145.17 Court procedure. This section shall be applicable notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. The issue thereby raised shall be whether the findings and conclusions of said board shall be affirmed by the court, and shall be tried in the district court of such county, as a special proceeding, in the same manner as a civil action at law in which the state shall be the plaintiff and the person so summoned shall be the defendant. Each party shall have the same rights as to production of evidence and the case shall be tried in the same manner as any other civil action. In all such cases the county attorney of the county where such proceedings are tried shall appear and prosecute such action on behalf of the state. If the defendant has no attorney and he is unable to secure one, the court shall appoint an attorney from the membership of the bar of said county to conduct his defense, and appeal, if any be taken as hereinafter provided, and such attorney shall be compensated by the state, upon order of the court. Upon the request of either party to such proceeding all questions of fact shall be tried by a jury and the court in every instance shall have the testimony fully reported at the expense of the state. 145.18 Judgment. If the findings and conclusions of the state board of eugenics shall be affirmed by the court, the defendant shall be immediately placed in custody by the sheriff of said county, and may be admitted to bail by the court, who shall fix the amount of such bail, and if not so admitted to bail, shall be held until the operation provided in such findings be performed. [C31, 35, §2437-c18; C39, §2437.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §145.18]

145.19 Appeal. Either party to said proceedings may take an appeal from the district court to the supreme court of this state in the same manner and within the same time and with like effect as appeals in other civil actions are taken, and such case shall be tried in the supreme court in the same manner as other appeals in actions at law. If the defendant be represented by an attorney appointed by the court, and, in the opinion of the court, is financially unable to meet his part of the expense of an appeal, the defendant's actual and necessary expense of such appeal and prosecution thereof to final decree by the supreme court shall be paid by the state upon order of said district court, same to be paid out of the general funds of the state not otherwise appropriated. [C31, 35, §2437-c19; C39, §2437.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §145.19]

The state shall be liable under this chapter, except as hereinabove provided, for only the actual traveling expenses of the members of the board incurred in the performance of their duties, and the actual and necessary expense incident to the investigations of said board either on original case or an appeal therefrom. [C31, 35, §2437-c20; C39, §2437.20; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §145.20]

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to empower or authorize the state board of eugenics or its representatives, or the state health officer, or his representatives, or the superintendent of any of the institutions mentioned, or his representatives, to interfere in any manner with the individual's right to select the physician of his choice; provided, that such physician is in the judgment of the state board of eugenics competent to perform such operation; nor to interfere with the practice of any person whose religion treats or administers to the sick or suffering by purely spiritual means; provided that such practice, treatment or administration shall not in any way interfere with the operation of this chapter, and the carrying out of its purposes. CHAPTER 145A
AREA HOSPITALS

145A.1 Consolidation for purpose. Any of the political subdivisions of this state may consolidate to acquire and operate an area hospital for the purpose of providing hospital service for all residents of such area. [C71, 73, §145A.11]

145A.2 Definitions. As used in this chapter:
1. "Political subdivision" means any county, township, school district or city.
2. "Officials" means the respective governing bodies of political subdivisions.
3. "Merged area" means two or more political subdivisions which have merged resources to establish and operate an area hospital.
4. "Area hospital" means a hospital established and operated by a merged area.
5. "Board" means the board of trustees of an area hospital. [C71, 73, §145A.5; 65GA, ch 1231, §10]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

145A.3 Official planning — maximum levy. The officials of any political subdivision are hereby authorized to plan for the merger of an area to establish and operate an area hospital; and in planning for such hospitals, a county board of supervisors may exclude any township of the county which the board of supervisors determines would not sufficiently benefit by the merger. Plans for an area hospital shall include the maximum amount to be levied in each political subdivision taking part in the merger, and the maximum tax rates for the various political subdivisions may vary as the officials determine, such variance to be based upon the need for hospital service of the residents of each political subdivision, the proximity of such residents to the proposed location of the hospital, the property values within said subdivision, and the expected service benefits to the residents of each subdivision by the proposed area hospital. [C71, 73, §145A.3; 65GA, ch 1231, §9]

145A.4 Plans. Officials of the various subdivisions may expend public funds for the purpose of formulating plans and in carrying out plans for a merged area and may arrive at an equitable distribution of costs to be paid by each participating political subdivision. [C71, 73, §145A.4]

145A.6 Petition of protest. The plans formulated for the area hospital shall be deemed approved unless, within sixty days after the third and final publication of the order, a petition protesting the proposed plan containing the signatures of at least five percent of the qualified voters of any political subdivision within the proposed merged area is filed with the respective officials of the protesting petitioners. [C71, 73, §145A.6]

145A.7 Special election. When a protesting petition is received, the officials receiving the petition shall call a special election of all qualified voters of that political subdivision for the purpose of approving or rejecting the order setting out the proposed merger plan. The vote will be taken by ballot in the form provided by sections 49.43 to 49.49, and the election shall be initiated and held as provided in chapter 49. A majority vote of those qualified voters voting at said special election shall be sufficient to approve the order and thus include the political subdivision within the merged area. [C71, 73, §145A.7; 65GA, ch 136, §345]
§145A.8, AREA HOSPITALS

145A.8 Effect on other subdivisions. A protest petition filed in one political subdivision shall have no effect upon the other political subdivisions of the proposed merged area; and in the portion of the proposed area where no protest petition is filed within sixty days after the last published notice, the residents of that portion of the area shall be deemed to have approved the proposed plan, and shall not take part in any special election. [C71, 73,§145A.8]

145A.9 Continuance or abandonment. If the voters at the special election approve by a majority vote the proposed plan, then the plan may be carried out as originally proposed. However, if the voters of any political subdivision within the proposed area reject the plan as set out in the original order, then said original order shall be wholly nullified. [C71, 73,§145A.9]

145A.10 Board of hospital trustees. Upon acceptance of a plan, the officials of the merged area acting as a committee of the whole shall appoint a board of hospital trustees. The board of trustees shall then meet, elect a chairman and adopt such rules for the organization of the board as may be necessary. The number and composition of the board shall be determined by the committee appointing the board; but as a matter of public policy the committee is directed to apportion the board into area districts in such a way that the residents of all of the merged area will be represented as nearly equally as possible on the board. [C71, 73,§145A.10]

145A.11 Terms of members. The terms of members of the board shall be four years, except that members of the initial board shall determine their respective terms by lot so that the terms of one-half of the members, as nearly as may be, shall expire at the next general election. The remaining initial terms shall expire at the following general elections. The successors of the initial board shall be chosen from area districts at regular elections, and shall be nominated and elected in the same manner as county hospital trustees as provided in section 347.25, except that nomination papers on behalf of a candidate shall be signed by not less than twenty-five qualified electors from the area district, and shall be filed with the board. When nominations are complete, the board shall certify the names of the nominees to each county auditor of the respective area districts. [C71, 73,§145A.11]

145A.12 Operation and management. The board shall govern the operation and management of the area hospital and is hereby empowered to do all things necessary to establish and operate said hospital and shall have all the general powers, duties, and responsibilities of the trustees of county public hospitals as set out in sections 347.13 and 347.14. [C71, 73,§145A.12]

145A.13 Political status. A hospital area formed under the provisions of this chapter shall be a body politic for the purpose of exercising powers granted under this chapter, and as such may sue and be sued, purchase and sell property, and exercise all the powers granted by law and such other powers as are incident to public corporations of like character and not inconsistent with the laws of this state. [C71, 73,§145A.13]

145A.14 Budget for operation. The board shall prepare an annual budget designating the proposed expenditures for operation of the area hospital, and the amount to be raised by taxation, following the requirements of chapter 24. The board shall prorate the amount to be raised by local taxation among the respective political subdivisions forming a part of the merged area in the proportion that the value of taxable property in each political subdivision bears to the total value of taxable property in the area, but not in an amount which would exceed the maximum levy set out in the published order of merger. The board of hospital trustees shall certify the amount so determined to the respective officials of the merged area, and said officials shall levy a tax sufficient to raise the annual budget. Taxes collected pursuant to such levy shall be paid by the respective officials to the treasurer of the merged area hospital in the same manner that school taxes are paid to local school districts. [C71, 73,§145A.14; 65GA, ch 1231,§11]

145A.15 Treasurer of hospital. If the area hospital is located within the corporate limits of any city, the city treasurer shall act as treasurer of the area hospital: and if the area hospital is located outside the limits of any city, the county treasurer shall act as the treasurer of the area hospital: provided, however, the board may appoint some other person to serve as treasurer. The board may require that the treasurer furnish appropriate bond for faithful performance of his duties. [C71, 73,§145A.15; 65GA, ch 1087,§32]

Amendment effective July 1, 1965

145A.16 Funds to aid hospital. In addition to revenue derived by tax levy, the board of hospital trustees of a merged area shall be authorized to receive and expend:
1. Federal funds which may be available by federal laws, rules and regulations.
2. State aid which may be available by state laws and rules.
3. Fees and expenses charged to persons using the facilities of the hospital.
4. Donations and gifts which may be accepted by the hospital trustees and expended in accordance with the terms of the gift without compliance with the local budget law. [C71, 73,§145A.16]

145A.17 Indebtedness and bonds. Boards of hospital trustees may acquire sites and erect and equip buildings for use by area hospitals and may contract indebtedness and issue bonds bearing interest at a rate not exceeding seven percent per annum to raise funds for such purposes in accordance with chapter 75. [C71, 73, §145A.17]

Referred to in §145A.18
See 65GA, ch 87, §60

145A.18 Taxes. Taxes for the payment of bonds issued under section 145A.17 shall be levied in accordance with chapter 76, provided, however, that the total tax levy for the annual budget and for bonds issued under this chapter, shall not exceed the maximum for each political subdivision as provided in the published order of merger. Any indebtedness incurred shall not be considered an indebtedness incurred for general and ordinary purposes. [C71, 73, §145A.18; 64GA, ch 1088, §246, ch 1231, §12]

Home Rule Amendment effective July 1, 1975

145A.19 Special tax. In addition to the tax authorized in connection with the annual budget and with the issuance of bonds, the voters in any merged area may at any regular election vote a special tax for a period not to exceed five years for the purchase of grounds, purchase or construction of buildings, purchase of equipment, and for the purpose of maintaining, remodeling, improving, or expanding the hospital area. Such a tax shall not exceed one-fourth of the maximum levy of each political subdivision as set out in the published order of merger, but the total tax levy for annual budget, bonds, and special purposes shall not exceed the maximum levy as proposed in the published order of merger. [C71, 73, §145A.19; 65GA, ch 1231, §13]

145A.20 Revenue bonds. In addition to any other provisions of this chapter and for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, equipping, enlarging or improving a hospital building or any part thereof, merged areas may issue revenue bonds as provided in section 347A.2. [C71, 73, §145A.20]

Said examining board shall immediately examine such requirements and after making such other inquiries as it deems necessary, shall certify to the department the states having substantially equivalent requirements to those existing in this state for that particular profession and with which said examining board desires this state to enter into reciprocal relations. 147.46 Reciprocal agreements. In negotiating any reciprocal agreement, the department shall be governed by the following regulations:

1. Protection to licensees of this state. When the laws of any state or the rules of the authorities of said state place any requirement or disability upon any person licensed in this state to practice any profession regulated by this title which affects the right of said person to be licensed or to practice his profession in said state, then the same requirement or disability shall be placed upon any person licensed in said state when applying for a license to practice in this state.

2. Special conditions. When any examining board has established by rule any special condition upon which reciprocal agreements shall be entered into, as provided in section 147.47, such condition shall be incorporated into the reciprocal agreements negotiated with reference to licenses to practice the professions for which such examining board conducts examinations. [S13, §§2575-a30, -a39, 2582-a, 2589-b, 2600-m; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §2483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §147.46]

147.48 Termination of agreements. The fact of such change shall be determined by the proper examining board and certified to the department for its guidance in enforcing the provisions of this section. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §2485; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §147.48]

The board shall have authority to determine the qualifications, skill, and fitness of any person to serve as an administrator of a nursing home under the provisions of this division, and the holder of a license under the provisions of this division shall be deemed qualified to serve as the administrator of a nursing home. [C71, 73, §147.125]

§147.126 Duties of the board. The board shall have the duty and responsibility to:

1. Develop, impose, and enforce standards which must be met by individuals in order to receive a license as a nursing home administrator, which standards shall be designed to insure that nursing home administrators will be individuals who, by training or experience in the field of institutional administration, are qualified to serve as nursing home administrators.

2. Develop and apply appropriate techniques, including examination and investigations, for determining whether an individual meets such standards. The board may administer as many examinations per year as are necessary, but shall administer at least one examination per year. Any written examination may be given by representatives of the board. Applicants... who fail the examination once shall be allowed to take the examination at the next scheduled time. Thereafter, the applicant shall be allowed to take the examination at the discretion of the board. An applicant who has failed the examination may request in writing information from the board concerning his examination grade and subject areas or questions which he failed to answer correctly, except that if the board administers a uniform, standardized examination, the board shall only be required to provide the examination grade and such other information concerning the applicant’s examination results which are available to the board.

3. Issue licenses to individuals who, after application of such techniques, are found to have met such standards; and for cause and after due notice and hearing, revoke or suspend licenses previously issued by such board in any case where the Individual holding such license is found to have failed substantially to conform to the requirements of such standards.

The board may also accept the voluntary surrender of such license without necessity of a hearing. In the event of the inability of the regular administrator of a nursing home to perform his duties or through death or other cause the nursing home is without a licensed administrator, a provisional administrator may be appointed on a temporary basis by the nursing home owner or owners, to perform such duties for a period not to exceed six months.

4. Establish and carry out procedures designed to insure that individuals licensed as nursing home administrators will, during any period that they serve as such, comply with the requirements of such standards.

5. Receive, investigate, and take appropriate action with respect to any charge or complaint filed with the board to the effect that any individual licensed as a nursing home administrator has failed to comply with the requirements of such standards. Such appropriate action may include revocation of a license, if necessary, or placing the licensee on probation for a period not exceeding six months, and shall be taken only for cause after due notice and a hearing on the charge or complaint.

6. Conduct a continuing study and investigation of nursing homes, and administrators of nursing homes, in this state with a view to the improvement of the standards imposed for the licensing of such administrators and of procedures and methods for the enforcement of such standards with respect to administrators of nursing homes who have been licensed as such.

7. Conduct, or cause to be conducted, one or more courses of instruction and training sufficient to meet the requirements of this division, and make provisions for such courses and their accessibility to residents of this state unless it finds that there are, and approves, a sufficient number of courses, which courses are conducted by others within this state. In lieu thereof the board may approve courses conducted within and without this state as sufficient to meet the education and training requirements of this division. [C71, 73 §§147.126; 65GA, ch 1086, §103]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

147.127 Renewal of license. Every holder of a nursing home administrator’s license shall renew it annually by making application to the board, except that biennially the individual requesting renewal shall submit evidence satisfactory to the board of continued education in this field. Such renewals shall be granted as a matter of course unless the board finds, after due notice and hearing, that the applicant has acted or failed to act in accordance with the rules or in such a manner or under such circumstances as would constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of a license. [C71, 73 §§147.127]

147.128 Reciprocity with other states. The board may issue a nursing home administrator’s license, without examination, to any person who holds a current license as a nursing home administrator from another jurisdiction if reciprocal agreements are entered into with another jurisdiction under sections 147.45 through 147.54. [C71, 73 §§147.128]

147.129 Conflict with federal law—effect. If any provision of this division is in conflict with the requirements of section 1908 of the United States Social Security Act (42 United States Code, section 1396g), relative to a state program for licensing of administrators of nursing homes, and except for such conflict the state would be entitled to receive contributions from the United States for payment of assistance under the program established pursuant to Title XIX of the United States Social Security Act (42 United States Code, sections 1396–1396g, inclusive), such provision of this division so in conflict with said statute of the United States shall be considered as suspended and of no effect until sixty days after the convening of the next regular session of the general assembly after such conflict is discovered. [C71, 73 §§147.129]

147.130 Misdemeanor. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person to act or serve in the capacity of a nursing home administrator unless he is the holder of a license as a nursing home administrator issued in accordance with the provisions of this division. [C71, 73 §§147.130]

147.131 Applications. Applications for licensure shall be on forms prescribed and furnished by the board and shall not contain a recent photograph of the applicant. An applicant shall not be ineligible for licensure because of age, citizenship, sex, race, religion, marital status or national origin although the application may require citizenship information. The board may consider the past felony record of an applicant only if the felony conviction relates directly to the practice of nursing home administration. Character references may be required, but shall not be obtained from licensed nursing home administrators. [65GA, ch 1086,§105]
Amendment effective July 1, 1975
See also §§147.3, 147.29

2. Office facilities, supplies and equipment.
3. Clerical assistance. [65GA, ch 1086,§105]

f. Being adjudged mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction. Such adjudication shall automatically suspend a license for the duration of the license unless the board orders otherwise.

g. Being guilty of a willful or repeated departure from, or the failure to conform to, the minimal standard of acceptable and prevailing practice of medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery or osteopathy in which proceeding actual injury to a patient need not be established; or the committing by a physician of an act contrary to honesty, justice, or good morals, whether the same is committed in the course of his practice or otherwise, and whether committed within or without this state.

h. Inability to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery or osteopathy with reasonable skill and safety by reason of illness, drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, narcotics, chemicals, or other type of material or as a result of a mental or physical condition. The medical examiners shall, upon probable cause, have authority to compel a physician to submit to a mental or physical examination by designated physicians. Failure of a physician to submit to an examination shall constitute admission to the allegations made against him and the finding of fact and decision of the medical examiners may be entered without the taking of testimony or presentation of evidence. At reasonable intervals, a physician shall be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate that he can resume the competent practice of medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients.

A person licensed to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery or osteopathy who makes application for the renewal of his license, as required by section 147.10, gives his consent to submit to a mental or physical examination as provided by this paragraph when directed in writing by the medical examiners. All objections shall be waived as to the admissibility of the examining physicians' testimony or examination reports on the grounds that they constitute privileged communication. The medical testimony or examination reports shall not be used against a physician in another proceeding and shall be confidential, except for other actions filed against a physician to revoke or suspend his license.

i. Willful or repeated violation of lawful rule or regulation promulgated by the board or violating a lawful order of the board, previously entered by the board in a disciplinary hearing. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §148.6; 65GA, ch 1141, §6]

Referred to in §148.7, 150.1(2).
*Repealed by 65GA, ch 1086, §198, effective July 1, 1975

148.7 Proceedings. A proceeding for the revocation or suspension of a license to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery, or osteopathy or to discipline a person licensed to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery, or osteopathy shall be substantially in accord with the following procedure:

1. The medical examiners may, upon their own motion or upon verified complaint in writing, and shall, if such complaint is filed by the commissioner of public health, issue an order fixing the time and place for hearing thereon. A written notice of the time and place of the hearing together with a statement of the charges shall be served upon the licensee at least ten days before said hearing in the manner required for the service of notice of the commencement of an ordinary action.

2. If the licensee has absented or removed himself from the state, the notice and statement of the charges shall be served at least twenty days before the date of the hearing, wherever he may be found. If the whereabouts of the licensee is unknown, service may be had by publication as provided in the rules of civil procedure upon filing the affidavit required by said rules. In case the licensee fails to appear, either in person or by counsel at the time and place designated in said notice, the medical examiners shall proceed with the hearing as hereinafter provided.

Service of notice, R.C.P. 56 et seq.

3. The hearing shall be before a member or members designated by the board or before a hearing officer appointed by the board. The presiding board member [or] hearing officer is empowered to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and take or cause depositions to be taken in connection with the hearing. He shall issue subpoenas at the request and on behalf of the licensee. The hearing shall be open to the public.

The compensation of the hearing officer shall be fixed by the medical examiners. The hearing officer shall be an attorney vested with full authority of the board to schedule and conduct hearings. The hearing officer shall prepare and file with the medical examiners his findings of fact and conclusions of law, together with a complete written transcript of all testimony and evidence introduced at the hearing and all exhibits, pleas, motions, objections and rulings of the hearing officer.

*Not enacted in enrolled Act

4. A stenographic record of the proceedings shall be kept. The licensee shall have the opportunity to appear personally and by his attorney, with the right to produce evidence in his own behalf, to examine and cross-examine witnesses and to examine documentary evidence produced against him.

5. If a person refuses to obey a subpoena issued by the presiding member or hearing officer or to answer a proper question put to him during the hearing, the presiding member or hearing officer may invoke the aid of a court of competent jurisdiction or judge of this court in requiring the attendance and testimony of such person and the production of papers. A failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by the court as a civil contempt may be punished.

6. Unless the hearing is before the entire board, a transcript of the proceeding, together with exhibits presented, shall be considered by the entire board at the earliest practicable time. The licensee and his attorney shall have the opportunity to appear personally to present the licensee's position and arguments to the board. The board shall determine the charge or charges upon the merits on the basis of the evidence in the record before it.

7. If a majority of the members of the board vote in favor of finding the licensee guilty of an act or offense specified in sections 147.55, 147.56* or 148.6, the board shall prepare written findings of fact and its decision imposing one or more of the following disciplinary measures:
   a. Suspend his license to practice his profession for a period to be determined by the board.
   b. Revoke his license to practice his profession.
   c. Suspend imposition of judgment and penalty or impose the judgment and penalty, but suspend enforcement and place the physician on probation. The probation ordered may be vacated upon noncompliance. The board of medical examiners may direct the commissioner of health to restore and reissue a license to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery or osteopathy, but may impose a disciplinary or corrective measure which it might originally have imposed. Such findings of fact and decision shall be filed with the commissioner of public health who shall within ten days from such filing enter an order revoking or suspending the license issued to a physician licensed to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery or osteopathy, or discipline such physician as directed by the board in its decision. A copy of the commissioner's order shall immediately be sent by registered mail to the licensee's last known post-office address accompanied by a copy of the board's findings of fact and decision.

8. Judicial review of the board's action may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

9. The commissioner's order revoking or suspending a license to practice medicine and surgery, osteopathic medicine and surgery or osteopathy or to discipline a licensee shall remain in force and effect until the appeal is finally determined and disposed of upon its merit. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§148.7; 65GA, ch 1090,§98, ch 1141,§7-9]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975
*Repealed by 65GA, ch 1086,§198, effective July 1, 1975

148.8 Voluntary surrender of license. The commissioner of public health is hereby authorized to accept the voluntary surrender of a license if accompanied by a written statement of intention. Such voluntary surrender, when so accepted, shall have the same force and effect as an order of revocation. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§148.8]

Referred to in §150.1(2)

148.9 Reinstatement. Any person whose license has been suspended, revoked or placed on probation may apply to the board of medical examiners for reinstatement at any time and the board may hold hearings on any such petition and may order reinstatement and impose terms and conditions thereof and issue a certificate of reinstatement to the commissioner of public health who shall thereupon issue a license as directed by the board. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§148.9]

Referred to in §150.1(2)

148.10 Temporary certificate. The medical examiners may, in their discretion, issue a temporary certificate authorizing the licensee to practice medicine and surgery or osteopathic medicine and surgery whenever, in the opinion of the medical examiners, a need exists therefor and the person possesses the qualifications prescribed by the medical examiners for such license, which shall be substantially equivalent to those required for licensure under chapter 148 or chapter 150A, as the case may be. The medical examiners shall determine in each instance those eligible for this license, whether or not examinations shall be given and the type of examinations. No requirements of the law pertaining to regular permanent licensure shall be mandatory for this temporary license except as specifically designated by the medical ex-administrative costs of issuing and renewing the licenses. The medical examiners may cancel a temporary certificate at any time, without a hearing, for reasons deemed sufficient to the medical examiners.

When the medical examiners cancel a temporary certificate they shall promptly notify the licensee by registered United States mail, at his last-named address, as reflected by the files of the medical examiners, and the temporary certificate shall become terminated and of no further force and effect three days after the giving of said notice to the licensee. PHYSICIANS’ ASSISTANTS

148B.1 Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter:
1. “Board” means the board of medical examiners of the state of Iowa.
2. “Department” means the state department of health.
3. “Approved program” means a program for the education of physician’s assistants which has been formally approved by the board.
4. “Trainee” means a person who is currently enrolled in an approved program.

The term “supervision” shall not be construed as requiring the personal presence of a supervising physician at the place where such services are rendered except insofar as the personal presence is required by the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter or as is expressly required in this chapter. [C73, §148B.1]

148B.2 Approved programs. The department shall issue certificates of approval for programs for the education and training of physician’s assistants which meet board standards. In developing criteria for program approval, the board shall give consideration to and encourage the utilization of equivalency and proficiency testing and other mechanisms whereby full credit is given to trainees for past education and experience in health fields. The board shall adopt and publish standards to insure that such programs operate in a manner which does not endanger the health and welfare of patients who receive services within the scope of the program. The board shall review the quality of curriculum, faculty, and the facilities of such programs and shall issue certificates of approval. The board may adopt such regulations as are reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

If the board determines that a person has sufficient knowledge and experience to qualify as a physician’s assistant, the board may approve an application to supervise such person as a physician’s assistant without requiring the completion of an approved program. [C73, §148B.2]

148B.3 Application. The board shall formulate guidelines for the consideration of applications by a licensed physician to supervise physician’s assistants. Each application made by a physician to the board shall include all of the following:

The board may modify the proposed utilization of a physician’s assistant as detailed in any application and then approve the application as modified. A physician’s assistant shall perform only those services for which he is qualified by training, and shall not perform any service that is not permitted to be performed by the board. Approval of an application to supervise a physician's assistant may be revoked or suspended at any time upon such grounds and pursuant to such procedure as the board shall establish by regulation. [C73,§148B.3]

A fee of fifty dollars shall be charged for each approval initially granted by the board. Approval shall be limited to one year. The board may renew an application, and a fee of twenty-five dollars shall be paid for such renewal. A fee of fifty dollars shall be charged to each applicant seeking program approval by the board.

Fees required by this section shall be remitted by one department in the name of the board to the treasurer of state and deposited by him in a special fund within the state treasury, hereby created, to be known as the physicians' assistants fund. Such fees shall be used to finance the provisions of this chapter. Funds deposited in the physicians' assistants fund shall be subject to appropriation by the general assembly. [C73,§148B.6]

148B.7 Regulations. Regulations adopted by the board to implement the provisions of this chapter shall be designed to encourage the utilization of physicians' assistants in a manner that is consistent with the provision of quality health care and medical services for the citizens of Iowa through better utilization of available physicians and the development of sound programs for the education and training of skilled physicians' assistants well qualified to assist physicians in providing health care and medical services. [C73,§148B.7]

148B.8 Right to delegate. Nothing in this chapter shall affect or limit a physician's existing right to delegate various medical tasks to aides, assistants or others acting under his supervision or direction. Aides, assistants or others who perform only those tasks which can be so delegated shall not be required to qualify as physicians' assistants hereunder. [C73,§148B.8]

1. Osteopathy is that school of healing art which teaches and practices scientific methods and modalities used in the prevention and treatment of human diseases, but whose basic concept, in contrast with all other schools, places paramount emphasis upon the normality of blood circulation and all other body functions as a necessary prerequisite to health and holds that such normality is more certain of achievement by and through manual stimulation or inhibition of the nerve mechanism controlling such functions, or by the correction of anatomical maladjustments.

2. Osteopathic practice is that method of reabilitating, restoring and maintaining body functions by and through manual stimulation or inhibition of nervous mechanism controlling such body functions, or by the correction of anatomical maladjustment, or by other therapeutical agents, methods and modalities used supplementary thereto; but such supplementary agents, methods or modalities shall be used only preliminary to, preparatory to or in conjunction with such manual treatment. Such osteopathic practice is hereby declared not to be the practice of medicine within the meaning of chapter 148, nor the practice of osteopathic medicine and surgery within the meaning of chapter 150A, and is not subject to the provisions of chapter 148 or chapter 150A, except sections 148.6 to 148.9, inclusive. 154A.13 Temporary permit. A person who has not been employed as a hearing aid dealer prior to January 1, 1975, may obtain a temporary permit from the department upon completion of the application accompanied by the written verification of employment from a licensed hearing aid dealer. The department shall issue a temporary permit for one year which shall not be renewed or reissued. The fee for issuance of the temporary permit shall be set by the board pursuant to section 154A.17. The temporary permit entitles an applicant to engage in the fitting or selection and sale of hearing aids under the supervision of a person holding a valid license. [65GA, ch 1145, §13]

154A.14 Reciprocity. If the board determines that another state or jurisdiction has requirements equivalent to or higher than those provided in this chapter, the department may issue a license by reciprocity to applicants who hold valid certificates or licenses to deal in and fit hearing aids in the other state or jurisdiction. An applicant for a license by reciprocity is not required to take a qualifying examination, but is required to pay the license fee as provided in section 154A.17. The holder of a license of reciprocity is registered in the same manner as the holder of a regular license. Fees, grounds for renewal, and procedures for the suspension and revocation of license by reciprocity are the same as for a regular license. [65GA, ch 1145, §14]

154A.15 License renewal. Licenses shall be renewed annually in a manner determined by the board. The renewal fee shall be determined by the board pursuant to section 154A.17. The department shall notify every person licensed under this chapter of the date of expiration of his license and the amount of fee required for its renewal for one year. The notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the expiration date. A person who fails to renew his license by the expiration date shall be allowed to do so within thirty days following its expiration, but the board may assess a reasonable penalty. [65GA, ch 1145, §15]
Continuing education. Beginning January 1, 1976, in addition to payment of the annual renewal fee, each hearing aid dealer applying for the renewal of his license shall furnish to the department satisfactory evidence that he has completed at least two days of education programs during the year preceding the date of his application for renewal selected from the following:

1. Education programs conducted by the board;
2. Training school conducted by one of the various hearing aid manufacturers for their representatives, which is approved by the board;
3. Periodic training sessions conducted by the national hearing aid society which is approved by the board; or
4. Other educational means approved by the board.

The department shall send a written notice to this effect to every person holding a valid license at least thirty days prior to the license renewal date each year, directed to the last known address of such licensee.

In the event that any licensee shall fail to meet the annual educational requirement, his license shall be suspended or withheld by the board. The board shall reinstate the licensee upon the presentation of satisfactory evidence of educational study of a standard approved by the board, and upon the payment of all fees due. [65GA, ch 1145, §16]

154A.17 Fees. The fees for the examination shall be set by the board on the basis of the annual cost of administration. The fees for the temporary permit, license, renewal of a license, and issuance of a duplicate license, shall be set by the board on the basis of the cost of sustaining the board and the administrative costs of the department. The fees for licensure and permit shall be based upon, but not limited to:

154A.18 Display of license. A person shall not engage in business as a hearing aid dealer, or display a sign, or in any other way advertise or represent himself as a hearing aid dealer after January 1, 1975, unless he holds a valid license issued by the department as provided in this chapter. The license shall be conspicuously posted in his office or place of business. The department shall issue duplicate licenses to valid license holders operating more than one office. A license confers upon the holder the right to operate a business as a hearing aid dealer. [65GA, ch 1145, §18]

154A.19 Exceptions. This chapter shall not prohibit a corporation, partnership, trust, association or other organization maintaining an established business address, from engaging in the business of selling or offering for sale hearing aids at retail without a license, if it employs only licensed hearing aid dealers in the direct fitting or selection and sale of hearing aids. Such an organization shall file annually with the board a list of all licensed hearing aid dealers and persons holding temporary permits directly or indirectly employed by it. Such an organization shall also file with the board a statement on a form approved by the board that the organization submits itself to the rules and regulations of the board and the provisions of this chapter which the department deems applicable.

This chapter shall not apply to a person who engages in the practices covered by this chapter if this activity is part of the academic curriculum of an accredited institution of higher education, or part of a program conducted by a public or charitable institution, or nonprofit organization, unless the institution or organization also dispenses or sells hearing aids.

This chapter shall not prevent any person from engaging in practices covered by this chapter, provided the person, or organization employing the person, does not dispense or sell hearing aids. [65GA, ch 1145, §19]

154A.20 Rights of purchaser. A hearing aid dealer shall deliver, to each person supplied with a hearing aid, a receipt which contains the licensee's signature and shows his business address and the number of his license, together with specifications as to the make, model and serial number of the hearing aid furnished, and full terms of sale clearly stated, including the date of consummation of the sale of the hearing aid. If a hearing aid is sold which is not new, the receipt and the container must be clearly marked "used" or "reconditioned", with the terms of guarantee, if any.

The receipt shall bear the following statement in type no smaller than the largest used in the body copy portion of the receipt: "The purchaser has been advised that any examination or representation made by a licensed hearing aid dealer in connection with the fitting or selection and selling of this hearing aid is not an examination, diagnosis, or prescription by a person licensed to practice medicine in this state and therefore, must not be regarded as medical opinion or advice."

Whenever any of the following conditions are found to exist either from observations by the licensed hearing aid dealer or person holding a temporary permit or on the basis of information furnished by a prospective hearing aid user, the hearing aid dealer or person holding a temporary permit shall, prior to fitting and selling a hearing aid to any individual, suggest to that individual in writing that his best interests would be served if he would consult a licensed physician specializing in diseases of the ear, or if no such licensed physician is available in the community, then to a duly licensed physician:
§154A.20, HEARING AID DEALERS

A copy of the written recommendation shall be retained by the licensed hearing aid dealer for the period of seven years. A person receiving the written recommendation who elects to purchase a hearing aid shall sign a receipt for the same, and the receipt shall be kept with the other papers retained by the licensed hearing aid dealer for the period of seven years. Nothing in this section required to be performed by a licensed hearing aid dealer shall mean that the hearing aid dealer is engaged in the diagnosis of illness or the practice of medicine or any other activity prohibited by this chapter.

No hearing aid shall be sold by any individual licensed under this bill to a person twelve years of age or younger, unless within the preceding six months a recommendation for a hearing aid has been made by a physician specializing in otolaryngology. A replacement of an identical hearing aid within one year shall be an exceptation to this requirement.

A licensed hearing aid dealer shall, upon the consummation of a sale of a hearing aid, keep and maintain records in his office or place of business at all times and such record shall be kept and maintained for a seven-year period. These records shall include:

1. Results of test techniques as they pertain to fitting of the hearing aids.
2. A copy of the written receipt and the written recommendation. [65GA, ch 1145, §20]

154A.21 Notice of address. A licensee or person holding a temporary permit shall notify the department in writing of the address of the place where he engages or intends to engage in business as a hearing aid dealer. The department shall keep a record of the place of business of licensees and persons holding temporary permits.

Any notice required to be given by the department to a licensee shall be adequately served if sent by certified mail to the address of the last place of business recorded. [65GA, ch 1145, §21]

Appropriation, 65GA, ch 1145, §22

154A.23 Complaints. Any person wishing to make a complaint against a licensee or holder of a temporary permit shall file a written statement with the board within twelve months from the date of the action upon which the complaint is based. If the board determines that the complaint alleges facts which, if proven, would be cause for the suspension or revocation of the license of the licensee or holder of a temporary permit, it shall make an order fixing a time and place for a hearing and requiring the licensee or holder of a temporary permit complained against to appear and defend. The order shall contain a copy of the complaint, and the order and copy of the complaint shall be served upon the licensee or holder of a temporary permit at least twenty days before the date set for hearing, either personally or as provided in section 154A.21. Continuance or adjournment of a hearing date may be made for good cause. At the hearing the licensee or holder of a temporary permit may be represented by counsel. The licensee or holder of a temporary permit and the board may take depositions in advance of hearing and after service of the complaint, and either may compel the attendance of witnesses by subpoenaas issued by the board. The board shall issue such subpoenas at the request of a licensee or holder of a temporary permit. Either party taking depositions shall give at least five days written notice to the other party of the time and place of such depositions, and the other party may attend, with counsel, if desired, and cross-examine.

If the board determines from the evidence and proofs submitted that the licensee or holder of a temporary permit is guilty of violating any of the provisions of this chapter, or any of the regulations promulgated by the board pursuant to this chapter, the department shall, within thirty days after the hearing, issue an order refusing to issue or renew, or revoking or suspending, as the case may be, the hearing aid dealer’s license or temporary permit. The order shall include the findings of fact and the conclusions of law made by the board and counsel. A copy of the order shall be sent to the licensee or holder of a temporary permit by registered mail. The records of the department shall reflect the action taken by the board on the charges, and the department shall preserve a record of the proceedings in a manner similar to that used by courts of record in this state.

The final order of the board in the proceedings may be appealed to the district court of the county where the licensee or holder of a temporary permit resides, or in which the licensed hearing aid dealer's principal place of business is located.

The department shall send a copy of the complaint and a copy of the board's final order to the attorney general for purposes of information in the event the licensee or holder of a temporary permit pursues a court appeal and for consideration as to whether the violations are flagrant enough to justify prosecution. The attorney general and all county attorneys shall assist the department in the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter. [65GA, ch 1145, §23]

154A.24 Suspension or revocation. The board may revoke or suspend a license or temporary permit permanently or for a fixed period for any of the following causes:

Representing that the service or advice of a person licensed to practice medicine, or one who is certificated as a clinical audiologist by the board of examiners of speech pathology and audiology or its equivalent, will be used or made available in the fitting or selection, adjustment, maintenance, or repair of hearing aids when that is not true, or using the words "doctor", "clinic", "clinical audiologist", "state approved", or similar words, abbreviations or symbols which tend to connote the medical or other professions, except where the title "certified hearing aid audiologist" has been granted by the national hearing aid society, or that the hearing aid dealer has been recommended by this state or the board when such is not accurate.
   f. Habitual intemperance.

Representing, directly or by implication, that a hearing aid utilizing bone conduction has certain specified features, such as the absence of anything in the ear or leading to the ear, or the like, without disclosing clearly and conspicuously that the instrument operates on the bone conduction principle, and that in many cases of hearing loss, this type of instrument may not be suitable.
   p. Stating or implying that the use of a hearing aid will restore normal hearing or preserve hearing or prevent or retard progressions of hearing impairment or any other false or misleading claim regarding the use or benefit of a hearing aid.
   q. Representing or implying that a hearing aid is or will be "custom-made", "made to order", "prescription made", or in any other sense especially fabricated for an individual person when such is not the case.

2. “Secretary” shall mean the secretary of agriculture.
3. “Garbage” means putrescible animal and vegetable wastes resulting from the handling, preparation, cooking, and consumption of foods, including animal carcases or parts thereof, and shall include all waste material, by-products of a kitchen, restaurant, hotel, or slaughterhouse, every refuse accumulation of animal, fruit, or vegetable matter, liquids or otherwise, except grain not consumed, that is collected from hog sales pen floors in public stockyards and fed under the control of the department of agriculture. Animals or parts of animals, which are processed by slaughterhouses or rendering establishments, and which as part of such processing are heated to not less than 212° F. for thirty minutes, shall not be deemed garbage for purposes of this chapter. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§163.26]

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, partnership, or corporation to feed garbage to animals unless such garbage has been heated to a temperature of 212° F. for thirty minutes, or other acceptable method, as provided by rules promulgated by the department, provided this requirement shall not apply to an individual who feeds to his own animals only the garbage obtained from his own household. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, partnership, or corporation to feed any public or commercial garbage to swine after September 1, 1970. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§163.27]

163.30 Swine imported or native—pig dealers.
1. This section shall apply to all swine moved interstate and intrastate, except swine moved directly to slaughter or to a livestock market for sale directly to a slaughtering establishment for immediate slaughter.
2. When used in this chapter:
   a. “Dealer” means any person who is engaged in the business of buying for resale, or selling, or exchanging swine as a principal or agent or who holds himself out as so engaged, and who sells or exchanges only those swine which have been kept by him solely for feeding or breeding purposes.
   b. “Separate and apart” means a manner of holding swine so as not to have physical contact with other swine on the premises.
   c. “Swine moved” means any physical relocation of swine to different premises, except that it does not include movement of swine when their ownership does not change, and both their prior and new locations, and the movement between such locations, are within the state of Iowa.
3. No person shall act as a dealer without first securing a dealer's license from the department. The fee for a dealer's license shall be five dollars per annum and all licenses shall expire on the first day of July following date of issue. Licenses shall be numbered and the dealer shall retain his number from year to year. To secure a license, the applicant must file with the department a bond in the sum of... ten thousand dollars with the secretary named as trustee, for the use and benefit of anyone damaged by a violation of this section, except that the bond shall not be required for dealers who are bonded in the same or a greater amount than required pursuant to the federal Packers and Stockyards Act. Each officer or agent doing business by buying for resale, selling or exchanging feeder swine in the name of a licensed dealer, shall be required to secure a permit and identification card issued by the department showing he is employed by or represents a licensed dealer. All such permits and identification cards shall be issued upon application forms furnished by the department at a cost of three dollars per annum, and shall expire on the first day of July following the date of issue.

No permittee shall represent more than one dealer. Failure of any such licensee or permittee to comply with the provisions of this chapter or any rule made pursuant to this chapter is cause for revocation by the secretary of the permit or license after notice to the alleged offender and the holding of a hearing thereon by the secretary. Such rules and regulations shall be made in accordance with chapter 17A. Any rule, the violation of which is made the basis for revocation, except temporary emergency rules, shall first have been approved after public hearing as provided in section 17A.16 after giving twenty days’ notice of such hearing as follows:

By mailing notice, by ordinary mail, to every person filing a request for notice accompanied by an addressed envelope with prepaid postage. Any person may file such a request to be listed with any agency for notice for the time and place for all hearings on proposed rules, which request shall be accompanied by a remittance of five dollars. Such fee shall be added to the operating fund of the department. The listing shall expire semi-annually on January 1 and July 1.

4. All swine moved shall be individually identified with a distinctive and easily discernable ear tag affixed in either ear of the animal or other identification acceptable to the department, which has been specified by rule promulgated under the department’s rule-making authority. The department shall make ear tags available at convenient locations within each county and shall sell such tags at a price not exceeding the cost to producers and others to comply with this section.

Every seller, dealer and market operator shall keep a record of the ear tag numbers, or other approved identification, and the farm of origin of swine moved by or through him, which records shall be made available by him to any appropriate representative of the department or the United States department of agriculture.

5. All swine moved shall be accompanied by an official health certificate or veterinarian inspection certificate issued by the state of origin and prepared and signed by a veterinarian. The health certificate or veterinarian inspection certificate shall show the point of origin, the point of destination, individual identification, immunization status, and, when required, any movement permit number assigned to the shipment by the department. All such movement of swine shall be completed within seventy-two hours unless an extension of time for movement is granted by the department.

However, swine may be moved intrastate directly to an approved state, federal or auction market without such identification or certification, there to be identified and certified.

However, registered swine for exhibition or breeding purposes which can be individually identified by an ear notch or tattoo or other method approved by the department are excepted from this identification requirement. In addition, native Iowa swine moved from farm to farm may be excepted from the identification requirement if the seller and purchaser sign a statement providing that feeder pigs will not be commingled for a period of thirty days and such fact is stated on the health certificate.

6. The department may require issuance of movement permits on certain categories of swine moved, prior to their movement, pursuant to departmental rule. The rule shall be promulgated when in the judgment of the secretary, such movements would otherwise threaten or imperil the eradication of hog cholera in Iowa.

7. All swine moved shall be quarantined separate and apart from other swine located at the Iowa farm of destination for thirty days beginning with their arrival at such premises, or if such incoming swine are not held separate and apart, all swine on such premises shall be thus quarantined, except animals moving from such premises directly to slaughter.

There can only be one transfer by a dealer, involving not more than two markets, prior to quarantine.

8. The use of anti-hog-cholera serum or antiboody concentrate shall be in accordance with rules issued by the department.

9. All swine found by a registered veterinarian to have any infectious, contagious, or communicable swine disease after delivery to any livestock sale barn or auction market for resale other than for slaughter, shall be immediately returned to the consignor’s premises to be quarantined separate and apart for fifteen days. Such swine may not be moved from such premises for any purpose unless an official health certificate or veterinarian inspection certificate accompanies the movement or unless they are sent to slaughter. This subsection shall in no way supersede the requirements of sections 163A.2 and 163A.3. [C62, §163.30; C71, §§163.30–163.33; C73, §163.30]

[C66, 71, 73, §166A.8]

166A.9 Scabies-free areas. When all flocks of sheep within a county have been inspected by a representative of the department and are found to be free of scabies, the department may certify the county as a "scabies-free area." [C66, 71, 73, §166A.9]

166A.10 Restraint of movement. Sheep from noncertified scabies-free areas within Iowa shall not enter certified scabies-free areas unless they have been dipped in an approved dip under supervision within ten days preceding movement and satisfactory evidence of dipping accompanies the shipment, except such sheep may move into certified scabies-free areas if consigned directly to a stockyard market, auction market or slaughter establishment, under federal inspection, provided the sheep are accompanied by a certificate stating number, description, consignor and consignee. CHAPTER 166B
ERADICATION OF HOG CHOLERA

166B.1 Definitions. As used in this chapter:
1. "Hog cholera" means the contagious, infectious, and communicable disease of swine commonly known as hog cholera.
2. "Destroy" means condemn under state authority and slaughter or otherwise kill as a result of or pursuant to such condemnation.
3. "Department of agriculture" means the department of agriculture of the state of Iowa.
4. "Exposed" means all swine in physical contact with a known infected herd or tended by a person having direct contact with an infected herd. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.1]

166B.2 General authority. The department of agriculture may destroy or require the destruction of any swine which the state veterinarian knows to be, or suspects is, affected with or exposed to hog cholera, whenever the department of agriculture finds such destruction to be necessary to prevent or reduce the danger of the spread of hog cholera. Disposal of condemned swine shall be under the supervision of a regulatory employee. Salvage of apparently healthy marketable swine is permissible as a minimum provision and may be discontinued in favor of total herd disposition with indemnification as necessary and without such salvage in any case or at any time when it is determined by the department of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture that such action would constitute an undue threat to the eradication program. Before being condemned and ordered to be destroyed, a positive diagnosis of hog cholera affecting the herd must be confirmed by a state or federal laboratory or personnel approved by the department of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.2]

166B.3 Appraisal and indemnification. The department of agriculture shall appraise any swine destroyed or ordered destroyed pursuant to this chapter at not to exceed current market value and shall indemnify the owner of such swine in an amount not to exceed two hundred dollars for purebred, inbred or hybrid or breeding swine; and not to exceed one hundred dollars for all other swine, provided that fifty percent or more of all such indemnities are paid by the United States department of agriculture. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.3]

166B.4 Institution of indemnification. It is hereby recognized and declared that indemnification for destruction of swine infected with or exposed to hog cholera is an expression of the public policy of this state but employed only in the final stages of eradication of the disease, or as a means of preventing or minimizing its recurrence. The department of agriculture shall not therefore institute an initial program of indemnification pursuant to this chapter until it is mutually agreed between the state department of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture that such action is necessary in order to carry out the hog-cholera eradication program. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.4]

166B.5 Co-operation with United States. The department of agriculture may co-operate with the United States, or any department, agency or officer thereof, in the control and eradication of hog cholera, including the sharing in payment of indemnities for swine destroyed. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.5]

166B.6 Rules. The department of agriculture may make, promulgate, amend, repeal, and enforce necessary rules for implementing this chapter. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.6]

166B.7 Judicial review. Judicial review of department of agriculture action under this chapter may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of said Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county, wherein the hogs are situated. [C66, 71, 73, §166B.7; 65GA, ch 1050, §106]

CHAPTER 172A
BONDING OF OPERATORS OF SLAUGHTERHOUSES

Referred to in §166A.2

172A.1 Definitions. When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Animals" or "livestock" includes cattle, calves, swine, or sheep.

2. "Person" means an individual, partnership, association or corporation, or any other business unit.

3. "Dealer" or "broker" means any person determined by the department of agriculture to be engaged in the business of slaughtering live animals or receiving or buying live animals for slaughter.

4. "Agent" means a person engaged in the business of buying livestock for slaughter on behalf of any dealer or broker.

5. "Department" means the department of agriculture of this state. [C73, §172A.1]

172A.2 License required. No person shall act as a dealer or broker without first being licensed. No agent shall act for any dealer or broker unless such dealer or broker is licensed, has designated such agent to act in his behalf, and has notified the department of the designation in his application for license or has given official notice in writing of the appointment of the agent and requested the department to issue to the agent an agent's license. A dealer or broker shall be accountable and responsible for contracts made by an agent in the course of his employment. The license of an agent whose services are terminated by or with the dealer or broker shall be void on the date written notice of termination is received by the department. The license of a dealer, broker, or agent, unless revoked, shall expire on the last day of June following the date of issue. The annual fee for the license of a dealer or broker is twenty-five dollars. The annual fee for an agent's license is ten dollars. [C73, §172A.2]

172A.3 Application for license. Application for a license as a dealer or broker or as an agent shall be made in writing to the department. The application shall state the nature of the business, the municipal corporation, township and county, the post-office address at which the business is to be conducted, and such additional information as the department may prescribe.

The applicant upon satisfying the department of his character and good faith in seeking to engage in such business and upon complying with such other requirements specified in this chapter, shall be issued by the department a license to conduct the business of a dealer, broker, or agent at the place named in the application. [C73, §172A.3]

172A.4 Proof required. No license shall be issued by the department to a dealer or broker until the applicant has furnished proof of financial responsibility. The proof of financial responsibility shall be approved by the department. The proof may be in the following forms:

1. A bond of a surety company authorized to do business in the state of Iowa in the form prescribed by and to the satisfaction of the department, conditioned for the payment of a judgment against the applicant furnishing the bond because of nonpayment of obligations in connection with the purchase of animals.

The amount of bond for an established dealer or broker shall not be less than the nearest multiple of five thousand dollars above twice the average daily value of purchases of livestock, handled by such applicant during the preceding twelve months or such parts thereof as the applicant was purchasing livestock. For the purpose of this computation, two hundred sixty is deemed the number of business days in a year.
If a new dealer or broker not previously covered by this chapter applies for a license, the amount of bond shall be based on twice the estimated average daily value of purchases of livestock.

At such time as the daily purchases of livestock by the dealer or broker exceed twice the estimated average daily value of purchases of livestock by more than five percent of the amount of his bond, the dealer or broker shall adjust the amount of the bond to cover livestock purchases.

Whenever the amount of the bond as calculated in this subsection exceeds two hundred thousand dollars, the amount of the bond shall be two hundred thousand dollars plus ten percent of the average daily valuation in excess of two hundred thousand dollars. In no case shall the amount of bond be less than five thousand dollars.

2. A deposit with the department of the required amount in money or negotiable bonds of the United States of or of the state of Iowa or a political subdivision of the state of Iowa of that par or face value, for the purpose of securing the payment of a judgment against the applicant furnishing the deposit because of nonpayment of obligations in connection with the purchase of animals. The deposit shall be made under a deposit agreement prescribed by the department. The amount of the deposit shall be calculated in the exact manner as the amount of a bond as provided in subsection 1 of this section. The deposit shall not be subject to attachment for any other claim or levy of execution upon a judgment based on any other claims.

Any person damaged by nonpayment of obligations or by any misrepresentation or fraud on the part of a broker or dealer may maintain an action against the broker or dealer and the sureties on the bonds provided for in this section or for the application of the deposit furnished the department. The aggregate liability of the sureties for all such damage shall not exceed the amount of bond. In the event that the aggregate judgments on the bond or the deposit exceed the total amount of such bond or deposit, the amount payable on account of any judgment shall be in the same proportion to the bond or deposit as the individual judgment bears to the aggregate judgments.

Unless the person damaged files his claim with the dealer or broker and the sureties and the department within ninety days from the date of the alleged violation, or within ninety days after the discovery of nonpayment of obligations, fraud, or misrepresentation on the part of the person complained against, the claimant shall be barred from maintaining an action on the bond or for the application of the deposit.

Whenever the department determines that the business volume of the applicant or licensee is such as to render the bond or deposit inadequate, the amount of the bond or deposit shall be, upon notice, adjusted. All bonds or deposit agreements shall contain a provision requiring that at least thirty days' prior notice in writing be given to the department by the party terminating the bonds or deposit agreements in order to effect termination.

The termination of a bond shall not release the parties from any liability arising out of the facts or transactions occurring prior to the termination date.

The termination of a deposit agreement shall neither release the party furnishing the deposit from any liability arising out of acts or transactions occurring prior to the termination date, nor shall the department permit the withdrawal of the deposit until after ninety days of the termination date, and then only if no claims under the agreement have been filed with the department. If any claims have been filed with the department, the withdrawal of the deposit shall not be permitted until the claims have been satisfied or released and evidence of the satisfaction or release filed with the department.

All moneys and securities deposited with the department shall be handled in the following manner:

a. All securities deposited with the department shall remain in its custody.

b. All moneys shall be delivered to the treasurer of state and invested in the manner set forth in section 452.10, and he shall not relinquish the moneys except upon the written orders of the department.

The owner shall be entitled to receive all income from moneys and securities so deposited and the department shall issue a receipt for each deposit setting forth this fact.

3. In lieu of a bond or deposit, the applicant may file an annual sworn financial statement certified by a certified public accountant showing all assets and liabilities. The statement shall show the applicant's current net worth to be not less than five times the amount of the bond or deposit otherwise required by this section. If upon examination of any financial statement the department considers that the applicant has furnished insufficient proof of financial responsibility, a written order may be issued directing the applicant to provide the bond or deposit required by this section. Failure to comply with an order shall be cause for revocation or suspension of license. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee of the state of Iowa to divulge or to make known in any manner whatever not provided by law to any person the information contained in any financial statement. [C73, §172A.4]

172A.5 Bonded packers exempt. Any dealer or broker who has a bond required by the United States department of agriculture under the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921 as amended, Title VII, sections 181 through 231, United States Code, shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter. [C73, §172A.5]

172A.6 Low volume dealers exempt. The licensing provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any dealer or broker who has a license issued by the department to conduct a food establishment or locker plant and who purchases livestock for slaughter valued at less than an average daily value of one thousand five hundred dollars during the preceding twelve months or such part thereof as the dealer or broker was purchasing livestock. Said licensees are made subject to this chapter as to the regulatory and penal provisions hereof. All other provisions of this chapter shall apply to said dealers or brokers. [C73, §172A.6]

172A.8 Reciprocal agreements. The department shall have the power and authority to enter into reciprocal agreements with the authorized representatives of other federal or state jurisdictions for the exchange of information and audit reports on a co-operative basis which may assist the department in the proper administration of this chapter. [C73, §172A.8]

172A.9 Penalty. Any person violating any provision of this chapter shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars or more than two thousand five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment. [C73, §172A.9]

179.9 Investigations by commission. 179.12 Repealed by 65GA, ch 1153,§8.

179.13 Referendum on petition. Under such administrative procedures as the department of agriculture may prescribe for conduct of referendums hereinafter provided for, the department shall, upon petition by one thousand five hundred or more producers, conduct an initial referendum within sixty days after receipt thereof on the proposition of whether or not an excise tax of up to five cents per hundredweight on all milk sold in this state separate from and in addition to that provided for in section 179.5, shall be levied and assessed.

Notice of any referendum hereunder to levy such additional excise tax in the first instance, or any extension thereof, including the date of the referendum and voting places, shall be given by the department by publication for a period of not less than five days in a newspaper of general circulation in the state and in such other newspapers as the department may prescribe. Referendum voting shall be conducted no sooner than ten days after the last date of publication of such notice.

Each producer, upon signing a statement certifying to the department that he is a bona fide producer as defined in this chapter, shall be entitled to one vote in each referendum. At the close of any referendum, the department shall within thirty days thereafter count and tabulate the ballots filed during such referendum. If from the tabulation the department determines that a majority of the total number of producers voting in the referendum favor the proposal, the excise tax provided for in this section shall be imposed in the manner provided in section 179.5, subsection 2, on the sixtieth day after the date of determination by the department that the referendum has passed. The ballots thus cast shall constitute complete and conclusive evidence for use in determinations made by the department under the provisions of this chapter.

If the referendum vote favors imposition of the additional excise tax provided for in this section, the commission shall not more frequently than once per calendar year, set the initial and subsequent assessment rates as follows:
1. For the months of May and June an amount which when added to the excise tax provided for in section 179.5 equates to a total of five cents or less per hundredweight on taxable milk sold during those months.

2. For all other calendar months five cents or less per hundredweight of taxable milk sold during those months.

However, during the first year of the excise tax period created by the first favorable referendum vote pursuant to the provisions of this section, the assessment rate set by the commission for May and June shall not exceed that established by section 179.5, and the assessment rate set by the commission for all other calendar months of such year shall not exceed three cents per hundredweight.

The commission shall give notice of all rates thus established by publication for a period of not less than three consecutive days in a newspaper of general circulation in the state at least thirty days in advance of the effective date thereof.

Any excise tax adopted under this section pursuant to the initial referendum shall become of no force or effect five years after its commencement unless it is extended for subsequent five-year periods by additional referendums. Ninety days prior to termination of the initial assessment period, or any extension period, the secretary shall cause notice to be published in accordance with the notice required in this section for the initial referendum, and a referendum on the question of whether the excise tax as provided for in this section should be extended for an additional five-year period shall be conducted. If the department determines that a majority of the total number of producers voting in the referendum favor the assessment, the excise tax provided for herein shall continue to be levied for an additional five years from the ending date of the preceding five-year period.

All excise taxes due pursuant to this section shall be collected in accordance with the provisions of this chapter relating to the collection of the excise tax provided for in section 179.5, as nearly as may be, and deposited in the dairy industry fund. Such funds may only be expended by the commission pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

If the department determines that any referendum has failed, no subsequent referendum shall be conducted sooner than one hundred eighty days after such determination. Pursuant to petition or motion as hereinabove provided filed within one year after its most recent determination, the department shall then conduct a subsequent referendum in accordance with the provisions of this section.

In the event of failure to make such petition within said period, or, the second consecutive failure of any referendum to pass, no further referendums shall be conducted and the levy and assessment created in this section shall terminate and be of no further force or effect. [65GA, ch 1153,§7]

Referred to in §179.5

179.14 Influencing legislation. Neither commissioners, nor employees of the commission, shall attempt in any manner to influence legislation affecting any matters pertaining to the activities of the commission. No portion of the dairy industry fund shall be used in any manner to influence legislation or support any political candidate for public office, either directly or indirectly, or to support any political party. The ballots thus cast shall constitute complete and conclusive evidence for use in any finding made by the secretary under the provisions of this chapter. The secretary may prescribe such additional procedures as may be necessary to conduct a referendum.

No assessment levied pursuant to this chapter shall continue after forty-eight months from its initiation, unless it is extended for additional periods of four years by referendum.

In the event of the failure of any referendum provided for herein to pass, a subsequent referendum may be called by the secretary upon petition to him therefor by at least one hundred producers within one hundred eighty days after the secretary's determination that the prior referendum has failed. 3. "Person" includes any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business unit, and any officer, agent, or employee thereof.

in a relatively small proportion or historically have not been considered by consumers as products of the meat food industry, and which are exempted from definition as a meat food product by the secretary under such conditions as he may prescribe to assure that the meat or other portions of such carcass contained in such product are not adulterated and that such products are not represented as meat food products. This term as applied to food products of equines shall have a meaning comparable to that provided in this paragraph with respect to cattle, sheep, swine, and goats.

11. "Poultry" means any domesticated bird, whether live or dead.

12. "Poultry product" means any poultry carcass or part thereof, or any product which is made wholly or in part from any poultry carcass or part thereof, excepting products which contain poultry ingredients only in a relatively small proportion or historically have not been considered by consumers as products of the poultry food industry, and which are exempted by the secretary from definition as a poultry product under such conditions as he may prescribe to assure that the poultry ingredients in such products are not adulterated and that such products are not represented as poultry products.

13. "Capable of use as human food" shall apply to any livestock or poultry carcass, or part or product of such carcass, unless it is denatured or otherwise identified as required by regulations prescribed by the secretary to deter its use as human food, or it is naturally inedible by humans.

14. "Prepared" means slaughtered, canned, salted, stuffed, rendered, boned, cut up, or otherwise manufactured or processed.

15. "Adulterated" shall apply to any livestock product or poultry product under any one or more of the following circumstances:

a. If it bears or contains any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render it injurious to health; but in case the substance is not an added substance such article shall not be considered adulterated under this clause if the quantity of such substance in or on such article does not ordinarily render it injurious to health.

b. (1) If it bears or contains, by reason of administration of any substance to the livestock or poultry or otherwise, any added poisonous or deleterious substance, other than one which is a pesticide chemical in or on a raw agricultural commodity; a food additive; or a color additive, which may, in the judgment of the secretary, make such article unfit for human food.

(2) If it is, in whole or in part, a raw agricultural commodity and such commodity bears or contains a pesticide chemical which is unsafe within the meaning of section 408 of the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(3) If it bears or contains any food additive which is unsafe within the meaning of section 409 of the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(4) If it bears or contains any color additive which is unsafe within the meaning of section 706 of the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; however, an article which is not otherwise deemed adulterated under subparagraphs 2, 3, or 4 of this paragraph shall nevertheless be deemed adulterated if use of the pesticide chemical, food additive, or color additive in or on such article is prohibited by regulations of the secretary in official establishments.

c. If it consists in whole or in part of any filthy, putrid, or decomposed substance or is for any other reason unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome, or otherwise unfit for human food.

d. If it has been prepared, packed, or held under insanitary conditions whereby it may have become contaminated with filth, or whereby it may have been rendered injurious to health.

e. If it is, in whole or in part, the product of an animal, including poultry, which has died otherwise than by slaughter.

f. If its container is composed, in whole or in part, of any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render the contents injurious to health.

g. If it has been intentionally subjected to radiation, unless the use of the radiation was in conformity with a regulation or exemption in effect pursuant to section 409 of the federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

h. If any valuable constituent has been in whole or in part omitted or abstracted therefrom; or if any substance has been substituted, wholly or in part therefor; or if damage or inferiority has been concealed in any manner; or if any substance has been added thereto or mixed or packed therewith so as to increase its bulk or weight, or reduce its quality or strength, or make it appear better or of greater value than it is.

Referred to in §189A.17(1)

i. If it is margarine containing animal fat and any of the raw material used therein consisted in whole or in part of any filthy, putrid, or decomposed substance.

16. "Misbranded" shall apply to any livestock product or poultry product under any one or more of the following circumstances:

a. If its labeling is false or misleading in any particular.

b. If it is offered for sale under the name of another food.

c. If it is an imitation of another food, unless its label bears, in type of uniform size and prominence, the word "imitation", and immediately thereafter the name of the food imitated.

d. If its container is so made, formed, or filled as to be misleading.

e. Unless it bears a label showing both:

(1) The name and place of business of the manufacturer, packer, or distributor.
§189A.2, MEAT AND POULTRY INSPECTION

(2) An accurate statement of the quantity of the product in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count; however, under this paragraph, exemptions as to livestock products not in containers may be established by regulations prescribed by the secretary, and under this subparagraph reasonable variations may be permitted, and exemptions as to small packages may be established for livestock products or poultry products by regulations prescribed by the secretary.

f. If any word, statement, or other information required by or under authority of this chapter to appear on the label or other labeling is not prominently placed thereon with such conspicuousness, as compared with other words, statements, designs, or devices in the labeling, and in such terms as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual under customary conditions of purchase and use.

g. If it purports to be or is represented as a food for which a definition and standard of identity or composition has been prescribed by the regulations of the secretary under section 189A.7, unless it conforms to such definition and standard and its label bears the name of the food specified in the definition and standard and, insofar as may be required by such regulations, the common names of optional ingredients, other than spices, flavoring, and coloring, present in such food.

h. If it purports to be or is represented as a food for which a standard or standards of fill of container have been prescribed by regulations of the secretary under section 189A.7, and it falls below the standard of fill of container applicable thereto, unless its label bears, in such manner and form as such regulations specify, a statement that it falls below such standard.

i. If it is not subject to the provisions of paragraph "g" of this subsection, unless its label bears both:

(1) The common or usual name of the food, if any.

(2) In case it is fabricated from two or more ingredients, the common or usual name of each such ingredient; except that spices, flavorings, and colorings may, when authorized by the secretary, be designated as spices, flavorings, and colorings without naming each; however, to the extent that compliance with the requirements of this subparagraph is impracticable, or results in deception or unfair competition, exemptions shall be established by regulations promulgated by the secretary.

j. If it purports to be or is represented for special dietary uses, unless its label bears such information concerning its vitamin, mineral, and other dietary properties as the secretary, after consultation with the secretary of agriculture of the United States, determines to be and by regulations prescribes as necessary in order to fully inform purchasers as to its value for such uses.

k. If it bears or contains any artificial flavoring, artificial coloring, or chemical preservative, unless it bears labeling stating that fact; however, to the extent that compliance with the requirements of this paragraph is impracticable, exemptions shall be established by regulations promulgated by the secretary.

l. If it fails to bear, directly thereon and on its containers, as the secretary may by regulations prescribe, the official inspection legend and establishment number of the establishment where the product was prepared and, unrestricted by any of the foregoing, such other information as the secretary may require in such regulations to assure that it will not have false or misleading labeling and that the public will be informed of the manner of handling required to maintain the article in a wholesome condition.

An additional sample shall be taken within fourteen days of the sending of such notice, but not before the lapse of three days from the previous sampling. Immediate suspension of permit in accordance with section 192.5 or court action or both shall be instituted whenever the standard is violated by three of the last five bacteria counts, coliform determinations, or cooling temperatures. [C71, 73.§192.16]

Referred to in §192.5

192.17 Positive phosphatase test. Whenever a phosphatase test is positive, the cause shall be determined. Where the cause is improper pasteurization, the cause shall be corrected and any milk or milk product involved shall not be offered for sale. [C71, 73.§192.17]

192A.3 Unlawful discrimination. It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in business within the state of Iowa, either directly or indirectly, to discriminate in price between different purchasers of dairy products of like grade and quality where the effect of such discrimination may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly, or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefit of such discrimination or with customers of either the grantor or receiver. Nothing herein shall prevent:
1. Differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which dairy products are sold or delivered to purchasers or differentials otherwise permitted in this chapter.
2. Persons engaged in selling dairy products from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions are not in restraint of trade.

4. Price differentials made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor, whether the price of the competitor is in compliance with or in violation of this chapter. [C66, 71, 73, §192A.3]

§192A.6 Discounts or rebates. No processor or distributor shall give or extend discounts or rebates, directly or indirectly, to retailers or other processors or distributors on dairy products or give or extend to such purchasers any services connected with the delivery, handling or stocking of such products except as provided in this chapter. A processor or distributor may provide services to a particular processor, distributor, or retailer or may sell dairy products at a price necessary to meet a bona fide offer by a competitor. The service or discount shall not be given until the processor or distributor first files with the department a written record of the date and terms of the competitive offer, the name of the processor, distributor, or retailer to whom the offer was made, and the name of the competitor who made the offer. Any such record filed with the department shall be used only for determining or verifying proof of violations of this chapter. [C66, 71, 73, §192A.6]

§192A.7 Price list to be filed. All distributors offering dairy products for sale within the state shall file with the department a complete price list showing the invoice price of such distributor of all items of dairy products sold or offered for sale by them. Before any distributor may make any change in its price schedule or its terms of sale, it shall give notice by certified mail to the department setting forth its new schedule of prices or new schedule of discounts and rebates prior to the effective date of any change in such schedule on file with the department (except that where prices are changed in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor, notice to the department of the new schedule of prices shall be given within two business days after such change). The initial filing of schedules or any new schedules shall be filed with the department either in person or by certified mail. 192A.18 Grievances reported to department. Any person claiming to be injured by another person through the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter may file in writing a statement of such violation with the department. Upon receipt of the written statement, the department shall immediately cause an investigation to be made of the alleged violation. Whenever it shall appear that any person is violating or threatening to violate any of the provisions of this chapter or the regulations or orders of the secretary, then the department may call upon the county attorney of any county in which such violation occurred to bring suit against such person in the district court to restrain such person from continuing or from carrying out the acts or practices alleged. In such suit he may obtain such injunctions prohibitory and mandatory including temporary restraining orders and temporary injunctions as the facts may warrant without being required to prove that an adequate remedy at law does not exist and without being required to give bond. [C66, 71, 73,§192A.18]

192A.19 Reports and answers to department. Whenever the department has reason to believe that any distributor or retailer or processor may be in possession of information relevant to an investigation by it of suspected violations of the provisions of this chapter, the secretary may require such person to file with him in such form as he may prescribe special reports or answers in writing to specific questions furnishing such information. Such reports and answers shall be made under oath or otherwise as the secretary may prescribe and shall be filed with him within such reasonable period as he may prescribe. Such order shall set forth the alleged violations, fix the time and place of the hearing, and provide for notice thereof which shall be given not less than twenty days before the date of such hearing. After hearing by the secretary, or if the person charged with such violation fails to appear at the time of said hearing, if he finds such person to be in violation he shall enter an order requiring such person to cease and desist from the specific acts, practices, or omissions so found to be in violation and from related acts, practices or omissions. Any order entered by the secretary or other action of the secretary may be judicially reviewed in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

Any person violating any order of the secretary under the first paragraph of this section after the period for seeking judicial review thereof has elapsed without the filing of a petition for such review, or on the termination of any review proceedings shall be subject to a civil penalty to be levied by the district court in a proceeding instituted for that purpose in an amount of not less than five hundred dollars and not more than ten thousand dollars provided that in the case of continuing violations the minimum amount of such penalty shall be either five hundred dollars or twenty-five dollars for each day of violation, whichever is the larger. [C66, 71, 73, §192A.22]

192A.23 Suspension or revocation of license. Whenever the department has reason to believe that any processor or distributor required to obtain a license under section 192.1 has willfully violated any cease and desist order issued under the provisions of this chapter after the same has become final and continued in such violation after the expiration of a ten-day notice from the department of intention to commence proceedings for the denial, suspension or revocation of such license, and it appears to the department that a proceeding should be had to determine whether his license should be denied, suspended, or revoked, the department shall serve notice on such person in writing by certified mail of the charges and grounds upon which a license is sought to be denied, suspended, or revoked. The notice shall include the time and place, not less than ten days after the mailing of the notice, at which a hearing shall be held to determine whether to deny, suspend, or revoke the license. After full investigation and hearing, the department may deny, suspend, or revoke the license of any person who is found to have willfully violated any provision of this chapter. When the department finds that a violation warrants the suspension of the license, no license shall be suspended for a period to exceed thirty days upon proof of a first violation or for a period to exceed six months upon proof of a second violation. Upon proof of a third and subsequent violations, the license shall be suspended for a period of one year where the department finds that such violation warrants a suspension. [C66, 71, 73, §192A.24]

192A.25 Procedure — judicial review. The department shall by certified mail or by personal service notify the person whose license has been denied, suspended, or revoked setting forth the reasons for the decision. 6. The secretary, whenever he deems it necessary in the administration of this chapter, may require the submission of additional data about any fertilizer or product to support the claims made for it. If it appears to the secretary that the composition of the article is such as to warrant the claims made for it, and if the article, its labeling and other material required to be submitted complies with the requirements of this chapter, he shall register the product.

7. If it does not appear to the secretary that the article is such as to warrant the proposed claims for it, or if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted does not comply with the provisions of this chapter, he shall notify the registrant of the manner in which the article, labeling, or other material required to be submitted fails to comply with this chapter so as to afford the registrant an opportunity to make the necessary corrections before resubmitting the label.

8. It shall be the responsibility of the registrant to submit satisfactory evidence of favorable effects and safety of the product.

9. A distributor shall not be required to register any brand and grade of commercial fertilizer which is already registered under this chapter by another person.

200.5 Registration.

1. Each brand and grade of commercial fertilizer and each soil conditioner shall be registered before being offered for sale, sold or otherwise distributed in this state; except that a commercial fertilizer formulated according to special specifications furnished by a consumer to fill his order shall not be required to be registered, but shall be labeled as provided in subsection 3 of section 200.6. The application for registration shall be submitted to the secretary on forms furnished by the secretary and shall be accompanied by a label setting forth the guaranteed analysis which shall be the same as that appearing on the registered product.

2. All registration will be permanent, provided, however, that the secretary may request a listing of products to be currently manufactured. The application shall include the following information in the following order:
   a. Net weight, if sold in packaged form.
   b. Name and address of the registrant.
   c. Name of product.
   d. Brand.
   e. Grade.
   f. Guaranteed analysis.

3. In addition to the information required in subsection 2 of this section, applications for registration of soil conditioners must include the name or chemical designation and percentage of content of each of the active ingredients.

4. The secretary is authorized, after public hearing, following due notice, to adopt rules and regulations regulating the labeling and registration of specialty fertilizers and other fertilizer products, when necessary in his opinion. He may require any reasonable information in addition to subsection 2 of section 200.5, which is necessary and useful to the purchasers of specialty fertilizers of this state and to promote uniformity among states.

5. The secretary is authorized after public hearing, following due notice, to establish minimum acceptable levels of trace and secondary elements recognized as effective to aid crops produced in Iowa and to require such warning statements as may be deemed necessary to prevent injury to crops.

200.6 Labeling.

1. Any commercial fertilizer offered for sale or sold or distributed in this state in bags, or other containers, shall have placed on or affixed to the container in legibly written or printed form, the information required by subsection 2 of section 200.5; either on tags affixed to the end of the package or directly on the package.

2. If distributed in bulk, the shipment must be accompanied by a written or printed statement giving the purchaser’s name and address in addition to the labeling requirement set forth in subsection 2 of section 200.5.

3. A commercial fertilizer formulated according to specifications which are furnished by a consumer prior to mixing shall be labeled to show the net weight, guaranteed analysis, and the name and address of the distributor and may show the net weight and guaranteed analysis of each of the fertilizer materials or soil conditioners used. It is the responsibility of the distributor to mix these materials uniformly and intimately so that when sampled in the prescribed manner the resulting analysis would meet the guarantee.

4. All bulk bins or intermediate storage of bulk commercial fertilizer where being offered for sale or distributed direct to the consumer

200.8 Inspection fees.

1. There shall be paid by the licensee to the secretary for all commercial fertilizers and soil conditioners sold, or distributed in this state, an inspection fee to be fixed annually by the secretary of agriculture at not more than twenty cents per ton: Except sales for manufacturing purposes only are hereby exempted from fees but must still be reported showing manufacturer who purchased same. Payment of said inspection fee by any licensee shall exempt all other persons, firms or corporations from the payment thereof.

On individual packages of specialty fertilizer containing twenty-five pounds or less, there shall be paid in lieu of the annual license fee and the semiannual inspection fee as set forth in this chapter, an annual registration and inspection fee of twenty-five dollars for each brand and grade sold or distributed in the state. In the event that any person sells specialty fertilizer in packages of twenty-five pounds or less and also in packages of more than twenty-five pounds, this annual registration and inspection fee shall apply only to that portion sold in packages of twenty-five pounds or less, and that portion sold in packages of more than twenty-five pounds shall be subject to the same inspection fee as fixed by the secretary of agriculture as provided in this chapter.

2. Every licensee and any person required to pay an annual registration and inspection fee under this chapter in this state shall:

a. File not later than the last day of January and July of each year, on forms furnished by the secretary, a semiannual statement setting forth the number of net tons of commercial fertilizer or soil conditioners distributed in this state by grade for each county during the preceding six months' period; and upon filing such statement shall pay the inspection fee at the rate stated in subsection 1 of this section. However, in lieu of the semiannual statement by grade for each county, as hereinabove provided for, the registrant, on individual packages of commercial fertilizer containing twenty-five pounds or less, shall file not later than the last day of July of each year, on forms furnished by the secretary, an annual statement setting forth the number of net tons of commercial fertilizer distributed in this state by grade during the preceding twelve-month period, but no inspection fee shall be due thereon.

b. If the tonnage report is not filed or the payment of inspection fees, or both, is not made within ten days after the last day of January and July of each year as required in paragraph "a" of this subsection, a penalty amounting to ten percent of the amount due, if any, shall be assessed against the licensee. In any case, the penalty shall be no less than fifty dollars. The amount of fees due, if any, and penalty shall constitute a debt and become the basis of a judgment against the licensee. [C46, 50, 54, §200.15; C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §200.8]

Fees collected for licenses and inspection fees under sections 200.4 and 200.8 shall be deposited in the treasury to the credit of the fertilizer fund to be used only by the department of agriculture for the purpose of inspection, sampling, analysis, preparation and publishing of reports and other expenses necessary for administration of this chapter. The secretary may assign moneys to the Iowa agricultural experiment station for research, work projects, investigations as may be needed for the specific purpose of improving the regulatory functions for enforcement of this chapter. [C46, 50, 54, §200.15; C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §200.9]

1. It shall be the duty of the secretary, who may act through his authorized agent, to sample, inspect, make analysis of, and test commercial fertilizers or soil conditioners distributed within this state at time and place and to such an extent as he may deem necessary, to determine whether such commercial fertilizers and soil conditioners are in compliance with the provisions of this chapter. In the performance of the foregoing duty, the secretary shall counsel with the director of the Iowa agricultural experimental station in respect to the time, place and extent of sampling. The secretary individually or through his agent is authorized to enter upon any public or private premises or conveyances during regular business hours in order to have access to commercial fertilizers or soil conditioners subject to the provisions of this chapter and the rules and regulations pertaining thereto. It shall be the duty of the secretary to maintain a laboratory with the necessary equipment and to employ such employees as may be necessary to aid in the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

2. The methods of sampling and analysis shall be the official methods of the association of official agricultural chemists in all cases where methods have been adopted by the association.

The findings of the state chemist or his deputy, as shown by the sworn statement in the results of analysis of official samples of any brand and grade of commercial fertilizer, fertilizer material or soil conditioner, shall constitute prima-facie evidence of their correctness in the courts of this state, as to the particular lots sampled and analyzed.

3. The secretary, in determining for administrative purposes whether any commercial fertilizer is deficient in plant food, or soil conditioner deficient in guaranteed active ingredients, shall be guided by the official sample as defined in subsection 13 of section 200.3, and obtained and analyzed as provided for in subsection 2 of this section.

4. The results of official analysis of any commercial fertilizer or soil conditioner which has been found to be in violation of any provision of this chapter, shall be forwarded by the secretary to the registrant. Upon request, the secretary shall furnish to the registrant a portion of any sample. [C46, 50, 54,§200.7–200.9; C58, 62,§200.11; C66, 71, 73,§200.10]

[C46, 50, 54,§200.10; C58, 62,§200.12; C66, 71, 73,§200.11]

A commercial fertilizer or soil conditioner is misbranded if it does not identify substances promoting plant growth as defined in subsection 1 of section 200.3, or if it carries any false or misleading statement upon or attached to the container or stated on the invoice or delivery ticket, or if the container or on the invoice or delivery ticket or in any advertising matter whatsoever connected with, accompanying or associated with the commercial fertilizer or soil conditioner. Further, the burden of proof of the desirable effect of the product on plant growth shall be the responsibility of the registrant. [C46, 50, 54,§200.11; C58, 62,§200.13; C66, 71, 73,§200.12]

The secretary shall report semiannually the results of the analysis based on official samples taken of commercial fertilizers sold within the state as compared with the analyses guaranteed under section 200.5 and section 200.6, together with name and address of the manufacturer or distributor of such commercial fertilizer at the time the official sample was taken. A copy of this semiannual report will be mailed by the secretary to each corresponding county extension director in the state. [C46, 50, 54,§200.13; C58, 62,§200.14; C66, 71, 73,§200.13]

The rules shall be such as are reasonably necessary for the protection and safety of the public and persons using anhydrous ammonia, and shall be in substantial conformity with the generally accepted standards of safety.

It is hereby declared that rules in substantial conformity with the published standards of the agricultural ammonia institute for the design, installation and construction of containers and pertinent equipment for the storage and handling of anhydrous ammonia, shall be deemed to be in substantial conformity with the generally accepted standards of safety.

No person, firm or corporation, other than the owner and those authorized by the owner to do so, shall sell, fill, refill, deliver or permit to be delivered, or use in any manner any anhydrous ammonia container or receptacle for any gas, compound for any other purpose whatsoever.

2. The secretary is hereby charged with the enforcement of this chapter, and after due publicity and due public hearing, is empowered to promulgate and adopt such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary in order to carry into effect the purpose and intent of this chapter or to secure the efficient administration thereof.

1. A fineness factor shall be determined as follows:
   a. Multiply the percent of the total material passing the number four sieve by one-tenth.
   b. Multiply the percent of the total material passing the number eight sieve by three-tenths.
   c. Multiply the percent of the total material passing the number sixty sieve by six-tenths.
   Add the results obtained from paragraphs "a", "b", and "c" of this subsection to obtain the fineness factor.
2. Multiply the fineness factor obtained by using the method set forth in subsection 1 of this section by the percent of calcium carbonate equivalent in the agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime to obtain the percent of ECCE.
3. The number of pounds of ECCE per ton of agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime shall be determined by multiplying two thousand pounds by the percent of ECCE determined as provided in subsection 2 of this section. [C27, 31, 35, §3142-b1; C39, §3142.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §201.5]

Referenced to in §§201.7, 201.8

201.6 Samples—how obtained. Samples of agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime within the meaning of this chapter for analyzing the number of pounds of ECCE shall be obtained by taking such sample from the manufacturer's or producer's production belt as the material is being produced. Sampling of stockpiles shall be made only when there is a stockpile having no certification of ECCE as herein provided. Samples shall be taken at locations where there are permanent fixed plants once each calendar month during the months in which agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime is being manufactured or produced. Samples shall be taken at locations where there is no permanent fixed plant once during the first week that a portable plant is at a location and manufacturing or producing agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime until a total of five representative samples have been accumulated and submitted for analysis, after which a sample shall be obtained and tested once each calendar month during the months in which agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime is being manufactured or produced. Samples from production belts shall be taken by the manufacturer or producer in the presence of a person or persons appointed by the secretary of agriculture. Samples from stockpiles, where stockpile sampling is authorized in this section, shall be taken by a person or persons appointed by the secretary of agriculture. The manufacturer or producer of agricultural lime, limestone or aglime shall notify the secretary of agriculture or person or persons appointed by him of the manufacture or production of agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime so that samples may be taken in compliance with this section. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §201.7; C71, 73, §201.6]

The secretary of agriculture shall, upon receipt of the analysis provided in section 201.7 certify the number of pounds of ECCE, using the method provided in section 201.5, to the manufacturer or producer from whom the sample was obtained by written notice and forwarded by United States mail. The effective date of the certification shall be on a Monday but not less than seven days from date of mailing and the date of mailing shall not be counted as one of the seven days.

Each certification of ECCE shall be based on the average of a maximum of five analyses obtained from five samples. Each new analysis received shall be added to the previous five analysis and the oldest analysis shall be omitted. Less than five analyses shall be averaged on the basis of the actual number of analyses. Nothing in this chapter shall preclude a manufacturer or producer from having a certification on separate stockpiles of agricultural lime, limestone or aglime, provided that such separate stockpiles shall be separated from any other stockpile and such separate stockpiles shall have been sampled as provided in this chapter. [C71, 73, §201.8]

The pounds of ECCE certified by the secretary of agriculture for the agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime shall be inserted in the space provided.

In case the secretary of agriculture shall adopt the certification of number of pounds of ECCE of the ASCS, the following form will effect full compliance with this section:

"ASCS certified——pounds ECCE per ton."

[CT1, 73, §201.10]

201.11 Penalties. Whoever sells, offers for sale, or exposes for sale or distribution any bulk agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime without complying with the provisions of this chapter, or permits any certification to accompany or be printed or stamped on any bill of lading, scale ticket, ticket, or delivery receipt or other instrument of sale, shipping or delivery, stating that the agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime contains a different number of pounds of ECCE than certified as provided in this chapter, or who shall adulterate any agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime with foreign mineral matter or other foreign substances, or who shall adulterate the same with any substance injurious to the growth of plants, or make any false report, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. It shall be the duty of the secretary of agriculture or his deputized representative to bring prosecution for all violations under the provisions of this chapter. Action may be commenced by the attorney general when requested to do so by the secretary. A person authorized by law to prosecute a case under the provisions of this chapter shall not be required to advance or secure costs therein. If the defendant is acquitted or discharged from custody, or if he is convicted and committed in default of the payment of fine and costs, such costs shall be certified under oath by the court to the county auditor who shall, when verified, issue a warrant on the county treasurer payable to the person or persons entitled thereto. The secretary shall also issue a quarterly report, which shall be available to the public, showing the certifications of ECCE for all agricultural lime, limestone, or aglime certified as provided in this chapter, which report shall be by manufacturer or producer and location or locations. The reports required by this section shall be issued not later than twenty days after March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §§201.11, 201.12; C71, 73, §201.13]

STANDARDS AND SCHEDULES

204.201 Duty to recommend changes in schedules.
1. The board shall administer the regulatory provisions of this chapter. Annually, within thirty days after the convening of each regular session of the general assembly, the board shall recommend to the general assembly any deletions from, or revisions in the schedules of substances, enumerated in sections 204.204, 204.206, 204.208, 204.210 or 204.212, which it deems necessary or advisable. In making a recommendation to the general assembly regarding a substance, the board shall consider the following:
   a. The actual or relative potential for abuse;
   b. The scientific evidence of its pharmacological effect, if known;
   c. State of current scientific knowledge regarding the substance;
   d. The history and current pattern of abuse;
   e. The scope, duration, and significance of abuse;
   f. The risk to the public health;
   g. The potential of the substance to produce psychic or physiological dependence liability; and
   h. Whether the substance is an immediate precursor of a substance already controlled under this division.

2. After considering the above factors, the board shall make a recommendation to the general assembly, specifying the change which should be made in existing schedules, if it finds that the potential for abuse or lack thereof of the substance is not properly reflected by the existing schedules.

3. If the board designates a substance as an immediate precursor, substances which are precursors of the controlled precursor shall not be subject to control solely because they are precursors of the controlled precursor. Such designations shall be made pursuant to the procedures of chapter 17A.

4. If any new substance is designated as a controlled substance under federal law and notice of the designation is given to the board, the board shall similarly designate as controlled the new substance under this chapter after the expiration of thirty days from publication in the Federal Register of a final order designating a new substance as a controlled substance, unless within that thirty-day period the board objects to the new designation. In that case the board shall publish the reasons for objection and afford all interested parties an opportunity to be heard. At the conclusion of the hearing the board shall announce its decision. Upon publication of objection to a new substance being designated as a controlled substance under this chapter by the board, control under this chapter is stayed until the board publishes its decision. If a substance is designated as controlled by the board under this paragraph the control shall be temporary and if within sixty days after the next regular session of the general assembly convenes it has not made the corresponding changes in this chapter, the temporary designation of control of the substance by the board shall be nullified. [C73, §204.201]

DIVISION III
REGULATION OF MANUFACTURE, DISTRIBUTION AND DISPENSING OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES

204.301 Rules. The board may, subject to chapter 17A, promulgate rules and charge reasonable fees relating to the registration and control of the manufacture, distribution, and dispensing of controlled substances within this state. [C73, §204.301]

204.302 Registration requirements.

1. Every person who manufactures, distributes, or dispenses any controlled substance within this state or who proposes to engage in the manufacture, distribution, or dispensing of any controlled substance within this state, shall obtain annually a registration issued by the board in accordance with its rules.

2. Persons registered by the board under this chapter to manufacture, distribute, dispense, or conduct research with controlled substances may possess, manufacture, distribute, dispense, or conduct research with those substances to the extent authorized by their registration and in conformity with the other provisions of this division.

3. The following persons need not register and may lawfully possess controlled substances under this chapter:

a. An agent or employee of any registered manufacturer, distributor, or dispenser of any controlled substance if he is acting in the usual course of his business or employment.

b. A common or contract carrier or warehouseman, or an employee thereof, whose possession of any controlled substance is in the usual course of business or employment.

c. An ultimate user or a person in possession of any controlled substance pursuant to a lawful order of a practitioner or in possession of a schedule V substance.

4. A separate registration is required for each principal place of business or professional practice where the applicant manufactures, distributes, or dispenses controlled substances.

5. The board may inspect the establishment of a registrant or applicant for registration in accordance with the board’s rules. [C24, 27, 31, 35, §155; C39, §§169.03, 3169.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §§204.03, 204.12; C73, §204.302]

The board shall register an applicant to manufacture or distribute controlled substances included in sections 204.204, 204.206, 204.208, 204.210 and 204.212 unless it determines that the issuance of that registration would be inconsistent with the public interest. In determining the public interest, the board shall consider all of the following factors:

a. Maintenance of effective controls against diversion of controlled substances into other than legitimate medical, scientific, or industrial channels.

b. Compliance with applicable state and local law.

c. Any convictions of the applicant under any federal and state laws relating to any controlled substance.

d. Past experience in the manufacture or distribution of controlled substances, and the existence in the applicant’s establishment of effective controls against diversion.

e. Furnishing by the applicant of false or fraudulent material in any application filed under this chapter.

f. Suspension or revocation of the applicant’s federal registration to manufacture, distribute, or dispense controlled substances as authorized by federal law.

g. Any other factors relevant to and consistent with the public health and safety.

2. Registration under subsection 1 of this section does not entitle a registrant to manufacture and distribute controlled substances in schedule I or II other than those specified in the registration.

3. Practitioners shall be registered to dispense any controlled substances or to conduct research with controlled substances in schedules II through V if they are authorized to dispense or conduct research under the law of this state. The board need not require separate registration under this division for practitioners engaging in research with nonnarcotic controlled substances in schedules II through V where the registrant is already registered under this division in another capacity. Practitioners registered under federal law to conduct research with schedule I substances may conduct research in schedule I substances within this state upon furnishing the board evidence of the federal registration.

4. Compliance by manufacturers and distributors with the provisions of the federal law
CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES, §204.307

respecting registration, excluding fees, entitles them to be registered under this chapter. [C73,§204.303]

204.304 Revocation and suspension of registration.
1. A registration under section 204.303 to manufacture, distribute, or dispense a controlled substance may be suspended or revoked by the board upon a finding that the registrant:
   a. Has furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under this chapter;
   b. Has had his federal registration suspended or revoked to manufacture, distribute, or dispense controlled substances; or
   c. Has been convicted of a public offense under any state or federal law relating to any controlled substance. For the purpose of this section only, a conviction shall include a plea of guilty, a forfeiture of bail or collateral deposited to secure a defendant's appearance in court which forfeiture has not been vacated, or a finding of guilt in a criminal action even though the entry of the judgment or sentence has been withheld and the individual placed on probation.
2. The board may limit revocation or suspension of a registration to the particular controlled substance with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist.
3. If the board suspends or revokes a registration, all controlled substances owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal. No disposition may be made of substances under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded unless a court, upon application, orders the sale of perishable substances and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all such controlled substances may be forfeited to the state.
4. The board shall promptly notify the bureau and the department of all orders suspending or revoking registration and all forfeitures of controlled substances. [C39,§3169.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§204.4; C73,§204.304]

204.305 Order to show cause.
1. Before denying, suspending or revoking a registration, or refusing a renewal of registration, the board shall serve upon the applicant or registrant an order to show cause why registration should not be denied, revoked, or suspended, or why the renewal should not be refused. The order to show cause shall contain a statement of the basis therefor and shall call upon the applicant or registrant to appear before the board at a time and place not less than thirty days after the date of service of the order, but in the case of a denial or renewal of registration the show cause order shall be served not later than thirty days before the expiration of the registration. These proceedings shall be conducted without regard to any criminal prosecution or other proceeding. Proceedings to refuse renewal of registration shall not abate the existing registration which shall remain in effect pending the outcome of the administrative hearing.
2. The board, without an order to show cause, may suspend any registration simultaneously with the institution of proceedings under section 204.304, or where renewal of registration is refused, if it finds that there is an imminent danger to the public health or safety which warrants this action. The suspension shall continue in effect until the conclusion of the proceedings, including judicial review thereof, under the provisions of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, unless sooner withdrawn by the board or dissolved by the district or supreme court. [C73,§204.305; 65GA, ch 1090,§114]

1. Issuance and execution of administrative inspection warrants shall be as follows:

a. A district or municipal court judge, within his jurisdiction, and upon proper oath or affirmation showing probable cause, may issue warrants for the purpose of conducting administrative inspections authorized by this chapter or rule thereunder, and seizures of property appropriate to such inspections. For purposes of the issuance of administrative inspection warrants, probable cause exists upon showing a valid public interest in the effective enforcement of the chapter or rules promulgated thereunder, sufficient to justify administrative inspection of the area, premises, building or conveyance in the circumstances specified in the application for the warrant.

b. A warrant shall issue only upon sworn testimony of an officer or employee of the board duly designated and having knowledge of the facts alleged, before the district or municipal court judge, establishing the grounds for issuing the warrant. If the judge is satisfied that grounds for the application exist or that there is probable cause to believe they exist, he shall issue a warrant identifying the area, premises, building, or conveyance to be inspected, the purpose of the inspection, and, if appropriate, the type of property to be inspected, if any.

The warrant shall:

(1) State the grounds for its issuance and the name of each person whose testimony has been taken in support thereof.

(2) Be directed to a person authorized by section 204.501 to execute it.

(3) Command the person to whom it is directed to inspect the area, premises, building, or conveyance identified for the purpose specified and, if appropriate, direct the seizure of the property specified.

(4) Identify the item or types of property to be seized, if any.

(5) Direct that it be served during normal business hours, if appropriate, and designate the judge to whom it shall be returned.

c. A warrant issued pursuant to this section must be executed and returned within ten days after its date unless, upon a showing of a need for additional time, the court so instructs otherwise in the warrant. If property is seized pursuant to a warrant, the person executing the warrant shall give to the person from whom the property is seized, or the person in charge of the premises from which the property is seized, a copy of the warrant and a receipt for the property seized or shall leave the copy and receipt at the place from which the property is seized. The return of the warrant shall be made promptly and shall be accompanied by a written inventory of any property seized. The inventory shall be made in the presence of the person executing the warrant and of the person from whose possession or premises the property was seized, if they are present, or in the presence of at least one credible person other than the person executing the warrant. A copy of the inventory shall be delivered to the person from whom or from whose premises the property was seized and to the applicant for the warrant.

d. The judge who has issued a warrant under this section shall require that there be attached to the warrant a copy of the return, and of all papers filed in connection with the return, and shall file them with the clerk of the district or municipal court for the district in which the inspection was made.

2. The department may make administrative inspections of controlled premises in accordance with the following provisions:

finished material, containers and labeling found therein, and, except as provided in paragraph "e" of this subsection, all other things therein, including records, files, papers, processes, controls, and facilities bearing on violation of this chapter; and

(3) To inventory any stock of any controlled substance therein and obtain samples of any such substance.

d. This section shall not be construed to prevent the inspection without a warrant of books and records pursuant to a subpoena issued in accordance with section 622.65, nor shall this section be construed to prevent entries and administrative inspections, including seizures of property, without a warrant:

(1) With the consent of the owner, operator, or agent in charge of the controlled premises;

(2) In situations presenting imminent danger to health or safety;

(3) In situations involving inspection of conveyances where there is reasonable cause to believe that the mobility of the conveyance makes it impracticable to obtain a warrant;

(4) In any other exceptional or emergency circumstance where time or opportunity to apply for a warrant is lacking; and

(5) In all other situations where a warrant is not constitutionally required.

e. Except when the owner, operator, or agent in charge of the controlled premises, so consents in writing, no inspection authorized by this section shall extend to financial data; sales data, other than shipment data; or pricing data. [C73, §204.502]

3. A practitioner engaged in medical practice or research or the Iowa drug abuse authority or any program which is licensed by the authority shall not be required to furnish the name or identity of a patient or research subject to the board or the department, nor shall the practitioner or the authority or any program which is licensed by the authority be compelled in any state or local civil, criminal, administrative, legislative or other proceedings to furnish the name or identity of an individual that the practitioner or the authority or any of its licensed programs is obligated to keep confidential. The proof of entitlement to any exemption or exception by the person claiming its benefit shall be a valid defense.

206.3 Examination and orders. The examination of pesticides and those products to which pesticides have been applied for the content of pesticide residues shall be made under the direction of the secretary, or his authorized representative, for the purpose of determining whether they comply with the requirements of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter. If it shall appear from such examination that a pesticide fails to comply with the provisions of this chapter, and the secretary, or his authorized representative, contemplates instituting criminal proceedings against any person, he shall cause notice to be given to such person. Any person so notified shall be given an opportunity to present his views, either orally or in writing, with regard to such contemplated proceedings and if thereafter in the opinion of the secretary, or his authorized representative, it shall appear that the provisions of the chapter have been violated by such person, then the secretary or his authorized representative may refer the facts to the county attorney for the county in which the violation shall have occurred with a copy of the results of the analysis or the examination of such article; provided, however, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed as requiring the secretary or his representative to report for prosecution or for the institution of proceedings in minor violations of the chapter whenever he believes that the public interests will be best served by a suitable notice of warning in writing. [C66, 71, 73, §206.7; 65GA, ch 1157, §3]

206.4 Classification of licenses.

1. The secretary may classify or subclassify certifications or licenses to be issued under this chapter. Each classification shall be subject to separate testing procedures and requirements. 2. The secretary in promulgating rules under this chapter shall prescribe standards for the certification of applicators of pesticides. In determining these standards the secretary shall take into consideration standards of the United States environmental protection agency and is authorized to adopt by rule these standards. [65GA, ch 1157, §4]

206.5 Certification requirements. No person shall apply any restricted use pesticide without first complying with the certification requirements of this chapter and such other restrictions as determined by the secretary or being under the direct supervision of a certified applicator.

The secretary shall adopt, by rule, requirements for the examination, re-examination and certification of applicants and set a fee of not more than ten dollars for the certification program of commercial applicators and not more than five dollars for the certification program of private applicators.

The secretary may adopt rules for the training of applicators in cooperation with the cooperative extension service at Iowa State University of science and technology. [65GA, ch 1157, §5]

206.6 License for commercial applicators.

1. Commercial applicator. No person shall engage in the business of applying pesticides to the lands or property of another at any time without being licensed by the secretary. The secretary shall require an annual license fee of not more than twenty-five dollars for each license. Application for a license shall be made in writing to the department on a designated form obtained from the department. Each application for a license shall contain information regarding the applicant’s qualifications and proposed operations, license classification or classifications for which the applicant is applying.

A person who applies pesticides by use of any aircraft and who is licensed as an aerial commercial applicator in another state shall apply pesticides in Iowa under the direct supervision of a person holding a valid Iowa aerial commercial applicator’s license. The supervising aerial commercial applicator shall be jointly liable with the person who is licensed as an aerial commercial applicator in another state for damages. The supervising applicator shall immediately notify the secretary of the commencement and of the termination of service provided by the supervised applicator. A nonresident who has a duly appointed resident agent upon whom process may be served as provided by law shall not be required to designate the secretary of state as such agent. The secretary of state shall be allowed such fees as provided by law for designating resident agents. The secretary shall be furnished with a copy of such designation of the secretary of state or of a resident agent, such copy to be certified by the secretary of state.
3. Examination for commercial applicator license. The secretary shall not issue a commercial applicator license until the individual engaged in or managing the pesticide application business is qualified by passing an examination to demonstrate to the secretary his knowledge of how to apply pesticides under the classifications he has applied for, and his knowledge of the nature and effect of pesticides he may apply under such classifications. The applicant successfully completing this examination requirement shall be a licensed commercial applicator.

4. Renewal of applicant's license. The secretary shall renew any applicant's license under the classifications for which such applicant is licensed, subject to re-examination for additional knowledge that may be required to apply pesticides.

5. Issue commercial applicator license. If the secretary finds the applicant qualified to apply pesticides in the classifications for which he has applied and if the applicant files the bonds or insurance required under section 206.13, and if the applicant applying for a license to engage in aerial application of pesticides has met all of the requirements of the federal aviation administration, the Iowa aeronautics commission and any other applicable federal or state laws or regulations to operate the equipment described in the application, the secretary shall issue a commercial applicator license limited to the classifications for which he is qualified, which shall expire at the end of the calendar year of issue unless it has been revoked or suspended prior thereto by the secretary for cause. The secretary may limit the license of the applicant to the use of certain pesticides, or to certain areas, or to certain types of equipment if the applicant is only so qualified. If a license is not issued as applied for, the secretary shall inform the applicant in writing of the reasons therefor.

   b. Public applicators for agencies listed in this subsection shall be subject to examinations as provided for in this section, however, the secretary shall issue a limited license without a fee to such public applicator who has qualified for such license. The public applicator license shall be valid only when such applicator is acting as an applicator applying or supervising the application of pesticides used by such entities. Government research personnel shall be exempt from this licensing requirement when applying pesticides only to experimental plots. Individuals licensed pursuant to this section shall be licensed public applicators.
   c. Such agencies and municipal corporations shall be subject to legal recourse by any person damaged by such application of any pesticide, and such action may be brought in the county where the damage or some part thereof occurred. [C66, 71, 73, §206.5; 65GA, ch 1157, §6]

   2. Certification standards. Certification standards shall be adopted by the secretary to determine the individual's competence with respect to the application and handling of the restricted use pesticides. In determining these standards, the secretary shall take into consideration the standards of the United States environmental protection agency.
   3. Reasons for not qualifying. If the secretary does not qualify the applicator under this section he shall inform the applicant in writing of the reasons therefor. [65GA, ch 1157, §7]

A license shall be required for each location or outlet located within this state from which such pesticides are distributed. Any manufacturer, registrant, or distributor who has no pesticide dealer outlet licensed within this state and who distributes such pesticides directly into this state shall obtain a pesticide dealer license for his principal out-of-state location or outlet.
   2. Application for a license shall be accompanied by a twenty-five dollar annual license fee for the primary business location and an additional five dollar annual license fee for each other location or outlet within the state, and shall be on a form prescribed by the secretary and shall include the full name of the person applying for such license.
   3. Provisions of this section shall not apply to a pesticide applicator who sells pesticides only as an integral part of his pesticide application service when such pesticides are dispensed only through his equipment used for such pesticide application; or any federal, state, county, or municipal agency which provides pesticides only for its own programs. [65GA, ch 1157, §8]

206.9 Co-operative agreements. The secretary shall, upon receipt of such statement, notify the licensee and the owner or lessee of the land and other person who may be charged with the responsibility of the damages claimed, and furnish copies of such statements as may be requested. The secretary shall inspect damages whenever possible and when he determines that the complaint has sufficient merit he shall make such information available to the person claiming damage and to the person who is alleged to have caused the damage.

3. The filing of such a report or failure to give notice shall not preclude recovery in an action for damages and shall not affect the limitations of actions set forth in chapter 614. Nothing herein shall prohibit an action for damages for bodily injury or death to any person.
a. The filing of such report or the failure to file such a report shall not be a violation of this chapter. However, if the person failing to file such report is the only one injured from such use or application of a pesticide by others, the secretary may, when in the public interest, refuse to hold a hearing for the denial, suspension or revocation of a license or permit issued under this chapter until such report is filed.

b. Where damage is alleged to have occurred, the claimant shall permit the secretary, the licensee and his representatives, such as bondsmen or insurer, to observe within reasonable hours the lands or nontarget organism alleged to have been damaged in order that such damage may be examined. Failure of the claimant to permit such observation and examination of the damaged lands shall automatically bar the claim against the licensee.

[C73,§206.13; 65GA, ch 1157,§14]

206.15 Licensee to keep records. The secretary shall require commercial applicators and certified commercial applicators to maintain records with respect to application of pesticides. Such relevant information as the secretary may deem necessary may be specified by regulation. Such records shall be kept for a period of three years from the date of the application of the pesticide to which such records refer, and the secretary shall, upon request in writing, be furnished with a copy of such records forthwith. [65GA, ch 1157,§15]

206.16 Confiscation.

1. Any pesticide or device that is distributed, sold, or offered for sale within this state or delivered for transportation or transported in intrastate commerce or between points within this state through any point outside this state shall be liable to be proceeded against in any district court in any county of the state where it may be found and seized for confiscation by condemnation.

a. In the case of a pesticide:
   (1) If it is adulterated or misbranded.
   (2) If it has not been registered under the provisions of section 206.12.
   (3) If it fails to bear on its label the information required by this chapter.
   (4) If it is a white powder pesticide and is not colored as required under this chapter.

b. In the case of a device, if it is misbranded.

2. If the article is condemned, it shall, after entry of decree, be disposed of by destruction or sale as the court may direct and the proceeds if such article is sold, less legal costs, shall be paid to the state treasurer; provided, that the article shall not be sold contrary to the provisions of this chapter; and, provided further, that upon payment of costs and execution and delivery of a good and sufficient bond conditioned that the article shall not be disposed of unlawfully, the court may direct that said article be delivered to the owner thereof for relabeling or reprocessing as the case may be.

3. When a decree of condemnation is entered against the article, court costs and fees and storage and other proper expenses shall be awarded against the person, if any, intervening as claimant of the article.

4. When the secretary has reasonable cause to believe a pesticide or device is being distributed, stored, transported, or used in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, or of any of the prescribed rules under this chapter, he may issue and serve a written "stop sale, use, or removal" order upon the owner or custodian of any such pesticide or device. If the owner or custodian is not available for service of the order upon him, the secretary may attach the order to the pesticide or device and notify the registrant. The pesticide or device shall not be sold, used, or removed until the provisions of this chapter have been complied with and the pesticide or device has been released in writing under conditions specified by the secretary or the violation has been otherwise disposed of as provided in this chapter by a court of competent jurisdiction. [C66, 71, 73,§206.10; 65GA, ch 1157,§16]

206.17 Reciprocal agreement. The secretary may waive all or part of the examination requirements provided for in sections 206.6 and 206.7 on a reciprocal basis with any other state which has substantially the same standards. [65GA, ch 1157,§17]

206.18 Exception to penalties.

1. The penalties provided for violations of section 206.11, subsection 1, shall not apply to:
   a. Any carrier while lawfully engaged in transporting a pesticide within this state, if such carrier shall, upon request, permit the secretary or his designated agent to copy all records showing the transactions in and movement of the articles.
   b. Public officials of this state and the federal government engaged in the performance of their official duties.
   c. The manufacturer or shipper of a pesticide for experimental use only:
      (1) By or under the supervision of an agency of this state or of the federal government authorized by law to conduct research in the field of pesticides.
      (2) By others if the pesticide is not sold and if the container thereof is plainly and conspicuously marked "for experimental use only—not to be sold", together with the manufacturer's name and address; provided, however, that if a written permit has been obtained from the secretary, pesticides may be sold for experimental purposes subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be set forth in the permit.

3. The provisions of section 206.6 relating to licenses and requirements for their issuance shall not apply to any farmer applying pesticides for himself or with ground equipment or manually for his farmer neighbors; provided, that:
   a. He operates farm property and operates and maintains pesticide application equipment primarily for his own use;
   b. He is not regularly engaged in the business of applying pesticides for hire amounting to a principal or regular occupation and that he shall not publicly hold himself out as a pesticide applicator;
   c. He operates his pesticide application equipment only in the vicinity of his own property and for the accommodation of his neighbors.
4. The licensing requirements of section 206.6 shall not apply to any person using hand-powered equipment to applying pesticides to lawns, or shrubs and trees not in excess of twelve feet high, as an incidental part of taking care of household lawns and yards provided, that such person shall not publicly hold himself out as being in the business of applying pesticides, and that such person does not apply restricted use pesticides or state restricted use pesticides, restricted to use only by certified applicators.
5. The provisions of section 206.6 relating to licenses and requirements for their issuance shall not apply to a doctor of veterinary medicine applying pesticides to animals during the normal course of his veterinary practice; provided that he is not regularly engaged in the business of applying pesticides for hire amounting to a principal or regular occupation or does not publicly hold himself out as a pesticide applicator; and that he does not apply restricted use pesticides, or state restricted use pesticides, restricted to use by certified applicators only. [65GA, ch 1157, §20]

Reflected to in §206.22(25)

206.21 Secretary of agriculture—duties. 1. The secretary is authorized, after public hearing following due notice, to make appropriate rules for carrying out the provisions of this chapter, including rules providing for the collection and chemical examination of samples of pesticides or devices.
2. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions and the requirements of this chapter and the rules made and notices given pursuant thereto, the secretary or his authorized agents, inspectors, or employees may enter into or upon any place during reasonable business hours in order to take periodic random samples for chemical examinations of pesticides and devices and to open any bundle, package or other container containing or believed to contain a pesticide in order to determine whether the pesticide or device complies with the requirements of this chapter. Methods of analysis shall be those currently used by the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists. [C66, 71, 73, §206.6]

206.22 Penalties. 1. Any person violating section 206.11, subsection 1, paragraph "a", shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars.
2. Any person violating any provision of this chapter other than section 206.11, subsection 1, paragraph "a", shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars for the first offense and upon conviction for a subsequent offense shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars; provided, that any offense committed more than five years after a previous conviction shall be considered a first offense; and provided, further, that in any case where a registrant was issued a warning by the secretary pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, such registrant shall upon conviction of a violation of any provision of this chapter other than section 206.11, subsection 1, paragraph "a", be fined not more than one thousand dollars, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or be subject to both such fine and imprisonment; and the registration of the article with reference to which the violation occurred shall terminate automatically. An article, the registration of which has been terminated, may not again be registered unless the article, its labeling, and other material required to be submitted appear to the secretary to comply with all the requirements of this chapter.

CHAPTER 208
PETROLEUM PRODUCTS
General penalty, [189.21

208.1 Definitions. As used in this chapter:
1. The term "illuminating oil" shall mean all products known or sold as kerosene and any petroleum product sold for use in atmospheric pressure wickfed illuminating apparatus.
2. The term "department" shall mean the department of agriculture of the state of Iowa and shall include the authorized agents of such department. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3191; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§208.1]

208.2 Illuminating oil tested. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale or use any illuminating oil in this state unless it has first been sampled for testing by the department as hereinafter provided, nor if the same, upon being tested by the department as hereinafter prescribed, emits a combustible vapor at a temperature of less than 100° F. [C73,§8901; C97,§2505, 2506; S13,§2506; SS15, §2505; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3197, 3202; C46, §§208.7, 208.12; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§208.2]

208.3 Sampling. Illuminating oil stored in any tank at or adjacent to a refinery or marine or pipe-line terminal in this state, from which same is withdrawn for sale or use in this state or for distribution to destinations in this state, shall be sampled for testing by the department whenever the stock in such tank is replenished. After replenishment of any such stock, no withdrawals shall be made therefrom for sale or use in this state or for shipment or delivery to points in this state, until a true sample of not less than sixteen fluid ounces is taken therefrom as hereinafter prescribed. Every person storing illuminating oil in such tanks shall notify the department of each consignment by which the stock in such tanks will be replenished. Illuminating oil imported into this state (other than that placed in storage at refineries or marine or pipe-line terminals in this state) shall not be unloaded or emptied from its original container or sold or offered for sale or used in this state until a sample of not less than sixteen fluid ounces is taken therefrom as hereinafter prescribed; provided that if such illuminating oil has been previously sampled or tested by the department, the same may be unloaded, emptied, sold, offered for sale or used. Every person receiving or about to receive illuminating oil so imported into this state which has not been previously sampled or tested as hereinafter provided shall notify the department of the receipt or anticipated receipt of each consignment thereof.

If such replenishment or receipt of illuminating oil occurs during the usual business hours of any regular business day, notice thereof (unless previously given stating the approximate date of anticipated replenishment or receipt) shall be given to the department forthwith. If such replenishment or receipt occurs outside usual business hours, such notice shall be given during the first usual business hour thereafter. For the purposes of this chapter, usual business hours shall be between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on any regular business day except Saturday and between 8 a.m. and 12 noon on Saturday. Sundays and legal holidays shall not be considered regular business days.

If, after the stock of illuminating oil has been replenished in any tank at a refinery or marine or pipe-line terminal in this state, such replenished stock has not been sampled by the department prior to the time the first withdrawal therefrom is made, the custodian of such oil shall take a true sample thereof, of not less than sixteen fluid ounces, for testing by the department. If illuminating oil brought into this state (other than that imported by boat, barge, or pipe line for storage at a marine or pipe-line terminal in this state) has not been sampled by the department prior to the time the same is ready for unloading in this state, the receiver thereof shall take a true sample therefrom, of not less than sixteen fluid ounces, for testing by the department. All such samples shall be immediately placed in a clean container and sealed. Suitable containers and seals shall be furnished by the department. The person taking such sample or custodian shall record upon or with the seal thereon the date and the identity of the conveyance or container, from which the sample was taken, and the kind of product sampled, together with such other information as the department may reasonably require for the proper identification of such sample and the making of a proper inspection certificate. Such sample thus taken shall be mailed or held for delivery to the department as the department shall prescribe. After such sample is taken, such illuminating oil may be withdrawn, unloaded, sold, offered for sale, or used, the same as if sampled by the department.

The department may, upon agreement with the operator of any refinery or marine or pipe-line terminal outside this state, provide an inspector or appoint an agent to sample or to make tests of illuminating oil at such refinery or terminal for shipment or delivery into this state in which case the procedures prescribed in this chapter may be performed thereat in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if such refinery or terminal was within this state. [C97, §§2504-2506; S13, §§2504, 2505, 2510-3a; SS15, §§2505, 2506; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3193, 3198, 3199, 3208, 3209; C46, §§208.3, 208.6, 208.9, 208.15, 208.18; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §208.3]

208.6 Gasoline receptacles. No person shall place gasoline or any other petroleum product for public use having a flash point below 100° F. into any can, cask, barrel or other similar receptacle having a capacity in excess of one pint unless the same is painted bright red and is plainly marked with the word “gasoline” or with the warning “flammable—keep fire away” in contrasting letters of a height equal to at least one-tenth of the smallest dimension of such container. Gasoline or other petroleum products having a flash point below 100° F. shall not be placed in bottles. The foregoing shall not apply to

208.4 Method of testing. All tests provided for in this chapter shall be conducted in accordance with the methods outlined by the American Society for Testing Materials—Method D-56 (A.S.T.M.) or with the Foster cup or Foster automatic oil tester. If Foster cup or Foster automatic oil tester is used, it shall be used in accordance with the following directions:

1. Remove the thermometer with its mountings from the oil cup.
2. Lift off the oil cup containing the flashing taper and fill open water bath with water to the mark upon the inside.
3. Take the wick holder from the oil cup, and fill this vessel with the oil to be tested, pouring in the oil at the place of the wick holder and noting the gauge mark at the thermometer hole, pouring very gradually as the surface approaches the gauge mark. The gauge mark consists of a small pendant shelf and the oil cup is properly filled when the upper surface of the oil just adheres to the lower surface of the gauge mark. Too much care cannot be taken at this point. Having ceased pouring, tip the cup so that the oil flows away from the gauge, then gradually restore it to the horizontal, and if the surface does not again adhere, add a little more oil.
4. Adjust the wick to the flashing taper to give a flame that does not exceed one-quarter of an inch in height and that exhibits as much blue at its base as yellow at its top.
5. Set the oil cup on top and into the water bath, return the flashing taper to its place, inverting the conical thimble around it, and return the thermometer to its place upon the cup. In doing this be sure that the casing of the latter is pushed down upon the cup as far as it will go.
6. Fill the lamp beneath half full of alcohol, light and place it beneath the water bath. Note the rate of increase in temperature as shown by the thermometer and adjust the wick to raise the temperature at the rate of 2° per minute. When the temperature has reached 85°, light the flashing taper and observe it closely. As soon as the oil under test has reached its “flashing point”, the flame of this taper will be extinguished by the first “flash”, and the point of attention is the temperature at the instant the flame of the taper is extinguished. This “flashing point” is the point of temperature at which the oil emits a combustible vapor.

The department shall determine which of the methods set out above shall be used in the inspection of kerosene, and shall by regulation prescribe the one method which shall be uniform in all kerosene inspections. [C97, §§2504; S13, §§2504; SS15, §§2505; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3198; C46, §§208.3, 208.6, 208.9, 208.15, 208.18; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §208.4]

208.5 Records of department. The department shall keep such records as may be necessary for the purposes of this chapter of all tests made by it of illuminating oil. Such records shall be open at all reasonable times to public inspection. The department shall furnish to the person for whom such tests are made a certificate of inspection covering each sample tested showing the date of such test, the identity of the conveyance or container from which the sample was taken, the kind of illuminating oil therein, the result of the test and inspection. [C97, §§2505, 2506; S13, §§2505, 2506; SS15, §§2505, 2506; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3199, 3215; C46, §§208.3, 208.25; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §208.5] vehicle cargo or supply tanks nor to underground storage nor to storage tanks from which such liquids are withdrawn for manufacturing purposes or are loaded into vehicle cargo tanks, but all outlet faucets or valves from such excepted containers shall be painted bright red and suitably tagged to indicate the nature of the product to be withdrawn therefrom. No person shall place illuminating oil in any container which is painted red nor shall illuminating oil be loaded or withdrawn through any piping which is used or designated as aforesaid for products having a flash point below 100° F. [C97, §§2505, 2506; S13, §§2510-1a, -2a, -j, -k; SS15, §§2505; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3194-3196; C46, §§208.4-208.6; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §208.6]

208.6, PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

208.6 Commingled products. If any illuminating oil is commingled with any other product the entire commingled products shall be deemed uninspected and untested, and it shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, or use any such commingled product for illuminating purposes within this state unless and until the same has been inspected and approved for sale or use by the department. [C73, §3901; C97, §§2505, 2506; S13, §§2508; SS15, §§2505; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3201-3203; C46, §§208.11-208.13; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §208.7]

208.7 Fees for inspection. Illuminating oil inspections provided for in this chapter shall be deemed to be performed for and fees therefor at the rate of one cent per barrel (fifty gallons) on all illuminating oil received shall be paid by the person who first received such illuminating oil in this state.

For the purposes of computing such fees, illuminating oil shall be deemed to be received in this state as follows:

1. If placed in storage at or adjacent to a refinery or a marine or pipe-line terminal in this state the same shall be deemed to be received when withdrawn from such storage for sale or use in this state or for transportation to destinations in this state other than for transfer to other refineries or marine or pipeline terminals in this state and not before. When so withdrawn, such oil shall be deemed to be received by the person who was the owner thereof just prior to withdrawal. Provided that if such oil so withdrawn is shipped or delivered to a person engaged in the storage and distribution thereof by tank car or tank truck, such oil when so withdrawn shall be deemed to be received by such distributor.

2. If imported into this state (other than to a refinery or marine or pipeline terminal in this state) the same shall be deemed to be received by the person who is the owner thereof immediately after the same is unloaded in this state.

On or before the last day of each calendar month, every person receiving illuminating oil in this state shall file with the department a report in such form and containing such information as the department shall prescribe as to each receipt or the total receipts of illuminating oil by such person in this state during the preceding calendar month and at the same time shall remit to the department the inspection fees thereon. Providing, however, that only one-half of the inspection fees shall be remitted on illuminating oil received and thereafter shipped or sold in rail tank car or motor transport lots directly to the federal government or on illuminating oil received and thereafter exported from this state, and if remitted in full, one-half said fees shall be refunded or credit therefor shall be allowed on subsequent reports. [C97, §§2505, 2506; S13, §§2505, SS15, §§2505, 2506; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3201-3203; C46, §§208.11-208.13; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §208.7]

§218A.1, INTERSTATE MENTAL HEALTH COMPACT

CHAPTER 218A

INTERSTATE MENTAL HEALTH COMPACT

218A.1 Mental health compact enacted. The interstate compact on mental health is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this state with all other states legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

The contracting states solemnly agree that:

ARTICLE I

The party states find that the proper and expeditious treatment of the mentally ill and mentally deficient can be facilitated by cooperative action, to the benefit of the patients, their families, and society as a whole. Further, the party states find that the necessity of and desirability for furnishing such care and treatment bears no primary relation to the residence or citizenship of the patient but that, on the contrary, the controlling factors of community safety and humanitarianism require that facilities and services be made available for all who are in need of them. Consequently, it is the purpose of this compact and of the party states to provide the necessary legal basis for the institutionalization or other appropriate care and treatment of the mentally ill and mentally deficient under a system that recognizes the paramount importance of patient welfare and to establish the responsibilities of the party states in terms of such welfare.

ARTICLE II

As used in this compact:

a. “Sending state” shall mean a party state from which a patient is transported pursuant to the provisions of the compact or from which it is contemplated that a patient may be so sent.

b. “Receiving state” shall mean a party state to which a patient is transported pursuant to the provisions of the compact or to which it is contemplated that a patient may be so sent.

c. “Institution” shall mean any hospital or other facility maintained by a party state or political subdivision thereof for the care and treatment of mental illness or mental deficiency.

d. “Patient” shall mean any person subject to or eligible as determined by the laws of the sending state, for institutionalization or other care, treatment, or supervision pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

e. “After-care” shall mean care, treatment and services provided a patient, as defined herein, on convalescent status or conditional release.

f. “Mental illness” shall mean mental disease to such extent that a person so afflicted requires care and treatment for his own welfare, or the welfare of others, or of the community.

g. “Mental deficiency” shall mean mental deficiency as defined by appropriate clinical authorities to such extent that a person so afflicted is incapable of managing himself and his affairs, but shall not include mental illness as defined herein.

h. “State” shall mean any state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

ARTICLE III

a. Whenever a person physically present in any party state shall be in need of institutionalization by reason of mental illness or mental deficiency, he shall be eligible for care and treatment in an institution in that state irrespective of his residence, settlement or citizenship qualifications.

b. The provisions of paragraph “a” of this article to the contrary notwithstanding, any patient may be transferred to an institution in another state whenever there are factors based upon clinical determinations indicating that the care and treatment of said patient would be facilitated or improved thereby. Any such institutionalization may be for the entire period of care and treatment or for any portion or portions thereof. The factors referred to in this paragraph shall include the patient’s full record with due regard for the location of the patient’s family, character of the illness and probable duration thereof, and such other factors as shall be considered appropriate.

c. No state shall be obliged to receive any patient pursuant to the provisions of paragraph “b” of this article unless the sending state has given advance notice of its intention to send the patient; furnished all available medical and other pertinent records concerning the patient; given the qualified medical or other appropriate clinical authorities of the receiving state an opportunity to examine the patient if said authorities so wish; and unless the receiving state shall agree to accept the patient.

d. In the event that the laws of the receiving state establish a system of priorities for the admission of patients, an interstate patient under this compact shall receive the same priority as a local patient and shall be taken in the same order and at the same time that he would be taken if he were a local patient.

e. Pursuant to this compact, the determination as to the suitable place of institutionalization for a patient may be reviewed at any time and such further transfer of the patient may be made as seems likely to be in the best interest of the patient.

ARTICLE IV

a. Whenever, pursuant to the laws of the state in which a patient is physically present, it shall be determined that the patient should receive after-care or supervision, such care or supervision may be provided in a receiving state. If the medical or other appropriate clinical authorities having responsibility for the care and treatment of the patient in the sending state shall have reason to believe that after-care in another state would be in the best interest of the patient and would not jeopardize the public safety, they shall request the appropriate authorities in the receiving state to investigate the desirability of affording the patient such after-care in said receiving state, and such investigation shall be made with all reasonable speed. The request for investigation shall be accompanied by complete information concerning the patient's intended place of residence and the identity of the person in whose charge it is proposed to place the patient, the complete medical history of the patient, and such other documents as may be pertinent.

b. If the medical or other appropriate clinical authorities having responsibility for the care and treatment of the patient in the sending state and the appropriate authorities in the receiving state find that the best interest of the patient would be served thereby, and if the public safety would not be jeopardized thereby, the patient may receive after-care or supervision in the receiving state.

c. In supervising, treating, or caring for a patient on after-care pursuant to the terms of this article, a receiving state shall employ the same standards of visitation, examination, care, and treatment that it employs for similar local patients.

ARTICLE V

Whenever a dangerous or potentially dangerous patient escapes from an institution in any party state or district thereof in which he is physically present, and without the jurisdiction of the escape in a manner reasonably calculated to facilitate the speedy apprehension of the escapee, immediately upon the apprehension and identification of any such dangerous or potentially dangerous patient, he shall be detained in the state where found pending disposition in accordance with law.

Referred to in article IX(a)

ARTICLE VI

The duly accredited officers of any state party to this compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the patient, shall be permitted to transport any patient being moved pursuant to this compact through any and all states party to this compact, without interference.

ARTICLE VII

a. No person shall be deemed a patient of more than one institution at any given time. Completion of transfer of any patient to an institution in a receiving state shall have the effect of making the person a patient of the institution in the receiving state.

b. The sending state shall pay all costs of and incidental to the transportation of any patient pursuant to this compact, but any two or more party states may, by making a specific agreement for that purpose, arrange for a different allocation of costs as among themselves.

Referred to in article XIII(b)

c. No provision of this compact shall be construed to alter or affect any internal relationships among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

d. Nothing in this compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency or other entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be responsible pursuant to any provision of this compact.

e. Nothing in this compact shall be construed to invalidate any reciprocal agreement between a party state and a nonparty state relating to institutionalization, care or treatment of the mentally ill or mentally deficient, or any statutory authority pursuant to which such agreements may be made.

a. Nothing in this compact shall be construed to abridge, diminish, or in any way impair the rights, duties, and responsibilities of any patient's guardian on his own behalf or in respect of any patient for whom he may serve, except that where the transfer of any patient to another jurisdiction makes advisable the appointment of a supplemental or substitute guardian, any court of competent jurisdiction in the receiving state may make such supplemental or substitute appointment and the court which appointed the previous guardian shall upon being duly advised of the new appointment, and upon the satisfactory completion of such accounting and other acts as such court may by law require, relieve the previous guardian of power and responsibility to whatever extent shall be appropriate in the circumstances; provided, however, that in the case of any patient having settlement in the sending state, the court of competent jurisdiction in the sending state shall have the sole discretion to relieve a guardian appointed by it or continue his power and responsibility, whichever it shall deem advisable. The court in the receiving state may, in its discretion, confirm or reappoint the person or persons previously serving as guardian in the sending state in lieu of making a supplemental or substitute appointment.

b. The term "guardian" as used in paragraph "a" of this article shall include any guardian, trustee, legal committee, conservator, or other person or agency however denominated who is charged by law with power to act for or responsibility for the person or property of a patient.

ARTICLE IX

a. No provision of this compact except article V shall apply to any person institutionalized while under sentence in a penal or correctional institution or while subject to trial on a criminal charge, or whose institutionalization is due to the commission of an offense for which, in the absence of mental illness or mental deficiency, said person would be subject to incarceration in a penal or correctional institution.

b. To every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this compact that no patient shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail or lockup, but such patient shall, with all expedition, be taken to a suitable institutional facility for mental illness or mental deficiency.

ARTICLE X

a. Each party state shall appoint a "compact administrator" who, on behalf of his state, shall act as general co-ordinator of activities under the compact in his state and who shall receive copies of all reports, correspondence, and other documents relating to any patient processed under the compact by his state either in the capacity of sending or receiving state. The compact administrator or his duly designated representative shall be the official with whom other party states shall deal in any matter relating to the compact or any patient processed thereunder.

b. The compact administrators of the respective party states shall have power to promulgate reasonable rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE XI

The duly constituted administrative authorities of any two or more party states may enter into supplementary agreements for the provision of any service or facility or for the maintenance of any institution on a joint or co-operative basis whenever the states concerned shall find that such agreements will improve services, facilities, or institutional care and treatment in the fields of mental illness or mental deficiency. No such supplementary agreement shall be construed so as to relieve any party state of any obligation which it otherwise would have under other provisions of this compact.

Referred to in article XIII(b), §218A.3

ARTICLE XII

This compact shall enter into full force and effect as to any state when enacted by it into law and such state shall thereafter be a party thereto with any and all states legally joining therein.

a. A state party to this compact may withdraw therefrom by enacting a statute repealing the same. Such withdrawal shall take effect one year after notice thereof has been communicated officially and in writing to the governors and compact administrators of all other party states. However, the withdrawal of any state shall not change the status of any patient who has been sent to said state or sent out of said state pursuant to the provisions of the compact.

b. Withdrawal from any agreement permitted by article VII "b" as to costs or from any supplementary agreement made pursuant to article XI shall be in accordance with the terms of such agreement.

ARTICLE XIV

This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the Constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the Constitution of any state party thereto, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. The terms and provisions of this compact shall be a part of any contract entered into by the authority of or pursuant thereto, and nothing in any such contract shall be inconsistent therewith.

ARTICLE IV—PROCEDURES AND RIGHTS

Whenever the duly constituted authorities in a state party to this compact, and which has entered into a contract pursuant to article III, shall decide that confinement in, or transfer of an inmate to, an institution within the territory of another party state is necessary or desirable in order to provide adequate quarters and care or an appropriate program of rehabilitation or treatment, said officials may direct that the confinement be within an institution within the territory of said other party state, the receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.

The appropriate officials of any state party to this compact shall have access, at all reasonable times, to any institution in which it has a contractual right to confine inmates for the purpose of inspecting the facilities thereof and visiting such of its inmates as may be confined in the institution.

Inmates confined in an institution pursuant to the terms of this compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and may at any time be removed therefrom for transfer to a prison or other institution within the sending state, for transfer to another institution in which the sending state may have a contractual or other right to confine inmates, for release on probation or parole, for discharge, or for any other purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state; provided that the sending state shall continue to be obligated to such payments as may be required pursuant to the terms of any contract entered into under the terms of article III.

Each receiving state shall provide regular reports to each sending state on the inmates of that sending state in institutions pursuant to this compact including a conduct record of each inmate and certify said record to the official designated by the sending state, in order that each inmate may have official review of his or her record in determining and altering the disposition of said inmate in accordance with the law which may obtain in the sending state and in order that the same may be a source of information for the sending state.

All inmates who may be confined in an institution pursuant to the provisions of this compact shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner and shall be treated equally with such similar inmates of the receiving state as may be confined in the same institution. The fact of confinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any inmate so confined of any legal rights which said inmate would have had if confined in an appropriate institution of the sending state.

Any hearing or hearings to which an inmate confined pursuant to this compact may be entitled by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate authorities of the sending state, or of the receiving state if authorized by the sending state. The receiving state shall provide adequate facilities for such hearings as may be conducted by the appropriate officials of a sending state. In the event such hearing or hearings are had before officials of the receiving state, the governing law shall be that of the sending state and a record of the hearing or hearings as prescribed by the sending state shall be made. Said record together with any recommendations of the hearing officials shall be transmitted forthwith to the official or officials before whom the hearing would have been had if it had taken place in the sending state. In any and all proceedings had pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, the officials of the receiving state shall act solely as agents of the sending state and no final determination shall be made in any matter except by the appropriate officials of the sending state.

Any inmate confined pursuant to this compact shall be released within the territory of the sending state unless the inmate, and the sending and receiving states, shall agree upon release in some other place. The sending state shall bear the cost of such return to its territory.

Any inmate confined pursuant to the terms of this compact shall have any and all rights to participate in and derive any benefits or incur or be relieved of any obligations or have such obligations modified or his status changed on account of any action or proceeding in which he could have participated if confined in any appropriate institution of the sending state located within such state.

The parent, guardian, trustee, or other person or persons entitled under the laws of the sending state to act for, advise, or otherwise function with respect to any inmate shall not be deprived of or restricted in his exercise of any power in respect of any inmate confined pursuant to the terms of this compact.

ARTICLE V—ACTS NOT REVIEWABLE IN RECEIVING STATE—EXTRADITION

Any decision of the sending state in respect of any matter over which it retains jurisdiction pursuant to this compact shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but if at the time the sending state seeks to remove an inmate from an institution in the receiving state there is pending against the inmate within such state any criminal charge or if the inmate is formally accused of having committed within such state a criminal offense, the inmate shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment or detention for such offense. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport inmates pursuant to this compact through any and all states party to this compact without interference.

An inmate who escapes from an institution in which he is confined pursuant to this compact shall be deemed a fugitive from the sending state and from the state in which the institution is situated. In the case of an escape to a jurisdiction other than the sending or receiving state, the responsibility for institution of extradition or rendition proceedings shall be that of the sending state, but nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent or affect the activities of officers and agencies of any jurisdiction directed toward the apprehension and return of an escapee.

ARTICLE VI—FEDERAL AID

Any state party to this compact may accept federal aid for use in connection with any institution or program, the use of which is or may be affected by this compact or any contract pursuant hereto and any inmate in a receiving state pursuant to this compact may participate in any such federally aided program or activity for which the sending and receiving states have made contractual provision, provided that if such program or activity is not part of the customary correctional regimen, the express consent of the appropriate official of the sending state shall be required therefor.

ARTICLE VII—ENTRY INTO FORCE

This compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding upon the states so acting when it has been enacted into law by any two states. Thereafter, this compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding as to any other of said states upon similar action by such state.

ARTICLE VIII—WITHDRAWAL AND TERMINATION

This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon a party state until it shall have enacted a statute repealing the same and providing for the sending of formal written notice of withdrawal from the compact to the appropriate officials of all other party states. An actual withdrawal shall not take effect until one year after the notices provided in said statute have been sent. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the withdrawing state from its obligations assumed hereunder prior to the effective date of withdrawal. Before the effective date of withdrawal, a withdrawing state shall remove to its territory, at its own expense, such inmates as it may have confined pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE IX—OTHER ARRANGEMENTS UNAFFECTED

Nothing contained in this compact shall be construed to abrogate or impair any agreement or other arrangement which a party state may have with a nonparty state for the confinement, rehabilitation or treatment of inmates nor to repeal any other laws of a party state authorizing the making of co-operative institutional arrangements.

ARTICLE X—CONSTRUCTION AND SEVERABILITY

The provisions of this compact shall be liberally construed and shall be severable. If any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the Constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the Constitution of any state participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. 222.59 Superintendent may return patient.

1. The superintendent of a hospital-school or special unit may, on application of the parent or guardian, return a patient to the parent or guardian. The superintendent in cooperation with other social agencies under the supervision of the Iowa department of social services may arrange for the patient to be placed at an appropriate health care facility licensed under chapter 135C or at some other appropriate facility, which may include a foster home or group home, either under an arrangement which involves full-time responsibility for the patient by such facility, or as part of an arrangement under which the patient is to participate in one or more educational, developmental or employment programs conducted by other responsible persons, agencies or facilities. Such return or placement may be made at any time, even though the patient was committed by a court, upon recommendation of the professional staff of the hospital-school or special unit that the patient is unlikely to benefit from further treatment, training, instruction, or care at the institution or is likely to improve his life status in an alternate facility.

2. In planning for the placement of a patient outside the hospital-school or special unit, it shall be the superintendent's responsibility to arrange for representation of the patient's interest by the patient's parent or legal guardian. If the patient has no living parent and no legal guardian other than the department or one of its officers or employees, the superintendent shall request some person who has demonstrated by prior activities an informed concern for the welfare and habilitation of the mentally retarded, and who is not an officer or employee of the department nor of any agency or facility which is a party to the arrangement for placement of the patient, to act as the patient's advocate. The superintendent may request some such person to serve as advocate for a patient who has no legal guardian if either or both of the patient's parents are living but are deemed unlikely to or have shown themselves unable to represent the patient's interest effectively due to physical or mental infirmity, residence outside the state at such a distance as to make their effective participation unfeasible, or lack of interest demonstrated by refusal to participate in planning for the patient's placement or by failure to respond within thirty days to a letter sent by restricted certified mail to the last known address of the parent or parents.

3. Each proposed placement shall be reported to the state director, who may approve, modify, alter, or rescind the action if deemed necessary. In so doing, the superintendent of the hospital-school or special unit involved shall certify in writing to the state director that there has been compliance with subsection 2 and that the patient's parent, guardian or advocate is or is not satisfied with the proposed placement, as the case may be. In the latter case, the state director shall afford the parent, guardian or advocate an opportunity to explain objections to the proposed placement and, if he decides to approve the proposed placement despite such objection, shall advise the parent, guardian or advocate of his right to appeal the decision pursuant to subsection 4.

4. If a proposed placement of a patient from a hospital-school or special unit which is not satisfactory to the patient's parent, guardian or advocate is approved by the state director, or a proposed placement which is satisfactory to the patient's parent, guardian or advocate is modified, altered or rescinded by the state director, the parent, guardian or advocate may appeal to the department of social services, within thirty days after notification to the parent, guardian or advocate of the proposed placement. The department shall give the appellant reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing, conducted by the commissioner or his designee who shall act as an impartial arbiter of fact and law. In such hearing the parent, guardian or advocate shall have the opportunity to confront witnesses, to have access to hospital records, to present evidence and witnesses on their behalf and to be represented by counsel. The standard for such fair hearing shall be to provide "that placement which inures to the best interest of the patient." Judicial review of actions of the department may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. The department shall furnish the petitioner with a copy of any papers filed by him in support of his position, a transcript of any testimony taken, and a copy of the department's decision. In the district court hearings, the parent, guardian or advocate has the right to be represented by counsel. The court shall, in all cases where the interests of the patient conflict with that of parent, guardian or advocate, appoint counsel as guardian ad litem for the patient. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, where a petition is filed for judicial review of a proposed placement, the proposed placement shall be stayed pending the outcome of said review proceeding.

5. Placement of a patient outside of a hospital-school or special unit under this section shall not relieve the Iowa department of social services of continuing responsibility for the welfare of the patient, except in cases of discharge under section 222.15 or 222.43. Unless such a discharge has occurred, the department
§222.59, MENTALLY RETARDED shall provide for review of each placement arrangement made under this section at least once each year or not more often than once each six months upon the written request of the patient's parent, guardian or advocate, with a view to ascertaining whether such arrangements continue to satisfactorily meet the patient's current needs.

6. The proposed return or placement of a patient outside a hospital-school or special unit shall be reported to the board of supervisors of the patient's county of legal settlement. The county board may not change a placement or program arranged and approved under this section if state funds are being made available to the county which may by law use to pay a portion of the cost of care of the patient so placed, however the board may at any time propose an alternative placement or program to the state director. No such alternative placement or program shall be carried out without the prior written approval of the state director, which shall be granted only after evaluation in the same manner as provided by this section for initial placements from a hospital-school or special unit.

7. When a patient committed by a court is to be returned to the parent or guardian, or placed out from a hospital-school or special unit as otherwise provided in this section, notice shall be sent to the clerk of the court which committed the patient, and to the board of supervisors of both the patient's county of legal settlement and the county to which the patient is to be released, thirty days prior to the time the patient leaves the hospital-school or special unit. [C97, §2698; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3405, 3446; C46, §221.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §222.73, 223.19; C66, 71, 73, §222.59; 65GA, ch 179, §1; ch 1090, §§116, 117] Amendment effective July 1, 1976

1. In the county in which the board of supervisors or court is located.

3. In another state or in a foreign country.
4. Unknown. [C66, 71, 73, §222.61]

Whenever the board of supervisors or the court determines that the legal settlement of the person is other than in the county in which the board or court is located, the board or court shall, as soon as determination is made, certify such finding to the superintendent of the hospital-school or the special unit where the person is a patient. The superintendent shall charge the expenses already incurred and unadjusted, and all future expenses of the patient, to the county so certified until said legal settlement shall be otherwise determined as provided by this chapter. [C66, 71, 73, §222.62]

Such auditor shall lay such notification before the board of supervisors of his county whereupon it shall be conclusively presumed that the patient has a legal settlement in said county unless the county shall, within six months, in writing filed with the board of supervisors or the court giving such notice, dispute said legal settlement. [C66, 71, 73, §222.63]

222.64 Foreign state or unknown. If the legal settlement of the person is found by the board of supervisors or the court to be in a foreign state or country or is found to be unknown, the board of supervisors or the court shall immediately notify the state director of such finding and shall furnish the state director with a copy of the evidence taken on the question of legal settlement. The care of said person shall be as arranged by the board of supervisors or by such order as the court may enter. Application for admission or order of commitment may be made pending investigation by the state director. [C66, 71, 73, §222.64]

If the state director finds that the decision of the board of supervisors or the court as to legal settlement of the person is correct, the state director shall cause the person either to be transferred to a hospital-school or a special unit and there maintained at the expense of the state or to be transferred to the place of foreign settlement.
2. If the state director finds that the decision of the board of supervisors or the court is not correct, the state director shall order the person transferred to a state hospital-school or a special unit and there maintained at the expense of the county of legal settlement in this state. [C66, 71, 73, §222.65]

The actual and necessary expenses of such transfers shall be paid on itemized vouchers sworn to by the claimants and approved by the state director from any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. [C66, 71, 73, §222.66]

222.67 Change in finding of settlement. Where a person has been received into a hospital-school or a special unit as a patient whose legal settlement is supposedly outside the state or is unknown and the state director finds that the legal settlement of the patient was at the time of admission or commitment in a county of this state, the state director shall charge all legal costs and expenses pertaining to the admission or commitment and support of the patient to the county of such legal settlement. The costs and expenses shall be collected as provided by law in other cases. [C66, 71, 73, §222.67]

222.68 Costs paid in first instance. All necessary and legal expenses for the cost of admission or commitment of a person to a hospital-school or a special unit when the person's legal settlement is found to be in another county of this state shall in the first instance be paid by the county from which the person was admitted or committed. The county of legal settlement shall reimburse the county so paying for all such expenses. Where any county fails to make such reimbursement within sixty days following submission of a properly itemized bill to the county of legal settlement, a penalty of not greater than one percent per month on and after sixty days from submission of the bill may be added to the amount due. 222.70 Dispute between counties. When a dispute arises between counties or between the state director and a county as to the legal settlement of a person committed to a hospital-school or a special unit, the attorney general at the request of the state director shall without advance of fees cause an action to be brought in the district court of any county where such dispute exists. The action shall be brought to determine such legal settlement, except that such action shall in no case be filed in a county in which the district court or a judge thereof originally made the disputed finding. Said action may be brought at any time when it appears that the dispute cannot be amicably settled. All counties which may be the county of such legal settlement, so far as known, shall be made defendants and the allegation of settlement may be in the alternative. Said action shall be tried as in equity. [C66, 71, 73, §222.70]

If the court so finds, judgment shall be entered against the county of such settlement in favor of any other county for all necessary and legal expenses arising from said admission or commitment and paid by said other county. If any such costs have not been paid, judgment shall be rendered against the county of settlement in favor of the parties, including the state, to whom said costs or expenses may be due. [C66, 71, 73, §222.71]

The superintendent of each hospital-school and special unit shall certify to the state comptroller on a schedule approved by the comptroller any amount not previously certified by the superintendent due the state for the expenses of patients in each hospital-school and special unit from the several counties responsible under section 222.60. The comptroller shall thereupon charge the amounts so certified to the proper counties. The amount certified by the superintendent to the comptroller to be charged against each county shall be the per-patient-per-day cost of the hospital-school or special unit, as the case may be, multiplied by the number of days each patient for which such county is liable to the state was carried on the rolls of the hospital-school or special unit as an inpatient, plus the amount due for the treatment of outpatients for which such county is liable to the state during the period.
for which expenses are being certified. The per-patient-per-day cost shall be determined by listing the number of days each inpatient was actually in the hospital-school or special unit during the period for which expenses are being certified and dividing the total of all such days into one hundred percent of the portion of the appropriation for the hospital-school or special unit expended during such period, unless otherwise specified in the biennial appropriations for support of such institutions. The county auditor upon receipt of the duplicate certificate shall enter the same to the credit of the state in his ledger of state accounts, and shall immediately issue a notice to the county treasurer authorizing the treasurer to transfer the amount from the county mental health and institutions fund to the general state revenue. The treasurer shall file such notice as his authority for making such transfer and shall include the amount so transferred in his next remittance of state taxes to the treasurer of state, designating the fund to which the amount belongs. [C66, 71, 73,§222.74]

If sufficient proof be made to the court of the criminal propensities to the commission of sex offenses of the person so charged, and if the report of the examining physicians does establish the fact of a mental disorder to which such propensities are attributable in the person examined, the court shall order that a final hearing pursuant to the order of continuance be held on the petition setting the time and place of such hearing. Whereupon the court shall issue an order which will return the person to the jurisdiction of said court for a hearing. This hearing shall in all respects be like the original hearing to determine the mental condition of the defendant. Following such hearing, the court shall issue an order which shall cause the defendant either to be (1) placed on probation for a minimum of three years, or (2) returned to the hospital, provided that upon the expiration of said probationary period the said person may be discharged. 228.11 Transportation expenses — return of patient on leave. When funds to pay the expenses of transporting a patient to a hospital are needed in advance, the commission shall estimate the probable expense, including the necessary assistance, and not including the compensation allowed the sheriff, and on such estimate, certified by the clerk, the auditor of the county shall issue a county warrant for the amount, as estimated, in favor of the sheriff or other person intrusted with the execution of such order of admission. The sheriff or other person executing such order shall accompany his return with a statement of the expenses incurred, and the excess or deficiency may be deducted from or added to his compensation, as the case may be. CHAPTER 229
COMMITMENT AND DISCHARGE OF MENTALLY ILL PERSONS

229.1 Form of information—temporary observation. Applications for admission to the hospitals for the mentally ill shall be by sworn information which shall allege and show:

1. That the person in whose behalf the application is made is believed to be mentally ill, and a fit subject for custody and treatment in the hospital.

2. That such person has been found in the county.

3. The place of residence of such person or where it is believed to be, or that such residence is not known.

Provided, however, that application for admission may be made on behalf of a person by his attending physician and another physician experienced in the treatment of mental diseases, for a temporary admission for observation, examination, diagnosis and treatment, which admission shall not be for a period of more than thirty days and only after the written consent of said person. The application shall be made to the superintendent of the state hospital in the district in which the county of his residence is located. Said application shall not be accepted by the superintendent if by doing so it will result in an overcrowded condition or if adequate facilities are not available. If the application is accepted the superintendent shall at once send written notice of the fact to the board of supervisors of the patient's county of legal settlement, unless the application is accompanied by a statement signed by the applicant, his spouse, guardian or some other responsible person, agreeing to pay the cost of the applicant's hospitalization in the manner provided by section 229.41. At the expiration of the admission period, the superintendent shall make a certified report.
of the findings as to the mental illness of said applicant, one copy of which shall be sent to the attending physician filing the application and, if said report finds that said person is mentally ill and in need of treatment, a copy shall be sent to the commission of hospitalization of the county in which the applicant is a resident.

If the certification of the patient's condition to his attending physician by the hospital superintendent states that a further period of observation and treatment is indicated without commitment of the person as mentally ill, the attending physician may authorize a further period of such observation and treatment as recommended. During such extended period of observation, if the patient is not discharged a recommendation for commitment as mentally ill may be filed with the commission. If the commission does not issue a commitment as mentally ill after recommendation by the superintendent within five days following receipt of such recommendation, the superintendent may, upon authority of the state director, discharge such patient from the hospital, and the hospital and state director, after discharge of such patient, shall be absolved of further responsibility in connection with the case until such time as the same person may be committed.

The cost of hospitalization of persons committed temporarily under the provisions of this section shall be paid in the same way as persons committed otherwise as mentally ill. [R60, §1480; C73, §§1399; C97, §§2264; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3544; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§229.1; 65GA, ch 1159, §2]

229.2 Hearing—custody. On the filing of such information, the commission, if satisfied that there is reasonable cause therefor, may require the alleged mentally ill person to be brought before it and, to this end, may issue its order to any peace officer of the county. The commission may provide for the custody of such person until its investigation is concluded. [R60, §1480; C73, §§1399; C97, §§2264; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3544; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§229.2]

229.3 Subpoenas and oaths. The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas. Each member of the commission shall have power to administer oaths to witnesses. In case a witness fails to appear or refuses to testify, the commission shall, in writing, report such refusal to the district court and said court shall proceed as though such refusal occurred in a legal proceeding before said court. [C73, §§1398; C97, §§2263; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3546; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§229.3]

229.4 Hearings. Hearings shall be had in the presence of such person unless the commission finds that such course would probably be injurious to such person or attended with no advantage. [R60, §§1480; C73, §§1400; C97, §§2265; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3547; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§229.4]

Referred to in §229.9

229.5 Appearance—right to counsel. Appearance on behalf of such alleged mentally ill person may be made by any citizen of the county, or by any relative, either in person or by counsel.

If at said hearing such person appears without counsel or appearance is made in his behalf without counsel, the commission, before proceeding further, shall inform such person or persons appearing for him of his right to legal counsel, then if no counsel is employed, the district court shall assign him counsel. An attorney so assigned shall receive such compensation as the district court shall fix to be paid in the first instance by the county. [C73, §§1400; C97, §§2265; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3548; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§229.5]

Referred to in §229.9

229.6 Examining physician. The commission shall, in all cases, appoint, either from, or outside, its own membership, some regular practicing physician of the county to make a personal examination of the person in question for the purpose of determining his mental and physical condition. Said physician shall certify to the commission whether said person is in good mental health or mentally ill. [C73, §§1400; C97, §§2265; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§3549; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§229.6]

1. Name of patient? Age? Married or single?
2. Number of children? Age of youngest child?
3. Place of birth?

229.8 Correction of answers. If the commission on further examination after the answers are given finds that any of said answers are incorrect, it shall correct the same. [C73, §1407; C97, §2275; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3551; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.8]

229.9 Findings and order—screening center. If the commission finds from the evidence that it would be in the best interests of the person to be examined at a state mental health institute, it shall order his observation and treatment at the screening center located at the hospital in the district nearest to the county in which the hearing is conducted. No finding that the person is mentally ill and no order of commitment shall issue unless the superintendent of the hospital at which said screening center is located so recommends. If a recommendation of commitment is made, the commission may order upon hearing pursuant to sections 229.2, 229.3, 229.4 and 229.5 the person's commitment to the hospital in the district in which the county is situated or upon authorization by the county board of supervisors, the commission may order commitment and treatment to a local hospital instead of a state hospital; and in connection with such finding and order shall determine and enter of record the county which is the legal settlement of such person. If such settlement is unknown the record shall show such fact.

No person shall be ordered to a state hospital for observation and treatment until the commission has first communicated with the superintendent of said hospital, and has been advised that adequate facilities are available. A person ordered to screening center for observation and treatment shall have the same right to appeal from the order as from the order of commitment finding him mentally ill as provided in sections 229.17 to 229.19, inclusive. [R60, §1479; C73, §1401; C97, §2266; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3552; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.9]

229.10 Order. Unless an appeal is taken, the commission shall issue its order of commitment and a duplicate thereof, stating such finding, with the settlement of the person, if found, and, if not found, its information, if any, in regard thereto, authorizing the superintendent of the hospital to receive and keep him as a patient therein. [C73, §1401; C97, §2266; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3553; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.10]

229.11 Service. Said order and duplicate, with the certificate and finding of the physician, shall be delivered to the person's attending physician or some one designated by said physician, who shall execute the same by conveying such person to the hospital, and delivering, with such duplicate and physician's certificate and finding, to the superintendent, who shall, over his official signature, acknowledge such delivery on the original order, which said physician shall return to the clerk of the commission, with his costs and expenses endorsed thereon. [R60, §1458; 1459, 1479; C73, §§1401, 1412; C97, §2266; 2279; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3554, 3556; C46, §§229.11, 229.13; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.11]

229.12 Record and commitment of one accused. If, after the commission has acquired jurisdiction over a person under a charge of mental illness, the district court also acquires jurisdiction over such person under a formal charge of crime, the findings of the commission and the order of commitment, if any, shall state the fact of jurisdiction in the district court, and the name of the criminal charge. [R60, §1459; C73, §1412; C97, §2279; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3555; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.12]

229.14 Assistants—females. The person's attending physician or some one designated by said physician, or any person appointed, may call to his aid such assistants as he may need to execute such order; but no female shall thus be taken to the hospital without the attendance of some other female or some relative. The superintendent, in his acknowledgment of delivery, must state whether there was any such person in attendance, and give the name or names, if any. [C73, §1401; C97, §2266; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3557; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.14]

person, without taking such oath, and for so doing shall be entitled to his necessary expenses, but no fees. [C73,§1401; C97,§2206; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3558; C46, 50, 54, 63, 62, 68, 71, 73, §229.15]

229.16 Confinement of mentally ill — females. No person who shall be found to be mentally ill shall, during investigation or after such finding, and pending commitment to the hospital, or when on the way there, be confined in any jail, prison, or place of solitary confinement, except in cases of extreme violence, when it may be necessary for the safety of such person or of the public; and if such person be so confined, there shall, at all times during its continuance, be some suitable person or persons in attendance in charge of such person; but at no time shall any female be placed in such confinement without at least one female attendant remaining in charge of her. [C97, §2268; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3559; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.16]

229.17 Appeal. Any person found to be mentally ill, or his next friend, may appeal from such finding to the district court by giving the clerk thereof, within thirty days after such finding has been made, notice in writing that an appeal is taken, which may be signed by the party, his agent, next friend, guardian, or attorney, and, when thus ap-ppealed, it shall stand for trial anew. Upon appeal it shall be the duty of the county attorney, without additional compensation, to prosecute the action on behalf of the informant. Such person shall have the right to have the appeal decided by a jury under the rules and statutes relating to jury trials in civil cases. [C97,§2267; S13,§2267; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3560; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.17] Referred to in §229.9

229.18 Custody pending appeal. If the appellant is in the custody of the commission at the time of service of the notice of appeal he shall be discharged from custody pending appeal unless the commission finds that he cannot with safety be allowed to go at large, in which case it shall require him to be suitably provided for in the manner hereinafter specified. If the appellant is in the custody of an institution under the jurisdiction of the director of mental health at the time of service of the notice of appeal, he shall be discharged from custody pending appeal unless the superintendent of the institution with the concurrence of at least two members of his medical staff finds that he cannot with safety be allowed to go at large, in which case the appellant shall remain in the custody of the institution or shall otherwise suitably provided for in the manner hereinafter specified. [C97, §2268; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3561; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.18] Referred to in §229.9

appeal, such person is found mentally ill, and a fit subject for custody and treatment in the hospital, an order of commitment shall be en-

Order of commitment, §229.10

229.20 Beneficiaries of veterans bureau.

1. Whenever, in any proceeding under the laws of this state for the commitment of a person alleged to be of unsound mind or otherwise in need of confinement in a hospital or other institution for his proper care, it is determined after such adjudication of the status of such person as may be required by law that committment to a hospital for mental disease or other institution is necessary for safekeeping or treatment and it appears that such person is eligible for care or treatment by the veterans administration or other agency of the United States government, the court, upon receipt of a certificate from the veterans administration or such other agency showing that facilities are available and that such person is eligible for care or treatment therein, may commit such person to said veterans administration or other agency. The person whose commitment is sought shall be personally served with notice of the pending commitment proceeding in the manner as provided by the law of this state; and nothing in this section shall affect his right to appear and be heard in the proceedings. Upon commitment, such person, when admitted to any facility operated by any such agency within or without this state shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the veterans administration or other agency. The chief officer of any facility of the veterans administration or institution operated by any other agency of the United States to which the person is so committed shall with respect to such person be vested with the same powers as superintendents of state hospitals for mental diseases within this state with respect to retention of custody, transfer, convalescent leave or discharge. Jurisdiction is retained in the committing or other appropriate court of this state at any time to inquire into the mental condition of the person so committed, and to determine the necessity for continuance of his restraint, and all commitments pursuant to this section are so conditioned.

2. The judgment or order of commitment by a court of competent jurisdiction of another state or of the District of Columbia, committing a person to the veterans administration, or other agency of the United States government for care or treatment shall have the same force and effect as to the committed person while in this state as in the jurisdiction in which is situated the court rendering the judgment or making the order; and the courts of the committing state, or of the District of Columbia, shall be deemed to have retained jurisdiction of the person so committed for the purpose of inquiring into the mental condition of such

person, and of determining the necessity for continuance of his restraint; as is provided in subsection 1 of this section with respect to persons committed by the courts of this state. Consent is hereby given to the application of the law of the committing state or district in respect to the authority of the chief officer of any facility of the veterans administration, or of any institution operated in this state by any other agency of the United States to retain custody, or transfer, place on convalescent leave or discharge the committed person.

3. Upon receipt of a certificate of the veterans administration or such other agency of the United States that facilities are available for the care or treatment of any person heretofore committed to any hospital for the mentally ill or other institution for the care or treatment of persons similarly afflicted and that such person is eligible for care or treatment, the superintendent of the institution may cause the transfer of such person to the veterans administration or other agency of the United States for care or treatment. Upon effecting any such transfer, the committing court or proper officer thereof shall be notified thereof by the transferring agency. No person shall be transferred to the veterans administration or other agency of the United States if he be confined pursuant to conviction of any felony or misdemeanor or if he has been acquitted of the charge solely on the ground of mental illness, unless prior to transfer the court or other proper officer thereof shall be notified thereof.

4. Any person transferred as provided in this section shall be deemed to be committed to the veterans administration or other agency of the United States pursuant to the original commitment. [C27, 31, 35, §3562-h1; C39, §3562; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.20]

229.21 Transfer from state hospital. A veteran of any war committed to any state hospital may, with the approval of the state director, be transferred to and placed in the custody of any hospital maintained for war veterans within the state of Iowa on being notified by the authorities of such veterans hospital that the veteran is acceptable for hospitalization, provided no charge for his care and support is made against the state of Iowa or the county from which committed. [C39, §3562; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.21]

229.22 Commitment continues. The transfer of a veteran from one hospital to another shall in no way invalidate the original commitment and such commitment together with all such laws and rules of the state director pertaining to convalescent leave or discharge shall remain in full force and effect as the original commitment. [C39, §3562; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §229.22]

229.23 Blanks. Said action may be brought at any time when it appears that said dispute cannot be amicably settled. All counties which may be the place of such legal settlement, so far as known, shall be made defendants and the allegations of such settlement may be in the alternative. No lien imposed by section 230.25 shall exceed the amount of the liability which may be incurred under this section on account of any mentally ill person.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a relative or other person from voluntarily paying the full actual cost of the care and treatment of any mentally ill person as established by the department of social services.

231.2 How constituted. The juvenile court of each county shall be constituted as follows:
1. Of the judges of the district court.
2. Of the district associate judges if and as long as so designated by the chief judge of the district. [S13, §254-a13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3606; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §231.2]

The chief judge of the district shall designate one or more of the district judges, district associate judges, judicial magistrates serving pursuant to section 602.51, or any thereof, to act as judge or judges of the juvenile court in any county or counties.

The judge of the juvenile court may appoint a referee in juvenile court proceedings. The referee shall be qualified for his duties by training and experience and shall hold office at the pleasure of the judge. The compensation of the referee shall be fixed by the judge. The judge may direct that any case or class of cases arising under chapter 232 shall be heard in the first instance by the referee in the manner provided for the hearing of cases by the court.

Upon the conclusion of a hearing held as provided herein, the referee shall transmit to the judge findings of fact. Notice of the findings of fact of the referee shall be given to the parties to the proceeding heard by the referee, including the parents, guardian or custodian of a minor, and to any other interested person as the court may direct.

This notice may be given orally at the hearing, or by certified mail or other service as directed by the court.

The parties to a proceeding heard before the referee shall be entitled to a rehearing by the judge of the juvenile court if requested within seven days after receiving notice of the findings of fact of the referee. In the interest of justice, the court may allow a rehearing at any time. If a rehearing is not requested, the court may enter any appropriate order based upon the referee’s findings of fact.

In counties having a population of more than two hundred fifty thousand, the judge of the juvenile court may appoint a director of court services and shall fix his compensation. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3607; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §231.3; 65GA, ch 282, §17]

231.4 Effect. The designation of any judge to hold the juvenile court shall not deprive him of other judicial functions, nor the other judges of the power to act as judges of the juvenile court during the absence, inability to act, or upon request, of the regularly designated juvenile judge. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3608; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §231.4]

231.5 Courts always open. Juvenile courts shall always be open for the transaction of business, but the hearing of any matter requiring notice shall be had only at such time and place as the judge may fix. [S13, §254-a13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3609; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §231.5]

231.7 Clerk. The clerk of the court whose judge acts as the juvenile court shall act as clerk of the juvenile court. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3611; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §231.7]

231.8 Probation officers—salaries. The judge designated as judge of the juvenile court in any county, or where there is more than one judge designated such judges acting jointly, may appoint such probation officers as may be necessary to carry out the work of the court. In counties where more than one officer is appointed one of such officers shall be designated as chief probation officer. The salaries of such officers shall be fixed by the judge or judges making the appointments but in no case shall the salary of a chief probation officer exceed sixteen thousand dollars per year nor shall the salary of a deputy probation officer exceed fourteen thousand dollars per year.

Probation officers may be appointed to serve two or more counties. The salaries of such officers and their deputies, if any, shall be fixed by the judges of the judicial district who are designated juvenile court judges for such counties and such salaries and the expenses of the probation offices shall be prorated among the counties served in such proportion as may be determined by said judges who shall in making such determination, consider the volume of work in the several counties. Such officers may be paid not to exceed fourteen thousand dollars per year.

All probation officers so appointed shall serve at the pleasure of the juvenile court judge or judges and shall be selected and appointed in accordance with such rules, standards, and qualifications as shall be established by the supreme court pursuant to section 684.21. The provision of this section shall not affect in any way the appointment or term of office of any probation officer presently serving in any county or counties.

Such secretarial and clerical help as may be needed in the administration of any probation office may be appointed by the judge or judges of the juvenile court who may fix their salaries, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, at not more than nine thousand dollars per year. The Supreme Court of Iowa hereby establishes the following "Training Requirements" for juvenile probation officers:

TRAINING REQUIREMENTS

All juvenile probation officers appointed to office after July 1, 1974, must, within the first year of their employment, successfully complete a basic training program which is oriented toward the disciplines of law, law enforcement, corrections, and child welfare. Program length shall be not less than four consecutive weeks of five days each but not more than seven such weeks. The program shall be offered twice each calendar year.

Administration of the program shall be vested in a Training Committee comprised of five members appointed by the Supreme Court. The original appointment shall be one member

All succeeding appointments by the court shall be for terms of four years. Two of the members shall be juvenile court judges, two shall be juvenile probation officers, and one shall be a collegiate-level educator in the criminal justice field. Vacancies created by the resignation of a member shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner as the original appointments. Membership on the committee shall not constitute holding a public office and members shall serve without compensation.

It shall be the duties of the committee to fix the dates and locale of each training session, to determine the curriculum content of the program, to oversee the operation of the program, to seek out and secure funding for the program's operation, if necessary, and to develop rules, standards, and requirements, all subject to the approval of the Supreme Court.

The committee shall make an annual report to the Supreme Court by December 31 of each year. Included therein shall be relevant data regarding the curriculum, operation, standards, and the degree of participation in the Training Program.

231.9 Physicians and nurses. In any county having a population of one hundred twenty-five thousand or more, the judge or judges of the juvenile court may appoint a competent physician at a salary of not more than one hundred dollars per month, and a visiting nurse, who shall be a trained graduate, at a salary of not more than two hundred dollars per month, and prescribe their duties. It shall be the duty of said probation officers to make such investigation as may be required by the court; to be present in court in order to represent the interests of the child when the case is heard; to furnish to the court such information and assistance as the judge may require, and to take such charge of any child before and after trial as may be directed by the court. 231.14 Interstate juvenile compacts. The state of Iowa through its courts and agencies is hereby authorized to enter into interstate compacts on juveniles in behalf of this state with any other contracting state which legally joins therein in substantially the following form.

The contracting states solemnly agree:

ARTICLE I—FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

That juveniles who are not under proper supervision and control, or who have absconded, escaped or run away, are likely to endanger their own health, morals and welfare, and the health, morals and welfare of others. The co-operation of the states party to this compact is therefore necessary to provide for the welfare and protection of juveniles and of the public with respect to:

1. Co-operative supervision of delinquent juveniles on probation or parole;
2. The return, from one state to another, of delinquent juveniles who have escaped or absconded;
3. The return, from one state to another, of nondelinquent juveniles who have run away from home; and
4. Additional measures for the protection of juveniles and of the public, which any two or more of the party states may find desirable to undertake co-operatively. In carrying out the provisions of this compact the party states shall be guided by the noncriminal, reformatory and protective policies which guide their laws concerning delinquent, neglected or dependent juveniles generally. It shall be the policy of the states party to this compact to co-operate and observe their respective responsibilities for the prompt return and acceptance of the juveniles who become subject to the provisions of this compact. The provisions of this compact shall be reasonably and liberally construed to accomplish the foregoing purposes.

ARTICLE II—EXISTING RIGHTS AND REMEDIES

That all remedies and procedures provided by this compact shall be in addition to and not in substitution for other rights, remedies and procedures, and shall not be in derogation of parental rights and responsibilities.

ARTICLE III—DEFINITIONS

That, for the purposes of this compact, "delinquent juvenile" means any juvenile who has been adjudged delinquent and who, at the time the provisions of this compact are invoked, is still subject to the jurisdiction of the court that has made such adjudication or to the jurisdiction or supervision of an agency or institution pursuant to an order of such court; "probation or parole" means any kind of conditional release of juveniles authorized under the laws of the states party hereto; "court" means any court having jurisdiction over delinquent, neglected or dependent children; "state" means any state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and "residence" or any variant thereof means a place at which a home or regular place of abode is maintained.

ARTICLE IV—RETURN OF RUNAWAYS

a. That the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody of a juvenile who has not been adjudged delinquent, but who has run away without the consent of such parent, guardian, person or agency may petition the appropriate court in the demanding state for the issuance of a requisition for his return. The petition shall state the name and age of the juvenile, the name of the petitioner and the basis of entitlement to the juvenile's custody, the circumstances of his running away, his location if known at the time application is made, and such other facts as may tend to show that the juvenile who has run away is endangering his own welfare or the welfare of others and is not an emancipated minor. The petition shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two certified copies of the document or documents on which the petitioner's entitlement to the juvenile's custody is based, such as birth certificates, letters of guardianship, or custody decrees. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with such petition. The judge of the court to which this application is made may hold a hearing thereon to determine whether for the purposes of this compact the petitioner is entitled to the legal custody of the juvenile, whether or not it appears that the juvenile has in fact run away without consent whether or not he is an emancipated minor, and whether or not it is in the best interest of the juvenile to comply with his return to his state. If the judge determines, either with or without a hearing, that the juvenile should be returned, he shall present to the appropriate court or to the executive authority of the state where the juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such juvenile. Such requisition shall set forth the name and age of the juvenile, the determination of the court that the juvenile has run away without the consent of a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody, and that it is in the best interest and for the protection of such juvenile that he be returned. In the event that a proceeding for the adjudication of the juvenile as a delinquent, neglected or dependent juvenile is pending in the court at the time when such juvenile runs away, the court may issue a requisition for the return of such juvenile upon its own motion, regardless of the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody, reciting therein the nature and circumstances of the pending proceeding. The requisition shall in every case be executed in duplicate and shall be signed by the judge. One copy of the requisition shall be filed with the compact administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to the provisions of law governing records of such court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a juvenile who has run away, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return, and who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order, he shall deliver such juvenile over to the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding. Upon reasonable information that a person is a juvenile who has run away from another state party to this compact without the consent of a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, such juvenile may be taken into custody without a requisition and brought forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such juvenile and who shall determine after a hearing whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person, subject to the order of the court, for his own protection and welfare, for such a time not exceeding ninetysix days as will enable his return to another state party to this compact pursuant to a requisition for his return from a court of that state. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a juvenile who has run away, there is pending in the state wherein he is found any criminal charge, or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such juvenile through any and all states party to this compact, with such requisition. One copy of the requisition shall be filed with the compact administration which subjects such delinquent juvenile, formal adjudication, or order of commitment which subjects such delinquent juvenile to probation or parole or to the legal custody of the institution or agency concerned. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with such requisition. One copy of the requisition shall be filed with the compact administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to the provisions of law governing records of the appropriate court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a delinquent juvenile who has absconded or escaped, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such delinquent juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No delinquent juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of an appropriate court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return and who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order, he shall deliver such delinquent juvenile over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

Upon reasonable information that a person is a delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this compact, such person may be taken into custody in any other state party to this compact without a requisition. But in such event, he must be taken forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court, who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such person and who shall determine, after a hearing, whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person subject to the order of the court for such a time, not exceeding ninety days, as will enable his detention under a detention order issued on a requisition pursuant to this Article. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a delinquent juvenile who has either absconded while on probation or parole or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, there is pending in the state wherein he is detained any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the delinquent juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such delinquent juvenile through any and all states party to this compact, with-
ARTICLE VI—VOLUNTARY RETURN PROCEDURE

That any delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this compact, and any juvenile who has run away from any state party to this compact, who is taken into custody without a requisition in another state party to this compact under the provisions of Article IV "a" or of Article VI "a", may consent to his immediate return to the state from which he absconded, escaped or ran away. Such consent shall be given by the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, by executing or subscribing a writing, in the presence of a judge of the appropriate court, which states that the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, consent to his return to the demanding state. Before such consent shall be executed or subscribed, however, the judge, in the presence of counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, shall inform the juvenile or delinquent juvenile of his rights under this compact. When the consent has been duly executed, it shall be forwarded to and filed with the compact administrator of the state in which the court is located and the judge shall direct the officer having the juvenile or delinquent juvenile in custody to deliver him to the duly accredited officer or officers of the state demanding his return, and shall cause to be delivered to such officer or officers a copy of the consent. The court may, however, upon the request of the state to which the juvenile or delinquent juvenile is being returned, order him to return unaccompanied to such state and shall provide him with a copy of such court order; in such event a copy of the consent shall be forwarded to the compact administrator of the state to which said juvenile or delinquent juvenile is ordered to return.

ARTICLE VII

CO-OPERATIVE SUPERVISION OF PROBATIONERS AND PAROLEES

Referred to in Art. XIV

a. That the duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party to this compact (herein called "sending state") may permit any delinquent juvenile within such state, placed on probation or parole, to reside in any other state party to this compact (herein called "receiving state") while on probation or parole, and the receiving state shall accept such delinquent juvenile, if the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of such delinquent juvenile is residing or undertakes to reside within the receiving state. Before granting such permission, opportunity shall be given to the receiving state to make such investigations as it deems necessary. The authorities of the sending state shall send to the authorities of the receiving state copies of pertinent court orders, social case studies and all other available information which may be of value to and assist the receiving state in supervising a probationer or parolee under this compact. A receiving state, in its discretion, may agree to accept supervision of a probationer or parolee in cases where the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is not a resident of the receiving state, and if so accepted the sending state may transfer supervision accordingly.

b. That each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation and of supervision over any such delinquent juvenile and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by the same standards of visitation and supervision that prevail for its own delinquent juveniles released on probation or parole.

c. That, after consultation between the appropriate authorities of the sending state and of the receiving state as to the desirability and necessity of returning such a delinquent juvenile, the duly accredited officers of a sending state may enter a receiving state and there apprehend and retake any such delinquent juvenile on probation or parole. For that purpose, no formalities will be required, other than establishing the authority of the officer and the identity of the delinquent juvenile to be re­taken and returned. The decision of the sending state to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but if, at the time duly accredited officers of the receiving state enter to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole, there is pending against him within the receiving state any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for any act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport delinquent juveniles being so returned through any and all states party to this compact, without interference.

d. That the sending state shall be responsible under this Article for paying the costs of transporting any delinquent juvenile to the receiving state or of returning any delinquent juvenile to the sending state.

Referred to in Art. VIII a, b

ARTICLE VIII—RESPONSIBILITY FOR COSTS

a. That the provisions of Articles IV "b", V "b" and VII "d" of this compact shall not be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

b. That nothing in this compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency or other entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be responsible pursuant to Articles IV "b", V "b" or VII "d" of this compact.

ARTICLE IX—DETENTION PRACTICES
That, to every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this compact that no juvenile or delinquent juvenile shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail or lockup nor be detained or transported in association with criminal, vicious or dissolute persons.

ARTICLE X—SUPPLEMENTARY AGREEMENTS
That the duly constituted administrative authorities of a state party to this compact may enter into supplementary agreements with any other state or states party hereto for the cooperative care, treatment and rehabilitation of delinquent juveniles whenever they shall find that such agreements will improve the facilities or programs available for such care, treatment and rehabilitation. Such care, treatment and rehabilitation may be provided in an institution located within any state entering into such supplementary agreement. Such supplementary agreements shall:

1. Provide the rates to be paid for the care, treatment and custody of such delinquent juveniles, taking into consideration the character of facilities, services and subsistence furnished;
2. Provide that the delinquent juvenile shall be given a court hearing prior to his being sent to another state for care, treatment and custody;
3. Provide that the state receiving such a delinquent juvenile in one of its institutions shall act solely as agent for the state sending such delinquent juvenile;
4. Provide that the sending state shall at all times retain jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles sent to an institution in another state;
5. Provide for reasonable inspection of such institutions by the sending state;
6. Provide that the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of said delinquent juvenile shall be secured prior to his being sent to another state; and
7. Make provision for such other matters and details as shall be necessary to protect the rights and equities of such delinquent juveniles and of the cooperating states.

ARTICLE XI—ACCEPTANCE OF FEDERAL AND OTHER AID
That any state party to this compact may accept any and all donations, gifts and grants of money, equipment and services from the federal or any local government, or any agency thereof and from any person, firm or corporation, for any of the purposes and functions of this compact, and may receive and utilize the same subject to the terms, conditions and regulations governing such donations, gifts and grants.

ARTICLE XII—COMPACT ADMINISTRATORS
That the governor of each state party to this compact shall designate an officer, who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE XIII—EXECUTION OF COMPACT
That this compact shall become operative immediately upon its execution by any state as between it and any other state or states so executing. When executed it shall have the full force and effect of law within such state, the form of execution to be in accordance with the laws of the executing state.

ARTICLE XIV—RENUNCIATION
That this compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each executing state until renounced by it. Renunciation of this compact shall be by the same authority which executed it, by sending six months’ notice in writing of its intention to withdraw from the compact to the other states party hereto. The duties and obligations of a renouncing state under Article VII hereof shall continue as to parolees and probationers residing therein at the time of withdrawal until retaken or finally discharged. Supplementary agreements entered into under Article X hereof shall be subject to renunciation as provided by such supplementary agreements, and shall not be subject to the six months’ renunciation notice of the present Article.

Out-of-State Confinement Amendment
a. Whenever the duly constituted judicial or administrative authorities in a sending state shall determine that confinement of a probationer or recommitment of a parolee is necessary or desirable, said officials may direct that the confinement or recommitment be in an appropriate institution for delinquent juveniles within the territory of the receiving state, such receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.

b. Escapees and absconders who would otherwise be returned pursuant to Article V of the compact may be confined or reconfined in the receiving state pursuant to this amendment. In any such case the information and allegations required to be made and furnished in a requisition pursuant to such Article shall be made and furnished, but in place of the demand pursuant to Article V, the sending state shall request confinement or recommitment in the receiving state. Whenever applicable, detention orders as provided in Article V may be employed pursuant to this paragraph preliminary to disposition of the escapee or abscconder.

c. The confinement or reconfinement of a parolee, probationer, escapee, or abscconder pursuant to this amendment shall require the concurrence of the appropriate judicial or administrative authorities of the receiving state.

d. As used in this amendment: (1) "Sending state" means sending state as that term is used in Article VII of the compact or the state from which a delinquent juvenile has escaped or absccondered within the meaning of Article V of the compact; (2) "receiving state" means any state, other than the sending state, in which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or abscconder may be found, provided that said state is a party to this amendment.

e. Every state which adopts this amendment shall designate at least one of its institutions for delinquent juveniles as a "Compact Institution" and shall confine persons therein as provided in paragraph "a" hereof unless the sending and receiving state in question shall make specific contractual arrangements to the contrary. All states party to this amendment shall have access to "Compact Institutions" at all reasonable hours for the purpose of inspecting the facilities thereof and for the purpose of visiting such of said state's delinquents as may be confined in the institution.

f. Persons confined in "Compact Institutions" pursuant to the terms of this compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and may at any time be removed from said "Compact Institution" for transfer to an appropriate institution within the sending state, for return to probation or parole, for discharge or for any purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state.

g. All persons who may be confined in a "Compact Institution" pursuant to the provisions of this amendment shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner. The fact of confinement or reconfinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any person so confined or reconfinement of any rights which said person would have had if confined or reconfinement in an appropriate institution of the sending state; nor shall any agreement to submit to confinement or reconfinement pursuant to the terms of this amendment be construed as a waiver of any rights which the delinquent would have had if he had been confined or reconfinement in any appropriate institution of the sending state except that the hearing or hearings, if any, to which a parolee, probationer, escapee, or abscconder may be entitled (prior to confinement or reconfinement) by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate judicial or administrative officers of the receiving state. In this event, said judicial and administrative officers shall act as agents of the sending state after consultation with appropriate officers of the sending state.

h. Any receiving state incurring costs or other expenses under this amendment shall be reimbursed in the amount of such costs or other expenses by the sending state unless the states concerned shall specifically otherwise agree. Any two or more states party to this amendment may enter into supplementary agreements determining a different allocation of costs as among themselves.

i. This amendment shall take initial effect when entered into by any two or more states party to the compact and shall be effective as to those states which have specifically enacted this amendment. Rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the terms of this amendment may be promulgated by the appropriate officers of those states which have enacted this amendment. [C62, 66, 71, 73, §231.14]

231.15 Confinement of delinquent juvenile.

In addition to any institution in which the authorities of this state may otherwise confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile, such authorities may, pursuant to the out-of-state confinement amendment to the interstate compact on juveniles, confine or order the confinement of a delinquent juvenile in a compact institution within another party state. 232.47 Order of court. If after a hearing the court does not terminate the parent-child relationship but determines that conditions of neglect or dependency exist, the court may find the child neglected or dependent and may enter an order in accordance with the provisions of section 232.33. [C66, 71, 73, §232.47]

232.48 Termination of parent-child relationship. If after a hearing the court terminates the parent-child relationship between the child and both parents or between the child and the mother if the child is born out of wedlock or between the child and the only living parent, the court shall order guardianship of the person and legal custody of the child transferred to:

1. The county department of social welfare or the commissioner of social services or his designee.
2. A licensed child placing agency.
3. A reputable individual of good moral character.
4. The commissioner of social services or his designee for placement. [S13, §254-a21; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3638; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §232.22; C66, 71, 73, §232.48]

232.49 Copy of findings forwarded. A certified copy of the findings in the order terminating the parent-child relationship and a summary of the court’s information concerning the child shall be provided by the court to the department, director, agency, or institution to which guardianship is transferred. The orders shall be on a document separate from the findings. The court shall furnish the individual to whom guardianship is transferred a copy of the order terminating the parent-child relationship. [C66, 71, 73, §232.49]

232.50 Removal of guardian. Upon its own motion or upon petition of an interested party, the court having jurisdiction of the child may after notice to the parties and a hearing remove the guardian appointed by the court and appoint a new guardian in accordance with the provisions of subsections 1, 2, and 3 of section 232.48. Any minor fourteen years of age or older who is not adopted but who is placed in a satisfactory foster home may with the consent of the foster parents join with the guardian appointed by the court in a petition to the court having jurisdiction of the child to discharge the existing guardian and appoint the foster parents as guardians of the child. 232.51 Expenses. Whenever legal custody of a minor is transferred by the court or whenever the minor is placed by the court with someone other than the parents or whenever a minor is given physical or mental examinations or treatment under order of the court and no provision is otherwise made by law for payment for the care, examination, or treatment of the minor, the costs shall be charged upon the funds of the county in which the proceedings are held upon certification of the judge to the board of supervisors. Except where the parent-child relationship is terminated, the court may inquire into the ability of the parents to support the minor and after giving the parents a reasonable opportunity to be heard may order the parents to pay in the manner and to whom the court may direct, such sums as will cover in whole or in part the cost of care, examination, or treatment of the minor. If the parents fail to pay the sum without good reason, the parents may be proceeded against for contempt or the court may inform the county attorney who shall proceed against the parents to collect the unpaid sums or both.

Any such sums ordered by the court shall be a judgment against each of the parents and a lien as provided in section 624.23. If all or any part of the sums that the parents are ordered to pay is subsequently paid by the county, the judgment and lien shall thereafter be against each of the parents in favor of the county to the extent of such payments. 232.52 Expenses charged to county. The following expenses upon certification of the judge or upon such other authorization as provided by law are a charge upon the county in which the proceedings are held.

1. The fees and mileage of witnesses and the expenses and mileage of officers serving notices and subpoenas.

The pendency of an appeal or application therefor shall not suspend the order of the juvenile court regarding a minor and shall not discharge the minor from the custody of the court or of the person, institution, or agency to whose care the minor has been committed or placed unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court on application of an appellant. If the supreme court does not dismiss the proceedings and discharge the minor, said court shall affirm or modify the order of the juvenile court and remand the minor to the jurisdiction of the court for disposition not inconsistent with the supreme court's finding on the appeal. [C71, 73,§232.64]

Referred to in §§232.65, 232.73

§232.65 How transferred. Transfer of cases under section 232.64 shall be made by filing with the clerk of the juvenile court a certificate or order of the transferring court showing the name, age, and residence of the minor, the names and addresses of the parents or guardian, if known, and the reasons for appearance of the minor in court, together with all the papers, documents, and testimony connected therewith. The case shall then be processed the same as all cases where the court has been informed that a child may be within the purview of this chapter. [C71, 73,§232.65]
232.66 Jurisdiction attaches immediately.
The jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall attach immediately upon the signing of the certificate or order of transfer and from the time of transfer any custody or detention of the minor shall be in accordance with this chapter. [C71, 73, §232.66]

232.67 Limited jurisdiction. Jurisdiction obtained by the court in the case of a minor shall be retained by the court until the minor becomes eighteen years of age unless terminated prior thereto by order of court or provision of law. If a child is referred to the juvenile court because of alleged delinquency by reason of the commission of an indictable offense, the court may withhold an adjudication of delinquency, retain jurisdiction of the child, and place the child on probation until he is eighteen years of age at which time he shall be discharged. If the terms of the probation are violated before the person reaches the age of eighteen years, the court may enter an order referring the alleged commission of an indictable offense to the appropriate prosecuting authority for the proper action under the criminal law. 2. With the consent of the receiving court, the court may transfer the case to the court of the county where the minor is found.

3. With the consent of the receiving court, the court may transfer the case to the county where the alleged delinquency occurred if an alleged delinquency is based on the commission of a public offense. [C71, 73, §232.69]

232.70 Order of court. The court shall transfer the case by ordering the transfer and a continuance and by forwarding to the clerk of the receiving court a certified copy of all papers filed together with an order of transfer. The judge of the receiving court may accept the filings of the transferring court or may direct the filing of a new petition and hear the case anew. [C71, 73, §232.70]

232.71 Resident of another state. If it appears at any stage of the proceedings that a minor before the court is a resident of another state, the court may invoke the provisions of the interstate compact on juveniles or, when in the best interests of the minor, the court may place the minor in the custody of the parents, guardian, or custodian, if the parents, guardian, or custodian agree to accept custody of the minor and to return the minor to the other state. [C71, 73, §232.71]

232.72 Prosecution under criminal law. When a petition alleging delinquency is based on an alleged act committed after the minor's fourteenth birthday, and the court, after a hearing, deems it contrary to the best interest of the minor or the public to retain jurisdiction, the court may enter an order making such findings and referring the alleged violation to the appropriate prosecuting authority for proper action under the criminal law. When such child pleads guilty or is found guilty of a public offense in another court that court may, with the consent of the juvenile court, refer the child back to juvenile court for further disposition. In any event the court before whom the plea was made or the conviction was had is expressly authorized to set aside such plea or conviction but only after the child has successfully completed a period of probation of not less than one year. [C71, 73, §232.72]

232.73 Information or indictment. A child referred to juvenile court pursuant to section 232.64, may also be transferred to criminal court and tried as an adult by the filing of a county attorney's information or grand jury indictment charging the child with an indictable offense.    b. The identification of the person or persons responsible therefor;
   c. The name, age and condition of other children in the same home as the child named in the report;

4. The county attorney and any law enforcement or social services agency in the state shall co-operate and assist in the investigation upon the request of the department of social services. The county attorney and appropriate law enforcement agencies shall also take any other lawful action which may be necessary or advisable for the protection of the child.

The county attorney shall notify the registry of any actions or contemplated actions with respect to a suspected case of child abuse so that the registry is kept up-to-date and fully informed concerning the handling of such a case.

8. Based on the investigation conducted pursuant to this section, the department shall offer to the family of any child believed to be the victim of abuse such services as appear appropriate for either the child, the family, or both, if it is explained that the department has no legal authority to compel such family to receive such services.

The attorney shall assist the county department of social services in the preparation of the necessary papers to initiate such action and shall appear and represent the department at all juvenile court proceedings.

10. The department of social services shall assist the juvenile court or district court during all stages of court proceedings involving a suspected child abuse case in accordance with the purposes of this chapter.

Educational programs shall include but not be limited to the diagnosis and cause of child abuse, the responsibilities, obligations, duties and powers of persons and agencies under this chapter and the procedures of the department and the juvenile court with respect to suspected cases of child abuse and disposition of actual cases. [65GA, ch 1162,§9]

235A.11 Photographs and X rays. Any person who is required to report a case of child abuse may take or cause to be taken, at public expense, photographs of the areas of trauma visible on a child. [65GA, ch 1162,§10]

CHILD ABUSE INFORMATION REGISTRY

235A.12 Legislative findings and purposes. The general assembly finds and declares that a central registry is required to provide a single source for the state-wide collection, maintenance and dissemination of child abuse information. Such a registry is imperative for increased effectiveness in dealing with the problem of child abuse. The general assembly also finds that vigorous protection of rights of individual privacy is an indispensable element of a fair and effective system of collecting, maintaining and disseminating child abuse information.

The purposes of this section and sections 235A.13 to 235A.24 are to facilitate the identification of victims or potential victims of child abuse by making available a single, state-wide source of child abuse data; to facilitate research on child abuse by making available a single, state-wide source of child abuse data; and to provide maximum safeguards against the unwarranted invasions of privacy which such a registry might otherwise entail. The child shall not be sent, brought, or caused to be sent or brought into the receiving state until the appropriate public authorities in the receiving state shall notify the sending agency, in writing, to the effect that the proposed placement does not appear to be contrary to the interests of the child.

ARTICLE IV—PENALTY FOR ILLEGAL PLACEMENT

The sending, bringing, or causing to be sent or brought into any receiving state of a child in violation of the terms of this compact shall constitute a violation of the laws respecting the placement of children of both the state in which the sending agency is located or from which it sends or brings the child and of the receiving state. Such violation may be punished or subjected to penalty in either jurisdiction in accordance with its laws. In addition to liability for any such punishment or penalty, any such violation shall constitute full and sufficient grounds for the suspension or revocation of any license, permit, or other legal authorization held by the sending agency which empowers or allows it to place, or care for children.

ARTICLE V—RETENTION OF JURISDICTION

a. The sending agency shall retain jurisdiction over the child sufficient to determine all matters in relation to the custody, supervision, care, treatment and disposition of the child which it would have had if the child had remained in the sending agency's state, until the child is adopted, reaches majority, becomes self-supporting or is discharged with the concurrence of the appropriate authority in the receiving state. Such jurisdiction shall also include the power to effect or cause the return of the child or its transfer to another location and custody pursuant to law. The sending agency shall continue to have financial responsibility for support and maintenance of the child during the period of the placement. Nothing contained herein shall defeat a claim of jurisdiction by a receiving state sufficient to deal with an act of delinquency or crime committed therein.

b. When the sending agency is a public agency, it may enter into an agreement with an authorized public or private agency in the receiving state providing for the performance of one or more services in respect of such case by the latter as agent for the sending agency.

ARTICLE VI—INSTITUTIONAL CARE OF DELINQUENT CHILDREN

A child adjudicated delinquent may be placed in an institution in another party jurisdiction pursuant to this compact but no such placement shall be made unless the child is given a court hearing on notice to the parent or guardian with opportunity to be heard, prior to his being sent to such other party jurisdiction for institutional care and the court finds that:
ARTICLE VII—COMPACT ADMINISTRATOR

The executive head of each jurisdiction party to this compact shall designate an officer who shall be general co-ordinator of activities under this compact in his jurisdiction and who, acting jointly with like officers of other party jurisdictions, shall have power to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this compact.

[C71, 73, §238.35]

ARTICLE X—CONSTRUCTION AND SEVERABILITY

239.2 Eligibility for aid to dependent children. Assistance shall be granted under this chapter to any needy dependent child who:

1. Is living in a suitable family home maintained by one or more of the persons referred to in section 239.1, subsection 3, or has been placed in a foster home or with a public nonprofit agency referred to in such subsection under a plan of care including services designated to improve the conditions of the home from which the child was removed or to otherwise make possible his being placed in the suitable home of a relative referred to in section 239.1, subsection 3, if the placement resulted from judicial proceedings initiated during a month in or for which the child:

a. Was in fact receiving assistance under this chapter; or

b. Would have received assistance under this chapter if application had been made therefor; or

c. Had within six months prior to the month in which the proceedings were initiated been living with a relative referred to in section 239.1, subsection 3, and would have received assistance under this chapter in and for the month in which the proceedings were begun if he had continued to live with that relative and application had been made therefor.

2. Has resided in the state for one year immediately preceding the application for such assistance; or was born within the state within one year immediately preceding the application, if the mother has resided in the state for one year immediately preceding the birth of said child, without regard to the residence of the person or persons with whom said child is living.

b. Is partially or totally unemployed due to a work stoppage which exists because of a labor dispute at the factory, establishment or other premises at which he is or was last employed.

c. At any time during the thirty-day period prior to receipt of assistance under this chapter or at any time thereafter while assistance is payable under this chapter, has not been available for employment, has not actively sought employment, or has without good cause refused any bona fide offer of employment or training for employment. The following reasons for refusing employment or training are not good cause: unsuitable or unpleasant work or training, if the father is able to perform the work or training without unusual danger to his health; or the amount of wages or compensation, unless the wages for employment are below the federal minimum wage.

d. Has not registered for work with the state employment service established pursuant to section 96.12, or therefor has failed to report at an employment office in accordance with regulations prescribed pursuant to section 96.4, subsection 1.

e. Has failed to participate in or to cooperate in any work or training program made available to him under chapter 249C, or has without good cause withdrawn from such program before completion. The department of social services shall have a program under chapter 249C for the partially or totally unemployed father under this subsection.

The division may prescribe requirements in addition to or in lieu of the foregoing, for eligibility for assistance under this chapter to children whose fathers are partially or totally unemployed, which are necessary to secure financial participation of the federal government in payment of such assistance. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.2, 65GA, ch 105, §8]

239.3 Application for assistance. Application for assistance under this chapter shall be made to the county board of the county in which the dependent child resides or will reside in the event assistance is granted. The application shall be in writing or reduced to writing in the manner and upon the form prescribed by the state director. One application may be made for several children of the same family if they reside or will reside with the same person. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.3]

239.4 Investigation of application. Whenever a county board receives a notification of the dependency of a child or an application for assistance, an investigation and record of the circumstances shall promptly be made in order to ascertain the dependency of the child and the facts supporting the application.

The investigations shall include visits to the home of the child and of the person with whom the child will live during the time assistance is granted.

In cases involving physical or mental incapacity or unfitness of either parent, the county board of social welfare may require as a condition for granting assistance hereunder that such incapacity or unfitness be determined by a board of doctors which shall be selected by the county board of social welfare. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.4]

239.5 Granting of assistance and amount of assistance—co-operation of parent. Upon the completion of an investigation the county board shall decide whether the child is eligible for assistance under the provisions of this chapter and determine the amount of such assistance. The county board shall, within thirty days, notify the person with whom the child is living or will be living, of the decision made. The county board may require, as a condition of granting assistance, that a legal guardianship be established over any recipient, or any child or children and in such cases the assistance payments shall be made to such guardian, when appointed, but a guardian of a child or children only shall not be allowed to receive any assistance payments for any dependent child or children unless such guardian shall bear a relationship to the child or children embraced by subsection 3, section 239.1. In addition to the assistance granted as provided under this chapter, an amount not to exceed ten dollars per case per month may be allowed for guardian's fees when authorized by appropriate court order. The dependent child for whom the grant is made shall be originally charged to the county in which such child resides when application is made.

The county board, in accordance with rules and standards established by the state department of social services, shall fix the amount of assistance necessary for any dependent child. In determining the amount of assistance, the county board shall take into consideration the income and resources of any child or relative claiming assistance under this chapter. However, in fixing the amount of assistance for any child or family, the county board, in accordance with rules established by the state department of social services, may disregard a reasonable amount of the income of the child or the family, in order to encourage the family or any of its members to become self-supporting. The term "income" as used herein means income remaining after deduction of expenses reasonably attributable to the earning or securing of that income.

The county board, under the supervision of the state department of social services, shall establish services to help families and persons receiving assistance under this chapter to become self-supporting; shall participate in the work and training program established by chapter 249C; and shall co-operate with other public agencies and with private agencies to secure employment, education, and vocational training for members of such families. Assistance, when granted, shall be paid monthly to an adult person or a person eighteen years of age or older within the specified degrees of relationship and with whom the child is living, from the fund for aid to dependent children established by this chapter, upon the order of the state division, except that the county board may order the assistance payments made to another individual who is interested in or concerned with the welfare of the child or the person with whom the child is living when it has been demonstrated that the person with whom the child is living is unable to manage the assistance payments in the best interest of the child. Such protective payments shall not be made beyond one year and shall otherwise conform to the regulations established under the provisions of Title IV of the Social Security Act as amended by Public Law 90-248.

No payment for aid to dependent children shall be made unless and until the county board of social welfare, with the advice of the county attorney shall certify that the parent receiving the aid for the children is cooperating in legal actions and other efforts to obtain support money for said children from the persons legally responsible for said support. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.5]

See Collins v. Board, 248 Iowa 589

239.6 Periodic reconsideration, changes, and termination of grants. Any or all assistance grants made under this chapter shall be subject to reconsideration at any time the county board deems necessary and shall be reinvestigated and reconsidered by the county board as frequently as may be required. After any such further investigation, the county board shall make further report to the state director. Upon such report, assistance may be continued, renewed, suspended, changed in amount, or entirely withdrawn, as the findings of such reports warrant. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.6]

239.7 Appeal—judicial review. If an application is not acted upon within a reasonable time, if it is denied in whole or in part, or if any award of assistance is modified, suspended, or canceled under any provision of this chapter, the applicant or recipient may appeal to the department of social services. The department shall give the appellant reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing before the commissioner or his designee. Judicial review of the result of such hearing may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Upon receipt of the notice of the filing of a petition for judicial review, the department shall furnish the petitioner with a copy of any papers filed in support of the petitioner's position, a transcript of any testimony taken, and a copy of the department's decision. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.7; 65GA, ch 1090, §121]

239.8 Removal from county. When any child for whose benefit a grant of assistance has been made removes or is removed from the county in which he resided at the time he was granted assistance, it shall be the duty of the recipient to immediately notify the county board of the county of the fact of such removal and of the city (or the nearest city) and of the county to which the child has removed. If the removal is out of the state, assistance shall be continued as long as the child remains otherwise eligible for assistance under this chapter or until he becomes eligible for assistance from the state to which he has moved, but in no case may assistance payments from this state be continued for more than one year beyond the date of the child's removal from this state; provided, further, that during the period in which such assistance may be paid, the county board shall, by regular contact with the proper state or local welfare agency in the state to which such child has been removed, review and determine such child's eligibility for assistance other than with respect to the residence eligibility requirement.

Periodic status reports shall be requested of the recipients to assist in determining eligibility for assistance payments. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §239.8; 65GA, ch 175, §2; ch 1087, §32]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

239.9 Funeral expenses. Upon the death of any child for whose benefit assistance payments are being made or have been authorized, a reasonable funeral expense for the burial of such child may be paid by the state division, provided such expenses do not exceed two hundred fifty dollars, and the estate of the deceased or any life insurance or payments by any death or funeral benefit association or society paid by reason of the death of such child to the child's estate or to any person legally liable for his support, are insufficient to defray such funeral expenses. The person to whom such funeral expenses are paid as above provided is hereby prohibited from soliciting, accepting, or contracting to receive any further compensation for services rendered or articles furnished in connection with such funeral except on written approval of the county board of the county to which the assistance is chargeable and subject to such rules and regulations as the state director shall prescribe.
