The association may obtain specific performance of any such contract, or enjoin its threatened or continued breach, despite the adequacy of any legal or other remedy.

If the association files a verified petition, showing an actual or threatened breach of any such contract and seeking any remedy therefor, the court shall, without notice or delay but on such bond as it deems proper, issue a temporary injunction against such breach or its continuance.

The parties to such contracts may agree to arbitrate any controversy subsequently arising thereunder, and fix the number of arbitrators and method of their appointment. Such agreements shall be valid and irrepealable, except on such grounds as invalidate contracts generally. If they specify no method for appointing arbitrators, or if either party fails to follow such method, or if for any reason arbitrators are not named or vacancies filled, either party may apply to the district court to designate the necessary arbitrator, who shall then act under the agreement with the same authority as if named in it. MERGER AND CONSOLIDATION

sion, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Merger" means the uniting of two or more co-operative associations into one cooperative association, in such manner that one of the merging associations retains its corporate existence and absorbs the others, which ought to exist as corporate entities. "Merger" does not include the mere acquisition, by purchase or otherwise, of the assets of one cooperative association by another.

2. "Consolidation" means the uniting of two or more co-operative associations into one cooperative association, in such manner that a new co-operative association is formed, and the new co-operative association absorbs the others, which cease to exist as separate entities.

3. "Surviving association" is the co-operative association resulting from the merger of two or more co-operative associations.

4. "New association" is the co-operative as-soociation resulting from the consolidation of two or more co-operative associations. [C71, §499.61]

499.62 Merger. Any two or more co-operative associations may merge into one co-operative association in the following manner:

The board of directors of each co-operative association shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board,
approve a plan of merger which shall set forth:

1. The names of the co-operative associations proposing to merge and the name of the surviving association.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving association.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable. [C71,§499.62]

499.63 Consolidation. Any two or more cooperative associations may be consolidated into a new co-operative association in the following manner:

The board of directors of each co-operative association shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the co-operative associations proposing to consolidate and the name of the new association.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. With respect to the new association, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for co-operative associations.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable. [C71,§499.63]

499.64 Vote of members. The board of directors of each co-operative association, upon approving a plan of merger or consolidation, shall, by motion or resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members, which may be either an annual or special meeting. Written notice shall be given not less than twenty days prior to the meeting, either personally or by mail to each member and shareholder of record. The notice shall state the time, place, and the purpose of the meeting, and a summary of the plan of merger or consolidation shall be included in or enclosed with the notice.

At the meeting, a ballot of the members who are entitled to vote in the affairs of the association shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate. Voting may be by mail ballot notwithstanding any contrary provision in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

499.65 Objection of members—purchase of share. If a member or shareholder of a cooperative association which is a party to a merger or consolidation files with the cooperative association, prior to or at the meet-of members at which the plan is submitted to a vote, a written objection to the plan of merger or consolidation, and does not vote in favor of the plan, and such member or shareholder, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is approved by the other members, makes written demand on the surviving or new association for payment of the fair value of his interest as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new association shall pay to such member or shareholder, upon surrender of his certificate of membership or shares of stock, the fair value of his interest. Any member or shareholder failing to make demand within the twenty-day period shall be conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and shall be bound by its terms.

In the event any dissenting member or shareholder shall apply for membership in the surviving or new association, before payment has been made for his membership or stock, the dissenting member or shareholder shall be deemed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and to have waived all further rights as a dissenting member or shareholder. [C71, §499.65]

Payment shall be made as follows:

1. The issue price of his membership or capital stock shall be paid within ninety days from date of demand.

2. Deferred patronage dividends not otherwise paid in cash, and however evidenced, shall be paid at the same time and proportioned the same as the deferred patronage dividends and current dividends of nondissenting members or shareholders, but in any event within seven years from date of demand.

3. At least twenty percent of his proportionate share in the surplus and educational fund reserve shall be paid within one year after date of merger or consolidation, and at least twenty percent each year thereafter until fully paid.

Each dissenting member, promptly following the vote on merger or consolidation, shall be furnished a balance sheet of the co-operative association, a profit and loss statement covering the period since the close of the last fiscal year, and a list of his deferred dividends. [C71, §499.66]

2. The separate existence of all co-operative associations which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new association, shall cease.

The title to any real estate, or any interest in real estate vested in any of the cooperative associations merged or consolidated, shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger or consolidation.

6. A surviving or new association shall be responsible and liable for all obligations and liabilities of each of the co-operative associations merged or consolidated.

7. Any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of the co-operative associations merged or consolidated may be prosecuted as if the merger or consolidation had not taken place, or the surviving or new association may be substituted for the merged or consolidated association. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any co-operative association shall be impaired by a merger or consolidation.

8. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving association shall be deemed to be amended to the extent that changes in its articles of incorporation are stated in the plan of merger. If the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of any other state, the effect of merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic co-operative associations, except as the laws of the other state otherwise provide. [C71,§499.69]

2. The undivided interest in the property owned in common which shall appertain to each apartment owner shall be the percentage of undivided interest previously owned by such owner in the common areas and facilities;

3. Any liens affecting any of the apartments shall be deemed to be transferred in accordance with the existing priorities to the percentage of the undivided interest of the apartment owner in the property as provided herein; and

4. The property shall be subject to an action for partition at the suit of any apartment owner, in which event the net proceeds of sale, together with the net proceeds of the insurance on the property, if any, shall be considered as one fund and shall be divided among all the apartment owners in a percentage equal to the percentage of undivided interest owned by each owner in the property, after first paying out of the respective shares of the apartment owners, to the extent sufficient for the purpose, all liens on the undivided interest in the property owned by each apartment owner. [C66, 71, §499B.16]

499B.17 Lien against owner of unit. All sums assessed by the council of owners but unpaid for the share of the common expenses chargeable to any apartment shall constitute a lien on such apartment prior to all other liens except only (1) tax liens on the apartment in favor of any assessing unit and special district, and (2) all sums unpaid on a first mortgage of record. Such lien may be foreclosed by suit by the council of owners or the representatives thereof, acting on behalf of the apartment owners, in like manner as a mortgage of real property. In the event of any such foreclosure, the apartment owner shall be required to pay a reasonable rental for the apartment if so provided in the bylaws, and the plaintiff in such foreclosure shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver to collect the same. The council of co-owners or the representatives thereof, acting on behalf of the apartment owners, shall have power, unless prohibited by the declaration, to bid in the apartment at foreclosure sale, and to acquire and hold, lease, mortgage and convey the same. Suit to recover a money judgment for unpaid common expenses shall be maintainable without foreclosing or waiving the lien securing the same. [C66, 71, §499B.17]

499B.19 Common expenses after voluntary conveyance. In a voluntary conveyance the grantee of an apartment shall be jointly and severally liable with the grantor for all unpaid assessments against the latter for his share of the common expenses up to the time of the grant or conveyance, without prejudice to the grantor's right to recover from the grantor the amounts paid by the grantee therefor. However, any such grantee shall be entitled to a statement from the council of co-owners or its representatives, setting forth the amount of the unpaid assessments against the grantor and such grantee shall not be liable for, nor shall the apartment conveyed be subject to a lien for, any unpaid assessments against the grantor in excess of the amount therein set forth. 2. Registration by qualification. Any securities may be registered by qualification as provided in this subsection. An application for registration may be filed by the issuer, the owner, or by any registered dealer. The commissioner of insurance may require the applicant to submit to him the following information respecting the issuer and such other information as he may in his judgment deem necessary to enable him to ascertain whether such securities shall be registered pursuant to the provisions of this section:

a. The names and addresses of the directors, trustees, and officers, if the issuer be a corporation or association or trust organized or existing under the common law (as hereinbefore defined); of all partners, if the issuer be a partnership; and of the issuer, if the issuer be an individual.

If the issuer is a trustee there shall be filed with the application a copy of all instruments by which the trust is created or declared and in which it is accepted and acknowledged. If the issuer is a partnership or an unincorporated association, or joint-stock company, or any other form of organization whatsoever, there shall be filed with the application a copy of its articles of partnership or association and all other papers pertaining to its organization.

If the securities are also being registered under the federal Securities Act of 1933, the commissioner of insurance may accept, in lieu of the information required under paragraphs "a" through "i" of this subsection, three copies of the prospectus as of the date on which the application is filed under this chapter.

If upon examination of an application for registration of securities by notification or qualification the commissioner of insurance does not find any ground for denying or revoking the registration of such securities under section 502.10, he shall register such securities after which they may be sold by the issuer, the owner, or by any registered dealer, subject however, to the further order of the commissioner of insurance as hereinafter provided.

In addition to financial statements required to be filed under paragraphs "d" and "e" of this subsection, the commissioner may, if he deems it necessary, require the filing of additional or more detailed financial information in such form as he may prescribe.

3. Provisions applicable to all registrations of securities. When securities are registered by notification or by qualification, they may be offered and sold by the issuer, the owner, or by any registered dealer. The commissioner of insurance shall keep a register showing the issuer, date of registration, amount in number and dollars of the securities registered and all orders with respect thereto which shall be open to public inspection. Every registration shall remain effective until revoked by the commissioner of insurance or until terminated upon request of the registrant with the consent of the commissioner of insurance. So long as a registration remains effective all outstanding securities of the class registered shall be considered to be registered for the purpose of any transaction other than original distributions of such securities, except that in the case of securities issued by a face amount certificate company or a redeemable security issued by an open-end management company or unit investment trust, as those terms are defined in the federal Investment Company Act of 1940 [51 Stat. L. 789; 15 U. S. C., §§80a-1 to 80a-52, inc.1], only the amount of securities specified to be offered for sale in this state shall be registered by the registration but application for such securities may be made at any time to increase the amount of securities proposed to be offered in this state. So long as the registration remains effective the commissioner of insurance may require the registrant to file reports, not more often than semiannually, to keep reasonably current the information pertaining to the registration.

The commissioner of insurance shall have power to place such conditions, limitations, and restrictions on any registration as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter and the conditions, limitations and restrictions, if any, shall be entered in the register of securities referring to a formal order of the commissioner of insurance on file showing such conditions, limitations and restrictions.

For the filing of an application for the registration of securities by notification or qualification there shall be paid to the commissioner of insurance at the time of filing the application prescribed in this section a fee of one-tenth of one percent of the maximum aggregate offering price of the securities proposed to be offered in this state, but such fee shall not be less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one thousand dollars.

If the application for registration shall be made by a registered dealer, the commissioner of insurance in his discretion may by rule, regulation, or order waive the filing or submission to him of all or any of the statements, exhibits, and documents, including certified public documents referred to in this section, and may require the applicant to file with him a statement with respect to such securities containing the following: Name of issuer; a brief description of the security; the maximum amount of the securities to be offered under the registration; the maximum price at which the securities are to be offered for sale; and to furnish to the commissioner of insurance such other information and data concerning the issuer and the securities as the commissioner of insurance may deem necessary to enable him to ascertain whether such securities shall be registered hereunder or such registration continued in effect.

The commissioner of insurance may permit the omission of any item of information or document from any application. Any document filed under this chapter or a predecessor chapter may be incorporated by reference in the application to the extent that the document is currently accurate. [SS15, §§1920-u2, -u3, -u6, -u8; C24, 27, §§8527, 8528, 8531, 8536, 8543; C31, 35, §§8581-e8; C39, §§8581-07, C46, 50, 51, 58, 62, 66, 71, §§502.7]

Referred to in §§502.6, 502.19, 502.20

502.8 May limit price and commission. The commissioner of insurance may also limit the price at which the securities, either of par or no par value, may be sold. In case of a sale by or on behalf of an issuer, the commissioner of insurance may allow a commission not to exceed twenty percent of the sale price, such percentage to include all expenses incidental to such sale, including advertising or any other expenses chargeable in any way to the sale of such securities. [C35, §§8581-f; C39, §§8581.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §§502.8]

502.9 Consent to service. Upon any application for registration under this chapter where the issuer functions or intends to function as a dealer in the manner permitted by section 502.11 and such issuer is not domiciled in this state, there shall be filed with such application the irrevocable written consent of the issuer that suits and actions, growing out of the violation of any provision or provisions of this chapter, may be commenced against it in the proper court of any county in this state in which a cause of action may arise or in which the plaintiff may reside, by the service of any process or pleading authorized by the laws of this state, on the commissioner of insurance. Said consent stipulating and agreeing that such service of such process or pleadings on such commissioner of insurance shall be taken and held in all courts to be as valid and binding as if due service had been made upon the issuer himself, and said written consent shall be authenticated by the seal of said issuer, if it has a seal, and by the acknowledged signature of any officer of the incorporated or unincorporated association, if it be an incorporated or unincorporated association, duly authorized by resolution of the board of directors, trustees or managers of the corporation or association, and shall in such case be accompanied by a duly certified copy of the resolution of the board of directors, trustees or managers of the corporation or association, authorizing the officers to execute the same. In case any process or pleadings mentioned in this chapter are served upon the commissioner of insurance, it shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the commissioner of insurance and another immediately forwarded by certified mail to the principal office of the issuer against which said process or pleadings are directed. Referred to in §§502.7(1,a), 502.11

502.10 Denial of or revocation of registration of securities. The commissioner of insurance may deny effectiveness to, or suspend or revoke the effectiveness of, the registration of any security if, after a reasonable notice and a hearing or upon examination into the affairs of the issuer of such securities, it shall appear that the sale of such securities would work or tend to work a fraud upon the purchasers thereof, would be unfair, unjust, or inequitable to the purchasers thereof, or that the issuer:

1. Is insolvent; or
2. Has violated any of the provisions of this chapter or any order of the commissioner of insurance of which such issuer has notice; or
3. Has been or is engaged or is about to engage in fraudulent transactions; or
4. Is in any other way dishonest or has made any fraudulent representations in any prospectus or in any circular or other literature that has been distributed concerning the issuer or its securities; or
5. Is of bad business repute; or
6. Does not conduct its business in accordance with law; or
7. That its affairs are in an unsound condition; or
8. That the enterprise or business of the issuer is not based upon sound business principles.

In making such examination the commissioner of insurance shall have access to and may compel the production of all the books and papers of such issuer, and he or the superintendent may administer oaths to and examine the officers of such issuer or any other person connected therewith as to its business and affairs and may also require a balance sheet exhibiting the assets and liabilities of any such issuer or his income statement, or both, to be certified to by a public accountant either of this state or of any other state where the issuer's business is located, approved by the commissioner of insurance.

Whenever the commissioner of insurance may deem it necessary, he may also require such balance sheet or income statement, or both to be made more specific in such particulars as the commissioner of insurance shall point out or to be brought down to the latest practicable date.

If any issuer shall refuse to permit an examination to be made by the commissioner of insurance, it shall be proper ground for refusal or cancellation of registration.

If the commissioner of insurance shall deem it necessary he may enter an order suspending the right to sell securities pending any investigation or hearing, provided that the order shall state the grounds of the commissioner of insurance for taking such action.

Notice of the entry of such order shall be given personally or by telephone, telegraph, or mail to the issuer and every registered dealer who shall have notified the commissioner of insurance of an intention to sell such security. [SS15,$1920-u7; C24, 27,§§8539, 8540; C31, 35,§8581-c10; C39,§8581.10; C46, 50, 51, 58, 62, 66, 71,§502.10]

An application for registration in writing shall be filed in the office of the commissioner of insurance in such form as the commissioner of insurance may prescribe, duly verified by oath, which shall state the principal office of the applicant, wherever situated, and the location of the principal office and all branch offices in this state, if any, the name or style of doing business, the names, residence and business addresses of all persons interested in the business as principals, copartners, officers, and directors, specifying as to each his capacity and title, the general plan and character of business and the length of time the dealer has been engaged in business. The commissioner of insurance may also require such additional information as to applicant's previous history, record and association, as he may deem necessary to establish the good repute in business of the applicant.

The commissioner may establish minimum financial requirements to be met and maintained by registered dealers and dealer applicants and in connection therewith may require the submission of financial statements and reports in such form as he may prescribe.

There shall be filed with such application an irrevocable written consent to the service of process upon the commissioner of insurance in actions against such dealer in manner and form as provided in section 502.0.

If the commissioner of insurance shall find that the applicant is of good repute and has proven his competence to act as a dealer and has complied with the provisions of this section including the payment of the fee hereinafter provided he shall register such applicant as a dealer upon his filing a bond as in section 502.18 provided.

Upon the written application of a registered dealer and general satisfactory showing as to good character and competence and the payment of the proper fee the commissioner of insurance shall register as salesman of such dealer such natural persons as the dealer may request. Such registration shall cease upon the termination of the employment of such salesman by such dealer.

The commissioner of insurance may by a rule provide for an examination, which may be written or oral, or both, to be taken by first-time applicants who apply for registration in order to determine the skill, competency and training of such applicants. Changes in registration occasioned by changes in the personnel of a partnership or in the principals, copartners, officers or directors of any dealer may be made from time to time by written application setting forth the facts with respect to such change.

The commissioner of insurance shall have the power, in connection with any dealer's or salesman's registration, to require the dealer or salesman to furnish the commissioner of insurance, in such form as he may designate, any information or reports deemed necessary to assist the commissioner of insurance in determining whether such registration should remain in force and to make an investigation of the books, records, property, business and affairs of such dealer or salesman. No dealer shall sell or offer for sale any security after notice in writing given to it by the commissioner of insurance, that, in his opinion, the sale thereof would be unfair, unjust, or inequitable to the purchaser thereof, unless the commissioner of insurance shall subsequently in writing withdraw such objection to the sale thereof.

Any issuer or owner of a security required to be registered under the provisions of this chapter, selling such securities except in exempt transactions as defined in section 502.5, shall be deemed a dealer within the meaning of this section and required to comply with all the provisions hereof, but such issuer or owner shall be required to pay only one fee which shall be either the fee for registration of the security or for dealer's registration, whichever is the greater, and the issuer shall not be required to furnish the bond herein prescribed. All such deposits shall be invested into the state treasury and credited to "securities department investigation fund" from which fund disbursements shall be made upon order of the commissioner of insurance to pay such expenses. Any unexpended portion shall be refunded. 504.21 Endowment fund—trustees. Any presbytery, synod, conference, state or diocesan convention, or other state or district representative body of any religious denomination in this state, now or hereafter incorporated under this chapter, or any assembly, synod, conference, convention, or other general ecclesiastical body of any religious denomination in the United States having local societies in this state and wherever incorporated, may in its articles of incorporation or by amendment thereto create a board, commission, or corporation by which they may be charged with the care and custody of any endowment fund or other fund or property of the denomination represented by such body, and at any regular meeting of such presbytery, synod, conference, convention, or other representative assembly of such denomination in this state, or of such assembly, synod, conference, convention, or other general ecclesiastical body in the United States, may elect not less than three members of such denomination, one of whom shall be a resident freeholder in this state, to serve as trustees of such fund or property; and a copy of such articles of incorporation and amendment, duly certified to by the officer with whom the same have been filed for record, shall be evidence in the courts of this state of the existence of such trust and of the powers of such trustees. [S13, §1652-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8595; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §504.21]

504.22 Powers of trustees. Such trustees, if chosen to take charge of any endowment or other like fund, may invest, manage, and dispose of the same in accordance with the purpose for which it was created, subject to such regulations as the body by which they were elected may from time to time prescribe; and shall have power to make contracts regarding, and to collect and sue for, and in all ways to control and protect, any property belonging or which should belong to any such funds. [S13, §1652-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8596; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §504.22]

504.23 Extinct religious societies—disposition of property. When any local religious society shall have become extinct, such trustees of the denomination with which it shall have been at any time connected shall take charge of its property, whether real or personal, and control, dispose of, and use the same in trust, as part of the endowment or other like funds of such denomination within the territorial limits represented by such trustees and the corporation by which they were elected and especially for the work of such denomination at the place where such extinct local society shall have been situated. A transfer of such property by resolution or act of the remaining member or members, representative or representatives, of such extinct local society to such trustees shall operate to pass complete title. If on demand therefor there is a failure or refusal to transfer such property to such trustees, or if such trustees think proper so to do, they may commence action in equity in the district court of the county where such extinct local society was situated, making parties defendant thereto all persons known to have any interest in or claim upon such property; notice shall be given as in other equitable actions, and said court shall have jurisdiction to enter a decree whereby the title to all the property of such extinct society shall be transferred to such trustees, or for the sale thereof and transfer of the proceeds of such sale to such trustees. Such decree or sale thereunder shall pass good title to such property. Provisions shall be made for the protection of all having claims against such local society or its property. [S13, §1652-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8597; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §504.23]

504.24 Property in trust—use of principal. The property of any such extinct religious society shall be held and disposed of by such trustees in trust for the work of the denomination in the territorial limits represented by such trustees, and especially in trust for such work at the place where such extinct society was situated or its immediate vicinity within the judgment of the religious body by which such trustees were elected. Only income therefrom shall be used for the general work of such denomination in such territorial limits, but the principal shall be kept as a permanent fund for not less than five years, except that it may be used in the locality where such extinct local society was situated or its immediate vicinity if thought best by such body. No local society of such denomination at such place shall be allowed to demand the use of such principal for its benefit until it has been recognized and approved by and has complied with the reasonable requirements of the body so electing such trustees. If the principal or income in the hands of such trustees is not used in the locality where the extinct local society was situated within the term of five years from the time of the sale or disposition of its property, then the said principal and income, if any, may be used for building or improving other property of the denomination within the territorial limits in which such extinct society was located. [S13, §1652-d; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8598; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §504.24]

504A.4 General powers. Each corporation, unless otherwise stated in its articles of incorporation, shall have power:
1. To have perpetual succession by its corporate name unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation.
2. To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name.
3. To have a corporate seal which may be altered at pleasure, and to use the same by causing it, or a facsimile thereof, to be impressed or affixed or in any other manner reproduced.

1. In a proceeding by a member or a director against the corporation to enjoin the doing or continuation of unauthorized acts, or the transfer of real or personal property by or to the corporation. If the unauthorized acts or transfers sought to be enjoined are being or are to be performed pursuant to any contract to which the corporation is a party, the court may, if all of the parties to the contract are parties to the proceeding and if it deems the same to be equitable, set aside and enjoin the performance of such contract, and in so doing may allow to the corporation or the other parties to the contract, as the case may be, compensation for the loss or damage sustained by either of them which may result from the action of the court in setting aside and enjoining the performance of such contract, but anticipated profits to be derived from the performance of the contract shall not be awarded by the court as a loss or damage sustained.

2. In a proceeding by the corporation, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative or through members in a representative suit, against the incumbent or former officers or directors of the corporation for exceeding their authority.

504A.6 Corporate name. The corporate name:

1. Shall not contain any word or phrase which indicates or implies that it is organized for any purpose other than one or more of the purposes contained in its articles of incorporation.

2. Shall not be the same as, or deceptively similar to, the name of any corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, existing under the laws of this state, or any foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, or a corporate name reserved or registered as permitted by the laws of this state.

504A.7 Reserved name. The exclusive right to the use of a corporate name may be reserved by filing in the office of the secretary of state an application to reserve a specified corporate name, executed by the applicant. If the secretary of state finds that such name is available for corporate use, he shall reserve the same for the exclusive use of such applicant for a period of one hundred twenty days.

The right to the exclusive use of a specified corporate name so reserved may be assigned by filing in the office of the secretary of state a notice of such assignment, executed by the person for whom such name was reserved and specifying the name and address of the transferee. [C66, 71, §504A.7]

[C66, 71, §501A.8]

504A.9 Change of registered office or registered agent. A corporation may change its registered office or change its registered agent or agents, or both office and agent or agents upon filing in the office of the secretary of state a statement setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
§504A.9, NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

2. The address of its then registered office.
3. If the address of its registered office be changed, the address to which the registered office is to be changed.
4. The name of its then registered agent or agents.
5. If its registered agent or agents be changed, the name of its successor registered agent or agents.
6. That the address of its registered office and the address of the business office of its registered agent or agents, as changed, will be identical.

Such statement shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president. If the registered office is changed from one county to another, such statement shall be executed in duplicate. Such statement shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the statement shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder; and if the registered office is changed from one county to another, the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the registered office was located prior to the filing of such statement in the office of the secretary of state, and in the office of the recorder of the county to which the registered office is changed.

If the registered office is changed from one county to another, the corporation shall also change its registered agent or agents, whose address or business address shall be the address of its then registered office. Its original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto, or copies thereof certified by the secretary of state, or its restated articles and all amendments thereto, or copies thereof certified by the secretary of state shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. If any registered agent or agents change his, their or its business address to another place within the same county, he, they or it may change the address of the registered office of any corporations of which he, they or it is registered agent by filing a statement as required above for each corporation, or a single statement for all corporations named therein, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsections 5 and 7 above, and must recite that notification of such change has been mailed to each such corporation.

The change of address of registered office or the change of registered agent or agents or both registered office and agent or agents, as the case may be, shall become effective upon the filing of such statement by the secretary of state, but until such statement is recorded in the office of the recorder as above prescribed, service of process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served upon the person who was its registered agent at its registered office prior to the filing of such state-ment with the same force and effect as if no change in registered office or registered agent had been made.

Any registered agent of a corporation may resign as such agent upon filing a written notice thereof, executed in duplicate, with the secretary of state, who shall record one copy and forthwith mail the other copy thereof to the corporation in care of an officer, who is not the resigning registered agent, at the address of such officer as shown by the most recent annual report of the corporation. The copy recorded by the secretary of state shall be sent by him to the county recorder of the county in which the registered office is located for recording in his office. The appointment of such agent shall terminate upon the expiration of thirty days after receipt of such notice by the secretary of state. [C66, 71.§504A.9]

504A.10 Service of process on corporation.
The registered agent so appointed by a corporation shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served.

Whenever a corporation shall fail to appoint or maintain a registered agent in this state, or whenever its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the registered office, then the secretary of state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any such process, notice, or demand may be served. Service on the secretary of state of any such process, notice, or demand shall be made by delivering to and leaving with him, his deputy, or with any person having charge of the corporation department of his office, duplicate copies of such process, notice or demand. In the event any such process, notice or demand is served on the secretary of state, he shall immediately cause one of the copies thereof to be forwarded by registered or certified mail, addressed to the corporation at its registered office. No corporation served in accordance with the procedure provided for by this paragraph shall be in default until thirty days have elapsed following such service on the secretary of state.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices and demands served upon a corporation in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law. [C66, 71.§504A.10]

504A.11 Members.
A corporation may have one or more classes of members or may have no members. If the corporation has one or more classes of members, the designation of such class or classes, the manner of election or appointment and the qualifications and rights of the members of each class shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. If the corporation has no members, that fact shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. A corporation may issue certificates evidencing membership therein. [C66, 71, §504A.11]

504A.12 Bylaws. The initial bylaws of a corporation shall be adopted by its board of directors. The power to alter, amend or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws shall be vested in the board of directors unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation. The bylaws may contain any provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of a corporation not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation.

The board of directors of any corporation may adopt emergency bylaws, subject to repeal or change by action of the members, which shall, notwithstanding any different provision elsewhere in this chapter or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, be operative during any emergency, in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation resulting from an attack on the United States or any nuclear or atomic disaster. The emergency bylaws may make any provision that may be practical and necessary for the circumstances of the emergency including provisions that:

1. A meeting of the board of directors may be called by any officer or director in such manner and under such conditions as shall be prescribed in the emergency bylaws;

2. The director or directors in attendance at the meeting, or any greater number fixed by the emergency bylaws, shall constitute a quorum; and

3. The officers or other persons designated on a list approved by the board of directors before the emergency, all in such order of priority and subject to such conditions and for such period of time (not longer than reasonably necessary after the termination of the emergency) as may be provided in the emergency bylaws or in the resolution approving the list, shall, to the extent required to provide a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors, be deemed directors for such meeting.

The board of directors, either before or during any such emergency, may provide, and from time to time modify, lines of succession. In the event that during such an emergency any or all officers or agents of the corporation shall for any reason be rendered incapable of discharging their duties.

To the extent not inconsistent with any emergency bylaws so adopted, the bylaws of the corporation shall remain in effect during any such emergency and upon its termination the emergency bylaws shall cease to be operative.

Unless otherwise provided in emergency bylaws, notice of any meeting of the board of directors during any such emergency may be given only to such of the directors as it may be feasible to reach at the time and by such means as may be feasible at the time, including publication or radio.

To the extent required to constitute a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors during any such emergency, the officers of the corporation who are present shall, unless otherwise provided in emergency bylaws, be deemed, in order of rank and within the same rank in order of seniority, directors for such meeting.

No officer, director or employee acting in accordance with any emergency bylaws shall be liable except for willful misconduct. No officer, director or employee shall be liable for any action taken by him in good faith in such an emergency in furtherance of the ordinary affairs of the corporation, even though not authorized by the bylaws then in effect. [C66, 71, §504A.12]

504A.13 Meetings of members. Meetings of members may be held at such places, either within or without this state, as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, or as may be fixed from time to time in accordance with the provisions thereof. In the absence of any such provision, all meetings shall be held at the registered office of the corporation.

An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Failure to hold the annual meeting at the designated time shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the corporation.

Special meetings of the members may be called by the president or by the board of directors. Special meetings of the members may also be called by such other officers or persons or number or proportion of members as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the number or proportion of members entitled to call a meeting, a special meeting of members may be called by members having one-twentieth of the votes entitled to be cast at such meeting. [C66, 71, §504A.13]

504A.14 Notice of members' meetings. Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, written notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered no less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each member entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member at his address as it appears on the records of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. [C66, 71, §504A.14] may be limited, enlarged or denied to the extent specified in the articles of incorporation or, if the articles of incorporation so provide, by the bylaws. Unless so limited, enlarged or denied, each member, regardless of class, shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of members.

§504A.15, NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

A member entitled to vote may vote in person or, unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, may vote by proxy executed in writing by the member or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. Where directors or officers are to be elected by members the bylaws may provide that such elections may be conducted by mail.

The articles of incorporation may provide that in all elections for directors every member entitled to vote shall have the right to cumulate his vote and to give one candidate a number of votes equal to his vote multiplied by the number of directors to be elected, or by distributing such votes on the same principle among any number of such candidates.

If a corporation has no members or its members have no right to vote, the directors shall have the sole voting power. [C66, 71,§504A.15]

504A.16 Quorum. The bylaws may provide the number or percentage of members entitled to vote represented in person or by proxy, or the number or percentage of votes represented in person or by proxy, which shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of members. In the absence of any such provision, members holding one-tenth of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter to be voted upon represented in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum. A majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter to be voted upon by the members present or represented by proxy at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be necessary for the adoption thereof unless a greater proportion is required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. [C66, 71,§504A.16]

504A.18 Number and election of directors. The number of directors shall be fixed by the bylaws, unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment of the articles of incorporation. No decrease in number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent director. In the absence of a bylaw fixing the number of directors, the number shall be the same as that stated in the articles of incorporation.

The directors constituting the first board of directors shall be named in the articles of incorporation and shall hold office until the first annual election of directors or for such other period as may be specified in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Thereafter, directors shall be elected or appointed in a manner and for the terms provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the term of office, the term of office of a director shall be one year.

Directors may be divided into classes and the terms of office of the several classes need not be uniform. Each director shall hold office for the term for which he is elected or appointed and until his successor shall have been elected or appointed and qualified.

A director may be removed from office pursuant to any procedure therefor provided in the articles of incorporation. [C66, 71,§504A.18]

504A.19 Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring in the board of directors and any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws provide that a vacancy or directorship so created shall be filled in some other manner, in which case such provision shall control.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, a director so elected or appointed shall be elected or appointed for the unexpired term of his predecessor in office or the full term of such new directorship. [C66, 71,§504A.19]

504A.21 Committees. If the articles of incorporation or the bylaws so provide, the board of directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board of directors, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees each of which, to the extent provided
In such resolution or in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws of the corporation, shall have and may exercise all the authority of the board of directors; but no such committee shall have the authority of the board of directors in reference to amending the articles of incorporation, adopting a plan of merger or consolidation, recommending to the members the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all or substantially all the property and assets of the corporation, recommending to the members a voluntary dissolution of the corporation or a revocation thereof, or amending the bylaws of the corporation. The designation of any such committee and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the board of directors, or any member thereof, of any responsibility imposed by law. [C66, 71, §504A.21]

504A.22 Place and notice of directors' meetings. Meetings of the board of directors, regular or special, may be held either within or without this state, and upon such notice as the bylaws may prescribe. Attendance of a director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting except where a director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the board of directors need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting unless required by the bylaws. [C66, 71, §504A.22]

504A.23 Officers. The officers of a corporation shall consist of a president, one or more vice-presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and such other officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary, each of whom shall be elected or appointed at such time and in such manner and for such terms as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of any such provision, all officers shall be elected or appointed annually by the board of directors. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may provide that any one or more offices of the corporation shall be ex officio members of the board of directors.

The officers of a corporation may be designated by such additional titles as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. [C66, 71, §504A.23]

504A.25 Books and records. Each corporation shall keep correct and complete books and records of account and shall keep minutes of the proceedings of its members, board of directors and committees having any of the authority of the board of directors; and shall keep at its registered office or principal office in this state a record of the names and addresses of its members entitled to vote. All books and records of a corporation may be inspected by any member, or his agent or attorney, for any proper purpose at any reasonable time. [C66, 71, §504A.25]

504A.26 Shares of stock and dividends prohibited. A corporation shall not have or issue shares of stock. No dividend shall be paid and no part of the income or profit of a corporation shall be distributed to its members, directors or officers. A corporation may pay compensation in a reasonable amount to its members, directors or officers for services rendered, may confer benefits upon its members in conformity with its purposes, and upon dissolution or final liquidation may make distributions to its members as permitted by this chapter, and no such payment, benefit or distribution shall be deemed to be a dividend or a distribution of income or profit. [C66, 71, §504A.26]

504A.27 Loans to directors and officers prohibited. No loans shall be made by a corporation to its directors or officers. Any director or officer who assents to or participates in the making of any such loan shall be liable to the corporation for the amount of such loan until the repayment thereof. [C66, 71, §504A.27]

504A.28 Incorporators. One or more persons as defined in this chapter having capacity to contract, may act as incorporators of a corporation by signing, acknowledging and delivering to the secretary of state articles of incorporation for such corporation. [C66, 71, §504A.28]

504A.29 Articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the chapter of the Code or session laws under which incorporated.
2. The period of duration if for a limited period, but in the absence of any statement in the articles all corporations organized hereunder shall have perpetual duration.
3. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized.
4. Any provision, not inconsistent with law, which the incorporators elect to set forth in the articles of incorporation for the regulation of the internal affairs of the corporation, including any provision for distribution of assets on dissolution or final liquidation.
5. The address of its initial registered office including street and number, if any, the name of the county in which the registered office is located, and the name of its initial registered agent or agents at such address.

6. The number of directors constituting the initial board of directors and the names and addresses of the persons who are to serve as the initial directors.

7. Any provision not inconsistent with law or the purposes for which the corporation is organized, which the incorporators elect to set forth; or any provision limiting any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

8. The date on which the corporate existence shall begin, which may be any date identified by year, month and day not more than ninety days in the future. In the absence of any statement in the articles as to date of beginning of corporate existence, such existence shall commence on the date on which the secretary of state issues the certificate of incorporation.

9. The name and address of each incorpora­ ator.

It shall not be necessary to set forth in the articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

Unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment to the articles of incorporation, a change in the number of directors made by amendment to the bylaws shall be controlling. In all other cases, whenever a provision of the articles of incorporation is inconsistent with a bylaw, the provision of the articles of incorporation shall be controlling. [C66, 71,§504A.29]

504A.30 Filing and recording of articles of incorporation. The articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. The secretary of state upon the filing of such articles shall issue a certificate of incorporation and send the same to the corporation or its representative. [C66, 71,

504A.31 Effect of issuance of certificate of incorporation. Upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation, the corporate existence shall begin unless the certificate in conformity with a provision in the articles provides that it shall begin on a stated day in the future in which event the corporate existence shall without further action by either the incorporators or the secretary of state begin on the day so stated. Such certificate of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence that all conditions precedent required to be performed by the incorporators have been compiled with and that the corporation has been incorporated under this chapter except as against this state in a proceeding to cancel or revoke the certificate of incorporation or for involuntary dissolution of the corporation. [C66, 71,§504A.31]

504A.32 Procedure for filing and recording of documents. If in this chapter, it is required that any document be:

1. Filed in the office of the secretary of state, the secretary of state, when he finds that such document conforms to law and when all fees and taxes due him have been paid as in this chapter prescribed, shall endorse on such document, the word “Filed”, and the month, day and year of the filing thereof and file the same in his office;

2. Recorded in the office of the secretary of state, the secretary of state, upon filing thereof, shall record the same;

3. Filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder, the secretary of state upon recording such document in his office shall forward the same to the county recorder of the county wherein the registered office of the corporation is located, and shall forward a duplicate executed copy certified by him as a true copy of the filed original to such other county recorder, if any, as is required by this chapter. Upon receipt thereof and upon recceipt of recording fees due him, such county recorder shall record and index such instrument and endorse thereon the date of filing in such county and the book and page in which recorded. The recorder of each county shall keep in his office an alphabetically subdivided index book for articles of incorporation and other instruments the recording of which in his office is provided for by this chapter, which book shall have as a minimum, columns headed with “Name of Corporation”, “Place of Registered Office”, “Day, Month and Year of Filing” and the reference to the book and page or other record where recorded and shall make appropriate entries in said index for each such instrument recorded by him.

Any instrument required to be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state only, shall be returned by him to the corporation or its representative. Any instrument required to be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder shall be returned by him to the corporation or its representative. [C66, 71,§504A.32]

504A.33 Organization meetings. After the issuance of the certificate of incorporation an organization meeting of the board of directors named in the articles of incorporation may be held, either within or without this state, at the call of a majority of the incorporators, for the purpose of adopting bylaws, electing officers, if necessary, and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. The incorporators calling the meeting shall give at least three days’ notice thereof by mail to each director so named, which notice shall state the time and place of the meeting.

A first meeting of the members may be held at the call of the directors, or a majority of them, upon at least three days’ notice, for such purposes as shall be stated in the notice of the meeting. [C66, 71,§504A.33]

504A.34 Right to amend articles of incorporation. A corporation may amend its articles of incorporation, from time to time, in any and as many respects as may be desired, so long as its articles of incorporation as amended contain only such provisions as are lawful under this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.34]

504A.35 Procedure to amend articles of incorporation. Amendments to the articles of incorporation shall be made in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, upon the written request of at least five percent of the members entitled to vote on amendments to articles of incorporation, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the amendment proposed by such members and directing that it be submitted to the next meeting of the members entitled to vote thereon held not less than ninety days after the date of the filing of the request of the members with the secretary of the corporation. Written notice setting forth the proposed amendment or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. The proposed amendment shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, an amendment shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Any number of amendments may be submitted and voted upon at any one meeting. [C66, 71, §504A.35]

504A.36 Articles of amendment. The articles of amendment shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and acknowledged by one of the officers signing such articles, and shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the effective date of its incorporation; and its original name if different from the present name.

2. The amendment so adopted.

3. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the amendment was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such amendment received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such amendment was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.

4. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the amendment was adopted, and a statement of the fact that such amendment received the vote of a majority of the directors in office. [C66, 71, §504A.36]

504A.37 Filing of articles of amendment. The articles of amendment shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of amendment shall issue a certificate of amendment and send the same to the corporation or its representative. [C66, 71, §504A.37]

504A.38 Effect of certificate of amendment. Upon the issuance of the certificate of amendment by the secretary of state, the amendment shall become effective and the articles of incorporation shall be deemed to be amended accordingly.

No amendment shall affect any existing cause of action in favor of or against such corporation, or any pending action to which such corporation shall be a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members; and, in the event the corporate name shall be changed by amendment, no suit brought by or against such corporation under its former name shall abate for that reason. [C66, 71, §504A.38]

504A.39 Restated articles of incorporation. A domestic corporation may at any time restate its articles of incorporation, which may be amended by such restatement, so long as its articles of incorporation as so restated contain only such provisions as might be lawfully contained in original articles of incorporation at the time of making such restatement, by the adoption of restated articles of incorporation, including any amendments to its articles of incorporation to be made thereby, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members having voting rights, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation as so restated and directing that such restated articles, including such amendment or amendments be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members having voting rights, which may be either an annual or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice setting forth the proposed restated articles or a summary of the provisions thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. If the restated articles include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, the notice shall separately set forth such amendment or amendments or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby.

3. The proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast, unless such restated articles include an amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby which, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made without restatement of the articles of incorporation, would entitle a class of members to vote as a class thereon, in which event the proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the members of each class entitled to vote thereon as a class, and of the total members entitled to vote thereon.

4. Where there are no members, or no members having voting rights, proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the corporation’s articles of incorporation to be made thereby shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon such approval, restated articles of incorporation shall be executed by the corporation by its president or vice-president and by its secretary or assistant secretary, and verified by one of the officers signing the same, and shall set forth, as then stated in the corporation’s articles of incorporation and, if the restated articles of incorporation include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, as so amended:

a. The name of the corporation;

b. If its duration is for a limited period, the date of expiration;

c. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized;

d. If the members are divided into classes, the designation of each class and a statement of the preferences, voting rights, if any, limitations and relative rights in respect of the members of each class;

e. Any other provisions, not inconsistent with law or the purposes which the corporation is authorized to pursue, which are to be set forth in articles of incorporation; except that it shall not be necessary to set forth in the restated articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter nor any statement with respect to the chapter of the Code or sessions laws under which the corporation was incorporated, its registered office, registered agent, directors, or incorporators, or the date on which its corporate existence began.

The restated articles of incorporation shall also set forth a statement that they correctly set forth the provisions of the articles of incorporation as theretofore or thereby amended, that they have been duly adopted as required by law and that they supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

The restated articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder.

The secretary of state upon filing the restated articles of incorporation shall issue a restated certificate of incorporation and send the same to the corporation or its representative:

Upon the issuance of the restated certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, the restated articles of incorporation, including any amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation made thereby, shall become effective and shall supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto. [C66, 71,§504A.39]

§504A.40 Procedure for merger. Any two or more domestic corporations may merge into one of such corporations, pursuant to a plan of merger approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Each corporation shall adopt a plan of merger setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to merge, and the name of the corporation into which they propose to merge, which is hereinafter designated as the surviving corporation.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation to be effected by such merger.

4. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable. [C66, 71,§504A.40]

§504A.41 Procedure for consolidation. Any two or more domestic corporations may consolidate into a new corporation pursuant to a plan of consolidation approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Each such corporation shall adopt a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to consolidate, and the name of the new corporation into which they propose to consolidate, which is hereinafter designated as the new corporation.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. With respect to the new corporation, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for corporations organized under this chapter.

4. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed consolidation as are deemed necessary or desirable. [C66, 71,§504A.41]

§504A.42 Approval of merger or consolidation. A plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted by each domestic corporation in the following manner:
1. Where the members of any merging or consolidating corporation are entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors of such corporation shall adopt a resolution approving the proposed plan and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice setting forth the proposed plan or a summary thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote thereon at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. The proposed plan shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at each such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where any merging or consolidating corporation has no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors of such corporation upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

After such approval, and at any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions thereof, if any, set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation. [C66, 71, §504A.42]

504A.43 Articles of merger or consolidation.

Upon such approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed by each corporation by its president or a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and acknowledged by one of the officers of each corporation signing such articles, and shall set forth:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.

2. Where the members of any merging or consolidating corporation are entitled to vote thereon, then as to each such corporation (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the plan was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such plan received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such amendment was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.

3. Where any merging or consolidating corporation has no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, then as to each such corporation a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the plan was adopted and a statement of the fact that such plan received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which the registered office of each domestic merging or consolidating corporation was located prior to the merger or consolidation and, if the new corporation into which the corporations have consolidated is a domestic corporation, in the office of the recorder of the county in which the registered office of the new corporation is located.

The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation and send the same to the surviving or new corporation as the case may be, or to its representative. [C66, 71, §504A.43]

504A.44 Effect of merger or consolidation.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation by the secretary of state, the merger or consolidation shall be effected.

When such merger or consolidation has been effected:

1. The several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation, and, in the case of consolidation, shall be the new corporation provided for in the plan of consolidation.

2. The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new corporation, shall cease.

3. Such surviving or new corporation, if to exist under the laws of this state, shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under this chapter.

4. Such surviving or new corporation shall thereupon and thereafter possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, as well as of a public as of a private nature, of each of the merging or consolidating corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, and all other choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the corporations so merged or consolidated, shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in such single corporation without further act or deed; and the title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in any of such corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of such merger or consolidation.

5. Such surviving or new corporation shall thenceforth be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations so merged or consolidated; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place, or such surviving or new corporation may be substi-
United in its place. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any such corporation shall be impaired by such merger or consolidation.

6. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent, if any, that changes in its articles of corporation are stated in the plan of merger; and, in the case of a consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation and which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this chapter shall be deemed to be the original articles of incorporation of the new corporation. [C66, 71, §504A.44]

504A.45 Merger or consolidation of domestic and foreign corporations. One or more foreign corporations and one or more domestic corporations may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, if such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each such foreign corporation is organized:

1. Each domestic corporation shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to the merger or consolidation, as the case may be, of domestic corporations and each foreign corporation shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

2. If the surviving or new corporation, as the case may be, is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to qualification of foreign corporations if it is to conduct affairs in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:

   a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic corporation which is a party to such merger or consolidation; and

   b. An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any such proceeding.

   The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations, if the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations except insofar as the laws of the other state provide otherwise.

   At any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions therefor, if any, set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation. [C66, 71, §504A.45]

504A.46 Sale, lease, exchange, or mortgage of assets. A sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any corporation for profit, domestic or foreign, as may be authorized in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of the corporation shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided by this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. At such meeting the members may authorize such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the consideration to be received by the corporation therefor. Such authorization shall require at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast. After such authorization by a vote of members, the board of directors, nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of assets, subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by members.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation shall be authorized upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation a mortgage or pledge of any or all property and assets of the corporation may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, as shall be authorized by its board of directors; and in such case no authorization or consent of the members shall be required. [C66, 71, §504A.46]

504A.47 Voluntary dissolution. A corporation may dissolve and wind up its affairs in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending that the corporation be dissolved, and directing that the question of such dissolution be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the advisability of dissolving the corporation, shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. A resolution to dissolve the corporation shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, the dissolution of the corporation shall be authorized at a meeting of the board of directors upon the adoption of a resolution to dissolve by the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon the adoption of such resolution by the members, or by the board of directors where there are no members or no members entitled to vote thereon, the corporation shall cease to conduct its affairs except insofar as may be necessary for the winding up thereof, shall immediately cause a notice of the proposed dissolution to be mailed to each known creditor of the corporation, and shall proceed to collect its assets and apply and distribute them as provided in this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.47]

504A.48 Distribution of assets. The assets of a corporation in the process of dissolution shall be applied and distributed as follows:

1. All liabilities and obligations of the corporation shall be paid and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made therefor;

2. Assets held by the corporation upon condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution, shall be returned, transferred or conveyed in accordance with such requirements;

3. Assets received and held by the corporation subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational or similar purposes, but not held upon a condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance by reason of the dissolution, shall be transferred or conveyed to one or more domestic or foreign corporations, societies or organizations engaged in activities substantially similar to those of the dissolving corporation, pursuant to a plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter;

4. Other assets, if any, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the articles of incorporation or the bylaws to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws determine the distributive rights of members, or any class or classes of members, or provide for distribution to others;

5. Any remaining assets may be distributed to such persons, societies, organizations or domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or nonprofit, as may be specified in a plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.48]

504A.49 Plan of distribution. A plan providing for the distribution of assets, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, may be adopted by a corporation in the process of dissolution and shall be adopted by a orporation for the purpose of authorizing any transfer or conveyance of assets for which this chapter requires a plan of distribution, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending a plan of distribution and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice setting forth the proposed plan of distribution or a summary thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. Such plan of distribution shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a plan of distribution shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving a vote of a majority of the directors in office. [C66, 71, §504A.49]

504A.50 Revocation of voluntary dissolution proceedings. A corporation may, at any time prior to the issuance of a certificate of dissolution by the secretary of state, revoke the action theretofore taken to dissolve the corpotion, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote
thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending that the voluntary dissolution proceedings be revoked, and directning that the question of such revocation be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the advisability of revoking the voluntary dissolution proceedings, shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of memers. A resolution to revoke the voluntary dissolution proceedings shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represted by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a resolution to revoke the voluntary dissolution proceedings

directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office. Upon the adoption of such resolution by the members, or by the board of directors where there are no members or no members entitled to vote thereon, the corporation may thereafter again conduct its affairs. [C66, 71, §504A.50]

504A.51 Articles of dissolution. If voluntary dissolution proceedings have not been revoked, then when all debts, liabilities and obligations of the corporation have been paid and discharged, or adequate provision shall have been made therefor, and all of the remaining property and assets of the corporation shall have been transferred, conveyed or distributed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, articles of dissolution shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president, and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and verified by one of the officers signing such statement, which statement shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the resolution to dissolve was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such resolution received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such resolution was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.
3. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the resolution to dissolve was adopted and a statement of the fact that such resolution received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.
4. That all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation have been paid and discharged or that adequate provision has been made therefor.
5. A copy of the plan of distribution, if any, as adopted by the corporation, or a statement that no plan was so adopted.
6. That all the remaining property and assets of the corporation have been transferred, conveyed or distributed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.
7. That there are no suits pending against the corporation in any court, or that adequate provision has been made for the satisfaction of any judgment, order or decree which may be entered against it in any pending suit. [C66, 71, §504A.51]

504A.52 Filing of articles of dissolution. Such articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. The secretary of state upon filing the articles of dissolution shall issue a certificate of dissolution, and send the same to the representative of the dissolved corporation. Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution the existence of the corporation shall cease, except for the purpose of suits, other proceedings and appropriate corporate action by members, directors and officers as provided in this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.52]

504A.53 Involuntary dissolution. A corporation may be dissolved involuntarily by a decree of the district court in an action filed by the attorney general when it is established that:

1. The corporation has failed to file its annual report within the time required by this chapter; or
2. The corporation procured its articles of incorporation through fraud; or
3. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law; or
4. The corporation has failed for ninety days to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state; or
5. The corporation has failed for ninety days after change of its registered agent to file in the office of the secretary of state a statement of such change. [C66, 71, §504A.53]

504A.54 Notification to attorney general. The secretary of state, on or before the first day of July of each year, shall certify to the attorney general the names of all corporations which have failed to file their annual reports in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. He shall also certify, from time to time, the names of all corporations which have given other cause for dissolution as provided in this chapter, together with the facts pertinent thereto. Whenever the secretary of state shall certify the name of a corporation to the attorney general as having given any cause for dissolution, the secretary of state shall concurrently mail to the corporation at its registered office a notice that such certification has been made. Upon the receipt of such certification, the attorney general shall file an action in the name of the state against such corporation for its dissolution. Every such certificate from the secretary of state to the attorney general pertaining to the failure of a corporation to file an annual report shall be taken and received in all courts as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. If, before action is filed, the corporation shall file its annual report, or shall appoint or maintain a registered agent as provided in this chapter, or shall file with the secretary of state the required statement of change of registered agent, such fact shall be forthwith certified by the secretary of state to the attorney general and he shall not file an action against such corporation for such cause. If, after action is filed, the corporation shall file its annual report, or shall appoint or maintain a registered agent as provided in this chapter, or shall file with the secretary of state the required statement of change of registered agent, and shall pay the costs of such action, the action for such cause shall abate. [C66, 71,§504A.54]

Referred to in §504A.57

504A.55 Venue and process. Every action for the involuntary dissolution of a corporation shall be commenced by the attorney general in the district court of the county in which the registered office of the corporation is situated. Original notice shall be served as in other civil actions. If process is returned not found, the attorney general shall cause publication to be made as in other civil cases in some newspaper published in the county where the registered office of the corporation is situated, containing a notice of the pending action, the title of the court, the date on or after which default may be entered. The attorney general may include in one notice and in one petition the names of any number of corporations against which actions are then pending in the same county. The attorney general shall cause a copy of such notice to be mailed to the corporation at its registered office within ten days after the first publication thereof. The certificate of the attorney general of the mailing of such notice shall be prima-facie evidence thereof. Such notice shall be published at least once each week for two successive weeks, and the first publication thereof may begin at any time after the original notice has been returned. Unless a corporation shall have been served with original notice, no default shall be taken against it earlier than thirty days after the last publication of such notice. [C66, 71,§504A.55]

504A.56 Jurisdiction of court to liquidate assets and affairs of corporation. Courts of equity shall have full power to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation:

1. In a suit by a member or director when it is established:
   a. That the directors are deadlocked in the management of the corporate affairs and that irreparable injury to the corporation is being suffered or is threatened by reason thereof, and either that the members are unable to break the deadlock or there are no members having voting rights; or
   b. That the acts of the directors or those in control of the corporation are illegal, oppressive or fraudulent; or
   c. That the members entitled to vote in the election of directors are deadlocked in voting power and have failed for at least two years to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired or would have expired upon the election of their successors; or
   d. That the corporate assets are being misapplied or wasted; or
   e. That the corporation is unable to carry out its purposes.

2. In an action by a creditor:
   a. When the claim of the creditor has been reduced to judgment and an execution thereon has been returned unsatisfied and it is established that the corporation is insolvent; or
   b. When the corporation has admitted in writing that the claim of the creditor is due and owing and it is established that the corporation is insolvent.

3. Upon application by a corporation to have its dissolution continued under the supervision of the court.

4. When an action has been filed by the attorney general to dissolve a corporation and it is established that liquidation of its affairs should precede the entry of a decree of dissolution.

Proceedings under this section shall be brought in the county in which the registered office or the principal office of the corporation is situated.

It shall not be necessary to make directors or members parties to any such suit or proceedings unless relief is sought against them personally. [C66, 71,§504A.56]

504A.57 Procedure in liquidation of corporation by court. In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation the court shall have the power to issue injunctions, to appoint a receiver or receivers pendente lite, with such powers and duties as the court, from time to time, may direct, and to take such other proceedings as may be requisite to preserve the corporate assets wherever situated, and carry on the affairs of the corporation until a full hearing can be had.

After a hearing had upon such notice as the court may direct to be given to all parties to the proceedings and to any other parties in interest designated by the court, the court may appoint a liquidating receiver or receivers with authority to collect the assets of the corporation. Such liquidating receiver or receivers shall have authority, subject to the order of the court to sell, convey and dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation wherever situated, either at public or private sale. The order appointing such liquidating receiver or receivers shall state their powers and duties. Such powers and duties may be increased or diminished at any time during the proceedings.

The assets of the corporation or the proceeds resulting from a sale, conveyance, or other disposition thereof shall be applied and distributed as follows:

1. All costs and expenses of the court proceedings and all liabilities and obligations of the corporation shall be paid, satisfied and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made therefor;

2. Assets held by the corporation upon condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution or liquidation, shall be returned, transferred or conveyed in accordance with such requirements;

3. Assets received and held by the corporation subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational or similar purposes, but not held upon a condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance by reason of the dissolution or liquidation, shall be transferred or conveyed to one or more domestic or foreign corporations, societies or organizations engaged in activities substantially similar to those of the dissolving or liquidating corporation as the court may direct;

4. Other assets, if any, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the articles of incorporation or the bylaws to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws determine the distributive rights of members, or any class or classes of members, or provide for distribution to others;

5. Any remaining assets may be distributed to such persons, societies, organizations or domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or not for profit, specified in the plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter, or where no plan of distribution has been adopted, as the court may direct.

The court shall have power to allow, from time to time, as expenses of the liquidation, compensation to the receiver or receivers and to attorneys in the proceeding, and to direct the payment thereof out of the assets of the corporation or the proceeds of any sale or disposition of such assets.

A receiver of a corporation appointed under the provisions of this section shall have authority to sue and defend in all courts in his own name as receiver of such corporation. The court appointing such receiver shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the corporation and its property, wherever situated. [C66, 71, §504A.57]

504A.58 Qualification of receivers. A receiver shall in all cases be a citizen of the United States or a corporation for profit authorized to act as receiver, which corporation may be a domestic corporation or a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, and shall in all cases give such bond as the court may direct with such sureties as the court may require. [C66, 71, §504A.58]

504A.59 Filing of claims in liquidation proceedings. In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation the court may require all creditors of the corporation to file with the clerk of the court or with the receiver, in such form as the court may prescribe, proofs under oath of their respective claims. If the court requires the filing of claims it shall fix a date, which shall be not less than four months from the date of the order, as the last day for the filing of claims, and shall prescribe the notice that shall be given to creditors and claimants of the date so fixed. Prior to the date so fixed, the court may extend the time for the filing of claims. Creditors and claimants failing to file proofs of claim on or before the date so fixed may be barred, by order of court, from participating in the distribution of the assets of the corporation. [C66, 71, §504A.59]

504A.60 Discontinuance of liquidation proceedings. The liquidation of the assets and affairs of a corporation may be discontinued at any time during the liquidation proceedings when it is established that cause for liquidation no longer exists. In such event the court shall dismiss the proceedings and direct the receiver to redeliver to the corporation all its remaining property and assets. [C66, 71, §504A.60]

504A.61 Decree of dissolution. In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation, when the costs and expenses of such proceedings and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation shall have been paid and discharged and all of its remaining property and assets distributed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, or in case its property and assets are not sufficient to satisfy and discharge such costs, expenses, debts, and obligations, and all the property and assets distributed as far as they will go to their payment, the court shall enter a decree dissolving the corporation, whereupon the existence of the corporation shall cease. [C66, 71, §504A.61]

504A.62 Filing of decree of dissolution. In case the court shall enter a decree dissolving a corporation, it shall be the duty of the clerk of such court to cause certified copies of the decree to be filed with and recorded by the secretary of state and the county recorder of the county in which is located the corporation's registered office. No fee shall be charged by the secretary of state or said county recorder for the filing or recording thereof. [C66, 71, §504A.62]

504A.63 Deposit with state treasurer.

1. Upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a corporation the portion of the assets distributable to any person who is known, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive such distributive portion, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person or persons responsible for the distribution in liquidation of the corporation's assets, shall be reduced to cash and deposited with the state treasurer, together with a statement giving the name of the person, if known, entitled to such fund, his last known address, the amount of his distributive portion, and such other information about such person as the state treasurer may reasonably require, whereupon the person or persons responsible for the distribution in liquidation of the corporation's assets shall be released and discharged from any further liability with respect to the funds so deposited. The state treasurer shall issue his receipt for such fund and shall deposit same in a special account to be maintained by him.

2. On receipt of satisfactory written and verified proof of ownership of or right to such fund within twenty years from the date such fund was so deposited, the state treasurer shall certify such fact to the state comptroller, who shall issue proper warrant therefor drawn on the state treasurer in favor of the person or persons then entitled thereto. If no claimant has made satisfactory proof of right to such fund within twenty years from the time of such deposit, the state treasurer shall then cause to be published in one issue of a newspaper of general circulation in the county of the last registered office of the corporation, as shown by the records of the secretary of state, a notice of the proposed escheat of such fund, giving the name of the person apparently entitled thereto, his last known address, if any, the amount of the fund so deposited, and the name of the dissolved corporation from whose assets such fund was derived. If no claimant makes satisfactory proof of right to such fund within two months from the time of such publication, the fund so unclaimed shall therewith automatically escheat to and become the property of the general fund of the state. [C66, 71, §504A.63]

504A.64 Survival of rights and remedies after dissolution or expiration. The dissolution of a corporation or the expiration of its period of duration, shall not take away or impair any remedy available to or against such corporation, its directors, officers, or members, for any right or claim existing, or any liability incurred, prior to such dissolution or expiration, if action or other proceeding thereon is commenced within two years after the date of such dissolution or expiration. Any such action or proceeding by or against the corporation may be prosecuted or defended by the corporation in its corporate name. The members, directors and officers shall have power to take such corporate or other action as shall be appropriate to protect such remedy, right or claim. If the period of duration of a corporation has expired, it may amend its articles of incorporation at any time within five years after the date of such expiration so as to extend its period of duration.

A corporation which has been dissolved or the period of duration of which has expired by limitation or otherwise, may nevertheless continue to act for the purpose of conveying title to its property, real and personal, and otherwise winding up its affairs. [C66, 71, §501A.64]

504A.66 Powers of foreign corporation. A foreign corporation which shall have received a certificate of authority under this chapter, shall, until a certificate of revocation or of withdrawal shall have been issued as provided in this chapter, enjoy the same, but no greater, rights and privileges as a domestic corporation organized for the purposes set forth in the application pursuant to which such certificate of authorization is issued; and, except as in this chapter otherwise provided, shall be subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties and liabilities now or hereafter imposed upon a domestic corporation of like character. [C66, 71, §504A.66]

504A.67 Corporate name of foreign corporation. No certificate of authority shall be issued to a foreign corporation unless the corporate name of such corporation:

1. Shall not contain any word or phrase which indicates or implies that it is organized for any purpose other than one or more of the purposes contained in its articles of incorporation.
2. Shall not be the same as, or deceptively similar to, the name of any corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, existing under the laws of this state, or any foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or con-
3. Shall be transliterated into letters of the English alphabet, if it is not in English. [C66, 71, §504A.67]

504A.68 Change of name by foreign corporation. Whenever a foreign corporation which is authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall change its name to one under which a certificate of authority would not be granted to it on application therefor, the certificate of authority of such corporation shall be suspended and it shall not thereafter conduct any affairs in this state until it has changed its name to a name which is available to it under the laws of this state. [C66, 71, §504A.68]

504A.69 Application for certificate of authority. A foreign corporation, in order to procure a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state, shall make application therefor to the secretary of state, which application shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. The date of incorporation and the period of duration of the corporation.
3. The address of the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.

5. The purpose or purposes of the corporation which it proposes to pursue in conducting its affairs in this state.
6. The names and respective addresses of the directors and officers of the corporation.
7. Such additional information as may be necessary or appropriate in order to enable the secretary of state to determine whether such corporation is entitled to a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state.

Such application shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed in duplicate by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and verified by one of the officers signing such application. [C66, 71, §504A.69]

504A.70 Filing of application for certificate of authority. Duplicate originals of the application of the corporation for a certificate of authority, together with a copy of its articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto, duly certified by the proper officer of the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated, shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in his office.

Upon the filing of the application the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state to which he shall affix the other duplicate original application, and send the same to the corporation or its representative. [C66, 71, §504A.70]

504A.71 Effect of certificate of authority. Upon the issuance of a certificate of authority by the secretary of state, the corporation shall be authorized to conduct affairs in this state for those purposes set forth in its application, subject, however, to the right of this state to suspend or to revoke such authority as provided in this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.71]

504A.72 Registered office and registered agent of foreign corporation. Each foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall have and continuously maintain in this state:

1. A registered office which may be, but need not be, the same as its principal office.
2. A registered agent or agents which may be either an individual resident in this state whose business office is identical with such registered office, or a domestic corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, or a foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, having an office identical with such registered office. [C66, 71, §504A.72]

504A.73 Change of registered office or registered agent of foreign corporation. A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state may change its registered office or change its registered agent or agent's, or both office and agent or agents, upon filing in the office of the secretary of state a statement setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The address of its then registered office.
3. If the address of its registered office be changed, the address to which the registered office is to be changed.
4. The name of its then registered agent or agents.
5. If its registered agent or agents be changed, the name of its successor registered agent or agents.
6. That the address of its registered office and the address of the business office of its registered agent or agents, as changed, will be identical.

Such statement shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president, and verified by him, and delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such statement conforms to the provisions of this chapter, he shall file such statement in his office, and upon such filing the change of address of the registered office, or the appointment of a new registered agent or agents, or both, as the case may be, shall become effective.
If a registered agent or agents change his, their or its business address to another place within the same county, he, they or it may change such address and the address of the registered office of any corporations of which he, they or it is registered agent by filing a statement as required above for each corporation, or a single statement for all corporations named therein, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsections 5 and 7 above, and must recite that notification of such change has been mailed to each such corporation. Such statement executed and filed by a registered agent shall become effective upon the filing thereof in the manner as required above for statements executed by the foreign corporation.

Any registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign as such agent upon filing a written notice thereof, executed in duplicate, with the secretary of state, who shall forthwith mail a copy thereof to the corporation at its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated. The appointment of such agent shall terminate upon any such corporation upon whom any such process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served.

Whenever a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall fail to appoint or maintain a registered agent in this state, or whenever any such registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the registered office, or whenever the certificate of authority of a foreign corporation shall be suspended or revoked, then the secretary of state shall be an agent of such corporation to execute any such process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation.

504A.75 Amendment to articles of incorporation of foreign corporation. Whenever the articles of incorporation of a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state are amended, such foreign corporation shall, within thirty days after such amendment becomes effective, file in the office of the secretary of state a copy of such amendment duly certified by the proper officer of the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated; but the filing thereof shall not of itself enlarge or alter the purpose or purposes which such corporation is authorized to pursue in conducting its affairs in this state, nor authorize such corporation to conduct affairs in this state under any other name than the name set forth in its certificate of authority. [C66, 71, § 504A.75]

The requirements in respect to the form and contents of such application, the manner of its execution, the filing of duplicate originals thereof with the secretary of state, issuance of an amended certificate of authority and the effect thereof, shall be the same as in the case of an original application for a certificate of authority. [C66, 71,§504A.77]

§504A.78 Withdrawal of foreign corporation. A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state may withdraw from this state upon procuring from the secretary of state a certificate of withdrawal. In order to procure such certificate of withdrawal, such foreign corporation shall deliver to the secretary of state an application for withdrawal, which shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. That the corporation is not conducting affairs in this state.
3. That the corporation surrenders its authority to conduct affairs in this state.

5. A post-office address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process against the corporation that may be served on him.
6. Such additional information as may be necessary or appropriate in order to enable the secretary of state to determine and assess any unpaid fees payable by such foreign corporation as in this chapter prescribed.

The application for withdrawal shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and verified by one of the officers signing the application, or, if the corporation is in the hands of a receiver or trustee, shall be executed on behalf of the corporation by such receiver or trustee and verified by him. [C66, 71,§504A.78]

§504A.79 Filing of application for withdrawal. Duplicate originals of such application for withdrawal shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such application conforms to the provisions of this chapter, he shall, when all fees due him have been paid as in this chapter prescribed:

1. Endorse on each of such duplicate originals the word “Filed”, and the month, day and year of the filing thereof.
2. File one of such duplicate originals in his office.
3. Issue a certificate of withdrawal to which he shall affix the other duplicate original.

The certificate of withdrawal, together with the duplicate original of the application for withdrawal affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the corporation or its representative. Upon the issuance of such certificate of withdrawal, the authority of the corporation to conduct affairs in this state shall cease. [C66, 71,§504A.79]

§504A.80 Revocation of certificate of authority. The certificate of authority of a foreign corporation to conduct affairs in this state may be revoked by the secretary of state upon the conditions prescribed in this section when:

1. The corporation has failed to file its annual report within the time required by this chapter, or has failed to pay any fees or penalties prescribed by this chapter when the same have become due and payable; or
2. The corporation has failed to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state as required by this chapter; or
3. The corporation has failed, after change of its registered office or registered agent, to file in the office of the secretary of state a statement of such change as required by this chapter; or
4. The corporation has failed to file in the office of the secretary of state any amendment to its articles of incorporation or any articles of merger within the time prescribed by this chapter; or
5. A misrepresentation has been made of any material matter in any application, report, affidavit, or other document submitted by such corporation pursuant to this chapter.

No certificate of authority of a foreign corporation shall be revoked by the secretary of state unless (a) he shall have given the corporation not less than sixty days' notice thereof by mail addressed to the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated, and (b) the corporation shall fail prior to revocation to file such annual report, or pay such fees or penalties, or file the required statement of change of registered agent or registered office or file such articles of amendment or articles of merger, or correct such misrepresentation. [C66, 71,§504A.80]

3. Mail to such corporation at the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated a notice of such revocation accompanied by one of such certificates.

Upon the issuance of such certificate of revocation, the authority of the corporation to conduct affairs in this state shall cease. [C66, 71,§504A.81]

§504A.82 Conducting affairs without certificate of authority. No foreign corporation which is conducting affairs in this state without a certificate of authority shall be permitted to maintain any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state until such corporation shall have obtained a certificate of authority. Nor shall any action, suit or proceeding be maintained in any court of this state by any successor or assignee of such corporation on any right, claim or demand arising out of the conduct of affairs by such corporation in this state, until a certificate of authority shall have been obtained by such corporation or by a corporation which has acquired all or substantially all of its assets.

The failure of a foreign corporation to obtain a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state shall not impair the validity of any contract or act of such corporation, and shall not prevent such corporation from defending any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state.

A foreign corporation which conducts affairs in this state without a certificate of authority shall be liable to this state, for the years or parts thereof during which it conducted affairs in this state without a certificate of authority, in an amount equal to all fees which would have been imposed by this chapter upon such corporation had it duly applied for and received a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state as required by this chapter and thereafter filed all reports required by this chapter, plus all penalties imposed by this chapter for failure to pay such fees. The attorney general shall bring proceedings to recover all amounts due this state under the provisions of this section. If any foreign corporation shall conduct affairs in this state without a certificate of authority, it shall by conducting such affairs be deemed thereby to have appointed the secretary of state its attorney for service of process. [C66, 71,§504A.82]

504A.84 Filing of annual report of domestic and foreign corporations. Such annual report of a domestic or foreign corporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in his office between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of March of each year, except that the first annual report of a domestic or foreign corporation shall be filed between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of March of the year succeeding the calendar year in which its certificate of incorporation or its certificate of authority, as the case may be, was issued by the secretary of state, and except that if the existence of such domestic corporation or the authority of such foreign corporation to conduct affairs in this state began in December of any year, its first annual report shall be filed between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of March of the second year succeeding the calendar year in which such corporate existence or authority to conduct affairs began. Such report shall be deemed filed within the required time if deposited in the United States mail with postage prepaid in a sealed envelope, properly addressed and postmarked on or prior to the thirty-first day of March. Each corporation, domestic or foreign, that fails or refuses to answer truthfully and fully within the time prescribed by this chapter reasonable and proper interrogatories propounded by the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be fined in an amount not exceeding five hundred dollars.

The secretary of state may cancel the certificate of incorporation of any corporation that fails or refuses to file its annual report for any year prior to the first day of June of the year in which it is due by issuing a certificate of such cancellation at any time after the expiration of thirty days following the mailing to the corporation of notice of the cancellation to the attorney general of the failure of the corporation to file such annual report as required by section 504A.54, provided the corporation has not filed such annual report prior to the issuance of the certificate of cancellation.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of cancellation, the corporate existence of the corporation shall terminate, subject to right of reinstatement as herein provided, and the corporation shall cease to conduct its affairs, except as may be necessary for the “winding up” thereof or for securing reinstatement and the right of the corporation to the use of its name shall cease and such name shall thereupon be available to any other corporation or foreign corporation or for reserva­tion as provided in this chapter. Its directors, officers or members for any right or claim existing or any liability incurred prior to such cancellation, but no action or proceeding thereon may be prosecuted by such corporation until it shall have been reinstated. Any such action or proceeding against such corporation may be brought by the corporation, if it has not been reinstated, in its corporate name to which there shall be appended the word “canceled” followed by the date of the issuance of the certificate of cancellation.

Unless the corporation is reinstated, the corporation, upon the issuance of the certificate of cancellation, shall proceed to liquidate its affairs as provided by this chapter in cases of voluntary dissolution. However, the district court in a suit in equity shall have full power to liquidate the assets and affairs of such a corporation upon application by such corporation or in a suit by a member or director or creditor of such corporation when such corporation fails to proceed promptly with such liquidation or to make application to the court therefor. A copy of the certificate of cancellation, certified by the secretary of state, shall be taken and received in all courts as prima-facie evidence of the cancellation of the certificate of incorporation as stated therein.

If the certificate of incorporation of a corporation has been canceled by the secretary of state as provided in this section for failure to file an annual report, such corporation shall be reinstated by the secretary of state at any time within five years following the date of the issuance by the secretary of state of the certificate of cancellation upon:

Upon the issuance of the certificate of reinstatement, the corporation shall be entitled to continue to act as a corporation for the unexpired portion of its corporate period as fixed by its articles of incorporation, except, that the corporation shall not be entitled to use the name of the corporation at the time of the issuance of the certificate of cancellation if another corporation or foreign corporation is entitled to use such name or such name is then reserved as provided in this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.87]

Each director and officer of a corporation, domestic or foreign, who willfully fails or refuses within the time prescribed by this chapter to answer truthfully and fully reasonable and proper interrogatories propounded to him by the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, or who signs any articles, statement, report, application or other document filed with the secretary of state which is known to such officer or director to be false in any material respect, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof may be fined in any amount not exceeding five hundred dollars. [C66, 71, §504A.88]

504A.89 Interrogatories by secretary of state. The secretary of state may propound to any corporation, domestic or foreign, subject to the provisions of this chapter, and to any officer or director thereof, such interrogatories as may be reasonably necessary and proper to enable him to ascertain whether such corporation has complied with all the provisions of this chapter applicable to such corporation. Such interrogatories shall be answered within thirty days after the mailing thereof, or within such additional time as shall be fixed by the secretary of state, and the answers thereto shall be full and complete and shall be made in writing and under oath. If such interrogatories be directed to an individual they shall be answered by him, and if directed to a corporation they shall be answered by the president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, secretary or assistant secretary thereof. The secretary of state need not file any document to which such interrogatories relate until such interrogatories be answered as herein provided, and not then if the answers thereto disclose that such document is not in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. The secretary of state shall certify to the attorney general, for such action as the attorney general may deem appropriate, all interrogatories and answers thereto which disclose a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter. [C66, 71, §504A.89]

504A.90 Information disclosed by interrogatories. Interrogatories propounded by the secretary of state and the answers thereto shall not be open to public inspection nor shall the secretary of state disclose any facts or information obtained therefrom except insofar as required in the performance of his official duties. [C66, 71, §504A.90]

consolidation or dissolution, or any other document required by this chapter to be approved by the secretary of state before the same shall be filed in his office, he shall, within ten days after the delivery thereof to him, give written notice of his disapproval to the person or corporation, domestic or foreign, delivering the same, specifying the reasons therefor. From such disapproval such person or corporation may appeal to the district court of the county in which the registered office of such corporation is, or is proposed to be, situated by filing with the clerk of such court a petition setting forth a copy of the articles or other document sought to be filed and a copy of the written disapproval thereof by the secretary of state; whereupon the matter shall be tried de novo by the court, and the court shall either sustain the action of the secretary of state or direct him to take such action as the court may deem proper.

If the secretary of state shall revoke the certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state of any foreign corporation, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, such foreign corporation may likewise appeal to the district court of the county where the registered office of such corporation in this state is situated, by filing with the clerk of such court a petition setting forth a copy of its certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state and a copy of the notice of revocation given by the secretary of state; whereupon the matter shall be tried de novo by the court, and the court shall either sustain the action of the secretary of state or direct him to take such action as the court may deem proper.

Appeals from all final orders and judgments entered by the district court under this section in review of any ruling or decision of the secretary of state may be taken as in other civil actions. [C66, 71,§504A.92]

All certificates issued by the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and copies of all documents filed or recorded in his office in accordance with the provisions of this chapter when certified by him, shall be taken and received in all courts, public offices, and official bodies as prima-facie evidence of the facts therein stated. A certificate by the secretary of state under the seal of his office, as to the existence or nonexistence of the facts relating to corporations which would not appear from a certified copy of any of the foregoing documents or certificates shall be taken and received in all courts, public offices, and official bodies as prima-facie evidence of the existence or nonexistence of the facts therein stated. [C66, 71,§504A.93]

504A.94 Forms to be furnished by secretary of state. All reports required by this chapter to be filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be made on forms which shall be prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state. Forms for other documents to be filed in the office of the secretary of state may be furnished by the secretary of state on request therefor, but the use thereof, unless otherwise specifically prescribed in this chapter, shall not be mandatory. [C66, 71,§504A.94]

504A.95 Voting requirements. Whenever, with respect to any action to be taken by the members or directors of a corporation, the articles of incorporation or bylaws require voting by classes of members or the vote or concurrence of a greater or lesser proportion of the directors or members or any class of members, as the case may be, than required by this chapter with respect to such action, the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws, as the case may be, shall control. [C66, 71,§504A.95]

504A.96 Waiver of notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given to any member or director of a corporation under the provisions of this chapter or under the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the corporation, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. [C66, 71,§504A.96]

504A.97 Informal action by members or directors. Any action required by this chapter to be taken at a meeting of the members or directors of a corporation, or any action which may be taken at a meeting of the members or directors or of a committee of directors, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the members entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter therefor or all of the directors or all of the members of the committee of directors, as the case may be. Such consent shall have the same force and effect as a unanimous vote and may be stated as such in any articles or document filed with the secretary of state under this chapter. The provisions of this section shall be applicable whether or not this chapter requires that an action be taken by resolution. [C66, 71,§504A.97]

504A.98 Unauthorized assumption of corporate powers. All persons who assume to act as a corporation without authority so to do shall be jointly and severally liable for all debts and liabilities incurred or arising as a result thereof. [C66, 71,§504A.98]

The general assembly shall at all times have power to prescribe such regulations, provisions and limitations as it may deem advisable, which regulations, provisions and limitations shall be binding upon any and all corporations subject to the provisions of this chapter, and the general assembly shall have power to amend, repeal or modify this chapter at pleasure. [C66, 71,§504A.99]
504A.100 Application to existing corporations.

Such corporations shall continue to be governed by all laws of this state heretofore applicable thereto and as the same may hereafter be amended. This chapter shall not be construed as in derogation of or as a limitation on the powers to which such corporations may be entitled.

2. This chapter shall not apply to any domestic corporation heretofore organized or existing under the provisions of chapter 504 of the Code nor, for a period of two years from and after July 4, 1965, to any foreign corporation holding a permit under the provisions of said chapter on the said date, unless such domestic or foreign corporation shall voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and shall comply with the procedure prescribed by the provisions of subsection 3 of this section.

3. Any domestic corporation organized or existing under the provisions of chapter 504 may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and thereby become subject to its provisions and, during the period of two years from and after the effective date of this chapter, any foreign corporation holding a permit under the provisions of said chapter on said date may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and thereby become subject to the provisions of this chapter. The procedure for electing to adopt the provisions of this chapter shall be as follows:

UNAUTHORIZED INSURERS ACT

507A.1 Title. This chapter may be cited as the "Iowa Unauthorized Insurers Act". [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §507A.1]

507A.2 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to subject certain persons and insurers to the jurisdiction of the insurance commissioner and the courts of this state in suits by or on behalf of the state and insureds or beneficiaries under insurance contracts. The general assembly hereby declares that it is a subject of concern that many residents of this state hold policies of insurance issued by persons and insurers not authorized to do insurance business in this state, thus presenting to such residents the often insuperable obstacle of asserting their legal rights under such policies in forums foreign to them under laws and rules of practice with which they are not familiar. The general assembly further declares that it is also concerned with the protection of residents of this state against acts by persons and insurers not authorized to do an insurance business in this state, by the maintenance of fair and honest insurance markets, by protecting the premium tax revenues of this state, by protecting authorized persons and insurers which are subject to regulation from unfair competition by unauthorized persons and insurers, and by protecting against the evasion of the insurance regulatory laws of this state.

In furtherance of such state interest, the general assembly herein provides methods for substituted service of process upon such persons or insurers in any proceeding, suit or action in any court and substitute service of any notice, order, pleading or process upon such persons or insurers in any proceeding before the commissioner of insurance to enforce or effect full compliance with the insurance and tax laws of this state. In so doing, the state exercises its powers to protect residents of this state and to define what constitutes doing an insurance business in this state, and also exercises powers and privileges available to this state by virtue of Public Law 79-15, 79th Congress of the United States, Chapter 20, 1st Sess., S. 340, 59 Stat. L. 33; 15 U. S. C. 1011 to 1015, inclusive, which declares that the business of insurance and every person engaged therein shall be subject to the laws of the several states. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§507A.2]

8. Insurance on vessels, craft or hulls, cargoes, marine builder's risk, marine protection and indemnity or other risk including strikes and war risks commonly insured under ocean or wet marine forms of policy.

However, should any unauthorized person or insurer perform any act of doing an insurance business as set forth in this chapter, it shall be equivalent to and shall constitute an irrevocable appointment by such person or insurer, binding upon him, his executor or administrator, or successor in interest if a corporation, of the commissioner of insurance or his successor in office, to be the true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding in any court arising out of doing an insurance business in this state or instituted by or on behalf of an insured or beneficiary arising out of any such acts of doing an insurance business, except in an action, suit or proceeding by the commissioner of insurance.

1. Effective with all premiums collected during the calendar year 1967, except premiums on lawfully procured surplus lines insurance, every unauthorized insurer shall pay to the commissioner of insurance before March 1, next succeeding the calendar year in which the insurance was so effectuated, continued, or renewed a premium tax of two percent of gross premiums charged for such insurance on subjects resident, located, or to be performed in this state. Such insurance whether procured through negotiation or an application, in whole or in part occurring or made within or outside of this state, or for which premiums in whole or in part are remitted directly or indirectly from within or outside of this state, shall be deemed to be insurance procured or continued in this state. The term "premium" includes all premiums, membership fees, assessments, dues, and any other consideration for insurance. If the tax prescribed by this section is not paid within the time stated, the tax shall be increased by a penalty of twenty-five percent and by the amount of an additional penalty computed at the rate of one percent per month or any part thereof from the date such payment was due to the date paid.

2. If the policy covers risks or exposures only partly in the state, the tax payable shall be computed on the portions of the premium which are properly allocable to the risks or exposures located in the state. In determining the amount of premiums taxable in this state, all premiums written, procured, or received in this state and all premiums on policies negotiated in this state shall be deemed written on property or risks located or resident in this state, except such premiums as are properly allocated or apportioned and reported as taxable premiums of any other state or states.

2. In the case of life insurance policies issued on the industrial debit plan, making allowance to policyholders who have continuously for a specified period made premium payments directly to an office of the insurer in an amount which fairly represents the saving in collection expenses.

n. Failing to promptly provide a reasonable explanation of the basis in the insurance policy in relation to the facts or applicable law for denial of a claim or for the offer of a compromise settlement.

10. Misrepresentation in insurance applications. Making false or fraudulent statements or representations on or relative to an application for an insurance policy, for the purpose of obtaining a fee, commission, money, or other benefit from any insurer, agent, broker, or individual.

11. Any violation of section 515A.16. [C97, §1722; S13, §§1782, 1820-h; SS15, §1758-f; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8666, 8759, 9022; C46, 50, 54, §§508.23, 511.20, 515.144; C58, 62, 66, 71, §507B.4; 64GA, ch 1111.§3]

Referred to in §§507B.6, 507B.7, 507B.12

507B.5 Favored agent or insurer—coercion of debtors.

1. No person may do any of the following:

a. Require, as a condition precedent to the lending of money or extension of credit, or any renewal thereof, that the person to whom such money or credit is extended or whose obligation the creditor is to acquire or finance, negotiate any policy or contract of insurance through a particular insurer or group of insurers or agent or broker or group of agents or brokers.

b. Unreasonably disapprove the insurance policy provided by a borrower for the protection of the property securing the credit or lien.

c. Require directly or indirectly that any borrower, mortgagor, purchaser, insurer, broker, or agent pay a separate charge, in connection with the handling of any insurance policy required as security for a loan on real estate, or pay a separate charge to substitute the insurance policy of one insurer for that of another.

d. Use or disclose information resulting from a requirement that a borrower, mortgagor or purchaser furnish insurance of any kind on real property being conveyed or used as collateral security to a loan, when such information is to the advantage of the mortgagor, vendor, or lender, or is to the detriment of the borrower, mortgagor, purchaser, insurer, or the agent or broker complying with such a requirement.

2. Subsection 1, paragraph "c" of this section does not include the interest which may be charged on premium loans or premium advancements in accordance with the security instrument.

3. For purposes of subsection 1, paragraph "b" of this section, such disapproval shall be deemed unreasonable if it is not based solely on reasonable standards uniformly applied, relating to the extent of coverage required and the financial soundness and the services of an insurer. Such standards shall not discriminate against any particular type of insurer, nor shall such standards call for the disapproval of an insurance policy because such policy contains coverage in addition to that required.

4. If a violation of this section is found, the person in violation shall be subject to the same procedures and penalties as are applicable to other provisions of this chapter.

5. For purposes of this section, "person" includes any individual, corporation, association, partnership, or other legal entity. [61GA, ch 1111,§4]

§507B.6 Hearings, witnesses appearances, production of books and service of process.

1. Whenever the commissioner shall have reason to believe that any such person has been engaged or is engaging in an unfair method of competition or any unfair or deceptive act or practice whether or not defined in section 507B.4 or 507B.5 and that a proceeding by him in respect thereto would be to the interest of the public, he shall issue and serve upon such person a statement of the charges in that respect and a notice of a hearing thereon to be held at a time and place fixed in the notice, which shall not be less than ten days after the date of the service thereof.

2. At the time and place fixed for such hearing, such person shall have an opportunity to be heard and to show cause why an order should not be made by the commissioner requiring such person to cease and desist from the acts, methods or practices so complained of. Upon good cause shown, the commissioner shall permit any person to intervene, appear and be heard at such hearing by counsel or in person.

3. Nothing contained in this chapter shall require the observance at any such hearing of formal rules of pleading or evidence.

4. The commissioner, upon such hearing, may administer oaths, examine and cross-examine witnesses, receive oral and documentary evidence, and shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, and require the production of books, papers, records, correspondence, or other documents which he deems relevant to the inquiry. The commissioner, upon such hearing, may, and upon the request of any party shall, cause to be made a stenographic record of all the evidence and all the proceedings had at such hearing. If no stenographic record is made and if a judicial review is sought, the commissioner shall prepare a statement of the evidence and proceeding for use on review. In case of a refusal of any person to comply with any subpoena issued hereunder or to testify with respect to any matter concerning which he may be lawfully interrogated, the district court of Polk county or the county where such party resides, on application of the commissioner, may issue an order requiring such person to comply with such subpoena and to testify; and any failure to obey any such order of the court may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

5. Statements of charges, notices, orders, and other processes of the commissioner under this chapter may be served by anyone duly authorized by the commissioner, either in the manner provided by law for service of process in civil actions, or by mailing a copy thereof by restricted certified mail to the person affected by such statement, notice, order, or other process at his or its residence or principal office or place of business. The verified return by the person so serving such statement, notice, order, or other process, setting forth the manner of such service, shall be proof of the same, and the return receipt for such statement, notice, order or other process, mailed by restricted certified mail as aforesaid, shall be proof of the service of the same. [C58, 62, 66, 71.§507B.6; 61GA, ch 1111, §5]

§507B.7 Cease and desist orders and modifications thereof.

1. If, after such hearing, the commissioner shall determine that the person charged has engaged in an unfair method of competition or an unfair or deceptive act or practice, he shall reduce his findings to writing and shall issue and cause to be served upon the person charged with the violation a copy of such findings, an order requiring such person to cease and desist from engaging in such method of competition, act or practice and if the act or practice is a violation of section 507B.4 or 507B.5, the commissioner may at his discretion order any one or more of the following:

a. Payment of a monetary penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each and every act or violation, but not to exceed an aggregate of ten thousand dollars, unless the person knew or reasonably should have known he was in violation of section 507B.4 or 507B.5, in which case the penalty shall be not more than five thousand dollars for each and every act or violation, but not to exceed an aggregate penalty of fifty thousand dollars in any one six-month period. The commissioner shall, if he finds the violations of sections 507B.4 or 507B.5 were directed, encouraged, condoned, ignored, or ratified by the employer of such person, assess such fine to the employer and not such person.

b. Suspension or revocation of the license of a person as defined in section 507B.2, subsection 1, if he knew or reasonably should have known he was in violation of section 507B.4 or section 507B.5.

2. Until the expiration of the time allowed under section 507B.8, subsection 1, for filing a petition for review if no such petition has been duly filed within such time, or, if a petition for review has been filed within such time, then until the transcript of the record in the proceeding has been filed in the district court, as hereinafter provided, the commissioner may at any time, upon such notice and in such manner as he may deem proper, modify or set aside in whole or in part any order issued by him under this section.

Referred to in §§507B.8(3),§507B.10

3. After the expiration of the time allowed for filing such a petition for review if no such petition has been duly filed within such time, the commissioner may at any time, after notice and opportunity for hearing, reopen and alter, modify, or set aside, in whole or in part, any order issued by him under this section, whenever in his opinion conditions of fact or of law have so changed as to require such action, or if the public interest shall so require. [C58, 62, 66, 71.§507B.7; 64GA, ch 1111,§6]

507B.8 Judicial review of cease and desist orders.

1. Any person subject to an order of the commissioner under section 507B.7 or section 507B.11, may obtain a review of such order by filing in the district court of Polk county, within ten days from the date of the service of such order, a written petition, duly sworn to, praying that the order of the commissioner be set aside, and stating the specific grounds thereof. If the court shall find that the grounds thus stated, if true, might reasonably justify the modification of the commissioner's order, it shall direct that a copy of such petition be forthwith served upon the commissioner and thereupon the commissioner forthwith shall certify and file in such court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including all the evidence taken and the report and order of the commissioner. Upon such filing of the petition and transcript such court shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, shall determine whether the filing of such petition shall operate as a stay of such order of the commissioner, and shall have power to make and enter upon the pleadings, evidence, and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree modifying, affirming or reversing the order of the commissioner, in whole or in part. The findings of the commissioner as to the facts if supported by reasonable evidence, shall be conclusive.

2. To the extent that the order of the commissioner is affirmed, the court shall thereupon issue its own order commanding obedience to the terms of such order of the commissioner. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the proceeding before the commissioner, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the commissioner and to be adduced upon the hearing in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper. The commissioner may modify his findings of fact, or make new findings by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and he shall file such modified or new findings which if supported by reasonable evidence shall be conclusive, and his recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of his original order, with the return of such additional evidence.

3. An order issued by the commissioner under section 507B.7 shall become final:

a. Upon the expiration of the time allowed for filing a petition for review if no such petition has been duly filed within such time; except that the commissioner may thereafter modify or set aside his order to the extent provided in section 507B.7, subsection 2; or

b. Upon the final decision of the court if the court directs that the order of the commissioner be affirmed or the petition for review dismissed.

1. No order of the commissioner under this chapter or order of a court to enforce the same shall in any way relieve or absolve any person affected by such order from any liability under any other laws of this state. [C58, 62, 66, 71.§507B.8; 64GA, ch 1111,§7]

507B.9 Repealed by 64GA, ch 1111,§11.

507B.10 Judicial review by intervener. If after any hearing under section 507B.7 or section 507B.11 the report of the commissioner

does not charge a violation of this chapter, then any intervenor in the proceedings may within ten days after the service of such report, cause a petition for writ of certiorari to be filed in the district court of Polk county for a review of such report. Upon such review, the court shall have authority to issue appropriate orders and decrees in connection therewith, including, if the court finds that it is to the interest of the public, orders enjoining and restraining the continuance of any method of competition, act or practice which it finds, notwithstanding such report of the commissioner, constitutes a violation of this chapter and containing penalties pursuant to section 507B.7. [C58, 62, 66, 71, §507B.10; 64GA, ch 1111, §8]

507B.11 Penalty. Any person who violates a cease and desist order of the commissioner under section 507B.7, and while such order is in effect, may after notice and hearing and upon order of the commissioner be subject at the discretion of the commissioner to any one or more of the following:

1. A monetary penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each and every act or violation.

2. Suspension or revocation of such person’s license. [C97, §1783; S13, §1820-c; SS15, §1758-f; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8667, 8760, 9022; C46, 50, 54, §§508.24, 511.21, 515.144; C58, 62, 66, 71, §507B.11; 64GA, ch 1111, §9]

Referred to in §§507B.8, 507B.10

507B.12 Rules. The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules, as are necessary or proper to identify specific methods of competition or acts or practices which are prohibited by section 507B.4 or 507B.5, but the rules shall not enlarge upon or extend the provisions of such sections. Such rules shall be subject to review in accordance with chapter 17A.

The powers vested in the commissioner by this chapter shall be additional to any other powers to enforce any penalties, fines or forfeitures authorized by law with respect to the methods, acts and practices hereby declared to be unfair or deceptive. [C58, 62, 66, 71, §507B.12; 64GA, ch 1111, §10]

507B.13 Immunity from prosecution. If any person shall ask to be excused from attending and testifying or from producing any books, papers, records, correspondence or other documents at any hearing on the ground that the testimony or evidence required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture, and shall notwithstanding be directed to give such testimony or produce such evidence, he must nonetheless comply with such direction, but he shall not thereafter be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence pursuant thereto, and no testimony so given or evidence produced shall be received against him upon any criminal action, investigation or proceeding, provided, however, that no such individual so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him while so testifying and the testimony or evidence so given or produced shall be admissible against him upon any criminal action, investigation or proceeding concerning such perjury, nor shall he be exempt from the refusal, revocation or suspension of any license, permission or authority conferred, or to be conferred, pursuant to the insurance law of this state. Any such individual may execute, acknowledge and file in the office of the commissioner a statement expressly waiving such immunity or privilege in respect to any transaction, matter or thing specified in such statement and thereupon the testimony of such person or such evidence in relation to such transaction, matter or thing may be received or produced before any judge or justice, court, tribunal, grand jury or otherwise, and if so received or produced such individual shall not be entitled to any immunity or privilege on account of any testimony he may so give or evidence so produced. [C58, 62, 66, 71, §507B.13; Constitutionality, 66GA, ch 237, §21]

507B.14 Transfer of insurance stock. When a controlling interest in two or more corporations, at least one of which is an insurance company domiciled in this state, is held by any person, group of persons, firm, or corporation, no exchange of stock, transfer or sale of securities, or loan based upon securities of any such corporation shall take place between such corporations, or between such person, group of persons, firm or corporation and such corporations, without first securing the approval of the insurance commissioner. If, in the opinion of the insurance commissioner, such sale, transfer, exchange, or loan would be improper and would work to the detriment of any such insurance company, he shall have the power to prohibit the transaction. Any person, firm or corporate officer or director aiding such transaction carried out without approval of the insurance commissioner shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction punished as provided in section 502.28.

For purposes of this section, controlling interest means actual control or the possession directly or indirectly of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a firm, partnership, corporation, association, or trust, whether through the ownership of voting securities by contract, or otherwise. The commissioner shall annually value, or cause to be valued, the reserve liabilities (hereinafter called reserves) for all outstanding life insurance policies and annuity and pure endowment contracts of every life insurance company doing business in this state, except that in the case of an alien company, such valuation shall be limited to its United States business, and may certify the amount of any such reserves, specifying the mortality table or tables, rate or rates of interest and methods (net level premium method or other) used in the calculation of such reserves. In calculating such reserves, he may use group methods and approximate averages for fractions of a year or otherwise. For the purpose of making such valuation the commissioner may employ a competent actuary who shall be paid by the company for which the service is rendered; but a domestic company may make such valuation and it shall be received by the commissioner upon satisfactory proof of its correctness. In lieu of the valuation of the reserves herein required of any foreign or alien company, the commissioner may accept any valuation made, or caused to be made, by the insurance supervisory official of any state or other jurisdiction when such valuation complies with the minimum standard herein provided and if the official of such state or jurisdiction accepts as sufficient and valid for all legal purposes the certificate of valuation of the commissioner when such certificate states the valuation to have been made in a specified manner according to which the aggregate reserves would be at least as large as if they had been computed in the manner prescribed by the law of that state or jurisdiction.

Any such company which at any time shall have adopted any standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided may, with the approval of the commissioner, adopt any lower standard of valuation, but not lower than the minimum herein provided.

2. This subsection shall apply to only those policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date of section 508.37 (the Standard Nonforfeiture Law).

The minimum standard of valuation for all policies of domestic life insurance companies shall be the Commissioners Reserve Valuation Method defined in paragraph "b" of subsection 3 and the American Experience Table of Mortality and four and one-half percent interest or the Actuaries' (or Combined) Experience Table of Mortality and four percent interest.

Reserves for all such policies and contracts may be calculated at the option of the company, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by this subsection.

3. This subsection shall apply to only those policies and contracts issued on or after the operative date of section 508.37 (the Standard Nonforfeiture Law).

a. The minimum standard for the valuation of all such policies and contracts shall be the Commissioners Reserve Valuation Method defined in paragraph "b" of this subsection 3, three and one-half percent interest, and the following tables:

1. For all ordinary policies of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies,—the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, provided that for any category of such policies issued on female risks all modified net premiums and present values referred to in this subsection 3 may be calculated according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured.

2. For all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies,—the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table; provided, however, that the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table shall be the table for the minimum standard when said table becomes applicable under the Standard Nonforfeiture Law in accordance with subsection 5 of section 508.37.

3. For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies,—the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table or, at the option of the company, the Annuity Mortality Table for 1949, Ultimate, or any modification of either of these tables approved by the commissioner.

4. For group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies,—the Group Annuity Mortality Table for 1951, any modification of such table approved by the commissioner, or, at the option of the company, any of the tables or modifications of tables specified for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

5. For total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts,—the tables of "Period 2" disability rates and the 1930 to 1950 termination rates of the 1952 Disability Study of the Society of Actuaries, with due regard to the type of benefit. Such table shall, for active lives, be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

6. For accidental death benefits in or supplementary to policies,—the 1959 Accidental Death Benefits Table combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

7. For group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis and other special benefits,—such tables as may be approved by the commissioner.

b. Reserves according to the Commissioners Reserve Valuation Method, for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums shall be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of such future guaranteed benefits provided for by such policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums therefor. The modified net premiums for any such policy shall be such uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for such benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such modified net premiums shall be equal to the sum of the then present value of such benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of (x) over (y), as follows:

(1) A net level annual premium equal to the present value, at the date of issue, of such benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value, at the date of issue, of an annuity of one *per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due; provided, however, that such net level annual premium shall not exceed the net level annual premium on the nineteen year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age one year higher than the age at issue of such policy.

(y) A net one year term premium for such benefits provided for in the first policy year.

Reserves according to the Commissioners Reserve Valuation Method for (1) life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums, (2) annuity and pure endowment contracts, (3) disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts, and (4) all other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies, shall be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of this paragraph "b", except that any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards shall be disregarded in the determination of modified net premiums.

c. In no event shall a company's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits, be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the method set forth in paragraph "b" above and the mortality table or tables and rate or rates of interest used in calculating nonforfeiture benefits for such policies.

d. Reserves for any category of policies, contracts or benefits as established by the commissioner, may be calculated at the option of the company according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for such category than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided. Provided, however, that reserves for participating life insurance policies may, with the consent of the commissioner, be calculated according to a rate of interest lower than the rate of interest used in calculating the nonforfeiture benefits in such policies, with the further proviso that if such lower rate differs from the rate used in the calculation of the nonforfeiture benefits by more than one-half percent the company issuing such policies shall file with the commissioner a plan providing for such equitable increase, if any, in the cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits in such policies as the commissioner shall approve.

c. If the gross premium charged by any life insurance company on any policy or contract is less than the net premium for the policy or contract according to the mortality table, rate of interest and method used in calculating the reserve thereon, there shall be maintained on such policy or contract a deficiency reserve in addition to all other reserves required by law. For each such policy or contract the deficiency reserve shall be the present value, according to such standard, of an annuity of the difference between such net premium and the premium charged for such policy or contract, running for the remainder of the premium-paying period. [C73 § 1160; C97 § 1774; C21 27, 31, 35, 39 § 8654; C46 50, 54, 58, 62, § 508.12; C66 71 § 508.36] tion of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the company on the policy; if a detailed statement of the method of computation of the values and benefits shown in the policy is not stated therein, a statement that such method of computation has been filed with the insurance supervisory official of the state in which the policy is delivered; and a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy.

2. Any of the provisions or portions thereof set forth in subsection 1 which are not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may, to the extent inapplicable, be omitted from the policy. The company shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period of six months after demand therefor with surrender of the policy.

Referred to in §508.36(2)

3. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary, whether or not required by subsection 1, shall be an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, if there had been no default, over the sum of (a) the then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in subsection 5, corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary, and (b) the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the policy. Any cash surrender value available within thirty days after any policy anniversary under any policy paid up by completion of all premium payments or any policy continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, whether or not required by subsection 1, shall be an amount not less than the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, decreased by any indebtedness to the company on the policy.

Referred to in subsection 6

4. Any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary shall be such that its present value as of such anniversary shall be at least equal to the cash surrender value then provided for by the policy or, if none is provided for, that cash surrender value which would have been required by this section in the absence of the condition that premiums shall have been paid for at least a specified period.

Referred to in subsection 6

5. Except as provided in the third paragraph of this subsection, the adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy, for each policy year, excluding any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (a) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; (b) two percent of the amount of the insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy; (c) forty percent of the adjusted premium for the first policy year; (d) twenty-five percent of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance, whichever is less. Provided, however, that in applying the percentages specified in “c” and “d” above, no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four percent of the amount of insurance or uniform amount equivalent thereto. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this subsection 5 shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy, the equivalent uniform amount thereof for the purpose of this subsection 5 shall be deemed to be the uniform amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the date of issue as the benefits under the policy, provided, however, that in the case of a policy providing a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age ten, the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age ten were the amount provided by such policy at age ten.

The adjusted premiums for any policy providing term insurance benefits by rider or supplemental policy provision shall be equal to (e) the adjusted premiums for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance benefits, increased during the period for which premiums for such term insurance benefits are payable, by (f) the adjusted premiums for such term insurance, the foregoing items “e” and “f” being calculated separately and as specified in the first two paragraphs of this subsection except that, for the purposes of “b”, “c” and “d” of the first paragraph of this subsection, the amount of insurance or equivalent uniform amount of insurance used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums referred to in "f" of this paragraph shall be equal to the excess of the corresponding amount determined for the entire policy over the amount used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums in "e" of this paragraph.

All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, provided that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured. Such calculations for all policies of industrial insurance shall be made on the basis of the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table; provided, however, that any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election that such adjusted premiums and present values shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table, after a specified date before January 1, 1968; provided, further, that, whether or not any election has been made, such Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table shall be the basis for such calculations as to all policies of industrial insurance issued on or after January 1, 1968. All calculations shall be made on the basis of the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half percent per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits; provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed in the case of policies of ordinary insurance, may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1958 Extended Term Insurance Table, and, in the case of policies of industrial insurance issued on or after January 1, 1968, all calculations may be not more than one hundred thirty percent of the rates of mortality according to the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table, except that when the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table becomes applicable, as hereinafter provided, such rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table, provided, further, that for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the commissioner.

6. Any cash surrender value and any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary, shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding policy anniversary. All values referred to in subsections 3, 4 and 5 may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death. The net value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 3 above, additional benefits payable (a) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means, (b) in the event of total and permanent disability, (c) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits, (d) as term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which, if issued as a separate policy, this section would not apply, (e) as term insurance on the life of a child or on the lives of children provided in a policy on the life of a parent of the child, if such term insurance expires before the child's age is twenty-six, is uniform in amount after the child's age is one, and has not become paid up by reason of the death of a parent of the child, and (f) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits, and premiums for all such additional benefits, shall be disregarded as ascertaining cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits provided by such section, and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

7. This section shall not apply to any reinsurance, group insurance, pure endowment, annuity or reversionary annuity contract, nor to any term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, of fifteen years or less expiring before age sixty-six, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy, nor to any term policy of decreasing amount on which each adjusted premium, calculated as specified in subsection 5 above, is less than the adjusted premium so calculated, on such fifteen year term policy issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance, nor to any policy which shall be delivered outside this state through an agent or other representative of the company issuing the policy.

8. After July 4, 1963, any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this section after a specified date before January 1, 1966. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this section for such company), this section shall become operative with respect to the policies thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such company shall be January 1, 1966.

   a. The employees eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees.
   b. The premium for the group life policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the employer's funds or funds contributed by him, or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured employees. No policy, except accident and health, may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees may be placed in force only if at least seventy-five percent of the then eligible employees, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. of the creditor, subject to the following requirements:

a. The debtors eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the debtors of the creditor, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to the indebtedness or to the purchase giving rise to the indebtedness. The policy may provide that the term "debtors" shall include the debtors of one or more subsidiary corporations, and the debtors of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships if the business of the policyholder and of such affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships is under common control through stock ownership, contract, or otherwise.

b. The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either from the creditor's funds, or from charges collected from the insured debtors, or from both. A policy on which part or all of the premium is to be derived from the collection from the insured debtors of identifiable charges not required of uninsured debtors shall not include, in the class or classes of debtors eligible for insurance, uninsured debtors under obligations outstanding at its date of issue without evidence of individual insurability unless at least seventy-five percent of the then eligible debtors elect to pay the required charges. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from the collection of such identifiable charges must insure all eligible debtors, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

c. The policy may be issued only if the group of eligible debtors is then receiving new entrants at the rate of at least one hundred persons yearly, or may reasonably be expected to receive at least one hundred new entrants during the first policy year, and only if the policy reserves to the insurer the right to require evidence of individual insurability if less than seventy-five percent of the new entrants become insured.

d. The amount of insurance on the life of any debtor shall at no time exceed the amount owed by him to the creditor, or the face amount of any loan or loan commitment, totally or partially executed, creating personal liability and made in good faith for general agricultural or horticultural purposes to a debtor with seasonal income, or ten thousand dollars, whichever is less.

e. The insurance shall be payable to the policyholder. Such payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of such payment. Provided that in the case of a debtor for agricultural or horticultural purposes of the type described in paragraph "d," the insurance in excess of indebtedness to the creditor, if any, shall be payable to a named beneficiary, to the estate of the debtor or under the provision of a facility of payment clause.

4. A policy issued to a labor union, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure members of such union for the benefit of persons other than the union or any of its officials, representatives, or agents, subject to the following requirements:

a. The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the members of the union or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, or to membership in the union, or both.

b. The premium for the group life policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the union's funds, or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. No policy, except accident and health, may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance may be placed in force only if at least sixty-five percent of the then eligible members, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible members, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

c. The policy must cover at least ten members at date of issue.

d. The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the members or by the union.

e. Policies may include dependents of the insured, including the spouse.

5. A policy issued to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers in the same industry or by two or more labor unions or by one or more employers and by one or more labor unions which trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions, subject to the following requirements:

a. The persons eligible for insurance shall be all of the employees of the employers or all of the members of the unions, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, or to membership in the unions, or both. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with such trusteeship. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees.
b. The premium for the policy shall be paid by the trustees wholly from funds established by the employers of the insured persons. The policy must insure all eligible persons, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, if the funds are contributed wholly by the employer or unions.

c. The policy must cover at least one hundred persons at date of issue.

d. The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the insured persons or by the policyholder, employers, or unions.

e. Policies may include dependents of the insured, including the spouse.

6. A policy issued to any nonprofit industrial association (to be deemed the policyholder) incorporated for a period of at least ten years and organized for purposes other than obtaining insurance, subject to the following requirements:

a. If two or more members of the association, or any class or classes of members thereof, are determined by the conditions pertaining to insurance, elect to insuring their employees or any class or classes of employees determined by conditions pertaining to employment, and

b. The total number of insured employees must not be less than one thousand, and of these not less than seventy-five percent must be employees of members with at least twenty insured employees each; and further, not more than ten percent may be employees of members with less than ten insured employees each; and

c. The insurance premiums are paid by such members to the association; each member, insofar as applicable to his own employees, may collect part of the premium from insured employees, and the method of apportionment of the premium payment between himself and his employees may be varied as among individual members; and

d. Not less than seventy-five percent of the eligible employees of each participating member may be insured where the employees pay a part of the premium. The word “employees” as used in this subsection shall also include the individual members and employees of such association.

e. Policies may include dependents of the employees, including the spouse.

7. A policy issued to the department of social services, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure eligible persons for medical assistance, or for both medical assistance and additional medical assistance, as defined by chapter 249A as hereafter amended.* [C24, 27, 31,§§8675, 8676; C35,§§8684-e1-8684-e3; C39, §§8684.01-8684.08; C46,§§809.1-809.2; C50, 54, 55, 62, 66, 71,§509.1]

509.2 Provisions as part of group life policy.

No policy of group life insurance shall be delivered in this state unless it contains in substance the following provisions, or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner are more favorable to the persons insured or at least as favorable to the persons insured, and more favorable to the policyholder, provided, however, that provisions of subsections 6 to 10, inclusive, of this section shall not apply to policies issued to a creditor to insure debtors of such creditor; that the standard provisions required for individual life insurance policies shall not apply to group life insurance policies; and that if the group life insurance policy is on a plan of insurance other than the term plan, it shall contain a nonforfeiture provision or provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner is or are equitable to the insured persons and to the policyholder, but nothing herein shall be construed to require that group life insurance policies contain the same nonforfeiture provisions as are required for individual life insurance policies:

1. A provision that the policyholder is entitled to a grace period of thirty-one days for the payment of any premium due except that first, during which grace period the death benefit coverage shall continue in force, unless the policyholder shall have given the insurer written notice of discontinuance in advance of the date of discontinuance and in accordance with the terms of the policy. The policy may provide that the policyholder shall be liable to the insurer for the payment of a pro rata premium for the time the policy was in force during such grace period.

2. A provision that the validity of the policy shall not be contested, except for nonpayment of premiums, after it has been in force for two years from its date of issue; and that no statement made by any person insured under the policy relating to his insurability shall be used in contesting the validity of the insurance with respect to which such statement was made after such insurance has been in force prior to the contest for a period of two years during such person’s lifetime, nor unless it is contained in a written instrument signed by him.

3. A provision that a copy of the application, if any, of the policyholder shall be attached to the policy when issued, that all statements made by the policyholder or by the persons insured shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and that no statement made by any person insured shall be used in any contest unless a copy of the instrument containing the statement is or has been furnished to such person or to his beneficiary.

4. A provision setting forth the conditions, if any, under which the insurer reserves the right to require a person eligible for insurance to furnish evidence of individual insurability satisfactory to the insurer as a condition to part or all of his coverage.

5. A provision specifying an equitable adjustment of premiums or benefits or of both to be made in the event the age of a person insured has been misstated, such provision to contain a clear statement of the method of adjustment to be used.

6. A provision that any sum becoming due by reason of the death of the person insured shall be payable to the beneficiary designated by the person insured, subject to the provisions of the policy in the event there is no designated beneficiary, as to all or any part of such sum, living at the death of the person insured, and subject to any right reserved by the insurer in the policy and set forth in the certificate to pay at its option a part of such sum, not exceeding five hundred dollars, to any person appearing to the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto by reason of having incurred funeral or other expenses incident to the last illness or death of the person insured.

7. A provision that the insurer will issue to the policyholder for delivery to each person insured an individual certificate setting forth a statement as to the insurance protection to which he is entitled, to whom the insurance benefits are payable, and the rights and conditions set forth in subsections 8 to 10, inclusive, following if applicable.

8. A provision that if the insurance, or any portion of it, on a person covered under the policy ceases because of termination of employment or of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy, such person shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of life insurance without disability or other supplementary benefits, provided application for the individual policy shall be made, and the first premium paid to the insurer, within thirty-one days after such termination, and provided further that,

a. The individual policy shall, at the option of such person, be on any one of the forms, except term insurance, then customarily issued by the insurer at the age and for the amount applied for;

b. The individual policy shall be in an amount not in excess of the amount of life insurance which ceases because of such termination, provided that any amount of insurance which matures on the date of such termination, or has matured prior thereto as an endowment payable to the person insured, whether in one sum or in installments or in the form of an annuity, shall not, for the purposes of this provision, be included in the amount which is considered to cease because of such termination, and

c. The premium on the individual policy shall be at the insurer's then customary rate applicable to the form and amount of the individual policy, to the class of risk to which such person then belongs, and to his age attained on the effective date of the individual policy.

9. A provision that if the group policy terminates or is amended so as to terminate the insurance of any class of insured persons, every person insured thereunder at the date of such termination whose insurance terminates and who has been so insured for at least five years prior to such termination date shall be entitled to have issued to him by the insurer an individual policy of life insurance, subject to the same conditions and limitations as are provided by subsection 8 above, except that the group policy may provide that the amount of such individual policy shall not exceed the smaller of the amount of the person's life insurance protection ceasing because of the termination or amendment of the group policy, less the amount of any life insurance for which he is or becomes eligible under any group policy issued or reinstated by the same or another insurer within thirty-one days after such termination, and two thousand dollars.

10. A provision that if a person insured under the group policy dies during the period within which he would have been entitled to have an individual policy issued to him in accordance with subsections 8 or 9 above and before such an individual policy shall have become effective, the amount of life insurance which he would have been entitled to have issued to him under such individual policy shall be payable as a claim under the group policy, whether or not application for the individual policy or the payment of the first premium therefor has been made. 2. A provision that the company will issue to the policyholder for delivery to each person insured under such policy an individual certificate setting forth a statement as to the insurance protection to which he is entitled, to whom the insurance benefits are payable, and such provisions of the policy as are, in the opinion of the commissioner of insurance, necessary to inform the holder thereof as to his rights under the policy.

evidence of ownership satisfactory to the commissioner and by conveying the real estate to the commissioner or his successors in office by warranty deed, said real estate to be held by the commissioner and his successors in office in trust for the benefit of the policyholders of the company or members of the association. Real estate mortgage loans and policy loans may be made a part of the deposit by filing a verified statement of the loans with the commissioner, which statement shall be subject to check at the discretion of the commissioner.

The securities comprising the deposit of any company or association against which proceedings are pending under sections 508.17 and 508.18 shall vest in the state for the benefit of the policies and contracts for which such deposits were made.

512A.3 Incorporation mandatory. Before a benevolent association shall operate in this state it shall first incorporate in accordance with the laws of this state, and the articles of incorporation and bylaws shall be submitted to the commissioner. If he finds they conform to the requirements of the law and all rules and regulations promulgated under this chapter, he shall approve the articles of incorporation and file them with the secretary of state. Every benevolent association at the time of its incorporation shall submit its general plan of operation to the commissioner and if he finds it conforms to the requirements of the law and all reasonable rules and regulations promulgated under this chapter, he shall issue a license to expire on the thirty-first day of March after issuance. Said license shall be renewed from year to year upon application of the association, if the commissioner finds from his examination that it has conformed to the requirements of all laws and regulations applicable thereto. [C71, §512A.3]

For provisions relating to associations operating prior to January 1, 1967, see 62GA, ch 368, §3

The commissioner before approving any certificate shall be satisfied that any benefits to be paid a member or the beneficiary of a member are reasonable in relationship to any and all charges made or assessed against the membership. The certificate shall not indicate therein that the plan or benefits constitute an insurance policy. [C71, §512A.7]

§512A.8 Penalties. Except as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to operate a benevolent association in this state except as provided for in this chapter. e. The exceptions and reductions of indemnity are set forth in the policy and, except those which are set forth in section 514A.3 of this chapter, are printed, at the insurer's option, either included with the benefit provision to which they apply, or under an appropriate caption such as "exceptions", or "exceptions and reductions", provided that if an exception or reduction specifically applies only to a particular benefit of the policy, a statement of such exception or reduction shall be included with the benefit provision to which it applies; and

f. Each such form, including riders and endorsements, shall be identified by a form number in the lower left-hand corner of the first page thereof; and

§514A.3 Accident and sickness policy provisions.

1. Required provisions. Except as provided in subsection 3 of this section each such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state shall contain the provisions specified in this subsection in the words in which the same appear in this section; provided, however, that the insurer may, at its option, substitute for one or more of such provisions corresponding provisions of different wording approved by the commissioner which are in each instance not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary. Such provisions shall be preceded individually by the caption appearing in this subsection or, at the option of the insurer, by such appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the commissioner may approve.

a. A provision as follows:

Entire contract—changes: This policy, including the endorsements and the attached papers, if any, constitutes the entire contract of insurance. No change in this policy shall be valid until approved by an executive officer of the insurer and unless such approval be endorsed hereon or attached hereto. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions.

b. A provision as follows:

Time limit on certain defenses: (1) After three years from the date of issue of this policy no misstatements, except fraudulent misstatements, made by the applicant in the application for such policy shall be used to void the policy or to deny a claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after the expiration of such three-year period.

(The foregoing policy provision shall not be construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial three-year period, nor to limit the application of section 514A.3(2) "a", "b", "c", "d" and "e" in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.)

(A policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium (a) until at least age fifty or, (b) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four, for at least five years from its date of issue, may contain in lieu of the foregoing the following provision (from which the clause in parentheses may be omitted at the insurer's option) under the caption "incontestable":

After this policy has been in force for a period of three years during the lifetime of the insured, (excluding any period during which the insured is disabled), it shall become incontestable as to the statements contained in the application.)

(2) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after three years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy.

c. A provision as follows:

Grace period: A grace period of .... (insert a number not less than "7" for weekly premium policies, "10" for monthly premium policies and "31" for all other policies) days will be granted for the payment of each premium falling due after the first premium, during which grace period the policy shall continue in force.

(A policy which contains a cancellation provision may add, at the end of the above provision, subject to the right of the insurer to cancel in accordance with the cancellation provision hereof.

A policy in which the insurer reserves the right to refuse any renewal shall have, at the beginning of the above provision: Unless not less than five days prior to the premium due date the insurer has delivered to the insured or has mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer written notice of its intention not to renew this policy beyond the period for which the premium has been accepted.)

d. A provision as follows:

Reinstatement: If any renewal premium be not paid within the time granted the insured for payment, a subsequent acceptance of premium by the insurer or by any agent duly authorized by the insurer to accept such premium, without requiring in connection therewith an application for reinstatement, shall reinstate the policy; provided, however, that if the insurer or such agent requires an application for reinstatement and issues a conditional receipt for the premium tendered, the policy will be reinstated upon approval of such application by the insurer or, lacking such approval, upon the forty-fifth day following the date of such conditional receipt unless the insurer has previously notified the insured in writing of its disapproval of such application. The reinstated policy shall cover only loss resulting from such accidental injury as may be sustained after the date of reinstatement and loss due to such sickness as may begin more than ten days after such date. In all other respects the insured and insurer shall have the same rights thereunder as they had under the policy immediately before the due date of the defaulted premium, subject to any provisions endorsed hereon or attached hereto in connection with the reinstatement. Any premium accepted in connection with a reinstatement shall be applied to a period for which premium has not been previously paid, but not to any period more than sixty days prior to the date of reinstatement.

(The last sentence of the above provision may be omitted from any policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age fifty or, (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four, for at least five years from its date of issue.)

e. A provision as follows:

Notice of claim: Written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the occurrence or commencement of any loss covered by the policy, or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible. Notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at ................. (insert the location of such office as the insurer may designate for the purpose), or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with information sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed notice to the insurer.

(In a policy providing a loss-of-time benefit which may be payable for at least two years, an insurer may at its option insert the following between the first and second sentences of the above provision:

Subject to the qualifications set forth below, if the insured suffers loss of time on account of disability for which indemnity may be payable for at least two years, he shall, at least once in every six months after having given notice of claim, give to the insurer notice of continuance of said disability, except in the event of legal incapacity. The period of six months following any filing of proof by the insured or any payment by the insurer on account of such claim or any denial of liability in whole or in part by the insurer shall be excluded in applying this provision. Delay in the giving of such notice shall not impair the insured’s right to any indemnity which would otherwise have accrued during the period of six months preceding the date on which such notice is actually given.)

f. A provision as follows:

Claim forms: The insurer, upon receipt of a notice of claim, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not furnished within fifteen days after the giving of such notice the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting, within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, the character and the extent of the loss for which claim is made.

g. A provision as follows:

Proofs of loss: Written proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment contingent upon continuing loss within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable and in case of claim for any other loss within ninety days after the date of such loss. Failure to furnish such proof within the time required shall not invalidate nor reduce any claim if it was not reasonably possible to give proof within such time, provided such proof is furnished as soon as reasonably possible and in no event, except in the absence of legal capacity, later than one year from the time proof is otherwise required.

h. A provision as follows:

Time of payment of claims: Indemnities payable under this policy for any loss other than loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof of such loss. Subject to due written proof of loss, all accrued indemnities for loss for which this policy provides periodic payment will be paid ............... (insert period for payment which must not be less frequently than monthly) and any balance remaining unpaid upon the termination of liability will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof.

i. A provision as follows:

Payment of claims: Indemnity for loss of life will be payable in accordance with the beneficiary designation and the provisions respecting such payment which may be prescribed herein and effective at the time of payment. If no such designation or provision is then effective, such indemnity shall be payable to the estate of the insured. Any other accrued indemnities unpaid at the insured’s death may, at the option of the insurer, be paid either to such beneficiary or to such es-
All other indemnities will be payable to the insured.

(The following provisions, or either of them, may be included with the foregoing provision at the option of the insurer:

If any indemnity of this policy shall be payable to the estate of the insured, or to an insured or beneficiary who is a minor or otherwise not competent to give a valid release, the insurer may pay such indemnity, up to an amount not exceeding $\ldots\ldots\ldots\ldots$ (insert an amount which shall not exceed one thousand dollars), to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured or beneficiary who is deemed by the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto. Any payment made by the insurer in good faith pursuant to this provision shall fully discharge the insurer to the extent of such payment.

Subject to any written direction of the insured in the application or otherwise all or a portion of any indemnities provided by this policy on account of hospital, nursing, medical, or surgical services may, at the insurer’s option and unless the insured requests otherwise in writing not later than the time of filing proofs of such loss, be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services; but it is not required that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person.)

j. A provision as follows:

Physical examinations and autopsy: The insurer at its own expense shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and as often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of a claim hereunder and to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

k. A provision as follows:

Legal actions: No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after written proof of loss has been furnished in accordance with the requirements of this policy. No such action shall be brought after the expiration of three years after the time written proof of loss is required to be furnished.

l. A provision as follows:

Change of beneficiary: Unless the insured makes an irrevocable designation of beneficiary, the right to change of beneficiary is reserved to the insured and the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy or to any change of beneficiary or beneficiaries, or to any other changes in this policy.

(The first clause of this provision, relating to the irrevocable designation of beneficiary, may be omitted at the insurer’s option.)

Subsection 1 referred to in §514A.3(4)

2. Other provisions. Except as provided in subsection 3 of this section, no such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state shall contain provisions respecting the matters set forth below unless such provisions are in the words in which the same appear in this section; provided, however, that the insurer may, at its option, use in lieu of any such provision a corresponding provision of different wording approved by the commissioner which is not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary. Any such provision contained in the policy shall be preceded individually by the appropriate caption appearing in this subsection or, at the option of the insurer, by such appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the commissioner may approve.

a. A provision as follows:

Change of occupation: If the insured be injured or contract sickness after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in this policy or while doing for compensation anything pertaining to an occupation so classified, the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in this policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rates and within the limits fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation. If the insured changes his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in this policy, the insurer, upon receipt of proof of such change of occupation, will reduce the premium rate accordingly, and will return the excess pro rata unearned premium from the date of change of occupation or from the policy anniversary date immediately preceding receipt of such proof, whichever is the more recent. In applying this provision, the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be such as have been last filed by the insurer prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable or prior to the date of proof of change in occupation with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided at the time this policy was issued; but if such filing was not required, then the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be those last made effective by the insurer in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss or prior to the date of proof of change in occupation.

b. A provision as follows:

Misstatement of age: If the age of the insured has been misstated, all amounts payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

c. A provision as follows:

Other insurance in this insurer: If an accident or sickness or accident and sickness policy or policies previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for $\ldots\ldots\ldots\ldots$ (insert type of coverage or coverages) in excess of $\ldots\ldots\ldots\ldots$ (insert maximum limit of indemnity or indemnities) the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured or to his estate.

Or, in lieu thereof:

Insurance effective at any one time on the insured under a like policy or policies in this insurer is limited to the one such policy elected by the insured, his beneficiary or his estate, as the case may be, and the insurer will return all premiums paid for all other such policies.

d. A provision as follows:

Insurance with other insurers: If there be other valid coverage, not with this insurer, providing benefits for the same loss on a provision of service basis or on an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss, the only liability under any expense incurred coverage of this policy shall be for such proportion of the loss as the amount which would otherwise have been payable hereunder plus the total of the like amounts under all such other valid coverages for the same loss of which this insurer had notice bears to the total like amounts under all valid coverages for such loss, and for the return of such portion of the premiums paid as shall exceed the pro rata portion for the amount so determined. For the purpose of applying this provision when other coverage is on a provision of service basis, the "like amount" of such other coverage shall be taken as the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage.

(If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the next preceding policy provision there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "—other benefits". The insurer may, at its option, include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage", approved as to form by the commissioner, which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada, and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner. In the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance, or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations. For the purpose of applying the foregoing policy provision with respect to any insured, any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice. In applying the foregoing policy provision no third party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage".)

f. A provision as follows:

Relation of earnings to insurance: If the total monthly amount of loss of time benefits promised for the same loss under all valid loss of time coverage upon the insured, whether payable on a weekly or monthly basis, shall exceed the monthly earnings of the insured at the time such disability commenced or his average monthly earnings for the period of two years immediately preceding a disability for which claim is made, whichever is the greater, the insurer will be liable only for such proportionate amount of such benefits under this policy as the amount of such monthly earnings or such average monthly earnings of the insured bears to the total amount of monthly benefits for the same loss under all such coverage upon the insured at the time such disability commences and for the return of such part of the premiums paid during such two years as shall exceed the pro rata amount of the premiums for the benefits actually paid hereunder; but this shall not operate to reduce the total monthly amount of benefits payable under all such coverage upon the insured below the sum of two hundred dollars or the sum of the monthly benefits specified in such coverages, whichever is the lesser, nor shall it operate to reduce benefits other than those payable for loss of time.

(The foregoing policy provision may be inserted only in a policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age fifty or, (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four, for at least five years from its date of issue. The insurer may, at its option, include in this provision a definition of "valid loss of time coverage", approved as to form by the commissioner, which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverages provided by governmental agencies or by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada, or to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner or any combination of such coverages. In the absence of such definition such term shall not include any coverage provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute), or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations.)

a. A provision as follows:

Unpaid premium: Upon the payment of a claim under this policy, any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

h. A provision as follows:

Cancellation: The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured, or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer, stating when, not less than five days thereafter, such cancellation shall be effective; and after the policy has been continued beyond its original term the insured may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered or mailed to the insurer, effective upon receipt or on such later date as may be specified in such notice. In the event of cancellation, the insurer will return promptly the unearned portion of any premium paid. If the insured cancels, the earned premium shall be computed by the use of the short-rate table last filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided when the policy was issued. If the insurer cancels, the earned premium shall be computed pro rata. Cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior to the effective date of cancellation.

i. A provision as follows:

Conformity with state statutes: Any provision of this policy which, on its effective date, is in conflict with the statutes of the state in which the insured resides on such date is hereby amended to conform to the minimum requirements of such statutes.

j. A provision as follows:

Illegal occupation: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss to which a contributing cause was the insured's commission of or attempt to commit a felony or to which a contributing cause was the insured's being engaged in an illegal occupation.

k. A provision as follows:

Intoxicants and narcotics: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss sustained or contracted in consequence of the insured's being intoxicated or under the influence of any narcotic unless administered on the advice of a physician.

Subsection 2 referred to in §514A.3(4)

3. Inapplicable or inconsistent provisions. If any provision of this section is in whole or in part inapplicable to or inconsistent with the coverage provided by a particular form of policy the insurer, with the approval of the commissioner, shall omit from such policy any inapplicable provision or part of a provision, and shall modify any inconsistent provision or part of the provision in such manner as to make the provision as contained in the policy consistent with the coverage provided by the policy.

4. Order of certain policy provisions. The provisions which are the subject of subsections 1 and 2 of this section, or any corresponding provisions which are used in lieu thereof in accordance with such subsections, shall be printed in the consecutive order of the provisions in such subsections or, at the option of the insurer, any such provision may appear as a unit in any part of the policy, with other provisions to which it may be logically related, provided the resulting policy shall not be in whole or in part unintelligible, uncertain, ambiguous, abstruse, or likely to mislead a person to whom the policy is offered, delivered or issued.

5. Third party ownership. The word "insured", as used in this chapter, shall not be construed as preventing a person other than the insured with a proper insurable interest from making application for and owning a policy covering the insured or from being entitled under such a policy to any indemnities, benefits and rights provided therein.

6. Requirements of other jurisdictions.

a. Any policy of a foreign or alien insurer, when delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state, may contain any provision which is not less favorable to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions which are the subject of subsections 1 and 2 of this chapter and which is prescribed or required by the law of the state under which the insurer is organized.

b. Any policy of a domestic insurer may, when issued for delivery in any other state or country, contain any provision permitted or required by the laws of such other state or country.

7. Filing procedure. The commissioner may make such reasonable rules and regulations concerning the procedure for the filing or submission of policies subject to this chapter as are necessary, proper or advisable to the administration of this chapter. This provision shall not abridge any other authority granted the commissioner by law. [C13 §1820; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8775; C46, 50, §511.36; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.3]

Referred to in §§514A.2(1,e), 514A.2(2), 514A.4, 514A.12

1. Other policy provisions. No policy provision which is not subject to section 514A.3 shall make a policy, or any portion thereof, less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions thereof which are subject to this chapter.

2. Policy conflicting with this chapter. A policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state in violation of this chapter shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this chapter. When any provision in a policy subject to this chapter is in conflict with any provision of this chapter, the rights, duties and obligations of the insurer, the insured and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this chapter. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.4]

Referred to in §514A.12

1. The insured shall not be bound by any statement made in an application for a policy unless a copy of such application is attached to or endorsed on the policy when issued as a part thereof. If any such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state shall be reinstated or renewed, and the insurer or the beneficiary or assignee of such policy shall make written request to the insurer for a copy of the application, if any, for such reinstatement or renewal, the insurer shall within fifteen days after the receipt of such request at its home office or any branch office of the insurer, deliver or mail to the person making such request, a copy of such application. If such copy shall not be so delivered or mailed, the insurer shall be precluded from introducing such application as evidence in any action or proceeding based upon or involving such policy or its reinstatement or renewal.

2. No alteration of any written application for any such policy shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, except that insertions may be made by the insurer, for administrative purposes only, in such manner as to indicate clearly that such insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant.

3. The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this chapter may not bar the right to recovery thereunder unless such false statement materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.5]

1. The insured shall not be bound by any statement made in an application for a policy unless a copy of such application is attached to or endorsed on the policy when issued as a part thereof. If any such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state shall be reinstated or renewed, and the insurer or the beneficiary or assignee of such policy shall make written request to the insurer for a copy of the application, if any, for such reinstatement or renewal, the insurer shall within fifteen days after the receipt of such request at its home office or any branch office of the insurer, deliver or mail to the person making such request, a copy of such application. If such copy shall not be so delivered or mailed, the insurer shall be precluded from introducing such application as evidence in any action or proceeding based upon or involving such policy or its reinstatement or renewal.

2. No alteration of any written application for any such policy shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, except that insertions may be made by the insurer, for administrative purposes only, in such manner as to indicate clearly that such insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant.

514A.6 Notice — waiver. The acknowledgment by any insurer of the receipt of notice given under any policy covered by this chapter, or the furnishing of forms for filing proofs of loss, or the acceptance of such proofs, or the investigation of any claim thereunder shall not operate as a waiver of any of the rights of the insurer in defense of any claim arising under such policy. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.6]

514A.7 Age limit. If any such policy contains a provision establishing, as an age limit or otherwise, a date after which the coverage provided by the policy will not be effective, and if such date falls within a period for which premium is accepted by the insurer or if the insurer accepts a premium after such date, the coverage provided by the policy will continue in force subject to any right of cancellation until the end of the period for which premium has been accepted. In the event the age of the insured has been misstated and if, according to the correct age of the insured, the coverage provided by the policy would not have become effective, or would have ceased prior to the acceptance of such premium or premiums, then the liability of the insurer shall be limited to the refund, upon request, of all premiums paid for the period not covered by the policy. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.7]

514A.8 Nonapplication to certain policies. Nothing in this chapter shall apply to or affect (1) any policy of workmen's compensation insurance or any policy of liability insurance with or without supplementary expense coverage therein; or (2) any policy or contract of reinsurance; or (3) any blanket or group policy of insurance; or (4) life insurance, endowment or annuity contracts, or contracts supplemental thereto which contain only such provisions relating to accident and sickness insurance as (a) provide additional benefits in case of death or dismemberment or loss of sight by accident, or as (b) operate to safeguard such contracts against lapse, or to give a special surrender value or special benefit or an annuity in the event that the insured or annuitant shall become totally and permanently disabled, as defined by the contract or supplemental contract. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.8]

514A.9 Violation. Any person, partnership or corporation willfully violating any provision of this chapter or order of the commissioner made in accordance with this chapter, shall forfeit to the people of the state a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars for each such violation, which may be recovered by a civil action. The commissioner may also suspend or revoke the license of an insurer or agent for any such willful violation. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §514A.9]

514A.10 Judicial review. Any order or decision of the commissioner under this chapter shall be subject to review by appeal (writ of certiorari) to the district court at the instance of any party in interest. The filing of the appeal (petition for such writ) shall operate as a stay of any such order or decision until the court directs otherwise. The court may review all the facts and, in disposing of the issue before it, may modify, affirm or reverse the order or decision of the commissioner in whole or in part. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§514A.10]

514A.12 Title and effective date of chapter. This chapter may be cited as the “Uniform Individual Accident and Sickness Act.” This chapter shall take effect on the fourth day of July, 1951. A policy, filed with and approved by the insurance commissioner prior to the effective date of this chapter for use, delivery, or issue for delivery to any person in this state, may continue to be used, or delivered, or issued for delivery to any person holding such a policy without being subject to the provisions of sections 514A.2, 514A.3 and 514A.4; and any rider or endorsement filed with and approved by the insurance commissioner at any time may be used, or delivered, or issued for delivery to any person holding such a policy without being subject to the provisions of sections 514A.2, 514A.3 and 514A.4. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§514A.12]

515.2 Articles—approval. Each such organization shall present to the commissioner of insurance its articles of incorporation, which shall show its name, objects, location of its principal place of business, and amount of its capital stock, who shall submit it to the attorney general for examination, and if found by him to be in accordance with the provisions of this title, the laws of the United States, and the Constitution and laws of the state, he shall certify such fact thereon and return the same to said commissioner, and no articles shall be approved by him or recorded unless accompanied with such certificate. [C73, §1122; C97, §1685; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8897; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §515.2] Referred to in §515.25

515.3 Certificate—recording. If the commissioner of insurance approves them, he shall so certify, and the articles with the certificates of approval shall be recorded in the office of the secretary of state as articles of other corporations, who shall endorse thereon his certificate thereof, as is required in case of other corporations for pecuniary profit. [C73, §1123; C97, §1686; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8898; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §515.3] Referred to in §491.5

515.6 Nature of organization entered on policy. Every domestic and foreign insurance this chapter shall indicate upon the first page of every policy and renewal receipt that the policy is issued by a mutual company in case of a mutual company, and by a stock company in case of a stock company. [C73,§1140; C97,

515.7 Stock and mutual plan distinguished.
No company shall be organized to do business upon both stock and mutual plans; nor shall a ance company other than life shall be incorpo­ fully paid up in cash and invested as provided by law. No increase of the capital stock of any company shall be made unless the amount of such increase is fully paid up in cash. The

the vote of a majority of its shares of stock represented at a meeting legally called for that purpose, reduce its capital stock and the number of shares thereof or the par value of the shares thereof, provided that the total amount of capital shall not be reduced to an amount less than the minimum required by law, but no part of its assets and property shall be dis­ aneously, or it shall have in force, at least two hundred policies issued to at least two hundred members for the same kind of insur­

2. The maximum single risk shall not ex­

The surplus so required may be advanced in accordance with the provisions of section 515.19.

Provided, however, that such surplus requirements shall not apply to a company which establishes and maintains a guaranty fund as provided by section 515.20. [C73, §1124; C97, §1092; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8906; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §515.12]

515.14 Membership in mutuals. Any public or private corporation, board, or association in this state, or elsewhere, may make applications, enter into agreements for and hold policies in any such mutual insurance company. Any officer, stockholder, trustee, or local representative of any such corporation, board, association, or estate may be recognized as acting for, or on its behalf for the purpose of such membership, but shall not be personally liable upon such contract of insurance by reason of acting in such representative capacity. The right of any corporation organized under the laws of this state to participate as a member of any such mutual insurance company is hereby declared to be incidental to the purpose for which such corporation is organized and as much granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred. No commission or promotion expenses shall be paid in connection with the advance of any such money to the company. The amount of such advance shall be reported in each annual statement. Due notice of such proposed action on the part of the corporation shall be included in the notice given to policyholders and shareholders of any annual or special meeting and notice of such meeting shall also be given in accordance with the provisions of its articles of incorporation. No company with such guaranty fund, which has ceased to do business, shall distribute among its shareholders or policyholders any part of its assets, or guaranty fund, until it has fully performed, or legally canceled, all of its policy obligations. Shareholders of such guaranty fund shall be entitled to interest on the per value of their respective shares at a rate to be fixed by the board of directors, not to exceed seven percent per annum, cumulative, payable semiannually, and payable only out of the surplus earnings of such company, but in no event shall the surplus account of such company be reduced by the payment of such interest below the figure maintained at the time said guaranty fund was established; and provided, further, that no such interest payment shall be made unless the surplus assets remaining after the payment thereof shall at least equal the amount required by the statutes of Iowa to permit such corporation to continue in business. In the event of the dissolution and liquidation of any corporation having a guaranty fund under the provisions hereof, the shareholders of such fund shall be entitled, after the payment of all valid obligations of the company, to receive the par value of their respective shares, together with any unpaid interest thereon, before there may be any distribution of the assets of said corporation among its policyholders. §515.138 Fire insurance contract—standard policy provisions—permissible variations.

First. The printed form of a policy of fire insurance as set forth in subsection sixth shall be known and designated as the "standard policy" to be used in the state of Iowa.

Second. Standard policy, additions, riders and clauses. It shall be unlawful for any insurance company to issue any policy of fire insurance upon any property in this state except upon automobiles, airplanes, seaplanes, dirigibles, or other aircraft, farm crops until stored, marine and inland marine risks other or different from the standard form of fire insurance policy herein set forth.

Third. The policy shall be printed at the head of said policy the name of the insurer or insurers issuing the policy; the location of the home office thereof; a statement whether said insurer or insurers are stock or mutual corporations or are reciprocal insurers; and subject to the approval of the commissioner of insurance, there may be added thereto such device or devices as the insurer or insurers issuing said policy shall desire. Provided, however, that any company organized under special charter provisions may so indicate upon its policy, and may add a statement of the plan under which it operates in this state.

The standard policy provided for herein need not be used for effecting reinsurance between insurers.

If the policy is issued by a mutual, cooperative or reciprocal insurer having special regulations with respect to the payment by the policyholder of assessments, such regulations shall be printed upon the policy, and any such insurer may print upon the policy such regulations as may be required by its home state or appropriate to its form of organization.

Third. Binders or other contracts for temporary insurance may be made and shall be deemed to include all the terms of such standard policy and all such applicable endorsements as may be designated in such contract of temporary insurance; except that the cancellation clause of such standard policy, and the clause thereof specifying the hour of the day at which the insurance shall commence, may be superseded by the express terms of such contract of temporary insurance.

Fourth. Two or more insurers authorized to do in this state the business of fire insurance, may, with the approval of the commissioner of insurance, issue a combination standard form of policy which shall contain the following:

a. A provision substantially to the effect that the insurers executing such policy shall be severally liable for the full amount of any loss or damage, according to the terms of the policy, or for specified percentages or amounts thereof, aggregating the full amount of such insurance under such policy.

b. A provision substantially to the effect that service of process, or of any notice or proof of loss required by such policy, upon any of the insurers executing such policy, shall be deemed to be service upon all such insurers.

Fifth. Appropriate forms of other contracts or endorsements, insuring against one or more of the perils incident to the ownership, use or occupancy of said property, other than fire and lightning, which the insurer is empowered to assume, may be used in connection with the standard policy. Such forms of other contracts or endorsements attached or printed thereon may contain provisions and stipulations inconsistent with the standard policy if applicable only to such other perils. The pages of the standard policy may be renumbered and rearranged to provide space for the listing of rates and premiums for coverages insured thereunder or under endorsements attached or printed thereon, and such other data as may be included for duplication on daily reports for office records. An insurer may issue a policy, either on an unspecified basis as to coverage or for an indivisible premium, which contains coverage against the peril of fire and substantial coverage against other perils, if such policy includes provisions with respect to the peril of fire which are the substantial equivalent of the minimum provisions of such standard policy, provided further the policy is complete as to all its terms of coverage.

The procuring of any such contracts of insurance in unauthorized insurers makes such insurers liable for, and the agent shall pay, the taxes on such premiums as if such insurer were duly authorized to transact business in the state. CHAPTER 515A

FIRE AND CASUALTY INSURANCE

Referred to in §§491.1, 515C.7, 518B.7

515A.1 Purpose of chapter. The purpose of this chapter is to promote the public welfare by regulating insurance rates to the end that they shall not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory, and to authorize and regulate co-operative action among insurers in rate making and in other matters within the scope of this chapter. Nothing in this chapter is intended (1) to prohibit or discourage reasonable competition, or (2) to prohibit, or encourage except to the extent necessary to accomplish the aforementioned purpose, uniformity in insurance rates, rating systems, rating plans or practices. This chapter shall be liberally interpreted to carry into effect the provisions of this section. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §§515A.1, 515B.1; C66, 71, §515A.1]

515A.2 Scope of chapter. This chapter applies to all forms of casualty insurance, including fidelity, surety and guaranty bond, to all forms of fire, marine and inland marine insurance, and to any combination of any of the foregoing, on risks or operations in this state. Inland marine insurance shall be deemed to include insurance now or hereafter defined by statute, or by interpretation thereof, or if not so defined or interpreted, by ruling of the commissioner of insurance, hereinafter referred to as commissioner, or as established by general custom of the business, as inland marine insurance.

This chapter shall not apply to:
1. Reinsurance, other than joint reinsurance to the extent stated in section 515A.11;
2. Accident and health insurance;
3. Insurance of vessels or craft, their cargoes, marine builders’ risks, marine protection and indemnity, or other risks commonly insured under marine, as distinguished from inland marine insurance;
4. Insurance written by a county mutual assessment association as provided in chapter 518.

515A.3 Making of rates.
1. Rates shall be made in accordance with the following provisions:
   a. Rates shall not be excessive, inadequate or unfairly discriminatory.
   b. Due consideration shall be given to past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state, to the conflagration and catastrophe hazards, to a reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies to dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers, to past and prospective expenses both country-wide and those specially applicable to this state, and to all other relevant factors within and outside this state; and in the case of fire insurance rates consideration shall be given to the experience of the fire insurance business during a period of not less than the most recent five-year period for which such experience is available.
   c. The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by any insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or group of insurers to reflect the requirements of the business, methods of any such insurer or group of insurers with respect to any kind of insurance, or with respect to any subdivision or combination thereof for which subdivision or combination separate expense provisions are applicable.

515A.4 Rate filings.
1. Every insurer shall file with the commissioner, except as to inland marine risks which by general custom of the business are not written according to manual rates or rating plans, every manual, minimum, class rate, rating schedule or rating plan and every other rating rule, and every modification of any of the foregoing which it proposes to use. Every such filing shall state the proposed effective date thereof, and shall indicate the character and extent of the coverage contemplated.

When a filing is not accompanied by the information upon which the insurer supports such filing, and the commissioner does not have sufficient information to determine whether such filing meets the requirements of the chapter, he shall require such insurer to furnish the information upon which it supports such filing and in such event the waiting period shall commence as of the date such information is furnished. The information furnished in support of a filing may include (a) the experience or judgment of the insurer or rating organization making the filing, (b) its interpretation of any statistical data it relies upon, (c) the experience of other insurers or rating organizations, or (d) any other relevant factors. A filing and any supporting information shall be open to public inspection after the filing becomes effective. Specific inland marine rates on risks specially rated, made by a rating organization, shall be filed with the commissioner.

2. An insurer may satisfy its obligation to make such filings by becoming a member of, or a subscriber to, a licensed rating organization which makes such filings, and by authorizing the commissioner to accept such filings on its behalf; provided that nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as requiring any insurer to become a member of or a subscriber to any rating organization.

3 The commissioner shall review filings as soon as reasonably possible after they have been made in order to determine whether they meet the requirements of this chapter.

4 Subject to the exception specified in subsection 5 of this section, each filing shall be on file for a waiting period of fifteen days before it becomes effective which period may be extended by the commissioner for an additional period not to exceed fifteen days if he gives written notice within such waiting period to the insurer or rating organization which made the filing that he needs such additional time for the consideration of such filing. Upon written application by such insurer or rating organization, the commissioner may authorize a filing which he has reviewed to become effective before the expiration of the waiting period or any extension thereof. A filing shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this chapter unless disapproved by the commissioner within thirty days of receipt thereof by the commissioner.

5 Specific inland marine rates on risks especially rated by a rating organization or any specific filing with respect to a surety or guaranty bond required by law or by court or executive order rule or regulation of a public body and not covered by a previous filing shall become effective when filed and shall be deemed to meet the requirements of this chapter until such time as the commissioner reviews the filing and so long thereafter as the filing remains in effect.

6 Under such rules and regulations as he shall adopt the commissioner may by written order, suspend or modify the requirement of filing as to any kind of insurance subdivision or combination thereof or as to classes of risks, the rates for which cannot practically be filed before they are used. Such order, rules and regulations shall be made known to insurers and rating organizations affected thereby. The commissioner may make such examination as he may deem advisable to ascertain whether any rates affected by such order meet the standards set forth in paragraph "b" of subsection 1 of section 515A.3.

7 Upon the written application of the insured stating his reasons therefor filed with and approved by the commissioner a rate in excess of that provided by a filing otherwise applicable may be used on any specific risk.

8 No insurer shall make or issue a contract or policy except in accordance with the filings which are in effect for said insurer as provided in this chapter or in accordance with subsections 6 or 7 of this section. This subsection shall not apply to contracts or policies for inland marine risks as to which filings are not required [C50, 54, 58, 62§§515A.4, 515B.4 C66, 71 §515A.4].

§515A.5 Disapproval of filings.

1 If within the waiting period or any extension thereof as provided in subsection 4 of section 515A.4 the commissioner finds that a filing does not meet the requirements of this chapter he shall send to the insurer or rating organization which made such filing written notice of disapproval of such filing specifying therein in what respects he finds such filing fails to meet the requirements of this chapter and stating that such filing shall not become effective.

2 If within thirty days after a specific inland marine rate on a risk especially rated by a rating organization subject to subsection 5 of section 515A.4 has become effective or if within thirty days after a special surety or guaranty filing subject to subsection 5 of section 515A.4 has become effective the commissioner finds that such filing does not meet the requirements of this chapter he shall send to the rating organization or insurer which made such filing written notice of disapproval of such filing specifying therein in what respects he finds that such filing fails to meet the requirements of this chapter and stating when within a reasonable period there after such filing shall be deemed no longer effective. Said disapproval shall not affect any contract made or issued prior to the expiration of the period set forth in said notice.

3 If at any time subsequent to the applicable review period provided for in subsection 1 or 2 of this section, the commissioner finds that a filing does not meet the requirements of this chapter, he shall, after a hearing held upon not less than ten days' written notice, specifying the matters to be considered at such hearing, to every insurer and rating organization which made such filing issue an order specifying in what respects he finds that such filing fails to meet the requirements of this chapter and stating when, within a reasonable period thereafter, such filing shall be deemed no longer effective. Copies of said order shall be sent to every such insurer and rating organization. Said order shall not affect any contract or policy made or issued prior to the expiration of the period set forth in said order.

4 Any person or organization aggrieved with respect to any filing which is in effect may make written application to the commissioner for a hearing thereon provided, however, that the insurer that made the filing shall not be authorized to proceed under this subsection. Such application shall specify the grounds to be relied upon by the applicant and such application must show that the person or organization making such application has a specific economic interest affected by the filing. If the commissioner shall find that the application is made in good faith that the applicant has a specific economic interest, that the applicant would be so aggrieved if his grounds are established, and that such grounds otherwise justify holding such a hearing, he shall within thirty days after receipt of such application hold a hearing, upon not less than ten days' written notice to the applicant and to every insurer and rating organization which made such filing. No rating or advisory organiization shall have any status under this chapter to make application for a hearing on any filing made by an insurer with the commissioner.

If, after such hearing, the commissioner finds that the filing does not meet the requirements of this chapter, he shall issue an order specifying in what respects he finds that such filing fails to meet the requirements of this chapter, and stating when, within a reasonable period thereafter, such filing shall be deemed no longer effective. Copies of said order shall be sent to the applicant and to every such insurer and rating organization. Said order shall not affect any contract or policy made or issued prior to the expiration of the period set forth in said order.

5. No filing shall be disapproved if the rates thereby produced meet the requirements of this chapter. [C50, 54, 55, 62,§§513A.5, 513B.5;
C66, §515A.5]

FIRE AND CASUALTY INSURANCE, §515A.6

515A.6 Rating organizations.

1. A corporation, an unincorporated association, a partnership or an individual, whether located within or outside this state, may make application to the commissioner for license as a rating organization for such kinds of insur-ce, or subdivision or class of risk or a part or combination thereof as are specified in its application and shall file therewith (a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of agreement or association or its certificate of incorporation, and of its bylaws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business, (b) a list of its members and subscribers, (c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such rating organization may be served and (d) a statement of its qualifications as a rating organization. If the commis-ioner finds that the applicant is competent, trustworthy and otherwise qualified to act as a rating organization and that its constitution, articles of agreement or association or certificate of incorporation, and its bylaws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business conform to the requirements of law, he shall issue a license specifying the kinds of insurance, or subdivisions or classes of risks or parts or combinations thereof for which the applicant is authorized to act as a rating organization. Every such application shall be granted or denied in whole or in part by the commissioner within sixty days of the date of its filing with him. Licenses issued pursuant to this section shall remain in effect for three years unless sooner suspended or revoked by the commissioner. The fee for said license shall be twenty-five dollars. Licenses issued pursuant to this section may be suspended or revoked by the commissioner, after hearing upon notice, in the event the rating organization ceases to meet the requirements of this subsection. Every rating organization shall notify the commissioner promptly of every change in (a) its constitution, its articles of agreement or association, or its certificate of incorporation, and its bylaws, rules and regulations governing the conduct of its business,
(b) its list of members and subscribers and (c)
the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affect-such rating organization may be served.

2. Subject to rules and regulations which have been approved by the commissioner as reasonable, each rating organization shall permit any insurer, not a member, to be a subscriber to its rating services for any kind of insurance, subdivision, or class of risk or a part or combination thereof for which it is authorized to act as a rating organization.
Notice of proposed changes in such rules and regulations shall be given to subscribers. Each rating organization shall furnish its rating services without discrimination to its members and subscribers. The reasonableness of any rule or regulation in its application to subscribers, or the refusal of any rating organization to admit an insurer as a subscriber, shall, at the request of any subscriber or any such insurer, be reviewed by the commissioner at a hearing held upon at least ten days' written notice to such rating organization and to such insurer, be reviewed by the commissioner at a hearing held upon at least ten days' written
notice to such rating organization and to such insurer. If the commissioner finds that such rule or regulation is unreasonable in its application to subscribers, he shall order that such rule or regulation shall not be applicable to subscribers. If the rating organiization fails to grant or reject an insurer's application for subscribership within thirty days after it was made, the insurer may request a review by the commissioner as if the application had been rejected. If the commis-ioner finds that the insurer has been refused admittance to the rating organization as a subscriber without justification, he shall order the rating organization to admit the insurer as a subscriber. If he finds that the action of the rating organization was justified he shall make an order affirming its action.

3. No rating organization shall adopt any rule the effect of which would be to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members or subscribers.

4. Co-operation among rating organizations or among rating organizations and insurers in rate making or in other matters within the scope of this chapter is hereby authorized, provided the filings resulting from such co-operation are subject to all the provisions of this chapter which are applicable to filings generally. The commissioner may review such cooperative activities and practices and if, after a hearing, he finds that any such activity or practices is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, he may issue a written order specifying in what respects such activity or practice

is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, and requiring the discontinuance of such activity or practice.

5. Any rating organization may provide for the examination of policies, daily reports, binders, renewal certificates, endorsements or other evidences of insurance, or the cancellation thereof, and may make reasonable rules governing their submission. Such rules shall contain a provision that in the event any insurer does not within sixty days furnish satisfactory evidence to the rating organization of the correction of any error or omission previously called to its attention by the rating organization, it shall be the duty of the rating organization to notify the commissioner thereof. All information so submitted for examination shall be confidential.

6. Any rating organization may subscribe for or purchase actuarial, technical or other services, and such services shall be available to all members and subscribers without discrimination. [C50, 54, 58, 62,§§515A.6, 515B.6; C66, 71,§515A.6]

Referred to in §515A.12

515A.7 Deviations. Every member of or subscriber to a rating organization shall adhere to the filings made on its behalf by such organization except that any such insurer may make written application to the commissioner to file a deviation from the class rates, schedules, rating plans or rules respecting any kind of insurance, or class of risk within a kind of insurance, or combination thereof. Such application shall specify the basis for the modification and a copy shall also be sent simultaneously to such rating organization. In considering the application to file such deviation the commissioner shall give consideration to the available statistics and the principles for rate making as provided in section 515A.3. The commissioner shall issue an order permitting the deviation for such insurer to be filed if he finds it to be justified and it shall thereupon become effective. He shall issue an order denying such application if he finds that the deviation applied for does not meet the requirements of this chapter.

Each deviation permitted to be filed shall remain in effect for a period of not less than one year from the effective date unless sooner withdrawn by the insurer with the approval of the commissioner or until terminated in accordance with the provisions of section 515A.5. [C50, 54, 58, 62,§§515A.7, 515B.7; C66, 71,§515A.7]

515A.8 Appeal by minority. Any member or subscriber to a rating organization may appeal to the commissioner from the action or decision of such rating organization in approving or rejecting any proposed change in or addition to the filings of such rating organization and the commissioner shall, after a hearing held upon not less than ten days' written notice to the appellant, and to such rating organization, issue an order approving the action or decision of such rating organization or directing it to give further consideration to such proposal, or, if such appeal is from the action or decision of the rating organization in rejecting a proposed addition to its filings, he may, in the event he finds that such action or decision was unreasonable, issue an order directing the rating organization to make an addition to its filings, on behalf of its members and subscribers, in a manner consistent with his findings, within a reasonable time after the issuance of such order.

If such appeal is based upon the failure of the rating organization to make a filing on behalf of such member or subscriber, which is based on a system of expense provisions which differs, in accordance with the right granted in paragraph "c" of subsection 1 of section 515A.3, from the system of expense provisions included in a filing made by the rating organization, the commissioner shall, if he grants the appeal, order the rating organization to make the requested filing for use by the appellant. In deciding such appeal the commissioner shall apply the standards set forth in section 515A.3. [C50, 54, 58, 62,§§515A.8, 515B.8; C66, 71,§515A.8]

515A.9 Information to be furnished insureds — hearings and appeals of insureds. Every rating organization and every insurer which makes its own rates shall, within a reasonable time after receiving written request therefor and upon payment of such reasonable charge as it may make, furnish to any insured affected by a rate made by it, or to the authorized representative of such insured, all pertinent information as to such rate. Every rating organization and every insurer which makes its own rates shall provide within this state reasonable means whereby any person aggrieved by the application of its rating system may be heard, in person or by his authorized representative, on his written request to review the manner in which such rating system has been applied in connection with the insurance afforded him. If the rating organization or insurer fails to grant or reject such request within thirty days after it is made, applicant may proceed in the same manner as if his application had been rejected. Any party affected by the action of such rating organization or such insurer on such request may, within thirty days after written notice of such action, appeal to the commissioner, who, after a hearing held upon not less than ten days' written notice to the appellant and to such rating organization or insurer, may affirm or reverse such action. [C50, 54, 58, 62,§§515A.9, 515B.9; C66, 71,§515A.9]

515A.10 Advisory organizations.

1. Every group, association or other organization of insurers, whether located within or outside of this state, which assists insurers which make their own filings or rating organizations in rate making, by the collection and furnishing of loss or expense statistics, or by the submission of recommendations, but which does not make filings under this chapter, shall be known as an advisory organization.

2. Every advisory organization shall file with the commissioner (a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of agreement or association or its certificate of incorporation and of its bylaws, rules and regulations governing its activities, (b) a list of its members, (c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process issued at his direction may be served, and (d) an agreement that the commissioner may examine such advisory organization in accordance with the provisions of section 515A.12.

3. If, after a hearing, the commissioner finds that the furnishing of such information or assistance involves any act or practice which is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, he may issue a written order specifying in what respects such act or practice is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, and requiring the discontinuance of such act or practice.

4. No insurer which makes its own filings nor any rating organization shall support its filings by statistics or adopt rate making recommendations, furnished to it by an advisory organization which has not complied with this section or with an order of the commissioner involving such statistics or recommendations issued under subsection 3 of this section. If the commissioner finds such insurer or rating organization to be in violation of this subsection he may issue an order requiring the discontinuance of such violation.

51A.13 Rate administration.

1. Recording and reporting of loss and expense experience. The commissioner shall promulgate reasonable rules and statistical plans, reasonably adapted to each of the rating systems on file with him, which may be modified from time to time and which shall be used thereafter by each insurer in the recording and reporting of its loss and countrywide expense experience, in order that the experience of all insurers may be made available at least annually in such form and detail as may be necessary to aid him in determining whether rating systems comply with the standards set forth in section 51A.3. Such rules and plans may also provide for the recording and reporting of expense experience items which are especially applicable to this state and are not susceptible of determination by a prorating of countrywide expense experience. In promulgating such rules and plans, the commissioner shall give due consideration to the rating systems on file with him and, in order that such rules and plans may be as uniform as is practicable among the several states, to the rules and to the form of the plans used for such rating systems in other states. No insurer shall be required to record or report its loss experience on a classification basis that is inconsistent with the rating system filed by it. The commissioner may designate one or more rating organizations or other agencies to assist him in gathering such experience and making compilations thereof, and such compilations shall be made available, subject to reasonable rules promulgated by the commissioner, to insurers and rating organizations.

2. Interchange of rating plan data. Reasonable rules and plans may be promulgated by the commissioner for the interchange of data necessary for the application of rating plans.

3. Consultation with other states. In order to further uniform administration of rate

regulatory laws, the commissioner and every insurer and rating organization may exchange information and experience data with insurance supervisory officials, insurers and rating organizations in other states and may consult with them with respect to rate making and the application of rating systems.

4. Rules and regulations. The commissioner may make reasonable rules and regulations necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §§515A.13, 515B.13; C66, 71, §§515A.13]

515A.14 False or misleading information. No person or organization shall willfully withhold information from, or knowingly give false or misleading information to, the commissioner, any statistical agency designated by the commissioner, any rating organization, or any insurer, which will affect the rates or premiums chargeable under this chapter. A violation of this section shall subject the one guilty of such violation to the penalties provided in section 515A.17. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §§515A.14, 515B.14; C66, 71, §§515A.14; 64GA, ch 1019, §4]

515A.15 Assigned risks. Agreements may be made among insurers with respect to the equitable apportionment among them of insurance which may be afforded applicants who are in good faith entitled to but who are unable to procure such insurance through ordinary methods and such insurers may agree among themselves on the use of reasonable rate modifications for such insurance, such agreements and rate modifications to be subject to the approval of the commissioner. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §§515A.15]

515A.16 Rebates prohibited. No agent shall knowingly charge, demand or receive a premium for any policy of insurance except in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. No insurer or employee thereof, and no agent, shall pay, allow, give, or offer to pay, allow, or give, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to insurance or after insurance has been effectuated, any rebate, discount, abatement, credit or reduction of the premium named in a policy of insurance, or any special favor or advantage in the dividends or other benefits to accrue thereon, or any valuable consideration or inducement whatever, not specified in the policy of insurance, except to the extent provided for in an applicable filing. 515B.5 Duties and powers of the association.

1. The association shall:
   a. Be obligated to the extent of the covered claims existing prior to the determination of insolvency and arising within thirty days after the determination of insolvency, or before the policy expiration date if less than thirty days after the determination, or before the insurance replaced the policy or on request effects cancellation if he does so within thirty days of the determination. Such obligation shall include only that amount of each covered claim which is in excess of one hundred dollars and less than three hundred thousand dollars, except that the association shall pay the full amount of any covered claim arising out of a workmen's compensation policy. In no event shall the association be obligated to a policyholder or claimant in an amount in excess of the face amount of the policy from which the claim arises.
   b. Be deemed the insurer to the extent of its obligations on the covered claims and to such extent shall have all rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent insurer as if the insurer had not become insolvent.
   c. Assess member insurers amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under paragraph "a" of this subsection subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency, the cost of examinations under section 515B.10, and other expenses authorized by this chapter. The assessment of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the preceding calendar year bear to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the preceding calendar year. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than thirty days before it is due. No member insurer may be assessed in any year an amount greater than two percent of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the preceding calendar year. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association, does not provide in any one year an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments, the funds available shall be prorated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon as funds become available. The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of any member insurer if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by any jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance. Each member insurer may set off against any assessment, authorized payments made on covered claims and expenses incurred in the payment of such claims by the member insurer.
   d. Investigate claims brought against the fund and adjust, compromise, settle, and pay covered claims to the extent of the association's obligation and deny all other claims.
   e. Notify such persons as the commissioner directs under section 515B.7, subsection 2, paragraph "a".
   f. Process claims through its employees or through one or more member insurers or other persons designated as servicing facilities. Designation of a servicing facility is subject to the approval of the commissioner, but such designation may be declined by a member insurer.

2. The association may:
   a. Appear in, defend, and appeal any action on a claim brought against the association.
   b. Employ or retain persons necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the association.

515B.6 Plan of operation.

1. The association shall submit a plan of operation to the commissioner, together with any amendments necessary or suitable to assure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments shall become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

If the association fails to submit a suitable plan of operation within ninety days following the effective date of this chapter or if at any time thereafter the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and opportunity for hearing, adopt and promulgate reasonable rules necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this chapter. Such rules shall continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

2. All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

   c. Establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under section 515B.4.
   d. Establish procedures by which claims may be filed with the association and establish acceptable forms of proof of covered claims. Notice of claims to the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer shall be deemed notice to the association or its agent and a list of such claims shall be periodically submitted to the association or similar organization in another state by the receiver or liquidator.
   e. Establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors.
   f. Establish procedures for keeping records of all financial transactions of the association, its agents, and the board of directors.
   g. Provide that any member insurer aggrieved by any final action or decision of the association may appeal to the commissioner within thirty days after the action or decision.
   h. Establish procedures for submission to the commissioner of selections for the board of directors.
   i. Contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the duties and powers of the association.

4. The plan of operation may provide that any or all duties and powers of the association, except those under section 515B.5, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, and subsection 2, paragraph “c”, are delegated to a person which performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association in two or more states. Such person shall be reimbursed as a servicing facility and shall be paid for performance of any other functions of the association. A delegation under this subsection shall take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner, and may be made only to a person which extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this chapter. [C71,§515B.6]

515B.7 Duties and powers of the commissioner.

1. The commissioner shall:
   a. Notify the association of the existence of an insolvent insurer not later than three days after he receives notice of the determination of the insolvency.

   c. Require that the association notify the insureds of the insolvent insurer and any other interested parties of the determination of insolvency and of their rights under this chapter. Such notification shall be by mail at their last known address, but if sufficient information for notification by mail is not available, notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation is sufficient.
   d. Suspend or revoke, after notice and opportunity for hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on any member insurer which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such fine shall not exceed five percent of the unpaid assessment per month, except that no fine shall be less than one hundred dollars per month.
   e. Revoke the designation of any servicing facility if he finds claims are being processed unsatisfactorily.

2. Any final action, decision or order of the commissioner under this chapter shall be subject to judicial review in the Polk county district court by writ of certiorari on petition of any aggrieved person filed within thirty days after the taking of such final action or the entry of the decision or order appealed from. The court may stay the effect of the action, decision, or order pending the appeal. The appeal shall be heard on the record before the commissioner together with such additional evidence as any party may produce. The court shall hear the matter de novo and may modify, affirm, or reverse the action, decision, or order appealed from in whole or in part. [C71, §515B.7; 64GA, ch 1113,§5]

515B.8 Effect of paid claims.
1 Any person recovering under this chapter shall be deemed to have assigned his rights under the policy to the association to the extent of his recovery from the association. Every insured or claimant seeking the protection of this chapter shall cooperate with the association to the same extent as such person would have been required to cooperate with the insolvent insurer. The association shall have no cause of action against the insured of the insolvent insurer for any sums it has paid out.

2 The receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor of an insolvent insurer shall be bound by settlements of covered claims by the association or a similar organization in another state. The court having jurisdiction shall grant such claim priority equal to that to which the claimant would have been entitled in the absence of this chapter against the assets of the insolvent insurer. The expenses of the association or similar organization in handling claims shall be accorded the same priority as the liquidator's expenses.

3 The association shall periodically file with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer statements of the covered claims paid by the association and estimates of anticipated claims on the association which statements shall preserve the rights of the association against the assets of the insolvent insurer.

515B.9 Nonduplication of recovery.
1 Any person having a claim against his insurer under any provision in his insurance policy which is also a covered claim shall be required to exhaust first his right under the policy. Any amount payable on a covered claim under this chapter shall be reduced by the amount of recovery under the claimant's insurance policy.

2 Any person having a claim which may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured. However, if such claim is a first party claim for property with a permanent location recovered shall be first sought from the association of the location of the property and if such claim is a workmen's compensation claim recovery shall be first sought from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any recovery under this chapter shall be reduced by the amount of the recovery from any other insurance guaranty association or its equivalent.

515B.10 Prevention of insolvencies.
1 To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies:

1.1 The board of directors shall, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public. Within thirty days of the receipt of such request, the commissioner shall begin such examination. The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by such persons as the commissioner designates. The cost of such examination shall be paid by the association and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports. In no event shall such examination report be released to the board of directors prior to its release to the public but this shall not preclude the commissioner from complying with subsection 3 of this section. The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination shall be kept on file by the commissioner but it shall not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public.

3 The commissioner shall report to the board of directors when he has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined or being examined at the request of the board of directors may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

5 The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies.

6 The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report on the history and causes of such insolvency, based on the information available to the association and submit such report to the commissioner.

515B.14 Immunity. There is no liability, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any member insurer, the association, its agents or employees, the board of directors, the commissioner, or his representatives, for any reasonable action taken by them in the performance of their duties and powers under this chapter. [C71,§515B.14]

515B.15 Stay of proceedings. All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party in any court in this state shall be stayed for sixty days from the date the insolvency is determined to permit proper defense by the association of all pending causes of action. [C71,§515B.15]

515B.16 Actions against the association. Actions against the association shall be brought against it in its own name in the Polk county district court. "Mortgage guaranty insurance" means insurance against financial loss by reason of nonpayment of principal, interest and other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of any note or bond or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage, deed or trust or other instrument constituting a lien or charge on real estate or on an owner-occupied mobile home. [C66, 71,§515C.1]

515C.2 Eligibility for insurance. Eligibility for mortgage guaranty insurers shall be as follows:

1. An insurer, in order to qualify for writing mortgage guaranty insurance, must have the same surplus to policyholders as that required of a multiple line company by section 515.49, subsection 8.

515C.3 Bases for computations. The unearned premium reserve shall be computed in accordance with section 515.47, except that all premiums on risks written for one year or less must be reserved on a monthly pro rata basis, and the reserve for those policies covering a risk period of more than five years shall be computed in accordance with formulae filed by the insurer and approved by the commissioner of insurance. [C66, 71,§515C.3]

515C.4 Contingency reserve. For the protection of the people of this state and for the purpose of protecting against the effect of adverse economic cycles, the company shall establish a contingency reserve. The company shall annually contribute fifty percent of the earned premiums to this reserve. The earned premiums so reserved may be released annually after the period of time required by the commissioner, provided that said time shall not be less than one hundred twenty months. However, subject to the approval of the commissioner, this reserve may be available only for loss payments, when the loss ratio (incurred losses to premiums earned) exceeds twenty percent. This amount so used shall reduce the next subsequent annual release to surplus from the established contingency reserve. [C66, 71,§515C.4]

515C.5 Limit of outstanding liability. A mortgage guaranty insurer shall not at any time have outstanding a total liability, net of reinsurance, in excess of twenty-five times its capital, unassigned funds and contingency reserve. It shall not insure loans secured by 515D.2 Definition. As used in this chapter, unless otherwise required by the context:

1. “Policy” means an automobile insurance policy providing bodily injury liability, property damage liability, medical payments, uninsured motorist coverage, physical damage coverage, or any combination thereof, delivered or issued for delivery in this state, insuring a single individual or one or more related individuals resident in the same household, as named insured, and insuring vehicles of the following types only:
   a. Motor vehicles of the private passenger or station wagon type which are not used as public conveyances nor rented to others.
   b. Any other four-wheel motor vehicles with a load capacity of one thousand five hundred pounds or less which are not used in the business or profession of the insured.

2. “Renewal” or “to renew” means the issuance and delivery by an insurer of a policy replacing at the end of the previous policy term a policy previously issued and delivered by the same insurer, or the issuance and delivery of a certificate or notice extending the coverage of the policy beyond its original term. Any renewal policy, other than a replacement policy for an unfinished term, with a term of six months or less shall be considered written, for the purposes of this chapter, for a term of six months.

Any policy written for a term longer than one year or with no fixed expiration date shall be considered written for successive policy terms of one year.

3. “Nonpayment of premium” means failure of the named insured to discharge when due any of his obligations in connection with the payment of premiums on the policy, or any installment of a premium, whether the premium is payable directly to the insurer or its agent or indirectly under any premium finance plan or extension of credit. [C71, §515D.2]

515D.3 When not applicable. This chapter shall not apply to any policy:
1. Issued under an automobile assigned risk plan.
2. Covering garage, automobile sales agency, repair shop, service station, or public parking place operation hazards.
3. Insuring more than four automobiles.
4. Issued principally to cover personal or premises liability of an insured even though such insurance may also provide some incidental coverage for liability arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle on the premises of such insured or on the ways immediately adjoining the premises. [C71, §515D.3]

515D.4 Notice of cancellation—reasons. No policy may be canceled except by notice to the insured as provided in this chapter. No notice of cancellation of a policy shall be effective unless it is based on one or more of the following reasons:
1. Nonpayment of premium.
2. Nonpayment of dues to an association or organization other than an insurance association or organization, where payment of dues is a prerequisite to obtaining or continuing insurance in force and the dues payment requirement was in effect prior to January 1, 1960.
3. Fraud or material misrepresentation affecting the policy or the presentation of a claim.
4. Violation of terms or conditions of the policy.
5. This section shall not apply to any policy or coverage which has been in effect less than sixty days at the time notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered by the insurer unless it is a renewal policy. This section shall not apply to the nonrenewal of a policy.

During the policy period no modification of automobile physical damage coverage, except coverage for loss caused by collision, whereby provision is made for the application of a deductible amount not exceeding one hundred dollars shall be deemed a cancellation of the coverage or of the policy. [C71, §515D.4]

515D.5 Delivery of notice. A post-office department certificate of mailing to the named insured at the address shown in the policy shall be proof of receipt of such mailing. Unless the reason accompanies the notice of cancellation, the notice shall state that, upon written request of the named insured, mailed or delivered to the insurer not less than fifteen days prior to the date of cancellation, the insurer will state the reason for cancellation, together with notification of the right to a hearing before the commissioner within fifteen days as provided herein.

When the reason does not accompany the notice of cancellation, the insurer shall, upon receipt of a timely request by the named insured, state in writing the reason for cancellation. A statement of reason shall be mailed or delivered to the named insured within five days after receipt of a request. [C71, §515D.5]

515D.6 Prohibited reasons. No insurer shall refuse to renew a policy solely because of age, residence, race, color, creed, or occupation of an insured.

No insurer shall require a physical examination of a policyholder as a condition for renewal solely on the basis of age or other arbitrary reason. In the event that an insurer requires a physical examination of a policyholder, the burden of proof in establishing reasonable and sufficient grounds for such requirement shall rest with the insurer and the expenses incident to such examination shall be borne by the insurer. [C71, §515D.6; 64GA, ch 244, §1]

515D.7 Notice of intent. No insurer shall fail to renew a policy except by notice to the insured as provided in this chapter. A notice of intention not to renew shall not be effective unless mailed or delivered by the insurer to the named insured at least thirty days prior to the expiration date of the policy. A post-office department certificate of mailing to the named insured at the address shown in the policy shall be proof of receipt of such mailing. When the reason does not accompany the notice of intent not to renew, the insurer shall, upon receipt of a timely request by the named insured, state in writing the reason for nonrenewal, together with notification of the right to a hearing before the commissioner within fifteen days as provided herein. A

515D.10 Hearing before commissioner. Any named insured who has received a statement of reason for cancellation, or of reason for an insurer's intent not to renew a policy, may, within fifteen days of the receipt or delivery of a statement of reason, request a hearing before the commissioner of insurance. The purpose of this hearing shall be limited to establishing the existence of the proof or evidence used by the insurer in its reason for cancellation or intent not to renew. The burden of proof of the reason for cancellation or intent not to renew shall be upon the insurer. The commissioner of insurance shall adopt rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this section. [C71,§515D.10]

515D.11 Insured told of alternate coverage. When automobile bodily injury and property damage liability coverage is cancelled or not renewed, other than for nonpayment of premium, the insurer shall notify the named insured of his possible eligibility for automobile liability insurance through the Iowa automobile insurance plan. Such notice shall accompany the notice of cancellation or intent not to renew. [C71,§515D.11]

515D.12 Immunity of liability. There shall be no liability on the part of, and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against the commissioner of insurance or any employee of the insurance department of Iowa or against any insurer, its authorized representatives, its agents, its employees, or against any firm, person, or corporation furnishing to the insurer information as to reasons for cancellation or intent not to renew, for any statement made by any of them in any written notice of cancellation or notice of intent not to renew or in any other communication, oral or written, specifying the reasons for cancellation or intent not to renew, or for any information provided or evidence submitted at any hearings conducted in connection with reasons for cancellation or intent not to renew. CHAPTER 516
LIABILITY POLICIES—UNSATISFIED JUDGMENTS

516.1 Inurement of policy.
516.2 Settlement.

516.1 Inurement of policy. All policies insuring the legal liability of the insured, issued in this state by any company, association or reciprocal exchange shall, notwithstanding any other provision of the statutes, contain a provision providing that, in event an execution on a judgment against the insured be returned unsatisfied in an action by a person who is injured or whose property is damaged, the judgment creditor shall have a right of action against the insurer to the same extent that such insured could have enforced his claim against such insurer had such insured paid such judgment. [C35,§9021-g1; C39,§9024.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§516.1]

516.2 Settlement. No settlement between said insurer and insured, after loss, shall bar said action unless consented to by said judgment plaintiff. [C35,§9021-g2; C39,§9024.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§516.2]

516.3 Limitation on action. Said action may be brought against said insurer within one hundred eighty days from the entry of judgment in case no appeal is taken, and, in case of appeal, within one hundred eighty days after the judgment is affirmed on appeal, anything in the policy or statutes to the contrary notwithstanding. [C35,§9024-g3; C39,§9024.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§516.3]
CHAPTER 516A
PROTECTION AGAINST UNINSURED OR HIT AND RUN MOTORISTS

516A.1 Coverage included in every liability policy—rejection by insured. No automobile liability or motor vehicle liability insurance policy insuring against liability for bodily injury or death arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state with respect to any motor vehicle registered or principally garaged in this state, unless coverage is provided in such policy or supplemental thereto, for the protection of persons insured under such policy who are legally entitled to recover damages from the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle or a hit-and run motor vehicle because of bodily injury, sickness, or disease, including death resulting therefrom, caused by accident and arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of such uninsured motor vehicle, or arising out of physical contact of such hit-and run motor vehicle with the person insured or with a motor vehicle which the person insured is occupying at the time of the accident. Such coverage shall include limits for bodily injury or death at least equal to those stated in subsection 10 of section 321A.1. The form and provisions of such coverage shall be examined and approved by the commissioner of insurance. However, the named insured shall have the right to reject such coverage by written rejections signed by the named insured. If such rejection is made on a form or document furnished by an insurance company or insurance agent, it shall be on a separate sheet of paper which contains only such rejection and information directly related thereto. Such coverage need not be provided in or supplemental to a renewal policy where the named insured has rejected such coverage in connection with a policy previously issued to him by the same insurer. [C71, §516A.1]

516A.3 Definition. For the purpose of this chapter, the term “uninsured motor vehicle” shall, subject to the terms and conditions of the coverage herein required, be deemed to include an insured motor vehicle with respect to which insolvency proceedings have been instituted against the liability insurer thereof by the insurance regulatory official of this or any other state or territory of the United States or of the District of Columbia. An insurer’s insolvency protection shall be applicable only to accidents occurring during a policy period in which its insured’s uninsured motorist coverage is in effect and only if the liability insurer of the tort-feasor is insolvent at the time of such an accident or becomes insolvent within one year after such an accident. [C71, §516A.3]

516A.4 Insurer making payment—reimbursement. In the event of payment to any person under the coverage required by this chapter and subject to the terms and conditions of such coverage, the insurer making such payment shall, to the extent thereof, be entitled to the proceeds of any settlement or judgment resulting from the exercise of any rights of recovery of such person against any person or organization legally responsible for the bodily injury for which such payment is made, including the proceeds recoverable from the assets of the insolvent insurer. The person to whom said payment is made under the insolvency protection required by this chapter shall to the extent thereof, be deemed to have waived any right to proceed to enforce such a judgment against the assets of the judgment debtor who was insured by the insolvent insurer whose insolvency resulted in said payment being made, other than assets recovered or recoverable by such judgment debtor from such insolvent insurer. [C71, §516A.4]

Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing, ten percent or more of the voting securities of any other person. This presumption may be rebutted by showing that control does not exist in fact.

Any domestic insurer, either by itself or in co-operation with one or more persons, subject to the limitations set forth herein or elsewhere in this chapter, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries engaged or registered to engage in one or more of the following activities:

a. Any kind of insurance business authorized by the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated.

b. Acting as an insurance broker or as an insurance agent for its parent or for any of its parent’s insurer subsidiaries or intermediate insurer subsidiaries.

i. Acting as administrative agent for a government instrumentality which is performing an insurance function.

j. Financing of insurance premiums, agents and other forms of consumer financing.

k. Any other business or service activity reasonably ancillary to an insurance business.

l. Owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one or more of the businesses specified in paragraphs “a” to “k” inclusive.

2. Exception. Nothing contained in subsection 1 of this section shall prohibit a domestic insurer, either by itself or in co-operation with one or more persons, from investing amounts up to a total of ten percent of surplus in one or more subsidiaries or affiliates organized to do any lawful business.

3. Additional investment authority. In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities permitted under all other sections of this Title, a domestic insurer may also:

a. Invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of ten percent of such insurer’s assets or fifty percent of such insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders, provided that after such investments the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer’s outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. In calculating the amount of such investments both of the following shall be included:

   (1) Total net moneys or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of such subsidiary whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities.

   (2) All amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus, of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation.

b. If the insurer’s total liabilities, as calculated for National Association of Insurance Commissioners annual statement purposes, are less than ten percent of assets, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after such investment the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders, considering such investment as if it were a disallowed asset, will be reasonable in relation to the insurer’s outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

c. Invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities of one or more subsidiaries provided that each such subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that such investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in paragraph “a” of this subsection or in chapters 511, 515, 518A, and 320 applicable to the insurer. For the purpose of this paragraph, “total investment of the insurer” shall include both:

   (1) Any direct investment by the insurer in an asset.

   (2) The insurer’s proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary’s investment by the percentage of the insurer’s ownership of such subsidiary.

d. With the approval of the commissioner, invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries, provided that after such investment the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer’s outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

e. Invest any amount in the common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of any subsidiary exclusively engaged in holding title to or holding title to and managing or developing real or personal property, if after considering as a disallowed asset so much of the investment as is represented by subsidiary assets which if held directly by the insurer would be considered as a disallowed asset, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs, and if following such investment all voting securities of such subsidiary would be owned by the insurer.

4. Exemption from investment restrictions. Investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to subsection 3 of this section hereof shall not be subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in the Code applicable to such investments of insurers.

5. Qualification of investment—when determined. Whether any investment pursuant to subsection 3 of this section meets the applicable requirements thereof is to be determined immediately after such investment is made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations, and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the date they were made.

6. Cessation of control. If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this section within three years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after such investment shall have been made, such investment shall have met the requirements for investment under any other section of the Code, and the insurer has notified the commissioner thereof. 521A.3 Acquisition of control of or merger with domestic insurer.

1. Filing requirements. No person other than the insurer shall make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of, or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consummation thereof, such person would, directly or indirectly, own or control, by conversion or otherwise, by exercise of any right to acquire, be in control of such insurer, and no person shall enter into an agreement to merge with or otherwise to acquire control of a domestic insurer unless, at the time any such offer, request, or invitation is made or any such agreement is entered into, or prior to the acquisition of such securities if no offer or agreement is involved, such person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to such insurer, and such insurer has sent to its shareholders, a statement containing the information required by this section and such offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

b. The source, nature and amount of the consideration used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control, a description of any transaction wherein funds were or are to be obtained for any such purpose, and the identity of persons furnishing such consideration, provided, however, that where a source of such consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordinary course of business, the identity of the lender shall remain confidential, if the person filing such statement so requests.

c. Fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding five fiscal years of each such acquiring party, or for such lesser period as such acquiring party and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence, and similar unaudited information as of a date not earlier than ninety days prior to the filing of the statement.

d. Any plans or proposals which each acquiring party may have to liquidate such insurer, to sell its assets or merge or consolidate it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management.
e. The number of shares of any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section which each acquiring party proposes to acquire, and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition referred to in subsection 1 of this section, and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at.

f. The amount of each class of any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section which is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by each acquiring party.

g. Such description shall identify the persons with whom such contracts, arrangements or understandings have been entered into.

h. i. A description of any recommendations to purchase any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section made during the twelve calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by any acquiring party, or by anyone based upon interview or at the suggestion of such acquiring party.

j. Copies of all tender offers for, requests or invitations for tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any securities referred to in subsection 1 of this section, and, if distributed, of additional soliciting material relating thereto.

k. The terms of any agreement, contract or understanding made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of securities referred to in subsection 1 of this section for tender, and the amount of any fees, commissions or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard thereto.

l. Such additional information as the commissioner may by rule or regulation prescribe as necessary or appropriate for the protection of policyholders and securityholders of the insurer or in the public interest.

If the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection 1 of this section is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by paragraphs "a" through "l" of this subsection shall be given with respect to each partner of such partnership or limited partnership, each member of such syndicate or group, and each person who controls such partner or member. If any such partner, member or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection 1 of this section is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information called for by paragraphs "a" through "l" of this subsection shall be given with respect to such corporation, each officer and director of such corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than ten percent of the outstanding voting securities of such corporation, if any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer pursuant to this section, an amendment setting forth such change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to such change, shall be filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer within two business days after the person learns of such change. Such insurer shall send such amendment to its shareholders.

Referred to in subsections 6, 7

3. Alternative filing materials. If any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in subsection 1 of this section is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or under a state law requiring similar registration, or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection 1 of this section may utilize such documents in furnishing the information called for by that statement.

4. Approval by the commissioner — hearings.

a. The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition of control referred to in subsection 1 of this section unless, after a public hearing thereon, he finds any of the following:

(1) After the change of control the domestic insurer referred to in subsection 1 of this section would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which it is presently licensed.

(2) The effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly therein.

(3) The financial condition of any acquiring party is such that it might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer, or prejudice the interest of its policyholders or the interests of any remaining securityholders who are unaffiliated with such acquiring party.

(4) The terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in subsection 1 of this section are unfair and unreasonable to the securityholders of the insurer.
(5) The plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management, are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest.

(6) The competence, experience and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control.

b. The public hearing referred to in paragraph “a” of this subsection shall be held within thirty days after the statement required by subsection 1 of this section is filed, and at least twenty days’ notice thereof shall be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than seven days’ notice of such public hearing shall be given by the commissioner to the insurer and to such other persons as may be designated by the commissioner. The insurer shall give such notice to its securityholders. The commissioner shall make a determination within thirty days after the conclusion of such hearing. At such hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interests may be affected thereby shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and in connection therewith shall be entitled to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the district court of this state. All discovery proceedings shall be concluded not later than three days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

Referenced to in subsection 5

5. Mailings to shareholders—payment of expenses. All statements, amendments, or other material filed pursuant to subsections 1 or 2 of this section, and all notices of public hearings held pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, shall be mailed by the insurer to its shareholders within five business days after the insurer has received such statements, amendments, other material, or notices. The expenses of mailing shall be borne by the person making the filing. As security for the payment of such expenses, such person shall file with the commissioner an acceptable bond or other deposit in an amount to be determined by the commissioner.

6. Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

   a. Any offers, requests, invitations, agreements or acquisitions by the person referred to in subsection 1 of this section of any voting security referred to in subsection 1 of this section which, immediately prior to the consummation of such offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition, was not issued and outstanding.

   b. Any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition which the commissioner by order shall exempt therefrom for one of the following reasons:

      (1) It has not been made or entered into for the purpose and does not have the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer.

      (2) It is otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of this section.

7. Violations. The following shall be violations of this section:

   a. The failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to subsection 1 or 2 of this section.

   b. The effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, or merger with, a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given his approval thereto.

8. Jurisdiction—consent to service of process. The district court is hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under this section, and over all actions involving such person arising out of violations of this section, and each such person shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by such a person of the commissioner to be his true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process, notice or demand in any action, suit or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all such lawful process, notice or demand shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to such person at his last known address. [C71, §521A.3]

Referenced to in §521A.9(2)

Every insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except a foreign insurer subject to disclosure requirements and standards adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile which are substantially similar to those contained in this section. Any insurer which is subject to registration under this section shall register within fifteen days after it becomes subject to registration unless the commissioner for good cause shown extends the time for registration, and then within such extended time. The commissioner may require any authorized insurer which is a member of a holding company system which is not subject to registration under this section to furnish a copy of the registration statement or other information filed by such insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority of domiciliary jurisdiction.

Referenced to in subsection 7

2. Information and form required. Every insurer subject to registration shall file a registration statement on a form provided by the commissioner, which shall contain current information about:
a. The capital structure, general financial condition, ownership and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer.
b. The identity of every member of the insurance holding company system.
c. The following agreements in force, relationships subsisting, and transactions currently outstanding between such insurer and its affiliates:

(2) Purchases, sales, or exchanges of assets.
(3) Transactions not in the ordinary course of business.
(1) Guarantees or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate which result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer's assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer's business.
(5) All management and service contracts and all cost-sharing arrangements, other than cost allocation arrangements based upon generally accepted accounting principles.
(6) Reinsurance agreements covering all or substantially all of one or more lines of insurance of the ceding company.
d. Other matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in any registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner.
Referred to in subsection 3
3. Materiality. No information need be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to subsection 2 of this section if such information is not material for the purposes of this section. Unless the commissioner by rule, regulation or order provides otherwise, sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, or investments, involving one-half of one percent or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding shall not be deemed material for purposes of this section.
4. Amendments to registration statements. Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions on amendment forms provided by the commissioner within fifteen days after the end of the month in which it learns of each such change or addition, provided, however, that subject to subsection 3 of section 521A.5, each registered insurer shall so report all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within two business days following the declaration thereof.
5. Termination of registration. The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer which demonstrates that it no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

6 Consolidated filing. The commissioner may require or allow two or more affiliated insurers subject to registration hereunder to file a consolidated registration statement or consolidated reports amending their consolidated registration statement or their individual registration statements.

7. Alternative registration. The commissioner may allow an insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under subsection 1 of this section and to file all information and material required to be filed under this section.

8. Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any insurer, information or transaction if and to the extent that the commissioner by rule, regulation, or order shall exempt the same from the provisions of this section.

The disclaimer shall fully disclose all material relationships and basis for affiliation between such person and such insurer as well as the basis for disclaiming such affiliation. After a disclaimer has been filed, the Insurer shall be relieved of any duty to register or report under this section which may arise out of the insurer's relationship with such person unless and until the commissioner disallows such a disclaimer. The commissioner shall disallow such a disclaimer only after furnishing all parties in interest with notice and opportunity to be heard and after making specific findings of fact to support such disallowance.

10. Violations. The failure to file a registration statement or any amendment thereto required by this section within the time specified for such filing shall be a violation of this section. [C71, §521A.4]
Referred to in §§521A.6(8), 521A.6(1), 521A.7

321A.5 Standards.
1. Transactions with affiliates. Material transactions by registered insurers with their affiliates shall be subject to all of the following standards:
a. The terms shall be fair and reasonable.
b. The books, accounts and records of each party shall be so maintained as to clearly and accurately disclose the precise nature and details of the transactions.
c. The insurer's surplus as regards policyholders following any dividends or distributions to shareholders shall be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

2. Adequacy of surplus. For purposes of this chapter in determining whether an insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs, the following factors, among others, shall be considered:

a. The size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force and other appropriate criteria.
b. The extent to which the insurer's business is diversified among the several lines of insurance.
c. The number and size of risks insured in each line of business.
d. The extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer's insured risks.
e. The nature and extent of the insurer's reinsurance program.
f. The quality, diversification, and liquidity of the insurer's investment portfolio.
g. The recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders.
h. The surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers.
i. The adequacy of the insurer's reserves.
j. The quality and liquidity of investments in subsidiaries made pursuant to section 521A.2. The commissioner may treat any such investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in his judgment such investment so warrants.

3. Dividends and other distributions. No insurer subject to registration under section 521A.4 shall pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until either thirty days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration thereof and has not within such period disapproved such payment, or the commissioner shall have approved such payment within such thirty-day period.

For purposes of this section, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property, whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding twelve months exceeds the greater of either ten percent of such insurer's surplus as regards policyholders or the net gain from operations of such insurer. If such insurer is a life insurer or the net investment income if such insurer is not a life insurer, for the twelve-month period ending the thirty-first day of December next preceding, or the net gain from operations of such insurer, if such insurer is a life insurer or the net investment income if such insurer is not a life insurer, for the twelve-month period ending the thirty-first day of December next preceding, but shall not include pro rata distributions of any class of the insurer's own securities.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner's approval thereof, and such a declaration shall confer no rights upon shareholders until either the commissioner has approved the payment of such dividend or distribution, or the commissioner has not disapproved such payment within the thirty-day period referred to above. [C71,§521A.5]

521A.6 Examination.

1. Power of commissioner. Subject to the limitation contained in this section and in addition to the powers which the commissioner has under chapter 507 relating to the examination of insurers, the commissioner shall also have the power to order any insurer registered under section 521A.4 to produce such records, books, or other information papers in the possession of the insurer or its affiliates as shall be necessary to ascertain the financial condition or legality of conduct of such insurer. In the event such insurer fails to comply with such order, the commissioner shall have the power to examine such affiliates to obtain such information.

2. Purpose and limitation of examination. The commissioner shall exercise his power under subsection 1 of this section only if the examination of the insurer under chapter 507 is inadequate or the interests of the policyholders of such insurer may be adversely affected.

3. Use of consultants. The commissioner may retain at the registered insurer's expense such attorneys, actuaries, accountants and other experts not otherwise a part of the commissioner's staff as shall be reasonably necessary to assist in the conduct of the examination under subsection 1 of this section. Any persons so retained shall be under the direction and control of the commissioner and shall act in a purely advisory capacity.

If any insurer or the commissioner has reason to believe that any security of the insurer has been or is about to be acquired in contravention of the provisions of this chapter or of any rule, regulation or order issued by the commissioner hereunder the insurer or the commissioner may apply to the district court of Polk county or to the district court for the county in which the insurer has its principal place of business to enjoin any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition made in contravention of section 521A.3 or any rule, regulation, or order issued by the commissioner hereunder to enjoin the voting of any security so acquired, to void any vote of such security already cast at any meeting of shareholders, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the insurer’s policyholders, creditors and shareholders or the public may require.

commissioner, so stipulate, the review shall be confined to the record. Portions of the record may be introduced by stipulation into evidence in a trial de novo as to those parties so stipulating.

2. The filing of an appeal pursuant to this section shall stay the application of any rule, order or other action of the commissioner to the appealing party unless the court, after giving such party notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that such a stay would be detrimental to the interests of policyholders, shareholders, creditors or the public.

The superintendent may appoint one or more special deputies as his agent or agents, with powers specified in the certificate of appointment, to assist him in the duty of management, conservation or dissolution and distribution of the business and property of a state bank.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement, if persons holding shares jointly or as tenants in common are unable to agree upon the manner in which such shares shall be voted, the vote of such shares shall be divided among such persons in proportion to their interest.

Shares standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and shares held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without the transfer thereof into his name if authority so to do be contained in an appropriate order of the court by which such receiver was appointed.

A shareholder whose shares are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares until the shares have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

2. The directors of a state bank who vote for or assent to any distribution of assets of a state bank to its shareholders during the dissolution of the state bank without the payment and discharge of, or making adequate provision for, all known debts, obligations, and liabilities of the state bank shall be jointly and severally liable to the state bank for the amount of such assets which are distributed, to the extent that such debts, obligations and liabilities of the state bank are not thereafter paid and discharged.

A director of a state bank who is present at a meeting of its board of directors at which action on any matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless his dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless he shall file his written dissent to such action with the individual acting as the secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by registered or certified mail to the cashier of the state bank promptly after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a director who voted in favor of such action. Any director against whom a claim shall be asserted under or pursuant to this section for the payment of a dividend or other distribution of assets of a state bank and who shall be held liable thereon, shall be entitled to contribution from the shareholders who accepted or received any such dividend or assets, knowing such dividend or distribution to have been made in violation of the provisions of this chapter, in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively. Further, any director against whom a claim shall be asserted pursuant to this section for the payment of any liability imposed by this section shall be entitled to contribution from any director found to be similarly liable.

Whenever the superintendent deems it necessary he may require, after affording an opportunity for a hearing upon adequate notice, that a director or directors whom he reasonably believes to be liable to a state bank pursuant to subsections 1, 2, 3, or 4 of this section, to pay over to the state bank by the superintendent upon final determination of the amount of such liability. Any portion of the escrow account which is not necessary to meet such liability shall be repaid on a pro rata basis to the directors who contributed to the fund.

A copy of such notice shall be sent to each director of the state bank affected, by registered or certified mail. If, after granting the accused director a reasonable opportunity to be heard, the superintendent finds that the director continued to violate any law relating to such state bank or continued unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business of such state bank after having been warned by the superintendent to discontinue or correct such violations of law or such unsafe or unsound practices, the superintendent, in his discretion, may order that such director be removed from office. A copy of the order shall be served upon such director and upon the state bank of which he is a director at which time he shall cease to be a director of the state bank.

524.1003 Removal of fiduciary powers. If the superintendent at any time concludes that a state bank authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity is managing its accounts in an unsafe or unsound manner, or in a manner in conflict with the provisions of this chapter, and such state bank refuses to correct such practices upon notice to do so, the superintendent may forthwith direct that the state bank cease to act as a fiduciary and proceed to resign its fiduciary positions.

In such event the superintendent shall cause to be filed a petition in the district court in which the state bank has its principal place of business setting forth in general terms that the state bank is acting as fiduciary with respect to certain property and that it is necessary and desirable that successor fiduciaries be appointed. Upon the filing of the petition the court shall enter an order requiring all persons interested in all such fiduciary accounts to designate and take all necessary measures to appoint a successor fiduciary within a time to be fixed by the order, or to show cause why a successor fiduciary should not be appointed by the court. The court shall also direct the state bank to mail a copy of the order to each living settlor and each person known by the state bank to have a beneficial interest in the fiduciary accounts with respect to which the state bank is fiduciary and with respect to which it is being asked to resign its position. Such notice shall be mailed to the last known address of each such settlor and person having a beneficial interest as shown by the records of the state bank. The court may also order publication of such order to the extent that it deems necessary to protect the interests of absent or remote beneficiaries.

In any fiduciary account where those interested therein fail to cause a successor fiduciary to be appointed prior to the time fixed in such order, the court shall appoint a successor fiduciary. A successor fiduciary appointed in accordance with the terms of this section shall succeed to all the rights, powers, titles, duties and responsibilities of the state bank, except that he shall not exercise powers given in the instrument creating the powers that by its express terms are personal to the fiduciary therein designated and except claims or liabilities arising out of the management of the fiduciary account prior to the date of the transfer. [C39, §528.38; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §528.123; C71, §524.1003]

524.1004 Voluntary relinquishment of fiduciary capacity. A state bank desiring to surrender its authorization to act in a fiduciary capacity, in order to relieve itself of the necessity of complying with the requirements attendant to such capacity, shall file with the superintendent a certified copy of a resolution signifying such intent. In such event the state bank shall cause to be filed a petition in the district court in which the state bank has its principal place of business setting forth in general terms that the state bank is acting as fiduciary with respect to certain property and that it desires to cease its fiduciary function and resign its fiduciary positions. Upon the filing of the petition the relinquishment of the fiduciary capacity and the appointment of a successor fiduciary or fiduciaries shall be handled in the same manner and with the same effect as provided for in section 524.1003, dealing with the removal of fiduciary powers.

After compliance with this section the state bank shall proceed to amend its articles of incorporation, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, in a manner to indicate that it is no longer authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity. The superintendent shall approve the proposed amendment, in the manner provided for in this chapter, if he is satisfied that the state bank has properly relieved itself of its fiduciary responsibilities. [S13, §1889-h; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §5292; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §532.9; C71, §524.1004]

524.1005 Trust companies on January 1, 1970. Any trust company existing and operating on January 1, 1970, and which was authorized to act only as a trust company, may continue to act only in a fiduciary capacity, according to the terms of its articles of incorporation, after January 1, 1970, and shall be, insofar as applicable, subject to the provisions of this chapter. Insofar as the use of the word "trust" is concerned, the provisions of subsection 2 of section 524.107 shall not apply to a trust company subject to this section. [C97, §1889; S13, §1889; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9259, 9261; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §§528.52, 528.54; C71, §524.1005]

DIVISION XI
AFFILIATES

524.1101 Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter, an “affiliate” of a state bank shall include any corporation, trust, estate, association, or other similar organization:

1. Of which a state bank, directly or indirectly, owns or controls either a majority of the voting shares or more than fifty percent of the number of shares voted for the election of its directors, trustees, or other individuals exercising similar functions at the preceding election, or controls in any manner the election of a majority of its directors, trustees, or other individuals exercising similar functions.

2. Of which control is held, directly or indirectly, through share ownership or in any other manner, by the shareholders of a state bank who own or control either a majority of the shares of such state bank or more than fifty percent of the number of shares voted for the election of directors of such state bank at the preceding election, or by trustees for the benefit of the shareholders of any such state bank.

3. Of which a majority of its directors, trustees, or other individuals exercising similar functions are directors of any one state bank.

4. Which owns or controls, directly or indirectly, either a majority of the voting shares of a state bank or more than fifty percent of the number of shares voted for the election of directors of a state bank at the preceding election, or controls in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of a state bank, or for the benefit of whose shareholders or members all or substantially all of the outstanding voting shares of a state bank is held by trustees.

5. Which is a bank holding company, as defined by the laws of the United States, of which a state bank is a subsidiary, and any other subsidiary, as defined by the laws of the United States, of a bank holding company. [C71, §524.1101]

524.1102 Loans and other transactions with affiliates. No state bank shall make any loan or any extension of credit to, or purchase securities under repurchase agreement from, any of its affiliates, or invest any of its funds in the shares, bonds, capital securities, or other obligations of any such affiliate, or accept the shares, bonds, capital securities, or other obligations of any such affiliate as collateral security for advances made to any customer, if the aggregate amount of such loans, extensions of credit, repurchase agreements, investments and advances against such collateral security will exceed:

1. In the case of any one such affiliate, ten percent of the capital and surplus of such state bank.

2. In the case of all such affiliates, twenty percent of the capital and surplus of such state bank.

Within the foregoing limitations, each loan or extension of credit of any kind or character to an affiliate shall be secured by collateral in the form of shares of stock, bonds, capital securities or other such obligations having a market value at the time of making the loan or extension of credit of at least twenty percent more than the amount of the loan or extension of credit, or of at least ten percent more than the amount of the loan or extension of credit if it is secured by obligations of any state, or of any political subdivision or agency thereof.

A loan or extension of credit to a director, officer, clerk or other employee or any representative of any such affiliate shall be deemed a loan to the affiliate to the extent that the proceeds of such loan are used for the benefit of, or transferred to, the affiliate.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to loans or extensions of credit fully secured by obligations of the United States, or the federal intermediate credit banks, or the federal land banks, or the federal home loan banks, or obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest.

The provisions of this section shall likewise not apply to indebtedness of any affiliate for unpaid balances due a state bank on assets purchased from such bank.

For the purposes of this section, the term "extension of credit" and "extensions of credit" shall be deemed to include any purchase of securities, other assets or obligations under repurchase agreement, and the discount of promissory notes, bills of exchange, conditional sales contracts, or similar paper, whether with or without recourse. [C71, §524.1102]

524.1103 Exceptions. The provisions of section 524.1102 shall not apply to any affiliate:

1. Engaged solely in holding or operating real estate used wholly or substantially by the state bank in its operations or acquired for its future use.

2. Engaged solely in conducting a safe-deposit business or the business of an agricultural credit corporation eligible to discount loans with a federal intermediate credit bank.

3. Engaged solely in holding obligations of the United States, the federal intermediate credit banks, the federal land banks, the federal home loan banks, or obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest.

4. Where the affiliate relationship has arisen as a result of shares acquired in satisfaction of a bona fide debt contracted prior to the date of the creation of such relationship provided that such shares shall be sold at public or private sale within one year from the date of the creation of the relationship, unless the time is extended by the superintendent.

5. Where the affiliate relationship exists by reason of the ownership or control of any voting shares thereof by a state bank as executor, administrator, trustee, receiver, agent, depositary, or in any other fiduciary capacity, except where such shares are held for the benefit of all or a majority of the shareholders of such state bank.

6. Which is a bank. [C71, §524.1103]

524.1104 Applicability of general loan limitations. Any loan or extension of credit to an affiliate, and any investment in the shares, bonds, capital securities or other obligations of an affiliate, excepted by the provisions of section 524.1102 from the requirements of that section, shall continue to be subject to the other provisions of this chapter applicable to loans or extensions of credit by a state bank and investments by a state bank in shares, bonds, capital securities, or other such obligations. [C71, §524.1104]

524.1105 Examination of affiliates and reports.

1. For the purpose of determining the condition of a state bank and information concerning the state bank, the superintendent shall have the power to make or cause to be made an examination of any affiliate to the same extent as he may examine a state bank under this chapter.

2. If the superintendent has reasonable cause to believe that any corporation, trust, estate, association, or other similar organization is an affiliate, he may require the organization to furnish such information as may enable him to determine whether the organization is an affiliate. [C71, §524.1105]

524.1106 Fees paid to an affiliate—approval by superintendent. Any contract or arrangement for management or financial services which involves payment for these services by a state bank to a person who owns shares in that bank, or to any other affiliate, must be approved by the superintendent prior to such contract or arrangement becoming binding upon the state bank, and may also be reviewed at any time after original approval. Any contract or arrangement for consultation or other services which involves payment of those services by a state bank to any person who individually or whose spouse or immediate family or any combination thereof owns fifteen percent or more of the outstanding shares of that bank or is an officer or director thereof, or to an affiliate may be reviewed by the superintendent. The superintendent shall have authority to determine whether or not such fees are reasonable in relation to the services performed, and if he determines they are unreasonable, to require that they be reduced to a reasonable amount or eliminated and the excess refunded, or that such contract or arrangement not be entered into by the state bank. [C71, §524.1106; 64GA, ch 1114, §2]

DIVISION XII
OFFICES

§524.1201 General provisions. No bank shall open or maintain a branch bank. A state bank may establish and operate bank offices subject to approval and regulation of the superintendent and to the restrictions upon location and number imposed by section 521.1202. A bank office may furnish all banking services ordinarily furnished to customers and depositors at the principal place of business of the state bank which operates the office. The central executive and official business and principal record-keeping functions of a state bank shall be exercised only at its principal place of business, except that data processing services referred to in section 524.801 may be performed for the state bank at some other point. All transactions of a bank office shall be immediately transmitted to the principal place of business of the state bank which operates the office, and no current record-keeping functions shall be maintained at a bank office except to the extent the state bank which operates the office deems it desirable to keep there duplicates of the records kept at the principal place of business of the state bank. [C27, 31, 33, §5258-b1; C39, §5258; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §525.51; C71, §524.1201; 64GA, ch 1114, §8]

§524.1202 Location of offices. The location of any new bank office, or any change of location of a previously established bank office, shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent. No state bank shall establish a bank office outside the boundaries of the counties contiguous to or corners upon the county in which the principal place of business of the state bank is located.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 of this section, no state bank shall establish a bank office in a municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which there is already an established state or national bank or office, however the subsequent chartering and establishment of any state or national bank, through the opening of its principal place of business within the municipal corporation where the bank office is located, shall not affect the right of the bank office to continue in operation in that municipal corporation.

2. A state bank located in a municipal corporation may establish not more than two bank offices within the boundaries of the municipal corporation, each of which shall have adequate off-street parking as determined by the superintendent, and may also have facilities to serve pedestrian customers. A state bank located in a municipal corporation, or in an urban complex composed of two or more Iowa municipal corporations each of which is contiguous to or corners upon at least one of the other municipal corporations within the complex, having a population of over fifty thousand according to the most recent federal census may establish two such offices within the boundaries of the municipal corporation or urban complex; if the municipal corporation or urban complex has a population of over one hundred thousand but not over two hundred thousand, the state bank may establish three such offices within the boundaries of the municipal corporation or urban complex; if the municipal corporation or urban complex has a population of over two hundred thousand, the state bank may establish four such offices within the boundaries of the municipal corporation or urban complex. Such a facility located in the proximity of a state bank’s principal place of business may be found by the superintendent to be an integral part of the principal place of business, and not a bank office within the meaning of this section. [C71, §524.1202; 64GA, ch 1114, §4]

Whenever an examination by the superintendent or other supervisory agencies discloses that the operation of a bank office is being conducted in violation of section 524.1201, the superintendent may forthwith revoke the approval of the bank office. [C71, §524.1203; 64GA, ch 1114, §5]

Referred to in §524.1419

§524.1204 Privileges extended to national banks. The privileges extended to state banks by sections 524.1201 and 524.1202 shall be available on the same conditions to national banks to the extent they are so authorized by federal law. [C71, §524.1201(3); 64GA, ch 1114, §6]

DIVISION XIII
DISSOLUTION

§524.1301 Voluntary dissolution prior to commencement of business.

1. Subsequent to the issuance of the certificate of incorporation and prior to the issuance of the authorization to do business, a state bank which has not issued any shares may be voluntarily dissolved by its incorporators. In such case the articles of dissolution shall be prepared and filed in the manner provided in section 496A.79. The articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the superintendent, together with the applicable filing and recording fees, who shall deliver the same to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the office of the county recorder.

2. A state bank which has issued its shares, whether or not it has received an authorization to do business, but which has not commenced any business for which an authorization is required, may propose to dissolve by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least three-fourths of the shares entitled to vote thereon. After obtaining the approval of the superintendent to dissolve under this section the state bank shall deliver to the superintendent articles of dissolution which shall be executed by two duly authorized officers and which shall contain the date of incorporation, a statement that it has not transacted any business for which an authorization to do business is required, a statement that all liabilities of the state bank have been paid or provided for, a statement that all amounts received on account of capital, surplus and undivided profits, less any part thereof disbursed for necessary expenses, have been returned to the persons entitled thereto, and the number of shares entitled to vote on the dissolution and the number of shares voted for or against it respectively. If the superintendent finds that the articles of dissolution satisfy the requirements of this chapter, he shall deliver them to the secretary of state, with his written approval, and notify the state bank of his action. [C97, §1557; S13 §1557; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §927; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,$528.76; C71, §524.1301]

524.1302 Involuntary dissolution prior to commencement of business. Prior to the issuance of an authorization to do business, the superintendent may cause the dissolution of a state bank if there exists any reason why it should not have been incorporated under this chapter or if an authorization to do business has not been issued within one year after the date of its incorporation, or such longer time as the superintendent may allow for satisfaction of conditions precedent to its issuance. After giving the state bank adequate notice and an opportunity for hearing, the superintendent shall certify the applicable facts by the filing of a statement with the secretary of state, who shall thereafter issue a certificate of dissolution. Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution by the secretary of state, the corporate existence of the state bank shall cease. [C31, 35, §9142.1; C39, §9142.1; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,$524.11; C71, §524.1302]

324.1303 Voluntary dissolution after commencement of business. 1. A state bank which has commenced business may propose to voluntarily dissolve upon the affirmative vote of the holders of at least three-fourths of the shares entitled to vote thereon, adopting a plan of dissolution involving both a provision for acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities by another state bank or national bank and a provision for continuance of its business if acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities is not effected, or any other plan of dissolution providing for full payment of its liabilities. 2. Upon receipt of an application for approval of a plan of dissolution the superintendent shall conduct such investigation as he may deem necessary to determine whether the plan adequately protects the interests of depositors, other creditors and shareholders and, if the plan involves an acquisition of assets and assumption of liabilities by another state bank, whether such acquisition and assumption would be consistent with adequate and sound banking and in the public interest, on the basis of factors substantially similar to those set forth in paragraph "d" of subsection 1 of section 524.1403. Within ninety days after receipt of the application, the superintendent shall approve or disapprove the application on the basis of his investigation. Before receiving the decision of the superintendent with respect to the pending application, the applying state bank shall, upon notice, reimburse the superintendent to the extent of the expenses incurred by him in connection with the application. Thereafter the superintendent shall give to the applying state bank written notice of his decision, and in the event of disapproval, a statement of the reasons for his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be subject to review by the district court of Polk county upon petition by any interested party within thirty days after the superintendent notifies the applying bank of his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be upheld unless unsupported by substantial evidence.

3. When a state bank has proposed to dissolve by adopting a plan of dissolution involving a provision for acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities by another state bank, it shall publish a notice of the proposed transaction. The notice shall be published once each week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which the dissolving bank has its principal place of business, and in the municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which the acquiring state bank has its principal place of business, or if there is none, a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, counties, or in a county adjoining the county or counties, in which the dissolving bank and the acquiring bank have their principal place of business. Such publication of notice shall be made within thirty days after making application to the superintendent for approval of the plan of dissolution, and proof of publication of the notice shall be delivered to the superintendent. The notice shall set forth the name of the dissolving state bank and of the acquiring state bank, the location and post-office address of the principal place of business of the dissolving state bank and of the acquiring state bank and of each office to be maintained by the acquiring state bank and a brief statement of the nature of the proposed transaction. Prior to making a determination on the pending application the superintendent shall, upon adequate notice, afford all interested parties an opportunity for a stenographically reported hearing during which such parties shall be allowed to present evidence in support of, or in opposition to, the pending application. If the superintendent finds that he must act immediately on the pending application in order to protect the interest of the holders of the assets of the dissolving bank, he may proceed without requiring publication of the notice and without providing for the hearing referred to in this subsection. [C97, §1857; S13, §1857; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9277; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §528.76; C71, §524.1303]

Referred to in §§524.1304, 524.1309(2)

1. Immediately upon the adoption and approval of a plan of dissolution under section 524.1303 (or if the plan provides for continuance of the business of the state bank unless a purchase of its assets and an assumption of its liabilities becomes effective, immediately after such purchase and assumption becomes effective), the state bank shall deliver to the superintendent a statement of intent to dissolve which shall be signed by two of its duly authorized officers and which shall contain the name of the state bank, the post-office address of its principal place of business, the name and address of its officers and directors, the number of shares entitled to vote on the plan of dissolution and the number of shares voted for or against the plan, respectively.

2. If the statement of intent to dissolve satisfies the requirements of this section, the superintendent shall deliver the statement with his written approval to the secretary of state who shall issue to the state bank an approved copy of such statement. Upon the issuance of an approved copy of the statement of intent to dissolve, the state bank shall cease to accept deposits or carry on its business, except insofar as may be necessary for the proper winding up thereof in accordance with the approved plan, but its corporate existence shall continue until issuance of a certificate of dissolution pursuant to section 524.1308.

3. If the laws of the United States require approval by any federal agency, the superintendent shall withhold delivery of the approved statement of intent to dissolve until he receives notice of the decision of such agency. If the final approval of the agency is not given, the superintendent shall notify the applying state bank that the approval of the superintendent has been rescinded for that reason. [C97, §1857; S13, §1857; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9277; C16, 50, 51, 54, 58, 62, 66, §528.76; C71, §524.1304]

§524.1305 Voluntary dissolution proceedings—winding up.

1. The board of directors shall have full power to wind up and settle the affairs of a state bank in voluntary dissolution proceedings.

2. Within thirty days after the issuance by the secretary of state of an approved copy of the statement of intent to dissolve, the state bank shall give notice of its dissolution:

a. By mail to each depositor and creditor (except those as to whom the liability of the state bank has been assumed by another state bank or national bank pursuant to the plan), at their last address of record as shown upon the books of the bank, including a statement of the amount shown by the books of the state bank to be due to such depositor or creditor and a demand that any claim for a greater amount be filed with the state bank any time before a specified date at least ninety days after the date of the notice.

b. By mail to each lessee of a safe-deposit box and each customer for whom property is held in safekeeping (except those as to whom the liability of the state bank has been assumed by another state bank or national bank pursuant to the plan), at their last known address, the amount due such person, if known, entitled to such amount, his son, and such other information about such person as the treasurer of state may prescribe.

c. By such publication as the superintendent may prescribe.

Referred to in §524.1309(5)

3. As soon after the issuance of an approved statement of intent to dissolve as feasible, the state bank shall resign all fiduciary appointments and take such action as may be necessary to settle its fiduciary accounts.

Referred to in §524.1309(5)

4. All known depositors and creditors shall be paid promptly after the date specified in the notice given under paragraph "a" of subsection 2 of this section. Unearned portions of rentals for safe-deposit boxes shall be rebated to the lessees thereof.

Referred to in §524.1309(5)

5. Safe-deposit boxes, the contents of which have not been removed by the owners after the date specified in the notice given under paragraph "b" of subsection 2 of this section, shall be opened under the supervision of the superintendent and the contents placed in sealed packages which, together with unclaimed property held by the state bank in safekeeping, shall be transmitted to the treasurer of state. Amounts due to depositors who are unknown, or who are under a disability and there is no legal competent to receive such amount, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence, shall be transmitted to the treasurer of state, together with a statement giving the name of the person, if known, entitled to such amount, his last known address, the amount due such person, and such other information about such person as the treasurer of state may reasonably require. All property transmitted to the treasurer of state pursuant to this subsection shall be treated as abandoned, retained by the treasurer of state, and subject to claim, in the manner provided for in sections 556.14 through 556.21. All amounts due creditors described in section 496A.101 shall be deposited with the treasurer of state in accordance with the provisions of that section. Such amounts shall be retained by the treasurer of state and subject to claim in the manner provided for in said section 496A.101.

6. Upon approval by the superintendent, assets remaining after the performance of all obligations of the state bank under subsections 3, 4, and 5 of this section shall be distributed to its shareholders according to their respective rights and preferences. Partial distributions to shareholders may be made prior to such time only if, and to the extent, approved by the superintendent. All amounts due shareholders described in section 496A.101 shall be deposited with the treasurer of state in accordance with the provisions of that section. Such amounts shall be retained by the treasurer of state and subject to claim in the manner provided for in said section 496A.101.

7. During the course of dissolution proceedings the state bank shall make such reports as the superintendent may require, and shall continue to be subject to the provisions of this chapter, including those relating to examination of state banks, until completion of the dissolution of the state bank.

8. If at any time during the course of dissolution proceedings the superintendent finds that the assets of the state bank will not be sufficient to discharge its obligations, he shall apply to the district court for appointment as receiver in the manner required by section 524.1310, and the dissolution shall thereafter be treated as an involuntary dissolution in accordance with the terms of that section and sections 524.1311 and 524.1312. [C71,§524.1305]

1. A state bank may, at any time prior to the issuance of the approved copy of the statement of intent to dissolve by the secretary of state, revoke voluntary dissolution proceedings by consent of the shareholders in the manner provided for in section 496A.86 or by act of the state bank as provided for in section 496A.86, except that the vote taken on the resolution referred to in subsection 3 of section 496A.86 shall be adopted only upon the affirmative vote of the holders of at least three-fourths of the shares entitled to vote thereon.

2. The statement of revocation of voluntary dissolution proceedings, whether by consent of shareholders or by act of the state bank, shall be delivered to the superintendent, together with the applicable filing and recording fee, who shall, if he finds that they satisfy the requirements of this section, deliver them to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. [C71,§524.1306]

[C71,§524.1308]

Referred to in §§524.1304(2), 524.1309

524.1309 Becoming subject to chapter 496A. In lieu of the dissolution procedure prescribed in sections 524.1303 through 524.1308, a state bank may cease to carry on the business of banking and, after compliance with the provisions of this section, continue as a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A.

1. A state bank which has commenced business may propose to voluntarily cease to carry on the business of banking and become a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A upon the affirmative vote of the holders of at least three-fourths of the shares entitled to vote thereon, adopting a plan involving both a provision for acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities by another state bank or national bank and a provision for continuance of its business if acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities is not effected, or any other plan providing for the cessation of banking business and the payment of its liabilities.

2. The application to the superintendent for approval of a plan described in subsection 1 of this section shall be treated by him in the same manner as an application for approval of a plan of dissolution under subsection 2 of section 524.1303, and shall be subject to the provisions of subsection 3 of section 524.1303.

3. Immediately upon adoption and approval of a plan to voluntarily cease to carry on the business of banking and become a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A, the state bank shall deliver to the superintendent a statement of its intent to cease to carry on the business of banking and become a corporation subject to the provisions of said chapter, which shall be signed by two of its duly authorized officers and shall contain the name of the state bank, the post-office address of its principal place of business, the name and address of its officers and directors, the number of shares entitled to vote on the plan and the number of shares voted for or against the plan, respectively, the nature of the business to be conducted by the corporation under the provisions of said chapter, and the general nature of the assets to be held by such corporation.

4. If the statement of intent to cease to carry on the business of banking and become a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A satisfies the requirements of this section, the superintendent shall deliver the statement with his written approval to the secretary of state who shall issue to the state bank an approved copy of such statement. Upon the issuance of an approved copy of the statement of intent, the state bank shall immediately surrender to the superintendent its authorization to do business as a bank and shall cease to accept deposits or carry on the banking business except insofar as may be necessary for it to complete the settlement of its affairs as a state bank in accordance with subsection 5 of this section.

5. The board of directors shall have full power to complete the settlement of the affairs of the state bank. Within thirty days after the issuance of an approved copy of the statement of intent to cease to carry on the business of banking and become a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A, the state bank shall give notice of its intent to persons described in subsection 2 of section 524.1305 and in the manner provided for in that subsection. In completing the settlement of its affairs as a state bank the state bank shall also follow the procedure prescribed in subsections 3, 4 and 5 of section 524.1305.

6. Upon approval by the superintendent, assets remaining after the performance of all obligations described in this section, except those which the state bank wishes to retain when it becomes a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A, shall be distributed to its shareholders according to their respective rights and preferences.

7. Upon completion of all the requirements of this section, the state bank shall deliver to the superintendent articles of intent to be subject to chapter 496A, together with the applicable filing and recording fees, which shall set forth that the state bank has complied with the provisions of this section, that it has ceased to carry on the business of banking, and the information required by section 496A.49 relative to the contents of articles of incorporation under chapter 496A. If the superintendent finds that the state bank has complied with the provisions of this section and that the articles of intent to be subject to said chapter satisfy the requirements of this section, he shall deliver them to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder.

8. Upon the filing of the articles of intent to be subject to chapter 496A, the state bank shall cease to be a state bank subject to the provisions of this chapter, and shall cease to have the powers of a state bank subject to this chapter and shall become a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate as to the filing of the articles of intent to be subject to the provisions of chapter 496A, and send the same to the corporation or its representative. The articles of intent to be subject to chapter 496A shall be the articles of incorporation of the corporation. The provisions of chapter 496A becoming applicable to a corporation formerly doing business as a state bank shall not affect any right accrued or established, or liability or penalty incurred under the provisions of this chapter prior to the filing with the secretary of state of the articles of intent to be subject to chapter 496A.

9. A shareholder of a state bank who objects, in the manner prescribed by section 496A.78, to adoption by the state bank of a plan to cease to carry on the business of banking and to continue as a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A, shall be entitled to the rights and remedies of a dissenting shareholder provided for in that section.

10. A state bank may, at any time prior to the issuance of the approved copy of the statement of intent to cease to carry on the business of banking and become a corporation subject to the provisions of chapter 496A, revoice such proceedings in the manner prescribed by section 524.1306. The affairs of the state bank shall thereafter be under the direction of the district court, and the assets thereof shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of section 524.1312. All amounts due creditors and shareholders described in section 49A.101 shall be deposited with the treasurer of state in accordance with the provisions of that section. 2. The authority of a state bank to merge or consolidate into a national bank shall be subject to the condition that at the time of the transaction the laws of the United States shall authorize a national bank located in this state, without approval by the comptroller of the currency of the United States, to merge or consolidate into a state bank under limitations no more restrictive than those contained in this chapter with respect to the merger or consolidation of a state bank into a national bank. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §§528B.1–528B.3; C71, §524.1401]

524.1402 Requirements for a merger or consolidation. The requirements for a merger or consolidation which must be satisfied by the parties thereto are:

1. The parties shall adopt a plan stating the method, terms and conditions of the merger or consolidation, including the rights under the plan of the shareholders of each of the parties, and an agreement concerning the merger or consolidation.

2. In the case of a state bank which is a party to the plan, if the proposed merger or consolidation will result in a state bank subject to this chapter, adoption of the plan by such state bank shall require the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the directors and approval by the shareholders, in the manner and according to the procedures prescribed in section 496A.70, at a meeting called in accordance with the terms of that section. In the case of a national bank, or if the proposed merger or consolidation will result in a national bank, adoption of the plan by each party thereto shall require the affirmative vote of at least such directors and shareholders whose affirmative vote thereon is required under the laws of the United States. Subject to applicable requirements of the laws of the United States in a case in which a national bank is a party to a plan, any modification of a plan which has been adopted shall be made by any method provided therein, or in the absence of such provision, by the same vote as required for adoption.

3. If a proposed merger or consolidation will result in a state bank, application for the required approval by the superintendent shall be made in the manner prescribed by the superintendent. There shall also be delivered to the superintendent, when available:

a. Articles of merger or consolidation.

b. Applicable fees payable to the secretary of state, as specified in section 496A.124, for the filing and recording of the articles of merger or consolidation.

c. d. Proof of publication of the notice required by subsection 4 of this section.

4. If a proposed merger or consolidation will result in a state bank, the parties to the plan shall publish a notice of the proposed transaction in a newspaper of general circulation published in a municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which each party to the plan has its principal place of business, and in the case of a consolidation, in which the resulting state bank is to have its principal place of business, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or in a county adjoining the county, in which each party to the plan has its principal place of business and, in the case of a consolidation, in which the resulting state bank is to have its principal place of business. The notice shall be published once each week for two successive weeks, within thirty days after making application to the superintendent for approval of the plan. The notice shall set forth the names of the parties to the plan and the resulting state bank, the location and post-office address of the principal place of business of the resulting state bank and of each office to be maintained by the resulting state bank, the purpose or purposes of the resulting state bank, and the date of delivery of the articles of merger and consolidation to the superintendent.

5. The articles of merger or consolidation shall be signed by two duly authorized officers of each party to the plan and shall contain:
   a. The names of the parties to the plan, and of the resulting state bank.
   b. The location and the post-office address of the principal place of business of each party to the plan, and of each additional office maintained by the parties to the plan, and the location and post-office address of the principal place of business of the resulting state bank, and of each additional office to be maintained by the resulting state bank.

   e. In the case of a merger, any amendment of the articles of incorporation of the resulting state bank.
   f. In the case of a consolidation, the provisions required in the articles of incorporation of a state bank by subsections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 10 of section 524.302.
   g. The plan of merger or consolidation.
6. If a proposed merger or consolidation will result in a national bank, a state bank which is a party to the plan shall:
   a. Notify the superintendent of the proposed merger or consolidation.
   b. Provide such evidence of the adoption of the plan as the superintendent may request.
   c. Notify the superintendent of any abandonment or disapproval of the plan.
   d. File with the superintendent and with the secretary of state a certificate of approval of the merger or consolidation by the comptroller of the currency of the United States.

524.1403 Approval of merger or consolidation by superintendent.

1. Upon receipt of an application for approval of a merger or consolidation and of the supporting items required by subsection 3 of section 524.1402, the superintendent shall conduct such investigation as he deems necessary to ascertain whether:
   a. The articles of merger or consolidation and supporting items satisfy the requirements of this chapter.
   b. The plan and any modification thereof adequately protects the interests of depositors, other creditors and shareholders.
   c. The requirements for a merger or consolidation under all applicable laws have been satisfied and the resulting state bank would satisfy the requirements of this chapter with respect to it.
   d. The merger or consolidation would be consistent with adequate and sound banking and in the public interest on the basis of the financial history and condition of the parties to the plan, including the adequacy of the capital structure of the resulting state bank, the character of the management of the resulting state bank, the potential effect of the merger or consolidation on competition and the convenience and needs of the area primarily to be served by the resulting state bank.

2. Within one hundred eighty days after receipt of the application, or within an additional period of not more than sixty days after receipt of an amendment of the application, the superintendent shall make a determination whether to approve or disapprove the application on the basis of his investigation. The plan shall not be modified at any time after approval of the application by the superintendent. Prior to making a determination on the pending application the superintendent shall, upon adequate notice, afford all interested persons an opportunity for a stenographically reported hearing during which such persons shall be allowed to present evidence in support of, or in opposition to, the pending application. If the superintendent finds that he must act immediately on the pending application in order to protect the interests of depositors or the assets of any party to the plan, he may proceed without requiring publication of the notice and without providing for the hearing referred to in this subsection. Before receiving the decision of the superintendent with respect to the pending application, the parties to the plan shall, upon notice, reimburse the superintendent to the extent of the expenses incurred by him in connection with the application. Thereafter the superintendent shall give to the parties to the plan written notice of his decision and, in the event of disapproval, a statement of the reasons for his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be subject to review by the district court of Polk county upon petition by any interested person within thirty days after the superintendent notifies the parties to the plan of his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be upheld unless unsupported by substantial evidence. \[C54, 58, 62, 66,§528B.4; C71,§524.1403\] Referred to in §§524.1403, 524.1403(3, r)

524.1404 Procedure after approval by the superintendent—issuance of certificate of merger or consolidation. If the laws of the United States require the approval of the merger or consolidation by any federal agency, the superintendent shall, after his approval, retain the articles of merger or consolidation until he receives notice of the decision of such agency. If the final approval of the agency is not given, the superintendent shall notify the parties to the plan that the approval of the superintendent has been rescinded for that reason. If such agency gives its approval, the superintendent shall deliver the articles of merger or consolidation, with his approval indicated thereon, to the secretary of state, and shall notify the parties to the plan. The receipt of the approved articles of merger or consolidation by the secretary of state shall constitute filing thereof with that office. The secretary of state shall record the articles of merger or consolidation in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder in each county in which the parties to the plan had previously maintained a principal place of business and, in the case of a consolidation, in the county in which the new state bank is to maintain its principal place of business. On the date upon which the merger or consolidation is effective, the existence of each party to the plan shall cease as a separate entity but shall continue in, and the parties to the plan shall be, a single corporation which shall be the resulting state bank and which shall have all the property, rights, powers, duties and obligations of each party to the plan, except that the resulting state bank shall have only the authority to engage in such business and exercise such powers as it would have, and shall be subject to the same prohibitions and limitations to which it would be subject, upon original incorporation under this chapter. A resulting state bank may, however, engage in any business and exercise any right that any party to the plan which was a state bank subject to this chapter could lawfully exercise or engage in immediately prior to the merger or consolidation.

3. No liability of any party to the plan or of its shareholders, directors or officers shall be affected, nor shall any lien on any property of a party to the plan be impaired, by the merger or consolidation. Any claim existing or action pending by or against any party to the plan may be prosecuted to judgment as if the merger or consolidation had not taken place, or the resulting state bank may be substituted in its place. The articles of incorporation of the resulting state bank shall be, in the case of a merger, the same as its articles of incorporation prior to the merger with any change stated in the articles of merger, and in the case of a consolidation, the provisions stated in the articles of consolidation shall be deemed to be the original articles of incorporation of the resulting state bank. \[C54, 58, 62, 66,§§528B.6, 528B.8; C71,§524.1403\]

524.1406 Rights of dissenting shareholders. 1. A shareholder of a state bank, which is a party to a proposed merger or consolidation plan which will result in a state bank subject to this chapter, who objects to the plan in the manner prescribed by section 496A.78, shall be entitled to the rights and remedies of a dissenting shareholder as provided in that section. Shares acquired by a state bank pursuant to payment of the agreed value therefor or to payment of the judgment entered thereafter, pursuant to section 496A.78, shall be sold at public or private sale, within one year from the time of their purchase or acquisition, unless the time is extended by the superintendent.

2. If a shareholder of a national bank which is a party to a proposed merger or consolidation plan which will result in a state bank, or a shareholder of a state bank which is a party to a plan which will result in a national bank, shall object to the plan and shall comply with the requirements of the applicable laws of the United States, the resulting state bank or national bank, as the case may be, shall be liable for the value of his shares as determined in accordance with such laws of the United States. Shares acquired by a state bank pursuant to this subsection shall be sold at public or private sale within one year from the time of their purchase or acquisition, unless the time is extended by the superintendent. \[C54, 58, 62, 66,§§528B.9, 528B.10; C71,§524.1406\] Referred to in §524.307

524.1407 Succession to fiduciary accounts and appointments — application for appointment of new fiduciary. 1. If a party to a plan of merger or consolidation was authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity and if the resulting state or national bank is similarly authorized, the resulting state or national bank shall be automatically substituted by reason of the merger or consolidation as fiduciary of all accounts held in that capacity by such party to the plan, without further action and without any order or decree of any court or public officer, and shall have all the rights and be subject to all the obligations of such party as fiduciary.

2. No designation, nomination or appointment as fiduciary of a party to a plan of merger or consolidation shall lapse by reason of the merger or consolidation. The resulting state or national bank shall, if authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity, be entitled to act as fiduciary pursuant to each such designation, nomination or appointment to the same extent as the party to the plan so named could have acted in the absence of the merger or consolidation.

3. Any person with an interest in an account held in a fiduciary capacity by a party to a plan of merger or consolidation may, within sixty days after the effective date of the plan of merger or consolidation, apply to the district court in the county in which the resulting state or national bank has its principal place of business, for the appointment of a new fiduciary to replace the resulting state or national bank on the ground that the merger or consolidation will adversely affect the administration of the fiduciary account. The court shall have the discretion to appoint a new fiduciary to replace the resulting state or national bank if it should find, upon hearing after notice to all interested parties, that the merger or consolidation will adversely affect the administration of the fiduciary account and that the appointment of a new fiduciary will be in the best interests of the beneficiaries of the fiduciary account. This provision shall be in addition to any other provision of law governing the removal of fiduciaries and shall be subject to the terms upon which the party to the plan which held the fiduciary account was designated as fiduciary. The board of directors of the state bank shall approve a plan of merger, mail to shareholders of record of the subsidiary corporation and prepare and execute articles of merger in the manner provided for in section 496A.72. The articles of merger, together with the applicable filing and recording fees, shall be delivered to the superintendent who shall, if he approves of the proposed merger and if he finds the articles of merger satisfy the requirements of this section, deliver them to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed in the office of the county recorder. The secretary of state upon filing the articles of merger shall issue a certificate of merger and send the same to the state bank and a copy thereof to the superintendent. [C71, §524.1408]

The certificate of conversion shall be conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions required by this chapter for conversion of a national bank into a state bank, except as against the state.

2. When a conversion becomes effective, the existence of the national bank shall continue in the resulting state bank which shall have all the property, rights, powers and duties of the national bank, except that the resulting state bank shall have only the authority to engage in such business and exercise such powers as it would have, and shall be subject to the same prohibitions and limitations to which it would be subject, upon original incorporation under this chapter. The articles of incorporation of the resulting state bank shall be the provisions stated in the articles of conversion.

3. No liability of the national bank or of its shareholders, directors or officers shall be affected, nor shall any lien on any property of the national bank be impaired by the conversion. The value of such shares shall be determined as of the date of the shareholders' meeting at which the conversion plan was adopted, by a committee of three persons, one to be selected by unanimous vote of the dissenting shareholders entitled to receive the value of their shares, one by the directors of the resulting national bank, and the third by the two so chosen. The valuation agreed upon by any two of three appraisers thus chosen shall govern. If, within ninety days from the date of consummation of the conversion, for any reason one or more of the appraisers is not selected as herein provided, or the appraisers fail to determine the value of such shares, the superintendent shall, upon written request of any interested party, cause an appraisal to be made which shall be final and binding on all parties. 1. The board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation of the state bank to be made thereby, and directing that such restated articles, including such amendment or amendments, be submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either an annual meeting or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice setting forth the proposed restated articles or a summary of the provisions thereof shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote thereon within the time and in the manner provided in section 324.500. If the meeting be an annual meeting, the proposed restated articles may be included in the notice of such annual meeting. If the restated articles include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, the notice shall separately set forth such amendment or amendments or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby.
3. At such meeting a vote of the shareholders entitled to vote thereon shall be taken on the proposed restated articles. The proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon, unless such restated articles include an amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby which, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation to be made without restatement of the articles of incorporation, would entitle a class of shares to vote as a class thereon, in which event the proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of each class of shares entitled to vote thereon as a class, and of the total shares entitled to vote thereon.

Upon such approval, restated articles of incorporation shall be executed by the state bank by its president or vice-president and by its cashier or an assistant cashier, and verified by one of the officers signing the same, and shall set forth, as then stated in the articles of incorporation of the state bank and, if the restated articles of incorporation included an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, as so amended, the material and contents described in section 524.302.

The restated articles of incorporation shall set forth also a statement that they correctly set forth the provisions of the articles of incorporation as theretofore or thereby amended, that they have been duly adopted as required by law and that they supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

The restated articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the superintendent together with the applicable fees for the filing and recording of the restated articles of incorporation. The superintendent shall conduct such investigation and give his approval or disapproval, all as in the manner provided for in section 524.1505. Upon the issuance of the restated certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, the restated articles of incorporation including any amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation made thereby, shall become effective and shall supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

No amendment shall affect the existing rights of persons other than shareholders, or any existing cause of action in favor of or against such state bank, or any pending suit to which such state bank shall be a party; and, in the event the corporate name shall be changed by amendment, no suit brought by or against such state bank under its former name shall abate for that reason. [64GA, ch 1114, §8]

524.1804 More than one-fourth of stock by acquisition—effect. Any bank holding company, or firm which would thereby become a bank holding company, which proposes to directly or indirectly acquire ownership or control of the voting shares of any bank, and which upon such acquisition would own or control more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares of the bank, shall provide to the superintendent a copy of any original application to the board of governors of the federal reserve system for permission to take such action, and a copy of any subsequent amendment thereto, at the same time the application or amendment is transmitted to the federal reserve system. The superintendent may conduct such investigation into and evaluation of the proposed action as he deems necessary and appropriate, and may submit to the federal reserve board any information so obtained together with his own comments or recommendations regarding the proposed acquisition. [64GA, ch 1114, §10]

524.1805 Out-of-state holding companies. Nothing in this division shall be construed to authorize a bank holding company which is with respect to the state of Iowa an "out-of-state bank holding company", as defined or referred to in 12 U.S.C. 1842(d), as amended to January 1, 1971, to acquire any of the voting shares of, any interest in, all or substantially all of the assets of, or power to control in any manner the election of any of the directors of any bank in this state, unless such bank holding company was on January 1, 1971, registered with the federal reserve board as a bank holding company, and on that date owned at least two banks in this state. Referred to in §§429.36, 491.1, 496A.142(1), 504A.100(1), 524.211(1,2), 524.212

533.1 Purpose — administration — organization.

Definition and purpose. A credit union is hereby defined as a co-operative, nonprofit association, incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter for the purpose of creating a source of credit at a fair and reasonable rate of interest, of encouraging habits of thrift among its members and of providing the opportunity for people to use and control their savings for their mutual benefit.

Administration. The superintendent of banking shall be charged with the execution of the laws of this state relating to credit unions.

Organization. Any seven residents of the state of Iowa may apply to the superintendent for permission to organize a credit union.

A credit union is organized in the following manner:

1. The applicants shall execute in duplicate articles of incorporation by the terms of which they agree to be bound. The articles shall state:
   a. The name and location of the proposed credit union.
   b. The names and addresses of the subscribers to the articles and the number of shares subscribed by each.
   c. The par value of the shares of the credit union which shall be five dollars each.

2. Said applicants shall prepare and adopt bylaws for the general government of the credit union consistent with the provisions of this chapter, and execute the same in duplicate.

3. The articles and the bylaws, both executed in duplicate, shall be forwarded with a fee of ten dollars to the superintendent of banking.
4. The superintendent shall, within thirty days of the receipt of said articles and bylaws, determine whether they conform with the provisions of this chapter, and whether or not the organization of the credit union in question would benefit the members of it and be consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

5. The superintendent shall thereupon notify the applicants of his decision. If it is favorable he shall issue a certificate of approval, attached to the duplicate articles of incorporation and return the same, together with the duplicate bylaws to the applicants.

6. The applicants shall thereupon file the said duplicate of the articles of incorporation, with the certificate of approval attached thereto, with the county recorder of the county within which the credit union is to do business, who shall record and index the same and return it, with his certificate of record attached thereto, to the said superintendent of banking for permanent record.

7. The applicants shall thereupon become and be a credit union, incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

In order to simplify the organization of credit unions, the superintendent of banking, upon the taking effect of this chapter, or as soon thereafter as sufficient fees shall have accumulated to liquidate the cost of same, shall cause to be prepared an approved form of articles of incorporation and a form of bylaws consistent with this chapter which may be used by credit union incorporators for their guidance, and on written application of any seven residents of the state, shall supply them without charge with blank articles of incorporation and a copy of said form of suggested bylaws. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-41; C39, §9305.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.3]

533.3 Restriction. No person, firm, corporation, copartnership, or association, except a credit union organized under the provisions of this chapter or under the federal credit union Act [12 U.S.C.§1751 et seq.] or except the Iowa credit union league, incorporated, or chapters of said league, shall use a name or title containing the words “credit union” or any derivation thereof or shall represent themselves, in their advertising or otherwise, as conducting business as a credit union.

Any person, firm, corporation, copartnership, or association, upon conviction of the violation of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than one year or both; and may be enjoined from such continued use of said words, advertising or other representation. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-43; C39, §9305.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.3]

533.4 Powers. A credit union shall have the following powers to:

1. Receive the savings of its members either as payment on shares or as deposits, including the right to conduct Christmas clubs, vacation clubs, and other such thrift organizations within the membership.

3. Make loans to a cooperative society or other organization having membership in the credit union.

4. Deposit in state and national banks.

   f. Shares and deposits in other credit unions.
   g. Capital shares, obligations, or preferred stock issues of any agency or association organized either as a stock company, mutual association, or membership corporation, provided the membership or stockholdings, as the case may be, of such agency or association are confined or restricted to credit unions or organizations of credit unions, and provided the purposes for which such agency or association is organized are designed to provide services to credit unions. However, the aggregate amount invested pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed ten percent of the unimpaired legal reserve account of the credit union.
   h. Any trust, or in any agency or association organized either as a stock company, mutual association, or membership corporation in an amount not to exceed twenty-five percent of the allocation to the legal reserve account of the credit union during any fiscal year, such amount to be transferred from the legal reserve account. However, the aggregate amount shall not exceed ten percent of the unimpaired legal reserve account of the credit union, and such trust, company, agency, association, or membership corporation shall be controlled by credit unions, by one or more associations of credit unions, or by any organiztion controlled by credit unions, and the purposes of any such trust, company, agency, association, or membership corporation shall be designed to assist in establishing and maintaining liquid or sound solvency, or security in credit union operations.

6. Borrow money as hereinafter indicated.

7. Assess fines as may be provided by the bylaws for failure to make repayments on loans and payments on shares when due, provided no such fine shall exceed one percent per month on amounts in arrears or five cents, whichever is the larger.

8. Sue and be sued.

9. Make contracts.

10. Purchase, hold and dispose of property necessary and incidental to its operation provided, however, that any property acquired through foreclosure shall be disposed of within a period not to exceed ten years.

11. Exercise such incidental powers as may be necessary or requisite to enable it to carry on effectively the business for which it is incorporated.

12. Apply to the administrator of the national credit union administration for credit union share insurance under Title II of the federal Credit Union Act as amended by Public Law 91-468 and take all actions necessary to maintain an insured status thereunder. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a4; C39, §9305.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.4; 64GA, ch 240, §1]

533.5 Membership. Credit union membership shall consist of the incorporators and such other persons as may be elected to membership and subscribe for at least one share, pay the installment thereon and the entrance fee. Organizations, incorporated or otherwise, composed for the most part of the same general group as the credit union membership may be members. Credit union organization shall be limited to groups having a common bond of occupation or association or to groups within a well-defined neighborhood, community, or rural district. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a5; C39, §9305.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.5]

533.6 Reports—examinations.

1. Credit unions organized under this chapter shall report to the superintendent of banking annually on or before the first day of February on blanks supplied by him for that purpose. Additional reports may be required. If any report remains in arrears for more than five days, a fine of five dollars for each day such report remains in arrears may be levied against such offending credit union. If such report is not returned within thirty days of the due date, the superintendent of banking may, after written notice to the president of such credit union of his intention to do so, suspend or revoke the certificate of approval, take possession of the business and property of such credit union, and order its dissolution.

2. The superintendent of banking shall examine, or cause to be examined, each credit union annually. Each credit union and all of its officers and agents shall give to the representatives of said superintendent free access to all books, papers, securities, records and other sources of information under his control; and for the purposes of such examination said representatives shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, compel the giving of testimony, and require the submission of documents. A report of such examination shall be forwarded to the president of each credit union within thirty days after the completion of the examination. Within thirty days of the receipt of such report, a meeting of the directors shall be called to consider matters contained in the report and the action taken shall be set forth in the minutes of the board. The superintendent may furnish to the administrator or any other official of the national credit union administration any information or report relating to examinations and reports of the status of any state credit union insured by the national credit union administration.

3. The superintendent of banking may require any credit union, whose records are inadequate or whose books have not been balanced as of the end of the month not less than thirty days previously or whose affairs are in an unfavorable condition, to submit to an additional examination each year.

4. Each credit union shall pay to the superintendent of banking a fee for making examinations, based on the actual cost of the operation of the credit union division of the department of banking and the proportionate share of administrative expenses in the operation of the department of banking, attributable to credit unions, to be determined by the superintendent of banking, in accordance with chapter 17A.

5. If it shall appear that any credit union is insolvent or that it has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, the superintendent of banking may, after hearing or giving opportunity for a hearing, order such credit union to correct such condition and shall grant not less than sixty days within which to comply and failure so to do shall afford the said superintendent grounds to revoke the certificate of approval and to apply to the district court of the district in which such credit union is located for the appointment of a receiver for the credit union. The district court shall appoint the superintendent as receiver unless the superintendent has tendered the appointment to the administrator of the national credit union administration. The administrator as receiver shall possess the rights, powers, and privileges granted by state law to a receiver of a state credit union. Neither the superintendent nor the administrator shall be required to furnish bond as receiver of a state credit union. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a6; C39, §9305.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.6; 64GA, ch 246, §§2, 3] Referred to in §533.21

533.7 Fiscal year — meetings. The fiscal year of all credit unions shall end December
§533.7, CREDIT UNIONS

31. Annual meetings shall be held, and special meetings may be held, in the manner indicated in the bylaws. At all meetings no member shall have more than one vote regardless of the shares held by him. There shall be no voting by proxy. A member other than a natural person may cast a single vote through a designated agent where such agent shall be a member of the organization for which he acts. The majority of members present at any meeting may modify, amend or reverse any act of the board of directors or instruct it to take action not inconsistent with the bylaws or of this chapter. [C27, 31, 35, §5305-07; C39, §9305-07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.7]

533.8 Elections. At the organization meeting there shall be elected a board of directors of not less than nine members to hold office for such terms as the bylaws provide and until successors are elected and qualify. At each annual meeting there shall be elected one member to fill each position vacated by reason of expiring terms or other causes. A record of the names and addresses of the directors, officers and committee men shall be filed with the superintendent of banking within ten days following each election. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-08; C39, §9305-08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.8]

533.9 Directors and officers. Within five days following the organization meeting and each annual meeting the directors shall elect from their own number a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, of whom the last two may be the same individual, and also a credit committee of not less than three members and an auditing committee of not less than three members, and may also elect alternate members of the credit committee. It shall be the duty of the directors to have general management of the affairs of the credit union, particularly to:

1. Act on applications for membership. However, the board of directors may appoint a membership committee or a membership officer from among the members of the board of directors, other than the treasurer, assistant treasurer or loan officer, who may be authorized by the board to approve applications for membership under such conditions as the board may prescribe; except that the membership committee or the membership officer shall submit to the board at each monthly meeting a list of approved or pending applications for membership received since the previous monthly meeting.

2. Determine interest rates on loans and deposits.

3. Fix the amount of the surety bond which shall be required of all officers and employees handling money.

4. Declare dividends, interest refunds, and to transmit to the members recommended amendments to the bylaws.

5. Fill vacancies which occur in the board between meetings of the members until the next annual meeting and until successors are elected and qualify.

6. Determine the maximum individual share holdings and the maximum individual loan which can be made with and without security.

7. Have charge of investments other than loans to members. The duties of the officers shall be determined in the bylaws, except that the treasurer shall be the general manager. No member of the board or of either committee shall, as such, be compensated. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a9; C39, §9305.09; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.9]

533.10 Credit committee. The credit committee shall have the general supervision of all loans to members. Applications for loans shall be on a form, prepared by the credit committee, and all applications shall set forth the purpose for which the loan is desired, the security, if any, offered, and such other data as may be required. Within the meaning of this section an assignment of shares or deposits or the endorsement of a note may be deemed security. At least a majority of the members of the credit committee shall pass on all loans and may grant approval thereof, provided, however, that the credit committee of a credit union, with the approval of the board of directors, may appoint one or more loan officers, who may be the treasurer or assistant treasurer, and delegate to him or them, subject to conditions and regulations of the credit committee, power to approve loans up to the maximum which can be made without security, or in excess of such limit if such excess is fully secured by shares. Each loan officer shall furnish to the credit committee a record of each loan approved or not approved by him within seven days of the date of the filing of the application therefor. All loans not approved by a loan officer shall be acted upon by the credit committee. The credit committee shall meet as often as may be necessary after due notice to each member. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a10; C39, §9305.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.10]

533.11 Auditing committee. The auditing committee shall:

1. Make or cause to be made an examination of the affairs of the credit union at least quarterly, including an audit of its books and, in the event said committee feels such action to be necessary, it shall call the members together thereafter and submit to them its report.

2. Make or cause to be made an annual audit and report and submit the same at the annual meeting of the members.

3. By unanimous vote, if it deem such action to be necessary to the proper conduct of the credit union, suspend any officer, director, or member of committee and call the members together to act on such suspension. The members at said meeting may sustain such suspension and remove such officer permanently or may reinstate said officer.
By majority vote, the auditing committee may call a special meeting of the members to consider any matter submitted to it by said committee. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a11; C39, §9305.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.11; 64GA, ch 217, §1]

533.12 Capital. The capital of a credit union shall consist of the payments that have been made to it by the several members thereof on shares. The credit union shall have a lien on the shares and deposits of a member for any sum due to the credit union from said member or for any loan endorsed by him. A credit union may charge an entrance fee as may be provided by the by-laws. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a12; C39, §9305.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.12]

533.13 Special shares and accounts.
1. Joint accounts. A member may designate any person or persons to hold shares, deposits, and thrift club accounts with him in joint tenancy with the right of survivorship, but no joint tenant, unless a member in his own right, shall be permitted to vote, obtain loans, or hold office or be required to pay an entrance fee. Payment of part or all of such accounts to any of the joint tenants shall, to the extent of such payment, discharge the liability to all.

2. Minors. Shares may be issued and deposits accepted in the name of a minor and such shares and deposits may be withdrawn by such minor and payments made on such withdrawals shall be valid. No such minor under sixteen years of age shall be entitled to vote in the meetings of the members either personally or through his parent or guardian, nor may he become a director until he shall have reached his eighteenth birthday.

3. Trust accounts. If shares and deposits are held in trust, the name and residence of the beneficiary shall be disclosed and the account shall be kept in the name of the holder as trustee for such beneficiary. Such shares and deposits may be withdrawn, upon the death of the trustee, by the beneficiary's legal representative. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a13; C39, §9305.13; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.13]

533.14 Interest rates. Interest rates on loans made by a credit union shall not exceed one percent a month on unpaid balances. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a14; C39, §9305.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.14]

533.15 Power to borrow. A credit union may borrow from any source in total sum of its share and deposit account balances. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a15; C39, §9305.15; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.15]

533.16 Loans. A credit union may loan to members. Loans must be for a provident or productive purpose and are made subject to the conditions contained in the by-laws. A borrower may repay his loan in whole or in part any day the office of the credit union is open for business. No director, officer, or member of committee may borrow from the credit union in which he holds office beyond the amount of his holdings in it in shares and deposits, nor may he endorse for borrowers. Loans secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property may be made only on unencumbered property located in Iowa and in bordering counties of adjacent states and every such loan shall comply with one of the following conditions:

1. If the terms of the instrument securing such loan call for payment at maturity the loan shall not be for a period in excess of five years and the amount loaned shall not exceed fifty percent of the appraised value of the property given as security.

2. If the terms of the instrument securing such loan call for installment payments which are sufficient to retire at least forty percent of the principal of the loan within ten years the amount loaned shall not exceed sixty percent of the appraised value of the property given as security and shall not be for a period in excess of ten years.

3. If the terms of the instrument securing such loan call for monthly installment payments, including principal and interest, at least equal to one percent of the principal of the loan, the amount loaned shall not exceed eighty percent of the appraised value of the property given as security.

The foregoing restrictions or limitations shall not prevent the renewal or extension of loans and shall not apply to loans which are secured under the provisions of the national housing Act, as amended.

No credit union shall loan to any one member more than one hundred dollars or ten percent of its total assets whichever is greater. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a16; C39, §9305.16; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §533.16]

533.17 Reserves.
1. Legal reserve. All fees and fines shall, after the payment of organization expenses, be added to the legal reserve of the corporation.

In addition thereto, at the end of each fiscal year until such time as said legal reserve equals ten percent of the sum of the share and deposit account balances of the corporation, there shall be transferred to said reserve not less than ten percent of the corporation's gross income for the year. Thereafter there shall annually be added to said reserve at the end of each fiscal year such percent of the gross earnings, but not exceeding ten percent, as shall be required to maintain said reserve at ten percent of the sum of the said share and deposit account balances.

The legal reserve, including any excess which may be in said reserve at the time this amendment becomes effective, shall belong to the corporation, and shall not be distributed except on dissolution of the credit union. Said legal reserve shall be used to meet losses, except those resulting from an excess of expenses over income.

2. Special reserve. However, the superintendent of banking may require a credit union to set aside additional amounts as a special reserve in the event of examination of its assets should disclose that its legal reserve is inadequate. [C27, 31, 35,§9305-a17; C39,§9305.17; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§533.17]

533.18 Dividends. After transfers to required reserves, a credit union may declare a dividend from undivided earnings at the discretion of its board of directors and as its bylaws shall provide, which dividend shall be paid on all shares outstanding at the end of the period for which the dividend is declared. Shares which become fully paid up by the tenth day of any month of such dividend period may, by action of the board of directors, be entitled to a proportional part of said dividend calculated from the first day of the month in which the payment is made in full. At any meeting the members may establish a maximum dividend rate which shall be binding on the directors until changed at a subsequent meeting. [C27, 31, 35,§9305-a18; C39, §9305.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§533.18]

533.19 Expulsion—withdrawal. A member may be expelled by a two-thirds vote of the members present at a special meeting called to consider the matter but only after a hearing. Any member may withdraw from the credit union at any time but notice of withdrawal may be required. All amounts paid on shares or as deposits of an expelled or withdrawing member, with any dividends or interest accredited thereto, to the date thereof, shall, as funds become available and after deducting all amounts due from the member to the credit union, be paid to him. The credit union may require sixty days' notice of intention to withdraw shares and thirty days' notice of intention to withdraw deposits. Withdrawing or expelled members shall have no further rights in the credit union but are not, by such expulsion or withdrawal, released from any remaining liability to the credit union. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a19; C39,§9305.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§533.19]

533.20 Voluntary dissolution. The process of voluntary dissolution shall be as follows:

1. At a special meeting called for the purpose, notice of which purpose must be contained in the call, a credit union may dissolve upon the affirmative vote of a majority of its members eligible to vote at the special meeting. Any member eligible to vote and not present at the meeting may, within twenty days after the date on which the meeting was held, vote in favor of dissolution by signing a statement in the form approved by the superintendent of banking and the vote shall have the same force and effect as if cast at the meeting.

2. The credit union shall cease to do business except for the purposes of liquidation immediately upon the giving of notice of the special meeting of the members to vote on dissolution and the board of directors shall immediately notify the superintendent of banking of the intention of the credit union to dissolve. The credit union shall not resume business unless the dissolution fails to receive the required vote of the members or the members shall have revoked prior affirmative action to dissolve as provided for in subsection 4 of this section.

3. The board of directors shall have power to terminate and settle the affairs of a credit union in voluntary dissolution. The credit union shall continue in existence for the purpose of discharging its liabilities, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all acts required in order to terminate its affairs. The credit union may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing such liabilities and collecting its assets until its affairs are fully settled. During the course of dissolution proceedings, the credit union shall make such reports and shall be subject to such examinations as the superintendent of banking may require. If at any time, after affirmative vote of a majority of the members of a credit union to dissolve the credit union, the superintendent of banking finds that the credit union is not making reasonable progress toward terminating its affairs or that the credit union is insolvent, he may apply to the district court for a receiver to be appointed to terminate the affairs of the credit union.

4. A credit union may, at any time prior to any distribution of its assets, revoke voluntary dissolution proceedings upon the affirmative vote of a majority of its members eligible to vote at a special meeting called for that purpose in the manner prescribed by the bylaws. The board of directors shall immediately notify the superintendent of banking of any such action to revoke voluntary dissolution proceedings.

5. Upon such proof as is satisfactory to the superintendent of banking that all assets have been liquidated from which there is a reasonable expectation of realization that the liabilities of the credit union have been discharged and distribution made to its members, and that the liquidation has been completed, the superintendent of banking shall issue a certificate of dissolution, which shall be filed and recorded in the county in which the credit union has its principal place of business and in the county in which its original articles of incorporation were filed and recorded. Upon the issuance of a certificate of dissolution, the existence of the credit union shall cease. [C27, 31, 35,§9305-a20; C39,§9305.20; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§533.20; 64GA, ch 248,§1]

those entitled thereto in the order provided for by law. The superintendent may execute assignments, releases, and satisfactions to effectuate sales and transfers as receiver or after the receivership has terminated. Upon the order of the court in which the receivership is pending, the superintendent may sell or compound bad or doubtful debts, and, on a like order, may sell all the real and personal property of the credit union, on such terms as the court shall direct.

2. All expenses of the receivership and dissolution shall be fixed by the superintendent, subject to the approval of the district court, and shall be paid out of the assets of the credit union.

3. At the termination of the receivership, the superintendent shall file his final report containing the details of his actions therein, together with such additional facts as the court may require.

4. Upon the submission and approval of the final report, the court shall enter a decree dissolving the credit union, at which time the existence of the credit union shall cease. It shall be the duty of the clerk of court to cause certified copies of the decree to be filed with and recorded by the county recorder of the county in which the credit union has its principal place of business and by the county recorder of the county in which its original articles of incorporation were filed and recorded. No fee shall be charged by the county recorder for the filing or recording of the decree. [64GA, ch 248,§2(1)]

The superintendent may cause film, photographic, photostatic, or other copies of such records to be made and retain such copies in lieu of the original records.

4. The dissolution of a credit union shall not remove or impair any remedy available to or against such credit union, its directors, officers, or members for any right or claim existing or any liability incurred prior to such dissolution if an action or other proceeding to enforce the right or claim is commenced within two years after the date of filing of a certificate or decree of dissolution with the county recorder in the county in which the credit union has its principal place of business. Any such action or proceeding by or against the credit union may be prosecuted or defended by the credit union in its corporate name. The members, directors, and officers shall have power to take such corporate or other action as shall be appropriate to protect such remedy, right, or claim. [64GA, ch 248,§2(2)]

333.23 Change in place of business. A credit union may change its place of business on written notice to the superintendent of banking. [C27, 31, 35,§9305-a21; C39,§9305.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§533.21]

Nothing herein shall require credit unions to retain any class of records or files for the period of limitation of actions provided herein; but any records, files or class of records not deemed necessary for the conduct of the current business of credit unions, or future examinations thereof, or for defense in the event of litigation, may be destroyed within such period.

For the purpose of assisting credit unions in the retention of only necessary records and files, or for the destruction of those which are obsolete or unnecessary, credit unions are authorized to destroy such records and files or classes thereof within the period of limitation of actions upon the joint recommendation of the superintendent of banking and a credit union review board relating to records consisting of the directors of the Iowa credit union league. §533.30 Consolidation of credit unions. Any two or more credit unions organized under the laws of the state of Iowa may consolidate into a single credit union upon the approval, by a two-thirds vote of the members of each such credit union, of a plan of consolidation setting forth the terms and conditions thereof and the mode of carrying the same into effect, and upon approval of the superintendent of banking in the following situations:

2. Upon consolidation of two or more organizations, bodies or groups from which membership is drawn.

3. When the membership is no longer large enough to continue the normal operations of a credit union.

Such action by the members of such credit unions may be taken at any annual or special meeting of said credit unions, and if proposed at any annual or special meeting a summary of the plan of consolidation shall be included in the notice of the meeting. [C66, 71,§533.29]

§533.32 Governmental employees—payments withheld. When a credit union has been or-organized by the employees of the state or of any political or municipal subdivision of the state, the officer who writes warrants for the state or other governmental body by which any public employee credit union member is employed, may withhold from the salary or wages of such employee, and pay over to such credit union, such sums as may be designated by written authorization signed by such employee. The provisions of section 539.4 shall have no application hereto. [C71, §533.30]

533.33 Administration of national union as receiver.
1. The superintendent may tender to the administrator of the national credit union administration the appointment as receiver for an insured credit union. 2. The administrator of the national credit union administration as receiver shall possess the powers, rights, and privileges given to the superintendent as provided by law.

3. If the administrator of the national credit union administration pays or makes available for payment the insured liabilities of a state credit union, he shall be subrogated by operation of law to all rights of the members against the insured credit union in the same manner and to the same extent as the subrogation of the administrator of the national credit union administration is provided for in applicable laws of the United States in the case of a closed federal credit union. [64GA, ch 246, §4]

533.34 Conversion of state credit union into federal credit union.
1. A state credit union may convert into a federal credit union upon the affirmative vote of a majority of its members eligible to vote, at a special meeting called for that purpose in the manner prescribed by the bylaws and with the approval of the administrator of the national credit union administration. Any member eligible to vote and not present at the meeting may, within twenty days after the date on which the meeting was held, vote in favor of conversion by signing a statement in a form satisfactory to the superintendent of banking and the vote shall have the same force and effect as if cast at the meeting.

2. The board of directors of the state credit union shall notify the superintendent of banking of any proposed conversion and of any abandonment or disapproval of the conversion by the members or the administrator of the national credit union administration. The board of directors of the state credit union shall file with the superintendent appropriate evidence of approval of the conversion by the administrator of the national credit union administration and notify the superintendent of the date on which the conversion is to be effective.

3. Upon receipt of satisfactory proof that the state credit union has complied with all applicable laws of this state and the United States, the superintendent shall issue a certificate of conversion which shall be filed and recorded in the county in which the state credit union has its principal place of business and in the county in which its original articles of incorporation were filed and recorded. [64GA, ch 249, §1(1)]

The superintendent of banking may cause an examination to be made of any converting federal credit union and the credit union shall pay to the superintendent the same examination fee paid for examinations of state credit unions.

2. If the superintendent shall approve the application of a federal credit union for conversion to a state credit union, he shall cause the articles of incorporation of the resulting state credit union to be filed and recorded in the county in which the credit union has its principal place of business and shall issue a certificate of authority to the resulting state credit union to do business under the laws of this state. The credit union shall then become a state credit union subject to the laws of this state. The superintendent shall furnish a copy of the certificate to the administrator of the national credit union administration.

3. The existence of the federal credit union shall continue and the resulting state credit union shall have all of the property, rights, powers and duties of the federal credit union except that the resulting state credit union shall have only the authority to engage in such business and exercise such powers and shall be subject to the same prohibitions and limitations to which it would be subject upon original organization under this chapter.

4. No liability of the federal credit union or of its members, directors or officers shall be affected, nor shall any lien on any property of the federal credit union be impaired by the conversion. Any claim existing or action pending by or against the federal credit union may be prosecuted to judgment as if the conversion had not taken place, or the resulting state credit union may be substituted in its place. No contract shall extend for a period longer than thirty-six months.

Each licensee shall maintain a separate bank trust account in which all payments received from debtors for the benefit of creditors shall be deposited and in which all payments shall remain until a remittance is made to either the debtor or the creditor. Every licensee shall keep, and use in his business, books, accounts and records which will enable the superintendent to determine whether such licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules and regulations of the superintendent. Every licensee shall preserve such books, accounts and records for at least seven years after making the final entry on any transaction recorded therein.

3. Each licensee shall keep complete and adequate records during the term of the contract and for a period of five years from the date of cancellation or completion of the contract with each debtor, which records shall contain complete information regarding the contract, extensions thereof, payments, disbursements, and charges, which records shall be open to inspection by the superintendent and his duly appointed agents during normal business hours.

4. Each licensee shall make remittances to creditors within forty-five days after initial receipt of funds, and thereafter remittances shall be made to creditors within thirty days of receipt, less fees and costs, unless the reasonable payment of one or more of the debtor's obligations requires that such funds be held for a longer period so as to accumulate a sum certain.

5. Each licensee shall, upon request, furnish the debtor a written statement of his account monthly or a verbal accounting at any time the debtor may request it during normal business hours. A monthly written statement of disbursements made and fees deducted from his account shall be made to the debtor, whether he requests it or not.

The debtor shall be informed by the licensee of those creditors who have not agreed to the licensee's handling of the account. No licensee shall accept an account unless a written and thorough budget analysis has been performed which indicates that the debtor can meet the requirements determined by the budget analysis.

7. In the event a compromise of a debt is arranged by the licensee with any one or more creditors, the debtor shall have the full benefit of such compromise. [C71.§533A.8]

533A.9 Fee agreed in advance. The fee of the licensee shall be agreed upon in advance and stated in the contract and provision for settlement in case of cancellation or prepayment shall be clearly stated herein. The fee of the licensee shall not exceed twelve and one-half percent of any payment made by the debtor and distributed to the creditors pursuant to the contract. In case of total payment of the contract before the contract period has expired, the licensee shall be entitled only to a fee of no more than three percent of such final payment. [C71.§533A.9]

The superintendent shall ascertain whether the licensee transacts its business in the manner prescribed by the law and the rules and regulations issued thereunder. The licensee shall pay the cost of the examination as determined by the superintendent, which fee shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars per day of examination. Failure to pay the examination fee within thirty days of receipt of demand from the superintendent shall automatically suspend the license until the fee is paid.

2. To operate as a collection agent and as a licensee as to the same debtor's account without first disclosing in writing such fact to both the debtor and creditor.

Said notice shall fix a time and place for hearing on the intended revocation and a permanent record shall be made of the proceedings, hearing and findings and parties so involved and notified shall be furnished with a copy thereof. Such bond shall assure the safekeeping and delivery to the association, after issuance of a certificate of incorporation, and after the association's authorized officers have filed the required bonds of all of such required paid-in savings liability and expense fund, or in the event of failure to complete organization, such bond shall assure the return to the persons providing such paid-in savings liability and expense funds of the amounts contributed thereto by them, less any necessary cost and expenses.

The association may commence business when the minimum savings liability as provided hereinafore shall have been paid in and the other provisions of this chapter in relation thereto have been complied with. (C73, §1184; C97, §§1891, 1892; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9310—9312; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.1—534.6; C62, 66, 71, §§534.1)

In the case of account holding members, the association shall obtain a card containing the signature of the owner of such account or his duly authorized representative and shall preserve such signature card in the records of the association.

3. Associations shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files for a longer period than eleven years next after the expiration of the time provided in subsection 3, and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the association or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records and files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this chapter shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

4. No liability shall accrue against any association, destroying any such records after the expiration of the time provided in subsection 3, and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the association or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records and files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this chapter shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

5. Any such copy or reproduction shall be deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of any such copy or reproduction reproduced from a film record shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of the original. [C97, §1904; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9334, 9336; C39, §§9334, 9340.07, 9340.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.24, 534.31, 534.35; C62, 66, 71, §534.9]

534.10 Savings liability. The savings liability of an association is not limited, but shall consist only of the aggregate amount of share accounts of its members, plus dividends credited to such accounts, less redemption and withdrawal payments. Except as limited by the board of directors from time to time, a member may make additions to his share account in such amounts and at such times as he may elect. Share accounts shall be opened for cash. The members of an association shall not be responsible for any losses which its savings liability shall not be sufficient to satisfy, and share accounts shall not be subject to assessment, nor shall the holders thereof be liable for any unpaid installments on their accounts. Dividends shall be declared in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. No association shall prefer one of its share accounts over any other share account as to the right to participate in dividends as to time or amount, excepting that an association may classify its savings accounts according to the character, amount or duration thereof, or regularity of additions thereto, and may agree in advance to pay an additional rate of earnings for particular classes of accounts such as a variable rate or bonus for saving larger amounts, or for maintaining such savings over a longer period of time or with regularity, as determined by the board of directors; however, all such accounts shall be available to all qualifying members. The board of directors may also determine that earnings shall not be paid on any such account which has a withdrawable value in an amount less than fifty dollars. No preference between share account members shall be created with respect to the distribution of assets upon voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of an association. No association shall have power to contract with respect to the savings liability in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. [S13, §§1898-a-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, §§9334, 9336; C39, §§9334, 9340.07, 9340.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.24, 534.31, 534.35; C62, 66, 71, §534.10]

534.11 Share accounts.

1. Ownership. Share accounts may be opened and held solely and absolutely in his own right by, or in trust for, any person, including an adult or minor individual, male or female, single or married, a partnership, association, fiduciary corporation, or political subdivision or public or government unit or any other corporation or legal entity. Share accounts shall be represented only by the account of each share account holder on the books of the association, and shall be transferable only on the books of the association and upon proper application by the transferee and upon acceptance of the transferee as a member upon terms approved by the board of directors. The association may treat the holder of record of a share account as the owner thereof for all purposes without being affected by any notice to the contrary unless the association has acknowledged in writing notice of a pledge of such share account.

2. Evidence of ownership. An account book may be issued to each share account holder on the books of the association and such account books shall, if issued, indicate the withdrawal value of the share account. A separate certificate for a share account may be issued in lieu of an account book in form to be approved by the supervisor.

3. Duplicate account books and certificates. Upon the filing with an association by any one of the holders of record as shown by the books of the association, or by his legal representative, of an affidavit to the effect that the account book or certificate evidencing his share account with the association has been lost or destroyed, and that such account book or certificate has not been pledged or assigned in whole or in part, such association shall issue a new account book or certificate in the name of the holder or holders of record, such book stating that it is issued in lieu of one lost or destroyed, and the association shall in no way be liable thereafter on account of payment or delivery of rights to any minor, to or in the name of such minor, provided, however, that in the event of the death of any one or more of the minor’s parents, the receipt, acquittance or other action with such instructions, but no such instructions shall limit the right of the survivor or survivors to receive the moneys in the account only in accordance with the terms of the account or the instructions. After receipt of such notice an institution may refuse, without liability to honor any check, receipt, or withdrawal order on the account pending determination of the rights of the parties. No institution paying any survivor in accordance with the provisions of this subsection shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance or succession taxes which may be due this state.

4. Minors. An association and any federal savings and loan association may issue share accounts to any minor as the sole and absolute owner of such share account, and pay withdrawals and act with respect to such accounts on the order of such minor. Any payment or delivery of rights to any minor, or a receipt of acquittance signed by a minor, who holds a share account, shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of such institution for any payment so made or delivery of right to such minor. In the case of a minor, the receipt, acquittance or other action required by the institution to be taken by the minor shall be binding upon such minor with like effect as if he were of full age and legal capacity. The parent or guardian of such minor shall not in his capacity as parent or guardian have the power to attach or in any manner to transfer any share account issued to or in the name of such minor, provided, however, that in the event of the death of such minor the receipt of acquittance of either parent or of a person standing in loco parentis to such minor shall be a valid and sufficient discharge of such institution for any sum or sums not exceeding the aggregate one thousand dollars unless the minor shall have given written notice to the institution not to accept the signature of such parent or person.

5. Joint accounts. When a share account is opened in any association or federal savings and loan association in the name of two or more persons, whether minor or adult, in such form that the moneys in the account are payable to either or the survivor or survivors then such account and all additions thereto shall be the property of such persons as joint tenants. The moneys in such account may be paid to or on the order of any one of such persons during their lifetimes or to or on the order of any one of the survivors of them after the death of any one or more of them upon presentation of the pass or account book or other evidence of ownership as required by the articles or bylaws of the association. The opening of the account in such form shall, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, be conclusive evidence in any act or proceedings to which either the association or the surviving party or parties is a party, of the intention of all of the parties to the account to vest title to such account and the additions thereto in such survivor or survivors. By written instructions given to the institution by all the parties to the account, the signatures of more than one of such persons during their lifetime or of more than one of the survivors after the death of any one of them may be required on any check, receipt or withdrawal order, in which case the institution shall pay the moneys in the account only in accordance with such instructions, but no such instructions shall limit the right of the survivor or survivors to receive the moneys in the account.

Payment of all or any of the moneys in such account as provided in the preceding paragraph of this section shall discharge the institution from liability with respect to the moneys so paid, prior to receipt by the institution of a written notice from any one of them directing the institution not to permit withdrawals in accordance with the terms of the account or the instructions. After receipt of such notice an institution may refuse, without liability to honor any check, receipt, or withdrawal order on the account pending determination of the rights of the parties. No institution paying any survivor in accordance with the provisions of this subsection shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance or succession taxes which may be due this state.

6. Pledge to association of share account in joint tenancy. The pledge to any association or federal savings and loan association of all or part of a share account in joint tenancy signed by that person or those persons who are authorized in writing to make withdrawals from the account shall, unless the terms of the share account provide specifically to the contrary, be a valid pledge and transfer to the association of that part of the account pledged, and shall not operate to sever or terminate the joint and survivorship ownership of all or any part of the account.

7. Accounts of administrators, executors, guardians, custodians, trustees and other fiduciaries. Any association or federal savings and loan association may accept share accounts in the name of any administrator, custodian, executor, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary in trust for a named beneficiary or beneficiaries. Any such fiduciary shall have power to vote as a member as if the membership were held absolutely, to open and to make additions to, and to withdraw any such account in whole or in part. The withdrawal value of such accounts, and dividends thereon, or other rights relating thereto may be paid or delivered, in whole or in part to such fiduciary without regard to any notice to the contrary as long as such fiduciary is living. The payment or delivery to any such fiduciary or a receipt or acquittance signed by any such fiduciary to whom any such payment or any such delivery of rights is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of an institution for the payment or delivery so made. Whenever a person holding an account in a fiduciary capacity dies and no written notice of the revocation or termination of the fiduciary relationship shall have been given to an institution and the institution has no notice of any other disposition of the beneficial estate, the withdrawal value of such account and dividends thereon, or other rights relating thereto may, at the option of an institution, be paid or delivered, in whole or in part, to the beneficiary or beneficiaries. Whenever an account shall be opened by any person, describing himself in opening such account as trustee for another and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust than such description shall have been given in writing to such association, in the event of the death of the person so described as trustee, the withdrawal value of such account or any part thereof, together with the dividends or interest thereon, may be paid to the person for whom the account was thus stated to have been opened, and such account and all additions thereto shall be the property of such person. The payment or delivery to any such beneficiary, beneficiaries or designated person, or a receipt or acquittance signed by such beneficiary, beneficiaries or designated person for any such payment or delivery shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of an institution for the payment or delivery so made. No institution paying any such fiduciary or beneficiary in accordance with the provisions of this subsection shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance or succession taxes which may be due this state.

8. Pay on death accounts. Any association and any federal savings and loan association may issue share accounts in the name of one or more persons with the provision that upon the death of the owner or owners thereof the proceeds thereof shall be the property of the person or persons designated by the owner or owners and shown by the record of such association, but such proceeds shall be subject to the debts of the decedent and the payment of Iowa inheritance tax, if any, provided, however, that six months after the date of the death of the owner the receipt or acquittance of the person so designated shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of such association for the delivery of such share account or the payment so made.

9. Powers of attorney or share account. Any association or federal savings and loan association may continue to recognize the authority of an attorney authorized in writing to manage or to make withdrawals either in whole or in part from the share account of a member until it receives written notice or is on clear actual notice of the revocation of his authority. For the purpose of this subsection, written notice of the death or adjudication of incompetency of such member shall constitute written notice of revocation of the authority of his attorney. No such institution shall be liable for damages, penalty or tax by reason of any payment made pursuant to this subsection.

10. Share accounts as legal investments. Administrators, executors, custodians, guardians, trustees, and other fiduciaries of every kind and nature, insurance companies, business and manufacturing companies, banks, credit unions and all other types of financial institutions, charitable, educational, educational, religious, and public corporations and organizations, and municipalities and other public corporations and bodies, and public officials hereby are specifically authorized and empowered to invest funds held by them, without any order of any court in share account of insured savings associations which are under state supervision, and in accounts of federal savings and loan associations organized under the laws of the United States and under federal supervision, and such investment shall be deemed and held to be legal investments for such funds.

Whenever, under the laws of this state or otherwise, a deposit of securities is required for any purpose, the securities made legal investments by this section shall be acceptable for such deposits, and whenever, under the laws of this state or otherwise, a bond is required with security such bond may be furnished, and the securities made legal investments by this section in the amount of such bond, when deposited therewith, shall be acceptable as security without other security.

The provisions of this section are supplemental to any and all other laws relating to and declaring what shall be legal investments for the persons, corporations, organizations, and officials referred to in this section and the laws relating to the deposit of securities and the making and filing of bonds for any purpose. [C97 §§1901, 1904; C24, 27, 31, §§9343, 9344, 9357; C35, §9330-c1; C39, §§9330.1, 9340.03, 9340.10, 9435, 9344, 9357; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.21, 534.27, 534.34, 534.42, 534.43, 534.55, 534.111-534.114; C62, 66, 71, §894.11]
534.12 Members' general rights.
1. Voting. Each member shall have one vote for each one hundred dollars in his share account owned and held by him at any election, and may vote the same by proxy, but no person shall vote more than ten percent of the savings liability at the time of said election excepting that proxies held and voted by an individual member or a proxy committee shall not be included in said ten percent limitation. Every proxy shall be in writing and shall, unless otherwise specified in the proxy, continue in force for eleven months from date thereof. No proxies shall be voted at any meeting unless such proxies have been on file with the secretary of the association for verification at least five days before the date of the meeting. Anyone depositing or transferring savings as collateral security shall be deemed the owner of such share account within the meaning of this section. Notice of the regular annual meeting of members of an association shall be given by publishing said notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office of said association is located at least thirty days before the date set for said annual meeting. Proxies may be revoked by any member upon written notice to the secretary of an association; by execution of a written proxy to another agent; or by personal attendance by the member at the members' meetings. Each member as defined by section 534.2, subsection 8, shall, regardless of shares, be entitled to at least one vote at any members' meeting.

2. Withdrawals. The terms of withdrawal of a member from such association shall be such that any withdrawing member shall receive a sum not less than he has paid into said association less withdrawals and legal charges against the account, unless losses have occurred to said association, during the time that said withdrawing member was a member, which shall include all profits or any fund created with which to pay such losses, and in that case such withdrawing member shall be charged with his proportionate share of the excess of the losses over the profits, and no more. Such association may provide by its articles of incorporation or by-laws or by resolution of its board of directors, the order in which withdrawals shall be paid, and when dividends shall cease on share accounts on which withdrawal demands have been made and what portion of the association funds or receipts shall be used for payment of withdrawals.

3. Association lien on share accounts. Every such association shall at all times have a lien upon the savings of a member as security for repayment of money loaned him and as security for his other indebtedness to the association and such lien shall attach and continue without assignment or pledge to or possession by the association of any evidence of such ownership. Such lien may be enforced to satisfy any past due indebtedness by charging such indebtedness to the debtor's share account.

4. Redemption. At any time funds are on hand for the purpose the association shall have the right to redeem by lot or otherwise, as the board of directors may determine, all or any part of any of its share account on a dividend date by giving thirty days' notice by registered mail addressed to the account holders at their last addresses recorded on the books of the association. No association shall redeem any of its share accounts when the association is in an impaired condition or when it has applications for withdrawal which have been on file more than thirty days and have not been reached for payment. The redemption price of share accounts redeemed shall be the full value of the account redeemed, as determined by the board of directors, but in no event shall the redemption value be less than the withdrawal value. If the aforesaid notice of redemption shall have been duly given, and if on or before the redemption date the funds necessary for such redemption shall have been set aside and be and continue to be available therefor, dividends upon the accounts called for redemption shall cease to accrue from and after the redemption date specified as the redemption date, and all rights with respect to such accounts shall forthwith, after such redemption date, terminate, except only the right of the account holder of record to receive the redemption value without interest. All share accounts which have been validly called for redemption must be tendered for payment within ten years from the date of redemption designated in the redemption notice, otherwise they shall be canceled and forfeited for the use of the school fund of the county in which the association has its principal place of business and all claims of such account holders against the association shall be barred forever. Redemption shall not be made, however, of such share accounts held by a member-director which are necessary to qualify his acting as director.

534.13 Defamation of institutions prohibited—malicious circulation of reports. Whoever maliciously or with intent to deceive makes, publishes, utters, repeats, or circulates any false report concerning any building and loan or savings and loan association which imputes or tends to implicate, insolvency or unsound financial condition or financial embarrassment, or which may tend to cause or provoke or aid in causing or provoking a general withdrawal of funds from such association, or which may otherwise injure or tend to injure the business or good will of such building and loan or savings and loan association, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars.
or be imprisoned for not more than five years in the penitentiary or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment. [C35,§5388-e1; C39,§5388.2; C46, 50, 54, 68,§534.57; C62, 66, 71, §534.13]

Funds of such associations may be deposited in any state or national bank insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation on certificate of deposit, or the usual bank pass book credit, subject to check by the proper designated officers of such association or in the federal home loan bank of the district in which Iowa is located. [C27, 31, 35, 39,§9340.02; C46, 50, 54, 58,§534.26; C62, 66, 71, §534.16]

534.17 Investments. Every association shall have power to invest in securities and real estate as follows:

1. In securities without limit, in obligations of, or guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States or this state; in stock of a federal home loan bank of which it is eligible to be a member, and in any obligation or consolidated obligations of any federal home loan bank or banks; in stock or obligations of the federal savings and loan insurance corporation; in stock or obligations of a national mortgage association or any successor or successors thereto; in demand, time or savings deposits with any bank or trust company the deposits of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation; in stock or obligations of any corporation or agency of the United States or this state, or in deposits therewith to the extent that such corporation or agency assists in furthering or facilitating the association's purposes or powers; in share accounts of any association operating under the provisions of this chapter and of any federal savings and loan association; in bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness which are a general obligation of any city, town, village, county, school district, or other municipal or political subdivision so long as the total investment in such corporation does not exceed five percent of the assets of said association. Any of said investments which are securities or obligations which are evidence of first mortgage liens on real estate are exempt from the above five percent limitation.

2. In real estate purchased at sheriff's sale or at any other sale, public or private, judicial or otherwise, upon which the association has a lien or claim, legal or equitable; in real estate accepted by the association in satisfaction of any obligation; in real estate purchased for sale or improvement and sale, upon contracts, at the cost of land and improvements, when such contracts are executed concurrently with or prior to such purchase, such transactions to be subject to all the limitations herein provided with respect to real estate loans; in real estate acquired by the association in exchange for real estate owned by the association; in real estate acquired by the association in connection with salvaging the value of property owned by the association; an amount not exceeding the sum of its reserves and undivided profits in the purchase and development of real estate for the purpose of producing income or for sale or for improvement thereof and the erection of buildings thereon for sale or rental purposes. Title to all real estate shall be taken and held in the name of the association and such title shall immediately be recorded in accordance with law.

No association shall invest in any loan at any time when its liquid assets are less than five percent of its savings liability, unless the supervisor of savings and loan associations shall have issued written approval. [C27, 31, 35,§9340-b1; C39,§9340.01; C46, 50, 54, 58,§534.25; C62, 66, 71,§534.17; 64GA, ch 250,§2] Investments in federal insured bonds, §534.45

534.19 General powers. Every such association shall have the following general powers:

1. General corporate power. To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity; to purchase, acquire, hold, and convey real and personal estate consistent with its objects and powers; to mortgage, pledge, or lease any real or personal estate owned by the association and to authorize such pledgee to repledge same; to take property by gifts, devise or bequest; to have a corporate seal, which may be affixed by imprint, facsimile, or otherwise; to appoint officers, agents, and employees as its business shall require and allow them suitable compensation; to provide for life, health and

2. Loans on security of share accounts. To make loans on the sole security of share accounts. No such loan shall exceed the withdrawal value of the accounts owned or otherwise pledged for or by the borrower. No such loan shall be made when an association has applications for withdrawal which have been on file more than sixty days and not been reached for payment.

3. Mortgage loans. To make first mortgage loans on real estate under the limitations and conditions imposed elsewhere in this chapter.

4. Insured and guaranteed loans. To make any loan, secured or unsecured, which is insured or guaranteed in any manner and in any amount by the United States or any instrumentality thereof or by this state or any instrumentality thereof.

5. Dealing with successors in interest. In the event of loans made under subsections 2, 3 and 4 of this section, in the event the ownership of the real estate security or any part thereof becomes vested in a person other than the party or parties originally executing the security instruments, and provided there is not an agreement in writing to the contrary, an association may, without notice to such party or parties, deal with successor or successors in interest with reference to said mortgage and the debt thereby secured in the same manner as with such party or parties, and may forbear to sue or may extend time for payment of or otherwise modify the terms of the debt secured thereby, without discharging or in any way affecting the original liability of such party or parties thereunder or upon the debt thereby secured.

6. Property improvement loans. To make property improvement loans to home owners and other property owners for maintenance, repair, landscaping, modernization, furniture and fixtures, improvement and equipment for their properties, and loans on mobile homes, with or without security provided that no such loan without security shall exceed five thousand dollars, and provided further that not in excess of fifteen percent of the assets of the association shall be so invested, said fifteen percent to be exclusive of the forty percent of assets power set out in section 534.21 hereof. Such loans shall be amortized to mature in not to exceed eight years. Such loans may also be based on a discount or add-on charge of not to exceed six dollars per one hundred dollars face amount per year in lieu of straight interest otherwise provided by law.

7. Power to purchase and to lend upon loans. The power to make loans shall include (a) the power to purchase loans of any type that the association may make, (b) the power to make loans upon the security of loans of any type that the association may make, and (c) the power to sell any loans of the type the association is authorized to make. Loans under "a" and "c" may be outside regular lending area if restricted to loans insured personally by an instrumentality of the United States or by any other insurer approved by the federal home loan bank or the supervisor. Under "a" and "c" above, the association may purchase an interest in loans which are insured as above set out from the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof which has any function of examining or supervising of savings and loan associations; or the association may sell any of its loans to the United States or any such agency or instrumentality or to any broker or dealer registered with the securities and exchange commission.

8. Participation loans. An association may participate with other lenders in the origination or purchase of an interest in loans of any type that such an association may otherwise make, provided that the other participants are instrumentalities of or corporations owned wholly or in part by the United States or this state, or are associations or corporations insured by the federal savings and loan insurance corporation or the federal deposit insurance corporation or are life insurance companies with assets in excess of one hundred million dollars, such loans to be within or without the regular lending area of the association.

9. Servicing loans. To service mortgages subject to such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by the supervisor, provided such mortgages originally are made by such association and subsequently sold. The maximum principal amount of mortgages thus serviced by an association at any one time shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the amount of the savings liability of such association. To service contracts for sale of real estate, provided that one of the parties to said contract is a member of the servicing association and that such association shall not undertake in connection with such servicing to be responsible for more than bookkeeping or other perfunctory services in connection herewith.

10. Fiscal agent. Any such association which is a member of a federal home loan bank shall have power to act as fiscal agent of the United States and, when designated for the purpose by the secretary of the treasury, it shall perform under such regulations as he may prescribe all such reasonable duties as fiscal agent of the United States as he may require, and shall have power to act as agent for any United States government instrumentality. An association may also handle travelers checks and money orders.

11. Purchase of contracts. Any such association may buy and sell vendors' real estate contracts; provided, however, that all such contracts shall contain forfeiture provisions as provided for in chapter 656, and provided further that the requirements for loans as set forth in section 534.21 shall be applicable to making and buying of such contracts, except that at the time of purchase of such vendors' contracts the association shall not purchase any such contract for more than ninety percent of the value of the real estate therein described appraised as required by section 534.21. No association shall hereafter invest more than fifteen percent of its assets in such vendors' contracts authorized by this subsection. Said fifteen percent shall be considered as included within the forty percent of assets lending power set out hereinafter.

12. Lock boxes. Any association may own, rent to its members, lock boxes for storage or safekeeping of securities and valuables.

13. Power to borrow. If and when an association is not a member of a federal home loan bank, it shall have power to borrow not more than an aggregate amount equal to one-fourth of its savings liability on the date of borrowing. If and when an association is a member of a federal home loan bank, it shall have power to secure advances of not more than an aggregate amount equal to one-half of its savings liability. Within such amount equal to one-half of its savings liability, the association may borrow from sources other than such federal home loan bank an aggregate amount not in excess of ten percent of its savings liability. A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding obligations for borrowed money. All such loans and advances may be secured by property of the association. In addition to the above unsecured or secured borrowing, an association may issue such notes, bonds, debentures and other obligations or securities, except capital stock, as are approved by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, and if authorized by the regulations of the federal home loan bank, as long as the total amount of funds borrowed under this sentence shall not exceed five percent of the withdrawable accounts of the association and provided that such obligations and securities shall be subject to the priority of the rights of the owners of the savings and deposits of said association.

14. Automatic authorization. Any association may have the right to participate in any new or additional powers or activities hereafter granted to such association under this chapter immediately upon the effective date of such additional authority, if authorized by the articles of incorporation of such association.

15 Service corporations. Any association shall have the power to organize and own, alone or with any other similar corporation, a service corporation for the mutual good of said corporations. An association may invest in capital stock, obligations, or other securities of service corporations in an amount not to exceed five percent of the association's assets. The supervisor of state chartered associations shall have the right to examine said service corporations.

16. Urban renewal and public housing investments. Any association shall have the power to organize or purchase stock in a corporation for the purpose of lending, owning or constructing property in urban renewal areas or constructing property or making loans therein itself, so long as the total investment of such association does not exceed five percent of the assets of said association. Any association shall have the power to invest, organize, purchase stock or obligations in any corporation for the purpose of lending, owning, improving, or constructing property in any subsidized program of any government or agency that is insured by said government or agency or that is insured by private mortgage insurance. The total investment in said program shall not exceed five percent of the assets of the association.

17. Educational loans. Any association is authorized to invest in loan, obligations, and advances of credit (all of which are hereinafter referred to in this subsection as "loans") made for the purpose of expenses of college or university education, but no association shall make any investment in loans under this paragraph if the principal amount of its investment in such loans, exclusive of any investment which is or which at the time of its making was otherwise authorized, would thereupon exceed five percent of its assets. Such loans may be secured, partly secured, or unsecured, and the association may require a comaker or comakers, insurance, guaranty under a governmental student loan guarantee plan, or other protection against contingencies. The borrower shall certify to the association that the proceeds of the loan are to be used by a full-time student solely for the payment of expenses of college or university education. For the purpose of this subsection, the term "college or university education" means education at an institution which provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's degree, or provides not less than a two-year program which is acceptable for full credit toward such a degree.

18. Operating under federal rules as to deposits and interest. A savings and loan association operating under this chapter may operate in a manner similar to federally chartered savings and loan associations regarding the use of the terms "deposit" and "interest" and with such other powers as have been authorized to federally chartered associations under the Homeowners Loan Act of 1933, Title 12, section 1464, United States Code, and as permitted under the rules and regulations of the federal home loan bank system and federal savings and loan insurance corporation, to the extent that similar rules and regulations have been adopted by the supervisor of savings and loan associations and have been filed with the secretary of state. This subsection shall not diminish or restrict the powers otherwise granted to such association by the laws of Iowa.

The adoption and filing of such rules or regulations by the supervisor shall not diminish or restrict the rights of associations which do not make the above determination.

19. Business development credit corporation. Any association whose general reserve, surplus and undivided profits aggregate a sum in excess of five percent of its withdrawable accounts is authorized to invest in, to lend to, or to commit itself to lend to any business development credit corporation incorporated in the state in which the head office of such association is situated, but the aggregate amount of such investments, loans, and commitments, of any such association outstanding at any time shall not exceed one-half of one percent of the total outstanding loans made by such association, or two hundred fifty thousand dollars, whichever is the lesser.

20. Limited trust powers. Associations incorporated under this chapter may act as trustee for trusts which are created or organized in the United States, and which form part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit sharing plan which qualifies for special tax treatment under section 401 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, if the funds of such trust are invested only in savings accounts or deposits in such association or in obligations or securities issued by such association. All funds held in such fiduciary capacity by any such association may be commingled for appropriate purposes of investment, but individual records shall be kept by the fiduciary for each participant and shall show in proper detail all transactions engaged in under the authority of this subsection. [C73, §§1185, 1186; C97, §§1898, 1599; S13, §1898; C24, 27, 31, §§9329, 9331, 9340, C35, §§9329, 9330-e1, 9331, 9340, C39, §§9329, 9330-1, 9331, 9340-0, 9340-14; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§343, 19, 534-21, 534-22, 534-33, 534-38; C62, 66, 71, §§343-19, 64GA, ch 250, §§3, 4, 5, 10, ch 1116, §§1, 2]

534.20 Emergency operations. In the event an association’s offices are destroyed by enemy attack or by natural disaster, such association may operate from such temporary headquarters as may be necessary until such time as it is again able to resume operations in its normal location.

Such association may, with the approval of the supervisor, make loans beyond its regular lending area within this state in the event of an emergency resulting in the destruction of home financing facilities in any community in this state. [C62, 66, 71, §534.20]

534.21 Loan requirements.

1. Loan plans. Real estate loans may be made as authorized by this chapter, or upon any other loan plan approved by the supervisor. No real estate loan shall be made until two qualified persons or one professional appraiser selected by the board of directors shall have submitted a signed appraisal of the real estate securing such loan. If it is an uninsured mortgage no such loan shall be made to exceed ninety percent of said appraised value. Any loans insured by the federal housing administration or which are guaranteed by the Servicemen’s Readjustment Act of 1944 [58 Stat. L. 291; repealed; now covered by 37 U.S.C. §§1801 to 1824 inc.], as amended, or which are guaranteed or insured, in whole or in part, by any other duly constituted federal instrumentality or private corporation approved by the federal home loan bank or the supervisor which qualify for such insurance or guarantee, may be made regardless of the requirements for other loans otherwise contained in this section.

Payments on real estate loans shall be applied first to the payment of interest of the unpaid balance of the loan and the remainder to the reduction of principal; provided that if the loan is in default in any manner, payments may be applied by the mortgagee in any manner approved by the association and provided by the contract between the parties.

If agreed in writing by written instrument separate from the note and mortgage at any time after execution of the note and mortgage, any prepayment of an installment may be applied on the final installment of the note or other obligation until fully paid, and thereafter on the installments in the inverse order of their maturity.

2. Terms of loans. All installment loans shall be repayable within thirty years or, if an insured or guaranteed loan, within the period acceptable to the insuring or guaranteeing agency. Loans of any type that such an association may make on a monthly installment basis may also be made without full amortization of principal; provided, that except for insured or guaranteed loans, interest shall be payable at least semiannually and any such loan may be made for an amount not in excess of fifty percent of the value and for a term of not more than five years: And provided further, that if the members have authorized loans to be made without full amortization up to such higher percentage, such loans, if made, for the purpose of construction, may be made for an amount not in excess of eighty percent of the value and for a term of not more than one year.

3. Home loans. Every such association may originate and make first mortgage amortized real estate loans for not to exceed fifty thousand dollars secured by home property situated within the state. Such loans may also be made within the state of Iowa when the loans are insured wholly or partially by any instrumentality of the United States government or by private mortgage insurance when such company is approved to conduct business in the state of Iowa. Home loans may be made in excess of the fifty thousand dollar limitation when made under the forty percent of assets lending power hereinafter set out.

4. Other loans. Every such association may use an aggregate amount not exceeding forty percent of the assets at the time of such use, or a larger amount with the approval of the supervisor, to make loans as follows:

a. Home loans, which are either direct-reduction home loans or not, but which exceed forty thousand dollars each, regardless of where the home property securing the loan is situated so long as within this state.

b. Home loans of any amount, which are direct-reduction home loans, but which are secured by home property situated beyond the regular lending area.

c. Home loans of any amount which are not direct-reduction home loans, regardless of where the home property securing the loan is situated so long as within this state.

d. Other real estate loans, whether amortized or unamortized, regardless of amount thereof or location of real estate securing the loan so long as within this state.

e. First mortgage loans insured by an instrumentality of the United States government or first mortgage loans insured by an approved mortgage insurance company doing business in the state of Iowa shall be exempt from the provisions of the forty percent of assets lending power.

This power is herein referred to as the "forty percent of assets lending power." A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding loans made under the forty percent of assets lending power.

5. Note. Every loan shall be evidenced by a note for the amount of the loan. The note shall specify the amount, rate of interest, terms of repayment and may contain all other terms of the loan contract. The notes evidencing loans may be in negotiable form.

6. Mortgage. Every real estate loan shall be secured by an instrument constituting a first lien upon the real estate securing the loan. Such instrument shall be considered a mortgage and shall provide specifically for full protection to the association with respect to such loan and additional advances and the usual insurance risks, taxes, assessments, other governmental levies, maintenance, and repairs. It may provide for an assignment of rents, which assignment shall be absolute upon the borrower’s default, becoming operative upon written demand made by the association. All such mortgages shall be recorded in accordance with the law of this state.

7. Terms of mortgage. Any mortgage made by an association under the provisions of this chapter may be made to secure existing debts or obligations, to secure debts or obligations created simultaneously with the execution of the mortgage, to secure future advances necessary to protect the security, and to secure future advances to be made at the option of the parties up to a total amount stated in the mortgage, and all such debts, obligations and future advances shall, from and as of the time the mortgage is filed for record as provided by the laws of this state, be secured by such mortgage equally with, and have the same priority over the rights of all persons who subsequently to the recording of such mortgage acquire any rights in or liens upon the mortgaged real estate, as the debts and obligations secured thereby at the time of the filing of the mortgage for record.

8. Payment of charges. An association may pay taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other similar charges for the protection of its real estate loans. All such payments shall be added to the unpaid balance of the loan and shall be equally secured by the first lien on the property as provided above. An association may require life insurance to be assigned as additional collateral upon any real estate loan. In such event the association shall obtain a first lien upon such policy and may advance premiums thereon, and such premium advances shall be added to the unpaid balance of the loan and shall be equally secured by the first lien on the property as provided above. No association may require that insurance must be purchased from or through the association as a condition to any loan.

9. Payment by borrower. An association may require the borrower to pay monthly in advance, in addition to interest or interest and principal payments, the equivalent of one-twelfth of the estimated annual taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other charges upon the real estate securing a loan, or any of such charges, so as to enable the association to pay such charges as they become due from the funds so received. The amount of such monthly charges may be increased or decreased so as to provide reasonably for the payment of the estimated annual taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other charges. The association may carry such funds in trust in an account or may credit the same to the indebtedness and advance money for taxes, insurance or other charges. Every association shall keep a record of the status of taxes, assessment, insurance premiums, and other charges on all real estate securing its loans and on all real and other property owned by it.
10. Advance interest on prepayments. Real estate loans on one to four family dwellings may be repaid in part or in full at any time, excepting that the association may charge not to exceed six months advance interest on that part of the aggregate amount of all prepayments made on such loan in any twelve-month period which exceeds twenty percent of the original principal amount of the loan; and may charge any negotiated rate not to exceed three percent of the original principal for prepayment on other loans during the first three years of said loans, after which time the association may charge as above provided for on one to four family dwellings.

11. Expenses of loan. Every association may require borrowing members to pay all reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the making, closing, disbursing, extending, readjusting, or renewing of real estate loans. Every association also may require borrowing members to pay the cost of all other necessary and incidental services rendered by the association or by others for the association in connection with real estate loans in such reasonable amounts as may be fixed by the board of directors. No director, officer, or employee of an association shall receive any fee or other compensation of any kind in connection with procuring any loan for an association, except for services actually rendered as above provided. The association shall furnish a loan settlement statement to each borrower upon the closing of the loan, indicating the charges and fees such borrower has paid or obligated himself to pay the association or to any other person in connection with such loan. A copy of such statement shall be retained in the records of the association.

12. Loans on leasehold. An association may also make loans on leasehold interests, under the same terms as above provided for other loans, if said leasehold interest extends or is automatically renewable at the option of the holder, or at the option of the association, for a period of at least fifty years from the date the loan is executed but at least ten years beyond the maturity date of the loan and provided further that, in event of default, the real estate described in such leasehold interest could be subjected to the satisfaction of the debt with the same priority. Any association of this state doing a home-financing business may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings association or other mutual savings association authorized under the laws of the United States, as now or hereafter amended, upon a vote of fifty-one percent or more of the votes of the members, in person or by proxy, such vote to be cast at an annual meeting or at any special meeting called to consider such action. A sworn copy of the proceedings of such meeting when so filed, shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. Within three months after the date of such meeting, the association shall take such action in the manner prescribed and authorized by the laws of the United States as shall make it a federal savings and loan association. There shall be filed with the supervisor a copy of the charter issued to such federal savings and loan association by the federal home loan bank board or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal savings and loan association, certified by the secretary or assistant secretary of the federal home loan bank board. A similar copy of the charter, or of such certificate, shall be filed by the association with the secretary of state. An association shall be deemed to have continued and vested, as of the date of issuance of such federal charter, in such federal savings and loan association as fully and completely as if such conversion had taken place since the enactment of this chapter pursuant to this section.

2. Conversion into state-chartered association. Any federal savings and loan association may convert itself into an association under this chapter upon a vote of fifty-one percent or more of the votes of members of such federal savings and loan association, in person or by proxy, such vote to be cast at an annual meeting or at any special meeting called to consider such action. Copies of the minutes of the proceedings of such meetings of members, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed in the office of the supervisor and mailed to the federal home loan bank board, Washington, D. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the converting state association is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of such conversion, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if such conversion into such federal association had not been made and such federal association resulting from such conversion may continue such action in its corporate name as a federal association, and any judgment, order, or decree may be rendered for or against it which might have been rendered for or against the converting state association theretofore involved in such judicial proceedings. Any association or corporation, which has heretofore converted itself into a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings association or other mutual savings association authorized under the laws of the United States and has received a charter from the federal home loan bank board, shall hereafter be recognized as a federal savings and loan association, and its federal charter shall be given full credence by the courts of this state to the same extent as if such conversion had taken place under the provisions of this section; provided, however, that there shall have been compliance with the foregoing requirements with respect to the filing with the supervisor of a copy of the federal charter or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal savings and loan association. On the fifteenth and last days of each month each examiner shall file in triplicate with the auditor of state a certified statement of the actual days engaged in such examination. The salaries shall be included in a semimonthly payroll. Repayment to the state shall be made as provided by section 531.61, subsection 4.

6. Record required. A record of such examination shall be kept in the auditor's office, showing in detail as to each association all matters connected with the conduct of the business, its financial standing and everything touching its solvency, plan of business and integrity.

Such examinations and reports, and other information connected therewith, shall be kept confidential in the office of the auditor of state and the supervisor of savings and loan associations, and shall not be subject to publication or disclosure to others except as in this chapter provided. However, any evidence of felonious acts on the part of the officers, directors or employees of such association may be referred by the office of the auditor of state to proper authorities. Members of such associations, other than their officers and directors, shall not be entitled to inspection of any such records or information, and shall not be entitled to any information relative to the names of the members of any association, or the amounts invested by them, as disclosed in the auditor's office, or in the records of any such association.

After making such provisions for absorbing immediate and possible future losses, the board of directors of such association shall annually, or at such other intervals as the board of directors may determine, declare and apportion as a dividend to members, according to its articles of incorporation, such portion of the association's net profits as it may deem available, and as authorized under this chapter. Members shall participate in dividends in proportion to their respective investments therein. Dividends for a particular month may be paid on sums invested by a member by the tenth day of that month or by such later date of that month as is authorized by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, which shall in no event be later than the twentieth day of a particular month. If the tenth day of said month or other authorized date falls on a Sunday, holiday or another business day on which the particular association is normally closed, then money received by the next business day may earn dividends from the first of that month. The board of directors may also devise other methods of paying dividends, including payment of dividends from date of investment to date of withdrawal, subject to the approval of the supervisor of savings and loan associations. Additionally a service fee not to exceed one dollar per dividend period may be charged to a member's account when no activity has taken place in said account for the eight preceding quarterly periods and the principal of such account is less than fifty dollars. 1C73, §1187; C97, §9302; 1903; C24, 27, 31, 35, §9347, §9348; C46, 50, 54, 58, §534.43; C62, 66, 71, §534.44.

As of June 30 and December 31 of each year, before declaring any dividends, the board of directors shall transfer and credit to a general reserve account an amount equivalent to at least two percent of the net earnings of the association for the preceding six months, called the "accounting period", such transfers to be made at the end of each six months' accounting period. until such general reserve account is equal to at least five percent of the total amount paid in by members and credited on share accounts. The above action shall be taken March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each year and the dividends and reserve periods correspondingly adjusted if dividend payments are paid quarterly to not less than fifty dollars. If at any time thereafter such general reserve account shall on account of losses be reduced to less than five percent of the amount paid in and credited on share accounts, such transfers and credits thereto shall be resumed and continued until such reserve is again equal to at least five percent of the total amount paid in and credited on share accounts of members. The reserve account so established shall at all times be maintained and used for the sole purpose of absorbing losses incurred by the association and for no other purposes. An association may establish such other and additional special reserves as may be ordered by its board of directors. [C39, §9347; C46, 50, 54, 58, §534.46; C62, 66, 71, §534.43]

All expenses for management in conducting the affairs of an association, excluding the cost of borrowed money, shall be paid from interest, service charges and other sources of profit. The said expense for an association in any one year shall not exceed three percent for associations with assets not to exceed eight hundred thousand dollars and two percent for those on such amount as shown by the associations in their last annual report. [§13, §1902-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9348; C46, 50, 54, 58, §534.47; C62, 66, 71, §534.44]

Any compensation paid in violation of this section may be recovered by the association or by any shareholder or borrower, in the name and for the use of such association, within three years from the receipt of such illegal compensation, from the person accepting the same, or from any officer knowingly consenting to the allowance thereof. [§13, §1902-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9349; C46, 50, 54, 58, §534.48; C62, 66, 71, §534.45]

Such reasonable charge or premium shall allow a fair and reasonable return or profit for the risk involved in providing such coverage.

§536.2 Application — fees. Application for such license shall be in writing, under oath, and in the form prescribed by the superintendent, and shall contain the name and the address (both of the residence and place of business) of the applicant, and if the applicant is a copartnership or association, of every member thereof, and if a corporation, of each officer and director thereof; also the county and municipality with street and number, if any, of the place where the business of making loans under the provisions of this chapter is to be conducted and such further relevant information as the superintendent may require. Such application at the time of making such application shall pay to the superintendent the sum of fifty dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are not in excess of twenty thousand dollars, and the sum of one hundred dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are in excess of twenty thousand dollars, as a fee for investigating the application and the additional sum of seventy-five dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are not in excess of twenty thousand dollars, and one hundred fifty dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are in excess of twenty thousand dollars, as an annual license fee.

Every applicant shall also prove, in form satisfactory to the superintendent, that he or it has available for the operation of such business at the place of business specified in the application, liquid assets of at least five thousand dollars, or that he or it has at least the said amount actually in use in the conduct of such business at such place of business. §536.3 Bond. The applicant shall also at the same time file with the superintendent a bond to be approved by him in which the applicant shall be the obligor, with one or more sureties. In the sum of one thousand dollars. The said bond shall run to the state for the use of the state and to any person or persons who may have a cause of action against the obligor of said bond under the provisions of this chapter. Such bond shall be conditioned that said obligor will faithfully conform to and abide by the provisions of this chapter and of all rules and regulations lawfully made by the superintendent hereunder, and will pay to the state and to any such person or persons any and all moneys that may become due or owing to the state or to such person or persons from said obligor under and by virtue of the provisions of this chapter. §536.4 Grant or refusal of license. Upon the filing of such application, the approval of such bond and the payment of such fees, the superintendent shall make a thorough and complete investigation of the facts as he may deem necessary or proper.

If the superintendent shall determine from such application and from such investigation that the applicant can have a reasonable expectancy of a successful lending business at the location of the office for which application is made, and that there is a real need and necessity in that community for additional lending facilities to adequately serve the local people, and that said applicant is one who will command the respect of and confidence from the people in that community; that the financial responsibility, experience, character, and general fitness of the applicant, and of the members thereof, if the applicant be a copartnership or association, and of the officers and directors thereof if the applicant be a corporation, are such as to warrant the belief that the business will be operated lawfully, honestly, fairly, and efficiently within the purposes of this chapter, and if the superintendent shall find that the applicant has available or actually in use the assets described in section 536.2, he shall thereupon issue and deliver a license to the applicant to make loans in accordance with the provisions of this chapter at the place of business specified in the said application; if the superintendent shall not so find he shall not issue such license and he shall notify the applicant of the denial and return to the applicant the bond and the sum paid by the applicant as a license fee, retaining the investigation fee to cover the costs of investigating the application. The superintendent shall approve or deny every application for a license hereunder within sixty days from the filing of the application and the approved bond and the payment of the said fees.

If the application is denied the superintendent shall within twenty days thereafter file with the banking department a written transcript of the evidence and decision and findings with respect thereto containing the reasons supporting the denial, and forthwith serve upon the applicant a copy thereof. [C24, 27, 31, §9415; C35, §9438-f4; C39, §9438.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.4]

§536.5 License—form—posting. Such license shall state the address of the place where the business of making such loans is to be conducted and shall state fully the name of the licensee, and if the licensee is a copartnership or association, the names of the members thereof, and if a corporation, the date and place of its incorporation, and if a copartnership or association, the names of the members thereof. [C24, 27, 31, §§9411, 9418; C35, §9438-f5; C39, §9438.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.5]

§536.6 Additional bond. If the superintendent shall find at any time that the bond is insecure or exhausted or otherwise of doubtful validity or collectibility, an additional bond to be approved by him, with one or more sureties and of the character specified in section 536.3, in the sum of not more than one thousand dollars, shall be filed by the licensee.
within ten days after written demand upon the licensee by the superintendent.

Every licensee shall have available at all times for each licensed place of business at least five thousand dollars in assets, either in liquid form or actually in use in the conduct of such business. [C24, 27, 31,§9437; C35,§9438-f6; C39,§9438.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.6]

536.7 Separate license—change of place of business. Not more than one place of business where such loans are made shall be maintained under the same license, but the superintendent may issue more than one license to the same licensee upon compliance, for each such additional license, with all the provisions of this chapter governing an original issuance of a license.

Whenever a licensee shall change such place of business to another location he shall at once give written notice thereof to the superintendent who shall attach to the license in writing his record of the change and the date thereof, which shall be authority for the operation of such business under such license at such new place of business. [C24, 27, 31, §9436; C35,§9438-f7; C39,§9438.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.7]

536.8 Annual fee—payment—new bond. Every licensee shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each December, pay to the superintendent the sum as provided in section 536.2 as an annual license fee for the next succeeding calendar year and shall at the same time file with the superintendent a new bond or renewal of the old bond in the same amount and of the same character as required by section 536.3. [C35,§9438-f8; C39,§9438.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.8]

536.9 Suspension, revocation or surrender of license.

1. The superintendent may, upon at least twenty days' written notice to the licensee stating the contemplated action and grounds, and upon reasonable opportunity to be heard, revoke any license issued hereunder if he shall find that:

   a. The licensee has failed, after ten days' notice of default, to pay the annual license fee or to maintain in effect the bond or bonds required under the provisions of this chapter or to comply with any rule or regulation of the superintendent lawfully made pursuant to and within the authority of this chapter; or that

   b. The licensee has violated any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation lawfully made by the superintendent under and within the authority of this chapter; or that

   c. Any fact or condition exists which would clearly have warranted the superintendent in refusing originally to issue such license.

2. If the superintendent shall find that probable cause for revocation of any license exists and that the enforcement of the chapter requires immediate suspension of such license pending investigation, he may, upon five days' written notice and a hearing, suspend such license for a period not exceeding thirty days.

3. The superintendent may revoke or suspend only the particular license with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension may occur or exist, or, if he shall find that such grounds for revocation or suspension are of general application to all licensed places of business, or to more than one licensed place of business, operated by such licensee, he shall revoke or suspend all of the licenses issued to such licensee or such licenses as such grounds apply to, as the case may be.

4. Any licensee may surrender any license by delivering to the superintendent written notice that he thereby surrenders such license, but such surrender shall not affect such licensee's civil or criminal liability for acts committed prior to such surrender.

5. No revocation or suspension or surrender of any license shall impair or affect the obligation of any pre-existing lawful contract between the licensee and any borrower.

6. Every license issued hereunder shall remain in force and effect until the same shall have been surrendered, revoked, or suspended in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The superintendent shall have authority on his own initiative to reinstate suspended licenses or to issue new licenses to a licensee whose license or licenses shall have been revoked if no fact or condition then exists which would have warranted the superintendent in refusing originally to issue such license under this chapter.

7. Whenever the superintendent shall revoke or suspend a license issued under this chapter, he shall forthwith file with the banking department a written transcript of the evidence and order to that effect and findings supporting the revocation or suspension, and forthwith serve upon the licensee a copy thereof. [C24, 27, 31,§9436; C35,§9438-f9; C39,§9438.09; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.9]

536.10 Examination of business—fee. For the purpose of discovering violations of this chapter or securing information lawfully required by him hereunder, the superintendent may at any time, either personally or by an individual or individuals duly designated by him, investigate the loans and business and examine the books, accounts, records, and files used therein, of every licensee and of every person engaged in the business described in section 536.1, whether such person shall act or claim to act as principal or agent, or under or without the authority of this chapter. For that purpose the superintendent and his duly designated representatives shall have and be given free access to the place of business, books, accounts, papers, records, files, safes, and vaults of all such areas; and the superintendent and any individuals duly designated by him shall have authority to require the attendance of and to examine under oath all individuals whomsoever whose testimony he may require relative to such loans or such business.

The superintendent shall make an examination of the affairs, place of business, and records of each licensed place of business at least once each year.

Every licensee subject to examination, supervision and regulation by the superintendent, shall pay to the superintendent an examination fee, based on the actual cost of the operation of the small loan division of the department of banking, and the proportionate share of administrative expenses in the operation of the department of banking attributable to the small loan division as determined by the superintendent of banking. Such fee shall apply equally to all licenses and shall not be changed more frequently than annually and when changed, shall be effective on January 1 of the year following the year in which the change is approved.

Upon completion of each examination required or allowed by this chapter, the examiner shall render a bill for such fee, in triplicate, and shall deliver one copy to the licensee and two copies to the superintendent. Failure to pay the fee to the superintendent within ten days after the date of the close of each such examination shall subject the licensee to an additional fee of five percent of the amount of such fee for each day the payment is delinquent. [C24, 27, 31,§9433; C35, §9438-fl0; C39,§9438.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§536.10]

The licensee shall keep such books, accounts, and records as the superintendent may require in order to determine whether such licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules and regulations lawfully made by the superintendent hereunder. Every licensee shall preserve for at least two years after making the last entry on any loan recorded therein all books, accounts, and records, including cards used in the card system, if any.

Each licensee shall annually on or before the fifteenth day of March file a report with the superintendent giving such relevant information as the superintendent reasonably may require concerning the business and operations during the preceding calendar year of the licensed places of business conducted by such licensee within the state. Such report shall be made under oath and shall be in the form prescribed by the superintendent who shall make and publish annually an analysis and recapitulation of such reports. [C24, 27, 31,§9434; C35,§9438-f11; C39,§9438.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§536.11]

No licensee or other person shall advertise, print, display, publish, distribute, or broadcast or cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, or broadcast, in any manner whatsoever, any statement or representation with regard to the rates, charges, terms, or conditions for the lending of money, credit, goods, or things in action in the amount or of the value of one thousand dollars or less, which is false, misleading, or deceptive. The superintendent may order any licensee to desist from any conduct which he shall find to be a violation of the foregoing provisions.

If any licensee refers in any advertising matter to the rate of charge to be made upon loans the superintendent may require such licensee to state such rate of charge fully and clearly in such manner as he may deem necessary to prevent misunderstanding thereof by prospective borrowers.

No licensee shall take a real estate mortgage as security for any loan made under the provisions of this chapter.

No licensee shall conduct the business of making loans under the provisions of this chapter within any office, room, suite, or place of business in which any other business is solicited or engaged in, or in association or conjunction therewith, except as may be authorized in writing by the superintendent upon his finding that the character of such other business is such that the granting of such authority would not facilitate evasions of this chapter or of the rules and regulations lawfully made by him hereunder.

No licensee shall make any loan provided for by this chapter under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in the license.

No licensee shall take any confession of judgment or any power of attorney to appear or to confess judgment on behalf of a borrower. No licensee shall take any note, promise to pay, or security that does not accurately disclose the actual amount of the loan, the time for which it is made, and the agreed rate of charge, nor any instrument in which blanks are left to be filled in after execution. [C24, 27, 31,§§9426, 9432; C35,§9438-f12; C39, §9438.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§536.12]

§536.13 Banking board — report — additional restrictions.
1. It shall be the duty of the state banking board, hereinafter called the board, and it shall have power, jurisdiction, and authority, from time to time to investigate the conditions and find the facts with reference to the business of making small loans, as described in section 536.1, hereinafter referred to as small loans, and after making such investigation, report in writing their findings to the next regular session of the general assembly, and upon the basis of such facts:
   a. To classify small loans by a regulation according to such system of differentiation as will reasonably distinguish such classes of loans for the purposes of this chapter, and
   b. To determine and fix by a regulation such maximum rate of interest or charges upon each such class of small loans as will induce efficiently managed commercial capital to enter such business in sufficient amounts to make available adequate credit facilities to individuals without the security or financial responsibility usually required by banks.

Referred to in §536.14

2. The board may from time to time, commencing March 1, 1935, redetermine and refix by a regulation, in accordance with subsection 1 above, any maximum rate of interest or charges previously fixed by it, but such changed maximum rates shall not affect pre-existing loan contracts lawfully entered into between any licensee and any borrower; all regulations which the board may make respecting rates of interest or charges shall fix and contain the effective date thereof, which shall not be earlier than thirty days after notice to each licensee by mailing such notice to each licensed place of business.

3. Before fixing any classification of small loans or any maximum rate of interest or charges, or changing any such classification or rate under authority of this section, the board shall give reasonable notice of its intention to consider doing so to all licensees and a reasonable opportunity to be heard thereon and to introduce evidence with respect thereto.

4. Beginning July 4, 1965, and until such time as a different rate is fixed by the board, the maximum rate of interest or charges upon such class or classes of small loans shall be three percent per month on any part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan not exceeding one hundred fifty dollars and one percent per month on any part of the loan in excess of one hundred fifty dollars, but not exceeding three hundred dollars, and one and one-half percent per month on any part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan in excess of three hundred dollars, but not exceeding seven hundred dollars, and one percent per month on any part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan in excess of seven hundred dollars.

5. Every licensee hereunder may lend any sum of money not exceeding one thousand dollars in amount and may charge, contract for, and receive thereon interest or charges at a rate not exceeding the maximum rate of interest or charges determined and fixed by the board under authority of this section or by the provisions of the preceding subsection 4.

Referred to in §536.14

6. The following provisions shall apply to any or all loans in the amount of or of the value of one thousand dollars or less made by any licensee hereunder:

Interest shall not be paid, deducted or received in advance; shall not be compounded; shall be computed only on unpaid principal balances for the number of days actually elapsed and for the purpose of such computations a month shall be any period of thirty consecutive days, but interest may be precomputed as provided in subsection 7 of this section. If part or all of the consideration for a loan contract is the unpaid principal balance of a prior loan with the same licensee, then the principal amount payable under such loan contract may include the amount due on a precomputed contract after giving the rebate required by subsection 7 of this section. No licensee shall induce or permit any borrower or borrowers to split up or divide any loan or loans for the purpose of evading any provision of this chapter nor shall any licensee knowingly permit any borrower, nor any husband and wife individually or together, to be indebted to him under more than one contract of loan at the same time. In addition to the rates of interest or charges herein provided for no further or other charge for examination, service, brokerage, commission, expense, fee, or bonus or other thing shall be directly or indirectly charged, contracted for, or received, except the lawful fees, if any, actually and necessarily paid out by the licensee to any public officer, for filing or recording or releasing in any public office any instrument securing the loan, which fees may be collected when the loan is made, or at any time thereafter. If any interest or charges in excess of these permitted by this chapter are charged, contracted for, or received, the contract of loan shall be void and the licensee shall have no right to collect or receive any principal, interest, or charges whatsoever.

7. Where the contract of loan requires repayment in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and interest combined, the licensee may, at the time the loan is made, precompute the interest at the agreed monthly rate on scheduled unpaid principal balances according to the terms of the contract and add such interest to the principal of the loan and include it in the amount of the loan contract, but the principal excluding interest cannot exceed one thousand dollars. Every payment may be applied to the combined total of principal and precomputed interest until the contract is fully paid. All payments made on account of any loan except for default and deferment charges shall be deemed to be applied first to the unpaid installments in the order in which they are due. The portion of the precomputed interest applicable to any particular month of the contract, as originally scheduled or following a deferment, shall be that proportion of such precomputed interest, excluding any adjustment made for a first installment period of more than one month and any adjustment made for deferment, which the balance of the contract scheduled to be outstanding during such month bears to the sum of all monthly balances originally scheduled to be outstanding by the contract. For the purpose of computation of precomputed interest, a month shall be that period of time from any date in a month to the corresponding date in the next month, but if there is no such corresponding date then to the last day of the next month and a day shall be considered one-thirtieth of a month when computation is made for a fraction of a month. All loan contracts made pursuant to this subsection shall be subject to the following adjustments:

a. Notwithstanding the requirement for substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments, the first installment period may exceed one month by as much as fifteen days and the interest for each day exceeding one month shall be one-thirtieth of the interest which would be applicable to a first installment period of one month. The interest for extra days in the first installment period may be added to the first installment and such interest for such extra days shall be excluded in computing any rebate except as provided in paragraph "b" hereof;

b. If prepayment in full by cash, a new loan, or otherwise occurs before the first installment due date, the interest shall be recomputed at the agreed rate upon the actual unpaid principal balances of the loan for the actual time outstanding by applying the payment, or payments, first to interest at the agreed rate and the remainder to the principal. The amount of interest so computed shall be retained in lieu of all precomputed interest;

c. If the contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, or otherwise on or after the first installment due date, the borrower shall receive a rebate of an amount which shall not be less than that portion of the precomputed interest, excluding any adjustment for a first installment period of more than one month and any default and deferment charges, applicable to the installment periods scheduled to follow the installment date nearest the date of prepayment in full. For the purpose of computing the rebate, any prepayment in full made on or before the fifteenth day following an installment date shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date immediately preceding the date of prepayment in full and any prepayment in full made after such fifteenth day shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date immediately following the date of prepayment in full. Any default and deferment charges which are due and unpaid may be deducted from such rebate. No rebate shall be required for any partial installment prepayment. If judgment is obtained before the final installment date the contract balance shall be reduced by the rebate which would be required for prepayment in full as of the date judgment is obtained;

d. If any installment is unpaid in full for seven or more consecutive days, Sundays and holidays included, after it is due, the licensee may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding an amount equal to the portion of the precomputed interest applicable to the final installment period and a similar amount may be charged and collected for each succeeding full month from such due date that such installment remains wholly unpaid and outstanding. Such default charges may be collected when due or at any time thereafter;

e. If, as of an installment due date, the payment date of all wholly unpaid installments is deferred one or more full months and the maturity of the contract is extended for the corresponding period, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment charge not exceeding the interest applicable to the month preceding the first of the installments deferred, multiplied by the number of months in the deferment period. The deferment period is that period during which no payment is made or required by reason of such deferment. The deferment charge may be collected at the time of deferment or any time thereafter. The portion of the precomputed interest applicable to each deferred balance and installment period following the deferment period shall remain the same as that applicable to such balance and periods under the original contract of loan. No installment on which a default charge has been collected, or on account of which any partial payment has been made, shall be deferred or included in the computation of the deferment charge unless such default charge or partial payment is refunded to the borrower or credited to the deferment charge. Any payment received at the time of deferment may be applied first to the deferment charge and the remainder, if any, applied to the unpaid balance of the contract; provided, that if such payment is sufficient in any addition to the appropriate deferment charge, any installment which is in default and the applicable default charge, it shall be first so applied and any such installment shall not be deferred or subject to the deferment charge. If a loan is prepaid in full during the deferment period, the borrower shall receive, in addition to the required rebate, a rebate of that portion of the deferment charge applicable to any unexpired full month or months of such deferment period; and

f. If two or more full installments are in default for one full month or more at any installment date and if the contract so provides, the licensee may reduce the contract balance by the rebate which would be required for prepayment in full as of such installment date and the amount remaining unpaid shall be deemed to be the unpaid principal balance and thereafter in lieu of charging, collecting, receiving and applying interest and charges as provided in this subsection, interest may be charged, collected, received and applied at the agreed rate as otherwise provided by this section until the loan is fully paid.

g. In all cases the loan contract shall show the total interest to be paid in standard dollar amount, or in terms of simple annual interest, which shall be separately stated immediately after the stated figure of the principal in such loan contract.

Referred to in §536.14

8. The default and deferment charges and rebates referred to herein are computed on the interest rates authorized herein and such terms shall not be construed to authorize charges incident to the loan of money, beyond the rates of interest authorized herein and for the periods of time authorized in subsection 7 of this section. [C24, 27, 31, §9420-9423; C35, §9438-f13; C30, §9438.13; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §536.13]

536.14 Statement given borrower — payments. Every licensee shall:

1. Deliver to the borrower at the time any loan is made a statement (upon which there shall be printed a copy of subsections 1, 5, and 6 of section 536.13) in the English language showing in clear and distinct terms the lawful maximum rate or rates of interest or charges in effect, the amount and date of the loan and of its maturity, the nature of the security, if any, for the loan, the name and address of the borrower and of the licensee, and the agreed rate of charge. When the loan is made pursuant to subsection 7 of section 536.13, the statement shall also contain a notice that default and deferment charges may be made and that a rebate of unearned interest may be made if the loan is prepaid prior to maturity.

2. Give to the borrower a plain and complete receipt for all payments made on account of any such loan at the time such payments are made, specifying the amount applied to interest or charges and the amount applied to principal; provided, however, if the interest has been precomputed the receipt need not be itemized and no receipt shall be required where payment is made by check or money order and the full amount of such check or money order is applied to the loan.

3. Permit payment to be made in advance in any amount on any contract of loan at any time, but the licensee may apply such payment first to all interest or charges up to the date of such payment.

4. There shall be only one delinquency charge on any such installment. Such delinquency charge may be collected when due or at any time thereafter.

4. Charge or collect from the borrower or borrowers a deferment charge unless the payment due date on all unpaid installments, on which no delinquency charge has been collected, is deferred sixty days or more, in which event an industrial loan company may charge and collect a deferment charge not in excess of one percent of the balance of the loan at the time of deferment. There shall be only one deferment charge on any one loan.

5. Require any borrower to purchase insurance from the lender as a condition for obtaining a loan. However, an industrial loan company may collect from the borrower, at the option of the borrower, and transmit the premiums charged for insuring real or personal property used by the borrower as security for a loan and provided that such insurance is obtained from a licensed insurance agent for an insurance company authorized to do business in Iowa; and the premiums charged for insuring the life of one party on the loan in an amount not to exceed the total amount of the note or contract, including cash advance, interest and service charge, provided that no licensee shall require that the contract of life insurance be outstanding for more than the unpaid balance of the indebtedness and provided that such insurance is obtained from a licensed insurance agent for an insurance company authorized to do business in Iowa; and an industrial loan company may receive and transmit the premiums charged for accident and health insurance on the borrower, provided such insurance bears a reasonable relationship to the existing hazards or risk of loss, and the aggregate benefits of which shall not exceed the approximate amount of the contractual payments on the loan outstanding at the time of loss, and pro-provided that such insurance is obtained from a licensed agent for an insurance company authorized to do business in Iowa. However, all life insurance rates in connection with industrial loans shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the insurance commissioner of the state of Iowa.

6. Collect from the borrower fees in excess of those actually paid to a public official for recording or filing a mortgage or for satisfying a judgment or lien on any real or personal property securing a loan, however, a licensee may collect the actual cost for the appraisal of real or personal property offered by the borrower as security for a loan, and may collect from the borrower a reasonable attorney's fee paid for an opinion as to the title to real property securing a loan. Industrial loan companies licensed under the provisions of this chapter may purchase notes, contracts, mortgages, accounts, receivables, leases and securities of a type and kind authorized by the auditor.

7. Loan money to any person without setting out in the contract of loan, or by separate statement delivered at the time said loan is made, an itemized list that shall set out separately all interest, discount, fees, compensation or charges made, pertaining to such loan. Such interest or discount shall be expressed in terms of simple annual interest in percentage form or in total dollars computed on the basis that payments on such instrument will be made at the scheduled times; and for a year in case such loan does not have a specified time or times of payment. [C66, 71, §536A.23]

536A.21 Prohibited multiple loans. No industrial loan and investment company shall induce or permit any person, nor any husband and wife, jointly or severally, to become obligated, directly or contingently or both, under more than one contract of loan at the same time for the purpose of obtaining a higher rate of charge than would be permitted if all of the obligations of such person to such company were consolidated into one obligation. [C66, 71, §536A.24]

536A.25 Restrictions. No industrial loan company licensed under this chapter shall make any loan of money or property to, or guarantee the obligations of, any of its directors or officers; or loan to any borrower, other than a subsidiary or affiliated corporation, more than twenty percent of its total capital, surplus and undivided profits. No licensee shall make any loan under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in the license. [C66, 71, §536A.25]

536A.26 Prepayment. Notwithstanding the provisions of any note or contract to the contrary, a borrower may, at any time, prepay all or any part of the unpaid balance to become payable under any note or installment contract. If the borrower pays the time balance in full, before maturity, or accelerates the monthly or other periodic installments, the licensee shall refund to him a portion of the interest. The borrower shall receive for such anticipation of payments a refund in an amount which shall represent at least as great a proportion of the interest as the sum of the periodic time balances after the month in which prepayment is made to the extent of the accelerated installments, bears to the sum of all the periodic time balances under the schedule of payments in the original note or installment investment certificate; provided, however, that no refund need be paid on the service charge; and provided that if the amount of the refund is less than one dollar no refund need be made, and that no refund for accelerated payments need be made on any installment payment made less than thirty-one days prior to the due date of said installment. [C66, 71, §536A.26]

[C66, 71, §536A.27]

537.3 Failure of consideration. The want or failure, in whole or in part, of the consideration of a written contract may be shown as a defense, total or partial, except as provided in the Uniform Commercial Code, chapter 554. [C51,§976; R60,§1825; C73,§2114; C97,§3070; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9441; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §537.3]

CHAPTER 538

TENDER OF PAYMENT AND PERFORMANCE

538.1 Demand required. No cause of action shall accrue upon a contract for labor or the payment or delivery of property other than money, where the time of performance is not fixed, until a demand of performance has been made upon the maker and refused, or a reasonable time for performance thereafter allowed. [C51,§959; R60,§1806; C73,§2097; C97,§3056; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9443; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §538.1]

538.2 Tender of labor or property. When a contract for labor, or for the payment or delivery of property other than money, does not fix a place of payment, the maker may tender the labor or property at the place where the payee resided at the time of making the contract, or at the residence of the payee at the time of performance of the contract, or where any assignee of the contract resides when it becomes due, but if the property in such case is too ponderous to be conveniently transported, or if the payee had no known place of residence within the state at the time of making the contract, or if the assignee of a written contract has no known place of residence within the state at the time of performance, the maker may tender the property at the place where he resided at the time of making the contract. [C51,§960, 961; R60,§1807, 1808; C73,§§2098, 2099; C97,§3057; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9444; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§538.2]

538.3 Tender when contract assigned. When the contract is contained in a written instrument which is assigned before due, and the maker has notice thereof, he shall make the tender at the residence of the holder if he resides in the state and no farther from the maker than the payee did at the making thereof. [C51,§962; R60,§1809; C73,§2100; C97,§3058; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9445; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§538.3]

538.4 Effect of tender. A tender of the property, as above provided, discharges the maker from the contract, and the property becomes vested in the payee or his assignee, and he may maintain an action therefor as in other cases. But if the property tendered be perishable, or requires feeding, or other care, and no person is found to receive it when tendered, the person making the tender shall preserve, feed, or otherwise take care of the same, and shall have a lien thereon for his reasonable expenses and trouble in so doing. [C51,§963, 964; R60,§1810, 1811; C73,§§2101, 2102; C97,§3059; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9446; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§538.4]

538.5 Tender when holder absent from state. When an instrument for the payment of money is due and the holder is absent from the state or his identity or whereabouts are unknown and the instrument does not provide for a place of payment, the maker may tender payment at the last known residence or place of business of the last known holder, and if there be no person there authorized to receive payment and give proper credit therefor, the maker shall be deemed to have tendered payment and interest shall cease on the date of deposit if:
§538.5, TENDER OF PAYMENT AND PERFORMANCE 2694

1. The maker deposits the amount due with the clerk of the district court in the county where the maker resided at the time of the making of the instrument, if he was then a resident of the state of Iowa, or if the maker was a nonresident of the state of Iowa at the time of making, with the clerk of the district court of Polk county, and

2. a. The maker files an affidavit with the clerk of the court that the identity or address of the holder is unknown and that he has made diligent inquiry to ascertain it, or

b. The maker within three days gives notice of such deposit by ordinary mail to the holder, if his identity and address are known.

Upon presentment of the instrument by the holder to the clerk, the clerk shall pay the holder of such instrument the funds in his hands. If such deposit is in full payment of the instrument the clerk shall deliver the instrument to the maker. If such deposit is a partial payment thereof the clerk shall endorse such payment thereon and return the instrument to the holder. [C51,§58; R60,§1805; C73,§2103; C97,§3060; C46, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9447; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§538.5]

Referred to in §554 3604

538.6 Offer in writing—effect. An offer in writing to pay a particular sum of money, or to deliver a written instrument or specific personal property, if not accepted, is equivalent to the actual tender of the money, instrument, or property, subject, however, to the condition contained in section 538.7; but if the party to whom the tender is made desires an inspection of the instrument or property tendered, other than money, before making his determination, it shall be allowed him on request. [C51,§967; R60,§1816; C73,§2105; C97,§3061; C46, 37, 31, 35, 39,§9448; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§538.6]

388.7 Nonacceptance of tender. When a tender of money or property is not accepted by the party to whom it is made, the party making it may, if he sees fit, retain it in his possession; but if afterwards the party to whom the tender was made concludes to accept it and gives notice thereof to the other party, and the subject of the tender is not delivered to him within a reasonable time, the tender shall be of no effect. [C51,§966; R60,§1815; C73,§2104; C97,§3062; C46, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9449; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§538.7]

538.8 Receipt—objection. The person making a tender may demand a receipt in writing for the money or article tendered, as a condition precedent to the delivery thereof. The person to whom a tender is made must, at the time, make any objection which he may have to the money, instrument, or property tendered, or he will be deemed to have waived it. If upon any such inspection a deficiency is found to exist as to the quantity or quality of agricultural products stored, the commission shall have the authority to, and may require an inspector to remain at the licensed warehouse and supervise all operations conducted thereat involving agricultural products stored under the provisions of this chapter until such deficiency is corrected. The commission shall inspect or cause to be inspected every licensed warehouse and the contents thereof not less than once every six months and the commission shall have authority to make available to the United States government, or any of its agencies, including the Commodity Credit Corporation, the results of inspections made and inspection reports submitted to it by employees of the commission, upon payment to it of such charges as may be determined by the commission, but in no event shall such charges be less than the actual cost of such services rendered in regard thereto, as determined by the commission. The commission shall have authority to enter into contracts and agreements for such purpose and shall keep a record of all money thus received. All such money shall be paid over to the treasurer of state as miscellaneous receipts. The commission may classify any warehouse in accordance with its suitability for the storage of agricultural products and shall specify in any license issued for the operation of any warehouse, the type or types and the quantity of agricultural products which may be exclusively stored in such warehouse. The commission may prescribe, within the limitations of this chapter, the duties of licensed warehousemen with respect to the care of and responsibility for the contents of licensed warehouses. A single license may be issued for the operation of two or more warehouses located in the same city or town and operated by the same warehouseman. A license to operate two or more warehouses located in different cities or towns within a twenty-five mile radius of a central office may be issued under a single application, but a separate fee shall be charged for each station. §543.13 Suspension or revocation of license for insufficiency of bond or insurance. Whenever the commission shall determine that a bond filed under the provisions of section 543.12 and approved by the commission, is, or has become, insufficient to secure the faithful performance of the obligations of the licensed warehouseman, or that, whenever the commission shall determine that insurance is not fully provided as required under section 543.15, it may require the licensed warehouseman to provide additional bond or bonds or additional evidence of insurance coverage so that the bond and insurance shall conform with the requirements of sections 543.12, 543.13, and 543.15. If such additional insurance is not provided within five days after notice by certified mail the license of the warehouseman concerned shall be automatically suspended. If such additional insurance is not filed within another twenty-five days the warehouse license shall be automatically revoked. If additional bond is not provided within thirty days after receiving notice by certified mail the warehouse license shall be suspended. If such additional bond is not filed within sixty days the warehouse license shall be automatically revoked. When a license is so revoked, the commission shall notify each holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt of such revocation. The commission shall further notify each receipt holder that his grain must be removed from the warehouse not later than the ninetieth day following the initial revocation, by the surety on any bond required by section 543.12. Notice of such revocation to each holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt shall be sent by ordinary mail to the last known address of each receipt holder.

§543.12 Bond required. Any person applying for a license or licenses to conduct a warehouse or warehouses in accordance with this chapter shall, as a condition to the granting thereof, execute and file with the commission a good and sufficient bond, other than personal security, to secure the faithful performance of his obligations as a warehouseman under the terms of this chapter and the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder, and of such additional obligations as a warehouseman which may be assumed by him under contracts with depositors of agricultural products in such warehouse. Any person applying for an amended license under the provisions of section 543.8 shall, as a condition to the granting of the amendment to his license, file such additional or substituted bond or such amendment to a bond already on file as will result in a bonded liability in total effect equivalent to the bonded liability which would be required if such person were applying for an original license for the storage of agricultural products of types and in amounts specified in the application for an amended license. [C24, 27, 31, §9723; C35,§9751-g5; C39,§9751-65; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§543.12]

Each bond required under section 543.12 shall be in such form and shall contain such reasonable terms and conditions for the protection of the public as the commission shall prescribe, and shall be endorsed as surety by a bonding company authorized to do business in this state. No bond shall be canceled by the surety on less than ninety days’ notice by certified mail to the commission and the principal. In no event, shall the liability of the surety on any bond required by section 543.12 accumulate for each successive license period during which the bond is in force. The liability of the surety shall be limited in the aggregate to the face amount of the bond.

1. If the agricultural product intended to be stored by the warehouseman, as specified in his application for a license or an amended license, is bulk grain, the minimum amount of such bond shall be as follows:
   a. For intended storage of bulk grain in any quantity less than twenty thousand bushels, the minimum amount of the bond shall be six thousand dollars plus one thousand dollars for each two thousand bushels or fraction thereof in excess of twelve thousand bushels up to a total of twenty thousand bushels.
   b. For intended storage of bulk grain in any quantity not less than twenty thousand bushels and not more than fifty thousand bushels, the minimum amount of the bond shall be ten thousand dollars plus one thousand dollars for each three thousand bushels or fraction thereof in excess of twenty thousand bushels up to a total of fifty thousand bushels.
   c. For intended storage of bulk grain in any quantity not less than fifty thousand bushels and not more than seventy thousand bushels, the minimum amount of the bond shall be twenty thousand dollars plus one thousand dollars for each five thousand bushels or fraction thereof in excess of seventy thousand bushels.
   d. For intended storage of bulk grain in any quantity not less than seventy thousand bushels, the minimum amount of the bond shall be twenty-five thousand dollars plus one thousand dollars for each five thousand bushels or fraction thereof in excess of seventy thousand bushels.

2. If the agricultural product or products intended to be stored by the warehouseman, as specified in his application for a license or amended license, are other than bulk grain, the quantity of such product intended to be stored shall be valued at the fair market price on the date of filing the application, and the minimum amount of bond shall be determined with reference to such value as follows:
   a. For intended storage of such products of a value less than twenty thousand dollars the minimum amount of the bond shall be three thousand dollars, plus one thousand dollars for each two thousand dollars, or fraction thereof, of value in excess of six thousand dollars up to twenty thousand dollars.
   b.    c. For intended storage of such products of a value not less than fifty thousand dollars the minimum amount of the bond shall be twenty thousand dollars plus one thousand dollars for each five thousand dollars, or fraction thereof, of value in excess of fifty thousand dollars.

3. If the agricultural products intended to be stored by the warehouseman, as specified in his application for a license or an amended license, include both bulk grain and other agricultural products the minimum amount of the bond shall be the total of the minimum amount which would have been required for the exclusive storage of the bulk grain plus the minimum amount which would have been required for the exclusive storage of the agricultural products other than bulk grain.

4.3.14 Action on bond. Any person injured by the breach of any obligation of a warehouseman, for the performance of which a bond has been given under any of the provisions of this chapter, may sue on such bond in his own name in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover any damages he may have sustained by reason of such breach.

4.3.15 Insurance required. All agricultural products in storage in a licensed warehouse, or a warehouse operated under temporary permit as provided in this chapter, and all agricultural products which have been deposited temporarily in a licensed warehouse pending storage or for purposes other than storage, shall be kept fully insured by the warehouseman for the current value of such agricultural products against loss by fire, inherent explosion, or windstorm. Such insurance shall be carried in an insurance company or companies authorized to do business in this state, and evidence of such insurance coverage in form to be approved by the commission shall be filed with the commission. No insurance policy shall be canceled by the insurance company on less than fifteen days' notice by certified mail to the commission and the principal unless such policy is being replaced with another policy and evidence of the new policy is filed with the commission at the time of cancellation of the policy on file. Such insurance shall be provided by, and carried in the name of, the warehouseman. Claimants against such insurance shall have precedence in the following order:

1. Holders of warehouse receipts other than the warehouseman and owners of bulk grain other than the warehouseman.
2. Owners of all other agricultural products as their interests appear.
3. Warehousemen who have warehouse receipts.

4. Warehousemen owners of bulk grain. [C24, 27, 31 §9725; C35, §9751-g7; C39, §9751.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §543.15]

§543.16 License required for the storage of bulk grain. It shall be unlawful for any person other than a licensed warehouseman to place in storage or to accept for storage any bulk grain, and it shall be unlawful for any person to place bulk grain in storage in a warehouse other than a licensed warehouse. This section shall not apply to the acceptance and storage of bulk grain by a person bonded and licensed under the provisions of a federal law, if and to the extent that such person is authorized under federal law to accept and store bulk grain, but such person shall comply with all other provisions of this chapter which do not conflict with such federal law. This section shall not apply to the storage of bulk grain owned by the person storing the same. [C21, 27, 31 §§9722, 9724; C35, §9751-g2; C39, §9751.02; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §543.16]

1. Any grain which has been received at any licensed warehouse for which the actual sale price is not fixed and proper documentation made or payment made shall be construed to be grain held for storage within the meaning of this chapter. Grain may be held in open storage or placed on warehouse receipt. Actual payment shall be made on all priced grain, or warehouse receipts shall be issued for all grain held in open storage, within six months of delivery to the warehouse, unless the depositor has signed a statement that he does not desire a warehouse receipt. Such grain shall then be considered as open storage. Any deposit of grain for which the price has not been fixed and properly documented within thirty days from delivery to the warehouse shall be deemed as storage. The warehouseman’s tariff shall apply for any grain that is retained in open storage or under warehouse receipt.

Bulk grain deposited with a licensed warehouseman for processing, cleaning, drying, shipping for the account of the depositor or any other purpose shall be removed within thirty days or such grain shall be determined as stored grain and the warehouseman’s tariff charges shall apply.

Grain received on a scale ticket which fails to have the price fixed and properly documented on the records of the warehouseman shall be construed to be in open storage and shall be covered by the warehouseman’s bond within the provisions of this chapter.

All grain whether open storage or having been placed on warehouse receipt shall be covered by the warehouseman’s bond as required under the provisions of this chapter.

2. Notwithstanding any provisions of this section, a written agreement may be made within thirty days of first delivery of any bulk grain to a licensed warehouseman that payment will be deferred to a future date. Such agreement shall contain a statement informing the seller that the warehouseman shall not be required to carry insurance or bond on such grain for the benefit of the seller and that the payment for such grain becomes a common claim against the warehouseman.

The agreement in addition to such other information as may be required shall contain the following:

a. The seller’s or depositor’s name and address.

b. The conditions of delivery.

c. The amount and kind of grain delivered.

d. The price per bushel or basis of value.

e. The date payment is to be made.

Such agreement must be numbered and signed by both parties and executed in triplicate. One copy shall be retained by the warehouseman, one copy shall be delivered to the seller and one copy shall be forwarded to the commission within five days from execution of such agreement.

Grain received under a deferred payment contract under the provisions of this section shall not be deemed as stored grain.

Any grain which has been received at any unlicensed warehouse and for which the actual sale price has not been fixed and payment made within ten days from receipt of the grain, shall be construed to be grain held for storage within the meaning of this chapter. Bulk grain received at any unlicensed warehouse for any other purpose must either be returned to the depositor or disposed of by order of the depositor within ten days from date of actual deposit of the bulk grain.

If the depositor of bulk grain in an unlicensed warehouse fails to sell the grain or orders other disposition of the grain, the warehouseman may purchase the grain on the tenth day after deposit at not less than the local market price at the close of business on the tenth day or return the grain to the depositor by the tenth day. §543.18 Issuance of warehouse receipts. Such warehouse receipts shall be in the form required or permitted by Uniform Commercial Code, sections 554.7202 and 554.7204, provided, however, that each receipt issued for agricultural products, in addition to the matters specified in Uniform Commercial Code, section 554.7202 shall embody in its written or printed terms:

1. The delivery charge which will be made by the warehouseman.

2. The grade or other class of the agricultural products received and the standard or description in accordance with which such classification has been made; provided that such grade or other class shall be stated according to the official standard of the United States applicable to such agricultural products as the same may be fixed and promulgated; provided, further, that until such official standards of the United States for any agricultural product or products have been fixed and promulgated, the grade or other class thereof may be stated in accordance with any recognized standard or in accordance with such rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith as may be prescribed by the secretary of agriculture of the United States.

3. The law of agency shall apply under this chapter.

544.5 Rules for cases not provided for in this chapter. In any case not provided for in this chapter the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant, shall govern. [64GA, ch 251,§5]

544.6 Partnership defined.
1. A partnership is an association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for profit.

2. But any association formed under any other statute of this state, or any statute adopted by authority, other than the authority of this state, is not a partnership under this chapter, unless the association would have been a partnership in this state prior to the adoption of this chapter; but this chapter shall apply to limited partnerships except insofar as the statutes relating to such partnerships are inconsistent herewith. [64GA, ch 251,§6]

544.7 Rules for determining the existence of a partnership. In determining whether a partnership exists, these rules shall apply:
1. Except as provided by section 544.16, persons who are not partners as to each other are not partners as to third persons.

2. Joint tenancy, tenancy in common, tenancy by the entirety, joint property, common property, or part ownership does not of itself establish a partnership, whether such co-owners do or do not share any profits made by the use of the property.

3. The sharing of gross returns does not of itself establish a partnership, whether or not the persons sharing them have a joint or common right or interest in any property from which the returns are derived.

4. The receipt by a person of a share of the profits of a business is prima-facie evidence that he is a partner in the business, but no such inference shall be drawn if such profits were received in payment:
   a. As a debt by installments or otherwise,
   b. As wages of an employee or rent to a landlord,
   c. As an annuity to a widow or representative of a deceased partner,
   d. As interest on a loan, though the amount of payment vary with the profits of the business,
   e. As the consideration for the sale of a good will of a business or other property by installments or otherwise. [64GA, ch 251,§7]

544.8 Partnership property.
1. All property originally brought into the partnership stock or subsequently acquired by purchase or otherwise, on account of the partnership, is partnership property.

2. Unless the contrary intention appears, property acquired with partnership funds is partnership property.

3. Any estate in real property may be acquired in the partnership name. Title so acquired can be conveyed only in the partnership name.

4. A conveyance to a partnership in the partnership name, though without words of inheritance, passes the entire estate of the grantor unless a contrary intent appears. [64GA, ch 251,§8]

544.9 Partner agent of partnership as to partnership business.
1. Every partner is an agent of the partnership for the purpose of its business, and the act of every partner, including the execution in the partnership name of any instrument, for apparently carrying on in the usual way the business of the partnership of which he is a member binds the partnership, unless the partner so acting has in fact no authority to act for the partnership in the particular matter, and the person with whom he is dealing has knowledge of the fact that he has no such authority.

2. An act of a partner which is not apparently for the carrying on of the business of the partnership in the usual way does not bind the partnership unless authorized by the other partners.

3. Unless authorized by the other partners or unless they have abandoned the business, one or more but less than all the partners have no authority to:
   a. Assign the partnership property in trust for creditors or on the assignee's promise to pay the debts of the partnership,
   b. Dispose of the good will of the business,
   c. Do any other act which would make it impossible to carry on the ordinary business of a partnership,
   d. Confess a judgment,
   e. Submit a partnership claim or liability to arbitration or reference.

4. No act of a partner in contravention of a restriction on authority shall bind the partnership to persons having knowledge of the restriction. [64GA, ch 251,§9]

544.10 Conveyance of real property of the partnership.
1. Where title to real property is in the partnership name, any partner may convey to the property by a conveyance executed in the partnership name, but the partnership may recover such property unless the partner's act binds the partnership under the provisions of section 544.9, subsection 1, or unless the property has been conveyed by the grantee or a person claiming through the grantee to a holder for value without knowledge that the partner, in making the conveyance, has exceeded his authority.

2. Where title to real property is in the name of the partnership, a conveyance executed by a partner, in his own name, passes the equitable interest of the partnership, provided the act is within the authority of the partner under the provisions of section 544.9, subsection 1.

3. Where title to real property is in the name of one or more but not all the partners, and the record does not disclose the right of the partnership, the partners in whose name the title stands may convey title to the property, but the partnership may recover the property if the partners’ act does not bind the partnership under the provisions of section 544.9, subsection 1, unless the purchaser or his assignee, is a holder for value, without knowledge.

4. Where the title to real property is in the name of one or more or all the partners, or in a third person in trust for the partnership, a conveyance executed by a partner in the partnership name, or in his own name, passes the equitable interest of the partnership, provided the act is one within the authority of the partner under the provisions of section 544.9, subsection 1.

5. Where the title to real property is in the names of all the partners a conveyance executed by all the partners passes all their rights in the property. [64GA, ch 251, §10]

544.11 Partnership bound by admission of partner. An admission or representation made by any partner concerning partnership affairs within the scope of his authority as conferred by this chapter is evidence against the partnership. [64GA, ch 251, §11]

544.12 Partnership charged with knowledge of or notice to partner. Notice to any partner of any matter relating to partnership affairs, and the knowledge of the partner acting in the particular matter, acquired while a partner or then present to his mind, and the knowledge of any other partner who reasonably could and should have communicated it to the acting partner, operates as notice to or knowledge of the partnership, except in the case of a fraud on the partnership committed by or with the consent of that partner. [64GA, ch 251, §12]

544.13 Partnership bound by partner's wrongful act. Where, by any wrongful act or omission of any partner acting in the ordinary course of the business of the partnership or with the authority of his copartners, loss or injury is caused to any person, not being a partner in the partnership, or any penalty is incurred, the partnership is liable therefor to the same extent as the partner so acting or omitting to act. [64GA, ch 251, §13]

544.14 Partnership bound by partner's breach of trust. The partnership is bound to make good the loss:

1. Where one partner acting within the scope of his apparent authority receives money or property of a third person and misapplies it.

2. Where the partnership in the course of its business receives money or property of a third person and the money or property so received is misapplied by any partner while it is in the custody of the partnership. [64GA, ch 251, §14]

544.15 Nature of partner's liability. All partners are liable:

2. Jointly for all other debts and obligations of the partnership but any partner may enter into a separate obligation to perform a partnership contract. [64GA, ch 251, §15]

544.16 Partner by estoppel.

1. When a person, by words spoken or written or by conduct, represents himself, or consents to another representing him to anyone, as a partner in an existing partnership or with one or more persons not actual partners, he is liable to any person to whom the representation has been made, who has, on the faith of the representation, given credit to the actual or apparent partnership, and if he has made a representation or consented to its being made in a public manner he is liable to the person, whether the representation has or has not been made or communicated to the person so giving credit by or with the knowledge of the apparent partner making the representation or consenting to its being made.

a. When a partnership liability results, he is liable as though he were an actual member of the partnership.

b. When no partnership liability results, he is liable jointly with the other persons, if any, so consenting to the contract or representation as to incur liability, otherwise separately.

2. When a person has been thus represented to be a partner in an existing partnership, or with one or more persons not actual partners, he is an agent of the persons consenting to the representation to bind them to the same extent and in the same manner as though he were a partner in fact, with respect to persons who rely upon the representation. Where all the members of the existing partnership consent to the representation, a partnership act or obligation results; but in all other cases it is the joint act or obligation of the person acting and the persons consenting to the representation. [64GA, ch 251, §16]

544.17 Liability of incoming partner. A person admitted as a partner into an existing partnership is liable for all the obligations of the partnership arising before his admission as though he had been a partner when such obligations were incurred, except that this liability shall be satisfied only out of partnership property. [64GA, ch 251, §17]

544.18 Rules determining rights and duties of partners. The rights and duties of the partners in relation to the partnership shall be determined, subject to any agreement between them, by the following rules:

1. Each partner shall be repaid his contributions, whether by way of capital or advances to the partnership property and share equally in the profits and surplus remaining after all liabilities, including those to partners, are satisfied; and must contribute towards the losses, whether of capital or otherwise, sustained by the partnership according to his share in the profits.

2. The partnership must indemnify every partner in respect of payments made and personal liabilities reasonably incurred by him in the ordinary and proper conduct of its business, or for the preservation of its business or property.

3. A partner, who in aid of the partnership makes any payment or advance beyond the amount of capital which he agreed to contribute, shall be paid interest from the date of the payment or advance.

4. A partner shall receive interest on the capital contributed by him only from the date when repayment should be made.

5. All partners have equal rights in the management and conduct of the partnership business.

6. No partner is entitled to remuneration for acting in the partnership business, except that a surviving partner is entitled to reasonable compensation for his services in winding up the partnership affairs.

7. No person can become a member of a partnership without the consent of all the partners.

8. Any difference arising as to ordinary matters connected with the partnership business may be decided by a majority of the partners; but no act in contravention of any agreement between the partners may be done rightfully without the consent of all the partners. [64GA, ch 251, §18]

Referred to in §544.40

544.19 Partnership books. The partnership books shall be kept, subject to any agreement between the partners, at the principal place of business of the partnership, and every partner shall at all times have access to and may inspect and copy any of them. [64GA, ch 251, §19]

544.20 Duty of partners to render information. Partners shall render on demand true and full information of all things affecting the partnership to any partner or the legal representative of any deceased partner or partner under legal disability. [64GA, ch 251, §20]

544.21 Partner accountable as a fiduciary. 1. Every partner must account to the partnership for any benefit, and hold as trustee for it any profits derived by him without the consent of the other partners from any transaction connected with the formation, conduct, liquidation of the partnership or use of its property.

2. This section also applies to the representatives of a deceased partner engaged in the liquidation of the affairs of the partnership as the personal representatives of the last surviving partner. [64GA, ch 251, §21]

Referred to in §544.22

544.22 Right to an account. Any partner shall have the right to a formal account as to partnership affairs:

1. If he is wrongfully excluded from the partnership business or possession of its property by his copartners.

2. If the right exists under the terms of any agreement.

3. As provided by section 544.21.

4. Whenever other circumstances render it just and reasonable. [64GA, ch 251, §22]

544.23 Continuation of partnership beyond fixed term.

1. When a partnership for a fixed term or particular undertaking is continued after the termination of such term or particular undertaking, without any express agreement, the rights and duties of the partners remain the same as they were at such termination, so far as is consistent with a partnership at will.

2. A continuation of the business by the partners or such of them as habitually acted therein during the term, without any settlement or liquidation of the partnership affairs, is prima-facie evidence of a continuation of the partnership. [64GA, ch 251, §23]

544.24 Extent of property rights of a partner. The property rights of a partner are:

1. His rights in specific partnership property.

2. His interest in the partnership.

3. His right to participate in the management. [64GA, ch 251, §24]

544.25 Nature of a partner's right in specific partnership property.

1. A partner is co-owner with his partners of specific partnership property holding as a tenant in partnership.

2. The incidents of this tenancy are such that:

a. A partner, subject to the provisions of this chapter and to any agreement between the partners, has an equal right with his partners to possess specific partnership property for partnership purposes; but he has no right to possess the property for any other purpose without the consent of his partners.

b. A partner's right in specific partnership property is not assignable except in connection with the assignment of rights of all the partners in the same property.

c. A partner's right in specific partnership property is not subject to attachment or execution, except on a claim against the partnership. When partnership property is attached for a partnership debt the partners, or any of them, or the representatives of a deceased partner, cannot claim any right under the homestead or exemption laws.

d. On the death of a partner his right in specific partnership property vests in the surviving partner or partners, except where the deceased was the last surviving partner, when his rights in the property vest in his legal representative. Such surviving partner or partners, or the legal representative of the last surviving partner, has no right to possess the partnership property for any but a partnership purpose.

e. A partner's right in specific partnership property is not subject to dower, courtesy, or allowances to widows, heirs, or next of kin. [64GA, ch 251,§25]

544.26 Nature of partner's interest in the partnership. A partner's interest in the partnership is his share of the profits and surplus, and the same is personal property. [64GA, ch 251,§26]

544.27 Assignment of a partner's interest. 1. A conveyance by a partner of his interest in the partnership does not of itself dissolve the partnership, nor as against the other partners in the absence of agreement, entitle the assignee, during the continuance of the partnership, to interfere in the management or administration of the partnership business or affairs, or to require any information or account of partnership transactions, or to inspect the partnership books; but it merely entitles the assignee to receive in accordance with his contract the profits to which the assigning partner would otherwise be entitled.

2. In case of a dissolution of the partnership, the assignee is entitled to receive his assignor's interest and may require an account from the date only of the last account agreed to by all the partners. [64GA, ch 251,§27]

Referred to in §544.32

544.28 Partner's interest subject to charging order. 1. On due application to a competent court by any judgment creditor of a partner, the court which entered the judgment, order, or decree, or any other court, may charge the interest of the debtor partner with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment debt with interest thereon; and may then or later appoint a receiver of his share of the profits, and of any other money due or to fall due to him in respect of the partnership, and make all other orders, directions, accounts and inquiries which the debtor partner might have made, or which the circumstances of the case may require.

2. The interest charged may be redeemed at any time before foreclosure, or in case of a sale being directed by the court may be purchased without thereby causing a dissolution:
   a. With separate property, by any one or more of the partners, or
   b. With partnership property, by any one or more of the partners with the consent of all the partners whose interests are not so charged or sold.

3. Nothing in this chapter shall be held to deprive a partner of his right, if any, under the exemption laws, as regards his interest in the partnership. [64GA, ch 251,§28]

Referred to in §544.32

544.29 Dissolution defined. The dissolution of a partnership is the change in the relation of the partners caused by any partner ceasing to be associated in the carrying on as distinguished from the winding up of the business. [64GA, ch 251,§29]

544.30 Partnership not terminated by dissolution. On dissolution the partnership is not terminated, but continues until the winding up of partnership affairs is completed. [64GA, ch 251,§30]

544.31 Causes of dissolution. Dissolution is caused:

1. Without violation of the agreement between the partners:
   a. By the termination of the definite term or particular undertaking specified in the agreement,
   b. By the express will of any partner when no definite term or particular undertaking is specified,
   c. By the express will of all the partners who have not assigned their interests or suffered them to be charged for their separate debts, either before or after the termination of any specified term or particular undertaking,
   d. By the expulsion of any partner from the business bona fide in accordance with such a power conferred by the agreement between the partners;

2. In contravention of the agreement between the partners, where the circumstances do not permit a dissolution under any other provision of this section, by the express will of any partner at any time;

3. By any event which makes it unlawful for the business of the partnership to be carried on or for the members to carry it on in partnership;

4. By the death of any partner, unless the partnership agreement provides otherwise;

5. By the bankruptcy of any partner or the partnership;

6. By decree of court under section 544.32. [64GA, ch 251,§31]

544.32 Dissolution by decree of court. The court shall decree a dissolution:

1. On application by or for a partner whenever:
   a. A partner has been declared a mentally ill person in any judicial proceeding, or is shown to be of unsound mind,
   b. A partner becomes in any other way incapable of performing his part of the partnership contract,
c. A partner has been guilty of conduct as tends to affect prejudicially the carrying on of the business,

d. A partner willfully or persistently commits a breach of the partnership or agreement, or otherwise so conducts himself in matters relating to the partnership business that it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in partnership with him,

e. The business of the partnership can only be carried on at a loss,

f. Other circumstances render a dissolution equitable.

2. On application of the purchaser of a partner's interest under section 544.27 or 544.28:

a. After the termination of the specified term or particular undertaking,

b. At any time if the partnership was a partnership at will when the interest was assigned or when the charging order was issued. [64GA, ch 251,§32]

Referred to in §544.31

544.33 General effect of dissolution on authority of partner. Except so far as may be necessary to wind up partnership affairs or to complete transactions begun but not then finished, dissolution terminates all authority of any partner to act for the partnership:

1. With respect to the partners,

a. When the dissolution is not by the act, bankruptcy or death of a partner, or

b. When the dissolution is by such act, bankruptcy or death of a partner, in cases where section 544.34 so requires.

2. With respect to persons not partners, as declared in section 544.35. [64GA, ch 251,§33]

544.34 Right of partner to contribution from copartners after dissolution. Where the dissolution is caused by the act, death or bankruptcy of a partner, each partner is liable to his copartners for his share of any liability created by any partner acting for the partnership as if the partnership had not been dissolved unless:

1. The dissolution being by act of any partner, the partner acting for the partnership had knowledge of the dissolution, or

2. The dissolution being by the death or bankruptcy of a partner, the partner acting for the partnership had knowledge or notice of the death or bankruptcy. [64GA, ch 251,§34]

Referred to in §544.33

544.35 Power of partner to bind partnership to third persons after dissolution.

1. After dissolution a partner can bind the partnership except as provided in subsection 3 of this section:

a. By any act appropriate for winding up partnership affairs or completing transactions unfinished at dissolution,

b. By any transaction which would bind the partnership if dissolution had not taken place, provided the other party to the transaction:

(1) Had extended credit to the partnership prior to dissolution and had no knowledge or notice of the dissolution; or

(2) Though he had not so extended credit, had nevertheless known of the partnership prior to dissolution, and, having no knowledge or notice of dissolution, the fact of dissolution had not been advertised in a newspaper of general circulation in the place (or in each place if more than one) at which the partnership business was regularly carried on.

2. The liability of a partner under subsection 1, paragraph "b" of this section shall be satisfied out of partnership assets alone when such partner had been prior to dissolution:

a. Unknown as a partner to the person with whom the contract is made; and

b. So far unknown and inactive in partnership affairs that the business reputation of the partnership could not be said to have been in any degree due to his connection with it.

3. The partnership is in no case bound by any act of a partner after dissolution:

a. Where the partnership is dissolved because it is unlawful to carry on the business, unless the act is appropriate for winding up partnership affairs; or

b. Where the partner has become bankrupt; or

c. Where the partner has no authority to wind up partnership affairs; except by a transaction with one who:

(1) Had extended credit to the partnership prior to dissolution and had no knowledge or notice of his want of authority; or

(2) Had not extended credit to the partnership prior to dissolution, and, having no knowledge or notice of his want of authority, the fact of his want of authority has not been advertised in the manner provided for advertising the fact of dissolution in subsection 1, paragraph "b" of this section.

4. Nothing in this section shall affect the liability under section 544.16 of any person who after dissolution represents himself or consents to another representing him as a partner in a partnership engaged in carrying on business. [64GA, ch 251,§35]

Referred to in §544.33

544.36 Effect of dissolution on partner's existing liability.

1. The dissolution of the partnership does not of itself discharge the existing liability of any partner.

2. A partner is discharged from any existing liability upon dissolution of the partnership by an agreement to that effect between himself, the partnership creditor and the person or partnership continuing the business; and such agreement may be inferred from the course of dealing between the creditor having knowledge of the dissolution and the person or partnership continuing the business.

3. Where a person agrees to assume the existing obligations of a dissolved partnership, the partners whose obligations have been assumed shall be discharged from any liability to any creditor of the partnership who, knowing of the agreement, consents to a material alteration in the nature or time of payment of the obligations.

4. The individual property of a deceased partner shall be liable for all obligations of the partnership incurred while he was a partner but subject to the prior payment of his separate debts. [64GA, ch 251,§36]

544.37 Right to wind up. Unless otherwise agreed the partners who have not wrongfully dissolved the partnership or the legal representative of the last surviving partner, not bankrupt, has the right to wind up the partnership affairs; provided, however, that any partner, his legal representative or his assignee, upon cause shown, may obtain winding up by the court. [64GA, ch 251,§37]

544.38 Rights of partners to application of partnership property.

1. When dissolution is caused in any way, except in contravention of the partnership agreement, each partner, as against his co-partners and all persons claiming through them in respect of their interests in the partnership, unless otherwise agreed, may have the partnership property applied to discharge its liabilities, and the surplus applied to pay in cash the net amount owing to the respective partners. But if dissolution is caused by expulsion of a partner, bona fide under the partnership agreement and if the expelled partner is discharged from all partnership liabilities, either by payment or agreement upon cause shown, may obtain winding up by the court. [64GA, ch 251,§37]

2. When dissolution is caused in contravention of the partnership agreement the rights of the partners shall be as follows:

a. Each partner who has not caused dissolution wrongfully shall have:

   (1) All the rights specified in subsection 1 of this section, and

   (2) The right, as against each partner who has caused the dissolution wrongfully, to damages for breach of the agreement.

b. The partners who have not caused the dissolution wrongfully, if they all desire to continue the business in the same name, either by themselves or jointly with others, may do so, during the agreed term for the partnership and for that purpose may possess the partnership property, provided they secure the payment by bond approved by the court, or pay to any partner who has caused the dissolution wrongfully, the value of his interest in the partnership at the dissolution, less any damages recoverable under subsection 2, paragraph “a”, subparagraph (2) of this section, and in like manner indemnify him against all present or future partnership liabilities.

c. A partner who has caused the dissolution wrongfully shall have:

   (1) If the business is not continued under the provisions of subsection 2, paragraph “b” of this section, all the rights of a partner under subsection 1 of this section, subject to subsection 2, paragraph “a”, subparagraph (2) of this section.

(2) If the business is continued under subsection 2, paragraph “b”, of this section the right as against his co-partners and all claiming through them in respect of their interests in the partnership, to have the value of his interest in the partnership, less any damages caused to his co-partners by the dissolution, ascertained and paid to him in cash, or the payment secured by bond approved by the court, and to be released from all existing liabilities of the partnership; but in ascertaining the value of the partner’s interest the value of the good will of the business shall not be considered. [64GA, ch 251,§38]

544.39 Rights where partnership is dissolved for fraud or misrepresentation. Where a partnership contract is rescinded on the ground of the fraud or misrepresentation of one of the parties thereto, the party entitled to rescind is, without prejudice to any other right, entitled:

1. To a lien on, or a right of retention of, the surplus of the partnership property after satisfying the partnership liabilities to third persons for any sum of money paid by him for the purchase of an interest in the partnership and for any capital or advances contributed by him; and

2. To stand, after all liabilities to third persons have been satisfied, in the place of the creditors of the partnership for any payments made by him in respect of the partnership liabilities; and

3. To be indemnified by the person guilty of the fraud or making the representation against all debts and liabilities of the partnership. [64GA, ch 251,§39]

   c. Those owing to partners in respect of capital,

   d. Those owing to partners in respect of profits.

3. The assets shall be applied in order of their declaration in subsection 1 of this section to the satisfaction of the liabilities.

4. The partners shall contribute, as provided by section 544.18, subsection 1, the amount necessary to satisfy the liabilities; but if any, but not all of the partners are insolvent, or, not being subject to process, refuse to contribute, the other partners shall contribute their share of the liabilities, and, in the relative proportions in which they share the profits, the additional amount necessary to pay the liabilities.

5. An assignee for the benefit of creditors or any person appointed by the court shall have the right to enforce the contributions specified in subsection 4 of this section.

6. Any partner or his legal representative shall have the right to enforce the contributions specified in subsection 4 of this section, to the extent of the amount which he has paid in excess of his share of the liability.

7. The individual property of a deceased partner shall be liable for the contributions specified in subsection 4 of this section.

8. When partnership property and the individual properties of the partners are in possession of a court for distribution, partnership creditors shall have priority on partnership property and separate creditors on individual property, saving the rights of lien or secured creditors as heretofore.

   a. Those owing to separate creditors,
   b. Those owing to partnership creditors,
   c. Those owing to partners by way of contribution. [64GA, ch 251, §40]

544.41 Liability of persons continuing the business in certain cases.

1. When any new partner is admitted into an existing partnership, or when any partner retires and assigns, or the representative of the deceased partner assigns his rights in partnership property to two or more of the partners, or to one or more of the partners and one or more third persons, if the business is continued without liquidation of the partnership affairs, creditors of the first or dissolved partnership are also creditors of the partnership so continuing the business.

2. When all but one partner retire and assign, or the representative of a deceased partner assigns their rights in partnership property to the remaining partner, who continues the business without liquidation of partnership affairs, either alone or with others, creditors of the dissolved partnership are also creditors of the person or partnership so continuing the business.

3. When any partner retires or dies and the business of the dissolved partnership is continued as set forth in subsections 1 and 2 of this section, with the consent of the retired partners or the representative of the deceased partner, but without any assignment of his right in partnership property, rights of creditors of the dissolved partnership and of the creditors of the person or partnership continuing the business shall be as if such assignment had been made.

4. When all the partners or their representatives assign their rights in partnership property to one or more third persons who promise to pay the debts and who continue the business of the dissolved partnership, creditors of the dissolved partnership are also creditors of the person or partnership continuing the business.

5. When any partner wrongfully causes a dissolution and the remaining partners continue the business under the provisions of section 544.38, subsection 2, paragraph "b", either alone or with others, and without liquidation of the partnership affairs, creditors of the dissolved partnership are also creditors of the person or partnership continuing the business.

6. When a partner is expelled and the remaining partners continue the business either alone or with others, without liquidation of the partnership affairs, creditors of the dissolved partnership are also creditors of the person or partnership continuing the business.

7. The liability of a third person becoming a partner in the partnership continuing the business, under this section, to the creditors of the dissolved partnership shall be satisfied out of partnership property only.

8. Application for renewal shall be made within six months prior to the expiration of the registration on a form furnished by the secretary of state and shall include a verified statement that the mark is still in use in this state.

The secretary of state shall notify a registrant of the pending expiration of his registration. However, the failure of a registrant to receive due notice from the secretary of state shall not prevent expiration of a registration.

A mark connected with a part of the good will of a business can be assigned with that part of the good will of the business. Assignment of a registration can only be effectuated by filing duplicate originals of an assignment, signed by the assignor, with the secretary of state together with a filing fee of three dollars. After filing the assignment, the secretary of state shall issue to the assignee, for the remainder of the term of the assigned registration, a new certificate attached to one of the duplicate originals. 4. Any registration which a district court, in an action involving the registration and from which no appeal is or can be taken, finds:
   a. That the registered mark has been abandoned, or
   b. That the registrant is not the owner of the mark, or
   c. That the registration was granted contrary to the provisions of this chapter, or
   d. That the registration was obtained fraudulently, or
   e. That the registered mark has become incapable of serving as a mark, or
   f. That the registered mark is so similar to a mark registered in the United States patent office by another party to the litigation and not abandoned prior to the date of first use by the registrant under this chapter as to be likely to cause confusion, mistake, or deception of purchasers. However, registration under this chapter shall not be canceled if the registrant under this chapter proves that he has a concurrent registration for his mark in the United States patent office for an area including this state.

5. Any registration that a district court, from which no appeal is or can be taken, orders canceled on any ground. [C71,§548.7]

§548.8 Classification. The secretary of state shall establish a classification of goods and services for convenience in the administration of this chapter which shall not limit an applicant's or registrant's rights except as expressly provided by this chapter. [C71,§548.8]

Any person who, either for himself or on behalf of any other person, shall procure the registration of any mark under this chapter by knowingly making any false or fraudulent representation or declaration or by any other fraudulent means is liable for the damages caused by the fraudulent registration and in an action to recover these damages the court shall order cancellation of the fraudulently obtained registration. [C71,§548.9]

§548.10 Infringement. Any person who without the consent of the registrant uses any reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation to labels, signs, prints, packages, wrappers, receptacles, or advertisements intended to be used in a manner which is likely to cause confusion, mistake, or deception of purchasers in this state; shall be liable in a civil action by the registrant of the mark, for any or all of the remedies provided in section 548.11. [C97,§5051; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9874; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§548.10]

1. The registrant of a mark that has been infringed may be granted an injunction against an infringer in accordance with the principles of equity. The court in its discretion may allow the registrant to recover the damages caused by the infringement or the profits of the infringer attributable to the infringement, or both. The court may order any counterfeits or imitations in the possession or under the control of an infringer to be destroyed and in exceptional cases the court may also award reasonable attorney fees to the prevailing party.

2. Likelihood of injury to business reputation or to a trade name valid at common law, or of dilution of the distinctive quality of a mark, whether registered or not registered under this chapter, shall be a ground for injunctive relief notwithstanding the absence of competition between the parties or the absence of confusion as to the source of goods or services. [C97,§§5050, 5051; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9871-9873, 9875; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §§548.7-548.9, 548.11; C71,§548.11; 64GA, ch 252, §1]

Referred to in §548.10

§548.12 Defenses. A registrant shall not use the letter "R" enclosed in a circle, thus ®, "Registered in the U. S. Patent Office" or "Reg. U. S. Patent Off." to give notice of registration under this chapter. Use of false notice of federal registration is an affirmative defense which precludes recovery of damages, profits, or injunctive relief under this chapter for the period during which false notice of federal registration is used. [C71,§548.12]

§548.13 Application. This chapter does not affect:

1. Rights, or the enforcement of rights, in marks or trade names acquired in good faith at any time at common law.

2. Rights, or the enforcement of rights in marks acquired under federal law.

PART 1
SHORT TITLE, CONSTRUCTION, APPLICATION AND SUBJECT MATTER OF THE CHAPTER

§554.1101 Short title. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code. [C66, 71,§554.1101]

§554.1102 Purposes—rules of construction—variation by agreement.
1. This chapter shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies.
2. Underlying purposes and policies of this chapter are:
   a. to simplify, clarify and modernize the law governing commercial transactions;
   b. to permit the continued expansion of commercial practices through custom, usage and agreement of the parties;
   c. to make uniform the law among the various jurisdictions.
3. The effect of provisions of this chapter may be varied by agreement, except as otherwise provided in this chapter and except that the obligations of good faith, diligence, reasonableness and care prescribed by this chapter may not be disclaimed by agreement but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the performance of such obligations is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.
4. The presence in certain provisions of this chapter of the words "unless otherwise agreed" or words of similar import does not imply that the effect of other provisions may not be varied by agreement under subsection 3.
5. In this chapter unless the context otherwise provides:
   a. words in the singular number include the plural, and in the plural include the singular;
   b. words of the masculine gender include the feminine and the neuter, and when the sense so indicates words of the neuter gender may refer to any gender. [S13,§§3138-a56,-b50; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§8295, 9637, 9716, 9931, 10002; C46,§§487.52, 541.197, 542.56, 554.2, 554.74; C50, 54, 58, 62,§§8297.52, 493A.18, 541.197, 542.56, 554.2, 554.74; C66, 71,§554.1103]

§554.1105 Territorial application of the chapter—parties’ power to choose applicable law.
1. Except as provided hereafter in this section, when a transaction bears a reasonable relation to this state and also to another state or nation the parties may agree that the law either of this state or of such other state or nation shall govern their rights and duties. Failing such agreement this chapter applies to transactions bearing an appropriate relation to this state.
2. Where one of the following provisions of this chapter specifies the applicable law, that provision governs and a contrary agreement is effective only to the extent permitted by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) so specified:

The remedies provided by this chapter shall be liberally administered to the end that the aggrieved party may be put in as good a position as if the other party had fully performed but neither consequential or special nor penal damages may be had except as specifically provided in this chapter or by other rule of law.

2. Any right or obligation declared by this chapter is enforceable by action unless the provision declaring it specifies a different and limited effect. [C24, 27, 31, 33, 39; §10001; C16, 50, 54, 58, 62; §554.73; C66, 71, §554.1106]

PART 2
OF INTERPRETATION

554.1201 General definitions. Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent Articles of this chapter which are applicable to specific Articles or Parts thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this chapter:

1. "Action" in the sense of a judicial proceeding includes recoupment, counterclaim, setoff, suit in equity and any other proceedings in which rights are determined.

2. "Aggrieved party" means a party entitled to resort to a remedy.

3. "Agreement" means the bargain of the parties in fact as found in their language or by implication from other circumstances including course of dealing or usage of trade or course of performance as provided in this chapter (sections 554.1205 and 554.2208). Whether an agreement has legal consequences is determined by the provisions of this chapter, if applicable; otherwise by the law of contracts (section 554.1103). (Compare "Contract".)

Referred to in §554.9204(1)

5. "Bearer" means the person in possession of an instrument, document of title, or security payable to bearer or endorsed in blank.

6. "Bill of lading" means a document evidencing the receipt of goods for shipment issued by a person engaged in the business of transporting or forwarding goods, and includes an airbill. "Airbill" means a document serving for air transportation as a bill of lading does for marine or rail transportation, and includes an air consignment note or air waybill.

7. "Branch" includes a separately incorporated foreign branch of a bank.

8. "Burden of establishing" a fact means the burden of persuading the triers of fact that the existence of the fact is more probable than its nonexistence.

9. "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a third party in the goods buys in ordinary course from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind but does not include a pawnbroker. "Buying" may be for cash or by exchange of other property or on secured or unsecured credit and includes receiving goods or documents of title under a pre-existing contract for sale but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt.

Referred to in §554.9307

10. "Conspicuous": A term or clause is conspicuous when it is so written that a reasonable person against whom it is to operate ought to have noticed it. A printed heading in capitals (as: "Nonnegotiable Bill of Lading") is conspicuous. Language in the body of a form is "conspicuous" if it is in larger or other contrasting type or color. But in a telegram any stated term is "conspicuous". Whether a term or clause is "conspicuous" or not is for decision by the court.

11. "Contract" means the total legal obligation which results from the parties' agreement as affected by this chapter and any other applicable rules of law. (Compare "Agreement".)

12. "Creditor" includes a general creditor, a secured creditor, a lien creditor and any representative of creditors, including an assignee for the benefit of creditors, a trustee in bankruptcy, a receiver in equity and a legal representative of a decedent's or incompetent's estate.

13. "Defendant" includes a person in the position of defendant in a cross-action or counterclaim.
14. “Delivery” with respect to instruments, documents of title, chattel paper or securities means voluntary transfer of possession.

15. “Document of title” includes bill of lading, dock warrant, dock receipt, warehouse receipt or order for the delivery of goods, and also any other document which in the regular course of business or financing is treated as adequately evidencing that the person in possession of it is entitled to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. To be a document of title a document must purport to be issued by or addressed to a bailee and purport to cover goods in the bailee’s possession which are either identified or are fungible portions of an identified mass.

17. “Fungible” with respect to goods or securities means goods or securities of which any unit is, by nature or usage of trade, the equivalent of any other like unit. Goods which are not fungible shall be deemed fungible for the purposes of this chapter to the extent that under a particular agreement or document unlike units are treated as equivalents.

18. “Genuine” means free of forgery or counterfeiting.

19. “Good faith” means honesty in fact in the conduct or transaction concerned.

20. “Holder” means a person who is in possession of a document of title or an instrument or an investment security drawn, issued or endorsed to him or to his order or to bearer or in blank.

21. To “honor” is to pay or to accept and pay, or where a credit so engages to purchase or discount a draft complying with the terms of the credit.

22. “Insolvency proceedings” includes any assignment for the benefit of creditors or other proceedings intended to liquidate or rehabilitate the estate of the person involved.

23. A person is “insolvent” who either has ceased to pay his debts in the ordinary course of business or cannot pay his debts as they become due or is insolvent within the meaning of the federal bankruptcy law.

24. “Money” means a medium of exchange authorized or adopted by a domestic or foreign government as a part of its currency.

25. A person has “notice” of a fact when a. he has actual knowledge of it; or b. he has received a notice or notification of it; or c. from all the facts and circumstances known to him at the time in question he has reason to know that it exists. A person “knows” or has “knowledge” of a fact when he has actual knowledge of it. “Discover” or “learn” or a word or phrase of similar import refers to knowledge rather than to reason to know. The time and circumstances under which a notice or notification may cease to be effective are not determined by this chapter.

26. A person “notifies” or “gives” a notice or notification to another by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other in ordinary course whether or not such other actually comes to know of it. A person “receives” a notice or notification when a. it comes to his attention; or b. it is duly delivered at the place of business through which the contract was made or at any other place held out by him as the place for receipt of such communications.

27. Notice, knowledge or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time when it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction, and in any event from the time when it would have been brought to his attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless such communication is part of his regular duties or unless he has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

28. “Organization” includes a corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

29. “Party”, as distinct from “third party”, means a person who has engaged in a transaction or made an agreement within this chapter.

30. “Person” includes an individual or an organization (See section 554.1102).

31. “Presumption” or “presumed” means that the trier of fact must find the existence of the fact presumed unless and until evidence is introduced which would support a finding of its nonexistence.

32. “Purchase” includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

33. “Purchaser” means a person who takes by purchase.

34. “Remedy” means any remedial right to which an aggrieved party is entitled with or without resort to a tribunal.

35. “Representative” includes an agent, an officer of a corporation or association, and a trustee, executor or administrator of an estate, or any other person empowered to act for another.

36. “Rights” includes remedies.

37. “Security interest” means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (section 554.2401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest". The term also includes any interest of a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, or contract rights which is subject to Article 9. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of such goods to a contract for sale under section 554.2401 is not a "security interest", but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Article 9. Unless a lease or consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest" but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (section 554.2326). Whether a lease is intended as security is to be determined by the facts of each case; however, (a) the inclusion of an option to purchase does not of itself make the lease one intended for security, and (b) an agreement that upon compliance with the terms of the lease the lessee shall become or has the option to become the owner of the property for no additional consideration or for a nominal consideration docs make the lease one intended for security. The term also includes any interest of an owner of farm products whose possession is entrusted to a person engaged in farming operations.

38. "Send" in connection with any writing or notice means to deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed and in the case of an instrument to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances. The receipt of any writing or notice within the time at which it would have arrived if properly sent has the effect of a proper sending.

39. "Signed" includes any symbol executed or adopted by a party with present intention to authenticate a writing.

40. "Surety" includes guarantor.

41. "Telegram" includes a message transmitted by radio, teletype, cable, any mechanical method of transmission, or the like.

42. "Term" means that portion of an agreement which relates to a particular matter.

43. "Unauthorized" signature or endorsement means one made without actual, implied or apparent authority and includes a forgery.

44. "Value". Except as otherwise provided with respect to negotiable instruments and bank collections (sections 554.3203, 554.4208 and 554.4209) a person gives "value" for rights if he acquires them

a. In return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection; or

b. as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a pre-existing claim; or

c. by accepting delivery pursuant to a pre-existing contract for purchase; or

d. generally, in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

45. "Warehouse receipt" means a receipt issued by a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

46. "Written" or "writing" includes printing, typewriting or any other intentional reduction to tangible form. [§13,§§1589-a, 3090-a, a25-a,27-a,56-a,191, 3138-a,158-b, b32; C24, 27, 31, 35, 33,§§8235, 8297, 9266, 9466, 9485-9487, 9516, 9652, 9661, 9718, 9932, 9934, 9935, 10000, 10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§487.1, 487.54, 528.61, 541.6, 541.25-541.27, 541.56, 541.192, 542.1, 542.58, 554.3, 554.6, 554.7, 554.72, 554.77; C50, 51, 58, 62, §§493A.22; C58, 62,§393.12; C66, 71,§554.1201]

554.1202 Prima-facie evidence by third party documents. A document in due form purporting to be a bill of lading, policy or certificate of insurance, official weigher's or inspector's certificate, consular invoice, or any other document authorized or required by the contract to be issued by a third party shall be prima-facie evidence of its own authenticity and genuineness and of the facts stated in the document by the third party. [C66, 71,§554.1202]

554.1203 Obligation of good faith. Every contract or duty within this chapter imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance or enforcement. [C66, 71,§554.1203]

554.1204 Time — reasonable time — "seasonably". 1. Whenever this chapter requires any action to be taken within a reasonable time, any time which is not manifestly unreasonable may be fixed by agreement.

2. What is a reasonable time for taking any action depends on the nature, purpose and circumstances of such action.

3. An action is taken "seasonably" when it is taken at or within the time agreed or if no time is agreed at or within a reasonable time. [§13,§3000-a,193; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9254, 9972; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§5119.144, 554.14; C66, 71, §554.1204]

554.1205 Course of dealing and usage of trade. 1. A course of dealing is a sequence of previous conduct between the parties to a particular transaction which is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

2. A usage of trade is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage are to be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a written trade code or similar writing the interpretation of the writing is for the court.

3. A course of dealing between parties and any usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware give particular meaning to and supplement or qualify terms of an agreement.

4. The express terms of an agreement and an applicable course of dealing or usage of trade shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable express terms control both course of dealing and usage of trade and course of dealing controls usage of trade.

5. An applicable usage of trade in the place where any part of performance is to occur shall be used in interpreting the agreement as to that part of the performance.

6. Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the latter. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9938, 9944, 9947, 10006; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.10, 554.16, 554.19, 554.72; C66, 71,§554.1205]

1. Except in the cases described in subsection 2 of this section a contract for the sale of personal property is not enforceable by way of action or defense beyond five thousand dollars in amount or value of remedy unless there is some writing which indicates that a contract for sale has been made between the parties at a defined or stated price, reasonably identifies the subject matter, and is signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent.

2. Subsection 1 of this section does not apply to contracts for the sale of goods (section 554.2201) nor of securities (section 554.8319) nor to security agreements (section 554.9203). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9933; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.4; C66, 71,§554.1206]

§554.1207 Performance or acceptance under reservation of rights. A party who with explicit reservation of rights performs or promises performance or assents to performance in a manner demanded or offered by the other party does not thereby prejudice the rights reserved. Such words as "without prejudice", "under protest" or the like are sufficient. [C66, 71,§554.1207]

§554.1208 Option to accelerate at will. A term providing that one party or his successor in interest may accelerate payment or performance or require collateral or additional collateral "at will" or "when he deems himself insecure" or in words of similar import shall be construed to mean that he shall have power to do so only if he in good faith believes that the prospect of payment or performance is impaired. The burden of establishing lack of good faith is on the party against whom the power has been exercised. [C66, 71,§554.1208]

554.2104 Definitions: "merchant"—"between merchants"—"financing agency".

1. "Merchant" means a person who deals in goods of the kind or otherwise by his occupation holds himself out as having knowledge or skill peculiar to the practices or goods involved in the transaction or to whom such knowledge or skill may be attributed by his employment of an agent or broker or other intermediary who by his occupation holds himself out as having such knowledge or skill.

2. "Financing agency" means a bank, finance company or other person who in the ordinary course of business makes advances against goods or documents of title or who by arrangement with either the seller or the buyer intervenes in ordinary course to make or collect payment due or claimed under the contract for sale, as by purchasing or paying the seller's draft or making advances against it or by merely taking it for collection whether or not documents of title accompany the draft. "Financing agency" includes also a bank or other person who similarly intervenes between persons who are in the position of seller and buyer in respect to the goods (section 554.2707).

3. "Between merchants" means in any transaction with respect to which both parties are chargeable with the knowledge or skill of merchants. [S13, §5138-b34-b36; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8279, 8281; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.35, 487.37; C66, 71, §554.2104]

554.2105 Definitions: transferability — "goods"—"future" goods—"lot"—"commercial unit".

1. "Goods" means all things (including specially manufactured goods) which are movable at the time of identification to the contract for sale other than the money in which the price is to be paid, investment securities (Article 8) and things in action. "Goods" also includes the unborn young of animals and growing crops and other identified things attached to realty as described in the section on goods to be severed from realty (section 554.2107).

2. Goods must be both existing and identified before any interest in them can pass.

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE, §554.2106

Goods which are not both existing and identified are "future" goods. A purported present sale of future goods or of any interest therein operates as a contract to sell.

3. There may be a sale of a part interest in existing identified goods.

1. An undivided share in an identified bulk of fungible goods is sufficiently identified to be sold although the quantity of the bulk is not determined. Any agreed proportion of such a bulk or any quantity thereof agreed upon by number, weight or other measure may to the extent of the seller's interest in the bulk be sold to the buyer who then becomes an owner in common.

5. "Lot" means a parcel or a single article which is the subject matter of a separate sale or delivery, whether or not it is sufficient to perform the contract.

6. "Commercial unit" means such a unit of goods as by commercial usage is a single whole for purposes of sale and division of which materially impairs its character or value on the market or in use. A commercial unit may be a single article (as a machine) or a set of articles (as a suite of furniture or an assortment of sizes) or a quantity (as a bale, gross, or carload) or any other unit treated in use or in the relevant market as a single whole. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9934, 9935, 10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§554.6, 554.7, 554.77; C66, 71, §554.2105]

554.2106 Definitions: "contract" — "agreement"—"contract for sale"—"sale"—"present sale"—"conforming" to contract — "termination"—"cancellation".

1. In this Article unless the context otherwise requires "contract" and "agreement" are limited to those relating to the present or future sale of goods. "Contract for sale" includes both a present sale of goods and a contract to sell goods at a future time. A "sale" consists in the passing of title from the seller to the buyer for a price (section 554.2401). A "present sale" means a sale which is accomplished by the making of the contract.

2. Goods or conduct including any part of a performance are "conforming" or conform to the contract when they are in accordance with the obligations under the contract.

3. "Termination" occurs when either party pursuant to a power created by agreement or law puts an end to the contract otherwise than for its breach. On "termination" all obligations which are still executory on both sides are discharged but any right based on prior breach or performance survives.

4. "Cancellation" occurs when either party puts an end to the contract for breach by the other and its effect is the same as that of "termination" except that the canceling party also retains any remedy for breach of the whole contract or any unperformed balance. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9930, 9940; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.12; C66, 71, §2106]

§554.2107 Goods to be severed from realty: recording.
1. A contract for the sale of timber, minerals or the like or a structure or its materials to be removed from realty is a contract for the sale of goods within this Article if they are to be severed by the seller but until severed a purported present sale thereof which is not effective as a transfer of an interest in land is effective only as a contract to sell.

2. A contract for the sale apart from the land of growing crops or other things attached to realty and capable of severance without material harm thereto but not described in subsection 1 is a contract for the sale of goods within this Article whether the subject matter is to be severed by the buyer or by the seller even though it forms part of the realty at the time of contracting, and the parties can by identification effect a present sale before severance.

3. The provisions of this section are subject to any third party rights provided by the law relating to realty records, and the contract for sale may be executed and recorded as a document transferring an interest in land and shall then constitute notice to third parties of the buyer’s rights under the contract for sale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §515.177; C66, 71, §554.2107]

PART 2
FORM, FORMATION AND READJUSTMENT OF CONTRACT

§554.2201 Formal requirements—statute of frauds.
1. Except as otherwise provided in this section a contract for the sale of goods for the price of five hundred dollars or more is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless there is some writing sufficient to indicate that a contract for sale has been made between the parties and signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker. A writing is not insufficient because it omits or incorrectly states a term agreed upon but the contract is not enforceable under this paragraph beyond the quantity of goods shown in such writing.

2. Between merchants if within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the contract and sufficient against the sender is received and the party receiving it has reason to know its contents, it satisfies the requirements of subsection 1 against such party unless written notice of objection to its contents is given within ten days after it is received.

3. A contract which does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 1 but which is valid in other respects is enforceable

a. if the goods are to be specially manufactured for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller’s business and the seller, before notice of repudiation is received and under circumstances which reasonably indicate that the goods are for the buyer, has made either a substantial beginning of their manufacture or commitments for their procurement; or

b. if the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract for sale was made, but the contract is not enforceable under this provision beyond the quantity of goods admitted; or

c. with respect to goods for which payment has been made and accepted or which have been received and accepted (section 554.2206). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9933; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.4; C66, 71, §554.2201]

§554.2202 Final written expression—parol or extrinsic evidence. Terms with respect to which the confirmatory memoranda of the parties agree or which are otherwise set forth in a writing intended by the parties as a final expression of their agreement with respect to such terms as are included therein may not be contradicted by evidence of any prior agreement or of a contemporaneous oral agreement but may be explained or supplemented

a. by course of dealing or usage of trade (section 554.1205) or by course of performance (section 554.2208); and

b. by evidence of consistent additional terms unless the court finds the writing to have been intended also as a complete and exclusive statement of the terms of the agreement. [C66, 71, §554.2202]

Referred to in §§554.2126(1), 554.2325(4)

§554.2203 Seals inoperative. The affixing of a seal to a writing evidencing a contract for sale or an offer to buy or sell goods does not constitute the writing a sealed instrument and the law with respect to sealed instruments does not apply to such a contract or offer. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.3; C66, 71, §554.2203]

§554.2204 Formation in general.
1. A contract for sale of goods may be made in any manner sufficient to show agreement, including conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of such a contract.

2. An agreement sufficient to constitute a contract for sale may be found even though the moment of its making is undetermined.

3. Even though one or more terms are left open a contract for sale does not fail for indefiniteness if the parties have intended to make a contract and there is a reasonably certain basis for giving an appropriate remedy. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.1, 554.3; C66, 71, §554.2204]

Referred to in §554.2311(1)

§554.2205 Firm offers. An offer by a merchant to buy or sell goods in a signed writing which by its terms gives assurance that it will be held open for a reasonable time, for lack of consideration, during the time stated or if no time is stated for a reasonable time, but in no event may such period of irrevocability ex-
UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE, §554.2210

554.2206 Offer and acceptance in formation of contract.

1. Unless otherwise unambiguously indicated by the language or circumstances
   a. an offer to make a contract shall be construed as inviting acceptance in any manner and by any medium reasonable in the circumstances;
   b. an order or other offer to buy goods for prompt or current shipment shall be construed as inviting acceptance either by a prompt promise to ship or by the prompt or current shipment of conforming or nonconforming goods, but such a shipment of nonconforming goods does not constitute an acceptance if the seller seasonably notifies the buyer that the shipment is offered only as an accommodation to the buyer.

2. Where the beginning of a requested performance is a reasonable mode of acceptance an offeror who is not notified of acceptance within a reasonable time may treat the offer as having lapsed before acceptance. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §§9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.3; C66, 71,§554.2206]

554.2207 Additional terms in acceptance or confirmation.

1. A definite and seasonable expression of acceptance or a written confirmation which is sent within a reasonable time operates as an acceptance even though it states terms additional to or different from those offered or agreed upon, unless acceptance is expressly made conditional on assent to the additional or different terms.

2. The additional or different terms are to be construed as proposals for addition to the contract. Between merchants such terms become part of the contract unless:
   a. the offer expressly limits acceptance to the terms of the offer;
   b. they materially alter it; or
   c. notification of objection to them has already been given or is given within a reasonable time after notice of them is received.

3. Conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of a contract is sufficient to establish a contract for sale although the writings of the parties do not otherwise establish a contract. In such case the terms of the particular contract consist of those terms on which the writings of the parties agree, together with any supplementary terms incorporated under any other provisions of this chapter. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §§9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.1, 554.3; C66, 71,§554.2207]

554.2208 Course of performance or practical construction.

1. Where the contract for sale involves repeated occasions for performance by either party with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it by the other, any course of performance accepted or acquiesced in without objection shall be relevant to determine the meaning of the agreement.

2. The express terms of the agreement and any such course of performance, as well as any course of dealing and usage of trade, shall be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable, express terms shall control course of performance and course of performance shall control both course of dealing and usage of trade (section 554.1205).

3. Subject to the provisions of the next section on modification and waiver, such course of performance shall be relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with such course of performance. [C66, 71,§554.2208]

554.2209 Modification, rescission and waiver.

1. An agreement modifying a contract within this Article needs no consideration to be binding.

2. A signed agreement which excludes modification or rescission except by a signed writing cannot be otherwise modified or rescinded, but except as between merchants such a requirement on a form supplied by the merchant must be separately signed by the other party.

3. The requirements of the statute of frauds section of this Article (section 554.2201) must be satisfied if the contract as modified is within its provisions.

4. Although an attempt at modification or rescission does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 2 or 3 it can operate as a waiver.

5. A party who has made a waiver affecting an executory portion of the contract may retract the waiver by reasonable notification received by the other party that strict performance will be required of any term waived, unless the retraction would be unjust in view of a material change of position in reliance on the waiver. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9990; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.62; C66, 71,§554.2209]

554.2210 Delegation of performance—assignment of rights.

1. A party may perform his duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having his original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

2. Unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except where the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on him by his contract, or impair materially his chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of his entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

3. Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

4. An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by him to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

5. The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to his rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (section 554.2609). [C66, 71,§554.2210]

GENERAL OBLIGATION AND CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT

554.2301 General obligations of parties. The obligation of the seller is to transfer and deliver and that of the buyer is to accept and pay in accordance with the contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9940, 9970; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.12, 554.12; C66, 71,§554.2301]

554.2302 Unconscionable contract or clause. 1. If the court as a matter of law finds the contract or any clause of the contract to have been unconscionable at the time it was made the court may refuse to enforce the contract, or it may enforce the remainder of the contract without the unconscionable clause, or it may so limit the application of any unconscionable clause as to avoid any unconscionable result.

2. When it is claimed or appears to the court that the contract or any clause thereof may be unconscionable the parties shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to present evidence as to its commercial setting, purpose and effect to aid the court in making the determination. [C66, 71,§554.2302]

554.2303 Allocation or division of risks. Where this Article allocates a risk or a burden as between the parties unless otherwise agreed, the agreement may not only shift the allocation but may also divide the risk or burden. [C66, 71,§554.2303]

554.2304 Price payable in money, goods, realty, or otherwise. 1. The price can be made payable in money or otherwise. If it is payable in whole or in part in goods each party is a seller of the goods which he is to transfer.

2. Even though all or part of the price is payable in an interest in realty the transfer of the goods and the seller's obligations with reference to them are subject to this Article, but not the transfer of the interest in realty or the transferor's obligations in connection therewith. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9938; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.10; C66, 71,§554.2304]

554.2305 Open price term. 1. The parties if they so intend can conclude a contract for sale even though the price is not settled. In such a case the price is a reasonable price at the time for delivery if

a. nothing is said as to price; or

b. the price is left to be agreed by the parties and they fail to agree; or

c. the price is to be fixed in terms of some agreed market or other standard as set or recorded by a third person or agency and it is not so set or recorded.

2. A price to be fixed by the seller or by the buyer means a price for him to fix in good faith.

3. When a price left to be fixed otherwise than by agreement of the parties fails to be fixed through fault of one party the other may at his option treat the contract as canceled or himself fix a reasonable price.

4. Where, however, the parties intend not to be bound unless the price be fixed or agreed and it is not fixed or agreed there is no contract. In such a case the buyer must return any goods already received or if unable so to do must pay their reasonable value at the time of delivery and the seller must return any portion of the price paid on account. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9938, 9939; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.10, 554.11; C66, 71,§554.2305]

554.2306 Output, requirements and exclusive dealings. 1. A term which measures the quantity by the output of the seller or the requirements of the buyer means such actual output or requirements as may occur in good faith, except that no quantity unreasonably disproportionate to any stated estimate or in the absence of a stated estimate to any normal or otherwise comparable prior output or requirements may be tendered or demanded.

2. A lawful agreement by either the seller or the buyer for exclusive dealing in the kind of goods concerned imposes unless otherwise agreed an obligation by the seller to use best efforts to supply the goods and by the buyer to use best efforts to promote their sale. [C66, 71,§554.2306]

554.2307 Delivery in single lot or several lots. Unless otherwise agreed all goods called for by a contract for sale must be tendered in a single delivery and payment is due only on such tender but where the circumstances give either party the right to make or demand 554.2308 Absence of specified place for delivery. Unless otherwise agreed
   a. the place for delivery of goods is the seller's place of business or if he has none his residence but
   b. in a contract for sale of identified goods which to the knowledge of the parties at the time of contracting are in some other place, that place is the place for their delivery; and
   c. documents of title may be delivered through customary banking channels. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9972; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.46; C66, 71,§554.2307]

554.2309 Absence of specific time provisions—notice of termination.
   1. The time for shipment or delivery or any other action under a contract if not provided in this Article or agreed upon shall be a reasonable time.
   2. Where the contract provides for successive performances but is indefinite in duration it is valid for a reasonable time but unless otherwise agreed may be terminated at any time by either party.
   3. Termination of a contract by one party except on the happening of an agreed event requires that reasonable notification be received by the other party and an agreement dispensing with notification is invalid if its operation would be unconscionable. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9972, 9974, 9976, 9977; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.14; 554.46, 554.48, 554.49; C66, 71,§554.2309]

554.2310 Open time for payment or running of credit—authority to ship under reservation. Unless otherwise agreed
   a. payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the goods even though the place of shipment is the place of delivery; and
   b. if the seller is authorized to send the goods he may ship them under reservation, and may tender the documents of title, but the buyer may inspect the goods after their arrival before payment is due unless such inspection is inconsistent with the terms of the contract (section 554.2513); and
   c. if delivery is authorized and made by way of documents of title otherwise than by subsection "b" then payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the documents regardless of where the goods are to be received; and
   d. where the seller is required or authorized to ship the goods on credit the credit period runs from the time of shipment but postdating the invoice or delaying its dispatch will correspondingly delay the starting of the credit period. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9971, 9976; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.43, 554.48; C66, 71,§554.2310]

554.2311 Options and co-operation respecting performance.
   1. An agreement for sale which is otherwise sufficiently definite (subsection 3 of section 551.2204) to be a contract is not made invalid by the fact that it leaves particulars of performance to be specified by one of the parties. Any such specification must be made in good faith and within limits set by commercial reasonableness.
   2. Unless otherwise agreed specifications relating to assortment of the goods are at the buyer's option and except as otherwise provided in subsections 1 "c" and 3 of section 554.2319 specifications or arrangements relating to shipment are at the seller's option.
   3. Where such specification would materially affect the other party's performance but is not seasonably made or where one party's co-operation is necessary to the agreed performance of the other but is not seasonably forthcoming the other party in addition to all other remedies
      a. is excused for any resulting delay in his own performance; and
      b. may also either proceed to perform in any reasonable manner or after the time for a material part of his own performance treat the failure to specify or to co-operate as a breach by failure to deliver or accept the goods. [C66, 71,§554.2311]

Refered to in §554.2310(8)

554.2312 Warranty of title and against infringement—buyer's obligation against infringement.
   1. Subject to subsection 2 there is in a contract for sale a warranty by the seller that a. the title conveyed shall be good, and its transfer rightful; and
      b. the goods shall be delivered free from any security interest or other lien or encumbrance of which the buyer at the time of contracting has no knowledge.
   2. A warranty under subsection 1 will be excluded or modified only by specific language or by circumstances which give the buyer reason to know that the person selling does not claim title in himself or that he is purporting to sell only such right or title as he or a third person may have.
   3. Unless otherwise agreed a seller who is a merchant regularly dealing in goods of the kind warrants that the goods shall be delivered free of the rightful claim of any third person by way of infringement or the like but a buyer who furnishes specifications to the seller must hold the seller harmless against any such claim which arises out of compliance with the specifications. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9942; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.14; C66, 71,§554.2312]

Refered to in §554.2310(8), (b), (d)

554.2313 Express warranties by affirmation, promise, description, sample.
   1. Express warranties by the seller are created as follows:
§554.2313, UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE

a. Any affirmation of fact or promise made by the seller to the buyer which relates to the goods and becomes part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the affirmation or promise.

b. Any description of the goods which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the description.

c. Any sample or model which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the whole of the goods shall conform to the sample or model.

2. It is not necessary to the creation of an express warranty that the seller use formal words such as “warrant” or “guarantee” or that he have a specific intention to make a warranty, but an affirmation merely of the words of the goods or a statement purporting to be merely the seller’s opinion or commendation of the goods does not create a warranty. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9943; C46, 50, 54, 58, §554.13, 554.15, 554.17; C66, 71, §554.2314]

§554.2314 Implied warranty: merchantability—usage of trade.

1. Unless excluded or modified (section 554.2316), a warranty that the goods shall be merchantable is implied in a contract for their sale if the seller is a merchant with respect to goods of that kind. Under this section the serving for value of food or drink to be consumed on the premises or elsewhere is a sale.

2. Goods to be merchantable must be at least such as a. pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; and
   b. in the case of fungible goods, are of fair average quality within the description; and
   c. are fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; and
   d. run, within the variations permitted by the agreement, of even kind, quality and quantity within each unit and among all units involved; and
   e. are adequately contained, packaged, and labeled as the agreement may require; and
   f. conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label if any.

3. Unless excluded or modified (section 554.2316) other implied warranties may arise from course of dealing or usage of trade. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9944; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.13; C66, 71, §554.2314]

§554.2315 Implied warranty—fitness for particular purpose. Where the seller at the time of contracting has reason to know any particular purpose for which the goods are required and that the buyer is relying on the seller’s skill or judgment to select or furnish suitable goods, there is unless excluded or modified under the next section an implied warranty that the goods shall be fit for such purpose. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9944; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.16; C66, 71, §554.2315]

§554.2316 Exclusion or modification of warranties.

1. Words or conduct relevant to the creation of an express warranty and words or conduct tending to negate or limit warranty shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but subject to the provisions of this Article on parol or extrinsic evidence (section 554.2202) negation or limitation is inoperative to the extent that such construction is unreasonable.

2. Subject to subsection 3, to exclude or modify the implied warranty of merchantability or any part of it the language must mention merchantability and in case of a writing must be conspicuous, and to exclude or modify any implied warranty of fitness the exclusion must be by a writing and conspicuous. Language to exclude all implied warranties of fitness is sufficient if it states, for example, that “There are no warranties which extend beyond the description on the face hereof.”

3. Notwithstanding subsection 2
   a. unless the circumstances indicate otherwise, all implied warranties are excluded by expressions like “as is”, “with all faults” or other language which in common understanding calls the buyer’s attention to the exclusion of warranties and makes plain that there is no implied warranty; and
   b. when the buyer before entering into the contract has examined the goods or the sample or model as fully as he desired or has refused to examine the goods there is no implied warranty with regard to defects which an examination ought in the circumstances to have revealed to him; and
   c. an implied warranty can also be excluded or modified by course of dealing or course of performance or usage of trade.

4. Remedies for breach of warranty can be limited in accordance with the provisions of this Article on liquidation or limitation of damages and on contractual modification of remedy (sections 554.2718 and 554.2719). [C66, 71, §554.2316]

Referred to in §554.2314(1,3)

§554.2317 Cumulation and conflict of warranties express or implied. Warranties whether express or implied shall be construed as consistent with each other and as cumulative, but if such construction is unreasonable the intention of the parties shall determine which warranty is dominant. In ascertaining that intention the following rules apply:

a. Exact or technical specifications displace an inconsistent sample or model or general language of description.

b. A sample from an existing bulk displaces inconsistent general language of description.

c. Express warranties displace inconsistent implied warranties other than an implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9943–9945; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.15–554.17; C66, 71, §554.2317]
554.2318 Third party beneficiaries of warranties express or implied. A seller's warranty whether express or implied extends to any natural person who is in the family or household of his buyer or who is a guest in his home if it is reasonable to expect that such person may use, consume or be affected by the goods and who is injured in person by breach of the warranty. A seller may not exclude or limit the operation of this section. [C66, 71,§554.2318]

1. Unless otherwise agreed the term F.O.B. (which means "free on board") at a named place, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which

a. when the term is F.O.B. the place of shipment, the seller must at that place ship the goods in the manner provided in this Article (section 554.2504) and bear the expense and risk of putting them into the possession of the carrier; or

b. when the term is F.O.B. the place of destination, the seller must at his own expense and risk transport the goods to that place and there tender delivery of them in the manner provided in this Article (section 554.2503); and

c. when under either "a" or "b" the term is also F.O.B. vessel, car or other vehicle, the seller must in addition at his own expense and risk load the goods on board. If the term is F.O.B. vessel the buyer must name the vessel and in an appropriate case the seller must comply with the provisions of this Article on the form of bill of lading (section 554.2323).

Referred to in §§554.2311

2. Unless otherwise agreed the term F.A.S. vessel (which means "free alongside") at a named port, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which the seller must

a. at his own expense and risk deliver the goods alongside the vessel in the manner usual in that port or on a dock designated and provided for by the buyer; and

b. obtain and tender a receipt for the goods in exchange for which the carrier is under a duty to issue a bill of lading.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in any case falling within subsection 1 "a" or "c" or subsection 2 the buyer must seasonably give any needed instructions for making delivery, including when the term is F.A.S. or F.O.B. the loading berth of the vessel and in an appropriate case its name and sailing date. The seller may treat the failure of needed instructions as a failure of co-operation under this Article (section 554.2311). He may also at his option move the goods in any reasonable manner preparatory to delivery or shipment.

Referred to in §§554.2311(2)

4. Under the term F.O.B. vessel or F.A.S. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents. [C66, 71,§554.2319]

Referred to in §554.2311

1. The term C.I.F. means that the price includes in a lump sum the cost of the goods and the insurance and freight to the named destination. The term C. & F. or C.F. means that the price so includes cost and freight to the named destination.

2. Unless otherwise agreed and even though used only in connection with the stated price and destination, the term C.I.F. destination or its equivalent requires the seller at his own expense and risk to

a. put the goods into the possession of a carrier at the port for shipment and obtain a negotiable bill or bills of lading covering the entire transportation to the named destination; and

b. load the goods and obtain a receipt from the carrier (which may be contained in the bill of lading) showing that the freight has been paid or provided for; and
c. obtain a policy or certificate of insurance, including any war risk insurance, of a kind and on terms then current at the port of shipment in the usual amount, in the currency of the contract, shown to cover the same goods covered by the bill of lading and providing for payment of loss to the order of the buyer or for the account of whom it may concern; but the seller may add to the price the amount of the premium for any such war risk insurance; and

d. prepare an invoice of the goods and procure any other documents required to effect shipment or to comply with the contract; and

e. forward and tender with commercial promptness all the documents in due form and with any endorsement necessary to perfect the buyer's rights.

3. Unless otherwise agreed the term C. & F. or its equivalent has the same effect and imposes upon the seller the same obligations and risks as a C.I.F. term except the obligation as to insurance.

4. Under the term C.I.F. or C. & F., unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents. [C66, 71,§554.2320]

554.2321 C.I.F. or C. & F. — "net landed weights"—"payment on arrival"—warranty of condition on arrival. Under a contract containing a term C.I.F. or C. & F.,

1. Where the price is based on or is to be adjusted according to "net landed weights", "delivered weights", "out turn" quantity or quality or the like, unless otherwise agreed the seller must reasonably estimate the price. The payment due on tender of the documents called for by the contract is the amount so estimated, but after final adjustment of the price a settlement must be made with commercial promptness.

2. An agreement described in subsection 1 or any warranty of quality or condition of the goods on arrival places upon the seller the risk of ordinary deterioration, shrinkage and the like in transportation but has no effect on the place or time of identification to the contract for sale or delivery or on the passing of the risk of loss.

3. Unless otherwise agreed where the contract provides for payment on or after arrival of the goods the seller must before payment allow such preliminary inspection as is feasible; but if the goods are lost delivery of the documents and payment are due when the goods should have arrived. [C66, 71, §554.2321]

§554.2322 Delivery “ex-ship”.

1. Unless otherwise agreed a term for delivery of goods “ex-ship” (which means from the carrying vessel) or in equivalent language is not restricted to a particular ship and requires delivery from a ship which has reached a place at the named port of destination where goods of the kind are usually discharged.

2. Under such a term unless otherwise agreed
   a. the seller must discharge all liens arising out of the carriage and furnish the buyer with a direction which puts the carrier under a duty to deliver the goods; and
   b. the risk of loss does not pass to the buyer until the goods leave the ship’s tackle or are otherwise properly unloaded. [C66, 71, §554.2322]

§554.2323 Form of bill of lading required in overseas shipment—“overseas”.

1. Where the contract contemplates overseas shipment and contains a term C.I.F. or C. & F. or F.O.B. vessel, the seller unless otherwise agreed must obtain a negotiable bill of lading stating that the goods have been loaded on board or, in the case of a term C.I.F. or C. & F., received for shipment.

2. Where in a case within subsection 1 a bill of lading has been issued in a set of parts, unless otherwise agreed if the documents are not to be sent from abroad the buyer may demand tender of the full set; otherwise only one part of the bill of lading need be tendered. Even if the agreement expressly requires a full set
   a. due tender of a single part is acceptable within the provisions of this Article on cure of improper delivery (subsection 1 of section 554.2508); and
   b. even though the full set is demanded, if the documents are sent from abroad the person tendering an incomplete set may nevertheless require payment upon furnishing an indemnity which the buyer in good faith deems adequate.

3. A shipment by water or by air or a contract contemplating such shipment is “over-

§554.2324 “No arrival, no sale” term. Under a term “no arrival, no sale” or terms of like meaning, unless otherwise agreed, a. the seller must properly ship conforming goods and if they arrive by any means he must tender them on arrival but he assumes no obligation that the goods will arrive unless he has caused the nonarrival; and
   b. where without fault of the seller the goods are in part lost or have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract or arrive after the contract time, the buyer may proceed as if there had been casualty to identified goods (section 554.2313). [C66, 71, §554.2324]

§554.2325 “Letter of credit” term — “confirmed credit”.

1. Failure of the buyer seasonably to furnish an agreed letter of credit is a breach of the contract for sale.

2. The delivery to seller of a proper letter of credit suspends the buyer’s obligation to pay. If the letter of credit is dishonored, the seller may on seasonable notification to the buyer require payment directly from him.

3. Unless otherwise agreed the term “letter of credit” or “banker’s credit” in a contract for sale means an irrevocable credit issued by a financing agency of good repute and, where the shipment is overseas, of good international repute. The term “confirmed credit” means that the credit must also carry the direct obligation of such an agency which does business in the seller’s financial market. [C66, 71, §554.2323]

Referred to in §554.2313

§554.2326 Sale on approval and sale or return —consignment sales and rights of creditors.

1. Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is
   a. a “sale on approval” if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and
   b. a “sale or return” if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

2. Except as provided in subsection 3, goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer’s creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer’s possession.

3. Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum". However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery

a. complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign, or

b. establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or

c. complies with the filing provisions of the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9).

4. Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this Article (section 554.2201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this Article on parol or extrinsic evidence (section 554.2202). [C24. 27, 31, 35, 39, §9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62.§554.20; C66, 71, §554.2326]

§554.2327 Special incidents of sale on approval and sale or return.

1. Under a sale on approval unless otherwise agreed

a. although the goods are identified to the contract the risk of loss and the title do not pass to the buyer until acceptance; and

b. use of the goods consistent with the purpose of trial is not accepted but failure seasonably to notify the seller of election to return the goods is acceptance, and if the goods conform to the contract acceptance of any part is acceptance of the whole; and

c. after due notification of election to return, the return is at the seller's risk and expense but a merchant buyer must follow any reasonable instructions.

2. Under a sale or return unless otherwise agreed

a. the option to return extends to the whole or any commercial unit of the goods while in substantially their original condition, but must be exercised seasonably; and

b. the return is at the buyer's risk and expense. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62.§554.20; C66, 71, §554.2327]

Referred to in §554.2509(4)

§554.2328 Sale by auction.

1. In a sale by auction if goods are put up in lots each lot is the subject of a separate sale.

2. A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer announces completion thereof by the fall of the hammer or in other customary manner. Where a bid is made while the hammer is falling in acceptance of a prior bid the auctioneer may in his discretion reopen the bidding or declare the goods sold under the bid on which the hammer was falling.

3. Such a sale is with reserve unless the goods are in explicit terms put up without reserve. In an auction with reserve the auctioneer may withdraw the goods at any time until he announces completion of the sale. In an auction without reserve after the auctioneer calls for bids on an article or lot, that article or lot cannot be withdrawn unless no bid is made within a reasonable time. In either case a bidder may retract his bid until the auctioneer's announcement of completion of the sale, but a bidder's retraction does not revive any previous bid.

4. If the auctioneer knowingly receives a bid on the seller's behalf or the seller makes or procures such a bid, and notice has not been given that liberty for such bidding is reserved, the buyer may at his option avoid the sale or take the goods at the price of the last good faith bid prior to the completion of the sale. This subsection shall not apply to any bid at a forced sale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9950; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62.§554.22; C66, 71, §554.2328]

PART 4

TITLE, CREDITORS AND GOOD FAITH PURCHASERS

§554.2401 Passing of title—reservation for security — limited application of this section.

Each provision of this Article with regard to the rights, obligations and remedies of the seller, the buyer, purchasers or other third parties applies irrespective of title to the goods except where the provision refers to such title. Insofar as situations are not covered by the other provisions of this Article and matters concerning title become material the following rules apply:

1. Title to goods cannot pass under a contract for sale prior to their identification to the contract (section 554.2501), and unless otherwise explicitly agreed the buyer acquires by their identification a special property as limited by this chapter. Any retention or reservation by the seller of the title (property) in goods shipped or delivered to the buyer is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. Subject to these provisions and to the provisions of the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9), title to goods passes from the seller to the buyer in any manner and on any conditions explicitly agreed on by the parties.

2. Unless otherwise explicitly agreed title passes to the buyer at the time and place at which the seller completes his performance with reference to the physical delivery of the goods, despite any reservation of a security interest and even though a document of title is to be delivered at a different time or place; and in particular and despite any reservation of a security interest by the bill of lading

a. if the contract requires or authorizes the seller to send the goods to the buyer but does not require him to deliver them at destination, title passes to the buyer at the time and place of shipment; but

b. if the contract requires delivery at destination, title passes on tender there.
3. Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods,
a. if the seller is to deliver a document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such documents; or
b. if the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting.

4. A rejection or other refusal by the buyer to receive or retain the goods, whether or not justified, or a justified revocation of acceptance vests title to the goods in the seller. Such vesting occurs by operation of law and is not a “sale”. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9946-9949; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.15-554.21; C66, 71,§554.2401]

554.2402 Rights of seller's creditors against sold goods.
1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 3, rights of unsecured creditors of the seller with respect to goods which have been identified to a contract for sale are subject to the buyer's rights to recover the goods under this Article (sections 554.2502 and 554.2716).

2. A creditor of the seller may treat a sale or an identification of goods to a contract for sale as void if as against him a retention of possession by the seller is fraudulent under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated, except that retention of possession in good faith and current course of trade by a merchant-seller for a commercially reasonable time after a sale or Identification is not fraudulent.

3. Nothing in this Article shall be deemed to impair the rights of creditors of the seller
a. under the provisions of the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9); or
b. where identification to the contract or delivery is made not in current course of trade but in satisfaction of or as security for a pre-existing claim for money, security or the like and is made under circumstances which under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated would apart from this Article constitute the transaction a fraudulent transfer or voidable preference. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9935; C46, 50, 54, 56, 62,§554.27; C66, 71,§554.2402]

554.2403 Power to transfer—good faith purchase of goods—“entrusting”.

1. A purchaser of goods acquires all title which his transferee had or had power to transfer except that a purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased. A person with voidable title has power to transfer a good title to a good faith purchaser for value. When goods have been delivered under a transaction of purchase the purchaser has such power even though
a. the transferee was deceived as to the identity of the purchaser, or
b. the delivery was in exchange for a check which is later dishonored, or
c. it was agreed that the transaction was to be a “cash sale”, or
d. the delivery was procured through fraud punishable as larcenous under the criminal law.

2. Any entrusting of possession of goods to a merchant who deals in goods of that kind gives him power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in ordinary course of business. However, any entrusting of farm products to a person engaged in farming operations shall not give the farmer the power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in the ordinary course of business if the entruster perfects a security interest as provided in Article 9.

3. “Entrusting” includes any delivery and any acquiescence in retention of possession regardless of any condition expressed between the parties to the delivery or acquiescence and regardless of whether the procurement of the entrusting or the possessor’s disposition of the goods have been such as to be larcenous under the criminal law.

4. The rights of other purchasers of goods and of lien creditors are governed by the Articles on Secured Transactions (Article 9), Bulk Transfers (Article 6) and Documents of Title (Article 7). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9949, 9952-9954; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.21-554.26; C66, 71,§554.2403]

554.2501 Insurable interest in goods—manner of identification of goods.

1. The buyer obtains a special property and an insurable interest in goods by identification of existing goods as goods to which the contract refers even though the goods so identified are nonconforming and he has an option to return or reject them. Such identification can be made at any time and in any manner explicitly agreed to by the parties. In the absence of explicit agreement identification occurs
a. when the contract is made if it is for the sale of goods already existing and identified;
b. if the contract is for the sale of future goods other than those described in paragraph "a", when goods are shipped, marked or otherwise designated by the seller as goods to which the contract refers;
c. when the crops are planted or otherwise become growing crops or the young are conceived if the contract is for the sale of unborn young to be born within twelve months after contracting or for the sale of crops to be harvested within twelve months or the next normal harvest season after contracting whichever is longer.

2. The seller retains an insurable interest in goods so long as title to or any security interest in the goods remains in him and where the identification is by the seller alone he may until default or insolvency or notification to the buyer that the identification is final substitute other goods for those identified.

3. Nothing in this section impairs any insurable interest recognized under any other statute or rule of law. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9946, 9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.18, 554.20; C66, 71, §§554.2501]

554.2502 Buyer's right to goods on seller's insolvency.

1. Subject to subsection 2 and even though the goods have not been shipped a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which he has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if the seller is insolvent at the time of receipt of the first installment on their price or becomes insolvent within ten days thereafter.

2. If the identification creating his special property has been made by the buyer he acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9946-9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.18-554.20; C66, 71, §§554.2502]

554.2503 Manner of seller's tender of delivery.

1. Tender of delivery requires that the seller put and hold conforming goods at the buyer's disposition and give the buyer any notification reasonably necessary to enable him to take delivery. The manner, time and place for tender are determined by the agreement and this Article, and in particular

a. tender must be at a reasonable hour, and if it is of goods they must be kept available for the period reasonably necessary to enable the buyer to take possession; but

b. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must furnish facilities reasonably suited to the receipt of the goods.

2. Where the case is within the next section respecting shipment tender requires that the seller comply with its provisions.

3. Where the seller is required to deliver at a particular destination tender requires that he comply with subsection 1 and also in any appropriate case tender documents as described in subsections 4 and 5 of this section.

4. Where goods are in the possession of a bailee and are to be delivered without being moved

a. tender requires that the seller either tender a negotiable document of title covering such goods or procure acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; but

b. tender to the buyer of a nonnegotiable document of title or of a written direction to the bailee to deliver is sufficient tender unless the buyer seasonably objects, and receipt by the bailee of notification of the buyer's rights fixes those rights as against the bailee and all third persons; but risk of loss of the goods and of any failure by the bailee to honor the nonnegotiable document of title or to obey the direction remains on the seller until the buyer has had a reasonable time to present the document or direction, and a refusal by the bailee to honor the document or to obey the direction defeats the tender.

Referred to in §§554.2506(2, c)

5. Where the contract requires the seller to deliver documents

a. he must tender all such documents in correct form except as provided in this Article with respect to bills of lading in a set (subsection 2 of section 554.2223) and

b. tender through customary banking channels is sufficient and dishonor of a draft accompanying the documents constitutes nonacceptance or rejection. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9940, 9948, 9949, 9972, 9975, 9980; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.12, 554.20, 554.21, 554.44, 554.47, 554.52; C66, 71, §§554.2503]

554.2504 Shipment by seller. Where the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer and the contract does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, then unless otherwise agreed he must

a. put the goods in the possession of such a carrier and make such a contract for their transportation as may be reasonable having regard to the nature of the goods and other circumstances of the case; and

b. obtain and promptly deliver or tender in due form any document necessary to enable the buyer to obtain possession of the goods or otherwise required by the agreement or by usage of trade; and

c. promptly notify the buyer of the shipment. Failure to notify the buyer under paragraph "c" or to make a proper contract under paragraph "a" is a ground for rejection only if material delay or loss ensues. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9973; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.47; C66, 71, §§554.2504]

554.2505 Seller's shipment under reservation.

1. Where the seller has identified goods to the contract by or before shipment:

a. his procurement of a negotiable bill of lading to his own order or otherwise reserves in him a security interest in the goods. His procurement of the bill to the order of a financing agency or of the buyer indicates in addition only the seller's expectation of transferring that interest to the person named.

b. a nonnegotiable bill of lading to himself or his nominee reserves possession of the goods as security but except in a case of conditional delivery (subsection 2 of section 554.2507) a nonnegotiable bill of lading naming the buyer as consignee reserves no security interest even though the seller retains possession of the bill of lading.

2. When shipment by the seller with reservation of a security interest is in violation of the contract for sale it constitutes an improper contract for transportation within the preceding section but impairs neither the rights given to the buyer by shipment and identification of the goods to the contract nor the seller's powers as a holder of a negotiable document. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9949; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.21; C66, 71, §554.2505]

§554.2506 Rights of financing agency.

1. A financing agency by paying or purchasing for value a draft which relates to a shipment of goods acquires to the extent of the payment or purchase and in addition to its own rights under the draft and any document of title securing it any rights of the shipper in the goods including the right to stop delivery and the shipper's right to have the draft honored by the buyer.

2. The right to reimbursement of a financing agency which has in good faith honored or purchased the draft under commitment to or authority from the buyer is not impaired by subsequent discovery of defects with reference to any relevant document which was apparently regular on its face. [S13, §1398-5036; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8281; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §497.37; C66, 71, §554.2506]

§554.2507 Effect of seller's tender—delivery on condition.

1. Tender of delivery is a condition to the buyer's duty to accept the goods and, unless otherwise agreed, to his duty to pay for them. Tender entitles the seller to acceptance of the goods and to payment according to the contract.

2. Where payment is due and demanded on the delivery to the buyer of goods or documents of title, his right as against the seller to retain or dispose of them is conditional upon his making the payment due. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9040, 9070, 9071, 9098; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.12, 554.42, 554.43, 554.70; C66, 71, §554.2507]

§554.2508 Cure by seller of improper tender or delivery—replacement.

1. Where any tender or delivery by the seller is rejected because nonconforming and the time for performance has not yet expired, the seller may seasonably notify the buyer of his intention to cure and may then within the contract time make a conforming delivery.

2. Where the buyer rejects a nonconforming tender which the seller had reasonable grounds to believe would be acceptable with or without money allowance the seller may if he seasonably notifies the buyer have a further reasonable time to substitute a conforming tender. [C66, 71, §554.2508]

§554.2509 Risk of loss in the absence of breach.

1. Where the contract requires or authorizes the seller to ship the goods by carrier

a. If it does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are duly delivered to the carrier even though the shipment is under reservation (section 554.2505); but

b. If it does require him to deliver them at a particular destination and the goods are there duly tendered while in the possession of the carrier, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are there duly so tendered as to enable the buyer to take delivery.

2. Where the goods are held by a bailee to be delivered without being moved, the risk of loss passes to the buyer

a. on his receipt of a negotiable document of title covering the goods; or

b. on acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; or

c. after his receipt of a nonnegotiable document of title or other written direction to deliver, as provided in subsection 4 "b" of section 554.2508.

3. In any case not within subsection 1 or 2, the risk of loss passes to the buyer on his receipt of the goods if the seller is a merchant; otherwise the risk passes to the buyer on tender of delivery.

4. The provisions of this section are subject to contrary agreement of the parties and to the provisions of this Article on sale on approval (section 554.2327) and on effect of breach on risk of loss (section 554.2510). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9063; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.29; C66, 71, §554.2509]

§554.2510 Effect of breach on risk of loss.

1. Where a tender or delivery of goods so fails to conform to the contract as to give a right of rejection the risk of their loss remains on the seller until cure or acceptance.

2. Where the buyer rightfully revokes acceptance he may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as having rested on the seller from the beginning.

3. Where the buyer as to conforming goods already identified to the contract for sale repudiates or is otherwise in breach before risk of their loss has passed to him, the seller may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as resting on the buyer for a commercially reasonable time. [C66, 71, §554.2510]

§554.2511 Tender of payment by buyer—payment by check.

1. Unless otherwise agreed tender of payment is a condition to the seller's duty to tender and complete any delivery.

2. Tender of payment is sufficient when made by any means or in any manner current in the ordinary course of business unless the seller demands payment in legal tender and gives any extension of time reasonably necessary to procure it.

3. Subject to the provisions of this chapter on the effect of an instrument on an obligation (section 554.3802), payment by check is conditional and is defeated as between the parties by dishonor of the check on due presentment. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9971; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.43; C66, 71,§554.2511]

§554.2602 Manner and effect of acceptance—when on payment. Unless otherwise agreed documents against which a draft is drawn are to be delivered to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than three days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment. [§13,§3138-b40; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§8285; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§487.41; C66, 71, §554.2514]

§554.2603 Preserving evidence of goods in dispute. In furtherance of the adjustment of any claim or dispute
a. either party on reasonable notification to the other and for the purpose of ascertaining the facts and preserving evidence has the right to inspect, test and sample the goods including such of them as may be in the possession or control of the other; and
b. the parties may agree to a third party inspection or survey to determine the conformity or condition of the goods and may agree that the findings shall be binding upon them in any subsequent litigation or adjustment. [C66, 71,§554.2515]

BREACH, REPUDIATION AND EXCUSE
§554.2601 Buyer's rights on improper delivery. Subject to the provisions of this Article on breach in installment contracts (section 554.2612) and unless otherwise agreed under the sections on contractual limitations of remedy (sections 554.2718 and 554.2719), if the goods or the tender of delivery fail in any respect to conform to the contract, the buyer may
a. reject the whole; or
b. accept the whole; or
c. accept any commercial unit or units and reject the rest. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9940, 9973, 9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.12, 554.45, 554.70; C66, 71,§554.2601]

§554.2602 Manner and effect of rightful rejection.
1. Rejection of goods must be within a reasonable time after their delivery or tender. It is ineffective unless the buyer seasonably notifies the seller. Refered to in §554.2606
2. Subject to the provisions of the two following sections on rejected goods (sections 551.2603 and 551.2604),
a. after rejection any exercise of ownership by the buyer with respect to any commercial unit is wrongful as against the seller; and
b. if the buyer has before rejection taken physical possession of goods in which he does not have a security interest under the provisions of this Article (subsection 3 of section 554.2711), he is under a duty after rejection to hold them with reasonable care at the seller's disposition for a time sufficient to permit the seller to remove them; but
c. the buyer has no further obligations with regard to goods rightfully rejected.
3. The seller's rights with respect to goods wrongfully rejected are governed by the provisions of this Article on Seller's remedies in general (section 554.2703). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9979; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.51; C66, 71, §554.2602]

1. Subject to any security interest in the buyer (subsection 3 of section 554.2711), when the seller has no agent or place of business at the market of rejection a merchant buyer is under a duty after rejection of goods in his possession or control to follow any reasonable instructions received from the seller with respect to the goods and in the absence of such instructions to make reasonable efforts to sell them for the seller's account if they are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily. Instructions are not reasonable if on demand indemnity for expenses is not forthcoming.

2. When the buyer sells goods under subsection 1, he is entitled to reimbursement from the seller or out of the proceeds for reasonable expenses of caring for and selling them, and if the expenses include no selling commission then to such commission as is usual in the trade or if there is none to a reasonable sum not exceeding ten percent on the gross proceeds.

3. In complying with this section the buyer Is held only to good faith and good faith conduct hereunder is neither acceptance nor conversion nor the basis of an action for damages. [C66, 71,§554.2603]

§554.2604 Buyer's options as to salvage of rightfully rejected goods. Subject to the provisions of the immediately preceding section on perishables if the seller gives no instructions within a reasonable time after notification of rejection the buyer may store the rejected goods for the seller's account or reship them to him or resell them for the seller's account with reimbursement as provided in the preceding section. Such action is not acceptance or conversion. [C66, 71,§554.2604]

§554.2605 Waiver of buyer's objections by failure to particularize.

1. The buyer's failure to state in connection with rejection a particular defect which is ascertainable by reasonable inspection precludes him from relying on the unstated defect to justify rejection or to establish breach a. where the seller could have cured it if stated seasonably; or
    b. between merchants when the seller has after rejection made a request in writing for a full and final written statement of all defects on which the buyer proposes to rely.

2. Payment against documents made without reservation of rights precludes recovery of the payment for defects apparent on the face of the documents. [C66, 71,§554.2605]

§554.2606 What constitutes acceptance of goods.

1. Acceptance of goods occurs when the buyer
   a. after a reasonable opportunity to inspect the goods signifies to the seller that the goods are conforming or that he will take or retain them in spite of their nonconformity; or
   b. fails to make an effective rejection (subsection 1 of section 554.2602), but such acceptance does not occur until the buyer has had a reasonable opportunity to inspect them; or
   c. does any act inconsistent with the seller's ownership; but if such act is wrongful as against the seller it is an acceptance only if ratified by him.

2. Acceptance of a part of any commercial unit is acceptance of that entire unit. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9977; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.49; C66, 71,§554.2606]

§554.2607 Effect of acceptance—notice of breach—burden of establishing breach after acceptance—notice of claim or litigation to person answerable over.

1. The buyer must pay at the contract rate for any goods accepted.

2. Acceptance of goods by the buyer precludes rejection of the goods accepted and if made with knowledge of a nonconformity cannot be revoked because of it unless the acceptance was on the reasonable assumption that the nonconformity would be seasonably cured but acceptance does not of itself impair any other remedy provided by this Article for nonconformity.

3. Where a tender has been accepted.
   a. the buyer must within a reasonable time after he discovers or should have discovered any breach notify the seller of breach or be barred from any remedy; and
   b. if the claim is one for infringement or the like (subsection 3 of section 554.2312) and the buyer is sued as a result of such a breach he must so notify the seller within a reasonable time after he receives notice of the litigation or be barred from any remedy over for liability established by the litigation.

4. The burden is on the buyer to establish any breach with respect to the goods accepted.

5. Where the buyer is sued for breach of a warranty or other obligation for which his seller is answerable over
   a. he may give his seller written notice of the litigation. If the notice states that the seller may come in and defend and that if the seller does not do so he will be bound in any action against him by his buyer by any determination of fact common to the two litigations, then unless the seller after seasonable receipt of the notice does come in and defend he is so bound.
   b. if the claim is one for infringement or the like (subsection 3 of section 554.2312) the original seller may demand in writing that his 554.2608 Revocation of acceptance in whole or in part.

1. The buyer may revoke his acceptance of a lot or commercial unit whose nonconformity substantially impairs its value to him if he has accepted it on the reasonable assumption that its nonconformity would be cured and it has not been seasonably cured; or

b. without discovery of such nonconformity if his acceptance was reasonably induced either by the difficulty of discovery before acceptance or by the seller's assurances.

2. Revocation of acceptance must occur within a reasonable time after the buyer discovers or should have discovered the ground for it and before any substantial change in condition of the goods which is not caused by their own defects. It is not effective until the buyer notifies the seller of it.

3. A buyer who so revokes has the same rights and duties with regard to the goods involved as if he had rejected them. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9990, 9997, 9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.42, 554.50, 554.70; C66, 71, §554.2607]

554.2609 Right to adequate assurance of performance.

1. A contract for sale imposes an obligation on each party that the other's expectation of receiving due performance will not be impaired. When reasonable grounds for insecurity arise with respect to the performance of either party the other may in writing demand adequate assurance of due performance and until he receives such assurance may if commercially reasonable suspend any performance for which he has not already received the agreed return.

2. Between merchants the reasonableness of grounds for insecurity and the adequacy of any assurance offered shall be determined according to commercial standards.

3. Acceptance of any improper delivery or payment does not prejudice the aggrieved party's right to demand adequate assurance of future performance.

4. After receipt of a justifed demand failure to provide within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days such assurance of due performance as is adequate under the circumstances of the particular case is a repudiation of the contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9992-9994, 9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.54-554.56, 554.64; C66, 71, §554.2609]

554.2610 Anticipatory repudiation. When either party repudiates the contract with respect to a performance not yet due the loss of which will substantially impair the value of the contract to the other, the aggrieved party may

a. for a commercially reasonable time await performance by the repudiating party;

b. resort to any remedy for breach (section 554.2703 or 554.2711), even though he has notified the repudiating party that he would await the latter's performance and has urged retraction; and

c. in either case suspend his own performance or proceed in accordance with the provisions of this Article on the seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods (section 554.2704). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9992, 9994; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.64, 554.66; C66, 71, §554.2610]

554.2611 Retraction of anticipatory repudiation.

1. Until the repudiating party's next performance is due he can retract his repudiation unless the aggrieved party has since the repudiation canceled or materially changed his position or otherwise indicated that he considers the repudiation final.

2. Retraction may be by any method which clearly indicates to the aggrieved party that the repudiating party intends to perform, but must include any assurance justifiably demanded under the provisions of this Article (section 554.2609).

3. Retraction reinstates the repudiating party's rights under the contract with due excuse and allowance to the aggrieved party for any delay occasioned by the repudiation. [C66, 71, §554.2611]

554.2612 "Installment contract"—breach.

1. An "installment contract" is one which requires or authorizes the delivery of goods in separate lots to be separately accepted, even though the contract contains a clause "each delivery is a separate contract" or its equivalent.

2. The buyer may reject any installment which is nonconforming if the nonconformity substantially impairs the value of that installment and cannot be cured or if the nonconformity is a defect in the required documents; but if the nonconformity does not fall within subsection 3 and the seller gives adequate assurance of its cure the buyer must accept that installment.

3. Whenever nonconformity or default with respect to one or more installments substantially impairs the value of the whole contract there is a breach of the whole. But the aggrieved party reinstates the contract if he accepts a nonconforming installment without seasonably notifying of cancellation or if he brings an action with respect only to past installments or demands performance as to future installations. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9974; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.46; C66, 71,§554.2612]

Referred to in §§554.2103(2), 554.2601, 554.2616, 554.2703, 554.2711(1)

§554.2613 Casualty to identified goods. Where the contract requires for its performance goods identified when the contract is made, and the goods suffer casualty without fault of either party before the risk of loss passes to the buyer, or in a proper case under a “no arrival, no sale” term (section 554.2324) then

a. If the loss is total the contract is avoided; and

b. If the loss is partial or the goods have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract the buyer may nevertheless demand inspection and at his option either treat the contract as avoided or accept the goods with due allowance from the contract price for the deterioration or the deficiency in quantity but without further right against the seller. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9930, 9937; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§554.8, 554.9; C66, 71,§554.2613]

Referred to in §554.2614

1. Where without fault of either party the agreed berthing, loading, or unloading facilities fail or an agreed type of carrier becomes unavailable or the agreed manner of delivery otherwise becomes commercially impracticable but a commercially reasonable substitute is available, such substitute performance must be tendered and accepted.

2. If the agreed means or manner of payment fails because of domestic or foreign governmental regulation, the seller may withhold or stop delivery unless the buyer provides a means or manner of payment which is commercially a substantial equivalent. If delivery has already been taken, payment by the means or in the manner provided by the regulation discharges the buyer's obligation unless the regulation is discriminatory, oppressive or predatory. [C66, 71,§554.2614]

§554.2615 Excuse by failure of presupposed conditions. Except so far as a seller may have assumed a greater obligation and subject to the preceding section on substituted performance:

a. Delay in delivery or nondelivery in whole or in part by a seller who complies with paragraphs “b” and “c” is not a breach of his duty under a contract for sale if performance as agreed has been made impracticable by the occurrence of a contingency the nonoccurrence of which was a basic assumption on which the contract was made or by compliance in good faith with any applicable foreign or domestic governmental regulation or order whether or not it later proves to be invalid.

b. Where the causes mentioned in paragraph “a” affect only a part of the seller's capacity to perform, he must allocate production and deliveries among his customers but may at his option include regular customers not then under contract as well as his own requirements for further manufacture. He may so allocate in any manner which is fair and reasonable.

c. The seller must notify the buyer seasonably that there will be delay or nondelivery and, when allocation is required under paragraph “b”, of the estimated quota thus made available for the buyer. [C66, 71,§554.2615]

1. Where the buyer receives notification of a material or indefinite delay or an allocation justified under the preceding section he may by written notification to the seller as to any delivery concerned, and where the prospective deficiency substantially impairs the value of the whole contract under the provisions of this Article relating to breach of installment contracts (section 554.2612), then also as to the whole,

a. Terminate and thereby discharge any unexecuted portion of the contract; or

b. Modify the contract by agreeing to take his available quota in substitution.

2. If after receipt of such notification from the seller the buyer fails so to modify the contract within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days the contract lapses with respect to any deliveries affected. [C66, 71,§554.2616]

REMEDIES

§554.2701 Remedies for breach of collateral contracts not impaired. Remedies for breach of any obligation or promise collateral or ancillary to a contract for sale are not impaired by the provisions of this Article. [C66, 71,§554.2701]

§554.2702 Seller's remedies on discovery of buyer's insolvency.

1. Where the seller discovers the buyer to be insolvent he may refuse delivery except for cash including payment for all goods theretofore delivered under the contract, and stop delivery under this Article (section 554.2705).

2. Where the seller discovers that the buyer has received goods on credit while insolvent he may reclaim the goods upon demand made within ten days after the receipt, but if misrepresentation of solvency has been made to the particular seller in writing within three months before delivery the ten-day limitation does not apply. Except as provided in this subsection the seller may not base a right to reclaim goods on the buyer's fraudulent or innocent misrepresentation of solvency or of intent to pay.

3. The seller's right to reclaim under subsection 2 is subject to the rights of a buyer in ordinary course or other good faith purchaser or lien creditor under this Article (section 554.2403). Successful reclamation of goods ex-eludes all other remedies with respect to them. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9982, 9983, 9986; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.54, 554.55, 554.58; C66, 71, §554.2702]

Referred to in §554.2705(1)

554.2703 Seller's remedies in general. Where the buyer wrongfully rejects or revokes acceptance of goods or fails to make a payment due on or before delivery or repudiates with respect to a part or the whole, then with respect to any goods directly affected and, if the breach is of the whole contract (section 554.2612), then also with respect to the whole undelivered balance, the aggrieved seller may:

a. withhold delivery of such goods;

b. stop delivery by any bailee as hereafter provided (section 554.2705);

c. proceed under the next section respecting goods still unidentified to the contract;

d. resell and recover damages as hereafter provided (section 554.2706);

e. recover damages for nonacceptance (section 554.2708) or in a proper case the price (section 554.2709);

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9993; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.65; C66, 71, §554.2703]

Referred to in §§554.2902(5), 554.2904, 554.2706(1)

554.2704 Seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods.

1. An aggrieved seller under the preceding section may:

a. identify to the contract conforming goods not already identified if at the time he learned of the breach they are in his possession or control;

b. treat as the subject of resale goods which have demonstrably been intended for the particular contract even though those goods are unfinished.

2. Where the goods are unfinished an aggrieved seller may in the exercise of reasonable commercial judgment for the purposes of avoiding loss and of effective realization either complete the manufacture and wholly identify the goods to the contract or cease manufacture and resell for scrap or salvage value or proceed in any other reasonable manner. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9992, 9993; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.64, 554.65; C66, 71, §554.2704]

Referred to in §554.2904

1. The seller may stop delivery of goods in the possession of a carrier or other bailee when he discovers the buyer to be insolvent (section 554.2702) and may stop delivery of carload, truckload, planeload or larger shipments of express or freight when the buyer repudiates or fails to make a payment due before delivery or if for any other reason the seller has a right to withhold or reclaim the goods.

2. As against such buyer the seller may stop delivery until

a. receipt of the goods by the buyer; or

b. acknowledgment to the buyer by any bailee of the goods except a carrier that the bailee holds the goods for the buyer; or

c. such acknowledgment to the buyer by a carrier by reshipment or as warehouseman; or

d. negotiation to the buyer of any negotiable document of title covering the goods.

3. a. To stop delivery the seller must so notify as to enable the bailee by reasonable diligence to prevent delivery of the goods.

b. After such notification the bailee must hold and deliver the goods according to the directions of the seller but the seller is liable to the bailee for any ensuing charges or damages.

c. If a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods the bailee is not obliged to obey a notification to stop until surrender of the document.

d. A carrier who has issued a nonnegotiable bill of lading is not required to obey a notification to stop received from a person other than the consignor. Referred to in §§554.2702, 554.2704, 554.2707, 554.7403 (1, d), 554.7604(4)

1. Under the conditions stated in section 554.2703 on seller's remedies, the seller may resell the goods concerned or the undelivered balance thereof. Where the resale is made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the seller may recover the difference between the resale price and the contract price together with any incidental damages allowed under the provisions of this Article (section 554.2710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 or unless otherwise agreed resale may be at public or private sale including sale by way of one or more contracts to sell or of identification to an existing contract of the seller. Sale may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the sale including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. The resale must be reasonably identified as referring to the broken contract, but it is not necessary that the goods be in existence or that any or all of them have been identified to the contract before the breach.

3. Where the resale is at private sale the seller must give the buyer reasonable notification of his intention to resell.

4. Where the resale is at public sale:

a. only identified goods can be sold except where there is a recognized market for a public sale of futures in goods of the kind; and
§554.2706, UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE

b. it must be made at a usual place or market for public sale if one is reasonably available and except in the case of goods which are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily the seller must give the buyer reasonable notice of the time and place of the resale; and

c. if the goods are not to be within the view of those attending the sale the notification of sale must state the place where the goods are located and provide for their reasonable inspection by prospective bidders; and

d. the seller may buy.

5. A purchaser who buys in good faith at a resale takes the goods free of any rights of the original buyer even though the seller fails to comply with one or more of the requirements of this section.

6. The seller is not accountable to the buyer for any profit made on any resale. A person in the position of a seller (section 554.2707) or a buyer who has rightfully rejected or justifiably revoked acceptance must account for any excess over the amount of his security interest, as hereinafter defined (subsection 3 of section 554.2711). [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.65; C66, 71, §554.2708]

554.2707 "Person in the position of a seller".

1. A "person in the position of a seller" includes as against a principal an agent who has paid or become responsible for the price of goods on behalf of his principal or anyone who otherwise holds a security interest or other right in goods similar to that of a seller.

2. A person in the position of a seller may as provided in this Article withhold or stop delivery (section 554.2705) and resell (section 554.2706) and recover incidental damages (section 554.2710). [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9981; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.53; C66, 71, §554.2707]

554.2708 Seller's damages for nonacceptance or repudiation.

1. Subject to subsection 2 and to the provisions of this Article with respect to proof of market price (section 554.2723), the measure of damages for nonacceptance or repudiation by the buyer is the difference between the market price at the time and place for tender and the unpaid contract price together with any incidental damages provided in this Article (section 554.2710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

2. If the measure of damages provided in subsection 1 is inadequate to put the seller in as good a position as performance would have done then the measure of damages is the profit (including reasonable overhead) which the seller would have made from full performance by the buyer, together with any incidental damages provided in this Article (section 554.2710), due allowance for costs reasonably incurred and due credit for payments or proceeds of resale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.65; C66, 71, §554.2708]

554.2710 Action for the price.

1. When the buyer fails to pay the price as it becomes due the seller may recover, together with any incidental damages under the next section, the price

a. of goods accepted or of conforming goods lost or damaged within a commercially reasonable time after risk of their loss has passed to the buyer; and

b. if goods identified to the contract if the seller is unable after reasonable effort to resell them at a reasonable price or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing.

2. Where the seller sues for the price he must hold for the buyer any goods which have been identified to the contract and are still in his control except that if resale becomes possible he may resell them at any time prior to the collection of the judgment. The net proceeds of any such resale must be credited to the buyer and payment of the judgment entitles him to any goods not resold.

3. After the buyer has wrongfully rejected or revoked acceptance of the goods or has failed to make a payment due or has repudiated (section 554.2610), a seller who is held not entitled to the price under this section shall nevertheless be awarded damages for nonacceptance under the preceding section. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.64; C66, 71, §554.2709]

Referred to in §554.2703

554.2710 Seller's incidental damages. Incidental damages to an aggrieved seller include any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions incurred in stopping delivery, in the transportation, care and custody of goods after the buyer's breach, in connection with return or resale of the goods or otherwise resulting from the breach. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §§9993, 9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.65; C66, 71, §554.2710]

554.2711 Buyer's remedies in general—buyer's security interest in rejected goods.

1. Where the seller fails to make delivery or repudiates or the buyer rightfully rejects or justifiably revokes acceptance then with respect to any goods involved, and with respect to the whole if the breach goes to the whole contract (section 554.2612), the buyer may cancel and whether or not he has done so may in addition to recovering so much of the price as has been paid

a. "cover" and have damages under the next section as to all the goods affected whether or not they have been identified to the contract;

b. recover damages for nondelivery as provided in this Article (section 554.2713).

2. Where the seller fails to deliver or repudiates the buyer may also
a. if the goods have been identified recover them as provided in this Article (section 554.2502); or

b. in a proper case obtain specific performance or replevy the goods as provided in this Article (section 554.2716).

3. On rightful rejection or justifiable revocation of acceptance a buyer has a security interest in goods in his possession or control for any payments made on their price and any expenses reasonably incurred in their inspection, receipt, transportation, care and custody and may hold such goods and resell them in like manner as an aggrieved seller (section 554.2706). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70; C66, 71, §554.2711]

Referred to in §§554.2602(3, 6), 554.2603(1), 554.2610, 554.2616(6)

554.2712 "Cover"—buyer's procurement of substitute goods.

1. After a breach within the preceding section the buyer may "cover" by making in good faith and without unreasonable delay any reasonable purchase of or contract to purchase goods in substitution for those due from the seller.

2. The buyer may recover from the seller as damages the difference between the cost of cover and the contract price together with any incidental or consequential damages as hereinafter defined (section 554.2715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

3. Failure of the buyer to effect cover within this section does not bar him from any other remedy. [C66, 71, §554.2712]

Referred to in §554.2103(2)

554.2713 Buyer's damages for nondelivery or repudiation.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Article with respect to proof of market price (section 554.2723), the measure of damages for nondelivery or repudiation by the seller is the difference between the market price at the time when the buyer learned of the breach and the contract price together with any incidental or consequential damages provided in this Article (section 554.2715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

2. Market price is to be determined as of the place for tender or, in cases of rejection after arrival or revocation of acceptance, as of the place of arrival. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.68; C66, 71, §554.2713]

1. Where the buyer has accepted goods and given notification (subsection 3 of section 554.2607) he may recover as damages for any nonconformity of tender the loss resulting in the ordinary course of events from the seller's breach as determined in any manner which is reasonable.

2. The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the difference at the time and place of acceptance between the value of the goods accepted and the value they would have had if they had been as warranted, unless special circumstances show proximate damages of a different amount.

3. In a proper case any incidental and consequential damages under the next section may also be recovered. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70; C66, 71, §554.2714]

554.2715 Buyer's incidental and consequential damages.

1. Incidental damages resulting from the seller's breach include expenses reasonably incurred in inspection, receipt, transportation and care and custody of goods rightfully rejected, any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions in connection with effecting cover and any other reasonable expense incident to the delay or other breach.

2. Consequential damages resulting from the seller's breach include

a. any loss resulting from general or particular requirements and needs of which the seller at the time of contracting had reason to know and which could not reasonably be prevented by cover or otherwise; and

b. injury to person or property proximately resulting from any breach of warranty. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998, 9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70, 554.71; C66, 71, §554.2715]

554.2716 Buyer's right to specific performance or replevin.

1. Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

2. The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

3. The buyer has a right of replevin for goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort he is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods have been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in them has been made or tendered. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9995, 9997; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.67, 554.69; C66, 71, §554.2716]

Referred to in §§554.2402, 554.2711(3, 6)

554.2717 Deduction of damages from the price. The buyer on notifying the seller of his intention to do so may deduct all or any part of the damages resulting from any breach of the contract from any part of the price still due under the same contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70; C66, 71, §554.2717]

554.2718 Liquidation or limitation of damages—deposits.

1. Damages for breach by either party may be liquidated in the agreement but only at an amount which is reasonable in the light of the anticipated or actual harm caused by the breach, the difficulties of proof of loss, and the inconvenience or nonfeasibility of otherwise obtaining an adequate remedy. A term fixing unreasonably large liquidated damages is void as a penalty.

2. Where the seller justifiably withholding delivery of goods because of the buyer’s breach, the buyer is entitled to restitution of any amount by which the sum of his payments exceeds:
   a. the amount to which the seller is entitled by virtue of terms liquidating the seller’s damages in accordance with subsection 1, or
   b. in the absence of such terms, twenty percent of the value of the total performance for which the buyer is obligated under the contract or five hundred dollars, whichever is smaller.

3. The buyer’s right to restitution under subsection 2 is subject to offset to the extent that the seller establishes:
   a. a right to recover damages under the provisions of this Article other than subsection 1, and
   b. the amount or value of any benefits received by the buyer directly or indirectly by reason of the contract.

4. Where a seller has received payment in goods their reasonable value or the proceeds of their resale shall be treated as payments for the purposes of subsection 2; but if the seller has notice of the buyer’s breach before reselling goods received in part performance, his resale is subject to the conditions laid down in this Article on resale by an aggrieved seller (section 554.2706).

554.2719 Contractual modification or limitation of remedy.

1. Subject to the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of this section and of the preceding section on liquidation and limitation of damages,
   a. the agreement may provide for remedies in addition to or in substitution for those provided in this Article and may limit or alter the measure of damages recoverable under this Article, as by limiting the buyer’s remedies to return of the goods and repayment of the price or to repair and replacement of nonconforming goods or parts; and
   b. resort to a remedy as provided is optional unless the remedy is expressly agreed to be exclusive, in which case it is the sole remedy.

2. Where circumstances cause an exclusive or limited remedy to fail of its essential purpose, remedy may be had as provided in this chapter.

3. Consequential damages may be limited or excluded unless the limitation or exclusion is unconscionable. Limitation of consequential damages for injury to the person in the case of consumer goods is prima-facie unconscionable but limitation of damages where the loss is commercial is not.

554.2720 Effect of “cancellation” or “rescission” on claims for antecedent breach. Unless the contrary intention clearly appears, expressions of “cancellation” or “rescission” of the contract or the like shall not be construed as a renunciation or discharge of any claim in damages for an antecedent breach.

554.2721 Remedies for fraud. Remedies for material misrepresentation or fraud include all remedies available under this Article for nonfraudulent breach. Neither rescission or a claim for rescission of the contract for sale nor rejection or return of the goods shall bar or be deemed inconsistent with a claim for damages or other remedy.

554.2722 Who can sue third parties for injury to goods. Where a third party so deals with goods which have been identified to a contract for sale as to cause actionable injury to a party to that contract:
   a. a right of action against the third party in either party to the contract for sale who has title to or a security interest or a special property or an insurable interest in the goods; and if the goods have been destroyed or converted a right of action is also in the party who either bore the risk of loss under the contract for sale or has since the injury assumed the risk as against the other;
   b. if at the time of the injury the party plaintiff did not bear the risk of loss as against the other party to the contract for sale and there is no arrangement between them for disposition of the recovery, his suit or settlement is, subject to his own interest, as a fiduciary for the other party to the contract;
   c. either party may with the consent of the other sue for the benefit of whom it may concern.

554.2723 Proof of market price—time and place.

1. If an action based on anticipatory repudiation comes to trial before the time for performance with respect to some or all of the goods, any damages based on market price (section 554.2708 or 554.2713) shall be determined according to the price of such goods prevailing at the time when the aggrieved party learned of the repudiation.

2. If evidence of a price prevailing at the times or places described in this Article is not readily available the price prevailing within any reasonable time before or after the time described or at any other place which in commercial judgment or under usage of trade would serve as a reasonable substitute for the one described may be used, making any proper allowance for the cost of transporting the goods to or from such other place.

3. Evidence of a relevant price prevailing at a time or place other than the one described in this Article offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise. [C66, 71, §554.2722]

554.2724 Admissibility of market quotations. Whenever the prevailing price or value of any goods regularly bought and sold in any established commodity market is in issue, reports in official publications or trade journals or in newspapers or periodicals of general circulation published as the reports of such market shall be admissible in evidence. The circumstances of the preparation of such a report may be shown to affect its weight but not its admissibility. [C66, 71, §554.2724]

1. By the original agreement the parties may reduce the period of limitation to not less than one year but may not extend it.

2. A cause of action accrues when the breach occurs, regardless of the aggrieved party's lack of knowledge of the breach. A breach of warranty occurs when tender of delivery is made, except that where a warranty explicitly extends to future performance of the goods and discovery of the breach must await the time of such performance the cause of action accrues when the breach is or should have been discovered.

3. Where an action commenced within the time limited by law* or by agreement as provided in subsection 1 is so terminated as to leave available a remedy by another action for the same breach such other action may be commenced after the expiration of the time limited and within six months after the termination of the first action unless the termination resulted from voluntary discontinuance or from dismissal for failure or neglect to prosecute.

4. This section does not alter the law on tolling of the statute of limitations nor does it apply to causes of action which have accrued before this chapter becomes effective. [C66, 71, §554.2725]

1. This Article does not apply to money, documents of title or securities as defined in section 554.3102.

2. The provisions of this Article are subject to the provisions of the Article on Bank De-§554.3104 Form of negotiable instruments—
"draft" — "check" — "certificate of deposit" — "note".
1. Any writing to be a negotiable instrument within this Article must
   a. be signed by the maker or drawer; and
   b. contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money and no other promise, order, obligation or power given by the maker or drawer except as authorized by this Article; and
   c. be payable on demand or at a definite time; and
   d. be payable to order or to bearer.
2. A writing which complies with the requirements of this section is
   a. a "draft" ("bill of exchange") if it is an order;
   b. a "check" if it is a draft drawn on a bank and payable on demand;
   c. a "certificate of deposit" if it is an acknowledgment by a bank of receipt of money with an engagement to repay it;
   d. a "note" if it is a promise other than a certificate of deposit.
3. As used in other Articles of this chapter, and as the context may require, the terms "draft", "check", "certificate of deposit" and "note" may refer to instruments which are not negotiable within this Article as well as to instruments which are so negotiable.

§554.3105 When promise or order unconditional.
1. A promise or order otherwise unconditional is not made conditional by the fact that the instrument
   a. is subject to implied or constructive conditions; or
   b. states its consideration, whether performed or promised, or the transaction which gave rise to the instrument, or that the promise or order is made or the instrument matures in accordance with or "as per" such transaction; or
   c. refers to or states that it arises out of a separate agreement or refers to a separate agreement for rights as to prepayment or acceleration; or
   d. states that it is drawn under a letter of credit; or
   e. states that it is secured, whether by mortgage, reservation of title or otherwise; or
   f. indicates a particular account to be debited or any other fund or source from which reimbursement is expected; or
   g. is limited to payment out of a particular fund or the proceeds of a particular source, if
   h. is limited to payment out of the entire assets of a partnership, unincorporated association, trust or estate by or on behalf of which the instrument is issued.
2. A promise or order is not unconditional if the instrument
   a. states that it is subject to or governed by any other agreement; or
   b. states that it is to be paid only out of a particular fund or source except as provided in this section. [S13,§5060-a3; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9463; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.3; C66, 71, §554.3105]

§554.3106 Sum certain.
1. The sum payable is a sum certain even though it is to be paid
   a. with stated interest or by stated installments; or
   b. with stated different rates of interest before and after default or a specified date; or
   c. with a stated discount or addition if paid before or after the date fixed for payment; or
   d. with exchange or less exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or e. with costs of collection or an attorney's fee or both upon default.
2. Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal. [S13,§5060-a2, -a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9462, 9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.2, 541.6; C66, 71,§554.3106]

§554.3107 Money.
1. An instrument is payable in money if the medium of exchange in which it is payable is money at the time the instrument is made. An instrument payable in "currency" or "current funds" is payable in money.
2. A promise or order to pay a sum stated in a foreign currency is for a sum certain in money and, unless a different medium of payment is specified in the instrument, may be satisfied by payment of that number of dollars which the stated foreign currency will purchase at the buying sight rate for that currency on the day on which the instrument is payable or, if payable on demand, on the day of demand. If such an instrument specifies a foreign currency as the medium of payment the instrument is payable in that currency. [S13,§5060-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.6; C66, 71,§554.3107]

   sight or on presentation and those in which no

§554.3109 Definite time.
1. An instrument is payable at a definite time if by its terms it is payable
   a. on or before a stated date or at a fixed period after a stated date; or
b. at a fixed period after sight; or
c. at a definite time subject to any acceleration; or
da. at a definite time subject to extension at the option of the holder, or to extension to a further definite time at the option of the maker or acceptor or automatically upon or after a specified act or event.

2. An instrument which by its terms is otherwise payable only upon an act or event uncertain as to time of occurrence is not payable at a definite time even though the act or event has occurred. \[S13, §3060-al3,-al4,-al5; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9464, 9477; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.4, 541.17; C66, 71, §554.3109\]

554.3110 Payable to order.
1. An instrument is payable to order when by its terms it is payable to the order or assigns of any person therein specified with reasonable certainty, or to him or his order, or when it is conspicuously designated on its face as "exchange" or the like and names a payee. It may be payable to the order of
a. the maker or drawer;
b. the drawee; or
c. a payee who is not maker, drawer or drawee; or
d. two or more payees together or in the alternative; or
e. an estate, trust or fund, in which case it is payable to the order of the representative of such estate, trust or fund or his successors; or
f. an office, or an officer by his title as such in which case it is payable to the principal but the incumbent of the office or his successors may act as if he or they were the holder; or
g. a partnership or unincorporated association, in which case it is payable to the partners or association and may be endorsed or transferred by any person thereto authorized.

2. An instrument not payable to order is not made so payable by such words as "payable upon return of this instrument properly endorsed."

3. An instrument made payable both to order and to bearer is payable to order unless the bearer words are handwritten or typewritten. \[S13, §3060-a8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9468; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.6, 541.8; C66, 71, §554.3110\]

554.3111 Payable to bearer. An instrument is payable to bearer when by its terms it is payable to
a. bearer or the order of bearer; or
b. a specified person or bearer; or
c. "cash" or the order of "cash", or any other indication which does not purport to designate a specific payee. \[S13, §3060-a9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9469; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.8; C66, 71, §554.3111\]

554.3112 Terms and omissions not affecting negotiability.
1. The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by
a. the omission of a statement of any consideration or of the place where the instrument is drawn or payable; or
b. a statement that collateral has been given to secure obligations either on the instrument or otherwise of an obligor on the instrument or that in case of default on those obligations the holder may realize on or dispose of the collateral; or
c. a promise or power to maintain or protect collateral or to give additional collateral; or
d. a term authorizing a confession of judgment on the instrument if it is not paid when due; or
e. a term purporting to waive the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of any obligor; or
f. a term in a draft providing that the payee by endorsing or cashing it acknowledges full satisfaction of an obligation of the drawer; or
g. a statement in a draft drawn in a set of parts (section 554.3801) to the effect that the order is effective only if no other part has been honored.

2. Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal. \[S13, §3060-a5, a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9465, 9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.5, 541.6; C66, 71, §554.3112\]

554.3113 Seal. An instrument otherwise negotiable is within this Article even though it is under a seal. \[S13, §3060-a5, a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9465, 9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.5, 541.6; C66, 71, §554.3113\]

1. The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by the fact that it is undated, antedated or postdated.

2. Where an instrument is antedated or postdated the time when it is payable is determined by the stated date if the instrument is payable on demand or at a fixed period after date.

3. Where the instrument or any signature thereon is dated, the date is presumed to be correct. \[S13, §3060-a6, a11-a12, a17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9466, 9471, 9472, 9477; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.6, 541.11, 541.12, 541.17; C66, 71, §554.3114\]

554.3115 Incomplete instruments.
1. When a paper whose contents at the time of signing show that it is intended to become an instrument is signed while still incomplete and the instrument is drawn or payable; or
2. If the completion is unauthorized the rules as to material alteration apply (section 554.3407), even though the paper was not delivered by the maker or drawer; but the burden of establishing that any completion is unauthorized is on the party so asserting. \[S13, §3060-a13, a14, a15; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9473-
§554.3116, UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE

9476; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.13-541.15; C66, 71, §554.3115

554.3116 Instruments payable to two or more persons. An instrument payable to the order of two or more persons

a. if in the alternative is payable to any one of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by any of them who has possession of it;

b. if not in the alternative is payable to all of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced only by all of them. [S13,$3060-a41; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9501; C66, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.41; C66, 71,§554.3116]

554.3117 Instruments payable with words of description. An instrument made payable to a named person with the addition of words describing him

a. as agent or officer of a specified person is payable to his principal but the agent or officer may act as if he were the holder;

b. as any other fiduciary for a specified person or purpose is payable to the payee and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by him;

c. in any other manner is payable to the payee unconditionally and the additional words are without effect on subsequent parties. [S13,$3060-a42; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9502; C66, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.42; C66, 71,§554.3117]

a. Where there is doubt whether the instrument is a draft or a note the holder may treat it as either. A draft drawn on the drawer is effective as a note.

b. Handwritten terms control typewritten and printed terms, and typewritten control printed.

c. Words control figures except that if the words are ambiguous figures control.

d. Unless otherwise specified a provision for interest means interest at the judgment rate.

e. Unless the instrument otherwise specifies two or more persons who sign as maker, acceptor or drawer or endorser and as a part of the same transaction are jointly and severally liable even though the instrument contains such words as “I promise to pay.”

f. Unless otherwise specified consent to extension authorizes a single extension for not longer than the original period. A consent to extension, expressed in the instrument, is binding on secondary parties and accommodation makers. A holder may not exercise his option to extend an instrument over the objection of a maker or acceptor or other party who in accordance with section 554.3004 tenders full payment when the instrument is due. [S13,$3060-a17,a68,a192; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9477, §528, 9633; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.17, 541.68, 541.193; C66, 71,§554.3118]

554.3119 Other writings affecting instrument.

1. As between the obligor and his immediate obligee or any transferee the terms of an instrument may be modified or affected by any other written agreement executed as a part of the same transaction, except that a holder in due course is not affected by any limitation of his rights arising out of the separate written agreement if he had no notice of the limitation when he took the instrument.

2. A separate agreement does not affect the negotiability of an instrument. [C66, 71, §554.3119]

554.3120 Instruments “payable through” bank. An instrument which states that it is “payable through” a bank or the like designates that bank as a collecting bank to make presentment but does not of itself authorize the bank to pay the instrument. [C66, 71, §554.3120]

554.3121 Instruments payable at bank. A note or acceptance which states that it is payable at a bank is not of itself an order or authorization to the bank to pay it. [S13,$3060-a87; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§5548; C66, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.88; C66, 71,§554.3121]

554.3122 Accrual of cause of action.

1. A cause of action against a maker or an acceptor accrues

a. in the case of a time instrument on the day after maturity;

b. in the case of a demand instrument upon its date or, if no date is stated, on the date of issue.

2. A cause of action against the obligor of a demand or time certificate of deposit accrues upon demand, but demand on a time certificate may not be made until on or after the date of maturity.

3. A cause of action against a drawer of a draft or an endorser of any instrument accrues upon demand following dishonor of the instrument. Notice of dishonor is a demand. [C66, 71,§554.3122]

PART 2
TRANSFER AND NEGOTIATION

554.3201 Transfer—right to endorsement.

1. Transfer of an instrument vests in the transferee such rights as the transferor has therein, except that a transferee who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument or who as a prior holder had notice of a defense or claim against
It cannot improve his position by taking from a later holder in due course.

2. A transfer of a security interest in an instrument vests the foregoing rights in the transferee to the extent of the interest transferred.

3. Unless otherwise agreed any transfer for value of an instrument not then payable to bearer gives the transferee the specifically enforceable right to have the unqualified endorsement of the transferor. Negotiation takes effect only when the endorsement is made and until that time there is no presumption that the transferee is the owner. [S13,§3060-a27, -a49,-a58; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9487, 9509, 9518; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.27, 541.49, 541.58; C66, 71,§554.3201] Referred to in §554.3603(2)

554.3202 Negotiation.

1. Negotiation is the transfer of an instrument in such form that the transferee becomes a holder. If the instrument is payable to order it is negotiated by delivery with any necessary endorsement; if payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery.

2. An endorsement must be written by or on behalf of the holder and on the instrument or on a paper so firmly affixed thereto as to become a part thereof.

3. An endorsement is effective for negotiation only when it conveys the entire instrument or any unpaid residue. If it purports to be of less it operates only as a partial assignment.

4. Words of assignment, condition, waiver, guaranty, limitation or disclaimer of liability and the like accompanying an endorsement do not affect its character as an endorsement. [S13,§3060-a30,-a31,-a32; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9490-9492; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.30-541.32; C66, 71,§554.3202] Referred to in §554.3102(2)

554.3203 Wrong or misspelled name. Where an instrument is made payable to a person under a misspelled name or one other than his own he may endorse in that name or his own or both; but signature in both names, may be required by a person paying or giving value for the instrument. [S13,§3060-a13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9500; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.43; C66, 71,§554.3203]

554.3204 Special endorsement — blank endorsement.

1. A special endorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order it makes the instrument payable. Any instrument specially endorsed becomes payable to the order of the special endorsee and may be further negotiated only by his endorsement.

2. An endorsement in blank specifies no particular endorsee and may consist of a mere signature. An instrument payable to order and endorsed in blank becomes payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery alone until specially endorsed.

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE, §554.3206

3. The holder may convert a blank endorsement into a special endorsement by writing over the signature of the endorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the endorsement. [S13,§3060-a9,a33,a34,a35,a36, -a40; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9469, 9493-9496, 9500; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.9, 541.33-541.36, 541.40; C66, 71,§554.3204] Referred to in §§554.3102(2), 554.3206(3,4), 554.3419(4)

554.3205 Restrictive endorsements. An endorsement is restrictive which either

a. is conditional; or

b. purports to prohibit further transfer of the instrument; or

c. includes the words “for collection”, “for deposit”, “pay any bank”, or like terms signifying a purpose of deposit or collection; or

d. otherwise states that it is for the benefit or use of the endorser or of another person. [S13,§3060-a36,-a37,-a39; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9496, 9497, 9499; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.36, 541.37, 541.39; C66, 71,§554.3205] Referred to in §§554.3102(2), 554.3206(3,4), 554.3419(4)

554.3206 Effect of restrictive endorsement.

1. No restrictive endorsement prevents further transfer or negotiation of the instrument.

2. An intermediary bank, or a payor bank which is not the depositary bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive endorsement of any person except the bank’s immediate transferor or the person presenting for payment.

3. Except for an intermediary bank, any transferee under an endorsement which is conditional or includes the words “for collection”, “for deposit”, “pay any bank”, or like terms (subparagraphs “a” and “c” of section 554.3205) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the endorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such transferee is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of section 554.3302 on what constitutes a holder in due course.

4. The first taker under an endorsement for the benefit of the endorser or another person (subparagraph “d” of section 554.3205) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the endorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such taker is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of section 554.3302 on what constitutes a holder in due course. A later holder for value is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by such restrictive endorsement unless he has knowledge that a fiduciary or other person has negotiated the instrument in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty (subsection 2 of section 554.3304). [S13,§3060-a36,-a37,-a39,-a47; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9496, 9497, 9499, 9500; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.38, 541.37, 541.39, 541.47; C66, 71,§554.3206] Referred to in §554.3419(4)
§554.3207 Negotiation effective although it may be rescinded.

1. Negotiation is effective to transfer the instrument although the negotiation is a. made by an infant, a corporation exceeding its powers, or any other person without capacity; or
   b. obtained by fraud, duress or mistake of any kind; or
   c. part of an illegal transaction; or
   d. made in breach of duty.

2. Except as against a subsequent holder in due course such negotiation is in an appropriate case subject to rescission, the declaration of a constructive trust or any other remedy permitted by law.

§554.3208 Reacquisition. Where an instrument is returned to or reacquired by a prior party he may cancel any endorsement which is not necessary to his title and reissue or further negotiate the instrument, but any intervening party is discharged as against the reacquiring party he may cancel any endorsement which is overdue if he has reason to know of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person.

RIGHTS OF A HOLDER

§554.3301 Rights of a holder. The holder of an instrument whether or not he is the owner may transfer or negotiate it and, except as otherwise provided in section 554.3603 on payment or satisfaction, discharge it or enforce payment in his own name. When a holder is, or has reason to believe that he is, a party to a transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty, the holder may negotiate the instrument for value or makes an irrevocable commitment to any person whether or not the claim is due; or when he gives a negotiable instrument for it or makes an irrevocable commitment to a third person.

§554.3302 Holder in due course.

1. A holder in due course is a holder who takes the instrument
   a. for value; and
   b. in good faith; and
   c. without notice that it is overdue or has been dishonored or of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person.

2. A payee may be a holder in due course.

3. A holder does not become a holder in due course of an instrument:
   a. by purchase of it at judicial sale or by taking it under legal process; or
   b. by acquiring it in taking over an estate; or
   c. by purchasing it as part of a bulk transaction not in regular course of business of the transferee.

4. A purchaser of a limited interest can be a holder in due course only to the extent of the interest purchased.

§554.3303 Taking for value. A holder takes the instrument for value
   a. to the extent that the agreed consideration has been performed or that he acquires a security interest in or a lien on the instrument otherwise than by legal process; or
   b. when he takes the instrument in payment of or as security for an antecedent claim against any person whether or not the claim is due; or
   c. when he gives a negotiable instrument for it or makes an irrevocable commitment to a third person.

1. The purchaser has notice of a claim or defense if
   a. the instrument is so incomplete, bears such visible evidence of forgery or alteration, or is otherwise so irregular as to call into question its validity, terms or ownership or to create an ambiguity as to the party to pay; or
   b. the purchaser has notice that the obligation of any party is voidable in whole or in part, or that all parties have been discharged.

2. The purchaser has notice of a claim against the instrument when he has knowledge that a fiduciary has negotiated the instrument in payment of or as security for his own debt or in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty.

3. The purchaser has notice that an instrument is overdue if he has reason to know
   a. that any part of the principal amount is overdue or that there is an uncured default in payment of another instrument of the same series; or
   b. that acceleration of the instrument has been made; or
   c. that he is taking a demand instrument after demand has been made or more than a reasonable length of time after its issue. A reasonable time for a check drawn and payable within the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia is presumed to be thirty days.

4. Knowledge of the following facts does not of itself give the purchaser notice of a defense or claim
   a. that the instrument is antedated or postdated;
