CHAPTER 303
DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL AFFAIRS

303.1 Department of cultural affairs.

1. The department of cultural affairs is created. The department is under the control of a director who shall be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the senate, and shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The salary of the director shall be set by the governor within a range set by the general assembly.

2. The department has primary responsibility for development of the state's interest in the areas of the arts, history, libraries, and other cultural matters. In fulfilling this responsibility, the department will be advised and assisted by the state library commission, the state historical society and its board of trustees, the Iowa arts council, the Terrace Hill commission, and the Iowa public broadcasting board.

The department shall:
   a. Develop a comprehensive, co-ordinated, and efficient policy to preserve, research, interpret, and promote to the public an awareness and understanding of local, state, and regional history.
   b. Stimulate and encourage educational radio and television and other educational communications services as necessary to aid in accomplishing the educational objectives of the state.
   c. Stimulate and encourage throughout the state the study and presentation of the performing and fine arts and public interest and participation in them.
   d. Implement tourism-related art and history projects as directed by the general assembly.
   e. Design a comprehensive, statewide, long-range plan with the assistance of the Iowa arts council to develop the arts in Iowa. The department is designated as the state agency for carrying out the plan.

f. Meet the informational needs of the three branches of state government.
   g. Provide for the improvement of library services to all Iowa citizens and foster development and cooperation among libraries.

3. The department shall consist of the following:
   a. Historical division.
   b. Library division.
   c. Arts division.
   d. Public broadcasting division.
   e. Other divisions created by rule.
   f. Administrative section.

4. The director may create, combine, eliminate, alter or reorganize the organization of the department by rule except for those matters prescribed by sections 303.75 through 303.85.

5. The department by rule may establish advisory groups necessary for the receipt of federal funds or grants or the administration of any of the department's programs.

6. The divisions shall be administered by administrators who shall be appointed by the director and serve at the director's pleasure. However, the administrator of the public broadcasting division shall be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the public broadcasting board and the administrator of the library division shall be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the library commission. The administrators shall:
   a. Organize the activities of the division.
   b. Submit a biennial report to the governor on the activities and an evaluation of the division and its programs and policies.
   c. Control all property of the division.
   d. Perform other duties imposed by law.

Division responsibilities.

1 The administrative services section shall provide administrative, accounting, public relations and clerical services for the department, report to the director and perform other duties assigned to it by the director, except for those matters prescribed by sections 303.75 through 303.85. The administrative services section may provide services to the public broadcasting division.

2 The historical division shall

a. Administer and care for historical sites under the authority of the division, and maintain collections within these buildings.

b. Encourage and assist local county and state organizations and museums devoted to historical purposes.

c. Develop standards and criteria for the acquisition of historic properties and for the preservation, restoration, maintenance, operation, and interpretation of properties under the jurisdiction of the division.

The administrator of the division shall serve as the state historic preservation officer, certified by the governor, pursuant to federal requirements.

d. Administer the archives of the state as defined in section 303.12.

e. Identify and document historic properties.

f. Prepare and maintain a state register of historic places, including those listed on the national register of historic places.

g. Conduct historic preservation activities pursuant to federal and state requirements.

h. Publish matters of historical value to the public, and pursue historical, architectural, and archaeological research and development which may include but are not limited to, building construction and space utilization, children's services, and technological developments.

i. Buy or receive by other means historical materials including, but not limited to, artifacts, art, books, manuscripts, and images. Such materials are not personal property under section 18.12 and shall be received and cared for under the rules of the department. The historical division may sell or otherwise dispose of those materials according to the rules of the department and be credited for any revenues credited by the disposal less the costs incurred.

j. Administer the historical resource development program established in section 303.16.

3 The library division shall

a. May enter into interstate library compacts on behalf of the state of Iowa with any state which legally joins in the compacts as provided in section 303A.8.

b. Shall determine policy for providing information service to the three branches of state government and to the legal and medical communities in this state.

c. Shall coordinate a statewide interregional intralibrary loan and information network among libraries in this state and support activities which increase cooperation among all types of libraries.

d. Shall establish and administer a program for the collection and distribution of state publications to depository libraries.

e. Shall develop and adopt, in conjunction with the Iowa regional library system, long-range plans for the continued improvement of library services in the state.

To insure that the concerns of all types of libraries are addressed, the division shall establish a long-range planning committee to review and evaluate progress and report findings and recommendations to the division and to the trustees of the Iowa regional library system at an annual meeting.

f. Shall develop in cooperation with the Iowa regional library system an annual plan of service for the Iowa regional library system and its individual members to insure consistency with the state long-range plan.

g. Shall establish and administer a statewide continuing education program for librarians and trustees.

h. Shall give to libraries advice and counsel in specialized areas which may include, but are not limited to, building construction and space utilization, children's services, and technological developments.

i. Shall obtain from libraries reports showing the condition, growth, and development of services provided and disseminate this information in a timely manner to the citizens of Iowa.

j. Shall establish and administer certification guidelines for librarians not covered by other accrediting agencies.

4 The arts division shall

a. Make surveys as deemed advisable of existing artistic and cultural programs and activities within the state, including but not limited to music, theatre, dance, painting, sculpture, architecture, and allied arts and crafts.

b. Administer the program of agreements for indemnification by the state in the event of loss of or damage to special exhibit items established by sections 304A.21 through 304A.30.

c. Submit a report to the governor and to the general assembly not later than ten calendar days following the commencement of each first session of the general assembly concerning the studies undertaken during the biennium and recommending legislation and other action as necessary for the im-303.3 Cultural grant programs.
1. The department shall establish a grant program for cities and nonprofit, tax-exempt community organizations for the development of community programs that provide local jobs for Iowa residents and also promote Iowa’s historic, ethnic, and cultural heritages through the development of festivals, music, drama, cultural programs, or tourist attractions. A city or nonprofit, tax-exempt community organization may submit an application to the department for review. The department shall establish criteria for the review and approval of grant applications. The amount of a grant shall not exceed fifty percent of the cost of the community program. Each application shall include information demonstrating that the city or nonprofit, tax-exempt community organization will provide matching funds of fifty percent of the cost of the program. The matching funds requirement may be met by substituting in-kind services, based on the value of the services, for actual dollars.
2. The department shall establish a grant program which provides general operating budget support to major, multidisciplined cultural organizations which demonstrate cultural and managerial excellence on a continuing basis to the citizens of Iowa. Applicant organizations must be incorporated under chapter 504A, be exempt from federal taxation, and not be attached or affiliated with an educational institution. Eligible organizations shall be operated on a year-round basis and employ at least one full-time, paid professional staff member. The department shall establish criteria for review and approval of grant applications. Criteria established shall include, but are not limited to, a matching funds requirement. The matching funds requirement shall permit an applicant to meet the matching requirement by demonstrating that the applicant’s budget contains funds, other than state and federal funds, in excess of the grant award.
3. Notwithstanding section 8.33, moneys committed to grantees under contract that remain unexpended on June 30 of any fiscal year shall not revert but shall be available for expenditure for purposes of the contract until June 30 of the succeeding fiscal year.

303.16 Historical resource development program.
1. The historical division shall administer a program of grants and loans for historical resource development throughout the state, subject to funds for such grants and loans being made available through the appropriations process or otherwise provided by law.
2. The purpose of the historical resource development program is to preserve, conserve, interpret, and enhance historical resources that will encourage and support the economic and cultural health and development of the state and the communities in which the resources are located. For this purpose, the division may make grants and loans as otherwise provided by law with funds as may be made available by applicable law.
3. The following persons are eligible to receive historical resource grants and loans:
   a. County and city governments.
   b. Nonprofit corporations.
   c. Private corporations and businesses.
   d. Individuals.
   e. State agencies.
   f. Governments and traditional tribal societies of recognized resident American Indian tribes in Iowa.
   g. Other units of government.
4. Grants and loans may be made for the following purposes:
   a. Acquisition and development of historical resources.
   b. Preservation and conservation of historical resources.
   c. Interpretation of historical resources.
   d. Professional training and educational programs on the acquisition, development, preservation, conservation, and interpretation of historical resources.
5. Grants and loans shall be awarded in each of the following categories:
   a. Museums.
   b. Documentary collections.
   c. Historic preservation.
   Not less than twenty percent and not more than sixty percent of the program’s funds appropriated in one fiscal year shall be allocated to any single category.
6. Grants and loans are subject to the following restrictions:
   a. Not more than twenty percent of the total grant moneys combined shall be given to or received by state agencies and institutions, or their representatives or agents.
   b. A portion of the applicant’s operating expenses may be used as a cash match or in-kind match as specified by the division’s rules.
   c. Grant or loan funds shall not be used to support public relations or marketing expenses.
   d. Not more than one hundred thousand dollars or twenty percent of the annual appropriation, whichever is more, shall be granted and loaned to recipients within a single county in any given grant cycle.
   e. Not more than one hundred thousand dollars or ten percent of the annual appropriation, whichever is more, shall be granted and loaned to any single recipient or its agent within a single fiscal year.
   f. Grants under this program may be given only after review and recommendation by the state historical society board of trustees. The division may contract with lending institutions chartered in this state to act as agents for the administration of loans under the program, in which case, the lending institution may have the right of final approval of loans, subject to the division's administrative rules. If the division does not contract with a lending institution, loans may be made only after review and recommendation by the state historical society board of trustees.

g. The division shall not award grants or loans to be used for goods or services obtained outside the state, unless the proposed recipient demonstrates that it is neither feasible nor prudent to obtain the goods or services within the state.

h. Grant or loan funds shall not be awarded to a city or county government for a project in the historic preservation category unless the city or county government has been approved as a certified local government by the state historic preservation officer.

7. For each dollar of grant funds the following recipients must provide the following matching cash and in-kind resources:

a. All units of government and nonprofit corporations, fifty cents, of which at least twenty-five cents must be in cash.

b. For other private corporations and businesses, one dollar of which at least seventy-five cents must be in cash.

c. For individuals, seventy-five cents of which at least fifty cents must be in cash.

8. The division may use ten percent of the annual appropriation to the division, but in no event more than seventy-five thousand dollars for administration of the grant and loan program.

9. a. The division may establish a historical resource grant and loan fund composed of any money appropriated by the general assembly for that purpose, funds allocated pursuant to section 455A.19, and of any other moneys available to and obtained or accepted by the division from the federal government or private sources for placement in that fund. Each loan made under this section shall be for a period not to exceed ten years, shall bear interest at a rate determined by the state historical board, and shall be repayable to the revolving loan fund in equal yearly installments due March 1 of each year the loan is in effect. The interest rate upon loans for which payment is delinquent shall accelerate immediately to the current legal usury limit. Applicants are eligible for not more than one hundred thousand dollars in loans outstanding at any time under this program. A single lending institution contracting with the division pursuant to this section shall not hold more than five hundred thousand dollars worth of outstanding loans under the program.

Any applicant, who is otherwise eligible, who receives a direct or indirect appropriation from the general assembly for a project or portion of a project is ineligible for a historical resources development grant for that same project during the fiscal year for which the appropriation is made. For purposes of this paragraph, "project" includes any related activities, including, but not limited to, construction, restoration, supplies, equipment, consulting, or other services.

b. The division may:

(1) Contract and adopt administrative rules necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, but the division shall not in any manner directly or indirectly pledge the credit of the state of Iowa.

(2) Authorize payment from the historical resource grant and loan fund, from fees and from any income received by investments of money in the fund for costs, commissions, attorney fees and other reasonable expenses related to and necessary for making and protecting direct loans under this section, and for the recovery of moneys loaned or the management of property acquired in connection with such loans.

303.79 Powers — facilities — rules.

1. The board may purchase, lease, and improve property, equipment, and services for educational telecommunications including the broadcast and narrowcast systems, and may dispose of property and equipment when not necessary for its purposes. The board and division administrator may arrange for joint use of available services and facilities.

2. The board shall apply for channels, frequencies, licenses, and permits as necessary for the performance of the board's duties.

3. This section does not prohibit institutions under the state board of regents and community colleges under the department of education from owning, operating, improving, maintaining, and restructuring educational radio and television stations and transmitters now in existence or other educational narrowcast telecommunications systems and services. The institutions and schools may enter into agreements with the board for the lease or purchase of equipment and facilities.

4. The board may locate its administrative offices and production facilities outside the city of Des Moines.

5. The board shall adopt and update a design plan for educational telecommunications systems and services in this state. Not later than January 1, 1988, the board shall transmit to the general assembly a progress report concerning the development of the design plan. The design plan shall be adopted by the board not later than January 1, 1989, and shall be updated at least every two years thereafter. Copies of the design plan and updated design plan shall be made available to the governor and members of the general assembly upon request. The plan shall include a list of public utilities and private telecommunications companies being utilized by the educational telecommunications system; the cost of the

The state library includes, but is not limited to, a medical library, a law library, and a patents depository library.

1. The medical library shall be headed by a medical librarian, appointed by the director, subject to chapter 19A. The medical librarian shall:
   a. Operate the medical library which shall always be available for free use by the residents of Iowa under rules the department adopts.
   b. Give no preference to any school of medicine and shall secure books, periodicals, and pamphlets for every legally recognized school of medicine without discrimination.
   c. Perform other duties imposed by law or prescribed by the rules of the division.

2. The law library shall be headed by a law librarian, appointed by the director with the approval of the Iowa supreme court, subject to chapter 19A. The law librarian shall:
   a. Operate the law library which shall be maintained in the state capitol or in rooms convenient to the state supreme court and which shall be available for free use by the residents of Iowa under rules the department adopts.
   b. Maintain, as an integral part of the law library, reports of various boards and agencies and copies of bills, journals, and other information relating to current or proposed legislation.
   c. Arrange to make exchanges of all printed material published by the states and the government of the United States.
   d. Perform other duties imposed by law or by the rules of the department.

ARTS AND CULTURAL ENHANCEMENT AND ENDOWMENT
Legislative intent, 91 Acts, ch 157, § 1 SF 268

SUBCHAPTER I
DEFINITIONS AND FINANCING

303C.1 Definitions.
For the purposes of this chapter, the following definitions apply:
1. "Arts" means music, dance, theater, opera and music theater, visual arts, literature, design arts, media arts, and folk and traditional arts.
2. "Culture" or "cultural" means programs and activities which explore past and present human experience.
3. "Department" means the department of cultural affairs.
4. "Endowment account" means the arts and cultural endowment account established in section 303C.2, which consists of funds received from private sources, and which may include funds appropriated by the general assembly.
5. "Endowment program" means the arts and cultural endowment program established in section 303C.7.
6. "Enhancement account" means the arts and cultural enhancement account established in section 303C.2, which consists, upon the making of an appropriation by the general assembly, of public funds.
7. "Enhancement program" means the arts and cultural enhancement program created in section 303C.3.
8. "Foundation" means the arts and cultural endowment foundation established in section 303C.7.

303C.2 Iowa arts and cultural enhancement and endowment accounts established.
The Iowa arts and cultural enhancement account and the Iowa arts and cultural endowment account are established in the office of the treasurer of state. The moneys deposited in each account shall be invested by the treasurer of state in investments authorized for the Iowa public employees' retirement fund in section 97B.7. Interest earned on each account shall be transferred to the credit of that account. The provisions of section 8.33 do not apply to the accounts.
1. Enhancement account. The enhancement account shall be administered by the arts division of the department for purposes of the enhancement program described in section 303C.3.
Upon the making of an appropriation by the general assembly for deposit in the enhancement account, funds in the enhancement account shall be used as follows: eighty percent shall be available for distribution on a matching basis to nonprofit organizations pursuant to section 303C.4; fifteen percent shall be available for distribution as block grants to qualified organizations pursuant to section 303C.5; and five percent shall be available to the arts division for the administration of the regional conferences and the statewide caucus on arts and cultural enhancement pursuant to section 303C.6 and for the administration of the enhancement program.
2. Endowment account. The endowment account shall be administered by the endowment foundation established in section 303C.7, subsection 2, for purposes of the endowment program established in section 303C.7, subsection 1.
Beginning in 1993, the endowment foundation shall, annually, on July 1, certify to the department of management and the legislative fiscal bureau, the amount of funds received from private sources for use in the endowment program. The general assembly may appropriate funds to the endowment account. However, the use of funds in the endowment account described in this subsection is not contingent upon the making of an appropriation by the general assembly.
Only the interest on the funds in the endowment account is available for use for the endowment program, and shall be allocated as follows: ninety-five percent for distribution for grants, fellowships, and scholarships to nonprofessional, professional, and student artists pursuant to section 303C.7, subsection 1; and five percent to the endowment foundation established in section 303C.7, subsection 2, for the administration of the endowment program.

303C.3 Arts and cultural enhancement program created.
The arts and cultural enhancement program is created within the department and administered by the arts division. Upon the making of an appropriation by the general assembly, funds in the enhancement account established in section 303C.2, subsection 1, are available for the purposes of this subchapter. The enhancement program consists of the following:
303C.4 Matching funds provided to nonprofit organizations.

Enhancement account funds shall be available, upon certification by the department of the availability of matching funds from private sources, to nonprofit organizations for the purposes of education, outreach, and enhancement. An organization proposing a program must have available funds from private sources in order to receive an equal amount of public funds contained in the enhancement account. The department shall consider the recommendations of the caucus on arts and cultural enhancement made pursuant to section 303C.6, and the recommendations of the advisory council created in section 303C.5, and shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A governing the distribution of funds to organizations. Proposed programs shall do at least one of the following:

1. Education. Provide for one or more of the following:
   a. Rural access. Allow cultural resources to be available to small communities which lack arts and cultural resources.
   b. Social awareness. Assist in programs enabling arts organizations to participate in and encourage a healthy community environment.
   c. Cultural diversity. Increase the awareness and acceptance of cultural diversity through arts and culture.
   d. Serving special populations. Provide programs and innovative projects for the following, including but not limited to: at-risk youth, talented and gifted persons, disabled persons, senior citizens, or other special needs persons.

2. Outreach. Provide for one or more of the following:
   a. Program enhancement. Allow arts and cultural organizations to improve or enhance the quality of programs currently offered.
   b. Artist and arts educators enhancement. Fund projects which would increase and support professional and student artists, and arts educators.

303C.5 Block grants provided to qualified organizations.

303C.6 Regional conferences and statewide caucus on arts and cultural enhancement.

1. Enhancement account funds shall be available for distribution to qualified organizations for the purposes of enhancing the quality of local arts and cultural programs. In order to qualify for a block grant, an organization must represent at least seventy percent of its defined membership. The department shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A governing the distribution of block grants.

2. An advisory council consisting of organizations funded by the department pursuant to this section, and representatives of the Iowa assembly for local arts agencies, Iowa alliance for arts education, Iowa arts coalition, the Iowa museum association, the chairperson of the statewide caucus, the department of education, and the Iowa humanities board is established. The advisory council shall review and advise the department regarding the awarding of funds pursuant to section 303C.4.

1. The department shall administer the regional conferences and statewide caucus on arts and cultural enhancement. The purpose of the conferences and caucus is to guide the development of the arts and cultural enhancement program by identifying opportunities for programs regarding education, outreach, and enhancement, by reviewing any recommended changes in enhancement program policies, programs, and funding, and by making recommendations to the department regarding distribution of matching funds to nonprofit organizations pursuant to section 303C.4.

2. Biennially, during odd-numbered years, the department shall convene a statewide caucus on arts and cultural enhancement. The caucus shall be held for one day during the month of June in the capitol complex, Des Moines.

   a. Prior to a caucus, the department shall make arrangements to hold a conference in each of six regions of the state as defined by the Iowa arts council. The department shall promote attendance of interested persons at each conference. A designee of the department shall call each conference to order and serve as temporary chairperson until persons attending elect a chairperson. The department shall provide persons attending with current information regarding cultural enhancement programs and expenditures. Persons attending shall identify opportunities for programs in the areas of education, outreach, and enhancement and review recommended changes in enhancement account policies, programs, and funding, and make recommendations in the form of a resolution. The persons attending each conference shall elect six persons to serve as delegates to the caucus, and one person to serve as chairperson of the region. The selection of persons at each conference to serve as delegates to the caucus shall conform to the gender balance requirements of section 69.16A.
b. A designee of the department shall call the caucus to order and serve as temporary chairperson until persons attending the caucus elect a chairperson. Persons attending the caucus shall discuss the recommendations of the regional conferences and decide upon recommendations to be made to the department. Elected chairpersons of the regional conferences shall meet with representatives of the department and present the recommendations of the caucus.

3. The expenses of the department in making the arrangements for and the conducting of the conferences and the caucus, and the expenses of the delegates at the caucus shall be paid from funds in the enhancement account designated for purposes of the regional conferences and caucus.

SUBCHAPTER III
ENDOWMENT PROGRAM

303C.7 Arts and cultural endowment program established; arts and cultural endowment foundation established.

1. The arts and cultural endowment program is established. The arts and cultural endowment foundation established in this section shall administer the endowment program and shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to fulfill the purposes of this section. Interest on the funds in the endowment account established in section 303C.2, subsection 2, is available for the purposes of this section. The endowment foundation shall establish criteria for the awarding of grants, fellowships, and scholarships to nonprofessional, professional, and student artists to develop, encourage, and enhance the arts and cultural programs in the state, upon submission of a proposal by the artist. The artist shall request no more than twenty-five thousand dollars in the proposal.

2. The arts and cultural endowment foundation is established. The exercise of the powers granted to the endowment foundation in this chapter is an essential governmental function. The administrative functions of the endowment foundation shall be performed by persons appointed in equal number by the department and the Iowa humanities board. The persons appointed shall elect the officers of the endowment foundation. The endowment foundation shall be located in the department's offices. The endowment foundation may solicit and accept gifts, grants, donations, bequests, and in-kind contributions for deposit in the endowment account. The endowment foundation shall, to the extent possible, use gifts, donations, and bequests in accordance with the expressed desires of the person making the gift, donation, or bequest.

305A.7 Ancient remains.

The state archaeologist has the primary responsibility for investigating, preserving, and reinterring discoveries of ancient human remains. For the purposes of this section, ancient human remains are those remains found within the state which are more than one hundred fifty years old. The state archaeologist shall make arrangements for the services of a forensic osteologist in studying and interpreting ancient burials and may designate other qualified archaeologists to assist the state archaeologist in recovering physical and cultural information about the ancient burials. The state archaeologist shall file with the Iowa department of public health a written report containing both physical and cultural information regarding the remains at the conclusion of each investigation.

CHAPTER 306
ESTABLISHMENT, ALTERATION, AND VACATION OF HIGHWAYS

306.19 Right-of-way — access — notice.

1. In the maintenance, relocation, establishment, or improvement of any road, including the extension of such road within cities, the agency having jurisdiction and control of such road shall have authority to purchase or to institute and maintain proceedings for the condemnation of the necessary right of way therefor. Such agency shall likewise have power to purchase or institute and maintain proceedings for the condemnation of land necessary for highway drainage, or land containing gravel or other suitable material for the improvement or maintenance of highways, together with the necessary road access or right of access thereto.

2. Whenever the agency condemns or purchases property access rights or alters by lengthening any existing driveway to a road from abutting property, except during the time required for construction and maintenance of the road or highway, the agency shall:
   a. Compensate the owner for any diminution in the market value of the property by the denial or alteration by lengthening the driveway; however, in computing such diminution in value no consideration shall be given to the additional maintenance expense for maintaining the additional length of driveway, but in lieu thereof, both in condemnation proceedings or negotiated purchases, the agency shall pay to the owner the sum of five dollars for every lineal foot of additional length of driveway located on said owner's property. This payment shall represent just compensation to said property owner for the additional driveway maintenance caused by reason of the highway or road project.
   b. If in the opinion of the agency it would be more economical to purchase the entire tract of the property owner than to provide and pay the maintenance expense required under the provisions of this section, proceed with the acquisition of the entire tract of land; or
   c. If mutually agreeable, move buildings from an existing location to a location requiring an equal or lesser length of driveway and provide an adequate driveway to a public road.

3. None of the foregoing requirements shall prohibit the property owner and the agency from entering into a mutually acceptable agreement for the replacement, relocation, construction, or maintenance of any alternate driveway on the owner's property.

4. Compensation for any property rights taken in the establishment of any alternative temporary or permanent access shall be paid as in any other purchase or condemnation of property. Proceedings for the condemnation of land for any highway shall be under the provisions of chapter 471 and chapter 472. Provided that, in the condemnation of right of way for secondary roads, the board of supervisors may proceed as provided in sections 306.28 to 306.37.

5. a. The department may notify a city or county that a road under the jurisdiction or control of the department will be established, improved, relocated, or maintained and that the department may need to acquire additional right-of-way or property rights within an area described by the department. The notice shall include a depiction of the area on a map provided by the city, county, or the department. This notice shall be valid for a period of three years from the date of notification to the city or county and may be filed by the department for an additional three-year period. Within seven days of filing the notice, the department shall publish in a newspaper of public record a description and map of the area and a description of the potential restrictions applied to the city or county with respect to the granting of building permits, approving of subdivision plats, or zoning changes within the area.
   b. The city or county shall notify the department of an application for a building permit for construction valued at twenty-five thousand dollars or more, of the submission of a subdivision plat, or of a proposed zoning change within the area at least thirty days prior to granting the proposed building permit, approving the subdivision plat, or changing the zoning.
   c. If the department, within the thirty-day period, notifies the city or county that the department is proceeding to acquire all or part of the property or property rights affecting the area, the city or county shall not issue the building permit, approve the subdivision plat, or change the zoning. The department may apply to the city or county for an extension of the thirty-day period. After a public hearing on the matter, the city or county may grant an additional sixty-day extension of the period.
   d. The department shall begin the process of acquiring property or property rights from affected persons within ten days of the department's written notification of intent to the city or county.

6. For the purposes of this section, the term "driveway" shall mean a way of ingress and egress located entirely on private property, consisting of a lane or passageway leading from a residence to a public roadway or highway.

CHAPTER 306A
CONTROLLED-ACCESS HIGHWAYS

306A.3 Authority to establish controlled-access facilities — utility accommodation policy.

Cities and highway authorities having jurisdiction and control over the highways of the state, as provided by chapter 306, acting alone or in cooperation with each other or with any federal, state, or local agency or any other state having authority to participate in the construction and maintenance of highways, are hereby authorized to plan, designate, establish, regulate, vacate, alter, improve, maintain, and provide controlled-access facilities for public use wherever such authority or authorities are of the opinion that traffic conditions, present or future, will justify such special facilities; provided, that within cities such authority shall be subject to such municipal consent as may be provided by law. Said cities and highway authorities, in addition to the specific powers granted in this chapter, shall also have and may exercise, relative to controlled-access facilities, any and all additional authority now or hereafter vested in them relative to highways or streets within their respective jurisdictions. Said cities and highway authorities may regulate, restrict, or prohibit the use of such controlled-access facilities by the various classes of vehicles or traffic in a manner consistent with section 306A.2.

The department shall adopt rules, pursuant to chapter 17A, embodying a utility accommodation policy which imposes reasonable restrictions on placements occurring on or after the effective date of the rules, on primary road rights-of-way. The rules may require utilities to give notice to the department prior to installation of a utility system on a primary road right-of-way and obtain prior permission from the department for the proposed installation. The rules shall recognize emergency situations and the need for immediate installation of service extensions subject to the standards adopted by the department and the utilities board. The rules shall be no less stringent than the standards adopted by the utilities board pursuant to chapters 478, 479, and 479A. This paragraph shall not be construed as granting the department authority which has been expressly granted to the utilities board to determine the route of utility installations. If the department requires a utility company permit, the department shall be required to act upon the permit application within thirty days of its filing. In cases of federal-aid highway projects on nonprimary highways, the local authority with jurisdiction over the highway and the department shall comply with all federal regulations and statutes regarding utility accommodation.

CHAPTER 306C
IOWA JUNKYARD BEAUTIFICATION AND BILLBOARD CONTROL

306C.18 Permit required.

The owner of every advertising device regulated by this chapter, except signs and advertising devices excepted by section 306C.11, subsections 1, 2 and 5, shall be required to make application to the department for a permit.

1. The application for a permit shall be on a form provided by the department and shall contain the name and address of the owner of the advertising device and the name and address of the owner of the real property on which it is located; the date of its erection; a description of its location; its dimensions; and such other information required by the department, together with a permit fee as provided in this section.

2. After July 1, 1972, no new advertising device for which an application for a permit is required may be erected without first obtaining a permit from the department, except in the case of advertising devices lawfully in existence in areas adjacent to any highway made an interstate, freeway primary, or primary highway after July 1, 1972. The owner shall be required to make application for a permit as provided for in this section within thirty days after the date the said highway acquired said designation.

3. Upon receipt of an application containing all the required information in due form and properly executed together with the fee required, the department shall issue a permit to be affixed to the advertising device if the advertising device will not violate any provision of this division or chapter 306B, or any rule promulgated by the department, provided that in the case of advertising devices to be acquired pursuant to section 306C.15, a provisional permit shall be issued.

4. The fee for both types of permits shall be fifty dollars for the initial fee and ten dollars for each annual renewal. The fees collected for the above permits shall be credited to a special account entitled the "highway beautification fund" and all salaries and expenses incurred in administering this chapter shall be paid from this fund or from specific appropriations for this purpose, except that surveillance of, and removal of, advertising devices performed by regular maintenance personnel are not to be charged against the account.

307.10 Duties of commission.
The commission shall:
1. Develop and co-ordinate a comprehensive transportation policy for the state not later than January 1, 1975, which shall be submitted to the general assembly for its approval, and develop a comprehensive transportation plan by January 1, 1976, to be submitted to the governor and the general assembly, and to update the transportation policy and plan annually.
2. Promote the co-ordinated and efficient use of all available modes of transportation for the benefit of the state and its citizens including, but not limited to, the designation and development of multimodal public transfer facilities if carriers or other private businesses fail to develop such facilities.
3. Identify the needs for city, county and regional transportation facilities and services in the state and develop programs appropriate to meet these needs.
4. Identify methods of improving transportation safety in the state and develop programs appropriate to meet these needs.
5. Approve or amend and approve the budget of the department prepared by the director, prior to submission of the budget to the governor and the general assembly.
6. Consider the energy and environmental issues in transportation development.
7. Enter into such contracts and agreements as provided in this chapter.
8. Promote the efforts of political subdivisions in developing energy efficient public transit systems including bus and rail systems.
9. Promote the development of rural bus systems.
10. Develop and implement a bus system subsidization program.
11. Act as a resource and referral source for van poolers in the state.
12. Conduct a comprehensive transportation planning study to examine pedestrian accessibility in new commercial development.
13. Establish transit accessibility impact guidelines by July 1, 1992, to be used in evaluating proposals for the construction or acquisition of publicly financed facilities.
15. By July 1, 1992, create a statewide transit services marketing steering committee which includes providers, consumer advocates, and public relations representatives. The committee shall develop criteria for the evaluation of the adequacy and public awareness of transit service delivery by January 1, 1993.

307.12 Duties of the director.
The director shall:
1. Manage the internal operations of the department and establish guidelines and procedures to promote the orderly and efficient administration of the department.
§ 307.12

2. Employ personnel as necessary to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the department, consistent with chapter 19A.

3. Assist the commission in developing state transportation policy and a state transportation plan.

4. Establish temporary advisory boards of a size the director deems appropriate to advise the department.

5. Prepare a budget for the department, subject to the approval of the commission, and prepare reports required by law.

6. Appoint the deputy director of transportation and the administrators of the department.

7. Review and submit legislative proposals necessary to maintain current state transportation laws.

8. Enter into reciprocal agreements relating to motor vehicle inspections with authorized officials of any other state, subject to approval by the commission. The director may exempt or impose requirements upon nonresident motor vehicles consistent with those imposed upon vehicles of Iowa residents operated in other states.

9. Adopt rules in accordance with chapter 17A as the director deems necessary for the administration of the department and the exercise of the director's and department's powers and duties.

10. Reorganize the administration of the department as needed to increase administrative efficiency.

11. Provide for the receipt or disbursement of federal funds allocated to the state and its political subdivisions for transportation purposes.

12. Include in the department's annual budget all estimated federal funds to be received or allocated to the department.

13. Adopt, after consultation with the department of natural resources and the department of public safety, rules relating to enforcement of the rules regarding transportation of hazardous wastes adopted by the department of natural resources. The department and the division of the highway safety patrol of the department of public safety shall carry out the enforcement of the rules.

14. Prepare and submit a report to the general assembly on or before January 15 of each fiscal year describing the prior fiscal year's highway construction program, actual expenditures of the program, and contractual obligations of the program.

If in the interest of the state, the director may allow a subsistence expense to an employee under the supervision of the department's administrator for highways for continuous stay in one location while on duty away from established headquarters and place of domicile for a period not to exceed forty-five days; and allow automobile expenses in accordance with section 18.117, for moving an employee and the employee's family from place of present domicile to new domicile, and actual transportation expense for moving of household goods. The household goods for which transportation expense is allowed shall not include pets or animals.

The department's administrator of administrative services shall:

1. Provide for the proper maintenance and protection of the grounds, buildings and equipment of the department, in cooperation with the department of general services.

2. Establish, supervise and maintain a system of centralized electronic data processing for the department, in cooperation with the department of general services.

3. Assist the director in preparing the departmental budget.

4. a. Provide centralized purchasing services for the department, in cooperation with the department of general services. The administrator shall, when the price is reasonably competitive and the quality as intended, purchase soybean-based inks and starch-based plastics, including but not limited to starch-based garbage can liners, and shall purchase these items in accordance with the schedule established in section 18.18. However, the administrator need not purchase garbage can liners in accordance with the schedule if the liners are utilized by a facility approved by the environmental protection commission created under section 455A.6, for purposes of recycling.

b. The administrator shall do all of the following:

(1) Purchase and use recycled printing and writing paper in accordance with the schedule established in section 18.18 and in conjunction with recommendations made by the department of natural resources.

(2) Establish a wastepaper recycling program by January 1, 1990, in accordance with recommendations made by the department of natural resources and the requirements of section 18.20.
(3) Comply with the recycling goal, recycling schedule, and ultimate termination of purchase and use of polystyrene products for the purpose of storing, packaging, or serving food for immediate consumption pursuant to section 455D.16.

(4) Require in accordance with section 18.6 product content statements, the provision of information regarding on-site review of waste management in product bidding and contract procedures, and compliance with requirements regarding procurement specifications.

c. The department shall report to the general assembly by February 1 of each year, the following:

(1) Plastic products which are regularly purchased by the board for which starch-based product alternatives are available. The report shall also include the cost of the plastic products purchased and the cost of the starch-based product alternatives.

(2) Information relating to soybean-based inks and starch-based garbage can liners regularly purchased by the department. The report shall include the cost of purchasing soybean-based inks and starch-based garbage can liners, the percentage of inks purchased which are soybean-based and the percentage of liners purchased which are starch-based.

d. A motor vehicle purchased by the administrator shall not operate on gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. A state-issued credit card used to purchase gasoline shall not be valid to purchase gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. The motor vehicle shall also be affixed with a brightly visible sticker which notifies the traveling public that the motor vehicle is being operated on gasoline blended with ethanol.

5. Assist the director in employing the professional, technical, clerical and secretarial staff for the department and maintain employee records, in cooperation with the department of personnel and provide personnel services, including but not limited to training, safety education and employee counseling.

6. Assist the director in co-ordinating the responsibilities and duties of the various divisions within the department.

7. Carry out all other general administrative duties for the department.

8. Perform such other duties and responsibilities as may be assigned by the director.

The administrator of administrative services may purchase items from the department of general services and may co-operate with the director of general services by providing centralized purchasing services for the department of general services.

307.45 State-owned lands — assessment.

Cities and counties may assess the cost of a public improvement against the state when the improvement benefits property owned by the state and under the jurisdiction and control of the department’s administrator of highways. The director shall pay from the primary road fund the portion of the cost of the improvement which would be legally assessable against the land if privately owned.

Assessments against property under the jurisdiction of the department’s administrator of highways shall be made in the same manner as those made against private property, except that the city or county making the assessment shall cause a copy of the public notice of hearing to be mailed to the director by certified mail.

Assessments against property owned by the state and not under the jurisdiction and control of the department’s administrator of highways shall be made in the same manner as those made against private property and payment shall be made by the executive council from any funds of the state not otherwise appropriated.

However, an assessment in excess of sixty thousand dollars in effect on or after December 1, 1990, is not valid unless it is provided for or contained within a capital appropriation by the general assembly.

CHAPTER 307B
RAILWAY FINANCE AUTHORITY

307B.23 Special railroad facility fund.
1. There is created in the office of the state treasurer a "special railroad facility fund". This fund shall include moneys which by law may be credited to the special railroad facility fund. The moneys in the special railroad facility fund are appropriated to and for the purposes of the authority as provided in this chapter. The funds in the special railroad facility fund shall not be considered as a part of the general fund of the state, are not subject to appropriation for any other purpose by the general assembly, and in determining a general fund balance shall not be included in the general fund of the state but shall remain in the special railroad facility fund to be used for the purposes set forth in this section. The treasurer of state shall act as custodian of the fund and disburse amounts contained in it as directed by the authority. The treasurer of state is authorized to invest the funds deposited in the special railroad facility fund at the direction of the authority and subject to any limitations contained in the bond proceedings. The income from the investment shall be credited to and deposited in the special railroad facility fund. This fund shall be administered by the authority and may be used to purchase or upgrade railroad right-of-way and trackage facilities or to purchase general or limited partnership interests in a partnership formed to purchase, upgrade, or operate railroad right-of-way and trackage facilities, to pay or secure obligations issued by the authority, to pay obligations, judgments, or debts for which the authority becomes liable in its capacity as a general partner, or for any other use authorized under this chapter. The fund may also be used to purchase or upgrade railroad right-of-way and trackage facilities for the development of railroad passenger tourism.

2. Moneys received from repayment from heartland rail corporation as provided in 1983 Iowa Acts, chapter 198, section 32, as amended by 1987 Iowa Acts, chapter 232, section 28, and 1988 Iowa Acts, chapter 1211, section 6, shall be deposited in a separate account within the special railroad facility fund and shall be used by the authority only for debt service or rehabilitation on branch rail lines whose total projected traffic is at least fifty percent agricultural products.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307B.7, subsection 14, and section 307B.26 and other provisions of law directing that moneys be deposited into the special railroad facility fund and directing that moneys in the fund be appropriated for purposes of the authority, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all moneys directed to be deposited in the fund shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and during that period moneys received under subsection 2 are appropriated to the authority for purposes of subsection 2 and other moneys appropriated to the authority may be used for purposes of this section.

Restrictions on use of moneys deposited in state general fund, see 91 Acts, ch 260, §1222 HF 173

NEW subsection 3

CHAPTER 309
SECONDARY ROADS

309.10 Use of farm-to-market road fund.
Notwithstanding section 310.4, if the board of supervisors of a county does not plan to utilize its farm-to-market road fund allocation for the succeeding fiscal year for farm-to-market projects, the board may annually, by stipulation in the secondary road construction program and secondary road budget submitted to the department in accordance with sections 309.22 and 309.93, determine an amount of the unobligated portion of its allocation, up to a maximum of fifty percent of its anticipated total annual allocation, for the construction and reconstruction of local secondary roads. However, moneys from the farm-to-market road fund shall not be so used if the moneys are needed to match federal funds available for farm-to-market road projects.

A county shall not use farm-to-market road funds as described in this section unless the total funds that the county transferred or provided during the prior fiscal year pursuant to section 331.429, subsec-

1. From the general fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of sixteen and seven-eighths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property in the county.

2. From the rural services fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of three dollars and three-eighths of a cent per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property not located within the corporate limits of a city in the county.

309.40 Advertisement and letting.
All contracts for road or bridge construction work and materials for which the engineer’s estimate exceeds fifty thousand dollars, except surfacing materials obtained from local pits or quarries, shall be advertised and let at a public letting.

309.42 Review of road, bridge or culvert contracts.
Contracts for road, bridge or culvert construction work which, according to the engineer’s estimate, involve a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars in the aggregate shall be first reviewed by the department to assure compliance with this chapter before the contracts are effective.

CHAPTER 312
ROAD USE TAX FUND

Allocations from fund.
The treasurer of the state shall, on the first day of each month, credit all road use tax funds which have been received by the treasurer, to the primary road fund, the secondary road fund of the counties, the farm-to-market road fund, and the street construction fund of cities in the following manner and amounts:

1. To the primary road fund, forty-seven and one-half percent.

2. To the secondary road fund of the counties, twenty-four and one-half percent.

3. To the farm-to-market road fund, eight percent.

4. To the street construction fund of the cities, twenty percent.

5. The treasurer of state shall before making the above allotments credit annually to the highway grade crossing safety fund the sum of seven hundred thousand dollars, credit annually from the road use tax fund the sum of nine hundred thousand dollars to the highway railroad grade crossing surface repair fund, credit monthly to the primary road fund the dollars yielded from an allotment of sixty-five hundredths of one percent of all road use tax funds for the express purpose of carrying out subsection 11 of section 307A.2, section 313.4, subsection 2, and section 307.45, and credit annually to the primary road fund the sum of five hundred thousand dollars to be used for paying expenses incurred by the state department of transportation other than expenses incurred for extensions of primary roads in cities. All unobligated funds provided by this subsection, except those funds credited to the highway grade crossing safety fund, shall at the end of each year revert to the road use tax fund. Funds in the highway grade crossing safety fund shall not revert to the road use tax fund except to the extent they exceed five hundred thousand dollars at the end of any biennium. The cost of each highway railroad grade crossing repair project shall be allocated in the following manner:

a. Twenty percent of the project cost shall be paid by the railroad company.

b. Twenty percent of the project cost shall be paid by the highway authority having jurisdiction of the road crossing the railroad.

c. Sixty percent of the project cost shall be paid from the highway railroad grade crossing surface repair fund.

6. The treasurer of state shall before making the allotments provided for in this section credit monthly to the state department of transportation funds sufficient in amount to pay the costs of purchasing certificate of title and registration forms, and supplies and materials and for the cost of prison labor used in manufacturing motor vehicle registration plates, decalcomania emblems, and validation stickers at the prison industries.

7. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided in this section, shall credit annually to the primary road fund from the road use tax fund the sum of seven million one hundred thousand dollars.

8. The treasurer of state, before making any allotments to counties under this section, shall reduce the allotment to a county for the secondary road fund by the amount by which the total funds that the county transferred or provided during the prior fiscal year under section 331.429, subsection 1, paragraphs “a”, “b”, “d”, and “e”, are less than seventy-five percent of the sum of the following:

a. From the general fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of sixteen and seven-eighths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property not located within the corporate limits of a city in the county.

b. From the rural services fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of three dollars and three-eighths of a cent per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property not located within the corporate limits of a city in the county.

Funds remaining in the secondary road fund of the counties due to a reduction of allocations to counties for failure to maintain a minimum local tax effort shall be reallocated to counties that are not reduced under this subsection pursuant to the allocation provisions of section 312.3, subsection 1, based upon the needs and area of the county. Information necessary to make allocations under this subsection shall be provided by the state department of transportation or the director of the department of management upon request by the treasurer of state.

9. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit annually to the living roadway trust fund created under section 314.21 one hundred fifty thousand dollars from the road use tax fund.

10. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided in this section, shall credit annually to the primary road fund from the road use tax fund the sum of five thousand dollars to be used by the state department of transportation for payment of expenses authorized under section 306.6, subsection 2. The expense allowance shall be in accordance with the established expense reimbursement policy for employees of the state department of transportation. All unobligated funds shall at the end of each fiscal year revert to the road use tax fund.

11. The treasurer of state, before making the other allotments provided for in this section, shall credit annually to the primary road fund from the road use tax fund the sum of four million four hundred thousand dollars and to the farm-to-market road fund from the road use tax fund the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars for partial compensation of allowing trucks to operate on the roads of this state as provided in section 321.463.

12. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit annually to the living roadway trust fund created under section 314.21 one hundred thousand dollars from the road use tax fund.

13. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit annually to the department of justice from revenues credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, an amount equal to twenty-five cents on each title issuance for motor vehicle fraud law enforcement and prosecution purposes including, but not limited to, the enforcement of state and federal odometer laws.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection directing that twenty-five cents on each title issuance be annually credited to the department of justice for deposit into the motor vehicle fraud account, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, the twenty-five cents on each title issuance shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

14. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit monthly from the road use tax fund to the revitalize Iowa's sound economy fund, created under section 315.2, the revenue accruing to the road use tax fund in the amount equal to the revenues collected under each of the following:

a. From the excise tax on motor fuel and special fuel imposed under the tax rate of section 324.3 except aviation gasoline, the amount of excise tax collected from one and eleven-twentieths cents per gallon.

b. From the excise tax on special fuel for diesel engines, the amount of excise tax collected from one and eleven-twentieths cents per gallon.

14A. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit monthly from the road use tax fund to the secondary road fund the revenue accruing to the road use tax fund in the amount equal to the revenues collected under each of the following:

a. From the excise tax on motor fuel and special fuel imposed under the tax rate of section 324.3 except aviation gasoline, the amount of excise tax collected from nine-twentieths cent per gallon.

b. From the excise tax on special fuel for diesel engines, the amount of excise tax collected from nine-twentieths cent per gallon.

15. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit monthly from the road use tax fund to the public transit assistance fund, created under section 601J.6, from revenue credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, an amount equal to one-twentieth of the revenue credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph “c”.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection directing that one-twentieth of the revenue credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, be deposited into the public transit assistance fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, such amount shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. There is appropriated from the general fund of the state for each fiscal year to the state department of transportation the amount of revenues credited to the general fund of the state during the fiscal year under this subsection to be used for purposes of public transit assistance under chapter 601J.
16. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit monthly from the road use tax fund to the state department of transportation for county, city and state traffic safety improvement projects an amount equal to one-half of one percent of moneys credited to the road use tax fund.

17. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit monthly from the road use tax fund to the motorcycle rider education fund established in section 321.189, subsection 9, an amount equal to one dollar per year of license validity for each issued or renewed motor vehicle license which is valid for the operation of a motorcycle. Moneys credited to the motorcycle rider education fund under this subsection shall be taken from moneys credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24.

18. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit annually from the revenue to be credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph "b", the sum of one million dollars to the state department of transportation for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, and improving recreational trails within the state. Unobligated portions of this allotment shall remain available to the state department of transportation for the purposes for which the funds are originally allocated. The state department of transportation shall adopt rules under chapter 17A to establish procedures for the expenditure of the funds allotted under this subsection.

19. a. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and each succeeding fiscal year, credit from the road use tax fund two million dollars to the county bridge construction fund, which is hereby created. Moneys credited to the county bridge construction fund shall be allocated to counties by the department for bridge construction and reconstruction based on needs in accordance with rules adopted by the department.

b. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and each succeeding fiscal year, credit from the road use tax fund five hundred thousand dollars to the city bridge construction fund, which is hereby created. Moneys credited to the city bridge construction fund shall be allocated to cities by the department for bridge construction and reconstruction based on needs in accordance with rules adopted by the department.

21. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section, shall credit annually from the road use tax fund to the state department of transportation the sum of six hundred fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of providing county treasurers with data processing equipment and support for vehicle registration and titling. Notwithstanding section 8.33, unobligated funds credited under this subsection remaining on June 30 of the fiscal year shall not revert but shall remain available for expenditure for purposes of this subsection in subsequent fiscal years.

22. The treasurer of state, before making the allotments provided for in this section shall, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, credit from the revenues otherwise to be credited to the road use tax fund under section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph "c", the sum of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars to the state department of transportation to be used for providing assistance for the restoration, conservation, improvement, and construction of railroad main lines, branch lines, switching yards, and sidings as required in section 327H.18, for use by the railway finance authority as provided in chapter 307B, for airport engineering studies and improvement projects as provided for in chapter 328, and for essential air service airports. However, the amount transferred shall not be used unless authorized by the transportation commission. All unexpended funds from this appropriation shall revert to the road use tax fund. To authorize any such use, the commission must find that one or more of the following conditions exist as sole and sufficient justification for use of this appropriation:

a. The funds may be used to match federal funds that cannot otherwise be matched due to lack of available state matching moneys, when such federal funds are or may be made available to the state. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 8.33, all funds obligated for match of federal funds shall remain available until expended or no longer needed for matching purposes, at which time they shall be reverted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

b. Unforeseen emergencies or circumstances arise, after the transportation commission has adopted an annual program of projects, that would require the elimination of an approved project, provided that such projects would otherwise be eligible for expenditure.

312.3 Apportionment to counties and cities.

The treasurer of state shall, on the first day of each month:

1. Apportion among the counties in the ratio that the needs of the secondary roads of each county bear to the total needs of the secondary roads of the state for each fiscal year based upon the total needs of secondary roads of the state as shown in the latest quadrennial need study report developed by the state department of transportation, and which is on record at the department, seventy percent of the allocation from road use tax funds which is credited to the secondary road fund of the counties, and apportion among the counties in the ratio that the area of each county bears to the total area of the state, thirty percent of the allocation from road use tax funds which is credited to the secondary road fund of the counties. However, in a fiscal year each county is guaranteed a hold harmless base year amount. The amount in the secondary road fund of the counties in each fiscal year in excess of the sum of the hold harmless base year amounts allocated to all counties shall be distributed proportionally based on the relative needs and area factors to only those counties entitled to receive more than the hold harmless base year amount.

For the purposes of this subsection

a “Base period” means the three-year period ending June 30, 1989.

b “Local effort” means the ratio expressed as a percent of the total funds that the county transferred or provided during the base period pursuant to section 331-429, subsection 1, paragraphs “a”, “b”, “d”, and “e”, to the sum of the following

1. From the general fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of sixteen and seven-eighths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property in the county.

2. From the rural services fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of three dollars and three-eighths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property not located within the corporate limits of a city in the county.

3. “Old formula amount” means the amount of moneys the county would receive if the apportionment to the county under this section was apportioned among the counties in the ratio that the needs of the secondary roads of each county bear to the total needs of the secondary roads of the state as shown by the latest quadrennial need study by the state department of transportation, and which is on record at the department, sixty percent of the allocation from road use tax funds which is credited to the secondary road fund of the counties, and apportioned among the counties in the ratio that the area of each county bears to the total area of the state, forty percent of the allocation from road use tax funds which is credited to the secondary road fund of the counties.

4. (1) The “hold harmless base year amount” for a county for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1990, is determined by the county’s local effort in accordance with the following table:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>LOCAL EFFORT</th>
<th>HOLD HARMLESS BASE YEAR AMOUNT</th>

(2) The “hold harmless base year amount” for a county for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1991, and for each succeeding fiscal year, is the product of the county’s hold harmless base year amount in the immediately preceding fiscal year times the sum of one plus one-half of the estimated increase in secondary road fund moneys in the fiscal year expressed as a fraction. Prior to June 30 of each year, the department shall prepare and deliver to the treasurer of state an estimate of the increase of secondary road fund moneys for the next fiscal year to be used in determining the hold harmless base year amount under this subsection

2. Apportion among the cities of the state, in the ratio which the population of each city, as shown by the latest available federal census, bears to the total population of all such cities in the state, the percentage of the road use tax funds which is credited to the street fund of the cities, and shall remit to the city clerk of each such city the amount so apportioned to such city. A city may have one special federal census taken each decade, and the population figure thus obtained shall be used in apportioning amounts under this subsection beginning the calendar year following the year in which the special census is certified by the secretary of state.

3. In any case where a city has been incorporated since the latest available federal census the mayor and council shall certify to the state treasurer the actual population of such incorporated city as of the date of incorporation and its apportionment of funds under this section shall be based upon such certification until the next federal census enumeration. Any community which has dissolved its corporation shall not receive any apportionment of funds under this certificate for any period after said corporation has been dissolved.

4. In any case where a city has annexed any territory since the last available federal census or special federal census, the mayor and council shall certify to the treasurer of state the actual population of such annexed territory as determined by the last certified federal census of said territory and the apportionment of funds under this section shall be based upon the population of said city as modified by the certification of the population of the annexed territory until the next federal or special federal census enumeration.
5 In any case where two or more cities have consolidated, the apportionment of funds under this section shall be based upon the population of the city resulting from said consolidation and shall be determined by combining the population of all cities involved in the consolidation as determined by the last available federal or special federal census enumeration for said consolidating city.

1 The road use tax funds credited to the farm-to-market road fund and federal aid secondary road funds received by the state by the treasurer of state are hereby divided as follows, and are to be known respectively as:

a Need allotment farm-to-market road funds, seventy percent, and b Area allotment farm-to-market road funds, thirty percent.

2 All farm-to-market road funds, except funds which under section 310 20 come from any county's allotment of the road use tax funds, shall be allotted among the counties by the department.

3 Area allotment farm-to-market road funds shall be allotted among all the counties of the state in the ratio that the area of each county bears to the total area of the whole state.

4 Need allotment farm-to-market road funds shall be allotted among the counties in the ratio that the needs of the farm-to-market roads in each county bear to the total needs of the farm-to-market roads in the state for each fiscal year based upon the total needs of the farm-to-market roads in the state as shown in the latest quadrennial need study report developed by the state department of transportation, and which is on record at the department.

5 Notwithstanding subsections 1 through 4, in a fiscal year each county is guaranteed a hold harmless base year amount. The amount of farm-to-market road funds in each fiscal year in excess of the sum of the hold harmless base year amounts allocated to all counties shall be distributed proportionally based on the relative needs and area factors to only those counties entitled to receive more than the hold harmless base year amount.

For the purposes of this subsection

a "Base period" means the three-year period ending June 30, 1989.

b "Local effort" means the ratio expressed as a percent of the total funds that the county transferred or provided during the base period pursuant to section 331 429, subsection 1, paragraphs "a", "b", "d", and "e", to the sum of the following:

1 From the general fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of sixteen and seven-eighths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property in the county.

2 From the rural services fund of the county, the dollar equivalent of a tax of three dollars and three-eighths of a cent per thousand dollars of assessed value on all taxable property not located within the corporate limits of a city in the county.

c "Old formula amount" means the amount of moneys the county would receive if the apportionment to the county under this section was apportioned among the counties with the federal aid secondary road funds being apportioned by one hundred percent area allotment and the road use tax funds credited to the farm-to-market road fund apportioned to the counties with a sixty percent need allotment and forty percent area allotment.

d (1) The "hold harmless base year amount" for a county for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1990, is determined by the county's local effort in accordance with the following table:

CHAPTER 313
IMPROVEMENT OF PRIMARY ROADS

313.2A Commercial and industrial highways.
1. Purpose  It is the purpose of this section to enhance opportunities for the development and diversification of the state's economy through the identification and improvement of a network of commercial and industrial highways. The network shall consist of interconnected routes which provide long distance route continuity. The purpose of this highway network shall be to improve the flow of commerce; to make travel more convenient, safe, and efficient; and to better connect Iowa with regional, national, and international markets. The commission shall concentrate a major portion of its annual construction budget on this network of commercial and industrial highways. In order to ensure the greatest possible availability of funds for the improvement of the network, primary highway funds shall not be spent beyond continuing maintenance for improvements to route segments that will be bypassed by the relocation of portions of the commercial and industrial highway network.

2. Network selection  The commission shall identify, within the primary road system, a network of commercial and industrial highways. The commission shall consider all of the following factors in the identification of this network:
   a. The connection by the most direct routes feasible of major urban areas and regions of the state to each other and to the national system of interstate and defense highways and priority routes in adjacent states.
   b. The existence of high volumes of total traffic and commercial traffic.
   c. Long distance traffic movements.
   d. Area coverage and balance of spacing with service to major growth centers within the state.
   e. Metropolitan area bypasses consistent with metropolitan or regional area plans established through cooperation by the department and local officials.

   The network of commercial and industrial highways shall not exceed two thousand five hundred miles including municipal extensions of these highways.

3. Standards  The department shall establish standards pertaining to the specific location, design, and access control for each segment of the commercial and industrial highways.

4. Network development  In establishing priorities for improvement projects, the department shall take into consideration the following additional criteria: urban area bypasses that improve urban or regional accessibility or improve corridor travel; projects consistent with regional or metropolitan transportation plans established through cooperation by the department and local officials; and the willingness of local officials to provide financial or other assistance for the development of projects.

CHAPTER 314
GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS FOR HIGHWAYS

314.21 Living roadway trust fund.
1. The living roadway trust fund is created in the office of the treasurer of state. The moneys in this fund shall be used exclusively for the development and implementation of integrated roadside vegetation plans. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 3, the moneys shall only be expended for areas on or adjacent to road, street, and highway right-of-ways. The state department of transportation in consultation with the department of natural resources shall establish standards relating to the type of projects available for assistance. For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1988, and ending March 31, 1990, the moneys in the fund shall be expended as follows: fifty-six percent on state department of transportation projects; thirty percent on county projects; and fourteen percent on city projects.

A city or county which has a project which qualifies for the use of these funds shall submit a request for the funds to the state department of transportation. A city or county may, at its option, apply monies allocated for use on city or county projects under this subsection toward qualifying projects on the primary system. The state department of transportation in consultation with the department of natural resources shall determine which projects qualify for the funds and which projects shall be funded if the requests for the funds exceed the availability of the funds. In ranking applications for funds, the department shall consider the proportion of political subdivision matching funds to be provided, if any, and the proportion of private contributions to be provided, if any. In considering the proportion of political subdivision matching funds provided, the department shall consider only those moneys which are in addition to those which the political subdivision has historically provided toward such projects. Funds allocated to the cities, the counties, and the department which are not programmed by the end of each fiscal year shall be available for redistribution to any eligible applicant regardless of the original allocation of funds. Such funds shall be awarded for eligible projects based upon their merit in meeting the program objectives established by the department under section 314.22. The department shall submit a report of all projects funded in the previous fiscal year to the governor and to the general assembly on January 15 of each year.

Beginning April 1, 1990, the moneys in the living roadway trust fund shall be allocated between the state, counties, and cities in the same proportion that the road use tax funds are allocated under section 312.2, subsections 1, 2, 3, and 4. However, after April 1, 1990, a city or county shall not be eligible to receive moneys from the living roadway trust fund unless the city or county has an integrated roadside vegetation management plan in place consistent with the objectives in section 314.22.

2. a. The department may authorize projects which provide grants or loans to local governments and organizations which are developing community entryway enhancement and other planting demonstration projects. Planning, public education, installation, and initial maintenance planning and development may be determined by the department to be eligible activities for funding under this paragraph. Projects approved under this paragraph require a local match or contribution toward the overall project cost.

b. The department may authorize projects which provide grants or loans to local governments for the purchase of specialized equipment and special staff training for the establishment of alternative forms of roadside vegetation. Projects approved under this paragraph require a local match or contribution toward the overall project cost.

c. The department, in order to create greater visual effect, shall investigate alternatives for concentrating plantings at strategic locations to gain a greater visual impact and appeal as well as stronger scenic value. Equal attention shall be given to providing safe and effective habitats for wildlife which can coexist with highways.

d. The department may authorize projects which provide grants or loans to local jurisdictions for increased protection through the use of easements, fee title acquisition, covenants, zoning ordinances, or other provisions for protection of vegetation and desirable environment adjacent to the right-of-way. Off-right-of-way projects shall emphasize vegetation protection or enhancement, scenic and wildlife values, erosion control and enhancement of vegetation management projects within the right-of-ways.

3. a. Moneys allocated to the state under subsection 1 shall be expended as follows:

(1) Fifty thousand dollars annually for the department for the services of the integrated roadside vegetation management coordinator and support.

(2) One hundred thousand dollars annually for education programs, research and demonstration projects, and vegetation inventories and strategies, under section 314.22, subsections 5, 6, and 8.

(3) All remaining moneys for the gateways program under section 314.22, subsection 7.

b. Moneys allocated to the counties under subsection 1 shall be expended as follows:
§314.21

(1) For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1989, and ending June 30, 1993, fifty thousand dollars in each fiscal year to the university of northern Iowa to maintain the position of the state roadside specialist and to continue its integrated roadside vegetation management pilot program providing research, education, training, and technical assistance.

(2) All remaining money for grants or loans under subsection 2, paragraph “a”.

c. Moneys allocated to the cities shall be expended for grants or loans under subsection 2, paragraph “a”.

CHAPTER 317
WEEDS

317.25 Teasel, multiflora rose, and purple loosestrife prohibited — exceptions.

A person shall not sell, offer for sale, or distribute teasel (Dipsacus biennial), the multiflora rose (rosa multiflora), purple loosestrife (lythrum salicaria), or seeds of them in any form in this state. However, this section does not prohibit the sale, offer for sale, or distribution of the multiflora rose (rosa multiflora) used for understock for either cultivated roses or ornamental shrubs in gardens. This section also does not prohibit the sale, offer for sale, or distribution of varieties of the purple loosestrife (lythrum virgatum) when used for ornamental gardens, and which are sterile or nonaggressive according to a list published by the state weed commissioner pursuant to chapter 17 A. A person engaged in the business of selling purple loosestrife shall keep accurate records, as specified by the department of agriculture and land stewardship, of each variety of purple loosestrife sold, offered for sale, or distributed. The person shall allow the department of agriculture and land stewardship to inspect the records during regular business hours. Any person violating the provisions of this section is subject to a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars.

OBSTRUCTIONS IN HIGHWAYS

319.14 Permit required.

A person shall not excavate, fill, or make a physical change within the right-of-way of a public road or highway without obtaining a permit from the highway authority having jurisdiction of the public road or highway. Work performed under the permit shall be performed in conformity with the specifications prescribed by the highway authority. If the excavation, fill, or physical change within the right-of-way of a public road or highway does not conform to the specifications that accompany the permit the person shall be notified to make such conforming changes.

If after twenty days the changes have not been made, the public road or highway authority may make the necessary changes and immediately send a statement of the cost to the responsible person. If within thirty days after sending the statement the cost is not paid, the highway authority may institute proceedings in the district court to collect the cost of correction. Except as provided in section 306A.3, utility companies are exempted from the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER 321
MOTOR VEHICLES AND LAW OF THE ROAD

321.1 Definitions of words and phrases.
The following words and phrases when used in this chapter shall, for the purpose of this chapter, have the meanings respectively ascribed to them.
1. “Vehicle” means every device in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway. “Vehicle” does not include:
   a. Any device moved by human power.
   b. Any device used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks.
   c. Any integral part of a truck tractor or road tractor which is mounted on the frame of the truck tractor or road tractor immediately behind the cab and which may be used to transport persons and property but which cannot be drawn upon the highway by the truck tractor or another motor vehicle.
   d. Any steering axle, dolly, auxiliary axle or other integral part of another vehicle which in and of itself is incapable of commercially transporting any person or property but is used primarily to support another vehicle.

2. a. “Motor vehicle” means a vehicle which is self-propelled, but not including vehicles known as trackless trolleys which are propelled by electric power obtained from overhead trolley wires and are not operated upon rails.
   b. “Used motor vehicle” or “secondhand motor vehicle” or “used car” means a motor vehicle of a type subject to registration under the laws of this state which has been sold “at retail” as defined in chapter 322 and previously registered in this or any other state.
   c. “New car” means a car which has not been sold “at retail” as defined in chapter 322.
   d. “Car” or “automobile” means a motor vehicle designed primarily for carrying nine passengers or less, excluding motorcycles and motorized bicycles.

3. a. “Motorcycle” means every motor vehicle having a saddle or seat for the use of the rider and designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground including a motor scooter but excluding a tractor and a motorized bicycle.
   b. “Motorized bicycle” or “motor bicycle” means a motor vehicle having a saddle or a seat for the use of a rider and designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, with an engine having a displacement no greater than fifty cubic centimeters and not capable of operating at a speed in excess of twenty-five miles per hour on level ground unassisted by human power.
   c. “Bicycle” means a device having two wheels and having at least one saddle or seat for the use of a rider which is propelled by human power.

4. “Motor truck” means every motor vehicle designed primarily for carrying livestock, merchandise, freight of any kind, or over nine persons as passengers.

5. “Light delivery truck,” “panel delivery truck” or “pickup” means any motor vehicle designed to carry merchandise or freight of any kind, not to exceed two thousand pounds.

6. “Truck tractor” means every motor vehicle designed and used primarily for drawing other vehicles and not so constructed as to carry a load other than a part of the weight of the vehicle and load so drawn.

7. “Farm tractor” means every motor vehicle designed and used primarily as a farm implement for drawing plows, mowing machines, and other implements of husbandry.

8. “Road tractor” means every motor vehicle designed and used for drawing other vehicles and not so constructed as to carry any load thereon either independently or any part of the weight of a vehicle or load so drawn.

9. “Trailer” means every vehicle without motive power designed for carrying persons or property and for being drawn by a motor vehicle and so constructed that no part of its weight rests upon the towing vehicle.

10. “Semitrailer” means every vehicle without motive power designed for carrying persons or property and for being drawn by a motor vehicle and so constructed that some part of its weight rests upon the towing vehicle.

Wherever the word “trailer” is used in this chapter, same shall be construed to also include “semitrailer.”

A “semitrailer” shall be considered in this chapter separately from its power unit.

11. “Trailer coach” means either a trailer or semitrailer designed for carrying persons.

12. “Specially constructed vehicle” means every vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder not originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model, or type by a generally recognized manufacturer of vehicles and not materially altered from its original construction.

13. “Reconstructed vehicle” means every vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder materially altered from its original construction by the removal, addition, or substitution of essential parts, new or used.
14. "Essential parts" mean all integral and body parts of a vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder, the removal, alteration, or substitution of which would tend to conceal the identity of the vehicle or substantially alter its appearance, model, type, or mode of operation.

15. "Foreign vehicle" means every vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder brought into this state from another state, territory, or country other than in the ordinary course of business by or through a manufacturer or dealer and not registered in this state.

16. "Implement of husbandry" means every vehicle which is designed for agricultural purposes and exclusively used, except as herein otherwise provided, by the owner thereof in the conduct of the owner’s agricultural operations. Implements of husbandry shall also include:

a. Portable livestock loading chutes without regard to whether such chutes are used by the owner in the conduct of the owner’s agricultural operations, provided, that such chutes are not used as a vehicle on the highway for the purpose of transporting property.

b. Any vehicle which is principally designed for agricultural purposes and which is moved during daylight hours for a distance not to exceed one hundred miles by a person either:
   (1) From a place at which the vehicles are manufactured, fabricated, repaired, or sold to a farm site or a retail seller or from a retail seller to a farm site;
   (2) To a place at which the vehicles are manufactured, fabricated, repaired, or sold from a farm site or a retail seller or to a farm site;
   (3) From one farm site to another farm site.

For the purpose of this subsection and sections 321.383 and 321.453, "farm site" means a place or location at which vehicles principally designed for agricultural purposes are used or intended to be used in agricultural operations or for the purpose of exhibiting, demonstrating, testing, or experimenting with the vehicles.

c. Any semitrailer converted to a full trailer by the use of a dolly used by the owner in the conduct of the owner’s agricultural operations to transport agricultural products being towed by a farm tractor provided the vehicle is operated in compliance with the following requirements:
   (1) The towing unit is equipped with a braking device which can control the movement of and stop the vehicles. When the semitrailer is being towed at a speed of twenty miles per hour, the braking device shall be adequate to stop the vehicles within fifty feet from the point the brakes are applied. The semitrailer shall be equipped with brakes upon all wheels.
   (2) The towing vehicle shall be equipped with a rear view mirror to permit the operator a view of the highway for a distance of at least two hundred feet to the rear.
   (3) The semitrailer shall be equipped with a turn signal device which operates in conjunction with or separately from the rear taillight and shall be plainly visible from a distance of one hundred feet.

(4) The semitrailer shall be equipped with two flashing amber lights one on each side of the rear of the vehicle and be plainly visible for a distance of five hundred feet in normal sunlight or at night.

(5) The semitrailer shall be operated in compliance with sections 321.123 and 321.463.

17. "Special mobile equipment" means every vehicle not designed or used primarily for the transportation of persons or property and incidentally operated or moved over the highways, but not including road construction or maintenance machinery and ditch-digging apparatus. This description does not exclude other vehicles which are within the general terms of this subsection.

18. "Pneumatic tire" means every tire in which compressed air is designed to support the load.

19. "Solid tire" means every tire of rubber or other resilient material which does not depend upon compressed air for the support of the load.

20. "Metal tire" means every tire the surface of which in contact with the highway is wholly or partly of metal or other hard, nonresilient material.

21. "Where a vehicle is kept" shall refer to the county of residence of the owner or to the county where the vehicle is mainly kept if said owner is a nonresident of the state.
22. "Garage" means every place of business where motor vehicles are received for housing, storage, or repair for compensation.

23. "Combination" or "combination of vehicles" shall be construed to mean a group consisting of two or more motor vehicles, or a group consisting of a motor vehicle and one or more trailers, semitrailers or vehicles, which are coupled or fastened together for the purpose of being moved on the highways as a unit.

24. "Gross weight" means the empty weight of a vehicle plus the maximum load to be carried by the vehicle. The maximum load to be carried by a passenger-carrying vehicle shall be determined by multiplying one hundred fifty pounds by the number of passenger seats carried by such vehicle.

b. "Unladen weight" means the weight of a vehicle or vehicle combination without load.

c. "Gross vehicle weight rating" means the weight specified by the manufacturer as the loaded weight of a single vehicle.

25. a. "Combined gross weight" means the gross weight of a combination of vehicles.

b. "Gross combination weight rating" means the combined weights specified by the manufacturer as the loaded weight of each vehicle in a combination of vehicles. In the absence of a weight specified by the manufacturer for a towed vehicle, the gross vehicle weight rating of the towed vehicle shall be its gross weight.

26. "Authorized emergency vehicle" means vehicles of the fire department, police vehicles, ambulances and emergency vehicles owned by the United States, this state or any subdivision of this state or any municipality of this state, and privately owned ambulances, and fire, rescue or disaster vehicles as are designated or authorized by the director of transportation under section 321.451.

27. "School bus" means every vehicle operated for the transportation of children to or from school, except vehicles which are: (a) Privately owned and not operated for compensation, (b) Used exclusively in the transportation of the children in the immediate family of the driver, (c) Operated by a municipally or privately owned urban transit company for the transportation of children as part of or in addition to their regularly scheduled service, or (d) Designed to carry not more than nine persons as passengers, either school owned or privately owned, which are used to transport pupils to activity events in which the pupils are participants or used to transport pupils to their homes in case of illness or other emergency situations. The vehicles operated under the provisions of paragraph "d" of this section shall be operated by employees of the school district who are specifically approved by the local superintendent of schools for the assignment.

28. "Railroad" means a carrier of persons or property upon cars operated upon stationary rails.

29. "Railroad train" means an engine or locomotive with or without cars coupled thereto, operated upon rails.

30. "Railroad corporation" means any corporation organized under the laws of this state or any other state for the purpose of operating the railroad within this state.

31. "Hazardous material" means a substance or material which has been determined by the United States secretary of transportation to be capable of posing an unreasonable risk to health, safety, and property when transported in commerce, and which has been so designated.

32. "Commercial vehicle" means a vehicle or combination of vehicles designed principally to transport passengers or property of any kind if any of the following apply: a. The vehicle or any combination of vehicles has a gross weight or combined gross weight of ten thousand one or more pounds.

b. The vehicle or any combination of vehicles has a gross vehicle weight rating or gross combination weight rating of ten thousand one or more pounds.

c. The vehicle is designed to transport sixteen or more persons, including the driver.

d. The vehicle is used in the transportation of hazardous material of a type or quantity requiring vehicle placarding.

33. "Department" means the state department of transportation. "Commission" means the state transportation commission.

34. "Director" means the director of the state department of transportation or the director's designee.

35. "Person" means every natural person, firm, copartnership, association, or corporation. Where the term "person" is used in connection with the registration of a motor vehicle, it shall include any corporation, association, copartnership, company, firm, or other aggregation of individuals which owns or controls such motor vehicle as actual owner, or for the purpose of sale or for renting, whether as agent, salesperson, or otherwise.

36. "Owner" means a person who holds the legal title of a vehicle, or in the event a vehicle is the subject of a security agreement with an immediate right of possession vested in the debtor, then such debtor shall be deemed the owner for the purpose of this chapter.

37. "Nonresident" means every person who is not a resident of this state.

38. "Dealer" means every person engaged in the business of buying, selling or exchanging vehicles of a type required to be registered hereunder and who has an established place of business for such purpose in this state.

39. "Transporter" means a person engaged in the business of delivering vehicles of a type required to be registered or titled in this state who has received authority to make delivery as specified by rules adopted by the department.

40. "Manufacturer" means every person engaged in the business of fabricating or assembling vehicles of a type required to be registered. It does not include a person who converts, modifies or alters a complet-
§321.1 438 ed motor vehicle manufactured by another person. It includes a person who uses a completed motor vehicle manufactured by another person to construct a class "B" motor home as defined in section 321.124.

"Completed motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle which does not require any additional manufacturing operations to perform its intended function except the addition of readily attachable equipment, components or minor finishing operations.

"Final stage manufacturer" means a person who performs such manufacturing operations on an incomplete vehicle that it becomes a completed vehicle. A final stage manufacturer shall furnish to the department a document which identifies that the vehicle was incomplete prior to that manufacturing operation. The identification shall include the name of the incomplete vehicle manufacturer, the date of manufacture, and the vehicle identification number to ascertain that the document applies to a particular incomplete vehicle.

"Incomplete vehicle" means an assemblage, as a minimum, consisting of a frame and chassis structure, power train, steering system, suspension system, and braking system, to the extent that those systems are to be a part of the completed vehicle, that requires further manufacturing operations, other than the addition of readily attachable equipment, components, or minor finishing operations.

41. "Established place of business" means the place actually occupied either continuously or at regular periods by a dealer or manufacturer where the dealer's or manufacturer's books and records are kept and a large share of the dealer's or manufacturer's business is transacted.

42. "Operator" or "driver" means every person who is in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon a highway.

43. "Chauffeur" means a person who operates a motor vehicle, including a school bus, in the transportation of persons for wages, compensation or hire, or a person who operates a truck tractor, road tractor or a motor truck which has a gross vehicle weight rating exceeding sixteen thousand pounds. A person is not a chauffeur when the operation of the motor vehicle, other than a truck tractor, by the owner or operator is occasional and merely incidental to the owner's or operator's principal business.

A person is not a chauffeur when the operation is by a volunteer fire fighter operating fire apparatus, or is by a volunteer ambulance or rescue squad attendant operating ambulance or rescue squad apparatus. If a volunteer fire fighter or ambulance or rescue squad operator receives nominal compensation not based upon the value of the services performed, the fire fighter or operator shall be considered to be receiving no compensation and classified as a volunteer.

If authorized to transport inmates, probationers, parolees, or work releasees by the director of the Iowa department of corrections or the director's designee, an employee of the Iowa department of corrections or a district department of correctional services is not a chauffeur when transporting the inmates, probationers, parolees, or work releasees.

A farmer or the farmer's hired help is not a chauffeur when operating a truck, other than a truck tractor, owned by the farmer and used exclusively in connection with the transportation of the farmer's own products or property.

If authorized to transport patients or clients by the director of the department of human services or the director's designee, an employee of the department of human services is not a chauffeur when transporting the patients or clients in an automobile.

44. Reserved.

45. "Peace officer" means every officer authorized to direct or regulate traffic or to make arrests for violations of traffic regulations in addition to its meaning in section 801.4.

46. "Local authorities" means every county, municipal, and other local board or body having authority to adopt local police regulations under the Constitution and laws of this state.

47. "Pedestrian" means any person afoot.

48. "Street" or "highway" means the entire width between property lines of every way or place of whatever nature when any part thereof is open to the use of the public, as a matter of right, for purposes of vehicular traffic.

49. "Private road" or "driveway" means every way or place in private ownership and used for vehicular travel by the owner and those having express or implied permission from the owner but not by other persons.

50. "Roadway" means that portion of a highway improved, designed, or ordinarily used for vehicular travel.

51. "Sidewalk" means that portion of a street between the curb lines, or the lateral lines of a roadway, and the adjacent property lines intended for the use of pedestrians.

52. "Laned highway" means a highway the roadbed is divided into three or more clearly marked lanes for vehicular traffic.

53. "Through (or thru) highway" means every highway or portion thereof at the entrances to which vehicular traffic from intersecting highways is required by law to stop before entering or crossing the same and when stop signs are erected as provided in this chapter or such entrances are controlled by a peace officer or traffic-control signal. The term "arterial" is synonymous with "through" or "thru" when applied to highways of this state.

54. "Intersection" means the area embraced within the prolongation or connection of the lateral curb lines, or, if none, then the lateral boundary lines of the roadways of two highways which join one another at, or approximately at, right angles, or the area within which vehicles traveling upon different highways joining at any other angle may come in conflict.

55. "Crosswalk" means that portion of a roadway ordinarily included within the prolongation or connection of the lateral lines of sidewalks at intersecttions, or, any portion of a roadway distinctly indicated for pedestrian crossing by lines or other markings on the surface.

80 "vehicle salvager" means a person engaged in the business of scrapping vehicles, dismantling or storing wrecked or damaged vehicles or selling reusable parts of vehicles or storing vehicles not currently registered which vehicles are subject to registration under this chapter.

81 "ambulance" means a motor vehicle which is equipped with life support systems and used to transport sick and injured persons who require emergency medical care to medical facilities.

82 "registration year" means the period of twelve consecutive months beginning on the first day of the month following the month of the birth of the owner of the vehicle for vehicles registered by the county treasurer and the calendar year for vehicles registered by the department or motor trucks and truck tractors with a combined gross weight exceeding five tons which are registered by the county treasurer.

83 "remanufactured vehicle" means every vehicle of a type required to be registered and having a gross vehicle weight rating of at least thirty thousand pounds that has been disassembled, resulting in the total separation of the major integral parts and which has been reassembled with those parts being replaced with new or rebuilt parts. In every instance, a new diesel engine and all new tires shall be installed and shall carry manufacturers' warranties.

Every vehicle shall include, but not be limited to, new or rebuilt component parts consisting of steering gear, clutch, transmission, differential, engine radiator, engine fan hub, engine starter, alternator, air compressor and cab. For purposes of this subsection, "rebuilt" means the replacement of any element of a component part which appears to limit the serviceability of the part. A minimum of twenty thousand dollars shall be expended on each vehicle and the expense must be verifiable by invoices, work orders, or other documentation as required by the department.

The department may establish equipment requirements and a vehicle inspection procedure for remanufactured vehicles. The department may establish a fee for the inspection of remanufactured vehicles not to exceed one hundred dollars for each vehicle inspected.

84 "alcohol concentration" means the number of grams of alcohol per any of the following:

- One hundred milliliters of blood
- Two hundred liters of breath
- Sixty-seven milliliters of urine

86 "all terrain vehicle" means a motor vehicle...
designed to travel on three or more wheels and designed primarily for off-road use but not including farm tractors, construction equipment, forestry vehicles or lawn and grounds maintenance vehicles.

94. "Tourist attraction" means a business, activity, service, or site where a major portion of the product or service provided is tourist oriented.

321.18A Records of implements of husbandry.

A person selling at retail new implements of husbandry with a retail list price in excess of five thousand dollars upon which the manufacturer has affixed a vehicle identification number, shall maintain for ten years a record of the number, the name and address of the purchaser, and the date of sale.

321.24 Issuance of registration and certificate of title.

Upon receipt of the application for title and payment of the required fees for a motor vehicle, trailer, or semitrailer, the county treasurer or the department shall, when satisfied as to the application's genuineness and regularity, and, in the case of a mobile home, that taxes are not owing under chapter 135D, issue a certificate of title and, except for a mobile home, a registration receipt, and shall file the application, the manufacturer's or importer's certificate, the certificate of title, or other evidence of ownership, as prescribed by the department. The registration receipt shall be delivered to the owner and shall contain upon its face the date issued, the name and address of the owner, the registration number assigned to the vehicle, the title number assigned to the owner of the vehicle, the amount of the fee paid, the amount of tax paid pursuant to section 423.7, the type of fuel used, and a description of the vehicle as determined by the department, and upon the reverse side a form for notice of transfer of the vehicle.

The county treasurer shall maintain in the county record system information contained on the registration receipt. The information shall be accessible by registration number and shall be open for public inspection during reasonable business hours. Copies the department requires shall be sent to the department in the manner and at the time the department directs.
The certificate of title shall contain upon its face the identical information required upon the face of the registration receipt. In addition, the certificate of title shall contain a statement of the owner's title, the amount of tax paid pursuant to section 423.7, the name and address of the previous owner, and a statement of all security interests and encumbrances as shown in the application, upon the vehicle described, including the nature of the security interest, date of notation, and name and address of the secured party. If the prior certificate of title was a salvage, rebuilt, or junking certificate of title in any other state, or if the prior certificate of title in any other state indicates that the vehicle was salvaged, rebuilt, or junked, the new certificate of title shall contain the same information together with the name of the state issuing the prior salvage, rebuilt, or junking certificate of title and a salvage, rebuilt, or junking designation together with the name of the state issuing the prior salvage, rebuilt, or junking certificate of title shall be retained on all subsequent Iowa certificates of title for the vehicle, except as provided in section 321.52. In the event a vehicle which previously had a salvage certificate of title from another state is repaired and a regular certificate of title is to be issued for it pursuant to section 321.52 without the designation rebuilt, the regular certificate of title shall indicate the state which had issued the prior salvage certificate of title in the same location in which Iowa certificates of title show the designation salvage or rebuilt, in addition to the name and address of the previous owner, in lieu of the salvage designation. The name of the state which had issued the prior salvage certificate of title shall remain in that location on every Iowa certificate of title issued thereafter for the vehicle. The department shall adopt rules to determine how other states' designations are to be indicated on Iowa titles.

The certificate shall bear the seal of the county treasurer or of the department, and the signature of the county treasurer, the deputy county treasurer, or the department director or deputy designee. The certificate shall provide space for the signature of the owner. The owner shall sign the certificate of title in the space provided with pen and ink upon its receipt. The certificate of title shall contain upon the reverse side a form for assignment of title or interest and warranty by the owner, for reassignments by a dealer licensed in this state or in another state if the state in which the dealer is licensed permits Iowa licensed dealers to similarly reassign certificates of title. Attached to the certificate of title shall be an application for a new certificate of title by the transferee as provided in this chapter. However, titles for mobile homes shall not be reassigned by licensed dealers. All certificates of title shall be typewritten or printed by other mechanical means. Notwithstanding section 321.1, subsection 38, as used in this paragraph “dealer” means every person engaged in the business of buying, selling, or exchanging vehicles of a type required to be registered under this chapter.

The original certificate of title shall be delivered to the owner if no security interest or encumbrance appears on the certificate. Otherwise the certificate of title shall be delivered by the county treasurer or the department to the person holding the first security interest or encumbrance as shown in the certificate.

The county treasurer or the department shall maintain in the county or department records system information contained on the certificate of title. The information shall be accessible by title certificate number for a period of three years from the date of notification of cancellation of title or that a new title has been issued as provided in this chapter. Copies the department requires shall be sent to the department in the manner and at the time the department directs. The department shall designate a uniform system of title numbers to indicate the county of issuance.

A vehicle shall be registered for the registration year. A vehicle registered for the first time in this state shall be registered for the remaining unexpired months of the registration year and pay a registration fee prorated for the remaining unexpired months of the registration year.

If the county treasurer or department is not satisfied as to the ownership of the vehicle or that there are no undisclosed security interests in it, or a junking certificate has been issued for the vehicle but a certificate of title will not be reissued under section 321.52, subsection 3, the county treasurer or department may register the vehicle but shall as a condition of issuing a certificate of title and registration receipt, require the applicant to file with the department a bond in the form prescribed by the department and executed by the applicant, and either accompanied by the deposit of cash with the department or also executed by a person authorized to conduct a surety business in this state. The bond shall be in an amount equal to one and one-half times the current value of the vehicle as determined by the department and conditioned to indemnify any prior owner and secured party and any subsequent purchaser of the vehicle or person acquiring any security interest in it, and their respective successors in interest, against any expense, loss or damage, including reasonable attorney's fees, by reason of the issuance of the certificate of title of the vehicle or on account of any defect in or undisclosed security interest upon the right, title and interest of the applicant in and to the vehicle. Any such interested person has a right of action to recover on the bond for any breach of its conditions, but the aggregate liability of the surety to all persons shall not exceed the amount of the bond. The bond, and any deposit accompanying it, shall be returned at the end of three years or prior thereto if the vehicle is no longer registered in this state and the currently valid certificate of title is surrendered to the department, unless the department has been notified of the pendency of an action to recover on the bond.

Unnumbered paragraph 8 amended §321.32 Registration card carried and exhibited.

A vehicle's registration card shall at all times be carried in the vehicle to which it refers and shall be shown to any peace officer upon the officer's request.

91 Acts, ch 27, §1 HF 307
Section amended

1. Plates issued. The county treasurer upon receiving application, accompanied by proper fee, for registration of a vehicle shall issue to the owner one registration plate for a motorcycle, motorized bicycle, truck tractor, trailer, or semitrailer and two registration plates for every other motor vehicle. The registration plates, including special registration plates, shall be assigned to the owner of a vehicle. When the owner of a registered vehicle transfers or assigns ownership of the vehicle to another person, the owner shall remove the registration plates from the vehicle. The owner shall forward the plates to the county treasurer where the vehicle is registered or the owner may have the plates assigned to another vehicle within thirty days after transfer, upon payment of the fees required by law. The owner shall immediately affix registration plates retained by the owner to another vehicle owned or acquired by the owner, providing the owner complies with section 321.46. The department shall adopt rules providing for the assignment of registration plates to the transferee of a vehicle for which a credit is allowed under section 321.46, subsection 6.

2. Validation stickers. In lieu of issuing new registration plates each registration year for a vehicle renewing registration, the department may reassign the registration plates previously issued to the vehicle and may adopt and prescribe annual validation stickers indicating payment of registration fees. The department shall issue two validation stickers for each set of registration plates. One sticker shall specify the year of expiration of the registration period. The second sticker shall specify the month of expiration of the registration period and need not be reissued annually. The month of registration shall not be required on registration plates or validation stickers issued for vehicles registered under chapter 326. The stickers shall be displayed only on the rear registration plate, except that the stickers shall be displayed on the front registration plate of a truck-tractor.

The state department of transportation shall promulgate rules to provide for the placement of motor vehicle registration validation stickers on all registration plates issued for the motor vehicle when such validation stickers are issued in lieu of issuing new registration plates under the provisions of this section.

3. Radio operators plates. The owner of an automobile, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck, or pickup who holds an amateur radio license issued by the federal communications commission may, upon written application to the county treasurer accompanied by a fee of five dollars, order special registration plates bearing the call letters authorized the radio station covered by the person's amateur radio license. When received by the county treasurer, such special registration plates shall be issued to the applicant in exchange for the registration plates previously issued to the person. Not more than one set of special registration plates may be issued to an applicant. Said fee shall be in addition to and not in lieu of the fee for regular registration plates. Special registration plates must be surrendered upon expiration of the owner's amateur radio license and the owner shall thereupon be entitled to the owner's regular registration plates. The county treasurer shall validate special plates in the same manner as regular registration plates, upon payment of five dollars in addition to the regular annual registration fee.

4. Multiyear plates. In lieu of issuing annual registration plates for trailers and semitrailers, the department may issue multiyear registration plates for a three-year period or a six-year period for trailers and semitrailers licensed under chapter 326 upon payment of the appropriate registration fee. Fees from three-year and six-year payments shall not be reduced or prorated.

5. Personalized registration plates.

a. Upon application and the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars, the director may issue to the owner of a motor vehicle registered in this state or a trailer or travel trailer registered in this state, personalized registration plates marked with up to seven initials, letters, or combinations of numerals and letters requested by the owner. However, personalized registration plates for motorcycles and motorized bicycles shall be marked with no more than six initials, letters, or combinations of numerals and letters. Upon receipt of the personalized registration plates, the applicant shall surrender the regular registration plates to the county treasurer. The fee for issuance of the personalized registration plates shall be in addition to the regular annual registration fee.

b. The county treasurer shall validate personalized registration plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section at an annual fee of five dollars in addition to the regular annual registration fee. A person renewing a personalized registration plate within one month following the time requirements under section 321.40 may renew the personalized plate without paying the additional registration fee under paragraph "a" but shall pay the five-dollar fee in addition to the regular registration fee and any penalties subject to regular registration plate holders for late renewal.

c. The fees collected by the director under this section shall be paid to the treasurer of state and credited by the treasurer of state as provided in section 321.145.

6. Sample vehicle registration plates. Vehicle registration plates displaying the general design of regular registration plates, with the word "sample" displayed on the plate, may be furnished to any person upon payment of a fee of three dollars, except that such plates may be furnished to governmental agencies without cost. Sample registration plates shall not be attached to a vehicle moved on the highways of this state.

7. Handicapped plates. The owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration pursuant to section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck, or pickup, who is a handicapped person, or who is the parent or guardian of a child who resides with the parent or guardian owner and who is a handicapped person, as defined in section 321L.1, may, upon written application to the department, order handicapped registration plates designed by the department bearing the international symbol of accessibility. The handicapped registration plates shall only be issued if the application is accompanied with a statement from a physician licensed under chapter 148, 149, 150, or 150A, or a chiropractor licensed under chapter 151, written on the physician's or chiropractor's stationery, stating the nature of the applicant's or the applicant's child's handicap and such additional information as required by rules adopted by the department, including proof of residency of a child who is a handicapped person. If the application is approved by the department the handicapped registration plates shall be issued to the applicant in exchange for the previous registration plates issued to the person. The fee for the handicapped plates is five dollars which is in addition to the regular annual registration fee. The department shall validate the handicapped plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section at the regular annual registration fee. However, the handicapped plates shall not be renewed without the applicant furnishing evidence to the department that the owner of the motor vehicle or the owner's child is still a handicapped person as defined in section 321L.1, unless the applicant has previously provided satisfactory evidence to the department that the owner of the vehicle or the owner's child is permanently handicapped in which case the furnishing of additional evidence shall not be required for renewal. However, an owner who has a child who is a handicapped person shall provide satisfactory evidence to the department that the handicapped child continues to reside with the owner. The handicapped registration plates shall be surrendered in exchange for regular registration plates when the owner of the motor vehicle or the owner's child no longer qualifies as a handicapped person as defined in section 321L.1 or when the owner's child who is a handicapped person no longer resides with the owner.

8. Prisoner of war plates. The owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration under section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck or pickup who was a prisoner of war during the second world war at any time between December 7, 1941 and December 31, 1946, the Korean conflict at any time between June 25, 1950 and January 31, 1955 or the Vietnam conflict at any time between August 5, 1964 and June 30, 1973, all dates inclusive, may upon written application to the department, order special registration plates designed by the department in co-operation with the adjutant general which plates signify that the applicant was a prisoner of war as defined in this subsection. Each applicant applying for special registration plates under this subsection may purchase only one set of registration plates under this subsection. The application is subject to approval by the department, in consultation with the adjutant general, and the special registration plates shall be issued to the applicant in exchange for the registration plates previously issued to the person. The special plates shall contain the letters "POW" and three numerals and are subject to an annual registration fee of fifteen dollars. The department shall validate the special plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section.

9. National guard plates. The owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration pursuant to section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck or pickup who is a member of the national guard, as defined in chapter 29A, may upon written application to the department, order special registration plates designed by the department in co-operation with the adjutant general which plates signify that the applicant is a member of the national guard. The application shall be approved by the department, in consultation with the adjutant general, and the special registration plates shall be issued to the applicant in exchange for the special registration plates previously issued to the person. The fee for the special plates shall be five dollars which shall be in addition to the regular annual registration fee. The department shall validate the special plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section at the regular annual registration fee. Special registration plates shall be surrendered in exchange for regular registration plates upon termination of the owner's membership in the active national guard.

10. Collegiate plates.
   a. Upon application and payment of the proper fees, the director may issue to the owner of a motor vehicle, trailer, or travel trailer registered in this state, collegiate registration plates. Upon receipt of the collegiate registration plates, the applicant shall surrender the regular registration plates to the county treasurer.
   b. Collegiate registration plates shall be designed for each of the three state universities. The collegiate registration plates shall be designated as follows:
      (1) The letters "JSU" followed by a four-digit number all in cardinal on a gold background for Iowa State University of science and technology.
      (2) The letters "UNI" followed by a four-digit number all in purple on a gold background for the University of Northern Iowa.
      (3) The letters "UI" followed by a four-digit number all in black on a gold background for the state University of Iowa.
In lieu of the letter number designation provided under subparagraphs (1) through (3), the collegiate registration plates may be designated in the manner provided for personalized registration plates under subsection 5, paragraph "a", in the colors designated for the respective universities under subparagraphs (1) through (3).

The fees for a collegiate registration plate are as follows:

1. A registration fee of twenty-five dollars.
2. A special collegiate registration fee of twenty-five dollars.

These fees are in addition to the regular annual registration fee. The fees collected by the director under this subsection shall be paid monthly to the treasurer of state and credited by the treasurer of state to the road use tax fund. Notwithstanding section 423.24 and prior to the application of section 423.24, subsection 1, paragraph "b", the treasurer of state shall credit monthly from revenues derived from the operation of section 423.7, respectively, to Iowa State University of science and technology, the University of Northern Iowa, and the state University of Iowa, the amount of the special collegiate registration fees collected in the previous month for collegiate registration plates designed for the university. The moneys credited are appropriated to the respective universities to be used for scholarships for students attending the universities.

c. The county treasurer shall validate collegiate registration plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section at an annual fee of five dollars in addition to the regular annual registration fee.

d. A collegiate registration plate shall not be issued if its combination of alphanumeric characters are identical to those contained on a current personalized registration plate issued under subsection 5. However, the owner of a motor vehicle who has a personalized registration plate issued for the motor vehicle may, after proper application and payment of fees, be issued a collegiate registration plate containing the same alphanumeric characters as those on the personalized plate. Upon receipt of the collegiate registration plates, the owner shall surrender the personalized registration plates to the county treasurer.

11. Congressional medal of honor plates. The owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration under section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck, or pickup who has been awarded the congressional medal of honor may, upon written application to the department, order special registration plates which shall be red, white, and blue in color and shall bear an emblem of the congressional medal of honor and an identifying number. Each applicant applying for special registration plates under this subsection may purchase only one set of registration plates under this subsection. The application is subject to approval by the department and the special registration plates shall be issued to the applicant in exchange for the registration plates previously issued to the person. The special plates are subject to an annual registration fee of fifteen dollars. The department shall validate the special plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section. The department shall not issue special registration plates until service organizations in the state have furnished the department either the special dies or the cost of the special dies necessary for the manufacture of the special registration plate.

12. Pearl Harbor plates. Effective January 1, 1990, the owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration under section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck or pickup who was at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, as a member of the armed services of the United States on December 7, 1941, may, upon written application to the department, order special registration plates. The special registration plates shall bear the notation or emblem reading "PEARL HARBOR SURVIVOR, DECEMBER 7, 1941" followed by four identifying letters or numbers. Each applicant applying for special registration plates under this subsection may purchase only one set of registration plates. The application is subject to approval by the department. Upon receipt of the special registration plates, the applicant shall surrender the regular registration plates to the county treasurer. The fee for the issuance of the special registration plates is twenty-five dollars which shall be in addition to the regular annual registration fee. Seriously disabled veterans who are exempted from payment of the annual registration fee under section 321.105, shall pay only the twenty-five dollar fee for issuance of the special registration plates. The county treasurer shall validate the special registration plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section with no additional registration fee being required other than the regular annual registration fee.

13. Purple heart plates. The owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration pursuant to section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck, or pickup who was awarded a purple heart medal by the United States government for wounds received in military or naval combat against an armed enemy of the United States, may upon written application to the department and presentation of satisfactory proof of the award of the purple heart medal, order special registration plates. The design of the plates shall include a representation of a purple heart medal and ribbon centered on the left side of the plate and the words "Combat Wounded" centered on the bottom of the plate. The plates shall be numbered in sequence beginning with 00001. The application is subject to approval by the department in consultation with the adjutant general. The special registration plates shall be issued to the applicant in exchange for the registration plates previously issued to the person. The fee for the purple heart plates shall be twenty-five dollars which shall be in addition to the regular annual registration fee. The department shall validate the special plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section.

14. Sesquicentennial plates

a. Upon application and payment of the proper fees, the director may issue sesquicentennial plates to the owner of a motor vehicle subject to registration under section 321.109, subsection 1, light delivery truck, panel delivery truck, pickup, motor home, multipurpose vehicle, or travel trailer.

b. In lieu of the letter number designation, the sesquicentennial plates may be designated in the manner provided for personalized registration plates under subsection 5, paragraph “a.” A sesquicentennial plate shall not be issued if its combination of alphanumeric characters is identical to those contained on a current personalized registration plate issued under subsection 5, or a personalized collegiate registration plate issued under subsection 10. However, the owner of a motor vehicle who has either personalized registration plates or personalized collegiate registration plates issued for a vehicle may, after proper application and payment of fees, be issued a sesquicentennial registration plate containing the same alphanumeric characters as those on the personalized registration plates or personalized collegiate registration plates.

c. The special sesquicentennial fee for letter number designated sesquicentennial plates is fifteen dollars. The fee for personalized sesquicentennial plates is twenty-five dollars which shall be paid in addition to the special sesquicentennial fee.

d. Upon receipt of the special registration plates, the applicant shall surrender the current registration receipt and plates to the county treasurer. The county treasurer shall validate the special registration plates in the same manner as regular registration plates are validated under this section. The annual special sesquicentennial fee for letter number designated plates is ten dollars which shall be paid in addition to the regular annual registration fee. The annual fee for personalized sesquicentennial plates is five dollars which shall be paid in addition to the annual special sesquicentennial fee and the regular annual registration fee. The annual special sesquicentennial fee shall be credited as provided under paragraph “c.”

e. The sesquicentennial plate series shall not be available to new applicants or renewable after January 1, 1997. Upon the expiration of the series, the owner of a motor vehicle who has personalized sesquicentennial plates may, after proper application and payment of fees, be issued either personalized registration plates or personalized collegiate registration plates containing the same alphanumeric characters as those on the personalized sesquicentennial plates.

321.46 New title and registration upon transfer of ownership — credit.

1. The transferee shall within fifteen calendar days after purchase or transfer apply for and obtain from the county treasurer of the person’s residence, or if a nonresident, the county treasurer of the county where the primary users of the vehicle are located or the county where all other vehicles owned by the nonresident are registered, a new registration and a new certificate of title for the vehicle except as provided in section 321.25 or 321.48. The transferee shall present with the application the certificate of title endorsed and assigned by the previous owner and shall indicate the name of the county in which the vehicle was last registered and the registration expiration date. The transferee shall be required to list a motor vehicle license number.

2. Upon filing the application for a new registration and a new title, the applicant shall pay a title fee of ten dollars and a registration fee prorated for the remaining unexpired months of the registration year. However, no title fee shall be charged to a mobile home dealer applying for a certificate of title for a used mobile home, titled in Iowa, as required under section 321.45, subsection 4. The county treasurer, if satisfied of the genuineness and regularity of the application, and in the case of a mobile home, that taxes are not owing under chapter 135D, and that applicant has complied with all the requirements of this chapter, shall issue a new certificate of title and, except for a mobile home, a registration card to the purchaser or transferee, shall cancel the prior registration for the vehicle, and shall forward the necessary copies to the department on the date of issuance, as prescribed in section 321.24. Mobile homes titled under chapter 448 that have been subject under section 446.18 to a public bidder sale in a county, shall be titled in the county’s name, with no fee and the county treasurer shall issue the title.

3. The applicant shall be entitled to a credit for that portion of the registration fee of the vehicle sold, traded, or junked which had not expired prior to the transfer of ownership of the vehicle. The registration fee for the new registration for the vehicle acquired shall be reduced by the amount of the credit. The credit shall be computed on the basis of the number of months remaining in the registration year, rounded to the nearest whole dollar. The credit shall be subject to the following limitations:

a. The credit shall be claimed within thirty days from the date the vehicle for which credit is granted was sold, transferred, or junked. After thirty days, all credits shall be disallowed.

b. Any credit granted to the owner of a vehicle which has been sold, traded, or junked may only be claimed by that person toward the registration fee for another vehicle purchased and the credit may not be sold, transferred, or assigned to any other person.

c. When the amount of the credit is computed to be an amount of less than ten dollars, a credit shall be disallowed.

d. To claim a credit for the unexpired registration fee on a junked vehicle, the county treasurer shall disallow any claim for credit unless the owner presents a junking certificate or other evidence as required by the department to the county treasurer.

e. A credit shall not be allowed to anyone who has made claim to receive a refund under section 321.126.

f. The credit shall only be allowed if the owner provides the copy of the registration receipt to the county treasurer.

g. If the credit allowed exceeds the amount of the registration fee for the vehicle acquired, the owner may claim a refund under section 321.126, subsection 6, for the balance of the credit.

h. The credit shall be computed on the unexpired number of months computed from the date of purchase of the vehicle acquired.

4. If the registration fee upon application is delinquent, the applicant shall be required to pay the delinquent fee from the first day the registration fee was due prorated to the month of application for new title.

5. The seller or transferor may file an affidavit on forms prescribed and provided by the department with the county treasurer of the county where the vehicle is registered certifying the sale or transfer of ownership of the vehicle and the assignment and delivery of the certificate of title for the vehicle. Upon receipt of the affidavit the county treasurer shall file the affidavit with the copy of the registration receipt for the vehicle on file in the treasurer's office and on that day the treasurer shall forward copies of the affidavit to the department and to the county treasurer of the county of residence of the purchaser or transferee. Upon filing the affidavit it shall be presumed that the seller or transferor has assigned and delivered the certificate of title for the vehicle.

6. An applicant for a new registration for a vehicle transferred to the applicant by a spouse, parent or child of the applicant, or by operation of law upon inheritance, devise or bequest, from the applicant's spouse, parent or child, or by a former spouse pursuant to a decree of dissolution of marriage, is entitled to a credit to be applied to the registration fee for the transferred vehicle. A credit shall not be allowed unless the vehicle to which the credit applies is registered within the time specified under subsection 1. The credit shall be computed on the basis of the number of unexpired months remaining in the registration year of the former owner computed from the date the vehicle was transferred, computed to the nearest whole dollar. The credit may exceed the amount of the registration fee for the transferred vehicle. When the amount of the credit is computed to be an amount of less than ten dollars, the credit shall be disallowed. The credit shall not be sold, transferred, or assigned to any other person.

1991 amendment to subsection 2 effective April 1, 1992, 91 Acts, ch 191, §124 HF 687
Subsection 2 amended

321.47 Transfers by operation of law.

In the event of the transfer of ownership of a vehicle by operation of law as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, order in bankruptcy, insolvency, replevin, foreclosure or execution sale, abandoned vehicle sale, or when the engine of a motor vehicle is replaced by another engine, or a vehicle is sold to satisfy an artisan’s lien as provided in chapter 577, a landlord’s lien as provided in chapter 570, or a storage lien as provided in chapter 579, or repossession is had upon default in performance of the terms of a security agreement, the county treasurer in the transferee’s county of residence, upon the surrender of the prior certificate of title or the manufacturer’s or importer’s certificate, or when that is not possible, upon presentation of satisfactory proof to the county treasurer of ownership and right of possession to the vehicle and upon payment of a fee of ten dollars and the presentation of an application for registration and certificate of title, may issue to the applicant a registration card for the vehicle and a certificate of title to it. The persons entitled under the laws of descent and distribution of an intestate’s property to the possession and ownership of a vehicle owned in whole or in part by a decedent, upon filing an affidavit stating the name and date of death of the decedent, the right to possession and ownership of the persons filing the affidavit, and that there has been no administration of the decedent’s estate, which instrument shall also contain an agreement to indemnify creditors of the decedent who would be entitled to levy execution upon the motor vehicle to the extent of the value of the motor vehicle, are entitled upon fulfilling the other requirements of this chapter, to the issuance of a registration card for the interest of the decedent in the vehicle and a certificate of title to it. If a decedent dies testate, and either the will is not probated or is admitted to probate without administration, the persons entitled to the possession and ownership of a vehicle owned in whole or in part by the decedent may file an affidavit, and upon fulfilling the other requirements of this chapter, are entitled to the issuance of a registration card for the interest of the decedent in the vehicle and a certificate of title to the vehicle. The affidavit shall contain the same information and indemnity agreement as is required in cases of intestacy pursuant to this section. No requirement of chapter 450 or 451 shall be considered satisfied by the filing of the affi-

321.52 Out-of-state sales — junked, dismantled, wrecked, or salvage vehicles.

1. When a vehicle is sold outside the state for purposes other than for junk the owner, dealer or otherwise, shall detach the registration plates and registration card and shall indicate on the reverse side of such registration card the name and address of the foreign purchaser or transferee over the person's signature. The owner shall surrender the registration plates and registration card to the county treasurer, unless the registration plates are properly attached to another vehicle, who shall cancel the records and shall destroy the registration plates and forward the registration card to the department. The department shall make a notation on the records of the out-of-state sale, and, after a reasonable period, may destroy the files to that particular vehicle. The department is not authorized to make a refund of license fees on a vehicle sold out of state unless it receives the registration card completed as provided in this section.

2. The purchaser or transferee of a motor vehicle for which a certificate of title is issued which is sold for scrap or junk shall surrender the certificate of title to the county treasurer of the county of residence of the transferee within fifteen days after assignment of the certificate of title. The county treasurer shall issue to such person without fee a junking certificate. A junking certificate shall authorize the holder to possess, transport or transfer ownership of the junked vehicle by endorsement of the junking certificate. The county treasurer shall hold the surrendered certificate of title, registration receipt and, if applicable, the registration plates for a period of fourteen days following the issuance of a junking certificate under this subsection. Within the fourteen-day period the person who was issued the junking certificate to whom the vehicle was tilted or assigned may surrender to the county treasurer the junking certificate, and upon the person's payment of appropriate fees and taxes and payment of any credit for registration fees received by the person for the vehicle under section 321.46, subsection 3, the county treasurer shall issue to the person a certificate of title for the vehicle. After the expiration of the fourteen-day period, a county treasurer shall not issue a certificate of title for a junked vehicle for which a junking certificate is issued. The county treasurer shall cancel the record of the vehicle and forward the certificate of title to the department.

However, upon application the department upon a showing of good cause may issue a certificate of title after the fourteen-day period for a junked vehicle for which a junking certificate has been issued. For purposes of this subsection, “good cause” means that the junking certificate was obtained by mistake or inadvertence. If a person's application to the department is denied, the person may make application for a certificate of title under the bonding procedure as provided in section 321.24, or the person may seek judicial review as provided under sections 17A.19 and 17A.20.

4. a. A vehicle rebuilder or a motor vehicle dealer licensed under chapter 322, upon acquisition of a wrecked or salvage vehicle, shall surrender the certificate of title or manufacturer's or importer's statement of origin properly assigned, together with an application for a salvage certificate of title to the county treasurer of the county of residence of the purchaser or transferee within fourteen days after the date of assignment of the certificate of title for the wrecked or salvage motor vehicle. This subsection applies only to vehicles with a fair market value of five hundred dollars or more, based on the value before the vehicle became wrecked or salvage. Upon payment of a fee of two dollars, the county treasurer shall issue a salvage certificate of title which shall bear the word “SALVAGE” stamped or printed on the face of the title in a manner prescribed by the department. A salvage certificate of title may be assigned to any person. A vehicle on which ownership has transferred to an insurer of the vehicle, as a result of a settlement with the owner of the vehicle arising out of damage to, or unrecovered theft of the vehicle, shall be deemed to be a wrecked or salvage vehicle and the insurer shall comply with this subsection to obtain a salvage certificate of title within fourteen days after the date of assignment of the certificate of title of the vehicle. However, a vehicle that has major damage to four or more component parts as defined in paragraph "b" shall receive a junking certificate of title and shall not thereafter be granted a regular certificate of title.

b. When a wrecked or salvage vehicle has been repaired, the owner may apply for a regular certificate of title by paying the appropriate fees and surrendering the salvage certificate of title and a properly executed salvage theft examination certificate. The county treasurer shall issue a regular certificate of title which, commencing September 1, 1988, if the wrecked or salvage vehicle is five model years old or less, shall bear the word "REBUILT" stamped or printed on the face of the title. The rebuilt designation shall be included on every Iowa certificate of title issued thereafter for the vehicle. However, if ownership of a stolen vehicle has been transferred to an insurer organized under the laws of this state or admitted to do business in this state, or if the transfer was the result of a settlement with the owner of the vehicle arising from damage to or the unrecovered theft of the vehicle, and if the insurer certifies to the county treasurer on a form approved by the department that the cost of repairs to all damage to the vehicle is less than three thousand dollars, the county treasurer shall issue a regular certificate of title without the rebuilt designation. The county treasurer shall issue a regular certificate of title without the "REBUILT" designation if, before repairs are made, a component parts review has been conducted by a peace officer who has been specially certified and recertified when required by the Iowa law enforcement academy to do salvage theft examinations. The Iowa law enforcement academy shall determine standards for training and certification, conduct training, and may approve alternative training programs which satisfy the academy's standards for training and certification. For the purpose of this section, a wrecked or salvage vehicle shall be considered to have component part damage if there is major damage requiring repairs or replacement of more than two of the vehicle's component parts. A "component part" means the rear clip, cowl, frame or inner structure forward of the cowl, body, cab, front end assembly, front clip, or such other parts which are critical to the safety of the vehicle as determined by rules adopted by the department. The owner shall pay a fee of thirty-five dollars upon the completion of the prerepair component parts review. The agency performing the examinations shall retain twenty-five dollars of the fee and shall pay five dollars of the fee to the department and five dollars of the fee to the Iowa law enforcement academy to provide for the special training, certification, and recertification of officers as required by this subsection. The peace officer conducting the review shall maintain a record of the review and shall forward a copy of the review to the department. The department shall maintain a record of all reviews. If a vehicle does not have component damage as determined in this subsection, the officer conducting the review shall issue a certificate to the owner to that effect. The certificate shall be surrendered to the county treasurer at the time of application for a regular certificate of title and the treasurer shall forward the certificate to the department.

The provision of this subsection requiring a component parts review by a peace officer specially certified or recertified by the Iowa law enforcement academy to do salvage theft examinations shall become effective July 1, 1990. Component parts reviews conducted before July 1, 1990, shall be made by peace officers authorized to do so by the state department of transportation or the department of public safety who are qualified, as determined by those agencies, to conduct component parts reviews. The state department of transportation shall adopt rules in accordance with chapter 17A to carry out this section, including transition rules allowing for component parts reviews prior to July 1, 1990.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this lettered paragraph directing that five dollars of each fee be paid to the Iowa law enforcement academy, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, such five dollars shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

c. A salvage theft examination shall be made by a peace officer who has been specially certified and recertified when required by the Iowa law enforcement academy to do salvage theft examinations. The Iowa law enforcement academy shall determine standards for training and certification, conduct training, and may approve alternative training programs which satisfy the academy's standards for training and certification. The owner of the salvage vehicle shall make the vehicle available for examination at a time and location designated by the peace officer doing the examination. The owner may obtain a permit to drive the vehicle to and from the examination location by submitting a repair affidavit to the agency performing the examination stating that the vehicle is reasonably safe for operation and listing the repairs which have been made to the vehicle. The owner must be present for the examination and have available for inspection the salvage title, bills of sale for all essential parts changed, and the repair affidavit. The examination shall be for the purposes of determining whether the vehicle or repair components have been stolen. The examination is not a safety inspection and a signed salvage theft examination certificate shall not be construed by any court of law to be a certification that the vehicle is safe to be operated. There shall be no cause of action against the peace officer or the agency conducting the examination or the county treasurer for failure to discover or note safety defects. If the vehicle passes the theft examination, the peace officer shall indicate that the vehicle passed examination on the salvage theft examination certificate and, with regard to a vehicle which is required to bear the word "REBUILT" stamped or printed on the face of the title, shall permanently identify the vehicle as "rebuilt" on the driver's door jamb or other area on the vehicle as designated by the department. A removal or alteration of this rebuilt identification is a violation of section 321.92. The repair affidavit, permit, and salvage theft examination certificate shall be on controlled forms prescribed and furnished by the department. The owner shall pay a fee of thirty dollars upon completion of the examination. The agency performing the examinations shall retain twenty dollars of the fee and shall pay five dollars of the fee to the department and five dollars of the fee to the Iowa law enforcement academy to provide for the special training, certification, and recertification of officers as required by this subsection.

The provision of this subsection requiring a salvage theft examination by a peace officer specially certified or recertified by the Iowa law enforcement academy to do salvage theft examinations shall become effective July 1, 1989. Salvage theft examinations conducted before July 1, 1989, shall be made by peace officers authorized to do so by the state department of transportation or the department of public safety who are qualified, as determined by those agencies, to conduct salvage theft examinations. The state department of transportation shall adopt rules in accordance with chapter 17A to carry out this section, including transition rules allowing for salvage theft examinations prior to July 1, 1989.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this lettered paragraph directing that five dollars of each fee be paid to the Iowa law enforcement academy, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, such five dollars shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

The surcharge imposed under 321.52A shall be collected and remitted to the state treasurer.

§321.52A Certificate of title surcharge.
In addition to the fee required for the issuance of a certificate of title under section 321.20, 321.23, 321.42, 321.46, 321.47, 321.48, 321.50, or 321.52, a surcharge of five dollars shall be required. Of each surcharge collected under those sections, the county treasurer shall remit five dollars to the office of treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state.

It is a fraudulent practice for any person to commit any of the following acts:
1. To alter with a fraudulent intent any certificate of title, manufacturer's or importer's certificate, registration card, registration plate, or permit issued by the department or county treasurer.
2. To forge or counterfeit any such document or plate.
3. To hold or use any such document or plate knowing the same to have been so altered, forged, or falsified.
4. To hold or use any certificate of title, manufacturer's or importer's certificate, registration card, registration plate, manufacturer's vehicle identification plate, or permit issued by the department or county treasurer, for any vehicle to which such document or plate is not legally assigned.
5. To transfer in any manner or to offer to transfer in any manner a certificate of title, manufacturer's or importer's certificate to any vehicle on which a salvage certificate of title or junking certificate is required under section 321.52, with knowledge or reason to believe that the certificate will be used for a vehicle other than the vehicle for which the certificate is issued. "Transfer" for the purposes of this subsection means to sell, exchange, change possession or ownership or convey in any manner.

§321.152 Fee for county.
A county treasurer may retain for deposit in the county general fund the following:
1. Four and one-quarter percent of the total collection for each annual or semiannual vehicle registration and each duplicate registration card or plate issued.

2. Two dollars and fifty cents from each fee collected for certificates of title.

3. Forty percent of all fees collected for certified copies of certificates of title.

4. Sixty percent of all fees collected for notation of security interests.

The moneys retained shall be deducted, and reported to the department when the county treasurer transfers the money collected under this chapter. However, a deduction is not lawful unless the county treasurer has complied with sections 321.24 and 321.153.

1. Approved course. An approved driver education course as programmed by the department of education shall consist of at least thirty clock hours of classroom instruction, and six or more clock hours of laboratory instruction of which at least three clock hours shall consist of street or highway driving. An approved course shall include a minimum of two hours of classroom instruction concerning substance abuse as part of its curriculum. After the student has completed three clock hours of street or highway driving and has demonstrated to the instructor an ability to properly operate a motor vehicle and upon written request of a parent or guardian, the instructor may waive the remaining required laboratory instruction.

Every public school district in Iowa shall offer or make available to all students residing in the school district or Iowa students attending a nonpublic school in the district an approved course in driver education. The courses may be offered at sites other than at the public school, including nonpublic school facilities within the public school districts. An approved course offered during the summer months, on Saturdays, after regular school hours during the regular terms or partly in one term or summer vacation period and partly in the succeeding term or summer vacation period, as the case may be, shall satisfy the requirements of this section to the same extent as an approved course offered during the regular school hours of the school term. A student who successfully completes and obtains certification in an approved course in driver education or an approved course in motorcycle education may, upon proof of such fact, be excused from any field test which the student would otherwise be required to take in demonstrating the student’s ability to operate a motor vehicle.

“Student,” for purposes of this section, means a person between the ages of fourteen years and twenty-one years who resides in the public school district and who satisfies the preliminary licensing requirements of the department.

Any person who successfully completes an approved driver education course at a private or commercial driver education school licensed by the department, shall likewise be eligible for a driver’s license at the age of sixteen years, providing the instructor in charge of the student’s training has satisfied the educational requirements for a teaching certificate at the secondary level and holds a valid certificate to teach driver education in the public schools of Iowa.

2. Restricted license.

a. Any person between sixteen and eighteen years of age who is not in attendance at school or who is in attendance in a public or private school where an approved driver’s education course is not offered or available, may be issued a restricted license only for travel to and from work or to transport dependents to and from temporary care facilities, if necessary for the person to maintain the person’s present employment without having completed an approved driver’s education course. The restricted license shall be issued by the department only upon confirmation of the person’s employment and need for a restricted license to travel to and from work or to transport dependents of temporary care facilities if necessary to maintain the person’s employment and upon receipt of a written statement from the public or private school that an approved course in driver’s education was not offered or available to the person, if applicable. The employer shall notify the department if the employment of the person is terminated before the person attains the age of eighteen. The person shall not have a restricted license revoked or suspended upon re-entering school prior to age eighteen provided the student enrolls in and completes the classroom portion of an approved driver’s education course as soon as a course is available.

b. The department may suspend a restricted license issued under this section upon receiving a record of the person’s conviction for one violation and shall revoke the license upon receiving a record of conviction for two or more violations of a law of this state or a city ordinance regulating the operation of motor vehicles on highways, other than parking violations as defined in section 321.210. After revoking a license under this section the department shall not grant an application for a new license or permit until the expiration of one year or until the person attains the age of eighteen whichever is the longer period.

3. Driver’s license reciprocity.

a. The department may issue a class C or M driver’s license to a person who is sixteen or seventeen years of age and who is a current resident of the state, but who has been driving as a resident of another state for at least one year prior to residency within the state.

b. The following criteria must be met prior to issuance of a driver’s license pursuant to this subsection:

(1) The minor must reside with a parent or guardian.

(2) The minor must have driven under a valid

Driver's license for at least one year in the prior state of residence. Six months of the one year computation may include driving with an instruction permit.

3. The minor must have had no moving traffic violations on the minor's driving record.

4. The minor must pass the written and driving skills tests as required by the department, but is not required to have taken a driver's education class.

A fee of one dollar may include driving with an instruction permit.

If a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card issued under this chapter is lost or destroyed, the person to whom the license or card was issued may, upon payment of a fee of three dollars for a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card, obtain a duplicate, or substitute, upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the department that the motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card has been lost or destroyed. A fee of one dollar shall be charged for the voluntary replacement of a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card.

A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

If a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card issued under this chapter is lost or destroyed, the person to whom the license or card was issued may, upon payment of a fee of three dollars for a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card, obtain a duplicate, or substitute, upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the department that the motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card has been lost or destroyed. A fee of one dollar shall be charged for the voluntary replacement of a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card.

If a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card issued under this chapter is lost or destroyed, the person to whom the license or card was issued may, upon payment of a fee of three dollars for a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card, obtain a duplicate, or substitute, upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the department that the motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card has been lost or destroyed. A fee of one dollar shall be charged for the voluntary replacement of a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

If a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card issued under this chapter is lost or destroyed, the person to whom the license or card was issued may, upon payment of a fee of three dollars for a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card, obtain a duplicate, or substitute, upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the department that the motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card has been lost or destroyed. A fee of one dollar shall be charged for the voluntary replacement of a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

If a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card issued under this chapter is lost or destroyed, the person to whom the license or card was issued may, upon payment of a fee of three dollars for a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card, obtain a duplicate, or substitute, upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the department that the motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card has been lost or destroyed. A fee of one dollar shall be charged for the voluntary replacement of a motor vehicle license or nonoperator's identification card.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall include the legal description of the real property, the street address, if any, and the date and time when the owner wishes the election to become effective. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.

An election made pursuant to this subsection shall not create a higher priority for the enforcement of traffic laws on real property upon which a mobile home is located than exists for the enforcement of traffic laws on public property.

b. A written notice of election shall be filed with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern the vehicular traffic. The appropriate officials shall be the city clerk and chief of police of the city in which the real property is located and the county sheriff and the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located. The notice shall be signed by every titleholder of the real property and acknowledged by a notary public.

c. An election shall terminate fourteen days following the filing of a written notice of withdrawal with the designated officials of the local authority whose ordinances, rules, or regulations will govern.

d. For purposes of this subsection, "titleholder of real property" means the person or entity whose name appears on the documents of title filed in the official county records as the owner of the real property upon which a mobile home park is located.
obstructed vision in each direction. However, the driver of a school bus is not required to use flashing warning lamps and the stop arm when receiving or discharging pupils at a designated loading and unloading zone at a school attendance center or at extracurricular or educational activity locations where students exiting the bus do not have to cross the street or highway.

If a school district contracts with an urban transit system to transport children to and from a public or private school, the school bus which is provided by the urban transit system shall not be required to be equipped with flashing warning lights and a stop arm. If the school bus provided by an urban transit system is equipped with flashing warning lights and a stop arm, the driver of the school bus shall use the flashing warning light and stop arm as required by law.

A school bus, when operating on a highway with four or more lanes shall not stop to load or unload pupils who must cross the highway, except at designated stops where pupils who must cross the highway may do so at points where there are official traffic control devices or police officers.

A school bus shall, while carrying passengers, have its headlights turned on.

2. All pupils shall be received and discharged from the right front entrance of every school bus and if said pupils must cross the highway, they shall be required to pass in front of the bus, look in both directions, and proceed to cross the highway only on signal from the bus driver.

3. The driver of a vehicle, including the driver of a vehicle operating on a private road or driveway, when meeting a school bus with flashing amber warning lamps shall reduce the vehicle's speed to not more than twenty miles per hour, and shall bring the vehicle to a complete stop when the school bus stops and the stop signal arm is extended. The vehicle shall remain stopped until the stop signal arm is retracted after which time the driver may proceed with due caution.

The driver of a vehicle, including the driver of a vehicle operating on a private road or driveway, overtaking a school bus shall not pass a school bus when red or amber warning signal lights are flashing. The driver shall bring the vehicle to a complete stop no closer than fifteen feet from the school bus when it is stopped and the stop arm is extended, and the vehicle shall remain stopped until the stop arm is retracted and the school bus resumes motion.

4. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway providing two or more lanes in each direction need not stop upon meeting a school bus which is traveling in the opposite direction even though the school bus is stopped.

321.423 Flashing lights.

1 Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

- "Advanced emergency medical care provider" means as defined in section 147A.1.
b. "Basic emergency medical care provider" means as defined in section 147.1.

c. "Fire department" means a paid or volunteer fire protection service provided by a benefited fire district under chapter 357B or by a county, municipality or township, or a private corporate organization that has a valid contract to provide fire protection service for a benefited fire district, county, municipality, township or governmental agency.

d. "Member" means a person who is a member in good standing of a fire department or a person who is an advanced or basic emergency medical care provider employed by an ambulance, rescue, or first responder service.

2. Prohibited lights. A flashing light on or in a motor vehicle is prohibited except as follows:

a. On an authorized emergency vehicle.

b. On a vehicle as a means of indicating a right or left turn, a mechanical failure, or an emergency stop or intent to stop.

c. On a motor vehicle used by a rural mail carrier when stopping or stopped on or near a highway in the process of delivering mail, if such a light is any shade of color between white and amber and if it is mounted as a dome light on the roof of the vehicle.

d. On a vehicle being operated under an excess size permit issued under chapter 321E.

e. A flashing blue light on a vehicle upon which a blue light is permitted pursuant to subsection 3 of this section.

f. A flashing white light is permitted on a vehicle pursuant to subsection 7.

g. A white flashing strobe light mounted on a school bus as permitted under section 321.373, subsection 7.

3. Blue light. A blue light shall not be used on any vehicle except:

a. A vehicle owned or exclusively operated by a fire department; or

b. A vehicle authorized by the director when:

(1) The vehicle is owned by a member of a fire department.

(2) The request for authorization is made by the member on forms provided by the department.

(3) Necessity for authorization is demonstrated in the request.

(4) The chief of the fire department certifies that the member is in good standing with the fire department and recommends that the authorization be granted.

4. Expiration of authority. The authorization shall expire at midnight on the thirty-first day of December five years from the year in which it was issued, or when the vehicle is no longer owned by the member, or when the member has ceased to be an active member of the fire department or of an ambulance, rescue, or first responder service or when the member has used the blue or white light beyond the scope of its authorized use.

5. When used. The certificate of authorization shall be carried at all times with the certificate of registration of the authorized vehicle and the operator of the vehicle shall not illuminate the blue or white light except in any of the following circumstances:

a. When the member is en route to the scene of a fire or is responding to an emergency in the line of duty requiring the services of the member.

b. When the authorized vehicle is transporting a person requiring emergency care.

c. When the authorized vehicle is at the scene of an emergency.

d. The use of the blue or white light in or on a private motor vehicle shall be for identification purposes only.

6. Amber flashing light. A farm tractor, farm tractor with towed equipment, self-propelled implement of husbandry, road construction or maintenance vehicle, road grader, or other vehicle principally designed for use off the highway which, when operated on a primary or secondary road, is operated at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour or less, shall be equipped with and display an amber flashing light visible from the rear at any time from sunset to sunrise. All vehicles specified in this subsection which are manufactured for sale or sold in this state shall be equipped with an amber flashing light. The type, number, dimensions, and method of mounting of the lights shall be determined by the director. The director, when approving the light, shall be guided as far as practicable by the standards of the American Society of agricultural engineers.

7. Flashing white light. Except as provided in section 321.373, subsection 7, and subsection 2, paragraph "c" of this section, a flashing white light shall only be used on a vehicle in the following circumstances:

a. On a vehicle owned or exclusively operated by an ambulance, rescue, or first responder service.

b. On a vehicle authorized by the director of public health when all of the following apply:

(1) The vehicle is owned by a member of an ambulance, rescue, or first responder service.

(2) The request for authorization is made by the member on forms provided by the Iowa department of public health.

(3) Necessity for authorization is demonstrated in the request.

(4) The head of an ambulance, rescue, or first responder service certifies that the member is in good standing and recommends that the authorization be granted.

c. On an authorized emergency vehicle.

The Iowa department of public health shall adopt rules to establish issuance standards, including allowing local emergency medical service providers to issue certificates of authorization, and shall adopt rules to establish certificate of authorization revocation procedures.

321.450 Hazardous materials transportation regulations.

A person shall not transport or have transported or shipped within this state any hazardous material except in compliance with rules adopted by the department under chapter 17A. The rules shall be consistent with the federal hazardous materials regulations promulgated under United States Code, Title 49, and found in 49 C.F.R. §§ 107, 171 to 173, 177, 178, and 180. However, rules adopted under this section concerning tank specifications shall not apply to cargo tank motor vehicles with a capacity of four thousand gallons or less used to transport gasoline in intrastate commerce, which were manufactured between 1950 and 1989, were domiciled in Iowa prior to July 1, 1991, and are in compliance with the American society of mechanical engineers specifications in effect at the time of manufacture.

Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, rules adopted under this section concerning physical and medical qualifications for drivers of commercial vehicles engaged in intrastate commerce shall not be construed as disqualifying any individual who was employed as a driver of commercial vehicles engaged in intrastate commerce prior to January 1, 1988.

Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, or the age requirements under section 321.449, the age requirements under section 321.449 and the rules adopted under this section pertaining to compliance with regulations adopted under U.S.C., Title 49, and found in 49 C.F.R. § 177.804, shall not apply to retail dealers of fertilizers, petroleum products, and pesticides and their employees while delivering fertilizers, petroleum products, and pesticides to farm customers within a one-hundred-mile radius of their retail place of business. Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this chapter, motor vehicles registered for a maximum gross weight of five tons or less shall be exempt from the requirements of placarding and of carrying hazardous materials shipping papers if the hazardous materials which are transported are clearly labeled.

1. A combination of four vehicles is not allowed on the highways of this state, except for power units saddle mounted on other power units which shall be restricted to a maximum overall length of sixty-five feet unless subject to the maximum length provisions of subsection 3.

2. The maximum length of any motor vehicle or combination of vehicles operated on the highways of this state, unless subject to the maximum length provisions of subsection 3, are as follows:

   a. A single truck, unladen or with load, shall not have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of forty feet.

   b. A single bus, unladen or with load, shall not have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of sixty feet, except that buses constructed so as to contain a flexible part allowing articulation shall not exceed sixty-one feet.

   c. Except for combinations of vehicles, provisions for which are otherwise made in this chapter, no combination of a truck tractor and a semitrailer coupled together or a motor truck and a trailer or semitrailer coupled together unladen or with load, shall have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of sixty feet.

   d. However, a mobile home not in excess of forty-eight feet in length may be drawn by any motor vehicle, except a motor truck, provided that the mobile home and its towing unit are not in excess of an overall length of sixty feet. For the purposes of this subsection, a light delivery truck, panel delivery truck or "pickup" is not a motor truck. A portable livestock loading chute not in excess of a length of thirteen feet including its hitch or tongue may be drawn by any vehicle or combination of vehicles, provided that the vehicle or combination of vehicles drawing the loading chute is not in excess of the legal length provided for such vehicles or combinations.

   e. Combinations of vehicles coupled together which are used exclusively for the transportation of passenger vehicles, light delivery trucks, panel delivery trucks, pickup trucks, recreational vehicle chassis, and boats shall not exceed sixty-five feet in overall length. However, the load carried on a truck-semitrailer combination may extend up to three feet beyond the front bumper and up to four feet beyond the rear bumper.

   f. A combination of three vehicles coupled together one of which is a motor vehicle, unladen or with load, shall not have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of sixty feet.

   g. A motor vehicle or combination of vehicles may be operated upon the highways of this state, irrespective of the length and weight limitations imposed by the laws of this state, if the motor vehicle or combination of vehicles is operated within the corporate limits of a city abutting a border of this state and such operations have been approved by ordinance of the city council and if the length and weight of the motor vehicle or combination of vehicles is in conformity with the laws relating to length and weight of the abutting state on July 1, 1974. If a city council has authorized such operation upon highways within the corporate limits, then the limit of travel for such motor vehicles or combination of vehicles within the state is extended to the commercial zones as described by federal regulations concerning interstate commerce, 49 code of federal regulations, paragraphs 1048.10, 1048.38, and 1048.101 as they exist on July 1, 1974.

   h. A semitrailer shall not have a distance between the kingpin and the center of its rearmost axle in excess of forty feet, except a semitrailer used principally for hauling livestock, a semitrailer used exclusively for hauling self-propelled industrial and construction equipment, or a semitrailer used exclusively for the purposes described in paragraph e of this subsection. A semitrailer which is a 1980 or older model having a distance between the kingpin and center of the rearmost axle of more than forty feet may be operated on the highways of this state if a special overlength permit is obtained from the department for the vehicle. The special overlength permit shall be valid until the semitrailer is inoperative.

3. The maximum length of any motor vehicle or combination of vehicles operated on the highways of this state which are designated by the transportation commission shall be as follows:
   a. A trailer or semitrailer, laden or unladen, shall not have an overall length in excess of fifty-three feet when operating in a truck tractor-semi trailer combination.
   b. A trailer or semitrailer, laden or unladen, shall not have an overall length in excess of twenty-eight feet six inches when operating in a truck tractor-semi trailer-trailer combination or truck tractor-semi trailer-semi trailer combination. When the semitrailers in a truck tractor-semi trailer-semi trailer combination are connected by a rigid frame extension including a fifth-wheel connection point attached to the rear frame of the first semitrailer, the length of the frame extension shall not be included when determining the overall length of the first semitrailer.
   c. Power units designed to carry cargo, when used in combination with a trailer or semitrailer shall not exceed sixty-five feet in overall length for the combination.
   d. In a combination of vehicles used principally for hauling livestock or a stinger-steered automobile transporter operating under this subsection and section 321.454, subsection 2, the combination of vehicles used principally for hauling livestock or the stinger-steered automobile transporter may depart from the designated highway system by the most direct route to points of pickup and delivery. Vehicles operating under this paragraph are not exempt from posted size and weight restrictions on highway structures.
   e. A stinger-steered automobile transporter shall not have an overall length exceeding seventy-five feet, except that the load may extend up to three feet beyond the front bumper and up to four feet beyond the rear bumper.
   f. Power units saddle mounted or full mounted on other power units shall not exceed seventy-five feet in overall length.

The commission shall adopt rules to designate the highways. The rules adopted by the department under this paragraph are exempt from chapter 17A, the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

4. Fire fighting apparatus and vehicles operated during daylight hours when transporting poles, pipe, machinery, or other objects of a structural nature which cannot be readily disassembled when required for emergency repair of public service facilities or properties are not subject to the limitations on overall length of vehicles and combinations of vehicles imposed under this section. However, for operation during nighttime hours, these vehicles and the load being transported shall be equipped with a sufficient number of clearance lamps on both sides and marker lamps at the extreme ends of the projecting load to clearly mark the dimensions of the load. A member of the state highway safety patrol shall also be notified prior to the operation of the vehicle.

321.461 Trailers and towed vehicles.
Whenever such driver is not the owner of such vehicle, object, or contrivance upon any highway or highway structure shall be liable for all damage which said highway or structure may sustain as a result of any illegal operation, driving, or moving of such vehicle, object, or contrivance, or as a result of operation, driving, or moving any vehicle, object, or contrivance weighing in excess of the maximum weight in this chapter but authorized by a special permit issued as provided in this chapter. Whenever such driver is not the owner of such vehicle, object, or contrivance, but is so operating, driving, or moving the same with the express or implied permission of said owner, then said owner and driver shall be jointly and severally liable for any such damage. Such damage may be recovered in a civil action brought by the authorities in control of such highway or highway structure.

The department shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A, stating the department's policy for recovery of damages to highways or highway structures pursuant to this section. The policy shall exclude from recoverable damages the costs of traffic control at the scene of an accident.

CHAPTER 321E
MOVEMENT OF VEHICLES OF EXCESSIVE SIZE AND WEIGHT

321E.8 Annual permits.
Subject to the discretion and judgment provided for in section 321E.1, annual permits shall be issued in accordance with the following provisions:

1. Vehicles with indivisible loads having an overall width not to exceed twelve feet five inches or mobile homes including appurtenances not to exceed twelve feet five inches and an overall length not to exceed seventy-five feet zero inches may be moved for unlimited distances. The vehicle and load shall not exceed the height of thirteen feet ten inches and the total gross weight as prescribed in section 321E.463.

2. Vehicles with indivisible loads, including mobile homes and factory-built structures, having an overall width not to exceed sixteen feet zero inches and an overall length not to exceed one hundred feet zero inches may be moved under an annual or all-systems permit and must have a route specified by the issuing authority prior to the movement. However, vehicles with indivisible loads, including mobile homes and factory-built structures, with an overall width not exceeding fourteen feet six inches may exceed fifty miles under an annual and all-systems permit when prior approval for trip routing is obtained from the issuing authority. The vehicle and load shall not exceed the height as prescribed in section 321.456 and the total gross weight as prescribed in section 321.463.

3. Vehicles with indivisible loads having an overall length not to exceed one hundred feet zero inches shall be restricted to trip distances not to exceed fifty highway and street miles in total aggregate. The vehicle and load shall not exceed the width as prescribed in section 321.454, the height as prescribed in section 321.456 and the total gross weight as prescribed in section 321.463.

4. All movements of mobile homes and other vehicles the width of which, including any load, exceeds the roadway lane width of the street or highway being traversed, shall be under escort.

321E.9 Single-trip permits.
Subject to the discretion and judgment provided for in section 321E.1, single-trip permits shall be issued in accordance with the following provisions:

1. Vehicles with indivisible loads having an overall width not to exceed forty feet, zero inches, an overall length not to exceed one hundred twenty feet, zero inches, or a total gross weight not to exceed one hundred thousand pounds may be moved, provided the gross weight on any one axle shall not exceed the maximum prescribed in section 321.463, pursuant to rules adopted pursuant to chapter 17A. The height of the vehicles and loads shall be limited only to height limitations of underpasses, bridges, power lines and other established height restrictions on the specified route.

2. Vehicles with indivisible loads exceeding the width, length, and total gross weight provided in subsection 1, may be moved in special or emergency situations, provided the gross weight on any one axle shall not exceed the maximum prescribed in section 321.463. The vehicle and load shall be accompanied by an escort as required by rules adopted pursuant to chapter 17A. The issuing authority may impose any special restrictions as deemed necessary on movements by permit under this subsection.

3. Vehicles or combinations of vehicles consisting of construction machinery being temporarily moved on streets, roads, and highways with a maximum total gross weight limitation and a single axle weight limitation prescribed in section 321E.7, an overall width not to exceed fourteen feet, an overall length not to exceed eighty feet, may be moved for unlimited distances over specified routes when accompanied by an escort as required by rules adopted pursuant to chapter 17A. The height of the vehicle or combination of vehicles shall be limited only to the height limitations of underpasses, bridges, power lines, and other established height restrictions on the specified route.

The department or local authorities issuing the permits shall charge a fee of twenty-five dollars for an annual permit and a fee of ten dollars for a single-trip permit and shall determine charges for special permits issued pursuant to section 321E.29 by rules adopted pursuant to chapter 17A. Fees for the movement of buildings, parts of buildings, or unusual vehicles or loads may be increased to cover the costs of inspections by the issuing authority. A fee not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars per day or a prorated fraction of that fee per person and car for escort service may be charged when requested or when required under this chapter. Proration of escort fees between state and local authorities when more than one governmental authority provides or is required to provide escort for a movement during the period of a day shall be determined by rule under section 321E.15. The department and local authorities may charge a permit applicant for the cost of trimming trees and removal and replacement of natural obstructions or official signs and signals or other public or private property required to be removed during the movement of a vehicle and load. In addition to the fees provided in this section, the annual fee for a permit for special mobile equipment, as defined in section 321.1, subsection 17, operated pursuant to section 321E.7, subsection 2, with a combined gross weight up to and including eighty thousand pounds shall be twenty-five dollars and for a combined gross weight exceeding eighty thousand pounds, fifty dollars.

In addition to the fees provided in this section, the annual fee for a permit for a trailer transporting soil conservation equipment operated under section 321E.7, subsection 3, shall be one hundred dollars.

The annual fee for an all-system permit is one hundred twenty dollars which shall be deposited in the road use tax fund.

321E.28 Single-trip and annual permits for mobile homes or factory-built structures.
The department and local authorities may, upon application and with good cause shown, issue single-trip or annual permits for the movement of mobile homes or factory-built structures of widths including appurtenances exceeding twelve feet five inches subject to the following conditions:
1. Permits shall be issued only when the movement can be safely accomplished without causing unnecessary traffic congestion.
2. Permits issued under this section shall specify the route over which the mobile home or factory-built structure shall be moved, and wherever possible, the department and local authorities shall specify highways having a roadway at least twenty-four feet in width.
3. Single-trip permits may be issued by the department or local authorities contingent upon favorable road and weather conditions.
4. A permit may be issued to allow the movement of a mobile home or factory-built structure on a fully controlled-access, divided, multilane highway at a speed exceeding forty miles per hour but not exceeding forty-five miles per hour.

For the purposes of this section, "factory-built structure" means a structure which is wholly or in substantial part, made, fabricated, formed, or assembled in manufacturing facilities for installation or assembly and installation on a building site and which is temporarily moved on its own axles.

CHAPTER 321G
SNOWMOBILES AND ALL-TERRAIN VEHICLES

321G.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "All-terrain vehicle" means a motorized flotation-tire vehicle with not less than three low pressure tires, but not more than six low pressure tires, that is limited in engine displacement to less than eight hundred cubic centimeters and in total dry weight to less than seven hundred fifty pounds and that has a seat or saddle designed to be straddled by the operator and handlebars for steering control.
2. "A' scale" means the physical scale marked "A" graduated in decibels on a sound level meter which meets the requirements of the American national standards institute, incorporated, publication S1.4-1961, general purpose sound level meters.
3. "Commission" means the natural resource commission of the department.
4. "Dealer" means a person engaged in the business of buying, selling, or exchanging all-terrain vehicles or snowmobiles required to be registered under this chapter and who has an established place of business for that purpose in this state.
5. "Department" means the department of natural resources.
6. "Established place of business" means the place actually occupied either continuously or at regular periods by a dealer or manufacturer where the books and records are kept and the dealer's or manufacturer's business is primarily transacted.
7. "Manufacturer" means a person engaged in the business of constructing or assembling all-terrain vehicles or snowmobiles required to be registered under this chapter and who has an established place of business for that purpose in this state.
8. "Measurable snow" means one-tenth of one inch of snow.
9. "Nonambulatory person" means an individual with paralysis of the lower half of the body with the involvement of both legs, usually caused by disease of or injury to the spinal cord, or caused by the loss of both legs or the loss of a part of both legs.
10 "Operate" means to ride in or on, other than as a passenger, use, or control the operation of an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile in any manner, whether or not the all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile is moving

11 "Operator" means a person who operates or is in actual physical control of an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile

12 "Owner" means a person, other than a lessee holder, having the property right in or title to an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile. The term includes a person entitled to the use or possession of an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile subject to an interest in another person, reserved or created by agreement and securing payment or performance of an obligation, but the term excludes a lessee under a lease not intended as security

13 "Person" means an individual, partnership, firm, corporation, association, and the state, its agencies, and political subdivisions

14 "Railroad right of way" shall mean the full width of property owned, leased or subject to easement for railroad purposes and shall not be limited to those areas on which tracks are located

15 "Roadway" means that portion of a highway improved, designed, or ordinarily used for vehicular travel

16 "Safety certificate" means an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile safety certificate issued by the commissioner to a qualified applicant who is twelve years of age or more

17 "Snowmobile" means a motorized vehicle weighing less than one thousand pounds which uses sled-type runners or skis, endless belt-type tread, or any combination of runners, skis, or tread, and is designed for travel on snow or ice

18 "Special event" means an organized race, exhibition, or demonstration of limited duration which is conducted according to a prearranged schedule and in which general public interest is manifested

19 "Street" or "highway" means the entire width between property lines of every way or place of whatever nature when any part thereof is open to the use of the public, as a matter of right, for purposes of vehicular travel, except in public areas in which the boundary shall be thirty-three feet each side of the center line of the roadway

A person shall not drive or operate an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile

1 At a rate of speed greater than reasonable or proper under all existing circumstances

2 In a careless, reckless, or negligent manner so as to endanger the person or property of another or to cause injury or damage thereto
3. While under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotics or habit-forming drugs.

4. Without a lighted headlight and taillight from sunset to sunrise and at such other times when conditions provide insufficient lighting to render clearly discernible persons and vehicles at a distance of five hundred feet ahead.

5. In any tree nursery or planting in a manner which damages or destroys growing stock.

6. On any public land, ice, or snow, in violation of official signs of the commission prohibiting such operation in the interest of safety for persons, property, or the environment. Any officer appointed by the commission may post an official sign in an emergency for the protection of persons, property, or the environment.

7. In or on any park or fish and game areas except on designated all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile trails.

8. Upon an operating railroad right of way. An all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile may be driven directly across a railroad right of way only at an established crossing and, notwithstanding any other provisions of law, may, if necessary, use the improved portion of the established crossing after yielding to all oncoming traffic. This subsection does not apply to a law enforcement officer or railroad employee in the lawful discharge of the officer's or employee's duties.

9. On any public road or street without a bright colored pennant or flag displayed at least sixty inches above the ground. Said pennant or flag shall be a minimum of six inches by nine inches, shall be orange and shall provide a fluorescent effect.

10. On public land without a measurable snow cover except as provided in section 321.234A or in specific areas permitted by the commission, such as "all-terrain vehicle parks" which are designated and intended for use with or without snow.

11. A person shall not operate or ride in an all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile with a firearm in the person's possession unless it is unloaded and enclosed in a carrying case. However, a nonambulatory person may carry an uncased and unloaded firearm while operating or riding an all-terrain vehicle or a snowmobile.

12. A person shall not operate an all-terrain vehicle while carrying a passenger.

1. A person under eighteen years of age shall not operate a snowmobile on public land or land purchased with snowmobile registration funds in this state without obtaining a valid safety certificate issued by the department and having the certificate in the person's possession, unless the person is accompanied on the same snowmobile by a responsible person of at least eighteen years of age who is experienced in snowmobile operation and possesses a valid motor vehicle license, as defined in section 321.1, or a safety certificate issued under this chapter. A person under eighteen years of age shall not operate an all-terrain vehicle on public land or land purchased with all-terrain vehicle registration funds in this state without obtaining a valid safety certificate issued by the department and having the certificate in the person's possession.

2. Upon application and payment of a fee of three dollars, a qualified applicant shall be issued a safety certificate which is valid until the certificate is suspended or revoked for a violation of a provision of this chapter or a rule of the commission or the director of transportation. The application shall be made on forms issued by the commission and shall contain the information which the certificate may reasonably require.

3. Any person who is required to have a safety certificate under this chapter and who has completed a course of instruction established under section 321G.2, subsection 5, including the successful passage of an examination which includes a written test relating to such course of instruction, shall be considered qualified to apply for a safety certificate. The commission may waive the requirement of completing such course of instruction if such person successfully passes a written test based on such course of instruction.

4. The permit fees collected under this section shall be credited to the state conservation fund and shall be used for safety and educational programs.

5. A valid all-terrain vehicle or snowmobile safety certificate or license issued to a nonresident by a governmental authority of another state shall be considered a valid certificate or license in this state.
§321J.4A Surrender of registration and plates.

1 Upon a plea or verdict of guilty of a third or subsequent violation of section 321J 2, the court shall issue an impoundment order requiring the surrender to the court of the registration certificate and registration plates of all of the following:
   a. All vehicles registered to the defendant, or jointly to the defendant and the defendant's spouse
   b. All vehicles owned by the defendant, or jointly by the defendant and the defendant's spouse
   c. All vehicles leased to the defendant, or jointly to the defendant and the defendant's spouse. This paragraph does not apply to a rental vehicle which is one of a fleet of two or more vehicles rented for periods of four months or less

2 For purposes of this section, a conviction for, deferred judgment for, or plea of guilty to, a violation of section 321J 2, which occurred more than six years prior to the date of the most recent violation charged, shall not be considered in determining that the most recent violation is a third or subsequent violation.

3 If the court issues an impoundment order, the registration certificate and registration plates shall be surrendered to the court either three days after the order is issued or on the date specified by the court, whichever is later. If the registration plates have been surrendered to the department pursuant to section 321A 17, the defendant shall notify the court. The court shall forward the notice and impoundment order to the county treasurer. The court shall forward surrendered registration certificates to the county treasurer within seven days after surrender. The court may destroy the surrendered registration plates. Except as provided in subsection 5, new registration plates shall not be issued to the defendant or owner until the driver's license of the violator has been reissued or reinstated. The court shall notify the director within ten days after issuing an impoundment order.

4 A defendant or an owner may apply to the director for new registration plates, which must bear a special series of numbers or letters so as to be readily identified by traffic law enforcement officers. Application for and acceptance of special plates constitutes implied consent for law enforcement officers to stop the vehicle bearing special plates at any time. The director shall authorize the issuance of special plates if any of the following apply:
   1. A member of the defendant's household has a valid driver's license.
   2. The defendant or owner has a temporary restricted license issued pursuant to section 321J 4, subsection 8.
   The director may issue the special plates on payment of a fifty dollar fee for each vehicle for which special plates are requested.

5 A registered owner shall not sell a motor vehicle during the time its registration plates and registration certificate have been ordered surrendered or during the time its registration plates bear a special series number, unless the registered owner applies to the department for consent to transfer title to the motor vehicle. If the department is satisfied that the proposed sale is in good faith and for valid consideration, that the registered owner will be deprived of custody and control of the motor vehicle, and that the sale is not for the purpose of circumventing the provisions of this section, the department may certify its consent to the county treasurer. The county treasurer shall then transfer the title to the new owner upon proper application and issue new registration plates. After the registration plates and registration certificate have been ordered surrendered to the court under this section, if the title to the motor vehicle is transferred by the cancellation of a conditional sales contract, a sale upon execution, or by decree or order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the department shall order the title surrendered to the new registered owner. The county treasurer shall then transfer the title and issue new registration plates to the new registered owner.

6 This section is not intended to change or modify taxation of motor vehicles or the time within which a motor vehicle tax must be paid.

7 A person who fails to surrender any registration plates or a registration certificate to the court... upon demand under this section or who fails to comply with this section is guilty of a simple misdemeanor and contempt of court.

b A person who operates a motor vehicle on a street or highway at a time when a court has ordered the surrender of its registration plate and registration certificate is guilty of a simple misdemeanor as a separate and distinct offense from any other penalty imposed in connection with driving while under a license suspension or revocation.

8. The director may adopt such rules as may be necessary or convenient for the implementation and administration of this section.

321J.17 Civil penalty — victim compensation fund — reinstatement.
When the department revokes a person's motor vehicle license or nonresident operating privilege under this chapter, the department shall assess the person a civil penalty of one hundred dollars. The money collected by the department under this section shall be transmitted to the treasurer of state who shall deposit the money in the separate fund established in section 912.14. A temporary restricted license shall not be issued or a motor vehicle license or nonresident operating privilege reinstated until the civil penalty has been paid.

CHAPTER 322A
MOTOR VEHICLE FRANCHISERS

322A.1 Definitions.
When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Community" means the franchisee's area of responsibility as stipulated in the franchise.
2. "Consumer care" means to perform, for the public, necessary maintenance and repairs to motor vehicles.
3. "Department" means the state department of transportation.
4. "Franchise" means a contract between two or more persons when all of the following conditions are included:
   a A commercial relationship of definite duration or continuing indefinite duration is involved.
   b The franchisee is granted the right to offer and sell motor vehicles manufactured or distributed by the franchiser.
   c The franchisee, as an independent business, constitutes a component of franchiser's distribution system.
   d The operation of franchisee's business is substantially associated with the franchiser's trade-mark, service mark, trade name, advertising, or other commercial symbol designating the franchiser.
   e The operation of the franchisee's business is substantially reliant on franchiser for the continued supply of motor vehicles, parts, and accessories.
5. "Franchisee" means a person who receives motor vehicles from the franchiser under a franchise and who offers and sells such motor vehicles to the general public.
6. "Franchiser" means a person who manufactures or distributes motor vehicles and who may enter into a franchise as hereinafter defined.
7. "Motor vehicle" means "motor vehicles" as defined in chapter 321 which are subject to registration pursuant to the provisions thereof.
8. "Person" means a sole proprietor, partnership, corporation, or any other form of business organization.
9. "Termination or noncontinuance" includes a reduction of the geographic area of a community.
CHAPTER 322E
NEW MOTOR VEHICLE REPAIR OR REPLACEMENT
Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 153, § 16; see ch 322G

CHAPTER 322G
DEFECTIVE MOTOR VEHICLES
(LEMON LAW)

322G.1 Legislative intent.
The general assembly recognizes that a motor vehicle is a major consumer acquisition and that a defective motor vehicle undoubtedly creates a hardship for the consumer. The general assembly further recognizes that a duly franchised motor vehicle dealer is an authorized service agent of the manufacturer. It is the intent of the general assembly that a good faith motor vehicle warranty complaint by a consumer be resolved by the manufacturer within a specified period of time. It is further the intent of the general assembly to provide the statutory procedures whereby a consumer may receive a replacement motor vehicle, or a full refund, for a motor vehicle which cannot be brought into conformity with the warranty provided for in this chapter. However, this chapter does not limit the rights or remedies which are otherwise available to a consumer under any other law.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Collateral charges” means those additional charges to a consumer wholly incurred as a result of the acquisition of the motor vehicle. For the purposes of this chapter, collateral charges include, but are not limited to, charges for manufacturer-installed or agent-installed items, earned finance charges, use taxes, and title charges.
2. “Condition” means a general problem that may be attributable to a defect in more than one part.
3. “Consumer” means the purchaser or lessee, other than for purposes of lease or resale, of a new or previously untitled motor vehicle, or any other person entitled by the terms of the warranty to enforce the obligations of the warranty during the duration of the lemon law rights period.
4. “Days” means calendar days.
5. “Department” means the attorney general.
6. “Incidental charges” means those reasonable costs incurred by the consumer, including, but not limited to, towing charges and the costs of obtaining alternative transportation, which are the direct result of the nonconformity or nonconformities which are the subject of the claim. Incidental charges do not include loss of use, loss of income, or personal injury claims.
7. “Lease price” means the aggregate of the following:
   a. Lessor’s actual purchase costs.
   b. Collateral charges, if applicable.
   c. Any fee paid to another to obtain the lease.
   d. Any insurance or other costs expended by the lessor for the benefit of the lessee.
   e. An amount equal to state and local use taxes, not otherwise included as collateral charges, paid by the lessor when the vehicle was initially purchased.
   f. An amount equal to five percent of the lessor’s actual purchase cost.
8. “Lemon law rights period” means the term of the manufacturer’s written warranty, the period ending two years after the date of the original delivery of a motor vehicle to a consumer, or the first twenty-four thousand miles of operation attributable to a consumer, whichever expires first.
9. “Lessee” means any consumer who leases a motor vehicle for one year or more pursuant to a written lease agreement which provides that the lessee is responsible for repairs to the motor vehicle.
10. “Lessee cost” means the aggregate of the deposit and rental payments previously paid to the lessor for the leased vehicle.
11. “Lessor” means a person who holds the title to a motor vehicle leased to a lessee under a written lease agreement or who holds the lessor’s rights under the agreement.
12. “Manufacturer” means a person engaged in the business of constructing or assembling new motor vehicles or installing on previously assembled vehicle chassis special bodies or equipment which, when installed, form an integral part of the new motor vehicle, or a person engaged in the business of importing new motor vehicles into the United States for the purpose of selling or distributing the new motor vehicles to new motor vehicle dealers.

13. "Motor vehicle" means a self-propelled vehicle purchased or leased in this state and primarily designed for the transportation of persons or property over public streets and highways, but does not include mopeds, motorcycles, motor homes, or vehicles over ten thousand pounds gross vehicle weight rating.

14. "Nonconformity" means a defect, malfunction, or condition in a motor vehicle such that the vehicle fails to conform to the warranty, but does not include a defect, malfunction, or condition that results from an accident, abuse, neglect, modification, or alteration of the motor vehicle by persons other than the manufacturer or its authorized service agent.

15. "Person" means person as defined in section 714.16.

16. "Program" means an informal dispute settlement procedure established by a manufacturer which mediates and arbitrates motor vehicle warranty disputes arising in this state.

17. "Purchase price" means the cash price paid for the motor vehicle appearing in the sales agreement or contract, including any net allowance given for a trade-in vehicle.

18. "Reasonable offset for use" means the number of miles attributable to a consumer up to the date of the third attempt to repair the same nonconformity which is the subject of the claim, or the first attempt to repair a nonconformity that is likely to cause death or serious bodily injury, or the twentieth cumulative day when the vehicle is out of service by reason of repair of one or more nonconformities, whichever occurs first, multiplied by the purchase price of the vehicle, or in the event of a leased vehicle, the lessor’s actual lease price plus an amount equal to two percent of the purchase price, and divided by one hundred twenty thousand.

19. "Replacement motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle which is identical or reasonably equivalent to the motor vehicle to be replaced, and as the motor vehicle to be replaced would have existed without the nonconformity at the time of original acquisition.

20. "Substantially impair" means to render the motor vehicle unfit, unreliable, or unsafe for warranted or ordinary use, or to significantly diminish the value of the motor vehicle.

21. "Warranty" means any written warranty issued by the manufacturer; or any affirmation of fact or promise made by the manufacturer, excluding statements made by the dealer, in connection with the sale or lease of a motor vehicle to a consumer, which relates to the nature of the material or workmanship and affirms or promises that the material or workmanship is free of defects or will meet a specified level of performance.

322G.3 Duties of manufacturer.

1. At the time of the consumer’s purchase or lease of the vehicle, the manufacturer shall provide to the consumer a written statement that explains the consumer’s rights and obligations under this chapter. The written statement shall be prepared by the attorney general and shall contain a telephone number that the consumer can use to obtain information from the attorney general regarding the rights and obligations provided under this chapter.

2. At the time of the consumer’s purchase or lease of the vehicle, the manufacturer shall provide to the consumer the address and phone number for the zone, district, or regional office of the manufacturer for this state where a claim may be filed by the consumer. This information shall be provided to the consumer in a clear and conspicuous manner. Within thirty days of the introduction of a new model year for each make and model of motor vehicle sold in this state, the manufacturer shall notify the attorney general of such introduction. The manufacturer shall also inform the attorney general that a copy of the owner’s manual and applicable written warranties shall be provided upon request and provide information as to where the request should be made. The manufacturer shall inform the attorney general where such a request should be directed and shall provide the copy of the owner’s manual and applicable written warranties within five business days of a request by the attorney general.

3. A manufacturer or the authorized service agent of the manufacturer shall make repairs as necessary to conform the vehicle to the warranty if a motor vehicle does not conform to the warranty and the consumer reports the nonconformity to the manufacturer or authorized service agent during the lemon law rights period. Such repairs shall be made irrespective of whether they can be made prior to the expiration of the lemon law rights period.

4. A manufacturer or the authorized service agent of the manufacturer, shall provide to the consumer, each time the motor vehicle is returned after being examined or repaired under the warranty, a fully itemized, legible statement or repair order indicating any diagnosis made, and all work performed on the motor vehicle including, but not limited to, a general description of the problem reported by the consumer or an identification of the defect or condition, parts and labor, the date and the odometer reading when the motor vehicle was submitted for examination or repair, and the date when the repair or examination was completed.

5. Upon request from the consumer, the manufacturer, or the authorized service agent of the manufacturer, shall provide a copy of either or both of the following:

   a. Any report or printout of any diagnostic computer operation compiled by the manufacturer or authorized service agent regarding an inspection or diagnosis of the motor vehicle.

   b. A copy of any technical service bulletin issued by the manufacturer regarding the year and model of the motor vehicle as it pertains to any material, feature, component, or the performance of the motor vehicle.

91 Acts, ch 153, §3 HF 566

322G.4 Nonconformity of motor vehicles.
1. After three attempts have been made to repair the same nonconformity that substantially impairs the motor vehicle, or after one attempt to repair a nonconformity that is likely to cause death or serious bodily injury, the consumer may give written notification, which shall be by certified or registered mail or by overnight service, to the manufacturer of the need to repair the nonconformity in order to allow the manufacturer a final attempt to cure the nonconformity. The manufacturer shall, within ten days after receipt of such notification, notify and provide the consumer with the opportunity to have the vehicle repaired at a reasonably accessible repair facility and after delivery of the vehicle to the designated repair facility by the consumer, the manufacturer shall, within ten days, conform the motor vehicle to the warranty. If the manufacturer fails to notify and provide the consumer with the opportunity to have the vehicle repaired at a reasonably accessible repair facility or perform the repairs within the time periods prescribed in this subsection, the requirement that the manufacturer be given a final attempt to cure the nonconformity does not apply.

After twenty or more cumulative days when the motor vehicle has been out of service by reason of repair of one or more nonconformities, the consumer may give written notification to the manufacturer which shall be by certified or registered mail or by overnight service. Commencing upon the date such notification is received, the manufacturer has ten cumulative days when the vehicle has been out of service by reason of repair of one or more nonconformities to conform the motor vehicle to the warranty.

2. If the manufacturer, or its authorized service agent, has not conformed the motor vehicle to the warranty by repairing or correcting one or more nonconformities that substantially impair the motor vehicle after a reasonable number of attempts, the manufacturer shall, within forty days of receipt of payment by the manufacturer of a reasonable offset for use by the consumer, replace the motor vehicle with a replacement motor vehicle acceptable to the consumer, or repurchase the motor vehicle from the consumer or lessor and refund to the consumer or lessor the full purchase or lease price, less a reasonable offset for use. The replacement or refund shall include payment of all collateral and reasonably incurred incidental charges. The consumer has an unconditional right to choose a refund rather than a replacement. If the consumer elects to receive a refund, and the refund exceeds the amount of the payment for a reasonable offset for use, the requirement that the consumer pay the reasonable offset for use in advance does not apply, and the manufacturer shall deduct that amount from the refund due to the consumer. If the consumer elects a replacement motor vehicle, the manufacturer shall provide the consumer a substitute motor vehicle to use until such time as the replacement vehicle is delivered to the consumer. At the time of the refund or replacement, the consumer, lienholder, or lessor shall furnish to the manufacturer clear title to and possession of the original motor vehicle.

Refunds shall be made to the consumer and lienholder of record, if any, as their interests appear. If applicable, refunds shall be made to the consumer, lienholder, or lessor as follows: the lessee shall receive the lessee's cost less a reasonable offset for use, and the lessor shall receive the lease price less the aggregate deposit and rental payments previously paid to the lessor for the leased vehicle. If it is determined that the lessee is entitled to a refund pursuant to this chapter, the consumer's lease agreement with the lessor is terminated upon payment of the refund and no penalty for early termination shall be assessed. The department of revenue and finance shall refund to the manufacturer any use tax which the manufacturer refunded to the consumer, lessee, or lessor under this section, if the manufacturer provides to the department of revenue and finance a written request for a refund and evidence that the use tax was paid when the vehicle was purchased and that the manufacturer refunded the use tax to the consumer, lessee, or lessor.

3. It is presumed that a reasonable number of attempts have been undertaken to conform a motor vehicle to the warranty if, during the lemon law rights period, any of the following occur:
   a. The same nonconformity that substantially impairs the motor vehicle has been subject to examination or repair at least three times by the manufacturer or its authorized service agent, plus a final attempt by the manufacturer to repair the motor vehicle if undertaken as provided for in subsection 1, and such nonconformity continues to exist.
   b. A nonconformity that is likely to cause death or serious bodily injury has been subject to examination or repair at least one time by the manufacturer or its authorized service agent, plus a final attempt by the manufacturer to repair the motor vehicle if undertaken as provided for in subsection 1, and such nonconformity continues to exist.
   c. The motor vehicle has been out of service by reason of repair by the manufacturer, or its authorized service agent, of one or more nonconformities that substantially impair the motor vehicle for a cumulative total of thirty or more days, exclusive of down time for routine maintenance prescribed by the owner's manual. The thirty-day period may be extended by any period of time during which repair services are not available to the consumer because of war, invasion, strike, fire, flood, or natural disaster.

The terms of this subsection shall be extended for a period of up to two years after the date of the original delivery of a motor vehicle to a consumer, or the first twenty-four thousand miles of operation attributable to a consumer, whichever occurs first, if a nonconformity has been reported but has not been cured by the manufacturer, or its authorized service agent, before the expiration of the lemon law rights period.

4. A manufacturer, or its authorized service agent, shall not refuse to examine or repair any nonconformity for the purpose of avoiding liability under this chapter.

322G.5 Affirmative defenses.

Any of the following is an affirmative defense to a claim under this chapter:

1. The alleged nonconformity or nonconformities do not substantially impair the motor vehicle.

2. A nonconformity is the result of an accident, abuse, neglect, or unauthorized modification or alteration of the motor vehicle by a person other than the manufacturer or its authorized service agent.

3. The claim by the consumer was not filed in good faith.

4. Any other defense allowed by law which may be raised against the claim.

91 Acts, ch 153, §5 HF 566

322G.6 Informal dispute settlement procedures — operations and certification.

1. At the time of the consumer's purchase or lease of the vehicle, a manufacturer who has established a program certified pursuant to this section shall, at a minimum, clearly and conspicuously disclose to the consumer in written materials accompanying the vehicle how and where to file a claim with the program.

2. A certified program shall be funded and competently staffed at a level sufficient to ensure fair and expeditious resolution of all disputes, and shall not charge consumers any fee for use of the program. The manufacturer shall take all steps necessary to ensure that a certified program and its staff and decision makers are sufficiently insulated from the manufacturer so that the performance of the staff and the decisions of the decision makers are not influenced by the manufacturer. Such steps, at a minimum, shall ensure that the manufacturer does not make decisions on whether a consumer's dispute proceeds to the decision maker. Staff and decision makers of a certified program shall be trained in the procedures of this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

3. A certified program shall allow an oral presentation by a party, or by a party's employee, agent, or representative.

Within five days following the consumer's notification to the certified program of the dispute, the program shall inform each party of their right to make an oral presentation.

Meetings of a certified program to hear and decide disputes shall be open to observers, including either party to the dispute, on reasonable and nondiscriminatory terms.

4. A certified program shall render a decision no later than sixty days from the day of the consumer's notification of the dispute, provided that a significant number of decisions are rendered within forty days. For the purposes of this section, notification is deemed to have occurred when a certified program has received the consumer's name and address; the current date and the date of the original delivery of the motor vehicle to a consumer; the year, make, model, and identification number of the motor vehicle; and a description of the nonconformity. If the consumer has not previously notified the manufacturer of the nonconformity, the sixty-day period is extended for an additional seven days.

5. A certified program shall, in rendering decisions, take into account the provisions of this chapter and all legal and equitable factors germane to a fair and just decision. The decision shall disclose to the consumer and the manufacturer the reasons for the decision, and the manufacturer's required actions, if applicable. If the decision is in favor of the consumer, the consumer shall have up to twenty-five days from the date of receipt of the certified program's decision to indicate acceptance of the decision. The decision shall prescribe a reasonable period of time, not to exceed thirty days from the date the consumer notifies the manufacturer of acceptance of the decision, within which the manufacturer must fulfill the terms of the decision. If the manufacturer has had a reasonable number of attempts to conform a motor vehicle to the warranty as set forth in section 322G.4, subsection 3, including a final attempt by the manufacturer to repair the motor vehicle, if undertaken as provided for in section 322G.4, subsection 1, and the consumer is entitled to a replacement vehicle or a refund under section 322G.4, subsection 2, the decision shall be limited to relief as allowed under section 322G.4, subsection 2. In an action brought by a consumer under this chapter, the decision of a certified program is admissible in evidence.

6. A certified program shall establish written procedures which explain operation of the certified program. Copies of the written procedures shall be made available to any person upon request and shall be sent to the consumer upon notification of the dispute.

7. A certified program shall retain all records for each dispute for at least four years after the final disposition of the dispute. A certified program shall have an independent audit conducted annually to determine whether the manufacturer and its performance and the program and its implementation are in compliance with this chapter. All records for each dispute shall be available for the audit. Such audit, upon completion, shall be forwarded to the attorney general.

8. Any manufacturer licensed to sell motor vehicles in this state may apply to the attorney general for certification of its program. A manufacturer seeking certification of its program in this state shall submit to the attorney general an application for cer-§322G.8 Consumer remedies.

1 If a consumer resorts to a manufacturer's certified program and a decision is not rendered within the time periods allowed in this chapter, or a manufacturer has no certified program and the consumer has notified the manufacturer pursuant to section 322G 4, subsection 1, the consumer may file an action in district court under this chapter within one year from the expiration of the lemon law rights period or an extension of the period pursuant to section 322G 4, subsection 3.

2 If a consumer resorts to a manufacturer's certified program and is not satisfied with the performance of the manufacturer as ordered in the decision, or the manufacturer does not perform as directed by the decision within the time period specified in the decision, the consumer may file an action in district court under this chapter within six months after the date prescribed in the decision by which the manufacturer must fulfill the terms of the decision. If the consumer declines to accept the decision of the manufacturer's certified program, the consumer may appeal the decision pursuant to subsection 4. For purposes of this subsection, "not satisfied with the performance of the decision" means, following the consumer's acceptance of the decision, the consumer indicates that the manufacturer failed to comply with the terms of the decision within the time specified in the decision or failed to cure the nonconformity within the time specified in the decision if further repairs were ordered.

3 In an action under either subsection 1 or 2, the court shall award a consumer who prevails the amount of any pecuniary loss, including relief the consumer is entitled to under section 322G 4, subsection 2, reasonable attorney's fees, and costs. In addition, if the court affirms the decision of the certified program, the court may award any additional amounts allowed under subsection 7.

4 A certified program's decision is final unless appealed by either party. A petition to the district court to appeal a decision must be made within thirty days after receipt of the decision or within twenty-five days from the date the consumer indicates acceptance of the decision to the manufacturer, whichever occurs first. Within seven days after the petition has been filed, the appealing party must send, by certified, registered, or express mail, a copy of the petition to the attorney general. If the attorney general receives no notice of the petition within sixty days after the manufacturer's receipt of a decision in favor of the consumer, and the consumer has indicated acceptance of the decision within the twenty-five days of receipt of the decision, but the manufacturer has neither complied with nor petitioned to appeal the decision, the attorney general may apply to the court to impose a fine up to one thousand dollars per day against the manufacturer until the amount stands at twice the purchase price of the motor vehicle, unless the manufacturer provides clear and convincing evidence that the delay or failure was beyond its control or was acceptable to the consumer as evidenced by a written statement signed by the consumer. If the manufacturer fails to provide such evidence or fails to pay the fine, the attorney general shall initiate proceedings against the manufacturer for failure to pay the fine. The proceeds from the fine imposed shall be placed in the attorney general's motor vehicle fraud and odometer law enforcement fund for implementation and enforcement of this chapter.

5. If the manufacturer fails to comply with a decision which has been timely accepted by the consumer or fails to file a timely petition for appeal, the court shall affirm the board's decision upon application by the consumer.

6. An appeal of a decision by a certified program to the court by a consumer or a manufacturer shall be tried de novo, and may be based upon stipulated facts. In a written petition to appeal a decision by the board, the appealing party must state the action requested and the grounds relied upon for appeal.

7. If a decision of the certified program in favor of the consumer is affirmed or upheld by the court, recovery by the consumer shall include the pecuniary value of the award, including relief the consumer is entitled to under section 322G.4, subsection 2, attorney's fees incurred in obtaining confirmation of the award, and all costs and continuing damages in an amount of twenty-five dollars per day for all days beyond the twenty-five-day period following the manufacturer's receipt of the consumer's acceptance of the certified program's decision. If a court determines that a manufacturer filed a petition for appeal to be tried de novo in bad faith or brought such an appeal solely for the purpose of harassment, the court shall double, and may triple, the amount of the total award, after consideration of all circumstances.

8. Appellate review of a court decision in favor of the consumer may be conditioned upon payment by the manufacturer of the consumer's attorney's fees and giving security for costs and expenses resulting from the review period.

9. This chapter does not prohibit a consumer from pursuing other rights or remedies under any other law.

§322G.9 Compliance and disciplinary action.
The attorney general may enforce and ensure compliance with the provisions of this chapter and rules adopted pursuant to section 322G.14, may issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence, and may petition any court having jurisdiction to compel compliance with the subpoenas. The attorney general may levy and collect an administrative fine in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation against any manufacturer found to be in violation of this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to section 322G.14. A manufacturer may request a hearing pursuant to chapter 17A, the administrative procedure Act, if the manufacturer contests the fine levied against it. The proceeds from any fine levied and collected pursuant to this section shall be placed in the attorney general's motor vehicle fraud and odometer law enforcement fund for implementation and enforcement of this chapter.

A violation by a manufacturer of this chapter is an unfair or deceptive trade practice in violation of section 714.16, subsection 2, paragraph "a".

§322G.11 Dealer liability.
This chapter does not impose any liability on a franchised motor vehicle dealer or create a cause of action by a consumer against a dealer. A dealer shall not be made a party defendant in any action involving or relating to this chapter, except as provided in this section. The manufacturer shall not charge back or require reimbursement by the dealer for any costs, including but not limited to any refunds or vehicle replacements, incurred by the manufacturer pursuant to this chapter, in the absence of a finding by a court that the related repairs had been carried out by the dealer in a manner substantially inconsistent with the manufacturer's published instructions. A manufacturer who is found by a court to have improperly charged back a dealer because of a violation of this section is liable to the injured dealer for full reimbursement plus reasonable costs and any attorney's fees.

Subsequent to December 31, 1991, a manufacturer who accepts the return of a motor vehicle pursuant to a settlement, determination, or decision under this chapter shall notify the state department of transportation and report the vehicle identification number of that motor vehicle within ten days after the acceptance. The state department of transportation shall note the fact that the motor vehicle was returned pursuant to this chapter on the title for the motor vehicle. A person shall not knowingly sell; or sell, either at wholesale or retail; or transfer a title to a motor vehicle returned by reason of a settlement, determination, or decision pursuant to this chapter or a similar statute of any other state unless the nature of the nonconformity is clearly and conspicuously disclosed to the prospective transferee, lessee, or buyer. The attorney general shall prescribe by rule the form, content, and procedure pertaining to such a disclosure statement, recognizing the need of manufacturers to implement a uniform disclosure form. The manufacturer shall make a reasonable effort to ensure that such disclosure is made to the first subsequent retail buyer or lessee. For purposes of this subsection, "settlement" includes an agreement entered into between the manufacturer and the con-323A.2 Purchase from other source.

1. The orderly flow of an adequate supply of motor fuel is declared to be essential to the economy and to the welfare of the people of this state. Therefore, in the public interest and notwithstanding the terms, provisions, or conditions of any franchise, a franchisee unable to obtain motor fuel from the franchisor may purchase the fuel from another available source, subject to subsections 2 to 5 and provided the franchisee has done all of the following:
   a. At least forty-eight hours prior to entering into an agreement to purchase motor fuel from another source, the franchisee has requested delivery of motor fuel from the franchisor and the requested motor fuel has not been delivered and the franchisor has given the franchisee notice that the franchisor is unable to provide the requested motor fuel, or prior to entering into an agreement the franchisor has stated to the franchisee that the requested motor fuel will not be delivered. The request to the franchisor for delivery shall be for a type of fuel normally provided by the franchisor to the franchisee and for a quantity of fuel not exceeding the average amount sold by the franchisee in one week, based upon average weekly sales in the three months preceding the request, except that this provision shall not restrict a franchisee from purchasing ethanol blended gasoline from a source other than the franchisor or limit the quantity to be purchased when the franchisor does not normally supply the franchisee with ethanol blended gasoline.
   b. The franchisee has requested and has been denied delivery of motor fuel sold or distributed under the trademark named in the franchise from a person other than franchisor.
   c. The director of the department of natural resources determines that the franchisee has demonstrated that a special hardship exists in the community served by the franchisee relating to the public health, safety and welfare, as specified under the rules of the department of natural resources.
   2. The quantity of motor fuel requested or purchased from another source including the source listed in subsection 1, paragraph "fa", shall not exceed the quantity requested from the franchisor.
   3. At the time a franchisee enters into an agreement to purchase motor fuel from a source other than the franchisor, the franchisee shall inform the franchisor by the quickest available means.
   4. If the franchisee sells motor fuel supplied from a source other than the franchisor, the franchisee shall prominently post a sign disclosing this fact to the public on each motor fuel pump used for dispensing the motor fuel. The size of the sign shall not be less than eight inches by ten inches and the letters on the sign shall be at least three inches in height.
   5. A franchisee who sells motor fuel supplied from a source other than the franchisor shall also fully indemnify the franchisor against any claims asserted by a user on which the claimant prevails and in which the court determines that motor fuel not acquired from the franchisor was the proximate cause of the injury.

Purchases of motor fuel in accordance with this section are not good cause for termination of a franchise.

Subsection 1 paragraph a amended
CHAPTER 324
MOTOR FUEL TAX LAW

324.2 Definitions.
As employed in this division:
1. "Aviation gasoline" means any gasoline which is capable of being used for propelling aircraft, which is invoiced as aviation gasoline or is received, sold, stored, or withdrawn from storage by any person for the purpose of propelling aircraft. Motor fuel capable of being used for propelling motor vehicles is not aviation gasoline.
2. "Dealer," "agent" and "consignee" shall mean and include any person (except distributors as herein defined) now or hereafter engaged in the business of selling motor fuel in this state.
3. "Department" means the department of revenue and finance.
4. "Director" means the director of revenue and finance.
5. "Distributor" shall mean and include any person who first receives motor fuel within this state (within the meaning of the word "received" as hereinafter defined), and any person now or hereafter engaged in the business of selling motor fuel to a dealer in this state where such dealer is personally responsible therefor and is engaged in the business of selling motor fuel in this state.
6. "Ethanol blended gasoline" means motor fuel containing at least ten percent alcohol distilled from cereal grains.
7. "Licensee" shall mean and include any person holding an uncanceled distributor's license issued by the department under this division or any prior motor fuel tax law.
8. "Motor fuel" shall mean (a) all products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline (including casinghead and absorption or natural gasoline) regardless of their classifications or uses; and (b) any liquid advertised, offered for sale, sold for use as, or commonly or commercially used as a fuel for propelling motor vehicles, which when subjected to distillation of gasoline, naphtha, kerosene and similar petroleum products (American Society of Testing Materials Designation D-86), show not less than ten per centum distilled (recovered) below three hundred forty-seven degrees Fahrenheit (one hundred seventy-five degrees Centigrade) and not less than ninety-five per centum distilled (recovered) below four hundred sixty-four degrees Fahrenheit (two hundred forty degrees Centigrade); provided, that the term "motor fuel" shall not include special fuel as defined in section 324.33, subsection 1, and shall not include liquefied gases which would not exist as liquids at a temperature of sixty degrees Fahrenheit and a pressure of fourteen and seven-tenths pounds per square inch absolute, nor naphthas and solvents as hereinafter defined unless the liquefied gases or naphthas and solvents are used as a component in the manufacture, compounding, or blending of a liquid within (b) above, in which event the resulting product shall be deemed to be motor fuel.
9. "Motor fuel deemed received."
   a. Motor fuel refined at a refinery in this state and placed in tanks thereat, and motor fuel transferred from a refinery or a marine or pipeline terminal in this state or from points outside this state to a refinery or a marine or pipeline terminal in this state and placed in tanks thereat, shall be deemed received, for the purposes of this division, at the time withdrawn from such refinery or terminal storage for sale or use in this state or for transportation to destinations in this state other than refiners or marine or pipeline terminals and not before.
   b. Motor fuel imported into this state, other than that placed in storage at refineries or terminals as set out in paragraph "a" above, shall be deemed received at the time unloaded in this state and by the person who is the owner thereof immediately prior to withdrawal, unless (1) the motor fuel is withdrawn for shipment or delivery to a licensee, in which case the motor fuel shall be deemed received by the licensee to whom shipped or delivered or (2) the motor fuel is withdrawn for shipment or delivery to a nonlicensee for the account of a licensee in which case the motor fuel shall be deemed received by the licensee for whose account the shipment or delivery to the nonlicensee is made.
   c. Motor fuel produced, compounded, or blended in this state other than at a refinery, marine or pipeline terminal, shall be deemed to be received at the time and by the person who is the owner thereof when the same is so produced, compounded or blended.
Motor fuel acquired in this state by any person, other than as set out in paragraphs "a", "b", or "c" above, shall, unless the person from whom the same is acquired has paid or incurred liability with respect thereto for the tax hereon imposed, or unless the same be exempt under this division, be deemed to be received by the person so acquiring the same at the time so acquired.

Except as herebefore set forth, the word "received" shall be given its usual and customary meaning.

"Naphthas and solvents" shall mean and include those liquids which come within the distillation specifications for motor fuel set out under subsection 8, paragraph "b," but which are designed and sold for exclusive use other than as a fuel for propelling motor vehicles.

"Regional transit system" means regional transit system as defined in section 324.57, subsection 11.

"Urban transit system" means Iowa urban transit system as defined in section 324.57, subsection 9.

Motor fuel sold for export or exported from this state to any other state, territory, or foreign country, but the tax on motor fuel so sold, to the extent permitted by federal law, shall be collected by the post exchange or concessionaire, reported and paid to the department.

Motor fuel used in the operation of an Iowa urban transit system. However, fuel sold to an Iowa urban transit system which is used for a purpose other than as specified in section 324.57, subsection 9, is not exempt from the tax.

Motor fuel sold to a regional transit system, the state, any of its agencies, or to any political subdivision of the state, which is used for a purpose specified in section 324.57, subsection 11 or for public purposes and delivered into any size of storage tank owned or used exclusively by a regional transit system, the state, any of its agencies, or a political subdivision of the state. The department shall issue exemption certificate forms to a regional transit system, the state, its agencies, and political subdivisions of the state, or a regional transit system, the state, any of its agencies, or a political subdivision of the state, or a licensed motor fuel distributor may provide its own certificate of exemption in the form prescribed by the director, to a distributor or dealer to substantiate tax-exempt sales of motor fuel under this subsection. The certificate of exemption shall state that all of the motor fuel delivered into the storage tank shall be used for a purpose specified in section 324.57, subsection 11, or be used for public purposes.

Motor fuel shall be sold tax-paid to a regional transit system, the state of Iowa, any of its agencies, or to any political subdivision of the state, including motor fuel sold for the transportation of pupils of approved public and nonpublic schools by a contract carrier who contracts with the public school under section 285.5 for the transportation of public and nonpublic school pupils under chapter 285, unless the motor fuel is delivered into storage tanks and exempt under this subsection. Tax on fuel which is used for a purpose specified in section 324.57, subsection 11 or for public purposes is subject to refund, including tax paid on motor fuel sold for the transportation of school pupils of approved public and nonpublic schools by a contract carrier who contracts with the public school under section 285.5 for the transportation of public and nonpublic school pupils under chapter 285.

Claims for refunds shall be filed with the department on a quarterly basis and the director shall not grant a refund of motor fuel or special fuel tax where a claim is not filed within one year from the date the tax was due. The claim shall contain the number of gallons purchased, the calculation of the amount of motor fuel and special fuel tax subject to refund and any other information required by the department necessary to process the refund.

For the privilege of operating motor vehicles in this state an excise tax of twenty cents per gallon is imposed upon the use of all motor fuel used for any purpose except aviation gasoline and except motor fuel containing at least ten percent alcohol distilled from cereal grains grown in the United States for the period ending June 30, 2000, and except as otherwise provided in this division. For the privilege of operating an aircraft in this state an excise tax of eight cents per gallon is imposed on the use of all aviation gasoline.

The tax shall be paid in the first instance by the distributor upon the invoiced gallonage of all motor fuel received by the distributor in this state, within the meaning of the word "received" as defined in this division, less the deductions authorized. Thereafter, except as otherwise provided, the per gallon amount of the tax shall be added to the selling price of every gallon of such motor fuel sold in this state and shall be collected from the purchaser so that the ultimate consumer bears the burden of the tax. However, the tax shall not be imposed or collected under this division with respect to the following:

1. Motor fuel sold for export or exported from this state to any other state, territory, or foreign country.
2. Motor fuel sold to the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof.
3. Motor fuel sold to any post exchange or other concessionaire on any federal reservation within this state, but the tax on motor fuel so sold, to the extent permitted by federal law, shall be collected by the post exchange or concessionaire, reported and paid to the department.

Motor fuel acquired in this state by any person, other than as set out in paragraphs "a", "fa", or "c" above, shall, unless the person from whom the same is acquired has paid or incurred liability with respect thereto for the tax hereon imposed, or unless the same be exempt under this division, be deemed to be received by the person so acquiring the same at the time so acquired.
324.8 Tax reports — computation and payment of tax — credits.

For the purpose of determining the amount of the distributor's liability for the tax herein imposed, each distributor shall, not later than the last day of the month next following the month in which this division becomes effective and not later than the last day of each calendar month thereafter, file with the department a monthly report, signed under penalty for false certificate, which shall include the following:

1. A statement of the number of invoiced gallons of motor fuel received (within the meaning of the term "received" as defined in this division) by the distributor within this state during the next preceding calendar month in such detail as is prescribed by the department and as may be necessary for the proper administration of this division.

2. A statement showing the deductions authorized in this division in such detail and with such supporting evidence as is prescribed by the department and as may be for proper administration of this division.

3. Such other information as the department may require for the enforcement of this chapter.

At the time of filing each monthly report, each distributor shall pay to the department the full amount of the motor fuel tax due from the distributor for the next preceding calendar month computed as follows:

4. From the total number of invoiced gallons of motor fuel "received" by the distributor within the state during the next preceding calendar month shall be made the following deductions:

First, the gallonage of motor fuel received and thereafter sold within the exemptions provided for in section 324.3; and second, the number of gallons of motor fuel equal to two per centum of the first three hundred thousand gallons and one per centum of all gallonage in excess of three hundred thousand gallons of invoiced gallons of motor fuel received by the distributor within this state during the next preceding calendar month after deduction provided in this subsection, this percentage being a flat allowance to cover evaporation, shrinkage, and losses, and the distributor's expenses and losses in collection, accounting for, and paying over the motor fuel tax.

5. The number of invoiced gallons remaining after the deductions hereinabove set forth shall be multiplied by the per gallon motor fuel tax rate.

6. The sum of the number of invoiced gallons of ethanol blended gasoline which are received tax free by the distributor during the next preceding calendar month less the number of gallons of ethanol blended gasoline equal to two per centum of the first three hundred thousand gallons and one per centum of all gallonage in excess of three hundred thousand gallons of ethanol blended gasoline received or blended by the distributor within this state during the next preceding calendar month after deduction provided in this subsection, this percentage being a flat allowance to cover evaporation, shrinkage and losses in collection, accounting for, and paying over the tax on ethanol blended gasoline, and the number of gallons of ethanol blended gasoline blended by the distributor during the next preceding calendar month shall be multiplied by the per gallon motor fuel tax rate applicable to ethanol blended gasoline.

7. The sum of the tax due under subsections 5 and 6 shall be the amount of motor fuel tax in dollars and cents due from the distributor for the next preceding calendar month. Any outstanding credit memorandum issued by the department to the distributor may be applied against the amount due.

For the purpose of determining the amount of the tax liability on alcohol blended to produce ethanol blended gasoline, each licensed blender shall, not later than thirty-one days following the last day of each month, file with the department a monthly report, signed under penalty for false certificate, which shall include the following: The number of gallons of gasoline blended into ethanol blended gasoline, the number of gallons of alcohol blended into ethanol blended gasoline. The amount of alcohol blended shall be multiplied by the per gallon motor fuel tax rate applicable to ethanol blended gasoline.

324.18 Refund permit.

A person shall not claim a refund under section 324.17 or section 324.21 until the person has obtained a refund permit from the department. A special permit shall be obtained by applicants claiming a refund under this chapter on account of motor fuel used to blend ethanol blended gasoline. Application for a refund permit shall be made to the department on a form provided by the department, which shall be certified by the applicant under penalty for false certificate and shall contain among other things, the name, address, and occupation of the applicant, the nature of the applicant's business, and a sufficient description for identification of the machines and equipment in which is to be used motor fuel for which refund may be claimed under the permit. Each permit shall bear a separate number and each claim for refund shall bear the number of the permit under which it is made. The department shall keep a permanent record of all permits issued and a cumulative record of the amount of refund claimed and paid under each. A refund permit shall continue in effect until it is revoked or becomes invalid.

324.21 Refund — credit — penalty.

Persons other than distributors licensed under this division who blend motor fuel and alcohol to produce ethanol blended gasoline may file for a refund for the difference between taxes paid on the motor fuel purchased to produce ethanol blended gasoline and the tax due on the ethanol blended gasoline blended. If, during any month, a person licensed as a distributor under this division uses tax paid motor fuel to blend ethanol blended gasoline and the refund otherwise due under this section is greater than the distributor's total tax liability for that month, the distributor will be entitled to a credit. The claim for credit shall be filed as part of the report required by section 324.8.

In order to obtain the refund established by this section, the person shall do all of the following:

1. Obtain a blender's permit as provided in section 324.18.
2. File a refund claim containing the information as required by the department and certified by the claimant under penalty for false certificate.
3. Retain invoices meeting the requirements of section 324.17, subsection 3, for the motor fuel purchased.
4. Retain invoices for the purchase of alcohol.

A refund or credit memorandum will not be issued unless the claim is filed within ninety days following the end of the month during which the ethanol blended gasoline was actually blended.

If a person files an incorrect refund claim, there shall be added a penalty of five percent to the amount by which the amount claimed and refunded exceeds the amount actually due. If a fraudulent refund claim is filed with intent to evade the tax, the penalty shall be fifty percent in lieu of five percent. The person shall also pay interest on the excess refunded at a rate of three fourths of one percent per month counting each fraction of a month as an entire month, computed from the date the refund was issued to the date the excess refund is repaid to the state.

The net proceeds of the excise tax on the diesel special fuel and the excise tax on motor fuel and other special fuel, and penalties collected under the provision of this chapter, shall be credited to the road use tax fund.

A separate fund is created and designated as the "marine fuel tax fund." All moneys derived from the excise tax on the sale of motor fuel used in watercraft shall be deposited in the marine fuel tax fund. Moneys in the fund are subject to appropriation by the general assembly to the department of natural resources for use in its recreational boating program, which may include but is not limited to:

1. Dredging and renovation of natural lakes of this state
2. Acquisition, development and maintenance of access to public boating waters
3. Development and maintenance of boating facilities and navigation aids
4. Administration, operation, and maintenance of recreational boating activities of the department of natural resources.
5. Acquisition, development and maintenance of recreation facilities associated with recreation boating.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section and section 324.84 directing that certain moneys be transferred or deposited into the marine fuel tax fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, such moneys shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

The net proceeds of the excise tax on the diesel special fuel and the excise tax on motor fuel and other special fuel, and penalties collected under the provision of this chapter, shall be credited to the road use tax fund.

The person shall also pay interest on the excess refunded at a rate of three fourths of one percent per month counting each fraction of a month as an entire month, computed from the date the refund was issued to the date the excess refund is repaid to the state.

The claim for credit shall be filed as part of the report required by section 324.8. In order to obtain the refund established by this section, the person shall do all of the following:

1. Obtain a blender's permit as provided in section 324.18.
2. File a refund claim containing the information as required by the department and certified by the claimant under penalty for false certificate.
3. Retain invoices meeting the requirements of section 324.17, subsection 3, for the motor fuel purchased.
4. Retain invoices for the purchase of alcohol.

A refund or credit memorandum will not be issued unless the claim is filed within ninety days following the end of the month during which the ethanol blended gasoline was actually blended.

If a person files an incorrect refund claim, there shall be added a penalty of five percent to the amount by which the amount claimed and refunded exceeds the amount actually due. If a fraudulent refund claim is filed with intent to evade the tax, the penalty shall be fifty percent in lieu of five percent. The person shall also pay interest on the excess refunded at a rate of three fourths of one percent per month counting each fraction of a month as an entire month, computed from the date the refund was issued to the date the excess refund is repaid to the state.

Unnumbered paragraphs 1 and 3 amended
324.85 Tax payment for stored motor fuel, ethanol blended gasoline, and special fuel — penalty.

1. Persons having title to motor fuel, ethanol blended gasoline, or special fuel in storage and held for sale on the effective date of an increase in the excise tax rate imposed on motor fuel, ethanol blended gasoline, or special fuel under this chapter shall be subject to an inventory tax based upon the gallonage in storage as of the close of the business day next preceding the effective date of the increased excise tax rate of motor fuel, ethanol blended gasoline, or special fuel which will be subject to the increased excise tax rate.

2. Persons subject to the tax imposed under this section shall take an inventory to determine the gallonage in storage for purposes of determining the tax and shall report that gallonage on forms provided by the department of revenue and finance and pay the tax due within thirty days of the prescribed inventory date. The department of revenue and finance shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

3. The amount of the inventory tax is equal to the inventory tax rate times the gallonage in storage as determined under subsection 1. The inventory tax rate is equal to the difference of the increased excise tax rate less the previous excise tax rate.

326.6 Proportional registration of fleets.

The department may, pursuant to section 326.5, provide for proportional registration between this state and other jurisdictions of fleets of commercial vehicles owned by residents or nonresidents engaged in interstate commerce or simultaneously engaged in interstate and intrastate commerce.

1. The owners of fleets of commercial vehicles subject to proportional registration under apportionment agreements negotiated by the department shall file a sworn statement with the department which shall contain the following information and such other information as the department may require:
   a. Total fleet miles for the preceding year.
   b. In-state miles for the preceding year.
   c. A description and identification of each vehicle which is part of the fleet for which proportional registration is sought.

2. The dollar amount of registration fees due this state for each fleet subject to proportional registration shall be computed as follows:
   a. Divide total fleet miles during the preceding year into in-state miles during the preceding year to determine the percentage of total fleet mileage allocable to this state.
   b. Determine the sum total amount necessary to register each and every vehicle in the fleet based on the annual registration fees prescribed in chapter 321.
   c. Multiply the percentage obtained under paragraph "a" of this subsection by the sum total obtained under paragraph "b" of this subsection.
   d. The product so obtained under paragraph "c" of this subsection shall be the amount payable by the owner for proportional registration of the fleet for the registration year. Payment of registration fees shall be made in accordance with section 321.134, subsection 2, or a fleet owner on a renewal registration may pay a fee equal to one-half of the applicable fee and post a surety bond, certificate of deposit, or letter of credit, equal to one-half of the applicable fee at the time of the first installment. Payment of the first installment entitles an owner to the issuance of full-year credentials. The second installment shall be paid by July 15. If the second installment is not paid by July 15, the department shall file claim against the security for payment of fees and penalties due and the owner shall not be entitled to elect the installment payment option for the following year. Excess surety moneys received shall be refunded minus a fifty dollar administration fee.

3. The department may negotiate apportionment agreements on either a vehicle or a dollar basis. In apportionment on a vehicle basis, a sufficient number of vehicles shall be registered to produce total fee payments not less than an amount obtained by applying the proportion of in-state fleet miles to total fleet miles to the fees which would otherwise be required for total fleet registration in this state.

REGULATION OF CARRIERS

327D.4 Connections.
If a railroad corporation in this state refuses to connect by proper switches or tracks with the tracks of another railroad corporation or refuses to receive, transport, load, discharge, reload, or return cars furnished by another connecting railroad corporation, a petition requesting resolution of the dispute may be filed with the department. The department shall notify the department of inspections and appeals which shall hold a hearing on the dispute. Upon conclusion of the hearing, the department of inspections and appeals shall issue an order to resolve the dispute. The order may include the allocation of costs between the parties. The order is subject to review by the department which review shall be the final agency action.

CHAPTER 327H
TAX AID FOR RAILROADS

327H.18 Railroad assistance fund established.
There is established a railroad assistance fund in the office of the treasurer of state. Moneys in this fund shall be expended for providing assistance for the restoration, conservation, improvement and construction of railroad main lines, branch lines, switching yards and sidings. Any unencumbered funds appropriated by the general assembly for branch line railroad assistance shall be deposited in the railroad assistance fund. However, not more than twenty percent of the funds appropriated to the railroad assistance fund from the general fund of the state in any fiscal year shall be used for restoration, conservation, improvement and construction of railroad main lines, switching yards and sidings. Any moneys received by the department by agreements, grants, gifts, or other means from individuals, companies, business entities, cities or counties for the purposes of this section shall be credited to the railroad assistance fund.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section and sections 307B.7, subsection 14, and 327H.20 directing that moneys received or reimbursements made be deposited into the railroad assistance fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, such moneys shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and for that period all moneys received by the department by agreements, grants, gifts, or other means which were deposited into the state general fund as a result of this paragraph are appropriated for state railroad assistance under this chapter. Such appropriations shall not be deposited into the railroad assistance fund.
AERONAUTICS

328.36 State aviation fund.
There is created a fund to be known as the state aviation fund, which shall consist of all moneys received by the department, together with all moneys appropriated to the fund by the state.

Unless otherwise provided, the fund is appropriated for airport engineering studies, construction or improvements.

Notwithstanding section 453.7, subsection 2, interest or earnings on investments or time deposits of the moneys in the state aviation fund shall be credited to the state aviation fund.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section and sections 324.82 and 328.21, directing that moneys remaining after the cost of administering the aviation fuel tax fund and money received by the department be deposited into the state aviation fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, such moneys shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and refunds under section 328.24 during that period shall be paid from the state general fund.

CHAPTER 330
AIRPORTS

330.17 Airport commission — election.
The council of any city or county which owns or acquires an airport may, and upon the council's receipt of a valid petition as provided in section 362.4, or receipt of a petition by the board of supervisors as provided in section 331.306 shall, at a regular city election or a general election if one is to be held within seventy-four days from the filing of the petition, or otherwise at a special election called for that purpose, submit to the voters the question as to whether the management and control of the airport shall be placed in an airport commission. If a majority of the voters favors placing the management and control of the airport shall be placed in an airport commission, the commission shall be established as provided in this chapter.

The management and control of an airport by an airport commission may be ended in the same manner. If a majority of the voters does not favor continuing the management and control of the airport in an airport commission, the commission shall stand abolished sixty days from and after the date of the election, and the power to maintain and operate the airport shall revert to the city or county.

330.20 Appointment of commission — terms.

When a majority of the voters favors airport control and management by a commission, the governing body shall, within ten days, appoint an airport commission of three or five resident voters. The governing body shall by ordinance set the commencement dates of office and the length of the terms of office which shall be no more than six and no less than three years. The terms of the first appointees of a newly created commission shall be staggered by length of term and all subsequent appointments shall be for full terms. The governing body shall also provide for staggered terms of office for the appointees of commissions existing on July 1, 1991. Vacancies shall be filled as original appointments are made. Members of the airport commission shall serve without compensation. Each commissioner shall execute and furnish a bond in an amount fixed by the governing body and filed with the city clerk or county auditor. The commission shall elect from its own members a chairperson and a secretary who shall serve for a term as the commission shall determine.

QUAD CITIES INTERSTATE METROPOLITAN AUTHORITY COMPACT

DIVISION II
QUAD CITIES INTERSTATE METROPOLITAN AUTHORITY

330B.2 Citation.
This division may be cited as the "Quad Cities Interstate Metropolitan Authority Act".
91 Acts, ch 198, §1 HF 690
NEW section

330B.3 Purposes.
1. This division is enabling legislation for the quad cities interstate metropolitan authority compact, a compact entered into by the states of Illinois and Iowa as provided in section 330B.1.
2. The authority shall engage in operations and services that can best be conducted on an area basis benefiting the entire greater metropolitan area, and at the same time improving the quality of life for the greater metropolitan area. The authority may include the following areas of operation and service:
   a. Intermodal water port operations.
   b. Waste disposal systems.
   c. Mass transit.
   d. Airports.
   e. Bridges.
   f. Parks and recreation.
   g. Related facilities, fixtures, equipment, and property necessary, appurtenant, or incidental to the operations and services specified in paragraphs "a" through "f". The authority shall be supportive of, and refrain from unnecessary and unreasonable competition with, private sector operations when possible.
3. The establishment, maintenance, and operation of safe, adequate, and necessary metropolitan facilities, and the creation of the authority having powers necessary or desirable for the establishment, maintenance, and operation of the metropolitan facilities beneficial to the territory of the authority, and the powers and the corporate purposes and functions of the authority are public and governmental in nature and essential to the public interest in the territory of the authority.

NEW section

330B.4 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Authority" means the quad cities interstate metropolitan authority created as provided in this division.
2. "Board" means the board of commissioners of the authority.
3. "Cost" of any project for a metropolitan facility includes construction contract costs and the costs of engineering, architectural, technical, and legal services, preliminary reports, property valuations, estimates, plans, specifications, notices, acquisition of real and personal property, consequential damages or costs, easements, rights-of-way, supervision, inspection, testing, publications, printing and sale of bonds, if any, and provisions for contingencies.
4. "Greater metropolitan area" means the combined area of Rock Island county, Illinois, and Scott county, Iowa.
5. "Metropolitan area" means Rock Island county, Illinois, as a separate and distinct area, or Scott county, Iowa, as a separate and distinct area, or each as a part of the greater metropolitan area.
6. "Metropolitan facility" means a structure, fixture, equipment, or property of any kind or nature related to or connected with an intermodal water port, waste disposal system, mass transit system, airport, park, recreation, or bridge, which the authority may construct, acquire, own, lease, or operate, including all related facilities necessary, appurtenant, or incidental to the facilities.
7. "Person" means an individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, association, or joint stock association, and includes any trustee, receiver, assignee, or personal representative of any of the entities.
8. "Waste disposal system" means a facility or service for collection, transportation, processing, storage, or disposal of solid waste including a facility or service established pursuant to chapter 28G.

330B.5 Petition and public hearing.
1. Upon petition of eligible electors of a metropolitan area equal in number to at least ten percent of the persons who voted in the last general election held in the metropolitan area for the office of president of the United States or governor, the governing body of the county shall adopt a resolution signifying its intention to initiate the question of participating in the creation of an authority and shall publish the resolution at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the metropolitan area giving notice of a hearing to be held on the question of the metropolitan area’s entry into the authority. The resolution shall be published at least fourteen days prior to the date of hearing, and shall contain all of the following information:

a. Intention to join in the creation of the authority pursuant to this division.
b. That the greater metropolitan area will include Rock Island county, Illinois, and Scott county, Iowa, which have expressed their interest in the creation of the authority.
c. Name of the authority.
d. Place, date, and time of hearing.

2. After the hearing, if the governing body of a metropolitan area wishes to proceed in the creation of or to join the authority, the governing body shall direct the proper election authority to submit the proposition to the electorate of the metropolitan area as provided in section 330B.6.

§330B.6 Election.
1. Upon receipt of the resolution, the county commissioner of elections shall place the proposition on the ballot of a special election but not at a general election, called by the governing body of the metropolitan area. At the election, the proposition shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

Shall the Quad Cities Interstate Metropolitan Authority be established effective on the __________ day of __________, 19___?

YES_____ NO_____?

2. Notice of the election shall be given by publication as required in section 49.53 in a newspaper of general circulation in the metropolitan area. At the election, the ballot used for submission of the proposition shall be substantially the form for submitting special questions at general elections.

3. The proposition is approved if the vote in favor of the proposition is a simple majority of the total votes cast on the proposition in the metropolitan area.

4. If the proposition is approved, the governing body of the county shall enact an ordinance authorizing the joining of the authority.

§330B.7 Board of commissioners — appointment.
1. The authority established under this division shall be governed by a board of commissioners appointed as provided in subsection 2. The appointment of the commissioners shall be made in writing and shall indicate the legal residence of the appointee.

2. The board of commissioners of an authority shall consist of sixteen members, eight members of which shall be residents of the metropolitan area of each state which is a party to the authority. At least four but not more than five members appointed from each metropolitan area shall be elected city or county officers. The mayor of each city having a population of at least eighty thousand within the metropolitan area shall appoint, with the consent of the city council, four members to the board of commissioners. The mayor of each city having a population of at least forty thousand, but less than eighty thousand, within the metropolitan area shall appoint, with the consent of the city council, two members to the board of commissioners. The mayor of each city having a population of at least nineteen thousand, but less than forty thousand, within the metropolitan area shall appoint, with the consent of the city council, one member to the board of commissioners. The remaining members appointed from each state shall be appointed by the chairperson of the governing body of the county within the metropolitan area, with consent of the governing body, from cities having less than nineteen thousand population and areas outside the corporate limits of cities.

3. If a city increases to a population that would enable an additional appointment to be made, a member appointed by the chairperson of the governing body of the county and having the least tenure shall be removed from the board of commissioners. If a city decreases to a population warranting fewer members, the appointee having the least tenure of that city shall be removed from the board of commissioners and the chairperson of the governing body of the county in which that city is located shall make a new appointment as provided in subsection 2. If more members than are required to be removed have the same tenure, the removal shall be determined by lot.

4. The membership of the board of commissioners shall be gender balanced if possible. The appointing authorities shall comply with the requirements of section 69.16A or to similar laws of the state of Illinois as determined by the appointing authorities. The appointing authorities shall also provide representation for racial groups residing in the metropolitan area based on the ratio of the racial population to the population as a whole.

§330B.8 Commissioners — terms of office.
1. All initial appointments of commissioners shall be made within thirty days after the establishment of the authority. The authority is considered established when the proposition is approved by the voters under section 330B.6. Each appointment shall be in writing and a certificate of appointment signed by the appointing officer shall be filed and made a matter of record in the office of the county recorder. A commissioner shall be appointed for a term of two years and shall qualify within ten days after appointment by acceptance and the taking of an oath or af-330B.10 Rights and powers.

The authority constitutes a municipal corporation and body politic separate from any other municipality, state, or other public or governmental agency. The authority has the following express powers, subject to any restrictions or limitations contained in this division, and all other powers incidental, necessary, convenient, or desirable to carry out and effectuate the express powers to:

1. Sue and be sued.
2. Locate, acquire, own, establish, operate, and maintain one or more metropolitan facilities upon any land or body of water within its corporate limits, and to construct, develop, expand, and improve any metropolitan facility. A new metropolitan facility, such as a sanitary landfill or infectious waste disposal facility shall not be established without site approval of the city council or board of supervisors which governs the city or county in which the proposed site is to be located.
3. Acquire, within the corporate limits of the authority, and in fee simple, rights in and over land or water, and easements upon, over, or across land or water, and leasehold interests in land or water, and tangible and intangible personal property, used or useful for the location, establishment, maintenance, development, expansion, extension, or improvement of one or more metropolitan facilities. The acquisition may be by dedication, purchase, gift, agreement, lease, or by condemnation if within corporate limits of the authority. The authority may acquire land in fee simple subject to a mortgage and as part of the purchase price may assume the payment of the indebtedness secured by the mortgage. Land may be acquired, possessed, and used for its purposes by the authority, under a written contract for a deed conveying merchantable title and providing that the deed shall be placed in escrow and be delivered upon payment of the purchase price and containing other terms as are reasonably incident to the contract. Personal property may be purchased on an installment contract basis or lease-purchase contract.
4. Operate, maintain, manage, lease with or without a lease-purchase option, sublease, and make and enter into contracts for the use, operation, or management of, and enacts regulations for the operation, management, or use of, a metropolitan facility.
5. Fix, charge, and collect reasonable rentals, tolls, fees, and charges for the use of a metropolitan facility or any part of a metropolitan facility. Rentals, tolls, fees, or charges fixed and collected for the...

use of a metropolitan facility shall be used for the construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance, or operation of that metropolitan facility or the construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance, or operation of similar metropolitan facilities.

6. Establish and maintain streets and approaches on property of the authority.

7. Remove and relocate hazards or structures on property of the authority.

8. Restrict and reduce the height of objects or buildings on property of the authority.

9. Accept grants, contributions, or loans from, and enter into contracts, leases, or other transactions with, a city, county, state, or federal government.

10. Borrow money and issue bonds, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness for the purpose of accomplishing any of the corporate purposes, which obligations may be payable from other sources as provided in this division, and refund or advance refund any of the evidences of indebtedness with bonds, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, which refunding or advanced refunding obligations may be payable from taxes or from any other source, subject to compliance with any condition or limitation set forth in this division.

11. Employ or enter into contracts for the employment of any person for professional services, necessary or desirable for the accomplishment of the corporate objectives of the authority or the proper administration, management, protection, or control of its property.

12. Regulate traffic, speed, movement, and mooring of vessels on property of the authority.

13. Regulate traffic, speed, movement, and parking of motor vehicles upon property of the authority and employ parking meters, signs, and other devices in the regulation of the motor vehicles.

15. Establish, by ordinance of the board, all regulations for the execution of the powers specified in this division, for the government of the authority, and for the protection of any metropolitan facility within the jurisdiction of the authority, or deemed necessary or desirable to effect its corporate objectives. An ordinance may provide for the revocation, cancellation, or suspension of an existing privilege or franchise as a penalty for a second or subsequent violation by the holder or franchisee of a regulation pertaining to the enjoyment, use, or exercise of the privilege or franchise. The use of a metropolitan facility of the authority shall be subject to the reasonable regulation and control of the authority and upon the reasonable terms and conditions as established by the board.

16. Establish a general operating fund and other funds as necessary.

17. Do all acts and things necessary or convenient for the promotion of its business and the general welfare of the authority, in order to carry out the powers granted to it by this chapter or any other laws. The authority has no power to pledge the taxing power of this state or any political subdivision or agency of this state.

Bonds and notes issued by the authority are payable solely and only out of the moneys, assets, or revenues of the authority, and as provided in the agreement with bondholders or noteholders pledging any particular moneys, assets, or revenues. Bonds or notes are not an obligation of this state or any political subdivision of this state other than the authority within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitations, but are special obligations of the authority payable solely and only from the sources provided in this division, and the authority shall not pledge the credit or taxing power of this state or any political subdivision of this state other than the authority, or make its debts payable out of any moneys except those of the authority.

330B.11 Regulations — ordinances.

Regulations adopted pursuant to section 330B.10 shall be contained in an ordinance which shall be placed on file in the office of the authority in type-written or printed form for public inspection not less than fifteen days before adoption. The ordinance may impose fines as the board deems appropriate of not more than one hundred dollars upon conviction or guilty plea for each violation, and may provide that, in case of continuing violation, each day during which a violation occurs or continues constitutes a separate offense.

330B.12 Eminent domain procedures.

If land in fee simple, rights in land, air, or water, easements or other interests in land, air, water, property, or property rights are acquired or sought to be acquired by the authority by condemnation, the condemnation procedure shall be in accordance with the eminent domain statutes of the state in which the affected property is located.

91 Acts, ch 198, §11 HF 690

330B.13 Authority procedures.

Action of the board of a legislative character, including the adoption of regulations, shall be in the form of an ordinance, and after adoption shall be filed with the secretary and shall be made a matter of public record in the office of the authority. Other action of the board shall be by resolution, motion, or in other appropriate form. Executive or ministerial duties may be delegated to one or more commissioners or to an authorized officer, employee, agent, or other representative of the authority. Ten commissioners, five members from each state within the greater metropolitan area, constitute a quorum to conduct business and an affirmative vote of a majority of the commissioners from each metropolitan area is required to adopt or approve an action of the board. The enacting clause of any ordinance shall be substantially as follows: “Be it ordained by the Board of Commissioners of the Quad Cities Interstate Metropolitan Authority”.

330B.14 Official records and officer bonds.

The board shall provide for the safekeeping of its permanent records and for the recording of the corporate action of the authority. The board shall keep a true and accurate account of its receipts and an annual audit shall be made of its books, records, and accounts by state or private auditors. All officers and employees authorized to receive or retain the custody of moneys or to sign vouchers, checks, warrants, or evidences of indebtedness binding upon the authority shall furnish surety bond for the faithful performance of their duties and the faithful accounting for all moneys that may come into their custody in an amount to be fixed and in a form to be approved by the board.

If an authority is established as provided in section 330B.6 and after approval of a referendum by a simple majority of votes cast in each metropolitan area in favor of the sales and services tax, the governing board of a county in this state within a metropolitan area which is part of the authority shall impose, at the request of the authority, a local sales and services tax at the rate of one-fourth of one percent on gross receipts taxed by this state under chapter 422, division IV, within the metropolitan area located in this state. The referendum shall be called by resolution of the board and shall be held as provided in section 330B.6 to the extent applicable. The ballot proposition shall contain a statement as to the specific purpose or purposes for which the revenues shall be expended and the date of expiration of the tax. The local sales and services tax shall be imposed on the same basis, with the same exceptions, and following the same administrative procedures as provided for a county under sections 422B.8 and 422B.9. The amount of the sale, for the purposes of determining the amount of the local sales and services tax under this section, does not include the amount of any local sales and services tax imposed under sections 422B.8 and 422B.9.

The treasurer of state shall credit the local sales and services tax receipts and interest and penalties to the authority's account. Moneys in this account shall be remitted quarterly to the authority. The proceeds of the tax imposed under this section shall be used only for the construction, reconstruction, or repair of metropolitan facilities as specified in the referendum. The local sales and services tax imposed under this section may be suspended for not less than a fiscal quarter or more than one year by action of the board. The suspension may be renewed or continued by the board, but the board shall act on the suspension at least annually. The local sales and services tax may also be repealed by a petition and favorable referendum following the procedures and requirements of sections 330B.5 and 330B.6 as applicable. The board shall give the department of revenue and finance at least forty days' notice of the repeal, suspension, or reinstatement of the tax and the effective dates for imposition, suspension, or repeal of the tax shall be as provided in section 422B.9.

1. The bonds issued by the board pursuant to this division shall be authorized by resolution of the board and shall be either term or serial bonds, shall bear the date, mature at the time, not exceeding forty years from their respective dates, bear interest at the rate, not exceeding the rate permitted under chapter 74A or the rate authorized by another state within the greater metropolitan area, whichever rate is lower, payable monthly or semiannually, be in the denominations, be in the form, either coupon or fully registered, shall carry the registration, exchangeability and interchangeability privileges, be payable in the medium of payment and at the place, within or without the state, be subject to the terms of redemption and be entitled to the priorities on the revenues, rates, fees, rentals, or other charges or receipts of the authority as the resolution may provide. The bonds shall be executed either by manual or facsimile signature by the officers as the authority shall determine, provided that the bonds shall bear at least one signature which is manually executed on the bond, and the coupons attached to the bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the officer as designated by the authority and the bonds shall have the seal of the authority, affixed, imprinted, reproduced, or lithographed on the bond, all as may be prescribed in a resolution.

The bonds shall be sold at public sale or private sale at the price as the authority shall determine to be in the best interests of the authority provided that the bonds shall not be sold at less than ninety-eight percent of the par value of the bond, plus accrued interest and provided that the net interest cost shall not exceed that permitted by applicable state law. Pending the preparation of definitive bonds, interim certificates or temporary bonds may be issued to the purchaser of the bonds, and may contain the terms and conditions as the board may determine.

2. The board, after the issuance of bonds, may borrow moneys for the purposes for which the bonds are to be issued in anticipation of the receipt of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds and within the authorized maximum amount of the bond issue. Any loan shall be paid within three years after the date of the initial loan. Bond anticipation notes shall be issued for all moneys so borrowed under this section, and the notes may be renewed, but all the renewal notes shall mature within the time above limited for the payment of the initial loan. The notes shall be authorized by resolution of the board and shall be in the denominations, shall bear interest at the rate not exceeding the maximum rate permitted by the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds, shall be in the form and shall be executed in the manner, all as the authority prescribes.

The notes shall be sold at public or private sale or, if the notes are renewal notes, they may be exchanged for notes outstanding on the terms as the board determines. The board may retire any notes from the revenues derived from its metropolitan facilities or from other moneys of the authority which are lawfully available or from a combination of revenues and other available moneys, in lieu of retiring them by means of bond proceeds. However, before the retirement of the notes by any means other than the issuance of bonds, the board shall amend or repeal the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds, in anticipation of the proceeds of the sale of the notes, so as to reduce the authorized amount of the bond issue by the amount of the notes so retired. The amendatory or repealing resolution shall take effect upon its passage.

3. Any resolution authorizing the issuance of any bonds may contain provisions which shall be part of the contract with the holders of the bonds, as to:
   a. The pledging of all or any part of the revenues, rates, fees, rentals, or other charges or receipts of the authority derived by the authority from all or any of its metropolitan facilities.
   b. The construction, improvement, operations, extensions, enlargement, maintenance, repair, or lease of metropolitan facilities and the duties of the authority with reference to the facilities.
   c. Limitations on the purposes to which the proceeds of the bonds, or of any loan or grant by the federal government or the state government or the county or any city in the county, may be applied.
   d. The fixing, charging, establishing, and collecting of rates, fees, rentals, or other charges for use of the services and facilities of the metropolitan facilities of an authority, or any part of the facilities.
   e. The setting aside of reserves or sinking funds or repair and replacement funds or other funds and the regulation and disposition of the funds.
   f. Limitations on the issuance of additional bonds.
   g. The terms and provisions of any deed of trust, mortgage, or indenture securing the bonds or under which the bonds may be issued.
   h. Any other or additional agreements with the holders of the bonds as are customary and proper and which in the judgment of the authority will make the bonds more marketable.

4. The board of the authority may enter into any deeds of trust, mortgages, indentures, or other agreements, with any bank or trust company or any other lender within or without the state as security for the bonds, and may assign and pledge all or any of the revenues, rates, fees, rentals, or other charges or receipts of the authority. The deeds of trust, mortgages, indentures, or other agreements may contain the provisions as may be customary in the instruments, or, as the board may authorize, including, but without limitation, provisions as to:
   a. The construction, improvement, operation, leasing, maintenance, and repair of the metropolitan facilities and duties of the board with reference to the facilities.
   b. The application of funds and the safeguarding and investment of funds on hand or on deposit.
   c. The appointment of consulting engineers or architects and approval by the holders of the bonds.
§330B.23

d. The rights and remedies of the trustee and the holders of the bonds.

e. The terms and provisions of the bonds or the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

Any of the bonds issued pursuant to this section are negotiable instruments, and have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments and are exempt from state taxation.

330B.19 Existing jurisdictions.

Existing jurisdictions, including those involving airports, mass transit, river bridges, waste disposal systems, and intermodal water ports within their jurisdictional boundaries, are protected from incorporation by the authority and shall not be incorporated in the authority except by their respective governing bodies. However, an existing jurisdiction may negotiate with the authority to take over its entire powers, incomes, and debts. The authority may assume the powers, income, and debts for any type of facility authorized by this division.

330B.20 Cooperation with other governments.

The authority may apply for and receive a grant or loan of moneys or other financial aid from the state or federal government or from any state or federal agency, department, bureau, or board, necessary or useful for the undertaking, performance, or execution of any of its corporate objectives or purposes, and the authority may undertake the acquisition, establishment, construction, development, expansion, extension, or improvement of metropolitan facilities within its corporate limits or within or upon any body of water within the corporate limits aided by, in cooperation with, or as a joint enterprise with the state or federal governments or with the aid of, or in cooperation with, or as a joint project with the state and federal governments. The authority shall assure, in compliance with any state or federal requirements or directives, that the proceeds of a state or federal grant, loan, or other financial assistance for the provision of facilities or services are used for the express purpose of the financial assistance and to the specific benefit of service areas or persons as designated by the local, state, or federal funding provider.

1. Any county, city, commission, authority, or person may sell, lease, lend, grant, or convey to the authority, a facility or any part of a facility, or any interest in real or personal property which may be used by an authority in the construction, improvement, maintenance, leasing, or operation of any metropolitan facilities. Any county, city, commission, authority, or person may transfer and assign over to the authority a contract which may have been awarded by the county, city, commission, authority, or person for the construction of facilities not begun or, if begun, not completed.

2. A proposed action of the board, and a proposed agreement to acquire, shall be approved by the governing body of the owner of the facilities. If the governing body of a county, city, commission, or authority desires to sell, lease, lend, grant, or convey to the authority a facility or any part of a facility, the governing body shall adopt a resolution signifying its intention to do so and shall publish the resolution at least one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county and in a newspaper or newspapers, if necessary, of general circulation in the area served by the county, city, commission, or authority giving notice of a hearing to be held on the question of the sale, lease, loan, grant, or conveyance. The resolution shall be published at least fourteen days prior to the date of hearing. After the hearing and if in the public interest, the county, city, commission, or authority shall enact an ordinance authorizing the sale, lease, loan, grant, or conveyance.

3. An owner transferring an existing facility to the authority under this section shall notify the board of and make provision in the transfer documents for, where necessary, existing rights, liens, securities, and rights of reentry belonging to the state or federal government.

4. This section, without reference to any other law, shall be deemed complete authority for the acquisition by agreement, of a facility as provided in subsection 1, and no proceedings or other action shall be required except as prescribed in this division.

330B.22 Funds of the authority.

Moneys of an authority shall be paid to the treasurer of the authority who shall not commingle the moneys with any other moneys, but shall deposit them in a separate account or accounts. Moneys in the accounts shall be paid out on check of the treasurer on requisition of the chairperson of the authority, or of another person as the authority may authorize to make the requisition. An authority may deposit any of its rates, fees, rentals, or other charges, receipts, or income with any bank or trust company that is federally insured and may deposit the proceeds of any bonds issued with any bank or trust company that is federally insured, all as may be provided in any agreement with the holders of bonds issued under this division.

330B.23 Award of contracts.

All contracts entered into by an authority for the construction, reconstruction, and improvement of metropolitan facilities shall be entered into pursuant to and shall comply with applicable state laws. However, if an authority determines an emergency exists, it may enter into contracts obligating the authority for not in excess of one hundred thousand dollars per emergency without regard to the requirements of applicable state laws and the authority may proceed with the necessary action as expeditiously as possible to the extent necessary to resolve the emergency.

330B.25 Dissolution — referendum.
1. The authority shall be dissolved only by a majority vote in a referendum undertaken in a manner similar to the referendum provided for in section 330B.6. The board shall call, upon its own motion, by petition of the eligible electors as provided in section 330B.5, or by action of the governing body of either metropolitan area, for an election to approve or disapprove the dissolution of the authority.

2. The proposition is approved if the vote in favor of the proposition is a simple majority of the total votes cast on the proposition in either one of the metropolitan areas.

3. The authority shall provide by ordinance for the disposal of any remaining property, the proceeds of which shall first be applied against any outstanding obligation of the authority. The remaining balance shall be divided between the counties included in the authority and credited to the general fund of the respective counties.

CHAPTER 331
COUNTY HOME RULE IMPLEMENTATION

331.209 Plan “two” terms of office.
If plan “two” is selected pursuant to section 331.206 or 331.207, the board shall be elected as provided in this section.

1. Before December 15 of the nonelection year following each federal decennial census the board shall divide the county into a number of supervisor districts corresponding to the number of supervisors in the county. However, if the plan is selected pursuant to section 331.207, the board shall divide the county before March 15 of the election year. The supervisor districts shall be drawn, to the extent applicable, in compliance with the redistricting standards provided for senatorial and representative districts in section 42.4, and if a supervisor redistricting plan is challenged in court, the requirement of justifying any variance in excess of one percent contained in section 42.4, subsection 1, paragraph “c” applies to the board. If the board adopts a supervisor redistricting plan with a variance in excess of one percent, the board shall publish the justification for the variance in one or more official newspapers as provided in chapter 349 within ten days after the action is taken. If more than one incumbent supervisor resides in the same supervisor district after the districts have been redrawn following the federal decennial census, the terms of office of those supervisors shall expire on the first day of January that is not a Sunday or a holiday following the next general election.

2. Each supervisor must reside in a separate supervisor district but shall be elected by the electors of the county at large. Election ballots shall be prepared to specify the district which each candidate seeks to represent and each elector may cast a vote for one candidate from each district for which a supervisor is to be chosen in the general election.

3. The board may redesignate supervisor districts only once in two years. If the board redesignates districts, the redesignation must be completed and available to the public by December 15 of the year before the election to be applicable in that election year. This subsection does not lengthen or diminish the term of office of a member of the board as a result of the redesignation and districts shall not be redesignated except in compliance with this section.
At the primary and general elections the number of supervisors, or candidates for the offices, which constitute the board in the county shall be elected as provided in this section. Terms of supervisors shall be the same as provided in section 331.208.

Each county board shall notify the state commissioner of elections when the boundaries of supervisor districts are changed, shall provide a map delineating the new boundary lines, and shall certify to the state commissioner of elections the populations of the new supervisor districts as determined under the latest federal decennial census. Upon failure of a county board to make the required changes by the dates specified by this section as determined by the state commissioner of elections, the state commissioner of elections shall make or cause to be made the necessary changes as soon as possible, and shall assess to the county the expenses incurred in so doing. The state commissioner of elections may request the services of personnel and materials available to the legislative service bureau to assist the state commissioner in making required changes in supervisor district boundaries which become the state commissioner's responsibility.

The alternative forms of county government are as follows:

1. Board of supervisor form as provided in division II, part 1
2. Board-elected executive form as provided in section 331.239
3. Board-manager form as provided in section 331.241
4. Charter government form as provided in section 331.246
5. City-county consolidated form as provided in section 331.247
6. Multicounty consolidated form as provided in section 331.253
7. Community commonwealth form as provided in sections 331.260 through 331.263.

A charter to change a form of county government may be submitted to the electors of a county only by a commission established by resolution of the board upon petition of the number of eligible electors of the county equal to at least twenty-five percent of the votes cast in the county for the office of president of the United States or governor at the preceding general election or the signatures of at least ten thousand eligible electors of the county, whichever number is fewer.

The council of any city wishing to participate in a city-county consolidation charter commission must notify the board by resolution within thirty days of the creation of the commission pursuant to subsection 1. A city's participation in a city-county consolidation charter commission may be proposed by the city council adopting a resolution in favor of participation or by eligible electors of the city equal in number to at least twenty-five percent of the persons who voted at the last regular city election petitioning the council to adopt a resolution in favor of participation. The council shall within ten days of the filing of a valid petition adopt such a resolution.

An alternative form of county government shall be submitted to the county electorate by the commission in the form of a charter or charter amendment.

331.232 Plan for an alternative form of government.

1. A charter to change a form of county government may be submitted to the electors of a county only by a commission established by resolution of the board upon petition of the number of eligible electors of the county equal to at least twenty-five percent of the votes cast in the county for the office of president of the United States or governor at the preceding general election or the signatures of at least ten thousand eligible electors of the county, whichever number is fewer.

2. The council of any city wishing to participate in a city-county consolidation charter commission must notify the board by resolution within thirty days of the creation of the commission pursuant to subsection 1. A city’s participation in a city-county consolidation charter commission may be proposed by the city council adopting a resolution in favor of participation or by eligible electors of the city equal in number to at least twenty-five percent of the persons who voted at the last regular city election petitioning the council to adopt a resolution in favor of participation. The council shall within ten days of the filing of a valid petition adopt such a resolution.

3. An alternative form of county government shall be submitted to the county electorate by the commission in the form of a charter or charter amendment.

331.233 Appointment of commission members.

1. The members of a commission created to study the alternative forms of county government under division II, part 1, and sections 331.239, 331.241, 331.246, and 331.253, shall be appointed within forty-five days after the adoption of the resolution creating the commission as follows:

   a. Two members shall be appointed by each of the following officers:
      (1) County auditor
      (2) County recorder
      (3) County treasurer
      (4) County sheriff
      (5) County attorney

   b. Two members shall be appointed by each member of the board.

   c. Two members shall be appointed by each state representative whose legislative district is located in the county if a majority of the constituents of that legislative district resides in the county. However, if a county does not have a state representative’s legislative district which has a majority of a state representative’s constituency residing in the county, the state representative having the largest plurality of constituents residing in the county shall appoint two members.

2. Only eligible electors of the county not holding a city, county, or state office shall be members of the commission. In counties having multiple state legislative districts, the districts shall be represented as equally as possible. The membership shall be bipartisan and gender balanced and each appointing authority under subsection 1 shall provide for representation of various age groups, racial minorities, economic groups, and representatives of identifiable geographically defined populations, all in reasonable relationship to the proportions in which these groups are present in the population of the commission area. A vacancy on the commission shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original appointment. The county auditor shall notify the appropriate appointing authority of a vacancy.

considered one appointing authority for the purpose of complying with this subsection. The senior legislative appointing authority in terms of length of legislative service shall convene the legislative appointing authorities to consult for the purpose of complying with this subsection.

3. If at any time during the commission process, the commission adopts a resolution by majority vote to prepare a charter proposing city-county consolidation or the community commonwealth form, additional members shall be appointed to the commission in order to comply with section 331.233A. The life of the commission shall be extended up to six months after the appointment of the additional members.

331.233A Appointment of commission members — city-county consolidation or community commonwealth.

1. The members of a commission created to study city-county consolidation or the community commonwealth form shall be appointed within forty-five days after the adoption of a resolution creating the commission as follows:
   a. One member shall be appointed by the city council of each city participating in the charter process.
   b. One member shall be appointed by the board of each county participating in the charter process. The member must be a resident of the unincorporated area of the county.
   c. One member shall be appointed by each state legislator whose legislative district is located in the commission area if a majority of the constituents of that legislative district resides in the commission area. However, if a commission area does not have a state legislative district which has a majority of its constituents residing in the commission area, the legislative district having the largest plurality of constituents residing in the commission area shall appoint one member.
   d. An additional member shall be appointed by each city council and each county board for every twenty-five thousand residents in the participating city or unincorporated area of the county, whichever is applicable.

2. The commission members shall be appointed in compliance with section 331.233, subsection 2. A vacancy on the commission shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original appointment. The county auditor shall notify the appropriate appointing authority of a vacancy.

3. If at any time during the commission process, the commission adopts a resolution by majority vote to prepare a charter proposing an alternative form other than city-county consolidation or the community commonwealth form, the resolution shall be submitted to the board of supervisors of the participating county, and the board shall proceed pursuant to section 331.233. The life of the commission shall be extended up to six months after the appointment of the new members.

331.234 Organization and expenses.

1. Within thirty days after the appointment of the members of the commission, the county auditor shall give written notice of the date, time, and location of the first meeting of the commission. At the first meeting the commission shall organize by electing a chairperson, vice chairperson, and other officers as necessary. The commission shall adopt rules governing the conduct of its meetings, subject to chapter 21.

2. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation, but they are entitled to travel and other necessary expenses relating to their duties of office.

3. The board shall make available to the commission in-kind services such as office space, printing, supplies, and equipment and shall pay the other necessary expenses of the commission including compensation for secretarial, clerical, professional, and consultant services. The total annual expenses, not including the value of in-kind expenses, to be paid from public funds shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars or an amount equal to thirty cents times the population of the commission area, according to the most recent certified federal census. The commission may employ staff as necessary.

4. The expenses of the commission may be paid from the general fund of the county from any combination of public or private funds available for that purpose. The commission's annual expenses may exceed the amount in subsection 3 only if the excess is paid from private funds. If a proposed charter is submitted to the electorate, private funds donated to the commission may be used to promote passage of the proposed charter.

Subsections 3 and 4 amended

331.235 Commission procedures and reports.

1. Within sixty days after its organization, the commission shall hold at least one public hearing for the purpose of receiving information and material which will assist in the drafting of a charter. Notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing shall be given as provided in chapter 21.

2. Within nine months after the organization of the commission, the commission shall submit a preliminary report to the board, which report may include the text of the proposed charter. If a proposed charter is included in the preliminary report, the report shall also include an analysis of the fiscal impact of the proposed charter. Sufficient copies of the report shall be made available for distribution to residents of the county who request a copy. The commission shall hold at least one public hearing after submission of the preliminary report to obtain public comment.

3. Within twenty months after organization, the commission shall submit the final report to the board. If the commission recommends a charter including a form of government other than the existing form of government, the final report shall include the full text and an explanation of the proposed charter, an analysis of the fiscal impact of the proposed charter, any comments deemed desirable by the commission, and any minority reports. The final report may recommend no change to the existing form of government and that no charter be submitted to the electorate. The final report shall be made available to the residents of the county upon request. A summary of the final report shall be published in the official newspapers of the county.

4. The commission is dissolved on the date of the general election at which the proposed charter is submitted to the electorate. If a charter is not recommended, the commission is dissolved upon submission of its final report to the board.

Unless otherwise provided, the question of adopting the proposed alternative form of government shall be submitted to the electors in substantially the following form:

Should the (charter or amendment) described below be adopted for (insert name of local government)?

The ballot must contain a brief description and summary of the proposed charter or amendment.

1. If a proposed charter for county government is received not later than five working days before the filing deadline for candidates for county offices specified in section 44.4 for the next general election, the board shall direct the county commissioner of elections to submit to the qualified electors of the county at the next general election the question of whether the proposed charter shall be adopted. A summary of the proposed charter or amendment must be published in the official county newspapers and in a newspaper of general circulation in each participating city, if applicable, at least ten but not more than twenty days before the date of the election. If a majority of the votes cast on the question is in favor of the proposal, the proposal is adopted.

2. If a proposed charter for county government is adopted:
   a. The adopted charter shall take effect July 1 following the general election at which it is approved unless the charter provides a later effective date. If the adopted charter calls for a change in the form of government, a special election shall be called to elect the new elective officers. If the adopted charter provides for a special election, the board shall direct the county commissioner of elections to conduct the election.
   b. The adoption of the alternative form of county government does not alter any right or liability of the county in effect at the time of the election at which the charter was adopted.
   c. All departments and agencies shall continue to operate until replaced.
   d. All ordinances or resolutions in effect remain effective until amended or repealed, unless they are irreconcilable with the adopted charter.
   e. Upon the effective date of the adopted charter, the county shall adopt the alternative form by ordinance, and shall file a copy with the secretary of state, and maintain available copies for public inspection.
   f. The former governing bodies shall continue to perform their duties until the new governing body is sworn into office, and shall assist the new governing body in planning the transition to the charter government.

3. If a charter is submitted to the electorate but is not adopted, another charter shall not be submitted to the electorate for two years. If a charter is adopted, it may be amended at any time. If a charter is adopted, a proposed charter for another alternative form of county government shall not be submitted to the electorate for six years.

§331.238 Limitations to alternative forms of county government.

1. A county may adopt or amend an alternative form of county government subject to the requirements and limitations provided in this section.

2. An alternative form of county government shall provide for the exercise of home rule power and authority not inconsistent with state law and may include provisions for any of the following:
   a. A board of an odd number of members which may exceed the number of members specified in sections 331.201, 331.203, and 331.204.
   b. A supervisor representation plan for the county which may differ from the supervisor representation plans as provided in division II, part 1.
   c. The initial compensation for members of the board which, thereafter, shall be determined as provided in section 331.215.
   d. The method of selecting officers of the board and fixing their terms of office which may differ from the requirements of sections 331.208 through 331.211.
   e. Determining meetings of the board and rules of procedure which may differ from the requirements of section 331.213, except the meetings shall be scheduled and conducted in compliance with chapter 21.

f. The combining of duties of elected officials or the elimination of elected offices and the assumption of the duties of those offices by appointed officials.

g. The organization of county departments, agencies, or boards. The organization plan may provide for the abolition or consolidation of a board or a commission and the assumption of its powers and duties by the board of supervisors or another officer. This paragraph does not apply to the board of trustees of a county hospital.

h. In lieu of the election or appointment of township trustees, a method providing for the exercise of their powers and duties by the board of supervisors or other governing body of the county or another office.

i. Consolidating city-county government or government functions.

j. Consolidating county-county government or government functions.

This subsection does not apply to the board of trustees of a county hospital.

3. An alternative form of county government shall provide for the partisan election of its officers.

Consolidating city-county government or government functions.

331.247 City-county consolidation form.

1. A county and one or more cities within the county may unite to form a single unit of local government in accordance with this part. If more than fifty percent of the population of a city resides within the affected county, it is a city within the county for the purposes of this section.

2. An alternative form of government, including a charter form, for a consolidated unit of government may be submitted to the voters only by a commission established under this chapter. A majority vote by the charter commission is required for the submission of an alternative form of government for a consolidated unit of local government. The charter commission submitting a consolidated form shall issue a final report and proposal.

3. An alternative form of government for a consolidated unit of local government does not need to include more than one city. A city shall not be included unless the city participates in the commission process, and a majority of the electors of the affected city voting approves the proposed charter for the consolidated government.

4. If an alternative form of government for a consolidated unit of local government is proposed, approval of the consolidation charter shall be a separate ballot issue from approval of the alternative form of government in those cities proposed to be included in the consolidation. The consolidation charter shall be effective in regard to a city government only if a majority of the voters of the city voting on the question voted for participation in the consolidation charter.

5. A city may join an existing city-county consolidated government by resolution of the city council or upon petition of eligible electors of the city equal in number to at least twenty-five percent of the persons who voted at the last general election for the office of governor or president of the United States, whichever is fewer. Within fifteen days after receiving a valid petition, the city council of the petitioning city shall adopt a resolution in favor of participation and shall immediately forward the resolution to the legislative body of the city-county consolidated government. If a majority of the city-county consolidated legislative body approves the resolution, the question of joining the city-county consolidated government shall be submitted to the electorate of the petitioning city within sixty days after approval of the resolution.

331.248 Charter of consolidation.

1. The charter commission proposing consolidation shall prepare, adopt, and submit to the voters a consolidation charter including an alternative form of government.

2. The consolidation charter shall:

a. Provide for adjustment of existing bonded indebtedness and other obligations in a manner which will provide for a fair and equitable burden of taxation for debt service.

b. Provide for establishment of service areas, except that formation of a city-county consolidation government form shall not affect the assignment of electric utility service territories pursuant to chapter 476, and shall not affect the rights of a city to grant a franchise under chapter 364.

c. Provide for the transfer or other disposition of property and other rights, claims, assets, and franchises of local governments consolidated under the alternative form.

d. Provide the official name of the consolidated unit of local government.

e. Provide for the transfer, reorganization, abolition, absorption, and adjustment of boundaries of all existing boards, bureaus, commissions, agencies, special districts, and political subdivisions of the consolidated government.

f. Include other provisions which the county charter commission and the city charter commission elect to include and which are not inconsistent with state law.

3. The charter may grant the legislative body of the consolidated government the authority to transfer, reorganize, and provide a method for adjusting the boundaries of the entities within the consolidated government.

2. An alternative form of government, including a charter form, for a consolidated unit of local government may be submitted to the voters only by a commission established under this chapter. A majority vote by the charter commission is required for the submission of an alternative form of government for a consolidated unit of local government. The charter commission submitting a consolidated form shall issue a final report and proposal.

3. An alternative form of government for a consolidated unit of local government does not need to include more than one city. A city shall not be included unless the city participates in the commission process, and a majority of the electors of the affected city voting approves the proposed charter for the consolidated government.

4. If an alternative form of government for a consolidated unit of local government is proposed, approval of the consolidation charter shall be a separate ballot issue from approval of the alternative form of government in those cities proposed to be included in the consolidation. The consolidation charter shall be effective in regard to a city government only if a majority of the voters of the city voting on the question voted for participation in the consolidation charter.

91 Acts, ch 256, §19, 20 HF 693
Section amended
NEW subsection 5
331.249 Effect of consolidation.
1. The consolidation of one or more cities and one or more counties shall create a unified government which includes a municipal corporation and a county. The consolidated unit shall have the separate status of a county and a city for all purposes and shall constitute two political subdivisions, a consolidated city and a county, under combined government. The consolidated unit shall retain one separate constitutional debt limitation with respect to its status as a city and a separate constitutional debt limitation with respect to its status as a county.

2. A consolidated unit of local government may include an area which is located in another county, but which is within the corporate boundaries of one of the consolidated cities. County services shall be provided in the extra-county area and taxes to fund those services shall be collected in the extra-county area by the consolidated government, to the extent permitted by the Constitution of the State of Iowa. In addition to the right to vote in the county of residence, electors residing in the extra-county area shall have the right to vote on any matter related to the consolidated unit of local government, including election of its officials.

If a city-county consolidation charter is proposed, within ninety days following the final report of the commission, a resident or property owner of the commission area proposed to be consolidated may bring an action in district court for declaratory judgment to determine the legality of the proposed charter and to otherwise declare the effect of the charter. The referendum on the proposed charter shall be stayed during pendency of the action and for such additional time during which the proposed charter or its enabling legislation does not conform to the Constitution or laws of the State of Iowa. If in its final judgment the court determines that the proposed charter fails to conform to the Constitution or laws of this state, the commission shall have a period of six months in which to revise and resubmit the proposed charter.

3. All provisions of law authorizing contributions of any kind, in money or otherwise, from the state or federal government to counties and cities shall remain in full force with respect to each city and the county comprising a consolidated local government.

331.250 General powers of consolidated local governments.
The consolidation charter shall provide for the delivery of services to specified areas of the consolidated local government. The governing body of the consolidated government shall administer the provision of services in each of the designated service areas and shall have the authority to determine the boundaries of the service areas. For each service provided by the consolidated government, the consolidated government shall assume the same statutory rights, powers, and duties relating to the provision of the service as if the member city were itself providing the service to its citizens.

331.252 Form of ballot — city-county consolidation.
The question of city-county consolidation shall be submitted to the electors in substantially the following form:

Should the corporate existence and governments of the county of ................. and the cities of ....... ............... and ............... be consolidated into one joint city-county corporation government?

If section 331.247, subsection 4, applies, the following question shall be placed on the ballot of each participating city:

Should the (name of city or second county) participate in the consolidation charter?

The ballot must contain a brief description and summary of the proposed charter or amendment.

331.253 Requirements for multicounty government consolidation.
1. Consolidation may be placed on the ballot only by a joint report by two or more counties.
2. A final report must contain a consolidation charter if multicounty consolidation is recommended. The consolidation charter must conform to the provisions and requirements in accordance with this part.

331.254 Charter of consolidation.
When multicounty consolidation is recommended, a petition must contain a consolidation charter which provides for:

1. Adjustment of existing bonded indebtedness and other obligations in a manner which assures a fair and equitable burden of taxation for debt service.
2. Establishment of subordinate service districts.
3. The transfer or other disposition of property and other rights, claims, assets, and franchises of the counties consolidated under the charter.
4. The official name of the consolidated county.
5. The transfer, reorganization, abolition, absorption, and adjustment of boundaries of existing boards, subordinate service districts, local improvement districts, and agencies of the consolidated counties.
6. The retention of each county's geographic boundaries as the boundaries existed before consolidation.

7. The merger of the elective offices of each consolidating county with the election of new officers within sixty days after the effective date of the charter. The elections shall be conducted by the county commissioner of elections of each county pursuant to section 69.13.

8. The merger of the appointive offices of each consolidating county.

The consolidation charter may include other provisions that are not inconsistent with state law.

331.256 Joining existing multicounty consolidated government.

A county may join an existing multicounty consolidated government by resolution of the board of supervisors or upon petition of eligible electors of the county equal in number to at least twenty-five percent of the persons who voted at the last general election for the office of governor or president of the United States, whichever is fewer. Within fifteen days after receiving a valid petition, the board of the petitioning county shall adopt a resolution in favor of participation and shall immediately forward the resolution to the legislative body of the multicounty consolidated government. If a majority of the multicounty consolidated board of supervisors approves the resolution, the question of joining the multicounty consolidated government shall be submitted to the electorate of the petitioning county within sixty days after approval of the resolution.

COMMUNITY COMMONWEALTH

1. A county and one or more cities or townships within the county, a contiguous county, and a city or a township within a contiguous county may unite to establish an alternative form of local government for the purpose of making more efficient use of their resources by providing for the delivery of regional services.

2. A charter proposing a community commonwealth as an alternative form of government may be submitted to the voters only by a commission established under section 331.232. A majority vote by the commission is required for the submission of a charter proposing a community commonwealth as an alternative form of local government. The commission submitting a community commonwealth form of government shall issue a final report and proposal. If an alternative form of government for a community commonwealth form of local government is proposed, approval of the commonwealth charter shall be a separate ballot issue from approval of the alternative form of government in those cities proposed to be included in the commonwealth. The commonwealth charter shall be effective in regard to a city government only if a majority of the voters of the city voting on the question voted for participation in the commonwealth charter.

The question of forming a community commonwealth shall be submitted to the electorate in substantially the same form as provided in section 331.252.

91 Acts, ch 256, §32 HF 693
NEW section

331.261 Charter — community commonwealth.

The community commonwealth charter shall provide for the following:

1. The official name of the community commonwealth government.

2. An elective legislative body established in the manner provided for county boards of supervisors under sections 331.201 through 331.216 and section 331.238.

3. Appointment of a manager pursuant to sections 331.241 through 331.243.

4. Adjustment of existing bonded indebtedness and other obligations to the extent it relates to the delivery of services.

5. The transfer or other disposition of property and other rights, claims, assets, and franchises as they relate to the delivery of services.

6. The transfer, reorganization, abolition, adjustment, and absorption of existing boards, existing subordinate service districts, local improvement districts, and agencies of the participating county and cities.

7. A system of delivery of services to the entire community commonwealth pursuant to section 331.263.

8. A formula for the transfer of taxing authority from member cities to the community commonwealth governing body to fund the delivery of regional services.

9. The transfer into the community commonwealth of areawide services which had been provided by other boards, commissions, and local governments, except that formation of a community commonwealth shall not affect the assignment of electric utility service territories pursuant to chapter 476, and shall not affect the rights of a city to grant a franchise under chapter 364.

10. A process by which the governing body of the community commonwealth and the governing bodies of the member cities provide by mutual agreement for the delivery of specified services to the community commonwealth.

11. The partisan election of community commonwealth government officials.

The community commonwealth charter may include other provisions not inconsistent with state law.

331.262 Adoption of charter — effect.
1. As a political subdivision of the state, the community commonwealth unit of local government shall have the statutory and constitutional status of a county and of a city to the extent the community commonwealth governing body assumes the powers and duties of cities as those powers and duties relate to the delivery of services. For each service provided by the community commonwealth, the community commonwealth shall assume the same statutory rights, powers, and duties relating to the provision of the service as if the member city were itself providing the service to its citizens.

On its effective date, the community commonwealth charter operates to replace the existing county government structure. The governments of participating cities shall remain in existence to render those services not transferred to the community commonwealth government.

2. A city or county wishing to terminate its membership in the community commonwealth government must do so pursuant to the existing charter procedure under this chapter or chapter 372, whichever is applicable.

A city or county may join an existing community commonwealth government by resolution of the board or council, whichever is applicable, or upon petition of eligible electors of the city or county, whichever is applicable, equal in number to at least twenty-five percent of the persons who voted at the last general election for the office of governor or president of the United States, whichever is fewer. Within fifteen days after receiving a valid petition, the applicable governing body shall adopt a resolution in favor of participation and shall immediately forward the resolution to the governing body of the community commonwealth. If a majority of the community commonwealth governing body approves the resolution, the question of joining the community commonwealth shall be submitted to the electorate of the petitioning city or county within sixty days after approval of the resolution.

331.263 Service delivery.
1. The governing body of the community commonwealth shall administer the provision of services in each of the designated service areas and shall have the authority to determine the boundaries of the service areas.

2. The governing body of the community commonwealth shall have the authority to levy county taxes and shall have the authority to levy city taxes to the extent the city tax levy authority is transferred by the charter to the community commonwealth. A city participating in the community commonwealth shall transfer a portion of the city's tax levy authorized under section 384.1 or 384.12, whichever is applicable, to the governing body of the community commonwealth. The maximum rates of taxes authorized to be levied under sections 384.1 and 384.12 by a city participating in the community commonwealth shall be reduced by an amount equal to the rates of the same or similar taxes levied in the city by the governing body of the community commonwealth.

331.264 through 331.300 Reserved.

331.302 County legislation.
1. The board shall exercise a power or perform a duty only by the passage of a motion, a resolution, an amendment, or an ordinance.

2. A county shall not provide a penalty in excess of a one hundred dollar fine or in excess of thirty days imprisonment for the violation of an ordinance. The criminal penalty surcharge required by section 911.2 shall be added to a county fine and is not a part of the county's penalty.

3. The subject matter of an ordinance or amendment shall be generally described in its title.

4. An amendment to an ordinance or to a code of ordinances shall specifically repeal the ordinance or code, or the section, subsection, paragraph, or subpart to be amended, and shall set forth the ordinance, code, section, subsection, paragraph, or subpart as amended.

4A. a. A county may by ordinance adopt by reference any portion of the Code of Iowa in effect at the time of the adoption in the manner provided in section 380.8 for adoption of a proposed code of ordinances containing a proposed new ordinance or amendment, subject to the following limitations:

(1) The ordinance shall describe the subject matter and identify the portion of the Code of Iowa adopted by chapter, section, and subsection or other subpart, as applicable.

(2) A portion of the Code of Iowa may be adopted by reference only if the criminal penalty provided by the law adopted does not exceed thirty days' imprisonment or a one hundred dollar fine.

(3) Amendments or other changes to those portions of the Code of Iowa which have been adopted by reference shall serve as an automatic modification of the applicable ordinance.
An ordinance which adopts by reference any portion of the Code of Iowa may provide that violations of the ordinance are county infractions and subject to the limitations of section 331.307.

A proposed ordinance or amendment shall be considered and voted on for passage at two meetings of the board prior to the meeting at which it is to be finally passed, unless this requirement is suspended by a recorded vote of not less than a majority of the supervisors.

However, if a summary of the proposed ordinance or amendment is published as provided in section 331.305 prior to its first consideration and copies are available at the time of publication at the office of the auditor, the ordinance or amendment shall be considered and voted on for passage at one meeting prior to the meeting at which it is to be finally passed, unless this requirement is suspended by a recorded vote of not less than a majority of the supervisors.

Passage of an ordinance, amendment, or resolution requires an affirmative vote of not less than a majority of the supervisors. Each supervisor’s vote on an ordinance, amendment, or resolution shall be recorded.

A resolution becomes effective upon passage and an ordinance or amendment becomes a law when published, unless a subsequent effective date is provided within the measure.

The auditor shall promptly record each measure, publish all ordinances and amendments as provided in section 331.305, authenticate all measures except motions with signature and certification as to time and manner of publication, if any, and maintain for public use copies of all effective ordinances and codes. The auditor’s certification is presumptive evidence of the facts stated therein.

At least once every five years, the board shall compile a code of ordinances containing all of the county ordinances in effect.

If a proposed code of ordinances contains only existing ordinances edited and compiled without change in substance, the board may adopt the code by ordinance.

If a proposed code of ordinances contains a proposed new ordinance or amendment, the board shall hold a public hearing on the proposed code before adoption. The auditor shall publish notice of the hearing as provided in section 331.305. Copies of the proposed code of ordinances shall be available at the auditor’s office and the notice shall so state. Within thirty days after the hearing, the board may adopt the proposed code of ordinances which becomes law upon publication of the ordinance adopting it. If the board substantially amends the proposed code of ordinances after a hearing, notice and hearing shall be repeated.

Ordinances and amendments which become effective after adoption of a code of ordinances may be compiled as a supplement to the code, and upon adoption of the supplement by resolution, become part of the code of ordinances.

An adopted code of ordinances is presumptive evidence of the passage, publication, and content of the ordinances therein as of the date of the auditor’s certification of the ordinance adopting the code or supplement.

The compensation paid to a newspaper for a publication required by this section shall not exceed three-fourths of the fee provided in section 618.11.

The board may adopt the provisions of a statewide or nationally recognized standard code or portions of any such code by an ordinance which identifies the code by subject matter, source, and date, and incorporates the provisions either by reference or by setting them forth in full. The code or portion shall be adopted only after notice and hearing in the manner provided in subsection 9.

Immediately after the effective date of a measure establishing a zoning district, building lines, or fire limits, the auditor shall certify the measure and a plat showing the district, lines, or limits, to the recorder. The recorder shall record the measure and plat in the miscellaneous record or other book provided for special records, and shall index the record.

A measure voted upon is not invalid because a supervisor has a conflict of interest, unless the vote of the supervisor was decisive to passage of the measure. If a majority or unanimous vote of the board is required by statute, the majority or vote shall be computed on the basis of the number of supervisors not disqualified by reason of conflict of interest. However, a majority of all supervisors is required for a quorum. For the purposes of this subsection, the statement of a supervisor that the supervisor declines to vote by reason of conflict of interest is conclusive and shall be entered of record.

A valid measure adopted by a county prior to July 1, 1981 remains valid unless the measure is irreconcilable with a state law.

A county shall not provide a civil penalty in excess of one hundred dollars for the violation of an ordinance which is classified as a county infraction or if the infraction is a repeat offense, a civil penalty not to exceed two hundred dollars for each repeat offense. A county infraction is not punishable by imprisonment.

331.401 Duties relating to finances.

1. The board shall:

   a Audit expenses charged to the county for the annual examination by the auditor of state and approve or object to the expenses as provided in section 11.21.

   b Establish budgets for the farm-to-market road fund and the secondary road fund in accordance with sections 309.10 and 309.93 to 309.97.

   c Pay expenses of administration of juvenile justice, attributable to the county under section 232.141.

   d Provide for the expense of persons committed to the county jail or a regional detention facility in accordance with section 356.15.

e. Adopt resolutions authorizing the county assessor to provide forms for homestead exemption claimants as provided in section 425.2 and military service tax exemptions as provided in section 427.6.

f. Examine and allow or disallow claims for homestead exemption in accordance with section 426.3 and claims for military service tax exemption in accordance with chapter 426A and sections 427.3 to 427.6. The board, by a single resolution, may allow or disallow the exemptions recommended by the assessor.

g. Hear appeals relating to the agricultural land tax credit in accordance with section 426.6.

h. Order the suspension of property taxes of certain persons in accordance with section 427.9.

i. Approve or deny an application for a property tax exemption for impoundment structures, as provided in section 427.1, subsection 33.

j. Serve on the conference board as provided in section 441.2.

k. Levy taxes as certified to it by tax-certifying bodies in the county, in accordance with the statutes authorizing the levies and in accordance with chapter 24 and sections 444.1 to 444.8, and levy taxes as required in chapters 430A, 433, 434, 436, 437 and 438.

l. Carry out duties in regard to the collection of taxes as provided in sections 445.16, 445.60, and 445.62.

m. Apportion taxes upon receipt of a petition, in accordance with sections 449.1 to 449.3.

n. Comply with chapters 452 and 453 in the management of public funds.

o. Allocate payments from flood control projects as provided in sections 467B.13 and 467B.14.

p. Examine and settle all accounts of the receipts and expenditures of the county and all claims against the county, except as otherwise provided by state law.

q. Require a local historical society to submit to it a proposed budget including the amount of available funds and estimated expenditures, as a prerequisite to receiving funds. A local historical society receiving funds shall present to the board an annual report describing in detail its use of the funds received.

r. Perform other financial duties as required by state law.

2. The board shall not pay membership dues for a county officers association in this state other than the Iowa state association of counties or an organization affiliated with it. This subsection does not prohibit expenditures for organizations with which the Iowa state association or its affiliates are affiliated.

3. The board shall not pay bounties on coyotes, rattlesnakes, foxes, or wolves other than coyotes.

331.427 General fund.

1. Except as otherwise provided by state law, county revenues from taxes and other sources for general county services shall be credited to the general fund of the county, including revenues received under sections 84.21, 98.35, 98A.6, 101A.3, 101A.7, 110.12, 123.96, 123.143, 176A.8, 246.908, 321.105, 321.132, 321G.7, 331.554, subsection 6, 341A.20, 364.5, 368.21, 422.65, 422A.2, 428A.8, 400A.3, 433.15, 434.19, 445.57, 533.24, 556B.1, 567.10, 583.6, 906.17, and 911.3, and chapter 405A, and the following:

a. License fees for business establishments.

b. Moneys remitted by the clerk of the district court and received from a magistrate or district associate judge for fines and forfeited bail imposed pursuant to a violation of a county ordinance.

c. Other amounts in accordance with state law.

2. The board may make appropriations from the general fund for general county services, including but not limited to the following:

a. Expenses of a joint disaster services and emergency planning administration under section 29C.9.

b. Development, operation, and maintenance of memorial buildings or monuments under chapter 37.

c. Purchase of voting machines under chapter 52.

d. Expenses incurred by the county conservation board established under chapter 111A, in carrying out its powers and duties.

e. Local health services. The county auditor shall keep a complete record of appropriations for local health services and shall issue warrants on them only on requisition of the local or district health board.

f. Expenses relating to county fairs, as provided in chapter 174.

g. Maintenance of a juvenile detention home under chapter 232.

h. Relief of veterans under chapter 250.

i. Care and support of the poor under chapter 252.

j. Operation, maintenance, and management of a health center under chapter 346A.

k. For the use of a nonprofit historical society organized under chapter 504 or 504A, a city-owned historical project, or both.

l. Services listed in section 331.424, subsection 1 and section 331.554.

3. Appropriations specifically authorized to be made from the general fund shall not be made from the rural services fund, but may be made from other sources.

331.434 County budget — notice and hearing — appropriations.

Annually, the board of each county, subject to sections 331.423 through 331.426 and other applicable state law, shall prepare and adopt a budget, certify taxes, and provide appropriations as follows:

91 Acts, ch 191, §8 HF 687
1991 amendment to subsection 1, unnumbered paragraph 1, effective April 1, 1992, 91 Acts, ch 191, §124 HF 687
Subsection 1, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

91 Acts, ch 191, §7 HF 687
1991 amendment to subsection 1, paragraph 1, effective April 1, 1992, 91 Acts, ch 191, §110 HF 687
Subsection 1, paragraph 1 amended
1. The budget shall show the amount required for each class of proposed expenditures, a comparison of the amounts proposed to be expended with the amounts expended for like purposes for the two preceding years, the revenues from sources other than property taxation, and the amount to be raised by property taxation, in the detail and form prescribed by the director of the department of management.

2. Not less than twenty days before the date that a budget must be certified under section 24.17 and not less than ten days before the date set for the hearing under subsection 3 of this section, the board shall file the budget with the auditor. The auditor shall make available a sufficient number of copies of the budget to meet the requests of taxpayers and organizations and have them available for distribution at the courthouse or other places designated by the board.

3. The board shall set a time and place for a public hearing on the budget before the final certification date and shall publish notice of the hearing not less than ten nor more than twenty days prior to the hearing in the county newspapers selected under chapter 349. A summary of the proposed budget, in the form prescribed by the director of the department of management, shall be included in the notice. Proof of publication shall be filed with and preserved by the auditor. A levy is not valid unless and until the notice is published and filed.

4. At the hearing, a resident or taxpayer of the county may present to the board objections to or arguments in favor of any part of the budget.

5. After the hearing, the board shall adopt by resolution a budget and certificate of taxes for the next fiscal year and shall direct the auditor to properly certify and file the budget and certificate of taxes as adopted. The board shall not adopt a tax in excess of the estimate published, except a tax which is approved by a vote of the people, and a greater tax than that adopted shall not be levied or collected. A county budget and certificate of taxes adopted for the following fiscal year becomes effective on the first day of that year.

6. The board shall appropriate, by resolution, the amounts deemed necessary for each of the different county officers and departments during the ensuing fiscal year. Increases or decreases in these appropriations do not require a budget amendment, but may be provided by resolution at a regular meeting of the board, as long as each class of proposed expenditures contained in the budget summary published under subsection 3 of this section is not increased. However, decreases in appropriations for a county officer or department of more than ten percent or five thousand dollars, whichever is greater, shall not be effective unless the board sets a time and place for a public hearing on the proposed decrease and publishes notice of the hearing not less than ten nor more than twenty days prior to the hearing in the county newspapers selected under chapter 349.

331.512 Duties relating to taxation.
The auditor shall:
1. Include on the tax list:
   a. The levy of county taxes authorized by the board as provided by law.
   b. The levy of taxes to pay the principal and interest on bonds as provided in sections 76.2 and 76.3.
   c. The levy of a mulct tax against the property of a person maintaining a nuisance as certified by the clerk of the district court as provided in section 99.28.
   d. The levy of a tax to pay the expenses incurred and penalties assessed by the state fire marshal relating to the repair or destruction of fire hazards as provided in sections 100.27 to 100.29.
   e. The costs of erecting, rebuilding, or repairing a fence under order of the fence viewers as provided in section 113.6.
   f. A levy against the property of a bee owner sufficient to pay the costs of disinfecting or destroying diseased bees as provided in section 160.8.
   g. The levy for taxes for the county brucellosis and tuberculosis eradication fund as provided in section 165.18.
   h. The levy of a tax for the operation of a community college as provided in section 280A.17.
   i. The levy of a tax to pay the principal and interest under a loan agreement entered into by community college authorities as provided in section 280A.22.
   j. The levy of community school taxes as provided by law.
   k. The levy of a tax as certified by the board of trustees of a sanitary district as provided in section 358.18.
   l. The levy of taxes certified by the board of trustees of a township as provided in chapters 359 and 360.
   m. The levy of city taxes and assessments as certified by the city council as provided by law.
   n. Other tax levies as provided by law.
2. Carry out duties relating to tax sales of property within special charter cities as provided in sections 420.220 to 420.229.
3. Carry out duties relating to the homestead tax credit and agricultural land tax credit as provided in chapters 425 and 426.
4. Prepare and certify to the county treasurer the total amount of dollars for military service tax credits claimed and allowed as provided under sections 426A.3 and 427.3 to 427.6.
5. Carry out duties relating to the preparation of the tax list as provided in sections 427A.3, 427A.6, 428.4, 441.17, 441.21, 443.2 to 443.9 and 443.21.
6. Carry out duties relating to the valuation and taxation of telegraph and telephone companies as provided in sections 433.8 to 433.10 including mapping requirements as provided in sections 433.14 and 433.15.
7. Transmit to other local government officials the order stating the length of the main track and the assessed value of each railway located within the county as provided in section 434.22.
331.552 General duties.

1. Receive all money payable to the county unless otherwise provided by law.

2. Disburse money owed or payable by the county on warrants drawn and signed by the auditor and sealed with the official county seal.

3. Keep a true account of all receipts and disbursements of the county, which account shall be available for inspection by the board at any reasonable time.

4. Keep the official county seal provided by the county. The official seal shall be an impression seal on the face of which shall appear the name of the county, the word "county" which may be abbreviated, the word "treasurer" which may be abbreviated, and the word "Iowa." The impression of the seal shall be placed on each motor vehicle registration certificate signed by the treasurer.

5. Account for, report, and pay into the state treasury any money, property, or securities received on behalf of the state as provided in sections 421.32 to 421.34.

6. Account for and report to the board the amount of swampland indemnity funds received from the treasurer of state under section 12.16.

7. Register and call tax anticipatory warrants issued for a memorial hospital as provided under section 37.30.

8. Serve on a nomination appeals commission to hear nomination objections filed with the county commissioner of elections as provided in section 44.7.

9. Keep on file the bond and oath of the auditor as provided in section 64.23.

10. Reserved.

11. Serve as treasurer of an area hospital located outside the corporate limits of a city as provided in section 145A.15.

12. Register and call anticipatory warrants related to the sale of limestone as provided in section 202.8.

13. Make transfer payments to the state for school expenses for blind and deaf children, support of the mentally ill, and hospital care for the indigent as provided in sections 230.21, 255.26, 269.2 and 270.7.

14. Transfer funds to pay the expenses of creating or changing the boundaries of a school district as provided in section 275.26.

15. Transfer funds to pay tuition expenses owed by a debtor school district to a creditor school district as provided in section 282.21.

16. Pay to the treasurers of the school corporations located in the county the taxes and other monies due as provided in section 298.11 and send amounts collected for each fund of a school corporation for direct deposit into the depository and account designated as provided in section 298.13.

17. Pay monthly to the treasurer of state proceeds of public lands sold and escheated estates as provided in section 302.22 and pay annually on February 1 interest collected from public lands sold on credit as provided in section 302.5.

18. Maintain a permanent school fund account and records of school funds received as provided in section 302.31.

19. Carry out duties relating to the sale and redemption of anticipatory certificates for secondary road construction as provided in sections 309.50 to 309.55.

20. Carry out duties relating to the establishment of secondary road assessment districts as provided in chapter 311.

21. Carry out duties relating to the sale and redemption of county bonds as provided in division IV, parts 3 and 4.

22. Notify the chairperson of the county hospital board of trustees and pay to the hospital treasurer the tax revenue collected for the county hospital during the preceding month as provided in section 347A.1.

23. Collect a fee of ten dollars for issuing a tax sale certificate or a certificate of redemption from tax sale.

24. Carry out duties relating to the condemnation of property as provided in section 331.656, subsection 4.

25. Carry out duties relating to the funding of drainage districts as provided in chapter 468, subchapter I, parts 1 to 5, subchapter II, parts 1, 5, and 6, subchapter III, and subchapter IV, parts 1 and 2.

26. Collect and disburse funds for soil and water conservation districts as provided in sections 467A.33 and 467A.34.
27. Credit the remainder of funds received from a hotelkeeper’s sale to satisfy a lien to the county general fund as provided in section 583.6.

28. Designate the newspapers in which the official notices of the treasurer’s office are to be published as provided in section 618.7.

29. Send, before the fifteenth day of each month, the amount of tax revenue, special assessments, and other moneys collected for each tax-certifying or tax-levying public agency in the county for direct deposit into the depository or financial institution and account designated by the governing body of the public agency. The treasurer shall send notice to the chairperson or other designated officer of the public agency stating the amount deposited, the date, the amount to be credited to each fund according to the budget, and the source of revenue.

30. Carry out other duties as required by law and duties assigned pursuant to section 331.323.

CHAPTER 341A
CIVIL SERVICE FOR DEPUTY COUNTY SHERIFFS

341A.7 Classifications.
The classified civil service positions covered by this chapter include persons actually serving as deputy sheriffs who are salaried pursuant to section 331.904, subsection 2, but do not include a chief deputy sheriff, two second deputy sheriffs in counties with a population of more than one hundred thousand, and four second deputy sheriffs in counties with a population of more than two hundred thousand. However, a chief deputy sheriff or second deputy sheriff who becomes a candidate for a partisan elective office for remuneration is subject to section 341A.18. A deputy sheriff serving with permanent rank under this chapter may be designated chief deputy sheriff or second deputy sheriff and retain that rank during the period of service as chief deputy sheriff or second deputy sheriff and shall, upon termination of the duties as chief deputy sheriff or second deputy sheriff, revert to the permanent rank.

If the positions of two second deputy sheriffs of a county were exempt from classified civil service coverage under this chapter based on the 1980 decennial census, the two second deputy positions shall remain exempt from classified civil service coverage under this chapter.

NEW unnumbered paragraph 2

CHAPTER 347
PUBLIC HOSPITALS

347.14 Powers.
The board of hospital trustees may:
1. Adopt bylaws and rules for its own guidance and for the government of the hospital.
2. Establish and maintain in connection with said hospital a training school for nurses.
3. Establish as a department in connection with said hospital a suitable building for the isolation and detention of persons afflicted with contagious diseases subject to quarantine.
4. Determine whether or not, and if so upon what terms, it will extend the privileges of the hospital to nonresidents of the county.
5. Adopt some suitable name other than county public hospital for hospitals either operating now, in process of construction, or to be established hereafter.
6. Operate said hospital as a tuberculosis sanatorium or provide as a department of such hospital suitable accommodation and means for the care of persons afflicted with tuberculosis.
7. Formulate rules and regulations for the government of tuberculous patients and for the protection of other patients, nurses, and attendants from infection.
8. In counties having a population of one hundred thirty-five thousand inhabitants or over, establish a psychiatric department in connection with the hospital to provide for admission of patients for observation, examination, diagnosis and treatment.
9. Procure and pay premiums on any and all insurance policies required for the prudent management of the hospital, including but not limited to public liability, professional malpractice liability, workers' compensation insurance, property insurance, and any other insurance that may be necessary for the prudent management and operation of the county public hospital, the costs of a self-insurance program, the costs of a local government risk pool, and amounts payable under any insurance agreements to provide or procure such insurance, self-insurance program, or local government risk pool.
10. Do all things necessary for the management, control and government of said hospital and exercise all the rights and duties pertaining to hospital trustees generally, unless such rights of hospital trustees generally are specifically denied by this chapter, or unless such duties are expressly charged by this chapter.
11. The said trustees may in their discretion establish a fund for depreciation as a separate fund. Said funds may be invested in United States government bonds and when so invested the accumulation of interest on the bonds so purchased shall be used for the purposes of said depreciation fund; such investment when so made shall remain in said United States government bonds until such time as in the judgment of the board of trustees it is deemed advisable to use said funds for hospital purposes.
12. Operate a health care facility as defined in section 135C.1 in conjunction with the hospital.
13. Purchase, lease, equip, maintain and operate an ambulance or ambulances to provide necessary and sufficient ambulance service or to contract for such vehicles, equipment, maintenance or service when such ambulance service is not otherwise available.
14. Submit to the voters at a regular or special election a proposition to sell or lease a county public hospital for use as a private hospital or as a merged area hospital under chapter 145A or to sell or lease a county hospital in conjunction with the establishment of a merged area hospital. The authorization of the board of hospital trustees submitting the proposition may, but is not required to, contain conditions which provide for maintaining hospital care within the county, for the retention of county public hospital employees and staff, and for the continuation of the board of trustees for the purpose of carrying out provisions of contracts. The property listed in section 347.13, subsection 12 may be included in the proposition, but the proceeds from the property shall be used for the purposes listed in section 347.13, subsection 13 or for the purpose of providing health care for residents of the county. Proceeds from the sale or lease of the county hospital or other assets of the board of trustees shall not be used for the prepayment of health care services for residents of the county with the purchaser or lessee of the county hospital or to underwrite the sale or lease of the county hospital. The proposition submitted to the voters of the county shall not be set forth at length, but it shall be in substantially the following form:

"Shall the board of hospital trustees of ................. countystate of Iowa, be authorized to ............................................ (state authorization which may exclude the conditions) in accordance with the terms of authorization approved at the meeting of .......... (cite date) of the board of hospital trustees?"

If the proposition is approved by a majority of the total votes cast for and against the proposition at the election, the board of hospital trustees shall proceed to carry out the authorization granted.

CHAPTER 357
BENEFITED WATER DISTRICTS

357.13 Trustees — qualification and terms.
At the election provided for in section 357.12, the names of the trustees shall be written by the voter on blank ballots without formal nomination and the board of supervisors shall appoint three from among the five receiving the highest number of votes as trustees for the district, one to serve for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, which trustees and their successors shall give bond in the amount the board of supervisors may require, the premium of which shall be paid by the district the trustees represent. Vacancies may thereafter be filled by election, or by appointment by the board of supervisors, at the option of the remaining trustees. The trustees must be residents of the district. The term of succeeding trustees shall be for three years.

357A.2 Petition — deposit — limitation.
A petition may at any time be filed with the auditor requesting the supervisors to incorporate and organize a district encompassing an area, not then included in any other district, in a county or in two or more adjacent counties for the purpose of providing an adequate supply of water for residents of the area who are not served by the water mains of any city water system.

There shall be filed with the petition a bond with sureties approved by the auditor, or a certified check, credit union certified share draft or cash in an amount sufficient for the payment of all costs and expenses incurred in the proceedings if the district is not finally established.

The petition shall be signed by the owners of at least fifty percent of all real property lying within the outside perimeter of the area designated for inclusion in the proposed district, and shall state:
1. The location of the area, describing such area to be served or specifying the area by an attached map.
2. The reasons a district is needed.
3. A new water service plan describing the cost feasibility and estimated construction schedules.

Water services, other than water services provided as of April 1, 1987, shall not be provided within two miles of the limits of a city by a rural water district incorporated under this chapter or chapter 504A unless the city has approved a new water service plan.
submitted by the district. If the new water service plan is not approved by the city, the plan may be subject to arbitration.

357A.4 Notice.
The notice prepared by the auditor pursuant to section 357A.3 shall set forth:
1. The location of the area designated by the petitioners for incorporation in the proposed district, as described or shown by the original petition.
2. The time and place fixed by the supervisors for the hearing on the petition.
3. That all owners or tenants of real property within the boundaries described may appear and be heard.
4. That the proposed district, if incorporated, shall have no power or authority to levy any taxes whatsoever.

91 Acts ch 134 §5 SF 382

357A.5 Appearances.
At the hearing on the petition, any owner or tenant of real property within the boundaries of the area described in the petition may appear, in person or by a designated representative, and any representative of the department, a city, or an interested person may also appear, in favor of or in opposition to the incorporation and organization of the proposed district. The appearances may also be filed in writing prior to the time set for the hearing.

91 Acts ch 134 §6 SF 382
Section amended

357A.6 Findings — order.
After the hearing, the supervisors may strike off any part of the territory that testimony shows will not be benefited by the creation of the district. If the supervisors do not find that the district is reasonably necessary, they shall dismiss the petition.

If the supervisors find that required notice of the hearing has been given and that the proposed district is reasonably necessary for the public health, convenience, and comfort of the residents, or may be of benefit in providing fire protection, they shall make an order establishing the district as a political subdivision, designating its boundary, and identifying it by name or number. The order shall be published in the same newspaper which published the notice of hearing. The supervisors shall prepare and preserve a complete record of the hearing on the petition and their findings and action.

Unnumbered paragraph 2 amended

357A.11 Board’s powers and duties.
The board shall be the governing body of the district, and shall:
1. Adopt rules, regulations, and rate schedules in conformity with the provisions of this Act and the bylaws of the district as necessary for the conduct of the business of the district.
2. Maintain at its office a record of the district’s proceedings, rules and regulations, and any decisions and orders made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, and furnish copies thereof to the supervisors or the council upon request.
3. Employ, appoint, or retain attorneys, engineers, other professional and technical employees, and other personnel as necessary, and require and approve bonds of district employees. The board may enter into agreements pursuant to chapter 28E to provide professional or technical services under this subsection to other water districts, nonprofit corporations, or related associations.
4. Prior to each annual meeting of participating members:
a. Prepare an estimated budget for the coming year, and adjust water rates if necessary in order to produce the revenue required to fund the estimated budget, and make a report thereon at the annual meeting.
b. Have an audit made of the district’s records and accounts, and make copies of the audit report available to all participating members attending the annual meeting and to any other participating member who so requests.
5. Have authority to acquire by gift, lease, purchase, or grant any property, real or personal, in fee or a lesser interest needed to achieve the purposes for which the district was incorporated, to acquire easements for water lines and reservoirs by condemnation proceedings, and to sell and convey property owned, but no longer needed, by the district. Condemnation proceedings shall not apply to existing wells, ponds or reservoirs.
6. Have authority to construct, operate, maintain, repair, and when necessary to enlarge or extend, such ponds, reservoirs, pipe lines, wells, check dams, pumping installations, or other facilities for the storage, transportation, or utilization of water, and such appurtenant structures and equipment, as may be necessary or convenient to carry out the purposes for which the district was incorporated. A district may purchase its water supply from any source.
7. Have power to borrow from, co-operate with and enter into agreements as deemed necessary with any agency of the federal government, this state, or a county of this state, and to accept financial or other aid from any agency of the federal government. To evidence any indebtedness the obligations may be one or more bonds or notes and the obligations may be sold at private sale.

8. Have power to finance all or part of the cost of the construction or purchase of any project necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district is incorporated, or to refinance all or part of the original cost of such project, and to evidence that financing by issuance of revenue bonds or notes which shall mature in a period not to exceed forty years from date of issuance, shall bear interest, or combined interest and insurance charges, at a rate not to exceed that permitted by chapter 74A, shall be payable only from revenue derived from sale of water by the district, and shall never become or be construed to be a debt against the state of Iowa or any of its political subdivisions other than the district issuing the bonds.

9. Finance all or part of the cost of the construction or purchase of a project necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district is incorporated or to refinance all or part of the original cost of that project, including, but not limited to, obligations originated by the district as a nonprofit corporation under chapter 504A and assumed by the district reorganized under this chapter. Financing or refinancing carried out under this subsection shall be in accordance with the terms and procedures set forth in the applicable provisions of sections 384.83 through 384.88, 384.92, and 384.93. References in these sections to a city shall be applicable to a rural water district operating under this chapter, and references in that division to a city council shall be applicable to the board of directors of a rural water district. This subsection shall not create a lien against the property of a person who is not a rural water subscriber.

10. Have power to join the Iowa association of rural water districts, and pay out of funds available to the board, reasonable dues to the association. The financial condition and transactions of the Iowa association of rural water districts must be audited in the same manner as rural water districts.

11. This chapter and chapter 384, as it applies to rural water districts, shall not be construed to mean that the real property of any rural water subscriber shall be used as security for any debts of a rural water district. However, the failure to pay water rates or charges by a subscriber may result in a lien being attached against the premises served upon certification to the county treasurer that the rate or charges are due.

As soon as reasonably possible after incorporation of a district, the board shall file with the supervisors and the department copies of the plans and specifications for, and estimates of the cost of, any improvements authorized by this chapter which the board proposes to construct or acquire. The board shall determine a reasonable fee which each member shall pay for the privilege of utilizing the district's facilities, and which shall be known as a benefit unit. Benefit units may be classified. The board, by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the district, shall generally describe the planned improvements, the area to be served and the fee members will be required to pay for each service connected to the water system.

The procedures for contract letting specified in sections 384.95 through 384.102 and as specified in section 384.103, subsection 2, shall apply to construction carried out pursuant to this chapter. References in those sections to a city shall be applicable to a rural water district operating under this chapter, and references to a city council shall be applicable to the board of directors of a rural water district.

357A.14 Attaching to district — inclusion of city — merger.

1. Owners of real property outside any district which can economically be served by the facilities of the district may petition to be attached to the district. The petition shall be filed with the auditor, and the auditor and supervisors shall proceed, in substantially the same manner as is provided by this chapter for filing of and proceeding on a petition for incorporation and organization of a district.

2. All or any part of an incorporated city may be included in the boundaries of any existing water district or water district being newly organized, provided the governing body of such city by resolution or ordinance gives, or has given, its consent.

3. Boards of any two or more districts may by concurrent action and by approval of the supervisors merge their districts into one. In case of merger the members of the boards of the merged districts may serve out the terms for which they were elected. The resulting district shall take over all the assets and legal liabilities of the water districts joining in the merger. Obligations of any district secured by the revenue of the systems operated by the district shall continue to be retired, or a sinking fund for such purpose created from revenue from the system operated over the same area by the resulting district in accordance with the laws under which the obligations were issued, until all obligations of the old district have been retired.

4. If there is a conflict between two or more districts concerning which district will serve an area, the supervisors of the county in which the disputed area is located shall, after a public hearing, determine which district can more adequately and economically provide service within the area.
357A.16 Detaching real property from district.
If it becomes apparent that any real property included within a district cannot economically or adequately be served by the facilities of the district, the owners of the real property may file with the auditor a petition to the supervisors requesting that the real property be detached from the district. The petition shall
1. Describe by section, or fraction thereof, and by township and range, the real property which it is proposed to detach from the district.
2. State that the real property cannot economically or adequately be served by the facilities of the district, and that it is not feasible for the district to enlarge or extend its facilities so as to economically and adequately serve the real property.
3. Be signed by the owners of all the real property which it is desired to detach from the district.

357A.20 Alternate operation by nonprofit corporation.
A nonprofit corporation incorporated under chapter 504A for the specific purpose of operating a rural water system may petition the supervisors for incorporation of a district, in the manner provided by section 357A 2. The signatures of the corporation's officers on the petition and a resolution adopted by the corporation's board of directors approving the petition shall suffice in lieu of signatures of owners of fifty percent of the real property in the proposed district, if the corporation presents evidence satisfactory to the supervisors that a sufficient number of members of the proposed district will subscribe to benefit units to make its operation feasible. The procedure for hearing and determination of disposition of the petition shall be as provided by this chapter.

In any district incorporated upon the petition of a nonprofit corporation, the following procedures shall apply:
1. After final approval of the petition by a board of supervisors, the secretary of the corporation shall file a notice with the secretary of state dissolving the nonprofit corporation in accordance with chapter 504A.
2. Upon filing of the notice, the nonprofit corporation shall cease to exist as a chapter 504A entity and all assets and liabilities of the nonprofit corporation become the assets and liabilities of the newly organized district without a need for any further meetings, voting, notice to creditors, or other actions by the members or board.
3. The officers and board of directors of the corporation shall be the officers and board of the district.
4. The applicable laws of the state and the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the corporation shall control the initial size and initial term of office of such officers and board, in lieu of sections 357A 7, 357A 9, and 357A 10.
5. The district shall bring its operation and structure in compliance with sections 357A 7 to 357A 10 at the first annual meeting of the participating members and board of directors.
CHAPTER 357B
BENEFITED FIRE DISTRICTS

357B.5 Dissolution of district.
1. Upon petition of a number of registered voters residing in a district at least equal to thirty-five percent of the property taxpayers in the district, the board of supervisors may dissolve a benefited fire district and dispose of any remaining property, the proceeds of which shall first be applied against any outstanding obligation of the district. Any remaining balance shall be applied as a tax credit for the property owners of the district. However, except as provided in subsection 2, if all or a part of a district is annexed, the board of supervisors may transfer the remaining property and balance to the city which annexed the territory. The board of supervisors shall continue to levy an annual tax after the dissolution of a district, not to exceed forty and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value of the taxable property of the district, until all outstanding obligations of the district are paid.
2. If a benefited fire district is dissolved that has been providing fire protection by contract, direct levy, or combination of both, to a city within the district for at least twenty years and the city’s annual payments by contract or levy for the fire protection comprise seventy-five percent or more of the district’s annual budget, the board of supervisors, in lieu of the disposal of property as provided in subsection 1, shall transfer to the city all of the district’s real and personal property. The city shall assume all of the outstanding obligations of the district. If the district provides fire protection outside of the city’s boundaries, the city shall continue to provide fire protection to this area until it is assigned to another fire protection district by the board of supervisors. If the city continues the fire protection outside its boundaries, the city shall certify to the board of supervisors the cost of providing this service, which shall be at the same rate as contained in the budget for property within the city, but not exceeding forty and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value of all taxable property in the area. The board of supervisors shall levy the amount of tax certified as provided in section 357B.3. The tax shall be collected and allocated in the same manner as other property taxes and paid to the city.

CHAPTER 357C
BENEFITED STREET LIGHTING DISTRICTS

357C.8 Trustees — term and qualification.
At the election, the names of candidates for trustee shall be written in by the voters on blank ballots without formal nomination, and the board of supervisors shall appoint three from among the five receiving the highest number of votes as trustees for the district; one to serve for one year, one for two years, and one for three years. The trustees and their successors must be residents of the district and shall give bond in the amount which the board of supervisors may require, the premium of which shall be paid by the district the trustees represent. Vacancies may thereafter be filled by election, or by appointment by the board of supervisors. The term of succeeding trustees shall be for three years.

357C.11 Dissolution of district.
Upon petition of thirty-five percent of the resident eligible electors, the board of supervisors may dissolve a benefited street lighting district and dispose of any remaining property, proceeds of which shall first be applied against outstanding obligations and any balance shall be applied to tax credit of property owners of the district. However, if the district is annexed, the board of supervisors may transfer the remaining property and balance to the city which annexed the district. The board of supervisors shall continue to levy tax after dissolution of a district, of not to exceed fifty-four cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all the taxable property of the district, until all outstanding obligations of the district are paid.

CHAPTER 357D
BENEFITED LAW ENFORCEMENT DISTRICTS

357D.9 Trustees — term and qualification.
At the election, the names of up to three candidates for trustee shall be written in by the voters on blank ballots without formal nomination and the board shall appoint three from among the five receiving the highest number of votes as trustees for the district. One trustee shall be appointed to serve for one year, one for two years, and one for three years. The trustees and their successors must be residents of the district and shall give bond in the amount required by the board, the premium of which shall be paid by the district. Vacancies shall be filled by election, but if there are no candidates for a trustee office, the vacancy may be filled by appointment by the board. The term of succeeding trustees shall be three years.

Upon petition of thirty-five percent of the resident eligible electors, the board may dissolve a district and dispose of any remaining property, the proceeds of which shall first be applied against outstanding obligations and any balance shall be applied to tax credit of property owners of the district. However, if the district is annexed, the board of supervisors may transfer the remaining property and balance to the city which annexed the territory. The board shall continue to levy a tax after dissolution of a district, of not to exceed twenty-seven cents per thousand dollars of assessed value on all the taxable property of the district, until all outstanding obligations of the district are paid.

CHAPTER 357E
BENEFITED RECREATIONAL LAKE DISTRICTS

357E.9 Trustees — term and qualification.
At the election, the names of at least three candidates for trustee shall be written in by the voters on blank ballots without formal nomination and the board of supervisors shall appoint three from among the five receiving the highest number of votes as trustees for the district. One trustee shall be appointed to serve for one year, one for two years, and one for three years. The trustees shall give bond in the amount required by the board, the premium of which shall be paid by the district. The trustees must be residents of the district. Vacancies shall be filled by election, but if there are no candidates for a trustee office, the vacancy may be filled by appointment by the board. The terms of the succeeding trustees are for three years.

If the state owns at least four hundred acres of land contiguous to a lake within the district, the natural resources commission shall appoint two members of the board of trustees in addition to the three members provided in this section. The additional two members must be citizens of the state, not less than eighteen years of age, and property owners within the district. The two additional members have voting and other authority equal to the other members of the board and hold office at the pleasure of the natural resources commission.

357E.12 Dissolution of district.
Upon petition of thirty-five percent of the resident eligible electors, the board may dissolve a district and dispose of any remaining property, the proceeds of which shall first be applied against outstanding obligations and any balance shall be applied to tax credits for property owners of the district. However, if the district is annexed, the board of supervisors may transfer the remaining property and balance to the city which annexed the territory. The board shall continue to levy a tax after dissolution of a district, in an amount necessary to pay all outstanding obligations of the district as they become due, until all outstanding obligations of the district are paid.
CHAPTER 358A
COUNTY ZONING COMMISSION

358A.31 Elder family homes.
A county board of supervisors or county zoning commission shall consider an elder family home a family home, as defined in section 358A.25, for purposes of zoning, in accordance with section 249E.2, and may identify limitations regarding the proximity of one proposed elder family home to another.

CHAPTER 362
DEFINITIONS AND MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

362.5 Interest in public contract prohibited — exceptions.
When used in this section, “contract” means any claim, account, or demand against or agreement with a city, express or implied.

A city officer or employee shall not have an interest, direct or indirect, in any contract or job of work or material or the profits thereof or services to be furnished or performed for the officer's or employee's city. A contract entered into in violation of this section is void. The provisions of this section do not apply to:
1. The payment of lawful compensation of a city officer or employee holding more than one city office or position, the holding of which is not incompatible with another public office or is not prohibited by law.
2. The designation of a bank or trust company as a depository, paying agent, or for investment of funds.
3. An employee of a bank or trust company, who serves as treasurer of a city.
4. Contracts made by a city, upon competitive bid in writing, publicly invited and opened.
5. Contracts in which a city officer or employee has an interest solely by reason of employment, or a stock interest of the kind described in subsection 9, or both, if the contract is for professional services not customarily awarded by competitive bid, if the remuneration of employment will not be directly affected as a result of the contract, and if the duties of employment do not directly involve the procurement or preparation of any part of the contract.
6. The designation of an official newspaper.
7. A contract in which a city officer or employee has an interest if the contract was made before the time the officer or employee was elected or appointed, but the contract may not be renewed.
8. Contracts with volunteer fire fighters or civil defense volunteers.
9. A contract with a corporation in which a city officer or employee has an interest by reason of stockholdings when less than five percent of the outstanding stock of the corporation is owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the officer or employee or the spouse or immediate family of such officer or employee.
10. Contracts not otherwise permitted by this section, for the purchase of goods or services by a city having a population of more than two thousand five hundred, which benefit a city officer or employee, if the purchases benefiting that officer or employee do not exceed a cumulative total purchase price of one thousand five hundred dollars in a fiscal year.
11. Contracts not otherwise permitted by this section, for the purchase of goods or services by a city having a population of two thousand five hundred or less, which benefit a city officer or employee, if the purchases benefiting that officer or employee do not exceed a cumulative total purchase price of two thousand five hundred dollars in a fiscal year.

Subsection 10 amended
NEW subsection 11
364.20 Motor vehicles required to operate on ethanol-blended gasoline.
A motor vehicle purchased or used by a city to provide city services shall not, on or after January 1, 1993, operate on gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. The motor vehicle shall also be affixed with a brightly visible sticker which notifies the traveling public that the motor vehicle is being operated on gasoline blended with ethanol.

364.23 Energy efficient lighting required.
All city-owned exterior flood lighting, including but not limited to street and security lighting but not including era or period lighting which has a minimum efficiency rating of fifty-eight lumens per watt, shall be replaced, when worn-out, exclusively with high pressure sodium lighting or lighting with equivalent or better energy efficiency as approved in rules adopted by the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce.

364.24 Traffic light synchronization.
After July 1, 1992, all cities with more than three traffic lights within the corporate limits shall establish a traffic light synchronization program for energy efficiency in accordance with rules adopted by the state department of transportation. The state department of transportation shall adopt rules required by this section by July 1, 1990. This section does not require that a city replace lighting, which has not completed its useful life, in order to comply with the requirements of this section. However, all lighting shall be replaced, whether or not it has completed its useful life, by July 1, 2001.

CHAPTER 368
CITY DEVELOPMENT

368.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Adjoining" means having a common boundary for not less than fifty feet. Land areas may be adjoining although separated by a roadway or waterway.
2. "Annexation" means the addition of territory to a city.
3. "Board" means the city development board established in section 368.9.
4. "Boundary adjustment" means annexation, severance or consolidation.
5. "City development" means an incorporation, discontinuance or boundary adjustment.
6. "Committee" means the board members, and the local representatives appointed as provided in section 368.14, to hear and make a decision on a petition or plan for city development.
7. "Consolidation" means the combining of two or more cities into one city.
8. "Discontinuance" means termination of a city.
10. "Island" means land which is not part of a city and which is completely surrounded by the corporate boundaries of one or more cities. However, a part of the boundary of an "island" may be contiguous with a boundary of the state.
11 "Qualified elector" means a person who is registered to vote pursuant to chapter 48.

12 "Severance" means the deletion of territory from a city.

13 "Territory" means the land area or areas proposed to be incorporated, annexed, or severed, whether or not contiguous to all other areas proposed to be incorporated, annexed, or severed. Except as provided for by an agreement pursuant to chapter 28E, "territory" having a common boundary with the right-of-way of a secondary road extends to the center line of the road.

14 "Urbanized area" means a metropolitan statistical area as determined by the United States Census bureau in the statistical abstract of the United States.

§368.3 Discontinuance — cemetery fund transfer.

A city is discontinued if, for a period of six years or more, it has held no city election and has caused no taxes to be levied. If the board receives knowledge of facts which cause an automatic discontinuance under this section, it shall make a determination that the city is discontinued, shall take control of the property of the discontinued city, and shall carry out all necessary procedures as if the city were discontinued under a petition or plan.

When a city is discontinued under this section or under sections 368 11 through 368 22, and that city owns a cemetery, the board shall determine if any perpetual care funds exist and provide for their transfer to a trustee named by a district court or to the county or other suitable governmental entity.

It is the intent of the general assembly to provide an annexation approval procedure which gives due consideration to the wishes of the residents of territory to be annexed, and to the interests of the residents of all territories affected by an annexation. The general assembly presumes that a voluntary annexation of territory more closely reflects the wishes of the residents of territory to be annexed, and, therefore, intends that the annexation approval procedure include a presumption of validity for voluntary annexation approval.

All of the owners of land in a territory adjoining a city may apply in writing to the council of the adjoining city requesting annexation of the territory. Territory comprising railway right of way may be included in the application without the consent of the railway if a copy of the application is mailed by certified mail to the owner of the right of way, at least ten days prior to the filing of the application with the city council. The application must contain a map of the territory showing its location in relationship to the city.

An application for annexation of territory not within the urbanized area of a city other than the city to which the annexation is directed must be approved by resolution of the council which receives the application. In the discretion of a city council, the resolution may include a provision for a transition for the imposition of taxes as provided in section 368 11, subsection 13. Upon receiving approval of the council, the city clerk shall file a copy of the resolution, map, and legal description of the territory involved with the state department of transportation. The city clerk shall also file a copy of the map and resolution with the county recorder and secretary of state. The secretary of state shall not accept and acknowledge a copy of a map and resolution of annexation which would create an island. The annexation is completed upon acknowledgment by the secretary of state that the secretary of state has received the map and resolution.

An application for annexation of territory within the urbanized area of a city other than the city to which the annexation is directed must be approved both by resolution of the council which receives the application and by the board. The board shall not approve an application which creates an island. A copy of the application shall be mailed by certified mail, at least ten days prior to the filing of the application with the city council, to the council of each city whose boundary adjoins the territory or is within two miles of the territory, to the board of supervisors of each county which contains a portion of the territory, and to the regional planning authority of the territory. Notice of the filing of the application shall be published in an official county newspaper in each affected county at least ten days prior to the filing of the application with the city council. In the discretion of a city council, the resolution may include a provision for a transition for the imposition of taxes as provided in section 368 11, subsection 13. The annexation is completed when the board has filed copies of applicable portions of the proceedings as required by section 368 20, subsection 2.

If one or more applications for a voluntary annexation and one or more petitions for an involuntary annexation for a common territory are submitted to the board within thirty days of each other, the board shall approve the application for voluntary annexation, provided that the application meets the applicable requirements of this chapter, unless the board determines by a preponderance of the evidence that the application was filed in bad faith, or that the application as filed is contrary to the best interests of the citizens of the urbanized area, or that the applicant cannot within a reasonable period of time meet its obligation to provide services to the territory to be annexed sufficient to meet the needs of the territory. In consideration of the requests, the board may appoint a committee in the manner provided in section 368.14 to seek additional information from the applicant for voluntary annexation as necessary, including the information required of petitioners pursuant to section 368.11. The board, or the committee, if applicable, shall hold a public hearing on the application for voluntary annexation in the manner provided for involuntary petitions in section 368.15. The decision of the board under this paragraph shall be made within ninety days of receipt of the application by the board. The failure of the board to approve an application under this paragraph shall be deemed final agency action subject to judicial review. An applicant may appeal a decision of the board no earlier than one hundred eighty days after the decision is issued or not later than thirty days after a final decision is made by the special local committee under section 368.14A, whichever is earlier.

If an application for voluntary annexation is not approved pursuant to this section, the board shall cause the conversion of the application to a petition pursuant to section 368.13 and shall proceed under section 368.14A. The conversion of an application to a petition shall not prejudice the status of the applicant. Judicial review of a board decision under this paragraph and the preceding paragraph shall be limited to review of the testimony and documents presented to the board prior to issuing its decision on the application for voluntary annexation.

368.11 Petition for involuntary city development action.

A petition for incorporation, discontinuance, or boundary adjustment may be filed with the board by a city council, a county board of supervisors, a regional planning authority, or five percent of the qualified electors of a city or territory involved in the proposal. Notice of the filing, including a copy of the petition, must be served upon the council of each city for which a discontinuance or boundary adjustment is proposed, the board of supervisors for each county which contains a portion of a city to be discontinued or territory to be incorporated, annexed or severed, and any regional planning authority for the area involved.

Within ninety days of receipt of a petition, the board shall initiate appropriate proceedings or dismiss the petition. The board may combine for consideration petitions or plans which concern the same territory or city.

The petition must include substantially the following information as applicable:

1. A general statement of the proposal.
2. A map of the territory, city or cities involved.
3. Assessed valuation of platted and unplatted land.
4. Names of property owners.
5. Population density.
6. Description of topography.
7. Plans for disposal of assets and assumption of liabilities.
8. Description of existing municipal services, including but not limited to water supply, sewage disposal, and fire and police protection.
9. Plans for agreements with any existing special service districts.
10. In a case of annexation or incorporation, the petition must state that none of the territory is within a city.
11. In a case of incorporation or consolidation, the petition must state the name of the proposed city.
12. Plans shall include a formal agreement between affected municipal corporations and counties for the maintenance, improvement and traffic control of any shared roads involved in an incorporation or boundary adjustment.

DIVISION III
CITY DEVELOPMENT BOARD

City development board duties relating to annexation of existing islands identified by counties on or before January 15, 1992, 368.9 Board created.

1. A city development board is created. The department of economic development shall provide office space and staff assistance, and shall budget funds to cover expenses of the board and committees. The board consists of five members appointed by the governor subject to confirmation by the senate. The appointments must be for six-year staggered terms beginning and ending as provided by section 69.19, or to fill an unexpired term in case of a vacancy. Members are eligible for reappointment, but no member shall serve more than two complete six-year terms.

2. The board shall be composed of the following members:
   a. One member appointed from a city with a population of more than forty-five thousand, according to the most recent certified federal census.
   b. One member appointed from a city with a population of forty-five thousand or less, according to the most recent certified federal census.
   c. One member appointed from a county with a population of more than fifty thousand, according to the most recent certified federal census.
   d. One member appointed from a county with a population of fifty thousand or less, according to the most recent certified federal census.
   e. One member appointed to represent the general public.

3. Each member is entitled to receive from the state actual and necessary expenses in performance of board duties and may also be eligible to receive compensation as provided in section 7E.6.

13 In the discretion of a city council, a provision for a transition for the imposition of city taxes against property within an annexation area. The provision shall not allow a greater exemption from taxation than the tax exemption formula schedule provided under section 427B 3, subsections 1 through 5, and shall be applied in the levy and collection of taxes. The provision may also allow for the partial provision of city services during the time in which the exemption from taxation is in effect.

At least ten days before a petition for involuntary annexation is filed as provided in this section, the petitioner shall make its intention known to all affected parties by sending a letter of intent by certified mail to the council of each city, the board of supervisors of each county within the urbanized area, the regional planning authority of the territory involved, and to each property owner listed in the petition. The written notice shall include notice that the petitioners shall hold a public meeting on the petition for involuntary annexation prior to the filing of the petition.

Before a petition for involuntary annexation may be filed, the petitioner shall hold a public meeting on the petition. Notice of the meeting shall be published in an official county newspaper in each affected county at least five days before the date of the public meeting. The chairperson of the board of supervisors of the county containing the greatest area of the territory proposed to be annexed, or that person's designee, shall serve as chairperson of the public meeting. The auditor of the same county, or the auditor's designee, shall record the proceedings of the public meeting. Any person attending the meeting may submit written comments and may be heard on the petition. The minutes of the public meeting and all documents submitted at the public meeting shall be forwarded to the board by the chairperson of the meeting.

The board may dismiss a petition only if it finds that the petition does not meet the requirements of this chapter, or that substantially the same incorporation, discontinuance, or boundary adjustment has been disapproved by a committee formed to consider the proposal, or by the voters, within the two years prior to the date the petition is filed with the board, or that the territory to be annexed, or a portion of that territory, has been voluntarily annexed under section 368 7. The board shall file for record a statement of each dismissal and the reason for it, and shall promptly notify the parties to the proceeding of its decision.

368.14 Local representatives.

If an involuntary petition is not dismissed, the board shall direct the appointment of local representatives to serve with board members as a committee to consider the proposal. Each local representative is entitled to receive from the state the representative's actual and necessary expenses spent in performance of committee duties. Three board members and one local representative, or if the number of local representatives exceeds one, three board members and at least one-half of the appointed local representatives, are required for a quorum of the committee. A local representative must be a qualified elector of the territory or city which the representative represents, and must be selected as follows:

1. From a territory to be incorporated, one representative appointed by the county board of supervisors. If the territory is in more than one county, the board shall direct the appointment of a local representative from each county involved.
2. From a city to be discontinued, one representative appointed by the city council.
3. From a territory to be annexed to or severed from a city, one representative appointed by the county board of supervisors. If there are no qualified electors residing in an area to be annexed to or severed from a city, the county board of supervisors shall appoint as local representative an individual owning property in the territory whether or not the individual is a qualified elector or appoint a designee of such individual. If the territory is in more than one county, the board shall direct the appointment of a local representative from each county involved by its board of supervisors.
4. From a city to which territory is to be annexed or from which territory is to be severed, one representative appointed by the city council. If the territory is in more than one county, the board shall direct the appointment of an equal number of city and county local representatives.
5. From each city to be consolidated, one representative appointed by each city council.

When two or more involuntary petitions or voluntary applications for boundary adjustment describing common territory are being considered together, the board shall direct the appointment of representatives for each of the petitions to serve on one special committee to consider the petitions. Expense reimbursement and qualifications of these representatives shall be as provided in section 368 14. Three board members and at least one-half of the appointed local representatives are required for a quorum of the special local committee. The manner of appointment of representatives shall be the same as for single petition committees except... that if one or more of the territories to be annexed is in more than one county, the board of supervisors of the county containing the greatest area of the territory proposed to be annexed shall appoint one representative. The special committee shall consider the petitions in conformity with the provisions of this chapter, and shall resolve common territory issues between petitioners. The special committee shall conduct a public hearing on the petitions pursuant to section 368.15. If the common territory issue is resolved, the special local committee may approve the resulting compatible petitions by a single vote or separately, in its discretion.

368.17 When approval barred.
The committee may not approve:
1. An incorporation unless it finds that the city to be incorporated will be able to provide customary municipal services within a reasonable time.
2. A discontinuance or severance if the city to be discontinued or the territory to be severed will be surrounded by one or more cities unless a petition for annexation of the same area is also filed and approved.
3. A discontinuance or severance unless it finds that the county or another city will be able to provide necessary municipal services to the residents.
4. An annexation unless the territory is adjoining the city to which it will be annexed, and the committee finds that the city will be able to provide to the territory substantial municipal services and benefits not previously enjoyed by such territory, and that the motive for annexation is not solely to increase revenues to the city.
5. A consolidation unless the cities are contiguous.

6. An incorporation of territory, any part of which is within an urbanized area of a city, unless a petition for annexation of substantially the same territory to such city has been dismissed, disapproved, or voted upon unfavorably within the last five years.

7. An annexation which creates an island.

368.19 Time limit — election.
The committee shall approve or disapprove the petition or plan as amended, within ninety days of the final hearing, and shall file its decision for record and promptly notify the parties to the proceeding of its decision. If a petition or plan is approved, the board shall set a date not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days after approval for a special election on the proposal and the county commissioner of elections shall conduct the election. In a case of incorporation or discontinuance, qualified electors of the territory or city may vote, and the proposal is authorized if a majority of those voting approves it. In a case of annexation or severance, qualified electors of the territory and of the city may vote, and the proposal is authorized if a majority of the total number of persons voting approves it. In a case of consolidation, qualified electors of each city to be consolidated may vote, and the proposal is authorized only if it receives a favorable majority vote in each city. The county commissioner of elections shall publish notice of the election as provided in section 49.53 and shall conduct the election in the same manner as other special city elections.
The costs of an incorporation election shall be borne by the initiating petitioners if the election fails, but if the proposition is approved the cost shall become a charge of the new city.

CHAPTER 372
ORGANIZATION OF CITY GOVERNMENT

372.4 Mayor-council form.
A city governed by the mayor-council form has a mayor and five council members elected at large, unless the council representation plan is changed pursuant to section 372.13, subsection 11. The council may, by ordinance, provide for a city manager and prescribe the manager's powers and duties, and as long as the council contains an odd number of council members, may change the number of wards, abolish wards, or increase the number of council members at large without changing the form.

However, a city governed, on the effective date of this section*, by the mayor-council form composed of a mayor and a council consisting of two council members elected at large, and one council member from each of four wards, or a special charter city governed, on the effective date of this section, by the mayor-council form composed of a mayor and a council consisting of two council members elected at large and one council member elected from each of eight wards, may continue until the form of government is changed as provided in section 372.2 or sec-
A home rule charter must contain provisions for:
1. A council of an odd number of members, not less than five.
2. A mayor, who may be one of those council members.
3. Two-year or staggered four-year terms of office for the mayor and council members.
4. The powers and duties of the mayor and the council, consistent with the provisions of the city code.
5. A council representation plan pursuant to section 372.13, subsection 11.

1. A majority of all council members is a quorum.
2. A vacancy in an elective city office during a term of office shall be filled, at the council’s option, by one of the following procedures:
   a. By appointment by the remaining members of the council, except that if the remaining members do not constitute a quorum of the full membership, a special election shall be held.
   b. By special election held at a regular or special city election.
   c. By special election held at a special city election.
   d. By special election held at a regular or special city election.
   e. By special election held at a special city election.
3. The powers and duties of the mayor and the council members.

The council member elected to administer the department of accounts and finances is mayor pro tem.

The council may appoint a city treasurer or may, by ordinance, provide for election of that officer.
(2) For a city with a population of more than ten thousand but not more than fifty thousand, at least one thousand signatures or at least the number of signatures equal to fifteen percent of the voters who voted for candidates for the office at the preceding regular election at which the office was on the ballot, whichever number is fewer.

(3) For a city with a population of more than fifty thousand, at least two thousand signatures or at least the number of signatures equal to ten percent of the voters who voted for candidates for the office at the preceding regular election at which the office was on the ballot, whichever number is fewer.

(4) The minimum number of signatures for a valid petition pursuant to subparagraphs (1) through (3) shall not be fewer than ten.

b By a special election held to fill the office for the remaining balance of the unexpired term. If the council opts for a special election or a valid petition is filed under paragraph "a", the special election may be held concurrently with any pending election as provided by section 69.12 if by so doing the vacancy will be filled not more than ninety days after it occurs. Otherwise, a special election to fill the office shall be called at the earliest practicable date. If there are concurrent vacancies on the council and the remaining council members do not constitute a quorum of the full membership, a special election shall be called at the earliest practicable date. The council shall give the county commissioner at least sixty days' written notice of the date chosen for the special election. A special election held under this subsection is subject to sections 376.4 through 376.11, but the dates for actions in relation to the special election shall be calculated with regard to the date for which the special election is called.

3. The council shall appoint a city clerk to maintain city records and perform other duties prescribed by state or city law.

4. Except as otherwise provided by state or city law, the council may appoint city officers and employees, and prescribe their powers, duties, compensation, and terms. The appointment of a city manager must be made on the basis of that individual's qualifications and not on the basis of political affiliation.

5. The council shall determine its own rules and maintain records of its proceedings. City records and documents, or accurate reproductions, shall be kept for at least five years. However, ordinances, resolutions, council proceedings, and records and documents relating to real property transactions or bond issues or accurate reproductions of those ordinances, resolutions, council proceedings, and records and documents relating to real property transactions or bond issues, shall be maintained permanently.

6. Within fifteen days following a regular or special meeting of the council, the clerk shall cause the minutes of the proceedings of the council, including the total expenditure from each city fund, to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. The publication shall include a list of all claims allowed and a summary of all receipts and shall show the gross amount of the claim. Matters discussed in closed session pursuant to section 21.3 shall not be published until entered on the public minutes. However, in cities having more than one hundred fifty thousand population the council shall each month print in pamphlet form a detailed itemized statement of all receipts and disbursements of the city, and a summary of its proceedings during the preceding month, and furnish copies to the city library, the daily newspapers of the city, and to persons who apply at the office of the city clerk, and the pamphlet shall constitute publication as required. Failure by the clerk to make publication is a simple misdemeanor. The provisions of this subsection are applicable in cities in which a newspaper is published, or in cities of two hundred population or over, but in all other cities, posting the statement in three public places in the city which have been permanently designated by ordinance is sufficient compliance with this subsection.

7. By ordinance, the council may divide the city into wards based upon population, change the boundaries of wards, eliminate wards or create new wards.

8. By ordinance, the council shall prescribe the compensation of the mayor, council members, and other elected city officers, but a change in the compensation of the mayor during the mayor's absence or disability for a continuous period of fifteen days or more, the mayor pro tem may be paid for that period the compensation of the mayor pro tem. A change in the compensation of council members becomes effective for all council members at the beginning of the term of the council members elected at the election next following the change in compensation. Except as provided in section 362.5, an elected city officer is not entitled to receive any other compensation for any other city office or city employment during that officer's tenure in office, but may be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred. However, if the mayor pro tem performs the duties of the mayor during the mayor's absence or disability for a continuous period of fifteen days or more, the mayor pro tem may be paid for that period the compensation determined by the council, based upon the mayor pro tem's performance of the mayor's duties and upon the compensation of the mayor.

8. By ordinance, the council shall prescribe the compensation of the mayor, council members, and other elected city officers, but a change in the compensation of the mayor during the mayor's absence or disability for a continuous period of fifteen days or more, the mayor pro tem may be paid for that period the compensation determined by the council, based upon the mayor pro tem's performance of the mayor's duties and upon the compensation of the mayor.

9. A council member, during the term for which that member is elected, is not eligible for appointment to any city office if the office has been created or the compensation of the office has been increased during the term for which that member is elected. A person who resigns from an elective office is not eligible for appointment to the same office during the time for which that person was elected if during that time, the compensation of the office has been increased.

10. A council member, during the term for which that member is elected, is not precluded from hold-

CHAPTER 373

CONSOLIDATED METROPOLITAN CORPORATION

373.1 Creation of commission.

1 Cities within a county may unite to form a single unit of local government in accordance with this chapter. Any city located in two or more counties shall be allowed to participate in a metropolitan consolidation in the county where at least fifty percent of its population resides. An alternative form of metropolitan government shall be submitted to the elector by a commission in the form of a charter or charter amendment proposed in accordance with this chapter.

2 Participation in a charter commission under this chapter may be proposed by:
   a The city council adopting a resolution calling for participation b By petition of the number of eligible electors of the city equal to at least twenty-five percent of the votes cast in the city at the last regular city election petitioning the council to adopt a resolution calling for participation. The council shall within thirty days of the filing of a valid petition adopt such a resolution.

373.2 Appointment of commission members.

1 Within forty-five days after the establishment of a commission, the members of the commission shall be appointed as follows:
   a One member shall be appointed by the city council of each city participating in the charter process.
   b An additional member shall be appointed by each city council for every twenty-five thousand residents in the participating city.
   c One member shall be appointed by each state legislator whose legislative district is located in the commission area if a majority of the constituents of that legislative district resides in the commission area. However, if a commission area does not have a state legislative district which has a majority of its constituents residing in the commission area, the legislative district having the largest plurality of constituents residing in the commission area shall appoint one member.

2 Only eligible electors of the county not holding a city, county, or state office shall be members of the commission. In counties having multiple state legislative districts, the districts shall be represented as equally as possible. The membership shall be bipartisan and gender balanced, and each appointing authority under subsection 1 shall provide for representation of various age groups, racial minorities, economic groups, and representatives of identifiable geographically defined populations, all in reasonable relationship to the proportions in which these groups are present in the population of the commission area. A vacancy on the commission shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original appointment. The county auditor shall notify the appropriate appointing authority of a vacancy.

The legislative appointing authorities shall be considered one appointing authority for the purpose of appointment if a majority does not approve the changed plan, the council shall not submit another proposal to change a plan to the voters within the next two years.

Eligible electors of a city may petition for one of the following council representation plans:
   a Election at large without ward residence requirements for the members.
   b Election at large but with equal-population ward residence requirements for the members.
   c Election from single member, equal-population wards, in which the electors of each ward shall elect one member who must reside in that ward.
   d Election of a specified number of members at large and a specified number of members from single-member, equal-population wards.

373.3 Organization and expenses.
1. Within thirty days after the appointment of the members of the commission, the city clerk of the participating city with the largest population shall give written notice of the date, time, and location of the first meeting of the commission. At the first meeting the commission shall organize by electing a chairperson, vice chairperson, and other officers as necessary. The commission shall adopt rules governing the conduct of its meetings, subject to chapter 21.
3. The participating cities shall make available to the commission in-kind services such as office space, printing, supplies, and equipment and shall pay the other necessary expenses of the commission, including compensation for secretarial, clerical, professional, and consultant services. The total annual expenses, not including the value of in-kind expenses, to be paid from public funds shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars or an amount equal to thirty cents times the population of the commission area, according to the most recent certified federal census. The commission may employ staff as necessary.
4. The expenses of the commission may be paid from the general fund of the participating cities or from any combination of public or private funds available for that purpose. The commission's annual expenses may exceed the amount in subsection 3 only if the excess is paid from private funds. If a proposed charter is submitted to the electorate, private funds donated to the commission may be used to promote passage of the proposed charter.

373.4 Commission procedures and reports.
1. Within sixty days after its organization, the commission shall hold at least one public hearing for the purpose of receiving information and material which will assist in the drafting of a charter. Notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing shall be published in the official county newspapers of each county in which the participating cities are located.
2. Within nine months after the organization of the commission, the commission shall submit a preliminary report to the councils of the participating cities, which report may include the text of the proposed charter. If a proposed charter is included in the preliminary report, the report shall also include an analysis of the fiscal impact of the proposed charter. Sufficient copies of the report shall be made available for distribution to residents of the participating cities who request a copy. The commission shall hold at least one public hearing after submission of the preliminary report to obtain public comment.
3. Within twenty months after organization, the commission shall submit the final report to the councils of the participating cities. If the commission recommends a charter of consolidation, the final report shall include the full text and an explanation of the proposed charter, an analysis of the fiscal impact of the proposed charter, any comments deemed desirable by the commission, and any minority reports. The final report may recommend no change to the existing form of government and that no charter be submitted to the electorate, or it may recommend consolidation of the participating cities with the county. If the board of supervisors by resolution agrees to participate in consolidation, then the participating cities and county shall proceed under sections 331.231 through 331.252.
4. The final report of the commission shall be made available to the residents of the participating cities upon request. A summary of the final report shall be published in the official newspapers of the county. If a charter is not recommended, the commission is dissolved upon submission of its final report to the councils of the participating cities.

373.5 Consolidation charter.
A proposed charter written by a charter commission shall specify the consolidated metropolitan form of government. The proposed consolidation charter shall do all of the following:
1. Provide the official name of the consolidated unit of local government and establish its geographic boundaries.
2. Establish an elective legislative body pursuant to section 373.9, including provisions on terms of office, initial compensation, meetings, and rules of procedure.
3. Provide for the at-large election of an officer to preside over the metropolitan council and perform other duties as specified, and provide for the election of other necessary officers.
4. Provide for the nonpartisan election of officers of the consolidated metropolitan corporation government.
5. Specify the powers and duties of the metropolitan council, its administrative officers, and elected officials.
6. Provide for delivery of certain services to the member cities, pursuant to section 373.11, and may provide for the abolition or consolidation of a department, agency, board, or commission and the assumptions of its powers and duties by the metropolitan council or another officer.
7. Provide for a system of revenue collection pursuant to section 373.10.
8. Provide for the orderly transition to the charter form of metropolitan consolidation.

9. Include other provisions which the consolidation charter commission elects to include and which are not inconsistent with state law.

10. Specify a charter amendment process pursuant to section 372.11.

11. Provide for the appointment of a manager by the metropolitan council pursuant to section 372.8.

1. A consolidated metropolitan corporation shall be governed by a metropolitan council. The council...
§373.9

shall consist of an odd number of members, not less than eleven and not more than seventeen. If a vacancy on the metropolitan council occurs more than sixty days before the next general election, the council shall direct the county commissioner of elections to conduct a special election to fill the vacancy until the next general election.

2 Unless otherwise specified in the consolidation charter, the council shall act by a majority vote of the members on the council.

373.10 Taxing authority.

The metropolitan council shall have the authority to levy city taxes to the extent the city tax levy authority is transferred by the charter to the metropolitan council. A member city shall transfer a portion of the city's tax levy authorized under section 384.1 or 384.12, whichever is applicable, to the metropolitan council. The maximum rates of taxes authorized to be levied under sections 384.1 and 384.12 by a member city shall be reduced by an amount equal to the rates of the same or similar taxes levied in the city by the metropolitan council.

373.11 Service delivery.

1 The charter of consolidation shall provide for the transfer into the metropolitan consolidated corporation of areawide services which had been provided by other boards, commissions, and local governments. The metropolitan council shall have the authority to determine the boundaries of the service areas, except that formation of a consolidated metropolitan corporation shall not affect the assignment of electric utility service territories pursuant to chapter 476, and shall not affect the rights of a city to grant a franchise under chapter 364.

For each service provided by the consolidated metropolitan corporation, the consolidated metropolitan corporation shall assume the same statutory rights, powers, and duties, except taxing authority, relating to the provision of such service as if the member city were itself providing the service to its citizens. However, the consolidated metropolitan corporation shall not assume any of the governmental functions of its member cities except as the functions relate to the delivery of services and except as provided in section 373.8.

If a service is being provided by the consolidated metropolitan corporation to any member city that member city shall not invoke any statutory right, power, or duty relating to the delivery of the service to its citizens.

2 A member city may apply to the metropolitan council for the purchase of any service which is being provided by the consolidated metropolitan corporation to any other member city, including the home city of the consolidated metropolitan corporation.

Such an agreement to provide services shall be executed pursuant to chapter 28E and must contain provisions necessary for the lawful execution of the agreement.

CHAPTER 380
CITY LEGISLATION

380.2 Amendment.

An amendment to an ordinance or to a code of ordinances must specifically repeal the ordinance or code, or the section, subsection, paragraph, or subpart to be amended, and must set forth the ordinance, code, section, subsection, paragraph, or subpart as amended.

380.10 Adoption by reference.

A city may adopt the provisions of any statewide or nationally recognized standard code or portions of any such code by an ordinance which identifies the code by subject matter, source and date, and incorporates the provisions by reference without setting them forth in full. Such code or portion must be adopted only after notice and hearing in the manner provided in section 380.8.

A city may by ordinance adopt by reference any portion of the Code of Iowa in effect at the time of the adoption in the manner provided in section 380.8 for adoption of a proposed code of ordinances containing a proposed new ordinance or amendment, subject to the following limitations:

1 The ordinance shall describe the subject matter and identify the portion of the Code of Iowa adopted by chapter, section, and subsection or other subpart, as applicable.

2 A portion of the Code of Iowa may be adopted by reference only if the criminal penalty provided by the law adopted does not exceed thirty days' imprisonment or a one hundred dollar fine.

3. Amendments or other changes to those portions of the Code of Iowa which have been adopted by reference shall serve as an automatic modification of the applicable ordinance.

384.12 Additional taxes.

A city may certify, for the general fund levy, taxes which are not subject to the limit provided in section 384.1, and which are in addition to any other moneys the city may wish to spend for such purposes, as follows:

1. A tax not to exceed thirteen and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for the support of instrumental or vocal musical groups, one or more organizations which have tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and are organized and operated exclusively for artistic and cultural purposes, or any of these purposes, subject to the following:
   a. Upon receipt of a petition valid under the provisions of section 362.4, the council shall submit to the voters at the next regular city election the question of whether a tax shall be levied.
   b. If a majority approves the levy, it may be imposed.
   c. The levy can be eliminated by the same procedure of petition and election.
   d. A tax authorized by an election held prior to the effective date of the city code may be continued until eliminated by the council, or by petition and election.

2. A tax not to exceed eighty-one cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for development, operation, and maintenance of a memorial building or monument, subject to the provisions of subsection 1.

3. A tax not to exceed thirteen and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for support of a symphony orchestra, subject to the provisions of subsection 1.

4. A tax not to exceed twenty-seven cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for the operation of cultural and scientific facilities, subject to the provisions of subsection 1, except that the question may be submitted on the council's own motion.

5. A tax to aid in the construction of a county bridge, subject to the provisions of subsection 1, except that the question must be submitted at a special election. The expense of a special election under this subsection must be paid by the county. The notice of the special election must include full details of the proposal, including the location of the proposed bridge, the rate of tax to be levied, and all other conditions.

6. A tax to aid a company incorporated under the laws of this state in the construction of a highway or combination bridge across any navigable boundary river of this state, commencing or terminating in the city and suitable for use as highway, or for both highway and railway purposes. This tax levy is subject to the provisions of subsections 1 and 5. The levy is limited to one dollar and thirty-five cents per thousand dollars of the assessed value of taxable property in the city. The estimated cost of the bridge must be at least ten thousand dollars, and the city aid may not exceed one-half of the estimated cost. The notice of the special election must include the name of the corporation to be aided, and all conditions required of the corporation. Tax moneys received for this purpose may not be paid over by the county treasurer until the city has filed a statement that the corporation has complied with all conditions.

7. If a tax has been voted for aid of a bridge under subsection 6, a further tax may be voted for the purpose of purchasing the bridge, subject to the provisions of subsection 1. The levy under this subsection is limited to three dollars and thirty-seven and one-half cents per thousand dollars of the assessed value of the taxable property in the city, payable in not less than ten annual installments.

8. A tax for the purpose of carrying out the terms of a contract for the use of a bridge by a city situated on a river over which a bridge has been built. The tax may not exceed sixty-seven and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value each year.

9. A tax for aid to a public transportation company, subject to the procedure provided in subsection 1, except the question must be submitted at a special election. The levy is limited to three and three-eighths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value. In addition to any other conditions the following requirements must be met before moneys received for this purpose may be paid over by the county treasurer:

a. The public transportation company shall provide the city with copies of state and federal income tax returns for the five years preceding the year for which payment is contemplated or for such lesser period of time as the company has been in operation.

b. The city shall, in any given year, be authorized to pay over only such sums as will yield not to exceed two percent of the public transportation company's investment as the same is valued in its tax depreciation schedule, provided that corporate profits and losses for the five preceding years or for such lesser period of time as the company has been in operation shall not average in excess of a two percent net return. Taxes levied under this subsection may not be used to subsidize losses incurred prior to the election required by this subsection.

10. A tax for the operation and maintenance of a municipal transit system, and for the creation of a reserve fund for the system, in an amount not to exceed ninety-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value each year, when the revenues from the transit system are insufficient for such purposes, but proceeds of the tax may not be used to pay interest and principal on bonds issued for the purposes of the transit system.

11. If a city has entered into a lease of a building or complex of buildings to be operated as a civic center, a tax sufficient to pay the installments of rent and for maintenance, insurance and taxes not included in the lease rental payments.

12. A tax not to exceed thirteen and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value each year for operating and maintaining a civic center owned by a city.

13. A tax not to exceed six and three-fourths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for planning a sanitary disposal project.

14. A tax not to exceed twenty-seven cents per thousand dollars of assessed value each year for an aviation authority as provided in section 330A.15.

15. If a city has joined with the county to form an authority for a joint county-city building, as provided in section 346.27, and has entered into a lease with the authority, a tax sufficient to pay the annual rent payable under the lease.

16. A tax not to exceed six and three-fourths cents per thousand dollars of assessed value each year for a levee improvement fund in special charter cities as provided in section 420.155.

17. A tax not to exceed twenty and one-half cents per thousand dollars of assessed value each year to maintain an institution received by gift or devise, subject to an election as required under subsection 1.

18. A tax to pay the premium costs on tort liability insurance, property insurance, and any other insurance that may be necessary in the operation of the city, the costs of a self-insurance program, the costs of a local government risk pool and amounts payable under any insurance agreements to provide or procure such insurance, self-insurance program, or local government risk pool.

19. A tax that exceeds any tax levy limit within this chapter, provided the question has been submitted at a special levy election and received a simple majority of the votes cast on the proposition to authorize the enumerated levy limit to be exceeded for the proposed budget year.

a. The election may be held as specified herein if notice is given by the city council, not later than February 15, to the county commissioner of elections that the election is to be held.

b. An election under this subsection shall be held on the second Tuesday in March and be conducted by the county commissioner of elections in accordance with the law.

c. The proposition to be submitted shall be substantially in the following form:

   Vote for only one of the following:
   Shall the city of ................. (name of city) levy a tax for the purpose of .......................... (state purpose of levy election) at a rate of ............ (rate) which will provide $............. (amount)?
   Shall the city of ................. continue under the maximum rate of ........ providing $............. (amount)?

   d. The commissioner of elections conducting the election shall notify the city officials and other county auditors where applicable, of the results within two days of the canvass which shall be held beginning at one o'clock on the second day following the special levy election.

   e. Notice of the election shall be published twice in accordance with the provisions of section 362.3, except that the first such notice shall be given at least two weeks before the election.

   f. The cost of the election shall be borne by the city.

   g. The election provisions of this subsection shall supersede other provisions for elections only to the extent necessary to comply with the provisions hereof.

   h. The provisions of this subsection apply to all cities, however organized, including special charter cities which may adopt ordinances where necessary to carry out these provisions.

   i. The council shall certify the city's budget with the tax askings not exceeding the amount approved by the special levy election.

20. A tax not to exceed twenty-seven cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for support of a public library, subject to petition and referendum requirements of subsection 1, except that if a majority approves the levy, it shall be imposed.

CHAPTER 389
JOINT WATER UTILITIES

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires
1. "Joint water utility" means a water utility established by two or more cities which owns or operates or proposes to finance the purchase or construction of all or part of a water supply system or the capacity or use of a water supply system pursuant to this chapter. A water supply system includes all land, easements, rights-of-way, fixtures, equipment, accessories, improvements, appurtenances, and other property necessary or useful for the operation of the system.
2. "Joint water utility board" means the board of trustees established to operate a joint water utility.
3. "Project" means any works or facilities useful or necessary for the operation of a joint water utility.

389.2 Submission to voters.
A joint water utility may be established by two or more cities. A proposal to establish a joint water utility or to join an existing joint water utility may be submitted to the voters of a city by the city council upon its own motion, or upon receipt of a valid petition pursuant to section 362.4. If the proposal is to establish a joint water utility, the proposal shall be submitted to the voters of each city proposing to establish the joint water utility. If a majority of the electorate in each of at least two cities approves the proposal, the cities approving the proposal may establish a joint water utility.

If the proposal is to join an existing joint water utility, the proposal must first be submitted to the joint water utility board for its approval. If the proposal is approved by the board, the proposal shall be submitted to the electorate of the city wishing to join. The proposal must receive a majority affirmative vote for passage.

389.3 Powers and duties.
Upon adoption of a proposal to establish a joint water utility, the member cities shall establish a joint water utility board, consisting of at least five members. The mayors of the participating cities shall appoint the members, subject to the approval of the city councils, and at least one member shall be appointed from each participating city. The board shall be responsible for the planning and operation of a joint water utility, subject to the provisions of this chapter.

A joint water utility is a political subdivision and an instrumentality of municipal government. The statutory powers, duties, and limitations conferred upon a city utility apply to a joint water utility, except that title to property of a joint water utility may be held in the name of the joint water utility. The joint water utility board shall have all powers and authority of a city with respect to property which is held by the joint water utility. A joint water utility shall have the power of eminent domain, including the powers conferred upon a city in chapters 471 and 472, for the purposes of constructing and operating a joint water utility.

The joint water utility board may purchase or construct all or part of any water supply system, and may finance the purchase or construction. The board may also contract to sell all or part of the joint water utility's water supply, including any surplus, to a public or private agency, or an entity created to carry out an agreement authorizing the joint exercise of any of the governmental powers enumerated in section 28F.1. The board may contract for the purchase, from any source, of all or a portion of the water supply requirements of the joint water facility. A contract may include provisions for the payment for capacity or output of a facility whether the facility is completed or operating, and for establishing the rights and obligations of the parties to the contract in the event of a default by any of the parties.

Payments made by a joint water utility pursuant... to a contract shall constitute operating expenses of the joint water utility and shall be payable from the revenues derived from the operation of the joint water utility.

389.4 Financing.
A joint water utility may finance projects pursuant to chapter 28F. A city may finance its share of the cost of a project by the use of any method of financing available for city utilities, including but not limited to sections 384.23 through 384.36 and sections 384.80 through 384.94.

If a project is financed by a joint water utility, revenues derived from the project shall be deemed to be revenues of the joint water utility for all purposes including the issuance and payment of bonds secured by or payable from the revenues of the city or city utility.

CHAPTER 400

400.4 Chairperson — clerk — records.
The commission shall elect a chairperson from among its members. In cities having a population of more than seventy-five thousand, the commission shall appoint a clerk of the commission. In all other cities the city clerk shall be clerk of the commission. If an employee is appointed clerk of the commission who is employed in a civil service status at the time of appointment as clerk of the commission, the appointee shall retain the civil service rights held before the appointment. However, this section does not grant civil service status or rights to the employee in the capacity of clerk of the commission nor extend any civil service right upon which the appointee may retain the position of clerk of the commission.

The civil service commission shall keep a record of all its meetings and also a complete individual service record of each civil service employee which record shall be permanent and kept up to date.

When duly certified by the clerk of the commission copies of all records and entries or papers pertaining to said record shall be admissible in evidence with the same force and effect as the originals.

91 Acts, ch 55, §1 SF 488
Unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

400.27 Jurisdiction — attorney — appeal.
The civil service commission has jurisdiction to hear and determine matters involving the rights of civil service employees under this chapter, and may affirm, modify, or reverse any case on its merits.

The city attorney or solicitor shall be the attorney for the commission or when requested by the commission shall present matters concerning civil service employees to the commission, except the commission may hire a counselor or an attorney on a per diem basis to represent it when in the opinion of the commission there is a conflict of interest between the commission and the city council. The counselor or attorney hired by the commission shall not be the city attorney or solicitor. The city shall pay the costs incurred by the commission in employing an attorney under this section.

The city or any civil service employee shall have a right to appeal to the district court from the final ruling or decision of the civil service commission. The appeal shall be taken within thirty days from the filing of the formal decision of the commission. The district court of the county in which the city is located shall have full jurisdiction of the appeal and the said appeal shall be a trial de novo as an equitable action in the district court.

The appeal to the district court shall be perfected by filing a notice of appeal with the clerk of the district court within the time prescribed in this section by serving notice of appeal on the clerk of the civil service commission, from whose ruling or decision the appeal is taken.

In the event the ruling or decision appealed from is reversed by the district court, the appellant, if it be an employee, shall then be reinstated as of the date of the said suspension, demotion, or discharge and shall be entitled to compensation from the date of such suspension, demotion, or discharge.

403.2 Declaration of policy.
1. It is hereby found and declared that there exist in municipalities of the state slum and blighted areas, as herein defined, which constitute a serious and growing menace, injurious to the public health, safety, morals and welfare of the residents of the state; that the existence of such areas contributes substantially and increasingly to the spread of disease and crime, constitutes an economic and social liability imposing onerous municipal burdens which decrease the tax base and reduce tax revenues, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of municipalities, retards the provision of housing accommodations, aggravates traffic problems and substantially impairs or arrests the elimination of traffic hazards and the improvement of traffic facilities; and that the prevention and elimination of slums and blighted areas is a matter of state policy and state concern in order that the state and its municipalities shall not continue to be endangered by areas which are focal centers of disease, promote juvenile delinquency and consume an excessive proportion of state revenues because of the extra services required for police, fire, accident, hospitalization and other forms of public protection, services and facilities.

2. It is further found and declared that certain slum or blighted areas, or portions thereof, may require acquisition, clearance, and disposition subject to use restrictions, as provided in this chapter, since the prevailing condition of decay may make impracticable the reclamation of the area by conservation or rehabilitation; that other areas or portions thereof may, through the means provided in this chapter, be susceptible of conservation or rehabilitation in such a manner that the conditions and evils hereinbefore enumerated may be eliminated, remedied or prevented; and that fringe areas can be conserved and rehabilitated through appropriate public action as herein authorized, and through the co-operation and voluntary action of the owners and tenants of property in such areas.

3. It is further found and declared that there exists in this state the continuing need for programs to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment; and that it is accordingly necessary to assist and retain local industries and commercial enterprises to strengthen and revitalize the economy of this state and its municipalities; that accordingly it is necessary to provide means and methods for the encouragement and assistance of industrial and commercial enterprises in locating, purchasing, constructing, reconstructing, modernizing, improving, maintaining, repairing, furnishing, equipping, and expanding in this state and its municipalities and for the provision of housing and residential development for low and moderate income families; that accordingly it is necessary to authorize local governing bodies to designate areas of a municipality as economic development areas for commercial and industrial enterprises or housing and residential development for low and moderate income families; and that it is also necessary to encourage the location and expansion of commercial enterprises to more conveniently provide needed services and facilities of the commercial enterprises to municipalities and the residents of the municipalities. Therefore, the powers granted in this chapter constitute the performance of essential public purposes for this state and its municipalities.

4. It is further found and declared that the powers conferred by this chapter are for public uses and purposes for which public money may be expended and for which the power of eminent domain and police power exercised; and that the necessity in the public interest for the provisions herein enacted is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

403.15 Agency created.
1. There is hereby created in each municipality a public body corporate and politic to be known as the “urban renewal agency” of the municipality: Provided, that such agency shall not transact any business or exercise its powers hereunder until or unless the local governing body has made the finding prescribed in section 403.4, and has elected to have the urban renewal project powers exercised by an urban renewal agency as provided in section 403.14.

2. If the urban renewal agency is authorized to transact business and exercise powers pursuant to the chapter, the mayor or chairperson of the board, as applicable, by and with the advice and consent of the local governing body, shall appoint a board of commissioners of the urban renewal agency, which board shall consist of five commissioners. The term of office of each such commissioner shall be one year.

3. A commissioner shall receive no compensation for services, but shall be entitled to the necessary expenses, including traveling expenses, incurred in the discharge of the commissioner’s duties. Each commissioner shall hold office until a successor has been appointed and has qualified. A certificate of the appointment or reappointment of any commissioner shall be filed with the clerk of the municipality, and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the due and proper appointment of such commissioner.

4. The powers of an urban renewal agency shall be exercised by the commissioners thereof. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of conducting business and exercising the powers of the agency, and for all other purposes. Action may be taken by the agency upon a vote of a majority of the commissioners present, unless in any case the bylaws shall require a larger number. Any persons may be appointed as commissioners if they reside within the area of operation of the agency, which area shall be contemporaneous with the area of operation of the municipality, and if they are otherwise eligible for such appointments under this chapter.

5. The mayor or chairperson of the board, as applicable, shall designate a chairperson and vice chairperson from among the commissioners. An agency may employ an executive director, technical experts and such other agents and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require, and the agency may determine their qualifications, duties and compensation. For such legal service as it may require, an agency may employ or retain its own counsel and legal staff. An agency authorized to transact business and exercise powers under this chapter shall file, with the local governing body, on or before September 30 of each year, a report of its activities for the preceding fiscal year, which report shall include a complete financial statement setting forth its assets, liabilities, income and operating expense as of the end of such fiscal year. At the time of filing the report, the agency shall publish in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county, as applicable, a notice to the effect that such report has been filed with the municipality, and that the report is available for inspection during business hours in the office of the city clerk or county auditor, as applicable, and in the office of the agency.

6. For inefficiency, or neglect of duty, or misconduct in office, a commissioner may be removed only after a hearing, and after the commissioner shall have been given a copy of the charges at least ten days prior to such hearing, and after the commissioner shall have had an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel.

403.17 Definitions.
The following terms wherever used or referred to in this chapter, shall have the following meanings, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context:

1. "Agency" or "urban renewal agency" shall mean a public agency created by section 403.15.

2. "Area of operation" of a city means the area within the corporate limits of the municipality and the area within two miles of such limits, except that it does not include any area which lies within the territorial boundaries of another incorporated city, unless a resolution has been adopted by the governing body of the city declaring a need to be included in the area. The "area of operation" of a county means an area outside the corporate limits of a city. However, in that area outside a city's boundary but within two miles of the city's boundary, a joint agreement between the city and the county is required allowing the county to proceed with the activities authorized under this chapter. In addition, a county may proceed with activities authorized under this chapter in an area inside the boundaries of a city, provided a joint agreement is entered into with respect to such activities between a city and a county.

3. "Blighted area" means an area of a municipality within which the local governing body of the municipality determines that the presence of a substantial number of slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures; defective or inadequate street layout; faulty lot layout in relation to size, adequacy, accessibility, or usefulness; insanitary or unsafe conditions; deterioration of site or other improvements; diversity of ownership, tax or special assessment delinquency exceeding the fair value of the land; defective or unusual conditions of title; or the existence of conditions which endanger life or property by fire and other causes; or any combination of these factors; substantially impair or arrest the sound growth or a municipality, retards the provision of housing accommodations, or constitutes an economic or social liability and is a menace to the public health, safety, or welfare in its present condition and use. A disaster area referred to in section 403.5, subsection 7, constitutes a "blighted area."

4. "Board" or "commission" shall mean a board, commission, department, division, office, body or other unit of the municipality.

5. "Bonds" shall mean any bonds, including refunding bonds, notes, interim certificates, certificates of indebtedness, debentures or other obligations.

6. "Chairperson of the board" means the chairperson of the board of supervisors or other legislative body charged with governing a county.

7. "Clerk" shall mean the clerk or other official of the municipality who is the custodian of the official records of such municipality.

8. "Economic development area" means an area of a municipality designated by the local governing body as appropriate for commercial and industrial enterprises or housing and residential development for low and moderate income families, including single or multifamily housing. Such designated area shall not include land which is part of a century farm.

9. "Federal government" shall include the United States or any agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States.

10. "Housing and residential development" means single or multifamily dwellings to be constructed in an area with respect to which the local governing body of the municipality determines that there is an inadequate supply of affordable, decent, safe, and sanitary housing and that providing such housing is important to meeting any or all of the following objectives: retaining existing industrial or commercial enterprises; attracting and encouraging the location of new industrial or commercial enterprises; meeting the needs of special elements of the population, such as the elderly or handicapped; and providing housing for various income levels of the population which may not be adequately served.

11. "Local governing body" means the council, board of supervisors, or other legislative body charged with governing the municipality.

12. "Low or moderate income families" means low or moderate income families as defined in section 220.1.

13. "Mayor" shall mean the mayor of a municipality, or other officer or body having the duties customarily imposed upon the executive head of a municipality.

14. "Municipality" means any city or county in the state.

15. "Obligee" shall include any bondholder, agents or trustees for any bondholders, or any lessor demising to the municipality property used in connection with an urban renewal project, or any assignee or assignees of such lessor's interest or any part thereof, and the federal government, when it is a party to any contract with the municipality.

16. "Person" shall mean any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, association, joint stock association; and shall include any trustee, receiver, assignee, or other person acting in a similar representative capacity for an individual or such entities.

17. "Public body" shall mean the state or any political subdivision thereof.

18. "Public officer" shall mean any officer who is in charge of any department or branch of the government of the municipality relating to health, fire, building regulations, or to other activities concerning dwellings in the municipality.

19. "Real property" shall include all lands, including improvements and fixtures thereon, and property of any nature appurtenant thereto, or used in connection therewith, and every estate, interest, right and use, legal or equitable, therein, including terms for years and liens by way of judgment, mortgage or otherwise.

20. "Slum area" shall mean an area in which there is a predominance of buildings or improvements, whether residential or nonresidential, which: By reason of dilapidation, deterioration, age or obsolescence; by reason of inadequate provision for ventilation, light, air, sanitation, or open spaces; by reason of high density of population and overcrowding; by reason of the existence of conditions which endanger life or property by fire and other causes; or which by any combination of such factors, is conducive to ill health, transmission of disease, infant mortality, juvenile delinquency or crime, and which is detrimental to the public health, safety, morals or welfare.

21. "Urban renewal area" means a slum area, blighted area, economic development area, or combination of the areas, which the local governing body designates as appropriate for an urban renewal project.

22. "Urban renewal plan" means a plan, as it exists from time to time, for an urban renewal project. The plan shall:

a. Conform to the general plan for the municipality as a whole except as provided in section 403.5, subsection 7;

b. Be sufficiently complete to indicate the land acquisition, demolition and removal of structures, redevelopment, development, improvements, and rehabilitation proposed to be carried out in the urban renewal area, and to indicate zoning and planning changes, if any, land uses, maximum densities, building requirements, and the plan's relationship to definite local objectives respecting appropriate land uses, improved traffic, public transportation, public utilities, recreational and community facilities, and other public improvements.

23. "Urban renewal project" may include undertakings and activities of a municipality in an urban renewal area for the elimination and for the prevention of the development or spread of slums and blight, may include the designation and development of an economic development area in an urban renewal area, and may involve slum clearance and redevelopment in an urban renewal area, or rehabilitation or conservation in an urban renewal area, or any combination or part thereof in accordance with an urban renewal program. The undertakings and activities may include:

a. Acquisition of a slum area, blighted area, economic development area, or portion of the areas;

b. Demolition and removal of buildings and improvements;

c. Installation, construction, or reconstruction of streets, utilities, parks, playgrounds, and other improvements necessary for carrying out in the urban renewal area the urban renewal objectives of this chapter in accordance with the urban renewal plan;

d. Disposition of any property acquired in the urban renewal area, including sale, initial leasing or retention by the municipality itself, at its fair value for uses in accordance with the urban renewal plan;

e. Carrying out plans for a program of voluntary or compulsory repair and rehabilitation of buildings or other improvements in accordance with the urban renewal plan;

f. Acquisition of any other real property in the urban renewal area, where necessary to eliminate unhealthful, insanitary or unsafe conditions, or to lessen density, eliminate obsolete or other uses detrimental to the public welfare, or otherwise to remove or prevent the spread of blight or deterioration, or to provide land for needed public facilities;

g. Sale and conveyance of real property in furtherance of an urban renewal project.

403.19 Division of revenue from taxation — tax-increment financing.

A municipality may provide by ordinance that taxes levied on taxable property in an urban renewal project each year by or for the benefit of the state, city, county, school district, or other taxing district after the effective date of such ordinance, shall be divided as follows:

1. That portion of the taxes which would be produced by the rate at which the tax is levied each year by or for each of the taxing districts upon the total sum of the assessed value of the taxable property in the urban renewal project, as shown on the assessment roll as of January 1 of the calendar year preceding the effective date of the ordinance, or the assessment roll last equalized prior to the date of initial adoption of the urban renewal plan in the case of projects commenced prior to July 1, 1972, shall be allocated to and when collected be paid into the special fund of the full portion of taxes which could be collected.

2. That portion of the taxes levied by or for any taxing district which did not include the territory in an urban renewal project on the effective date of the ordinance or initial adoption of the plan, but to which the territory has been annexed or otherwise included after the effective date, the assessment roll as of January 1 of the calendar year preceding the effective date of the ordinance or initial adoption of the plan shall be used in determining the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the project on the effective date.

3. The portion of taxes mentioned in subsection 2 of this section and the special fund into which they shall be paid, may be irrevocably pledged by a municipality for the payment of the principal and interest on loans, advances, bonds issued under the authority of section 403.9, subsection 1, or indebtedness incurred by a municipality to finance or refinance, in whole or in part, the urban renewal project.

4. As used in this section the word "taxes" includes, but is not limited to, all levies on an ad valorem basis upon land or real property.

5. A city shall certify to the county auditor on or before December 31 the amount of loans, advances, indebtedness or bonds which qualify for payment from the special fund referred to in subsection 2, and the filing of the certificate shall make it a duty of the auditor to provide for the division of taxes in each subsequent year until the amount of the loans, advances, indebtedness or bonds is paid to the special fund. In any year, the county auditor shall, upon receipt of a certified request from a city filed prior to January 1, increase the amount to be allocated under subsection 1 and to the special fund created under subsection 2, and the filing of the certificate shall make it a duty of the auditor to provide for the division of taxes in each subsequent year until the amount of the loans, advances, indebtedness or bonds is paid to the special fund.

6. Tax collections within each taxing district may be allocated to the entire taxing district including the taxes on the valuations determined under subsection 1 and to the special fund created under subsection 2 in the proportion of their taxable valuations determined as provided in this section.

7. For the purposes of this section, a county shall include taxes levied on industrial property within an urban renewal area only.

MUNICIPAL HOUSING LAW

403A.11 Planning, zoning and building laws — insulation requirements.
All housing projects of a municipality shall be subject to the planning, zoning, sanitary and building laws, ordinances and regulations applicable to the locality in which the project is situated.

All dwellings which are part of housing projects and which are proposed to be rented to low-income families or the elderly through the programs of the United States department of housing and urban development shall have ceiling insulation having an R value of 38 in the attic, floor insulation having an R value of 20, or perimeter wall insulation having an R value of 10 beneath all habitable heated areas or over unheated spaces. In addition, basement walls shall have insulation with an R value of 6 to their full height, with insulation in the box sill having an R value of 20. As used in this section, "R value" means resistance to heat flow.

The insulation requirements of this section are effective for all dwellings, the construction of which begins on or after July 1, 1991. For dwellings existing or under construction prior to July 1, 1991, the dwelling must comply with the insulation requirements of this section by June 30, 1996.

CHAPTER 404
URBAN REVITALIZATION TAX EXEMPTIONS

404.1 Area established by city or county.
The governing body of a city may, by ordinance, designate an area of the city or the governing body of a county may, by ordinance, designate an area of the county outside the boundaries of a city, as a revitalization area, if that area is any of the following:

1. An area in which there is a predominance of buildings or improvements, whether residential or nonresidential, which by reason of dilapidation, deterioration, obsolescence, inadequate provision for ventilation, light, air, sanitation, or open spaces, high density of population and overcrowding, the existence of conditions which endanger life or property by fire and other causes or a combination of such factors, is conducive to ill health, transmission of disease, infant mortality, juvenile delinquency or crime, and which is detrimental to the public health, safety, or welfare.

2. An area which by reason of the presence of a substantial number of deteriorated or deteriorating structures, predominance of defective or inadequate street layout, incompatible land use relationships, faulty lot layout in relation to size, adequacy, accessibility or usefulness, unsanitary or unsafe conditions, deterioration of site or other improvements, diversity of ownership, tax or special assessment delinquency exceeding the actual value of the land, defective or unusual conditions of title, or the existence of conditions which endanger life or property by fire and other causes, or a combination of such factors, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of a municipality, retards the provision of housing accommodations or constitutes an economic or social liability and is a menace to the public health, safety, or welfare in its present condition and use.

3. An area in which there is a predominance of buildings or improvements which by reason of age, history, architecture or significance should be preserved or restored to productive use.

4. An area which is appropriate as an economic development area as defined in section 403.17.

91 Acts ch 214 §6 HF 704
Unnumbered paragraph 1 amended
NEW subsection 4

404.2 Conditions mandatory.
A city or county may only exercise the authority conferred upon it in this chapter after the following conditions have been met:

1. The governing body has adopted a resolution finding that the rehabilitation, conservation, redevelopment, economic development, or a combination thereof of the area is necessary in the interest of the public health, safety, or welfare of the residents of the city, or county as applicable, and the area substantially meets the criteria of section 404.1.
2. The city or county has prepared a proposed plan for the designated revitalization area. The proposed plan shall include all of the following:
   a. A legal description of the real estate forming the boundaries of the proposed area along with a map depicting the existing parcels of real estate.
   b. The existing assessed valuation of the real estate in the proposed area, listing the land and building values separately.
   c. A list of names and addresses of the owners of record of real estate within the area.
   d. The existing zoning classifications and district boundaries and the existing and proposed land uses within the area.
   e. Any proposals for improving or expanding city or county services within the area including but not limited to transportation facilities, sewage, garbage collection, street maintenance, park facilities and police and fire protection.
   f. A statement specifying whether the revitalization is applicable to none, some, or all of the property assessed as residential, agricultural, commercial or industrial property within the designated area or a combination thereof and whether the revitalization is for rehabilitation and additions to existing buildings or new construction or both. If revitalization is made applicable only to some property within an assessment classification, the definition of that subset of eligible property must be by uniform criteria which further some planning objective identified in the plan. The city shall state how long it is estimated that the area shall remain a designated revitalization area which time shall be longer than one year from the date of designation and shall state any plan by the city to issue revenue bonds for revitalization projects within the area. For a county, a revitalization area shall include only property which will be used as industrial property only.
   g. The provisions that have been made for the relocation of persons, including families, business concerns and others, whom the city or county anticipates will be displaced as a result of improvements to be made in the designated area.
   h. Any tax exemption schedule that shall be used in lieu of the schedule set out in section 404.3, subsection 1, 2, 3 or 4. This schedule shall not allow a greater exemption, but may allow a smaller exemption, than allowed in the schedule specified in the corresponding subsection of section 404.3.

In the case of a county, the tax schedules used shall only be applicable to property of the type for which the revitalization area is zoned at the time the county designates the area a revitalization area.

i. The percent increase in actual value requirements that shall be used in lieu of the fifteen and ten percent requirements specified in section 404.3, subsection 7 and in section 404.5. This percent increase in actual value requirements shall not be greater than that provided in this chapter and shall be the same requirements applicable to all existing revitalization areas.

j. A description of any federal, state or private grant or loan program likely to be a source of funding for that area for residential improvements and a description of any grant or loan program which the city or county has or will have as a source of funding for that area for residential improvements.

3. The city or county has scheduled a public hearing and notified all owners of record of real property located within the proposed area and the tenants living within the proposed area in accordance with section 362.3 or 331.305, as applicable. In addition to notice by publication, notification shall also be given by ordinary mail to the last known address of the owners of record. The city or county shall also send notice by ordinary mail addressed to the "occupants" of addresses located within the proposed area, unless the city council or board of supervisors, by reason of lack of a reasonably current and complete address list, or for other good cause, shall have waived the notice. Notwithstanding section 362.3 or 331.305, as applicable, the notice shall be given by the thirtieth day prior to the public hearing.

4. The public hearing has been held.

5. A second public hearing has been held if:
   a. The city or county has received within thirty days after the holding of the first public hearing a valid petition requesting a second public hearing containing the signatures and current addresses of property owners that represent at least ten percent of the privately owned property within the designated revitalization area or;
   b. The city or county has received within thirty days after the holding of the first public hearing a valid petition requesting a second public hearing containing the signatures and current addresses of tenants that represent at least ten percent of the residential units within the designated revitalization area.

At any such second public hearing the city or county may specifically request those in attendance to indicate the precise nature of desired changes in the proposed plan.

6. The city or county has adopted the proposed or amended plan for the revitalization area after the requisite number of hearings. The city or county may subsequently amend this plan after a hearing. Notice of the hearing shall be published as provided in section 362.3 or 331.305, except that at least seven days' notice must be given and the public hearing shall not be held earlier than the next regularly scheduled city council or board of supervisors meeting following the published notice.

404.3 Basis of tax exemption.

1. All qualified real estate assessed as residential property is eligible to receive an exemption from taxation based on the actual value added by the improvements. The exemption is for a period of ten
The amount of the exemption is equal to a percent of the actual value added by the improvements, determined as follows. One hundred fifteen percent of the value added by the improvements. However, the amount of the actual value added by the improvements which shall be used to compute the exemption shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars and the granting of the exemption shall not result in the actual value of the qualified real estate being reduced below the actual value on which the homestead credit is computed under section 425.1.

2. All qualified real estate is eligible to receive a partial exemption from taxation on the actual value added by the improvements. The exemption is for a period of ten years. The amount of the partial exemption is equal to a percent of the actual value added by the improvements, determined as follows:
   a. For the first year, eighty percent
   b. For the second year, seventy percent
   c. For the third year, sixty percent
   d. For the fourth year, fifty percent
   e. For the fifth year, forty percent
   f. For the sixth year, forty percent
   g. For the seventh year, thirty percent
   h. For the eighth year, thirty percent
   i. For the ninth year, twenty percent
   j. For the tenth year, twenty percent

3. All qualified real estate is eligible to receive a one hundred percent exemption from taxation on the actual value added by the improvements. The exemption is for a period of three years.

4. All qualified real estate assessed as residential property or assessed as commercial property, if the commercial property consists of three or more separate living quarters with at least seventy-five percent of the space used for residential purpose, is eligible to receive a one hundred percent exemption from taxation on the actual value added by the improvements. The exemption is for a period of ten years.

5. The owners of qualified real estate eligible for the exemption provided in this section shall elect to take the applicable exemption provided in subsection 1, 2, 3 or 4 or provided in the different schedule adopted in the city or county plan if a different schedule has been adopted. Once the election has been made and the exemption granted, the owner is not permitted to change the method of exemption.

6. The tax exemption schedule specified in subsection 1, 2, 3 or 4 shall apply to every revitalization area within a city or county unless a different schedule is adopted in the city or county plan as provided in section 404.2. However, a city or county shall not adopt a different schedule unless every revitalization area within the city or county has the same schedule applied to it, except in areas of the city or county which have been designated as both urban renewal and urban revitalization areas. In an area designated for both urban renewal and urban revitalization, a city or county may adopt a different schedule than has been adopted for revitalization areas which have not been designated as urban renewal areas. The different schedule adopted shall not provide for a larger tax exemption in a particular year than is provided for that year in the schedule specified in the corresponding subsection of this section.

7. “Qualified real estate” as used in this chapter and section 419.17 means real property, other than land, which is located in a designated revitalization area and to which improvements have been added, during the time the area was so designated, which have increased the actual value by at least the percent specified in the plan adopted by the city or county pursuant to section 404.2 or if no percent is specified then by at least fifteen percent, or at least ten percent in the case of real property assessed as residential property or which have, in the case of land upon which is located more than one building and not assessed as residential property, increased the actual value of the buildings to which the improvements have been made by at least fifteen percent. “Qualified real estate” also means land upon which no structure existed at the start of the new construction, which is located in a designated revitalization area and upon which new construction has been added during the time the area was so designated. Such construction shall demonstrate, to the other requirements of this chapter and section 419.17, that the improvements on land assessed as agricultural property by means of new construction Such justification shall demonstrate, in addition to the requirements of this chapter and section 419.17, that the improvements on land assessed as agricultural property shall not qualify as “improvements” for purposes of this chapter and section 419.17 unless the governing body of the city or county has presented justification at a public hearing held pursuant to section 404.2 for the revitalization of land as assessed as agricultural property by means of new construction. Such justification shall demonstrate, in addition to the other requirements of this chapter and section 419.17, that the improvements made on land assessed as agricultural land will utilize the minimum amount of agricultural land necessary to accomplish the revitalization of the other classes of property within the urban revitalization area. However, if such construction, rehabilitation or additions were begun prior to January 29, 1979, one year prior to the adoption by the city or county of a plan of urban revitalization pursuant to section 404.2, whichever occurs later, the value added by such construction, rehabilitation or additions shall not constitute an increase in value for purposes of qualifying for the exemptions listed in this section “Actual value added by the improvements” as used in this chapter and section 419.17 means the actual value added as of the first year for which the exemption was received.

8. The fifteen and ten percent increase in actual value requirements specified in subsection 7 shall apply to every revitalization area within a city or county unless different percent increases in actual value requirements are adopted in the city or county plan as provided in section 404.2. However, a city or county shall not adopt different requirements unless every revitalization area within the city or county has the same requirements and the requirements do

404.4 Prior approval of eligibility.
A person may submit a proposal for an improvement project to the governing body of the city or county to receive prior approval for eligibility for a tax exemption on the project. The governing body shall, by resolution, give its prior approval for an improvement project if the project is in conformance with the plan for revitalization developed by the city or county. Such prior approval shall not entitle the owner to exemption from taxation until the improvements have been completed and found to be qualified real estate; however, if the proposal is not approved, the person may submit an amended proposal for the governing body to approve or reject.

An application shall be filed for each new exemption claimed. The first application for an exemption shall be filed by the owner of the property with the governing body of the city or county in which the property is located by February 1 of the assessment year for which the exemption is first claimed, but not later than the year in which all improvements included in the project are first assessed for taxation, unless, upon the request of the owner at any time, the governing body of the city or county provides by resolution that the owner may file an application by February 1 of any other assessment year selected by the governing body. The application shall contain, but not be limited to, the following information: The nature of the improvement, its cost, the estimated or actual date of completion, the tenants that occupied the owner's building on the date the city or county adopted the resolution referred to in section 404.2, subsection 1, and which exemption in section 404.3 or in the different schedule, if one has been adopted, will be elected.

The governing body of the city or county shall approve the application, subject to review by the local assessor pursuant to section 404.5, if the project is in conformance with the plan for revitalization developed by the city or county, is located within a designated revitalization area and if the improvements were made during the time the area was so designated. The governing body of the city or county shall forward for review all approved applications to the appropriate local assessor by March 1 of each year with a statement indicating whether section 404.3, subsection 1, 2, 3 or 4 applies or if a different schedule has been adopted, which exemption from that schedule applies. Applications for exemption for succeeding years on approved projects shall not be required.

The local assessor shall review each first-year application by making a physical review of the property, to determine if the improvements made increased the actual value of the qualified real estate by at least fifteen percent or at least ten percent in the case of real property assessed as residential property or the applicable percent increase requirement adopted by the city or county under section 404.2. If the assessor determines that the actual value of that real estate has increased by at least the requisite percent, the assessor shall proceed to determine the actual value of the property and certify the valuation determined pursuant to section 404.3 to the county auditor at the time of transmitting the assessment rolls. However, if a new structure is erected on land upon which no structure existed at the start of the new construction, the assessor shall proceed to determine the actual value of the property and certify the valuation determined pursuant to section 404.3 to the county auditor at the time of transmitting the assessment rolls. The assessor shall notify the applicant of the determination, and the assessor's decision may be appealed to the local board of review at the times specified in section 441.37. If an application for exemption is denied as a result of failure to sufficiently increase the value of the real estate as provided in section 404.3, the owner may file a first annual application in a subsequent year when additional improvements are made to satisfy requirements of section 404.3, and the provisions of section 404.4 shall apply. After the tax exemption is granted, the local assessor shall continue to grant the tax exemption, with periodic physical review by the assessor, for the time period specified in section 404.3, subsection 1, 2, 3 or 4, or specified in the different schedule if one has been adopted, under which the exemption was granted. The tax exemptions for the succeeding years shall be granted without the taxpayer having to file an application for the succeeding years.

404.6 Relocation expense of tenant.
Upon application to it and after verification by it, the city or county shall require compensation of at least one month's rent and may require compensation of actual relocation expenses be paid to a qualified tenant whose displacement is due to action on the part of a property owner to qualify for the benefits under this chapter. However, the city or county may require the persons causing the qualified tenant to be displaced to pay all or a part of the relocation payments as a condition for receiving a tax exemption under section 404.3. "Qualified tenant" as used in this chapter shall mean the legal occupant of a residential dwelling unit which is located within a designated revitalization area and who has occupied the same dwelling unit continuously since one year prior to the city's or county's adoption of the plan pursuant to section 404.2.
409A.4 Divisions requiring a plat of survey or acquisition plat.

1. The grantor of land which has been divided using a metes and bounds description shall have a plat of survey made of the division, except as provided for in subsection 3. The grantor or the surveyor shall contact the county auditor who, for the purpose of assessment and taxation, shall review the division to determine whether the survey shall include only the parcel being conveyed or both the parcel being conveyed and the remaining parcel. The plat of survey shall be prepared in compliance with chapter 114A and shall be recorded. The plat shall be clearly marked by the surveyor as a plat of survey and shall include the following information for each parcel included in the survey:
   a. A parcel letter or number designation approved by the auditor.
   b. The names of the proprietors.
   c. An accurate description of each parcel.
   d. The total acreage of each parcel.
   e. The acreage of any portion lying within a public right-of-way.

2. The auditor may note a permanent real estate index number upon each parcel shown on a plat of survey according to section 441.29 for real estate tax administration purposes. The surveyor shall not assign parcel letters or prepare a metes and bounds description for any parcel shown on a plat of survey unless the parcel was surveyed by the surveyor in compliance with chapter 114A. Parcels within a plat of survey prepared pursuant to this section are subject to the regulations and ordinances of the governing body.

3. When land or rights in land are divided for right-of-way purposes by an agency of the government or other persons having the power of eminent domain and the description of the land or rights acquired is a metes and bounds description then an acquisition plat shall be made and attached to the de-Acquisition plats shall not be required to conform to the provisions of chapter 114A.

b. The information shown on the plat shall be developed from instruments of record together with information developed by field measurements. The unadjusted error of field measurements shall not be greater than one in five thousand.

c. The plat shall be signed and dated by a surveyor, bear the surveyor’s Iowa registration number and legible seal, and shall show a north arrow and bar scale.

d. The original drawing shall remain the property of the surveyor or the surveyor’s agency and shall not be less than eight and one-half by eleven inches in size.

e. If the right-of-way on an acquisition plat is a portion of lots within an official plat, reference shall be made to both the lots and plat name. If the right-of-way acquisition plat is not within an official plat, reference shall be made to the government lot or quarter-quarter section and to the section, township, range, and county.

f. The plat shall indicate whether the monuments shown are existing monuments or monuments to be established. Monuments shall be established as necessary to construct or maintain the right-of-way project.

g. The acquisition plat shall identify the project for which the right-of-way was acquired and a parcel designation shall be assigned to each right-of-way parcel.

4. The acreage shown for each parcel included in a plat of survey or acquisition plat shall be to the nearest one-hundredth acre. If a parcel described as part of the United States public land survey system and not entirely within an official plat, lies within more than one forty-acre aliquot part of a section, the acreage shall be shown only for assessment and taxation purposes for each portion of the parcel that lies within each forty-acre aliquot part. The surveyor shall not be required to establish the location of the forty-acre aliquot line by survey but is required to use reasonable assumptions in determining its approximate location for assessment and taxation purposes.

5. Governmental agencies shall not be required to survey a remaining parcel when land is divided for right-of-way purposes and shall not be required to contact the auditor for approval of parcel designations shown on an acquisition plat.

§409A.5 Descriptions and conveyance according to plat of survey or acquisition plat

1. A conveyance of a parcel shown on a recorded plat of survey shall describe the parcel by using the description provided on the plat of survey or by reference to the plat of survey, which reference shall include all of the following:

a. The parcel letter or number designation.

b. The book and page number of the recorded plat of survey.

c. The lot number or letter and name of the official plat, if the parcel lies within an official plat.

d. The section, township, and range number and reference to the aliquot part of the section, if the parcel lies outside of an official plat.

2. A conveyance of a parcel shown on a recorded acquisition plat shall describe the parcel by using the description provided on the acquisition instrument or by reference to the acquisition plat, which reference shall include all of the following:

a. The parcel designation and reference to the project for which the right-of-way was acquired.

b. The book and page number of the recorded acquisition plat.

c. The lot number or letter and name of the official plat, if the parcel lies within an official plat.

d. The section, township, and range number and reference to the aliquot part of the section, if the parcel lies outside of an official plat.

3. A description by reference to the recorded plat of survey, in compliance with subsection 1, is valid.

4. A description by reference to the recorded acquisition plat, in compliance with subsection 2, is valid.

5. A description by reference to a permanent real estate index number is valid for the purpose of assessment and taxation when a county has established a permanent real estate index number system pursuant to section 441.29.
CHAPTER 410
DISABLED AND RETIRED FIRE FIGHTERS AND POLICE OFFICERS

Upon the death of any acting or retired member of such departments, leaving a spouse or minor children, or dependent father or mother surviving, there shall be paid out of said fund as follows:

1. To the surviving spouse, a sum equal to one-half of the deceased member's total adjusted pension as provided for in section 410.6, but in no event less than seventy-five dollars per month.

2. If there be no surviving spouse, or upon the death of such spouse, then to the dependent father and mother, if both survive, or to either dependent parent, if one survives, thirty dollars per month.

3. To the guardian of each surviving child under eighteen years of age, twenty dollars per month.

Effective July 1, 1991, the remarriage of a surviving spouse does not make the spouse ineligible to receive benefits under this section, and for a surviving spouse who remarried prior to July 1, 1991, the remarriage does not make the spouse ineligible to receive benefits under this section.

However, the benefits provided by this section are subject to the following definitions: The term "spouse" means a surviving spouse of a marriage contracted prior to retirement of a deceased member from active service, or of a marriage of a retired member contracted prior to March 2, 1934. Surviving spouse includes a former spouse only if the division of assets in the dissolution of marriage decree pursuant to section 598.17 grants the former spouse rights of a spouse under this chapter. If there is no surviving spouse of a marriage contracted prior to retirement of a deceased member, or of a marriage of a retired member contracted prior to March 2, 1934, surviving spouse includes a surviving spouse of a marriage of two years or more duration contracted subsequent to retirement of the member. The terms "child" and "children" mean only the surviving issue of a deceased active or retired member, or the child or children legally adopted by a deceased member prior to the member's retirement from active service.

This section and its provisions shall be interpreted for all purposes as including all surviving spouses.

91 Acts, ch 41, §2 HF 5

CHAPTER 411
RETIREMENT SYSTEMS FOR POLICE OFFICERS AND FIRE FIGHTERS

411.1 Definitions.

The following words and phrases as used in this chapter, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, shall have the following meanings:

1. "Retirement system" or "system" means the statewide fire and police retirement system established by this chapter for the fire fighters and police officers of the cities described in section 411.2, its board of trustees, and its appointed representatives.

2. "Police officer" or "police officers" shall mean only the members of a police department who have passed a regular mental and physical civil service examination for police officers, and who shall have been duly appointed to such positions. Such members shall include patrol officers, probationary patrol officers, matrons, sergeants, lieutenants, captains, detectives, and other senior officers who are so employed for police duty.

3. "Fire fighter" or "fire fighters" shall mean only the members of a fire department who have passed a regular mental and physical civil service examination for fire fighters and who shall have been duly appointed to such position. Such members shall include fire fighters, probationary fire fighters, lieutenants, captains, and other senior officers who have been so employed for the duty of fighting fires.

4. "Member" means a member of the retirement system as defined by section 411.3.

5. "Board of trustees" means the board created by section 411.36 to direct the establishment and administration of the retirement system.

6. "Medical board" shall mean the board of physicians provided for in section 411.5.
7. "Membership service" shall mean service as police officers or fire fighters rendered since last becoming a member, or, where membership is regained as provided in this chapter, all of such service.

8. "Beneficiary" shall mean any person receiving a retirement allowance or other benefit as provided by this chapter.

9. "Surviving spouse" shall mean the surviving spouse of a marriage solemnized prior to retirement of a deceased member from active service. Surviving spouse shall include a former spouse only if the division of assets in the dissolution of marriage decree pursuant to section 598.17 grants the former spouse rights of a spouse under this chapter. If there is no surviving spouse of a marriage solemnized prior to retirement of a deceased member, surviving spouse includes a surviving spouse of a marriage of two years or more duration solemnized subsequent to retirement of the member.

10. "Child" means only surviving issue of a deceased active or retired member, or a child legally adopted by a deceased member prior to the member's retirement. "Child" includes only an individual who is under the age of eighteen years, an individual who is under the age of twenty-two years and is a full-time student, or an individual who is disabled at the time under the definitions used in section 402 of the Social Security Act as amended if the disability occurred to the individual during the time the individual was under the age of eighteen years and the parent of the individual was an active member of the system.

11. "Earnable compensation" or "compensation earnable" shall mean the regular compensation which a member would earn during one year on the basis of the stated compensation for the member's rank or position including compensation for longevity and holidays and excluding any amount received for overtime compensation or other special additional compensation, meal and travel expenses, and uniform allowances and excluding any amount received upon termination or retirement in payment for accumulated sick leave or vacation.

12. "Amount earned" shall mean the amount of money actually earned by a beneficiary in some definite period of time.

13. "Average final compensation" means the average earnable compensation of the member during the three years of service the member earned the member's highest salary as a police officer or fire fighter, or if the member has had less than three years of service, then the average earnable compensation of the member's entire period of service.

14. "Pensions" means annual payments for life derived from appropriations provided by the participating cities and the state and from contributions of the members which are deposited in the fire and police retirement fund. All pensions shall be paid in equal monthly installments.

15. "Retirement allowance" shall mean the pension, or any benefits in lieu thereof, granted to a member upon retirement.

16. "Pension reserve" means the present value of all payments to be made on account of any pension, or benefit in lieu of a pension, granted under the provisions of this chapter, upon the basis of mortality tables adopted by the system, and interest computed at the rate established by the actuary.

17. "Actuarial equivalent" means a benefit of equal value, when computed upon the basis of mortality tables adopted by the system, and interest computed at the rate established by the actuary.

18. "City" or "cities" means any city or cities participating in the statewide fire and police retirement system as required by this chapter.

19. "Superintendent of public safety" shall mean any elected city official who has direct jurisdiction over the fire or police department, or the city manager in cities under the city manager form of government.

411.2 Participation in retirement system.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 through 5, each city in which the fire fighters or police officers are appointed under the civil service law of this state, shall participate in the retirement system established by this chapter for the purpose of providing retirement allowances only for fire fighters or police officers, or both, of the cities who are so appointed.

2. A city whose population was under eight thousand prior to the results of the federal census conducted in 1990 is not required to come under the retirement system established by this chapter upon attaining a population of eight thousand or more.

3. A city which did not have a paid fire department on May 3, 1990, is not required to come under the retirement system established by this chapter upon establishing a paid fire department.

4. A city which did not have a paid police department on May 3, 1990, is not required to come under the retirement system established by this chapter upon establishing a paid police department.

5. If a city's fire fighters or police officers, or both, are appointed under the civil service law of this state but the city is not operating a city fire or police retirement system, or both, under this chapter on May 3, 1990, the city is not required to come under the statewide fire and police retirement system established by this chapter.

of the retirement system as a condition of their employment, except that a police chief or a fire chief who would not complete twenty-two years of service under this chapter by the time the chief attains fifty-five years of age shall, upon written request to the system, be exempt from this chapter. Notwithstanding section 97B.41, a police chief or fire chief who is exempt from this chapter is exempt from chapter 97B. Members of the system established in this chapter shall not be required to make contributions under any other pension or retirement system of a city, county, or the state of Iowa, anything to the contrary notwithstanding.

2. Should any member in any period of five consecutive years after last becoming a member, be absent from service for more than four years, or should the member become a beneficiary or die, the member shall thereupon cease to be a member of the system.

3. Members of the system established in this chapter, and for the transaction of its business, the board of trustees shall adopt rules for the establishment and proper operation of the retirement fund for all necessary expenses which they may incur through service on the board. The system shall credit as service for a member of the system a previous period of service for which the member had withdrawn the member's accumulated contributions, as defined in section 411.21.

The system shall credit as service for a member of the system a previous period of service for which the member had withdrawn the member's accumulated contributions, as defined in section 411.21.

4. Board. The general responsibility for the establishment and proper operation of the retirement system is vested in the board of trustees created by section 411.36. The system shall be administered under the direction of the board.

2. Compensation. The trustees, other than the secretary, shall serve without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed from the fire and police retirement fund for all necessary expenses which they may incur through service on the board.

3. Rules. Subject to the limitations of this chapter, the board of trustees shall adopt rules for the establishment and administration of the system and the fire and police retirement fund created by this chapter, and for the transaction of its business.

4. Organization — employees. The board of trustees shall elect from its membership a chairperson, and shall, by majority vote of its members, appoint a secretary who may, but need not, be one of its members. The system shall engage such actuarial and other services as are required to transact the business of the retirement system. The compensation of all persons engaged by the system and all other expenses of the board of trustees necessary for the operation of the retirement system shall be paid at such rates and in such amounts as the board of trustees approves.

5. Data. The system shall keep in convenient form such data as is necessary for actuarial valuation of the fire and police retirement fund and for checking the experience of the retirement system.

6. Records — reports. The board of trustees shall keep a record of all its proceedings, which record shall be open to public inspection. It shall submit an annual report to the governor, the general assembly, and the city council of each participating city concerning the financial condition of the retirement system, its current and future liabilities, and the actuarial valuation of the system.

7. Legal advisor. The system may employ or retain an attorney to serve as the system's legal advisor and to represent the system. The costs of an attorney employed or retained by the system shall be paid from the fire and police retirement fund created in section 411.8.

8. Medical board. The system shall designate a medical board to be composed of three physicians who shall arrange for and pass upon all medical examinations required under the provisions of this chapter, except that for examinations required because of disability three physicians from the University of Iowa hospitals and clinics who shall pass upon the medical examinations required for disability retirements, and shall report to the system in writing its conclusions and recommendations upon all matters referred to it. Each report of a medical examination under section 411.6, subsections 3 and 5, shall include the medical board's rating as to the extent of the member's physical impairment.

9. Duties of actuary. The actuary shall be the technical advisor of the system on matters regarding the operation of the fire and police retirement fund and shall perform such other duties as are required in connection with the operation of the system.

The actuary shall make such investigation of anticipated interest earnings and of the mortality, service, and compensation experience of the members of the system as the actuary recommends, and on the basis of the investigation the system shall adopt such tables and such rates as are required in subsection 11.

10. Actuarial investigation — tables — rates. At least once in each five-year period, the actuary shall make an actuarial investigation into the mortality, service, and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries of the retirement system, and the interest and other earnings on the moneys and other assets of the retirement system, and shall make a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the fire and police retirement fund, and on the basis of the results of the investigation and valuation, the system shall do all of the following:

a. Adopt for the retirement system such interest rate, mortality and other tables as are deemed necessary.

b Certify the rates of contribution payable by the cities in accordance with section 411 8

c Certify the rates of contributions payable by the members in accordance with section 411 8

11 Valuation On the basis of the rate of interest and tables adopted, the actuary shall make an annual valuation of the assets and liabilities of the fire and police retirement fund created by this chapter.

411.6 Benefits.

1 Service retirement benefit Retirement of a member on a service retirement allowance shall be made by the system as follows a Any member in service may retire upon written application to the system, setting forth at what time, not less than thirty nor more than ninety days subsequent to the execution and filing of the application, the member desires to be retired. However, the member at the time specified for retirement shall have attained the age of fifty-five and shall have served twenty-two years or more, and notwithstanding that, during the period of notification, the member may have separated from the service.

b Any member in service who has been a member of the retirement system four or more years and whose employment is terminated prior to the member's retirement, other than by death or disability, shall upon attaining retirement age, receive a service retirement allowance of four twenty-seconds of the retirement allowance the member would receive at retirement if the member's employment had not been terminated, and an additional one twenty-second of such retirement allowance for each additional year of service not exceeding twenty-two years of service. The amount of the retirement allowance shall be calculated in the manner provided in this paragraph using the average final compensation at the time of termination of employment.

2 Allowance on service retirement

a Upon retirement from service, prior to July 1, 1990, a member shall receive a service retirement allowance which shall consist of a pension given by the city which equals fifty percent of the member's average final compensation.

b Upon retirement from service on or after July 1, 1990, but before July 1, 1992, a member shall receive a service retirement allowance which shall consist of a pension which equals fifty-four percent of the member's average final compensation.

c Commencing July 1, 1992, the system shall increase the percentage multiplier of the member's average final compensation by an additional two percent each July 1 until reaching sixty percent of the member's average final compensation.

d Commencing July 1, 1990, if the member has completed more than twenty years of creditable service, the service retirement allowance shall consist of a pension which equals the amount provided in paragraphs "b" and "c", plus an additional percentage as set forth below.

(1) For a member who terminates service, other than by death or disability, on or after July 1, 1990, but before July 1, 1991, and who does not withdraw the member's contributions pursuant to section 411 23, upon the member's retirement there shall be added three-tenths percent of the member's average final compensation for each year of service over twenty-two years, excluding years of service after the member's fifty-fifth birthday. However, this subparagraph does not apply to more than eight additional years of service.

(2) For a member who terminates service, other than by death or disability, on or after July 1, 1991, and who does not withdraw the member's contributions pursuant to section 411 23, upon the member's retirement there shall be added six-tenths percent of the member's average final compensation for each year of service over twenty-two years, excluding years of service after the member's fifty-fifth birthday. However, this subparagraph does not apply to more than eight additional years of service.

3 Ordinary disability retirement benefit Upon application to the system, of a member in service or of the chief of the police or fire departments, respectively, any member shall be retired by the system, not less than thirty and not more than ninety days next following the date of filing the application, on an ordinary disability retirement allowance, if the medical board after a medical examination of the member certifies that the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for further performance of duty, that the incapacity is likely to be permanent, and that the member should be retired.

4 Allowance on ordinary disability retirement

Upon retirement for ordinary disability a member shall receive an ordinary disability retirement allowance which shall consist of a pension which shall equal fifty percent of the member's average final compensation except if the member has not had five or more years of membership service the member shall receive a pension equal to one-fourth of the member's average final compensation.

5 Accidental disability benefit

Upon application to the system, of a member in service or of the chief of the police or fire departments, respectively, any member who has become totally and permanently incapacitated for duty as the natural and proximate result of an injury or disease incurred in or aggravated by the actual performance of duty at some definite time and place, or while acting pursuant to order, outside of the city by which the member is regularly employed, shall be retired by the system, if the medical board certifies that the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for further performance of duty, that the incapacity is likely to be permanent, and that the member should be retired.

If a member in service or the chief of the police or fire departments becomes incapacitated for duty as a natural or proximate result of an injury or disease incurred in or aggravated by the actual performance of duty at some definite time or place or while acting, pursuant to order, outside the city by which the member is regularly employed, the member, upon being found to be temporarily incapacitated following a medical examination as directed by the system, is entitled to receive the member's full pay and allowances from the city's general fund until re-examined as directed by the system and found to be fully recovered or permanently disabled.

Disease under this section shall mean heart disease or any disease of the lungs or respiratory tract and shall be presumed to have been contracted while on active duty as a result of strain or the inhalation of noxious fumes, poison or gases.

6 Retirement after accident

(a) Upon retirement for accidental disability prior to July 1, 1990, a member shall receive an accidental disability retirement allowance which shall consist of a pension equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the member's average final compensation;

(b) Upon retirement for accidental disability on or after July 1, 1990, a member shall receive an accidental disability retirement allowance which shall consist of a pension equal to sixty percent of the member's average final compensation.

7 Reexamination of beneficiaries retired on account of disability

Once each year during the first five years following the retirement of a member on a disability retirement allowance, and once in every three-year period thereafter, the system may, and upon the member's application shall, require any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained age fifty-five to undergo a medical examination at a place designated by the medical board. The examination shall be made by the medical board or in special cases, by an additional physician or physicians designated by such board. If any disability beneficiary who has not attained the age of fifty-five refuses to submit to the medical examination, the member's allowance may be discontinued until withdrawal of such refusal, and if the refusal continues for one year all rights in and to the member's pension may be revoked by the system.

(a) Should any beneficiary for either ordinary or accidental disability, except a beneficiary who is fifty-five years of age or over and would have completed twenty-two years of service if the beneficiary had remained in active service, be engaged in a gainful occupation paying more than the difference between the member's retirement allowance and one and one-half times the earnable compensation of an active member at the same position on the salary scale, or an amount equal to fifty percent of the compensation earned by the beneficiary, added to the amount earned by the beneficiary, equals one and one-half times the amount of the earnable compensation of an active member at the same position on the salary scale within the member's rank as the member held at retirement. A beneficiary restored to active service at a salary less than the average final compensation upon the basis of which the member was retired at age fifty-five or greater, shall not again become a member of the retirement system and shall have the member's retirement allowance suspended while in active service.

(b) Should a disability beneficiary under age fifty-five be restored to active service at a compensation not less than the disability beneficiary's average final compensation, the disability beneficiary's retirement allowance shall cease. The disability beneficiary shall again become a member and shall contribute thereafter at the same rate paid prior to disability, and former service on the basis of which the disability beneficiary's service was computed at the time of retirement shall be restored to full force and effect and upon subsequent retirement the disability beneficiary shall be credited with all service as a member and also with the period of disability retirement.

8 Ordinary death benefit

(a) Upon the receipt of proof of the death of a member in service, or a member not in service who has completed four or more years of service as provided in subsection 1, paragraph "b", there shall be paid to the person designated by the member to the system as the member's beneficiary if the member has had one or more years of membership service and no pension is payable under subsection 9, an amount equal to fifty percent of the compensation earned by the member during the year immediately preceding the member's death if the member is in service, or an amount equal to fifty percent of the compensation earned by the member during the member's last year of service if the member is not in service.

(b) In lieu of the payment specified in paragraph...
"a", a beneficiary meeting the qualifications of paragraph "c" may elect to receive a monthly pension equal to one-twelfth of forty percent of the average final compensation of the member, but not less than twenty percent of the monthly earnable compensation paid to an active member holding the highest grade in the rank of fire fighter, for a beneficiary of a deceased member of a fire department, or the highest grade in the rank of police patrol officer, for a beneficiary of a deceased member of a police department, if the member was in service at the time of death. For a member not in service at the time of death, the pension shall be reduced as provided in subsection 1, paragraph "b".

For a member not in service at the time of death, the pension shall be paid commencing when the member would have attained the age of fifty-five except that if there is a child of the member, the pension shall be paid commencing with the member's death until the children reach the age of eighteen, or twenty-two if applicable. The pension shall resume commencing when the member would have attained the age of fifty-five.

For a member in service at the time of death, the pension shall be paid commencing with the member's death. In addition to the pension, there shall also be paid for each child of a member, a monthly pension equal to six percent of the monthly earnable compensation paid to an active member holding the highest grade in the rank of fire fighter, for a child of a deceased member of a fire department, or the highest grade in the rank of police patrol officer, for a child of a deceased member of a police department.

Notwithstanding section 411.6, subsection 8, Code 1985, effective July 1, 1990, for a member's surviving spouse who, prior to July 1, 1986, elected to receive pension benefits under this paragraph, the monthly pension benefit shall be equal to the higher of one-twelfth of forty percent of the average final compensation of the member, or the amount the surviving spouse was receiving on July 1, 1990.

c. The pension under paragraph "b" may be selected only by the following beneficiaries:

1. The spouse

2. If there is no spouse, or if the spouse dies and there is a child of a member, then the guardian of the member's child or children, divided as the system determines, to continue as a joint and survivor pension until every child of the member dies or attains the age of eighteen, or twenty-two if applicable.

3. If there is no surviving spouse or child, then the member's dependent father or mother, or both, as the system determines, to continue until remarriage or death.

4. If there is no nomination of beneficiary, the benefits provided in this subsection shall be paid to the member's estate.

5. Accidental death benefit. If, upon the receipt of evidence and proof from the chief of the police or fire department that the death of a member in service was the natural and proximate result of an injury or disease incurred in or aggravated by the actual performance of duty at some definite time and place, or while acting pursuant to order, outside of the city by which the member is regularly employed, the system decides that death was so caused in the performance of duty, there shall be paid, in lieu of the ordinary death benefit provided in subsection 8, to the member's estate or to such person having an insurable interest in the member's life as the member has nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the system, the benefits set forth in paragraphs "a" and "b" of this subsection.

a. A pension equal to one-half of the average final compensation of the member shall be paid to the member's spouse, children or dependent parents as provided in paragraphs "c", "d", and "e" of subsection 8 of this section. There shall also be paid for each child of a member a monthly pension equal to six percent of the monthly earnable compensation paid to an active member holding the highest grade in the rank of fire fighter, for a child of a deceased member of a fire department, or holding the highest grade in the rank of police patrol officer, for a child of a deceased member of a police department.

b. If there is no spouse, child, or dependent parent surviving a deceased member, the death shall be treated as an ordinary death case and the benefit payable under subsection 8, paragraph "a", in lieu of the pension provided in paragraph "a" of this subsection, shall be paid to the member's estate.

Disease under this subsection shall mean heart disease or any disease of the lungs or respiratory tract and shall be presumed to have been contracted while on active duty as a result of strain or the inhalation of noxious fumes, poison, or gases.

10. Pensions offset by compensation benefits. Any amounts which may be paid or payable by the said cities under the provisions of any workers' compensation or similar law to a member or to the dependents of a member on account of any disability or death, shall be offset against and payable in lieu of any benefits payable out of funds provided by the said cities under the provisions of this chapter on account of the same disability or death. In case the present value of the total commuted benefits under said workers' compensation or similar law is less than the pension reserve on the benefits otherwise payable from funds provided by the said cities under this chapter, then the present value of the commuted payments shall be deducted from the pension reserve and such benefits as may be provided by the pension reserve so reduced shall be payable under the provisions of this chapter.

11. Pension to spouse and children of deceased pensioned member. In the event of the death of any member receiving a retirement allowance under the provisions of subsections 2, 4, or 6 of this section, there shall be paid a pension.

a. To the spouse, equal to one-half the amount received by the deceased beneficiary, but in no instance less than twenty percent of the monthly earnable compensation paid to an active member holding the highest grade in the rank of fire fighter, for a beneficiary of a deceased member of the fire department, or the highest grade in the rank of police patrol officer, for a beneficiary of a deceased member of a police department, and in addition a monthly pension equal to the monthly pension payable under subsection 9 of this section for each child under eighteen years of age or twenty-two years of age if applicable; or b If the spouse dies either prior or subsequent to the death of the member, to the guardian of each surviving child, a monthly pension equal to the monthly pension payable under subsection 9 of this section for the support of the child.

12. Annual readjustment of pensions. Pensions payable under this section shall be adjusted as follows:

a. On each July 1 and January 1, the monthly pensions authorized in this section payable to retired members and to beneficiaries, except children of a deceased member, shall be adjusted as provided in this paragraph. An amount equal to the following percentages of the difference between the monthly earnable compensation payable to an active member of the department, of the same rank and position on the salary scale as was held by the retired or deceased member at the time of the member’s retirement or death, for the month in which the last preceding adjustment was made and the monthly earnable compensation payable to an active member of the department of the same rank and position on the salary scale for the month in which the adjustment is made shall be added to the monthly pension of each retired member and each beneficiary as follows:

(1) Twenty-five percent for members receiving a service retirement allowance and for beneficiaries receiving a pension under subsection 9 of this section. However, effective July 1, 1990, for members who retired before that date, thirty percent shall be the applicable percentage for members and beneficiaries under this subparagraph.

(2) Twenty-five percent for members with five or more years of membership service who are receiving an ordinary disability retirement allowance. However, effective July 1, 1990, for members who retired before that date, thirty percent shall be the applicable percentage for members under this subparagraph.

(3) Twelve and one-half percent for members with less than five years of membership service who are receiving an ordinary disability retirement allowance, and for beneficiaries receiving a pension under subsection 8 of this section. However, effective July 1, 1990, for members who retired before that date, fifteen percent shall be the applicable percentage for members and beneficiaries under this subparagraph.

(4) Thirty-three and one-third percent for members receiving an accidental disability allowance.

The adjusted monthly pension shall not be less than the amount which was paid at the time of the member’s retirement or death.

The amount added to the monthly pension of a surviving spouse receiving a pension under subsection 11, paragraph “a” of this section shall be equal to one-half the amount that would have been added to the monthly pension of the retired member.

As of July 1 and January 1 of each year, the monthly pension payable to each surviving child under the provisions of subsections 8, 9, and 11 of this section shall be adjusted to equal six percent of the monthly earnable compensation payable on that July 1 or January 1 to an active member holding the highest grade in the rank of fire fighter, for a child of a deceased member of a fire department, or holding the highest grade in the rank of police patrol officer, for a child of a deceased member of a police department.

b. All monthly pensions adjusted as provided in this subsection shall be payable beginning on July 1 and January 1 of the year in which the adjustment is made and shall continue in effect until the next adjustment at which time the monthly pensions shall again be adjusted in accordance with paragraph “a” of this subsection.

c. The adjustment of pensions required by this subsection shall recognize the retired or deceased member’s position on the salary scale within the retired or deceased member’s rank at the time of retirement or death. In the event that the rank or position held by the retired or deceased member at the time of retirement or death is subsequently abolished, adjustments in the pensions of the member of or of the member’s spouse or children shall be computed by the board of trustees as though such rank or position had not been abolished and salary increases had been granted to such rank or position on the same basis as increases granted to other ranks and positions in the department.

d. A retired member eligible for benefits under subsection 1 of this section is not eligible for the readjustment of pensions provided in this subsection unless the member served twenty-two years and attained the age of fifty-five years prior to the member’s termination of employment.

13. Remarriage of surviving spouse. Effective July 1, 1990, for a member who died prior to July 1, 1988, if the member’s surviving spouse remarried prior to July 1, 1988, the remarriage does not make the spouse ineligible under subsection 8, paragraph “c”, subparagraphs (1) and (2), to receive benefits under subsections 8, 9, 11, and 12.

411.7 Management of fund.

1. The board of trustees is the trustee of the fire and police retirement fund created in section 411.8 and shall annually establish an investment policy to govern the investment and reinvestment of the money in the fund, subject to the terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions imposed by subsection 2. Sub­ject to like terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions the system has full power to hold, purchase, sell, assign, transfer, or dispose of any of the secu­rities and investments in which the fund has been invested, as well as of the proceeds of the investments and any moneys belonging to the fund.

2. The secretary of the board of trustees shall invest, in accordance with the investment policy established by the board of trustees, the portion of the fund established in section 411.8 which in the judgment of the board is not needed for current payment of benefits under this chapter in investments au­thorized in section 97B.7, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, for moneys in the Iowa public employees’ retirement fund.

3. The secretary of the board of trustees is the custodian of the fire and police retirement fund. All payments from the fund shall be made by the secretary only upon vouchers signed by two persons designated by the board of trustees. The system may select master custodian banks to provide custody of the assets of the retirement system.

4. A member or employee of the board of trustees shall not have any direct interest in the gains or profits of any investment made by the board of trustees, other than as a member of the system. A trustee shall not receive any pay or emolument for the trustee’s services except as secretary. A member or employee of the board of trustees shall not directly or indirectly for the trustee or employee or as an agent in any manner use the assets of the retirement system ex­cept to make current and necessary payments as au­thorized by the board of trustees, nor shall any trustee or employee of the system become an endorser or surety or become in any manner an obligor for money loaned by or borrowed from the system.

5. Except as otherwise provided in section 411.36, a member, employee, and the secretary of the board of trustees shall not be personally liable for a loss to the fire and police retirement fund, the loss shall be assessed against the fire and police retire­ment fund, and moneys are hereby appropriated from the fund in an amount sufficient to cover the losses.

All the assets of the retirement system created and estab­lished by this chapter shall be credited to the fire and police retirement fund, which is hereby cre­ated. As used in this section, “fund” means the fire and police retirement fund.

1. All moneys for the payment of all pensions and other benefits payable from contributions made by the participating cities, the state, and the members shall be accumulated in the fund. The refunds and benefits for all members and beneficiaries shall be payable from the fund. Contributions to and pay­ments from the fund shall be as follows:

a. On account of each member there shall be paid annually into the fund by the participating cities an amount equal to a certain percentage of the earn­able compensation of the member to be known as the “normal contribution”. The rate percent of such con­tribution shall be fixed on the basis of the liabilities of the retirement system as shown by annual actuarial valuations.

b. On the basis of the rate of interest and of the mortality, interest and other tables adopted by the system, the actuary engaged by the system to make each valuation required by this chapter, shall imme­diately after making such valuation, determine the “normal contribution rate”. Except as otherwise pro­vided in this lettered paragraph, the normal contribu­tion rate shall be the rate percent of the earnable compensation of all members obtained by deducting from the total liabilities of the fund the amount of the funds in hand to the credit of the fund and divid­ing the remainder by one percent of the present value of the prospective future compensation of all members as computed on the basis of the rate of in­terest and of mortality and service tables adopted, all reduced by the employee contribution made pursuant to paragraph “f” of this subsection. However, the normal rate of contribution shall not be less than seventeen percent.

Beginning July 1, 1996, and each fiscal year there­after, the normal contribution rate shall be the rate percent of the earnable compensation of all members obtained by deducting from the total liabilities of the fund the amount of the funds in hand to the credit of the fund and dividing the remainder by one per­cent of the present value of the prospective future compensation of all members as computed on the basis of the rate of interest and of mortality and service tables adopted, multiplied by six-tenths, or sev­enteen percent, whichever is greater.

The normal rate of contribution shall be deter­mined by the actuary after each valuation.

c. The total amount payable in each year to the fund shall be not less than the rate percent known as the normal contribution rate of the total compensa­tion earnable by all members during the year, but the aggregate payment by the participating cities must be sufficient when combined with the amount in the fund to provide the pensions and other bene­fits payable out of the fund during the then current year.

d. All lump-sum death benefits on account of death in active service payable from contributions of the said cities shall be paid from the fund.

e. Reserved.

f. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph “h”:

(1) An amount equal to three and one-tenth per­cent of each member’s compensation from the earn­able compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989.
(2) An amount equal to four and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990.

(3) An amount equal to five and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991.

(4) An amount equal to six and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992.

(5) An amount equal to seven and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993.

(6) An amount equal to eight and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1994.

(7) An amount equal to nine and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1995.

(8) Beginning July 1, 1996, and each fiscal year thereafter, the member's contribution rate shall be the rate percent of the earnable compensation of all members obtained by deducting from the total liabilities of the fund the amount of the funds in hand to the credit of the fund and dividing the remainder by one percent of the present value of the prospective future compensation of all members as computed on the basis of the rate of interest and of mortality and service tables adopted, multiplied by four-tenths, or nine and one-tenth percent, whichever is greater. However, the system shall increase this percentage for its members as necessary to cover any increase in cost to the system resulting from statutory changes which are enacted by any session of the general assembly meeting after January 1, 1991, if the increase cannot be absorbed within the contribution rates otherwise established pursuant to this paragraph, but subject to a maximum employee contribution rate of eleven and three-tenths percent. After the employee contribution reaches the maximum rate specified in this subparagraph, sixty percent of the additional cost of such statutory changes shall be paid by employers under paragraph "c" and forty percent of the additional cost shall be paid by employees under this paragraph.

Beginning July 1, 1996, and each fiscal year thereafter, an amount equal to the member's contribution rate times each member's compensation shall be paid to the fund from the earnable compensation of the member.

The total amount to be contributed by the member shall be determined by the actuary after each valuation.

The system shall certify to the superintendent of public safety as defined in this chapter and the superintendent of public safety as defined in this chapter shall cause to be deducted from the earnable compensation of each member the contribution required under this subsection and shall forward the contributions to the system for recording and for deposit in the fund.

The deductions provided for under this paragraph shall be made notwithstanding that the minimum compensation provided by law for any member is reduced. Every member is deemed to consent to the deductions made under this paragraph.

h. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph "f", the following transition percentages apply to members' contributions as specified:

(1) For members who on July 1, 1990, have attained the age of forty-nine years or more, an amount equal to nine and one-tenth percent of each member's compensation from the earnable compensation of the member shall be paid to the fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and an amount equal to nine and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, and each subsequent fiscal year until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1996, when paragraph "f", subparagraph (8), applies.

(2) For members who on July 1, 1990, have attained the age of forty-eight years but have not attained the age of forty-nine years, an amount equal to eight and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and an amount equal to nine and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, and each subsequent fiscal year thereafter until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1996, when paragraph "f", subparagraph (8), applies.

(3) For members who on July 1, 1990, have attained the age of forty-seven years but have not attained the age of forty-eight years, an amount equal to seven and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and an amount equal to nine and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, and each subsequent fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992, and each subsequent fiscal year until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1996, when paragraph "f", subparagraph (8), applies.

(4) For members who on July 1, 1990, have attained the age of forty-six years but have not attained the age of forty-seven years, an amount equal to six and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and an amount equal to eight and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, and each subsequent fiscal year until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1996, when paragraph "f", subparagraph (8), applies.

(5) For members who on July 1, 1990, have attained the age of forty-five years but have not attained the age of forty-six years, an amount equal to five and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and an amount equal to six... and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, an amount equal to seven and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992, an amount equal to eight and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993, and an amount equal to nine and one-tenth percent shall be paid for the fiscal years beginning July 1, 1994, and July 1, 1995. Beginning July 1, 1996, paragraph "j", subparagraph (8), applies.

2. Annually the board of trustees shall budget the amount of money necessary during the ensuing year to provide for the expense of operation of the retirement system. The operating expenses shall be financed from the income derived from the system's investments. Investment management expenses shall be charged directly to the investment income of the system.

411.11 Contributions by the city.

On or before January 1 of each year the system shall certify to the superintendent of public safety of each participating city the amounts which will become due and payable during the year next following to the fire and police retirement fund. The amounts so certified shall be included by the superintendent of public safety in the annual budget estimate. The amounts so certified shall be appropriated by the respective cities and transferred to the retirement system for the ensuing year. The cities shall annually levy a tax sufficient in amount to cover the appropriations.

411.12 City obligations.

The creation and maintenance of moneys in the fire and police retirement fund as provided for the payment of all pensions and other benefits granted under the provisions of this chapter and all expenses in connection with the administration and operation of the retirement system are hereby made direct liability obligations of the cities participating in the retirement system.

411.13 Exemption from execution and other process, or assignment.

The right of any person to a pension, annuity, or retirement allowance, to the return of contributions, the pension, annuity, or retirement allowance itself, any optional benefit or death benefit, any other right accrued or accruing to any person under this chapter, and the moneys in the fire and police retirement fund created under this chapter, are not subject to execution, garnishment, attachment, or any other process whatsoever, and are unassignable except as in this chapter specifically provided.

411.14 Fraudulent practice — correction of errors.

A person who knowingly makes a false statement or falsifies or permits to be falsified any record or records of the retirement system in an attempt to defraud the system as a result of such act, is guilty of a fraudulent practice. If any change or error in records results in a member or beneficiary receiving from the retirement system more or less than the member or beneficiary would have been entitled to receive had the records been correct, the system shall correct the error, and, as far as practicable, shall adjust the payments in such a manner that the actuarial equivalent of the benefit to which the member or beneficiary was correctly entitled, shall be paid.

411.18 Transfer of authority to peace officers' system.

Repeal effective January 1, 1992

411.19 Transfer of benefits to another city.

Repealed by 90 Acts, ch 1240, § 90, 94, HF 2543
Repeal effective January 1, 1992

411.20 State appropriation.

There is appropriated from the general fund of the state for each fiscal year an amount necessary to be distributed to the statewide fire and police retirement system, or to the cities participating in the system, to finance the cost of benefits provided in this chapter by amendments of the Acts of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly, chapter 1089. The method of distribution shall be determined by the board of trustees based on information provided by the actuary of the statewide retirement system.

Moneys appropriated by the state shall not be used to reduce the normal rate of contribution of any city below seventeen percent.

411.35 Statewide system established — city systems terminated.

1. Effective January 1, 1992, a single statewide fire and police retirement system is established to replace the individual city fire retirement systems and police retirement systems operating under this chapter prior to that date. Each city fire retirement system and police retirement system operating under this chapter prior to May 3, 1990, shall participate in the statewide system.

2. Effective January 1, 1992, each city fire retirement system and police retirement system operating under this chapter prior to that date is terminated, and all membership, benefit rights, and financial obligations under the terminating systems shall be assumed by the statewide fire and police retirement system.

411.36 Board of trustees for statewide system.

1. A board of trustees for the statewide fire and police retirement system is created. The board shall consist of thirteen members, including nine voting members and four nonvoting members. The voting members shall be as follows:

a. Two fire fighters from different participating cities, one of whom is an active member of the retirement system and one of whom is a retired member. The fire fighters shall be appointed by the governing body of the Iowa association of professional fire fighters.

b. Two police officers from different participating cities, one of whom is an active member of the retirement system and one of whom is a retired member. The police officers shall be appointed by the governing body of the Iowa state police association.

c. The city treasurers of four participating cities, one of whom is from a city having a population of less than forty thousand, and three of whom are from cities having a population of forty thousand or more. The city treasurers shall be appointed by the governing body of the league of Iowa municipalities.

d. One citizen who does not hold another public office. The citizen shall be appointed by the other members of the board.

The nonvoting members of the board shall be two state representatives, one appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and one by the minority leader of the house, and two state senators, one appointed by the majority leader of the senate and one by the minority leader of the senate.

2. Except as otherwise provided for the initial appointments, the voting members shall be appointed for four-year terms, and the nonvoting members shall be appointed for two-year terms. Terms begin on May 1 in the year of appointment and expire on April 30 in the year of expiration.

3. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments. A vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term.

4. The board shall elect a chairperson from among its own members.

5. Members of the board shall be paid their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties and shall receive a per diem as specified in section 7E.6 for each day of service. Per diem and expenses shall be paid to voting members from the fire and police retirement fund created in section 411.8. Per diem and expenses of the legislative members shall be paid from the funds appropriated under section 2.12. However, legislative members shall not be paid pursuant to this section when the general assembly is actually in session at the seat of government.

6. A member, employee, and the secretary of the board of trustees are not personally liable for claims based upon an act or omission of the person performed in the discharge of the person’s duties, except for acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct, or for a transaction from which the person derives an improper personal benefit, even if the acts or omissions violate the standards established in section 411.7, subsection 2.

411.37 Board responsible for transition.

1. The board of trustees for the statewide system is responsible for effecting the transition from the city fire and police retirement systems to the statewide fire and police retirement system. The board shall adopt a transition plan and other appropriate transition documents it deems necessary to accomplish the transition in accordance with the requirements of this chapter. The city fire and police retirement systems shall comply with orders of the board issued pursuant to the transition plan or other transition documents.

2. The board shall include in the transition plan or other transition documents, provisions to facilitate continuity under sections 411.20, 411.21, and 411.30 and a recommendation for an equitable process for determining earnable compensation changes when calculating adjustments to pensions under section 411.6, subsection 12, to be submitted to the general assembly meeting in 1991.

3. For each of the fiscal years beginning July 1, 1990, and July 1, 1991, ten percent of the amount appropriated for distribution to cities as provided in section 411.20 shall be made available to the board of trustees for the statewide system to cover the administrative costs of the transition. The amount distributed to each city shall be reduced accordingly. The moneys remaining unencumbered or unexpended at the end of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and the moneys remaining unencumbered or unexpended on January 1, 1992, shall be credited to the cities in the same proportion as the reduction.

Subsection 3 amended
CHAPTER 414
MUNICIPAL ZONING

414.29 Elder family homes.
A city council or city zoning commission shall consider an elder family home a family home, as defined in section 414.22, for purposes of zoning, in accordance with section 249E.2, and may identify limitations regarding the proximity of one proposed elder family home to another.

CHAPTER 420
CITIES UNDER SPECIAL CHARTER

420.246 Tax and deed statutes applicable.
Sections 446.16, 446.32, and 448.10 to 448.12 are applicable to cities acting under special charters, except that, where the word "treasurer" is used, there shall be substituted the words "city collector or treasurer or deputy treasurer or deputy or officer authorized to collect city taxes", and where the word "auditor" is used, there shall be substituted the words "city clerk or recorder".

CHAPTER 421
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND FINANCE

421.17 Powers and duties of director.
In addition to the powers and duties transferred to the director of revenue and finance, the director shall have and assume the following powers and duties:
1. To have and exercise general supervision over the administration of the assessment and tax laws of the state, over boards of supervisors and all other officers or boards of assessment and levy in the performance of their official duties, in all matters relating to assessments and taxation, to the end that all assessments of property and taxes levied thereon be made relatively just and uniform in substantial compliance with the law.
2. To supervise the activity of all assessors and boards of review in the state of Iowa, to cooperate with them in bringing about a uniform and legal assessment of property as prescribed by law.

The director may order the reassessment of all or part of the property in any taxing district in any year. Such reassessment shall be made by the local assessor according to law under the direction of the director and the cost thereof shall be paid in the same manner as the cost of making an original assessment.

The director shall determine the degree of uniformity of valuation as between the various taxing districts of the state and shall have the authority to employ competent personnel for the purpose of performing this duty.

For the purpose of bringing about uniformity and equalization of assessments throughout the state of Iowa, the director shall prescribe rules relating to the standards of value to be used by assessing authorities in the determination, assessment and equalization of actual value for assessment purposes of all property subject to taxation in the state, and such rules shall be adhered to and followed by all assessing authorities.
3. To prescribe and promulgate all forms of books and forms to be used in the listing and assessment of property, and on or before November 1 of each year shall furnish to the county auditor of each county such prescribed forms of assessment rolls and other forms to properly list and assess all property subject to taxation in each county. The department of revenue and finance shall also from time to time prepare and furnish in like manner forms for any and all other blanks, memoranda or instructions which the director deems necessary or expedient for the use or guidance of any of the officers over which the director is authorized by law to exercise supervision.

4. To confer with, advise, and direct boards of supervisors, boards of review, and others obligated by law to make levies and assessments, as to their duties under the laws.

5. To direct proceedings, actions, and prosecutions to be instituted for the enforcement of the laws relating to the penalties, liabilities, and punishment of public officers, and officers or agents of corporations, and other persons or corporations, for failure or neglect to comply with the provisions of the statutes governing the return, assessment and taxation of property; to make or cause to be made complaints against members of boards of review, boards of supervisors or other assessing, reviewing, or taxing officers for official misconduct or neglect of duty. Provided, that employees of the department of revenue and finance shall not during their regular hours of employment engage in the preparation of tax returns for individuals, except in connection with a regular audit thereof.

6. To require city, township, school districts, county, state, or other public officers to report information as to the assessment of property and collection of taxes and such other information as may be needful or desirable in the work of the department in such form and upon such blanks as the director may prescribe.

The director shall require all city and county assessors to prepare a quarterly report in the manner and form to be prescribed by the director showing for the preceding year the amount of real property and form to be prescribed by the director showing for the preceding year the amount of real property; to make any order or direction to any board of review in any township, city, or taxing district, and generally to do by law all that may be necessary; to direct and order any board of review to raise or lower the valuation of the property, real or personal, in any township, city, or taxing district, to the extent of property; to make or cause to be made complaints against members of boards of review, boards of supervisors or other assessing, reviewing, or taxing officers for official misconduct or neglect of duty. Provided, that employees of the department of revenue and finance shall not during their regular hours of employment engage in the preparation of tax returns for individuals, except in connection with a regular audit thereof.

7. To hold public hearings either at the seat of government or elsewhere in the state, and tax the costs thereof; to summon and compel witnesses to appear and give testimony, to administer oaths to said witnesses, and to compel said witnesses to produce for examination records, books, papers, and documents relating to any matter which the director shall have the authority to investigate or determine. Provided, however, that no bank or trust company or its officers or employees shall be required to divulge knowledge concerning the property of any person when such knowledge was obtained through information imparted as a part of a business transaction with or for such person and in the usual and ordinary course of business of said bank or trust company, and was necessary and proper to the discharge of the duty of said bank or trust company in relation to such business transaction. This proviso shall be additional to other provisions of the law relating to confidential and privileged communications.

8. To cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state, or absent therefrom, to be taken either on written or oral interrogatories, and the clerk of the district court of any county shall upon the order of the director issue a commission for the taking of such depositions. The proceedings therefor shall be the same as the proceedings for the taking of depositions in the district court so far as applicable.

9. To investigate the work and methods of boards of review, boards of supervisors, or other public officers, in the assessment, equalization, and taxation of all kinds of property, and for that purpose the director or employees of the department may visit the counties or localities when deemed necessary so to do.

10. To require any board of review at any time after its adjournment to reconvene and to make such orders as the director shall determine are just and necessary; to direct and order any board of review to raise or lower the valuation of the property, real or personal, in any township, city, or taxing district, to order and direct any board of review to raise or lower the valuation of any class or classes of property in any township, city, or taxing district, and generally to make any order or direction to any board of review as to the valuation of any property, or any class of property, in any township, city, county, or taxing district, which in the judgment of the director may seem just and necessary, to the end that all property shall be valued and assessed in the manner and according to the real intent of the law. For the purpose of this paragraph the words "taxing district" include drainage districts and levee districts.

The director may correct errors or obvious injustices in the assessment of any individual property, but the director shall not reduce the valuation of any individual property except upon the recommendation of the local board of review and no order of the director affecting any valuation shall be retroactive as to any reduction or increase in taxes payable prior to January 1 of the year in which such order is issued, or prior to September 1 of the preceding year in cities under special charter which collect their own municipal levies. Judicial review of the actions of the
The director may order made effective reassessments or revaluations in any taxing district for any taxing year or years and the director may in any year order uniform increases or decreases in valuation of all property or upon any class of property within any taxing district or any area within such taxing district, such orders to be effective in the year specified by the director. For the purpose of this paragraph the words "taxing district" include drainage districts and levee districts.

To carefully examine into all cases where evasion or violation of the law for assessment and taxation of property is alleged, complained of, or discovered, and to ascertain wherein existing laws are defective or are improperly or negligently administered, and cause to be instituted such proceedings as will remedy improper or negligent administration of the laws relating to the assessment or taxation of property.

To make a summary of the tax situation in the state, setting out the amount of moneys raised by both direct and indirect taxation; and also to formulate and recommend legislation for the better administration of the fiscal laws so as to secure just and equal taxation. To recommend such additions to and changes in the present system of taxation that in the director's judgment are for the best interest of the state and will eliminate the necessity of any levy for state purposes.

To transmit biennially to the governor and to each member and member-elect of the legislature, thirty days before the meeting of the legislature, the report of the director, covering the subject of assessment and taxation, the result of the investigation of the director, recommendations for improvement in the system of taxation in the state, together with such measures as may be formulated for the consideration of the legislature.

To publish in pamphlet form the revenue laws of the state and distribute them to the county auditors, assessors, and boards of review.

To procure in such manner as the director may determine any information pertaining to the discovery of property which is subject to taxation in this state, and which may be obtained from the records of another state, and may furnish to the board or proper officers of another state, any information pertaining to the discovery of property which is subject to taxation in such state as disclosed by the records in this state.

To call upon any state department or institution for technical advice and data which may be of value in connection with the work of assessment and taxation.

To certify on January 1 of each year the aggregate of each state tax for each county for said year.

To prepare and issue a state appraisal manual which each county and city assessor shall use in assessing and valuing all classes of property in the state. The appraisal manual shall be continuously revised and the manual and revisions shall be issued to the county and city assessors in such form and manner as prescribed by the director.

To issue rules as are necessary, subject to the provisions of chapter 17A, to provide for the uniform application of the exemptions provided in section 427.1 in all assessor jurisdictions in the state.

To subpoena from property owners and taxpayers any and all records and documents necessary to assist the department in the determination of the fair market value of industrial real estate. The burden of showing reasonable cause to believe that the documents or records sought by the subpoena are necessary to assist the department under this subsection shall be upon the director.

The provisions of sections 17A.10 to 17A.18 relating to contested cases shall not apply to any matters involving the equalization of valuations of classes of property as authorized by this chapter and chapter 441. This exemption shall not apply to a hearing before the state board of tax review.

To establish and maintain a procedure to set off against a debtor's income tax refund or rebate any debt, which is assigned to the department of human services, which the child support recovery unit is attempting to collect on behalf of an individual not eligible as a public assistance recipient, or which the foster care recovery unit of the department of human services is attempting to collect on behalf of a child receiving foster care provided by the department of human services, which has accrued through written contract, subrogation, or court judgment and which is in the form of a liquidated sum due and owing for the care, support or maintenance of a child or which is owed to the state for public assistance overpayments to recipients or to providers of services to recipients which the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals is attempting to collect on behalf of the state. For purposes of this subsection, "public assistance" means aid to dependent children, medical assistance, food stamps, foster care, and state supplementary assistance. The procedure shall meet the following conditions:

a. Before setoff all outstanding tax liabilities collectible by the department of revenue and finance shall be satisfied except that no portion of a refund or rebate shall be credited against tax liabilities which are not yet due.

b. Before setoff the child support recovery unit established pursuant to section 252B.2, the foster care recovery unit, and the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals shall obtain and forward to the department of revenue and finance the full name and social security number of the debtor. The department of revenue and finance shall co-operate in the exchange of relevant information with the child support recovery unit as provided in section 252B.9, with the foster care recovery unit, and with the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals. However, only relevant information required by the child support unit, by the foster care recovery unit, or by the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals shall be provided by the department of revenue and finance. The information shall be held in confidence and shall be used for purposes of setoff only.

c. The child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, and the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals shall, at least annually, submit to the department of revenue and finance for setoff the debts described in this subsection, which are at least fifty dollars, on a date to be specified by the department of human services and the department of inspections and appeals by rule.

d. Upon submission of a claim the department of revenue and finance shall notify the child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, or the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals as to whether the debtor is entitled to a refund or rebate and if so entitled shall notify the unit or division of the amount of the refund or rebate and of the debtor’s address on the income tax return.

e. Upon notice of entitlement to a refund or rebate the child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, or the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals shall send written notification to the debtor, and a copy of the notice to the department of revenue and finance, of the unit’s or division’s assertion of its rights, or the rights of the department of human services, or the rights of an individual not eligible as a public assistance recipient to all or a portion of the debtor’s refund or rebate and the entitlement to recover the debt through the setoff procedure, the basis of the assertion, the opportunity to request that a joint income tax refund or rebate be divided between spouses, the debtor’s opportunity to give written notice of intent to contest the claim, and the fact that failure to contest the claim by written application for a hearing will result in a waiver of the opportunity to contest the claim, causing final setoff by default. Upon application filed with the department of human services within fifteen days from the mailing of the notice of entitlement to a refund or rebate, the department of human services shall grant a hearing pursuant to chapters 10A and 17A. An appeal taken from the decision of an administrative law judge and subsequent appeals shall be taken pursuant to chapter 17A.

f. Upon the request of a debtor or a debtor’s spouse to the child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, or the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals, filed within fifteen days from the mailing of the notice of entitlement to a refund or rebate, and upon receipt of the full name and social security number of the debtor’s spouse, the unit or division shall notify the department of revenue and finance of the request to divide a joint income tax refund or rebate. The department of revenue and finance shall upon receipt of the notice divide a joint income tax refund or rebate between the debtor and the debtor’s spouse in proportion to each spouse’s net income as determined under section 422.7.

g. The department of revenue and finance shall, after notice has been sent to the debtor by the child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, or the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals, set off the debt against the debtor’s income tax refund or rebate. However, if a debtor has made all current child support or foster care payments during those twelve months, the child support or foster care recovery unit shall notify the department of revenue and finance not to set off the debt against the debtor’s income tax refund or rebate. If a debtor has made all current repayment of public assistance in accordance with a court order or voluntary repayment agreement for the twelve months preceding the proposed setoff and has regularly made delinquent child support or foster care payments during those twelve months, the investigations division of the department of revenue and finance shall notify the department of revenue and finance not to set off the debt against the debtor’s income tax refund or rebate. The department of revenue and finance shall refund any balance of the income tax refund or rebate to the debtor. The department of revenue and finance shall periodically transfer the amount set off to the child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, or the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals. If the debtor gives timely written notice of intent to contest the claim the department of revenue and finance shall hold the refund or rebate until final disposition of the contested claim pursuant to chapter 17A or by court judgment. The child support recovery unit, the foster care recovery unit, or the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals shall notify the debtor in writing upon completion of setoff.

22. To employ collection agencies, within or without the state, to collect delinquent taxes, including penalties and interest, administered by the department where the director finds that departmental personnel are unable to collect the delinquent accounts because of a taxpayer’s location outside the state or for any other reason. Fees for services, reimbursement, or other remuneration, including attorney fees, paid to collection agencies shall be based upon the amount of tax, penalty, and interest actually collected and shall be paid only after the amount of tax, penalty, and interest is collected. All funds collected must be remitted in full to the department within thirty days from the date of collection from a taxpayer or in a lesser time as the director prescribes. The funds shall be applied toward the taxpayer’s account and handled as are funds received by other means. An amount is appropriated from the amount of tax, penalty, and interest actually collected by the collection agency sufficient to pay all fees for services, reimbursement, or other remuneration pursuant to a contract with a collection agency under this subsection. A collection agency entering into a contract with the department for the collection of delinquent taxes pursuant to this subsection is subject to the requirements and penalties of tax information confidentiality laws of this state. All contracts and fees provided for in this subsection are subject to the approval of the governor.

23. To establish and maintain a procedure to set off against a defaulter's income tax refund or rebate the amount that is due because of a defaulted guaranteed student or parental loan under chapter 261. The procedure shall meet the following conditions:

a. Before setoff all outstanding tax liabilities collectible by the department of revenue and finance shall be satisfied except that a refund or rebate shall not be credited against tax liabilities which are not yet due.

b. Before setoff the college student aid commission shall obtain and forward to the department of revenue and finance the full name and social security number of the defaulter. The department of revenue and finance shall cooperate in the exchange of relevant information with the college student aid commission.

c. The college student aid commission shall, at least annually, submit to the department of revenue and finance for setoff the guaranteed student loan defaults, which are at least fifty dollars, on a date or dates to be specified by the college student aid commission by rule.

d. Upon submission of a claim, the department of revenue and finance shall notify the college student aid commission whether the defaulter is entitled to a refund or rebate of at least fifty dollars and if so entitled shall notify the commission of the amount of the refund or rebate and of the defaulter's address on the income tax return. Section 422.72, subsection 1, does not apply to this paragraph.

e. Upon notice of entitlement to a refund or rebate, the college student aid commission shall send written notification to the defaulter, and a copy of the notice to the department of revenue and finance, of the commission's assertion of its rights to all or a portion of the defaulter's refund or rebate and the entitlement to recover the amount of the default through the setoff procedure, the basis of the assertion, the defaulter's opportunity to request that a joint income tax refund or rebate be divided between spouses, the defaulter's opportunity to give written notice of intent to contest the claim, and the fact that failure to contest the claim by written application for a hearing before a specified date will result in a waiver of the opportunity to contest the claim, causing final setoff by default. Upon application, the commission shall grant a hearing pursuant to chapter 17A. An appeal taken from the decision of an administrative law judge and any subsequent appeals shall be taken pursuant to chapter 17A.

f. Upon the timely request of a defaulter or a defaulter's spouse to the college student aid commission and upon receipt of the full name and social security number of the defaulter's spouse, the commission shall notify the department of revenue and finance of the request to divide a joint income tax refund or rebate. The department of revenue and finance shall upon receipt of the notice divide a joint income tax refund or rebate between the defaulter and the defaulter's spouse in proportion to each spouse's net income as determined under section 422.7.

g. The department of revenue and finance shall, after notice has been sent to the defaulter by the college student aid commission, set off the amount of the default against the defaulter's income tax refund or rebate if both the amount of the default and the refund or rebate are at least fifty dollars. The department shall refund any balance of the income tax refund or rebate to the defaulter. The department of revenue and finance shall periodically transfer the amount set off to the college student aid commission. If the defaulter gives written notice of intent to contest the claim, the commission shall hold the refund or rebate until final disposition of the contested claim pursuant to chapter 17A or by court judgment. The commission shall notify the defaulter in writing upon completion of setoff.

24. To enter into reciprocal agreements with the departments of revenue of other states that have enacted legislation, that is substantially equivalent to the setoff procedure in subsection 23. A reciprocal agreement shall also be approved by the college student aid commission. The agreement shall authorize the department to provide by rule for the setoff of state income tax refunds or rebates of defaulters from states with which Iowa has a reciprocal agreement and to provide for sending lists of names of Iowa defaulters to the states with which Iowa has a reciprocal agreement for setoff of that state's income tax refunds.

25. To establish and maintain a procedure to set off against a debtor's income tax refund or rebate any debt which is in the form of a liquidated sum due, owing, and payable to the clerk of the district court as a criminal fine, civil penalty, surcharge, or court costs. The procedure shall meet the following conditions:

a. Before setoff all outstanding tax liabilities collectible by the department shall be satisfied except that no portion of a refund or rebate shall be credited against tax liabilities which are not yet due.

b. Before setoff the clerk of the district court shall obtain and forward to the department the full name and social security number of the debtor. The department shall cooperate in the exchange of relevant information with the clerk. However, only relevant information required by the clerk shall be provided by the department. The information shall be held in confidence and shall be used for purposes of setoff only.

c. The clerk shall, at least quarterly and monthly if practicable, submit to the department for setoff the debts described in this subsection, which are at least fifty dollars.

d. Upon submission of a claim the department shall notify the clerk if the debtor is entitled to a refund or rebate and of the amount of the refund or rebate and the debtor's address on the income tax return.

e. Upon notice of entitlement to a refund or rebate the clerk shall send written notification to the debtor of the clerk's assertion of rights to all or a portion of the debtor's refund or rebate and the entitlement to recover the debt through the setoff procedure, the basis of the assertion, the opportunity to request that a joint income tax refund or rebate be divided between spouses, and the debtor's opportunity to give written notice of intent to contest the amount of the claim. The clerk shall send a copy of the notice to the department.

f. Upon the request of a debtor or a debtor's spouse to the clerk, filed within fifteen days from the mailing of the notice of entitlement to a refund or rebate, and upon receipt of the full name and social security number of the debtor's spouse, the clerk shall notify the department of the request to divide a joint income tax refund or rebate. The department shall upon receipt of the notice divide a joint income tax refund or rebate between the debtor and the debtor's spouse in proportion to each spouse's net income as determined under section 422.7.

g. The department shall, after notice has been sent to the debtor by the clerk, set off the debt against the debtor's income tax refund or rebate. The department shall transfer at least quarterly and monthly if practicable, the amount set off to the clerk. If the debtor gives timely written notice of intent to contest the amount of the claim, the department shall hold the refund or rebate until final determination of the correct amount of the claim. The clerk shall notify the debtor in writing upon completion of setoff.

26. To provide that in the case of multiple claims to payments filed under subsections 21, 23, 25, and 29 that priority shall be given to claims filed by the child support recovery unit or the foster care recovery unit under subsection 21, next priority shall be given to claims filed by the college student aid commission under subsection 23, next priority shall be given to claims filed by the investigations division of the department of inspections and appeals under subsection 21, next priority shall be given to claims filed by a clerk of the district court under subsection 25, and last priority shall be given to claims filed by other state agencies under subsection 29. In the case of multiple claims under subsection 29, priority shall be determined in accordance with rules to be established by the director.

27. Administer chapter 99E.

28. Assume the accounting functions of the state comptroller’s office.

29. To establish and maintain a procedure to set off against any claim owed to a person by a state agency any liability of that person owed to a state agency, except the setoff procedures provided for in subsections 21, 23, and 25. The procedure shall only apply when at the discretion of the director it is feasible. The procedure shall meet the following conditions:

a. For purposes of this subsection unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) “State agency” means a board, commission, department, including the department of revenue and finance, or other administrative office or unit of the state of Iowa. The term “state agency” does not include the general assembly, the governor, or any political subdivision of the state, or its offices and units.

(2) “Department” means the department of revenue and finance.

(3) The term “person” does not include a state agency.

b. Before setoff, a person’s liability to a state agency and the person’s claim on a state agency shall be in the form of a liquidated sum due, owing, and payable.

c. Before setoff, the state agency shall obtain and forward to the department the full name and social security number of the person liable to it or to whom a claim is owing who is a natural person. If the person is not a natural person, before setoff, the state agency shall forward to the department the information concerning the person as the department shall, by rule, require. The department shall cooperate with other state agencies in the exchange of information relevant to the identification of persons liable to or claimants of state agencies. However, the department shall provide only relevant information required by a state agency. The information shall be held in confidence and used for the purpose of setoff only. Section 422.72, subsection 1, does not apply to this paragraph.

d. Before setoff, a state agency shall, at least annually, submit to the department the information required by paragraph “c” along with the amount of each person’s liability to and the amount of each claim on the state agency. The department may, by rule, require more frequent submissions.

e. Before setoff, the amount of a person’s claim on a state agency and the amount of a person’s liability to a state agency shall be at least fifty dollars.

f. Upon submission of an allegation of liability by a state agency, the department shall notify the state agency whether the person allegedly liable is entitled to payment from a state agency, and, if so entitled, shall notify the state agency of the amount of the person’s entitlement and of the person’s last address known to the department. Section 422.72, subsection 1, does not apply to this paragraph.

g. Upon notice of entitlement to a payment, the state agency shall send written notification to that person of the state agency’s assertion of its rights to all or a portion of the payment and of the state agency’s entitlement to recover the liability through the setoff procedure, the basis of the assertion, the opportunity to request that a jointly or commonly owned right to payment be divided among owners, and the person’s opportunity to give written notice of intent to contest the amount of the allegation. The state agency shall send a copy of the notice to the department. A state agency subject to chapter 17A shall give notice, conduct hearings, and allow appeals in conformity with chapter 17A.

h Upon the timely request of a person liable to a state agency or of the spouse of that person and upon receipt of the full name and social security number of the person’s spouse, a state agency shall notify the department of the request to divide a jointly or commonly owned right to payment. Any jointly or commonly owned right to payment is rebuttably presumed to be owned in equal portions by its joint or common owners.

i The department shall, after the state agency has sent notice to the person liable, set off the amount owed to the agency against any amount which a state agency owes that person. The department shall refund any balance of the amount to the person. The department shall periodically transfer amounts set off to the state agencies entitled to them. If a person liable to a state agency gives written notice of intent to contest an allegation, a state agency shall hold a refund or rebate until final disposition of the allegation. Upon completion of the set-off, a state agency shall notify in writing the person who was liable.

j The department’s existing right to credit against tax due or to become due under section 422.73 is not to be impaired by a right granted to or a duty imposed upon the department or other state agency by this subsection. This subsection is not intended to impose upon the department any additional requirement of notice, hearing, or appeal concerning the right to credit against tax due under section 422.73.

30. Under substantive rules established by the director, the department shall seek reimbursement from other state agencies to recover its costs for setting off liabilities.

31. At the director’s discretion, accept payment of taxes, penalties, interest, and fees, or any portion thereof, by credit card. The director may adjust the payable amount to reflect the costs of processing the payment as determined by the treasurer of state and the payment by credit card shall include, in addition to all other charges, any discount charged by the credit card issuer.

33. a To develop and administer an indirect cost allocation system for state agencies. The system shall be based upon standard cost accounting methodologies and shall be used to allocate both direct and indirect costs of state agencies or state agency functions in providing centralized services to other state agencies. A cost that is allocated to a state agency pursuant to this system shall be billed to the state agency and the cost is payable to the general fund of the state. The source of payment for the billed cost shall be any revenue source except for the general fund of the state. If a state agency is authorized by law to bill and recover direct expenses, the state agency shall recover indirect costs in the same manner.

b For the purposes of this subsection, “state agency” means a board, commission, department, including the department of revenue and finance, or other administrative office, institution, bureau, or unit of the state of Iowa. The term “state agency” does not include the general assembly, the governor, the courts, or any political subdivision of the state, or its offices and units.

421.27 Penalties.
1. Failure to timely file a return or deposit form
If a person fails to file with the department on or before the due date a return or deposit form there shall be added to the tax shown due or required to be shown due a penalty of ten percent of the tax shown due or required to be shown due. The penalty, if assessed, shall be waived by the department upon a showing of any of the following conditions:

a At least ninety percent of the tax required to be shown due has been paid by the due date of the tax.

b Those taxpayers who are required to file quarterly returns, or monthly or semimonthly deposit forms may have one late return or deposit form within a three-year period. The use of any other penalty exception will not count as a late return or deposit form for purposes of this exception.

c The death of a taxpayer, death of a member of the immediate family of the taxpayer, or death of the person directly responsible for filing the return and paying the tax, when the death interferes with timely filing.

d The onset of serious, long-term illness or hospitalization of the taxpayer, of a member of the immediate family of the taxpayer, or of the person directly responsible for filing the return and paying the tax.

e Destruction of records by fire, flood, or other act of God.

f The taxpayer presents proof that the taxpayer relied upon applicable, documented, written advice specifically made to the taxpayer, to the taxpayer’s preparer, or to an association representative of the taxpayer from the department, state department of transportation, county treasurer, or federal internal revenue service, whichever is appropriate, that has not been superseded by a court decision, ruling by a quasi-judicial body, or the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule or law.

g. Reliance upon results in a previous audit was a direct cause for the failure to file where the previous audit expressly and clearly addressed the issue and the previous audit results have not been superseded by a court decision, or the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule or law.

h. Under rules prescribed by the director, the taxpayer presents documented proof of substantial authority to rely upon a particular position or upon proof that all facts and circumstances are disclosed on a return or deposit form.

i. The return, deposit form, or payment is timely, but erroneously, mailed with adequate postage to the internal revenue service, another state agency, or a local government agency and the taxpayer provides proof of timely mailing with adequate postage.

j. The tax has been paid by the wrong licensee and the payments were timely remitted to the department for one or more tax periods prior to notification by the department.

k. The failure to file was discovered through a sanctioned self-audit program conducted by the department.

2. Failure to timely pay the tax shown due, or the tax required to be shown due, with the filing of a return or deposit form. If a person fails to pay the tax shown due or required to be shown due, on a return or deposit form on or before the due date there shall be added to the tax shown due or required to be shown due a penalty of five percent of the tax due. The penalty, if assessed, shall be waived by the department upon a showing of any of the following conditions:

a. At least ninety percent of the tax required to be shown due has been paid by the due date of the tax.

b. The taxpayer voluntarily files an amended return and pays all tax shown to be due on the return prior to any contact by the department, except under a sanctioned self-audit program conducted by the department.

c. The taxpayer provides written notification to the department of a federal audit while it is in progress and voluntarily files an amended return which includes a copy of the federal document showing the final disposition or final federal adjustments within sixty days of the final disposition of the federal government's audit.

d. The taxpayer presents proof that the taxpayer relied upon applicable, documented, written advice specifically made to the taxpayer, to the taxpayer's preparer, or to an association representative of the taxpayer from the department, state department of transportation, county treasurer, or federal internal revenue service, whichever is appropriate, that has not been superseded by a court decision, ruling by a quasi-judicial body, or the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule or law.

e. Reliance upon results in a previous audit was a direct cause for the failure to pay the tax required to be shown due where the previous audit expressly and clearly addressed the issue and the previous audit results have not been superseded by a court decision, or the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule or law.

f. Under rules prescribed by the director, the taxpayer presents documented proof of substantial authority to rely upon a particular position or upon proof that all facts and circumstances are disclosed on a return or deposit form.

g. The return, deposit form, or payment is timely, but erroneously, mailed with adequate postage to the internal revenue service, another state agency, or a local government agency and the taxpayer provides proof of timely mailing with adequate postage.

h. The tax has been paid by the wrong licensee and the payments were timely remitted to the department for one or more tax periods prior to notification by the department.

3. Audit deficiencies. If any person fails to pay the tax required to be shown due with the filing of a return or deposit and the department discovers the underpayment, there shall be added to the tax required to be shown due a penalty of five percent of the tax required to be shown due. The penalty, if assessed, shall be waived by the department upon a showing of any of the following conditions:

a. At least ninety percent of the tax required to be shown due has been paid by the due date.

b. The taxpayer presents proof that the taxpayer relied upon applicable, documented, written advice specifically made to the taxpayer, to the taxpayer's preparer, or to an association representative of the taxpayer from the department, state department of transportation, county treasurer, or federal internal revenue service, whichever is appropriate, that has not been superseded by a court decision, ruling by a quasi-judicial body, or the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule or law.

c. Reliance upon results in a previous audit was a direct cause for the failure to pay the tax shown due or required to be shown due where the previous audit expressly and clearly addressed the issue and the previous audit results have not been superseded by a court decision, ruling by a quasi-judicial body, or the adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule or law.

d. Under rules prescribed by the director, the taxpayer presents documented proof of substantial authority to rely upon a particular position or upon proof that all facts and circumstances are disclosed on a return or deposit form.

4. Willful failure to file or deposit. In case of willful failure to file a return or deposit form with the intent to evade tax, or in case of willfully filing a false return or deposit form with the intent to evade tax, in lieu of the penalties otherwise provided in this section, a penalty of seventy-five percent shall be added to the amount shown due or required to be shown as tax on the return or deposit form. If penalties are applicable for failure to file a return or deposit form and failure to pay the tax shown due or required to be shown due on the return or deposit form, the penalty provision for failure to file shall be in lieu of the penalty provisions for failure to pay the tax shown due or required to be shown due on the return or deposit form, except in the case of willful failure to file a return or deposit form or willfully filing a false return or deposit form with intent to evade tax. The penalties imposed under this subsection are not subject to waiver.

5. Failure to remit on extension. If a person fails to remit at least ninety percent of the tax required to be shown due by the time an extension for further time to file a return is made, there shall be added to the tax shown due or required to be shown due a penalty of ten percent of the tax due.

6. Failure to use required form. If a person fails to remit payment of taxes in the form required by the rules of the director, there shall be added to the amount of the tax a penalty of five percent of the amount of tax shown due or required to be shown due. The penalty imposed by this subsection shall be waived if the taxpayer did not receive notification of the requirement to remit tax payments electronically or if the electronic transmission of the payment was not in a format or by means specified by the director and the payment was made before the taxpayer was notified of the requirement to remit tax payments electronically.

The penalties imposed under this subsection are not subject to waiver.

421.38 Limits on claims.

The director of the department of revenue and finance is limited in authorizing the payment of claims, as follows:

1. Three months limit. A claim shall not be allowed by the department of revenue and finance if the claim is presented after the lapse of three months from its accrual. However, this time limit is subject to the following exceptions:
   a. Claims by state employees for benefits pursuant to chapters 85, 85A, and 86 are subject to limitations provided in those chapters.
   b. Claims for medical assistance payments authorized under chapter 249A are subject to the time limits imposed by rule adopted by the department.

2. Convention expenses. Claims for expenses in attending conventions, meetings, conferences, or gatherings of members of an association or society organized and existing as a quasi-public association or society outside the state of Iowa shall not be allowed at public expense, unless authorized by the executive council; and claims for these expenses outside of the state of Iowa shall not be allowed unless the voucher is accompanied by the portion of the minutes of the executive council, certified to by its secretary, showing that the expense was authorized by the council. This section does not apply to claims in favor of the governor, attorney general, utilities board members, or to trips referred to in sections 97B.4 and 217.20.

3. Payment from fees. No claims for per diem and expenses payable from fees shall be approved for payment in excess of those fees if the law provides that such expenditures are limited to the special funds collected and deposited in the state treasury.

CHAPTER 422

INCOME, CORPORATION, SALES AND BANK TAX

Timely filing or performance for certain individuals in the armed forces, see § 422.21

422.3 Definitions controlling chapter.

For the purpose of this chapter and unless otherwise required by the context:

1. The word "taxpayer" includes any person, corporation, or fiduciary who is subject to a tax imposed by this chapter.

2. "Department" means the department of revenue and finance.

3. "Court" means the district court in the county of the taxpayer's residence.

4. "Director" means the director of revenue and finance.

1991 amendment to subsection 5 retroactive to January 1, 1990, for tax years beginning on or after that date, 91 Acts, ch 215, §6 SF 83

NEW subsection 5 amended
422.5 Tax imposed — exclusions — alternative minimum tax.

1 A tax is imposed upon every resident and nonresident of the state which tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon and with respect to the entire taxable income as defined in this division at rates as follows:
   a On all taxable income from zero through one thousand dollars, four-tenths of one percent
   b On all taxable income exceeding one thousand dollars but not exceeding two thousand dollars, eight-tenths of one percent c On all taxable income exceeding two thousand dollars but not exceeding four thousand dollars, two and seven-tenths percent d On all taxable income exceeding four thousand dollars but not exceeding nine thousand dollars, five percent e On all taxable income exceeding nine thousand dollars but not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars, six and eight-tenths percent
   f On all taxable income exceeding fifteen thousand dollars but not exceeding twenty thousand dollars, seven and two-tenths percent g On all taxable income exceeding twenty thousand dollars but not exceeding thirty thousand dollars, seven and fifty-five hundredths percent
   h On all taxable income exceeding thirty thousand dollars but not exceeding forty thousand dollars, eight and eight-tenths percent i On all taxable income exceeding forty thousand dollars, nine and nine-tenths percent j The tax imposed upon the taxable income of a nonresident shall be computed by reducing the amount determined pursuant to paragraphs "a" through "j" by the amounts of nonrefundable credits under this division and by multiplying this resulting amount by a fraction of which the nonresident’s net income allocated to Iowa, as determined in section 422.8, subsection 2, is the numerator and the nonresident’s total net income computed under section 422.7 is the denominator. This provision also applies to individuals who are residents of Iowa for less than the entire tax year.

k There is imposed upon every resident and nonresident of this state, including estates and trusts, the greater of the tax determined in paragraphs "a" through "j" or the state alternative minimum tax equal to seventy-five percent of the maximum state individual income tax rate for the tax year, rounded to the nearest one-tenth of one percent, of the state alternative minimum taxable income of the taxpayer as computed under this paragraph.

   The state alternative minimum taxable income of a taxpayer is equal to the taxpayer’s state taxable income, as computed with the deductions in section 422.9, with the following adjustments.
   (1) Add items of tax preference included in federal alternative minimum taxable income under section 56, except subsections (a)(4), (b)(1)(O)(ii)(u), and (d), of the Internal Revenue Code, and add losses as required by section 58 of the Internal Revenue Code. In the case of an estate or trust, the items of tax preference, adjustments, and losses shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries in accordance with rules prescribed by the director.
   (2) Subtract the applicable exemption amount as follows:
      (a) Seventy-five thousand dollars for a married person who files separately or for an estate or trust.
      (b) Twenty-six thousand dollars for a single person or an unmarried head of household.
      (c) Thirty-five thousand dollars for a married couple which files a joint return.
      (d) The exemption amount shall be reduced, but not below zero, by an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the amount by which the alternative minimum taxable income of the taxpayer, computed without regard to the exemption amount in this subparagraph, exceeds the following:
         (i) Seventy-five thousand dollars in the case of a taxpayer described in subparagraph subdivision (a)
         (n) One hundred twelve thousand five hundred dollars in the case of a taxpayer described in subparagraph subdivision (b)
         (m) One hundred fifty thousand dollars in the case of a taxpayer described in subparagraph subdivision (c)

   (3) In the case of a net operating loss computed for a tax year beginning after December 31, 1982, which is carried back or carried forward to the current taxable year, the net operating loss shall be reduced by the amount of the items of tax preference arising in such year which was taken into account in computing the net operating loss in section 422.9, subsection 3. The deduction for a net operating loss for a tax year beginning after December 31, 1986, which is carried back or carried forward to the current taxable year shall not exceed ninety percent of the alternative minimum taxable income determined without regard for the net operating loss deduction.

   The state alternative minimum tax of a taxpayer whose net capital gain deduction includes the gain or loss from the foreclosure of an installment real estate contract, the transfer of real or personal property securing a debt to a creditor in cancellation of that debt, or from the sale or exchange of property as a result of actual notice of foreclosure, where the fair market value of the taxpayer’s assets exceeds the taxpayer’s liabilities immediately before such forfeiture, transfer, or sale or exchange, shall not be greater than such excess, including any asset transferred within one hundred twenty days prior to such forfeiture, transfer, or sale or exchange.

   In the case of a resident, including a resident estate or trust, the state’s apportioned share of the state alternative minimum tax is one hundred per-percent of the state alternative minimum tax computed in this subsection. In the case of a nonresident, including a nonresident estate or trust, or an individual, estate, or trust that is domiciled in the state for less than the entire tax year, the state's apportioned share of the state alternative minimum tax is the amount of tax computed under this subsection, reduced by the applicable credits in sections 422.10 through 422.12 and this result multiplied by a fraction with a numerator of the sum of state net income allocated to Iowa as determined in section 422.8, subsection 2, plus tax preference items, adjustments, and losses under subparagraph (1) attributable to Iowa and with a denominator of the sum of total net income computed under section 422.7 plus all tax preference items, adjustments, and losses under subparagraph (1). In computing this fraction, those items excludable under subparagraph (1) shall not be used in computing the tax preference items. Married taxpayers electing to file separate returns or separately on a combined return must allocate the minimum tax computed in this subsection in the proportion that each spouse's respective preference items, adjustments, and losses under subparagraph (1) bear to the combined preference items, adjustments, and losses under subparagraph (1) of both spouses.

2. However, the tax shall not be imposed on a resident or nonresident whose net income, as defined in section 422.7, is seven thousand five hundred dollars or less in the case of married persons filing jointly or filing separately on a combined return, unmarried heads of household, and surviving spouses or five thousand dollars or less in the case of all other persons; but in the event that the payment of tax under this division would reduce the net income to less than seven thousand five hundred dollars or five thousand dollars as applicable, then the tax shall be reduced to that amount which would result in allowing the taxpayer to retain a net income of seven thousand five hundred dollars or five thousand dollars as applicable. The preceding sentence does not apply to estates or trusts. For the purpose of this subsection, the entire net income, including any part of the net income not allocated to Iowa, shall be taken into account. For purposes of this subsection, net income includes all amounts of pensions or other retirement income received from any source which is not taxable under this division as a result of the government pension exclusions in section 422.7, or any other state law. If the combined net income of a husband and wife exceeds seven thousand five hundred dollars, neither of them shall receive the benefit of this subsection, and it is immaterial whether they file a joint return or separate returns. However, if a husband and wife file separate returns and have a combined net income of seven thousand five hundred dollars or less, neither spouse shall receive the benefit of this paragraph, if one spouse has a net operating loss and elects to carry back or carry forward the loss as provided in section 422.9, subsection 3. A person who is claimed as a dependent by another person as defined in section 422.12 shall not receive the benefit of this subsection if the person claiming the dependent has net income exceeding seven thousand five hundred dollars or five thousand dollars as applicable or the person claiming the dependent and the person's spouse have combined net income exceeding seven thousand five hundred dollars or five thousand dollars as applicable.

In addition, if the married persons', filing jointly or filing separately on a combined return, unmarried head of household's, or surviving spouse's net income exceeds seven thousand five hundred dollars, the regular tax imposed under this division shall be the lesser of the maximum state individual income tax rate times the portion of the net income in excess of seven thousand five hundred dollars or the regular tax liability computed without regard to this sentence. Taxpayers electing to file separately shall compute the alternate tax described in this paragraph using the total net income of the husband and wife. The alternate tax described in this paragraph does not apply if one spouse elects to carry back or carry forward the loss as provided in section 422.9, subsection 3.

3. A resident of Iowa who is on active duty in the armed forces of the United States, as defined in Title 10, United States Code, section 101, for more than six continuous months, shall not include any income received for such service performed on or after January 1, 1969, or prior to January 1, 1977, in computing the tax imposed by this section.

4. The tax herein levied shall be computed and collected as hereinafter provided.

5. The provisions of this division shall apply to all salaries received by federal officials or employees of the United States government as provided for herein.

6. Upon determination of the latest cumulative inflation factor, the director shall multiply each dollar amount set forth in subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "i" of this section by this cumulative inflation factor, shall round off the resulting product to the nearest one dollar, and shall incorporate the result into the income tax forms and instructions for each tax year.

7. The state income tax of a taxpayer whose net income includes the gain or loss from the forfeiture of an installment real estate contract, the transfer of real or personal property securing a debt to a creditor in cancellation of that debt, or from the sale or exchange of property as a result of actual notice of foreclosure where the fair market value of the taxpayer's assets exceeds the taxpayer's liabilities immediately before such forfeiture, transfer, or sale or exchange shall not be greater than such excess, including any asset transferred within one hundred twenty days prior to such forfeiture, transfer, or sale or exchange. For purposes of this subsection, in the case of married taxpayers, except in the case of a husband and wife who live apart at all times during the tax year, the assets and liabilities of both spouses shall be considered in determining if the fair market value of the taxpayer's assets exceed the taxpayer's liabilities.
8. In addition to the other taxes imposed by this section, a tax is imposed on the amount of a lump sum distribution for which the taxpayer has elected under section 402(e) of the Internal Revenue Code to be separately taxed for federal income tax purposes for the tax year. The rate of tax is equal to twenty-five percent of the separate federal tax imposed on the amount of the lump sum distribution. A nonresident is liable for this tax only on that portion of the lump sum distribution allocable to Iowa. The total amount of the lump sum distribution subject to separate federal tax shall be included in net income for purposes of determining eligibility under the seven thousand five hundred dollar or less exclusion, as applicable.

9. In the case of income derived from the sale or exchange of livestock which qualifies under section 451(e) of the Internal Revenue Code because of drought, the taxpayer may elect to include the income in the taxpayer's net income in the tax year following the year of the sale or exchange in accordance with rules prescribed by the director.

10. If an individual's federal income tax was forgiven for a tax year under section 692 of the Internal Revenue Code, because the individual was killed while serving in an area designated by the president of the United States or the United States Congress as a combat zone, the individual was missing in action and presumed dead, or the individual was killed outside the United States in a terrorist or military action while the individual was a military or civilian employee of the United States, the individual's Iowa income tax is also forgiven for the same tax year.

The tax imposed by section 422.5 less the credits allowed under sections 422.10, 422.11A, 422.11B, and 422.11C, and the personal exemption credit allowed under section 422.12 apply to and are a charge against estates and trusts with respect to their taxable income, and the rates are the same as those applicable to individuals. The fiduciary shall make the return of income for the estate or trust for which the fiduciary acts, whether the income is taxable to the estate or trust or to the beneficiaries.

The beneficiary of a trust who receives an accumulation distribution shall be allowed credit without regard to the beneficiary's share of the distribution. The rates are the same as those applicable to individuals. The fiduciary shall make the return of income for the estate or trust for which the fiduciary acts, whether the income is taxable to the estate or trust or to the beneficiaries.

422.7 "Net income" — how computed.

The term "net income" means the adjusted gross income before the net operating loss deduction as properly computed for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code, with the following adjustments:

1. Subtract interest and dividends from federal securities.

2. Add interest and dividends from foreign securities and from securities of state and other political subdivisions exempt from federal income tax under the Internal Revenue Code.

3. Where the adjusted gross income includes capital gains or losses, or gains or losses from property other than capital assets, and such gains or losses have been determined by using a basis established prior to January 1, 1934, an adjustment may be made, under rules prescribed by the director, to reflect the difference resulting from the use of a basis of cost or January 1, 1934, fair market value, less depreciation allowed or allowable, whichever is higher. Provided that the basis shall be fair market value as of January 1, 1955, less depreciation allowed or allowable, in the case of property acquired prior to that date if use of a prior basis is declared to be invalid.

4. Subtract installment payments received by a beneficiary under an annuity which was purchased under an employer's pension or retirement plan when the commuted value of said installments has been included as a part of the decedent employee's estate for Iowa inheritance tax purposes.

5. Individual taxpayers and married taxpayers who file a joint federal income tax return and who elect to file a joint return, separate returns, or separate filing on a combined return for Iowa income tax purposes, may avail themselves of the disability income exclusion and shall compute the amount of the disability income exclusion subject to the limitations for joint federal income tax return filers provided by section 105(d) of the Internal Revenue Code. The disability income exclusion provided in section 105(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, applies to and includes December 31, 1982, continues to apply for state income tax purposes for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1984.

6. Add to the taxable income of trusts, that portion of trust income excluded from federal taxable income under section 641(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

7. Married taxpayers who file a joint federal income tax return and who elect to file separate returns or separate filing on a combined return for Iowa income tax purposes, may avail themselves of the expenses of business assets and capital loss provisions of sections 179(a) and 1211(b) respectively of the Internal Revenue Code and shall compute the amount of expenses of business assets and capital loss subject to the limitations for joint federal income tax return filers provided by sections 179(b) and 1211(b) respectively of the Internal Revenue Code.

8. Subtract the amount of the jobs tax credit allowable for the tax year under section 51 of the Internal Revenue Code to the extent that the credit increased federal adjusted gross income.

9. Subtract the amount of the alcohol fuel credit allowable for the tax year under section 40 of the Internal Revenue Code to the extent that the credit increased federal adjusted gross income.

10. Notwithstanding the method for computing the amount of travel expenses that may be deducted under section 162(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, a member of the general assembly whose place of residence within the legislative district is greater than fifty miles from the capitol building of the state may deduct the total amount per day determined under section 162(h)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code and a member of the general assembly whose place of residence within the legislative district is fifty or fewer miles from the capitol building of the state may deduct fifty dollars per day. This subsection does not apply to a member of the general assembly who elects to itemize for state tax purposes the member's travel expenses.

11. Add the amounts deducted and subtract the amounts included as income as a result of the treatment provided sale-leaseback agreements under section 168(f)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code for property placed in service by the transferee prior to January 1, 1986, to the extent that the amounts deducted and the amounts included in income are not otherwise deductible or included in income under the Internal Revenue Code as amended to and including December 31, 1985. Entitlement to depreciation on any property included in a sale-leaseback agreement which is placed in service by the transferee prior to January 1, 1986, shall be determined under the Internal Revenue Code as amended to and including December 31, 1985, excluding section 168(f)(8) in making the determination.

12. If the adjusted gross income includes income or loss from a small business operated by the taxpayer, an additional deduction shall be allowed in computing the income or loss from the small business if the small business hired for employment in the state during its annual accounting period ending with or during the taxpayer's tax year any of the following:

a. A handicapped individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions:
   (1) Has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities
   (2) Has a record of that impairment
   (3) Is regarded as having that impairment

b. An individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions:
   (1) Has been convicted of a felony in this or any other state or the District of Columbia

(2) Is on parole pursuant to chapter 906
(3) Is on probation pursuant to chapter 907, for an offense other than a simple misdemeanor
(4) Is in a work release program pursuant to chapter 246, division IX

c. An individual, whether or not domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring, who is on parole or probation and to whom the interstate probation and parole compact under section 907A applies.

The amount of the additional deduction is equal to sixty-five percent of the wages paid to individuals, but shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars per individual, named in paragraphs "a", "b", and "c" who were hired for the first time by that business during the annual accounting period for work done in the state. This additional deduction is allowed for the wages paid to those individuals successfully completing a probationary period during the twelve months following the date of first employment. However, if the individual being replaced left employment voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer or if the individual was discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment as determined by the division of job service of the department of employment services, the additional deduction shall be allowed.

A taxpayer who is a partner of a partnership or a shareholder of a subchapter S corporation, may deduct that portion of wages qualified under this subsection paid by the partnership or subchapter S corporation based on the taxpayer's pro rata share of the profits or losses from the partnership or subchapter S corporation.

For purposes of this subsection, "physical or mental impairment" means any physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfigurement, or anatomical loss affecting one or more of the body systems or any mental or psychological disorder, including mental retardation, organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness and specific learning disabilities.

For purposes of this subsection, "small business" means small business as defined in section 2201, subsection 28, except that it shall also include the operation of a farm.

12A. If the adjusted gross income includes income or loss from a business operated by the taxpayer, and if the business does not qualify for the adjustment under subsection 12, an additional deduction shall be allowed in computing the income or loss from the business if the business hired for employment in the state during its annual accounting period ending with or during the taxpayer's tax year either of the following:

a. An individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions:

(1) Has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities
(2) Has a record of that impairment
(3) Is regarded as having that impairment

b. An individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions:

(1) Has been convicted of a felony in this or any other state or the District of Columbia

(1) Has been convicted of a felony in this or any other state or the District of Columbia.
(2) Is on parole pursuant to chapter 906.
(3) Is on probation pursuant to chapter 907, for an offense other than a simple misdemeanor.
(4) Is in a work release program pursuant to chapter 246, division IX.

b An individual, whether or not domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring, who is on parole or probation and to whom the interstate probation and parole compact under section 907A.1 applies.

The amount of the additional deduction is equal to sixty-five percent of the wages paid to individuals, but shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars per individual, named in paragraphs "a" and "b" who were hired for the first time by that business during the annual accounting period for work done in the state. This additional deduction is allowed for the wages paid to those individuals successfully completing a probationary period during the twelve months following the date of first employment by the business and shall be deducted at the close of the annual accounting period.

The additional deduction shall not be allowed for wages paid to an individual who was hired to replace an individual whose employment was terminated within the twelve-month period preceding the date of first employment. However, if the individual being replaced left employment voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer or if the individual was discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment as determined by the division of job service of the department of employment services, the additional deduction shall be allowed.

A taxpayer who is a partner of a partnership or a shareholder of a subchapter S corporation, may deduct that portion of wages qualified under this subsection paid by the partnership or subchapter S corporation based on the taxpayer's pro rata share of the profits or losses from the partnership or subchapter S corporation.

The department shall develop and distribute information concerning the deduction available for businesses employing persons named in paragraphs "a" and "b".

13. Married taxpayers, who file a joint federal income tax return and who elect to file separate returns or who elect separate filing on a combined return for state income tax purposes, shall include in net income any social security benefits received to the same extent as those benefits are taxable on the taxpayer's joint federal return for that year under section 86 of the Internal Revenue Code. The benefits included in net income must be allocated between the spouses in the ratio of the social security benefits received by each spouse to the total of these benefits received by both spouses.

14. Add the amount of intangible drilling and development costs optionally deducted in the year paid or incurred as described in section 57(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code. This amount may be recovered through cost depletion or depreciation, as appropriate under rules prescribed by the director.

15. Add the percentage depletion amount determined with respect to an oil, gas, or geothermal well as described in section 57(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

16. Subtract the income resulting from the forfeiture of an installment real estate contract, the transfer of real or personal property securing a debt to a creditor in cancellation of that debt, or from the sale or exchange of property as a result of actual notice of foreclosure if all of the following conditions are met:

a The forfeiture, transfer, or sale or exchange was done for the purpose of establishing a positive cash flow.

b Immediately before the forfeiture, transfer, or sale or exchange, the taxpayer's debt to asset ratio exceeded ninety percent as computed under generally accepted accounting practices.

c The taxpayer's net worth at the end of the tax year is less than seventy-five thousand dollars. In determining a taxpayer's net worth at the end of the tax year a taxpayer shall include any asset transferred within one hundred twenty days prior to the end of the tax year without adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

17. Add interest and dividends from regulated investment companies exempt from federal income tax under the Internal Revenue Code and subtract the loss on the sale or exchange of a share of a regulated investment company held for six months or less to the extent the loss was disallowed under section 852(b)(4)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code.

18. Reserved.

19. Subtract interest earned on bonds and notes issued by the agricultural development authority as provided in section 175.17, subsection 10.

20. Subtract, to the extent included, the proceeds received pursuant to a judgment in or settlement of a lawsuit against the manufacturer or distributor of a Vietnam herbicide for damages resulting from exposure to the herbicide. This subsection applies to proceeds received by a taxpayer who is a disabled veteran or who is a beneficiary of a disabled veteran.
For purposes of this subsection:

a. "Vietnam herbicide" means a herbicide, defoliant or other causative agent containing dioxin, including, but not limited to, Agent Orange, used in the Vietnam conflict beginning December 22, 1961, and ending May 7, 1975, inclusive.

b. "Agent Orange" means the herbicide composed of trichlorophenoxyacetic acid and dichlorophenoxyacetic acid and the contaminant dioxin (TCDD).

21. Subtract forty-five percent of the net capital gain from the following:

a. Net capital gain from the sale of real property used in a business, in which the taxpayer materially participated for ten years, as defined in section 469(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, and which has been held for a minimum of ten years, or from the sale of a business, as defined in section 422.42, in which the taxpayer was employed or in which the taxpayer materially participated for ten years, as defined in section 469(h) of the Internal Revenue Code, and which has been held for a minimum of ten years. The sale of a business means the sale of all or substantially all of the tangible personal property or service of the business.

b. Net capital gain from the sale of cattle or horses held by the taxpayer for breeding, draft, dairy, or sporting purposes for a period of twenty-four months or more from the date of acquisition; but only if the taxpayer received more than one-half of the taxpayer's gross income from farming or ranching operations during the tax year.

c. Net capital gain from the sale of breeding livestock, other than cattle or horses, if the livestock is held by the taxpayer for a period of twelve months or more from the date of acquisition; but only if the taxpayer received more than one-half of the taxpayer's gross income from farming or ranching operations during the tax year.

d. Net capital gain from the sale of timber as defined in section 631(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The net capital gain of paragraphs "a", "b", "c", and "d" together shall not exceed seventeen thousand five hundred dollars for the tax year. Married taxpayers who elect separate filing on a combined return for state tax purposes are treated as one taxpayer and the amount of net capital gain to be used to determine the total amount to be subtracted by them shall not exceed seventeen thousand five hundred dollars in the aggregate. Married taxpayers who file jointly or separately on a combined return shall prorate the seventeen thousand five hundred dollar limitation between them based on the ratio of each spouse's net capital gain to the total net capital gain of both spouses. In the case of married taxpayers filing separate returns, the amount of net capital gain to be used to determine the amount to be subtracted by each spouse shall not exceed eight thousand seven hundred fifty dollars.

22. Subtract, to the extent included, the amounts paid to an eligible individual under section 105 of the Civil Liberties Act of 1988, Pub. L. No. 100-383, Title I, as satisfaction for a claim against the United States arising out of the confinement, holding in custody, relocation, or other deprivation of liberty or property of an individual of Japanese ancestry.

23. Reserved.

24. Subtract to the extent included, active duty pay received by a person in the national guard or armed forces military reserve for services performed on or after August 2, 1990, pursuant to military orders related to the Persian Gulf Conflict.

25. If the federal adjusted gross income includes income or loss from a business or farm or from an interest in a corporation whose income is taxed to the shareholders, add the expenses otherwise deductible under section 162(a) of the Internal Revenue Code which were incurred by the business, farm, or corporation, for which the taxpayer was entitled to all or part of the deduction, with respect to expenditures made at, or payments made to, a club which restricts membership or the use of its services or facilities on the basis of age, sex, marital status, race, religion, color, ancestry, or national origin.

A club described in this subsection holding an alcoholic beverage license pursuant to chapter 123 shall provide on each receipt furnished to a taxpayer a printed statement as follows: "The expenditures covered by this receipt are nondeductible for state income tax purposes."

For the purposes of this subsection, a club means any nonprofit corporation or association of individuals, which is the owner, lessee, or occupant of a permanent building or part of a building, membership in which entails the prepayment of regular dues, and which is not operated for a profit other than such profits as would accrue to the entire membership.

422.9 Deductions from net income. In computing taxable income of individuals, there shall be deducted from net income the larger of the following amounts:

1. An optional standard deduction, after deduction of federal income tax, equal to one thousand two hundred thirty dollars for a married person who files separately or a single person or equal to three thousand thirty dollars for a husband and wife who file a joint return, a surviving spouse, or an unmarried head of household. The optional standard deduction shall not exceed the amount remaining after deduction of the federal income tax.

2. The total of contributions, interest, taxes, medical expense, nonbusiness losses, miscellaneous expenses and moving expenses deductible for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code, with the following adjustments:

   a. Subtract the deduction for Iowa income taxes.
b. Add the amount of federal income taxes paid or accrued as the case may be, during the tax year, adjusted by any federal income tax refunds. Provided, however, that where married persons, who have filed a joint federal income tax return, file separately, such total shall be divided between them according to the portion thereof paid or accrued, as the case may be, by each.

c. Add the amount by which expenses paid or incurred in connection with the adoption of a child by the taxpayer exceed three percent of the net income of the taxpayer, or of the taxpayer and spouse in the case of a joint return. The expenses may include medical and hospital expenses of the natural mother which are incident to the child's birth and are paid by the taxpayer, welfare agency fees, legal fees, and all other fees and costs relating to the adoption of a child if the child is placed by a child-placing agency licensed under chapter 238 or by a person making an independent placement according to the provisions of chapter 600.

d. Add an additional deduction for mileage incurred by the taxpayer in voluntary work for a charitable organization consisting of the excess of the state employee mileage reimbursement over the amount deductible for federal income tax purposes. The deduction shall be proven by the keeping of a contemporaneous diary by the person throughout the period of the voluntary work in the tax year.

e. Add the amount, not to exceed five thousand dollars, of expenses not otherwise deductible under this section actually incurred in the home of the taxpayer for the care of a person who is the grandchild, child, parent, or grandparent of the taxpayer or the taxpayer's spouse and who is unable, by reason of physical or mental disability, to live independently and is receiving, or would be eligible to receive if living in a health care facility licensed under chapter 135C, medical assistance benefits under chapter 249A. In the event that the person being cared for is receiving assistance benefits under chapter 239, the expenses not otherwise deductible shall be the net difference between the expenses actually incurred in caring for the person and the assistance benefits received under chapter 239.

f. Add the amount the taxpayer has paid to others, not to exceed one thousand dollars for each dependent in grades kindergarten through twelve, for tuition and textbooks of each dependent in attending an elementary or secondary school situated in Iowa, which school is accredited or approved under section 256.11, which is not operated for profit, and which adheres to the provisions of the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 and chapter 601A. As used in this lettered paragraph, "textbooks" means books and other instructional materials and equipment used in elementary and secondary schools in teaching only those subjects legally and commonly taught in public elementary and secondary schools in this state and does not include instructional books and materials used in the teaching of religious tenets, doctrines, or worship, the purpose of which is to inculcate those tenets, doctrines, or worship, and does not include books or materials for extracurricular activities including sporting events, musical or dramatic events, speech activities, driver's education, or programs of a similar nature. The deduction in this paragraph does not apply to a taxpayer whose net income, as properly computed for state tax purposes, is forty-five thousand dollars or more. In the case where the taxpayer is married, whether filing jointly or separately, the deduction does not apply if the combined net income of the taxpayer and spouse is forty-five thousand dollars or more.

As used in this lettered paragraph, "tuition" means any charges for the expenses of personnel, buildings, equipment and materials other than textbooks, and other expenses of elementary or secondary schools which relate to the teaching only of those subjects legally and commonly taught in public elementary and secondary schools in this state and which do not relate to the teaching of religious tenets, doctrines, or worship, the purpose of which is to inculcate those tenets, doctrines, or worship, and which do not relate to extracurricular activities including sporting events, musical or dramatic events, speech activities, driver's education, or programs of a similar nature.

g. Subtract the expenses otherwise deductible under section 162(a) of the Internal Revenue Code which were incurred by a taxpayer with respect to expenditures made at, or payments made to, a club which restricts membership or the use of its services or facilities on the basis of age, sex, marital status, race, religion, color, ancestry, or national origin.

A club described in this lettered paragraph holding an alcoholic beverage license pursuant to chapter 123 shall provide on each receipt furnished to a taxpayer a printed statement as follows: "The expenditures covered by this receipt are nondeductible for state income tax purposes."

For the purposes of this lettered paragraph, a club means any nonprofit corporation or association of individuals, which is the owner, lessee, or occupant of a permanent building or part of a building, membership in which entails the prepayment of regular dues, and which is not operated for a profit other than such profits as would accrue to the entire membership.

3. If, after applying all of the adjustments provided for in section 422.7, the allocation provisions of section 422.8, and the deductions allowable in this section subject to the modifications provided in section 172(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, the taxable income results in a net operating loss, the net operating loss shall be deducted as follows:

a. The Iowa net operating loss shall be carried back three taxable years or to the taxable year in which the individual first earned income in Iowa whichever year is the later.

b. The Iowa net operating loss remaining after being carried back as required in paragraph "a" of this subsection or if not required to be carried back shall be carried forward fifteen taxable years.
c. If the election under section 172(b)(3)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code is made, the Iowa net operating loss shall be carried forward fifteen taxable years.

4. Where married persons file separately, both must use the optional standard deduction if either elects to use it.

5. A taxpayer affected by section 422.8 shall, if the optional standard deduction is not used, be permitted to deduct only such portion of the total referred to in subsection 2 above as is fairly and equitably allocable to Iowa under the rules prescribed by the director.

422.10 Research activities credit.

The taxes imposed under this division shall be reduced by a state tax credit for increasing research activities in this state. For individuals, the credit equals six and one-half percent of the state's apportioned share of the qualifying expenditures for increasing research activities. The state's apportioned share of the qualifying expenditures for increasing research activities is a percent equal to the ratio of qualified research expenditures in this state to total qualified research expenditures. For purposes of this section, an individual may claim a research credit for qualifying research expenditures incurred by a partnership, subchapter S corporation, estate, or trust electing to have the income taxed directly to the individual. The amount claimed by the individual shall be based upon the pro rata share of the individual's earnings of a partnership, subchapter S corporation, estate, or trust. For purposes of this section, "qualifying expenditures for increasing research activities" means the qualifying expenditures as defined for the federal credit for increasing research activities which would be allowable under section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code in effect on January 1, 1991.

Any credit in excess of the tax liability imposed by section 422.5 less the credits allowed under sections 422.11A, 422.11C, 422.12, and 422.12B for the taxable year shall be refunded with interest computed under section 422.25. In lieu of claiming a refund, a taxpayer may elect to have the overpayment shown on the taxpayer's final, completed return credited to the tax liability for the following taxable year.

422.11A New jobs tax credit.

The taxes imposed under this division, less the credits allowed under sections 422.12 and 422.12B, shall be reduced by a new jobs tax credit. An industry which has entered into an agreement under chapter 280B and which has increased its base employment level by at least ten percent within the time set in the agreement or, in the case of an industry without a base employment level, adds new jobs within the time set in the agreement is entitled to this new jobs tax credit for the tax year selected by the industry. In determining if the industry has increased its base employment level by ten percent or added new jobs, only those new jobs directly resulting from the project covered by the agreement and those directly related to those new jobs shall be counted. The amount of this credit is equal to the product of six percent of the taxable wages upon which an employer is required to contribute to the state unemployment compensation fund, as defined in section 96.19, subsection 20, times the number of new jobs existing in the tax year that directly result from the project covered by the agreement or new jobs that directly result from those new jobs. The tax year chosen by the industry shall either begin or end during the period beginning with the date of the agreement and ending with the date by which the project is to be completed under the agreement. An individual may claim the new jobs tax credit allowed a partnership, subchapter S corporation, or estate or trust electing to have the income taxed directly to the individual. The amount claimed by the individual shall be based upon the pro rata share of the individual's earnings of the partnership, subchapter S corporation, or estate or trust. Any credit in excess of the tax liability for the tax year may be credited to the tax liability for the following ten tax years or until depleted, whichever is the earlier. For purposes of this section, "agreement", "industry", "new job" and "project" mean the same as defined in section 280B.2 and "base employment level" means the number of full-time jobs an industry employs at the plant site which is covered by an agreement under chapter 280B on the date of that agreement.

422.11C Seed capital credit.

1. The taxes imposed under this division less the credits allowed under sections 422.11A, 422.11B, 422.12, and 422.12B, shall be reduced by a seed capital credit. An individual may claim the seed capital credit allowed a partnership, subchapter S corporation, or estate or trust electing to have the income taxed directly to the individual. The amount claimed by the individual shall be based upon the pro rata share of the individual's earnings of a partnership, subchapter S corporation, or estate or trust.

2. The amount of the credit is equal to ten percent of a taxpayer's investment, during the tax year, in an initial offering of securities by a qualified business or a qualified seed capital fund.

3. A seed capital fund, to be a qualified seed capital fund under this section, must meet all of the following conditions:
The investment must be in shares or other equity interests, which are purchased for money consideration and carry voting rights.

b. The issue of shares or other equity interests must be registered under an expedited registration by filing system as provided in section 502.207A.

c. Its capital base must be used to make investments exclusively in the types of businesses described in subsection 4, paragraph "a"

d. Its capital base must be used to make qualified investments according to the following schedule:

1. Invest at least thirty percent of its capital base, raised through investments for which tax credits were taken, within three years of the fiscal year in which tax credits were claimed.

2. Invest at least fifty percent of its capital base, raised through investments for which tax credits were taken, within four years of the fiscal year in which tax credits were claimed.

3. Invest at least seventy percent of its capital base, raised through investments for which tax credits were taken, within five years of the fiscal year in which tax credits were claimed.

e. More than twenty percent of the total funds raised for which tax credits were claimed must not be invested in any one qualified business.

4. A business, to be a qualified business under this section, must meet all of the following conditions:

a. The business must be engaged in one or more of the following activities:

   1. Interstate or intrastate commerce for the purpose of manufacturing, processing, or assembling products.

   2. Agricultural, fishery, or forestry processing.

   3. Research and development of products and processes associated with any of the activities enumerated in subparagraph (1) or (2).

   4. The shares must be purchased for money consideration and carry full voting rights.

   5. The shares must be sold in an offering registered under an expedited registration by filing system as provided in section 502.207A.

   6. If during the tax year, the investment or a portion of the investment is disposed of prior to having been owned by the taxpayer for two years, the tax under this division is increased by the amount of the credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment.

6. Any credit in excess of the tax liability for the tax year may be credited to the tax liability for the following five years or until depleted, whichever is earlier.

7. An investment in securities offered by a seed capital fund or qualified business qualifies for a tax credit only if the investment is in an unaffiliated and nonrelated person, partnership, or corporation.

8. The director may conduct an examination of a seed capital fund or business to determine if it has met the requirements of this section. The director may request and if requested shall receive the assistance of the administrator of chapter 502 to conduct an examination of a seed capital fund or business.

9. The issuer must file a copy of its annual report with the director and the administrator of chapter 502 for each of the three years following the offering.

10. A violation of this section is grounds for decertification of a seed capital fund or business as a qualified seed capital fund or a qualified business. A seed capital fund or a business alleged to have violated this section, or to be out of compliance with this section, shall be allowed a one hundred twenty day grace period to remedy the violation or to comply with this section. Decertification shall cause the forfeiture of any right or interest to a tax credit under this section and shall cause the total amount of tax credit for all tax years under this section to be due and payable with income tax liability for the tax year when decertification is effective.

422.12 Deductions from computed tax.
There shall be deducted from but not to exceed the tax, after the same shall have been computed as provided in this division, the following:

1. A personal exemption credit in the following amounts:

a. For an estate or trust, a single individual, or a married person filing a separate return, twenty dollars.

b. For a head of household, or a husband and wife filing a joint return, forty dollars.

c. For each dependent, an additional fifteen dollars.

d. For a single individual, husband, wife or head of household, an additional exemption of twenty dollars for each of said individuals who has attained the age of sixty-five years before the close of the tax year or on the first day following the end of the tax year.

e. For a single individual, husband, wife or head of household, an additional exemption of twenty dollars for each of said individuals who is blind at the close of the tax year. For the purposes of this paragraph, an individual is blind only if the individual’s central visual acuity does not exceed twenty-two hundredths in the better eye with correcting lenses, or if the individual’s visual acuity is greater than twenty-two hundredths but is accompanied by a limitation in the fields of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than twenty degrees.

2. For those who do not itemize their deductions, a tuition credit equal to five percent of the first one thousand dollars which the taxpayer has paid to others for each dependent in grades kindergarten through twelve, for tuition and textbooks of each dependent in attending an elementary or secondary school situated in Iowa, which school is accredited or approved under section 256.11, which is not operated for profit, and which adheres to the provisions of the federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 and chapter 601A. As used in this subsection, "textbooks" means books and other instructional materials and equipment used in elementary and secondary schools in teaching only those subjects legally and commonly taught in public elementary and secondary schools in this state and does not include instructional books and materials used in the teaching of religious tenets, doctrines, or worship, the purpose of which is to inculcate those tenets, doctrines, or worship, and does not include books or materials for extracurricular activities including sporting events, musical or dramatic events, speech activities, driver's education, or programs of a similar nature. Notwithstanding any other provision, all other credits allowed under sections 422.12 and 422.12B shall be deducted before the tuition credit under this subsection. The credit in this subsection does not apply to a taxpayer whose net income, as properly computed for state tax purposes, is forty-five thousand dollars or more. In the case where the taxpayer is married, whether filing jointly or separately, the credit does not apply if the combined net income of the taxpayer and spouse is forty-five thousand dollars or more.

As used in this subsection, "tuition" means any charges for the expenses of personnel, buildings, equipment and materials other than textbooks, and other expenses of elementary or secondary schools which relate to the teaching only of those subjects legally and commonly taught in public elementary and secondary schools in this state and which do not relate to the teaching of religious tenets, doctrines, or worship, the purpose of which is to inculcate those tenets, doctrines, or worship, and which do not relate to extracurricular activities including sporting events, musical or dramatic events, speech activities, driver's education, or programs of a similar nature.

For the purpose of this section, the determination of whether an individual is married shall be made as of the close of the individual's tax year. The determination shall be made as of the date of the spouse's death. An individual legally separated from the individual's spouse under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance shall not be considered married.

For the purpose of this section, the determination of whether an individual is married shall be made as of the close of the individual's tax year. The determination shall be made as of the date of the spouse's death. An individual legally separated from the individual's spouse under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance shall not be considered married.

422.12A Income tax refund checkoff for Olympics.
A person who files an individual or a joint income tax return with the department of revenue and finance under section 422.13 may designate two dollars to be paid to the Olympic fund. If the refund due on the return or the payment remitted with the return is insufficient to pay the amount designated by the taxpayer to the Olympic fund, the amount designated shall be reduced to the remaining amount of refund or the remaining amount remitted with the return.

The director of revenue and finance shall draft the income tax form to allow the designation of contributions to the Olympic fund on the tax return.

The department of revenue and finance on or before January 31 of the year following the preceding calendar year shall certify the total amount designated on the tax return forms due in the preceding calendar year and shall report the amount to the treasurer of state. The treasurer of state shall credit the amount to the Olympic fund.

The moneys in the Olympic fund are appropriated annually for the purposes specified in this section.

On or before March 1 of each year, the department of revenue and finance shall pay one-half of the money in the fund to the United States Olympic committee and shall retain one-half of the funds in this state. Fifty percent of the funds retained by the state shall be spent in that year for local amateur sports, for which there is Olympic competition, with advice of the governor's council on physical fitness, and the remaining fifty percent shall be paid to Iowa special Olympics, Incorporated, for special Olympic programs.

The department shall adopt rules to implement this section. However, before a checkoff pursuant to this section shall be permitted, all liabilities on the books of the department of revenue and finance and accounts identified as owing under section 421.17 and the political contribution allowed under section 56.18 shall be satisfied.

422.12B Earned income tax credit.

1 The taxes imposed under this division, less the credits allowed under section 422.12 shall be reduced by an earned income credit equal to six and one half percent of the federal basic earned income credit and the health insurance credit provided in section 32 of the Internal Revenue Code. Any credit in excess of the tax liability is nonrefundable.

2 Married taxpayers electing to file separate returns or filing separately on a combined return may avail themselves of the earned income credit by allocating the earned income credit to each spouse in the proportion that each spouse's respective earned income bears to the total combined earned income. Taxpayers affected by the allocation provisions of section 422.8 shall be permitted a deduction for the credit only in the amount fairly and equitably allocable to Iowa under rules prescribed by the director.

422.12C Child and dependent care credit — refund.

1 The taxes imposed under this division, less the credits allowed under sections 422.11A, 422.11B, 422.11C, 422.12, and 422.12B shall be reduced by the following percentages of the federal child and dependent care credit provided in section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code:

a. For a taxpayer with net income of less than ten thousand dollars, seventy-five percent.

b. For a taxpayer with net income of ten thousand dollars or more but less than twenty thousand dollars, sixty-five percent.

c. For a taxpayer with net income of twenty thousand dollars or more but less than twenty-five thousand dollars, fifty-five percent.

d. For a taxpayer with net income of twenty-five thousand dollars or more but less than thirty-five thousand dollars, fifty percent.

e. For a taxpayer with net income of thirty-five thousand dollars or more but less than forty thousand dollars, forty percent.

f. For a taxpayer with net income of forty thousand dollars or more but less than forty-five thousand dollars, thirty percent.

g. For a taxpayer with net income of forty-five thousand dollars or more but less than fifty thousand dollars, twenty percent.

h. For a taxpayer with net income of fifty thousand dollars or more, ten percent.

2. Any credit in excess of the tax liability shall be refunded. In lieu of claiming a refund, a taxpayer may elect to have the overpayment shown on the taxpayer’s final, completed return credited to the tax liability for the following taxable year.

3. Married taxpayers who have filed joint federal returns electing to file separate returns or to file separately on a combined return form must determine the child and dependent care credit under subsection 1 based upon their combined net income and allocate the total credit amount to each spouse in the proportion that each spouse’s respective net income bears to the total combined net income. Nonresidents or part-year residents of Iowa must determine their Iowa child and dependent care credit in the ratio of their Iowa source net income to their all source net income. Nonresidents or part-year residents who are married and elect to file separate returns or to file separately on a combined return form must allocate the Iowa child and dependent care credit between the spouses in the ratio of each spouse’s Iowa source net income to the combined Iowa source net income of the taxpayers.

422.16 Withholding of income tax at source — penalties — interest — declaration of estimated tax — bond.

1. Every withholding agent and every employer as defined in this chapter and further defined in the Internal Revenue Code, with respect to income tax collected at source, making payment of wages to a nonresident employee working in Iowa, or to a resident employee, shall deduct and withhold from the wages an amount which will approximate the employee’s annual tax liability on a calendar year basis, calculated on the basis of tables to be prepared by the department and schedules or percentage rates, based on the wages, to be prescribed by the department. Every employee or other person shall declare to the employer or withholding agent the number of the employee’s or other person’s personal exemptions and dependency exemptions or credits to be used in applying the tables and schedules or percentage rates. However, no greater number of personal or dependency exemptions or credits may be declared by the employee or other person than the number to which the employee or other person is entitled except as allowed under section 3402(m)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code and as allowed for the child and dependent care credit provided in section 422.12C.

The claiming of exemptions or credits in excess of entitlement is a serious misdemeanor.

For the purposes of this subsection, state income tax shall be withheld from pensions, annuities, other similar periodic payments, and other income payments of those persons whose primary residence is in Iowa in those circumstances in which those persons have federal income tax withheld from pensions, annuities, other similar periodic payments, and other income payments under sections 3402(o), 3402(p), 3402(s), 3405(a), and 3405(b) of the Internal Revenue Code at a rate to be specified by the department.

2. A withholding agent required to deduct and withhold tax under subsections 1 and 12, except those required to deposit on a semimonthly basis, shall deposit for each calendar quarterly period, on or before the last day of the month following the close of the quarterly period, on a quarterly deposit form as prescribed by the director and shall pay to the department, in the form of remittances made payable to “Treasurer, State of Iowa”, the tax required to be withheld, or the tax actually withheld, whichever is greater, under subsections 1 and 12. However, a withholding agent who withholds more than fifty dollars in any one month, except those required to deposit on a semimonthly basis, shall deposit with the department the amount withheld, with a monthly deposit form as prescribed by the director. The monthly deposit form is due on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month of withholding, except that a deposit is not required for the amount withheld in the third month of the quarter but the total amount of withholding for the quarter shall be computed and the amount by which the deposits for that quarter fail to equal the total quarterly liability is due with the filing of the quarterly deposit form. The quarterly deposit form is due within the month following the end of the quarter. A withholding agent who withholds more than eight thousand dollars in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department the amount withheld, with a semimonthly deposit form as prescribed by the director. The first semimonthly deposit form for the period from the first of the month through the fifteenth of the month is due on the twenty-fifth day of the month in which the withholding occurs. The second semimonthly deposit form for the period from the sixteenth of the month through the end of the month is due on the tenth day of the month following the month in which the withholding occurs.

Every withholding agent on or before the end of the second month following the close of the calendar year in which the withholding occurs shall make an annual reporting of taxes withheld and other information prescribed by the director and send to the department copies of wage and tax statements with the return.

If the director has reason to believe that the collection of the tax provided for in subsections 1 and 12 is in jeopardy, the director may require the employer or withholding agent to make the report and pay the tax at any time, in accordance with section 422.30.

The director may authorize incorporated banks, trust companies, or other depositories authorized by law which are depositories of financial agents of the United States or of this state, to receive any tax imposed under this chapter, in the manner, at the times, and under the conditions the director prescribes. The director shall also prescribe the manner, times, and conditions under which the receipt of the tax by those depositories is to be treated as payment of the tax to the department.

3 Every withholding agent employing not more than two persons who expects to employ either or both of such persons for the full calendar year may, with respect to such persons, pay with the withholding tax return due for the first calendar quarter of the year the full amount of income taxes required to be withheld from the wages of such persons for the full calendar year. The amount to be paid shall be computed as if the employee were employed for the full calendar year for the same wages and with the same pay periods as prevailed during the first quarter of the year with respect to such employee. No such lump sum payment of withheld income tax shall be made without the written consent of all employees involved. The withholding agent shall be entitled to recover from the employee any part of such lump sum payment that represents an advance to the employee. If a withholding agent pays a lump sum with the first quarterly return the withholding agent shall be excused from filing further quarterly returns for the calendar year involved unless the withholding agent hires other or additional employees.

4 Every withholding agent who fails to withhold or pay to the department any sums required by this chapter to be withheld and paid, shall be personally, individually, and corporately liable therefor to the state of Iowa, and any sum or sums withheld in accordance with the provisions of subsections 1 and 12 hereof, shall be deemed to be held in trust for the state of Iowa.

5 In the event a withholding agent fails to withhold and pay over to the department any amount required to be withheld under subsections 1 and 12 of this section, such amount may be assessed against such employer or withholding agent in the same manner as prescribed for the assessment of income tax under the provisions of divisions II and VI of this chapter.

6 Whenever the director determines that any employer or withholding agent has failed to withhold or pay over to the department sums required to be withheld under subsections 1 and 12 of this section the unpaid amount thereof shall be a lien as defined in section 422.26, shall attach to the property of such employer or withholding agent as therein provided, and in all other respects the procedure with respect to such lien shall apply as set forth in said section 422.26.

7 Every withholding agent required to deduct and withhold a tax under subsections 1 and 12 of this section shall furnish to such employee, nonresident, or other person in respect of the remuneration paid by such employer or withholding agent to such employee, nonresident, or other person during the calendar year, on or before January 31 of the succeeding year, or, in the case of employees, if the employee's employment is terminated before the close of such calendar year, within thirty days from the day on which the last payment of wages is made, if requested by such employee, but not later than January 31 of the following year, a written statement showing the following:

a The name and address of such employer or withholding agent, and the identification number of such employer or withholding agent.

b The name of the employee, nonresident, or other person and that person's federal social security account number, together with the last known address of such employee, nonresident, or other person to whom wages have been paid during such period.

c The gross amount of wages, or other taxable income, paid to the employee, nonresident, or other person.

d The total amount deducted and withheld as tax under the provisions of subsections 1 and 12 of this section.

e The total amount of federal income tax withheld.

The statements required to be furnished by this subsection in respect of any wages or other taxable Iowa income shall be in such form or forms as the director may, by regulation, prescribe.

8 An employer or withholding agent shall be liable for the payment of the tax required to be deducted and withheld or the amount actually deducted, whichever is greater, under subsections 1 and 12 of this section, and any amount deducted and withheld as tax under subsections 1 and 12 of this section during any calendar year upon the wages of any employee, nonresident, or other person shall be allowed as a credit to the employee, nonresident, or other person against the tax imposed by section 422.5, irrespective of whether or not such tax has been, or will be, paid over by the employer or withholding agent to the department as provided by this chapter.

9. The amount of any overpayment of the individual income tax liability of the employee taxpayer, nonresident, or other person which may result from the withholding and payment of withheld tax by the employer or withholding agent to the department under subsections 1 and 12, as compared to the individual income tax liability of the employee taxpayer, nonresident, or other person properly and correctly determined under the provisions of section 422.4, to and including section 422.25, may be credited against any income tax or installment thereof then due the state of Iowa and any balance of one dollar or more shall be refunded to the employee taxpayer, nonresident or other person with interest at the rate in effect under section 421.7 for each month or fraction of a month, the interest to begin to accrue on the first day of the second calendar month following the date the return was due to be filed or was filed, whichever is the later date. Amounts less than one dollar shall be refunded to the taxpayer, nonresident, or other person only upon written application, in accordance with section 422.73, and only if the application is filed within twelve months after the due date of the return. Refunds in the amount of one dollar or more provided for by this subsection shall be paid by the treasurer of state by warrants drawn by the director of revenue and finance, or an authorized employee of the department, and the taxpayer's return of income shall constitute a claim for refund for this purpose, except in respect to amounts of less than one dollar. There is appropriated, out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, a sum sufficient to carry out the provisions of this subsection.

10. a. An employer or withholding agent required under this chapter to furnish a statement required by this chapter who willfully furnishes a false or fraudulent statement, or who willfully fails to furnish the statement is, for each failure, subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars, the penalty to be in addition to any criminal penalty otherwise provided by the Code.

b. In addition to the tax or additional tax, any person or withholding agent shall pay a penalty as provided in section 421.27. The taxpayer shall also pay interest on the tax or additional tax at the rate in effect under section 421.7, for each month counting each fraction of a month as an entire month, computed from the date the semimonthly, monthly, or quarterly deposit form was required to be filed. The penalty and interest become a part of the tax due from the withholding agent.

c. If any withholding agent, being a domestic or foreign corporation, required under the provisions of this section to withhold on wages or other taxable Iowa income subject to this chapter, fails to withhold the amounts required to be withheld, make the required returns or remit to the department the amounts withheld, the director may, having exhausted all other means of enforcement of the provisions of this chapter, certify such fact or facts to the secretary of state, who shall thereupon cancel the articles of incorporation or certificate of authority (as the case may be) of such corporation, and the rights of such corporation to carry on business in the state of Iowa shall thereupon cease. The secretary of state shall immediately notify by registered mail such domestic or foreign corporation of the action taken by the secretary of state. The provisions of section 422.40, subsection 3, shall be applicable.

d. The department shall upon request of any fiduciary furnish said fiduciary with a certificate of acquittance showing that no liability as a withholding agent exists with respect to the estate or trust for which said fiduciary acts, provided the department has determined that there is no such liability.

11. a. A person or married couple filing a return shall make estimated tax payments if the person's or couple's Iowa income tax attributable to income other than wages subject to withholding can reasonably be expected to amount to two hundred dollars or more for the taxable year, except that, in the cases of farmers and fishermen, the exceptions provided in the Internal Revenue Code with respect to making estimated payments apply. The estimated tax shall be paid in quarterly installments. The first installment shall be paid on or before the last day of the fourth month of the taxpayer's tax year for which the estimated payments apply. The other installments shall be paid on or before the last day of the sixth month of the tax year, the last day of the ninth month of the tax year, and the last day of the first month after the tax year. However, at the election of the person or married couple, an installment of the estimated tax may be paid prior to the date prescribed for its payment. If a person or married couple filing a return has reason to believe that the person's or couple's Iowa income tax may increase or decrease, either for purposes of meeting the requirement to make estimated tax payments or for the purpose of increasing or decreasing estimated tax payments, the person or married couple shall increase or decrease any subsequent estimated tax payments accordingly.

b. In the case of persons or married couples filing jointly, the total balance of the tax payable after credits for taxes paid through withholding, as provided in subsection 1 of this section, or through payment of estimated tax, or a combination of withholding and estimated tax payments is due and payable on or before April 30 following the close of the calendar year, or if the return is to be made on the basis of a fiscal year, then on or before the last day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year.

c. If a taxpayer is unable to make the taxpayer's estimated tax payments, the payments may be made by a duly authorized agent, or by the guardian or other person charged with the care of the person or property of the taxpayer.

d. Any amount of estimated tax paid is a credit against the amount of tax found payable on a final, completed return, as provided in subsection 9, relating to the credit for the tax withheld against the tax found payable on a return properly and correctly prepared under sections 422.5 through 422.25, and any overpayment of one dollar or more shall be refunded to the taxpayer and the return constitutes a claim for refund for this purpose. Amounts less than one dollar shall not be refunded. The method provided by the Internal Revenue Code for determining what is applicable to the addition to tax for underpayment of the tax payable applies to persons required to make payments of estimated tax under this section except the amount to be added to the tax for underpayment of estimated tax is an amount determined at the rate in effect under section 421.7. This addition to tax specified for underpayment of the tax payable is not subject to waiver provisions relating to reasonable cause, except as provided in the Internal Revenue Code. Underpayment of estimated tax shall be determined in the same manner as provided under the Internal Revenue Code and the exceptions in the Internal Revenue Code also apply.

e. In lieu of claiming a refund, the taxpayer may elect to have the overpayment shown on the taxpayer's final, completed return for the taxable year credited to the taxpayer's tax liability for the following taxable year.

12. In the case of nonresidents having income subject to taxation by Iowa, but not subject to withholding of such tax under subsection 1 hereof, withholding agents shall withhold from such income at the same rate as provided in subsection 1 hereof, and such withholding agents and such nonresidents shall be subject to the provisions of this section, according to the context, except that such withholding agents may be absolved of such requirement to withhold taxes from such nonresident's income upon receipt of a certificate from the department issued in accordance with the provisions of section 422.17, as hereby amended. In the case of nonresidents having income from a trade or business carried on by them in whole or in part within the state of Iowa, such nonresident shall be considered to be subject to the provisions of this subsection unless such trade or business is of such nature that the business entity itself, as a withholding agent, is required to and does withhold Iowa income tax from the distributions made to such nonresident from such trade or business.

Notwithstanding this subsection, withholding agents are not required to withhold state income tax from payments subject to taxation made to nonresidents for commodity credit certificates, grain, livestock, domestic fowl, or other agricultural commodities or products sold to the withholding agents by the nonresidents or their representatives, if the withholding agents provide on forms prescribed by the department information relating to the sales required by the department to determine the state income tax liabilities of the nonresidents. However, the withholding agents may elect to make estimated tax payments on behalf of the nonresidents on the basis of the net incomes of the nonresidents from the agricultural commodities or products, if the estimated tax payments are made on or before the last day of the first month after the end of the tax years of the nonresidents.

13. The director shall enter into an agreement with the secretary of the treasury of the United States with respect to withholding of income tax as provided by this chapter, pursuant to an Act of Congress, section 1207 of the Tax Reform Act of 1976, Public Law 94-455, amending title 5, section 5517 of the United States Code.

14. The director may, when necessary and advisable in order to secure the collection of the tax required to be deducted and withheld or the amount actually deducted, whichever is greater, require an employer or withholding agent to file with the director a bond, issued by a surety company authorized to conduct business in this state and approved by the insurance commissioner as to solvency and responsibility, in an amount as the director may fix, to secure the payment of the tax and penalty due or which may become due. In lieu of the bond, securities shall be kept in the custody of the department and may be sold by the director at public or private sale, without notice to the depositor, if it becomes necessary to do so in order to recover any tax and penalty due. Upon a sale, any surplus above the amounts due under this section shall be returned to the employer or withholding agent who deposited the securities.

If the withholding agent fails to file the bond as requested by the director to secure collection of the tax, the withholding agent is subject to penalty for failure to file the bond. The penalty is equal to fifteen percent of the tax the withholding agent is required to withhold on an annual basis. However, the penalty shall not exceed five thousand dollars.

422.20 Information confidential — penalty.

1. It shall be unlawful for any present or former officer or employee of the state to divulge or to make known in any manner whatever not provided by law to any person the amount or source of income, profits, losses, expenditures, or any particular thereof, set forth or disclosed in any income return, or to permit any income return or copy thereof or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person except as provided by law; and it shall be unlawful for any person to print or publish in any manner whatever not provided by law any income return, or any part thereof or source of income, profits, losses, or expenditures appearing in any income return; and any person committing an offense against the foregoing provision shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor. If the offender is an officer or employee of the state, such person shall also be dismissed from office or discharged from employment. Nothing herein shall prohibit turning over to duly authorized officers of the United States or tax officials of other states state information and income returns pursuant to agreement between the director and the secretary of the treasury of the United States or the secretary's delegate or pursuant to a reciprocal agreement with another state.

2. It is unlawful for an officer, employee, or agent, or former officer, employee, or agent of the state to disclose to any person, except as authorized in subsection 1 of this section, any federal tax return or return information as defined in section 6103(b) of the Internal Revenue Code. It is unlawful for a person to whom any federal tax return or return information, as defined in section 6103(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, is disclosed in a manner unauthorized by subsection 1 of this section to thereafter print or publish in any manner not provided by law any such return or return information. A person violating this provision is guilty of a serious misdemeanor.

3. Unless otherwise expressly permitted by section 421.17, subsections 21, 22, 23, 25, 29, and 32, sections 252B.9, 324.63, 421.19, 421.28, and 422.72, and this section, a tax return, return information, or investigative or audit information shall not be divulged to any person or entity, other than the taxpayer, the department, or internal revenue service for use in a matter unrelated to tax administration.

This prohibition precludes persons or entities other than the taxpayer, the department, or the internal revenue service from obtaining such information from the department, and a subpoena, order, or process which requires the department to produce such information to a person or entity, other than the taxpayer, the department, or internal revenue service for use in a nontax proceeding is void.

4. The director may disclose taxpayer identity information to the press and other media for purposes of notifying persons entitled to tax refunds when the director, after reasonable effort and lapse of time, has been unable to locate the persons.

Subsection 3, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

422.21 Form and time of return.

Returns shall be in the form the director prescribes, and shall be filed with the department on or before the last day of the fourth month after the expiration of the tax year. However, co-operative associations as defined in section 6072(d) of the Internal Revenue Code shall file their returns on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of the taxable year and nonprofit corporations subject to the unrelated business income tax imposed by section 422.33, subsection 1A, shall file their returns on or before the fifteenth day of the fifth month following the close of the taxable year. If, under the Internal Revenue Code, a corporation is required to file a return covering a tax period of less than twelve months, the state return shall be for the same period and is due forty-five days after the due date of the federal tax return, excluding any extension of time to file. In case of sickness, absence, or other disability, or if good cause exists, the director may allow further time for filing returns. The director shall cause to be prepared blank forms for the returns and shall cause them to be distributed throughout the state and to be furnished upon application, but failure to receive or secure the form does not relieve the taxpayer from the obligation of making a return that is required. The department may as far as consistent with the Code draft income tax forms to conform to the income tax forms of the internal revenue department of the United States government. Each return by a taxpayer upon whom a tax is imposed by section 422.5 shall show the county of the residence of the taxpayer.

An individual in the armed forces of the United States serving in an area designated by the president of the United States or the United States Congress as a combat zone, or an individual serving in support of those forces, is allowed the same additional time period after leaving the combat zone, or after a period of continuous hospitalization, to file a state income tax return or perform other acts related to the department, as would constitute timely filing of the return or timely performance of other acts described in section 7508(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. For the purposes of this paragraph, "other acts related to the department" includes filing claims for refund for any tax administered by the department, making tax payments other than withholding payments, filing appeals on the tax matters, filing other tax returns, and performing other acts described in the department's rules. The additional time period allowed applies to the spouse of the individual described in this paragraph to the extent the spouse files jointly or separately on the combined return form with the individual or when the spouse is a party with the individual to any matter for which the additional time period is allowed. For the purposes of this paragraph, the Internal Revenue Code shall be interpreted to include the provisions of Pub. L. No. 102-2.

The department shall make available to persons required to make personal income tax returns under the provisions of this chapter, and when such income is derived mainly from salaries and wages or from the operation of a business or profession, a form which shall take into consideration the normal deductions and credits allowable to any such taxpayer, and which will permit the computation of the tax payable without requiring the listing of specific deductions and credits. In arriving at schedules for payment of taxation under such forms the department shall as nearly as possible base such schedules upon a total of deductions and credits which will result in substantially the same payment as would have been made by such taxpayer were the taxpayer to specifically list the taxpayer's allowable deductions and credits. In lieu of such return any taxpayer may elect to list permissible deductions and credits as provided by law. It is the intent and purpose of this provision to simplify the procedure of collection of personal income tax, and the director shall have the power in any case when deemed necessary or advisable to require any taxpayer, who has made a return in accordance with the schedule herein provided for, to make an additional return in which all deductions and credits are specifically listed. The department may revise the schedules adopted in connection with such simplified form whenever such revision is necessitated by changes in federal income tax laws, or to maintain the collection of substantially the same amounts from taxpayers as would be received were the specific listing of deductions and credits required.

The department shall provide space on the prescribed income tax form, wherein the taxpayer shall enter the name of the school district of the taxpayer’s residence. Such place shall be indicated by prominent type. A nonresident taxpayer shall so indicate. If such information is not supplied on the tax return it shall be deemed an incomplete return.

The director shall determine for the 1989 and each subsequent calendar year the annual and cumulative inflation factors for each calendar year to be applied to tax years beginning on or after January 1 of that calendar year. The director shall compute the new dollar amounts as specified to be adjusted in section 422.5 by the latest cumulative inflation factor and round off the result to the nearest one dollar. The annual and cumulative inflation factors determined by the director are not rules as defined in section 17A.2, subsection 7. The director shall determine for the 1990 calendar year and each subsequent calendar year the annual and cumulative standard deduction factors to be applied to tax years beginning on or after January 1 of that calendar year. The director shall compute the new dollar amounts of the standard deductions specified in section 422.9, subsection 1, by the latest cumulative standard deduction factor and round off the result to the nearest ten dollars. The annual and cumulative standard deduction factors determined by the director are not rules as defined in section 17A.2, subsection 7.

The department shall provide on income tax forms or in the instruction booklets in a manner that will be noticeable to the taxpayers a statement that, even though the taxpayer may not have any federal or state income tax liability, the taxpayer may be eligible for the federal earned income tax credit or state child and dependent care credit. The statement shall also contain notice of where the taxpayer may check on the taxpayer's eligibility for these credits.

422.21 The department may require any taxpayer, who has made a return in accordance with the schedule herein provided for, to make an additional return in which all deductions and credits are specifically listed. The department may revise the schedules adopted in connection with such simplified form whenever such revision is necessitated by changes in federal income tax laws, or to maintain the collection of substantially the same amounts from taxpayers as would be received were the specific listing of deductions and credits required.

The department shall provide space on the prescribed income tax form, wherein the taxpayer shall enter the name of the school district of the taxpayer’s residence. Such place shall be indicated by prominent type. A nonresident taxpayer shall so indicate. If such information is not supplied on the tax return it shall be deemed an incomplete return.

The director shall determine for the 1989 and each subsequent calendar year the annual and cumulative inflation factors for each calendar year to be applied to tax years beginning on or after January 1 of that calendar year. The director shall compute the new dollar amounts as specified to be adjusted in section 422.5 by the latest cumulative inflation factor and round off the result to the nearest one dollar. The annual and cumulative inflation factors determined by the director are not rules as defined in section 17A.2, subsection 7. The director shall determine for the 1990 calendar year and each subsequent calendar year the annual and cumulative standard deduction factors to be applied to tax years beginning on or after January 1 of that calendar year. The director shall compute the new dollar amounts of the standard deductions specified in section 422.9, subsection 1, by the latest cumulative standard deduction factor and round off the result to the nearest ten dollars. The annual and cumulative standard deduction factors determined by the director are not rules as defined in section 17A.2, subsection 7.

The department shall provide on income tax forms or in the instruction booklets in a manner that will be noticeable to the taxpayers a statement that, even though the taxpayer may not have any federal or state income tax liability, the taxpayer may be eligible for the federal earned income tax credit or state child and dependent care credit. The statement shall also contain notice of where the taxpayer may check on the taxpayer's eligibility for these credits.

Whenever any taxpayer liable to pay a tax and penalty imposed refuses or neglects to pay the same, the amount, including any interest, penalty, or addition to such tax, together with the costs that may actaxpayer is exempt from payment of the tax. If service has not been made on a distress warrant by the officer to whom addressed within five days from the date the distress warrant was received by the officer, the authorized revenue agents of the department may serve and make return of the warrant to the clerk of the district court of the county named in the distress warrant, and all subsequent procedure shall be in compliance with chapter 626.

The attorney general shall, upon the request of the director, bring an action at law or in equity, as the facts may justify, without bond, to enforce payment of any taxes and penalties, and in such action the attorney general shall have the assistance of the county attorney of the county in which the action is pending.

It is expressly provided that the foregoing remedies of the state shall be cumulative and that no action taken by the director or attorney general shall be construed to be an election on the part of the state attorney of the county in which the action is pending.

For purposes of this section, "assessment issued" means the most recent assessment against the taxpayer for the tax type and tax period.

1991 amendment to unnumbered paragraph 8 effective April 1, 1992, 91 Acts, ch 191, §124 HF 687
Unnumbered paragraphs 6 and 8 amended

422.33 Corporate tax imposed — credit.
1. A tax is imposed annually upon each corporation organized under the laws of this state, and upon each foreign corporation doing business in this state, or deriving income from sources within this state, in an amount computed by applying the following rates of taxation to the net income received by the corporation during the income year:
   a. On the first twenty-five thousand dollars of taxable income, or any part thereof, the rate of six percent.
   b. On taxable income between twenty-five thousand dollars and one hundred thousand dollars or any part thereof, the rate of eight percent.
   c. On taxable income between one hundred thousand dollars and two hundred fifty thousand dollars or any part thereof, the rate of ten percent.
   d. On taxable income of two hundred fifty thousand dollars or more, the rate of twelve percent.

   "Income from sources within this state" means income from real or tangible property located or having a situs in this state.

1A. There is imposed upon each corporation exempt from the general business tax on corporations by section 422.34, subsections 2 through 6, a tax at the rates in subsection 1 upon the state's apportioned share computed in accordance with subsections 2 and 3 of the unrelated business income computed in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code and with the adjustments set forth in section 422.35.

2. If the trade or business of the corporation is carried on entirely within the state, the tax shall be imposed on the entire net income, but if the trade or business is carried on partly within and partly without the state or if income is derived from sources partly within and partly without the state, the tax shall be imposed only on the portion of the net income reasonably attributable to the trade or business or sources within the state, with the net income attributable to the state to be determined as follows:
   a. Nonbusiness interest, dividends, rents and royalties, less related expenses, shall be allocated within and without the state in the following manner:
      (1) Nonbusiness interest, dividends, and royalties from patents and copyrights shall be allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.
      (2) Nonbusiness rents and royalties received from real property located in this state are allocable to this state.
      (3) Nonbusiness rents and royalties received from tangible personal property are allocable to this state to the extent that the property is utilized in this state; or in their entirety if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not taxable in the state in which the property is utilized. The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown, or unascertainable by the taxpayer tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payor obtained possession.
      (4) Nonbusiness capital gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of assets shall be allocated as follows:
         Gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of real property located in this state are allocable to this state.
         Gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if the property had a situs in this state at the time of the sale or disposition or if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not taxable in the state in which the property had a situs.
         Gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.
   b. Net nonbusiness income of the above class of the unrelated business income computed in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code and with the adjustments set forth in section 422.35, and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown, or unascertainable by the taxpayer tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payor obtained possession.
      (4) Nonbusiness capital gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of assets shall be allocated as follows:
         Gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of real property located in this state are allocable to this state.
         Gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if the property had a situs in this state at the time of the sale or disposition or if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not taxable in the state in which the property had a situs.
         Gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.
assets shall be reasonably apportioned within and without the state under rules adopted by the director.

(2) Capital gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of assets shall be apportioned to the state based upon the business activity ratio applicable to the year the gain or loss is determined if the corporation determines Iowa taxable income by a sales, gross receipts or other business activity ratio. If the corporation has only allocable income, capital gains and losses from the sale or other disposition of assets shall be allocated in accordance with paragraph "a", subparagraph (4).

(3) Where income is derived from business other than the manufacture or sale of tangible personal property, the income shall be specifically allocated or equitably apportioned within and without the state under rules of the director.

(4) Where income is derived from the manufacture or sale of tangible personal property, the part attributable to business within the state shall be in that proportion which the gross sales made within the state bear to the total gross sales.

(5) Where income consists of more than one class of income as provided in subparagraphs (1) to (4) of this paragraph, it shall be reasonably apportioned by the business activity ratio provided in rules adopted by the director.

(6) The gross sales of the corporation within the state shall be taken to be the gross sales from goods delivered or shipped to a purchaser within the state regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale, excluding deliveries for transportation out of the state.

For the purpose of this section, the word "sale" shall include exchange, and the word "manufacture" shall include the extraction and recovery of natural resources and all processes of fabricating and curing. The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property, such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares, and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean money deposits in banks, shares of stock, bonds, notes, credits, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

3. If any taxpayer believes that the method of allocation and apportionment hereinbefore prescribed, as administered by the director and applied to the taxpayer's business, has operated or will so operate as to subject the taxpayer to taxation on a greater portion of the taxpayer's net income than is reasonably attributable to business or sources within the state, the taxpayer shall be entitled to file with the director a statement of the taxpayer's objections and of such alternative method of allocation and apportionment as the taxpayer believes to be proper under the circumstances with such detail and proof and within such time as the director may reasonably prescribe; and if the director shall conclude that the method of allocation and apportionment theretofore employed is in fact inapplicable and inequitable, the director shall redetermine the taxable income by such other method of allocation and apportionment as seems best calculated to assign to the state for taxation the portion of the income reasonably attributable to business and sources within the state, not exceeding, however, the amount which would be arrived at by application of the statutory rules for apportionment.

4. In addition to all taxes imposed under this division, there is imposed upon each corporation doing business within the state the greater of the tax determined in subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "d" or the state alternative minimum tax equal to sixty percent of the maximum state corporate income tax rate, rounded to the nearest one-tenth of one percent, of the state alternative minimum taxable income of the taxpayer computed under this subsection.

The state alternative minimum taxable income of a taxpayer is equal to the taxpayer's state taxable income as computed with the adjustments in section 422.35 and with the following adjustments:

a. Add items of tax preference included in federal alternative minimum taxable income under section 57, except subsections (a)(1) and (a)(5), of the Internal Revenue Code, make the adjustments included in federal alternative minimum taxable income under section 56, except subsections (a)(4) and (d), of the Internal Revenue Code, and add losses as required by section 58 of the Internal Revenue Code. In making the adjustment under section 56(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, interest and dividends from federal securities and interest and dividends from state and other political subdivisions and from regulated investment companies exempt from federal income tax under the Internal Revenue Code, net of amortization of any discount or premium, shall be subtracted.

b. Apply the allocation and apportionment provisions of subsection 2.

c. Subtract an exemption amount of forty thousand dollars. This exemption amount shall be reduced, but not below zero, by an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the amount by which the alternative minimum taxable income of the taxpayer, computed without regard to the exemption amount in this paragraph, exceeds one hundred fifty thousand dollars.

d. In the case of a net operating loss computed for a tax year beginning after December 31, 1986 which is carried back or carried forward to the current taxable year, the net operating loss shall be reduced by the amount of items of tax preference and adjustments arising in the tax year which is taken into account in computing the net operating loss in section 422.35, subsection 11. The deduction for a net operating loss for a tax year beginning after December 31, 1986 which is carried back or carried forward to the current taxable year shall not exceed ninety percent of the alternative minimum taxable income determined without regard for the net operating loss deduction.

5. The taxes imposed under this division shall be reduced by a state tax credit for increasing research activities in this state equal to six and one half percent of the state's apportioned share of the qualifying expenditures for increasing research activities. The state's apportioned share of the qualifying expenditures for increasing research activities is a percent equal to the ratio of qualified research expenditures in this state to the total qualified research expenditures. For purposes of this subsection, "qualifying expenditures for increasing research activities" means the qualifying expenditures as defined for the federal credit for increasing research activities which would be allowable under section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code in effect on January 1, 1991.

Any credit in excess of the tax liability for the taxable year shall be refunded with interest computed under section 422.25. In lieu of claiming a refund, a taxpayer may elect to have the overpayment shown on its final, completed return credited to the tax liability for the following taxable year.

6. The taxes imposed under this division shall be reduced by a new jobs tax credit. An industry which has entered into an agreement under chapter 280B and which has increased its base employment level by at least ten percent within the time set in the agreement or, in the case of an industry without a base employment level, adds new jobs within the time set in the agreement is entitled to this new jobs tax credit for the tax year selected by the industry. In determining if the industry has increased its base employment level by ten percent or added new jobs, only those new jobs directly resulting from the project covered by the agreement and those directly related to those new jobs shall be counted. The amount of this credit is equal to the product of six percent of the taxable wages upon which an employer is required to contribute to the state unemployment compensation fund, as defined in section 96.19, subsection 20, times the number of new jobs existing in the tax year that directly result from the project covered by the agreement or new jobs that directly result from those new jobs. The tax year chosen by the industry shall either begin or end during the period beginning with the date of the agreement and ending with the date by which the project is to be completed under the agreement. Any credit in excess of the tax liability for the tax year may be credited to the tax liability for the following ten tax years or until depleted in less than the ten years.

For purposes of this section, "agreement", "industry", "new job" and "project" mean the same as defined in section 280B.2 and "base employment level" means the number of full-time jobs an industry employs at the plant site which is covered by an agreement under chapter 280B on the date of that agreement.

7 a. There is allowed as a credit against the tax determined in subsection 1 for a tax year an amount equal to the minimum tax credit for that tax year. The minimum tax credit for a tax year is the excess, if any, of the adjusted net minimum tax imposed for all prior tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1987, over the amount allowable as a credit under this subsection for those prior tax years.

b. The allowable credit under paragraph "a" for a tax year shall not exceed the excess, if any, of the tax determined in subsection 1 over the state alternative minimum tax as determined in subsection 4.

The net minimum tax for a tax year is the excess, if any, of the tax determined in subsection 4 for the tax year over the tax determined in subsection 1 for the tax year.

The adjusted net minimum tax for a tax year is the net minimum tax for the tax year reduced by the amount which would be the net minimum tax if the only item of tax preference taken into account was that described in paragraph (6) of section 57(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

8. The taxes imposed under this division shall be reduced by a seed capital credit.

a. The amount of the credit is equal to ten percent of a taxpayer's investment, during the tax year, in an initial offering of securities by a qualified business or a qualified seed capital fund.

b. A seed capital fund, to be a qualified seed capital fund under this section, must meet all of the following conditions.

1. The investment must be in shares or other equity interests, which are purchased for money consideration and carry voting rights.

2. The issue of shares or other equity interests must be registered under an expedited registration by filing system as provided in section 502.207A.

3. Its capital base must be used to make investments exclusively in the types of businesses described in paragraph "c", subparagraph (1).

4. Its capital base must be used to make qualified investments according to the following schedule.

(a) Invest at least thirty percent of its capital base, raised through investments for which tax credits were taken, within three years of the fiscal year in which tax credits were claimed.

(b) Invest at least fifty percent of its capital base, raised through investments for which tax credits were taken, within four years of the fiscal year in which tax credits were claimed.

(c) Invest at least seventy percent of its capital base, raised through investments for which tax credits were taken, within five years of the fiscal year in which tax credits were claimed.

5. More than twenty percent of the total funds raised for which tax credits were claimed must not be invested in any one qualifying business.

6. A business, to be a qualified business under this subsection, must meet all of the following conditions.

1. The business must be engaged in one or more of the following activities.

(a) Interstate or intrastate commerce for the purpose of manufacturing, processing, or assembling products.

(b) Agricultural, fishery, or forestry processing.

(c) Research and development of products and processes associated with any of the activities enumerated in subparagraph subdivision (a) or (b).
(2) The shares must be purchased for money consideration and carry full voting rights.

(3) The shares must be sold in an offering registered under an expedited registration by filing system as provided in section 502.207A.

d. If during the tax year, the investment or a portion of the investment is disposed of prior to having been owned by the taxpayer for two years, the tax under this division is increased by the amount of the credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment.

Any credit in excess of the tax liability for the tax year may be credited to the tax liability for the following five years or until depleted, whichever is earlier.

f. An investment in securities offered by a seed capital fund or qualified business qualifies for a tax credit only if the investment is in an unaffiliated and nonrelated person, partnership, or corporation.

g. The director may conduct an examination of a seed capital fund or business to determine if it has met the requirements of this subsection. The director may request and if requested shall receive the assistance of the administrator of chapter 502 to conduct an examination of a seed capital fund or business.

h. The issuer must file a copy of its annual report with the director and the administrator of chapter 502 for each of the three years following the offering.

i. A violation of this subsection is grounds for decertification of a seed capital fund or business as a qualified seed capital fund or a qualified business. A seed capital fund or a business alleged to have violated this subsection, or to be out of compliance with this subsection, shall be allowed a one hundred twenty day grace period to remedy the violation or to comply with this subsection. Decertification shall cause the forfeiture of any right or interest to a tax credit under this subsection and shall cause the total credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment to be disallowed and the total credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment to be disallowed and the total credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment.

c. An investment in securities offered by a seed capital fund or business that does not meet the requirements of this subsection, or to be out of compliance with this subsection, shall be allowed a one hundred twenty day grace period to remedy the violation or to comply with this subsection. Decertification shall cause the forfeiture of any right or interest to a tax credit under this subsection and shall cause the total credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment to be disallowed and the total credit taken on the investment or portion of the investment.

422.35 Net income of corporation — how computed.

The term "net income" means the taxable income before the net operating loss deduction, as properly computed for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code, with the following adjustments:

1. Subtract interest and dividends from federal securities.

2. Add interest and dividends from foreign securities, from securities of state and other political subdivisions, and from regulated investment companies exempt from federal income tax under the Internal Revenue Code.

3. Where the net income includes capital gains or losses, or gains or losses from property other than capital assets, and such gains or losses have been determined by using a basis established prior to January 1, 1934, an adjustment may be made, under rules and regulations prescribed by the director, to reflect the difference resulting from the use of a basis of cost or January 1, 1934, fair market value, less depreciation allowed or allowable, whichever is higher. Provided that the basis shall be fair market value as of January 1, 1955, less depreciation allowed or allowable, in the case of property acquired prior to that date if use of a prior basis is declared to be invalid.

4. Subtract fifty percent of the federal income taxes paid or accrued, as the case may be, during the tax year, adjusted by any federal income tax refunds; and add the Iowa income tax deducted in computing said taxable income.

5. Subtract the amount of the jobs tax credit allowable for the tax year under section 51 of the Internal Revenue Code to the extent that the credit increased federal taxable income.

6. If the taxpayer is a small business corporation, subtract an amount equal to sixty-five percent of the wages paid to individuals, but not to exceed twenty thousand dollars per individual, named in paragraphs "a", "b", and "c" who were hired for the first time by the taxpayer during the tax year for work done in this state:

a. A handicapped individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions:

(1) Has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities.

(2) Has a record of that impairment.

(3) Is regarded as having that impairment.

b. An individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions:

(1) Has been convicted of a felony in this or any other state or the District of Columbia.

(2) Is on parole pursuant to chapter 906.

(3) Is on probation pursuant to chapter 907, for an offense other than a simple misdemeanor.

(4) Is in a work release program pursuant to chapter 246, division IX.

c. An individual, whether or not domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring, who is on parole or probation and to whom the interstate probation and parole compact under section 907A.1 applies.

This deduction is allowed for the wages paid to the individuals successfully completing a probationary period named in paragraphs "a", "b", and "c" during the twelve months following the date of first employment by the taxpayer and shall be deducted in the tax years when paid.

For purposes of this subsection, "physical or mental impairment" means any physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfigurement, or anatomical loss affecting one or more of the body systems or any mental or psychological disorder, including mental retardation, organic brain syndrome, emotional or mental illness and specific learning disabilities.
For purposes of this subsection, "small business" means small business as defined in section 2201, subsection 28, except that it shall also include the operation of a farm

6A. If the taxpayer is a business corporation and does not qualify for the adjustment under section 42235, subsection 6, subtract an amount equal to sixty-five percent of the wages paid to individuals, but shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars per individual, named in paragraphs "a" and "b" who were hired for the first time by the taxpayer during the tax year for work done in this state

a. An individual domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring who meets any of the following conditions

1. Has been convicted of a felony in this or any other state or the District of Columbia
2. Is on parole pursuant to chapter 906
3. Is on probation pursuant to chapter 907, for an offense other than a simple misdemeanor
4. Is in a work release program pursuant to chapter 246, division IX
b. An individual, whether or not domiciled in this state at the time of the hiring, who is on parole or probation and to whom the interstate probation and parole compact under section 907A1 applies

This deduction is allowed for the wages paid to the individuals successfully completing a probationary period named in paragraphs "a" and "b" during the twelve months following the date of first employment by the taxpayer and shall be deducted in the tax years when paid

The department shall develop and distribute information concerning the deduction available for businesses employing persons named in paragraphs "a" and "b"

7. Subtract the amount of the alcohol fuel credit allowable for the tax year under section 40 of the Internal Revenue Code to the extent that the credit increased federal taxable income

8. Add the amounts deducted and subtract the amounts included in income as a result of the treatment provided sale-leaseback agreements under section 168(f)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code for property placed in service by the transferee prior to January 1, 1986 to the extent that the amounts deducted and the amounts included in income are not otherwise deductible or included in income under the other provisions of the Internal Revenue Code as amended to and including December 31, 1985

9. Subtract the amount of windfall profits tax deductible under section 164(a) of the Internal Revenue Code

10. Add the percentage depletion amount determined with respect to an oil, gas, or geothermal well using methods in section 613 of the Internal Revenue Code that is in excess of the cost depletion amount determined under section 611 of the Internal Revenue Code

11. If after applying all of the adjustments provided for in this section and the allocation and apportionment provisions of section 42233, the Iowa taxable income results in a net operating loss, such net operating loss shall be deducted as follows:

a. The Iowa net operating loss shall be carried back three taxable years or to the taxable year in which the corporation first commenced doing business in this state, whichever is later

b. The Iowa net operating loss remaining after being carried back as required in paragraph "a" of this subsection or if not required to be carried back shall be carried forward fifteen taxable years

c. If the election under section 172(b)(5)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code is made, the Iowa net operating loss shall be carried forward fifteen taxable years

d. No portion of a net operating loss which was sustained from that portion of the trade or business carried on outside the state of Iowa shall be deducted

e. The limitations on net operating loss carryback and carryforward under sections 172(b)(1)(M) and 172(m) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply

Provided, however, that a corporation affected by the allocation provisions of section 42233 shall be permitted to deduct only such portion of the deductions for net operating loss and federal income taxes as is fairly and equitably allocable to Iowa, under rules prescribed by the director

12. Subtract the loss on the sale or exchange of a share of a regulated investment company held for six months or less to the extent the loss was disallowed under section 852(b)(4)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code

13. Subtract the interest earned from bonds and notes issued by the agricultural development authority as provided in section 17517, subsection 10

14. Add the expenses otherwise deductible under section 162(a) of the Internal Revenue Code which were incurred by a corporation with respect to expenditures made at, or payments made to, a club which restricts membership or the use of its services or facilities on the basis of age, sex, marital status, race, religion, color, ancestry, or national origin

A club described in this subsection holding an alcoholic beverage license pursuant to chapter 123 shall provide on each receipt furnished to a taxpayer a printed statement as follows: "The expenditures covered by this receipt are nondeductible for state income tax purposes"

For the purposes of this subsection, a club means any nonprofit corporation or association of individuals, which is the owner, lessee, or occupant of a permanent building or part of a building, membership in which entails the prepayment of regular dues, and which is not operated for a profit other than such profits as would accrue to the entire membership
1 There is imposed a tax of four percent upon the gross receipts from all sales of tangible personal property, consisting of goods, wares, or merchandise, except as otherwise provided in this division, sold at retail in the state to consumers or users, a like rate of tax upon the gross receipts from the sales, furnishing, or service of gas, electricity, water, heat, pay television service, and communication service, including the gross receipts from such sales by any municipal corporation or joint water utility furnishing gas, electricity, water, heat, pay television service, and communication service to the public in its proprietary capacity, except as otherwise provided in this division, when sold at retail in the state to consumers or users, a like rate of tax upon the gross receipts from all sales of tickets or admissions to places of amusement, fairs, and athletic events except those of elementary and secondary educational institutions, and a like rate of tax upon that part of private club membership fees or charges paid for the privilege of participating in any athletic sports provided club members
2 There is imposed a tax of four percent upon the gross receipts derived from the operation of all forms of amusement devices and games of skill, games of chance, raffles and bingo games as defined in chapter 99B, operated or conducted within the state of Iowa, the tax to be collected from the operator in the same manner as is provided for the collection of taxes upon the gross receipts of tickets or admission as provided in this section. The tax shall also be imposed upon the gross receipts derived from the sale of lottery tickets or shares pursuant to chapter 99B. The tax on the lottery tickets or shares shall be included in the sales price and distributed to the general fund as provided in section 99E 10
3 The tax thus imposed covers all receipts from the operation of games of skill, games of chance, raffles and bingo games as defined in chapter 99B, and musical devices, weighing machines, shooting galleries, billiard and pool tables, bowling alleys, pinball machines, slot-operated devices selling merchandise not subject to the general sales taxes and on all receipts from devices or systems where prizes are in any manner awarded to patrons and upon the receipts from fees charged for participation in any game or other form of amusement, and generally upon the gross receipts from any source of amusement operated for profit, not specified in this section, and upon the gross receipts from which no tax is collected for tickets or admission, but no tax shall be imposed upon any activity exempt from sales tax under section 422 45, subsection 3. Every person receiving gross receipts from the sources defined in this section is subject to all provisions of this division relating to retail sales tax and other provisions of this chapter as applicable
4 There is imposed a like rate of tax upon the gross receipts from the sales of engraving, photography, retouching, printing, and binding services for the purpose of this division, the sales of engraving, photography, retouching, printing, and binding services are sales of tangible property
5 There is imposed a like rate of tax upon the gross receipts from the sales of vulcanizing, recapping, and retreading services. For the purpose of this division, the sales of vulcanizing, recapping, and retreading services are sales of tangible property
6 There is imposed a tax of four percent upon the gross receipts from the sales of optional service or warranty contracts which provide for the furnishing of labor and materials and require the furnishing of any taxable service enumerated under this section. The gross receipts are subject to tax even if some of the services furnished are not enumerated under this section. For the purpose of this division, the sale of an optional service or warranty contract is a sale of tangible personal property. Additional sales, services or use tax shall not be levied on services, parts, or labor provided under optional service or warranty contracts which are subject to tax under this section
7 A like rate of tax is imposed upon the gross receipts from the renting of rooms, apartments, or sleeping quarters in a hotel, motel, inn, public lodging house, rooming house, mobile home which is tangible personal property, or tourist court, or in any place where sleeping accommodations are furnished to transient guests for rent, whether with or without meals “Renting” and “rent” include any kind of direct or indirect charge for such rooms, apartments, or sleeping quarters, or their use. For the purposes of this division, such renting is regarded as a sale of tangible personal property at retail. However, this tax does not apply to the gross receipts from the renting of a room, apartment, or sleeping quarters while rented by the same person for a period of more than thirty-one consecutive days
8 All revenues arising under the operation of the provisions of this section shall become part of the state general fund
9 Nothing herein shall legalize any games of skill or chance or slot-operated devices which are now prohibited by law
10 There is imposed a tax of four percent upon the gross receipts from the rendering, furnishing, or performing of services as defined in section 422 42.
11 The following enumerated services are subject to the tax imposed on gross taxable services. Alteration and garment repair, armored car, automobile repair, battery, tire and allied, investment counseling; service charges of all financial institutions, barber and beauty, boat repair, car wash and wax, carpentry, roof, shingle, and glass repair, dance schools and dance studios, dry cleaning, pressing, dyeing, and laundering, electrical and electronic repair and installation, rental of tangible personal property, except mobile homes which are tangible personal property, excavating and grading, farm implement repair of all kinds, flying service, furniture, rug, upholstery repair and cleaning, fur storage and repair, golf and country clubs and all commercial recreation, house and building moving, household appliance, television, and radio repair; jewelry and watch repair; machine operator; machine repair of all kinds; motor repair; motorcycle, scooter, and bicycle repair; oils and lubricators; office and business machine repair; painting, papering, and interior decorating; parking facilities; pipe fitting and plumbing; wood preparation; licensed executive search agencies; private employment agencies, excluding services for placing a person in employment where the principal place of employment of that person is to be located outside of the state; sewing and stitching; tin and sheet metal repair; Turkish baths, massage, and reducing salons; weighing; welding; well drilling; wrapping, packing, and packaging of merchandise other than processed meat, fish, fowl and vegetables; wrecking service; wrecker and towing; pay television; campgrounds; carpet and upholstery cleaning; gun and camera repair; janitorial and building maintenance or cleaning; lawn care, landscaping and tree trimming and removal; pet grooming; reflexology; security and detection services; tanning beds or salons; and water conditioning and softening.

For purposes of this subsection, gross taxable services from rental includes rents, royalties, and copyright and license fees. For purposes of this subsection, "financial institutions" means all national banks, federally chartered savings and loan associations, federally chartered credit unions, banks organized under chapter 524, savings and loan associations and savings banks organized under chapter 534, and credit unions organized under chapter 533.

12. A tax of four percent is imposed upon the gross receipts from all sales of tangible personal property, consisting of goods, wares, or merchandise, except as otherwise provided in this division, sold at retail in the state to consumers or users within the state by retailers that meet any of the following criteria:

a. Solicit retail sales of tangible personal property from residents of this state on a continuous, regular, seasonal, or systematic basis by means of advertising which is broadcast from or relayed from a transmitter within this state.

b. Solicit orders from residents of this state for tangible personal property by mail or otherwise, if the solicitations are continuous, regular, or systematic and if the retailer benefits from any banking, financing, debt collection, telecommunications, or marketing activities occurring in this state or benefits from the location in this state of authorized installment, servicing, or repair facilities.

c. Are owned or controlled by the same interests which own or control a retailer engaged in business in the same or a similar line of business in this state.

d. Maintain or have a franchisee or licensee operating under the retailer’s trade name in this state if the franchisee or licensee is required to collect the tax imposed by this division or chapter 423.

422.45 Exemptions.

There are hereby specifically exempted from the provisions of this division and from the computation of the amount of tax imposed by it, the following:

1. The gross receipts from sales of tangible personal property and services rendered, furnished, or performed, which this state is prohibited from taxing under the Constitution or laws of the United States or under the Constitution of this state.

2. The gross receipts from the sales, furnishing, or service of transportation service except the rental of recreational vehicles or recreational boats, and except the rental of motor vehicles subject to registration which are registered for a gross weight of thirteen tons or less for a period of sixty days or less.

3. The gross receipts from sales of educational, religious, or charitable activities, where the entire proceeds therefrom are expended for educational, religious, or charitable purposes, except the gross receipts from games of skill, games of chance, raffles and bingo games as defined in chapter 99B.

4. The gross receipts from sales of vehicles subject to registration or subject only to the issuance of a certificate of title.

5. The gross receipts from services rendered, furnished, or performed and of all sales of goods, wares, or merchandise used for public purposes to a tax-certifying or tax-levying body of the state or a governmental subdivision of the state, including regional transit systems, as defined in section 601J.1, the state board of regents, department of human services, state department of transportation, any municipally owned solid waste facility which sells all or part of its processed waste as fuel to a municipally owned public utility, and all divisions, boards, commissions, agencies, or instrumentalities of state, federal, county, or municipal government which have no earnings going to the benefit of an equity investor or stockholder, except sales of goods, wares, or merchandise or from services rendered, furnished, or performed and used by or in connection with the operation of any municipally owned public utility engaged in selling gas, electricity, heat, or pay television service to the general public.

The exemption provided by this subsection shall also apply to all such sales of goods, wares or merchandise or from services rendered, furnished, or performed and subject to use tax under the provisions of chapter 423.

6. The gross receipts from "casual sales". However, this exemption does not apply to aircraft.

7. A private nonprofit educational institution in this state, nonprofit private museum, tax-certifying or tax-levying body or governmental subdivision of the state, including the state board of regents, state department of human services, state department of transportation, a municipally owned solid waste facility which sells all or part of its processed waste as fuel to a municipally owned public utility, and all divisions, boards, commissions, agencies, or instrumentalities of state, federal, county, or municipal government which do not have earnings going to the benefit of an equity investor or stockholder, may make application to the department for the refund of the sales, services, or use tax upon the gross receipts of all sales of goods, wares, or merchandise, or from services rendered, furnished, or performed, to a contractor, used in the fulfillment of a written contract with the state of Iowa, any political subdivision of the state, or a division, board, commission, agency, or instrumentality of the state or a political subdivision, a private nonprofit educational institution in this state, or a nonprofit private museum if the property becomes an integral part of the project under contract and at the completion of the project becomes public property, is devoted to educational uses, or becomes a nonprofit private museum, except goods, wares, or merchandise, or services rendered, furnished, or performed used in the performance of any contract in connection with the operation of any municipal utility engaged in selling gas, electricity, or heat to the general public or in connection with the operation of a municipal pay television system, and except goods, wares, and merchandise used in the performance of a contract for a "project" under chapter 419 as defined in that chapter other than goods, wares, or merchandise used in the performance of a contract for a "project" under chapter 419 for which a bond issue was approved by a municipality prior to July 1, 1968, or for which the goods, wares, or merchandise becomes an integral part of the project under contract and at the completion of the project becomes public property or is devoted to educational uses.

a Such contractor shall state under oath, on forms provided by the department, the amount of such sales of goods, wares or merchandise or services rendered, furnished, or performed and used in the performance of such contract, and upon which sales or use tax has been paid, and shall file such forms with the governmental unit, private nonprofit educational institution, or nonprofit private museum which has made any written contract for performance by the contractor. The forms shall be filed by the contractor with the governmental unit, educational institution, or nonprofit private museum before final settlement is made.

b Such governmental unit, educational institution, or nonprofit private museum shall, not more than six months after the final settlement has been made, make application to the department for any refund of the amount of such sales or use tax which shall have been paid upon any goods, wares or merchandise, or services rendered, furnished, or performed, such application to be made in the manner and upon forms to be provided by the department, and the department shall forthwith audit such claim, and, if approved, issue a warrant to such governmental unit, educational institution, or nonprofit private museum in the amount of such sales or use tax which has been paid to the state of Iowa under such contract.

c Any contractor who shall willfully make false report of tax paid under the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor and in addition thereto shall be liable for the payment of the tax and any applicable penalty and interest.

8 The gross receipts of all sales of goods, wares, or merchandise, or services, used for educational purposes to any private nonprofit educational institution in this state. The exemption provided by this subsection shall also apply to all such sales of goods, wares or merchandise, or services, subject to tax under the provisions of chapter 423.

9 Gross receipts from the sales of newspapers, free newspapers or shoppers guides and the printing and publishing thereof, and envelopes for advertising.

10 The gross receipts from sales of tangible personal property used or to be used as railroad rolling stock for transporting persons or property, or as materials or parts thereof.

11 The gross receipts from the sale of motor fuel and special fuel consumed for highway use or in watercraft or aircraft where the fuel tax has been imposed and paid and no refund has been or will be allowed and the gross receipts from the sales of ethanol blended gasoline, as defined in section 324.2.

12 Gross receipts from the sale of all foods for human consumption which are eligible for purchase with food coupons issued by the United States department of agriculture pursuant to regulations in effect on July 1, 1974, regardless of whether the retailer from which the foods are purchased is participating in the food stamp program. However, as used in this subsection, "foods" does not include candy, candy coated items, and other candy products, beverages, excluding tea and coffee, and all mixes and ingredients used to produce such beverages, which do not contain a primary dairy product or dairy ingredient base or which contain less than fifteen percent natural fruit or vegetable juice, foods prepared on or off the premises of the retailer which are consumed on the premises of the retailer, foods sold by caterers and hot or cold foods prepared for immediate consumption off the premises of the retailer. "Foods prepared for immediate consumption" include any food product upon which an act of preparation, including but not limited to, cooking, mixing, sandwich making, blending, heating or pouring, has been performed by the retailer so the food product may be immediately consumed by the purchaser.

12A The gross receipts from the sale of foods purchased with coupons issued under the federal Food Stamp Act of 1977, 7 U.S.C. § 2011, et seq.

13 The gross receipts from the sale of prescription drugs, as defined in chapter 155A, if dispensed for human use or consumption by a registered pharmacist licensed under chapter 155A, a physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 148, an osteopathic physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 150A, an osteopathic physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 150A, a dentist licensed under chapter 153, or a podiatrist licensed under chapter 149.

14 Gross receipts from the sale of insulin, hypodermic syringes, and diabetic testing materials for human use or consumption.
15 Gross receipts from the sale or rental of prosthetic, orthotic or orthopedic devices for human use. For purposes of this subsection, "orthopedic devices" means those devices prescribed to be used for orthopedic purposes by a physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 148, an osteopath licensed under chapter 150, an osteopathic physician and surgeon licensed under chapter 150A, a dentist licensed under chapter 153, or a podiatrist licensed under chapter 149.

16 Gross receipts from the sale of oxygen prescribed by a licensed physician or surgeon, osteopath, or osteopathic physician or surgeon for human use or consumption.

17 The gross receipts from the sale of horses, commonly known as draft horses, when purchased for use and so used as a draft horse.

18 Gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property, except vehicles subject to registration, to a person regularly engaged in the business of leasing if the period of the lease is for more than one year, or in the consumer rental purchase business if the property is to be utilized in a transaction involving a consumer rental purchase agreement as defined in section 537.3604, subsection 8, and the leasing or consumer rental of the property is subject to taxation under this subdivision. If tangible personal property exempt under this subsection is made use of for any purpose other than leasing, renting, or consumer rental purchase, the person claiming the exemption under this subsection is liable for the tax that would have been due except for this subsection. The tax shall be computed upon the original purchase price. The aggregate of the tax paid on the leasing, renting, or rental purchase of such tangible personal property, not to exceed the amount of the sales tax owed, shall be credited against the tax. This sales tax is in addition to any sales or use tax that may be imposed as a result of the disposal of such tangible personal property.

19 The gross receipts from the sale of property which is a container, label, carton, pallet, packing case, wrapping paper, twine, bag, bottle, shipping case, or other similar article or receptacle sold to manufacturers for the purpose of packaging or facilitating the transportation of tangible personal property or transferred in association with the maintenance or repair of fabric or clothing.

19A The gross receipts from the sale of degradable, as defined in section 455B.301, subsection 7, property which is a container, carton, packaging case, wrapping paper, bag, bottle, shipping carton, or other similar article or receptacle sold to retailers for the purpose of point-of-sale packaging or for facilitating the transportation of tangible personal property sold at retail or transferred in association with the maintenance or repair of fabric or clothing. For the purpose of this subsection and subsection 19B, "point of sale" means the point at which payment is exchanged for tangible personal property.

20 The gross receipts from sales or services rendered, furnished, or performed by a county or city. This exemption does not apply to the tax specifically imposed under section 422.43 on the gross receipts from the sales, furnishing, or service of gas, electricity, water, heat, pay television service, and communication service to the public by a municipal corporation in its proprietary capacity and does not apply to fees paid to cities and counties for the privilege of participating in any athletic sports.

21 The gross receipts from the sales by a trade shop to a printer of lithographic-offset plates, photo-engraved plates, engravings, negatives, color separations, typesetting, the end products of image modulation, or any base material used as a carrier for light sensitive emulsions to be used by the printer to complete a finished product for sale at retail. For purposes of this subsection, "trade shop" means a business which is not primarily engaged in printing and which sells supplies to printers, including but not limited to, those supplies enumerated in this subsection.

22 The gross receipts from the sale or rental of tangible personal property or from services performed, rendered, or furnished to the following nonprofit corporations:

   a Residential care facilities and intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded and residential care facilities for the mentally ill licensed by the department of human services pursuant to chapter 237, other than those maintained by individuals as defined in section 237.1, subsection 7.

   b Residential facilities licensed by the department of human services pursuant to chapter 237, other than those maintained by individuals as defined in section 237.1, subsection 7.

   c Rehabilitation facilities that provide accredited rehabilitation services to persons with disabilities which are accredited by the commission on accreditation of rehabilitation facilities or the accreditation council for services for mentally retarded and other developmentally disabled persons and adult day care services approved for reimbursement by the state department of human services.

   d Community mental health centers accredited by the department of human services pursuant to chapter 225C.

   e Community health centers as defined in 42 U.S.C.A. § 254c and migrant health centers as defined in 42 U.S.C.A. § 254b.

23 The gross receipts from the sales of special fuel for diesel engines consumed or used in the operation of ships, barges, or waterborne vessels which are used primarily in or for the transportation of property or cargo, or the conveyance of persons for hire on rivers bordering on the state if the fuel is delivered by the seller to the purchaser's barge, ship, or waterborne vessel while it is afloat upon such a river.

24 The gross receipts from the rental of motion picture films, video and audio tapes, video and audio ping paper, bag, bottle, shipping carton, or other similar article or receptacle sold to retailers for the purpose of nonpoint-of-sale packaging.

discs, records, photos, copy, scripts or other media used for the purpose of transmitting that which can be seen, heard or read, if either of the following conditions are met a. The lessee imposes a charge for the viewing or the rental of such media and the charge for the viewing or the rental is subject to taxation under this division or chapter 423.

b. The lessee broadcasts the contents of such media for public viewing or listening.

The exemption provided for in this subsection applies to all payments on or after July 1, 1984.

25. The gross receipts from services rendered, furnished or performed by specialized flying implements of husbandry used for agricultural aerial spraying and aerial commercial and charter transportation services.

26. The gross receipts from the sale or rental of farm machinery and equipment, including replacement parts, if the following conditions are met:

a. The farm machinery and equipment shall be directly and primarily used in production of agricultural products.

b. The farm machinery and equipment shall constitute self-propelled implements or implements customarily drawn or attached to self-propelled implements or the farm machinery or equipment is a grain dryer.

c. The replacement part is essential to any repair or reconstruction necessary to the farm machinery's or equipment's exempt use in the production of agricultural products.

Vehicles subject to registration, as defined in section 423 1, or replacement parts for such vehicles, shall not be eligible for this exemption.

27. The gross receipts from the sale or rental, on or after July 1, 1987 or on or after July 1, 1985, in the case of an industry which has entered into an agreement under chapter 280B prior to the sale or lease, of industrial machinery, equipment and computers, including replacement parts which are depreciable for state and federal income tax purposes, if the following conditions are met:

a. The industrial machinery, equipment and computers shall be directly and primarily used in the manner described in section 428 20 in processing tangible personal property or in research and development of new products or processes of manufacturing, refining, purifying, combining of different materials or packing of meats to be used for the purpose of adding value to products, or in processing or storage of data or information by an insurance company, financial institution or commercial enterprise, or in the recycling or reprocessing of waste products. As used in this paragraph:

1. "Insurance company" means an insurer organized or operating under chapters 508, 514, 515, 518, 519, 520 or authorized to do business in Iowa as an insurer and having fifty or more persons employed in this state excluding licensed insurance agents.

2. "Financial institutions" means as defined in section 527 2, subsection 9.

(3) "Commercial enterprise" includes businesses and manufacturers conducted for profit and includes centers for data processing services to insurance companies, financial institutions, businesses and manufacturers but excludes professions and occupations and nonprofit organizations.

b. The industrial machinery, equipment and computers must be real property within the scope of section 427A 1, subsection 1, paragraphs "e" or "j," and must be subject to taxation as real property.

This paragraph does not apply to machinery and equipment used in the recycling or reprocessing of waste products qualifying for an exemption under paragraph "a".

However, the provisions of chapters 404 and 427B which result in the exemption from taxation of property for property tax purposes do not preclude the property from receiving this exemption if the property otherwise qualifies.

The gross receipts from the sale or rental of hand tools are not exempt. The gross receipts from the sale or rental of pollution control equipment qualifying under paragraph "a" shall be exempt.

The gross receipts from the sale or rental of industrial machinery, equipment, and computers, including pollution control equipment, within the scope of section 427A 1, subsection 1, paragraphs "h" and "i," shall not be exempt.

28. The gross receipts of all sales of goods, wares, or merchandise used, or from services rendered, furnished or performed in the construction and equipping of the Iowa world trade center for that portion of the project funded by the state of Iowa as authorized in chapter 18C. This subsection is repealed November 30, 1989.

29. The gross receipts from the rendering, furnishing or performing of the following service design and installation of new industrial machinery or equipment, including electrical and electronic installation.

30. The gross receipts from the sale of wood chips or sawdust used in the production of agricultural livestock or fowl.

31. Reserved.

32. Gross receipts from the sale of raffle tickets for a raffle licensed pursuant to section 99B 5.

33. a. The gross receipts from the sale of automotive fluids to a retailer to be used either in providing a service which includes the installation or application of the fluids in or on a motor vehicle, which service is subject to section 422 43, subsection 11, or to be installed in or applied to a motor vehicle which the retailer intends to sell, which sale is subject to section 423 7. For purposes of this subsection, automotive fluids are all those which are refined, manufactured or otherwise processed and packaged for sale prior to their installation in or application to a motor vehicle. They include but are not limited to: motor oil and other lubricants, hydraulic fluids, brake fluid, transmission fluid, sealants, undercoatings, antifreeze and gasoline additives.

b. Claims for refund of tax, interest, or penalty.
which arise under this subsection for the sale or use of automotive fluids occurring between January 1, 1979, and June 30, 1986, shall not be allowed unless filed prior to December 31, 1987, notwithstanding any other provision of law.

34. The gross receipts from the sale, furnishing, or service of gas, electricity, water, or heat to be used in implements of husbandry engaged in agricultural production.

35. The gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property which will be given as prizes to players in games of skill, games of chance, raffles, and bingo games as defined in chapter 99B.

36. Gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to a nonprofit organization which was organized for the purpose of lending the tangible personal property to the general public for use by them for nonprofit purposes.

37. The gross receipts from the sale or rental of tangible personal property or from services performed, rendered, or furnished to nonprofit legal aid organizations.

38. The gross receipts from the sale of aircraft for use in a scheduled interstate federal aviation administration certified air carrier operation.

39. The gross receipts from the sale or rental of farm machinery and equipment, including replacement parts, if all of the following conditions are met:

a. The implement, machinery, or equipment is directly and primarily used in livestock or dairy production.

b. The implement is not a self-propelled implement or implement customarily drawn or attached to self-propelled implements.

c. The replacement part is essential to any repair or reconstruction necessary to the farm machinery’s or equipment’s exempt use in livestock or dairy production.

40. The gross receipts from the sale of a modular home, as defined in section 135D.1, to the extent of the portion of the purchase price of the modular home which is not attributable to the cost of the tangible personal property used in the processing of the modular home. For purposes of this exemption, the portion of the purchase price which is not attributable to the cost of the tangible personal property used in the processing of the modular home is forty percent.

41. The gross receipts from the sale of motion picture films, video and audio tapes, video and audio discs and records, or other media which can be seen, heard, or read, to a person regularly engaged in the business of leasing, renting, or selling this property if the ultimate leasing, renting, or selling of the property is subject to tax under this division.

The exemption provided in this subsection is retroactive to July 1, 1984.

42. The gross receipts from the sale or rental of irrigation equipment used in farming operations.

43. The gross receipts of all sales of goods, wares, merchandise, or services, used for educational, scientific, historic preservation, or aesthetic purpose to a nonprofit private museum.

44. The gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property or the sale, furnishing, or servicing of electrical energy, natural or artificial gas, or communication service to another state or political subdivision of another state if the other state provides a similar reciprocal exemption for this state and political subdivisions of this state.

45. The gross receipts from the sale of tangible personal property consisting of advertising material including paper to a person in Iowa if that person or that person’s agent will, subsequent to the sale, send that advertising material outside this state and the material is subsequently used solely outside of Iowa. For the purpose of this subsection, “advertising material” means any brochure, catalog, leaflet, flyer, order form, return envelope, or similar item used to promote sales of property or services.

46. The gross receipts from the sale of property which the seller transfers to a carrier for shipment to a point outside of Iowa, places in the United States mail or parcel post directed to a point outside of Iowa, or transports to a point outside of Iowa by means of the seller’s own vehicles, and which is not thereafter returned to a point within Iowa, except solely in the course of interstate commerce or transportation. This exemption shall not apply if the purchaser, consumer, or their agent, other than a carrier, takes physical possession of the property in Iowa.

1. The tax levied under this division is due and payable in quarterly installments on or before the last day of the month following each quarterly period except as otherwise provided in this subsection. Every retailer who collects more than four thousand dollars in retail sales tax in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or an amount equal to not less than one-sixth of the tax collected and paid to the department during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the semimonthly period as prescribed by the director. The first semimonthly deposit form is for the period from the first of the month through the fifteenth of the month and is due on or before the tenth day of the month following the month of collection. A deposit is not required for the last semimonthly period of the calendar quarter. The total quarterly amount, less the amount deposited for the five previous semimonthly periods, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. A retailer who collects more than five hundred dollars in retail sales taxes in one month and not more than four thousand dollars in retail sales taxes in a semimonthly period shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected or an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid to the department during the preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. Every retailer who collects more than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars in retail sales tax in one month shall deposit with the department or in a depository authorized by law and designated by the director, the amount collected, or an amount equal to not less than one-third of the tax collected and paid to the department during the last preceding quarter, with a deposit form for the month as prescribed by the director. The deposit form is due on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month of collection, except a deposit is not required for the third month of the calendar quarter and the total quarterly amount, less the amounts deposited for the first two months of the quarter, is due with the quarterly report on the last day of the month following the month of collection. The monthly remittance procedure is optional for any sales tax permit holder whose average monthly collection of tax amounts to more than twenty-five dollars and less than fifty dollars. If the exact amounts of the taxes due or an amount equal to not less than one-third or one-sixth, as applicable, of the tax collected and paid to the department during the last preceding quarter on the deposit form are not ascertainable by the retailer, or would work undue hardship in the computation of the taxes due by the retailer, the director may provide by rules alternative procedures for estimating the amounts (but not the dates) due by the retailers. The forms prescribed by the director shall be referred to as "retailers semimonthly tax deposit" or "retailers monthly tax deposit." Deposit forms shall be signed by the retailer or the retailer's duly authorized agent, and shall be duly certified by the retailer or agent to be correct. The director may authorize incorporated banks and trust companies or other depositories authorized by law which are depositories or financial agents of the United States, or of this state, to receive any tax imposed under this chapter, in the manner, at the times and under the conditions the director prescribes. The director shall prescribe the manner, times, and conditions under which the receipt of the tax by those depositories is to be treated as payment of the tax to the department.

2. Every permit holder at the time of making the return required hereunder, shall compute and pay to the department the tax due for the preceding period.

3. The director may, when necessary and advisable in order to secure the collection of the tax levied under this division, require any person subject to such tax to file with the director a bond, issued by a surety company authorized to transact business in this state and approved by the insurance commissioner as to solvency and responsibility, in such amount as the director may fix, to secure the payment of any tax or penalties due or which may become due from such person. In lieu of such bond, securities approved by the director, in such amount as the director may prescribe, may be deposited with the department, which securities shall be kept in the custody of the department and may be sold by the director at public or private sale, without notice to the depositor thereof, if it becomes necessary so to do in order to recover any tax or penalties due. Upon any such sale, the surplus, if any, above the amounts due under this division shall be returned to the person who deposited the securities.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection directing that securities be kept in the custody of the department for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all such securities shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

4. The tax by this division imposed upon those sales of motor vehicle fuel which are subject to tax and refund under chapter 324 shall be collected by the state treasurer by way of deduction from refunds otherwise allowable under said chapter. The amount of such deductions the treasurer shall transfer from the motor vehicle fuel fund to the special tax fund.

5. The provisions of subsection 1, according to the context, shall apply to persons having receipts from rendering, furnishing, or performing services enumerated in section 422.43.

6. a. If a purchaser fails to pay tax imposed by this division to the retailer required to collect the tax, then in addition to all of the rights, obligations, and remedies provided, the tax is payable by the purchaser directly to the department, and sections 422.50, 422.51, 422.52, 422.54, 422.55, 422.56, 422.57, 422.58 and 422.59 apply to the purchaser. For failure, the retailer and purchaser are liable, unless the circumstances described in section 422.47, subsection 3, paragraph "b" or "e" or subsection 4, paragraph "b" or "d" are applicable.

b. If any retailer subject to this division sells the retailer's business or stock of goods or quits the business, the retailer shall prepare a final return and pay all tax due within the time required by law. The immediate successor to the retailer, if any, shall withhold sufficient of the purchase price, in money or money's worth, to pay the amount of delinquent tax, interest or penalty due and unpaid. If the immediate successor of the business or stock of goods intentionally fails to withhold the amount due from the purchase price as provided in this paragraph, the immediate successor is personally liable for the payment of the delinquent taxes, interest and penalty accrued and unpaid on account of the operation of the business by the immediate former retailer, except when the purchase is made in good faith as provided in section 421.28. However, a person foreclosing on a valid security interest or retaking possession of premises under a valid lease is not an "immediate successor" for purposes of this paragraph. The department may waive the liability of the immediate successor under this paragraph if the immediate successor exercised good faith in establishing the amount of the previous liability.

2. A person sponsoring a flea market, or a craft, antique, coin, or stamp show or similar event shall obtain from every retailer selling tangible personal property or taxable services at the event proof that the retailer possesses a valid sales tax permit or secure from the retailer a statement, taken in good faith, that property or services offered for sale are not subject to sales tax. Failure to do so renders a sponsor of the event liable for payment of any sales tax, interest and penalty due and owing from any retailer selling property or services at the event. Sections 422.50, 422.51, 422.52, 422.54, 422.55, 422.56, 422.57, 422.58 and 422.59 apply to the sponsors. For purposes of this paragraph a person sponsoring a flea market, or a craft, antique, coin or stamp show or similar event does not include an organization which sponsors an event less than three times a year or a state, county or district agricultural fair.

7. The tax on gross receipts from the sale or rental of tangible personal property under a consumer rental purchase agreement as defined in section 537.3604, subsection 8, is payable in the tax period of receipt.

8. If an amount of tax represented by a retailer to a consumer or user as constituting tax due is computed upon gross receipts that are not taxable or the amount represented is in excess of the actual taxable amount and the amount represented is actually paid by the consumer or user to the retailer, the excess amount of tax paid shall be returned to the consumer or user upon notification to the retailer by the department or by the consumer or user that an excess payment exists. If the retailer fails to make a return, the amount which the consumer or user has paid to the retailer shall be remitted by the retailer to the department.

In this division, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Financial institution" means a state bank as defined in section 524.103, subsection 19, a state bank chartered under the laws of any other state, a national banking association, a trust company, a federally chartered savings and loan association, an out-of-state state chartered savings bank, a financial institution chartered by the federal home loan bank board, a non-Iowa chartered savings and loan association, an association incorporated or authorized to do business under chapter 534, or a production credit association.

2. "Taxable year" means the calendar year or the fiscal year ending during a calendar year, for which the tax is payable. "Fiscal year" includes a tax period of less than twelve months if, under the Internal Revenue Code, a corporation is required to file a tax return covering a tax period of less than twelve months.

3. "Taxpayer" means a financial institution subject to any tax imposed by this division.

4. "Net income" means the net income of the financial institution computed in accordance with section 422.35, with the following adjustments:
   a. Federal income taxes paid or accrued shall not be subtracted.
   b. Notwithstanding sections 262.41 and 262.51, any other provisions of law, income from obligations of the state and its political subdivisions and franchise taxes paid or accrued under this division during the taxable year shall be added.
   c. Interest and dividends from federal securities shall not be subtracted.
   d. Interest and dividends derived from obligations of United States possessions, agencies, and instrumentalities, including bonds which were purchased after January 1, 1991, and issued by the governments of Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands shall be added, to the extent they were not included in computing federal taxable income.
   e. A deduction disallowed under section 265(b) or section 291(e)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be subtracted.

422.65 Allocation of revenue.
All moneys received from the franchise tax shall be deposited in the state general fund. Forty-five percent of all franchise tax money received and deposited in the state general fund shall be paid quarterly on warrants by the director, after certification by the director, as follows:
1. Sixty percent to the general fund of the city from which the tax is collected.
2. Forty percent to the county from which the tax is collected.

If the financial institution maintains one or more offices for the transaction of business, other than its principal office, a portion of its franchise tax shall be allocated to each office, based upon a reasonable measure of the business activity of each office. The director shall prescribe, for each type of financial institution, a method of measuring the business activity of each office. Financial institutions shall furnish all necessary information for this purpose at the request of the director.

Quarterly, the director shall certify to the treasurer of state the amounts to be paid to each city and county from the state general fund. All moneys received from the franchise tax are appropriated according to the provisions of this section.

422.65 Information deemed confidential — informational exchange agreement.

1. It is unlawful for the director, or any person having an administrative duty under this chapter, or any present or former officer or other employee of the state authorized by the director to examine returns, to divulge in any manner whatever, the business affairs, operations, or information obtained by an investigation under this chapter of records and equipment of any person visited or examined in the discharge of official duty, or the amount or source of income, profits, losses, expenditures or any particular thereof, set forth or disclosed in any return, or to permit any return or copy of a return or any book containing any abstract or particulars thereof to be seen or examined by any person except as provided by law. However, the director may authorize examination of such state returns and other state information which is confidential under this section, if a reciprocal arrangement exists, by tax officers of another state or the federal government. The director may, by rules adopted pursuant to chapter 17A, authorize examination of state information and returns by other officers or employees of this state to the extent required by their official duties and responsibilities. Disclosure of state information to tax officers of another state is limited to disclosures which have a tax administrative purpose and only to officers of those states which by agreement with this state limit the disclosure of the information as strictly as the laws of this state protecting the confidentiality of returns and information. The director shall place upon the state tax form a notice to the taxpayer that state tax information may be disclosed to tax officials of another state or of the United States for tax administrative purposes.

The department shall not authorize the examination of tax information by officers and employees of this state, another state, or of the United States if the officers or employees would otherwise be required to obtain a judicial order to examine the information if it were to be obtained from another source, and if the purpose of the examination is other than for tax administration. However, the director may provide sample individual income tax information to be used for statistical purposes to the legislative fiscal bureau. The information shall not include the name or mailing address of the taxpayer or the taxpayer’s social security number. Any information contained in an individual income tax return which is provided by the director shall only be used as a part of a data base which contains similar information from a number of returns. The legislative fiscal bureau shall not have access to the income tax returns of individuals. Each request for individual income tax information shall contain a statement by the director of the legislative fiscal bureau that the individual income tax information received by the bureau shall be used solely for statistical purposes. This subsection does not prevent the department from authorizing the examination of state returns and state information under the provisions of section 252B.9. This subsection prevails over any general law of this state relating to public records.

The director shall provide state tax returns and return information to the auditor of state, to the extent that the information is necessary to complete the annual audit of the department required by section 11.2. The state tax returns and return information provided by the director shall remain confidential and shall not be included in any public documents issued by the auditor of state.

2. Federal tax returns, copies of returns, and return information as defined in section 6103(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, which are required to be filed with the department for the enforcement of the income tax laws of this state, shall be held as confidential by the department and subject to the disclosure limitations in subsection 1.

3. Unless otherwise expressly permitted by section 421.17, subsections 21, 22, 23, 25, 29, and 32, sections 252B.3, 324.63, 421.19, 421.28, and 422.20, and this section, a tax return, return information, or investigative or audit information shall not be divulged to any person or entity, other than the taxpayer, the department, or internal revenue service for use in a matter unrelated to tax administration.

This prohibition precludes persons or entities other than the taxpayer, the department, or the internal revenue service from obtaining such information from the department, and a subpoena, order, or process which requires the department to produce such information to a person or entity, other than the taxpayer, the department, or internal revenue service for use in a nontax proceeding is void.

4. A person violating subsection 1, 2, 3, or 6 is guilty of a serious misdemeanor.

5. The director may disclose taxpayer identity information to the press and other media for purposes of notifying persons entitled to tax refunds when the director, after reasonable effort and lapse of time, has been unable to locate the persons.

6. The department may enter into a written informational exchange agreement for tax administration purposes with a city or county which is entitled to receive funds due to a local hotel and motel tax or a local sales and services tax. The written informational exchange agreement shall designate no more than two paid city or county employees that have access to actual return information relating to that city's or county's receipts from a local hotel and motel tax or a local sales and services tax.

City or county employees designated to have access to information under this subsection are deemed to be officers and employees of the state for purposes of the restrictions and penalties pursuant to subsection 1 pertaining to confidential information. The department may refuse to enter into a written informational exchange agreement if the city or county does not agree to pay the actual cost of providing the information and the department may refuse to abide by a written informational exchange agreement if the city or county does not promptly pay the actual cost of providing the information or take reasonable precautions to protect the information's confidentiality.

1. If it shall appear that, as a result of mistake, an amount of tax, penalty, or interest has been paid which was not due under the provisions of division IV of this chapter or chapter 423, then such amount shall be credited against any tax due, or to become due, on the books of the department from the person who made the erroneous payment, or such amount shall be refunded to such person by the department. A claim for refund or credit that has not been filed with the department within five years after the tax payment upon which a refund or credit is claimed became due, or one year after such tax payment was made, whichever time is the later, shall not be allowed by the director.

2. If it appears that an amount of tax, penalty, or interest has been paid which was not due under division II, III or V of this chapter, then that amount shall be credited against any tax due on the books of the department by the person who made the excessive payment, or that amount shall be refunded to the person or with the person's approval, credited to tax to become due. A claim for refund or credit that has not been filed with the department within three years after the return upon which a refund or credit claimed became due, or within one year after the payment of the tax upon which a refund or credit is claimed was made, whichever time is the later, shall not be allowed by the director. If, as a result of a carryback of a net operating loss or a net capital loss, the amount of tax in a prior period is reduced and an overpayment results, the claim for refund or credit of the overpayment shall be filed with the department within the three years after the return for the taxable year of the net operating loss or net capital loss became due. Notwithstanding the period of limitation specified, the taxpayer shall have six months from the day of final disposition of any income tax matter between the taxpayer and the internal revenue service with respect to the particular tax year to claim an income tax refund or credit.

The department shall enter into an agreement with the internal revenue service for the transmission of federal income tax reports on individuals required to file an Iowa income tax return who have been involved in an income tax matter with the internal revenue service. After final disposition of the income tax matter between the taxpayer and the internal revenue service, the department shall determine whether the individual is due a state income tax refund as a result of final disposition of such income tax matter. If the individual is due a state income tax refund, the department shall notify the individual within thirty days and request the individual to file a claim for refund or credit with the department.

3. A credit, action or claim for refund arising or existing from a carryback of a net operating loss or net capital loss from tax years ending on or before December 31, 1978 is not allowed, unless the action or claim was received by the department prior to July 1, 1984. This subsection prevails over any other statutes authorizing income tax refunds or claims.

4. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a claim for credit or refund of the income tax paid is considered timely if the claim is filed with the department on or before June 30, 1986, if the taxpayer's federal income tax was forgiven under section 692(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 because the taxpayer died after November 17, 1978 as a result of wounds or in—jury incurred due to military or terroristic action outside the United States. To the extent the federal income tax was forgiven under section 692(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 for the tax year, the Iowa income tax is also forgiven.

5. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a claim for credit or refund of the income tax paid for a tax year beginning in the 1983 calendar year is considered timely if the claim is filed with the department on or before April 30, 1988, if the taxpayer's federal income tax was forgiven under section 692 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 because the taxpayer died, or was missing in action and determined dead, while serving in a combat zone. To the extent the federal income tax was forgiven under section 692 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 for the tax year, the Iowa income tax is also forgiven.

6. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a claim for credit or refund of the state alternative minimum tax paid for any tax year beginning on or after January 1, 1982, and before January 1, 1984, is considered timely if the claim is filed with the department on or before April 30, 1988, if the taxpayer's capital gains preference items for purposes of the federal individual alternative minimum tax were reduced as a result of section 13208 of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 as amended by section 1896 of the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

7. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a claim for credit or refund of the income tax paid is considered timely if the claim is filed with the department on or before November 10, 1989, if the taxpayer's federal income tax was forgiven under section 170(m) of the Internal Revenue Code because eighty percent of the taxpayer's payment to a college or university was allowed as a charitable contribution since the payment entitled the taxpayer to purchase tickets to an athletic event of the college or university. To the extent the federal income tax was forgiven for the tax year under section 170(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, the Iowa income tax is also forgiven.

CHAPTER 423

423.24 Deposit of revenue — appropriation.
1. a. Twenty-five percent of all revenue derived from the use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, and motor vehicle accessories and equipment as collected pursuant to section 423.7, up to a maximum of three million eight hundred twenty-five thousand dollars per quarter, shall be deposited into the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund created in section 455G.3, and the moneys so deposited are a continuing appropriation for expenditure under chapter 455G, and moneys so appropriated shall not be used for other purposes.

b. Any remaining revenue derived from the use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, and motor vehicle accessories and equipment as collected pursuant to section 423.7 shall be credited to the primary road fund to the extent necessary to reimburse that fund for the expenditures, not otherwise eligible to be made from the primary road fund, made for repairing, improving and maintaining bridges over the rivers bordering the state. Expenditures for those portions of bridges within adjacent states may be included when they are made pursuant to an agreement entered into under sections 313.63, 313A.34 and 314.10.

c. Any remaining revenues derived from the operation of section 423.7 shall be credited to the road use tax fund.

2. All other revenue arising under the operation of this chapter shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

424.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Board" means the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank board.
2. "Charge" means the environmental protection charge imposed upon petroleum diminution pursuant to section 424.3.
3. "Charge payer" means a depositor, receiver, or tank owner or operator obligated to pay the environmental protection charge under this chapter.
4. "Department" means the department of revenue and finance.
5. "Depositor" means the person who deposits petroleum into an underground storage tank subject to regulation under chapter 455G or an aboveground petroleum storage tank as defined in section 101.21, located at a retail motor vehicle fuel outlet.
6. "Diminution" means the petroleum released into the environment prior to its intended beneficial use.
7. "Director" means the director of revenue.
8. "Fund" means the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund.
9. "Owner or operator" means "owner or operator" of an underground storage tank as used in chapter 455G or the "owner" or "operator" of an aboveground petroleum storage tank as defined in section 101.21, located at a retail motor vehicle fuel outlet.
10. "Petroleum" means petroleum as defined in section 455G.2.
11. "Receiver" means, if the owner and operator are not the same person, the person who, under a contract between the owner and operator, is responsible for payment for petroleum deposited into a tank, and if the owner and operator of a tank are the same person, means the owner.
12. "Tank" means an underground storage tank subject to regulation under chapter 455G or an aboveground petroleum storage tank as defined in section 101.21, located at a retail motor vehicle fuel outlet.

424.3 Environmental protection charge imposed upon petroleum diminution.
1. An environmental protection charge is imposed upon diminution. A depositor shall collect from the receiver of petroleum deposited into a tank, the environmental protection charge imposed under this section on diminution each time petroleum is deposited into the tank, and pay the charge to the department as directed by this chapter.
2. The environmental protection charge shall be equal to the total volume of petroleum deposited in a tank multiplied by the diminution rate multiplied by the cost factor.
3. The diminution rate is one-tenth of one percent.
4. Diminution equals total volume of petroleum deposited multiplied by the diminution rate established in subsection 3.
5. The cost factor is an amount per gallon of diminution determined by the board pursuant to this subsection. The board, after public hearing, shall determine, or shall adjust, the cost factor to the greater of either an amount reasonably calculated to generate an annual average revenue, year to year, of fifteen million three hundred thousand dollars from the charge, excluding penalties and interest, or ten dollars. The board may determine or adjust the cost factor at any time but shall at minimum determine the cost factor at least once each fiscal year.

CHAPTER 425
HOMESTEAD TAX CREDITS AND REIMBURSEMENT

Certification as to smoke detector, § 100 18(2b) SF 383

425.1 Homestead credit fund — apportionment — payment.
1. A homestead credit fund is created. There is appropriated annually from the general fund of the state to the department of revenue and finance to be credited to the homestead credit fund, an amount sufficient to implement this chapter.

The director of revenue and finance shall issue warrants on the homestead credit fund payable to the county treasurers of the several counties of the state under this chapter.

2. The homestead credit fund shall be apportioned each year so as to give a credit against the tax on each eligible homestead in the state in an amount equal to the actual levy on the first four thousand eight hundred fifty dollars of actual value for each homestead.

3. The amount due each county shall be paid in two payments on November 15 and March 15 of each fiscal year, drawn upon warrants payable to the respective county treasurers. The two payments shall be as nearly equal as possible.

4. Annually the department of revenue and finance shall estimate the credit not to exceed the actual levy on the first four thousand eight hundred fifty dollars of actual value of each eligible homestead, and shall certify to the county auditor of each county the credit and its amount in dollars. Each county auditor shall then enter the credit against the taxes of the homestead in each county payable during the ensuing year, designating on the tax lists the credit as being from the homestead credit fund, and credit shall then be given to the several taxing districts in which eligible homesteads are located in an amount equal to the credits allowed on the taxes of the homesteads. The amount of credits shall be apportioned by each county treasurer to the several taxing districts as provided by law, in the same manner as though the amount of the credit had been paid by the owners of the homesteads. However, the several taxing districts shall not draw the funds so credited until after the semiannual allocations have been received by the county treasurer, as provided in this chapter. Each county treasurer shall show on each tax receipt the amount of credit received from the homestead credit fund.

5. If the homestead tax credit computed under this section is less than sixty-two dollars and fifty cents, the amount of homestead tax credit on that eligible homestead shall be sixty-two dollars and fifty cents subject to the limitation imposed in this section.

6. The homestead tax credit allowed in this chapter shall not exceed the actual amount of taxes payable on the eligible homestead, exclusive of any special assessments levied against the homestead.

Subsection 3 amended

425.2 Qualifying for credit.
A person who wishes to qualify for the credit allowed under this chapter shall obtain the appropriate forms for filing for the credit from the assessor. The person claiming the credit shall file a verified statement and designation of homestead with the assessor for the year for which the person is first claiming the credit. The claim shall be filed not later than July 1 of the year for which the person is claiming the credit. A claim filed after July 1 of the year for which the person is claiming the credit shall be considered as a claim filed for the following year.

Upon the filing and allowance of the claim, the claim shall be allowed on that homestead for successive years without further filing as long as the property is legally or equitably owned and used as a homestead by that person or that person's spouse on July 1 of each of those successive years, and the owner of the property being claimed as a homestead declares residency in Iowa for purposes of income taxation, and the property is occupied by that person or that person's spouse for at least six months in each of those calendar years in which the fiscal year begins. When the property is sold or transferred, the buyer or transferee who wishes to qualify shall refile for the credit. However, when the property is transferred as part of a distribution made pursuant to chapter 598, the transferee who is the spouse retaining ownership of the property is not required to refile for the credit. Property divided pursuant to chapter 598 shall not be modified following the division of the property. An owner who ceases to use a property for a homestead or intends not to use it as a homestead for at least six months in a calendar year shall provide written notice to the assessor by July 1 following the date on which the use is changed. A person who sells or transfers a homestead or the personal representative of a deceased person who had a homestead at the time of death, shall provide written notice to the assessor that the property is no longer the homestead of the former claimant.

In case the owner of the homestead is in active service in the armed forces of this state or of the United States, or is sixty-five years of age or older, or is disabled, the statement and designation may be signed and delivered by any member of the owner's family, by the owner's guardian or conservator, or by any other person who may represent the owner under power of attorney. If the owner of the homestead is married, the spouse may sign and deliver the statement and designation. The director of human services or the director's designee may make application for the benefits of this chapter as the agent for and on behalf of persons receiving assistance under chapter 249.

Any person sixty-five years of age or older or any person who is disabled may request, in writing, from the appropriate assessor forms for filing for homestead tax credit. Any person sixty-five years of age or older or who is disabled may complete the form, which shall include a statement of homestead, and mail or return it to the appropriate assessor. The signature of the claimant on the statement shall be considered the claimant's acknowledgment that all statements and facts entered on the form are correct to the best of the claimant's knowledge.

Upon adoption of a resolution by the county board of supervisors, any person may request, in writing, from the appropriate assessor forms for filing for homestead tax credit. The person may complete the form, which shall include a statement of homestead, and mail or return it to the appropriate assessor. The signature of the claimant on the statement of homestead shall be considered the claimant's acknowledgment that all statements and facts entered on the form are correct to the best of the claimant's knowledge.

The failure of a person to file a claim under this section on or before July 1 of the year for which the person is first claiming the credit or to have the evidence of ownership recorded in the office of the county recorder does not disqualify the claim if the person claiming the credit or through whom the credit is claimed is otherwise qualified. The belated claim shall be filed with the appropriate assessor on or before December 31 of the following calendar year and, if approved by the board of supervisors, the county treasurer shall file an amended certificate of homestead tax credits with the director of revenue and finance pursuant to section 425.4.

Unnumbered paragraph 2 amended

425.11 Definitions.
For the purpose of this chapter and wherever used in this chapter:
1. The word "homestead" shall have the following meaning:
   a. The homestead includes the dwelling house which the owner, in good faith, is occupying as a home on July 1 of the year for which the credit is claimed and occupies as a home for at least six months during the calendar year in which the fiscal year begins, except as otherwise provided.

When any person is inducted into active service under the Selective Training and Service Act of the United States or whose voluntary entry into active service results in a credit on the quota of persons required for service under the Selective Training and Service Act, or who, being a member of any component part of the military, naval, or air forces or nurse corps of this state or nation, is called or ordered into active service, such person shall be considered as occupying or living on the homestead during such service and, where equitable or legal title of the homestead is in the spouse of the person who is a member of or is inducted into the armed services of the United States, the spouse shall be considered as occupying or living on the homestead during such service.

When any person is confined in a nursing home, extended-care facility, or hospital, such person shall be considered as occupying or living on a homestead where such person is the owner of such homestead and such person maintains such homestead and does not lease, rent, or otherwise receive profits from other persons for the use thereof.

b. It may contain one or more contiguous lots or tracts of land with the buildings or other appurtenances thereon habitually, and in good faith, used as a part of the homestead.

c. It must not embrace more than one dwelling house, but where a homestead has more than one dwelling house situated thereon, the credit provided for in this chapter shall apply to the home and buildings used by the owner, but shall not apply to any other dwelling house and buildings appurtenant.

d. The words "dwelling house" shall embrace any building occupied wholly or in part by the claimant as a home.

2. The word "owner" shall mean the person who holds the fee simple title to the homestead, and in addition shall mean the person occupying as a surviving spouse or the person occupying under a contract of purchase which contract has been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is located, or the person occupying the homestead under devise or by operation of the inheritance laws where the whole interest passes or where the divided interest is shared only by persons related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, adoption, or the person occupying the homestead is a shareholder of a family farm corporation that owns the property, or the person occupying the homestead under a deed which conveys a divided interest where the divided interest is shared only by persons related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, adoption or where the person occupying the homestead holds a life estate with the reversion interest held by an executor, trustee, or other person who is entitled to the reversion or who is entitled to the reversion or whose voluntary entry into active service results in a credit on the quota of persons required for service under the Selective Training and Service Act, or who, being a member of any component part of the military, naval, or air forces or nurse corps of this state or nation, is called or ordered into active service, such person shall be considered as occupying or living on the homestead during such service and, where equitable or legal title of the homestead is in the spouse of the person who is a member of or is inducted into the armed services of the United States, the spouse shall be considered as occupying or living on the homestead during such service.

When any person is confined in a nursing home, extended-care facility, or hospital, such person shall be considered as occupying or living on a homestead where such person is the owner of such homestead and such person maintains such homestead and does not lease, rent, or otherwise receive profits from other persons for the use thereof.

The homestead includes the dwelling house which the owner, in good faith, is occupying as a home on July 1 of the year for which the credit is claimed and occupies as a home for at least six months during the calendar year in which the fiscal year begins, except as otherwise provided.

When any person is inducted into active service under the Selective Training and Service Act of the United States or whose voluntary entry into active service results in a credit on the quota of persons required for service under the Selective Training and Service Act, or who, being a member of any component part of the military, naval, or air forces or nurse corps of this state or nation, is called or ordered into active service, such person shall be considered as occupying or living on the homestead during such service and, where equitable or legal title of the homestead is in the spouse of the person who is a member of or is inducted into the armed services of the United States, the spouse shall be considered as occupying or living on the homestead during such service.

When any person is confined in a nursing home, extended-care facility, or hospital, such person shall be considered as occupying or living on a homestead where such person is the owner of such homestead and such person maintains such homestead and does not lease, rent, or otherwise receive profits from other persons for the use thereof.

b. It may contain one or more contiguous lots or tracts of land with the buildings or other appurtenances thereon habitually, and in good faith, used as a part of the homestead.

c. It must not embrace more than one dwelling house, but where a homestead has more than one dwelling house situated thereon, the credit provided for in this chapter shall apply to the home and buildings used by the owner, but shall not apply to any other dwelling house and buildings appurtenant.

d. The words "dwelling house" shall embrace any building occupied wholly or in part by the claimant as a home.

2. The word "owner" shall mean the person who holds the fee simple title to the homestead, and in addition shall mean the person occupying as a surviving spouse or the person occupying under a contract of purchase which contract has been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is located, or the person occupying the homestead under devise or by operation of the inheritance laws where the whole interest passes or where the divided interest is shared only by persons related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, adoption, or the person occupying the homestead is a shareholder of a family farm corporation that owns the property, or the person occupying the homestead under a deed which conveys a divided interest where the divided interest is shared only by persons related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, adoption or where the person occupying the homestead holds a life estate with the reversion interest held by a nonprofit corporation organized under chapter 504A, provided that the holder of the life estate is liable for and pays property tax on the homestead or where the person occupying the homestead holds an interest in a horizontal property regime under chapter 499B, regardless of whether the underlying land committed to the horizontal property regime is in fee or as a leasehold interest, provided that the holder of the interest in the horizontal property regime is liable for and pays property tax on the homestead. For the purpose of this chapter the word "owner" shall be construed to mean a bona fide owner and not one for the purpose only of availing the person of the benefits of this chapter. In order to qualify for the homestead tax credit, evidence of ownership shall be on file in the office of the clerk of the district court or recorded in the office of the county recorder at the time the owner files with the assessor a verified statement of the homestead claimed by the owner as provided in section 425.2.

3. The words "assessed valuation" shall mean the taxable valuation of the homestead as fixed by the assessor, or by the board of review, under the provisions of section 441.21, without deducting therefrom the exemptions authorized in section 427.3.

Where not in conflict with the terms of the definitions above set out, the provisions of chapter 561 shall control.

Subsection 1, paragraph a, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

425.17 Definitions.
As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Base year" means the calendar year last ending before the claim is filed.

2. "Claimant" means either one of the following:
   a. A person filing a claim for credit or reimbursement under this division who has attained the age of sixty-five years on or before December 31 of the base year or who is a surviving spouse having attained the age of fifty-five years on or before December 31, 1988, or who is totally disabled and was totally disabled on or before December 31 of the base year, and was domiciled in this state during the entire base year and is domiciled in this state at the time the claim is filed or at the time of the person's death in the case of a claim filed by the executor or administrator of the claimant's estate.
   b. A person filing a claim for credit or reimbursement under this division who has attained the age of eighteen years on or before December 31 of the base year but has not attained the age or disability status described in paragraph "a," and was domiciled in this state during the entire base year and is domiciled in this state at the time the claim is filed or at the time of the person's death in the case of a claim filed by the executor or administrator of the claimant's estate and was not claimed as a dependent on any other person's tax return for the base year.

"Claimant" under paragraph "a" or "b" includes a vendee in possession under a contract for deed and may include one or more joint tenants or tenants in common. In the case of a claim for rent constituting property taxes paid, the claimant shall have rented the property during any part of the base year. If a homestead is occupied by two or more persons, and more than one person is able to qualify as a claimant, the persons may determine among them who will be the claimant. If they are unable to agree, the matter shall be referred to the director of revenue and finance not later than October 31 of each year and the director's decision is final.

3. "Gross rent" means rental paid at arm's length solely for the right of occupancy of a homestead or mobile home, including rent for space occupied by a mobile home not to exceed one acre, exclusive of charges for any utilities, services, furniture, furnishings, or personal property appliances furnished by the landlord as a part of the rental agreement whether or not expressly set out in the rental agreement. If the director of revenue and finance determines that the landlord and tenant have not dealt with each other at arm's length, and the director of revenue and finance is satisfied that the gross rent charged was excessive, the director shall adjust the gross rent to a reasonable amount as determined by the director. If the landlord does not supply the charges for any utilities, services, furniture, furnishings, or personal property appliances furnished by the landlord, or if the charges appear to be incorrect, the director of revenue and finance may apply a percentage determined from samples of similar gross rents paid solely for the right of occupancy.

4. "Homestead" means the dwelling owned or rented and actually used as a home by the claimant during all or part of the base year, and so much of the land surrounding it including one or more contiguous lots or tracts of land, as is reasonably necessary for use of the dwelling as a home, and may consist of a part of a multifamily or multipurpose building and a part of the land upon which it is built. It does not include personal property except that a mobile home may be a homestead. Any dwelling or a part of a multifamily or multipurpose building which is exempt from taxation does not qualify as a homestead under this division. However, solely for purposes of claimants living in a property and receiving reimbursement for rent constituting property taxes paid immediately before the property becomes tax exempt, and continuing to live in it after it becomes tax exempt, the property shall continue to be classified as a homestead. A homestead must be located in this state. When a person is confined in a nursing home, extended-care facility, or hospital, the person shall be considered as occupying or living in the person's homestead if the person is the owner of the homestead and the person maintains the homestead and does not lease, rent, or otherwise receive profits from other persons for the use of the homestead.

5. "Household" means a claimant, spouse, and any person related to the claimant or spouse by blood, marriage, or adoption and living with the claimant at any time during the base year. "Living with" refers to domicile and does not include a temporary visit.

6. "Household income" means all income of the claimant and the claimant's spouse in a household and actual monetary contributions received from any other household member during their respective twelve-month income tax accounting periods ending with or during the base year.

7. "Income" means the sum of Iowa net income... as defined in section 422.7, plus all of the following to the extent not already included in Iowa net income: Capital gains, alimony, child support money, cash public assistance and relief, except property tax relief granted under this division, the gross amount of any pension or annuity, including but not limited to railroad retirement benefits, all payments received under the federal social security Act, and all military retirement and veterans’ disability pensions, interest received from the state or federal government or any of its instrumentalities, workers’ compensation and the gross amount of disability income or “loss of time” insurance. “Income” does not include gifts from nongovernmental sources, or surplus foods or other relief in kind supplied by a governmental agency.

8. “Property taxes due” means property taxes including any special assessments, but exclusive of delinquent interest and charges for services, due on a claimant’s homestead in this state, but includes only property taxes for which the claimant is liable and which will actually be paid by the claimant. However, if the claimant is a person whose property taxes have been suspended under sections 427.8 and 427.9, “property taxes due” means property taxes including any special assessments, but exclusive of delinquent interest and charges for services, due on a claimant’s homestead in this state, but includes only property taxes for which the claimant is liable and which would have to be paid by the claimant if the payment of the taxes has not been suspended pursuant to sections 427.8 and 427.9. “Property taxes due” shall be computed with no deduction for any credit under this division or for any homestead credit allowed under section 425.1. Each claim shall be based upon the taxes due during the fiscal year next following the base year. If a homestead is owned by two or more persons as joint tenants or tenants in common, and one or more persons are not members of claimant’s household, “property taxes due” is that part of property taxes due on the homestead which equals the ownership percentage of the claimant and the claimant’s household. The county treasurer shall include with the tax receipt a statement that if the owner of the property is eighteen years of age or over, the person may be eligible for the credit allowed under this division. If a homestead is an integral part of a farm, the claimant may use the total property taxes due for the larger unit. If a homestead is an integral part of a multidwelling or multipurpose building the proper portion of property taxes due for the purpose of this subsection shall be prorated to reflect the portion which the value of the property that the household occupies as its homestead is to the value of the entire structure. For purposes of this subsection, “unit” refers to that parcel of property covered by a single tax statement of which the homestead is a part.

9. “Rent constituting property taxes paid” means twenty-seven and one-half percent of the gross rent actually paid in cash or its equivalent during the base year by the claimant or the claimant’s household solely for the right of occupancy of their homestead in the base year, and which rent constitutes the basis, in the succeeding year, of a claim for reimbursement under this division by the claimant.

10. “Special assessment” means an unpaid special assessment certified pursuant to chapter 384, division IV. The claimant may include as a portion of the taxes due during the fiscal year next following the base year an amount equal to the unpaid special assessment installment due, plus interest, during the fiscal year next following the base year.

11. “Totally disabled” means the inability to engage in any substantial gainful employment by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or is reasonably expected to last for a continuous period of not less than twelve months.

§425.23 Schedule for claims for credit or reimbursement. The amount of any claim for credit or reimbursement filed under this division shall be determined as provided in this section.

1. a. The tentative credit or reimbursement for a claimant described in section 425.17, subsection 2, paragraph “a” shall be determined in accordance with the following schedule:

Notwithstanding the effective date provisions in

91 Acts, ch 191, §19 HF 687
1991 amendment to subsection 10 effective April 1, 1992, 91 Acts, ch 191, §124 HF 687
Subsections renumbered to alphabetize Subsection 10 stricken and rewritten
1990 Iowa Acts, chapter 1250, section 21, this lettered paragraph is effective for property tax claims filed on or after January 1, 1993, and for rent reimbursement claims filed on or after January 1, 1994, and all such claims filed under this lettered paragraph before such dates shall not be allowed.

2. The actual credit for property taxes due shall be determined by subtracting from the tentative credit the amount of the homestead credit under section 425.1 which is allowed as a credit against property taxes due in the fiscal year next following the base year by the claimant or any person of the claimant's household. If the subtraction produces a negative amount, there shall be no credit but no refund shall be required. The actual reimbursement for rent constituting property taxes paid shall be equal to the tentative reimbursement.

3. a. A person who is eligible to file a claim for credit for property taxes due and who has a household income of six thousand dollars or less and who has a special assessment levied against the homestead may file a claim with the county treasurer that the claimant had a household income of six thousand dollars or less and that a special assessment is presently levied against the homestead. The department shall provide to the respective county treasurers the forms necessary for the administration of this subsection. The claim shall be filed not later than September 30 of each year. Upon the filing of the claim, a penalty or interest for late payment shall not accrue against the amount of the special assessment due and payable. The claim filed by the claimant constitutes a claim for credit of an amount equal to the actual amount due and payable upon the special assessment payable during the fiscal year against the homestead of the claimant or an amount equal to the annual payment of the special assessment levied against the homestead of the claimant and payable in annual installments through the period of years provided by the governing body of the city, whichever is less. The department of revenue and finance shall, upon the filing of the claim with the department by the county treasurer, pay that amount of the special assessment during the current fiscal year to the county treasurer. The county treasurer shall submit the claims to the director of revenue and finance not later than October 15 of each year. The director of revenue and finance shall certify the amount of reimbursement due each county for special assessment credits allowed under this subsection. The amount of reimbursement due each county shall be paid by the director of revenue and finance on October 20 of each year, drawn upon warrants payable to the respective county treasurer. There is appropriated annually from the general fund of the state to the department of revenue and finance an amount sufficient to carry out the provisions of this subsection. The county treasurer shall credit any moneys received from the department against the amount of the special assessment due and payable on the homestead of the claimant.

b. For purposes of this subsection, a totally disabled person in computing household income shall deduct all medical and necessary care expenses paid during the twelve-month income tax accounting periods used in computing household income which are attributable to the person's total disability. "Medical and necessary care expenses" are those used in computing the federal income tax deduction under section 213 of the Internal Revenue Code as defined in section 422.3.

425.39 Fund created — appropriation.
The extraordinary property tax credit and reimbursement fund is created. There is appropriated annually from the general fund of the state to the department of revenue and finance to be credited to the extraordinary property tax credit and reimbursement fund, from funds not otherwise appropriated, an amount sufficient to implement this division.

CHAPTER 425A
FAMILY FARM TAX CREDIT

425A.1 Family farm tax credit fund.
The family farm tax credit fund is created in the office of the treasurer of state. There is appropriated to the fund from funds in the general fund not otherwise appropriated the sum of ten million dollars. Any balance in the fund on June 30 shall revert to the general fund.

425A.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Actively engaged in farming" means the designated person is personally involved in the production of crops and livestock on the eligible tract on a regular, continuous, and substantial basis. However, a lessor, whether under a cash or a crop share lease, is not actively engaged in farming on the area of the tract covered by the lease. This provision applies to both written and oral leases.
2. "Agricultural land" means land in tracts of ten acres or more excluding any buildings or other structures located on the land, and not laid off into lots of less than ten acres or divided by streets and alleys into parcels of less than ten acres, lying within a school corporation and in good faith used for agricultural or horticultural purposes. Any land in tracts laid off or platted into lots of less than ten acres belonging to and a part of other lands of more than ten acres and in good faith used for agricultural or horticultural purposes is entitled to the benefits of this chapter.
3. "Crop" or "crop production" includes pastureland.
4. "Designated person" means one of the following:
   a. If the owner is an individual, the designated person includes the owner of the tract or a person related to the owner as spouse, parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, stepchild, and their spouses.
   b. If the owner is a partnership, a partner, or the partner's spouse.
   c. If the owner is a family farm corporation, a family member who is a shareholder of the family farm corporation or the shareholder's spouse.
   d. If the owner is an authorized farm corporation, a shareholder who owns at least fifty-one percent of the stock of the authorized farm corporation or the shareholder's spouse.
5. "Eligible tract" or "eligible tract of agricultural land" means an area of agricultural land which meets all of the following:
   a. Is comprised of all of the contiguous tracts under identical legal ownership that are located within the same county.
   b. In the aggregate more than half the acres of the contiguous tract is devoted to the production of crops or livestock by a designated person who is actively engaged in farming.
   c. For purposes of paragraph "b", if some or all of the contiguous tract is being farmed under a lease arrangement, the activities of the lessor do not constitute being actively engaged in farming on the areas of the tract covered by the lease. If the lessee is a designated person who is actively engaged in farming, the acres under lease may be considered in determining whether more than half the acres of the contiguous tract are devoted to the production of crops or livestock.
6. "Owner" means any of the following:
   a. An individual who holds the fee simple title to the agricultural land.
   b. An individual who owns the agricultural land under a contract of purchase which has been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the agricultural land is located.
   c. An individual who owns the agricultural land under devise or by operation of the inheritance laws, where the whole interest passes or where the divided interest is shared only by individuals related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, or adoption.
   d. An individual who owns the agricultural land under a deed which conveys a divided interest, where the divided interest is shared only by individuals related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, or adoption.
   e. A partnership where all partners are related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage, or adoption.
   f. A family farm corporation or authorized farm corporation, as both are defined in section 172C.1, which owns the agricultural land.

425A.3 Where credit given.
1. The family farm tax credit fund shall be apportioned each year in the manner provided in this chapter so as to give a credit against the tax on each eligible tract of agricultural land within the several school districts of the state in which the levy for the general school fund exceeds five dollars and forty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value. The amount of the credit on each eligible tract of agricultural land shall be the amount the tax levied for the general school fund exceeds the amount of tax which would be levied on each eligible tract of agricultural land were the levy for the general school fund five dollars and forty cents per thousand dollars of assigned value for the previous year. However, in the case of a deficiency in the family farm tax credit fund to pay the credits in full, the credit on each eligible tract of agricultural land in the state shall be proportionate and applied as provided in this chapter.

2. An eligible tract of agricultural land qualifies for the credit computed under subsection 1 if the tract is owned by an owner as defined in section 425A.2 and a designated person is actively engaged in farming during the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year in which the auditor computes the amount of the credit under section 425A.5 for which the tract would be eligible. Notwithstanding the foregoing sentence, the “actively engaged in farming” requirement is satisfied if the designated person is in gener-ral control of the tract under a federal program pertaining to agricultural land.

3. The county board of supervisors shall determine the eligibility of each tract for which an application is received.

425A.4 Claim for credit.

1. To apply for the credit, the person shall each year between July 1 and October 15 deliver to the county assessor a verified statement and designation of the tracts of agricultural land for which the credit is claimed. The assessor shall return the statement and designation on or before November 15 of each year to the county board of supervisors with a recommendation for allowance or disallowance.

2. The county board of supervisors in each county shall examine all claims delivered to county assessors, and shall either allow or disallow the claims, and if disallowed shall send notice of disallowance by regular mail to the claimant at the claimant’s last known address. The claimant may appeal the decision of the board to the district court in which the tract for which the credit is claimed is situated by giving written notice of the appeal to the county board of supervisors within twenty days from the date of the mailing of the notice of the decision of the board of supervisors.

425A.5 Computation by county auditor.
The family farm tax credit allowed each year shall be computed as follows: On or before March 1, the county auditor shall list by school districts all tracts of agricultural land which are entitled to credit, the taxable value for the previous year, the budget from each school district for the previous year, and the tax rate determined for the general fund of the school district in the manner prescribed in section 444.3 for the previous year, and if the tax rate is in excess of five dollars and forty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value, the auditor shall multiply the tax levy which is in excess of five dollars and forty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value by the total taxable value of the agricultural land entitled to credit in the school district, and on or before March 1, certify the total amount of credit and the total number of acres entitled to the credit to the department of revenue and finance.

425A.6 Warrants drawn by director — proration.

After receiving from the county auditors the certifications provided for in section 425A.5, and during the following fiscal year, the director of revenue and finance shall draw warrants on the family farm tax credit fund created in section 425A.1, payable to the county treasurers in the amount certified by the county auditors of the respective counties and mail the warrants to the county auditors on June 1 of each year taking into consideration the relative budget and cash position of the state resources. However, if the family farm tax credit fund is insufficient to pay in full the total of the amounts certified to the director of revenue and finance, the director shall prorate the fund to the county treasurers and shall notify the county auditors of the pro rata percentage on or before June 1.
CHAPTER 426
AGRICULTURAL LAND TAX CREDIT

426.1 Agricultural land credit fund.
There is hereby created as a permanent fund in the office of the treasurer of state a fund to be known as the agricultural land credit fund, and for the purpose of establishing and maintaining said fund for each fiscal year there is appropriated thereto from funds in the general fund not otherwise appropriated the sum of forty-three million five hundred thousand dollars. Any balance in said fund on June 30 shall revert to the general fund.

CHAPTER 426A
MILITARY SERVICE TAX CREDIT

426A.1 Appropriation.
There is appropriated from the general fund of the state the amounts necessary to fund the credits provided under this chapter.

CHAPTER 427
PROPERTY EXEMPT AND TAXABLE

427.1 Exemptions.
The following classes of property shall not be taxed:
1. Federal and state property The property of the United States and this state, including state university, university of science and technology, and school lands. The exemption herein provided shall not include any real property subject to taxation under any federal statute applicable thereto, but such exemption shall extend to and include all machinery and equipment owned exclusively by the United States or any corporate agency or instrumentality thereof without regard to the manner of the affixation of such machinery and equipment to the land or building upon or in which such property is located, until such time as the Congress of the United States shall expressly authorize the taxation of such machinery and equipment.
2. Municipal and military property The property of a county, township, city, school corporation, levee district, drainage district or military company of the state of Iowa, when devoted to public use and not held for pecuniary profit, except property of a municipally owned electric utility held under joint ownership and property of an electric power facility financed under chapter 28F which shall be subject to assessment and taxation under provisions of chapters 428 and 437. The exemption for property owned by a city or county also applies to property which is operated by a city or county as a library, art gallery or museum, conservatory, botanical garden or display, observatory or science museum, or as a location for holding athletic contests, sports or entertainment events, expositions, meetings or conventions, or leased from the city or county for any such purposes. Food and beverages may be served at the events or locations without affecting the exemptions, provided the city has approved the serving of food and beverages on the property if the property is owned by the city or the county has approved the serving of food and beverages on the property if the property is owned by the county.

3. Public grounds and cemeteries Public grounds, including all places for the burial of the dead; and crematoriums with the land, not exceeding one acre, on which they are built and appurtenant thereto, so long as no dividends or profits are derived therefrom.

4. Fire equipment and grounds Fire engines and all implements for extinguishing fires, and the publicly owned buildings and grounds used exclusively for keeping them and for meetings of fire companies.

5. Public securities Bonds or certificates issued by any municipality, school district, drainage or levee district, river-front improvement commission or county within the state of Iowa. No deduction from the assessment of the shares of stock of any bank or trust company shall be permitted because such bank or trust company holds such bonds as are exempted above.

6. Property of associations of war veterans The property of any organization composed wholly of veterans of any war, when such property is devoted entirely to its own use and not held for pecuniary profit.

7. Property of cemetery associations Burial grounds, mausoleums, buildings and equipment owned and operated by cemetery associations and used exclusively for the maintenance and care of the cemeteries devoted to interment of human bodies and human remains. The exemption granted by this subsection shall not apply to any property used for the practice of mortuary science.

8. Libraries and art galleries All grounds and buildings used for public libraries, public art galleries, and libraries and art galleries owned and kept by private individuals, associations, or corporations, for public use and not for private profit.

9. Property of religious, literary, and charitable societies All grounds and buildings used or under construction by literary, scientific, charitable, benevolent, agricultural, and religious institutions and societies solely for their appropriate objects, not exceeding three hundred twenty acres in extent and not leased or otherwise used or under construction with a view to pecuniary profit. However, an organization mentioned in this subsection whose primary objective is to preserve land in its natural state may own or lease land not exceeding three hundred twenty acres in each county for its appropriate objects. All deeds or leases by which such property is held shall be filed for record before the property herein described shall be omitted from the assessment. All such property shall be listed upon the tax rolls of the district or districts in which it is located and shall have ascribed to it an actual fair market value and an assessed or taxable value be ascribed to it, as contemplated by section 441.21, irrespective of whether an exemption under this subsection may be or is affirmed, and the information shall be open to public inspection; it being the intent of this section that the property be valued whether or not it be subject to a levy. Every educational institution claiming an exemption under this subsection shall file with the assessor not later than February 1 of the year for which the exemption is requested, a statement upon forms to be prescribed by the director of revenue and finance, describing and locating the property upon which exemption is claimed. Property which is located on the campus grounds and used for student union purposes may serve food and beverages without affecting its exemption received pursuant to subsection 9 or this subsection.

10. Reserved.

11. Property of educational institutions Real estate owned by any educational institution of this state as a part of its endowment fund, to the extent of one hundred sixty acres in any civil township except any real property acquired after January 1, 1965, by any educational institution as a part of its endowment fund or upon which any income is derived or used, directly or indirectly, for full or partial payment for services rendered, shall be taxed beginning with the levies applied for taxes payable in the year 1967, at the same rate as all other property of the same class in the taxing district in which the real property is located. The property acquired prior to January 1, 1965, and held or owned as part of the endowment fund of an educational institution shall be subject to assessment and levy in the assessment year 1974 for taxes payable in 1975. All the property shall be listed on the assessment rolls in the district in which the property is located and an actual fair market value and an assessed or taxable value be ascribed to it, as contemplated by section 441.21, irrespective of whether an exemption under this subsection may be or is affirmed, and the information shall be open to public inspection; it being the intent of this section that the property be valued whether or not it be subject to a levy. Every educational institution claiming an exemption under this subsection shall file with the assessor not later than February 1 of the year for which the exemption is requested, a statement upon forms to be prescribed by the director of revenue and finance, describing and locating the property upon which exemption is claimed. Property which is located on the campus grounds and used for student union purposes may serve food and beverages without affecting its exemption received pursuant to subsection 9 or this subsection.

12. Homes for soldiers The buildings and grounds of homes owned and operated by organizations of soldiers, sailors, or marines of any of the wars of the United States when used for a home for disabled soldiers, sailors, or marines and not operated for pecuniary profit.

13. Agricultural produce Growing agricultural and horticultural crops except commercial orchards and vineyards.

14. Rent Obligations for rent not yet due and owned by the original payee.

15. Reserved.

16. Reserved.

17. Government lands Government lands entered and located, or lands purchased from this state, for the year in which the entry, location, or purchase is made.

18. Fraternal beneficiary funds The accumulations and funds held or possessed by fraternal beneficiary associations for the purposes of paying the benefits contemplated by section 512B.16, or for the payment of the expenses of the associations.

19. Capital stock of companies The shares of capital stock of telegraph and telephone companies, freight-line and equipment companies, transmission line companies as defined in section 457.1, express companies, domestic corporations engaged in manufacturing as defined in section 428.20, and manufacturing corporations organized under the laws of other states having their main operating offices and principal factories in the state of Iowa, and corporations not organized for pecuniary profit.

20 Public airports Any lands, the use of which (without charge by or compensation to the holder of the legal title thereto) has been granted to and accepted by the state or any political subdivision thereof for airport or aircraft landing area purposes.

22 Pension and welfare plans All intangible property held pursuant to any pension, profit-sharing, unemployment compensation, stock bonus or other retirement, deferred benefit or employee welfare plan the income from which is exempt from taxation under divisions II and III of chapter 422.

23 Statement of objects and uses filed A society or organization claiming an exemption under subsection 6 or subsection 9 of this section shall file with the assessor not later than February 1 a statement upon forms to be prescribed by the director of revenue and finance, describing the nature of the property upon which the exemption is claimed and setting out in detail any uses and income from the property derived from the rentals, leases, or other uses of the property not solely for the appropriate objects of the society or organization. Upon the filing and allowance of the claim, the claim shall be allowed on the property for successive years without further filing as long as the property is used for the purposes specified in the original claim for exemption. When the property is sold or transferred, the county recorder shall provide notice of the transfer to the assessor. The notice shall describe the property transferred and the name of the person to whom title to the property is transferred.

The assessor, in arriving at the valuation of any property of the society or organization, shall take into consideration any uses of the property not for the appropriate objects of the organization and shall assess in the same manner as other property, all or any portion of the property involved which is leased or rented and is used regularly for commercial purposes for a profit to a party or individual. If a portion of the property is used regularly for commercial purposes an exemption shall not be allowed upon property so used and the exemption granted shall be in the proportion of the value of the property used solely for the appropriate objects of the organization, to the entire value of the property. However, the board of trustees or the board of directors of a hospital, as defined in section 135B1, subsection 1, may permit use of a portion of the hospital for commercial purposes, and the hospital is entitled to full exemption for that portion used for nonprofit health related purposes, upon compliance with the filing requirements of this subsection.

An exemption shall not be granted upon property upon or in which persistent violations of the laws of the state are permitted. A claimant of an exemption shall, under oath, declare that no violations of law will be knowingly permitted or have been permitted on or after January 1 of the year in which a tax exemption is requested. Claims for exemption shall be verified under oath by the president or other responsible head of the organization. A society or organization which ceases to use the property for the purposes stated in the claim shall provide written notice to the assessor of the change in use.

24 Delayed claims In any case where no such claim for exemption has been made to the assessor prior to the time the assessor's books are completed, such claims may be filed with the local board of review or with the county auditor not later than July 1 of the year for which such exemption from taxation is claimed, and a proper assessment shall be made either by the board of review or by the county auditor, if said property is all or in part subject to taxation.

25 Mandatory denial No exemption shall be granted upon any property which is the location of federally licensed devices not lawfully permitted to operate under the laws of the state.

26 Revoking exemption Any taxpayer or any taxing district may make application to the director of revenue and finance for revocation for any exemption, based upon alleged violations of this chapter. The director of revenue and finance may also on the director's own motion set aside any exemption which has been granted upon property for which exemption is claimed under this chapter. The director of revenue and finance shall give notice by mail to the societies or organizations claiming an exemption upon property, exemption of which is questioned before or by the director of revenue and finance, and any order made by the director of revenue and finance revoking or modifying an exemption is subject to judicial review in accordance with the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of that Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court having jurisdiction in the county in which the property is located, and must be filed within thirty days after any order revoking an exemption is made by the director of revenue and finance.

27 Tax provisions for armed forces If any person enters any branch of the armed service of the United States in time of national emergency, all personal property used in making the livelihood, in excess of three hundred dollars in value, of such person shall be assessed but no tax shall be due if such person upon return from service, or in event of the person's death if the person's executor, administrator or next of kin, executes an affidavit to the county assessor that such property was not used in any manner during the person's absence, the tax as assessed thereon shall be waived and no payment shall be required.

29 Reserved

30 Rural water sales The real property of a nonprofit corporation engaged in the distribution and sale of water to rural areas when devoted to public use and not held for pecuniary profit.

31 Assessed value of exempt property Each county and city assessor shall determine the assessment value that would be assigned to the property if it were taxable and value all tax exempt property within the assessor’s jurisdiction. A summary report of tax exempt property shall be filed with the director of revenue and finance and the local board of review on or before April 16 of each year on forms prescribed by the director of revenue and finance.

32 Pollution control. Pollution-control property as defined in this subsection shall be exempt from taxation to the extent provided in this subsection, upon compliance with the provisions of this subsection.

This exemption shall apply to new installations of pollution-control property beginning on January 1 after the construction or installation of the property is completed. This exemption shall apply beginning on January 1, 1975, to existing pollution-control property if its construction or installation was completed after September 23, 1970.

This exemption shall be limited to the market value, as defined in section 441.21, of the pollution-control property. If the pollution-control property is assessed with other property as a unit, this exemption shall be limited to the net market value added by the pollution-control property, determined as of the assessment date.

Application for this exemption shall be filed with the assessing authority not later than the first of February of the first year for which the exemption is requested, on forms provided by the department of revenue and finance. The application shall describe and locate the specific pollution-control property to be exempted.

The application for a specific pollution-control property shall be accompanied by a certificate of the administrator of the environmental protection division of the department of natural resources certifying that the primary use of the pollution-control property is to control or abate pollution of any air or water of this state or to enhance the quality of any air or water of this state.

A taxpayer may seek judicial review of a determination of the administrator of the environmental protection division or, on appeal, of the environmental protection commission in accordance with the provisions of chapter 17A.

The environmental protection commission of the department of natural resources shall adopt rules relating to certification under this subsection and information to be submitted for evaluating pollution-control property for which a certificate is requested. The department of revenue and finance shall adopt any rules necessary to implement this subsection, including rules on identification and valuation of pollution-control property. All rules adopted shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 17A.

For the purposes of this subsection “pollution control property” means personal property or improvements to real property, or any portion thereof, used primarily to control or abate pollution of any air or water of this state or used primarily to enhance the quality of any air or water of this state. In the event such property shall also serve other purposes or uses of productive benefit to the owner of the property, only such portion of the assessed valuation thereof as may reasonably be calculated to be necessary for and devoted to the control or abatement of pollution or to the enhancement of the quality of the air or water of this state shall be exempt from taxation under this subsection.

For the purposes of this subsection “pollution” means air pollution as defined in section 455B.131 or water pollution as defined in section 455B.171. “Water of the state” means the water of the state as defined in section 455B.171. “Enhance the quality” means to diminish the level of pollutants below the air or water quality standards established by the environmental protection commission of the department of natural resources.

33 Impoundment structures. The impoundment structure and any land underlying an impoundment located outside an incorporated city, which are not developed or used directly or indirectly for nonagricultural income-producing purposes and which are maintained in a condition satisfactory to the soil and water conservation district commissioners of the county in which the impoundment structure and the impoundment are located. A person owning land which qualifies for a property tax exemption under this subsection shall apply to the county assessor each year before the first of July for the exemption. The application shall be made on forms prescribed by the department of revenue and finance. The first application shall be accompanied by a copy of the water storage permit approved by the administrator of the environmental protection division of the department of natural resources and a copy of the plan for the construction of the impoundment structure and the impoundment. The construction plan shall be used to determine the total acre-feet of the impoundment and the amount of land which is eligible for the property tax exemption status. The county assessor shall annually review each application for the property tax exemption under this subsection and submit it, with the recommendation of the soil and water conservation district commissioners, to the board of supervisors for approval or denial. An applicant for a property tax exemption under this subsection may appeal the decision of the board of supervisors to the district court. As used in this subsection, “impoundment” means a reservoir or pond which has a storage capacity of at least eighteen acre-feet of water or sediment at the time of construction, “storage capacity” means the total area below the crest elevation of the principal spillway including the volume of any excavation in the area, and “impoundment structure” means a dam, earthfill, or other structure used to create an impoundment.

34 Low rent housing. The property owned and operated by a nonprofit organization providing low-rent housing for the elderly and the physically and mentally handicapped. The exemption granted... under the provisions of this subsection shall apply only until the terms of the original low-rent housing development mortgage is paid in full or expires, subject to the provisions of subsections 23 and 24.

35. Reserved.

36. Natural conservation or wildlife areas. Recreational lakes, forest covers, rivers and streams, river and stream banks, and open prairies as designated by the board of supervisors of the county in which located. The board of supervisors shall annually designate the real property, not to exceed in the aggregate for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983, the greater of one percent of the acres assessed as agricultural land or three thousand acres in each county, for which this exemption shall apply. For subsequent fiscal years, the limitation on the maximum acreage of real property that may be granted exemptions shall be the limitation for the previous fiscal year, unless the amount of acreage granted exemptions for the previous fiscal year equaled the limitation for that year, then the limitation for the subsequent fiscal year is the limitation for the previous fiscal year plus an increase, not to exceed three hundred acres, of ten percent of that limitation. The procedures of this subsection shall be followed for each assessment year to procure an exemption for the fiscal year beginning in the assessment year. The exemption shall be only for the fiscal year for which it is granted. A parcel of property may be granted subsequent exemptions. The exemption shall only be granted for parcels of property of two acres or more.

Application for this exemption shall be filed with the commissioners of the soil and water conservation district in which the property is located, not later than April 15 of the assessment year, on forms provided by the department of revenue and finance. The application shall describe and locate the property to be exempted and have attached to it an aerial photo of that property on which is outlined the boundaries of the property to be exempted. In the case of an open prairie which is or includes a gully area susceptible to severe erosion, an approved erosion control plan must accompany the application. Upon receipt of the application, the commissioners shall certify whether the property is eligible to receive the exemption. The commissioners shall not withhold certification of the eligibility of property because of the existence upon the property of an abandoned building or structure which is not used for economic gain. If the commissioners certify that the property is eligible, the application shall be forwarded to the board of supervisors by May 1 of that assessment year with the certification of the eligible acreage. An application must be accompanied by an affidavit signed by the applicant that if an exemption is granted, the property will not be used for economic gain during the assessment year in which the exemption is granted.

Before the board of supervisors may designate real property for the exemption, it shall establish priorities for the types of real property for which an exemption may be granted and the amount of acreage. These priorities may be the same as or different than those for previous years. The board of supervisors shall get the approval of the governing body of the city before an exemption may be granted to real property located within the corporate limits of that city. A public hearing shall be held with notice given as provided in section 23.2 at which the proposed priority list shall be presented. However, no public hearing is required if the proposed priorities are the same as those for the previous year. After the public hearing, the board of supervisors shall adopt by resolution the proposed priority list or another priority list. Property upon which are located abandoned buildings or structures shall have the lowest priority on the list adopted, except where the board of supervisors determines that a structure has historic significance. The board of supervisors shall also provide for a procedure where the amount of acres for which exemptions are sought exceeds the amount the priority list provides for that type or in the aggregate for all types.

After receipt of an application with its accompanying certification and affidavit and the establishment of the priority list, the board of supervisors may grant a tax exemption under this subsection using the established priority list as a mandate. Real property designated for the tax exemption shall be designated by May 15 of the assessment year in which begins the fiscal year for which the exemption is granted. Notification shall be sent to the county auditor and the applicant.

The board of supervisors does not have to grant tax exemptions under this subsection, grant tax exemptions in the aggregate of the maximum acreage which may be granted exemptions, or grant a tax exemption for the total acreage for which the applicant requested the exemption. Only real property in parcels of two acres or more which is recreational lakes, forest cover, river and stream, river and stream banks, or open prairie and which is utilized for the purposes of providing soil erosion control or wildlife habitat or both, and which is subject to property tax for the fiscal year for which the tax exemption is requested, is eligible for the exemption under this subsection. However, in addition to the above, in order for a gully area which is susceptible to severe erosion to be eligible, there must be an erosion control plan for it approved by the commissioners of the soil and water conservation district in which it is located. In the case of an exemption for river and stream or river and stream banks, the exemption shall not be granted unless there is included in the exemption land located at least thirty-three feet from the ordinary high water mark of the river and stream or river and stream banks. Property shall not be denied an exemption because of the existence upon the property of an abandoned building or structure which is not used for economic gain. If the real property is located within a city, the approval of the governing body must be obtained before the real property is eligible for an exemption. For purposes of this subsection:

a. "Open prairies" includes hillsides and gully.
areas which have a permanent grass cover but does not include native prairies meeting the criteria of the natural resource commission.

b. "Forest cover" means land which is predominantly wooded.

c. "Recreational lake" means a body of water, which is not a river or stream, owned solely by a non-profit organization and primarily used for boating, fishing, swimming and other recreational purposes.

d. "Used for economic gain" includes, but is not limited to, using property for the storage of equipment, machinery, or crops.

Notwithstanding other requirements under this subsection, the owner of any property lying between a river or stream and a dike which is required to be set back three hundred feet or less from the river or stream shall automatically be granted an exemption for that property upon submission of an application accompanied by an affidavit signed by the applicant that if the exemption is granted the property will not be used for economic gain during the period of exemption. The exemption shall continue from year to year for as long as the property qualifies and is not used for economic gain, without need for filing additional applications or affidavits. Property exempted pursuant to this paragraph is in addition to the maximum acreage applicable to other exemptions under this subsection.

37 Native prairie and wetland. Land designated as native prairie or land designated as a protected wetland by the department of natural resources pursuant to section 108.12 Application for the exemption shall be made on forms provided by the department of revenue and finance. Land designated as a protected wetland shall be assessed at a value equal to the average value of the land where the wetland is located and which is owned by the person granted the exemption. The application forms shall be filed with the assessing authority not later than the first of February of the year for which the exemption is requested. The application must be accompanied by an affidavit signed by the applicant that if the exemption is granted, the property will not be used for economic gain during the assessment year in which the exemption is granted. If the property is used for economic gain during the assessment year in which the exemption is granted, the property shall lose its tax exemption and shall be taxed at the rate levied by the county for the fiscal year beginning in that assessment year. The first annual application shall be accompanied by a certificate from the department of natural resources stating that the land is native prairie or protected wetland. The department of natural resources shall issue a certificate for the native prairie exemption if the department finds that the land has never been cultivated, is unimproved, is primarily a mixture of warm season grasses interspersed with flowering plants, and meets the other criteria established by the natural resource commission for native prairie. The department of natural resources shall issue a certificate for the wetland exemption if the department finds the land is a protected wetland as defined under section 108.1, or if the wetland was previously drained and cropped but has been restored under a nonpermanent restoration agreement with the department or other county, state, or federal agency or private conservation group. A taxpayer may seek judicial review of a decision of the department according to chapter 17A. The natural resource commission shall adopt rules to implement this subsection.

The assessing authority each year may submit to the department a claim for reimbursement of tax revenue lost from the exemption. Upon receipt of the claim, the department shall reimburse the assessing authority an amount equal to the lost tax revenue based on the value of the protected wetland as assessed by the authority, unless the department reimburses the authority based upon a departmental assessment of the protected wetland. The authority may contest the department's assessment as provided in chapter 17A. The department is not required to honor a claim submitted more than sixty days after the authority has assessed land where the protected wetland is located and which is owned by the person granted the exemption.

38 Land certified as a wildlife habitat. The owner of agricultural land may designate not more than two acres of the land for use as a wildlife habitat. After inspection, if the land meets the standards established by the natural resource commission for a wildlife habitat under section 110.3, the department of natural resources shall certify the designated land as a wildlife habitat and shall send a copy of the certification to the appropriate assessor. The department of natural resources may subsequently withdraw certification of the designated land if it fails to meet the established standards for a wildlife habitat and the assessor shall be given written notice of the decertification.

39 Right of way. Railroad right-of-way and improvements on the right-of-way only during that period of time that the Iowa railway finance authority holds an option to purchase the right of way under section 307B.24.

40 Public television station. All grounds and buildings used or under construction for a public television station and not leased or otherwise used or under construction for pecuniary profit.

41 Speculative shell buildings of community development organizations. New construction of shell buildings by community development organizations for speculative purposes or the portion of the value added to buildings being reconstructed or renovated by community development organizations in order to become speculative shell buildings. The exemption or partial exemption shall be allowed only pursuant to ordinance of a city council or board of supervisors and shall be effective for the assessment year in which the building is first assessed for property taxation or the assessment year in which the reconstruction or renovation first adds value and all subsequent years until the property is leased or sold or for a specific time period stated in the ordinance.
or until the exemption is terminated by ordinance of the city council or board of supervisors which approved the exemption. If the shell building or any portion of the shell building is leased or sold, the portion of the shell building which is leased or sold shall not be entitled to an exemption under this subsection for subsequent years. An application shall be filed pursuant to section 427B.4 for each project for which an exemption is claimed. Upon the sale of the shell building, the shell building shall be considered new construction for purposes of section 427B.1 if used for purposes set forth in section 427B.1.

For purposes of this subsection the following definitions apply:

a. (1) "Community development organization" means an organization, which meets the membership requirements of subparagraph (2), formed within a city or county or multicommunity group for one or more of the following purposes:

(a) To promote, stimulate, develop, and advance the business prosperity and economic welfare of the community, area, or region and its citizens.

(b) To encourage and assist the location of new business and industry.

(c) To rehabilitate and assist existing business and industry.

(d) To stimulate and assist in the expansion of business activity.

(2) For purposes of this definition, a community development organization must have at least fifteen members with representation from the following:

(a) A representative from government at the level or levels corresponding to the community development organization’s area of operation.

(b) A representative from a private sector lending institution.

(c) A representative of a community organization in the area.

(d) A representative of business in the area.

(e) A representative of private citizens in the community, area, or region.

b. "New construction" means new buildings or structures and includes new buildings or structures which are constructed as additions to existing buildings or structures. "New construction" also includes reconstruction or renovation of an existing building or structure which constitutes complete replacement of an existing building or structure or refitting of an existing building or structure, if the reconstruction or renovation of the existing building or structure is required due to economic obsolescence, if the reconstruction or renovation is necessary to implement recognized industry standards for the manufacturing or processing of products, and the reconstruction or renovation is required in order to competitively manufacture or process products or for community development organizations to market a building or structure as a speculative shell building, which determination must receive prior approval from the city council of the city or county board of supervisors of the county.

c. "Speculative shell building" means a building or structure owned and constructed or reconstructed by a community development organization without a tenant or buyer for the purpose of attracting an employer or user which will complete the building to the employer’s or user’s specification for manufacturing, processing, or warehousing the employer’s or user’s product line.

42. Joint water utilities. The property of a joint water utility established under chapter 389, when devoted to public use and not held for pecuniary profit.

427.3 Military service — exemptions.

The following exemptions from taxation shall be allowed:

1. The property, not to exceed one hundred eleven dollars in taxable value of an honorably discharged union soldier, sailor, or marine of the Mexican war or the war of the rebellion.

2. The property, not to exceed six thousand six hundred sixty-seven dollars in taxable value of an honorably discharged soldier, sailor, marine or nurse of the war with Spain, Tyler Rangers, Colorado volunteers in the war of the rebellion, 1861 to 1865, Indian wars, Chinese relief expedition or Philippine insurrection.

3. The property, not to exceed two thousand seven hundred seventy-eight dollars in taxable value of any honorably discharged soldier, sailor, marine, or nurse of the first World War.

4. The property, not to exceed one thousand eight hundred fifty-two dollars in taxable value of an honorably separated, retired, furloughed to a reserve, placed on inactive status, or discharged soldier, sailor, marine, or nurse of the second World War from December 7, 1941, to December 31, 1946, army of occupation in Germany from November 12, 1918, to July 11, 1923, American expeditionary forces in Siberia from November 12, 1918, to April 30, 1920, second Nicaraguan campaign with the navy or marines in Nicaragua or on combatant ships 1926-1933, second Haitian suppression of insurrections 1919-1920, navy and marine operations in China 1937-1939 and Yangtze service with navy and marines in Shanghai or in the Yangtze Valley 1926-1927 and 1930-1932 or of the Korean Conflict at any time between June 25, 1950, and January 31, 1955, both dates inclusive, or those who served on active duty during the Vietnam Conflict beginning December 22, 1961, and ending May 7, 1975, both dates inclusive, or those who served on active duty during the Persian Gulf Conflict at any time between August 2, 1990, and the date the president or the congress of the United States declares a permanent cessation of hostilities, both dates inclusive. However, if congress enacts a date different from August 2, 1990, as the beginning of the Persian Gulf Conflict for purposes of determining whether a veteran is entitled to receive military benefits as a veteran of the Persian Gulf Conflict, that date shall be substituted for August 2, 1990. For the purposes of this section, “active duty” means full-time duty in the armed forces of the United States, excluding active duty for training purposes only and excluding any period a person was assigned by the armed forces to a civilian institution for a course of education or training which was substantially the same as established courses offered to civilians, or as a cadet or midshipman, however enrolled, at one of the service academies.

5. Where the word “soldier” appears in this chapter, it includes, without limitation, the members of the United States air force and the United States merchant marine.

6. For the purpose of determining a military tax exemption under this section, property includes a mobile home as defined in section 135D.1.

427.8 Petition for suspension or abatement of taxes, assessments, and rates or charges.

If a person is unable to contribute to the public revenue, the person may file a petition, duly sworn to, with the board of supervisors, stating that fact and giving a statement of parcels, as defined in section 445.1, owned or possessed by the petitioner, and other information as the board may require. The board of supervisors may order the county treasurer to suspend the collection of the taxes, special assessments, and rates or charges which are assessed against the petitioner or the petitioner’s estate for the current year and those unpaid for prior years, or the board may abate the taxes, special assessments, and rates or charges. The petition, when approved, shall be filed by March 1 of the current tax year with the treasurer.

427.9 Suspension of taxes, assessments, and rates or charges.

If a person is a recipient of federal supplementary security income or state supplementary assistance, as defined in section 249.1, or is a resident of a health care facility, as defined by section 135C.1, which is receiving payment from the department of human services for the person’s care, the person shall be deemed to be unable to contribute to the public revenue. The director of human services shall notify the board of supervisors, of the county in which the assisted person owns parcels, as defined in section 445.1, of the fact, giving a statement of parcels owned, possessed, or upon which the person is paying taxes as a purchaser under contract. The board of supervisors so notified, without the filing of a petition and statement as specified in section 427.8, shall order the county treasurer to suspend the collection of all the taxes, special assessments, and rates or charges assessed against the parcels and remaining unpaid by the person or contractually payable by the person, for such time as the person remains the owner or contractually prospective owner of the parcels, and during the period the person receives assistance as described in this section. The director of human services shall advise the person that the person may apply for an additional property tax credit pursuant to sections 425.16 to 425.39 which shall be credited against the amount of the taxes suspended.

427.12 Suspended tax record.

The county treasurer shall maintain within the county system, as defined in section 445.1, the official record of suspended taxes, special assessments, and rates or charges, the collection of which has been suspended by order of the board of supervisors. The record shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

1. A governmental or platted description of the parcel on which the tax, special assessment, rate, or charge has been levied or on which it is a lien.
2. The name of the owner of the parcel.
3. The amount and year of the tax, special assessment, rate or charge.
4. The date the suspension was ordered.

The county system, as defined in section 445.1, shall be such that all entries of taxes, special assessments, rates, or charges against the parcel shall be separate from the entry of taxes, special assessments, rates, or charges against all other parcels. If a suspended tax, special assessment, or rate or charge in the county system is paid, or subsequently abated, the treasurer shall enter in the county system a notification of payment or abatement.

When a suspension ordered by the board of supervisors for any reason provided by law, has been entered in the county system, the entry, on and after its date, is a lien and shall serve as notice of a lien in accordance with section 445.10.

CHAPTER 427A
PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX CREDIT

427A.13 Appropriation.
There is appropriated from the general fund of the state to the personal property tax replacement fund the following sums, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to carry out the provisions of this chapter as amended by this division. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1973, and ending June 30, 1974, there is appropriated the sum of thirty-one million nine hundred thousand dollars. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1974, and ending June 30, 1975, and each succeeding fiscal year, there is appropriated the sum of thirty-five million seven hundred thousand dollars. For each year of the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1977, and ending June 30, 1979, the total appropriation shall be thirty-eight million six hundred thousand dollars. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1983, and ending June 30, 1984, the total appropriation shall be forty-six million two hundred thousand dollars. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984, and ending June 30, 1985, the total appropriation shall be twenty-three million one hundred thousand dollars. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1985, and ending June 30, 1986, and each succeeding fiscal year, the total appropriation shall be an amount equal to the amount paid on May 15 of the preceding fiscal year plus one-half of the amount needed to fund the additional personal property tax credit payable in that fiscal year. In each fiscal year for which an increase in the additional personal property tax credit becomes effective as provided in this division, the appropriation under this section shall be increased by three million eight hundred thousand dollars, and this increased appropriation shall continue for each succeeding fiscal year. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, the total appropriation shall be fifty-seven million five hundred thousand dollars. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988, the total appropriation shall be thirty-two million five hundred thousand dollars. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989, and for each succeeding fiscal year, the total appropriation shall be zero.

CHAPTER 428A
TAXATION OF REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

428A.1 Amount of tax on transfers — declaration of value.
There is imposed on each deed, instrument, or writing by which any lands, tenements, or other realty in this state are granted, assigned, transferred, or otherwise conveyed, a tax determined in the following manner: When there is no consideration or when the deed instrument or writing is executed and tendered for recording as an instrument corrective of title, and so states, there is no tax. When there is consideration and the actual market value of the real property transferred is in excess of five hundred dollars, the tax is eighty cents for each five hundred dollars or fractional part of five hundred dollars in excess of five hundred dollars. The term "consideration", as used in this chapter, means the full amount of the actual sale price of the real property involved, paid or to be paid, including the amount of an encumbrance or lien on the property, whether assumed or not by the grantee. It is presumed that the sale price so stated includes the value of all personal property transferred as part of the sale unless the dollar value of personal property is stated on the instrument of conveyance. When the dollar value of the personal property included in the sale is so stated, it shall be deducted from the consideration shown on the instrument for the purpose of determining the tax.

When each deed, instrument, or writing by which any real property in this state is granted, assigned, transferred, or otherwise conveyed is presented for recording to the county recorder, a declaration of value signed by at least one of the sellers or one of the buyers or their agents shall be submitted to the county recorder. A declaration of value is not required for those instruments described in section 428A.2, subsections 2 to 5, 7 to 13, and 16 to 20, or described in section 428A.2, subsection 6, except in the case of a federal agency or instrumentality, or if a transfer is the result of acquisition of lands, whether by contract or condemnation, for public purposes through an exercise of the power of eminent domain. The declaration of value shall state the full consideration paid for the real property transferred. If agricultural land, as defined in section 172C.1, is purchased by a corporation, limited partnership, trust, alien or nonresident alien, the declaration of value shall include the name and address of the buyer, the name and address of the seller, a legal description of the agricultural land, and identify the buyer as a corporation, limited partnership, trust, alien, or nonresident alien. The county recorder shall not record the declaration of value, but shall enter on the declaration of value information the director of revenue and finance requires for the production of the sales/assessment ratio study and transmit all declarations of value to the city or county assessor in whose jurisdiction the property is located. The city or county assessor shall enter on the declaration of value the information the director of revenue and finance requires for the production of the sales/assessment ratio study and transmit one copy of each declaration of value to the director of revenue and finance, at times as directed by the director of revenue and finance. The assessor shall retain one copy of each declaration of value for three years from December 31 of the year in which the transfer of realty for which the declaration was filed took place. The director of revenue and finance shall, upon receipt of the information required to be filed under this chapter by the city or county assessor, send to the office of the secretary of state that part of the declaration of value which identifies a corporation, limited partnership, trust, alien, or nonresident alien as a purchaser of agricultural land as defined in section 172C.1.

428A.2 Exceptions.
The tax imposed by this chapter shall not apply to:
1. Any executory contract for the sale of land under which the vendee is entitled to or does take possession thereof, or any assignment or cancellation thereof.
2. Any instrument of mortgage, assignment, extension, partial release, or satisfaction thereof.
3. Any will.
4. Any plat.
5. Any lease.
6. Any deed, instrument, or writing in which the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof or the state of Iowa or any agency, instrumentality, or governmental or political subdivision thereof is the grantor, assignor, transferor, or conveyee; and any deed, instrument or writing in which any of such unit of government is the grantee or assignee where there is no consideration.
7. Deeds for cemetery lots.
8. Deeds which secure a debt or other obligation, except those included in the sale of real property.
9. Deeds for the release of a security interest in property excepting those pertaining to the sale of real estate.
10. Deeds which, without additional consideration, confirm, correct, modify, or supplement a deed previously recorded.
11. Deeds between husband and wife, or parent and child, without actual consideration. A cancellation of indebtedness alone which is secured by the property being transferred and which is not greater than the fair market value of the property being transferred is not actual consideration within the meaning of this subsection.

12. Tax deeds.

13. Deeds of partition where the interest conveyed is without consideration. However, if any of the parties take shares greater in value than their undivided interest a tax is due on the greater values, computed at the rate set out in section 428A.1.

14. The making or delivering of instruments of transfer resulting from a corporate merger, consolidation, or reorganization under the laws of the United States or any state thereof, where such instrument states such fact on the face thereof.

15. Deeds between a family corporation, partnership, or its stockholders or partners for the purpose of transferring real property in an incorporation or corporate dissolution or the organization or dissolution of a partnership or limited partnership under the laws of this state, where the deeds are given for no actual consideration other than for shares or for debt securities of the corporation, partnership, or limited partnership. For purposes of this subsection a family corporation, partnership, or limited partnership is a corporation, partnership, or limited partnership where the majority of the voting stock of the corporation, or of the ownership shares of the partnership or limited partnership is held by and the majority of the stockholders or partners are persons related to each other as spouse, parent, grandparent, lineal ascendants of grandparents or their spouses and other lineal descendants of the grandparents or their spouses, or persons acting in a fiduciary capacity for persons so related and where all of its stockholders or partners are natural persons or persons acting in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of natural persons.

16. Deeds for the transfer of property or the transfer of an interest in property when the deed is executed between former spouses pursuant to a decree of dissolution of marriage.

17. Deeds transferring easements.

18. Deeds giving back real property to lienholders in lieu of forfeitures or foreclosures.

20. Deeds transferring distributions of assets to heirs at law or devisees under a will.

21. Deeds in which the consideration is five hundred dollars or less.

432A.8 Remittance to state treasurer — portion retained in county.

On or before the tenth day of each month the county recorder shall determine and pay to the treasurer of state eighty-two and three-fourths percent of the receipts from the real estate transfer tax collected during the preceding month and the treasurer of state shall deposit the receipts in the general fund of the state.

The county recorder shall deposit the remaining seventeen and one-fourth percent of the receipts in the county general fund.

The county recorder shall keep records and make reports with respect to the real estate transfer tax as the director of revenue and finance prescribes.

CHAPTER 432

INSURANCE COMPANIES TAXATION

432.11 Premium tax exemption for basic benefit health plans.

Premiums collected on sales of basic benefit health policies, approved by the commissioner pursuant to chapter 514H, are exempt from premium tax.

432.12 Premium tax credit for employer-sponsored health plan premium credit.

An insurance carrier approved by the commissioner pursuant to section 514H.10 to offer a policy eligible for the premium credit provided by section 514H.12, shall receive a premium tax credit equal to the premium credit earned by participating employers pursuant to section 514H.12, subsection 2, and any additional amount allowed by the commissioner pursuant to a contract for administrative expenses.

445.1 Definition of terms.
For the purpose of this chapter and chapters 446, 447, and 448, section 331.553, subsection 3, and sections 427.8 through 427.12 and 569.8:
1. "Abate" means to cancel in their entirety all applicable amounts.
2. "Compromise" means to enter into a contractual agreement for the payment of taxes, interests, fees, and costs in amounts different from those specified by law.
3. "County system" means a method of data storage and retrieval as approved by the auditor of state including, but not limited to, tax lists, books, records, indexes, registers, or schedules.
4. "Parcel" means each separate item shown on the tax list, mobile home tax list, schedule of assessment, or schedule of rate or charge.
5. "Rate or charge" means an item legally certified to the county treasurer for collection as provided in sections 331.489, 364.11, and 364.12 and section 384.84, subsection 1.
6. "Taxes" means an annual ad valorem tax, a special assessment, a rate or charge, and taxes on mobile homes pursuant to chapter 135D which are collectible by the county treasurer.
7. "Total amount due" means the aggregate total of all taxes, penalties, interests, costs, and fees due on a parcel.

445.2 Duty of county treasurer.
The county treasurer, after making the entry provided in section 445.10, shall proceed to collect the ad valorem taxes, and the list referred to in chapter 443 is the treasurer's authority and justification against any illegality in the proceedings prior to receiving the list. The treasurer shall also collect, as far as practicable, the taxes remaining unpaid on the county system. If the taxes are not paid, the treasurer shall send a statement of delinquent taxes as part of the notice of tax sale as provided in section 446.9.

445.3 Actions authorized.
In addition to all other remedies and proceedings now provided by law for the collection of taxes, the county treasurer may bring or cause an ordinary suit at law to be commenced and prosecuted in the treasurer's name for the use and benefit of the county for the collection of taxes from any person, as shown by the county system in the treasurer's office, and the suit shall be in all respects commenced, tried, and prosecuted to final judgment the same as provided for ordinary actions.

The commencement of actions for ad valorem taxes authorized under this section shall not begin until the issuance of a tax sale certificate under the requirements of section 446.19. The commencement of actions for all other taxes authorized under this section shall not begin until ten days after the publication of tax sale under the requirements of section 446.9, subsection 2.

445.4 Statutes applicable — attachment — damages.
Chapter 639 is applicable to proceedings instituted by a county treasurer under section 445.3, and a writ of attachment shall be issued upon the treasurer complying with the provisions of chapter 639, for taxes, whether due or not due, except that a bond shall not be required from the treasurer or county in such cases, but the county shall be liable for damages only, as provided by section 639.14. The county attorney, upon request of the treasurer, shall assist in prosecution of actions authorized in this section.

445.5 Receipt.
The county treasurer shall deliver to the taxpayer a receipt stating the year of tax, date of payment, a description of the parcel, and the amount of taxes, interest, fees, and costs paid except when payment of taxes is made by check, then a receipt shall be issued only upon request. The receipt shall be in full of the first half, second half, or full year amounts unless a payment is made under section 445.36A or 135D.24, subsection 7.

445.7 Distress warrant — form. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, § 123, 124. HF 687

445.8 Delinquent personal tax list — distress warrant. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, § 123, 124. HF 687

445.9 Record — contents. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, § 123, 124. HF 687

445.10 Former delinquent taxes. The county treasurer shall each year, after receiving the tax list referred to in chapter 443, enter into the county system a notation of delinquency for each parcel on which the tax remains unpaid for any previous year. Unless the delinquent tax is so entered it shall cease to be a lien upon that parcel. To preserve the tax lien it is only necessary to enter the notation for any parcel upon which it is a lien. If the county system is such that all delinquent taxes of any preceding year are automatically brought forward against each parcel on which the tax remains unpaid for any year, the treasurer is not required to make any further entry. Any sale for a delinquent tax not noted on the county system is invalid. However, this section does not require that in order to preserve the lien of tax and make the tax sale valid, delinquent taxes must be brought forward upon the county system if the tax list is received by the treasurer less than six months preceding the date of conducting the tax sale as provided in section 446.25 or 446.28.

445.11 Special assessment levy submitted. When the levy of a special assessment is submitted to the county treasurer, in a format acceptable by the treasurer, the treasurer shall enter in the county system a description of each parcel affected, the date of the assessment, the total amount assessed, the installments to be paid, and the amounts of the respective installments if the assessment is payable in installments.

445.12 Additional data for special assessments. The county system may contain space for showing interest, if any, that may be incurred, a column showing payments and their amounts, a column showing the number of the receipt to be issued by the county treasurer, and a column that may be used to show the date of payment of the assessment, or any installment of it.
§445.14  Entries on the county system.
The county treasurer shall each year, after receiving the tax list referred to in section 445.10, indicate on the county system that a special assessment is unpaid. This indication is not required if the county system automatically brings forward a notation of the unpaid special assessment.

§445.16  Abatement or compromise of tax.
When a parcel is offered and not sold at regular tax sale, or if the county holds the tax sale certificate of purchase and the county is unable to assign the certificate as provided in section 446.31, the county, through the board of supervisors, may compromise by written agreement, or abate by resolution, the tax, interest, fees, or costs. In the event of a compromise, the board of supervisors may enter into a written agreement with the owner of the legal title or with any lienholder for the payment of a stipulated sum in full satisfaction of all amounts included in that agreement.

A copy of the agreement or resolution shall be filed with the county treasurer.

If the taxes on the building become delinquent, as provided in section 445.37, the county treasurer shall collect the tax as provided in sections 445.3 and 445.4. This section does not apply to special assessments, or rates or charges.

445.36 Payment — installments.
1. The taxes which become delinquent during the fiscal year are for the previous fiscal year.
2. A demand of taxes is not necessary, but every person subject to taxation shall attend at the office of the county treasurer and pay the taxes either in full, or one-half of the taxes before September 1 succeeding the levy, and the remaining half before March 1 following. However, if the first installment of taxes is delinquent and not paid as of February 15, the treasurer shall mail a notice to the taxpayer of the delinquency and the due date for the second installment. Failure to receive a mailed notice is not a defense to the payment of the tax and any interest due. This section does not apply to special assessments, or rates or charges.

1. As an alternative to the semiannual or annual payment of taxes, the county treasurer may accept partial payments of taxes. A minimum payment amount shall be established by the treasurer. The treasurer shall transfer amounts from each taxpayer's account to be applied to each semiannual tax installment prior to the delinquency dates specified in section 445.37 and the amounts collected shall be apportioned among the several funds for which taxes have been sold for taxes under chapter 446 and under any circumstances shall not constitute an extension of the time period for a sale under chapter 446. Any interest income derived from the account shall be deposited in the county's general fund to cover administrative costs. The treasurer shall send a notice with the tax statement or by separate mail to each taxpayer stating that, upon request to the treasurer, the taxpayer may make partial payments of taxes.
2. Partial payment of taxes which are delinquent may be made to the county treasurer. A minimum payment amount shall be established by the treasurer. The minimum payment must be equal to or exceed the interest, fees, and costs attributed to the oldest delinquent installment of the tax and shall be apportioned in accordance with section 445.37. If the payment does not include the whole of any installment of the delinquent tax, the unpaid tax shall continue to accrue interest pursuant to section 445.39. Partial payment shall not be permitted if the property has been sold for taxes under chapter 446 and under any circumstances shall not constitute an extension of the time period for a sale under chapter 446.

Current year taxes may be paid at any time regardless of any outstanding prior year delinquent tax. This section does not apply to the payment of mobile home taxes, special assessments, or rates or charges.

445.37 When delinquent.
If the semiannual installment of any tax has not been paid before October 1 succeeding the levy, that amount becomes delinquent from October 1 after due unless the last day of September is a Saturday or Sunday in which case the amount of those taxes becomes delinquent from the following Tuesday. If the second installment is not paid before April 1 succeeding its maturity, it becomes delinquent from April 1 after due unless the last day of March is a Saturday or Sunday in which case the amount of that installment becomes delinquent from the following Tuesday. This paragraph does not apply to special assessments or rates or charges. However, if there is a delay of the delivery of the tax list referred to in chapter 443 to the county treasurer, the amount of ad valorem taxes and mobile home taxes due shall become delinquent thirty days after the date of delivery or on the delinquent date of the first installment, whichever date occurs later. The delay shall not affect the due dates for special assessments and rates or charges. The delinquent date for special assessments, and rates or charges is the same as the first installment delinquent date for ad valorem taxes.

445.39 Interest on delinquent taxes.
If the first installment of taxes is not paid by the delinquent date specified in section 445.37, the installment becomes due and draws interest of one and one-half percent per month until paid, from the delinquent date following the levy. If the last half is not paid by the delinquent date specified for it in section 445.37, the same interest shall be charged from the date the last half became delinquent. However, after April 1 in a fiscal year when late delivery of the tax list referred to in chapter 443 results in a delinquency date later than October 1 for the first installment, interest on delinquent first installments shall accrue as if delivery were made on the previous June 30. The interest imposed under this section shall be computed to the nearest whole dollar and the amount of interest shall not be less than one dollar. In calculating interest each fraction of a month shall be counted as an entire month. The interest percentage on delinquent special assessments and rates or charges is the same as that for the first installment of delinquent ad valorem taxes.

445.40 Penalty on personal taxes. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, §123, 124. HF 687

445.41 When interest omitted. Interest shall not be added to taxes levied by a court to pay a judgment on county, city, or school district indebtedness, other than the interest which that judgment may draw, nor upon taxes levied in aid of the construction of a railroad.

445.42 through 445.46 Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, §123, 124. HF 687

445.53 Taxes certified to another county. In all cases of delinquent taxes, if the person upon whose property the taxes were levied has disposed of or removed the property and the treasurer of the county where the taxes were levied can find no property within that county against which those taxes can be collected, the treasurer of the county where those taxes are delinquent shall make out a certified abstract of the taxes and forward it to the treasurer of the county in which the person resides or has property, if the treasurer transmitting the abstract has reason to believe that the delinquent taxes can be collected by that county.

445.54 Collection in such case. The county treasurer forwarding and the one receiving said abstract shall each keep a record of it, and, upon receipt and filing in the office of the treasurer to whom sent, it shall have the effect of a levy of taxes in that county, and the collection shall proceed in the same manner as in the collection of other taxes.

445.55 Fees collectible. The county treasurer collecting taxes so certified into another county shall, in addition to the interest, fees, and costs on delinquent taxes, assess a collection fee of twenty percent on the whole amount of the taxes, inclusive of the interest, fees, and costs on the taxes.

445.56 Return. The county treasurer receiving the abstract shall, upon collection, forward the amount to the treasurer of the county where the taxes were levied, less the collection fee provided in section 445.55. The treasurer receiving the abstract shall, when in the treasurer's opinion the taxes are uncollectible, return the abstract with the endorsement "uncollectible" on it. In such case, when it is administratively impractical to collect the tax, the board of supervisors shall compromise or abate the tax, interest, and costs.

445.57 Monthly apportionment. On or before the tenth day of each month, the county treasurer shall apportion all taxes collected during the preceding month, except partial payment amounts collected pursuant to section 445.36A, subsection 1 and section 135D.24, subsection 7, paragraph "a", among the several funds to which they belong according to the amount levied for each fund, and shall apportion the interest, fees, and costs on the taxes to the general fund, and shall enter those amounts upon the treasurer's cash account, and report the amounts to the county auditor.

445.58 Misapplied interest or penalty. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, §123, 124. HF 687

445.59 Record of separate funds. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 191, §123, 124. HF 687

445.60 Refunding erroneous tax. The board of supervisors shall direct the county treasurer to refund to the taxpayer any tax or portion of a tax found to have been erroneously or illegally paid, with all interest, fees, and costs actually paid. A refund shall not be ordered or made unless a claim for refund is presented to the board within one year of the date the tax was due, or if appealed to the board of review, the state board of tax review, or district court, within one year of the final decision.
445.61 Sale for erroneous tax.
If a parcel subject to taxation is sold for the payment of such erroneous tax, interest, fees, or costs, the error or irregularity in the tax may be corrected at any time provided in this chapter, but this correction does not affect the validity of the sale or the right or title conveyed by a county treasurer's deed, if the parcel was subject to taxation for any of the purposes for which any portion of the taxes for which the parcel was sold was levied, and the taxes were not paid before the sale, or the parcel redeemed from sale.

445.62 Abatement or refund in case of loss.
The board of supervisors has the authority to abate or refund in whole or in part the taxes of any person whose buildings, crops, stock, or other property has been destroyed by fire, tornado, or other unavoidable casualty, if that property has not been sold for taxes, or if the taxes have not been delinquent for thirty days at the time of the destruction. The loss for which abatement or refund is allowed shall be only that amount which is not covered by insurance. The loss of capital stock in a bank operated within the state and the making and paying of a stock assessment for the year that stock was assessed for taxation is a destruction within the meaning of this section.

445.63 Abatement of taxes.
When taxes are owing against a parcel owned or claimed by the state or a political subdivision of this state and the taxes were owing before the parcel was acquired by the state or a political subdivision of this state, the county treasurer shall give notice to the appropriate governing body which shall pay the amount of the taxes due. If the governing body fails to immediately pay the taxes due, the board of supervisors shall abate all of the taxes.

446.9 Notice of sale — service — publication — costs.
1. A notice of the time and place of the annual tax sale shall be served upon the person in whose name the parcel subject to sale is taxed. The county treasurer shall serve the notice by sending it by regular first class mail to the person’s last known address not later than May 1 of each fiscal year. The notice shall contain a description of the parcel to be sold which is clear, concise, and sufficient to distinguish the parcel to be sold from all other parcels. It shall also contain the amount of delinquent taxes for which the parcel is liable each year, the amount of the interest, fees, and the actual cost of publication of the notice as provided in subsection 2, all to be incorporated as a single sum. The notice shall contain a statement that, after the sale, if the parcel is not redeemed within the period provided in chapter 447, the right to redeem expires and a deed may be issued.

2. Publication of the time and place of the annual tax sale shall be made once by the treasurer in an official newspaper in the county designated by the treasurer at least one week, but not more than three weeks, before the day of sale. The publication shall contain a description of the parcel to be sold that is clear, concise, and sufficient to distinguish the parcel to be sold from all other parcels. All items offered for sale pursuant to section 446.18 may be indicated by an “s” or by an asterisk. The publication shall also contain the name of the person in whose name the parcel to be sold is taxed, the amount delinquent for which the parcel is liable each year, the amount of the interest, fees, costs, and the cost of publication in the newspaper, all to be incorporated as a single sum. The publication shall contain a statement that, after the sale, if the parcel is not redeemed within the period provided in chapter 447, the right to redeem expires and a deed may be issued.

3. In addition to the notice required by subsection 1 and the publication required by subsection 2, the treasurer shall send, at least one week but not more than three weeks before the day of sale, a notice of sale in the form prescribed by subsection 1, by regular first class mail to any mortgagee having a lien upon the parcel, a vendor of the parcel under a recorded contract of sale, a lessor of the parcel who has a recorded lease or memorandum of a recorded lease, and to any other person who has an interest of record in the parcel, if the mortgagee, vendor, lessor, or other person having an interest of record has done both of the following:

a. Requested on a form prescribed by the treasurer that notice of sale be sent to the person.

b. Filed the request form with the treasurer at least one month prior to the date of sale, together with a fee of twenty-five dollars per parcel.

The request for notice is valid for a period of five years from the date of filing with the treasurer. The request for notice may be renewed for additional periods of five years by the procedure specified in this subsection.

4. Notice required by subsections 1 and 3 shall be deemed completed when the notice is enclosed in a sealed envelope with the proper postage on the envelope, is addressed to the person entitled to receive it at the person’s last known mailing address, and is deposited in a mail receptacle provided by the United States postal service.

446.19 County or city as purchaser.

When a parcel is offered at a tax sale under section 446.18, and no bid is received, or if the bid received is less than the total amount due, the county in which the parcel is located, through its board of supervisors, shall bid for the parcel a sum equal to the total amount due. Money shall not be paid by the county or other tax-levying and tax-certifying body for the purchase, but each of the tax-levying and tax-certifying bodies having any interest in the taxes shall be charged with the total amount due the levying and tax-certifying body as its just share of the purchase price.

This section does not prohibit a governmental agency or political subdivision from bidding at the sale for a parcel to protect its interests. When a bid is received by a city in which the parcel is located, money shall not be paid by the city, but each of the tax-levying and tax-certifying bodies having any interest in the taxes shall be charged with the total amount due the levying and tax-certifying bodies as its just share of the purchase price.

1. Without limiting the county's rights under section 445.3, once a certificate is issued to a county, a county may collect the total amount due by the alternative remedy provided in section 445.3 by converting the total amount due to a personal judgment. The prosecution in equity of such action may be commenced anytime after the date of issuance of the certificate under section 446.19. Entrance of the judgment shall be shown on the county system. Collection of the judgment may then be initiated as provided in section 445.4. The county attorney shall, upon request of the treasurer, assist in prosecution of action authorized under this section and sections 445.3 and 445.4.
2. If the board or council determines that any property located on a parcel purchased by the county or city pursuant to section 446.19 requires removal, dismantling, or demolition, the board or council shall, at the same time and in the same manner that the notice of expiration of right of redemption is served, cause to be served on the person in possession of the parcel and also upon the person in whose name the parcel is taxed a separate notice stating that if the parcel is not redeemed within the time period specified in the notice of expiration of right of redemption, the property described in the notice shall be removed, dismantled, or demolished. The notice shall further state that the costs of removal, dismantling, or demolition shall be assessed against the person in whose name the parcel is taxed and a lien for the costs shall be placed against any other parcel taxed in that person's name within the county.

Service of the notice shall also be made by mail on any mortgagee having a lien upon the parcel, a vendor of the parcel under a recorded contract of sale, a lessor who has a recorded lease or memorandum of a recorded lease, and any other person who has an interest of record, at the person's last known address, if the mortgagee, vendor, lessor, or other person has filed a request for notice, as prescribed in section 446.9, subsection 3, and on the state of Iowa in case of an old-age assistance lien by service upon the department of human services. The notice shall also be served on any city where the parcel is situated.

446.27 Liability of treasurer.
1. If the county treasurer, deputy treasurer, or other designated employee sells or assists in selling any parcel, knowing it is not subject to taxation or that the amount for which it is sold has been paid, or knowingly and willfully sells or assists in selling a parcel to defraud the owner, or knowingly and willfully executes a deed for such a parcel sold, the treasurer, deputy treasurer, or designated employee is guilty of a serious misdemeanor and liable to pay the injured party all damages sustained as a result of the illegal sale.

2. If the treasurer is directly or indirectly concerned in the purchase of a parcel sold at tax sale, the treasurer and the treasurer's sureties are liable on the treasurer's official bond for all damages sustained by the owner of the parcel. In addition, the treasurer, deputy treasurer, or designated person, as the case may be, is guilty of a fraudulent practice.

The certificate of purchase is assignable by endorsement and entry in the county system in the office of county treasurer of the county from which the certificate was issued, and when the assignment is so entered, it shall vest in the assignee or legal representatives of the assignee all the right and title of the assignor. The statement in the treasurer's deed of the fact of the assignment is presumptive evidence of that fact. When the county acquires a certificate of purchase, the board of supervisors may compromise and assign the certificate. All money received from assignment of certificates of purchase shall be apportioned to the tax-levying and certifying bodies in proportion to their interests in the taxes for which the parcel was sold. After assignment of a certificate of purchase which is held by the county, section 446.37 applies. In that instance, the three-year requirement shall be calculated from the date of assignment.

CHAPTER 447
TAX REDEMPTION
For definitions applicable to chapter effective April 1, 1992, see § 445 1

447.1 Redemption — terms.
A parcel sold under this chapter and chapter 446 may be redeemed at any time before the right of redemption expires, by payment to the county treasurer, to be held by the treasurer subject to the order of the purchaser, of the amount for which the parcel was sold and interest of two percent per month, counting each fraction of a month as an entire month, from the month of sale, and the total amount paid by the purchaser or the purchaser’s assignee for any subsequent year, with interest at the same rate added on the amount of the payment for each subsequent year from the month of payment, counting each fraction of a month as an entire month. The amount of interest must be at least one dollar and shall be rounded to the nearest whole dollar. Interest shall accrue on subsequent amounts from the month of payment by the certificate holder.

When the county is the certificate holder of the parcel redeemed, the redemption amount shall be apportioned among the several funds for which the taxes were levied. All interest, costs, and fees shall be apportioned to the general fund of the county.

447.3 Agricultural college lands.
In redeeming from a sale of a leasehold interest in agricultural college land, the amount to be paid shall include any amount paid by the holder of the certificate as interest or principal due by the terms of the lease or otherwise to prevent a forfeiture, and for which proper voucher has been filed with the county treasurer, with interest at eight percent per annum from date of payment, which amount shall be paid by the treasurer to the holder of the certificate, and the certificate of redemption shall show the amount paid by the party redeeming.

447.4 Redemption from sale for part of tax.
In case a redemption is made of a parcel compromised and assigned for a sum less than the total amount due, the purchaser is entitled to receive only the amount paid and a ratable part of the interest and costs. In determining the interest to be paid upon redemption from sale, the sum due on a parcel sold shall be taken to be the total amount due on the parcel at the time of sale, and the amount paid for a parcel at sale shall be apportioned ratably in accordance with section 447.1. Parcels so sold are redeemable in the same manner and with the same interest as those sold for the taxes of the preceding year.

probate court shall make and enter all appropriate orders to effect this conveyance to the county if an estate is not opened within the time specified. The parcel, at the election of the county treasurer, may be offered at tax sale after its conveyance to the county.

A city or county, a city or county agency as authorized by the Iowa finance authority, or the Iowa finance authority may file with the county treasurer a verified statement that a parcel to be sold at tax sale is abandoned and deteriorating in condition, is inhabited but is not safe for human habitation, or is, or is likely to become, a public nuisance, and that the parcel is suitable for use and is to be used in an Iowa homesteading project under section 220.14. Other information may be included. Upon proper filing of the statement, and if the parcel is offered at a tax sale and no bid is received, or if the bid received is less than the total amount due, or if the parcel is to be transferred to the county under section 446.38, the city, county, city or county agency, or Iowa finance authority may bid for the parcel for use in an Iowa homesteading project, bidding a sum equal to the total amount due. Each of the tax-levying and tax-certifying bodies having an interest in the taxes for which the parcel is sold shall be charged with its proportionate share of the purchase price.
447.5 Certificate of redemption — issued by treasurer.

The county treasurer, upon application of a party to redeem a parcel sold at a tax sale, and being satisfied that the party has a right to redeem the parcel upon the payment of the proper amount, shall issue to the party a certificate of redemption, setting forth the facts of the sale substantially as contained in the certificate, the date of the redemption, the amount paid, and by whom redeemed, and shall make the proper entries in the county system in the treasurer's office. The amount of the fee shall be as provided in section 331.552, subsection 23, for either the original certificate or duplicate certificate.

After one year and nine months from the date of sale, or after nine months from the date of a sale made under section 446.18, 446.38 or 446.39, the holder of the certificate of purchase may cause to be served upon the person in possession of the parcel, and also upon the person in whose name the parcel is taxed, in the manner provided for the service of original notices in R.C.P. 56.1, if the person resides in Iowa, or otherwise as provided in section 446.9, subsection 1, a notice signed by the certificate holder or the certificate holder's agent or attorney, stating the date of sale, the description of the parcel sold, the name of the purchaser, and that the right of redemption will expire and a deed for the parcel be made unless redemption is made within ninety days from the completed service of the notice. The ninety-day redemption period begins as provided in section 447.12. When the notice is given by a county as a holder of a certificate of purchase the notice shall be signed by the county treasurer or the county attorney, and when given by a city, it shall be signed by the city officer designated by resolution of the council. When the notice is given by the Iowa finance authority or a city or county agency holding the parcel as part of an Iowa homesteading project, it shall be signed on behalf of the agency or authority by one of its officers, as authorized in rules of the agency or authority.

Service of the notice shall also be made by mail on any mortgagee having a lien upon the parcel, a vendor of the parcel under a recorded contract of sale, a lessor who has a recorded lease or memorandum of a recorded lease, and any other person who has an interest of record, at the person's last known address, and on the state of Iowa in case of an old-age assistance lien by service upon the state department of human services. The notice shall also be served on any city where the parcel is situated. Only those persons who are required to be served the notice of expiration as provided in this section are eligible to redeem a parcel from tax sale.

Service is complete only after an affidavit has been filed with the county treasurer, showing the making of the service, the manner of service, the time when and place where made, under whose direction the service was made, and costs incurred as provided in section 447.13. Costs not filed with the treasurer before a redemption is complete shall not be collected by the treasurer. The affidavit shall be made by the holder of the certificate or by the holder’s agent or attorney, and in either of the latter cases stating that the affiant is the agent or attorney of the holder of the certificate. The affidavit shall be filed by the treasurer and entered in the county system and is presumptive evidence of the completed service of the notice. The right of redemption shall not expire until ninety days after service is complete. When the parcel is held by a city or county, a city or county agency, or the Iowa finance authority, for use in an Iowa homesteading project, whether or not the parcel is the subject of a conditional conveyance granted under the project, the affidavit shall be made by the treasurer of the county or the county attorney, a city officer designated by resolution of the council, or on behalf of the agency or authority, by one of its officers as authorized in rules of the agency or authority.

447.13 Cost — fee — report.

The cost of a record search and the cost of serving the notice, including the cost of mailing certified mail notices and the cost of publication under section 447.10 if publication is required, shall be added to the amount necessary to redeem. The fee for personal service of the notice shall be the same as for service of an original notice, including copy fee and mileage. The county treasurer shall file the proof of service and statement of costs and record these costs against the parcel. The certificate holder or the holder’s agent shall report in writing to the treasurer the amount of authorized costs incurred, and the treasurer shall file the statement. Costs not filed with the treasurer before redemption shall not be collected by the treasurer and may be recovered through a court action against the parcel owner by the certificate holder. If the parcel is held by a city or county, a city or county agency, or the Iowa finance authority, for use in an Iowa homesteading project, whether or not the parcel is the subject of a conditional conveyance granted under the project, the costs incurred for repairs and rehabilitation work required and undertaken in order to make the parcel meet applicable building or housing code standards shall be added to the amount necessary to redeem.

TAX DEED

448.1 Deed executed.

Immediately after the expiration of ninety days from the date of completed service of the notice provided in section 447.12 the county treasurer shall make out a deed for each parcel sold and unredeemed, and deliver it to the purchaser upon the return of the certificate of purchase. The treasurer shall receive twenty-five dollars for each deed made by the treasurer, and the treasurer may include any number of parcels purchased by one person in one deed, if authorized by the treasurer.

Deeds executed by the county treasurer shall be substantially in the following form:

KNOW ALL PERSONS BY THESE PRESENTS, that the following described parcel: (Here follows the description), situated in the county of ................. and state of Iowa, was subject to taxes for the year (or years) A.D. ................., and the taxes on the parcel for the year (or years) stated remained due and unpaid at the date of the sale; and the treasurer of the county, on the ................. day of ................., A.D. ................., by virtue of the authority vested by law in the treasurer, at (an adjournment of) the sale begun and publicly held on the third Monday of June, A.D. ................., exposed to public sale at the office of the county treasurer in the county named, in substantial conformity with all the requirements of the statute, the parcel described, for the payment of the total amount then due and remaining unpaid on the parcel, and at that time and place A ................. B ................., of the county of ................., and state of ................., offered to pay the sum of ....... dollars and ....... cents, being the total amount then due and remaining unpaid on the parcel, for (here follows the description of the parcel sold) which was the least quantity bid for, and payment of that sum was made by that person to the treasurer, the parcel was stricken off to that person at that price; and A ................. B ................. did, on the ................. day of ................., A.D. ................., assign the certificate of the sale of the parcel and all right, title, and interest to the parcel to E .......... F .......... of the county of .......... and state of .......... ....; and by the affidavit of .......... filed in the treasurer's office on the .......... day of .......... ........, A.D. .........., it appears that notice has been given more than ninety days before the execution of this deed to .......... and .......... of the expiration of the time of redemption allowed by law; and two years have elapsed since the date of the sale, and the parcel has not been redeemed:

Now, I, C .......... D .........., treasurer of the county, for the consideration of the stated sum paid to the treasurer and by virtue of law, have granted, bargained, and sold, and by these presents do grant, bargain, and sell to A .......... B .......... (or E .......... F ..........), and that person's heirs and assigns, the parcel described, to have and to hold unto that person (or E .......... F ..........), and that person's heirs and assigns, forever; subject, however, to all the rights of redemption provided by law. In witness whereof, I, C .......... D .........., treasurer of .......... county, by virtue of the authority vested in me, have subscribed my name on this .......... day of .......... .........., A.D. .........., and sealed with the seal of the county of .......... State of Iowa, ss.

Treasurer

I certify that before me, .........., in and for said county, personally appeared the above named C .......... D .........., treasurer of the county, personally known to me to be the treasurer of the county at the date of the execution of the above conveyance, and to be the identical person whose name is affixed to and who executed the above conveyance as treasurer of the county, and acknowledged the execution of the conveyance to be the treasurer's voluntary act and deed as treasurer of the county, for the purposes expressed in the conveyance.

Given under my hand (and seal) this .......... day of .........., A.D. .........., and sealed with the seal of the county of .......... State of Iowa, ss.

Treasurer

448.3 Execution and effect of deed.
The deed shall be signed by the county treasurer as such, and acknowledged by the treasurer before some officer authorized to take acknowledgments, and when substantially thus executed and recorded in the proper record in the office of the recorder of the county in which the parcel is situated, shall vest in the purchaser all the right, title, interest, and estate of the former owner in and to the parcel conveyed, subject to all restrictive covenants, resulting from prior conveyances in the chain of title to the former owner, and all the right, title, interest, and claim of the state and county to the parcel. The issuance of the deed shall operate to cancel all suspended taxes.

448.4 Presumptive evidence.
The deed shall be presumptive evidence in all the courts of this state in all controversies and actions in relation to the rights of the purchaser, and the purchaser's heirs or assigns, to the parcel conveyed, of the following facts:

1. That the parcel conveyed was subject to taxes for the year or years stated in the deed.
2. That the taxes were not paid at any time before the sale.
3. That the parcel conveyed had not been redeemed from the sale at the date of the deed.
4. That the parcel had been listed and assessed.
5. That the taxes were levied or set according to law.
6. That the parcel was duly advertised for sale.
7. That the parcel was sold as stated in the deed.

448.5 Conclusive evidence.
The deed shall be conclusive evidence of the following facts:

1. That the manner in which the listing, assessment, levy, notice and sale were conducted was in all respects as the law directed.
2. That the grantee named in the deed was the purchaser.
3. That all the prerequisites of the law were complied with by all the officers who had, or whose duty it was to have had, any part or action in any transaction relating to or affecting the title conveyed or purporting to be conveyed by the deed, from the listing and valuation of the parcel up to the execution of the deed, both inclusive, and that all things required by law to make a good and valid sale and to vest the title in the purchaser were done, except in regard to the points named in section 448.4 for which the deed shall be presumptive evidence only.

448.6 Facts necessary to defeat deed.
In all actions involving the title to a parcel claimed and held under a deed executed substantially as required in this chapter by the county treasurer, the person claiming title adverse to the title conveyed shall be required to prove, in order to defeat the title, any of the following:

1. That the parcel was not subject to taxes for the year or years named in the deed.
2. That the taxes had been paid before the sale.
3. That the parcel had been redeemed from the sale and that the redemption was made for the use and benefit of persons having the right of redemption.

4. That there had been an entire omission to list or assess the parcel, or to levy the taxes, or to give notice of the sale, or to sell the parcel.

448.6 Additional facts necessary.
A person shall not be permitted to question the title acquired by a county treasurer's deed without first showing that the person, or the person under whom that person claims title, had title to the parcel at the time of the sale, or that the title was obtained from the United States or this state after the sale, and that all amounts due upon the parcel have been paid by that person, or the person under whom that person claims title.

448.7 Sale made by mistake.
If an amount due was paid, and through mistake in the entry made in the county system, the parcel was afterward sold, the treasurer's deed does not convey the title.

448.8 Fraudulent sale.
If the owner of a parcel sold for taxes resists the validity of the tax title, the owner may prove fraud committed by the officer selling the parcel, or in the purchaser, to defeat the title, and, if fraud is established, the sale and title shall be void.

448.9 Wrongful sales — purchaser indemnified.
If, by mistake or wrongful act of the county treasurer, a parcel has been sold on which no tax was due at the time, or when a parcel is sold in consequence of error in describing it within the county system, the county shall hold the purchaser harmless by paying the purchaser the amount due to which the purchaser would have been entitled had the parcel been rightfully sold, and the treasurer and the treasurer's surety shall be liable to the county to the amount of the treasurer's official bond; or the purchaser, or the purchaser's assignee, may recover the amount directly from the treasurer and the treasurer's surety.

448.10 Correcting wrongful sale.
When it is made known to the county treasurer, before the execution of a deed for a parcel sold, or if the deed is returned by the purchaser, that a parcel was sold which was not subject to taxation, or upon which the taxes had been paid, the treasurer shall make an entry in the county system that the parcel was erroneously sold, and the entry shall be evidence of the fact, and the purchase money shall be refunded to the purchaser.

448.11 Limitation of actions.
An action for the recovery of a parcel sold for the nonpayment of taxes shall not be brought after three years from the execution and recording of the county treasurer's deed, unless the owner is, at the time of the sale, a minor, a mentally ill person, or an inmate in an adult correctional institution, in which case the action must be brought within three years after the disability is removed.

448.12 Limitation of action on tax sales and deeds.
In all actions and controversies involving the question of title to a parcel held under a county treasurer's deed, all acts of assessors, treasurers, auditors, supervisors, and other officers de facto shall be of the same validity as acts of officers de jure.

448.13 Officers de facto.
Immediately after the issuance and recording of a tax deed or an instrument purporting to be a tax deed issued by a county treasurer of this state, the then owner or holder of the title or purported title may file with the county recorder of the county in which the parcel is located an affidavit substantially in the following form:

State of Iowa, )

County.) ss.

I, ........................., being first duly sworn, on oath de­pose and say that on .................... (date) the county treasurer issued a tax deed to .................... (grantee) for the following described parcel:.............................. ; that the tax deed was filed for record in the office of the county recorder of .................... county, Iowa, on .................... (date), and appears in the records of the office in .................... county as recorded in Book .......... Page ............ of the .................... Re­cords; and that .................... is now in possession of the parcel and claims title to the parcel by virtue of the tax deed, or purported tax title.
Any person claiming any right, title, or interest in or to the parcel adverse to the title or purported title by virtue of the tax deed referred to shall file a claim with the recorder of the county where the parcel is located, within one hundred twenty days after the filing of this affidavit, the claim to set forth the nature of the interest, also the time and manner in which the interest claimed was acquired.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ............day of ................., 19 ............

Notary Public in and for .................County, Iowa.

448.16 Claims adverse to tax title barred.
When the affidavit described in section 448.15 is filed it shall be notice to all persons, and any person claiming any right, title, or interest in or to the parcel described adverse to the title or purported title by virtue of the tax deed referred to, shall file a claim with the county recorder of the county in which the parcel is located within one hundred twenty days after the filing of the affidavit, which claim shall set forth the nature of the interest, the time when and the manner in which the interest was acquired.

At the expiration of the period of one hundred twenty days, if no such claim has been filed, all persons shall thereafter be forever barred and estopped from having or claiming any right, title, or interest in the parcel adverse to the tax title or purported tax title, and no action shall thereafter be brought to recover the parcel, and the then tax-title owner or owner of the purported tax title shall also have acquired title to the parcel by adverse possession.

448.17 Indexing and recording of affidavits and claims.
All affidavits and claims as provided for in sections 448.15 and 448.16, filed with the county recorder, shall be indexed in the claimant's book under the description of the parcel involved, and shall be recorded as other instruments affecting parcels.

449.1 Application.
When a parcel has been assessed and taxed as one unit, and thereafter and before the tax is paid, the title to different portions of the parcel becomes vested in different parties in severalty, and the owners are unable to agree as to what portion of the total tax each portion of the parcel should bear, any of the parties may file with the board of supervisors a written application for the apportionment of the tax.

449.3 Order — record.
At the hearing, the board shall apportion the tax to the different portions of the parcel owned in severalty, in accordance with the values of the portions. All orders and determinations of the board shall be entered in its minutes. An order of apportionment shall clearly identify each portion of the parcel owned in severalty.
CHAPTER 450
INHERITANCE TAX

450.9 Individual exemptions.
In computing the tax on the net estate passing to the surviving spouse, heirs or beneficiaries of the deceased the following exemptions shall be allowed:
1. Surviving spouse, the entire amount of property, interest in property, and income.
2. Each son and daughter, including legally adopted sons and daughters, or illegitimate sons and daughters entitled to inherit under the law of this state, fifty thousand dollars.
3. Father or mother, fifteen thousand dollars.
4. Any other lineal descendant of the deceased, fifteen thousand dollars.

450.10 Rate of tax.
The property or any interest therein or income therefrom, subject to the provisions of this chapter, shall be taxed as herein provided:
1. When the property, interest, or income passes to the father or mother, or to a child or lineal descendant of the decedent, grantor, donor, or vendor, including a legally adopted child or illegitimate child entitled to inherit under the laws of this state, the tax imposed shall be on the individual share so passing in excess of the exemptions allowed as follows:
   One percent of the first five thousand dollars.
   Two percent of any amount in excess of five thousand dollars and up to twelve thousand five hundred dollars.
   Three percent on any amount in excess of twelve thousand five hundred dollars and up to twenty-five thousand dollars.
   Four percent on any amount in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars.
   Five percent on any amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to seventy-five thousand dollars.
   Six percent on any amount in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars.
   Seven percent on any amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to one hundred fifty thousand dollars.
   Eight percent on all sums in excess of one hundred fifty thousand dollars.
2. When the property or any interest therein or income therefrom taxable under the provisions of this chapter passes to the brother or sister, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law, or step-children, the rate of tax imposed on the individual share so passing shall be as follows:
   Five percent on any amount up to twelve thousand five hundred dollars.
   Six percent on any amount in excess of twelve thousand five hundred dollars and up to twenty-five thousand dollars.
   Seven percent on any amount in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to seventy-five thousand dollars.
   Eight percent on any amount in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars.
   Nine percent on any amount in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to one hundred fifty thousand dollars.
   Ten percent on all sums in excess of one hundred fifty thousand dollars.
3. When the property or interest in property or income from property, taxable under this chapter, passes to a person not included in subsections 1, 2, and 7, the rate of tax imposed on the individual share so passing shall be as follows:
   Ten percent on any amount up to fifty thousand dollars.
   Twelve percent on any amount in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars.
   Fifteen percent on all sums in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.
4. When the property or any interest therein or income therefrom, taxable under the provisions of this chapter, passes in any manner to societies, institutions or associations incorporated or organized under the laws of any other state, territory, province or country than this state, for charitable, educational or religious purposes, or to cemetery associations, including humane societies not organized under the laws of this state, or to resident trustees for uses without this state, the rate of tax imposed shall be as follows:
   Ten percent on the entire amount so passing.
5. When the property or any interest therein or income therefrom, taxable under the provisions of this chapter passes to any firm, corporation, or society organized for profit either under the laws of this state or of any other state, territory, province or country, the rate of tax imposed shall be as follows:
   Fifteen percent on the entire amount so passing.
6. When the property or any interest therein, or income therefrom, taxable under the provisions of this chapter passes to any person included under subsection 1 or 2 hereof, there shall be credited to the tax imposed on the individual share so passing an amount equal to the tax imposed in this state on the decedent on any property, real, personal or mixed, or the proportionate share thereof on property passing to the person taxed hereunder, which can be identified as having been received by the decedent as a share in the estate of any person who died within two years prior to the death of the decedent, or which can be identified as having been acquired by the decedent in exchange for property so received. The credit shall not be applicable to taxes on property of the decedent which was not acquired from the prior estate.

7. Property, interest in property, or income passing to the surviving spouse is not taxable under this section.

450.81 Duty of recorder.
Each county recorder shall, upon the filing in the recorder’s office of a deed, bill of sale, or other transfer of any description which shows upon its face that it was made or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after the death of the maker of the instrument, forward to the department of revenue and finance a copy of the instrument.

450.94 Return — determination — appeal.
1. “Taxpayer” as used in this section means a person liable for the payment of tax as stated in section 450.5.

2. The taxpayer shall file an inheritance tax return on forms to be prescribed by the director of revenue and finance. When an inheritance tax return is filed, the department shall examine it and determine the correct amount of tax. If the amount paid is less than the correct amount due, the department shall notify the taxpayer of the total amount due together with any penalty and interest which shall be a sum certain if paid on or before the last day of the month in which the notice is postmarked, or on or before the last day of the following month if the notice is postmarked after the twentieth day of a month and before the first day of the following month.

3. If the amount paid is greater than the correct tax, penalty, and interest due, the department shall refund the excess with interest. Interest shall be computed at the rate in effect under section 421.7, under the rules prescribed by the director counting each fraction of a month as an entire month and the interest shall begin to accrue on the first day of the second calendar month following the date of payment or on the date the return was due to be filed or was filed, whichever is the latest. However, the director shall not allow a claim for refund or credit that has not been filed with the department within three years after the tax payment upon which a refund or credit is claimed became due, or one year after the tax payment was made, whichever time is later. A determination by the department of the amount of tax, penalty, and interest due, or the amount of refund for excess tax paid, is final unless the person aggrieved by the determination appeals to the director for a revision of the determination within thirty days from the postmark date of the notice of determination of tax, penalty, and interest due or refund owing. The director shall grant a hearing, and upon the hearing the director shall determine the correct tax, penalty and interest or refund due, and notify the appellant of the decision by mail. The decision of the director is final unless the appellant seeks judicial review of the director’s decision under section 450.59 within sixty days after the postmark date of the notice of the director’s decision.

4. Payments received must be credited first to the penalty and interest accrued and then to the tax due.

5. The amount of tax imposed under this chapter shall be assessed according to one of the following:
   a. Within three years after the return is filed with respect to property reported on the final inheritance tax return.
   b. At any time after the tax became due with respect to property not reported on the final inheritance tax return, but not later than three years after the omitted property is reported to the department on an amended return or on the final inheritance tax return if one was not previously filed.

In addition to the applicable periods of limitations for examination and determination specified in paragraphs “a” and “b”, the department may make an examination and determination at any time within six months from the date of receipt by the department of written notice from the taxpayer of the final disposition of any matter between the taxpayer and the internal revenue service with respect to the federal estate, gift, or generation skipping transfer tax. In order to begin the running of the six months assessment period, the notice shall be in writing in form sufficient to inform the department of the final disposition of any matter with respect to the federal estate, gift, or generation skipping transfer tax, and a copy of the federal document showing the final disposition or final federal adjustments shall be attached to the notice.

6. Notwithstanding the periods of limitation for filing a claim for refund in subsection 3, with respect to estates of decedents dying on or after July 1, 1982, a qualified heir who has paid an additional inheritance tax under section 450B.3 by reason of the cessation of the qualified use due to cash rent of the special use property by the surviving spouse, shall have until November 10, 1989, to file a claim for refund of the additional inheritance tax paid.

7. Notwithstanding the periods of limitations for filing a claim for refund in subsection 3, estates of decedents dying on or after July 1, 1985, which have elected to treat qualified terminable interest property as passing to the surviving spouse in fee, shall have until November 10, 1990, to make the election allowed under section 6152(c)(3) of the Technical and Miscellaneous Revenue Act of 1988 for joint and survivor annuities.

CHAPTER 452
SECURITY OF THE REVENUE

452.10 Custody of public funds — investment or deposit.
The treasurer of state and the treasurer of each political subdivision shall at all times keep all funds coming into their possession as public money, in a vault or safe, to be provided for that purpose, or in one or more depositories. However, the treasurer of state and the treasurer of each political subdivision shall invest, unless otherwise provided, any of the public funds not currently needed for operating expenses in notes, certificates, bonds, prime eligible bankers acceptances, commercial paper rated within the two highest classifications of prime as established by at least one of the standard rating services approved by the superintendent of banking pursuant to chapter 17A, perfected repurchase agreements, or other evidences of indebtedness which are obligations of or guaranteed by the United States of America or any of its agencies; or in time deposits in depositories as provided in chapter 453 and receive time certificates of deposit for the funds; or in savings accounts in depositories; or in warrants or improvement certificates of a drainage district. The total investment in commercial paper of any one corporation is limited to an amount not more than twenty percent of the total stockholders’ equity of that corporation. The treasurer of state may invest any of the funds in the treasurer’s custody in any of the investments authorized for the Iowa public employees’ retirement system in section 97B.7, subsection 2, paragraph "b" except that investment in common stocks is not permitted. As used in this section, "depository" means a financial institution designated as a legal depository under chapter 453.

For the purpose of avoiding the complexity and administrative burdens associated with the required rebate of arbitrage profits to the United States treasury pursuant to section 148 of the Internal Revenue Code, as defined in section 422.3, subsection 18, a treasurer of a city as defined in section 411.1, subsection 18, may invest any public funds of the city not currently needed for operating expenses in investments authorized in section 411.7, subsection 2, and pursuant to section 97B.7, subsection 2, paragraph "b", and section 511.8, except common, preferred, or guaranteed stock and may hold, purchase, sell, assign, transfer or dispose of any of these investments as well as the proceeds of these investments. The city council shall implement appropriate investment policies to be followed by the city treasurer and shall periodically review the performance of the investments made by the city treasurer pursuant to such policies under this paragraph.

DEPOSIT OF PUBLIC FUNDS

453.9 Investment of sinking funds.
The governing council or board which by law is authorized to direct the depositing of funds may direct the treasurer or other designated financial officer to invest any fund not an active fund needed for current use and which is being accumulated as a sinking fund for a definite purpose, the interest on which is used for the same purpose, in local certificates or warrants issued by any municipality or school district within the county, in municipal or school district bonds which constitute a general liability, and in investments authorized in section 452.10.

For the purpose of avoiding the complexity and administrative burdens associated with the required rebate of arbitrage profits to the United States treasury pursuant to section 148 of the Internal Revenue Code, as defined in section 422.3, the treasurer of state and the treasurer or other designated financial officer of each political subdivision may invest the proceeds of public bonds or obligations and funds being accumulated for the payment of principal and interest or reserves in tax-exempt bonds, as defined and permitted by section 148 of the Internal Revenue Code and applicable federal regulations under that section, and in tax-exempt money market funds, including but not limited to funds issued by an unincorporated investment company or investment trust registered under the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, having assets in excess of five hundred million dollars and having an average maturity in compliance with the federal securities exchange commission regulations for registered money market funds.

The treasurer of state may invest in any of the investments authorized for the Iowa public employees' retirement system in section 97B.7, subsection 2, paragraph "b" except that investment in common stocks shall not be permitted.

CHAPTER 455A
DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

455A.4 General powers and duties of the director.
1. Except as otherwise provided by law and subject to rules adopted by the natural resource commission and the environmental protection commission, the director shall:
   a. Plan, direct, coordinate, and execute the functions vested in the department.
   c. Annually compile a comprehensive program budget which reflects all fiscal matters related to the operation of the department and each program, subprogram, and activity in the department in accordance with section 8.23.
   d. Submit a biennial or an annual report to the governor and the general assembly, in accordance with chapter 17.
   e. Employ personnel as necessary to carry out the functions vested in the department consistent with chapter 19A unless the positions are exempt from that chapter.
   f. Devote full time to the duties of the director's office.
   g. Not be a candidate for nor hold any other public office or trust, nor be a member of a political committee.
   h. Maintain an office at the state capitol complex, which is open at all reasonable times for the conduct of public business.
   i. Adopt rules in accordance with chapter 17A as necessary or desirable for the organization or reorganization of the department.
   j. Submit a report to the natural resource commission before January 15, 1992, and every five years thereafter, which shall include but not be limited to information on the following topics:
      (1) The classification of the state's parks, recreation areas, and preserves and recommendations for their reclassification based upon present and future use

(2) Methods for maintaining the diversity of animal and plant life in state parks, recreation areas, and preserves

(3) Options to achieve controlled deer hunting in order to prevent overpopulation of deer

(4) Prevention of economic damage to private property which is located adjacent to state parks, recreation areas, and preserves

The portion of the report dealing with preserves shall be prepared in conjunction with the state advisory board for preserves A copy of the report shall be made available to members of the general assembly by sending a copy of the report to the chief clerk of the house of representatives, the secretary of the senate, and the director of each of the caucus or research staffs of the general assembly

2 All powers and duties vested in the director may be delegated by the director to an employee of the department, but the director retains the responsibility for an employee's acts within the scope of the delegation

3 The director and other officers and employees of the department are entitled to receive, in addition to salary, their actual and necessary travel and related expenses incurred in the performance of official business

4 The director shall obtain an adequate public employees fidelity bond to cover those officers and employees of the department accountable for property or funds of this state

5 The department may accept payment of any fees, interest, penalties, subscriptions, or other payments due or collected by the department, or any portion of such payments, by credit card The department may adjust the amount of the payment to reflect the costs of processing the payment as determined by the treasurer of state and the payment by credit card shall include, in addition to all other charges, any discount charged by the credit card issuer

6 Except as otherwise provided by law, the commission shall

b Hear appeals in contested cases pursuant to chapter 17A on matters relating to actions taken by the director under chapter 106, 107, 108, 108A, 109, 109A, 110, 110A, 110B, 111, 111B, 111D, 112, or 321G
c Approve or disapprove proposals for the acquisition or disposal of state lands and waters relating to state parks, recreational facilities, and wildlife programs, submitted by the director
d Approve the budget request prepared by the director for the programs authorized by chapters 106, 107, 108, 108A, 109, 109A, 110, 110A, 110B, 111, 111B, 111D, 112, and 321G The commission may increase, decrease, or strike any item within the department budget request for the specified programs before granting approval
e Adopt, by rule, a schedule of fees for permits, including conditional permits, and a schedule of fees for administration of the permits The fees shall be collected by the department and used to offset costs incurred in administering a program for which the issuance of the permit is made or under which enforcement is carried out In determining the fee schedule, the commission shall consider all of the following

(1) The reasonable costs associated with reviewing applications, issuing permits, and monitoring compliance with the terms of issued permits

(2) The relative benefits to the applicant and to the public of a permit review, permit issuance, and monitoring compliance with the terms of the permit

(3) The typical costs associated with a type of project or activity for which a permit is required However, a fee shall not exceed the actual costs incurred by the department

2 A vacancy on the commission shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner as the original appointment was made.
3 The members of the commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary travel and related expenses incurred in the discharge of official duties. Each member of the commission may also be eligible to receive compensation as provided in section 7E.6.
4 The commission shall hold an organizational meeting within thirty days of the beginning of a new regular term for one or more of its members. The commission shall organize by electing a chairperson, vice chairperson, secretary, and any other officers deemed necessary or desirable. The commission shall meet at least quarterly throughout the year.
5 A majority of the members of the commission is a quorum, and a majority of a quorum may act in any matter within the jurisdiction of the commission, unless a more restrictive rule is adopted by the commission.
6 Except as otherwise provided by law, the commission shall:

a Establish policy for the department and adopt rules, pursuant to chapter 17A, necessary to provide for the effective administration of chapter 455B or 455C
b Hear appeals in contested cases pursuant to chapter 17A on matters relating to actions taken by the director under chapter 84, 93, 455C, or 469
c Approve or disapprove the issuance of hazardous waste disposal site licenses under chapter 455B d Approve the budget request prepared by the director for the programs authorized by chapters 455B, 455C, 455E, and 455F. The commission shall approve the budget request prepared by the director for programs administered by the energy and geological resources division, the coordination and information division, the administrative services division, and the office of the director, as provided in section 455A.7. The commission may increase, decrease, or strike any item within the department budget request for the specified programs before granting approval.

Subsection 6 paragraph d amended

455A.7 Divisions created — deputy director and administrators appointed by director.

1 The following divisions are created within the department:

a Parks and preserves division which is responsible for programs relating to water access development, state parks and recreation areas, and preserves.
b Forests and forestry division which is responsible for administering programs relating to state forests and forestry and for the operation of the state nursery under section 107.20.
c Fish and wildlife division which is responsible for programs relating to wildlife, law enforcement, fisheries, and land acquisition and management.
d Energy and geological resources division which is responsible for programs relating to energy, geological survey, and oil and gas production.
e Environmental protection division which is responsible for programs relating to wastewater treatment, water supply, hazardous wastes, air and land, and field services.
f Coordination and information division which has the responsibility for legal services, governmental liaison, information and education, and planning.
g Administrative services division which is responsible for finance, budget, and grants, administrative support, data processing, licensing, and construction services.
h Additional divisions deemed necessary for the effective and efficient administration of the department.

3 The director shall appoint an administrator for each division created under subsection 1. The administrator shall be in charge of the department in the absence of the director. The appointment shall be based on the appointee's training, experience, and capabilities.
2 The director shall appoint a deputy director who shall be in charge of the department and shall have the responsibilities provided in chapter 455B, part 9.
3 The director shall appoint an administrator for each division created under subsection 1. The director shall make the appointment based on the appointee's training, experience, and capabilities. Each administrator has the responsibility of administering the programs assigned the division under subsection 1 and other programs assigned by the director. Each administrator shall carry out the duties and responsibilities of office under the general direction and supervision of the director.

Subsection 1 NEW paragraphs i and j

455A.9 Fees — publications.

The department may establish a schedule of fees for subscriptions to publications produced by the de-department, including periodicals. However, this subsection does not apply to application forms and materials intended for general distribution which explain departmental programs or duties.

Fees shall be based on the amount required to recover the reasonable costs of producing a publication, including costs relating to preparing, printing, publishing, and distributing the publication.

455A.10 State fish and game protection fund — capital projects and contingencies.

Funds remaining in the state fish and game protection fund during a fiscal year which are not specifically appropriated by the general assembly are appropriated and may be used for capital projects and contingencies under the jurisdiction of the fish and wildlife division arising during the fiscal year. A contingency shall not include any purpose or project which was presented to the general assembly by way of a bill or a proposed bill and which failed to be enacted into law. For the purpose of this section, a necessity of additional operating funds may be construed as a contingency. Before any of the funds authorized to be expended by this section are allocated for contingencies, it shall be determined by the executive council that a contingency exists and that the contingency was not existent while the general assembly was in session and that the proposed allocation shall be for the best interests of the state. If a contingency arises or could reasonably be foreseen during the time the general assembly is in session, expenditures for the contingency must be authorized by the general assembly.

455A.17 Iowa congress on resources enhancement and protection.

1. Biennially, during even-numbered years, the director shall schedule and make the necessary arrangements for an Iowa congress on resources enhancement and protection. The congress shall be held within the state capitol complex during the summer months.

2. Prior to each congress, the director shall make arrangements to hold an assembly in each council of governments area of persons having an interest in resources enhancement and protection. The department shall promote attendance of interested persons at each assembly. The director shall call each assembly and serve as temporary chairperson. The department shall provide those attending with information regarding resource enhancement and protection expenditures. The assemblies shall identify opportunities for regional resource enhancement and protection and review and recommend changes in resource enhancement and protection policies, programs, and funding. The persons meeting at each assembly shall elect five persons as delegates to the congress on resources enhancement and protection.

3. The delegates to the congress on resources enhancement and protection shall organize, discuss, and make recommendations to the governor, the general assembly, and the natural resource commission regarding issues concerning resources enhancement and protection. The director shall call the congress and serve as temporary chairperson. The delegates are entitled to a per diem as specified in section 7E.6 for expenses of office while attending the congress.

4. The expenses of the department in making the arrangements for and the conducting of the council of governments area assemblies and the congress on resources enhancement and protection and the per diem for expenses of the delegates at the congress shall be paid from the funds appropriated for this purpose.

Subsection 3 amended

455A.18 Iowa resources enhancement and protection fund — audits.

1. An Iowa resources enhancement and protection fund is created in the office of the treasurer of state. The fund consists of all revenues and all other moneys lawfully credited or transferred to the fund. The director shall certify monthly the portions of the fund that are allocated to the various accounts as provided under section 455A.19. The director shall certify before the twentieth of each month the portions of the fund resulting from the previous month’s receipts to be allocated to the various accounts.

2. The auditor of state or a certified public accountant firm appointed by the auditor of state shall conduct annual audits of all accounts and transactions of the fund.

3. For each fiscal year of the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1990, and ending June 30, 2001, there is appropriated from the general fund, to the Iowa resources enhancement and protection fund, the amount of thirty million dollars, except that for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, the amount is twenty million dollars, to be used as provided in this chapter. However, in any fiscal year of the fiscal period, if moneys from the lottery are appropriated by the state to the fund, the amount appropriated under this subsection shall be reduced by the amount appropriated from the lottery.

Section 8.33 does not apply to moneys appropriated under this subsection.

Subsection 3, unnumbered paragraph 2 amended

455A.19 Allocation of fund proceeds.

1. Upon receipt of any revenue, the director shall deposit the moneys in the Iowa resources enhancement and protection fund created pursuant to section 455A.18. The first three hundred fifty thousand dollars of the funds received for deposit in the fund annually shall be allocated to the conservation education board for the purposes specified in section 256.34. One percent of the revenue receipts shall be deducted and transferred to the administration fund provided for in section 107.17. All of the remaining receipts shall be allocated to the following accounts:

a. Twenty-eight percent shall be allocated to the open spaces account. At least ten percent of the allocations to the account shall be made available to match private funds for open space projects on the cost-share basis of not less than twenty-five percent private funds pursuant to the rules adopted by the natural resources commission. Five percent of the funds allocated to the open spaces account shall be used to fund the protected waters program. This account shall be used by the department to implement the statewide open space acquisition, protection, and development programs. The department shall give priority to acquisition and control of open spaces of statewide significance. The department shall also use these funds for developments on state property. The total cost of an open spaces project funded under this paragraph shall not exceed two million dollars unless a public hearing is held on the project in the area of the state affected by the project. Political subdivisions of the state shall be reimbursed for property tax dollars lost to open space acquisitions based on the reimbursement formula provided for in section 111E.4. There is appropriated from the open spaces account to the department the amount in that account, or so much thereof as is necessary, to carry out the open spaces program as specified in this paragraph. An appropriation made under this paragraph shall continue in force for two fiscal years after the fiscal year in which the appropriation was made or until completion of the project. All unencumbered or unobligated funds remaining at the close of the fiscal year in which the appropriation was made or until completion of the project. All unencumbered or unobligated funds remaining at the close of the fiscal year in which the project is completed or at the close of the final fiscal year, whichever date is earlier, shall revert to the open spaces account.

b. Twenty percent shall be allocated to the county conservation account.

(1) Thirty percent of the allocation to the county conservation account annually shall be allocated to each county equally.

(3) Forty percent of the allocation to the county conservation account annually shall be held in an account in the state treasury for the natural resource commission to award to counties on a competitive grant basis by a project selection committee established in this subparagraph. Local matching funds are not required for grants awarded under this subparagraph. The project planning and review committee shall be composed of two staff members of the department and two county conservation board directors appointed by the director and a fifth member selected by a majority vote of the director's appointees. The natural resource commission, by rule, shall establish procedures for application, review, and selection of county projects submitted for funding. Upon recommendation of the project planning and review committee, the director shall award the grants.

(4) Funds allocated to the counties under subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) may be used for land easements or acquisitions, capital improvements, stabilization and protection of resources, repair and upgrading of facilities, environmental education, and equipment. However, expenditures are not allowed for single or multipurpose athletic fields, baseball or softball diamonds, tennis courts, golf courses, swimming pools, and other group or organized sport facilities. Funds may be used for county projects located within the boundaries of a city.

(5) Funds allocated pursuant to subparagraphs (2) and (3) shall only be allocated to counties dedicating property tax revenue at least equal to twenty-two cents per thousand dollars of the assessed value of taxable property in the county to county conservation purposes. State funds received under this paragraph shall not reduce or replace county tax revenues appropriated for county conservation purposes. The county auditor shall submit documentation annually of the dedication of property tax revenue for county conservation purposes. The annual audit of the financial transactions and condition of a county shall certify compliance with requirements of this subparagraph. Funds not allocated to counties not qualifying for the allocations under subparagraph (2) as a result of this subparagraph shall be held in reserve for each county for two years. Counties qualifying within two years may receive the funds held in reserve. Funds not spent by a county within two years shall revert to the general pool of county funds for reallocation to other counties where needed.

(6) Each board of supervisors shall create a special resource enhancement account in the office of county treasurer and the county treasurer shall credit it all resource enhancement funds received from the state in that account. Notwithstanding section 453.7, all interest earned on funds in the county resource enhancement account shall be credited to that account and used for the purposes authorized for that account.

(7) There is appropriated from the county conservation account to the department the amount in that account, or so much thereof as is necessary, to fund the provisions of this paragraph. An appropriation made under this paragraph shall continue in force for two fiscal years after the fiscal year in which the appropriation was made or until completion of the project for which the appropriation was made, whichever date is earlier. All unencumbered or unobligated funds remaining at the close of the fiscal year in which a project funded pursuant to subparagraph (3) is completed or at the close of the third fiscal year, whichever date is earlier, shall revert to the county conservation account.

(8) Any funds received by a county under this paragraph may be used to match other state or federal funds, and multicounty or multiagency projects may be funded under this paragraph.

c. Twenty percent shall be allocated to the soil and water enhancement account. The moneys shall be used to carry out soil and water enhancement programs including, but not limited to, reforestation, woodland protection and enhancement, wildlife habitat preservation and enhancement, protection of highly erodible soils, and clean water programs. The division of soil conservation, by rule, shall establish procedures for eligibility, application, review, and selection of projects and practices to implement the requirements of this paragraph. There is appropriated from the soil and water enhancement account to the soil conservation division the amount in that account, or so much thereof as is necessary, to carry out the programs as specified in this paragraph. Remaining funds of the soil and water conservation account shall be allocated to the accounts of the water protection fund authorized in section 467F.4. Annually, fifty percent of the soil and water enhancement account funds, not to exceed one million dollars, shall be allocated to the water quality protection projects account. The balance of the funds shall be allocated to the water protection practices account. An appropriation made under this paragraph shall continue in force for two fiscal years after the fiscal year in which the appropriation was made or until completion of the project for which the appropriation was made, whichever date is earlier. All unencumbered or unobligated funds remaining at the close of the fiscal year in which the project is completed or at the close of the third fiscal year, whichever date is earlier, shall revert to the soil and water enhancement account.

d. Fifteen percent shall be allocated to a cities' parks and open space account. The moneys allocated in this paragraph may be used to fund competitive grants to cities to acquire, establish, and maintain natural parks, preserves, and open spaces. The grants may include expenditures for multipurpose trails, restroom facilities, shelter houses, and picnic facilities, but expenditures for single or multipurpose athletic fields, baseball or softball diamonds, tennis courts, golf courses, swimming pools, and other group or organized sport facilities requiring specialized equipment are excluded. The grants may be used for city projects located outside of a city's boundaries. The natural resource commission, by rule, shall establish procedures for application, review, and selection of city projects on a competitive basis. The rules shall provide for three categories of cities based on population within which the cities shall compete for grants. There is appropriated from the cities' parks and open space account to the department the amount in that account, or so much thereof as is necessary, to carry out the competitive grant program as provided in this paragraph.

e. Nine percent shall be allocated to the state land management account. The department shall use the moneys allocated to this account for maintenance and expansion of state lands and related facilities under its jurisdiction. The authority to expand state lands and facilities under this paragraph is limited to expansion of the state lands and facilities already owned by the state. There is appropriated from the state land management account to the department the moneys in that account, or so much thereof as is necessary, to implement a maintenance and expansion program for state lands and related facilities under the jurisdiction of the department.

f. Five percent shall be allocated to the historical resource grant and loan fund established pursuant to section 303.16. The department of cultural affairs shall use the moneys allocated to this fund to implement historical resource development programs as provided under section 303.16.

g. Three percent shall be allocated to the living roadway trust fund established under section 314.21 for the development and implementation of integrated roadside vegetation plans.

2. The moneys appropriated under this section shall remain in the appropriate account of the Iowa resources enhancement and protection fund until such time as the agency, board, commission, or overseer of the fund to which moneys are appropriated has made a request to the treasurer for use of moneys appropriated to it and the amount needed for that use. Notwithstanding section 8.33, moneys remaining of the appropriations made for a fiscal year from any of the accounts within the Iowa resources enhancement and protection fund on June 30 of that fiscal year, shall not revert to any fund but shall remain in that account to be used for the purposes for which they were appropriated and the moneys remaining in that account shall not be considered in making the allotments for the next fiscal year.

Subsection 1, paragraph b, subparagraphs (4) and (5) amended Subsection 1, paragraph d amended

455A.20 County resource enhancement committee.

1. A county resource enhancement committee is created in each county. The membership of the committee shall be as follows:

a. The chairpersons of the board of supervisors, county conservation board, commissioners of the soil and water district, and board of directors of each school district in the county. A chairperson may appoint a member of the chairperson's board or commission as the chairperson's designee on the committee. The chairperson or designee of a school district shall be a member of the county committee of the county in which a majority or the largest plurality of the district's students reside.

b. The mayor or the mayor's designee of each city in a county. The mayor's designee shall be a member of the city council. If a city is located in more than one county, the membership shall be on the county committee of the county in which the largest population of the city resides.
c The titular head or the head's designee of each recognized farm organization having a county organization in the county. The designee shall be a member of the organization represented. The recognized farm organizations are the following:

1. The Iowa farm bureau federation.
2. The Iowa farmers union.
3. The Iowa grange.
4. The national farmers organization.
5. The Iowa farm unity coalition.
6. Any other recognized farm or farm commodity group.

d The chairperson or the chairperson's designee of each of the following wildlife or conservation organizations having a recognized county organization:

1. Iowa Audubon council.
2. Iowa sportmens federation.
3. Ducks unlimited.
4. Sierra club.
5. Pheasants forever.
6. The nature conservancy.
7. Iowa association of naturalists.
8. Izaak Walton league of America.
9. Other recognized wildlife, conservation, environmental, recreation, conservation education, or historical-cultural preservation groups, or a nonpartisan governmental research or study group limited to the league of women voters.

The designee shall be a member of the county chapter or organization in the county.

e If a question arises as to whether a recognized county organization exists under paragraph "c" or "d", the question shall be decided by a majority vote of the members selected under paragraphs "a" and "b", excluding the representative of the county conservation board. Sections 69.16 and 69.16A do not apply to appointments made pursuant to this subsection.

2. The duties of the county resource enhancement committee are to coordinate the resource enhancement program, plans, and proposed projects developed by cities, county conservation board, and soil and water conservation district commissioners for funding under this division. The county committee shall review and comment upon all projects before they are submitted for funding under section 455A.19. Each county committee shall propose a five-year program plan which includes a one-year proposed expenditure plan and submit it to the department.

3. The initial meeting of the committee shall be called by the chairperson of the board of supervisors. The chairperson shall give written notice of the date, time, and location of the first meeting. The county committee shall meet at least annually to organize by selecting a chairperson, vice chairperson, and other officers as necessary. The committee shall adopt rules governing the conduct of its meetings, subject to chapter 21.

4. The board of supervisors shall provide a meeting room and the necessary secretarial and clerical assistance for the committee. The expenses shall be paid from the county general fund.

5. The members of the committee are not entitled to compensation or expenses related to their duties of office, except as may otherwise be provided by the boards, commissions, or organizations which the members represent.

CHAPTER 455B
JURISDICTION OF DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

455B.103A General permits — stormwater discharge — issued by director.

1. If a permit is required pursuant to this chapter for stormwater discharge and a facility to be permitted is representative of a class of facilities which could be described and conditioned by a single permit, the director may issue, modify, deny, or revoke a general permit for all of the following conditions:

a If adoption of a general permit is proposed, the terms, conditions, and limitations of the permit shall be drafted into a notice of intended action and adopted in accordance with the provisions of chapter 17A as a rule of the department. The same process of adoption shall be used for modification of a general permit.

b Following the effective date of a general permit, a person proposing to conduct activities covered by the general permit shall provide a notice of intent to conduct a covered activity on a form provided by the department. A person shall also provide public notice of intent to conduct activities covered under the general permit by publishing notice in two newspapers with the largest circulation in the area in which the facility is located. Notice of the discontinuation of a permitted activity shall be provided in the same manner.

c If the department finds that a proposed activity is not covered by a general permit, the department shall notify the affected person and shall provide the person with a permit application if the practice is one which could be authorized by individual permit.

d. A person holding an existing permit is subject to the terms of the existing permit until it expires. If the person holding an existing permit continues the activity beyond the expiration date of the existing permit, an applicable, approved general permit shall become effective.

e. A variance or alteration of the terms and conditions of a general permit shall not be granted. If a variance or modification of an operation authorized by a general permit is desired, the applicant shall apply for an individual permit.

f. The department shall perform on-site inspections and review monitoring data to assess the effectiveness of general permits. If a significant adverse environmental problem exists for an individual facility or class of facilities due to regulation under a general permit, the facility or class of facilities shall be required to obtain individual permits.

g. The department shall establish a procedure for the filing of complaints by persons believing themselves to be adversely affected by the environmental impact of the discharge of a facility operating under a general permit under this section.

2. General permits are not subject to the requirements applicable to individual permits.

3. Three years after the adoption of a general permit by rule, the department shall assess the activities which have been conducted under the general permit and determine whether any significant adverse environmental consequences have resulted.

4. An applicant to be covered under a general permit shall pay a permit fee, as established by rule of the commission, which is sufficient in the aggregate to defray the costs of the permit program. Moneys collected shall be remitted to the department.

91 Acts, ch 121, §1 HF661
NEW section

455B.105 Powers and duties of the commission.

The commission shall:

1. Establish policy for the implementation of programs under its jurisdiction. The commission shall appoint advisory committees to advise the commission and the director in carrying out their respective powers and duties.

2. Advise, consult, and co-operate with other agencies of the state, political subdivisions, and any other public or private agency to promote the orderly, efficient, and effective accomplishment of its responsibilities.

3. Adopt, modify, or repeal rules necessary to implement this chapter and the rules deemed necessary for the effective administration of the department. When the commission proposes or adopts rules to implement a specific federal environmental program and the rules impose requirements more restrictive than the federal program being implemented requires, the commission shall identify in its notice of intended action or adopted rule preamble each rule that is more restrictive than the federal program requires and shall state the reasons for proposing or adopting the more restrictive requirement. In addition, the commission shall include with its reasoning a financial impact statement detailing the general impact upon the affected parties. It is the intent of the general assembly that the commission exercise strict oversight of the operations of the department. The rules shall include departmental policy relating to the disclosure of information on a violation or alleged violation of the rules, standards, permits or orders issued by the department and keeping of confidential information obtained by the department in the administration and enforcement of this chapter. Rules adopted by the executive committee before January 1, 1981 shall remain effective until modified or rescinded by action of the commission.

4. Issue orders and directives necessary to insure integration and co-ordination of the programs administered by the department.

5. Make a concise annual report to the governor and the general assembly, which report shall contain information relating to the accomplishments and status of the programs administered by the department and include recommendations for legislative action which may be required to protect or enhance the environment or to modernize the operation of the department or any of the programs or services assigned to the department and recommendations for the transfer of powers and duties of the department as deemed advisable by the commission. The annual report shall conform to the provisions of section 17.3.

6. Approve all contracts and agreements under this chapter between the department and other public or private persons or agencies.

7. Obtain an adequate public employees fidelity bond to cover those officers and employees of the department accountable for property or funds of this state.

8. Hold public hearings, except when the evidence to be received is confidential pursuant to this chapter or chapter 22, necessary to carry out its powers and duties. The commission may issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence pertinent to the hearings. A subpoena shall be issued and enforced in the same manner as provided in civil actions.

9. Upon request of at least four members of the commission before adopting or modifying a rule, the director shall prepare and publish with the notice required under section 17A.4, subsection 1, paragraph "a", a comprehensive estimate of the economic impact of the proposed rule or modification.

10. Appoint a water coordinator who shall coordinate requests from the public for information or assistance relating to the administration of water resources laws and programs and the resolution of water-related problems.

11. a. Adopt, by rule, procedures and forms necessary to implement the provisions of this chapter relating to permits, conditional permits, and general permits. The commission may also adopt, by rule, a schedule of fees for permit and conditional permit applications and a schedule of fees which may be periodically assessed for administration of permits and conditional permits. In determining the fee schedules, the commission shall consider:

1. The state’s reasonable cost of reviewing applications, issuing permits and conditional permits, and checking compliance with the terms of the permits.

2. The relative benefits to the applicant and to the public of permit and conditional permit review, issuance, and monitoring compliance.

It is the intention of the legislature that permit fees shall not cover any costs connected with correcting violation of the terms of any permit and shall not impose unreasonable costs on any municipality.

3. The typical costs of the particular types of projects or activities for which permits or conditional permits are required, provided that in no circumstances shall fees be in excess of the actual costs to the department.

b. The fees collected by the department under this subsection shall be remitted to the treasurer of state and credited to the general fund of the state.

The commission shall:

1. Develop comprehensive plans and programs for the abatement, control, and prevention of air pollution in this state, recognizing varying requirements for different areas in the state. The plans may include emission limitations, schedules and timetables for compliance with the limitations, measures to prevent the significant deterioration of air quality and other measures as necessary to assure attainment and maintenance of ambient air quality standards.

2. Adopt, amend, or repeal rules pertaining to the evaluation, abatement, control, and prevention of air pollution. The rules may include those that are necessary to obtain approval of the state implementation plan under section 110 of the federal Clean Air Act as amended through January 1, 1979.

3. Adopt, amend, or repeal ambient air quality standards for the atmosphere of this state on the basis of providing air quality necessary to protect the public health and welfare.

4. Adopt, amend, or repeal emission limitations or standards relating to the maximum quantities of air contaminants that may be emitted from any air contaminant source. The standards or limitations adopted under this section shall not exceed the standards or limitations promulgated by the administrator of the United States environmental protection agency or the requirements of the federal Clean Air Act as amended to January 1, 1990. This does not prohibit the commission from adopting a standard for a source or class of sources for which the United States environmental protection agency has not promulgated a standard. This also does not prohibit the commission from adopting an emission standard or limitation for infectious medical waste treatment or disposal facilities which exceeds the standards or limitations promulgated by the administrator of the United States environmental protection agency or the requirements of the federal Clean Air Act as amended to January 1, 1991. The commission shall not adopt an emission standard or limitation for infectious medical waste treatment or disposal facilities prior to January 1, 1995, which exceeds the standards or limitations promulgated by the administrator of the United States environmental protection agency or the requirements of the federal Clean Air Act, as amended to January 1, 1991, for a hospital, or a group of hospitals, licensed under chapter 135B which has been operating an infectious medical waste treatment or disposal facility prior to January 1, 1991.

a. (1) The commission shall establish standards of performance unless in the judgment of the commission it is not feasible to adopt or enforce a standard of performance. If it is not feasible to adopt or enforce a standard of performance, the commission may adopt a design, equipment, material, work practice or operational standard, or combination of those standards in order to establish reasonably available control technology or the lowest achievable emission rate in nonattainment areas, or in order to establish best available control technology in areas subject to prevention of significant deterioration review, or in order to adopt the emission limitations promulgated by the administrator of the United States environmental protection agency under section 111 or 112 of the federal Clean Air Act as amended to January 1, 1979.

b. If a person establishes to the satisfaction of the commission that an alternative means of emission limitation will achieve a reduction in emissions of an air pollutant at least equivalent to the reduction in emissions of the air pollutant achieved under the design, equipment, material, work practice or operational standard, the commission shall amend its rules to permit the use of the alternative by the source for purposes of compliance with this paragraph with respect to the pollutant.

3. A design, equipment, material, work practice or operational standard promulgated under this paragraph shall be promulgated in terms of a standard of performance when it becomes feasible to promulgate and enforce the standard in those terms.

4. For the purpose of this paragraph, the phrase “not feasible to adopt or enforce a standard of performance” refers to a situation in which the commission determines that the application of measurement methodology to a particular class of sources is not practicable due to technological or economic limitations.

b. If the maximum standards for the emission of sulphur dioxide from solid fuels have to be reduced in an area to meet ambient air quality standards, a contract for coal produced in Iowa and burned by a facility in that area that met the sulphur dioxide emission standards in effect at the time the contract went into effect shall be exempted from the decreased requirement until the expiration of the contract period or December 31, 1983, whichever first occurs, if there is any other reasonable means available to satisfy the ambient air quality standards. To qualify under this subsection, the contract must be recorded with the county recorder of the county where the burning facility is located within thirty days after the signing of the contract.

c. The degree of emission limitation required for control of an air contaminant under an emission standard shall not be affected by that part of the stack height of a source that exceeds good engineering practice, as defined in rules, or any other dispersion technique. This paragraph shall not apply to stack heights in existence before December 30, 1970, or dispersion techniques implemented before that date.

5. Classify air contaminant sources according to levels and types of emissions, and other characteristics which relate to air pollution. The commission may require, by rule, the owner or operator of any air contaminant source to establish and maintain such records, make such reports, install, use and maintain such monitoring equipment or methods, sample such emissions in accordance with such methods at such locations and intervals, and using such procedures as the commission shall prescribe, and provide such other information as the commission may reasonably require. Such classifications may be for application to the state as a whole, or to any designated area of the state, and shall be made with special reference to effects on health, economic and social factors, and physical effects on property.

6. a. Require, by rules, notice of the construction of any air contaminant source which may cause or contribute to air pollution, and the submission of plans and specifications to the department, or other information deemed necessary, for the installation of air contaminant sources and related control equipment. The rules shall allow the owner or operator of a major stationary source to elect to obtain a conditional permit in lieu of a construction permit. The rules relating to a conditional permit for an electric power generating facility subject to chapter 476A and other major stationary sources shall allow the submission of engineering descriptions, flow diagrams and schematics that quantitatively and qualitatively identify emission streams and alternative control equipment that will provide compliance with emission standards. Such rules shall not specify any particular method to be used to reduce undesirable levels of emissions, nor type, design, or method of installation of any equipment to be used to reduce such levels of emissions, nor the type, design, or method of installation or type of construction of any manufacturing processes or kinds of equipment, nor specify the kind or composition of fuels permitted to be sold, stored, or used unless authorized by subsection 4 of this section.

b. The commission may give technical advice pertaining to the construction or installation of the equipment or any other recommendation.

7. Commission rules establishing maximum permissible sulfate content shall not apply to an expansion of an industrial anaerobic lagoon facility which was constructed prior to February 22, 1979.

8. Adopt rules consistent with the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, Pub. L. No. 101-549, which require the owner or operator of an air contaminant source to obtain an operating permit prior to operation of the source. The rules shall specify the information required to be submitted with the application for a permit and the conditions under which a permit may be granted, modified, suspended, terminated, revoked, reissued, or denied. The commission may impose fees, including fees upon regulated pollutants emitted from an air contaminant source, in an amount sufficient to cover all reasonable costs, direct and indirect, required to develop and administer the permit program in conformance with the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, Pub. L. No. 101-549. In the case of affected sources and affected units regulated under Title IV of the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, Pub. L. No. 101-549, such fees shall be collected only as provided in and upon submission of an application pursuant to section 408 of the federal Act. The fees collected pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited in the air contaminant source fund created pursuant to section 455B.133B, and shall be utilized solely to cover all reasonable costs required to develop and administer the programs required by Title V of the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, Pub. L. No. 101-549, including the permit program pursuant to section 502 of the federal Act and the small business stationary source technical and environmental assistance program pursuant to section 507 of the federal Act.

455B.133A Temporary air toxics fee imposed.

1. Beginning July 1, 1991, and thereafter until such time as the operating permit fee is established by rule of the commission, and approved by the United States environmental protection agency under section 502(b) of the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, an annual fee of twenty-five dollars per ton of the hazardous air pollutants included in Title III of the federal Clean Air Act of 1990 shall be paid by the affected sources. The fee paid shall be based upon the air emissions of such pollutants as reported or estimated by the source in the previous calendar year.

A source required to report hazardous air pollutants under section 313 of EPCRA shall pay a fee based upon the most recently reported emissions. A person shall pay the established fee for hazardous air pollutants which are not included in section 313 of EPCRA, but which are included in Title III of the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, based upon the facility’s estimates of emissions as required by section 313 of EPCRA including threshold determinations and de minimus exclusions.

2. Moneys collected shall be deposited in the air contaminant source fund created pursuant to section 455B.133B. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any unexpended balance remaining in the fund, which was generated pursuant to this section, shall remain in the fund for the purposes designated under section 455B.133, subsection 8. Notwithstanding section 453.7, any interest and earnings on investments from moneys in the fund shall be used for the purposes of the fund.

§455B.133B Air contaminant source fund created.

1. An air contaminant source fund is created in the office of the treasurer of state under the control of the department. Moneys received from the fees assessed pursuant to sections 455B.133A and 455B.133, subsection 8, shall be deposited in the fund. Moneys collected pursuant to section 455B.133, subsection 8, shall be used solely to defray the costs related to the permit, monitoring, and inspection program, including the small business stationary source technical and environmental compliance assistance program required pursuant to the federal Clean Air Act of 1990, sections 502 and 507, Pub. L. No. 101-549. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any unexpended balance in the fund at the end of each fiscal year shall be retained in the fund. Notwithstanding section 453.7, any interest and earnings on investments from money in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

2. Moneys collected pursuant to section 455B.133A shall be used by the department for the following:
   a. To prepare, submit, and obtain approval of the permit program plan required by section 502(d) of the federal Clean Air Act of 1990.
   b. To provide technical and other assistance to toxics users, relating to toxics pollution prevention and to provide funding for the costs of compiling data pursuant to section 30.7, subsection 5, and section 30.8, subsection 4.

§455B.134 Director — duties — limitations.

The director shall:
1. Publish and administer the rules and standards established by the commission. The department shall furnish a copy of such rules or standards to any person upon request.
2. Provide technical, scientific, and other services required by the commission or for the effective administration of this division II.

3. Grant, modify, suspend, terminate, revoke, reissue or deny permits for the construction or operation of new, modified, or existing air contaminant sources and for related control equipment, and conditional permits for electric power generating facilities subject to chapter 476A and other major stationary sources, subject to the rules adopted by the commission. The department shall furnish necessary application forms for such permits.
   a. No air contaminant source shall be installed, altered so that it significantly affects emissions, or placed in use unless a construction or conditional permit has been issued for the source.
   b. The condition of expected performance shall be reasonably detailed in the construction or conditional permit.
   c. All applications for permits other than conditional permits for electric generating facilities shall be subject to such notice and public participation as may be provided by rule of the commission. Upon denial or limitation of a permit other than a conditional permit for an electric generating facility, the applicant shall be notified of such denial and informed of the reason or reasons therefor, and such applicant shall be entitled to a hearing before the commission.
   d. All applications for conditional permits for electric power generating facilities shall be subject to such notice and opportunity for public participation as may be consistent with chapter 476A or any agreement pursuant thereto under chapter 23E. The applicant or intervenor may appeal to the commission from the denial of a conditional permit or any of its conditions. For the purposes of chapter 476A, the issuance or denial of a conditional permit by the director or by the commission upon appeal shall be a determination that the electric power generating facility does or does not meet the permit and licensing requirements of the commission. The issuance of a conditional permit shall not relieve the applicant of the responsibility to submit final and detailed construction plans and drawings and an application for a construction permit for control equipment that will meet the emission limitations established in the conditional permit.
   e. A regulated air contaminant source for which a construction permit or conditional permit has been issued shall not be operated unless an operating permit also has been issued for the source. However, if the facility was in compliance with permit conditions prior to the requirement for an operating permit and has made timely application for an operating permit, the facility may continue operation until the operating permit is issued or denied. Operating permits shall contain the requisite conditions and compliance schedules to ensure conformance with state and federal requirements. If construction of a new air contaminant source is proposed, the department may issue an operating permit concurrently with the construction permit, if possible and appropriate.
   f. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of division II of this chapter, the following siting requirements shall apply to anaerobic lagoons and earthen waste slurry storage basins:

Anaerobic lagoons or earthen waste slurry storage basins, which are used in connection with animal feeding operations containing less than six hundred twenty-five thousand pounds live animal weight capacity of animal species other than beef cattle or containing less than one million six hundred thousand pounds live animal weight capacity of beef cattle, shall be located at least one thousand two hundred fifty feet from a residence not owned by the owner of the feeding operation or from a public use area other than a public road. Anaerobic lagoons or earthen waste slurry storage basins, which are used in connection with animal feeding operations containing six hundred twenty-five thousand pounds or more live animal weight capacity of animal species other than beef cattle or containing one million six hundred thousand pounds or more live animal weight capacity of beef cattle, shall be located at least one thousand eight hundred seventy-five feet from a residence not owned by the owner of the feeding operation or from a public use area other than a public road. For the purpose of this paragraph the determination of live animal weight capacity shall be based on the average animal weight capacity during a production cycle and the maximum animal capacity of the animal feeding operation. These separation distances apply to the construction of new facilities and the expansion of existing facilities.

Anaerobic lagoons which are used in connection with industrial treatment of wastewater where the average wastewater discharge flow is one hundred thousand gallons per day or less shall be located at least one thousand two hundred fifty feet from a residence not owned by the owner of the lagoon or from a public use area other than a public road. Anaerobic lagoons which are used in connection with industrial treatment of wastewater where the average wastewater discharge flow is greater than one hundred thousand gallons per day shall be located at least one thousand eight hundred seventy-five feet from a residence not owned by the owner of the lagoon or from a public use area other than a public road. These separation distances apply to the construction of new facilities and the expansion of existing facilities.

(2) A person may build or expand an anaerobic lagoon or an earthen waste slurry storage basin closer to a residence not owned by the owner of the anaerobic lagoon or to a public use area than is otherwise permitted by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, if the affected landowners enter into a written agreement with the anaerobic lagoon owner to waive the separation distances under such terms the parties negotiate. The written agreement becomes effective only upon recording in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the residence is located.

4. Determine by field studies and sampling the quality of atmosphere and the degree of air pollution in this state or any part thereof.

5. Conduct and encourage studies, investigations, and research relating to air pollution and its causes, effects, abatement, control, and prevention.

6. Provide technical assistance to political subdivisions of this state requesting such aid for the furtherance of air pollution control.

7. Collect and disseminate information, and conduct educational and training programs, relating to air pollution and its abatement, prevention, and control.

8. Consider complaints of conditions reported to, or considered likely to, constitute air pollution, and investigate such complaints upon receipt of the written petition of any state agency, the governing body of a political subdivision, a local board of health, or twenty-five affected residents of the state.

9. Issue orders consistent with rules to cause the abatement or control of air pollution, or to secure compliance with permit conditions. In making the orders, the director shall consider the facts and circumstances bearing upon the reasonableness of the emissions involved, including but not limited to, the character and degree of injury to, or interference with, the protection of health and the physical property of the public, the practicability of reducing or limiting the emissions from the air pollution source, and the suitability or unsuitability of the air pollution source to the area where it is located. An order may include advisory recommendations for the control of emissions from an air contaminant source and the reduction of the emission of air contaminants.

10. Encourage voluntary co-operation by persons or affected groups in restoring and preserving a reasonable quality of air within the state.

11. Encourage political subdivisions to handle air pollution problems within their respective jurisdictions.

12. Review and evaluate air pollution control programs conducted by political subdivisions of the state with respect to whether the programs are consistent with the provisions of division II of this chapter and rules adopted by the commission.

13. Hold public hearings, except when the evidence to be received is confidential pursuant to section 455B.137, necessary to accomplish the purposes of division II of this chapter. The director may issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence pertinent to the hearings. A subpoena shall be issued and enforced in the same manner as in civil actions.

455B.141 Legal action.

If action to prevent, control, or abate air pollution is not taken in accordance with the rules established, or orders or permits issued by the department, or if the director has evidence that an emergency exists by reason of air pollution which requires immediate action to protect the public health or property, the

When used in this part 1 of division III, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Abandoned well" means a water well which is no longer in use or which is in such a state of disrepair that continued use for the purpose of accessing groundwater is unsafe or impracticable.

2. "Construction" of a water well means the physical act or process of making the water well including, but not limited to, siting, excavation, construction, and the installation of equipment and materials necessary to maintain and operate the well.

3. "Contractor" means a person engaged in the business of well construction or reconstruction or other well services.

4. "Disposal system" means a system for disposing of sewage, industrial waste and other wastes and includes sewer systems, treatment works, point sources and dispersal systems.

5. "Effluent standard" means any restriction or prohibition on quantities, rates, and concentrations of chemical, physical, biological, radiological and other constituents which are discharged from point sources into any water of the state including an effluent limitation, a water quality related effluent limitation, a standard of performance for a new source, a toxic effluent standard or other limitation.

7. "Industrial waste" means any liquid, gaseous, radioactive, or solid waste substance resulting from any process of industry, manufacturing, trade or business or from the development of any natural resource.

8. "Maximum contaminant level" means the maximum permissible level of any physical, chemical, biological or radiological substance in water which is delivered to any user of a public water supply system.

9. "New source" means any building, structure, facility or installation, from which there is or may be the discharge of a pollutant, the construction of which is commenced after the publication of proposed federal rules prescribing a standard of performance which will be applicable to such source, if such Standard is promulgated.

10. "Other waste" means heat, garbage, municipal refuse, lime, sand, ashes, offal, oil, tar, chemicals and all other wastes which are not sewage or industrial waste.

11. "Person" means any agency of the state or federal government or institution thereof, any municipality, governmental subdivision, interstate body, public or private corporation, individual, partnership, or other entity and includes any officer or governing or managing body of any municipality, governmental subdivision, interstate body, or public or private corporation.

12. "Point source" means any discernible, confined, and discrete conveyance, including but not limited to any pipe, ditch, channel, tunnel, conduit, well, discrete fissure, container, rolling stock, concentrated animal feeding operation, or vessel or other floating craft, from which pollutants are or may be discharged.

13. "Pollutant" means sewage, industrial waste or other waste.

14. "Private sewage disposal system" means a system which provides for the treatment or disposal of domestic sewage from four or fewer dwelling units or the equivalent of less than sixteen individuals on a continuing basis.

15. "Private water supply" means any water supply for human consumption which has less than fifteen service connections and regularly serves less than twenty-five individuals.

16. "Production capacity" means the amount of potable water which can be supplied to the distribution system in a twenty-four-hour period.

17. "Public water supply system" means a system for the provision to the public of piped water for human consumption, if the system has at least fifteen service connections or regularly serves at least twenty-five individuals. The term includes any source of water and any collection, treatment, storage, and distribution facilities under control of the operator of the system and used primarily in connection with the system, and any collection or pretreatment storage facilities not under such control which are used primarily in connection with the system.

18. "Reconstruction" of a water well means replacement or removal of all or a portion of the casing of the water well.

19. "Schedule of compliance" means a schedule of remedial measures including an enforceable sequence of actions or operations leading to compliance with any effluent standard, water quality standard, or any other requirement of this part of this division or any rule promulgated pursuant thereto.

20. “Semi-public sewage disposal system” means a system for the treatment or disposal of domestic sewage which is not a private sewage disposal system and which is not owned by a city, a sanitary sewer district, or a designated and approved management agency under section 1288 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. § 1288).

21. “Sewage” means the water-carried waste products from residences, public buildings, institutions, or other buildings, including the bodily discharges from human beings or animals together with such ground water infiltration and surface water as may be present.

22. “Sewer extension” means pipelines or conduits constituting main sewers, lateral sewers or trunk sewers used for conducting pollutants to a larger interceptor sewer or to a point of ultimate disposal.

23. “Sewer system” means pipelines or conduits, pumping stations, force mains, vehicles, vessels, conveyances, injection wells, and all other constructions, devices and appliances appurtenant thereto used for conducting sewage or industrial waste or other wastes to a point of ultimate disposal or disposal to any water of the state. To the extent that they are not subject to section 402 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act, ditches, pipes, and drains that serve only to collect, channel, direct, and convey nonpoint runoff from precipitation are not considered as sewer systems for the purposes of this Act.*

24. “Treatment works” means any plant, disposal field, lagoon, holding or flow-regulating basin, pumping station, or other works installed for the purpose of treating, stabilizing or disposing of sewage, industrial waste or other wastes.

25. “Water of the state” means any stream, lake, pond, marsh, watercourse, waterway, well, spring, reservoir, aquifer, irrigation system, drainage system, and any other body or accumulation of water, surface or underground, natural or artificial, public or private, which are contained within, flow through or border upon the state or any portion thereof.

26. “Water pollution” means the contamination or alteration of the physical, chemical, biological, or radiological integrity of any water of the state by a source resulting in whole or in part from the activities of humans, which is harmful, detrimental, or injurious to public health, safety, or welfare, to domestic, commercial, industrial, agricultural, or recreational use or to livestock, wild animals, birds, fish, or other aquatic life.

27. “Water supply distribution system extension” means any extension to the pipelines or conduits which carry water directly from the treatment facility, source or storage facility to the consumer’s service connection.

28. “Water well” means an excavation that is drilled, cored, bored, augered, washed, driven, dug, jetted or otherwise constructed for the purpose of exploring for groundwater, monitoring groundwater, utilizing the geothermal properties of the ground, or extracting water from or injecting water into the aquifer. “Water well” does not include an open ditch or drain tiles or an excavation made for obtaining or prospecting for oil, natural gas, minerals, or products mined or quarried.

455B.172 Jurisdiction of department and local boards.

1. The department is the agency of the state to prevent, abate, or control water pollution and to conduct the public water supply program.

2. The department shall carry out the responsibilities of the state related to private water supplies and private sewage disposal systems for the protection of the environment and the public health and safety of the citizens of the state.

3. Each county board of health shall adopt standards for private water supplies and private sewage disposal facilities. These standards shall be at least as stringent but consistent with the standards adopted by the commission. If a county board of health has not adopted standards for private water supplies and private sewage disposal facilities, the standards adopted by the commission shall be applied and enforced within the county by the county board of health.

4. Each county board of health shall regulate the private water supply and private sewage disposal facilities located within the county board’s jurisdiction, including the enforcement of standards adopted pursuant to this section.

5. The department shall maintain jurisdiction over and regulate the direct discharge to a water of the state. The department shall retain concurrent authority to enforce state standards for private water supply and private sewage disposal facilities within a county, and exercise departmental authority if the county board of health fails to fulfill board responsibilities pursuant to this section.

The department shall by rule adopt standards for the commercial cleaning of private sewage disposal facilities, including but not limited to septic tanks and pits used to collect waste in livestock confinement structures, and for the disposal of waste from the facilities. The standards shall not be in conflict with the state building code. A person shall not commercially clean such facilities or dispose of waste from such facilities unless the person has been issued a license by the department. The department shall be exclusively responsible for adopting the standards and issuing licenses. However, county boards of health shall enforce the standards and licensing requirements established by the department. Applicasection for the license shall be made in the manner provided by the department. Licenses expire one year from the date of issue unless revoked and may be renewed in the manner provided by the department. The license or license renewal fee is twenty-five dollars. A person violating this section or the rules adopted pursuant to this section, is subject to a civil penalty of not more than twenty-five dollars. Each day that a violation continues constitutes a separate offense. However, the total civil penalty shall not exceed five hundred dollars per year. The penalty shall be assessed for a violation occurring ten days following written notice of the violation delivered to the person by the department or a county board of health. Moneys collected by the department or a county board of health from the imposition of civil penalties shall be deposited in the general fund of the state.

The commission shall make grants to counties for the purpose of conducting programs for the testing of private, rural water supply wells and for the proper closing of abandoned, rural, private water supply wells within the jurisdiction of the county. Grants shall be funded through allocation of the agriculture management account of the groundwater protection fund. Grants awarded, continued, or renewed shall be subject to the following conditions:

a. An application for a grant shall be in a form and shall contain information as prescribed by rule of the commission.

b. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the department from making grants to one or more counties to carry out the purpose of the grant on a joint, multicounty basis.

c. A grant shall be awarded on an annual basis to cover a fiscal year from July 1 to June 30 of the following calendar year.

d. The continuation or renewal of a grant shall be contingent upon the county’s acceptable performance in carrying out its responsibilities, as determined by the director. The director, subject to approval by the commission, may deny the awarding of a grant or withdraw a grant awarded if, by determination of the director, the county has not carried out the responsibilities for which the grant was awarded, or cannot reasonably be expected to carry out the responsibilities for which the grant would be awarded.

e. The department is the state agency to regulate the construction, reconstruction and abandonment of all of the following water wells:

1. Those used as part of a public water supply system as defined in section 455B.171.

2. Those used for the withdrawal of water for which a permit is required pursuant to section 455B.268, subsection 1.

3. Those used for the purpose of monitoring groundwater quantity and quality required or installed pursuant to directions or regulations of the department.

A local board of health is the agency to regulate the construction, reconstruction and abandonment of water wells not otherwise regulated by the department. The local board of health shall not adopt standards relative to the construction, reconstruction and abandonment of wells less stringent than those adopted by the department.

7. The department is the state agency to regulate the registration or certification of water well contractors pursuant to section 455B.187 or section 455B.190A.

8. Pursuant to chapter 28E, the department may delegate its authority for regulation of the construction, reconstruction and abandonment of water wells specified in subsection 6 or the registration of water well contractors specified in subsection 7 to boards of health or other agencies which have adequate authority and ability to administer and enforce the requirements established by law or rule.
construction or during the period of depreciation or amortization of the pollution control equipment for the facility for the purposes of section 167 and 169 or both sections of the Internal Revenue Code, whichever period ends first.

3. Establish, modify or repeal rules relating to the location, construction, operation, and maintenance of disposal systems and public water supply systems and specifying the conditions under which the director shall issue, revoke, suspend, modify or deny permits for the operation, installation, construction, addition to or modification of any disposal system or public water supply system, or for the discharge of any pollutant or for the disposal of water wastes resulting from poultry and livestock operations. The rules specifying the conditions under which the director shall issue permits for the construction of an electric power generating facility subject to chapter 476A shall provide for issuing a conditional permit upon the submission of engineering descriptions, flow diagrams and schematics that qualitatively and quantitatively identify effluent streams and alternative disposal systems that will provide compliance with effluent standards or limitations.

No rules shall be adopted which regulate the hiring or firing of operators of disposal systems or public water supply systems except rules which regulate the certification of operators as to their technical competency.

A publicly owned treatment works whose discharge meets the final effluent limitations which were contained in its discharge permit on the date that construction of the publicly owned treatment works was approved by the department shall not be required to meet more stringent effluent limitations for a period of ten years from the date the construction was completed and accepted but not longer than twelve years from the date that construction was approved by the department.

4. Co-operate with other state or interstate water pollution control agencies in establishing standards, objectives, or criteria for the quality of interstate waters originating or flowing through this state.

5. Establish, modify or repeal rules relating to drinking water standards for public water supply systems. Such standards shall specify maximum contaminant levels or treatment techniques necessary to protect the public health and welfare. The drinking water standards must assure compliance with federal drinking water standards adopted pursuant to the federal Safe Drinking Water Act.

6. a. Adopt rules relating to inspection, monitoring, recordkeeping, and reporting requirements for the owner or operator of any public water supply or any disposal system or of any source which is an industrial user of a publicly or privately owned disposal system.

b. Adopt rules which require each public water system regulated under chapter 455B to test the source water of that supply for the presence of synthetic organic chemicals and pesticides every three years. The rules shall enumerate the synthetic organic chemicals and pesticides, but not more than ten of each, for which the samples are to be tested; shall specify the approved analytical methods for conducting the analysis of water samples; and shall require the reporting of the analytical test results to the department. Priority for testing in the first year shall be those public water supplies for which none of the specified contaminants have been analyzed within the past five years. All of the laboratory analysis and data management shall be conducted by the center for health effects of environmental contamination. Sample collection shall be conducted using a standard sampling protocol by personnel within the department and the center for health effects of environmental contamination in conjunction with ongoing field activities. Samples from private wells and samples from privately owned public water supplies shall be allowed to undergo the same analysis. The cost for the analysis provided for samples from private wells and privately owned public water supplies shall not exceed one hundred ninety-five dollars for the first year of testing. The department shall report a report to the general assembly, by September 1 of each year, of the findings of the tests and the conclusions which may be drawn from the tests.

7. Adopt a statewide plan for the provision of safe drinking water under emergency circumstances. All public agencies, as defined in chapter 29E, shall cooperate in the development and implementation of the plan. The plan shall detail the manner in which the various state and local agencies shall participate in the response to an emergency. The department may enter into any agreement, subject to approval of the commission, with any state agency or unit of local government or with the federal government which may be necessary to establish the role of such agencies in regard to the plan. This plan shall be co-ordinated with disaster emergency plans.

8. Formulate and adopt specific and detailed statewide standards pursuant to chapter 17A for review of plans and specifications and the construction of sewer systems and water supply distribution systems and extensions to such systems not later than October 1, 1977. The standards shall be based on criteria contained in the "Recommended Standards for Sewage Works" and "Recommended Standards for Water Works" (Ten States Standards) as adopted by the Great Lakes-Upper Mississippi River board of state sanitary engineers, design manuals published by the department, applicable federal guidelines and standards, standard textbooks, current technical literature and applicable safety standards. The material standards for polyvinyl chloride pipe shall not exceed the specifications for polyvinyl chloride pipe in designations D-1784-69, D-2241-73, D-2654-76, D-2672-76, D-3036-73 and D-3139-73 of the American society of testing and material. The rules adopted which directly pertain to the construction of sewer systems and water supply distribution systems and the review of plans and specifications for such construction shall be known respectively as the Iowa Standards for Sewer Systems and the Iowa Standards for Water Supply Distribution Systems and shall be applicable in each governmental subdivision of the state. Exceptions shall be made to the standards so formulated only upon special request to and receipt of permission from the department. The department shall publish the standards and make copies of such standards available to governmental subdivisions and to the public.

9. Adopt, modify or repeal rules relating to the construction and reconstruction of water wells, the proper abandonment of wells, and the registration or certification of water well contractors. The rules shall include those necessary to protect the public health and welfare, and to protect the waters of the state. The rules may include, but are not limited to, establishing fees for registration or certification of water well contractors, requiring the submission of well driller's logs, formation samples or well cuttings, water samples, information on test pumping and requiring inspections. Fees shall be based upon the reasonable cost of conducting the water well contractor registration or certification program.

10. Adopt, modify, or repeal rules relating to the awarding of grants to counties for the purpose of carrying out responsibilities pursuant to section 455B.172 relative to private water supplies and priprivate sewage disposal facilities.

1. As used in this section:

a "Class 1 well" means a well one hundred feet or less in depth and eighteen inches or more in diamter.

b "Class 2 well" means a well more than one hundred feet in depth or less than eighteen inches in diameter or a bedrock well.

c "Class 3 well" means a sandpoint well or a well fifty feet or less in depth constructed by joining a screened drive point with lengths of pipe and driving the assembly into a shallow sand and gravel aquifer.

d "Department" means the department of naturual resources.

e "Designated agent" means a person other than the state, designated by a county board of supervisors to review and confirm that a well has been properly plugged.

f "Filling materials" means agricultural lime.
Filling materials may also include other materials, including soil, sand, gravel, crushed stone, and pea gravel as approved by the department.

g "Owner" means the titleholder of the land where a well is located.

h "Plug" means the closure of an abandoned well with plugging materials which will permanently seal the well from contamination by surface drainage, or permanently seal off the well from contamination into an aquifer.

i "Plugging materials" means filling and sealing materials.

j "Sealing materials" means bentonite. Sealing materials may also include neat cement, sand ce­ mement grout, or concrete as approved by the department.

k "Well" means an abandoned well as defined in section 455B.171.
2. All wells shall be properly plugged in accordance with the schedule established by the department. The department shall develop a prioritized closure program and a time frame for the completion of the program and shall adopt rules to implement the program. The schedule established by the department shall provide that to the fullest extent technically and economically feasible, all wells shall be properly plugged not later than July 1, 2000.

3. Wells shall be plugged as follows:
   a. Class 1 wells shall be plugged by placing filling materials up to one foot below the static water level. At least one foot of sealing materials shall be placed on top of the filling materials up to the static water level, as a seal. Filling materials shall be added up to four feet below the ground surface. However, sealing materials may be used to fill the entire well up to four feet below the ground surface. The casing pipe shall be removed down to at least four feet below the ground surface and shall be capped with at least one foot of sealing materials. Obstructions shall be removed from the top four feet of the ground surface and the top four feet shall be backfilled with soil and graded.
   b. Class 2 wells shall be plugged by placing filling materials at the bottom of the well up to four feet below the static water level. At least four feet of sealing material shall be added on top of the filling material up to the original static water level. Filling materials shall be placed up to four feet below the ground surface and the well shall be capped with at least one foot of sealing material. However, sealing materials may be used to fill the entire well up to four feet below the ground surface. The upper four feet of the casing pipe below the ground surface shall be removed. The top four feet of the ground surface shall be removed of obstructions and backfilled with soil and graded.
   c. Class 3 wells shall be plugged by pulling the casing and sandpoint out of the ground, and collapsing the hole. The well may also be plugged by placing sealing materials up to four feet below the ground surface and by removing the upper four feet of casing pipe below the ground surface. The top four feet of the ground surface shall be removed of obstructions and backfilled with soil and graded.

4. The department shall sponsor an advertising campaign directed to persons throughout the state by print and electronic media designed to notify owners of the deadline for plugging wells, penalties for noncompliance, and information about receiving assistance in plugging wells.

5. An owner may, independent of a contractor, plug a well pursuant to this section subject to review and confirmation by a designated agent of the county or a well driller registered with the department.

6. A person who fails to properly plug a well on property the person owns, in accordance with the program established by the department, or as reported by a designated agent or a registered or certified well contractor, is subject to a civil penalty of up to one hundred dollars per every five calendar days that the well remains unplugged or improperly plugged. However, the total civil penalty shall not exceed one thousand dollars. The penalty shall only be assessed after the one thousand dollar limit is reached. If the owner plugs the well in compliance with this section, including applicable departmental rules, before the date that the one thousand dollar limit is reached, the civil penalty shall not be assessed. The penalty shall not be imposed upon a person for improperly plugging a well until the department notifies the person of the improper plugging. The moneys collected shall be deposited in the financial incentive portion of the agriculture management account. The department of agriculture and land stewardship may provide by rule for financial incentive moneys, through expenditure of the moneys allocated to the financial incentive-program portion of the agriculture management account, to reduce a person's cost in properly plugging wells abandoned prior to July 1, 1987.

§455B.190A Well contractor certification program.

1. As used in this section:
   a. "Groundwater" means groundwater as defined in section 455E.2.
   b. "Water well" or "well" means water well as defined in section 455B.171.
   c. "Well contractor" means contractor as defined pursuant to section 455B.171, subsection 3.
   d. "Well contractors' council" means the council established in subsection 3.
   e. "Well services" means new well construction, well reconstruction, installation of pitless equipment, or well plugging.
   f. "Examination" means an examination for well contractors which includes, but is not limited to, relevant aspects of Iowa groundwater law, well construction, well maintenance, and well abandonment practices which protect groundwater and water supplies.

2. The department shall establish a well contractor certification program which shall include all of the following provisions:
   a. Specification of certification requirements, including minimum work experience levels, successful completion of an examination, and continuing education requirements;
   b. A certified well contractor shall be present at the well site and in direct charge of the services whenever well services are provided;
   c. A person shall not act as a well contractor on or after July 1, 1993, unless the person is certified by the department pursuant to this section;
   d. Violation of the rules regarding well construction, maintenance, or plugging are grounds for suspension or revocation of certification;
   e. Provisional certification may be obtained by an applicant in instances of shortages of certified personnel if all of the following conditions are met:
      1) The applicant provides documentation of at least one year of work experience in well services performed under the direct supervision of a certified well contractor.

(2) The applicant successfully completes the examination.

(3) A certified well contractor who employs an applicant for well contractor certification consigns the application for provisional certification. An employer who consigns an application for provisional certification is jointly liable for a violation of the rules regarding well construction, maintenance, or plugging by the provisionally certified well contractor and the violation is grounds for the suspension or revocation of certification of the certified well contractor and the provisionally certified well contractor.

f. The department shall develop continuing education requirements for certification of a well contractor in consultation with the well contractors’ council.

g. The examination shall be developed by the department in consultation with the well contractors’ council. The examination shall be updated as necessary to reflect current groundwater law and well construction, maintenance, and abandonment practices.

h. The department may provide for multiyear certification of well contractors.

3. A well contractors’ council is established.
   a. The council shall consist of the following members:
      (1) One well drilling contractor appointed by the governor and subject to confirmation by the senate.
      (2) One pump installation contractor appointed by the governor and subject to confirmation by the senate.
      (3) One citizen member of the Iowa groundwater association or its successor, appointed by the governor and subject to confirmation by the senate.
      (4) One citizen member of the Iowa environmental health association or its successor, appointed by the governor and subject to confirmation by the senate.
      (5) The director of the Iowa department of public health or the director’s designee.
      (6) The state geologist or the state geologist’s designee.
      (7) The director of the state hygienic laboratory or the director’s designee.
   b. Citizen members of the council shall serve two-year terms beginning and ending as provided in section 69.19. A citizen member of the council shall not serve more than two consecutive terms. The council shall be gender balanced, to the extent possible, pursuant to section 69.16A.
   c. The well contractors’ council shall be dissolved six months after completion of all of the following:
      (1) Publication of the consumer information pamphlet.
      (2) Adoption of rules by the commission.
      (3) Administration of the second certification examination.
   d. The department shall develop, in consultation with the well contractors’ council, a consumer information pamphlet regarding well construction, well maintenance, well plugging, and Iowa groundwater laws. The department and the council shall review and revise the consumer information pamphlet as necessary. The consumer information pamphlet shall be supplied to well contractors, at cost, and well contractors shall supply one copy at no cost to potential customers prior to initiation of well services.
   e. The department shall establish by rule and collect, in consultation with the well contractors’ council, the following fees to be used to implement and administer the provisions of this section:
      a. An annual certification fee to be paid by certified well contractors. The initial annual certification fee is one hundred fifty dollars. The fee may be increased by rule, as necessary, to reflect the costs of administration of the program. The department may establish a fee for multiyear certification.
      b. The department may also charge and collect fees for testing, the provision of continuing education, and other fees related to and based on the actual costs of the well contractor certification program.
   f. Rules adopted by the commission shall be developed in consultation with the council. If a majority of the council does not endorse the rules adopted by the commission, notice shall be sent to the administrative rules review committee indicating the council’s position.

455B.301 Definitions.

As used in this part 1 of division IV, unless the context clearly indicates a contrary intent:
1. “Actual cost” means the operational, remedial and emergency action, closure, postclosure, and monitoring costs of a sanitary disposal project for the lifetime of the project.
2. “Beverage” means wine as defined in section 123.3, subsection 7, alcoholic liquor as defined in section 123.3, subsection 10, wine cooler or drink, tea, potable water, soda water and similar carbonated soft drinks, mineral water, fruit juice, vegetable juice, or fruit or vegetable drinks, which are intended for human consumption.
3. “Beverage container” means a sealed glass, plastic, or metal bottle, can, jar, or carton containing a beverage.
4. “Biodegradable” means degradable through a process by which fungi or bacteria secrete enzymes to convert a complex molecular structure to simple gasses and organic compounds.
5. “Closure” means actions that will prevent, mitigate, or minimize the threat to public health and the environment posed by a closed sanitary landfill, including, but not limited to, application of final cover, grading and seeding of final cover, installation of an adequate monitoring system, and construction of ground and surface water diversion structures, if necessary.
6. "Closure plan" means the plan which specifies the methods and schedule by which an operator will complete or cease disposal operations of a sanitary disposal project, prepare the area for long-term care, and make the area suitable for other uses.

7. "Degradable" means capable of decomposing by biodegradation, photodegradation, or chemical process into harmless component parts after exposure to natural elements for not more than three hundred sixty-five days.

8. "Financial assurance instrument" means an instrument submitted by an applicant to ensure the operator's financial capability to provide reasonable and necessary response during the lifetime of the project and for the thirty years following closure, and to provide for the closure of the facility and postclosure care required by rules adopted by the commission in the event that the operator fails to correctly perform closure and postclosure care requirements. The form may include the establishment of a secured trust fund, use of a cash or surety bond, or the obtaining of an irrevocable letter of credit.

9. "Leachate" means fluid that has percolated through solid waste and which contains contaminants consisting of dissolved or suspended materials, chemicals, or microbial waste products from the solid waste.

10. "Lifetime of the project" means the projected period of years that a landfill will receive waste, from the time of opening until closure, based on the volume of waste to be received projected at the time of submittal of the initial project plan and the calculated refuse capacity of the landfill based upon the design of the project.

11. "Manufacturer" means a person who by labor, art, or skill transforms raw material into a finished product or article of trade.

12. "Photodegradable" means degradable through a process in which ultraviolet radiation in sunlight causes a chemical change in a material.

13. "Postclosure" and "postclosure care" mean the time and actions taken for the care, maintenance, and monitoring of a sanitary disposal project after closure that will prevent, mitigate, or minimize the threat to public health, safety, and welfare and the threat to the environment posed by the closed facility.

14. "Postclosure plan" means the plan which specifies the methods and schedule by which the operator will perform the necessary monitoring and care for the area after closure of a sanitary disposal project.

15. "Private agency" means a private agency as defined in section 28E.2.

16. "Public agency" means a public agency as defined in section 28E.2.

17. "Resource recovery system" means the recovery and separation of ferrous metals and nonferrous metals and glass and aluminum and the preparation and burning of solid waste as fuel for the production of electricity.

18. "Sanitary disposal project" means all facilities and appurtenances including all real and personal property connected with such facilities, which are acquired, purchased, constructed, reconstructed, equipped, improved, extended, maintained, or operated to facilitate the final disposition of solid waste without creating a significant hazard to the public health or safety, and which are approved by the executive director.

19. "Sanitary landfill" means a sanitary disposal project where solid waste is buried between layers of earth.

20. "Solid waste" means garbage, refuse, rubbish, and other similar discarded solid or semisolid materials, including but not limited to such materials resulting from industrial, commercial, agricultural, and domestic activities. Solid waste may include vehicles, as defined by section 321.1, subsection 1. However, this division does not prohibit the use of dirt, stone, brick, or similar inorganic material for fill, landscaping, excavation or grading at places other than a sanitary disposal project. Solid waste does not include hazardous waste as defined in section 455B.411 or source, special nuclear, or by-product material as defined in the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended to January 1, 1979, or petroleum contaminated soil which has been remediated to acceptable state or federal standards.
seventy-five cents per ton of solid waste. The monies collected under this paragraph are appropriated and shall be used for the following purposes:

(1) Ten cents per ton per year is appropriated to the department of natural resources to establish a program to provide competitive grants to regional coordinating councils for projects in regional economic development centers related to by-products and waste exchange system. Grantees under this program shall coordinate activities with other available state or multistate waste exchanges, including but not limited to the by-products and waste search service at the university of northern Iowa. The department shall consult with the department of economic development and the waste reduction center at the university of northern Iowa in establishing criteria for and the awarding of grants under this program. The department of natural resources shall expend not more than thirty thousand dollars of the monies appropriated under this subparagraph to contract with the by-products and waste search service at the university of northern Iowa to provide training and other technical services to grantees under the program. If regional economic development centers cease to exist, the department shall revise the criteria and rules for this program to allow councils of governments or regional planning councils to be applicants for competitive grants.

(2) Fifteen cents per ton per year is appropriated to the department of natural resources to establish three permanent household hazardous waste collection sites so that both urban and rural population are served and so that collection services are available to the public on a regular basis. An additional five cents per ton per year is appropriated to the department to be used for the payment of transportation costs related to household hazardous waste collection programs.

(3) Twelve and one-half cents per ton per year is appropriated to the department to provide additional toxic cleanup days.

Departmental rules adopted for implementation of toxic cleanup days shall provide sufficient flexibility to respond to the household hazardous material collection needs of both small and large communities.

(4) Twenty-seven and one-half cents per ton per year is appropriated to the department to provide low or no interest loans to Iowa businesses for the manufacture or remanufacture of products from postconsumer materials or to Iowa businesses which purchase equipment to achieve source reductions. The department, in consultation with the department of economic development, shall develop rating criteria for the program including criteria which give priority in the approval of loans to firms involved in tire recycling. The department, in cooperation with the department of economic development, shall provide technical assistance to and monitoring of the technical operations of projects funded under this section.

(5) Five cents per ton per year is appropriated to the department of economic development to establish, in cooperation with the department of natural resources, a marketing initiative to assist Iowa businesses producing recycling or reclamation equipment or services, recyclable products, or products from recycled materials to expand into national markets. Efforts shall include the reuse and recycling of sawdust. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1992, fifty thousand dollars of the monies appropriated under this subparagraph shall be allocated for the purposes of developing advanced microbiological technologies for reduction, destruction, or disposal of wet solid waste. For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992, and thereafter, fifty thousand dollars of the monies appropriated under this subparagraph shall be used by the department of economic development to provide grants or loans to Iowa businesses which have participated in the waste reduction assistance program of the department of natural resources or the program provided by the waste reduction center at the university of northern Iowa, and which have identified needs for equipment or retooling to achieve waste reduction.

3. Solid waste disposal facilities with special provisions which limit the site to the disposal of construction and demolition waste, landscape waste, and coal combustion waste, or foundry sand, or solid waste materials approved by the department for lining or capping or for construction berms, dikes or roads in a sanitary disposal project or sanitary landfill are exempt from the tonnage fees imposed under this section. However, solid waste disposal facilities under this subsection are subject to the fees imposed pursuant to section 455B.105, subsection 11, paragraph "a". Notwithstanding the provisions of section 455B.105, subsection 11, paragraph "b", the fees collected pursuant to this subsection shall be used by the department for the regulation of these solid waste disposal facilities.

4. All tonnage fees received by the department under this section shall be deposited in the solid waste account of the groundwater protection fund created under section 455E.11.

5. Fees imposed by this section prior to July 1, 1988, are due on April 15, 1988, for the previous calendar year and are due on July 30, 1988, for the period January 1, 1988, through June 30, 1988. The fees shall be paid to the department and shall be accompanied by a return in the form prescribed by the department. Fees imposed by this section beginning July 1, 1988, shall be paid to the department on a quarterly basis. The initial payment of fees collected beginning July 1, 1988, shall be paid to the department by January 1, 1989, and on a quarterly basis thereafter. The payment shall be accompanied by a return in the form prescribed by the department.

6. A person required to pay fees by this section who fails or refuses to pay the fees imposed by this section shall be assessed a penalty of two percent of the fee due for each month the fee is overdue. The penalty shall be paid in addition to the fee due.
The department shall grant exemptions from the fee requirements of subsection 2, paragraph "a", for receipt of solid waste meeting all of the following criteria:

- Receipt of the solid waste is pursuant to a written contract between the owner or operator of the sanitary landfill and another person.
- The contract was lawfully executed prior to January 1, 1987.
- The contract expressly prohibits an increase in the compensation or fee payable to the owner or operator of the landfill and does not allow voluntary cancellation or renegotiation of the compensation or fee during the term of the contract.
- The contract has not been amended at any time after January 1, 1987.
- The owner or operator of the sanitary landfill applying for exemption demonstrates to the satisfaction of the department that good faith efforts were made to renegotiate the contract notwithstanding its terms, and has been unable to agree on an amendment allowing the fee provided in subsection 2, paragraph "a", to be added to the compensation or fee provisions of the contract.
- Applications for exemption must be submitted on forms provided by the department with proof of satisfaction of all criteria.
- Notwithstanding the time specified within the contract, an exemption from payment of the fee in increase requirements for a multiyear contract shall terminate by January 1, 1989.

In the case of a sanitary disposal project other than a sanitary landfill, no tonnage fee shall apply for five years beginning July 1, 1987 or for five years from the commencement of operation, whichever is later. By July 1, 1992, the department shall provide the general assembly with a recommendation regarding appropriate fees for alternative sanitary disposal projects.

The department shall grant exemptions from the fee requirements of subsection 2, paragraph "b", for receipt of solid waste meeting all of the following criteria:

- Receipt of the solid waste is pursuant to a written contract between the owner or operator of the sanitary landfill and another person.
- The contract was lawfully executed prior to January 1, 1991.
- The contract expressly prohibits an increase in the compensation or fee payable to the owner or operator of the landfill and does not allow voluntary cancellation or renegotiation of the compensation or fee during the term of the contract.
- The contract has not been amended at any time after January 1, 1991.
- The owner or operator of the sanitary landfill applying for exemption demonstrates to the satisfaction of the department that good faith efforts were made to renegotiate the contract notwithstanding its terms, and has been unable to agree on an amendment allowing the fee provided in subsection 2, paragraph "b", to be added to the compensation or fee provisions of the contract.
- Applications for exemption must be submitted on forms provided by the department with proof of satisfaction of all criteria.
- Notwithstanding the time specified within the contract, an exemption from payment of the fee in increase requirements for a multiyear contract shall terminate by January 1, 1993.

Notwithstanding the tonnage fee schedule prescribed under subsection 2, foundry material that is deposited at a permitted sanitary landfill and used to replace material that would otherwise be purchased and transported from off site for daily cover, shall be subject to the following fees:

- For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1992, the tonnage fee is one dollar for each ton of foundry material which is not more than forty percent of the total amount of foundry material deposited at the sanitary landfill for daily cover by any one source. The amount of foundry material deposited at the sanitary landfill which is greater than forty percent of the total amount deposited by any one source is subject to the tonnage fee imposed in subsection 2 on other solid waste.
- For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992, and ending June 30, 1993, the tonnage fee is one dollar and fifty cents for each ton of foundry material which is not more than forty percent of the total amount of foundry material deposited at the sanitary landfill for daily cover by any one source. The amount of foundry material deposited at the sanitary landfill which is greater than forty percent of the total amount deposited by any one source is subject to the tonnage fee imposed in subsection 2 on other solid waste.
- For each fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 1993, the tonnage fee imposed is the tonnage fee imposed in subsection 2 on other solid waste.

The director shall require that a person who operates or proposes to operate a waste incinerator which provides for the incineration of pathological radioactive materials conduct dispersion modeling, under the direction of the Iowa department of public health, for radiological isotopes to measure the emission levels of alpha and gamma rays. The director shall allow a three-month period during which time the operator or person proposing operation of such an incinerator shall conduct the required dispersion modeling. In order to initiate or continue such incineration, the results of the modeling shall provide that the existing incinerator meets or the proposed incinerator will meet the emission standards established by the United States environmental protection agency for a selected isotope.

The department shall conduct a public hearing following submission to the director of the results of the dispersion modeling conducted by an operator or person proposing operation of a waste incinerator which provides for or will provide for the incineration of pathological radioactive materials.

3. If the dispersion modeling results do not meet the standards for emission limitations prescribed under subsection 1, the director shall require the operator or the person who proposes to operate a waste incinerator which provides for the incineration of pathological radioactive materials to employ or conduct an additional dispersion modeling test employing the best available control technology. Following employment of the best available control technology or the conducting of the additional dispersion modeling, if the incinerator or proposed incinerator does not or will not meet the standards prescribed under subsection 2, the operator's permit for incineration of pathological radioactive materials shall be revoked or the permit for such proposed incineration shall be denied.

NEW section

455B.381 Definitions.
As used in this part 4 unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Cleanup” means actions necessary to contain, collect, control, identify, analyze, clean up, treat, disperse, remove, or dispose of a hazardous substance.
2. “Cleanup costs” means costs incurred by the state or its political subdivisions or their agents, or by any other person participating with the approval of the director in the prevention or mitigation of damages from a hazardous condition or the cleanup of a hazardous substance involved in a hazardous condition.
3. “Corrosive” means causing or producing visible destruction or irreversible alterations in human skin tissue at the site of contact, or in the case of leakage of a hazardous substance from its packaging, causing or producing a severe destruction or erosion of other materials through chemical processes.
4. “Hazardous condition” means any situation involving the actual, imminent, or probable spillage, leakage, or release of a hazardous substance onto the land, into a water of the state, or into the atmosphere, which creates an immediate or potential danger to the public health or safety or to the environment. For purposes of this division, a site which is a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site as defined in section 455B.411, subsection 1, is a hazardous condition.
5. “Hazardous substance” means any substance or mixture of substances that presents a danger to the public health or safety and includes, but is not limited to, a substance that is toxic, corrosive, or flammable, or that is an irritant or that generates pressure through decomposition, heat, or other means. “Hazardous substance” may include any hazardous waste identified or listed by the administration of the United States environmental protection agency under the Solid Waste Disposal Act as amended by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, or any toxic pollutant listed under section 307 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act as amended to January 1, 1977, or any hazardous substance designated under section 311 of the federal Water Pollution Control Act as amended to January 1, 1977, or any hazardous material designated by the secretary of transportation under the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act.
6. “Irritant” means a substance causing or producing dangerous or intensely irritating fumes upon contact with fire or when exposed to air.
7. “Person having control over a hazardous substance” means a person who at any time produces, handles, stores, uses, transports, refines, or disposes of a hazardous substance the release of which creates a hazardous condition, including bailees, carriers, and any other person in control of a hazardous substance when a hazardous condition occurs, whether the person owns the hazardous substance or is operating under a lease, contract, or other agreement with the legal owner of the hazardous substance.
8. “Release” means a threatened or real emission, discharge, spillage, leakage, pumping, pouring, emptying, or dumping of a hazardous substance into or onto the land, air, or waters of the state unless one of the following applies:
   a. The release is done in compliance with the conditions of a federal or state permit.
   b. The hazardous substance is confined and expected to stay confined to property owned, leased or otherwise controlled by the person having control over the hazardous substance.
   c. In the use of pesticides, the application is done in accordance with the product label.
9. “Toxic” means causing or producing a dangerous physiological, anatomic, or biochemical change in a biological system.
10. “Waters of the state” means rivers, streams, lakes and any other bodies of surface and subsurface water lying within or forming a part of the boundaries of the state which are not entirely confined and located completely upon lands owned, leased or otherwise controlled by a single person or by two or more persons jointly or as tenants in common. “Waters of the state” includes waters of the United States lying within the state.

Subsection 4 amended

455B.411 Definitions.
As used in this part 5, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site” means real property which has been used for the disposal of hazardous waste or hazardous substances either illegally or prior to regulation as a hazardous waste or a hazardous substance under this part and any adjoining real property and groundwater affected by the disposal activities.
2. "Disposal" means the discharge, deposit, injection, dumping, spilling, leaking, or placing of a hazardous waste or hazardous substance into or on land or water so that the hazardous waste or hazardous substance or a constituent of the hazardous waste or hazardous substance may enter the environment or be emitted into the air or discharged into any waters, including ground waters.

4. a. "Hazardous waste" means a waste or combination of wastes that, because of its quantity, concentration, biological degradation, leaching from precipitation, or physical, chemical, or infectious characteristics, has either of the following effects:

   (1) Causes, or significantly contributes to an increase in mortality or an increase in serious irreversible, or incapacitating reversible, illness.

   (2) Poses a substantial present or potential hazard to human health or the environment when improperly treated, stored, transported, or disposed of, or otherwise managed. "Hazardous waste" may include but is not limited to wastes that are toxic, corrosive or flammable or irritants, strong sensitizers or explosives.

   b. "Hazardous waste" does not include:

   (1) Agricultural wastes, including manures and crop residues that are returned to the soil as fertilizers or soil conditioners.

   (2) Source, special nuclear, or by-product material as defined in the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended to January 1, 1979.

5. "Lubricating oil" means the fraction of crude oil or re-refined oil which is sold for purposes of reducing friction in an industrial or mechanical device.

6. "Manifest" means the form used for identifying the quantity, composition, and the origin, routing, and destination of hazardous waste during its transportation from the point of generation to the point of disposal, treatment or storage.

7. "Recycled oil" means used oil which is reused, following its original use, for any purpose, including the purpose for which the oil was originally used. Recycled oil includes oil which is refined, reclaimed, burned, or reprocessed.

8. "Re-refined oil" means used oil from which the physical and chemical contaminants acquired through previous use have been removed through a refining process.

9. "Storage" means the containment of a hazardous waste, either on a temporary basis or for a period of years, in a manner that does not constitute disposal of the hazardous waste.

10. "Treatment" means a method, technique, or process, including neutralization, designed to change the physical, chemical or biological character or composition of a hazardous waste so as to neutralize the waste or to render the waste nonhazardous, safer for transport, amenable for recovery, amenable for storage, or to reduce the waste in volume. Treatment includes any activity or processing designed to change the physical form or chemical composition of hazardous waste to render the waste nonhazardous.

11. "Used oil" means oil which has been refined from crude oil, has then been used, and as a result of the use, is contaminated by physical or chemical impurities.

§455B.423 Hazardous substance remedial fund.

1. A hazardous substance remedial fund is created within the state treasury. Moneys received from fees, penalties, general revenue, federal funds, gifts, bequests, donations, or other moneys so designated shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the fund. Any unexpended balance in the remedial fund at the end of each fiscal year shall be retained in the fund. However, any unexpended balance shall be transferred to the general fund to replace funds appropriated from the general fund during fiscal year 1985 and fiscal year 1986 for the purposes for which expenditures from the remedial fund are allowed.

2. The director may use the fund for any of the following purposes:

   a. Administrative services for the identification, assessment and cleanup of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites.

   b. Payments to other state agencies for services consistent with the management of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites.

   c. Emergency response activities as provided in part 4 of this division.

   d. Financing the nonfederal share of the cost of cleanup and site rehabilitation activities as well as postclosure operation and maintenance costs, pursuant to the federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980.

   e. Financing the cost of cleanup and site rehabilitation activities as well as postclosure operation and maintenance costs of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites that do not qualify for federal cost-sharing pursuant to the federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980.

   f. Through agreements or contracts with other state agencies, work with private industry to develop alternatives to land disposal of hazardous waste or hazardous substances including, but not limited to, resource recovery, recycling, neutralization, and reduction.

   However, at least seventy-five percent of the fund shall be used for the purposes stated in paragraphs "d" and "e".

3. Neither the state nor its officers, employees, or agents are liable for an injury caused by a dangerous condition at a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site unless the condition is the result of gross negligence on the part of the state, its officers, employees, or agents.
The director may contract with any person to perform the acts authorized in this section.

Moneys shall not be used from the fund for hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site cleanup unless the director has made all reasonable efforts to secure voluntary agreement to pay the costs of necessary remedial actions from owners or operators of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites or other responsible persons.

The director shall make all reasonable efforts to recover the full amount of moneys expended from the fund through litigation or cooperative agreements with responsible persons. Moneys recovered pursuant to this subsection shall be deposited with the treasurer of state and credited to the remedial fund.

455B.426 Hazardous waste fees.

1. The person who generates hazardous waste or the owner or operator of a hazardous waste disposal facility who transports hazardous wastes off of the site where the hazardous waste was generated or off the disposal facility site shall pay a fee of ten dollars for each ton of hazardous waste transported off the site, excluding the water content of any waste that is transported to another facility under the ownership of the generator for the purposes of waste treatment or recycling.

2. A person who generates hazardous waste or owns or operates a facility which treats or disposes of hazardous waste at the facility shall pay the following fees:
   a. Forty dollars for each ton of hazardous wastes placed, deposited, dumped or disposed of onto or into the land at a disposal facility in Iowa.
   b. Two dollars for each ton of hazardous waste destroyed or treated at the generator's site or at the disposal facility to render the hazardous waste non-hazardous.

3. Fees specified in subsections 1 and 2 shall not be imposed on the state or any of its political subdivisions.

4. Fees specified in subsections 1 and 2 shall not be imposed on any of the following:
   a. Hazardous waste that is reclaimed or reused for energy or materials.
   b. Hazardous waste that is transformed into new products which are not wastes.
   c. Hazardous wastes created or retrieved as a result of remedial actions at a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site.
   d. Influent waste water to a treatment facility which is subject to regulation under either 33 U.S.C. 1317(b) or 33 U.S.C. 1342.
   e. A hazardous waste which due to its intrinsic physical, chemical or biological composition degrades, decomposes or changes physical characteristics so as to be rendered or considered nonhazardous without any form of external mechanical, physical or chemical treatment being introduced. However, such change to a nonhazardous nature must occur within twenty-four hours of the generation of the hazardous waste before the exemption granted in this paragraph is applicable.

5. In addition to other fees imposed by this section, a person that is required to obtain a United States environmental protection agency identification number shall pay the following fees:
   a. If the person generates more than one thousand kilograms of hazardous waste per month, a fee of two hundred fifty dollars.
   b. If the person generates hazardous waste but does not generate more than one thousand kilograms of hazardous waste per month, a fee of twenty-five dollars.
   c. If the person is a transporter of hazardous waste, a fee of twenty-five dollars.
   d. If the person operates a hazardous waste treatment, storage, or disposal facility, a fee of twenty-five dollars.

6. Fees imposed by this section shall be paid to the department on an annual basis. Fees are due on April 15 for the previous calendar year. The payment shall be accompanied by a return in the form prescribed by the department.

7. A person required to pay fees by this section who fails or refuses to pay the fees imposed by this section shall be assessed a penalty of fifteen percent of the fee due. The penalty shall be paid in addition to the fee due.

8. Moneys collected or received by the department pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the treasurer of state for deposit in the hazardous waste remedial fund.

9. The fees imposed by this section shall be suspended if after collection of the fees due from the previous quarter, the hazardous waste remedial fund has a balance in excess of six million dollars. If the balance falls below three million dollars, the fees shall be reimposed commencing the beginning of the next calendar quarter.

§455B.426 Registry of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites.

1. The director shall maintain and make available for public inspection a registry of confirmed hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites in the state. The director shall take all necessary action to ensure that the registry provides a complete listing of all sites. The registry shall contain the exact location of each site and identify the types of waste found at each site.

2. The director shall investigate all known or suspected hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites and determine whether each site should be included in the registry. In the evaluation of known or suspected hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites, the director may enter private property and perform tests and analyses in the manner provided in section 455B.416.
455B.427 Annual report on hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites.
1. The director shall annually on January 1 transmit a report to the general assembly and the governor identifying all hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites in the state listed on the registry. A copy of the report shall also be sent to the board of supervisors of every county containing a site.

2. The annual report shall include, but is not limited to, the following information for each site:
   a. A general description of the site, including the name and address of the site, the type and quantity of the hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposed of at the site and the name of the current owners of the site.
   b. A summary of significant environmental problems at or near the site.
   c. A summary of serious health problems in the immediate vicinity of the site and health problems deemed by the director in cooperation with the Iowa department of public health to be related to conditions at the site.
   d. The status of testing, monitoring, or remedial actions in progress or recommended by the director.
   e. The status of pending legal actions and federal, state, or local government permits concerning the site.
   f. The relative priority for remedial action at each site.
   g. The proximity of the site to private residences, public buildings or property, school facilities, places of work, or other areas where individuals may be regularly present.

3. In developing and maintaining the annual report, the director shall assess the relative priority of the need for action at each site to remedy environmental and health problems resulting from the presence of hazardous wastes or hazardous substances at the sites. In making assessments of relative priority, the director, in cooperation with the Iowa department of public health on matters relating to public health, shall place every site in one of the following classifications:
   a. Causing or presenting an imminent danger of causing irreversible or irreparable damage to the public health or environment—immediate action required.
   b. Significant threat to the environment—action required.
   c. Not a significant threat to the public health or environment—action may be deferred.
   d. Site properly closed—requires continued management.
   e. Site properly closed, no evidence of present or potential adverse impact—no further action required.

4. A site classified as properly closed under subsection 3, paragraph "e", shall be removed from all subsequent annual reports and the register of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites.

5. The director shall work with the Iowa department of public health when assessing the effects of a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site on human health.

91 Acts ch 155 § 4 HF 649
Subsections 1 and 4 amended

455B.428 Investigation of sites.
1. The director shall investigate each hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site listed in the registry to determine its relative priority.

2. The director shall identify each hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site by providing all of the following:
   a. The address and site boundaries.
   b. The time period of use for disposal of hazardous waste or hazardous substances.
   c. The name of the current owner and operator and names of reported owners and operators during the time period of use for disposal of hazardous waste or hazardous substances.
   d. The names of persons responsible for the generation and transportation of the hazardous waste or hazardous substances disposed of at the site.
   e. The type, quantity and manner of disposal of hazardous waste or hazardous substances.

3. When preliminary evidence suggests further assessment is necessary, the director may assess any of the following:
   a. The depth of the water table at the site.
   b. The nature of soils at the site.
   c. The location, nature, and size of aquifers at the site.
   d. The direction of present and historic groundwater flows at the site.
   e. The location and nature of surface waters at and near the site.
   f. The levels of contaminants in groundwater, surface water, air, and soils at and near the site resulting from hazardous wastes or hazardous substances disposed of at the site.
   g. The current quality of all drinking water drawn from or distributed through the area in which the site is located, if the director determines that water quality may have been affected by the site.

4. The director shall maintain a site assessment file for each site listed in the registry. The file shall contain all information obtained pursuant to this section and shall be open to the public. Information in the file may be reproduced by any person at a charge not to exceed the actual cost of reproduction for copies of file information.

Subsections 1 and 2 amended

455B.430 Use and transfer of sites — penalty — financial disclosure.
1. A person shall not substantially change the manner in which a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site on the registry pursuant to section 455B.426 is used without the written approval of the director.

2. A person shall not sell, convey, or transfer title to a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site which is on the registry pursuant to section 455B 426 without the written approval of the director. The director shall respond to a request for a change of ownership within thirty days of its receipt.

3 Decisions of the director concerning the use or transfer of a hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal site may be appealed in the manner provided in section 455B 429.

4 If the director has reason to believe this section has been violated, or is in imminent danger of being violated, the director may institute a civil action in district court for injunctive relief to prevent the violation and for the assessment of a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars per day for each day of violation. Moneys collected under this subsection shall be deposited in the remedial fund.

5 Immediately upon the listing of real property in the registry of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites, a person liable for cleanup costs shall submit to the director a report consisting of documentation of the responsible person's liabilities and assets, including if filed, a copy of the annual report submitted to the secretary of state pursuant to chapter 490. A subsequent report pursuant to this section shall be submitted annually on April 15 for the period the site remains on the registry.

455B.467 Emergency variance.

The department may grant a variance to the restrictions or prohibition of land disposal of a hazardous waste in either of the following situations:

1. When the materials sought to be disposed of resulted from the cleanup of a hazardous condition involving a hazardous waste.

2. When the materials sought to be disposed of resulted from remediation or cleanup of hazardous waste or hazardous substance disposal sites.

455B.474 Duties of commission — rules.

The commission shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to:

1. Release detection, prevention, and correction as may be necessary to protect human health and the environment, applicable to all owners and operators of underground storage tanks. The rules shall include, but are not limited to, requirements for:

   a. Maintaining a leak detection system, an inventory control system with a tank testing, or a comparable system or method designed to identify releases in a manner consistent with the protection of human health and the environment.

   b. Maintaining records of any monitoring or leak detection system, inventory control system, or tank testing or comparable system.

   c. Reporting of any releases and corrective action taken in response to a release from an underground storage tank.

   d. Establishing criteria for classifying sites according to the release of a regulated substance in connection with an underground storage tank.

2. The classification system shall consider the actual or potential threat to public health and safety and to the environment posed by the contaminated site and shall take into account relevant factors, including the presence of contamination in soils, groundwaters, and surface waters, and the effect of conduits, barriers, and distances on the contamination found in those areas according to the following factors:

   a. Soils shall be evaluated based upon the depth of the existing contamination and its distance from the ground surface to the contamination zone and the contamination zone to the groundwater, the soil type and permeability, including whether the contamination exists in clay, till or sand and gravel, and the variability of the soils, whether the contamination exists in soils of natural variability or in a disturbed area.

   b. Groundwaters shall be evaluated based upon the depth of the contamination and its distance from the ground surface to the groundwater and from the contamination zone to the groundwater, the flow pattern of the groundwater, the direction of the flow in relation to the contamination zone and the interconnection of the groundwater with the surface or with surface water and with other groundwater sources, the nature of the groundwater, whether it is located in a high yield aquifer, an isolated, low yield aquifer, or in a transient saturation zone, and use of the groundwater, whether it is used as a drinking water source for public or private drinking water supplies, for livestock watering, or for commercial and industrial processing.

   c. Surface water shall be evaluated based upon its location, its distance in relation to the contamination zone, the groundwater system and flow, and its location in relation to surface drainage.

3. The effect of conduits, barriers, and distances on the contamination found in soils, groundwaters, and surface waters. Consideration should be given to the following: the effect of contamination on conduits such as wells, utility lines, tile lines and drainage systems, the effect of conduits on the transport of the contamination, whether a well is active or abandoned, what function the utility line serves, whether it is a sewer line, a water distribution line, telephone line, or other line, the existence of barriers such as buildings and other structures, pavement, and natural barriers, including rock formations and ravines, and the distance which separates the contamination found in the soils, groundwaters, or surface waters from the conduits and barriers.

4. A site shall be classified as either high risk, low risk, or no action required.

   a. A site shall be considered high risk under any of the following conditions:

      i. Contamination is affecting or likely to affect groundwater which is used as a source water for public or private water supplies, to a level rendering them unsafe for human consumption.
(ii) Contamination is actually affecting or is likely to affect surface water bodies to a level where surface water quality standards, under section 455B.173, will be exceeded.

(iii) Harmful or explosive concentrations of petroleum substances or vapors affecting structures or utility installations exist or are likely to occur.

(b) A site shall be considered low risk under any of the following conditions:

(i) Contamination is present and is affecting groundwater, but high risk conditions do not exist and are not likely to occur.

(ii) Contamination is above action level standards, but high risk conditions do not exist and are not likely to occur.

(c) A site shall be considered no action required if contamination is below action level standards and high or low risk conditions do not exist and are not likely to occur.

(d) A site shall be reclassified as a site with a higher or lower classification when the site falls within a higher or lower classification as established under this subparagraph.

e. The closure of tanks to prevent any future release of a regulated substance into the environment. If consistent with federal environmental protection agency technical standard regulations, state tank closure rules shall include, at the tank owner's election, an option to fill the tank with an inert material. Removal of a tank shall not be required if the tank is filled with an inert material pursuant to department of natural resources rules. A tank closed, or to be closed and which is actually closed, within one year of May 13, 1988, shall be required to complete monitoring or testing as required by the department to ensure that the tank did not leak prior to closure, but shall not be required to have a monitoring system installed.

f. Establishing corrective action response requirements for the release of a regulated substance in connection with an underground storage tank. The corrective action response requirements shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

1. A requirement that the site cleanup report do all of the following:

   (a) Identify the nature and level of contamination resulting from the release.

   (b) Provide supporting data and a recommendation of the degree of risk posed by the site relative to the site classification system adopted pursuant to paragraph "d".

   (c) Provide supporting data and a recommendation of the need for corrective action.

   (d) Identify the corrective action options which shall address the practical feasibility of implementation, costs, expected length of time to implement, and environmental benefits.

2. To the fullest extent practicable, allow for the use of generally available hydrological, geological, topographical, and geographical information and minimize site specific testing in preparation of the site cleanup report.

3. Require that at a minimum the source of a release be stopped either by repairing, upgrading, or closing the tank and that free product be removed or contained on site.

4. High risk sites shall comply with corrective action standards.

5. Low risk sites shall be monitored according to the following schedule:

   (a) Up to three times per year from years one through three.

   (b) Up to two times per year from years four through six.

   (c) One time per year from years seven through nine.

6. In the twelfth year the site shall be monitored one time. If there has been no significant increase in contamination or the contamination has not moved, the site shall be reclassified as a no action required site. If at any time the contamination has increased or moved by a significant amount, the site shall be monitored according to the previous higher monitoring schedule as established under this subparagraph.

7. Notwithstanding other provisions to the contrary and to the extent permitted by federal law, the department shall allow for bioremediation of soils and groundwater. For purposes of this subparagraph, "bioremediation" means the use of biological organisms, including microorganisms or plants, to degrade organic pollutants to common natural products.

8. Replacement or upgrade of a tank on a site classified as a high or low risk site shall be equipped with a secondary containment system with monitoring of the space between the primary and secondary containment structures or other board approved tank system or methodology.

9. The commission and the board shall cooperate to ensure that remedial measures required by the corrective action rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph are reasonably cost-effective and shall, to the fullest extent possible, avoid duplicating and conflicting requirements.

10. The director may order an owner or operator to immediately take all corrective actions deemed reasonable and necessary by the director if the corrective action is consistent with the prioritization rules adopted under this paragraph. Any order taken by the director pursuant to this subparagraph shall be reviewed at the next meeting of the environmental protection commission.

9. Specifying an adequate monitoring system to detect the presence of a leaking underground storage tank and to provide for protection of the groundwater resources for regulated tanks installed prior to January 14, 1987. The effective date of the rules adopted shall be January 14, 1989. In the event that federal regulations are adopted by the United States environmental protection agency after the commission has adopted state standards pursuant to this subsection, the commission shall immediately proceed to adopt rules consistent with those federal regulations adopted. Unless the federal environmental protection agency adopts final rules to the contrary, rules adopted pursuant to this section shall not apply to hydraulic lift reservoirs, such as for automobile hoists and elevators, containing hydraulic oil.

h. Issuance of a monitoring certificate for sites classified as low risk pursuant to paragraph "f". A monitoring certificate shall be valid until the site is reclassified as a no action required site. A site which has been issued a monitoring certificate shall not be eligible to receive a clean site certificate under section 455B.304, subsection 15, until the site is reclassified as a no risk site.*

In adopting the rules under this subsection, the commission may distinguish between types, classes, and ages of underground storage tanks. In making the distinctions, the commission may take into consideration factors including, but not limited to, location of the tanks, compatibility of a tank material with the soil and climate conditions, uses of the tanks, history of maintenance, age of the tanks, current industry recommended practices, national consensus codes, hydrogeology, water table, size of the tanks, quantity of regulated substances periodically deposited in or dispensed from the tank, the degree of risk presented by the regulated substance, the technical and managerial capability of the owners and operators, and the compatibility of the regulated substance and the materials of which the underground storage tank is fabricated.

The department may issue a variance, which includes an enforceable compliance schedule, from the mandatory monitoring requirement for an owner or operator who demonstrates plans for tank removal, replacement, or filling with an inert material pursuant to a department approved variance. A variance may be renewed for just cause.

2. The maintenance of evidence of financial responsibility as the director determines to be feasible and necessary for taking corrective action and for compensating third parties for bodily injury and property damage caused by release of a regulated substance from an underground storage tank.

a. Financial responsibility required by this subsection may be established in accordance with rules adopted by the commission by any one, or any combination, of the following methods: insurance, guaranty, surety bond, letter of credit, or qualification as a self-insurer. In adopting requirements under this subsection, the commission may specify policy or other contractual terms, conditions, or defenses which are necessary or are unacceptable in establishing the evidence of financial responsibility.

A person who establishes financial responsibility by self-insurance shall not require or shall not enforce an indemnification agreement with an operator or owner of the tank covered by the self-insurance obligation, unless the owner or operator has committed a substantial breach of a contract between the self-insurer and the owner or operator, and that substantial breach relates directly to the operation of the tank in an environmentally sound manner. This paragraph applies to all contracts between a self-insurer and an owner or operator entered into on or after May 5, 1989.

b. If the owner or operator is in bankruptcy, reorganization, or arrangement pursuant to the federal bankruptcy law or if jurisdiction in any state court or federal court cannot be obtained over an owner or operator likely to be solvent at the time of judgment, any claim arising from conduct for which evidence of financial responsibility must be provided under this subsection may be asserted directly against the guarantor providing the evidence of financial responsibility. In the case of action pursuant to this paragraph, the guarantor is entitled to invoke all rights and defenses which would have been available to the owner or operator if an action had been brought against the owner or operator by the claimant and which would have been available to the guarantor if an action had been brought against the guarantor by the owner or operator.

c. The total liability of a guarantor shall be limited to the aggregate amount which the guarantor has provided as evidence of financial responsibility to the owner or operator under this subsection. This subsection does not limit any other state or federal statutory, contractual, or common law liability of a guarantor to its owner or operator including, but not limited to, the liability of the guarantor for bad faith in negotiating or in failing to negotiate the settlement of any claim. This subsection does not diminish the liability of any person under section 107 or 111 of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980 or other applicable law.

d. For the purpose of this subsection, the term "guarantor" means any person, other than the owner or operator, who provides evidence of financial responsibility for an owner or operator under this subsection.

e. If an owner or operator is required to uncover or remove an underground storage tank based upon a determination of the department that the underground storage tank presents a hazard to the public health, safety, or the environment, and if upon inspection of the tank the determination is unfounded, the state may reimburse reasonable costs incurred in the inspection of the tank. Claims for reimbursement shall be filed on forms provided by the commission. The commission shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to determinations of reasonableness in approval or rejection of claims in cases of dispute. Claims shall be paid from the general fund of the state. When any one of the tanks or the related pumps and piping at a multiple tank facility are found to be leaking, the state shall not reimburse costs for uncovering or removing any of the other tanks, piping, or pumps that are not found to be leaking.

3. Standards of performance for new underground storage tanks which shall include, but are not limited to, design, construction, installation, release detection, and compatibility standards. Until the effective date of the standards adopted by the commission and after January 1, 1986, a person shall not install an underground storage tank for the purpose of storing regulated substances unless the tank (whether of single or double wall construction) meets all the following conditions:

a. The tank will prevent release due to corrosion or structural failure for the operational life of the tank.

b. The tank is cathodically protected against corrosion, constructed of noncorrosive material, steel clad with a noncorrosive material, or designed in a manner to prevent the release or threatened release of any stored substance.

c. The material used in the construction or lining of the tank is compatible with the substance to be stored. If soil tests conducted in accordance with A.S.T.M. standard G 57-78 or another standard approved by the commission show that soil resistivity in an installation location is twelve thousand ohm/cm or more (unless a more stringent soil resistivity standard is adopted by rule of the commission), a storage tank without corrosion protection may be installed in that location until the effective date of the standards adopted by the commission and after January 1, 1986.

d. Rules adopted by the commission shall specify adequate monitoring systems to detect the presence of a leaking underground storage tank and to provide for protection of the groundwater resources from regulated tanks installed after January 14, 1987. In the event that federal regulations are adopted by the United States environmental protection agency after January 1, 1986, the person installing the underground storage tank for purposes of this chapter and after January 14, 1987, shall continue to be considered new tanks for purposes of this chapter and are subject to state monitoring requirements unless federal requirements are more restrictive.

4. The form and content of the written notices required by section 455B.473.

5. The duties of owners or operators of underground storage tanks to locate and abate the source of release of regulated substances, when in the judgment of the director, the local hydrology, geology and other relevant factors reasonably include a tank as a potential source.

6. Reporting requirements necessary to enable the department to maintain an accurate inventory of underground storage tanks.

The rules adopted by the commission under this section shall be consistent with and shall not exceed the requirements of federal regulations relating to the regulation of underground storage tanks except as provided in subsection 1, paragraph "d" and subsection 3, paragraph "d". It is the intent of the general assembly that state rules adopted pursuant to subsection 1, paragraph "d" and subsection 3, paragraph "d" be consistent with and not more restrictive than federal regulations adopted by the United States environmental protection agency when those rules are adopted.

455B.502 Infectious medical waste incinerators — regents universities — requirements.

1. The director shall require that a regents university which operates an infectious medical waste incinerator shall conduct periodic monitoring, under the direction of the Iowa department of public health, and as required by the department of natural resources, to measure compliance with the emission limitations standards for toxic air pollutants adopted by rule of the department of natural resources. In order to continue incineration, the existing incinerator shall continue to meet the emission limitations standards for toxic air pollutants adopted by rule of the department of natural resources.

2. If monitoring results do not meet the emission limitations standards established, the director of the department of natural resources shall require that the university employ the best available control technology for toxics as defined by rule of the department of natural resources. Following employment of the best available control technology for toxics, if the incinerator does not meet the standards established, the permit for operation of the infectious medical waste incinerator shall be revoked.

455B.503 Infectious waste treatment and disposal facilities — permits required — rules.

The commission shall adopt rules which require a person who owns or operates an infectious waste treatment or disposal facility to obtain an operating permit before initial operation of the facility. The rules shall specify the information required to be submitted with the application for a permit and the conditions under which a permit may be issued, suspended, modified, revoked, or renewed. The rules shall address but are not limited to the areas of operator safety, recordkeeping and tracking procedures, best available appropriate technologies, emergency response and remedial action procedures, waste minimization procedures, and long-term liability. The department shall submit proposed rules to the commission by January 15, 1992.

1. “Authority” means the waste management authority created pursuant to section 455B.483.
2. “Commission” means the environmental protection commission established pursuant to section 455A.6.
3. “Department” means the department of natural resources created pursuant to section 455A.2.
4. “Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-know Act” or “EPCRA” means the federal Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-know Act as defined in section 30.1.
5. “Environmental waste” means a pollutant, waste, or release regardless of the type or existence of regulation and regardless of the media affected by the pollutant, waste, or release.
6. “Existing toxics user” means a toxics user installation or source constructed prior to July 1, 1991.
7. “Multimedia” means any combination of air, water, land, or workplace environments into which toxic substances or wastes are released.
8. “Release” means emission, discharge, or disposal into any environmental media including air, water, or land.
9. “Toxics pollution prevention” means employment of a practice which reduces the industrial use of toxic substances or reduces the environmental and health hazards associated with an environmental waste without diluting or concentrating the waste before the release, handling, storage, transport, treatment, or disposal of the waste. The term includes toxics pollution prevention techniques but does not include a practice which is applied to an environmental waste after the waste is generated or comes into existence on or after the waste exits a production or commercial operation.

“Toxics pollution prevention” does not include, promote, or require any of the following:

a. Waste burning in industrial furnaces, boilers, smelters, or cement kilns for the purpose of energy recovery.
b. The transfer of an environmental waste from one environmental medium to another environmental medium, the workplace environment, or a product.
c. Offsite waste recycling.
d. Any other method of end-of-pipe management of environmental wastes including waste exchange and the incorporation or embedding of regulated environmental wastes into products or by-products.

10. “Toxics pollution prevention techniques” means any of the following practices by a toxics user:

a. Input substitution, which refers to replacing a toxic substance or raw material used in a production process with a nontoxic or less toxic substance.
b. Product reformulation, which refers to substituting for an existing end product an end product which is nontoxic or less toxic upon use or release.
c. Production process redesign or modification, which refers to developing and using production processes of a different design other than those currently in use.
d. Production process modernization, which refers to upgrading or replacing existing production process equipment or methods with other equipment or methods based on the same production process.

e. Improved operation and maintenance of existing production process equipment and methods, which refers to modifying or adding to existing equipment or methods, including but not limited to, such techniques as improved housekeeping practices, system adjustments, product and process inspections, and production process control equipment or methods.

f. Recycling, reuse, or extended use of toxic substances by using equipment or methods which become an integral part of the production process.

11. "Toxic substance" means any chemical substance in a gaseous, liquid, or solid state which is identified as a reportable substance under the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, EPCRA, or defined as a hazardous air pollutant under the Clean Air Act of 1990. However, "toxic substance" does not include a chemical substance present in the article; used as a structural component of a facility; present in a product used for routine janitorial or facility grounds maintenance; present in foods, drugs, cosmetics, or other personal items used by employees or other persons at a toxics user facility; present in process water or noncontact cooling water as drawn from the environment or from municipal sources; present in air used either as compressed air or as part of combustion; present in a pesticide or herbicide when used in agricultural applications; or present in crude, fuel, or lube oils for direct wholesale or retail sale.

13. "Toxics user" means a large quantity generator as defined pursuant to the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, 42 U.S.C. § 6901 et seq. or a person required to report pursuant to Title III of the federal Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986.

14. "Waste exchange" means a method of end-of-pipe management of environmental wastes that involves the transfer of environmental wastes between businesses or facilities owned or operated by the same business for recovery or to serve a productive purpose.

4. a. Seek, receive, and accept funds in the form of appropriations, grants, awards, wills, bequests, endowments, and gifts for the use of toxic substances by using equipment or methods which become an integral part of the production process.

5. Develop and implement guidelines regarding assistance to toxics users to ensure that the plans are multimedia in approach and are not duplicated by the department or other agencies of the state.

6. Identify obstacles to the promotion, within the toxics user community, of toxics pollution prevention techniques and practices.

7. Compile an assessment inventory, through solicitation of recommendations of toxics users and owners and operators of air contaminant sources, of the informational and technical assistance needs of toxics users and air contaminant sources.

8. Function as a repository of research, data, and information regarding toxics pollution prevention activities throughout the state.

9. Provide a forum for public discussion and deliberation regarding toxic substances and toxics pollution prevention.

10. Promote increased coordination between the department, the Iowa waste reduction center at the university of northern Iowa, and other departments, agencies, and institutions with responsibilities relating to toxic substances.

11. Coordinate state and federal efforts of clearinghouses established to provide access to toxics reduction and management data for the use of toxics users.

12. Make recommendations to the general assembly by January 1, 1992, regarding a funding structure for the long-term implementation and continuation of a toxics pollution prevention program.

13. Work with the Iowa waste reduction center at the university of northern Iowa to assist small business toxics users with plan preparation and technical assistance.

455B.517 Duties of waste management authority.

The waste management authority shall do all of the following:

1. Establish the criteria for the development of the toxics pollution prevention program.

2. Develop and implement a toxics pollution prevention program.

3. Assist toxics users in the completion of toxics pollution prevention plans and inventories, and provide technical assistance as requested by the toxics user.

455B.518 Toxics pollution prevention plans.

1. A toxics user required to report under section 313 of EPCRA, 42 U.S.C. § 11023, or a large quantity generator, as defined pursuant to the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, 42 U.S.C. § 6901 et seq., shall be encouraged to develop a facility-wide multimedia toxics pollution prevention plan, as described pursuant to this section.

2. The authority shall adopt criteria for the information required in a multimedia toxics pollution prevention plan To the extent possible, the plans shall coordinate reporting requirements in order to minimize unnecessary duplication. The plans shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

a. A policy statement which articulates upper management and corporate support for the toxics pollution prevention plan and its implementation.

b. The identification and quantities of toxic substances used and released by groups of related production processes or by processes used in producing an identifiable product.

c. An assessment of the applicability of the approaches designated as toxics pollution prevention techniques including the following input substitution, production reformulation, production process redesign or modification, production process modernization, improved operation and maintenance of existing production process equipment and methods, and recycling, reuse, or extended use of toxic substances, to the toxics users' production processes as identified in paragraph "b".

d. A description of current and previous techniques used to reduce or eliminate toxics used or released.

e. An economic analysis of the proposed toxics pollution prevention plan. The economic analysis shall also include an evaluation of the impact upon the toxics user's existing labor force by division or department, and the projected impact upon future expansion of the toxics user's labor force.

f. A clear statement listing specific reduction objectives.

g. A method for employees of a toxics user to provide input and to be involved in the development of the plans. If the employees are represented by a labor union, organization, or association, a representative of the union, organization, or association shall be included in the development of the plans.

h. The plans developed under this section shall not promote the use of pollution control or waste management approaches that address waste or pollution after the creation of the waste or pollution.

i. A toxics pollution prevention plan developed under this section shall be reviewed by the authority for completeness, adequacy, and accuracy.

j. A toxics user shall maintain a copy of the plan on the premises, and shall submit a summary of the plan to the department.

CHAPTER 455C
BEVERAGE CONTAINERS DEPOSIT

455C.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Beverage" means wine as defined in section 123 3, subsection 7, alcoholic liquor as defined in section 123 3, subsection 8, beer as defined in section 123 3, subsection 10, mineral water, soda water and similar carbonated soft drinks in liquid form and intended for human consumption.

2. "Beverage container" means any sealed glass, plastic, or metal bottle, can, jar or carton containing a beverage.

3. "Commission" means the environmental protection commission of the department.

4. "Consumer" means any person who purchases a beverage in a beverage container for use or consumption.

5. "Dealer" means any person who engages in the sale of beverages in beverage containers to a consumer.

6. "Dealer agent" means a person who solicits or picks up empty beverage containers from a dealer for the purpose of returning the empty beverage containers to a distributor or manufacturer.

7. "Department" means the department of natural resources created under section 455A 2.

8. "Director" means the director of the department.

9. "Distributor" means any person who engages in the sale of beverages in beverage containers to a dealer in this state, including any manufacturer who engages in such sales. The alcoholic beverages division of the department of commerce is not a distributor for purposes of this chapter.

10. "Geographic territory" means the geographical area within a perimeter formed by the outermost boundaries served by a distributor.

11. "Manufacturer" means any person who bottles, cans, or otherwise fills beverage containers for sale to distributors or dealers.

12. "Nonrefillable beverage container" means a beverage container not intended to be refilled for sale by a manufacturer.

13. "Redemption center" means a facility at which consumers may return empty beverage containers and receive payment for the refund value of the empty beverage containers.

91 Acts ch 255 §4 HF 681 NEW section

1989 amendment strikes the second sentence of subsection 9 effective July 1989.
§455C.2 Refund values.

1. Except purchases of alcoholic liquor as defined in section 123.3, subsection 8, by holders of class “A”, “B”, “C”, and “E” liquor control licenses, a refund value of not less than five cents shall be paid by the consumer on each beverage container sold in this state by a dealer for consumption off the premises. Upon return of the empty beverage container upon which a refund value has been paid to the dealer or person operating a redemption center and acceptance of the empty beverage container by the dealer or person operating a redemption center, the dealer or person operating a redemption center shall return the amount of the refund value to the consumer.

2. In addition to the refund value provided in subsection 1 of this section, a dealer, or person operating a redemption center who redeems empty beverage containers or a dealer agent shall be reimbursed by the distributor required to accept the empty beverage containers an amount which is one cent per container. A dealer, dealer agent, or person operating a redemption center may compact empty metal beverage containers with the approval of the distributor required to accept the containers.

Except as provided in section 455C.4:

1. A dealer shall not refuse to accept from a consumer any empty beverage container of the kind, size and brand sold by the dealer, or refuse to pay to the consumer the refund value of a beverage container as provided under section 455C.2.

2. A distributor shall accept and pick up from a dealer served by the distributor or a redemption center for a dealer served by the distributor at least weekly, or when the distributor delivers the beverage product if deliveries are less frequent than weekly, any empty beverage container of the kind, size and brand sold by the distributor, and shall pay to the dealer or person operating a redemption center the refund value of a beverage container and the reimbursement as provided under section 455C.2 within one week following pickup of the containers or when the dealer or redemption center normally pays the distributor for the deposit on beverage products purchased from the distributor if less frequent than weekly. A distributor or employee or agent of a distributor is not in violation of this subsection if a redemption center is closed when the distributor attempts to make a regular delivery or a regular pickup of empty beverage containers. This subsection does not apply to a distributor selling alcoholic liquor to the alcoholic beverages division of the department of commerce.

3. A distributor shall not be required to pay to a manufacturer a deposit or refund value on a non-refillable beverage container.

4. A distributor shall accept from a dealer agent any empty beverage container of the kind, size, and brand sold by the distributor and which was picked up by the dealer agent from a dealer within the geographic territory served by the distributor and the distributor shall pay the dealer agent the refund value of the empty beverage container and the reimbursement as provided in section 455C.2.

5. The alcoholic beverages division of the department of commerce shall enter into an agreement with a private entity to meet the division’s obligations under subsection 2. The agreement shall include the acceptance and picking up of the division’s empty beverage containers and payment of the refund value and reimbursement of the agreement does not result in a net cost to the state. The agreement shall provide that the refund paid by the dealers to the division shall be assigned and transferred to the private entity. Any surplus refund values retained by the dealer shall be remitted to the waste volume reduction and recycling fund.

§455C.16 Beverage containers — disposal at sanitary landfill prohibited.

Beginning July 1, 1990, the final disposal of beverage containers by a dealer, distributor, or manufacturer, or person operating a redemption center, in a sanitary landfill, is prohibited, except for beverage containers containing alcoholic liquor as defined in section 123.3, subsection 8.
CHAPTER 455D
WASTE VOLUME REDUCTION AND RECYCLING

455D.9A Disposal of baled solid waste at a sanitary landfill — prohibited.
Beginning January 1, 1992, a person shall not dispose of baled solid waste at a sanitary landfill and a sanitary landfill shall not accept baled solid waste for final disposal. Solid waste which is baled on site may be disposed of at the sanitary landfill. The department shall develop rules which define baled solid waste and provide for the safe and proper method of disposal of such waste 455D.11 Waste tires — land disposal prohibited.

1 As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires a "Permit" means a permit issued by the department to establish, construct, modify, own, or operate a tire stockpiling facility
b "Processing" means producing or manufacturing usable materials from waste tires
c "Processing site" means a site which is used for the processing of waste tires which is owned or operated by a tire processor who has a permit for the site d "Tire collector" means a person who owns or operates a site used for the storage, collection, or deposit of more than fifty waste tires
e "Tire processor" means a person engaged in the processing of waste tires f "Waste tire" means a tire that is no longer suitable for its originally intended purpose due to wear, damage, or defect
g "Waste tire collection site" means a site which is used for the storage, collection, or deposit of waste tires
2 Land disposal of waste tires is prohibited beginning July 1, 1991, unless the tire has been processed in a manner established by the department. A sanitary landfill shall not refuse to accept a waste tire which has been properly processed
3 The department shall conduct a study and make recommendations to the general assembly by January 1, 1991, concerning a waste tire abatement program which includes but is not limited to the following a The number and geographic distribution of waste tires generated and existing in the state
b The development of markets for the recycling and processing of waste tires, in the midwestern states
c The methods to establish reliable sources of waste tires for users of waste tires
d The permitting of waste tire collection sites, waste tire processing facilities, and waste tire haulers

e The methods for the cleanup of existing stockpiles of waste tires 4 Upon completion of the study pursuant to subsection 3, the department shall determine the number of stockpiling facilities which are necessary and shall develop rules for stockpiling facilities which include but are not limited to the following a The prohibition of burning within one hundred yards of a tire stockpile b The maximum height, width, and length of a tire stockpile c Plans to control mosquitos and rodents d A facility closure plan e Specifications for fire lanes between stockpiles
f Limitations of the total number of tires allowed at a single stockpile site
5 The department shall develop criteria for the issuance of permits and shall issue permits to qualified stockpiling facilities
6 The department shall provide financial assistance to persons who establish recycling and processing sites for waste tires, subject to the rules established by the department for the establishment of such sites and subject to the conditions prescribed by the department for application for and awarding of such financial assistance
7 The commission shall adopt rules which provide the following a That a person who contracts with another person to transport more than forty waste tires is required to contract only with a person registered as a waste tire hauler pursuant to section 9B 1 b That a person who transports waste tires for final disposal is required to only dispose of the tires at a permitted sanitary disposal facility
c A person who does not comply with this subsection is subject to the penalty imposed pursuant to section 9B 1 and the moneys allocated shall be deposited and used pursuant to section 9B 1

455D.19 Packaging — heavy metal content.
1 The general assembly finds and declares all of the following a The management of solid waste can pose a wide range of hazards to public health and safety and to the environment
b Packaging comprises a significant percentage of the overall solid waste stream
c The presence of heavy metals in packaging is a concern in light of the likely presence of heavy metals in emissions or ash when packaging is incinerated or in leachate when packaging is landfilled
Lead, mercury, cadmium, and hexavalent chromium, on the basis of available scientific and medical evidence, are of particular concern.

It is desirable as a first step in reducing the toxicity of packaging waste to eliminate the addition of heavy metals to packaging.

The intent of the general assembly is to achieve reduction in toxicity without impeding or discouraging the expanded use of postconsumer materials in the production of packaging and its components.

As used in this section unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Distributor" means a person who takes title to products or packaging purchased for resale.

b. "Manufacturer" means a person who offers for sale or sells products or packaging to a distributor.

c. "Package" means a container which provides a means of marketing, protecting, or handling a product including a unit package, intermediate package, or a shipping container. "Package" also includes but is not limited to unsealed receptacles such as carrying cases, crates, cups, pails, rigid foil and other trays, wrappers and wrapping films, bags, and tubs.

d. "Packaging component" means any individual assembled part of a package including but not limited to interior and exterior blocking, bracing, cushioning, weatherproofing, exterior strapping, coatings, closures, inks, or labels.

No later than July 1, 1992, a manufacturer or distributor shall not offer for sale, sell, or offer for promotional purposes a package or packaging component, in this state, which includes, in the package itself, in any packaging component, inks, dyes, pigments, adhesives, stabilizers, or any other additives, any lead, cadmium, mercury, or hexavalent chromium which has been intentionally introduced as an element during manufacturing or distribution as opposed to the incidental presence of any of these elements and which exceed the concentration level established by the department.

No later than July 1, 1992, a manufacturer or distributor shall not offer for sale or sell, or offer for promotional purposes, in this state, a product in a package which includes in the package itself or in any of the packaging components, inks, dyes, pigments, adhesives, stabilizers, or any other additives, any lead, cadmium, mercury, or hexavalent chromium which has been intentionally introduced as an element during manufacturing or distribution as opposed to the incidental presence of any of these elements and which exceed the concentration level established by the department.

The concentration levels of lead, cadmium, mercury, and hexavalent chromium present in a package or packaging component shall not exceed the following:

- Six hundred parts per million by weight by July 1, 1992.
- Two hundred fifty parts per million by weight by July 1, 1993.
- One hundred parts per million by weight by July 1, 1994.

Concentration levels of lead, cadmium, mercury, and hexavalent chromium shall be determined using American standard of testing materials test methods, as revised, or United States environmental protection agency test methods for evaluating solid waste, S-W 846, as revised.

The following packaging and packaging components are exempt from the requirements of this section:

a. Packaging or packaging components with a code indicating a date of manufacture prior to July 1, 1990, and packaging or packaging components used by the alcoholic beverage industry or the wine industry prior to July 1, 1992.

b. Packages or packaging components to which lead, cadmium, mercury, or hexavalent chromium have been added in the manufacturing, forming, printing, or distribution process in order to comply with health or safety requirements of federal law or for which there is no feasible alternative if the manufacturer of a package or packaging component petitions the department for an exemption from the provisions of this paragraph for a particular package or packaging component. The department may grant a two year exemption, if warranted, by the circumstances, and an exemption may, upon meeting either criterion of this paragraph be renewed for two years. For purposes of this paragraph, a use for which there is no feasible alternative is one in which the regulated substance is essential to the protection, safe handling, or function of the package's contents.

Packages and packaging components that would not exceed the maximum contaminant levels established but for the addition of postconsumer materials.

By July 1, 1992, a manufacturer or distributor of packaging or packaging components shall make available to purchasers, to the department, and to the general public upon request, certificates of compliance which state that the manufacturer's or distributor's packaging or packaging components comply with, or are exempt from, the requirements of this section.

If the manufacturer or distributor of the package or packaging component reformulates or creates a new package or packaging component, the manufacturer or distributor shall provide an amended or new certificate of compliance for the reformulated or new package or packaging component.

The commission shall adopt rules to implement this section and report to the general assembly on the effectiveness of this section no later than forty-two months following July 1, 1990, and recommend any other toxic substances contained in packaging to be added to the list in order to further reduce the toxicity of packaging waste.

A manufacturer or distributor who does not comply with the requirements of this section is guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

See Code editor's note to §15 287

Subsection 6 paragraph a amended.
455E.11 Groundwater protection fund established — appropriations.

1. A groundwater protection fund is created in the state treasury. Moneys received from sources designated for purposes related to groundwater monitoring and groundwater quality standards shall be deposited in the fund. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any unexpended balances in the groundwater protection fund and in any of the accounts within the groundwater protection fund at the end of each fiscal year shall be retained in the fund and the respective accounts within the fund. Notwithstanding section 453.7, subsection 2, interest or earnings on investments or time deposits of the moneys in the groundwater protection fund or in any of the accounts within the groundwater protection fund shall be credited to the groundwater protection fund or the respective accounts within the groundwater protection fund. The fund may be used for the purposes established for each account within the fund.

The director shall include in the departmental budget prepared pursuant to section 455A.4, subsection 1, paragraph "c", a proposal for the use of groundwater protection fund moneys, and a report of the uses of the groundwater protection fund moneys appropriated in the previous fiscal year.

The secretary of agriculture shall submit with the report prepared pursuant to section 17.3 a proposal for the use of groundwater protection fund moneys, and a report of the uses of the groundwater protection fund moneys appropriated in the previous fiscal year.

2. The following accounts are created within the groundwater protection fund:

a. A solid waste account. Moneys received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 and from other sources designated for environmental protection purposes in relation to sanitary disposal projects shall be deposited in the solid waste account.

The department shall use the funds in the account for the following purposes:

(a) The moneys received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, and ending June 30, 1988, shall be used for the following purposes:

(i) The development of guidelines for groundwater monitoring at sanitary disposal projects as defined in section 455B.301, subsection 18.

(ii) Abatement and cleanup of threats to the public health, safety, and the environment resulting from contamination of the water supply source. However, a public water supply shall not receive a grant for more than ten percent of the moneys available for those purposes.

(b) An amount equal to twenty-five percent of the moneys received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 shall be reserved for the purpose of providing grants to public water supply systems to abate or eliminate threats to public health and safety resulting from contamination of the water supply source. However, a public water supply shall not receive a grant for more than ten percent of the moneys available for those purposes.

(c) An amount equal to twenty-five percent of the moneys received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 shall be appropriated to the waste management authority.

(d) The following accounts are created within the fund:

(i) A solid waste account. Moneys received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 and from other sources designated for environmental protection purposes in relation to sanitary disposal projects shall be deposited in the solid waste account.

(ii) A sanitary landfill account. Moneys received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 shall be reserved for the purpose of providing grants to cities and counties required to provide for sanitary disposal projects under section 455B.302 for the purpose of developing or updating plans required to be filed under section 455B.306. Grants shall be governed by section 455B.311.
implement demonstration projects for landfill alternatives to solid waste disposal including recycling programs.

(4) The additional fifty cents per ton collected from the fee imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988 and ending June 30, 1989 may be retained by the agency making the payments to the state provided that a separate account is established for these funds and that they are used in accordance with the requirements of section 455B.306.

(5) The first fifty cents per ton of funds received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989 and ending June 30, 1990, shall be used for the following:

(a) Six cents per ton of the amount allocated under this subparagraph is appropriated to the waste management authority within the department of natural resources.

(b) Fourteen cents per ton of the amount allocated under this subparagraph is appropriated to the University of Northern Iowa to develop and maintain the small business assistance center for the safe and economic management of solid waste and hazardous substances established at the University of Northern Iowa.

(c) Eight thousand dollars of the amount allocated under this subparagraph is appropriated to the Iowa department of public health for carrying out the departmental duties pursuant to section 135.11, subsections 20 and 21, and section 139.35.

(d) The remainder of the amount allocated under this subparagraph is appropriated to the department of natural resources for the following purposes:

(i) The development of guidelines for groundwater monitoring at sanitary disposal projects as defined in section 455B.301, subsection 18.

(ii) Abatement and cleanup of threats to the public health, safety, and the environment resulting from a sanitary landfill if an owner or operator of the landfill is unable to facilitate the abatement or cleanup. However, not more than ten percent of the total funds allocated under this subparagraph may be used for this purpose without legislative authorization.

(6) One dollar per ton from the fees imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989 and ending June 30, 1990 shall be used by the department to develop and implement demonstration projects for landfill alternatives to solid waste disposal including recycling programs.

(7) The additional fifty cents per ton collected from the fee imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989 and ending June 30, 1990 may be retained by the agency making the payments to the state provided that a separate account is established for these funds and that they are used in accordance with the requirements of section 455B.306.

(8) The first fifty cents per ton of funds received from the tonnage fee imposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and thereafter shall be used for the following:

(a) Twenty cents per ton of the amount allocated under this subparagraph is appropriated to the university of Northern Iowa to develop and maintain the Iowa waste reduction center for the safe and economic management of solid waste and hazardous substances established at the University of Northern Iowa.

(b) Thirty cents per ton of the amount allocated under this subparagraph is appropriated to the department of natural resources for the following purposes:

(i) Eight thousand dollars of the amount allocated under this subparagraph shall be transferred to the Iowa department of public health for carrying out the departmental duties pursuant to section 135.11, subsections 20 and 21, and section 139.35.

(ii) The administration and enforcement of a groundwater monitoring program and other required programs which are related to solid waste management.

(iii) The development of guidelines for groundwater monitoring at sanitary disposal projects as defined in section 455B.301, subsection 18.

(iv) The waste management authority of the department of natural resources.

(9) One dollar per ton from the fees imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and thereafter shall be used by the department to develop and implement demonstration projects for landfill alternatives to solid waste disposal including recycling programs.

(10) Fifty cents per ton per year of funds received from the tonnage fee imposed under section 455B.310 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, and thereafter may be retained by the agency making the payments to the state provided that a separate account is established for these funds and that they are used in accordance with the requirements of section 455B.306.

(11) Each additional fifty cents per ton per year of funds received from the tonnage fee for the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1990 and thereafter is allocated for the following purposes:

(a) Thirty-five cents per ton per year shall be allocated to the department of natural resources for the following purposes:

(i) Twenty-five cents per ton per year shall be used to develop and implement demonstration projects for landfill alternatives to solid waste disposal including recycling programs.

(ii) No more than ten cents of the thirty-five cents per year may be used for the administration of a groundwater monitoring program and other required programs which are related to solid waste management, if the amount of funds generated for administrative costs in this fiscal period is less than the amount generated for the costs in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988.

(b) Fifteen cents per ton per year shall be used as follows:
(i) If the fees are collected by a city or county or public agency, the moneys shall be retained by the city, county, or public agency. Upon receipt of the moneys, the city, county, or public agency shall return the moneys to a city, county, or public agency served by the sanitary disposal project for the purpose of implementation of the waste volume reduction and recycling requirements of the comprehensive plans filed pursuant to section 455B 306.

(ii) If the fees are collected by a private agency which provides for the final disposal of solid waste by the residents of a city or county, the moneys shall be remitted to the department. Upon receipt of the moneys, the department shall return the moneys to the city, county, or public agency served by the sanitary disposal project for the implementation of the waste volume reduction and recycling requirements of the comprehensive plans filed pursuant to section 455B 306. Notwithstanding the remittance requirement under this subparagraph subdivision part (ii), if a private agency is designated to develop and implement the comprehensive plan pursuant to section 455B 306, the fees collected under this subparagraph subdivision part (ii) shall be retained by the private agency for the purpose of implementation of the waste volume reduction and recycling requirement of the comprehensive plans filed pursuant to section 455B 306.

Each sanitary landfill owner or operator shall submit to the department a return regarding the use of the fees allocated under this subparagraph subdivision part (b) concurrently with the return submitted pursuant to section 455B 310, subsection 5.

(12) Cities, counties, and private agencies subject to fees imposed under section 455B 310 may use the funds collected in accordance with the provisions of this section and the conditions of this subsection. The funds used from the account may only be used for any of the following purposes:

(a) Development and implementation of an approved comprehensive plan.

(b) Development of a closure or postclosure plan.

(c) Development of a plan for the control and treatment of leachate which may include a facility plan or detailed plans and specifications.

(d) Preparation of a financial plan, but these funds may not be used to actually contribute to any fund created to satisfy financial requirements, or to contribute to the purchase of any instrument to meet this need.

On January 1 of the year following the first year in which the funds from the account are used, and annually thereafter, the agency shall report to the department as to the amount of the funds used, the exact nature of the use of the funds, and the projects completed. The report shall include an audit report which states that the funds were, in fact, used entirely for purposes authorized under this subsection.

(13) If moneys appropriated to the portion of the solid waste account to be used for the administration of groundwater monitoring programs and other required programs that are related to solid waste management remain unused at the end of any fiscal year, the moneys remaining shall be allocated to the portion of the account used for abatement and cleanup of threats to the public health, safety, and the environment, resulting from sanitary landfills. If the balance of the moneys in the portion of the account used for abatement and cleanup exceeds three million dollars, the moneys in excess shall be used to fund the development and implementation of demonstration projects for landfill alternatives to solid waste disposal including recycling.

(b) An agriculture management account. Moneys collected from the groundwater protection fee levied pursuant to section 200 8, subsection 4, the portion of the fees collected pursuant to sections 206 8, subsection 2, and 206 12, subsection 3, and other moneys designated for the purpose of agriculture management shall be deposited in the agriculture management account. The agriculture management account shall be used for the following purposes:

(1) Nine thousand dollars of the account is appropriated to the Iowa Department of Public Health for carrying out the departmental duties under section 135 11, subsections 20 and 21, and section 139 35.

(2) Two hundred thousand dollars of the moneys deposited in the agriculture management account is appropriated to the department of agriculture and land stewardship for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, and ending June 30, 1988, for the demonstration projects regarding agriculture drainage wells and sinkholes. Any remaining balance of the appropriation made for the purpose of funding such demonstration projects for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, and ending June 30, 1988, shall not revert to the account, notwithstanding section 8 33, but shall remain available for the purpose of funding such demonstration projects during the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1988, and ending June 30, 1990.

(3) Of the remaining moneys in the account:

(a) Thirty five percent is appropriated annually for the Leopold center for sustainable agriculture at Iowa State University of science and technology.

(b) Two percent is appropriated annually to the department of natural resources for the purpose of administering grants to counties and conducting oversight of county-based programs relative to the testing of private water supply wells and the proper closure of private abandoned wells. Not more than seventeen and one half percent of the moneys is appropriated annually to the department of natural resources for grants to counties for the purpose of conducting programs of private, rural water supply testing, not more than six percent of the moneys is appropriated annually to the state hygienic laboratory to assist in well testing, and not more than seventeen and one half percent of the moneys is appropriated annually to the department of natural resources for grants to counties for the purpose of conducting programs for properly closing abandoned, rural water supply wells and cisterns. A county receiving a grant for purposes of conducting programs of private, rural water supply testing, and receiving a grant for purposes of conducting programs for properly closing abandoned rural water supply wells and cisterns, may transfer moneys dedicated to support one grant program to support the other grant program. However, in order to make the transfer, the county must have exhausted its grant moneys dedicated to support the program and the county board of supervisors must find good cause justifying the transfer. For purposes of this subparagraph subdivision, "cistern" means an artificial reservoir constructed underground for the purpose of storing rainwater.

(c) The department shall allocate a sum not to exceed seventy-nine thousand dollars of the moneys appropriated for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, and ending June 30, 1988, for the preparation of a detailed report and plan for the establishment on July 1, 1988, of the center for health effects of environmental contamination. The plan for establishing the center shall be presented to the general assembly on or before January 15, 1988. The report shall include the assemblage of all existing data relating to Iowa drinking water supplies, including characteristics of source, treatment, presence of contaminants, precise location, and usage patterns to facilitate data retrieval and use in research; and detailed organizational plans, research objectives, and budget projections for the anticipated functions of the center in subsequent years. The department may allocate annually a sum not to exceed nine percent of the moneys of the account to the center, beginning July 1, 1988.

(d) Thirteen percent of the moneys is appropriated annually to the department of agriculture and land stewardship for financial incentive programs related to agricultural drainage wells and sinkholes, for studies and administrative costs relating to sinkholes and agricultural drainage wells programs. Of the thirteen percent allocated for financial incentive programs, not more than fifty thousand dollars is appropriated for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, and ending June 30, 1988, to the department of natural resources for grants to county conservation boards for the development and implementation of projects regarding alternative practices in the remediation of noxious weeds or other vegetation within highway rights-of-way. Any remaining balance of the appropriation made for the purpose of funding of projects regarding alternative practices in the remediation of noxious weeds or other vegetation within highway rights-of-way for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, and ending June 30, 1988, shall not revert to the account, notwithstanding section 8.33, but shall remain available for the purpose of funding the projects during the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1988, and ending June 30, 1990.

c. A household hazardous waste account. The moneys collected pursuant to section 455F.7 and moneys collected pursuant to section 29C.8A which are designated for deposit, shall be deposited in the household hazardous waste account. Two thousand dollars is appropriated annually to the Iowa department of public health to carry out departmental duties under section 135.11, subsections 20 and 21, and section 139.35. The remainder of the account shall be used to fund Toxic Cleanup Days and the efforts of the department to support a collection system for household hazardous materials, including public education programs, training, and consultation of local governments in the establishment and operation of permanent collection systems, and the management of collection sites, education programs, and other activities pursuant to chapter 455F, including the administration of the household hazardous materials permit program by the department of revenue and finance.

The department shall submit to the general assembly, annually on or before January 1, an itemized report which includes but is not limited to the total amount of moneys collected and the sources of the moneys collected, the amount of moneys expended for administration of the programs funded within the account, and an itemization of any other expenditures made within the previous fiscal year.

d. A storage tank management account. All fees collected pursuant to section 455B.473, subsection 5, and section 455B.479, shall be deposited in the storage tank management account, except those moneys deposited into the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund pursuant to section 455B.479. Funds shall be expended for the following purposes:

(1) One thousand dollars is appropriated annually to the Iowa department of public health to carry out departmental duties under section 135.11, subsections 20 and 21, and section 139.35.

(2) Twenty-three percent of the proceeds of the fees imposed pursuant to section 455B.473, subsection 5, and section 455B.479 shall be deposited in the account annually, up to a maximum of three hundred fifty thousand dollars. If twenty-three percent of the proceeds exceeds three hundred fifty thousand dollars, the excess shall be deposited into the fund created in section 455G.3. Three hundred fifty thousand dollars is appropriated from the storage tank management account to the department of natural resources for the administration of a state storage tank program pursuant to chapter 455B, division IV, part 8, and for programs which reduce the potential for harm to the environment and the public health from storage tanks.

(3) The remaining funds in the account are appropriated annually to the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund.

e. An oil overcharge account. The oil overcharge moneys distributed by the United States department of energy, and approved for the energy related components of the groundwater protection strategy available through the energy conservation trust created in section 93.11, shall be deposited in the oil overcharge account as appropriated by the general assembly. The oil overcharge account shall be used for the following purposes:
(1) The following amounts are appropriated to the department of natural resources to implement its responsibilities pursuant to section 455E.8:

(a) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1988, eight hundred sixty thousand dollars is appropriated.

(b) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988 and ending June 30, 1989, six hundred fifty thousand dollars is appropriated.

(c) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989 and ending June 30, 1990, six hundred thousand dollars is appropriated.

(d) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990 and ending June 30, 1991, five hundred thousand dollars is appropriated.

(e) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991 and ending June 30, 1992, five hundred thousand dollars is appropriated.

(2) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1988, five hundred sixty thousand dollars is appropriated to the department of natural resources for assessing rural, private water supply quality.

(3) For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1989, one hundred thousand dollars is appropriated annually to the department of natural resources for the administration of a groundwater monitoring program at sanitary landfills.

(4) The following amounts are appropriated to the Iowa state water resources research institute to provide competitive grants to colleges, universities, and private institutions within the state for the development of research and education programs regarding alternative disposal methods and groundwater protection:

(a) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1988, one hundred twenty thousand dollars is appropriated.

(b) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988 and ending June 30, 1989, one hundred thousand dollars is appropriated.

(c) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1989 and ending June 30, 1990, one hundred thousand dollars is appropriated.

(5) The following amounts are appropriated to the department of natural resources to develop and implement demonstration projects for landfill alternatives to solid waste disposal, including recycling programs:

(a) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1988, seven hundred sixty thousand dollars is appropriated.

(b) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1988 and ending June 30, 1989, eight hundred fifty thousand dollars is appropriated.

(6) For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1988, eight hundred thousand dollars is appropriated to the Leopold center for sustainable agriculture.

(7) Seven million five hundred thousand dollars is appropriated to the agriculture energy management fund created under chapter 467E for the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1992, to develop nonregulatory programs to implement integrated farm management of farm chemicals for environmental protection, energy conservation, and farm profitability; interactive public and farmer education; and applied studies on best management practices and best appropriate technology for chemical use efficiency and reduction.

(8) The following amounts are appropriated to the department of natural resources to continue the Big Spring demonstration project in Clayton county.

(a) For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1990, seven hundred thousand dollars is appropriated annually.

(b) For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1990 and ending June 30, 1992, five hundred thousand dollars is appropriated annually.

(9) For the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1987 and ending June 30, 1990, one hundred thousand dollars is appropriated annually to the department of agriculture and land stewardship to implement a targeted education program on best management practices and technologies for the mitigation of groundwater contamination from or closure of agricultural drainage wells, abandoned wells, and sinkholes.
CHAPTER 455G
IOWA COMPREHENSIVE PETROLEUM UNDERGROUND STORAGE TANK FUND ACT

455G.1 Title — scope.
1. This chapter is entitled the "Iowa Comprehensive Petroleum Underground Storage Tank Fund Act".
2. This chapter applies to petroleum underground storage tanks for which an owner or operator is required to maintain proof of financial responsibility under federal or state law, from the effective date of the regulation of the federal environmental protection agency governing that tank, and not from the effective compliance date, unless the effective compliance date of the regulation is the effective date of the regulation. An owner or operator of a petroleum underground storage tank required by federal or state law to maintain proof of financial responsibility for that underground storage tank is subject to this chapter and chapter 424.
   a. As of May 5, 1989, tanks excluded by the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, subtitle I, included the following:
      (1) A farm or residential tank of one thousand one hundred gallons or less capacity used for storing motor fuel for noncommercial purposes.
      (2) A tank used for storing heating oil for consumptive use on the premises where stored.
      (3) A septic tank.
      (4) A pipeline facility, including gathering lines, regulated under any of the following:
         (c) State laws comparable to the provisions of the law referred to in subparagraph subdivision (a) or (b).
      (5) A surface impoundment, pit, pond, or lagoon.
      (6) A storm water or wastewater collection system.
      (7) A flow-through process tank.
      (8) A liquid trap or associated gathering lines directly related to oil or gas production and gathering operations.
      (9) A storage tank situated in an underground area, such as a basement, cellar, mine working, drift, shaft, or tunnel, if the storage tank is situated upon or above the surface of the floor to permit inspection of its entire surface.
   b. As of May 5, 1989, tanks exempted or excluded by United States environmental protection agency financial responsibility regulations, 40 C.F.R. § 280.90, included the following:
      (1) Underground storage tank systems not in operation on or after the applicable compliance date.
      (2) Those owned or operated by state and federal governmental entities whose debts and liabilities are the debts and liabilities of a state or the United States.
      (3) Any underground storage tank system holding hazardous wastes listed or identifiable under subtitle C of the federal Solid Waste Disposal Act, or a mixture of such hazardous waste and other regulated substances.
      (4) Any wastewater treatment tank system that is part of a wastewater treatment facility regulated under section 307(b) or 402 of the federal Clean Water Act.
      (5) Equipment or machinery that contains regulated substances for operational purposes such as hydraulic lift tanks and reservoirs and electrical equipment tanks.
      (6) Any underground storage tank system whose capacity is one hundred ten gallons or less.
      (7) Any underground storage tank system whose capacity is less than ten gallons.
      (8) Any underground storage tank system whose capacity is one hundred ten gallons or less.
      (9) Any underground storage tank system that contains a de minimis concentration of regulated substances.
      (10) Any emergency spill or overflow containment underground storage tank system that is expeditiously emptied after use.
      (11) Any underground storage tank system that is part of an emergency generator system at nuclear power generation facilities regulated by the nuclear regulatory commission under 10 C.F.R. pt. 50, appendix A.
      (12) Airport hydrant fuel distribution systems.
      (13) Underground storage tank systems with field-constructed tanks.
   c. If and when federal law changes, the department of natural resources shall adopt by rule such additional requirements, exemptions, deferrals, or exclusions as required by federal law. It is expected that certain classes of tanks currently exempted or excluded by federal regulation will be regulated by the United States environmental protection agency in the future. A tank which is not required by federal law to maintain proof of financial responsibility shall not be subject to department of natural resources rules on proof of financial responsibility.

455G.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Authority" means the Iowa finance authority created in chapter 220.
2. “Board” means the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund board.
3. “Bond” means a bond, note, or other obligation issued by the authority for the fund and the purposes of this chapter.
4. “Claimant” means an owner or operator who has received assistance under the remedial account or who has coverage under the insurance account with respect to a release, or an installer or inspector who has coverage under the insurance account.
5. “Community remediation” means a program of coordinated testing, planning, or remediation, involving two or more tank sites potentially connected with a continuous contaminated area, pursuant to rules adopted by the board. A community remediation does not expand the scope of coverage otherwise available or relieve liability otherwise imposed under state or federal law.
6. “Corrective action” means an action taken to minimize, eliminate, or clean up a release to protect the public health and welfare or the environment. Corrective action includes, but is not limited to, excavation of an underground storage tank for the purposes of repairing a leak or removal of a tank, removal of contaminated soil, and cleansing of groundwaters or surface waters. Corrective action does not include replacement of an underground storage tank or other capital improvements to the tank. Corrective action specifically excludes third-party liability. Corrective action includes the expenses incurred to prepare a site cleanup report for approval by the department of natural resources detailing the planned response to a release or suspected release, but not necessarily all actions proposed to be taken by a site cleanup report.
7. “Diminution” is the amount of petroleum which is released into the environment prior to its intended beneficial use.
8. “Diminution rate” is the presumed rate at which petroleum experiences diminution, and is equal to one-tenth of one percent of all petroleum deposited into a tank.
9. “Free product” means a regulated substance that is present as a nonaqueous phase liquid.
10. “Fund” means the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund.
11. “Improve-ment” means the acquisition, construction, or improvement of any tank, tank system, or monitoring system in order to comply with state and federal technical requirements or to obtain insurance to satisfy financial responsibility requirements.
12. “Insurance” includes any form of financial assistance or showing of financial responsibility sufficient to comply with the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act or the Iowa department of natural resources’ underground storage tank financial responsibility rules.
13. “Insurance premium” includes any form of premium or payment for insurance or for obtaining other forms of financial assurance, or showing of financial responsibility.
14. “Petroleum” means petroleum, including crude oil or any fraction of crude oil which is liquid at standard conditions of temperature and pressure (sixty degrees Fahrenheit and fourteen and sevenths pounds per square inch absolute).
15. “Potentially responsible party” means a person who may be responsible or liable for a release for which the fund has made payments for corrective action or third-party liability.
16. “Precorrective action value” means the assessed value of the tank site immediately prior to the discovery of a petroleum release.
17. “Release” means any spilling, leaking, emitting, discharging, escaping, leaching, or dispersing from an underground storage tank into groundwater, surface water, or subsurface soils.
18. “Small business” means a business that meets all of the following requirements:
   a. Is independently owned and operated.
   b. Owns at least one, but no more than twelve tanks at no more than two different tank sites.
   c. Has a net worth of four hundred thousand dollars or less.
19. “Tank” means an underground storage tank for which proof of financial responsibility is, or on a date definite will be, required to be maintained pursuant to the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act and the regulations from time to time adopted pursuant to that Act or successor Acts or amendments.
20. “Third-party liability” means both of the following:
   a. Property damage including physical injury to tangible property, but not including loss of use, other than costs to remediate.
   b. Bodily injury including sickness, bodily injury, illness, or death.

§455G.3 Establishment of Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund.
1. The Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund is created as a separate fund in the state treasury, and any funds remaining in the fund at the end of each fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund but shall remain in the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund. Interest or other income earned by the fund shall be deposited in the fund. The fund shall include moneys credited to the fund under this section and sections 423.24, 455G.8, 455G.9, 455G.10, 455G.11, and 455G.13, and other funds which by law may be appropriated to and for the purposes of the board as provided in this chapter. Amounts in the fund shall not be subject to appropriation for any other purpose by the general assembly, but shall be used only for the purposes set forth in this chapter. The treasurer of state shall act as custodian of the fund and dis-burse amounts contained in it as directed by the board including automatic disbursements of funds as received pursuant to the terms of bond indentures and documents and security provisions to trustees and custodians. The treasurer of state is authorized to invest the funds deposited in the fund at the direction of the board and subject to any limitations contained in any applicable bond proceedings. The income from such investment shall be credited to and deposited in the fund. The fund shall be administered by the board which shall make expenditures from the fund consistent with the purposes of the programs set out in this chapter without further appropriation. The fund may be divided into different accounts with different depositories as determined by the board and to fulfill the purposes of this chapter.

2 The board shall assist Iowa’s owners and operators of petroleum underground storage tanks in complying with federal environmental protection agency technical and financial responsibility regulations by establishment of the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund. The authority may issue its bonds, or series of bonds, to assist the board, as provided in this chapter.

3 The purposes of this chapter shall include but are not limited to any of the following:

a To establish a remedial account to fund corrective action for petroleum releases as provided by section 455G 9.

b To establish a loan guarantee account, as provided by and to the extent permitted by section 455G 10.

c To establish an insurance account for insurable underground storage tank risks within the state as provided by section 455G 11.

4 The state, the general fund of the state, or any other fund of the state, other than the Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund, is not liable for a claim or cause of action in connection with a tank not owned or operated by the state, or agency of the state. All expenses incurred by the fund shall be payable solely from the fund and no liability or obligation shall be imposed upon the state. The liability of the fund is limited to the extent of coverage provided by the account under which a claim is submitted, subject to the terms and conditions of that coverage. The liability of the fund is further limited by the moneys available to the fund, and no remedy shall be ordered which would require the fund to exceed its then current funding limitations to satisfy an award or which would restrict the availability of moneys for higher priority sites. The state is not liable for a claim presented against the fund.

5 For purposes of payment of refunds of the environmental protection charge under section 424 3, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, the liability of the fund is limited to the extent of funds appropriated to the fund for environmental protection purposes. Any unused funds shall be remitted to the treasurer of state.

455G.4 Governing board.

1 Members of the board. The Iowa comprehensive petroleum underground storage tank fund board is established consisting of the following members:

a The director of the department of natural resources, or the director’s designee.

b The treasurer of state, or the treasurer’s designee.

c The commissioner of insurance, or the commissioner’s designee.

d Two public members appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate to staggered four-year terms, except that of the first members appointed, one public member shall be appointed for a term of two years and one for a term of four years. A public member shall have experience, knowledge, and expertise of the subject matter embraced within this chapter. Two public members shall be appointed with experience in either, or both, financial markets or insurance.

A public member shall not have a conflict of interest. For purposes of this section a “conflict of interest” means an affiliation, within the twelve months before the member’s appointment, with the regulated tank community, or with a person or property and casualty insurer offering competitive insurance or other means of financial assurance or which previously offered environmental hazard insurance for a member of the regulated tank community.

The filling of positions reserved for public representatives, vacancies, membership terms, payment of compensation and expenses, and removal of members are governed by chapter 69. Members of the board are entitled to receive reimbursement of actual expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties within the limits of funds appropriated to the board or made available to the fund. Each member of the board may also be eligible to receive compensation provided in section 78 6. The members shall elect a voting chairperson of the board from among the members of the board.

2 Department cooperation with board. The director of the department of natural resources shall cooperate with the board in the implementation of this part so as to minimize unnecessary duplication of effort, reporting, or paperwork and maximize environmental protection.

3 Rules and emergency rules

a The board shall adopt rules regarding its practice and procedures, develop underwriting standards, establish premiums for insurance account coverage and risk factors, procedures for investigating and settling claims made against the fund, determine appropriate deductibles or retentions in coverages or benefits offered, and otherwise implement and administer this chapter.

b The board may adopt administrative rules under section 17A 4, subsection 2, and section 17A 5, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, to implement this subsection for one year after May 5, 1989.

c Rules necessary for the implementation and

91 Acts ch 159 §29 SF 796
NEW subsection 5
collection of the environmental protection charge shall be adopted on or before June 1, 1989.

d. Rules necessary for the implementation and collection of insurance account premiums shall be adopted prior to offering insurance to an owner or operator of a petroleum underground storage tank or other person.

e. Rules related to the establishment of the insurance account and the terms and conditions of coverage shall be adopted as soon as practicable to permit owners and operators to meet their applicable compliance date with federal financial responsibility regulations.

f. Rules to facilitate and encourage the use of community remediation whenever possible shall be adopted.

91 Acts, ch 252, §13 SF 362
Subsection 3, NEW paragraph f

455G.9 Remedial program.

1. Limits of remedial account coverage. Monies in the remedial account shall only be paid out for the following:

a. (1) Corrective action for an eligible release reported to the department of natural resources on or after July 1, 1987, but prior to May 5, 1989. Third-party liability is specifically excluded from remedial account coverage. For a claim for a release for a small business under this subparagraph, the remedial program shall pay in accordance with subsection 4. For all other claims under this subparagraph, the remedial program shall pay the lesser of fifty thousand dollars of the total costs of corrective action for that release or total corrective action costs for that release as determined under subsection 4. For a release to be eligible for coverage under this subparagraph the following conditions must be satisfied:

(a) The owner or operator applying for coverage shall not be a person who is maintaining, or has maintained, proof of financial responsibility for federal regulations through self-insurance.

(b) The owner or operator applying for coverage shall not have claimed bankruptcy any time on or after July 1, 1987.

(c) The claim for coverage pursuant to this subparagraph must have been filed with the board prior to January 31, 1990, except that cities and counties must have filed their claim with the board by September 1, 1990.

(d) The owner or operator at the time the release was reported to the department of natural resources must have been in compliance with then current monitoring requirements, if any, or must have been in the process of compliance efforts with anticipated requirements, including installation of monitoring devices, a new tank, tank improvements or retrofit, or any combination.

(2) Corrective action, up to one million dollars total, and subject to prioritization rules as established pursuant to section 455G.12A, for a release reported to the department of natural resources after May 5, 1989, and on or before October 26, 1990.

Third-party liability is specifically excluded from remedial account coverage. Corrective action coverage provided pursuant to this paragraph may be aggregated with other financial assurance mechanisms as permitted by federal law to satisfy required aggregate and per occurrence limits of financial responsibility for both corrective action and third-party liability, if the owner's or operator's effective financial responsibility compliance date is prior to October 26, 1990. School districts who reported a release to the department of natural resources prior to December 1, 1990, shall have until July 1, 1991, to report a claim to the board for remedial coverage under this subparagraph.

(3) Corrective action for an eligible release reported to the department of natural resources on or after January 1, 1985, but prior to July 1, 1987. Third-party liability is specifically excluded from remedial account coverage. For a claim for a release for a small business under this subparagraph, the remedial program shall pay in accordance with subsection 4. For all other claims under this subparagraph, the remedial program shall pay the lesser of fifty thousand dollars of the total costs of corrective action for that release or total corrective action costs for that release as determined under subsection 4. For a release to be eligible for coverage under this subparagraph the following conditions must be satisfied:

(a) The owner or operator applying for coverage must be currently engaged in the business for which the tank connected with the release was used prior to the report of the release.

(b) The owner or operator applying for coverage shall not be a person who is maintaining, or has maintained, proof of financial responsibility for federal regulations through self-insurance.

(c) The owner or operator applying for coverage shall not have claimed bankruptcy any time on or after January 1, 1985.

(d) The claim for coverage pursuant to this subparagraph must have been filed with the board prior to September 1, 1990.

(e) The owner or operator at the time the release was reported to the department of natural resources must have been in compliance with then current monitoring requirements, if any, or must have been in the process of compliance efforts with anticipated requirements, including installation of monitoring devices, a new tank, tank improvements or retrofit, or any combination.

(4) One hundred percent of the costs of corrective action for a release reported to the department of natural resources on or before July 1, 1991, if the owner or operator is not a governmental entity and is a not-for-profit organization exempt from federal income taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code with a net annual income of twenty-five thousand dollars or less for the year 1990, and if the tank which is the subject of the corrective action is a registered tank and is under one thousand one hundred gallons capacity.

(5) For the purposes of calculating corrective action costs under this paragraph, corrective action shall include the cost of a tank system upgrade required by section 455B.474, subsection 1, paragraph “f”, subparagraph (8). Payments under this subparagraph shall be limited to a maximum of ten thousand dollars for any one site.

b Corrective action and third-party liability for a release discovered on or after January 24, 1989, for which a responsible owner or operator able to pay cannot be found and for which the federal underground storage tank trust fund or other federal monies do not provide coverage. For the purposes of this section property shall not be deemed or relinquished to the state or board in lieu of cleanup. Additionally, the ability to pay shall be determined after a claim has been filed. The board is not liable for any cost where either the responsible owner or operator, or both, have a net worth greater than fifteen thousand dollars, or where the responsible party can be determined. Third-party liability specifically excludes any claim, cause of action, or suit, for personal injury including, but not limited to, loss of use or of private enjoyment, mental anguish, false imprisonment, wrongful entry or eviction, humiliation, discrimination, or malicious prosecution.

c Corrective action and third-party liability for a tank owned or operated by a financial institution eligible to participate in the remedial account under section 455G.16 if the prior owner or operator is unable to pay, if so authorized by the board as part of a condition or incentive for financial institution participation in the fund pursuant to section 455G.16. Third-party liability specifically excludes any claim, cause of action, or suit, for personal injury including, but not limited to, loss of use or of private enjoyment, mental anguish, false imprisonment, wrongful entry or eviction, humiliation, discrimination, or malicious prosecution.

d One hundred percent of the costs of corrective action and third-party liability for a release situated on property acquired by a county for delinquent taxes pursuant to chapters 445 through 448, for which a responsible owner or operator able to pay, other than the county, cannot be found. A county is not a “responsible party” for a release in connection with property which it acquires in connection with delinquent taxes, and does not become a responsible party by sale or transfer of property so acquired. Third-party liability specifically excludes any claim, cause of action, or suit, for personal injury including, but not limited to, loss of use or of private enjoyment, mental anguish, false imprisonment, wrongful entry or eviction, humiliation, discrimination, or malicious prosecution.

e For the costs of any other activities which the board determines are necessary and convenient to facilitate compliance with and to implement the intent of federal laws and regulations and this chapter.

f Corrective action for a release reported to the department of natural resources after May 5, 1989, and on or before October 26, 1990, in connection with a tank owned or operated by a state agency or department which elects to participate in the remedial account pursuant to this paragraph. A state agency or department which does not receive a standing unlimited appropriation which may be used to pay for the costs of a corrective action may opt, with the approval of the board, to participate in the remedial account. As a condition of opting to participate in the remedial account, the agency or department shall pay all registration fees, storage tank management fees, environmental protection charges, and all other charges and fees upon all tanks owned or operated by the agency or department in the same manner as if the agency or department were a person required to maintain financial responsibility. Once an agency has opted to participate in the remedial program, it cannot opt out, and shall continue to pay all charges and fees upon all tanks owned or operated by the agency or department so long as the charges or fees are imposed on similarly situated tanks of a person required to maintain financial responsibility. The board shall by rule adopted pursuant to chapter 17A provide the terms and conditions for a state agency or department to opt to participate in the remedial account. A state agency or department which opts to participate in the remedial account shall be subject to the minimum copayment schedule of subsection 4, as if the state agency or department were a person required to maintain financial responsibility.

g One hundred percent of the costs up to twenty thousand dollars incurred by the board under section 455G.12A, subsection 2, unnumbered paragraph 2, for site cleanup reports. Costs of a site cleanup report which exceed twenty thousand dollars shall be considered a cost of corrective action and the amount shall be included in the calculations for corrective action cost copayments under section 455G.9, subsection 4. The board shall have the discretion to authorize a site cleanup report payment in excess of twenty thousand dollars if the site is participating in community remediation.

h Corrective action for the costs of a release under all of the following conditions:

(1) The property upon which the tank causing the release was situated was transferred by inheritance, devise, or bequest.

(2) The property upon which the tank causing the release was situated has not been used to store or dispense petroleum since January 1, 1974.

(3) The person who received the property by inheritance, devise, or bequest was not the owner of the property during the period of time when the release which is the subject of the corrective action occurred.
(4) The release was reported to the board by July 1, 1991. corrective action costs and copayment amounts under this paragraph shall be paid in accordance with subsection 4.

A person requesting benefits under this paragraph may establish that the conditions of subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) are met through the use of supporting documents, including a personal affidavit.

i. One hundred percent of the costs of corrective action for a governmental subdivision in connection with a tank which was in place on the date the release was discovered or reported if the governmental subdivision did not own or operate the tank which caused the release and if the governmental subdivision did not obtain the property upon which the tank giving rise to the release is located on or after May 3, 1991. Property acquired pursuant to eminent domain in connection with a United States department of housing and urban development approved urban renewal project is eligible for payment of costs under this paragraph whether or not the property was acquired on or after May 3, 1991.

2. Remedial account funding. The remedial account shall be funded by that portion of the proceeds of the use tax imposed under chapter 423 and other moneys and revenues budgeted to the remedial account by the board.

3. Trust fund to be established. When the remedial account has accumulated sufficient capital to provide dependable income to cover the expenses of expected future releases or expected future losses for which no responsible owner is available, the excess capital shall be transferred to a trust fund administered by the board and created for that purpose.

4. Minimum copayment schedule.

a. An owner or operator who reports a release to the department of natural resources after May 3, 1989, and on or before October 26, 1990, shall be required to pay the following copayment amounts:

(1) If a site's total anticipated expenses are not reserved for more than, or actual expenses do not exceed, eighty thousand dollars, the owner or operator shall pay the greater of five thousand dollars or eighteen percent of the total costs of corrective action for that release.

(2) If a site's total anticipated expenses are reserved for more than, or actual expenses exceed, eighty thousand dollars, the owner or operator shall pay the amount as designated in subparagraph (1) plus thirty-five percent of the total costs of the corrective action for that release which exceed eighty thousand dollars.

b. The remedial account shall pay the remainder, as required by federal regulations, of the total costs of the corrective action for that release, except that a county shall not be required to pay a copayment in connection with a release situated on property acquired in connection with delinquent taxes, as provided in subsection 1, paragraph "d", unless subsequent to acquisition the county actively operates a tank on the property for purposes other than risk assessment, risk management, or tank closure.

5. Priority of claims. The board shall adopt rules to prioritize claims and allocate available money if funds are not available to immediately settle all current claims.

6. Recovery of gain on sale of property. If an owner or operator ceases to own or operate a tank site for which remedial account benefits were received within ten years of the receipt of any account benefit and sells or transfers a property interest in the tank site for an amount which exceeds one hundred twenty percent of the precorrective action value, adjusted for equipment and capital improvements, the owner or operator shall refund to the remedial account an amount equal to ninety percent of the amount in excess of one hundred twenty percent of the precorrective action value up to a maximum of the expenses incurred by the remedial account associated with the tank site plus interest, equal to the interest for the most recent twelve-month period for the most recent bond issue for the fund, on the expenses incurred, compounded annually. An owner or operator under this subsection shall notify the board of the sale or transfer of the property interest in the tank site. Expenses incurred by the fund are a lien upon the property recordable and collectible in the same manner as the lien provided for in section 424.11 at the time of sale or transfer, subject to the terms of this section.

This subsection shall not apply if the sale or transfer is pursuant to a power of eminent domain, or benefits. When federal cleanup funds are recovered, the funds are to be deposited to the remedial account of the fund and used solely for the purpose of future cleanup activities.

7. Recurring releases treated as a newly reported release. A release shall be treated as a release reported on or after May 5, 1989, if prior to May 5, 1989, a release was reported to the department, corrective action was taken pursuant to a site cleanup report approved by the department, and the work performed was accepted by the department. For purposes of this subsection, work performed is accepted by the department if the department did not order further action within ninety days of the date on which the department had notice that the work was completed, unless the department clearly indicated in writing to the owner, operator, contractor, or other agent that additional work would be required beyond that specified in the site cleanup report or in addition to the work actually performed.

8. Expenses of cleanup not required. When an owner or operator who is eligible for benefits under this chapter is allowed by the department of natural resources to monitor in place, the expenses incurred for cleanup beyond the level required by the department of natural resources are not covered under any of the accounts established under the fund. The cleanup expenses incurred for work completed beyond what is required is the responsibility of the person contracting for the excess cleanup.

9. Owner or operator defined. For purposes of receiving benefits under this section, "owner or operator" means the then current tank owner or operator or the owner of the land for which a covered release was reported or application for benefits was submitted on or before the relevant application deadlines of this section.

10. Self-insureds. For a self-insured as determined under IAC 567-136.6, to qualify for remedial benefits under this section, tanks shall be upgraded by January 1, 1995, as specified by the United States environmental protection agency in 40 C.F.R. § 280.21, as amended through January 1, 1989. A self-insured who qualifies for benefits under this section shall repay any benefits received if the upgrade date is not met.

455G.10 Loan guarantee account.

1. The board may create a loan guarantee account to offer loan guarantees to small businesses for the following purposes:
   a. All or a portion of the expenses incurred by the applicant small business for its share of corrective action.
   b. Tank and monitoring equipment improvements necessary to satisfy federal technical standards to become insurable.

   Moneys from the revenues derived from the use tax imposed under chapter 423 may be used to fund the loan guarantee account according to the fund budget as approved by the board. Loan guarantees shall be made on terms and conditions determined by the board to be reasonable, except that in no case may a loan guarantee satisfy more than ninety percent of the outstanding balance of a loan.

2. A separate nonlapsing loan guarantee account is created within the fund. Any funds remaining in the account at the end of each fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund but shall remain in the account. The loan account shall be maintained by the treasurer of state. All expenses incurred by the loan account shall be payable solely from the loan account and no liability or obligation shall be imposed upon the state beyond this amount.

3. The board shall administer the loan guarantee account. The board may delegate administration of the account, provided that the administrator is subject to the board’s direct supervision and direction. The board shall adopt rules regarding the provision of loan guarantees to financially qualified small businesses for the purposes permitted by subsection 1. The board may impose such terms and conditions as it deems reasonable and necessary or appropriate. The board shall take appropriate steps to publicize the existence of the loan account.

4. In calculating the net worth of an applicant for a loan guarantee, the board shall use the fair market value of any property on which a tank is sited, and not the precorrective action value required for recovery of gain upon later sale of the same property under section 455G.9, subsection 6.

5. As a condition of eligibility for financial assistance from the loan guarantee account, a small business shall demonstrate satisfactory attempts to obtain financing from private lending sources. When applying for loan guarantee account assistance, the small business shall demonstrate good faith attempts to obtain financing from at least two financial institutions. The board may first refer a tank owner or operator to a financial institution eligible to participate in the fund under section 455G.16; however, if no such financial institution is currently willing or able to make the required loan, the small business shall determine if any of the previously contacted financial institutions would make the loan in participation with the loan guarantee account. The loan guarantee account may offer to guarantee a loan, or provide other forms of financial assistance to facilitate a private loan.

6. The maturity for each financial assistance package made by the board pursuant to this chapter shall be the shortest feasible term commensurate with the repayment ability of the small business borrower. However, the maturity date of a loan shall not exceed twenty years and the guarantee is ineffective beyond the agreed term of the guarantee or twenty years from initiation of the guarantee, whichever term is shorter.

7. The source of funds for the loan account shall be from the following:
   a. Loan guarantee account income, including loan guarantee service fees, if any, and investment income attributed to the account by the board.
   b. Moneys allocated to the account by the board according to the fund budget approved by the board.
   c. Moneys appropriated by the federal government or general assembly and made available to the loan account.

8. A loan loss reserve account shall be established within the loan guarantee account. A default on a loan guaranteed under this section shall be paid from such reserve account. In administering the program, the board shall periodically determine the necessary loan loss reserve needed and shall set aside the appropriate moneys in the loan loss reserve account for payment of loan defaults. This reserve shall be determined based on the credit quality of the outstanding guaranteed loans at the time that the reserve requirement is being determined. A default is not eligible for payment until the lender has satisfied all administrative and legal remedies for settlement of the loan and the loan has been reduced to judgment by the lender. After the default has been reduced to judgment and the guarantee paid from the reserve account, the board is entitled to an assignment of the judgment. The board shall take all appropriate action to enforce the judgment or may enter into an agreement with the lender to provide... for enforcement. Upon collection of the amount guaranteed, any excess collected shall be deposited into the fund. The general assembly is not obligated to appropriate any moneys to pay for any defaults or to appropriate any moneys to be credited to the reserve account. The loan guarantee program does not obligate the state or the board except to the extent provided in this section, and the board in administering the program shall not give or lend the credit of the state of Iowa.

455G.11 Insurance account.

1 Insurance account as a financial assurance mechanism. The insurance account shall offer financial assurance for a qualified owner or operator under the terms and conditions provided for under this section. Coverage may be provided to the owner or the operator, or to each separately. The board is not required to resolve whether the owner or operator, or both are responsible for a release under the terms of any agreement between the owner and operator.

The source of funds for the insurance account shall be from the following:

a. Moneys allocated to the board or moneys allocated to the account by the board according to the fund budget approved by the board.

b. Moneys collected as an insurance premium including service fees, if any, and investment income attributed to the account by the board.

2 Limits of coverage available. An owner or operator required to maintain proof of financial responsibility may purchase coverage up to the federally required levels for that owner or operator subject to the terms and conditions under this section and those adopted by the board.

3 Eligibility of owners and operators for insurance coverage. An owner or operator, subject to underwriting requirements and such terms and conditions deemed necessary and convenient by the board, may purchase insurance coverage from the insurance account to provide proof of financial responsibility provided that a tank to be insured satisfies one of the following conditions:

a. Satisfies performance standards for new underground storage tank systems as specified by the federal environmental protection agency in 40 C.F.R. § 280.20, as amended through January 1, 1989.

b. Has satisfied on or before the date of the applicable standards for upgraded underground storage tank systems as specified by the federal environmental protection agency in 40 C.F.R. § 280.21, as amended through January 1, 1989.

c. The applicant certifies in writing to the board that the tank to be insured will be brought into compliance with either paragraph "a" or "b", on or before October 26, 1993, provided that prior to the provision of insurance account coverage, the tank site tests release free. For a tank qualifying for insurance coverage pursuant to this paragraph at the time of application or renewal, the owner or operator shall pay a per tank premium equal to two times the normally scheduled premium for a tank satisfying paragraph "a" or "b". An owner or operator who fails to comply as certified to the board on or before October 26, 1993, shall not insure that tank the insurance account unless and until the tank satisfies the requirements of paragraph "a" or "b".

d. The applicant either

(1) Is maintaining financial responsibility pursuant to current or previously applicable federal or state financial responsibility requirements on petroleum underground storage tanks.

(2) Complies with the applicable following date for financial responsibility.

a. On or before April 26, 1990, for a petroleum marketing firm owning at least thirteen, but no more than ninety nine petroleum underground storage tanks.

b. On or before October 26, 1990, for an owner or operator not described in subparagraph subdivision (a), and not currently or previously required to maintain financial responsibility by federal or state law on tanks within the state.

4 Actuarially sound premiums based on risk factor adjustments after five years. The annual premium for insurance coverage shall be a. For the year July 1, 1989, through June 30, 1990, one hundred dollars per tank.

b. For the year July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1991, one hundred fifty dollars per tank.

c. For the year July 1, 1991, through June 30, 1992, two hundred dollars per tank.

d. For the year July 1, 1992, through June 30, 1993, two hundred fifty dollars per tank.

e. For the year July 1, 1993, through June 30, 1994, three hundred dollars per tank.

f. For subsequent years, an owner or operator applying for coverage shall pay an annually adjusted insurance premium for coverage by the insurance account. The board may only approve fund coverage through the payment of a premium established on an actuarially sound basis. Risk factors shall be taken into account in establishing premiums. It is the intent of the general assembly that an actuarially sound premium reflect the risk to the insurance account presented by the insured. Risk factor adjustments should reflect the range of risk presented by the variety of tank systems, monitoring systems, and risk management practices in the general insurable tank population. Premium adjustments for risk factors should at minimum take into account lifetime costs of a tank and monitoring system and insurance account premiums for that tank system so as to provide a positive economic incentive to the owner or operator to install the more environmentally safe option so as to reduce the exposure of the insurance account to loss. Actuarially sound is not limited in its meaning to fund premium revenue equaling or exceeding fund expenditures for the general tank population.
If coverage is purchased for any part of a year the purchaser shall pay the full annual premium.

The insurance account may offer, at the buyer’s option, a range of deductibles. A ten thousand dollar deductible policy shall be offered.

5 Future repeal

The future repeal of this section shall not terminate the following obligations or authorities necessary to administer the obligations until these obligations are satisfied:

a. The payment of claims filed prior to the effective date of any future repeal, against the insurance account until moneys in the account are exhausted. Upon exhaustion of the moneys in the account, any remaining claims shall be invalid. If following satisfaction of the obligations pursuant to this section, moneys remain in the account, the remaining moneys and moneys due the account shall be prorated and returned to premium payers on an equitable basis as determined by the board.

b. The resolution of a cost recovery action filed prior to the effective date of the repeal.

c. Installer’s and inspector’s insurance coverage

The board shall offer insurance coverage under the fund’s insurance account to installers and inspectors of certified underground storage tank installations within the state for an environmental hazard arising in connection with a certified installation as provided in this subsection. Coverage shall be limited to environmental hazard coverage for both corrective action and third-party liability for a certified tank installation within the state in connection with a release from that tank.

The board may offer coverage at rates based on sales if the qualifying installer or inspector cannot be rated on a per tank basis, or if the work the installer or inspector performs involves more than tank installation. The rates to develop premiums shall be based on the premium charged per tank under subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3).

c. Limits of coverage available

Installers and inspectors may purchase coverage up to one million dollars per occurrence and two million dollars aggregate, subject to the terms and conditions under this section and those adopted by the board.

d. Deductible

The insurance account may offer, at the buyer’s option, a range of deductibles. A ten thousand dollar deductible policy shall be offered.

e. Excess coverage

Installers and inspectors may purchase excess coverage of up to five million dollars upon such terms and conditions as determined by the board.

f. Certification of tank installations

The board shall adopt certification rules requiring certification of a new tank installation as a precondition to offering insurance to an owner or operator or an installer or inspector. The board shall set in the rule the effective date for the certification requirement. Certification rules shall at minimum require that an installation be personally inspected by an independent licensed engineer, local fire marshal, state fire marshal’s designee, or other person who is unaffiliated with the tank owner, operator, installer or inspector, who is qualified and authorized by the board to perform the required inspection and that the tank and installation of the tank comply with applicable technical standards and manufacturer’s instructions and warranty conditions. An inspector may be an owner or operator of a tank, or an employee of an owner, operator, or installer.

7 Coverage alternatives

The board shall provide for insurance coverage to be offered to installers and inspectors for a tank installation certified pursuant to subsection 6, through both of the following methods:

a. Directly through the fund with premiums and deductibles as provided in subsection 6.

b. In cooperation with a private insurance carrier with excess or stop loss coverage provided by the fund to reduce the cost of insurance to such installers or inspectors, and including such other terms and conditions as the board deems necessary and convenient to provide adequate coverage for a certified tank installation at a reasonable premium. An installer or inspector obtaining insurance coverage pursuant to this paragraph, may purchase excess coverage of up to five million dollars, subject to the terms and conditions as determined by the board.

The insurance coverage offered pursuant to this subsection shall, at a minimum, cover environmental hazards for both corrective action and third-party liability.

8 Account expenditures

Moneys in the insurance account may be expended for the following purposes:

a. To take corrective action for and to compensate a third party for damages, including but not limited to payment of a judgment for bodily injury or property damage caused by a release from a tank, where coverage has been provided to the owner or operator from the insurance account, up to the limits of coverage extended. A personal injury is not a compensable third-party liability damage.

b. For the costs of any other activities as the board may determine are necessary and convenient to facilitate compliance with and to implement the 9. Conditions to receive premium discount. A person engaged in the wholesale or retail sale of petroleum shall receive a discount of eight percent on that person’s annual insurance premium for all tanks located at a site which meets all of the following conditions:
   a. The person maintains a tank for the purpose of storing waste oil.
   b. The person accepts waste oil from the general public.
   c. The person posts a notice at the site in a form and manner approved by the administrator advertising that the person will accept waste oil from the general public.

10. Property transfer insurance.
   a. Additional cleanup requirements. An owner, operator, landowner, or financial institution may purchase insurance coverage under the insurance account to cover environmental damage caused by a tank in the event that governmental action requires additional cleanup beyond action level standards in effect at the time a certificate of clean was issued under section 455B.304, subsection 15, or a monitoring certificate was issued under section 455B.474, subsection 1, paragraph “h”.
   b. Eligibility for coverage. An owner, operator, landowner, or financial institution, subject to underwriting requirements and such terms and conditions deemed necessary and convenient by the board, may purchase insurance coverage from the insurance account to provide proof of financial responsibility if the following conditions are satisfied:
      (1) A certificate of clean has been issued for the site under section 455B.304, subsection 15, or a monitoring certificate has been issued for the site under section 455B.474, subsection 1, paragraph “h”. Property transfer coverage shall be effective on a monitored site only for the time period for which monitoring is allowed as specified in the monitoring certificate. A site which has not been issued a certificate of clean or a monitoring certificate shall not be eligible for property transfer coverage.
      (2) The tank location is not covered by other environmental hazard liability insurance coverage, or is eligible for remedial benefits as provided under section 455G.9.
      (3) The environmental damage is not caused by a new release.
      (4) The additional cleanup is required to meet new corrective action level standards mandated by governmental action.
   c. Premiums. The annual premium for insurance coverage shall be two hundred fifty dollars per party, per location, with an overall limit of liability per site of five hundred thousand dollars. The premiums are fully earned. Each party purchasing coverage at that site will have the total limit of liability prorated over the total limit among the policies issued, so as to avoid stacking beyond the total coverage limit of five hundred thousand dollars. If coverage is purchased for any part of a year, the purchaser shall pay the full annual premium.

After June 30, 1994, an owner, operator, landowner, or financial institution applying for coverage shall pay an annually adjusted insurance premium for coverage by the insurance account. The board may only approve fund coverage through the payment of a premium established on an actuarially sound basis.

d. Coverage exclusions. Property transfer insurance coverage offered under this subsection does not include coverage of the following:
   (1) Third-party liability.
   (2) Cleanup beyond the actual costs associated with the site.
   (3) Loss of use of the property and other economic damages.
   (4) Costs associated with additional remediation required by a voluntary change in usage of the site.
   (5) Cleanup costs for additional corrective action required due to the spread of contamination on a site which has been issued a monitoring certificate.
   (6) Annual monitoring. Annual monitoring is required for any site for which coverage is purchased. Failure to comply with monitoring as prescribed by the board will invalidate insurance coverage under this subsection. For a site which has been issued a monitoring certificate, the annual monitoring requirements imposed under this paragraph shall be satisfied by the annual monitoring requirements imposed under the corrective action rules for a site which is allowed to monitor in place.
   (7) Transfer of coverage. Coverage may be transferred upon payment of a transfer fee.
   (8) Rules. The board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A as necessary to implement this subsection.
   (9) Federal approval. Property transfer insurance coverage issued under this subsection is conditioned upon continued approval by the United States environmental protection agency of the state’s underground storage tank program.

11. Limitations on third-party liability. To the extent that coverage under this section includes third-party liability, third-party liability specifically excludes any claim, cause of action, or suit, for personal injury including, but not limited to, loss of use or of private enjoyment, mental anguish, false imprisonment, wrongful entry or eviction, humiliation, discrimination, or malicious prosecution.

455G.12A Cost containment authority.

1. Validity of contracts. A contract in which one of the parties to the contract is an owner or operator of a petroleum underground storage tank, for goods or services which may be payable or reimbursable from the fund, is invalid unless and until the administrator has approved the contract as fair and equitable to the tank owner or operator, and found that the contract terms are within the range of usual and customary rates for similar or equivalent goods or services within the state, and found that the goods or services are necessary for the owner or operator to comply with fund or regulatory standards. An owner or operator may appoint the administrator as an agent for the purposes of negotiating contracts with suppliers of goods or services compensable by the fund. The administrator may select another contractor for goods or services other than the one offered by the owner or operator, if the scope of the proposed work or actual work of the offered contractor does not reflect the quality of workmanship required, or the costs are determined to be excessive.

2. Contract approval In the course of review and approval of a contract pursuant to this section, the administrator may require an owner or operator to obtain and submit three bids, provided that the administrator coordinates bid submission with the department. The administrator may require specific terms and conditions in a contract subject to approval.

The board shall have authority to contract for site cleanup reports. The board's responsibility for site cleanup reports is limited to those site cleanup reports subject to approval by the department of natural resources and required in connection with the remediation of a release which is eligible for benefits under section 455G.9. The site cleanup report shall address existing and available remedial technologies and the costs associated with the use of each technology. The board shall not have the authority to affect a contract which has been given written approval under this section.

3. Exclusive contracts The administrator may enter into a contract or an exclusive contract with the supplier of goods or services required by a class of tank owners or operators in connection with an expense payable or reimbursable from the fund, to supply a specified good or service for a gross maximum price, fixed rate, on an exclusive basis, or subject to another contract term or condition reasonably calculated to obtain goods or services for the fund or for tank owners and operators at a reasonable cost. A contract may provide for direct payment from the fund to a supplier.

The administrator may retain, subject to board approval, an independent person to assist in the review of work required in connection with a release or tank system for which fund benefits are sought, and to establish prevailing cost of goods and services needed. Nothing in this section is intended to preempt the regulatory authority of the department.

4. Prior approval by administrator Unless emergency conditions exist, a contractor performing services pursuant to this section shall have the budget for the work approved by the administrator prior to commencement of the work. No expense incurred which is above the budgeted amount shall be paid unless the administrator approves such expense prior to its being incurred. All invoices or bills shall be submitted with appropriate documentation as deemed necessary by the board, no later than thirty days after the work has been performed. Neither the board nor an owner or operator is responsible for payment for work incurred which has not been previously approved by the board.

455G.13 Cost recovery enforcement. 1. Full recovery sought from owner The board shall seek full recovery from the owner, operator, or other potentially responsible party liable for the released petroleum which is the subject of a corrective action, for which the fund expends moneys for corrective action or third-party liability, and for all other costs, including reasonable attorney fees and costs of litigation for which moneys are expended by the fund in connection with the release. When federal cleanup funds are recovered, the funds are to be deposited to the remedial account of the fund and used solely for the purpose of future cleanup activities.

2. Limitation of liability of owner or operator Except as provided in subsection 3:
   a. The board or the department of natural resources shall not seek recovery for expenses in connection with corrective action for a release from an owner or operator eligible for assistance under the remedial account except for any unpaid portion of the deductible or copayment. This section does not affect any authorization of the department of natural resources to impose or collect civil or administrative fines or penalties or fees. The remedial account shall not be held liable for any third-party liability.
   b. An owner or operator's liability for a release for which coverage is admitted under the insurance account shall not exceed the amount of the deductible.

3. Owner or operator not in compliance, subject to full and total cost recovery Notwithstanding subsection 2, the liability of an owner or operator shall be the full and total costs of corrective action and bodily injury or property damage to third parties, as specified in subsection 1, if the owner or operator has not complied with the financial responsibility or other underground storage tank rules of the department of natural resources or with this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

4. Treble damages for certain violations Notwithstanding subsections 2 and 3, the owner or operator, or both, of a tank are liable to the fund for punitive damages in an amount equal to three times the amount of any cost incurred or moneys expended by the fund as a result of a release of petroleum from the tank if the owner or operator did any of the following:
   a. Failed, without sufficient cause, to respond to a release of petroleum from the tank upon, or in accordance with, a notice issued by the director of the department of natural resources.
   b. After May 5, 1989, failed to perform any of the following:

91 Acts ch 252 §31 32 SF 362
Subsection 2 NEW unnumbered paragraph 2
NEW subsection 4
(1) Failed to register the tank, which was known to exist or reasonably should have been known to exist
(2) Intentionally failed to report a known release

The punitive damages imposed under this subsection are in addition to any costs or expenditures recovered from the owner or operator pursuant to this chapter and in addition to any other penalty or relief provided by this chapter or any other law.

However, the state, a city, county, or other political subdivision shall not be liable for punitive damages.

5 Lien on tank site Any amount for which an owner or operator is liable to the fund, if not paid when due, by statute, rule, or contract, or determination of liability by the board or department of natural resources after hearing, shall constitute a lien upon the real property where the tank, which was the subject of corrective action, is situated, and the liability shall be collected in the same manner as the environmental protection charge pursuant to section 424 11.

6 Joinder of parties The department of natural resources has standing in any case or contested action related to the fund or a tank to assert any claim that the department may have regarding the tank at issue in the case or contested action, upon motion and sufficient showing by a party to a cost recovery or subrogation action provided for under this section, the court or the administrative law judge shall join to the action any potentially responsible party who may be liable for costs and expenditures of the type recoverable pursuant to this section.

7 Strict liability The standard of liability for a release of petroleum or other regulated substance as defined in section 455B 471 is strict liability.

8 Third party contracts not binding on board, proceedings against responsible party An insurer, indemnitee, hold harmless, conveyance, or similar risk sharing or risk-shifting agreement shall not be effective to transfer any liability for costs recoverable under this section. The fund, board, or department of natural resources may proceed directly against the owner or operator or other allegedly responsible party. This section does not bar any agreement to insure, hold harmless, or indemnify a party to the agreement for any costs or expenditures under this chapter, and does not modify rights between the parties to an agreement, except to the extent the agreement shifts liability to an owner or operator eligible for assistance under the remedial account for any damages or other expenses in connection with a corrective action for which another potentially responsible party is or may be liable. Any such provision is null and void and of no force or effect.

9 Later proceedings permitted against other parties The entry of judgment against a party to the action does not bar a future action by the board or the department of natural resources against another person who is later alleged to be or discovered to be liable for costs and expenditures paid by the fund. Notwithstanding section 668.5 no other potentially responsible party may seek contribution or any other recovery from an owner or operator eligible for assistance under the remedial account for damages or other expenses in connection with corrective action for a release for which the potentially responsible party is or may be liable. Subsequent successful proceedings against another party shall not modify or reduce the liability of a party against whom judgment has been previously entered.

10 Claims against potentially responsible parties Upon payment by the fund for corrective action or third party liability pursuant to this chapter, the rights of the claimant to recover payment from any potentially responsible party, are assumed by the board to the extent paid by the fund. A claimant is precluded from receiving double compensation for the same injury.

In an action brought pursuant to this chapter seeking damages for corrective action or third-party liability, the court shall permit evidence and argument as to the replacement or indemnification of actual economic losses incurred or to be incurred in the future by the claimant by reason of insurance benefits, governmental benefits or programs, or from any other source.

A claimant may elect to permit the board to pursue the claimant's cause of action for any injury not compensated by the fund against any potentially responsible party, provided the attorney general determines such representation would not be a conflict of interest. If a claimant so elects, the board's litigation expenses shall be shared on a pro rata basis with the claimant, but the claimant's share of litigation expenses are payable exclusively from any share of the settlement or judgment payable to the claimant.

11 Exclusion of punitive damages The fund shall not be liable in any case for punitive damages.

12 Recovery or subrogation — installers and inspectors Notwithstanding any other provision contained in this chapter, the board or a person insured under the insurance account has no right of recovery or right of subrogation against an installer or an inspector insured by the fund for the tank giving rise to the liability other than for recovery of any deductibles paid.

455G.16 Financial institution participation in fund.

The board may impose conditions on the participation of a financial institution in the fund. Conditions shall be reasonably intended to increase the quantity of private capital available for loans to tank owners or operators who are small businesses within the meaning of section 455G.2. Additionally, the board may offer incentives to financial institutions meeting conditions imposed by the board. Incentives may include extended fund coverage of corrective ac tion or third-party liability expenses, waiver of co payment or deductible requirements, or other bene fits not offered to other participants, if reasonably intended to increase the quantity of private capital available for loans by an amount greater than the in creased costs of the incentives to the fund

Third party liability expenses under this section specifically exclude any claim, cause of action, or suit, for personal injury including, but not limited to, loss of use or of private enjoyment, mental anguish, false imprisonment, wrongful entry or eviction, hu miliation, discrimination, or malicious prosecution

455G.17 Inspectors — education — registra
1. The board shall adopt certification procedures and standards for the following classes of persons as underground storage tank installation inspectors
a. A licensed engineer, except that if under ground storage tank installation is within the scope of practice of a particular class of licensed engineer, additional training shall not be required for that class. A licensed engineer for whom underground storage tank installation is within the scope of prac tice shall be an “authorized inspector”, rather than a “certified inspector”.
b. A fire marshal, or other person unaffiliated with the tank owner, operator, or installer
2. The board shall adopt approved curriculum for training both engineers and fire marshals or other unaffiliated persons as a precondition to their certification as underground storage tank installa tion inspectors
3. The board shall adopt approved curricula for training persons to install underground storage tanks in such a manner that the resulting installa tion may be certified under section 455G.11, subsec tion 6, and provide fire safety and environmental protection guidelines for persons removing tanks
4. The board shall require by rule that all certi fied or authorized underground storage tank inspec tors register with the board and that all persons trained to perform or performing certified tank in stallations register with the board. A person’s failure to register shall not affect the person’s certification, or the certification of an otherwise eligible person, trained to perform or performing certified tank installation is within the scope of practice shall be an “authorized inspector”, rather than a “certified inspector”.

5. The board may impose a fee for registra tion.

455G.18 Groundwater professionals — registra
1. The department of natural resources shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A requiring that groundwater professionals register with the depart ment of natural resources
2. A groundwater professional is a person who provides subsurface soil contamination and ground water consulting services or who contracts to per form remediation or corrective action services and is one or more of the following:
a. A person certified by the American institute of hydrology, the national water well association, the American board of industrial hygiene, or the associa tion of groundwater scientists and engineers
b. A professional engineer registered in Iowa
c. A professional geologist certified by a national organization

455G.19 Environmental damage offset.
1. The fund’s payment of a remedial claim by an owner or operator reporting a release under section 455G.9, subsection 1, paragraph “a”, subparagraph
(2), shall be subject to an environmental damage off set if the owner or operator closed or removed the tank and did not replace it. An owner or operator who has declared bankruptcy shall not be subject to the offset. A site which is not being used for commer cial purposes is not subject to the offset unless of fered for sale. If a site is exempt under this subsec tion from the offset, but is later subject to the lien imposed under section 455G.13, subsection 5, the amount of the lien shall include the amount of the offset which would have been imposed if the site was not exempt during remediation.
2. The offset shall be equal to the average annual environmental protection charge on diminution im posed under chapter 424 which would be paid for tanks of similar size. The offset shall be based on the rate of diminution presently in force, regardless of

CHAPTER 467A
SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION

467A.48 Application for public cost-sharing funds.

1. a An owner or occupant of land in this state is not required to establish any new permanent or temporary soil and water conservation practice unless public or other cost-sharing funds have been specifically approved for that land and actually made available to the owner or occupant.

b The owner or occupant of land is eligible to receive state cost-sharing funds to establish a permanent grass and buffer zone, including an erosion control structure or an erosion control practice to mitigate the effects of concentrated runoff on surface water quality.

c Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the amount of cost-sharing funds made available shall not exceed fifty percent of the estimated cost as established by the commissioners of a permanent soil and water conservation practice, or fifty percent of the actual cost, whichever is less, or an amount set by the committee for a temporary soil and water conservation practice, except as otherwise provided by law with respect to land classified as agricultural land under conservation cover.

The amount of cost-sharing funds made available to establish a permanent grass and buffer zone may be up to one hundred percent of the estimated cost as established by the commissioners or one hundred percent of the actual cost, whichever is less.

The commissioners shall establish the estimated cost of permanent soil and water conservation practices in the district based upon one and two-tenths of the average cost of the practices installed in the district during the previous year. The average costs shall be reviewed and approved by the commissioners each calendar year.

2. The committee shall review these requirements once each year, and may authorize soil and water conservation district commissioners to make the mandatory establishment of any specified soil and water conservation practice in any particular case conditional on a higher proportion of public cost-sharing than is required by this section. When the commissioners have been so authorized, they shall, in determining the amount of cost-sharing for establishment of a specified soil and water conservation practice to comply with an administrative order issued pursuant to section 467A.47, consider the extent to which the practice will contribute benefits to the public in relation to the benefits that will accrue to the individual owner or occupant of the land on which the practice is to be established. Evidence that an application for public or other cost-sharing funds, from a source or sources having authority to pay a portion of the cost of work needed to comply with an administrative order issued pursuant to section 467A.47, has been submitted to the proper officer or agency constitutes commencement of the work within the meaning of sections 467A.43 through 467A.53.

3. Upon receiving evidence of the submission of an application, the commissioners shall forward to the officer or agency to which the application was made a written request to receive notification of the disposition of the application. When notified of the approval of the application, the commissioners shall issue to the same parties who received the original administrative order, or their successors in interest, a supplementary order, to be delivered in the same manner as provided by sections 467A.43 to 467A.53 for delivery of original administrative orders. The supplementary order shall state a time, not more than six months after approval of the application for public cost-sharing funds, by which the work needed to comply with the original administrative order shall actually be commenced, and a time thereafter when the work is to be satisfactorily completed. If feasible, that time shall be within one year after the date of the supplementary order, but the owner of land on which a soil and water conservation practice is being established under this section is not required to incur a cost for the practice in any one calendar year which exceeds ten dollars per acre for each acre of land belonging to that owner and located in the county containing the land on which the required practice is being established or in counties contiguous to that county.

Conservation practices revolving loan fund.

1. The division may establish a conservation practices revolving loan fund composed of any money appropriated by the general assembly for that purpose, and of any other moneys available to and obtained or accepted by the committee from the federal government or private sources for placement in that fund. Except as otherwise provided by subsection 3, the assets of the conservation practices revolving loan fund shall be used only to make loans directly to owners of land in this state for the purpose of establishing on that land any new permanent soil and water conservation practice which the commissioners of the soil and water conservation district in which the land is located have found is necessary or advisable to meet the soil loss limits established for that land. A loan shall not be made for establishing a permanent soil and water conservation practice on land that is subject to the restriction on state cost-sharing funds of section 467A.65. Revolving loan funds and public cost-sharing funds shall not be used in combination for funding a particular soil and water conservation practice. Each loan made under this section shall be for a period not to exceed ten years, shall bear no interest, and shall be repayable to the conservation practices revolving loan fund in equal yearly installments due March 1 of each year the loan is in effect. The interest rate upon loans for which payment is delinquent shall accelerate immediately to the current legal usury limit. Applicants are eligible for no more than ten thousand dollars in loans outstanding at any time under this program. "Permanent soil and water conservation practices" has the same meaning as defined in section 467A.42 and those established under this program are subject to the requirements of section 467A.7, subsection 16. Loans made under this program shall come due for payment upon sale of the land on which those practices are established.

2. The general assembly finds and declares the following:

a. The erosion of topsoil on agricultural land by wind and water is a serious problem within the state and one which threatens to destroy the natural resource most responsible for Iowa’s prosperity.

b. It is necessary to the preservation of the economy and well-being of the state to encourage soil conservation practices by providing loans for permanent soil and water conservation practices on agricultural land within the state.

c. The use of state funds for the conservation practices revolving loan fund established under subsection 1 is in the public interest, and the purposes of this section are public purposes and uses for which public moneys may be borrowed, expended, advanced, loaned, or granted.

3. The division may:

a. Contract, sue and be sued, and promulgate administrative rules necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, but the committee shall not in any manner directly or indirectly pledge the credit of the state of Iowa.

b. Authorize payment from the conservation practices revolving loan fund and from fees for costs, commissions, attorney fees and other reasonable expenses related to and necessary for making and protecting direct loans under this section, and for the recovery of moneys loaned or the management of property acquired in connection with such loans.

4. This section does not negate the provisions of section 467A.48 that an owner or occupant of land in this state shall not be required to establish any new soil and water conservation practice unless public cost-sharing funds have been approved and are available for the land affected. However, the owner of land with respect to which an administrative order to establish soil and water conservation practices has been issued under section 467A.47 but not complied with for lack of public cost-sharing funds, may waive the right to await availability of such funds and instead apply for a loan under this section to establish any permanent soil and water conservation practices necessary to comply with the order. If a landowner does so, that loan application shall be given reasonable preference by the state soil conservation committee if there are applications for more loans under this section than can be made from the money available in the conservation practices revolving loan fund. If it is found necessary to deny an application for a soil and water conservation practices loan to a landowner who has waived the right to availability of public cost-sharing funds before complying with an administrative order issued under section 467A.47, the landowner's waiver is void.

CHAPTER 467F
WATER PROTECTION PROJECTS AND PRACTICES

467F.4 Water protection fund.
A water protection fund is created within the division. The fund is composed of money appropriated by the general assembly for that purpose, and money available to and obtained or accepted by the state soil conservation committee from the United States or private sources for placement in the fund. The fund shall be divided into two accounts, the water quality protection account and the water protection practices account. The first account shall be used to carry out water quality protection projects to protect the state’s surface and groundwater from point and nonpoint sources of contamination. The second account shall be used to establish water protection practices with individual landowners including but not limited to woodland establishment and protection, establishment of native grasses and forbs, sinkhole management, agricultural drainage well management, streambank stabilization, grass waterway establishment, stream buffer strip establishment, and erosion control structure construction. Twenty-five percent of funds appropriated to the water protection practices account shall be used for woodland establishment and protection, and establishment of native grasses and forbs. Soil and water conservation district commissioners shall give priority to applications for practices that implement their soil and water resource conservation plan. The fund shall be a revolving fund from which moneys may be used for loans, grants, administrative costs, and cost-sharing.

In administering the fund the division may:
1. Contract, sue and be sued, and adopt rules necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, but the division or committee shall not in any manner directly or indirectly pledge the credit of this state.
2. Authorize payment from the water protection fund and from fees for costs, commissions, and other reasonable expenses.

CHAPTER 468
LEVEE AND DRAINAGE DISTRICTS AND IMPROVEMENTS

468.27 Dismissal or establishment — permanent easement.
The board shall at said meeting, or at an adjourned session thereof, consider the costs of construction of said improvement as shown by the reports of the engineer and the amount of damages and compensation awarded to all claimants, and if, in its opinion, such costs of construction and amount of damages awarded create a greater burden than should justly be borne by the lands benefited by the improvement, it shall then dismiss the petition and assess the costs and expenses to the petitioners and their sureties, but if it finds that such cost and expense is not a greater burden than should be justly borne by the land benefited by the improvement, it shall finally and permanently locate and establish said district and improvement.

Following its establishment, the drainage district is deemed to have acquired by permanent easement all right-of-way for drainage district ditches, tile lines, settling basins and other improvements, unless they are acquired by fee simple, in the dimensions shown on the survey and report made in compliance with sections 468.11 and 468.12 or as shown on the permanent survey, plat and profile, if one is made. The filing of the survey and report or permanent survey, plat and profile, as set forth in sections 468.172 and 468.173, shall constitute constructive notice to all persons of the rights conferred by this section. The permanent easement includes the right of ingress and egress across adjoining land and the right of access for maintenance, repair, improvement, and inspection. The owner or lessee shall be reimbursed for any crop damages incurred in the maintenance, repair, improvement, and inspection except within the right-of-way of the drainage district.

Upon the establishment of the drainage district, the petitioners shall file with the county auditor the survey and report or the permanent survey, plat, and profile, if one was made, and this filing shall be constructive notice of a permanent right-of-way easement.
468.38 Commissioners to classify and assess.

When a levee or drainage district has been located and finally established or, unless otherwise provided by law, when the required proceedings have been taken to enlarge, deepen, widen, change, or extend any of the ditches, laterals, settling basins, or drains of a district, or the required proceedings have been taken to annex additional lands to a district, or a plan of the United States government for original construction of the improvements in a district has been adopted by the district under sections 468.201 through 468.216, the board shall appoint three commissioners to assess benefits and classify the lands affected by the improvement. One of the commissioners shall be a competent civil engineer and two of them shall be resident freeholders of the county in which the district is located, but not living within, nor interested in, any lands included in the district, nor related to any party whose land is affected by the district. The commissioners shall take and subscribe an oath of their qualifications and to perform the duties of classification of the lands, to fix the percentages of benefits, apportion and assess the costs and expenses of constructing the improvement, divide and rename original improvements, and, if included in the board's resolution, adopt special common outlet classifications to be maintained independent of the district's regular assessment schedules, according to law and their best judgment, skill, and ability. If the commissioners or any of them fail or neglect to act or perform the duties in the time and as required of them by law, the board shall appoint others with like qualifications to take their places and perform the duties.

When, after a drainage or levee district has been established, except districts established by mutual agreement in accordance with section 468.142, and the improvements thereof constructed and put in operation, there has been a material change as to lands occupied by highway or railroad right of way or in the character of the lands benefited by the improvement, or when a repair, improvement, or extension has become necessary, the board may consider whether the existing assessments are equitable as a basis for payment of the expense of maintaining the district and of making the repair, improvement or extension. If they find the same to be inequitable in any particular, they shall by resolution express such finding, appoint three commissioners possessing the qualifications prescribed in section 468.38 and order a reclassification as follows:

1. If they find the assessments to be generally inequitable they shall order a reclassification of all property subject to assessment, such as lands, highways, and railroads in said district.

2. If the inequity ascertained by the board is limited to the proportion paid by highways or railroads, a general reclassification of all lands shall not be necessary but the commissioners may evaluate and determine the fair proportion to be paid by such highways or railroads or both as provided in sections 468.42 and 468.43.

3. Any benefits of a character for which levee or drainage districts may be established and which are attributable to or enhanced by the improvement or by the repair, improvement, or extension thereof, shall be a proper subject of consideration in a reclassification notwithstanding the district may have been originally established for a limited purpose.

4. If after a district has been reclassified, the board in its judgment concludes there were errors in the reclassification or there is an inequitable assessment of benefits, the board may on its own motion, after notice to the landowners involved as provided in sections 468.14 through 468.18 and by resolution, order the district or any portion of the district to again be reclassified as prescribed in this section and in section 468.67.

The board may include in its resolution an order to the commissioners that they prepare special common outlet classifications, if needed, in conjunction with the reclassification of the district.

Such reclassification when finally adopted shall remain the basis for all future assessments unless revised as provided in this subchapter, parts 1 through 5.

468.516 Election — canvass of votes — returns.

On the day designated for said election the polls shall open at one o'clock p.m. and remain open until five o'clock p.m. unless otherwise provided under section 468.522. If no convenient polling place is to be found within the district, the election may be held at some convenient place outside the district. The judges of election shall canvass the vote and certify the result, and deposit with the auditor the ballots cast, together with the pollbooks showing the names of the voters; but if there is more than one county in the district, the returns shall be filed with the auditor of the county having the greatest acreage of said district.

468.522 Change of date and time.

The date on which the annual election shall be held and the polling hours may be changed by the choice of a majority of electors of the district expressed by ballot at any annual election, and the return of the vote shall be certified in the same manner as the returns for election of trustees. The polling hours may vary from the requirements of section 468.516, but the polls shall be open for at least three consecutive hours between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on the election day.

LIFE CYCLE COST ANALYSIS OF PUBLIC FACILITIES

470.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Commissioner” means the state building code commissioner.
2. “Department” means the department of natural resources.
3. “Director” means the director of the department of natural resources.
4. “Economic life” means the projected or anticipated useful life of a facility as expressed by a term of years.
5. “Energy system” includes but is not limited to the following equipment or measures:
   a. Equipment used to heat or cool the facility.
   b. Equipment used to heat water in the facility.
   c. On-site equipment used to generate electricity for the major facility.
   d. On-site equipment that uses the sun, wind, oil, natural gas, coal or electricity as a power source.
   e. Energy conservation measures in the facility design and construction that decrease the energy requirements of the facility.
6. “Facility” means a building having twenty thousand square feet or more of usable floor space that is heated or cooled by a mechanical or electrical system or any building, system, or physical operation which consumes more than forty thousand British thermal units (BTUs) per square foot per year.
7. “Initial cost” means the moneys required for the capital construction or renovation of a facility.
8. “Life cycle cost analysis” means an analytical technique that considers certain costs of owning, using and operating a facility over its economic life including but not limited to the following:
   a. Initial costs.
   b. System repair and replacement costs.
   c. Maintenance costs.
   d. Operating costs, including energy costs.
   e. Salvage value.
9. “Public agency” means a state agency, political subdivision of the state, school district, area education agency, or community college.
10. “Renovation” means a project where additions or alterations exceed fifty percent of the value of a facility and will affect an energy system.

470.3 Elements of analysis.
1. A life cycle cost analysis shall include but is not limited to the following elements:
   a. Specification of energy management objectives and health, safety and functional constraints. The facility design shall comply with applicable state or local building code requirements.
   b. Identification of the energy needs of the facility and energy system alternatives to meet those needs.
   c. Cost of the energy system alternatives identified in paragraph “b” of this subsection.
   d. Determination of amounts and timing of cash flow.
   e. Calculation of life cycle cost using an economic model such as, but not limited to, rate of return, annual equivalent cost or present equivalent cost.
   f. Evaluation of design and system alternatives using a method such as, but not limited to, design matrices, ranking tables or network analysis.
2. A public agency or a person preparing a life cycle cost analysis for a public agency shall consider the methods and analytical models provided by the department and available through the commissioner, which are suited to the purpose for which the project is intended. Within sixty days of final selection of a design architect or engineer, a public agency, which is also a state agency under section 19.34, shall notify the commissioner and the department of the methodology to be used to perform the life cycle cost analysis, on forms provided by the department.

470.7 Life cycle cost analysis — approval.
The public agency responsible for the new construction or renovation of a public facility shall submit a copy of the life cycle cost analysis for review by the commissioner who shall consult with the department. If the public agency is also a state agency under section 19.34, comments by the department or the commissioner, including any recommendation for changes in the analysis, shall, within thirty days of receipt of the analysis, be forwarded in writing to the public agency. If either the department or the commissioner disagrees with any aspects of the life cycle cost analysis, the public agency affected shall timely respond in writing to the commissioner and the department. The response shall indicate whether the agency intends to implement the recommendations and, if the agency does not intend to implement them, the public agency shall present its reasons. The reasons may include, but are not limited to, a description of the purpose of the facility or renovation, preservation of historical architectural features, architectural and site considerations, and health and safety concerns.

Within thirty days of receipt of the response of the public agency affected, the department, the commissioner, or both, shall notify in writing the public agency affected of the department's, the commissioner's, or both's agreement or disagreement with the response. In the event of a disagreement, the department, the commissioner, or both, shall at the same time transmit the notification of disagreement with response and related papers to the executive council for resolution pursuant to section 19.34. The life cycle cost analysis process, including submittal and approval, and implementation exemption requests pursuant to section 470.8, shall be completed prior to the letting of contracts for the construction or renovation of a facility.

470.8 Life cycle cost analysis — implementation and exemptions.
The public agency responsible for the new construction or renovation of a public facility shall implement the recommendations of the life cycle cost analysis.

The commissioner, in consultation with the director, shall, by rule, develop criteria to exempt facilities from the implementation requirements of this section. Using the criteria, the commissioner, in cooperation with the director, shall exempt facilities on a case by case basis. Factors to be considered when developing the exemption criteria shall include, but not be limited to, a description of the purpose of the facility or renovation, the preservation of historical architectural features, site considerations, and health and safety concerns. The commissioner and the director shall grant or deny a request for exemption from the requirements of this section within thirty days of receipt of the request.

CHAPTER 472
PROCEDURE UNDER POWER OF EMINENT DOMAIN

472.37 Form of record — certificate.
Said papers shall be securely fastened together, arranged in the order named above, and be accompanied by a certificate of the officer filing the papers that the papers are true and correct copies of the original files in the proceedings and that the statements accompanying the papers are true.
CHAPTER 476
PUBLIC UTILITY REGULATION

476.1 Applicability of authority.
The utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce shall regulate the rates and services of public utilities to the extent and in the manner hereinafter provided.

As used in this chapter, "board" or "utilities board" means the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce.

As used in this chapter, "public utility" shall include any person, partnership, business association, or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning or operating any facilities for:
1. Furnishing gas by piped distribution system or electricity to the public for compensation.
2. Furnishing communications services to the public for compensation.
3. Furnishing water by piped distribution system to the public for compensation.

Mutual telephone companies in which at least fifty percent of the users are owners, co-operative telephone corporations or associations, telephone companies having less than fifteen thousand customers and less than fifteen thousand access lines, municipally owned utilities, and unincorporated villages which own their own distribution systems are not subject to the rate regulation provided for in this chapter.

This chapter does not apply to waterworks having less than two thousand customers, municipally owned waterworks, joint water utilities established pursuant to chapter 389, rural water districts incorporated and organized pursuant to chapters 357A and 504A, cooperative water associations incorporated and organized pursuant to chapter 499, or to a person furnishing electricity to five or fewer customers either by secondary line or from an alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility, from electricity that is produced primarily for the person's own use.

A telephone company otherwise exempt from rate regulation and having telephone exchange facilities which cross state lines may elect, in a writing filed with the board, to have its rates regulated by the board. When a written election has been filed with the board, the board shall assume rate regulation jurisdiction over the company.

The jurisdiction of the board under this chapter shall include programs designed to promote the use of energy efficiency strategies by rate or service-regulated gas and electric utilities. These programs shall be cost effective. The board may initiate these programs as pilot projects to accumulate sufficient data to determine if the programs meet the requirements of this paragraph.

476.1D Regulation and deregulation of communications services.

1. Except as provided in this section, the jurisdiction of the board as to the regulation of communications services is not applicable to a service or facility that is provided or is proposed to be provided by a telephone utility that is or becomes subject to effective competition, as determined by the board. In determining whether a service or facility is or becomes subject to effective competition, the board shall consider, among other factors, whether a comparable service or facility is available from a supplier other than the telephone utility and whether market forces are sufficient to assure just and reasonable rates without regulation.

2. Deregulation of a service or facility for a utility is effective only after all of the following:
   a. A finding of effective competition by the board.
   b. Election by a utility providing the service or facility to file a deregulation accounting plan.
   c. Approval of a utility's deregulation accounting plan by the board.

3. If the board determines a service or facility is subject to effective competition and approves the utility's deregulation accounting plan, the board shall deregulate the service or facility within a reasonable time.

4. Upon deregulation, all investment, revenues, and expenses associated with the service or facility shall be removed from the telephone utility's regulated operations and shall not be considered by the board in setting rates for the telephone utility unless they continue to affect the utility's regulated operations. If the board considers investment, revenues, and expenses associated with unregulated services or facilities in setting rates for the telephone utility, the board shall not use any profits or costs from such unregulated services or facilities to determine the rates for regulated services or facilities. This section does not preclude the board from considering the investment, revenues, and expenses associated with the sale of classified directory advertising by a telephone utility in determining rates for the telephone utility.

5. Notwithstanding the presence of effective competition, if the board determines a service or facility is an essential communications service or facility and the public interest warrants retention of service regulation, the board shall deregulate rates and may continue service regulation.

6. The board may reimpose rate and service regulation on a deregulated service or facility if it determines the service or facility is no longer subject to effective competition.
7. The board may reimpose service regulation only on a deregulated service or facility if the board determines the service or facility is an essential communications service or facility and the public interest warrants service regulation, notwithstanding the presence of effective competition.

8. If the board reimposes regulation pursuant to subsection 6 or 7, the reimposition of regulation shall apply to all providers of the service or facility.

9. The board may investigate and obtain information from providers of deregulated services or facilities to determine whether the services or facilities are subject to effective competition or whether the service or facility is an essential communications service or facility and the public interest warrants service regulation. However, the board shall not, for purposes of this subsection, request or obtain information related to the provider's costs or earnings.

476.6 Changes in rates, charges, schedules and regulations—supply and cost review—water costs for fire protection.

1. Filing with board. A public utility subject to rate regulation shall not make effective a new or changed rate, charge, schedule or regulation until the rate, charge, schedule, or regulation has been approved by the board, except as provided in subsections 11 and 13.

A subscriber of a telephone exchange or service, who is declared to be legally blind under section 422.12, subsection 1, paragraph "e", is exempt from any charges for telephone directory assistance that may be approved by the board.

2. Telephone directory assistance charges—record provided. The board shall not approve a schedule of directory assistance charges unless the schedule provides that residential customers be provided a record of the date and time of each directory assistance call made from their residence.

3. Telephone directory assistance charges—approval by board. Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this section, a public utility shall not implement a charge for telephone directory assistance or implement a new or changed rate for telephone directory assistance except pursuant to a tariff that has been filed with the board and finally approved by the board.

4. First seven calls exempted. A telephone directory assistance tariff that is approved by the board on or after July 1, 1981, shall be subject to the limitation that a subscriber shall not be charged for the first seven directory assistance calls made from the subscriber's station during each of the first twelve months in which the tariff is in effect, and a charge made in violation of this limitation is an unlawful charge within the meaning of this chapter.

5. Written notice of increase. All public utilities, except those exempted from rate regulation by section 476.1, shall give written notice of a proposed increase of any rate or charge to all affected customers served by the public utility more than sixty-two days prior to and prior to the time the application for the increase is filed with the board. Public utilities exempted from rate regulation by section 476.1 shall give written notice of a proposed increase of any rate or charge to all affected customers served by the public utility at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the increase. If the public utility is subject to rate regulation, the notice to affected customers shall also state that the customer has a right to file a written objection to the rate increase and that the affected customers may request the board to hold a public hearing to determine if the rate increase should be allowed. The board shall prescribe the manner and method that the written notice to each affected customer of the public utility shall be served.

6. Facts and arguments submitted. At the time a public utility subject to rate regulation files with the board an application for any new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations, the public utility also shall submit factual evidence and written argument offered in support of the filing. If the filing is an application for a general rate increase, the utility shall also file affidavits containing testimonial evidence to be offered in support of the filing, although this requirement does not apply if the public utility is a rural electric cooperative.

7. Hearing set. After the filing of an application for new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations by a public utility subject to rate regulation, the board, prior to the expiration of thirty days after the filing date, shall docket the case as a formal proceeding and set the case for hearing unless the new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations are approved by the board. However, if an application presents no material issue of fact subject to dispute, and the board determines that the application violates a relevant statute, or is not in substantial compliance with a board rule lawfully adopted pursuant to chapter 17A, the application may be rejected by the board without prejudice and without a hearing, provided that the board issues a written order setting forth all of its reasons for rejecting the application. In the case of a gas public utility having less than two thousand customers, the board shall docket a case as a formal proceeding and set the case for hearing as provided in section 476.1C. In the case of a rural electric cooperative, the board may docket the case as a formal proceeding and set the case for hearing prior to the proposed effective date of the tariff. The board shall give notice of formal proceedings as it deems appropriate. The docketing of a case as a formal proceeding suspends the effective date of the new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations until the rates, charges, schedules, or regulations are approved by the board, except as provided in subsection 13.

8. Utility hearing expenses reported. When a case has been docketed as a formal proceeding under subsection 7, the public utility, within a reasonable time thereafter, shall file with the board a report outlining the utility’s expected expenses for litigating the case through the time period allowed by the board in rendering a decision. At the conclusion of the utility’s presentation of comments, testimony, exhibits, or briefs the utility shall submit to the board a listing of the utility’s actual litigation expenses in the proceeding. As part of the findings of the board under subsection 9, the board shall allow recovery of costs of the litigation expenses over a reasonable period of time to the extent the board deems the expenses reasonable and just.

9 Finding by board. If, after hearing and decision on all issues presented for determination in the rate proceeding, the board finds the proposed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations of the utility to be unlawful, the board shall by order authorize and direct the utility to file new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations which, when approved by the board and placed in effect, will satisfy the requirements of this chapter. The rates, charges, schedules, or regulations so approved are lawful and effective upon their approval.

10 Limitation on filings. A public utility shall not make a subsequent filing of an application for a new or changed rate, charge, schedule, or regulation which relates to services for which a rate filing is pending within twelve months following the date the prior application was filed or until the board has issued a final order on the prior application, whichever date is earlier, unless the public utility applies to the board for authority and receives authority to make a subsequent filing at an earlier date.

11 Automatic adjustments permitted. This chapter does not prohibit a public utility from making provision for the automatic adjustment of rates and charges for public utility service provided that a schedule showing the automatic adjustment of rates and charges is first filed with the board.

12 Rate levels for telephone utilities. The board may approve a schedule of rate levels for any regulated service provided by a utility providing communication services.

13 Temporary authority. Upon the request of a public utility, the board shall, when required by this subsection, grant the public utility temporary authority to place in effect any or all of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations by filing with the board a bond or other undertaking approved by the board conditioned upon the refund in a manner to be prescribed by the board of any moneys collected subject to refund under this subsection, grant the public utility temporary authority to place in effect any or all of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations upon the expiration of ten months after the filing date, plus the length of any delay that necessarily results from the failure of the public utility to exercise due diligence in connection with the proceedings or from intervening judicial proceedings, plus the length of any extension permitted by section 476-33, subsection 3, then those portions that were approved by the board on a temporary basis shall be deemed finally approved by the board and the utility may place them into effect on a permanent basis, and the utility also may place into effect subject to refund and until the final decision of the board any portion of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations not previously approved on a temporary basis by filing with the board a bond or other undertaking approved by the board.

If the board finds that an extension of the ten-month period is necessary to permit the accumulation of necessary data with respect to the operation of a newly constructed electric generating facility that has a capacity of one hundred megawatts or more of electricity and that is proposed to be included in the rate base for the first time, the board may extend the ten-month period up to a maximum extension of six months, but only with respect to that portion of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations that are necessarily connected with the inclusion of the generating facility in the rate base. If a utility is proposing to include in its rate base for the first time a newly constructed electric generating facility that has a capacity of one hundred megawatts or more of electricity, the filing date of new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations shall, for purposes of computing the ninety-day and ten-month limitations stated above, be the date as determined by the board that the new plant went into service, but only with respect to that portion of the suspended rates, charges, schedules or regulations that are necessarily connected with the inclusion of the generating facility in the rate base.

The board shall determine the rate of interest to be paid by a public utility to persons receiving refunds. The interest rate to be applied to refunds of moneys collected subject to refund under this subsection is two percent per annum plus the average quarterly interest rate at commercial banks for twenty-four month loans for personal expenditures.
as determined by the board, compounded annually
The board shall consider federal reserve statistical release G 19 or its equivalent when determining in terest to be paid under this subsection 14 Refunds passed on to customers If pursu ant to federal law or rule a rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas to customers in the state receives a refund or credit for past gas purchases, the savings shall be passed on to the customers in a manner ap­proved by the board. Similarly, if pursuant to federal law or rule a rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas to customers in the state receives a rate for fu­ture gas purchases which is lower than the price in­cluded in the public utility’s approved rate applica­tion, the savings shall be passed on to the customers in a manner approved by the board 15 Natural gas supply and cost review The board shall periodically, but not less than annually, conduct a proceeding for the purpose of evaluating the reasonableness and prudence of a rate-regulated public utility’s natural gas procurement and con­tracting practices The natural gas supply and cost review shall be conducted as a contested case pursu­ant to chapter 17A.
Under procedures established by the board, each rate-regulated public utility furnishing gas shall peri­odically file a complete natural gas procurement plan describing the expected sources and volumes of its gas supply and changes in the cost of gas anticipated over a future twelve-month period specified by the board. The plan shall describe all major contracts and gas supply arrangements entered into by the utility for obtaining gas during the specified twelve­month period. The description of the major con­tracts and arrangements shall include the price of gas, the duration of the contract or arrangement, and an explanation or description of any other term or provision as required by the board. The plan shall also include the utility’s evaluation of the reason­ableness and prudence of its decisions to obtain gas in the manner described in the plan, an explanation of the legal and regulatory actions taken by the utility to minimize the cost of gas purchased by the utility, and such other information as the board may re­quire.
During the natural gas supply and cost review, the board shall evaluate the reasonableness and pru­dence of the gas procurement plan. In evaluating the gas procurement plan, the board shall consider the volume, cost, and reliability of the major alternative gas supplies available to the utility, the cost of alter­native fuels available to the utility’s customers, the availability of gas in storage, the appropriate legal and regulatory actions which the utility could take to minimize the cost of purchased gas, the gas pro­curement practices of the utility, and other relevant factors. If a utility is not taking all reasonable ac­tions to minimize its purchase gas costs, consistent with assuring an adequate long-term supply of natu­ral gas, the board shall not allow the utility to recover from its customers purchase gas costs in excess of those costs that would be incurred under reasonable and prudent policies and practices.

16 Annual electric energy supply and cost re­view The board shall conduct an annual proceed­ing for the purpose of evaluating the reasonableness and prudence of a rate-regulated public utility’s pro­curement and contracting practices related to the ac­quisition of fuel for use in generating electricity. The proceeding shall be conducted as a contested case pursuant to chapter 17A. Under procedures estab­lished by the board, the utility shall file information as the board deems appropriate If a utility is not taking all reasonable actions to minimize its fuel costs, the board shall not allow the utility to recover from its customers fuel costs in excess of those costs that would be incurred under reasonable and prudent policies and practices.
17 Comprehensive energy management required for electric utilities An electric utility shall not have an increased revenue requirement finally ap­proved under this section in any application for in­creased rates filed on or after January 1, 1992, unless the utilities board finds that the electric utility has in effect a comprehensive energy management pro­gram which meets the primary objectives of section 476A 6, subsection 4.
18 Water costs for fire protection in certain cit­ies a Application A city furnished water by a public utility subject to rate regulation may apply to the board for inclusion of all or a part of the costs of fire hydrants or other improvements, maintenance, and operations for the purpose of providing ade­quate water production, storage, and distribution for public fire protection in the rates or charges assessed to consumers covered by the applicant’s fire protec­tion service. The application shall be made in a form and manner approved by or as directed by the board. The applicant shall provide such additional information as the board may require to consider the appli­cation.

b Review The board shall review the applica­tion, and may in its discretion consider additional evidence, beyond that supplied in the application or provided by the applicant in response to a request for additional information pursuant to paragraph “a”, including, but not limited to, soliciting oral or writ­ten testimony from other interested parties.

c Notice Written notice of a proposed rate in­crease shall be provided by the public utility pursuant to subsection 5, except that notice shall be pro­vided within ninety days of the date of application. Costs of the notice shall be paid for by the applicant.

d Conditions for approval As a condition to approving an application to include water-related fire protection costs in the utility’s rates or charges, the board shall make an affirmative determination that the following conditions will be met:

(1) That the service area currently charged for fire protection, either directly or indirectly, is sub­stantially the same service area containing those persons who will pay for water-related fire protec­tion through inclusion of such costs within the utili­ty’s rates or charges.
(2) That the inclusion of such costs within the utility's rates or charges will not cause substantial inequities among the utility's customers

(3) That all or a portion of the costs sought to be included in the utility's rates or charges by the applicant are reasonable in the circumstances, and limited to the purposes specified in paragraph "a"

(4) That written notice has been provided pursuant to paragraph "c" and that the costs of the notice have been paid by the applicant

Inclusion within rates or charges
If the board affirmatively determines that the conditions of paragraph "d" are or will be satisfied, the board shall include the reasonable costs in the rates or charges assessed to consumers covered by the applicant's fire protection service.

Written order
The board shall issue a written order within six months of the date of application. The written order shall include a recitation of the facts found pursuant to consideration of the application.

Energy efficiency implementation, cost review, and cost recovery

The board shall conduct contested case proceedings for review of energy efficiency plans and budgets filed by rate-regulated gas or electric utilities. The board may approve, reject, or modify the plans and budgets. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 17A 19, subsection 5, in an application for judicial review of the board's decision concerning a utility's energy efficiency plan or budget, the reviewing court shall not order a stay whenever a request to modify an approved plan or budget is filed subsequently by the office of consumer advocate or a rate-regulated gas or electric public utility.

An energy efficiency plan and budget shall be designed to expend annually, at a minimum, the following designated percentage of the gas and electric rate-regulated utility's gross operating revenues during the previous calendar year:

(1) For electric rate-regulated utilities, two percent

(2) For gas rate-regulated utilities, one and one half percent

A rate-regulated electric utility or rate-regulated gas utility shall have the designated expenditure requirement included in its energy efficiency plan and budget on or before January 1, 1992. The board may waive the spending requirement for an individual utility if the board determines after the contested case proceeding in paragraph "a", that the expenditure level of the energy efficiency programs included in the utility's approved energy efficiency plan is less than the spending requirement.

Energy efficiency expenditures incurred on or after July 1, 1990, may be included in a utility's initial energy efficiency plan and budget submitted pursuant to paragraph "a".

A rate-regulated utility shall submit for consideration in its energy efficiency plan, at a minimum, the following programs, where relevant to the utility's services:

(1) A hot water heater insulation blanket distribution program

(2) A commercial lighting program

(3) A rebate, coupon, or other program for purchases of goods, including but not limited to light bulbs, which contribute to energy efficiency

(4) A tree planting program to moderate the physical environment and to consume atmospheric carbon dioxide resulting from burning fossil fuels within the state for energy, provided, however, that the tree planting program is not required to itself be energy efficient or cost effective

(5) A cooperative program with any community action agency within the utility's service area to implement countywide or communitywide energy efficiency programs for qualified low income persons

Each of these programs, except the tree planting program contained in subparagraph (4), shall be approved as part of the utility's plan only if the board determines the program to be cost effective for that utility.

The board may periodically conduct a contested case proceeding to evaluate the reasonableness and prudence of a gas or electric rate-regulated public utility's implementation of the utility's approved energy efficiency plan and budget and provide for the recovery of expenditures and related costs of the provision of energy efficiency projects. Notice to customers shall be in a manner prescribed by the board, provided, however, that the board shall not allow energy efficiency to be represented in customer billings as a separate cost or expense. The board shall consider the cost effectiveness of the projects and shall allow the utility to recover the reasonable expenditures and related costs of the projects determined to be cost effective. A utility shall also recover the reasonable expenditures and related costs of an energy efficiency project which is not cost-effective if the board determines the utility was prudent and reasonable in the planning and implementation of the energy efficiency project. The board may treat the expenditures and related costs incurred by a utility pursuant to the utility's approved energy efficiency plan and budget as capital items for ratemaking purposes. Recovery pursuant to this paragraph shall not be allowed until eighteen months after the board's final order in the initial contested case to review a utility's proposed energy efficiency plan and budget pursuant to paragraph "a".

In addition to the expenditures and related costs collected pursuant to paragraph "d", if the board determines sufficient justification exists for assessing a reward or penalty on the utility for its performance regarding energy efficiency, the board may allow the utility to collect an amount as a reward or may require an amount to be deducted from the recovery of expenditures and related costs as a penalty. The rewards and penalties of this paragraph shall be in addition to the provisions of section 476.52.

f. The legislative council shall consider the appointment of a legislative interim study committee in 1996 to review the success or failure of the sub-tantive and procedural provisions for energy efficiency cost recovery contained in this section. The interim study committee, if appointed, shall make recommendations to the general assembly on any required changes due to the experience gained from the previous two biennial energy efficiency plan and plan cycles.

g. A rate-regulated utility required to submit an ergy efficiency plan under this subsection shall, upon the request of a state agency or political sub-vision to which it provides service, provide advice and assistance regarding measures which the state agency or political subdivision might take in achieving improved energy efficiency results. The cooperation shall include assistance in accessing financial assistance for energy efficiency measures.

20. Filing of forecasts. The board shall periodically require each rate-regulated gas or electric public utility to file a forecast of future gas requirements or electric generating needs and the board shall evaluate the forecast. The forecast shall include, but is not limited to, a forecast of the requirements of its customers, its anticipated sources of supply, and its anticipated means of addressing the forecasted gas requirements or electric generating needs.

21. Energy efficiency program financing. The board may require each rate-regulated gas or electric public utility to offer qualified customers the opportunity to enter into an agreement for the amount of monies reasonably necessary to finance cost-effective energy efficiency improvements to the qualified customers' residential dwellings or businesses.

§476.10 Investigations — expense — appropriation.

When the board deems it necessary in order to carry out the duties imposed upon it by this chapter for the purpose of determining rate matters to investigate the books, accounts, practices, and activities of, or make appraisals of the property of any public utility, or to render any engineering or accounting services to any public utility, or to review the operations or annual reports of the public utility under section 476.31 or 476.32, or to evaluate a proposal for reorganization under section 476.73, the public utility shall pay the expense reasonably attributable to the investigation, appraisal, service, or review. The board shall ascertain the expenses including certified expenses incurred by the consumer advocate division of the department of justice directly chargeable to the public utility under section 475A.6, and shall render a bill to the public utility, either at the conclusion of the investigation, appraisal, services, or review, or from time to time during its progress, which bill is notice of the assessment and shall demand payment. The total amount of such expense in any one calendar year, for which any public utility shall become liable, shall not exceed two-tenths of one percent of its gross operating revenues derived from intrastate public utility operations in the last preceding calendar year.

The board shall ascertain the total of the division's expenditures during each year which are reasonably attributable to the performance of its duties under this chapter. The board shall add to this total the certified expenses of the consumer advocate as provided under section 475A.6 and shall deduct all amounts chargeable directly to any specific utility under any law. The remainder shall be assessed by the board to the public utilities in proportion to their respective gross operating revenues during the last calendar year derived from intrastate public utility operations and may be assessed by the board on a quarterly basis. Assessments may be made quarterly based upon estimates of the utilities division's and the consumer advocate's expenditures for the fiscal year. Beginning with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, the first assessment for any fiscal year may be made by the utilities division by May 15 of the preceding fiscal year and shall be paid by the utility on or before the following July 1. Not more than ninety days following the close of the fiscal year, the utilities division shall conform the amount of the prior fiscal year's assessments to the requirements of this section. Public utilities exempt from rate regulation under this chapter shall not be assessed for remainder expenses incurred during review of rate-regulated public utilities under section 476.31 or 476.32, but such remainder expenses shall be assessed proportionally as provided in this section among only the rate-regulated public utilities. The total amount which may be assessed to the public utilities under authority of this paragraph shall not exceed two-tenths of one percent of the total gross operating revenues of the public utilities during the calendar year derived from intrastate public utility operations. However, the total amount which may be assessed in any one calendar year to a public utility under this section shall not exceed three-tenths of one percent of the utility's total gross operating reve-ues derived from intrastate public utility operation in the last preceding year. For public utilities exempted from rate regulation under this chapter, the assessments under this paragraph shall be computed at one-half the rate used in computing the assessment for other utilities.

Each utility shall pay the division the amount as-essed against it within thirty days from the time the division mails notice to it of the amount due unless it shall file with the board objections in writing set-ing out the grounds upon which it claims that such assessment is excessive, erroneous, unlawful, or invalid. Upon the filing of such objections the board shall set the matter down for hearing and issue its order in accordance with its findings in such proceeding, which order shall be subject to review in the manner provided in this chapter. All amounts collected by the division pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited with the state treasurer and credited to the general fund of the state. Such amounts shall be spent in accordance with the provisions of chapter 8.

Whenever the board shall deem it necessary in order to carry out the duties imposed upon it in connection with rate regulation under section 476.6, investigations under section 476.3, or review proceedings under section 476.31, the board may employ additional temporary or permanent staff, or may contract with persons who are not state employees for engineering, accounting, or other professional services, or both. The costs of these additional employees and contract services shall be paid by the public utility whose rates are being reviewed in the same manner as other expenses are paid under this section. For the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, there is appropriated out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, such sums as may be necessary to enable the board to hire additional staff and contract for services under this section. The board shall increase quarterly assessments specified in unnumbered paragraph 2, by amounts necessary to enable the board to hire additional staff and contract for services under this section. The authority to hire additional temporary or permanent staff that is granted to the board by this section shall not be subject to limitation by any administrative or executive order or decision that restricts the number of state employees or the filling of employee vacancies, and shall not be subject to limitation by any law of this state that restricts the number of state employees or the filling of employee vacancies unless that law is made applicable to this section by express reference to this section. Before the board spends or incurs an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for rate regulation and before the board increases quarterly assessments pursuant to this paragraph, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the board for rate regulation and that the board does not have other funds from which the expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management the board may expend and encumber funds for the excess expenses, and increase quarterly assessments to raise the additional funds. The board and the office of consumer advocate may add additional personnel or contract for additional assistance to review and evaluate energy efficiency plans and the implementation of energy efficiency programs including, but not limited to, professionally trained engineers, accountants, attorneys, skilled examiners and inspectors, and secretaries and clerks. The board and the office of the consumer advocate may expend additional sums beyond those sums appropriated. However, the authority to add additional personnel or contract for additional assistance must first be approved by the department of management. The additional sums shall be provided to the board and the office of the consumer advocate by the utilities subject to the energy efficiency requirements in this chapter. The assessments shall be in addition to and separate from the quarterly assessment.

Fees paid to the utilities division shall be deposited in a utilities trust fund. The treasurer of state shall hold these funds in an account that shall be established in the names of the administrator of the utilities division and the consumer advocate for the payment, upon appropriation by the general assembly, of the expenses of the utilities division and the consumer advocate division of the department of justice. This fund is subject at all times to the warrant of the director of revenue and finance, drawn upon written requisition of the administrator of the utilities division, the administrator’s designated representative, the consumer advocate, or the consumer advocate’s designated representative for the payment of all salaries and other expenses necessary to carry out the duties of the utilities division or the consumer advocate division. Subject to this section, the utilities division or the consumer advocate division may keep on hand with the treasurer of state funds in excess of the current needs of the utilities division or the consumer advocate division. Transfers shall not be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of the expenses of the divisions. No part of the funds held by the treasurer of state for the account shall be transferred to the general fund of the state or any other fund. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the account shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from these investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state. The authority to modify allotments provided in section 8.31 shall not apply to funds appropriated from the fund created in this section.

The utilities division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division’s share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department of commerce, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

The administrator and consumer advocate shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate duties imposed upon the utilities and consumer advocate divisions by the laws of this state.
and each separate duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section and sections 478.4, 479.16, and 479A.9 directing that fees paid to the utilities division or other moneys be deposited into the utilities trust fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the utilities trust fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all such fees and other moneys collected under those sections shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this section shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

476.10A Funding for Iowa energy center and global warming center.

The board shall direct all gas and electric utilities to remit to the treasurer of state one-tenth of one percent of the total gross operating revenues during the last calendar year derived from their intrastate public utility operations. The board shall by rule provide a schedule for remittances which shall require that the first remittance be made not before July 1, 1991. The amounts collected pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the amounts permitted to be assessed pursuant to section 476.10. The board shall allow inclusion of these amounts in the budgets approved by the board pursuant to section 476.6, subsection 19, paragraph "a." Eighty-five percent of the remittances collected pursuant to this section is appropriated to the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C. Fifteen percent of the remittances collected pursuant to this section is appropriated to the center for global warming established by the state board of regents.

Notwithstanding section 8.33, any unexpended moneys remitted to the treasurer of state under this section shall be retained for the purposes designated. Notwithstanding section 453.7, subsection 2, interest or earnings on investments or time deposits of the moneys remitted under this section shall be retained and used for the purposes designated.

476.51 Civil penalty.

A public utility which willfully violates a provision of this chapter, a rule adopted by the board, or a provision of an order lawfully issued by the board, is subject to a civil penalty, which may be levied by the board, of not more than one hundred dollars per violation or one thousand dollars per day of a continuing violation, whichever is greater. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be forwarded by the executive secretary of the board to the treasurer of state to be credited to the energy research and development fund and to be used only for the low income home energy assistance program and the weatherization assistance program administered by the division of community action agencies of the department of human rights. Penalties paid by a rate-regulated public utility pursuant to this section shall be excluded from the utility’s costs when determining the utility’s revenue requirement, and shall not be included either directly or indirectly in the utility’s rates or charges to customers.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section directing that civil penalties collected be deposited into the energy research and development fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all funds collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

476.57 Limitations on use of ADAD equipment — penalty.

1. Definition. As used in this section, "ADAD equipment" means automatic dialing-announcing device equipment which is a device or system of devices used, either alone or in conjunction with other equipment, for the purpose of automatically selecting or dialing telephone numbers without the use of a live operator to disseminate prerecorded messages to the numbers selected or dialed.

2. Prohibition
   a. Except as provided in paragraph "b", a person shall not use, employ, or direct another person to use, or contract for the use of ADAD equipment.
   b. Except for ADAD equipment which randomly or sequentially selects the telephone numbers for calling, the prohibition in paragraph "a" does not apply to any of the following:
      (1) Calls made with ADAD equipment by a non-profit organization or by an individual using the calls other than for commercial profit-making purposes or fund-raising, if the calls do not involve the advertisement or offering for sale, lease, or rental of goods, services, or property.
      (2) Calls made with ADAD equipment relating to payment for, service of, or warranty coverage of previously ordered or purchased goods or services or to persons or organizations with a prior business relationship with the persons or organizations using the calls.
      (3) Calls made with ADAD equipment relating to the collection of lawful debts.
      (4) Calls made with ADAD equipment to members or employees of the organization making the calls.
      (5) Calls made with ADAD equipment which use an initial prerecorded message of a duration no greater than seven seconds prior to a live operator intercept, or calls which involve an initial message from a live operator.
3 Termination Calls made with ADAD equipment must terminate the connection with any call within ten seconds after the person receiving the call acts to disconnect the call.

4 Penalty A violation of this section is a serious misdemeanor.

476.58 through 476.60 Reserved

476.77 Time and standards for review.
1 A reorganization shall not take place if the board disapproves. Prior to reorganization, the applicant shall file with the board a proposal for reorganization with supporting testimony and evidence to establish that the reorganization is not contrary to the interests of the public utility's ratepayers and the public interest.
2 A proposal for reorganization shall be deemed to have been approved unless the board disapproves the proposal within ninety days after its filing. However, the board shall not disapprove a proposal for reorganization without providing for notice and opportunity for hearing. The notice of hearing shall be provided no later than fifty days after the proposal for reorganization has been filed.
3 In its review of a proposal for reorganization, the board may consider all of the following:
   a. Whether the board will have reasonable access to books, records, documents, and other information relating to the public utility or any of its affiliates.
   b. Whether the public utility's ability to attract capital on reasonable terms, including the maintenance of a reasonable capital structure, is impaired.
   c. Whether the ability of the public utility to provide safe, reasonable, and adequate service is impaired.
   d. Whether ratepayers are detrimentally affected.
   e. Whether the public interest is detrimentally affected.

4 The board may adopt rules which exempt a public utility or class of public utility or class of reorganization from this section if the board finds that with respect to the public utility or class of public utility or class of reorganization review is not necessary in the public interest. The board may adopt rules necessary to protect the interest of the customers of the exempt public utility. These rules may include, but are not limited to, notification of a proposed sale or transfer of assets or stock. The board may waive the requirements of this section, if the board finds that board review is not necessary in the public interest.

91 Acts ch 68 §1 HF 186.

CHAPTER 477B
ENHANCED 911 EMERGENCY TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION SYSTEMS

477B.6 Referendum on E911 in proposed service area.
1 Before a joint E911 service board may request imposition of the surcharge by the administrator, the board shall submit the following question to voters, as provided in subsection 2, in the proposed E911 service area, and the question shall receive a favorable vote from a simple majority of persons submitting valid ballots on the following question within the proposed E911 service area.

   Shall the following public measure be adopted?

   YES ☐ NO ☐

Enhanced 911 emergency telephone service shall be funded, in whole or in part, by a monthly surcharge of (an amount determined by the local joint E911 service board of up to one dollar) on each telephone access line collected as part of each telephone subscriber's monthly phone bill if provided within (description of the proposed E911 service area).

2 The referendum required as a condition of the surcharge imposition in subsection 1 shall be conducted using the following electoral mechanism.

At the request of the joint E911 service board a county commissioner of elections shall include the question on the next eligible general election ballot in each electoral precinct to be served, in whole or in part, by the proposed E911 service area, provided the request is timely submitted to permit inclusion. The question may be included in the next election in which all of the voters in the proposed E911 service area will be eligible to vote on the same day. The county commissioner of elections shall report the results to the joint E911 service board. The joint E911 service board shall compile the results if subscribers from more than one county are included within the proposed service area. The joint E911 service board... shall announce whether a simple majority of the compiled votes reported by the commissioner approved the referendum question.

3. The secretary of state, in consultation with the administrator of the office of disaster services of the department of public defense, shall adopt rules for the conduct of joint E911 service referendums as required by and consistent with subsections 1 and 2.

CHAPTER 477C
DUAL PARTY RELAY SERVICE

477C.1 Dual party relay service — purpose.
The general assembly finds that the provision of a statewide dual party relay service will further the public interest and protect the health, safety, and welfare of the people of Iowa through an increase in the usefulness and availability of the telephone system. Many deaf, hearing-impaired, and speech-impaired persons are not able to utilize the telephone system without this type of service. Therefore, it is the purpose of this chapter to enable the orderly development, operation, promotion, and funding of a statewide dual party relay service.

477C.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Board” means the utilities board within the department of commerce created in section 474.1.
2. “Communication impairment” means the inability to use the telephone for communication without a telecommunications device for the deaf.
3. “Council” means the dual party relay council established in section 477C.5.
4. “Dual party relay service” or “relay service” means a communication service which provides communication-impaired persons access to the telephone system functionally equivalent to the access available to persons not communication-impaired.
5. “Telecommunications device for the deaf” means any specialized or supplemental telephone equipment used by communication-impaired persons to provide access to the telephone system.

477C.3 Dual party relay service.
With the advice of the council, the board shall plan, establish, administer, and promote a statewide program to provide dual party relay service as follows:
1. The board may enter into the necessary contracts and arrangements with private entities to provide for the delivery of relay service.
2. The relay service, to the extent reasonably possible, shall allow persons with communication impairments to use the telephone system in a manner and at a rate equivalent to persons without communication impairments.
3. The relay service may be provided on a stand-alone basis within the state, with other states, or with telephone utilities providing relay service in other states.
4. The board may employ additional personnel, pursuant to section 476.10, to plan, establish, administer, and promote the relay service.

477C.4 Telecommunications devices for the deaf.
With the advice of the council, the board may plan, establish, administer, and promote a program to secure, finance, and distribute telecommunications devices for the deaf. The board may establish eligibility criteria for persons to receive telecommunications devices for the deaf, including, but not limited to, requiring certification that the recipient cannot use the telephone for communication without a telecommunications device for the deaf.

477C.5 Dual party relay service council.
1. A dual party relay service council is established, consisting of eleven members appointed by the board. The council shall advise the board on all matters concerning relay service and equipment distribution programs.
2. The council shall consist of:
   a. Six consumers who have communication impairments.
   b. Two representatives from telephone companies.
   c. One representative from the division of deaf services of the department of human rights.
   d. One representative from the office of the consumer advocate of the department of justice.
e One member of the board or a designee of the board.
3. Council members who are not state or local government officers or employees shall be reimbursed for their necessary and actual expenses incurred in performance of their duties and shall receive a per diem of fifty dollars when the council is meeting, payable from moneys available to the board pursuant to section 477C.7.

   a. Interexchange carriers.
   b. Centralized equal access providers.
   c. Alternative operator services companies.
2. The assessment shall be levied upon revenues from all intrastate regulated, deregulated services, and exempt telephone services under section 476.1.
3. The telephone utilities shall remit the assessed amounts quarterly to a special fund, as defined under section 8.2, subsection 9. The moneys in the fund are appropriated solely to plan, establish, administer, and promote the relay service and equipment distribution programs.
4. The telephone utilities subject to assessment shall provide the information requested by the board necessary for implementation of the assessment.
5. The local exchange telephone utilities shall not recover from intrastate access charges any portion of such utilities assessment imposed under this section.

CHAPTER 478
ELECTRIC TRANSMISSION LINES

478.22 Action for violation.
When the board determines that a person is in violation of this chapter, the board may commence an action in the district court of the county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred, for injunctive relief or other appropriate remedy.

478.29 Civil penalties.
A person who violates a provision of this chapter is subject to a civil penalty, which may be levied by the board, of not more than one hundred dollars per violation or one thousand dollars per day of a continuing violation, whichever is greater. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be forwarded by the executive secretary of the board to the treasurer of state to be credited to the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C.

Any civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the board shall consider the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the person charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance after notification of a violation.
CHAPTER 479
PIPELINES AND UNDERGROUND GAS STORAGE

479.31 Civil penalty.
Any person who violates any provision of this chapter or any regulation issued pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to a civil penalty of not to exceed ten thousand dollars for each violation. Each day that the violation continues shall constitute a separate offense. However, the maximum civil penalty shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars for any related series of violations. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C.

Any civil penalty may be compromised by the board in determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the person charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance, after notification of a violation, shall be considered. The amount of the penalty, when finally determined, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, may be deducted from any sums owed by the state to the person charged, or may be recovered in a civil action.

CHAPTER 490
IOWA BUSINESS CORPORATION ACT

490.130 Recording of documents with county recorder. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 211, § 13 HF 556 See § 97

490.140 Definitions.
In this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:
1. "Articles of incorporation" include amended and restated articles of incorporation and articles of merger.
2. "Authorized shares" means the shares of all classes a domestic or foreign corporation is authorized to issue.
3. "Conspicuous" means so written that a reasonable person against whom the writing is to operate should have noticed it. For example, printing in italics or boldface or contrasting color, or typning in capitals or underlined, is conspicuous.
4. "Corporation" or "domestic corporation" means a corporation for profit, which is not a foreign corporation, incorporated under or subject to this chapter.
5. "Deliver" includes mail delivery.
6. "Distribution" means a direct or indirect transfer of money or other property, except its own shares, or incurrence of indebtedness by a corporation to or for the benefit of its shareholders in respect of any or all of its shares. A distribution may be in the form of a declaration or payment of a dividend, a purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of shares, a distribution of indebtedness, or otherwise.
7. "Effective date of notice" is defined in section 490.141.
8. "Employee" includes an officer but not a director. A director may accept duties that make the director also an employee.
9. "Entity" includes corporation and foreign corporation, not-for-profit corporation, profit and not-for-profit unincorporated association, business trust, estate, partnership, trust, and two or more persons having a joint or common economic interest, and state, United States, and foreign government.
10. "Foreign corporation" means a corporation for profit incorporated under a law other than the law of this state.
11. "Governmental subdivision" includes authority, city, county, district, township, and other political subdivision.
12. "Includes" denotes a partial definition.
13. "Individual" includes the estate of an incompetent, a ward, or a deceased individual.
15. "Notice" is defined in section 490.141.
16. "Person" means a person as defined in section 41.
17. "Principal office" means the office, in or out of this state, so designated in the annual report, where the principal executive offices of a domestic or foreign corporation are located.
18. "Proceeding" includes civil suit and criminal, administrative, and investigatory action.
19. "Record date" means the date established under division VI or VII on which a corporation determines the identity of its shareholders for purposes of this chapter.
20. "Secretary" means the corporate officer to whom the board of directors has delegated responsibility under section 490.840, subsection 3, for custody of the minutes of the meetings of the board of directors and of the shareholders and for authenticating records of the corporation.
21. "Share" means the unit into which the proprietary interests in a corporation are divided.
22. "Shareholder" means the person in whose name shares are registered in the records of a corporation or the beneficial owner of shares to the extent of the rights granted by a nominee certificate on file with a corporation.
23. "State", when referring to a part of the United States, includes a state and commonwealth and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, and a territory and insular possession and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, of the United States.
24. "Subscriber" means a person who subscribes for shares in a corporation, whether before or after incorporation.
25. "United States" includes a district, authority, bureau, commission, department, and any other agency of the United States.
26. "Voting group" means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or this chapter are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or this chapter to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

490.632 Reacquired shares as issued but not outstanding shares.
1. A corporation which, as of December 30, 1989, treated any of its shares which it had reacquired as issued but not outstanding shares may continue to treat those shares as issued but not outstanding shares.
2. If a corporation reacquires its own shares after December 30, 1989, but before January 1, 1991, those shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares as of and after their reacquisition if either of the following is applicable:
   a. When the shares are reacquired, the articles of incorporation contain a provision specifying that reacquired shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares.
   b. Prior to January 1, 1991, the board of directors adopts a resolution specifying that shares reacquired after December 30, 1989, and prior to January 1, 1991, constitute issued but not outstanding shares.
3. If a corporation reacquires its own shares after December 31, 1990, those shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares if, at the time they are reacquired by the corporation, either of the following is applicable:
   a. The articles of incorporation contain a provision specifying that reacquired shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares.
   b. The board of directors has adopted a resolution specifying that reacquired shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares.
4. Unless otherwise provided in its articles of incorporation, a corporation may at any time, by resolution adopted by its board of directors, cancel or otherwise restore to the status of authorized but unissued shares any of its shares which it has previously reacquired and treated as issued but not outstanding shares.

490.720 Shareholders' list for meeting.
1. After fixing a record date for a meeting, a corporation shall prepare an alphabetical list of the names of all its shareholders who are entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting. The list must be arranged by voting group and within each voting group by class or series of shares, and show the address of and number of shares held by each shareholder.
2. The shareholders' list must be available for inspection by any shareholder beginning two business days after notice of the meeting is given for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting, at the corporation's principal office or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. A shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled to written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of section 490.1602, subsection 3, to copy the list, during regular business hours and at the person's expense, during the period it is available for inspection.
3. The corporation shall make the shareholders' list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment.
4. If the corporation refuses to allow a shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, to inspect the shareholders' list before or at the meeting, or copy the list as permitted by subsection 2, the district court of the county where a corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office, is located, on application of the shareholder, may summarily order the inspection or copying at the corporation's expense and may postpone the meeting for which the list was prepared until the inspection or copying is complete.
5. Refusal or failure to prepare or make available the shareholders' list does not affect the validity of action taken at the meeting.

91 Acts, ch 211, § 54 HF 556
Subsection 4 amended
§490.803 Number and election of directors.
1. A board of directors must consist of one or more individuals, with the number specified in or fixed in accordance with the articles of incorporation or bylaws.
2. If a board of directors has power to fix or change the number of directors, the board may increase or decrease by thirty percent or less the number of directors last approved by the shareholders, but only the shareholders may increase or decrease by more than thirty percent the number of directors last approved by the shareholders.
3. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may establish a variable range for the size of the board of directors by fixing a minimum and maximum number of directors. If a variable range is established, the number of directors may be fixed or changed from time to time, within the minimum and maximum, by the shareholders or the board of directors. After shares are issued, only the shareholders may change the range for the size of the board or change from a fixed to a variable-range size board or vice versa.
4. Directors are elected at the first annual shareholders’ meeting and at each annual meeting thereafter unless their terms are staggered under section 490.806.

91 Acts, ch 211, §5 HF 556
Subsection 3 amended

§490.808 Removal of directors by shareholders.
1. The shareholders may remove one or more directors with or without cause unless the articles of incorporation provide that directors may be removed only for cause.
2. If a director is elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove that director.
3. If cumulative voting is authorized, a director shall not be removed if the number of votes sufficient to elect that director under cumulative voting is voted against the director’s removal. If cumulative voting is not authorized, a director may be removed only if the number of votes cast to remove that director exceeds the number of votes cast not to remove the director.
4. A director may be removed by the shareholders only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing the director and after notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director. A director shall not be removed pursuant to written consents under section 490.704 unless written consents are obtained from the holders of all the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote on the removal of the director.

91 Acts, ch 211, §6 HF 556
Subsection 4 amended

§490.843 Resignation and removal of officers.
1. An officer may resign at any time by delivering notice to the corporation. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date. If a resignation is made effective at a later date and the corporation accepts the future effective date, its board of directors may fill the pending vacancy before the effective date if the board of directors provides that the successor does not take office until the effective date. A resignation may be orally communicated provided that the resignation is effective only if written notice of the resignation is delivered within twenty-four hours of such oral communication.
2. A board of directors may remove any officer at any time with or without cause.

91 Acts, ch 211, §7 HF 556
Subsection 1 amended

§490.1322 Dissenters’ notice.
1. If proposed corporate action creating dissenters’ rights under section 490.1302 is authorized at a shareholders’ meeting, the corporation shall deliver a written dissenters’ notice to all shareholders who satisfied the requirements of section 490.1321.
2. The dissenters’ notice must be sent no later than ten days after the proposed corporate action is authorized at a shareholders’ meeting, or, if the corporate action is taken without a vote of the shareholders, no later than ten days after the corporate action is taken, and must do all of the following:
   a. State where the payment demand must be sent and where and when certificates for certificated shares must be deposited.
   b. Inform holders of uncertificated shares to what extent transfer of the shares will be restricted after the payment demand is received.
   c. Supply a form for demanding payment that includes the date of the first announcement to news media or to shareholders of the terms of the proposed corporate action and requires that the person asserting dissenters’ rights certify whether or not the person acquired beneficial ownership of the shares before that date.
   d. Set a date by which the corporation must receive the payment demand, which date shall not be fewer than thirty nor more than sixty days after the date the dissenters’ notice is delivered.
   e. Be accompanied by a copy of this division.

91 Acts, ch 211, §8 HF 556
Subsection 2 amended

§490.1325 Payment.
1. Except as provided in section 490.1327, at the time the proposed corporate action is taken, or upon receipt of a payment demand, whichever occurs later, the corporation shall pay each dissenter who complied with section 490.1323 the amount the corporation estimates to be the fair value of the dissenter’s shares, plus accrued interest.
2. The payment must be accompanied by all of the following:
   a. The corporation’s balance sheet as of the end of a fiscal year ending not more than sixteen months before the date of payment, an income statement for that year, a statement of changes in shareholders' equity for that year, and the latest available interim financial statements, if any.

b. A statement of the corporation’s estimate of the fair value of the shares.

c. An explanation of how the interest was calculated.

d. A statement of the dissenter’s right to demand payment under section 490.1328.

e. A copy of this division.

490.1326 Failure to take action.
1. If the corporation does not take the proposed action within sixty days after the date set for demanding payment and depositing share certificates, the corporation shall return the deposited certificates and release the transfer restrictions imposed on uncertificated shares.

2. If after returning deposited certificates and releasing transfer restrictions, the corporation takes the proposed action, it must send a new dissenters’ notice under section 490.1322 as if the corporate action was taken without a vote of the shareholders and repeat the payment demand procedure.

CHAPTER 497
CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

497.35 Statement to estate of stockholder.
The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of a stockholder’s death, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the stockholder’s estate, or to the attorney representing the stockholder’s estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the stockholder which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its stockholders. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the stockholder’s death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the stockholder’s estate is closed, whichever is later.

CHAPTER 498
NONPROFIT-SHARING CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

498.37 Statement to estate of stockholder.
The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of a member’s death, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the member’s estate, or to the attorney representing the member’s estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the member which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its members. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the member’s death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the member’s estate is closed, whichever is later.
CHAPTER 499
CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

§499.72 to 499.78 Reserved.

499.79 Statement to estate of members and stockholders.

The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of the death of a member or stockholder, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the member's or stockholder's estate, or to the attorney representing such estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the member or stockholder which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its members or stockholders. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the member's or stockholder's death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the member's or stockholder's estate is closed, whichever is later.

CHAPTER 499A
HOUSING COOPERATIVES

1991 additions, amendments, and repeals apply to cooperatives organized on or after December 1, 1990, for prior law, see Code 1991, 91 Acts, ch 30, § 18 SF 477

499A.1 Articles.

Any two or more persons of full age, a majority of whom are citizens of the state, may organize themselves for the following or similar purposes: Ownership of residential, business property on a cooperative basis. A corporation is a person within the meaning of this chapter. The organizers shall adopt, and sign and acknowledge the articles of incorporation, stating the name by which the cooperative shall be known, the location of its principal place of business, its business or objects, the number of directors to conduct the cooperative's business or objects, the names of the directors for the first year, the time of the cooperative's annual meeting, the time of the annual meeting of its directors, and the manner in which the articles may be amended. The articles of incorporation shall be filed with the secretary of state who shall, if the secretary approves the articles, endorse the secretary of state's approval on the articles, record the articles, and forward the articles to the county recorder of the county where the principal place of business is to be located, and there the articles shall be recorded, and upon recording be returned to the cooperative. The articles shall not be filed by the secretary of state until a filing fee of five dollars together with a recording fee of fifty cents per page is paid, and upon the payment of the fees and the approval of the articles by the secretary of state, the secretary shall issue to the cooperative a certificate of incorporation as a cooperative not for pecuniary profit.

Amendments to the articles shall be filed and receive approval as provided in this chapter for articles, and the fee for amendments shall be five dollars in each instance. An amendment is not effective until the amendment is approved and the fee is paid.

91 Acts, ch 30, §1 SF 477
Section amended
499A.2 Powers — duration.
Upon filing such articles the persons signing and acknowledging the same and their associates and successors shall become a body corporate with the name therein stated and shall have power:
1. To have perpetual succession by its name, unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation, or they are sooner dissolved by three-fourths vote of all the members thereof, or by act of the general assembly or by operations of law.
2. To sue and be sued in its corporate name.
3. To build and construct apartment houses or dwellings.
4. To purchase, take, receive, lease as lessee, take by gift, devise or bequest, or otherwise acquire, and to own, hold, use and otherwise deal in and with any real or personal property or any interest therein.
5. To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease as lessee, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.
6. To make contracts and incur liabilities which may be appropriate to enable it to accomplish any or all of its purposes; to borrow money for its corporate purposes at such rates of interest as the cooperative may determine, to issue its notes, bonds and other obligations; and to secure any of its obligations by mortgage, pledge, or deed of trust of all or any of its property.
7. To elect or appoint officers and agents of the cooperative, and to define their duties and fix their compensation.
8. To make and alter bylaws not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for the administration and the regulation of the affairs of the cooperative.
9. To cease its cooperative activities and surrender its cooperative franchise.
10. To have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the cooperative is organized.

499A.3 Members.
A cooperative shall have only one class of members. The designation of that class and the rights of the members of the class shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. The cooperative must issue membership certificates evidencing the ownership interest of each member of the cooperative.

499A.3A Meetings of members.
Meetings of members may be held at such places as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, or as may be fixed from time to time in accordance with the provisions of the articles or the bylaws. In the absence of any such provision, all meetings shall be held at the registered office of the cooperative.

An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Failure to hold the annual meeting at the designated time shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the cooperative.

Special meetings of the members may be called by the president or by the board of directors. Special meetings of the members may also be called by such officers or persons, or by a number or proportion of members as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the number or proportion of members entitled to call a meeting, a special meeting of members may be called by members having one-twentieth of the votes entitled to be cast at the meeting.

499A.3B Notice of members meetings.
Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, written notice stating the place, day, and hour of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered no less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each member entitled to vote at the meeting. If mailed, notice is deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member at the member's address as it appears on the records of the cooperative, with postage prepaid.
499A.3C Voting.
Each member is entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the members. A membership interest in the cooperative jointly owned by two or more persons is nevertheless entitled to one vote. A member entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy in the manner prescribed in the bylaws.

499A.4 Dividends.
A dividend or distribution of property among the members shall not be made until dissolution of the cooperative.

499A.5 Trustees or managers.
Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, § 17, 18. SF 477

499A.6 Election of officers.
Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, § 17, 18. SF 477

499A.7 Reorganizing prior to expiration of term.
The directors or members of any cooperative organized under this chapter may reorganize the cooperative, and all the property and rights of the cooperative shall vest in the cooperative as reorganized.

499A.8 Reorganizing after expiration of term.
When the term of a cooperative organized under this chapter has expired, but the organization has continued to act as such cooperative, the directors or members thereof may reorganize, and the property and rights therein shall vest in the reorganized cooperative for the use and benefit of all of the members in the original cooperative.

499A.9 Amendments of articles.
Any cooperative organized under this chapter may change its name or amend its articles of incorporation by a vote of a majority of the members, in such manner as may be provided in its articles; but if no such provision is made in the articles the same may be amended at any regular meeting or special meeting called for that purpose by the president or secretary or a majority of the board of directors. Notice of any meeting at which it is proposed to amend the articles of incorporation, shall be given by mailing to each member at the member’s last known post-office address at least ten days prior to such meeting, a notice signed by the secretary setting forth the proposed amendments in substance, or by two publications of said notice in some daily or weekly newspaper in general circulation in the county wherein said cooperative has its principal place of business. The last publication of said notice shall be not less than ten days prior to the date of said meeting. There shall be paid to the secretary of state at the time of the filing of such change or amendment a recording fee of fifty cents per page.

499A.10 Record — effect.
The change or amendment provided for in section 499A.9 shall be recorded as the original articles are recorded. From the date of filing such change or amendment for record, the provisions of said section having been complied with, the change or amendment shall take effect as a part of the original articles, and the cooperative thus constituted shall have the same rights, powers and franchises, be entitled to the same immunities, and liable upon all contracts to the same extent, as before such change or amendment.

499A.11 Ownership — certificate of membership.
The cooperative has the right to purchase real estate for the purpose of erecting, owning, and operating apartment houses or apartment buildings. The interest of each individual member in the cooperative shall be evidenced by the issuance of a certificate of membership. The certificate of membership is coupled with a possessory interest in the real and personal property of the cooperative, entitling each member to a proprietary lease with the cooperative under which each member has an exclusive possessory interest in an apartment unit and a possessory interest in common with all other members in that portion of the cooperative’s real and personal property not constituting apartment units, and which creates a legal relationship of landlord and tenant between the cooperative and member. The certificate of membership shall be executed by the president of the cooperative and attested by its secretary in the name and in the behalf of the cooperative.

499A.12 Title in trustees.
Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, § 17, 18. SF 477

499A.13 Sale and encumbrance of the premises.
Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, § 17, 18. SF 477

499A.14 Taxation.
The real estate shall be taxed in the name of the cooperative, and each member of the cooperative shall pay that member’s proportionate share of the tax in accordance with the proration formula set forth in the bylaws, and each member occupying an apartment as a residence shall receive that member’s proportionate homestead tax credit and each veteran of the military services of the United States identified as such under the laws of the state of Iowa or the United States shall receive as a credit that mem-member's veterans tax benefit as prescribed by the laws of the state of Iowa.

499A.17 Contracts for utilities. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, §17, 18. SF 477

499A.18 Homestead.
Each individual apartment constitutes a homestead and is exempt from execution, provided the member otherwise qualifies within the laws of the state of Iowa for such exemption.

499A.18A Upkeep of the cooperative.
It is the duty of the cooperative to maintain generally all portions of the cooperative's real property other than the apartment units. The maintenance, repair, and replacement costs of the cooperative's real property shall be contributed to by each of the members in accordance with the proration formula set forth in the bylaws. Each member is responsible for maintenance and repair of the person's apartment unit in the manner provided for in the bylaws and as prescribed by each member's proprietary lease.

499A.19 Election of directors.
The directors shall be elected by the members of the cooperative. The election of officers shall be made by the board of directors. The annual election of the directors shall be held during the month of January of each year, and they shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified.

The board of directors shall elect as officers, a president, a vice president, a secretary, and a treasurer.

It is the duty of the secretary to keep the records of the cooperative, and a correct list of the members and all such records shall be submitted to any member upon demand at any reasonable time.

cooperative and the member, reasonable attorneys' fees and other legal expenses incurred by the cooperative.

c. Satisfaction of the cooperative's lien.

d. Satisfaction in the order of priority of any subordinate claim of record.

e. Remittance of any excess to the member.

Unless otherwise agreed, the member is liable for any deficiency.

4. If a cooperative interest is sold pursuant to this section, a good faith purchaser for value acquires the member's interest in the cooperative free of the debt that gave rise to the lien under which the sale occurred, and free of any subordinate interest.

5. At any time before the cooperative has disposed of the cooperative interest or entered into a contract for its disposition under the power of sale, the member or the holder of any subordinate security interest may cure the member's default and prevent sale or other disposition by tendering the performance due, including any amounts due arising from the exercise of the rights under this section, plus the reasonable expenses of proceeding to foreclosure incurred to the time of tender, including reasonable attorneys' fees of the creditor.

6. The property of a member other than the member's membership interest in the cooperative is not subject to claims of the cooperative's creditors, whether or not the member's membership interest is subject to those claims.

502.102 Definitions.

When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Administrator" means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed pursuant to section 502.601.

2. An "affiliate" of, or a person "affiliated" with, a specified person, means a person who directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the person specified.

3. "Agent" means any individual other than a broker-dealer who represents a broker-dealer or issuer in effecting or attempting to effect purchases or sales of securities. "Agent" does not include an individual who represents an issuer in:
   a. Effecting transactions in a security exempted by section 502.202, subsection 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 10, 11, 12, 13, or 17, or a security issued by an insurance company licensed under chapter 536A;
   b. Effecting transactions exempted by section 502.203; or
   c. Effecting transactions with existing employees, partners or directors of the issuer if no commission or other remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting any person in this state. "Agent" also does not include other individuals who are not within the intent of this subsection whom the administrator by rule or order designates. A partner, officer, or director of a broker-dealer or issuer, or a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, is an agent only if such person otherwise comes within this definition.

4. "Agricultural cooperative association" means any one of the following:
   a. An association of persons organized pursuant to chapter 497 for purposes of conducting an agricultural or dairy business on a cooperative plan, as described in section 497.1.
   b. A cooperative association organized pursuant to chapter 498 for purposes of conducting an agricultural, livestock, horticultural, or dairy business on a cooperative plan and acting as a cooperative selling agency, as described in section 498.2.
   c. An agricultural association as defined in section 499.2, and organized pursuant to chapter 499.
   d. Any other entity which is organized on a cooperative basis under the laws of this state for the purpose of engaging in the activities of an agricultural association as defined in section 499.2.

5. "Broker-dealer" means any person engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities for the account of others or for such person's own account. "Broker-dealer" does not include:
   a. An agent;
   b. An issuer;
   c. A bank when acting on its own account or when exercising trust or fiduciary powers permitted for banks under applicable state or federal laws and regulations providing for the organization, operation, supervision, and examination of such banks;
   d. An insurance company which effects transactions in its own accounts;
   e. Other persons not within the intent of this subsection whom the administrator by rule or order designates.

6. "Fraud", "deceit" and "defraud" are not limited to common law deceit.

7. "Guaranteed" means guaranteed as to payment of principal, interest or dividends.

8. "Interest at the legal rate" means the interest rate for judgments specified in section 535.3.

9. "Issuer" means any person who issues or proposes to issue any security, except that
   a. With respect to certificates of deposit, voting trust certificates, or collateral trust certificates, or with respect to certificates of interest or shares in an unincorporated investment trust not having a board of directors or persons performing similar functions or of the fixed, restricted management, or unit type, the term "issuer" means the person or persons performing the acts and assuming the duties of depositor or manager pursuant to the provisions of the trust or other agreement or instrument under which the security is issued; and
   b. With respect to a fractional undivided interest in an oil, gas, or other mineral lease or in payments out of production under a lease, right, or royalty, the term "issuer" means the owner of an interest in the lease or payments out of production under a lease, right, or royalty, whether whole or fractional, who creates fractional interests for the purpose of sale.

10. "Nonissuer" means not directly or indirectly for the benefit of the issuer.

11. "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a fiduciary, an unincorporated organization, a government, or a political subdivision of a government.

12. a. "Sale" or "sell" includes every contract of sale of, contract to sell, or disposition or exchange of, a security or interest in a security for value.
   b. "Offer" or "offer to sell" includes every attempt or offer to exchange or dispose of, or solicitation of an offer to buy, a security or interest in a security for value.
   c. A security given or delivered with, or as a bonus on account of, a purchase of a security or any other thing is offered and sold for value as part of the subject of the purchase.
   d. A purported gift of assessable stock is considered to involve an offer and sale.
   e. Except to the extent that the administrator provides otherwise by rule or order, an offer or sale of a security that is convertible into or entitles its holder to acquire another security of the same or another issuer is an offer also of the other security, whether the right to convert or acquire is exercisable immediately or in the future.

f. The terms defined in this subsection do not include:
   (1) Any bona fide pledge or loan;
   (2) Any stock split, other than a reverse stock split, or security dividend payable with respect to the securities of a corporation in the same or any other class of securities of such corporation, provided nothing of value, including the surrender of a right or an option to receive a cash or property dividend, is given by security holders for the security dividend.

14. "Security" means any note; stock; treasury stock; bond; debenture; evidence of indebtedness; certificate of interest or participation in a profit sharing agreement; collateral trust certificate; preorganization certificate or subscription; transferable share; investment contract; voting trust certificate; certificate of deposit for a security; fractional undivided interest in an oil, gas, or other mineral lease or in payments out of production under such a lease, right, or royalty; or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a "security", or any certificate of interest or participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing. "Security" does not include an insurance or endowment policy or annuity contract under which an insurance company promises to pay money either in a lump sum or periodically for life or for some other specified period.

15. "State" means any state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

16. For the purposes of sections 502.211 through 502.218, unless the context otherwise requires:
   a. "Associate" means a person acting jointly or in concert with another for the purpose of acquiring, holding or disposing of, or exercising any voting rights attached to the equity securities of a target company.
   b. "Beneficial owner" includes, but is not limited to, any person who directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, understanding, or relationship, has or shares the power to vote or direct the voting of a security or has or shares the power to dispose of or otherwise direct the disposition of the security. A person is the beneficial owner of securities beneficially owned by any relative or spouse or relative of the spouse residing in the home of the person, any trust or estate in which the person owns ten percent or more of the total beneficial interest or serves as trustee or executor, any corporation or entity in which the person owns ten percent or more of the equity, and any affiliate or associate of the person.
c. "Beneficial ownership" includes, but is not limit-ted to, the right, exercisable within sixty days, to acquire securities through the exercise of options, warrants, or rights or the conversion of convertible securities. The securities subject to these options, warrants, rights, or conversion privileges held by a person are outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of outstanding securities of the class owned by the person, but are not outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of the class owned by any other person.
d. "Equity security" means any stock or similar security, and includes the following:
(1) Any security convertible, with or without consideration, into a stock or similar security.
(2) Any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase a stock of similar security.
(3) Any security carrying a warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase a stock or similar security.
(4) Any other security which the administrator deems to be of a similar nature and considers necessary or appropriate, according to rules prescribed by the administrator for the public interest and protection of investors, to be treated as an equity security.
e. "Offeree" means the beneficial owner, who is a resident of this state, of equity securities which an offeror offers to acquire in connection with a takeover offer.
f. "Offeror" means a person who makes or in any manner participates in making a takeover offer. It does not include a supervised financial institution or broker-dealer loaning funds to an offeror in the ordinary course of its business, or any supervised financial institution, broker-dealer, attorney, accountant, consultant, employee, or other person furnishing information or advice to or performing ministerial duties for an offeror, and who does not otherwise participate in the takeover offer.

g. "Takeover offer".
(1) Means the offer to acquire any equity securities of a target company from a resident of this state pursuant to a tender offer or request or invitation for tenders, if after the acquisition of all securities acquired pursuant to the offer either of the following are true:
(a) The offeror would be directly or indirectly a beneficial owner of more than ten percent of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company.
(b) The beneficial ownership by the offeror of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company would be increased by more than five percent. However, this provision does not apply if after the acquisition of all securities acquired pursuant to the offer, the offeror would not be directly or indirectly a beneficial owner of more than ten percent of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company.
(2) Does not include the following:
(a) An offer in connection with the acquisition of a security which, together with all other acquisitions by the offeror of securities of the same class of equity securities of the target company, would not result in the offeror having acquired more than two percent of this class of securities during the preceding twelve-month period.
(b) An offer by the target company to acquire its own equity securities if such offer is subject to section 13(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
(c) An offer in which the target company is an in-insurance company or insurance holding company subject to regulation by the commissioner of insurance, a financial institution subject to regulation by the superintendent of banking or the superintendent of savings and loan associations, or a public utility subject to regulation by the utilities division of the department of commerce.
h. "Target company" means an issuer of publicly traded equity securities which has at least twenty percent of its equity securities beneficially held by residents of this state and has substantial assets in this state. For the purposes of this chapter, an equity security is publicly traded if a trading market exists for the security. A trading market exists if the securiity is traded on a national securities exchange, whether or not registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or on the over-the-counter market.
502.202 Exempt securities.
The following securities are exempted from sections 502.201 and 502.602:
1. Any security, including a revenue obligation, issued or guaranteed by the United States, any state, any political subdivision of a state, or any agency or corporate or other instrumentality of one or more of the foregoing; or any certificate of deposit for any of the foregoing; but this exemption shall not include any revenue obligation payable from payments to be made in respect of property or money used under a lease, sale or loan arrangement by or for a nongov-ernmental industrial or commercial enterprise, unless such payments are or will be made or unconditionally guaranteed by a person whose securities are exempt from registration under this chapter by the administrator a written notice specifying the terms of the offer and the administrator does not by order disallow the exemption within fifteen days thereafther.
2. Any security issued or guaranteed by Canada, any Canadian province, any political subdivision of any such province, any agency or corporate or other instrumentality of one or more of the foregoing, or any other foreign government with which the United States currently maintains diplomatic relations, if the security is recognized as a valid obligation by the issuer or guarantor.

3. Any security issued by and representing an interest in or a debt of, or guaranteed by, any bank organized under the laws of the United States, or any bank or trust company organized and supervised under the laws of this state.

4. Any security issued by and representing an interest in or a debt of, or guaranteed by, any federal savings and loan association, or any savings and loan or similar association organized and supervised under the laws of this state.

5. Any security issued by and representing an interest in or a debt of, or guaranteed by, any insurance company organized under the laws of this state and authorized to do business in this state.

6. Any security issued or guaranteed by any federal credit union or any credit union or similar association organized and supervised under the laws of this state.

7. Any security issued or guaranteed by any railroad, other common carrier, public utility, or holding company which is:
   a. Subject to the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission;
   b. A registered holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 or a subsidiary of such a company within the meaning of that Act; or
   c. Regulated in respect of the issuance or guarantee of the security by a governmental authority of the United States, any state, Canada, or any Canadian province.

8. Any security listed or approved for listing upon notice of issuance on the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, the Midwest Stock Exchange, the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, or any other national securities exchange registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and designated by rule of the administrator; any other security of the same issuer which is of senior or substantially equal rank; any security called for by subscription rights or warrants so listed or approved; or any warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to any of the foregoing.

9. Any security issued by any person organized and operated not for private profit but exclusively for religious, educational, benevolent, charitable, fraternal, social, athletic or reformatory purposes, or as a chamber of commerce or trade or professional association; provided the issuer first files with the administrator a written notice specifying the terms of the offer and the administrator does not by order disallow the exemption within fifteen days thereafter.

10. Commercial paper which is a promissory note, draft, bill of exchange, or banker’s acceptance which satisfies the following criteria:
   a. It evidences an obligation to pay cash within nine months after the date of issuance, exclusive of days of grace.
   b. It is issued in denominations of at least fifty thousand dollars.
   c. It receives a rating in one of the three highest rating categories from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

The exemption under this subsection applies to a renewal of an obligation under this subsection which is likewise limited, and to a guarantee of such an obligation or of a renewal.

11. A security issued in connection with an employee stock purchase, option, savings, pension, profit sharing or similar benefit plan.

12. A stock or similar security, including a patronage refund certificate, issued by:
   a. A cooperative housing corporation described in paragraph 1 of subsection “b” of section 216, of the Internal Revenue Code, if its activities are limited to the ownership, leasing, management, or construction of residential properties for its members, and activities incidental thereto; or
   b. A mutual or cooperative organization, including a cooperative association organized in good faith under and for any of the purposes enumerated in chapters 497, 498, and 499, that deals in commodities or supplies goods or services in transactions primarily with and for the benefit of its members, if:
      (1) Such stock or similar security is part of a class issuable only to persons who deal in commodities with, or obtain goods or services from, the issuer;
      (2) Such stock or similar security is transferable only to the issuer or a successor in interest of the transferor who qualifies for membership in such mutual or cooperative organization; and
      (3) No dividends other than patronage refunds are payable to holders of such stock or similar security except on a complete or partial liquidation.

13. A security issued by an agricultural cooperative association, provided the following conditions are satisfied:
   a. A commission or remuneration must not be paid or provided either directly or indirectly for the sale, except as permitted by the administrator by rule or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of a commission or other remuneration.
   b. If the securities to be issued are notes or other evidences of indebtedness and are issued after July 1, 1991, the issuer must file with the administrator a written notice specifying the name of the issuer, the date of the issuer’s organization, the name of a contact person, a copy of the issuer’s current audited financial statement, the types of security or securities to be offered, and the class of persons to whom the offer will be made in accordance with such rules as prescribed by the administrator.

14. Any security issued by a corporation formed under chapter 496B.

15. Any security issued by the agricultural development authority under chapter 175.
§502.202

16. Any security representing a thrift certificate of an industrial loan company which is a member of the industrial loan thrift guaranty corporation of Iowa.

17. Any security representing a membership camping contract which is registered pursuant to section 557B.2 or exempt under section 557B.4.

18. On or after January 1, 1989, a security designated or approved for designation upon notice of issuance on the national association of securities dealers automated quotations — national market system (NASDAQ/NMS); any other security of the same issuer which is of senior or substantially equal rank; a security called for by subscription rights or warrants designated or approved for designation upon notice of issuance on the NASDAQ/NMS; or a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to any of the foregoing categories in this subsection.

19. Any security representing a time-share interval as defined in section 557A.2.

The following transactions are exempted from sections 502.201 and 502.602:

1. Any isolated nonissuer transaction, whether effected through a broker-dealer or not.

2. Any nonissuer distribution of an outstanding security if:
   a. A recognized securities manual approved by the administrator contains the names of the issuer’s officers and directors, a balance sheet of the issuer as of a date within eighteen months, and a profit and loss statement for either the fiscal year preceding that date or the most recent year of operations;
   b. The security was issued by an issuer which has a class of securities currently registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934;
   c. The security was issued by an issuer which has had or currently has a class of securities registered under this chapter, or under chapter 502 of the Code as it existed prior to January 1, 1976; or
   d. The security was issued by an issuer which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

3. Any nonissuer transaction effected by or through a registered broker-dealer pursuant to an unsolicited order or offer to buy; but the administrator may by rule require that the customer acknowledge that the sale was unsolicited in accordance with provisions of such rule.

4. Any transaction between the issuer or other person on whose behalf the offering is made and an underwriter, or among underwriters.

5. A sale of bonds or notes directly secured by a real estate mortgage, security interest, deed of trust, or agreement for the sale of real estate or chattels, if the entire mortgage, security interest, deed of trust, or agreement, together with all the bonds or notes secured thereby, is offered and sold as a unit; provided that the entire mortgage, security interest, deed of trust or agreement, together with all of the bonds or notes secured thereby, shall not be deemed to be sold as a unit if:
   a. Such bonds or notes are part of a single issue including other bonds or notes secured by interests in real estate or chattels owned or developed by the same person or by persons affiliated with such person; or
   b. Such bonds or notes are offered or sold with any right to have substitution by or recourse against, or with guarantee by, the real estate developer or any person other than the person primarily obligated on the bond or note.

6. Any judicial sale or any transaction executed by an executor, administrator, sheriff, marshal, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian, custodian or conservator without any purpose of evading this chapter.

7. Any transaction executed by a bona fide pledgeree without any purpose of evading this chapter.

8. An offer or sale to a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, trust company, insurance company, investment company as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit sharing trust, or other financial institution or institutional buyer, or to a broker-dealer, whether the purchaser is acting for itself or in a fiduciary capacity. However, the administrator, by rule or order, may grant this exemption to a person or class of persons based upon the factors of financial sophistication, net worth, and the amount of assets under investment.

9. The sale, as part of a single issue, of securities by the issuer of the securities if all of the following conditions are satisfied:
   a. Within any period of twelve consecutive months, sales are made to less than thirty-six purchasers in this state, exclusive of purchases by bona fide institutional investors for their own account for investment.
   b. Unless permitted by the administrator by rule, or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for the allowance of the sale, the issue is not an issue of:
      (1) Fractional undivided interests in oil, gas, or other mineral leases, rights, or royalties.
      (2) Interests in a partnership organized under the laws of or having its principal place of business in a foreign jurisdiction.
   c. The issuer reasonably believes that all the buyers in this state are purchasing for investment.
   d. Commission or other remuneration is not paid or given, directly or indirectly, for the sale, except as may be permitted by the administrator by rule, or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of commission or other remuneration.
502.206 Registration by co-ordination.

1. Registration by co-ordination may be used for any offering for which a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933, or for any proposed sale pursuant to the exemption contained in subsection "b" of section 3 of such Act where such registration statement or notification of proposed sale has not become effective.

2. A registration statement under this section shall contain the following information and be accompanied by the following documents in addition to the information specified in section 502.208, subsection 3, and the consent to service of process required by section 502.609:

a. Two copies of the most recent preliminary prospectus or offering circular filed under the Securities Act of 1933.

b. If the administrator by rule requires, a copy of the articles of incorporation and bylaws or their substantial equivalents currently in effect, a copy of any agreements with or among underwriters, a copy of any indenture or other instrument governing the issuance of the security to be registered, and a specimen or copy of the security.

c. If the administrator requests, any other infor-§502.206 710

An undertaking to forward to the administrator all future amendments to the federal prospectus or offering circular, other than an amendment which merely delays the effective date of the registration statement, not later than the first business day after they are forwarded to or filed with the securities and exchange commission, or such longer period as the administrator permits.

3. Unless waived by a registrant, a registration statement under this section automatically becomes effective at the moment the federal registration statement or notification becomes effective if:
   a. No stop order is in effect in this state and no proceeding is pending under section 502.209;
   b. The registration statement has been on file with the administrator for at least twenty days;
   c. A statement of the maximum and minimum proposed offering prices and the maximum underwriting discounts and commissions has been on file for not less than two full business days, or such shorter period as the administrator permits; and
   d. The offering is made within these limitations.

4. The registrant shall notify the administrator promptly by telephone or telegram of the date and time when the federal registration statement became effective and the content of the price amendment, if any, and shall file a post-effective amendment promptly containing the information and documents in the price amendment. "Price amendment" means the final federal amendment which includes a state registration statement of the offering price, underwriting and selling discounts or commissions, amount of proceeds, conversion rates, call prices and other matters dependent upon the offering price. Upon failure to receive the required notification and post-effective amendment promptly containing the information and documents in the price amendment, the administrator may enter a stop order, without notice or hearing, retroactively denying the effectiveness to the registration statement or suspending its effectiveness until compliance with this subsection is effected, if the administrator promptly notifies the registrant by telephone or telegram of the issuance of such order. If the registrant proves compliance with the requirements of this subsection as to notice and post-effective amendment the stop order shall be vacated as of the time of its entry. The administrator may by rule or order waive any of the conditions specified in subsection 2 or 3.

5. If the federal registration statement becomes effective before all conditions in this section are satisfied and they are not waived, the registration statement automatically becomes effective as soon as all the conditions are satisfied. If the registrant advises the administrator of the date when the federal registration statement is expected to become effective, the administrator shall promptly advise the registrant by telephone or telegram, at the registrant's expense, whether all the conditions are satisfied and whether the administrator then contemplates the institution of a proceeding under section 502.209 but this advice by the administrator does not preclude the institution of such a proceeding at any time.

502.208 Provisions applicable to registration generally.

1. A registration statement may be filed by the issuer, any other person on whose behalf the offering is to be made, or a registered broker-dealer.

2. a. Every person filing a registration statement shall pay a filing fee of one-tenth of one percent of the maximum aggregate offering price at which the registered securities are to be offered in this state. Except as provided in paragraph "b", the fee shall in no case be less than fifty dollars or more than one thousand dollars.

b. A face-amount certificate company, an open-end management company, or a unit investment trust, as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, may register an indefinite amount of securities under a registration statement. The registrant, at the time of filing, may pay the maximum fee of one thousand dollars, or may pay a fee of two hundred fifty dollars and within ninety days after the end of each fiscal year during which its registration statement is effective and within ninety days after the registration is terminated do one of the following:
   (1) Pay an additional fee of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars.
   (2) File a report on a form that the administrator by rule adopts, reporting sales of securities to persons within this state during the fiscal year, and pay an additional filing fee of one-tenth of one percent of the maximum aggregate offering price at which the registered securities were offered in this state. However, the fee in no case shall be more than one thousand two hundred fifty dollars.

c. When a registration statement is withdrawn before the effective date or a pre-effective stop order is entered under section 502.209, the administrator shall retain the fee.

3. Every registration statement shall specify:
   a. The amount of securities to be offered in this state;
   b. The states in which a registration statement or application in connection with the offering has been or is to be filed; and
   c. Any adverse order, judgment or decree entered in connection with the offering by the regulatory authorities in any state or by any court or the securities and exchange commission, or any withdrawal of a registration statement or application relating to the offering.

4. Any document filed under this chapter or a predecessor act within five years preceding the filing of a registration statement may be incorporated by reference in the registration statement to the extent that the document is currently accurate.

5. The administrator may by rule or otherwise permit the omission of any item of information or document from any registration statement.
6. In the case of a nonissuer distribution, information may not be required under section 502.207, or subsection 9, paragraph "b" of this section, unless it is known to the person filing the registration statement or to the persons on whose behalf the distribution is to be made, or can be furnished by them without unreasonable effort or expense.

7. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration that any security issued within the past three years or to be issued to a promoter for a consideration substantially different from the public offering price, or to any person for a consideration other than cash, be deposited in escrow; or that the proceeds from the sale of the registered security in this state be impounded until the issuer receives a specified amount from the sale of the security either in this state or elsewhere; or the administrator may impose both such requirements. The administrator may by rule or order determine the conditions of any escrow or impounding required hereunder, but the administrator may not reject a depository solely because of location in another state.

8. The administrator may by rule require that securities of designated classes shall be issued under a trust indenture containing such provisions as the administrator determines.

9. A registration statement shall remain effective for one year from its effective date unless it is extended by rule or order of the administrator. All outstanding securities of the same class as a registered security are considered to be registered for the purpose of any transaction by or on behalf of a person who is not the issuer, and who is not in control of the issuer or controlled by the issuer or under common control with the issuer, so long as the registration statement is effective, unless otherwise prescribed by order. A registration statement may not be withdrawn after its effective date if any of the securities has been sold in this state, unless permitted by rule or order of the administrator. A registration statement is not effective during the time a stop order is in effect under section 502.209. A registration statement which never became effective may be withdrawn without prejudice to the issuer upon request and for good cause as determined at the discretion of the administrator.

b. During the effective period of a registration statement, the administrator may by rule or order require the person who filed the registration statement to file reports, not more often than quarterly, to keep reasonably current the information contained in the registration statement and to disclose the progress of the offering. If any of the securities registered has been sold in this state, the administrator may by rule or order extend the period for filing the reports for an additional period not exceeding two years from the date the registration became effective or from the date of its last amendment or extension.

10. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration by qualification, and at the expense of the applicant or registrant, that a report by an accountant, engineer, appraiser, or other professional person be filed. The administrator may also designate one or more employees of the securities bureau to make an examination of the business and records of an issuer of securities for which a registration statement has been filed by qualification, at the expense of the applicant or registrant.

11. A registration statement relating to any continuous offering of securities may be amended after its effective date so as to increase the specified amount of securities proposed to be offered. The amendment becomes effective when the administrator so orders. Every person filing such an amendment shall pay a filing fee, calculated in the manner specified in subsection 2, with respect to the additional securities proposed to be offered.

12. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration under this chapter that a prospectus containing any designated part of the information specified in section 502.207, subsection 2, or the final prospectus or offering circular required by section 502.206, subsection 2, be delivered to each person to whom an offer is made before or concurrently with

a. The first written offer made to the offeree otherwise than by means of a public advertisement by or for the account of the issuer or any other person on whose behalf the offering is being made, or by any underwriter or broker-dealer who is offering part of an unsold allotment or subscription taken as a participant in the distribution;

b. The confirmation of any sale made by or for the account of any such person;

c. Payment pursuant to any such sale; or

d. Delivery of the security pursuant to any such sale, whichever first occurs.

13. If a registrant sells securities in excess of the aggregate amount registered for sale in this state, the registrant may file an amendment to the registration statement to include the excess sales. Every person filing such an amendment shall pay a filing fee of three times the amount calculated in the manner specified in subsection 2 as though the additional securities sold constituted a separate issue. The administrator may order the amendment effective retroactively as of the effective date of the registration statement being amended.

502.209 Denial, suspension and revocation of registration.

1. The administrator may issue a stop order denying effectiveness to, or suspending or revoking the effectiveness of, any registration statement if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and that:

a. The registration statement as of its effective date or as of any earlier date in the case of an order denying effectiveness, or any amendment filed under either subsection 9 or subsection 11 of section 502.208 as of its effective date, or any financial statement or report required under section 502.208, subsection 9 is incomplete in any material respect or contains any statement which was, in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact;

b. Any provision of this chapter or any rule, order or condition lawfully imposed under this chapter has been willfully violated, in connection with the offering, by:

(1) The person filing the registration statement;
(2) The issuer;
(3) Any partner, officer or director of the issuer, or any person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions;
(4) Any affiliate of the issuer, but only if the person filing the registration statement is an affiliate of the issuer; or
(5) Any broker-dealer;

c. The securities registered or sought to be registered are the subject of an administrative stop order or similar order or a permanent or temporary injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction entered under any other federal or state Act applicable to the offering; but the administrator may not institute a proceeding against an effective registration statement under this section more than one year from the date of the order or injunction relied on, and the administrator may not enter an order under this section on the basis of an order or injunction entered under any other state Act unless that order or injunction was based on facts which would currently constitute a ground for a stop order under this section;

d. The issuer's enterprise or method of business includes or would include activities which are illegal where performed;

e. The issuance or sale of the securities has worked or tended to work a fraud upon purchasers or would so operate;

f. The offering has been or would be made with unreasonable amounts of underwriters' and sellers' discounts, commissions, or other compensation, or promoters' profits or participation, or unreasonable amounts or kinds of options;

g. Advertising has been used in connection with the offering contrary to the provisions of section 502.602;

h. The financial condition of the issuer affects or would affect the soundness of the securities, except that applications for registration of securities by companies which are in the development stage shall not be denied based solely upon the financial condition of the company. For purposes of this rule, a "development stage company" is defined as a company which has been in existence for five years or less.

i. The applicant or registrant has failed to pay the proper filing fee; but the administrator may enter only a denial order under this subsection, and shall vacate any such order when the deficiency has been corrected.

j. The applicant or registrant has abandoned the registration statement. The administrator may enter an order under this paragraph if notice is sent to the applicant or registrant, and either the administrator fails to receive a response from the applicant or registrant, or action is not taken by the applicant or registrant within the time specified by the administrator.

2. The administrator may not institute a stop order proceeding against an effective registration statement on the basis of a fact known to the administrator when the registration statement became effective unless the proceeding is instituted within thirty days after effectiveness.

3. The administrator may issue a summary order postponing, suspending or denying the effectiveness of a registration statement pending final determination of any proceeding under this section. Upon the entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify the applicant or registrant, the issuer, and the person on whose behalf the securities are to be or have been offered that the order has been entered and of the reasons therefor and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing. If no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the administrator, the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing to each of the aforementioned persons, may modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.

4. No stop order may be entered under any part of this section except the first sentence of subsection 3 without compliance with the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

5. The administrator may vacate or modify a stop order upon a finding that the conditions which promoted its entry have changed or that it is otherwise in the public interest to do so.

502.210 Limits on securities registered by qualification. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 40, § 36. SF 520

502.301 Registration requirement.

1. It is unlawful for any person to transact business in this state as a broker-dealer or agent unless at least one of the following conditions is satisfied:

a. The person is registered under this chapter.

b. The person is a broker-dealer who has no place of business in this state and the broker-dealer satisfies one of the following requirements:

(1) The broker-dealer effects transactions in this state exclusively with or through the issuers of the securities involved in the transaction, other broker-dealers, banks, trust companies, insurance companies, or investment companies as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit sharing trusts, or other financial institutions or institutional buyers, whether acting for themselves or as trustees;

(2) During any period of twelve consecutive months the broker-dealer does not effect transactions in this state in any manner with more than three persons other than those specified in subparagraph (1), whether or not the offeror or any of the offerees is then present in this state; or

(3) The administrator designates the broker-dealer as exempt from these requirements by either rule or order.

2. It is unlawful for any broker-dealer or issuer to employ an agent in this state unless the agent is registered. The registration of an agent is not effective during any period when the agent is not associated with a specified broker-dealer registered under this chapter or a specified issuer. Unless permitted by order of the administrator, no agent shall at any time represent more than one broker-dealer or issuer, except that where organizations affiliated by direct or indirect common control are registered as broker-dealers or are issuers of securities registered under this chapter, an agent may represent any such organization. When an agent begins or terminates employment with a broker-dealer or issuer or begins or terminates the activities which makes such person an agent, the agent as well as the broker-dealer or issuer shall promptly notify the administrator.

3. Every registration shall expire on the last day of December in each year.

§502.302 Registration procedures.

1. A broker-dealer or agent may obtain an initial or renewal license by filing with the administrator, or an organization which the administrator by rule designates, an application together with a consent to service of process pursuant to section 502.609 and the appropriate filing fee. The application shall contain the information the administrator requires by rule concerning the applicant's form and place of organization, proposed method of doing business and financial condition, the qualifications and experience of the applicant, including, in the case of a broker-dealer, the qualifications and experience of any partner, officer, director or controlling person, any injunction or administrative order or conviction of a misdemeanor involving securities and any conviction of a felony, and any other matters which the administrator determines are relevant to the application. If no denial order is in effect and no proceeding is pending under section 502.304, registration becomes effective at noon of the thirtieth day after a completed application or an amendment completing the application is filed, unless waived by the applicant. The administrator may by rule or order specify an earlier effective date.

2. Every applicant for initial or renewal registration as a broker-dealer shall pay a filing fee of two hundred dollars. Every applicant for initial or renewal registration as an agent shall pay a filing fee of thirty dollars. A filing fee is not refundable.

3. A registered broker-dealer may file an application for registration of a successor, whether or not the successor is then in existence, for the unexpired portion of the year. There shall be no filing fee.

4. The administrator may by rule require a minimum capital for broker-dealers and establish limitations on aggregate indebtedness of broker-dealers in relation to net capital and may classify broker-dealers for purposes of such requirements. The administrator may not, however, with respect to any broker-dealer who is a member of the national association of securities dealers, inc., or who is registered with the securities and exchange commission, require a higher minimum capital or lower ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital than is contained in the rules and regulations adopted by such association or commission.

5. Except as provided in this subsection, a broker-dealer and an issuer who employs agents in connection with any security or transaction not exempted either by section 502.202 or section 502.203, shall file and maintain with the administrator a bond conditioned that the broker-dealer or issuer shall properly account for any moneys or securities received from or belonging to another and shall pay, satisfy, and discharge any judgment or decree that may be rendered against such broker-dealer or issuer in a court of competent jurisdiction in a suit or action brought by a purchaser or seller of securities against such broker-dealer or issuer in which it shall be found or adjudged that such securities were sold or purchased by the broker-dealer or issuer in violation of this chapter. Such bond may be drawn to cover the original license and any renewals thereof, and may contain a provision authorizing the surety therein to cancel upon thirty days' notice to the principal and the administrator. A broker-dealer who is a member of the securities investor protection corporation is not required to furnish a bond.

Every such bond shall run in favor of the state of Iowa for the use and benefit of any person who sustains damages as a result of any breach of the conditions thereof, in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars and shall be in such form consistent with the provisions hereof as the administrator may prescribe, and shall be executed with surety or sureties satisfactory to the administrator. In suits against the surety upon such bond it shall not be necessary to join such broker-dealer or issuer as a party.

Banks or trust companies under the supervision of this state or of the United States which would otherwise be required under the provisions of this chapter to file and maintain the bond required herein may execute said bond without surety.

One or more recoveries upon any such bond shall not vitiate the same but it shall remain in full force and effect, but the aggregate recoveries from the surety upon any such bond shall not exceed the full amount of the penal sum of the bond, and upon suits being commenced in excess of the amount of same the administrator may require additional bond, and if not given within ten days the administrator may revoke the registration of such broker-dealer or issuer.

6. The administrator may by rule or order impose such other conditions in connection with registration under this chapter as are deemed appropriate, in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

§502.303 Post-registration provisions.

1. Every registered broker-dealer shall make and keep such accounts, correspondence, memoranda, papers, books, and other records as the administrator by rule prescribes. All records so required shall be preserved for three years unless the administrator by rule prescribes otherwise for particular types of records. All required records shall be kept within this state or shall, at the request of the administrator, be made available at any time for examination at the administrator's option either in the principal office of the registrant or by production of exact copies thereof in this state.

2. Every registered broker-dealer shall file such financial reports as the administrator by rule prescribes.

3. If the information contained in any document filed with the administrator is or becomes inaccurate or incomplete in any material respect, the registrant shall promptly file a correcting amendment unless notification of the correction has been given under section 502.301, subsection 2.

4. The administrator may make examinations, within or without this state, of the business and records of each registered broker-dealer, at the times and in the scope as the administrator determines. The examinations may be made without prior notice to the broker-dealer. The administrator may copy all records the administrator feels are necessary to conduct the examination. The expense reasonably attributable to an examination shall be paid by the broker-dealer whose business is examined, but the expense so payable shall not exceed an amount which the administrator by rule prescribes. For the purpose of avoiding unnecessary duplication of examinations, the administrator may co-operate with securities administrators of other states, the securities exchange or national securities association registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The administrator shall not make public the information obtained in the course of examinations, except when a duty under this chapter requires the administrator to take action regarding a broker-dealer or to make the information available to one of the agencies specified in this section, or except when the administrator is called as a witness in a criminal or civil proceeding.

Subsection 4 amended

502.304 Denial, revocation, suspension, and withdrawal of registration.

1. The administrator may by order deny, suspend, or revoke a registration or may censure, impose a civil penalty upon, or bar an applicant, registrant, or any officer, director, partner, or person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions for a registrant. A person barred under this subsection may be prohibited by the administrator from employment with a registered broker-dealer. The administrator may restrict the person barred from engaging in any activity for which registration is required. Any action by the administrator under this subsection may be taken if the order is found to be in the public interest and it is found that the applicant or registrant or, in the case of a broker-dealer, a partner, an officer, or a director, a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, or a person directly or indirectly controlling the broker-dealer:

a. Has filed an application for registration which as of its effective date, or as of any date after filing in the case of an order denying effectiveness, was incomplete in any material respect or contained any statement which was, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact;

b. Has willfully violated or willfully failed to comply with any provision of this chapter or a predecessor act or any rule or order under this chapter or a predecessor act;

c. Has been convicted within the past ten years of

(1) Any misdemeanor involving a security or any aspect of the securities business, or

(2) Any felony;

d. Is permanently or temporarily enjoined by any court of competent jurisdiction from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice involving any aspect of the securities, insurance, or commodities business;

e. Is the subject of an order of the administrator denying, suspending, or revoking registration as a broker-dealer or agent;

f. Is the subject of an adjudication or order entered after notice and opportunity for hearing, within the past ten years by a securities or commodities agency, an administrator of another state, or a court of competent jurisdiction, that reflects that the person has violated the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or the Commodity Exchange Act, a securities or commodities law of any other state, or a United States postal service fraud order. However, the administrator may not do either of the following:

(1) Institute a revocation or suspension proceeding under this paragraph more than one year from the final agency order relied on or, if the order has been appealed, the final court decision;

(2) Enter an order under this paragraph on the basis of an order under another state law unless that order was based on facts which would currently constitute a ground for an order under this section.

g. Has engaged in dishonest or unethical practices in the securities business;

h. Is insolvent, either in the equity or bankruptcy sense; but the administrator may not enter an order against a broker-dealer under this paragraph without a finding of insolvency as to the broker-dealer;

i. Is not qualified on the basis of such factors as training, experience and knowledge of the securities business;

j. Has failed reasonably to supervise an agent or employee;

k. Has been denied the right to do business in the securities industry, or the person's authority to do business in the securities industry has been revoked for cause by another state, federal, or foreign governmental agency or by a self-regulatory organization; or

l. Has been the subject of a final order in a criminal, civil, injunctive, or administrative action for securities, commodities, or fraud-related violations of the laws of this state or another state, federal, or foreign governmental unit.

2. The administrator may not institute a suspension or revocation proceeding under subsection 1, paragraphs "c" through "f", on the basis of a fact known to the administrator when registration became effective unless the proceeding is instituted within sixty days after the effective date.

3. The administrator may by order summarily postpone or suspend registration pending final determination of any proceeding under this section. Upon the entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify the applicant or registrant, as well as the employer or prospective employer if the applicant or registrant is an agent, that it has been entered and of the reasons therefor and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing. If no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the administrator, the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing, may modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.

4. If the administrator finds that any registrant or applicant for registration is no longer in existence or has ceased to do business as a broker-dealer, or agent, or is subject to an adjudication of mental incompetence or to the control of a committee, conservator, or guardian, or cannot be located after search, the administrator may by order revoke the registration or application.

5. Withdrawal from registration as a broker-dealer or agent becomes effective thirty days after receipt of an application to withdraw or within such shorter period of time as the administrator may by order determine, unless a revocation or suspension proceeding is pending when the application is filed or a proceeding to revoke or suspend or to impose conditions upon the withdrawal is instituted within thirty days after the application is filed. If a proceeding is pending or instituted, withdrawal becomes effective at such time and upon such conditions as the administrator by order determines. If no proceeding is pending or instituted and withdrawal automatically becomes effective, the administrator may nevertheless institute a revocation or suspension proceeding under subsection 1 paragraph "b" within one year after withdrawal became effective and enter a revocation or suspension order as of the last date on which registration was effective.

6. No order may be entered under any part of this section except the first sentence of subsection 3 without compliance with the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

7. A civil penalty levied under subsection 1 shall not exceed one thousand dollars per violation per person and shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars in a single proceeding against any one person. All administrative fines received shall be deposited in the general fund of the state.

§502.601 Administration.

1. This chapter shall be administered by the commissioner of insurance of the state of Iowa. The administrator shall appoint a deputy administrator who shall be exempt from the merit system provided for in chapter 19A. The deputy administrator is the principal operations officer of the securities bureau and is responsible to the administrator for the routine administration of the chapter and the management of the securities bureau. In the absence of the administrator, whether because of vacancy in the office, by reason of absence, physical disability, or other cause, the deputy administrator shall be the acting administrator and shall, for the time being, have and exercise the authority conferred upon the administrator. The administrator may by order from time to time delegate to the deputy administrator any or all of the functions assigned to the administrator in this chapter. The administrator shall employ officers, attorneys, accountants, and other employees as needed for the administration of the chapter.

2. It is unlawful for the administrator or any officer or employee of the securities bureau to use for personal benefit any information which is filed with or obtained by the administrator and which is not made public. This chapter does not authorize the administrator or any such officer or employee to disclose any such information except among themselves or to other securities administrators, regulatory authorities, or governmental agencies, or when necessary or appropriate in a proceeding or investigation under this chapter. This chapter neither creates nor derogates from any privileges which exist at common law or otherwise when documentary or other evidence is sought under a subpoena directed to the administrator or any officer or employee of the securities bureau.

§502.601

502.603 Investigations and subpoenas.

1. The administrator may
   a. Make such public or private investigations within or outside of this state as the administrator deems necessary to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate any provision of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter or in the prescribing of rules and forms hereunder;
   b. Require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise as the administrator determines, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated; and
   c. Keep confidential the information obtained in the course of an investigation. However, if the administrator determines that it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, the administrator may share information with other securities administrators, regulatory authorities, or governmental agencies or may publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or a rule or order under this chapter.

2. a. For the purpose of any investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or any officer designated by the administrator may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements or other documents or records which the administrator deems relevant or material to the inquiry, all of which may be enforced in accordance with chapter 17A.
   b. The administrator may issue and bring an action in district court to enforce subpoenas in this state at the request of a securities agency or administrator of any state, Canadian province or territory, another country, the securities and exchange commission, the commodity futures trading commission, the securities investor protection corporation, any self-regulatory organization, any national or international organization of securities officials or agencies, and any governmental law enforcement or regulatory agency.

   2. The cooperation authorized by subsection 1 may include, but is not limited to, the following:
      a. Establishing a central depository for licensing or registration under this chapter and for documents or records required or allowed to be maintained under this chapter.
      b. Making a joint examination or investigation.
      c. Holding a joint administrative hearing.
      d. Filing and prosecuting a joint civil or administrative proceeding.
      e. Sharing and exchanging personnel.
      f. Sharing and exchanging information and documents subject to restriction of confidentiality in accordance with section 502.603, subsection 1.
      g. Formulating, in accordance with chapter 17A, rules or proposed rules on matters such as statements of policy, guidelines, and interpretive opinions.

502.604 Cease and desist orders — injunctions.

If it appears to the administrator that a person has engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or any rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter, the administrator may do either or both of the following:

1. Issue an order directed at the person requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in such act or practice.

2. Bring an action in the district court to enjoin the act or practice and to enforce compliance with this chapter or a rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter. Upon a proper showing a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or writ of mandamus shall be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant's assets. In addition, upon a proper showing by the administrator, the court may enter an order of rescission, restitution, or disgorgement directed at any person who has engaged in an act constituting a violation of this chapter, or a rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter. The administrator shall not be required to post a bond.

502.604A Court action.
If a person fails or refuses to file any statement or report or to produce any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records, or to obey any subpoena issued by the administrator, the administrator may refer the matter to the attorney general, who, after notice, may apply to a district court to enforce compliance. The court may order any or all of the following:
1. Injunctive relief, restricting or prohibiting the offer or sale of securities.
2. Revocation or suspension of any license or registration.
3. Production of documents or records, including but not limited to books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or agreements.
4. Such other relief as may be required.

502.609 Service of process.
1. Every applicant for registration under this chapter, and every issuer which proposes to offer a security in this state, shall file with the administrator, in such form as the administrator by rule prescribes, an irrevocable consent appointing the administrator or the administrator's successor in office to be such person's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against such person or the successor, executor or administrator of such person which arises under this chapter or any rule or order hereunder after the consent has been filed, with the same validity as if served personally on the person filing the consent. The consent need not be filed by a person who has filed a consent in connection with a previous registration which is then in effect. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator, but it is not effective unless the plaintiff, including the administrator when acting as such,
   a. Promptly sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at such person's last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice; and
   b. Files an affidavit of compliance with this subsection in the case on or before the return day of the process, or within such time as the court allows.
2. When any person, including any nonresident of this state, engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable by this chapter or any rule or order hereunder, has not filed a consent to service of process under subsection 1, and personal jurisdiction over such person cannot otherwise be obtained in this state, that conduct shall be considered equivalent to the appointment by such person of the administrator or the administrator's successor in office to be that person's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against that person or the successor, executor or administrator of that person which arises out of that conduct and which is brought under this chapter or by any rule or order hereunder, with the same validity as if served personally. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator, and it is not effective unless the plaintiff, including the administrator when acting as such,
   a. Promptly sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at such person's last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice; and
   b. Files an affidavit of compliance with this subsection in the case on or before the return day of the process, or within such time as the court allows.
3. When process is served under this section, the court, or the administrator in a proceeding before the administrator, shall order such continuance as may be necessary to afford the defendant or respondent reasonable opportunity to defend.
504A.25A Availability of certain information of nonprofit corporations and agencies.
A corporation organized pursuant to this chapter, or any other nonprofit agency, which receives federal or state funding, shall provide to any person, upon request, a list of the names of the members of the corporation's or agency's board of directors, and the salary of each officer and director's fee of each director of the corporation or nonprofit agency.

CHAPTER 505
INSURANCE DIVISION

505.4 Deputy — assistants — bond.
The commissioner of insurance shall appoint a first and second deputy commissioner and such other clerks and assistants as shall be needed to assist the commissioner in the performance of the commissioner's duty, all of whom shall serve during the pleasure of the commissioner. Before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, deputy commissioners shall give a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars.
The commissioner may appoint a deputy commissioner for supervision whom the commissioner may appoint as supervisory or special deputy pursuant to chapter 507C and who shall perform such other duties as may be assigned by the commissioner. The deputy commissioner for supervision shall receive a salary to be fixed by the commissioner. The deputy commissioner for supervision shall be an exempt employee under section 19A.3, subsection 17.

505.7 Fees — expenses of division.
1. All fees and charges which are required by law to be paid by insurance companies and associations shall be payable to the commissioner of the insurance division of the department of commerce or department of revenue and finance, as provided by law, whose duty it shall be to account for and pay over the same to the treasurer of state at the time and in the manner provided by law for deposit in the general fund of the state.
2. The commissioner shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate inspection and examination duties imposed upon the commissioner by the laws of this state and each separate

505.7 Fees — expenses of division.
1. All fees and charges which are required by law to be paid by insurance companies and associations shall be payable to the commissioner of the insurance division of the department of commerce or department of revenue and finance, as provided by law, whose duty it shall be to account for and pay over the same to the treasurer of state at the time and in the manner provided by law for deposit in the general fund of the state.
2. The commissioner shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate inspection and examination duties imposed upon the commissioner by the laws of this state and each separate inspection and examination duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.
3. Forty percent of the nonexamination revenues payable to the division of insurance or the department of revenue and finance in connection with the regulation of insurance companies or other entities subject to the regulatory jurisdiction of the division shall be subject to annual appropriation to the division for its operations and is also subject to expenditure under subsection 6.
4. The insurance division shall in determining charges and assessments include an amount which represents the division's share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department of commerce, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987.
5. The insurance division may transfer moneys between budgeted line items of its appropriation, but such transfers may not reduce moneys budgeted for examinations or professional services, including but not limited to actuarial and legal services.
6. The insurance division may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for insurance solvency oversight under the following conditions:
a. The division may exceed the line item budgets for examinations and professional services, including but not limited to legal and actuarial services, provided that the division funds the increased expenditures through assessments or increased nonexamination revenues payable to the division under subsection 1 or otherwise. The amounts necessary to fund the excess expenses may be collected from those regulated entities or classes of entities which either cause or benefit from the expenditure or encumbrance.

b. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for line items other than examinations and professional services, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the expenses can be paid from nonexamination revenues payable to the division under subsection 1 or otherwise. Upon the approval of the director of the department of management the division may expend and encumber funds for the excess expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the excess expenses may be collected from those regulated entities or classes of entities which either cause or benefit from the expenditure or encumbrance.

The annual salaries of the deputy commissioner for supervision and the chief examiner appointed pursuant to section 507.5 shall be expenses of examination of insurance companies and shall be charged to insurance companies examined on a proportionate basis as provided by rule adopted by the commissioner. Insurance companies examined shall pay the proportion of the salaries of the deputy commissioner for supervision and the chief examiner charged to them as part of the costs of examination as provided in section 507.8.

507.13A Availability of certain rating information.
1. The division shall provide to any person requesting publicly available information relating to the financial condition of any insurance company licensed to do business in the state, including, but not limited to, the following:
   a. Current ratings issued by a private rating organization.
   b. Information on how to obtain such information from various sources.
   c. Information on the state insurance guaranty funds.
2. The provision of such information by the division shall not be the basis to impose liability upon the division or any employee of the division. Information provided under this section is not an endorsement or guaranty of any insurance company.

CHAPTER 507
EXAMINATION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES

507.14 Confidential documents — exceptions.
A report, preliminary or final, of an examination of a domestic or foreign insurer, and all notes, work papers, or other documents related to an examination of an insurer are not public records under chapter 22 except when sought by the insurer to whom they relate or an insurance regulator of another state, and shall be privileged and confidential in any judicial or administrative proceeding except any of the following:
1. An action commenced by the commissioner under chapter 507C.
2. An administrative proceeding brought by the insurance division under chapter 17A.
3. A judicial review proceeding under chapter 17A brought by an insurer to whom the records relate.
4. An action or proceeding which arises out of... the criminal provisions of the laws of this state or the United States.
5. An action brought in a shareholders' derivative suit against an insurer.
6. An action brought to recover moneys or to recover upon an indemnity bond for embezzlement, misappropriation, or misuse of insurer funds.

A report of an examination of a domestic or foreign insurer which is preliminary under the rules of the division is not a public record under chapter 22 except when sought by the insurer to which the report relates or an insurance regulator of another state, and is privileged and confidential in any judicial or administrative proceeding.

A financial statement filed by an employer self-insuring workers' compensation liability pursuant to section 87.11, or the working papers of an examiner or the division in connection with calculating appropriate security and reserves for the self-insured employer are not public records under chapter 22 except when sought by the employer to which the financial statement or working papers relate or an insurance or workers' compensation self-insurance regulator of another state, and are privileged and confidential in any judicial or administrative proceeding. The financial information of a nonpublicly traded employer which self-insures for workers' compensation liabili-ity pursuant to section 87.11 is protected as proprietary trade secrets to the extent consistent with the commissioner's duties to oversee the security of selfinsured workers' compensation liability.

CHAPTER 507C
INSURERS SUPERVISION, REHABILITATION AND LIQUIDATION ACT

507C.12 Grounds for rehabilitation.
The commissioner may petition the district court for an order to rehabilitate a domestic insurer or an alien insurer domiciled in this state on any of the following grounds:
1. The insurer is in a condition that the further transaction of business would be financially hazardous to its policyholders, creditors, or the public.
2. There is reasonable cause to believe that there has been embezzlement from the insurer, wrongful sequestration or diversion of the insurer's assets, forgery or fraud affecting the insurer, or other illegal conduct in, by, or with respect to the insurer that, if established, would endanger assets in an amount threatening the solvency of the insurer.
3. The insurer has failed to remove a person, whether an officer, manager, general agent, employee, or other person, who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, if the person has been found after notice and hearing by the commissioner to be dishonest or untrustworthy in a way affecting the insurer's business.
4. Control of the insurer is in a person or persons found after notice and hearing to be untrustworthy.
Control may be by stock ownership or by other means and may be direct or indirect.
5. A person who in fact has executive authority in the insurer, whether an officer, manager, general agent, director or trustee, employee, or other person has refused to be examined under oath by the commissioner concerning the insurer's affairs, in this state or elsewhere, and after reasonable notice of the fact the insurer has failed promptly and effectively to terminate the employment and status of the person and all the person's influence on management.
6. After demand by the commissioner under chapter 507 or under this chapter, the insurer has failed to promptly make available for examination any of its property, books, accounts, documents, or other records, or those of a subsidiary or related company within the control of the insurer, or those of a person having executive authority in the insurer so far as they pertain to the insurer.
7. Without first obtaining the written consent of the commissioner, the insurer has transferred, or attempted to transfer, in a manner contrary to chapter 521 or 521A, substantially its entire property or busi-ess, or has entered into a transaction the effect of which is to merge, consolidate, or reinsure substantially its entire property or business in or with the property or business of any other person.
8. The insurer or its property has been or is the subject of an application for the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian, conservator or sequestra-tor or similar fiduciary of the insurer of its property other than as authorized under the insurance laws of this state, and the appointment has been made or is imminent, and the appointment might oust the court of this state of jurisdiction or might prejudice orderly delinquency proceedings under this chapter.
9. Within the previous three years the insurer has willfully violated its charter or articles of incorporation, its bylaws, an insurance law of this state, or a valid order of the commissioner under section 507C.9.
10. The insurer has failed to pay within sixty days after the due date an obligation to a state or any subdivision of a state or a judgment entered in a state, if the court in which the judgment was entered had jurisdiction over the subject matter. However, nonpayment shall not be a ground until sixty days after a good faith effort by the insurer to contest the obligation has been terminated whether the effort is before the commissioner or in the courts, or the insurer has systematically attempted to compromise or renegotiate previously agreed settlements with its creditors on the ground that it is financially unable to pay its obligations in full.

11. The insurer has failed to file its annual report or other financial report required within the time allowed and, after written demand by the commissioner, has failed to immediately give an adequate explanation.

12. The board of directors or the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote, or a majority of those individuals entitled to the control of those entities request or consent to rehabilitation under this chapter.

If the petition alleges that extraordinary circumstances exist and that there is imminent substantial risk to the insurer's solvency if the insurer is not immediately placed into rehabilitation, the court may issue, ex parte and without a hearing, the requested order of rehabilitation. An insurer subject to an ex parte order under this section may petition the court after the issuance of the order for a hearing and review of the order. The court shall hold the hearing and review not more than fifteen days after the request. A hearing under this section may be held privately in chambers. Upon the request of the insurer, the hearing shall be held privately in chambers.

507C.20A Redomestication of foreign insurer.

The commissioner may petition the court for an ancillary receivership or for an order redomicating a foreign insurer which is the subject of a liquidation or other delinquency order in a reciprocal state. Only the corporate charter and rights to the licenses under such charter shall be redomesticated to Iowa. All claims against the foreign insurer shall remain a part of and be administered through the reciprocal state liquidation or other delinquency proceeding. Following notice as prescribed by the court and a hearing, the court may sell the corporation as an entity, together with any of its licenses, free and clear from the claims or interests of all claimants, creditors, policyholders, and stockholders of the corporation under liquidation or other delinquency proceedings, wherever located. The sale may be made on terms and conditions the court deems appropriate. The proceeds of the sale, less court costs, attorney fees, broker's fees, and the commissioner's expenses in effectuating the sale, shall become part of the assets of the liquidation or other estate in the reciprocal state.

507C.33 Recovery of premiums owed.

1. a. An agent, broker, premium finance company or any other person responsible for the payment of a premium is obligated to pay an unpaid premium for the full policy term due the insurer at the time of the declaration of insolvency, whether earned or unearned, as shown on the records of the insurer. The liquidator shall also have the right to recover from the person any part of an unearned premium that represents commission of the person. Credits or set-offs or both shall not be allowed to an agent, broker, or premium finance company for amounts advanced to the insurer by the agent, broker, or premium finance company on behalf of, but in the absence of a payment by, the insured.

b. Notwithstanding paragraph "a", the agent, broker, premium finance company, or other person, is not liable for uncollected unearned premium of the insurer. A presumption exists that the premium as shown on the books of the insurer is collected and the burden is upon the agent, broker, premium finance company, or other person to demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence that the unearned premium was not actually collected. For purposes of this paragraph, "unearned premium" means that portion of an insurance premium covering the unexpired term of the policy or the unexpired period of the policy period.

c. An insured is obligated to pay an unpaid premium due the insurer as shown on the records of the insurer at the time of the declaration of insolvency.

2. Upon satisfactory evidence of a violation of this section, the commissioner may pursue either one or both of the following courses of action:

a. Suspend or revoke or refuse to renew the licenses of the offending party or parties.

b. Impose a penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each act in violation of this section by the party or parties.

3. Before the commissioner shall take any action as set forth in subsection 2, the commissioner shall give written notice to the person, company, association, or exchange accused of violating the law, stating specifically the nature of the alleged violation, and fixing a time and place, at least ten days thereafter, when a hearing on the matter shall be held. After such hearing, or upon failure of the accused to appear at the hearing, if a violation is found the commissioner shall impose those penalties under subsection 2 as deemed advisable.

4. When the commissioner shall take action in any or all of the ways set out in subsection 2, the party aggrieved may appeal from the action to court.

508.8A Loans to employees.
1. A life insurance company having a ratio of statutory surplus to admitted assets of at least four percent may make, acquire, and hold loans to employees, officers, and directors under the following terms and conditions:
   a. The company may make a mortgage loan on real property owned by an employee of the company which is to serve as the employee’s dwelling, provided the company is regularly and actively involved in making residential mortgage loans to the public.
   b. The company may acquire a mortgage loan on real property owned by an employee of the company which is to serve as the employee’s dwelling, provided the company acquiring such loan is regularly and actively involved in acquiring residential mortgage loans not involving employees from sources in the secondary market.
   c. The company may acquire a mortgage loan on real property owned by an employee, officer, or director which is included in a portfolio of mortgages initiated by others and acquired by the life insurance company. The mortgage loans in any such acquired portfolio of mortgage loans must satisfy both of the following conditions:
      (1) More than seventy-five percent of the dollar value of the mortgage loans must be for real property that is owned by persons who are not employees, officers, or directors of the company.
      (2) More than seventy-five percent of the mortgage loans must be for real property that is owned by persons who are not employees, officers, or directors of the company.
   d. The company may continue to hold a mortgage loan on real estate which is assumed by an employee, officer, or director if the mortgage was originally properly made or acquired by the life insurance company, provided that all terms and conditions of the mortgage loan remain unchanged and the mortgage loan is serviced in accordance with customary servicing practices of prudent lending institutions.
   e. The company may continue to hold a mortgage on real estate owned by an officer or director which was properly made or acquired by the company before the officer or director became an officer or director of the company, provided that all terms and conditions of the mortgage loan remain unchanged and the mortgage loan is serviced in accordance with customary servicing practices of prudent lending institutions.
2. As used in this section, “employee” does not include officers or directors of a life insurance company.

10. The amount of bonds of the United States, and all other bonds and securities, giving names and amounts, with the par and market value of each kind.
11. The amount of loans secured by first mortgage on real estate, and where such real estate is situated.
12. The amount of all other bonds, loans, how secured, and the rate of interest.
13. The amount of premium notes and their value on policies in force, if a mutual company.
14. The amount of notes given for unpaid stock, and their value in detail, if a stock company.
15. The amount of assessments unpaid on stock or premium notes.
16. The amount of interest due and unpaid.
17. The amount of all other securities.
18. The amount of losses due and unpaid.
19. The amount of losses adjusted but not due.
20. The amount of losses unadjusted.
21. The amount of claims for losses resisted.
22. The amount of money borrowed and evidences thereof.
23. The amount of dividends unpaid on stock.
24. The amount of dividends unpaid on policies.
25. The amount required to safely reinsure all outstanding risks.
26. The amount of all other claims against the company.
27. The amount of net cash premiums received.
28. The amount of notes received for premiums.
29. The amount of interest received from all sources.
30. The amount received from all other sources.
31. The amount paid for losses.
32. The amount of dividends paid to policyholders, and the amount to stockholders, if a stock company.
33. The amount of commissions and salaries paid to agents.
34. The amount paid to officers for salaries and other compensation.
35. The amount paid for taxes.
36. The amount of all other payments and expenditures.
37. The greatest amount insured on any one life.
38. The amount deposited in other states or territories as security for policyholders therein, stating the amount in each state or territory.
39. The amount of premiums received in this state during the year.
40. The amount paid for losses in this state during the year.
41. The whole number of policies issued during the year, with the amount of insurance effected thereby, and total amount of risk.
42. All other items of information necessary to enable the commissioner of insurance to correctly estimate the cash value of policies, or to judge of the correctness of the valuation thereof.
43. All other information as required by the national association of insurance commissioners’ annual statement blank. The annual statement blank shall be prepared in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner. All financial information reflected in the annual report shall be kept and prepared in accordance with accounting practices and procedures prescribed by the commissioner. The commissioner may adopt by reference the annual statement handbook and the accounting practices and procedures manual of the national association of insurance commissioners.

§508.15 Violation by foreign company.
Companies organized and chartered by the laws of a foreign state or country, failing to file the evidence of investment and statement within the time fixed, or failing to timely file any financial statement required by rule of the commissioner of insurance, shall forfeit and pay five hundred dollars, to be collected in an action in the name of the state and paid to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 505.7, and their right to transact further new business in this state shall immediately cease until the requirements of this chapter have been fully complied with. The commissioner may give notice to a company which has failed to file within the time fixed that the company is in violation of this section and if the company fails to file the evidence of investment and statement within ten days of the date of the notice the company shall forfeit and pay the additional sum of one hundred dollars for each day the failure continues, to be paid to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 505.7.

§508.15A Suspension and summary suspension.
The commissioner may do one or more of the following:
1. For a violation of Title XX, after a hearing provided pursuant to chapter 17A, order the suspension of the license or authority to transact the business of insurance within the state.
2. Upon three days’ notice, if the commissioner has reason to believe that there is imminent substantial risk to an insurer’s solvency, order the insurer to appear before the commissioner and show cause why its license or authority to do insurance business within the state should not be suspended. At the hearing to show cause, the commissioner may summarily suspend the license or authority of the insurer to do business within the state.
3. Summarily order an insurer to cease and desist from a violation, anticipated violation, or suspected violation of chapter 507B, 510, or 513A, if a hearing is provided pursuant to chapter 17A within thirty days of the summary cease and desist order.

508C.8  Powers and duties of the association.

1. If a domestic, foreign, or alien insurer is an impaired insurer, the association, subject to conditions imposed by the association and approved by the impaired insurer and the commissioner, may:
   a. Guarantee, assume, reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured, any or all of the covered policies of the impaired insurer.
   b. Provide moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means as proper to effectuate paragraph "a" and assure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action under paragraph "a".
   c. Loan money to the impaired insurer and guarantee borrowings by the impaired insurer, provided the association has concluded, based on reasonable assumptions, that there is a likelihood of repayment of the loan and a probability that unless a loan is made the association would incur substantial liabilities under subsection 2.

1A. If a domestic, foreign, or alien insurer is an insolvent insurer, subject to the approval of the commissioner, the association shall:
   a. Guarantee, assume, or reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, or reinsured the covered policies of the insolvent insurer.
   b. Assure payment of the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer.
   c. Provide moneys, pledges, notes, guarantees, or other means as reasonably necessary to discharge the duties described in this subsection.

2. a. If a domestic, foreign, or alien insurer is an impaired insurer and the insurer is not paying claims timely, then, subject to the approval of the commissioner and to the preconditions specified in this subsection, the association may do either or both of the following:
   (1) Take any of the actions specified in subsection 1, subject to the conditions in that subsection.
   (2) Provide substitute benefits in lieu of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer solely for health claims, periodic annuity benefits, death benefits, supplemental benefits, and cash withdrawals for policy or contract owners who petition for the benefits under claims of emergency or hardship in accordance with standards proposed by the association and approved by the commissioner.

b. The association is subject to this subsection only if all of the following conditions are met:
   (1) The laws of the state of domicile provide that until all payments of or on account of the impaired insurer’s contractual obligations by all guaranty associations, along with all interest on the payments and expenses have been repaid to the guaranty associations or a plan of repayment by the impaired insurer has been approved by the guaranty associations all of the following apply:
      (a) The delinquency proceeding shall not be dismissed.
      (b) Neither the impaired insurer nor its assets shall be returned to the control of its shareholders or private management.
      (c) The impaired insurer shall not be permitted to solicit or accept new business or have any suspended or revoked license restored.
   (2) If the impaired insurer is a domestic insurer it has been placed under an order of rehabilitation by a court of competent jurisdiction in this state; or, if the impaired insurer is a foreign or alien insurer it has been prohibited from soliciting or accepting new business in this state, its certificate of authority has been suspended or revoked in this state, and a petition for rehabilitation or liquidation has been filed in a court of competent jurisdiction in its state or nation of domicile by the commissioner of that state or similar authority in an alien nation.

3. a. In carrying out its duties under subsection 2, permanent policy liens or contract liens may be imposed in connection with a guarantee, assumption, or reinsurance agreement, if the court does both of the following:
   (1) Finds either that the amounts which can be assessed under this chapter are less than the amounts needed to assure full and prompt performance of the insolvent insurer’s contractual obligations, or that the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to the public interest to justify the imposition of policy or contract liens.
   (2) Approves the specific policy liens or contract liens to be used.

b. Before being obligated under subsection 2, the association may request the imposition of a temporary moratorium, not exceeding three years, or liens on payments of cash values, termination values, and policy loans in addition to any contractual provisions for deferral of cash values, termination values, or policy loans. The temporary moratoriums and liens may be imposed by the court as a condition of the association’s liability with respect to the insolvent insurer.

c. The obligations of the association under subsection 2 regarding a covered policy shall be reduced to the extent that the person entitled to the obligations has received payment of all or any part of the contractual benefits payable under the covered policy from any other source.

\(a\) The association may offer modifications to the owners of policies or contracts, classes of policies, or contracts issued by the insolvent insurer, if the association finds that under the policies or contracts the benefits provided, provisions pertaining to renewal, or the premiums charged or which may be charged are not reasonable. If the owner of a policy or contract to be modified fails or refuses to accept the modification as approved by the court, the association may terminate the policy or contract as of a date not less than one hundred eighty days after the modification is sent to the owner. The association shall have no liability under the policy or contract for any claim incurred or continuing beyond the termination date.

4. If the association fails to act within a reasonable period of time as provided in subsection 2, the commissioner shall have the powers and duties of the association under this chapter with respect to insolvent insurers.

5. Upon request the association may give assistance and advice to the commissioner concerning the rehabilitation, payment of claims, continuance of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of an impaired or insolvent insurer.

6. The association has standing to appear before any court in this state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer concerning which the association is or may become obligated under this chapter. Standing shall extend to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the association including, but not limited to, proposals for reinsuring or guaranteeing the covered policies of the impaired or insolvent insurer and the determination of the covered policies and contractual obligations.

7. a. A person receiving benefits under this chapter is deemed to have assigned the rights under the covered policy to the association to the extent of the benefits received under this chapter, whether the benefits are payments of contractual obligations or a continuation of coverage. The association may require an assignment to the association of the rights by a payee, policyholder or contract owner, beneficiary, insured, or annuitant as a condition precedent to the receipt of any rights or benefits conferred by this chapter upon the person. The association shall be subrogated to these rights against the assets of the insolvent insurer.

b. The subrogation rights of the association under this subsection have the same priority against the assets of the insolvent insurer as that possessed by the owner of a policy or contract.

c. In addition to the rights pursuant to subsection 3, paragraphs "a" and "b", the association shall have all common law rights of subrogation and any other equitable or legal remedy which would have been available to the insolvent insurer or holder of a policy or contract.

8. The contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer, for which the association becomes or may become liable, are as great as but not greater than the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer would have been in the absence of an insolvency, unless the obligations are reduced as permitted in this chapter. However, with respect to any one life, the aggregate liability of the association shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars in cash and termination values, or three hundred thousand dollars for all benefits, including cash and termination values, death benefits, annuity payments, accident and health benefits, and all other amounts payable under all policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer. With respect to any one holder of an unallocated annuity contract, the aggregate liability of the association shall not exceed one million dollars of contract benefits, irrespective of the number of contracts held by the contract holder.

9. The association has no obligation for either of the following:

a. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

b. To issue a group conversion policy of any nature to a person or to continue a group coverage in force for more than sixty days following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

c. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

d. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

f. To issue a group conversion policy of any nature to a person or to continue a group coverage in force for more than sixty days following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

g. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

h. To issue a group conversion policy of any nature to a person or to continue a group coverage in force for more than sixty days following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

i. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

j. To issue a group conversion policy of any nature to a person or to continue a group coverage in force for more than sixty days following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

k. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

l. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

m. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

n. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

o. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

p. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

r. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

s. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

t. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

u. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

v. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

w. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

x. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

y. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.

z. To continue coverage, or to pay a claim for benefits to any person under an individual accident, health, or disability policy accruing more than three years following the date the member insurer was adjudicated to be insolvent.
508C.16 Immunity — indemnification.
A member insurer and its agents and employees, the association and its agents and employees, members of the board of directors, and the commissioner and the commissioner’s representatives are not liable for any action taken by them or omission by them while acting within the scope of their employment and in the performance of their powers and duties under this chapter

CHAPTER 509
GROUP INSURANCE

509.1 Form of policy.
No policy of group life, accident or health insurance shall be delivered in this state unless it conforms to one of the following descriptions
1 A policy issued to an employer, or to the trustees of a fund established by an employer, which employer or trustee shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employer for the benefit of persons other than the employer, subject to the following requirements
a The employees eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the employees of one or more subsidiary corporations, and the employees, individual proprietors, and partners of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships if the business of the employer and of such affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships is under common control through stock ownership, contract, or otherwise The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees The policy may also provide that the term "employees" shall include the board of directors if the employer is a corporation
b The premium for the group life policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the employer's funds or funds contributed by the employer, or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured employees No policy, except accident and health, may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees may be placed in force only if at least seventy-five percent of the then eligible employees, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees must insure all eligible employees, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer
c The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the employees or by the employer or trustees
d Group policies may include dependents of the employee, including the spouse e The policy shall not exclude from coverage an employee or an employee's spouse or dependents on the basis of the eligibility of the employee or the employee's spouse or dependents for medical assistance under chapter 249A 2 A policy issued to any one of the following to be considered the policyholder a An advisory, supervisory, or governing body or bodies of a regularly organized religious denomination to insure its clergy, priests, or ministers of the gospel
b A teachers' association, to insure its members
c A lawyers' association, to insure its members d A volunteer fire company, to insure all of its members e A fraternal society or association, or any subordinate lodge or branch thereof, to insure its members
f A common principal of any group of persons similarly engaged between whom there exists a contractual relationship, to insure the members of such group
g An association, the members of which are students, teachers, administrators or officials of any elementary or secondary school or of any college, to insure the members thereof For the purpose of this paragraph the students, teachers, administrators or officials of or for any such school or college shall constitute an association Provided that the provisions and requirements of subsection 1 of this section shall apply to such policy and the policyholder and insured in like manner as said subsection 1 of this section applies to employers and employees, except that if a policy is issued to a volunteer fire company or an association, the members of which are students, teachers, administrators or officials of any elementary or secondary school or of any college, the requirement for twenty-five members shall not apply, and, if issued to a teachers' association or lawyers' association, not less than sixty-five percent of the members thereof may be insured.

3. A policy issued to a creditor, who shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure debtors of the creditor, subject to the following requirements:

a. The debtors eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the debtors of the creditor, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to the indebtedness or to the purchase giving rise to the indebtedness. The policy may provide that the term "debtors" shall include the debtors of one or more subsidiary corporations, and the debtors of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships if the business of the policyholder and of such affiliated corporations, proprietors or partnerships is under common control through stock ownership, contract, or otherwise.

b. The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either from the creditor's funds, or from charges collected from the insured debtors, or from both. A policy on which part or all of the premium is to be derived from the collection from the insured debtors of identifiable charges not required of uninsured debtors shall not include, in the class or classes of debtors eligible for insurance, debtors under obligations outstanding at its date of issue without evidence of individual insurability unless at least seventy-five percent of the then eligible debtors elect to pay the required charges. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from the collection of such identifiable charges must insure all eligible debtors, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

c. The policy may be issued only if the group of eligible debtors is then receiving new entrants at the rate of at least one hundred persons yearly, or may reasonably be expected to receive at least one hundred new entrants during the first policy year, and only if the policy reserves to the insurer the right to require evidence of individual insurability if less than seventy-five percent of the new entrants become insured.

d. The amount of insurance on the life of a debtor shall not exceed the amount owed by the debtor to the creditor, or the face amount of a totally or partially executed loan or loan commitment creating personal liability and made in good faith for general agricultural or horticultural purposes to a debtor with seasonal income. However, in no event shall the amount of insurance exceed fifty thousand dollars.

e. The insurance shall be payable to the policyholder. Such payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of such payment. Provided that in the case of a debtor for agricultural or horticultural purposes of the type described in paragraph "d", the insurance in excess of indebtedness to the creditor, if any, shall be payable to a named beneficiary, to the estate of the debtor or under the provision of a facility of payment clause.

4. A policy issued to a labor union, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure members of such union for the benefit of persons other than the union or any of its officials, representatives, or agents, subject to the following requirements:

a. The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the members of the union or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, or to membership in the union, or both.

b. The premium for the group life policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the union's funds, or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. No policy, except accident and health, may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance may be placed in force only if at least sixty-five percent of the then eligible members, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible members, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

c. The policy must cover at least ten members at date of issue.

d. The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the members or by the union.

e. Policies may include dependents of the insured, including the spouse.

f. The policy shall not exclude from coverage a member or a member's spouse or dependents on the basis of the eligibility of the member or the member's spouse or dependents for medical assistance under chapter 249A.

5. A policy issued to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers in the same industry or by two or more labor unions or by one or more employers and by one or more labor unions which trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions, subject to the following requirements:

a. The persons eligible for insurance shall be all of the employees of the employers or all of the members of the unions, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, or to membership in the unions, or both. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with such trusteeship. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees. The policy may also provide that the term "employees" shall include the board of directors if the employer is a corporation.

b. The premium for the policy shall be paid by the trustees wholly from funds established by the employers of the insured persons. The policy must insure all eligible persons, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, if the funds are contributed wholly by the employer or unions.

c. The policy must cover at least one hundred persons at date of issue.

d. The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the insured persons or by the policyholder, employers, or unions.

e. Policies may include dependents of the insured, including the spouse.

f. The policy shall not exclude from coverage an employee or member or an employee's or member's spouse or dependents on the basis of the eligibility of the employee or member or employee's or member's spouse or dependents for medical assistance under chapter 249A.

6. A policy issued to any nonprofit industrial association (to be deemed the policyholder) incorporated for a period of at least ten years and organized for purposes other than obtaining insurance, subject to the following requirements:

a. If two or more members of the association, or any class or classes of members thereof determined by conditions pertaining to insurance, elect to insure their employees or any class or classes of employees determined by conditions pertaining to employment; and

b. The total number of insured employees must not be less than one thousand, and of these not less than seventy-five percent must be employees of members with at least twenty insured employees each, and further, not more than ten percent may be employees of members with less than ten insured employees each; and

c. The insurance premiums are paid by such members to the association; each member, insofar as applicable to the member's own employees, may collect part of the premium from insured employees, and the method of apportionment of the premium payment between the member and the member's employees may be varied as among individual members; and

d. Not less than seventy-five percent of the eligible employees of each participating member may be insured where the employees pay a part of the premium. The word "employees" as used in this subsection shall also include the individual members and employees of such association.

e. Policies may include dependents of the employees, including the spouse.

f. The policy shall not exclude from coverage an employee or an employee's spouse or dependents on the basis of the eligibility of the employee or the employee's spouse or dependents for medical assistance under chapter 249A. This paragraph shall also apply to corporations operating within the state who provide insurance coverage for their employees directly, and the commissioner shall have the authority to enforce the provisions of this paragraph.

7. A policy issued to the department of human services, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure eligible persons for medical assistance, or for both medical assistance and additional medical assistance, as defined by chapter 249A as hereafter amended.

8. A policy issued to a resident of this state under a group life, accident, or health insurance policy issued to a group other than one described in subsections 1 through 7, subject to the following requirements:

a. The commissioner determines that all of the following apply:

   (1) The issuance of the group policy is not contrary to the best interest of the public.

   (2) The issuance of the group policy will result in economies of acquisition or administration.

   (3) The benefits under the group policy are reasonable in relation to the premium charged.

b. The commissioner need not make a determination under paragraph "a" if the commissioner determines that the group insurance coverage offered in this state by an insurer or other person is offered under a policy issued in another state and that state or another state in which the policy is offered, having requirements substantially similar to those in paragraph "a", has determined that the policy meets those requirements.

c. The premium for the policy shall be paid either from the policyholder's funds, or from funds contributed by the covered person, or both.

d. The insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

e. If compensation of any kind will or may be paid to the policyholder in connection with the group policy, the insurer shall provide to the prospective insured written notice that compensation will or may be paid. Notice shall be provided whether the compensation is direct or indirect, and whether the compensation is paid to or retained by the policyholder, or paid to or retained by a third party at the direction of the policyholder or any entity affiliated with the policyholder by ownership, contract, or employment. The notice shall be placed on or accompa-any document designed for the enrollment of prospective insureds.

510.1B Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Actuary" means a person who is a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries.

2. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance.

3. "Insurer" means a person duly licensed in this state as an insurance company pursuant to this title.

4. a. "Managing general agent" means any person who engages in all of the following:
   (1) Negotiates and binds ceding reinsurance contracts on behalf of an insurer or manages all or part of the insurance business of an insurer, including the management of a separate division, department, or underwriting office, and who acts as an agent for such insurer whether known as a managing general agent, manager, or other similar term or title.
   (2) With or without authority and either separately or together with affiliates, directly or indirectly produces, and underwrites, an amount of gross direct written premium equal to or greater than five percent of the policyholder surplus in any one quarter or year as reported in the last annual statement of the insurer.
   (3) Engages in either or both of the following:
      (a) Adjusts or pays claims in excess of an amount determined by the commissioner.
      (b) Negotiates reinsurance on behalf of the insurer.
   b. Managing general agent does not include any of the following:
      (1) An employee of the insurer.
      (2) A manager of a United States branch of an alien insurer who resides in this country.
      (3) An underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all insurance operations of the insurer, who is under common control with the insurer, subject to chapter 521A relating to the regulation of insurance holding company systems, and who is not compensated based upon the volume of premiums written.
      (4) An insurance company, in connection with the acceptance or rejection of reinsurance on a block of business.
      (5) The attorney-in-fact authorized by or acting for the subscribers of a reciprocal insurer or interinsurance exchange under power of attorney.
   5. "Underwrite" means the authority to accept or reject risk on behalf of the insurer.

510.4 Licensure required — bond.
1. A person shall not act in the capacity of a managing general agent with respect to risks located in this state for an insurer licensed in this state unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.

2. A person shall not act in the capacity of a managing general agent representing an insurer domiciled in this state with respect to risks located outside this state unless the person is licensed as a resident or nonresident producer in this state pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

§510.5 Required contract provisions — limitations.

1 A person acting in the capacity of a managing general agent shall not place business with an insurer unless a written contract is in force between the parties which sets forth the responsibilities of each party. If both parties share responsibility for a particular function, the contract must specify the division of such responsibilities, and must contain, at a minimum, all of the following provisions:

a. The insurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the managing general agent. The insurer may suspend the underwriting authority of a managing general agent during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination. The insurer shall advise the commissioner of a termination or a suspension pursuant to this paragraph.

b. A managing general agent shall render accounts to the insurer detailing all transactions and remit all funds due under the contract to the insurer on not less than a monthly basis.

c. All funds collected for the account of an insurer shall be held by a managing general agent in a fiduciary capacity in a bank which is a member of the federal reserve system. This account shall be used for all payments on behalf of the insurer. A managing general agent may retain no more than three months' estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses.

d. Separate records of business written by a managing general agent shall be maintained. An insurer shall have access and a right to copy all accounts and records related to the insurer's business in a form usable by the insurer and the commissioner. Such records shall be retained at least until after completion by the insurance division of the next triennial examination of the insurer.

e. Appropriate underwriting guidelines including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) The maximum annual premium volume

(2) The basis of the rates to be charged

(3) The types of risks which may be written

(4) Maximum limits of liability

(5) Applicable exclusions

(6) Territorial limitations

(7) Policy cancellation provisions

(8) The maximum length or duration of the policy period

The insurer may cancel or refuse to renew any policy of insurance produced or underwritten by a managing general agent, subject to the applicable laws and rules concerning the cancellation and nonrenewal of insurance policies.

2 Permissible provisions in a contract and their requirements include the following:

a. If the contract permits a managing general agent to settle claims on behalf of the insurer; all of the following requirements apply:

(1) All claims reported must be reported by the managing general agent to the insurer in a timely manner.

(2) A copy of the claim file must be sent to the insurer at its request or as soon as the managing general agent knows that the claim meets one or more of the following conditions:

(a) The claim has the potential to exceed an amount determined by the commissioner or exceeds the limit set by the insurer, whichever is less.

(b) The claim involves a coverage dispute.

(c) The claim may exceed the claims settlement authority of the managing general agent.

(d) The claim is open for more than six months.

(e) The claim is closed by payment of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the insurer, whichever is less.

(3) All claim files shall be the joint property of the insurer and the managing general agent. However, upon an order of liquidation of the insurer the files become the sole property of the insurer or its estate. The managing general agent shall have reasonable access to and the right to copy the files on a timely basis.

(4) Any settlement authority granted to the managing general agent may be terminated for cause upon the insurer's written notice to the managing general agent or upon the termination of the contract. The insurer may suspend the settlement authority during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

b. If electronic claims files are in existence, the contract must address the timely transmission or transfer of the data contained in the files.

c. If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the managing general agent, and the managing general agent has the authority to determine the amount of interim profits by establishing loss reserves, by controlling claim payments, or by determining the amount of interim profits in any other manner, interim profits shall not be paid to the managing general agent until one year after they are earned for property insurance business and five years after they are earned for casualty insurance business, and not until the interim profits have been verified pursuant to section 510.6.

3 A managing general agent shall not do any of the following:

a. Bind reinsurance or retrocessions on behalf of the insurer, except that a managing general agent may bind facultative reinsurance contracts pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the insurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines including, for both reinsurance assumed... and ceded, a list of reinsurers with which such automatic agreements are in effect, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

b. Commit the insurer to participate in insurance or reinsurance syndicates.

c. Appoint any producer without assuring that the producer is lawfully licensed to transact the type of insurance for which the producer is appointed.

d. Without prior approval of the insurer, pay or commit the insurer to pay a claim over a specified amount, net of reinsurance, which exceeds one percent of the policyholder's surplus of the insurer as of December 31 of the previous calendar year.

e. Collect any payment from a reinsurer or commit the insurer to any claim settlement with a reinsurer without prior approval of the insurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded by the managing general agent to the insurer.

f. Permit its subproducer to serve on the insurer's board of directors.

g. Jointly employ an individual who is employed by the insurer.

h. Appoint a submanaging general agent.

510.6 Duties of insurers.
1. An insurer shall have on file an independent financial examination, in a form acceptable to the commissioner, of each managing general agent with which the insurer does or has done business.

2. If a managing general agent establishes loss reserves, the insurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by a managing general agent. This is in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

3. An insurer shall periodically, but at least semi-annually, conduct an on-site review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of each managing general agent with which the insurer is currently doing business.

4. Binding authority for all reinsurance contracts or participation in insurance or reinsurance syndicates shall rest with an officer of the insurer, who is not affiliated with the managing general agent.

5. Within thirty days of entering into or termination of a contract with a managing general agent, the insurer shall provide written notification of the appointment or termination to the commissioner. A notice of appointment of a managing general agent must include a statement of duties which the applicant is expected to perform on behalf of the insurer, the lines of insurance for which the applicant is to be authorized to act, and any other information the commissioner may request.

6. An insurer shall review its books and records each quarter and determine if any producer, as defined by section 510A.2, has become, by operation of section 510.1B, subsection 4, a managing general agent as defined in that section. If the insurer determines that a producer has become a managing general agent by operation of section 510.1B, subsection 4, the insurer shall promptly notify the producer and the commissioner of such determination and the insurer and producer shall fully comply with the provisions of this chapter within thirty days.

7. An insurer shall not appoint to its board of directors an officer, director, employee, producer, or controlling shareholder of a managing general agent of the insurer. This subsection shall not apply to relationships governed by chapter 521A relating to the regulation of insurance company holding systems, or, if applicable, by chapter 510A relating to the regulation of producer controlled property and casualty insurers.

510.8 Penalties and liabilities.
1. If the commissioner finds, after a hearing conducted in accordance with chapter 17A, that any person has violated one or more provisions of this chapter, the commissioner may do one or more of the following:

a. For each separate violation, order the imposition of an administrative penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars.

b. Order the revocation or suspension of the producer's license.

c. Bring a civil suit seeking reimbursement by the managing general agent of the insurer, the rehabilitator, or the liquidator of the insurer for any losses incurred by the insurer caused by a violation of this chapter committed by the managing general agent.

2. The decision, determination, or order of the commissioner pursuant to subsection 1 is subject to judicial review pursuant to chapter 17A.

3. This section does not affect the right of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided for under this title.

4. This chapter is not intended to and shall not in any manner limit or restrict the rights of policyholders, claimants, and auditors.

510.9 Rules.
The commissioner may adopt rules, pursuant to chapter 17A, as necessary or convenient for the implementation and administration of this chapter.
§510.10 Exemption.
A managing general agent who complies with sections 510.1A through 510.9 for a block of business, shall not also be required to comply with sections 510.20 and 510.21 with regard to the same block of business.

CHAPTER 510A
PRODUCER CONTROLLED PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURERS

510A.1 Short title.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the “Producer Controlled Property and Casualty Insurer Act.”

510A.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Captive insurer” means an insurance company which is owned by another organization for the exclusive purpose of insuring risks of the organization and any affiliated company, or in the case of groups and associations, an insurance organization owned by the insureds for the exclusive purpose of insuring risks of group and association members and any affiliates.
2. “Control” means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise. Control shall be presumed to exist if any person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the powers to vote or holds proxies representing a majority of the outstanding voting securities of any other person. A person is not deemed to control another person solely by reason of being an officer or director of the other person.
3. “Independent casualty actuary” means a casualty actuary who is a member of the American academy of actuaries and who is not an employee, principal, the direct or indirect owner of, affiliated with, or in any way controlled by the insurer or producer.
4. “Licensed property and casualty insurer” or “insurer” means a person licensed to transact a property and casualty insurance business in this state and which issues policies covered by chapter 515B, which establishes the insurance guaranty association. The following are not licensed property and casualty insurers for the purposes of this chapter:
   a. All nonadmitted insurers.
   c. All residual market pools and joint underwriting authorities or associations.
   d. All captive insurers.
5. “Producer” means an insurance broker or any other person when such person acts or aids in any manner in soliciting, negotiating, or procuring the making of an insurance contract on behalf of an insured, who is not that person, for any compensation, commission, or other thing of value. “Producer” does not include an exclusive agent or an independent agent acting on behalf of the controlled insurer or any subagent or representative of such agent, who acts as such in the solicitation of, negotiation for, or procurement or making of an insurance contract, if the agent, subagent, or representative is not also acting in the capacity of an insurance broker in the same transaction.
6. “Reinsurance intermediary” means a person who acts as a producer in soliciting, negotiating, or procuring the making of a reinsurance contract or binder on behalf of a ceding insurer, or acts as a producer in accepting a reinsurance contract or binder on behalf of an assuming insurer.
7. “Violation” means a finding by the commissioner that one or more of the following has occurred:
   a. The controlling producer has not materially complied with section 510A.3.
   b. The controlled insurer, with respect to business placed by the controlling producer, has engaged in a pattern of charging premiums that were lower than those being charged by the insurer or other insurers for similar risks written during the same period and placed by noncontrolling producers. When determining whether premiums were lower than those prevailing in the market, the commissioner shall take into consideration applicable industry or actuarial standards at the time the business was written.

c. The controlling producer failed to maintain records, sufficient to demonstrate that the producer's dealings with its controlled insurer were fair and equitable and in compliance with chapter 521A or to accurately disclose the nature and details of its transactions with the controlled insurer, including such information as is necessary to support the charges or fees to the respective parties.

d. The controlled insurer either failed to establish, or deviated from, its underwriting procedures with respect to business placed by the controlling producer.

e. The controlled insurer's capitalization at the time the business was placed by the controlling producer and with respect to such business was not in compliance with criteria established by the commissioner or with this title.

f. The controlling producer or the controlled insurer failed to substantially comply with chapter 521A.

§510A.3 Limitation on business placed with controlled insurer.

1. A producer which has control of a licensed property and casualty insurer shall not directly or indirectly place business with the insurer in any transaction in which the producer, at the time the business is placed, is acting as a producer on behalf of the insured for any compensation, commission, or other thing of value, unless all of the following conditions are satisfied:

a. A written contract, which is subject to the commissioner's review and approval, has been entered into between the controlling producer and the insurer which has been approved by the board of directors of the insurer and filed with the commissioner.

b. The producer, prior to the effective date of any policy, delivers written notice to the prospective insured disclosing the relationship between the producer and the controlled insurer. The disclosure notice shall be signed by the insured and retained in the underwriting file until the filing of the report on examination covering the period in which the coverage is in effect. However, if the business is placed through an agent of the producer who is not a controlling producer, the controlling producer shall retain in the controlling producer's records a signed commitment from the agent of the producer that the agent of the producer is aware of the relationship between the insurer and the producer and that the agent of the producer has or will notify the insured of the relationship.

c. All funds collected for the account of the insurer by the controlling producer, after commission payments, cancellations, and other adjustments are made, must be paid to the insurer at least quarterly.

2. In addition to any other required loss reserve certification, the controlled insurer, on April 1 of each year, shall annually file with the commissioner an opinion of an independent casualty actuary, or of another independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner, reporting loss ratios for each line of business written and attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding as of the end of the year, including incurred losses not reported, on business placed by the producer.

3. The controlled insurer shall annually report to the commissioner the amount of commissions paid to the producer, the percentage such amount represents of the net premiums written, and comparable amounts and percentages paid to noncontrolling producers for placements of the same kinds of insurance.

4. A controlled insurer must establish an audit committee of the board of directors composed of independent directors. Prior to approval of the annual financial statement, the audit committee shall meet with management, the insurer's independent certified public accountants, and an independent casualty actuary, or another independent loss reserve specialist acceptable to the commissioner, to review the adequacy of the insurer's loss reserves.

5. A reinsurance intermediary which has control of an assuming insurer shall not directly or indirectly place business with the assuming insurer in any transaction in which such reinsurance intermediary is acting as a broker on behalf of the ceding insurer. A reinsurance intermediary which has control of a ceding insurer shall not directly or indirectly accept business from the ceding insurer in any transaction in which such reinsurance intermediary is acting as a producer on behalf of the assuming insurer. The prohibitions in this subsection shall not apply to a reinsurance intermediary which makes a full and complete written disclosure to the parties of its relationship with the assuming or ceding insurer prior to completion of the transaction.

§510A.4 Liability of controlling producer in the event of insolvency of controlled insurer.

1. If the commissioner has reason to believe that a controlling producer has committed or is committing an act which could be determined to be a violation, as defined in section 510A 2, the commissioner shall serve upon the controlling producer in the manner provided by chapter 17A, a statement of the charges and notice of a hearing to be conducted in accordance with chapter 17A.

2. At such hearing the commissioner shall determine whether the controlling producer engaged in a violation, as defined in section 510A 2. The controlling producer shall have an opportunity to be heard and to present evidence rebutting the alleged violations. The final action of the commissioner is subject to judicial review pursuant to chapter 17A.

c. Upon the commissioner's finding of a violation by a controlling producer, the commissioner may bring a civil suit seeking reimbursement from the controlling producer as provided in paragraph "d". In the suit, the controlling producer shall have the burden of establishing that the insolvency of the controlled insurer arose out of events not attributable to the violation.

d. Upon a finding, pursuant to this section, that the controlling producer committed a violation and the controlling producer failed to establish that the violation did not substantially contribute to the insolvency, the controlling producer shall reimburse the state guaranty funds, created pursuant to chapter 515B for all payments made for losses, loss adjustment, and administrative expenses on the business placed by the producer in excess of gross earned premiums and investment income earned on premiums and loss reserves for such business.

e. This section does not affect the right of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided for under this title.

2. This chapter does not alter or affect the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors, or other third parties.

Subsection 1 amended

CHAPTER 511
PROVISIONS APPLYING TO LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND ASSOCIATIONS

511.8 Investment of funds.
A company organized under chapter 508 shall, at all times, have invested in the securities provided in this section, funds equivalent to its legal reserve. Legal reserve is the net present value of all outstanding policies and contracts involving life contingencies. This section does not prohibit a company or association from holding a portion of its legal reserve in cash.

The investment programs developed by companies shall take into account the safety of the company's principal, investment yield and return, stability in the value of the investment, and liquidity necessary to meet the company's expected business needs and investment diversification.

1. United States government obligations. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the United States of America, or by any agency or instrumentality thereof.

2. State, District of Columbia, territorial and municipal obligations. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the District of Columbia, or by any state, insular or territorial possession of the United States of America, or by any county, city, town, school, road, drainage, or other district located within any state, or insular or territorial possession of the United States of America, or by any civil subdivision or governmental authority of any such state, or insular or territorial possession, or by any instrumentality of any such state, or insular or territorial possession, civil subdivision, or governmental authority; provided that the obligations are valid, legally authorized and issued.

3. Canadian government, provincial and municipal obligations. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada, or by any province thereof, or by any municipality or district therein, provided that the obligations are valid, legally authorized and issued.

4. International Bank bonds. Bonds or other evidence of indebtedness issued, assumed or guaranteed by the International Bank for reconstruction and development, in an amount not to exceed two percent of its total assets as shown by the last annual report, or by the Inter-American Development Bank in an amount not to exceed two percent of its total assets as shown by the last annual report, by the Asian Development Bank in an amount not to exceed two percent of its total assets as shown by the last annual report, by the African Development Bank in an amount not to exceed two percent of its total assets as shown by the last annual report, or by the International Bank for reconstruction and development.

5. Corporate obligations. Subject to the restrictions contained in subsection 8 hereof, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by a corporation incorporated under the laws of the United States of America, or of any state, district, insular or territorial possession thereof; or of the Dominion of Canada, or any province thereof; and which meet the following qualifications:
a. If fixed interest-bearing obligations, the net earnings of the issuing, assuming or guaranteeing corporation available for its fixed charges for a period of five fiscal years next preceding the date of acquisition of the obligations by such insurance company shall have averaged per year not less than one and one-half times such average annual fixed charges of the issuing, assuming or guaranteeing corporation applicable to such period, and, during at least one of the last two years of such period, its net earnings shall have been not less than one and one-half times its fixed charges for such year; or if, at the date of acquisition, the obligations are adequately secured and have investment qualities and characteristics wherein the speculative elements are not predominant.

However, with respect to fixed interest-bearing obligations which are issued, assumed or guaranteed by a financial company, the net earnings by the financial company available for its fixed charges for the period of five fiscal years preceding the date of acquisition of the obligations by the insurance company shall have averaged per year not less than one and one-fourth times such average annual fixed charges of the issuing, assuming or guaranteeing financial company applicable to such period, and, during at least one of the last two years of the period, its net earnings shall have been not less than one and one-fourth times its fixed charges for such year; or if, at the date of acquisition, the obligations are adequately secured and speculative elements are not predominant in their investment qualities and characteristics. As used in this paragraph, "financial company" means a corporation which on the average over its last five fiscal years preceding the date of acquisition of its obligations by the insurer, has had at least fifty percent of its net income, including income derived from subsidiaries, derived from the business of wholesale, retail, installment, mortgage, commercial, industrial or consumer financing, or from banking or factoring, or from similar or related lines of business.

b. If adjustment, income or other contingent interest obligations, the net earnings of the issuing, assuming or guaranteeing corporation available for its fixed charges for a period of five fiscal years next preceding the date of acquisition of the obligations by such insurance company shall have averaged per year not less than one and one-half times such average annual fixed charges of the issuing, assuming or guaranteeing corporation and its average annual maximum contingent interest applicable to such period and, during at least one of the last two years of such period, its net earnings shall have been not less than one and one-half times the sum of its fixed charges and maximum contingent interest for such year.

The term "net earnings available for fixed charges" as used herein shall mean the net income after deducting all operating and maintenance expenses, taxes other than any income taxes, depreciation and depletion, but nonrecurring items of income or expense may be excluded.

The term "fixed charges" as used herein shall include interest on unfunded debt and funded debt on a parity with or having a priority to the obligation under consideration.

The term "corporation" as used in this chapter includes a joint stock association, a partnership, or a trust.

The securities, real estate, and mortgages described in this section include participations, which means instruments evidencing partial or undivided collective interests in such securities, real estate, and mortgages.

6. Preferred and guaranteed stocks. Subject to the restrictions contained in subsection 8 hereof, preferred stocks of, or stocks guaranteed by, a corporation incorporated under the laws of the United States of America, or of any state, district, insular or territorial possession thereof; or of the Dominion of Canada, or any province thereof, and which meet the following qualifications:

a. Preferred stocks.

(1) All of the obligations and preferred stocks of the issuing corporation, if any, prior to the preferred stock acquired must be eligible as investments under this section as of the date of acquisition; and

(2) The net earnings available for fixed charges and preferred dividends of the issuing corporation shall have been, for each of the five fiscal years immediately preceding the date of acquisition, not less than one and one-half times the sum of the annual fixed charges and contingent interest, if any, and the annual preferred dividend requirements as of the date of acquisition.

The term "preferred dividend requirements" shall mean cumulative or noncumulative dividends whether paid or not.

The term "fixed charges" shall be construed in accordance with subsection 5 above. The term "net earnings available for fixed charges and preferred dividends" as used herein shall mean the net income after deducting all operating and maintenance expenses, taxes, including any income taxes, depreciation and depletion, but nonrecurring items may be excluded.

b. Guaranteed stocks.

(1) All of the fixed interest-bearing obligations of the guaranteeing corporation, if any, must be eligible under this section as of the date of acquisition; and

(2) The net earnings available for fixed charges of the guaranteeing corporation shall meet the requirements outlined in paragraph "a" of subsection 5 above, except that all guaranteed dividends shall be included in "fixed charges".

Any investments in preferred stocks or guaranteed stocks made under the provisions of this subsection shall be considered as moneys and credits for purposes of taxation and their assessment shall be subject to deductions for indebtedness as provided by law in the case of assessment of moneys and credits in general. This provision shall be effective as to assessments made during the year 1947 and thereafter.

7. Equipment trust obligations. Subject to the restrictions contained in subsection 8, bonds, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness secured by any transportation equipment used wholly or in part in the United States of America or Canada, that provide a right to receive determined rental, purchase or other fixed obligatory payments adequate to retire the obligations within twenty years from date of issue, and also provide:

a. For vesting of title to such equipment free from encumbrance in a corporate trustee, or

b. For creation of a first lien on such equipment.

8. Further restrictions. Securities included under subsections 5, 6 and 7 shall not be eligible:

a. If the corporation is in default on fixed obligations as of the date of acquisition. Securities provided in paragraph "a" of subsection 6 shall not be eligible if the issuing corporation is in arrears with respect to the payment of any preferred dividends as of the date of acquisition.

b. The investments of any company or association in such securities shall not be eligible in excess of the following percentages of the legal reserve of such company or association:

1. With the exception of public securities, two percent of the legal reserve in the securities of any one corporation. Five percent of the legal reserve in the securities of any one public utility corporation.

2. Fifty percent of the legal reserve in the securities described in subsection 5 issued by other than public utility corporations. Fifty percent of the legal reserve in the securities described in subsection 5 issued by public utility corporations.

3. Ten percent of the legal reserve in the securities described in subsection 6.

4. Ten percent of the legal reserve in securities described in subsection 7.

c. Statements adjusted to show the actual condition at the time of acquisition or the effect of new financing (known commercially as pro forma statements) may be used in determining whether investments under subsections 5 and 6 are in compliance with requirements. Statements so adjusted or consolidated statements may be used in order to include the earnings of all predecessor, merged, consolidated, or purchased companies.

9. Real estate bonds and mortgages

a. Bonds, notes, obligations, or other evidences of indebtedness secured by mortgages or deeds of trust which are a first or second lien upon otherwise unencumbered real property and appurtenances thereto within the United States of America, or any insular or territorial possession of the United States, or the Dominion of Canada, and upon leasehold estates in real property where fifty years or more of the term including renewals is unexpired, provided that at the date of acquisition the total indebtedness secured by the first or second lien shall not exceed ninety percent of the value of the property upon which it is a lien. However, a company or organization shall not acquire an indebtedness secured by a first or second lien upon a single parcel of real property, or upon a leasehold interest in a single parcel of real property, in excess of two percent of its legal reserve. These limitations do not apply to obligations described in paragraphs "b", "c", "d", "e" and "f" of this subsection.

Improvements and appurtenances to real property shall not be considered in estimating the value of the property unless the owner contracts to keep the property adequately insured during the life of the loan in some reliable fire insurance companies, or associations, the insurance to be made payable in case of loss to the mortgagee, trustee, or assignee as its interest appears at the time of the loss.

For the purpose of this subsection a mortgage or deed of trust is not other than a first or second lien upon property by reason of the existence of taxes or assessments that are not delinquent, instruments creating or reserving mineral, oil, or timber rights, rights of way, joint driveways, sewer rights, rights in walls or by reason of building restrictions or other like restrictive covenants, or when the real estate is subject to lease in whole or in part whereby rents or profits are reserved to the owner.

b. Bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness representing loans and advances of credit that have been issued, guaranteed, or insured, in accordance with the terms and provisions of an Act of Congress of the United States of America approved June 27, 1934, entitled the "National Housing Act"*, as heretofore and hereafter amended.

c. Bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness representing loans and advances of credit that have been issued or guaranteed, in whole or in part, in accordance with the terms and provisions of Title III of an Act of Congress of the United States of America approved June 22, 1944, known as Public Law 346 — Seventy-eighth Congress, Chapter 268 — 2nd Session, cited as the "Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944", as heretofore and hereafter amended.

d. Contracts of sale, purchase money mortgages or deeds of trust secured by property obtained through foreclosure, or in settlement or satisfaction of any indebtedness, or in the acquisition or disposition of real property acquired pursuant to subsection 14.

e. Bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness representing loans and advances of credit that have been issued or guaranteed, in whole or in part, in accordance with Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, an Act of the Congress of the United States of America, cited as the "Farmers Home Administration Act of 1946, as heretofore or hereafter amended.

f. Bonds, notes, obligations or other evidences of indebtedness secured by mortgages or deeds of trust which are a first lien upon unencumbered personal or real property or both personal and real property, including a leasehold of real estate, within the United States of America, or any insular or territorial possession of the United States of America, or the Dominion of Canada, under lease, purchase contract, or lease purchase contract to any government-Any company or association may improve real estate so acquired or remodel existing improvements and exchange such real estate for other real estate or securities, and real estate acquired by such exchange may be improved or the improvements remodeled.

11. Certificates of sale. Certificates of sale obtained through foreclosure of liens on real estate.

12. Policy loans. Loans upon the security of the policies of the company or association and constituting a lien thereon in an amount not exceeding the legal reserve thereon.

13. Collateral loans. Loans secured by collateral consisting of any securities qualified in this section, provided the amount of the loan is not in excess of ninety percent of the value of the securities.

Provided further that subsection 8 of this section shall apply to the collateral securities pledged to the payment of loans authorized in this subsection.

14. Urban real estate and personal property. Personal or real property or both located within the United States or the Dominion of Canada, other than real property used or to be used primarily for agricultural, horticultural, ranching or mining purposes, which produces income or which by suitable improvement will produce income. However, personal property acquired under this subsection shall be acquired for the purpose of entering into a contract for the sale or for a use under which the contractual payments may reasonably be expected to result in the recovery of the investment and an investment return within the anticipated useful life of the property. Legal title to the real property may be acquired subject to a contract of sale. "Real property" as used in this subsection includes a leasehold of real estate, an undivided interest in a leasehold of real estate, and an undivided interest in the fee title of real estate. Investments under this subsection are not eligible in excess of ten percent of the legal reserve.

15. Railroad obligations. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness which carry a fixed rate of interest and are issued, assumed or guaranteed by any railroad company incorporated under the laws of the United States or the Dominion of Canada, or of any state, district, insular or territorial possessions thereof, not in reorganization or receivership at the time of such investment, provided that the railroad company:

a. Shall have had for the three-year period immediately preceding investment (for which the necessary data for the railroad company shall have been published) a balance of income available for fixed charges which shall have averaged per year not less than one and one-quarter times the fixed charges for the latest year of the period; and

b. Shall have had for the three-year period immediately preceding investment (for which the necessary data for both the railroad company and all class I railroads shall have been published):

(1) A balance of income available for the payment of fixed charges at least as many times greater than the fixed charges for the latest year of the period as the balance of income available for the pay-

g. Bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness representing loans and advances of credit that have been issued, guaranteed, or insured, in accordance with the terms and provisions of an Act of the federal Parliament of the Dominion of Canada approved March 18, 1954, cited as the "National Housing Act, 1954", as heretofore and hereafter amended.

10. Real estate.

a. Real estate in this state which is necessary for the accommodation of the company or association as a home office or in the transaction of its business. In the erection of buildings for such purposes, there may be added rooms for rent. Before the company or association invests any of its funds in accordance with this paragraph it shall first obtain the consent of the commissioner. The maximum amount which a company or association shall be permitted to invest in accordance with these provisions shall not exceed ten percent of the legal reserve. However, a stock company may invest such portion of its paid-up capital, in addition to ten percent of the legal reserve, as is not held to constitute a part of its legal reserve, under section 508.36, and the total legal reserve of the company shall be equal to or exceed the amount of its paid-up capital stock.

b. Any real estate acquired through foreclosure, or in settlement or satisfaction of any indebtedness.
ment of fixed charges of all class I railroads for the same three-year period is times greater than the amount of all fixed charges for such class I railroads for the latest year of the period; and

(2) An amount of railway operating revenues remaining after deduction of three times the fixed charges for the latest year of the period from the balance of income available for the payment of fixed charges for the three-year period, which amount is as great a proportion of its railway operating revenues for the same three-year period as is the proportion of railway operating revenues remaining for all class I railroads, determined in the same manner and for the same period as for the railroad.

The terms "class I railroads", "balance of income available for the payment of fixed charges", "fixed charges" and "railway operating revenues" when used in this subsection, are to be given the same meaning as in the accounting reports filed by a railroad company in accordance with the regulations for common carriers by rail of the Interstate Commerce Act; 24 Stat. L. 379; 49 U.S.C. § 1 to 40 inc., 1001 to 1100 inc., provided that the "balance of income available for the payment of fixed charges" and "railway operating revenues remaining", as the terms are used in this subsection, shall be computed before de-donation of federal income or excess profits taxes; and that in computing "fixed charges" there shall be excluded interest and amortization charges applicable to debt called for redemption or which will otherwise mature within six months from the time of investment and for the payment of which funds have been or currently are being specifically set aside.

The eligibility of railroad obligations described in the first sentence of this subsection shall be determined exclusively as provided herein, without regard to the provisions for qualification contained in sub-sections 5 and 8 of this section. Provisions for qualification contained in this section shall not be constrained as applying to equipment trust obligations, guaranteed stocks, or contingent interest bonds of railroad companies. Investments made in accordance with the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible in excess of ten percent of the legal reserve.

16. Deposit of securities. Securities in an amount not less than the legal reserve as defined in this section shall be deposited and the deposit maintained with the commissioner of insurance or at such places as the commissioner may designate as will properly safeguard them. There may be included in the deposit an amount of cash on hand not in excess of five percent of the deposit required, that deposit to be evidenced by a certified check, certificate of deposit, or other evidence satisfactory to the commis-ioner of insurance. Deposits of securities may be made in excess of the amounts required by this section. A stock company organized under the laws of this state shall not be required to make a deposit until the legal reserve, as ascertained by the commis-ioner, exceeds the amount deposited by it as capital.
Real estate may be made a part of the deposit by furnishing evidence of ownership satisfactory to the commissioner and by conveying the real estate to the commissioner or the commissioner's successors in office by warranty deed. The commissioner and the successors in office shall hold the real estate in trust for the benefit of the policyholders of the company or members of the association. Real estate mortgage loans and policy loans may be made a part of the deposit by filing a verified statement of the loans with the commissioner, which statement is subject to check at the discretion of the commissioner.

The securities comprising the deposit of a companny or association against which proceedings are pending under section 508.18 shall vest in the state for the benefit of all policyholders of the company or association.

Securities or title to real estate on deposit may be withdrawn at any time and other eligible securities may be substituted, provided the amount maintained on deposit is equal to the sum of the legal reserve and twenty-five thousand dollars. In the case of real estate the commissioner shall execute and de-diver to the company or association a quitclaim deed to the real estate. Any company or association shall, if requested by the commissioner, at the time of withdrawing any securities on deposit, designate for what purpose the same are being withdrawn.

Companies or associations having securities or title to real estate on deposit with the commissioner of insurance shall have the right to collect all dividends, interest, rent, or other income from the deposit unless proceedings against the company or association are pending under section 508.18, in which event the commissioner shall collect such interest, dividends, rent, or other income and add the same to the deposit.

Any company or association receiving payments or partial payments of principal on any securities deposited with the commissioner of insurance shall noify the commissioner of such fact at such times and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe, giving the amount and date of payment.

The commissioner of insurance may receive on deposit securities or title to real estate of alien companies authorized to do business in the state of Iowa, for the purpose of securing its policyholders in the state of Iowa and the United States. The provisions hereof not inconsistent with the deposit agreement shall apply to the deposits of such alien companies.

a. All bonds or other evidences of debt having a fixed term and rate of interest, if amply secured and not in default as to principal or interest, may be valued as follows:

(1) If purchased at par, at the par value.

(2) If purchased above or below par, on the basis of the purchase price adjusted so as to bring the value to par at maturity and so as to yield in the meantime the effective rate of interest at which the purchase was made.

In applying the above rule, the purchase price shall in no case be taken at a higher figure than the actual market value at the time of purchase.
b. (1) Real estate acquired through foreclosure or in settlement or satisfaction of any indebtedness, shall be valued in an amount not greater than the amount of the unpaid principal of the defaulted indebtedness, plus any amounts actually expended for taxes, acquisition costs, (but not including any interest due or subsequently accrued thereon) and the cost of any additions or improvements.

(2) Real estate acquired and held under the provisions of paragraph "a" of subsection 10 hereof, shall be valued in an amount not greater than the original cost plus any subsequent additions or improvements.

c. Certificates of sale obtained by foreclosure of liens on real estate shall be valued in an amount not greater than the unpaid principal of the defaulted indebtedness plus any amounts actually expended for taxes and acquisition costs.

d. All investments, except those for which a specific rule is provided in this subsection, shall be valued at their market value, or at their appraised value, or at prices determined by the commissioner of insurance as representing their fair market value, or at a value as determined under rules adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

The commissioner of insurance shall have full discretion in determining the method of calculating values according to the foregoing rules, but no company or association shall be prevented from valuing any asset at an amount less than that provided by this subsection.

18. Common stocks or shares.

a. Common stocks or shares issued by solvent corporations or institutions are eligible if the total investment in stocks or shares in the corporations or institutions does not exceed ten percent of legal reserve, provided not more than one-half percent of the legal reserve is invested in stocks or shares of any one corporation. However, the stocks or shares shall be listed or admitted to trading on an established foreign securities exchange or a securities exchange in the United States or shall be publicly held and traded in the "over-the-counter market" and market quotations shall be readily available, and further, the investment shall not create a conflict of interest for an officer or director of the company between the insurance company and the corporation whose stocks or shares are purchased.

b. Common stocks or shares in a subsidiary corporation, the acquisition or purchase of which is authorized by section 508.33 are eligible if the total investment in these stocks or shares does not exceed five percent of the legal reserve. These stocks or shares are eligible even if the stocks or shares are not listed or admitted to trading on a securities exchange in the United States and are not publicly held and have not been traded in the "over-the-counter market". The stocks or shares shall be valued at their book value.

19. Other foreign government or corporate obligations. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, not to include currency, issued, assumed or guaranteed by a foreign government other than Canada, or by a corporation incorporated under the laws of a foreign government other than Canada. Any such governmental obligations must be valid, legally authorized and issued. Any such corporate obligations must meet the qualifications established in subsection 5 of this section for bonds and other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by a corporation incorporated under the laws of the United States or Canada. Foreign investments authorized by this subsection are not eligible in excess of two percent of the legal reserve of the life insurance company or association.

Eligible investments in foreign obligations under this subsection are limited to the types of obligations specifically referred to in this subsection. This subsection in no way limits or restricts investments in Canadian obligations and securities specifically authorized in other subsections of this section.

This subsection shall not authorize investment in evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by a foreign government which engages in a consistent pattern of gross violations of human rights.

20. Venture capital funds. Shares or equity interests in venture capital funds which agree to invest an amount equal to at least fifty percent of the funds in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state. A company shall not invest more than five percent of its legal reserve under this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, "venture capital fund" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of Canada. Any such ventures must meet the qualifications established in this subsection.

a. As used in this subsection:

(1) "Clearing corporation" means a corporation as defined in section 554.8102, subsection 3.

(2) "Custodian bank" means a federal or state bank or trust company regulated under the Iowa banking laws or the federal reserve system, which maintains an account in its name in a clearing corporation and acts as custodian of securities owned by a domestic insurer.

(3) "Federal reserve book-entry system" means the computerized system sponsored by the United States department of the treasury and certain agencies and instrumentalities of the United States for holding and transferring securities of the United States government and its agencies and instrumentalities, in the federal reserve banks through national banks, state banks, or trust companies, which either are members of the federal reserve system or otherwise have access to the computerized systems.

b. Securities deposited by a domestic insurance company with a custodian bank, or redeposited by a custodian bank with a clearing corporation, or held in the federal reserve book-entry system may be used to meet the deposit requirements of subsection 16. The commissioner shall adopt rules necessary to implement this section which:

1. Establish guidelines on which the commissioner determines whether a custodian bank qualifies as a bank in which securities owned by an insurer may be deposited for the purpose of satisfying the requirements of subsection 16.
2. Designate those clearing corporations in which securities owned by insurers may be deposited.
3. Set forth provisions that custodian agreements executed between custodian banks and insurers shall contain. These shall include provisions stating that minimum deposit levels shall be maintained and that the parties agree securities in deposits with custodian banks shall vest in the state in accordance with section 508.18 whenever proceedings under that section are instituted.

4. Establish other safeguards applicable to the use of custodian banks and clearing corporations by insurers which the commissioner believes necessary to protect the policyholders of the insurers.

c. A security owned by a domestic insurer and deposited in a custodian bank or clearing corporation does not qualify for purposes of its legal reserve deposit unless the custodian bank and clearing corporation are approved by the commissioner for that purpose.

512A.5 Fees to commissioner.
The following fees shall be paid to the commissioner for services required under this chapter, which shall be accounted for by the commissioner in the same manner as other fees received in the discharge of the duties of the office:

1. For filing and examination of amendments to the articles of incorporation in this state and the accompanying general plan of operation of any benevolent association, and the issuing of the permission to do business, twenty dollars.
2. For filing an annual statement of a benevolent association, and issuing the renewal of the permission required by law to authorize continuance in business, twenty-five dollars per existing unit, not to exceed three hundred dollars in the aggregate.

CHAPTER 512B
FRATERNAL BENEFIT SOCIETIES

512B.15 Consolidations and mergers.
1. A domestic society may consolidate or merge with a domestic society, foreign society, or society chartered under the laws of Canada or a Canadian province or territory, by complying with this section. The society shall file with the commissioner all of the following:
   a. A certified copy of the written contract containing in full the terms and conditions of the consolidation or merger.
   b. A sworn statement by the president and secretary, or corresponding officers of each society, showing the financial condition of the society on a date fixed by the commissioner.
   c. A certificate of each officer submitting a sworn statement pursuant to paragraph "b", duly verified, that the consolidation or merger contract has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the supreme governing body of each society, the vote having been conducted at a regular or special meeting of each such body, or, if the society’s laws so permit, by mail.
   d. Evidence that at least sixty days prior to the action of the supreme governing body of each society to approve the consolidation or merger contract, the text of the contract has been furnished to all members of each society either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of each society.
2. If the commissioner finds that the contract is in conformity with this section, that the financial statements are correct, and that the consolidation or merger contract has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the supreme governing body of each society, the vote having been conducted at a regular or special meeting of each such body, or, if the society’s laws so permit, by mail.
   a. A sworn statement by the president and secretary, or corresponding officers of each society, showing the financial condition of the society on a date fixed by the commissioner.
   b. A certificate of each officer submitting a sworn statement pursuant to paragraph "b", duly verified, that the consolidation or merger contract has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the supreme governing body of each society, the vote having been conducted at a regular or special meeting of each such body, or, if the society’s laws so permit, by mail.
3. Upon the consolidation or merger becoming effective, all the rights, franchises, and interests of the consolidated or merged societies in and to every kind of property, real, personal, or mixed, belonging to the societies shall be vested in the successor society without any other instrument, except that conveyances of real property may be evidenced by proper deeds. The title to real property or an interest in real property, vested under the laws of this state in any of the societies consolidated or merged, shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the consolidation or merger, but shall vest absolutely in the successor society.
4. The affidavit of an officer of the society or of a person authorized by the society to mail a notice or document, stating that the notice or document has been duly addressed and mailed, is prima facie evidence that the notice or document has been furnished the addressees.
CHAPTER 513A
REGULATION OF THIRD-PARTY PAYORS OF HEALTH CARE BENEFITS

513A.1 Purpose.
The purpose of this chapter is to give the commissioner jurisdiction over third-party payors of health care benefits, to indicate how a third-party payor of health care benefits may show the jurisdiction to which the third-party payor is subject, to allow for examinations by the commissioner if the third-party payor of health care benefits is unable to establish that a third-party payor is subject to another jurisdiction, to make a third-party payor of health care benefits subject to the laws of this state if the third-party payor cannot show that it is subject to another jurisdiction, and to disclose to purchasers of such health care benefits whether or not the plans are fully insured.

513A.2 Authority and jurisdiction of commissioner.
Except as provided in this chapter, a third-party payor providing coverage in this state for medical, surgical, chiropractic, physical therapy, speech pathology, audiology, professional mental health, dental, hospital, or optometric expenses, whether the coverage is by direct payment, reimbursement, or otherwise, is presumed to be subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner of insurance, unless the person shows that while providing such services the person is subject to the jurisdiction of another agency of the state or the federal government.

513A.3 How to show jurisdiction.
A third-party payor may establish that the third-party payor is subject to the jurisdiction of another agency of the state, any subdivision of the state, or the federal government, by providing to the insurance commissioner the appropriate certificate, license, or other document issued by the agency which permits or qualifies the third-party payor to provide those services.

513A.4 Examination.
A third-party payor unable to establish under section 513A.3 that the third-party payor is subject to the jurisdiction of another agency of the state, any subdivision of the state, or the federal government, shall submit to an examination by the insurance commissioner to determine the organization and solvency of the third-party payor or the entity, and to determine whether or not the third-party payor complies with the applicable provisions of state law.

513A.5 Subject to state laws.
A third-party payor unable to establish that the third-party payor is subject to the jurisdiction of another agency of the state, any subdivision of the state, or the federal government, is subject to all appropriate provisions of Title XX regarding the conduct of the business of the third-party payor.

513A.6 Production agency or administrator — disclosure.
A production agency or administrator which advertises, sells, transacts, or administers the coverage in this state as defined in section 513A.2 and which is required to submit to an examination by the insurance commissioner under section 513A.4, shall, if the coverage is not fully insured or otherwise fully covered by an admitted life or disability insurer, nonprofit hospital service plan, or nonprofit health care plan, advise every purchaser, prospective purchaser, and covered person of the lack of insurance or other coverage.

An administrator which advertises or administers the coverage in this state as defined in section 513A.2 and which is required to submit to an examination by the insurance commissioner under section 513A.4, shall advise any production agency of the elements of the coverage, including the amount of stop-loss insurance in effect.
513B.1 Title — purpose.
1. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Model Small Group Rating Law.
2. The intent of this chapter is to promote the availability of health insurance coverage to small employers, to prevent abusive rating practices, to require disclosure of rating practices to purchasers, to establish rules for continuity of coverage for employers and covered individuals, and to improve the efficiency and fairness of the small group health insurance marketplace.

513B.2 Definitions.
1. “Actuarial certification” means a written statement by a member of the American academy of actuaries or other individual acceptable to the commissioner that a small employer carrier is in compliance with the provisions of section 513B.4, based upon the person’s examination, including a review of the appropriate records and of the actuarial assumptions and methods utilized by the small employer carrier in establishing premium rates for applicable health benefit plans.
2. “Base premium rate” means, for each class of business as to a rating period, the lowest premium rate charged or which could have been charged under a rating system for that class of business, by the small employer carrier to small employers with similar case characteristics for health insurance plans with the same or similar coverage.
3. “Carrier” means any person who provides health insurance in this state. For the purposes of this chapter, carrier includes a licensed insurance company, a prepaid hospital or medical service plan, a health maintenance organization, a multiple employer welfare arrangement or any other person providing a plan of health insurance subject to state insurance regulation.
4. “Case characteristics” means demographic or other relevant characteristics of a small employer, as determined by a small employer carrier, which are considered by the insurer in the determination of premium rates for the small employer. Claim experience, health status, and duration of coverage since issue are not case characteristics for the purpose of this chapter.
5. “Class of business” means all or a distinct grouping of small employers as shown on the records of the small employer carrier.
a. A distinct grouping may only be established by the small employer carrier on the basis that the applicable health benefit plans meet one or more of the following requirements:
   (1) The plans are marketed and sold through individuals and organizations which are not participating in the marketing or sales of other distinct groupings of small employers for the small employer carrier.
   (2) The plans have been acquired from another small employer carrier as a distinct grouping of plans.
   (3) The plans are provided through an association with membership of not less than fifty small employers which has been formed for purposes other than obtaining insurance.
b. A small employer carrier may establish no more than two additional groupings under each of the subparagraphs in paragraph “a” on the basis of underwriting criteria which are expected to produce substantial variation in the health care costs.
c. The commissioner may approve the establishment of additional distinct groupings upon application to the commissioner and a finding by the commissioner that such action would enhance the efficiency and fairness of the small employer insurance marketplace.
6. “Commissioner” means the commissioner of insurance.
7. “Division” means the division of insurance.
8. “Health benefit plan” or “plan” means any hospital or medical expense incurred policy or certificate, hospital or medical service plan contract, or health maintenance organization subscriber contract. Health benefit plan does not include accident-only, credit, dental, or disability income insurance, coverage issued as a supplement to liability insurance, workers’ compensation or similar insurance, or automobile medical-payment insurance.
9. “Index rate” means for each class of business for small employers with similar case characteristics the average of the applicable base premium rate and the corresponding highest premium rate.
10. “New business premium rate” means, for each class of business as to a rating period, the lowest premium rate charged or offered by the small employer carrier to small employers with similar case characteristics for newly issued health benefit plans with the same or similar coverage.
11. “Rating period” means the calendar period for which premium rates established by a small employer carrier are assumed to be in effect, as determined by the small employer carrier.
12. “Small employer” means a person actively engaged in business who, on at least fifty percent of the employer's working days during the preceding year, employed no more than twenty-five full-time equivalent eligible employees. In determining the number of eligible employees, companies which are affiliated companies or which are eligible to file a combined tax return for purposes of state taxation are considered one employer.

13. “Small employer carrier” means any carrier which offers health benefit plans covering the employees of a small employer.

§513B.3 Small group health benefit plans subject to rating restrictions.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, this chapter applies to any health benefit plan which provides coverage to two or more employees of a small employer.

2. This chapter does not apply to individual health insurance policies which are subject to policy form and premium rate approval by the commissioner.

3. A small employer group shall, at a minimum, have at least two participating employees at the date of issue of the health benefit plan.

§513B.4 Restrictions relating to the premium rates.

1. Premium rates for health benefit plans subject to this chapter are subject to the following requirements:

a. The index rate for a rating period for any class of business shall not exceed the index rate for any other class of business by more than twenty percent.

b. For a class of business, the premium rates charged during a rating period to small employers with similar case characteristics for the same or similar coverage, or the rates which could be charged to such employers under the rating system for that class of business, shall not vary from the index rate by more than twenty-five percent of the index rate.

c. The percentage increase in the premium rate charged to a small employer for a new rating period shall not exceed the sum of the following:

   (1) The percentage change in the new business premium rate measured from the first day of the prior rating period to the first day of the new rating period. In the case of a class of business for which the small employer carrier is not issuing new policies, the small employer carrier shall use the percentage change in the base premium rate.

   (2) Any adjustment due to change in coverage or change in the case characteristics of the small employer as determined from the small employer carrier’s rate manual for the class of business.

   d. In the case of health benefit plans issued prior to July 1, 1991, a premium rate for a rating period may exceed the ranges described in subsection 1, paragraph “a” or “b” of this section, for a period of five years following July 1, 1991. In such case, the percentage increase in the premium rate charged to a small employer in such a class of business for a new rating period may not exceed the sum of the following:

      (1) The percentage change in the new business premium rate measured from the first day of the prior rating period to the first day of the new rating period. In the case of a class of business for which the small employer carrier is not issuing new policies, the small employer carrier shall use the percentage change in the base premium rate.

   e. Rates for individual employees or dependents may be adjusted for claims experience or health status at the date of issue as long as the total rates for the small employer are in compliance with this section. An individual employee or dependent adjustment in rates for claims experience or health status shall not be increased subsequent to the date of issue. The commissioner may prohibit individual rating upon adoption of health insurance access rules pursuant to section 514H.11.

2. This section does not affect the use by a small employer carrier of legitimate rating factors other than claim experience, health status, or duration of coverage in the determination of premium rates. Small employer carriers shall apply rating factors, including case characteristics, consistently with respect to all small employers in a class of business.

3. A small employer shall not be involuntarily transferred by a small employer carrier into or out of a class of business. A small employer carrier shall not offer to transfer a small employer into or out of a class of business unless the offer is made to transfer all small employers in the class of business without regard to case characteristics, claim experience, health status, or duration since issue.

§513B.5 Provisions on renewability of coverage.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, a health benefit plan subject to this chapter is renewable to all eligible employees and dependents at the option of the small employer, except for one or more of the following reasons:

   a. Nonpayment of required premiums.

   b. Fraud or misrepresentation of the small employer, or with respect to coverage of an insured individual, fraud or misrepresentation by the insured individual or the individual’s representative.
c. Noncompliance with plan provisions.

d. The number of individuals covered under the plan is less than the number or percentage of eligible individuals required by percentage requirements under the plan.

e. The small employer is no longer actively engaged in the business in which it was engaged on the effective date of the plan.

2. A small employer carrier may cease to renew all plans under a class of business, or all classes of business in a defined geographic region if the carrier is a health maintenance organization. The small employer carrier shall provide notice at least ninety days prior to termination of coverage to all affected health benefit plans and to the commissioner in each state in which an affected insured individual is known to reside. A small employer carrier which exercises its right to cease to renew all plans in a class of business shall not do either or both of the following:

a. Establish a new class of business for a period of five years after the nonrenewal of the plans without prior approval of the commissioner.

b. Transfer or otherwise provide coverage to any of the employers from the nonrenewed class of business unless the small employer carrier offers to transfer or provide coverage to all affected employers and eligible employees and dependents without regard to case characteristics, claim experience, health status, or duration of coverage.

513B.6 Disclosure of rating practices and renewability provisions.

A small employer carrier shall make reasonable disclosure in solicitation and sales materials provided to small employers of all of the following:

1. The extent to which premium rates for a specific small employer are established or adjusted due to the claim experience, health status, or duration of coverage of the employees or dependents of the small employer.

2. The provisions concerning the small employer carrier's right to change premium rates and factors, including case characteristics, which affect changes in premium rates.

3. A description of the class of business in which the small employer is or will be included, including the applicable grouping of plans.

4. The provisions relating to renewability of coverage.

513B.7 Maintenance of records.

1. A small employer carrier shall maintain at its principal place of business a complete and detailed description of its rating practices and renewal underwriting practices, including information and documentation which demonstrate that its rating methods and practices are based upon commonly accepted actuarial assumptions and are in accordance with sound actuarial principles.

2. A small employer carrier shall file each March 1 with the commissioner an actuarial certification that the small employer carrier is in compliance with this section and that the rating methods of the small employer carrier are actuarially sound. A copy of the certification shall be retained by the small employer carrier at its principal place of business.

3. A small employer carrier shall make the information and documentation described in subsection 1 available to the commissioner upon request. The information is not a public record or otherwise subject to disclosure under chapter 22, and is considered proprietary and trade secret information and is not subject to disclosure by the commissioner to persons outside of the division except as agreed to by the small employer carrier or as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction.

513B.8 Discretion of the commissioner.

The commissioner may suspend all or any part of section 513B.4 as to the premium rates applicable to one or more small employers for one or more rating periods upon a filing by the small employer carrier and a finding by the commissioner that the suspension is reasonable in light of the financial condition of the carrier or that the suspension would enhance the efficiency and fairness of the marketplace for small employer health insurance.

513B.9 Effective date — applicability.

This chapter shall apply to a health benefit plan for a small employer that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, or continued in this state after July 1, 1991. For purposes of this section, the date a plan is continued is the first rating period which commences after July 1, 1991.
CHAPTER 514
NONPROFIT HEALTH SERVICE CORPORATIONS

§514.4  Directors.
At least two-thirds of the directors of a hospital service corporation, medical service corporation, dental service corporation, or pharmaceutical or optometric service corporation subject to this chapter shall be at all times subscribers and not more than one-third of the directors shall be providers as provided in this section. The board of directors of each corporation shall consist of at least nine members.

A subscriber director is a director of the board of a corporation who is a subscriber and who is not a provider of health care pursuant to section 514B.1, subsection 5, a person who has material financial or fiduciary interest in the delivery of health care services or a related industry, an employee of an institution which provides health care services, or a spouse or a member of the immediate family of such a person. A subscriber director of a hospital or medical service corporation shall be a subscriber of the services of that corporation.

A provider director of a corporation subject to this chapter shall be at all times a person who has a material financial interest in or is a fiduciary to or an employee of or is a spouse or member of the immediate family of a provider having a contract with such corporation to render to its subscribers the services of such corporation or who is a hospital trustee.

A director may serve on a board of only one corporation at a time subject to this chapter.

The commissioner of insurance shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement the process of the election of subscriber directors of the board of directors of a corporation to ensure the representation of a broad spectrum of subscriber interest on each board and establish criteria for the selection of nominees. The rules shall provide for an independent subscriber nominating committee to serve until the composition of the board of directors meets the percentage requirements of this section. Once the composition requirements of this section are met, the nominations for subscriber directors shall be made by the subscriber directors of the board under procedures the board establishes which shall also permit nomination by a petition of at least fifty subscribers. The board shall also establish procedures to permit nomination of provider directors by petition of at least fifty participating providers. A member of the board of directors of a corporation subject to this chapter shall not serve on the independent subscriber nominating committee. The nominating committee shall consist of subscribers as defined in this section. The rules of the commissioner of insurance shall also permit nomination of subscriber directors by a petition of at least fifty subscribers, and nomination of provider directors by a petition of at least fifty participating providers. These petitions shall be considered only by the independent nominating committee during the duration of the committee. Following the discontinuance of the committee, the petition process shall be continued and the board of directors of the corporation shall consider the petitions. The independent subscriber nominating committee is not subject to chapter 17A. The nominating committee shall not receive per diem or expenses for the performance of their duties.

Population factors, representation of different geographic regions, and the demography of the service area of the corporation subject to this chapter shall be considered when making nominations for the board of directors of a corporation subject to this chapter.

A corporation shall not reimburse or compensate a provider director or a subscriber director more than the per diem specified in section 7E.6 plus necessary and actual expenses for attendance at a meeting of the board of directors.

A corporation serving states in addition to Iowa shall be required to implement this section only for directors who are residents of Iowa and elected as board members from Iowa.

CHAPTER 514A
ACCIDENT AND HEALTH INSURANCE

514A.13 Filing requirement — prior approval.
A policy of insurance against loss or expense from sickness or from the bodily injury or death by accident of the insured shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this state and an application, rider, or endorsement shall not be used in connection with the policy until a copy of the policy form and of the classification of risks and the premium rates, or, in the case of cooperatives or assessment companies the estimated costs pertaining to the policy, have been filed with and approved by the commissioner. A filing is deemed to be approved unless disapproved by the commissioner within thirty days of receipt of the filing by the commissioner.

514A.14 Disapproval of filing.
1. The commissioner shall notify an insurer which has filed a policy form pursuant to section 514A.13 that does not comply with this chapter or chapter 514D, or rules adopted pursuant to those chapters. The notice shall inform the insurer that it is unlawful for the insurer to issue the form or use it in connection with any policy, if the commissioner finds upon review of the form, either of the following:
   a. The benefits provided are unreasonable in relation to the premium charged.
   b. The form contains a provision which is unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive, or which encourages misrepresentation of the policy.
2. In a notice provided under subsection 1, the commissioner shall specify the reasons for disapproval and state that a hearing will be granted within twenty days after request in writing by the insurer.

514A.15 Withdrawal of approval.
The commissioner may at any time, after opportunity for hearing, withdraw the commissioner’s previously given approval of any such form on any of the grounds stated in section 514A.14. It shall be unlawful for the insurer to issue a form or use the form in connection with any policy after the effective date of the withdrawal of approval. The notice of any hearing granted under this section shall specify the matters to be considered at the hearing. Any decision affirming disapproval or directing withdrawal of approval under this section shall be in writing and shall specify the reasons for the disapproval or withdrawal of approval.

CHAPTER 514B
HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATIONS

514B.25 Financially impaired or insolvent health maintenance organizations.
The provisions of chapter 507C shall apply to health maintenance organizations, which shall be considered insurers for the purposes of chapter 507C.
CHAPTER 514C
SPECIAL HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE COVERAGES

514C.6 Uniformity of treatment — employee welfare benefit plans.
1 A statutory provision to mandate a health care coverage or service, or to mandate the offering of a health care coverage or service, applies to all state-regulated third-party payors and to employee welfare benefit plans described in 29 U.S.C. § 1001 et seq. However, if an employee welfare benefit plan subject to federal regulation is not subject to a substantially similar requirement, the statutory provision does not apply to a state-regulated third-party payor until the employee welfare benefit plans are subject to a substantially similar standard under federal regulations as determined by the commissioner.

514G.7 Disclosure and performance standards for long-term care insurance.
1 Rules The commissioner may adopt rules for full and fair disclosure of the terms and benefits of a long-term care insurance policy, including but not limited to rules setting forth the manner, content, and required disclosures for the sale of long-term care insurance policies, terms of renewability, initial and subsequent conditions of eligibility, nonduplication of coverage provisions, coverage of dependents, preexisting conditions, termination of insurance, probationary periods, limitations, exceptions, reductions, elimination periods, requirements for replacement, recurrent conditions, and definitions of terms.
2 Prohibitions A long-term care insurance policy shall not:
   a Be cancelled, nonrenewed, or otherwise terminated on the grounds of the age or the deterioration of the mental or physical health of the insured individual or certificate holder.
   b Contain a provision establishing a new waiting period in the event existing coverage is converted to or replaced by a new or other form within the same company, except with respect to an increase in benefits voluntarily selected by the insured individual or group policyholder.
   c Provide coverage for skilled nursing care only, or provide significantly more coverage for skilled care in a facility than coverage for lower levels of care.
   d Be issued to an individual without obtaining one or more of the following:
      (1) A report of a physical examination.
      (2) An assessment of functional capacity.
      (3) An attending physician's statement.
      (4) Copies of medical records.
3 Preexisting conditions
   a A long-term care insurance policy or certificate shall not use a definition of "preexisting condition" which is more restrictive than the following: "Preexisting condition" means the existence of symptoms which would cause an ordinarily prudent person to seek diagnosis, care, or treatment, or a condition for which medical advice or treatment was recommended by or received from a provider of health care services, within the limitation periods specified below:
      (1) Six months preceding the effective date of coverage of an insured person who is sixty-five years of age or older on the effective date of coverage.
      (2) Twenty-four months preceding the effective date of coverage of an insured person who is under age sixty-five on the effective date of coverage.
b. A long-term care insurance policy shall not exclude coverage for a loss or confinement which is the result of a preexisting condition unless the loss or confinement begins within the shortest applicable period specified below:

(1) Six months following the effective date of coverage of an insured person who is sixty-five years of age or older on the effective date of coverage.

(2) Twenty-four months following the effective date of coverage of an insured person who is under age sixty-five on the effective date of coverage.

c. The commissioner may extend the limitation periods in paragraphs "a" and "b" of this subsection to specific age group categories in specific policy forms, upon findings that the extension is in the best interest of the public.

d. The definition of "preexisting condition" does not prohibit either of the following:

(1) An insurer from using an application form designed to elicit the complete health history of an applicant.

(2) An insurer from underwriting in accordance with that insurer's established underwriting standards based on the answers on an application conforming with subparagraph (1).

4. Prior hospitalization — institutionalization.

a. Effective July 1, 1989, a long-term care insurance policy shall not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state if the policy does either of the following:

(1) Conditions eligibility for any benefits on a requirement of prior hospitalization.

(a) Effective July 1, 1991, any holder of a long-term care insurance policy, which is not noncancelable or guaranteed renewable, was issued before July 1, 1989, and conditions eligibility for benefits on a requirement of prior hospitalization, shall, unless it has previously been offered by the insurer, be offered by the insurer a rider or endorsement that waives the requirement of prior hospitalization. If the rider or endorsement results in a concomitant increase in premium during the policy term, then it must be agreed to in writing and signed by the insured to become effective.

(b) The rider or endorsement under subparagraph subdivision (a) shall be subject to the insurer's underwriting guidelines as proof of insurability at the time of application for the rider or endorsement.

(c) Effective July 1, 1991, any holder of a noncancelable or guaranteed renewable long-term care insurance policy issued before July 1, 1989, which conditions eligibility for benefits on a requirement of prior hospitalization, shall, unless the holder has previously been notified by the insurer, be notified by the insurer in writing prior to or at the time of delivery of the next premium statement of the existence of the condition and that new policies issued by any insurance carrier may not condition benefits on a requirement of prior hospitalization. The insurer shall not solicit the replacement of the noncancelable or guaranteed renewable policy at the same time as the delivery of notice under this subparagraph subdivision.

(2) Conditions eligibility for benefits covering care provided in an institutional care setting on the receipt of a higher level of institutional care.

b. Effective July 1, 1989, a long-term care insurance policy containing any limitations or conditions for eligibility, other than those prohibited in paragraph 1, shall clearly label such limitations or conditions in a separate paragraph of the policy or certificate entitled "Limitations or Conditions on Eligibility for Benefits".

c. A long-term care insurance policy advertised, marketed, or offered as containing long-term care benefits at home shall not condition receipt of benefits on a requirement of prior hospitalization.

d. A long-term care insurance policy shall not condition eligibility for noninstitutional benefits on the prior receipt of institutional care.

5. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules establishing loss ratio standards for long-term care insurance policies provided that a specific reference to long-term care insurance policies is contained in the rules.

6. Right to return after examination.

a. Except as provided in paragraph "b", an individual long-term care insurance policyholder has the right to return the policy within ten days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded, if, after examination of the policy, the policyholder is not satisfied for any reason. Individual long-term care insurance policies must have a notice prominently printed on the first page of the policy or attached to the first page stating in substance that the policyholder has the right to return the policy within ten days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, the policyholder is not satisfied for any reason.

b. A person insured under a long-term care insurance policy issued pursuant to a direct response solicitation has the right to return the policy within thirty days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination, the insured person is not satisfied for any reason. Long-term care insurance policies issued pursuant to a direct response solicitation must have a notice prominently printed on the first page or attached to the first page stating in substance that the insured person has the right to return the policy within thirty days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, the insured person is not satisfied for any reason.

7. Outline of coverage. An outline of coverage shall be delivered to an applicant for an individual long-term care insurance policy at the time of application. An outline of coverage must include all of the following:

a. A description of the principal benefits and coverage provided in the policy.

b. A statement of the principal exclusions, reductions, and limitations contained in the policy.

c. A statement of the renewal provisions, including any reservation in the policy of a right to change premiums. Continuation or conversion provisions of group coverage shall be specifically described.
§514G.7

d. A statement that the outline of coverage is a summary of the policy issued or applied for, not a contract of insurance, and that the policy or group master policy should be consulted to determine governing contractual provisions.

e. A description of the terms by which the policy or certificate may be returned and premium refunded.

f. A description of the cost of care and benefits.

8. Certificates. A certificate issued pursuant to a group long-term care insurance policy which is delivered or issued for delivery in this state shall include all of the following:

a. A description of the principal benefits and coverage provided in the policy.

b. A statement of the principal exclusions, reductions, and limitations contained in the policy.

c. A statement that the group master policy determines governing contractual provisions.

9. Compliance required. A policy shall not be advertised, marketed, or offered as long-term care or nursing home insurance unless it complies with this chapter.

514G.10 Long-term care consumer guide. An insurer offering a long-term care insurance policy to any person shall provide to the applicant the current long-term care insurance consumer guide prescribed by the insurance division of the department of commerce. The commissioner of insurance may by reference adopt or permit the use of the long-term care insurance consumer guide developed by the national association of insurance commissioners, the blue cross and blue shield association, or the health insurance association of America. Delivery of the long-term care insurance consumer guide shall be made if a policy is advertised, solicited, or issued as a policy as defined in this chapter, or if it is subject to this chapter, regardless of the label applied by the insurer. Except in the case of direct response insurers, delivery of the long-term care insurance consumer guide shall be made to the applicant at the time of application, and acknowledgment of receipt of the long-term care insurance consumer guide shall be obtained by the insurer. A direct response insurer shall deliver the long-term care insurance consumer guide to the applicant at the time the policy is delivered. An insurance company required to distribute the guide shall reimburse the state for all costs associated with the guide.

CHAPTER 514H
BASIC BENEFIT HEALTH COVERAGE

Legislative intent, 91 Acts, ch 244, §10 HF 688
Rules, 91 Acts, ch 244, §26 HF 688

514H.1 Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Basic benefit coverage" means basic health care services rendered by health professionals licensed pursuant to state law together with hospital expenses.

2. "Basic health care services" means services which an enrollee might reasonably require in order to be maintained in good health, including at a minimum, emergency care, inpatient hospital and physician care, and outpatient medical services rendered within or outside of a hospital.

3. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance.

4. "Eligible dependent" means an enrolled dependent of a subscriber entitled to coverage under a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract.

5. "Group" means a group composed of eligible employees of a single employer and their dependents. A group shall not have more than twenty-five full-time equivalent employees in number. Employees may not be segregated by division, job responsibilities, employment status, employment location, or any other rationale. For purposes of this chapter, group size will be determined at the time of application for the basic benefit coverage policy, and on each anniversary of the date of issue of the basic benefit coverage policy. Carriers shall confirm the size of groups by certification of the employer which certification shall be maintained in the carrier's file.

6. "Insurer" means any insurer issuing a group accident and sickness insurance policy on an expense incurred basis and any group hospital or medical service contract issued pursuant to chapter 509, 514, or 514A, or any group health maintenance organization contract under chapter 514B.

7 "Policy" means the entire contract between the insurer and the insured, including the policy riders, endorsements, and the application, if attached, and includes individual subscriber contracts issued under chapter 514B.

8 "Subscriber" means an enrolled eligible employee with coverage under a basic benefit coverage policy.

514H.2 Issuance of basic benefit coverage policies and subscription contracts permitted.

An insurer may issue a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract meeting the criteria set forth in this chapter.

For purposes of this chapter, a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract means a policy or subscription contract which the insurer may choose to offer to individuals, spouses, families, or groups of twenty-five or less formed for purposes other than obtaining insurance coverage, and which meets the following criteria:

1 The individual, spouse, family, or group obtaining coverage under the policy or subscription contract has been without hospital and medical insurance coverage, a health services plan, or employer-sponsored health care coverage for all of the twelve-month period immediately preceding the effective date of the basic hospital and medical coverage policy or subscription contract, provided that for groups in existence for less than twelve months, the group has been without hospital and medical insurance coverage, a health services plan, or employer-sponsored health care coverage since inception of the group.

2 The insurer may include any or all of the following managed care provisions, subject to the approval of the commissioner, to control costs:

   a A procedure for preauthorization by the insurer, or its designees
   b An exclusion for services that are not medically necessary or are not covered preventive health services
   c First-dollar coverage for preventive and emergency care d Except as otherwise provided, copayments for all other physician visits e Exclusions or limitations upon benefits or direct pay requirements otherwise mandated f Deductibles or copayments which vary based upon the service provided

3 The insurer may include any or all of the following managed care provisions to control costs:

   a A preferred panel of providers who have entered into written agreements with the insurer to provide services at specified levels of reimbursement
   b Any such written agreement between a provider and an insurer shall contain a provision under which the parties agree that the insured individual or covered member will have no obligation to make payment for any medical service rendered by the provider that is determined not to be medically necessary
   b Provisions requiring a second surgical opinion
   c A procedure for utilization review by the insurer or its designees.

This section does not prohibit an insurer from including in its policy or subscription contract additional managed care and cost control provisions which, subject to the approval of the commissioner, have the potential to control costs in a manner which does not result in inequitable treatment of insureds or subscribers.

4 The policy or subscription contract shall provide basic levels of primary, preventive, and hospital care for covered individuals, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

   a A minimum of thirty days of inpatient hospitalization coverage per policy year b Prenatal care, including a minimum of one prenatal office visit per month during the first two trimesters of pregnancy, two office visits per month during the seventh and eighth months of pregnancy, and one office visit per week during the ninth month and until term. Coverage for each such visit shall include necessary and appropriate screening, including history, physical examination, and such laboratory and diagnostic procedures as may be deemed appropriate by the physician based upon recognized medical criteria for the risk group of which the patient is a member c Obstetrical care, including physician's services, delivery room, and other medically necessary hospital services
   d For covered individuals, a basic level of primary and preventive care, including but not limited to, two physician office visits per calendar year
   e Such other coverages as the commissioner may determine are cost-effective pursuant to section 514H 7

5 The commissioner may also authorize the issuance of a basic benefit coverage family plan for spouses or dependents of employees, even if the employer currently offers such other coverages as the commissioner may determine are cost-effective pursuant to section 514H 7

5 The commissioner may also authorize the issuance of a basic benefit coverage family plan for spouses or dependents of employees, even if the employer currently provides individual health benefits exclusively for employees. The commissioner may also authorize the issuance of a basic benefit coverage plan for part-time employees or full-time, part-year employees, even if the employer currently offers health benefits for full-time employees.

514H.3 Disclosure requirements for basic benefit coverage policies and subscription contracts.

Upon offering coverage under a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract for an individual, spouse, family, or group member, the insurer shall provide such individual, spouse, family, or group member with a written disclosure statement containing at least the following:

1. An explanation of those mandated benefits and providers not covered by the policy or subscription contract.

2. An explanation of the managed care and cost control features of the policy or subscription contract, along with all appropriate mailing addresses and telephone numbers to be utilized by insureds in seeking information or authorization.

3. The written statement shall be provided to the prospective policyholder no later than at the time of policy delivery, and the original of the written statement shall be retained in the files of the insurer for the longer of the following:
   a. The period of time that the policy or subscription contract remains in effect.
   b. Five years.

4. Any material statement made by an applicant for coverage under a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract which falsely certifies as to the applicant’s eligibility for coverage pursuant to section 514H.2 is a basis for termination of coverage under the policy or subscription contract.

5. All marketing communications intended to be utilized in the marketing of a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract in this state shall be submitted for review and their use is conditioned upon the prior approval of the commissioner. Marketing communications shall contain the disclosures required by this section.

§514H.4 Forms and rates to be filed with and approved by the commissioner.

1. All basic hospital and medical coverage policy forms including applications, enrollment forms, policies, subscription contracts, certificates, evidences of coverage, riders, amendments, endorsements, and disclosure forms shall be submitted to the commissioner.

2. A basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract shall be filed with, and is subject to the approval of, the commissioner before the basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract.

3. Each form filing submitted to the commissioner for approval shall contain a transmittal page as prescribed by the commissioner and the following materials arranged in this order:
   a. The printed form or forms, completed by using information concerning a fictitious applicant.
   b. Actuarial memorandum.
   c. Any additional enclosure required by the commissioner.

§514H.5 Standards for loss ratios.

Basic benefit coverage policies shall return a cumulative loss ratio of at least seventy percent. Such loss ratio is on the basis of incurred claims and earned premiums for all calculating or rating periods such that the cumulative loss ratio from inception equals or exceeds the seventy percent minimum loss ratio. Where coverage is provided on a direct service rather than indemnity basis, such loss ratio is on the basis of incurred health care expenses and earned premiums for such period. For purposes of achieving and maintaining the minimum cumulative loss ratio, the experience of all basic benefit coverage policies of an insurer is combined.

All claim experience for basic benefit coverage policies is pooled for the purposes of establishing premiums and rates, and the claim experience, and health status and duration from the date of issue of a given individual group shall not be a factor in determining the rates of a policy.

§514H.6 Recordkeeping and reporting requirement.

Each basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract in this state shall maintain separate and distinct records of enrollment, claim costs, premium income, utilization, and other information as required by the commissioner. Each insurer providing such policies or contracts shall furnish an annual report to the commissioner. The report shall be in a form prescribed by the commissioner and shall contain the information required by the commissioner to analyze the success of insurance coverage issued pursuant to this chapter.

§514H.7 Cost-benefit analysis.

1. The commissioner may, based upon reasonable actuarial evidence as to cost-effectiveness, determine any of the following:
   a. What benefits or direct pay requirements must be minimally included in a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract.
   b. What otherwise mandated benefits or direct pay requirements may be exempted from coverage by a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract.
   c. What cost containment procedures must be minimally included in a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract.
   d. What cost containment procedures otherwise restricted may be utilized by a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract.

2. The commissioner may retain a consultant to assist in the analysis of any benefit or requirement, and may convene an advisory panel to assist the commissioner in the review of evidence and practices by the health care and insurance industries.

3. The commissioner may assess a fee against health insurers, hospital service plans, and health maintenance organizations issuing or issuing for delivery in this state basic benefit coverage policies or

§514H.3

3. The commissioner may assess a fee against health insurers, hospital service plans, and health maintenance organizations issuing or issuing for delivery in this state basic benefit coverage policies or subscription contracts to defray consulting fees and expenses incurred by the commissioner under this section.

4. The commissioner may also require medical professional societies or providers associations requesting the inclusion of a benefit or requirement in a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract to contribute on a proportionate and reasonable basis to the payment of the commissioner's consultants and expenses under this section as a condition of reviewing a benefit or requirement impacting upon such medical professionals or providers.

514H.8 Presumed exclusion of mandated benefits.

A mandated benefit or direct pay requirement otherwise imposed by state law, but excluded under section 514H.2, shall not be included in a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract unless the commissioner finds after actuarial review that the inclusion of the benefit or direct pay requirement is cost-effective. The commissioner's finding shall be based upon review of actuarial evidence, including a cost-benefit analysis, and the determination that inclusion of the mandated benefit or direct pay requirement is in the best interests of affordable health care coverage.

NEW section

514H.9 Presumed allowance of cost-containment procedures.

A cost-containment restriction otherwise imposed by state law does not apply to a basic benefit coverage policy or subscription contract unless the commissioner finds after actuarial review that the restricted cost-containment measure is not cost-effective, and its exclusion is in the best interests of affordable health care coverage.

514H.10 Shared cost option for private employers basic benefit plan.

The commissioner, in cooperation with insurance carriers interested in participating, shall develop a group health insurance plan providing basic coverage, to be marketed to employers by insurance carriers approved by the commissioner, which employers have not offered health care benefits to their employees within the preceding twelve months and which are likely to have eligible employees under the employer-sponsored health care plan premium credit provided by section 514H.12. This shared cost option for private employers basic benefit coverage plan is subject to such additional requirements as the commissioner may impose to assure that an affordable policy is effectively marketed to benefit eligible low-income employees and their families. The premium credit under section 514H.12 is limited to 514H.11 Health insurance access.

1. The commissioner shall with all due diligence adopt by rule the recommendations of the national association of insurance commissioners concerning health insurance access by small employer groups, provided that the final recommendations are generally consistent with the following principles:

a. Guaranteed transferability of benefits or eligibility, with no new preexisting condition waiting periods or individual underwriting, for employees transferring to new employers or employers switching insurance carriers, for persons who are receiving assistance pursuant to chapter 249A, or persons who are provided health insurance coverage pursuant to the person's service as a member of a branch of the armed forces of the United States of America.

b. A risk transfer or sharing device to equitably distribute the risk of adverse selection posed to insurers by guaranteed access.

2. Within six months of adopting any rule pursuant to subsection 1, the commissioner shall prepare and deliver a report to the general assembly regarding the success, if any, of the rules, and make such recommendations as necessary, including offering proposed legislation, to effectuate the general assembly's goals of guaranteeing access to health insurance by employees and employers and retention of currently insured persons within the private health insurance market, regardless of change in employer, employment status, or change in insurance carrier.

514H.12 Employer-sponsored health plan premium credit.

1. The division shall adopt rules to implement and administer the premium credit authorized by this section, which rules shall include the minimum standard application form for premium credit eligibility. Forms shall be printed by participating insurance companies and provided to employers and employers' employees wishing to apply for premium credit eligibility.

2. The amount of the premium credit is equal to twenty-five dollars per month, per participating eligible employee for which the employer provides an employer-sponsored group basic benefit plan approved by the commissioner of insurance pursuant to section 514H.10, provided that the employer satisfies all of the following conditions:

a. The employer has not provided health insurance coverage, in whole or in part, to employees within the immediately preceding twelve months before contracting with an insurance carrier for basic benefit insurance approved pursuant to section 514H 10 b The employer employs twenty-five or fewer full-time equivalent employees c The employer paid either of the following
(1) Seventy-five percent or more of the premium for individual coverage of the participating eligible employee
(2) Fifty percent or more of the premium for family coverage of the participating eligible employee and the employee's spouse and dependents
3 An employee is eligible for participation in the subsidized insurance premium credit group health insurance plan if the family income of the employee is less than or equal to one hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level as reported annually in the federal register. An employee application for eligibility is current for up to one year
4 Earned premium credit is limited to the first five thousand full-year equivalent participating eligible employee applications under this section preapproved by the division in any single fiscal year
5 The carrier shall credit to the participating employer's premium liability, an amount equal to the premium credit earned pursuant to subsection 2, against the premium due in the year after the credit is earned.
6 The premium credit provided by this section is only available in connection with a basic benefit plan approved by the commissioner which satisfies any conditions imposed by rules adopted pursuant to subsection 1 which the commissioner determines are necessary or convenient to implement and administer the premium credit.
7a A person submitting an intentionally fraudulent premium credit application forfeits the credit and shall pay to the division a liquidated damages penalty of one hundred percent of the credit forfeited.
b A person submitting a premium credit application which that person should have known was false forfeits the credit and shall pay to the division a liquidated damages penalty of ten percent of the credit forfeited.
8 The insurance carrier shall receive a premium tax credit equal to, at a minimum, the premium credit earned by the carrier's insureds pursuant to subsection 2.

CHAPTER 515
INSURANCE OTHER THAN LIFE

515.23 Existing companies. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 213, § 36 HF 634

515.26 Directors.
The affairs of a company organized as provided by this chapter shall be managed by a number of directors, of not less than five nor more than twenty-one, all of whom, in case of a stock company, shall be stockholders, or, in case of a mutual company, be policyholders, or before the company shall effect insurance, be subscribers for stock or for insurance as the case may be.

515.35 Investments.
1 General considerations The following considerations apply in the interpretation of this section a This section applies to the investments of insurance companies other than life insurance companies
b The purpose of this section is to protect and further the interests of policyholders, claimants, creditors, and the public by providing standards for the development and administration of programs for the investment of the assets of companies organized under this chapter. These standards, and the investment programs developed by companies, shall take into account the safety of the company's principal, investment yield and growth, stability in the value of the investment, and liquidity necessary to meet the company's expected business needs, and investment diversification.
c Financial terms relating to insurance companies have the meanings assigned to them under statutory accounting methods. Financial terms relating to companies other than insurance companies have the meanings assigned to them under generally accepted accounting principles.
d Investments shall be valued in accordance with the valuation procedures established by the national association of insurance commissioners, unless the commissioner requires or finds another method of valuation reasonable under the circumstances.
e If an investment qualifies under more than one subsection, a company may elect to hold the investment under the subsection of its choice. This section does not prevent a company from electing to hold an investment under a subsection different from the one under which it previously held the investment.

2 Definitions For purposes of this section:
   a "Admitted assets", for purposes of computing percentage limitations on particular types of investments, means the assets which are authorized to be shown on the national association of insurance commissioners' annual statement blank as admitted assets as of the December 31 immediately preceding the date the company acquires the investment.
   b "Clearing corporation" means as defined in section 554 8102, subsection 3.
   c "Custodian bank" means as defined in section 554 8102, subsection 4.
   d "Issuer" means as defined in section 554 8201.
   e "Member bank" means a national bank, state bank, or trust company which is a member of the United States federal reserve system.
   f "National securities exchange" means an exchange registered under section 6 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or an exchange regulated under the laws of the Dominion of Canada.
   g "Obligations" includes bonds, notes, debentures, transportation equipment certificates, domestic repurchase agreements, and obligations for the payment of money not in default as to payment of principal and interest on the date of investment, which constitute general obligations of the issuer or payable only out of certain revenues or certain funds pledged or otherwise dedicated for payment of principal and interest on the obligations. A lease is an obligation if the lease is assigned to the insurer and is nonterminable by the lessee upon foreclosure of any lien upon the leased property, and if rental payments are sufficient to amortize the investment over the primary lease term.

3 Investments in name of company or nominee and prohibitions a A company's investments shall be held in its own name or the name of its nominee, except as follows:
      (1) Investments may be held in the name of a clearing corporation or of a custodian bank or in the name of the nominee of either on the following conditions:
         (a) The clearing corporation, custodian bank, or nominee must be legally authorized to hold the particular investment for the account of others.
         (b) When the investment is evidenced by a certificate and held in the name of a custodian bank or the nominee of a custodian bank, a written agreement shall provide that certificates so deposited shall at all times be kept separate and apart from other deposits with the depository, so that at all times they may be identified as belonging solely to the company making the deposit.
         (c) If a clearing corporation is to act as depository, the investment may be merged or held in bulk in the name of the clearing corporation or its nominee with other investments deposited with the clearing corporation by any other person, if a written agreement between the clearing corporation and the company provides that adequate evidence of the deposit is to be obtained and retained by the company or a custodian bank.
   b A company may loan stocks or obligations held by it under this chapter to a broker-dealer registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or a member bank. The loan must be evidenced by a written agreement which provides all of the following:
      (a) That the loan will be fully collateralized by cash or obligations issued or guaranteed by the United States or an agency or an instrumentality of the United States, and that the collateral will be adjusted as necessary each business day during the term of the loan to maintain the required collateralization in the event of market value changes in the loaned securities or collateral.
      (b) That the loan may be terminated by the company at any time, and that the borrower will return the loaned stocks or obligations or equivalent stocks or obligations within five business days after termination.
      (c) That the company has the right to retain the collateral or use the collateral to purchase investments equivalent to the loaned securities if the borrower defaults under the terms of the agreement, and that the borrower remains liable for any losses and expenses incurred by the company due to default that are not covered by the collateral.
   c A company may participate through a member bank in the United States federal reserve book-entry system, and the records of the member bank shall at all times show that the investments are held for the company or for specific accounts of the company.
   d An investment may consist of an individual interest in a pool of obligations or a fractional interest in a single obligation if the certificate of participation or interest or the confirmation of participation or interest in the investment is issued in the name of the company or the name of the custodian bank or the nominee of either and if the interest as evidenced by the certificate or confirmation is, if held by a custodian bank, kept separate and apart from the investments of others so that at all times the participation may be identified as belonging solely to the company making the investment.
   e Transfers of ownership of investments held as described in paragraph "a", subparagraphs (1), subparagraph subdivision (c), and subparagraphs (3) and (4) may be evidenced by bookkeeping entry on the books of the issuer of the investment, its transfer or recording agent, or the clearing corporation without physical delivery of certificate, if any, evidencing the company's investment.
   f Except as provided in paragraph "a", subparagraph (5), if an investment is not evidenced by a certificate, adequate evidence of the company's investment shall be obtained from the issuer or its transfer or recording agent and retained by the company, a custodian bank, or clearing corporation. Adequate evidence, for purposes of this paragraph, means a written receipt or other verification issued by the depository or issuer or a custodian bank which shows that the investment is held for the company.

4. Investments Except as otherwise permitted by this section, a company organized under this chapter may invest in the following and no other:

a United States government obligations Obligations issued or guaranteed by the United States or an agency or instrumentality of the United States.

b Certain development bank obligations Obligations issued or guaranteed by the international bank for reconstruction and development, the Asian development bank, the export-import bank, the world bank, or any United States government-sponsored organization of which the United States is a member, if the principal and interest is payable in United States dollars. A company shall not invest more than five percent of its total admitted assets in the obligations of any one of these banks or organizations, and shall not invest more than a total of ten percent of its total admitted assets in the obligations authorized by this paragraph.

c State obligations Obligations issued or guaranteed by a state of the United States, or a political subdivision of a state, or an instrumentality of a state or political subdivision of a state.

d Canadian government obligations Obligations issued or guaranteed by the Dominion of Canada, or by an agency or province of Canada, or by a political subdivision of a province, or by an instrumentality of any of those provinces or political subdivisions.

e Corporate and business trust obligations Obligations issued, assumed, or guaranteed by a corporation or business trust organized under the laws of the United States or a state of the United States, or the laws of Canada or a province of Canada, provided that a company shall not invest more than five percent of its admitted assets in the obligations of any one corporation or business trust.

Aggregate investments in below investment grade bonds shall not exceed five percent of assets.

f Stocks A company may invest in common stocks, common stock equivalents, mutual fund shares, securities convertible into common stocks or common stock equivalents, or preferred stocks issued or guaranteed by a corporation incorporated under the laws of the United States or a state of the United States, or the laws of Canada or a province of Canada.

(1) Stocks purchased under this section shall not exceed one hundred percent of capital and surplus. With the approval of the commissioner, a company may invest any amount in common stocks, preferred stocks, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries provided that after such investments the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

(2) A company shall not invest more than ten percent of its capital and surplus in the stocks of any one corporation.

g Real estate mortgages Mortgages and other interest-bearing securities that are first liens upon real estate located within this state or any other state of the United States. However, a mortgage or other security does not qualify as an investment under this paragraph if at the date of acquisition the total indebtedness secured by the lien exceeds seventy-five percent of the value of the property that is subject to the lien. Improvements shall not be considered in estimating value unless the owner contracts to keep them insured during the life of the loan in one or more reliable fire insurance companies authorized to transact business in this state and for a sum at least equal to the excess of the loan above seventy-five percent of the value of the ground, exclusive of improvements, and unless this insurance is payable in case of loss to the company investing its funds as its interest may appear at the time of loss. For the purpose of this section, a lien upon real estate shall not be held or construed to be other than a first lien by reason of the fact that drainage or other improvement assessments have been levied against the real estate covered by the lien, whether or not the installment of the assessments have matured, but in determining the value of the real estate for loan purposes the amount of drainage or other assessment tax that is unpaid shall be first deducted.

h Real estate

(1) Except as provided in subparagraphs (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph, a company may acquire, hold, and convey real estate only as follows:

(a) Real estate mortgaged to it in good faith as security for loans previously contracted, or for monies due.

(b) Real estate conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its dealings.

(c) Real estate purchased at sales on judgments, decrees, or mortgages obtained or made for debts previously contracted in the course of its dealings.

(d) Real estate subject to a contract for deed under which the company holds the vendor's interest to secure the payments the vendee is required to make under the contract.

All real estate specified in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of this subparagraph shall be sold and disposed of within three years after the company acquires title to it, or within three years after the real estate ceases to be necessary for the accommodation of the company's business, and the company shall not hold any of those properties for a longer period unless the company elects to hold the property under another paragraph of this section, or unless the company procures a certificate from the commissioner of insurance that its interest will suffer materially by the forced sale of those properties and that the time for the sale is extended to the time the commissioner directs in the certificate.
(2) A company may acquire, hold, and convey real estate as required for the convenient accommodation and transaction of its business.

(3) A company may acquire real estate or an interest in real estate as an investment for the production of income, and may hold, improve, or otherwise develop, subdivide, lease, sell, and convey real estate so acquired directly or as a joint venture or through a limited or general partnership in which the company is a partner.

(4) A company may also acquire and hold real estate if the purpose of the acquisition is to enhance the sale value of real estate previously acquired and held by the company under this paragraph, and if the company expects the real estate so acquired to qualify under subparagraph (2) or (3) of this paragraph within three years after acquisition.

(5) A company may, after securing the written approval of the commissioner, acquire and hold real estate for the purpose of providing necessary living quarters for its employees. However, the company shall dispose of the real estate within three years after it has ceased to be necessary for that purpose unless the commissioner agrees to extend the holding period upon application by the company.

(6) A company shall not invest more than twenty-five percent of its total admitted assets in real estate. The cost of a parcel of real estate held for both the accommodation of business and for the production of income shall be allocated between the two uses annually. A company shall not invest more than ten percent of its total admitted assets in real estate held under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(7) A company is not required to divest itself of real estate assets owned or contracted for prior to July 1, 1982, in order to comply with the limitations established under this paragraph.

1. Foreign investments
   Obligations of and investments in foreign countries, as follows:
   (1) A company may acquire and hold other investments in foreign countries that are required to be held as a condition of doing business in those countries.
   (2) A company may invest not more than two percent of its admitted assets in the obligations of foreign governments, corporations, or business trusts, or in the stocks or stock equivalents of foreign corporations or business trusts and then only if the obligations, stocks, or stock equivalents are regularly traded on the New York, London, Paris, Zurich, Hong Kong, Toronto, or Tokyo stock exchange, or a similar exchange approved by the commissioner by rule or order.

2. Personal property under lease
   Personal property for intended lease or rental by the company in the United States or Canada. A company shall not invest more than five percent of its admitted assets under this paragraph.

3. Collateral loans
   Obligations secured by the pledge of an investment authorized by paragraphs "a" through "j", subject to the following conditions:
   (1) The pledged investment shall be legally as signed or delivered to the company.
   (2) The pledged investment shall at the time of purchase have a market value of at least one hundred ten percent of the amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations.
   (3) The company shall reserve the right to declare the obligation immediately due and payable if at any time after purchase the security depreciates to the point where the investment would not qualify under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. However, additional qualifying security may be pledged to allow the investment to remain qualified.

4. Options transactions
   (1) A domestic fire and casualty company may only engage in the following transactions in options on an exchange and only when in accordance with the rules of the exchange on which the transactions take place:
      (a) The sale of exchange-traded covered options
      (b) The purchase of exchange-traded covered options solely in closing purchase transactions
   (2) The commissioner shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to carry out the purposes and provisions of this section.

5. Venture capital funds
   Shares or equity interests in venture capital funds which agree to invest an amount equal to at least fifty percent of the investments by a company in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state. A company shall not invest more than five percent of its capital and surplus under this paragraph. For purposes of this paragraph, "venture capital fund" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, whose principal business is or will be the making of investments in, and the provision of significant managerial assistance to, small businesses which meet the small business administration definition of small business."Equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to the amount of the investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability.

6. Other investments
   (1) A company organized under this chapter may invest up to two percent of its admitted assets in securities or property of any kind, without restrictions or limitations except those imposed on business corporations in general.
   (2) A company organized under this chapter may invest its assets in any additional forms not specifically included in paragraphs "a" through "o" when authorized by rules adopted by the commissioner.

7. Rules
   The commissioner may adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to carry out the purposes and provisions of this section.
§515.63 Annual statement.
The president or the vice president and secretary of each company organized or authorized to do business in the state shall annually before the first day of March of each year prepare under oath and file with the commissioner of insurance a full, true, and complete statement of the condition of such company on the last day of the preceding year, which shall exhibit the following items and facts:

First — The amount of capital stock of the company.
Second — The names of the officers.
Third — The name of the company and where located.
Fourth — The amount of its capital stock paid up.
Fifth — The property or assets held by the company, specifying:

2. The amount of premium notes received.
3. The amount received for interest.
4. The amount received for assessments or calls on stock notes, or premium notes.
5. The amount received from all other sources.
Eighth — The expenditures during the preceding year, specifying:
1. The amount of losses paid during said term, stating how much of the same accrued prior, and how much subsequent, to the date of the preceding statement, and the amount at which such losses were estimated in such statement.
2. The amount paid for dividends.
3. The amount paid for commissions, salaries, expenses, and other charges of agents, clerks, and other employees.
4. The amount paid for salaries, fees, and other charges of officers and directors.
5. The amount paid for local, state, national and other taxes and duties.
6. The amount paid for all other expenses, including printing, stationery, rents, furniture, or otherwise.
Ninth — The largest amount insured in any one risk.
Tenth — The amount of risks written during the year then ending.
Eleventh — The amount of risks in force having less than one year to run.
Twelfth — The amount of risks in force having more than one and not over three years to run.
Thirteenth — The amount of risks having more than three years to run.
Fourteenth — The dividends, if any, declared on premiums received for risks not terminated.
Fifteenth — All other information as required by the national association of insurance commissioners’ annual statement blank. The annual statement blank shall be prepared in accordance with instructions prescribed by the commissioner. All financial information reflected in the annual report shall be kept and prepared in accordance with accounting practices and procedures prescribed by the commissioner. The commissioner may adopt by reference the annual statement handbook and the accounting practices and procedures manual of the national association of insurance commissioners.

§515.65 Certificate refused — administrative penalty.
The commissioner of insurance shall withhold the commissioner’s certificate or permission of authority to do business from a company neglecting or failing to comply with this chapter. In addition, a company organized or authorized under this chapter which fails to file the annual statement referred to in section 515.63 in the time required shall pay and forfeit an administrative penalty in an amount of five hundred dollars to be collected in the name of the state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 505.7. The company's right to transact further new business in this state shall immediately cease until the company has fully complied with this chapter. The commissioner may give notice to a company which has failed to file within the time required that the company is in violation of this section and if the company fails to file the evidence of investment and statement within ten days of the date of the notice the company shall forfeit and pay the additional sum of one hundred dollars for each day the failure continues, to be paid to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 505.7.

Unnumbered paragraph 16 amended

515.77 Certificate to foreign company.
When a foreign company has fully complied with the requirements of law and become entitled to do business, the commissioner of insurance shall issue to the company a certificate of that fact, which certificate shall be renewed annually on the first day of June, if the commissioner is satisfied that the capital, securities, and investments of the company remain unimpaired, and the company has complied with the provisions of law applicable to the company. However, the commissioner shall not grant or continue authority to transact insurance in this state to an insurer the management of which is found by the commissioner, after a hearing is provided, in which the commissioner shall establish and consider any prior criminal records or any other matters, to be untrustworthy or so lacking in insurance experience as to make the proposed operation hazardous to the insurance-buying public; or which, after a hearing is provided, the commissioner has good reason to believe is affiliated directly or indirectly through ownership, control, reinsurance transactions, or other insurance or business relations, with a person whose business operations are or have been marked, to the detriment of policyholders or stockholders or investors or creditors or of the public, by manipulation or dissipation of assets, or manipulation of accounts, or of reinsurance, or by similar injurious actions.

515.86 Requisition on stockholders — personal liability. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 26, §61 SF 518

515.87 Mutual companies — dissolution — personal liability. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 26, §61 SF 518

515.89 Revocation of certificate of foreign company.
The commissioner of insurance may examine the condition and affairs of any insurance company, as provided for in this chapter, doing business in this state, not organized under its laws, or cause such examination to be made by a person appointed by the commissioner having no interest in any insurance company; and if it appears to the commissioner’s satisfaction that the affairs of a company are in an unsound condition or that a company has failed to maintain the capital and surplus required by section 515.69, the commissioner shall revoke or suspend the certificates granted in its behalf.

515.90 Suspension and summary suspension.
The commissioner may do one or more of the following:
1. For a violation of Title XX, after a hearing provided pursuant to chapter 17A, order the suspension of the license or authority to transact the business of insurance within the state.
2. Upon three days' notice, if the commissioner has reason to believe that there is imminent substantial risk to an insurer's solvency, order the insurer to appear before the commissioner and show cause why its license or authority to do insurance business within the state should not be suspended. At the hearing to show cause, the commissioner may summarily suspend the license or authority of the insurer to do business within the state.
3. Summarily order an insurer to cease and desist from a violation, anticipated violation, or suspected violation of chapter 507B, 510, or 513A, if a hearing is provided pursuant to chapter 17A within thirty days of the summary cease and desist order.

515.119 Compliance with law.
An insurance company organized under this chapter, or doing business in this state, or any foreign or alien company doing business in this state, shall conform to the provisions of this chapter and all other laws of this state applicable to the insurance company.

515.150 Demolition reserve on fire and casualty claims on property.
1. An insurer shall reserve ten thousand dollars or ten percent, whichever amount is greater, of the payment for damages to the property excluding personal property on which the insurer has issued a fire and casualty insurance policy as demolition cost reserve if the following are applicable:
   a. The property is located within the corporate limits of a city.
   b. The damage to the property renders it unin-§515.150

habitable or unfit for the purpose for which it was intended, without repair.

c. Proof of loss has been submitted by the policyholder for a sum in excess of seventy-five percent of the face value of the policy covering the building or other insured structure.

2. An insurer which has received a proof of loss in excess of seventy-five percent of the face value of the policy covering a building or other insured structure, shall notify the city council of the city within which the property is located. The notice shall be made by certified mail within five working days after receipt of the proof of loss.

3. The city shall release all interest in the demolition cost reserve within one hundred eighty days after receiving notice of the existence of the demolition cost reserve unless the city has instituted legal proceedings for the demolition of the building or other insured structure, and has notified the insurer in writing of the institution of the legal proceedings. Failure of the city to notify the insurer of the legal proceedings terminates the city's claim to any proceeds from the reserve.

4. A reserve for demolition costs is no longer required if as a result of either of the following:

   a. The insurer has received notice from both the insured and the city council that the insured has completed repairs to the property or has completed demolition of the property in compliance with all applicable statutes and local ordinances.

   b. The city has failed to notify the insurer as provided under subsection 3.

5. If the city has instituted legal proceedings, undertaken emergency action, or is required to demolish the damaged property at city expense, the city shall present to the insurer costs incurred, since the date of the fire or other occurrence, including but not limited to legal costs, engineering costs, and demolition costs related directly to the enforcement of any local ordinance, and the insurer shall compensate the city for the incurred costs up to the amount in the demolition cost reserve. Any amount left from the demolition cost reserve after the cost of demolition of the property is paid to the city shall be paid to the insured if the insured is entitled to the remaining proceeds under the policy.

6. The insurer is not liable for any amount in excess of the limits of liability set out by the policy.

7. Insurers complying with this section or attempting in good faith to comply with this section shall be immune from civil and criminal liability.

CHAPTER 515A

WORKERS' COMPENSATION LIABILITY INSURANCE

CHAPTER 515B

INSURANCE GUARANTY ASSOCIATION

515B.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Association" means the Iowa insurance guaranty association created pursuant to section 515B.3.
2. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of this state.
3. a. "Covered claim" means an unpaid claim, including one for unearned premiums, which arises out of and is within the coverage and is subject to the applicable limits of an insurance policy to which this chapter applies issued by an insurer, if such insurer becomes an insolvent insurer after July 1, 1970, and one of the following conditions exists:

   (1) The claimant or insured is a resident of this state at the time of the insured event. Other than an individual, the residence of the claimant or insured is the state in which its principal place of business is located.

   (2) The claim is one by an insured for damage to property permanently located in this state.

   b. "Covered claim" does not include any amount as follows:

   (1) That is due any reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, underwriting association, or other group assuming insurance risks, subrogation, contribution, or indemnity recoveries, or otherwise.
§515B.5 Duties and powers of the association.

1. The association shall:
   a. Be obligated to the extent of the covered claims existing prior to the determination of insolvency and arising within thirty days after the determination of insolvency, or before the policy expiration date if less than thirty days after the determination, or before the insured replaces the policy or on request effects cancellation if the insured does so within thirty days of the determination. This obligation includes only the amount of a covered claim which is in excess of one hundred dollars and less than three hundred thousand dollars for all damages arising out of any one accident, occurrence, or incident regardless of the number of persons making claims. If the policy of the insolvent insurer contained an aggregate limit, the association shall not be obligated for more than three hundred thousand dollars on an aggregate basis. However, the association shall pay the full amount of a covered claim arising out of a workers' compensation policy. In addition, the association is not liable for an amount in excess of the lesser of three hundred thousand dollars or the policy limits, regardless of the theory under which or the type of damages for which the association is alleged to be liable.
   b. Be deemed the insurer to the extent of its obligations on the covered claims and to such extent shall have all rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent insurer as if the insurer had not become insolvent.
   c. Assess member insurers amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under paragraph "a" of this subsection subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency, the cost of examinations under section 515B.10, and other expenses authorized by this chapter. The assessment of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the preceding calendar year bear to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the preceding calendar year. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than thirty days before it is due. No member insurer may be assessed in any year an amount greater than two percent of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the preceding calendar year. If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association, does not provide in any one year an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments, the funds available shall be prorated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon as funds become available. The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of any member insurer if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by any jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance. Each member insurer serving as a servicing facility pursuant to this section may set off against any assessment, authorized payments made on covered claims and expenses incurred in the payment of such claims by the member insurer. In addition, the asso-cration shall have the authority to levy an administrative assessment of not more than fifty dollars per year per member insurer on a non pro rata basis, which assessment shall be credited against any future insolvency assessment. Such assessment shall be used to pay authorized expenses not directly attributable to any particular insolvency or insolvent insurer. All overdue and unpaid assessments shall draw interest at the rate of seven percent per annum.

d. Investigate claims brought against the fund and adjust, compromise, settle, defend and pay covered claims to the extent of the association's obligation and deny all other claims.

e. Notify such persons as the commissioner directs under section 515B.7, subsection 2, paragraph "a".

f. Process claims through its employees or through one or more member insurers or other persons designated as servicing facilities. Designation of a servicing facility is subject to the approval of the commissioner, but such designation may be declined by a member insurer.

g. Reimburse each servicing facility for obligations of the association paid by the facility and for expenses incurred by the facility while handling claims on behalf of the association, and pay the other expenses of the association authorized by this chapter.

2. The association may:

a. Appear in, defend, and appeal any action on a claim brought against the association.

b. Employ or retain persons necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the association.

c. Borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter in accord with the plan of operation.

d. Sue or be sued.

e. Negotiate and become a party to contracts necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter.

f. Perform such other acts necessary or proper to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

g. If at any time the board of directors finds that the amount assessed for any insolvency exceeds the actual and projected liabilities of that insolvency, it may refund such excess to member insurers in the same proportion that each contributed to the original assessment or assessments. Any assessments or refunds of any member insurer in amounts not to exceed twenty-five dollars may, at the discretion of the board of directors, be waived.

h. Request that all future payments of workers' compensation weekly benefits, medical expenses, or other payments under chapter 85, 85A, 85B, 86, or 87 be commuted to a present lump sum and upon the payment of which, either to the claimant or to a licensed insurer for purchase of an annuity or other periodic payment plan for the benefit of the claimant, the employer and the association shall be discharged from all further liability for the workers' compensation claim. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 85.45, any future payment of medical expenses, weekly compensation benefits, or other payment by the association under this chapter pursuant to chapter 85, 85A, 85B, 86, or 87, is deemed an undue expense, hardship, or inconvenience upon the employer for purposes of a full commutation pursuant to section 85.45, subsection 2, and the industrial commissioner shall fix the lump sum of the probable future medical expenses and weekly compensation benefits capitalized at their present value upon the basis of interest at the rate provided in section 535.3 for court judgments and decrees.

515B.9 Nonduplication of recovery.

1. Any person having a claim under another policy, which claim arises out of the same facts which give rise to a covered claim, is first required to exhaust the person's right under the policy. Any amount recovered or recoverable by a person under another insurance policy shall be credited against the liability of the association under section 515B.5, subsection 1, paragraph "a". For purposes of this section, another insurance policy means a policy issued by any insurance company, whether a member insurer or not, which policy insures against any of the types of risks insured by an insurance company authorized to write insurance under chapter 515, 516A, or 520, or comparable statutes of another state, except those types of risks set forth in chapters 508 and 514.

2. A person having a claim which may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured. However, if the claim is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location, recovery shall be first sought from the association of the location of the property. If the claim is a workers' compensation claim, recovery shall be first sought from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any sums recovered from any other guaranty association or equivalent organization shall be subtracted from the maximum liability of the association under section 515B.5, subsection 1, paragraph "a".
CHAPTER 516A
PROTECTION AGAINST UNINSURED, UNDERINSURED, OR HIT-AND-RUN MOTORISTS

516A.2 Construction — minimum coverage — stacking.
1. Except with respect to a policy containing both underinsured motor vehicle coverage and uninsured or hit-and-run motor vehicle coverage, nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as requiring forms of coverage provided pursuant hereeto, whether alone or in combination with similar coverage afforded under other automobile liability or motor vehicle liability policies, to afford limits in excess of those that would be afforded had the insured thereunder been involved in an accident with a motorist who was insured under a policy of liability insurance with the minimum limits for bodily injury or death prescribed in subsection 10 of section 321A.1. Such forms of coverage may include terms, exclusions, limitations, conditions, and offsets which are designed to avoid duplication of insurance or other benefits.

To the extent that Hernandez v. Farmers Insurance Company, 460 N.W.2d 842 (Iowa 1990), provided for interpolicy stacking of uninsured or underinsured coverages in contravention of specific contract or policy language, the general assembly declares such decision abrogated and declares that the enforcement of the antistacking provisions contained in a motor vehicle insurance policy does not frustrate the protection given to an insured under section 516A.1.

2. Pursuant to chapter 17A, the commissioner of insurance shall, by January 1, 1992, adopt rules to assure the availability, within the state, of motor vehicle insurance policies, riders, endorsements, or other similar forms of coverage in contravention of specific contract or policy language, the general assembly declares such decision abrogated and declares that the enforcement of the antistacking provisions contained in a motor vehicle insurance policy does not frustrate the protection given to an insured under section 516A.1.

3. It is the intent of the general assembly that when more than one motor vehicle insurance policy is purchased by or on behalf of an injured insured and which provides uninsured, underinsured, or hit-and-run motor vehicle coverage to an insured injured in an accident, the injured insured is entitled to recover up to an amount equal to the highest single limit for uninsured, underinsured, or hit-and-run motor vehicle coverage under any one of the above described motor vehicle insurance policies insuring the injured person which amount shall be paid by the insurers according to any priority of coverage provisions contained in the policies insuring the injured person.

516A.3 Definition.
For the purpose of this chapter, the term "uninsured motor vehicle" shall, subject to the terms and conditions of the coverage herein required, be deemed to include an insured motor vehicle with respect to which insolvency proceedings have been instituted against the liability insurer thereof by the insurance regulatory official of this or any other state or territory of the United States or of the District of Columbia.

An insurer's insolvency protection is applicable only to accidents occurring during a policy period in which its insured’s uninsured motorist coverage is in effect and only if the liability insurer of the tortfeasor is insolvent at the time of such an accident.

CHAPTER 516D
RENTAL OF MOTOR VEHICLES

516D.1 Title.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Iowa Car Rental and Collision Damage Waiver Act".

516D.2 Scope.
This chapter applies to advertising and business practices relating to vehicle rental agreements entered into in this state.

516D.3 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:

1. "Authorized driver" means any of the following:
   a. A customer to whom a vehicle is rented.
   b. A person expressly listed by a rental company on a rental agreement as an authorized driver.
   c. A customer's spouse, if the spouse is a licensed driver and satisfies the rental company's minimum age requirement.
   d. A customer's employer or coworker, if the employer or coworker is engaged in a business activity with the customer to whom the vehicle is rented, is a licensed driver, and satisfies the rental company's minimum age requirement.

2. "Collision damage waiver" means a contract or contractual provision, whether separate from or a part of a rental agreement, whereby the rental company agrees, for a charge, to waive claims against an authorized driver for all, or any portion of, damages to the rental vehicle, loss due to theft of the rental vehicle, or damages resulting from the loss of use of the rental vehicle.

3. "Customer" means a person entering into a rental agreement and obtaining the use of a rental vehicle from a rental company under the terms of the rental agreement.

4. "Estimated time for repair" means a good faith estimate of the reasonable number of hours of labor, or fraction of an hour, needed to repair a damaged vehicle or damaged vehicle parts.

5. "Estimated time for replacement" means the number of hours of labor, or fraction of an hour, needed to replace damaged vehicle parts as set forth in collision damage estimating guides generally used in the vehicle repair business and commonly known as crash books.

6. "Mandatory charge" means any charge, fee differential, or surcharge that all or a majority of customers must pay in order to obtain or operate a rental vehicle except as follows:
   a. Mandatory charge does not include an optional airport imposed fee if the existence and amount of the fee are clearly and conspicuously disclosed immediately adjacent to any advertised rental price. The advertisement must clearly and conspicuously state the method of avoiding the airport access fee and the customer must be informed of the amount of the fee when the reservation is made. When an advertisement encompasses more than one rental location, the fee may be expressed as the maximum fee or range of fees.
   b. Mandatory charge does not include taxes imposed directly upon the rental transaction by an authorized taxing authority. An airport imposed fee on gross receipts or an airport access fee is not such a tax.
   c. Mandatory charge does not include mileage fees as long as the existence of any mileage limitation and cost per mile for excess mileage is clearly and conspicuously disclosed immediately adjacent to the advertised price.

7. "Material restriction" means a restriction, limitation, or other requirement which significantly affects the price of, normal anticipated use of, or a consumer's financial responsibility for, a rental vehicle. Restrictions against any or all of the following activities in connection with the acquisition or use of a rental vehicle are not material restrictions:
   a. Obtaining a rental vehicle by use of false or misleading information.
   b. Operating a rental vehicle while intoxicated or under the influence of any drug.
   c. Using a rental vehicle to transport persons or property for hire.
   d. Using a rental vehicle to engage in a race, training activity, contest, or use for an illegal purpose.

e. Using a rental vehicle to push or tow a vehicle or other object.

f. Operating a rental vehicle in an abusive or reckless manner.

g. Operating a rental vehicle other than on regularly maintained hard surface roadways, including private driveways and parking lots. For purposes of this chapter, "hard surface roadways" includes, but is not limited to, all regularly maintained gravel-covered surfaces.

h. Operating a rental vehicle outside the continental United States unless specifically authorized by the rental agreement.

8. "Placing a block" means any procedure or mechanism which reserves a specified amount of the customer's otherwise available credit on the customer's credit or charge card account so that the amount is not available for future credit purchases.

9. "Rental agreement" means a written contract containing the terms and conditions for the use of a rental vehicle by a customer for a term of sixty days or less.

10. "Rental company" means a person in the business of providing rental vehicles to customers.

11. "Rental vehicle" means a private passenger type vehicle which, upon the execution of a rental agreement, is made available to a customer for the customer's use or other authorized driver's use.

NEW section 516D.4 Collision damage and loss.

1. A rental company shall not hold, or attempt to hold, an authorized driver liable for physical damage to a rental vehicle, loss due to theft of a rental vehicle, or damages resulting from the loss of use of a rental vehicle, unless the rental company offers the customer a collision damage waiver under the following terms and conditions described in subsection 2 of this section, or unless one or more of the following applies:

a. The damage or loss is caused intentionally by an authorized driver or is a result of the authorized driver's willful, abusive, reckless, or wanton misconduct.

b. The damage or loss arises out of the authorized driver's operation of the rental vehicle while intoxicated or under the influence of a drug.

c. The damage or loss is caused while the authorized driver is engaged in a race, training activity, contest, or use of the rental vehicle for an illegal purpose.

d. The rental agreement is based on false or misleading information supplied by the customer or an authorized driver.

e. The damage or loss is caused by operating the rental vehicle other than on regularly maintained hard surface roadways, including private driveways and parking lots.

f. The damage or loss arises out of the use of the rental vehicle to transport persons or property for hire or to push or tow anything.

g. The damage or loss occurs while the rental vehicle is operated by a driver other than an authorized driver.

h. The damage or loss arises out of the use of the rental vehicle outside the continental United States unless such use is specifically authorized by the rental agreement.

i. The damage or loss is attributable to theft which occurs with the prior knowledge or knowing participation of an authorized driver, or which is attributable to the authorized driver leaving the rental vehicle unattended with the keys in the rental vehicle.

This section does not alter the liability of a customer or authorized driver for bodily injury or the death of another and for property damage other than to the rental vehicle in accordance with the rental agreement. This section does not prohibit a rental company from accepting or negotiating master contracts with companies or government entities in advance of need whereby the companies or government entities specifically agree to assume liability in exchange for rate concessions. This section does not prohibit a rental company from entering into agreements with insurance companies to provide replacement vehicles to insurance company customers whereby the insurance company agrees to assume the risk of loss.

If the rental vehicle is not repaired, damages shall not exceed the fair market value of the vehicle, as determined in the customary market for that vehicle, less salvage or actual sale value, plus additional license and tax fees incurred because of the sale, plus administrative fees. A claim shall not be made for loss of use if the rental vehicle is not repaired.

2. A rental company may offer a collision damage waiver under the following terms and conditions:

a. All restrictions, conditions, and exclusions must be printed in the rental agreement, or on a separate sheet or document, in ten-point type, or larger; or written in pen and ink or typewritten in or on the face of the rental agreement in a blank space provided for such restrictions, conditions, and exclusions. The rental agreement may provide that the collision damage waiver may be voided under the conditions set forth in subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "i".

b. The rental agreement, separate sheet, or document must clearly and conspicuously state both the daily and estimated total charge for the collision damage waiver.

c. The rental agreement, separate sheet, or document given to the customer prior to entering into the rental agreement must display in ten-point type, or larger, the following notice:

NOTICE: THIS CONTRACT OFFERS, FOR AN ADDITIONAL CHARGE, A COLLISION DAMAGE WAIVER TO COVER ALL OR PART OF YOUR RESPONSIBILITY FOR DAMAGE TO THE RENTAL VEHICLE.

BEFORE DECIDING WHETHER TO PURCHASE THE COLLISION DAMAGE WAIVER, YOU MAY WISH TO DETERMINE WHETHER YOUR OWN AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE AFFORDS YOU COVERAGE FOR DAMAGE TO THE RENTAL VEHICLE AND THE AMOUNT OF THE DEDUCTIBLE UNDER YOUR OWN INSURANCE COVERAGE. THE PURCHASE OF THIS COLLISION DAMAGE WAIVER IS NOT MANDATORY AND MAY BE DECLINED.

The customer must separately acknowledge that the customer received the above notice, that the customer desires to purchase the collision damage waiver, and the terms of the collision damage waiver to which the customer agrees.

d. The car rental company shall not pay commissions to a rental counter agent or representative for selling collision damage waivers and is prohibited from considering volume of sales of collision damage waivers in an employee evaluation or determination of promotion.

However, notwithstanding whether a rental company offers a collision damage waiver under the provisions of this subsection, the rental company shall not hold an authorized driver liable for damage or loss due to theft except where subsection 1, paragraph "i" applies.

1. A representation connected with the advertisement or rental of a vehicle that the purchase of a collision damage waiver is mandatory.
2. Failure to provide disclosures as required by this chapter.
3. Failure to disclose in a manner likely to be noticed and comprehended in an advertisement, as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "a", the availability of a collision damage waiver, and the cost of the waiver.
4. Misrepresentation of a customer’s need for a collision damage waiver, personal accident insurance, or personal effects insurance.
5. Misrepresentation of the characteristics or availability of a reserved rental vehicle in order to rent a customer a more expensive vehicle than the one reserved.
6. Failure to provide a vehicle in the class reserved, or, if the reserved vehicle is out of stock, failure to provide another vehicle in the class reserved or a more expensive vehicle. A replacement vehicle for an out-of-stock reserved vehicle may be provided from the stock of the rental company or from another rental company but, in any event, must be provided at the rate quoted for the vehicle reserved.
7. Failure to disclose the following material restrictions, where applicable, in response to direct consumer inquiries regarding the price of renting a vehicle, when the rental company discloses a vehicle rental rate, and at the time the reservation is accepted:
   a. Specific geographic restrictions and limitations, other than travel outside the continental United States.
   b. Advance reservation and payment requirements.
   c. The existence of penalties or higher rates that may apply for early or late returns.
   d. Cost of an additional driver fee.
   e. Credit or cash deposit requirements.
   f. Extent of liability for damage or loss and price range of collision damage waiver.
   g. Mileage limitations and charges.
8. Placement of a block against a customer’s credit limit or charge against a customer’s credit card in the following manner:
   a. Placing a block or charge against a customer’s credit limit without disclosing in the rental agreement in a clear and conspicuous manner the fact that a block or charge will be placed against the customer’s credit card, and the amount of the block or charge. Such disclosure shall also be made orally whenever possible.
   b. Placing a block or charge against a portion or the entirety of the credit limit of the card or otherwise placing a block or charge against the card in excess of the estimated total daily or weekly charges, including taxes and charges of optional services accepted by the customer, stated in the rental agreement multiplied by the number of days of the estimated rental if rented on a daily basis or, if rented on a weekly basis, multiplied by the number of weeks of the estimated rental.

516D.5 Recovery for damage or loss.
A claim against an authorized driver resulting from damage to a rental vehicle, loss due to theft of a rental vehicle, or damages resulting from the loss of use of a rental vehicle, must be reasonably and rationally related to the actual loss incurred. A rental company shall mitigate damages where possible and shall not assert or collect any claim for physical damage which exceeds the actual cost of the repair, including all discounts or price reductions. Administrative fees shall be limited to the reasonable administrative costs associated with processing the damage claim. A claim made for loss of use shall not exceed the daily rental rate stated in the customer’s contract, excluding all discounts or price reductions. Administrative fees shall be limited to, the following:

2. Failure to provide disclosures as required by this chapter.
3. Failure to disclose in a manner likely to be noticed and comprehended in an advertisement, as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "a", the availability of a collision damage waiver, and the cost of the waiver.
4. Misrepresentation of a customer’s need for a collision damage waiver, personal accident insurance, or personal effects insurance.
5. Misrepresentation of the characteristics or availability of a reserved rental vehicle in order to rent a customer a more expensive vehicle than the one reserved.
6. Failure to provide a vehicle in the class reserved, or, if the reserved vehicle is out of stock, failure to provide another vehicle in the class reserved or a more expensive vehicle. A replacement vehicle for an out-of-stock reserved vehicle may be provided from the stock of the rental company or from another rental company but, in any event, must be provided at the rate quoted for the vehicle reserved.
7. Failure to disclose the following material restrictions, where applicable, in response to direct consumer inquiries regarding the price of renting a vehicle, when the rental company discloses a vehicle rental rate, and at the time the reservation is accepted:
   a. Specific geographic restrictions and limitations, other than travel outside the continental United States.
   b. Advance reservation and payment requirements.
   c. The existence of penalties or higher rates that may apply for early or late returns.
   d. Cost of an additional driver fee.
   e. Credit or cash deposit requirements.
   f. Extent of liability for damage or loss and price range of collision damage waiver.
   g. Mileage limitations and charges.
8. Placement of a block against a customer’s credit limit or charge against a customer’s credit card in the following manner:
   a. Placing a block or charge against a customer’s credit limit without disclosing in the rental agreement in a clear and conspicuous manner the fact that a block or charge will be placed against the customer’s credit card, and the amount of the block or charge. Such disclosure shall also be made orally whenever possible.
   b. Placing a block or charge against a portion or the entirety of the credit limit of the card or otherwise placing a block or charge against the card in excess of the estimated total daily or weekly charges, including taxes and charges of optional services accepted by the customer, stated in the rental agreement multiplied by the number of days of the estimated rental if rented on a daily basis or, if rented on a weekly basis, multiplied by the number of weeks of the estimated rental.

516D.6 Disclosures.
1. All material restrictions on an advertised rate or on the use of the rental vehicle must be clearly and conspicuously disclosed in any price advertisement.
2. A rental company shall only advertise, quote, and charge a rental rate that includes all mandatory charges. A rental company shall not impose any mandatory charges in addition to the advertised or quoted rental rate.

516D.7 Prohibitions.
Unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the advertisement or rental of vehicles are prohibited. Unfair or deceptive acts or practices include, but are not limited to, the following:
c. Placing a block or charge against a customer’s credit card and then failing to clear the unused amount of the block or charge against the customer’s credit card after the customer returns the rental vehicle in the same amount of time, subject to credit card company or charge card company availability, as it took the rental company to place the block or charge against the customer’s card when the customer rented the vehicle.

d. Placing or threatening to place a block or charge on a customer’s credit card when seeking to recover any portion of a claim arising out of damage to, or loss of use of, the rental vehicle, unless, after the rental vehicle is damaged or lost, the rental company determines the exact amount of the repair or replacement costs and the customer authorizes the charge.

e. Charging an amount to a customer’s credit card for damage to, or loss of use of, a rental vehicle after the customer has left the location where the rental vehicle was returned, unless the customer has authorized the specific charge, in a specific amount, to be charged to the customer’s credit card. This subsection does not apply to a block in the amount of one dollar obtained for authorized charge amounts.

9. Assessment of additional driver fees for licensed drivers who are spouses or business associates engaged in business activities with the customer to whom the vehicle is rented, other than charges for a person who does not satisfy the rental company’s minimum age requirement, if applicable.

§518.17 Reinsurance.

Any county mutual insurance association may reinsure a part or all of its risks with any association operating under the provisions of this chapter, or with any other association or company licensed in this state and authorized to write the kinds of insurance enumerated in section 518.11.

The commissioner of insurance may require any county mutual insurance association to obtain reinsurance coverage as provided for in this section if it appears to the commissioner of insurance that the perils insured against and the classes of properties insured may seriously endanger the financial position of the association and the security of its members.

Reinsurance coverage obtained by a county mutual insurance association shall not expose the association to a loss of more than fifteen percent from surplus in any calendar year.
CHAPTER 521A
INSURANCE HOLDING COMPANY SYSTEMS

521A.2 Subsidiaries of insurers.
1 Authorization Any domestic insurer, either by itself or in co-operation with one or more persons, subject to the limitations set forth herein or elsewhere in this chapter, may organize or acquire one or more subsidiaries engaged or registered to engage in one or more of the following businesses or activities a Any kind of insurance business authorized by the jurisdiction in which it is incorporated b Acting as an insurance agent for its parent or for any of its parent’s insurance subsidiaries or intermediate insurer subsidiaries c Investing, reinvesting or trading in securities for its own account, that of its parent, any subsidiary of its parent, or any affiliate or subsidiary d Management of any investment company subject to or registered pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, including related sales and services
e Acting as a broker dealer subject to or registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended f Rendering financial services or advice to individuals, governments, government agencies, corporations, or other organizations or groups
g Rendering other services related to the operations of an insurance business including, but not limited to, actuarial, loss prevention, safety engineering, data processing, accounting, claims, appraisal, and collection services h Ownership and management of assets which the parent corporation could itself own and manage. However, the aggregate investment by the insurer and its subsidiaries acquired or organized pursuant to this paragraph shall not exceed the limitations applicable to the investments by the insurer i Acting as administrative agent for a government instrumentality which is performing an insurance function j Financing of insurance premiums, agents and other forms of consumer financing k Any other business or service activity reasonably ancillary to an insurance business
l Owning a corporation or corporations engaged or organized to engage exclusively in one or more of the businesses specified in paragraphs “a” to “k” inclusive
2 Exception Nothing contained in subsection 1 of this section shall prohibit a domestic insurer, either by itself or in co-operation with one or more persons, from investing amounts up to a total of ten percent of surplus in one or more subsidiaries or affiliates organized to do any lawful business

3 Additional investment authority In addition to investments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities permitted under all other sections of this Title, a domestic insurer may also a Invest, in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities of one or more subsidiaries, amounts which do not exceed the lesser of ten percent of the insurer’s assets or fifty percent of the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders, if after the investments the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders will be reasonable in relation to the insurer’s outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs. In calculating the amount of the investments, investments in domestic or foreign insurance subsidiaries shall be excluded and both of the following shall be included
   (1) Total net moneys or other consideration expended and obligations assumed in the acquisition or formation of a subsidiary, including all organizational expenses and contributions to capital and surplus of such subsidiary whether or not represented by the purchase of capital stock or issuance of other securities
   (2) All amounts expended in acquiring additional common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, and other securities and all contributions to the capital or surplus, of a subsidiary subsequent to its acquisition or formation
b Invest any amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations and other securities of one or more subsidiaries provided that each such subsidiary agrees to limit its investments in any asset so that such investments will not cause the amount of the total investment of the insurer to exceed any of the investment limitations specified in paragraph “a” of this subsection or in chapters 511, 515, 518A, and 520 applicable to the insurer. For the purpose of this paragraph, “total investment of the insurer” shall include both
   (1) Any direct investment by the insurer in an asset
   (2) The insurer’s proportionate share of any investment in an asset by any subsidiary of the insurer, which shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary’s investment by the percentage of the insurer’s ownership of such subsidiary c With the approval of the commissioner, invest any greater amount in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations, or other securities of one or more subsidiaries, if after the investment the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs

4 Exemption from investment restrictions In-vestments in common stock, preferred stock, debt obligations or other securities of subsidiaries made pursuant to subsection 3 of this section hereof shall not be subject to any of the otherwise applicable restrictions or prohibitions contained in the Code applicable to such investments of insurers

5 Qualification of investment — when deter-mined Whether any investment pursuant to subsection 3 meets the applicable requirements of the subsection is to be determined before the investment is made by calculating the applicable investment limitations as though the investment had already been made, taking into account the then outstanding principal balance on all previous investments in debt obligations, and the value of all previous investments in equity securities as of the day they were made, net of any return of capital invested, excluding divi-dends

6 Cessation of control If an insurer ceases to control a subsidiary, it shall dispose of any investment therein made pursuant to this section within three years from the time of the cessation of control or within such further time as the commissioner may prescribe, unless at any time after such investment shall have been made, such investment shall have met the requirements for investment under any other section of the Code, and the insurer has notified the commissioner thereof

Subsection 3 paragraph a unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

521A.3 Acquisition of control of or merger with domestic insurer.

1 Filing requirements No person other than the issuer shall make a tender offer for or a request or invitation for tenders of, or enter into any agreement to exchange securities for, seek to acquire, or acquire, in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a domestic insurer if, after the consum-mation thereof, such person would, directly or indi-rectly, or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire, be in control of such insurer, and no person shall enter into an agreement to merge with or other-wise to acquire control of a domestic insurer unless, at the time any such offer, request, or invitation is made or any such agreement is entered into, or prior to the acquisition of such securities if no offer or agreement is involved, such person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to such insurer, and such insurer has sent to its shareholders, a statement contain-ing the information required by this section and such offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition has been approved by the commissioner in the manner hereinafter prescribed

For purposes of this section a domestic insurer shall include any other person controlling a domestic insurer unless the other person is either directly or through its affiliates primarily engaged in business other than the business of insurance. However, for purposes of this section "person" does not include a securities broker holding, in the usual and customary broker's function, less than twenty percent of the voting securities of an insurance company or of a person which controls an insurance company

2 Content of statement The statement to be filed with the commissioner hereunder shall be made under oath or affirmation and shall contain the follow-ing information a The name and address of each person by whom or on whose behalf the merger or other acqui-sition of control referred to in subsection 1 of this section is to be effected, hereinafter called "acquiring party"

(1) If such person is an individual, the individu-al's principal occupation and all offices and positions held during the past five years, and any conviction of crimes other than minor traffic violations during the past ten years

(2) If such person is not an individual, a report of the nature of its business operations during the past five years or for such lesser period as such person and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence, an informative description of the business intended to be done by such person and such person's subsidiaries, and a list of all individuals who are or who have been selected to become directors or executive officers of such person, or who perform or will perform functions appropriate to such positions. Such list shall include for each such individual the information required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph

b The source, nature and amount of the consid-eration used or to be used in effecting the merger or other acquisition of control, a description of any transaction in which funds were or are to be obtained for any such purpose including a pledge of the insur-er's stock, or the stock of any of its subsidiaries or controlling affiliates, and the identity of persons furnishing the consideration. However, if a source of the consideration is a loan made in the lender's ordi-nary course of business, the identity of the lender shall remain confidential, if the person filing the statement so requests

c Fully audited financial information as to the earnings and financial condition of each acquiring party for the preceding five fiscal years of each such acquiring party, or for such lesser period as such acquiring party and any predecessors thereof shall have been in existence, and similar unaudited infor-mation as of a date not earlier than ninety days prior to the filing of the statement

d Any plans or proposals which each acquiring party may have to liquidate such insurer, to sell its assets or merge or consolidate it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management

e The number of shares of any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section which each acquir-ing party proposes to acquire, and the terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition

91 Acts ch 26 §48 SF 518
Subsection 3 paragraph a unnumbered paragraph 1 amended referred to in subsection 1 of this section, and a statement as to the method by which the fairness of the proposal was arrived at f The amount of each class of any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section which is beneficially owned or concerning which there is a right to acquire beneficial ownership by each acquiring party

g A full description of any contracts, arrangements or understandings with respect to any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section in which any acquiring party is involved, including but not limited to transfer of any of the securities, joint ventures, loan or option arrangements, puts or calls, guarantees of loans, guarantees against loss or guarantees of profits, division of losses or profits, or the giving or withholding of proxies. Such description shall identify the persons with whom such contracts, arrangements or understandings have been entered into

h A description of the purchase of any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section during the twelve calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by any acquiring party, including the dates of purchase, names of the purchasers, and consideration paid or agreed to be paid therefor

i A description of any recommendations to purchase any security referred to in subsection 1 of this section made during the twelve calendar months preceding the filing of the statement, by any acquiring party, or by anyone based upon interview or at the suggestion of such acquiring party

j Copies of all tender offers for, requests or invita tions for tenders of, exchange offers for, and agreements to acquire or exchange any securities referred to in subsection 1 of this section, and, if distributed, of additional soliciting material relating thereto

k The terms of any agreement, contract or understanding made with any broker-dealer as to solicitation of securities referred to in subsection 1 of this section for tender, and the amount of any fees, commissions or other compensation to be paid to broker-dealers with regard thereto

l Additional information as the commissioner may by rule prescribe as necessary or appropriate for the protection of policyholders of the insurer or in the public interest

If the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection 1 of this section is a partnership, limited partnership, syndicate or other group, the commissioner may require that the information called for by paragraphs "a" through "l" of this subsection be given with respect to each partner of such partnership or limited partnership, each member of such syndicate or group, and each person who controls such partner or member. If any such partner, member or person is a corporation or the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection 1 of this section is a corporation, the commissioner may require that the information called for by paragraphs "a" through "l" of this subsection be given with respect to such corporation, each officer and director of such corporation, and each person who is directly or indirectly the beneficial owner of more than ten percent of the outstanding voting securities of such corporation. If any material change occurs in the facts set forth in the statement filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer pursuant to this section, an amendment setting forth such change, together with copies of all documents and other material relevant to such change, shall be filed with the commissioner and sent to such insurer within two business days after the person learns of such change. Such insurer shall send such amendment to its shareholders

3 Alternative filing materials If any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in subsection 1 of this section is proposed to be made by means of a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 or in circumstances requiring the disclosure of similar information under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or under a state law requiring similar registration, or disclosure, the person required to file the statement referred to in subsection 1 of this section may utilize such documents in furnishing the information called for by that statement

4 Approval by the commissioner — hearings

a The commissioner shall approve any merger or other acquisition of control referred to in subsection 1 of this section unless, after a public hearing thereon, the commissioner finds any of the following:

(1) After the change of control the domestic insurer referred to in subsection 1 of this section would not be able to satisfy the requirements for the issuance of a license to write the line or lines of insurance for which it is presently licensed

(2) The effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly therein

(3) The financial condition of any acquiring party is such as might jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer, or prejudice the interest of its policyholders

(4) The plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management, are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer and not in the public interest

(5) The competence, experience and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer and of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control

b The public hearing referred to in paragraph "a" shall be held within thirty days after the statement required by subsection 1 is filed, and at least twenty days' notice of the public hearing shall be given by the commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than seven days' notice of the public hearing shall be given by the person filing the statement to the insurer and to such other persons as may be designated by the commissioner. The commissioner shall make a determination within thirty days after the conclusion of the hearing. At the hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent, and any other person whose interests may be affected shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and in connection therewith shall be entitled to conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the district court of this state. All discovery proceedings shall be concluded not later than three days prior to the commencement of the public hearing.

5. Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition which the commissioner by order shall exempt therefrom for one of the following reasons:
   a. It has not been made or entered into for the purpose and does not have the effect of changing or influencing the control of a domestic insurer.
   b. It is otherwise not comprehended within the purposes of this section.

6. Violations. The following shall be violations of this section:
   a. The failure to file any statement, amendment, or other material required to be filed pursuant to subsection 1 or 2 of this section.
   b. The effectuation or any attempt to effectuate an acquisition of control of, or merger with, a domestic insurer unless the commissioner has given approval thereto.

7. Jurisdiction — consent to service of process. The district court is hereby vested with jurisdiction over every person not resident, domiciled, or authorized to do business in this state who files a statement with the commissioner under this section, and over all actions involving such person arising out of violations of this section, and each such person shall be deemed to have performed acts equivalent to and constituting an appointment by such a person of the commissioner to be the person’s true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process, notice or demand in any action, suit or proceeding arising out of violations of this section. Copies of all such lawful process, notice or demand shall be served on the commissioner and transmitted by registered or certified mail by the commissioner to such person at the person’s last known address.

521A.4 Registration of insurers.

1. Registration An insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is a member of an insurance holding company system shall register with the commissioner, except a foreign insurer subject to registration requirements and standards which are substantially similar to those contained in this section and section 521A.5, subsection 1, paragraph "a", and are adopted by statute or regulation in the jurisdiction of its domicile. The insurer shall also file a copy of the summary of its registration statement as required by subsection 4 in each state in which that insurer is authorized to do business if requested to do so by the commissioner of that state. An insurer which is subject to registration under this section shall register within fifteen days after it becomes subject to registration and annually thereafter by March 31 of each year for the previous calendar year unless the commissioner for good cause shown extends the time for registration, and then within the extended time. The commissioner may require any authorized insurer which is a member of a holding company system which is not subject to registration under this section to furnish a copy of the registration statement or other information filed by the insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority of the company’s domiciliary jurisdiction.

2. Information and form required. Every insurer subject to registration shall file a registration statement on a form prescribed by the commissioner, which may be a form provided by the national association of insurance commissioners, which shall contain current information about:
   a. The capital structure, general financial condition, ownership and management of the insurer and any person controlling the insurer.
   b. The identity and relationship of every member of the insurance holding company system.
   c. The following agreements in force, relationships subsisting, and transactions currently outstanding or which have occurred during the last calendar year between the insurer and its affiliates:
      (1) Loans, other investments, or purchases, sales, or exchanges of securities of the affiliates by the insurer or of the insurer by its affiliates.
      (2) Purchases, sales, or exchanges of assets.
      (3) Transactions not in the ordinary course of business.
      (4) Guarantees or undertakings for the benefit of an affiliate which result in an actual contingent exposure of the insurer’s assets to liability, other than insurance contracts entered into in the ordinary course of the insurer’s business.
      (5) All management and service contracts and all cost-sharing arrangements, other than cost allocation arrangements based upon generally accepted accounting principles.
      (6) Reinsurance agreements.
      (7) Dividends and other distributions to shareholders.
      (8) Consolidated tax allocation agreements.
   d. A pledge of the insurer’s stock, including stock of a subsidiary or controlling affiliate, for a loan made to a member of the insurance holding company system.
   e. Other matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in any registration forms adopted or approved by the commissioner.
Materiality  Information need not be disclosed on the registration statement filed pursuant to subsection 2 if the information is not material for the purposes of this section. Unless the commissioner by rule or order provides otherwise, sales, purchases, exchanges, loans or extensions of credit, or investments or guarantees involving one half of one percent or less of an insurer's admitted assets as of the next preceding December 31 are not material for purposes of this section.

Reporting of dividends to shareholders  Subject to section 521A.5, subsection 3, a registered insurer shall report to the commissioner all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within fifteen days following the declaration of the dividends or distributions.

Summary of registration statement  All registration statements shall contain a summary outlining all items in the current registration statement representing changes from the next preceding registration statement.

Information of insurers  Any person within an insurance holding company system subject to registration required to provide complete and accurate information to the insurer if the information is reasonably necessary to enable the insurer to comply with this chapter.

Termination of registration  The commissioner shall terminate the registration of any insurer which demonstrates that it no longer is a member of an insurance holding company system.

Consolidated filing  The commissioner may require or allow two or more affiliated insurers subject to registration hereunder to file a consolidated registration statement or consolidated reports amending their consolidated registration statement or their individual registration statements.

Alternative registration  The commissioner may allow an insurer which is authorized to do business in this state and which is part of an insurance holding company system to register on behalf of any affiliated insurer which is required to register under subsection 1 of this section and to file all information and material required to be filed under this section.

Exemptions  The provisions of this section shall not apply to any insurer, information or transaction if and to the extent that the commissioner by rule, regulation, or order shall exempt the same from the provisions of this section.

Disclaimer  Any person may file with the commissioner a disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer or such a disclaimer may be filed by such insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. The disclaimer shall fully disclose all material relationships and basis for affiliation between such person and such insurer as well as the basis for disclaiming such affiliation. After a disclaimer has been filed, the insurer shall be relieved of any duty to register or report under this section which may arise out of the insurer's relationship with such person unless and until the commissioner disallows such a disclaimer. The commissioner shall disallow such a disclaimer only after furnishing all parties in interest with notice and opportunity to be heard and after making specific findings of fact to support such disallowance.

Violations  The failure to file a registration statement or a summary of the registration statement required by this section within the time specified for the filing is a violation of this section.

Standards.

1  Transactions within a holding company system affecting domestic insurers a  Material transactions by registered insurers with their affiliates are subject to the following standards:

(1) The terms shall be fair and reasonable.
(2) Charges or fees for services performed shall be reasonable.
(3) Expenses incurred and payment received shall be allocated to the insurer in conformity with customary and consistently applied insurance accounting practices.
(4) The books, accounts, and records of each party shall be so maintained as to clearly and accurately disclose the precise nature and details of the transactions.
(5) After any dividends or distributions to shareholder affiliates, the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders shall be reasonable in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs.

b  A domestic insurer and a person in its holding company system shall not enter into any of the following transactions between each other involving amounts equal to or exceeding the lesser of five percent of the insurer's admitted assets or twenty-five percent of the surplus as regards policyholders as of the next preceding December 31, unless the domestic insurer notifies the commissioner in writing of its intention to enter into the transaction at least thirty days prior to entering into the transaction or within a shorter time permitted by the commissioner and the commissioner has not disapproved of the transaction within the time period:

(1) Sales
(2) Purchases
(3) Exchanges
(4) Loans or extensions of credit
(5) Guarantees
(6) Investments
(7) Loans or extensions of credit to a person who is not an affiliate, if the domestic insurer makes the loans or extensions of credit with the agreement or understanding that the proceeds of the transactions, in whole or in substantial part, are to be used to make loans or extensions of credit to, to purchase assets of, or to make investments in, an affiliate of the domestic insurer making the loans or extensions of credit.
c A domestic insurer and a person in its holding company system shall not enter into any of the following transactions, unless the domestic insurer notifies the commissioner in writing of its intention to enter into the transaction at least thirty days prior to entering into the transaction or within a shorter time permitted by the commissioner and the commissioner has not disapproved of the transaction within the time period:

(1) All reinsurance agreements which in the aggregate will or may require as consideration the net transfer of assets to or by the domestic insurer in an amount, as of the next preceding December 31, exceeding twenty-five percent of statutory surplus

(2) Any material transactions specified by rule which the commissioner determines may adversely affect the interests of the domestic insurer’s policyholders.

d This subsection does not authorize or permit any transactions which in the case of an insurer would be otherwise contrary to law.

e A domestic insurer shall not enter into transactions which are part of a plan or series of like transactions with a person or persons within the holding company system if the purpose of those separate transactions is to avoid the statutory threshold amount and thus avoid the review that would occur otherwise.

If the commissioner determines that such separate transactions were entered into over a twelve-month period for that purpose, the commissioner may exercise the authority under section 521A 10.

f The commissioner, in reviewing transactions pursuant to paragraphs "b" and "c", shall consider whether the transactions comply with the standards set forth in paragraph "a".

g A domestic insurer shall notify the commissioner within thirty days of an investment of the insurer in a corporation if the total investment in the corporation by the insurance holding company system exceeds ten percent of the corporation’s voting securities.

2 Adequacy of surplus

For purposes of this chapter in determining whether an insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders is reasonable in relation to the insurer’s outstanding liabilities and adequate to its financial needs, the following factors, among others, shall be considered:

a The size of the insurer as measured by its assets, capital and surplus, reserves, premium writings, insurance in force and other appropriate criteria.

b The extent to which the insurer’s business is diversified among the several lines of insurance.

c The number and size of risks insured in each line of business.

d The extent of the geographical dispersion of the insurer’s insured risks.

e The nature and extent of the insurer’s reinsurance program.

f The quality, diversification, and liquidity of the insurer’s investment portfolio.

g The recent past and projected future trend in the size of the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders.

h The surplus as regards policyholders maintained by other comparable insurers.

i The adequacy of the insurer’s reserves.

j The quality and liquidity of investments in subsidiaries made pursuant to section 521A 2. The commissioner may treat any such investment as a disallowed asset for purposes of determining the adequacy of surplus as regards policyholders whenever in the commissioner’s judgment such investment so warrants.

3 Dividends and other distributions

A domestic insurer subject to registration under section 521A 4 shall not pay any extraordinary dividend or make any other extraordinary distribution to its shareholders until either thirty days after the commissioner has received notice of the declaration of the payment and has not within the period disapproved the payment, or the commissioner shall have approved the payment within the thirty-day period.

For purposes of this section, an extraordinary dividend or distribution includes any dividend or distribution of cash or other property whose fair market value together with that of other dividends or distributions made within the preceding twelve months exceeds the greater of either ten percent of the insurer’s surplus as regards policyholders as of the next preceding December 31, or the net gain from operations of the insurer if the insurer is a life insurer, or the net investment income if the insurer is not a life insurer, for the twelve-month period ending the next preceding December 31, but shall not include pro rata distributions of any class of the insurer’s own securities.

In determining whether a dividend or distribution is extraordinary, an insurer may carry forward income or gain from operations from the previous two calendar years that has not already been paid out as dividends.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurer may declare an extraordinary dividend or distribution which is conditional upon the commissioner’s approval thereof, and such a declaration shall confer no rights upon shareholders until either the commissioner has approved the payment of such dividend or distribution, or the commissioner has not disapproved such payment within the thirty-day period referred to above.

521A.10 Sanctions and penalties.

1 If the commissioner finds after notice and hearing that a person subject to registration under section 521A 4 failed without just cause to file a registration statement as required in this chapter, the person shall be required to pay a penalty of one thousand dollars for each day’s delay. The penalty shall be recovered by the commissioner and paid into the state general fund. The maximum penalty under this section is ten thousand dollars. The commissioner may reduce the penalty if the person demonstrates that the imposition of the penalty would constitute a financial hardship to the person.

2. a. A director or officer of an insurance holding company system who does any of the following is subject to the civil penalty imposed under paragraph "b":

   (1) Knowingly participates in or assents to transactions or investments which have not been properly reported or submitted pursuant to section 521A.4 or section 521A.5, subsection 1, paragraph "b".

   (2) Knowingly permits any of the officers or agents of an insurer to engage in transactions or make investments which have not been properly reported or submitted pursuant to section 521A.4 or section 521A.5, subsection 1, paragraph "b".

   (3) Knowingly violates any other provision of this chapter.

b. An officer or director of an insurance holding company system who commits any of the acts or omissions listed in paragraph "a" shall pay, in the person's individual capacity, a civil penalty of not more than one thousand dollars per violation, after notice and hearing before the commissioner. In determining the amount of the civil penalty, the commissioner shall take into account the appropriateness of the penalty with respect to the gravity of the violation, the history of previous violations, and such other matters as justice may require.

3. If it appears to the commissioner that an insurer subject to this chapter has engaged in a transaction or entered into a contract which is subject to section 521A.5 and which would not have been approved had approval been requested, the commissioner may order the insurer to immediately cease and desist any further activity under that transaction or contract. After notice and hearing, the commissioner may also order the insurer to void any contracts and restore the status quo if the commissioner finds that action is in the best interest of the policyholders, creditors, or the public.

4. If it appears to the commissioner that an insurer or a director, officer, agent, or employee of an insurer has committed a willful violation of this chapter, the commissioner may institute criminal proceedings against the insurer or the responsible director, officer, agent, or employee in the district court for the county in which the principal office of the insurer is located, or if the insurer has no office in this state, then in the district court for Polk county. An insurer or individual who willfully violates this chapter is guilty of a class "D" felony.

5. A director or officer, or employee of an insurance holding company system who willfully and knowingly subscribes to or makes or causes to be made any false statements, false reports, or false filings with the intent to deceive the commissioner in the performance of the commissioner's duties under this chapter is guilty of a class "D" felony. Any fines imposed shall be paid by the director, officer, or employee in the person's individual capacity.

NEW subsections 2 and 5 and former subsections 2 and 3 renumbered as 3 and 4

CHAPTER 521B
CREDIT FOR REINSURANCE
Chapter applicable to all cessions and retrocessions under agreements with inception, anniversary, or renewal date not earlier than six months after July 1, 1991, 91 Acts, ch 26, § 64 SF 518

§521B.1 Short title.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Credit for Reinsurance Act."

§521B.2 Credit allowed a domestic ceding insurer.
Credit for reinsurance is allowed a domestic ceding insurer as either an asset or a deduction from liability on account of reinsurance ceded only if the reinsurer meets the requirements of subsection 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5. If the reinsurer meets the requirements of subsection 3 or 4, the requirements of subsection 6 must also be met.

1. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is licensed to transact the business of reinsurance in this state.

2. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is accredited as a reinsurer in this state. An accredited reinsurer is one which satisfies all of the following conditions:

   a. Files with the commissioner evidence of submission to the jurisdiction of this state.

   b. Submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records.

   c. Is licensed to transact reinsurance in at least one state, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through and li-licensed to transact the business of reinsurance in at least one state.

d. Files annually with the commissioner a copy of its annual statement filed with the insurance department of its state of domicile and a copy of its most recent audited financial statement and does either of the following:

1. Maintains a surplus with respect to policyholders in an amount which is not less than twenty million dollars and whose accreditation has not been denied by the commissioner within ninety days of its submission to the jurisdiction of this state.

2. Maintains a surplus with respect to policyholders in an amount less than twenty million dollars and whose accreditation has been approved by the commissioner. Credit shall not be allowed to an assuming insurer if the accreditation of the assuming insurer is revoked by the commissioner after notice and hearing.

To qualify as an accredited reinsurer, an assuming insurer must meet all of the requirements and the standards set forth in this subsection. If the commissioner determines that the assuming insurer has failed to continue to meet any of these requirements or standards, the commissioner may upon written notice and hearing revoke accreditation of the assuming insurer.

This section does not apply to reinsurance ceded and assumed pursuant to pooling arrangements among insurers in the same holding company system.

3. a. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is domiciled and licensed in, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer is entered through, a state which employs standards regarding credit for reinsurance substantially similar to those applicable under this section, and the assuming insurer or United States branch of an alien assuming insurer does both of the following:

1. Maintains a surplus with respect to policyholders in an amount of not less than twenty million dollars.

2. Submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records.

b. However, the requirement of paragraph "a", subparagraph (1), does not apply to reinsurance ceded and assumed pursuant to a pooling arrangement among insurers in the same holding company system.

4. a. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which maintains a trust fund in a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521B.4, subsection 2, for the payment of the valid claims of its United States policyholders and ceding insurers, their assigns, and successors in interest. The assuming insurer shall report annually to the commissioner information substantially the same as that required to be reported on the national association of insurance commissioners' annual statement form by licensed insurers to enable the commissioner to determine the sufficiency of the trust fund. In the case of a single assuming insurer, the trust shall consist of a trusted account representing the liabilities of the assuming insurer attributable to business written in the United States and, in addition, the assuming insurer shall maintain a trusted surplus of not less than twenty million dollars. In the case of a group of individual unincorporated underwriters, the trust shall consist of a trusted account representing the liabilities of the group attributable to business written in the United States and, in addition, the group shall maintain a trusted surplus of which one hundred million dollars shall be held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group. The group shall make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the solvency of each underwriter by the group's domiciliary regulator and its independent public accountants.

b. In the case of a group of incorporated insurers under common administration which complies with the filing requirements contained in paragraph "a", which is under the supervision of the department of trade and industry of the United Kingdom, which submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records and bears the expense of the examination, and which has aggregate policyholders' surplus of at least ten billion dollars, the trust shall be in an amount equal to the several liabilities of the group attributable to business written in the United States. The group shall also maintain a joint trusted surplus of which one hundred million dollars shall be held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group, and each member of the group shall make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the member's solvency by the member's domiciliary regulator and its independent public accountant.

c. Such trust shall be established in a form approved by the commissioner. The trust instrument shall provide that contested claims are valid and enforceable upon the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States. The trust vests legal title to its assets in the trustees of the trust for its United States policyholders and ceding insurers, their assigns, and successors in interest.

The trust and the assuming insurer are subject to examination as determined by the commissioner. The trust described in this paragraph must remain in effect for as long as the assuming insurer has outstanding obligations due under the reinsurance agreements subject to the trust.

d. No later than February 28 of each year the trustees of the trust shall report to the commissioner in writing setting forth the balance of the trust and listing the trust's investments at the end of the preceding calendar year and shall certify the date of termination of the trust, if so planned, or certify that the trust shall not expire prior to the following December 31.

5. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of subsection 1, 2, 3, or 4, but only with respect to the insurance of risks located in a jurisdiction where such reinsurance is required by applicable law or regulation of that jurisdiction. For purposes of this subsection, jurisdiction refers to a jurisdiction other than the United States, and any state, district, or territory of the United States. This subsection allows credit to ceding insurers which are mandated by such a jurisdiction to cede reinsurance to state owned or controlled insurance or reinsurance companies or to participate in pools, guaranty funds, or joint underwriting associations.

6. If the assuming insurer is not licensed or accredited to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state, the credit permitted by subsection 3 or 4 is not allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the reinsurance agreements to both of the following:

(1) That in the event of the failure of the assuming insurer to perform its obligations under the terms of the reinsurance agreement, the assuming insurer, at the request of the ceding insurer, shall submit to the jurisdiction of any court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States, shall comply with all requirements necessary to give such court jurisdiction, and shall abide by the final decision of such court or of any appellate court in the event of an appeal.

(2) That the commissioner or an attorney designated in the agreement is the true and lawful attorney of the assuming insurer upon whom may be served any lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding company.

b. This subsection is not intended to conflict with or override the obligation of the parties to a reinsurance agreement to arbitrate their disputes, if such an obligation is created in the agreement.

521B.3 Reduction from liability for reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to an assuming insurer.

A reduction from liability for the reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of section 521B.2 is allowed in an amount not exceeding the liabilities carried by the ceding insurer and the reduction shall be in the amount of funds held by or on behalf of the ceding insurer, including funds held in trust for the ceding insurer, under a reinsurance contract with the assuming insurer as security for the payment of obligations under the reinsurance contract, if such security is held in the United States subject to withdrawal solely by, and under the exclusive control of, the ceding insurer, or in the case of a trust, held in a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521B.4, subsection 2. This security may be held in the form of any of the following:

1. Cash.
2. Securities listed by the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners and qualifying as admitted assets.

3. Clean, irrevocable, unconditional letters of credit, issued or confirmed by a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521B.4, subsection 2, no later than December 31 of the year for which filing is being made, and in the possession of the ceding insurer on or before the filing date of its annual statement.

Letters of credit meeting applicable standards of issuer acceptability as of the dates of their issuance or confirmation shall, notwithstanding the subsequent failure of the issuing or confirming institution or subsequent failure to meet applicable standards of issuer acceptability, continue to be acceptable as security until their expiration, extension, renewal, modification, or amendment, whichever first occurs.

4. Any other form of security acceptable to the commissioner.

521B.4 Qualified United States financial institutions.

1. For purposes of this chapter, a "qualified United States financial institution" means an institution that satisfies all of the following conditions: a. The financial institution is organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States.

b. The financial institution is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

c. The financial institution has been determined by either the commissioner, or the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners, to meet such standards of financial condition and standing as are considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit will be acceptable to the commissioner.

2. A "qualified United States financial institution" means, for purposes of those provisions of this chapter specifying those institutions that are eligible to act as a fiduciary of a trust, an institution that is both of the following:

a. Organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States, and has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers.

b. Regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

521B.5 Rules.

The commissioner may adopt rules, pursuant to chapter 17A, as necessary or convenient to administer this chapter.
CHAPTER 521C
REINSURANCE INTERMEDIARIES

Chapter effective July 1, 1991, services of reinsurance intermediary not to be utilized on or after that date unless in compliance with this chapter, 91 Acts, ch 26, § 65 SF 518

521C.1 Short title.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Reinsurance Intermediary Model Act."

91 Acts, ch 26, §19 SF 518
NEW section

521C.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Actuary" means a person who is a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries.
2. "Controlling person" means a person who directly or indirectly has the power to direct or cause to be directed, the management, control, or activities of the reinsurance intermediary.
3. "Insurer" means a person licensed to transact the business of insurance in this state.
4. "Licensed producer" means an agent, broker, or reinsurance intermediary licensed pursuant to the applicable provision of the insurance law of any jurisdiction.
5. "Reinsurance intermediary" means a reinsurance intermediary-broker or a reinsurance intermediary-manager.
6. "Reinsurance intermediary-broker" means a person, other than an officer or employee of the ceding insurer, who solicits, negotiates, or places reinsurance cessions or retrocessions on behalf of a ceding insurer without the authority or power to bind reinsurance on behalf of the ceding insurer.
7. "Reinsurance intermediary-manager" means a person who has authority to bind or manage all or part of the assumed reinsurance business of a reinsurer, including the management of a separate division, department, or underwriting office, and acts as an agent for the reinsurer whether known as a reinsurance intermediary-manager or manager, or known by any other similar term or title. However, for the purposes of this chapter, the following persons shall not be considered a reinsurance intermediary-manager, with respect to the reinsurer:
   a. An employee of the reinsurer.
   b. A manager of a United States branch of an alien reinsurer who resides in this country.
   c. An underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all the reinsurance operations of the reinsurer, who is under common control with the reinsurer, subject to chapter 521A relating to the regulation of insurance holding company systems, and who is not compensated based upon the volume of premiums written.
   d. The manager of a group, association, pool, or organization of insurers who engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance and who is subject to examination by the insurance commissioner of the state in which the manager's principal business office is located.
8. "Reinsurer" means a person licensed in this state as a reinsurer with the authority to assume reinsurance.
9. "To be in violation" means that the reinsurance intermediary, insurer, or reinsurer for whom the reinsurance intermediary was acting failed to substantially comply with the provisions of this chapter.
10. "Qualified United States financial institution" means an institution that satisfies all of the following conditions:
   a. The financial institution is organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States.
   b. The financial institution is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.
   c. The financial institution has been determined by either the commissioner, or the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners, to meet such standards of financial condition and standing as are considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit will be acceptable to the commissioner.

521C.3 Licensure.
1. A person shall not act as a reinsurance intermediary-broker in this state if the person maintains an office in this state or another state individually or as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state or another state having a law substantially similar to this law, or the person is licensed in this state as a nonresident reinsurance intermediary.
2. A person shall not act as a reinsurance intermediary-manager in any of the following circumstances:
   a. Where the reinsurer is domiciled in this state, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.
   b. Where the person maintains an office in this state as a reinsurance intermediary-manager; or
   c. Where the person maintains an office in another state individually or as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation, unless the person is licensed in this state or another state having a law substantially similar to this law.
§521C.3

state individually or as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation in this state, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.

c. Where the person would be acting in another state for a nonresident insurer, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state or in another state having a law substantially similar to this law, or is licensed in this state as a nonresident reinsurance intermediary.

3. The commissioner may require a reinsurance intermediary-manager subject to subsection 2 to do one or more of the following:
   a. File a bond in an amount determined by the commissioner from an insurer acceptable to the commissioner for the protection of each reinsurer represented by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.
   b. Maintain an errors and omissions policy in an amount acceptable to the commissioner.

4. The commissioner may issue a reinsurance intermediary license to a person who has complied with the requirements of this chapter. Any such license issued to a firm or association will authorize all of the members of the firm or association and any designated employees to act as reinsurance intermediaries under the license, and all such persons shall be named in the application and any supplements to the application. A license issued to a corporation shall authorize all of the officers, and any designated employees and directors of the corporation to act as reinsurance intermediaries on behalf of the corporation, and all such persons shall be named in the application and any supplements to the application.

b. If the applicant for a reinsurance intermediary license is a nonresident, such applicant, as a condition precedent to receiving or holding a license, shall designate the commissioner as agent for service of process, and also shall furnish the commissioner with the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such nonresident reinsurance intermediary may be served. The licensee shall promptly notify the commissioner in writing of a change of the designated agent for service of process, and the change becomes effective upon acknowledgment by the commissioner.

5. The commissioner may refuse to issue a reinsurance intermediary license if, in the commissioner's judgment, any of the following conditions are present:
   a. The applicant, anyone named in the application, or any member, principal, officer, or director of the applicant, is not trustworthy.
   b. A controlling person of such applicant is not trustworthy to act as a reinsurance intermediary.
   c. Conditions present in paragraph "a" or "b" have given cause for revocation or suspension of a license, or a person referred to in paragraph "a" or "b" has failed to comply with any prerequisite for the issuance of a license.

Upon written request, the commissioner shall furnish a written summary of the basis for refusal to issue a license, which document is privileged and not subject to disclosure under chapter 22.

6. A licensed attorney in this state when acting in a professional capacity as an attorney is exempt from the requirements of this section.

521C.4 Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-brokers.

Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-broker and the insurer that the reinsurance intermediary-broker represents in such capacity shall only be entered into pursuant to a written authorization, specifying the responsibilities of each party. The authorization shall, at a minimum, contain provisions that satisfy all of the following requirements:

1. The insurer may terminate the authority of the reinsurance intermediary-broker at any time.

2. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall render accounts to the insurer accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the reinsurance intermediary-broker, and shall remit all funds due to the insurer within thirty days of receipt.

3. All funds collected for the account of the insurer shall be held by the reinsurance intermediary-broker in a fiduciary capacity in a bank, as defined in section 524.103.

4. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with section 521C.5.

5. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with the written standards established by the insurer for the cession or retrocession of all risks.

6. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall disclose to the insurer any relationship with any reinsurer to which business will be ceded or retroceded.

521C.5 Books and records — reinsurance intermediary-brokers.

1. For a minimum of ten years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-broker, the reinsurance intermediary-broker shall keep a complete record for each transaction showing all of the following:

   a. The type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory.

   b. The period of coverage, including effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions, and notice required of cancellation.

   c. The reporting and settlement requirements of balances.

   d. The rate used to compute the reinsurance premium.

   e. The names and addresses of assuming reinsurers.

   f. The rates of all reinsurance commissions, including the commissions on any retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker.
All related correspondence and memoranda.

Proof of placement.

The details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker including the identity of retrocessionaires and percentage of each contract assumed or ceded.

Financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts.

If the reinsurance intermediary-broker procures a reinsurance contract on behalf of a licensed ceding insurer one or both of the following shall be included in the record:

1. Directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk.
2. If placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

The insurer has a right of access and the right to copy and audit all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-broker related to its business in a form usable by the insurer.

The reinsurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager. The reinsurer may suspend the authority of the reinsurance intermediary-manager to assume or cede business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall render accounts to the reinsurer accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by, or owing to the reinsurance intermediary-manager, and shall remit all funds due under the contract to the reinsurer on not less than a monthly basis.

All funds collected for the reinsurer’s account shall be held by the reinsurance intermediary-manager in a fiduciary capacity in a bank which is a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521C.2. The reinsurance intermediary-manager may retain no more than three months’ estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall maintain a separate bank account for each reinsurer that the reinsurance intermediary-manager represents.

For at least ten years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurance intermediary-manager shall keep a complete record for each transaction showing all of the following:

a. The type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory.
b. The period of coverage, including effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions and notice required of cancellation, and disposition of outstanding reserves on covered risks.
c. The reporting and settlement requirements of balances.
d. The rate used to compute the reinsurance premium.
e. The names and addresses of reinsurers.
f. The rates of all reinsurance commissions, including the commissions on any retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.
g. Any related correspondence and memoranda.
h. Proof of placement.
i. The details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, as permitted by section 521C.9, subsection 4, including the identity of retrocessionaires and percentage of each contract assumed or ceded.

Financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts.

If the reinsurance intermediary-manager places a reinsurance contract on behalf of a ceding insurer one or both of the following shall be included in the record:

1. Directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk.
2. If placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.
§521C.7

5. The reinsurer has a right of access and the right to copy all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-manager related to its business in a form usable by the reinsurer.

6. The contract cannot be assigned in whole or in part by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

7. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall comply with the written underwriting and rating standards established by the insurer for the acceptance, rejection, or cession of all risks.

8. The contract shall set forth the rates, terms, and purposes of commissions, charges, and other fees which the reinsurance intermediary-manager may levy against the reinsurer.

9. If the contract permits the reinsurance intermediary-manager to settle claims on behalf of the reinsurer, all of the following apply:
   a. All claims shall be reported to the reinsurer in a timely manner.
   b. A copy of the claim file shall be sent to the reinsurer at its request or as soon as it becomes known that the claim meets any or all of the following conditions:
      (1) The claim has the potential to exceed the lesser of an amount determined by the commissioner or the limit set by the reinsurer.
      (2) The claim involves a coverage dispute.
      (3) The claim may exceed the claims settlement authority of the reinsurance intermediary-manager.
      (4) The claim is open for more than six months.
      (5) The claim is closed by payment of the lesser of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the reinsurer.
   c. All claim files shall be the joint property of the reinsurer and reinsurance intermediary-manager. However, upon an order of liquidation of the reinsurer the files shall become the sole property of the reinsurer or its estate. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall have reasonable access to and the right to copy the files on a timely basis.
   d. Any settlement authority granted to the reinsurance intermediary-manager may be terminated for cause upon the reinsurer's written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager or upon the termination of the contract. The reinsurer may suspend settlement authority during the pendency of the dispute regarding the cause of termination.

10. If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, interim profits shall not be paid until one year after the end of each underwriting period for property insurance and five years after the end of each underwriting period for casualty insurance business, or a later period as determined by the commissioner for each type of insurance, but in no case until the adequacy of reserves on remaining claims has been verified pursuant to section 521C.9, subsection 3.

11. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall annually provide the reinsurer with a statement of its financial condition prepared by an independent certified accountant.

12. The reinsurer shall periodically, but not less than semiannually, conduct an on-site review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

13. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall disclose to the reinsurer any relationship the reinsurance intermediary-manager has with any insurer prior to ceding or assuming any business with the insurer pursuant to this contract.

14. The acts of the reinsurance intermediary-manager are deemed to be the acts of the reinsurer on whose behalf the reinsurance intermediary-manager is acting.

91 Acts, ch 26, §26 SF 518
NEW section

521C.8 Prohibited acts.

The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall not do any of the following:

1. Bind retrocessions on behalf of the reinsurer, except that the reinsurance intermediary-manager may bind facultative retrocessions pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the reinsurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines for such retrocessions. The guidelines shall include a list of reinsurers with which the automatic agreements are in effect, and for each reinsurer, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

2. Commit the reinsurer to participate in reinsurance syndicates.

3. Appoint any producer without assuring that the producer is licensed to transact the type of reinsurance for which the producer is appointed.

4. Without prior approval of the reinsurer, pay or commit the reinsurer to pay a claim, or a net amount of retrocessions, that exceeds the lesser of an amount specified by the reinsurer or one percent of the reinsurer’s policyholder’s surplus as of December 31 of the last complete calendar year.

5. Collect any payment from a retrocessionaire or the reinsurer to any claim settlement with a retrocessionaire, without prior approval of the reinsurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded to the reinsurer.

6. Jointly employ an individual who is employed by the reinsurer.

521C.9 Duties of reinsurers utilizing the services of a reinsurance intermediary-manager.

1. A reinsurer shall not engage the services of a person to act as a reinsurance intermediary-manager on its behalf unless the person is licensed as required by section 521C.3, subsection 2.

2. The reinsurer shall annually obtain a copy of statements of the financial condition of each reinsurance intermediary-manager whom the reinsurer has engaged pursuant to subsection 1. The statements of financial condition shall be prepared by an independent certified accountant in a form acceptable to the commissioner.

3. If a reinsurance intermediary-manager establishes loss reserves, the reinsurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by the reinsurance intermediary-manager. This opinion shall be in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

4. Binding authority for all retrocessional contracts or participation in reinsurance syndicates shall rest with an officer of the reinsurer who shall not be affiliated with the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

5. Within thirty days of termination of a contract with a reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurer shall provide written notification of the termination to the commissioner.

6. A reinsurer shall not appoint to its board of directors any officer, director, employee, controlling shareholder, or an agent of a producer of its reinsurance intermediary-manager. This subsection shall not apply to relationships governed by chapter 521A relating to the regulation of insurance company holding systems or, if applicable, governed by chapter 510A relating to the regulation of producer controlled property and casualty insurers.

521C.11 Penalties and liabilities.
1. A reinsurance intermediary, insurer, or reinsurer found by the commissioner, after a hearing conducted in accordance with chapter 17A, to be in violation of this chapter is subject to one or more of the following:

a. For each separate violation, a civil penalty in an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

b. Revocation or suspension of the license of the reinsurance intermediary.

c. If a violation was committed by the reinsurance intermediary, a civil action brought by the commissioner seeking restitution by the reinsurance intermediary to the insurer, reinsurer, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer or reinsurer for the net losses incurred by the insurer or reinsurer attributable to the violation.

2. A decision, determination, or order of the commissioner made or entered pursuant to subsection 1 is subject to judicial review pursuant to chapter 17A.

3. This section does not affect the right of the commissioner to impose any other penalties provided in this title.

4. This chapter shall not in any manner limit or restrict the rights of policyholders, claimants, creditors, or other third parties, or confer any rights to such persons.

CHAPTER 522
LICENSING OF INSURANCE AGENTS

522.1 License required.
A person shall not, directly or indirectly, act within this state as agent, or otherwise, in receiving or procuring applications for insurance, or in doing or transacting any kind of insurance business for a company or association unless exempt from the provisions of this chapter by section 512B.31, except that the licensing of persons so acting for county mutuals is subject only to section 518.16, until the person has procured a license from the commissioner of insurance.

This section shall not prohibit a licensed agent from placing actual or proposed insurance business of the agent's customers or potential customers with other licensed agents if the reason is lack of capacity, restrictive markets or any other legitimate business reason and if such placement of business does not adversely affect the insured customer.

UNNUMBERED PARAGRAPH 1 AMENDED
523A.20 Insurance division’s regulatory fund.

The insurance division may authorize the creation of a special revenue fund in the state treasury, to be known as the insurance division regulatory fund. Commencing July 1, 1990, and annually thereafter, the commissioner shall allocate from the fees paid pursuant to section 523A.2, one dollar for each agreement reported on an establishment permit holder’s annual report for deposit to the regulatory fund. The remainder of the fees collected pursuant to section 523A.2 shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. However, if the balance of the regulatory fund on that July 1 exceeds two hundred thousand dollars, the allocation to the regulatory fund shall not be made and the total sum of the fees paid pursuant to section 523A.2 shall be deposited in the general fund of the state. The moneys in the regulatory fund shall be retained in the fund. The moneys are appropriated and, subject to authorization by the commissioner, may be used to pay investigative expenses and the expenses of receiverships established pursuant to section 523A.19. An annual assessment shall not be imposed if the current balance of the fund exceeds two hundred thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 523B
BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY PROMOTIONS

523B.1 Definitions.

1. "Administrator" means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed under section 502.601.

2. "Advertising" means a circular, prospectus, advertisement, or other material, or a communication by radio, television, pictures, or similar means used in connection with an offer or sale of a business opportunity.

3. a. "Business opportunity" means a contract or agreement, between a seller and purchaser, express or implied, orally or in writing, at an initial investment exceeding five hundred dollars, where the parties agree that the seller or a person recommended by the seller is to provide to the purchaser any products, equipment, supplies, materials, or services for the purpose of enabling the purchaser to start a business, and the seller represents, directly or indirectly, orally or in writing, any of the following:

   (1) The seller or a person recommended by the seller will provide locations or assist the purchaser in finding locations for the use or operation of vending machines, racks, display cases, or other similar devices, on premises which are not owned or leased by the purchaser or seller.

   (2) The seller or a person recommended by the seller will provide or assist the purchaser in finding outlets or accounts for the purchaser’s products or services.

   (3) The seller or a person specified by the seller will purchase any or all products made, produced, fabricated, grown, bred, or modified by the purchaser.

   (4) The purchaser will derive income from the business which exceeds the price paid to the seller.

   (5) The seller will refund all or part of the price paid to the seller, or repurchase any of the products, equipment, or supplies provided by the seller or a person recommended by the seller, if the purchaser is dissatisfied with the business.

   (6) The seller will provide a marketing plan.

   b. "Business opportunity" does not include any of the following:

   (1) An offer or sale of an ongoing business operated by the seller which is to be sold in its entirety.

   (2) An offer or sale of a business opportunity to an ongoing business where the seller will provide products, equipment, supplies, or services which are substantially similar to the products, equipment, supplies, or services sold by the purchaser in connection with the purchaser’s ongoing business.

   (3) An offer or sale of a business opportunity which involves a marketing plan made in conjunction with the licensing of a federally registered trademark or federally registered service mark provided that the seller has a minimum net worth of one million dollars as determined on the basis of the seller's most recent audited financial statement prepared within thirteen months of the first offer in this state. Net worth may be determined on a consolidated basis if the seller is at least eighty percent owned by one person and that person expressly guarantees the obligations of the seller with regard to the offer or sale of a business opportunity claimed to be excluded under this subparagraph.

(4) An offer or sale of a business opportunity by an executor, administrator, sheriff, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian, or conservator, or a judicial offer or sale of a business opportunity.

(5) The renewal or extension of a business opportunity contract or agreement entered into under this chapter or prior to July 1, 1981.

4. "Franchise" means a contract or agreement between a seller and a purchaser, express or implied, orally or in writing, where the parties agree to both of the following:

(a) A franchisee is granted the right to engage in the business of offering, selling, or distributing goods or services under a marketing plan prescribed in substantial part by a franchisor.

(b) The operation of the franchisee's business pursuant to such a plan is substantially associated with the franchisor's business and trademark, service mark, trade name, logotype, advertising, or other commercial symbol designating the franchisor or its affiliate.

For the purposes of this subsection, "franchisee" means a person to whom a franchise is granted and "franchisor" means a person who grants a franchise.

5. "Initial investment" means the total amount a purchaser is obligated to pay under the terms of the business opportunity contract either prior to or at the time of the delivery of the merchandise or services or within six months of the purchaser commencing operation of the business opportunity. However, if payment is over a period of time, "initial investment" means the sum of the down payment and the total monthly payments specified in the contract.

6. "Marketing plan" means advice or training, provided to the purchaser by the seller or a person recommended by the seller, pertaining to the sale of any products, equipment, supplies, or services. The advice or training may include, but is not limited to, preparing or providing any of the following:

a. Promotional literature, brochures, pamphlets, or advertising materials.

b. Training regarding the promotion, operation, or management of the business opportunity.

c. Operational, managerial, technical, or financial guidelines or assistance.

7. "Offer" or "offer to sell" means an attempt to dispose of a business opportunity for value, or solicitation of an offer to purchase a business opportunity.

8. "Ongoing business" means an existing business that for at least six months prior to the offer, has been operated from a specific location, has been open for business to the general public, and has substantially all of the equipment and supplies necessary for operating the business.

9. "Person" means an individual, corporation, trust, partnership, incorporated or unincorporated association, or any other legal entity, provided, however, person does not include a government or governmental subdivision or agency.

10. "Purchaser" means a person who enters into a contract or agreement for the acquisition of a business opportunity or a person to whom an offer to sell a business opportunity is directed.

11. "Sale" or "sell" includes every contract or agreement of sale, contract to sell, or disposition of, a business opportunity or interest in a business opportunity for value.

12. "Seller" means a person who sells or offers to sell a business opportunity or an agent or other person who directly or indirectly acts on behalf of such a person. "Seller" does not include the media in or by which an advertisement appears or is disseminated.

523B.2 Registration.

1. Requirement. It is unlawful to offer or sell a business opportunity in this state unless the business opportunity is registered under this chapter or is exempt under section 523B.3.

2. Disclosure. To register a business opportunity, the seller shall file with the administrator one of the disclosure documents as provided in paragraph "b" with the appropriate cover sheet as required by subsection 3, and the appropriate fee as required by subsection 7.

b. The disclosure document required in paragraph "a" shall be in one of the following forms:

(1) A uniform franchise offering circular prepared in accordance with the guidelines adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc., as amended through September 21, 1983. The administrator may by rule adopt any amendment to the uniform franchise offering circular that has been adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc.

(2) A disclosure document prepared pursuant to the federal trade commission rule entitled "Disclosure requirements and prohibitions concerning franchising and business opportunity ventures", 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979). The administrator may by rule adopt any amendment to the disclosure document prepared pursuant to 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979) that has been adopted by the federal trade commission.

(3) A disclosure document prepared pursuant to subsection 8.

3. Consent to service. A seller shall file, on a form as the administrator may prescribe, an irrevocable consent appointing the administrator or the administrator's successor in office to be the seller's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in a noncriminal suit, action, or proceeding against the seller or the seller’s successor, executor, or administrator which arises under this chapter after the consent has been filed, with the same force and validity as if served personally on the person filing the consent. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator, but is not effective unless the plaintiff or petitioner, who may be the administrator or the attorney general, in a suit, action, or proceeding, forthwith sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant’s or respondent’s address on file with the administrator, and the plaintiff’s affidavit of compliance with this subsection is filed in the case on or before the return date of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

4. Effective date. A registration automatically becomes effective upon the expiration of the tenth full business day after the complete filing, provided that no order has been issued or proceeding is pending under subsection 10. The administrator may by order waive or reduce the time period prior to effectiveness, provided that a complete filing has been made. The administrator may by order defer the effective date until the expiration of the tenth full business day after the filing of an amendment.

5. Period. The registration is effective for one year commencing on the date the registration becomes effective and may be renewed annually upon the filing of a current disclosure document accompanied by any documents or information that the administrator may by rule or order require. Failure to renew upon the close of the one-year period of effectiveness will result in expiration of the registration. The administrator may by rule or order require the filing of a sales report.

6. Filing rule. The administrator may by rule require the filing of all proposed literature or advertising prior to its use.

7. Filing fee. The seller shall pay a five hundred dollar filing fee with the initial disclosure statement filed under subsection 2 and a two hundred fifty dollar annual renewal fee. The administrator shall by rule periodically revise these fees to ensure that they defray the costs of administration of this chapter.

8. Disclosure requirements.
   a. It is unlawful to offer or sell a business opportunity required to be registered pursuant to this chapter unless a written disclosure document as filed under subsection 2 is delivered to each purchaser at least ten business days prior to the earlier of the execution by a purchaser of a contract or agreement imposing a binding legal obligation on the purchaser or the payment by a purchaser of any consideration in connection with the offer or sale of the business opportunity.
   b. The disclosure document shall have a cover sheet which is entitled, in at least ten-point bold type, "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY IOWA LAW." Under the title shall appear the following statement in at least ten-point type: “The registration of this business opportunity does not constitute approval, recommendation, or endorsement by the state of Iowa. The information contained in this disclosure document has not been verified by this state. If you have any questions or concerns about this investment, seek professional advice before you sign a contract or make any payment. You are to be provided ten (10) business days to review this document before signing a contract or agreement or making any payment to the seller or the seller’s representative.”
   c. Unless the seller uses a disclosure document as provided in subsection 2, paragraphs “a” and “b”, the disclosure document shall contain the following information:
      1. The names and residential addresses of those salespersons who will engage in the offer or sale of the business opportunity in this state.
      2. The name of the seller; whether the seller is doing business as an individual, partnership, corporation, or other entity; the names under which the seller has done, is doing, or intends to do business; and the name of any parent or affiliated company that will engage in business transactions with purchasers or that will take responsibility for statements made by the seller.
      3. The names, addresses, and titles of the seller’s officers, directors, trustees, general managers, principal executives, agents, and any other persons charged with responsibility for the seller’s business activities relating to the sale of the business opportunity.
      4. Prior business experience of the seller relating to business opportunities including all of the following:
         a. The name, address, and a description of any business opportunity previously offered by the seller.
         b. The length of time the seller has offered each such business opportunity.
         c. The length of time the seller has conducted the business opportunity currently being offered to the purchaser.
      5. With respect to each person identified in subparagraph (3), all of the following:
         a. A description of the person’s business experience for the ten-year period preceding the filing date of this disclosure document. The description of business experience shall list principal occupations and employers.
         b. A listing of the person’s educational and professional background, including the names of schools attended and degrees received, and any other information that will demonstrate sufficient knowledge and experience to perform the services proposed.
      6. Whether any of the following apply to the seller or any person identified in subparagraph (3):
         a. The seller or other person has been convicted of a felony, pleaded nolo contendere to a felony...
charge, or has been the subject of a criminal, civil, or administrative proceeding alleging the violation of a business opportunity law, securities law, commodities law, or franchise law, or alleging fraud or deceit, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, restraint of trade, an unfair or deceptive practice, misappropriation of property, or making comparable allegations.

(b) The seller or other person has filed for bankruptcy, been adjudged bankrupt, or been reorganized due to insolvency, or was an owner, principal officer, or general partner of a person, or any other person that has filed for bankruptcy or was adjudged bankrupt, or been reorganized due to insolvency during the last seven years.

(7) The name of any person identified in subparagraph (6), the nature of and the parties to the action or proceeding, the court or other forum, the date of the institution of the action, the docket references to the action, the current status of the action or proceeding, the terms and conditions of any order or decree, and the penalties or damages assessed and terms of settlement.

(8) The initial payment required, or if the exact amount cannot be determined, a detailed estimate of the amount of the initial payment to be made to the seller.

(9) A detailed description of the actual services the seller agrees to perform for the purchaser.

(10) A detailed description of any training the seller agrees to provide for the purchaser.

(11) A detailed description of services the seller agrees to perform in connection with the placement of equipment, products, or supplies at a location, as well as any agreement necessary in order to locate or operate equipment, products, or supplies on premises which are not owned or leased by the purchaser or seller.

(12) A detailed description of any license or permit that will be necessary in order for the purchaser to engage in or operate the business opportunity.

(13) The business opportunity seller that is required to secure a bond pursuant to section 523B.4 shall include in the disclosure document the following statement: "As required by the state of Iowa, the seller has secured a bond issued by [insert name and address of surety company], a surety company, authorized to do business in this state. Before signing a contract or agreement to purchase this business opportunity, you should check with the surety company to determine the bond's current status."

(14) Any representations made by the seller to the purchaser concerning sales or earnings that may be made from this business opportunity, including, but not limited to the following:

(a) The bases or assumptions for any actual, average, projected, or forecasted sales, profits, income, or earnings.

(b) The total number of purchasers who, within a period of three years of the date of the disclosure document, purchased a business opportunity involving the product, equipment, supplies, or services being offered to the purchaser.

(c) The total number of purchasers who, within three years of the date of the disclosure document, purchased a business opportunity involving the product, equipment, supplies, or services being offered to the purchaser who, to the seller's knowledge, have actually received earnings in the amount or range specified.

(15) A detailed description of the elements of a guarantee made by a seller to a purchaser. The description shall include, but is not limited to, the duration, terms, scope, conditions, and limitations of the guarantee.

(16) A statement including all of the following:

(a) The total number of business opportunities that are the same or similar in nature to those being sold or organized by the seller.

(b) The names and addresses of purchasers who have requested a refund or rescission from the seller within the last twelve months and the number of those who have received the refund or rescission.

(c) The total number of business opportunities the seller intends to sell in this state within the next twelve months.

(d) The total number of purchasers known to the seller to have failed in the business opportunity.

(17) A statement describing any contractual restrictions, prohibitions, or limitations on the purchaser's conduct. Attach a copy of all business opportunities and other contracts or agreements proposed for use or in use in this state including, without limitation, all lease agreements, option agreements, and purchase agreements.

(18) The rights and obligations of the seller and the purchaser regarding termination of the business opportunity contract or agreement.

(19) A statement accurately describing the grounds upon which the purchaser may initiate legal action to terminate the business opportunity contract or agreement.

(20) A copy of the most recent audited financial statement of the seller, prepared within thirteen months of the first offer in this state, together with a statement of any material changes in the financial condition of the seller from that date. The administrator may allow the seller to submit a limited review in order to satisfy the requirements of subparagraph (13).

(21) A list of the states in which this business opportunity is registered.

(22) A list of the states in which this disclosure document is on file.

(23) A list of the states which have denied, suspended, or revoked the registration of this business opportunity.

(24) A section entitled "Risk Factors" containing a series of short concise statements summarizing the principal factors which make this business opportunity a high risk or one of a speculative nature. Each statement shall include a cross-reference to the page on which further information regarding that risk factor can be found in the disclosure document.

(25) Any additional information as the administrator may require by rule or order.
9 Contract or agreement provisions a It is unlawful to offer or sell a business opportunity required to be registered unless the business opportunity contract or agreement is in writing and a copy of the contract or agreement is given to the purchaser at the time the purchaser signs the contract or agreement.

b The contract or agreement is subject to this chapter and section 714 16.

c Contracts or agreements shall set forth in at least ten point type or equivalent size, if handwritten, all of the following:

1. The terms and conditions of any and all payments due to the seller.

2. The seller's principal business address and the name and address of the seller's agent in this state authorized to receive service of process.

3. The business form of the seller, whether corporate, partnership, or otherwise.

4. The delivery date, or when the contract provides for a periodic delivery of items to the purchaser, the approximate delivery date of the product, equipment, or supplies the seller is to deliver to the purchaser to enable the purchaser to start business.

5. Whether the product, equipment, or supplies are to be delivered to the purchaser's home or business address or are to be placed or caused to be placed by the seller at locations owned or managed by persons other than the purchaser.

6. A statement that accurately states the purchaser's right to void the contract under the circumstances and in the manner set forth in section 523B.6.

7. The cancellation statement appearing in section 82.3.

10 Denial, suspension, or revocation of registration

a The administrator may issue an order denying effectiveness to, or suspending or revoking the effectiveness of, any registration if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and any of the following:

1. The registration as of its effective date or as of any earlier date in the case of an order denying effectiveness, any amendment as of its effective date, or any report is incomplete in any material respect or contains any statement which is, in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, determined by the administrator to be false or misleading with respect to any material fact.

2. Any provision of this chapter or any rule, order, or condition lawfully imposed under this chapter has been willfully violated, in connection with the business opportunity, by either of the following:

(a) The person filing the registration.

(b) The seller, any partner, officer, or director of the seller, any person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, or any person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by the seller, but only if the person filing the registration is directly or indirectly controlled by or acting for the seller.

3. The business opportunity registered or sought to be registered is the subject of an administrative order denying, suspending, or revoking a registration or a permanent or temporary injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction. However, the administrator shall not do either of the following:

(a) Institute a proceeding against an effective registration under this paragraph more than one year from the date of the order or injunction relied on.

(b) Enter an order under this paragraph on the basis of an order or injunction entered under any other state act unless that order or injunction was based on facts which would currently constitute a ground for an order under this section.

4. The seller's enterprise or method of business, or that of the business opportunity, includes or would include activities which are or would be illegal where performed.

5. The business opportunity or the offering of a business opportunity has worked or tended to work a fraud upon purchasers or would operate to work such a fraud.

6. There has been a failure to file any documents or information required under subsection 2.

7. The seller has failed to pay the proper filing fee. However, the administrator shall vacate any order issued pursuant to this subparagraph when the deficiency has been corrected.

8. The seller's literature or advertising is misleading, incorrect, incomplete, or deceptive.

b The administrator shall not institute a proceeding under this subsection against an effective registration on the basis of a fact or transaction known to the administrator when the registration became effective unless the proceeding is instituted thirty days after the effective date of the registration.

c (1) The administrator may by order summarily postpone or suspend the effectiveness of the registration pending final determination of a proceeding under this subsection.

(2) Upon the entry of a summary order, the administrator shall promptly notify the seller that the order has been entered and of the reasons for entering the order and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing.

(3) If no hearing is requested the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator may modify or vacate the order or extend the order until final determination.

d A summary order shall not be entered under any part of this subsection, except under subparagraph (1) of paragraph "c", without appropriate notice to the seller, an opportunity for hearing, and written findings of fact and conclusions of law in accordance with chapter 17A.

e The administrator may vacate or modify an order issued under this subsection if the administrator finds that the conditions which prompted its 523B.3 Exemptions from registration and disclosure.

1. Types of exemptions. The following business opportunities are exempt from the requirements of section 523B.2:
   a. The offer or sale of a business opportunity if the purchaser is a bank, savings and loan association, trust company, insurance company, credit union, or investment company as defined by the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, a pension or profit-sharing trust, or other financial institution or institutional buyer, or a dealer registered pursuant to chapter 502, whether the purchaser is acting for itself or in a fiduciary capacity.
   b. The offer or sale of a business opportunity which is defined as a franchise under section 523B.1, subsection 4, provided that the seller delivers to each purchaser at the earlier of the first personal meeting between the seller and the purchaser, or ten business days prior to the earlier of the execution by a purchaser of a contract or agreement imposing a binding legal obligation on the purchaser or the payment by a purchaser of any consideration in connection with the offer or sale of the business opportunity, one of the following disclosure documents:
      (1) A uniform franchise-offering circular prepared in accordance with the guidelines adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc., as amended through September 21, 1983.
      (2) A disclosure document prepared pursuant to the federal trade commission rule entitled "Disclosure requirements and prohibitions concerning franchising and business opportunity ventures", 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979).
   For the purposes of this paragraph, a personal meeting means a face-to-face meeting between the purchaser and the seller or their representatives, which is held for the purpose of discussing the offer or sale of a business opportunity. The administrator may by rule adopt any amendment to the uniform franchise-offering circular that has been adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc., or any amendment to the disclosure document prepared pursuant to the federal trade commission rule entitled "Disclosure requirements and prohibitions concerning franchising and business opportunity ventures", 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979), that has been adopted by the federal trade commission.
   c. The offer or sale of a business opportunity for which the cash payment made by a purchaser does not exceed five hundred dollars and the payment is made for the not-for-profit sale of sales demonstration equipment, material, or samples, or the payment is made for product inventory sold to the purchaser at a bona fide wholesale price.
   d. The offer or sale of a business opportunity which the administrator exempts by order or a class of business opportunities which the administrator exempts by rule upon the finding that the exemption would not be contrary to public interest and that registration would not be necessary or appropriate for the protection of purchasers.

2. Denial or revocation of exemptions.
   a. The administrator may by order deny or revoke an exemption specified in this section with respect to a particular offering of one or more business opportunities. An order shall not be entered without appropriate prior notice to all interested parties, opportunity for hearing, and written findings of fact and conclusions of law.
   b. If the public interest or the protection of purchasers so requires, the administrator may by order summarily deny or revoke any of the specified exemptions pending final determination of any proceedings under this section. Upon entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify all interested parties that it has been entered and of the reasons for entering the order and that within fifteen days of the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing. If a hearing is not requested the order shall remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator shall not modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.
   c. An order under this section shall not operate retroactively.
   d. A person does not violate section 523B.2 by reason of an offer or sale effected after the entry of an order under paragraph "b" if the person sustains the burden of proof that the person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the order.

3. Burden of proof. In an administrative, civil, or criminal proceeding related to this chapter, the burden of proving an exemption, an exception from a definition, or an exclusion from this chapter, is upon the person claiming it.

523B.4 Minimum net worth or bond requirement.

1. In connection with an offer or sale of a business opportunity, a seller shall not make or use any of the representations set forth in section 523B.1, subsection 3, paragraph "a," subparagraphs (4) and (5), unless the seller has at all times a minimum net worth of twenty-five thousand dollars as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. In lieu of the minimum net worth requirement, the administrator may, by rule or order, require a business opportunity seller to obtain a surety bond issued by a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The surety bond must be in an amount not less than twenty-five thousand dollars and shall be for the benefit of any purchaser. The administrator may by rule or order increase the amount of the bond for the protection of purchasers and may require the seller to file reports of all sales in this state to determine the appropriate amount of bond.

2. If the seller is required to obtain a surety bond, the seller shall maintain a surety bond for the duration of the guarantee or representation giving rise to the surety bond requirement. Upon expiration of the period of the guarantee, the seller may allow the surety bond to lapse if the seller gives notice to the administrator and all business opportunity purchasers in this state at least thirty days prior to the lapse of the bond.

§523B.4

523B.5 Administrative files and opinions.
1. A document is filed when the document is received by the administrator.
2. The administrator shall keep a register of all applications for registration and disclosure documents which are or have been effective under this chapter and all orders which have been entered under this chapter.
3. Unless otherwise provided by law, a registration statement, filing, application, or report filed with the administrator is open for public inspection.
4. The administrator may honor a written request from an interested person for an interpretative opinion upon the payment of a fee of one hundred dollars.

523B.7 Liability — remedies.
1. a. A person who violates section 523B.4 or section 523B.2, subsection 1, 8, or 9, is liable to the purchaser in an action for rescission of the agreement, or for recovery of all money or other valuable consideration paid for the business opportunity, and for actual damages together with interest as determined pursuant to section 668.13 from the date of sale, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs.
   b. A person who violates section 523B.12, subsection 2 or 3, is liable to the purchaser who may sue either at law or in equity for rescission, or for recovery of all money or other valuable consideration paid for the business opportunity, and for the recovery of treble damages together with interest as determined pursuant to section 668.13 from the date of sale, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs.
   c. A person who violates section 523B.2, subsection 8, or section 523B.12, subsection 2 or 3, or who breaches a business opportunity contract or agreement or an obligation arising under the contract or agreement, is liable to the purchaser who may sue the surety of the seller's bond, either at law or in equity, to recover all money or other valuable consideration paid for the business opportunity and actual damages, together with interest as determined pursuant to section 668.13 from the date of sale, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs. The liability of the surety shall not exceed the amount of the bond.
2. Every person who directly or indirectly controls a party liable under this section, every partner in a partnership so liable, every principal executive officer or director of a corporation so liable, every person occupying a similar status in, or performing similar functions for, and every employee of, a party so liable who materially aids in the act or transaction constituting the violation is also liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as the party, unless the person liable as a result of the person's relationship with the liable party as defined under this section proves that the person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known of the existence of the facts giving rise to the alleged liability. Among the persons held liable, a party paying more than the party's percentage share of damages may recover judgment for contribution upon motion to the court or in a separate action.
3. An action shall not be maintained under this section unless commenced within three years after the act or transaction constituting the violation, or within one year after the discovery of the facts constituting the violation, whichever period later expires.
4. The rights and remedies available pursuant to this chapter are in addition to any other rights or remedies that may exist at law or in equity.

523B.8 Powers of administrator.
1. If it appears to the administrator that a person has engaged, is engaging, or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or a rule or order adopted or issued under this chapter, the administrator may issue an order directed at the person requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in the act or practice. The person named in the order may, within fourteen days after receipt of the order, file a written request for a hearing. The hearing shall be held in accordance with chapter 17A.
Any consent agreement between the administrator and the seller may be filed in the miscellaneous docket of the clerk of the district court.
2. a. The administrator may do any of the following:
   (1) Make public or private investigations within or outside of this state as the administrator deems necessary to determine whether a person has violated or is about to violate a provision of this chapter or a rule or order under this chapter, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter or in the prescribing of rules and forms under this chapter.
   (2) Require or permit a person to file a statement, under oath or otherwise, as the administrator determines, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated.
   (3) Publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or a violation of a rule or order under this chapter.
   b. For the purpose of an investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or an officer designated by the administrator may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel the attendance of witnesses, take evidence and require the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records which the administrator deems relevant or material to the inquiry.

c. If a person resists or refuses to obey a subpoena issued to that person, the district court upon application by the administrator may issue to the person an order requiring the person to appear before the administrator, to produce documentary evidence if so ordered, or to give evidence related to the matter under investigation. Failure to obey the order of the court is punishable as a contempt of court.

d. A person is not excused from attending and testifying or from producing a document or record before the administrator or an officer designated by the administrator, on the grounds that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required by the administrator may tend to incriminate the person or subject the person to a penalty or forfeiture. However, an individual shall not be prosecuted or subjected to a penalty or forfeiture on account of a transaction, matter, or thing concerning which the person is compelled, after claiming the person’s privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce, except that the individual testifying is not exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury or contempt related to such testimony.

3. Judicial review of a decision of the administrator may be sought under chapter 17A.

4. If it appears to the administrator that a person has engaged, is engaged, or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter, or of a rule or order adopted or issued under this chapter, the administrator may take either or both of the following actions:

a. Notify the attorney general who shall bring an action in the district court to enjoin the acts or practices constituting the violation and to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter. Upon a proper showing a permanent or temporary injunction shall be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant’s assets.

b. Sue on behalf of a purchaser to enforce the purchasers’ rights.

523B.11 Penalties.

1. A seller who willfully violates section 523B.4, section 523B.2, subsection 1, 8, or 9, or section 523B.12, subsection 2, who willfully violates a rule under this chapter, who willfully violates an order of which the person has notice, or who violates section 523B.12, subsection 1, knowing that the statement made was false or misleading in any material respect, upon conviction, is guilty of a class “D” felony. Each of the acts specified constitutes a separate offense and a prosecution or conviction for any one of such offenses does not bar prosecution or conviction for any other offense.

2. A seller who willfully uses any device or scheme to defraud a person in connection with the advertisement, offer to sell or lease, sale, or lease of a business opportunity, or who willfully violates any other provision of this chapter, except as provided in subsections 1 and 3, is, upon conviction, guilty of a fraudulent practice.

3. A seller who violates a rule or order adopted or issued under this chapter is, upon conviction, guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor.

4. The administrator may refer available evidence concerning a possible violation of this chapter or of a rule or order issued under this chapter to the attorney general. The attorney general, with or without such a referral, may institute appropriate criminal proceedings or may direct the case to the appropriate county attorney to institute appropriate criminal proceedings.

523B.12 Fraudulent practices.

1. Misleading filings. It is unlawful to make or cause to be made, in a document filed with the administrator or in a proceeding under this chapter, a statement which is, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, false or misleading in a material respect or, in connection with such a statement, to omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statement made, in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, not misleading.

2. Unlawful representations. The fact that an application for registration has been filed or the fact that a business opportunity is effectively registered does not constitute a finding by the administrator that a document filed under this chapter is true, complete, and not misleading. The fact that an application for registration has been filed, that a business opportunity is effectively registered, or that an exemption or exception is available for a business opportunity does not mean that the administrator has passed in any way upon the merits or qualifications of, or recommended or given approval to, a person or business opportunity. It is unlawful to make, or cause to be made, to a purchaser, any representation inconsistent with this subsection.

3. Advertising. It is unlawful for a seller, in connection with the offer or sale of a business opportunity in this state, to publish, circulate, or use advertising which contains an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

NEW section
§523B.13 Scope — service of process.
1. The provisions of this chapter concerning sales and offers to sell apply to persons who sell or offer to sell a business opportunity when any of the following apply:
   a. An offer to sell is made in this state.
   b. An offer to purchase is made and accepted in this state.
   c. The purchaser is domiciled in this state and the business opportunity is or will be operated in this state.
2. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when either of the following apply:
   a. The offer originates from this state.
   b. The offer is directed by the offeror to this state and received at the place to which the offer is directed or at a post office in this state in the case of a mailed offer.
3. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell is accepted in this state when both of the following occur:
   a. The acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state.
   b. The acceptance has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally, or in writing, outside this state. For the purpose of this section the acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state, and the acceptance is received at the place to which it is directed or at a post office in this state in the case of a mailed acceptance.
4. An offer to sell is not made in this state under either of the following circumstances:
   a. If the offer appears in a bona fide newspaper or other publication of general circulation which is not published in this state, or which is published in this state but has had more than two-thirds of its circulation outside this state during the past twelve months.
   b. If the offer is made on a radio or television program originating outside this state which is received in this state.
5. A person who engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable under this chapter and who has not filed a consent to service of process is deemed to have appointed the administrator to be the person's attorney for purposes of service of any lawful process in a noncriminal suit, action, or proceeding against the person or the person's successor, executor, or administrator, which is the result of that conduct and which is brought under this chapter or is pursuant to a rule or order under this chapter. Service shall be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator. The service is effective after both of the following have occurred:
   a. The plaintiff, who may be the administrator, in a suit, action, or proceeding instituted by the administrator, sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by certified or registered mail to the defendant's or respondent's last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice.
   b. The plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this subsection is filed on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.
6. When process is served under this section, the court, or the administrator in a proceeding before the administrator, shall order such continuance as may be necessary to afford the defendant or respondent reasonable opportunity to defend.

523D.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed under section 502.601.
2. "Continuing care" means housing together with supportive services, nursing services, medical services, or other health related services, furnished to a resident, regardless of whether or not the lodging and services are provided at the same location, with or without other periodic charges, and pursuant to one or more contracts effective for the life of the resident or a period in excess of one year, including mutually cancellable contracts, and in consideration of an entrance fee.
3. "Continuing care retirement community" means a facility which provides continuing care to residents other than residents related by consanguinity or affinity to the person furnishing their care.
4. "Entrance fee" means an initial or deferred transfer to a provider of a sum of money or other property made or promised to be made as full or partial consideration for acceptance of a specified individual in a facility if the amount exceeds either of the following:

a. Five thousand dollars.
b. The sum of the regular periodic charges for six months of residency.

5. "Facility" means the place or places in which a provider undertakes to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services to an individual.

6. "Living unit" means a room, apartment, cottage, or other area within a facility set aside for the exclusive use or control of one or more identified residents.

7. "New construction" means construction of a new facility or the expansion of an existing facility if the expansion involves an increase in the number of living units in excess of twenty-five percent.

8. "Provider" means a person undertaking through a lease or other type of agreement to provide care in a continuing care retirement community or senior adult congregate living facility, even if that person does not own the facility.

9. "Resident" means an individual, sixty years of age or older, entitled to receive care in a continuing care retirement community or a senior adult congregate living facility.

10. "Senior adult congregate living facility" means a facility which provides senior adult congregate living services to residents other than residents related by consanguinity or affinity to the person furnishing their care.

11. "Senior adult congregate living services" means housing and one or more supportive services furnished to a resident, with or without other periodic charges, in consideration of an entrance fee.

12. "Supportive services" includes but is not limited to one or any combination of the following services: laundry, maintenance, housekeeping, emergency nursing care, activity services, security, dining options, transportation, beauty and barber services, health care, and personal care, including personal hygiene, eating, bathing, dressing, and supervised medication administration.

§523D.3 Disclosure statement.

1. At the time of, or prior to, the execution of a contract to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services, or at the time of, or prior to the provider's acceptance of part or all of the entrance fee by or on behalf of a prospective resident, whichever occurs first, the provider shall deliver a disclosure statement to the person, and to the person's personal representative if one is appointed, with whom the contract is to be entered into. Unless incorporated by reference, in whole or in part, the disclosure statement shall not constitute part of the contract between the resident and provider. The disclosure statement shall contain all of the following information unless the information is in the contract, a copy of which must be attached to the statement:

a. The name and business address of the provider and a statement of whether the provider is a partnership, corporation, or other legal entity.

b. The names and business addresses of the officers, directors, trustees, managing or general partners, and any person having a ten percent or greater equity or beneficial interest in the provider and a description of such person's interest in or occupation with the provider.

c. With respect to each person covered by paragraph "b", and if the facility will be managed on a day-to-day basis by a person identified pursuant to paragraph "b", or with respect to the proposed manager, the following information:

(1) A description of the business experience of the person, if any, in the operation or management of similar facilities.

(2) The name and address of any professional service, or other entity in which the person has, or which has in the person, a ten percent or greater interest and which has provided goods, leases, or services to the facility of a value of five hundred dollars or more within the prior twelve months or which has contracted to provide goods, leases, or services to the facility of a value of five hundred dollars or more within a year, including a description of the goods, leases, or services and their actual or anticipated cost to the facility or provider.

(3) A description of any matter resulting in the person's conviction of a felony or a plea of nolo contendere to a felony charge, or a description of any matter where the person was found to be liable or enjoined in a civil action by final judgment if the felony or civil action involved fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, misappropriation of property, or a similar felony involving theft or dishonesty.

(4) A description of any matter in which the person is subject to a currently effective injunctive or restrictive order of a court, or a description of any matter within the past five years where the person has had a state or federal license or permit suspended or revoked as a result of an action brought by a governmental agency of this or any state or the division of insurance, arising out of or relating to business activity or health care, including, without limitation, actions affecting a license to operate a foster care facility, health care facility, retirement home, home for the aged, or facility licensed under this chapter or a similar law of another state.

d. A statement, if applicable, containing the following:

(1) Whether the provider is or ever has been affiliated with a for-profit organization or with a religious, charitable, or other nonprofit organization.

(2) The nature of the affiliation.

(3) The extent to which the affiliate organization is responsible for the financial and contractual obligations of the provider.

(4) The provision of the federal Internal Revenue Code, if any, under which the provider or affiliate is exempt from the payment of federal income tax

e The location and description of the physical property or properties of the facility, existing or proposed, and, to the extent proposed, the estimated completion date or dates, whether or not construction has begun, and the contingencies subject to which construction may be deferred

f The services provided or proposed to be provided under contracts for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services at the facility, including the extent to which medical care is furnished. The disclosure statement shall clearly state which services are included in basic contracts and which services are made available at or by the facility at extra charge

g A description of all fees required of residents, including the entrance fee and periodic charges, if any. The description shall include the manner by which the provider may adjust periodic charges or other recurring fees and the limitations on such adjustments, if any

h The provisions which have been made or will be made, if any, to provide reserve funding or security to enable the provider to fully perform its obligations under contracts to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services at the facility, including the establishment of escrow accounts, trusts, or reserve funds, together with the manner in which the funds will be invested and the names and experience of persons who will make the investment decisions

i Certified financial statements of the provider, for all parts of an operation covered by the contract, including the health center or nursing home portion of the continuing care retirement community, if those services are included in the contract, but the disclosure statement may exclude services or operations not provided to residents as senior adult congregate living services under the contract, which shall include the following:

1 A balance sheet as of the end of the two most recent fiscal years

2 Income statements of the provider for the two most recent fiscal years or the shorter period of time the provider has been in existence

3 If operation of the facility has not yet commenced, a statement of the anticipated source and application of the funds used or to be used in the purchase or construction of the facility, including the following:

1 An estimate of the cost of purchasing or constructing and equipping the facility, including related costs such as financing expense, legal expense, land costs, occupancy development costs, and all other similar costs the provider expects to incur or become obligated for prior to the commencement of operations

2 A description of any mortgage loan or other long-term financing intended to be used for the financing of the facility, including the anticipated terms and costs of the financing

3 In the event an amendment is filed with the division of insurance pursuant to subsection 4, the provider shall deliver a copy of the amendment or the amended disclosure statement to a prospective resident and to a prospective resident’s personal representative if one is appointed prior to the provider’s acceptance of part or all of the entrance fee or the execution of the continuing care or senior congregate living services contract by the prospective resident.

4. In addition to filing the annual disclosure statement, the provider may amend its currently filed disclosure statement at any other time if, in the opinion of the provider, an amendment is necessary to prevent the disclosure statement and annual disclosure statement from containing any material misstatement of fact or omission to state a material fact required to be included in the statement. The amendment or amended disclosure statement shall be filed with the division of insurance before the statement is delivered to a resident or prospective resident and a personal representative of a resident or prospective resident and is subject to all the requirements, including those as to content and delivery, of this chapter.

Subsections 1 and 3 stricken and rewritten

§523D.5 New construction.

1. Filing with insurance division. A provider shall not enter into a contract to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services that applies to a living unit that is part of a new facility or proposed expansion that is or will be located in this state unless the person has submitted an application on a form as required by the division of insurance accompanied by a fee of two hundred fifty dollars. The application at a minimum must include the following information:

a. A description of the new facility or the proposed expansion, including a description of the goods and services that will be offered to prospective residents.

b. A statement of the financial resources of the provider available for this project.

c. A statement of the capital expenditures necessary to accomplish this project.

d. A statement of financial feasibility for the new facility or proposed expansion in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, which includes a statement of future funding sources and shall identify the qualifications of the person or persons preparing the study.

e. A statement of the market feasibility for the new facility or proposed expansion in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, which identifies the qualifications of the person or persons preparing the study.

f. If the new facility or proposed expansion offers a promise to provide nursing or health care services to residents in the future, an actuarial forecast in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, which identifies the qualifications of the actuary or actuaries preparing the forecast.

g. Copies of the escrow agreements executed pursuant to this chapter or proof that an escrow is not required.

2. Determination of feasibility.

a. Existing facilities. If a filing is made under this section for an expansion of an existing facility, the determination of feasibility shall be based on consolidated information for the existing facility and the proposed expansion.

b. New facilities. If a filing is made under this section for a new facility, not part of an existing facility that will be constructed in more than one stage or phase, the initial stage or phase must evidence feasibility independent of any subsequent stage or phase and contain all of the facilities or components necessary to provide residents with all of the services and amenities promised by the provider.

3. Construction. New construction shall not begin until the filing required by this section has been made and at least fifty percent of the proposed number of independent living units in the initial stage or phase have been reserved pursuant to executed contracts and at least ten percent of the entrance fees required by those contracts are held in escrow pursuant to this chapter.

4. Escrow requirements. Unless proof has been submitted to the commissioner that conditions for the release of escrowed funds set forth in this section have already been met, the provider shall establish an interest-bearing escrow account at a state or federally regulated financial institution located within this state to receive any deposits or entrance fees or portions of deposits or fees for a living unit which has not been previously occupied by a resident for which an entry fee arrangement is used. The escrow account agreement shall be entered into between the financial institution and the provider with the financial institution as the escrow agent and as a fiduciary for the resident or prospective resident. The agreement shall state that the purpose of the escrow account is to protect the resident or prospective resident and that the funds deposited shall be kept and maintained in an account separate and apart from the provider’s business accounts.

5. Release of escrowed funds. Funds held in escrow shall be released only as follows:

a. If the provider fails to meet the requirements for release of funds held in escrow pursuant to this section within a time period specified in the escrow agreement, which shall not exceed thirty-six months, these funds shall be returned by the escrow agent to the persons who have made payment to the provider.

b. Upon notice from the provider that a resident is entitled to a refund, the escrow agent shall refund the amount directly to the resident. The amount of the refund shall be included in the provider’s notice to the escrow agent and shall be determined in compliance with this chapter and any applicable terms of the resident’s contract.

c. Except as provided by paragraphs “a” and “b”, amounts held in escrow shall be released only upon approval of the commissioner. The commissioner shall approve the release of funds only upon a determination that at least one of the following conditions has been satisfied:
(1) The facility has a minimum of fifty percent of the units reserved for which the provider is charging an entrance fee and the aggregate amount of the entrance fees received by or pledged to the provider, plus anticipated proceeds from any long-term financing commitment, plus funds from all other sources in the actual possession of the provider, equal not less than ninety percent of the aggregate cost of constructing or purchasing, equipping, and furnishing the facility.

(2) The resident has moved into the living unit, the cancellation period required by section 523D.6, subsection 2, has expired, construction of the facility or the portion of the facility under construction is complete, the facility has been adequately equipped and furnished, a certificate of occupancy or the equivalent has been issued by the appropriate local jurisdiction, and the provider has been issued all the appropriate licenses or permits needed to operate the facility and provide all of the promised services.

d. Upon receipt by the escrow agent of a request by the provider for the release of these escrowed funds, the escrow agent shall approve release of the funds within five working days unless the escrow agent finds that the requirements of this section have not been met and notifies the provider of the basis for this finding. The request for release of the escrowed funds shall be accompanied by any documentation the escrow agent requires.

§523D.6 Contracts.

1. Disclosure. In addition to any other provisions prescribed by rules adopted under this chapter, each contract providing for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services by a provider shall be written in nontechnical language easily understood by a lay person and shall include all of the following:
   a. The name and business address of the provider.
   b. The name and address of the facility or facilities.
   c. The identification of the living unit which the prospective resident will occupy.
   d. A description of the total consideration paid by the resident, including the value of all property transferred.
   e. A list of all of the continuing care or senior adult congregate living services which are to be provided by the provider to each resident. The list shall clearly identify the manner in which continuing care or senior adult congregate living services will be provided, including a statement whether the items will be provided for a designated time period or for life, and shall indicate which continuing care and senior adult congregate living services, if any, will be provided through an affiliate or third party. The description of any service charges or fees shall, in the event of multiple residents, be provided on an individual basis and shall include a description of any additional charges that will be assessed for occupancy by more than one resident.
   f. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to any health or financial conditions upon which the provider may require the resident to relinquish the resident's space in the designated facility.
   g. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to the health and financial conditions required for a person to continue as a resident.
   h. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to the conditions under which the resident is permitted to remain in the facility in the event of financial difficulties affecting the resident.
   i. A statement of the terms concerning the entry of a person to the living unit and the consequences if a person does not meet the requirements for entry.
   j. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to changes in accommodations and a description of the procedures to be followed by the provider when the provider temporarily or permanently changes the resident's accommodations within the facility, transfers the resident from one level of care to another, or transfers the resident to another health facility.
   k. A description in clear and understandable language, in at least ten-point type, of the terms governing the refund of any portion of the entrance fee in the event of discharge by the provider, or cancellation by the resident, and a statement that the provider shall not dismiss or discharge a resident from a facility prior to the expiration of a resident contract without just cause and sixty days written notice of intent to cancel. The notice of dismissal or discharge shall only be given upon a good faith determination that just cause exists, and the notice shall be given in writing, signed by the medical director, if any, and the administrator of the facility. In an emergency situation only such notice as is reasonable under the circumstances is required.
   m. A description of the facility's policies and procedures for handling grievances between the provider and residents.
   n. A statement that residents living in the facility have the right of self-organization.
   o. A statement that a prospective resident or resident shall be given the opportunity to appoint a personal representative in the prospective resident's or resident's contract. The personal representative shall receive copies of the contract and all notices, disclosures, or forms required by this chapter to be delivered to a prospective resident or resident. A personal representative appointed under this section has no legal authority to make any decision for the prospective resident appointing the person to be a personal representative. The personal representative may advise the prospective resident or resident as to the materials provided. A personal representative shall not be affiliated or associated with a provider or any person identified in section 523D.3, subsection 1, paragraph "b" or "c", and shall not be a prospective resident or resident.
§523D.13

A statement that if a resident dies or through illness, injury, or incapacity is precluded from becoming a resident under the terms of the contract before occupying the living unit, the contract is automatically rescinded and the resident or the resident’s legal representative shall receive a full refund of all payments of money or transferred property to the facility, except those costs specifically incurred by the facility at the request of the resident and set forth in writing in a separate addendum, signed by both parties to the contract.

q. A statement that a resident has the right to rescind a contract for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services, without penalty or forfeiture, within three business days of the date the contract was executed or within thirty days after the date the resident received the disclosure statement required by section 523D.3, whichever is later.

2. Cancellation. The contract required by this section shall state the terms under which the contract can be canceled by the provider or the resident, including a statement of the refund rights of a resident, and shall include a completed, easily detachable form in duplicate, captioned “Notice of Cancellation”, as an attachment, in ten-point boldface type, containing the following information and statements in substantially the following form and language:

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION

(Date) contract was executed.

(Date) disclosure statement was provided to resident.

You may rescind and cancel your contract, without any penalty or obligation, within three business days of the date the contract was executed or within thirty days after the date you received the disclosure statement required by Iowa Code section 523D.3, whichever is later. You are not required to move into the facility before the expiration of this cancellation period. However, if you do, the provider may retain the reasonable value of care and services actually provided to you, the resident, prior to your vacating the provider’s facility. If you cancel this contract and you have already moved into the provider’s facility, you must vacate your living unit within ten days after receipt by the provider of your cancellation notice.

If you cancel this contract, any payments of money or transfers of property you made to the provider must be returned as soon as reasonably possible by the provider following receipt by the provider of your cancellation notice, and any security interest arising out of the transaction is canceled, except that, as stated above, the provider may retain the reasonable value of care and services actually provided to you prior to your vacating the provider’s facility.

To cancel this contract, mail by certified mail or hand deliver a signed and dated copy of this cancellation notice or any other written notice clearly indicating your intent to cancel the contract, or send a telegram, to: ...........................................(name of provider) at: ...........................................(address of provider’s place of business). Your cancellation is effective upon mailing by certified mail, when transmitted by telegraph, or when actual notice is given to the provider, whichever is earlier.

I hereby cancel this contract.

523D.12 Filings and investigations.

1. The annual filing, and any amendments to the annual filing, shall be signed by the chief executive officer, stating that to the best of the officer’s knowledge and belief, the items are correct.

2. The commissioner or the attorney general may, for the purpose of discovering or investigating violations of this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter do any or all of the following:

a. Investigate the business and examine the books, accounts, records, and files used by a provider. With the exception of an examination involving new construction, an examination involving a complaint by a resident or a prospective resident or where good cause exists for the lack of prior notice, as determined by the commissioner, the division of insurance shall provide at least seven days’ prior notice to the facility before conducting an on-site examination.

b. Administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, receive evidence, and require the production of documents and records in connection with an investigation or proceeding being conducted pursuant to this chapter.

c. Apply to the district court for issuance of an order requiring a person’s appearance before the commissioner or attorney general. The person may also be required to produce documentary evidence germane to the subject of the investigation. Failure to obey a court order under this subsection constitutes contempt of court.

523D.13 Compliance orders.

Upon the commissioner’s determination that a provider has violated a provision of this chapter or a rule adopted pursuant to this chapter, the commissioner may issue an order requiring a provider to cease and desist from an unlawful practice or to take other affirmative action as in the judgment of the commissioner is necessary to comply with the requirements of this chapter. The person named in the order may, within fourteen days after receipt of the order, file a written request for a hearing. The hearing shall be held in accordance with chapter 17A. If a hearing is not requested, the order shall become permanent.

523D.14 Injunctions.
The attorney general may petition the district court in any county of the state for an injunction to restrain a person subject to this chapter and any agents, employees, or associates of the person from engaging in conduct or practices in violation of this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter. In a proceeding for an injunction, the attorney general may apply to the court for the issuance of a subpoena to require the appearance of a defendant and the defendant’s agents and any documents, books, or records germane to the hearing upon the petition for an injunction. Upon proof of any of the violations described in the petition for injunction, the court may grant the injunction.

CHAPTER 523E
SALES OF CEMETERY MERCHANDISE

523E.20 Insurance division’s regulatory fund.
The insurance division may authorize the creation of a special revenue fund in the state treasury, to be known as the insurance division regulatory fund.
Commencing July 1, 1990, and annually thereafter, the commissioner shall allocate from the fees paid pursuant to section 523E.2, one dollar for each agreement reported on an establishment permit holder’s annual report for deposit to the regulatory fund. The remainder of the fees collected pursuant to section 523E.2 shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. However, if the balance of the regulatory fund on that July 1 exceeds two hundred thou­sand dollars, the allocation to the regulatory fund shall not be made and the total sum of the fees paid pursuant to section 523E.2 shall be deposited in the general fund of the state. The moneys in the regulatory fund shall be retained in the fund. The moneys are appropriated and, subject to authorization by the commissioner, may be used to pay investiga­tive ex­penses and the expenses of receiverships established pursuant to section 523E.19. An annual assessment shall not be imposed if the current balance of the fund exceeds two hundred thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 524
IOWA BANKING LAW
Limited suspension of banking laws until July 1, 1992, 90 Acts, ch 1274, 91 Acts, ch 220, § 7 SF 507

524.207 Expenses of the banking division — fees.
All expenses required in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon the banking division of the department of commerce, the superintendent, and the state banking board by the laws of this state shall be paid from fees provided by the laws of this state and appropriated by the general assembly from the fund established in this section. All of these fees are payable to the superintendent. The superintendent shall pay all the fees and other money re­ceived by the superintendent to the treasurer of state within the time required by section 12.10. The treasurer of state shall hold these funds in a banking re­volving fund that shall be established in the name of the superintendent for the payment of the expenses of the division. This fund is subject at all times to the warrant of the department of revenue and finance, drawn upon written requisition of the superintendent or the superintendent’s designated representative, for the payment of all salaries and other expenses necessary to carry out the duties of the banking division of the department of commerce. The superintendent may keep on hand with the treasurer of state funds in excess of the current needs of the division to the extent approved by the state banking board. Transfers shall not be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of the expenses of the division. No part of the funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be transferred to the general fund of the state or any other fund, except as follows: Sixty thousand dollars each fiscal year shall be transferred to the general fund of the state. That amount shall be considered as one of the costs of the division. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from these investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

The authority to modify allotments provided in section 8.31 shall not apply to funds appropriated from the fund created in this section and held for the superintendent.

The superintendent shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate duties imposed upon the superintendent by the laws of this state and each separate duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.

The banking division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division's share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department of commerce, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

The banking division may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel, if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for bank examinations and directly result from examinations of banks. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for examinations, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the examination expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the division and that the division does not have other funds from which examination expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management, the division may expend and encumber funds for excess examination expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the excess examination expenses shall be collected from those banks being regulated which caused the excess expenditures, and the collections shall be treated as re-payment receipts as defined in section 8.2, subsection 5.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section directing that fees and other moneys received be deposited into the banking revolving fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the banking revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees and moneys collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this section shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

524.221 Preservation of bank records — statute of limitations.

1. A state bank is not required to preserve its records for a period longer than eleven years after the first day of January of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records, provided, however, that account records showing unpaid balances due to depositors shall not be destroyed. A copy of an original may be kept in lieu of any such original record. For purposes of this subsection, a copy includes any duplicate, rerecording or reproduction of an original record from any photograph, photostat, microfilm, microcard, miniature or microphotograph, computer printout, electronically stored data or image, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original record.

2. All causes of action, other than actions for relief on the grounds of fraud or mistake, against a state bank based upon a claim or claims inconsistent with an entry or entries in a state bank record, made in the regular course of business, shall be deemed to have accrued, and shall accrue for the purpose of the statute of limitations one year after the date of such entry or entries. No action founded upon such a cause may be brought after the expiration of ten years from the date of such accrual.

3. The provisions of this section, insofar as applicable, shall apply to the records of a national bank.

91 Acts, ch 95, §1 HF 619
Subsection 1 amended

524.227 Enforcement of Iowa consumer credit code.

1. The superintendent shall enforce the Iowa consumer credit code with respect to banks, as provided in sections 537.2303, 537.2306 and 537.6105.

2. The superintendent shall co-operate with the administrator, and shall assist the administrator whenever necessary to provide for the discharge of the duties of the administrator.

3. Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter to the contrary, the superintendent shall authorize to be furnished to the administrator, access to or copies of records in the possession of the superintendent or other persons which relate to a bank when necessary to enable the administrator to enforce chapter 537.

4. The superintendent shall make an annual report in writing to the administrator. A copy of the report shall be furnished at cost by the superintendent to each bank or other person upon request. The annual report shall contain:
   a. A summary of applications to engage in the business of banking approved or denied by the superintendent since the last report.
   b. An estimate of the disbursements of agency funds for consumer credit protection during the calendar year ending the preceding December 31.
   c. Information which the superintendent may deem appropriate and advisable to disclose.
   d. Information which the administrator may require to be included.

§524.227 798

2. Within ten days after the state bank concerned or any director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder is served with an interim order, the bank or such director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder may apply to the district court in the county in which the bank has its principal place of business, for an injunction setting aside, limiting, or suspending the enforcement, operation, or effectiveness of such interim order pending the completion of the administrative proceedings. If serious prejudice to the interests of the superintendent, the state bank, the officer, director, employee, or substantial shareholder would result from such hearing, the court may order the judicial proceeding to be conducted in camera.

3. The interim order shall contain a concise statement of the facts constituting the alleged unsafe or unsound practice or alleged dishonest act, and shall fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held to determine whether a final order to cease and desist should issue against the state bank or any director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder.

The hearing shall be fixed for a date not later than thirty days after service of the interim order unless a later date is set at the request of the party served. If the state bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder fails to appear at the hearing, the state bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder is deemed to have consented to the issuance of a cease and desist order. In the event of such consent, or if upon the record made at the hearing the superintendent finds that any unsafe or unsound practice or dishonest act specified in the interim order has been established, the superintendent may issue and serve upon the bank, or the officer, director, employee, or substantial shareholder a final order to cease and desist from any such practice or act. The order may require the state bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder to cease and desist from any such practice or act and, further, to take affirmative action, including suspension of the director, officer, or employee.

4. A hearing provided for in this section shall be presided over by an administrative law judge appointed in accordance with section 17A.11. The hearing shall be private, unless the superintendent determines after full consideration of the views of the party afforded the hearing, that a public hearing is necessary to protect the public interest. After the hearing, and within thirty days after the case has been submitted for decision, the superintendent shall review the proposed order of the administrative law judge and render a final decision, including findings of fact upon which the decision is predicated, and issue and serve upon each party to the proceeding an order consistent with this section.

5. Any final order issued by the superintendent pursuant to subsection 3 becomes effective upon service of the final order on the state bank, director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder and shall remain effective except to the extent that it is stayed.
modified, terminated, or set aside by action of the superintendent or of the district court of the county in which the state bank has its principal place of business in accordance with the terms of chapter 17A.

6. In the case of violation or threatened violation of, or failure to obey, an interim order issued pursuant to subsection 1 or a final order issued pursuant to subsection 3, the superintendent may apply to the district court of the county in which the state bank has its principal place of business for the enforcement of the order and such court shall have jurisdiction and power to order and require compliance with the interim order or final order.

7. For purposes of this section, "substantial shareholder" means a shareholder exercising a controlling influence over the management or policies of a state bank as determined by the superintendent.

NEW section

524.306 Issuance of certificate of incorporation.
The receipt of the approved articles of incorporation of a state bank by the secretary of state constitutes filing with that office. The secretary of state shall record the articles of incorporation and forward a copy of them to the county recorder of the county in which the state bank is to have its principal place of business. The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of incorporation shall issue a certificate of incorporation and send the certificate to the incorporators.

91 Acts, ch 211, §11 HF 556
Section amended

524.310 Name of state bank.
1. The name of a state bank originally incorporated after the effective date of this chapter shall include the word "bank" and may include the word "state" or "trust" in its name. If a state bank uses the word "trust" in its name, it must be authorized under this chapter to act in a fiduciary capacity.

2. The provisions of this section shall not require any state bank, existing and operating on January 1, 1970, to add to, modify or otherwise change its corporate name, either on January 1, 1970, or upon renewal of its corporate existence pursuant to section 524.106.

3. If a state bank existing and operating on January 1, 1970, causes its corporate name to be changed, the name as changed shall comply with subsection 1 of this section.

4. a. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a corporate name for a state bank by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth the name and address of the applicant and the name proposed to be reserved. If the secretary of state finds that the corporate name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant’s exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty day period.

b. The owner of a reserved corporate name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

NEW subsection 4

524.606 Removal of directors.
1. At a meeting of shareholders expressly called for that purpose, individual directors or the entire board of directors may be removed, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the shares entitled to vote at an election of directors. The vacancies created may be filled at the same meeting at which the removal proceedings take place.

2. When, in the opinion of the superintendent any director of a state bank has violated any law relating to such state bank or has engaged in unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business of such state bank, the superintendent may cause notice to be served upon such director, to appear before the superintendent to show cause why the director should not be removed from office. A copy of such notice shall be sent to each director of the state bank affected, by registered or certified mail. If, after granting the accused director a reasonable opportunity to be heard, the superintendent finds that the director violated any law relating to such state bank or engaged in unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business of such state bank, the superintendent, in the superintendent's discretion, may order that such director be removed from office. A copy of the order shall be served upon such director and upon the state bank of which the person is a director at which time the person shall cease to be a director of the state bank.

The decision of the superintendent shall be subject to judicial review in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. No action taken by a director prior to the director's removal shall be subject to attack on the ground of the director's disqualification.

91 Acts, ch 220, §3 SF 507
Subsection 2, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

524.612 Director dealing with state bank.
1. The total obligations, as defined in subsection 1 of section 524.904, of a director to a state bank of which the person is a director shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank except that the total obligations of a director to a state bank of which the person is a director shall not exceed forty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank if the amount by which such obligations exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank shall consist of obligations described in paragraph "a" of subsection 2 of section 524.904. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the applying director, shall give its prior approval to any obligation, as defined in subsection 1 of section 524.904, of a director to the state bank of which the person is a director. The form of such approval shall be specified by the superintendent, and a copy recorded in the minutes of the board of directors.

2. A director shall not be permitted to receive any loan or extension of credit or use any property of a state bank of which the person is a director at a lower rate of interest or charge than the rate charged to other customers under similar circumstances.

3. A director shall not be paid a higher rate of interest on deposits by a state bank of which the person is a director than the rate paid to any other customer under similar circumstances.

4. A director shall not purchase or lease any assets from or sell or lease any assets to a state bank of which the person is a director except upon terms not less favorable to the state bank than those offered to or by other persons. All purchases or leases from and sales or leases to a director shall receive the prior approval of a majority of the board of directors voting in the absence of the interested director.

5. For the purpose of this section and section 524.706, any obligation, as defined in section 524.904, subsection 1, of the spouse, other than a spouse who is separated from the director or officer under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or minor children of a director or officer to the state bank in which the person is a director or officer is considered an obligation of such director or officer. However, an obligation of a spouse is not considered an obligation of the director or officer if the officer or director and the spouse of the director or officer maintain separate deposit accounts, for either personal or business purposes, and the funds obtained pursuant to the obligation of the spouse are not mingled with funds of, or used to directly benefit, the officer or director, and the obligation is not guaranteed by the director or officer.

91 Acts, ch 14, §1 HF 294
Subsection 5 amended

524.706 Officer dealing with state bank.
1. An executive officer of a state bank may receive loans or extensions of credit from a state bank of which the person is an executive officer, resulting in obligations as defined in section 524.904, subsection 1, not exceeding, in the aggregate:
   (1) An amount secured by a lien on a dwelling which is expected, after the obligation is incurred, to be owned by the executive officer and used as the officer's residence, provided that after the loan is made there is no other loan by the bank to the executive officer, under authority of this subparagraph, outstanding.
   (2) An amount to finance the education of a child or children of the executive officer.
   (3) Any other loans or extensions of credit which in the aggregate do not at any one time exceed the higher of twenty-five thousand or two point five percent of the bank's capital and surplus, but in no event more than one hundred thousand dollars.

2. An executive officer of a state bank may receive loans or extensions of credit from a state bank, except directors who are not officers, or director and the spouse of the director or officer if the officer or director and the spouse of the director or officer maintain separate deposit accounts, for either personal or business purposes, and the funds obtained pursuant to the obligation of the spouse are not mingled with funds of, or used to directly benefit, the officer or director, and the obligation is not guaranteed by the director or officer. Such loans or extensions of credit shall not exceed an amount totaling more than twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank and any such loan on real property shall comply with section 524.905. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the applying officer, whether or not the officer is also a director, shall give its prior approval to any obligation of an executive officer to the state bank of which the person is an executive officer.

3. An executive officer of a state bank may receive loans or extensions of credit from a state bank, except directors who are not officers, or director and the spouse of the director or officer if the officer or director and the spouse of the director or officer maintain separate deposit accounts, for either personal or business purposes, and the funds obtained pursuant to the obligation of the spouse are not mingled with funds of, or used to directly benefit, the officer or director, and the obligation is not guaranteed by the director or officer. Such loans or extensions of credit shall not exceed an amount totaling more than twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank and any such loan on real property shall comply with section 524.905. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the applying officer, whether or not the officer is also a director, shall give its prior approval to any obligation of an executive officer to the state bank of which the person is an executive officer.

4. An executive officer of a state bank may receive loans or extensions of credit from a state bank, except directors who are not officers, or director and the spouse of the director or officer if the officer or director and the spouse of the director or officer maintain separate deposit accounts, for either personal or business purposes, and the funds obtained pursuant to the obligation of the spouse are not mingled with funds of, or used to directly benefit, the officer or director, and the obligation is not guaranteed by the director or officer. Such loans or extensions of credit shall not exceed an amount totaling more than twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank and any such loan on real property shall comply with section 524.905. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the applying officer, whether or not the officer is also a director, shall give its prior approval to any obligation of an executive officer to the state bank of which the person is an executive officer.

5. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the interested director, in major policymaking functions of the bank, regardless of whether the officer has an official title or whether the officer's title contains a designation of assistant and regardless of whether the officer is serving without salary or other compensation. The chairperson of the board, every president, every vice president, the cashier, secretary, and treasurer of a state bank are assumed to be executive officers, unless, by resolution of the board of directors or by the bank’s bylaws, but subject to contrary notice by the superintendent as provided for in section 524.701, any such officer is excluded from participation in major policymaking functions, otherwise than in the capacity of a director of the bank, and the officer does not actually participate.

2. The provisions of section 524.612, subsections 2, 3 and 4, shall apply to officers.

3. If an individual is a director and an officer, the individual shall be subject to the limitations of subsection 1 of this section.

4. Whenever an officer of a state bank borrows from or otherwise becomes obligated to any person or persons other than the state bank of which the person is an officer, in a total amount equal to or exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars excluding such amounts as may be owing by the officer secured by a first lien on a dwelling which is used by the officer as the officer’s residence, the officer shall report in writing to the superintendent that the officer is so obligated. Upon the request of the superintendent, an officer of a state bank shall submit to the superintendent, a personal financial statement which shall show the names of all persons to whom the officer is obligated, the dates, terms, and amounts of each loan or other obligation, the security therefor, and the purpose for which the proceeds of such loans or other obligations have been or are to be used.

524.707 Removal of officers.

1. Any officer may be removed by the board of directors whenever in its judgment the best interests of the state bank shall be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the officer so removed. Election of an officer shall not of itself create contract rights.

2. Subsection 2 of section 524.606 providing for the removal of directors by the superintendent, shall have equal application to officers and employees.

524.816 Account insurance.

1. A bank organized under this chapter, as a condition of maintaining its privilege of organization after July 1, 1984 shall become an insured bank and shall acquire and maintain insurance to protect each depositor against loss of funds held on account by the bank. The insurance shall be obtained from the federal deposit insurance corporation or another insurance plan approved by the superintendent, provided that each bank shall acquire deposit insurance from the appropriate agency of the federal government.

2. The superintendent may furnish to an official of an insurance plan by which the accounts of the bank are insured, any information relating to examinations and reports of the status of that bank for the purpose of determining availability of insurance to that bank.

3. If an individual is a director and an officer, the individual shall be subject to the limitations of subsection 1 of this section.

524.901 Investments.

1. A state bank may invest without limitation for its own account in the following bonds or securities:
   a. Obligations of the United States and bonds and securities with respect to which the payment of principal and interest is fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the United States.
   b. Obligations issued by any or all of the federal credit banks, any or all of the banks for cooperatives, and any or all of the federal home loan banks, organized under the laws of the United States.
   c. Obligations issued by the federal national mortgage association, under the laws of the United States.
   d. Any other bonds or securities which are obligations of or the payment of principal and interest of which is fully and unconditionally guaranteed by a federal reserve bank or by any department, bureau, board, commission, agency or establishment of the United States, or any corporation owned directly or indirectly by the United States.
   e. General obligations of the state of Iowa and of political subdivisions thereof.

2. A state bank may invest for its own account in other readily marketable bonds or securities, with investment characteristics as defined by the superintendent by general regulation applicable to all state banks, subject to the following limitations:
   a. The total amount of the bonds or securities of any one issuer or obligor, other than revenue or improvement bonds issued by a municipality, the Iowa finance authority, or the agricultural development finance authority, or the state bank of Iowa shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.
   b. The total amount of special assessment improvement or refunding bonds which have been issued by a municipality under authority of section 384.68 and which are repayable from the proceeds of any one levy shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.
   c. The total amount of revenue bonds and pledge orders which have been issued by a municipality under authority of chapter 384, division V, and which are repayable from the revenues of any one city utility, combined utility system, city enterprise or combined city enterprise shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.
   d. The total amount of revenue bonds issued by a municipality pursuant to section 419.2 which have been issued on behalf of any one lessee, as defined in section 419.1, or which are issued on behalf of or guaranted by a corporation, a ten percent or greater ownership interest in which is held by or in common with a lessee or guarantor, or any combination of the foregoing whereby the municipality could receive revenues for payment of such bonds from any one person or any group of persons under common control, shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

e No bond or security shall be eligible for investment by a state bank within this subsection if the bond or security has been in default either as to principal or interest at any time within five years prior to the date of purchase.

f The total amount of bonds or notes issued by the agricultural development authority pursuant to chapter 215 which have been issued on behalf of any one beginning farmer, as defined in section 215.2, subsection 6, and the proceeds of which have been loaned to that beginning farmer shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

g The total amount of bonds or notes issued by the Iowa finance authority pursuant to chapter 220 which have been issued on behalf of any one small business or which have been loaned to that small business shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

h The total amount of bonds or notes issued by the agricultural development authority pursuant to chapter 175 which have been issued on behalf of any one owner or operator of agricultural land within the state, as provided for in section 175.34, and the proceeds of which have been loaned to that owner or operator, shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

3 A state bank shall not, directly or indirectly, invest for its own account in the shares of any corporation except:

a Shares in a federal reserve bank.

b Shares in the federal national mortgage association.

c When approved by the superintendent, shares and obligations of a corporation engaged solely in making loans for agricultural purposes eligible to discount or sell loans to a farm credit bank, commonly known as an agricultural credit corporation, in amounts not to exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

d Shares in a corporation which the state bank is authorized to acquire and hold pursuant to section 524.803, subsection 1, paragraphs "c", "d", "e", and "f" and section 524.825.

e Shares in an economic development corporation organized under chapter 496B to the extent authorized by and subject to the limitations of such chapter.

f When approved by the superintendent, shares of a small business investment company as defined by the laws of the United States, except that in no event shall any such state bank hold shares in small business investment companies in an amount aggregating more than two percent of its capital and surplus.

g Shares or equity interests in venture capital funds which agree to invest an amount equal to at least fifty percent of the state bank's investment in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state.

A state bank shall not invest more than a total of five percent of its capital and surplus in investments permitted under this paragraph and paragraph "h". For purposes of this paragraph, "venture capital fund" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, whose principal business is or will be the making of investments in, and the provision of significant managerial assistance to, small businesses which meet the small business administration definition of small business. "Equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to.

h Shares or equity interests in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state. The total amount of a state bank's investments under this paragraph and paragraph "g" shall not exceed five percent of the state bank's capital and surplus. The investment of a state bank in a small business under this paragraph shall be included with the obligations of the small business to the state bank that are incurred as a result of the exercise by the state bank of the powers conferred in section 524.902 for the purpose of determining the total obligations of the small business to the state bank at any one time under section 524.904. A state bank shall not invest in more than twenty percent of the total capital and surplus of any one small business under this paragraph. For purposes of this paragraph, "small business" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, which meets the appropriate small business administration definition of small business and which is principally engaged in the development or exploitation of inventions, technological improvements, new processes, or other products not previously generally available in this state or other investments which provide an economic benefit to the state, and "equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to... the amount of the investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability.

i. Shares or units of investment companies or investment trusts registered under the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80a, the portfolio of which is limited to the United States obligations or Iowa general obligations described in subsection 1 or repurchase agreements fully collateralized by obligations described in subsection 1 if delivery of the collateral is taken either directly or through an authorized custodian, up to a maximum of twenty percent of capital and surplus of the state bank in any one company or trust.

j. Shares of investment companies whose portfolios contain investments which are subject to limitations pursuant to this section, provided that a state bank’s investment in such shares does not exceed the limitation set forth in this section for the underlying instrument.

k. Shares in the federal agricultural mortgage corporation.

l. When approved by the superintendent, shares of a corporation certified by the federal agricultural mortgage corporation which is engaged solely in pooling agricultural loans for federal agricultural mortgage corporation guarantees, not to exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

m. Shares in a federal home loan bank.

4. A state bank may invest in participation certificates issued by one or more production credit associations chartered under the laws of the United States in an amount which does not exceed, in the aggregate with respect to all such associations, twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

5. A state bank may invest for its own account in the shares of a bankers’ bank or in the shares of a bank holding company which owns a bankers’ bank. A state bank shall not invest in more than one bankers’ bank or in more than one bank holding company which owns a bankers’ bank. A state bank shall not invest an amount greater than ten percent of its capital and surplus in the shares of a bankers’ bank or in the shares of a bank holding company which owns a bankers’ bank. A state bank shall not invest any amount if after the investment the state bank would own or control more than five percent of any class of the voting shares of a bankers’ bank or a bank holding company which owns a bankers’ bank.

6. A state bank may, in the exercise of the powers granted in this chapter, purchase cash value life insurance contracts which may include provisions for the lump sum payment of premiums and which may include insurance against the loss of the lump sum payment. The cash value life insurance contracts purchased from any one company shall not exceed twenty percent of capital and surplus of the state bank and in the aggregate from all companies, shall not exceed twenty-five percent of total equity capital of the state bank unless the state bank has obtained the approval of the superintendent prior to the purchase of any cash value life insurance contract in excess of this limitation.

7. a. A state bank may invest in real estate as set forth in paragraph “b”, subject to the following limitations:

   (1) The investment shall be approved by the superintendent.

   (2) The investment shall be for economic or community development purposes only.

   (3) The total aggregate amount invested shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

   (4) The real estate purchased shall not be agricultural-zoned land.

   b. The state bank may acquire real estate as follows:

   (1) At a sheriff’s sale or any other sale of real estate against which the state bank has a legal or equitable lien or claim.

   (2) In satisfaction of any obligation to the state bank.

   (3) Upon contracts for sale or improvement and sale, at the cost of the land and improvements, if the contracts are executed concurrently or prior to the purchase. However, the transaction is subject to the limitations on real estate loans.

   (4) In exchange for real estate owned by the state bank.

   (5) In connection with salvaging the value of property owned by the state bank.

   (6) For the purpose of producing income through the improvement or erection of a building and the sale or rental of the property.

8. If approved by the superintendent, a state bank may invest in a community development corporation. A state bank shall have the same authority to invest in a community development corporation as does a federal bank pursuant to Title XII of the United States Code.

9. A state bank may invest without limitation for its own account in futures, forward, and standby contracts to purchase and sell any of the instruments eligible for state banks’ purchase and sale, subject to the prior approval of the superintendent and pursuant to applicable federal laws and regulations governing such contracts. Purchase and sale of such contracts shall be conducted in accordance with safe and sound banking practices and with levels of the activity being reasonably related to the state bank’s business needs and capacity to fulfill its obligations under the contracts.

524.1102 Loans and other transactions with affiliates.

No state bank shall make any loan or any extension of credit to, or purchase securities under repurchase agreement from, any of its affiliates, or invest any of its funds in the shares, bonds, capital securities, or other obligations of any such affiliate, or accept the shares, bonds, capital securities, or other obligations of any such affiliate as collateral security for advances made to any customer, if the aggregate amount of such loans, extensions of credit, repurchase agreements, investments and advances against such collateral security will exceed:

1. In the case of any one such affiliate, ten percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank. However, a state bank may invest its funds in shares of a bank service corporation pursuant to section 524.803, subsection 1, paragraph f, in an amount up to twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

2. In the case of all such affiliates, twenty percent of the capital and surplus of such state bank.

Within the foregoing limitations, each loan or extension of credit of any kind or character to an affiliate shall be secured by collateral in the form of shares of stock, bonds, capital securities or other such obligations having a market value at the time of making the loan or extension of credit of at least twenty percent more than the amount of the loan or extension of credit, or of at least ten percent more than the amount of the loan or extension of credit if it is secured by obligations of any state, or of any political subdivision or agency of the state, or of at least one hundred percent of the amount of the loan or extension of credit if it is secured by a segregated, earmarked deposit account with the state bank.

A loan or extension of credit to a director, officer, clerk or other employee or any representative of any such affiliate shall be deemed a loan to the affiliate to the extent that the proceeds of such loan are used for the benefit of, or transferred to, the affiliate.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to loans or extensions of credit fully secured by obligations of the United States, or the farm credit banks, or the federal home loan banks, or obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest. The provisions of this section shall likewise not apply to indebtedness of any affiliate for unpaid balances due a state bank on assets purchased from such bank.

For the purposes of this section, the terms "extension of credit" and "extensions of credit" shall be deemed to include any purchase of securities, other assets or obligations under repurchase agreement, and the discount of promissory notes, bills of exchange, conditional sales contracts, or similar paper, whether with or without recourse.

524.1201 General provisions.

A bank shall not open or maintain a branch bank. A state bank may establish and operate bank offices subject to approval and regulation of the superintendent and to the restrictions upon location and number imposed by section 524.1202. A bank office may furnish all banking services ordinarily furnished to customers and depositors at the principal place of business of the state bank which operates the office, and a bank office manager or an officer of the bank shall be physically present at each bank office during a majority of its business hours. The central executive and official business and principal recordkeeping functions of a state bank shall be exercised only at its principal place of business, except that data processing services referred to in section 524.804 may be performed for the state bank at some other point. All transactions of a bank office shall be immediately transmitted to the principal place of business of the state bank which operates the office, and no current recordkeeping functions shall be maintained at a bank office except to the extent the state bank which operates the office deems it desirable to keep there duplicates of the records kept at the principal place of business of the state bank. Notwithstanding any of the other provisions of this section, original trust recordkeeping functions may be centrally located at an authorized bank office, and original loan documentation recordkeeping functions may be located at an authorized bank office or at the office of the holding company of a state bank, subject to the approval of the superintendent.

CHAPTER 527
ELECTRONIC TRANSFER OF FUNDS

527.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, the following definitions shall apply unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Access device" means a card, code, or other mechanism, or any combination thereof, that may be used by a customer for the purpose of initiating a transaction by means of a satellite terminal which will affect a customer asset account.

2. "Administrator" means and includes the superintendent of banking, the superintendent of savings and loan associations, and the superintendent of credit unions within the department of commerce and the supervisor of industrial loan companies within the office of the superintendent of banking. However, the powers of administration and enforcement of this chapter shall be exercised only as provided in sections 527.4 and 527.5, subsection 7, 527.11, and any other pertinent provision of this chapter.

3. "Batch basis" means the delivery of an accumulation of messages representing multiple transactions after completion of the transactions.

4. "Central routing unit" means any facility where electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction originating at a satellite terminal are received and routed and transmitted to a financial institution, or to a data processing center, or to another central routing unit, wherever located.

5. "Completion of the transaction" means when the presence of the customer at a satellite terminal is no longer needed to consummate the sale of goods or services, to grant to the seller the right to receive payment for the goods or services, and to issue a receipt to the customer.

6. "Customer asset account" or "account" means a demand deposit, share, checking, savings, or other customer account, other than an occasional or incidental credit balance in a credit plan, which represents a liability of the financial institution which maintains such account at a business location or office located in this state, either directly or indirectly for the benefit of a customer.

7. "Data processing center" means a facility, wherever located, at which electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction originating at a satellite terminal are received and are processed in order to enable the satellite terminal to perform any function for which it is designed. However, "data processing center" does not include a facility which is directly connected to a satellite terminal and which performs only the functions of direct transmission of all requested transactions from that terminal to a data processing facility without performing any review of the requested transactions for the purpose of categorizing, separating, or routing. "Categorizing" means the process of reviewing and grouping of requested electronic funds transfer transactions according to the source or nature of the requested transaction. "Separating" means the process of interpreting and segregating requested electronic funds transfer transactions, or portions of such transactions, to provide for processing of information relating to such requested transactions or portions of such transactions. "Routing" means the process of interpreting and transmitting requested electronic funds transfer transactions to a destination selected at the time of interpretation and transmission from two or more alternative destinations.

8. "Electronic personal identifier" means a personal and confidential code or other security mechanism which has been designated by a financial institution issuing an access device to a customer to serve as a supplemental means of access to a customer's account that may be used by the customer in conjunction with an access device for the purpose of initiating a transaction by means of a satellite terminal.

9. "Financial institution" means and includes any bank incorporated under the provisions of any state or federal law, any savings and loan association incorporated under the provisions of any state or federal law, any credit union organized under the provisions of any state or federal law, any corporation licensed as an industrial loan company under chapter 536A, and any affiliate of a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or industrial loan company.

10. "Limited function terminal" means an on-line point-of-sale terminal or an off-line point-of-sale terminal which satisfies the requirements of section 527.4, subsection 3, paragraph "d", or a multiple use terminal, which is not operated in a manner to accept an electronic personal identifier, and which is not operated to distinguish between transactions which affect a customer asset account and transactions which do not affect a customer asset account. Except as otherwise provided, a limited function terminal shall not be subject to the requirements imposed upon other satellite terminals pursuant to sections 527.4 and 527.5, subsections 1, 2, 3, 7, and 9.

11. "Multiple use terminal" means any machine or device to which all of the following are applicable:

a. The machine or device is established and owned or operated by a person who primarily engages in a service, business or enterprise, including but not limited to the retail sale of goods or services, but who is not organized under the laws of this state.
or under federal law as a bank, savings and loan association, or credit union;

b. The machine or device is used by the person by whom it is owned or operated in some capacity other than as a satellite terminal; and

c. A financial institution proposes to contract or has contracted to utilize that machine or device as a satellite terminal.

13. "Office" means and includes any business location in this state of a financial institution at which is offered the services of accepting deposits, originating loans, and dispensing cash, by financial institution personnel in the office.

14. "Off-line point-of-sale terminal" means a satellite terminal that satisfies the requirements of section 527.4, subsection 3, paragraph "d" and is other than an on-line point-of-sale terminal.

15. "On-line point-of-sale terminal" means a satellite terminal that satisfies the requirements of section 527.4, subsection 3, paragraph "d" and is operated on an on-line real time basis.

16. "On-line real time basis" means the delivery or return of a message initiated at a satellite terminal through transmission of electronic impulses to or from a location remote from the location of the satellite terminal prior to completion of the transaction.

17. "Personal terminal" means and includes a satellite terminal located in a personal residence and a telephone, wherever located, operated by a customer of a financial institution for the purpose of initiating a transaction affecting a noncommercial account of the customer.

18. "Premises" means and includes only those locations where, by applicable law, financial institutions are authorized to maintain a principal place of business and other offices for the conduct of their respective businesses; provided that with respect to an industrial loan company, "premises" means only a location where business may be conducted under a single license issued to the industrial loan company.

19. "Reciprocal basis" means that a financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state has the express authority under the laws of a state other than Iowa to conduct business under qualifications and conditions which are no more restrictive than those imposed by the laws of the other state on financial institutions whose licensed or principal place of business is located in the other state, as determined by the administrator, and the laws of Iowa are no more restrictive of financial institutions whose licensed or principal place of business is located in such other state than they are of financial institutions whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state.

20. "Satellite terminal" means and includes any machine or device located off the premises of a financial institution, and any machine or device located on the premises of a financial institution only if the machine or device is available for use by customers of other financial institutions, whether attended or unattended, by means of which the financial institution and its customers utilizing an access device may engage through either the immediate transmission of electronic impulses to or from the financial institution or the recording of electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction for delayed transmission to the financial institution, in transactions which affect a customer asset account and which otherwise are specifically permitted by applicable law. However, the term "satellite terminal" does not include any such machine or device, wherever located, if that machine or device is not generally accessible to persons other than employees of a financial institution or an affiliate of a financial institution.

527.3 Enforcement.

1. For purposes of this chapter the superintendent of banking only has the power to issue rules applicable to, to accept and approve or disapprove applications or informational statements from, to conduct hearings and revoke any approvals relating to, and to exercise all other supervisory authority created by this chapter with respect to banks; the superintendent of savings and loan associations only shall have and exercise such powers and authority with respect to savings and loan associations; the superintendent of credit unions only has such powers and authority with respect to credit unions; and the superintendent of banking or the superintendent's designee only has such powers and authority with respect to industrial loan companies.

2. The administrator shall have the authority to examine any person who operates a multiple use terminal, limited-function terminal, or other satellite terminal, and any other device or facility with which such terminal is interconnected, as to any transaction by, with, or involving a financial institution which affects a customer asset account. Information obtained in the course of such an examination shall not be disclosed, except as provided by law.

3. Nothing contained in this chapter shall authorize the administrator to regulate the conduct of business functions or to obtain access to any business records, data, or information of a person who operates a multiple use terminal, except those pertaining to a financial transaction engaged in through a satellite terminal, or as may otherwise be provided by law.

4. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit or to authorize the administrator to prohibit an operator of a multiple use terminal, other than a financial institution, or an operator of any other device or facility with which such terminal is interconnected, other than a central routing unit or data processing center (as defined in section 527.2) from using those facilities to perform internal proprietary functions, including the extension of credit pursuant to an open end credit arrangement.
5. An administrator may conduct hearings and exercise any other appropriate authority conferred by this chapter regarding the operation or control of a satellite terminal upon the written request of a person, including but not limited to, a retailer, financial institution, or consumer.

6. The authority of an administrator pursuant to section 527.5, subsection 2, paragraph "a", to approve access cards issued by a financial institution for use as an access device includes the requirement that a registration statement shall be filed with the administrator and be maintained on a current basis by each financial institution issuing access cards within the state. The registration statement shall be in writing on a form prescribed by the administrator, and contain the name and address of the registrant, a depiction of both sides of the access card, and any other information the administrator deems relevant relating to the access card and transactions utilizing the access card which affect a customer asset account.

7. A financial institution shall not be required to join, be a member or shareholder of, or otherwise participate in, any corporation, association, partnership, cooperative, or other enterprise as a condition of the financial institution's utilization of any satellite terminal located within this state.

527.4 Establishment of satellite terminals — restrictions.
1. A satellite terminal shall not be established within this state except by a financial institution whose principal place of business is located in this state, one which has a business location licensed in this state under chapter 536A, or one which has an office located in this state and which meets the requirements of subsection 4.

2. A financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state shall not establish a satellite terminal at any location outside of this state unless the other state provides for the establishment of satellite terminals by Iowa financial institutions on a reciprocal basis.

3. A financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located within this state may establish any number of satellite terminals in any of the following locations:
   a. Within the boundaries of a municipal corporation if the principal place of business or an office of the financial institution is also located within the boundaries of the municipal corporation.
   b. Within the boundaries of an urban complex composed of two or more Iowa municipal corporations which is contiguous to or corners upon at least one of the other municipal corporations within the urban complex if the principal place of business or an office of the financial institution is also located in the urban complex.

   c. Within the Iowa county in which the financial institution has its principal place of business or an office.

   d. At any location in this state off the premises of the financial institution if all of the following apply:
      (1) The satellite terminal is not operated to accept deposits or to dispense scrip or other negotiable instruments.
      (2) The satellite terminal is not operated to dispense cash except when operated by a person other than the customer initiating the transaction.
      (3) The satellite terminal is utilized for the purpose of making payment to the provider of goods or services purchased or provided at the location of the satellite terminal.

   A financial institution shall not establish a satellite terminal at any other location except pursuant to an agreement with a financial institution which is authorized by this subsection to establish a satellite terminal at that location and which will utilize the satellite terminal at that location. This subsection does not amend, modify, or supersede any provision of chapter 524 regulating the number or locations of bank offices of a state or national bank, or authorize the establishment by a financial institution of any offices or other facilities except satellite terminals at locations permitted by this subsection.

4. A financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is not located in this state, in addition to the requirements of subsection 3, paragraph "a", "b", "c", and "d" if both of the following apply:
   a. The other state provides for the establishment, control, maintenance, or operation of satellite terminals by a financial institution, whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state, on a reciprocal basis.
   b. All satellite terminals, wherever located, that are owned, controlled, maintained, or operated by the financial institution are available for use on a nondiscriminatory basis by any other financial institution which engages in electronic transactions in this state and by all customers who have minimum contact with this state and who have been designated by a financial institution using the satellite terminal and who have been provided with an access device, approved by the administrator, by which to engage in electronic transactions by means of the satellite terminal.
lished by one or more financial institutions. The establishing financial institutions shall designate a single controlling financial institution which shall maintain the location, use, and operation of the satellite terminal, wherever located, in compliance with this chapter. The use and operation of a satellite terminal shall be governed by a written agreement between the controlling financial institution and the person controlling the physical location at which the satellite terminal is placed. The written agreement shall specify all of the terms and conditions, including any fees and charges, under which the satellite terminal is placed at that location. If the satellite terminal is a multiple use terminal, the written agreement shall specify, and may limit, the specific types of transactions incidental to the conduct of the business of a financial institution which may be engaged in through that terminal.

2. a. A satellite terminal shall be available for use on a nondiscriminatory basis by any other financial institution which has its principal place of business within this state, and by all customers who have been designated by a financial institution using the satellite terminal and who have been provided with an access device, approved by the administrator, by which to engage in electronic transactions by means of the satellite terminal.

b. For the purposes of complying with paragraph “a”, an on-line point-of-sale terminal is not required to be available for use by customers of a financial institution by means of an access device by which an off-line point-of-sale terminal can be used to engage in electronic transactions.

c. All off-line point-of-sale terminals located at the retail location or retail locations within this state of a single retailer are exempt from paragraph “a” if electronic transactions can be initiated at each of such terminals only by an access device unique to the retailer.

d. Paragraph “a” applies to a financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in a state other than Iowa if all satellite terminals owned, controlled, operated, or maintained by the financial institution, wherever located, are available on a reciprocal basis to any financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state, and to all customers who have been designated by a financial institution using the satellite terminal and who have been provided with an access device.

3. An informational statement shall be filed and shall be maintained on a current basis with the administrator by the financial institution controlling a satellite terminal in this state, which sets forth all of the following:

a. The name and business address of the controlling financial institution.

b. The location of the satellite terminal.

c. A schedule of the charges which will be required to be paid by a financial institution utilizing the satellite terminal.

d. An agreement with the administrator that the financial institution controlling the satellite terminal will maintain that satellite terminal in compliance with this chapter.

The informational statement shall be accompanied by a copy of the written agreement required by subsection 1. The informational statement also shall be accompanied by a statement or copy of any agreement, whether oral or in writing, between the controlling financial institution and a data processing center or a central routing unit, unless operated by or solely on behalf of the controlling financial institution, by which transactions originating at that terminal will be received.

4. A satellite terminal in this state shall not be attended or operated at any time by an employee of a financial institution or an affiliate of a financial institution, except for the purpose of instructing customers, on a temporary basis, in the use of the satellite terminal, for the purpose of testing the terminal, or for the purpose of transacting business on the employee’s own behalf.

5. A satellite terminal in this state shall bear a sign or label identifying each type of financial institution utilizing the terminal. A satellite terminal location in this state shall not be used to advertise individual financial institutions or a group of financial institutions. However, a satellite terminal shall bear a sign or label no larger than three inches by two inches identifying the name, address, and telephone number of the owner of the satellite terminal. The administrator may authorize methods of identification the administrator deems necessary to enable the general public to determine the accessibility of a satellite terminal.

6. The charges required to be paid by any financial institution which utilizes the satellite terminal for transactions involving an access device shall not exceed a pro rata portion of the costs, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, of establishing, operating and maintaining the satellite terminal, plus a reasonable return on these costs to the owner of the satellite terminal.

7. If the administrator finds grounds, under any applicable law or rule, for denying establishment of a satellite terminal the administrator shall notify the person filing the informational statement or an amendment thereto, within thirty days of the filing thereof, of the existence of such grounds. If such notification is not given by the administrator, the administrator shall be considered to have expressly approved the establishment and operation of the satellite terminal as described in the informational statement or amendment and according to the agreements attached thereto, and operation of the satellite terminal in accordance therewith may commence on or after the thirtieth day following such filing. However, this subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the administrator from enforcing the provisions of this chapter, nor shall it be construed to constitute a waiver of any prohibition, limitation or obligation imposed by this chapter.

8. a. A satellite terminal in this state shall not be operated in a manner to permit a person to deposit funds into a demand deposit account, savings account, share account, or any other account representing a liability of a financial institution, if the business location of the financial institution where the original records pertaining to the person’s account are maintained is located outside of this state.

b. Paragraph “a” of this subsection does not apply to a corporation licensed under chapter 536A. A satellite terminal shall not be operated in any manner to permit a person to deposit funds into an account representing a liability of a corporation licensed under chapter 536A, if the business location of the corporation where the original records pertaining to the person’s account are maintained is located outside of this state.

9. a. Satellite terminals located in this state shall be directly connected to either of the following:

(1) A central routing unit approved pursuant to this chapter.

(2) A data processing center which is directly connected to a central routing unit approved pursuant to this chapter.

b. If a data processing center which is directly connected to a satellite terminal located in this state does not authorize or reject a transaction originated at that terminal, the transaction shall be immediately transmitted by the data processing center to a central routing unit approved pursuant to this chapter, unless one of the following applies:

(1) The transaction is not authorized because of a mechanical failure of the data processing center or satellite terminal.

(2) The transaction does not affect a customer asset account held by a financial institution.

(3) This subsection does not limit the authority of a data processing center to authorize or reject transactions requested by customers of a financial institution pursuant to an agreement whereby the data processing center authorizes or rejects requested transactions on behalf of the financial institution and provides to the financial institution, on a batch basis and not on an on-line real time basis, information concerning authorized or rejected transactions of customers of the financial institution.

10. A personal terminal may be utilized by a financial institution to the extent permitted by this chapter if the use and operation of the personal terminal is governed by a written agreement between the controlling financial institution and its customer and if the personal terminal is utilized and maintained in compliance with subsection 9 and all other applicable sections of this chapter. A telephone located at other than a personal residence and used primarily as a personal terminal must be utilized and maintained in compliance with this section.

11. Any person, as defined in section 4.1, subsection 13, establishing a limited-function terminal within this state, except for a multiple use terminal, which is utilized to initiate transactions affecting a customer asset account shall file with the administrator and shall maintain on a current basis a registration statement on a form prescribed by the administrator containing the name and address of the registrant, the location of the limited-function terminal, and any other information the administrator deems relevant. All limited-function terminals established in this state prior to July 1, 1991, shall be registered in a similar manner by the establishing person no later than July 1, 1992.

12. If at any time, a limited-function terminal is upgraded, altered, or modified to be operated in a manner to accept the use of an electronic personal identifier or to distinguish between transactions which affect customer asset accounts and transactions which do not affect customer asset accounts, all requirements of a satellite terminal in this chapter apply. A financial institution not eligible to establish satellite terminals within this state, which has established a limited-function terminal which is subsequently upgraded, altered, or modified as contemplated in this subsection, shall enter into an agreement with a financial institution which is authorized to establish a satellite terminal within this state to comply with the requirements of section 527.4 and this subsection.

13. Effective July 1, 1993, any transaction engaged in with a retailer through a satellite terminal located in this state by means of an access device which results in a debit to a customer asset account shall be cleared and paid at par to the retailer during the settlement of such transaction to the retailer. Processing fees and charges for such transactions to the retailer shall not be based on a percentage of the amount of the transaction. All accounting documents reflecting such fees and charges shall separately identify transactions which have resulted in a debit to a customer asset account and the charges imposed. The provisions of this subsection shall apply to all satellite terminals, including limited-function terminals and multiple use terminals.

§527.7 Records maintained.

All transactions engaged in through a satellite terminal shall be recorded in a form from which it will be possible to produce a humanly readable record of any transaction, and these recordings shall be retained by the utilizing financial institutions for the periods required by law.

The machine receipt provided to a satellite account transaction card user by a satellite terminal shall be admissible as evidence in any legal action or proceeding and shall constitute prima-facie proof of the transaction evidence by that receipt.

A financial institution shall provide each of its satellite account holders with a periodic account statement that shall contain a brief description of all satellite terminal transactions sufficient to enable the account holder to identify any transaction and to relate it to machine receipts provided by satellite terminals.

When a periodic account statement includes both satellite terminal transactions and other nonsatellite terminal transactions, all satellite terminal transactions shall be indicated as such, and shall be accompanied by the description required by this subsection.

The administrator may provide by rule for the recording and maintenance, by any financial institution utilizing a satellite terminal, of amounts involved in a transaction engaged in through the satellite terminal which are of a known tax consequence to the customer initiating the transaction. For the purpose of this paragraph "known tax consequences" means and includes but shall not be limited to the following:

1. An amount directly or indirectly received from a customer and applied to a loan account of the customer which represents interest paid by the customer to the financial institution.

2. In any transaction where the total amount involved is deducted from funds in a customer's account and is simultaneously paid either directly or indirectly by the financial institution to the account of a third party, any portion of the transaction amount which represents a sales or other tax imposed upon or included within the transaction and collected by that third party from the customer, or any portion of the transaction amount which represents interest paid to the third party by the customer.

3. Any other transaction which the administrator determines to have direct tax consequences to the customer. The administrator also may provide for the periodic distribution to customers of summaries of transactions having known tax consequences.

§527.7

527.8A Exemptions.
Transactions initiated at a satellite terminal which do not involve the use of an access device to directly or indirectly affect a customer asset account are not governed by this chapter.

§527.9 Central routing units.

1. A central routing unit shall not be operated in this state unless written approval for that operation has been obtained from the administrator.

2. A person desiring to operate a central routing unit shall submit to the administrator an application which shall contain all of the following information:
   a. The name and business address of the owner of the proposed unit.
   b. The name and business address of each data processing center and other central routing unit with which the proposed central routing unit will have direct electronic communication.
   c. The location of the proposed central routing unit.
   d. A schedule of the charges which will be required to be paid to that applicant by each financial institution which utilizes the proposed central routing unit.

The application shall be accompanied by all agreements between the proposed central routing unit and all data processing centers and other central routing units respecting the transmission of transaction data; and a copy of any agreement between the proposed central routing unit and any financial institution establishing a satellite terminal unless that agreement theretofore has been filed with the administrator pursuant to section 527.5.

3. The administrator shall approve or disapprove an application for operation of a central routing unit within sixty days after receipt.

4. A central routing unit operating under the approval of the administrator shall be subject to examination by the administrator for the purpose of determining compliance with this chapter.

5. a. Effective July 1, 1987, a person owning or operating a central routing unit authorized under this section shall include public representation on any board setting policy for the central routing unit. Four or five public members shall be appointed to the board in the following manner:
   (1) Two members shall be appointed by the superintendent of savings and loan associations.
   (2) One member shall be appointed by the superintendent of credit unions.
   (3) One member shall be appointed by the superintendent of savings and loan associations.
   (4) If an industrial loan company is connected to the central routing unit, one member shall be appointed by the superintendent of banking.
   b. The superintendent of banking, superintendent of credit unions, and superintendent of savings and loan associations shall form a committee to set, in conjunction with the entity owning or operating the central routing unit, the term of office, the rate of compensation, and the rate of reimbursement for each public member. However, the public members shall be entitled to reasonable compensation and reimbursement from the board.
c. Each public member is entitled to all the rights of participation and voting as any other member of the board. The public members are to represent the interest of consumers and the business and agricultural communities in establishing policies for the central routing unit.

d. It is the intention of the general assembly that the ratio of public members to the overall membership of the board shall not be less than one public member for each seven members of the board. If the number of members on the board is increased, then the number of members appointed pursuant to paragraph "a" shall be increased to maintain the minimum ratio. In this event, a committee composed of the superintendent of banking, the superintendent of credit unions, and the superintendent of savings and loan associations shall appoint additional public members in order to maintain the minimum ratio.

e. An individual shall not be appointed as a public member pursuant to this subsection if the individual is a director of a financial institution or is directly employed by a financial institution doing business in this state.

CHAPTER 533
CREDIT UNIONS

533.26 Preservation of records.
The superintendent shall prescribe by rule the period of preservation of records or files for credit unions. A copy of an original may be kept in lieu of any original records. For purposes of this section, a copy includes any duplicate, rerecording or reproduction of an original record from any photograph, photostat, microfilm, microcard, miniature or microphotograph, computer printout, electronically stored data or image, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original record.

533.64 Account insurance.
Except as provided in section 533.12, subsection 2, a credit union organized under this chapter, as a condition of maintaining its privilege of organization after December 31, 1980, shall acquire and maintain insurance to protect each shareholder and each depositor against loss of funds held on account by the credit union. The insurance shall be obtained from the national credit union administrator or from some other share guarantor or insurance plan approved by the Iowa commissioner of insurance and the superintendent, provided that each credit union shall acquire deposit insurance from the appropriate agency of the federal government.

The superintendent may furnish to any official of an insurance plan by which the accounts of a credit union are insured, any information relating to examinations and reports of the status of that credit union for the purpose of availability of insurance to that credit union.

533.67 Expenses of the credit union division — fees.
All expenses required in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon the credit union division, the superintendent, and the credit union review board by the laws of this state shall be paid from fees provided by the laws of this state and appropriated by the general assembly from the fund established in this section. All of these fees are payable to the superintendent. The superintendent shall pay all the fees and other money received by the superintendent to the treasurer of state within the time required by section 12.10. The treasurer of state shall hold these funds in a credit union revolving fund that shall be established in the name of the superintendent for the payment of the expenses of the division. This fund is subject at all times to the warrant of the department of revenue and finance, drawn upon written requisition of the superintendent or the superintendent's designated representative, for the payment of all salaries and other expenses necessary to carry out the duties of the division. The superintendent may keep on hand with the treasurer of state funds in excess of the current needs of the division to the extent approved by the credit union review board. No transfers shall be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of the expenses of the division. No part of the funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be transferred to the general fund of the state or any other fund, except as follows:

Thirty thousand dollars each fiscal year shall be transferred to the general fund of the state. The amount shall be considered as one of the costs of the division. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from these investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

The authority to modify allotments provided in section 8.31 shall not apply to funds appropriated from the fund created in this section and held for the superintendent.

The superintendent shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate duties imposed upon the superintendent by the laws of this state and each separate duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.

The credit union division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division's share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department of commerce, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

The credit union division may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel, if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for credit union examinations and directly result from examinations of credit unions. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for examinations, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the examination expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the division and that the division does not have other funds from which examination expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management, the division may expend and encumber funds for excess examination expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the excess examination expenses shall be collected from those credit unions being regulated which caused the excess expenditures, and the collections shall be treated as repayment receipts as defined in section 8.2, subsection 5.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section directing that fees and other moneys received be deposited into the credit union revolving fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the credit union revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees and other moneys collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this section shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

The division may accept reimbursement of expenses related to the examination of a credit union from the national credit union administration or any other share guarantor or insurance plan authorized by this chapter.

91 Acts, ch 92, §2, 3 SF 494
Subsections 12 and 28 amended

534.103 General powers.

Every such association shall have the following general powers:

1. General corporate power. To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity; to purchase, acquire, hold, and convey real and personal estate consistent with its objects and powers; to mortgage, pledge, or lease any real or personal estate owned by the association and to authorize a pledgee to repledge the property; to take property by gift, devise, or bequest; to have a corporate seal, which may be affixed by imprint, facsimile, or otherwise; to appoint officers, agents, and employees as its business requires and allow them suitable compensation; to provide for life, health, and casualty insurance for its officers and employees and to adopt and operate reasonable bonus plans and retirement benefits for the officers and employees to enter into payroll savings plans; to adopt and amend bylaws; to insure its accounts with the savings association insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation and qualify as a member of a federal home loan bank; to become a member of, deal with, or make contributions to any organization to the extent that the organization assists in furthering or facilitating the association’s purposes or powers and to comply with conditions of membership; to accept savings as provided in this chapter together with other powers otherwise expressly provided for in this chapter, together with implied powers as reasonably necessary for the purpose of carrying out the express powers granted in this chapter.

2. Fiscal agent. Any such association which is a member of a federal home loan bank shall have power to act as fiscal agent of the United States and, when designated for the purpose by the secretary of the treasury, it shall perform under such regulations as the secretary may prescribe all such reasonable duties as fiscal agent of the United States as the secretary may require, and shall have power to act as agent for any United States government instrumentality. An association may also handle travelers checks and money orders.

3. Lock boxes. Any association may own, rent to its members, lock boxes for storage or safekeeping of securities and valuables.

4. Power to borrow. Except as provided by its articles of incorporation, an association may borrow not more than an aggregate amount equal to its savings liability on the date of borrowing. A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding obligations for borrowed money. All loans and advances may be secured by property of the association. In addition to the above unsecured or secured borrowing, an association may issue notes, bonds, debentures and other obligations or securities approved by the superintendent, and if authorized by the regulations of the federal home loan bank. However, the obligations and securities are subject to the priority of the rights of the owners of the savings and deposits of the association.

5. Service corporations. Any association may organize and own, alone or with any other similar corporation, a service corporation for the mutual good of the associations. The superintendent shall have the right to examine service corporations.

6. Limited trust powers. An association incorporated under this chapter may act as trustee for trusts which are created or organized in the United States, and which form part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit sharing plan which qualifies for special tax treatment under section 401(d) or subsection (a) of section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, or as trustee with no active fiduciary duties, if the funds of the trust are invested only in savings accounts or deposits in the association or in obligations or securities issued by the association. All funds held in such a fiduciary capacity by an association may be commingled for appropriate purposes of investment, but individual records shall be kept by the fiduciary for each participant and shall show in proper detail all transactions engaged in under the authority of this subsection.

The superintendent is authorized to grant by special permission to an association the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or in any other fiduciary capacity. However, this authority is available only for periods of time when federally chartered savings and loan associations operating in this state are granted similar authority, and the state authorization is subject to the rights and limitations established in rules adopted by the superintendent, which shall be consistent with the rights and limitations for federally chartered associations engaged in this type of activity.

7. Tax and loan accounts. To act as depository for receipt of payments of federal or state taxes and loan funds from persons other than the state or subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities of the state, and satisfy any federal or state statutory or regulatory requirements in connection therewith, including pledging of assets as collateral, payment of earnings at prescribed rates and, notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, issuing such accounts subject to the right of immediate withdrawal.

8. Leasing of personal property. To acquire, upon the specific request of and for the use of a customer, and lease, personal property pursuant to a binding arrangement for the leasing of the property to the customer upon terms requiring payment to the association, during the minimum period of the lease, of rentals which in the aggregate, when added to the estimated tax benefits to the association resulting from the ownership of the leased property plus the estimated residual market value of the leased property at the expiration of the initial term of the lease, will be at least equal to the total expenditures by the association for, and in connection with, the acquisition, ownership, maintenance, and protection of the property. A lease made under authority of this section shall have the prior approval of the superintendent or be made pursuant to personal property lease guidelines approved by the superintendent for use by the lessor association or pursuant to a personal property lease guideline rule of general applicability for use by all associations.

9. Electronic transactions. Engage in any transaction otherwise permitted by this chapter and applicable law, by means of either the direct transmission of electronic impulses to or from the association or the recording of electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction for delayed transmission to the association. Subject to the provisions of chapter 527, an association may utilize, establish or operate, alone or with one or more other associations, banks incorporated under the provisions of chapter 524 or federal law, credit unions incorporated under the provisions of chapter 533 or federal law, corporations licensed under chapter 536A, or third parties, the satellite terminals permitted under chapter 527, by means of which the association may transmit to or receive from any member electronic impulses constituting transactions pursuant to this subsection. However, such utilization, establishment or operation shall be lawful only when in compliance with chapter 527. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as authority for any association or other person to engage in transactions not otherwise permitted by applicable law, nor shall anything in this subsection be deemed to repeal, replace or in any other way affect any applicable law or rule regarding the maintenance of or access to financial information maintained by any association.

10. Automatic authorization. Any association may have the right to participate in any new or additional powers or activities hereafter granted to such association under this chapter immediately upon the effective date of such additional authority, if authorized by the articles of incorporation of such association.

91 Acts, ch 92, §4 SF 494
Subsection 1 amended

534.106 Records.

1. Complete and adequate records of all accounts and of all minutes of proceedings of the members, directors and executive committee shall be maintained at all times at the office of the association.

2. Every association shall maintain membership records, which shall show the name and address of the member, whether the member is a share account holder, or a borrower, or a share account holder and borrower, and the date of membership thereof. In the case of account holding members, the association shall obtain a card containing the signature of the owner of such account or the owner's duly authorized representative and shall preserve such signature card in the records of the association.

3. Associations shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files for a longer period than eleven years next after the first day of January of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records or files; provided, however, that ledger sheets showing unpaid accounts in favor of members of such savings and loan association shall not be destroyed.

4. No liability shall accrue against any association, destroying any such records after the expiration of the time provided in subsection 3, and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the association or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records and files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this chapter shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

5. All causes of action against an association based upon a claim or claims inconsistent with an entry or entries in any savings and loan association record or ledger, made in the regular course of business, shall be deemed to have accrued, and shall accrue, one year after the date of such entry or entries; and no action founded upon such a cause may be brought after the expiration of ten years from the date of such accrual.

6. The provisions of this chapter, so far as applicable, shall apply to the records of federal savings and loan associations.

7. A copy of an original may be kept by an association in lieu of any original records. For purposes of this section, a copy includes any duplicate, rerecording or reproduction of an original record from any photograph, photostat, microfilm, microcard, miniature or microphotograph, computer printout, electronically stored data or image, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original record. Any such copy or reproduction is deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of any such copy or reproduction reproduced from a film record shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of the original.

91 Acts, ch 95, §3 HF 619
Subsection 7 amended

534.111 Rights of federal associations — reciprocity.

Every federal savings and loan association incorporated under the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 USC § 1461-1468, as amended, and the holders of share accounts issued by any such association have all the rights, powers, and privileges and are entitled to the same exemptions and immunities, as savings and loan associations organized under the laws of this state and members thereof are entitled.

Every association organized under this chapter has all the rights, powers, and privileges not in conflict with the laws of this state, which are conferred upon federal savings and loan associations by the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 USC § 1464, and conferred by regulations adopted by the federal home loan bank board and the federal office of thrift supervision.

534.111 Regulatory capital.

An association shall maintain regulatory capital in the amount required by regulations of the federal office of thrift supervision. For the purpose of this section, "regulatory capital" means the sum of all reserve accounts (except specific reserves established to offset actual or anticipated losses), undivided profits, surplus, capital stock, and any other non-withdrawable accounts.

§534.205

534.205 Required real estate loan practices.

Real estate loans must meet the following requirements:

1. Appraisal: A qualified person shall conduct an inspection of the property securing the loan and submit a signed appraisal of the market value of that property. However, an appraisal is only required if the loan is secured by a first lien. An appraisal must conform to the standards promulgated by the federal office of thrift supervision as mandated by Title XI of the federal Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989.

2. Note: A note shall be signed by the borrower and delivered to the association.

3. Lien: The loan shall be secured by a mortgage, deed of trust or similar instrument constituting a lien or claim upon real estate. Such instrument shall provide for the full protection of the association in the event of default.

4. Payment terms: The loan shall provide for repayment upon those terms set forth in the note signed by the borrower.

5. Loan settlement statement: The borrower shall receive a statement setting forth in detail the charges and fees the borrower has paid or is obligated to pay in connection with the loan.

6. Balloon payments: An association shall mail to the borrower an offer to refinance a balloon payment under a loan at least twenty days before the balloon payment date if at that time no payments under the loan are delinquent. The offer shall be at an interest rate no greater than one percent per annum above the index rate and with monthly payments no greater than those necessary to fully amortize the amount of the balloon payment plus interest over a term which, when added together with the term representing the number of monthly payments made before the most recent notice to refinance, is not less than the original loan term. The association must offer to the borrower a term of at least one year before the next balloon payment. If the balloon payment is due one month after the preceding monthly payment date, the association may require the borrower to make a payment equal to the preceding monthly payment on the balloon payment date if the first payment under the note to refinance the balloon note is one month after the balloon payment date. The association may offer repayment plans to refinance a balloon payment in addition to the plan required by this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, "loan" means the same as defined in section 535.8, subsection 1, "balloon payment" means a payment which is more than three times as big as the mean average of the payments which precede it, and "index rate" means the national average mortgage contract rate for major lenders on the purchase of previously occupied homes which is most recently published in final form by the federal home loan bank board not more than four months before the date on which the balloon payment is due, or, alternatively, a rate based upon any other independently verifiable index approved by the superintendent.

534.213 Investment in securities and real estate.

Every association shall have power to invest in securities and real estate as follows:

1. General investment powers: An association may invest without limit, except as expressly stated, in any of the following securities:
   a. Obligations of, or obligations which are guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States or this state.
   b. Stock of a federal home loan bank of which the association is eligible to be a member and any obligations or consolidated obligations of any federal home loan bank or banks.
   c. Stock, obligations, or other instruments of the federal national mortgage association, the government national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation, or any successor.
   d. Demand time or savings deposits, or bankers acceptances with any bank or trust company the deposits of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation.
   e. Stock or obligations of any corporation or agency of the United States or this state or deposits of the corporation or agency to the extent that the corporation or agency assists in furthering or facilitating the association's purposes or powers.
   f. Savings accounts of any savings and loan association the deposits of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation.
§534.213
Bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness which are a general obligation of a city, village, county, school district, or other municipal or political subdivision as long as the total investment under this paragraph does not exceed five percent of the assets of the association, except that any investments which are securities or obligations which are evidence of first mortgage liens on real estate are exempt from the five percent limitation.

h Bonds or bond instruments secured by an interest in real estate

i Capital stock, obligations, or other securities of service corporations, however, the aggregate investment in service corporations shall not exceed ten percent of the assets of the association

j An open end management investment company registered under the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Act of 1946, the portfolio of which is restricted to investments in which an association may invest; however, the association's total investment in the shares of any one such company shall not exceed five percent of the association's assets without prior notification of the superintendent, who may prohibit exceeding the five percent limit by order.

k Shares or equity interests in venture capital funds which agree to invest an amount equal to at least fifty percent of the association's investment in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state. An association shall not invest more than a total of five percent of its assets in investments permitted under this paragraph or paragraph "l." For purposes of this paragraph, "venture capital fund" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, whose principal business is or will be the making of loans secured by a security interest in real property or by personal property which is not primarily engaged in the development or exploitation of inventions, technological improvements, new processes, or other products not previously generally available in this state or other investments which provide an economic benefit to the state, and "equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to the amount of investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability.

m In addition to other investments authorized in this section, an association may invest and may continue previous investments in capital stock, obligations, or other securities of finance subsidiaries and may exercise powers with respect to finance subsidiaries to the same extent as a federal association is permitted under the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 U.S.C. § 1464, and regulations adopted thereunder by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board up to and including January 1, 1985. Investments authorized by this paragraph shall not be counted in applying the limitations on investments in service corporations in paragraph "i."

n In addition to other investments authorized in this section, an association may invest and may continue previous investments in capital stock, obligations, or other securities of corporations which are wholly owned by the association and which exercise only those powers which may be exercised by an association under this chapter. Investments authorized by this paragraph shall not be counted in applying the limitations on investments in service corporations in paragraph "i."

o Commercial paper and corporate debt securities with investment characteristics as defined by rules adopted by the superintendent.

2 Investment in real estate. In real estate purchased at sheriff's sale or at any other sale, public or private, judicial or otherwise, upon which the association has a lien or claim, legal or equitable, in real estate accepted by the association in satisfaction of any obligation, in real estate purchased for sale or improvement and sale, upon contracts, at the cost of land and improvements, when such contracts are executed concurrently with or prior to such purchase, such transactions to be subject to all the limitations herein provided with respect to real estate loans, in real estate acquired by the association in exchange for real estate owned by the association, in real estate acquired by the association in connection with salvaging the value of property owned by the association, an amount not exceeding the sum of its reserves and undivided profits in the purchase and development of real estate for the purpose of producing income or for sale or for improvement thereof and the erection of buildings thereon for sale or rental purposes. Title to all real estate shall be taken and held in the name of the association and such title shall immediately be recorded in accordance with law. No association shall invest in any loan at any time when its liquid assets are less than five percent of its savings liability, unless the superintendent shall have is sued written approval.

3 Investment in EFT organizations Subject to the prior approval of the superintendent, in shares in a corporation engaged in providing and operating facilities through which an association and its members may engage, by means of either the direct transmission of electronic impulses to and from the association or the recording of electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction for delayed transmission to the association, in transactions in which the association is otherwise permitted to engage pursuant to applicable law.

4 Deposits of funds by associations Funds of such associations may be deposited in any state or national bank insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation on certificate of deposit, or the usual bank pass book credit, subject to check by the proper designated officers of such association or in the federal home loan bank of the district in which Iowa is located.

5 Investment in home office buildings Any such association may invest an amount not to exceed five percent of its paid-in savings liability or such additional amounts as are authorized by the superintendent in unencumbered real estate for use wholly or partly as its business office.

§534.214 Investment in and by banks.

1 Investment in banks A holding company, association, or service corporation may invest in the capital stock, obligations, or other securities of a bank with the prior approval of the superintendent of savings and loan associations.

2 Investment by banks Notwithstanding sections 524 802 and 524 901, subsection 3, a bank holding company, bank, or bank service corporation may, with the prior approval of the superintendent of banking, invest in the capital stock, obligations or other securities of a state association.

The superintendent of banking shall not approve an investment under this subsection if upon making the investment the entity making the investment directly or indirectly would own or control more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares of a savings and loan association or would have the power to control in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of a savings and loan association, unless the superintendent of banking first determines either that the association in which the investment is to be made has only those office locations which a bank would be authorized under section 524 1202 to apply for and have approved on the effective date of the proposed investment, or that all nonconforming office locations were in existence and operating on July 1, 1982. If such an investment is approved by the superintendent of banking, the association so owned or controlled shall not subsequently establish any additional office locations except one which a bank would be authorized under section 524 1202 to apply for and have approved on the date which the proposed office location would commence operations.

3 Contingencies An association or service corporation may make an investment under subsection 1 only if at the time of the investment either an insured bank or a bank service corporation owned by one or more insured banks would be permitted to make an investment under substantially the same circumstances in an insured state association under all applicable laws and regulations of the United States. A bank or bank service corporation may make an investment under subsection 2 only if at the time of the investment either an insured state association or a service corporation owned by one or more insured associations would be permitted to make an investment under substantially the same circumstances in an insured bank under all applicable laws and regulations of the United States. The ability of an organization to merge with another organization is not relevant in determining whether an organization is permitted to invest in another organization.

4 Bank as holding company No bank shall directly or indirectly acquire ownership or control of more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares of any savings and loan association, or the power to control in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of any savings and loan association, if upon such acquisition the associations so owned or controlled by the bank would have, in the aggregate, more than eight percent of the total deposits, both time and demand, of all associations in this state, as determined by the superintendent of banking on the basis of the most recent reports of the associations in the state to their supervisory authorities which are available at the time of the acquisition.

5 Definitions For purposes of this section an "insured bank" is a bank whose deposits are insured in part by the bank insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation, a "bank service corporation" is as defined by, and in accordance with, the laws of the United States, and the "superintendent of banking" is the person appointed pursuant to section 524 201.

6 Findings required The superintendent of savings and loan associations shall not grant an approval under subsection 1, and the superintendent of banking shall not grant an approval under subsection 2 except after making one of the two following findings:

a. Based upon a preponderance of the evidence presented, the proposed investment will not have the immediate effect of significantly reducing competition between depository financial institutions located in the same community as the institution whose shares would be acquired.

b. Based upon a preponderance of the evidence presented, the proposed investment would have the anticompetitive effect specified in paragraph "a" of this subsection, but that other factors, to be specifically cited, outweigh the anticompetitive effect so that there would be a net public benefit as a result of the investment.

7. Competition preserved. The subsequent liquidation of a bank or state association whose shares are acquired under this section shall not prevent the subsequent incorporation of another bank in the same community, and the superintendent of banking shall not find the liquidation to be grounds for disapproving the incorporation of another bank in the same community under section 524.305, and shall not prevent the subsequent incorporation of another association in the same community, and the superintendent of savings and loan associations shall not find the liquidation to be grounds for disapproving the incorporation of another association in the same community under this chapter.

91 Acts, ch 92, §10 SF 494

Subsection 5 amended

534.301 Savings account authority.

1. Deposit accounts. A stock association or mutual association may receive money for deposit.

2. Share accounts. A mutual association may receive money to be held in withdrawable share accounts and time share accounts.

3. NOW accounts. An association may offer savings accounts under which the owner of the account may order or authorize the withdrawal of part or all of the savings account by means of a negotiable or nonnegotiable draft or similar instrument payable to the owner or to third parties or their order.

4. Terms and conditions. An association shall establish the interest rate, method of computing interest, service charges, and other terms and conditions of each type of savings account it will accept. These terms and conditions shall be consistent with this chapter, and shall be applied equally to all similar accounts. An association shall furnish a copy of the terms and conditions of a savings account upon request. An association shall give reasonable notice of any change in the terms and conditions to the owners of each type of savings account which is changed, provided that notice of changes in interest rates or methods of computing interest may be provided by posting a conspicuous notice of the change in each of the association's offices. The terms and conditions of an account established for a specified time period cannot be changed during that time period except with mutual consent or according to the original terms.

5. Inducements. An association may give inducements for the opening of a savings account or the making of additions to a savings account.

6. Operating under federal rules as to deposits and interest. A savings and loan association operating under this chapter may operate in a manner similar to federally chartered savings and loan associations regarding the use of the terms "deposit" and "interest" and with such other powers as have been authorized to federally chartered associations under the Homeowners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 U.S.C. § 1464, and as permitted under the rules and regulations of the federal home loan bank system and the federal office of thrift supervision, to the extent that similar rules and regulations have been adopted by the superintendent and have been filed with the secretary of state. This subsection does not diminish or restrict the powers otherwise granted to such association by the laws of Iowa.

The adoption and filing of such rules or regulations by the superintendent shall not diminish or restrict the rights of associations which do not make the above determination.

7. Limitation on members' savings. Associations having assets of five hundred thousand dollars or less shall not accept from any one member savings liability of more than ten thousand dollars. Associations having assets in excess of five hundred thousand dollars shall not accept from any one member savings liability in excess of ten percent of its assets. These limitations shall not apply to share accounts issued to the United States government, or to any other federal government agency or instrumentality.

91 Acts, ch 92, §§11 SF 494

Subsection 6 amended

534.309 Adverse claims to deposits.

1. An association is not required, in the absence of a court order or indemnity required by this section, to recognize any claim to, or any claim of authority to exercise control over, a deposit account made by a person or persons other than:
   a. The customer in whose name the account is held by the association.
   b. An individual or group of individuals who are authorized to draw on or control the account pursuant to certified corporate resolution or other written arrangement with the customer, currently on file with the association, which has not been revoked by valid corporate action in the case of a corporation, or by a valid agreement or other valid action appropriate for the form of legal organization of any other customer, of which the association has received notice and which is not the subject of a dispute known to the association as to its original validity. The deposit account records of an association are presumptive evidence as to the identity of the customer on whose behalf the money is held.

2. To require an association to recognize an adverse claim to, or adverse claim of authority to control, a deposit account, whoever makes the claim must do either of the following:
   a. Obtain and serve on the association an appropriate court order or judicial process directed to the association, restraining any action with respect to the account until further order of such court or instructing the association to pay the balance of the account, in whole or in part, as provided in the order or process.
   b. Deliver to the association a bond, in form and amount and with sureties satisfactory to the association, indemnifying the association against any liability, loss, or expense which the association might incurred because of its recognition of the adverse claim or because of its refusal by reason of such claim to honor any check or other order of anyone described in subsection 1, paragraphs "a" and "b".

NEW section

534.401 Division of savings and loan associations.

1. Division of savings and loan associations created — superintendent. A savings and loan association division is created within the department of commerce. The superintendent of savings and loan associations is the chief administrative officer of the division.

2. General supervisory power. The superintendent has general supervision over all supervised organizations.

The superintendent may appoint examiners and assistants necessary to properly execute the duties of the office.

Before entering upon their duties, the superintendent and each examiner appointed by the superintendent shall take an oath of office and shall each give bond to the state, signed by a responsible surety company, in the penal sum of two thousand dollars, conditioned upon faithful and impartial discharge of the person’s duty and on proper accounting for all funds and other valuables which may come into the person’s hands. The bonds shall be approved by and filed with the auditor of state, together with oaths of office of the officers.

The superintendent may adopt further rules deemed necessary to enable savings and loan associations to properly carry on the activities authorized under this chapter.

3. Duties. The superintendent shall, at least once each year, cause examination and audit to be made of the affairs of every association subject to this chapter. If an association is insured under Title IV of the National Housing Act, 12 U.S.C. ch. 13, the superintendent may, in lieu of examination and audit, accept an examination or audit made by the federal office of thrift supervision. An association may, in lieu of examination and audit by the superintendent, at the option of the superintendent be audited by a certified public accountant, or by a public accountant qualified and licensed to practice accounting under the Code of Iowa. At least two copies of each examination or audit report, signed and verified by the accountant making it, shall promptly be filed with the superintendent. When, in the judgment of the superintendent, the condition of an association renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or audit or to devote extraordinary attention to its affairs, the superintendent shall cause such work to be done. A copy of every examination or audit report shall be furnished to the association examined, exclusive of confidential comments made by the examiner, and a copy of every report and comments and any other information pertaining to an association may be furnished to the federal home loan bank board, federal home loan bank, and federal office of thrift supervision. A copy of an examination or audit report shall be presented to the board of directors at its next regular or special meeting, their action on it shall be recorded in the minutes, and two certified copies of the minutes shall be transmitted to the superintendent.

4. Superintendent’s annual report. The superintendent, as of December 31 of each year, shall prepare and publish a report showing in general terms the condition of all savings and loan associations doing business in this state, and containing other general information as in the superintendent’s judgment seems desirable. The reports shall also list the names of all examiners and other assistants appointed by the superintendent, together with their respective salaries and expenses, shall list all receipts from savings and loan associations, and shall show all expenditures made on account of the supervision and examination of the associations.

534.403 Examinations.

1. Superintendent’s authority — examinations. The superintendent and examiners shall have full access to all books and papers of an association which relate to its business, and to books, records, and papers kept by an officer, director, agent, or employee relating to, or upon which any record of its business is kept, and may summon witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations in the examination of the directors, officers, agents, or employees of an association, or any other person, in relation to its affairs, transactions, and condition, and may require and compel the production of records, books, papers, contracts, or other documents by court order, if not voluntarily produced.

2. Expenses, per diem, vacation, and sick leave. If the examination is made under section 534.401, subsection 3, each examiner shall file with the superintendent an itemized, certified, and sworn voucher of the examiner’s expense for the time the examiner is actually engaged in an examination. On the fifteenth and last days of each month each examiner shall file in triplicate with the superintendent a certified statement of the actual days engaged in examinations. The salaries shall be included in a two-week payroll period. Upon approval of the superintendent, the director of revenue and finance is authorized to issue warrants for payment of the vouchers and salaries, including a prorated amount for vacation and sick leave. Repayment to the state shall be made as provided by section 534.408, subsection 4. Savings and loan examiners shall be paid salaries at rates commensurate with, and shall be reimbursed for meals and lodging at the same rate and in the same manner as, that which is received by federal examiners operating under the federal home loan bank board.

3. Record required. A record of all examinations, reports, and related information shall be kept in the superintendent's office, showing in detail as to each association all matters connected with the conduct of its business, its financial standing, and everything touching its solvency, plan of business, and integrity. The examinations, reports, and information shall be kept confidential in the office of the superintendent, and are not subject to publication or disclosure to others except as provided in this chapter. However, the superintendent may furnish any examination, report, or information to the federal office of thrift supervision, federal deposit insurance corporation, or a successor deposit insurance instrumentality, federal home loan bank board, or financial institution regulatory authorities of any state. Any evidence of felonious acts on the part of the officers, directors, or employees of an association may be referred by the superintendent to proper authorities. Members of associations, other than their officers and directors, are not entitled to inspection of any such records or information, and are not entitled to any information relative to the names of the members of an association, or the amounts invested by them, as disclosed in the superintendent's office, or in the records of an association.

4. Revocation of authority. If an association refuses to submit to examination, the superintendent shall revoke its certificate of authority.

§534.405 Conservatorship — operation — termination.

If the superintendent, as a result of any examination or from a report made to the superintendent finds that a savings and loan association is violating a provision of its certificate of incorporation, or bylaws, or the laws of this state, or of the United States, or a lawful order of the superintendent, or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, the superintendent may by an order direct discontinuance of the violation or unsafe practice, and conformance with all requirements of law. A conservator shall not be appointed for a solvent association if a violation or unsafe practice can be corrected otherwise. If an association refuses or neglects to comply with the order within the time specified in it, or if it appears to the superintendent that an association is in an unsafe condition or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, or if the superintendent finds that an impairment of capital exists to such extent that it threatens loss to the members, or if an association refuses to submit its books, papers, and accounts to the inspection of the superintendent or the superintendent's representative, the superintendent, by written order signed by the superintendent, may appoint a conservator to take charge of the association and manage its business until the superintendent permits the board of directors to resume management of the business or reorganizes the association, or until a receiver is appointed to liquidate its affairs.

A conservator so appointed has, subject to approval of the superintendent, all the rights, powers, and privileges possessed by the officers, board of directors, and members of the association. The conservator shall not retain special counsel or other experts, or incur any expenses other than normal operating expenses, or liquidate assets, except in the ordinary course of operations. The directors and officers shall remain in office and the employees shall remain in their respective positions, but the superintendent may remove any director, officer, or employee. While the association is in the charge of a conservator, members of the association shall continue to make payments to the association in accordance with the terms of their contracts and the conservator, in the conservator's discretion, may permit members to withdraw in the ordinary course of business, or under and subject to rules the superintendent may prescribe.

The conservator may accept savings but savings received by the conservator may be segregated if the superintendent so orders in writing and if so ordered such savings are not subject to offset and shall not be used to liquidate an indebtedness of the association existing at the time the conservator was appointed for it, or any subsequent indebtedness incurred for the purpose of liquidating the indebtedness of the association existing at the time a conservator was appointed. All expenses of the association during conservatorship shall be paid by the association.

The appointment of a conservator shall be evidenced by the superintendent issuing a certificate, signed by the superintendent, delivered to the president, or the vice president, or to at least three members of the board of directors of the association, certifying that a conservator has been appointed pursuant to this section. Within six months from the date upon which the conservator takes charge of an association, the superintendent shall determine whether to restore the management of the association to the board of directors. The determination shall be evidenced by the superintendent's certificate under the seal of the office, delivered to the president, or vice president, or to the board of directors of the association, that the conservator is redelivering the management of the association to the board of directors of the association then in office.

After the management of the association has been redelivered to the board of directors of an association, the association shall be managed and operated as though no conservator had been appointed. At any time prior to the redelivery of the management to the board of directors, the superintendent shall determine whether the association shall be required to reorganize. That determination shall be evidenced by a certificate, signed by the superintendent, under the seal of the office, delivered to an executive officer of the association, stating that unless the association reorganizes under the laws of this state within a period of sixty days from the date of the certificate, or within such further time as the superintendent approves, the superintendent shall liquidate the association.

If the association has the insurance protection provided by Title IV of the National Housing Act, 12 U.S.C. ch. 13, a signed and sealed copy of each order and certificate mentioned in this section shall be promptly sent by the superintendent by registered mail to the federal office of thrift supervision, Washington, D.C. If the association is insured by the savings association insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation, the resolution trust corporation shall be named receiver if the superintendent has determined the need for a receivership.

Actions taken by the superintendent under this section are not subject to section 17A.18, subsection 3.

534.408 Supervisory fees.

1. Payable to division. Associations shall pay fees by delivering to the superintendent a check payable to the savings and loan division of the department of commerce. All fees collected under this chapter shall be deposited with the treasurer of state in the general fund of the state.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection and section 534.403 directing that fees and other moneys received be deposited into the savings and loan revolving fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the savings and loan revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees and other moneys collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this subsection and section 534.403 shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.*

2. Incorporation fee. Simultaneously with the filing with the superintendent of a certificate of incorporation, the corporation shall pay an incorporation fee of one hundred dollars.

3. Change of location or change of name. A fee of fifty dollars shall accompany a change of the location of the home office or to change the name of the association.

4. Supervision and examination fee. At the time of filing its annual report each association shall pay to the superintendent an annual filing fee of fifty dollars. The superintendent shall assess against an association the actual and necessary expenses incidental to examinations, or to supervision, or to a special audit made pursuant to an order of the superintendent acting under authority of this chapter. The annual assessment to each association shall include a fair proportion of the cost of administration of the savings and loan division.

5. Merger fee. At the time of filing with the superintendent a merger agreement, the association proposing to merge shall submit a fee of one hundred fifty dollars, which fee shall be paid in equal parts by the associations which are parties to the proposed merger.

6. For reorganization, transfer of assets, and dissolution. A fee of fifty dollars shall accompany a proposed plan of reorganization, a proposal for the transfer of assets in bulk, and a certificate of dissolution, filed with the superintendent for approval.

7. For approval of superintendent. The superintendent, in the superintendent’s discretion, may charge a fee of not exceeding ten dollars upon each application for the superintendent’s approval, as provided by this chapter.

534.506 Account insurance required.

1. An association organized under this chapter as a condition of maintaining its privilege of organization after July 1, 1984 shall acquire and maintain insurance to protect each depositor against loss of funds held on account by the association. The insurance shall be obtained from the federal deposit insurance corporation or another insurance plan approved by the superintendent, provided that each association organized under this chapter shall acquire deposit insurance from the appropriate agency of the federal government.

2. The superintendent may furnish to an official of an insurance plan by which the accounts of the association are insured, any information relating to examinations and reports of the status of that association for the purpose of determining availability of insurance to that association.

534.519 Mutual holding companies.

1. An association may reorganize as a mutual holding company in the manner and with the effect provided in the federal National Housing Act of 1934, 12 U.S.C. § 1730a(s). The mutual holding company may engage in activities permitted by the federal National Housing Act of 1934, 12 U.S.C. § 1730a(s). For purposes of 12 U.S.C. § 1730a(s)(5)(D), investments in service corporations shall be deemed available for purchase without regard to the limitation contained in 534.213, subsection 1, paragraph “i”, on the amount of such investments.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a mutual holding company has all powers set forth in section 490.302.
4. The superintendent may adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A pertaining to mutual holding companies.
5. Proxies of the association shall continue in force as proxies of the mutual holding company.

CHAPTER 535
MONEY AND INTEREST

535.15 Open-end credit and credit card disclosure.
1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
   a. "Financial institution" means as defined in section 535A.1.
   b. "Credit card", "finance charge", and "open-end credit" mean as defined in section 537.1301.
2. A financial institution which accepts an application for open-end credit from a person who resides in this state shall annually disclose pursuant to this section the following information for each type of open-end account granted:
   a. The annual percentage rate charged on the open-end credit account.
   b. The amount of fee charged or assessed, if any, by the person as a condition for granting or opening the open-end credit account and the frequency the fee is assessed.
   c. A description of when the finance charge begins to accrue against charges made on the open-end credit account.
3. A person who accepts an application for a credit card from a person who resides in this state shall annually disclose the following information for each type of credit card granted, unless the information is disclosed under subsection 1:
   a. The annual percentage rate charged on the credit card.
   b. The amount of fee charged or assessed, if any, by the person as a condition for issuing the credit card and the frequency the fee is assessed.
   c. A description of when the finance charge begins to accrue against charges made on the credit card.
4. A person who is obligated to disclose information under this section shall file a written report disclosing the information with the treasurer of state by July 1 of each year. If a person filing under this section makes any changes subsequent to July 1 but prior to January 1 to any of the information for which disclosure is required relating to credit cards, the person shall file an amended written report with the treasurer of state by January 1 following the change.
5. The treasurer of state shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement this section including, but not limited to, both of the following:
   a. Procedures for receiving the reports.
   b. Procedures for publicizing and making the information filed readily available to the public.

CHAPTER 535B
MORTGAGE BANKERS AND BROKERS

535B.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Mortgage banker" means a person who does one or more of the following:
   a. Makes at least four first mortgage loans on residential real property located in this state in a calendar year.
   b. Originates at least four first mortgage loans on residential real property located in this state in a calendar year and sells four or more such loans in the secondary market.
§535B.1  Services at least four first mortgage loans on residential real property located in this state. However, a natural person, who services less than fifteen first mortgage loans on residential real estate within the state and who does not sell or transfer first mortgage loans, is exempt from this paragraph if that person is otherwise exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

2 "Mortgage broker" means a person who arranges or negotiates, or attempts to arrange or negotiate, at least four first mortgage loans or commitments for four or more such loans on residential real property located in this state in a calendar year.

3 "Residential real property" means real property, which is an owner-occupied single-family or two-family dwelling, located in this state, occupied or intended to be occupied or used for residential purposes, including an interest in any real property covered under chapter 499B.

4 "Person" means an individual, an association, joint venture or joint stock company, partnership, limited partnership, business corporation, nonprofit corporation, or any other group of individuals however organized.

"Natural person" means an individual who is not an association, joint venture, or joint stock company, partnership, limited partnership, business corporation, nonprofit corporation, other business entity, or any other group of individuals or business entities, however organized.

5 "Licensee" means a person licensed under this chapter, however, any individual who is acting solely as an employee or agent of a mortgage banker or broker licensed under this Act need not be separately licensed.

6 "Administrator" means the superintendent of the division of banking of the department of commerce.

7 "First mortgage loan" means a loan of money secured by a first lien on residential real property and includes a refinancing of a contract of sale, an assumption of a prior loan, and a refinancing of a prior loan.

8 "Registrant" means a person registered under section 535B.3.

91 Acts ch 65 §1 SF 435
Subsection 6 amended

535B.13 Enforcement.

1 The administrator has cease and desist powers as follows:

a For the purposes of this subsection, "administrator" means either the superintendent of banking or the official or agency charged with enforcing this chapter, or parts thereof, against the person under investigation.

b If the administrator has reason to believe that a person has been or is in violation of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter, after notice and hearing, the administrator may order a person to cease and desist from violating any provision of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter.

c The administrator, upon such hearing, may administer oaths, examine and cross-examine witnesses, receive evidence, and shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, and require the production of all records or other documents which the administrator deems relevant to the inquiry. In case of a refusal of a person to comply with a subpoena issued under this section or to testify with respect to any matter relevant to the proceeding, on application of the administrator, the district court of Polk county may issue an order requiring the person to comply with the subpoena and to testify. A failure to obey an order of the court to comply with the subpoena may be punished by the court as a civil contempt. A cease and desist hearing need not observe any formal rules of pleading or evidence.

d If after the hearing, the administrator finds that the person charged has violated this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter, the administrator shall issue written findings, a copy of which shall be served upon the person charged with the violations, along with an order requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in the violations.

e A person aggrieved by a cease and desist order of the administrator may obtain judicial review of the order and the administrator may obtain an order of the Polk county district court for the enforcement of the cease and desist order.

f A proceeding for review must be initiated within thirty days after the aggrieved person receives the cease and desist order. If no proceeding is initiated, the administrator may obtain a decree of the Polk county district court for enforcement of the cease and desist order.

g A person who violates a cease and desist order of the administrator may, after notice and hearing, and upon further order of the administrator, be subject to a penalty of not more than five thousand dollars for each act or violation of the cease and desist order.

2 The administrator may request the attorney general to enforce the provisions of this chapter. A civil enforcement action by the attorney general may be filed in equity in either the county in which the violation occurred or Polk county. A civil enforcement action by the attorney general may seek any or all of the following:

a Temporary and permanent injunctive relief.

b Restitution for a mortgagee aggrieved by a violation of this chapter.

c Costs for the investigation and prosecution of the enforcement action including attorneys fees.

3 This chapter does not limit the power of the attorney general to determine that any other practice is unlawful under the Iowa consumer fraud Act, section 714.16, and to file an action under that section.

91 Acts ch 65 §2 SF 435
Subsection 1 paragraph 6 amended.
CHAPTER 535C
IOWA LOAN BROKERS ACT

535C.2 Definitions.
1 "Administrator" means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy administrator appointed pursuant to section 502.601.
2 "Advance fee" means consideration including a payment, fee, or deposit, which is assessed or collected prior to the closing of a loan. An advance fee includes, but is not limited to, money assessed or collected for processing, for an appraisal, for a credit check, for a consultation, or for expenses.
3 "Bona fide third party fee" means a fee charged for one or more of the following:
   a A credit report or appraisal
   b Providing security of title services for a loan secured by real property, including but not limited to a title examination, an abstract of title, title insurance, or a property survey.
4 "Borrower" means a person who seeks the services of a loan broker.
5 "Financial statement" means a document evidencing the financial position of the loan broker as required by section 535C.3A.
6 "Loan" means an agreement to advance property, including but not limited to money, in return for the promise that payment will be made for the use of the property.
7 "Loan broker" or "broker" means a person who in return for an advance fee, promises to obtain a loan or assist in obtaining a loan for another from a third person, or who promises to consider making a loan to a person. A loan broker does not include any of the following:
   a An attorney licensed to practice in this state while engaged in the practice of law.
   b A certified public accountant licensed to practice in this state while engaged in practice as a certified public accountant.
   c An accounting practitioner, while engaged as an accounting practitioner, who procures loans as an incidental part of the accountant's practice.
   d A person whose fee is entirely contingent on the successful procurement of a loan from a third person, if the borrower has not paid a fee prior to the closing of a loan other than a bona fide third party fee.
   e A financial institution, to the extent the institution's activities or arrangements are expressly approved or regulated by a regulatory body or officer acting under authority of the United States.
   f An insurance company organized under the laws of this state and subject to regulation by the commissioner of insurance.
   g A bank incorporated under chapter 524.
   h A credit union incorporated under chapter 533.
   i A savings and loan association or savings bank incorporated under chapter 534.
   j A mortgage broker or mortgage banker licensed under chapter 535B.
   k A regulated loan company licensed under chapter 536.
   l An industrial loan company licensed under chapter 536A.
8 "Loan brokerage agreement" or "agreement" means an agreement between a loan broker and a borrower in which the loan broker promises to do any of the following:
   a Obtain a loan for a borrower.
   b Assist the borrower in obtaining a loan.
   c Consider making a loan to the borrower.
9 "Records" means books, papers, documents, accounts, agreements, memoranda, electronic records of accounts, or correspondence relating to a matter regulated under this chapter.
10 "Successful procurement of a loan" means the receipt by a borrower of the loan proceeds.

535C.3A Financial statement.
A loan broker shall file a financial statement with the administrator. The statement shall be prepared according to generally accepted accounting principles. The statement shall contain all of the following:
1 A copy of the loan broker's balance sheet prepared within one hundred twenty days prior to the most recent filing of a disclosure statement as provided in section 535C.5.
2 A profit and loss statement, and a statement of changes in the broker's financial position for each fiscal year that the broker and the broker's predecessor were in business. However, the statement of changes need not cover more than the three fiscal years preceding the date that the broker's balance sheet was prepared.
3 If prepared, a copy of the broker's most recent audited financial statement.

535C.5 Filing with the administrator — penalty.
1 Before advertising or making other oral or written representations, or acting as a loan broker in this state, a loan broker shall file with the administrator all of the following:
   a The disclosure statement required under section 535C.3.
§535C.5

b. The most recent financial statement of the broker required under section 535C.3A.
c. Either a bond required under section 535C.4 or a formal notification from the financial institution that the trust account required under section 535C.4 is established.
d. An irrevocable consent, in a form prescribed by the commissioner of insurance, appointing the administrator to be the loan broker's agent to receive service of process in any suit or action against the broker arising from a violation of a provision of this chapter or a rule adopted pursuant to this chapter.

2. The broker shall amend these filings within forty-five days of any material change in the following:
   a. The status of the bond or account.
   b. The financial statement of the broker.
   c. Information required by the disclosure statement.

A broker who does not file the copies required is guilty of a serious misdemeanor.

3. In addition to other required filings, an annual filing shall be made not later than July 1. The broker shall pay a one hundred fifty dollar filing fee with the initial disclosure statement filed under subsection 1. The annual filing shall be accompanied by a filing fee of one hundred dollars. A twenty-five dollar fee shall be charged for each amendment under subsection 2.

4. The administrator shall review the disclosure statement for compliance with requirements imposed under this chapter.

5. The administrator may by order prohibit a broker from advertising, making oral or written representations, or acting as a loan broker if the order is found to be in the public interest and either of the following apply:
   a. The disclosure statement or financial statement on file is incomplete in any material respect or contains any statement which was, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact.
   b. The loan broker has willfully violated or willfully failed to comply with any provision of this chapter.

6. The information contained or filed under this section may be made available to the public under such rules as the administrator prescribes.

§535C.7 Written agreements required.

A loan brokerage agreement shall be in writing, contain a description of the services that the broker agrees to perform for the borrower, and the conditions under which the borrower is obligated to pay the broker. The agreement shall be signed by the broker and the borrower. The broker shall give the borrower a copy of the agreement when the borrower signs the agreement.

§535C.11 Applicability.

This chapter does not apply to activities or arrangements expressly approved or regulated by the administrator under other law, or the banking division or savings and loan division in the department of commerce.

§535C.12 Records.

1. A loan broker shall maintain accurate records, as required by the administrator, relating to transactions regulated under this chapter. The records shall include all of the following:
   a. The accounts of the broker.
   b. A copy of each contract in which the broker is a party, including loan brokerage agreements.
   c. The amount of receipts received by the broker and the date the receipts were received.

2. The broker shall retain each loan brokerage agreement entered into by the broker and records pertaining to each agreement for at least two years after the agreement expires. The agreements and records shall be maintained and made available for examination by the administrator.

§535C.13 Administrative actions.

1. The administrator shall implement this chapter, and may take actions which the administrator deems appropriate for the protection of borrowers, including but not limited to conducting an investigation or examination to determine if a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted pursuant to this chapter has been or may be committed.

2. In conducting an investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or an officer designated by the administrator may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel the attendance of witnesses, take evidence, and require the production of materials including records which the administrator deems relevant to the inquiry.

3. Notwithstanding chapter 22, information obtained in the course of an investigation or examination shall be kept confidential by the administrator unless any of the following are applicable:
   a. An order of prohibition has been issued pursuant to section 535C.5.
   b. The administrator is called as a witness to testify in a criminal or civil proceeding.

   Upon determining that it is necessary or appropriate to the public interest or for the protection of borrowers, the administrator may disseminate information concerning a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted pursuant to this chapter, by publishing the information or sharing the information with the appropriate agency or regulatory authority.
§536A.22  Misrepresentation of governmental approval.
It is unlawful for a loan broker to represent or imply that the broker has been sponsored, recommended, or approved by, or that the broker’s abilities or qualifications have been passed upon by the commissioner, the insurance division, the securities bureau, or the state of Iowa.

535C.15  Reserved.

535C.16  Scope of chapter.
1. The provisions of this chapter apply to agreements and offers by any person to act as a loan broker when any of the following apply:
   a. The offer to act as a loan broker is made or accepted in this state.
   b. The agreement is solicited or entered into in this state.
2. For the purpose of this section, an offer is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when either of the following apply:
   a. The offer originates from this state.
   b. The offer is directed by the offeror to this state and received at the place to which it is directed or at any post office in this state in the case of a mailed offer.

3. For the purpose of this section, an offer is accepted in this state when either of the following occur:
   a. The acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state.
   b. The acceptance has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally, or in writing, outside this state; and acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state when the offeree directs it to the offeror in this state reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state and it is received at the place to which it is directed or at any post office in this state in the case of a mailed acceptance.
4. An offer is not made in this state in either of the following circumstances:
   a. The offer is in a newspaper which the publisher circulates or is circulated on the publisher’s behalf in this state, which is in any other publication of general, regular, and paid circulation which is not published in this state, or which is published in this state but has had more than two-thirds of its circulation outside this state during the past twelve months.
   b. The offer is on a radio or television program originating outside this state and received in this state.

536A.16  Cease and desist orders.
If the superintendent has reasonable cause to believe that a licensee is violating this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter, the superintendent may, after ten days’ advance written notice, in addition to all actions provided for in this chapter, and without prejudice, enter an order requiring the licensee to cease, desist, and refrain from the violation. After receipt of the advance written notice, the licensee, within five days from the receipt of the notice, may file with the superintendent a written demand for a hearing. Hearings shall promptly be held in the office of the superintendent and a cease and desist order shall not be issued until after the hearing. The licensee shall be entitled to present evidence and the testimony of witnesses at the hearing.

536A.17  Injunctions.
The superintendent by counsel of the attorney general may commence an action in the district court, in the name of the state of Iowa as plaintiff on the relation of the superintendent to restrain and enjoin any licensee from violating this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter, or to restrain and enjoin any person, copartnership, firm, or corporation from engaging in the business of operating an industrial loan company without obtaining a license as required by this chapter.

536A.22  Thrift certificates.
Licensed industrial loan companies may sell senior debt to the general public in the form of thrift certificates, installment thrift certificates, certificates of indebtedness, promissory notes or similar evidences of indebtedness. The total amount of such thrift certificates, installment thrift certificates, certificates of indebtedness, promissory notes or similar evidences of indebtedness outstanding and in the hands of the general public shall not at any time exceed ten times the total amount of capital, surplus, undivided profits and subordinated debt that gives priority to such securities of the issuing industrial loan company. The sale of such securities shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 502, and shall not be construed to be exempt by reason of the provisions of section 502.202, subsection 10, except that the sale of thrift certificates or installment thrift certificates which are redeemable by the holder either upon demand or within a period not in excess of one hundred eighty days are exempt from sections 502.201 and 502.602.

536A.25 Restrictions.
1. An industrial loan company licensed under this chapter shall not make a loan of money or property to or guarantee the obligations of its directors or officers; or loan to any borrower, other than a subsidiary or affiliated corporation, more than twenty percent of its total capital, surplus, and undivided profits. A licensee shall not make a loan under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in the license.

2. An industrial loan company licensed under this chapter that sells debt instruments to the general public in the form of thrift certificates, installment thrift certificates, certificates of indebtedness, promissory notes, or similar evidences of indebtedness, shall not loan to a borrower, including a subsidiary or an affiliated corporation, more than twenty percent of the industrial loan company's total of capital, surplus, and undivided profits. The aggregate of all loans to subsidiaries and affiliated corporations of the industrial loan company shall not exceed ten percent of the industrial loan company's total assets.

A debt instrument sold by an industrial loan company which is not insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, shall contain on its face a notice in bold print that the debt instrument is not insured or guaranteed by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

3. Investments by an industrial loan company licensed under this chapter are subject to the provisions of section 524.901 as applied to state banks.

CHAPTER 536C
LENDER CREDIT CARDS

536C.1 Title.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Lender Credit Card Act".
91 Acts, ch 216, §15 SP 311
NEW section

536C.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Administrator" means the superintendent of banking, the superintendent of savings and loan associations or the superintendent's successor, or the superintendent of credit unions. However, the powers of administration and enforcement of this chapter are to be exercised pursuant to section 536C.14.
2. "Agreement" means agreement as defined in section 537.1301, subsection 3.
3. "Cardholder" means cardholder as defined in section 537.1301, subsection 7.
4. "Consumer credit transaction" means consumer credit transaction as defined in section 537.1301, subsection 11.
5. "Credit card" means a card or device issued by a financial institution under an arrangement pursuant to which a card issuer gives a cardholder the privilege of purchasing or leasing property, or purchasing services, obtaining loans, or otherwise obtaining credit from at least one hundred persons not related to the card issuer.

6. "Financial institution" means a bank incorporated under the provisions of any state or federal law, a savings and loan association incorporated under the provisions of any state or federal law, a credit union organized under the provisions of any state or federal law, and any affiliate of such bank, savings and loan association, or credit union.

7. "Person" means any individual, firm, corporation, partnership, joint venture, or association, and any other organization or group, however organized.

536C.3 Exemptions.
This chapter does not apply to a bank chartered under chapter 524 or a bank chartered under federal law which has its principal place of business located in this state, a savings and loan association chartered under chapter 533 or a savings and loan association chartered under federal law which has its principal place of business located in this state, a credit union chartered under chapter 533 or a credit union chartered under federal law which has its principal place of business located in this state, regulated loan companies licensed under chapter 536, or industrial loan companies licensed under chapter 536A.

536C.4 Notification.
1. A person shall file a registration statement annually with the administrator before conducting the business of issuing credit cards in this state, and annually thereafter on or before January 31 of each year. The registration statement shall be in writing on a form prescribed by the administrator, and contain the name and address of the registrant, the name and address of a designated agent upon whom service of process may be made in this state, and any other information the administrator deems relevant.

2. At the time of filing a registration statement the person shall provide the administrator with a copy of the credit agreement and billing statement being used by the card issuer.

3. If information in a filing statement becomes inaccurate after filing, the person shall notify the administrator in writing of the changes within sixty days of such change.

536C.5 Fees.
A person required to file a registration statement pursuant to this chapter shall pay to the administrator an annual fee of fifty dollars. The fee shall be paid at the time the person files the registration statement.

536C.6 Applicability of Iowa consumer credit code.
1. The terms and conditions of a credit card agreement shall conform to the provisions of chapter 537, the Iowa consumer credit code.

2. A provision of the Iowa consumer credit code applicable to credit cards regulated by this chapter supersedes a conflicting provision of this chapter.

3. A person who is in full compliance with the provisions of this chapter is considered a supervised financial organization under the Iowa consumer credit code for purposes of contracting for finance charges authorized for credit card issuers under section 537.2402.

536C.7 Books and records.
A person who issues credit cards shall keep such books, accounts, and records as will enable the administrator to determine whether or not the person is complying with the provisions of this chapter and chapter 537. The person shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files for a longer period than three years following the date of the final payment.

536C.8 Investigations.
1. The administrator may investigate at any time the business of a credit card issuer subject to the provisions of this chapter. The administrator may examine the books, records, accounts, and files pertaining to the business of issuing credit cards subject to the provisions of this chapter.

2. The administrator may accept a copy of an examination conducted by a state or federal regulator in lieu of an investigation or examination by the administrator.

3. If an investigation or examination is performed by the administrator under this section, the credit card issuer shall pay to the administrator a fee based on the actual cost of such investigation or examination as determined by the administrator.

4. Upon completion of an investigation or examination by the administrator, the examiner shall render a billing in triplicate, with one copy to be delivered to the credit card issuer and two copies to be delivered to the administrator. Failure to pay the fee to the administrator within thirty days after the billing for the investigation or examination is delivered shall subject the credit card issuer to an additional fee of five percent of the amount of the original fee for each day the payment is delinquent.

536C.9 Cease and desist orders.
1. If the administrator has reasonable cause to believe a person who issues credit cards is violating any provision of this chapter, or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter, the administrator may enter a written order requiring the person to cease, desist, and refrain from an act constituting a violation. A copy of the order shall be sent to the person by certified mail. The person may file with the administrator a written notice of appeal within fifteen days of receipt of the order. The person may also request that the order be stayed pending resolution of the appeal. The appellant shall be entitled to prompt consideration of the request to stay the order.

2. Within thirty days after receipt of a notice of appeal the administrator shall hold a hearing to consider the appeal. The appellant shall be informed regarding the time and place of the hearing not later than ten days prior to the hearing. The administrator’s decision shall be provided, in writing, to the appellant within thirty days of the completion of the hearing.

§536C.10

Injunctions.
The administrator may commence an action in the district court to restrain and enjoin any person from violating this chapter, or to restrain and enjoin any person from engaging in the business of issuing credit cards without filing a registration statement as required by this chapter.

§536C.11

Waiver unenforceable.
A waiver of the provisions of this chapter or chapter 537 is not valid.

§536C.12

Penalty.
If an officer, director, or agent of a corporation engaged in the business of issuing credit cards violates any of the provisions of this chapter which are not also violations of the Iowa consumer credit code; or if a person individually or as a partner, or officer, director, or agent of a corporation engages in the business of issuing credit cards without filing the registration statement required by section 536C.4, the person is guilty of a serious misdemeanor. Violations of this chapter which are also violations of the Iowa consumer credit code shall be subject to the penalties provided in the Iowa consumer credit code.

536C.13 Rules.
The administrator may adopt such rules pursuant to chapter 17A as may be necessary for the enforcement and administration of this chapter.

536C.14 Enforcement.
1. The superintendent of banking shall enforce the provisions of this chapter with respect to banks not exempt from the provisions of this chapter under section 536C.3.
2. The superintendent of credit unions shall enforce the provisions of this chapter with respect to credit unions not exempt from the provisions of this chapter under section 536C.3.
3. The superintendent of savings and loan associations or the superintendent’s successor shall enforce the provisions of this chapter with respect to savings and loan associations not exempt from the provisions of this chapter under section 536C.3.

CHAPTER 537
CONSUMER CREDIT CODE

537.3205 Change in terms of open end credit accounts.
1. Whether or not a change is authorized by prior agreement, a creditor may make a change in the terms of an open end credit account applying to any balance incurred after the effective date of the change only if the creditor delivers or mails to the consumer a written disclosure of the change at least sixty days before the effective date of the change.
2. Unless authorized by this chapter or unless agreed to by the consumer, a creditor shall not change the terms of an open end credit account, with respect to a balance incurred before the effective date of the change, which results in an increase of the rate of the finance charge or other charge or an increase in the amount of a periodic payment due, or which otherwise adversely affects the interests of the consumer with respect to the balance. The use by the consumer of an open-end account after the effective date of the change constitutes the agreement of the consumer if the consumer is notified as provided in subsection 1 that the use will constitute the agreement of the consumer.

3. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a creditor may make a change in the terms of an open end credit account with respect to a balance incurred before the effective date of the change if the creditor gives a written disclosure as provided in subsection 1 and if the credit card account is part of a portfolio of credit card accounts acquired in a bulk acquisition of the portfolio.

4. A disclosure provided for in subsection 1 is mailed to the consumer when mailed to the consumer at the consumer's address used by the creditor for mailing the consumer periodic billing statements.

5. If a creditor attempts to make a change in the terms of an open end credit account without complying with this section, any additional cost or charge to the consumer resulting from the change is an excess charge and is subject to the remedies available to the consumer under section 537.5201 and to the administrator under section 537.6113.

Subsection 1 amended
NEW subsection 3 and former subsections 3 and 4 renumbered as 4 and 5

537.6104 Powers of administrator — reliance on rules — duty to report.

1. The administrator, within the limitations provided by law, may:
   a. Receive and act on complaints.
   b. Take action designed to obtain voluntary compliance with this chapter.
   c. Commence proceedings on the administrator's own initiative.
   d. Counsel persons and groups on their rights and duties under this chapter.
   e. Establish programs for the education of consumers with respect to credit practices and problems.
   f. Make studies appropriate to effectuate the purposes and policies of this chapter and make the results available to the public.
   g. Maintain offices within this state.
   2. The administrator may enforce the Truth in Lending Act to the fullest extent provided by law.
   3. To keep the administrator's rules in harmony with the rules of administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code, the administrator, so far as is consistent with the purposes, policies and provisions of this chapter, shall do both of the following:
   a. Before adopting, amending and repealing rules, advise and consult with administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code.
   b. In adopting, amending, and repealing rules, take into consideration the rules of administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code.
   4. Except for refund of an excess charge, no liability is imposed under this chapter for an act done or omitted in conformity with a rule of the administrator notwithstanding that after the act or omission the rule is amended or repealed or determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.
   5. The administrator shall report annually on or before January 1 to the general assembly on the operation of the consumer credit protection bureau and the other agencies of this state charged with administering this chapter, and on the problems of persons of small means obtaining credit from persons regularly engaged in extending sales or loan credit. For the purpose of making the report, the administrator may conduct research and make appropriate studies. The report shall include, for the consumer credit protection bureau and for other state agencies enforcing this chapter, a description of the examination and investigation procedures and policies, a statement of policies followed in deciding whether to investigate or examine the offices of credit suppliers subject to this chapter, a statement of the number and percentages of offices which are periodically investigated or examined, a statement of the types of consumer credit problems of both creditors and consumers which have come to the administrator's attention through the administrator's examinations and investigations and the disposition of them under existing law, and recommendations, if any, for legislation to deal with those problems within the administrator's general jurisdiction, a statement of the extent to which the rules of the administrator pursuant to this chapter are not in harmony with the rules of administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code and the reasons for the variations, and a general statement of the activities of the administrator's office and of others to promote the purposes of this chapter. The report shall not identify the creditors against whom action is taken.

Subsection 5 amended
CHAPTER 546
DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

546.3 Banking division.
The banking division shall regulate and supervise banks under chapter 524, regulated loan companies under chapter 536, and industrial loan companies under chapter 536A, and shall perform other duties assigned to the division by law. The division is headed by the superintendent of banking who is appointed pursuant to section 524.201. The state banking board shall perform duties within the division as prescribed by law. 91 Acts, ch 63, §5 SF 310
Section amended

546.7 Utilities division.
The utilities division shall regulate and supervise public utilities operating in the state. The division shall enforce and implement chapters 476, 476A, 478, 479, and 479A and shall perform other duties assigned to it by law. The division is headed by the administrator of public utilities who shall be appointed by the governor pursuant to section 474.1. 91 Acts, ch 97, §5 HF 198
Section amended

546.10 Professional licensing and regulation division — administrative services cost — revolving fund.
1. The professional licensing and regulation division shall administer and coordinate the licensing and regulation of several professions by bringing together the following licensing boards:
   a. The engineering and land surveying examining board created pursuant to chapter 114.
   b. The accountancy examining board created pursuant to chapter 116.
   c. The real estate commission created pursuant to chapter 117.
   d. The architectural examining board created pursuant to chapter 118.
   e. The landscape architectural examining board created pursuant to chapter 118A.

2. The division is headed by the administrator of professional licensing and regulation who shall be appointed by the governor subject to confirmation by the senate and shall serve a four-year term that begins and ends as provided in section 69.19. A vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the same manner as a full-term appointment is made. The administrator shall appoint and supervise staff and shall coordinate activities for the licensing boards within the division. The administrator shall act as a staff person to one or more of the licensing boards.

3. The licensing and regulation examining boards included in the division pursuant to subsection 1 retain the powers granted them pursuant to the chapters in which they are created, except for budgetary and personnel matters which shall be handled by the administrator. Each licensing board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A. Decisions by a licensing board are final agency actions for purposes of chapter 17A.

4. The professional licensing and regulation division of the department of commerce may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel, if those additional expenditures are directly the cause of actual examination expenses exceeding funds budgeted for examinations. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for examinations, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the examination expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the division and the division does not have other funds from which the expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management, the division may expend and encumber funds for excess examination expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the examination expenses shall be collected as fees from additional examination applicants and shall be treated as repayment receipts as defined in section 8.2, subsection 8.

5. The professional licensing and regulation division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division’s share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

6. There is created in the office of the treasurer of state a professional licensing revolving fund. Fees collected under chapters 114, 116, 117, 117B, 118, and 118A shall be paid to the treasurer of state and credited to the professional licensing revolving fund. All expenses required in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon the professional licensing division of the department of commerce, the administrator, and the licensing boards by the laws of this state shall be paid from the revolving fund and appropriated by the general assembly from the fund. Transfers shall not be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of expenses of the division. Fees collected by the division shall not be transferred to the general fund. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the professional licensing division of the department of commerce shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from the investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection and sections 114.12, 116.3, 117.14, 117B.6, 118.11, and 118A.14 directing that fees and other moneys be deposited into the professional licensing revolving fund and not to be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the professional licensing revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees collected under those sections shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this subsection shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

546.11 Administrative services trust fund created.

There is created in the office of the treasurer of state for the department of commerce an administrative services trust fund. Moneys paid to the department by the divisions for administrative services shall be credited to the fund. All costs for administrative services provided by the department to the respective divisions shall be paid from this fund, subject to appropriation by the general assembly.

Notwithstanding this section and sections 476.10, 524.207, 533.67, 534.408, 546.9, and 546.10 directing the utilities division, banking division, credit union division, savings and loan division, alcoholic beverages division, and the professional licensing division to transfer from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund the division's share of administrative services and directing that costs for administrative services provided by the department to the divisions be paid from the administrative services trust fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all expenses for administrative services shall be paid from appropriations made from the general fund of the state for these expenses.

CHAPTER 550
TRADE SECRETS

550.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Improper means" means theft, bribery, misrepresentation, breach or inducement of a breach of a duty to maintain secrecy, or espionage, including but not limited to espionage through an electronic device.
2. "Knows" or "knowledge" means that a person has actual knowledge of information or a circumstance or that the person has reason to know of the information or circumstance.
3. "Misappropriation" means doing any of the following:
   a. Acquisition of a trade secret by a person who knows that the trade secret is acquired by improper means.
   b. Disclosure or use of a trade secret by a person who uses improper means to acquire the trade secret.
   c. Disclosure or use of a trade secret by a person who at the time of disclosure or use knows that the trade secret is derived from or through a person who had utilized improper means to acquire the trade secret.
   d. Disclosure or use of a trade secret by a person who at the time of disclosure or use knows that the trade secret is acquired under circumstances giving rise to a duty to maintain its secrecy or limit its use.
   e. Disclosure or use of a trade secret by a person who at the time of disclosure or use knows that the trade secret is derived from or through a person who owes a duty to maintain the trade secret's secrecy or limit its use.
   f. Disclosure or use of a trade secret by a person who, before a material change in the person's position, knows that the information is a trade secret and that the trade secret has been acquired by accident or mistake.
4. "Trade secret" means information, including but not limited to a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, or process that is both of the following:
   a. Derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by a person able to obtain economic value from its disclosure or use.
   b. Is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy.

91 Acts, ch 35, §1 SF 179
Subsection 4, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended §554.9401 Place of filing — erroneous filing — removal of collateral.

1 The proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest is as follows a when the collateral is timber to be cut or is minerals or the like (including oil and gas), or accounts subject to section 554 9103, subsection 5, or when the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing (section 554 9313) and the collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures, then in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded,

   b when the collateral is consumer goods and when the debtor resides in this state, then in the office of the recorder in the county of the debtor’s residence, c in all other cases, in the office of the secretary of state

2 A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place or not in all of the places required by this section is nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing complied with the requirements of this Article and is also effective with regard to collateral covered by the financing statement against any person who has knowledge of the contents of such financing statement

3 A filing which is made in the proper place in this state continues effective even though the debtor’s residence or place of business or the location of the collateral or its use, whichever controlled the original filing, is thereafter changed
The rules stated in section 554.9103 determine whether filing is necessary in this state.

Notwithstanding the preceding subsections, and subject to section 554.9302, subsection 3, the proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of the secretary of state. This filing constitutes a fixture filing (section 554.9313) as to the collateral described therein which is or is to become fixtures.

Of each fee collected by the county recorder under sections 570A.4, 554.9403, 554.9405, and 554.9406, the county recorder shall remit five dollars, if filed on a standard form or six dollars otherwise, to the office of the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state.

Presentation for filing of a financing statement and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the statement by the filing officer constitutes filing under this Article.

Except as provided in subsection 6, a filed financing statement is effective for a period of five years from the date of filing. The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the five-year period unless a continuation statement is filed prior to the lapse. If a security interest perfected by filing exists at the time insolvency proceedings are commenced by or against the debtor, the security interest remains perfected until termination of the insolvency proceedings and thereafter for a period of sixty days or until expiration of the five-year period, whichever occurs later. Upon lapse the security interest becomes unperfected, unless it is perfected without filing. If the security interest becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser or lien creditor before lapse.

A continuation statement may be filed by the secured party within six months prior to the expiration of the five-year period specified in subsection 2. Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original statement by file number and state that the original statement is still effective. A continuation statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with section 554.9405, subsection 2, including payment of the required fee. Upon timely filing of the continuation statement, the effectiveness of the original statement is continued for five years after the last date to which the filing was effective whereupon it lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection 2 unless another continuation statement is filed prior to such lapse. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the original statement. Unless a statute on disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing officer may remove a statement from the files and destroy it immediately if the filing officer has retained a microfilm or other photographic record, or in other cases after one year after the lapse.

Except as provided in subsection 7, a filing officer shall mark each statement with a file number and with the date and hour of filing and shall hold the statement or a microfilm or other photographic copy thereof for public inspection. In addition the filing officer shall index the statements according to the name of the debtor and shall note in the index the file number and the address of the debtor given in the statement.

The uniform fee for filing and indexing and for stamping a copy furnished by the secured party to show the date and place of filing shall be as follows:

a. Ten dollars for an original financing statement if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the secretary of state, and otherwise twelve dollars.
b. Ten dollars for a continuation statement if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the secretary of state, and otherwise twelve dollars.

If the debtor is a transmitting utility (section 554.9401, subsection 5), and a filed financing statement so states, or if a filed financing statement relates to a lien, pledge, or security interest incident to bonds issued under chapter 419 and the filed financing statement so states, it is effective until a termination statement is filed. A real estate mortgage which is effective as a fixture filing under section 554.9402, subsection 6, remains effective as a fixture filing until the mortgage is released or satisfied of record or its effectiveness otherwise terminates as to the real estate.

When a financing statement covers timber to be cut or covers minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to section 554.9103, subsection 5, or is filed as a fixture filing, it shall be filed for record and the filing officer shall index it under the names of the debtor and any owner of record shown on the financing statement in the same fashion as if they were the mortgagees in a mortgage of the real estate described, and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if the secured party were the mortgagee thereunder, or where indexing is by description in the same fashion as if the financing statement were a mortgage of the real estate described.

If a financing statement covering consumer goods is filed on or after January 1, 1975, then within one month or within ten days following written demand by the debtor after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party must file with each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. If a financing statement covering farm products is filed, then within sixty days, or within ten days following written demand by the debtor, after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party shall file with each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. In other cases if there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party must on written demand by the debtor send the debtor, for each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement in duplicate, the filing officer must mark the same as provided in the preceding sentence. On presentation to the filing officer of such a separate statement, the filing officer shall index the assignment of a mortgage effective as a fixture filing (section 554.9402, subsection 6), and the uniform fee for filing in the place where the original financing statement is recorded shall be ten dollars, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, twelve dollars.

2. A secured party may assign of record all or a part of the rights under a financing statement by filing in the place where the original financing statement was filed of a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and setting forth the name of the secured party of record and the debtor, the file number and the date of filing of the financing statement and the name and address of the assignee and containing a description of the collateral assigned. A copy of the assignment is sufficient as a separate statement if it complies with the preceding sentence. On presentation to the filing officer of such a separate statement, the filing officer shall mark such separate statement with the date and hour of the filing. The filing officer shall note the assignment on the index of the financing statement, or in the case of a fixture filing, or a filing covering timber to be cut, or covering minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to section 554.9103, subsection 5, the filing officer shall index the assignment under the name of the assignor as grantor and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing the assignment of a mortgage under the name of the assignee, the filing officer shall index the assignment of the financing statement under the name of the assignee. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data about such a separate statement of assignment on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be ten dollars, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, twelve dollars. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, an assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture contained in a mortgage effective as a fixture filing (section 554.9402, subsection 6), may be made only by an assignment of the mortgage in the manner provided by the law of this state other than this chapter.

For financing statements covering fixture filings, changes in the filings, and termination of the filings, an additional fee shall be charged for recording in an amount specified in section 331.604.

3. After the disclosure or filing of an assignment under this section, the assignee is the secured party of record.

554.9406 Release of collateral — duties of filing officer — fees.

A secured party of record may by a signed statement release all or a part of any collateral described in a filed financing statement. The statement of release is sufficient if it contains a description of the collateral being released, the name and address of the debtor, the name and address of the secured party, and the file number of the financing statement. A statement of release signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with section 554.9405, subsection 2, including payment of the required fee. Upon presentation of such a statement of release the filing officer shall mark the statement with the hour and date of filing and shall note the same upon the margin of the index of the filing of the financing statement. The uniform fee for filing and noting such a statement of release on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be ten dollars, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, twelve dollars.

CHAPTER 556
DISPOSITION OF UNCLAIMED PROPERTY

556.2 Property held by banking or financial organizations or by business associations.

The following property held or owing by a banking or financial organization or by a business association is presumed abandoned:

1. Any demand, savings, or matured time deposit made in this state with a banking organization, together with any interest or dividend, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, unless the owner has, within three years:
   a. Increased or decreased the amount of the deposit, or presented the passbook or other similar evidence of the deposit for the crediting of interest.
   b. Corresponded in writing with the banking organization concerning the deposit.
   c. Otherwise indicated an interest in the deposit as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the banking organization. Such memorandum shall be dated and may have been prepared by the banking organization, in which case it shall be signed by an official of the bank, or it may have been prepared by the owner.
   d. Had another relationship with the bank in which the owner has:
      (1) Communicated in writing with the bank.
      (2) Otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the bank and if the bank communicates in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would otherwise be abandoned under this subsection at the address to which communications regarding the other relationship are regularly sent.
      e. Been sent any written correspondence, notice or information by first class mail regarding the deposit by the banking organization on or after July 1, 1985, if the correspondence, notice or information is not returned to the bank organization for nondelivery and if the bank organization maintains a record of all returned mail.

2. Any funds paid in this state toward the purchase of shares or other interest in a financial organization or any deposit made in this state, and any interest or dividends, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, unless the owner has within three years:
   a. Increased or decreased the amount of the funds or deposit, or presented an appropriate record for the crediting of interest or dividends.
   b. Corresponded in writing with the financial organization concerning the funds or deposit.
   c. Otherwise indicated an interest in the funds or deposit as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the financial organization. Such memorandum shall be dated and may have been prepared by the financial organization, in which case it shall be signed by an officer of the financial organization, or it may have been prepared by the owner.
   d. Had another relationship with the financial organization in which the owner has:
      (1) Communicated in writing with the financial organization.
      (2) Otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the financial organization and if the financial organization communicates in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would otherwise be abandoned under this subsection at the address to which communications regarding the other relationship are regularly sent.
      e. Been sent any written correspondence, notice or information by first class mail regarding the funds or deposits by the financial organization on or after July 1, 1985, if the correspondence, notice or information is not returned to the financial organization for nondelivery and if the financial organization maintains a record of all returned mail.

3. Any property described in subsections 1 and 2 which is automatically renewable is matured for purposes of subsections 1 and 2 upon the expiration of its initial time period, but in the case of any renewal to which the owner consents at or about the time of renewal by communicating in writing with the banking or financial organization or otherwise indicating consent as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the organization, the property is matured upon the expiration of the last time provided for which consent was given. If at the time period for delivery in section 556.13, a penalty or forfeiture in the payment of interest would result from the delivery of the property, the time period for delivery is extended until the time when no penalty or forfeiture would result.

4. Any sum payable on checks certified in this state or on written instruments issued in this state on which a banking or financial organization or business association is directly liable, including, by way of illustration but not of limitation, certificates of deposit, drafts, money orders, and traveler's checks, that, with the exception of traveler's checks, has been outstanding for more than three years from the date it was payable, or from the date of its issuance if payable on demand, or, in the case of traveler's checks, that has been outstanding for more than fifteen years from the date of its issuance, unless the owner has within three years, or within fifteen years in the case of traveler's checks, corresponded in writing with the banking or financial organization or business association concerned, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the banking or financial organization or business association. The memorandum shall be dated and may have been prepared by the banking or financial organization or business association, in which case it shall be signed by an officer of the banking or financial organization, or a member of the business association, or it may have been prepared by the owner.

5. Any funds or other personal property, tangible or intangible, removed from a safe deposit box or any other safekeeping repository or agency or collateral deposit box in this state on which the lease or rental period has expired due to nonpayment of rental charges or other reason, or any surplus amounts arising from the sale thereof pursuant to law, that have been unclaimed by the owner for more than three years from the date on which the lease or rental period expired.

6. A banking organization or financial organization shall send to the owner of each account, to which none of the actions specified in paragraphs "a" through "d" of subsection 1 or "a" through "d" of subsection 2 have occurred during the preceding three calendar years, a notice by certified mail stating in substance the following:

According to our records, we have had no contact with you regarding (describe account) for more than three years. Under Iowa law, if there is a period of three years without contact, we may be required to transfer this account to the custody of the treasurer of state of Iowa as unclaimed property. You may prevent this by taking some action, such as a deposit or withdrawal, which indicates your interest in this account or by signing this form and returning it to us.

I desire to keep the above account open and active.

Your signature

The notice required under this section shall be mailed within thirty days of the lapse of the three-year period in which there is no activity. The cost of the certified mail of the notice required in this section may be deducted from the account by the banking or financial organization.

Subsection 1, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended
Subsection 2, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended
Subsections 4, 5 and 6 amended

556.3 Unclaimed funds held by life insurance corporations.

1. "Unclaimed funds," as defined in this section, held and owing by a life insurance corporation shall be presumed abandoned if the last known address, according to the records of the corporation, of the person entitled to the funds is within this state. If a person other than the insured or annuitant is entitled to the funds and no address of such person is known to the corporation or if it is not definite and certain from the records of the corporation what person is entitled to the funds, it is presumed that the last known address of the person entitled to the funds is the same as the last known address of the insured or annuitant according to the records of the corporation.

2. "Unclaimed funds," as used in this section, means all moneys held and owing by any life insurance corporation unclaimed and unpaid for more than three years after the moneys became due and payable as established from the records of the corporation under any life or endowment insurance policy or annuity contract which has matured or terminated. A life insurance policy not matured by actual proof of the death of the insured is deemed to be matured and the proceeds thereof are deemed to be due and payable if the policy was in force when the insured attained the limiting age under the mortality table on which the reserve is based and shall be presumed abandoned and to be unclaimed funds as defined in this section if unclaimed and unpaid for more than two years thereafter, unless the person appearing entitled thereto has within the two-year period assigned, readjusted, or paid premiums on the policy, or subjected the policy to loan or corresponded in writing with the life insurance corporation concerning the policy. Moneys otherwise payable according to the records of the corporation are deemed due and payable although the policy or contract has not been surrendered as required.

Subsection 2 amended

556.4 Deposits and refunds held by utilities.

The following funds held or owing by any utility are presumed abandoned:
§556.4

1. Any deposit made by a subscriber with a utility to secure payment for, or any sum paid in advance for, utility services to be furnished in this state, less any lawful deductions, that has remained unclaimed by the person appearing on the records of the utility entitled to the deposit for more than one year after the termination of the services for which the deposit or advance payment was made.

2. Any sum which a utility has been ordered to refund and which was received for utility services rendered in this state, together with any interest on the refund, less any lawful deductions, that has remained unclaimed by the person appearing on the records of the utility entitled to the refund for more than one year after the date it became payable in accordance with the final determination or order providing for the refund.

Section amended

556.5 Stocks and other intangible interests in business associations.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 5, stock or other intangible ownership interest in a business association, the existence of which is evidenced by records available to the association, is presumed abandoned and, with respect to the interest, the association is the holder, if a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable as a result of the interest has remained unclaimed by the owner for seven years and the owner within seven years has not:
   a. Communicated in writing with the association regarding the interest or a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable as a result of the interest.
   b. Otherwise communicated with the association regarding the interest or a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable as a result of the interest, as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the association prepared by an employee of the association.

2. At the expiration of a seven-year period following the failure of the owner to claim a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable to the owner as a result of the interest, the interest is not presumed abandoned unless there have been at least seven dividends, distributions, or other sums paid during the period, none of which has been claimed by the owner. If seven dividends, distributions, or other sums are paid during the seven-year period, the period leading to a presumption of abandonment commences on the date payment of the first unclaimed dividend, distribution, or other sum became due and payable. If seven dividends, distributions, or other sums are not paid during the presumptive period, the period continues to run until there have been seven dividends, distributions, or other sums that have not been claimed by the owner.

3. The running of the seven-year period of abandonment ceases immediately upon the occurrence of a communication referred to in subsection 1. If any future dividend, distribution, or other sum payable to the owner as a result of the interest is subsequently not claimed by the owner, a new period of abandonment commences and relates back to the time a subsequent dividend, distribution, or other sum became due and payable.

4. At the time an interest is presumed abandoned under this section, any dividend, distribution, or other sum then held for or owing to the owner as a result of the interest, and not previously abandoned, is presumed abandoned.

5. This section does not apply to any stock or other intangible ownership interest enrolled in a plan that provides for the automatic reinvestment of dividends, distributions, or other sums payable as a result of the interest unless the records available to the treasurer of state show, with respect to any intangible ownership interest not enrolled in the reinvestment plan, that the owner has not within seven years communicated in any manner described in subsection 1.

6. Any stock or other certificate of ownership, or any dividend, profit, distribution, interest, payment on principal, or other sum held or owing to a business association for or to a shareholder, certificate holder, member, bondholder, or other security holder, or a participating patron of a cooperative, who has not claimed it, or corresponded in writing with the business association concerning it, within three years after the date prescribed for payment or delivery, is presumed abandoned.

91 Acts, ch 267, §628 HF 479
Subsection 6 amended

556.7 Property held by fiduciaries.

All intangible personal property and any income or increment thereon, held in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of another person is presumed abandoned unless the owner has, within three years after it becomes payable or distributable, increased or decreased the principal, accepted payment of principal or income, corresponded in writing concerning the property, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the fiduciary which shall have been dated and may have been prepared by the fiduciary or by the owner:

1. If the property is held by a banking organization or a financial organization, or by a business association organized under the laws of or created in this state; or

2. If it is held by a business association, doing business in this state, but not organized under the laws of or created in this state, and the records of the business association indicate that the last known address of the person entitled thereto is in this state; or

3. If it is held in this state by any other person.

91 Acts, ch 267, §629 HF 479
Unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

556.18 Deposit of funds.

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, all funds received under this chapter, including the proceeds from the sale of abandoned property under section
§557C.5

556.17, shall be deposited monthly by the treasurer of state in the general fund of the state. However, the treasurer of state shall retain in a separate trust fund an amount not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars from which the treasurer of state shall make prompt payment of claims duly allowed under section 556.20. Before making the deposit, the treasurer of state shall record the name and last known address of each person appearing from the holders' reports to be entitled to the abandoned property and of the name and last known address of each insured person or annuitant, and with respect to each policy or contract listed in the report of a life insurance corporation, its number, the name of the corporation, and the amount due. The record shall be available for public inspection at all reasonable business hours.

2. Before making any deposit to the credit of the general funds, the state treasurer may deduct:
   a. Any costs in connection with sale of abandoned property.
   b. Any costs of mailing and publication in connection with any abandoned property.
   c. Reasonable service charges.

3. After July 1, 1988, the treasurer of state shall annually credit all moneys received under section 556.4 to the energy research and development fund established in the energy conservation trust under section 93.11.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection directing that moneys received under section 556.4 be deposited into the energy research and development fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all funds received shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

CHAPTER 557C
MINERAL INTERESTS IN COAL

557C.1 Lapse of mineral interests in coal — prevention.
A mineral interest in coal shall be extinguished twenty years after its creation, transfer, or preservation, unless a statement of claim is filed in accordance with section 557C.3, and the ownership shall revert to the person who was then the owner of the interest from which the mineral interest in coal was created, transferred, or preserved. Upon the filing of a statement of claim within the specified period, the mineral interest shall be deemed to have been preserved for an additional period of twenty years, or a shorter period as may be specified in the instrument creating the interest.

557C.2 Mineral interest — definition.
A mineral interest in coal means an interest created by an instrument which creates or transfers either by grant, assignment, reservation, or otherwise, an interest of any kind in coal, as described in chapter 83, without limitation on the manner of mining the coal.

557C.3 Statement of claim — filing requirement.
The statement of claim provided in section 557C.1 shall be filed by the owner of the mineral interest in coal prior to the end of the twenty-year period set forth in section 557C.1 or by July 1, 1994, whichever is later. The statement of claim shall contain the name and address of the owner of the mineral interest in coal, and a description of the real estate on, or under, which the mineral interest in coal is located. The statement of claim shall be filed in the office of the recorder in the county in which the real estate is located.

557C.4 Statement of claim — recorder’s duty.
Upon the filing of the statement of claim provided for in section 557C.3 in the recorder’s office for the county where the real estate on, or under, which the mineral interest in coal exists, is located, the recorder shall record the statement of claim and index it in the claimant’s book.

557C.5 Reservation in other conveyance.
A reservation of a mineral interest in coal or an exception of a mineral interest in coal, contained in a conveyance of the interest out of which it is carved, by a nonowner of the mineral interest in coal shall not be deemed to satisfy the requirements of this chapter or as a revival of a mineral interest in coal otherwise extinguished under this chapter.
§557C.6 Exemption.
The filing of the statement of claim required under section 557C.3 to preserve the mineral interest in coal shall not be required of an owner if the mineral interest was separately taxed for real estate tax purposes at any time after July 1, 1971.

CHAPTER 558
CONVEYANCES

558.5 Contract for deed — presumption of abandonment.
When the record shows that a contract or bond for a deed has been executed more than ten years earlier, and the record discloses no performance of the same and that more than ten years have elapsed since the contract by its terms was to be performed, the contract shall be deemed abandoned and of no effect and the land shall be freed from any lien or defect on account of the contract.

On and after July 1, 1992, this section shall apply to a contract or bond described in this section, if the contract or bond is not filed of record but referred to in another instrument which is filed of record. The contract or bond shall be deemed abandoned ten years from the date that the contract or bond is to be performed according to the recorded instrument. However, if the recorded instrument does not refer to a performance date for the contract or bond, the contract or bond shall be deemed abandoned ten years after the date that the instrument containing the reference is recorded.

91 Acts ch 183 §8 HF 618
Section amended

558.14 Grantor described as “spouse” or “heir” — presumption.
All conveyances or the record title thereof of real estate executed more than ten years earlier, wherein the grantor or grantors described themselves as the surviving spouse, heir at law, heirs at law, surviving spouse and heir at law, or surviving spouse and heirs at law, of some person deceased in whom the record title or ownership of said real estate previously vested, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts so recited as far as they relate to the right of the grantor or grantors to convey, as fully as if the record title of said grantor or grantors had been established by due probate proceedings in the county wherein the real estate is situated.

91 Acts ch 183 §9 HF 618
Section amended

558.42 Acknowledgment as condition precedent.
It shall not be deemed lawfully recorded, unless it has been previously acknowledged or proved in the manner prescribed in this chapter or chapter 77A, except that affidavits, and certified copies of petitions in bankruptcy with or without the schedules appended, of decrees of adjudication in bankruptcy, and of orders approving trustees’ bonds in bankruptcy, and Uniform Commercial Code financing statements and financing statement changes need not be thus acknowledged.

91 Acts ch 321 §12 HF 556
Section amended

558.66 Title decree — entry on transfer books.
Upon receipt of a certificate from the clerk of the district court or an appellate court that the title to real estate has been finally established in any named person by judgment or decree or by will or by affidavit of or on behalf of a surviving spouse that has been recorded by the recorder, the auditor shall enter the information in the certificate upon the transfer books, upon payment of a fee in the amount specified in section 331 507, subsection 2, paragraph “a” In the case of a certificate from the clerk of the district court or an appellate court, the fee shall be taxed as court costs, collected by the clerk, and paid to the treasurer as provided in section 331 902, subsection 3 In the case of the affidavit filed with the recorder, the fee set forth in section 331 507, subsection 2, paragraph “a”, and the fee set forth in section 331 604, shall be collected by the recorder and paid to the treasurer as provided in section 331 902, subsection 3.

An affidavit of or on behalf of a surviving spouse may be filed with the auditor only when real estate owned by a decedent, who died on or after January 1, 1988, was held in joint tenancy with right of survivorship solely with the surviving spouse and shall be in the following form:

CHAPTER 561

HOMESTEAD

561.13 Conveyance or encumbrance. A conveyance or encumbrance of, or contract to convey or encumber the homestead, if the owner is married, is not valid, unless and until the spouse of the owner executes the same or a like instrument, or a power of attorney for the execution of the same or a like instrument, and the instrument or power of attorney sets out the legal description of the home­stead. However, when the homestead is conveyed or encumbered along with or in addition to other real estate, it is not necessary to particularly describe or set aside the tract of land constituting the home­stead, whether the homestead is exclusively the sub­ject of the contract or not, but the contract may be enforced as to real estate other than the homestead at the option of the purchaser or encumbrancer. If a spouse who holds only homestead rights and surviving spouse’s statutory share in the homestead specifically relinquishes homestead rights in an instrument, including a power of attorney constituting the other spouse as the husband’s or wife’s attorney in fact, as provided in section 597.5, it is not neces­sary for the spouse to join in the granting clause of the same or a like instrument.

CHAPTER 566

CEMETERIES AND MANAGEMENT THEREOF

566.14 Political subdivisions as trustees. Counties, cities, irrespective of their form of gov­ernment, boards of trustees of cities to whom the management of municipal cemeteries has been transferred by ordinance, and civil townships wholly outside of any city, are trustees in perpetuity, and are required to accept, receive, and expend all mon­eys and property donated or left to them by bequest for perpetual care, and that portion of cemetery lot sales or permanent charges made against cemetery lots which has been set aside in a perpetual care fund for which there is no other acting trustee, to be used in caring for the property of the donor or lot owner who by purchase or otherwise has provided for the perpetual care of a cemetery lot in any cemetery, or in accordance with the terms of the donation, bequest, or agreement for sale and purchase of a cemetery lot, and the money or property thus received shall be used for no other purpose.

91 Acts, ch 188, §3 HF 237
Section amended

566.15 Authority to invest funds — current care charge payments.

The board of supervisors, mayor and council, or other elected governmental body, as the case may be, has the authority to receive and invest all moneys and property, donated or bequeathed, and that portion of cemetery lot sales and permanent charges made against cemetery lots which have been set aside in a perpetual care fund, in investments for which they have exercised the judgment and care, under the circumstances then prevailing, which persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their affairs. The income from the investment shall be used in caring for the property of the donor in any cemetery, or as shall be provided in the terms of the gift or donations or agreement for sale and purchase of a cemetery lot.

All current charges received shall be allocated to the perpetual care fund or to the fund paying the costs of cemetery operation. Care charge payments received one year or more after the date they were incurred shall be used to fund the cost of operating the cemetery. Care charge payments received one year or more in advance of their due date shall be deposited in the perpetual care fund. Interest from the perpetual care fund shall be used for the maintenance of both occupied and unoccupied lots or spaces. Any remaining interest may be used for costs of access roads and paths, fencing, and general maintenance of the cemetery. Lots under perpetual care shall be maintained in accordance with the cemetery covenants of sale.

Section amended
NEW unnumbered paragraph 2

566.16 Resolution of acceptance — interest.

Before any part of the principal may be invested or used, the county, city, board of trustees of a city to whom the management of a municipal cemetery has been transferred by ordinance, or civil township shall, by resolution, accept the moneys described in section 566.14 and, by resolution, shall provide for the payment of interest annually to the appropriate fund, or to the cemetery association, or the person in charge of the cemetery, to be used in caring for or maintaining the individual property of the donor in the cemetery, or lots which have been sold if provision was made for perpetual care, all in accordance with the terms of the donation or bequest, or the terms of the sale or purchase of a cemetery lot.

If there is no cemetery association or person in charge of the cemetery, the income from the fund shall be expended under the direction of the board of supervisors, city council, board of trustees, or civil township trustees, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of the donation or bequest, or the terms of the sale or purchase of a cemetery lot.

91 Acts, ch 188, §6 HF 237
Section amended

566.21 Presumption of abandonment.

The continued failure by the owner to maintain or care for an unoccupied cemetery lot or space not under perpetual care, or to pay the annual care fee, for a period of ten years shall create the presumption that the lot or space has been abandoned. A lot with empty space under perpetual care which has not had a burial for seventy-five years shall create a presumption that the empty space has been abandoned.

91 Acts, ch 188, §7 HF 237
Section amended

566.22 Notice of abandonment.

Abandonment shall not be deemed complete unless after the ten-year or seventy-five year period, whichever is applicable, there is given by the reversionary owner to the recorded owner, or if the recorded owner is deceased or the recorded owner's whereabouts are unknown, to the heirs of the recorded owner, notice declaring the lot to be abandoned.

91 Acts, ch 188, §8 HF 237
Section amended

566.24 Overcoming presumption of abandonment.

If within one year from the time of serving the notice, the recorded owner or the owner's heirs pay the past due annual care charges against the lot, then the presumption of abandonment shall no longer exist and the recorded owner may be required to make full payment for future perpetual care.

91 Acts, ch 188, §9 HF 237
Section amended

566.26 Use of funds.

Any funds realized from the sale of all or a part of an unoccupied lot not under perpetual care which has reverted shall be allocated to the perpetual care fund and to the fund paying the costs of cemetery operation.

CHAPTER 566A
CEMETERY REGULATIONS

566A.1 Applicability of chapter — requirements for certain organizations.
1. A corporation or other form of organization engaging in the business of the ownership, maintenance, or operation of a cemetery, which provides lots or other interment space for the remains of human bodies is subject to this chapter. However, a church, religious organization, or established fraternal society is subject only to subsection 2 of this section. Political subdivisions of the state are exempt from this chapter.

2. An organization which establishes a fund for the perpetual care of a cemetery shall establish the fund as an irrevocable trust to provide for the care and maintenance of the cemetery for which it was established, and shall provide for the appointment of a trustee, with perpetual succession, in case the organization is dissolved or ceases to be responsible for the cemetery's care and maintenance.

ACQUISITION OF TITLE BY STATE OR MUNICIPAL CORPORATION

569.8 Title under tax deed — sale — proceeds.
1. Disposition by a county of a parcel acquired by tax deed shall comply with section 331.361, subsection 2.

2. When title to a parcel acquired by tax deed is transferred, the auditor shall immediately record the deed and the assessor shall enter the parcel to be assessed following the assessment date.

3. A parcel the county holds by tax deed shall not be assessed or taxed until transferred.

4. The transfer of a parcel acquired by tax deed gives the purchaser free title as to previously levied or set taxes.

5. The proceeds of the sale shall be credited to the county general fund.

CHAPTER 570A
AGRICULTURAL SUPPLY DEALER'S LIEN

570A.4 Perfection of lien.
1. In order to perfect the lien created by section 570A.3, the agricultural supply dealer entitled to the lien shall file a verified lien statement with the office of the secretary of state. The lien statement may be filed at the time the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product is purchased or delivered but not later than thirty-one days after the first date on which payment is due under the terms of payment agreed to by the farmer and the agricultural supply dealer. The lien statement shall disclose all of the following:

a. The name and address of the agricultural supply dealer claiming the lien.

b. An itemized declaration of the nature and retail cost of the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product which has been or may be furnished pursuant to the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

c. The last date through which the agricultural supply dealer claiming the lien has agreed to furnish agricultural chemicals, seed, feed, or petroleum products as stated in the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

d. The first date on which payment was due, according to the terms of payment, from the farmer for whom the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product was furnished or may be furnished pursuant to the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

e. The name and address of the farmer for whom the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product was furnished or may be furnished pursuant to the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

f. A description of the real property on which the crops to which the lien attaches are growing or are to be grown or the description of the livestock to which the lien attaches.

2. The secretary of state shall enter on the lien statement the time of day and date of filing.

3. If an agricultural supply dealer fails to file the lien statement within the time required by subsection 1, the lien and all benefits under this chapter are forfeited.

4. The secretary of state shall note the filing of a lien statement under this section in the manner provided by chapter 554, the uniform commercial code, and shall charge a fee as provided under section 554.9403.

5. An agricultural supply dealer filing a verified lien statement shall request from the secretary of state a certificate showing any effective financing statement or verified lien statements naming the debtor and the crops or livestock to which the lien attaches. The agricultural supply dealer shall notify by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, any other creditor who holds a lien or security interest which is subordinate or equal to the agricultural supply dealer's lien.

CHAPTER 573
LABOR AND MATERIAL ON PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

573.12 Payments and retention from payments on contracts.

1. Retention. Payments made under contracts for the construction of public improvements, unless provided otherwise by law, shall be made on the basis of monthly estimates of labor performed and material delivered, as determined by the project architect or engineer. The public corporation shall retain from each monthly payment not more than five percent of that amount which is determined to be due according to the estimate of the architect or engineer. However, institutions governed pursuant to chapter 262 may, on contracts where a bond is required under section 573.2, make payments under this section without retention until ninety-five percent of the contract amount has been paid and the remaining five percent of the contract amount shall be paid as provided under section 573.14.

The contractor may retain from each payment to a subcontractor not more than the lesser of five percent or the amount specified in the contract between the contractor and the subcontractor.

2. Prompt payment.

a. (1) Interest shall be paid to the contractor on any progress payment that is approved as payable by the public corporation's project architect or engineer and remains unpaid for a period of fourteen days after receipt of the payment request at the place, or by the person, designated in the contract, or by the public corporation to first receive the request, or for a time period greater than fourteen days, unless a time period greater than fourteen days is specified in the contract documents, not to exceed thirty days, to afford the public corporation a reasonable opportunity to inspect the work and to determine the adequacy of the contractor's performance under the contract.

(2) Interest shall accrue during the period commencing the day after the expiration of the period defined in subparagraph (1) and ending on the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be determined as set forth in section 573.14.

b. A progress payment or final payment to a subcontractor for satisfactory performance of the subcontractor's work shall be made no later than one of the following, as applicable:

(1) Seven days after the contractor receives payment for that subcontractor's work.

(2) A reasonable time after the contractor could have received payment for the subcontractor's work, if the reason for nonpayment is not the subcontractor's fault.
A contractor's acceptance of payment for one subcontractor's work is not a waiver of claims, and does not prejudice the rights of the contractor, as to any other claim related to the contract or project.

3. Interest payments.
   a. If the contractor receives an interest payment under section 573.14, the contractor shall pay the subcontractor a share of the interest payment proportional to the payment for that subcontractor's work.
   b. If a public corporation other than a school corporation, county, or city retains funds, the interest earned on those funds shall be payable at the time of final payment on the contract in accordance with the schedule and exemptions specified by the public corporation in its administrative rules. The rate of interest shall be determined by the period of time during which interest accrues, and shall be the same as the rate of interest that is in effect under section 453.6 as of the day interest begins to accrue.

573.14 Retention of unpaid funds.
The fund provided for in section 573.13 shall be retained by the public corporation for a period of thirty days after the completion and final acceptance of the improvement. If at the end of the thirty-day period claims are on file as provided the public corporation shall continue to retain from the unpaid funds a sum equal to double the total amount of all claims on file. The remaining balance of the unpaid fund, or if no claims are on file, the entire unpaid fund, shall be released and paid to the contractor.

The public corporation shall order payment of any amount due the contractor to be made in accordance with the terms of the contract. Except as provided in section 573.12 for progress payments, failure to make payment pursuant to this section, of any amount due the contractor, within forty days, unless a greater time period not to exceed fifty days is specified in the contract documents, after the work under the contract has been completed and if the work has been accepted and all required materials, certifications, and other documents required to be submitted by the contractor and specified by the contract have been furnished the awarding public corporation by the contractor, shall cause interest to accrue on the amount unpaid to the benefit of the unpaid party. Interest shall accrue during the period commencing the thirty-first day following the completion of work and satisfaction of the other requirements of this paragraph and ending on the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be determined by the period of time during which interest accrues, and shall be the same as the rate of interest that is in effect under section 453.6, as of the day interest begins to accrue, for a deposit of public funds for a comparable period of time. This paragraph does not abridge any of the rights set forth in section 573.16. Except as provided in sections 573.12 and 573.16, interest shall not accrue on funds retained by the public corporation to satisfy the provisions of this section regarding claims on file. This chapter does not apply if the public corporation has entered into a contract with the federal government or accepted a federal grant which is governed by federal law or rules that are contrary to the provisions of this chapter.

573.16 Optional and mandatory actions — bond to release.
The public corporation, the principal contractor, any claimant for labor or material who has filed a claim, or the surety on any bond given for the performance of the contract, may, at any time after the expiration of thirty days, and not later than sixty days, following the completion and final acceptance of said improvement, bring action in equity in the county where the improvement is located to adjudicate all rights to said fund, or to enforce liability on said bond.

Upon written demand of the contractor served, in the manner prescribed for original notices, on the person filing a claim, requiring the claimant to commence action in court to enforce the claim, an action shall be commenced within thirty days, otherwise the retained and unpaid funds due the contractor shall be released. Unpaid funds shall be paid to the contractor within twenty days of the receipt by the public corporation of the release as determined pursuant to this section. Failure to make payment by that date shall cause interest to accrue on the unpaid amount. Interest shall accrue during the period commencing the twenty-first day after the date of release and ending on the date of the payment. The rate of interest shall be determined pursuant to section 573.14. After an action is commenced, upon the general contractor filing with the public corporation or person withholding the funds, a surety bond in double the amount of the claim in controversy, conditioned to pay any final judgment rendered for the claims so filed, the public corporation or person shall pay to the contractor the amount of funds withheld.

573.18 Adjudication — payment of claims.
The court shall adjudicate all claims for which an action is filed under section 573.16. Payments from the retained percentage, if still in the hands of the public corporation, shall be made in the following order:
1. Costs of the action.
2. Claims for labor.
3. Claims for materials.

Upon settlement or adjudication of a claim and after judgment is entered, unpaid funds retained with respect to the claim which are not necessary to satisfy the judgment shall be released and paid to the contractor within twenty days of receipt by the public corporation of evidence of entry of judgment or settlement of the claim. Failure to make payment by that date shall cause interest to accrue on the unpaid amount. Interest shall accrue during the period commencing on the twenty-first day after receipt by the public corporation of evidence of entry of judgment and ending on the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be determined as set forth in section 573.14.

CHAPTER 577
ARTISAN'S LIEN

577.1 Nature of lien — generally — aircraft and equipment.
1. Any person who renders any service or furnishes any material in the making, repairing, improving, or enhancing the value of any inanimate personal property, with the assent of the owner, express or implied, shall have a lien thereon for the agreed or reasonable compensation for the service and material while such property is lawfully in the person's possession, which possession the person may retain until such compensation is paid, but such lien shall be subject to all prior liens of record, unless notice is given to all lienholders of record and written consent is obtained from all lienholders of record to the making, repairing, improving, or enhancing the value of any inanimate personal property and in this event the lien created under this section shall be prior to liens of record.

2. The assent of the owner shall be implied, for purposes of determining whether a lien on inanimate personal property exists, if all of the following are established:
   b. The aircraft is either owned, leased, operated, or on order by an air carrier certified under section 604(b) of the federal Aviation Act of 1958, 49 U.S.C. § 1424(b), or by any other person that rents or leases commercial airliners to certified air carriers in the regular course of business.
   c. The material furnished is new electronic navigation or communications aviation equipment.
   d. The equipment is delivered for installation on the aircraft at the request of a lessee, operator, or other person, or an agent of the lessee, operator, or other person, who has an interest in or exercises control over the aircraft.

The aircraft and equipment shall be deemed, for purposes of determining priority over perfected security interests, to be in the possession of the person who furnished the equipment, if the person either manufactures or sells the equipment in the regular course of business and allows the equipment to be made available for installation on the aircraft by releasing it for delivery. Possession of the aircraft and equipment shall be deemed to continue up to, and including, ninety days after the equipment is fully installed on the aircraft, except that if a notice of lien is filed with the federal aviation administration, and no subsequent release of the lien is on file, it shall be deemed to continue indefinitely. A notice of lien under this section is not required to be verified or notarized, but shall be signed by the lienholder, the lienholder's designated agent, or the lienholder's attorney and must identify the aircraft which is the subject of the lien. Notwithstanding subsection 1, liens obtained under this subsection attach and take priority over all other prior liens of record without the giving of prior notice or the obtaining of consent and are enforceable against all persons, including a bona fide purchaser.

CHAPTER 589
REAL PROPERTY LEGALIZING ACTS

589.1 Acknowledgments — seal not affixed.
All deeds, mortgages, or other instruments in writing for the conveyance of lands which have been made and executed more than ten years earlier, and the officer taking the acknowledgment has not affixed the officer's seal to the acknowledgment; the acknowledgment is, nevertheless, good and valid in law and equity, any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §11 HF 618
Section amended

589.2 Conveyances by county.
All deeds executed more than ten years earlier, by a court or the chairperson of the board of supervisors of a county, and to which the officer executing the deed has failed or omitted to affix the county seal, and all deeds where the clerk has failed or omitted to countersign when required so to do, are legalized and valid as though the law had in all respects been fully complied with.

91 Acts, ch 183, §12 HF 618
Section amended

589.3 Absence of or defective acknowledgments.
Any instrument in writing affecting the title to real estate within the state of Iowa, to which is attached no certificate of acknowledgment, or to which is attached a defective certificate of acknowledgment, which was, more than ten years earlier, recorded or spread upon the records in the office of the recorder of the county in which the real estate described in the instrument is located, is, together with the recording and the record of the recording, valid, legal, and binding as if the instrument had been properly acknowledged and legally recorded.

91 Acts, ch 183, §13 HF 618
Section amended

589.4 Acknowledgments by corporation officers.
The acknowledgments of all deeds, mortgages, or other instruments in writing taken or certified more than ten years earlier, which instruments have been recorded in the recorder's office of any county of this state, including acknowledgments of instruments made by a corporation, or to which the corporation was a party, or under which the corporation was a beneficiary, and which have been acknowledged before or certified by a notary public who was at the time of the acknowledgment or certifying a stockholder or officer in the corporation, are legal and valid official acts of the notaries public, and entitle the instruments to be recorded, anything in the laws of the state of Iowa in regard to acknowledgments to the contrary notwithstanding. This section does not affect pending litigation.

91 Acts, ch 183, §14 HF 618
Section amended

589.5 Acknowledgments by stockholders.
All deeds and conveyances of lands within this state executed more than ten years earlier, but which have been acknowledged or proved according to and in compliance with the laws of this state before a notary public or other official authorized by law to take acknowledgments who was, at the time of the acknowledgment, an officer or stockholder of a corporation interested in the deed or conveyance, or otherwise interested in the deeds or conveyances, are, if otherwise valid, valid in law as though acknowledged or proved before an officer not interested in the deeds or conveyances; and if recorded more than ten years earlier, in the respective counties in which the lands are, the records are valid in law as though the deeds and conveyances, so acknowledged or proved and recorded, had, prior to being recorded, been acknowledged or proved before an officer having no interest in the deeds or conveyances.

91 Acts, ch 183, §15 HF 618
Section amended

589.6 Instruments affecting real estate.

All instruments in writing executed by a corporation more than ten years earlier, conveying, encumbering, or affecting real estate, including releases, satisfactions of mortgages, judgments, or any other liens by entry of the release or satisfaction upon the page where the lien appears recorded or entered, where the corporate seal of the corporation has not been affixed or attached, and which are otherwise legally and properly executed, are legal, valid, and binding as though the corporate seal had been attached or affixed.

91 Acts, ch 183, §16 HF 618
Section amended

589.8 Mortgages, trust deeds and realty liens — releases.

A release or satisfaction of a mortgage or trust deed, or of an instrument in writing creating a lien upon real estate where the release or satisfaction has been recorded in the recorder's office of the county in this state, or upon the margin of the record, where the original instrument was recorded and which release or satisfaction was made by an individual, association, copartnership, assignee, corporation, attorney in fact, or by a resident or foreign executor, administrator, referee, receiver, trustee, guardian, or commissioner, and which release or satisfaction was executed, filed, and recorded more than ten years earlier, is valid, legal and binding, any defects in the execution, acknowledgment, recording, filing, or otherwise of the releases or satisfactions to the contrary notwithstanding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §17 HF 618
Section amended

589.9 Marginal releases of school-fund mortgages.

The release or satisfaction of a school-fund mortgage entered on the margin of the record of the mortgage by the auditor of the county more than ten years earlier, is legalized as though the auditor had, at the time of entering the release or satisfaction, the same power thereafter conferred upon the auditor by chapter 53 of the Acts of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly.

91 Acts, ch 183, §18 HF 618
Section amended

589.10 Marginal assignment of mortgage or lien.

If an assignment of a mortgage or other recorded lien on real estate has been executed more than ten years earlier, by written assignment on the margin of the record where the mortgage or other lien is recorded or entered, the assignment passed all the right, title, and interest in the real estate, which the assignor at the time had, with like force and effect as if the assignment had been made by separate instrument duly acknowledged and recorded; and an assignment or a duly authenticated copy of an assignment when accompanied by a duly authenticated copy of the record of the instrument or lien it purports to assign, is admissible in evidence as provided by law for the admission of the records of deeds and mortgages.

91 Acts, ch 183, §19 HF 618
Section amended

589.11 Conveyances by fiduciaries.

If an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee, receiver, referee, or commissioner, acting in that capacity in this or any state, has conveyed in the trust capacity real estate lying in this state and the conveyance has been of record for more than ten years, in the county where the real estate so conveyed is located and which conveyance purports to sustain the title in the present record owner, the conveyance is not void or insufficient because due and legal notice of all proceedings with reference to the making of the conveyance was not served upon all interested or necessary parties, or that the executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee, receiver, referee, or commissioner is not shown to have been duly authorized by an order of court to make and execute the conveyance, that a bond was not given, or that a report of the sale was not made; or the sale or deed of conveyance was not approved by order of court, or a foreign executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee, receiver, referee, or commissioner was not appointed or qualified in the state of Iowa prior to the making of the conveyance, or the record fails to disclose compliance with any law, and all such conveyances are valid, legal, and binding. Allotments by referees in partition are conveyances within the meaning of this section.

91 Acts, ch 183, §20 HF 618
Section amended

589.12 Sheriffs' deeds.

A sheriff's deed executed more than ten years earlier which purports to sustain the record title is not ineffectual on account of the failure of the record to show that any of the steps in obtaining the judgment or in the sale of the property were complied with. The proceedings are legalized as if the record showed that the law has been complied with.

91 Acts, ch 183, §21 HF 618
Section amended

589.13 Sheriff's deed executed by deputy.

All conveyances of land in this state, executed in this state by a deputy sheriff, and properly recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county where the land is located, more than ten years earlier, have the same force and effect as though the conveyance had been executed by the sheriff.

91 Acts, ch 183, §22 HF 618
Section amended
§589.14 Defective tax deeds.
A tax deed executed more than ten years earlier which purports to sustain the record title, is not ineffectual because of the failure of the record to show that any of the steps in the sale and deeding of the property were complied with and these proceedings are legalized and valid as if the record showed that the law had been complied with.

Section amended

§589.17 Conveyances by spouse under power.
A conveyance of real estate executed more than ten years earlier, in which the husband or wife conveyed or contracted to convey the inchoate right of dower through the other spouse, acting as the attorney in fact, by virtue of a power of attorney executed by the spouse, the power of attorney not having been executed as a part of a contract of separation, are not invalid.

91 Acts, ch 183, §24 HF 618
Section amended

§589.18 Conveyances by foreign executors.
All conveyances of real property executed more than ten years earlier, by executors or trustees under foreign wills and prior to the date upon which the will was admitted to probate in Iowa or prior to the expiration of three months after the recording of a duly authenticated copy of the will, original record of appointment, qualification, and bond, and in which the will was, subsequent to the conveyance, probated in Iowa, and in which a duly authenticated copy of the will, original record of appointment, qualification, and bond was, subsequent to the conveyance, made a matter of record as provided in those sections, are legalized and valid in law and in equity as though the will had been probated in Iowa prior to the conveyance. However, this section does not affect pending litigation.

91 Acts, ch 183, §25 HF 618
Section amended

§589.19 Conveyances under school-fund foreclosures.
If the title to real estate has been conveyed more than ten years earlier, by the sheriff of a county pursuant to sheriff's sale under the foreclosure of permanent school-fund mortgages to the state, or to the state for the use of the school fund, or to the county for the school fund; and the land has been sold under authority of the board of supervisors of the county and conveyed under its authority, more than ten years earlier, and the full purchase price paid and credited to, and used by, the county for the permanent school fund of the county, all right, title, or interest of the state in and to the real estate is relinquished and quitclaimed to the purchaser or the purchaser's grantees forever, and the title confirmed in the purchaser, or the purchaser's grantees insofar as the erroneous conveyance is concerned.

§589.22 Descriptions referring to defective plats.
The description of land in all instruments, conveyances, and encumbrances describing lots in or referring to plats of survey or to plats made by a county auditor, or by a county surveyor for the owner, and placed of record by a county recorder more than ten years earlier, are legalized, valid and binding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §28 HF 618
Section amended

§589.23 Defective instruments.
A deed of conveyance, or other instrument purporting to convey real estate within the state, where the deed or instrument has been recorded in the office of the recorder of any county in which the real estate is situated, and the deed or instrument was executed by a county treasurer under a tax sale, a sheriff under execution sale, or by a resident or foreign executor, administrator, referee, receiver, trustee, guardian, commissioner, individual, copartnership, association, or corporation, and was executed and recorded more than ten years earlier, and if the grantee named in the deed or conveyance, or other instrument, or the grantee's heirs or devisees, by direct line of title or conveyance have been in the actual, open, adverse possession of the premises since that date, is legalized, valid, and binding, notwithstanding defects in the execution of the deed or instrument.

91 Acts, ch 183, §29 HF 618
Section amended

§589.24 Sales of real estate by school district.
All deeds and conveyances of land executed by or purporting to be executed by a school district or by the board of directors of a school district, and placed of record more than ten years earlier, which deeds or conveyances purport to sustain the record title, are legalized and valid, even though the record fails to show that all necessary steps in the sale and deeding of the property were complied with. The deeds and conveyances are legalized and valid as if the record showed that the law had been complied with, and that the sales had been duly authorized by the electors of the school district.

CHAPTER 592
CITIES AND TOWNS — LEGALIZING ACTS

592.3 City and town plats.

1. In all cases where, prior to January 1, 1980, any person has laid out any parcel of land into town or city lots and the plat of the lots has been recorded and the plat appears to be insufficient because of failure to show certificates of the county clerk of the district court, county treasurer, or county recorder, or the affidavit and bond, if any, and the certificate of approval of the local governing body or because the certificates are defective, or because of a failure to fully comply with all of the provisions of chapter 409A of the Code in effect at the time of the recording of the plat, or corresponding statutes of earlier Codes, or because the plat failed to show signatures or acknowledgment of proprietors as provided by law, or because the acknowledgment was defective, and subsequent to the platting, lots or subdivisions of the lots have been sold and conveyed, all such said plats which have not been vacated, are legalized as of the date of the recording of the plat, to the same extent as if the plat did not appear insufficient, if subsequent to the platting, the lots or subdivisions of the lots have been sold and conveyed, and the plats have not been vacated. A plat shall appear insufficient because of one of the following:

a. A failure to show or a deficiency in a certificate of the county clerk of the district court, county treasurer, or county recorder, or an affidavit and bond, or a certificate of approval of a local governing body.

b. A failure to fully comply with Code provisions in effect at the time of the recording of the plat.

c. A failure to show or a deficiency in a signature or acknowledgment of a proprietor as provided by law.

The record of the plat shall be conclusive evidence that the person was the proprietor of the tract of land and the owner of the tract at the time of the platting, and that the tract of land was free and clear of all encumbrances unless an affidavit to the contrary was filed at the time of recording the plat.

After July 1, 1992, no action shall be brought on any cause arising more than ten years earlier or which has been in existence for more than ten years, to establish, enforce, or recover any right, title, interest, lien, or condition existing at the time of the platting, and adverse to a clear and unqualified title in fee simple in the owner unless on or before July 1, 1992, there is filed in the office of county recorder of the county where the real estate involved is located a written statement, acknowledged by the claimant, definitely describing the real estate involved, stating the nature and extent of the right or interest claimed, and stating the facts upon which the claim is based.

2. After July 1, 1992, in all cases where more than ten years earlier, a plat of lots from a parcel of land which has been laid into town or city lots has been recorded and the plat appears to be insufficient, the plat is legalized as of the date of the recording of the plat to the same extent as if the plat did not appear insufficient, if subsequent to the platting, the lots or a subdivision of the lots have been sold and conveyed, and the plats have not been vacated. A plat shall appear insufficient because of one of the following:

a. A failure to show or a deficiency in a certificate of the county clerk of the district court, county treasurer, or county recorder, or an affidavit and bond, or a certificate of approval of a local governing body.

b. A failure to fully comply with Code provisions in effect at the time of the recording of the plat.

c. A failure to show or a deficiency in a signature or acknowledgment of a proprietor as provided by law.

The record of the plat shall be conclusive evidence that the person was the proprietor of the tract of land and the owner of the tract at the time of the platting, and that the tract of land was free and clear of all encumbrances unless an affidavit to the contrary was filed at the time of recording the plat.

MARRIAGE

595.3 License.
Previous to the solemnization of any marriage, a license for that purpose must be obtained from the clerk of the district court. Such license must not be granted in any case:
1. Where either party is under the age necessary to render the marriage valid.
2. Where either party is under eighteen years of age, unless the marriage is approved by a judge of the district court as provided by section 595.2, subsection 2.
3. Where either party is disqualified from making any civil contract.
4. Where the parties are within the degrees of consanguinity or affinity in which marriages are prohibited by law.
5. Where either party is a ward under a guardianship and the court has made a finding that the ward lacks the capacity to contract a valid marriage.

91 Acts, ch 93, §2 SF 495
Subsection 5 amended

595.4 Age and qualification — verified application — waiting period — exception.
Previous to the issuance of any license to marry, the parties desiring such license shall sign and file a verified application with the clerk of the court which application either may be mailed to the parties at their request or may be signed by them at the office of the clerk of the district court in the county in which the license is to be issued. Such application shall set forth at least one affidavit of some competent and disinterested person stating such facts as to age and qualification of the parties as the clerk may deem necessary to determine the competency of the parties to contract a marriage. Upon the filing of the application for a license to marry, the clerk of the district court shall file the application in a record kept for that purpose.

After expiration of three days from the date of filing the application by the parties, the clerk shall issue the license if the clerk is satisfied as to the competency of the parties to contract a marriage. If the license has not been issued within six months from the date of the application, the application is void.

A license to marry may be issued prior to the expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license in cases of emergency or extraordinary circumstances. An order authorizing the issuance of a license may be granted by a judge of the district court under conditions of emergency or extraordinary circumstances upon application of the parties filed with the clerk of court. No such order may be granted unless the parties have filed an application for a marriage license in a county within the judicial district. An application for such an order shall be made on forms furnished by the clerk at the same time the application for the license to marry is made. If after examining the application for the marriage license the clerk is satisfied as to the competency of the parties to contract a marriage, the clerk shall refer the parties to a judge of the district court for action on the application for an order authorizing the issuance of a marriage license prior to expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license. The judge shall, if satisfied as to the existence of an emergency or extraordinary circumstances, grant an order authorizing the issuance of a license to marry prior to the expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license to marry. The clerk shall issue a license to marry upon presentation by the parties of the order authorizing a license to be issued. A fee of five dollars shall be paid to the clerk at the time the application for the order is made, which fee is in addition to the fee prescribed by law for the issuance of a marriage license.

CHAPTER 596
PREMARITAL AGREEMENTS
Chapter applies to premarital agreements executed on or after January 1, 1992 agreements entered into prior to that date not affected, § 596 12

596.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter:
1. “Premarital agreement” means an agreement between prospective spouses made in contemplation of marriage and to be effective upon marriage.
2. “Property” means an interest, present or future, legal or equitable, vested or contingent, in real or personal property.
91 Acts ch 77 §1 HF 357
NEW section

596.2 Construction and application.
This chapter shall be construed and applied to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to premarital agreements.
91 Acts ch 77 §2 HF 357
NEW section

596.3 Short title.
This chapter may be cited as the Iowa uniform premarital agreement Act.
91 Acts ch 77 §3 HF 357
NEW section

596.4 Formalities.
A premarital agreement must be in writing and signed by both prospective spouses. It is enforceable without consideration other than the marriage. Both parties to the agreement shall execute all documents necessary to enforce the agreement.
91 Acts ch 77 §4 HF 357
NEW section

596.5 Content.
1. Parties to a premarital agreement may contract with respect to the following:
   a. The rights and obligations of each of the parties in any of the property of either or both of them whenever and wherever acquired or located.
   b. The right to buy, sell, use, transfer, exchange, abandon, lease, consume, expend, assign, create a security interest in, mortgage, encumber, dispose of, or otherwise manage and control property.
   c. The disposition of property upon separation, dissolution of the marriage, death, or the occurrence or nonoccurrence of any other event.
   d. The making of a will, trust, or other arrangement to carry out the provisions of the agreement.
   e. The ownership rights in and disposition of the death benefit from a life insurance policy.
   f. The choice of law governing the construction of the agreement.
   g. Any other matter, including the personal rights and obligations of the parties, not in violation of public policy or a statute imposing a criminal penalty.
   2. The right of a spouse or child to support shall not be adversely affected by a premarital agreement.
91 Acts ch 77 §5 HF 357
NEW section

596.6 Effective date of agreement.
A premarital agreement becomes effective upon the marriage of the parties.
91 Acts ch 77 §6 HF 357
NEW section

596.7 Revocation.
After marriage, a premarital agreement may be revoked only as follows:
1. By a written agreement signed by both spouses. The revocation is enforceable without consideration.
2. To revoke a premarital agreement without the consent of the other spouse, the person seeking revocation must prove one or more of the following:
   a. The person did not execute the agreement voluntarily.
   b. The agreement was unconscionable when it was executed.
   c. Before the execution of the agreement the person was not provided a fair and reasonable disclosure of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse; and the person did not have, or reasonably could not have had, an adequate knowledge of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse.
91 Acts ch 77 §7 HF 357
NEW section

596.8 Enforcement.
A premarital agreement is not enforceable if the person against whom enforcement is sought proves any of the following:
1. The person did not execute the agreement voluntarily.
2. The agreement was unconscionable when it was executed.
3. Before the execution of the agreement the person was not provided a fair and reasonable disclosure of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse; and the person did not have, or reasonably could not have had, an adequate knowledge of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse.
If a provision of the agreement or the application of the provision to a party is found by the court to be unenforceable, the provision shall be severed from the remainder of the agreement and shall not affect the provisions, or application, of the agreement which can be given effect without the unenforceable provision.

596.9 Unconscionability.
In any action under this chapter to revoke or enforce a premarital agreement the issue of unconscionability of a premarital agreement shall be decided by the court as a matter of law.

596.10 Enforcement — void marriage.
If a marriage is determined to be void, an agreement that would otherwise have been a premarital agreement is enforceable only to the extent necessary to avoid an inequitable result.

596.11 Limitation of actions.
Any statute of limitations applicable to an action asserting a claim for relief under a premarital agreement is tolled during the marriage of the parties to the agreement. However, equitable defenses limiting the time for enforcement, including laches and estoppel, are available to either party.

596.12 Effective date.
This chapter takes effect on January 1, 1992, and applies to any premarital agreement executed on or after that date. This chapter does not affect the validity under Iowa law of any premarital agreement entered into prior to January 1, 1992.

CHAPTER 597
HUSBAND AND WIFE

597.5 Attorney in fact.
A husband or wife may constitute the other spouse as the husband's or wife's attorney in fact, to control and dispose of the husband's or wife's property, including the relinquishment of homestead rights and surviving spouse's statutory share in the homestead, as provided in section 561.13, for their mutual benefit, and may revoke the appointment, the same as other persons.

CHAPTER 598
DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE

598.22A Satisfaction of support payments.
Notwithstanding sections 252B.14 and 598.22, support payments ordered pursuant to any support chapter for orders entered on or after July 1, 1985, which are not made pursuant to the provisions of section 252B.14 or 598.22, shall be credited only as provided in this section.

1. For payment made pursuant to an order, the clerk of the district court or collection services center shall record a satisfaction as a credit on the official support payment record if its validity is confirmed by the court upon submission of an affidavit by the person entitled to receive the payment, after notice is given to all parties.
If a satisfaction recorded on the official support payment record by the clerk of the district court or collection services center prior to July 1, 1991, was not confirmed as valid by the court, and a party to the action submits a written affidavit objecting to the satisfaction, notice of the objection shall be mailed to all parties at their last known addresses. After all parties have had sufficient opportunity to respond to the objection, the court shall either require the satisfaction to be removed from the official support payment record or confirm its validity.

2. For purposes of this section, the state is a party to which notice shall be given when public funds have been expended pursuant to chapter 234, 239, or 249A, or similar statutes in another state. If proper notice is not given to the state when required, any order of satisfaction is void.

3. The court shall not enter an order for satisfaction of payments not made through the clerk of the district court or collection services center if those payments have been assigned as a result of public funds expended pursuant to chapter 234, 239, or 249A, or similar statutes in other states.

91 Acts, ch 177, §7 HF 558
Subsection 1 amended

598.29 Annulling illegal marriage — causes.
Marriage may be annulled for the following causes:
1. Where the marriage between the parties is prohibited by law.
2. Where either party was impotent at the time of marriage.
3. Where either party had a husband or wife living at the time of the marriage, provided they have not, with a knowledge of such fact, lived and cohabited together after the death or marriage dissolution of the former spouse of such party.
4. Where either party was a ward under a guardianship and was found by the court to lack the capacity to contract a valid marriage.

91 Acts, ch 93, §3 SF 495
Subsection 4 amended

598.42 Notice of certain orders by clerk of court.
The clerk of the district court shall provide oral or other notice and copies of temporary or permanent protective orders and orders to vacate the homestead entered pursuant to this chapter to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide oral or other notice and copies of modifications or vacations of these orders in the same manner.

91 Acts, ch 218, §20 SF 444

600.16 Termination and adoption record.

1. Any information compiled under section 600.8, subsection 1, paragraph "c", subparagraphs (1) and (2) shall be made available at any time by the clerk of the court, the department, or any agency which made the placement to:
   a. The adopting parents.
   b. The adopted person, provided that person is an adult at the time the request for information is made.
   c. Any person approved by the department if the person uses this information solely for the purposes of conducting a legitimate research project or of treating a patient in a medical facility.

Information regarding an adopted person's existing medical and developmental history and family medical history, which meets the definition of background information in section 600.8, subsection 1, paragraph "c", but which was compiled prior to July 1, 1976, shall be made available as provided in this subsection. However, the identity of the adopted person's natural parents shall not be disclosed.

2. The permanent termination of parental rights record of the juvenile court under chapter 600A and the permanent adoption record of the court shall be sealed by the clerk of the juvenile court and the clerk of court, as appropriate, when they are complete and after the time for appeal has expired. All papers and records pertaining to a termination of parental rights under chapter 600A and to an adoption, whether a part of the permanent termination and adoption records of the juvenile court and of the court or on file with a guardian, guardian ad litem, custodian, person who placed a minor person, or the department shall not be open to inspection and the identity of the natural parents of an adopted person shall not be revealed. However, an agency involved in placement shall contact the adopting parents or the adult adopted child regarding eligibility of the adopted child for benefits based on entitlement of benefits or inheritance from the terminated natural parents. Also, the clerk of the court or county recorder shall, upon application to and order of the court for good cause shown, open the permanent adoption record of the court for the adopted person who is an adult and reveal the names of either or both of the natural parents.

An adopted person whose adoption became final prior to July 4, 1941, and whose adoption record was not required to be sealed at the time when the adoption record was completed, shall not be required to show good cause for an order opening the adoption record under this subsection, provided that the court shall consider any affidavit filed under this subsection.

A natural parent may file an affidavit requesting that the court reveal or not reveal the parent's name. The court shall consider any such affidavit in determining whether there is good cause to order opening of the records. If the adopted person who applies for revelation of the natural parents' name has a sibling who is a minor and who has been adopted by the same parents, the court may deny the application on the grounds that revelation to the applicant may also indirectly and harmfully permit the same revelation to the applicant's minor sibling. To facilitate the natural parents in filing an affidavit, the department shall, upon request of a natural parent, file an affidavit in the court in which the adoption records have been sealed.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, the juvenile court or court may, upon competent medical evidence, open termination or adoption records if opening is shown to be necessary to save the life of or prevent irreparable physical harm to an adopted person or the person's offspring. The juvenile court or court shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the identity of the natural parents from becoming revealed under this subsection to the adopted person. The juvenile court or court may, however, permit revelation of the identity of the natural parents to medical personnel attending the adopted person or the person's offspring. These medical personnel shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the identity of the natural parents from becoming revealed to the adopted person.

4. Any person, other than the adopting parents or the adopted person, who discloses information in violation of the provisions of this section shall be, upon conviction, guilty of a simple misdemeanor.
CHAPTER 601A
CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION

601A.2 Definitions.
When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires

1. "Commission" means the Iowa state civil rights commission created by this chapter.

2. "Commissioner" means a member of the commission.

3. "Court" means the district court in and for the judicial district of the state of Iowa in which the alleged unfair or discriminatory practice occurred or any judge of said court if the court is not in session at that time.

4. "Disability" means the physical or mental condition of a person which constitutes a substantial handicap, and the condition of a person with a positive human immunodeficiency virus test result, a diagnosis of acquired immune deficiency syndrome, a diagnosis of acquired immune deficiency syndrome-related complex, or any other condition related to acquired immune deficiency syndrome. The inclusion of a condition related to a positive human immunodeficiency virus test result in the meaning of "disability" under the provisions of this chapter does not preclude the application of the provisions of this chapter to conditions resulting from other contagious or infectious diseases.

5. "Employee" means any person employed by an employer.

6. "Employer" means the state of Iowa or any political subdivision, board, commission, department, institution, or school district thereof, and every other person employing employees within the state.

7. "Employment agency" means any person undertaking to procure employees or opportunities to work for any other person or any person holding itself to be equipped to do so.

8. "Familial status" means one or more individuals under the age of eighteen domiciled with one of the following:
   a. A parent or another person having legal custody of the individual or individuals.
   b. The designee of the parent or the other person having custody of the individual or individuals, with the written permission of the parent or other person.
   c. A person who is pregnant or is in the process of securing legal custody of the individual or individuals.

9. "Labor organization" means any organization which exists for the purpose in whole or in part of collective bargaining, of dealing with employers concerning grievances, terms, or conditions of employment, or of other mutual aid or protection in connection with employment.

10. "Person" means one or more individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, legal representatives, trustees, receivers, and the state of Iowa and all political subdivisions and agencies thereof.

11. "Public accommodation" means each and every place, establishment, or facility of whatever kind, nature, or class that offers services, facilities, or goods for a fee or charge to nonmembers of any organization or association utilizing the place, establishment, or facility, provided that any place, establishment, or facility that caters or offers services, facilities, or goods to the nonmembers gratuitously shall be deemed a public accommodation if the accommodation receives governmental support or subsidy. Public accommodation shall not mean any bona fide private club or other place, establishment, or facility which is by its nature distinctly private, except when such distinctly private place, establishment, or facility caters or offers services, facilities, or goods to the nonmembers for fee or charge gratuitously; it shall be deemed a public accommodation during such period.

"Public accommodation" includes each state and local government unit or tax-supported district of whatever kind, nature, or class that offers services, facilities, benefits, grants or goods to the public, gratuitously or otherwise. This paragraph shall not be construed by negative implication or otherwise to restrict any part or portion of the pre-existing definition of the term "public accommodation."

12. "Unfair practice" or "discriminatory practice" means those practices specified as unfair or discriminatory in sections 601A 6, 601A 7, 601A 8, 601A 9, 601A 10 and 601A 11.

601A.5 Powers and duties.
The commission shall have the following powers and duties:

1. To prescribe the duties of a director and appoint and prescribe the duties of such investigators and other employees and agents as the commission shall deem necessary for the enforcement of this chapter.

2. To receive, investigate, and finally determine the merits of complaints alleging unfair or discriminatory practices.

3. To investigate and study the existence, character, causes, and extent of discrimination in public accommodations, employment, apprenticeship programs, on-the-job training programs, vocational schools, credit practices, and housing in this state.
§601A.8A Additional unfair or discriminatory practices — housing.

1 A person shall not induce or attempt to induce another person to sell or rent a dwelling by representations regarding the entry or prospective entry into a neighborhood of a person of a particular race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status

2 A person shall not represent to a person of a particular race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status that a dwelling is not available for inspection, sale, or rental when the dwelling is available for inspection, sale, or rental

3 a A person shall not discriminate in the sale or rental of a dwelling or in the provision of services or facilities in connection with the dwelling because of a disability of any of the following persons

(1) That buyer or renter

(2) A person residing in or intending to reside in that dwelling after it is sold, rented, or made available

(3) A person associated with that buyer or renter b A person shall not discriminate against another person in the terms, conditions, or privileges of sale or rental of a dwelling or in the provision of services or facilities in connection with the dwelling because of a disability of any of the following persons

(1) That person

(2) A person residing in or intending to reside in that dwelling after it is sold, rented, or made available

(3) A person associated with that person c For the purposes of this subsection only, discrimination includes any of the following circumstances

(1) A refusal to permit, at the expense of the disabled person, reasonable modifications of existing premises occupied or to be occupied by the person if the modifications are necessary to afford the person full enjoyment of the premises.

In the case of a rental, a landlord may, where reasonable to do so, condition permission for a modification on the renter's agreement to restore the interior of the premises to the condition that existed before the modification, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

(2) A refusal to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, or services, when the accommodations are necessary to afford the person equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling.

(3) In connection with the design and construction of covered multifamily dwellings for first occupancy after January 1, 1992, a failure to design and construct those dwellings in a manner that meets the following requirements:
   (a) The public use and common use portions of the dwellings are readily accessible to and usable by disabled persons.
   (b) All doors designed to allow passage into and within all premises within the dwellings are sufficiently wide to allow passage by disabled persons in wheelchairs.
   (c) All premises within the dwellings contain the following features of adaptive design:
        (i) An accessible route into and through the dwelling.
        (ii) Light switches, electrical outlets, thermostats, and other environmental controls in accessible locations.
        (iii) Reinforcements in bathroom walls to allow later installation of grab bars.
        (iv) Usable kitchens and bathrooms so that a person in a wheelchair can maneuver about the space.
   d. Compliance with the appropriate requirements of the American national standard for buildings and facilities providing accessibility and usability for physically handicapped people, commonly cited as “ANSI A 117.1”, satisfies the requirements of paragraph “c”, subparagraph (3), subparagraph subdivision (c).
   e. Nothing in this subsection requires that a dwelling be made available to a person whose tenancy would constitute a direct threat to the health or safety of other persons or whose tenancy would result in substantial physical damage to the property of others.

4. a. A person whose business includes engaging in residential real estate related transactions shall not discriminate against a person in making a residential real estate related transaction available or in terms or conditions of a residential real estate related transaction because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status.

b. For the purpose of this subsection, "residential real estate related transaction" means any of the following:

(1) To make or purchase loans or provide other financial assistance to purchase, construct, improve, repair, or maintain a dwelling, or to secure residential real estate.

(2) To sell, broker, or appraise residential real estate.

5. A person shall not deny another person access to, or membership or participation in, a multiple-listing service, real estate brokers' organization or other service, organization, or facility relating to the business of selling or renting dwellings, or discriminate against a person in terms or conditions of access, membership, or participation in such organization because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status.

601A.11 Aiding, abetting, or retaliation.
It shall be an unfair or discriminatory practice for:
1. Any person to intentionally aid, abet, compel, or coerce another person to engage in any of the practices declared unfair or discriminatory by this chapter.

2. Any person to discriminate or retaliate against another person in any of the rights protected against discrimination by this chapter because such person has lawfully opposed any practice forbidden under this chapter, obeys the provisions of this chapter, or has filed a complaint, testified, or assisted in any proceeding under this chapter.

601A.11A Housing discrimination, threat of force or intimidation — penalty.
1. A person commits a public offense if the person, whether or not acting under color of law, by force or threat of force, intentionally intimidates or interferes with or attempts to interfere with a person under any of the following circumstances:

a. Because of the person's race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status, and because the person is or has been selling, purchasing, renting, occupying, or financing, contracting for, or negotiating for the sale, purchase, rental, or occupation of any dwelling, or applying for or participating in a service, organization, or facility relating to the business of selling or renting dwellings.

b. Because the person is or has been doing any of the following:

(1) Participating, without discrimination because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status, in an activity, service, organization, or facility described in paragraph “a”.

(2) Affording another person the opportunity or protection to so participate.

(3) Lawfully aiding or encouraging other persons to participate, without discrimination because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status, in an activity, service, organization, or facility described in paragraph “a”.

601A.12 Exceptions.
The provisions of section 601A.8 shall not apply to:
1. Any bona fide religious institution with respect to any qualifications it may impose based on religion, when such qualifications are related to a bona fide religious purpose.
2. The rental or leasing of a housing accommodation in a building which contains housing accommodations for not more than two families living independently of each other, if the owner or members of the owner's family reside in one of such housing accommodations.
3. The rental or leasing of less than four rooms within a single housing accommodation by the occupant or owner of such housing accommodation, if the occupant or owner or members of that person's family reside in the accommodation.
4. The rental or leasing of a housing accommodation within which residents of both sexes must share a common bathroom facility on the same floor of the building.
5. Housing accommodations provided under any state or federal program specifically designed and operated to assist elderly persons, as defined in the state or federal program, and housing for older persons. As used in this subsection, "housing for older persons" means housing communities consisting of accommodations intended for either of the following:
   a. For eighty percent occupancy by at least one person fifty-five years of age or older per unit, and providing significant facilities and services specifically designed to meet the physical or social needs of such persons.
   b. For and occupied solely by persons sixty-two years of age or older.
6. The rental or leasing of a housing accommodation in a building which contains housing accommodations for not more than four families living independently of each other, if the owner resides in one of the housing accommodations for which the owner qualifies for the homestead tax credit under section 425.1.

601A.15A Additional proceedings — housing discrimination.
1. a. The commission may join a person not named in the complaint as an additional or substitute respondent if in the course of the investigation, the commission determines that the person should be alleged to have committed a discriminatory housing or real estate practice.
   b. In addition to the information required in the notice, the commission shall include in a notice to a respondent joined under this subsection an explanation of the basis for the determination under this subsection that the person is properly joined as a respondent.
2. a. The commission shall, during the period beginning with the filing of a complaint and ending with the filing of a charge or a dismissal by the commission, to the extent feasible, engage in mediation with respect to the complaint.
   b. A mediation agreement is an agreement between a respondent and the complainant and is subject to commission approval.
   c. A mediation agreement may provide for binding arbitration or other method of dispute resolution. Dispute resolution that results from a mediation agreement may authorize appropriate relief, including monetary relief.
   d. A mediation agreement shall be made public unless the complainant and respondent agree otherwise, and the commission determines that disclosure is not necessary to further the purposes of this chapter relating to unfair or discrimination in housing or real estate.
   e. The proceedings or results of mediation shall not be made public or used as evidence in a subsequent proceeding under this chapter without the written consent of the persons who are party to the mediation.
   f. After the completion of the commission's investigation, the commission shall make available to the aggrieved person and the respondent information derived from the investigation and the final investigation report relating to that investigation.
3. a. If the commission concludes, following the filing of a complaint, that prompt judicial action is necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter relating to unfair or discriminatory housing or real estate practices, the commission may authorize a civil action for appropriate temporary or preliminary relief pending final disposition of the complaint.
   b. On receipt of the commission's authorization, the attorney general shall promptly file the action.
   c. A temporary restraining order or other order granting preliminary or temporary relief under this section is governed by the applicable Iowa rules of civil procedure.
   d. The filing of a civil action under this section does not affect the initiation or continuation of administrative proceedings in regard to an administrative hearing.
4. a. The commission shall prepare a final investigative report.
   b. A final report under this section may be amended by the commission if additional evidence is discovered.
5. a. The commission shall determine based on the facts whether probable cause exists to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur.
   b. The commission shall make its determination under paragraph "a" not later than one hundred days after a complaint is filed unless any of the following applies:
      (1) It is impracticable to make the determination within that time period.
      (2) The commission has approved a mediation agreement relating to the complaint.
      c. If it is impracticable to make the determination within the time period provided by paragraph "b," the commission shall notify the complainant and respondent in writing of the reasons for the delay.
      d. If the commission determines that probable cause exists to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the commission shall immediately issue a determination unless the commission determines that the legality of a zoning or land use law or ordinance is involved as provided in subsection 7.
6. a. A determination issued under subsection 5 must include all of the following:
      (1) Must consist of a short and plain statement of the facts on which the commission has found probable cause to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur.
      (2) Must be based on the final investigative report.
      (3) Need not be limited to the facts or grounds alleged in the complaint.
   b. Not later than twenty days after the commission issues a determination, the commission shall send a copy of the determination with information concerning the election under section 601A.16A to all of the following persons:
      (1) Each respondent, together with a notice of the opportunity for a hearing as provided under subsection 10.
      (2) Each aggrieved person on whose behalf the complaint was filed.
7. If the commission determines that the matter involves the legality of a state or local zoning or other land use ordinance, the commission shall not issue a determination and shall immediately refer the matter to the attorney general for appropriate action.
8. a. If the commission determines that no probable cause exists to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the commission shall promptly dismiss the complaint.
   b. The commission shall make public disclosure of each dismissal under this section.
9. The commission shall not issue a determination under this section regarding an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice after the beginning of the trial of a civil action commenced by the aggrieved party under federal or state law seeking relief with respect to that discriminatory housing or real estate practice.
10. a. If a timely election is not made under section 601A.16A, the commission shall provide for a hearing on the charges in the complaint.
   b. Except as provided by paragraph "c," the hearing shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 17A for contested cases.
   c. A hearing under this section shall not be continued regarding an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice after the beginning of the trial of a civil action commenced by the aggrieved person under federal or state law seeking relief with respect to that discriminatory housing or real estate practice.
11. a. If the commission determines at a hearing under subsection 10 that a respondent has engaged or is about to engage in a discriminatory housing or real estate practice, the commission may order the appropriate relief, including actual damages, reasonable attorney's fees, court costs, and other injunctive or equitable relief.
   b. To vindicate the public interest, the commission may assess a civil penalty against the respondent in an amount that does not exceed the following applicable amount:
      (1) Ten thousand dollars if the respondent has not been adjudged by the order of the commission or a court to have committed a prior discriminatory housing or real estate practice.
      (2) Except as provided by paragraph "c," twenty-five thousand dollars if the respondent has been adjudged by order of the commission or a court to have committed one other discriminatory housing or real estate practice during the five-year period ending on the date of the filing of the complaint.
      (3) Except as provided by paragraph "c," fifty thousand dollars if the respondent has been adjudged by order of the commission or a court to have committed two or more discriminatory housing or real estate practices during the seven-year period ending on the date of the filing of the complaint.
   c. If the acts constituting the discriminatory housing or real estate practice that is the object of the complaint are committed by the same natural person who has been previously adjudged to have committed acts constituting a discriminatory housing or real estate practice, the civil penalties in paragraph "b," subparagraphs (2) and (3) may be imposed without regard to the period of time within which any other discriminatory housing or real estate practice occurred.
   d. At the request of the commission, the attorney general shall initiate legal proceedings to recover a civil penalty due under this section. Funds collected under this section shall be paid to the treasurer of state for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the general fund.
§601A.16A Civil action elected — housing.

1 a A complainant, a respondent, or an aggrieved person on whose behalf the complaint was filed may elect to have the charges asserted in the complaint decided in a civil action as provided by section 601A.17A.

b The election must be made not later than twenty days after the date of receipt by the electing person of service under section 601A.15, subsection 5, or in the case of the commission, not later than twenty days after the date the determination was issued.

c The person making the election shall give notice to the commission and to all other complainants and respondents to whom the election relates.

2 a An aggrieved person may file a civil action in district court not later than two years after the occurrence of the termination of an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice, or the breach of a mediation agreement entered into under this chapter, whichever occurs last, to obtain appropriate relief with respect to the discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

b The two-year period does not include any time during which an administrative hearing under this chapter is pending with respect to a complaint or charge based on the discriminatory housing or real estate practice. This subsection does not apply to actions arising from a breach of a mediation agreement.

c An aggrieved person may file an action under this section whether or not a discriminatory housing or real estate complaint has been filed under section 601A.15A, and without regard to the status of any discriminatory housing or real estate complaint filed under that section.

d If the commission has obtained a mediation agreement with the consent of an aggrieved person, the aggrieved person shall not file an action under this section with respect to the alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice that forms the basis for the complaint except to enforce the terms of the agreement.

e An aggrieved person shall not file an action under this section with respect to an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice that forms the basis of a charge issued by the commission if the commission has begun a hearing on the record under this chapter with respect to the charge.

§601A.17A Civil proceedings — housing.

1 a If timely election is made under section 601A.16A, subsection 1, the commission shall authorize, and not later than thirty days after the election is made, the attorney general shall file a civil action on behalf of the aggrieved person in a district court seeking relief.

b Venue for an action under this section is in the county in which the alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice occurred.

c An aggrieved person may intervene in the action.

d If the district court finds that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the district court may grant as relief any right that a court may grant in a civil action under subsection 6.

e If monetary relief is sought for the benefit of an aggrieved person who does not intervene in the civil action, the district court shall not award the monetary relief if that aggrieved person has not complied with discovery orders entered by the district court.

2 A commission order under section 601A.15A, subsection 11, does not affect a contract, sale, encumbrance, or lease that was consummated before the commission issued the order and involved a bona fide purchaser, encumbrancer, or tenant who did not have actual notice of the charge issued under this chapter.

3 If the commission issues an order with respect to a discriminatory housing practice that occurred in the course of a business subject to a licensing or regulation by a governmental agency, the commission, not later than thirty days after the date of issuance of the order, shall do all of the following.

a Send copies of the findings and the order to the governmental agency.

b Recommend to the governmental agency appropriate disciplinary action.

4 If the commission issues an order against a respondent against whom another order was issued within the preceding five years under section 601A.15A, subsection 11, the commission shall send a copy of each order issued under that section to the attorney general.

5 On application by a person alleging a discriminatory housing practice or by a person against whom a discriminatory practice is alleged, the district court may appoint an attorney for the person.

6 In an action under this section, if the district court finds that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the district court may award or issue to the plaintiff one or more of the following.

a Actual and punitive damages.

b Reasonable attorney’s fees.

c Court costs.

d Subject to subsection 7, any permanent or temporary injunction, temporary restraining order, or other order, including an order enjoining the defendant from engaging in the practice or ordering appropriate affirmative action.

7 Relief granted under this section does not affect a contract, sale, encumbrance, or lease that was consummated before the granting of the relief and involved a bona fide purchaser, encumbrancer, or tenant who did not have actual notice of the filing of a complaint under this chapter or a civil action under this section.

8 a On the request of the commission, the attorney general may intervene in an action under this section if the commission certifies that the case is of general public importance.
b. The attorney general may obtain the same relief available to the attorney general under subsection 9.

9. a. On the request of the commission, the attorney general may file a civil action in district court for appropriate relief if the commission has reasonable cause to believe that any of the following applies:
   (1) A person is engaged in a pattern or practice of resistance to the full enjoyment of any housing right granted by this chapter.
   (2) A person has been denied any housing right granted by this chapter and that denial raises an issue of general public importance.

b. In an action under this section, the district court may do any of the following:
   (1) Order preventive relief, including a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order against the person responsible for a violation of housing rights as necessary to assure the full enjoyment of the housing rights granted by this chapter.
   (2) Order another appropriate relief, including the awarding of monetary damages, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs.
   (3) To vindicate the public interest, assess a civil penalty against the respondent in an amount that does not exceed any of the following:
      (a) Fifty thousand dollars for a first violation.
      (b) One hundred thousand dollars for a second or subsequent violation.
   c. A person may intervene in an action under this section if the person is any of the following:
      (1) An aggrieved person to the discriminatory housing or real estate practice.
      (2) A party to a mediation agreement concerning the discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

10. The attorney general, on behalf of the commission or other party at whose request a subpoena is issued, may enforce the subpoena in appropriate proceedings in district court.

11. A court in a civil action brought under this section or the commission in an administrative hearing under section 601A.15A, subsection 11, may award reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party and assess court costs against the nonprevailing party.

601A.20 Effect on other law.

1. This chapter does not affect a reasonable local or state restriction on the maximum number of occupants permitted to occupy a dwelling or restriction relating to health or safety standards.

2. This chapter does not affect a requirement of nondiscrimination in other state or federal law.

CHAPTER 601D

RIGHTS OF BLIND, PARTIALLY BLIND AND PHYSICALLY DISABLED

601D.11 Service dogs and assistive animals.

1. For purposes of this section "service dog" means a dog specially trained at a recognized training facility to assist a disabled or handicapped person, whether described as a service dog, a support dog, an independence dog, or otherwise. "Assistive animal" means a simian or other animal specially trained or in the process of being trained under the auspices of a recognized training facility to assist a disabled or handicapped person.

2. A disabled or handicapped person or person training an assistive animal has the right to be accompanied by a service dog or an assistive animal, under control, in any of the places listed in sections 601D.3 and 601D.4 without being required to make additional payment for the service dog or assistive animal. A landlord shall waive lease restrictions on the keeping of animals for the service dog or assistive animal of a disabled or handicapped person. The person is liable for damage done to any premises or facility by a service dog or assistive animal.

3. A person who knowingly denies or interferes with the right of a person under this section is, upon conviction, guilty of a simple misdemeanor.
CHAPTER 601J
TRANSPORTATION PROGRAMS

601J.4 Federal, state, local and private aid—report.
1. The department shall compile and maintain current information on available and pending federal, state, local, and private aid affecting urban and rural public transit programs. Public, private, and private nonprofit organizations applying for or receiving federal, state or local aid for providing transit services shall provide a copy of their fiscal year operating budget annually prior to June 1 depicting funds used for public transit programs and such other information as the department may require prior to receiving any federal or state funds or any aid from a political subdivision of the state. The operating budget shall list all of the funding sources of the organization along with the listing of funds expended by that organization during the preceding fiscal year. The department, in cooperation with the regional planning agencies as the responsible agency for annual updating the regional transit development programs, shall compile this information annually. Any state agency or organization administering funds for transit services is required to submit all funding requests through the regional and state clearinghouse and the state department of transportation. Any organization, state agency, political subdivision, and public transit system, except public school transportation, receiving federal, state or local aid to provide or contract for public transit services or transportation to the general public and specific client groups, must coordinate and consolidate funding and resulting service, to the maximum extent possible, with the urban or regional transit system.

2. Upon request, the department shall provide assistance to political subdivisions, state agencies, and organizations affected by this chapter for federal aid applications for urban and rural transit system program aid. The department, in cooperation with the regional planning agencies, shall maintain current information reflecting the amount of federal, state and local aid received by the public and private nonprofit organizations providing public transit services and the purpose for which the aid is received. The department shall annually prepare a report to be submitted to the general assembly, the department of management, and to the governor, prior to February 1 of each year, stating the receipts and disbursements made during the preceding fiscal year and the adequacy of programs financed by federal, state, local, and private aid in the state. The department shall analyze the programs financed and recommend methods of avoiding duplication and increasing the efficacy of programs financed. The department shall receive comments from the department of human services, department of elder affairs, and the officers and agents of the other affected state and local government units relative to the department’s analysis. The department shall use the following criteria to adopt rules to determine compliance with and exceptions to subsection 1:
   a. Elimination of duplicative and inefficient administrative costs, policies and management.
   b. Utilization of resources for transportation services effectively and efficiently.
   c. Elimination of duplicative and inefficient transportation services.
   d. Development of transportation services which meet the needs of the general public and insurance services adequate to the needs of transportation disadvantaged persons.
   e. Protection of the rights of private enterprise public transit providers.
   f. Coordination of planning for transportation services at the urban and regional level by all agencies or organizations receiving public funds that are purchasing or providing transportation services.
   g. Management of equipment and facilities purchased with public funds so that efficient and routine maintenance and replacement is accomplished.
   h. Training of transit management, drivers and maintenance personnel to provide safe, efficient, and economical transportation services.

Eligibility to receive or expend federal, state or local funds for transportation services by all agencies or organizations purchasing or providing these services shall be contingent upon compliance with these criteria as determined by the department, except that services provided by or purchased by the department of human services, which include transportation, shall be subject to section 601J.5, subsection 3, paragraph “c.”

3. The department shall receive and distribute federal aid to public transit systems unless precluded by federal statute; however, the department shall not retain or redirect any portion of funds received by the department for a particular public transit system except that the department may redirect unused funds after a project is completed in order to prevent the lapse of funds. The department may designate the public transit systems as the direct recipients of federal aid.

601J.6 Public transit assistance fund established.
1. There is established a public transit assistance fund in the office of the treasurer of state. Moneys in this fund shall be expended for providing assistance to public transit for the development, improvement, and maintenance of public transit systems. Unencumbered moneys appropriated by the general assembly for the implementation of a state assistance plan shall be deposited in the public transit assistance fund. Moneys received by the department by agreements, grants, gifts, or other means from individuals, companies or other business entities, or cities and counties for the purposes stated in this section shall be credited to the public transit assistance fund.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section and section 312.2, subsection 15, directing that moneys be deposited into the public transit assistance fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all such moneys under these sections shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. There is appropriated during this fiscal period from moneys received by the department by agreements, grants, gifts, or other means and deposited into the state general fund as a result of this paragraph to the department for purposes of this subsection. Moneys appropriated from the general fund under this paragraph and section 312.2, subsection 15, shall not be deposited into the public transit assistance fund.

2. The department may enter into agreements with public transit systems, the United States government, cities, counties, business entities, or other persons for carrying out the purposes of this section.

3. The department may accept federal funds to carry out this section. Federal funds received under this section are appropriated for the purposes set forth in the federal grants.

4. Moneys deposited in the public transit assistance fund are not subject to sections 8.33 and 8.39.

5. Notwithstanding chapter 8, funds appropriated for public transit purposes to implement a state assistance plan shall be allocated in whole or in part to a public transit system prior to the time actual expenditures are incurred if the allocation is first approved by the department. A public transit system shall make application for advance allocations to the department specifically stating the reasons why an advance allocation is required and this allocation shall be included in the total to be audited.

CHAPTER 601K
DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS

601K.1 Department of human rights.
A department of human rights is created, with the following divisions:
1. Division of Latino affairs.
2. Division on the status of women.
3. Division of persons with disabilities.
4. Division of community action agencies.
5. Division of deaf services.
6. Division of criminal and juvenile justice planning.

601K.12 Commission of Latino affairs — terms — compensation.
The commission of Latino affairs consists of nine members, appointed by the governor. Commission members shall be appointed in compliance with sections 69.16 and 69.16A and with consideration given to geographic residence and density of Latino population represented by each member. The members of the commission shall be appointed during the month of June and shall serve for terms of two years commencing July 1 of each odd-numbered year. Members appointed shall continue to serve until their respective successors are appointed. Vacancies in the membership of the commission shall be filled by the original appointing authority and in the manner of the original appointments. Members shall receive actual expenses incurred while serving in their official capacity. Members may also be eligible to receive compensation as provided in section 7E.6.

601K.102 Energy crisis fund.
1. An energy crisis fund is created in the state treasury. Moneys deposited in the fund shall be used to assist low-income families who qualify for the low-income heating energy assistance program to avoid loss of essential heating.

2. The fund may receive moneys including, but not limited to, the following:
   a. Moneys appropriated by the general assembly for the fund.
   b. Moneys credited to the fund under section 93.11.
   c. After July 1, 1988, unclaimed patronage dividends of electric cooperative corporations or associations shall be applied to the fund following the time specified in section 556.12 for claiming the dividend from the holder.
   d. The fund may also receive contributions from customer contribution funds established under section 476.66.

3. Under rules developed by the division of community action agencies of the department of human rights, the fund may be used to negotiate reconnection of essential utility services with the energy provider.

601K.144 Objectives of commission.
The commission shall study the changing needs and problems of African-Americans in this state, and recommend new programs, policies, and constructive action to the governor and the general assembly including, but not limited to, the following areas:

1. Public and private employment policies and practices.
2. Iowa labor laws.
3. Legal treatment relating to political and civil rights.
5. Expanded programs to assist African-Americans as consumers.
7. African-Americans as members of private and public boards, committees, and organizations.
8. Education, health, housing, social welfare, human rights, and recreation.
9. The legal system, including law enforcement, both criminal and civil.
10. Social service programs.

601K.146 Duties.
The commission shall do all of the following:

1. Serve as an information clearinghouse on programs and agencies operating to assist African-Americans. Clearinghouse duties shall include, but are not limited to:
   a. Service as a referral agency to assist African-Americans in securing access to state agencies and programs.
   b. Service as a liaison with federal, state, and local governmental units and private organizations on matters relating to African-Americans.
   c. Service as a communications conduit to state government for African-American organizations in the state.
2. Conduct conferences and training programs for African-Americans, public and private agencies and organizations, and the general public.
3. Coordinate, assist, and cooperate with public and private agencies in efforts to expand equal rights and opportunities for African-Americans in the areas of: employment, economic development, education, health, housing, recreation, social welfare, social services, and the legal system.
4. Serve as the central permanent agency for the advocacy of services for African-Americans.
5. Provide assistance to and cooperate with individuals and public and private agencies and organizations in joint efforts to study and resolve problems.
relating to the improvement of the status of African-Americans.
6. Publish and disseminate information relating to African-Americans, including publicizing their accomplishments and contributions to this state.
7. Evaluate existing and proposed programs and legislation for their impact on African-Americans.
8. Coordinate or conduct training programs for African-Americans to enable them to assume leadership positions.

91 Acts, ch 50, §6 SF 389
Section amended
9. Conduct surveys of African-Americans to ascertain their needs.
10. Assist the department of personnel in the elimination of underutilization of African-Americans in the state's workforce.
11. Recommend legislation to the governor and the general assembly designed to improve the educational opportunities and the economic and social conditions of African-Americans in this state.

CHAPTER 601L
DEPARTMENT FOR THE BLIND

601L.3 Commission duties.
The commission shall:
1. Prepare and maintain a complete register of the blind of the state which shall describe the condition, cause of blindness, ability to receive education and industrial training, and other facts the commission deems of value.
2. Assist in marketing of products of blind workers of the state.
3. Ameliorate the condition of the blind by promoting visits to them in their homes for the purpose of instruction and by other lawful methods as the commission deems expedient.
4. Make inquiries concerning the causes of blindness to ascertain what portion of cases are preventable, and cooperate with the other organized agents of the state in the adoption and enforcement of proper preventive measures.
5. Provide for suitable vocational training if the commission deems it advisable and necessary. The commission may establish workshops for the employment of the blind, paying suitable wages for work under the employment. The commission may provide or pay for, during their training period, the temporary lodging and support of persons receiving vocational training. The commission may use receipts or earnings that accrue from the operation of workshops as provided in this chapter, but a detailed statement of receipts or earnings and expenditures shall be made monthly to the director of the department of management.
6. Establish, manage, and control a special training, orientation, and adjustment center or centers for the blind. Training in the centers shall be limited to persons who are sixteen years of age or older, and the department shall not provide or cause to be provided any academic education or training to children under the age of sixteen except that the commission may provide library services to these children. The commission may provide for the maintenance, upkeep, repair, and alteration of the buildings and grounds designated as centers for the blind including the expenditure of funds appropriated for that purpose. Nonresidents may be admitted to Iowa centers for the blind as space is available, upon terms determined by rule.
7. Establish and maintain offices for the department and commission.
8. Accept gifts, grants, devises, or bequests of real or personal property from any source for the use and purposes of the department. Notwithstanding sections 8.33 and 453.7, the interest accrued from moneys received under this section shall not revert to the general fund of the state.
9. Provide library services to blind and physically handicapped persons.
10. Act as a bureau of information and industrial aid for the blind, such as assisting the blind in finding employment.
11. Be responsible for the budgetary and personnel decisions for the department and commission.
12. Manage and control the property, both real and personal, belonging to the department. The commission shall, according to the schedule established in this subsection, when the price is reasonably competitive and the quality as intended, purchase soybean-based inks and starch-based plastics, including but not limited to starch-based garbage can liners.
   a. By July 1, 1989, a minimum of fifty percent of the purchases of inks which are used for newsprint paper for printing services performed internally or contracted for by the commission shall be soybean-based. The percentage of purchases by the commission of soybean-based inks used for newsprint printing services shall increase by July 1, 1991, to one hundred percent of the total purchases of inks used for newsprint printing services.
b. By July 1, 1989, a minimum of fifteen percent of the purchases of garbage can liners made by the commission shall be starch-based plastic garbage can liners. The percentage purchased shall increase by five percent annually until fifty percent of the purchases of garbage can liners are purchases of starch-based plastic garbage can liners.

c. By July 1, 1991, a minimum of twenty-five percent of the purchases of inks, other than inks which are used for newspaper printing services, and which are used internally or contracted for by the commission, shall be soybean-based to the extent formulations for such inks are available. The percentage of purchases by the commission of the soybean-based inks, to the extent formulations for such inks are available, shall increase by July 1, 1992, to fifty percent of the total purchases of the inks, and shall increase by July 1, 1993, to one hundred percent of the total purchases of the inks.

d. The commission shall report to the general assembly on February 1 of each year, the following:

(1) Plastic products which are regularly purchased by the commission for which starch-based product alternatives are available. The report shall also include the cost of the plastic products purchased and the cost of the starch-based product alternatives.

(2) Information relating to soybean-based inks and starch-based garbage can liners regularly purchased by the commission. The report shall include the cost of purchasing soybean-based inks and starch-based garbage can liners, the percentage of inks purchased which are soybean-based and the percentage of liners purchased which are starch-based.

e. The department of natural resources shall review the procurement specifications currently used by the commission to eliminate, wherever possible, discrimination against the procurement of products manufactured with starch-based plastics and soybean-based inks.

f. The department of natural resources shall assist the commission in locating suppliers of starch-based plastics and soybean-based inks, and collecting data on recycled content, starch-based plastic, and soybean-based ink purchases.

g. The commission, in conjunction with the department of natural resources, shall adopt rules to carry out the provisions of this section.

h. The department of natural resources shall cooperate with the commission in all phases of implementing this section.

13. In conjunction with the recommendations made by the department of natural resources, purchase and use recycled printing and writing paper in accordance with the schedule established in section 18.18; establish a wastepaper recycling program by January 1, 1990, in accordance with the recommendations made by the department of natural resources and requirements of section 18.20; comply with the recycling goal, recycling schedule, and ultimate termination of purchase and use of polystyrene products for the purpose of storing, packaging, or serving food for immediate consumption pursuant to section 455D.16; and, in accordance with section 18.6, require product content statements, the provision of information regarding on-site review of waste management in product bidding and contract procedures, and compliance with requirements regarding contract bidding.

14. Develop a plan to provide telephone yellow pages information without charge to persons declared to be blind under the standards in section 422.12, subsection 1, paragraph “c”. The department may apply for federal funds to support the service. The program shall be limited in scope by the availability of funds.

15. A motor vehicle purchased by the commission shall not operate on gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. A state issued credit card used to purchase gasoline shall not be valid to purchase gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. The motor vehicle shall also be affixed with a brightly visible sticker which notifies the traveling public that the motor vehicle is being operated on gasoline blended with ethanol.

Subsection 12, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended
NEW subsections 14 and 15
CHAPTER 602
THE COURTS

602.1301 Budget and fiscal procedures.
1. The supreme court shall prepare an annual operating budget for the department, and shall submit a budget request to the general assembly for the fiscal period for which the general assembly is appropriating funds.

2. a. As early as possible, but not later than December 1, the supreme court shall submit to the legislative fiscal bureau the annual budget request and detailed supporting information for the judicial department. The submission shall be designed to assist the legislative fiscal bureau in its preparation for legislative consideration of the budget request. The information submitted shall contain and be arranged in a format substantially similar to the format specified by the director of management and used by all departments and establishments in transmitting to the director estimates of their expenditure requirements pursuant to section 8.23, except the estimates of expenditure requirements shall be based upon one hundred percent of funding for the current fiscal year accounted for by program, and using the same line item definitions of expenditures as used for the current fiscal year's budget request, and the remainder of the estimate of expenditure requirements prioritized by program. The supreme court shall also make use of the department of management's automated budget system when submitting information to the director of management to assist the director in the transmittal of information as required under section 8.35A. The supreme court shall budget and track expenditures by the following separate organization codes:

(1) Iowa court information system.
(2) Appellate courts.
(3) Central administration.
(4) District court administration.
(5) Judges and magistrates.
(6) Court reporters.
(7) Juvenile court officers.
(8) District court clerks.
(9) Jury and witness fees.

b. Before December 1, the supreme court shall submit to the director of management an estimate of the total expenditure requirements of the judicial department. The director of management shall submit this estimate received from the supreme court to the governor for inclusion without change in the governor's proposed budget for the succeeding fiscal year. The estimate shall also be submitted to the chairpersons of the committees on appropriations.

3. The state court administrator shall prescribe the procedures to be used by the operating components of the department with respect to the following:
   a. The preparation, submission, review, and revision of budget requests.
   b. The allocation and disbursement of funds appropriated to the department.
   c. The purchase of forms, supplies, equipment, and other property.
   d. Other matters relating to fiscal administration.

4. The state court administrator shall prescribe practices and procedures for the accounting and internal auditing of funds of the department, including uniform practices and procedures to be used by judicial officers and court employees with respect to all funds, regardless of source.

602.1401 Personnel system.
1. The supreme court shall establish, and may amend, a personnel system and a pay plan for court employees. The personnel system shall include a designation by position title, classification, and function of each position or class of positions within the department. Reasonable efforts shall be made to accommodate the individual staffing and management practices of the respective clerks of the district court. The personnel system, in the employment of court employees, shall not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, religion, physical disability, or political party preference. The supreme court, in establishing the personnel system, shall implement the comparable worth directives issued by the state court administrator under section 602.1204, subsection 2.

2. The supreme court shall compile and publish all documents that establish the personnel system, and shall distribute a copy of the compilation and all amendments to each operating component of the department.

3. The state court administrator is the public employer of judicial department employees for purposes of chapter 20, relating to public employment relations.

For purposes of chapter 20, the certified representative, which on July 1, 1983 represents employees who become judicial department employees as a result of 1983 Iowa Acts, chapter 186, shall remain the certified representative when the employees become judicial department employees and thereafter, unless the public employee organization is decertified in an election held under section 20.15 or amended or absorbed into another certified organization pursuant to chapter 20. g. For receiving and filing a declaration of intention and issuing a duplicate, two dollars. For making, filing, and docketing the petition of an alien for admission as a citizen of the United States and for the final hearing, four dollars; and for entering the final order and the issuance of the certificate of citizenship, if granted, four dollars.

h. In addition to the fees required in paragraph "g", the petitioner shall, upon the filing of a petition to become a citizen of the United States, deposit with the clerk money sufficient to cover the expense of subpoenaing and paying the legal fees of witnesses for whom the petitioner may request a subpoena, and upon the final discharge of the witnesses they shall receive, if they demand it from the clerk, the customary and usual witness fees from the moneys collected, and the residue, if any, except the amount necessary to pay the cost of serving the subpoenas, shall be returned by the clerk to the petitioner.

i. For a certificate and seal to an application to procure a pension, bounty, or back pay for a soldier or other person, no charge.

j. For making out a transcript in a criminal case appealed to the supreme court, for each one hundred words, fifty cents.

k. In criminal cases, the same fees for the same services as in civil cases, and an additional five dollar fee to be remitted to the treasurer of state by the clerk of the district court for deposit in the general fund of the state, to be paid by the county or city, which has the duty to prosecute the criminal action, payable as provided in section 602.8109. When judgment is rendered against the defendant, costs collected from the defendant shall be paid to the county or city which has the duty to prosecute the criminal action to the extent necessary for reimbursement for fees paid. However, the fees which are payable by the county to the clerk of the district court for services rendered in criminal actions prosecuted under state law and in habitual offender actions pursuant to section 521.556, and the court costs taxed in connection with the trial of those actions or appeals from the judgments in those actions are waived.

l. For filing an application for a license to marry, thirty dollars. For issuing an application for an order of the district court authorizing the issuance of a license to marry prior to the expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license, five dollars. The court shall authorize the issuance of a marriage license without the payment of any fees imposed by this paragraph upon a showing that the applicant is unable to pay the fees.

m. For entering a final decree of dissolution of marriage, thirty dollars. It is the intent of the general assembly that the funds generated from the dissolution fees be appropriated and used for sexual assault and domestic violence centers.

n. For certifying a change in title of real estate, two dollars.

o. In addition to all other fees, for making a complete record in cases where a complete record is required by law or directed by an order of the court, for every one hundred words, twenty cents.

p. For providing transcripts, certificates, other documents, and services in probate matters, the fees specified in section 633.31.

q. The jury fee and court reporter fee specified in chapter 625.

r. For filing and docketing a transcript of judgment from another county, two dollars. However, transcripts of judgments submitted by the United States shall be docketed without payment of the fee at the time of filing, and the fee shall be paid by the judgment debtor at the time of filing the satisfaction of judgment.

s. For entering a judgment by confession, two dollars.

t. Other fees provided by law.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, including but not limited to the other provisions of this section, five dollars of the fees imposed pursuant to paragraph "a", the five dollar additional fee imposed pursuant to paragraph "k", and fifteen dollars of the fees imposed pursuant to paragraphs "I" and "m" shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit into the general fund of the state, and shall not be deposited in the court revenue distribution account, and shall not be deposited in the judicial retirement fund.

2. The fees collected by the clerk as provided in subsection 1 shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108, except as otherwise provided by that section or by applicable law.

3. The clerk shall keep an accurate record of the fees collected in a fee book, and make a quarterly report of the fees collected to the supreme court.

4. The clerk shall pay to the treasurer of state all fees which have come into the clerk's possession and which are unclaimed pursuant to section 556.8 accompanied by a form prescribed by the treasurer. Claims for payment of the moneys must be filed pursuant to chapter 556.
§602.8106 Certain fees — collection and disposition.

1. Notwithstanding section 602.8105, the fee for the filing and docketing of a complaint or information for a simple misdemeanor is twenty-five dollars except that the filing and docketing of a complaint or information for a nonscheduled simple misdemeanor under chapter 321 is twenty dollars. The fee for filing and docketing a complaint or information or uniform citation and complaint for parking violations under sections 321.236, 321.239, 321.358, 321.360, and 321.361 is one dollar, effective January 1, 1991. The court costs in cases of parking meter and overtime parking violations which are demed, and charged and collected pursuant to section 321.236, subsection 1, or pursuant to a uniform citation and complaint are eight dollars per information or complaint or per uniform citation and complaint, effective January 1, 1991.

2. The clerk shall remit ninety percent of all fines and forfeited bail received from a magistrate or district associate judge to the city that was the plaintiff in any action, and shall provide that city with a statement showing the total number of cases, the total of all fines and forfeited bail collected, and the total of all cases dismissed. The clerk shall deposit the remaining ten percent in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108.

3. The clerk shall remit all fines and forfeited bail received from a magistrate or district associate judge for violation of a county ordinance, except an ordinance relating to vehicle speed or weight restrictions, to the county treasurer of the county that was the plaintiff in the action, and shall provide that county with a statement showing the total number of cases, the total of all fines and forfeited bail collected, and the total of all cases dismissed. However, if a county ordinance provides a penalty for a violation which is also penalized under state law, the fines and forfeited bail collected for the violation of that ordinance shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108.

4. The clerk shall deposit all other fines and forfeited bail received from a magistrate in the court revenue distribution account established in section 602.8108, except that annually the first two million five hundred thousand dollars in fines which are imposed through vehicle violation citations issued by motor vehicle division personnel at portable and fixed weigh stations in the state which shall be credited to the road use tax fund.

5. All fees and costs for the filing of a complaint or information or upon forfeiture of bail received from a magistrate shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108.

6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law the contrary, including but not limited to the other provisions of this section, five dollars of the fee for filing and docketing of a complaint or information for a simple misdemeanor and five dollars of the fee for filing and docketing of a complaint or information for a nonscheduled simple misdemeanor imposed pursuant to subsection 1 shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit into the general fund of the state, and shall not be deposited in the court revenue distribution account, and shall not be deposited in the judicial retirement fund.

§602.8108 Court revenue distribution account.

1. The clerk of the district court shall establish and maintain a court revenue distribution account. The clerk shall deposit in this account all fees and other receipts that are specifically required by law to be deposited in the court revenue distribution account.

2. The clerk of the district court shall account for and distribute revenue deposited in the court revenue distribution account on a monthly basis. Not later than the fifteenth day of each calendar month, the clerk shall distribute all revenues received during the preceding calendar month. Each distribution shall be accompanied by a statement disclosing the total amount of revenue received during the accounting period, and any adjustments of gross revenue figures that are necessary to reflect changes in the balance of the court revenue distribution account, including but not limited to reductions resulting from the dishonor of checks previously accepted by the clerk.

3. Except as otherwise provided, the clerk shall remit all revenue received to the treasurer of state. Revenue distributed to the treasurer of state under this section shall be deposited in the general fund of the state except as otherwise provided by applicable law.

§602.9104 Deductions from judges' salaries — contributions by state.

1. A judge to whom this article applies, shall be paid an amount equal to ninety-six percent of the basic salary of the judge as set by the general assembly. An amount equal to four percent of the basic salary of the judge as set by the general assembly is designated as the judge's contribution to the judicial retirement fund, and shall be paid by the state in the manner provided in subsection 2.

2. The amount designated in subsection 1 as the judge's contribution to the judicial retirement fund shall be paid by the department of revenue and finance from the general fund of the state to the court administrator for deposit with the treasurer of state to the credit of the judicial retirement fund.

in the fund are appropriated for the payment of annuities, refunds, and allowances provided by this article, except that the amount of the appropriations affecting payment of annuities, refunds, and allowances to judges of the municipal and superior court is limited to that part of the fund accumulated for their benefit as provided in this article. The corpus and income of the fund shall be used only for the exclusive benefit of the judges covered under this article, their survivors, or an alternate payee who is assigned benefits pursuant to a domestic relations order.

3. A judge covered under this article is deemed to consent to the reduction in basic salary as provided in subsection 1.

4. The state shall contribute an amount equal to three percent of the basic salary of all judges covered under this article, or such sums as may be necessary over the amount contributed by the judges to finance the system, but only to the extent that the system applies to them.

CHAPTER 611
ACTIONS

611.23 Civil actions involving allegations of sexual abuse or domestic abuse — counseling.
In a civil case in which a plaintiff is seeking relief or damages for alleged sexual abuse as defined in section 709.1 or domestic abuse as defined in section 236.2, the plaintiff may seek, and the court may grant, an order requiring the defendant to receive professional counseling, in addition to any other appropriate relief or damages.

CHAPTER 613
PARTIES — CAUSES OF ACTION — LIABILITY AND LIMITATIONS ON LIABILITY

613.17 Emergency assistance in an accident.
A person, who in good faith renders emergency care or assistance without compensation, shall not be liable for any civil damages for acts or omissions occurring at the place of an emergency or accident or while the person is in transit to or from the emergency or accident or while the person is at or being moved to or from an emergency shelter unless such acts or omissions constitute recklessness. For purposes of this section, if a volunteer fire fighter, volunteer operator or attendant of an ambulance or rescue squad service, a volunteer paramedic, a volunteer emergency medical technician, or a volunteer registered member of the national ski patrol system receives nominal compensation not based upon the value of the services performed, that person shall be considered to be receiving no compensation. The operation of a motor vehicle in compliance with section 321.231 by a volunteer fire fighter, volunteer operator, or attendant of an ambulance or rescue squad service, a volunteer paramedic, or volunteer emergency medical technician shall be considered rendering emergency care or assistance for purposes of this section.
CHAPTER 614
LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS

614.1 Period.
Actions may be brought within the times herein limited, respectively, after their causes accrue, and not afterwards, except when otherwise specially declared:

1. Penalties or forfeitures under ordinance. Those to enforce the payment of a penalty or forfeiture under an ordinance, within one year.

2. Injuries to person or reputation — relative rights — statute penalty. Those founded on injuries to the person or reputation, including injuries to relative rights, whether based on contract or tort, or for a statute penalty, within two years.

3. Against sheriff or other public officer. Those against a sheriff or other public officer for the non-payment of money collected on execution within three years of collection.

4. Unwritten contracts — injuries to property — fraud — other actions. Those founded on unwritten contracts, those brought for injuries to property, or for relief on the ground of fraud in cases heretofore solely cognizable in a court of chancery, and all other actions not otherwise provided for in this respect, within five years, except as provided by subsections 8 and 10.

5. Written contracts — judgments of courts not of record — recovery of real property. Those founded on written contracts, or on judgments of any courts except those provided for in the next subsection, and those brought for the recovery of real property, within ten years.

6. Judgments of courts of record. Those founded on a judgment of a court of record, whether of this or of any other of the United States, or of the federal courts of the United States, within twenty years.

7. Judgment quieting title. No action shall be brought to set aside a judgment or decree quieting title to real estate unless the same shall be commenced within ten years from and after the rendition thereof.

8. Wages. Those founded on claims for wages or for a liability or penalty for failure to pay wages, within two years.

9. Malpractice. Those founded on injuries to the person or wrongful death against any physician and surgeon, osteopath, osteopathic physician and surgeon, dentist, podiatrist, optometrist, pharmacist, chiropractor, or nurse, licensed under chapter 147, or a hospital licensed under chapter 135B, arising out of patient care, within two years after the date on which the claimant knew, or through the use of reasonable diligence should have known, or received notice in writing of the existence of, the injury or death for which damages are sought in the action, whichever of the dates occurs first, but in no event shall any action be brought more than six years after the date on which occurred the act or omission or occurrence alleged in the action to have been the cause of the injury or death unless a foreign object unintentionally left in the body caused the injury or death.

10. Secured interest in farm products. Those founded on a secured interest in farm products, within two years from the date of sale of the farm products against the secured interest of the creditor.

11. Improvements to real property. In addition to limitations contained elsewhere in this section, an action arising out of the unsafe or defective condition of an improvement to real property based on tort and implied warranty and for contribution and indemnity, and founded on injury to property, real or personal, or injury to the person or wrongful death, shall not be brought more than fifteen years after the date on which occurred the act or omission of the defendant alleged in the action to have been the cause of the injury or death. However, this subsection does not bar an action against a person solely in the person's capacity as an owner, occupant, or operator of an improvement to real property.

12. Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist. An action for damages for injury suffered as a result of sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist shall be brought within five years of the date the victim was last treated by the counselor or therapist.

614.14 Recovery by beneficiary of trust.
1. In all cases where a deed of trust or declaration of trust has been executed and the real estate affected by the deed or declaration has been conveyed by the trustee or the surviving spouse or heirs of the trustee and the conveyance was recorded in the proper county prior to March 1, 1982, and the interest of the beneficiary of the trust in the real estate has not been conveyed or established by proper proceedings in court, by the beneficiary, an action, suit or proceeding shall not be commenced or maintained to foreclose the same, or to establish or recover the interest of the beneficiary in the real estate, or of the surviving spouse or heirs of the beneficiary, unless the action, suit, or proceeding is commenced by filing petition and service of notice not later than March 1, 1992.

2. In all cases where a deed of trust or declaration of trust has been executed, no legal action shall be commenced or maintained to foreclose real estate or establish or recover the interest of a beneficiary or of the surviving spouse or an heir of the beneficiary in the real estate, if all the following conditions are satisfied:

a. The real estate affected by the deed or declaration of trust has been conveyed by the trustee or the surviving spouse or heir of the trustee.

b. The conveyance was recorded in the proper county for more than ten years.

c. The interest of the beneficiary of the trust and the real estate has not been conveyed or established by the proper proceedings in court.

However, this section shall not apply if the legal action is commenced by filing a petition of service of notice within ten years of the recording of the conveyance.

614.15 Spouse failing to join in conveyance.

1. In all cases where the holder of the legal or equitable title or estate to real estate situated within this state, prior to July 1, 1981, conveyed the real estate or any interest in the real estate by deed, mortgage, or other instrument, and the spouse failed to join in the conveyance, the spouse or the heirs at law, personal representatives, devisees, grantees, or assignees of the spouse are barred from recovery unless suit is brought for recovery within one year after July 1, 1991. But in case the right to the distributive share has not accrued by the death of the spouse executing the instrument, then the one not joining is authorized to file in the recorder's office of the county where the land is situated, a notice with affidavit setting forth the affiant's claim, together with the facts upon which the claim rests, and the residence of the claimants. If the notice is not filed within two years from July 1, 1991, the claim is barred forever. Any action contemplated in this section may include land situated in different counties by giving notice as provided in section 617.13. The effect of filing the notice with affidavit shall extend for a further period of ten years the time within which the action may be brought. Successive notices may be filed extending this period.

Section amended

614.16 Interpretative clause.

Sections 614.14 and 614.15 do not affect litigation pending on July 1, 1991, nor do they operate to revive rights or claims barred previous to that date, nor permit an action to be brought or maintained upon any claim or cause of action which is barred by a statute in force prior to July 1, 1991.

91 Acts, ch 183, §35 HF 618
Section amended

614.17 Claims to real estate antedating 1980.

An action based upon a claim arising or existing prior to January 1, 1980, shall not be maintained, either at law or in equity, in any court to recover real estate in this state or to recover or establish any interest in or claim to real estate, legal or equitable, against the holder of the record title to the real estate in possession, when the holder of the record title and the holder's immediate or remote grantors are shown by the record to have held chain of title to the real estate, since January 1, 1980, unless the claimant in person, or by the claimant's attorney or agent, or if the claimant is a minor or under legal disability, by the claimant's guardian, trustee, or either parent, within one year from and after July 1, 1991, files in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the real estate is situated, a statement in writing with facts upon which the claim rests, and the residence of the claimants.

For the purposes of this section, section 614.17A, and sections 614.18 to 614.20, a person who holds title to real estate by will or descent from a person who held the title of record to the real estate at the date of that person's death or who holds title by decree or order of a court, or under a tax deed, trustee's, receiver's, guardian's, executor's, administrator's, assignee's, master's in chancery, or sheriff's deed, holds chain of title the same as though holding by direct conveyance.

For the purposes of this section and section 614.17A, such possession of real estate may be shown of record by affidavits showing the possession, and when the affidavits have been filed and recorded, it is the duty of the recorder to enter upon the margin of the record, a certificate to the effect that the affidavits were filed by the owner in possession, as named in the affidavits, or by the owner's attorney in fact, as shown by the records and in like manner, the affidavits may be filed and recorded where any action was barred on any claim by this section as in force prior to July 1, 1991.

91 Acts, ch 183, §36 HF 618
Section amended

1 After July 1, 1992, an action shall not be maintained in a court, either at law or in equity, in order to recover or establish an interest in or claim to real estate if all the following conditions are satisfied:
   a The action is based upon a claim arising more than ten years earlier or existing for more than ten years;
   b The action is against the holder of the record title to the real estate in possession;
   c The holder of the record title to the real estate in possession and the holder's immediate or remote grantors are shown by the record to have held chain of title to the real estate for more than ten years.

2 The claimant within ten years of the date on which the claim arose or first existed must file with the county recorder in the county where the real estate is located a written statement which is duly acknowledged and definitely describes the real estate involved, the nature and extent of the right of interest claimed, and the facts upon which the claim is based. The claimant must file the statement in person or by the claimant's attorney or agent. If the claimant is a minor or under a legal disability, the statement must be filed by the claimant's guardian, trustee, or by either parent.

The filing of a claim shall extend for a further period of ten years the time within which such action may be brought by any person entitled to bring the claim. The person may file extensions for successive claims.

3 Nothing in this section shall be construed to revive any cause of action barred by section 614.17.

91 Acts ch 183 §37 HF 618

NEW section

614.20 Limitation on Act.

Sections 614.17 to 614.19 do not limit or extend the time within which actions by a spouse to recover dower or distributive share in real estate within this state may be brought or maintained under the provisions of section 614.15, nor do they limit or extend the time within which actions may be brought or maintained to foreclose or enforce any real estate mortgage, bond for deed, trust deed, or contract for the sale or conveyance of real estate under the provisions of section 614.21, nor do they revive or permit an action to be brought or maintained upon any claim or cause of action which is barred by a statute which is in force prior to July 1, 1991, nor do they affect litigation pending on July 1, 1991.

91 Acts ch 183 §38 HF 618
Section amended

614.22 Action affecting ancient deeds.

An action shall not be maintained to set aside, cancel, annul, declare void or invalid, or to redeem from a tax deed, guardian's deed, executor's deed, administrator's deed, receiver's deed, assignee's deed or sheriff's deed which has been recorded in the office of the recorder of the county or counties in which the land described in the deed is situated prior to January 1, 1980, unless the action is commenced prior to January 1, 1992, and if an action to set aside, cancel, annul, declare void or invalid, or to redeem from the deed is not commenced prior to January 1, 1992, then the deed and all the proceedings upon which the deed is based are valid and unimpeachable and effective to convey title as stated in the deed, without exception for infancy, mental illness, absence from the state, or other disability or cause, provided that this section and section 614.23 do not apply to real property described in a deed which is not on July 1, 1991, in the possession of those claiming title under the deed.

On and after January 1, 1992, an action shall not be maintained to set aside, cancel, annul, or void a deed, and an action shall not be maintained to redeem from such deed, if the deed has been recorded in the office of the recorder for more than ten years. The deed must be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county or counties in which the land described in the deed is situated. If an action under this subsection is not commenced within ten years of the recording of the deed, then the deed and all proceedings upon which the deed is based are valid and unimpeachable and effective to convey title as stated in the deed, without exception for infancy, mental illness, absence from the state, or other disability or cause. As used in this subsection "deed" means a tax deed, guardian's deed, executor's deed, administrator's deed, receiver's deed, referee's deed, assignee's deed, or sheriff's deed.

However, this subsection and section 614.23 do not apply to real property described in any deed which is for more than ten years in the possession of a person claiming title under the deed.

CHAPTER 622
EVIDENCE

622.10 Communications in professional confidence — exceptions — application to court.
A practicing attorney, counselor, physician, surgeon, physician's assistant, mental health professional, or the stenographer or confidential clerk of any such person, who obtains information by reason of the person's employment, or a member of the clergy shall not be allowed, in giving testimony, to disclose any confidential communication properly entrusted to the person in the person's professional capacity, and necessary and proper to enable the person to discharge the functions of the person's office according to the usual course of practice or discipline. The prohibition does not apply to cases where the person in whose favor the prohibition is made waives the rights conferred; nor does the prohibition apply to physicians or surgeons, physician's assistants, mental health professionals, or to the stenographer or confidential clerk of any physicians or surgeons, physician's assistants, or mental health professionals, in a civil action in which the condition of the person in whose favor the prohibition is made is an element or factor of the claim or defense of the person or of any party claiming through or under the person. The evidence is admissible upon trial of the action only as it relates to the condition alleged.

If an adverse party desires the oral deposition, either discovery or evidentiary, of a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional to which the prohibition would otherwise apply or the stenographer or confidential clerk of a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional or desires to call a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional to which the prohibition would otherwise apply or the stenographer or confidential clerk of a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional as a witness at the trial of the action, the adverse party shall file an application with the court for permission to do so. The court upon hearing, which shall not be ex parte, shall grant permission unless the court finds that the evidence sought does not relate to the condition alleged and shall fix a reasonable fee to be paid to the physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional by the party taking the deposition or calling the witness.

For the purposes of this section, "mental health professional" means a psychologist licensed under chapter 154B, a registered nurse licensed under chapter 152, a social worker licensed under chapter 154C, a marital and family therapist licensed under chapter 154D, a mental health counselor licensed under chapter 154D, or an individual holding at least a master's degree in a related field as deemed appropriate by the board of behavioral science examiners.

No qualified school guidance counselor, who has met the certification and accreditation standards of the department of education as provided in section 256.11, subsection 10, who obtains information by reason of the counselor's employment as a qualified school guidance counselor shall be allowed, in giving testimony, to disclose any confidential communications properly entrusted to the counselor by a pupil or the pupil's parent or guardian in the counselor's capacity as a qualified school guidance counselor and necessary and proper to enable the counselor to perform the counselor's duties as a qualified school guidance counselor.

622.30 Photographic copies — originals destroyed.

1. In all cases where depositions are taken by either method provided by law, outside of the county in which the case is for trial where books of account are competent evidence in the case, the party desiring to offer the entries of said books as evidence may cause the same to be photographed by or under the direction of the officer taking the deposition and such photographic copy when certified by such officer with the officer's seal attached shall be attached to the deposition, and if the record shows affirmatively the preliminary proof required by section 622.28, such copy shall be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as the original.

2. If any business, institution, member of a profession or calling, or any department or agency of government, in the regular course of business or activity has kept or recorded any memorandum, entry print, representation or combination thereof, of any act, transaction, occurrence or event and in the regular course of business has caused any or all of the same to be recorded, copied, or reproduced by any photographic, photostatic, microfilm, microcard, miniature photographic, electronic imaging, electronic data processing, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original, the original may be destroyed in the regular course of business unless held in a custodial or fiduciary capacity or unless its preservation is required by law, except if the originals are records, reports, or other papers of a county officer they shall not be destroyed until they have been preserved for ten years. Such reproduction, when satisfactorily identified, is as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding whether the original is in existence or not and an enlargement or facsimile of such reproduction is likewise admissible in evidence if the original recording, copy, or reproduction is in existence and available for inspection under direction of court. The introduction of a reproduced record, enlargement or facsimile, does not preclude admission of the original.

CHAPTER 625
COSTS

625.21 Interest.

Except for an action brought pursuant to chapter 668, when the judgment is for the recovery of money, interest from the time of the verdict or report until judgment is finally entered shall be added to the costs of the party entitled to the costs.

CHAPTER 631
SMALL CLAIMS

631.6 Fees and costs.

All fees and costs required to be paid in small claims actions shall be paid in advance, and shall be assessed as costs in the action.

1. The filing fee for a small claims action is twenty-five dollars. The fee shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account as established in section 602.8108. Of the amount of the fee paid into the state treasury, one dollar shall be deposited in the judicial retirement fund established in section 602.9104 to be used to pay retirement benefits of the judicial retirement system.

The clerk shall collect an additional fee of five dollars upon docketing a small claims action, and shall remit the fee to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, including but not limited to the other provisions of this section, the additional fee of five dollars imposed in this paragraph shall not be deposited in the court revenue distribution account, and shall not be deposited in the judicial retirement fund.

2. Postage charged for the mailing of original notices shall be the actual cost of the postage.

3. Fees for personal service by peace officers or other officials of the state are the amounts specified by law.

4. Fees for service of notice on nonresidents are as provided in section 617.3.

All fees and costs collected in small claims actions, shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108, except that the fee specified in subsection 4 shall be remitted to the secretary of state.

PROBATE CODE

633.10 Jurisdiction.
The district court sitting in probate shall have jurisdiction of:

1. Estates of decedents and absentees.
The probate and contest of wills; the appointment of personal representatives; the granting of letters testamentary and of administration; the administration, settlement and distribution of estates of decedents and absentees, whether such estates consist of real or personal property or both.

2. Construction of wills and trust instruments.
The construction of wills and trust instruments during the administration of the estate or trust, whether said construction be incident to such administration, or as a separate proceeding.

3. Conservatorships and guardianships.
The appointment of conservators and guardians; the granting of letters of conservatorship and guardianship; the administration, settlement and closing of conservatorships and guardianships.

4. Trusts and trustees.

a. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the appointment of trustees; the granting of letters of trusteeship; the administration of testamentary trusts; the administration of express trusts where jurisdiction is specifically conferred on the court by the trust instrument; the administration of express trusts where the administration of the court is invoked by the trustee, beneficiary, or any interested party; the administration of trusts which are established by a decree of court and result in the administration thereof by the court; and the settlement and closing of all such trusts.

b. A trust which is administered solely or jointly by a bank or trust company referred to in section 633.63, subsection 2, is not subject to the jurisdiction of the court unless jurisdiction is invoked by the trustee or beneficiary, or if otherwise provided by the governing instrument. Upon application by a bank or trust company administering a trust which was in existence on May 20, 1985, and is subject to the court's jurisdiction, and following notice to the beneficiaries as provided in section 633.40, subsection 4, the court shall release the trust from further jurisdiction unless one or more beneficiaries object, on the condition that jurisdiction may be thereafter invoked by the trustee or beneficiary.

c. The provisions of paragraph “b” shall be effective for applications filed on or after July 1, 1991.

Subsection 4 amended

633.76A Exception — voting of publicly traded securities.
Where there are two or more fiduciaries, a fiduciary may delegate to another fiduciary the power to vote publicly traded securities, unless the instrument creating the estate provides to the contrary. The delegating fiduciary shall not be personally liable for the manner in which such securities are voted by the fiduciary to whom the power is delegated.

91 Acts, ch 36, §2 SF 213
NEW section

633.123 Model prudent person investment Act.

1. Investments by fiduciaries. When investing, reinvesting, purchasing, acquiring, exchanging, selling, and managing property for the benefit of another, a fiduciary shall exercise the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use to attain the purposes of the account. This standard requires that when making investment decisions, a fiduciary shall consider the role that the investment plays within the account's portfolio of assets and may consider the general economic conditions, the anticipated tax consequences of the investment, the anticipated duration of the account, and the needs of all beneficiaries of the account.

The propriety of an investment decision is to be determined by what the fiduciary knew or should have known at the time of the decision about the inherent nature and expected performance of the investment, the attributes of the account portfolio, the general economy, and the needs and objectives of the beneficiaries of the account as they existed at the time of the investment decision.

2. Actions pursuant to governing instrument. A fiduciary acting under a governing instrument is not liable to anyone whose interests arise from the instrument for the fiduciary's good faith reliance on the express provisions of the instrument. In the absence of an express provision to the contrary in the governing instrument, a fiduciary shall not be deemed to have breached the person's fiduciary duties for continuing to hold property received into an account at the account's inception or subsequently added to the account or acquired pursuant to proper authority if the fiduciary, in good faith and with reasonable prudence, considers that retention is in the best interest of the trust or estate or in furtherance of the goals of the governing instrument.

If a fiduciary is expressly directed or permitted by a will, agreement, court order, or other instrument creating or defining the fiduciary's duties and powers, to invest in United States government obligations and to collateralize such obligations either directly or in the form of interests in an investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80a, the portfolio of which is limited to United States government obligations and to repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations, if the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral either directly or through an authorized custodian.

3. Powers of court to authorize investment. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as restricting the power of the court, after such notice as the court may prescribe, to permit a fiduciary to deviate from the terms of any will, agreement, or other instrument relating to the acquisition, investment, reinvestment, exchange, retention, sale or management of fiduciary property.

4. Scope of application. The provisions of this section shall govern all fiduciaries acting under the jurisdiction of the court whether the wills, agreements or other instruments under which they are acting now exist, or are hereafter made.

633.175 Waiver of bond by court.

The court may, for good cause shown, exempt any fiduciary from giving bond, if the court finds that the interests of creditors and distributees will not thereby be prejudiced. However, the court shall not exempt a conservator from giving bond in a conservatorship with total assets of more than ten thousand dollars, excluding real property, unless it is a voluntary conservatorship in which the petitioner is eighteen years of age or older and has waived bond in the petition.

633.356 Distribution of property by affidavit.

1. When the gross value of the decedent's personal property does not exceed ten thousand dollars and there is no real property or the real property passes to a surviving spouse as joint tenant with right of survivorship, and if forty days have elapsed since the death of the decedent, the successor of the decedent as defined in subsection 2 may, by filing an affidavit prepared pursuant to subsection 3, and without procuring letters of appointment, do any of the following with respect to one or more particular items of personal property:
   a. Receive any particular item of property that is tangible personal property of the decedent.
   b. Have any particular item of property that is evidence of a debt, obligation, interest, right, security, or chose in action belonging to the decedent transferred.
   c. Collect the proceeds from any life insurance policy or any other item of property for which a beneficiary has not been designated.

2. "Successor of the decedent" means:
   a. If the decedent died testate, the beneficiary or beneficiaries who succeeded to the particular item of property of the decedent under the decedent's will.
   b. If the decedent died intestate, the person or persons who succeeded to the particular item of property of the decedent under the laws of intestate succession of this state.

3. To collect money, receive tangible personal property, or have evidences of intangible personal property transferred under this chapter, the successor of the decedent shall furnish to the holder of the decedent's property an affidavit under penalty of perjury stating all of the following:
   a. The decedent's name and the date and place of the decedent's death.
   b. That at least forty days have elapsed since the death of the decedent, as shown by an attached certified copy of the death certificate of the decedent.
   c. That the gross value of the decedent's personal property does not exceed ten thousand dollars and there is no real property or the real property passes to a surviving spouse as joint tenant with right of survivorship

d. A description of the property of the decedent that is to be paid, transferred, or delivered to the successor

e. The name, address, and social security number of the successor of the decedent to the described property, and whether the successor is under a legal disability

f. If applicable, that attached copy of the decedent’s will is the last will of the decedent and has been admitted to probate or otherwise filed in the office of a clerk of the district court

g. That no persons other than those listed in the affidavit have a right to the interest of the decedent in the described property

h. That the affidavit requests that the described property be paid, delivered, or transferred to the successors of the decedent to the described property

i. That the affiant affirms under penalty of perjury that the affidavit is true and correct

More than one person may execute an affidavit under this subsection

4. If the decedent had evidence of ownership of the property described in the affidavit and the holder of the property would have the right to require presentation of the evidence of ownership before the duty of the holder to pay, deliver, or transfer the property to the decedent would have arisen, the evidence of ownership, if available, shall be presented with the affidavit to the holder of the decedent’s property

If the evidence of ownership is not presented to the holder of the property, the holder may require, as a condition for the payment, delivery, or transfer of the property, that the successor provide the holder with a bond in a reasonable amount determined by the court to be sufficient to indemnify the holder against all liability, claims, demands, loss, damages, costs, and expenses that the holder may incur or suffer by reason of the payment, delivery, or transfer of the property. This subsection does not preclude the holder and the successor from dispensing with the requirement that a bond be provided, and instead entering into an agreement satisfactory to the holder concerning the duty of the successor to indemnify the holder

Judgments rendered by any court in this state and mortgages belonging to a decedent whose personal property is being distributed pursuant to this section may, without prior order of court, be released, discharged, or assigned, in whole or in part, as to any particular property, and deeds may be executed in performance of real estate contracts entered into by the decedent, where an affidavit made pursuant to subsection 3 is filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein any judgment, mortgage, or real estate contract appears of record

5. Reasonable proof of the identity of each successor of the decedent seeking distribution by virtue of the affidavit shall be provided to the satisfaction of the holder of the decedent’s property

6. If the requirements of this section are satisfied

a. The property described in the affidavit shall be paid, delivered, or transferred to the successor of the decedent’s interest in the property

b. A transfer agent of a security described in the affidavit shall change registered ownership on the books of the corporation from the decedent to the person listed on the affidavit as the successor of the decedent’s interest

If the holder of the decedent’s property refuses to pay, deliver, or transfer any property or evidence thereof to the successor of the decedent within a reasonable time, the successor may recover the property or compel its payment, delivery, or transfer in an action brought for that purpose against the holder of the property. If an action is brought against the holder under this subsection, the court shall award attorney’s fees to the person bringing the action if the court finds that the holder of the decedent’s property acted unreasonably in refusing to pay, deliver, or transfer the property to the person as required by this subsection

7. If the requirements of this section are satisfied, receipt by the holder of the decedent’s property of the affidavit constitutes sufficient acquittance for the payment of money, delivery of property, or transferring the registered ownership of property pursuant to this chapter and discharges the holder from any further liability with respect to the money or property. The holder may rely in good faith on the statements in the affidavit and has no duty to inquire into the truth of any statement in the affidavit

If the requirements of this section are satisfied, the holder is not liable for any debt owed by the decedent by reason of paying money, delivering property, or transferring registered ownership of property pursuant to this chapter

8. When a deceased distributee is entitled to money or property claimed in an affidavit presented under this section with respect to a deceased person whose estate is being administered in this state, the personal representative of the person whose estate is being administered shall present the affidavit to the court in which the estate is being administered. The court shall direct the personal representative to pay the money or deliver the property to the person identified by the affidavit as the successor of the deceased distributee to the extent that the court determines that the deceased distributee was entitled to the money or property under the will or the laws of intestate succession

9. The procedure provided by this section may be used only if no administration of the decedent’s estate is pending 633.591 Voluntary petition for appointment of conservator — standby basis.

Any person of full age and sound mind may execute a verified petition for the voluntary appointment of a conservator of the person’s property upon the express condition that such petition shall be acted upon by the court only upon the occurrence of an event specified or the existence of a described condition of the mental or physical health of the petitioner, the occurrence of which event, or the existence of which condition, shall be established in the manner directed in the petition. The petition, if executed on or after January 1, 1991, shall advise the proposed ward of a conservator’s powers as provided in section 633.576.

91 Acts, ch 36, §7 SF 213
Section amended

633.635 Responsibilities of guardian.

1. A guardian may be granted the following powers and duties which may be exercised without prior court approval:
   a. Providing for the care, comfort and maintenance of the ward, including the appropriate training and education to maximize the ward’s potential.
   b. Taking reasonable care of the ward’s clothing, furniture, vehicle and other personal effects.
   c. Assisting the ward in developing maximum self-reliance and independence.
   d. Ensuring the ward receives necessary emergency medical services.
   e. Ensuring the ward receives professional care, counseling, treatment or services as needed.
   f. Any other powers or duties the court may specify.

2. A guardian may be granted the following powers which may only be exercised upon court approval:
   a. Changing, at the guardian’s request, the ward’s permanent residence if the proposed new residence is more restrictive of the ward’s liberties than the current residence.
   b. Arranging the provision of major elective surgery or any other nonemergency major medical procedure.
   c. Consent to the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with chapter 144A.

3. The court may take into account all available information concerning the capabilities of the ward and any additional evaluation deemed necessary, and may direct that the guardian have only a specially limited responsibility for the ward. In that event, the court shall state those areas of responsibility which shall be supervised by the guardian and all others shall be retained by the ward. The court may make a finding that the ward lacks the capacity to contract a valid marriage.

4. From time to time, upon a proper showing, the court may alter the respective responsibilities of the guardian and the ward, after notice to the ward and an opportunity to be heard.

CHAPTER 654
FORECLOSURE OF REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

654.2B Requirements of notice of right to cure.

The notice of right to cure shall be in writing and shall conspicuously state the name, address, and telephone number of the creditor or other person to which payment is to be made, a brief identification of the obligation secured by the deed of trust or mortgage and of the borrower’s right to cure the default, a statement of the nature of the right to cure the default, a statement of the nature of the alleged default, a statement of the total payment, including an itemization of any delinquency or deferral charges, or other performance necessary to cure the alleged default, and the exact date by which the amount must be paid or performance tendered and a statement that if the borrower does not cure the alleged default the creditor or a person acting on behalf of the creditor is entitled to proceed with initiating a foreclosure action or procedure. The failure of the notice of right to cure to comply with one or more provisions of this section is not a defense or claim in any action pursuant to this chapter and does not invalidate any procedure pursuant to chapter 655A, unless the person asserting the defense, claim, or invalidity proves that the person was substantially prejudiced by such failure.

§656.2 Notice.
1. The forfeiture shall be initiated by the vendor by serving on the vendee a written notice which shall:
a. Reasonably identify the contract and accurately describe the real estate covered.
b. Specify the terms of the contract with which the vendee has not complied.
c. State that unless, within thirty days after the completed service of the notice, the vendee performs the terms in default and pays the reasonable costs of serving the notice, the contract will be forfeited.
d. Specify the amount of attorney fees claimed by the vendor pursuant to section 656.7 and state that payment of the attorney fees is not required to comply with the notice and prevent forfeiture.

2. The vendor shall also serve a copy of the notice required in subsection 1 on the person in posses­sion of the real estate, if different than the vendee; on all the vendee’s mortgagees of record; and on a person who asserts a claim against the vendee’s interest, except a government or governmental subdivision or agency holding a lien for real estate taxes or assessments, if the person has done both of the following:
a. Requested, on a form which substantially complies with the following form, that notice of for­ teiture be served on the person at an address specified in the request.
REQUEST FOR NOTICE PURSUANT TO IOWA CODE SECTION 656.2, SUBSECTION 2

CAUTION: Your name and address must be correct. If not correct, you will not receive notice requested because notice need only be served on you at the above address. If your address changes, a new request for notice must be filed.

The request for notice shall be indexed pursuant to section 558.50.

b. Filed the request form for record in the office of the county recorder after acquisition of the vendee's interest but prior to the date of recording of the proof and record of service of notice of forfeiture required by section 656.5 and paid a fee of five dollars.

 CHAPTER 663A
POSTCONVICTION PROCEDURE

663A.5 Payment of costs.
1. If the applicant is unable to pay court costs and expenses of legal representation, including stenographic, printing, or other legal services or consultation, these costs and expenses shall be made available to the applicant in the preparation of the application, in the trial court, and on review. However, nothing in this section shall be interpreted to require payment of expenses of legal representation, including stenographic, printing, or other legal services or consultation, when the applicant is self-represented or is utilizing the services of an inmate.

2. If an applicant confined in a state institution seeks relief under section 663A.2, subsection 6, and the court finds in favor of the applicant, or when relief is denied and costs and expenses referred to in subsection 1 cannot be collected from the applicant, these costs and expenses initially shall be paid by the county in which the application was filed. The facts of payment and the proceedings on which it is based, with a statement of the amount of costs and expenses incurred, shall be submitted to the county in a timely manner with approval in writing by the presiding or district judge appended to the statement or endorsed on it, and shall be certified by the clerk of the district court under seal to the state executive council. The executive council shall review the proceedings and authorize reimbursement for the costs and expenses or for that part which the executive council finds justified, and shall notify the director of revenue and finance to draw a warrant to the county treasurer on the state general fund for the amount authorized.

§656.9 Defect in forfeiture proceedings — limitation of actions.

An action shall not be commenced after July 1, 1992, which asserts a claim against real estate previously subject to a forfeiture proceeding, based upon a defect in the forfeiture proceeding, in which the proof and record of service of notice of forfeiture required by section 656.5 has been filed for record in the office of the county recorder prior to July 1, 1991.
CHAPTER 666
OFFICIAL BONDS, FINES AND FORFEITURES

666.6 Annual report of outstanding fines, penalties, forfeitures, and recognizances.
The clerk of the district court shall make an annual report in writing to the state court administrator no later than January 15 of the fines, penalties, forfeitures, and recognizances which have not been paid, remitted, canceled, or otherwise satisfied during the previous calendar year.

CHAPTER 682
SURETIES — FIDUCIARY FUNDS — FEDERALLY INSURED LOANS — TRUSTS

682.11 Authority to act as surety — agent qualifications.
1. The commissioner of insurance shall annually file with the clerk of the district court of each county a complete list of the corporate sureties to whom the commissioner has issued a current certificate of authority to transact the business of a surety in this state.
2. An agent for a company authorized to engage in the business of becoming surety upon bonds pursuant to subsection 1 must be a resident of this state for the purpose of acting on behalf of the surety company with respect to any bond or bail in criminal cases.

682.13 Record by clerk.
The clerk shall keep a book, properly indexed, in which shall be recorded all such annual lists from the commissioner of insurance and subsequent notices of revocations.

682.38 Liability.
The clerk shall be liable upon the clerk's bond for all such funds, moneys, or securities which may be deposited with the clerk and shall make complete verified statements thereof as required by the supreme court.

CHAPTER 692
CRIMINAL HISTORY AND INTELLIGENCE DATA

692.2 Dissemination of criminal history data — fees.
1. Except in cases in which members of the department are participating in an investigation or arrest, the department and bureau may provide copies or communicate information from criminal history data only to the following:
   a Criminal justice agencies.
   b Other public agencies as authorized by the commissioner of public safety.
   c The department of human services for the purposes of section 218.13, section 232.71, subsection 16, section 232.142, section 237.8, subsection 2, section 237A.5, section 237A.20, and section 600.8, subsections 1 and 2. d The state racing and gaming commission for the purposes of section 99D.8A.
   e The state lottery division for purposes of section 99E.9, subsection 2.
   f The Iowa department of public health for the purposes of screening employees and applicants for employment in substance abuse treatment programs which admit juveniles and are licensed under chapter 125.

g. Licensed private child-caring and child-placing agencies and certified adoption investigators for the purpose of section 237.8, subsection 2, and section 600.8, subsections 1 and 2.

h. A psychiatric medical institution for children licensed under chapter 135H for the purposes of section 237.8, subsection 2 and section 600.8, subsections 1 and 2.

i. The board of educational examiners for the purpose of carrying out duties imposed under section 260.2, subsection 14.

2. The bureau shall maintain a list showing the individual or agency to whom the data is disseminated and the date of dissemination.

3. Persons authorized to receive information under subsection 1 shall request and may receive criminal history data only when both of the following apply:

a. The data is for official purposes in connection with prescribed duties or required pursuant to section 237.8, subsection 2 or section 237A.5.

b. The request for data is based upon name, fingerprints, or other individual identifying characteristics.

4. The provisions of this section and section 692.3 which relate to the requiring of an individually identified request prior to the dissemination or redissemination of criminal history data do not apply to the furnishing of criminal history data to the federal bureau of investigation or to the dissemination or redissemination of information that an arrest warrant has been or will be issued, and other relevant information including but not limited to, the offense and the date and place of alleged commission, individually identifying characteristics of the person to be arrested, and the court or jurisdiction issuing the warrant.

5. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, the department and bureau may provide copies or communicate information from criminal history data to any youth service agency approved by the commissioner of public safety. The department shall adopt rules to provide for the qualification and approval of youth service agencies to receive criminal history data.

The criminal history data to be provided by the department and bureau to authorized youth service agencies shall be limited to information on applicants for paid or voluntary positions, where those positions would place the applicant in direct contact with children.

6. The department may charge a fee to any non-law-enforcement agency to conduct criminal history record checks and otherwise administer this section and other sections of the Code providing access to criminal history records. The fee shall be set by the commissioner of public safety equal to the cost incurred not to exceed twenty dollars for each individual check requested. Notwithstanding any other limitation, the department is authorized to use revenues generated from the fee to employ clerical personnel to process criminal history checks for non-law-enforcement purposes.

In cases in which members of the department are participating in the investigation or arrest, or where officers of other criminal justice agencies participating in the investigation or arrest consent, the department may disseminate criminal history data and intelligence data when the dissemination complies with section 692.3.

91 Acts, ch 138, §9 HF 296
Applicability of 1991 amendment to subsection 1, paragraph c; 91 Acts, ch 138, §10 HF 296

692.17 Exclusions — purposes.

Criminal history data in a computer data storage system shall not include arrest or disposition data after the person has been acquitted or the charges dismissed.

For the purposes of this section, “criminal history data” includes information maintained by any criminal justice agency if the information otherwise meets the definition of criminal history data set forth in section 692.1.

Criminal history data may be collected for management or research purposes.

CHAPTER 702
DEFINITIONS

702.11 Forcible felony.
A "forcible felony" is any felonious child endangerment, assault, murder, sexual abuse, kidnapping, robbery, arson in the first degree, or burglary in the first degree. However, sexual abuse in the third degree committed between spouses, sexual abuse in violation of section 709.4, subsection 2, paragraph "c", subparagraph (4), or sexual exploitation by a counselor or therapist in violation of section 709.15, is not a "forcible felony".

§708.2A

CHAPTER 708
ASSAULT

708.2A Domestic abuse assault — mandatory minimums, penalties enhanced.
1. For the purposes of this chapter, "domestic abuse assault" means an assault, as defined in section 708.1, which is domestic abuse as defined in section 236.2.
2. On a first offense of domestic abuse assault, the person commits:
   a. A simple misdemeanor for a domestic abuse assault, except as otherwise provided.
   b. A serious misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault is committed without the intent to inflict a serious injury upon another, and the assault causes bodily injury or disabling mental illness.
   c. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault is committed with the intent to inflict a serious injury upon another, or if the person uses or displays a dangerous weapon in connection with the assault. This paragraph does not apply if section 708.6 or 708.8 applies.
3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, on a second or subsequent domestic abuse assault, a person commits:
   a. A serious misdemeanor, if the first offense was classified as a simple misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a simple misdemeanor.
   b. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the first offense was classified as a simple or aggravated misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a serious misdemeanor, or the first offense was classified as a serious or aggravated misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a simple or serious misdemeanor.
   A conviction for, deferred judgment for, or plea of guilty to, a violation of this section which occurred more than six years prior to the date of the violation charged shall not be considered in determining that the violation charged is a second or subsequent offense. For the purpose of determining if a violation charged is a second or subsequent offense, deferred judgments issued pursuant to section 907.3 for violations of section 708.2 or this section, which were issued on domestic abuse assaults, and convictions or the equivalent of deferred judgments for violations in any other states under statutes substantially corresponding to this section shall be counted as previous offenses. The courts shall judicially notice the statutes of other states which define offenses substantially equivalent to the offenses defined in this section and can therefore be considered corresponding statutes. Each previous violation on which conviction or deferral of judgment was entered prior to the date of the offense charged shall be considered and counted as a separate previous offense. An offense shall be considered a prior offense regardless of whether it was committed upon the same victim.
4. A person convicted of violating this section shall serve a minimum term of two days of the sentence imposed by law, and shall not be eligible for suspension of the minimum sentence. The minimum term shall be served on consecutive days. This section does not prohibit the court from sentencing and the defendant from serving the maximum term of confinement or from paying the maximum fine permitted pursuant to chapters 902 and 903, and does not prohibit the court from entering a deferred judgment or sentence pursuant to section 907.3, if the defendant has not previously received a deferred sentence or judgment for a violation of section 708.2 or this section which was issued on a domestic abuse assault. However, once the defendant has received one deferred sentence or judgment involving a violation of section 708.2 or this section which was issued on a domestic abuse assault, the defendant shall not be eligible to receive another deferred sentence or judgment for a violation of this section.

5. The clerk of the district court shall provide oral or other notice and copies of a judgment entered under this section to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide oral or other notice and copies of modifications of the judgment in the same manner.

6. In addition to the mandatory minimum term of confinement imposed by this section, the court shall order the defendant to participate in a batterers' treatment program as required under section 708.2B. In addition, as a condition of deferring judgment or sentence pursuant to section 907.3, the court shall order the defendant to participate in a batterers' treatment program. The clerk of the district court shall send a copy of the judgment or deferred judgment to the judicial district department of correctional services.

CHAPTER 709
SEXUAL ABUSE AND RELATED VIOLATIONS

709.10 Cost of medical examination in crimes of sexual abuse.

The cost of a medical examination for the purpose of gathering evidence and the cost of treatment for the purpose of preventing venereal disease shall be paid from the fund established in section 912.14.

709.15 Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist.

1. As used in this section:
   a. "Counselor or therapist" means a physician, psychologist, nurse, professional counselor, social worker, marriage or family therapist, alcohol or drug counselor, member of the clergy, or any other person, whether or not licensed or registered by the state, who provides or purports to provide mental health services.
   b. "Emotionally dependent" means that the nature of the patient’s or client’s or former patient’s or client’s emotional condition or the nature of the treatment provided by the counselor or therapist is such that the counselor or therapist knows or has reason to know that the patient or client or former patient or client is significantly impaired in the ability to withhold consent to sexual conduct, as described in paragraph “f”, by the counselor or therapist.

For the purposes of paragraph “f”, a former patient or former client is presumed to be dependent for one year following the termination of the provision of mental health services.
c “Former patient or client” means a person who received mental health services from the counselor or therapist.

d “Mental health service” means the treatment, assessment, or counseling of another person for a cognitive, behavioral, emotional, mental, or social dysfunction, including an intrapersonal or interpersonal dysfunction.

e “Patient or client” means a person who receives mental health services from the counselor or therapist.

f “Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist” occurs when either or both of the following are found:

1. A pattern or practice or scheme of conduct to engage in any of the conduct described in subparagraph (2) or (3).

2. Any sexual conduct, with a patient or client or emotionally dependent former patient or client for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the counselor or therapist or the patient or client or emotionally dependent former patient or client, which includes but is not limited to the following kissing, touching of the clothed or unclothed inner thigh, breast, groin, buttock, anus, pubes, or genitals, or a sex act as defined in section 702 17.

3. Any sexual conduct with a patient or client or former patient or client within one year of the termination of the provision of mental health services by the counselor or therapist for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the counselor or therapist or the patient or client or emotionally dependent former patient or client which includes but is not limited to the following kissing, touching of the clothed or unclothed inner thigh, breast, groin, buttock, anus, pubes, or genitals, or a sex act as defined in section 702 17.

“Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist” does not include touching which is part of a necessary examination or treatment provided a patient or client by a counselor or therapist acting within the scope of the practice or employment in which the counselor or therapist is engaged.

2. A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f,” subparagraph (1), commits a class “D” felony.

3. A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f,” subparagraph (2), commits an aggravated misdemeanor.

4. A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f,” subparagraph (3), commits a serious misdemeanor.

5. A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f,” subparagraph (3), commits a serious misdemeanor. In lieu of the sentence provided for under section 903 1, subsection 1, paragraph “b,” the offender may be required to attend a sexual abuser treatment program.

CHAPTER 714
THEFT, FRAUD, AND RELATED OFFENSES

714.8 Fraudulent practices defined.
A person who does any of the following acts is guilty of a fraudulent practice:

1. Makes, tenders or keeps for sale any warehouse receipt, bill of lading, or any other instrument purporting to represent any right to goods, with knowledge that the goods represented by such instrument do not exist.

2. Knowingly attaches or alters any label to any goods offered or kept for sale so as to materially misrepresent the quality or quantity of such goods, or the maker or source of such goods.

3. Knowingly executes or tenders a false certification under penalty of perjury, false affidavit, or false certificate, if the certification, affidavit, or certificate is required by law or given in support of a claim for compensation, indemnification, restitution, or other payment.

4. Makes any entry in or alteration of any public records, or any records of any corporation, partnership, or other business enterprise or nonprofit enterprise, knowing the same to be false.

5. Removes, alters or defaces any serial or other identification number, or any owners’ identification mark, from any property not the person’s own.

6. For the purpose of soliciting assistance, contributions, or other thing of value, falsely represents oneself to be a veteran of the armed forces of the United States, or a member of any fraternal, religious, charitable, or veterans organization, or any pretended organization of a similar nature, or to be acting on behalf of such person or organization.

7. Manufactures, sells, or keeps for sale any token or device suitable for the operation of a coin-operated device or vending machine, with the intent that such token or device may be so used, or with the representation that they can be so used; provided, that the owner or operator of any coin-operated device or vending machine may sell slugs or tokens for use in the person’s own devices.

8. Manufactures or possesses any false or counterfeit label, with the intent that it be placed on merchandise to falsely identify its origin or quality, or who sells any such false or counterfeit label with the representation that it may be so used.

9. Alters or renders inoperative or inaccurate any meter or measuring device used in determining the value of or compensation for the purchase, use or enjoyment of property, with the intent to defraud any person.

10. Does any act expressly declared to be a fraudulent practice by any other section of the Code.

11. Removes, defaces, covers, alters, or destroys any component part number as defined in section 321.1, subsection 73, or vehicle identification number as defined in section 321.1, subsection 74, for the purpose of concealing or misrepresenting the identity of the component part or vehicle.

12. Knowingly transfers or assigns a legal or equitable interest in property, as defined in section 702.14, for less than fair consideration, with the intent to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code, or accepts a transfer of or an assignment of a legal or equitable interest in property, as defined in section 702.14, for less than fair consideration, with the intent of enabling the party transferring the property to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code. A transfer or assignment of property for less than fair consideration within one year prior to the intent of enabling the party transferring the property to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code, or accepts a transfer of or an assignment of a legal or equitable interest in property of a business operation had no intention of performing the work.

13. Knowingly falsifying information on an application for the purpose of obtaining benefits under targeted small business programs.

A violation under this subsection is grounds for decertification of the targeted small business connected with the violation. Decertification shall be in addition to any penalty otherwise authorized by this section.

14. Makes payment pursuant to an agreement with a dealer or market agency for livestock held by the dealer or market agency by use of a financial instrument which is a check, share draft, draft, or written order on any financial institution, as defined in section 543.1, if after seven days from the date that possession of the livestock is transferred pursuant to the purchase, the financial institution refuses payment on the instrument because of insufficient funds in the maker’s account.

This subsection is not applicable if the maker pays the holder of the instrument the amount due on the instrument within one business day from a receipt of notice by certified mail from the holder that payment has been refused by the financial institution.

As used in this subsection, “dealer” means a person engaged in the business of buying or selling livestock, either on the person’s own account, or as an employee or agent of a vendor or purchaser. “Market agency” means a person engaged in the business of buying or selling livestock on a commission basis.
ing or commercial building unless an undivided interest in the land is granted as a condition precedent to occupying space in said structure.

f. "Unfair practice" means an act or practice which causes substantial, unavoidable injury to consumers that is not outweighed by any consumer or competitive benefits which the practice produces.

g. "Deception" means an act or practice which has the tendency or capacity to mislead a substantial number of consumers as to a material fact or facts.

h. "Water treatment system" means a device or assembly for which a claim is made that it will improve the quality of drinking water by reducing one or more contaminants through mechanical, physical, chemical, or biological processes or combinations of the processes. As used in this paragraph and in subsection 2, paragraph "h", each model of a water treatment system shall be deemed a distinct water treatment system.

i. "Contaminant" means any particulate, chemical, microbiological, or radiological substance in water which has a potentially adverse health effect and for which a maximum contaminant level (MCL) has been specified in the national primary drinking water regulations.

j. "Label", as used in subsection 2, paragraph "h", means the written, printed, or graphic matter permanently affixed or attached to or printed on the water treatment system.

k. "Manufacturer's performance data sheet" means a booklet, document, or other printed material containing, at a minimum, the information required pursuant to section 714.16, subsection 2, paragraph "h".

l. "Seller", as used in subsection 2, paragraph "h", means the person offering the water treatment system for sale, lease, or rent.

m. "Buyer", as used in subsection 2, paragraph "h", means the person to whom the water system is being sold, leased, or rented.

n. "Consummation of sale" means completion of the act of selling, leasing, or renting.

o. "Consumer information pamphlet" means a publication which explains water quality, health effects, quality expectations for drinking water, and the effectiveness of water treatment systems.

2. a. The act, use or employment by a person of an unfair practice, deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, or misrepresentation, or the concealment, suppression, or omission of a material fact with intent that others rely upon the concealment, suppression, or omission, in connection with the lease, sale, or advertisement of any merchandise or the solicitation of contributions for charitable purposes, whether or not a person has in fact been misled, deceived, or damaged, is an unlawful practice.

It is deceptive advertising within the meaning of this section for a person to represent in connection with the lease, sale, or advertisement of any merchandise that the advertised merchandise has certain performance characteristics, accessories, uses, or benefits or that certain services are performed on behalf of clients or customers of that person if, at the time of the representation, no reasonable basis for the claim existed. The burden is on the person making the representation to demonstrate that a reasonable basis for the claim existed.

A retailer who uses advertising for a product, other than a drug or other product claiming to have a health related benefit or use, prepared by a supplier shall not be liable under this section unless the retailer participated in the preparation of the advertisement; knew or should have known that the advertisement was deceptive, false, or misleading; refused to withdraw the product from sales upon the request of the attorney general pending a determination of whether the advertisement was deceptive, false, or misleading; refused upon the request of the attorney general to provide the name and address of the supplier; or refused to cooperate with the attorney general in an action brought against the supplier under this section.

"Material fact" as used in this subsection does not include repairs of damage to or adjustments on or replacements of parts with new parts of otherwise new merchandise if the repairs, adjustments or replacements are made to achieve compliance with factory specifications and are made before sale of the merchandise at retail and the actual cost of any labor and parts charged to or performed by a retailer for any such repairs, adjustments and parts does not exceed three hundred dollars or ten percent of the actual cost to a retailer including freight of the merchandise, whichever is less, providing that the seller posts in a conspicuous place notice that repairs, adjustments or replacements will be disclosed upon request. The exemption provided in this paragraph does not apply to the concealment, suppression or omission of a material fact if the purchaser requests disclosure of any repair, adjustment or replacement.

b. The advertisement for sale, lease or rent, or the actual sale, lease, or rental of any merchandise at a price or with a rebate or payment or other consideration to the purchaser which is contingent upon the procurement of prospective customers provided by the purchaser, or the procurement of sales, leases, or rentals to persons suggested by the purchaser, is declared to be an unlawful practice rendering any obligation incurred by the buyer in connection therewith, completely void and a nullity. The rights and obligations of any contract relating to such contingent price, rebate, or payment shall be interdependent and inseverable from the rights and obligations relating to the sale, lease, or rental.

c. It is an unlawful practice for any person to advertise the sale of merchandise at reduced rates due to the cessation of business operations and after the date of the first such advertisement remain in business under the same or substantially the same ownership, or under the same or substantially the same trade name, or to continue to offer for sale the same type of merchandise at the same location for more than one hundred twenty days. As used in this paragraph "person" includes a person who acquires an ownership interest in the business either within sixty days before the initial advertisement of the sale or at any time after the initial advertisement of the sale. In addition, a person acquiring an ownership interest shall comply with paragraph "g" if the person adds additional merchandise to the sale.

(1) No person shall offer or advertise within this state for sale or lease, any subdivided lands without first filing with the real estate commission true and accurate copies of all road plans, plats, field notes, and diagrams of water, sewage, and electric power lines as they exist at the time of the filing, however, this filing is not required for a subdivision subject to section 306.21 or chapter 409A. A filing shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars for each subdivision included, payable to the real estate commission.

(2) False or misleading statements filed pursuant to subparagraph (1) or section 306.21 or chapter 409A, and advertising, offers to sell, or contracts not in substantial conformity with the filings made pursuant to section 306.21 or chapter 409A are unlawful.

e. Any violations of chapter 123 or any other provisions of law by a manufacturer, distiller, vintner, importer, or any other person participating in the distribution of alcoholic liquor or beer as defined in chapter 123.

f. A violation of a provision of sections 535C.1 through 535C.10 is an unlawful practice.

g. It is an unlawful practice for a person to acquire directly or indirectly an interest in a business which has either gone out of business or is going out of business and conduct or continue a going-out-of-business sale where additional merchandise has been added to the merchandise of the liquidating business for the purposes of the sale, unless the person provides a clear and conspicuous notice in all advertisements that merchandise has been added. The advertisement shall also state the customary retail price of the merchandise that has been added or brought in for the sale. The person acquiring the interest shall obtain a permit to hold the sale before commencing the sale. If the sale is to be held in a city which has an ordinance regulating going-out-of-business sales, then the permit shall be obtained from the city. If the sale is to be located outside of a city or in a city which does not have an ordinance regulating going-out-of-business sales, then the permit shall be obtained from the county in which the proposed sale is to be held. The county board of supervisors shall prescribe the procedures necessary to obtain the permit. The permit shall state the percentage of merchandise for sale that was obtained from the liquidating business and the percentage of merchandise for sale that was added from other sources. The permit or an accurate reproduction of the permit shall be clearly and conspicuously posted at all entrances to the site of the sale and at all locations where sales are consummated. A person who violates this paragraph, including any misrepresentation of the presence and the percentage of additional merchandise that had been added to that of the liquidating company, is liable for a civil penalty of not to exceed one thousand dollars for each day of each violation. The civil penalties collected shall be deposited in the general fund of the political entity which prosecutes the violation. The civil penalty is in addition to and not in lieu of any criminal penalty. A political entity enforcing this paragraph may obtain a preliminary injunction without posting a bond to enjoin a violation of paragraph "c" and this paragraph pending a hearing.

This paragraph does not prohibit a city or county from adopting an ordinance prohibiting the conducting of a going-out-of-business sale in which additional merchandise is added to the merchandise of the liquidating business for the purposes of the sale.

h. It is an unlawful practice for a person to sell, lease, rent, or advertise the sale, lease, or rental of a water treatment system in this state, for which claims or representations of removing health-related contaminants are made, unless the water treatment system:

(1) Has been performance tested by a third-party testing agency that has been authorized by the Iowa department of public health. Alternatively, in lieu of third-party performance testing of the manufacturer's water treatment system, the manufacturer may rely upon the manufacturer's own test data after approval of the data by an accepted third-party evaluator as provided in this subparagraph. The Iowa department of public health shall review the qualifications of a third-party evaluator proposed by the manufacturer. The department may accept or reject a proposed third-party evaluator based upon the required review. If a third-party evaluator, accepted by the Iowa department of public health, finds that the manufacturer's test data is reliable, adequate, and fairly presented, the manufacturer may rely upon that data to satisfy the requirements of this subparagraph after filing a copy of the test data and the report of the third-party evaluator with the Iowa department of public health. The testing agency shall use, or the evaluator shall review for the use of, approved methods of performance testing determined to be appropriate by the state hygienic laboratory.

(2) Has met the performance testing requirements specified in the testing protocol.

(3) Bears a conspicuous and legible label stating, "IMPORTANT NOTICE - Read the Manufacturer's Performance Data Sheet" and is accompanied by a manufacturer's performance data sheet.

The manufacturer's performance data sheet shall be given to the buyer and shall be signed and dated by the buyer and the seller prior to the consummation of the sale of the water treatment system. The manufacturer's performance data sheet shall contain information including, but not limited to:

(a) The name, address, and telephone number of the seller.

(b) The name, brand, or trademark under which the unit is sold, and its model number.

(c) Performance and test data including, but not
An advertisement for any other wood product shall include the grade and species, according to the applicable federal product standards, and the measure. These products need not be labeled.

An advertisement for any wood products must also include the following:
1. The condition of the wood product, including but not limited to the following designations:
   a. Green.
   b. Kiln-dried.
   c. Air-dried or partially air-dried.
2. Whether the wood product consists of seconds, culls, shop grade, or ungraded material.

Use of any contrived or unrecognized grading standard is prohibited, and any factors affecting the final delivered price of the products shall be disclosed and displayed in a conspicuous place.

This paragraph applies only to persons who offer wood products for sale in the ordinary course of business, except that this paragraph does not apply to any person who produces rough-sawn lumber, commonly referred to as native lumber, in this state. For purposes of this paragraph:

"Dimension lumber" means softwood lumber nominally referred to as "two inch by four inch" or greater.

"Labeling" means all labels and other written, printed, branded, or graphic matter upon any building material.

"Plywood" means a structural material consisting of sheets or chips of wood glued or cemented together.

"Wood products" means any wood products derived from trees as a result of any work or manufacturing process upon the wood, and intended primarily for use as a building material.

1. It is an unlawful practice for a person to sell, lease, rent, or advertise the sale, lease, or rental of a water treatment system in this state for which false or deceptive claims or representations of removing health-related contaminants are made.

2. It is an unlawful practice for a person to make any representation or claim that the seller's water treatment system has been approved or endorsed by any agency of the state.

3. When it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in any practice declared to be unlawful by this section or when the attorney general believes it to be in the public interest that an investigation should be made to ascertain whether a person in fact has engaged in, is engaging in or is about to engage in any such practice, the attorney general may:
   a. Require such person to file on such forms as the attorney general may prescribe a statement or report in writing under oath or otherwise, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the sale or advertisement of merchandise by such person, and such other data and information as the attorney general may deem necessary;
   b. Examine under oath any person in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise;
   c. Examine any merchandise or sample thereof, record, book, document, account or paper as the attorney general may deem necessary; and
   d. Pursuant to an order of a district court impound any record, book, document, account, paper, or sample of merchandise that is produced in accordance with this section, and retain the same in the attorney general's possession until the completion of all proceedings in connection with which the same are produced.

An advertisement for all plywood and dimension lumber products shall include the grade and species, in accordance with federal products standards 1 and 20, and the measure. The products advertised shall also be labeled according to the federal products standards.
4. a. To accomplish the objectives and to carry out the duties prescribed by this section, the attorney general, in addition to other powers conferred upon the attorney general by this section, may issue subpoenas to any person, administer an oath or affirmation to any person, conduct hearings in aid of any investigation or inquiry, prescribe such forms and promulgate such rules as may be necessary, which rules shall have the force of law.

b. No information or evidence provided the attorney general by a person pursuant to subsections 3 and 4 of this section shall be admitted in evidence, or used in any manner whatsoever, in any criminal prosecution. If a criminal prosecution under the provisions of this section is initiated in a state court against a person who has provided information pursuant to subsections 3 and 4 of this section, the state shall have the burden of proof that the information so provided was not used in any manner to further the criminal investigation or prosecution.

c. In any civil action brought pursuant to this chapter, the attorney general shall have the right to require any defendant to give testimony, and no criminal prosecution based upon transactions or acts about which the defendant is questioned and required to give testimony shall thereafter be brought against such defendant.

5. Service by the attorney general of any notice requiring a person to file a statement or report, or of a subpoena upon any person, shall be made personally within this state, but if such cannot be obtained, substituted service therefor may be made in the following manner:

a. Personal service thereof without this state; or

b. The mailing thereof by registered mail to the last known place of business, residence or abode within or without this state of such person for whom the same is intended; or

c. As to any person other than a natural person, in the manner provided in the Rules of Civil Procedure as if a petition had been filed; or

d. Such service as a district court may direct in lieu of personal service within this state.

6. If any person fails or refuses to file any statement or report, or obey any subpoena issued by the attorney general, the attorney general may, after notice, apply to a district court and, after hearing thereof, request an order:

a. Granting injunctive relief, restraining the sale or advertisement of any merchandise by such person;

b. Dissolving a corporation created by or under the laws of this state or revoking or suspending the certificate of authority to do business in this state of a foreign corporation or revoking or suspending any other licenses, permits or certificates issued pursuant to law to such person which are used to further the allegedly unlawful practice; and

c. Granting such other relief as may be required; until the person files the statement or report, or obeys the subpoena.

7. A civil action pursuant to this section shall be by equitable proceedings. If it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in a practice declared to be unlawful by this section, the attorney general may seek and obtain in an action in a district court a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or permanent injunction prohibiting the person from continuing the practice or engaging in the practice or doing an act in furtherance of the practice. The court may make orders or judgments as necessary to prevent the use or employment by a person of any prohibited practices, or which are necessary to restore to any person in interest any moneys or property, real or personal, which have been acquired by means of a practice declared to be unlawful by this section, including the appointment of a receiver in cases of substantial and willful violation of this section. Except in an action for the concealment, suppression, or omission of a material fact with intent that others rely upon it, it is not necessary in an action for restitution or an injunction, to allege or to prove reliance, damages, intent to deceive, or that the person who engaged in an unlawful act had knowledge of the falsity of the claim or ignorance of the truth. A claim for restitution may be proved by any competent evidence, including evidence that would be appropriate in a class action.

In addition to the remedies otherwise provided for in this subsection, the attorney general may request and the court may impose a civil penalty not to exceed forty thousand dollars per violation against a person found by the court to have engaged in a method, act, or practice declared unlawful under this section; provided, however, a course of conduct shall not be considered to be separate and different violations merely because the conduct is repeated to more than one person. In addition, on the motion of the attorney general or its own motion, the court may impose a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars for each day of intentional violation of a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or permanent injunction issued under authority of this section. A penalty imposed pursuant to this subsection is in addition to any penalty imposed pursuant to section 537.6113. Civil penalties ordered pursuant to this subsection shall be paid to the treasurer of state to be deposited in the general fund of the state.

8. When a receiver is appointed by the court pursuant to this section, the receiver shall have the power to sue for, collect, receive and take into possession all the goods and chattels, rights and credits, moneys and effects, lands and tenements, books, records, documents, papers, choses in action, bills, notes and property of every description, derived by means of any practice declared to be illegal and prohibited by this section, including property with which such property has been mingled if it cannot be identified in kind because of such commingling, and to sell, convey, and assign the same and hold and dispose of the proceeds thereof under the direction of the court. Any person who has suffered damages as a result of the use or employment of any unlawful practices and submits proof to the satisfaction of the court that the person has in fact been damaged, may participate with general creditors in the distribution of the assets to the extent the person has sustained out-of-pocket losses. In the case of a partnership or business entity, the receiver shall settle the estate and distribute the assets under the direction of the court. The court shall have jurisdiction of all questions arising in such proceedings and may make such orders and judgments therein as may be required.

9 Subject to an order of the court terminating the business affairs of any person after receivership proceedings held pursuant to this section, the provisions of this section shall not bar any claim against any person who has acquired any moneys or property, real or personal, by means of any practice herein declared to be unlawful.

10 A civil action pursuant to this section may be commenced in the county in which the person against whom it is brought resides, has a principal place of business, or is doing business, or in the county where the transaction or any substantial portion of the transaction occurred, or where one or more of the victims reside.

11 In an action brought under this section, the attorney general is entitled to recover costs of the court action and any investigation which may have been conducted, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, for the use of this state.

12 If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions of applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

13 The attorney general or the designee of the attorney general is deemed to be a regulatory agency under chapter 692 for the purpose of receiving criminal intelligence data relating to violations of this section.

14 This section does not apply to the newspaper, magazine, publication, or other print media in which the advertisement appears, or to the radio station, television station, or other electronic media which disseminates the advertisement if the newspaper, magazine, publication, radio station, television station, or other print or electronic media has no knowledge of the fraudulent intent, design, or purpose of the advertiser at the time the advertisement is accepted, and provided, further, that nothing hereinafter contained shall apply to any advertisement which complies with the rules and regulations of, and the statutes administered by the federal trade commission.

14.16A Additional civil penalty for consumer frauds committed against elderly — fund established.

1 If a person violates section 714.16, and the violation is committed against an older person, in addition to any other civil penalty, the court may impose an additional civil penalty not to exceed five thousand dollars for each such violation.

A civil penalty imposed pursuant to this section shall be paid to the treasurer of state, who shall deposit the money in the elderly victim fund, a separate fund created in the state treasury and administered by the attorney general for the investigation and prosecution of frauds against the elderly. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any balance in the fund on June 30 of any fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund of the state. An award of restitution pursuant to section 714.16 has priority over a civil penalty imposed by the court pursuant to this subsection.

2 In determining whether to impose a civil penalty under subsection 1, and the amount of any such penalty, the court shall consider the following:
   a Whether the defendant’s conduct was in willful disregard of the rights of the older person.
   b Whether the defendant knew or should have known that the defendant’s conduct was directed to an older person.
   c Whether the older person was substantially more vulnerable to the defendant’s conduct because of age, poor health, infirmity, impaired understanding, restricted mobility, or disability, than other persons.
   d Any other factors the court deems appropriate.

3 As used in this section, “older person” means a person who is sixty-five years of age or older.

714.23 Refund policies.

1 A person offering a course of instruction at the postsecondary level, for profit, that is more than four months in length and leads to a degree, diploma, or license, shall make a pro rata refund of no less than ninety percent of the tuition for a terminating student to the appropriate agency based upon the ratio of completed number of scheduled school days to sixty percent of the scheduled school days of the school term or course.

2 Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1, the following refund policy shall apply:
   a If a terminating student has completed sixty percent or more of a school term or course that is more than four months in length, the person offering the course of instruction is not required to refund tuition for the student. However, if, at any time, a student terminates a school term or course that is more than four months in length due to the student’s physical incapacity or due to the transfer of the student’s spouse’s employment to another city, the terminating student shall receive a refund of tuition in an amount which equals the amount of tuition multiplied by the ratio of the remaining number of school days to the total school days of the school term or course.
   b A refund of ninety percent of the tuition for a
CHAPTER 714A
PAY-PER-CALL SERVICE

714A.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter:
1. "Advertisement" means advertisement as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "a". However, for purposes of this chapter, advertisement does not include a residential listing or a listing in any section of the directory in which businesses or professions are listed alphabetically rather than grouped by subject category, or a standard listing in the subject category section of a telephone directory. Advertisement also does not include a display advertisement or a listing which is made to appear more conspicuous than other listings in the subject category section of a telephone directory. Advertisement also does not include a display advertisement or a listing which is made to appear more conspicuous than other listings in the subject category section of a telephone directory, provided that such display advertisement or listing includes a conspicuous disclosure that the call is a pay-per-call service and refers a reader in a clear and conspicuous manner to a page number of the directory where the reader may find an explanation of pay-per-call services. Such explanation of pay-per-call services shall include all of the following:
   a. The disclosure and preamble requirements under the law.
   b. The availability and costs of blocking options, if any.
   c. Whether a consumer's phone service may be terminated for failure to pay for pay-per-call services.
   d. The procedures for handling consumer inquiries and complaints.
2. "Amount of time necessary to complete a call" means for purposes of a fixed length call, the total length of the call in minutes, and for purposes of a variable length call, a reasonable, good faith estimate in minutes of the likely length of the call.
3. "Merchandise" means merchandise as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "b".
4. a. "Pay-per-call service" means electronic communications products and services which are provided to end users by information or service providers, and which meet all of the following requirements:
   (1) The end users send or receive information, services, or communications whose general subject matter is determined or influenced by the service provider.
   (2) The end users send or receive the information, services, or communications via a telephone connection using audio input which is not modulated or demodulated by the end user.
   (3) The charge to the end user for the information, services, or communications is determined by the information or service provider and is made on a per-call or per-minute basis.
   b. (1) Where the requirements under paragraph "a" are met, pay-per-call service includes, but is not limited to, the following:
      (a) Information retrieval from a remote database.
      (b) Information collection for polling and data entry.
      (c) Services offered for public entertainment in which users participate in or listen to a conversation.
   (2) Pay-per-call service does not include electronic communication for the purpose of conducting financial transactions, or any service the price of which is established pursuant to a tariff approved by a regulatory agency.
5. "Person" means person as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "c", and includes a terminating student shall be paid to the appropriate agency based upon the ratio of completed number of school days to the total school days of the school term or course. This paragraph applies to those persons offering courses of instruction at the postsecondary level, for profit, whose cohort default rate for students under the Stafford loan program as defined by the United States department of education is more than one hundred ten percent of the national average cohort default rate for that program for that period or six percent, whichever is higher.
3. If the financial obligations of a student are for three or fewer months duration, this section does not apply.
4. Refunds shall be paid to the appropriate agency within thirty days following the student's termination.
5. A student who terminates a course of instruction or term shall not be charged any fee or other monetary penalty for terminating a course of instruction or term other than a reduction in tuition refund as specified in this section.
6. A violation of this section is a simple misdemeanor.

Subsection 2, paragraph b amended 714A.2 Disclosure of charges.
With respect to each pay-per-call service, the call shall contain an introductory disclosure message that specifies clearly, and at the same audio volume of the ensuing program, if the charge for the call is on a flat rate basis, the total charge for the call, or if charged on a per-minute basis, the charge per minute for the call, the charge for each additional minute, and the amount of time necessary to complete the call, and all other fees, and which informs the caller of the option to disconnect the call at the end of the introductory message without incurring a charge. However, an introductory message is not required if the total charge for the call is one dollar or less.

714A.3 Advertisements.
Advertisements for pay-per-call service shall clearly state if the charge for the service is on a flat rate basis, the total charge for the call or, if charged on a per-minute basis, the charge per minute for the call, the charge for each additional minute, and the amount of time necessary to complete the call. Additionally, if in order to obtain the full advertised services or other merchandise, a caller will be required to make any payments in addition to the initial call, that fact shall be disclosed, along with the amounts of such additional payments. If the advertisement is oral, all cost information must be disclosed clearly and at the same audio volume of the ensuing program prior to providing the pay per call number and each time the number is mentioned.

714A.4 Billing and collection.
A person shall not bill or collect for a pay-per-call service if such person has actual knowledge of the failure of the pay per-call service to comply with the requirements of this chapter. A person shall cease billing and collecting for a pay per call service which fails to comply with the requirements of this chapter as soon as practicable, but in no event more than thirty days, after acquiring knowledge of the non compliance. Billing and collection contracts shall contain a provision which refers the pay per call service to chapter 714A, which provides for an introductory disclosure message and the requirements for such message.

Additionally, a person shall not bill or collect a charge for a pay-per-call service unless the call for which the charge is being made is completed.

714A.5 Enforcement.
A violation of this chapter is an unfair or deceptive trade practice and is subject to the provisions of section 714 16, except that the remedies and penalties provided pursuant to that section shall not be applied to a newspaper, magazine, publication, directory, or other print media in which an advertisement appears, or to a radio station, television station, or other electronic media which disseminates the advertisement, and no other penalty or cause of action under this chapter shall accrue against the media or by which the advertisement appears or is disseminated, where the particular advertisement is not sponsored by the media, unless the media also performs the billing or collecting for the pay per call service.

CHAPTER 717A
OFFENSES RELATING TO ANIMAL FACILITIES

717A.1 Animal facilities — civil action — criminal penalties.
1 As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
a "Animal" means a warm- or cold-blooded animal, including an animal belonging to the bovine, canine, feline, equine, ovine, or porcine species, or an animal which belongs to a species of poultry or fish, or an animal which is an invertebrate.
b "Animal facility" means any of the following:

(1) A location where an animal is maintained for agricultural production, including an operation dedicated to farming as defined in section 172C 1, a livestock market, exhibition, or a vehicle used to transport the animal.
(2) A location where an animal is maintained for educational or scientific purposes, including an institution as defined in section 351A 1, a research facility as defined in section 162 2, an exhibition, or a vehicle used to transport the animal.
(3) A location which is a facility operated by a person licensed to prescribe veterinary medicine pursuant to chapter 169.

(4) A pound as defined in section 162.2.

(5) An animal shelter as defined in section 162.2.

(6) A pet shop as defined in section 162.2.

(7) A boarding kennel as defined in section 162.2.

(8) A commercial kennel as defined in section 162.2.

c. “Consent” means express or apparent assent by a person authorized to provide such assent.

d. “Deprive” means to do any of the following:

(1) Withhold an animal or property belonging to or maintained by an animal facility for a period of time sufficient to significantly reduce the value or enjoyment of the animal or property.

(2) Withhold an animal or property for ransom or upon condition to restore the animal or property in return for compensation.

(3) Dispose of an animal or property of an owner in a manner that makes recovery of the animal or property by the owner unlikely.

e. “Maintain” means to keep, handle, house, exhibit, breed, or offer for sale, or sell an animal.

f. “Owner” means a person who has a legal interest in an animal or property or who is authorized by the holder of the legal interest to act on the holder’s behalf.

2. A person shall not, without the consent of the owner, do any of the following:

a. Willfully destroy property of an animal facility, or injure an animal maintained at an animal facility.

b. Exercise control over an animal facility including property of the animal facility, or an animal maintained at an animal facility, with intent to deprive the animal facility of an animal or property.

c. Enter onto or into an animal facility, or remain on or in an animal facility, if the person has notice that the facility is not open to the public, if the person has an intent to do one of the following:

(1) Disrupt operations conducted at the animal facility, if the operations directly relate to agricultural production, animal maintenance, educational or scientific purposes, or veterinary care.

(2) Injure an animal maintained at the animal facility.

A person has notice that an animal facility is not open to the public if the person is provided notice before entering onto or into the facility, or the person refuses to immediately depart from the facility after being informed to leave. The notice may be in the form of a written or verbal communication by the owner, a fence or other enclosure designed to exclude intruders or contain animals, or a sign posted which is reasonably likely to come to the attention of an intruder and which indicates that entry is forbidden.

3. A person suffering damages resulting from an action which is in violation of subsection 2 may bring an action in the district court against the person causing the damage to recover all of the following:

a. An amount equaling three times all actual and consequential damages.

b. Court costs and reasonable attorney fees.

4. A person violating this section is guilty of the following penalties:

a. A person who violates subsection 2, paragraph “a”, is guilty of a class “C” felony if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds fifty thousand dollars, a class “D” felony if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds five hundred dollars but does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, an aggravated misdemeanor if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds one hundred dollars but does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a serious misdemeanor if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds fifty dollars but does not exceed one hundred dollars, or a simple misdemeanor if the injury to an animal or damage to property does not exceed fifty dollars.

b. A person who violates subsection 2, paragraph “b”, is guilty of a class “D” felony.

c. A person who violates subsection 2, paragraph “c”, is guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor.

5. This section does not prohibit any conduct of a person holding a legal interest in an animal or property which is superior to the interest held by a person suffering from damages resulting from the conduct. The section does not apply to activities of a governmental agency.

CHAPTER 719
OBSTRUCTING JUSTICE

719.1 Interference with official acts.
1. A person who knowingly resists or obstructs anyone known by the person to be a peace officer or fire fighter, whether paid or volunteer, in the performance of any act which is within the scope of the lawful duty or authority of that officer or fire fighter, whether paid or volunteer, or who knowingly resists or obstructs the service or execution by any authorized person of any civil or criminal process or order of any court, commits a simple misdemeanor. However, if a person commits an interference with official acts, as defined in this subsection, and in so doing inflicts bodily injury other than serious injury, that person commits a serious misdemeanor. If a person commits an interference with official acts, as defined in this subsection, and in so doing inflicts or attempts to inflict serious injury, or displays a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or is armed with a firearm, the person commits a class “D” felony. If a person violates this subsection and uses or attempts to use a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or inflicts serious injury to another, the person commits a class “C” felony.
2. A person under the custody, control, or supervision of the department of corrections who knowingly resists, obstructs, or interferes with a correctional officer, agent, employee, or contractor, whether paid or volunteer, in the performance of the person’s official duties, commits a serious misdemeanor. If a person violates this subsection and in so doing commits an assault, as defined in section 708.1, the person commits an aggravated misdemeanor. If a person violates this subsection and in so doing inflicts or attempts to inflict bodily injury other than serious injury to another, displays a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or is armed with a firearm, the person commits a class “D” felony. If a person violates this subsection and uses or attempts to use a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or inflicts serious injury to another, the person commits a class “C” felony.
3. The terms “resist” and “obstruct”, as used in this section, do not include verbal harassment unless the verbal harassment is accompanied by a present ability and apparent intention to execute a verbal threat physically.

WEAPONS

Restrictions on shooting over public waters or roads, § 109 54

724.11 Issuance of permit to carry weapons.
Applications for permits to carry weapons shall be made to the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides. Applications from persons who are nonresidents of the state, or whose need to go armed arises out of employment by the state, shall be made to the commissioner of public safety. In either case, the issuance of the permit shall be by and at the discretion of the sheriff or commissioner, who shall, before issuing the permit, determine that the requirements of sections 724.6 to 724.10 have been satisfied. However, the training program requirements in section 724.9 may be waived for renewal permits. The issuing officer shall collect a fee of ten dollars, except from a duly appointed peace officer or correctional officer, for each permit issued. Renewal permits or duplicate permits shall be issued for a fee of five dollars. The issuing officer shall notify the commissioner of public safety of the issuance of any permit at least monthly and forward to the director an amount equal to two dollars for each permit issued and one dollar for each renewal or duplicate permit issued. All such fees received by the commissioner shall be paid to the treasurer of state and deposited in the operating account of the department of public safety to offset the cost of administering this chapter. Any unspent balance as of June 30 of each year shall revert to the general fund as provided by section 8.33.

CHAPTER 805
CITATIONS IN LIEU OF ARREST

805.6 Uniform citation and complaint.
1. a. The commissioner of public safety, the director of transportation, and the director of natural resources, acting jointly, shall adopt a uniform, combined citation and complaint which shall be used for charging all traffic violations in Iowa under state law or local regulation or ordinance, and which shall be used for charging all other violations which are designated by section 805.8 to be scheduled violations.
   The filing fees and court costs in cases of parking meter and overtime parking violations which are denied are as stated in section 602.8106, subsection 1. The court costs in scheduled violation cases where a court appearance is required are ten dollars. The court costs in scheduled violation cases where a court appearance is required are fifteen dollars. This subsection does not prevent the charging of any of those violations by information, by private complaint filed under chapter 804, or by a simple notice of fine where permitted by section 321.236, subsection 1. Each uniform citation and complaint shall be serially numbered and shall be in quintuplicate, and the officer shall deliver the original and a copy to the court where the defendant is to appear, two copies to the defendant, and a copy to the law enforcement agency of the officer. The court shall forward an abstract of the uniform citation and complaint in accordance with section 321.491 when applicable.

   The uniform citation and complaint shall contain spaces for the parties' names; the address of the alleged offender; the registration number of the offender's vehicle; the information required by section 805.2; a promise to appear as provided in section 805.3 and a place where the cited person may sign the promise to appear; a list of the scheduled fines prescribed by section 805.8, either separately or by group, and a statement of the court costs payable in scheduled violation cases, whether or not a court appearance is required or is demanded; a brief explanation of sections 805.9 and 805.10; and a space where the defendant may sign an admission of the violation when permitted by section 805.9; and the uniform citation and complaint shall require that the defendant appear before a court at a specified time and place. The uniform citation and complaint also may contain a space for the imprint of a credit card, and may contain any other information which the commissioner of public safety and the director of natural resources may determine.

   b. The uniform citation and complaint shall contain the following statement with a space immediately below it for the signature of the person being charged:

      I hereby give my unsecured appearance bond in the amount of .............. dollars and enter my written appearance. I agree that if I fail to appear in person or by counsel to defend against the offense charged in this citation the court is authorized to enter a conviction and render judgment against me for the amount of my appearance bond in satisfaction of the penalty plus court costs.

   c. Unless the officer issuing the citation arrests the alleged offender, or permits admission or requires submission of bail as provided in section 805.4.
§809.17

Proceeds applied to various programs.

Except as provided in section 809.21, proceeds from the disposal of seized or forfeited property pursuant to this chapter may be transferred in whole or in part to the victim compensation fund created in section 912.14 at the discretion of the recipient agency, political subdivision, or department.

COSTS — COMPENSATION AND FEES — INDIGENT DEFENSE

§815.10 Appointment of counsel by court.
1 The court, for cause and upon its own motion or upon application by an indigent person or a public defender, shall appoint the state public defender or the state public defender’s designee pursuant to section 13B 4, or an attorney pursuant to section 13B 9 to represent an indigent person at any stage of the criminal or juvenile proceedings or on appeal of any criminal or juvenile action in which the indigent person is entitled to legal assistance at public expense. However, in juvenile cases the court may directly appoint an existing nonprofit corporation established for and engaged in the provision of legal services for juveniles. An appointment shall not be made unless the person is determined to be indigent under section 815 9.
2 If a court finds that a person desires legal assistance and is not indigent, but refuses to employ an attorney, the court shall appoint the state public defender or the state public defender’s designee pursuant to section 13B 4, or an attorney pursuant to section 13B 9 to represent the person. The cost of providing legal assistance shall be taxed as a court cost against the person.
3 An attorney other than a public defender or a contract attorney who is appointed by the court under this section shall apply to the district court for compensation and for reimbursement of costs incurred. The amount of compensation due shall be determined in accordance with section 815 7.

CHAPTER 901
JUDGMENT AND SENTENCING PROCEDURES

§901.3 Presentence investigation report.
If a presentence investigation is ordered by the court, the investigator shall promptly inquire into all of the following:
1 The defendant’s characteristics, family and financial circumstances, needs, and potentialities, including the presence of any previously diagnosed mental disorder.
2 The defendant’s criminal record and social history.
3 The circumstances of the offense.
4 The time the defendant has been in detention.
5 The harm to the victim, the victim’s immediate family, and the community. Additionally, the presentence investigator shall provide a victim impact statement form to each victim, if one has not already been provided, and shall file the completed statement or statements with the presentence investigation report.
6 The defendant’s potential as a candidate for the community service sentence program established pursuant to section 907 13.

All local and state mental and correctional institutions, courts, and police agencies shall furnish to the investigator on request the defendant’s criminal record and other relevant information. With the approval of the court, a physical examination or psychiatric evaluation of the defendant may be ordered.
or the defendant may be committed to an inpatient or outpatient psychiatric facility for an evaluation of the defendant’s personality and mental health. The results of any such examination or evaluation shall be included in the report of the investigator.

CHAPTER 903
MISDEMEANORS

903.1 Maximum sentence for misdemeanants.

1. If a person eighteen years of age or older is convicted of a simple or serious misdemeanor and a specific penalty is not provided for or if a person under eighteen years of age has been waived to adult court pursuant to section 232.45 on a felony charge and is subsequently convicted of a simple, serious, or aggravated misdemeanor, the court shall determine the sentence, and shall fix the period of confinement or the amount of fine, if such be the sentence, within the following limits:
   a. For a simple misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars.
   b. For a serious misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed one year, or a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, or both.

2. When a person is convicted of an aggravated misdemeanor, and a specific penalty is not provided for, the maximum penalty shall be imprisonment not to exceed two years, or a fine not to exceed five thousand dollars, or both. When a judgment of conviction of an aggravated misdemeanor is entered against any person and the court imposes a sentence of confinement for a period of more than one year the term shall be an indeterminate term.

3. A person under eighteen years of age convicted of a simple misdemeanor under chapter 98, 106, 106A, 109, 109A, 110, 110A, 111, 321, or 321G, or a violation of a county or municipal curfew or traffic ordinance, except for an offense subject to section 805.8, may be required to pay a fine, not to exceed one hundred dollars, as fixed by the court, or may be required to perform community service as ordered by the court.

   The criminal penalty surcharge required by section 911.2 shall be added to a fine imposed on a misdemeanant, and is not a part of or subject to the maximums set in this section.

CHAPTER 905
COMMUNITY-BASED CORRECTIONAL PROGRAM

905.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Administrative agent" means the county selected by the district board to perform accounting, budgeting, personnel, facilities management, insurance, payroll and other supportive services on the behalf of the district board, or the district department itself, if so designated by the district board.

2. “Community based correctional program” means correctional programs and services designed to supervise and assist individuals who are charged with or have been convicted of a felony, an aggravated misdemeanor or a serious misdemeanor, or who are on probation or parole in lieu of or as a result of a sentence of incarceration imposed upon conviction of any of these offenses, or who are contracted to the district department for supervision and housing while on work release.

3. "Director" means the director of a judicial district department of correctional services.

4. “District board” means the board of directors of a judicial district department of correctional services.
5. "District department" means a judicial district department of correctional services, established as required by section 905.2.

6. "Project" means a locally functioning part of a community-based correctional program, offered and operating in a physical location separate from the offices of the district department.

7. "Project advisory committee" means a committee of no more than seven persons which shall act in an advisory capacity to the director on matters pertaining to the planning, operation, and other pertinent functions of each project in the judicial district. The members of the project advisory committee for each project shall be initially appointed by the director from among the general public. Not more than one half of the project advisory committee shall hold public office or public employment during membership on the committee. A person who holds public office as a county supervisor and serves on the board of directors under section 905.3 shall not be a member of a project advisory committee under this section. The terms of the initial members of the project advisory committee shall be staggered to permit the terms of just over half of the members to expire in two years and those of the remaining members to expire in one year. Subsequent appointments to the project advisory committee shall be by vote of a majority of the whole project advisory committee for two-year terms.

91 Acts, ch 99, §1 SF 112 Subsection 7 amended

905.4 Duties of the board.

The district board shall:

1. Adopt bylaws and rules for the conduct of its own business and for the government of the district department’s community-based correctional program.

2. Employ a director having the qualifications required by section 905.6 to head the district department’s community-based correctional program and, within a range established by the Iowa department of corrections, fix the compensation of and have control over the director and the district department’s staff. For purposes of collective bargaining under chapter 20, employees of the district board who are not exempt from chapter 20 are employees of the state, and the employees of all of the district boards shall be included within one collective bargaining unit.

3. Designate one of the counties in the judicial district to serve as the district department’s administrative agent to provide, in that capacity, all accounting, personnel, facilities management and supportive services needed by the district department, on terms mutually agreeable in regard to advancement of funds to the county for the added expense it incurs as a result of being so designated. However, the district board may designate the district department itself as the district department’s administrative agent, if the district board determines that it would be more efficient and less costly than designating a county as the administrative agent.

4. File with the board of supervisors of each county in the district and with the Iowa department of corrections, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, a report covering the district board’s proceedings and a statement of receipts and expenditures during the preceding fiscal year.

5. Arrange for, by contract or on such alternative basis as may be mutually acceptable, and equip suitable quarters at one or more sites in the district as may be necessary for the district department’s community-based correctional program, provided that the board shall to the greatest extent feasible utilize existing facilities and shall keep capital expenditures for acquisition, renovation and repair of facilities to a minimum. The district board shall not enter into lease-purchase agreements for the purposes of constructing, renovating, expanding, or otherwise improving a community-based correctional facility or office unless express authorization has been granted by the general assembly, and current funding is adequate to meet the lease-purchase obligation.

6. Have authority to accept property by gift, devise, bequest or otherwise and to sell or exchange any property so accepted and apply the proceeds thereof, or the property received in exchange thereof, to the purposes enumerated in subsection 5.

7. Recruit, promote, accept and use local financial support for the district department’s community-based correctional program from private sources such as community service funds, business, industrial and private foundations, voluntary agencies and other lawful sources.

8. Accept and expend state and federal funds available directly to the district department for all or any part of the cost of its community-based correctional program.

9. Arrange, by contract or on an alternative basis mutually acceptable, and with approval of the director of the Iowa department of corrections or that director’s designee for utilization of existing local treatment and service resources, including but not limited to employment, job training, general, special, or remedial education; psychiatric and marriage counseling; and alcohol and drug abuse treatment and counseling. It is the intent of this chapter that a district board shall approve the development and maintenance of such resources by its own staff only if the resources are otherwise unavailable to the district department within reasonable proximity to the community where these services are needed in connection with the community-based correctional program.

10. Establish a project advisory committee to act in an advisory capacity on matters pertaining to the planning, operation, and other pertinent functions of each project in the judicial district.

91 Acts, ch 267, §429 HF 479 Subsection 5 amended

91 Acts, ch 99, §1 SF 112 Subsection 7 amended 905.6 Duties of director.
The director employed by the district board under section 905 4, subsection 2, shall be qualified in the administration of correctional programs. The director shall:

1. Perform the duties and have the responsibilities delegated by the district board or specified by the Iowa department of corrections pursuant to this chapter.
2. Manage the district department's community-based correctional program, in accordance with the policies of the district board and the Iowa department of corrections.
3. Employ, with approval of the district board, and supervise the employees of the district department.
4. Prepare all budgets and fiscal documents, and certify for payment all expenses and payrolls lawfully incurred by the district department. The director may invest funds which are not needed for current expenses, jointly with one or more cities, city utilities, or counties pursuant to a joint investment agreement.

5. Act as secretary to the district board, prepare its agenda and record its proceedings. The district shall provide a copy of minutes from each meeting of the district board to the legislative fiscal bureau.
6. Develop and submit to the district board a plan for the establishment, implementation, and operation of a community-based correctional program in that judicial district, which program conforms to the guidelines drawn up by the Iowa department of corrections under this chapter and which conform to rules, policies, and procedures pertaining to the supervision of parole and work release adopted by the director of the Iowa department of corrections concerning the community-based correctional program.
7. Negotiate and, upon approval by the district board, implement contracts or other arrangements for utilization of local treatment and service resources authorized by section 905 4, subsection 9.
8. Administer the batterers' treatment program for domestic abuse offenders required in section 708 2B.

906.9 Clothing, transportation, and money.
When an inmate is discharged, paroled, or placed on work release, the warden or superintendent shall furnish the inmate, at state expense, appropriate clothing and transportation to the place in this state indicated in the inmate's discharge, parole, or work release plan. When an inmate is discharged, paroled, or placed on work release, the warden or superintendent shall provide the inmate, at state expense or through inmate savings as provided in section 246 508, money in accordance with the following schedule:

1. Upon discharge or parole, one hundred dollars
2. Upon being placed on work release, fifty dollars
3. Upon going from an educational work release to parole or discharge, fifty dollars

Those inmates receiving payment under subsection 2 or 3 shall not be eligible for payment under subsection 1 unless they are returned to the institution. The warden or superintendent shall maintain an account of all funds expended pursuant to this section.

CHAPTER 907
DEFERRED JUDGMENT, DEFERRED OR SUSPENDED SENTENCE AND PROBATION

907.3 Deferred judgment, deferred sentence or suspended sentence.

Pursuant to section 901.5, the trial court may, upon a plea of guilty, a verdict of guilty, or a special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered, exercise any of the options contained in this section. However, this section does not apply to a forcible felony.

1. With the consent of the defendant, the court may defer judgment and place the defendant on probation upon such conditions as it may require. Upon a showing that the defendant is not co-operating with the program of probation or is not responding to it, the court may withdraw the defendant from the program, pronounce judgment, and impose any sentence authorized by law. Before taking such action, the court shall give the defendant an opportunity to be heard on any matter relevant to the proposed action. Upon fulfillment of the conditions of probation, the defendant shall be discharged without entry of judgment. Upon violation of the conditions of probation, the court may proceed as provided in chapter 908.

However, this subsection shall not apply if any of the following is true:

a. The offense is a violation of section 709.8 and the child is twelve years of age or under.

b. The defendant previously has been convicted of a felony. “Felony” means a conviction in a court of this or any other state or of the United States, of an offense classified as a felony by the law under which the defendant was convicted at the time of the defendant’s conviction.

c. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or similar relief, two or more times anywhere in the United States.

d. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or similar relief in a felony prosecution anywhere in the United States within the preceding five years, measured from the date of granting of deferment of judgment to the date of commission of the offense.

e. The defendant committed an assault as defined in section 708.1, against a peace officer in the performance of the peace officer’s duty.

f. The defendant is a corporation.

g. The offense is a violation of section 321J.2 and, within the previous six years, the person has been convicted of a violation of that section or the person’s driver’s license has been revoked pursuant to section 321J.4, 321J.9, or 321J.12.

h. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or deferred sentence for a violation of section 708.2 or 708.2A which was issued on a domestic abuse assault, or was granted similar relief anywhere in the United States concerning that jurisdiction’s statutes which substantially correspond to domestic abuse assault as provided in section 708.2A, and the current offense is a violation of section 708.2A.

2. At the time of or after pronouncing judgment and with the consent of the defendant, the court may defer the sentence and assign the defendant to the judicial district department of correctional services. However, the court shall not defer the sentence for a violation of section 708.2A if the defendant has previously received a deferred judgment or sentence for a violation of section 708.2 or 708.2A which was issued on a domestic abuse assault, or if similar relief was granted anywhere in the United States concerning that jurisdiction’s statutes which substantially correspond to domestic abuse assault as provided in section 708.2A. Upon a showing that the defendant is not fulfilling the conditions of probation, the court may revoke probation and impose any sentence authorized by law. Before taking such action, the court shall give the defendant an opportunity to be heard on any matter relevant to the proposed action. Upon violation of the conditions of probation, the court may proceed as provided in chapter 908.

3. By record entry at the time of or after sentencing, the court may suspend the sentence and place the defendant on probation upon such terms and conditions as it may require including commitment to an alternate jail facility or a community correctional residential treatment facility for a specific number of days to be followed by a term of probation as specified in section 907.7. A person so committed who has probation revoked shall be given credit for such time served. However, the court shall not suspend the minimum term of two days imposed pursuant to section 708.2A.

907.9 Discharge from probation.

At any time that the court determines that the purposes of probation have been fulfilled, the court may order the discharge of a person from probation. At any time that a probation officer determines that the purposes of probation have been fulfilled, the officer may order the discharge of a person from probation after approval of the district director, and notification of the sentencing court and county attorney who prosecuted the case. The sentencing judge, unless the judge is no longer serving or is otherwise unable to, may order a hearing on its own motion, or shall order a hearing upon the request of the county attorney, for review of such discharge. If the sentencing judge is no longer serving or unable to order such hearing, the chief judge of the district or the chief judge's designee shall order any hearing pursuant to this section. Following the hearing, the court shall approve or rescind such discharge. If a hearing is not ordered within thirty days after notification by the probation officer, the person shall be discharged and the probation officer shall notify the state court administrator of such discharge. At the expiration of the period of probation, in cases where the court fixes the term of probation, the court shall order the discharge of the person from probation, and the court shall forward to the governor a recommendation for or against restoration of citizenship rights to that person. A person who has been discharged from probation shall no longer be held to answer for the person's offense. Upon discharge from probation, if judgment has been deferred under section 907.3, the court's criminal record with reference to the deferred judgment shall be expunged. The record maintained by the state court administrator as required by sec-section 907.4 shall not be expunged. The court's record shall not be expunged in any other circumstances.

A probation officer or the director of the judicial district department of correctional services who acts in compliance with this section is acting in the course of the person's official duty and is not personally liable, either civilly or criminally, for the acts of a person discharged from probation by the officer after such discharge, unless the discharge constitutes willful disregard of the person's duty.

CHAPTER 908
VIOLATIONS OF PAROLE OR PROBATION

908.9 Disposition of violator.
If the parole of a parole violator is revoked, the vi-oler shall remain in the custody of the Iowa de-partament of corrections under the terms of the parolee's original commitment. The violator may be placed in a violator facility established pursuant to section 246.207 if the parole revocation officer or board panel determines that placement in a violator facility is necessary. If the parole of a parole violator is not revoked, the parole revocation officer or board panel shall order the person's release subject to the terms of the person's parole with any modifications that the parole revocation officer or board determines proper.

91 Acts, ch 219, §28 SF 496
Section amended

908.11 Violation of probation.
A probation officer or the judicial district department of correctional services having probable cause to believe that any person released on probation has violated the conditions of probation shall proceed by arrest or summons as in the case of a parole violation. The functions of the liaison officer and the board of parole shall be performed by the judge or magistrate who placed the alleged violator on probation if that judge or magistrate is available, otherwise by another judge or magistrate who would have had jurisdiction to try the original offense. If the probation officer proceeds by arrest, any magistrate may receive the complaint, issue an arrest warrant, or conduct the initial appearance and probable cause hearing if it is not convenient for the judge who placed the alleged violator on probation to do so. The initial appearance, probable cause hearing, and probation revocation hearing, or any of them, may at the discretion of the court be merged into a single hearing when it appears that the alleged violator will not be prejudiced thereby. If the violation is established, the court may continue the probation with or without an alteration of the conditions of probation.
If the defendant is an adult the court may hold the defendant in contempt of court and sentence the defendant to a jail term while continuing the probation, order the defendant to be placed in a violator facility established pursuant to section 246.207 while continuing the probation, or revoke the probation and require the defendant to serve the sentence imposed or any lesser sentence, and, if imposition of sentence was deferred, may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed.
CHAPTER 909
FINES

909.9 Collection of delinquent fines and court costs — disposition.
A fine or court costs remaining unpaid after six months from the date the fine or court costs were imposed may be collected in accordance with section 331.756 by the county attorney. Of the amount collected, after payment of court costs, sixty-five percent shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit and disposition as otherwise provided by law. The remaining thirty-five percent shall be retained by the county and deposited in the general fund of the county, notwithstanding the disposition provisions of sections 602.8106 and 911.3.

910.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Criminal activities” means any crime for which there is a plea of guilty, verdict of guilty, or special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction is rendered and any other crime committed after July 1, 1982, which is admitted or not contested by the offender, whether or not prosecuted. However, “criminal activities” does not include simple misdemeanors under chapter 321.
2. “Pecuniary damages” means all damages to the extent not paid by an insurer, which a victim could recover against the offender in a civil action arising out of the same facts or event, except punitive damages and damages for pain, suffering, mental anguish, and loss of consortium. Without limitation, “pecuniary damages” includes damages for wrongful death and expenses incurred for psychiatric or psychological services or counseling or other counseling for the victim which became necessary as a direct result of the criminal activity.
3. “Restitution” means payment of pecuniary damages to a victim in an amount and in the manner provided by the offender’s plan of restitution. Restitution also includes the payment of crime victim assistance reimbursements, court costs, court-appointed attorney's fees or the expense of a public defender, and the performance of a public service by an offender in an amount set by the court when the offender cannot reasonably pay all or part of the court costs, court-appointed attorney's fees or the expense of a public defender.
4. “Victim” means a person who has suffered pecuniary damages as a result of the offender’s criminal activities. However, for purposes of this chapter, an insurer is not a victim and does not have a right of subrogation. The crime victim compensation program is not an insurer for purposes of this chapter, and the right of subrogation provided by section 912.12 does not prohibit restitution to the crime victim compensation program.
§910.14

If the defendant believes no person suffered pecuniary damages, the defendant shall so state. If the defendant has any mental or physical impairment which would limit or prohibit the performance of a public service, the defendant shall so state. The court may order a mental or physical examination, or both, of the defendant to determine a proper course of action. At the time of sentencing or at a later date to be determined by the court, the court shall set out the amount of restitution including the amount of public service to be performed as restitution and the persons to whom restitution must be paid. If the full amount of restitution cannot be determined at the time of sentencing, the court shall issue a temporary order determining a reasonable amount for pecuniary damages incurred up to that time, any award by the crime victim assistance programs, court-appointed attorney’s fees or the expense of a public defender, and court costs. At a later date as determined by the court, the court shall issue a permanent, supplemental order, setting the full amount of restitution. The court shall enter further supplemental orders, if necessary. These court orders shall be known as the plan of restitution.

91 Acts ch 219 §30 SF 496
Section amended

§910.9 Collection of payments — payment by clerk of court.

An offender making restitution pursuant to a restitution plan of payment shall make the payment monthly to the clerk of court of the county from which the offender was sentenced, unless the restitution plan of payment provides otherwise.

The clerk of court shall maintain a record of all receipts and disbursements of restitution payments and shall disburse all moneys received to the victims designated in the plan of restitution. If there is more than one victim, disbursements to the victims shall be on the basis of the victim’s percentage of the total owed by the offender to all victims, except that the clerk of court may decide the allocation of payments of twenty dollars or less.

Court costs, court-appointed attorney’s fees, and expenses for public defenders, shall not be withheld by the clerk of court until all victims have been paid in full. Payments to victims shall be made by the clerk of court at least quarterly. Payments by a clerk of court shall be made no later than the last business day of the quarter, but may be made more often at the discretion of the clerk of court. The clerk of court receiving final payment from an offender, shall notify all victims that full restitution has been made, and a copy of the notice shall be sent to the sentencing court. Each office or individual charged with supervising an offender who is required to perform community service as full or partial restitution shall keep records to assure compliance with the portions of the plan of restitution and restitution plan of payment relating to community service and, when the offender has complied fully with the community service requirement, notify the sentencing court.

91 Acts ch 219 §32 HF 534
Unnumbered paragraph 2 amended

§910.10 Restitution lien.

1 The state or a person entitled to restitution under a court order may file a restitution lien.

2 The restitution lien shall set forth all of the following information, if known:
   a The name and date of birth of the person whose property or other interests are subject to the lien.
   b The present address of the residence and principal place of business of the person named in the lien.
   c The criminal proceeding pursuant to which the lien is filed, including the name of the court, the title of the action, and the court’s file number.
   d The name and business address of the attorney representing the state in the proceeding pursuant to which the lien is filed or the name and residence and business address of each person entitled to restitution pursuant to a court order.
   e A statement that the notice is being filed pursuant to this section.
   f The amount of restitution the person has been ordered to pay or is likely to be ordered to pay.

3 A restitution lien may be filed by either of the following:
   a A prosecuting attorney in a criminal proceeding in which restitution is likely to be sought after the filing of an information or indictment. At the time of arraignment, the prosecuting attorney shall give the defendant notice of any restitution lien filed.
   b A victim in a criminal proceeding after restitution is determined and ordered by the trial court following pronouncement of the judgment and sentence.

4 The filing of a restitution lien in accordance with this section creates a lien in favor of the state and the victim in personal or real property identified in the lien to the extent of the interest held in that property by the person named in the lien.

5 This section does not limit the right of the state or any other person entitled to restitution to obtain any other remedy authorized by law.

§910.11 to §910.14 Reserved
CHAPTER 910A
VICTIM AND WITNESS PROTECTION ACT

910A.6 Notification by county attorney.
The county attorney shall notify a victim registered with the county attorney's office of the following:
1. The cancellation or postponement of a court proceeding that was expected to require the victim's attendance.
2. The possibility of assistance through the crime victim compensation program, pursuant to chapter 912, and the procedures for applying for that assistance.
3. The right, pursuant to chapter 910, to restitution for pecuniary losses suffered as a result of crime.
4. The victim's right to make a written impact statement.
5. The date on which the offender is released on bail or appeal, pursuant to section 811.5.

910A.9A Notification by department of human services.
The department of human services shall notify a victim registered with the department, regarding a juvenile adjudicated delinquent for a violent crime, committed to the custody of the department of human services, and placed at the state training school at Eldora or Toledo, of the following:
1. The date on which the juvenile is expected to be temporarily released from the custody of the department of human services, and whether the juvenile is expected to return to the community where the registered victim resides.
2. The juvenile's escape from custody.
3. The recommendation by the department to consider the juvenile for release or placement.
4. The date on which the juvenile is expected to be released from a facility pursuant to a plan of placement.

910A.10 Notification by board of parole.
1. The board of parole shall notify a registered victim, regarding an offender who has committed a violent crime, as follows:
a. Not less than twenty days prior to conducting a hearing at which the board will interview an offender, the board shall notify the victim of the interview and inform the victim that the victim may submit the victim's opinion concerning the release of the offender in writing prior to the hearing or may appear personally or by counsel at the hearing to express an opinion concerning the offender's release.

b. Whether or not the victim appears at the hearing or expresses an opinion concerning the offender's release on parole, the board shall notify the victim of the board's decision regarding release of the offender.
2. Offenders who are being considered for release on parole may be informed of a victim's registration with the county attorney and the substance of any opinion submitted by the victim regarding the release of the offender.
3. If the board of parole makes a recommendation to the governor for a reprieve, pardon, or commutation of sentence of an offender, as provided in section 248A.3, the board shall forward with the recommendation information identifying a registered victim for the purposes of notification by the governor as required in section 910A.10A.

910A.10A Notification by the governor.
1. Prior to the governor granting a reprieve, pardon, or commutation to an offender convicted of a violent crime, the governor shall notify a registered victim that the victim's offender has applied for a reprieve, pardon, or commutation. The governor shall notify a registered victim regarding the application not less than forty-five days prior to issuing a decision on the application. The governor shall inform the victim that the victim may submit a written opinion concerning the application.
2. The county attorney may notify an offender being considered for a reprieve, pardon, or commutation of sentence of a victim's registration with the county attorney and the substance of any opinion submitted by the victim concerning the reprieve, pardon, or commutation of sentence.

910A.11 Civil injunction to restrain harassment or intimidation.
1. Upon application, the court shall issue a temporary restraining order prohibiting the harassment or intimidation of a victim or witness in a criminal case if the court finds, from specific facts shown by affidavit or by verified complaint, that there are reasonable grounds to believe that harassment or intimidation of an identified victim or witness in a criminal case exists or that the order is necessary to prevent and restrain an offense under this chapter.
A temporary restraining order may be issued under this subsection without written or oral notice to the adverse party or the party's attorney in a civil action under this section or in a criminal case if the court finds, upon written certification of facts, that the notice should not be required and that there is a reasonable probability that the party will prevail on the merits. The temporary restraining order shall set forth the reasons for the issuance of the order, be specific in terms, and describe in reasonable detail the act or acts being restrained.

A temporary restraining order issued without notice under this section shall be endorsed with the date and hour of issuance and be filed immediately in the office of the clerk of the court issuing the order.

A temporary restraining order issued under this section shall expire at such time as the court directs, not to exceed ten days from issuance. The court, for good cause shown before expiration of the order, may extend the expiration date of the order for up to ten days, or for a longer period agreed to by the adverse party.

When a temporary restraining order is issued without notice, the motion for a protective order shall be set down for hearing at the earliest possible time and takes precedence over all matters except older matters of the same character. If the party does not proceed with the application for a protective order when the motion is heard, the court shall dissolve the temporary restraining order.

If, after two days' notice to the party or after a shorter notice as the court prescribes, the adverse party appears and moves to dissolve or modify the temporary restraining order, the court shall dissolve the temporary restraining order.

2. Upon motion of the party, the court shall issue a protective order prohibiting the harassment or intimidation of a victim or witness in a criminal case if the court, after a hearing, finds by a preponderance of the evidence that harassment or intimidation of an identified victim or witness in a criminal case exists or that the order is necessary to prevent and restrain an offense under this chapter.

At the hearing, any adverse party named in the complaint has the right to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses.

A protective order shall set forth the reasons for the issuance of the order, be specific in terms, and describe in reasonable detail the act or acts being restrained.

The court shall set the duration of the protective order for the period it determines is necessary to prevent the harassment or intimidation of the victim or witness, but the duration shall not be set for a period in excess of one year from the date of the issuance of the order. The party, at any time within ninety days before the expiration of the order, may apply for a new protective order under this section.

3. Violation of a restraining or protective order issued under this section constitutes contempt of court, and may be punished by contempt proceedings.

4. An application may be made pursuant to this section in a criminal case, and if made, a district associate judge or magistrate having jurisdiction of the highest offense charged in the criminal case or a district judge shall have jurisdiction to enter an order under this section.

5. The clerk of court shall provide oral or other notice and copies of restraining orders issued pursuant to this section in a criminal case involving an alleged violation of section 708.2A to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide oral or other notice and copies of modifications or vacations of these orders in the same manner.

CHAPTER 911
SURCHARGE ADDED TO CRIMINAL PENALTIES

911.1 Criminal penalty surcharge established.
A criminal penalty surcharge shall be levied against certain law violators as provided in section 911.2. The surcharge shall be deposited as provided in section 911.3 and shall be used for the maintenance and improvement of criminal justice programs, law enforcement efforts, victim compensation, crime prevention, and improvement of the professional training of personnel, and the planning and support services of the criminal justice system.

911.2 Surcharge.
When a court imposes a fine or forfeiture for a violation of a state law, or of a city or county ordinance except an ordinance regulating the parking of motor vehicles, the court shall assess an additional penalty in the form of a surcharge equal to thirty percent of the fine or forfeiture imposed. In the event of multiple offenses, the surcharge shall be based upon the total amount of fines or forfeitures imposed for all offenses. When a fine or forfeiture is suspended in whole or in part, the surcharge shall be reduced in proportion to the amount suspended.

The surcharge is subject to the provisions of chapter 909 governing the payment and collection of fines, as provided in section 909.8.

911.3 Disposition of surcharge.
When a court assesses a surcharge under section 911.2, the clerk of the district court shall transmit sixteen and two-thirds percent of the surcharge collected to the treasurer of state to be deposited in the fund established in section 912.14. Ninety-four percent of the remainder of the surcharge collected shall be transmitted to the treasurer of state by the fifteenth day of the following month. The treasurer of state shall deposit that money in the general fund of the state. The clerk of the district court shall transmit six percent of the remainder of the surcharge to the county treasurer or shall remit six percent of the remainder of the surcharge to the city that was the plaintiff in any action for deposit in the general fund of the city.

CHAPTER 912
CRIME VICTIM COMPENSATION PROGRAM

912.1 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. "Compensation" means moneys awarded by the department as authorized by this chapter.
2. "Crime" means conduct that occurs or is attempted in this state, poses a substantial threat of personal injury or death, and is punishable as a felony or misdemeanor, or would be so punishable but for the fact that the person engaging in the conduct lacked the capacity to commit the crime under the laws of this state. "Crime" does not include conduct arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle, motorcycle, motorized bicycle, train, boat, or aircraft except for violations of section 106.14, 321.261, 321.277, 321J.2, or 707.6A, or when the intention is to cause personal injury or death. A license revocation under section 321J.9 or 321J.12 shall be considered by the department as evidence of a violation of section 321J.2 for the purposes of this chapter.
3. "Department" means the department of justice.
4. "Dependent" means a person wholly or partially dependent upon a victim for care or support and includes a child of the victim born after the victim's death.
5. "Victim" means a person who suffers personal injury or death as a result of any of the following:
   a. A crime.
912.2 Award of compensation.
The department shall award compensation authorized by this chapter if the department is satisfied that the requirements for compensation have been met.

912.2A Crime victim assistance board.
1. A crime victim assistance board is established, and shall consist of the following members to be appointed pursuant to rules adopted by the department:
   a. A county attorney or assistant county attorney.
   b. Two persons engaged full time in law enforcement.
   c. A public defender or an attorney practicing primarily in criminal defense.
   d. A hospital medical staff person involved with emergency services.
   e. Two public members who have received victim services.
   f. A victim service provider.
   g. A person licensed pursuant to chapter 154B or 154C.
   h. A person representing the elderly.
   Board members shall be reimbursed for expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties.
2. The board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to program policies and procedures.
3. A victim aggrieved by the denial or disposition of the victim’s claim may appeal to the district court within thirty days of receipt of the board’s decision.

912.3 Duties of department.
The department shall:
1. Adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to the administration of the crime victim compensation program, including the filing of claims pursuant to the program, and the hearing and disposition of the claims.
2. Hear claims, determine the results relating to claims, and reinvestigate and reopen cases as necessary.
3. Publicize through the department, county sheriff departments, municipal police departments, county attorney offices, and other public or private agencies, the existence of the crime victim compensation program, including the procedures for obtaining compensation under the program.
4. Request from the department of human services, the divisions of job service and industrial services of the department of employment services, the department of public safety, the county sheriff departments, the municipal police departments, the county attorneys, or other public authorities or agencies reasonable assistance or data necessary to administer the crime victim compensation program.

912.4 Application for compensation.
1. To claim compensation under the crime victim compensation program, a person shall apply in writing on a form prescribed by the department and file the application with the department within two years after the date of the crime, the discovery of the crime, or the date of death of the victim.
2. A person is not eligible for compensation unless the crime was reported to the local police department or county sheriff department within seventy-two hours of its occurrence. If the crime cannot reasonably be reported within that time period, the crime shall have been reported within seventy-two hours of the time a report can reasonably be made.
3. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a victim under the age of eighteen or dependent adult as defined in section 235B.1 who has been sexually abused or subjected to any other unlawful sexual conduct under chapter 709 or 726 or who has been the subject of a forcible felony is not required to report the crime to the local police department or county sheriff department to be eligible for compensation if the crime was allegedly committed upon a child by a person responsible for the care of a child, as defined in section 232.68, subsection 7, or upon a dependent adult by a caretaker as defined in section 235B.1, and was reported to an employee of the department of human services and the employee verifies the report to the department.
4. When immediate or short-term medical services or mental health services are provided to a victim under section 910A.16, the department of human services shall file the claim for compensation as provided in subsection 3 for the victim.
5. When immediate or short-term medical services to a victim are provided pursuant to section 910A.16 by a professional licensed or certified by the state to provide such services, the professional shall file the claim for compensation, unless the department of human services is required to file the claim under this section. The requirement to report the crime to the local police department or county sheriff department under subsection 2 does not apply to this subsection.

6. The victim shall cooperate with reasonable requests by the appropriate law enforcement agencies in the investigation or prosecution of the crime.

912.5 Compensation payable.

The department may order the payment of compensation:

1. To or for the benefit of the person filing the claim.
2. To a person responsible for the maintenance of the victim who has suffered pecuniary loss or incurred expenses as a result of personal injury to the victim.
3. To or for the benefit of one or more dependents of the victim, in the case of death of the victim. If two or more dependents are entitled to compensation, the compensation may be apportioned by the department as the department determines to be fair and equitable among the dependents.
4. To a victim of an act committed outside this state who is a resident of this state, if the act would be compensable had it occurred within this state and the act occurred in a state that does not have an eligible crime victim compensation program, as defined in the federal Victims of Crime Act of 1984, Pub. L. 98-473, section 1403(b), as amended and codified in section 236A.1, subsection 1, or an individual holding at least a master's degree in social work or counseling and guidance, and reasonable charges incurred by such persons for medical care counseling provided by a psychiatrist licensed under chapter 147 or 150A. The allowable charges under this subsection shall not exceed five hundred dollars per person or a total of two thousand dollars per victim death.

912.7 Reductions and disqualifications.

Compensation is subject to reduction and disqualification as follows:

1. Compensation shall be reduced by the amount of any payment received, or to be received, as a result of the injury or death:
   a. From or on behalf of, a person who committed the crime or who is otherwise responsible for damages resulting from the crime.
   b. From an insurance payment or program, including but not limited to workers' compensation or unemployment compensation.
   c. From public funds.
   d. As an emergency award under section 912.11.
2. Compensation shall not be made when the bodily injury or death for which a benefit is sought was caused by any of the following:
   a. Consent, provocation, or incitement by the victim.
   b. The victim assisting, attempting, or committing a criminal act.

912.8 Compensation when money insufficient.

Notwithstanding this chapter a victim otherwise qualified for compensation under the crime victim compensation program, is not entitled to the compensation when there is insufficient money from the appropriation for the program to pay the compensation.

912.9 Erroneous or fraudulent payment — penalty.

1. If a payment or overpayment of compensation is made because of clerical error, mistaken identity, innocent misrepresentation by or on behalf of the recipient, or other circumstances of a similar nature, not induced by fraud by or on behalf of the recipient, the recipient is liable for repayment of the compensation. The department may waive, decrease, or adjust the amount of the repayment of the compensation. However, if the department does not notify the recipient of the erroneous payment or overpayment within one year of the date the compensation was made, the recipient is not liable for the repayment of the compensation.

2. If a payment or overpayment has been induced by fraud by or on behalf of a recipient, the recipient is liable for repayment of the compensation.

§912.10 Release of information.
A person in possession or control of investigative or other information pertaining to an alleged crime or a victim filing for compensation shall allow the inspection and reproduction of the information by the department upon the request of the department, to be used only in the administration and enforcement of the crime victim compensation program. Information and records which are confidential under section 22.7 and information or records received from the confidential information or records remain confidential under this section.

A person does not incur legal liability by reason of releasing information to the department as required under this section.

§912.11 Emergency payment compensation.
If the department determines that compensation may be made and that undue hardship may result to the person if partial immediate payment is not made, the department may order emergency compensation to be paid to the person, not to exceed five hundred dollars.

§912.12 Right of action against perpetrator — subrogation.
A right of legal action by the victim against a person who has committed a crime is not lost as a consequence of a person receiving compensation under the crime victim compensation program. If a person receiving compensation under the program seeks indemnification which would reduce the compensation under section 912.7, subsection 1, the department is subrogated to the recovery to the extent of payments by the department to or on behalf of the person. The department has a right of legal action against a person who has committed a crime resulting in payment of compensation by the department to the extent of the compensation payment. However, legal action by the department does not affect the right of a person to seek further relief in other legal actions.

§912.14 Victim compensation fund.
A victim compensation fund is established as a separate fund in the state treasury. Moneys deposited in the fund shall be administered by the department and dedicated to and used for the purposes of section 709.10 and this chapter. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any balance in the fund on June 30 of any fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund of the state.

The 1991 amendments do not conflict, so they were harmonized to give effect to each, as required by Code section 4.11. In some cases where this section is referred to, the amendments are identical. It was generally assumed that a strike or repeal prevails over an amendment to the same material and does not create a conflict.

It appears that the last unnumbered paragraph of section 43.42, Code 1991, was inadvertently omitted when the section was stricken and rewritten; corrective legislation is pending.

Although 1991 Acts, chapter 129, section 9, purports to insert new material after unnumbered paragraph 2, the material appears to be more appropriately inserted after the first paragraph of the form, which is unnumbered paragraph 3 of the section, and it was so codified.

Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 253, section 5, indicates that it amends subsection 6, it appears from the text of the amendment that only unnumbered paragraph 1 of the subsection was intended, and the amendment was so codified.

1991 Acts, chapter 166, section 6, and chapter 268, section 427, both amend subsection 3, paragraph c. In the codification they have been harmonized to give effect to both. However, 1991 Acts, chapter 166, section 6, adds a new subparagraph (1) which is not effective until January 1, 1993, and to avoid confusion with the rest of that amendment the new subparagraph was also codified, but without changing the word "track" to "licensee", as was done in the rest of the section. This change will be proposed in corrective legislation.

Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 3, indicates the addition of a new unnumbered paragraph to section 13SB.6, it appears that the new paragraph as enacted is more appropriately placed in section 13SB.7 and the paragraph was so codified.

Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 233, section 2, indicates that it amends subsection 2, paragraph d, subparagraph (4), it appears from the text of the amendment that the last part of paragraph d was also amended, and that part was codified as an unnumbered paragraph in paragraph d.

1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 37, provided that 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 18, adding new paragraphs p and q to subsection 1 of section 246.108, would take effect only upon enactment of a specific appropriation for that purpose during the 1991 regular session. Since no such appropriation was enacted, the new paragraphs were considered ineffective and were not codified. For the text of the proposed paragraph p, as amended, see 1991 Acts, chapter 219, section 5. For the text of the proposed paragraph q, see 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 18.

Although 1991 Acts, chapter 264, section 906, purports to amend all of subsection 13, an earlier enactment, 1991 Acts, chapter 260, section 1223, added another paragraph to the subsection. Both amendments have been codified in order to give effect to both and carry out the apparent intent.
1991 Acts, chapter 87, section 4, and 1991 Acts, chapter 254, section 20, both amend the last unnumbered paragraph. They could not be harmonized in every detail to give effect to both, so the later enactment, 1991 Acts, chapter 254, section 20, was codified.

Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 256, section 5, indicates that it amends subsection 1, it appears from the text of the amendment that only unnumbered paragraph 1 of the subsection was intended, and the amendment was so codified.

Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 256, section 20, indicates that it amends section 331.247 in its entirety, it appears from the text of the amendment that only subsections 1 through 3 were intended, and the amendment was so codified.

Although 1991 Acts, chapter 52, section 8, did not, by direct terms, amend section 411.2, it repeated the language there with the addition of the May 3, 1990, retroactive applicability date, so that date has been codified.

Although the amendments in 1991 Acts, chapter 146, section 5, effective July 1, 1991, and 1991 Acts, chapter 191, section 120, effective April 1, 1992, were technically in conflict, they were harmonized as required by Code section 4.11.

1991 Acts, chapter 260, section 1247, adds a new unnumbered paragraph to section 546.11, which appears to be moot as to section 534.408 because of amendments in 1991 Acts, chapter 92, section 15 that struck former provisions relating to the savings and loan revolving fund and transfers to the administrative services trust fund. See also the footnote to section 534.408, subsection 1, unnumbered paragraph 2.
