not constitute the offense charged in the indictment, or that the defendant did not commit that offense, or that a prosecution for that offense is barred by the statute of limitations, the court may and on motion of defendant shall set aside the indictment unless the county attorney shall furnish another bill of particulars which so states the particulars as to show that the particulars constitute the offense charged in the indictment and that the offense was committed by the defendant and that it is not barred by the statute of limitations. [C31, 35, §13732-c5; C39, §13732-05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §773.6]

§773.8 Identification of defendant. 1. In an indictment or bill of particulars it is sufficient for the purpose of identifying the defendant to state his true name, or to state the true name, appellation or nickname by which he has been or is known, or, if no better way of identifying him is practicable, by stating a fictitious name, or describing him as a person whose name is unknown, or in any other manner. In stating the true name or the name by which the defendant has been or is known or a fictitious name, it is sufficient to state a surname, a name and one or more given names, a surname and one or more abbreviations or initials of a given name or names.
2. If the defendant is a corporation, it is sufficient to state the corporate name of such corporation, or any name or designation by which it has been or is known or by which it may be identified, without an averment that the corporation is a corporation or that it was incorporated according to law.
3. If in the course of the proceedings the true name of a person indicted otherwise than by his true name is disclosed by the defendant or in the proceedings before the court, it shall order the true name of the defendant to be inserted in the indictment and court record wherever his name appears otherwise therein, and the case shall proceed against him in his true name.
4. In no case is it necessary to prove that the true name of the defendant is unknown to the grand jury or prosecuting attorney. [C51, §2916; R60, §§4653, 4659; C73, §§4299, 4305; C97,

2. The allegation in an indictment that the defendant committed the offense shall in all cases be considered an allegation that the offense was committed after it became an offense and before the finding of the indictment and within the period of limitations prescribed by law for the prosecution of the offense.
3. All allegations of the indictment and bill of particulars shall, unless stated otherwise, be deemed to refer to the same time. 781.13 Cross-examination. When the defendant testifies in his own behalf, he shall be subject to cross-examination as an ordinary witness, but the state shall be strictly confined therein, to the matters testified to in the examination in chief. [C73,§4238; C97,§5485; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13892; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§781.13]

781.14 Attendance of witnesses outside state. When a petition is filed in the office of a clerk of the district court upon the relation and oath of a prosecuting attorney in another state, which, by its laws, has heretofore or may hereafter make provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in a criminal action in this state, setting forth that there is a criminal action pending in such state wherein a person residing or being within the county wherein said court is held is a material witness for the state in such action, to which there is attached a certified copy of the indictment therein, a judge of said court shall issue an order fixing a time and place for a hearing on said petition, which may be during a session of court or in vacation, and thereupon the clerk shall prepare a notice requiring the said witness to appear before the said judge at the time and place specified in said order to make defense thereto and shall deliver the same to the sheriff of said county for service upon said person. [S13,§5499-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13893; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§781.14]

781.15 Costs paid in advance. All costs of said proceeding, which shall be estimated by the clerk, shall be paid to the clerk at the time said petition is filed. [S13,§5499-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13894; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§781.15]

781.16 Order to enforce attendance. If it shall be shown upon said hearing that the said person is a material and necessary witness for the prosecution in such case, the court shall enter an order commanding said person to appear and testify in said cause in the court in which such criminal action is pending at a certain named time and place, of which order the said person shall take notice. [S13,§5499-d; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13895; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§781.16]

781.17 Fees advanced—protection from service of process. If any person on whom such order has been made, having been tendered by the party asking for the order ten cents for each mile traveled to and from such court, and the sum of five dollars for each day that his attendance is required, including the time going to and returning from the place of trial, the number of days to be specified in such order, shall unreasonably neglect to attend and testify in such court, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of disobedience of any order issued from the office of the clerk of the district court; provided that the laws of the state in which the trial is to be held give to persons coming into the state, under such order, protection from the service of papers and arrest. [S13,§5499-e; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13896; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§781.17]

CHAPTER 782
EVIDENCE

782.1 Rules of evidence.

782.2 Obstructing highway by railroad.

782.3 Rape—actual penetration.

782.4 Corroboration in rape, seduction and other crimes.

782.1 Rules of evidence. The rules of evidence prescribed in civil procedure shall apply to criminal proceedings as far as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. [R60,§4805; C73,§§4426, 4556; C97, §5483; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13897; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§782.1] Evidence, ch 622

782.2 Obstructing highway by railroad. In a prosecution against a railway company for obstructing a highway or any private way, proof that any such way is in an unsafe condition, or that it is inconvenient for travel at the place of its intersection with such railway, shall be presumptive evidence that such company has obstructed such way. [C73,§657; C97,§5486; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13898; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§782.2] Punishment for obstruction, §716.7

782.3 Rape—actual penetration. Proof of actual penetration into the body is sufficient to sustain an indictment for rape. [C51,§2997; R60,§4101; C73,§4558; C97,§5487; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13899; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§782.3]

782.4 Corroboration in rape, seduction and other crimes. The defendant in a prosecution for rape, or assault with intent to commit rape, or enticing or taking away an unmarried female of previously chaste character for the purpose of prostitution, or aiding or assisting therein, or seducing and debauching any unmarried woman of previously chaste character, cannot be convicted upon the testimony of the person injured, unless she be corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense. [C51, §2999; R60, §4103; C73, §4560; C97, §5488; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13900; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §782.4]

Similar provisions, §§698.1, 699.1, 700.1

782.5 Corroboration of accomplice. A conviction cannot be had upon the testimony of an accomplice, unless corroborated by other evidence tending to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense; and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely show the commission of the offense or the circumstances thereof. [C51, §2998; R60, §4102; C73, §4559; C97, §5489; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13901; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §782.5]

Accessories, §688.1

782.6 Proof of overt acts. Upon a trial for conspiracy, a defendant cannot be convicted unless one or more overt acts alleged in the indictment are proved, when required by law to constitute the offense, but other overt acts not alleged in the indictment may be given in evidence. [C51, §2996; R60, §4790; C73, §4245; C97, §5490; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13902; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §782.6]

CHAPTER 783

INSANITY OF DEFENDANT DURING TRIAL

783.1 Doubt as to sanity—procedure. 783.2 Method of trial. 783.3 Finding of insanity—discharge.

783.1 Doubt as to sanity—procedure. If a defendant appears in any stage of the trial of a criminal prosecution, and a reasonable doubt arises as to his sanity, further proceedings must be suspended and a trial had upon that question. [C51, §§3260, 3261; R60, §§5015, 5016; C73, §§4620, 4621; C97, §5540; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13905; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §783.1]

783.2 Method of trial. Such trial shall be conducted in all respects, so far as may be, as the prosecution itself would be, except that the defendant shall hold the burden of proof, and first offer his evidence and have the opening and closing argument. [R60, §§5017; C73, §4622; C97, §5541; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13906; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §783.2]

783.3 Finding of insanity—discharge. If the accused shall be found insane, no further proceedings shall be taken under the indictment until his reason is restored, and, if his discharge will endanger the public peace or safety, the court must order him committed to the department for the criminal insane at Anamosa until he becomes sane; but if found sane, the trial upon the indictment shall proceed, and the question of the then insanity of the accused cannot be raised therein. [C51, §§3262, 3263; R60, §§5018, 5019; C73, §§4623, 4624; C97, §5542; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13907; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §783.3]

783.4 Restored to reason—returned to custody. If the accused is committed to the department for the criminal insane, as soon as he becomes mentally restored, the person in charge shall at once give notice to the sheriff and county attorney of the proper county of such fact, and the sheriff, without delay, must receive and hold him in custody until he is brought to trial or judgment, as the case may be, or is legally discharged, the expense for conveying and returning him, or any other, to be paid in the first instance by the county from which he is sent, but such county may recover the same from his estate, or a relative, or another county or municipal body bound to provide for or maintain him elsewhere, and the sheriff shall be allowed for his services the same fees as are allowed for conveying convicts to the penitentiary. [C51, §§3264–3267; R60, §§5020–5023; C73, §§4625–4628; C97, §§5543; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13908; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §783.4]

Referred to in §783.5

783.5 Insanity after commitment to jail. If, after conviction for a misdemeanor and judgment of imprisonment in jail, the defendant is suspected of being insane, the same proceedings shall be taken as is provided in chapters 228, 229, and 230, and, if found insane, he shall be committed to the department for the criminal insane at Anamosa, and all subsequent proceedings shall be as provided in section 783.4. [C97, §§5544; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13909; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §783.5]
CHAPTER 784
JURY AFTER SUBMISSION

784.1 Papers taken by jury. Upon retiring for deliberation, the jury may take with it all papers which have been received in evidence, except copies of such parts of public records or private documents as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in possession, also any notes of the testimony or other proceedings taken in the trial by themselves or any of them. [C51,§§3021, 3022; R60,§§4817, 4818; C73,§§4452, 4453; C97,§5397; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13910; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§784.1]

Similar provision, R.C.P. 198

784.2 Report for information. After the jury has retired for deliberation, if there be any disagreement as to any part of the testimony or other proceedings taken in the trial by themselves or any of them, the court may require the officer to conduct it into court, and, upon its being brought in, the information required must be given as provided by law, in the presence of or after oral notice to the county attorney and defendant's counsel. [C51,§3023; R60,§4819; C73,§4454; C97,§5398; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13911; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§784.2]

Similar provision, R.C.P. 197

784.3 Discharge of jury—grounds. If, after retirement, one of the jury is taken sick so as to prevent further deliberation, or any other accident or cause occurs to prevent its being kept together, the court may discharge it; otherwise the jury cannot be discharged after the cause is submitted to it until it has agreed upon its verdict and rendered it in open court, unless, by the consent of both parties entered upon the record, or unless, at the expiration of such time as the court may deem proper, it satisfactorily appears that there is no reasonable probability that it can agree. [C51,§§3024, 3025; R60,§§4820, 4821; C73,§§4455, 4456; C97,§5399; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13912; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§784.3]

Similar provisions, R.C.P. 189 and 200

784.4 Retrial—when allowed. In all cases where a jury is discharged or prevented from giving a verdict, except where the defendant is discharged during the progress of the trial, or after submission to it, the cause may be again tried at the same or another term of the court. [C51,§3026; R60,§4822; C73,§4457; C97,§5400; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13913; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§784.4]

Similar provision, R.C.P. 200

784.5 Adjournment pending deliberation—effect. While the jury is absent, the court may adjourn from time to time as to other business, but it shall be nevertheless deemed open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until a verdict is rendered or the jury is discharged, but a final adjournment of the court discharges the jury. [C51,§§3027, 3028; R60,§§4823, 4824; C73,§§4458, 4459; C97,§5401; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13914; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§784.5]

Similar provision, R.C.P. 201

VERDICT

785.1 General and special verdicts. The jury must render a general verdict of "guilty" or "not guilty", which imports a conviction or acquittal on every material allegation in the indictment, except upon a plea of former conviction or acquittal of the same offense, in which case it shall be "for the state" or "for the defendant", and except in cases submitted to determine the grade of the offense and, when authorized, fixing the punishment therefor. [C51,§§3032-3037; R60,§§4828-4833; C73,§§4463, 4464, 4474-4477; C97,§5405; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13915; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.1]

C97,§5405, editorially divided

785.2 Answers to interrogatories. It must also return with the general verdict answers to special interrogatories submitted by the court upon its own motion, or at the request of the defendant in prosecutions where the defense is an affirmative one, or it is claimed any witness is an accomplice, or there has been a failure to corrobore where corroboration is required.
785.4 Reasonable doubt as to degree. Where there is a reasonable doubt of the degree of the offense of which the defendant is proven to be guilty, he shall only be convicted of the lower degree. [R60,§4808; C73,§4429; C97,§5377; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13918; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.4]

785.5 Finding offense of different degree. Upon an indictment for an offense consisting of different degrees, the jury may find the defendant not guilty of the degree charged in the indictment, and guilty of any degree inferior thereto, or of an attempt to commit the offense, if punishable by indictment. [C51,§2918; R60,§4835; C73,§4465; C97,§5406; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13919; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.5]

785.6 Finding included offense. In all other cases, the defendant may be found guilty of any offense the commission of which is necessarily included in that with which he is charged in the indictment. [C51,§3039; R60,§4836; C73,§4466; C97,§5407; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13920; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.6]

785.7 Verdict against one of several. On an indictment against several, if the jury cannot agree upon a verdict as to all, it may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom it does agree, on which a judgment shall be entered accordingly, and the case as to the rest may be tried by another jury. [C51,§3040; R60,§4837; C73,§4467; C97,§5408; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13921; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.7]

785.8 Verdict as to several defendants. Upon an indictment against several defendants, any one or more may be convicted or acquitted. [C51,§3041; R60,§4838; C73,§4468; C97,§5409; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13922; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.8]

785.9 Return of jury—roll call. When the jury has agreed upon its verdict, it must be conducted into court by the officer having it in charge; the names of the jurors must then be called, and if all do not appear the rest must be discharged without giving a verdict; in such case, the cause may again be tried at the same or another term. [C51,§3029; R60,§4840; C73,§4469; C97,§5410; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13923; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.9] Similar provisions, §785.17 and R.C.P. 203

785.10 Presence of defendant—when necessary. If the indictment be for a felony, the defendant must be present at the rendition of the verdict; if it be for a misdemeanor, it may be rendered in his absence. [C51,§3030; R60,§4840; C73,§4460; C97,§5410; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13924; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.10]

785.11 Verdict rendered. When the members of the jury have answered to their names, the court or the clerk shall ask them whether they have agreed upon the verdict, and if the foreman answers in the affirmative they must declare the same. [C51,§3031; R60,§4827; C73,§4462; C97,§5404; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13925; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.11]

785.12 Verdict insufficient—reconsideration. If the jury renders a verdict which is neither a general nor special one, the court may direct it to reconsider it, and it shall not be recorded until it is rendered in some form from which the intent of the jury can be clearly understood, whether to render a general verdict, or to find the facts specially and leave the judgment to the court. [C51,§3032; R60,§4828; C73,§4463; C97,§5405; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13926; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.12]

785.13 Informal verdict. If the jury persists in finding an informal verdict, from which, however, it can be understood that the intention is to find for the defendant upon the issue, it shall be entered in the terms in which it is found, and the court must give judgment of acquittal. [C51,§3042; R60,§4839; C73,§4469; C97,§5410; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13927; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.13]

785.14 Certainty in verdict required. No judgment of conviction can be given unless the jury expressly finds against the defendant upon the issue, or judgment is given against him upon a special verdict. [C51,§3042; R60,§4839; C73,§4469; C97,§5410; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13928; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.14]

785.15 Jury polled. When a verdict is rendered, and before it is recorded, the jury may be polled on the requirement of either party; in which case each member thereof shall be asked whether it is his verdict, and if anyone answers in the negative the jury must be sent back for further deliberation. [C51,§3043; R60,§4840; C73,§4470; C97,§5411; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13929; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.15] Similar provision, R.C.P. 203

785.16 Prior conviction affirmed or denied. After conviction, but prior to pronouncement of sentence, if the indictment alleges one or more prior convictions which by the Code, subject the offender to an increased sentence, he shall have the opportunity in open court to affirm or deny that he is identical with the person previously convicted. If he denies the identity, sentence shall be postponed for such time as to permit a trial before a jury on the sole issue of the offender's identity with the person previously convicted.

The court may in its discretion reconvene the jury which heard the current offense or dismiss that jury and submit the issue of identity to another jury to be later impaneled. If the offender is found by the jury to be the person previously convicted, or if he acknowledges that he is such person, he shall be sentenced as prescribed in the Code. [61GA, ch 444,§5]

785.17 Reading and entry of verdict—disagreement. When the verdict is given and is such as the court may receive, the clerk may immediately enter it in full upon the record, and must read it to the jury, and inquire of the members thereof whether it is their verdict. If any juror disagrees, the fact must be entered upon the record and the jury again sent out. But if no disagreement is expressed, the verdict is complete and the jury must be discharged from the case. [R60,§4841; C73,§4471; C97,§5412; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13930; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.16]

Similar provisions, §785.9 and R.C.P. 203

785.18 Defendant discharged on acquittal. If judgment of acquittal is given on a general verdict, and the defendant is not detained for any other legal cause, he must be discharged as soon as the judgment is given. [C51,§3045; R60,§4843; C73,§4473; C97,§5413; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13931; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.17]

785.19 Acquittal on ground of insanity—commitment. If the defense is insanity of the defendant, the jury must be instructed, if it acquits him on that ground, to state that fact in its verdict. The court may thereupon, if the defendant is in custody, and his discharge is found to be dangerous to the public peace and safety, order him committed to the insane hospital, or retained in custody, until he becomes sane. [C51,§3044; R60,§4842; C73,§4472; C97,§5414; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§785.18]

EXCEPTIONS

786.1 Bill of exceptions—purpose. The office of a bill of exceptions is to make the proceedings or evidence appear of record which would not otherwise so appear. [R60, §4846; C73,§4481; C97,§5416; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13933; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§786.1]

786.2 What constitutes record—exceptions unnecessary. All papers pertaining to the cause and filed with the clerk, and all entries made by him in the record book pertaining to them, and showing the action or decision of the court upon them or any part of them, and the judgment, are to be deemed parts of the record, and it is not necessary to except to any action or decision of the court so appearing of record. [R60,§4847; C73,§4482; C97,§5417; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13934; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§786.2]

786.3 Grounds for exceptions. On the trial of an indictment, exceptions may be taken by the party excepting to any decision or action of the court; in any stage of the proceedings, whether before or after the trial of the indictment, or on the trial. [R60,§4854; C73,§4483; C97,§5418; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13937; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§786.5]

Similar provisions, §13935; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§786.2

786.4 Action affecting substantial right. Exceptions may also be taken to any action or decision of the court which affects any other material or substantial right of either party, whether before or after the trial of the indictment, or on the trial. [R60,§4855; C73,§4480; C97,§5415; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13936; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§786.4]

Similar provision, §624.15
NEW TRIAL

787.1 Definition. A new trial is a re-examination of the issue in the same court before another jury, after a verdict has been given. [C51, §3050; R60, §4852; C73, §4487; C97, §5422; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13942; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §787.1]

787.2 Application—when made. The application for a new trial can be made only by the defendant, and must be made before judgment. [C51, §3053; R60, §4855; C73, §4490; C97, §5425; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13943; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §787.2]

787.3 Grounds. The court may grant a new trial for the following causes, or any of them:
1. When the trial has been had in the absence of the defendant, if the indictment be for a felony.
2. When the jury has received any evidence, paper, or document out of court not authorized by the court.

788.1 “Motion in arrest” defined—grounds. A motion in arrest of judgment is an application to the court in which the trial was had, on the part of the defendant, that no judgment be rendered upon a verdict against him, or on a plea of guilty, and shall be granted when upon the whole record no legal judgment can be pronounced. [C51, §3053; R60, §4855; C73, §4491; C97, §5428; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13943; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §788.1]

788.4 Defendant held to answer. If the court is of opinion from the evidence on the trial that the defendant is guilty of a public offense of which no legal conviction can be had on the indictment, he may be held to answer the offense in like manner as upon a preliminary examination. [C51, §3057; R60, §4858; C73, §4493; C97, §5428; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13943; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §788.4]

COMPROMISING CERTAIN OFFENSES

794.1 Compromisable offenses. When a defendant is prosecuted in a criminal action for a misdemeanor, for which the person injured by the act constituting the offense has a remedy by a civil action, the offense may be compromised as provided in section 794.2, except when it was committed:

3. With an intent to commit a felony. [R60, §5106; C73,$4708; C97,$5622; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,$14019; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,$794.1]

794.2 Procedure. If the party injured in such a case appear before the court to which the papers on a preliminary examination are returned, at any time before trial on an indictment for the offense, or the trial of an appeal in the district court, and acknowledge in writing that he has received satisfaction for the injury, the court may, in its discretion, on payment of the costs incurred, order all proceedings to be stayed upon the prosecution, and the defendant to be discharged therefrom. In that case the reasons for the order must be set forth therein and entered upon the minutes. [R60,$5107; C73,$4710; C97,$5624; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,$14021; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,$794.2]

DISMISSAL OF CRIMINAL ACTIONS

795.1 Failure to indict. When a person is held to answer for a public offense, if an indictment be not found against him at the next regular term of the court at which he is held to answer, or within thirty days, whichever first occurs, the court must order the prosecution to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary be shown. An accused not admitted to bail and unrepresented by legal counsel shall not be deemed to have waived his privilege of dismissal or be held to make demand or request to enforce a guarantee of speedy trial, and the court on its own motion shall carry out the provisions of this section as to dismissal. [C51, §3249; R60,$5008; C73,$4614; C97,§5536; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,$14024; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,$795.1; 60GA, ch 332,$1] Related provision, §771.31

795.2 Delay in trial. If a defendant indicted for a public offense, whose trial has not been postponed upon his application, be not brought to trial at the next regular term of the court in which the indictment is triable or within sixty days, whichever first occurs, after the same is found, the court must order it to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary be shown. An accused not admitted to bail and unrepresented by legal counsel shall not be deemed to have waived his privilege of dismissal or be held to make demand or request to enforce a guarantee of speedy trial, and the court on its own motion shall carry out the provisions of this section as to dismissal. [C51, §3249; R60,$5008; C73,$4614; C97,$5536; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,$14024; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,$795.2]

795.3 Discharge on undertaking. If the defendant be not indicted or tried as above provided, and sufficient reason therefor is shown, the court may order the prosecution continued from term to term, and discharge the defendant from custody on his own undertaking, or on the undertaking of bail for his appearance to answer the charge at the time to which the same is continued, but no continuance under this section shall be extended beyond the following three terms of the court. [C51,$3250; R60,$5008; C73,$4615; C97,$5537; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,$14025; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,$795.3]
§795.4 Discharge on dismissal. If the court direct the prosecution to be dismissed, the defendant, if in custody, must be discharged, or his bail, if any, exonerated, and if money has been deposited instead of bail, it must be refunded to him. [R60,§5010; C73,§4616; C97, §5538; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14026; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§795.4]

 §795.5 Dismissal by court—effect. The court, upon its own motion or the application of the county attorney, in the furtherance of justice, may order the dismissal of any pending criminal prosecution, the reasons therefor being stated in the order and entered of record, and no such prosecution shall be discontinued or abandoned in any other manner. Such a dismissal is a bar to another prosecution for the same offense if it is a misdemeanor; but it is not a bar if the offense charged be a felony. [C51,§§3251, 3252; R60,§§5011–5013; C73,§§4617–4619; C97,§5539; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14027; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§795.5]
RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE
Sections 684.18 and 684.19 of the Code provide as follows:

684.18 Rules in civil actions. The supreme court shall have the power to prescribe all rules of pleading, practice and procedure, and the forms of process, writs and notices, for all proceedings of a civil nature in all courts of this state, for the purpose of simplifying the same, and of promoting the speedy determination of litigation upon its merits. Said rules shall neither abridge, enlarge, nor modify the substantive rights of any litigant.

684.19 Report to general assembly—enrollment. Any such rules and forms prescribed by the supreme court shall be reported by it to the general assembly within twenty days after the commencement of a regular session and shall take effect July 4 following the adjournment of such session, with such changes, if any, as may have been enacted at such session; and thereafter all laws in conflict therewith shall be of no further force or effect. At adjournment of the general assembly where such report has been filed, an enrolled copy thereof, together with any changes, shall be made in substantially the same manner as Acts are enrolled. The enrolled copy shall be certified as to whether or not any action was taken by the general assembly and if any, what action, and thereupon it shall be filed with the secretary of state and bound with the Acts of the general assembly.

Pursuant to said sections the Supreme Court reported the following Rules of Civil Procedure effective July 4, 1943. The Rules as printed herein have the subsequent amendments incorporated therein.

OPERATION OF RULES

1. Applicability—effective date—statutes affected.

(a) Applicability. These rules shall govern the practice and procedure in all courts of the state, except where they expressly provide otherwise, or statutes not affected hereby provide different procedure in particular courts or cases.

(b) Effective date. These rules will take effect on July 4, 1943. They govern all proceedings in actions brought after they take effect, and also further proceedings in actions then pending, except to the extent that in the opinion of the court in which the action is pending their application in a particular action pending when the rules take effect would not be feasible, or would work injustice, in which event the former procedure applies.

(c) Commencement of action pending effective date of rules. Where a defendant has been served with original notice prior to July 4, 1943, for a term of court to be convened after said date, the validity and effect of such notice and of the service thereof shall be determined by the statutes in force at the time of service. Service of original notice on all other defendants in the same or other actions, and the validity and effect thereof shall be governed by these rules.

(d) Statutes affected. After these rules take effect courts and litigation shall no longer be governed by the statutes listed in column 1 of the table appended to these rules as Appendix I, and the practice and procedure shall no longer be in accordance therewith. [Report 1943]

DIVISION II
ACTIONS, JOINER OF ACTIONS AND PARTIES

See also chapter 613 of the Code

(A) Parties generally—capacity

2. Real party in interest. Every action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest. But an executor, administrator, guardian, trustee of an express trust; or a party with whom or in whose name a contract is made for another’s benefit, or a party specially authorized by statute, may sue in his own name without joining the party for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

3. Public bond. When a bond or other instrument given to the state, county, school or other municipal corporation, or to any officer or person, is intended for the security of the public generally, or of particular individuals, action may be brought thereon, in the name of any person intended to be thus secured, who has sustained an injury in consequence of a breach thereof, except when otherwise provided. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

4. Partnerships. Actions may be brought by or against partnerships as such; or against any or all partners with or without joining the firm. Judgment against a partnership may be enforced against partnership property and that of any partner served or appearing in the suit. A new action will lie on the original cause against any partner not so served or appearing. The court may order absent partners brought in. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

5. Foreign corporations. Foreign corporations may sue and be sued in their corporate name, except as prohibited by statute. [Report 1943]

See §494.9

6. Seduction. An unmarried female may sue for her own seduction. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

7. Assignees—exception. The assignment of a thing in action, except transfer of a negotiable instrument for value in good faith before maturity, shall be without prejudice to any defense, counterclaim or cause of action matured or not, if matured when pleaded, existing against the assignor in favor of the party pleading it. 10. Married women—husband and wife. A married woman may sue or be sued without joining her husband. If both are sued, she may defend in her own right; and if either fails to defend, the other may defend for both. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

11. Desertion of family. When a husband has deserted his family, the wife may prosecute or defend in his name any action which he might have prosecuted or defended, and shall have the same powers and rights therein as he might have had; under like circumstances the husband shall have the same right. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

12. Minors—ineptents. An action of a minor or any person judicially adjudged incompetent shall be brought by his guardian if he have one; otherwise the minor may sue by a next friend, and the incompetent by a guard-
13. Defense by incompetent, prisoner, etc. No judgment without a defense shall be entered against a party then a minor, or confined in a penitentiary, reformatory or any state hospital for the mentally ill, or one judicially adjudged incompetent, or whose physician certifies to the court that he appears to be mentally incapable of conducting his defense. Such defense shall be by guardian ad litem; but the regular guardian or the attorney appearing for a competent party may defend unless the court supersedes him by a guardian ad litem appointed in the ward’s interest. [Report 1943; amended by legislative Act, 58GA, ch 152, §199]

14. Guardian ad litem. If a party, served with original notice, appears to be subject to rule 13, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for him, or substitute another, in the ward’s interest. Application for such appointment or substitution may be by the ward, if his guardian shall be joined with him, or, if his physician certifies to the court that he appears to be mentally incapable of conducting his defense. [Report 1943; amended by legislative Act, 58GA, ch 152, §200] See also ch 613

15. Substitution at death—limitation. Any substitution of legal representatives or successors in interest of a deceased party, permitted by statute, must be ordered within two years after the death of the original party. If his right survives entirely to those already parties, the action shall continue among the surviving parties without substitution. [Report 1943] See also ch 611

16. Transfer of interest. Transfer of an interest in a pending action shall not abate it, but may be the occasion for bringing in new parties. [Report 1943] See also ch 611

17. Incapacity pending action. If, during pendency of an action, a party is judicially adjudged incompetent, or confined in any state hospital for the mentally ill, or if his physician certifies to the court that he appears to be mentally incapable of acting in his own behalf, his guardian shall be joined with him, or, if there be none the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for any party thus adjudged, confined or certified. [Report 1943; amended by legislative Act, 58GA, ch 152, §200] See also ch 613

18. Nonabatement in case of guardianship. When a guardianship shall cease by the death of the guardian, his removal, or otherwise, or by the decease of his ward, any action or proceeding then pending shall not abate, but his successor or the person for whom he was guardian, or the executor or administrator of such person, as the case may require, shall be substituted or joined as a party thereto; or, if no application is made for substitution, the court may, on its own motion, appoint a special guardian or administrator to represent the deceased party in the action. [Report 1943] See also ch 611

19. Majority of minor. If a minor party attains legal majority, he shall continue as a party in his own right. [Report 1943]

20. Officers — representatives. When any public official, or any administrator, express trustee or other person in a representative capacity, ceases to be such while a party to a suit, the court may order his successor brought in and substituted for him. [Report 1943]

(C) Joinder—misjoinder and nonjoinder

22. Actions joined. A single plaintiff may join in the same petition as many causes of action, legal or equitable, independent or alternative, as he may have against a single defendant. [Report 1943] See also ch 612

23. Multiple plaintiffs. Any number of persons who claim any relief, jointly, severally or alternatively, arising out of or respecting the same transaction, occurrence or series of transactions or occurrences, may join as plaintiffs in a single action, when it presents or involves any question of law or fact common to all of them. They may join any causes of action, legal or equitable, independent or alternative, held by any one or more of them which arise out of such transaction, occurrence or series, and which present or involve any common question of law or fact. [Report 1943] See also ch 612

24. Permissive joinder of defendants.

(a) Generally. Any number of defendants may be joined in one action which asserts against them, jointly, severally or in the alternative, any right to relief in respect of, or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences, when any question of law or fact common to all of them is presented or involved.

(b) Special provisions—joint common carriers. Sections 613.3* to 613.6* inclusive of the

(a) Remedy for nonjoinder as plaintiff. Except as provided in this rule, all persons having a joint interest in any action shall be joined on the same side, but such persons failing to join as plaintiffs may be made defendants. This rule does not apply to class actions under rules 42–47, nor affect the options permitted by sections 613.1 and 613.2 of the Code.

(b) Definition of indispensable party. A party is indispensable if his interest is not severable, and his absence will prevent the court from rendering any judgment between the parties before it; or if notwithstanding his absence his interest would necessarily be inequitably affected by a judgment rendered between those before the court.

(c) Indispensable party not before court. If an indispensable party is not before the court, it shall order him brought in. When persons are not before the court who, although not indispensable, ought to be parties if complete relief is to be accorded between those already parties, and when necessary jurisdiction can be obtained by service of original notice in any manner provided by these rules or by statute, the court shall order their names added as parties and original notice served upon them. If such jurisdiction cannot be had except by their consent or voluntary appearance, the court may proceed with the hearing and determination of the cause, but the judgment rendered therein shall not affect their rights or liabilities. [Report 1943]

For method of bringing in parties see rule 34.

See also ch 612

26. Parties partly interested. A party need not be interested in obtaining or defending against all the relief demanded. Judgment may be given respecting one or more parties according to their respective rights or liabilities. [Report 1943]

See rules 186 and 121.

See also ch 612

27. Remedy for misjoinder.

(a) Parties. Misjoinder of parties is no ground for dismissal of the action, but parties may be dropped by order of the court on its own motion or that of any party at any stage of the action, on such terms as are just, or any claim against a party improperly joined may be severed and proceeded with separately.

For separate trials as to separate parties, see rule 186.

(b) Actions. The only remedy for improper joinder of actions shall be by motion. On such motion the court shall either order the causes docketed separately or strike those causes which should be stricken, always retaining at least one cause docketed in the original case. Before ruling on such motion, the party whose pleading is attacked may withdraw any of the causes claimed to be misjoined. [Report 1943]

See see ch 612

28. Dependent remedies joined. An action herefore cognizable only after another has been prosecuted to conclusion may be joined with the latter; and the court shall grant relief according to the substantive rights of the parties. But there shall be no joinder of an action against an indemnitor or insurer with one against the indemnified party, unless a statute so provides. [Report 1943]

See also ch 612

(D) Counterclaims and cross-claims

29. Compulsory counterclaims. A pleading must contain a counterclaim for every cause of action then matured, and not the subject of a pending action, held by the pleader against any opposing party and arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the basis of such opposing party's claim, unless its adjudication would require the presence of indispensable parties of whom jurisdiction cannot be acquired. A final judgment on the merits shall bar such a counterclaim, although not pleaded. [Report 1943]

Indispensable parties are defined in rule 25 (b).

See also ch 619

30. Permissive counterclaims. Unless prohibited by rule or statute, a party may counterclaim against an opposing party on any cause of action held by him when the action was originally commenced, and matured when pleaded. [Report 1943]

For prohibited counterclaims see Code sec. 643.2, on replevin and rule 275 on partition.

See also ch 619

31. Joinder of counterclaims. A party pleading a counterclaim shall have the same right to join more than one cause of action as a plaintiff is granted under rules 22 and 23. [Report 1943]

See also rules 72 and 74.

See also ch 619

32. Counterclaim not limited. A counterclaim may, but need not, diminish or defeat recovery sought by the opposing party. It may claim relief in excess of, or different from, that sought in the opponent's pleadings. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

33. Cross-petitions.

(a) Against coparties. A cross-petition may be filed by one party against a coparty, on a cause of action arising out of a transaction or occurrence which is the basis of the original action or any counterclaim therein. It may include the claim that such coparty is, or may be, liable to cross-petitioner for all or part of a claim asserted in the principal action against the cross-petitioner.

(Substance of Federal Rule 13-g)
(b) Against new parties. When a defendant to a petition, cross-petition or counterclaim will, if held liable thereon, thereby be entitled to a right of action against one not already a party, he may move to have such party brought in, to the end that the rights of all concerned may be determined in one action. Such motion must be supported by affidavit. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 74
See also ch 619

34. Bringing in new parties—procedure.

(a) When presence necessary for complete relief. When the presence of new parties is required to grant complete relief as to a counterclaim or cross-petition, the court shall order them brought in if jurisdiction can be obtained.

See also rule 74.

(b) How brought in. New parties shall be brought in by serving them with original notice pursuant to division III* of these rules. [Report 1943]

See ch 617 of the Code

(E) Interpleader

35. Right of interpleader. A person who is or may be exposed to multiple liability or vexatious litigation because of several claims against him for the same thing, may bring an equitable action of interpleader against all such claimants. Their claims or titles need not have a common origin, nor be identical, and may be adverse to, or independent of each other. Such person may dispute his liability, wholly or in part. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

36. By defendants. A defendant to an action which exposes him to similar liability or litigation may obtain such interpleader by counterclaim or cross-petition. Any claimant not already before the court may be brought in to maintain or relinquish his claim to the subject of the action, and on his default after due service, the court may decree him barred of such claim. [Report 1943]

For procedure to bring in see rule 34.

See also ch 618

37. Deposit—discharge. If a party initiating interpleader admits liability for, or nonownership of, any property or amount involved, the court may order it deposited in court or otherwise preserved, or secured by bond. After such deposit the court, on hearing all parties, may absolve the depositor from obligation to such parties as to the property or amount deposited, before determining the rights of the adverse claimants. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 88
See also ch 618

38. Substitution of claimant. If a defendant seeks an interpleader involving a third person, the latter may appear and make himself a defendant in lieu of the original defendant, who may then be discharged on complying with rule 37. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

39. Injunction. After petition and returns of original notices are filed in an interpleader, the court may enjoin all parties before it from beginning or prosecuting any other suit as to the subject of the interpleader until its further order. [Report 1943]

For injunctions generally see rules 320 et seq.

See also ch 613

40. Costs. Costs may be taxed against the unsuccessful claimant in favor of the successful claimant and the party originating the interpleader. [Report 1943]

See also ch 613

41. Sheriff or officer — creditor. When a sheriff or other officer is sued for taking personal property under a writ, or for the property so taken, he may exhibit such writ to the court, with his affidavit that the property involved was taken under it. The attaching or execution creditor shall then be joined with the officer as a defendant; or may join on his own application. Any judgment against the officer and creditor shall provide that the latter's property be first exhausted to discharge it. [Report 1943]

See rule 224.

See also ch 613

(F) Class actions

42. Class actions. If the persons composing a class are so numerous that it is impracticable to bring all before the court, such number of them as will insure adequate representation of all may sue or be sued on behalf of all, where the character of the right involved is:

(a) Joint or common, or held primarily by one who has refused to enforce it, thereby entitling the class or its members to do so; or

(b) Several, and the action seeks to adjudicate claims which do, or may, affect specific property; or

(c) Several, and a common question of law or fact affects the several rights, and a common relief is sought. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) and 46
See also ch 613

43. Virtual representation. Where persons composing a class which may be increased by others later born, do or may make a claim affecting specific property involved in an action to which all living members of the class are parties, any others later born shall also be deemed to have been parties to the action and bound by any decree rendered therein. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a)
See also ch 613

44. Shareholder's actions. Shareholders in an incorporated or unincorporated association, who sue to enforce its rights because of its failure to do so, shall support their petition by affidavit, and allege their efforts to have the directors, trustees or other shareholders bring the action or enforce the right, or a sufficient reason for not making such effort. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a)
See also ch 613
45. Compromise or dismissal. No class action shall be compromised or voluntarily dismissed without approval of the court. In actions under rule 42’a’, notice of the proposed compromise or dismissal shall be given to all members of the class in such manner as the court may prescribe, otherwise notice may be given or omitted as the court may direct. [Report 1943]

For dismissal generally, see rule 215.

Referred to in R.C.P. 26(a)
See also ch 617

46. Adequate representation. Before final judgment in a class action, the court shall inquire and determine that the parties before it adequately represent the class. If it deems such representation inadequate, it may order new parties brought in. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 26(a)
See also ch 617

47. Default judgment. No judgment by default for lack of appearance shall be entered in a class action. If no member of the class appears, the court shall appoint an attorney to represent it, taxing his reasonable fees as costs in the case. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 26(a)
See also ch 617

DIVISION III

Referred to in R.C.P. 34 (b) and 253 (b)

48. Commencing actions. A civil action is commenced by serving the defendant with an original notice. [Report 1943]

See also ch 617

49. Tolling limitations. For the purpose of determining whether an action has been commenced within the time allowed by statutes for limitation of actions, whether the limitation inheres in the statutes creating the remedy or not, the delivery of the original notice to the sheriff of the proper county with the intent that it be served immediately (which intent shall be presumed unless the contrary appears) shall also be deemed a commencement of the action. [Report 1943; amendment 1951]

See also ch 614
Time computed, §4.1(23)

50. Contents of original notice. The original notice shall be directed to the defendant, and signed by plaintiff or his attorney with the signer’s address. It shall name the plaintiff, the court, and the city or town, and county where the court convenes. It shall state either that the petition is on file in the office of the clerk of the court where the action is brought, or that it will be so filed by a stated date, which must not be more than ten days after service. It shall notify defendant to appear before said court within the specified number of days after service required by rule 53 or rule 54, and that unless he so appears, his default will be entered and judgment or decree rendered against him for the relief demanded in the petition. A copy of the petition may be attached; but if it is not or if the service is by publication, the notice shall contain a general statement of the cause or causes of action and the relief demanded, and, if for money, the amount thereof. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 61

105. Separate adjudication of law points. The court may in its discretion, and must on application of either party, made after issues joined and before trial, separately hear and determine any point of law raised in any pleading which goes to the whole or any material part of the case. It shall enter an appropriate final order before trial of the remaining issues, adjudicating the point so determined, which shall not be questioned on the trial of any part of the case of which it does not dispose. If such ruling does not dispose of the whole case, it shall be deemed interlocutory for purposes of appeal. [Report 1943]

See also last sentence of rule 176.

106. Variance—failure of proof. No variance between pleading and proof shall be deemed material unless it is shown to have misled the opposite party to his prejudice in maintaining his cause of action or defense. But where an allegation or defense is unproved in its general meaning, this shall not be held a mere variance but a failure of proof. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

107. Special action—proper remedy awarded. In any case of mandamus, certiorari, appeal to the district court, or for specific equitable relief, where the facts pleaded and proved do not entitle the petitioner to the specific remedy asked, but do show him entitled to another remedy, the court shall permit him on such terms, if any, as it may prescribe, to amend by asking for such latter remedy, which may be awarded. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619
108. Lost pleading—substitution. If an original pleading is lost or withheld, the court may order a copy substituted, or a substituted pleading filed. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

109. Motion defined. A motion is an application made by any party or interested person for an order. It may contain several objects which grow out of, or are connected with, the action. It is not a “pleading”. [Report 1943]

See also ch 620

110. Failure to move—effect of overruling motion. No pleading shall be held sufficient for failure to move to strike or dismiss it. If such motion is filed and overruled, error in such ruling is not waived by pleading over or proceeding further; and the moving party may always question the sufficiency of the pleading during subsequent proceedings. [Report 1943]

See also R.C.P. 87
See also ch 619

111. Motions combined. Motions to strike, for a more specific statement, and to dismiss, shall be contained in a single motion and only one such motion assailing the same pleading shall be permitted, unless the pleading is amended thereafter. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

112. Motion for more specific statement. A party may move for a more specific statement of any matter not pleaded with sufficient definiteness to enable him to plead to it and for no other purpose. It shall point out the insufficiency claimed and particulars desired. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

113. Striking improper matter. Improper or unnecessary matter in a pleading may be stricken out on motion of the adverse party. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

114. Notice of motion unnecessary. A party who has been served with original notice or has appeared, shall take notice of all motions filed in the action which are adverse to him, and of the regular motion day on which they will be heard. [Report 1943]

For motion days and submission and determination of motions, see rule 117.

See also ch 620

115. Discretionary notice. The court may require counsel to be appraised, in any manner it directs, of the time and place at which it will hear or act on any motion, application or other matter other than at the regular motion day or pursuant to general assignment. This rule shall be applied to expedite, not to delay, hearings and submissions. [Report 1943]

See also ch 620

116. Proof of facts in motions. Evidence to sustain or resist a motion may be by affidavit or in any other form to which the parties agree or the court directs. The court may require any affiant to appear for cross-examination. [Report 1943]

117. Motion days—disposition of motions. (a) The judges of each judicial district shall provide by rule for at least one motion day to be held each month in each county, when all motions made prior to trial on issues of fact on file ten days or more shall be deemed submitted unless by other rule, statute or order of court entered for good cause shown another time for submission is fixed. Such motions not orally argued for any reason shall be deemed submitted without argument unless they are then, or have previously been, set down for argument at some time somewhere in the judicial district not more than ten days thereafter, when they must be submitted without further postponement. Each motion filed shall set out the specific points upon which it is based. A concise memorandum brief may be appended if it is desired to cite supporting rules, statutes or other authorities.

(b) The court may hear and rule on any motion prior to motion day so as not to delay completing the issues or trial of the case.

(e) The trial court shall rule on all motions within thirty days after their submission, unless it extends the time for reasons stated of record.

(d) A “motion” within this rule is any paper denominated as such, or any other matter requiring attention or order of court before the trial of the issues on their merits, including a special appearance.

(e) The clerk of each court shall maintain a motion calendar on which every “motion” within the purview of “d”, above, shall be entered. It shall be arranged to show (1) docket, page and cause number of action in which filed, (2) abbreviated title of the case with surname of the first-named party on each side, (3) counsel of record for parties, (4) denomination of the “motion,” (5) date filed, (6) party by whom filed, (7) date entered on calendar, and (8) date of disposition by ruling, order or otherwise. Separate motion calendars for law, equity or other divisions may be maintained. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amendment 1961]

Referred to in R.C.P. 238
See also ch 619

118. Specific rulings required. A motion, or other matter involving separate grounds or parts, shall be disposed of by separate ruling on each and not sustained generally. [Report 1943]

See also ch 619

119. Order defined. Every direction of the court, made in writing and not included in the judgment or decree, is an order. [Report 1943]

See also ch 620

120. When and how entered. A judge may enter judgments, orders or decrees at any time after the matter has been submitted, effective when filed with the clerk, regardless of where signed. The clerk shall promptly mail or deliver notice of such entry, or copy thereof, to
DIV. V. RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

121. Interrogatories—time—nature. In actions other than actions in justice court or class "B" actions in municipal court a party may, after the general appearance of an adversary or before such appearance with leave of court, file in duplicate not over thirty numbered interrogatories to be answered by such adversary. Interrogatories may relate to any matters which can be inquired into under rule 143 and the answers may be used to the same extent as provided in rules 144 and 145 for the use of the deposition of a party. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

122. More than thirty. Upon application to the court and showing good cause therefor the court may permit filing more than thirty interrogatories and may then specify the number which may be filed, and the time for filing and answering them. [Report 1943]

123. Objections—time to answer. The clerk shall deliver the copy of the interrogatories as provided in rule 82. The party to whom the interrogatories are directed shall file either answers thereto or objections to their propriety within seven days after they are filed, unless the court for good cause, but not ex parte, shall enlarge the time. If objections are filed to any of the interrogatories, any required answer to those to which objections are made shall be deferred until seven days after the objections are ruled upon. At the hearing upon the objections, the time shall not limit the right to object to the answers if offered in evidence. [Report 1943; amendment 1965]

124. Answers. (a) Dupicate sworn answers shall be filed, separately answering each interrogatory responsive, and as fully as may be.

(b) Answers for a party not a natural person shall be made by any officer, partner or managing agent, who shall furnish such information as is available to the party. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

125. Protective orders. (a) The restrictions of rule 141"a" and "d" are applicable for the protection of the parties from whom answers to interrogatories are sought under these rules.

(b) Interrogatories may be filed after a deposition has been taken, and a deposition may be sought after interrogatories have been answered, but the court, on motion of the deponent or the party interrogated, may make such protective order as justice may require. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

126. Delivery of answers. Copies of the answers shall be delivered as provided in rule 82. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

127. Admission of facts and of genuineness of documents. After the general appearance of an adverse party, any party may file in duplicate a written request for the admission by any other party of the genuineness of any relevant documents described in and exhibited with the request or of the truth of any relevant matters of fact set forth in the request. Copies of the documents shall be filed with the request unless copies have already been furnished. Within ten days after the filing thereof, or within such shorter or longer time as the court may allow on motion and notice, the party to whom the request is directed shall file in duplicate either "a" a sworn statement specifically admitting or denying the matters of which an admission is requested or setting forth in detail the reasons why he cannot truthfully admit or deny those matters, or "b" written objections on the ground that some or all of the requested admissions are privileged or irrelevant or that the request is otherwise improper in whole or in part. If written objections are filed to any of the requests, the time for answering all the requests shall be suspended until the objections are ruled on. At the hearing upon the objections, if it is determined that any of the requests shall be answered, the court shall fix the time within which answers shall be made. A denial shall fairly meet the substance of the requested admission, and when good faith requires that a party qualify his answer or deny only a part of the matter of which an admission is requested, he shall specify so much of it as is true and deny only the remainder. If the adverse party is an individual, he needs only furnish information which is within his personal knowledge. If the adverse party is a public or private corporation or a partnership or association, the sworn statement shall be by an officer, partner or managing agent thereof on the basis of such information as is available to the party. The clerk shall deliver all copies filed hereunder as provided in rule 82. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

128. Effect of admission. Any admission made by a party pursuant to such request is for the purpose of the pending action only and neither constitutes an admission by him for any other purpose nor may be used against him in any other proceeding. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]
129. Production of books or documents.

(a) After issue is joined in any action, any party may file an application for the production or inspection of any books or papers, not privileged, which are in the control of any other party, which are material to a just determination of the cause, for the purpose of having them inspected or copied or photostated. The application shall state with reasonable particularity the papers or books which are called for, and state wherein they are material to a just determination of the cause, and state that they are under the control of the party from whom production is requested. The movant need not use such documents as evidence at the trial.

(b) The court shall fix the time and place for hearing on the application, and prescribe the manner and form of giving notice to the party from whom production is asked, or to his attorney of record. [Report 1943]

130. Order. The court may order the production or inspection of such books and documents as, in its discretion, it deems material to a just determination of the cause, and on any terms or conditions it deems suitable to protect the documents, their owner, or any other person. [Report 1943]

131. Inspection of property. On motion and hearing, as in rule 129, a party may be ordered to permit his adversary to inspect, view, measure, survey or photograph any personality or real estate or object or operation thereon, which is relevant to any issue. The order shall specify the time, manner, place and any terms upon which this shall be done. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

132. Physical or mental examination. The court may, in its discretion, proceeding as in rule 129, order a physician to examine as to the any physical or mental condition of a party which is in controversy in the action. The order shall specify the scope, time, place and any terms which shall be done. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

133. Physical or mental examination—copy of reports—privilege.

(a) The party thus examined shall be furnished on his request, with a copy of the examiner's findings and conclusions, stated in detail. He shall thereafter, deliver to the examining party a like report of the prior or subsequent findings of any other physician who examines him on the same subject.

(b) If the party examined thus requests and obtains the examiner's report, or takes the examiner's deposition, he waives any privilege in that action or any other involving the same controversy, regarding the testimony of any physician or other person as to the condition for which the examination was ordered.

(c) If either above request is not complied with, the court on motion may order compliance, or may exclude the testimony of any physician whose report is not thus furnished. [Report 1943]

134. Refusal to make discovery — consequences.

(a) Refusal to answer. If a party or other deponent refuses to answer any question propounded upon oral examination, the examination shall be completed on other matters or adjourned, as the proponent of the question may prefer. Thereafter, on reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, he may apply to the court in which the action is pending or to a court of record in the district where the deposition is taken for an order compelling an answer. Upon the refusal of a deponent to answer any interrogatory submitted under rule 150 or upon the refusal of a party to answer any interrogatory submitted under rule 121, the proponent of the question may on like notice make like application for such an order. If the motion is granted, and if the court finds that the refusal was without substantial justification, the court shall require the refusing party or deponent or the party advising the refusal, or any of them, to pay the examining party the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including reasonable attorney fees. If the motion is denied, and if the court finds that the motion was made without substantial justification, the court shall require the examining party advising the motion to pay to the refusing party or witness the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion, including reasonable attorney fees.

(b) Failure to comply with order.

(1) Contempt. If a party or other witness refuses to be sworn or refuses to answer any question after being directed to do so by the court, the refusal may be considered a contempt of that court.

(2) Other consequences. If any party or an officer, partner or managing agent of a party refuses to obey an order made under subdivision "a" of this rule requiring him to answer designated questions, or an order made under rules 129, 130 and 131, to produce any document or other thing for inspection, copying or photographing, or to permit it to be done, or to permit entry upon land or other property, or an order made under rules 132 and 133 requiring him to submit to a physical or mental examination, the court may make such orders in regard to the refusal as are just, and among others the following:

An order that the matters regarding which...
DIV. V, RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

the questions were asked, or the character or description of the thing or land, or the contents of the paper, or the physical or mental condition of the party, or any other designated facts, shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting the introduction in evidence designated documents or things or items of testimony, or from introducing evidence of physical or mental condition;

An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party.

(c) Expenses on refusal to admit. If a party, after being served with a request under rules 127 and 128 to admit the genuineness of any documents or the truth of any matters of fact, serves a sworn denial thereof, and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of any such document or the truth of any such matter of fact, he may apply to the court for an order requiring the other party to pay him the reasonable expenses incurred in making such proof, including reasonable attorney fees. No expenses as aforesaid shall be allowed unless the court finds that the admissions sought were of substantial importance and the denial was not made in good faith.

(d) Failure of party to attend or file answers. If a party or an officer, partner or managing agent of a party willfully fails to appear before the officer who is to take his deposition or submit to the taking thereof after being served with a proper notice, or willfully fails to continue the taking of his deposition after the commencement thereof, or fails to file answers to interrogatories submitted under rule 121, the court on motion and notice may strike out all or any part of any pleading of that party, or dismiss the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or enter a judgment by default against such party. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

DIVISION VI

135. Pretrial calendar. The court may provide for a pretrial calendar in any county, which may extend to all actions, or be limited either to jury or nonjury actions. [Report 1943]

See also ch 621

136. Pretrial conference. After issues are joined the court may in its discretion, and shall on written request of any attorney in the case, direct all attorneys in the action to appear before it for a conference to consider, so far as applicable to the particular case:

(a) The necessity or desirability of amending pleadings by formal amendment or pretrial order;

(b) Agreeing to admissions of facts, documents or records not really controverted, to avoid unnecessary proof;

(c) Limiting the number of expert witnesses;

(d) Settling any facts of which the court is to be asked to take judicial notice;

(e) Stating and simplifying the factual and legal issues to be litigated;

(f) Specifying all damage claims in detail as of the date of the conference;

(g) All proposed exhibits and mortality tables and proof thereof;

(h) Consolidation, separation for trial, and determination of points of law;

(i) Questions relating to voir dire examination of jurors and selection of alternate jurors, to serve if a juror becomes incapacitated;

(j) Possibility of settlement;

(k) Filing of advance briefs when required;

(l) Any other matter which may aid, expedite or simplify the trial of any issue.

The pretrial judge may direct the parties to the action to be present or immediately available at the time of conference. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]
See also ch 621

137. Pretrial conference—record. On the request of any interested counsel or the court, the reporter must record the entire conference, or any designated part thereof. [Report 1943]
See also ch 621

138. Orders. The court shall make an order reciting any action taken at the conference which will control the subsequent course of the action relative to matters it includes, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]
See also ch 621

139. Restriction on orders. The court shall not, under any pretrial procedure or other rules, require a party to list or name the witnesses he expects to call to testify at the trial. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

DIVISION VII
DEPOSITIONS AND PERPETUATION OF TESTIMONY

See also chapter 622 of the Code

(A) Depositions

140. Depositions generally — stipulation. Depositions shall be governed wholly by these rules, but may be differently taken in any respect if that be in accord with the written stipulation of the parties. Subject to the restrictions in rule 141, a party may take the testimony of any person, including a party, by deposition upon oral examination or written interrogatories for the purpose of discov-
141. Restrictions.

(a) The deponent shall not be required and the court shall not order a deponent or party to produce or submit for inspection any writing obtained or prepared by the adverse party, his attorney, surety, indemnitor or agent, in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial unless satisfied that the denial of production or inspection will result in an injustice or undue hardship; nor shall the deponent be required or the court order a deponent or party to produce or submit for inspection any part of a writing which reflects an attorney’s mental impressions, conclusions, opinions or legal theories, or, except as provided in rule 133, the conclusions of an expert. The deponent shall not be examined on nor shall the court order the production or inspection of any liability insurance policy or indemnity agreement unless such liability insurance policy or indemnity agreement would be admissible in evidence at the trial of the action.

(b) Depositions before answers are all filed, or of a person in prison, may be taken only by leave of court, on such terms as the court prescribes.

(c) Except where the action involves an interest in real estate, depositions for discovery may not be taken where the amount in controversy as shown by the pleadings is less than one thousand dollars, unless leave of court is first obtained, on notice and a showing of just cause therefor, upon such terms as justice may require.

(d) After notice is served for taking a deposition by oral examination, upon motion seasonably made by any party or by the person to be examined and upon notice and for good cause shown, the court in which the action is pending may make an order that the deposition shall not be taken, or that it may be taken only at some designated place other than that stated in the notice, or that it may be taken only on written interrogatories, or that certain matters shall not be inquired into, or that the scope of the examination shall be limited to certain matters, or that the examination shall be held with no one present except the parties to the action and their officers or counsel, or that after being sealed the deposition shall be opened only by order of the court, or that secret processes, developments or research need not be disclosed, or that the parties shall simultaneously file specified documents or information enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the court, or the court may make any other order which justice requires to protect the party or witness from annoyance, expense, embarrassment or oppression.

142. Defaults—notice. If a party requires proof to obtain a judgment upon a default, he may take depositions, after serving notice on the attorney of record for the defaulted party, or, if none, on the clerk. Parties in default need not be given notice as to depositions taken under any other rule.

143. Scope of examination. Subject to the provisions of rule 141, the deponent may be examined regarding any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the examining party or to the claim or defense of any other party, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition and location of any books, documents or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of the relevant facts; provided that a party shall not be required to list the witnesses he expects to call at the trial. It is not ground for objection that the testimony will be inadmissible at the trial if the testimony sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

144. Use of depositions. Any part of a deposition, so far as admissible under the rules of evidence, may be used upon the trial or at an interlocutory hearing or upon the hearing of a motion in the same action against any party who appeared when it was taken, or stipulated therefor, or had due notice thereof, either:

(a) To impeach or contradict deponent’s testimony as a witness; or

(b) For any purpose if, when it was taken, deponent was a party adverse to the offeror, or was an officer, partner or managing agent of any adverse party which is not a natural person; or

(c) For any purpose, if the court finds that the offeror was unable to procure deponent's presence at the trial by subpoena; or that deponent is out of the state or more than one hundred miles distant from the trial, and such absence was not procured by the offeror; or that deponent is dead, or unable to testify because of age, illness, infirmity or imprisonment.

(d) On application and notice, the court may also permit a deposition to be used for any purpose, under exceptional circumstances making it desirable in the interests of justice; having due regard for the importance of witnesses testifying in open court. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 121, 146
See also ch 622

145. Effect of taking or using.

(a) If a party offers only part of a deposition, his adversary may require him to offer all of it relevant to the portion offered; and any other party may offer other relevant parts.

(b) A party does not make deponent his own witness by taking his deposition or using it solely under rules 144"a" or 144"b". A party introducing a deposition for any other purpose makes the deponent his witness, but may contradict his testimony by relevant evidence. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 121
See also ch 622

146. Substituted parties—successive actions.

Substitution of parties does not prevent use of depositions previously taken and filed in the action. If an action is dismissed, depositions legally taken therein may be used in any subsequent action involving the same subject matter, between the same parties, their representatives or successors in interest. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B.50
See also ch 622

147. Oral examination—notice.

(a) Oral depositions may be taken only in this state, or outside it at a place within one hundred miles from the nearest Iowa point. But, on hearing, on notice, of a motion of a party desiring it, the court may order it orally taken at any other specified place, if the issue is sufficiently important and the testimony cannot reasonably be obtained on written interrogatories.

(b) The party taking an oral deposition must first serve reasonable notice on all other parties not in default for want of appearance, stating the time and place thereof and the name and address of the deponent, or if that is unknown, a description identifying him or the class or group to which he belongs. The court, on motion of any party so served, may for good cause enlarge or shorten the time.

(c) No subpoena is necessary to require the appearance of a party for a deposition. Service on the party or his attorney of record of notice of the taking of the deposition of the party or of an officer, partner or managing agent of any party who is not a natural person, as provided in "b" hereof, is sufficient to require the appearance of a deponent for the deposition.

(d) If the deponent is a party or the officer, partner or managing agent of a party which is not a natural person, the deponent shall be required to submit to examination in the county where the action is pending, unless otherwise ordered by the court, as provided in rule 141"d". [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

For manner of serving notice see rule 156.
On objecting to notice see rule 158(a).
Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 155 and 156
See also ch 622

148. Conduct of oral examination.

(a) Deponent shall first be sworn by the officer before whom his deposition is taken. His testimony must be taken stenographically by such officer or a person acting in his presence under his direction and transcribed. The completed deposition must include all objections interposed, including those to the manner of taking it, to the officer's qualifications, to any conduct or to any testimony. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to the objection. Any adverse party may orally cross-examine the deponent; or if he does not participate orally, he may transmit to the officer written interrogatories, which the officer shall put to deponent, whose answers shall be recorded verbatim.

(b) At any time after notice has been given of the taking of a deposition, the court, on its motion or on the motion of any party upon cause shown, may order the deposition to be taken before the court or before a master appointed by the court to preside over the taking of the deposition and rule on any matters which may arise in connection with the taking thereof. The appointment of a master shall be made only upon a showing that some exceptional condition requires such appointment. The master shall exercise the powers permitted by rules 209 and 210 and his rulings or orders shall be subject to review by the court upon notice and hearing. The reasonable fees and expenses of the master shall be allowed as provided in rule 208 and be taxed as costs in the action. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

For questions which witness need not answer, see rule 143.
For stipulating to modify any of the foregoing, see rule 140.
Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 151, 156, and 164
See also ch 622

149. Reading and signing.

(a) No oral deposition reported and transcribed by an official court reporter or certified shorthand reporter of Iowa need be submitted to, read or signed by the deponent.
(b) In other cases, the completed deposition shall be submitted to deponent and read by or to him, and the officer shall note thereon any changes deponent may direct, and his reasons for such direction. Deponent shall then sign the deposition, unless he is ill or cannot be found. If he refuses to sign, the officer shall record such refusal and the reasons given therefor, and himself sign it. A deposition not signed by deponent may, nevertheless, be used at the trial unless the court, on motion to suppress under rule 158(f), that deponent refused to sign it for reasons which require its rejection. [Report 1943; amendment 1963]

For waiving signature, reading, etc., see rule 140.

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 151, 156 and 164
See also ch 622

150. On written interrogatories.

(a) A party may take depositions on written interrogatories after first serving all other parties not in default for want of appearance with copies thereof and with a notice stating the name, or title, and address of the officer to take them, and the name and address of the deponents.

(b) The adversary parties may thereafter serve successive interrogatories on each other, but only as follows: Cross-interrogatories within ten days after the notice; redirect interrogatories within five days after the latter service; and recross interrogatories within three days thereafter. On application of any party, the court may, for good cause shown, shorten or enlarge the time for serving any such succeeding interrogatories.

(c) Within the time required for cross-interrogatories, the adverse party may elect instead, to appear and orally cross-examine, by serving notice thereof on the party taking the deposition. The latter shall then within five days serve the former with notice of the date, hour and place where the deposition will be taken, which shall allow a reasonable time to enable the adverse party to attend; and may also waive his original written interrogatories and examine the deponent orally. [Report 1943]

For manner of service see rule 156.

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 134 (a), 156, 158 and 164
See also ch 622

151. Answers to interrogatories. The party taking a deposition on written interrogatories shall promptly transmit a copy of the notice and all interrogatories to the officer designated in the notice. The officer shall promptly take deponent's answers thereto and complete the deposition, all as provided in rules 148 and 149, except that answers need not be taken stenographically. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 158 and 164
See also ch 622

152. Certification and return—copies.

(a) The officer taking any deposition shall certify thereon that the witness was duly sworn, and that the deposition is a true record of the testimony given and of all objections interposed. He shall seal it securely in an envelope indorsed with the title of the action and “Deposition of (name of witness)”, and promptly file it with the clerk or send it to him by registered mail.

(b) The clerk shall immediately give notice of the filing of all depositions to all parties who have appeared in the action.

(c) On payment of his reasonable charges therefor, the officer shall furnish any party or the deponent with a copy of the deposition. [Report 1943]

153. Before whom taken.

(a) No deposition shall be taken before any party, or any person financially interested in the action, or an attorney or employee of any party, or any person related by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree to any party, his attorney, or an employee of either of them.

(b) Depositions within the United States or a territory or insular possession thereof may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, by the laws of the United States or of the place where the examination is held.

(c) Depositions in a foreign land may be taken before a secretary of embassy or legation, or a consul, vice-consul, consul-general or consular agent of the United States, or under rule 154.

(d) When the witness is in the military or naval service of the United States, his deposition may be taken before any commissioned officer under whose command he is serving, or any commissioned officer in the judge advocate general's department. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

154. Letters rogatory. A commission or letters rogatory to take depositions in a foreign land shall be issued only when convenient or necessary, on application and notice, and on such terms and with such directions as are just and appropriate. They shall specify the officer to take the deposition, by name or descriptive title, and may be addressed: “To the Appropriate Judicial Authority of (country)”. [Report 1943]

155. Subpoena.

(a) On application of any party, or proof of service of a notice to take depositions under rule 147 or rule 150, the clerk of court where the action is pending shall issue subpoenas for persons named or described in said notice or application. Subpoenas may also be issued as provided in section 622.84 of the Code of Iowa. No subpoena shall call for production of documents unless the court on notice and hearing so orders.
DIV. VII, RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

(b) No resident of Iowa shall be thus subpoenaed to attend out of the county where he resides, or is employed, or transacts his business in person. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

156. Notice—service. Notices or interrogatories under rules 147 to 160 inclusive may be served upon the party, or any attorney of record for him, either by personal delivery or by ordinary United States mail addressed to his address of record. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B.50

See also ch 622

(a) Generally. Costs of taking and proceeding to procure a deposition shall be advanced by the party taking it, and he cannot use it in evidence until such costs are paid. The costs shall be noted in the return or certificate, and taxed by the clerk. The judgment shall award against the losing party only such portion of these costs as were necessarily incurred for testimony offered and admitted upon the trial.

(b) Failure to attend. The court may order the party taking a deposition to pay the adverse party his costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, for attending at the specified time and place for oral cross-examination (being entitled thereto), if the deposition is not then taken for absence of the party, or of the witness due to the party’s failure to subpoena him. [Report 1943]

158. Irregularities—objections.

(a) Notice. All objections to any notice of taking any depositions are waived unless promptly served in writing upon the party giving the notice.

(b) Officer. Objection to the officer's qualification to take a deposition is waived unless made before such taking begins, or as soon thereafter as objector knows it or could discover it with reasonable diligence.

(c) Interrogatories. All objections to the form of any written interrogatory served under rule 150 are waived unless the objector serves them on the interrogating party in the time allowed him for serving succeeding interrogatories and, as to the last interrogatories authorized, within three days after the service thereof.

(d) Taking deposition. Errors or irregularities occurring during an oral deposition as to any manner or manner of taking it, or the oath, or the form of any question or answer; and any other errors which might theretofore have been cured, obviated or removed, are waived unless seasonably objected to when it is taken.

(e) Testimony. Except as above provided, testimony taken by deposition may be objected to at the trial on any ground which would require its exclusion if given by a witness in open court, and objections to testimony, or competency of a witness, need not be made prior to or during the deposition, unless the grounds thereof could then have been obviated or removed.

(f) Motion to suppress. All objections to the manner of transcribing the testimony, or to preparing, signing, certifying, sealing, indorsing, transmitting, filing the deposition, or the officer’s dealing with it, are waived unless made by motion to suppress it, or the part complained of, filed with reasonable promptness after the objector knows of, or could with reasonable diligence discover, the defect. No such motion shall be sustained unless the defect is substantial and materially affects the right of some party. [Report 1943]

159. Common law preserved. The following rules do not limit the court’s common law powers to entertain actions to perpetuate testimony. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 156

See also ch 622

160. Before action—application. An application to take depositions to perpetuate testimony for use in an action not yet pending, shall be entitled in the name of the applicant, be supported by affidavit, and show:

(a) That he expects to be a party to an action cognizable in some court of record of Iowa, which he is then unable to bring or cause to be brought;

(b) The subject matter of such action, and his interest therein;

(c) The facts to be shown by the proposed testimony, and his reasons for desiring to perpetuate it;

(d) The name or description of each expected adverse party, with address if known;

(e) The name and address of each deponent and the substance of his testimony. It shall be filed in the court where the prospective action might be brought. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 156

See also ch 622

161. Notice. The petitioner shall thereafter serve a notice upon each person named in the petition as an expected adverse party, together with a copy of the petition, stating that the petitioner will apply to the court, at a time and place named therein, for the order described in the petition. At least twenty days before the date of hearing, the notice shall be served as provided for the service of original notices other than by publication; but if such service cannot with due diligence be so made upon any expected adverse party named in the petition, the court may make such order as is just for service by publication or otherwise, or the court upon a showing of extraordinary circumstances may prescribe a hearing upon less than twenty days' notice. Time computed, §4.1(23)
162. Guardian ad litem. Before hearing the application, the court shall appoint some attorney to act as guardian ad litem for any party under legal disability or not personally served with notice, who shall cross-examine for his ward if any deposition is ordered, and unless an attorney has been so appointed the deposition shall not be admissible against such party in any subsequent action. [Report 1943]
Referred to in §29B.50
See also ch 622

163. When ordered—who not examined. If satisfied that the petition is not for the purpose of discovery, and that its allowance may prevent future delay or failure of justice, and that applicant is unable to bring the contemplated action or cause it to be brought, the court shall order the testimony perpetuated, designating the deponents, the subject matter of their examination, when, where and before whom their deposition shall be taken, and whether orally or on written interrogatories. [Report 1943]
Referred to in §29B.50, R.C.P. 166
See also ch 622

164. Taking and filing testimony. Depositions shall be taken as directed in said order; and shall be otherwise governed by rules 149 to 153 and 158. For the purpose of applying these rules to depositions for perpetuating testimony, each reference therein to the court in which the application was filed shall be deemed to refer to the court in which the petition for such deposition was filed. Unless the court enlarges the time, all such depositions must be filed therein within thirty days after the date fixed for taking them, and if not so filed cannot be later received in evidence. Time computed, §4.1(23)

165. Use—limitation. Any party to any later action involving any expected adverse party who was named in the application, and served with notice as hereinbefore required, or involving his privies or successors in interest, may use such deposition, or a certified copy thereof, if the deponent is dead or mentally ill or his attendance cannot be obtained. Referred to in §29B.50

166. Perpetuating testimony pending appeal. During the time allowed for taking an appeal from judgment of a court of record or during the pendency of such appeal, that court may, on motion, allow testimony to be perpetuated for use in the event of further proceedings before it. The motion shall state the name and address of each proposed deponent, the substance of his expected testimony, and the reason for perpetuating it. If the court finds such perpetuation is proper to avoid a failure or delay of justice, and the depositions are not sought for discovery, it may order them taken as in rules 163 and 164. When taken and filed as thus provided, they shall be used and treated as though they had been taken pending the trial of the action. [Report 1943]

DIVISION VIII
CHANGE OF VENUE
See also chapter 623 of the Code

167. Grounds for change. On motion, the place of trial may be changed as follows:
(a) County. If the county where the case would be tried is a party and the motion is by an adverse party, the issue being triable by a jury, and a jury having been demanded;
(b) Interest of judge. Where the trial judge is directly interested in the action, or related by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree to any party so interested;
(c) Prejudice or influence. If the trial judge, or the inhabitants of the county, are so prejudiced against the moving party, or if an adverse party has such undue influence over such inhabitants, that the movant cannot obtain a fair trial. The motion in such case shall be supported by affidavit of the movant and three disinterested persons, none being his agent, servant, employee or attorney, nor related to him by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree. The other party shall have a reasonable time to file counter affidavits. Affiants may be examined pursuant to rule 116;
(d) Agreement. Pursuant to written agreement of the parties;
(e) Fraud in contract. A defendant, sued in a county where he does not reside, on a written contract expressly performable in such county, who has filed a sworn answer claiming fraud in the inception of said contract as a complete defense thereto, may have the case transferred to the county of his residence. Within ten days after the transfer is ordered, he must file a bond in an amount fixed by the court, with sureties approved by the clerk, for payment of all costs; and any judgment rendered against him shall include in such costs a reasonable amount fixed by the court for expenses incurred by plaintiff and his attorney by reason of the change. Referred to in R.C.P. 168, 169, 171, 172 and 174
Change when action in wrong county, R.C.P. 175
See also ch 623

168. Limitations. Change of venue shall not be allowed:
(a) In an appeal from a justice of the peace; or
(b) Under rule 167"c" where the issues are triable to the court alone, except for prejudice of the judge; or
(c) Until the issues are made up, unless the objection is to the judge; or
(d) After a continuance, except for a cause arising since such continuance or not known to movant prior thereto; or
(e) After one change, for any cause then existing, and known or ascertainable with reasonable diligence.
In no event shall more than two changes be allowed to any party. [Report 1943]

See also ch 623

169. Subsequent change. Where the case is tried after a change of place of trial, and the jury disagrees or a new trial is granted, the court may in its discretion allow a subsequent change, under rule 167 "a", "b", "c" or "d", subject to rule 168. [Report 1943]

See also ch 623

170. Of whole case. A change may be granted on motion of one of several coparties; and the whole cause shall then be transferred, unless separate trials are granted under rule 186. [Report 1943]

See also ch 623

171. Where tried. Unless the change is under rule 167 "e", the court granting it shall choose the trial held in a convenient county in the judicial district, or if the ground applies to all such counties, then of another judicial district. If the ground applies only to a judge, the court in its discretion may refuse a change and procure another judge to try the case where it was brought, or the supreme court may designate such other judge. [Report 1943]

See also ch 623

172. Costs. Unless the change is under rule 167 "d" or "e", the order shall designate generally all costs occasioned by the change, which movant must pay before the change is perfected. Failure to make such payment within ten days from the order waives the change of venue. [Report 1943]

See also ch 623

173. Transferring cause. When a change is ordered and the required costs paid, the clerk shall forthwith transmit to the proper court his transcript of the proceedings, with any original papers, of which he shall retain an authenticated copy. The case shall be docketed in the second court without fee and shall proceed. [Report 1943]

See also ch 623

174. Jury fees. If trial is by a jury after change pursuant to rule 167 the court shall certify the amount of county expenses incurred for meals, lodging, mileage and fees of jurors and the county where the action was brought shall pay the county where it was tried the difference between the sum so certified and the jury fee taxable as a part of the costs in the action. [Report 1943; amendments 1961, 1963]

See also ch 623

175. Action brought in wrong county.

(a) An action brought in the wrong county may be prosecuted there until termination, unless a defendant, before answer, moves for its change to the proper county. Thereupon the court shall order the change at plaintiff's costs, which may include reasonable compensation for defendant's trouble and expense, including attorney's fees, in attending in the wrong county.

(b) If all such costs are not paid within a time to be fixed by the court, or the papers are not filed in the proper court within twenty days after such order, the action shall be dismissed. [Report 1943]

DIVISION IX
TRIAL AND JUDGMENT
See also chapter 624 of the Code

(A) Trials

176. Trials and issues. A trial is a judicial examination of issues in an action, whether of law or fact. Issues arise where a pleading of one party maintains a claim controverted by an adverse party. Issues are either of law or fact. An issue of fact arises on a material allegation of fact in a pleading which is denied in an adversary's pleading or by operation of law. All other issues are issues of law which must be tried first. [Report 1943]

For allegations and denials of fact, see rules 70-76, 100.

For denials by operation of law, see e.g. rule 102.

For separate trial of law issue, see rule 105.

See also ch 624

177. Demand for jury trial.

(a) Jury trial is waived if not demanded according to this rule; but a demand once filed may not be withdrawn without consent of all parties not in default.

(b) A party desiring jury trial of an issue must make written demand therefor by filing a separate instrument clearly designating such demand not later than ten days after the last pleading directed to that issue. A copy thereof must be filed for each adverse party appearing and it shall be mailed or delivered by the clerk in the manner provided by rule 82.

(c) Unless limited to a specific issue, every such demand shall be deemed to include all issues triable to a jury. If a limited demand is filed, any other party may, within ten days thereafter or such shorter time as the court may order, file his demand for a jury trial of some or all other issues.

(d) Notwithstanding the failure of a party to demand a jury in an action in which such demand might have been made of right, the court, in its discretion on motion and for good cause shown, but not ex parte, and upon such terms as the court prescribes, may order a trial by jury of any or all issues. [Report 1943; amendment 1949; amendment 1961]

See also ch 624

178. To court or Jury. All issues shall be tried to the court except those for which a jury is demanded. Issues for which a jury is demanded shall be tried to a jury unless the court finds that there is no right thereto or all parties appearing at the trial waive a jury in writing or orally in open court. [Report 1943]
178.1. Reporter’s fee—small cases. No court reporter shall be provided in the trial of actions when the amount in controversy as shown by the pleadings is three hundred dollars or less, unless the party demanding one shall pay the clerk in advance the taxable fee of the reporter for one day, at the beginning of each day. Amounts so paid shall be taxed as costs in the case, unless otherwise ordered by the court. [Report 1961]

See also ch 624

179. Findings by court.

(a) The court trying an issue of fact without a jury, whether by equitable or ordinary proceedings, shall find the facts in writing, separately stating its conclusions of law; and direct an appropriate judgment. No request for findings is necessary for purposes of review. Findings of a master shall be deemed those of the court to the extent it adopts them.

(b) On motion joined with or filed within the time allowed for a motion for a new trial, the findings may be enlarged or amended, and the judgment modified accordingly. But a party, on appeal, may challenge the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain any finding without having objected to it by such motion or otherwise. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

180. Exceptions unnecessary. Exceptions to rulings or orders of court are unnecessary whenever a matter has been called to the attention of the court, by objection, motion or otherwise and the court has ruled thereon. This rule has nothing to do with bills of exceptions to complete an otherwise incomplete record, for which see rule 241.

See also ch 624

181. Certificate of readiness for trial. If a certificate of readiness for trial of any action is filed, the action shall be entered on the Ready Calendar List. If parties stipulate for trial assignment, the certificate shall be filed with the stipulation.

The certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

Strike 3 and "a" or "b" of 5, 6 and 7 if not applicable.

A copy of the certificate must be filed for each adverse party appearing and it shall be mailed or delivered by the clerk in the manner provided by rule 82.

Objections must be filed, if at all, within seven days after the date of mailing or delivery of copy of certificate. Hearing thereon shall be held at the earliest practicable date and the action shall not be removed from the Ready Calendar List unless the objector establishes that it is not ready for trial notwithstanding reasonable diligence on his part, or other good cause is shown. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]

Time computed, §4.1(23)

181.1. Ready calendar list. The clerk shall maintain a current list of pending actions wherein a certificate of readiness for trial has been filed. It shall be known as the Ready Calendar List and be available for public examination. It shall be arranged in columnar form to show: (1) caption of cause, (2) docket, page and cause number, (3) date of filing of certificate of readiness, (4) jury or nonjury case, and (5) if removed from list, date of such removal. If removed by order of court the clerk may relist it only upon the filing of a new certificate of readiness. If not so removed, actions will remain on list until final disposition. [Report 1961]

See also ch 624

181.2. Trial assignments.

(a) Initial assignment day—actions having precedence. District and superior courts shall provide by rule for an initial assignment day to be held at an hour and day certain, not more than fourteen days before, nor more than three days after, the first day of each scheduled term. Actions on the Ready Calendar List shall have precedence in the assignment for trial of civil and special actions, except those entitled to priority under a statute. No action shall have precedence if objections under rule 181 have been filed and not determined or if the time for filing such objections has expired. Insofar as practicable, actions are to be assigned in the order in which the petitions were filed. The court may assign a case for trial even though no certificate of readiness for trial has been filed. Municipal courts shall in like manner provide for an initial assignment day and assign cases for trial.

(b) Local court rules. Subject to provisions of "a" hereof, courts may adopt local rules (1) designating days for holding additional calendar calls and assigning cases for trial, giving precedence so far as practicable to actions as in "a"; (2) providing for the supervision of the calendar by one or more judges, for separate supervision of calls and assignment of cases by judges assigned to the law, equity or probate division of the court, and (3) prescribing such other procedures as are deemed expedient for the orderly and efficient administration of court business.

(c) No notice of assignment days required—holidays. Notice of days of assignment or calendar calls may be by any reasonable means but shall not be required except when the court orders a change to a day other than prescribed by local rule. If any such day falls on a legal holiday it shall take place at the same hour on the next succeeding judicial day without notice. [Report 1961]

See also ch 624

181.3. Duty to notify court.

(a) Of settlements. Whenever a case assigned for trial has been settled it shall be the duty of the attorneys or parties appearing in person to so notify the court immediately.

(b) Of conflicting engagements and termination thereof. When a case assigned for trial is reached and an attorney of record therein is then actually engaged in a trial in another court, it shall be his duty to so inform the court who may hold the trial of such case in abeyance until the engagement is concluded. As soon as the attorney is free from such engagement it shall be his duty to notify the court immediately and stand ready to proceed with trial of the case. [Report 1961]

See also ch 624

182. Motions for continuance.

(a) Motions for continuance shall be filed without delay after the grounds therefor become known to the party or his counsel. Such a motion may be amended only to correct a clerical error.

(b) A case shall not lose its place on the calendar when a party applies for time to seek a continuance, unless it is then continued at the option of the other party at applicant's costs, whereupon the clerk shall forthwith enter judgment for costs unless otherwise ordered by the court or agreed by the parties. [Report 1943]

That the motion need not be served; see rule 115.

See also ch 624

183. Causes for continuance.

(a) A continuance may be allowed for any cause not growing out of the fault or negligence of the applicant, which satisfies the court that substantial justice will be more nearly obtained. It shall be allowed if all parties so agree and the court approves.

(b) All such motions based on absence of evidence must be supported by affidavit of the party, his agent or attorney, and must show: (1) The name and residence of the absent witness, or, if unknown, that affiant has used diligence to ascertain them; (2) what efforts, constituting due diligence, have been made to obtain such witness or his testimony, and facts showing reasonable grounds to believe the testimony will be procured by the next term; (3) what particular facts, distinct from legal conclusions, affiant believes the witness will prove, and that he believes them to be true and knows of no other witness by whom they can be fully proved. If the court finds such motion sufficient, the adverse party may avoid the continuance by admitting that the witness if present, would testify to the facts therein stated, as the evidence of such witness. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]

See also ch 624

184. Objections—ruling—costs. The adverse party may at once, or within such reasonable time as the court allows, file specific written objections to the motion for continuance, which shall be part of the record. Where the defenses are distinct, the cause may be continued as to any one or more defendants. Every continuance shall be at the cost of the movant unless otherwise ordered by the court. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

185. Consolidation. Unless some party shows he will be prejudiced thereby the court may consolidate separate actions which involve common questions of law or fact or order a single trial of any or all issues therein. In such cases it may make such orders concerning the proceedings as tend to avoid unnecessary cost or delay. [Report 1943; amendment 1955]

See also ch 619

186. Separate trials. In any action the court may, for convenience or to avoid prejudice, order a separate trial of any claim, counter-claim, cross-claim, or of any separate issue of fact, or any number of any of them. Any claim against a party may be thus severed and proceeded with separately. [Report 1943]

As to separate trial of points of law, see rule 105.

Referred to in R.C.P. 170 and 237

See also rule 74

187. Impaneling jury.

(a) Selection. The clerk shall prepare and deposit in a box separate ballots containing the names of all persons returned or added as jurors. At each jury trial he shall select sixteen jurors by closing and shaking the box to intermingle the ballots, and drawing them from the box without seeing the names. He shall list all jurors so drawn. Before drawing begins, either party may require that the names of all jurors be called, and have an attachment for those absent who are not engaged in other trials; but the court may wait for its return or not, in its discretion.

(b) Oath or examination. The prospective jurors shall be sworn. The parties may then examine those drawn. The court may conduct such examination as it deems proper. It may on its own motion exclude any juror.

(c) Challenges. Challenges are objections to trial jurors, and may be either to the panel or to an individual juror. Coparties at the trial cannot sever their peremptory challenges, but must join in them unless the court otherwise orders. The court shall determine the law and fact as to all challenges, and must either allow or deny them.

(d) To panel. Before any juror is sworn, either party may challenge the panel, in writing, distinctly specifying the grounds, which can be founded only on a material departure from the statutory requirements for drawing or returning the jury. On trial thereof, any officer, judicial or ministerial, whose irregularity is complained of, and any other persons, may be examined concerning the facts specified. If the court sustains the challenge it shall discharge the jury, no member of which can serve at that trial.

(e) To juror. Challenge to an individual juror, peremptory or for cause, must be made before the jury is sworn to try the case. A juror peremptorily challenged must be excused without reasons being given. On demand of either party to a challenge for cause, the juror shall answer every question pertinent to the inquiry, and other evidence may be taken.

(f) For cause. A juror may be challenged by either party for any of the following causes: (1) Conviction of a felony; (2) want of any statutory qualification required to make him a competent juror; (3) physical or mental defects rendering him incapable of performing the duties of a juror; (4) consanguinity or affinity within the ninth degree to the adverse party; (5) being guardian, ward, master, servant, landlord or tenant of the adverse party, or a member of his family or in his employ; or being a client of any attorney engaged in the cause; (6) being a party adverse to the challenging party in any civil action; or having complained of or been accused by him in a criminal prosecution; (7) having already sat upon a trial of the same issues; (8) having served as a grand or trial juror in a criminal case based on the same transaction; (9) when it appears the juror has formed or expressed an unqualified opinion on the merits of the controversy, or shows a state of mind which will prevent him from rendering a just verdict; (10) being interested in a question like the issue to be tried; (11) having requested, directly, or indirectly, that his name be returned as a juror for the regular biennial period; (12) having served in the district court as a grand or petit juror during the last preceding calendar year.

Exemption from jury service is not a ground of challenge, but the privilege of the person exempt.

(g) Number—striking. Each side may peremptorily challenge three jurors and must strike off two but before the examination of the jury commences the court may in its discretion authorize and fix the number of additional peremptory challenges where there are two or more parties represented by different counsel. After all challenges for cause are completed, plaintiff and defendant shall alternately make or waive their peremptory challenges by appropriate notations on the jury list. Thereafter each side in like manner shall strike off two jurors from the list.

(h) Vacancies. After a peremptory challenge is exercised or a challenge for cause sustained, another juror shall be called and examined before further challenges are made, and shall be subject to being challenged or stricken as are other jurors.

(i) Jury sworn. The clerk shall read the names of the twelve jurors who remain on the list after all others have been challenged or stricken. These shall constitute the jury and shall be sworn substantially as follows:

"You and each of you do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will well and truly try the issues wherein .................. Is plaintiff and .................. Is defendant, and a true verdict render; and that you will do so solely on the evidence introduced and in accordance with the instructions of the court; so help you God." [Report 1943]

189. Alternate jurors. The court may impanel one or two alternate jurors whose qualifications, powers, functions, facilitics, and privileges shall be the same as regular jurors. After the regular jury is selected, the clerk shall draw the names of two more persons than are to serve under this rule, who shall be sworn substantially as follows:

"You and each of you do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will well and truly try the issues wherein .................. Is plaintiff and .................. Is defendant, and a true verdict render; and that you will do so solely on the evidence introduced and in accordance with the instructions of the court; so help you God." [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

190. Returning ballots to box. When a jury is sworn, the ballots containing the names of those absent or excused from the trial shall be immediately returned to the box. Those containing the names of jurors sworn shall be set aside, and returned to the box immediately on the discharge of that jury. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624 191. Procedure after jury sworn. After the jury is sworn, the trial shall proceed in the following order:

(a) The party having the burden of proof on the whole action may briefly state his claim, and by what evidence he expects to prove it;

(b) The other party may similarly state his defense and evidence;

(c) The first above party must then produce his evidence; to be followed by that of the adverse party;

(d) The parties will be confined to rebutting evidence, unless the court in furtherance of justice, permits them to offer evidence in their original case;

(e) But one counsel on each side shall examine the same witness, unless otherwise permitted by the court. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

192. Further testimony for mistake. At any time before final submission, the court may allow any party to offer further testimony to correct an evident oversight or mistake, imposing such terms as it deems just. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

193. Adjournments. After trial begins, the court may, in furtherance of justice, adjourn it for such time, and on such conditions as to costs or otherwise, as it deems just. [Report 1943]

For admonishing jury on adjournment, see rule 199(a).

See also ch 624

194. View. When the court deems proper, it may order an officer to conduct the jury in a body to view any real or personal property, or any place where a material fact occurred, and to show it to them. No other person shall speak to them during their absence on any subject connected with the trial. [Report 1943]

Similar provision, §780.15

See also ch 624

195. Arguments. The parties may either submit the case or argue it. The party with the burden of the issue shall have the opening and closing arguments. In opening, he shall disclose all points he relies on, and if his closing argument refers to any new material point or fact not so disclosed, the adverse party may reply thereto, which shall close the argument. A party waiving opening argument is limited, in closing, to reply to the adverse argument; otherwise the adverse party shall have the closing argument. The court may limit the time for argument to itself, but not for arguments to the jury. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

196. Instructions. The court shall instruct the jury as to the law applicable to all material issues in the case and such instructions shall be in writing, in consecutively numbered paragraphs, and shall be read to the jury without comment or explanation; provided, however, that in actions triable to a jury where the amount in controversy as shown by the pleadings is three hundred dollars or less, and in any action where the parties so agree, the instructions may be oral. At the close of the evidence, or such prior time as the court may reasonably fix, any party may file written requests that the jury be instructed as set forth in such requests. Before argument to the jury begins, the court shall furnish counsel with a preliminary draft of instructions which it expects to give on all controversial issues, which shall not be part of the record. Before reading them to the jury, the court shall submit to counsel its instructions in their final form, noting this fact of record, and granting reasonable time for counsel to make objections after argument to the jury and before the instructions are read to the jury. Within such time, all objections to giving or failing to give any instruction must be made in writing or dictated into the record, out of the jury's presence, specifying the matter objected to and on what grounds. No other grounds or objections shall be asserted thereafter, or considered on appeal. But if the court thereafter revises or adds to the instructions, similar specific objection to the revision or addition may be made in the motion for new trial, and if not so made shall be deemed waived. All instructions and objections, except as above provided, shall be part of the record. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]

See also ch 624

197. Additional instructions. While the jury is deliberating, the court may in its discretion further instruct the jury, in the presence of or after notice to counsel. Such instruction shall be in writing, be filed as other instructions in the case, and be a part of the record and any objections thereto shall be made in a motion for a new trial. [Report 1943]

Similar provision, §784.2

See also ch 624

198. What jury may take. When retiring to deliberate, the jury shall take with them all exhibits in evidence except as otherwise ordered. Deposit its shall not be so taken unless all the evidence is in writing and none has been stricken out. [Report 1943]

Similar provision, §784.1

See also ch 624

199. Separation and deliberation of jury.

(a) A jury once sworn shall not separate unless so ordered by the court, who must then advise them that it is the duty of each juror not to converse with any other juror or person, nor suffer himself to be addressed on the subject of the trial; and that, during the trial it is the duty of each juror to avoid, as far as possible, forming any opinion thereon until the cause is finally submitted to him.

(b) On final submission, the jury shall retire for deliberation, and be kept together in charge of an officer until they agree on a verdict or are discharged by the court. Such officer must not suffer any communication to be made to them, nor make any himself, except to ask them if they have agreed on a verdict, unless by order of court; nor communicate to any person the state of their deliberations, or the verdict agreed upon before it is rendered. The court may discharge a jury because of any accident or calamity requiring it, or by consent of all parties, or when an amendment a continuance is ordered, or if they have deliberated until it satisfactorily appears that they cannot agree. The case shall be retried immediately or at a future time, as the court directs. [Report 1943]

Similar provisions, §§784.8, 784.4
See also ch 624

201. Court open for verdict. The court may adjourn as to other business while the jury is absent, but shall be open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until it returns a verdict or is discharged. [Report 1943]

Similar provision, §784.5

202. Food and lodging. The court may order the sheriff to provide suitable food and lodging at the expense of the county for a jury being kept together to try or deliberate on a cause. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

203. Rendering verdict.

(a) Majority. Before verdict is returned, the parties may stipulate that it may be rendered by a stated majority of the jurors. In the absence of such stipulation a verdict must be unanimous.

(b) Return—poll. The jury agreeing on a verdict shall bring it into court, where it shall be read to them, and inquiry made if it is their verdict. A party may then require a poll, which shall be by the clerk of court asking each juror if it is his verdict. If any juror expresses disagreement on such poll or inquiry, the jury shall be sent out for further deliberation; otherwise, the verdict is complete and the jury shall be discharged.

(c) Sealed. When, by consent of the parties and the court, the jury has been permitted to seal its verdict and separates before it is rendered, such sealing is equivalent to a rendition and a recording thereof in open court, and such jury shall not be polled or permitted to disagree with respect thereto. [Report 1943]

Similar provisions, §§786.9, 786.15, 786.17
See also ch 624

204. Form and entry of verdict. The verdict shall be in writing, signed by a foreman chosen by the jury. It shall be sufficient in form if it expresses the jury's intent. It shall be filed with the clerk, and entered of record after being put in form by the court if need be. [Report 1943]

For judgment on verdict, see rule 223.
See also ch 624

205. Special verdicts. The court may require that the verdict consist wholly of special written findings on each issue of fact. It shall then submit in writing questions susceptible of categorical or brief answers, or forms of several special findings that the jury might properly make under the issues and evidence, or submit the issues and require the findings in any other appropriate manner. It shall so instruct the jury as to enable it to find upon each issue submitted. If the submission omits any issue of fact, any party not demanding submission of such issue before the jury retires waives jury trial thereof, and the court may find upon it; falling which, it shall be deemed found in accord with the judgment on the special verdict. The court shall direct such judgment on the special verdict and answers as is appropriate thereto. [Report 1943]

See federal rule 49
See also ch 624

206. Interrogatories. The jury in any case in which it renders a general verdict may be required by the court, and must be so required on the request of any party to the action, to find specially upon any particular questions of fact, to be stated to it in writing, which questions of fact shall be submitted to the attorneys of the adverse party before argument to the jury is commenced. The instructions shall be such as will enable the jury to answer the Interrogatories and return the verdict. If both are harmonious, the court shall order the appropriate judgment. If the answers are consistent with each other, but any is inconsistent with the general verdict, the court may order judgment appropriate to the answers notwithstanding the verdict, or a new trial, or send the jury back for further deliberation. If the answers are inconsistent with each other, and any is inconsistent with the verdict, the court shall not order judgment, but either send the jury back or order a new trial. [Report 1943]

See federal rule 49

207. Reference. A "master" includes a referee, auditor or examiner. On a showing of exceptional conditions requiring it, the court may appoint a master as to any issues not to be tried to a jury. The clerk shall forthwith furnish the master with a copy of the order appointing him. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

208. Compensation. The court shall fix the master's compensation and order it paid or advanced by such parties, or from such fund or property, as it may deem just. Execution may issue on such order at the master's demand. He shall not retain his reports as security for his compensation. [Report 1943]

DIV. IX, RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

209. Powers. The order may specify or limit the master's powers or duties or the issue on which he is to report, or the time within which he shall hold hearings or file his report; or specify that he merely take and report evidence. But except as so limited he shall have and exercise power to regulate all proceedings before him; to administer oaths and to do all acts and take all measures appropriate for the efficient performance of his duties; to compel production before him of any witness or party, whom he may himself examine, or of any evidence on any matters embraced in the reference, and to rule on admissibility of evidence. He shall, on request, make a record of evidence offered and excluded. He may appoint a shorthand reporter whose fees shall be advanced by the requesting party. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

210. Speedy hearing. Upon his appointment the master shall forthwith notify the parties of the time and place of their first meeting before him, which shall be within twenty days or such other time as the court's order may fix. If a party so notified fails to appear, the master may proceed ex parte, or, in his discretion, adjourn to a future day, giving notice thereof to the absent party. It is the duty of the master to proceed with all reasonable diligence; and the court, after notice to the master and the parties, may order him to expedite proceedings or make his report. See also ch 624

212. Accounts. The master may prescribe the form for submission of accounts which are in issue before him. In any proper case he may require or receive in evidence the statement of a certified public accountant who testifies as a witness. If any item submitted or stated is objected to, or shown insufficient in form, the master may require that a different form be furnished, or that the accounts or any item thereof be proved by oral testimony or written interrogatories of the accounting parties, or in such other manner as he directs. [Report 1943]

213. Filing report. The master shall file with the clerk the original exhibits, and a transcript of the proceedings and evidence before him, if there be one, otherwise his summary thereof, with his report on the matters submitted to him in the order of reference, including separate findings and conclusions if so ordered. He may previously submit a draft of his report to counsel for their suggestions. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

214. Disposition. The clerk shall forthwith mail notice of filing the report to all attorneys of record; and within ten days thereafter, unless the court enlarges the time, any party may file written objections to it. Application for action on said report, or objections, shall be by motion, to be heard on such notice as the court prescribes. The report shall have the same effect whether or not the reference was by consent; but where parties stipulate that the master's findings shall be final, only questions of law arising upon the report shall thereafter be considered. The court shall accept the master's findings of fact unless clearly erroneous; and may adopt, reject or modify the report wholly or in any part, or recommit it with instructions. [Report 1943]

215. Voluntary dismissal. A party may, without order of court, dismiss his own petition, counterpetition, cross-petition, or petition of intervention, at any time before the trial has begun. Thereafter a party may dismiss his action or his claim therein only by consent of the court which may impose such terms or conditions as it deems proper; and it shall require the consent of any other party asserting a counterclaim against the movant, unless that will still remain for an independent adjudication. A dismissal under this rule shall be without prejudice, unless otherwise stated; but if made by any party who has previously dismissed an action against the same defendant, in any court of any state or of the United States, including or based on the same cause, such dismissal shall operate as an adjudication against him on the merits, unless otherwise ordered by the court, in the interests of justice. 215.1. Uniform rule for dismissal for want of prosecution. It is the declared policy that in the exercise of reasonable diligence every civil and special action, except under unusual circumstances, shall be brought to issue and tried within one year from the date it is filed and docketed and in most instances within a shorter time.

All cases at law or in equity where the petition has been filed more than one year prior to July 15 of any year shall be for trial at the next term commencing after August 15 of said year. The clerk shall prior to August 15 give notice to counsel of record as provided in rule 82 of:

(a) the docket number,
(b) the names of parties,
(c) counsel appearing,
(d) date of filing petition, and the notice shall state that such case will be for trial and subject to dismissal if not tried in the next succeeding term pursuant to this rule. All such cases shall be assigned and tried or dismissed without prejudice at plaintiff's costs unless satisfactory reasons for want of prosecution or grounds for continuance be shown by application and ruling thereon after notice and not ex parte. This rule shall not apply to cases (a) pending on appeal from a court of record to a higher court or under order of submission to the court; (b) in which proceedings subsequent to judgment or decree are pending; (c) which have been stayed pursuant to the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act [40 Stat. 440; now covered by 50 USC App. §501 et seq.]; (d) which have been filed but in which plaintiff has been unable by due diligence to obtain service of original notice; (e) where a party is paying a claim pursuant to written stipulation on file or court order; and (f) awaiting the action of a referee, master or other court appointed officer; provided, however, that a finding as to “a” through “f” is made and entered of record.

No continuance under this rule shall be by stipulation of parties alone but must be by order of court. Where appropriate the order of continuance shall be to a date or term certain.

The trial court may, in its discretion, and shall upon a showing that such dismissal was the result of oversight, mistake or other reasonable cause, reinstate the action or actions so dismissed. Application for such reinstatement, setting forth the grounds therefor, shall be filed within six months from the date of dismissal. [Report 1961; amended by 61GA, ch 487, §2]

See also ch 624

216. Involuntary dismissal. A party may move for dismissal of any action or claim against him, if the party asserting it fails to comply with these rules or any order of court. After the plaintiff has completed his evidence, a defendant may move for dismissal because plaintiff has shown no right to relief, under the law or facts, without waiving his right to offer evidence thereafter. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

Bar or abatement, see also rule 103. See also ch 624

221. As to some parties only. Where the action involves two or more parties, the court may, in its discretion, and though it has jurisdiction of them all, render judgment for or against some of them only, whenever the prevailing party would have been entitled thereto had the action involved him alone, or whenever a several judgment is proper; leaving the action to proceed as to the other parties. [Report 1943]

See also rule 74.

222. Judgment on the pleadings, etc. Any party may, at any time, on motion, have any judgment to which he is entitled under the uncontroverted facts stated in all the pleadings, or on any portion of his claim or defense which is not controverted, leaving the action to proceed as to any other matter of which such judgment does not dispose. [Report 1943]

See also ch 624

223. On verdict. The clerk must forthwith enter judgment upon a verdict when filed, unless it is special, or the court has ordered the case reserved for future argument or consideration. [Report 1943]

PARTITION OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY

See also chapter 651 of the Code

270. The action—pending probate. Real or personal property may be partitioned by equitable proceedings. Where the entire interest in real estate is owned by a decedent on whose estate administration or probate is pending, the action cannot be begun until six months after the notice of the administrator’s appointment, nor at any time while an application for authority to sell such real estate is pending in the probate proceeding. [Report 1943]

See also ch 651
271. Petition. The petition shall describe the property and plaintiff's interest therein. It shall name the other owners and all indispensable lienholders as defined in rule 273"a", and state the nature and extent of each interest or lien, all so far as known. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

272. Abstracts. The court may order a complete abstract to be filed covering any real estate involved, requiring that any party produce any abstract he has or controls, and that plaintiff complete the same, or supply the whole if no part is available. The expense thereof shall be taxed as costs. Such abstracts shall be available for use of the court or any party during the proceedings. A like order may be made as to plats and surveys. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

273. Parties.
(a) Indispensable parties. All owners of undivided interests, and all holders of liens against less than the entire property are indispensable parties to any partition. All holders of any liens on personality are also indispensable to its partition.
(b) Optional parties. Other persons having actual, apparent, claimed or contingent interests, and holders of liens on the entire real estate, may also be made parties. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 271

274. Early appearance. After a petition is filed seeking partition of personality only, the court may order appearance and hearing at any specified time and place in the judicial district on not less than five days personal service of original notice on all defendants. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

275. Joinder and counterclaim. Except as permitted by this rule there shall be no joinder of any other cause of action and no counterclaim. But any party may perfect or quiet title to the property, or have an adjudication of the rights of any or all parties as to any or all matters growing out of or connected with it, including liens between them. Real and personal property owned by the same persons may be partitioned in the same action; and the same referee may act as to both. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

276. Jurisdiction of property—proceeds. The property or its proceeds shall be subject to the order of the court until the right becomes fully vested. After a sale, each party, including holders of liens from which the property has been freed by the sale, shall have the same rights or interests in the proceeds as they had in the property sold, subject to a prior charge for costs. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

277. Estate less than fee. The court shall make suitable provision as to the proceeds of any share held for life or years or in remainder, which may be done by appointing a trustee for the proceeds involved. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

278. Division or sale. Property shall be partitioned by sale and division of the proceeds, unless a party prays for partition in kind by its division into parcels, and shows that such partition is equitable and practicable. But personality which is subject to any lien on the whole or any part can only be partitioned by sale. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

279. Decree. The decree shall establish the shares and interests of the owners in the property. A decree for partition in kind shall appoint three referees unless the parties agree on a smaller number. A decree ordering a sale shall appoint one or more referees, and three disinterested freeholders to appraise the property, and may direct either a public or private sale. All other matters involved in the cause, including those relating to liens, may be determined by the same decree, or later supplemental decree or decrees. [Report 1943]

Sale for less than appraisement, see rule 291. See also ch 651

280. Liens. The court shall by supplemental decree, adjudge the nature, extent, priority or validity of any lien of any party, not previously determined, after causing the referees to give such notice to the interested parties as it may prescribe, and upon issues made up as the court directs. No partition in kind shall be had until after such adjudication; but a sale need not wait thereon, and the pendency of any such controversy shall not delay distribution of the proceeds to any party not affected by the lien. [Report 1943]
See also ch 651

281. Sale free of liens. Personality must be sold free of liens. Real property must be sold free of all liens, except those which are held against the entire property sold. [Report 1943]

For initial or supplemental decree as to liens, see rules 279 and 280. See also ch 651

282. Possession and preservation of property. The court may order the referee to lease or take possession of any property involved in the action. 284. Partition in kind. The referees who partition real estate in kind shall mark out each parcel by visible monuments, and file report thereof. They may employ a surveyor or assistants to aid them, if necessary, whose fees and expenses, when allowed by the court, shall be part of the costs. [Report 1943]

285. Specific allotment. The court may, for good reasons shown, order referees making a partition in kind to allot a particular tract or article to a particular party. [Report 1943]

286. Report — notice — hearing. Referees shall file a report of their proposed partition in kind, describing with reasonable particularity the respective shares and the specific property allotted to each owner, with a plat of any real estate involved. The court shall promptly fix a time and place of hearing thereon, and the referee shall give at least ten days notice thereof in such manner as the court directs. On hearing, the court may approve, modify or disapprove the report, and refer it to the same or different referees or order a sale. [Report 1943]

287. Decree—recording. (a) Decree—costs. On approving a partition in kind, the court shall enter a decree allotting each party the property or share set off to him, apportioning the costs among the allottees and entering judgment against each for his share thereof, which shall be a lien on the property allotted to him, and for which special execution may issue on demand of anyone interested.

Further as to costs, see rule 293.

(b) Recording. If the decree involves real estate, the clerk shall file with the recorder of his own county and each other county where any of the real estate lies, a certified transcript of so much of the decree as shows the book and page where it is recorded, the confirmation of the shares and interests in the property apportioned, the names of the parties found entitled to share therein, and an accurate description of each parcel allotted to each several owner. Such transcript shall be presented to the county auditor for transfer, and recorded in the deed records, and indexed as a conveyance of each parcel, with the name of the allottee as grantee and names of all other parties as grantors. [Report 1943]

288. Referees to sell — bond. A referee to make sale shall qualify by taking oath. No bond shall be required before the referee conveys real estate unless he is to sell personalty or take possession of real estate or is to receive a payment on the sale before conveyance, in which case, he shall give such bond as the court directs. Before conveying real estate, he shall give bond for one hundred twenty-five percent of the total sale price, payable to the parties entitled to the proceeds, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in connection with the sale and its proceeds. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

289. Sales—notice—expense—approval. (a) Approval. All sales shall be subject to the approval of the court, unless it dispenses with approval of a public sale of personalty, which may then be sold on full payment of the price bid.

(b) Expense. If authorized by the court, referees may advertise the sale beyond the required notice, or employ an auctioneer, clerk or assistant; and the expense thereof when allowed by the court, shall be part of the costs.

(c) Notice of public sale. The referees shall give notice of the time and place of any public sale, by two publications, at least six days apart, in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where the sale is to be held. The last publication shall be at least seven days prior to the sale in case of real estate, and at least four days prior thereto in case of personalty. [Report 1943]

290. Report of sale—notice. (a) Generally. The referees shall report all proposed sales to the court, which in its discretion, may require a hearing thereon at a specified time and place, in which event the referees shall give notice to the interested parties as the court then directs.

(b) Notice mandatory. Such notice and hearing must be accorded to any party who, before the report is approved, files with the clerk, a duplicate request therefor, bearing his name and the address to which notice is to be sent. The clerk shall docket the request, and transmit the copy to any referee forthwith, or if none has been appointed, then as soon as appointment is made. The referee shall mail notice of the hearing to such party at his address shown in the request within a time prescribed by the court, which may direct that other parties be also notified. [Report 1943]

291. Approving sale—conveyance. The court by express order may approve a private sale though it be for less than the appraised value. No real estate shall be conveyed until the sale is approved by the court; and no conveyance shall be made until the price is fully paid. [Report 1943]

292. Deed — validity. A referee’s deed, recorded in the county where the land lies, shall be valid against all subsequent purchasers, and against all persons interested at the time, who were parties to the proceeding. [Report 1943]

See also ch 651

293. Costs. All costs shall be advanced by the plaintiff, but eventually paid by all parties proportionately to their interests; except costs created by contests, which shall be taxed against the losing contestant unless otherwise ordered. No contest shall deprive plaintiff’s attorney of the fee specified in rule 294. If partition is in kind, costs shall be adjudged, and may be collected as provided in rule 287"a". If partition is by sale, the costs shall be paid from the proceeds and deducted from the shares of the parties against whom they are taxed. These remedies for collecting costs shall be cumulative of other remedies. [Report 1943]

See also ch 651

294. Attorney fees. On partition of real estate, but not of personality, the court shall fix, and tax as costs, a fee in favor of plaintiff’s attorney, which cannot exceed the following amount, computed on the sale price, or by appraisement if no sale is made:
1. On the first two hundred dollars or frac­tion thereof obtained, ten percent;
2. On the excess of two hundred to five hundred dollars, five percent;
3. On the excess of five hundred to one thousand dollars, three percent; and
4. On all sums in excess of one thousand dollars, two percent. Provided further that in contested partition cases, plaintiff’s attorney shall receive such additional reasonable compensation as the court may allow, to be taxed as part of the costs. [Report 1943; amendment 1955]

Referred to in R.C.P. 293

See also ch 651

295. Other fees. Appraisers and referees in all partition suits, as well as any attorney employed by a referee with approval of the court, shall receive such reasonable compensation as the court allows, which shall be part of the costs. [Report 1943]

See also ch 651

296. Final reports. Unless all interested parties waive it in writing, the court shall fix a time and place of hearing the referee’s final report, and prescribe the time and manner of notice which the referees shall give to all interested persons. [Report 1943]

See also ch 651

297. Paying small sums. Whenever a minor, having no legal guardian, is entitled to procceeds of a partition sale, not in excess of five hundred dollars, the court may order the referee discharged of all liability therefor, by paying them to the minor’s parent or natural guardian, or the person with whom he resides, for the use of such minor, and taking a receipt therefor. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]

See also ch 651 and §§633.108, 633.676, 633.678, 633.681

298. Unborn parties. When a person not in being may have a contingent or a prospective vested interest as a cotenant of real estate, the court shall have jurisdiction over the interest of such person, and shall appoint a suitable guardian ad litem, to act for him in such proceeding, and rules 12 to 14 shall apply in such cases. The decree of partition and the division or sale thereunder shall be of the same force and effect as to all such persons, or persons claiming by, through or under them, as though they were in being when the decree was entered, and the property or pro­ceeds of the interest of such person shall be subject to the order of the court until the right thereto becomes fully vested. (d) If a party has merely exercised powers or privileges to which he was not entitled, but which does not warrant forfeiture under the law, the judgment shall prohibit him from the further exercise thereof. [Report 1943]

304. Costs.

(a) Judgment against any defendant or intervenor shall include judgment for the costs of the action. Judgment against a pretended corporation shall adjudge the costs against the person or persons acting as such.

(b) If the action fails, the court may adjudge the costs against any private individual who brought it; otherwise they shall be paid as provided by the statutes governing costs in criminal cases. [Report 1943]

305. Corporation dissolved. If the judgment dissolves a corporation, the court shall make appropriate orders for the dissolution as provided by the statutes in force. [Report 1943]

306. When writ may issue. A writ of certiorari shall only be granted when specifically authorized by statute; or where an inferior tribunal, board or officer, exercising judicial functions, is alleged to have exceeded its, or his proper jurisdiction or otherwise acted illegally. [Report 1943]

307. Title. The petition shall be entitled in the name of the petitioner as plaintiff, against the inferior tribunal, board or officer as defendant. [Report 1943]

308. Other remedies. The writ shall not be denied or annulled because plaintiff has another plain, speedy or adequate remedy; but the relief by way of certiorari shall be strictly limited to questions of jurisdiction or illegality of the acts complained of, unless otherwise specially provided by statute. [Report 1943]

309. The writ. The writ may be granted only by the district court unless it is directed to that court or a municipal or superior court; and then by the supreme court or a justice thereof. It shall be issued by the clerk of the court where the petition is filed, under its seal. It shall command the defendant to certify to that court, at a specified time and place, a transcript of so much of defendant's records and proceedings as are complained of in the petition or as may be pertinent thereto, together with the facts of the case, describing or referring to them or any of them with convenient certainty; and also to have then and there the writ. [Report 1943]

310. Stay—bond. The court or justice granting the writ may, in its or his discretion, stay the original proceedings, though no stay is asked. Such stay, when sought by plaintiff, can be granted only on his filing bond with penalty and conditions, including security for costs, prescribed by such court or justice, and sureties approved by it or its clerk. [Report 1943]

311. Notice of issuing writ. The writ may issue without notice on filing the petition, unless it is filed before a final order or decree in the original proceedings, or the plaintiff seeks a stay. Before issuing the writ in the latter cases, the court or justice shall, and in any case may in his discretion, fix a time and place for hearing and prescribe reasonable notice to defendant thereof. Such hearing shall be confined to the sufficiency of the petition, what records or proceedings shall be certified, and the terms of any bond to be given. [Report 1943]

312. Service of writ. Unless the defendant accepts service of the writ, it shall be served by a sheriff or deputy sheriff. If directed to a court, service shall be on a judge or clerk thereof; if to a board or other tribunal on its secretary, clerk or any member. Service shall... be by delivery of the original writ; and a copy, with return of service, shall be returned to the office of its issuance. [Report 1943]

313. Return to writ—by whom. Where the writ is directed to a court, return thereto, if practicable, shall be made and signed by the judge whose action is complained of, otherwise by any judge of that court; where directed to an officer, he shall make and sign the return; where directed to a board or tribunal, return thereto shall be made and signed by its presiding officer, or its clerk or secretary. [Report 1943]

314. Defective return. If the return is defective, the court or justice who issued the writ, on his own motion or that of any party, may order a further return; or compel obedience to the writ or to such order, by attachment or citation for contempt. [Report 1943]

315. Trial. When full return has been made, the court shall fix a time and place of hearing, and hear the parties upon the record made by the return. In its discretion, it may receive any transcript of the evidence taken in the original proceeding, and such other oral or written evidence as is explanatory of the matters contained in the return. Such transcript and additional evidence shall be considered for the sole purpose of determining the legality of the proceedings, and the sufficiency of the evidence before the original tribunal, board or officer to sustain its, or his action, unless otherwise specially provided by statute. [Report 1943]

316. Judgment limited. Unless otherwise specially provided by statute, the judgment on certiorari shall be limited to sustaining the proceedings below, or annulling the same wholly or in part, to the extent that they were illegal or in excess of jurisdiction, and prescribing the manner in which either party may proceed further, nor shall such judgment substitute a different or amended decree or order for that being reviewed. [Report 1943]

317. Nature of proceeding. The action shall be by ordinary proceedings, so far as applicable. [Report 1943]

318. Appeal. Appeal to the supreme court lies from a judgment of the district court in a certiorari proceeding, and will be governed by the rules applicable to appeals in ordinary actions. [Report 1943]

319. Limitation. No writ of certiorari shall issue or be sustained unless the petition is filed within six months from the time the inferior tribunal, board or officer exceeded its jurisdiction or otherwise acted illegally. [Report 1943]

Injunctions

See also chapter 664 of the Code

320. Independent or auxiliary remedy. An injunction may be obtained as an independent remedy by an action in equity, or as an auxiliary remedy in any action. In either case, the party applying therefor may claim damages or other relief in the same action. An injunction may be granted as part of the judgment; or may be granted by order at any prior stage of the proceedings, and is then known as a temporary injunction. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

321. Temporary—when allowed. A temporary injunction may be allowed:

(a) When the petition, supported by affidavit, shows the plaintiff is entitled to relief which includes restraining the commission or continuance of some act which would greatly or irreparably injure him, or,

(b) Where, during the litigation, it appears that a party is doing, procuring or suffering to be done, or threatens or is about to do, an act violating the other party's right respecting the subject of the action and tending to make the judgment ineffectual, or,

(c) In any case specially authorized by statute. [Report 1943]

For injunctions in interpleader actions, see rule 39.

See also ch 664

322. Indorsing refusal. A court, or justice of the supreme court, refusing a temporary injunction shall indorse the refusal on the petition therefor. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

323. Statement re prior presentation. A petition seeking a temporary injunction shall state, or the attorney shall certify thereon, whether a petition for the same relief, or part thereof, has been previously presented to and refused by any court or justice, and if so, by whom and when. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

324. Outside district. No temporary injunction shall be granted by a district court different from the one where the action is, or will be, pending, except upon affidavit that the application therefor cannot be promptly made to the latter court. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 325 and 326
See also ch 664

325. By whom granted. A temporary injunction may be granted by:

(a) The court in which the action is or will be pending;

(b) The supreme court or a justice thereof;

(c) Any other district court, when permitted by rule 324. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664
326. Notice. Before granting a temporary injunction, the court may require reasonable notice of the time and place of hearing therefor to be given the party to be enjoined. Such notice and hearing must be had for a temporary injunction to stop the general and ordinary business of a corporation, or the operations of a railway or of a municipal corporation, or the erection of a building or other work, or the board of supervisors of a county, or to restrain a nuisance. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

327. Bond. The order directing a temporary injunction must require that before the writ issues, a bond be filed, with a penalty to be specified in the order, which shall be one hundred twenty-five percent of the probable liability to be incurred. Such bond with sureties to be approved by the clerk, shall be conditioned to pay all damages which may be adjudged against the petitioner by reason of the injunction. But in actions for divorce, separate maintenance or annulment of marriage, the court in its discretion may waive any bond, or fix its penalty in any amount deemed just and reasonable. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

328. Dissolution. A party against whom a temporary injunction is issued without notice may, at any time, move the court where the action is pending to dissolve, vacate or modify it. Such motion shall be submitted to that court. But if the injunction was granted by a justice or court of a different district under rule 324, the court or justice that ordered it shall hear the motion, if it be shown by affidavit, that prompt hearing cannot be obtained in the court where the action is pending. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

329. Enjoining proceedings or judgment — venue — bond. An action seeking to enjoin proceedings in a civil action, or on a judgment or final order, must be brought in the county and court where such proceedings are pending or such judgment or order was obtained, unless that be the supreme court, in which case the action must be brought in the court from which appeal was taken. Any bond in such action must be further conditioned to pay or comply with such judgment or order, or to pay any judgment that may be recovered against the petitioner on the cause of action enjoined. [Report 1943]

See also ch 664

330. Violation as contempt. Violation of any provision of any temporary or permanent injunction shall constitute contempt and be punished accordingly. [Report 1943]

DIVISION XVI
APPELLATE PROCEDURE

Referred to in R.C.P. 371

See also chapter 686 of the Code

331. From final judgment.

(a) All final judgments and decisions of courts of record, and any final adjudication in the trial court under rule 86 involving the merits or materially affecting the final decision, may be appealed to the supreme court, except as provided in this rule and in rule 333. For the purpose of this rule any order granting a new trial (not including an order setting aside a judgment by default other than in actions for divorce or annulment) and any order denying a new trial shall be deemed a final decision. Any order setting aside a default decree of divorce or annulment shall also be deemed a final decision.

(b) No interlocutory ruling or decision may be appealed, except as provided in rule 332, until after the final judgment or order. No error in such interlocutory ruling or decision is waived by pleading over, or proceeding to trial. On appeal from the final judgment, there may be assigned as error such interlocutory ruling or decision or any final adjudication in the trial court under rule 86 from which no appeal has been taken, where such ruling, decision, or final adjudication is shown to have substantially affected the rights of the complaining party. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amendment 1951]

Referred to in R.C.P. 332, 335 and 371

See also ch 686 and Supreme Court rules

332. From interlocutory orders.

(a) Any party aggrieved by an interlocutory ruling or decision, including one appearing specially whose objections to jurisdiction have been overruled, may apply to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment. Such appeal may be granted, after notice, and hearing as provided in rules 347 and 353, on finding that such ruling or decision involves substantial rights and will materially affect the final decision, and that a determination of its correctness before trial on the merits will better serve the interests of justice. No such application is necessary where the appeal is, pursuant to rule 331, from a final adjudication in the trial court under rule 86.

(b) The order granting such appeal may be on terms of advancing it for prompt submission. It shall stay further proceedings below, and may require bond. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

Referred to in R.C.P. 331, 335, 352, 353 and 371

See also ch 686 and Supreme Court rules

333. Amount in controversy. Except where the action involves an interest in real estate, no appeal shall be taken in any case where the amount in controversy, as shown by the pleadings, is less than three hundred dollars, unless the trial judge, within thirty days after the judgment or order is entered, certifies that the cause is one in which appeal should be allowed. The right of appeal is not affected by any remission of any part of the verdict or judgment. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 331, 332 and 371

See also ch 686 and Supreme Court rules
334. Scope of review. Review in equity cases shall be de novo. In all other cases the supreme court shall constitute a court for correction of errors at law; and findings of fact in jury-waived cases shall have the effect of a special verdict. [Report 1943]

Provided, however, a cross-appeal may be taken within said thirty-day period, or in any event within five days after the appeal is taken. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amendment 1949]

336. How taken—notice—delivery. Appeal is taken and perfected by filing a notice with the clerk of the court where the order, judgment or decree was entered, signed by the appellant or his attorney. It shall specify the parties taking the appeal, and the decree, judgment, order or part thereof appealed from. The clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver a copy of such notice to the attorneys of record for all parties other than the appellant, or to any such party who has no attorney of record, at his last known address. No failure of the clerk to mail or deliver any notice shall affect the validity of the appeal. [Report 1943]

337. Supersedes—bond.

(a) No appeal shall stay proceedings under a judgment or order unless appellant executes a bond with sureties, to be filed with and approved by the clerk of the court where the judgment or order was entered. The condition of such bond shall be that he will satisfy and perform the judgment if affirmed, or any judgment or order, not exceeding in amount or value, the obligation of the judgment or order appealed from, which the supreme court may render or order to be rendered by the trial court; and also all costs and damages adjudged against him on the appeal, and all rents of or damage to property during the pendency of the appeal, of which appellee is deprived by reason of the appeal.

(b) If the judgment or order appealed from be for money, the penalty of such bond shall be one hundred twenty-five percent of the amount, including costs, unless, in exceptional cases, the trial court fix a larger amount; in all other cases, an amount sufficient to save appellee harmless from the consequences of the appeal; but in no event less than three hundred dollars.

(c) No appeal shall vacate or affect the judgment or order appealed from; but the clerk shall issue a written order requiring the appellee and all others to stay proceedings under it, or such part of it as has been appealed from, when the appeal bond is filed and approved. [Report 1943]

338. Bond—hearing on sufficiency. If any party to an appeal is aggrieved by the clerk's approval of, or refusal to approve, a supersedeas bond tendered by appellant, he may apply to the trial court, on at least three days notice to the adverse party, to review the clerk's action. Pending such hearing, the court may recall or stay all proceedings under the order or judgment appealed from. On such hearing, it shall itself determine the sufficiency of the bond, and if the clerk has not approved the bond, the court shall, by written order, fix its conditions and determine the sufficiency of the security; or if the court determines that a bond approved by the clerk is insufficient in security or defective in form, it shall discharge such bond and fix a time for filing a new one; all as appears by the circumstances shown at the hearing. [Report 1943]

339. Judgment on bond. If the supreme court affirms the judgment appealed from, it may, on motion of the appellee, render judgment against appellant and the sureties on the appeal bond for the amount of the judgment, with damages and costs; or may remand the cause to the trial court for the determination of such damages and costs, and the entry of judgment on the bond. [Report 1943]

340. Record on appeal.

(a) Promptly after taking an appeal to the supreme court, appellant shall file with the clerk of the trial court duplicate typewritten abstract of so much of the record in that court, including pleadings, evidence, rulings, orders, judgment and all proceedings in the case, as is material to the appeal. Where exhibits will be copied in full in the printed record, the abstract may so state and refer to them by letter, number or other appropriate designation, without copying them.

The reporter's transcript shall be filed at the same time; and these rules relative to it shall also apply to bills of exceptions under rule 241. The cost of the transcript shall be taxed in the trial court.

The clerk shall forthwith notify the attorneys of record for the appellee of such filing.

(b) If the abstract does not embrace the whole record, and all evidence and proceedings in the transcript, depositions and exhibits, it shall include a concise statement of all points upon which appellant will rely on the appeal, which shall be limited thereto.

(c) Within twenty days after such filing, or such longer time as the trial court may allow or the parties agree to in writing, any other party to the appeal may, in like manner, file duplicate amendments to appellant’s abstract, proposing corrections, substitutions or additions thereto. At the expiration of the time for amendment, either party, on not less than three days written notice, may present the proposed abstract and all such proposed amendments, if any, to the judge before whom the case was tried, who shall settle any differences to the end that the abstract correctly shows the evidence and proceedings at the trial, and is in form as provided by these rules. The trial court shall then append to appellant’s proposed abstract an order settling the same with any corrections, substitutions or additions it has allowed in conformity with these rules.

(d) If a party to the appeal shows the trial court a good reason for setting out part of the testimony in question and answer form, such part may appear by questions and answers. If this is not done, testimony of witnesses shall be abstracted in condensed or narrative form.

(e) Formal parts of all exhibits, and more than one copy of any document, shall be omitted. Documents shall be abridged by omitting formal or irrelevant parts. This rule shall also apply to exhibits to pleadings.

(f) The abstract allowed as above or under paragraph “h” hereof shall constitute the record on which the cause shall be submitted on the appeal. The appellant shall cause it to be printed, so as also to contain in full any exhibits designated in the abstract by number alone, as provided in paragraph “a” hereof.

For correcting record, see rule 341.

(g) The supreme court may impose or withhold costs for any addition or substitution of irrelevant matter, or the use of needless questions and answers for the narrative statement. To aid it in this respect only, the clerk of the trial court, at the request of the aggrieved party, shall certify to the supreme court the reporter’s transcript, depositions, exhibits and proposed abstract and amendments thereto.

(h) Instead of proceeding under paragraphs “b” and “c” hereof, the parties may file with or include in the abstract proposed by any party to the appeal, their written agreement that it is correct. The trial court shall thereupon certify that such abstract has been so agreed to, and is the record on appeal.

(i) Abstracts and the printed record shall contain a brief index of their contents, in which the pleadings shall appear in the order of their filing.

(j) Agreed record. Instead of proceeding under the foregoing paragraphs “a” to “f” the parties may, promptly after taking an appeal, present for his approval to the judge before whom the case was tried, or if he is not available to any other judge of the same court, an agreed record on appeal. It shall show how the questions arose and were decided in the trial court. It shall either set out so much of the facts pleaded or proved as are necessary to a decision of such questions and to proper disposition of the appeal, or contain an abstract of the relevant proceedings which will enable the supreme court to decide the appeal. It shall include an abstract or copy of the judgment or order appealed from and a brief index of contents. Such agreed record, when approved by said judge, shall be the record on appeal and the appellant shall cause it to be printed, filed with the clerk of the trial court and transmitted to the clerk of the supreme court in accordance with rule 342. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; Nov. 20, 1961] of the supreme court. The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.

(b) When appellant files the printed record in the trial court, he shall forthwith mail or deliver seventeen printed copies thereof, with a filing fee of three dollars, to the clerk of the supreme court, who shall then docket the cause.

(c) If the printed record is not filed by the appellant with the clerk of the trial court within ninety days after filing the notice of appeal or within such further time as fixed by the trial court, the appellee may file with the clerk of the supreme court a copy of the final judgment or order appealed from, or other matters required, certified to by the clerk of the trial court, and cause the case to be docketed, and the appeal upon motion shall be dismissed, or the judgment or order affirmed.

(d) After an appeal to the supreme court is taken and perfected, as provided in rule 336, the failure of appellant to take any further steps to secure the review of the judgment or order appealed from in the manner and within the time specified in these rules shall be ground for the dismissal of the appeal or for the affirmance of the judgment or order appealed from as provided in paragraph "c" hereof and rule 348. If reasonable excuse be shown for such failure to comply with these rules the supreme court may allow the appeal to stand upon such terms as it deems appropriate. [Report 1943; Court Order Dec. 12, 1945; amendment 1953]

343. Filing briefs. In all cases, whether in equity or at law, the appellant shall file his brief with the clerk of the trial court within forty-five days after filing his record, unless such time is enlarged in accordance with rule 347"b" or suspended under rule 348"d". He shall also file one "service copy" for the clerk's certification, and copies for the other parties or their attorneys as provided in rule 342, which copies the clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver in like manner. The clerk shall indorse upon the "service copy" his certificate of such filing and mailing, and mail it, so indorsed, to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.

Within thirty days after appellant's brief is thus filed, the appellee shall serve and file his brief in like manner. If he is a cross-appellant he may have until the same time in which to file his opening brief as such cross-appellant and combine it with his brief as appellee.

Time computed, §4.1(23)

344. Form and contents of briefs.

(a) Appellant's opening brief shall contain:

(1) A statement of the case, not ordinarily to exceed one page, showing the nature of the action, what the issues were, and how they were decided, and what questions are presented by the appeal;

(2) A statement of the facts, stating the principal facts in narrative form, with references to the pages and lines of the record to support each statement. But if such references are fully supplied in the argument, they may be omitted from this statement.

(3) A statement of errors relied on for reversal when the appeal presents questions of law; or a statement of propositions relied on, when it is triable de novo. The errors or propositions shall be separately stated and numbered, in substantially the order they are presented in the division of the brief.

(4) In separately numbered divisions:

(First) A statement of the "error" or "proposition" relied on and discussed in that division, with references to the pages and lines of the record, sufficient to show fully the manner in which the error arose and the ruling of the trial court thereon.

(Second) Separately numbered or lettered brief points substantially conforming to the "Statement of Errors" or "Propositions" and stating without argument the grounds of complaint of the ruling and citing authorities supporting each point.

(Third) The argument shall follow the statement of the brief points and authorities in each division, and be confined thereto. Errors or propositions not stated or argued shall be deemed waived.

(b) If two or more errors relied on present closely related propositions of law or fact, the brief points and arguments may be presented in one division.

(c) Argument of any error which relates to the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain a ruling on any point shall supply full references to the pages and lines of the record, unless such evidence is fully stated, with such references, in the statement of facts.

(d) Appellee's brief and appellant's reply shall follow the above outline as nearly as may be, but without unnecessary repetition.

(e) In citing cases the names of parties must be given. And in citing cases determined by this court, which have been officially reported, reference must be made to the volume and page where the case may be found in the Iowa Reports and also in the North Western Reporter, if reported therein. In citing cases from other jurisdictions, reference must be made to the court that rendered the opinion and the volume and page where the same may be found. in the National Reporter System, if reported therein. When textbooks are cited, the edition must be designated with the proper volume and page.

(f) The following propositions are deemed so well established that authorities need not be cited in support of any of them:

(1) Findings of fact in a law action, which means generally any action triable by ordinary proceedings, are binding upon the appellate court if supported by substantial evidence.

(2) In considering the propriety of a directed verdict for defendant the court gives plaintiff's evidence the most favorable construction it will reasonably bear.

(3) In ruling upon motions for new trial the trial court has a broad but not unlimited discretion in determining whether the verdict effectuates substantial justice between the parties.

(4) The court is slower to interfere with the grant of a new trial than with its denial.

(5) Ordinarily the burden of proof follows the pleading; that is, he who pleads and relies upon the affirmative of an issue must carry the burden of proving it.

(6) In civil cases the burden of proof is measured by the test of preponderance of the evidence.

(7) In equity cases, especially when considering the credibility of witnesses, the court gives weight to the fact findings of the trial court; but is not bound by them.

(8) Negligence and freedom from contributory negligence must, unless otherwise provided by statute, be proven by plaintiff by a preponderance of the evidence.

(9) A motorist upon a public highway has a right to assume that others using the road will obey the law, including statutes, rules of the road and necessity for due care, at least until he knows, or in the exercise of due care should have known otherwise.

(10) Generally questions of negligence, contributory negligence, and proximate cause are for the jury; it is only in exceptional cases that they may be decided as matters of law.

(11) Reformation of written instruments may be granted only upon clear, satisfactory and convincing evidence of fraud, deceit, duress, or mutual mistake.

(12) Written instruments affecting real estate may be set aside only upon evidence that is clear, satisfactory and convincing.

(13) In construing statutes the courts search for the legislative intent as shown by what the legislature said, rather than what it should or might have said.

(14) In the construction of written contracts, the cardinal principle is that the intent of the parties must control; and except in cases of ambiguity, this is determined by what the contract itself says.

(15) In child custody cases the first and governing consideration of the courts must be the best interest of the child.

(16) An issue may be proven by circumstantial evidence; but this evidence must be such as to make the theory of causation reasonably probable, not merely possible, and more probable than any other theory based on such evidence. Generally, however, it will be for the jury or other trier of the facts to say whether circumstantial evidence meets this test.

(17) Even when the facts are not in dispute or contradicted, if reasonable minds might draw different inferences from them, a jury question is engendered. [Report 1943; Court Order Dec. 12, 1945; Court Order Sept. 17, 1962]

345. Printing and costs. All records and briefs filed in the supreme court shall be clear and legible and printed on unruled white paper with type not smaller than small pica. The printing may be with type and leaded lines, offset printing, multigraph, mimeograph, duplicator, or other similar process approved by the court. The printed portion of each page shall be four inches wide and seven inches long with margins of two inches. Headings, and matter specially emphasized, may be printed in bold face. The lines of the record must be numbered consecutively on each page. The amount actually paid for printing, exclusive of stenographic expense, shall be certified by the attorney, and if reasonable, taxed in the supreme court as costs. [Report 1943; amended January 16, 1947 and June 18, 1948 by order of court under authority of R.C.P. 371]

346. Submission and oral argument. A party desiring to be heard orally shall so state at the end of his brief; and unless he does so he will be heard orally only in reply to his adversary's oral argument, if any. The oral arguments shall conform to rules prescribed by the supreme court. [Report 1943]

347. Writs and orders in the supreme court.

(a) Writs and process. The supreme court shall issue all writs and processes necessary for the exercise and enforcement of its appellate jurisdiction and in the furtherance of its supervisory control over all inferior judicial tribunals and officers thereof throughout the state; and may enforce its mandates by fine and imprisonment, and imprisonment may be continued until obeyed.

(b) Orders. Every application for an order in the supreme court shall be in writing, served upon the adverse party or his attorney of record, with a notice that it will come on for hearing before the supreme court or a justice thereof at a stated time and place. By stipulation and arrangement with the court or justice the parties may fix the time and place of hearing.

(c) Hearings. No order shall be issued except upon reasonable notice and opportunity to make resistance, but if it be made to appear that great and irreparable loss would ensue if the matter were delayed, an order may be entered effective only until final order is made. The supreme court may hear oral arguments on an application for order if it deems them desirable; otherwise, the matter shall be submitted without oral argument. One or more justices may act for the court in such matters. [Report 1943]

348. Motions to dismiss or affirm.

(a) Appellee's motion to dismiss an appeal or motion to affirm must be in writing, supported by printed or typewritten brief, and served on appellant's counsel and filed with the clerk of the supreme court within twenty days after filing the record, if the grounds therefor then exist. If appellee desires to present the motion orally, he shall so request therein, and the court may make such order as it deems proper in regard thereto.

(b) The day immediately preceding the first day of each period, as fixed by the docket for the term, shall be and is hereby designated as motion day and, except when otherwise specially ordered by the court or a judge thereof, such motion day shall be and the same is hereby fixed as the time for submission of every such motion to dismiss, served and filed ten days or more prior thereto, and also every such motion to dismiss to which resistance has been filed. If the chief justice or the court determines oral argument is desirable, such motion shall be assigned for oral argument, otherwise it shall be assigned for submission on the briefs. The clerk shall forthwith notify each party of the time and manner of the submission.

(c) Appellant's resistance, if any, shall be served and filed not less than three days prior to the date fixed for such submission.

(d) The court may rule on the motion to dismiss or motion to affirm before requiring submission of the appeal or may order the motion submitted with the appeal. The time intervening between service of the motion and the court's order overruling the motion, or providing that it be submitted with the appeal, shall be excluded in determining the time within which the parties' respective briefs on the merits must be filed.

(e) If grounds for dismissal of an appeal or affirmance arise after the record is filed, appellee may file and serve such motion to dismiss or motion to affirm and supporting brief. The court shall then determine when and on what notice, the same shall be heard, and whether submission of the appeal shall be stayed and may make appropriate orders respecting the time for filing briefs on the mer-

349. Remands. When a judgment is reversed for error in overruling a motion to direct a verdict, or a motion for judgment under rule 243"b", or a motion to withdraw an issue from the consideration of the jury, and the granting of the motion would have terminated the case in favor of appellant, the supreme court may enter, or direct the trial court to enter final judgment as if such motion had been initially sustained; providing that, if it appears from the record that the material facts relating thereto were not fully developed at the trial, or if, in the opinion of the supreme court, the ends of justice will be served thereby, a new trial shall be awarded of such issue or of the whole case. [Report 1943]

350. Rehearings.

(a) No notice of intention to file a petition for rehearing need be given; but the petition and brief thereon shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court within thirty days after filing the opinion, or such longer time as the chief justice, on written application served on the opposing parties, may allow. The petition and supporting brief must be printed either separately or together. Petitioner shall file eighteen copies thereof, together with one additional copy for the attorney or attorneys for each other party to the appeal, and each party not represented by attorney. The clerk shall mail or deliver one copy to each such attorney or party forthwith; but his failure to present the motion orally, he shall so request therein, and the court may make such order as it deems proper in regard thereto.

(b) The parties shall have such right to argue a petition for rehearing orally on its submission as the court may prescribe by rule.

(c) The court may deny a rehearing, modify its opinion or order a resubmission. If resubmission is ordered, it shall designate the time for filing briefs, and counsel shall be entitled to oral argument on the resubmission; but the order therefor may designate the point or points to be argued. [Report 1943]

351. Procedendo. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, no procedendo shall issue for thirty days after an opinion is filed, nor thereafter while a petition for rehearing, filed according to these rules, is pending. [Report 1943]

See also ch 686 and Supreme Court rules

352. Certiorari or appeal. If any case is brought to the supreme court by appeal or certiorari, and the court is of the opinion that the other of these remedies was the proper one, the case shall not be dismissed, but shall proceed as though the proper form of review had been sought.

A petition for writ of certiorari may under this rule be treated by the court as application to grant an appeal (as provided in rule 332) and conversely an application to grant an appeal may be treated as a petition for certiorari.

333. Service generally. Whenever service on a party to an appeal is required or permitted under rules 331–350 inclusive, it shall be made by delivering copy to his attorney of record, or if he have none, then by delivery to him or mailing to his last known address, or if no address is known, by leaving a copy for him with the clerk of the supreme court. Delivery of copy within this rule means either handing it to the attorney or party, or leaving it at his office with his clerk or other person in charge thereof, or if no one is in charge, leaving it in a conspicuous place therein; or if the office is closed or the person to be served has no office, leaving it at his dwelling house or usual place of abode with some person over eighteen years of age residing therein; or mailing it to his office address. Service by mail is complete on mailing. Proof of service may be made by written acknowledgment, or by affidavit of the person making the service, who may be an attorney in the case or his clerk. See also chapter 601 of the Code

354. Security for costs. If a defendant in any cause of action in the justice court, at any time more than forty-eight hours prior to the time fixed in the notice for appearance, shall make and file an affidavit stating that he has a good defense in whole or in part, the plaintiff, if he is a nonresident of the state or a foreign corporation, before any other proceedings in the action, must file with the justice before whom such action is pending, a bond with sureties to be approved by such justice, in an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars to be fixed by such justice for the payment of all costs which may accrue in the action in the court in which it is brought, or in any other justice court to which it may be carried, either to the defendant or to the officers of the court. The filing of an application for security for costs shall not waive the right of a party to challenge the jurisdiction of the justice court, at the time fixed in the notice. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

355. Counterclaims and transfer to district court. In an action commenced in justice court for the recovery of money only, where the sum claimed is in excess of twenty-five dollars, any defendant may have the same transferred to the district court by filing with the justice at least twenty-four hours prior to the time for appearance fixed in the notice, a bond with sureties approved by the justice, in double the amount claimed by the plaintiff but in no case less than one hundred dollars and conditioned that such defendant will pay any judgment with costs recovered by the plaintiff against the defendant in the district court. Upon the filing of such bond and the approval of the sureties by the justice, the justice shall forthwith transcript the action to the district court. Where the amount claimed by plaintiff is twenty-five dollars or less any defendant may transfer such a justice court action to the district court upon the filing of an affidavit stating that he has a counterclaim in an amount in excess of the jurisdiction of the court, arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff’s claim, which upon transfer will be filed, and by filing a bond as above provided. Such affidavit and bond shall be filed at least twenty-four hours prior to the time fixed for appearance in the notice. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

356. Proceedings upon transfer. Upon transfer of an action from the justice court to the district court, and within five days after the filing of the transcript in the district court the plaintiff shall file a written petition. When petition has been so filed, the defendant shall plead or move thereto within ten days after the filing of the transcript. Thereafter the rules of pleading and practice shall be the same as though the action had originally commenced in the district court. If the petition is not filed as provided herein the action shall be dismissed at plaintiff’s costs. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

Time computed, §4.1(23)

357. Notice of appeal. In cases of appeal from the justice court to the district court or superior court, notice of appeal may be given in either of the following ways:

(a) By the appealing party filing in the justice court on the day on which the judgment is rendered, a written statement signed by such party or his attorney, that such party is appealing from the judgment. It may be made by writing it in the justice’s docket.

(b) By the appealing party serving notice of the appeal upon the appellee, his agent, or the attorney who appeared for him, within twenty days after the judgment appealed from is rendered. Such notice shall be served in the same manner as is provided for service of original notice. If the appellee is a nonresident or foreign corporation and does not appear by agent or attorney, or if for any reason it is not possible to make service of such notice upon the appellee, his agent or attorney, the notice of appeal may be served upon the justice who rendered the judgment appealed from. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

358. Filing of bond on appeal. The appeal bond must be filed in the office of the clerk of the court to which the appeal is taken, within twenty days after the rendition of the judgment appealed from. It shall be in an amount determined by the clerk to be sufficient to secure the judgment and costs of appeal and with sureties approved by said clerk. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

359. Dismissal for lack of prosecution. Any justice court action which is appealed, transferred or taken up by writ of error for review, shall stand for trial or be dismissed for lack of prosecution the same as any case originally brought in the district or superior court. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

360. Judgment upon appeal on dismissal for lack of prosecution. When any judgment has been appealed or taken up by writ of error for review and shall be dismissed in the district or superior court for lack of prosecution, the clerk shall enter judgment against the party or parties appealing in accordance with the judgment of the justice court. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

361. Deposit of money in lieu of bond. When a bond is required any party in lieu of filing a bond, may deposit money in the sum fixed or specified as the amount of the bond. The rights of parties in and to the money so deposited shall be the same as their rights under the bond if one had been filed. Money deposited with a justice in lieu of a bond shall be transmitted by the justice to the clerk of the court to which the case is appealed, transferred or brought for review by writ of error. [Report 1943]

See also ch 601

362. Additional remedy where exemption claimed. In any action in justice court where funds are sought to be reached by garnishment, or personal property has been levied upon under attachment or execution, the debtor, in addition to other remedies provided by law, and by motion filed at any time before judgment is entered against the garnishee, or before sale of property taken under attachment or execution, may move for a release of the funds, or certain or all of the personal property on the ground that the same are exempt from attachment or execution. Such motion shall be heard forthwith and the showing or counter-showing may be by affidavit or oral testimony or both. The matter of entering judgment against the garnishee or the sale of personal property shall be postponed until the motion is disposed of. [Report 1943]

DIVISION XVIII
MUNICIPAL COURT

See also chapter 602 of the Code

363. Filing and docketing. Unless the petition in class “A” cases or the original notice

In class “B” cases is filed with the clerk of the court at least five days before the date set in the original notice for appearance, the defendant shall not be held to appear and answer, except that in any municipal court wherein class “B” cases are included in rules prescribing the manner for settlement of controversies by conciliation, the original notice in such conciliation cases need not be filed until the time and the date set forth in the notice for appearance. If the petition or original notice, as the case may be, is not so filed the defendant may have the case dismissed at plaintiff’s costs, without notice, by filing a copy of the original notice with the clerk and paying the filing fees. No new action shall be commenced in any court of this state based upon the same claim or demand unless the costs in such dismissed action are fully paid by the claimant and satisfied of record. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

See also ch 602

364. Transfer to district court—in cases brought in the municipal court. When any defendant files a counterclaim in an amount in excess of the jurisdiction of the court, arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of plaintiff’s claim, such defendant, by motion filed with such counterclaim, may have the case transferred to the district court, upon the filing in the municipal court of a bond in an amount, and within the time fixed and with sureties approved by the court. The bond shall be conditioned for the payment of all court costs assessed or adjudged against such defendant by the district court in connection with such case. [Report 1943]

See also ch 602

365. Manner and proceedings. Upon transfer of an action from the municipal court to the district court the clerk of the municipal court shall forthwith transmit to the clerk of the district court a transcript of the proceedings, with any original papers, of which he shall retain an authentic copy. The case shall be docketed without fee. The rights of the parties and the practice and procedure shall be the same as in actions originally commenced in district court. [Report 1943]

Holidays shall be only: January first, February twelfth and twenty-second, May thirteenth, July fourth, November eleventh, December twenty-fifth, the first Monday in September, the day of general election, and any day proclaimed or designated by the presi-

367. Death, retirement or disability of judge.
(a) In the event of the death or disability of a judge in the course of a proceeding at which he is presiding, or while a motion for new trial or for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, or for other relief, is pending, any other judge of the district may hear or act upon the same, and, if in his opinion he can proceed with the matter or determine the motion he shall do so; otherwise, he may order a continuance, declare a mistrial, order a new trial of all or any of the issues, or make such disposition of the matter as the situation warrants.

(b) In the event of the death or disability of a judge who has under advisement an undecided motion, or case tried to him without a jury, any other judge of the district may be called in, or a judge from another district may be appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court to consider the same, and, if by a review of the transcript or a reargument he can, in his opinion, sufficiently inform himself to enable him to render a decision, he shall do so; otherwise he may order a continuance, declare a mistrial, or order a new trial of all or any of the issues, or direct the recalling of any witnesses, or make such disposition of the matter as the situation warrants.

(c) In the event of the death, disability or retirement of a judge before the record for appeal in any case tried by him shall have been settled, the same shall be settled by another judge of the district, or by a judge of another district appointed for that purpose by the chief justice of the supreme court. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

a part thereof. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]

371. Power of supreme court to change. The supreme court shall have power to revoke, change or supplement any of these rules which prescribe the procedure in that court. Under

Court Rule 4. Causes may be advanced to an earlier period or term or passed to a later period as convenience or necessity may warrant and the right to oral argument shall not be affected thereby; said order of advancement may be without notice and by special or general order of the Chief Justice when the prompt filing of briefs makes an earlier submission date possible. If a cause involves a question of public importance or rights which are likely to be lost or greatly impaired by delay, the court may, in its discretion, upon motion duly served, order the submission of the cause in advance of the time at which it would otherwise be submitted.

Code Sec. 684.4. The members of the supreme court shall select one of their number to be chief justice, to serve as such throughout the the remainder of his then term of office. He shall be eligible for reselection. The chief justice shall appoint one of the other members of the court to act in his place and stead in case of his absence or inability to act and, when so acting, such member shall have all the rights, duties and powers given by law to the chief justice.

Court Rule 6. If the chief justice is absent or ill or from any other disability is unable to act and does not select some other member of the court to act as chief justice during his absence or disability the court shall select one of its other members to act during such time.

Code Sec. 684.5. The supreme court shall be held at the seat of government, and shall convene and hold three regular terms each year. The first term shall begin with the second Tuesday of January and end with the first Monday of May; the second shall begin with the first Tuesday after the first Monday of May and end with the third Monday of September; and the third shall begin with the first Tuesday after the third Monday of September and end with the third Saturday of December.

Code Sec. 684.6. Each of said terms of court shall be for the submission and determination of causes, and for the transaction of such other business as shall properly come before the court. All causes on the docket shall be heard at each term, unless continued or otherwise disposed of by order of the court. The court shall remain in session, so far as practicable, until it is determined what the opinion of the court shall be in all causes submitted to it, except in causes where reargument is ordered. Judgments of affirmance, rulings, and orders in causes submitted, and orders authorized by law may be made and entered by the court at any time, regardless of the terms of court.

Code Sec. 684.9. The court shall by appropriate rules provide for the assignment of causes for hearing at the regular and adjourned sessions thereof, and for reasonable notice to counsel of the time or times at which their cases will be called.

Court Rule 9. The attorneys and guardians ad litem of the respective parties in the court below shall be deemed the attorneys and guardians ad litem of the same parties respectively in this court until others are retained or appointed and notice thereof is given the adverse party and the clerk of this court.

Court Rule 10. Immediately after the time expires during which causes may be docketed for trial at a term of court, the clerk shall make and have printed, the docket for the term, which shall give all causes for trial, their number, the party appealing, the court and county from which the appeal is brought, the attorneys, the period for which each cause is assigned for trial, whether noticed for oral argument, and any other proper matter for the information of the court and attorneys. Under the direction of the chief justice, the clerk shall so assign motions and petitions for re-hearing that they will be submitted to the proper division or the full bench. He shall furnish a copy of the docket to each judge of this court and to each attorney having a cause at the term.

JURISDICTION

R. C. P. 331. From Final Judgment.
(a) All final judgments and decisions of courts of record, and any final adjudication in the trial court under Rule 86 involving the merits or materially affecting the final decision, may be appealed to the supreme court, except as provided in this rule and in Rule 333. For the purpose of this rule any order granting a new trial (not including an order setting aside a judgment by default other than in actions for divorce or annulment) and any order denying a new trial shall be deemed a final decision. Any order setting aside a default decree of divorce or annulment shall also be deemed a final decision.

R. C. P. 332. From Interlocutory Orders.
(a) Any party aggrieved by an interlocutory ruling or decision, including one appearing specially whose objections to jurisdiction have been overruled, may apply to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment. Such appeal may be granted, after notice, and hearing as provided in Rules 347 and 353, on finding that such ruling or decision involves substantial rights and will materially affect the final decision, and that a determination of its correctness before trial on the merits will better serve the interests of justice. No such application is necessary where the appeal is, pursuant to Rule 331, from a final adjudication in the trial court under Rule 86.
(b) The order granting such appeal may be on terms of advancing it for prompt submission. It shall stay further proceedings below, and may require bond.

Referred to in R.C.P. 331, 335

R. C. P. 333. Amount in Controversy. Except where the action involves an interest in real estate, no appeal shall be taken in any case where the amount in controversy, as shown by the pleadings, is less than three hundred dollars, unless the trial judge, within thirty days after the judgment or order is entered, certifies that the cause is one in which appeal should be allowed. The right of appeal is not affected by any remission of any part of the verdict or judgment.

Referred to in R.C.P. 331

R. C. P. 334. Scope of Review. Review in equity cases shall be de novo. In all other cases the supreme court shall constitute a court for correction of errors at law; and findings of fact in jury-waived cases shall have the effect of a special verdict.

Code Sec. 686.1. A mistake of the clerk shall not be ground for an appeal until the same has been presented to and acted upon by the court below.

Code Sec. 686.2. The supreme court on appeal may review and reverse any judgment or order of the municipal, superior, or district court, although no motion for a new trial was made in such court.

APPEALS IN CIVIL CASES

R. C. P. 335. Time for Appeal. Appeals to the supreme court must be taken within, and not after, thirty days from the entry of the order, judgment or decree, unless a motion for new trial or for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is filed as provided in Rule 247, and then within thirty days after the ruling on such motion; provided however, that, where an application to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment under Rule 332 is made within thirty days from the date of such ruling or decision, the supreme court or any justice thereof may extend the time for filing the notice of appeal in the event the appeal is granted and the appeal, in such event, may be perfected within the time thus specified.

Provided, however, a cross-appeal may be taken within said thirty-day period, or in any event within five days after the appeal is taken.

Code Sec. 686.3. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, notice of appeal may be taken within three days from and after the entry of the decree in district court, and not afterwards.

Code Sec. 686.4. Coparties, refusing to join in an appeal, cannot afterwards appeal, or derive any benefit therefrom, unless from the necessity of the case, but they shall be held to have joined, and be liable for their proportion of the costs, unless they appear and object thereto.

Code Sec. 686.5. An appeal from part of an order, or from one of the judgments of a final adjudication, or from part of a judgment, shall not disturb, delay, or affect the rights of any party to any judgment or order, or part of a judgment or order, not appealed from.

R. C. P. 336. How Taken; Notice; Delivery. Appeal is taken and perfected by filing a notice with the clerk of the court, where the order, judgment or decree was entered, signed by the appellant or his attorney. It shall specify the parties taking the appeal, and the decree, judgment, order or part thereof appealed from. The clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver a copy of such notice to the attorneys of record for all parties other than the appellant, or to any such party who has no attorney of record, at his last known address. No failure of the clerk to mail or deliver any notice shall affect the validity of the appeal.

R. C. P. 337. Supersedes; Bond.

(a) No appeal shall stay proceedings under a judgment or order unless appellant executes a bond with sureties, to be filed with and approved by the clerk of the court where the judgment or order was entered. The condition of such bond shall be that he will satisfy and perform the judgment if affirmed, or any judgment or order, not exceeding in amount or value, the obligation of the judgment or order appealed from, which the supreme court may render or order to be rendered by the trial court; and also all costs and damages adjudged against him on the appeal, and all rents of or damage to property during the pendency of the appeal, of which appellant is deprived by reason of the appeal.

(b) If the judgment or order appealed from be for money, the penalty of such bond shall be one hundred twenty-five percent of the amount, including costs, unless, in exceptional cases, the trial court fix a larger amount; in all other cases, an amount sufficient to save appellee harmless from the consequences of the appeal; but in no event less than three hundred dollars.

(c) No appeal shall vacate or affect the judgment or order appealed from; but the clerk shall issue a written order requiring the appellee and all others to stay proceedings under it, or such part of it as has been appealed from, when the appeal bond is filed and approved.

R. C. P. 338. Bond; Hearing on Sufficiency. If any party to an appeal is aggrieved by the clerk's approval of, or refusal to approve, a supersedeas bond tendered by appellant, he may apply to the trial court, on at least three days notice to the adverse party, to review the clerk's action. Pending such hearing, the court may recall or stay all proceedings under the order or judgment appealed from. On such hearing, it shall itself determine the sufficiency of the bond, and if the clerk has not approved the bond, the court shall, by written order, fix its conditions and determine the sufficiency of the security; or if the court determines that a bond approved by the clerk is insufficient in security or defective in form, it shall discharge such bond and fix a time for filing a new one; such as appears by the circumstances shown at the hearing.

R. C. P. 339. Judgment on Bond. If the supreme court affirms the judgment appealed from, it may, on motion of the appellee, render judgment against appellant and the sureties on the appeal bond for the amount of the judgment, with damages and costs; or may remand the cause to the trial court for the determination of such damages and costs, and the entry of judgment on the bond.

Code Sec. 686.9. The taking of the appeal from part of a judgment or order, and the filing of a bond as above directed, does not stay execution as to that part of the judgment or order not appealed from.

Code Sec. 686.10. If execution has issued prior to the filing of the bond, the clerk shall countermand the same.

Code Sec. 686.11. Property levied upon and not sold at the time such countermand is received by the sheriff shall be at once delivered to the judgment debtor.

Code Sec. 686.12. The appellant may be required to give security for costs under the same circumstances and upon the same showing as plaintiffs in civil actions in the inferior court may be.

R. C. P. 340. Record on Appeal.
(a) Promptly after taking an appeal to the supreme court, appellant shall file with the clerk of the trial court duplicate typewritten abstract of so much of the record in that court, including pleadings, evidence, rulings, orders, judgment and all proceedings in the case, as is material to the appeal. Where exhibits will be copied in full in the printed record, the abstract may so state and refer to them by letter, number or other appropriate designation, without copying them.

The reporter's transcript shall be filed at the same time; and these rules relative to it shall also apply to bills of exceptions under Rule 241. The cost of the transcript shall be taxed in the trial court.

The clerk shall forthwith notify the attorneys of record for the appellee of such filing.

(b) If the abstract does not embrace the whole record, and all evidence and proceedings in the transcript, depositions and exhibits, it shall include a concise statement of all points upon which appellant will rely on the appeal, which shall be limited thereto.

(c) Within twenty days after such filing, or such longer time as the trial court may allow or the parties agree to in writing, any other party to the appeal may, in like manner, file duplicate amendments to appellant's abstract, proposing corrections, substitutions or additions thereto. At the expiration of the time for amendment, either party, on not less than three days written notice, may present the proposed abstract and all such proposed amendments, if any, to the judge before whom the case was tried, who shall settle any differences to the end that the abstract correctly shows the evidence and proceedings at the trial, and is in form as provided by these rules. The trial court shall then append to appellant's proposed abstract an order settling the same with any corrections, substitutions or additions it has allowed in conformity with these rules.

(d) If a party to the appeal shows the trial court a good reason for setting out part of the testimony in question and answer form, such part may appear by questions and answers. If this is not done, testimony of witnesses shall be abstracted in condensed or narrative form.

(e) Formal parts of all exhibits, and more than one copy of any document, shall be omitted. Documents shall be abridged by omitting formal or irrelevant parts. This rule shall also apply to exhibits to pleadings.

(f) The abstract allowed as above or under paragraph (h) hereof shall constitute the record on which the cause shall be submitted on the appeal. The appellant shall cause it to be printed, so as also to contain in full any exhibits designated in the abstract by number alone, as provided in paragraph (a) hereof.

(g) The supreme court may impose or withhold costs for any addition or substitution of irrelevant matter, or the use of needless questions and answers for the narrative statement. To aid it in this respect only, the clerk of the trial court, at the request of the aggrieved party, shall certify to the supreme court the reporter's transcript, depositions, exhibits and proposed abstract and amendments thereto.

(h) Instead of proceeding under paragraphs (b) and (c) hereof, the parties may file with or include in the abstract proposed by any party to the appeal, their written agreement that it is correct. The trial court shall thereupon certify that such abstract has been so agreed to, and is the record on appeal.

(i) Abstracts and the printed record shall contain a brief index of their contents, in which the pleadings shall appear in the order of their filing.

(j) Agreed record. Instead of proceeding under the foregoing paragraphs (a) to (f) the parties may, promptly after taking an appeal, present for his approval to the judge before whom the case was tried, or if he is not available to any other judge of the same court, an agreed record on appeal. It shall show how the questions arose and were decided in the trial court. It shall either set out so much of the facts pleaded or proved as are necessary to a decision of such questions and to proper disposition of the appeal, or contain an abstract of the relevant proceedings which will enable the supreme court to decide the appeal. It shall include an abstract or copy of the judgment or order appealed from and a brief index of contents. Such agreed record, when approved by said judge, shall be the record on appeal and the appellant shall cause it to be printed, filed with the clerk of the trial court and transmitted to the clerk of the supreme court in accordance with rule 342.

Code Sec. 686.6. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, an abstract of record shall be filed within five days after the service of notice of appeal, unless additional time, not to exceed three days, be granted by the chief justice.

Code Sec. 686.13. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, the appellant shall file a written argument within ten days after the filing of the abstract and appellee shall file his argument within ten days thereafter, and appellant shall then file his reply within three days. The cause shall then be submitted to the supreme court in regular or special full bench session as soon thereafter as the chief justice may order.

R. C. P. 341. Correcting Record; Certification.

(a) If anything material to either party is omitted from the record on appeal by error or accident, or is misstated therein, the parties by stipulation, or the trial court, either before or after the record is transmitted to the supreme court, or the supreme court on its own initiative or proper suggestion, may direct the correction thereof; and, if necessary, that further proceedings be had and a supplemental record be prepared and certified in the trial court; or may require the clerk of the trial court to certify to the supreme court any or all of the evidence or proceedings below.

(b) Any part or all of the record, including exhibits, in the trial court shall, at the request of the supreme court or any justice thereof, be certified and transmitted by the clerk of the court below to the supreme court.

Code Sec. 686.7. The transcript of any paper or exhibit required for use in the supreme court may be transmitted thereto by the clerk of the trial court by express or other safe and speedy method, but not by a party or any attorney of a party.

Code Sec. 686.8. If a new trial is granted by the supreme court, the clerk, as soon as the cause is at an end therein, shall transmit to the clerk of the court below all original papers or exhibits certified up from said court, and may at any time return any such papers when no new trial is awarded.

R. C. P. 342. Filing and Docketing.

(a) Within ninety days after filing notice of appeal, or such longer time as the trial court may grant on application and hearing, appellant shall file the printed record with the clerk of the trial court, with one printed copy for the attorney or attorneys for each other party to the record and for each such party not represented by attorney. The cause shall be entitled as it was in the court below, with the party taking the appeal called the appellant, and all other parties appellees. The clerk shall mail or deliver a copy of the record to each of such attorneys or parties, as provided in Rule 336 or Rule 353, and shall indorse upon the other copy his certificate of such filing and mailing, and mail it, so indorsed, to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.

(b) When appellant files the printed record in the trial court, he shall forthwith mail or deliver seventeen printed copies thereof, with a filing fee of three dollars, to the clerk of the supreme court, who shall then docket the cause.

(c) If the printed record is not filed by the appellant with the clerk of the trial court within ninety days after filing the notice of appeal or within such further time as fixed by the trial court, the appellee may file with the clerk of the supreme court a copy of the final judgment or order appealed from, or other matters required, certified to by the clerk of the trial court, and cause the case to be docketed, and the appeal upon motion shall be dismissed, or the judgment or order affirmed.

(d) After an appeal to the supreme court is taken and perfected, as provided in Rule 336, the failure of appellant to take any further steps to secure the review of the judgment or order appealed from in the manner and within the time specified in these rules shall be ground for the dismissal of the appeal or for the affirmance of the judgment or order appealed from as provided in paragraph (c) hereof and Rule 348. If reasonable excuse be shown for such failure to comply with these rules the supreme court may allow the appeal to stand upon such terms as it deems appropriate.

Refer to in Court Rule 11; R.C.P. 343

Court Rule 11. In the event the trial court has refused to grant sufficient time, under Rule 342 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, to prepare, print, and file the record on appeal, application may be made to this court for an extension of time, if the right to file the record has not then been lost by delay, and, after notice and hearing, the court may grant additional time if sufficient reasons therefor are found to exist; provided, however, that temporary extensions of time may be granted without notice pursuant to Rule 347(e) of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

R. C. P. 343. Filing Briefs. In all cases, whether in equity or at law, the appellant shall file his brief with the clerk of the trial court within forty-five days after filing his record, unless such time is enlarged in accordance with Rule 347(b) or suspended under Rule 348(d). He shall also file one "service copy" for the clerk's certification, and copies for the other parties or their attorneys as provided in Rule 342, which copies the clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver in like manner. The clerk shall indorse upon the "service copy" his certificate of such filing and mailing, and mail it, so indorsed, to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall also enter in the appearance or combination docket in his office the date of filing and of mailing to the clerk of the supreme court.
Within thirty days after appellant's brief is thus filed, the appellee shall serve and file his brief in like manner. If he is a cross-appellant he may have until the same time in which to file his opening brief as such cross-appellant and combine it with his brief as appellee.

Appellant shall, within fifteen days thereafter file and serve his reply brief, if any, in like manner.

R. C. P. 344. Form and Contents of Briefs.
(a) Appellant's opening brief shall contain:
(1) A statement of the case, not ordinarily to exceed one page, showing the nature of the action, what the issues were, and how they were decided, and what questions are presented by the appeal.
(2) A statement of the facts, stating the principal facts in narrative form, with references to the pages and lines of the record to support each statement. But if such references are fully supplied in the argument, they may be omitted from this statement.
(3) A statement of errors relied on for reversal when the appeal presents questions of law; or a statement of propositions relied on, when it is trial de novo. The errors or propositions shall be separately stated and numbered, in substantially the order they are presented in the division of the brief.
(4) In separately numbered divisions:
(First) A statement of the "error" or "proposition" relied on and discussed in that division, with references to the pages and lines of the record, sufficient to show fully the manner in which the error arose and the ruling of the trial court thereon.
(Second) Separately numbered or lettered brief points substantially conforming to the "statement of errors" or "propositions" and stating without argument the grounds of complaint of the ruling and citing authorities supporting each point.
(Third) The argument shall follow the statement of the brief points and authorities in each division, and be confined thereto. Errors or propositions not stated or argued shall be deemed waived.
(b) If two or more errors relied on present closely related propositions of law or fact, the brief points and arguments may be presented in one division.
(c) Argument of any error which relates to the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain a ruling on any point shall supply full references to the pages and lines of the record, unless such evidence is fully stated, with such references, in the statement of facts.
(d) Appellee's brief and appellant's reply shall follow the above outline as nearly as may be, but without unnecessary repetition.
(e) In citing cases the names of parties must be given. And in citing cases determined by this court, which have been officially reported, references must be made to the volume and page where the case may be found in the Iowa Reports and also in the North Western Reporter, if reported therein. In citing cases from other jurisdictions, reference must be made to the court that rendered the opinion and the volume and page where the same may be found in the National Reporter System, if reported therein. When textbooks are cited, the edition must be designated with the proper volume and page.

(f) The following propositions are deemed so well established that authorities need not be cited in support of any of them:
(1) Findings of fact in a law action, which means generally any action triable by ordinary proceedings, are binding upon the appellate court if supported by substantial evidence.
(2) In considering the propriety of a directed verdict for defendant the court gives plaintiff's evidence the most favorable construction it will reasonably bear.
(3) In ruling upon motions for new trial the trial court has a broad but not unlimited discretion in determining whether the verdict effectuates substantial justice between the parties.
(4) The court is slower to interfere with the grant of a new trial than with its denial.
(5) Ordinarily the burden of proof follows the pleading; that is, he who pleads and relies upon the affirmative of an issue must carry the burden of proving it.
(6) In civil cases the burden of proof is measured by the test of preponderance of the evidence.
(7) In equity cases, especially when considering the credibility of witnesses, the court gives weight to the fact findings of the trial court; but is not bound by them.
(8) Negligence and freedom from contributory negligence must, unless otherwise provided by statute, be proven by plaintiff by a preponderance of the evidence.
(9) A motorist upon a public highway has a right to assume that others using the road will obey the law, including statutes, rules of the road and necessity for due care, at least until he knows, or in the exercise of due care should have known otherwise.
(10) Generally questions of negligence, contributory negligence, and proximate cause are for the jury; it is only in exceptional cases that they may be decided as matters of law.
(11) Reformation of written instruments may be granted only upon clear, satisfactory and convincing evidence of fraud, deceit, duress, or mutual mistake.
(12) Written instruments affecting real estate may be set aside only upon evidence that is clear, satisfactory and convincing.
(13) In construing statutes the courts search for the legislative intent as shown by what the legislature said, rather than what it should or might have said.
(14) In the construction of written contracts, the cardinal principle is that the intent of the parties must control; and except in cases.
of ambiguity, this is determined by what the contract itself says.

(15) In child custody cases the first and governing consideration of the courts must be the best interest of the child.

(16) An issue may be proven by circumstantial evidence; but this evidence must be such as to make the theory of causation reasonably probable, not merely possible, and more probable than any other theory based on such evidence. Generally, however, it will be for the jury or other trier of the facts to say whether circumstantial evidence meets this test.

(17) Even when the facts are not in dispute or contradicted, if reasonable minds may draw different inferences from them, a jury question is engendered.

R. C. P. 345. Printing and Costs. All records and briefs filed in the supreme court shall be clear and legible and printed on unruled white paper with type not smaller than small pica. The printing may be with type and leaded lines, offset printing, multigraph, mimeograph, duplicator, or other similar process approved by the court. The printed portion of each page shall be four inches wide and seven inches long with margins of two inches. Headings, and matter specially emphasized, may be printed in bold face. The lines of the record must be numbered consecutively on each page.

The amount actually paid for printing, exclusive of stenographic expense, shall be certified by the attorney, and if reasonable, taxed in the supreme court as costs.

R. C. P. 346. Submission and Oral Argument. A party desiring to be heard orally shall so state at the end of his brief; and unless he does so he will be heard orally only in reply to his adversary’s oral argument, if any. The oral arguments shall conform to rules prescribed by the supreme court.

Court Rule 12. In preparing term dockets, unless otherwise ordered by the court, the clerk shall place thereon for each January and each September term all causes in which the printed record has been filed twenty-five days before the first day of such term, and for each May term all causes in which the printed record has been filed sixty days before the first day of such term.

Court Rule 13. Upon the original submission of causes, whether in equity or at law, appellant shall have the right to open and close the oral argument. Appellant’s opening argument and appellee’s argument shall not exceed thirty minutes each. Appellant shall have fifteen minutes to reply. The chief justice may extend the time before argument begins or during its course. Failure to develop an oral argument points properly made in the briefs shall not be deemed a waiver thereof.

Court Rule 14. Before taking up the assignment for any day the chief justice shall make a preliminary call of all causes included therein. The court will then hear the causes in the order assigned.
cause is to be heard, prepare and deliver to the attorney general a typewritten manuscript for the abstract of record in the cause.

2. When an appeal is taken by the defendant, prepare and transmit to the attorney general a typewritten manuscript covering all matters which may be required to be embraced in any amended abstract which should be filed by the state in order to properly present said appeal.

3. When served with a notice of appeal in a criminal case, immediately furnish the attorney general with a copy of said notice.

Such manuscripts shall be prepared in ample time so that the same may be printed and filed within the time and in the manner prescribed by law and the rules of the supreme court.

Code Sec. 793.8. If a defendant in a criminal cause has perfected an appeal from a judgment against him and shall satisfy a judge of the district court from which the appeal is taken that he is unable to pay for a transcript of the evidence, such judge may order the same made at the expense of the county where said defendant was tried.

Code Sec. 793.9. An appeal taken by the state in no case stays the operation of a judgment in favor of the defendant.

Code Sec. 793.10. An appeal taken by the defendant does not stay the execution of the judgment, unless bail is put in; but where the judgment is imprisonment in the penitentiary, and an appeal is taken within the time provided after judgment is rendered, and the defendant is unable to give bail, and that fact is satisfactorily shown to the court, or judge thereof, it may, in its discretion, order the sheriff or other officer having the defendant in custody to detain him in custody, without taking him to the penitentiary, to abide the judgment on the appeal, if the defendant desires it.

Code Sec. 793.11. When an appeal is taken by the defendant, and bail is given, the clerk must give to the defendant, or his attorney, a certificate, under the seal of the court, that an appeal has been taken and bail given, and the sheriff or other officer having the defendant in custody must, upon receiving it, discharge the defendant from custody and cease all further proceedings in execution thereof, and forthwith return to the clerk of the court who issued it the execution under which he acted, with his return thereon; and if it has not been issued, it shall not be until after the final judgment on the appeal.

Code Sec. 793.12. The party appealing is the appellant, the adverse party the appellee, but the title of the action shall not be changed on the appeal, and the cause shall be so docketed at the commencement of the period assigned for trying causes from the judicial district from which the appeal comes, which causes shall take precedence of all other business, be tried at the term at which the transcript is filed, unless continued for cause or by consent of the parties, and be decided, if practicable, at the same term.

Code Sec. 793.13. The personal appearance of the defendant in the supreme court on the trial of an appeal is in no case necessary.

Code Sec. 793.14. An appeal shall not be dismissed for any informality or defect in taking it, if corrected in a reasonable time; and the supreme court must direct how it shall be corrected.

Code Sec. 793.15. No assignment of error is necessary.

Code Sec. 793.16. The defendant is entitled to close the argument.

Code Sec. 793.17. The record and case may be presented in the supreme court by printed abstracts, arguments, motions, and petitions for rehearing as provided by its rules; and the provisions of law in civil procedure relating to certification of the record and the filing of decisions and opinions of the supreme court shall apply in such cases.

Code Sec. 793.18. If the appeal is taken by the defendant, the supreme court must examine the record, without regard to technical errors or defects which do not affect the substantial rights of the parties, and render such judgment on the record as the law demands; it may affirm, reverse, or modify the judgment, or render such judgment as the district court should have done, or order a new trial, or reduce the punishment, but cannot increase it.

Code Sec. 793.19. In case the judgment of the trial court is reversed or modified in favor of the defendant, on the appeal of defendant, he shall be entitled to recover the cost of printing abstract and briefs, not exceeding one dollar for each page thereof, to be paid by the county from which the appeal was taken.

Court Rule 15. When an appeal is taken in a criminal case and the clerk's transcript of the record, required by section 793.6 of the Code, is filed with the clerk of this court, the cause shall be assigned for submission on the first Monday in the month following the service and filing of the notice of appeal, unless, within such ninety days, additional time be granted by a judge of this court after notice and an opportunity to be heard have been given to the attorney general, and the cause shall be reassigned for submission on a date at least ninety days subsequent to the filing of the printed abstract of the record. Appellant shall serve his brief and argument on the attorney general and file it with the clerk of this court within forty-five days after filing the abstract. The state shall have thirty days after the filing of appellant's brief within which to deny the abstract, serve and file amendment thereto and brief and argument. Appellant shall serve and file his reply brief within fifteen days after the state's brief is filed. A denial by the appellant of the state's additional abstract, if not confessed, will be disregarded unless sustained by a certification of the record.

Court Rule 17. When the state appeals in a criminal case, Rule 16 shall govern the time and manner of filing abstracts, denials, amendments, and briefs and arguments, insofar as practicable.

Court Rule 18. All printed abstracts, amendments, and briefs and arguments in criminal cases shall be served on the adverse party or his attorney of record and filed with the clerk of this court, with proof of such service. The Rules of Civil Procedure and these rules, relating to the printing of abstracts, printing and filing of arguments, petitions for rehearing, oral arguments, motions and resistances thereto, the certification of the record and the filing of decisions and opinions shall apply in criminal cases insofar as consistent with the provisions of the Code.

Code Sec. 793.20. If the state appeals, the supreme court cannot reverse or modify the judgment so as to increase the punishment, but may affirm it, and shall point out any error in the proceedings or in the measure of punishment, and its decision shall be obligatory as law.

Code Sec. 793.21. If a judgment against the defendant is reversed, such reversal shall be deemed an order for a new trial, unless the supreme court shall direct that the defendant be discharged and his bail exonerated, or if money be deposited instead, that it be refunded to him.

Code Sec. 793.22. On a judgment of affirmance against the defendant, the original judgment shall be carried into execution as the supreme court shall direct, except as otherwise provided.

Code Sec. 793.23. The opinion of the supreme court must be in writing, filed with its clerk, and recorded.

Code Sec. 793.24. The decision of the supreme court, with any opinion filed or judgment rendered, must be recorded by its clerk, and, after the expiration of the period allowed for a rehearing, or as ordered by the court or provided by its rules, a certified copy of the decision and opinion shall be transmitted to the clerk of the trial court, filed and entered of record by him, and thereafter the jurisdiction of the supreme court shall cease, and all proceedings necessary for executing the judgment shall be had in the trial court, or by its clerk.

Code Sec. 793.25. Unless some proceeding in the district court is directed, a copy of the judgment of the trial court and decision on appeal, or of the judgment and decision on appeal certified by the clerk of the trial court, shall be delivered to the sheriff, or other proper officer, as an execution, and shall authorize him to execute the judgment of the court, or take any steps required to bring the action to a conclusion.

Code Sec. 793.26. If a defendant, imprisoned during the pendency of an appeal, upon a new trial ordered by the supreme court is again convicted, the period of his former imprisonment shall be deducted from the period of imprisonment to be fixed on the last verdict of conviction.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

R. C. P. 347. Writs and Orders in the Supreme Court.

(a) Writs and process. The supreme court shall issue all writs and processes necessary for the exercise and enforcement of its appellate jurisdiction and in the furtherance of its supervisory control over all inferior judicial tribunals and officers thereof throughout the state; and may enforce its mandates by fine and imprisonment, and imprisonment may be continued until obeyed.

(b) Orders. Every application for an order in the supreme court shall be in writing, served upon the adverse party or his attorney of record, with a notice that it will come on for hearing before the supreme court or a justice thereof at a stated time and place. By stipulation and arrangement with the court or justice the parties may fix the time and place of hearing.

(c) Hearings. No order shall be issued except upon reasonable notice and opportunity to make resistance, but if it be made to appear that great and irreparable loss would ensue if the matter were delayed, an order may be entered effective only until final order is made. The supreme court may hear oral arguments on an application for order if it deems them desirable; otherwise, the matter shall be submitted without oral argument. One or more justices may act for the court in such matter.

R. C. P. 348. Motions to Dismiss or Affirm.

(a) Appellee's motion to dismiss an appeal or motion to affirm must be in writing, supported by printed or typewritten brief, and served on appellant's counsel and filed with the clerk of the supreme court within twenty days after filing the record, if the grounds therefor then exist. If appellee desires to present the motion orally, he shall so request therein, and the court may make such order as it deems proper in regard thereto.
Referred to in R.C.P. 842, 843

R. C. P. 349. Remands. When a judgment is reversed for error in overruling a motion to direct a verdict, or a motion for judgment under Rule 243(b), or a motion to withdraw an issue from the consideration of the jury, and the granting of the motion would have terminated the case in favor of appellant, the supreme court may enter, or direct the trial court to enter final judgment as if such motion had been initially sustained; providing that, if it appears from the record that the material facts relating thereto were not fully developed at the trial, or if, in the opinion of the supreme court, the ends of justice will be served thereby, a new trial shall be awarded of such issue or of the whole case.

Code Sec. 686.14. If the supreme court affirms the judgment or order, it may send the cause to the court below to have the same carried into effect, or may issue the necessary process for this purpose, directed to the sheriff of the proper county, as the party may require.

Code Sec. 686.15. If, by the decision of the supreme court, the appellant becomes entitled to a restoration of any part of the money or property that was taken from him by means of such judgment or order, either the supreme court or the court below may direct execution or writ of restitution to issue for the purpose of restoring to him such property or its value.

Code Sec. 686.16. Property acquired by a purchaser in good faith under a judgment subsequently reversed shall not be affected thereby.

Code Sec. 686.17. The death of one or all of the parties shall not cause the proceedings to abate, but the names of the proper persons shall be substituted, as is provided in such cases in the district court, and the case may proceed. The court may also, in such case, grant a continuance when such a course will be calculated to promote the ends of justice.

Code Sec. 686.18. Executions issued from the supreme court shall be like those from the district court, attended with the same consequences, and returnable in the same time.

Court Rule 19. Causes not fully argued at the period for which assigned may be passed to a later period or continued to the next term on the court's own motion. Subject to the approval of the court or any judge, causes may also be passed or continued upon stipulation of the parties. If notice of oral argument has been given, such cause will remain for oral argument.

Court Rule 20. Each opinion shall show what judges participated therein.

(a) No notice of intention to file a petition for rehearing need be given; but the petition and brief thereon shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court within thirty days after filing the opinion, or such longer time as the chief justice, on written application served on the opposing parties, may allow. The petition and supporting brief must be printed either separately or together. Petitioner shall file eighteen copies thereof, together with one additional copy for the attorney or attorneys for each other party to the appeal, and each party not represented by attorney. The clerk shall mail or deliver one copy to each such attorney or party forthwith; but his failure shall not impair the petitioner's right to consideration of his petition. The opposing party shall have fifteen days after filing of the petition and brief, in which to file resistance thereto.

(b) The parties shall have such right to argue a petition for rehearing orally on its submission as the court may prescribe by rule.

(c) The court may deny a rehearing, modify its opinion or order a resubmission. If resubmission is ordered, it shall designate the time for filing briefs, and counsel shall be entitled to oral argument on the resubmission; but the order therefor may designate the point or points to be argued.
R. C. P. 351. Procedendo. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, no procedendo shall issue for thirty days after an opinion is filed, nor thereafter while a petition for rehearing, filed according to these rules, is pending.

Court Rule 21. No procedendo shall issue until the expiration of thirty days from the filing of the opinion, except on order of the court. If a petition for rehearing is timely filed, procedendo shall be withheld pending disposition thereof, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Oral arguments on petitions for rehearing shall be permitted only at the request of the court.

R. C. P. 352. Certiorari or Appeal. If any case is brought to the supreme court by appeal or certiorari, and the court is of the opinion that the other of these remedies was the proper one, the case shall not be dismissed, but shall proceed as though the proper form of review had been sought.

A petition for writ of certiorari may under this rule be treated by the court as application to grant an appeal (as provided in Rule 332) and conversely an application to grant an appeal may be treated as a petition for certiorari.

Provided, however, nothing in this rule shall operate to extend the time within which an appeal may be taken.

R. C. P. 353. Service Generally. Whenever service on a party to an appeal is required or permitted under Rules 331–350 inclusive, it shall be made by delivering copy to his attorney of record, or if he have none, then by delivery to him or mailing to his last known address, or if no address is known, by leaving a copy for him with the clerk of the supreme court. Delivery of copy within this rule means either handing it to the attorney or party, or leaving it at his office with his clerk or other person in charge thereof, or if no one is in charge leaving it in a conspicuous place therein; or if the office is closed or the person to be served has no office, leaving it at his dwelling house or usual place of abode with some person over eighteen years of age residing therein; or mailing it to his office address. Service by mail is complete on mailing. Proof of service may be made by written acknowledgment, or by affidavit of the person making the service, who may be an attorney in the case or his clerk.

Referred to in R.C.P. 352, 342

Court Rule 22. The clerk shall make the following distribution of all printed records, abstracts, amendments to abstracts, briefs, and arguments received under the foregoing rules: A copy to each judge of this court, the state law library, the law department of the State University, the law department of Drake University; the remainder shall be placed in the clerk's office, one copy to be kept permanently.

Court Rule 23. All taxable fees and costs shall abide the result of the appeal and be taxed to the unsuccessful party, unless otherwise ordered.

GRIEVANCE COMMISSIONERS

Court Rule 118 The members of the committee on grievances of the Iowa State Bar Association and their successors as such are hereby appointed commissioners of this court and are empowered and authorized to take, receive and consider proof concerning complaints against attorneys of this state and conduct of attorneys which tends to defeat the administration of justice or to bring the courts or the legal profession into disrepute and to hold hearings on such complaints.

The commissioners herein appointed shall adopt reasonable rules and regulations, consistent with this rule, prescribing the procedure to be followed in proceedings under this rule.

Every complaint against an attorney filed under this rule shall be signed and sworn to by a person or persons aggrieved, by the president and secretary of a regularly organized bar association of this state or by the chairman of a regularly appointed committee of the Iowa State Bar Association and said complaint shall be sufficiently clear and specific in its charges to reasonably inform the attorney against whom the complaint is made of the misconduct he is claimed to have committed. All complaints, records, reports and papers filed under this rule shall be filed with and preserved by the Iowa State Bar Association at its headquarters office in Des Moines, Iowa.

Upon request by or on behalf of such commissioners or an attorney against whom a complaint has been filed, the clerk of the district court of the county in which the hearing is held shall issue subpoenas of all kinds. The commissioners are empowered to cause to be transcribed the evidence of witnesses, who shall be sworn by any person authorized by law to administer oaths, and the commissioners shall report to this court the failure or refusal of any person to attend and testify in response to any subpoena issued as herein provided.

At the conclusion of a hearing upon any complaint against any attorney before such commissioners, the commissioners are empowered to dismiss such complaint or to reprimand the accused, and in the event of such reprimand, the commissioners shall promptly file their report of such action with the clerk of this court, or if action by this court of suspension or revocation of the license of such attorney to practice in the courts of this state is recommended, the commissioners will make a report to this court of its recommendations and conclusions of fact and law concerning the complaint, answer and proof and thereupon such matters shall stand for hearing and disposition in this court.

Such report and recommendation of the commissioners shall be filed with this court, together with proof of service of a copy thereof upon the respondent, and entered on the docket, entitled in the name of the respondent in the matter, as provided by Rule 353 of the Iowa Rules of Civil Procedure, and the respondent therein shall have twenty days from the date of such filing to file exceptions thereto, and shall, within sixty days after the filing of such exceptions, file with this court the pleadings, the transcript and exhibits. The commissioners, upon request of the respondent and payment of the actual cost thereof, shall certify to this court the pleadings, transcript and exhibits. Within thirty days after the filing of such certified pleadings, transcript and exhibits, the respondent shall file his printed brief.

The Board of Governors shall designate a member of the Bar or request the office of the Attorney General of the State of Iowa to file a printed brief within thirty days after the filing of respondent's brief and the respondent may reply thereto in fifteen days. The form and contents of brief shall be as provided by R.C.P. 344 and proof of service thereof as provided by R.C.P. 353, together with eighteen copies of the briefs shall be filed with the clerk of this court. This court shall review the transcript de novo, as it does in equity cases, and render such judgment in the matter as it deems just and proper. [Amended by Court Order June 10, 1964]

MORTALITY TABLES

The American Experience Table of Mortality was published in the Code of 1939. As stated in the heading to said table it is "no part of any statute and is set out as a convenience only to meet numerous requests therefor."

From information obtained from the Commissioner of Insurance and numerous experts on insurance law, the Code Editor is advised that the American Experience Table of Mortality is outmoded. Longevity has increased and greater scientific study has been made of the subject of mortality tables since that table was prepared. The results have been that new and more modern tables have been made which are known as the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table and the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table. The tables have been prepared under the supervision of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and have been adopted by statute or by the approval of the Insurance Commissioners in practically all of the states including Iowa.

The Code Editor is authorized by the Commissioner of Insurance to say that they are approved by him and used and accepted by him in his official work. They are included herein as a matter of convenience to those who may have use for such tables.

See sections 508.36 and 508.37 of the Code for reference to other Mortality tables under the "Standard Valuation and Nonforfeiture Law". Also, see the State Tax Commission's table at the end of chapter 450 of the Code adopted pursuant to the Inheritance Tax Law.
