GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF IOWA
Des Moines

2004
PREFACE TO 2005 IOWA CODE

The 2005 Iowa Code is published pursuant to Code chapter 2B. Its form is substantially the same as the 2003 Iowa Code, and it includes the permanent enactments of the 2003 and 2004 sessions of the Eightieth General Assembly or of an earlier session if the effective date of the enactments was delayed. Except as otherwise indicated in the text or in a footnote, the new sections, amendments, and repeals were effective on or before July 1, 2004. See the 2004 Iowa Acts or earlier session enactments to determine specific effective dates not shown.

CODE VOLUMES AND ARRANGEMENTS. The 2005 Code is published in six textual volumes and one Tables and Index volume. A Skeleton and Popular Name Index printed on pink paper appears at the end of each volume. The Table of Contents on page v enumerates the titles and subtitles found in the Code, and each volume contains an Analysis by Titles, Subtitles, and Chapters for that volume.

EDITORIAL DECISIONS. If multiple amendments were enacted to a section or part of a section, all changes that were duplicative or otherwise did not appear to conflict were harmonized as required under Code sections 2B.13 and 4.11. If multiple amendments conflicted, a strike or repeal prevailed over an amendment to the same material. If multiple amendments were irreconcilable, the amendment that was last in the Act or latest in date of enactment was codified as provided in Code sections 2B.13 and 4.8. At the end of Volume VI are Code Editor’s Notes which explain the major editorial decisions relating to enactments of the 2004 sessions. The Code Editor’s Notes relating to enactments of the 2003 sessions appear at the end of the 2003 Code Supplement. Code section 2B.13 governs the ongoing revision of gender references, authorizes other editorial changes, and provides for the effective date of editorial changes.

HISTORIES. Bracketed material at the end of many Code sections traces the history of the subject matter of those sections up through 1982. Beginning with the 1985 Code, that form of section history was not updated. An amendment to or enactment of a section which occurred during or after the 1983 legislative session is indicated by the addition of an Acts citation at the end of the section. If a section is transferred to a new location, the section history will indicate the Code or Code Supplement in which the transfer took place.

CONSTITUTIONS. A codified version of the 1857 Constitution of the State of Iowa, as well as the original version, is included with the introductory material at the beginning of Volume I.

TABLES. The tables appear at the beginning of the index volume which is entitled “Tables and Index.”

COMMENTS. The editorial staff of the Iowa Code welcomes comments and suggestions for improvements.

DESIGNATION OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY

CITATIONS

OFFICIAL STATUTES

2.2 Designation of general assembly.

Each regular session of the general assembly shall be designated by the year in which it convenes and by a number with a new consecutive number assigned with the session beginning in each odd-numbered year.

A special session of the general assembly shall be designated as an extraordinary session in the particular year of a numbered general assembly.

2B.17 Citations — official statutes.

1. The permanent and official printed versions of the Iowa Codes and Code Supplements published subsequent to the adjournment of the 1982 regular session of the Sixty-ninth General Assembly shall be known and may be cited as “Iowa Code chapter (or section) . . . .”, or “Iowa Code Supplement chapter (or section) . . . .”, inserting the appropriate chapter or section number. If the year of edition is needed, it may be inserted before or after the words “Iowa Code” or “Iowa Code Supplement”. In Iowa publications, the word “Iowa” may be omitted if the meaning is clear.

2. The session laws of each general assembly shall be known as “Acts of the . . . . General Assembly, . . . . Session, Chapter (or File No.) . . . ., Section . . . .” (inserting the appropriate numbers) and shall be cited as “. . . . Iowa Acts, chapter . . . ., section . . . .” (inserting the appropriate year, chapter, and section number).

3. The official printed versions of the Iowa Code, Iowa Code Supplement, and Iowa Acts published under authority of the state are the only authoritative publications of the statutes of this state. Other publications of the statutes of the state shall not be cited in the courts or in the reports or rules of the courts. The Iowa Code editor is the custodian of the official printed versions of the Iowa Code, Iowa Code Supplement, and Iowa Acts and may attest to and authenticate any portion of those official printed versions for purposes of admitting a portion of the official printed version in any court or office of any state, territory, or possession of the United States or in a foreign jurisdiction.

4. The Iowa administrative code and the Iowa administrative bulletin shall be cited as provided in section 17A.6.

5. The printed version of the Iowa administrative code is the permanent publication of administrative rules in this state and the Iowa administrative bulletin and the Iowa administrative code published pursuant to chapter 17A are the official publications of the administrative rules of this state, and are the only authoritative publications of the administrative rules of this state. Other publications of the administrative rules of this state shall not be cited in the courts or in the reports or rules of the courts. The Iowa administrative code editor is the custodian of the official printed versions of the Iowa administrative code and the Iowa administrative bulletin and may attest to and authenticate any portion of those official printed versions for purposes of admitting a portion of the official printed version in any court or office of any state, territory, or possession of the United States or in a foreign jurisdiction.

Chapters of the Code are cited as whole numerals; as chapter 124 or chapter 124A. Sections are cited as decimal numerals; as section 124.401 or section 124A.3. Occasionally, sections are divided into subsections as 1., 2., 3., etc.; subsections into paragraphs a, b, c, etc.; paragraphs into subparagraphs as (1), (2), (3), etc.; and subparagraphs into subparagraph subdivisions as (a), (b), (c), etc. Example: section 124.401, subsection 1, paragraph "a", subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (a). This may be abbreviated as 124.401(1)(a)(2)(a) or 124.401[1a2(a)].

GENERAL PROVISIONS

486A.101 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Business” includes every trade, occupation, and profession.
2. “Debtor in bankruptcy” means a person who is the subject of any of the following:
a. An order for relief under Title 11 of the United States Code or a comparable order under a successor statute of general application.
b. A comparable order under federal, state, or foreign law governing insolvency.
3. “Distribution” means a transfer of money or other property from a partnership to a partner in the partner’s capacity as a partner or to the partner’s transferee.
4. “Foreign limited liability partnership” means a partnership that satisfies both of the following:
a. The partnership is formed under laws other than the laws of this state.
b. The partnership has the status of a limited liability partnership under those laws.

5. “Limited liability partnership” means a partnership that has filed a statement of qualification under section 486A.1001 and does not have a similar statement in effect in any other jurisdiction.

6. “Partnership” means an association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for profit formed under section 486A.202, predecessor law, or comparable law of another jurisdiction.

7. “Partnership agreement” means the agreement, whether written, oral, or implied, among the partners concerning the partnership, including amendments to the partnership agreement.

8. “Partnership at will” means a partnership in which the partners have not agreed to remain partners until the expiration of a definite term or the completion of a particular undertaking.

9. “Partnership interest” or “partner’s interest in the partnership” means all of a partner’s interests in the partnership, including the partner’s transferable interest and all management and other rights.

10. “Person” means as defined in section 4.1.

11. “Property” means all property, real, personal, or mixed, tangible or intangible, or any interest in such property.

12. “State” means a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

13. “Statement” means a statement of partnership authority under section 486A.303, a statement of denial under section 486A.304, a statement of dissociation under section 486A.704, a statement of dissolution under section 486A.805, a statement of merger under section 486A.907, a statement of qualification under section 486A.1001, a statement of foreign qualification under section 486A.1102, or an amendment or cancellation of any of the foregoing.

14. “Transfer” includes an assignment, conveyance, lease, mortgage, deed, and encumbrance.

486A.102 Knowledge and notice.

1. A person knows a fact if the person has actual knowledge of it.

2. A person has notice of a fact if any of the following apply:
   a. The person knows of it.
   b. The person has received a notification of it.
   c. The person has reason to know it exists from all of the facts known to the person at the time in question.

3. A person notifies or gives a notification to another by taking steps reasonably required to inform the other person in ordinary course, whether or not the other person learns of it.

4. A person receives a notification when any of the following occur:
   a. The notification comes to the person’s attention.
   b. The notification is duly delivered at the person’s place of business or at any other place held out by the person as a place for receiving communications.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, a person other than an individual knows, has notice, or receives a notification of a fact for purposes of a particular transaction when the individual conducting the transaction knows, has notice, or receives a notification of the fact, or in any event when the fact would have been brought to the individual’s attention if the person had exercised reasonable diligence. The person exercises reasonable diligence if the person maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the individual conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Reasonable diligence does not require an individual acting for the person to communicate information unless the communication is part of the individual’s regular duties or the individual has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

6. A partner’s knowledge, notice, or receipt of a notification of a fact relating to the partnership is effective immediately as knowledge by notice to, or receipt of a notification by the partnership, except in the case of a fraud on the partnership committed by or with the consent of that partner.

486A.103 Effect of partnership agreement — nonwaivable provisions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership are governed by the partnership agreement. To the extent the partnership agreement does not otherwise provide, this chapter governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership.

2. The partnership agreement shall not do any of the following:
   a. Vary the rights and duties under section 486A.105 except to eliminate the duty to provide copies of statements to all of the partners.
   b. Unreasonably restrict the right of access to books and records under section 486A.403, subsection 2.
   c. Eliminate the duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, or 486A.603, subsection 2, paragraph “c”, except as follows:
      (1) The partnership agreement may identify specific types or categories of activities that do not violate the duty of loyalty, if not manifestly unreasonable.
      (2) All of the partners or a number or percentage specified in the partnership agreement may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the duty of loyalty.

d. Unreasonably reduce the duty of care under section 486A.404, subsection 3, or 486A.603, subsection 2, paragraph “c”.

e. Eliminate the obligation of good faith and fair dealing under section 486A.404, subsection 4, but the partnership agreement may prescribe the standards by which the performance of the obligation is to be measured, if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

f. Vary the power to dissociate as a partner under section 486A.602, subsection 1, except to require the notice under section 486A.601, subsection 1, to be in writing.

g. Vary the right of a court to expel a partner in the events specified in section 486A.601, subsection 5.

h. Vary the requirement to wind up the partnership business in cases specified in section 486A.601, subsection 4, 5, or 6.

i. Vary the law applicable to a limited liability partnership under section 486A.106, subsection 2.

j. Restrict rights of third parties under this chapter.

486A.104 Supplemental principles of law.

1. Unless displaced by particular provisions of this chapter, the principles of law and equity supplement this chapter.

2. If an obligation to pay interest arises under this chapter and the rate is not specified, the rate is that specified in section 535.3.

486A.105 Execution, filing, and recording of statements.

1. A statement may be filed in the office of the secretary of state. A certified copy of a statement that is filed in an office in another state may be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Either filing has the effect provided in this chapter with respect to partnership property located in or transactions that occur in this state.

2. A certified copy of a statement that has been filed in the office of the secretary of state and recorded in the office for recording transfers of real property has the effect provided for recorded statements in this chapter. A recorded statement that is not a certified copy of a statement filed in the office of the secretary of state does not have the effect provided for recorded statements in this chapter.

3. A statement filed by a partnership must be executed by at least two partners. Other statements must be executed by a partner or other person authorized by this chapter. An individual who executes a statement as, or on behalf of, a partner or other person named as a partner in a statement shall personally declare under penalty of perjury that the contents of the statement are accurate.

4. A person authorized by this chapter to file a statement may amend or cancel the statement by filing an amendment or cancellation that names the partnership, identifies the statement, and states the substance of the amendment or cancellation.

5. A person who files a statement pursuant to this section shall promptly send a copy of the statement to every nonfiling partner and to any other person named as a partner in the statement. Failure to send a copy of a statement to a partner or other person does not limit the effectiveness of the statement as to a person not a partner.

6. The secretary of state may collect a fee for filing or providing a certified copy of a statement. The county recorder may collect a fee for recording a statement.

486A.106 Governing law.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the law of the jurisdiction in which a partnership has its chief executive office governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership.

2. The law of this state governs relations among the partners and the partnership and the liability of partners for an obligation of a limited liability partnership.

486A.107 Partnership subject to amendment or repeal of chapter.

A partnership governed by this chapter is subject to any amendment to or repeal of this chapter.

ARTICLE 2

NATURE OF PARTNERSHIP

486A.201 Partnership as entity.

1. A partnership is an entity distinct from its partners.

2. A limited liability partnership continues to be the same entity that existed before the filing of a statement of qualification under section 486A.1001.

486A.202 Formation of partnership.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for profit forms a partnership, whether or not the persons intend to form a partnership.
2. An association formed under a statute other than this chapter, a predecessor statute, or a comparable statute of another jurisdiction is not a partnership under this chapter.

3. In determining whether a partnership is formed, the following rules apply:
   a. Joint tenancy, tenancy in common, tenancy by the entirety, joint property, common property, or part ownership does not by itself establish a partnership, even if the co-owners share profits made by the use of the property.
   b. The sharing of gross returns does not by itself establish a partnership, even if the persons sharing them have a joint or common right or interest in property from which the returns are derived.
   c. A person who receives a share of the profits of a business is presumed to be a partner in the business, unless the profits were received in payment of or for any of the following:
      (1) Of a debt by installments or otherwise.
      (2) For services as an independent contractor or of wages or other compensation to an employee.
      (3) Of rent.
      (4) Of an annuity or other retirement or health benefit to a beneficiary, representative, or designee of a deceased or retired partner.
      (5) Of interest or other charge on a loan, even if the amount of payment varies with the profits of the business, including a direct or indirect present or future ownership of the collateral, or rights to income, proceeds, or increase in value derived from the collateral.
      (6) For the sale of the goodwill of a business or other property by installments or otherwise.

486A.203 Partnership property.
Property acquired by a partnership is property of the partnership and not of the partners individually.

486A.204 When property is partnership property.
1. Property is partnership property if acquired in the name of any of the following:
   a. The partnership.
   b. One or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership but without an indication of the name of the partnership.
2. Property is acquired in the name of the partnership by a transfer to any of the following:
   a. The partnership in its name.
   b. One or more partners in their capacity as partners in the partnership, if the name of the partnership is indicated in the instrument transferring title to the property.
3. Property is presumed to be partnership property if purchased with partnership assets, even if not acquired in the name of the partnership or of one or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership.
4. Property acquired in the name of one or more of the partners, without an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership and without use of partnership assets, is presumed to be separate property, even if used for partnership purposes.

ARTICLE 3
RELATIONS OF PARTNERS TO PERSONS DEALING WITH PARTNERSHIP

486A.301 Partner agent of partnership.
Subject to the effect of a statement of partnership authority under section 486A.303:
1. Each partner is an agent of the partnership for the purpose of its business. An act of a partner, including the execution of an instrument in the partnership name, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the partnership business or business of the kind carried on by the partnership binds the partnership, unless the partner had no authority to act for the partnership in the particular matter and the person with whom the partner was dealing knew or had received a notification that the partner lacked authority.
2. An act of a partner which is not apparently for carrying on in the ordinary course the partnership business or business of the kind carried on by the partnership binds the partnership only if the act was authorized by the other partners.

486A.302 Transfer of partnership property.
1. Partnership property may be transferred as follows:
   a. Subject to the effect of a statement of partnership authority under section 486A.303, partnership property held in the name of the partnership may be transferred by an instrument of transfer executed by a partner in the partnership name.
   b. Partnership property held in the name of one or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring the property to the partners of their capacity as partners or of the existence of a partnership, but without an indication of the name of the partnership, may be transferred by an instrument of transfer executed by the persons in whose name the property is held.
   c. Partnership property held in the name of one or more persons other than the partnership, without an indication in the instrument transferring the property to the partners of their capacity as partners or of the existence of a partnership, may be transferred by an instrument of transfer executed by the persons in whose name the property is held.

2. A partnership may recover partnership property from a transferee only if it proves that execution of the instrument of initial transfer did not bind the partnership under section 486A.301 and if one of the following applies:
   a. As to a subsequent transferee who gave value for property transferred under subsection 1, paragraphs “a” and “b”, proves that the subsequent transferee knew or had received a notification that the person who executed the instrument of initial transfer lacked authority to bind the partnership.
   b. As to a transferee who gave value for property transferred under subsection 1, paragraph “c”, proves that the transferee knew or had received a notification that the property was partnership property and that the person who executed the instrument of initial transfer lacked authority to bind the partnership.

3. A partnership shall not recover partnership property from a subsequent transferee if the partnership would not have been entitled to recover the property, under subsection 2, from any earlier transferee of the property.

4. If a person holds all of the partners’ interests in the partnership, all of the partnership property vests in that person. The person may execute a document in the name of the partnership to evidence vesting of the property in that person and may file or record the document.

486A.303 Statement of partnership authority.

1. A partnership may file a statement of partnership authority as provided in this subsection.
   a. The statement of partnership authority must include all of the following:
      (1) The name of the partnership.
      (2) The street address of its chief executive office and of one office in this state, if there is one.
      (3) The names and mailing addresses of all of the partners or of an agent appointed and maintained by the partnership for the purpose of subsection 2.
      (4) The names of the persons authorized to execute an instrument transferring real property held in the name of the partnership.
   b. The statement of partnership authority may state the authority, or limitations on the authority, of some or all of the persons to enter into other transactions on behalf of the partnership and any other matter.

2. If a statement of partnership authority names an agent, the agent shall maintain a list of the names and mailing addresses of all of the partners and make it available to any person on request for good cause shown.

3. If a filed statement of partnership authority is executed pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 3, and states the name of the partnership but does not contain all of the other information required by subsection 1, the statement nevertheless operates with respect to a person not a partner as provided in subsections 4 and 5.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, a filed statement of partnership authority supplements the authority of a partner to enter into transactions on behalf of the partnership as follows:
   a. Except for transfers of real property, a grant of authority contained in a filed statement of partnership authority is conclusive in favor of a person who gives value without knowledge to the contrary, so long as and to the extent that a limitation on that authority is not then contained in another filed statement. A filed cancellation of a limitation on authority revives the previous grant of authority.
   b. A grant of authority to transfer real property held in the name of the partnership contained in a certified copy of a filed statement of partnership authority recorded in the office for recording transfers of that real property is conclusive in favor of a person who gives value without knowledge to the contrary, so long as and to the extent that a certification of a filed statement containing a limitation on that authority is not then of record in the office for recording transfers of that real property. The recording in the office for recording transfers of that real property of a certified copy of a filed cancellation of a limitation on authority revives the previous grant of authority.

5. A person not a partner is deemed to know of a limitation on the authority of a partner to transfer real property held in the name of the partnership if a certified copy of the filed statement containing the limitation on authority is of record in the office for recording transfers of that real property.

6. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 4 and 5 and sections 486A.704 and 486A.805, a person not a partner is not deemed to know of a limitation on the authority of a partner merely because the limitation is contained in a filed statement.

7. Unless earlier canceled, a filed statement of partnership authority is canceled by operation of law five years after the date on which the statement, or the most recent amendment, was filed with the secretary of state.

486A.304 Statement of denial.

A partner or other person named as a partner in a filed statement of partnership authority or in a list maintained by an agent pursuant to section 486A.305 Partnership liable for partner's actionable conduct.
1. A partnership is liable for loss or injury caused to a person, or for a penalty incurred, as a result of a wrongful act or omission, or other actionable conduct, of a partner acting in the ordinary course of business of the partnership or with authority of the partnership.
2. If, in the course of the partnership's business or while acting with authority of the partnership, a partner receives or causes the partnership to receive money or property of a person not a partner, and the money or property is misapplied by a partner, the partnership is liable for the loss.

486A.306 Partner's liability.
1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, all partners are liable jointly and severally for all obligations of the partnership unless otherwise agreed by the claimant or provided by law.
2. A person admitted as a partner into an existing partnership is not personally liable for any partnership obligation incurred before the person's admission as a partner.
3. An obligation of a partnership incurred while the partnership is a limited liability partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the obligation of the partnership. A partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for such an obligation solely by reason of being or so acting as a partner. This subsection applies notwithstanding anything inconsistent in the partnership agreement that existed immediately before the vote required to become a limited liability partnership under section 486A.1001, subsection 2.

486A.307 Actions by and against partnership and partners.
1. A partnership may sue and be sued in the name of the partnership.
2. An action may be brought against the partnership and, to the extent not inconsistent with section 486A.306, any or all of the partners in the same action or in separate actions.
3. A judgment against a partnership is not by itself a judgment against a partner. A judgment against a partnership shall not be satisfied from a partner's assets unless there is also a judgment against the partner.

4. A judgment creditor of a partner shall not levy execution against the assets of the partnership to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the partnership unless the partner is personally liable for the claim under section 486A.306 and one or more of the following apply:
   a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the partnership and a writ of execution on the judgment has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part.
   b. The partnership is a debtor in bankruptcy.
   c. The partner has agreed that the creditor need not exhaust partnership assets.
   d. A court grants permission to the judgment creditor to levy execution against the assets of a partner based on a finding that partnership assets subject to execution are clearly insufficient to satisfy the judgment, that exhaustion of partnership assets is excessively burdensome, or that the grant of permission is an appropriate exercise of the court's equitable powers.
   e. Liability is imposed on the partner by law or contract independent of the existence of the partnership.

5. This section applies to any partnership liability or obligation resulting from a representation by a partner or purported partner under section 486A.308.

486A.308 Liability of purported partner.
1. If a person, by words or conduct, purports to be a partner, or consents to being represented by another as a partner, in a partnership or with one or more persons not partners, the purported partner is liable to a person to whom the representation is made, if that person, relying on the representation, enters into a transaction with the actual or purported partnership. If the representation, either by the purported partner or by a person with the purported partner's consent, is made in a public manner, the purported partner is liable to a person who relies upon the purported partnership even if the purported partner is not aware of being held out as a partner to the claimant. If partnership liability results, the purported partner is liable with respect to that liability as if the purported partner were a partner. If no partnership liability results, the purported partner is liable with respect to that liability jointly and severally with any other person consenting to the representation.
2. If a person is thus represented to be a partner in an existing partnership, or with one or more persons not partners, the purported partner is an agent of persons consenting to the representation to bind the persons to the same extent and in the same manner as if the purported partner were a partner, with respect to persons who enter into transactions in reliance upon the representation. If all of the partners of the existing partnership consent to the representation, a partnership act or obligation results. If fewer than all of the partners of the existing partnership consent to the representation, the person acting and the partners consenting to the representation are jointly and severally liable.

3. A person is not liable as a partner merely because the person is named by another in a statement of partnership authority.

4. A person does not continue to be liable as a partner merely because of a failure to file a statement of dissociation or to amend a statement of partnership authority to indicate the partner's dissociation from the partnership.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 1 and 2, persons who are not partners as to each other are not liable as partners to other persons.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §19, 79, 82

ARTICLE 4

RELATIONS OF PARTNERS TO EACH OTHER AND TO PARTNERSHIP

486A.401 Partner's rights and duties.

1. Each partner is deemed to have an account subject to the following:

a. The account is credited with an amount equal to the money plus the value of any other property, net of the amount of any liabilities, the partner contributes to the partnership and the partner's share of the partnership profits.

b. The account is charged with an amount equal to the money plus the value of any other property, net of the amount of any liabilities, distributed by the partnership to the partner and the partner's share of the partnership losses.

2. Each partner is entitled to an equal share of the partnership profits and is chargeable with a share of the partnership losses in proportion to the partner's share of the profits.

3. A partnership shall reimburse a partner for payments made and indemnify a partner for liabilities incurred by the partner in the ordinary course of the business of the partnership or for the preservation of its business or property, if such payments were made or liabilities incurred without violation of the partner's duties to the partnership or the other partners.

4. A partnership shall reimburse a partner for an advance to the partnership beyond the amount of capital the partner agreed to contribute.

5. A payment or advance made by a partner which gives rise to a partnership obligation under subsection 3 or 4 constitutes a loan to the partnership which accrues interest from the date of the payment or advance.

6. Each partner has equal rights in the management and conduct of the partnership business.

7. A partner may use or possess partnership property only on behalf of the partnership.

8. A partner is not entitled to remuneration for services performed for the partnership, except for reasonable compensation for services rendered in winding up the business of the partnership.

9. A person may become a partner only with the consent of all of the partners.

10. A difference arising as to a matter in the ordinary course of business of a partnership may be decided by a majority of the partners. An act outside the ordinary course of business of a partnership and an amendment to the partnership agreement may be undertaken only with the consent of all of the partners.

11. This section does not affect the obligations of a partnership to other persons under section 486A.301.

486A.402 Distributions in kind.

A partner has no right to receive, and shall not be required to accept, a distribution in kind.

486A.403 Partner's rights and duties with respect to information.

1. A partnership shall keep its books and records, if any, at its chief executive office.

2. A partnership shall provide partners and their agents and attorneys access to its books and records. It shall provide former partners and their agents and attorneys access to books and records pertaining to the period during which the former partners were partners. The right of access provides the opportunity to inspect and copy books and records during ordinary business hours. A partnership may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and materials, for copies of documents furnished.

3. Each partner and the partnership shall furnish to a partner, and to the legal representative of a deceased partner or partner under legal disability, all of the following:

a. Without demand, any information concerning the partnership's business and affairs reasonably required for the proper exercise of the partner's rights and duties under the partnership agreement or this chapter.

b. On demand, any other information concerning the partnership's business and affairs, except to the extent the demand or the information demanded is unreasonable or otherwise improper under the circumstances.

486A.404 General standards of partner's conduct.

1. The only fiduciary duties a partner owes to the partnership and the other partners are the duty of loyalty and the duty of care set forth in subsections 2 and 3.
2. A partner’s duty of loyalty to the partnership and the other partners is limited to the following:
   a. To account to the partnership and hold as trustee for the partnership any property, profit, or benefit derived by the partner in the conduct and winding up of the partnership business or derived from a use by the partner of partnership property, including the appropriation of a partnership opportunity.
   b. To refrain from dealing with the partnership in the conduct or winding up of the partnership business as or on behalf of a party having an interest adverse to the partnership.
   c. To refrain from competing with the partnership in the conduct of the partnership business before the dissolution of the partnership.
3. A partner’s duty of care to the partnership and the other partners in the conduct and winding up of the partnership business is limited to refraining from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, intentional misconduct, or a knowing violation of law.
4. A partner shall discharge the duties to the partnership and the other partners under this chapter or under the partnership agreement and exercise any rights consistently with the obligation of good faith and fair dealing.
5. A partner does not violate a duty or obligation under this chapter or under the partnership agreement merely because the partner’s conduct furthers the partner’s own interest.
6. A partner may lend money to and transact other business with the partnership, and as to each loan or transaction the rights and obligations of the partner are the same as those of a person who is not a partner, subject to other applicable law.
7. This section applies to a person winding up the partnership business as the personal or legal representative of the last surviving partner as if the person were a partner.

§486A.503 Transfer of partner’s transferable interest.
1. A transfer, in whole or in part, of a partner’s interest in the partnership purchased pursuant to section 486A.701 or enforce any other right under article 6 or 7.
2. The partner’s right to compel a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business under section 486A.801 or enforce any other right under article 8.
3. The accrual of, and any time limitation on, a right of action for a remedy under this section is governed by other law. A right to an accounting upon a dissolution and winding up does not revive a claim barred by law.

TRANSFEREES AND CREDITORS OF PARTNER

§486A.501 Partner not co-owner of partnership property.
A partner is not a co-owner of partnership property and has no interest in partnership property which can be transferred, either voluntarily or involuntarily.
98 Acts, ch 1201, §26, 79, 82

§486A.502 Partner’s transferable interest in partnership.
The only transferable interest of a partner in the partnership is the partner’s share of the profits and losses of the partnership and the partner’s right to receive distributions. The interest is personal property.
98 Acts, ch 1201, §27, 79, 82

§486A.503 Transfer of partner’s transferable interest.
1. A transfer, in whole or in part, of a partner’s transferable interest in the partnership is or does all of the following:

a. Is permissible.

b. Does not by itself cause the partner’s dissociation or a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business.

c. Does not, as against the other partners or the partnership, entitle the transferee, during the continuance of the partnership, to participate in the management or conduct of the partnership business, to require access to information concerning partnership transactions, or to inspect or copy the partnership books or records.

2. A transferee of a partner’s transferable interest in the partnership has a right to all of the following:

a. To receive, in accordance with the transfer, distributions to which the transferor would otherwise be entitled.

b. To receive upon the dissolution and winding up of the partnership business, in accordance with the transfer, the net amount otherwise distributable to the transferor.

c. To seek under section 486A.801, subsection 6, a judicial determination that it is equitable to wind up the partnership business.

3. In a dissolution and winding up, a transferee is entitled to an account of partnership transactions only from the date of the latest account agreed to by all of the partners.

4. Upon transfer, the transferor retains the rights and duties of a partner other than the interest in distributions transferred.

5. A partnership need not give effect to a transferee’s rights under this section until it has notice of the transfer.

6. A transfer of a partner’s transferable interest in the partnership in violation of a restriction on transfer contained in the partnership agreement is ineffective as to a person having notice of the restriction at the time of transfer.

§486A.504 Partner’s transferable interest subject to charging order.

1. On application by a judgment creditor of a partner or of a partner’s transferee, a court having jurisdiction may charge the transferable interest of the judgment debtor to satisfy the judgment. The court may appoint a receiver of the share of the distributions due or to become due to the judgment debtor in respect of the partnership and make all other orders, directions, accounts, and inquiries the judgment debtor might have made or which the circumstances of the case may require.

2. A charging order constitutes a lien on the judgment debtor’s transferable interest in the partnership. The court may order a foreclosure of the interest subject to the charging order at any time. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale has the rights of a transferee.

3. At any time before foreclosure, an interest charged may be redeemed by or with any of the following:

a. By the judgment debtor.

b. With property other than partnership property, by one or more of the other partners.

c. With partnership property, by one or more of the other partners with the consent of all of the partners whose interests are not so charged.

4. This chapter does not deprive a partner of a right under exemption laws with respect to the partner’s interest in the partnership.

5. This section provides the exclusive remedy by which a judgment creditor of a partner or partner’s transferee may satisfy a judgment out of the judgment debtor’s transferable interest in the partnership.

ARTICLE 6
PARTNER’S DISSOCIATION

486A.601 Events causing partner’s dissociation.

A partner is dissociated from a partnership upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. The partnership’s having notice of the partner’s express will to withdraw as a partner or on a later date specified by the partner.

2. An event agreed to in the partnership agreement as causing the partner’s dissociation.

3. The partner’s expulsion pursuant to the partnership agreement.

4. The partner’s expulsion by the unanimous vote of the other partners if any of the following apply:

a. It is unlawful to carry on the partnership business with that partner.

b. There has been a transfer of all or substantially all of that partner’s transferable interest in the partnership, other than a transfer for security purposes, or a court order charging the partner’s interest, which has not been foreclosed.

c. Within ninety days after the partnership notifies a corporate partner that it will be expelled because it has filed a certificate of dissolution or the equivalent, its charter has been revoked, or its right to conduct business has been suspended by the jurisdiction of its incorporation, there is no revocation of the certificate of dissolution or no reinstatement of its charter or its right to conduct business.

d. A partnership, limited partnership, or limited liability company that is a partner has been dissolved and its business is being wound up.

5. On application by the partnership or another partner, the partner’s expulsion by judicial determination because of any of the following:

a. The partner engaged in wrongful conduct that adversely and materially affected the partnership business.
b. The partner willfully or persistently committed a material breach of the partnership agreement or of a duty owed to the partnership or the other partners under section 486A.404.

c. The partner engaged in conduct relating to the partnership business which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in partnership with the partner.

d. The partner's actions constituting any of the following:
   a. Becoming a debtor in bankruptcy.
   b. Executing an assignment for the benefit of creditors.
   c. Seeking, consenting to, or acquiescing in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of that partner or of all or substantially all of that partner's property.
   d. Failing, within ninety days after the appointment, to have vacated or stayed the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the partner or of all or substantially all of the partner's property obtained without the partner's consent or acquiescence, or failing within ninety days after the expiration of a stay to have the appointment vacated.
   e. In the case of a partner who is an individual any of the following:
      a. The partner's death.
      b. The appointment of a general guardian or general conservator for the partner.
      c. A judicial determination that the partner has otherwise become incapable of performing the partner's duties under the partnership agreement.

f. The partner's duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, paragraph "c", terminates.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §30, 79, 82

486A.603 Effect of partner's dissociation. 1. If a partner's dissociation results in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business, article 8 applies; otherwise, article 7 applies.

2. Upon a partner's dissociation all of the following apply:
   a. The partner's right to participate in the management and conduct of the partnership business terminates, except as otherwise provided in section 486A.803.

b. The partner's duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, paragraph "c", terminates.

c. The partner's duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, paragraphs "a" and "b", and duty of care under section 486A.404, subsection 3, continue only with regard to matters arising and events occurring before the partner's dissolution, unless the partner participates in winding up the partnership's business pursuant to section 486A.803.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §32, 79, 82

PARTNER'S DISSOCIATION WHEN BUSINESS NOT WOUND UP

486A.701 Purchase of dissociated partner's interest. 1. If a partner is dissociated from a partnership without resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business under section 486A.801, the partnership shall cause the dissociated partner's interest in the partnership to be purchased for a buyout price determined pursuant to subsection 2.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §32, 79, 82

486A.602 Partner's power to dissociate — wrongful dissociation. 1. A partner has the power to dissociate at any time, rightfully or wrongfully, by express will pursuant to section 486A.601, subsection 1.

2. A partner's dissociation is wrongful only if any of the following applies:
   a. It is in breach of an express provision of the partnership agreement.
   b. In the case of a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking, before the expiration of the term or the completion of the undertaking if any of the following occur:
      1. The partner withdraws by express will, unless the withdrawal follows within ninety days after another partner's dissociation by death or otherwise under section 486A.601, subsections 6 through 10, or wrongful dissociation under this subsection.
      2. The partner is expelled by judicial determination under section 486A.601, subsection 5.
      3. The partner is dissociated by becoming a debtor in bankruptcy.
      4. In the case of a partner who is not an individual, trust other than a business trust, or estate, the partner is expelled or otherwise dissociated because it willfully dissolved or terminated.

5. A partner who wrongfully dissociates is liable to the partnership and to the other partners for damages caused by the dissociation. The liability is in addition to any other obligation of the partner to the partnership or to the other partners.

2. The buyout price of a dissociated partner’s interest is the amount that would have been distributable to the dissociating partner under section 486A.807, subsection 2, if, on the date of dissociation, the assets of the partnership were sold at a price equal to the greater of the liquidation value or the value based on a sale of the entire business as a going concern without the dissociated partner and the partnership were wound up as of that date. Interest must be paid from the date of dissociation to the date of payment.

3. Damages for wrongful dissociation under section 486A.602, subsection 2, and all other amounts owing, whether or not presently due, from the dissociated partner to the partnership, must be offset against the buyout price. Interest must be paid from the date the amount owed becomes due to the date of payment.

4. A partnership shall indemnify a dissociated partner whose interest is being purchased against all partnership liabilities, whether incurred before or after the dissociation, except liabilities incurred by an act of the dissociated partner under section 486A.702.

5. If no agreement for the purchase of a dissociated partner’s interest is reached within one hundred twenty days after a written demand for payment, the partnership shall pay, or cause to be paid, in cash the dissociated partner the amount the partnership estimates to be the buyout price and accrued interest, reduced by any offsets and accrued interest under subsection 3.

6. If a deferred payment is authorized under subsection 8, the partnership may tender a written offer to pay the amount the partnership estimates to be the buyout price and accrued interest, reduced by any offsets under subsection 3, stating the time of payment, the amount and type of security for payment, and the other terms and conditions of the obligation.

7. The payment or tender required by subsection 5 or 6 must be accompanied by all of the following:
   a. A written statement of partnership assets and liabilities as of the date of dissociation.
   b. The latest available partnership balance sheet and income statement, if any.
   c. A written explanation of how the estimated amount of the payment was calculated.
   d. Written notice that the payment is in full satisfaction of the obligation to purchase unless, within one hundred twenty days after the written notice, the dissociated partner commences an action to determine the buyout price, any offsets under subsection 3, or other terms of the obligation to purchase.

9. A dissociated partner may maintain an action against the partnership, pursuant to section 486A.405, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (2), to determine the buyout price of that partner’s interest, any offsets under subsection 3, or other terms of the obligation to purchase. The action must be commenced within one hundred twenty days after the partnership has tendered payment or an offer to pay or within one year after written demand for payment if no payment or offer to pay is tendered. The court shall determine the buyout price of the dissociated partner’s interest, any offset due under subsection 3, and accrued interest, and enter judgment for any additional payment or refund. If deferred payment is authorized under subsection 8, the court shall also determine the security for payment and other terms of the obligation to purchase. The court may assess reasonable attorney’s fees and the fees and expenses of appraisers or other experts for a party to the action, in amounts the court finds equitable, against a party that the court finds acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith. The finding may be based on the partnership’s failure to tender payment or an offer to pay or to comply with subsection 7.

486A.702 Dissociated partner’s power to bind and liability to partnership.

1. For two years after a partner dissociates without resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business, the partnership, including a surviving partnership under article 9, is bound by an act of the dissociated partner which would have bound the partnership under section 486A.301 before dissociation only if at the time of entering into the transaction all of the following apply:
   a. The other party reasonably believed that the dissociated partner was then a partner.
   b. The other party did not have notice of the partner’s dissociation.
   c. The other party is not deemed to have had knowledge under section 486A.303, subsection 5, or notice under section 486A.704, subsection 3.

2. A dissociated partner is liable to the partnership for any damage caused to the partnership arising from an obligation incurred by the dissociated partner after dissociation for which the partnership is liable under subsection 1.

486A.703 Dissociated partner’s liability to other persons.

1. A partner’s dissociation does not of itself discharge the partner’s liability for a partnership obligation incurred before dissociation. A dissociated partner is not liable for a partnership obligation incurred after dissociation, except as otherwise provided in subsection 2.

2. A partner who dissociates without resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business is liable as a partner to the other party in a transaction entered into by the partnership, or a surviving partnership under article 9, within two years after the partner’s dissociation, only if the partner is liable for the obligation under section 486A.306 and at the time of entering into the transaction all of the following apply:

   a. The other party reasonably believed that the dissociated partner was then a partner.

   b. The other party did not have notice of the partner’s dissociation.

   c. The other party is not deemed to have had knowledge under section 486A.303, subsection 5, or notice under section 486A.704, subsection 3.

3. By agreement with the partnership creditor and the partners continuing the business, a dissociated partner may be released from liability for a partnership obligation.

4. A dissociated partner is released from liability for a partnership obligation if a partnership creditor, with notice of the partner’s dissociation but without the partner’s consent, agrees to a material alteration in the nature or time of payment of a partnership obligation.

486A.704 Statement of dissociation.

1. A dissociated partner or the partnership may file a statement of dissociation stating the name of the partnership and that the partner is dissociated from the partnership.

2. A statement of dissociation is a limitation on the authority of a dissociated partner for the purposes of section 486A.303, subsections 4 and 5.

3. For the purposes of section 486A.702, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, and section 486A.703, subsection 2, paragraph “c”, a person not a partner is deemed to have notice of the dissociation ninety days after the statement of dissociation is filed.

486A.705 Continued use of partnership name.

Continued use of a partnership name, or a dissociated partner’s name as part of a partnership name, by partners continuing the business does not of itself make the dissociated partner liable for an obligation of the partners or the partnership continuing the business.

UNIFORM PARTNERSHIP ACT, §486A.801

ARTICLE 8

WINDING UP PARTNERSHIP BUSINESS

486A.801 Events causing dissolution and winding up of partnership business.

A partnership is dissolved, and its business must be wound up, only upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. In a partnership at will, the partnership’s having notice from a partner, other than a partner who is dissociated under section 486A.601, subsections 2 through 10, of that partner’s express will to withdraw as a partner, or on a later date specified by the partner.

2. In a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking if any of the following occur or are present:

   a. The expiration of ninety days after a partner’s dissociation by death or otherwise under section 486A.601, subsections 6 through 10, or wrongful dissociation under section 486A.602, subsection 2, unless before that time a majority in interest of the remaining partners, including partners who have rightfully dissociated pursuant to section 486A.602, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (1), agree to continue the partnership.

   b. The express will of all of the partners to wind up the partnership business.

   c. The expiration of the term or the completion of the undertaking.

3. An event agreed to in the partnership agreement resulting in the winding up of the partnership business.

4. An event that makes it unlawful for all or substantially all of the business of the partnership to be continued, but a cure of illegality within ninety days after notice to the partnership of the event is effective retroactively to the date of the event for purposes of this section.

5. On application by a partner, a judicial determination that concludes any of the following:

   a. The economic purpose of the partnership is likely to be unreasonably frustrated.

   b. Another partner has engaged in conduct relating to the partnership business which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in partnership with that partner.

   c. It is not otherwise reasonably practicable to carry on the partnership business in conformity with the partnership agreement.

6. On application by a transferee of a partner’s transferable interest, a judicial determination that it is equitable to wind up the partnership business at any of the following times:

   a. After the expiration of the term or completion of the undertaking, if the partnership was for a definite term or particular undertaking at the time of the transfer or entry of the charging order that gave rise to the transfer.

   b. At any time, if the partnership was a partnership at will at the time of the transfer or entry of the charging order that gave rise to the transfer.

486A.802 Partnership continues after dissolution.
1. Subject to subsection 2, a partnership continues after dissolution only for the purpose of winding up its business. The partnership is terminated when the winding up of its business is completed.
2. At any time after the dissolution of a partnership and before the winding up of its business is completed, all of the partners, including any dissolving partner other than a wrongfully dissocitating partner, may waive the right to have the partnership's business wound up and the partnership terminated. In that event all of the following apply:
   a. The partnership resumes carrying on its business as if dissolution had never occurred, and any liability incurred by the partnership or a partner after the dissolution and before the waiver is determined as if dissolution had never occurred.
   b. The rights of a third party accruing under section 486A.804, subsection 1, or arising out of conduct in reliance on the dissolution before the third party knew or received a notification of the waiver shall not be adversely affected.

486A.803 Right to wind up partnership business.
1. After dissolution, a partner who has not wrongfully dissociated may participate in winding up the partnership's business, but on application of any partner, partner's legal representative, or transferee, the court, for good cause shown, may order judicial supervision of the winding up.
2. The legal representative of the last surviving partner may wind up a partnership's business.
3. A person winding up a partnership's business may preserve the partnership business or property as a going concern for a reasonable time, prosecute and defend actions and proceedings, whether civil, criminal, or administrative, settle and close the partnership's business, dispose of and transfer the partnership's property, discharge the partnership's liabilities, distribute the assets of the partnership pursuant to section 486A.807, settle disputes by mediation or arbitration, and perform other necessary acts.

486A.804 Partner’s power to bind partnership after dissolution.
Subject to section 486A.805, a partnership is bound by a partner's act after dissolution that meets any of the following criteria:
1. Is appropriate for winding up the partnership business.
2. Would have bound the partnership under section 486A.301 before dissolution, if the other party to the transaction did not have notice of the dissolution.
98 Acts, ch 1201, §41, 79, 82

486A.805 Statement of dissolution.
1. After dissolution, a partner who has not wrongfully dissociated may file a statement of dissolution stating the name of the partnership and that the partnership has dissolved and is winding up its business.
2. A statement of dissolution cancels a filed statement of partnership authority for the purposes of section 486A.303, subsection 4, and is a limitation on authority for the purposes of section 486A.303, subsection 5.
3. For the purposes of sections 486A.301 and 486A.804, a person not a partner is deemed to have notice of the dissolution and the limitation on the partners' authority as a result of the statement of dissolution ninety days after it is filed.
4. After filing and, if appropriate, recording a statement of dissolution, a dissolved partnership may file and, if appropriate, record a statement of partnership authority which will operate with respect to a person not a partner as provided in section 486A.303, subsections 4 and 5, in any transaction, whether or not the transaction is appropriate for winding up the partnership business.

486A.806 Partner's liability to other partners after dissolution.
1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and section 486A.306, after dissolution a partner is liable to the other partners for the partner's share of any partnership liability incurred under section 486A.804.
2. A partner who, with knowledge of the dissolution, incurs a partnership liability under section 486A.804, subsection 2, by an act that is not appropriate for winding up the partnership business is liable to the partnership for any damage caused to the partnership arising from the liability.

486A.807 Settlement of accounts and contributions among partners.
1. In winding up a partnership's business, the assets of the partnership, including the contributions of the partners required by this section, must be applied to discharge its obligations to creditors, including, to the extent permitted by law, partners who are creditors. Any surplus must be applied to pay in cash the net amount distributable to partners in accordance with their right to distributions under subsection 2.
2. Each partner is entitled to a settlement of all partnership accounts upon winding up the partnership business. In settling accounts among the partners, profits and losses that result from the liquidation of the partnership assets must be credited and charged to the partners' accounts. The partnership shall make a distribution to a partner in an amount equal to any excess of the credits over the charges in the partner's account. A partner shall contribute to the partnership an amount equal to any excess of the credits in the partner's account, but excluding from the calculation charges attributable to an obligation for which the partner is not personally liable under section 486A.306.

3. If a partner fails to contribute the full amount required under subsection 2, all of the other partners shall contribute, in the proportions in which those partners share partnership losses, the additional amount necessary to satisfy the partnership obligations for which they are personally liable under section 486A.306. A partner or partner's legal representative may recover from the other partners any contributions the partner makes to the extent the amount contributed exceeds that partner's share of the partnership obligations for which the partner is personally liable under section 486A.306.

4. After the settlement of accounts, each partner shall contribute, in the proportion in which the partner shares partnership losses, the amount necessary to satisfy partnership obligations that were not known at the time of the settlement and for which the partner is personally liable under section 486A.306.

5. The estate of a deceased partner is liable for the partner's obligation to contribute to the partnership.

6. An assignee for the benefit of creditors of a partnership or a partner, or a person appointed by a court to represent creditors of a partnership or a partner, may enforce a partner's obligation to contribute to the partnership.

CONVERSIONS AND Mergers

486A.901 Definitions.
In this article:
1. “General partner” means a partner in a partnership and a general partner in a limited partnership.
2. “Limited partner” means a limited partner in a limited partnership.
3. “Limited partnership” means a limited partnership created under chapter 487 or 488, predecessor law, or comparable law of another jurisdiction.
4. “Partner” includes both a general partner and a limited partner.

486A.902 Conversion of partnership to limited partnership.
1. A partnership may be converted to a limited partnership pursuant to this section.
2. The terms and conditions of a conversion of a partnership to a limited partnership must be approved by all of the partners or by a number or percentage specified for conversion in the partnership agreement.
3. After the conversion is approved by the partners, the partnership shall file a certificate of limited partnership in the jurisdiction in which the limited partnership is to be formed. The certificate must include all of the following:
   a. A statement that the partnership was converted to a limited partnership from a partnership.
   b. Its former name.
   c. A statement of the number of votes cast by the partners for and against the conversion and, if the vote is less than unanimous, the number or percentage required to approve the conversion under the partnership agreement.
4. The conversion takes effect when the certificate of limited partnership is filed or at any later date specified in the certificate.
5. A general partner who becomes a limited partner as a result of the conversion remains liable as a general partner for an obligation incurred by the partnership before the conversion takes effect. If the other party to a transaction with the limited partnership reasonably believes when entering the transaction that the limited partner is a general partner, the limited partner is liable for an obligation incurred by the limited partnership within ninety days after the conversion takes effect. The limited partner's liability for all other obligations of the limited partnership incurred after the conversion takes effect is that of a limited partner as provided in chapter 487 or 488.
in a limited partnership agreement, the terms and conditions of a conversion of a limited partnership to a partnership must be approved by all of the partners.

3. After the conversion is approved by the partners, the limited partnership shall cancel its certificate of limited partnership.

4. The conversion takes effect when the certificate of limited partnership is canceled.

5. A limited partner who becomes a general partner as a result of the conversion remains liable only as a limited partner for an obligation incurred by the limited partnership before the conversion takes effect. Except as otherwise provided in section 486A.306, the partner is liable as a general partner for an obligation of the partnership incurred after the conversion takes effect.

486A.904 Effect of conversion — entity unchanged.

2. When a conversion takes effect all of the following apply:
   a. All property owned by the converting partnership or limited partnership remains vested in the converted entity.
   b. All obligations of the converting partnership or limited partnership continue as obligations of the converted entity.
   c. An action or proceeding pending against the converting partnership or limited partnership may be continued as if the conversion had not occurred.

486A.905 Merger of partnerships.

1. Pursuant to a plan of merger approved as provided in subsection 3, a partnership may be merged with one or more partnerships or limited partnerships.

2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of each partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger.
   b. The name of the surviving entity into which the other partnerships or limited partnerships will merge.
   c. Whether the surviving entity is a partnership or a limited partnership and the status of each partner.
   d. The terms and conditions of the merger.
   e. The manner and basis of converting the interests of each party to the merger into interests or obligations of the surviving entity, or into money or other property in whole or part.
   f. The street address of the surviving entity’s chief executive office.

3. The plan of merger must be approved as follows:
   a. In the case of a partnership that is a party to the merger, by all of the partners, or a number or percentage specified for merger in the partnership agreement.
   b. In the case of a limited partnership that is a party to the merger, by the vote required for approval of a merger by the law of the state or foreign jurisdiction in which the limited partnership is organized and, in the absence of such a specifically applicable law, by all of the partners, notwithstanding a provision to the contrary in the partnership agreement.

4. After a plan of merger is approved and before the merger takes effect, the plan may be amended or abandoned as provided in the plan.

5. The merger takes effect on the later of any of the following:
   a. The approval of the plan of merger by all parties to the merger, as provided in subsection 3.
   b. The filing of all documents required by law to be filed as a condition to the effectiveness of the merger.
   c. Any effective date specified in the plan of merger.

486A.906 Effect of merger.

1. When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:
   a. The separate existence of every partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger, other than the surviving entity, ceases.
   b. All property owned by each of the merged partnerships or limited partnerships vests in the surviving entity.
   c. All obligations of every partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger become the obligations of the surviving entity.
   d. An action or proceeding pending against a partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger may be continued as if the merger had not occurred, or the surviving entity may be substituted as a party to the action or proceeding.

2. The secretary of state of this state is the agent for service of process in an action or proceeding against a surviving foreign partnership or limited partnership to enforce an obligation of a domestic partnership or limited partnership that is a party to a merger. The surviving entity shall promptly notify the secretary of state of the mailing address of its chief executive office and of any change of address. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the surviving foreign partnership or limited partnership.

3. A partner of the surviving partnership or limited partnership is liable for all of the following:
a. All obligations of a party to the merger for which the partner was personally liable before the merger.

b. All other obligations of the surviving entity incurred before the merger by a party to the merger, but those obligations may be satisfied only out of property of the surviving entity.

c. Except as otherwise provided in section 486A.306, all obligations of the surviving entity incurred after the merger takes effect, but those obligations may be satisfied only out of property of the surviving entity if the partner is a limited partner.

d. Whether the surviving entity is a partnership or a limited partnership.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, for the purposes of section 486A.302, property of the surviving partnership or limited partnership which before the merger was held in the name of another party to the merger is property held in the name of the surviving entity upon filing a statement of merger.

4. For the purposes of section 486A.302, real property of the surviving partnership or limited partnership which before the merger was held in the name of another party to the merger is property held in the name of the surviving entity upon recording a certified copy of the statement of merger in the office for recording transfers of that real property.

5. A file and, if appropriate, recorded statement of merger, executed and declared to be accurate pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 3, stating the name of a partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger in whose name property was held before the merger and the name of the surviving entity, but not containing all of the other information required by subsection 2, operates with respect to the partnerships or limited partnerships named to the extent provided in subsections 3 and 4.

486A.908 Nonexclusive.
This article is not exclusive. Partnerships or limited partnerships may be converted or merged in any other manner provided by law.

LIMITED LIABILITY PARTNERSHIP

486A.1001 Statement of qualification.
1. A partnership may become a limited liability partnership pursuant to this section.

2. The terms and conditions on which a partnership becomes a limited liability partnership must be approved by the vote necessary to amend the partnership agreement except, in the case of a partnership agreement that expressly considers obligations to contribute to the partnership, by the vote necessary to amend those provisions.

3. After the approval required by subsection 2, a partnership may become a limited liability partnership by filing a statement of qualification. The statement must contain all of the following:

a. The name of the partnership.

b. The street address of the partnership's chief executive office and, if different, the street address of an office in this state, if any.
c. The address of a registered office and the name and address of a registered agent for service of process in this state, which the partnership is required to maintain as provided in section 486A.1211.

d. A statement that the partnership elects to be a limited liability partnership.

e. A deferred effective date, if any.

4. The statement shall be executed by one or more partners authorized to execute the statement on behalf of the partnership.

5. The status of a partnership as a limited liability partnership is effective on the later of the filing of the statement or a date specified in the statement. The status remains effective, regardless of changes in the partnership, until the statement is canceled pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 4.

6. The status of a partnership as a limited liability partnership and the liability of its partners is not affected by errors or later changes in the information required to be contained in the statement of qualification under subsection 3.

7. The filing of a statement of qualification establishes that a partnership has satisfied all conditions precedent to the qualification of the partnership as a limited liability partnership.

8. An amendment or cancellation of a statement of qualification is effective when it is filed or on a deferred effective date specified in the amendment or cancellation.

486A.1102 Statement of foreign qualification.

1. Before transacting business in this state, a foreign limited liability partnership must file a statement of foreign qualification. The statement must contain all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign limited liability partnership which satisfies the requirements of the state or other jurisdiction under whose law it is formed and ends with “Registered Limited Liability Partnership”, “Limited Liability Partnership”, “R.L.L.P.”, “L.L.P.”, “RLLP”, or “LLP”.

b. The street address of the partnership’s chief executive office and, if different, the street address of an office of the partnership in this state, if any.

c. If there is no office of the partnership in this state, the name and street address of the partnership’s agent for service of process.

d. A deferred effective date, if any.

3. The status of a partnership as a foreign limited liability partnership is effective on the later of the filing of the statement of foreign qualification or a date specified in the statement. The status remains effective, regardless of changes in the partnership, until it is canceled pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 4.

4. An amendment or cancellation of a statement of foreign qualification is effective when it is filed or on a deferred effective date specified in the amendment or cancellation.

486A.1103 Effect of failure to qualify.

1. A foreign limited liability partnership transacting business in this state may not maintain an action or proceeding in this state unless it has in effect a statement of foreign qualification.

2. The failure of a foreign limited liability partnership to have in effect a statement of foreign qualification does not impair the validity of a contract or act of the foreign limited liability partnership or preclude it from defending an action or proceeding in this state.

3. A limitation on personal liability of a partner is not waived solely by transacting business in this state without a statement of foreign qualification.

4. If a foreign limited liability partnership transacts business in this state without a statement of foreign qualification, the secretary of state is its agent for service of process with respect to a right of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

486A.1104 Activities not constituting transacting business.
1. Activities of a foreign limited liability partnership which do not constitute transacting business for the purpose of this article include all of the following:
   a. Maintaining, defending, or settling an action or proceeding.
   b. Holding meetings of its partners or carrying on any other activity concerning its internal affairs.
   c. Maintaining bank accounts.
   d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the partnership’s own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.
   e. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.
   f. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, with or without a mortgage, or other security interest in property.
   g. Collecting debts or foreclosing mortgages or other security interests in property securing the debts, and holding, protecting, and maintaining property so acquired.
   h. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and is not one in the course of similar transactions.
   i. Transacting business in interstate commerce.
2. For purposes of this article, the ownership in this state of income-producing real property or tangible personal property, other than property excluded under subsection 1, constitutes transacting business in this state.
3. This section does not apply in determining the contracts or activities that may subject a foreign limited liability partnership to service of process, taxation, or regulation under any other law of this state.
98 Acts, ch 1201, §58, 79, 82

486A.1105 Action by attorney general.
The attorney general may maintain an action to restrain a foreign limited liability partnership from transacting business in this state in violation of this article.
98 Acts, ch 1201, §59, 79, 82

ARTICLE 12
FILING PROVISIONS

486A.1201 Filing requirements.

e. Cancellation of statement of qualification .................................................. $ 20

f. Cancellation of statement of foreign qualification ....................................... $ 20

g. Application for certificate of existence or qualification ........................... $ 5

h. Any other statement or document required or permitted to be filed ............... $ 5

2. The secretary of state shall collect a fee of five dollars each time process is served on the secretary under this chapter. The party to a proceeding causing service of process is entitled to recover this fee as costs if the party prevails in the proceeding.

3. The secretary of state shall collect fees for copying and certifying the copy of any filed document relating to a domestic or foreign partnership as follows:

   a. One dollar a page for copying.

   b. Five dollars for the certificate.

486A.1203 Effective time and date of documents.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 486A.1204, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following:

   a. At the time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.

   b. At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.

2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

486A.1204 Correcting filed documents.

1. A partnership may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following:

   a. The document contains an incorrect statement.

   b. The document was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:

   a. By preparing a statement of correction that satisfies all of the following:

      (1) The statement describes the document, including its filing date, or a copy of the document is attached to the statement.

      (2) The statement specifies the incorrect state-cated. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state's explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

486A.1207 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.

A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state's signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

486A.1208 Certificates issued by secretary of state.

1. The secretary of state shall issue to any person, upon request, a certificate that sets forth any facts recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

2. A certificate issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon, subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, as prima facie evidence of the facts set forth in the certificate.

486A.1209 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars.

486A.1210 Secretary of state powers.

The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

486A.1211 Registered office and registered agent.

Each partnership that is qualified under section 486A.1001 shall continuously maintain in this state the following:

1. A registered office.

2. A registered agent, who is one of the following:

   a. An individual who resides in this state and

   b. A domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

   c. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

486A.1212 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A partnership may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

   a. The name of the partnership.

   b. The street address of its current registered office.

   c. If the registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

   d. The name of its current registered agent.

   e. If the registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new registered agent's written consent to the appointment, either on the statement of change or in an accompanying document.

   f. That, after the change or changes are made, the street addresses of its registered office and of the business office of its registered agent will be identical.

2. If a registered agent changes the street address of the registered agent's business office, the registered agent may change the street address of the registered office of any partnership for which the registered agent is the registered agent by giving written notice to the partnership of the change and executing, either manually or in facsimile, and delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that complies with the requirements of subsection 1 and recites that notice of the change has been given to the partnership.

486A.1213 Resignation of registered agent.

1. The registered agent of a partnership may resign the agency by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of resignation, which shall be accompanied by two exact or conformed copies of such statement. The statement of resignation may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued.

2. After filing the statement of resignation, the secretary of state shall deliver one copy to the registered office of the partnership and the other copy to the chief executive office of the partnership.

486A.1214 Service on partnership.

2. If a partnership has no registered agent, or the registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the partnership may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the partnership at its chief executive office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of the following:
   a. The date the partnership receives the process, notice, or demand.
   b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the partnership.
   c. Five days after mailing.

3. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a partnership.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §73, 79, 82

GENERAL PROVISIONS

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Certificate of limited partnership” means the certificate referred to in section 487.201, and the certificate as amended or restated.
2. “Contribution” means cash, property, services rendered, or a promissory note or other binding obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services, which a partner contributes to a limited partnership in the partner’s capacity as a partner.
3. “Event of withdrawal of a general partner” means an event that causes a person to cease to be a general partner as provided in section 487.402.
4. “Foreign limited partnership” means a partnership formed under the laws of a state other than this state and having as partners one or more limited partners.
5. “General partner” means a person who has been admitted to a limited partnership as a general partner in accordance with the partnership agreement and named in the certificate of limited partnership as a general partner.
6. “Limited partner” means a person who has been admitted to a limited partnership as a limited partner in accordance with the partnership agreement.
7. “Limited partnership” and “domestic limited partnership” mean a partnership formed under the laws of this state and having as partners one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.
8. “Limited partnership interest” means a valid agreement, written or oral, of the partners as to the affairs of a limited partnership and the conduct of its business.
9. “Partnership agreement” means a valid agreement, written or oral, of the partners as to the affairs of a limited partnership and the conduct of its business.
10. “Partnership interest” means a partner’s share of the profits and losses of a limited partnership and the right to receive distributions of partnership assets.
11. “Person” means as defined in section 4.1.
12. “State” means a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

§487.103 Reservation of name.
1. The exclusive right to the use of a name may be reserved by any of the following:
   a. A person intending to organize a limited partnership under this chapter and to adopt that name.
   b. A domestic limited partnership or a foreign limited partnership registered in this state which, in either case, intends to adopt that name.
   c. A foreign limited partnership intending to register in this state and adopt that name.
   d. A person intending to organize a foreign limited partnership and intending to have it registered in this state and adopt that name.
2. The reservation shall be made by filing with the secretary of state an application to reserve a specified name. If the secretary of state finds that the name is available for use by a domestic or foreign limited partnership, the secretary shall reserve the name for the exclusive use of the applicant for a period of one hundred twenty days. The right to the exclusive use of a reserved name may be transferred to any other person by filing in the office of the secretary of state a notice of the transfer, executed by the applicant for whom the name was reserved and specifying the name and address of the transferee.

487.104 Specified office and agent — service of process.

1. A limited partnership shall continuously maintain in this state both of the following:
   a. An office, which may, but need not be, a place of its business in this state. The records required to be maintained by section 487.105 shall be kept at the office.
   b. An agent for service of process on the limited partnership. The agent shall be either an individual resident of this state, a domestic corporation, or a foreign corporation authorized to do business in this state.
3. An agent for service of process may resign as agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state an original statement of resignation for filing in accordance with section 487.108. The agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the limited partnership at its principal place of business. The agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copy has been sent to the limited partnership, including the date the copy was sent. The appointment of the agent terminates on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state.
4. If a limited partnership fails to appoint or maintain an agent for service of process or if its agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the address of the agent recorded with the secretary of state, then the secretary of state is an agent of the limited partnership upon whom any process, notice, or demand may be served. Service may be made by delivering to the secretary of state duplicate copies of the process, notice, or demand. If the process, notice, or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall immediately cause one of the copies to be forwarded by certified mail, addressed to the limited partnership at its principal place of business. A limited partnership served in accordance with this subsection is not in default until thirty days have elapsed following the service on the secretary of state.
5. The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices, and demands served upon the secretary of state under this subsection, and shall record the time of the service and the action taken.
6. This subsection does not limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a limited partnership in any other manner permitted by law.

487.104A Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A limited partnership may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the limited partnership.
   b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.
   c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent’s written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.
3. If a registered agent changes the registered agent’s business address to another place, the registered agent may change the business address and the address of the registered agent by filing a statement as required in subsection 2 for each limited partnership, or a single statement for all limited partnerships named in the notice, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsection 1, paragraph “c”, and must recite that a copy of the statement has been mailed to each limited partnership named in the notice.
4. A document delivered to the secretary of state for the purpose of changing a limited partnership’s registered agent or registered office may be executed by a general partner.
93 Acts, ch 126, §6; 97 Acts, ch 107, §2

§487.105 Records to be kept.
A limited partnership shall keep at the office required under section 487.104, subsection 1, all of the following:
1. A current list of the full name and last known business address of each partner, separately identifying the general partners and the limited partners, each list being in alphabetical order.
2. A copy of the certificate of limited partnership and all certificates of amendment to the certificate of limited partnership, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any certificate has been executed.
3. Copies of the limited partnership’s federal, state, and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years.
4. Copies of any currently effective written partnership agreements and of any financial statements of the limited partnership for the three most recent years.
5. Unless contained in a written partnership agreement, a writing setting out all of the following:
   a. The amount of cash and a description and statement of the agreed value of the other property or services contributed by each partner and which each partner has agreed to contribute.
   b. The times at which or events on the happening of which any additional contributions agreed to be made by each partner are to be made.

487.112 Filing duty of secretary of state.
1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 487.108, the secretary of state shall file it.
2. The secretary of state files a document by stamping or otherwise endorsing "filed", together with the secretary's name and official title and the date and time of receipt, on both the document and the receipt for the filing fee. After filing a document, and except as provided in section 487.104A, subsection 3, and section 487.909, the secretary of state shall deliver the document, with the filing fee receipt, or acknowledgment of receipt if no fee is required, attached, to the domestic or foreign limited partnership or its representative.

3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign limited partnership or its representative within ten days after the document was received by the secretary of state, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.

4. The secretary of state’s duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not do any of the following:
   a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.
   b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
   c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

487.113 Appeal from secretary of state’s refusal to file document.

1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary’s office for filing, the domestic or foreign limited partnership may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the limited partnership’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state’s explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

97 Acts, ch 188, §14

487.114 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.

A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state’s signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

487.115 Certificate of existence.

1. Anyone may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic limited partnership or a certificate of registration for a foreign limited partnership.

2. A certificate of existence or a certificate of registration shall set forth all of the following:
   a. The domestic limited partnership’s name or the foreign limited partnership’s name used in this state.
   b. That one of the following applies:
      (2) If it is a foreign limited partnership, that it is authorized to transact business in this state.
   c. That all fees required by this chapter have been paid.
   d. That a certificate of cancellation has not been filed.
   e. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state that may be requested by the applicant.

3. Subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, a certificate of existence or certificate of registration issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon as conclusive evidence that the domestic or foreign limited partnership is in existence or is registered to transact business in this state.

487.116 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars.

487.117 Secretary of state — powers.

The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

   b. The address of the office and the name and address of the agent for service of process required to be maintained by section 487.104, subsection 1.
   c. The name and the business address of each general partner.
487.202 Amendment to certificate.
1. A certificate of limited partnership is amended by filing a certificate of amendment to the certificate of limited partnership in the office of the secretary of state. The certificate of amendment shall set forth both of the following:
   a. The name of the limited partnership.
   b. The amendment to the certificate.
2. Within thirty days after the happening of any of the following events, an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership reflecting the occurrence of the event shall be filed:
   a. The admission of a new general partner.
   b. The withdrawal of a general partner.
   c. The continuation of the business under section 487.801 after an event of withdrawal.
4. A certificate of limited partnership may be amended at any time for any other proper purpose the general partners determine.
5. A person is not liable because an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership has not been filed to reflect the occurrence of any event referred to in subsection 2 if the amendment is filed within the thirty-day period specified in subsection 2.
6. A restated certificate of limited partnership may be executed and filed in the same manner as a certificate of amendment. The restated certificate must contain the information required in section 487.201 and may set forth any other provision consistent with law.

487.203 Cancellation of certificate.
A certificate of limited partnership shall be canceled upon the dissolution and the commencement of winding up of the partnership or at any other time there are no limited partners. A certificate of cancellation shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and shall set forth all of the following:
1. The name of the limited partnership.
2. The reason for filing the certificate of cancellation.
3. The effective date, which shall be a date certain, of cancellation if it is not to be effective upon the filing of the certificate.
4. Other information the general partners filing the certificate determine.

487.204 Execution of certificates.
1. Each certificate required by this chapter to be filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be executed in the following manner:
   a. A certificate of limited partnership shall be signed by all general partners.
   b. A certificate of amendment shall be signed by at least one general partner and by each other general partner designated in the certificate as a new general partner.
   c. A certificate of cancellation shall be signed by all general partners.
2. A person may sign a certificate by an attorney-in-fact.
3. The execution of a certificate by a general partner is the making of a statement under oath or affirmation in a matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required, within the meaning of section 720.2.
   a. A certificate of limited partnership shall be signed by all general partners.
   b. A certificate of amendment shall be signed by at least one general partner and by each other general partner designated in the certificate as a new general partner.
   c. A certificate of cancellation shall be signed by all general partners.
3. The execution of a certificate by a general partner is the making of a statement under oath or affirmation in a matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required, within the meaning of section 720.2.
   a. A certificate of limited partnership shall be signed by all general partners.
   b. A certificate of amendment shall be signed by at least one general partner and by each other general partner designated in the certificate as a new general partner.
   c. A certificate of cancellation shall be signed by all general partners.
4. A person may sign a certificate by an attorney-in-fact.
5. The execution of a certificate by a general partner is the making of a statement under oath or affirmation in a matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required, within the meaning of section 720.2.
6. A person may sign a certificate by an attorney-in-fact.
7. The execution of a certificate by a general partner is the making of a statement under oath or affirmation in a matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required, within the meaning of section 720.2.

ARTICLE 3
LIMITED PARTNERS

§487.301 Admission of limited partners.
1. A person becomes a limited partner at either of the following times:
   a. At the time the limited partnership is formed.
   b. At any later time specified in the records of the limited partnership for becoming a limited partner.
2. After the filing of a limited partnership’s original certificate of limited partnership, a person may be admitted as a new limited partner under the following conditions:
   a. In the case of a person acquiring a partnership interest directly from the limited partnership, upon compliance with the partnership agreement or, if the partnership agreement does not so provide, upon the written consent of all partners.
   b. In the case of an assignee of a partnership interest of a partner who has the power, as provided in section 487.704, to grant the assignee the right to become a limited partner, upon the exercise of that power and compliance with any conditions limiting the grant or exercise of the power.

§487.303 Liability to third parties.
1. Except as provided in subsection 4, a limited partner is not liable for the obligations of a limited partnership unless the limited partner is also a general partner or, in addition to the exercise of the limited partner’s rights and powers as a limited partner, the limited partner participates in the control of the business. However, if the limited partner participates in the control of the business, the limited partner is liable only to persons who transact business with the limited partnership reasonably believing, based upon the limited partner’s conduct, that the limited partner is a general partner.
2. A limited partner does not participate in the control of the business within the meaning of subsection 1 solely by doing one or more of the following:
   a. Being a contractor for or an agent or employee of the limited partnership.
   b. Being a contractor for or an agent, employee, manager, member, director, officer, or shareholder of or a limited partner of a general partner, or a partner in a limited liability partnership that is a general partner.
   c. Consulting with and advising a general partner with respect to the business of the limited partnership.
   d. Acting as surety for the limited partnership or guaranteeing or assuming one or more specific obligations of the limited partnership.
   e. Taking any action required or permitted by

A limited partner who knowingly permits the limited partner's name to be used in the name of the limited partnership, except under circumstances permitted by section 487.102, subsection 2, is liable to creditors who extend credit to the limited partnership without actual knowledge that the limited partner is not a general partner.

487.304 Erroneous belief of limited partner status — effect on liability as general partner.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, a person who makes a contribution to a business enterprise and erroneously but in good faith believes that the person has become a limited partner in the enterprise is not a general partner in the enterprise and is not bound by its obligations by reason of making the contribution, receiving distributions from the enterprise, or exercising any rights of a limited partner, if, on ascertaining the mistake, the person does either of the following:

a. Causes an appropriate certificate of limited partnership or a certificate of amendment to be executed and filed.

b. Withdrawing from future equity participation in the enterprise by executing and filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate declaring withdrawal under this section.

2. A person who makes a contribution of the kind described in subsection 1 is liable as a general partner to a third party who transacts business with the enterprise before either of the following:

a. The person withdraws and an appropriate certificate is filed to show the withdrawal.

b. An appropriate certificate is filed to show that the person is not a general partner.

However, in either case referred to in paragraph “a” or “b”, the person is liable as a general partner only if the third party actually believed in good faith that the person was a general partner at the time of the transaction.

   a. The general partner dies.
   b. The district court finds the general partner incapable of managing the general partner’s person or property.
7. If the general partner is acting as a general partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, when the trust terminates. Substitution of a new trustee is not termination of the trust.
8. If the general partner is a separate partnership, the dissolution and commencement of winding up of the separate partnership.
9. If the general partner is a corporation, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the corporation or revocation of the corporation’s charter.
10. If the general partner is a limited liability company, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the limited liability company or revocation of the limited liability company’s charter.
11. In the case of an estate, the distribution by the fiduciary of the estate’s entire interest in the partnership.

487.403 General powers and liabilities.
2. Except as provided in this chapter, a general partner of a limited partnership has the liabilities of a partner in a partnership without limited partners to persons other than the partnership and the other partners. Except as provided in this chapter or in the partnership agreement, a general partner of a limited partnership has the liabilities of a partner in a partnership without limited partners to the partnership and to the other partners.

487.404 Contributions by general partner.
A general partner of a limited partnership may make contributions to the partnership and share in the profits and losses of, and in distributions from, the limited partnership as a general partner. A general partner also may make contributions to and share in profits, losses, and distributions as a limited partner. A person who is both a general partner and a limited partner has the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a general partner and, except as provided in the partnership agreement, also has the powers, and is subject to the restrictions, of a limited partner to the extent of the person’s participation in the partnership as a limited partner.

487.502  Liability for contribution.
1. A promise by a limited partner to contribute to the limited partnership is not enforceable unless set out in a writing signed by the limited partner.

2. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner is obligated to the limited partnership to perform any enforceable promise to contribute cash or property or to perform services even if the partner is unable to perform because of death, disability, or any other reason. If a partner does not make the required contribution of property or services, the partner is obligated at the option of the limited partnership to contribute cash equal to that portion of the value, as stated in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the stated contribution which has not been made.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, the obligation of a partner to make a contribution or return money or other property paid or distributed in violation of this chapter may be compromised only by consent of all partners. Notwithstanding the compromise, a creditor of a limited partnership who extends credit or otherwise acts in reliance on that obligation after the partner signs a writing which reflects the obligation and before the amendment or cancellation of such obligation to reflect the compromise may enforce the original obligation.

487.503  Sharing of profits and losses.
The profits and losses of a limited partnership shall be allocated among the partners, and among classes of partners, in the manner provided in writing in the partnership agreement. If the partnership agreement does not so provide in writing, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of the value, as stated in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the contributions made by each partner to the extent the contributions have been received by the partnership and have not been returned.

487.504  Sharing of distributions.
Distributions of cash or other assets of a limited partnership shall be allocated among the partners, and among classes of partners, in the manner provided in writing in the partnership agreement. If the partnership agreement does not so provide in writing, distributions shall be made on the basis of the value, as stated in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the contributions made by each partner to the extent the contributions have been received by the partnership and have not been returned.

DISTRIBUTIONS AND WITHDRAWALS

487.601  Interim distributions.
Except as provided in this article, a partner is entitled to receive distributions from a limited partnership before the partner’s withdrawal from the limited partnership and before the dissolution and winding up of the partnership to the extent and at the times or upon the happening of the events specified in the partnership agreement.

§487.602 Withdrawal of general partner.

A general partner may withdraw from a limited partnership by giving written notice to the other partners, but, if the withdrawal violates the partnership agreement, in addition to its other remedies the limited partnership may recover from the withdrawing general partner damages for breach of the partnership agreement and offset the damgages against the amount otherwise distributable to the partner.

§487.603 Withdrawal of limited partner.

A limited partner may withdraw from a limited partnership only at the time or upon the happening of events specified in writing in the partnership agreement.

§487.604 Distribution upon withdrawal.

Except as provided in this article, upon withdrawal a partner is entitled to receive any distribution to which the partner is entitled under the partnership agreement and, if not otherwise provided in the agreement, the partner is entitled to receive, within a reasonable time after withdrawal, the fair value of the partner's interest in the limited partnership as of the date of withdrawal, based upon the partner's right to share in distributions from the limited partnership.

§487.605 Distribution in kind.

Except as provided in writing in the partnership agreement, a partner, regardless of the nature of the partner's contribution, has no right to demand and receive any distribution from a limited partnership in any form other than cash. Except as provided in writing in the partnership agreement, a partner shall not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind from a limited partnership to the extent that the percentage of the asset distributed to the partner exceeds a percentage of that asset which is equal to the percentage in which the partner shares in distributions from the limited partnership.

When a partner becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the partner has the status of a creditor of the limited partnership and is entitled to all remedies available to a creditor with respect to the distribution.

§487.607 Limitations on distribution.

A partner shall not receive a distribution from a limited partnership to the extent that, after giving effect to the distribution, all liabilities of the limited partnership, other than liabilities to part-ers on account of their partnership interests, exceed the fair value of the partnership assets.

§487.608 Liability upon return of contribution.

1. If a partner has received the return of a part of the partner's contribution without violation of the partnership agreement or this chapter, for one year after the return, the partner is liable to the limited partnership for the amount of the returned contribution to the extent necessary to discharge the limited partnership's liabilities to creditors who extended credit to the limited partnership during the period the contribution was held by the partnership.

2. If a partner has received the return of any part of the partner's contribution in violation of the partnership agreement or this chapter, for six years after the return, the partner is liable to the limited partnership for the amount of the contribution wrongfully returned.

3. A partner receives a return of the partner's contribution to the extent that a distribution to the partner reduces the partner's share of the fair value of the net assets of the limited partnership below the value, as set forth in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the partner's contribution which has not been distributed to the partner.
ASSIGNMENT OF PARTNERSHIP INTERESTS

487.701 Nature of partnership interest. A partnership interest is personal property.

487.702 Assignment of partnership interest. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partnership interest is assignable in whole or in part. An assignment of a partnership interest does not dissolve a limited partnership or entitle the assignee to become or to exercise any rights of a partner. An assignment entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner ceases to be a partner upon assignment of all the partner's partnership interest.

487.703 Rights of creditor. A judgment creditor of a partner may bring an action in the district court charging the partnership interest of the partner with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment. To the extent the court so charges, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the partnership interest. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner ceases to be a partner upon assignment of all the partner's partnership interest.

487.704 Right of assignee to become limited partner.

b. All other partners consent.

487.801 Nonjudicial dissolution. A limited partnership may dissolve at the time there is at least one other general partner and the provisions of the partnership agreement permit the business of the limited partnership to be carried on by the remaining general partner and the remaining partner does so.
§487.801, UNIFORM LIMITED PARTNERSHIP LAW

2. When a general partner withdraws, the limited partnership is not dissolved and is not required to dissolve under either of the following conditions:
   a. If all partners previously have consented to the designation of a person as a general partner as provided in section 487.401.
   b. If all partners, within ninety days after the withdrawal, agree in writing to continue the business of the limited partnership and to the appointment of one or more additional partners as necessary or desired.

§487.802 Judicial dissolution.

On application by or for a partner, the district court for the county in which the office described in section 487.104 is located may decree dissolution of a limited partnership whenever it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business of the limited partnership in conformity with the partnership agreement.

§487.803 Winding up.

Except as provided in the partnership agreement, the general partners who have not wrongfully dissolved a limited partnership or, if none, the limited partners, may wind up the limited partnership's affairs. Also, upon application of a partner, a partner's legal representative, or a partner's assignee, the district court for the county in which the office described in section 487.104 is located may wind up the limited partnership's affairs.

§487.804 Order of distribution of assets.

Upon the winding up of a limited partnership, the assets shall be distributed in the following order:

1. To creditors, including partners who are creditors, to the extent permitted by law, in satisfaction of liabilities of the limited partnership other than liabilities for distributions to partners under section 487.601 or 487.604.

2. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, to partners and former partners in satisfaction of liabilities for distributions under section 487.601 or 487.604.

3. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, to partners first for the return of their contributions and secondly respecting their partnership interests, in the proportions in which the partners share in distributions.

4. The administrative dissolution of a limited partnership does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.
5. The secretary of state’s administrative dissolution of a limited partnership pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state the limited partnership’s agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the limited partnership was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the limited partnership. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the limited partnership as provided in section 487.104. This subsection does not preclude service on the limited partnership’s registered agent, if any.

487.812 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A limited partnership administratively dissolved under section 487.811 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:
   a. The limited partnership shall recite the name of the limited partnership at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.
   b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.
   c. State a name that satisfies the requirements of section 487.102.
   2. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1, and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state’s determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the limited partnership under section 487.104.
   If the limited partnership’s name in subsection 1, paragraph “c”, is different than the limited partnership’s name in subsection 1, paragraph “a”, the certificate of reinstatement shall constitute an amendment to the articles of limited partnership insofar as it pertains to the limited partnership’s name.
   3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

487.813 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a limited partnership’s application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the limited partnership under section 487.104 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.
   2. The limited partnership may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The limited partnership appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state’s certificate of dissolution, the limited partnership’s application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state’s notice of denial.
   3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved limited partnership or may take other action the court considers appropriate.
   4. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

ARTICLE 9
FOREIGN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

487.901 Law governing.

The laws of the state under which a foreign limited partnership is organized govern its organization and internal affairs and the liability of its limited partners. A foreign limited partnership shall not be denied registration by reason of a difference between those laws and the laws of this state.

C83, §545.901

487.902 Registration.

Before transacting business in this state, a foreign limited partnership shall register with the secretary of state. In order to register, a foreign limited partnership shall submit to the secretary of state an application for registration as a foreign limited partnership, signed and sworn to by a general partner and setting forth all of the following:

1. The name of the foreign limited partnership and, if different, the name under which it proposes to register and transact business in this state.
2. The state and date of its formation.
3. The name and address of an agent for service of process on the foreign limited partnership. The agent shall be either an individual resident of this state, a domestic corporation, or a foreign corporation having a place of business in and authorized to do business in this state.
4. A statement that the secretary of state is the agent of the foreign limited partnership for service of process if the registered agent has resigned and an agent has not been appointed under subsection 3 or, if appointed, the agent’s authority has been revoked, or if the agent cannot be found or served with the exercise of reasonable diligence.
5. The address of the office required to be maintained in the state of its organization by the laws of that state or, if such an office is not required, the address of the principal office of the foreign limited partnership.
§487.902, UNIFORM LIMITED PARTNERSHIP LAW

6. The name and business address of each general partner.

7. The address of the office at which is kept a list of the names and addresses of the limited partners and their capital contributions, together with an undertaking by the foreign limited partnership to keep those records until the foreign limited partnership’s registration in this state is canceled or withdrawn.

A foreign limited partnership may register with the secretary of state under any name that could be registered by a domestic limited partnership even if it is not the name under which it is registered in its state of organization.

§487.905 Amended registration.

1. A foreign limited partnership registered to transact business in this state shall obtain an amended certificate of registration from the secretary of state if either of the following conditions exist:
   a. A statement in the application for registration was false when made.
   b. An arrangement or other fact described in the application for registration has changed making the application inaccurate in any respect.

2. The requirements of section 487.902 for obtaining an original certificate of registration apply to obtaining an amended certificate under this section.

§487.906 Cancellation of registration.

A foreign limited partnership may cancel its registration by filing with the secretary of state a certificate of cancellation signed and sworn to by a general partner. A cancellation does not terminate the authority of the secretary of state to accept service of process on the foreign limited partnership with respect to causes of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

1. A foreign limited partnership transacting business in this state shall not maintain a proceeding in the courts of this state until the partnership has registered in this state.

2. The failure of a foreign limited partnership to register in this state does not impair the validity of a contract or act of the foreign limited partnership or prevent the foreign limited partnership from defending a proceeding in the courts of this state.

3. A limited partner of a foreign limited partnership is not liable as a general partner of the foreign limited partnership solely by reason of having transacted business in the state without registration.

4. A foreign limited partnership, by transacting business in this state without registration, appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process with respect to causes of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

§487.908 Actions by the attorney general.

The attorney general may bring an action to restrain a foreign limited partnership from transacting business in this state in violation of this chapter.

§487.909 Resignation of agent for service of process.

An agent for service of process of a foreign limited partnership may resign as agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state an original statement of resignation for filing in accordance with section 487.108. The agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the foreign limited partnership at its principal place of business. The agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copy has been sent to the limited partnership, including the date the copy was sent. The appointment of the agent terminates on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state.

If a foreign limited partnership registered with §487.911 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A foreign limited partnership may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the foreign limited partnership.
   b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

4. A document delivered to the secretary of state for the purpose of changing a foreign limited partnership’s registered agent or registered office may be executed by a general partner.

487.1001 Right of action.
A limited partner has standing to bring an action to recover a judgment in the limited partnership’s favor if general partners with authority to bring the action have refused to do so or if an effort to cause those general partners to bring the action is not likely to succeed.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9858; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.54; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §1101]
C93, §487.1101

487.1102 Short title.
This chapter may be cited as the “Iowa Uniform Limited Partnership Act”.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9858; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.56; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §1102]
C93, §487.1102

487.1103 Cases not provided for in this chapter.
In a case not provided for in this chapter, chapter 486A governs.

487.1104 Effect on existing limited partnerships.
Except as specifically provided in this section, this chapter applies to all limited partnerships in existence on July 1, 1997, and does not invalidate provisions in limited partnership agreements or certificates executed prior to July 1, 1997. Unless otherwise agreed to by the partners, the applicable provisions of existing law, in effect prior to July 1, 1997, governing events of withdrawal of a general partner, withdrawal of a limited partner, and assignment of a partnership interest, govern limited partnerships formed before July 1, 1997.

97 Acts, ch 188, §50

487.1106 Savings clause.
The repeal of any statutory provision effective July 1, 1997, does not impair or otherwise affect the organization or the continued existence of a limited partnership existing on July 1, 1997, nor does the repeal of any existing statutory provision effective July 1, 1997, impair any contract or any right accrued before July 1, 1997.

3. In connection with a merger under this section, rights or securities of, or interests in, a limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation which is a constituent party to the merger may be exchanged for or converted into cash, property, rights, or securities of, or interest in, a limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation which is the surviving entity or, in addition to or in lieu of such cash, property, rights, securities, or interests, may be exchanged for or converted into cash, property, rights, or securities of, or interest in, a limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation other than the surviving entity.

487.1202 Plan of merger.
1. Each constituent party to the merger must enter into a written plan of merger, which must be approved in accordance with section 487.1203.
2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of each constituent party to the merger and the name of the surviving entity into which each other constituent party proposes to merge.
   b. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.
   c. The manner and basis of converting the interests in each constituent party to the merger into interests, shares, or other securities or obligations of the surviving entity, or of any other entity, or, in whole or in part, into cash or other property.

d. Such amendments to the certificate of limited partnership of a limited partnership, articles of organization of a limited liability company, or articles of certificate of incorporation of a corporation, as the case may be, of the surviving entity as are desired to be effected by the merger, or that such changes are not desired.

e. Other provisions relating to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

487.1203 Action on plan.
1. A proposed plan of merger complying with the requirements of section 487.1202 shall be approved in the manner provided by this section:
   a. A limited partnership which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required in section 487.1201.
   b. A limited liability company which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved as required by chapter 490A.
   c. A corporation which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required by chapter 490.

2. After a merger is authorized, unless the plan of merger provides otherwise, and at any time before articles of merger as provided for in section 487.1204 are filed, the plan of merger may be abandoned subject to any contractual rights, in accordance with the procedure set forth in the plan of merger or, if none is set forth, in one of the following ways:
   a. By the limited partners of any limited partnership that is a constituent party as provided in section 487.1201.
   b. By the majority consent of the members of each limited liability company that is a constituent party, unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement of such limited liability company provides otherwise.
   c. In the manner determined by the board of directors of any corporation that is a constituent entity.

98 Acts, ch 1098, §3

487.1204 Articles of merger — effective date of merger.
1. After a plan of merger is approved as provided in section 487.1203, the surviving entity shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of merger duly executed by each constituent party setting forth all of the following:
   a. The name of each constituent party.
   b. The plan of merger.
   c. The effective date of the merger if later than the date of filing of the articles of merger.
   d. The name of the surviving entity.
   e. A statement that the plan of merger was duly authorized and approved by each constituent party as provided in section 487.1203.

2. A merger takes effect upon the later of the effective date of the filing of the articles of merger or the date set forth in the plan of merger.

487.1205 Effect of merger.
When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:

1. Every other constituent party merges into the surviving entity and the separate existence of every constituent party except the surviving entity ceases.

2. The title to all real estate and other property owned by each constituent party is vested in the surviving entity without reversion or impairment.

3. The surviving entity has all liabilities of each constituent party.

4. A proceeding pending against any constituent party may be continued as if the merger did not occur or the surviving entity may be substituted in the proceeding for the constituent party whose existence ceased.

5. The articles or limited partnership agreement of the surviving entity are amended to the extent provided in the plan of merger.

6. The shares or interests of each constituent party that are to be converted into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other entity or into cash or other property are converted, and the former holders of the shares or interests are entitled only to the rights provided in the articles of merger except for dissenters’ rights provided by law.

7. Except as provided by agreement with a person to whom a general partner of a limited partnership is obligated, a merger of a limited partnership that has become effective shall not affect any obligation of liability existing at the time of such merger of a general partner of a limited partnership which is merging.

8. If a limited partnership is a constituent party to a merger that becomes effective, but the limited partnership is not the surviving entity of the merger, a judgment creditor of a general partner of such limited partnership may not levy execution against the assets of the general partner to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the surviving entity of the merger unless any of the following applies:
   a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the surviving entity of the merger and a writ of execution on the judgment is returned unsatisfied in whole or in part.
   b. The surviving entity of the merger is a debtor in bankruptcy.
   c. The general partner agrees that the creditor need not exhaust the assets of the limited partnership that was not the surviving entity of the merger.

d. The general partner agrees that the creditor need not exhaust the assets of the surviving entity of the merger.

e. A court grants permission to the judgment creditor to levy execution against the assets of the general partner based on a finding that the assets of the surviving entity of the merger that are subject to execution are clearly insufficient to satisfy the judgment, that exhaustion of the assets of the surviving entity of the merger is excessively burdensome, or that the grant of permission is an appropriate exercise of the court’s equitable powers.

f. Liability is imposed on the general partner by law or contract independent of the existence of the surviving entity of the merger.

487.1206 Merger with foreign entity.

1. Any one or more limited partnerships of this state may merge with or into one or more foreign limited partnerships, foreign limited liability companies, or foreign corporations, or any one or more foreign limited partnerships, foreign limited liability companies, or foreign corporations may merge with or into any one or more limited partnerships of this state, if all of the following apply:

a. The merger is permitted by the law of the state or jurisdiction under whose law each foreign constituent party is organized or formed and each foreign constituent party complies with that law in effecting the merger.

b. The foreign constituent party complies with section 487.1204 if it is the surviving entity.

c. Each domestic constituent party complies with the applicable provisions of sections 487.1202 and 487.1203 and, if it is the surviving entity, with section 487.1204.

2. Upon a merger involving one or more domestic limited partnerships taking effect, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any state other than this state or of any foreign country, the surviving entity shall agree to both of the following:

a. That it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for enforcement of any obligation of any constituent party to the merger that was organized under the law of this state, as well as for enforcement of any obligation of the surviving entity arising from the merger.

b. To irrevocably appoint the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any such proceeding, and the surviving entity shall specify the address to which a copy of the process shall be mailed to it by the secretary of state.

3. The effect of the merger shall be as provided in section 487.1205, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of this state. If the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any jurisdiction other than this state, the effect of the merger shall be the same as provided in section 487.1205, except insofar as the law of the other jurisdiction provides otherwise.

LIMITED LIABILITY LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

487.1301 Limited liability limited partnership.

1. A limited partnership may become a limited liability limited partnership pursuant to this section.

2. The terms and conditions on which a limited partnership becomes a limited liability limited partnership must be approved by the vote necessary to amend the limited partnership agreement except, in the case of a limited partnership agreement that expressly considers obligations to contribute to the limited partnership, by the vote necessary to amend those provisions.

3. After the approval required by subsection 2, a limited partnership may become a limited liability limited partnership by filing a statement of qualification. The statement must contain all of the following:

a. The name of the limited partnership.

b. The street address of the limited partnership’s chief executive office and, if different, the street address of an office in this state, if any.

c. The address of a registered office and the name and address of a registered agent for service of process in this state, which the limited partnership is required to maintain as provided in section 487.104.

d. A statement that the limited partnership elects to be a limited liability limited partnership.

e. A deferred effective date, if any.

4. The filing of a statement of qualification establishes that a limited partnership has satisfied all conditions precedent to the qualification of the limited partnership as a limited liability limited partnership.

5. A limited liability limited partnership continues to be the same entity that existed before the filing of the statement of qualification under subsection 3.

6. Section 486A.306, subsection 3, and section 486A.307, subsection 4, apply to both general and limited partners of a limited liability limited partnership in the same manner as those provisions apply to a partnership and a partner under chapter 486A.

488.101 Short title.
This chapter may be cited as the “Uniform Limited Partnership Act”.

2004 Acts, ch 1021, §1, 118
Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118
NEW section

488.102 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Certificate of limited partnership” means the certificate required by section 488.201. The term includes the certificate as amended or restated.
2. “Contribution”, except in the phrase “right of contribution”, means any benefit provided by a person to a limited partnership in order to become a partner or in the person’s capacity as a partner.
3. “Debtor in bankruptcy” means a person that is the subject of either of the following:
   a. An order for relief under Title 11 of the United States Code or a comparable order under a successor statute of general application.
   b. A comparable order under federal, state, or foreign law governing insolvency.
4. “Deliver”, “delivery”, or “delivered” means any method of delivery used in conventional commercial practice, including delivery in person, by mail, commercial delivery, and electronic transmission.
5. “Designated office” means:
   a. With respect to a limited partnership, the office that the limited partnership is required to designate and maintain under section 488.114.
   b. With respect to a foreign limited partnership, its principal office.
6. “Distribution” means a transfer of money or other property from a limited partnership to a partner in the partner’s capacity as a partner or to a transferee on account of a transferable interest owned by the transferee.
7. “Electronic transmission” or “electronically transmitted” means any process of communication not directly involving the physical transfer of paper that is suitable for the retention, retrieval, and reproduction of information by the recipient.
8. “Foreign limited liability limited partnership” means a foreign limited partnership whose general partners have limited liability for the obligations of the foreign limited partnership under a provision similar to section 488.404, subsection 3.
9. “Foreign limited partnership” means a partnership formed under the laws of a jurisdiction other than Iowa and required by those laws to have one or more general partners and one or more limited partners. The term includes a foreign limited liability limited partnership.
10. “General partner” means:
   a. With respect to a limited partnership, a person that is either of the following:
      (1) A person that becomes a general partner under section 488.401.
      (2) A person that was a general partner in a limited partnership when the limited partnership became subject to this chapter under section 488.1204, subsection 1 or 2.
11. “Limited liability limited partnership”, except in the phrase “foreign limited liability limited partnership”, means a limited partnership whose certificate of limited partnership states that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership.
12. “Limited partner” means:
   a. With respect to a limited partnership, a person that is either of the following:
      (1) A person that becomes a limited partner under section 488.301.
§488.102, UNIFORM LIMITED PARTNERSHIP ACT

(2) A person that was a limited partner in a limited partnership when the limited partnership became subject to this chapter under section 488.1204, subsection 1 or 2.

13. “Limited partnership”, except in the phrases “foreign limited partnership” and “foreign limited liability limited partnership”, means an entity, having one or more general partners and one or more limited partners, which is formed under this chapter by two or more persons or becomes subject to this chapter under article 11 or section 488.1204, subsection 1 or 2. The term includes a limited liability limited partnership.

14. “Partner” means a limited partner or general partner.

15. “Partnership agreement” means the partners’ agreement, whether or not the office is located in this state.

16. “Person” means an individual, corporation, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, limited liability company, association, joint venture, or government; governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality; public corporation; or any other legal or commercial entity.

17. “Person dissociated as a general partner” means a person dissociated as a general partner of a limited partnership.

18. “Principal office” means the office where the principal executive office of a limited partnership or foreign limited partnership is located, whether or not the office is located in this state.

19. “Record” means information that is inscribed on a tangible medium or that is stored in an electronic or other medium and is retrievable in perceivable form.

20. “Required information” means the information that a limited partnership is required to maintain under section 488.111.

21. “Sign” means either of the following:

a. To execute or adopt a tangible symbol with the present intent to authenticate a record.

b. To attach or logically associate an electronic symbol, sound, or process to or with a record with the present intent to authenticate the record.

22. “State” means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the United States Virgin Islands, or any territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

23. “Transfer” includes an assignment, conveyance, deed, bill of sale, lease, mortgage, security interest, encumbrance, gift, and transfer by operation of law.

24. “Transferable interest” means a partner’s right to receive distributions.

25. “Transferee” means a person to which all or part of a transferable interest has been transferred, whether or not the transferor is a partner.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.103 Knowledge and notice.

1. A person knows a fact if the person has actual knowledge of it.

2. A person has notice of a fact if any of the following apply:

a. The person knows of it.

b. The person has received a notification of it.

c. The person has reason to know it exists from all of the facts known to the person at the time in question.

d. The person has notice of it under subsection 3 or 4.

3. A certificate of limited partnership on file in the office of the secretary of state is notice that the partnership is a limited partnership and the persons designated in the certificate as general partners are general partners. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the certificate is not notice of any other fact.

4. A person has notice of any of the following:

a. Another person’s dissociation as a general partner, ninety days after the effective date of an amendment to the certificate of limited partnership which states that the other person has dissociated, or ninety days after the effective date of a statement of dissociation pertaining to the other person, whichever occurs first.

b. A limited partnership’s dissolution, ninety days after the effective date of an amendment to the certificate of limited partnership stating that the limited partnership is dissolved.

c. A limited partnership’s termination, ninety days after the effective date of a statement of termination.

d. A limited partnership’s conversion under article 11, ninety days after the effective date of the articles of conversion.

e. A merger under article 11, ninety days after the effective date of the articles of merger.

5. A person notifies or gives a notification to another person by taking steps reasonably required to inform the other person in ordinary course, whether or not the other person learns of it.

6. A person receives a notification when either of the following applies:

a. Notification comes to the person’s attention.

b. Notification is delivered at the person’s place of business or at any other place held out by the person as a place for receiving communications.
§488.104 Nature, purpose, and duration of entity.

1. A limited partnership is an entity distinct from its partners. A limited partnership is the same entity regardless of whether its certificate states that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership.

2. A limited partnership may be organized under this chapter for any lawful purpose.

3. A limited partnership has a perpetual duration.

§488.105 Powers.

A limited partnership has the powers to do all things necessary or convenient to carry on its activities, including the power to sue, be sued, and defend in its own name and to maintain an action against a partner for harm caused to the limited partnership by a breach of the partnership agreement or violation of a duty to the partnership.

§488.106 Governing law.

The law of this state governs relations among the partners of a limited partnership and between the partners and the limited partnership and the liability of partners as partners for an obligation of the limited partnership.

§488.107 Supplemental principles of law — rate of interest.

1. Unless displaced by particular provisions of this chapter, the principles of law and equity supplement this chapter.

2. If an obligation to pay interest arises under this chapter and the rate is not specified, the rate shall be set according to the provisions of section 535.3.

1. The name of a limited partnership may contain the name of any partner.

2. The name of a limited partnership that is not a limited liability limited partnership must contain the phrase “limited partnership” or the abbreviation “L.P.” or “LP” and must not contain the phrase “limited liability limited partnership” or the abbreviation “LLLP” or “L.L.L.P.”

3. The name of a limited liability limited partnership must contain the phrase “limited liability limited partnership” or the abbreviation “LLLP” or “L.L.L.P.” and must not contain the abbreviation “L.P.” or “LP”.

4. Unless authorized by subsection 5, the name of a limited partnership must be distinguishable in the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:
   a. The name of each person other than an individual incorporated, organized, or authorized to transact business in this state.
   b. Each name reserved under section 488.109, or under sections 486A.1001, 490.401, 490.402, 490A.401, 490A.402, 504A.6, 504A.7, and 547.1.

5. A limited partnership may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that does not comply with subsection 4. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if, as to each conflicting name, at least one of the following applies:
   a. The present user, registrant, or owner of the conflicting name consents in a signed record to the use and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change the conflicting name to a name that complies with subsec-488.109 Reservation of name.

1. The exclusive right to the use of a name that complies with section 488.108 may be reserved by any of the following:
   a. A person intending to organize a limited partnership under this chapter and to adopt the name.
   b. A limited partnership or a foreign limited partnership authorized to transact business in this state intending to adopt the name.
   c. A foreign limited partnership intending to obtain a certificate of authority to transact business in this state and adopt the name.
   d. A person intending to organize a foreign limited partnership and intending to have it obtain a certificate of authority to transact business in this state and adopt the name.
   e. A foreign limited partnership formed under the name.
   f. A foreign limited partnership formed under a name that does not comply with section 488.108, subsection 2 or 3, but the name reserved under this paragraph may differ from the foreign limited partnership’s name only to the extent necessary to comply with section 488.108, subsections 2 and 3.

2. A person may apply to reserve a name under subsection 1 by delivering to the secretary of state for filing an application that states the name to be reserved and the paragraph of subsection 1 that applies. If the secretary of state finds that the name is available for use by the applicant, the secretary of state shall file a statement of name reservation and reserve the name for the exclusive use of the applicant for a nonrenewable period of one hundred twenty days.

3. A person that has reserved a name under this section may deliver to the secretary of state for filing a notice of transfer that states the reserved name, the name and street and mailing address of some other person to which the reservation is to be transferred, and the paragraph of subsection 1 which applies to the other person. Subject to section 488.206, subsection 3, the transfer is effective when the secretary of state files the notice of transfer.

488.110 Effect of partnership agreement — nonwaivable provisions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the partnership agreement governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership. To the extent the partnership agreement does not otherwise provide, this chapter governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership.

2. A partnership agreement shall not do any of the following:
   a. Vary a limited partnership’s power under section 488.105 to sue, be sued, and defend in its own name.
   b. Vary the law applicable to a limited partnership under section 488.106.
   c. Vary the requirements of section 488.204.
   d. Vary the information required under section 488.111 or unreasonably restrict the right to information under section 488.304 or 488.407, but the partnership agreement may impose reasonable restrictions on the availability and use of information obtained under those sections and may define appropriate remedies, including liquidated damages, for a breach of any reasonable restriction on use.
   e. Eliminate the duty of loyalty under section 488.408, but the partnership agreement may do any of the following:
      (1) Identify specific types or categories of activities that do not violate the duty of loyalty, if not manifestly unreasonable.
      (2) Specify the number or percentage of partners which may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure to all partners of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the duty of loyalty.
   f. Unreasonably reduce the duty of care under section 488.408, subsection 3.
   g. Eliminate the obligation of good faith and fair dealing under section 488.305, subsection 2, and section 488.408, subsection 4, but the partnership agreement may prescribe the standards by which the performance of the obligation is to be measured, if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

h. Vary the power of a partner to dissociate as a limited partner under section 488.604, subsection 1, except to require that the notice under section 488.603, subsection 1, be in a record.

i. Vary the power of a court to decree dissolution in the circumstances specified in section 488.802.

j. Vary the requirement to wind up the partnership’s business as specified in section 488.803.

k. Unreasonably restrict the right to maintain an action under article 10.

l. Restrict the right of a partner under section 488.1110, subsection 1, to approve a conversion or merger, or the right of a general partner under section 488.1110, subsection 2, to consent to an amendment to the certificate of limited partnership which deletes a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership.

m. Restrict rights under this chapter of a person other than a partner or a transferee.

488.113 Dual capacity.

A person may be both a general partner and a limited partner. A person that is both a general and limited partner has the rights, powers, duties, and obligations provided by this chapter and the partnership agreement for general partners. When the person acts as a general partner, the person is subject to the obligations, duties, and restrictions under this chapter and the partnership agreement for general partners. When the person acts as a limited partner, the person is subject to the obligations, duties, and restrictions under this chapter and the partnership agreement for limited partners.

488.114 Office and agent for service of process.

A limited partnership shall designate and continuously maintain in this state both of the following:

1. An office, which need not be a place of its ac-
In order to change its designated office, agent for service of process, or the address of its agent for service of process, a limited partnership or a foreign limited partnership may deliver to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change containing all of the following:

a. The name of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership.
b. The street and mailing address of its current designated office.
c. If the current designated office is to be changed, the street and mailing address of the new designated office.
d. The name and street and mailing address of its current agent for service of process.
e. If the current agent for service of process or an address of the agent is to be changed, the new information.

2. Subject to section 488.206, subsection 3, a statement of change is effective when filed by the secretary of state.

488.116 Resignation of agent for service of process.

1. In order to resign as an agent for service of process of a limited partnership or foreign limited partnership, the agent must deliver to the secretary of state for filing a statement of resignation containing the name of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership.

2. After receiving a statement of resignation, the secretary of state shall file it and mail a copy to the designated office of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership and another copy to the principal office if the address of the office appears in the records of the secretary of state and is different from the address of the designated office.

3. An agency for service of process is terminated on the date on which the statement of resignation was filed with the secretary of state.

488.117 Service of process.

1. An agent for service of process appointed by a limited partnership or foreign limited partnership is an agent of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership for service of any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership.

2. If a limited partnership or foreign limited partnership does not appoint or maintain an agent for service of process in this state or the agent for service of process cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the agent’s address, the secretary of state is an agent of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership upon whom process, notice, or demand may be served.

3. Service of any process, notice, or demand on the secretary of state may be made by delivering to and leaving with the secretary of state duplicate copies of the process, notice, or demand. If a process, notice, or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall forward one of the copies by certified mail or restricted certified mail to the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership at its designated office.

4. Service is effected under subsection 3 at the earliest of any of the following:

a. The date the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership receives the process, notice, or demand.
b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership.
c. Five days after the process, notice, or demand is deposited in the mail, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

5. The secretary of state shall keep a record of each process, notice, and demand served pursuant to this section and record the time of, and the action taken regarding, the service.

6. This section does not affect the right to serve process, notice, or demand in any other manner provided by law.

ARTICLE 2
FORMATION — CERTIFICATE OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AND OTHER FILINGS

§488.201 Formation of limited partnership — certificate of limited partnership.
1. In order for a limited partnership to be formed, a certificate of limited partnership must be delivered to the secretary of state for filing. The certificate must state all of the following:
a. The name of the limited partnership, which must comply with section 488.108.
b. The street and mailing address of the initial designated office and the name and street and mailing address of the initial agent for service of process.
c. The name and the street and mailing address of each general partner.
d. Whether the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership.
e. Any additional information required by article 11.
2. A certificate of limited partnership may also contain any other matters but shall not vary or otherwise affect the provisions specified in section 488.110, subsection 2, in a manner inconsistent with that subsection.
3. If there has been substantial compliance with subsection 1, subject to section 488.206, subsection 3, a limited partnership is formed when the secretary of state files the certificate of limited partnership. The secretary of state's filing of the certificate is conclusive proof that all conditions precedent to formation of the limited partnership have been satisfied except in a proceeding by the state to cancel or revoke the certificate or involuntarily dissolve the limited partnership.
4. Subject to subsection 2, if any provision of a partnership agreement is inconsistent with the filed certificate of limited partnership or with a filed statement of dissociation, termination, or change or filed articles of conversion or merger, all of the following apply:
a. The partnership agreement prevails as to partners and transferees.
b. The filed certificate of limited partnership, statement of dissociation, termination, or change or articles of conversion or merger prevail as to persons, other than partners and transferees, that reasonably rely on the filed record to their detriment.

488.202 Amendment or restatement of certificate.
1. In order to amend its certificate of limited partnership, a limited partnership must deliver to the secretary of state for filing an amendment or, pursuant to article 11, articles of merger stating all of the following:
a. The name of the limited partnership.
b. The date of filing of its initial certificate.
c. The changes the amendment makes to the certificate as most recently amended or restated.
2. A limited partnership shall promptly deliver to the secretary of state for filing an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership to reflect any of the following:
a. The admission of a new general partner.
b. The dissociation of a person as a general partner.
c. The appointment of a person to wind up the limited partnership's activities under section 488.803, subsection 3 or 4.
3. A general partner that knows that any information in a filed certificate of limited partnership was false when the certificate was filed or has become false due to changed circumstances shall promptly do at least one of the following:
a. Cause the certificate to be amended.
b. If appropriate, deliver to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change pursuant to section 488.115 or a statement of correction pursuant to section 488.207.
4. A certificate of limited partnership may be amended at any time for any other proper purpose as determined by the limited partnership.
5. A restated certificate of limited partnership may be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the same manner as an amendment.
6. Subject to section 488.206, subsection 3, an amendment or restated certificate is effective when filed by the secretary of state.

488.203 Statement of termination.
A dissolved limited partnership that has completed winding up may deliver to the secretary of state for filing a statement of termination that states all of the following:
1. The name of the limited partnership.
2. The date of filing of its initial certificate of limited partnership.
3. Any other information as determined by the general partners filing the statement or by a person appointed pursuant to section 488.803, sub-488.204 Signing of records.
1. Each record delivered to the secretary of state for filing pursuant to this chapter must be signed in the following manner:
   a. An initial certificate of limited partnership must be signed by all general partners listed in the certificate.
   b. An amendment adding or deleting a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership must be signed by all general partners listed in the certificate.
   c. An amendment designating a general partner a person admitted under section 488.801, subsection 3, paragraph "b," following the dissociation of a limited partnership’s last general partner must be signed by the new general partner.
   d. An amendment required by section 488.803, subsection 3, following the appointment of a person to wind up the dissolved limited partnership’s activities must be signed by that person.
   e. Any other amendment must be signed by all of the following:
      (1) At least one general partner listed in the certificate.
      (2) Each other person designated in the amendment as a new general partner.
   (3) Each person that the amendment indicates has dissociated as a general partner, unless any of the following applies:
      (a) The person is deceased or a guardian or general conservator has been appointed for the person and the amendment so states.
      (b) The person has previously delivered to the secretary of state for filing a statement of dissociation.
   f. A restated certificate of limited partnership must be signed by at least one general partner listed in the certificate, and, to the extent the restated certificate effects a change under any other paragraph of this subsection, the certificate must be signed in a manner that satisfies that paragraph.
   g. A statement of termination must be signed by all general partners listed in the certificate or, if the certificate of a dissolved limited partnership lists no general partners, by the person appointed pursuant to section 488.803, subsection 3 or 4, to wind up the dissolved limited partnership’s activities.
   h. Articles of conversion must be signed by each general partner listed in the certificate of limited partnership.
   i. Articles of merger must be signed as provided in section 488.1108, subsection 1.
   j. Any other record delivered on behalf of a limited partnership to the secretary of state for filing must be signed by at least one general partner listed in the certificate.
   k. A statement by a person pursuant to section 488.605, subsection 1, paragraph "d," stating that the person has dissociated as a general partner must be signed by that person.
   l. A statement of withdrawal by a person pursuant to section 488.306 must be signed by that person.
   m. A record delivered on behalf of a foreign limited partnership to the secretary of state for filing must be signed by at least one general partner of the foreign limited partnership.
   n. Any other record delivered on behalf of any person to the secretary of state for filing must be signed by that person.
2. Any person may sign by an attorney in fact a record to be filed pursuant to this chapter.

488.205 Signing and filing pursuant to judicial order.
1. If a person required by this chapter to sign a record or deliver a record to the secretary of state for filing does not do so, any other person that is aggrieved may petition the appropriate court to order any of the following:
   a. The person to sign the record.
   b. The person to deliver the record to the secretary of state for filing.
   c. The secretary of state to file the record unsigned.
2. If the person aggrieved under subsection 1 is not the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership to which the record pertains, the aggrieved person shall make the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership a party to the action.
3. A record filed unsigned pursuant to this section is effective without being signed.

488.206 Delivery to and filing of records by secretary of state — effective time and date.
1. A record authorized or required to be delivered to the secretary of state for filing under this chapter must be captioned to describe the record’s purpose, contain the information required by this chapter but may include other information as well, and be in a medium permitted by the secretary of state.
2. The document must be typewritten or printed.
3. If the document is electronically transmitted, it must be in a format that can be retrieved or reproduced in typewritten or printed form. The document must be delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing. Delivery may be made by electronic transmission if and to the extent permitted by the secretary of state. The secretary of state may adopt rules for the electronic filing of documents and the certification of electronically filed documents. If it is filed in typewritten or printed form and not transmitted electronically, the secretary of state may require an exact or conformed copy to be delivered with the document. Unless the secretary of state determines that a record does not comply with the filing requirements of this chapter, and if all filing fees have been paid, the secretary of state shall file the record and perform all of the following:

a. For a statement of dissociation, send all of the following:
   (1) A copy of the filed statement and a receipt for the fees to the person which the statement indicates has dissociated as a general partner.
   (2) A copy of the filed statement and receipt to the limited partnership.

b. For a statement of withdrawal, send all of the following:
   (1) A copy of the filed statement and a receipt for the fees to the person on whose behalf the record was filed.
   (2) A copy of the filed statement and receipt to the limited partnership.

c. For all other records, send a copy of the filed record and a receipt for the fees to the person on whose behalf the record was filed.

2. Upon request and payment of a fee, the secretary of state shall send to the requester a certified copy of the requested record.

3. Except as otherwise provided in sections 488.116 and 488.207, a record delivered to the secretary of state for filing under this chapter may specify an effective time and a delayed effective date. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a record filed by the secretary of state is effective according to the following:

a. If the record does not specify an effective time and does not specify a delayed effective date, on the date and at the time the record is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state’s endorsement of the date and time on the record.

b. If the record specifies an effective time but not a delayed effective date, on the date the record is filed at the time specified in the record.

c. If the record specifies a delayed effective date but not an effective time, at 12:01 a.m. on the earlier of either of the following:
   (1) The specified date.
   (2) The ninetieth day after the record is filed.

d. If the record specifies an effective time and a delayed effective date, at the specified time on the earlier of either of the following:
   (1) The specified date.
   (2) The ninetieth day after the record is filed.

4. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership or its representative, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.

5. The secretary of state’s duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not do any of the following:

   a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.
   b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
   c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.207 Correcting filed record.

1. A limited partnership or foreign limited partnership may deliver to the secretary of state for filing a statement of correction to correct a record previously delivered by the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership to the secretary of state and filed by the secretary of state, if at the time of filing the record contained false or erroneous information or was defectively signed.

2. A statement of correction shall not state a delayed effective date and must do all of the following:

   a. Describe the record to be corrected, including its filing date, or attach a copy of the record as filed.
   b. Specify the incorrect information and the reason it is incorrect or the manner in which the signing was defective.
   c. Correct the incorrect information or defective signature.

3. When filed by the secretary of state, a statement of correction is effective retroactively as of the effective date of the record the statement corrects, but the statement is effective when filed for the following:

   a. For the purposes of section 488.103, subsections 3 and 4.
   b. To persons relying on the uncorrected record and adversely affected by the correction.

488.208 Liability for false information in filed record — penalty.

1. If a record delivered to the secretary of state for filing under this chapter and filed by the secretary of state contains false information, a person that suffers loss by reliance on the information may recover damages for the loss from any or all of the following:

488.209 Certificate of existence or authorization.

1. The secretary of state, upon request and payment of the requisite fee, shall furnish a certificate of existence for a limited partnership if the records filed in the office of the secretary of state show that the secretary of state has filed a certificate of limited partnership and has not filed a statement of termination. A certificate of existence must state all of the following:

a. The limited partnership's name.

b. That it was duly formed under the laws of this state and the date of formation.

c. Whether all fees, taxes, and penalties under this chapter or other law due the secretary of state have been paid.

d. Whether the limited partnership's most recent biennial report required by section 488.210 has been filed by the secretary of state.

e. That the secretary of state has not revoked its certificate of authority and has not filed a notice of cancellation.

f. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state which may be requested by the applicant.

488.210 Biennial report for secretary of state.

1. A limited partnership or a foreign limited partnership authorized to transact business in this state shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a biennial report that states all of the following:

a. The name of the limited partnership or foreign limited partnership.

b. The street and mailing address of its designated office and the name and street and mailing address of its agent for service of process in this state.

c. Whether all fees, taxes, and penalties under this chapter or other law due the secretary of state have been paid.

d. Whether the foreign limited partnership's most recent biennial report required by section 488.210 has been filed by the secretary of state.

e. That the secretary of state has not revoked its certificate of authority and has not filed a notice of cancellation.

f. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state which may be requested by the applicant.

2. Information in a biennial report must be current as of the date the biennial report is delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

3. If a biennial report does not contain the information required in subsection 1, the secretary of state shall promptly notify the reporting limited partnership or foreign limited partnership and return the report to it for correction. If the report is corrected to contain the information required in subsection 1 and delivered to the secretary of state within thirty days after the effective date of the not-488.301 Becoming limited partner.
A person becomes a limited partner according to any of the following:
1. As provided in the partnership agreement.
2. As the result of a conversion or merger under article 11.
3. With the consent of all the partners.
2004 Acts, ch 1021, §29, 118

Article 3
LIMITED PARTNERS

488.302 No right or power as limited partner to bind limited partnership.
A limited partner does not have the right or the power as a limited partner to act for or bind the limited partnership.
2004 Acts, ch 1021, §30, 118

488.303 No liability as limited partner for limited partnership obligations.
An obligation of a limited partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is not the obligation of a limited partner. A limited partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for an obligation of the limited partnership solely by reason of being a limited partner, even if the limited partner participates in the management and control of the limited partnership.

488.304 Right of limited partner and former limited partner to information.
1. On ten days’ demand, made in a record received by the limited partnership, a limited partner may inspect and copy required information during regular business hours in the limited partnership’s designated office. The limited partner need not have any particular purpose for seeking the information.
2. During regular business hours and at a reasonable location specified by the limited partnership, a limited partner may obtain from the limited partnership and inspect and copy true and full information regarding the state of the activities and financial condition of the limited partnership and other information regarding the activities of the limited partnership as is just and reasonable if the limited partner complies with all of the following:
   a. The limited partner seeks the information for a purpose reasonably related to the partner’s interest as a limited partner.
   b. The limited partner makes a demand in a record received by the limited partnership, describing with reasonable particularity the information sought and the purpose for seeking the information.
   c. The information sought is directly connected to the limited partner’s purpose.
3. Within ten days after receiving a demand pursuant to subsection 2, the limited partnership in a record shall inform the limited partner that made the demand of all of the following:
   a. What information the limited partnership will provide in response to the demand.
   b. When and where the limited partnership will provide the information.
   c. If the limited partnership declines to provide any demanded information, the limited partnership’s reasons for declining.
4. Subject to subsection 6, a person dissociated as a limited partner may inspect and copy required information during regular business hours in the limited partnership’s designated office if the person complies with all of the following:
   a. The information pertains to the period during which the person was a limited partner.
   b. The person seeks the information in good faith.
   c. The person meets the requirements of subsection 2.
5. The limited partnership shall respond to a demand made pursuant to subsection 4 in the same manner as provided in subsection 3.
6. If a limited partner dies, section 488.704 applies.
7. The limited partnership may impose reasonable restrictions on the use of information obtained under this section. In a dispute concerning the reasonableness of a restriction under this subsection, the limited partnership has the burden of proving reasonableness.

8. A limited partnership may charge a person that makes a demand under this section reasonable costs of copying, limited to the costs of labor and material.

9. Whenever this chapter or a partnership agreement provides for a limited partner to give or withhold consent to a matter, before the consent is given or withheld, the limited partnership shall, without demand, provide the limited partner with all information material to the limited partner’s decision that the limited partnership knows.

10. A limited partner or person dissociated as a limited partner may exercise the rights under this section through an attorney or other agent. Any restriction imposed under subsection 7 or by the partnership agreement applies both to the attorney or other agent and to the limited partner or person dissociated as a limited partner.

11. The rights stated in this section do not extend to a person as transferee, but may be exercised by the legal representative of an individual under legal disability who is a limited partner or person dissociated as a limited partner.

§488.305 Limited duties of limited partners.

1. A limited partner does not have any fiduciary duty to the limited partnership or to any other partner solely by reason of being a limited partner.

2. A limited partner shall discharge the duties to the partnership and the other partners under this chapter or under the partnership agreement and exercise any rights consistently with the obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

3. A limited partner does not violate a duty or obligation under this chapter or under the partnership agreement merely because the limited partner’s conduct furthers the limited partner’s own interest.

488.306 Person erroneously believing self to be limited partner.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a person that makes an investment in a business enterprise and erroneously but in good faith believes that the person has become a limited partner in the enterprise is not liable for the enterprise’s obligations by reason of making the investment, receiving distributions from the enterprise, or exercising any rights of or appropriate to a limited partner, if, on ascertaining the mistake, the person does either of the following:

   a. Causes an appropriate certificate of limited partnership, amendment, or statement of correction to be signed and delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

   b. Withdraws from future participation as an owner in the enterprise by signing and delivering a statement of withdrawal under this section.

2. A person that makes an investment described in subsection 1 is liable to the same extent as a general partner to any third party that enters into a transaction with the enterprise, believing in good faith that the person is a general partner, before the secretary of state files a statement of withdrawal, certificate of limited partnership, amendment, or statement of correction to show that the person is not a general partner.

3. If a person makes a diligent effort in good faith to comply with subsection 1, paragraph “a”, and is unable to cause the appropriate certificate of limited partnership, amendment, or statement of correction to be signed and delivered to the secretary of state for filing, the person has the right to withdraw from the enterprise pursuant to subsection 1, paragraph “b”, even if the withdrawal would otherwise breach an agreement with others that are or have agreed to become co-owners of the enterprise.

488.401 Becoming general partner.

A person becomes a general partner according to any of the following:

1. As provided in the partnership agreement.

2. Under section 488.801, subsection 3, paragraph “b”, following the dissociation of a limited partnership’s last general partner.

3. As the result of a conversion or merger under article 11.

4. With the consent of all the partners.

ARTICLE 4

GENERAL PARTNERS

488.402 General partner agent of limited partnership.

1. Each general partner is an agent of the limited partnership for the purposes of its activities. An act of a general partner, including the signing of a record in the partnership’s name, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the limit-488.403 Limited partnership liable for general partner’s actionable conduct.

1. A limited partnership is liable for loss or injury caused to a person, or for a penalty incurred, as a result of a wrongful act or omission, or other actionable conduct, of a general partner acting in the ordinary course of activities of the limited partnership or with authority of the limited partnership.

2. If, in the course of the limited partnership’s activities or while acting with authority of the limited partnership, a general partner receives or causes the limited partnership to receive money or property of a person not a partner, and the money or property is misapplied by a general partner, the limited partnership is liable for the loss.

488.404 General partner’s liability.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, all general partners are liable jointly and severally for all obligations of the limited partnership unless otherwise agreed by the claimant or provided by law.

2. A person that becomes a general partner of an existing limited partnership is not personally liable for an obligation of a limited partnership incurred before the person became a general partner.

3. An obligation of a limited partnership incurred while the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the obligation of the limited partnership. A general partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for such an obligation solely by reason of being or acting as a general partner. This subsection applies despite anything inconsistent in the partnership agreement that existed immediately before the consent required to become a limited liability limited partnership under section 488.406, subsection 2, paragraph "b".

488.405 Actions by and against partnership and partners.

1. To the extent not inconsistent with section 488.404, a general partner may be joined in an action against the limited partnership or named in a separate action.

2. A judgment against a limited partnership is not by itself a judgment against a general partner. A judgment against a limited partnership shall not be satisfied from a general partner’s assets unless there is also a judgment against the general partner.

3. A judgment creditor of a general partner shall not levy execution against the assets of the limited partnership to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the limited partnership, unless the partner is personally liable for the claim under section 488.404 and at least one of the following applies:
   a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the limited partnership and a writ of execution on the judgment has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part.
   b. The limited partnership is a debtor in bankruptcy.
   c. The general partner has agreed that the creditor need not exhaust limited partnership assets.
   d. A court grants permission to the judgment creditor to levy execution against the assets of a general partner based on a finding that limited partnership assets subject to execution are clearly insufficient to satisfy the judgment, that exhaustion of limited partnership assets is excessively burdensome, or that the grant of permission is an appropriate exercise of the court’s equitable powers.
   e. Liability is imposed on the general partner by law or contract independent of the existence of the limited partnership.

488.406 Management rights of general partner.

1. Each general partner has equal rights in the management and conduct of the limited partnership’s activities. Except as expressly provided in this chapter, any matter relating to the activities of the limited partnership may be exclusively decided by the general partner or, if there is more than one general partner, by a majority of the general partners.
2. The consent of each partner is necessary to do any or all of the following:
   a. Amend the partnership agreement.
   b. Amend the certificate of limited partnership to add or, subject to section 488.1110, delete a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership.
   c. Sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all, or substantially all, of the limited partnership's property, with or without the goodwill, other than in the usual and regular course of the limited partnership's activities.
   d. General partners may sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all of the limited partnership's property, with or without the goodwill, other than in the usual and regular course of the limited partnership's activities.

3. A limited partnership shall reimburse a general partner for liabilities incurred by the general partner in the ordinary course of the activities of the partnership or for the preservation of its activities or property.
4. A limited partnership shall reimburse a general partner for an advance to the limited partnership which gives rise to an obligation of the limited partnership.

5. A payment or advance made by a general partner for an advance to the limited partnership which constitutes a loan to the limited partnership.

6. The limited partnership may impose reasonable restrictions on the use of information under subsection 3 or 4 constituting a loan to the limited partnership which accrues interest from the date of the payment or advance.

7. A general partner is not entitled to remuneration for services performed for the partnership.

§488.407 Right of general partner and former general partner to information.
1. A general partner, without having any particular purpose for seeking the information, may inspect and copy during regular business hours any or all of the following:
   a. In the limited partnership's designated office, required information.
   b. At a reasonable location specified by the limited partnership, any other records maintained by the limited partnership regarding the limited partnership's activities and financial condition.

2. Each general partner and the limited partnership shall furnish to a general partner all of the following:
   a. Without demand, any information concerning the limited partnership's activities and financial condition reasonably required for the proper exercise of the general partner's rights and duties under the partnership agreement or this chapter.
   b. On demand, any other information concerning the limited partnership's activities, except to the extent the demand or the information demanded is unreasonable or otherwise improper under the circumstances.

3. Subject to subsection 5, on ten days' demand made in a record received by the limited partnership, a person dissociated as a general partner may have access to the information and records described in subsection 1 at the location specified in subsection 1 if all of the following apply:
   a. The information or record pertains to the period during which the person was a general partner.
   b. The person seeks the information or record in good faith.
   c. The person satisfies the requirements imposed on a limited partner by section 488.304, subsection 2.

4. The limited partnership shall respond to a demand made pursuant to subsection 3 in the same manner as provided in section 488.304, subsection 3.
5. If a general partner dies, section 488.704 applies.
6. The limited partnership may impose reasonable restrictions on the use of information under this section. In any dispute concerning the reasonableness of a restriction under this subsection, the limited partnership has the burden of proving reasonableness.
8. A general partner or person dissociated as a general partner may exercise the rights under this section through an attorney or other agent.

9. The rights under this section do not extend to a person as transferee, but the rights under subsection 3 of a person dissociated as a general partner may be exercised by the legal representative of an individual who dissociated as a general partner under section 488.603, subsection 7, paragraph "b" or "c".

§488.408 General standards of general partner's conduct.
1. The only fiduciary duties that a general partner has to the limited partnership and the other partners are the duties of loyalty and care under subsections 2 and 3.
2. A general partner's duty of loyalty to the limited partnership and the other partners is limited to all of the following:
   a. To account to the limited partnership and hold as trustee for it any property, profit, or benefit united by the general partner in the conduct and winding up of the limited partnership's activities or derived from a use by the general partner of limited partnership property, including the appropriation of a limited partnership opportunity.

b. To refrain from dealing with the limited partnership in the conduct or winding up of the limited partnership's activities as or on behalf of a party having an interest adverse to the limited partnership.

c. To refrain from competing with the limited partnership in the conduct or winding up of the limited partnership's activities.

3. A general partner's duty of care to the limited partnership and the other partners in the conduct and winding up of the limited partnership's activities is limited to refraining from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, intentional misconduct, or a knowing violation of law.

4. A general partner shall discharge the duties to the partnership and the other partners under this chapter or under the partnership agreement and exercise any rights consistently with the obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

5. A general partner does not violate a duty or obligation under this chapter or under the partnership agreement merely because the general partner's conduct furthers the general partner's own interest.

488.504 Interim distributions.

A partner does not have a right to any distribution before the dissolution and winding up of the limited partnership unless the limited partnership decides to make an interim distribution.

488.505 No distribution on account of dissociation.

A person does not have a right to receive a distribution on account of dissociation.

488.506 Distribution in kind.

A partner does not have a right to demand or receive any distribution from a limited partnership in any form other than cash. Subject to section 488.812, subsection 2, a limited partnership may distribute an asset in kind to the extent each partner receives a percentage of the asset equal to the partner's share of distributions.

488.507 Right to distribution.

When a partner or transferee becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the partner or transferee has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the limited partnership with respect to the distribution. However, the lim-
488.508 Limitations on distribution.
1. A limited partnership shall not make a distribution in violation of the partnership agreement.

2. A limited partnership shall not make a distribution if after the distribution any of the following would result:
   a. The limited partnership would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of the limited partnership’s activities.
   b. The limited partnership’s total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus the amount that would be needed, if the limited partnership were to be dissolved, wound up, and terminated at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution, winding up, and termination of partners whose preferential rights are superior to those of persons receiving the distribution.

3. A limited partnership may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 2 on financial statements prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances or on a fair valuation or other method that is reasonable in the circumstances.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, the effect of a distribution under subsection 2 is measured according to either of the following:
   a. In the case of distribution by purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of a transferable interest in the limited partnership, as of the date money or other property is transferred or debt incurred by the limited partnership.
   b. In all other cases, as of the date of either of the following:
      (1) The date the distribution is authorized, if the payment occurs within one hundred twenty days after that date.
      (2) The date the payment is made, if payment occurs more than one hundred twenty days after the distribution is authorized.

5. A limited partnership’s indebtedness to a partner incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this section is at parity with the limited partnership’s indebtedness to its general, unsecured creditors.

6. A limited partnership’s indebtedness, including indebtedness issued in connection with or as part of a distribution, is not considered a liability for purposes of subsection 2 if the terms of the indebtedness provide that payment of principal and interest is made only to the extent that a distribution could then be made to partners under this section.

7. If indebtedness is issued as a distribution, each payment of principal or interest on the indebtedness is treated as a distribution, the effect of which is measured on the date the payment is made.

488.509 Liability for improper distributions.
1. A general partner that consents to a distribution made in violation of section 488.508 is personally liable to the limited partnership for the amount of the distribution which exceeds the amount that could have been distributed without the violation if it is established that in consenting to the distribution the general partner failed to comply with section 488.408.

2. A partner or transferee that received a distribution knowing that the distribution to that partner or transferee was made in violation of section 488.508 is personally liable to the limited partnership but only to the extent that the distribution received by the partner or transferee exceeded the amount that could have been properly paid under section 488.508.

3. A general partner against which an action is commenced under subsection 1 may do any or all of the following:
   a. Implead in the action any other person that is liable under subsection 1 and compel contribution from the person.
   b. Implead in the action any other person that received a distribution in violation of subsection 2 and compel contribution from the person in the amount the person received in violation of subsection 2.

4. An action under this section is barred if it is not commenced within two years after the distribution.

488.601 Dissociation as limited partner.
1. A person does not have a right to dissociate as a limited partner before the termination of the limited partnership.

2. A person is dissociated from a limited partnership as a limited partner upon the occurrence of any of the following events:
a. The limited partnership's having notice of the person's express will to withdraw as a limited partner or on a later date specified by the person.

b. An event agreed to in the partnership agreement as causing the person's dissociation as a limited partner.

c. The person's expulsion as a limited partner pursuant to the partnership agreement.

d. The person's expulsion as a limited partner by the unanimous consent of the other partners if any of the following apply:
   (1) It is unlawful to carry on the limited partnership's activities with the person as a limited partner.
   (2) There has been a transfer of all of the person's transferable interest in the limited partnership, other than a transfer for security purposes, or a court order charging the person's interest, which has not been foreclosed.
   (3) The person is a corporation and, within ninety days after the limited partnership notifies the person that it will be expelled as a limited partner because it has filed a certificate of dissolution or the equivalent, its charter has been revoked, or its right to conduct business has been suspended by the jurisdiction of its incorporation, there is no revocation of the certificate of dissolution or no reinstatement of its charter or its right to conduct business.
   (4) The person is a limited liability company or partnership that has been dissolved and whose business is being wound up.

e. On application by the limited partnership, the person's expulsion as a limited partner by judicial order because of any of the following:
   (1) The person engaged in wrongful conduct that adversely and materially affected the limited partnership's activities.
   (2) The person willfully or persistently committed a material breach of the partnership agreement or of the obligation of good faith and fair dealing under section 488.305, subsection 2.
   (3) The person engaged in conduct relating to the limited partnership's activities which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the activities with the person as a limited partner.
   f. In the case of a person who is an individual, the person's death.

g. In the case of a person that is a trust or is acting as a limited partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, distribution of the trust's entire transferable interest in the limited partnership, but not merely by reason of the substitution of a successor trustee.

h. In the case of a person that is an estate or is acting as a limited partner by virtue of being a personal representative of an estate, distribution of the estate's entire transferable interest in the limited partnership, but not merely by reason of the substitution of a successor personal representative.

i. Termination of a limited partner that is not an individual, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, trust, or estate.

j. The limited partnership's participation in a conversion or merger under article 11, if either of the following applies:
   (1) The limited partnership is not the converted or surviving entity.
   (2) The limited partnership is the converted or surviving entity but, as a result of the conversion or merger, the person ceases to be a limited partner.

488.602 Effect of dissociation as limited partner.

1. Upon a person's dissociation as a limited partner, all of the following apply:
   a. Subject to section 488.704, the person does not have further rights as a limited partner.
   b. The person's obligation of good faith and fair dealing as a limited partner under section 488.305, subsection 2, continues only as to matters arising and events occurring before the dissociation.
   c. Subject to section 488.704 and article 11, any transferable interest owned by the person in the person's capacity as a limited partner immediately before dissociation is owned by the person as a mere transferee.
   2. A person's dissociation as a limited partner does not of itself discharge the person from any obligation to the limited partnership or the other partners which the person incurred while a limited partner.

488.603 Dissociation as general partner.

A person is dissociated from a limited partnership as a general partner upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. The limited partnership's having notice of the person's express will to withdraw as a general partner or on a later date specified by the person.
   2. An event agreed to in the partnership agreement as causing the person's dissociation as a general partner.
   3. The person's expulsion as a general partner pursuant to the partnership agreement.
   4. The person's expulsion as a general partner by the unanimous consent of the other partners if any of the following apply:
   a. It is unlawful to carry on the limited partnership's activities with the person as a general partner.
   b. There has been a transfer of all or substantially all of the person's transferable interest in the limited partnership, other than a transfer for security purposes, or a court order charging the person's interest, which has not been foreclosed.

C. The person is an entity which participates in a merger and is not the surviving entity.

5. On application by the limited partnership, the person's expulsion as a general partner by judicial determination because of any of the following:
   a. The person engaged in wrongful conduct that adversely and materially affected the limited partnership activities.
   b. The person willfully or persistently committed a material breach of the partnership agreement or of a duty owed to the partnership or the other partners under section 488.408.
   c. The person engaged in conduct relating to the limited partnership's activities which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the activities of the limited partnership with the person as a general partner.
   d. The person does or is one of the following:
      a. Becomes a debtor in bankruptcy.
      b. Executes an assignment for the benefit of creditors.
      c. Seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the person or of all or substantially all of the person's property.
      d. Fails, within ninety days after the appointment, to have vacated or stayed the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the general partner or of all or substantially all of the person's property otherwise obtained without the person's consent or acquiescence, or failing within ninety days after the expiration of a stay to have the appointment vacated.
   e. Is a corporation that has filed articles of dissolution or the equivalent, has had its charter revoked, or has had its right to conduct business suspended by the jurisdiction of its incorporation, and all of the following apply:
      (1) There is no revocation of the articles of dissolution or no reinstatement of its charter of its right to conduct business within ninety days after such filing, revocation, or suspension.
      (2) The limited partnership, or any partner, notifies the partners that such filing, revocation, or suspension has occurred, and no vote to retain the general partner occurs within ninety days of such notification.
   f. Is a limited liability company or partnership that has been dissolved and whose business is being wound up, and the limited partnership, or any partner, notifies the partners that such dissolution has occurred and no vote to retain the general partner occurs within ninety days of such notification.

7. In the case of a person who is an individual, any of the following:
   a. The person's death.
   b. The appointment of a guardian or conservator for the person.
   c. A judicial determination that the person has otherwise become incapable of performing the person's duties as a general partner under the partnership agreement.

8. In the case of a person that is a trust or is acting as a general partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, distribution of the trust's entire transferable interest in the limited partnership, but not merely by reason of the substitution of a successor trustee.

9. In the case of a person that is not an individual, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, trust, or estate.

10. Termination of a general partner that is not an individual, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, trust, or estate.

11. The limited partnership's participation in a conversion or merger under article 11, if either of the following applies:
   a. The limited partnership is not the converted or surviving entity.
   b. The limited partnership is the converted or surviving entity but, as a result of the conversion or merger, the person ceases to be a general partner.

§488.604 Person's power to dissociate as general partner — wrongful dissociation.

1. A person has the power to dissociate as a general partner at any time, rightfully or wrongfully, by express will pursuant to section 488.603, subsection 1.

2. A person's dissociation as a general partner is wrongful only if either of the following applies:
   a. The dissociation is in breach of an express provision of the partnership agreement.
   b. The dissociation occurs before the termination of the limited partnership, and at least one of the following also applies:
      (1) The person withdraws as a general partner by express will.
      (2) The person is expelled as a general partner by judicial determination under section 488.603, subsection 5.
      (3) The person is dissociated as a general partner by becoming a debtor in bankruptcy.
      (4) In the case of a person that is not an individual, trust other than a business trust, or estate, the person is expelled or otherwise dissociated as a general partner because it willfully dissolved or terminated.

3. A person that wrongfully dissociates as a general partner is liable to the limited partnership.
§488.605 Effect of dissociation as general partner.
1. Upon a person's dissociation as a general partner, all of the following apply:
   a. The person's right to participate as a general partner in the management and conduct of the partnership's activities terminates.
   b. The person's duty of loyalty as a general partner under section 488.408, subsection 2, paragraph "c", terminates.
   c. The person's duty of loyalty as a general partner under section 488.408, subsection 2, paragraphs "a" and "b", and duty of care under section 488.408, subsection 3, continue only with regard to matters arising and events occurring before the person's dissociation as a general partner.
   d. The person may sign and deliver to the secretary of state for filing a statement of dissociation.
   e. Subject to section 488.704 and article 11, any transferable interest owned by the person immediately before dissociation in the person's capacity as a general partner is owned by the person as a mere transferee.
   f. A person's dissociation as a general partner does not of itself discharge the person from any obligation incurred under subsection 1.

§488.607 Liability to other persons of person dissociated as general partner.
1. A person's dissociation as a general partner does not of itself discharge the person's liability as a general partner for an obligation of the limited partnership incurred before dissociation. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, the person is not liable for a limited partnership's obligation incurred after dissociation.
   a. To the limited partnership for any damage caused to the limited partnership arising from the obligation incurred under subsection 1.
   b. If a limited partnership is bound under subsection 1, the person dissociated as a general partner which caused the limited partnership to be bound is liable to the following:
      a. To the limited partnership for any damage caused to the limited partnership arising from the obligation incurred under subsection 1.
      b. If a general partner or another person dissociated as a general partner is liable for the obligation, to the general partner or other person for any damage caused to the general partner or other person arising from the liability.

488.702 Transfer of partner’s transferable interest.
1. All of the following apply to a transfer, in whole or in part, of a partner’s transferable interest:
a. It is permissible.
b. It does not by itself cause the partner’s dissociation or a dissolution and winding up of the limited partnership’s activities.
c. It does not, as against the other partners or the limited partnership, entitle the transferee to participate in the management or conduct of the limited partnership’s activities, to require access to information concerning the limited partnership’s transactions except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, or to inspect or copy the required information or the limited partnership’s other records.
2. A transferee has a right to receive, in accordance with the transfer, all of the following:
a. Distributions to which the transferor would otherwise be entitled.
b. Upon the dissolution and winding up of the limited partnership’s activities, the net amount otherwise distributable to the transferor.
c. In a dissolution and winding up, a transferee is entitled to an account of the limited partnership’s activities only from the date of dissolution.
3. Upon transfer, the transferor retains the rights of a partner other than the interest in distributions transferred and retains all duties and obligations of a partner.
4. A limited partnership need not give effect to a transferee’s rights under this section until the limited partnership has notice of the transfer.
5. A limited partnership need not give effect to a transferee’s rights under this section until the limited partnership has notice of the restriction at the time of transfer.
6. A transferee that becomes a partner with respect to a transferable interest is liable for the transferor’s obligations under sections 488.502 and 488.509. However, the transferee is not obligated for liabilities unknown to the transferee at the time the transferee became a partner.

488.703 Rights of creditor of partner or transferee.
1. On application to a court of competent jurisdiction by any judgment creditor of a partner or transferee, the court may charge the transferable interest of the judgment debtor with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment with interest. To the extent so charged, the judgment creditor has only the rights of a transferee. The court may appoint a receiver of the share of the distributions due or to become due the judgment debtor in respect of the partnership and make all other orders, directions, accounts, and inquiries the judgment debtor might have made or which the circumstances of the case may require to give effect to the charging order.
2. A charging order constitutes a lien on the judgment debtor’s transferable interest. The court may order a foreclosure upon the interest subject to the charging order at any time. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale has the rights of a transferee.
3. At any time before foreclosure, an interest charged may be redeemed by any of the following:
a. By the judgment debtor.
b. With property other than limited partnership property, by one or more of the other partners.
c. With limited partnership property, by the limited partnership with the consent of all partners whose interests are not so charged.
4. This chapter does not deprive any partner or transferee of the benefit of any exemption laws applicable to the partner’s or transferee’s transferable interest.
5. This section provides the exclusive remedy by which a judgment creditor of a partner or transferee may satisfy a judgment out of the judgment debtor’s transferable interest.

488.704 Power of estate of deceased partner.
If a partner dies, the deceased partner’s personal representative or other legal representative may exercise the rights of a transferee as provided in section 488.702 and, for the purposes of settling the activities of the limited partnership in conformity with the partnership agreement.

488.803 Winding up.
1. A limited partnership continues after dissolution only for the purpose of winding up its activities.
2. In winding up its activities, the limited partnership:
   a. May amend its certificate of limited partnership to state that the limited partnership is dissolved, preserve the limited partnership business or property as a going concern for a reasonable time, prosecute and defend actions and proceedings, whether civil, criminal, or administrative, transfer the limited partnership’s property, settle disputes by mediation or arbitration, file a statement of termination as provided in section 488.203, and perform other necessary acts.
   b. Shall discharge the limited partnership’s liabilities, settle and close the limited partnership’s activities, and marshal and distribute the assets of the partnership.
3. If a dissolved limited partnership does not have a general partner, a person to wind up the dissolved limited partnership’s activities may be appointed by the consent of limited partners owning a majority of the rights to receive distributions as limited partners at the time the consent is to be effective. A person appointed under this subsection:
   a. Has the powers of a general partner under section 488.804.
   b. Shall promptly amend the certificate of limited partnership to state all of the following:
      (1) That the limited partnership does not have a general partner.
      (2) The name of the person that has been appointed to wind up the limited partnership.
      (3) The street and mailing address of the person.
4. On the application of any partner, the district court in the county in which the office described in section 488.114, subsection 1, paragraph “a”, is located may order judicial supervision of the winding up, including the appointment of a person to wind up the dissolved limited partnership’s activities, if any of the following applies:
   a. A limited partnership does not have a general partner and within a reasonable time following the dissolution no person has been appointed pursuant to subsection 3.
   b. The applicant establishes other good cause.

488.802 Judicial dissolution.
On application by or for a partner, the district court for the county in which the office described in section 488.114, subsection 1, paragraph “a”, is located may order dissolution of a limited partnership if it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the activities of the limited partnership in conformity with the partnership agreement.
488.804 Power of general partner and person dissociated as general partner to bind partnership after dissolution.

1. A limited partnership is bound by a general partner’s act after dissolution in which any of the following apply:
   a. The act is appropriate for winding up the limited partnership’s activities.
   b. The act would have bound the limited partnership under section 488.402 before dissolution, if, at the time the other party enters into the transaction, the other party does not have notice of the dissolution.

2. A person dissociated as a general partner binds a limited partnership through an act occurring after dissolution if both of the following apply:
   a. At the time the other party enters into the transaction, all of the following apply:
      (1) Less than two years have passed since the dissociation.
      (2) The other party does not have notice of the dissociation and reasonably believes that the person is a general partner.
   b. At least one of the following applies:
      (1) The act is appropriate for winding up the limited partnership’s activities.
      (2) The act would have bound the limited partnership under section 488.402 before dissolution and at the time the other party enters into the transaction the other party does not have notice of the dissolution.

2004 Acts, ch 1021, §66, 118

NEW section

488.805 Liability after dissolution of general partner and person dissociated as general partner to limited partnership, other general partners, and persons dissociated as general partner.

1. If a general partner having knowledge of the dissolution causes a limited partnership to incur an obligation under section 488.804, subsection 1, by an act that is not appropriate for winding up the partnership’s activities, the general partner is liable for all of the following:
   a. To the limited partnership for any damage caused to the limited partnership arising from the obligation.
   b. If another general partner or a person dissociated as a general partner is liable for the obligation, to that other general partner or person for any damage caused to that other general partner or person arising from the liability.

2. If a person dissociated as a general partner causes a limited partnership to incur an obligation under section 488.804, subsection 2, the person is liable for all of the following:
   a. To the limited partnership for any damage caused to the limited partnership arising from the obligation.
   b. If a general partner or another person dissociated as a general partner is liable for the obligation, to the general partner or other person for any damage caused to the general partner or other person arising from the liability.

2004 Acts, ch 1021, §67, 118

488.806 Known claims against dissolved limited partnership.

1. A dissolved limited partnership may dispose of the known claims against it by following the procedure described in subsection 2.

2. A dissolved limited partnership may notify its known claimants of the dissolution in a record. The notice must do all of the following:
   a. Specify the information required to be included in a claim.
   b. Provide a mailing address to which the claim is to be sent.
   c. State the deadline for receipt of the claim, which may not be less than one hundred twenty days after the date the notice is received by the claimant.
   d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.
   e. Unless the limited partnership has been throughout its existence a limited liability limited partnership or elected under prior law to become a limited liability limited partnership, state that the barring of a claim against the limited partnership will also bar any corresponding claim against any general partner or person dissociated as a general partner which is based on section 488.404.

3. A claim against a dissolved limited partnership is barred if the requirements of subsection 2 are met and at least one of the following applies:
   a. The claim is not received by the specified deadline.
   b. In the case of a claim that is timely received but rejected by the dissolved limited partnership, the claimant does not commence an action to enforce the claim against the limited partnership within ninety days after the receipt of the notice of rejection.

4. This section does not apply to a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution or a liability that is contingent on that date.

2004 Acts, ch 1021, §68, 118

488.807 Other claims against dissolved limited partnership.

1. A dissolved limited partnership may publish notice of its dissolution and request persons having claims against the limited partnership to present them in accordance with the notice.

2. The notice must do all of the following:
488.804 Liability of general partner and person dissociated as general partner when claim against limited partnership barred.

If a claim against a dissolved limited partnership is barred under section 488.806 or 488.807, any corresponding claim under section 488.404 is also barred.

488.809 Administrative dissolution.

1. The secretary of state may dissolve a limited partnership administratively if the limited partnership does not, within sixty days after the due date, do any of the following:

a. Pay any fee, tax, or penalty under this chapter or other law due the secretary of state.

b. Deliver its biennial report to the secretary of state.

2. If the secretary of state determines that a ground exists for administratively dissolving a limited partnership, the secretary of state shall file a record of the determination and serve the limited partnership with a copy of the filed record.

3. If within sixty days after service of the copy the limited partnership does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the limited partnership by preparing, signing, and filing a declaration of dissolution that states the grounds for dissolution. The secretary of state shall serve the limited partnership with a copy of the filed declaration.

4. A limited partnership administratively dissolved continues its existence but may carry on only activities necessary to wind up its activities and liquidate its assets under sections 488.803 and 488.812 and to notify claimants under sections 488.806 and 488.807.

5. The administrative dissolution of a limited partnership does not terminate the authority of its agent for service of process.

§488.810 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A limited partnership that has been administratively dissolved may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and state all of the following:
   a. The name of the limited partnership and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.
   b. That the grounds for dissolution either did not exist or have been eliminated.
   c. That the limited partnership's name satisfies the requirements of section 488.108.

2. If the secretary of state determines that an application contains the information required by subsection 2 and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall prepare a declaration of reinstatement that states this determination, sign, and file the original of the declaration of reinstatement, and serve the limited partnership with a copy.

3. When reinstatement becomes effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution and the limited partnership may resume its activities as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

§488.811 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a limited partnership's application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall prepare, sign, and file a notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial and serve the limited partnership with a copy of the notice.

2. Within thirty days after service of the notice of denial, the limited partnership may appeal from the denial of reinstatement by petitioning the district court to set aside the dissolution. The petition must be served on the secretary of state and contain a copy of the secretary of state's declaration of dissolution, the limited partnership's application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state's notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved limited partnership or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

$488.812 Disposition of assets — when contributions required.

1. In winding up a limited partnership's activities, the assets of the limited partnership, including the contributions required by this section, must be applied to satisfy the limited partnership's obligations to creditors, including, to the extent permitted by law, partners that are creditors.

2. Any surplus remaining after the limited partnership complies with subsection 1 must be paid in cash as a distribution.

3. If a limited partnership's assets are insufficient to satisfy all of its obligations under subsection 1, with respect to each unsatisfied obligation incurred when the limited partnership was not a limited liability limited partnership, the following rules apply:
   a. Each person that was a general partner when the obligation was incurred and that has not been released from the obligation under section 488.607 shall contribute to the limited partnership for the purpose of enabling the limited partnership to satisfy the obligation. The contribution due from each of those persons is in proportion to the right to receive distributions in the capacity of general partner in effect for each of those persons when the obligation was incurred.
   b. If a person does not contribute the full amount required under paragraph “a” with respect to an unsatisfied obligation of the limited partnership, the other persons required to contribute by paragraph “a” on account of the obligation shall contribute the additional amount necessary to discharge the obligation. The additional contribution due from each of those other persons is in proportion to the right to receive distributions in the capacity of general partner in effect for each of those other persons when the obligation was incurred.
c. If a person does not make the additional contribution required by paragraph "b", further additional contributions are determined and due in the same manner as provided in that paragraph.

4. A person that makes an additional contribution under subsection 3, paragraph "b" or "c", may recover from any person whose failure to contribute under subsection 3, paragraph "b" or "c", necessitated the additional contribution. A person shall not recover under this subsection more than the amount additionally contributed. A person's liability under this subsection shall not exceed the amount the person failed to contribute.

5. The estate of a deceased individual is liable for the person's obligations under this section.

6. An assignee for the benefit of creditors of a limited partnership or a partner, or a person appointed by a court to represent creditors of a limited partnership or a partner, may enforce a person's obligation to contribute under subsection 3.

ARTICLE 9
FOREIGN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

488.901 Governing law.
1. The laws of the state or other jurisdiction under which a foreign limited partnership is organized govern relations among the partners of the foreign limited partnership and between the partners and the foreign limited partnership and the liability of partners as partners for an obligation of the foreign limited partnership.

2. A foreign limited partnership shall not be denied a certificate of authority by reason of any difference between the laws of the jurisdiction under which the foreign limited partnership is organized and the laws of this state.

3. A certificate of authority does not authorize a foreign limited partnership to engage in any business or exercise any power that a limited partnership shall not engage in or exercise in this state.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.902 Application for certificate of authority.
1. A foreign limited partnership may apply for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must state all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign limited partnership and, if the name does not comply with section 488.108, an alternate name adopted pursuant to section 488.905, subsection 1.

b. The name of the state or other jurisdiction under whose law the foreign limited partnership is organized.

c. The street and mailing address of the foreign limited partnership's principal office and, if the laws of the jurisdiction under which the foreign limited partnership is organized require the foreign limited partnership to maintain an office in that jurisdiction, the street and mailing address of the required office.

d. The name and street and mailing address of the foreign limited partnership's initial agent for service of process in this state.

e. The name and street and mailing address of each of the foreign limited partnership's general partners.

f. Whether the foreign limited partnership is a foreign limited liability limited partnership.

2. A foreign limited partnership shall deliver with the completed application a certificate of existence or a record of similar import signed by the secretary of state or other official having custody of the foreign limited partnership's publicly filed records in the state or other jurisdiction under whose law the foreign limited partnership is organized.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.903 Activities not constituting transacting business.
1. Activities of a foreign limited partnership which do not constitute transacting business in this state within the meaning of this article include all of the following:

a. Maintaining, defending, and settling an action or proceeding.

b. Holding meetings of its partners or carrying on any other activity concerning its internal affairs.

c. Maintaining accounts in financial institutions.

d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the foreign limited partnership's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.

e. Selling through independent contractors.

f. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or electronic means or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.

g. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages, or security interests in real or personal property.

h. Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages or other security interests in property securing the debts, and holding, protecting, and maintaining property so acquired.

i. Owning, without more, real or personal property.

j. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and is not one in the course of similar transactions of a like manner.

k. Transacting business in interstate commerce.

2. For purposes of this article, the ownership in this state of income-producing real or tangible personal property, other than property excluded under subsection 1, constitutes transacting business in this state.

3. This section does not apply in determining the contacts or activities that may subject a foreign limited partnership to service of process, taxation, or regulation under any other law of this state.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.904 Approval of application for certificate of authority — notification.

Unless the secretary of state determines that an application for a certificate of authority does not comply with the filing requirements of this chapter, the secretary of state, upon receiving payment of all filing fees, shall file the application, notify the applicant that the application has been approved, and provide a receipt for the payment of fees. Such notification shall serve as certificate of authority to transact business in this state.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.905 Noncomplying name of foreign limited partnership.

1. A foreign limited partnership whose name does not comply with section 488.108 shall not obtain a certificate of authority until it adopts, for the purpose of transacting business in this state, an alternate name that complies with section 488.108. A foreign limited partnership that adopts an alternate name under this subsection and then obtains a certificate of authority with the name need not also comply with chapter 547. After obtaining a certificate of authority with an alternate name, a foreign limited partnership shall transact business in this state under the name unless the foreign limited partnership is authorized under chapter 547 to transact business in this state under another name.

2. If a foreign limited partnership authorized to transact business in this state changes its name to one that does not comply with section 488.108, it shall not thereafter transact business in this state until it complies with subsection 1 and obtains an amended certificate of authority.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.906 Revocation of certificate of authority.

1. A certificate of authority of a foreign limited partnership to transact business in this state may be revoked by the secretary of state in the manner provided in subsections 2 and 3 if the foreign limited partnership does not do any of the following:

a. Pay, within sixty days after the due date, any fee, tax or penalty under this chapter or other law due the secretary of state.

b. Deliver, within sixty days after the due date, its biennial report required under section 488.210.

c. Appoint and maintain an agent for service of process as required by section 488.114, subsection 2.

d. Deliver for filing a statement of a change under section 488.115 within thirty days after a change has occurred in the name or address of the agent.

2. In order to revoke a certificate of authority, the secretary of state must prepare, sign, and file a notice of revocation and send a copy to the foreign limited partnership’s agent for service of process in this state, or if the foreign limited partnership does not appoint and maintain a proper agent in this state, to the foreign limited partnership’s designated office. The notice must state all of the following:

a. The revocation’s effective date, which must be at least sixty days after the date the secretary of state sends the copy.

b. The foreign limited partnership’s failures to comply with subsection 1 which are the reason for the revocation.

c. The authority of the foreign limited partnership to transact business in this state ceases on the effective date of the notice of revocation unless before that date the foreign limited partnership cures each failure to comply with subsection 1 stated in the notice. If the foreign limited partnership cures the failures, the secretary of state shall so indicate on the filed notice.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.907 Cancellation of certificate of authority — effect of failure to have certificate.

1. In order to cancel its certificate of authority to transact business in this state, a foreign limited partnership must deliver to the secretary of state for filing a notice of cancellation. The certificate is canceled when the notice becomes effective under section 488.206.

2. A foreign limited partnership transacting business in this state shall not maintain an action or proceeding in this state unless it has a certificate of authority to transact business in this state.

3. The failure of a foreign limited partnership to have a certificate of authority to transact business in this state does not impair the validity of a contract or act of the foreign limited partnership or prevent the foreign limited partnership from defending an action or proceeding in this state.

4. A partner of a foreign limited partnership is not liable for the obligations of the foreign limited partnership solely by reason of the foreign limited partnership's having transacted business in this state without a certificate of authority.

5. If a foreign limited partnership transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority, it appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process for rights of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

ARTICLE 10

ACTIONS BY PARTNERS

488.1001 Direct action by partner.

1. Subject to subsection 2, a partner may maintain a direct action against the limited partnership or another partner for legal or equitable relief, with or without an accounting as to the partnership's activities, to enforce the rights and otherwise protect the interests of the partner, including rights and interests under the partnership agreement or this chapter or arising independently of the partnership relationship.

2. A partner commencing a direct action under this section is required to plead and prove an actual or threatened injury that is not solely the result of an injury suffered or threatened to be suffered by the limited partnership.

3. The accrual of, and any time limitation on, a right of action for a remedy under this section is governed by other law. A right to an accounting upon a dissolution and winding up does not revive a claim barred by law.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.1002 Derivative action.

A partner may maintain a derivative action to enforce a right of a limited partnership, but a partner shall not commence such a proceeding until both of the following have occurred:

1. A written demand has been made upon the general partner or partners, requesting that they cause the limited partnership to take suitable action.

2. Ninety days have expired from the date the demand was made, unless the partner has earlier been notified that the demand has been rejected by the general partner or partners or unless irreparable injury to the limited partnership would result by waiting for the expiration of the ninety-day period.

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.1003 Proper plaintiff.

A derivative action may be maintained only by a person that is a partner at the time the action is commenced and where one of the following also applies:

1. The person that was a partner when the conduct giving rise to the action occurred.

2. The person whose status as a partner devolved upon the person by operation of law or pursuant to the terms of the partnership agreement from a person that was a partner at the time of the conduct.

2004 Acts, ch 1021, §86, 118

488.1004 Pleading.

In a derivative action, the petition must state with particularity the date and content of plaintiff's demand and either the general partners' response to the demand or how the limited partnership would be irreparably harmed by waiting for such a response for ninety days.

2004 Acts, ch 1021, §87, 118

Section takes effect January 1, 2005, and applies as provided in §488.1204; see §488.1207, 2004 Acts, ch 1021, §118

488.1005 Proceeds and expenses.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2:

a. Any proceeds or other benefits of a derivative action, whether by judgment, compromise, or settlement, belong to the limited partnership and not to the derivative plaintiff.

b. If the derivative plaintiff receives any proceeds, the derivative plaintiff shall immediately remit them to the limited partnership.

2. If a derivative action is successful in whole or in part, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, from the recovery of the limited partnership.
3. If the court finds that the derivative proceeding was commenced or maintained without reasonable cause or for an improper purpose, it may order the plaintiff to pay any defendant’s reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred in defending the action.

b. By the organization’s organizational documents under a provision of the organization’s governing statute authorizing those documents to make one or more specified persons liable for all or specified debts, liabilities, and other obligations of the organization solely by reason of the person or persons co-owning, having an interest in, or being a member of the organization.
11. “Surviving organization” means an organization into which one or more other organizations are merged. A surviving organization may preexist the merger or be created by the merger.

§488.1102 Conversion.
1. An organization other than a limited partnership may convert to a limited partnership, and a limited partnership may convert to another organization pursuant to this section and sections 488.1103 through 488.1105 and a plan of conversion, if all of the following apply:
a. The other organization’s governing statute authorizes the conversion.
b. The conversion is not prohibited by the law of the jurisdiction that enacted the governing statute.
c. The other organization is party to a merger.
2. A plan of conversion must be in a record and must include all of the following:
a. The name and form of the organization before conversion.
b. The name and form of the organization after conversion.
c. The terms and conditions of the conversion, including the manner and basis for converting interests in the converting organization into any combination of money, interests in the converted organization, and other consideration.
488.1104 Filings required for conversion — effective date.

1. After a plan of conversion is approved:
   a. A converting limited partnership shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of conversion, which must include all of the following:
      (1) A statement that the limited partnership has been converted into another organization.
      (2) The name and form of the organization and the jurisdiction of its governing statute.
      (3) The date the conversion is effective under the governing statute of the converted organization.
      (4) A statement that the conversion was approved as required by this chapter.
      (5) A statement that the conversion was approved as required by the governing statute of the converted organization.
      (6) If the converted organization is a foreign organization not authorized to transact business in this state, the street and mailing address of an office which the secretary of state may use for the purposes of section 488.1105, subsection 3.
   b. If the converting organization is not a converting limited partnership, the converting organization shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a certificate of limited partnership, which must include, in addition to the information required by section 488.201, all of the following:
      (1) A statement that the limited partnership was converted from another organization.
      (2) The name and form of the organization and the jurisdiction of its governing statute.
      (3) A statement that the conversion was approved in a manner that complied with the organization's governing statute.
   2. A conversion becomes effective according to the following:
      a. If the converted organization is a limited partnership, when the certificate of limited partnership takes effect.
      b. If the converted organization is not a limited partnership, as provided by the governing statute of the converted organization.

488.1105 Effect of conversion.

1. An organization that has been converted pursuant to this section is for all purposes the same entity that existed before the conversion.
2. When a conversion takes effect, all of the following apply:
   a. All property owned by the converting organization remains vested in the converted organization.
   b. All debts, liabilities, and other obligations of the converting organization continue as obligations of the converted organization.
   c. An action or proceeding pending by or against the converting organization may be continued as if the conversion had not occurred.
   d. Except as prohibited by other law, all of the rights, privileges, immunities, powers, and purposes of the converting organization remain vested in the converted organization.
   e. Except as otherwise provided in the plan of conversion, the terms and conditions of the plan of conversion take effect.
   f. Except as otherwise agreed, the conversion does not dissolve a converting limited partnership for the purposes of article 8.
3. A converted organization that is a foreign organization consents to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state to enforce any obligation owed by the converting limited partnership, if before the conversion the converting limited partnership was subject to suit in this state on the obligation. A converted organization that is a foreign organization and not authorized to transact business in this state appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process for purposes of enforcing an obligation under this subsection. Service on the secretary of state under this subsection is made in the same manner and with the same consequences as in section 488.117, subsections 3 and 4.

1. A limited partnership may merge with one or more other constituent organizations pursuant to this section and sections 488.1107 through §488.1109 and a plan of merger, if all of the following apply:

a. The governing statute of each of the other organizations authorizes the merger.
b. The merger is not prohibited by the law of a jurisdiction that enacted any of those governing statutes.
c. Each of the other organizations complies with its governing statute in effecting the merger.

2. A plan of merger must be in a record and must include all of the following:

a. The name and form of each constituent organization.
b. The name and form of the surviving organization and, if the surviving organization is to be created by the merger, a statement to that effect.
c. The date the merger is effective under the governing statute of the surviving organization.
d. If the surviving organization is to be created by the merger, one of the following:
   (1) If it will be a limited partnership, the limited partnership’s certificate of limited partnership.
   (2) If it will be an organization other than a limited partnership, the organizational document that creates the organization.

3. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

4. A merger becomes effective under this act upon the later of the following:

a. As provided in the plan.
b. Except as prohibited by the plan, with the same consent as was required to approve the plan.

5. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

6. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

7. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

8. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

9. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

10. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

11. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

12. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

13. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

14. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

15. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

16. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

17. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

18. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

19. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

20. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

21. A merger becomes effective under this act for filing in the office of the secretary of state.

22. Each constituent limited partnership shall deliver the articles of merger for filing in the office of the secretary of state.
488.1110 Restrictions on approval of conversions and mergers and on relinquishing limited liability limited partnership status.
1. If a partner of a converting or constituent limited partnership will have personal liability with respect to a converted or surviving organization, approval and amendment of a plan of conversion or merger are ineffective without the consent of the partner, unless all of the following apply:
   a. The limited partnership’s partnership agreement provides for the approval of the conversion or merger with the consent of fewer than all the partners.

b. The partner has consented to the provision of the partnership agreement.
2. An amendment to a certificate of limited partnership which deletes a statement that the limited partnership is a limited liability limited partnership is ineffective without the consent of each general partner, unless all of the following apply:
   a. The limited partnership’s partnership agreement provides for the amendment with the consent of less than all the general partners.
   b. Each general partner that does not consent to the amendment has consented to the provision of the partnership agreement.
   c. A partner does not give the consent required by subsection 1 or 2 merely by consenting to a provision of the partnership agreement which permits the partnership agreement to be amended with the consent of fewer than all the partners.

488.1111 Liability of general partner after conversion or merger.
1. A conversion or merger under this article does not discharge any liability under sections 488.404 and 488.607 of a person that was a general partner in or dissociated as a general partner from a converting or constituent limited partnership, but all of the following apply:
   a. The provisions of this chapter pertaining to the collection or discharge of the liability continue to apply to the liability.
   b. For the purposes of applying those provisions, the converted or surviving organization is deemed to be the converting or constituent limited partnership.
   c. If a person is required to pay any amount under this subsection, all of the following apply:
      (1) The person has a right of contribution from each other person that was liable as a general partner under section 488.404 when the obligation was incurred and has not been released from the obligation under section 488.607.
      (2) The contribution due from each of those persons is in proportion to the right to receive distributions in the capacity of general partner in effect for each of those persons when the obligation was incurred.

2. In addition to any other liability provided by law, both of the following apply:
   a. A person that immediately before a conversion or merger became effective was a general partner in a converting or constituent limited partnership that was not a limited liability limited partnership is personally liable for each obligation of the converted or surviving organization arising from a transaction with a third party after the conversion or merger becomes effective, if, at the time the third party enters into the transaction, all of the following apply to the third party:
   b. The partner has consented to the provision of the partnership agreement.

488.1112  Power of general partners and persons dissociated as general partners to bind organization after conversion or merger.

1. An act of a person that immediately before a conversion or merger became effective was a general partner in a converting or constituent limited partnership binds the converted or surviving organization after the conversion or merger becomes effective, if all of the following apply:
   (a) Before the conversion or merger became effective, the act would have bound the converting or constituent limited partnership under section 488.402 if the person had been a general partner.
   (b) At the time the third party enters into the transaction, less than two years have passed since the person dissociated as a general partner and all of the following apply to the third party:
      (2) The third party reasonably believes that the person is a general partner in the converting or constituent limited partnership.
      (3) The third party reasonably believes all of the following:
         (a) The converted or surviving business is the converting or constituent limited partnership.
         (b) The converting or constituent limited partnership is not a limited liability limited partnership.
         (c) The person is a general partner in the converting or constituent limited partnership.
         (d) A person that was dissociated as a general partner from a converting or constituent limited partnership before the conversion or merger became effective is personally liable for each obligation of the converted or surviving organization arising from a transaction with a third party after the conversion or merger becomes effective, if all of the following apply:
            (1) Immediately before the conversion or merger became effective the converting or surviving limited partnership was not a limited liability limited partnership.
            (2) At the time the third party enters into the transaction less than two years have passed since the person dissociated as a general partner and all of the following apply to the third party:
               (a) The third party does not have notice of the dissociation.
               (b) The third party does not have notice of the conversion or merger.
               (c) The third party reasonably believes that the converted or surviving organization is the converting or constituent limited partnership, the converting or constituent limited partnership is not a limited liability limited partnership, and the person is a general partner in the converting or constituent limited partnership.

ARTICLE 12

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

488.1201  Uniformity of application and construction.

In applying and construing this chapter, consideration must be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

§488.1203 Relation to Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act.
This chapter modifies, limits, or supersedes the federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, 15 U.S.C. § 7001 et seq., but this chapter does not modify, limit, or supersede section 101(c) of that Act or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in section 103(b) of that Act.

§488.1204 Application to existing relationships.
1. Before January 1, 2006, this chapter governs only the following:
   a. A limited partnership formed on or after January 1, 2005.
   b. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 3 and 4, a limited partnership formed before January 1, 2005, that elects, in the manner provided in its partnership agreement or by law for amending the partnership agreement, to be subject to this chapter.
2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, on and after January 1, 2006, this chapter governs all limited partnerships.
3. With respect to a limited partnership formed before January 1, 2005, the following rules apply except as the partners otherwise elect in the manner provided in the partnership agreement or by law for amending the partnership agreement:
   a. Section 488.104, subsection 3, does not apply and the limited partnership has whatever duration it had under the law applicable immediately before January 1, 2005.
   b. The limited partnership is not required to amend its certificate of limited partnership to comply with section 488.201, subsection 1, paragraph “d”.
   c. Sections 488.505, 488.601, and 488.602 do not apply, and a limited partner has the same right and power to dissociate from the limited partnership, with the same consequences, as existed immediately before January 1, 2005.
4. With respect to a limited partnership that elects pursuant to subsection 1, paragraph “d”, and the limited liability limited partnership automatically is a limited liability limited partnership under this chapter.
   a. Before January 1, 2006, to all of the following:
      (1) A third party that had not done business with the limited partnership prior to January 1, 2006, this chapter's provisions relating to the liability of the limited partnership's general partners to third parties apply according to the following:
      b. On and after January 1, 2006, to all third parties, regardless of whether a third party has previously done business with the limited liability limited partnership.

   Authority to refund fees; 2004 Acts, ch 1175, §21

490.123 Effective time and date of documents.
1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 490.124, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following times:
   a. At the date and time of filing, as evidenced by such means as the secretary of state may use for the purpose of recording the date and time of filing.
   b. At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.
2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.
   89 Acts, ch 288, §6; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §3, 125

490.124 Correcting filed documents.
1. A domestic or foreign corporation may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one of the following:
   a. The document contains an inaccuracy.
   b. The document was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.
   c. The electronic transmission was defective.
2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:
   a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:
      (1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.
      (2) Specify the inaccuracy or defect to be corrected.
      (3) Correct the inaccuracy or defect.
   b. By delivering the articles to the secretary of state for filing.
3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.
   89 Acts, ch 288, §7; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §4, 125

490.125 Filing duty of secretary of state.
1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 490.120, the secretary of state shall file it.
2. The secretary of state files a document by recording it as filed on the date and time of receipt. After filing a document, except the biennial report required by section 490.1622, and except as provided in sections 490.503 and 490.1509, the secretary of state shall deliver to the domestic or foreign corporation or its representative a copy of the document with an acknowledgment of the date and time of filing.
3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign corporation or its representative, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.
4. The secretary of state’s duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not:
   a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.
   b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
   c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

490.126 Appeal from secretary of state’s refusal to file document.
1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary’s office for filing, the domestic or foreign corporation may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the corporation’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state’s explanation of the refusal to file.
2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.
3. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.
   89 Acts, ch 288, §9

490.127 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.
A certificate from the secretary of state delivered with a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

490.128 Certificate of existence.
1. Anyone may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic corporation or a certificate of authorization for a foreign corporation.
2. A certificate of existence or authorization must set forth all of the following:
   a. The domestic corporation’s corporate name or the foreign corporation’s corporate name used in this state.
   b. That one of the following apply:
      (1) If it is a domestic corporation, that it is duly incorporated under the law of this state, the date of its incorporation, and the period of its duration if less than perpetual.
      (2) If it is a foreign corporation, that it is authorized to transact business in this state.
   c. That all fees required by this chapter have been paid.
   d. That its most recent biennial report required by section 490.1622 has been filed by the secretary of state.
   e. If it is a domestic corporation, that articles of dissolution have not been filed.
   f. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state that may be requested by the applicant.
89 Acts, ch 288, §11; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §19; 97 Acts, ch 171, §§

490.129 Penalty for signing false document.
1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.
2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars.
89 Acts, ch 288, §12

490.131 through 490.134 Reserved.

490.135 Secretary of state — powers.
The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

490.136 through 490.139 Reserved.

PART D

490.140 Definitions.
In this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:
1. “Articles of incorporation” include amended and restated articles of incorporation and articles of merger.
2. “Authorized shares” means the shares of all classes a domestic or foreign corporation is authorized to issue.
3. “Conspicuous” means so written that a reasonable person against whom the writing is to operate should have noticed it. For example, printing in italics or boldface or contrasting color, or typing in capitals or underlined, is conspicuous.
4. “Cooperative association” means an entity which is structured and operated on a cooperative basis pursuant to 26 U.S.C. § 1381(a) and which meets the definitional requirements of an association as provided in 12 U.S.C. § 1141j(a) or 7 U.S.C. § 291.
5. “Corporation” or “domestic corporation” means a corporation for profit, which is not a foreign corporation, incorporated under or subject to this chapter.
6. “Deliver” or “delivery” means any method of delivery used in conventional commercial practice, including delivery in person, by mail, commercial delivery, and electronic transmission.
7. “Distribution” means a direct or indirect transfer of money or other property, except its own shares, or incurrence of indebtedness by a corporation to or for the benefit of its shareholders in respect of any of its shares. A distribution may be in the form of a declaration or payment of a dividend; a purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of shares; a distribution of indebtedness; or otherwise.
8. “Effective date of notice” is defined in section 490.141.
9. “Electronic transmission” or “electronically transmitted” means any process of communication not directly involving the physical transfer of paper that is suitable for the retention, retrieval, and reproduction of information by the recipient.
10. “Employee” includes an officer but not a director. A director may accept duties that make the director also an employee.
11. “Entity” includes corporation and foreign corporation; not-for-profit corporation; profit and not-for-profit unincorporated association; business trust, estate, partnership, trust, and two or more persons having a joint or common economic interest; and state, United States, and foreign government.

12. “Foreign corporation” means a corporation for profit incorporated under a law other than the law of this state.

13. “Governmental subdivision” includes authority, city, county, district, township, and other political subdivision.

14. “Includes” denotes a partial definition.

15. “Individual” includes the estate of an incompetent, a ward, or a deceased individual.

17. “Notice” is defined in section 490.141.

18. “Person” means a person as defined in section 4.1.

19. “Principal office” means the office, in or out of this state, so designated in the biennial report, where the principal executive offices of a domestic or foreign corporation are located.

20. “Proceeding” includes civil suit and criminal, administrative, and investigatory action.

21. “Record date” means the date established under division VI or VII on which a corporation determines the identity of its shareholders for purposes of this chapter.

22. “Secretary” means the corporate officer to whom the board of directors has delegated responsibility under section 490.840, subdivision 3, for custody of the minutes of the meetings of the board of directors and of the shareholders and for authenticating records of the corporation.

23. “Share” means the unit into which proprietary interests in a corporation are divided.

24. “Shareholder” means the person in whose name shares are registered in the records of a corporation or the beneficial owner of shares to the extent of the rights granted by a nominee certificate on file with a corporation.

25. “Sign” or “signature” includes any manual, facsimile, confirmed, or electronic signature.

26. “State”, when referring to a part of the United States, includes a state and commonwealth and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, and a territory and insular possession and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, of the United States.

27. “Subscriber” means a person who subscribes for shares in a corporation, whether before or after incorporation.

28. “United States” includes a district, authority, bureau, commission, department, and any other agency of the United States.

29. “Voting group” means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or this chapter are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or this chapter to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

30. “Voting power” means the current power to vote in the election of directors.

490.141 Notice.

1. Notice under this chapter must be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances. Notice by electronic transmission is written notice.

2. Notice may be communicated in person; by mail or other method of delivery; or by telephone, voice mail, or other electronic means. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published; or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication.

3. Written notice by a domestic or foreign corporation to its shareholder, if in a comprehensible form, is effective according to one of the following:

   a. Upon deposit in the United States mail, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder’s address shown in the corporation’s current record of shareholders.

   b. When electronically transmitted to the shareholder in a manner authorized by the shareholder.

4. Written notice to a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may be addressed to its registered agent at its registered office or to the corporation or its secretary at its principal office shown in its most recent biennial report or, in the case of a foreign corporation that has not yet delivered a biennial report, in its application for a certificate of authority.

5. Except as provided in subsection 3, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

   a. When received.

   b. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

   c. On the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

6. Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

7. If this chapter prescribes notice requirements for particular circumstances, those requirements govern. If articles of incorporation or bylaws prescribe notice requirements not inconsistent with this section or other provisions of this chapter, those requirements govern.

490.142 Number of shareholders.
1. For purposes of this chapter, any of the following identified as a shareholder in a corporation’s current record of shareholders constitutes one shareholder:
   a. Three or fewer co-owners.
   b. A corporation, partnership, trust, estate, or other entity.
   c. The trustees, guardians of the property, custodians, or other fiduciaries of a single trust, estate, or account.
2. For purposes of this chapter, shareholdings registered in substantially similar names constitute one shareholder if it is reasonable to believe that the names represent the same person.
89 Acts, ch 288, §17

DIVISION II
INCORPORATION

490.201 Incorporators.
One or more persons may act as the incorporator or incorporators of a corporation by executing and delivering articles of incorporation to the secretary of state for filing.
89 Acts, ch 288, §18

490.202 Articles of incorporation.
1. The articles of incorporation must set forth all of the following:
   a. A corporate name for the corporation that satisfies the requirements of section 490.401.
   b. The number of shares the corporation is authorized to issue.
   c. The street address of the corporation’s initial registered office and the name of its initial registered agent at that office.
   d. The name and address of each incorporator.
2. The articles of incorporation may set forth any or all of the following:
   a. The names and addresses of the individuals who are to serve as the initial directors.
   b. Provisions not inconsistent with law regarding:
      (1) The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized.
      (2) Managing the business and regulating the affairs of the corporation.
      (3) Defining, limiting, and regulating the powers of the corporation, its board of directors, and shareholders.
      (4) A par value for authorized shares or classes of shares.
      (5) The imposition of personal liability on shareholders for the debts of the corporation to a specified extent and upon specified conditions.
   c. Any provision that under this chapter is required or permitted to be set forth in the bylaws.
   d. A provision eliminating or limiting the liability of a director to the corporation or its shareholders for money damages for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability for any of the following:
      (1) The amount of a financial benefit received by a director to which the director is not entitled.
      (2) An intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or the shareholders.
      (3) A violation of section 490.833.
      (4) An intentional violation of criminal law.
   e. A provision permitting or making obligatory indemnification of a director for liability, as defined in section 490.850, subsection 5, to any person for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability for any of the following:
      (1) Receipt of a financial benefit to which the person is not entitled.
      (2) An intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or its shareholders.
      (3) A violation of section 490.833.
      (4) An intentional violation of criminal law.
   f. The articles of incorporation need not set forth any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

490.203 Incorporation.
1. Unless a delayed effective date or time is specified, the corporate existence begins when the articles of incorporation are filed.
2. The secretary of state’s filing of the articles of incorporation is conclusive proof that the incorporators satisfied all conditions precedent to incorporation except in a proceeding by the state to cancel or revoke the incorporation or involuntarily dissolve the corporation.
89 Acts, ch 288, §20

490.204 Liability for preincorporation transactions.
All persons purporting to act as or on behalf of a corporation, knowing there was no incorporation under this chapter, are jointly and severally liable for all liabilities created while so acting.
89 Acts, ch 288, §21

490.205 Organization of corporation.
1. After incorporation:
   a. If initial directors are named in the articles of incorporation, the initial directors shall hold an organizational meeting, at the call of a majority of the directors, to complete the organization of the corporation by appointing officers, adopting by-laws and carrying on any other business brought before the meeting.

b. If initial directors are not named in the articles, the incorporator or incorporators shall hold an organizational meeting at the call of a majority of the incorporators to do one of the following:
   (1) Elect directors and complete the organization of the corporation.
   (2) Elect a board of directors who shall complete the organization of the corporation.

2. Action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken by incorporators at an organizational meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action taken is evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken and signed by each incorporator:
   3. An organizational meeting may be held in or out of this state.

§490.302 General powers.

Unless its articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a corporation has perpetual duration and succession in its corporate name and has the same powers as an individual to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out its business and affairs, including without limitation power to do all of the following:

1. Sue and be sued, complain, and defend in its corporate name.
2. Have a corporate seal, which may be altered at will, and use it, or a facsimile of it, by impressing or affixing it or in any other manner reproducing it.
3. Make and amend bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for managing the business and regulating the affairs of the corporation.
4. Purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, and own, hold, improve, use, and otherwise deal with, real or personal property, or any legal or equitable interest in property, wherever located.
5. Sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property.
6. Purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and deal in and with shares or other interests in, or obligations of, any other entity.
7. Make contracts and guarantees, incur liabilities, borrow money, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, which may be convertible into or include the option to purchase other securities of the corporation, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of any of its property, franchises, or income.
8. Lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and receive and hold real and personal property as security for repayment.
9. Be a promoter, partner, member, associate, or manager of any partnership, joint venture, trust, or other entity.
10. Conduct its business, locate offices, and exercise the powers granted by this chapter within or without this state.
11. Elect directors and appoint officers, employees, and agents of the corporation, define their duties, fix their compensation, and lend them money and credit.
12. Pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit sharing plans, share bonus plans, share option plans, and benefit or incentive plans for any or all of its current or former directors, officers, employees, and agents.
13. Make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.
14. Transact any lawful business that will aid governmental policy.
15. Make payments or donations, or do any other act, not inconsistent with law, that furthers the business and affairs of the corporation.

§490.303 Emergency powers.
1. In anticipation of or during an emergency as defined in subsection 4, the board of directors of a corporation may do either or both of the following:
   a. Modify lines of succession to accommodate the incapacity of any director, officer, employee, or agent.
   b. Relocate the principal office, designate alternative principal offices or regional offices, or authorize the officers to do so.
2. During an emergency defined in subsection 4, unless emergency bylaws provide otherwise:
   a. Notice of a meeting of the board of directors need be given only to those directors whom it is practicable to reach and may be given in any practicable manner, including by publication and radio.
   b. One or more officers of the corporation present at a meeting of the board of directors may be deemed to be directors for the meeting, in order of rank and within the same rank in order of seniority, as necessary to achieve a quorum.
3. Corporate action taken in good faith during an emergency under this section to further the ordinary business affairs of the corporation shall:
   a. Bind the corporation.
   b. Not be used to impose liability on a corporate director, officer, employee, or agent.
4. An emergency exists for purposes of this section if a quorum of the corporation’s directors cannot readily be assembled because of some catastrophic event.

§490.304 Ultra vires.
1. Except as provided in subsection 2, the validity of corporate action is not challengeable on the ground that the corporation lacks or lacked power to act.
2. A corporation's power to act may be challenged in any of the following proceedings:
   a. By a shareholder against the corporation to enjoin the act.
   b. By the corporation, directly, derivatively, or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative, against an incumbent or former director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation.
   c. By the attorney general under section 490.1430.
3. In a shareholder’s proceeding under subsection 2, paragraph “a”, to enjoin an unauthorized corporate act, the court may enjoin or set aside the act, if equitable and if all affected persons are parties to the proceeding, and may award damages for loss, other than anticipated profits, suffered by the corporation or another party because of enjoining the unauthorized act.

DIVISION IV NAMES

§490.401 Corporate name.
1. A corporate name:
   a. Must contain the word “corporation”, “incorporated”, “company”, or “limited”, or the abbreviation “corp.”, “inc.”, “co.”, or “ltd.”, or words or abbreviations of like import in another language.
   b. Shall not contain language stating or implying that the corporation is organized for a purpose other than that permitted by section 490.301 and its articles of incorporation.
   c. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, a corporate name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:
      a. The corporate name of a corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.
      b. A corporate name reserved or registered under section 490.402, 490.403, 504.402, or 504A.7.
      c. The fictitious name adopted by a foreign corporation or a not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state because its real name is unavailable.
      d. The corporate name of a not-for-profit corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.
   2. A corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary’s records from one or more of the names described in subsection 2. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:
      a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.
      b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant’s right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A corporation may use the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state and the proposed user corporation submits documentation to the satisfaction of the secretary of state establishing one of the following conditions:
   a. Has merged with the other corporation.
   b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.
   c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a corporation or a foreign corporation uses a fictitious name in this state it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

1. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a corporate name, including a fictitious name for a foreign corporation whose corporate name is not available, by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth the name and address of the applicant and the name proposed to be reserved. If the secretary of state finds that the corporate name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant’s exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty day period.

2. The owner of a reserved corporate name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

490.403 Registered name.
1. A foreign corporation may register its corporate name, or its corporate name with any addition required by section 490.1506, the state or country and date of its incorporation, and a brief description of the nature of the business in which it is engaged.

2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:
   a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   b. A corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   c. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

89 Acts, ch 288, §31

DIVISION V
REGISTERED OFFICE AND AGENT — SERVICE

490.501 Registered office and registered agent.
Each corporation must continuously maintain in this state both of the following:

1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.

2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:
   a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

3. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

89 Acts, ch 288, §32

490.502 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A corporation may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
490.503  Resignation of registered agent.
1. A registered agent may resign the agent’s agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the corporation, including the date the copies were sent.
89 Acts, ch 288, §34; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §6

490.504  Service on corporation.
1. A corporation’s registered agent is the corporation’s agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the corporation.
2. If a corporation has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the corporation may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the corporation at its principal office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of:
   a. The date the corporation receives the mail.
   b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the corporation.
   c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.
89 Acts, ch 288, §35; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §7

DIVISION VI SHARES AND SHAREHOLDERS’ RIGHTS
PART A

490.601 Authorized shares.
1. The articles of incorporation must prescribe the classes of shares and the number of shares of each class that the corporation is authorized to issue. If more than one class of shares is authorized, the articles of incorporation must prescribe a distinguishing designation for each class, and, prior to the issuance of shares of a class, the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of that class must be described in the articles of incorporation.
All shares of a class must have preferences, limitations, and relative rights identical with those of other shares of the same class except to the extent otherwise permitted by section 490.602.
2. The articles of incorporation must authorize both of the following:
   a. One or more classes of shares that together have unlimited voting rights.
   b. One or more classes of shares, which may be the same class or classes as those with voting rights, that together are entitled to receive the net assets of the corporation upon dissolution.
3. The articles of incorporation may authorize one or more classes of shares that have any of the following qualities:
   a. Have special, conditional, or limited voting rights, or no right to vote, except to the extent prohibited by this chapter.
   b. Are redeemable or convertible as specified in the articles of incorporation in any of the following ways:
      (1) At the option of the corporation, the shareholders, or another person or upon the occurrence of a designated event.
§490.601, BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

(2) For cash, indebtedness, securities, or other property.
(3) In a designated amount or in an amount determined in accordance with a designated formula or by reference to extrinsic data or events.
   c. Entitle the holders to distributions calculated in any manner, including dividends that may be cumulative, noncumulative, or partially cumulative.
   d. Have preference over any other class of shares with respect to distributions, including dividends and distributions upon the dissolution of the corporation.

4. The description of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of share classes in subsection 3 is not exhaustive.
89 Acts, ch 288, §36

§490.602 Terms of class or series determined by board of directors.
1. If the articles of incorporation so provide, the board of directors may determine, in whole or part, the preferences, limitations, and relative rights, within the limits set forth in section 490.601, of either of the following:
   a. Any class of shares before the issuance of any shares of that class.
   b. One or more series within a class before the issuance of any shares of that series.
   c. Each series of a class must be given a distinguishing designation.
   d. All shares of a series must have preferences, limitations, and relative rights identical with those of other shares of the same series and, except to the extent otherwise provided in the description of the series, with those of other shares of the same class.
4. Before issuing any shares of a class or series created under this section, the corporation must deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment, which are effective without shareholding action, that set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
   b. The text of the amendment determining the terms of the class or series of shares.
   c. The date it was adopted.

89 Acts, ch 288, §37

§490.603 Issued and outstanding shares.
1. A corporation may issue the number of shares of each class or series authorized by the articles of incorporation. Shares that are issued are outstanding shares until they are reacquired, redeemed, converted, or canceled.
2. The reacquisition, redemption, or conversion of outstanding shares is subject to the limitations of subsection 3 and to section 490.640.
3. At all times that shares of the corporation are outstanding, one or more shares that together have unlimited voting rights and one or more shares that together are entitled to receive the net assets of the corporation upon dissolution must be outstanding.
89 Acts, ch 288, §38

§490.604 Fractional shares.
1. A corporation may:
   a. Issue fractions of a share or pay in money the value of fractions of a share.
   b. Arrange for disposition of fractional shares by the shareholders.
   c. Issue scrip in registered or bearer form entitling the holder to receive a full share upon surrendering enough scrip to equal a full share.
2. Each certificate representing scrip must be conspicuously labeled “scrip” and must contain the information required by section 490.625, subsection 2.
3. The holder of a fractional share is entitled to exercise the rights of a shareholder, including the right to vote, to receive dividends, and to participate in the assets of the corporation upon liquidation. The holder of scrip is not entitled to any of these rights unless the scrip provides for them.
4. The board of directors may authorize the issuance of scrip subject to any condition considered desirable, including:
   a. That the scrip will become void if not exchanged for full shares before a specified date.
   b. That the shares for which the scrip is exchangeable may be sold and the proceeds paid to the scrip holders.
89 Acts, ch 288, §39

§490.605 through 490.619 Reserved.

PART B

1. A subscription for shares entered into before incorporation is irrevocable for six months unless the subscription agreement provides a longer or shorter period or all the subscribers agree to revocation.
2. The board of directors may determine the payment terms of subscriptions for shares that were entered into before incorporation unless the subscription agreement specifies them. A call for payment by the board of directors must be uniform so far as practicable as to all shares of the same class or series, unless the subscription agreement specifies otherwise.
3. Shares issued pursuant to subscriptions entered into before incorporation are fully paid and nonassessable when the corporation receives the consideration specified in the subscription agreement.
4. If a subscriber defaults in payment of money or property under a subscription agreement entered into before incorporation, the corporation may collect the amount owed as any other debt. Alternatively, unless the subscription agreement provides otherwise, the corporation may rescind the agreement and may sell the shares if the debt remains unpaid more than twenty days after the corporation sends written demand for payment to the subscriber.

5. A subscription agreement entered into after incorporation is a contract between the subscriber and the corporation subject to section 490.621.

89 Acts, ch 288, §40

490.621 Issuance of shares.

1. The powers granted in this section to the board of directors may be reserved to the shareholders by the articles of incorporation.

2. The board of directors may authorize shares to be issued for consideration consisting of any tangible or intangible property or benefit to the corporation, including cash, promissory notes, services performed, contracts for services to be performed, or other securities of the corporation.

3. Before the corporation issues shares, the board of directors must determine that the consideration received or to be received for shares to be issued is adequate. That determination by the board of directors is conclusive insofar as the adequacy of consideration for the issuance of shares relates to whether the shares are validly issued, fully paid, and nonassessable.

4. When the corporation receives the consideration for which the board of directors authorized the issuance of shares, the shares issued for that consideration are fully paid and nonassessable.

5. The corporation may place in escrow shares issued for a contract for future services or benefits or a promissory note, or make other arrangements to restrict the transfer of the shares, and may credit distributions in respect of the shares against their purchase price, until the services are performed, the note is paid, or the benefits received. If the services are not performed, the note is not paid, or the benefits are not received, the shares escrowed or restricted and the distributions credited may be canceled in whole or in part.

6. a. An issuance of shares or other securities convertible into or rights exercisable for shares, in a transaction or a series of integrated transactions, requires approval of the shareholders, at a meeting at which a quorum exists consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter, if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The shares, other securities, or rights are issued for consideration other than cash or cash equivalents.

(2) The voting power of shares that are issued and issuable as a result of the transaction or series of integrated transactions will comprise more than twenty percent of the voting power of the shares of the corporation that were outstanding immediately before the transaction.

b. For purposes of this subsection, the following shall apply:

(1) For purposes of determining the voting power of shares issued and issuable as a result of a transaction or series of integrated transactions, the voting power of shares shall be the greater of the following:

(a) The voting power of the shares to be issued.

(b) The voting power of the shares that would be outstanding after giving effect to the conversion of convertible shares and other securities and the exercise of rights to be issued.

(2) A series of transactions is integrated if consummation of one transaction is made contingent on consummation of one or more of the other transactions.

490.622 Liability of shareholders.

1. A purchaser from a corporation of its own shares is not liable to the corporation or its creditors with respect to the shares except to pay the consideration for which the shares were authorized to be issued under section 490.621, or specified in the subscription agreement authorized under section 490.620.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, a shareholder of a corporation is not personally liable for the acts or debts of the corporation.

490.623 Share dividends.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, shares may be issued pro rata and without consideration to the corporation’s shareholders or to the shareholders of one or more classes or series. An issuance of shares under this subsection is a share dividend.

2. Shares of one class or series shall not be issued as a share dividend in respect of shares of another class or series unless one or more of the following conditions are met:

a. The articles of incorporation so authorize.

b. A majority of the votes entitled to be cast by the class or series to be issued approve the issue.

c. There are no outstanding shares of the class or series to be issued.

3. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a share dividend, it is the date the board of directors authorizes the share dividend.

89 Acts, ch 288, §43

490.624 Share options.

A corporation may issue rights, options, or warrants for the purchase of shares of the corporation. The board of directors shall determine the terms upon which the rights, options, or warrants are issued, their form and content, and the consider-

The terms and conditions of stock rights or options issued by the corporation may include, without limitation, restrictions or conditions that preclude or limit the exercise, transfer, or receipt of such rights or options by a person, or group of persons, owning or offering to acquire a specified number or percentage of the outstanding common shares or other securities of the corporation, or a transferee of the offeror, or that invalidate or void such stock rights or options held by an offeror or a transferee of the offeror.

490.625 Content of certificates.
1. Shares may be, but need not be, represented by certificates. Unless this chapter or another section expressly provides otherwise, the rights and obligations of shareholders are identical whether or not their shares are represented by certificates.
2. At a minimum each share certificate must state on its face all of the following:
   a. The name of the issuing corporation and that it is organized under the law of this state.
   b. The name of the person to whom issued.
   c. The number and class of shares and the designation of the series, if any, the certificate represents.
3. If the issuing corporation is authorized to issue different classes of shares or different series within a class, the designations, relative rights, preferences, and limitations applicable to each class, the variations in rights, preferences, and limitations determined for each series, and the authority of the board of directors to determine variations for future series must be summarized on the front or back of each certificate. Alternatively, each certificate may state conspicuously on its front or back that the corporation will furnish the shareholder this information on request in writing and without charge.
4. Each share certificate:
   a. Must be signed either manually or in facsimile by two officers designated in the bylaws or by the board of directors.
   b. May bear the corporate seal or its facsimile.
5. If the person who signed, either manually or in facsimile, a share certificate no longer holds office when the certificate is issued, the certificate is nevertheless valid.
89 Acts, ch 288, §46

490.626 Shares without certificates.
1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors of a corporation may authorize the issue of some or all of the shares of any or all of its classes or series without certificates. The authorization does not affect shares already represented by certificates until they are surrendered to the corporation.
2. Within a reasonable time after the issue or transfer of shares without certificates, the corporation shall send the shareholder a written statement of the information required on certificates by section 490.625, subsections 2 and 3, and, if applicable, section 490.627.

490.627 Restriction on transfer of shares and other securities.
1. The articles of incorporation, bylaws, an agreement among shareholders, or an agreement between shareholders and the corporation may impose restrictions on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares of the corporation. A restriction does not affect shares issued before the restriction was adopted unless the holders of the shares are parties to the restriction agreement or voted in favor of the restriction.
2. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares is valid and enforceable against the holder or a transferee of the holder if the restriction is authorized by this section and its existence is noted conspicuously on the front or back of the certificate or is contained in the information statement required by section 490.626, subsection 2. Unless so noted, a restriction is not enforceable against a person without knowledge of the restriction.
3. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares is authorized for any of the following purposes:
   a. To maintain the corporation’s status when it is dependent on the number or identity of its shareholders.
   b. To preserve exemptions under federal or state securities law.
   c. For any other reasonable purpose.
4. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares may do any of the following:
   a. Obligate the shareholder first to offer the corporation or other persons, separately, consecutively, or simultaneously, an opportunity to acquire the restricted shares.
   b. Obligate the corporation or other persons, separately, consecutively, or simultaneously, to acquire the restricted shares.
   c. Require the corporation, the holders of any class of its shares, or another person to approve the transfer of the restricted shares, if the requirement is not manifestly unreasonable.
   d. Prohibit the transfer of the restricted shares to designated persons or classes of persons, if the prohibition is not manifestly unreasonable.
5. For purposes of this section, “shares” includes a security convertible into or carrying a right to subscribe for or acquire shares.
89 Acts, ch 288, §48
Expense of issue.
A corporation may pay the expenses of selling or underwriting its shares, and of organizing or reorganizing the corporation, from the consideration received for shares.
89 Acts, ch 288, §49

Reversion of disbursements to cooperative associations.
1. As used in this section, “disbursement” means an amount of any distribution or any other increment or sum realized or accruing from stock or other equity interest in a cooperative association organized under this chapter.
2. Once a person's stock or other equity interest in a cooperative association organized under this chapter is deemed abandoned under section 556.5, any disbursement held by the cooperative association for or owing to the person shall be subject to the same requirements as provided in section 499.30A that apply to a cooperative association organized under chapter 499, including all of the following:
a. The retention of the disbursement in a reversion fund established by the cooperative association or the delivery of the disbursement to the treasurer of state.
b. The payment of the disbursement to a person filing a claim with the cooperative association who asserts an interest in the disbursement.
c. The forfeiture of the disbursement to the cooperative association, and the use of the forfeited disbursement by the cooperative association in order to teach and promote cooperation or provide for economic development, including creating economic opportunities for its shareholders.
2001 Acts, ch 142, §2

PART C

Shareholders' preemptive rights.
1. Unless section 490.1704 is applicable to the corporation, the shareholders of a corporation do not have a preemptive right to acquire the corporation's unissued shares except to the extent the articles of incorporation so provide.
2. A statement included in the articles of incorporation that “the corporation elects to have preemptive rights”, or words of similar import, means that the following principles apply except to the extent the articles of incorporation expressly provide otherwise:
a. The shareholders of the corporation have a preemptive right, granted on uniform terms and conditions prescribed by the board of directors to provide a fair and reasonable opportunity to exercise the right, to acquire proportional amounts of the corporation's unissued shares upon the decision of the board of directors to issue them.
b. A shareholder may waive the shareholder's preemptive right. A waiver evidenced by a writing is irrevocable even though it is not supported by consideration.
c. There is no preemptive right with respect to:
   (1) Shares issued as compensation to directors, officers, agents, or employees of the corporation, its subsidiaries, or its affiliates.
   (2) Shares issued to satisfy conversion or option rights created to provide compensation to directors, officers, agents, or employees of the corporation, its subsidiaries, or its affiliates.
   (3) Shares authorized in articles of incorporation that are issued within six months from the effective date of incorporation.
   (4) Shares sold otherwise than for money.
   d. Holders of shares of any class without general voting rights but with preferential rights to distributions or assets have no preemptive rights with respect to shares of any class.
   e. Holders of shares of any class with general voting rights but without preferential rights to distributions or assets have no preemptive rights with respect to shares of any class with preferential rights to distributions or assets unless the shares with preferential rights are convertible into or carry a right to subscribe for or acquire shares without preferential rights.
   f. Shares subject to preemptive rights that are not acquired by shareholders may be issued to any person for a period of one year after being offered to shareholders at a consideration set by the board of directors that is not lower than the consideration set for the exercise of preemptive rights. An offer at a lower consideration or after the expiration of one year is subject to the shareholders' preemptive rights.
3. For purposes of this section, “shares” includes a security convertible into or carrying a right to subscribe for or acquire shares.
89 Acts, ch 288, §50

Corporation's acquisition of its own shares.
1. A corporation may acquire its own shares and, except as may be otherwise provided pursuant to section 490.632, shares so acquired constitute authorized but unissued shares.
2. If the articles of incorporation prohibit the reissue of the acquired shares, the number of authorized shares is reduced by the number of shares acquired.

Reacquired shares as issued but not outstanding shares.
1. A corporation which, as of December 30, 1989, treated any of its shares which it had reacquired as issued but not outstanding shares may continue to treat those shares as issued but not outstanding shares.
2. If a corporation reacquires its own shares
§490.632, BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

490.640 Distribution to shareholders.

1. A board of directors may authorize and the corporation may make distributions to its shareholders subject to restriction by the articles of incorporation and the limitation in subsection 3.

2. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a distribution, other than one involving a repurchase or reacquisition of shares, it is the date the board of directors authorizes the distribution.

3. No distribution may be made if, after giving it effect either of the following would result:

   a. The corporation would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of business.

   b. The corporation's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus, unless the articles of incorporation permit otherwise, the amount that would be needed, if the corporation were to be dissolved at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution of shareholders whose preferential rights are superior to those receiving the distribution.

4. The board of directors may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 3 either on financial statements prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances or on a fair valuation or other method that is reasonable in the circumstances.

5. The effect of a distribution under subsection 3 is measured:

   a. In the case of distribution by purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of the corporation's shares, as of the earlier of:

      (1) The date money or other property is transferred or debt incurred by the corporation.

      (2) The date the shareholder ceases to be a shareholder with respect to the acquired shares.

   b. In the case of any other distribution of indebtedness, as of the date the indebtedness is distributed.

   c. In all other cases, as of:

      (1) The date the distribution is authorized if the payment occurs within one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.

      (2) The date the payment is made if it occurs more than one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.

6. A corporation's indebtedness to a shareholder incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this section is at parity with the corporation's indebtedness to its general, unsecured creditors except to the extent subordinated by agreement.

7. This section shall not apply to distributions in liquidation under division XIV.

DIVISION VII

MEETINGS — NOTICE — VOTING

PART A

490.701 Annual meeting.

1. A corporation shall hold annually, at a time stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, a meeting of shareholders.

2. Annual shareholders' meetings may be held in or out of this state at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no place is stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, annual meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

3. The failure to hold an annual meeting at the time stated in or fixed in accordance with a corporation's bylaws does not affect the validity of any corporate action.

89 Acts, ch 288, §53

490.702 Special meeting.

1. Except as provided in subsection 5, a corporation shall hold a special meeting of shareholders upon the occurrence of either of the following:
a. On call of its board of directors or the person or persons authorized to call a special meeting by the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

b. If the shareholders of at least ten percent of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed special meeting sign, date, and deliver to the corporation one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held, provided that the articles of incorporation may fix a lower percentage or a higher percentage not exceeding twenty-five percent of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, a written demand for a special meeting may be revoked by a writing to that effect received by the corporation prior to the receipt by the corporation of demands sufficient in number to require the holding of a special meeting.

2. If not otherwise fixed under section 490.703 or 490.707, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to demand a special meeting is the date the first shareholder signs the demand.

3. Special shareholders’ meetings may be held in or out of this state at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no place is stated or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, special meetings shall be held at the corporation’s principal office.

4. Only business with the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice required by section 490.705, subsection 3, may be conducted at a special shareholders’ meeting.

5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 through 4, a corporation which has a class of voting stock that is listed on a national securities exchange, authorized for quotation on the national association of securities dealers automated quotations – national market system, or held of record by more than two thousand shareholders, is required to hold a special meeting only upon the occurrence of either of the following:

a. On call of its board of directors or the person or persons authorized to call a special meeting by the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

b. If the holders of at least fifty percent of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed special meeting sign, date, and deliver to the corporation’s secretary one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held.

490.703 Court-ordered meeting.

1. The district court of the county where a corporation’s principal office, or, if none in this state, its registered office, is located may summarily or, on application of any shareholder of the corporation entitled to participate in an annual meeting if an annual meeting was not held within the earlier of six months after the end of the corporation’s fiscal year or fifteen months after its last annual meeting.

b. On application of a shareholder who signed a demand for a special meeting valid under section 490.702 if either:

(1) Notice of the special meeting was not given within thirty days after the date the demand was delivered to the corporation’s secretary.

(2) The special meeting was not held in accordance with the notice.

2. The court may fix the time and place of the meeting, ascertain the shares entitled to participate in the meeting, specify a record date for ascertaining shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at the meeting, prescribe the form and content of the meeting notice, fix the quorum required for specific matters to be considered at the meeting or direct that the votes represented at the meeting constitute a quorum for action on those matters, and enter other orders necessary to accomplish the purpose or purposes of the meeting.

490.704 Action without meeting.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, any action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a shareholders’ meeting may be taken without a meeting or vote, and, except as provided in subsection 5, without prior notice, if one or more written consents describing the action taken are signed by the holders of outstanding shares having not less than ninety percent of the votes entitled to be cast at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote on the action were present and voted, and are delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

2. A written consent shall bear the date of signature of each shareholder who signs the consent and no written consent is effective to take the corporate action referred to in the consent unless, within sixty days of the earliest dated consent delivered in the manner required by this section to the corporation, written consents signed by a sufficient number of holders to take action are delivered to the corporation. A written consent may be revoked by a writing to that effect received by the corporation prior to the receipt by the corporation of unrevoked written consents sufficient in number to take corporate action.

3. If not otherwise fixed under section 490.703 or 490.707, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting is the date the first shareholder signs the consent under subsection 1.

4. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

5. If this chapter requires that notice of proposed action be given to shareholders not entitled to vote and the action is to be taken by consent of the voting shareholders, the corporation must give all shareholders written notice of the proposed action at least ten days before the action is taken. The notice must contain or be accompanied by the same material that, under this chapter, would have been required to be sent to shareholders not entitled to vote in a notice of meeting at which the proposed action would have been submitted to the shareholders for action.

6. Prompt notice of the taking of corporate action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to those shareholders who have not consented in writing. If the taking of that corporate action requires the giving of notice under section 490.1320, subsection 2, the notice of the action shall set forth the matters described in section 490.1322.

§490.705 Notice of meeting.
1. A corporation shall notify shareholders of the date, time, and place of each annual and special shareholders’ meeting no fewer than ten nor more than sixty days before the meeting date. Unless this chapter or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, the corporation is required to give notice only to shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting.

2. Unless this chapter or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, notice of an annual meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

3. Notice of a special meeting must include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

4. If not otherwise fixed under section 490.703 or 490.707, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at an annual or special shareholders’ meeting is the close of business on the day before the first notice is delivered to shareholders.

5. Unless the bylaws require otherwise, if an annual or special shareholders’ meeting is adjourned to a different date, time, or place, notice need not be given of the new date, time, or place if the new date, time, or place is announced at the meeting before adjournment. If a new record date for the adjourned meeting is or must be fixed under section 490.707, however, notice of the adjourned meeting must be given under this section to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

§490.706 Waiver of notice.
1. A shareholder may waive any notice required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. The waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

2. A shareholder’s attendance at a meeting:
   a. Waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the shareholder’s arrival objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting.
   b. Waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

§490.707 Record date.
1. The bylaws may fix or provide the manner of fixing the record date for one or more voting groups in order to determine the shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders’ meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action. If the bylaws do not fix or provide for fixing a record date, the board of directors of the corporation may fix a future date as the record date.

2. A record date fixed under this section shall not be more than seventy days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of shareholders.

3. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders’ meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the board of directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

4. If a court orders a meeting adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty days after the date fixed for the original meeting, it may provide that the original record date continues in effect or it may fix a new record date.

§490.708 Conduct of the meeting.
1. At each meeting of shareholders, a chairperson shall preside. The chairperson shall be appointed as provided in the bylaws or, in the absence of such provisions, by the board.

2. The chairperson, unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, shall determine the order of business and shall have the authority to establish rules for the conduct of the meeting.

3. Any rules adopted for, and the conduct of, the meeting shall be fair to shareholders.

4. The chairperson of the meeting shall announce at the meeting when the polls close for each matter voted upon. If no announcement is made, the polls shall be deemed to have closed upon the final adjournment of the meeting. After the polls close, no ballots, proxies, or votes nor any votes may be accepted.

A corporation are not entitled to vote if they are not shareholders. Only shares are entitled to vote.

A shareholders' meeting. Only shares are entitled to vote on each matter voted on at the meeting.

wise, each outstanding share, regardless of class, is entitled to one vote on each matter voted on at a shareholders' meeting. Only shares are entitled to vote.

A shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of section 490.1602, subsection 3, to copy the list, during regular business hours and at the person's expense, during the period it is available for inspection.

The corporation shall make the shareholders' list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment.

If the corporation refuses to allow a shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, to inspect the shareholders' list before or at the meeting, or copy the list as permitted by subsection 2, the district court of the county where a corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office, is located, on application of the shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled to summarily order the inspection or copying at the corporation's expense and may postpone the meeting for which the list was prepared until the inspection or copying is complete.

Refusal or failure to prepare or make available the shareholders' list does not affect the validity of action taken at the meeting.

A shareholder may vote the shareholder's shares in person or by proxy.

A shareholder or the shareholder's agent or attorney-in-fact may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for the shareholder by signing an appointment form or by an electronic transmission.

An electronic transmission must contain or be accompanied by information from which one can determine that the shareholder, the shareholder's agent, or the shareholder's attorney-in-fact authorized the electronic transmission.

An appointment of a proxy is effective when a signed appointment form or an electronic transmission of the appointment is received by the in-sector of election or the officer or agent of the corporation authorized to tabulate votes. An appointment is valid for eleven months unless a longer period is expressly provided in the appointment.

An appointment of a proxy is revocable unless the appointment form or electronic transmission states that it is irrevocable and the appointment is valid for eleven months unless a longer period is expressly provided in the appointment.

A party to a voting agreement created under section 490.731.

The death or incapacity of the shareholder appointing a proxy does not affect the right of the corporation to accept the proxy's authority unless notice of the death or incapacity is received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes before the proxy exercises the proxy's authority under the appointment.

An appointment made irrevocable under subsection 4 is revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished.

A transferee for value of shares subject to an owned, directly or indirectly, by a second corporation, domestic or foreign, and the first corporation owns, directly or indirectly, a majority of the shares entitled to vote for directors of the second corporation.

Subsection 2 does not limit the power of a corporation to vote any shares, including its own shares, held by it in a fiduciary capacity.

Redeemable shares are not entitled to vote after notice of redemption is mailed to the holders and a sum sufficient to redeem the shares has been deposited with a bank, trust company, or other financial institution under an irrevocable obligation to pay the holders the redemption price on surrender of the shares.

A creditor of the corporation who extended credit under terms requiring the appointment.

A person who purchased or agreed to purchase the shares.

A party to a voting agreement created under section 490.731.

The death or incapacity of the shareholder appointing a proxy does not affect the right of the corporation to accept the proxy's authority unless notice of the death or incapacity is received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes before the proxy exercises the proxy's authority under the appointment.

An appointment made irrevocable under subsection 4 is revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished.

A transferee for value of shares subject to an irrevocable appointment may revoke the appointment if the transferee did not know of its existence when the transferee acquired the shares and the existence of the irrevocable appointment was not noted conspicuously on the certificate representing the shares or on the information statement for shares without certificates.

8. Subject to section 490.724 and to any express limitation on the proxy's authority stated in the appointment form or electronic transmission, a corporation is entitled to accept the proxy's vote or other action as that of the shareholder making the appointment.

490.723 Shares held by nominees.

1. A corporation may establish a procedure by which the beneficial owner of shares that are registered in the name of a nominee is recognized by the corporation as the shareholder. The extent of this recognition may be determined in the procedure.

2. The procedure may set forth:
   a. The types of nominees to which it applies.
   b. The rights or privileges that the corporation recognizes in a beneficial owner.
   c. The manner in which the procedure is selected by the nominee.
   d. The information that must be provided when the procedure is selected.
   e. The period for which selection of the procedure is effective.
   f. Other aspects of the rights and duties created.

89 Acts, ch 288, §63

490.724 Corporation’s acceptance of votes.

1. If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment corresponds to the name of a shareholder, the corporation if acting in good faith is entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder.

2. If the name signed on a voted consent, waiver, or proxy appointment does not correspond to the name of its shareholder, the corporation if acting in good faith is nevertheless entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder if:
   a. The shareholder is an entity and the name signed purports to be that of an officer or agent of the entity.
   b. The name signed purports to be that of an administrator, executor, guardian of the property, or conservator representing the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of fiduciary status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.
   c. The name signed purports to be that of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of this status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.
   d. The name signed purports to be that of a pledgee, beneficial owner, or attorney-in-fact of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence acceptable to the corporation of the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.
   e. Two or more persons are the shareholder as co-tenants or fiduciaries and the name signed purports to be the name of at least one of the co-owners and the person signing appears to be acting on behalf of all the co-owners.

3. The corporation is entitled to reject a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment if the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes, acting in good faith, has reasonable basis for doubt about the validity of the signature on it or about the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder.

4. The corporation and its officer or agent who accepts or rejects a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment in good faith and in accordance with the standards of this section or section 490.722, subsection 2, are not liable in damages to the shareholder for the consequences of the acceptance or rejection.

5. Corporate action based on the acceptance or rejection of a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment under this section is valid unless a court of competent jurisdiction determines otherwise.

490.725 Quorum and voting requirements for voting groups.

1. Shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group may take action on a matter at a meeting only if a quorum of those shares exists with respect to that matter. Unless the articles of incorporation or this chapter provides otherwise, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group constitutes a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter.

2. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for that adjourned meeting.

3. If a quorum exists, action on a matter, other than the election of directors, by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation or this chapter require a greater number of affirmative votes.
4. An amendment of articles of incorporation adding, changing, or deleting a quorum or voting requirement for a voting group greater than specified in subsection 2 or 3 is governed by section 490.727.
5. The election of directors is governed by section 490.728.
89 Acts, ch 288, §65

490.726 Action by single or multiple groups.
1. If the articles of incorporation or this chapter provide for voting by a single voting group on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted upon by that voting group as provided in section 490.725.
2. If the articles of incorporation or this chapter provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately as provided in section 490.725. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter.
89 Acts, ch 288, §66

490.727 Greater quorum or voting requirements.
1. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may provide for a greater quorum or voting requirement for shareholders or voting groups of shareholders than is provided for by this chapter.
2. An amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws that adds, changes, or deletes a greater quorum or voting requirement must meet the same quorum requirement and be adopted by the same vote and voting groups required to take action under the quorum and voting requirements then in effect or proposed to be adopted, whichever is greater.

490.728 Voting for directors — cumulative voting.
1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election at a meeting at which a quorum is present.
2. Shareholders do not have a right to cumulate their votes for directors unless the articles of incorporation so provide.
3. A statement included in the articles of incorporation that “[all] [a designated voting group of] shareholders are entitled to cumulate their votes for directors”, or words of similar import, means that the shareholders designated are entitled to multiply the number of votes they are entitled to cast by the number of directors for whom they are entitled to vote and cast the product for a single candidate or distribute the product among two or more candidates.

490.729 Inspectors of election.
1. A corporation having any shares listed on a national securities exchange or regularly traded in a market maintained by one or more members of a national or affiliated securities association shall, and any other corporation may, appoint one or more inspectors to act at a meeting of shareholders and make a written report of the inspectors' determinations. Each inspector shall take and sign an oath faithfully to execute the duties of inspector with strict impartiality and according to the best of the inspector's ability.
2. The inspectors shall do all of the following:
   a. Ascertain the number of shares outstanding and the voting power of each.
   b. Determine the shares represented at a meeting.
   c. Determine the validity of proxies and ballots.
   d. Count all votes.
   e. Determine the result.
3. An inspector may be an officer or employee of the corporation.
2002 Acts, ch 1154, §21, 125

PART C

490.730 Voting trusts.
1. One or more shareholders may create a voting trust, conferring on a trustee the right to vote or otherwise act for them, by signing an agreement setting out the provisions of the trust, which may include anything consistent with its purpose, and transferring their shares to the trustee. When a voting trust agreement is signed, the trustee shall prepare a list of the names and addresses of all owners of beneficial interests in the trust, together with the number and class of shares each transferred to the trust, and deliver copies of the list and agreement to the corporation's principal office.
2. A voting trust becomes effective on the date the first shares subject to the trust are registered in the trustee's name. A voting trust is valid for not more than ten years after its effective date unless extended under subsection 3.
3. All or some of the parties to a voting trust may extend it for additional terms of not more than ten years each by signing an extension agreement and obtaining the voting trustee's written consent to the extension. An extension is valid for ten years from the date the first shareholder signs the extension agreement. The voting trustee must deliver copies of the extension agreement and list of beneficial owners to the corporation's principal office.
office. An extension agreement binds only those parties signing it.
89 Acts, ch 288, §69

§490.731 Voting agreements.
1. Two or more shareholders may provide for the manner in which they will vote their shares by signing an agreement for that purpose. A voting agreement created under this section is not subject to section 490.730.
2. A voting agreement created under this section is specifically enforceable.
89 Acts, ch 288, §70

§490.732 Shareholder agreements.
1. An agreement among the shareholders of a corporation that complies with this section is effective among the shareholders and the corporation even though it is inconsistent with one or more other provisions of this chapter in that it does one of the following:
a. Eliminates the board of directors or restricts the discretion or powers of the board of directors.
b. Governs the authorization or making of distributions whether or not in proportion to ownership of shares, subject to the limitations in section 490.640.
c. Establishes who shall be directors or officers of the corporation, or their terms of office or manner of selection or removal.
d. Governs, in general or in regard to specific matters, the exercise or division of voting power by or between the shareholders and directors or by or among any of them, including use of weighted voting rights or director proxies.
e. Establishes the terms and conditions of any agreement for the transfer or use of property or the provision of services between the corporation and any shareholder, director, officer, or employee of the corporation, or among any of them.
f. Transfers to one or more shareholders or other persons all or part of the authority to exercise the corporate powers or to manage the business and affairs of the corporation, including the resolution of any issue about which there exists a deadlock among directors or shareholders.
g. Requires dissolution of the corporation at the request of one or more of the shareholders or upon the occurrence of a specified event or contingency.
h. Otherwise governs the exercise of the corporate powers or the management of the business and affairs of the corporation or the relationship among the shareholders, the directors, and the corporation, or among any of them, and is not contrary to public policy.
2. An agreement authorized by this section must satisfy all of the following requirements:
a. Be set forth in one of the following places and manners:

(1) The articles of incorporation or bylaws and approved by all persons who are shareholders at the time of the agreement.
(2) In a written agreement that is signed by all persons who are shareholders at the time of the agreement and is made known to the corporation.
b. Be subject to amendment only by all persons who are shareholders at the time of the amendment, unless the agreement provides otherwise.
c. Be valid for ten years, unless the agreement provides otherwise.
3. The existence of an agreement authorized by this section shall be noted conspicuously on the front or back of each certificate for outstanding shares or on the information statement required by section 490.626, subsection 2. If at the time of the agreement the corporation has shares outstanding represented by certificates, the corporation shall recall the outstanding certificates and issue substitute certificates that comply with this subsection. The failure to note the existence of the agreement on the certificate or information statement shall not affect the validity of the agreement or any action taken pursuant to it. Any purchaser of shares who, at the time of purchase, did not have knowledge of the existence of the agreement shall be entitled to rescission of the purchase. A purchaser shall be deemed to have knowledge of the existence of the agreement if its existence is noted on the certificate or information statement for the shares in compliance with this subsection and, if the shares are not represented by a certificate, the information statement is delivered to the purchaser at or prior to the time of purchase of the shares. An action to enforce the right of rescission authorized by this subsection must be commenced within the earlier of ninety days after discovery of the existence of the agreement or two years after the time of purchase of the shares.
4. An agreement authorized by this section shall cease to be effective when shares of the corporation are listed on a national securities exchange or regularly traded in a market maintained by one or more members of a national or affiliated securities association. If the agreement ceases to be effective for any reason, the board of directors may, if the agreement is contained or referred to in the corporation’s articles of incorporation or bylaws, adopt an amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws, without shareholder action, to delete the agreement and any references to it.
5. An agreement authorized by this section that limits the discretion or powers of the board of directors shall relieve the directors of, and impose upon the person or persons in whom such discretion or powers are vested, liability for acts or omissions imposed by law on directors to the extent that the discretion or powers of the directors are limited by the agreement.
6. The existence or performance of an agreement authorized by this section shall not be a ground for imposing personal liability on any shareholder for the acts or debts of the corporation even if the agreement or its performance treats the corporation as if it were a partnership or results in failure to observe the corporate formalities otherwise applicable to the matters governed by the agreement.

7. Incorporators or subscribers for shares may act as shareholders with respect to an agreement authorized by this section if no shares have been issued when the agreement is made.

490.734 Definitions.
In this part, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Derivative proceeding” means a civil suit in the right of a domestic corporation or, to the extent provided in section 490.747, in the right of a foreign corporation.
2. “Shareholder” includes a beneficial owner whose shares are held in a voting trust or held by a nominee on the beneficial owner’s behalf.

89 Acts, ch 288, §71; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §23, 125

490.741 Standing.
A shareholder shall not commence or maintain a derivative proceeding unless the shareholder satisfies both of the following:
1. Was a shareholder of the corporation at the time of the act or omission complained of or became a shareholder through transfer by operation of law from one who was a shareholder at that time.
2. Fairly and adequately represents the interests of the corporation in enforcing the right of the corporation.

2002 Acts, ch 1154, §24, 125

490.742 Demand.
A shareholder shall not commence a derivative proceeding until both of the following have occurred:
1. A written demand has been made upon the corporation to take suitable action.
2. Ninety days have expired from the date the demand was made, unless the shareholder has earlier been notified that the demand has been rejected by the corporation or unless irreparable injury to the corporation would result by waiting for the expiration of the ninety-day period.

2002 Acts, ch 1154, §25, 125

490.743 Stay of proceedings.
If the corporation commences an inquiry into the allegations made in the demand or complaint, the court may stay any derivative proceeding for a period of time as the court deems appropriate.

490.744 Dismissal.
1. A derivative proceeding shall be dismissed by the court on motion by the corporation if one of the groups specified in subsection 2 or 6 has determined in good faith after conducting a reasonable inquiry upon which its conclusions are based that the maintenance of the derivative proceeding is not in the best interests of the corporation. A corporation moving to dismiss on this basis shall submit in support of the motion a short and concise statement of the reasons for its determination.

2. Unless a panel is appointed pursuant to subsection 6, the determination in subsection 1 shall be made by one of the following:
   a. A majority vote of independent directors present at a meeting of the board of directors if the independent directors constitute a quorum.
   b. A majority vote of a committee consisting of two or more independent directors appointed by majority vote of independent directors present at a meeting of the board of directors, whether or not such independent directors constitute a quorum.
   c. None of the following shall by itself cause a director to be considered not independent for purposes of this section:
      a. The nomination or election of the director by persons who are defendants in the derivative proceeding or against whom action is demanded.
      b. The naming of the director as a defendant in the derivative proceeding or as a person against whom action is demanded.
      c. The approval by the director of the act being challenged in the derivative proceeding or demand if the act resulted in no personal benefit to the director.

3. A derivative proceeding shall be dismissed if a derivative proceeding is commenced after a determination has been made rejecting a demand by a shareholder, the complaint shall allege with particularity facts establishing one of the following:
   a. That a majority of the board of directors did not consist of independent directors at the time the determination was made.
   b. That the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met.

All discovery and other proceedings shall be stayed during the pendency of any motion to dismiss unless the court finds upon the motion of any party that particularized discovery is necessary to preserve evidence or prevent undue prejudice to that party.

4. If a majority of the board of directors does not consist of independent directors at the time the determination is made, the corporation shall have the burden of proving that the requirements of subsection 1 have been met. If a majority of the board of directors consists of independent directors at the time the determination is made, the plaintiff shall have the burden of proving that the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met.

6. The court may appoint a panel of one or more independent persons upon motion by the corporation to make a determination whether the maintenance of the derivative proceeding is in the best interests of the corporation. In such case, the plaintiff shall have the burden of proving that the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met.

490.745 Discontinuance or settlement.
A derivative proceeding shall not be discontinued or settled without the court's approval. If the court determines that a proposed discontinuance or settlement will substantially affect the interests of the corporation's shareholders or a class of shareholders, the court shall direct that notice be given to the shareholders affected.

490.746 Payment of expenses.
On termination of the derivative proceeding, the court may do either of the following:
2. Order the plaintiff to pay any defendant's reasonable expenses, including attorney fees incurred in defending the proceeding, if it finds that the proceeding was commenced or maintained without reasonable cause or for an improper purpose.

490.747 Applicability to foreign corporations.
In any derivative proceeding in the right of a foreign corporation, the matters covered by this part shall be governed by the laws of the jurisdiction of incorporation of the foreign corporation except for sections 490.743, 490.745, and 490.746.

2002 Acts, ch 1154, §30, 125

DIVISION VIII DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS
PART A

490.801 Requirement for and duties of board of directors.
1. Except as provided in section 490.732, each corporation must have a board of directors.
2. All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation managed by or under the direction of, its board of directors, subject to any limitation set forth in the articles of incorporation, or in an agreement authorized under section 490.732.

490.802 Qualifications of directors.
The articles of incorporation or bylaws may prescribe qualifications for directors. A director need not be a resident of this state or a shareholder of the corporation unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws so prescribe.

89 Acts, ch 288, §73

490.803 Number and election of directors.
1. A board of directors must consist of one or more individuals, with the number specified in or fixed in accordance with the articles of incorporation or bylaws.
2. The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to, or in the manner provided in, the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.
3. Directors are elected at the first annual shareholders' meeting and at each annual meeting thereafter unless their terms are staggered under section 490.806.

490.804 Election of directors by certain classes of shareholders.
If the articles of incorporation authorize dividing the shares into classes, the articles may also authorize the election of all or a specified number of directors by the holders of one or more authorized classes of shares. Each class, or classes, of shares entitled to elect one or more directors is a separate voting group for purposes of the election of directors.

490.805 Terms of directors generally.
1. The terms of the initial directors of a corporation expire at the first shareholders' meeting at which directors are elected.
2. The terms of all other directors expire at the next annual shareholders' meeting following their election unless their terms are staggered under section 490.806.
3. A decrease in the number of directors does not shorten an incumbent director's term.
4. The term of a director elected to fill a vacancy expires at the next shareholders' meeting at which directors are elected.
5. Despite the expiration of a director's term, §490.806 Staggered terms for directors.
The articles of incorporation may provide for staggering the terms of directors by dividing the total number of directors into two or three groups, with each group containing one-half or one-third of the total, as near as may be. In that event, the terms of directors in the first group expire at the first annual shareholders’ meeting after their election, the terms of the second group expire at the second annual shareholders’ meeting after their election, and the terms of the third group, if any, expire at the third annual shareholders’ meeting after their election. At each annual shareholders’ meeting held thereafter, directors shall be chosen for a term of two years or three years, as the case may be, to succeed those whose terms expire.
§490.807 Resignation of directors.
1. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the board of directors, its chairperson, or to the corporation.
2. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.
§490.808 Removal of directors by shareholders.
1. The shareholders may remove one or more directors with or without cause unless the articles of incorporation provide that directors may be removed only for cause.
2. If a director is elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove that director.
3. If cumulative voting is authorized, a director shall not be removed if the number of votes sufficient to elect that director under cumulative voting is voted against the director’s removal. If cumulative voting is not authorized, a director may be removed only if the number of votes cast to remove that director exceeds the number of votes cast not to remove the director.
4. A director may be removed by the shareholders only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing the director and after notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director. A director shall not be removed pursuant to written consents under section 490.704 unless written consents are obtained from the holders of all the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote on the removal of the director.
§490.809 Removal of directors by judicial proceeding.
1. The district court of the county where a corporation’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located may remove a director of the corporation from office in a proceeding commenced by or in the right of the corporation if the court finds that both of the following apply:
   a. The director engaged in fraudulent conduct with respect to the corporation or its shareholders, grossly abused the position of director, or intentionally inflicted harm on the corporation.
   b. Considering the director’s course of conduct and the inadequacy of other available remedies, removal would be in the best interest of the corporation.
2. A shareholder proceeding on behalf of the corporation under subsection 1 shall comply with all of the requirements of division VII, part D, except section 490.741.
3. The court, in addition to removing the director, may bar the director from reelection for a period prescribed by the court.
4. This section does not limit the equitable powers of the court to order other relief.
§490.810 Vacancy on board.
1. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, if a vacancy occurs on a board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the vacancy may be filled in any of the following manners:
   a. The shareholders may fill the vacancy.
   b. The board of directors may fill the vacancy.
   c. If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office.
2. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the holders of shares of that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy if it is filled by the shareholders.
3. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date, by reason of a resignation effective at a later date under section 490.807, subsection 2 or otherwise, may be filled before the vacancy occurs but the new director shall not take office until the vacancy occurs.
§490.811 Compensation of directors.
Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors.

PART B

1. The board of directors may hold regular or special meetings in or out of this state.
2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting by this means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

1. Except to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws require that action by the board of directors be taken at a meeting, action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken by the board of directors may be taken without a meeting if each director signs a consent describing the action to be taken and delivers it to the corporation.
2. Action taken under this section is the act of the board of directors when corporate action is taken is deemed effective. The consent may be withdrawn by revocation signed by the director and delivered to the corporation. The consent may specify the time at which the action taken is to be effective. A director’s consent may be withdrawn by revocation signed by the director and delivered to the corporation prior to delivery to the corporation of unrevoked written consents signed by all the directors.
3. A consent signed under this section has the effect of an action taken at a meeting of the board of directors and may be described as such in any document.

§490.822 Notice of meeting.
1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, regular meetings of the board of directors may be held without notice of the date, time, place, or purpose of the meeting.
2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide for a longer or shorter period, special meetings of the board of directors must be preceded by at least two days’ notice of the date, time, and place of the meeting. The notice need not describe the purpose of the special meeting unless required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

1. A director may waive any notice required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided by subsection 2, the waiver must be in writing, signed by the director entitled to the notice, and filed with the minutes or corporate records.
2. A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to that director of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the director's arrival objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

§490.824 Quorum and voting.
1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require a different number, or unless otherwise specifically provided in this chapter, a quorum of a board of directors consists of either:
   a. A majority of the fixed number of directors if the corporation has a fixed board size.
   b. A majority of the number of directors prescribed, or, if no number is prescribed the number in office immediately before the meeting begins, if the corporation has a variable-range size board.
2. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may authorize a quorum of a board of directors to consist of no fewer than one-third of the fixed or prescribed number of directors determined under subsection 1.
3. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.
4. A director who is present at a meeting of the board of directors or a committee of the board of directors when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless one or more of the following occurs:
   a. The director objects at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the director's arrival to holding it or transacting business at the meeting.
   b. The director’s dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting.
   c. The director delivers written notice of the director’s dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

§490.825 Committees.
1. Unless this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws provide otherwise, a board of directors may create one or more committees and appoint one or more members of the board of directo serve on any committee.

2. Unless this chapter provides otherwise, the creation of a committee and appointment of members to it must be approved by the greater of either:
   a. A majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken.
   b. The number of directors required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws to take action under section 490.824.

3. Sections 490.820 through 490.824 apply both to committees of the board and to committee members.

4. To the extent specified by the board of directors or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, each committee may exercise the powers of the board of directors under section 490.801.

5. A committee shall not, however:
   a. Authorize or approve distributions, except according to formula or method, or within limits, prescribed by the board of directors.
   b. Approve or propose to shareholders action that this chapter requires be approved by shareholders.
   c. Fill vacancies on the board of directors or, subject to subsection 7, on any of its committees.
   d. Adopt, amend, or repeal bylaws.

6. The creation of, delegation of authority to, or action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a director with the standards of conduct described in section 490.830.

7. The board of directors may appoint one or more directors as alternate members of any committee to replace any absent or disqualified member during the member’s absence or disqualification. Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws or the resolution creating the committee provide otherwise, in the event of the absence or disqualification of a member of a committee, the member or members present at any meeting and not disqualified from voting, unanimously, may appoint another director to act in place of the absent or disqualified member.

490.826 through 490.829 Reserved.

PART C

490.830 Standards of conduct for directors.

1. Each member of the board of directors, when discharging the duties of a director, shall act in conformity with all of the following:
   a. In good faith.
   b. In a manner the director reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation.

2. The members of the board of directors or a committee of the board, when becoming informed in connection with their decision-making function or devoting attention to their oversight function, shall discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances.

3. In discharging board or committee duties, a director who does not have knowledge that makes reliance unwarranted is entitled to rely on the performance by any of the persons specified in subsection 5, paragraph “a”, to whom the board may have delegated, formally or informally by course of conduct, the authority or duty to perform one or more of the board’s functions that are delegable under applicable law.

4. In discharging board or committee duties a director, who does not have knowledge that makes reliance unwarranted, is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the persons specified in subsection 5.

5. A director is entitled to rely, in accordance with subsection 3 or 4, on any of the following:
   a. One or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the director reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the functions performed or the information, opinions, reports, or statements provided.
   b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters involving skills or expertise the director reasonably believes are either of the following:
      (1) Matters within the particular person’s professional or expert competence.
      (2) Matters as to which the particular person merits confidence.
   c. A committee of the board of directors of which the director is not a member if the director reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

89 Acts, ch 288, §89; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §37, 125

490.831 Standards of liability for directors.

1. A director shall not be liable to the corporation or its shareholders for any decision as director to take or not to take action, or any failure to take any action, unless the party asserting liability in a proceeding establishes both of the following:
   a. That any provision in the articles of incorporation authorized by section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph “d”, or the protection afforded by section 490.832 if interposed as a bar to the proceeding by the director, does not preclude liability.
   b. That the challenged conduct consisted or was the result of one of the following:
      (1) Action not in good faith.
      (2) A decision that satisfies one of the following:
         (a) That the director did not reasonably believe to be in the best interests of the corporation.
§490.831, BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

(b) As to which the director was not informed to an extent the director reasonably believed appropriate in the circumstances.

(a) Which relationship or which domination or control could reasonably be expected to have affected the director’s judgment respecting the challenged conduct in a manner adverse to the corporation.

(b) After a reasonable expectation to such effect has been established, the director shall not have established that the challenged conduct was reasonably believed by the director to be in the best interests of the corporation.

(4) A sustained failure of the director to devote attention to ongoing oversight of the business and affairs of the corporation, or a failure to devote timely attention, by making, or causing to be made, appropriate inquiry, when particular facts and circumstances of significant concern materialize that would alert a reasonably attentive director to the need for such oversight, attention, or inquiry.

(5) Receipt of a financial benefit to which the director was not entitled or any other breach of the director’s duties to deal fairly with the corporation and its shareholders that is actionable under applicable law.

2. A party seeking to hold the director liable for money damages shall also have the burden of establishing both of the following:

(1) That harm to the corporation or its shareholders has been suffered.

(2) The harm suffered was proximately caused by the director’s challenged conduct.

b. A party seeking to hold the director liable for other money payment under a legal remedy, such as compensation for the unauthorized use of corporate assets, shall also have whatever persuasion burden may be called for to establish that the payment sought is appropriate in the circumstances.

c. A party seeking to hold the director liable for other money payment under an equitable remedy, such as profit recovery by or disgorgement to the corporation, shall also have whatever persuasion burden may be called for to establish that the equitable remedy sought is appropriate in the circumstances.

3. This section shall not do any of the following:

a. In any instance where fairness is at issue, such as consideration of the fairness of a transaction to the corporation under section 490.832, alter the burden of proving the fact or lack of fairness otherwise applicable.

b. Alter the fact or lack of liability of a director under another section of this chapter, such as the provisions governing the consequences of an unlawful distribution under section 490.833 or a transactional interest under section 490.832.

c. Affect any rights to which the corporation or a shareholder may be entitled under another statute of this state or the United States.

490.832 Director conflict of interest.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the corporation in which a director of the corporation has a direct or indirect interest. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the corporation solely because of the director’s interest in the transaction if any one of the following is true:

b. The material facts of the transaction and the director’s interest were disclosed or known to the shareholders entitled to vote and the shareholders authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

c. The transaction was fair to the corporation.

2. For purposes of this section, a director of the corporation has an indirect interest in a transaction if either of the following is true:

a. Another entity in which the director has a material financial interest or in which the director is a general partner is a party to the transaction.

b. Another entity of which the director is a director, officer, or trustee is a party to the transaction and the transaction is or should be considered by the board of directors of the corporation.

3. For purposes of subsection 1, paragraph “a”, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors on the board of directors or on the committee, who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction, but a transaction may not be authorized, approved, or ratified under this section by a single director. If a majority of the directors who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the transaction, a quorum is present for the purpose of taking action under this section.

4. For purposes of subsection 1, paragraph “b”, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the vote of a majority of the shares entitled to be counted under this subsection. Shares owned by or voted under the control of a director who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction, and shares owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection 2, paragraph “a”, shall not be counted in a vote of shareholders to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under subsection 1, paragraph “b”. The vote of those shares, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this chapter. A majority of the shares, whether or not present, that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this subsection constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this section.

490.833 Liability for unlawful distribution.

1. A director who votes for or assents to a distribution in excess of what may be authorized and made pursuant to section 490.640, subsection 1, or section 490.1409, subsection 1, is personally liable to the corporation for the amount of the distribution that exceeds what could have been distributed without violating section 490.640, subsection 1, or section 490.1409, subsection 1, if the party asserting liability establishes that when taking the action the director did not comply with section 490.830.

2. A director held liable for an unlawful distribution under subsection 1 is entitled to both of the following:

   a. Contribution from every other director who could be held liable under subsection 1 for the unlawful distribution.

   b. Recoupment from each shareholder of the pro rata portion of the amount of the unlawful distribution the shareholder accepted, knowing the distribution was made in violation of section 490.640, subsection 1, or section 490.1409, subsection 1.

3. a. A proceeding to enforce the liability of a director under subsection 1 is barred unless it is commenced within two years after one of the following dates:

   (1) The date on which the effect of the distribution was measured under section 490.640, subsection 5 or 7.

   (2) The date as of which the violation of section 490.640, subsection 1, occurred as the consequence of disregard of a restriction in the articles of incorporation.

   (3) The date on which the distribution of assets to shareholders under section 490.1409, subsection 1, was made.

   b. A proceeding to enforce contribution or recoupment under subsection 2 is barred unless it is commenced within one year after the liability of the claimant has been finally adjudicated under subsection 1.

490.834 through 490.839 Reserved.

PART D

490.840 Officers.

1. A corporation has the offices described in its bylaws or designated by the board of directors in accordance with the bylaws.

2. The board of directors may elect individuals to fill one or more offices of the corporation. An officer may appoint one or more officers if authorized by the bylaws or the board of directors.

3. The bylaws or the board of directors shall assign to one of the officers responsibility for preparing minutes of the directors’ and shareholders’ meetings and for maintaining and authenticating the records of the corporation required to be kept under section 490.1601, subsections 1 and 5.

4. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in a corporation.

490.841 Duties of officers.

Each officer has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the bylaws, the duties prescribed by the board of directors or by direction of an officer authorized by the board of directors to prescribe the duties of other officers.

89 Acts, ch 288, §94

490.842 Standards of conduct for officers.

1. An officer when performing in such capacity shall act in conformity with all of the following:

   a. In good faith.

   b. With the care that a person in a like position would reasonably exercise under similar circumstances.

   c. In a manner the officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation.

2. In discharging the officer’s duties an officer, who does not have knowledge that makes reliance unwarranted, is entitled to rely on any of the following:

   a. The performance of properly delegated responsibilities by one or more employees of the corporation whom the officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in performing the responsibilities delegated.

   b. Information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, prepared or presented by one or more employees of the corporation whom the officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.

   c. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the corporation as to matters involving skills or expertise the officer reasonably beliefs are matters within the particular person's professional or expert competence, or as to which the particular person merits confidence.

3. An officer shall not be liable as an officer to the corporation or its shareholders for any decision to take or not to take action, or any failure to take any action, if the duties of the officer are performed in compliance with this section. Whether an officer who does not comply with this section shall have liability will depend in such instance on applicable law, including those principles of section 490.831 that have relevance.

490.843 Resignation and removal of officers.

1. An officer may resign at any time by delivering notice to the corporation. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective time. If a resignation is made effective at a later time and the board or appointing officer accepts the future effective time, the board or the appointing officer may fill the pending vacancy before the effective time if the board or appointing officer provides that the successor does not take office until the effective time.

2. An officer may be removed at any time with or without cause by any of the following:
   a. The board of directors.
   b. The officer who appointed such officer, unless the bylaws or the board of directors provide otherwise.
   c. Any other officer if authorized by the bylaws or the board of directors.

3. In this section, "appointing officer" means the officer, including any successor to that officer, who appointed the officer resigning or being removed.

490.844 Contract rights of officers.

1. The appointment of an officer does not itself create contract rights.

2. An officer's removal does not affect the officer's contract rights, if any, with the corporation. An officer's resignation does not affect the corporation's contract rights, if any, with the officer.

490.845 through 490.849 Reserved.

PART E

490.850 Definitions.

As used in this part of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Corporation" includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of a corporation in a merger.

2. "Director" or "officer" means an individual who is or was a director or officer, respectively, of a corporation who, while a director or officer of the corporation, is or was serving at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity. A director or officer is considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the corporation's request if the director's duties to the corporation also impose duties on, or otherwise involve services by, that director to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan. "Director" or "officer" includes, unless the context requires otherwise, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

3. "Disinterested director" means a director who at the time of a vote referred to in section 490.853, subsection 3, or a vote or selection referred to in section 490.855, subsection 2 or 3, is not either of the following:
   a. A party to the proceeding.
   b. An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the director whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director's judgment when voting on the decision being made.

4. "Expenses" includes counsel fees.

5. "Liability" means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan, or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

6. "Official capacity" means:
   a. When used with respect to a director, the office of director in a corporation.
   b. When used with respect to an officer, as contemplated in section 490.856, the office in a corporation held by the officer.

   "Official capacity" does not include service for any other domestic or foreign corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

7. "Party" means an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

8. "Proceeding" means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigatory and whether formal or informal.

490.851 Permissible indemnification.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a corporation may indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because the individual is a director against liability incurred in the proceeding if either of the following apply:
   a. All of the following apply:
(1) The individual acted in good faith.
(2) The individual reasonably believed:
   (a) In the case of conduct in the individual’s official capacity, that the individual’s conduct was in the best interests of the corporation.
   (b) In all other cases, that the individual’s conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation.
(3) In the case of any criminal proceeding, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe the individual’s conduct was unlawful.
   b. The individual engaged in conduct for which broader indemnification has been made permissible or obligatory under a provision of the articles of incorporation as authorized by section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph e.
2. A director’s conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan for a purpose the director reasonably believed to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan is conduct that satisfies the requirement of subsection 1, paragraph b, subparagraph (2).
3. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director did not meet the relevant standard of conduct described in this section.
4. Unless ordered by a court under section 490.854, subsection 1, paragraph c, a corporation shall not indemnify a director under this section in either of the following circumstances:
   a. In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director has met the relevant standard of conduct under subsection 1.
   b. In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which the director was adjudged liable on the basis that the director received a financial benefit to which the director was not entitled, whether or not involving action in the director’s official capacity.
2003 amendments are effective April 21, 2003, and apply retroactively to January 1, 2003; 2003 Acts, ch 44, §116

490.852 Mandatory indemnification.
A corporation shall indemnify a director who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which the director was a party because the director is or was a director of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director in connection with the proceeding.
89 Acts, ch 288, §100; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §46, 125

490.853 Advance for expenses.
1. A corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a director who is a party to a proceeding because the person is a director if the person delivers all of the following to the corporation:
   a. A written affirmation of the director’s good faith belief that the director has met the relevant standard of conduct described in section 490.851 or that the proceeding involved conduct for which liability has been eliminated under a provision of the articles of incorporation as authorized by section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph d.
   b. The director’s written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if the director is not entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 490.852 and it is ultimately determined under section 490.854 or section 490.855 that the director has not met the relevant standard of conduct described in section 490.851.
2. The undertaking required by subsection 1, paragraph b, must be an unlimited general obligation of the director but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director to make repayment.
3. Authorizations under this section shall be made according to one of the following:
   a. By the board of directors:
      (1) If there are two or more disinterested directors, by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by such a vote.
      (2) If there are fewer than two disinterested directors, by the vote necessary for action by the board in accordance with section 490.824, subsection 3, in which authorization directors who do not qualify as disinterested directors may participate.
   b. By the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director may not be voted on the authorization.

490.854 Court-ordered indemnification.
1. A director who is a party to a proceeding because the person is a director may apply for indemnification or an advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. After receipt of an application, and after giving any notice it considers necessary, the court shall do one of the following:
   a. Order indemnification if the court determines that the director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 490.852.
   b. Order indemnification or advance for expenses if the court determines that the director is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses pursuant to a provision authorized by section 490.858, subsection 1.
§490.854, BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

490.855 Determination and authorization of indemnification.
1. A corporation shall not indemnify a director under section 490.851 unless authorized for a specific proceeding after a determination has been made that indemnification of the director is permissible because the director has met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in section 490.851.
2. The determination shall be made by any of the following:
   a. If there are two or more disinterested directors, by the board of directors by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by such a vote.
   b. By special legal counsel:
      i. Selected in the manner prescribed in paragraph “a”.
      ii. If there are fewer than two disinterested directors, selected by the board of directors, in which selection directors who do not qualify as disinterested directors may participate.
   c. By the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of a director who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director shall not be voted on the determination.
3. Authorization of indemnification shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, authorization of indemnification shall be made by those entitled under subsection 2, paragraph “b”, to select special legal counsel.

490.856 Indemnification of officers.
1. A corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under this part to an officer of the corporation who is a party to the proceeding because the person is an officer, according to all of the following:
   a. To the same extent as to a director.
   b. If the person is an officer but not a director, to such further extent as may be provided by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, a resolution of the board of directors, or contract, except for either of the following:
      i. Liability in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation other than for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.
      ii. Liability arising out of conduct that constitutes any of the following:
         a. Receipt by the officer of a financial benefit to which the officer is not entitled.
         b. An intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or the shareholders.
         c. An intentional violation of criminal law.
   2. The provisions of subsection 1, paragraph “b”, shall apply to an officer who is also a director if the basis on which the officer is made a party to a proceeding is an action taken or a failure to take an action solely as an officer.

490.857 Insurance.
A corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual who is a director or officer of the corporation, or who, while a director or officer of the corporation, serves at the corporation’s request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity, against liability asserted against or incurred by that individual in that capacity or arising from the individual’s status as a director or officer, whether or not the corporation would have power to indem-§490.858 Variation by corporate action — application of part.

4. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or an officer in connection with the director’s or officer’s appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when the director or officer is not a party.

5. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to indemnify, advance expenses to, or provide or maintain insurance on behalf of an employee or agent.

§490.859 Exclusivity of part.

A corporation may provide indemnification or advance expenses to a director or an officer only as permitted by this part.

§490.901 Foreign-trade zone corporation.

A corporation may be organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone as defined in 19 U.S.C. § 81(a). A corporation organized for the purposes set forth in this section has all powers necessary or convenient for applying for a grant of authority to establish, operate, and maintain a foreign-trade zone under 19 U.S.C. § 81(a), et seq., and regulations promulgated under that law, and for establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone pursuant to that grant of authority.

§490.902 Foreign insurance companies becoming domestic.

The secretary of state, upon a corporation complying with this section and upon the filing of articles of incorporation and upon receipt of the fees as provided in this chapter, shall issue an acknowledgment of receipt of document as of the date of the filing of the articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The acknowledgment of receipt of document shall state on its face that it is issued in accordance with this section. The secretary of state shall then notify the appropriate officer of the state or country of the corporation’s last domicile that the corporation is now a domestic corporation domiciled in this state. This section applies to life insurance companies, and to insurance companies doing business under chapter 515.

§490.1001 Amendment of articles of incorporation — authority to amend.

1. A corporation may amend its articles of incorporation at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles of incorporation as of the effective date of the amendment or to delete a provision that is not required to be contained in the articles of incorporation.

6. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or an officer in connection with the director’s or officer’s appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when the director or officer is not a party.

7. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to indemnify, advance expenses to, or provide or maintain insurance on behalf of an employee or agent.

§490.855 Substitution of name of officer or director.

A corporation may provide indemnification or advance expenses to a director or an officer only as permitted by this part.

§490.853 Substitution of name of officer or director.

A corporation may provide indemnification or advance expenses to a director or an officer only as permitted by this part.

§490.851 Substitution of name of officer or director.

A corporation may provide indemnification or advance expenses to a director or an officer only as permitted by this part.

1. A corporation may amend its articles of incorporation at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles of incorporation as of the effective date of the amendment or to delete a provision that is not required to be contained in the articles of incorporation.

6. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or an officer in connection with the director’s or officer’s appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when the director or officer is not a party.

7. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to indemnify, advance expenses to, or provide or maintain insurance on behalf of an employee or agent.
490.1002 Amendment before issuance of shares.

If a corporation has not yet issued shares, its board of directors, or its incorporators if it has no board of directors, may adopt one or more amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §110; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §55, 125

490.1003 Amendment by board of directors and shareholders.

If a corporation has issued shares, an amendment to the articles of incorporation shall be adopted in the following manner:

1. The proposed amendment must be adopted by the board of directors.

2. Except as provided in sections 490.1005, 490.1007, and 490.1008, after adopting the proposed amendment, the board of directors must submit the amendment to the shareholders for their approval. The board of directors must also transmit to the shareholders a recommendation that the shareholders approve the amendment, unless the board of directors makes a determination that because of conflicts of interest or other special circumstances it should not make such a recommendation, in which case the board of directors must transmit to the shareholders the basis for the determination.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the amendment to the shareholders on any basis.

4. If the amendment is required to be approved by the shareholders, and the approval is to be given at a meeting, the corporation must notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the meeting of shareholders at which the amendment is to be submitted for approval. The notice must state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed amendment and must contain or be accompanied by a copy of the amendment.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 requires a greater vote or greater number of shares to be present, approval of the amendment requires the approval of the shareholders at a meeting at which a quorum consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the amendment exists, and, if any class or series of shares is entitled to vote as a separate group on the amendment, except as provided in section 490.1004, subsection 3, the approval of each such separate voting group at a meeting at which a quorum of the voting group consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the amendment by that voting group exists.

490.1004 Voting on amendments by voting groups.

1. If a corporation has more than one class of shares outstanding, the holders of the outstanding shares of a class are entitled to vote as a separate voting group, if shareholder voting is otherwise required by this chapter, on a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation if the amendment would do any of the following:

a. Effect an exchange or reclassification of all or part of the shares of the class into shares of another class.

b. Effect an exchange or reclassification, or create the right of exchange, of all or part of the shares of another class into shares of the class.

c. Change the rights, preferences, or limitations of all or part of the shares of the class.

d. Change the shares of all or part of the class into a different number of shares of the same class.

e. Create a new class of shares having rights or preferences with respect to distributions or to dissolution that are prior or superior to the shares of the class.

f. Increase the rights, preferences, or number of authorized shares of any class that, after giving effect to the amendment, have rights or preferences with respect to distributions or to dissolution that are prior or superior to the shares of the class.

g. Limit or deny an existing preemptive right of all or part of the shares of the class.

h. Cancel or otherwise affect rights to distributions that have accumulated but not yet been authorized on all or part of the shares of the class.

2. If a proposed amendment would affect a series of a class of shares in one or more of the ways described in subsection 1, the holders of shares of that series are entitled to vote as a separate voting group on the proposed amendment.

3. If a proposed amendment that entitles the holders of two or more classes or series of shares to vote as separate voting groups under this section would affect those two or more classes or series in the same or a substantially similar way, the holders of shares of all the classes or series so affected must vote together as a single voting group on the proposed amendment, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or required by the board of directors.

4. A class or series of shares is entitled to the voting rights granted by this section although the articles of incorporation provide that the shares are nonvoting shares.

490.1005 Amendment by board of directors.

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a corporation's board of directors may adopt amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation without shareholder approval for any of the following purposes:
1. To extend the duration of the corporation if it was incorporated at a time when limited duration was required by law.
2. To delete the names and addresses of the initial directors.
3. To delete the name and address of the initial registered agent or registered office, if a statement of change is on file with the secretary of state.
4. If the corporation has only one class of shares outstanding:
   a. To change each issued and unissued authorized share of the class into a greater number of whole shares of that class.
   b. To increase the number of authorized shares of the class to the extent necessary to permit the issuance of shares as a share dividend.
5. To change the corporate name by substituting the word “corporation”, “incorporated”, “company”, “limited”, or the abbreviation “corp.”, “inc.”, “co.”, or “ltd.”, for a similar word or abbreviation in the name, or by adding, deleting, or changing a geographical attribution for the name.
6. To reflect a reduction in authorized shares, as a result of the operation of section 490.631, subsection 2, when the corporation has acquired its own shares and the articles of incorporation prohibit the reissue of the acquired shares.
7. To delete a class of shares from the articles of incorporation, as a result of the operation of section 490.631, subsection 2, when there are no remaining shares of the class because the corporation has acquired all shares of the class and the articles of incorporation prohibit the reissue of the acquired shares.
8. To make any change expressly permitted by section 490.602, subsection 4, to be made without shareholder approval.
89 Acts, ch 288, §113; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §58, 125

490.1006 Articles of amendment. After an amendment to the articles of incorporation has been adopted and approved in the manner required by this chapter and by the articles of incorporation, the corporation shall deliver to the secretary of state, for filing, articles of amendment, which shall set forth the following:
1. The name of the corporation.
2. The text of each amendment adopted.
3. If an amendment provides for an exchange, reclassification, or cancellation of issued shares, provisions for implementing the amendment if not contained in the amendment itself.
4. The date of each amendment’s adoption.
5. If an amendment was adopted by the incorporators or board of directors without shareholder approval, a statement that the amendment was duly approved by the incorporators or by the board of directors, as the case may be, and that shareholder approval was not required.
6. If an amendment required approval by the shareholders, a statement that the amendment was duly approved by the shareholders in the manner required by this chapter and by the articles of incorporation.

490.1007 Restated articles of incorporation. 1. A corporation’s board of directors may restate its articles of incorporation at any time with or without shareholder approval, to consolidate all amendments into a single document.
2. If the restated articles include one or more new amendments that require shareholder approval, the amendments must be adopted and approved as provided in section 490.1003.
3. A corporation that restates its articles of incorporation shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of restatement setting forth the name of the corporation and the text of the restated articles of incorporation together with a certificate that states that the restated articles consolidate all amendments into a single document and, if a new amendment is included in the restated articles, that also include the statements required under section 490.1006.
4. Duly adopted restated articles of incorporation supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments to the original articles of incorporation.
5. The secretary of state may certify restated articles of incorporation as the articles of incorporation currently in effect, without including the certificate information required by subsection 5.
89 Acts, ch 288, §115; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §60, 125

490.1008 Amendment pursuant to reorganization. 1. A corporation’s articles of incorporation may be amended without action by the board of directors or shareholders to carry out a plan of reorganization ordered or decreed by a court of competent jurisdiction under the authority of law of the United States.
2. The individual or individuals designated by the court shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
   b. The text of each amendment approved by the court.
   c. The date of the court’s order or decree approving the articles of amendment.
   d. The title of the reorganization proceeding in which the order or decree was entered.
   e. A statement that the court had jurisdiction of the proceeding under federal statute.

3. This section does not apply after entry of a final decree in the reorganization proceeding even though the court retains jurisdiction of the proceeding for limited purposes unrelated to consummation of the reorganization plan.

§490.1009 Effect of amendment.
An amendment to the articles of incorporation does not affect a cause of action existing against or in favor of the corporation, a proceeding to which the corporation is a party, or the existing rights of persons other than shareholders of the corporation. An amendment changing a corporation's name does not abate a proceeding brought by or against the corporation in its former name.

PART B

§490.1020 Amendment of bylaws by board of directors or shareholders.
1. A corporation’s shareholders may amend or repeal the corporation’s bylaws.
2. A corporation’s board of directors may amend or repeal the corporation’s bylaws unless either of the following apply:
   a. The articles of incorporation or section 490.1021 reserve that power exclusively to the shareholders in whole or in part.
   b. The shareholders in amending, repealing, or adopting a bylaw expressly provide that the board of directors shall not amend, repeal, or reinstate that bylaw.

89 Acts, ch 288, §118; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §63, 125

§490.1021 Bylaw increasing quorum or voting requirement for directors.
1. A bylaw that increases a quorum or voting requirement for the board of directors may be amended or repealed as follows:
   a. If adopted by the shareholders, only by the shareholders, unless the bylaws otherwise provide.
   b. If adopted by the board of directors, either by the shareholders or by the board of directors.
2. A bylaw adopted or amended by the shareholders that increases a quorum or voting requirement for the board of directors may provide that it can be amended or repealed only by a specified vote of either the shareholders or the board of directors.

§490.1101 Definitions.
As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Interests” means the proprietary interests in an other entity.
2. “Merger” means a business combination pursuant to section 490.1102.
3. “Organizational documents” means the basic document or documents that create, or determine the internal governance of, an other entity.
4. “Other entity” means any association or legal entity, other than a domestic or foreign corporation, organized to conduct business, including, without limitation, limited partnerships, general partnerships, limited liability partnerships, limited liability companies, joint ventures, joint stock companies, and business trusts.
5. “Party to a merger” or “party to a share exchange” means any domestic or foreign corporation or other entity that will accomplish one of the following during a merger:
   a. Merge under a plan of merger.
   b. Acquire shares or interests of another corporation or an other entity in a share exchange.
   c. Have all of its shares or interests or all of one or more classes or series of its shares or interests acquired in a share exchange.
6. “Share exchange” means a business combination pursuant to section 490.1103.
7. “Survivor” in a merger means the corporation or other entity into which one or more other corporations or other entities are merged. A survivor of a merger may preexist the merger or be created by the merger.

§490.1102 Merger.
1. One or more domestic corporations may merge with a domestic or foreign corporation or other entity pursuant to a plan of merger.
2. A foreign corporation, or domestic or foreign other entity, may be a party to the merger, or may be created by the terms of the plan of merger, only if both of the following are satisfied:

a. The merger is permitted by the laws under which the corporation or other entity is organized or by which it is governed.

b. In effecting the merger, the corporation or other entity complies with such laws and with its articles of incorporation or organizational documents.

c. Any other provisions required by the laws under which any party to the merger is organized or by which it is governed.

d. The manner and basis of converting the shares of each merging corporation and interests of each merging other entity into shares, or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing.

e. The articles of incorporation of any corporation, or the organizational documents of any other entity, to be created by the merger, or if a new corporation or other entity is not to be created by the merger, any amendments to the survivor’s articles of incorporation or organizational documents.

5. The plan of merger may also include a provision that the plan may be amended prior to filing the articles of merger with the secretary of state, provided that if the shareholders of a domestic corporation that is a party to the merger are required or permitted to vote on the plan, the plan must provide that subsequent to approval of the plan by such shareholders the plan shall not be amended to change any of the following:

a. Change the amount or kind of shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, or other property to be received by the shareholders of or owners of interests in any party to the merger upon conversion of their shares or interests under the plan.

b. Change the articles of incorporation of any corporation, or the organizational documents of any other entity, that will survive or be created as a result of the merger, except for changes permitted by section 490.1005 or by comparable provisions of the laws under which the foreign corporation or other entity is organized or governed.

c. Change any of the other terms or conditions of the plan if the change would adversely affect such shareholders in any material respect.

490.1103 Share exchange.

1. Either of the following may occur through a share exchange:

a. A domestic corporation may acquire all of the shares of one or more classes or series of shares of another domestic or foreign corporation, or all of the interests of one or more classes or series of interests of a domestic or foreign other entity, in exchange for shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing, pursuant to a plan of share exchange.

b. All of the shares of one or more classes or series of shares of a domestic corporation may be acquired by another domestic or foreign corporation or other entity, in exchange for shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing, pursuant to a plan of share exchange.

2. A foreign corporation, or a domestic or foreign other entity, may be a party to the share exchange only if both of the following conditions are met:

a. The share exchange is permitted by the laws under which the corporation or other entity is organized or by which it is governed.

b. In effecting the share exchange, the corporation or other entity complies with such laws and with its articles of incorporation or organizational documents.

3. The plan of share exchange must include all of the following:

a. The name of each corporation or other entity whose shares or interests will be acquired and the name of the corporation or other entity that will acquire those shares or interests.

b. The terms and conditions of the share exchange.

c. The manner and basis of exchanging shares of a corporation or interests in an other entity whose shares or interests will be acquired under the share exchange into shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing.

d. Any other provisions required by the laws under which any party to the share exchange is organized or by the articles of incorporation or organizational documents of any such party.

4. The terms described in subsection 3, paragraphs “b” and “c”, may be made dependent on facts ascertainable outside the plan of share exchange, provided that those facts are objectively ascertainable.
ascertainable. The term “facts” includes, but is not limited to, the occurrence of any event, including a determination or action by any person or body, including the corporation.

5. The plan of share exchange may also include a provision that the plan may be amended prior to filing of the articles of share exchange with the secretary of state, provided that if the shareholders of a domestic corporation that is a party to the share exchange are required or permitted to vote on the plan, the plan must provide that subsequent to approval of the plan by such shareholders the plan shall not be amended to change either of the following:

a. The amount or kind of shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, or other property to be issued by the corporation or to be received by the shareholders of or owners of interests in any party to the share exchange in exchange for their shares or interests under the plan.

b. Any of the terms or conditions of the plan if the change would adversely affect such shareholders in any material respect.

6. This section does not limit the power of a domestic corporation to acquire shares of another corporation or interests in another entity in a transaction other than a share exchange.

89 Acts, ch 288, §123; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §67, 125

490.1104 Action on a plan of merger or share exchange.

In the case of a domestic corporation that is a party to a merger or share exchange:

1. The plan of merger or share exchange must be adopted by the board of directors.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the plan of merger or share exchange to the shareholders on any basis.

4. If the plan of merger or share exchange is required to be approved by the shareholders, and if the approval is to be given at a meeting, the corporation must notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the meeting of shareholders at which the plan is to be submitted for approval. The notice must state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the plan and must contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the plan. If the corporation is to be merged into an existing corporation or other entity, the notice shall also include or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the articles of incorporation or organizational documents of that corporation or other entity. If the corporation is to be merged into a corporation or other entity that is to be created pursuant to the merger, the notice shall include or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the articles of incorporation or organizational documents of the new corporation or other entity.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or the board of directors require a greater vote or a greater number of votes to be present, the approval of the plan of merger or share exchange shall require the approval of the shareholders at a meeting at which a quorum consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the plan exists, and, if any class or series of shares is entitled to vote as a separate group on the plan of merger or share exchange, the approval of each such separate voting group at a meeting at which a quorum of the voting group consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the merger or share exchange by that voting group is present.

6. Separate voting by voting groups is required for each of the following:

a. On a plan of merger, by each class or series of shares that are to be converted, pursuant to the provisions of the plan of merger, into shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing, or would have a right to vote as a separate group on a provision in the plan that, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation, would require action by separate voting groups under section 490.1004.

b. On a plan of share exchange, by each class or series of shares included in the exchange, with each class or series constituting a separate voting group.

c. On a plan of merger or share exchange, if the voting group is entitled under the articles of incorporation to vote as a voting group to approve a plan of merger or share exchange.

7. Unless the articles of incorporation otherwise provide, approval by the corporation’s shareholders of a plan of merger or share exchange is not required if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

a. The corporation will survive the merger or is the acquiring corporation in a share exchange.

b. Except for amendments permitted by section 490.1005, its articles of incorporation will not be changed.

c. Each shareholder of the corporation whose shares were outstanding immediately before the effective date of the merger or share exchange will hold the same number of shares, with identical preferences, limitations, and relative rights, immediate after the effective date of change.

d. The issuance in the merger or share exchange of shares or other securities convertible into or rights exercisable for shares does not require a vote under section 490.621, subsection 6.

8. If, as a result of a merger or share exchange, one or more shareholders of a domestic corporation would become subject to personal liability for the obligations or liabilities of any other person or other entity, approval of the plan of merger shall require the execution, by each such shareholder, of a separate written consent to become subject to such personal liability.

490.1105 Merger between parent and subsidiary or between subsidiaries.

1. A domestic parent corporation that owns shares of a domestic or foreign subsidiary corporation that carry at least ninety percent of the voting power of each class and series of the outstanding shares of the subsidiary that have voting power may merge the subsidiary into itself or into another such subsidiary, or merge itself into the subsidiary, without the approval of the board of directors or shareholders of the subsidiary unless the articles of incorporation of any of the corporations otherwise provide, and unless, in the case of a foreign subsidiary, approval by the subsidiary’s board of directors or shareholders is required by the laws under which the subsidiary is organized.

2. If under subsection 1 approval of a merger by the subsidiary’s shareholders is not required, the parent corporation shall, within ten days after the effective date of the merger, notify each of the subsidiary’s shareholders that the merger has become effective.

3. Except as provided in subsections 1 and 2, a merger between a parent and subsidiary shall be governed by the provisions of this division, applicable to mergers generally.

490.1106 Articles of merger or share exchange.

1. After a plan of merger or share exchange has been adopted and approved as required by this chapter, articles of merger or share exchange shall be executed on behalf of each party to the merger or share exchange by any officer or other duly authorized representative. The articles shall set forth the following:

a. The names of the parties to the merger or share exchange and the date on which the merger or share exchange occurred or is to be effective.

b. If the articles of incorporation of the survivor of a merger are amended, or if a new corporation is created as a result of a merger, the amendments to the survivor’s articles of incorporation or the articles of incorporation of the new corporation.

c. If the plan of merger or share exchange required approval by the shareholders of a domestic corporation that was a party to the merger or share exchange, a statement that the plan was duly approved by the shareholders and, if voting by any separate voting group was required, by each such separate voting group, in the manner required by this chapter and the articles of incorporation.

d. If the plan of merger or share exchange did not require approval by the shareholders of a domestic corporation that was a party to the merger or share exchange, a statement to that effect.

e. As to each foreign corporation and each other entity that was a party to the merger or share exchange, a statement that the plan and performance of its terms were duly authorized by all action required by the laws under which the corporation or other entity is organized or by which it is governed, and by its articles of incorporation or organizational documents.

2. Articles of merger or share exchange shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing by the survivor of the merger or the acquiring corporation in a share exchange and shall take effect on the effective date of the merger or share exchange.

490.1107 Effect of merger or share exchange.

1. When a merger becomes effective, certain acts shall occur as follows:

a. The corporation or other entity that is designated in the plan of merger as the survivor continues or comes into existence, as the case may be.

b. The separate existence of every corporation or other entity that is merged in to the survivor ceases.

c. All property owned by, and every contract right possessed by, each corporation or other entity that merges into the survivor is vested in the survivor without reversion or impairment.

d. All liabilities of each corporation or other entity that is merged into the survivor are vested in the survivor.

e. The name of the survivor may, but need not be, substituted in any pending proceeding for the name of any party to the merger whose separate existence ceased in the merger.

f. The articles of incorporation or organizational documents of the survivor are amended to the extent provided in the plan of merger.

g. The articles of incorporation or organizational documents of a survivor that is created by the merger become effective.

h. The shares of each corporation that is a party to the merger, and the interests in another entity that is a party to a merger, that are to be converted under the plan of merger into shares, in-interests, obligations, rights to acquire securities, other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing, are converted, and the former holders of such shares or interests are entitled only to the rights provided to them in the plan of merger or to any rights they may have under division XIII.

2. When a share exchange becomes effective, the shares of each domestic corporation that are to be exchanged for shares or other securities, interests, obligations, rights to acquire shares or securities, other securities, cash, other property, or any combination of the foregoing, are entitled only to the rights provided to them in the plan of share exchange or to any rights they may have under division XIII.

3. Any shareholder of a domestic corporation that is a party to a merger or share exchange who, prior to the merger or share exchange, was liable for the liabilities or obligations of such corporation, shall not be released from such liabilities or obligations by reason of the merger or share exchange.

4. Upon a merger becoming effective, a foreign corporation, or a foreign other entity, that is the survivor of the mergers, is deemed to do both of the following:
   a. Appoint the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in a proceeding to enforce the rights of shareholders of each domestic corporation that is a party to the merger who exercise appraisal rights.
   b. Agree that it will promptly pay the amount, if any, to which such shareholders are entitled under division XIII.

5. A corporation that is a party to a merger or share exchange and that is organized or by which it is governed, after the plan has been adopted and approved as required by this division, and at any time before the merger or share exchange has become effective, it may be abandoned by any party to the merger or share exchange without action by the party's shareholders or owners of interests, in accordance with any procedures set forth in the plan of merger or share exchange or, if no such procedures are set forth in the plan, in the manner determined by the board of directors of a corporation, or the managers of any other entity, subject to any contractual rights of other parties to the merger or share exchange.

1. Unless otherwise provided in a plan of merger or share exchange or in the laws under which a foreign corporation or a domestic or foreign other entity that is a party to a merger or a share exchange is organized or by which it is governed, after the plan has been adopted and approved as required by this division, and at any time before the merger or share exchange has become effective, it may be abandoned by any party to the merger or share exchange without action by the party's shareholders or owners of interests, in accordance with any procedures set forth in the plan of merger or share exchange or, if no such procedures are set forth in the plan, in the manner determined by the board of directors of a corporation, or the managers of any other entity, subject to any contractual rights of other parties to the merger or share exchange.

490.1108A Consideration of acquisition proposals — community interests.
1. A director, in determining what is in the best interest of the corporation when considering a tender offer or proposal of acquisition, merger, consolidation, or similar proposal, may consider any or all of the following community interest factors, in addition to consideration of the effects of any action on shareholders:
   a. The effects of the action on the corporation's employees, suppliers, creditors, and customers.
   b. The effects of the action on the communities in which the corporation operates.
   c. The long-term as well as short-term interests of the corporation and its shareholders, including the possibility that these interests may be best served by the continued independence of the corporation.
2. If on the basis of the community interest factors described in subsection 1, the board of directors determines that a proposal or offer to acquire or merge the corporation is not in the best interests of the corporation, it may reject the proposal or offer. If the board of directors determines to reject any such proposal or offer, the board of directors has no obligation to facilitate, to remove any barriers to, or to refrain from impeding, the proposal or offer. Consideration of any or all of the community interest factors is not a violation of the business judgment rule or of any duty of the director to the shareholders, or a group of shareholders, even if the director reasonably determines that a community interest factor or factors outweigh the financial or other benefits to the corporation or a shareholder or group of shareholders.

490.1109 Qualified merger — corporation and cooperative association.
A corporation and a cooperative association organized under chapter 499 may merge as provided in section 499.69A.
97 Acts, ch 17, §1

490.1110 Business combinations with interested shareholders.
1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a corporation shall not engage in any business combination with an interested shareholder for a period of three years following the time that the shareholder became an interested shareholder, unless any of the following apply:

a. Prior to the time the shareholder became an interested shareholder, the board of directors of the corporation approved either the business combination or the transaction which resulted in the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder.

b. Upon consummation of the transaction which resulted in the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder, the interested shareholder owned at least eighty-five percent of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding, for purposes of determining the number of shares outstanding, those shares owned by persons who are directors and officers, and by employee stock plans in which employee participants do not have the right to determine confidentially whether shares held subject to the plan will be tendered in a tender or exchange offer.

c. At or subsequent to the time the shareholder became an interested shareholder, the business combination is approved by the board of directors and authorized at an annual or special meeting of shareholders by the affirmative vote of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested shareholder. Such approval shall not be by written consent.

d. The corporation does not have a class of voting stock that is listed on a national securities exchange, authorized for quotation on the national association of securities dealers automated quotations – national market system, or held of record by more than two thousand shareholders, unless any of the following results from action taken, directly or indirectly, by an interested shareholder or from a transaction in which a person becomes an interested shareholder.

b. The corporation's original articles of incorporation contain a provision expressly electing not to be governed by this section.

c. The corporation, by action of its board of directors, adopts an amendment to its bylaws by no later than September 29, 1997, expressly electing not to be governed by this section, which amendment shall not be further amended by the board of directors.

d. The corporation, by action of its shareholders, adopts an amendment to its articles of incorporation or bylaws expressly electing not to be governed by this section, provided that, in addition to any other vote required by law, such amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares entitled to vote. An amendment adopted pursuant to this paragraph is effective immediately in the case of a corporation that has never had a class of voting stock that falls within any of the three categories set out in paragraph "a" and has not elected by a provision in its original articles of incorporation or any amendment to such articles to be governed by this section. In all other cases, an amendment adopted pursuant to this paragraph is not effective until twelve months after the adoption of the amendment and does not apply to any business combination between the corporation and any person who became an interested shareholder of the corporation on or prior to such adoption.

An amendment to the bylaws adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall not be further amended by the board of directors.

c. A shareholder becomes an interested shareholder inadvertently and both of the following apply:

(1) As soon as practicable the shareholder divests itself of ownership of sufficient shares so that the shareholder ceases to be an interested shareholder.

(2) The shareholder would not, at any time within the three-year period immediately prior to a business combination between the corporation and such shareholder, have been an interested shareholder but for the inadvertent acquisition of ownership.

d. (1) The business combination is proposed prior to the consummation or abandonment of and subsequent to the earlier of the public announcement or the notice required in this paragraph of a proposed transaction which satisfies all of the following:

(a) Constitutes a transaction described in subparagraph (2).

(b) Is with or by a person who either was not an interested shareholder during the previous three years or who became an interested shareholder with the approval of the corporation’s board of directors or who became an interested shareholder during the time period described in paragraph "g".

(c) Is approved or not opposed by a majority of the members of the board of directors then in office who were directors prior to any person becoming an interested shareholder during the previous three years, or who were recommended for election or elected to succeed such directors by a majority of such directors.

(2) A proposed transaction under subparagraph (1) is limited to the following:

(a) A merger of the corporation, other than a merger pursuant to section 490.1105.

(b) A sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, transfer, or other disposition, in one or more transactions and whether as part of a dissolution or otherwise, of assets of the corporation or of any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation, other than to a direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of the corporation or to the corporation itself, which has an aggregate market value equal to fifty percent or more of either the aggregate market value of all of the assets of the corporation determined on a consolidated basis, or the aggregate market value of all the outstanding stock of the corporation.

(c) A proposed tender or exchange offer for fifty percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation.

(3) The corporation shall give no less than twenty days' notice to all interested shareholders prior to the consummation of any of the transactions described in subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (a) or (b).

(g) The business combination is with an interested shareholder who becomes an interested shareholder of the corporation at a time when the corporation is not subject to this section pursuant to paragraph “a”, “b”, “c”, or “d”.

Notwithstanding paragraphs “a” through “d”, a corporation may elect under its original articles of incorporation or any amendment to such articles to be subject to this section. However, such amendment shall not apply to restrict a business combination between the corporation and an interested shareholder of the corporation if the interested shareholder became such prior to the effective date of the amendment.

3. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:
   a. “Affiliate” means a person that directly, or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, another person.
   b. “Associate”, when used to indicate a relationship with a person, means any of the following:
      (1) A corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, or other entity of which the person is a director, officer, or partner or is, directly or indirectly, the owner of twenty percent or more of any class of voting stock.
      (2) A trust or other estate in which the person has at least a twenty percent beneficial interest or as to which such person serves as trustee or in a similar fiduciary capacity.
      (3) A relative or spouse of the person, or any relative of the spouse, who has the same residence as the person.
   c. “Business combination”, with respect to a corporation and an interested shareholder of such corporation, means any of the following:
      (2) A sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, transfer, or other disposition, in one transaction or a series of transactions, except proportionately as a shareholder of such corporation, to or with the interested shareholder, whether as part of a dissolution or otherwise, of assets of the corporation or of any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation which assets have an aggregate market value equal to ten percent or more of either the aggregate market value of all the assets of the corporation determined on a consolidated basis or the aggregate market value of all the outstanding stock of the corporation.
      (3) A transaction which results in the issuance or transfer by the corporation or by any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation of any stock of the corporation or of such subsidiary to the interested shareholder, except for the following:
         (a) Pursuant to the exercise, exchange, or conversion of securities exercisable for, exchangeable for, or convertible into stock of the corporation or such subsidiary which securities were outstanding prior to the time that the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder.
         (b) Pursuant to a merger under section 490.1105.
         (c) Pursuant to a distribution paid or made, or the exercise, exchange, or conversion of securities exercisable for, exchangeable for, or convertible into stock of such corporation or any such subsidiary, which stock is distributed pro rata to all holders of a class or series of stock of the corporation subsequent to the time the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder.
         (d) Pursuant to an exchange offer by the corporation to purchase stock made on the same terms to all holders of the stock.
         (e) Any issuance or transfer of stock by the corporation, provided, however, that in no case under subparagraph subdivisons (c) and (d) and this subparagraph subdivision shall there be an increase in the interested shareholder’s proportionate share of the stock of any class or series of the corporation or of the voting stock of the corporation.
      (4) A transaction involving the corporation or any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation which has the effect, directly or indirectly, of increasing the proportionate share of the stock of any class or series, or securities convertible into the stock of any class or series, of the corporation or of any such subsidiary which is owned by the interested shareholder, except as a result of immaterial changes due to fractional share adjustments or as a result of any purchase or redemption of any shares of stock not caused, directly or indirectly, by the interested shareholder.
d. “Control”, including the terms “controlling”, “controlled by”, and “under common control with”, means the ability, directly or indirectly, to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting stock, by contract, or otherwise. A person who is the owner of twenty percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of any corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, or other entity is presumed to have control of such entity, in the absence of proof by a preponderance of the evidence to the contrary. Notwithstanding this paragraph, a presumption of control shall not apply where a person holds voting stock, in good faith and not for the purpose of circumventing this section, as an agent, bank, broker, nominee, custodian, or trustee for one or more owners who do not individually or as a group have control of such entity.

e. “Interested shareholder” means any person, other than the corporation and any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation, that is the owner of ten percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation, or is an affiliate or associate of the corporation and was the owner of ten percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation at any time within the three-year period immediately prior to the date on which it is sought to be determined whether such person is an interested shareholder, and the affiliates and associates of such person. “Interested shareholder” does not include a person whose ownership of shares in excess of the ten percent limitation is the result of action taken solely by the corporation, provided that such person is an interested shareholder if, after such action by the corporation, the person acquires additional shares of voting stock of the corporation, other than as a result of further corporate action not caused, directly or indirectly, by such person.

For purposes of determining whether a person is an interested shareholder, the outstanding voting stock of the corporation does not include any other unissued stock of the corporation which may be issuable pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, or understanding for the purpose of acquiring, holding, voting, or disposing of such stock with any other person who beneficially owns, or whose affiliates or associates beneficially own, directly or indirectly, such stock. However, an agreement, arrangement, or understanding for the purpose of acquiring, holding, voting, or disposing of such stock does not include voting pursuant to a revocable proxy or consent under subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (b).

g. “Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, or other entity.

h. “Stock” means, with respect to any corporation, capital stock and, with respect to any other entity, any equity interest.

i. “Voting stock” means, with respect to any corporation, stock of any class or series entitled to vote generally in the election of directors and, with respect to any entity that is not a corporation, any equity interest entitled to vote generally in the election of the governing body of such entity.

4. The articles of incorporation or bylaws shall not require, for any vote of shareholders required by this section, a greater vote of shareholders than that specified in this section.

DIVISION XII

DISPOSITION OF ASSETS

490.1201 Disposition of assets not requiring shareholder approval.

Approval of the shareholders of a corporation is not required to do any of the following, unless the articles of incorporation otherwise provide:

1. To sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of any or all of the corporation’s assets in the usual and regular course of business.

2. To mortgage, pledge, dedicate to the repayment of indebtedness, whether with or without recourse, or otherwise encumber any or all of the corporation’s assets, whether or not in the usual and regular course of business.

3. To transfer any or all of the corporation’s assets to one or more corporations or other entities, all of the shares or interests of which are owned by the transferring corporation.

4. To distribute assets pro rata to the holders change offer made by such person or any of such person’s affiliates or associates until such tendered stock is accepted for purchase or exchange.

of one or more classes or series of the corporation’s shares.
89 Acts, ch 288, §129; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §76, 125

490.1202 Shareholder approval of certain dispositions.
1. A sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of assets, other than a disposition described in section 490.1201, requires approval of the corporation’s shareholders if the disposition would leave the corporation without a significant continuing business activity. If a corporation retains a business activity that represented at least twenty-five percent of total assets at the end of the most recently completed fiscal year, and twenty-five percent of either income from continuing operations before taxes or revenues from continuing operations for that fiscal year, in each case of the corporation and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, the corporation will conclusively be deemed to have retained a significant continuing business activity; but no presumption that the disposition will leave the corporation without a significant continuing business activity shall arise from the fact that the corporation’s continuing business activity does not equal or exceed any of these percentages.

2. A disposition that requires approval of the shareholders under subsection 1 shall be initiated by a resolution by the board of directors authorizing the disposition. After adoption of such a resolution, the board of directors shall submit the proposed disposition to the shareholders for their approval. The board of directors shall also transmit to the shareholders a recommendation that the shareholders approve the proposed disposition, unless the board of directors makes a determination that because of conflicts of interest or other special circumstances it should not make such a recommendation, in which case the board of directors shall transmit to the shareholders the basis for that determination.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of a disposition to the shareholders under subsection 2 on any basis.

4. If a disposition is required to be approved by the shareholders under subsection 1, and if the approval is to be given at a meeting, the corporation shall notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the meeting of shareholders at which the disposition is to be submitted for approval. The notice shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the disposition and shall contain a description of the disposition, including the terms and conditions of the disposition and the consideration to be received by the corporation.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or a greater number of votes to be present, the approval of a disposition by the shareholders shall require the approval of the shareholders at a meeting at which a quorum consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the disposition exists.

6. After a disposition has been approved by the shareholders under subsection 2, and at any time before the disposition has been consummated, it may be abandoned by the corporation without action by the shareholders, subject to any contractual rights of other parties to the disposition.

7. A disposition of assets in the course of dissolution under division XIV is not governed by this section.

8. The assets of a direct or indirect consolidated subsidiary shall be deemed the assets of the parent corporation for the purposes of this section.
89 Acts, ch 288, §130; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §77, 125

DIVISION XIII APPRaisal RIGHTS
PART A RIGHT TO APPRAIsAL AND PAYMENT FOR SHARES

490.1301 Definitions.
In this division, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Affiliate” means a person that directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with another person or is a senior executive thereof.

2. “Beneficial shareholder” means a person who is the beneficial owner of shares held in a voting trust or by a nominee on the beneficial owner’s behalf.

3. “Corporation” means the issuer of the shares held by a shareholder demanding appraisal. In addition, for matters covered in sections 490.1322 through 490.1331, “corporation” includes the surviving entity in a merger.

4. “Fair value” means the value of the corporation’s shares determined according to the following:
   a. Immediately before the effectuation of the corporate action to which the shareholder objects.
   b. Using customary and current valuation concepts and techniques generally employed for similar businesses in the context of the transaction requiring appraisal.
   c. Without discounting for lack of marketability or minority status except, if appropriate, for amendments to the articles pursuant to section 490.1302, subsection 1, paragraph “e”.

With respect to shares of a corporation that is a bank holding company as defined in section 490.1302 Shareholders' right to appraisal.

1. A shareholder is entitled to appraisal rights, and to obtain payment of the fair value of the shareholder's shares, in the event of any of the following corporate actions:
   a. Consummation of a merger to which the corporation is a party if either of the following apply:
      (1) Shareholder approval is required for the merger by section 490.1104 and the shareholder is entitled to vote on the merger, except that appraisal rights shall not be available to any shareholder of the corporation with respect to shares of any class or series that remain outstanding after consummation of the merger.
      (2) The corporation is a subsidiary and the merger is governed by section 490.1105.
   b. Consummation of a share exchange to which the corporation is a party as the corporation whose shares will be acquired, if the shareholder is entitled to vote on the exchange, except that appraisal rights shall not be available to any shareholder of the corporation with respect to any class or series of shares of any class or series of the corporation that is not exchanged.
   c. Consummation of a disposition of assets pursuant to section 490.1202 if the shareholder is entitled to vote on the disposition.
   d. An amendment of the articles of incorporation with respect to a class or series of shares that reduces the number of shares of a class or series owned by the shareholder to a fraction of a share if the corporation has the obligation or right to repurchase the fractional share so created.
   e. Any other amendment to the articles of incorporation, merger, share exchange, or disposition of assets to the extent provided by the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or a resolution of the board of directors.

2. Notwithstanding subsection 1, the availability of the appraisal rights under subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "d", shall be limited in accordance with the following provisions:
   a. Appraisal rights shall not be available for the holders of shares of any class or series of shares:
      (1) Listed on the New York stock exchange or the American stock exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the national association of securities dealers, inc.
   b. The applicability of paragraph "a" shall be determined according to the following:
      (1) The record date fixed to determine the shareholders entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the meeting of shareholders to act upon the corporate action requiring appraisal rights.
      (2) The day before the effective date of such corporate action if there is no meeting of shareholders.
   c. Paragraph "a" shall not be applicable and appraisal rights shall be available pursuant to subsection 1 for the holders of any class or series of shares who are required by the terms of the corporate action requiring appraisal rights to accept for such shares anything other than cash or shares of any class or any series of shares of any corporation, or any other proprietary interest of any other entity, that satisfies the standards set forth in paragraph "a", at the time the corporate action becomes effective.
   d. Paragraph "a" shall not be applicable and appraisal rights shall be available pursuant to subsection 1 for the holders of any class or series of shares where any of the following applies:
      (1) Any of the shares or assets of the corporation are being acquired or converted, whether by merger, share exchange, or otherwise, pursuant to the corporate action by a person, or by an affiliate of a person, who fulfills either of the following:
         (a) Is, or at any time in the one-year period immediately preceding approval by the board of directors of the corporate action requiring appraisal rights, the beneficial owner of twenty percent or more of the voting power of the corporation, excluding any shares acquired pursuant to an offer for all shares having voting power if such offer was made within one year prior to the corporate action requiring appraisal rights for consideration of the same kind and of a value equal to or less than that paid in connection with the corporate action.

(b) Directly or indirectly has, or at any time in the one-year period immediately preceding approval by the board of directors of the corporation of the corporate action requiring appraisal rights had, the power, contractually or otherwise, to cause the appointment or election of twenty-five percent or more of the directors to the board of directors of the corporation.

(2) Any of the shares or assets of the corporation are being acquired or converted, whether by merger, share exchange, or otherwise, pursuant to such corporate action by a person, or by an affiliate of a person, who is, or at any time in the one-year period immediately preceding approval by the board of directors of the corporate action requiring appraisal rights was, a senior executive or director of the corporation or a senior executive of any affiliate thereof, and that senior executive or director will receive, as a result of the corporate action, a financial benefit not generally available to other shareholders as such, other than any of the following:

(a) Employment, consulting, retirement, or similar benefits established separately and not as part of or in contemplation of the corporate action.

(b) Employment, consulting, retirement, or similar benefits established in contemplation of, or as part of, the corporate action that are not more favorable than those existing before the corporate action or, if more favorable, that have been approved on behalf of the corporation in the same manner as is provided in section 490.832.

e. For the purposes of paragraph "d" only, the term "beneficial owner" means any person who, directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, or understanding, other than a revocable proxy, has or shares the power to vote, or to direct the voting of, shares, provided that a member of a national securities exchange shall not be deemed to be a beneficial owner of securities held directly or indirectly by such member on behalf of another person solely because the member is the record holder of such securities if the member is precluded by the rules of such exchange from voting without instruction on contested matters or matters that may affect substantially the rights or privileges of the holders of the securities to be voted. When two or more persons agree to act together for the purpose of voting their shares of the corporation, each member of the group formed thereby shall be deemed to have acquired beneficial ownership, as of the date of such agreement, of all voting shares of the corporation beneficially owned by any member of the group.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the articles of incorporation as originally filed or any amendment thereto may limit or eliminate appraisal rights for any class or series of preferred shares, but any such limitation or elimination contained in an amendment to the articles of incorporation that limits or eliminates appraisal rights for any of such shares that are outstanding immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment or that the corporation is or may be required to issue or sell thereafter pursuant to any conversion, exchange, or other right existing immediately before the effective date of such amendment, shall not apply to any corporate action that becomes effective within one year of that date if such action would otherwise afford appraisal rights.

4. A shareholder entitled to appraisal rights under this chapter is not entitled to challenge a completed corporate action for which appraisal rights are available unless such corporate action meets one of the following standards:

a. It was not effectuated in accordance with the applicable provisions of division X, XI, or XII or the corporation's articles of incorporation, by-laws, or board of directors' resolution authorizing the corporate action.

b. It was procured as a result of fraud or material misrepresentation.

§490.1303 Assertion of rights by nominees and beneficial owners.

1. A record shareholder may assert appraisal rights as to fewer than all the shares registered in the record shareholder’s name but owned by a beneficial shareholder only if the record shareholder objects with respect to all shares of the class or series owned by the beneficial shareholder and notifies the corporation in writing of the name and address of each beneficial shareholder on whose behalf appraisal rights are being asserted. The rights of a record shareholder who asserts appraisal rights for only part of the shares held of record in the record shareholder’s name under this subsection shall be determined as if the shares as to which the record shareholder objects and the record shareholder’s other shares were registered in the names of different record shareholders.

2. A beneficial shareholder may assert appraisal rights as to shares of any class or series held on behalf of the shareholder only if the shareholder does both of the following:

a. Submits to the corporation the record shareholder’s written consent to the assertion of such rights no later than the date referred to in section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (2).

b. Does so with respect to all shares of the class or series that are beneficially owned by the beneficial shareholder.

PART B
PROCEDURE FOR EXERCISE OF APPRAISAL RIGHTS

490.1320 Notice of appraisal rights.
1. If proposed corporate action described in section 490.1302, subsection 1, is to be submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, the meeting notice must state that the corporation has concluded that the shareholders are, are not, or may be entitled to assert appraisal rights under this part. If the corporation concludes that appraisal rights are or may be available, a copy of this part must accompany the meeting notice sent to those record shareholders entitled to exercise appraisal rights.

490.1321 Notice of intent to demand payment.
1. If proposed corporate action requiring appraisal rights under section 490.1302 is submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, a shareholder who wishes to assert appraisal rights with respect to any class or series of shares must do all of the following:

   a. Deliver to the corporation before the vote is taken written notice of the shareholder's intent to demand payment if the proposed action is effectuated.

   b. Not vote, or cause or permit to be voted, any shares of such class or series in favor of the proposed action.

2. A shareholder who does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 1 is not entitled to payment under this part.

490.1322 Appraisal notice and form.
1. If proposed corporate action requiring appraisal rights under section 490.1302, subsection 1, becomes effective, the corporation must deliver a written appraisal notice and form required by subsection 2, paragraph "a", to all shareholders who satisfied the requirements of section 490.1321. In the case of a merger under section 490.1105, the parent must deliver a written appraisal notice and form to all record shareholders who may be entitled to assert appraisal rights.

2. The appraisal notice must be sent no earlier than the date the corporate action became effective and no later than ten days after such date and must do all of the following:

   a. Be accompanied by a form that specifies the date of the first announcement to shareholders of the principal terms of the proposed corporate action and requires the shareholder asserting appraisal rights to certify whether or not beneficial ownership of those shares for which appraisal rights are asserted was acquired before that date, and that the shareholder did not vote for the transaction.

   b. State all of the following:

      (1) Where the form must be sent and where certificates for certificated shares must be deposited and the date by which those certificates must be deposited, which date shall not be earlier than the date for receiving the required form under subparagraph (2).

      (2) A date by which the corporation must receive the form, which date shall not be fewer than forty nor more than sixty days after the date the appraisal notice and form are sent under subsection 1, and state that the shareholder shall have waived the right to demand appraisal with respect to the shares unless the form is received by the corporation by such specified date.

      (3) The corporation's estimate of the fair value of the shares.

     (4) That, if requested in writing, the corporation will provide, to the shareholder so requesting, within ten days after the date specified in subparagraph (2) the number of shareholders who return the forms (2) the number of shareholders who return the forms (2) the number of shareholders who return the forms (2) the number of shareholders who return the forms.

      (5) The date by which the notice to withdraw under section 490.1323 must be received, which date must be within twenty days after the date specified in subparagraph (2).

   c. Be accompanied by a copy of this division.

490.1323 Perfection of rights — right to withdraw.
1. A shareholder who receives notice pursuant to section 490.1322 and who wishes to exercise appraisal rights must certify on the form sent by the corporation whether the beneficial owner of such shares acquired beneficial ownership of the shares before the date required to be set forth in the notice pursuant to section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph "a". If a shareholder fails to make this certification, the corporation may elect to treat the shareholder's shares as after-acquired shares under section 490.1325. In addition, a shareholder who wishes to exercise appraisal rights must execute and return the form and, in a case of uncertificated shares, deposit the shareholder’s certificates in accordance with the terms of the notice by the date referred to in the notice pursuant to section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (2). Once a shareholder deposits that shareholder’s certificates or, in the case of uncertificated shares, returns the executed forms, that shareholder loses all rights as a shareholder, unless the shareholder withdraws pursuant to subsection 2.

2. A shareholder who has complied with subsection 1 may nevertheless decline to exercise appraisal rights and withdraw from the appraisal process by so notifying the corporation in writing by the date set forth in the appraisal notice pursuant to section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (5). A shareholder who fails to so withdraw from the appraisal process shall not thereafter withdraw without the corporation’s written consent.

3. A shareholder who does not execute and return the form and, in the case of certified shares, deposit the shareholder’s share certificates where required, each by the date set forth in the notice described in section 490.1322, subsection 2, shall not be entitled to payment under this division.

490.1324 Payment.

1. Except as provided in section 490.1325, within thirty days after the form required by section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (2), is due, the corporation shall pay in cash to those shareholders who complied with section 490.1323, subsection 1, the amount the corporation estimates to be the fair value of their shares, plus interest.

2. The payment to each shareholder pursuant to subsection 1 must be accompanied by all of the following:
   a. Financial statements of the corporation that issued the shares to be appraised, consisting of a balance sheet as of the end of a fiscal year ending not more than sixteen months before the date of payment, an income statement for that year, a statement of changes in shareholders’ equity for that year, and the latest available interim financial statements, if any.
   b. A statement of the corporation’s estimate of the fair value of the shares, which estimate must equal or exceed the corporation’s estimate given pursuant to section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (3).
   c. A statement that shareholders described in subsection 1 have the right to demand further payment under section 490.1326 and that if any such shareholder does not do so within the time period specified therein, such shareholder shall be deemed to have accepted the payment to the shareholder pursuant to subsection 1 in full satisfaction of the corporation’s obligations under this chapter.

490.1325 After-acquired shares.

1. A corporation may elect to withhold payment required by section 490.1324 from any shareholder who did not certify that beneficial ownership of all of the shareholder’s shares for which appraisal rights are asserted was acquired before the date set forth in the appraisal notice pursuant to section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “a”.

2. If the corporation elects to withhold payment under subsection 1, it must within thirty days after the form required by section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph “b”, is due, notify all shareholders who are described in subsection 1 regarding all of the following:
   a. Of the information required by section 490.1324, subsection 2, paragraph “a”.
   b. Of the corporation’s estimate of fair value pursuant to section 490.1324, subsection 2, paragraph “b”.
   c. That they may accept the corporation’s estimate of fair value, plus interest, in full satisfaction of their demands or demand appraisal under section 490.1326.
   d. That those shareholders who wish to accept such offer must notify the corporation of their acceptance of the corporation’s offer within thirty days after receiving the offer.
   e. That those shareholders who do not satisfy the requirements for demanding appraisal under section 490.1326 shall be deemed to have accepted the corporation’s offer.

3. Within ten days after receiving the shareholder’s acceptance pursuant to subsection 2, the corporation must pay in cash the amount it offered under subsection 2, paragraph “b”, to each shareholder who agreed to accept the corporation’s offer in full satisfaction of the shareholder’s demand.

4. Within forty days after sending the notice described in subsection 2, the corporation must pay in cash the amount it offered to pay under subsection 2, paragraph “b”, to each shareholder described in subsection 2, paragraph “e”.

490.1326 Procedure if shareholder dissatisfied with payment or offer.

1. A shareholder paid pursuant to section 490.1324 who is dissatisfied with the amount of the payment must notify the corporation in writing of that shareholder’s estimate of the fair value of the shares and demand payment of that estimate plus interest, less any payment under section 490.1324. A shareholder offered payment under section 490.1325 who is dissatisfied with that offer must reject the offer and demand payment of the shareholder’s stated estimate of the fair value of the shares plus interest.

2. A shareholder who fails to notify the corporation in writing of that shareholder’s demand to be paid the shareholder’s stated estimate of the fair value plus interest under subsection 1 within thirty days after receiving the corporation’s payment or offer of payment under section 490.1324 or 490.1325, respectively, waives the right to demand payment under this section and shall be entitled only to the payment made or offered pursuant to those respective sections.

490.1328 Procedure if shareholder dissatisfied with payment or offer. Repealed by 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §123, 125.

PART C

490.1330 Court action.

1. If a shareholder makes a demand for payment under section 490.1326 that remains unsettled, the corporation shall commence a proceeding within sixty days after receiving the payment demand and petition the court to determine the fair value of the shares and accrued interest. If the corporation does not commence the proceeding within the sixty-day period, it shall pay in cash to each shareholder the amount the shareholder demanded pursuant to section 490.1326 plus interest.

2. The corporation shall commence the proceeding in the district court of the county where the corporation’s principal office or, if none, its registered office, in this state is located. If the corporation is a foreign corporation without a registered office, in this state is located, it shall commence the proceeding in the county in this state where the principal office or registered office of the domestic corporation merged with the foreign corporation was located at the time of the transaction.

3. The corporation shall make all shareholders, whether or not residents of this state, whose demands remain unsettled, parties to the proceeding as in an action against their shares and all parties must be served with a copy of the petition. Nonresidents may be served by registered or certified mail or by publication as provided by law.

4. The jurisdiction of the court in which the proceeding is commenced under subsection 2 is plenary and exclusive. The court may appoint one or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend a decision on the question of fair value. The appraisers shall have the powers described in the order appointing them, or in any amendment to it. The shareholders demanding appraisal rights are entitled to the same discovery rights as parties in other civil proceedings. There shall be no right to a jury trial.

5. Each shareholder made a party to the proceeding is entitled to judgment for either of the following:
   a. The amount, if any, by which the court finds the fair value of the shareholder’s shares, plus interest, exceeds the amount paid by the corporation to the shareholder for such shares.
   b. The fair value, plus interest, of the shareholder’s shares for which the corporation elected to withhold payment under section 490.1325.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of this division, if the corporation is a bank holding company as defined in section 524.1801, fair value, at the election of the bank holding company, may be determined as provided in section 524.1406, subsection 3, prior to giving notice under section 490.1320 or 490.1322. The fair value as determined shall be included in any notice under section 490.1320 or 490.1322, and section 490.1326 shall not apply.

490.1331 Court costs and counsel fees.

1. The court in an appraisal proceeding commenced under section 490.1330 shall determine all costs of the proceeding, including the reasonable compensation and expenses of appraisers appointed by the court. The court shall assess the costs against the corporation, except that the court may assess costs against all or some of the shareholders demanding appraisal, in amounts the court finds equitable, to the extent the court finds such shareholders acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided by this division.

2. The court in an appraisal proceeding may also assess the fees and expenses of counsel and experts for the respective parties, in amounts the court finds equitable, for either of the following:
   a. Against the corporation and in favor of any or all shareholders demanding appraisal if the court finds the corporation did not substantially comply with the requirements of section 490.1320, 490.1322, 490.1324, or 490.1325.
   b. Against either the corporation or a shareholder demanding appraisal, in favor of any other party, if the court finds that the party against whom the fees and expenses are assessed acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided by this chapter.

3. If the court in an appraisal proceeding finds that the services of counsel for any shareholder were of substantial benefit to other shareholders similarly situated, and that the fees for those services should not be assessed against the corporation, the court may award to such counsel reasonable fees to be paid out of the amounts awarded the shareholders who were benefited.

4. To the extent the corporation fails to make a required payment pursuant to section 490.1324, 490.1325, or 490.1326, the shareholder may sue directly for the amount owed and, to the extent successful, shall be entitled to recover from the corporation all costs and expenses of the suit, including counsel fees.

DIVISION XIV
DISSOLUTION
PART A

490.1401 Dissolution by incorporators or initial directors.

A majority of the incorporators or initial directors of a corporation that has not issued shares or has not commenced business may dissolve the corporation by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution that set forth all of the following:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The date of its incorporation.
3. Either of the following:
   a. That none of the corporation’s shares has been issued.
   b. That the corporation has not commenced business.
4. That no debt of the corporation remains unpaid.
5. That the net assets of the corporation remaining after winding up have been distributed to the shareholders, if shares were issued.
6. That a majority of the incorporators or initial directors authorized the dissolution.

89 Acts, ch 288, §145

490.1402 Dissolution by board of directors and shareholders.

1. A corporation’s board of directors may propose dissolution for submission to the shareholders.
2. For a proposal to dissolve to be adopted both of the following must apply:
   a. The board of directors must recommend dissolution to the shareholders unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the shareholders.
   b. The shareholders entitled to vote must approve the proposal to dissolve as provided in subsection 5.
3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposal for dissolution on any basis.
4. The corporation shall notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the proposed shareholders’ meeting. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolving the corporation.
5. Unless the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 requires a greater vote, a greater number of shares to be present, or a vote by voting groups, adoption of the proposal to dissolve shall require the approval of the shareholders at a meeting at which the quorum consisting of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast exists.

490.1403 Articles of dissolution.

1. At any time after dissolution is authorized, the corporation may dissolve by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution setting forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
   b. The date dissolution was authorized.
   c. If dissolution was approved by the shareholders, a statement that the proposal to dissolve was duly approved by the shareholders in the manner required by this chapter and by the articles of incorporation.
2. A corporation is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution.
3. For purposes of this division, “dissolved corporation” means a corporation whose articles of dissolution have become effective and includes a successor entity to which the remaining assets of the corporation are transferred subject to its liabilities for purposes of liquidation.

490.1404 Revocation of dissolution.

1. A corporation may revoke its dissolution within one hundred twenty days of the effective date of its articles of dissolution.
2. Revocation of dissolution must be authorized in the same manner as the dissolution was authorized unless that authorization permitted revocation by action of the board of directors alone, in which event the board of directors may revoke the dissolution without shareholder action.
3. After the revocation of dissolution is authorized, the corporation may revoke the dissolution by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of revocation of dissolution, together with a copy of its articles of dissolution, that set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
b. The effective date of the dissolution that was revoked.
c. The date that the revocation of dissolution was authorized.
d. If the corporation’s board of directors or incorporators revoked the dissolution, a statement to that effect.
e. If the corporation’s board of directors revoked a dissolution authorized by the shareholders, a statement that revocation was permitted by action by the board of directors alone pursuant to that authorization.
f. If shareholder action was required to revoke the dissolution, the information required by section 490.1403, subsection I, paragraph “c”.
4. Revocation of dissolution is effective upon the effective date of the articles of revocation of dissolution.
5. When the revocation of dissolution is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the dissolution as if the dissolution had never occurred.

490.1405 Effect of dissolution.
1. A dissolved corporation continues its corporate existence but shall not carry on any business except that appropriate to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs, including any of the following:
a. Collecting its assets.
b. Disposing of its properties that will not be distributed in kind to its shareholders.
c. Discharging or making provision for discharging its liabilities.
d. Distributing its remaining property among its shareholders according to their interests.
e. Doing every other act necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs.
2. Dissolution of a corporation does not do any of the following:
a. Transfer title to the corporation’s property.
b. Prevent transfer of its shares or securities, although the authorization to dissolve may provide for closing the corporation’s share transfer records.
c. Subject its directors or officers to standards of conduct different from those prescribed in division VIII.
d. Change quorum or voting requirements for its board of directors or shareholders; change provisions for selection, resignation, or removal of its directors or officers or both; or change provisions for amending its bylaws.
e. Prevent commencement of a proceeding by or against the corporation in its corporate name.
f. Abate or suspend a proceeding pending by or against the corporation on the effective date of dissolution.
g. Terminate the authority of the registered agent of the corporation.
89 Acts, ch 288, §149

490.1406 Known claims against dissolved corporation.
1. A dissolved corporation may dispose of the known claims against it by notifying its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after its effective date.
2. The written notice must do all of the following:
a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.
b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.
c. State the deadline, which may not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved corporation must receive the claim.
d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.
3. A claim against the dissolved corporation is barred if either of the following occur:
a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 2 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved corporation by the deadline.
b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved corporation does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.
4. For purposes of this section, “claim” does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.
89 Acts, ch 288, §150; 2002 Acts, ch 1154, §93, 125

490.1407 Other claims against dissolved corporation.
1. A dissolved corporation may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the dissolved corporation present them in accordance with the notice.
2. The notice must meet all of the following requirements:
a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved corporation’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or was last located.
b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.
c. State that a claim against the dissolved corporation will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within three years after the publication of the notice.
3. If the dissolved corporation publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved cor-
Court proceedings.
1. A dissolved corporation that has published a notice under section 490.1407 may file an application with the district court of the county where the dissolved corporation's principal office is located or, if none in this state, its registered office is located for a determination of the amount and form of security to be provided for payment of claims that are contingent or have not been made known to the dissolved corporation or that are based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution that, based on the facts known to the dissolved corporation, are reasonably estimated to arise after the effective date of dissolution. Provision need not be made for any claim that is or is reasonably anticipated to be barred under section 490.1407, subsection 3.
2. Within ten days after the filing of the application, notice of the proceeding shall be given by the dissolved corporation to each claimant holding a contingent claim whose contingent claim is shown on the records of the dissolved corporation.
3. The court may appoint a guardian ad litem to represent all claimants whose identities are unknown in any proceeding brought under this section. The reasonable fees and expenses of such guardian, including all reasonable expert witness fees, shall be paid by the dissolved corporation.

Ch 1154, §95, 125

Director duties.
1. Directors shall cause the dissolved corporation to discharge or make reasonable provision for the payment of claims and make distributions of assets to shareholders after payment or provision for claims.
2. Directors of a dissolved corporation which has disposed of claims under section 490.1406, 490.1407, or 490.1408 shall not be liable for breach of subsection 1, with respect to claims against the dissolved corporation that are barred or satisfied under section 490.1406, 490.1407, or 490.1408.

PART B

Grounds for administrative dissolution.
The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 490.1421 to administratively dissolve a corporation if any of the following apply:
1. The corporation has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 490.1622, within sixty days after it is due, or has not paid the filing fee as determined by the secretary of state, within sixty days after it is due.
2. The corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.
3. The corporation does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.
4. The corporation's period of duration stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

Ch 1170, §89, 10; 97 Acts, ch 171, §14

Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.
1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 490.1420 for dissolving a corporation, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation with written notice of the secretary of state's determination under section 490.504.
2. If the corporation does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 490.504, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the corporation by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the corporation under section 490.504.

3. A corporation administratively dissolved continues its corporate existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 490.1405 and notify claimants under sections 490.1406 and 490.1407.

4. The administrative dissolution of a corporation does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

5. The secretary of state’s administrative dissolution of a corporation pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state the corporation’s agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the corporation was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the corporation as provided in section 490.504. This subsection does not preclude service on the corporation’s registered agent, if any.

490.1422 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A corporation administratively dissolved under section 490.1421 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Recite the name of the corporation at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.

c. State a corporate name that satisfies the requirements of section 490.401.

d. State the federal tax identification number of the corporation.

2. a. The secretary of state shall refer the federal tax identification number contained in the application for reinstatement to the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall report to the secretary of state the tax status of the corporation. If the department reports to the secretary of state that a filing delinquency or liability exists against the corporation, the secretary of state shall not cancel the certificate of dissolution until the filing delinquency or liability is satisfied.

b. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1, and that a delinquency or liability reported pursuant to paragraph "a" of this subsection has been satisfied, and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state’s determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the corporation under section 490.504. If the corporate name in subsection 1, paragraph "c", is different than the corporate name in subsection 1, paragraph "a", the certificate of reinstatement shall constitute an amendment to the articles of incorporation insofar as it pertains to the corporate name.

4. Notwithstanding the reinstatement period established in subsection 1, a corporation administratively dissolved after December 31, 1984, which files an application for reinstatement prior to January 1, 1996, containing the information required under subsection 1, shall be treated as if its application had been timely filed under subsection 1. In this case, the secretary of state shall process the application pursuant to subsection 2 and, if a certificate of reinstatement is issued, the provisions of subsection 3 shall apply.

490.1423 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a corporation’s application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation under section 490.504 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The corporation may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The corporation appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state’s certificate of dissolution, the corporation’s application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state’s notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved corporation or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

PART C

490.1430 Grounds for judicial dissolution.

The district court may dissolve a corporation in any of the following ways:

1. A proceeding by the attorney general, if it is established that either of the following apply:
   a. The corporation obtained its articles of incorporation through fraud.
   b. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.

2. A proceeding by a shareholder if it is established that any of the following conditions exist:
   a. The corporation has admitted in writing that it is insolvent.
   b. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.
   c. The corporation is insolvent.

3. A proceeding by a creditor if it is established that either of the following apply:
   a. The corporation obtained its articles of incorporation through fraud.
   b. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.
   c. The corporation obtained its articles of incorporation through fraud.

4. Within ten days of the commencement of a proceeding under section 490.1430, subsection 2, to dissolve a corporation that has no shares listed on a national securities exchange or regularly traded in a market maintained by one or more members of a national securities exchange, the corporation must send to all shareholders, other than the petitioner, a notice stating that the shareholders are entitled to avoid the dissolution of the corporation by electing to purchase the petitioner’s shares under section 490.1434, and a copy of section 490.1434.

§490.1431 Procedure for judicial dissolution.

1. Venue for a proceeding by the attorney general to dissolve a corporation lies in Polk county. Venue for a proceeding brought by any other party named in section 490.1430 lies in the county where a corporation’s principal office is or was last located.

2. It is not necessary to make shareholders parties to a proceeding to dissolve a corporation unless relief is sought against them individually.

3. A court in a proceeding brought to dissolve a corporation may issue injunctions, appoint a receiver or custodian pendente lite with all powers and duties the court directs, take other action required to preserve the corporate assets wherever located, and carry on the business of the corporation until a full hearing can be held.

4. Within ten days of the commencement of a proceeding under section 490.1430, subsection 2, to dissolve a corporation that has no shares listed on a national securities exchange or regularly traded in a market maintained by one or more members of a national securities exchange, the corporation must send to all shareholders, other than the petitioner, a notice stating that the shareholders are entitled to avoid the dissolution of the corporation by electing to purchase the petitioner’s shares under section 490.1434, and a copy of section 490.1434.

490.1432 Receivership or custodianship.

1. A court in a judicial proceeding brought to dissolve a corporation may appoint one or more receivers to wind up and liquidate, or one or more custodians to manage, the business and affairs of the corporation. The court shall hold a hearing, after notifying all parties to the proceeding and any interested persons designated by the court, before appointing a receiver or custodian. The court appointing a receiver or custodian has exclusive jurisdiction over the corporation and all its property wherever located.

2. The court may appoint an individual or a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state as a receiver or custodian. The court may require the receiver or custodian to post bond, with or without sureties, in an amount the court directs.

3. The court shall describe the powers and duties of the receiver or custodian in its appointing order, which may be amended from time to time. Among other powers:
   a. The receiver may do either or both of the following:
      (1) Dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation wherever located, at a public or private sale, if authorized by the court.
      (2) Sue and defend in the receiver’s own name as receiver of the corporation in all courts of this state.
   b. The custodian may exercise all of the powers of the corporation, through or in place of its board of directors or officers, to the extent necessary to manage the affairs of the corporation in the best interests of its shareholders and creditors.

4. The court may appoint a receiver or custodian to wind up and liquidate, or one or more receivers or custodians to manage, the business and affairs of the corporation. The court shall hold a hearing, after notifying all parties to the proceeding and any interested persons designated by the court, before appointing a receiver or custodian. The court appointing a receiver or custodian has exclusive jurisdiction over the corporation and all its property wherever located.

5. The court from time to time during the receivership or custodianship may order compensation paid and expense disbursements or reimbursements made to the receiver or custodian and the receiver’s or custodian’s counsel from the assets of the corporation or proceeds from the sale of the assets.

89 Acts, ch 288, §158

490.1433 Decree of dissolution.
1. If after a hearing the court determines that one or more grounds for judicial dissolution described in section 490.1430 exist, it may enter a decree dissolving the corporation and specifying the effective date of the dissolution, and the clerk of the court shall deliver a certified copy of the decree to the secretary of state, who shall file it.

2. After entering the decree of dissolution, the court shall direct the winding up and liquidation of the corporation’s business and affairs in accordance with section 490.1405 and the notification of claimants in accordance with sections 490.1406 and 490.1407.

490.1434 Election to purchase in lieu of dissolution.
1. In a proceeding under section 490.1430, subsection 2, to dissolve a corporation that has no shares listed on a national securities exchange or regularly traded in a market maintained by one or more members of a national or affiliated securities association, the corporation may elect or, if it fails to elect, one or more shareholders may elect to purchase all shares owned by the petitioning shareholder at the fair value of the shares. An election pursuant to this section shall be irrevocable unless the court determines that it is equitable to set aside or modify the election.

2. An election to purchase pursuant to this section may be filed with the court at any time within ninety days after the filing of the petition under section 490.1430, subsection 2, or at such later time as the court in its discretion may allow. If the election to purchase is filed by one or more shareholders, the corporation shall, within ten days thereafter, give written notice to all shareholders, other than the petitioner. The notice must state the name and number of shares owned by the petitioner and the name and number of shares owned by each electing shareholder and must advise the recipients of their right to join the election to purchase shares in accordance with this section. Shareholders who wish to participate must file notice of their intention to join in the purchase no later than thirty days after the effective date of the notice to them. All shareholders who have filed an election or notice of their intention to participate in the election to purchase thereby become parties to the proceeding and shall participate in the purchase in proportion to their ownership of shares as of the date the first election was filed, unless they otherwise agree or the court otherwise directs. After an election has been filed by the corporation or one or more shareholders, the proceeding under section 490.1430, subsection 2, shall not be discontinued or settled, nor shall the petitioning shareholder sell or otherwise dispose of the shareholder’s shares, unless the court determines that it would be equitable to the corporation and the shareholders, other than the petitioner, to permit such discontinuance, settlement, sale, or other disposition.

3. If, within sixty days of the filing of the first election, the parties reach agreement as to the fair value and terms of purchase of the petitioner’s shares, the court shall enter an order directing the purchase of the petitioner’s shares upon the terms and conditions agreed to by the parties.

4. If the parties are unable to reach an agreement as provided for in subsection 3, the court, upon application of any party, shall stay the section 490.1430, subsection 2, proceedings and determine the fair value of the petitioner’s shares as of the day before the date on which the petition under section 490.1430, subsection 2, was filed or as of such other date as the court deems appropriate under the circumstances.

5. Upon determining the fair value of the shares, the court shall enter an order directing the purchase upon such terms and conditions as the court deems appropriate, which may include payment of the purchase price in installments, where necessary in the interests of equity, provision for security to assure payment of the purchase price and any additional costs, fees, and expenses as may have been awarded, and, if the shares are to be purchased by shareholders, the allocation of shares among them. In allocating petitioner’s shares among holders of different classes of shares, the court shall attempt to preserve the existing distribution of voting rights among holders of different classes insofar as practicable and may direct that holders of a specific class or classes shall not participate in the purchase. Interest may be allowed at the rate and from the date determined by the court to be equitable, but if the court finds that the refusal of the petitioning shareholder to accept an offer of payment was arbitrary or otherwise not in good faith, no interest shall be allowed. If the court finds that the petitioning shareholder has probable grounds for relief under section 490.1430, subsection 2, paragraph “b” or “d”, it may award to the petitioning shareholder reasonable fees and expenses of counsel and of any experts employed by the shareholder.

6. Upon entry of an order under subsection 3 or 5, the court shall dismiss the petition to dissolve the corporation under section 490.1430, and the petitioning shareholder shall no longer have any rights or status as a shareholder of the corporation, except the right to receive the amounts awarded to the shareholder by the order of the court which shall be enforceable in the same man-

DIVISION XV
FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

PART A

§490.1501 Authority to transact business required.

1. A foreign corporation shall not transact business in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority from the secretary of state.

2. The following activities, among others, do not constitute transacting business within the meaning of subsection 1:

- Maintaining, defending, or settling any proceeding.
- Holding meetings of the board of directors or shareholders or carrying on other activities concerning internal corporate affairs.
- Maintaining bank accounts.
- Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the corporation's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.
- Selling through independent contractors.
- Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.
- Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages, and security interests in real or personal property.
- Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages and security interests in property securing the debts.
- Owning, without more, real or personal property.
- Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and that is not one in the course of repeated transactions of a like nature.
- Transacting business in interstate commerce.

3. The list of activities in subsection 2 is not exhaustive.

89 Acts, ch 288, §161

490.1502 Consequences of transacting business without authority.

1. A foreign corporation transacting business in this state without a certificate of authority shall not maintain a proceeding in any court in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority.

2. The successor to a foreign corporation that transacted business in this state without a certificate of authority and the assignee of a cause of action arising out of that business shall not maintain a proceeding based on that cause of action in any court in this state until the foreign corporation or its successor obtains a certificate of authority.

3. A court may stay a proceeding commenced by a foreign corporation, its successor, or assignee until it determines whether the foreign corporation or its successor requires a certificate of authority. If it so determines, the court may further stay the proceeding until the foreign corporation or its successor obtains the certificate.

4. A foreign corporation is liable for a civil penalty of not to exceed a total of one thousand dollars if it transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority. The attorney general may collect all penalties due under this subsection.

5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2, the failure of a foreign corporation to obtain a certificate of authority does not impair the validity of its corporate acts or prevent it from defending any proceeding in this state.
89 Acts, ch 288, §162

490.1503 Application for certificate of authority.
1. A foreign corporation may apply for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the foreign corporation or, if its name is unavailable for use in this state, a corporate name that satisfies the requirements of section 490.1506.
   b. The name of the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.
   c. Its date of incorporation and period of duration.
   d. The street address of its principal office.
   e. The address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent at that office.
   f. The names and usual business addresses of its current directors and officers.
2. The foreign corporation shall deliver the completed application to the secretary of state, and also deliver to the secretary of state a certificate of existence or a document of similar import duly authenticated by the secretary of state or other official having custody of corporate records in the state or country under whose law it is incorporated which is dated no earlier than ninety days prior to the date the application is filed with the secretary of state.
89 Acts, ch 288, §163; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §14

490.1504 Amended certificate of authority.
1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state must obtain an amended certificate of authority from the secretary of state if it changes any of the following:
   a. Its corporate name.
   b. The period of its duration.
   c. The state or country of its incorporation.
2. The requirements of section 490.1503 for obtaining an original certificate of authority apply to obtaining an amended certificate under this section.
89 Acts, ch 288, §164

490.1505 Effect of certificate of authority.
1. A certificate of authority authorizes the foreign corporation to which it is issued to transact business in this state subject, however, to the right of the state to revoke the certificate as provided in this chapter.
2. A foreign corporation with a valid certificate of authority has the same but no greater rights and has the same but no greater privileges as, and except as otherwise provided in this chapter is subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties, and liabilities now or later imposed on, a domestic corporation of like character.
3. This chapter does not authorize this state to regulate the organization or internal affairs of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state.
89 Acts, ch 288, §165

490.1506 Corporate name of foreign corporation.
1. If the corporate name of a foreign corporation does not satisfy the requirements of section 490.401, the foreign corporation, to obtain or maintain a certificate of authority to transact business in this state, may do either of the following:
   a. Add the word “corporation”, “incorporated”, “company”, or “limited”, or the abbreviation “corp.”, “inc.”, “co.”, or “ltd.”, to its corporate name for use in this state.
   b. Use a fictitious name to transact business in this state if its real name is unavailable and it delivers to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.
2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, the corporate name, including a fictitious name, of a foreign corporation must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:
   a. The corporate name of a corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.
   b. A corporate name reserved or registered under section 490.402 or 490.403.
   c. The fictitious name of another foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state.
   d. The corporate name of a not-for-profit corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.
3. A foreign corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use in this state the name of another corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state that is not distinguishable upon the secretary of state’s records from the name applied for. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if either of the following apply:
   b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant’s right to use the name applied for in this state.
§490.1506, BUSINESS CORPORATIONS

4. A foreign corporation may use in this state the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state and the foreign corporation has filed documentation satisfactory to the secretary of state of the occurrence of any of the following:
   a. The foreign corporation has merged with the other corporation.
   b. The foreign corporation has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.
   c. The foreign corporation has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. If a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state changes its corporate name to one that does not satisfy the requirements of section 490.401, it shall not transact business in this state under the changed name until it adopts a name satisfying the requirements of section 490.401 and obtains an amended certificate of authority under section 490.1504.

490.1507 Registered office and registered agent of foreign corporation.

A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state must continuously maintain in this state both of the following:
1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.
2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:
   a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   c. A foreign corporation or foreign not-for-profit corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

490.1508 Change of registered office or registered agent of foreign corporation.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that complies with the requirements of section 490.1504 and obtains an amended certificate of authority under section 490.1504.

490.1509 Resignation of registered agent of foreign corporation.

1. The registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign the agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original statement of resignation. The statement of resignation may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the corporation, including the date the copies were sent.

490.1510 Service on foreign corporation.

1. The registered agent of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state is the corporation's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the foreign corporation.

2. A foreign corporation may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its application for a certificate of authority or in its most recent biennial report if the foreign corporation meets any of the following conditions:
   a. Has no registered agent or its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served.
   b. Has withdrawn from transacting business in this state under section 490.1520.
   c. Has had its certificate of authority revoked under section 490.1531.

3. Service is perfected under subsection 2 at the earliest of:
a. The date the foreign corporation receives the mail.

b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the foreign corporation.

c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

d. The date the foreign corporation receives the mail.

490.1511 through 490.1519 Reserved.

PART B

490.1520 Withdrawal of foreign corporation.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state shall not withdraw from this state until it obtains a certificate of withdrawal from the secretary of state.

2. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may apply for a certificate of withdrawal by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth all of the following:

   a. The name of the foreign corporation and the name of the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.

   b. That it is not transacting business in this state and that it surrenders its authority to transact business in this state.

   c. That it revokes the authority of its registered agent to accept service of process on its behalf and appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action arising during the time it was authorized to transact business in this state.

   d. A mailing address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process served on the secretary of state under paragraph "c".

3. After the withdrawal of the corporation is effective, service of process on the secretary of state under this section is service on the foreign corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the foreign corporation at the mailing address set forth under subsection 2.

89 Acts, ch 288, §170; 97 Acts, ch 171, §16

490.1521 through 490.1529 Reserved.

PART C

490.1530 Grounds for revocation.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 490.1531 to revoke the certificate of authority of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state if:

1. The foreign corporation does not deliver its biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 490.1622 within sixty days after it is due.

2. The foreign corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

3. The foreign corporation does not inform the secretary of state under section 490.1508 or 490.1509 that its registered agent or registered office has changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued within sixty days of the change, resignation, or discontinuance.

4. An incorporator, director, officer, or agent of the foreign corporation signed a document that person knew was false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

5. The secretary of state receives a duly authenticated certificate from the secretary of state or other official having custody of corporate records in the state or country under whose law the foreign corporation is incorporated stating that it has been dissolved or disappeared as the result of a merger.

490.1531 Procedure for and effect of revocation.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 490.1530 for revocation of a certificate of authority, the secretary of state shall serve the foreign corporation with written notice of the secretary's determination under section 490.1510.

2. If the foreign corporation does not correct each ground for revocation or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 490.1510, the secretary of state may revoke the foreign corporation's certificate of authority by signing a certificate of revocation that recites the ground or grounds for revocation and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the foreign corporation under section 490.1510.

3. The authority of a foreign corporation to transact business in this state ceases on the date shown on the certificate revoking its certificate of authority.

4. The secretary of state's revocation of a foreign corporation's certificate of authority appoints the secretary of state the foreign corporation's agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the foreign corporation was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the foreign corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its most recent biennial report or in any subsequent communication received from the corporation stating the current mailing address of its principal office, or, if none is on file, in its application for a certificate of authority.

5. Revocation of a foreign corporation’s certificate of authority does not terminate the authority of the registered agent of the corporation.

490.1532 Appeal from revocation.

1. A foreign corporation may appeal the secretary of state’s revocation of its certificate of authority to the district court within thirty days after service of the certificate of revocation is perfected under section 490.1510. The foreign corporation appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the revocation and attaching to the petition copies of its certificate of authority and the secretary of state’s certificate of revocation.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the certificate of authority if the foreign corporation satisfies the court that it has complied with all requirements of this chapter.

3. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

DIVISION XVI
RECORDS AND REPORTS
PART A

490.1601 Corporate records.

1. A corporation shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of its shareholders and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the shareholders or board of directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the board of directors in place of the board of directors on behalf of the corporation.

2. A corporation shall maintain appropriate accounting records.

3. A corporation or its agent shall maintain a record of its shareholders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all shareholders in alphabetical order by class of shares showing the number and class of shares held by each.

4. A corporation shall maintain its records in written form or in another form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time.

5. A corporation shall keep a copy of the following records:
   a. Its articles or restated articles of incorporation and all amendments to them currently in effect.
   b. Its bylaws or restated bylaws and all amendments to them currently in effect.
   c. Resolutions adopted by its board of directors creating one or more classes or series of shares, and fixing their relative rights, preferences, and limitations, if shares issued pursuant to those resolutions are outstanding.
   d. The minutes of all shareholders’ meetings, and records of all action taken by shareholders generally within the past three years, including the financial statements furnished for the past three years under section 490.1620.
   e. A list of the names and business addresses of its current directors and officers.
   f. Its most recent biennial report delivered to the secretary of state under section 490.1622.

490.1602 Inspection of records by shareholders.

1. A shareholder of a corporation is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the corporation’s principal office, any of the records of the corporation described in section 490.1601, subsection 5, if the shareholder gives the corporation written notice of the shareholder’s demand at least five business days before the date on which the shareholder wishes to inspect and copy.

2. A shareholder of a corporation is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at a reasonable location specified by the corporation, any of the following records of the corporation if the shareholder meets the requirements of subsection 3 and gives the corporation written notice of the shareholder’s demand at least five business days before the date on which the shareholder wishes to inspect and copy:
   a. Excerpts from minutes of any meeting of the board of directors, records of any action of a committee of the board of directors while acting in place of the board of directors on behalf of the corporation, minutes of any meeting of the shareholders, and records of action taken by the shareholders or board of directors without a meeting, to the extent not subject to inspection under subsection 1 of this section.
   b. Accounting records of the corporation.
   c. The record of shareholders.

3. A shareholder may inspect and copy the records described in subsection 2 only if:
   a. The shareholder’s demand is made in good faith and for a proper purpose.
   b. The shareholder describes with reasonable particularity the shareholder’s purpose and the records the shareholder desires to inspect.
   c. The records are directly connected with the shareholder’s purpose.
4. The right of inspection granted by this section shall not be abolished or limited by a corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws.

5. This section does not affect either of the following:
   a. The right of a shareholder to inspect records under section 490.720 or, if the shareholder is in litigation with the corporation, to the same extent as any other litigant.
   b. The power of a court, independently of this chapter, to compel the production of corporate records for examination.

89 Acts, ch 288, §176

490.1603 Scope of inspection right.

1. A shareholder's agent or attorney has the same inspection and copying rights as the shareholder represented.

2. The right to copy records under section 490.1602 includes, if reasonable, the right to receive copies by xerographic or other means, including copies through an electronic transmission if available and so requested by the shareholder.

3. The corporation may comply at its expense with a shareholder's demand to inspect the record of shareholders under section 490.1602, subsection 2, paragraph "a", by providing the shareholder with a list of shareholders that was compiled no earlier than the date of the shareholder's demand.

4. The corporation may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and material, for copies of any documents provided to the shareholder. The charge shall not exceed the estimated cost of production, reproduction, or transmission of the records.

490.1604 Court-ordered inspection.

1. If a corporation does not allow a shareholder who complies with section 490.1602, subsection 1, to inspect and copy any records required by that subsection to be available for inspection, the district court of the county where the corporation's principal office, if none in this state, its registered office is located may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the corporation's expense upon application of the shareholder.

2. If a corporation does not within a reasonable time allow a shareholder to inspect and copy any other records, the shareholder who complies with section 490.1602, subsections 2 and 3 may apply to the district court in the county where the corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located for an order to permit inspection and copying of the records demanded. The court shall dispose of an application under this subsection on an expedited basis.

3. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the corporation to pay the shareholder's costs, including reasonable counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order unless the corporation proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the shareholder to inspect the records demanded.

4. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the demanding shareholder.

490.1605 Inspection of records by directors.

1. A director of a corporation is entitled to inspect and copy the books, records, and documents of the corporation at any reasonable time to the extent reasonably related to the performance of the director's duties as a director, including duties as a member of a committee, but not for any other purpose or in any manner that would violate any duty to the corporation.

3. If an order is issued, the court may include provisions protecting the corporation from undue burden or expense, and prohibiting the director from using information obtained upon exercise of the inspection rights in a manner that would violate a duty to the corporation, and may also order the corporation to reimburse the director for the director's costs, including reasonable counsel fees, incurred in connection with the application.

490.1606 Exception to notice requirement.

1. Whenever notice is required to be given under any provision of this chapter to any shareholder, such notice shall not be required to be given if either of the following applies:
   a. Notice of two consecutive annual meetings, and all notices of meetings during the period between such two consecutive annual meetings, have been sent to such shareholder at such shareholder's address as shown on the records of the corporation and have been returned undeliverable.
   b. All, but not less than two, payments of dividends on securities during a twelve-month period, or two consecutive payments of dividends on securities during a period of more than twelve months, have been sent to such shareholder at such shareholder’s address as shown on the records of the corporation and have been returned undeliverable.
2. If any such shareholder shall deliver to the corporation a written notice setting forth such shareholder’s then-current address, the requirement that notice be given to such shareholder shall be reinstated.

§490.1607 through §490.1619 Reserved.

PART B

§490.1620 Financial statements for shareholders.
A corporation shall prepare annual financial statements, which may be consolidated or combined statements of the corporation and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and an income statement for that year. Upon written request from a shareholder, a corporation, at its expense, shall furnish to that shareholder the financial statements requested. If the annual financial statements are reported upon by a public accountant, that report must accompany them.

§490.1621 Other reports to shareholders. Repealed by 2002 Acts, ch 1154, § 123, 125.

§490.1622 Biennial report for secretary of state.
1. Each domestic corporation, and each foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a biennial report that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation and the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.
   b. The address of its registered office and the name of its registered agent at that office in this state, together with the consent of any new registered agent.
   c. The address of its principal office.
   d. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.
2. Information in the biennial report must be current as of the first day of January of the year in which the report is due. The report shall be executed on behalf of the corporation and signed as provided in section 490.120 or by any other person authorized by the board of directors of the corporation.
3. The first biennial report shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first even-numbered year following the calendar year in which a domestic corporation was incorporated or a foreign corporation was authorized to transact business. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following even-numbered calendar years. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state. For purposes of this section, each biennial report shall contain information related to the two-year period immediately preceding the calendar year in which the report is filed.
5. The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report, provided that the form contains the information required in section 490.502 or 490.1508. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section but otherwise meets the requirements of section 490.502 or 490.1508 for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent, effective as provided in section 490.123, before returning the biennial report to the corporation as provided in this section. A statement of change of registered office or agent pursuant to this subsection shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

DIVISION XVII
TRANSITION PROVISIONS

§490.1701 Application to existing corporations.
1. Except as provided in this subsection or chapter 504, Code 1989, or current chapter 504 or 504A, this chapter does not apply to or affect entities subject to chapter 504, Code 1989, or current chapter 504 or 504A. Such entities continue to be governed by all laws of this state applicable to them before December 31, 1989, as those laws are amended. This chapter does not derogate or limit the powers to which such entities are entitled.

2. Unless otherwise provided, this chapter does not apply to an entity subject to chapter 174, 176, 497, 498, 499, 499A, 524, 533, or 534 or a corporation organized on the mutual plan under chapter 491, or a telephone company organized as a corporation under chapter 491 qualifying pursuant to an internal revenue service letter ruling under Internal Revenue Code § 501(c)(12) as a nonprofit corporation entitled to distribute profits in a manner similar to a chapter 499 corporation, unless such entity voluntarily elects to adopt the provisions of this chapter and complies with the procedure prescribed by subsection 3 of this section.

A corporation organized under chapter 496C may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter by complying with the provisions prescribed by subsection 3.

3. The procedure for the voluntary election referred to in subsection 2 is as follows:
   a. The corporation shall amend or restate its articles of incorporation to indicate that the corporation adopts this chapter and to designate the address of its initial registered office and the name of its registered agent or agents at that office and, if the name of the corporation is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, to change the name of the corporation to one complying with the requirements of this chapter.
   b. The instrument shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state’s office. If the corporation was organized under chapter 176, 524, or 533, the instrument shall also be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. The corporation shall at the time it files the instrument with the secretary of state deliver also to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state’s office any biennial report which is then due.

If the county of the initial registered office as stated in the instrument for a corporation organized under chapter 176, 524, or 533 is one which is other than the county where the principal place of business of the corporation, as designated in its articles of incorporation, was located, the corporation shall forward to the county recorder of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was located a copy of the instrument and the corporation shall forward to the recorder of the county in which the initial registered office of the corporation is located, in addition to a copy of the original instrument, a copy of the articles of incorporation of the corporation together with all amendments to them as then on file in the secretary of state’s office. The corporation shall, through an officer or director, certify to the secretary of state that a copy has been sent to each applicable county recorder, including the date each copy was sent.

   c. Upon the filing of the instrument by a corporation all of the following apply:
      1. All of the provisions of this chapter apply to the corporation.
      2. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate as to the filing of the instrument and deliver the certificate to the corporation or its representative.
      3. The secretary of state shall not file the instrument with respect to a corporation unless at the time of filing the corporation is validly existing and in good standing in that office under which it is incorporated. The corporation shall be considered validly existing and in good standing for the purpose of this chapter for a period of three months following the expiration date of the corporation, provided all biennial reports due have been filed and all fees due in connection with the biennial reports have been paid.
   d. The provisions of this chapter becoming applicable to a corporation voluntarily electing to be governed by this chapter do not affect any right accrued or established, or any liability or penalty incurred, under the chapter under which it is incorporated prior to the filing by the secretary of state in the secretary of state’s office of the instrument manifesting the election by the corporation to adopt the provisions of this chapter as provided in this subsection.

4. Except as specifically provided in this chapter, this chapter applies to all domestic corporations in existence on December 31, 1989, that were incorporated under any general statute of this state providing for incorporation of corporations for profit if power to amend or repeal the statute under which the corporation was incorporated was reserved.

5. A corporation subject to this chapter which does not have a registered office or registered agent or both designated on the records of the secretary of state is subject to all of the following provisions:
   a. The office of the corporation set forth in its first biennial report filed under this chapter shall be deemed its registered office until December 31, 1990, or until it files a designation of registered office with the secretary of state, whichever is earlier.
   b. The person signing the first biennial report of the corporation filed under this chapter shall be deemed the registered agent until December 31, 1990, or a statement designating a registered agent has been filed with the secretary of state, whichever is earlier.
   c. Section 490.502 does not apply to the corporation until December 31, 1990, or until the corporation files a designation of registered office and registered agent at that office with the secretary of state, whichever is earlier.

6. A corporation subject to this chapter is not subject to chapter 491, 492, 493, or 495.

a new certificate of authority to transact business under this chapter.
89 Acts, ch 288, §183

490.1703  Savings provisions.
1. Except as provided in subsection 2, the repeal of a statute by 1989 Iowa Acts, chapter 288, and the amendment or repeal of a statute by 2002 Iowa Acts, chapter 1154, does not affect:
   a. The operation of the statute or any action taken under it before its amendment or repeal.
   b. Any ratification, right, remedy, privilege, obligation, or liability acquired, accrued, or incurred under the statute before its amendment or repeal.
   c. Any violation of the statute, or any penalty, forfeiture, or punishment incurred because of the violation, before its amendment or repeal.
   d. Any proceeding, reorganization, or dissolution commenced under the statute before its amendment or repeal, and the proceeding, reorganization, or dissolution may be completed in accordance with the statute as if it had not been amended or repealed.
2. If a penalty or punishment imposed for violation of a statute repealed by 1989 Iowa Acts, chapter 288, is reduced by 1989 Iowa Acts, chapter 288, the penalty or punishment if not already imposed shall be imposed in accordance with this chapter.

490.1704  Preemptive rights for existing corporations.
Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a corporation which was incorporated under, or which elected to be governed by, former chapter 496A prior to December 31, 1989, shall be governed by the following until December 31, 1992:

Except to the extent limited or denied by this section or by the articles of incorporation, shareholders have a preemptive right to acquire unissued shares or securities convertible into such shares or carrying a right to subscribe to or acquire shares.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation:
1. No preemptive right exists:
   a. To acquire any shares issued to directors, officers, or employees pursuant to approval by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon or when authorized by and consistent with a plan approved by such a vote of shareholders.
   b. To acquire any shares sold otherwise than for cash.
   c. To acquire treasury shares of the corporation.
   d. To acquire any shares sold otherwise than for cash.
2. Holders of shares of any class that is preferred or limited as to dividends or assets are not entitled to any preemptive right.
3. Holders of shares of common stock are not entitled to any preemptive right to shares of any class that is preferred or limited as to dividends or assets or to any obligations, unless convertible into shares of common stock or carrying a right to subscribe to or acquire shares of common stock.
4. Holders of common stock without voting power have no preemptive right to shares of common stock with voting power.
5. The preemptive right is only an opportunity to acquire shares or other securities under such terms and conditions as the board of directors may fix for the purpose of providing a fair and reasonable opportunity for the exercise of the right.
89 Acts, ch 288, §185

490.1705  Reinstatement of corporations existing prior to December 31, 1989.
1. A corporation subject to this chapter, whose certificate of incorporation was canceled pursuant to former section 496A.130 after December 30, 1981, and before December 31, 1989, may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement pursuant to section 490.1422 on or before December 31, 1991.
2. A corporation whose certificate of incorporation was canceled pursuant to former section 496A.130 after December 30, 1979, and before December 31, 1981, may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement pursuant to section 490.1422 at any time within ten years of the date of the issuance of the certificate of cancellation.
3. A corporation whose corporate rights have been canceled and forfeited in the manner provided in former section 496.9 prior to December 31, 1989, or which has a right to renew pursuant to sections 491.25 through 491.28, may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement pursuant to section 490.1422 on or before December 31, 1991.
4. This section applies to all reinstatements delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing on or after December 31, 1989.

PART 2

490A.120 Filing requirements.
1. A document must satisfy the requirements of this section, and of any other section that adds to or varies these requirements, to be entitled to filing.
2. The document must be one that this chapter requires or permits to be filed with the secretary of state.
3. The document must contain the information required by this chapter. It may contain other information as well.
4. The document must be typewritten or printed. The typewritten or printed portion shall be in black. Manually signed photocopies, or other reproduced copies, including facsimiles and other electronically or computer-generated copies of typewritten or printed documents may be filed.
5. The document must be in the English language. A limited liability company name need not be in English if written in English letters or Arabic or Roman numerals. The articles of organization, duly authenticated by the official having custody of the applicable records in the state or country under whose law the limited liability company is formed, which are required of foreign limited liability companies, need not be in English if accompanied by a reasonably authenticated English translation.

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES, §490A.120
§490A.120, LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

6. The document must be executed by one of the following persons:
   a. A manager, or if no managers have been selected, by any member of the limited liability company.
   b. If the limited liability company has not been formed, by the person forming the limited liability company.
   c. If the limited liability company is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or other court-appointed fiduciary, that fiduciary.
7. The person executing the document shall sign it and state beneath or opposite the person's name and the capacity in which the person signs.
8. If, pursuant to any provision of this chapter, the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for the document, the document shall be in or on the prescribed form.
9. The document must be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and must be accompanied by the correct filing fee.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §11

490A.121 Filing duty of secretary of state.
1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 490A.120, the secretary of state shall file it and issue any necessary certificate.
2. The secretary of state files a document by stamping or otherwise endorsing "filed", together with the secretary of state's name and official title and the date and time of receipt, on both the document and the receipt for the filing fee, and recording the document in the records of the secretary of state. After filing a document, and except as provided in section 490A.503, the secretary of state shall deliver the document, with the filing fee receipt, or acknowledgment of receipt if no fee is required, attached, to the domestic or foreign limited liability company or its representative.
3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign limited liability company or its representative within ten days after the document was received by the secretary of state, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.
4. The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not:
   a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.
   b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
   c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §12

490A.122 Effective time and date of documents.
1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 490A.123, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following times:
   a. At the time the document is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.
   b. At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.
2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §13

490A.123 Correcting filed documents.
1. A domestic or foreign limited liability company may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following requirements:
   a. Contains an incorrect statement.
   b. Was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.
2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:
   a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:
      (1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.
      (2) Specify the incorrect statement and the reason it is incorrect or the manner in which the execution was defective.
      (3) Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.
   b. By delivering the articles to the secretary of state for filing.
3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §14

490A.124 Fees.
1. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees when documents described in this subsection are delivered to the secretary's office for filing:
a. Articles of organization ........ $ 50
b. Application for use of indistinguishable name ......................... $ 10
c. Application for reserved name ........................................... $ 10
d. Notice of transfer of reserved name ....................................... $ 10

v. Certificate of revocation of authority to transact business .......... No fee
w. Articles of correction ....................................................... $ 5
x. Application for certificate of existence or authorization ............... $ 5
y. Any other document required or permitted to be filed by this chapter ........ $ 5

2. The secretary of state shall collect a fee of five dollars each time process is served on the secretary under this chapter. The party to a proceeding causing service of process is entitled to recover this fee as costs if the party prevails in the proceeding.

3. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees for copying and certifying the copy of any filed document relating to a domestic or foreign corporation:
   a. One dollar a page for copying.
b. Five dollars for the certificate.

490A.125  Forms.
1. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms including but not limited to the following:
   a. An application for a certificate of existence.
b. A foreign limited liability company’s application for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state.
c. A foreign limited liability company’s application for a certificate of withdrawal.

If the secretary of state so requires, use of these listed forms prescribed by the secretary of state is mandatory.

2. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for other documents required or permitted to be filed by this chapter but their use is not mandatory.

490A.126  Appeal from secretary of state's refusal to file document.
1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary’s office for filing, the domestic or foreign limited liability company may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the limited liability company’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state’s explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §17

490A.127  Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.
A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state’s signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §18

490A.128  Certificate of existence.
1. Anyone may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic limited liability company or a certificate of authorization for a foreign limited liability company.

2. A certificate of existence or authorization must set forth all of the following:
   a. The domestic limited liability company’s name or the foreign limited liability company’s name used in this state.
§490A.128, LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

2. Transact its business, carry on its operations, and have and exercise the powers granted by this chapter in any state and in any foreign country.

3. Purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, and own, hold, improve, use, and otherwise deal with, real or personal property, or any legal or equitable interest in property, wherever located.

4. Sell, convey, transfer, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property.

5. Purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire and hold, to sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and deal in and with, shares or other interests in, or obligations of any other person.

6. Make contracts and guaranties, incur liabilities, borrow money, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, which may be convertible into or include the option to purchase other securities of the limited liability company, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage, deed of trust, or pledge of any of its property, franchises, or income.

7. Lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and receive and hold real and personal property as security for repayment.

8. Elect and appoint managers, employees, and agents of the limited liability company; define their duties, fix their compensation, and lend them money and credit.

9. Pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit sharing plans, and benefit and incentive plans for all or any of its current or former members, managers, employees, and agents.

10. Make donations for the public welfare or for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.

11. Make payments or donations, or do any other act, not inconsistent with law, that furthers the business and affairs of the limited liability company.

12. Cease its activities and dissolve.

13. Be a promoter, stockholder, partner, member, associate, agent, or manager of any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust, or other entity.

14. Make and amend operating agreements, not inconsistent with its articles of organization or with the law of this state, for the administration and regulation of its affairs.

15. Transact any lawful business that a corporation, partnership, or other entity may conduct under the law of this state subject, however, to any and all laws and restrictions that govern or limit the conduct of such activity by such corporation, partnership, or other entity.
16. Have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the limited liability company is organized.
17. Indemnify and hold harmless a member, manager, or other person against a claim, liability, or other demand, as provided in an operating agreement.

490A.301 Formation.
One or more persons may form a limited liability company by executing and delivering articles of organization to the secretary of state for filing. Such person or persons need not be members of the limited liability company after formation has occurred.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §24

490A.302 Liability.
All persons purporting to act as or on behalf of a limited liability company, knowing there is no organization under this chapter, are jointly and severally liable for all liabilities created while so acting.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §25

490A.303 Articles of organization.
1. The articles of organization must set forth all of the following:
   a. A name for the limited liability company that satisfies the requirements of section 490A.401.
   b. The street address of the limited liability company's initial registered office and the name of its initial registered agent at that office.
   c. The street address of the principal office of the limited liability company, which may be the same as the registered office, but need not be within this state.
   d. The period of its duration, which may be perpetual.
2. The articles of organization may set forth any other provision not inconsistent with law, including, but not limited to, a statement of whether there are limitations on the authority of members to bind the limited liability company.
3. The articles of organization need not set forth any of the powers enumerated in this chapter.
4. The articles of organization or an operating agreement may provide that a member's interest in a limited liability company may be evidenced by a certificate of membership interest issued by the limited liability company and may also provide for assignment or transfer of any membership interest represented by such a certificate and make other provisions with respect to such a certificate.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §26; 97 Acts, ch 188, §55

490A.304 Conversion of certain entities to a limited liability company.
1. As used in this section, the term "other entity" means a corporation, business trust or association, real estate investment trust, common-law trust, or any other unincorporated business, including any partnership, whether general or limited, or a foreign limited liability company.
2. Any other entity may convert to a domestic limited liability company by complying with subsection 8 and filing in the office of the secretary of state both of the following:
   a. Articles of conversion to a limited liability company executed by one or more authorized persons.
   b. Articles of organization executed by one or more authorized persons.
3. The articles of conversion to a limited liability company shall state all of the following:
   a. The date on which, and jurisdiction where, the converting entity was first created, formed, incorporated, or otherwise came into being and, if it has changed, its jurisdiction immediately prior to its conversion to a domestic limited liability company.
   b. The name of the converting entity immediately prior to the filing of the articles of conversion to a limited liability company.
   c. The name of the limited liability company.
   d. The future effective date or time certain of the conversion to a limited liability company if it is not to be effective upon the filing of the articles of conversion and the articles of organization.
4. Upon the filing in the office of the secretary of state of the articles of conversion and the articles of organization or upon the future effective date or time of the articles of conversion and the articles of organization, the converting entity shall be converted into a domestic limited liability company and the limited liability company, from that date or time, is subject to this chapter, except that the existence of the limited liability company is deemed to have commenced on the date the converting entity commenced its existence in the jurisdiction in which the converting entity was first created, formed, incorporated, or otherwise came into being.
5. The conversion of an entity into a domestic limited liability company does not affect any obligations or liabilities of the other entity incurred prior to its conversion to a domestic limited liability company, or the personal liability of any person incurred prior to such conversion.
6. When a conversion is effective, for all purposes of the laws of this state, all of the rights, privileges, and powers of the converting entity, and all property, real, personal, and mixed, and all debts due to the converting entity, as well as all other... things and causes of action belonging to such entity, are vested in the domestic limited liability company and are the property of the domestic limited liability company as they were of the converting entity. The title to any real property vested by deed or otherwise in the converting entity shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of this chapter, and all rights of creditors and all liens upon any property of such other entity are preserved unimpaired, and all debts, liabilities, and duties of the converting entity shall attach to the domestic limited liability company, and may be enforced against it to the same extent as if the debts, liabilities, and duties had been incurred or contracted by the domestic limited liability company.

7. Unless otherwise agreed, or as required under the laws of a jurisdiction other than this state, the converting entity is not required to wind up its affairs or pay its liabilities and distribute its assets, and the conversion does not constitute a dissolution of the converting entity.

8. Prior to filing the articles of conversion to a limited liability company with the office of the secretary of state, an operating agreement must be approved in the manner provided for by the documents, instrument, agreement, or other writing, as the case may be, governing the internal affairs of the converting entity and the conduct of its business or by applicable law, as appropriate.

9. This section shall not be construed to limit the ability to change the law governing, or the domicile of, a converting entity to this state by any other means provided for in an operating agreement or as otherwise permitted by law, including by the amendment of an operating agreement.

§490A.305 Series of members, managers, or membership interests.

1. An operating agreement may establish or provide for the establishment of designated series of members, managers, or membership interests having separate rights, powers, or duties with respect to specified property or obligations of the limited liability company or profits and losses associated with specified property or obligations, and, to the extent provided in the operating agreement, any such series may have a separate business purpose or investment objective.

2. Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this chapter, the debts, liabilities, and obligations incurred, contracted for, or otherwise existing with respect to a particular series shall be enforceable against the assets of that series only, and not against the assets of the limited liability company generally, if all of the following apply:

a. The operating agreement creates one or more series.

b. Separate and distinct records are maintained for the series and the assets associated with the series are held and accounted for separately from the other assets of the limited liability company, or from any other series of the limited liability company.

c. The operating agreement provides for such limitation on liabilities.

d. Notice of the limitation on liabilities of a series is set forth in the articles of organization of the limited liability company. Filing of articles of organization containing a notice of the limitation on liabilities of a series in the office of the secretary of state constitutes notice of the limitation on liabilities of such series.

3. Notwithstanding section 490A.601, or a contrary provision in an operating agreement, a member or manager may agree to be obligated personally for any or all of the debts, obligations, or liabilities of one or more series.

4. An operating agreement may provide for classes or groups of members or managers associated with a series having such relative rights, powers, and duties as the operating agreement may provide. The operating agreement may provide for the future creation of additional classes or groups of members or managers associated with the series having such relative rights, powers, and duties as may from time to time be established, including rights, powers, and duties senior to existing classes and groups of members or managers associated with the series. An operating agreement may provide for the taking of an action, including the amendment of the operating agreement, without the vote or approval of any member or manager or class or group of members or managers, including all action to create under the provisions of the operating agreement a class or group of the series of membership interests that was not previously outstanding. An operating agreement may provide that any member or class or group of members associated with a series have no voting rights.

6. Unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, the management of a series shall be vested in the members associated with such series in proportion to the then-current percentage or other interest of members in the profits of the series owned by all of the members associated with such series. The decision of members owning more than fifty percent of the series or other interest in the profits shall control. However, if an operating agreement provides for the management of the series, in whole or in part, by a manager, the management of the series, to the extent so provided, is vested in the manager who shall be chosen as provided in the operating agreement. The manager of the series shall also hold the offices and have the responsibilities accorded to managers as set forth in the operating agreement. A series may have more than one manager. A manager shall cease to be a manager with respect to a series as provided in the operating agreement. Except as otherwise provided in the operating agreement, an event under this chapter or identified in an operating agreement that causes a manager to cease to be a manager with respect to a series, by itself, shall not cause the manager to cease to be a manager of the limited liability company or with respect to any other series of the limited liability company. 7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, except subsections 8 and 11 and unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, at the time a member associated with a series that has been established pursuant to subsection 1 becomes entitled to receive a distribution with respect to such series, the member has the status of, and is entitled to, all remedies available to a creditor of the series with respect to the distribution. An operating agreement may provide for the establishment of a record date with respect to allocations and distributions with respect to a series. 8. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a limited liability company may make a distribution with respect to a series that has been established pursuant to subsection 1. However, a limited liability company shall not make a distribution with respect to a series that has been established pursuant to subsection 1 to the extent that at the time of the distribution, after giving effect to the distribution, all liabilities of such series, other than liabilities to members on account of their membership interests with respect to such series and liabilities for which the recourse of creditors is limited to specified property of such series, exceed the fair value of the assets associated with such series. However, the fair value of an asset of the series that is subject to a liability for which the recourse of creditors is limited shall be included in the assets associated with such series only to the extent that the fair value of that asset exceeds that liability. A member who receives a distribution in violation of this subsection, and who knew at the time of the distribution that the distribution violated this subsection, is liable for all actions with respect to the series as are permitted under section 490A.1307, which applies to any distribution made with respect to a series under this subsection, this subsection shall not affect any obligation or liability of a member under an agreement or other applicable law for the amount of a distribution. 9. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a member shall cease to be associated with a series and to have the power to exercise any rights or powers of a member with respect to such series upon the assignment of all of the member’s membership interest with respect to such series. Except as otherwise provided in an operating agreement, an event under this chapter or identified in an operating agreement that causes a member to cease to be associated with a series, by itself, shall not cause such member to cease to be associated with any other series or terminate the continued membership of a member in the limited liability company. 10. Subject to section 490A.1301, except to the extent otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a series may be terminated and its affairs wound up without causing the dissolution of the limited liability company. The termination of a series established pursuant to subsection 1 shall not affect the limitation on liabilities of such series provided by subsection 2. A series is terminated and its affairs shall be wound up upon the dissolution of the limited liability company under section 490A.1301 or otherwise upon the first to occur of the following: a. At the time specified in the operating agreement. b. Upon the happening of events specified in the operating agreement. c. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, upon the written consent of all members associated with such series. d. The termination of such series under subsection 10. 11. Notwithstanding section 490A.1303, unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, any of the following persons may wind up the affairs of the series: a. A manager associated with a series who has not wrongfully terminated the series. b. If there is no manager of a series, the members associated with the series or a person approved by the members associated with the series. c. If there is more than one class or group of members associated with the series, then by each class or group of members associated with the series, in either case, by members who own more than fifty percent of the then-current percentage or other interest in the profits of the series owned by all of the members associated with the series or by the members of each class or group associated with the series. However, if the series has been established pursuant to subsection 1, the district court of the county in which the limited liability company has its principal place of business, upon cause shown, may wind up the affairs of the series upon application of any member associated with the series or the member’s legal representative or assignee, and in connection with such winding up, may appoint a liquidating trustee. The persons winding up the affairs of a series, in the name of the limited liability company and for and on behalf of the limited liability company and such series, may take all actions with respect to the series as are permitted under section 490A.1303. The persons winding up the affairs of a series shall provide for the claims and obligations of the series as provided.

in section 490A.1304 and distribute the assets of the series as provided in section 490A.1304. Actions taken pursuant to this subsection shall not affect the liability of members and shall not impose liability on a liquidating trustee.

12. On application by or for a member or manager associated with a series established pursuant to subsection 1, the district court in the county in which the limited liability company has its principal place of business may enter an order for dissolution of such series if it is not reasonably practiceable to carry on the business of the series in conformity with the operating agreement.

13. A foreign limited liability company that is registering to do business in this state under this chapter which is governed by an operating agreement that establishes or provides for the establishment of designated series of members, managers, or membership interests having separate rights, powers, or duties with respect to specified property or obligations of the foreign limited liability company, or profits and losses associated with the specified property or obligations, shall indicate that fact on the application for registration as a foreign limited liability company. In addition, the foreign limited liability company shall state on the application whether the debts, liabilities, and obligations incurred, contracted for, or otherwise existing with respect to a particular series, if any, are enforceable against the assets of such series only, and not against the assets of the foreign limited liability company generally.

490A.306 Admission of members.

1. In connection with the formation of a limited liability company, a person is admitted as a member of the limited liability company upon the later to occur of the following:
   a. The formation of the limited liability company.
   b. The time provided in, and upon compliance with, the operating agreement or, if the operating agreement does not so provide, when the person's admission is reflected in the records of the limited liability company.

2. After the formation of a limited liability company, a person is admitted as a member of the limited liability company as follows:
   a. In the case of a person who is not an assignee of a membership interest, including a person acquiring a membership interest directly from the limited liability company and a person to be admitted as a member of the limited liability company without acquiring a membership interest in the limited liability company, at the time provided in and upon compliance with the operating agreement or, if the operating agreement does not so provide, upon the consent of all members and the person's admission being reflected in the records of the limited liability company.
   b. In the case of an assignee of a membership interest, as provided in section 490A.903 and at the time provided in and upon compliance with the operating agreement, or if the operating agreement does not so provide, when any such person's permitted admission is reflected in the records of the limited liability company.
   c. Unless otherwise provided in an agreement of merger, in the case of a person acquiring a membership interest in a surviving or resulting limited liability company pursuant to a merger approved pursuant to section 490A.1203, at the time provided in and upon compliance with the operating agreement of the surviving or resulting limited liability company.

3. A person may be admitted to a limited liability company as a member of the limited liability company and may receive a membership interest in the limited liability company without making a contribution or being obligated to make a contribution to the limited liability company. Unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, a person may be admitted to a limited liability company as a member of the limited liability company without acquiring a membership interest in the limited liability company.

490A.307 Classes and voting.

1. An operating agreement may provide for classes or groups of members and the relative rights, powers, and duties of such members, and may provide for the future creation of additional classes or groups of members having such relative rights, powers, and duties as may from time to time be established, including rights, powers, and duties senior to existing classes and groups of members. An operating agreement may provide for taking action, including the amendment of the operating agreement, without the vote or approval of any member or class or group of members, including an action to create a class or group of membership interests that was not previously outstanding. An operating agreement may provide that any member or class or group of members has no voting rights.

2. An operating agreement may grant to all or certain identified members or a specified class or group of the members the right to vote separately or with all or any class or group of members or managers on any matter. Voting by members may be on a per capita, number, financial interest, class, group, or any other basis.

proxy, or any other matter with respect to the exercise of any such right to vote.
97 Acts, ch 188, §59

SUBCHAPTER IV
NAMES

490A.401 Name.
1. A limited liability company name must contain the words “Limited Company” or “Limited Liability Company” or the abbreviation “L.C.” or “L.L.C.” or words or abbreviations of like import in another language.
2. A limited liability company name shall not contain any of the following:
   a. The words “Corporation”, “Incorporated”, “Limited Partnership” or the abbreviations “Corp.”, “Inc.” or “L.P.” or words or abbreviations of like import in another language.
   b. Any word or phrase the use of which is prohibited by law for such a limited liability company.
3. Except as authorized by subsections 4 and 5, a limited liability company name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:
   a. The name of a limited liability company, limited partnership, or corporation organized under the law of this state or registered as a foreign limited liability company, foreign limited partnership, or foreign corporation in this state.
   b. A name reserved in the manner provided under the law of this state.
   c. The fictitious name adopted by a foreign corporation, foreign limited partnership, or foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state, because its real name is unavailable.
   d. The corporate name of a nonprofit corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.
4. A limited liability company may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary’s records from one or more of the names described in subsection 3. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:
   a. The other entity consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying limited liability company.
   b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant’s right to use the name applied for in this state.
5. A limited liability company may use the name, including the fictitious name, of another entity that is used in this state if the other entity is formed under the law of this state or is authorized to transact business in this state and the proposed user limited liability company meets one of the following conditions:
   a. Has merged with the other entity.
   b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other entity.
   c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the name, of the other entity.
6. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a limited liability company uses a fictitious name in this state it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a certified copy of the resolution of the limited liability company adopting the fictitious name.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §27; 95 Acts, ch 138, §2

490A.402 Reserved name.
1. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a limited liability company name, including a fictitious name for a foreign limited liability company whose limited liability company name is not available, by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth the name and address of the applicant and the name proposed to be reserved. If the secretary of state finds that the limited liability company name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant’s exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty-day period.
2. The owner of a reserved limited liability company name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §28

SUBCHAPTER V
REGISTERED OFFICE AND AGENT

490A.501 Registered office and registered agent.
Each limited liability company must continuously maintain in this state each of the following:
1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.
2. A registered agent who may be any of the following:
   a. An individual who is a resident of this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   b. A domestic corporation, domestic limited liability company, or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   c. A foreign corporation, foreign limited liability company, or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.
§490A.501, LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

92 Acts, ch 1151, §29

490A.502 Change of registered office or registered agent.
1. Each limited liability company may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth the following:
   a. The name of the limited liability company or foreign limited liability company.
   b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.
   c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent’s written consent either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.
   d. That after the change or changes are made, the street address of its registered office and the business office of its registered agent will be identical.
2. A statement of change shall forthwith be filed in the office of the secretary of state by a limited liability company whenever its registered agent dies, resigns, or ceases to satisfy the requirements of section 490A.501.
4. The change of address of a registered office or the change of registered agent becomes effective upon the filing of such statement by the secretary of state.

490A.503 Resignation of registered agent — discontinuance of registered office — statement.
1. A registered agent may resign the agent’s agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing an original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation to the registered office, if not discontinued, and to the limited liability company at its principal office. The agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copy has been sent to the limited liability company, including the date the copy was sent.
2. The agency appointment is terminated, and the registered office discontinued if so provided, on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §31; 97 Acts, ch 107, §9

490A.504 Service on limited liability company.
1. A domestic or foreign limited liability company’s registered agent is the limited liability company’s agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the limited liability company.
2. If a limited liability company has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the limited liability company may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the limited liability company at its principal office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of:
   a. The date the limited liability company receives the mail.
   b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the limited liability company.
   c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.
3. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a domestic or foreign limited liability company.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §32

SUBCHAPTER VI
RELATIONSHIP OF A LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AND ITS MEMBERS TO THIRD PERSONS

490A.601 Liability to third persons.
Except as otherwise provided by this chapter or as expressly provided in the articles of organization, no member or manager of a limited liability company is personally liable for the acts or debts of the limited liability company.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §33

490A.602 Parties to actions.
A member of a limited liability company is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a limited liability company, except where either of the following applies:
1. The object is to enforce a member’s right against or liability to the limited liability company.
2. As provided in subchapter X.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §34

490A.603 Liability of members.
1. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter or by written agreement of a member, a member or manager of a limited liability company is not personally liable solely by reason of being a member or manager of the limited liability company under any judgment, or in any other manner, for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company, whether that liability or obligation arises in contract, tort, or otherwise.

2. A member of a limited liability company is personally liable under a judgment or for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company, whether that liability or obligation arises in contract, tort, or otherwise, under the same or similar circumstances and to the same extent as a shareholder of a corporation may be personally liable for any debt, obligation, or liability of the corporation, except that the failure to hold meetings of members or managers or the failure to observe formalities pertaining to the calling or conduct of meetings shall not be considered a factor tending to establish that the members have personal liability for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company.

3. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the liability of a member of a limited liability company to third parties for the member's participation in tortious conduct.

97 Acts, ch 188, §60

SUBCHAPTER VII

RELATIONSHIP OF MEMBERS TO EACH OTHER

490A.701 Voting rights of members.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the members of a limited liability company shall vote in proportion to their capital contributions to the limited liability company, as adjusted from time to time to reflect any additional contributions or withdrawals.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a majority vote shall be required to approve the following matters:
   a. The dissolution and winding up of the limited liability company.
   b. The sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, pledge, or other transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the limited liability company other than in the ordinary course of business.
   c. Merger of the limited liability company with another entity.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a unanimous vote shall be required to approve an amendment to the articles of organization or operating agreement.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §35; 93 Acts, ch 39, §23, 24

490A.702 Management of limited liability company.

1. Unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement provides for management of a limited liability company by a manager or managers, management of a limited liability company shall be vested in its members.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization and except as provided in subsection 3, every member is an agent of the limited liability company for the purpose of its business or affairs. The act of any member, including, but not limited to, the execution in the name of the limited liability company of any instrument, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the business or affairs of the limited liability company shall bind the limited liability company, unless the member so acting has, in fact, no authority to act for the limited liability company in the particular matter, and the person with whom the member is dealing has knowledge of the fact that the member has no such authority.

3. If the articles of organization provide that management of the limited liability company is vested in a manager or managers the following apply:
   a. A member, acting solely in the capacity as a member, is not an agent of the limited liability company.
   b. Every manager is an agent of the limited liability company for the purpose of its business or affairs, unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. The act of any manager with agency authority, including, but not limited to, the execution in the name of the limited liability company of any instrument, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the business or affairs of the limited liability company shall bind the limited liability company, unless the manager so acting has, in fact, no authority to act for the limited liability company in the particular matter, and the person with whom the manager is dealing has knowledge of the fact that the manager has no such authority.

4. Except as provided in subsection 5, the validity of an act of a limited liability company is not challengeable on the ground that the limited liability company lacks or lacked the power or authority to act.

5. A limited liability company's power to act may be challenged in the following proceedings:
   a. In an action by a member against the limited liability company to enjoin an unauthorized act.
   b. In an action by the limited liability company against an incumbent or former manager, employee, or agent of the limited liability company, either directly, derivatively, or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative.
   c. By the attorney general under section 490A.1409.

6. In a member's proceeding under subsection 5, paragraph "a", to enjoin an unauthorized act, the court may enjoin or set aside the act if equitable and if all affected persons are parties to the proceeding. The court may award damages, other than anticipated profits, for loss suffered by the limited liability company or another party as a result of the unauthorized act being enjoined.

7. An act of a manager or member in contravention of a restriction on authority shall not bind the limited liability company to persons having knowledge of the restriction.

490A.703 Operating agreement.
1. The members of a limited liability company may enter into an operating agreement to establish or regulate the affairs of the limited liability company, the conduct of its business and the relations of its members. An operating agreement may contain any provisions regarding the affairs of a limited liability company and the conduct of its business to the extent that such provisions are not inconsistent with law or the articles of organization.

2. An operating agreement must initially be agreed to by all of the members. Unless the articles of organization specifically permit otherwise, an operating agreement shall be in writing.

3. a. A written operating agreement or other writing may provide for a person to be admitted as a member of a limited liability company, or to become an assignee of a limited liability company interest, that the records of the limited liability company reflect such admission or assignment.

b. A written operating agreement or another written agreement or writing is not unenforceable by reason of its not having been signed by a person being admitted as a member or becoming an assignee, or the member’s or assignee’s representative, as provided in paragraph “a”.

c. A written operating agreement or another written agreement or writing is not unenforceable by reason of its not having been signed by a person being admitted as a member or becoming an assignee, or the member’s or assignee’s representative, as provided in paragraph “a”.

4. A court may enforce an operating agreement by injunction or by other relief that the court determines to be fair and appropriate in the circumstances. As an alternative to injunctive or other equitable relief, when the provisions of section 490A.1302 are applicable, the court may order dissolution of the limited liability company.

490A.704 Withdrawal of member.
A member may withdraw from a limited liability company at the time or upon the happening of events specified in writing in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement provides that it is subject to this section.

3. Unless an operating agreement provides otherwise, a member may not resign or withdraw from a limited liability company prior to the dissolution and winding up of the limited liability company. However, if the articles of organization or an operating agreement do not specify the time or the events upon the happening of which a member may resign or withdraw, a member may resign upon not less than six months’ prior written notice to each member at the member’s address on the books of the limited liability company. The articles of organization or an operating agreement may prohibit withdrawal by a member.

490A.704A Resignation or withdrawal of member.
1. a. This section applies to a limited liability company whose original articles of organization are filed with the secretary of state on or after July 1, 1997.

b. This section applies to a limited liability company whose original articles of organization are filed with the secretary of state and effective on or prior to June 30, 1997, if such company’s operating agreement provides that it is subject to this section.

c. If no provision is made in the operating agreement, a limited liability company whose original articles of organization were filed with the secretary of state and effective on or prior to June 30, 1997, is subject to section 490A.704.

2. A member may resign or withdraw from a limited liability company only at the time or upon the happening of an event specified in an operating agreement and pursuant to the operating agreement.

3. Unless an operating agreement provides otherwise, a member may not resign or withdraw from a limited liability company prior to the dissolution of the limited liability company.
tion pursuant to this subsection, any depreciation in anticipation of the amendment shall be excluded. An amendment that does any of the following is subject to this subsection:
   a. Alters or abolishes a member’s right to receive a distribution.
   b. Alters or abolishes a member’s right to voluntarily withdraw or resign.
   c. Alters or abolishes a member’s right to vote on any matter, except as the rights may be altered or abolished through the acceptance of contributions or the making of contribution agreements.
   d. Alters or abolishes a member’s preemptive right to make contributions.
   e. Establishes or changes the conditions for or consequences of expulsion.
   f. A member withdrawing under this section is not liable for damages for the breach of any agreement not to withdraw.
5. An operating agreement may provide that a membership interest may be assigned prior to the dissolution and winding up of the limited liability company.
97 Acts, ch 188, §64

490A.705 Management of a limited liability company by a manager or managers.
1. The articles of organization or an operating agreement of a limited liability company may apportion responsibility for managing a limited liability company among one or more managers who may be, but need not be, members.
2. The articles of organization or an operating agreement may prescribe qualifications for managers.
3. The number of managers shall be fixed by or in the manner provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. The number of managers may be increased or decreased by amendment to, or in the manner provided in, the articles of organization or an operating agreement.
4. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, managers shall be elected by the majority vote of the members.
5. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, any vacancy occurring in the office of manager shall be filled by a majority vote of the members.
6. All managers or any lesser number may be removed in the manner provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement does not provide for the removal of managers, then all managers or any lesser number may be removed with or without cause by a majority vote of the members.
7. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, if the limited liability company has more than one manager, all decisions of the managers shall be by majority vote of the managers.
8. Unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement require a different number, a quorum for a meeting of managers consists of a majority of the managers.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §39

490A.705A Classes of managers and voting.
1. An operating agreement may provide for classes or groups of managers having such relative rights, powers, and duties as the operating agreement may provide, and may make provision for the future creation of additional classes or groups of managers having such relative rights, powers, and duties as may from time to time be established, including rights, powers, and duties senior to existing classes and groups of managers. An operating agreement may provide for taking action, including the amendment of the operating agreement, without the vote or approval of any manager or class or group of managers. An operating agreement may provide for the creation of a class or group of membership interests that was not previously outstanding.
3. An operating agreement which grants a right to vote may set forth provisions relating to notice of the time, place, or purpose of any meeting at which any matter is to be voted on by any manager or class or group of managers, waiver of any such notice, action by consent without a meeting, the establishment of a record date, quorum requirements, voting in person or by proxy, or any other matter with respect to the exercise of any such right to vote.

490A.706 General standards of conduct for managers.
1. A manager shall discharge that manager’s duties as a manager in good faith, with the care an ordinary prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances, and in a manner the manager believes to be in the best interests of the limited liability company.
2. In discharging the manager’s duties, a manager is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the following:
   a. One or more managers or employees of the limited liability company whom the manager reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.
§490A.707 Limitation of liability of managers.

The articles of organization may contain a provision eliminating or limiting the personal liability of a manager to the limited liability company or to its members or of the members with whom the management of the limited liability company is vested pursuant to section 490A.702, to the limited liability company or to its members for money damages for any action taken, or any failure to take action, as a manager or a member with whom management of the limited liability company is vested, except for liability for any of the following:
1. The amount of a financial benefit received by a manager or member to which the manager or member is not entitled.
2. An intentional infliction of harm on the limited liability company or its members.
3. A violation of section 490A.807.
4. An intentional violation of criminal law.

A provision shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a manager or member with whom management of the limited liability company is vested for an act or omission occurring prior to the date when the provision in the articles of organization becomes effective.

§490A.708 Business transactions of managers with the limited liability company.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the limited liability company in which a manager of the limited liability company has a direct or indirect interest. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the limited liability company solely because of the manager’s interest in the transaction if any one of the following is true:
   a. The material facts of the transaction and the manager’s interest were disclosed or known to the managers or a committee of managers and the managers or a committee of managers authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.
   b. The material facts of the transaction and the manager’s interest were disclosed or known to the members entitled to vote and they approved, approved, or ratified the transaction.
   c. The transaction was fair to the limited liability company.

2. For purposes of this section, a manager of the limited liability company has an indirect interest in a transaction if either:
   a. Another entity in which the manager has a material financial interest or in which the manager is a general partner is a party to the transaction.
   b. Another entity of which the manager is a director, officer, manager, or trustee is a party to the transaction and the transaction is or should be considered by the limited liability company.

4. For purposes of subsection 1, paragraph “b”, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the members entitled to vote under this subsection. Interests owned by or voted under the control of a manager who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction, and interests owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection 2, paragraph “a”, shall not be counted in a vote of members to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under subsection 1, paragraph “b”. The vote of those members, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this chapter. Members, whether or not present, that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this subsection constitute a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this section.

§490A.709 Information and records.

1. Each limited liability company shall keep at its principal office the following:
4913

a. A current list of the full name and last known business address of each member and manager.

b. A copy of the articles of organization and all articles of amendment thereto.

c. Copies of the limited liability company's federal, state, and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years.

d. Copies of any then-effective written operating agreement and of any financial statements of the limited liability company for the three most recent years.

e. Unless contained in a written operating agreement, a writing setting out:

   (3) Any right of a member to receive, or of the limited liability company to make, distributions to a member which include a return of all or any part of the member's contribution.

   (4) Any events upon the happening of which the limited liability company is to dissolve and its affairs be wound up.

   2. Each member has the right for any purpose reasonably related to the member's interest as a member of the limited liability company, upon reasonable request and subject to reasonable standards as may be set forth in an operating agreement, to do any of the following:

   a. Inspect and copy any of the limited liability company records required to be maintained by this section; and

   b. Obtain from the manager or managers, or if the limited liability company has no manager or managers, from any member or other person with access to such information, from time to time upon reasonable demand any of the following:

      (1) True and full information regarding the state of the business and financial condition of the limited liability company.

      (2) Promptly after it becomes available, a copy of the limited liability company's federal, state, and local income tax returns for each year.

      (3) Other information regarding the affairs of the limited liability company as is just and reasonable.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §43; 97 Acts, ch 188, §66

490A.710 Delegation of rights and powers to manage.

Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a member or manager of a limited liability company may delegate to one or more other persons the member's or manager's rights and powers to manage and control the business and affairs of the limited liability company, including to agents and employees of a member or manager of the limited liability company, and to delegate by a management agreement or another agreement with other persons. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, such delegation by a member or manager of a limited liability company shall not cause the member or manager to cease to be a member or manager of the limited liability company.

490A.711 Contractual appraisal rights.

An operating agreement or an agreement of merger may provide that contractual appraisal rights with respect to a membership interest or another interest in a limited liability company are available for any class or group of members or membership interests in connection with an amendment of an operating agreement, a merger in which the limited liability company is a constituent party to the merger, or the sale of all or substantially all of the limited liability company’s assets. The district court of the county in which the limited liability company has its principal place of business has jurisdiction to hear and determine any matter relating to such appraisal rights.

490A.712 Cessation of membership.

A person ceases to be a member of a limited liability company upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. The person withdraws or resigns from the limited liability company.

2. The person is removed as a member pursuant to the operating agreement.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, the person does any of the following:

   a. Makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors.

   b. Files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

   c. Is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent or has entered against the person an order for relief in any bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding.

   d. Files a petition or answer seeking for that person any reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution, or similar relief under any statute or rule.

   e. Seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator for the member or for all or any substantial part of the member’s properties.

   f. Files an answer or other pleading admitting or failing to contest the material allegations of a petition filed against the person in any proceeding described in this subsection.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, or with the consent of all other members, the continuation of any proceeding against the person seeking reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolu-
§490A.712, LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

SUBCHAPTER VIII

FINANCE

490A.801 Contributions — penalties.
1. The contributions of a member to a limited liability company may be in cash, property, or services rendered, or a promissory note or other binding obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services.
3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the obligation of a member to make a contribution or return money or other property paid or distributed in violation of this chapter may be compromised only by consent of all the members. Notwithstanding the compromise, a creditor of a limited liability company who extends credit or otherwise acts in reliance on the original obligation may enforce the original obligation.
4. An operating agreement may provide that the interest of any member who fails to make a contribution that the member is obligated to make is subject to specified penalties for, or specified consequences of, such failure. The penalty or consequence may take the form of reducing or eliminating the defaulting member's proportionate interest in a limited liability company, subordinating the member's membership interest to that of a nondefaulting member, a forced sale of the member's membership interest, forfeiture of the member's membership interest, the lending by other members of the amount necessary to meet the member's commitment, a fixing of the value of the member's membership interest by appraisal or by formula and redemption, or sale of the member's membership interest at such value or other penalty or consequence.

490A.802 Sharing of profits and losses.
The profits and losses of a limited liability company shall be allocated among the members, and among classes of members, in the manner provided in writing in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement do not so provide in writing, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of their respective capital contributions, as adjusted from time to time to reflect any additional contributions or withdrawals.

490A.803 Sharing of distributions.
Distributions of cash or other assets of a limited liability company shall be allocated among the members, and among classes of members, in the manner provided in writing in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement do not so provide in writing, distributions shall be made on the basis of their respective capital contributions, as adjusted from time to time to reflect any additional contributions or withdrawals.
490A.804 Interim distributions.
Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a member is entitled to receive distributions from a limited liability company before the member’s withdrawal from the limited liability company and before the dissolution and winding up of the company to the extent and at the times or upon the happening of the events specified in the articles of organization or an operating agreement.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §47

490A.805 Distribution upon withdrawal.
Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, upon withdrawal, a withdrawing member is entitled to receive any distribution to which the member is entitled under the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If not otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the member is entitled to receive, within a reasonable time after withdrawal, the fair value of the member’s membership interest as of the date of withdrawal, based on the member’s right to share in distributions from the limited liability company.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §48

490A.806 Distribution in kind.
Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a member, regardless of the nature of the member’s contribution, has no right to demand and receive any distribution from a limited liability company in any form other than cash. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a member shall not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind from a limited liability company to the extent that the percentage of the asset distributed to the member exceeds the percentage of the member’s membership interest in the limited liability company.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §49

490A.807 Restrictions on making distribution.
1. A distribution shall not be made if, after giving it effect, either of the following would result:
   a. The limited liability company would not be able to pay its debts as they became due in the usual course of business.
   b. The limited liability company’s total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus, unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement permit otherwise, the amount that would be needed, if the limited liability company were to be dissolved at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution of members whose preferential rights are superior to the rights of members receiving the distribution.
2. The limited liability company may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 1 of this section on either of the following:
   a. Financial statements prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances.
   b. A fair valuation or other method that is reasonable in the circumstances.
3. The effect of a distribution under subsection 1 of this section is measured as of one of the following:
   a. The date the distribution is authorized if the payment occurs within one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.
   b. The date the payment is made if it occurs more than one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.
4. A limited liability company’s indebtedness to a member incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this section is at parity with the limited liability company’s indebtedness to its general unsecured creditors, except to the extent subordinated by agreement.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §50

490A.808 Liability upon wrongful distribution.
If a member has received a distribution in violation of the articles of organization or an operating agreement or in violation of section 490A.807 of this chapter, then the member is liable to the limited liability company for a period of five years thereafter for the amount of the distribution wrongfully made.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §51

490A.809 Right to distribution.
Subject to sections 490A.807 and 490A.1304, and unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, at the time a member becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the member has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the limited liability company with respect to the distribution. An operating agreement may provide for the establishment of a record date with respect to allocations and distributions by a limited liability company.
97 Acts, ch 188, §71

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES, §490A.901

490A.901 Nature of interest in limited liability company.
A membership interest in a limited liability company is personal property.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §52
490A.902 Assignment of interest.
Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a membership interest in a limited liability company is assignable in whole or in part. An assignment of an interest in a limited liability company does not dissolve the limited liability company. Except as provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, an assignment does not entitle the assignee to participate in the management and affairs of the limited liability company or to become or to exercise any rights of a member. Except as provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, an assignment entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Except as provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a member ceases to be a member upon assignment of the member’s entire membership interest.

490A.903 Right of assignee to become member.
1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, an assignee of an interest in a limited liability company may become a member only if the other members unanimously consent. The consent of a member may be evidenced in any manner specified in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. In the absence of such specification consent shall be evidenced by a written instrument, dated and signed by the requisite number of members, or evidenced by a vote taken at a meeting of members called for that purpose.

2. An assignee who has become a member has, to the extent assigned, the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a member under the articles of organization, an operating agreement, and this chapter. An assignee who becomes a member is liable for any obligations of the member’s assignor to make and return contributions as provided in subchapters VII and VIII. However, an assignee who becomes a member is not obligated for liabilities of the assignor unknown to the assignee at the time the assignee became a member, and which could not be ascertained from the articles of organization or an operating agreement.

3. If an assignee of an interest in a limited liability company becomes a member, the assignor is not released from liability to the limited liability company under sections 490A.801 and 490A.808.

490A.904 Rights of creditor.
On application to a court of competent jurisdiction by any judgment creditor of a member, the court may charge the interest of the member in the limited liability company with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment with interest. To the extent of the amounts so charged, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the interest in the limited liability company.

This chapter does not deprive any member of the benefit of any exemption laws applicable to the member’s interest in the limited liability company.

490A.905 Powers of estate of a deceased or incompetent member.
If a member who is an individual dies or a court of competent jurisdiction adjudges the member to be incompetent, the member’s executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, or other legal representative may exercise all of the member’s rights for the purpose of settling the member’s estate or administering the member’s property, including any power under the articles of organization or an operating agreement of an assignee to become a member. If a member is a corporation, trust, or other entity and is dissolved or terminated, the powers of that member may be exercised by its legal representative or successor.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §56

SUBCHAPTER X
DERIVATIVE ACTIONS

490A.1001 Right of member to bring derivative action.
A member may bring an action in the right of the limited liability company to recover a judgment in its favor if all of the following conditions are met:

1. Either management of the limited liability company is vested in a manager or managers who have the sole authority to cause the limited liability company to sue in its own right or management of the limited liability company is reserved to the members but the plaintiff does not have the authority to cause the limited liability company to sue in its own right under the provisions of the articles of organization or an operating agreement.

2. The plaintiff has made demand on those managers or those members with such authority requesting that such managers or such members cause the limited liability company to sue in its own right.

4. The plaintiff is a member of the limited liability company at the time of bringing the action and was a member of the limited liability company at the time of the transaction of which the plaintiff complains, or the plaintiff’s status as a member of the limited liability company thereafter devolved upon the plaintiff pursuant to the terms of the articles of organization or an operating agreement from a person who was a member at such time.

5. The plaintiff fairly and adequately represents the interests of the members in enforcing the right of the limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §57

SUBCHAPTER XI
AMENDMENT OF ARTICLES OF ORGANIZATION

490A.1101 Amendment of articles of organization.
1. A limited liability company may amend its articles of organization at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles of organization or to delete a provision not required in the articles of organization by delivering articles of amendment to the secretary of state for filing. Whether a provision is required or permitted for the articles of organization is determined as of the effective date of the amendment.

2. To amend its articles of organization, a limited liability company shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the limited liability company.
   b. The text of each amendment adopted.
   c. The date of each amendment’s adoption.
   d. A statement that the amendment was adopted by a vote of the members in accordance with this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §58

490A.1102 Restated articles of organization.
1. A limited liability company may restate its articles of organization at any time.

2. The restatement may include one or more amendments to the articles. The restatement must be adopted by a vote of the members as provided by this chapter.

3. A limited liability company restating its articles of organization shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of restatement setting forth the name of the limited liability company and the text of the restated articles of organization together with a certificate setting forth the information required by section 490A.1101, subsection 2.

4. Duly adopted restated articles of organization supersede the original articles of organization and all amendments to them.

5. The secretary of state may certify restated articles of organization, as the articles of organization currently in effect, without including the certificate information required by subsection 3.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §59

490A.1103 Amendment pursuant to reorganization.
1. A limited liability company’s articles of organization may be amended without action by the members to carry out a plan of reorganization ordered or decreed by a court of competent jurisdiction under federal statute if the articles of organization after amendment contain only provisions required or permitted by section 490A.303.

2. The individual or individuals designated by the court shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the limited liability company.
   b. The text of each amendment approved by the court.
   c. The date of the court’s order or decree approving the articles of amendment.
   d. The title of the reorganization proceeding in which the order or decree was entered.
   e. A statement that the court had jurisdiction of the proceeding under federal statute.

3. This section does not apply after entry of a final decree in the reorganization proceeding even though the court retains jurisdiction of the proceeding for limited purposes unrelated to consummation of the reorganization plan.

490A.1104 Effect of amendment.
An amendment to articles of organization does not affect a cause of action existing against or in favor of the limited liability company, a proceeding to which the limited liability company is a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members of the limited liability company. An amendment changing a limited liability company’s name does not abate a proceeding brought by or against the limited liability company in its former name.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §61

SUBCHAPTER XII MERGER

490A.1201 Merger.
Any one or more limited liability companies may merge with or into any one or more limited liability companies, limited partnerships, or corporations, provided that no member of a limited liability company that is a party to the merger will, as a result of the merger, become personally liable for the liabilities or obligations of any other person or entity unless that member approves the plan of merger or otherwise consents to becoming personally liable.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §62

490A.1202 Plan of merger.
1. Each constituent entity must enter into a written plan of merger, which must be approved in accordance with section 490A.1203.
2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of each constituent entity in the merger and the name of the surviving entity into which each other constituent entity proposes to merge.
   b. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.
   c. The manner and basis of converting the interests in each constituent entity in the merger into interests, shares, or other securities or obligations of the surviving entity, or of any other entity, or in whole or in part, into cash or other property.
   d. Such amendments to the articles of organization of a limited liability company, articles or certificate of incorporation of a corporation, or certificate of limited partnership of a limited partnership, as the case may be, of the surviving entity as are desired to be effected by the merger, or that no such changes are desired.
   e. Other provisions relating to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §63

490A.1203 Action on plan.
1. A proposed plan of merger complying with the requirements of section 490A.1202 shall be approved in the manner provided by this section:
   a. A limited liability company which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved as required by section 490A.701.
   b. A corporation which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required by chapter 490.
   c. A limited partnership which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required by its partnership agreement and in accordance with chapter 487 or 488.
2. After a merger is authorized, unless the plan of merger provides otherwise, and at any time before articles of merger as provided for in section 490A.1204 are filed, the plan of merger may be abandoned subject to any contractual rights, in accordance with the procedure set forth in the plan of merger or, if none is set forth, in one of the following ways:
   a. By the majority consent of the members of each limited liability company that is a constituent entity, unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement of any such limited liability company provides otherwise.
   b. In the manner determined by the board of directors of any corporation that is a constituent entity.
   c. By the limited partners of any limited partnership that is a constituent entity by the vote, if any, required by its limited partnership agreement and in accordance with the law of this state.
   d. By the limited partners of any limited partnership that is a constituent entity by the vote, if any, required by its limited partnership agreement and in accordance with the law of this state.
   e. A statement that the plan of merger was duly authorized and approved by each constituent entity in accordance with section 490A.1203.
2. A merger takes effect upon the later of the effective date of the filing of the articles of merger or the date set forth in the plan of merger.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §65

490A.1205 Effect of merger.
When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:
1. Every other constituent entity merges into the surviving entity and the separate existence of every constituent entity except the surviving entity ceases.
2. The title to all real estate and other property owned by each constituent entity is vested in the surviving entity without reversion or impairment.
3. The surviving entity has all liabilities of each constituent entity.
4. A proceeding pending against any constituent entity may be continued as if the merger did not occur or the surviving entity may be substituted in the proceeding for the constituent entity whose existence ceased.
5. The articles or limited partnership agreement of the surviving entity are amended to the extent provided in the plan of merger.
6. The shares or interests of each constituent entity that are to be converted into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other entity or into cash or other property are converted, and the former holders of the shares or interests are entitled only to the rights provided in the articles of merger except for dissenters' rights provided by law.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §66

490A.1206 Merger with foreign entity.
1. Any one or more limited liability companies of this state may merge with or into one or more foreign limited liability companies, foreign corporations, or foreign limited partnerships, or any one or more foreign limited liability companies, foreign corporations, or foreign limited partnerships may merge with or into any one or more limited liability companies of this state, if all of the following apply:
   a. The merger is permitted by the law of the state or jurisdiction under whose law each foreign constituent entity is organized or formed and each foreign constituent entity complies with that law in effecting the merger.
   b. The foreign constituent entity complies with section 490A.1204 of this division if it is the surviving entity.
   c. Each domestic constituent entity complies with the applicable provisions of sections 490A.1202 and 490A.1203 and, if it is the surviving entity, with section 490A.1204.
2. Upon a merger involving one or more domestic limited liability companies taking effect, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any state other than this state or of any foreign country, then the surviving entity shall agree to both of the following:
   a. That it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for enforcement of any obligation of any constituent entity, who was a party to the merger, that was organized under the law of this state, as well as for enforcement of any obligation of the surviving entity arising from the merger.
   b. To irrevocably appoint the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any such proceeding, and the surviving entity shall specify the address to which a copy of the process shall be mailed to it by the secretary of state.
3. The effect of the merger shall be as provided in section 490A.1205, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of this state. If the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any jurisdiction other than this state, the effect of the merger shall be the same as provided in subsection 2 of this section, except insofar as the law of the other jurisdiction provides otherwise.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §67; 93 Acts, ch 39, §29

490A.1301 Dissolution — general provisions.
A limited liability company organized under this chapter is dissolved and its affairs shall be wound up upon the happening of the first to occur of the following events:
1. At the time or on the happening of an event specified in this chapter or in the articles of organization or an operating agreement to cause dissolution.
2. Upon the unanimous written consent of the members.
3. The entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under section 490A.1302.

490A.1302 Judicial dissolution.
On application by or for a member, the district court of the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located may decree dissolution of a limited liability company if it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with the articles of organization and any operating agreement.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §69

490A.1303 Winding up.
Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, members who have not wrongfully dissolved a limited liability company may wind up the limited liability company's affairs; but the district court of the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located, on cause shown, may wind up the limited liability company's affairs upon application of any member, member's legal representative, or member's assignee.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §70

490A.1304 Distribution of assets upon dissolution.
Upon the winding up of a limited liability company, the assets of the limited liability company shall be distributed in the order as follows:
1. To creditors, including members who are creditors, to the extent permitted by law, in satisfaction of liabilities of the limited liability company other than for distributions to members under section 490A.803 or section 490A.805.
2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, to members and former members in satisfaction of liabilities for distributions under section 490A.803 or section 490A.805.
3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of... organization or an operating agreement, to members first for the return of their capital contributions and second with respect to their interests in the limited liability company, in the proportions in which the members share in distributions. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §71

§490A.1305 Articles of dissolution.
1. Upon the completion of winding up of the limited liability company, articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing. The winding up of a limited liability company shall be completed when all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the limited liability company have been paid and discharged or reasonably adequate provision therefor has been made, and all of the remaining property and assets of the limited liability company have been distributed to the members. The articles of dissolution shall set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the limited liability company.
   b. The date of filing of the articles of organization and each amendment thereto.
   c. The reason for filing the articles of dissolution.
   d. The effective date of dissolution if it is not to be effective on the filing of the articles of dissolution.
   e. Any other information the members or managers determine to include.
2. The limited liability company is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §72

§490A.1306 Known claims against dissolved limited liability companies.
A dissolved limited liability company may dispose of the known claims against it in accordance with this section.
1. The dissolved limited liability company shall notify its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after its effective date. The written notice must do all of the following:
   a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.
   b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.
   c. State the deadline, which may not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved limited liability company must receive the claim.
   d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.
2. A claim against the dissolved limited liability company is barred if either of the following occurs:
   a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 1 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved limited liability company by the deadline.
   b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved limited liability company does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.
3. For purposes of this section, “claim” does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §73

§490A.1307 Unknown claims against dissolved limited liability company.
1. A dissolved limited liability company may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the limited liability company present them in accordance with the notice.
2. The notice shall meet all of the following requirements:
   a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved limited liability company's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or was last located.
   b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.
   c. State that a claim against the limited liability company will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within five years after the publication of the notice.
3. If the dissolved limited liability company publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved corporation within five years after the publication date of the newspaper notice:
   a. A claimant who did not receive written notice under section 490A.1306.
   b. A claimant whose claim was timely sent to the dissolved limited liability company but not acted on.
   c. A claimant whose claim is contingent or based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.
4. A claim may be enforced under this section in either of the following ways:
   a. Against the dissolved limited liability company, to the extent of its undistributed assets.
   b. If the assets have been distributed in liquidation, against a member of the dissolved limited liability company to the extent of the member’s pro rata share of the claim or the limited liability company assets distributed to the member in liquidation, whichever is less, but a member’s total liability for all claims under this section shall not exceed the total amount of assets distributed to the member in liquidation.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §74
490A.1401 Law governing.
The law of the state or other jurisdiction under which a foreign limited liability company is formed governs its formation and internal affairs and the liability of its members and managers. A foreign limited liability company shall not be denied registration by reason of any difference between those laws and the laws of this state. A foreign limited liability company holding a valid registration in this state shall have no greater rights and privileges than a domestic limited liability company. The registration shall not be deemed to authorize the foreign limited liability company to exercise any of its powers or purposes that a domestic limited liability company is forbidden by law to exercise in this state.

490A.1402 Registration.
A foreign limited liability company may apply for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. An application for registration as a foreign limited liability company shall set forth all of the following:
1. The name of the foreign limited liability company and, if different, the name under which it proposes to register and transact business in this state.
2. The state or other jurisdiction in which the foreign limited liability company was formed and the date of its formation.
3. The street address of the registered office of the foreign limited liability company in this state, the name of the registered agent at the office, and a statement that the registered office and registered agent comply with the requirements of section 490A.501.
4. The address of the office required to be maintained in the state or other jurisdiction of its formation by the law of that state or jurisdiction or, if not so required, of the principal office of the foreign limited liability company.
5. A copy of the articles of organization filed in the foreign limited liability company's state or other jurisdiction of formation authorizing it to do business in that state or other jurisdiction, duly authenticated by the proper officer of the state or other jurisdiction of its formation.

490A.1403 Service on foreign limited liability company.
1. The registered agent of a foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state is the limited liability company's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the foreign limited liability company.
2. A foreign limited liability company may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the foreign limited liability company at its principal office shown in its application for a certificate of authority if the foreign limited liability company meets any of the following conditions:
   a. Has no registered agent or its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served.
   b. Has withdrawn from transacting business in this state under section 490A.1406.
   c. Has had its certificate of authority revoked under section 490A.1410.
3. Service is perfected under subsection 2 at the earliest of:
   a. The date the foreign limited liability company receives the mail.
   b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the foreign limited liability company.
   c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.
4. A foreign limited liability company may also be served in any other manner permitted by law.

490A.1404 Name.
A certificate of registration shall not be issued to a foreign limited liability company unless the name of the limited liability company satisfies the requirements of section 490A.401. To obtain or maintain a certificate of registration the company shall comply with the following:
1. The foreign limited liability company shall add the words “Limited Company” or the abbreviation “L.C.” to its name for use in this state.
2. If its real name is unavailable in this state, the foreign limited liability company shall use a fictitious name that is available, and which satisfies the requirements of section 490A.401, and shall inform the secretary of state of the fictitious name.

490A.1405 Change and amendment.
If any statement in the application for registration of a foreign limited liability company was false when made or any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the application inaccurate in any respect, the foreign limited liability company shall promptly deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of correction correcting such statement as required by section 490A.123.
490A.1406 Cancellation of certificate of authority.
1. A foreign limited liability company may cancel its certificate of authority by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a certificate of cancellation which shall set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the foreign limited liability company and the name of the state or other jurisdiction under whose jurisdiction it was formed.
   b. That the foreign limited liability company is not transacting business in this state and that it surrenders its registration to transact business in this state.
   c. That the foreign limited liability company revokes the authority of its registered agent to accept service on its behalf and appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action arising during the time it was authorized to transact business in this state.
   d. A mailing address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process served on the foreign limited liability company.
   e. A commitment to notify the secretary of state in the future of any change in the mailing address of the foreign limited liability company.
2. The certificate of registration shall be canceled upon the filing of the certificate of cancellation by the secretary of state.
3. The list of activities in subsection 2 is not exhaustive.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §80; 93 Acts, ch 39, §33; 94 Acts, ch 1023, §60

490A.1407 Authority to transact business required.
1. A foreign limited liability company shall not transact business in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority from the secretary of state.
2. The following activities, among others, do not constitute transacting business within the meaning of subsection 1:
   a. Maintaining, defending, or settling any proceeding.
   b. Holding meetings of the members or managers or carrying on other activities concerning internal company affairs.
   c. Maintaining bank accounts.
   d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the foreign limited liability company's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.
   e. Selling through independent contractors.
   f. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.
   g. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages, and security interests in real or personal property.
   h. Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages and security interests in property securing the debts.
   i. Owning, without more, real or personal property.
   j. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and that is not one in the course of repeated transactions of a like nature.
   k. Transacting business in interstate commerce.
3. A court may stay a proceeding commenced by a foreign limited liability company, its successor, or assignee until it determines whether the foreign limited liability company or its successor or assignee requires a certificate of authority. If it so determines, the court may further stay the proceeding until the foreign limited liability company or its successor or assignee obtains the certificate.
4. A foreign limited liability company is liable for a civil penalty not to exceed a total of one thousand dollars if it transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority. The attorney general may collect penalties due under this subsection.
5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2, the failure of a foreign limited liability company to obtain a certificate of authority does not impair the validity of its official acts or prevent it from defending any proceeding in this state.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §81; 93 Acts, ch 39, §34; 94 Acts, ch 1023, §61

490A.1408 Consequences of transacting business without authority.
1. A foreign limited liability company transacting business in this state without a certificate of authority shall not maintain a proceeding in any court in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority.
2. The successor to a foreign limited liability company that transacted business in this state without a certificate of authority and the assignee of a cause of action arising out of that business shall not maintain a proceeding based on that cause of action in any court in this state until the foreign limited liability company or its successor obtains a certificate of authority.
3. A court may stay a proceeding commenced by a foreign limited liability company, its successor, or assignee until it determines whether the foreign limited liability company or its successor or assignee requires a certificate of authority. If it so determines, the court may further stay the proceeding until the foreign limited liability company or its successor or assignee obtains the certificate.
4. A foreign limited liability company is liable for a civil penalty not to exceed a total of one thousand dollars if it transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority. The attorney general may collect penalties due under this subsection.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §82

490A.1409 Actions by attorney general.
The attorney general may bring an action to restrain a foreign limited liability company from transacting business in this state in violation of this chapter.
92 Acts, ch 1151, §83

490A.1410 Revocation of certificate of authority.
1. The certificate of authority of a foreign lim-
The foreign limited liability company has failed to:

1. Pay any fees or penalties prescribed by this chapter.
2. Appoint and maintain a registered agent as required under section 490A.1402.
3. Deliver for filing to the secretary of state a report upon any change in the name or address of the registered agent.
4. Deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of correction required under section 490A.1405.

b. A misrepresentation has been made of any material matter in any application, report, affidavit, or other documents submitted by the foreign limited liability company under this subchapter.

2. A certificate of registration of a foreign limited liability company shall not be revoked by the secretary of state, unless both of the following apply:

a. The secretary of state has given the foreign limited liability company not less than sixty days' notice thereof by mail addressed to its registered office in this state or, if the foreign limited liability company fails to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state, addressed to the office required to be maintained pursuant to section 490A.1402.

b. During the sixty-day period, the foreign limited liability company has failed to pay such fees or penalties prescribed by this chapter, to file a report of change regarding the registered agent, to file any necessary articles of correction, or to correct any such misrepresentation.

3. Upon the expiration of sixty days after the mailing of the notice, the authority of the foreign limited liability company to transact business in this state shall cease.

SUBCHAPTER XV
PROFESSIONAL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

490A.1501 Definitions.
As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Employees” or “agents” does not include clerks, stenographers, secretaries, bookkeepers, technicians, or other persons who are not usually and ordinarily considered by custom and practice to be practicing a profession nor any other person who performs all that person's duties for the professional limited liability company under the direction and control of one or more managers, employees, or agents of the professional limited liability company who are duly licensed in this state to practice a profession which the limited liability company is authorized to practice in this state. This chapter does not require any such persons to be licensed to practice a profession if they are not required to be licensed under any other law of this state.

2. “Foreign professional limited liability company” means a limited liability company organized under laws other than the laws of this state for a purpose for which a professional limited liability company may be organized under this chapter.

3. “Licensed” includes registered, certified, admitted to practice, or otherwise legally authorized under the laws of this state.

4. “Profession” means the profession of certified public accountancy, architecture, chiropractic, dentistry, physical therapy, psychology, professional engineering, land surveying, landscape architecture, law, medicine and surgery, optometry, osteopathy, osteopathic medicine and surgery, accounting, podiatry, speech pathology, audiology, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, nursing, and marriage and family therapy, provided that the marriage and family therapist is licensed under chapters 147 and 154D.

5. “Professional limited liability company” means a limited liability company subject to this subchapter, except a foreign professional limited liability company.

6. “Regulating board” means any board, commission, court, or governmental authority which, under the laws of this state, is charged with the licensing, registration, certification, admission to practice, or other legal authorization of the practitioners of any profession.

7. “Voluntary transfer” includes a sale, voluntary assignment, gift, pledge, or encumbrance; a voluntary change of legal or equitable ownership or beneficial interest; or a voluntary change of persons having voting rights with respect to any membership interest, except as proxies; but does not include a transfer of an individual’s membership interest or other property to a guardian or conservator appointed for that individual or the individual's property.

490A.1502 Purposes and powers.
A professional limited liability company shall be organized only for the purpose of engaging in the practice of one specific profession, or two or more specific professions which could lawfully be practiced in combination by a licensed individual or a partnership of licensed individuals, and for the additional purpose of doing all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions. The articles of organization of a professional limited liability company shall state in substance that the purposes for which the professional limited liability company is organized are to engage in the general practice of a specified profession or professions, or one or more specified branches or divisions thereof, and to do all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §86

490A.1503 Name.

The name of a professional limited liability company, the name of a foreign professional limited liability company or its name as modified for use in this state, and any fictitious name or trade name adopted by a professional limited liability company or foreign professional limited liability company shall contain the words “Professional Limited Company” or the abbreviation “P.L.C.”, and except for the addition of such words or abbreviation, shall be a name which could lawfully be used by a licensed individual or by a partnership of licensed individuals in the practice in this state of a profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. Each regulating board may by rule adopt additional requirements as to the corporate names and fictitious or trade names of professional limited liability companies and foreign professional limited liability companies which are authorized to practice a profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board.

490A.1504 Who may organize.

One or more individuals having capacity to contract and licensed to practice a profession in this state in which the professional limited liability company is to be authorized to practice, may organize a professional limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §88; 99 Acts, ch 208, §37

490A.1505 Practice by professional limited liability company.

Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional limited liability company may practice a profession, but may do so in this state only through members, managers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the same profession in this state. In its practice of a profession, no professional limited liability company shall do any act which could not lawfully be done by individuals licensed to practice the profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice.

490A.1506 Professional regulation.

A professional limited liability company shall not be required to register with or to obtain any license, registration, certificate, or other legal authority from a regulating board in order to practice a profession. Except as provided in this section, this subchapter does not restrict or limit in any manner the authority or duties of any regulating board with respect to individuals practicing a profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board, even if the individual is a member, manager, employee, or agent of a professional limited liability company or foreign professional limited liability company and practices the individual's profession through such professional limited liability company.

490A.1507 Relationship and liability to persons served.

This subchapter does not modify any law applicable to the relationship between an individual practicing a profession and a person receiving professional services, including, but not limited to, any liability arising out of such practice and any law respecting privileged communications. This chapter does not modify or affect the ethical standards or standards of conduct of any profession, including, but not limited to, any standards prohibiting or limiting the practice of the profession by a limited liability company or prohibiting or limiting the practice of two or more professions in combination. All such standards shall apply to the members, managers, employees, and agents through whom a professional limited liability company practices any profession in this state, to the same extent that the standards apply to an individual practitioner.

490A.1508 Issuance of membership interests.

Membership interests of a professional limited liability company shall be issued only to individuals who are licensed to practice in any state a profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. Membership interests of a professional limited liability company shall not at any time be issued in, transferred into, or held in joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or any other form of joint ownership or co-ownership. The Iowa uniform securities Act as provided in chapter 502 shall not be applicable to nor govern any transaction relating to any membership interests of a professional limited liability company.

490A.1509 Assignment of membership interests.

A member or other person shall not make a voluntary assignment of a membership interest in a professional limited liability company to any person, except to the professional limited liability company or to an individual who is licensed to practice in this state a profession which the limited liability company is authorized to practice. The articles of organization or operating agreement of the professional limited liability company may contain any additional provisions restricting the assignment of membership interests. Unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement otherwise provide, a voluntary assignment requires the unanimous consent of the members.

490A.1510 Convertible membership interests — rights and options.
A professional limited liability company shall not create or issue any interest convertible into a membership interest of the professional limited liability company. The provisions of this subchapter with respect to the issuance and transfer of membership interests apply to the creation, issuance, and transfer of any rights or options entitling the holder to purchase from a professional limited liability company any membership interests of the professional limited liability company. Rights or options shall not be transferable, whether voluntarily, involuntarily, by operation of law, or in any other manner. Upon the death of the holder, or when the holder ceases to be licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, the holder to the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, the rights or options shall expire.

490A.1511 Voting trust — proxy.
A member of a professional limited liability company shall not create or enter into a voting trust or any other agreement conferring upon any other person the right to vote or otherwise represent any membership interests of a professional limited liability company, and no such voting trust or agreement is valid or effective. Any proxy of a member of a professional limited liability company shall be an individual licensed to practice in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. Any provision in any proxy instrument denying the right of the member to revoke the proxy at any time or for any period of time is not valid or effective. This section does not otherwise limit the right of a member to vote by proxy, but the articles of organization or operating agreement of the professional limited liability company may further limit or deny the right to vote by proxy.

490A.1512 Required purchase by professional limited liability company of its own membership interests.
1. Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional limited liability company shall purchase its own membership interests as provided in this section; and the members of a professional limited liability company and their executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors in interest, shall sell and transfer the membership interests held by them as provided in this section.
2. Upon the death of a member, the professional limited liability company shall immediately purchase all membership interests held by the deceased member.
3. In order to remain a member of a professional limited liability company, a member shall at all times be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. When a member does not have or ceases to have this qualification, the professional limited liability company shall immediately purchase the membership interests. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this section shall be applicable whether the event occurs as a result of appointment of a guardian or conservator for a member or the member's property, transfer of membership interests by operation of law, involuntary transfer of membership interests, judicial proceedings, execution, levy, bankruptcy proceedings, receivership proceedings, foreclosure or enforcement of a pledge or encumbrance, or any other situation or occurrence. However, this section does not apply to any voluntary transfer of membership interests as defined in this chapter.
4. When a person other than a member of record becomes entitled to have membership interests of a professional limited liability company transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to membership interests of the professional limited liability company, the professional limited liability company shall immediately purchase the membership interests. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this section shall be applicable whether the event occurs as a result of appointment of a guardian or conservator for a member or the member's property, transfer of membership interests by operation of law, involuntary transfer of membership interests, judicial proceedings, execution, levy, bankruptcy proceedings, receivership proceedings, foreclosure or enforcement of a pledge or encumbrance, or any other situation or occurrence. However, this section does not apply to any voluntary transfer of membership interests as defined in this chapter.
5. Membership interests purchased by the professional limited liability company under this section shall be transferred to the professional limited liability company as of the close of business on the date of the death or other event which requires purchase. The member and the member's executors, administrators, legal representatives, or successors in interest, shall promptly do all things which may be necessary or convenient to cause transfer to be made as of the transfer date. However, the membership interests shall promptly be transferred on the books and records of the professional limited liability company as of the transfer date, notwithstanding any delay in transferring or surrendering the membership interests or certificates representing the membership interests, and the transfer shall be valid and effective for all purposes as of the close of business on the transfer date. The purchase price for such membership interests shall be paid as provided in this chapter, but the transfer of membership interests to the professional limited liability company as provided in this section shall not be delayed or affected by any delay or default in making payment.
6. Notwithstanding subsections 1 through 5, purchase by the professional limited liability company is not required upon the occurrence of any event other than death of a member; if the professional limited liability company is dissolved within sixty days after the occurrence of the event. The articles of organization or operating agreement of the professional limited liability company may provide that purchase is not required upon the death of a member, if the professional limited liability company is dissolved within sixty days after the date of the member’s death.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement of the professional limited liability company or in an agreement among all members of the professional limited liability company all of the following apply:
   a. The purchase price for membership interests shall be their book value as of the end of the month immediately preceding the death or other event which requires purchase. Book value shall be determined from the books and records of the professional limited liability company in accordance with the regular method of accounting used by the professional limited liability company, uniformly and consistently applied. Adjustments to book value shall be made, if necessary, to take into account work in process and accounts receivable. A final determination of book value made in good faith by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants employed by the professional limited liability company for the purpose shall be conclusive on all persons.
   b. The purchase price shall be paid in cash as follows:
      (1) Upon the death of a member, thirty percent of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after death, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the death.
      (2) Upon the happening of any other event referred to in this section, one-tenth of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after the date of the event, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the date of the event.
   c. Interest from the date of death or other event shall be payable annually on principal payment dates, at the rate of six percent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price.
   d. All persons who are members of the professional limited liability company on the date of death or other event, and their executors, administrators, and legal representatives, shall, to the extent the professional limited liability company fails to meet its obligations under this section, be jointly liable for the payment of the purchase price and interest in proportion to their percentage of ownership of the professional limited liability company’s membership interests, disregarding membership interests of the deceased or withdrawing member.
   e. The part of the purchase price remaining unpaid after the initial payment shall be evidenced by a negotiable promissory note, which shall be executed by the professional limited liability company and all members liable for payment. Any person liable on the note shall have the right to prepay the note in full or in part at any time.
   f. If the person making any payment is not reasonably able to determine which of two or more persons is entitled to receive a payment, or if the payment is payable to a person who is unknown, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive the payment, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person making the payment, it shall be deposited with the treasurer of state and shall be subject to the provisions of section 490.1440 with respect to funds deposited with the treasurer of state upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a business corporation.

8. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, no part of the purchase price shall be required to be paid until the certificates, if any, representing the membership interests have been surrendered to the professional limited liability company.

9. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, payment of any part of the purchase price for membership interests of a deceased member shall not be required until the executor or administrator of the deceased member provides any indemnity, release, or other document from any taxing authority, which is reasonably necessary to protect the professional limited liability company against liability for estate, inheritance, and death taxes.

10. The articles of organization or an operating agreement of the professional limited liability company or an agreement among all members of a professional limited liability company may provide for a different purchase price, a different method of determining the purchase price, a different interest rate or no interest, and other terms, conditions, and schedules of payment.

490A.1513 Certificates representing membership interests.

Each certificate representing membership interests of a professional limited liability company shall state in substance that the certificate represents membership interests in a professional limited liability company and is not transferable ex-except as expressly provided in this chapter and in the articles of organization or an operating agreement of the professional limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §97

490A.1514 Management. All managers of a professional limited liability company shall at all times be individuals who are licensed to practice a profession in this state which the limited liability company is authorized to practice. A person who is not licensed shall have no authority or duties in the management or control of the limited liability company. If a manager ceases to have this qualification, the manager shall immediately and automatically cease to hold such management position.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §98

490A.1515 Merger. A professional limited liability company shall not merge with any entity except another professional limited liability company subject to this subchapter or a professional corporation subject to chapter 496C. Merger is not permitted unless the surviving or new professional limited liability company is a professional limited liability company which complies with all requirements of this subchapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §99

490A.1516 Dissolution or liquidation. Violation of any provision of this subchapter by a professional limited liability company or any of its members or managers shall be cause for its involuntary dissolution, or liquidation of its assets and business by the district court, as provided in section 490A.1302. Upon the death of the last remaining member of a professional limited liability company, or when the last remaining member is not licensed or ceases to be licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, or when any person other than the member of record becomes entitled to have all membership interests of the last remaining member of the professional limited liability company transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to such membership interests, the professional limited liability company shall not practice any profession and it shall be promptly dissolved. However, if prior to dissolution all outstanding membership interests of the professional limited liability company are acquired by two or more persons licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, the professional limited liability company need not be dissolved and may practice the profession as provided in this subchapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §100; 93 Acts, ch 39, §36

490A.1517 Foreign professional limited liability company. A foreign professional limited liability company may practice a profession in this state if it complies with the provisions of this chapter and this subchapter. The provisions of this subchapter with respect to the practice of a profession by a professional limited liability company apply to a foreign professional limited liability company. This subchapter does not prohibit the practice of a profession in this state by an individual who is a member, manager, employee, or agent of a foreign professional limited liability company, if the individual could lawfully practice the profession in this state in the absence of any relationship to a foreign professional limited liability company. The preceding sentence applies regardless of whether or not the foreign professional limited liability company is authorized to practice a profession in this state.

490A.1518 Limited liability companies organized under other laws. This chapter does not apply to or interfere with the practice of any profession by or through any professional limited liability company organized after July 1, 1992, under any other law of this state or any other state or country, if the practice is lawful under any other statute or rule of law of this state. Any such professional limited liability company may voluntarily elect to adopt this subchapter and become subject to its provisions, by amending its articles of organization to be consistent with all provisions of this subchapter and by stating in its amended articles of organization that the limited liability company has voluntarily elected to adopt this subchapter. Any limited liability company organized under any law of any other state or country may become subject to the provisions of this subchapter by complying with all provisions of this subchapter with respect to foreign professional limited liability companies.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §102

490A.1519 Conflicts with other provisions of this chapter. The provisions of this subchapter shall prevail over any inconsistent provisions of this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §103
§490A.1601, LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

SUBCHAPTER XVI PROPERTY TITLE RECORDS

490A.1601 Property title records.
When by merger or amendment to the articles of organization the name of any domestic or foreign limited liability company is changed, a certificate reciting the change or succession shall be issued by the secretary of state upon request and payment of any applicable fee and the certificate may be admitted to record upon payment of any applicable fee in any recording office within the jurisdiction of which any property of the limited liability company is located in order to maintain the continuity of title records, but no transfer tax shall be due thereon. If a limited liability company or other entity is not a domestic limited liability company or other entity or a foreign limited liability company or other entity authorized to do business in this state, a similar certificate by any competent authority of the state of organization or formation of the limited liability company or other entity may be admitted to record in any recording office within the jurisdiction of which any property of the limited liability company or other entity is located in order to maintain the continuity of title records upon payment of any applicable fee, but no transfer tax shall be due thereon.

491.112 Rights of dissenting shareholders.
491.113 Issuance of stock.
491.114 Amana stock.

491.1 Who may incorporate.
Any number of persons may become incorporated under this chapter prior to July 1, 1971, for the transaction of any lawful business, but the incorporation confers no power or privilege not possessed by natural persons, except as provided in this chapter. All domestic corporations shall be organized under chapter 490, except as expressly provided otherwise in chapter 490.

491.2 Single person.
Except as otherwise provided by law, a single person may incorporate under the provisions of this chapter, thereby entitling that person to all the privileges and immunities provided herein, but if the person adopts the name of an individual or individuals as that of the corporation, the person must add thereto the word “incorporated”.

491.3 Powers.
Among the powers of such corporations are the following:
1. To have perpetual succession.
2. To sue and be sued by its corporate name.
3. To have a common seal, which it may alter at pleasure.
4. To render the interests of the stockholders transferable.
5. To exempt the private property of its members from liability for corporate debts, except as otherwise declared.
6. To make contracts, acquire and transfer property—possessing the same powers in such respects as natural persons.
7. To establish bylaws, and make all rules and regulations necessary for the management of its affairs.
8. A corporation organized under or subject to this chapter may make indemnification as provided in sections 490.850 through 490.859.

491.4 Index book.
Repealed by 94 Acts, ch 1055, §16.

491.5 Articles adopted and filed.
Before commencing any business except their own organization, they must adopt articles of incorporation, which must be signed and acknowledged by the incorporators. Said articles shall then be forwarded to the secretary of state. Upon the filing of such articles, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation and record said articles in a book kept for that purpose. Such articles shall contain:
1. Name of corporation and its principal place of business.
2. The objects for which it is formed.
3. The amount of authorized capital stock, the classes of stock and number of shares authorized, with the par value and conditions of each class of such shares, and the time when and conditions under which it is to be paid in.
4. The time of commencement and existence of the corporation.
5. The names and addresses of the incorporators and the officers or persons its affairs are to be conducted by, and the times when and manner in which such officers will be elected.
6. Whether private property is to be exempt from corporate debts.
7. The manner in which the articles may be amended.
8. Any provision eliminating or limiting the personal liability of a director to the corporation or its shareholders or members for money damages.
as provided in section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph “d”, except that section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph “d”, subparagraph (3), shall have no application.

9. Any provision permitting or making obligatory indemnification of a director as provided in section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph “d”, except that section 490.202, subsection 2, paragraph “d”, subparagraph (3), shall have no application.

491.6 Filing or refusal to file.
When articles of incorporation are presented to the secretary of state for the purpose of being filed, if the secretary is satisfied that they are in proper form to meet the requirements of law, that their object is a lawful one and not against public policy, that their plan for doing business, if any be provided for, is honest and lawful, the secretary shall file them; but if the secretary is of the opinion that they are not in proper form to meet the requirements of the law, or that their object is an unlawful one, or against public policy, or that their plan for doing business is dishonest or unlawful, the secretary shall refuse to file them.

491.7 Question of legality submitted.
Should a question of doubt arise as to the legality of the articles, the secretary of state shall submit them to the attorney general whose duty it shall be to forthwith examine and return them with an opinion in writing touching the point or points concerning which inquiry has been made of the attorney general.

491.8 Action on opinion.
If such opinion is in favor of the legality of the articles, and no other objections are apparent, they shall then, upon payment of the proper fee, be filed and otherwise dealt with as the law provides. If, however, such opinion be against their legality they shall not be filed.

491.9 Submission to executive council.
Upon the rejection of any articles of incorporation by the secretary of state, except for the reason that they have been held by the attorney general to be illegal, they shall, if the person or persons presenting them so request, be submitted to the executive council, which shall, as soon as practicable, consider the said articles and if the council determines that the articles are in proper form, of honest purpose, not against public policy, nor otherwise objectionable, it shall so advise the secretary of state in writing, whereupon the secretary shall, upon the payment of the proper fees, file the same and proceed otherwise as the law directs; but if the council sustains the previous action of the secretary of state in rejecting said articles, such decision by the council shall be reported to the secretary of state in writing, and the secretary shall then return said articles to the person or persons presenting them with such explanation as shall be proper in the case.

491.10 Interpretable clause.
Nothing in sections 491.5 to 491.9 shall be construed as repealing or modifying any statute now in force in respect to the approval of articles of incorporation relating to insurance companies, building and loan associations or investment companies.
[S13, §1610; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8348; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.10]

491.11 Incorporation fee.
Corporations organized for a period of years shall pay the secretary of state, before a certificate of incorporation is issued, a fee of fifty dollars.
[C97, §1610; S13, §1610; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8349; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.11]

See §491.28

491.12 Exemption from fee.  Repealed by 93 Acts, ch 126, § 35.

491.13 Place of business.
Any corporation organized under the laws of this state shall fix upon and designate in its articles of incorporation its principal place of business which must be in this state, and if outside the limits of a city then its post-office address must be given. The place of business so designated shall not be changed except through an amendment to its articles of incorporation.

When a corporation changes its principal place of business from one county to another, an amendment for this purpose shall be filed with the secretary of state, recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county of the previous place of business, and then said amendment together with the articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto shall be filed with the recorder of deeds of the county to which said corporation's principal place of business is changed.

491.14 Custody of office — business maintained.

Its place of business shall be in charge of an agent of the corporation and shall be the place where it shall hold its stockholders' meetings, keep a record of its proceedings and its stock and transfer books. The board of directors may designate by resolution some other place in the county where business of the corporation is transacted as the place for holding a stockholders’ meeting if notice is mailed to the stockholders at least twenty days prior to each meeting informing the stockholders of the place, date, and hour of the stockholders' meeting.

491.15 Service of original notice — secretary of state.

Any corporation organized under the laws of this state that does not maintain an office in the county of its organization may file with the secretary of state a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors of said corporation giving name and address in Iowa of a resident agent on whom the service of original notice of civil suit in the courts of this state may be served, or file with the secretary of state a written instrument duly signed and acknowledged authorizing the secretary of state to acknowledge service of notice or process for and in behalf of such corporation in this state and consenting that service of notice or process may be made upon the secretary of state. Failing which, or in the event such agent may not be found within the state, service of such process may then be made upon said corporation through the secretary of state by sending the original and two copies thereof to the secretary, and the secretary shall immediately upon its receipt acknowledge service thereon in behalf of the defendant corporation by writing thereon, giving the date thereof, and shall immediately return such notice or process by certified mail to the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending, addressed by the clerk's official title, and shall also forthwith mail a copy with a copy of the secretary's acknowledgment of service written thereon, by certified mail addressed to the corporation at the address of its principal place of business as shown by the records in the secretary of state's office, and shall retain the second copy for the secretary's files.

491.17 Notice of incorporation.

A notice must be published once each week for four weeks in succession in some newspaper as convenient as practicable to the principal place of business, which must contain:

1. The name of the corporation and its principal place of business.
2. The general nature of the business to be transacted.
3. The amount of capital stock authorized, and the times and conditions on which it is to be paid in.
4. The time of the commencement and existence of the corporation.
5. By what officers or persons its affairs are to be conducted, and the times when and manner in which they will be elected.
6. Whether private property is to be exempt from corporate debts.

491.19 Commencement of business.

The corporation may commence business as soon as the certificate is issued by the secretary of state, and its acts shall be valid if the publication in a newspaper is made within three months from the date of such certificate; providing that when the notice is not published within the time herein prescribed, but is subsequently published for the required time, and proof of the publication thereof filed with the secretary of state, the acts of such corporation after such publication shall be valid.

491.20 Amendments — fees.

Amendments to articles of incorporation making changes in any of the provisions of the articles may be made at any annual meeting of the stockholders or special meeting called for that purpose, and they shall be valid only when recorded, approved and published as the original articles are required to be, except where the amendment provides for changing the principal place of business from one county to another, in which event said amendment shall be published in both the counties of the former and new place of business. Publication shall be by notice setting out the substance of the amendment and, in the case of amended and substituted articles, said notice shall contain the matters and things required to be published by section 491.17, relating to original incorporations. If no increase is made in the amount of capital stock, a certificate fee of one dollar and a recording fee of fifty cents per page must be paid. Where capital stock is increased the certificate fee shall be omitted but there shall be paid a recording fee of fifty cents per page and in addition a filing fee which in case of corporations existing for a period of years shall be one dollar per thousand of such increase and in case of corporations empowered to exist perpetually shall be one dollar and ten cents per thousand of such increase. Corporations providing for perpetual existence by amendment to its articles shall, at the time of filing such amendment, pay to the secretary of state a fee of one hundred dollars together with a recording fee of fifty cents per page, and, for all authorized capital stock in excess of ten thousand dollars, an additional fee of one dollar ten cents per thousand.

Its articles of incorporation to the contrary notwithstanding, if three-fourths of the voting stock of any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter, with assets of the value of one million dollars or more, is owned by individuals owning not more than one share each of the voting stock thereof, said articles may be amended at any regular or special meeting of stockholders, when a notice in writing of the substance of the proposed amendment has been mailed by ordinary mail to each voting stockholder of such corporation not more than ninety nor less than sixty days prior to said meeting, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the voting stock represented at said meeting when said amendment is approved by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members of the board of directors at a meeting prior to the mailing of said notice.

If such corporation is renewed under the provisions of section 491.25, the voting stock of dissenting stockholders or any portion thereof may be purchased by the corporation at its option as provided in said section.

491.21 Signing and acknowledging of amendments.

Such amendments need only be signed and acknowledged by such officers of the corporation as may be designated by the stockholders to perform such act.

491.22 Individual property liable.

A failure to substantially comply with the foregoing requirements in relation to organization and publicity shall render the individual property of the stockholders liable for the corporate debts; but corporators and stockholders in railway and street railway companies shall be liable only for the amount of stock held by them therein.

491.23 Dissolution — notice — filing with secretary of state.

A corporation may be dissolved prior to the period fixed in the articles of incorporation, by unanimous consent, or in accordance with the provisions of its articles, and notice thereof must be given in the same manner and for the same time as is required for its organization; provided, however, that the notice of such dissolution shall be deemed sufficient if signed by the officers of such corporation and published as required by law. Notice thereof shall also be given by the filing in the office of the secretary of state the proof of publication of notice of dissolution and said proof shall be recorded by the secretary of state in the same manner as the recording of amendments, and a recording fee of one dollar shall apply thereto.

491.24 Duration.

Corporations for the construction and operation, or the operation alone, of steam railways, interurban railways, and street railways, or for the transaction of the business of life insurance, may be formed to endure fifty years; those for other purposes, not to exceed twenty years; provided, however, that in addition to the power herein granted to incorporate for a period of years, corporations hereafter organized or now existing may have perpetual existence by so providing in the articles of incorporation or by amendment thereto.

If the renewal instrument in proper form and the necessary fees are tendered to the secretary of state for filing three months or less either prior or subsequent to the corporation's expiration date, such renewal shall take effect immediately upon the expiration of the corporation's previous period of existence, and in such case, the corporate existence shall be considered as having been extended without interruption. If the renewal is filed more than three months before or after the expiration date, such renewal shall take effect upon the date such renewal with necessary fees is accepted and filed by the secretary of state; and in cases where filed more than three months after the expiration date, shall not be in legal effect a renewal unless the procedure provided for and the additional fees provided for in section 491.28 are fully complied with and paid.

In all cases of renewal, those stockholders voting for such renewal must purchase at its real value the stock voted against such renewal, and shall have three years from the date such action for renewal was taken in which to purchase and pay for the stock voting against such renewal, which purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of five percent per annum from the date of such renewal action until paid.

491.25 Renewal — conditions.
Corporations existing for a period of years may be renewed from time to time for the same or shorter periods, or may be renewed to exist perpetually, upon compliance with the provisions of this section and other applicable statutes.

The right of renewal is vested in the stockholders and shall be exercised by a resolution thereof adopted at any regular meeting or at any special meeting called for that purpose. Such resolution must be adopted by a majority of all the votes cast at such meeting, or by such other vote as is authorized or required in the company's existing articles of incorporation.

When, after timely notice has been received that its articles of incorporation will expire and the corporate existence of any corporation has expired and not been renewed within the period prescribed by statute, said corporation thereafter files with the secretary of state amended and substituted articles of incorporation for the purpose of renewing and extending its corporate existence, the secretary of state shall cause said corporation to file satisfactory proof that no judgments against said corporation or the stockholders thereof are outstanding which may be liens against said corporate existence.

491.26 Stock of dissenting holders.
The provisions of section 491.25 shall not apply to any renewal voted before July 4, 1951, but all rights of any corporation described or referred to in the last two paragraphs of section 491.20 to purchase stock of dissenting stockholders or any portion thereof are preserved to said corporation both before and after this section becomes operative.

491.27 Execution of renewal — record required.
After the action of the stockholders for the renewal of any corporation, a certificate, showing the proceedings resulting in the renewal, sworn to by the president and secretary of the corporation, or by other officers as may be designated by the stockholders, together with the articles of incorporation, which may be the original articles of incorporation or amended and substituted articles, shall be filed with the secretary of state and recorded by the secretary in a book kept for that purpose.

491.28 Filing with secretary of state — fees — certificate of renewal.
Upon filing with the secretary of state the said certificate and articles of incorporation, and upon the payment to the secretary of state of the fees prescribed by section 491.11 for newly organized corporations, the secretary of state shall issue a proper certificate for the renewal of the corporation.

Whenever, after timely notice has been received that its articles of incorporation will expire and the corporate existence of any corporation has expired and not been renewed within the period prescribed by statute, said corporation shall file satisfactory proof that no judgments against said corporation or the stockholders thereof are outstanding which may be liens against said corporate existence and that there is no pending litigation involving said corporation or the corporate existence of said corporation. Upon the filing of said proof the secretary of state shall charge and collect an additional ten percent of said renewal fees for each month or major fraction thereof.

§491.29 Erroneous certificate — correction.
In all cases wherein the secretary of state has prior to April 10, 1931 issued to a corporation organized or purporting to have been organized under the laws of this state a certificate renewing and extending its corporate existence from an erroneous date or for a period of time in excess of that provided by law, the secretary of state shall, upon the surrender of such certificate, issue to such corporation a new certificate, extending and renewing the corporate existence thereof from the correct date or for the period of time provided by law.

§491.33 Foreign insurance companies becoming domestic.
The secretary of state upon a corporation complying with the provisions of this section and upon the filing of articles of incorporation and upon receipt of the fees as provided in this chapter shall issue a certificate of incorporation as of the date of the corporation’s original incorporation in its state of original incorporation. The certificate of incorporation shall state on its face that it is issued in accordance with the provisions of this section. The secretary of state shall then notify the appropriate officer of the state or country of the corporation’s last domicile that the corporation is now a domestic corporation domiciled in this state. This section applies to life insurance companies, and to insurance companies doing business under chapter 515.

491.40 Fraud — penalty for.
Intentional fraud in failing to comply substantially with the articles of incorporation, or in deceiving the public or individuals in relation to their means or their liabilities, shall be a fraudulent practice. Any person who has sustained injury from such fraud may also recover damages therefor against those guilty of participating in such fraud.

491.41 Diversion of funds — unlawful dividends.
The diversion of the funds of the corporation to other objects than those mentioned in its articles and in the notice published, if any person be injured thereby, and the payment of dividends which leaves insufficient funds to meet the liabilities thereof, shall be such fraud as will subject those guilty thereof to the penalties of section 491.40; and such dividends, or their equivalent, in the hands of stockholders, shall be subject to such liabilities. If the directors or other officers or agents of any corporation shall declare and pay any dividend when such corporation is known by them to be insolvent, or any dividend the payment of which would render it insolvent, or which would diminish the amount of its capital stock, all directors, officers, or agents knowingly consenting thereto shall be jointly and severally liable for all the debts of such corporation then existing, but dividends made in good faith before knowledge of the occurring of losses shall not come within the provisions of this section.

491.42 Forfeiture.
Any intentional violation by the board of directors or the managing officers of the corporation of the provisions of sections 491.40 and 491.41 shall work a forfeiture of the corporate privileges, to be enforced as provided by law.

491.43 Keeping false accounts.
The intentional keeping of false books or accounts shall be a fraudulent practice on the part of any officer, agent, or employee of the corporation guilty thereof, or of anyone whose duty it is to see that such books or accounts are correctly kept.

491.44 and 491.45 Repealed by 51 Acts, ch 180, § 1.

491.46 Books to show names of stockholders.
The books of the corporation shall be kept to show the amount of capital stock actually paid in, the number of shares of stock issued, the original stockholders, and all transfers of shares of stock, and there shall be entered upon the books of the corporation the name of the person by and to whom stock is transferred, the numbers or other designations of the shares of stock and the date of transfer. This section does not create any rights or impose any duties inconsistent with the provisions of chapter 554.

491.47 Names exhibited at meetings.
It shall be the duty of the officer or agent of any corporation organized under the laws of the state of Iowa, or any foreign corporation qualified to do business in the state of Iowa and holding a meeting of its stockholders in the state of Iowa, who has charge of the stock records of such corporation to prepare and make, at least ten days before the holding of such meeting, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote thereat, arranged in alphabetical order. Such list shall be open and available at the place where said meeting is to be held for said ten days to the examination of any stockholder, and shall be kept at the time and place of meeting during the whole time thereof, and subject to the inspection of any stockholder who may be present at said meeting. The original or duplicate stock ledger of the corporation shall be the only evidence as to who are the stockholders entitled to examine such list or the books of the corporation or to vote in person or by proxy at such meeting. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall not affect the validity of any action taken at such meeting. An officer or agent having charge of the transfer books who shall fail to prepare the list of stockholders, or keep the same on file for a period of ten days, or produce and keep the same open for inspection at the meeting, as provided in this section, shall be liable to any stockholder suffering damage on account of such failure, to the extent of such damage.

491.51 to 491.53 Repealed by 65 Acts, ch 413, § 10102.

491.54 Liability of collateral holder.
No holder of stock as collateral security shall be liable for assessments on the same.
[C97, §1626; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8390; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.54]

491.55 Right to vote stock — attachment.
Every executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee shall represent the stock in the person’s hands at all corporate meetings, and may vote the same as a stockholder.

Every person who shall pledge the person’s stock, in the absence of a written agreement to the contrary, may represent the same at all such meetings and vote accordingly.

The owner of corporate stock levied upon by attachment or other proceeding shall have the right to vote the same at all corporate meetings, until such time as the owner shall have been divested of title thereto by execution sale.

Nothing contained in this section shall in any manner conflict with any provision in the articles of incorporation, or by the bylaws of the corporation issuing the stock.
[S13, §1641-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8391; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.55]

491.56 Expiration and closing of business.
Corporations whose charters expire by limitation or the voluntary act of the stockholders may nevertheless continue to act for the purpose of winding up their affairs.

491.57 Sinking fund and loaning thereof.
For the purpose of repairs, rebuilding, enlarging, or to meet contingencies, or for the purpose of creating a sinking fund, the corporation may set apart a sum which it may loan, and take proper securities therefor.

491.58 Liability of stockholders.
Neither anything in this chapter contained, nor any provisions in the articles of corporation, shall exempt the stockholders from individual liability to the amount of the unpaid installments on the stock owned by them, or transferred by them for the purpose of defrauding creditors; and execution against the company may, to that extent, be levied upon the private property of any such individual. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to building and loan associations, and savings and loan associations.

491.59 Levy on private property.
In none of the cases contemplated in this chapter can the private property of the stockholders be levied upon for the payment of corporate debts while corporate property can be found with which to satisfy the same; but it will be sufficient proof that no property can be found, if an execution has issued on a judgment against the corporation, and a demand has been thereon made of some one of the last acting officers of the body for property on which to levy, and the officer neglects to point out any such property.

491.60 Suit by creditor — measure of recovery.
In suits by creditors to recover unpaid installments upon shares of stock against any person who has in any manner obtained such stock of the corporation, the stockholder shall be liable for the difference between the amount paid by the stockholder to the corporation for said stock and the face value thereof.

491.61 Corporate property exhausted.
Before any stockholder can be charged with the payment of a judgment rendered for a corporate debt, an action shall be brought against the stockholder, in any stage of which the stockholder may point out corporate property subject to levy; and, upon the stockholder's satisfying the court of the existence of such property, by affidavit or otherwise, the cause may be continued, or execution against the stockholder stayed, until the property can be levied upon and sold, and the court may subsequently render judgment for any balance which there may be after disposing of the corporate property; but if a demand of property has been made as contemplated in section 491.59, the costs of said action shall, in any event, be paid by the company or the defendant therein, but the stockholder shall not be permitted to controvert the validity of the judgment rendered against the corporation, unless it was rendered through fraud and collusion.

491.62 Indemnity — contribution.
When the property of a stockholder is taken for a corporate debt, the stockholder may maintain an action against the corporation for indemnity, and against any of the other stockholders for contribution.

491.63 Franchise sold on execution.
The franchise of a corporation may be levied upon under execution and sold, but the corporation shall not become thereby dissolved, and no dissolution of the original corporation shall affect the franchise, and the purchaser becomes vested with all the powers of the corporation therefor. Such franchise shall be sold without appraisement.

491.64 Production of books.
In proceedings by or against a corporation or a stockholder to charge the stockholder's private property, or the dividends received by the stockholder, the court may, upon motion of either party, upon cause shown for that purpose, compel the officers or agents of the corporation to produce the books and records of the corporation.

Similar provision, R.C.P. 1.512 et seq.

491.65 Estoppel.
No person or persons acting as a corporation shall be permitted to set up the want of a legal organization as a defense to an action against them as a corporation, nor shall any person sued on a contract made with such an acting corporation, or sued for an injury to its property, or a wrong done to its interests, be permitted to set up a want of such legal organization in the person's defense.

491.66 Dissolution — receivership.
Courts of equity shall have full power, on good cause shown, to dissolve or close up the business of any corporation, and to appoint a receiver therefor, who shall be a resident of the state of Iowa. An action therefor may be instituted by the attorney general in the name of the state, reserving, however, to the stockholders and creditors all rights now possessed by them.

491.68 False statements or pretenses.
Every director, officer, or agent of any corporation or joint-stock association, who knowingly concurs in making, publishing, or posting, either generally or privately to the stockholders or other persons, any written report, exhibit, or statement of its affairs or pecuniary condition, or book or notice containing any material statement which is false, or any untrue or willfully or fraudulently exaggerated report, prospectus, account, statement of operations, values, business, profits, expenditures, or prospects, or any other paper or document intended to produce or give, or having a tendency to produce or give, the shares of stock in such corporation a greater value or a less apparent or market value than they really possess, is guilty of a fraudulent practice.

§491.101 Definitions.
1. “Merger” means the uniting of two or more corporations into one corporation in such manner that the corporation resulting from the merger retains its corporate existence and absorbs the other constituent corporations or corporations which thereby lose their or its corporate existence.
2. “Consolidation” means the uniting of two or more corporations into a single new corporation, all of the constituent corporations thereby ceasing to exist as separate entities.

§491.102 Procedure for merger.
Any two or more corporations whether herefore or hereafter organized may merge into one of such corporations in the following manner:
The board of directors of each corporation shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of the members of each such board, approve a plan of mergers setting forth:
1. The names of the corporations proposing to merge, and the name of the corporation into which they propose to merge, which is hereinafter designated as the surviving corporation.
2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.
3. The manner and basis of converting the shares of each merging corporation into shares or other securities or obligations of the surviving corporation.
4. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation to be effected by such merger.
5. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

§491.103 Procedure for consolidation.
Any two or more corporations whether herefore or hereafter organized may consolidate into a new corporation in the following manner:
The board of directors of each corporation, shall, by a resolution adopted by a majority vote of the members of each such board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:
1. The names of the corporations proposing to consolidate, and the name of the new corporation into which they propose to consolidate, which is hereinafter designated as the new corporation.
2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.
3. The manner and basis of converting the shares of each corporation into shares, or other se-491.104 Meetings of shareholders.

The board of directors of each corporation, upon approving such plan of merger or plan of consolidation, shall, by resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written or printed notice shall be delivered not less than twenty days before such meeting, either personally or by mail, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. Such notice shall state the place, day, hour and purpose of the meeting, and a copy or a summary of the plan of merger or plan of consolidation, as the case may be, shall be included in or enclosed with such notice.

491.105 Approval by shareholders.

At each such meeting, a vote of the shareholders entitled to vote thereat shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares entitled to vote at such meeting, of each of such corporations, unless any class of shares of any such corporations is entitled to vote as a class in respect thereof in which event, as to such corporation, the plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of each such class of shares entitled to vote as a class in respect thereof and two-thirds of the total outstanding shares entitled to vote at such meeting. Any class of shares of any such corporation shall be entitled to vote as a class if the plan of merger or consolidation, as the case may be, contains any provision which, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation, would entitle such class of shares to vote as a class.

491.106 Articles of merger or consolidation.

Upon such approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed in duplicate by each corporation by its president or a vice president, and verified by that person, attested by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and shall be acknowledged and shall set forth:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. As to each corporation, the number of shares outstanding, and the number of shares entitled to vote, and, if the shares of any class are entitled to vote as a class, the designation of each such class and the number of outstanding shares thereof entitled to vote.
3. As to each corporation, the number of shares voted for and against such plan respectively, and, if the shares of any class are entitled to vote as a class, the number of shares of each such class voted for and against such plan, respectively.

491.107 Filing articles of merger or consolidation.

A duly executed and acknowledged copy of the articles of merger or consolidation shall be forwarded to the secretary of state for filing and recording as provided in section 491.5. The procedure set forth in sections 491.6 to 491.9 of this chapter shall be applicable to the filing of articles of consolidation or merger.

If as the result of a consolidation a new Iowa corporation is formed then the fees provided for in section 491.11 shall be applicable. If as the result of a merger an existing Iowa corporation becomes the survivor the articles of merger shall be deemed an amendment to its articles of incorporation and section 491.20 shall be applicable.

491.108 Effective date of merger or consolidation.

Upon the payment of all fees and charges and upon the filing of the articles of consolidation or merger with the secretary of state the secretary of state shall issue to the corporation or its representative a certificate of consolidation or a certificate of merger and upon the issuance of said certificate the merger or consolidation shall be effected.

491.109 Notice.

Notice of the articles of consolidation or merger shall be given as provided in section 491.17.

491.110 Effect of merger or consolidation.

When such merger or consolidation has been effected:
§491.110, CORPORATIONS FOR PECUNIARY PROFIT 4940

1. The several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation, which, in the case of a merger, shall be the corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation, and, in the case of a consolidation, shall be the new corporation provided for in the plan of consolidation.

2. The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new corporation, shall cease.

3. Such surviving or new corporation shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under this chapter.

4. Such surviving or new corporation shall thereupon and hereafter possess all the rights, privileges, immunities and franchises, as well as of a public as of a private nature, of each of the merging or consolidating corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, including subscriptions to shares, and all other choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the corporations so merged or consolidated, shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in such single corporation without further act or deed; and the title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in any of such corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of such merger or consolidation.

5. Such surviving or new corporation shall thenceforth be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations so merged or consolidated; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place, or such surviving or new corporation may be substituted in its place. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any such corporation shall be impaired by such merger or consolidation.

6. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent, if any, that changes in its articles of incorporation are stated in the articles of merger; and, in the case of a consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation and which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this chapter shall be deemed to be the articles of incorporation of the new corporation.

7. The aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging or consolidating corporations which was available for the payment of dividends immediately prior to such merger or consolidation, to the extent that the amount thereof is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of shares or otherwise, shall continue to be available for the payment of dividends by such surviving or new corporation.

491.111 Merger or consolidation of domestic and foreign corporations.

One or more foreign corporations and one or more domestic corporations whether heretofore or hereafter organized may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, provided such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each such foreign corporation is organized:

1. Each domestic corporation shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to the merger or consolidation, as the case may be, of domestic corporations and each foreign corporation shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

2. If the surviving or new corporation, as the case may be, is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of the statutes of the state of Iowa with respect to foreign corporations if it is to do business in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:

a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic corporation which is a party to such merger or consolidation and in any proceeding for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any such domestic corporation against the surviving or new corporation.

b. The appointment of a resident agent as provided for in section 490.501.

c. An agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of any such domestic corporation the amount, if any, to which they shall be entitled under the provisions of this division with respect to the rights of dissenting shareholders.

Insofar as the state of Iowa is concerned, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of a merger or consolidation of domestic corporations, if the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations except insofar as the laws of such other state provide otherwise.

93 Acts, ch 126, §11

491.112 Rights of dissenting shareholders.

If a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to a merger or consolidation shall file with such corporation, prior to or at the meeting of shareholders at which the plan of merger or consolidation is submitted to a vote, a written objection to such plan of merger or consolidation, and shall not vote in favor thereof, and such shareholder, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is effected, shall make written demand on the surviving or new corporation for payment of the fair value of the shareholder’s shares as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new corporation shall pay to such shareholder, upon surrender of the certificate or certificates representing said shares, such fair value thereof. Such demand shall state the number and class of the shares owned by such dissenting shareholder. Any shareholder failing to make demand within the twenty-day period shall be conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and shall be bound by the terms thereof.

If within thirty days after the date on which such merger or consolidation was effected the value of such shares is agreed upon between the dissenting shareholder and the surviving or new corporation payment therefor shall be made within ninety days after the date on which such merger or consolidation was effected, upon the surrender of the certificate or certificates representing said shares. Upon payment of the agreed value the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the corporation.

If within such period of thirty days the shareholder and the surviving or new corporation do not so agree, then the dissenting shareholder may, within sixty days after the expiration of the thirty-day period, file a petition in any court of competent jurisdiction within the state and judicial subdivision thereof in which the registered office or the principal place of business of the surviving or new corporation is situated, asking for a finding and determination of the fair value of such shares, and shall be entitled to judgment against the surviving or new corporation for the amount of such fair value as of the day prior to the date on which such vote was taken approving such merger or consolidation, together with interest thereon at the rate of five percent per annum to the date of such judgment. The action shall be prosecuted as an equitable action and the practice and procedure shall conform to the practice and procedure in equity cases. The judgment shall be payable only upon and simultaneously with the surrender to the surviving or new corporation of the certificate or certificates representing said shares. Upon payment of the judgment, the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares, or in the surviving or new corporation. Such shares may be held and disposed of by the surviving or new corporation as it shall see fit.

The right of a dissenting shareholder to be paid the fair value of the shareholder’s shares as herein provided shall cease if and when the corporation shall abandon the merger or consolidation.

Shares acquired by the corporation pursuant to the payment of the agreed value thereof or to the payment of judgment entered therefor as in this section provided may be held and disposed of by the corporation as it shall see fit.

491.112 Amana stock.
Notwithstanding anything contained in this chapter and chapters 492 and 502, a corporation organized under the laws of the state of Iowa having assets of the value of one million dollars or more, the articles of which provide that an individual may not vote more than one share of the common voting shares of stock of the corporation, and which give to children of the owners of shares of the common voting stock the right to purchase one common voting share of stock in the corporation upon attaining majority or within a fixed period thereafter, and which authorize the issuance, sale and delivery of not to exceed one share of the common voting stock to any one individual, may issue, sell and deliver its shares of common voting stock, whether held by it as treasury stock or whether issued as an original issue, for the following considerations and upon the following terms and conditions, and with the following limitations:

1. Such common voting stock may be issued, sold and delivered by the corporation either for cash or upon credit or time payments or installment payments or for a consideration evidenced in part or in whole by the written agreement of the purchaser thereof to pay for the same, payment of said purchase price to be secured by a lien on said stock.

2. No such stock shall be issued, sold and delivered for a price less than the par value thereof at the time of such issuance, sale and delivery.

3. Not more than one share of said stock shall be so issued, sold and delivered to any one individual, but when issued, sold and delivered, said stock may be voted by the owner thereof, if the articles of incorporation or bylaws of such corporation, whether now in effect or hereafter adopted or amended, so provide, although a part or all of the price to be paid therefor may be owing to the corporation under said written agreement of the purchaser to pay for the same.

491.114, CORPORATIONS FOR PECUNIARY PROFIT

491.114

CHAPTER 492
CAPITAL STOCK

492.1 Endorsement of amount paid.

No certificate or shares of stock shall be issued, delivered, or transferred by any corporation, officer or agent thereof, or by the owner of such certificate or shares without having endorsed on the face thereof what amount or portion of the par value has been paid to the corporation issuing the same, and whether such payment has been in money or property.

492.2 Effect of violation.

Any certificate of stock issued, delivered, or transferred in violation of section 492.1 when the corporation has not received payment therefor at par in money or property, shall be void, and the issuance, delivery, or transfer of each certificate shall be considered a separate transaction.

492.3 Penalties.

Any person violating the provisions of sections 492.1 and 492.2, or knowingly making a false statement on such certificate, shall be guilty of a fraudulent practice.

492.4 Certain corporations excepted.

Sections 492.1 to 492.3 shall not apply to railway or quasi-public corporations organized before October 1, 1897.

492.5 Par value required.

No corporation organized under the laws of this state, except building and loan associations, shall issue any certificate of a share of capital stock, or any substitute therefor, until the corporation has received the par value thereof.

492.6 Payment in property other than cash.

If it is proposed to pay for said capital stock in property or in any other thing than money, the corporation proposing the same must, before issuing capital stock in any form, apply to the executive council of the state for leave so to do. Such application shall state the amount of capital stock proposed to be issued for a consideration other than money, and set forth specifically the property or other thing to be received in payment for such stock, providing that the foregoing provision shall not apply to trust companies or insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

Any insurance company proposing to issue capital stock for property or any other thing other than money, before issuing the capital stock in any form, shall apply to the commissioner of insurance for leave so to do. Such application to the commissioner of insurance shall state the amount of capital stock proposed to be issued for a consideration other than money and set forth specifically the property or other thing to be received in payment for such stock, providing that the foregoing provision shall not apply to trust companies or insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

492.7 Executive council to fix amount.

The executive council or the commissioner of insurance as the case may be, shall make investigation, under such rules as it may prescribe, and ascertain the real value of the property or other thing which the corporation is to receive for the stock. It shall enter its finding, fixing the value at which the corporation may receive the same in payment for capital stock; and no corporation shall issue capital stock for the said property or thing in a greater amount than the value so fixed.

492.8 Elements considered in fixing amount.

For the purpose of encouraging the construction of new steam or electric railways, and manufacturing industries within this state, the labor performed in effecting the organization and promotion of such corporation, and the reasonable discount allowed or reasonable commission paid in negotiating and effecting the sale of bonds for the construction and equipment of such railroad or manufacturing plant, shall be taken into consideration by said council as elements of value in fixing the amount of capital stock that may be issued.

492.9 Certificate of issuance of stock.

It shall be the duty of every corporation, except corporations qualified under chapter 534, to file a certificate under oath with the secretary of state, within thirty days after the issuance of any capital stock, stating the date of issue, the amount issued, the sum received therefor, if payment be made in money, or the property or thing taken, if such be the method of payment. If the corporation fails to file said certificate of issuance of stock within the thirty-day period herein provided, it may thereafter file the same upon first paying to the secretary of state a penalty of ten dollars when the said certificate is offered for filing. Provided further that the penalty herein provided for is first paid and provided the said report contains the specific information required by this section as to the issuance of any capital stock not previously reported, then the first annual report filed by such corporation following such failure to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be received by the secretary of state as a compliance with this section.

492.10 Cancellation of stock — reimbursement.

The capital stock of any corporation issued in violation of the terms and provisions of sections 492.5 to 492.8 shall be void, and in a suit brought by the attorney general on behalf of the state in any court having jurisdiction, a decree of cancellation shall be entered; and if the corporation has received any money or thing of value for the said stock, such money or thing of value shall be returned to the individual, firm, company, or corporation from whom it was received, and if represented by labor or other service of intangible nature, the value thereof shall constitute a claim against the corporation issuing stock in exchange therefor.

492.11 Dissolution — distribution of assets.

Any corporation violating the provisions of sections 492.5 to 492.8 shall, upon the application of the attorney general, in behalf of the state, made to any court of competent jurisdiction, be dissolved, its affairs wound up, and its assets distributed among the stockholders other than those who have received the stock so unlawfully issued.

492.12 Violation.

Any officer, agent or representative of a corporation who violates any of the provisions of sections 492.5 to 492.8 shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

[S13, §1641-f; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8419; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.12]
§493.1, STOCK WITHOUT PAR VALUE

493.1 Authorization.
Any corporation, heretofore or hereafter organized for pecuniary profit under the laws of this state, except state banks, trust companies, building and loan associations and insurance companies, may create one or more classes of stock without any nominal or par value, with such rights, preferences, privileges, voting powers, limitations, restrictions and qualifications thereon not inconsistent with law as shall be expressed in its articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto. Stock without par value which is preferred as to dividends, or as to its distributive share of the assets of the corporation upon dissolution, may be made subject to redemption at such times and prices as may be determined in such articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto. In the case of stock without par value which is preferred as to its distributive share of the assets of the corporation upon dissolution, the amount of such preference shall be stated in the articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto. In any case, in which the par value of the shares of stock of a corporation shall be required to be stated in the articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto, or in any other place, it shall be stated in respect to shares without par value that such shares are without par value, and when the amount of such stock authorized, issued or outstanding shall be required to be stated, the number of shares thereof authorized, issued or outstanding, as the case may be, shall be stated, and it shall also be stated that such shares are without par value.

493.2 Par value — method of stating.
In any case, in which the par value of the shares of stock of a corporation shall be required to be stated in the articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto, or in any other place, it shall be stated in respect to shares without par value that such shares are without par value, and when the amount of such stock authorized, issued or outstanding shall be required to be stated, the number of shares thereof authorized, issued or outstanding, as the case may be, shall be stated, and it shall also be stated that such shares are without par value.

493.3 Amount of stock.
For the purpose of any rule of law or of any statutory provision relating to the amount of capital stock issued and represented by shares of stock without par value except as otherwise provided in this chapter such amounts shall be taken to be the amount of money or the actual value of the consideration, as fixed by the directors or otherwise, in accordance with law, as the case may be, for which such shares of stock shall have been issued. In any such case in which stock having a par value shall have been issued with stock without par value for a specified combined consideration, in determining the amount of the capital stock issued and represented by shares of stock without par value the then book value of such stock having a par value shall first be deducted from the amount of the money or actual value of the consideration determined as aforesaid, and the excess thereof, if any, shall be taken to be the amount of capital stock represented by the shares of stock without par value so issued.

493.4 Sale value.
Subject to any limitations and restrictions set forth in the articles of incorporation, or amendment thereto, any such corporation may issue its authorized capital stock without par value for such consideration as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation, or amendment thereto, or, if not prescribed, then for such consideration as may be fixed by resolution passed by the stockholders of such corporation at any annual meeting thereof, or at any special meeting thereof duly called for that purpose, or by the board of directors acting under authority of such stockholders given in like manner. In the absence of fraud in the transaction, the judgment of the board of directors in fixing and determining such sale value shall be conclusive as to the creditors and stockholders. Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to repeal the law as it now appears in sections 492.6, 492.7, and 492.8.

493.5 Liability of holder.
Any and all shares without par value issued for the consideration as prescribed or fixed in section 493.4 shall be deemed fully paid and nonassessable and the holder of such shares shall not be liable to the corporation or to its creditors in respect thereto.

493.6 Status of stock.
Except as to any preferences, rights, limitations, privileges and restrictions, lawfully granted or imposed with respect to any stock or class thereof, shares of stock without nominal or par value shall be deemed to be an aliquot part of the aggregate capital of the corporation issuing the same and equal to every other share of stock of the same class.

493.7 Certificates of stock.
Each stock certificate issued for shares without nominal or par value shall have plainly written or printed upon its face the number of shares which it represents, and the number of such shares the corporation is authorized to issue, and no such certificate shall state any nominal or par value of such shares or express any rate of dividend to which it shall be entitled in terms of percentage of any par or other value.

493.8 Number of shares.
The number of authorized shares of stock without par value may be increased or reduced in the manner and subject to the conditions provided by law for the increase or reduction of the capital stock of a similar corporation having shares with par value. All other statutory provisions relating to stock having a par value shall also apply to stock without par value, so far as the same may be legally, necessarily or practically applicable to, and not inconsistent with, the provisions of this chapter.

493.9 Change in stock.
Any such corporation may, by appropriate amendments to its articles of incorporation, adopted by a two-third affirmative vote of each class of stock then issued and outstanding and affected by such amendment, change its stock (common or preferred) having a par value to an equal, greater or less number of shares of stock having no par value, and, in connection therewith, may fix the amount of capital represented by such shares of stock without par value.

493.10 Convertibility.
The articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto, of any such corporation may provide that shares of stock of any class shall be convertible into shares of stock of any other class upon such terms and conditions as may be therein stated.

493.11 Incorporation fee — computation.
For the purposes of computing the statutory fee for incorporating or for any other statutory provision based on the par value of shares of stock, but for no other purpose, each share of stock without par value shall be considered equivalent to a share having a nominal or par value of one hundred dollars.

493.12 Applicability of statutes.
Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, such corporations issuing shares without par value, under the provisions hereof, shall be and remain subject to the laws of this state, now or hereafter in force, relating to the formation, regulation, consolidation, or merger, rights, powers and privileges of corporations organized for pecuniary profit, and all other laws applicable thereto.

All acts or parts of acts providing for the incorporation, organization, administration and management of the affairs of corporations organized for pecuniary profit and having shares of stock with a par value are hereby made applicable to corporations having shares of stock without par value, except where the same are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

CHAPTER 495
FOREIGN PUBLIC UTILITY CORPORATIONS

495.1 Capital stock and permit.
Sections 492.5 to 492.9 are applicable to any foreign corporation which directly or indirectly owns, uses, operates, controls, or is concerned in the operation of any public gasworks, electric light plant, heating plant, waterworks, interurban or street railway located within the state, or the carrying on of any gas, electric light, electric power, heating business, waterworks, interurban or street railway business within the state, or that owns or controls, directly or indirectly, any of the capital stock of any corporation which owns, uses, operates or is concerned in the operation of any public gasworks, electric light plant, electric power plant, heating plant, waterworks, interurban or street railway located within the state, or any foreign corporation that exercises any control in any way or in any manner over any of such works, plants, interurban or street railways or the business carried on by such works, plants, interurban or street railways by or through the ownership of the capital stock of any corporation or corporations or in any other manner whatsoever, and the ownership, operation, or control of any such works, plants, interurban or street railways or the business carried on by any of such works or plants or the ownership or control of the capital stock in any corporation owning or operating any of such works, plants, interurban or street railways by any foreign corporation in violation of this chapter is unlawful.
[S13, §1641-1; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8433; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §495.1]

495.2 Holding companies.
The provisions of this chapter are hereby made applicable to all corporations, including so-called “holding companies” which by or through the ownership of the capital stock in any other corporation or corporations or a series of corporations owning or controlling the capital stock of each other can or may exercise control over the capital stock of any corporation which owns, uses, operates, or is concerned in the operation of any public gasworks, electric light plant, electric power plant, heating plant, waterworks, interurban or street railway located in the state, or the business carried on by such works or plants.

495.3 Biennial report — fee.
All corporations subject to the provisions of this chapter are hereby required to pay the fee and to make the biennial report in the form and manner and at the time as specified in chapter 490.
[S13, §1641-n; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8435; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §495.3]
2000 Acts, ch 1022, §3

495.4 Sale of capital stock.
The provisions of this chapter are hereby made applicable to the sale of its own capital stock by any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter, whether said capital stock has been herefore issued by said corporation or not, including the sale of so-called “treasury stock” or stock of the corporation in the hands of a trustee or where the corporation participates in any way or manner in the benefits of said sales, and also to the sale of any of the obligations of any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter, the payment of which is secured by the deposit or pledge of any of the capital stock of said corporation.

495.5 Violations — stock void.
Shares of capital stock of any corporation owned or controlled in violation of this chapter shall be void and the holder of such shares shall not be entitled to exercise the powers of a shareholder of the corporation or permitted to participate in or be entitled to any of the benefits accruing to shareholders of the corporation. This chapter shall be construed so as to prevent evasion and to accomplish the intents and purposes of this chapter.
[S13, §1641-p; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8437; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §495.5]
93 Acts, ch 126, §14

495.6 Dissolution — receiver.
Courts of equity shall have full power to dissolve, close up, or dispose of any business or property owned, operated, or controlled in violation of the provisions of this chapter; to dissolve any corporation owning or controlling the capital stock of any other corporation in violation of the provisions of this chapter and to close up or dispose of the business or property of said corporation; and if the court finds that, in order to carry out the purposes of this chapter, it is necessary so to do, it may dissolve the corporation issuing the stock which is owned in violation of the provisions of this chapter, close up the business of said corporation and dispose of its property, and the court may also appoint a receiver who shall be a resident of Iowa for any business or for any corporation which has violated the provisions thereof or of the corporation issuing the stock which is held in violation thereof. Any action to enforce the provisions of this chapter may be instituted by the attorney general in the name of the state of Iowa or by a citizen in the name of the state of Iowa at the citizen's own proper cost and expense, reserving, however, to the stockholders owning capital stock not held in violation of this chapter all rights possessed by them.

[S13, §1641-q; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8438; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §495.6]

CHAPTER 496B
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS

496B.1 Title of Act.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the “Iowa Economic Development Act”.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.1]

496B.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:
1. “Board of directors” means members of the board of directors of a development corporation constituted under section 496B.13 in office from time to time.
2. “Department” means the Iowa department of economic development of the state of Iowa, or any agency which succeeds to the functions of the Iowa department of economic development.
3. “Development corporation” means any corporation organized pursuant to this chapter and for the purpose of developing businesses, industries, and enterprises in the state of Iowa by the loaning of money there to and investing money therein, and otherwise organizing for the purposes in section 496B.5.

4. “Financial institution” means any bank, trust company, savings and loan association, insurance company or related corporation, partnership, foundation or other institution licensed to do business in the state of Iowa and engaged primarily in lending or investing funds.

5. “Loan limit” means, for any member, the maximum amount permitted to be outstanding at any one time on loans made by any such member to a development corporation, as determined herein.

6. “Member” means any financial institution which shall undertake to lend money to a development corporation upon its call and in accordance with the provision of section 496B.9.

496B.3 Authorized corporations.

There is hereby authorized to be incorporated under the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, development corporations which meet and comply with the requirements of this chapter. Such corporations shall be subject to and have the powers and privileges conferred by the provisions of this chapter and those provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, which are not inconsistent with and to the extent not restricted or limited by the provisions of this chapter. No corporation shall be deemed incorporated pursuant to and under the provisions of this chapter unless the same is approved by the department and unless its articles of incorporation provide that it is incorporated pursuant to this chapter. To assure a broad base from which development corporations may obtain loans from members, the department at its discretion may limit the number of development corporations organized and existing pursuant to this chapter to one or more such corporations.

496B.4 Offices.

A development corporation may have offices in such places within the state of Iowa as may be fixed by the board of directors.

496B.5 Purposes.

The purposes of a development corporation shall be limited to those provided in this section and shall be to promote, stimulate, develop and advance the business prosperity and economic welfare of the state of Iowa and its citizens; to encourage and assist through loans, investments, or other business transactions, the location of new business and industry in the state; to rehabilitate and assist existing business and industry in this state; to stimulate and assist in the expansion of any kind of business activity which would tend to promote business development and maintain the economic stability of this state, provide maximum opportunities for employment, encourage thrift, and improve the standard of living of the citizens of this state; to co-operate and act in conjunction with other organizations, public or private, in the promotion and advancement of industrial, commercial, agricultural, and recreational development in this state; and to provide financing for the promotion, development, and conduct of all kinds of business activity in this state.

496B.6 Powers.

Any development corporation shall, subject to the restrictions and limits herein contained, have the following powers:

1. To make contracts and incur liabilities for any of the purposes of the development corporation; provided that no development corporation shall incur any secondary liability by way of guaranty or endorsement of the obligations of any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association, or trust, or in any other manner.

2. To borrow money either from its members or pursuant to lending arrangements entered into under the authority granted in subsection 7 of this section, or both from its members and pursuant to said lending arrangements, and to issue therefor its bonds, debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured, and when necessary to secure the same by mortgage, pledge, deed of trust, or other lien on its property, franchises, rights, and privileges of every kind and nature, or any part thereof or interest therein, without securing shareholder or member approval; provided, that no loan to a development corporation shall be secured in any manner unless all outstanding loans to such corporation, and for which loan or loans no subordination agreement has been entered into between the respective loan maker and the development corporation, shall be secured equally and ratably in proportion to the unpaid balance of such loans and in the same manner.

3. To make loans to any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association, or trust and to establish and regulate the terms and conditions with respect to any such loans, and the charges for interest and service connected therewith.

4. To acquire the good will, business, rights, real and personal property, and other assets, or any part thereof, or interest therein, of any persons, firms, corporations, associations, or trusts, and to assume, undertake, or pay the obligations, debts, and liabilities of any such person, firm, corporation, association, or trust; to acquire, construct or reconstruct, alter, repair, maintain, operate, sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of industrial plants and business establishments.

5. To cooperate with and avail itself of the facilities of the department and to cooperate with and assist and otherwise encourage organizations in the various communities of the state of Iowa in the promotion, assistance, and development of business prosperity and economic welfare of such communities or of this state or any part thereof.

6. To do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this chapter and such other powers not in conflict herewith granted under the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490.

7. To enter into lending arrangements with state and federal agencies or instrumentalities whereby the development corporation may participate in lending operations or secure guarantees or qualify under applicable laws to further state or federal agencies or instrumentalities.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.6]
2001 Acts, ch 24, §64

496B.7 Stock — limitations.
Capital stock shall be issued only on receipt by each development corporation of cash in such amount not less than the par value thereof as may be determined by the board of directors. No shareholder of any development corporation shall be entitled as of right to purchase or subscribe for any unissued or treasury shares of the corporation, and no such shareholder shall be entitled as of right to purchase or subscribe for any bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, debentures, or other obligations convertible into shares of the development corporation.

496B.8 Stockholders' privileges.
Notwithstanding any rule at common law or any provision of any general or special law or any provision in their respective articles of incorporation, agreements of association, or trust indentures:

1. Any person, as defined in the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any bond, security or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, development corporations, and while owners of said shares to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory agency of this state.

2. Any financial institution is hereby authorized to become a member of a development corporation and to make loans to such corporation.

3. Any financial institution which does not become a member of a development corporation shall not be permitted to acquire any shares of the capital stock of such development corporation.

4. Each financial institution which becomes a member of a development corporation is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of any bonds, securities or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the development corporation of which it is a member, and while owners of such shares to exercise all rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory agency of this state; provided that the amount of the capital stock of any development corporation which may be acquired by any member pursuant to the authority granted herein shall not exceed ten percent of the loan limit of such member. The amount of capital stock of a development corporation which any member is authorized to acquire pursuant to the authority granted herein is in addition to the amount of capital stock in other corporations which such member may otherwise be authorized to acquire.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.8]
89 Acts, ch 180, §2; 2001 Acts, ch 24, §64

496B.9 Loan procedures.
A financial institution may request membership in a development corporation by making application to the board of directors thereof on such form and in such manner as such board of directors may require, and membership shall become effective upon acceptance of such application by said board. Each member of any development corporation shall make loans to such development corporation as and when called upon by that corporation to do so on such terms and conditions as shall be approved from time to time by the board of directors subject to the following:

1. All loan limits shall be established at the thousand dollar amount nearest the amount computed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

2. No loan to a development corporation shall be made if immediately thereafter the total amount of the obligations of the development corporation calling for the loan would exceed ten times the amount then paid in on the outstanding capital stock of such corporation.

3. The total amount outstanding at any one time on loans to a development corporation made by a member thereof when added to the amount of the investment in the capital stock of such corporation and held by such member, shall not exceed the lesser of:

a. Twenty percent of the total amount then outstanding on loans to such development corporation by all members thereof, including in said total amount outstanding amounts validly called for loan but not yet loaned.
§496B.9, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS

b. The limit, to be determined as of the time such member becomes a member, on the basis of the audited balance sheet of such member at the close of its fiscal year immediately preceding its application for membership, as follows:

1. Banks and trust companies — two percent of the paid-in capital, surplus, and undivided profits.
2. Savings and loan associations — two percent of the general reserve account, surplus and undivided profits.
3. Stock life insurance companies — one percent of capital and unassigned surplus.
4. Mutual life insurance companies — one percent of the unassigned surplus.
5. All other insurance companies — one-tenth of one percent of the assets.
6. Other financial institutions — such limits as may be approved by the board of directors of the development corporation.

Provided that the lending limit of any one member shall not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars.

4. Each call for loan shall be prorated among the members in substantially the same proportion that the adjusted loan limit of each member bears to the aggregate of the adjusted loan limits of all members. The adjusted loan limit of a member shall be the amount of such member’s loan limit, reduced by the balance of outstanding obligations of the corporation to such member and the investment in capital stock of the corporation held by such member at the time of such call.

5. All loans to a development corporation by a member shall be evidenced by registered bonds, debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of the development corporation, which shall be freely transferable by the registered holder thereof on the books of the corporation.

§496B.10 Duration of membership.
Membership in any development corporation shall be for the duration of the respective development corporation; provided, however, that upon written notice given to the development corporation five years in advance a member thereof may withdraw from membership in such corporation at the expiration date of such notice. Provided that a financial institution may at any time withdraw from membership without such notice in the event of its merger with another financial institution, after commencement of proceedings for voluntary or involuntary dissolution, receivership, or reorganization pursuant to or by operation of federal or state law or in the event of conversion from a state financial institution to a federal financial institution or the reverse. If there shall be a legislative amendment of this chapter affecting the rights and obligations of the members and shareholders or otherwise affecting the articles of incorporation of such corporation which shall not have been approved by the members and shareholders within the time set forth and in the manner provided in this chapter, any member not approving such amendment may immediately withdraw from membership upon giving written notice to the corporation not later than ninety days from the effective date of the amendment. A member shall not be obligated to make any loans to a development corporation pursuant to calls made subsequent to the withdrawal of said member therefrom.

496B.11 Powers of shareholders.
The shareholders and the members of the development corporation shall have the following powers of such corporation:

1. Those powers granted in the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.
2. To determine the number and elect directors as provided herein.
3. To amend the articles of incorporation as provided herein.
4. To dissolve the corporation as provided herein.
5. To exercise such other of the powers of the corporation as may be conferred on the shareholders and the members by the bylaws. As to all matters requiring action by the shareholders and the members of the corporation, such shareholders and such members shall vote separately thereon by classes and, except as may be otherwise herein provided, approval of such matters shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the shareholders present or represented at the meeting are entitled, and the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the members present or represented at the meeting are entitled. Each shareholder shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, for each share of capital stock held by the shareholder, and each member shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, except that any member having a loan limit of more than one thousand dollars shall have one additional vote, in person or by proxy, for each additional one thousand dollars which such member is authorized to have outstanding on loans to the corporation at any one time as determined herein.

496B.12 Articles amended.
The articles of incorporation of any development corporation may be amended by the votes of the shareholders and the members thereof voting separately by classes. Any amendment shall require approval by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the shareholders shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which the members shall be entitled. No amendment, however, shall be made which: (1) is inconsistent with this chapter; (2) authorizes any additional class or classes of shares of capital stock; (3) eliminates or curtails the authority of the department with respect to the corporation. Without the consent of each of the members affected, no amendment shall be made which: (1) increases the obligation of a member to make loans to the corporation; (2) makes any change in the principal amount, interest rate, maturity date, or in the security or credit position of any outstanding loan of a member to the corporation; (3) affects a member’s right to withdraw from membership, as provided herein, or (4) affects a member’s voting rights in the corporation. Within thirty days after any meeting at which amendment of any such articles has been adopted, articles of amendment signed and sworn to by the president, secretary, and majority of the directors, setting forth such amendment and the due adoption thereof, shall be submitted to the director of the department who shall examine them, and if the director finds that they conform to the requirements of this chapter, shall so certify and endorse the director’s approval thereof. Thereupon, the articles of amendment shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state in the manner set forth and as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, and no such amendment shall take effect until such articles of amendment shall have been approved and filed as aforesaid. Within sixty days after the effective date of any legislative amendment affecting the rights and obligations of the members and shareholders or otherwise affecting the articles of incorporation, the approval of such legislative amendments shall be voted on by the shareholders and the members of the development corporation at a meeting duly called for that purpose. If such legislative amendment is not approved by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which such shareholders shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which such members shall be entitled, any such member voting against the approval of such legislative amendment shall have the right to withdraw from membership as provided in this chapter. Within thirty days after any meeting at which a legislative amendment affecting the articles of incorporation of a development corporation has been voted on, a certificate filed and sworn to by the secretary or other recording officer of such corporation setting forth the action taken at such meeting with respect to such amendment shall be submitted to the director of the department and upon receipt of such approval shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

496B.13 Board of directors.

The board of directors shall consist of such number not less than fifteen as shall be determined in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter annually by the members and the shareholders at each annual meeting or at any special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting. At each annual meeting or at any special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting, the members of each corporation shall elect two-thirds of the board of directors and the shareholders shall elect the remaining directors. The directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the corporation or special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting after their election, and until their successors are elected and qualify unless sooner removed in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws. Any vacancy in the office of a director elected by the members shall be filled by the directors elected by the members, and any vacancy in the office of a director elected by the shareholders shall be filled by the directors elected by the shareholders. Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, officers and directors of insurance companies and other financial institutions may be members of the board of directors of any corporation organized for the purposes of this chapter to which the insurance company or other financial institution may make a loan or may make an investment.

496B.14 Earned surplus set aside.

Each year each development corporation shall set apart as earned surplus not less than ten percent of its net earnings for the preceding fiscal year until such surplus shall be equal in value to one-half of the amount paid in on the capital stock then outstanding. Whenever the amount of surplus established herein shall become impaired, it shall be built up again to the required amount in the manner provided for its original accumulation. Net earnings and surplus shall be determined by the board of directors, after providing for such reserves as said directors deem desirable, and the directors’ determination made in good faith shall be conclusive on all persons.

496B.15 Deposit of funds.

No development corporation shall deposit any of its funds in any financial institution unless such institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of a majority of the directors present at any authorized meeting of the board of directors exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the depository so designated. No development corporation shall receive money on deposit.

496B.16 Reports to department of economic development.

Each development corporation is subject to the examination of the department and shall make reports of its condition not less than annually to the department. The department shall make copies of the reports available to the commissioner of insurance and the superintendent of banking. Each development corporation shall also furnish other information as the department may require. The department may request the superintendent of banking to examine the condition of a development corporation and to submit a report on the examination to the department and the commissioner of insurance.

496B.19 Dissolution.
A development corporation may be dissolved upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the shareholders thereof shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which the members shall be entitled. Upon any dissolution of a development corporation, none of the corporation's assets shall be distributed to the shareholders until all sums due the members of the corporation as creditors thereof have been paid in full.

laws of this state for a purpose for which a professional corporation may be organized under this chapter.

3. “Licensed” includes registered, certified, admitted to practice, or otherwise legally authorized under the laws of this state.

4. “Profession” means the profession of certified public accountancy, architecture, chiropractic, dentistry, physical therapy, psychology, professional engineering, land surveying, landscape architecture, law, medicine and surgery, optometry, osteopathy, osteopathic medicine and surgery, accounting practitioner, podiatry, speech pathology, audiology, veterinary medicine, pharmacy and the practice of nursing.

5. “Professional corporation” means a corporation subject to this Act, except a foreign professional corporation.

6. “Regulating board” means any board, commission, court, or governmental authority which, under the laws of this state, is charged with the licensing, registration, certification, admission to practice, or other legal authorization of the practitioners of any profession.

7. “Voluntary transfer” includes any sale, voluntary assignment, gift, pledge, or encumbrance; any voluntary change of legal or equitable ownership or beneficial interest; or any voluntary change of persons having voting rights with respect to any shares, except as proxies; but does not include any transfer of an individual’s shares or other property to a guardian or conservator appointed for such individual or the individual’s property.

496C.3 Applicability of Iowa business corporation Act.
The Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, shall be construed as part of this chapter and shall apply to professional corporations, including, but not limited to, their organization, reports, fees, authority, powers, rights, and the regulation and conduct of their affairs. The provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, on foreign corporations shall apply to foreign professional corporations. The provisions of this chapter shall prevail over any inconsistent provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, or any other law.

496C.4 Purposes and powers.
A professional corporation shall be organized only for the purpose of engaging in the practice of one specific profession, or two or more specific professions which could lawfully be practiced in combination by a licensed individual or a partnership of licensed individuals, and for the additional purpose of doing all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions.
The articles of incorporation shall state in substance that the purposes for which the corporation is organized are to engage in the general practice of a specified profession or professions, or one or more specified branches or divisions thereof, and to do all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions. Each professional corporation, unless otherwise provided in its articles of incorporation or unless expressly prohibited by this chapter, shall have all powers granted to corporations by the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490.

496C.5 Corporate name.
The corporate name of a professional corporation, the corporate name of a foreign professional corporation or its name as modified for use in this state, and any fictitious name or trade name adopted by a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation shall contain the words “professional corporation” or the abbreviation “P.C.”, and except for the addition of such words or abbreviation, shall be a name which could lawfully be used by a licensed individual or by a partnership of licensed individuals in the practice in this state of a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. Each regulating board may by rule or regulation adopt additional requirements as to the corporate names and fictitious or trade names of professional corporations and foreign professional corporations which are authorized to practice a profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board.

496C.6 Who may incorporate.
One or more individuals having capacity to contract, each of whom is licensed to practice in this state a profession which the professional corporation is to be authorized to practice, may act as incorporators of a professional corporation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.6]

496C.7 Practice by professional corporation.
Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional corporation may practice a profession, but may do so in this state only through shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the same profession in this state.

In its practice of a profession, no professional corporation shall do any act which could not lawfully be done by individuals licensed to practice the profession which the professional corporation is authorized to practice.

496C.8 Professional regulation.

No professional corporation shall be required to register with or to obtain any license, registration, certificate, or other legal authorization from any regulating board in order to practice a profession. Except as provided in this section, nothing in this chapter shall restrict or limit in any manner the authority or duties of any regulating board with respect to individuals practicing any profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board, even if the individual is a shareholder, director, officer, employee, or agent of a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation and practices the individual’s profession through such corporation.

496C.9 Relationship and liability to persons served.

This chapter does not modify any law applicable to the relationship between an individual practicing a profession and a person receiving professional services, including, but not limited to, any liability arising out of such practice and any law respecting privileged communications.

This chapter does not modify or affect the ethical standards or conduct of any profession, including, but not limited to, any standards prohibiting or limiting the practice of the profession by a corporation or prohibiting or limiting the practice of two or more professions in combination. All such standards shall apply to the shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents through whom a professional corporation practices any profession in this state, to the same extent that the standards apply to an individual practitioner.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, the liability of the shareholders of a professional corporation, as shareholders, shall be limited in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of a corporation organized under the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490.

496C.10 Issuance of shares.

Shares of a professional corporation may be issued, and treasury shares may be disposed of, only to individuals who are licensed to practice in this state, or in any other state or territory of the United States or in the District of Columbia, a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, the affirmative vote or consent in writing of all of the outstanding shareholders entitled to vote, or such lesser proportion as may be provided in the articles or bylaws, is necessary in order to authorize the issuance of any shares or the disposal of any treasury shares, and to fix the consideration for shares or treasury shares.

No shares of a professional corporation shall at any time be issued, transferred into, or held in joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or any other form of joint ownership or co-ownership. The Iowa securities law shall not be applicable to nor govern any transaction relating to any shares of a professional corporation.

496C.11 Transfer of shares.

No shareholder or other person shall make any voluntary transfer of any shares in a professional corporation to any person, except to the professional corporation or to an individual who is licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, the affirmative vote or consent in writing of all of the outstanding shareholders entitled to vote, or such lesser proportion as may be provided in the articles or bylaws, is necessary in order to authorize any voluntary transfer of any shares of a professional corporation.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws may contain any additional provisions restricting the transfer of shares.

496C.12 Convertible securities — stock rights and options.

No professional corporation shall create or issue any securities convertible into shares of the professional corporation. The provisions of this chapter with respect to the issuance and transfer of shares and disposal of treasury shares apply to the creation, issuance, and transfer of any rights or options entitling the holder to purchase from a professional corporation any shares of the corporation, including treasury shares. Rights or options shall not be transferable, whether voluntarily, involuntarily, by operation of law, or in any other manner. Upon the death of the holder, or whenever the holder ceases to be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, the rights or options shall expire.

496C.13 Voting trust — proxy.

No shareholder of a professional corporation shall create or enter into a voting trust or any other agreement conferring upon any other person the right to vote or otherwise represent any shares of a professional corporation, and no such voting trust or agreement is valid or effective. Any proxy of a shareholder of a professional corporation shall be an individual licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. Any provision in any proxy instrument denying the right of the shareholder to revoke the proxy at any time or for any period of time is not valid or effective. This section does not otherwise limit the right of a shareholder to vote by proxy, but the articles of incorporation or bylaws may further limit or deny the right to vote by proxy.

496C.14 Required purchase by professional corporation of its own shares.

Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional corporation shall purchase its own shares as provided in this section; and the shareholders of a professional corporation and their executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors in interest shall sell and transfer the shares held by them as provided in this section.

The corporation may validly purchase its own shares even though its net assets are less than its stated capital, or even though by so doing its net assets would be reduced below its stated capital.

Upon the death of a shareholder, the professional corporation shall immediately purchase all shares held by the deceased shareholder.

In order to remain a shareholder of a professional corporation, a shareholder shall at all times be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. Whenever any shareholder does not have or ceases to have this qualification, the corporation shall immediately purchase all shares held by that shareholder.

Whenever any person other than the shareholder of record becomes entitled to have shares of a corporation transferred into that person’s name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to shares of the corporation, the corporation shall immediately purchase such shares. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this section shall be applicable whether the event occurs as a result of the appointment of a guardian or conservator for a shareholder or the shareholder’s property, transfer of shares by operation of law, involuntary transfer of shares, judicial proceedings, execution, levy, bankruptcy proceedings, receivership proceedings, foreclosure or enforcement of a pledge or encumbrance, or any other situation or occurrence. However, this section does not apply to any voluntary transfer of shares as defined in this chapter.

Shares purchased by the corporation under the provisions of this section shall be transferred to the corporation as of the close of business on the date of the death or other event which requires purchase. The shareholder and the shareholder’s executors, administrators, legal representatives, or successors in interest shall promptly do all things which may be necessary or convenient to cause transfer to be made as of the transfer date. However, the shares shall promptly be transferred on the stock transfer books of the corporation as of the transfer date, notwithstanding any delay in transferring or surrendering the shares or certificates representing the shares, and the transfer shall be valid and effective for all purposes as of the close of business on the transfer date. The purchase price for such shares shall be paid as provided in this chapter, but the transfer of shares to the corporation as provided in this section shall not be delayed or affected by any delay or default in making payment.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, purchase by the corporation is not required upon the occurrence of any event other than death of a shareholder if the corporation is dissolved or voluntarily elects to adopt the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, as provided in section 490.1701, subsection 2, within sixty days after the occurrence of the event. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may provide that purchase is not required upon the death of a shareholder if the corporation is dissolved within sixty days after the death. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, purchase by the corporation is not required upon the death of a shareholder if the corporation voluntarily elects to adopt the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, as provided in section 490.1701, subsection 2, within sixty days after death.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws or in an agreement among all shareholders of the professional corporation:

1. The purchase price for shares shall be their book value as of the end of the month immediately preceding the death or other event which requires purchase. Book value shall be determined from the books and records of the professional corporation in accordance with the regular method of accounting used by the corporation, uniformly and consistently applied. Adjustments to book value shall be made, if necessary, to take into account work in process and accounts receivable. Any final determination of book value made in good faith by any independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants employed by the corporation for the purpose shall be conclusive on all persons.

2. The purchase price shall be paid in cash as follows: Upon the death of a shareholder, thirty percent of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after death, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the death. Upon the happening of any other event referred to in this section, one-tenth of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after the date of such event, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the date of the event.

3. Interest from the date of death or other event shall be payable annually on principal payment dates, at the rate of six percent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

4. All persons who are shareholders of the professional corporation on the date of death or other event, and their executors, administrators, and legal representatives, shall, to the extent the corporation fails to meet its obligations hereunder, be jointly liable for the payment of the purchase price and interest in proportion to their percentage of ownership of the corporation's shares, disregarding shares of the deceased or withdrawing shareholders.

5. The part of the purchase price remaining unpaid after the initial payment shall be evidenced by a negotiable promissory note, which shall be executed by the corporation and all shareholders liable for payment. Any person liable on the note shall have the right to prepay the note in full or in part at any time.

6. If the person making any payment is not reasonably able to determine which of two or more persons is entitled to receive a payment, or if the payment is payable to a person who is unknown, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive the payment, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person making the payment, it shall be deposited with the treasurer of state and shall be subject to the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, with respect to funds deposited with the treasurer of state upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a corporation.

7. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, no part of the purchase price shall be required to be paid until the certificates representing such shares have been surrendered to the corporation.

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, payment of any part of the purchase price for shares of a deceased shareholder shall not be required until the executor or administrator of the deceased shareholder provides any indemnity, release, or other document from any taxing authority, which is reasonably necessary to protect the corporation against liability for estate, inheritance, and death taxes.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws of a professional corporation may provide for a different purchase price, a different method of determining the purchase price, a different interest rate or no interest, and other terms, conditions, and schedules of payment.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws or an agreement among all shareholders of a professional corporation may provide for the optional or mandatory purchase of its own shares by the corporation in other situations, subject to any applicable law regarding such purchase.
ers, directors, or officers shall be cause for its involuntary dissolution, or liquidation of its assets and business by the district court, as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490. Upon the death of the last remaining shareholder of a professional corporation, or whenever the last remaining shareholder is not licensed or ceases to be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, or whenever any person other than the shareholder of record becomes entitled to have all shares of the last remaining shareholder of the corporation transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to such shares, the corporation shall not practice any profession and it shall either be promptly dissolved or shall promptly elect to adopt the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, as provided in section 490.1701, subsection 2. However, if prior to such dissolution all outstanding shares of the corporation are acquired by one or more persons licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, the corporation need not be dissolved and may practice the profession as provided in this chapter. (C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.19) 2001 Acts, ch 24, §64; 2003 Acts, ch 66, §10

496C.20 Foreign professional corporation
A foreign professional corporation may practice a profession in this state if it complies with the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, on foreign corporations. The secretary of state may prescribe forms for such purpose. A foreign professional corporation may practice a profession in this state only through shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the profession in this state. The provisions of this chapter with respect to the practice of a profession by a professional corporation apply to a foreign professional corporation. The certificate of authority of a foreign professional corporation may be revoked by the secretary of state as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, if the foreign professional corporation fails to comply with any provision of this chapter.

This chapter shall not be construed to prohibit the practice of a profession in this state by an individual who is a shareholder, director, officer, employee, or agent of a foreign professional corporation if the individual could lawfully practice the profession in this state in the absence of any relationship to a foreign professional corporation. The preceding sentence shall apply regardless of whether or not the foreign professional corporation is authorized to practice a profession in this state. (C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.20) 2001 Acts, ch 24, §62

496C.21 Biennial report
Each biennial report of a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation shall, in addition to the information required by the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, set forth:
1. The name and address of one shareholder.
2. In the case of a professional corporation, a statement under oath whether or not all shareholders, directors, and officers, except assistant officers, of the corporation are licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, and whether or not all employees and agents of the corporation who practice a profession in this state on behalf of the corporation are licensed to practice the profession in this state.
3. In the case of a foreign professional corporation, a statement under oath whether or not all shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents who practice a profession in this state on behalf of the corporation are licensed to practice the profession in this state.
4. Additional information necessary or appropriate to enable the secretary of state or regulating board to determine whether the professional corporation or foreign professional corporation is complying with this chapter.

Information shall be set forth on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state. A corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall pay the biennial filing fee and make the biennial report in a form and manner and at the time specified in chapter 490. (C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.21) 83 Acts, ch 144, §5; 97 Acts, ch 171, §25; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §4, 5; 2001 Acts, ch 24, §64

496C.22 Corporations organized under other laws
This chapter shall not apply to or interfere with the practice of any profession by or through any corporation hereafter organized under any other law of this state or any other state or country if such practice is lawful under any other statute or rule of law of this state. Any corporation subject to the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, may voluntarily elect to adopt this chapter and become subject to its provisions by amending its articles of incorporation to be consistent with all provisions of this chapter and by stating in its amended articles of incorporation that the corporation has voluntarily elected to adopt this chapter. Any corporation organized under any law of any other state or country may become subject to the provisions of this chapter by complying with all provisions of this chapter with respect to foreign professional corporations. ### 497.1 Purposes of cooperative.
Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves as a cooperative association, society, company, or exchange, for the purpose of conducting any agricultural, dairy, ethanol production, mercantile, mining, manufacturing, or mechanical business on the cooperative plan. For the purposes of this chapter, the words “association”, “company”, “corporation”, “exchange”, “society”, or “union”, shall be construed to mean the same.

497.2 Articles of incorporation.
They shall sign and acknowledge written articles which shall contain the name of said association and the names and residences of the persons forming the same. Such articles shall also contain a statement of the purposes of the association, and shall designate the city or village where its principal place of business shall be located. Such articles shall also state the amount of capital stock, the number of shares, and the par value of each.

497.3 Filing — certificate of incorporation.
The original articles of incorporation of associations organized under this chapter shall be filed with the secretary of state, and be by the secretary recorded in a book kept for that purpose; and if such articles comply with the provisions of sections 497.1 and 497.2, the secretary shall issue a certificate of incorporation to the association. No publication of notice of the incorporation of such an association shall be required.

497.4 Fee.
For filing the articles of incorporation of associations organized under this chapter, there shall be paid to the secretary of state ten dollars, and for the filing of an amendment to such articles, five dollars; provided that when the capital stock of such corporation shall be less than five hundred dollars, such fee for filing either the articles of incorporation or amendments thereto shall be one dollar. In all cases there shall be paid a recording fee of fifty cents per page.
497.5 Board of directors.

Every such association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, who shall be elected by and from the stockholders at such time and for such term of office as the bylaws may prescribe, and shall hold office for the time for which elected and until their successors are elected and qualify.

497.6 Removal.

A majority of the stockholders shall have the power at any regular or special stockholders' meeting, legally called, to remove any director or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy, and thereupon the director or officer so removed, shall cease to be a director or officer of said corporation.

497.7 Officers.

The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the directors, and each of said officers must be a director of the association. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be combined, and when so combined the person filling the office shall be secretary-treasurer.

497.8 Amending articles.

The association may amend its articles of incorporation by a majority vote of its stockholders at any regular stockholders' meeting, or at any special stockholders' meeting called for that purpose, on ten days' notice to all stockholders. Said power to amend shall include the power to increase or diminish the amount of capital stock and the number of shares; provided the amount of the capital stock shall not be diminished below the amount of paid-up capital at the time the amendment is adopted.

497.9 Record of amendments.

Within thirty days after the adoption of an amendment to its articles of incorporation, an association shall cause a copy of the amendment adopted to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

Any corporation organized under the provisions of chapter 504A.84 apply to a cooperative association organized under this chapter in the same manner as those sections apply to a corporation organized under chapter 504 or 504A. In addition to the information required to be set forth in the biennial report under section 504.1613 or 504A.83, the cooperative association shall also set forth the total amount of business transacted, number of members, total expense of operation, total amount of indebtedness, and total profits or losses for each calendar or fiscal year of the two-year period which ended immediately preceding the first day of January of the year in which the report is filed.

A cooperative association which fails to comply with this section before April 1 of the year in which the report is due is subject to a penalty of ten dollars.

Unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

497.23 Exemption from report.

Any corporation organized under the provisions... of this chapter after the first day of January shall be exempt from the provisions of section 497.22 for the year in which incorporated, after which it shall, however, be subject to all of the provisions of said section.
[C27, 31, 35; §8480-a1; C39; §8480.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.23]

497.24 List of delinquents.
In the month of April of each year the secretary of state shall prepare a list of all delinquent corporations and file the same in the secretary of state's office.
[C27, 31, 35; §8480-a2; C39; §8480.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.24]

497.25 Notice to delinquents.
On or before the first day of May of the year the report is due the secretary of state shall mail to each delinquent association a notice of such delinquency and of the penalties provided in section 497.22.
[C27, 31, 35; §8480-a3; C39; §8480.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.25]
97 Acts, ch 171, §27

497.26 Cancellation.
If the biennial report required is not filed and penalties paid on or before the last day of June the secretary of state shall, on the first day of July following, cancel the name of any delinquent corporation from the list of live corporations in the secretary of state's office, and enter such cancellation on the proper records.
[C27, 31, 35; §8480-a4; C39; §8480.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.26]
2000 Acts, ch 1022, §6

497.27 Effect of cancellation.
When so canceled the corporate rights of any such corporation shall be forfeited and its corporate period terminated on the date such cancellation shall have been entered on the records of the secretary of state's office.

497.28 Reinstatement of corporation.
Any corporation whose corporate rights have been canceled and forfeited in the manner provided herein may, however, before September 1 following such cancellation, make application to the secretary of state for reinstatement and upon being furnished good and sufficient reasons for not having filed its report the secretary shall, upon the filing of such report and the payment of the penalty, reinstate said corporation and the decree of cancellation shall be annulled and the corporation shall be entitled to continue to act as a corporation

497.29 Chapter extended to former companies.
All cooperative corporations, companies, or associations heretofore organized and doing business under prior statutes, or which have attempted to so organize and do business, shall have the benefit of all the provisions of this chapter and be bound thereby, on filing with the secretary of state, amended and substituted articles of incorporation drawn in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and a written declaration, signed and sworn to by the president and secretary to the effect that said cooperative company or association has by a majority vote of its stockholders decided to accept the benefits of and to be bound by the provisions hereof.
[SS15, §1641-r16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8481; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.29]
94 Acts, ch 1055, §12

497.30 Use of term “cooperative” restricted.
No corporation or association organized after July 4, 1915, shall be entitled to use the term “cooperative” as part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it has complied with the provisions of this chapter, and any corporation or association violating the provisions of this section may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any stockholder of any association legally organized under the provisions of this chapter.

497.31 Use of funds.
None of the funds of any association organized under the provisions of this chapter shall be used in the payment of any promotion; as commissions, salaries or expenses of any kind, character, or nature whatsoever.
[SS15, §1641-r18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.31]

497.32 Private property exempt.
The private property of the stockholders shall be exempt from execution for the debts of the corporation.
497.33 Personal liability.
Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a director, officer, employee, or member of the corporation is not liable on the corporation's debts or obligations and a director, officer, member, or other volunteer is not personally liable in that capacity, for a claim based upon any action taken, or any failure to take action in the discharge of the person's duties, except for the amount of a financial benefit received by the person to which the person is not entitled, an intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or its members, or an intentional violation of criminal law.

497.34 Indemnification.
A cooperative association operating under this chapter may indemnify any present or former director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer in the manner and in the instances authorized in sections 490.850 through 490.859, provided that where sections 490.850 through 490.859 provide for action by shareholders the sections are applicable to action by voting members of the cooperative association, and where sections 490.850 through 490.859 refer to the corporation organized under chapter 490 the sections are applicable to the cooperative association organized under this chapter, and where sections 490.850 through 490.859 refer to the director the sections are applicable to a director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer of the cooperative association organized under this chapter.

497.35 Statement to estate of stockholder.
The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of a stockholder's death, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the stockholder's estate, or to the attorney representing the stockholder's estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the stockholder which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its stockholders.

The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the stockholder's death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the stockholder's estate is closed, whichever is later.

498.3 Terms defined — products of nonmembers.
For the purpose of this chapter, the words "association", "exchange", "society", or "union", shall be construed to mean the same and are defined to mean a corporate body composed of actual producers or consumers of the given commodity handled by the association, whose business is conducted for the mutual benefit of its members and not for the profit of stockholders, and control of which is vested in its members upon the basis of one vote to each member. Associations shall not deal in the products of nonmembers to an amount greater in value than such as are handled by it for members.

498.4 Articles — personal liability.
They shall sign and acknowledge written articles, which shall contain the name of the association and the names and residences of the incorporators. Such articles shall also contain a statement of the purposes of the association, the amount of the membership fee, and shall designate the city or village where its principal place of business shall be located, and the manner in which such articles may be amended, and any limitation which the members propose to place upon their personal liability for the debts of the association.

498.5 Filing — certificate of incorporation.
The original articles of incorporation shall be filed for record with the secretary of state. Upon approval of such articles, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8489; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.5]

498.6 Fees.
For filing the articles of incorporation of associations organized under this chapter, there shall be paid to the secretary of state five dollars, and for the filing of an amendment to such articles, two dollars. In all cases there shall be paid a recording fee of fifty cents per page.

498.7 Amendments.
Within thirty days after the adoption of any amendment to its articles of incorporation, the association shall cause a copy of such amendment to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

498.8 Board of directors — removals.
Every such association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, who shall be elected by and from the members at such time and for such term of office as the articles may prescribe. They shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualify; but a majority of the members shall have the power at any regular or special meeting of the association legally called, to remove any director or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy.

498.9 Officers.
The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, and treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the directors, from amongst their own number. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be held by the same person.

498.10 Admission of members.
Under the terms and conditions prescribed in its bylaws, an association may admit as members persons engaged in the production of the products, or in the use or consumption of the supplies, to be handled by or through the association, including the lessors and landlords of lands used for the production of such products, who receive as rent part of the crop raised on the leased premises.

§498.11 Membership certificates.

Membership certificates in due form shall be issued to all charter members and to such others as shall subsequently be admitted by the association in accordance with its articles and bylaws.

§498.12 Certificates nontransferable — surrender.

No such certificate shall be transferable by the member to any other person, but shall be surrendered to the association in case of the member’s voluntary withdrawal.

§498.13 Automatic cancellation — revocation.

It shall become void upon the member’s death, or may be revoked by the directors upon proof duly made that the member has ceased to be a producer of products handled by or through the association, in the case of producing or selling associations or has ceased to be the user of products handled by or through the association in case of stores and supply associations, or for failure to observe its bylaws or the member’s contractual obligations to it.

§498.14 Conditions printed on certificates.

The conditions of membership specified in sections 498.12 and 498.13 shall be printed upon the face of every membership certificate.

§498.15 Combinations of local associations.

Likewise, associations may be formed under this chapter whose membership shall consist of other associations formed under the provisions of this chapter, the purpose being to federate local associations into central cooperative associations for the more economical and efficient performance of their marketing or other operations.

§498.16 Powers of central associations.

Such central associations may enter into contracts, agreements and arrangements with their member associations. Each member association in such federated associations shall have an official representative chosen by its own board of directors, who shall cast one vote and no more at all business meetings of the federated association.

§498.17 Voting power.

Each member of an association shall be entitled to one vote and no more upon all questions affecting the control and management of the affairs of the association and in the selection of its board of directors.

§498.18 Proxies — voting by mail.

No vote by proxy shall be permitted, but a written vote received by mail from any absent member, and signed by that member, may be read and counted at any regular or special meeting of the association, provided that the secretary shall notify all members in writing of the exact motion or resolution upon which such vote is to be taken, and a copy of same shall be forwarded with and attached to the vote so mailed by the member.

§498.19 Power to compel sales and purchases — liquidated damages.

The association may require members to sell all or a stipulated part of their specifically enumerated products exclusively through the association or to buy specifically enumerated supplies exclusively through the association, but in such case, a reasonable period during each year shall be specified during which any member, by giving notice in prescribed form, may be released from such obligation thereafter. Where it is desired to enter into the exclusive arrangement provided in this section, the association shall execute a contract with each such member setting forth what goods or wares are to be handled and upon what terms. In order to protect itself in the necessary outlay, which it may make for the maintenance of its services, the association may stipulate that some regular charge shall be paid by the member for each unit of goods covered by such contract whether actually handled by the association or not, and in order to reimburse the association for any loss or damage which it or its members may sustain through the member’s failure to deliver the member’s products to or to procure the member’s supplies from the association.

In case it is difficult or impracticable to determine the actual amount of damage suffered by the association or its members through such failure to comply with the terms of such a contract, the association and the member may agree upon a sum to be paid as liquidated damages for the breach of the member’s contract, said amount to be stated in the contract.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8503; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.19]

498.20 Financial power.
Every association may borrow money necessary for the conduct of its business, and may issue notes, bonds, or debentures therefor, and may give security in the form of mortgage or otherwise for the repayment thereof.

498.21 Personal liability.
Members of such association may limit their personal liability to the amount of their membership fee as provided in their articles of incorporation.

498.22 Cost of service — dues.
Associations formed under this chapter shall perform services on a basis of the lowest practicable cost, and may provide for meeting the cost thereof through dues, assessments, or service charges, which shall be prescribed in the bylaws. Such charges shall be set high enough to provide a margin of safety above current operating costs and fixed charges upon borrowed capital.

498.23 Reserve and educational funds — patronage dividends.
Out of any surplus remaining in any given year, the directors shall each year set aside not less than ten percent of such savings for the accumulation of a reserve fund until such reserve shall equal at least forty percent of the invested capital of the association, not less than one percent nor more than five percent for a permanent educational fund from which expenditures shall be made annually at the discretion of the directors for the purpose of teaching co-operation, and the remainder to be returned to the members as a patronage dividend prorated on a uniform basis to each member upon the value of business done by that member through the association.

498.24 Biennial report — penalty.
Section 504.1613 or sections 504A.83 and 504A.84 apply to a cooperative association organized under this chapter in the same manner as those sections apply to a corporation organized under chapter 504 or 504A. In addition to the information required to be set forth in the biennial report under section 504.1613 or 504A.83, the cooperative association shall also set forth the total amount of business transacted, number of members, total expense of operation, total amount of indebtedness, and total profits or losses for each calendar or fiscal year of the two-year period which ended immediately preceding the first day of January of the year in which the report is filed.
A cooperative association which fails to comply with this section before April 1 of the year in which the report is due is subject to a penalty of ten dollars.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8508; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.24]

References to chapter 504A in this section to be deleted editorially upon repeal of that chapter; 2004 Acts, ch 1049, §191
Unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

498.25 Exemption from report.
Any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter after the first day of January shall be exempt from the provisions of section 498.24 for the year in which incorporated, after which it shall, however, be subject to all of the provisions of said section.
[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a1; C39, §8508.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.25]

498.26 List of delinquents.
In the month of April of each year the secretary of state shall prepare a list of all delinquent corporations and file the same in the secretary of state’s office.
[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a2; C39, §8508.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.26]

498.27 Notice to delinquents.
On or before the first day of May of the year the report is due the secretary of state shall mail to each delinquent association a notice of such delinquency and of the penalties provided in section 498.24.
[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a3; C39, §8508.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.27]
97 Acts, ch 171, §29

498.28 Cancellation.
If the biennial report required is not filed and penalties paid on or before the last day of June the secretary of state shall, on the first day of July following, cancel the name of any delinquent corporation from the list of live corporations in the secretary of state’s office, and enter such cancellation on the proper records.
[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a4; C39, §8508.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.28]
2000 Acts, ch 1022, §7
§498.29 Effect of cancellation.
When so canceled the corporate rights of any such corporation shall be forfeited and its corporate period terminated on the date such cancellation shall have been entered on the records of the secretary of state's office.

§498.30 Reinstatement of corporation.
Any corporation whose corporate rights have been canceled and forfeited in the manner provided herein may, however, before September 1 following such cancellation, make application to the secretary of state for reinstatement and upon being furnished good and sufficient reasons for not having filed its report the secretary shall, upon the filing of such report and the payment of the penalty, reinstate said corporation and the decree of cancellation shall be annulled and the corporation shall be entitled to continue to act as a corporation for the unexpired portion of its corporate period as fixed by its articles of incorporation and the limitations prescribed by law.

§498.31 Chapter extended to former associations.
All corporations, or associations heretofore organized and doing business under prior statutes, or which have attempted so to organize and do business cooperatively, shall have the benefit of all the provisions of this chapter and be bound thereby, on filing with the secretary of state amended and substituted articles of incorporation drawn in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and a written declaration signed and sworn to by the president and secretary, to the effect that said company or association has, by a majority vote of its stockholders, decided to accept the benefits of and to be bound by the provisions of this chapter.

§498.32 Use of term “cooperative” — injunction.
No corporation or association hereafter organized shall be entitled to use the term “cooperative” as part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it has complied with the provisions of this chapter or of chapter 497, and any corporation or association violating the provisions of this chapter may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any stockholder of any association legally organized under the provisions of this chapter.

§498.33 Use of funds — promotion expenses.
None of the funds of any association shall be used for purposes of any promotion as commissions, salaries, or expenses of any kind, character, or nature whatsoever, except that in the case of associations operating in more than one county, if the par value of securities to be sold is in excess of one hundred thousand dollars, a sum not to exceed five percent of the par value of bonds or debentures sold may be used by committees elected by the members for selling or soliciting for the sale of such securities or for hiring responsible salaried solicitors for that purpose.

§498.34 Duration of incorporation — renewal.
Associations formed under the provisions of this chapter shall continue for a period of twenty-five years, unless earlier dissolved by order of its members or by other processes as by law provided, and the term of its existence may be renewed by the filing of new articles of association, as by law provided.

§498.35 Personal liability.
Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a director, officer, employee, or member of the association is not liable on the association’s debts or obligations and a director, officer, member, or other volunteer is not personally liable in that capacity, for a claim based upon any action taken, or any failure to take action in the discharge of the person’s duties, except for the amount of a financial benefit received by the person to which the person is not entitled, an intentional infliction of harm on the association or its members, or an intentional violation of criminal law.
87 Acts, ch 212, §7; 2003 Acts, ch 66, §12

§498.36 Indemnification.
A cooperative association operating under this chapter may indemnify any present or former director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer in the manner and in the instances authorized in sections 490.850 through 490.859, provided that where sections 490.850 through 490.859 provide for action by shareholders the sections are applicable to action by voting members of the cooperative association, and where sections 490.850 through 490.859 refer to the corporation organized under chapter 490 the sections are applicable to the cooperative association organized under this chapter, and where sections 490.850 through 490.859 refer to the director the sections are applicable to a director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer of the cooperative association organized under this chapter.

498.37 Statement to estate of stockholder.
The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of a member's death, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the member’s estate, or to the attorney representing the member’s estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the member which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its members. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the member’s death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the member’s estate is closed, whichever is later.

499.1 Applicable.
This chapter applies only to cooperative associations as defined in section 499.2. All such associations formed from and after July 4, 1935 must be organized under this chapter.

499.2 Definitions.
"Agricultural associations" are those formed to produce, grade, blend, preserve, process, store, warehouse, market, sell, or handle an agricultural product, or a by-product of an agricultural product; to produce ethanol; to purchase, produce, sell, or supply machinery, petroleum products, equipment, fertilizer, supplies, business services, or educational service to or for those engaged as bona fide producers of agricultural products; to finance any such activities; or to engage in any cooperative activity connected with or for any number of these purposes.

"Agricultural products" include horticultural, viticultural, forestry, dairy, livestock, poultry, bee and any other farm products.

"Association" means a corporation formed under this chapter.

A "cooperative association" is one which deals with or functions for its members at least to the extent required by section 499.3; and which distributes its net earnings among its members in proportion to their dealings with it, except for limited dividends or other items permitted in this chapter; and in which each voting member has one vote and no more.

"Local deferred patronage dividends" of an association means that portion of each member’s deferred patronage dividends described in section 499.30 which the board of directors of the association has determined arise from earnings of the association other than earnings which have been allocated to the association but which have not been paid in cash to the association by other cooperative organizations of which the association is a member. However, if the board of directors fails to make a determination with respect to a deceased member’s deferred patronage dividends prior to the member’s death, then “local deferred patronage dividends” means that portion of the member’s deferred patronage dividends which is proportional to the deferred patronage dividends described in section 499.30 less the amount of undistributed net earnings which have been allocated to the association by other cooperative organizations of which the association is a member, compared to all deferred patronage dividends of the association.

"Local deferred patronage preferred stock" of an association means preferred stock, if any, of an association which has been issued in exchange for local deferred patronage dividends. If preferred stock has been issued in exchange for deferred patronage dividends prior to the time the board of directors of the association has determined the portion of each member’s deferred patronage dividend which represents local deferred patronage dividends, then the board of directors may reasonably determine what portion of the preferred stock was issued in exchange for local deferred patronage dividends and the portion which was issued for other deferred patronage dividends.

"Member" refers not only to members of nonstock associations but also to common stockholders of stock associations, unless the context of a particular provision otherwise indicates.

86 Acts, ch 1196, §1; 88 Acts, ch 1026, §1; 92 Acts, ch 1099, §9

499.3 Dealing with nonmembers.

A nonstock livestock shipping association shall not handle livestock of any nonmembers.

Any association may restrict the amount of business done with nonmembers and may limit its dealings or any class thereof to members only.

[C35, §8512-g3; C39, §8512.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.3]
2001 Acts, ch 12, §1, 6

499.4 Use of term "cooperative" restricted.

No person or firm, and no corporation hereafter organized, which is not an association as defined in this chapter or a cooperative as defined in chapter 591, shall use the word "cooperative" or any abbreviation thereof in its name or advertising or in any connection with its business, except foreign associations admitted under section 499.54. The attorney general or any association or any member thereof may sue and enjoin such use.

This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a cooperative association or a foreign cooperative association uses a fictitious name in this state, it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

97 Acts, ch 23, §56; 2001 Acts, ch 12, §2, 6

499.5 Permissible organizers.

1. Five or more individuals, or two or more associations, may organize an association.

2. All individual incorporators of agricultural associations must be engaged in producing agricultural products, which phrase includes landlords and tenants as specified in section 499.13.

3. A nonprofit water utility organized under chapter 357A, 504, or 504A may elect to become an association under this chapter upon majority vote of its members by filing with the secretary of state a statement confirming the election and appropriate articles of incorporation. However, the association is subject to the service limitation provisions contained in sections 357.1A and 357A.2.

4. A telephone company organized as a corporation under chapter 491 and qualifying pursuant to an internal revenue service letter ruling under Internal Revenue Code § 501(c)(12) as a nonprofit corporation entitled to distribute profits in a manner similar to an association under this chapter may reorganize as an association under this chapter upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in an election at a meeting at which a majority of all shares entitled to vote cast a vote.

[C35, §8512-g5; C39, §8512.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.5]

Section amended

499.6 Purposes.

A cooperative association may be organized under this chapter for any lawful purpose or purposes.

[C35, §8512-g6; C39, §8512.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.6]
88 Acts, ch 1026, §2; 88 Acts, ch 1172, §5

499.7 Powers.

Except as expressly limited in its articles, each association has the following powers:

1. To conduct business, carry on operations, establish and operate offices, and exercise all powers granted by this chapter in or outside this state.

2. To borrow any amounts of money, and give any form of obligation or security therefor.

3. To make advances to patrons or members, or members of member-associations, and take any form of obligation or security therefor.

4. To acquire, hold, transfer or pledge any obligation or security representing funds actually advanced or used for any cooperative activity; or stock, memberships, bonds or obligations of any cooperative organization dealing in any product handled by the association, or any by-product thereof.

5. To make any contract, endorsement or guarantee it deems desirable incident to its transfer or pledge of any obligation or security.

6. To acquire, own or dispose of any real or personal property deemed convenient for its business, including patents, trademarks and copyrights.

7. To exercise any power, right or privilege suitable or necessary for; or incident to, promoting or accomplishing any of its powers, purposes or ac-499.8 Contracts authorized.
An agricultural association may contract with any member for the member's exclusive sale to or through it, of all or any part of the member's agricultural products or other designated commodities. Such contracts may permit the association to take and sell the property without acquiring title thereto, and pay the member the sale price less costs and expenses of selling, which may include the member's pro rata portion of the association's annual outlay for overhead, interest, preferred dividends, reserves or other specified charges. Such contracts must be for a specified time, not less than one year. Each contract shall fix a period of at least ten days during each year after the first, within which either party may terminate it without affecting any liability previously accrued.

499.9 Penalties — performance — injunction — arbitration.
Contracts permitted by section 499.8 may provide that the member pay the association any sum, fixed in amount or by a specified method of computation, for each violation thereof; also all the association's expenses of any suit thereon, including bond premiums and attorney's fees. All such provisions shall be enforced as written, whether at law or in equity, and shall be deemed proper measurement of actual damages, and not penalties or forfeitures.

The association may obtain specific performance of any such contract, or enjoin its threatened or continued breach, despite the adequacy of any legal or other remedy.

If the association files a verified petition, showing an actual or threatened breach of any such contract and seeking any remedy therefor, the court shall, without notice or delay but on such bond as it deems proper, issue a temporary injunction against such breach or its continuance.

The parties to such contracts may agree to arbitrate any controversy subsequently arising thereunder, and fix the number of arbitrators and method of their appointment. Such agreements shall be valid and irrevocable, except on such grounds as invalidate contracts generally. If they specify no method for appointing arbitrators, or if either party fails to follow such method, or if for any reason arbitrators are not named or vacancies filled, either party may apply to the district court to designate the necessary arbitrator, who shall then act under the agreement with the same authority as if named in it. Unless otherwise agreed, there shall be but one arbitrator.

499.10 Cooperative agreements.
Any association may make any agreement or arrangement with any other association or cooperative organization for the cooperative or more economical carrying on of any of its business. Any number of such associations or organizations may unite to employ or use, or may separately employ or use, the same methods, means or agencies for conducting their respective businesses.

499.11 Legality declared.
No association, contract, method or act which complies with this chapter shall be deemed a conspiracy or combination in restraint of trade or an illegal monopoly, or an attempt to lessen business or fix prices arbitrarily, or to accomplish any improper or illegal purpose.

499.12 Exemption of private property.
The private property of the members or stockholders shall be exempt from execution for the debts of the corporation.

499.13 Membership — eligibility.
A membership or share of common stock shall not be issued to, or held by, any person unless the person is eligible for membership in the association under its articles. A person may be eligible only if the person is engaged in producing a product marketed by the association, the person customarily consumes or uses the supplies or commodities that the association handles, or the person uses the services that the association renders. A farm tenant or landlord who receives a share of agricultural products as rent may be eligible for membership in an agricultural association as a producer. A cooperative association engaged in any directly or indirectly related activity may be eligible for membership. An association may be formed which includes among its members cooperative associations or restricts its membership to cooperative associations.
499.14 Membership in nonstock associations.
Membership in associations without capital stock may be acquired by eligible parties in the manner provided in the articles, which shall specify the rights of members, the issuing price of memberships, if any; and what, if any, fixed dividends accrue thereon. If the articles so provide, membership shall be of two classes, voting and nonvoting. Voting members shall be agricultural producers, and all other members shall be nonvoting members. Nonvoting members shall have all the rights of membership except the right to vote.

[C35, §§8512-g14; C39, §§8512.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.14]
2001 Acts, ch 12, §3, 6

499.14A Electric cooperative association memberships.
An electric cooperative association may have one or more classes of members. Qualifications, requirements, methods of acceptance, terms, conditions, termination, and other incidents of membership shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation of the association.

499.15 Contents of certificates.
The association shall issue certificates of membership or stock, each of which states the fixed dividend, if any, and the restrictions or limitations upon its ownership, voting, transfer, redemption or cancellation.

499.16 Subscriptions — issuing certificates.
If permitted by the association’s articles of incorporation, any eligible subscriber for common stock or membership may vote and be treated as a member after making part payment of the amount, if any, required to be paid for the common stock or membership in cash, giving the subscriber’s note for the balance, and satisfying any other requirement for the subscription as set forth in the articles. A subscription may be forfeited as provided in section 499.32. Stock or a membership certificate shall not be issued until payment of the amount, if any, required to be paid for the stock or membership certificate is fully made. A subscriber shall not hold office until the subscriber’s certificate has been issued.

[C35, §§8512-g16; C39, §§8512.16; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.16]
97 Acts, ch 17, §3; 2001 Acts, ch 12, §5, 6

499.17 Transfer of stock or membership.
No common stock shall be transferable, unless the articles expressly provide for transfer to others eligible for membership. Such provision may require that the transfer be preceded by an offer to the association, or be otherwise restricted. No nonstock membership shall be transferable, and all certificates thereof shall be surrendered to the association on the member’s voluntary withdrawal.

499.18 Expulsion of members.
The directors may expel any member if the member has attempted to transfer that member’s membership or stock in violation of its terms, or has willfully violated any article or bylaw which provides for such penalty.

499.19 Cancellation of membership or stock.
If a common stockholder or member dies, or becomes ineligible, or is expelled, that person’s stock or membership shall forthwith be canceled. In cases of expulsion the association shall pay the stockholder or member its value as shown by the books on the date of cancellation, but not more than its original issuing price, within sixty days thereafter. In cases of death or ineligibility, it shall pay such value to the stockholder or member or the stockholder’s or member’s personal representative within two years thereafter, without interest.

499.20 Withdrawal of members.
The articles may permit and regulate voluntary withdrawal of members and the resulting cancellation of their common stock and memberships.

499.21 Obligations not affected.
The death, expulsion or withdrawal of a member shall not impair the member’s contracts, debts, or obligations to the association.

499.22 Capital stock.
An association with capital stock may divide the shares into common and preferred stock. Par value stock shall not be issued for less than par. The general corporation laws shall govern the consideration for which no-par stock is issued. If the articles so provide, common stock may be issued in two classes, voting and nonvoting. Voting stock shall be issued to all agricultural producers and nonvoting stock to all other members. Voting stock or nonvoting stock may be issued to a cooperative association as provided in the articles of incorporation of the association issuing the stock. Nonvoting stock shall have all privileges of membership except the right to vote. Preferred stock held by nonmembers shall not exceed in amount that held by members.

97 Acts, ch 17, §4; 98 Acts, ch 1100, §67

§499.23 Dividends on common stock.

Unless the articles provide that common stock shall receive no dividends, the directors may declare noncumulative dividends thereon at such rate as they may fix, not exceeding eight percent per annum.

§499.24 Preferred stock.

Preferred stock shall bear cumulative or noncumulative dividends as fixed by the articles, not exceeding eight percent per annum. It shall have no vote. It shall be issued and be transferable without regard to eligibility or membership, and be redeemable on terms specified in the articles and as provided for in this chapter. The directors shall determine the time and amount of its issue.

§499.25 Issuing preferred stock in purchases.

An association may discharge all or any part of obligations incurred in purchasing any business, property or stock, or an interest therein, by issuing its authorized preferred stock in an amount not exceeding the fair market value of the thing purchased. Issuance of such stock shall be upon the fair market value of the property purchased, as determined through an appraisal made by the directors or a competent appraiser employed by the directors. Such preferred stock shall be valid as though paid for in cash.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §2

§499.26 Service charges.

Unless the articles otherwise provide, the bylaws or the directors may prescribe charges to be made to each member for services rendered the member or upon products bought from or sold to the member, and the time and manner of their collection.

§499.27 Meetings.

Regular meetings of members shall be held at least once each year, the first of which shall be on the date specified in its articles. Unless otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws, subsequent meetings shall be on the same date in each succeeding year.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles, the directors may call special meetings of members, and must do so upon written demand of twenty percent of the members.

Unless the member waives it in writing, each member shall have ten days' written notice of the time and place of all meetings, and of the purpose of all special meetings. Such notice shall be given to the member in person or by mail directed to the member's address as shown on the books of the association, or if the articles so provide, by publication in a regular publication of general circulation among its members, or a newspaper of general circulation published at the principal place of business of the association.

Articles of incorporation, §499.40

§499.28 Number of votes.

No member may own more than one membership or share of common stock. Each voting member shall be entitled to one vote and no more at all corporate meetings.

§499.29 Manner of voting.

Votes shall be cast in person, and not by proxy. The vote of a member-association shall be cast only by its representative duly authorized in writing. If the articles or bylaws permit, a member may cast that member's vote, in advance of the meeting, upon any proposition of which the member has been previously notified in writing.

96 Acts, ch 1115, §1

§499.30 Distribution of earnings.

The directors shall annually dispose of the earnings of the association in excess of its operating expenses as follows:

1. To provide a reasonable reserve for depreciation, obsolescence, bad debts, or contingent losses or expenses.

2. a. To the extent that the cooperative association is operating on a pooling basis, the board of directors of the cooperative association shall determine the portion of the remaining earnings derived from the pool that will be added to the surplus. The cooperative association is operating on a pooling basis, if the association markets, sells, or handles an agricultural product and all of the following apply:

   (1) The product is a pool composed by commingling units of the same kind of product which are contributed to the cooperative association by its members.

(2) The earnings of the association are computed without deducting a charge for products delivered by members of the association who are contributing units to be commingled in the product pool.

The board of directors may provide an advance payment to the members of the association contributing units of the product to be commingled in the product pool during the contribution period.

b. To the extent that the cooperative association is not operating on a pooling basis as provided in this subsection, at least ten percent of the remaining earnings must be added to surplus until surplus equals either thirty percent of the total of all capital paid in for stock or memberships, plus all unpaid patronage dividends, plus certificates of indebtedness payable upon liquidation, earnings from nonmember business, and earnings arising from the earnings of other cooperative organizations of which the association is a member, or one thousand dollars, whichever is greater. No additions shall be made to surplus when it exceeds either fifty percent of the total, or one thousand dollars, whichever is greater, without the approval of the membership by a majority of votes cast.

3. Not less than one percent nor more than five percent of earnings in excess of reserves may be placed in an educational fund, to be used as the directors deem suitable for teaching or promoting cooperation.

4. After disposing of earnings as provided in subsections 1 and 2, the cooperative association shall pay any fixed dividends on stock or memberships.

5. Notwithstanding an association’s articles of incorporation, for each taxable year of the association, the association shall allocate all remaining net earnings to the account of each member, including subscribers described in section 499.16, ratably in proportion to the business the member did with the association during that year. The directors shall determine, or the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the association may specify, the percentage or the amount of the allocation to be currently paid in cash. However, for a cooperative association other than a public utility as defined in section 476.1, the amount to be currently payable in cash shall not exceed twenty percent of the allocation during any period when unpaid local deferred patronage dividends of deceased members for prior years are outstanding. Notwithstanding the twenty percent allocation limitation, the directors of a cooperative association or the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the association may specify any percentage or amount to be currently paid in cash to the estates of deceased natural persons who were members. All the remaining allocation not paid in cash shall be transferred to a revolving fund as provided in section 499.33 and credited to the members and subscribers. The credits in the revolving fund are referred to in this chapter as deferred patronage dividends.

499.30A Reversion of disbursements.

1. As used in this section, “disbursement” means an amount of any dividend, patronage dividend, distribution including earnings distribution, or any other increment or sum realized or accruing from a membership or stock, subscription, or other equity interest in a cooperative association.

2. Once a person’s membership or stock, subscription, or other member’s equity in a cooperative association is deemed abandoned under section 556.5, the cooperative association may retain any disbursement held by the cooperative association for or owing to the person. The cooperative association may also deliver the disbursement to the treasurer of state for disposition as abandoned property pursuant to sections 556.5 and 556.11.

3. If the cooperative association elects to retain the disbursement under this section, the disbursement shall be deposited into a reversion fund established by the cooperative association.

4. A disbursement having an aggregate value of fifty dollars or more that is retained by the cooperative association shall be forfeited to the cooperative association only if the cooperative association publishes at least one notice of the abandoned property in a publication regularly distributed to its membership or in a newspaper having a general circulation in the county where the cooperative association is located. The notice shall include all of the following:

a. The name and address of the cooperative association.

b. The name of the person who has an interest in the disbursement according to the records of the cooperative association.

c. A brief description of the type of disbursement retained by the cooperative association.

d. A statement that the disbursement will be forfeited to the cooperative association unless the person files a claim for the disbursement within the period provided for in this section.

5. a. Subject to this subsection, a person asserting an interest in the disbursement may file a claim for it with the cooperative association in a manner and according to procedures required by the cooperative association. If a person is entitled to an abandoned membership, stock, subscription, or other interest as provided in section 556.20 or 556.21, the cooperative association shall also pay the person the disbursement deposited in the reversion fund that is realized or accrued from the membership or stock, subscription, or other interest.
§499.30A, COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS 4974

b. If a person has not filed a claim for the disbursement within six months after the first date that the notice of abandoned property is first published as provided in this section, the disbursement shall be forfeited to the cooperative association.

6. The disbursements deposited into the reversion fund that are forfeited to the cooperative association shall be used as provided in this subsection. The cooperative association may authorize the payment of forfeited disbursements to persons claiming interests in forfeited disbursements as provided in the cooperative association’s articles of incorporation or bylaws. Otherwise, forfeited disbursements shall be used as the directors deem suitable for any of the following purposes:
   a. Teaching and promoting cooperation. The directors may deposit the amounts of disbursements into the education fund as provided in section 499.30.
   b. Economic development including private or joint public and private investments involving the creation of economic opportunities for its members or the retention of existing sources of income that would otherwise be lost.

2001 Acts, ch 142, §3; 2004 Acts, ch 1028, §1
Subsection 4, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

499.31 Control of allocation by members.
The members may at any meeting control the amount to be allocated to surplus or educational fund, within the limits specified in section 499.30, or the amount to be allocated to reserves.

499.32 Patronage dividends of subscribers.
Patronage dividends to subscribers whose stock or membership is not fully paid in cash shall be applied toward such payment until it is completed. If the articles or bylaws so provide, subscriptions not fully paid within two years may be canceled and all payments or patronage dividends thereon forfeited.

499.33 Use of revolving fund.
1. The directors may use a revolving fund to pay the obligations or add to the capital of the association or retire its preferred stock. In that event the deferred patronage dividends credited to members constitute a charge on the revolving fund, on future additions to the revolving fund, and on the corporate assets, subordinate to existing or future creditors and preferred stockholders. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, deferred patronage dividends for any year have priority over those for subsequent years.

2. a. Prior to other payments of deferred patronage dividends or redemption of preferred stock held by members, the directors of a cooperative association, other than a cooperative association which is a public utility as defined in section 476.1, shall pay local deferred patronage dividends and redeem local deferred patronage preferred stock of deceased natural persons who were members, and may pay deferred patronage dividends or may redeem preferred stock of deceased natural persons who were members or of members who become ineligible, without reference to the order of priority.
   b. The directors of a cooperative association which is a public utility as defined in section 476.1 may pay deferred patronage dividends and redeem preferred stock of deceased natural persons who were members, and may pay all other deferred patronage dividends or redeem preferred stock of members without reference to priority.

3. Payment of deferred patronage dividends or the redemption of preferred stock shall be carried out to the extent and in the manner specified in the bylaws of the association.
[C35, §8512-g33; C39, §8512.33; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.33]
86 Acts, ch 1196, §4; 95 Acts, ch 106, §2

499.34 Patronage dividend certificates.
If its articles or bylaws so provide, an association may issue transferable or nontransferable certificates for deferred patronage dividends.

499.35 Time of payment.
Credits or certificates referred to in sections 499.33 and 499.34 shall not mature until the dissolution or liquidation of the association, but shall be callable by the association at any time in the order of priority specified in section 499.33.
[C35, §8512-g35; C39, §8512.35; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.35]

499.36 Directors.
1. The affairs of each association shall be managed by a board of directors.
2. a. A director must be a member of the association or an officer or a member of a member-association. A director shall be elected by the members as prescribed by the association’s articles of incorporation.
   b. At least five directors shall serve on the association’s board. The number of directors shall be established in accordance with the association’s articles of incorporation or bylaws. If a board has the power to fix or change the number of directors, the board may increase or decrease by thirty percent or less the number of directors last approved by the members. Only the members may increase or decrease by more than thirty percent the number of directors last approved by the members.

3. a. The articles of incorporation may establish a variable range for the size of the board by fixing a minimum and maximum number of directors. If a variable range is established, the number of directors may be fixed or changed from time to time, within the minimum and maximum number, by the members or the board. After shares are issued, only the members may change the range for the size of the board, change from a fixed to a variable-range-size board, or change from a variable-size to a fixed-size board.

b. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date, by reason of a resignation effective at a later date, may be filled before the vacancy occurs. The new director shall not take office until the vacancy occurs.

c. The articles or bylaws otherwise provide, if a vacancy occurs on the board, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the vacancy may be filled by any of the following:

(1) The shareholders.
(2) The board.
(3) If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, the directors may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of all the directors remaining in office.

5. Directors shall be elected by districts, if the articles specify the districts, the number of directors from each district, the manner of nomination, redistricting, or reapportionment, and whether directors are to be directly elected by the members or by delegates chosen by them. Districts shall be formed and redistricting shall be ordered, from time to time, so that the districts contain as nearly as possible an equal number of members. The bylaws shall describe the district boundaries currently in effect.

6. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws otherwise provide, the board of directors may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating are able to simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting pursuant to this subsection is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

7. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws otherwise provide, an action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a board of directors’ meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and filed with the corporate records reflecting the action taken. An action taken under this subsection is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date. A consent signed under this subsection is deemed to have the same effect as a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

499.37 Officers.

1. The board of directors of the association shall select the association’s officers as provided in its articles of incorporation or bylaws, and shall fill vacancies in such offices. The articles of incorporation or bylaws otherwise provide, the association’s officers shall serve for annual terms beginning at the close of the first regular meeting of members in each year.

2. Unless the association’s articles of incorporation or bylaws otherwise provide, the association’s officers shall serve for annual terms beginning at the close of the first regular meeting of members in each year.

499.38 Removal of officers and directors.

At any meeting called for that purpose, any officer or director may be removed by vote of a majority of all voting members of the association. A director chosen under section 499.36, subsection 5, may likewise be removed by vote of a majority of all members in the director’s district.

499.39 Referendum.

If provided for in the articles of incorporation, any action of directors shall, on demand of one-third of the directors made and recorded at the same meeting, be referred to a regular or special meeting of members called for such purpose. Such action shall stand until and unless annulled by a majority of the votes cast at such meeting, which vote shall not impair rights of third parties previously acquired.

499.40 Articles.

1. The name of the association, which must in-include the word "cooperative"; and the address of its principal office.
2. The purposes for which it is formed, and a statement that it is organized under this chapter.
3. Its duration, which may be perpetual.
4. The name, occupation and post-office address of each incorporator.
5. The following information regarding the directors:
   a. Their number.
   b. Whether there is a fixed number or a variable range as provided in section 499.36. If a variable range is established, the information shall include the minimum and maximum number.
   c. Their qualifications.
   d. Their terms of office.
   e. How they shall be chosen and removed from office.
6. Who are eligible for membership, how members shall be admitted and membership lost, how earnings shall be distributed among members, how assets shall be distributed in liquidation, and, in addition, either:
   a. That the association shall have capital stock; the classes, par value and authorized number of shares of each class thereof; how shares shall be issued and paid for; and what rights, limitations, conditions and restrictions pertain to the stock, which shall be alike as to all stock of the same class; or
   b. That the association shall have no capital stock, and what limitations, conditions, restrictions and rights pertain to membership; and if the rights are unequal, the rules respecting them shall be specifically stated.
7. The date of the first regular meeting of members.
8. The name and street address of the association's initial registered agent.
   [C35, $8512-g40; C39, $8512.40; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.40]

499.41 Amendments.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the articles of incorporation of any association pertaining to amendment thereto now in effect, any association may amend its articles of incorporation by a vote of sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the members present, or represented by mailed ballots, and having voting privileges, at any annual meeting or any special meeting called for that purpose, provided that at least ten days before said annual meeting or special meeting a copy of the proposed amendment or summary thereof be sent to all members having voting rights; or said articles of incorporation may be amended in accordance with the amendment requirements contained in the articles or bylaws of said association that are adopted subsequent to July 4, 1963, or are in effect on or after July 4, 1964, provided said amendment requirements in the articles or bylaws are not less than established in this section.

Amendments shall be executed and filed as provided in section 499.44.

499.42 Renewal.

An association may extend its duration perpetually, or for any definite time, by resolution adopted by a majority of all its members, or any different vote for which the articles may provide, at a meeting called for that purpose and held before its original expiration.

Unless the association has meanwhile wound up, its duration may be extended in like manner within three years after its original expiration, with the same effect as if done prior thereto, by a vote of two-thirds of all its members.

The resolution must state the name of the association, its original expiration date, and for how long thereafter its duration is extended, and must also adopt, and designate officers to execute, renewal articles of incorporation containing the things required in section 499.40.

The renewal articles shall be executed and filed as required by section 499.41. Renewal shall not relieve the association from fees, charges, or penalties which may have accrued against it.

An existing Iowa cooperative corporation organized pursuant to chapter 497, by a majority vote of all its members, at a meeting called for that purpose and held before its present articles expire, may amend its articles to comply with this chapter and section 499.40, which may extend its corporate duration. The amended articles shall be executed and filed, and a certificate of incorporation issued, as required by section 499.44. Upon issuance of the certificate, the corporation shall be deemed an association under this chapter.

Any such existing corporation whose present articles have now expired, or will expire before January 1, 1938, may adopt this chapter as above provided at any time before that date, with the same effect as though done before such articles expired.

If any shareholder or member of such corporation votes against such amendment, those voting for it shall purchase that person's stock or interest at its real value, within two years from the date of such vote, paying interest thereon at the rate of six percent until paid. The association may retire the stock or interest thus purchased.

If any shareholder or member of such corporation shall not be eligible to continue membership under such amendment, the association shall within two years after the amendment is filed purchase and retire that person’s stock or membership for its real value.

It shall be presumed that the real value of such stock or interest is its proportionate share of the corporate assets at book value less liabilities as shown by its books.

499.43A Existing cooperatives organized under chapter 498 — option.

A cooperative association organized under chapter 498 may elect to be governed by and to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The election shall be governed by the following procedures:

1. The board of directors and members must adopt a resolution reciting that the cooperative association elects to be governed by and to comply with this chapter. The cooperative association, to the extent necessary, shall change its name to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The resolution shall be adopted according to the same procedures as provided in section 499.41. Upon the adoption of the resolution, the cooperative association shall execute an instrument on forms prescribed by the secretary of state. The instrument must be signed by the president and secretary and verified by one of the officers signing the instrument. The instrument shall include all of the following:

a. The name of the cooperative association, before and after this election.

b. A description of each resolution adopted by the cooperative association pursuant to this section, including the date each resolution was adopted.

2. The instrument shall be filed with the secretary of state. The cooperative association shall amend its articles of incorporation pursuant to section 499.41 to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The secretary of state shall not file the instrument unless the cooperative association is in compliance with the provisions of chapter 498 at the time of filing. A cooperative association shall file a biennial report which is due pursuant to section 499.49. Upon filing the instrument with the secretary, all of the following shall apply:

a. The cooperative association shall be deemed to be organized under this chapter and the provisions of this chapter shall apply to the cooperative association.

b. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate to the cooperative association acknowledging that it is deemed to be organized under this chapter.

3. The application of this chapter to the cooperative association does not affect a right accrued or established, or liability or penalty incurred pursuant to chapter 498, prior to the filing of the instrument with the secretary of state.

499.43B Existing cooperatives organized under chapter 490 or 491 — option.

A cooperative association organized under chapter 490 or 491 may elect to be governed by and to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The election shall be governed by the following procedures:

1. The board of directors and shareholders must adopt a resolution reciting that the cooperative association elects to be governed by and to comply with this chapter. The cooperative association, to the extent necessary, shall change its name to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The resolution shall be adopted according to the same procedures as provided in section 499.41. Upon the adoption of the resolution, the cooperative association shall execute an instrument on forms prescribed by the secretary of state. The instrument must be signed by the president and secretary and verified by one of the officers signing the instrument. The instrument shall include all of the following:

a. The name of the cooperative association, before and after this election.

b. A description of each resolution adopted by the cooperative association pursuant to this section, including the date each resolution was adopted.

2. The instrument shall be filed with the secretary of state. The cooperative association shall amend its articles of incorporation pursuant to section 499.41 to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The secretary of state shall not file the instrument unless the cooperative association is in compliance with the provisions of the chapter in which it was organized at the time of filing. A cooperative association shall file a biennial report which is due pursuant to section 499.49. Upon filing the instrument with the secretary, all of the following shall apply:

a. The cooperative association shall be deemed to be organized under this chapter and the provisions of this chapter shall apply to the cooperative association.

b. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate to the cooperative association acknowledging that it is deemed to be organized under this chapter.

3. The application of this chapter to the cooperative association does not affect a right accrued or established, or liability or penalty incurred pursuant to the chapter in which the cooperative association was formally organized, prior to the filing of the instrument with the secretary of state.

§499.44, COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

499.44 Execution and filing of documents.
1. The secretary of state shall record all documents submitted to and required to be filed with the secretary under this chapter.
2. A document required to be filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this chapter must be executed. The person executing the document must be the association's presiding officer of the board of directors, or the association's president or other officer. However, if the board of directors has not been selected or the association has not been formed, the document must be signed by an incorporator of the association. If the association is under the control of a person acting as a fiduciary of the association, including a trustee or receiver, the document must be signed by the fiduciary.
A document required to be executed shall contain the printed name of the person executing the document and the capacity in which the person serves the association. The signature of the person must appear above or opposite the person's printed name and capacity. In the discretion of the secretary of state, a document containing a copy of the person's signature may be accepted for filing. The document may also contain a corporate seal, an attestation by the secretary of state or person charged by the secretary, or an acknowledgment, verification, or proof that the execution is valid.
3. Articles of incorporation, amendments to articles, or renewal of articles must be filed with the secretary of state, and recorded in the county where the association has its principal place of business, as required by the general corporation laws. The association's corporate existence shall begin upon approval by the secretary of state of the articles and issuance of the certificate of incorporation.
4. A document required to be filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this chapter is effective at the later of the following times:
   a. The time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.
   b. The delayed effective time and date specified in the document. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified in the document, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.
5. A document filed under this section may be corrected if the document contains an incorrect statement or the execution of the document was defective. A document is corrected by filing with the secretary articles of correction which describe the document to be corrected, including its filing date or a copy of the document. The articles must specify the incorrect statement or defective execution, and correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.

Articles of correction are deemed to be effective on the date that the document corrected took or takes effect. However, as applied to persons relying upon the uncorrected document or adversely affected by the articles of correction, the effective date of the articles of correction is the date that the articles are filed.

499.46 Bylaws.
The directors, by a vote of seventy-five percent of the directors, may adopt, alter, amend, or repeal bylaws for the association, which shall remain in force until altered, amended, or repealed by a vote of seventy-five percent of the members present or represented having voting privileges, at any annual meeting or special meeting of the membership, provided that at least ten days' prior written notice of the impending membership vote has been mailed to all members of the association with a copy or summary of the proposed adoption, alteration, amendment, or repeal of the bylaws. Proposals by members to adopt, alter, amend, or repeal bylaws by vote of the membership shall be presented to the association's registered office for mailing to the membership by the association at least twenty days prior to the meeting at which the proposed change is to be considered. Bylaws shall be kept by the secretary subject to inspection by any member at any time. Bylaws may deal with the fiscal or internal affairs of the association or any subject of this chapter in any manner not inconsistent with this chapter or the articles.

499.47 Dissolution.
1. An association whose duration has expired, or which is sooner dissolved by voluntary act of its members, shall continue to exist for the purpose of winding up its affairs until its complete liquidation under subsection 3 hereof.
2. An association may be dissolved by two-thirds of all votes cast at any meeting called for that purpose at which a majority of all voting members vote.

3. Upon the expiration or voluntary dissolution of an association, the members shall designate three of their number as trustees to replace the officers and directors and wind up its affairs. The trustees shall have all the powers of the board, including the power to sell and convey real or personal property and execute conveyances. Within the time fixed in their designation, or any extension of that time, the trustees shall liquidate the association's assets, pay its debts and expenses, and distribute remaining funds among the members. Upon distribution of remaining assets the association shall stand dissolved and cease to exist. The trustees shall make and sign a duplicate report of the dissolution. One copy of the report shall be filed with the secretary of state and one copy of the report shall be filed with the recorder of the county where the articles were recorded.

4. The trustees and their successors in office shall be chosen, and the time for their action fixed and extended, by a majority of all votes cast at any meeting called for such purpose.

499.47A Sale or other disposition of assets in regular course of business and mortgage or pledge of assets.

The sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of the property and assets of a cooperative association, when made in the usual and regular course of the business of the cooperative association, and the mortgage or pledge of any or all of the property and assets of the cooperative association, may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other corporation or cooperative association, domestic or foreign, as authorized by its board of directors; and in such case no authorization or consent of the members shall be required.

499.47B Sale or other disposition of assets other than in regular course of business.

A sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets, with or without the good will, of a cooperative association organized under this chapter, if not made in the usual and regular course of its business, may be made upon the terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other cooperative association organized under this chapter, as may be authorized in the following manner:

1. The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of the membership, which may either be an annual or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members, and, whether the meeting be an annual or a special meeting, shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of substantially all of the property and assets of the cooperative association.

3. At the meeting the membership may authorize the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the consideration to be received by the cooperative association. Such authorization shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate.

4. After such authorization by a vote of members, the board of directors nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of assets, subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by the members.

87 Acts, ch 88, §2

499.47C Sale or other disposition of assets in exchange for common stock.

In addition to the requirements of section 499.47B, in any case where a cooperative association issues its common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, as a part or all of the consideration for the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of another cooperative association, the issuance of such common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, shall be authorized by the issuing cooperative association in the following manner:

1. The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending the issuance of the common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of the membership, which may be either an annual or special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings to members, and, whether the meeting be an annual or a special meeting, shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes of the meeting, is to consider

On dissolution or liquidation, the assets of the association shall be used to pay liquidation expenses first, next the association's obligations other than patronage dividends or patronage dividend certificates which it has issued, and the remainder shall be distributed in the following priority:

1. To pay to each person the full amount originally paid by that person in cash for stock or other equity interest in the association.

2. To pay to each person in proportion to the total of each person's revolving fund, stock, or other equity interest in the association remaining after the payment under subsection 1.

In applying subsections 1 and 2, all classes of stock, all revolving funds, and all other equity interests in the association shall be treated equally based on their stated values. However, an association may establish its own method of distributing the assets remaining, after paying liquidation expenses and obligations other than patronage dividends or patronage dividend certificates which it has issued, in articles of incorporation adopted, amended, or restated after July 1, 1986.

499.54  Foreign associations.

Any foreign corporation organized under generally similar laws of any other state shall be admitted to do business in Iowa upon compliance with the general laws relating to foreign corporations and payment of the same fees as would be required under section 490.122 if the foreign cooperative corporation is a foreign corporation for profit seeking authority to transact business in Iowa under chapter 490. Upon the secretary of state being satisfied that the foreign corporation is so organized and has so complied, the secretary shall issue a certificate authorizing the foreign corporation to do business in Iowa.

Such a foreign corporation thus admitted shall be entitled to all remedies provided in this chapter, and to enforce all contracts theretofore or thereafter made by the foreign corporation which any association might make under this chapter.

If such a foreign corporation amends its articles it shall forthwith file a copy of the amendment with the secretary of state, certified by the secretary or other proper official of the state under whose laws it is formed, and shall pay the fees prescribed for amendments by section 490.122. Foreign corporations shall also file statements and pay fees otherwise prescribed by section 490.122. [C35, §8512-g54; C39, §8512.54; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.54]

MERGER AND CONSOLIDATION

499.61 Definitions.

When used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Consolidation” means the uniting of two or more cooperative associations into one cooperative association, in such manner that a new cooperative association is formed, and the new cooperative association absorbs the others, which cease to exist as separate entities.

2. “Merger” means the uniting of two or more cooperative associations into one cooperative association, in such manner that one of the merging associations retains its corporate existence and absorbs the others, which cease to exist as corporate entities. “Merger” does not include the acquisition, by purchase or otherwise, of the assets of one cooperative association by another, unless the acquisition only becomes effective by the filing of articles of merger by the associations and the issuance of a certificate of merger pursuant to sections 499.67 and 499.68.

3. “New association” is the cooperative association resulting from the consolidation of two or more cooperative associations.

4. “Qualified corporation” means a corporation organized and existing under chapter 490, which is structured and operated on a cooperative basis pursuant to 26 U.S.C. § 1381(a)(2) and which meets the definitional requirements of an association as provided in 12 U.S.C. § 1141j(a) or 7 U.S.C. § 291.

5. “Qualified merger” means the uniting of one or more cooperative associations with one or more qualified corporations to form one cooperative association or qualified corporation, in such a manner that one entity participating in the merger continues to exist and absorbs the others, with the others ceasing to exist as cooperative or corporate entities.

6. “Qualified survivor” means the cooperative association or qualified corporation which continues to exist after a qualified merger.

7. “Surviving association” is the cooperative association resulting from the merger of two or more cooperative associations.

87 Acts, ch 88, §4; 97 Acts, ch 17, §7

499.62 Merger.
Any two or more cooperative associations may merge into one cooperative association in the following manner:

The board of directors of each cooperative association shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of merger which shall set forth:

1. The names of the cooperative associations proposing to merge and the name of the surviving association.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving association.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.62]

499.63 Consolidation.
Any two or more cooperative associations may be consolidated into a new cooperative association in the following manner:

The board of directors of each cooperative association shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the cooperative associations proposing to consolidate and the name of the new association.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. With respect to the new association, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for cooperative associations.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.

499.64 Vote of members.
The board of directors of a cooperative association, upon approving a plan of merger or consolidation, shall, by motion or resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members, which may be either an annual or special meeting. Written notice shall be given not less than twenty days prior to the meeting, either personally or by mail to each voting member and shareholder of record. The notice shall state the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, and a summary of the plan of merger or consolidation shall be included in or enclosed with the notice.

At the meeting, a ballot of the members who are entitled to vote in the affairs of the association shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate. Voting may be by mail ballot notwithstanding any contrary provision in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

499.65 Objection of members — purchase of shares upon demand.
If a voting member or voting shareholder of a cooperative association which is a party to a merger or consolidation files with the cooperative association, prior to or at the meeting of members at which the plan is submitted to a vote, a written objection to the plan of merger or consolidation, and votes in opposition to the plan, and the member or shareholder, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is approved by the other members, makes written demand on the surviving or new association for payment of the fair value of that member’s or shareholder’s interest as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new association shall pay to the member or shareholder, upon surrender of that person’s certificate of membership or shares of stock, the fair value of that person’s interest as provided in section 499.66. A member or shareholder who fails to make demand within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and is bound by its terms.

In the event that a dissenting member or shareholder does business with the surviving or new association before payment has been made for that person’s membership or stock, the dissenting member or shareholder is deemed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and to have waived all further rights as a dissenting member or shareholder.

499.66 Value determined.
1. As used in this section:
   a. “Dissenting member” means a voting member who votes in opposition to the plan of merger or consolidation and who makes a demand for payment of the fair value under section 499.65.
   b. “Old association” means the association in which the member owns or owned a membership.
   c. “New association” means the surviving or new association after the merger or consolidation.
   d. “Issue price” means the amount paid for an interest in the old association or the amount stated in a notice of allocation of patronage dividends.
   e. “Fair market value” means the cash price that would be paid by a willing buyer to a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell.
2. Within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the new association shall make a written offer to each dissenting member to pay a specified sum deemed by the new association to be the fair value of that dissenting member’s interest in the old association. This offer shall be accompanied by a balance sheet of the old association as of the latest available date, a profit and loss statement of the old association for the twelve-month period ending on the date of this balance sheet, and a list of the dissenting member’s interests in the old association. If the dissenting member does not agree that the sum stated in this notice represents the fair value of the member’s interest, then the member may file a written objection with the new association within twenty days after receiving this notice. A dissenting member may file this objection within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the fair value stated in the notice.

   If the surviving or new association receives any objections to fair values, then within ninety days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the new association shall file a petition in the Iowa district court asking for a finding and determination of the fair value of each type of equity. The action shall be prosecuted as an equitable action.

   The fair value of a dissenting member’s interest in the old association shall be determined as of the day preceding the merger or consolidation by taking the lesser of either the issue price of the dissenting member’s membership, common stock, deferred patronage dividends, and preferred stock, or the amount determined by subtracting the old association’s debts from the fair market value of the old association’s assets, dividing the remainder by the total issue price of all memberships, common stock, preferred stock, and revolving funds, and then multiplying the quotient from this division by the total issue price of a dissenting member’s membership, common stock, preferred stock, and revolving fund interest.
3. The new association shall pay to each dissenting member in cash within sixty days after the merger or consolidation the amount paid in cash by the dissenting member for that member’s interest in the old association. The new association shall pay the remainder of each dissenting member’s fair value in ten annual equal payments. The final payment must be made not later than fifteen years after the merger or consolidation. The value of the deferred patronage dividends and preferred stock shall be considered a liability of the new association as reflected in the accounts of the new association until the value of the patronage dividends or preferred stock is paid in full to the dissenting member. A dissenting member who is a natural person who dies before receiving the fair value shall have all of the person’s fair value paid with the same priority as if the person was a member at the time of death.

499.67 Articles of merger or consolidation.
Upon approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed by each cooperative association as provided in section 499.44. The articles must include the following:
1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. As to each cooperative association, the number of individuals or cooperative associations entitled to vote.
3. As to each cooperative association, the number of individuals or cooperative associations who voted for and against the plan at the meeting called for that purpose.

   The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

   The secretary of state, upon the filing of articles of merger or articles of consolidation, shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation, and send the certificate to the surviving or new association, or to its representative.

499.68 When effective — effect.
A merger or consolidation shall become effective upon the date that the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation is issued by the secretary of state, or the effective date specified in the articles of merger or articles of consolidation, whichever is later.

   When a merger or consolidation has become effective:
1. The several cooperative associations which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single cooperative association, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that cooperative asso-
§499.68, COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

1. One or more cooperative associations and one or more qualified corporations may participate in a qualified merger as provided in this section.

2. If the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of the laws of that state with respect to the qualifications of foreign cooperative associations if it is to transact business in that state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of that state:
   a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic cooperative association which is a party to the merger or consolidation, and in any proceeding for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any such domestic cooperative association, against the surviving or new association.
   b. An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any proceeding.
   c. An agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of any domestic cooperative association the amount to which they are entitled under the provisions of this division with respect to the rights of dissenters.

The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as the effect of the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, if the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of that state. If the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of any other state, the effect of merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, except as the laws of the other state otherwise provide.

499.69 Foreign and domestic mergers or consolidations.

One or more foreign cooperative associations and one or more domestic cooperative associations may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, if such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each foreign cooperative association is organized:

1. Each domestic cooperative association shall comply with the provisions of this division with respect to the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, and each foreign cooperative association shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

   a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic cooperative association which is a party to the merger or consolidation, and in any proceeding for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any such domestic cooperative association, against the surviving or new association.
   b. An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any proceeding.
   c. An agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of any domestic cooperative association the amount to which they are entitled under the provisions of this division with respect to the rights of dissenters.

The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as the effect of the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, if the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of that state. If the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of any other state, the effect of merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, except as the laws of the other state otherwise provide.

and qualified corporation must approve a written plan of qualified merger.

a. The plan shall set forth all of the following:
   (1) The name of each cooperative association and qualified corporation participating in the qualified merger, and the name of the qualified survivor.
   (2) The terms and conditions of the qualified merger.
   (3) The manner and basis of converting the interests, including shares or other securities, and obligations in each nonsurviving cooperative association or qualified corporation into the interests and obligations of the qualified survivor.
   (4) Any amendments to the articles of incorporation of the qualified survivor as are desired to be effected by the qualified merger, or a statement that no amendment is desired.
   (5) The date that the qualified merger becomes effective, if the date is different than the date when a certificate of merger is to be issued for a cooperative association, or if the date is different than the date when the articles of merger are filed with the secretary of state for a qualified corporation.
   (6) Other provisions relating to the qualified merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

b. A proposed plan for a qualified merger complying with the requirements of this section shall be approved as follows:
   (1) For a cooperative association which is a party to the proposed qualified merger, the cooperative association shall approve the plan as provided in this chapter.
   (2) For a qualified corporation which is a party to the proposed qualified merger, the qualified corporation shall approve the plan as provided in chapter 490.
   c. After the proposed plan for the qualified merger is approved, a cooperative association or qualified corporation may abandon the merger in the manner provided in the plan, prior to the filing of the articles of merger.

3. After a proposed plan of the qualified merger is approved, the qualified survivor shall deliver articles of merger for the qualified merger to the secretary of state for filing. The articles of merger shall be executed by each cooperative association and qualified corporation which is a party to the qualified merger. The articles of merger shall set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of each cooperative association and qualified corporation which is a party to the qualified merger.
   b. The plan for the qualified merger.
   c. The effective date of the qualified merger, if later than the date of filing the articles of merger.
   d. The name of the qualified survivor.
   e. A statement that the plan for the qualified merger was approved by each participating cooperative association and qualified corporation in a manner required for the cooperative association and qualified corporation as provided in this section.

4. For a surviving cooperative association, a qualified merger becomes effective upon the filing of the articles of merger with the secretary of state and the issuance of a certificate of merger pursuant to section 499.68 or the date stated in the articles of merger, whichever is later. For a surviving qualified corporation, a qualified merger becomes effective upon the filing of the articles of merger with the secretary of state pursuant to section 490.1106 or the date stated in the articles, whichever is later.

5. The effect of a qualified merger for a qualified survivor which is a cooperative association shall be as provided for in this chapter. The effect of a qualified merger for a qualified survivor which is a qualified corporation shall be as provided for corporations under chapter 490.

6. The provisions governing the right of a shareholder or member of a cooperative association to object to a merger or the right of a member to dissent and obtain payment of the fair value of an interest in the cooperative association in the case of a merger as provided in this chapter shall apply to a qualified merger. The provisions governing the right of a shareholder of a corporation to dissent from and obtain payment of the fair value of the shareholder’s shares in the case of a merger as provided in division XIII of chapter 490 shall apply to a qualified merger.

7. A foreign cooperative association may participate in a qualified merger as provided in this section, if the foreign cooperative association complies with the requirements for a cooperative association under this section and the requirements for a foreign cooperative association under section 499.69. A foreign corporation may participate in a qualified merger as provided in this section if it complies with the requirements of a qualified corporation under this section and the requirements for a foreign corporation under section 490.1102.

REGISTERED OFFICE AND REGISTERED AGENT

499.72 Registered office and registered agent.
Each association must continuously maintain in this state both of the following:
1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.
2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:
   a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   c. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

499.73 Change of registered office or registered agent.
1. An association may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the association.
   b. The street address of its current registered office.
   c. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.
   d. The name of its current registered agent.
   e. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent’s written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

4. An association may also appoint or change its registered office or registered agent in its biennial report.

93 Acts, ch 126, §20; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §10

499.74 Resignation of registered agent.
1. A registered agent may resign the agent’s agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original and two exact or conformed copies of a statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued.

2. After filing the statement the secretary of state shall mail one copy to the registered office, if not discontinued, and the other copy to the association at its principal office.

93 Acts, ch 126, §21

499.75 Service on association.
1. An association’s registered agent is the association’s agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the association.

2. If an association has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the association may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the association at its principal office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of any of the following:
   a. The date the association receives the mail.
   b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the association.
   c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

3. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving an association.

93 Acts, ch 126, §22

ADMINISTRATIVE DISSOLUTION

499.76 Grounds for administrative dissolution.
The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 499.77 to administratively dissolve an association if any of the following apply:
1. The association has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 499.49, within sixty days after it is due.
2. The association is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.
3. The association does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.
4. The association’s period of duration stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

499.79 Statement to estate of members and stockholders.
The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of the death of a member or stockholder, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the member’s or stockholder’s estate, or to the attorney representing such estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the member or stockholder which are in the possession of the association.
This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its members or stockholders. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the member’s or stockholder’s death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the member’s or stockholder’s estate is closed, whichever is later.
91 Acts, ch 230, §3

499.80 Member information.
If a member of a cooperative association intends to distribute information to other members of a cooperative association and the member does not have a list of the members of the cooperative association, the member may request the board of directors to distribute the information for the member.
The board of directors shall adopt a policy which permits the distribution of materials or information to members of a cooperative association by request of a member when the purpose of the request concerns directly the action of the board of directors of the cooperative association.
The board of directors shall distribute for a member such material or information requested, provided that the board of directors may charge the member for the mailing costs incurred by the cooperative association in distributing the information.
Cooperative associations subject to regulation under chapter 476 are exempt from the provisions of this section.

SUBCHAPTER I

499A.1 Articles.
Any two or more persons of full age, a majority of whom are citizens of the state, may organize themselves for the following or similar purposes: Ownership of residential, business property on a cooperative basis. A corporation is a person within the meaning of this chapter. The organizers shall adopt, and sign and acknowledge the articles of incorporation, stating the name by which the cooperative shall be known, the location of its principal place of business, its business or objects, the number of directors to conduct the cooperative’s business or objects, the names of the directors for the first year, the time of the cooperative’s annual meeting, the time of the annual meeting of its directors, and the manner in which the articles may be amended. The articles of incorporation shall be filed with the secretary of state who shall, if the secretary approves the articles, endorse the secretary of state’s approval on the articles, record the articles, and forward the articles to the county recorder of the county where the principal place of business is to be located, and there the articles shall be recorded, and upon recording be returned to the cooperative. The articles shall not be filed by the secretary of state until a filing fee of five dollars together with a recording fee of fifty cents per page is paid, and upon the payment of the fees and the approval of the articles by the secretary of state, the secretary shall issue to the cooperative a certificate of incorporation as a cooperative not for pecuniary profit.

Amendments to the articles shall be filed and receive approval as provided in this chapter for articles, and the fee for amendments shall be five dollars in each instance. An amendment is not effective until the amendment is approved and the fee is paid.

499A.2 Powers — duration.

Upon filing such articles the persons signing and acknowledging the same and their associates and successors shall become a body corporate with the name therein stated and shall have power:
1. To have perpetual succession by its name, unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation, or they are sooner dissolved by three-fourths vote of all the members thereof, or by act of the general assembly or by operations of law.
2. To sue and be sued in its corporate name.
3. To build and construct apartment houses or dwellings.
4. To purchase, take, receive, lease as lessee, take by gift, devise or bequest, or otherwise acquire, and to own, hold, use and otherwise deal in and with any real or personal property or any interest therein.
5. To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease as lessor, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.
6. To make contracts and incur liabilities which may be appropriate to enable it to accomplish any or all of its purposes; to borrow money for its corporate purposes at such rates of interest as the cooperative may determine, to issue its notes, bonds and other obligations; and to secure any of its obligations by mortgage, pledge, or deed of trust of all or any of its property.
7. To elect or appoint officers and agents of the cooperative, and to define their duties and fix their compensation.
8. To make and alter bylaws not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for the administration and the regulation of the affairs of the cooperative.
9. To cease its cooperative activities and surrender its cooperative franchise.
10. To have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the cooperative is organized.

499A.2A Bylaws.

The initial bylaws of the cooperative shall be adopted by the cooperative’s board of directors. Prior to the admission of members to the cooperative, the power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors. Following the admission of members to the cooperative, the power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws is vested in the members in accordance with the method set forth in the bylaws.

The bylaws may contain any provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of the cooperative not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation. However, the bylaws must provide for:
1. The number of members of the board of directors and the term of the members.
2. The election of a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary by the board of directors.
3. The qualifications, powers and duties, terms of office, and manner of electing and removing board members and officers and filling vacancies of such members.
4. The method of amending the bylaws.

499A.3A Meetings of members.

Meetings of members may be held at such places as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, or as may be fixed from time to time in accordance with the provisions of the articles or §499A.3B Notice of members meetings.

Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, written notice stating the place, day, and hour of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered no less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each member entitled to vote at the meeting. If mailed, notice is deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member at the member’s address as it appears on the records of the cooperative, with postage prepaid.

§499A.3C Voting.

Each member is entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the members. A membership interest in the cooperative jointly owned by two or more persons is nevertheless entitled to one vote.

A member entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy in the manner prescribed in the bylaws.

91 Acts, ch 30, §10

§499A.4 Dividends.

A dividend or distribution of property among the members shall not be made until dissolution of the cooperative.

§499A.5 Trustees or managers. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, § 17, 18.

499A.7 Reorganizing prior to expiration of term.

The directors or members of any cooperative organized under this chapter may reorganize the cooperative, and all the property and rights of the cooperative shall vest in the cooperative as reorganized.

499A.8 Reorganizing after expiration of term.

When the term of a cooperative organized under this chapter has expired, but the organization has continued to act as such cooperative, the directors or members thereof may reorganize, and the property and rights therein shall vest in the reorganized cooperative for the use and benefit of all of the members in the original cooperative.

499A.9 Amendments of articles.

Any cooperative organized under this chapter may change its name or amend its articles of incorporation by a vote of a majority of the members, in such manner as may be provided in its articles; but if no such provision is made in the articles the same may be amended at any regular meeting or special meeting called for that purpose by the president or secretary or a majority of the board of directors. Notice of any meeting at which it is proposed to amend the articles of incorporation, shall be given by mailing to each member at the member’s last known post-office address at least ten days prior to such meeting; a notice signed by the secretary setting forth the proposed amendments in substance, or by two publications of said notice in some daily or weekly newspaper in general circulation in the county wherein said cooperative has its principal place of business. The last publication of said notice shall be not less than ten days prior to the date of said meeting. There shall be paid to the secretary of state at the time of the filing of such change or amendment a recording fee of fifty cents per page.

499A.10 Record — effect.

The change or amendment provided for in section 499A.9 shall be recorded as the original articles are recorded. From the date of filing such change or amendment for record, the provisions of said section having been complied with, the change or amendment shall take effect as a part of the original articles, and the cooperative thus constituted shall have the same rights, powers and franchises, be entitled to the same immunities, and liable upon all contracts to the same extent, as before such change or amendment.

§ 499A.18. Homestead. Each individual apartment constitutes a homestead and is exempt from execution, provided the member otherwise qualifies within the laws of the state of Iowa for such exemption.

§ 499A.22. Lien for assessments. 1. The cooperative has a lien on a member’s interest in the cooperative for all operating charges or other assessments payable by the member pursuant to the member’s proprietary lease from the time the operating charge or other assessment becomes due. If carrying charges and assessments are payable in installments, the full amount of the charge or assessment is a lien from the first time the first installment becomes due. Upon nonpayment of a carrying charge or assessment, the member may be evicted from the member’s apartment unit in the same manner as provided by law in the case of an unlawful holdover by a tenant and the lien may be foreclosed by judicial sale in like manner as a mortgage on real estate, or may be foreclosed by the power of sale provided in this section.

A lien under this section is prior to all other liens and encumbrances on a member’s cooperative interest except liens and encumbrances on the cooperative’s real property which the cooperative creates, assumes, or takes subject to, and liens for real estate taxes and other governmental assessments or charges against the cooperative or the member’s cooperative interest.

2. The cooperative, upon a member’s nonpayment of carrying charges and assessments and the cooperative’s compliance with this section, may sell the defaulting member’s cooperative interest. Sale may be at a public sale or by private negotiation, and at any time and place, but every aspect of the sale, including the method, advertising, time, place, and terms must be reasonable. The cooperative shall give to the member and any sublessees of the member reasonable written notice of the time and place of a public sale or, if a private sale is intended, of the intention of entering into a contract to sell and of the time after which a private disposition may be made. The same notice shall also be sent to any other person who has a recorded interest in the defaulting member’s cooperative interest which would be extinguished by the sale. The notices required by this paragraph may be sent to any address reasonable under the circumstances. Sale may not be held until five weeks after the sending of the notice. The cooperative may buy at a public sale, and, if the sale is conducted by a fiduciary or other person not related to the cooperative, at a private sale.

3. The proceeds of a sale under the preceding paragraph shall be applied in the following order:
   a. The reasonable expenses of sale.
   b. The reasonable expenses of securing possession before sale, and the reasonable expenses of holding, maintaining, and preparing the cooperative interest for sale. These expenses include, but are not limited to, the payment of taxes and other governmental charges, premiums on liability insurance, and to the extent provided for by agreement between the cooperative and the member, reasonable attorneys’ fees and other legal expenses incurred by the cooperative.
   c. Satisfaction of the cooperative’s lien.
   d. Satisfaction in the order of priority of any subordinate claim of record.
   e. Remittance of any excess to the member. Unless otherwise agreed, the member is liable for any deficiency.
4. If a cooperative interest is sold pursuant to this section, a good faith purchaser for value acquires the member’s interest in the cooperative free of the debt that gave rise to the lien under which the sale occurred, and free of any subordinate interest.
5. At any time before the cooperative has disposed of the cooperative interest or entered into a contract for its disposition under the power of sale, the member or the holder of any subordinate security interest may cure the member’s default and prevent sale or other disposition by tendering the performance due, including any amounts due arising from the exercise of the rights under this section, plus the reasonable expenses of proceeding to foreclosure incurred to the time of tender, including reasonable attorneys’ fees of the creditor.
6. The property of a member other than the member’s membership interest in the cooperative is not subject to claims of the cooperative’s creditors, whether or not the member’s membership interest is subject to those claims.

As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Advisor” means a member of the association’s advisory committee.
2. “Association” means a low-income sweat equity housing cooperative association created pursuant to this subchapter.
3. “Authority” means a local housing authority created pursuant to section 499A.102.
4. “Low income” means the income of “very low income families” as defined in section 16.1, subsection 40.
5. “Partner” means a low-income sweat equity member of the association, and member of the sweat equity partners’ committee.
6. “Sweat equity” means any contribution made by a partner to the operations of the association, including but not limited to physical labor.

90 Acts, ch 1120, §1
499A.102 Local housing authority.
1. A local housing authority may be created to encourage and assist the formation of housing cooperatives under this chapter. The following persons are authorized to form an authority, separately, or in combination with other authorized persons:
   a. A city.
   b. A county.
   c. A nonprofit community organization.
   d. A nonprofit religious organization.
2. The local housing authority shall be funded from the following sources:
   a. State grants, loans, or other appropriations administered by the Iowa finance authority.
   b. Funds solicited from third parties by the local housing authority.
   c. Local government appropriations to the local housing authority.
   d. Any other available sources, including but not limited to bequests, devises, and federal monies.
3. The Iowa finance authority may provide assistance for initial organization of local housing authorities.
   90 Acts, ch 1120, §2

499A.103 Low-income participants.
The local housing authority shall recruit low-income persons to participate as sweat equity partners in a housing cooperative association organized by the local housing authority.
   90 Acts, ch 1120, §3

499A.104 Sweat equity housing cooperative association.
1. The local housing authority may form one or more sweat equity housing cooperative associations under this chapter. A sweat equity housing cooperative association shall operate as a multiple housing cooperative association under subchapter I, except as specifically provided otherwise under this subchapter.
2. A sweat equity housing cooperative association shall meet the following additional conditions:
   a. A sweat equity partners' committee shall be established, with each partner entitled to one vote on the committee.
   b. The sweat equity committee shall hold twenty-five percent of the stock of the association upon incorporation of the association.
   c. An advisory committee shall be established, made up of equity investors, skill contributors, and other community representatives including, but not limited to:
      (1) Tradesperson volunteers.
      (2) Community college trade representatives and business educators.
      (3) Financial and legal advisors to association management.
   d. The advisory committee shall hold seventy-five percent of the stock of the association upon incorporation of the association.
3. The association shall be controlled by the board of directors, with representation of partners and advisors on the board proportional to each group's equity interest at the time of the last election of directors to the board.
4. An association shall do all of the following:
   a. Acquire existing housing or small business building stock in need of rehabilitation.
   b. Establish a rehabilitation plan, which shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following elements:
      (1) Statement of purpose.
      (2) Financial plan.
      (3) Construction timetable.
      (4) Materials schedule.
      (5) Construction training program schedule for partners. If a contract is executed with a person to perform skilled labor or to supervise skilled work, the person must be certified by an organization recognized as representing a membership of persons with common skills.
   c. Establish a program to ensure that partners are equipped with skills necessary for full participation in society.
   d. Encourage participation by partners in the activities of the community.

499A.105 Association financing.
1. Organizational and construction phase. Upon incorporation, and after adoption of a rehabilitation plan pursuant to section 499A.104, the association may apply to the Iowa finance authority or other sources for financial assistance. The Iowa finance authority shall review the rehabilitation plan, and subject to the availability of monies, may approve for the association state grants, loans, or other appropriations administered by the Iowa finance authority.
2. Stock transfer. Advisory committee stock shall be transferred to the partners' committee for distribution to partners in accordance with the terms of the rehabilitation plan contract.
3. Operational phase. Upon completion of the rehabilitation plan and implementation of the contract, the association shall be wholly owned by partners. The partners shall rent space only to other association partners. New partners may be admitted subject to completion of required partner training programs and sweat equity contributions, as required by the association's bylaws.
Partners shall make mortgage payments in proportion to their equity interest in the property, with total payments sufficient to repay the mortgage loan, maintain the property, and accumulate a capital reserve fund for future repairs and improvements. The capital reserve fund and enforcement of partner obligations is the responsibility of the board of directors.

CHAPTER 499B
HORIZONTAL PROPERTY (CONDOMINIUMS)

499B.1 Short title.
This chapter shall be known as the “Horizontal Property Act.”
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.1]

499B.2 Definitions.
Unless it is plainly evident from the context that a different meaning is intended, as used herein:
1. “Apartment” means one or more rooms occupying all or a part of a floor or floors in a building of one or more floors or stories and notwithstanding whether the apartment be intended for use or used as a residence, office, for the operation of any industry or business or for any other use not prohibited by law.
2. “Building” means and includes one or more buildings, whether attached to one or more buildings or unattached; provided, however, that if there is more than one building, all such buildings shall be described and included in the declaration, or an amendment thereto, and comprise an integral part of a single horizontal property regime.
3. “Co-owner” means a person, corporation, or other legal entity capable of holding or owning any interest in real property who owns all or an interest in an apartment within the building.
4. “Council of co-owners” means all the co-owners of the building. The business and affairs of the council of co-owners may be conducted by organizing a corporation not for pecuniary profit of which the co-owners are members.
5. “General common elements”, unless otherwise provided in the declaration or lawful amendments thereto, means and includes:
  a. The land on which the building is erected.
  b. The foundations, basements, floors, exterior walls of each apartment and of the building, ceilings and roofs, halls, lobbies, stairways, and entrances and exits or communication ways, elevators, garbage incinerators and in general all devices or installations existing for common use.
  c. Compartments or installations of central services for public utilities, common heating and refrigeration units, reservoirs, water tanks and pumps servicing other than one apartment.
  d. Premises for lodging of service personnel engaged in performing services other than services within a single apartment.
6. “Limited common elements” means and in-

HORIZONTAL PROPERTY (CONDOMINIUMS), §499B.6

includes those common elements which are specified in or determined under the declaration to be reserved for the use of one or more apartments to the exclusion of the other apartments, such as special corridors, stairways and elevators, sanitary services common to the apartments of a particular floor, and the like.

7. “Majority of co-owners” or “percent of co-owners” means the owners of more than one-half or owners of that percent of interest in the building irrespective of the total number of co-owners.

8. “Property” includes the land whether committed to the horizontal property regime in fee or as a leasehold interest, the building, all other improvements located thereon, and all easements, rights and appurtenances belonging thereto.

9. All pronouns used herein include the male, female and neuter genders and include the singular or plural numbers, as the case may be.

499B.3 Recording of declaration to submit property to regime.

When the sole owner or all of the owners, or the sole lessee or all of the lessees of a lease desire to submit a parcel of real property upon which a building is located or to be constructed to the horizontal property regime established by this chapter, a declaration to that effect shall be executed and acknowledged by the sole owner or lessee or all of such owners or lessees and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such property lies.

If the declaration is to convert an existing structure, the declarant shall file the declaration of the horizontal property regime with the city in which the regime is located or with the county if not located within a city at least sixty days before being recorded in the office of the county recorder to enable the city or county, as applicable, to establish that the converted structure meets appropriate building code requirements as provided in section 499B.20. However, if the city or county, as applicable, does not have a building code, the declarant shall file the declaration with the state building code commissioner instead of the applicable city or county at least sixty days before the recording of the declaration to enable the commissioner to establish that the converted structure meets the state building code, as adopted pursuant to section 103A.7.

Unnumbered paragraph 2 amended]

499B.4 Contents of declaration.

The declaration provided for in section 499B.3 shall contain:

1. A description of the land.
2. A description of the building, stating the number of stories and basements, the number of apartments and the principal materials of which it is or is to be constructed.
3. The apartment number of each apartment, and a statement of its location, approximate area, number of rooms, an immediate common area to which it has access, and any other data necessary for its proper identification.
4. A description of the general common elements and facilities.
5. A description of the limited common elements and facilities, if any, stating to which apartments their use is reserved.
6. The fractional or percentage interest which each apartment bears to the entire horizontal property regime. The sum of such shall be one if expressed in fractions and one hundred if expressed in percentage.
7. The provision as to the percentage of votes by the apartment owners which shall be determinative of whether to rebuild, repair, restore, or sell the property in the event of damage or destruction of all or part of the property.
8. Any further details in connection with the property which the person executing the declaration may deem desirable to set forth consistent with this chapter.
9. The method by which the declaration may be amended, consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.4]

499B.5 Contents of deeds of apartments.

Deeds of apartments shall include the following particulars:

1. Description of land as provided in section 499B.4, including the book, page and date of recording of the declaration.
2. The apartment number of the apartment in the declaration and any other data necessary for its proper identification.
3. The percentage of undivided interest appertaining to the apartment in the common areas and facilities.
4. Any further details which the grantor and grantee may deem desirable to set forth consistent with the declaration and this chapter.

499B.6 Copy of the floor plans to be filed.

There shall be attached to the declaration, at the time it is filed, a full and an exact copy of the plans of the building, which copy shall be entered of record along with the declaration. The plans shall show graphically all particulars of the building including, but not limited to, the dimensions, area and location of common elements affording access to each apartment. Other common elements, both limited and general, shall be shown graphically insofar as possible and shall be certified to by an engineer, architect, or land surveyor, either of which §499B.7 Interest in common elements — reference to them in instrument.
1. The fractional or percentage interest in the general common elements and the fractional or percentage interest in the limited common elements where such exist are hereby declared to be appurtenant to each of the separate apartments.
2. Any conveyance, encumbrance, lien, alienation or devise of an apartment under a horizontal property regime by any instrument which describes the land and apartment as set forth in section 499B.4, shall also convey, encumber, alienate, devise or be a lien upon the fractional or percentage interest appurtenant to each such apartment under section 499B.4, subsection 6, to the general common elements, and the respective share or percentage interest to limited common elements where applicable, whether such general common elements or limited common elements are described as in section 499B.4, subsections 4 and 5, by general reference only, or not at all.

§499B.8 Removal from provisions of this chapter.
1. All of the apartment owners may remove a property from the provisions of this chapter by an instrument to that effect, duly recorded, provided that the holders of all liens affecting any of the apartments consent thereto or agree, in either case by instruments duly recorded, that their liens be transferred to the percentage of the undivided interest of the apartment owner in the property as hereinafter provided.
2. Upon removal of the property from the provisions of this chapter, the property shall be deemed to be owned in common by the apartment owners. The undivided interest in the property owned in common which shall appertain to each apartment owner shall be the percentage of undivided interest previously owned by such owner in the common area and facilities.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.8]

§499B.9 Removal no bar to subsequent resubmission.
The removal provided for in section 499B.8 shall in no way bar the subsequent resubmission of the property to the provisions of this chapter.

§499B.10 Individual apartments and interest in common elements are alienable.
When real property containing a building is committed to a horizontal property regime, each individual apartment located in the building and the interests in the general common elements and limited common elements if any, appurtenant thereto, shall constitute for all purposes a separate parcel of real property and shall be as completely and freely alienable as any separate parcel of real property is or may be under the laws of this state, except as limited by the provisions of this chapter.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.10]

§499B.11 Real property tax and special assessments — levy on each apartment.
1. All real property taxes and special assessments shall be assessed and levied on each apartment and its respective appurtenant fractional share or percentage of the land, general common elements and limited common elements where applicable as these apartments and appurtenances are separately owned, and not on the entire horizontal property regime. The fair market value determined for an apartment includes the value of its appurtenant share or percentage of the land, general common elements, and limited common elements.
2. Any exemption from taxes that may exist on real property or the ownership thereof shall not be denied by virtue of the registration of the property under the provisions of this chapter.

§499B.12 Liens against apartments — removal from lien — effect of part payment.
1. Subsequent to recording the declaration provided for in section 499B.3, and while the property remains enrolled in a horizontal property regime, no lien shall thereafter arise or be effective against the property. During such period liens or encumbrances shall arise or be created only against the individual apartment and the general common elements and limited common elements where applicable, appurtenant to such apartment, in the same manner and under the same conditions in every respect as liens or encumbrances may arise or be created upon or against any other separate parcel of real property subject to individual ownership.
2. In the event a lien against two or more apartments becomes effective, the owners of the separate apartments may remove their apartment and the general common elements and limited common elements where applicable appurtenant to such apartment from the lien by payment of the fractional or proportional amounts attributable to each of the apartments affected. Such individual payments shall be computed by reference to the fractions or percentages appearing on the declaration provided for in section 499B.4, subsection 6. Subsequent to any such payment, discharge or other satisfaction the individual apartment and the general common elements and limited common elements applicable appurtenant thereto shall thereafter be free and clear of the lien so paid, satisfied or discharged. Such partial payment, satisfaction or discharge shall not prevent the lienor from proceeding to enforce the lienor's rights against any apartment and the general common elements, limited common elements where applicable appurtenant thereto not so paid, satisfied or discharged.

499B.13 Limitation upon availability of partition — exception as to limitation of partition by joint ownership.

1. The provisions of chapter 651, relating to partition of real property shall not be available to any owner of any interest in real property included within a regime established under this chapter as against any other owner or owners of any interest or interests in the same regime, so as to terminate the regime.

2. Nothing contained in the chapter shall be construed as a limitation on partition by joint owners of one or more apartments in a regime as to individual ownership of such apartment or apartments without terminating the regime, or as to ownership of such apartment or apartments and lands outside the limits of the regime.

499B.14 Bylaws.

The administration of every property shall be governed by bylaws, a true copy of which shall be annexed to the declaration and made a part thereof. No modification of or amendment to the bylaws shall be valid unless set forth in an amendment to the declaration and such amendment is duly recorded.

499B.15 Contents of bylaws.

The bylaws must provide for at least the following:

1. The form of administration, indicating whether this shall be in charge of an administrator or of a board of administration, or otherwise, and specifying the powers, manner of removal, and, where proper, the compensation thereof.

2. Method of calling or summoning the co-owners to assemble; what percentage, if other than a majority of apartment owners, shall constitute a quorum; who is to preside over the meeting and who will keep the minute book wherein the resolutions shall be recorded.

3. Maintenance, repair and replacement of the common areas and facilities and payments therefor including the method of approving payment vouchers.

4. Manner of collecting from the apartment owners their share of the common expenses.

5. Designation and removal of personnel necessary for the maintenance, repair and replacement of the common areas and facilities.

6. The percentage of votes required to amend the bylaws.

499B.16 Disposition of property — destruction or damage.

If within thirty days of the date of the damage or destruction to all or part of the property, it is not determined by the council of co-owners to repair, reconstruct or rebuild, then and in that event:

1. The property shall be deemed to be owned in common by the apartment owners.

2. The undivided interest in the property owned in common which shall appertain to each apartment owner shall be the percentage of undivided interest previously owned by such owner in the common areas and facilities.

3. Any liens affecting any of the apartments shall be deemed to be transferred in accordance with the existing priorities to the percentage of the undivided interest of the apartment owner in the property as provided herein; and

4. The property shall be subject to an action for partition at the suit of any apartment owner, in which event the net proceeds of sale, together with the net proceeds of the insurance on the property, if any, shall be considered as one fund and shall be divided among all the apartment owners in a percentage equal to the percentage of undivided interest owned by each owner in the property, after first paying out of the respective shares of the apartment owners, to the extent sufficient for the purpose, all liens on the undivided interest in the property owned by each apartment owner.

499B.17 Lien against owner of unit.

All sums assessed by the council of co-owners but unpaid for the share of the common expenses chargeable to any apartment shall constitute a lien on such apartment prior to all other liens except only (1) tax liens on the apartment in favor of any assessing unit and special district, and (2) all sums unpaid on a first mortgage of record. Such lien may be foreclosed by suit by the council of co-owners or the representatives thereof, acting on behalf of the apartment owners, in like manner as a mortgage of real property. In the event of any such foreclosure, the apartment owner shall be required to pay a reasonable rental for the apartment if so provided in the bylaws, and the plaintiff in such foreclosure shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver to collect the same. The council of co-owners or the representatives thereof, acting on behalf of the apartment owners, shall have power, unless prohibited by the declaration, to bid in the apartment at foreclosure sale, and to acquire and hold, lease, mortgage and convey the same. Suit to recover a money judgment for unpaid common expenses shall be maintainable without foreclosing or waiving the lien securing the same.

499B.18 Common expenses before foreclosure.
Where the mortgagee of a first mortgage of record or other purchaser of an apartment obtains title to the apartment as a result of foreclosure of the first mortgage, such acquirer of title, the acquirer's successors and assigns, shall not be liable for the share of the common expenses or assessments by the council of co-owners chargeable to such apartment which became due prior to the acquisition of title to such apartment by such acquirer. Such unpaid share of common expenses or assessments shall be deemed to be common expenses collectible from all of the apartment owners including such acquirer, the acquirer's successors and assigns.

499B.19 Common expenses after voluntary conveyance.
In a voluntary conveyance the grantee of an apartment shall be jointly and severally liable with the grantor for all unpaid assessments against the latter for the grantor's share of the common expenses up to the time of the grant or conveyance, without prejudice to the grantor's right to recover from the grantor the amounts paid by the grantee therefor. However, any such grantee shall be entitled to a statement from the council of co-owners or its representatives, setting forth the amount of the unpaid assessments against the grantor and such grantee shall not be liable for, nor shall the apartment conveyed be subject to a lien for, any unpaid assessments against the grantor in excess of the amount therein set forth.

499B.20 Conversions to meet building codes.
After April 25, 2000, an existing structure shall not be converted to a horizontal property regime unless the converted structure meets local city or county, as applicable, building code requirements in effect on the date of conversion or the state building code requirements, as adopted pursuant to section 103A.7, if the local city or county does not have a building code. For purposes of this section, if the structure is located in a city, the city building code applies and if the structure is located in the unincorporated area of the county, the county building code applies.

CHAPTER 500
COLLECTIVE MARKETING

500.1 Authorization.
Persons engaged in the conduct of any agricultural, horticultural, dairy, livestock, mercantile, mining, or manufacturing business in the manner provided in section 500.3 may act together in associations, corporate or otherwise, for the purpose of collectively producing, processing, preparing for market, handling, and marketing the products of their members. Such persons may organize and operate such associations, and such associations may make the necessary contracts and agreements to effect that purpose, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

500.3 Applicability of chapter.
The provisions of this chapter shall apply:
1. To corporations organized under the provisions of chapter 497.
2. To other incorporated associations or companies organized without capital stock, not for pecuniary profit and for the mutual benefit of their members.

For purposes of this subsection, “not for pecuniary profit” includes but is not necessarily limited to an incorporated association organized to assist its members to make profits for themselves as producers by the means authorized in section 500.1, but not to make income or profit for distribution to its members, directors, or officers, except as provided in chapter 504 or 504A.

PART 4
DEPOSIT OF ASSETS

501.101 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:
1. “Articles” means the cooperative's articles of association.
2. “Authorized person” means a person who is one of the following:
   a. A farming entity.
   b. A person who owns at least one hundred fifty acres of agricultural land and receives as rent a share of the crops or the animals raised on the land if that person is a natural person or a general partnership as organized under chapter 486, Code 1999, or chapter 486A in which all partners are natural persons.
   c. An employee of the cooperative who performs at least one thousand hours of service for the cooperative in each calendar year.
3. “Board” means the cooperative’s board of directors.
4. “Cooperative” means a cooperative association organized under this chapter or converted to 501.102 Purposes and powers.

1. A cooperative organized under this chapter has the purpose of engaging in any lawful business unless a more limited purpose is set forth in the articles.

2. Unless its articles provide otherwise, a cooperative has perpetual duration and succession in its cooperative name and has the same powers as an individual to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out its business and affairs, including, but not limited to, all of the following:
   a. Sue and be sued, complain, and defend in its name.
   b. Have a seal, which may be altered at will, and use it, or a facsimile of it, by impressing or affixing it or in any other manner reproducing it.
   c. Make and amend bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of association or with the laws of this state, for managing the business and regulating the affairs of the cooperative.
   d. Purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, and own, hold, improve, use, and otherwise deal with, real or personal property, or any legal or equitable interest in property, wherever located.
   e. Sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property.
   f. Purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and deal in and with shares or other interests in, or obligations of, any other entity.
   g. Make contracts and guarantees, incur liabilities, borrow money, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, which may be convertible into or include the option to purchase other interests of the cooperative, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of any of its property, franchises, or income.
   h. Lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and receive and hold real and personal property as security for repayment.
   i. Be a promoter, partner, member, associate, or manager of any partnership, joint venture, trust, or other entity.
   j. Conduct its business, locate offices, and exercise the powers granted by this chapter within or without this state.
   k. Elect directors and appoint officers, employees, and agents of the cooperative, define their duties, fix their compensation, and lend them money and credit.
   l. Pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit-sharing plans, bonus plans, and benefit or incentive plans for any or all of its current or former directors, officers, employees, and agents.
   m. Make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.
   n. Transact any lawful business that will aid governmental policy.
   o. Make payments or donations, or do any other act, not inconsistent with law, that furthers the business and affairs of the cooperative.

501.103 Permissible members — limited farming activities.

1. Notwithstanding section 9H.4, any person or entity, subject to the limitations set forth in section 501.305, and subject to the cooperative's articles and bylaws, is permitted to own interests, including voting interests, in a cooperative.

2. Notwithstanding section 9H.4, a cooperative may, directly or indirectly, acquire or otherwise obtain or lease agricultural land in this state, for as long as the cooperative continues to meet the following requirements:
   a. Farming entities own sixty percent of the interests and are eligible to cast sixty percent of the votes at member meetings.
   b. Authorized persons own at least seventy-five percent of the interests and are eligible to cast at least seventy-five percent of the votes at member meetings.
   c. The cooperative does not, either directly or indirectly, acquire or otherwise obtain or lease agricultural land, if the total agricultural land either directly or indirectly owned or leased by the cooperative would then exceed six hundred forty acres.
3. A cooperative that claims that it is exempt from the restrictions of section 9H.4 pursuant to subsection 2 shall file an annual report with the secretary of state on or before March 31 of each year on forms supplied by the secretary of state. The report shall be signed by the president or the vice president of the cooperative and shall contain the following:
   a. The cooperative’s name and address.
   b. A certification that the cooperative meets both of the requirements of subsection 2.
   c. The number of acres of agricultural land owned, leased, or held by the cooperative, including the following:
      (1) The total number of acres in the state.
      (2) The number of acres in each county identified by county name.
      (3) The number of acres owned.
      (4) The number of acres leased.
      (5) The number of acres held other than by ownership or lease.
      (6) The number of acres used for the production of row crops.
4. The president or the vice president of the cooperative who falsifies a report is guilty of perjury as provided in section 720.2.
5. In the event of a transfer of an interest in a cooperative by operation of law as a result of death, divorce, bankruptcy, or pursuant to a security interest, the cooperative may disregard the transfer for purposes of determining compliance with subsection 2 for a period of two years after the transfer.

§501.103, CLOSED COOPERATIVES

501.104 Name.
The name of a cooperative organized under this chapter must contain the word “cooperative”, “coop”, or “co-op”, and the name must be distinguishable from the names of cooperatives organized under this chapter or another chapter, or foreign cooperatives authorized to do business in this state.

§501.105 Execution and filing of documents.
1. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for the proper administration of this chapter. If the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for a document, then that form must be on the prescribed form.
2. Articles must be signed by all of the organizers; and all other documents filed with the secretary of state must be signed by one of the cooperative’s officers. The printed name and capacity of each signatory must appear in proximity to the signatory’s signature. The secretary of state may accept a document containing a copy of the signature. A document is not required to contain a seal, an acknowledgment, or a verification.
3. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees:
   a. Twenty dollars upon the filing of original or amended articles or articles of merger.
   b. Five dollars upon the filing of all other required documents.
   c. Five dollars per document and fifty cents per page for copying and certifying a document.
4. A document is effective at the later of the following times:
   a. The time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state’s date and time endorsement on the original document.
   b. The delayed effective time and date specified in the document. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified in the document, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.
5. A document filed under this section may be corrected if the document contains an incorrect statement or the execution of the document was defective. A document is corrected by filing with the secretary of state articles of correction which describe the document to be corrected, including its filing date or a copy of the document. The articles must specify and correct the incorrect statement or defective execution. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document it corrects except as to persons relying on the original document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.
6. The secretary of state shall forward for recording a copy of each original, amended, and restated articles, articles of merger, articles of consolidation, and articles of dissolution to the recorder of the county in which the cooperative has its principal place of business, or in the case of a merger or consolidation, to the recorders of each of the counties in which the merging or consolidating cooperatives have their principal offices.

§501.106 Registered office and registered agent.
1. A cooperative must continuously maintain in this state a registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business, and a registered agent, who may be any of the following:
   a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.
   c. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit for-
A cooperative may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the cooperative.
b. The street address of the current registered office.
c. If the street address of the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.
d. The name of its current registered agent.
e. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent’s written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

b. If a registered agent changes the registered agent’s business address to another place, the registered agent may change the street address of the registered agent’s current or former business address and the address of the registered agent by filing a statement as required in paragraph “a” for each cooperative, or a single statement for all cooperatives named in the notice, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents or be responsive to subsection 2, paragraph “c”. The statement must recite that a copy of the statement has been mailed to each cooperative named in the notice.

4. A cooperative may also change its registered office or registered agent in its biennial report.

5. A. A registered agent may resign the agent’s agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the cooperative at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the cooperative, including the date the copies were sent.

b. The agency appointment is terminated, and the registered office discontinued if so provided, on the date on which the statement was filed.

c. A cooperative’s registered agent is the cooperative’s agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the cooperative.

d. If a cooperative has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the cooperative may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the cooperative at its principal office. Service is perfected under this paragraph at the earliest of any of the following:

1. The date that the cooperative receives the mail.
2. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the cooperative.
3. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

c. A cooperative may be served pursuant to this section or as provided in other provisions of this chapter, unless the manner of service is otherwise specifically provided for by statute.

501.108 Quo warranto. The attorney general alone shall have the right to inquire into whether a cooperative has the right to exist or continue under this chapter. If the secretary of state is informed that a cooperative is not functioning as a cooperative, the secretary of state shall notify the attorney general. If the attorney general finds reasonable cause that the cooperative is not functioning as provided under this chapter, the attorney general shall bring action to wind up the affairs of the cooperative.

SUBCHAPTER II
ARTICLES AND BYLAWS

501.201 Cooperative formation. Three or more individuals may organize a cooperative under this chapter by executing and delivering articles to the secretary of state.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §11

501.202 Documents of organization. The initial articles must set forth all of the following:

a. The name, address, and occupation of each organizer.

b. The names and addresses of the initial directors.
§501.202, CLOSED COOPERATIVES

501.203 Amended and restated documents of organization.
1. A cooperative may amend its articles at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles or to delete a provision not required in the articles.
2. A cooperative may restate its articles at any time. A restatement of the articles must contain the information required by section 501.202, subsection 2, and may set forth any other provision consistent with law.
3. If the board recommends the amendment or restatement to the members, the amendment or restatement must be adopted by the members by a vote of two-thirds of the votes cast.
4. If the board does not recommend the amendment or restatement to the members, then the amendment or restatement must be adopted by the members by a vote of two-thirds of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast.

501.204 Bylaws.
The board may adopt or amend the cooperative's bylaws by a vote of three-fourths of the board. The members may adopt or amend the cooperative's bylaws by a vote of three-fourths of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast. A bylaw provision adopted by the members shall not be amended or repealed by the directors.

501.302 Calling and notice of meetings.
1. A cooperative shall hold an annual member meeting at a time and place fixed in accordance with the bylaws.
2. The board may call special member meetings, and the board shall call a special member meeting upon the written demand of twenty percent of the members.
3. A cooperative shall give each member at least ten days' advance notice of the time, place, and the issues to be considered at each member meeting. This notice may be given in person or by mail to the last known address of the member, or the notice requirement may be met by the member waiving the notice.
4. The record date for determining the members entitled to notice of and to vote at a member meeting is the close of business on the day before the first notices for the meeting are delivered or mailed.

501.303 Conduct of meetings.
1. Only those issues included in the notice of a member meeting may be considered at that meeting.
2. A member may vote at a member meeting in person or by signed absentee ballot that specifies the issue and the member's vote on that issue. If the board makes available an absentee ballot form, then that form must be used to cast an absentee ballot on that issue.

501.304 Member information.
1. Within ten days from receiving a demand of a member, the cooperative shall produce and furnish the member with the names and addresses of all members of the cooperative.
2. The board shall adopt a policy which permits the distribution of information to all of the members upon the request of a member when the purpose of the request concerns directly the action of the board. Upon receipt of the information and the request of a member, the board shall distribute the information to all of the members. The cooperative may charge the requesting member the costs incurred by the cooperative in distributing the information.

501.305 Multiple membership prohibited.
A person who is a member owning fifteen percent or more of a cooperative shall not be eligible to be a member of any other cooperative organized under this chapter. A person violating this section...
§501.306 Number of votes.
A person who is a member shall not own more than one membership. The person shall be entitled to cast not more than one vote regarding any matter in which a vote is conducted, including any matter subject to a vote during a cooperative meeting.
96 Acts, ch 1010, §20; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §14, 69

The cooperative shall make available financial information to its membership by doing either of the following:
1. Preparing and providing to its members a financial statement for the cooperative’s last fiscal year.
   a. The financial statement must be based upon an unqualified opinion based upon an audit performed by a certified public accountant licensed in this state. However, a qualification in an opinion is valid, if it is unavoidable by any audit procedure that is permitted under generally accepted accounting principles. An opinion that is qualified because of a limited audit procedure or because the scope of an audit is limited is invalid for purposes of this section.
   b. The financial statement must disclose the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the cooperative. The financial statement must be prepared according to generally accepted accounting principles. Assets must be shown at original cost less depreciation, or based upon a valuation in accordance with a competent appraisal. Unpriced contracts for agricultural commodities or products must be shown as a liability and valued at the applicable current market price of the agricultural commodities or products as of the date the financial statement is prepared.
2. Honoring a demand to provide access at all reasonable hours at its offices to the books, records, accounts, papers, documents, and computer programs or other recordings relating to the property, assets, business, and financial affairs of the cooperative. The demand shall be in writing and signed by at least fifty percent of all the members of the cooperative. The cooperative shall honor the demand within one day from its receipt. Upon receipt of the demand, the cooperative must provide access to one or more persons selected by the fifty percent of the members to conduct the examination.
§501.404 Director conflict of interest.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the cooperative in which a director has a direct or indirect interest. A director shall be deemed to have a conflict of interest in a matter concerning a transaction between the cooperative and another entity, if the director owns a twenty-five percent or greater ownership interest in the other entity. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the cooperative solely because of the director’s interest in the transaction if any one of the following is true:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the director’s interest were disclosed or known to the board or a board committee and the board or committee authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction. For purposes of this paragraph, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors on the board or on the committee who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction, but a transaction may not be authorized, approved, or ratified under this section by a single director. If a majority of the directors who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the transaction, a quorum is present for the purpose of taking action under this paragraph.

b. The material facts of the transaction and the director’s interest were disclosed or known to the members entitled to vote and they authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction. For purposes of this paragraph, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives a majority of the votes entitled to be counted under this paragraph. Voting interests owned by or voted under the control of a director who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction, and voting interests owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection 2, paragraph "a", shall not be counted in a vote of members to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under this paragraph. The vote of those voting interests, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this chapter. A majority of the votes, whether or not the members are present, that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this paragraph constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this paragraph.

c. The transaction was fair to the cooperative.

2. For purposes of this section, a director of the cooperative has an indirect interest in a transaction if either:

a. Another entity in which the director has a material financial interest is a party to the transaction.

b. Another entity of which the director is a director, officer, or trustee is a party to the transaction.

c. The transaction was fair to the cooperative.

§501.405 Officers.

A cooperative shall have officers described in its bylaws or appointed by the board in accordance with the bylaws. The bylaws or the board shall delegate to one of the officers responsibility for preparing minutes of the directors’ and members’ meetings and for authenticating records of the cooperative. Each officer has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the bylaws, the duties prescribed by the board. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office.

§501.406 Standards of conduct.

1. A director or officer shall discharge the director’s or officer’s duties in conformity with all of the following:

a. In good faith.

b. With the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances.

c. In a manner the director or officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the cooperative.

2. In discharging duties by a director or officer, the director or officer is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the following:
   a. One or more officers or employees of the cooperative whom the director or officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.
   b. A person, including but not limited to a legal counsel or public accountant, regarding a matter that the director or officer reasonably believes is within the person’s professional or expert competence.
   c. A committee of the board of which the director or officer is not a member if the director or officer reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

3. A director or officer is not acting in good faith if the director or officer has knowledge concerning a matter in question that makes reliance otherwise permitted by subsection 2 unwarranted.

4. A director or officer is not liable for any action taken as a director or officer, or the failure to take action, if the director or officer performs the duties of the office in compliance with this section or if, and to the extent that, liability for the action or failure to act has been limited by the articles pursuant to section 501.407.

501.407 Personal liability — indemnification.

1. The articles may contain a provision eliminating or limiting the personal liability of a director, officer, or interest holder of the cooperative for money damages for any action taken, or any failure to take action as a director, officer, or interest holder, except liability for any of the following:
   a. An intentional infliction of harm on the cooperative or its members.
   b. An intentional violation of criminal law.
   c. The amount of a financial benefit received by the person to which the person is not entitled.
   d. An act or omission occurring prior to the date when the provision in the articles becomes effective.

2. The articles may contain a provision permitting or making obligatory indemnification of a director or officer for liability, as defined in section 501.411, to any person for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director or officer, except liability for any of the following:
   a. Receipt of a financial benefit to which the person is not entitled.
   b. An intentional infliction of harm on the cooperative or its members.

3. A director or officer is not a member if the director or officer reasonably believes that the director or officer reasonably believes is 501.409 and 501.410 Reserved.

PART 2

INDEMNIFICATION

501.411 Definitions.

As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Cooperative” includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of a cooperative in a merger.

2. “Director” or “officer” means an individual who is or was a director or officer, respectively, of a cooperative who, while a director or officer of the cooperative, is or was serving at the cooperative’s request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another domestic or foreign cooperative, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity. A director or officer is considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the cooperative’s request if the director’s or officer’s duties to the cooperative also impose duties on, or otherwise involve services by, that director or officer to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan. “Director” or “officer” includes, unless the context requires otherwise, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

3. “Disinterested director” means a director who at the time of a vote referred to in section 501.414, subsection 3, or a vote or selection referred to in section 501.416, subsection 2 or 3, is not either of the following:
   a. A party to the proceeding.
   b. An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the director whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made, which relationship would in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director’s judgment when voting on the decision being made.

4. “Expenses” includes counsel fees.

5. “Liability” means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan, or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

6. “Official capacity” means:
   a. When used with respect to a director, the office of director in a cooperative.
   b. When used with respect to an officer, as contemplated in section 501.417, the office in a cooperative held by the officer.

“Official capacity” does not include service for any other domestic or foreign cooperative or any corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.
7. “Party” means an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a defendant or respondent in a proceeding.
8. “Proceeding” means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §20, 69; 2003 Acts, ch 66, §16

501.412 Permissible indemnification.
1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a cooperative may indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because the individual is a director against liability incurred in the proceeding if either of the following apply:
a. All of the following apply:
(1) The individual acted in good faith.
(2) The individual reasonably believed:
(a) In the case of conduct in the individual’s official capacity, that the individual’s conduct was in the best interests of the cooperative.
(b) In all other cases, that the individual’s conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the cooperative.
(3) In the case of any criminal proceeding, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe the individual’s conduct was unlawful.
b. The individual engaged in conduct for which broader indemnification has been made permissible or obligatory under a provision of the articles of organization as authorized by section 501.407, subsection 2.
2. A director’s conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan for a purpose the director reasonably believed to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan is conduct that satisfies the requirement of subsection 1, paragraph “a”, subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (b).
3. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director did not meet the relevant standard of conduct described in this section.
4. Unless ordered by a court pursuant to section 501.415, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, a cooperative shall not indemnify a director in either of the following circumstances:
a. In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the cooperative, except for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding if it is determined that the director has met the relevant standard of conduct under subsection 1, paragraph “a”.
b. In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which the director was adjudged liable on the basis that the director received a financial benefit to which the director was not entitled, whether or not involving action in the director’s official capacity.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §21, 69; 2003 Acts, ch 66, §17

501.413 Mandatory indemnification.
A cooperative shall indemnify a director who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which the director was a party because the director is or was a director of the cooperative.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §22, 69; 2003 Acts, ch 66, §18

501.414 Advance for expenses.
1. A cooperative may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a director who is a party to a proceeding because the person is a director if the person delivers all of the following to the cooperative:
a. A written affirmation of the director’s good faith belief that either the director has met the relevant standard of conduct described in section 501.412 or that the proceeding involves conduct for which liability has been eliminated under a provision of the articles of organization as authorized by section 501.407, subsection 1.
b. The director’s written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if the director is not entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 501.413 and it is ultimately determined that the director has not met the relevant standard of conduct described in section 501.412.
2. The undertaking required by subsection 1, paragraph “b”, must be an unlimited general obligation of the director but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director to make repayment.
3. Authorizations under this section shall be made according to either of the following:
a. By the board of directors, according to one of the following:
(1) If there are two or more disinterested directors, by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by such a vote.
(2) If there are fewer than two disinterested directors, if a quorum is present when the vote is taken, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors present, unless the articles or bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors, in which authorization directors who do not qualify as disinterested directors may participate.
b. By the members, but voting interests owned by or voted under the control of a director who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested direc-

If there are two or more disinterested directors, by the board of directors by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by such a vote.
b. By special legal counsel.
   (1) The special legal counsel shall be selected in the manner described in paragraph "a".
   (2) If there are fewer than two disinterested directors, special legal counsel shall be selected by the board of directors, in which selection directors who do not qualify as disinterested directors may participate.
c. By the members, but voting interests owned by or voted under the control of a director who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director shall not be voted on the determination.

3. Authorization of indemnification shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if there are fewer than two disinterested directors or if the determination is made by special legal counsel, authorization of indemnification shall be made by those entitled under subsection 2, paragraph "b", to select special legal counsel.

501.417 Indemnification of officers.
1. A cooperative may indemnify and advance expenses under this part to an officer of the cooperation who is a party to the proceeding because the person is an officer, according to both of the following:
   a. To the same extent as to a director.
   b. If the person is an officer but not a director, to such further extent as may be provided by the articles of association, the bylaws, a resolution of the board of directors, or contract, except for either of the following:
      (1) Liability in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the cooperative other than for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.
      (2) Liability arising out of conduct that constitutes any of the following:
         (a) Receipt by the officer of a financial benefit to which the officer is not entitled.
         (b) An intentional infliction of harm on the cooperative or the interest holders.
         (c) An intentional violation of criminal law.
   2. The provisions of subsection 1, paragraph "b", shall apply to an officer who is also a director if the basis on which the officer is made a party to a proceeding is an act or omission solely as an officer.
   3. An officer of a cooperative who is not a director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 501.413, and may apply to a court under section 501.415 for indemnification or an advance for expenses, in each case to the same extent to which a director may be entitled to indemnification or an advance for expenses under those provisions.

501.418 Insurance.
A cooperative may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual who is a director or officer of the cooperative, or who, while a director or officer of the cooperative, serves at the cooperative’s request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another domestic or foreign cooperative, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity, against liability asserted against or incurred by that individual in that capacity or arising from the individual’s status as a director or officer, whether or not the cooperative would have power to indemnify or advance expenses to that individual against the same liability under this part.

501.419 Variation by corporate action — application of this part.
1. A cooperative may, by a provision in its articles of organization or bylaws or in a resolution adopted or a contract approved by its board of directors or members, obligate itself in advance of the act or omission giving rise to a proceeding to provide indemnification in accordance with section 501.412 or advance funds to pay for or reimburse expenses in accordance with section 501.414. Any such obligatory provision shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements for authorization referred to in section 501.414, subsection 3, and in section 501.416, subsection 3. Any such provision that obligates the cooperative to provide indemnification to the fullest extent permitted by law shall be deemed to obligate the cooperative to advance funds to pay for or reimburse expenses in accordance with section 501.414 to the fullest extent permitted by law, unless the provision specifically provides otherwise.

2. Any provision pursuant to subsection 1 shall not obligate the cooperative to indemnify or advance expenses to a director of a predecessor of the cooperative, pertaining to conduct with respect to the predecessor, unless otherwise specifically provided. Any provision for indemnification or advance for expenses in the articles of organization, bylaws, or a resolution of the board of directors or members of a predecessor of the cooperative in a merger or in a contract to which the predecessor is a party, existing at the time the merger takes effect, shall be governed by section 501.618, subsection 3.

3. A cooperative may, by a provision in its articles of organization, limit any of the rights to indemnification or advance for expenses created by or pursuant to this part.

4. This part does not limit a cooperative’s power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or an officer in connection with the director or officer’s appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when the director or officer is not a party.

5. This part does not limit a cooperative’s power to indemnify, advance expenses to, or provide or maintain insurance on behalf of an employee or agent.

501.420 Exclusivity.
A cooperative may provide indemnification or advance expenses to a director or an officer only as permitted by this chapter.

SUBCHAPTER V
CAPITAL STRUCTURE

501.501 Issuance and transfer of interests.
1. A cooperative may issue the number of interests of each class authorized by its articles. A cooperative may issue fractional interests. Interests may be represented by certificates or by entry on the cooperative’s interest record books.

2. A member shall not sell or otherwise transfer voting interests to any person. A member may be restricted or limited from selling or otherwise transferring any other class of interests of the cooperative as provided by the cooperative’s articles of association or bylaws or an agreement executed between the cooperative and the member.

3. A cooperative may acquire its own interests, and interests so acquired constitute authorized but unissued interests.

501.502 Termination of membership.
1. A membership shall terminate upon the death of the member.

2. The articles or bylaws may authorize the board to terminate a membership for any of the following reasons:
   a. The member has attempted to transfer any interest to a person who is not a member and has not been approved for membership.
   b. The member has failed to meet the member’s commitment to provide products to the cooperative or to buy the cooperative’s products.
   c. The member is no longer an authorized person.
   d. The member is no longer a farming entity.

3. A member’s right to vote at member meetings shall cease upon termination of the membership.

4. The cooperative shall redeem, without interest, the voting interest of a terminated member.
within one year after the termination of the membership for the fair market value of the interest. If the amount originally paid by the member for the voting interest was less than ten percent of the total amount the member paid for all classes of interests, the cooperative may redeem the voting interest for its issue price if the cooperative’s articles of association grant the cooperative this authority.

5. The cooperative shall redeem, without interest, all of the terminated member’s allocated patronage refunds and preferred interests originally issued as allocated patronage refunds for the issue price as follows:

a. If a terminated member’s current equity is less than two percent of the cooperative’s total members’ equity, the cooperative shall either redeem the terminated member’s equity within one year after the termination of the membership or redeem the terminated member’s equity in annual amounts of not less than ten percent of the total amount provided that the entire amount must be redeemed within five years after the termination of the membership.

b. If a terminated member’s current equity equals or exceeds two percent of the cooperative’s total members’ equity, the cooperative shall redeem the terminated member’s equity in annual amounts of not less than fifteen percent of the total amount provided that the entire amount must be redeemed within seven years after the termination of the membership.

501.503 Distribution of net savings.

The board shall annually dispose of the cooperative’s earnings in excess of its operating expenses as follows:

1. If the articles authorize the payment of distributions on a class of interests, then the directors may declare a distribution pursuant to the articles. Distributions shall not exceed eight percent of the value of the interest in each fiscal year. The members may control the amount that is allocated under this subsection.

2. To provide a reasonable reserve for depreciation, obsolescence, bad debts, or contingent losses or expenses. The members may control the amount that is allocated under this subsection.

3. To increase the cooperative’s retained savings to the extent determined by the board to be necessary based on its evaluation of the future needs and the competitive position of the cooperative.

4. The cooperative shall have an unconditional binding obligation to distribute to the members all remaining net savings as determined under the United States Internal Revenue Code. These net savings shall be allocated to each member in proportion to the business the member did with the cooperative during the preceding fiscal year. The net savings may be separately calculated for two or more categories of business, and allocated to the members on the basis of business done within each of these categories. Net savings shall be distributed in the form of cash or interests, or a combination of cash and interests, as determined by the board.

SUBCHAPTER VI

CONVERSION, SALE, MERGER, AND CONSOLI DATION

PART 1

CONVERSION OF EXISTING ASSOCIATIONS AND SALE OF ASSETS

501.601 Existing associations.

1. As used in this section:

a. “Dissenting member” means a voting member who votes in opposition to the plan of conversion and who makes a demand for payment as provided in this section not later than the deadline for members to cast ballots on the vote to approve the plan of conversion.

b. “Issue price” means the amount paid for an interest in the association or the value stated in a notice of allocation of patronage refunds.

2. An association organized under chapter 497, 498, or 499 may adopt this chapter pursuant to the following procedures:

a. The board must adopt a plan of conversion that specifies the changes in the articles to comply with this chapter, the effect of the conversion on the association’s outstanding members’ equity, and the option or options available to the equity holders who do not want to continue their investment in the association.

b. The members must approve the plan of conversion by the vote of two-thirds of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast.

3. a. The cooperative shall redeem all of the members’ equity held by dissenting members at its issue price within one year after the conversion to this chapter is effective.

b. An equity holder who is not a voting member shall have the same rights as a dissenting member if the equity holder makes a demand for payment pursuant to paragraph “a” not later than the deadline for members to cast ballots on the vote to approve the plan of conversion.

c. The association shall notify all equity holders of their rights pursuant to paragraph “a” at the same time the association notifies the members of the member meeting to vote on the plan of conversion.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §33

501.603 Sale of assets.
1. A cooperative may, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration determined by the board, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber any or all of its property.
2. A cooperative may sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all, or substantially all, of its property, with or without the good will, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration determined by the board, which consideration may include the interests of another cooperative, if the board recommends the proposed transaction to the members, and the members approve it by the vote of two-thirds of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast. The board may condition its submission of the proposed transaction on any basis.

501.605 through 501.610 Reserved.

PART 2
MERGER AND CONSOLIDATION

501.611 Definitions.
When used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Consolidation” means the uniting of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter into one cooperative organized under this chapter, in such manner that a new cooperative is formed, and the new cooperative absorbs the others, which cease to exist as separate entities.
2. “Dissenting member” means a voting member who votes in opposition to the plan of merger or consolidation and who makes a demand for payment of the fair value under section 501.615.
3. “Fair value” means the cash price that would be paid by a willing buyer to a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell.
4. “Issue price” means the amount paid for an interest in the old cooperative or the amount stated in a notice of allocation of patronage distributions.
5. “Merger” means the uniting of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter into one cooperative organized under this chapter, in such manner that one of the merging associations continues to exist and absorbs the others, which cease to exist as entities. “Merger” does not include the acquisition, by purchase or otherwise, of the assets of one cooperative by another, unless the acquisition only becomes effective by the filing of articles of merger by the cooperatives and the issuance of a certificate of merger pursuant to sections 501.617 and 501.618.
6. “New cooperative” is the cooperative resulting from the consolidation of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter.
7. “Old cooperative” means the cooperative in which the member owns or owned a membership prior to merger or consolidation.
8. “Surviving cooperative” is the cooperative resulting from the merger of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §35, 69

501.612 Merger.
Any two or more cooperatives may merge into one cooperative in the manner provided in this section. The board of directors of each cooperative shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of merger which shall set forth all of the following:
1. The names of the cooperatives proposing to merge and the name of the surviving cooperative.
2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.
3. A statement of any changes in the articles of association of the surviving cooperative.
4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §36, 69

501.613 Consolidation.
Any two or more cooperatives may be consolidated into a new cooperative as provided in this section. The board of directors of each cooperative shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:
1. The names of the cooperatives proposing to consolidate and the name of the new cooperative.
2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.
3. With respect to the new cooperative, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of association for cooperatives.
4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §37, 69

501.614 Vote of members.
1. The board of directors of a cooperative, upon approving a plan of merger or consolidation, shall, by motion or resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members, which may be either an annual or special meeting. Written notice shall be given not less than twenty days prior to the meeting, either personally or by mail, to each voting member of record. The notice shall state the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, and a summary of the plan of merger or consolidation shall be included in or enclosed with the notice.
2. At the meeting, a ballot of the members who are entitled to vote in the affairs of the association shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate. Voting may be by mail ballot notwithstanding any contrary provision in the articles of association or bylaws.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §38, 69

501.615 Objection of members — purchase of interests upon demand.
1. If a member of a cooperative which is a party to a merger or consolidation files with the cooperative, prior to or at the meeting of members at which the plan is submitted to a vote, a written objection to the plan of merger or consolidation, and votes in opposition to the plan, and the member, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is approved by the other members, makes written demand on the surviving or new cooperative for payment of the fair value of that member’s interest as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new cooperative shall pay to the member, upon surrender of that person’s certificate of membership or interests in the cooperative, the fair value of that person’s interest as provided in section 501.616. A member who fails to make demand within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and is bound by its terms.

2. In the event that a dissenting member does business with the surviving or new cooperative before payment has been made for that person’s membership, the dissenting member is deemed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and to have waived all further rights as a dissenting member.

501.616 Value determined.
1. Within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the surviving or new cooperative shall make a written offer to each dissenting member to pay a specified sum deemed by the surviving or new cooperative to be the fair value of that dissenting member’s interest in the old cooperative. This offer shall be accompanied by a balance sheet of the old cooperative as of the latest available date, a profit and loss statement of the old cooperative for the twelve-month period ending on the date of the balance sheet, and a list of the dissenting member’s interests in the old cooperative.

If the dissenting member does not agree that the sum stated in the notice represents the fair value of the member’s interest, then the member may file a written objection with the surviving or new cooperative within twenty days after receiving the notice. A dissenting member who fails to file the objection within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the fair value stated in the notice.

2. If the surviving or new cooperative receives any objections to fair values, then within ninety days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the surviving or new cooperative shall file a petition in district court asking for a finding and determination of the fair value of each type of equity. The action shall be tried as an equitable action.

3. The fair value of a dissenting member’s interest in the old cooperative shall be determined as of the day preceding the merger or consolidation by taking the lesser of either the issue price of the dissenting member’s membership, deferred patronage, and any other interests in the cooperative, or the amount determined by subtracting the old cooperative’s debts from the fair market value of the old cooperative’s assets, dividing the remainder by the total issue price of all memberships, deferred patronage, and all other interests, and then multiplying the quotient from this division by the total issue price of a dissenting member’s membership, deferred patronage, and other interests.

4. The surviving or new cooperative shall pay to each dissenting member in cash within sixty days after the merger or consolidation the amount paid in cash by the dissenting member for that person’s interest in the old cooperative. The surviving or new cooperative shall pay the remainder by annual equal payments. The final payment must be made not later than fifteen years after the merger or consolidation. The value of the deferred patronage or interests issued to evidence deferred patronage shall be considered a liability of the surviving or new cooperative as reflected in the accounts of the surviving or new cooperative until the value of the deferred patronage or interests issued to evidence deferred patronage is paid in full to the dissenting member. A dissenting member who is a natural person who dies before receiving the fair value shall have all of the person’s fair value paid with the same priority as if the person was a member at the time of death.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §40, 69

501.617 Articles of merger or consolidation.
Upon approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed by each cooperative as provided in section 501.105. The articles must include the following:
1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. As to each cooperative, the number of members.
3. As to each cooperative, the number of members who voted for and against the plan at the meeting called for that purpose.

The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

The secretary of state, upon the filing of articles of merger or articles of consolidation, shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation and send the certificate to the surviving or new cooperative, or to its representative.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §41, 69

501.618 Effective date — effect.

A merger or consolidation shall become effective upon the date that the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation is issued by the secretary of state, or the effective date specified in the articles of merger or articles of consolidation, whichever is later.

When a merger or consolidation has become effective:

1. The several cooperatives which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single cooperative, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that cooperative designated in the plan of merger as the surviving cooperative, and, in the case of consolidation, shall be that cooperative designated in the plan of consolidation as the new cooperative.

2. The separate existence of all cooperatives which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new cooperative, shall cease.

3. The surviving or new cooperative shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities, and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a cooperative organized under this chapter.

4. The surviving or new cooperative shall possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, public as well as private, of each of the merging or consolidating cooperatives.

5. All property, real, personal, and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, including all choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the cooperatives merged or consolidated, shall be transferred to and vested in the surviving or new cooperative without further act or deed. The title to any real estate, or any interest in real estate vested in any of the cooperatives merged or consolidated, shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger or consolidation.

6. A surviving or new cooperative shall be responsible and liable for all obligations and liabilities of each of the cooperatives merged or consolidated.

7. Any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of the cooperatives merged or consolidated may be prosecuted as if the merger or consolidation had not taken place, or the surviving or new cooperative may be substituted for the merged or consolidated cooperative. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any cooperative shall be impaired by a merger or consolidation.

8. In the case of a merger, the articles of association of the surviving cooperative shall be deemed to be amended to the extent that changes in its articles of association are stated in the plan of merger. In the case of a consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of association of a cooperative shall be deemed to be the original articles of association of the new cooperative.

9. The aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging or consolidating cooperative which was available for the payment of distributions immediately prior to the merger or consolidation, to the extent that the amount is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of interests or otherwise, shall continue to be available for the payment of distributions by the surviving or new cooperative.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §42, 69

501.619 Abandonment before filing.

At any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §43, 69

SUBCHAPTER VII
RECORDS AND REPORTS
PART 1
RECORDS

501.701 Records.

1. A cooperative shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of its members and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the members or board of directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the board of directors in place of the board of directors on behalf of the cooperative.

2. A cooperative shall maintain appropriate accounting records.

3. A cooperative or its agent shall maintain a record of its interest holders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all interest holders in alphabetical order by class of interests showing the number and class of interests held by each.

4. A cooperative shall maintain its records in written form or in another form capable of conver-501.702 Inspection of records by interest holders.

1. An interest holder of a cooperative is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the cooperative's principal office, any of the records of the cooperative described in section 501.701, subsection 5, if the interest holder gives the cooperative written notice of the interest holder’s demand at least five business days before the date on which the interest holder wishes to inspect and copy.

2. An interest holder of a cooperative is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at a reasonable location specified by the cooperative, any of the following records of the cooperative if the interest holder meets the requirements of subsection 3 and gives the cooperative written notice of the interest holder’s demand at least five business days before the date on which the interest holder wishes to inspect and copy any of the following:
   a. Excerpts from minutes of any meeting of the board of directors, records of any action of a committee of the board of directors while acting in place of the board of directors on behalf of the cooperative, minutes of any meeting of the members, and records of action taken by the members or board of directors without a meeting, to the extent not subject to inspection under subsection 1 of this section.
   b. Accounting records of the cooperative.
   c. The record of interest holders.
   d. The minutes of all members’ meetings, and records of all action taken by members without a meeting, for the past three years.
   e. All written communications to interest holders generally within the past three years, including the financial statements furnished for the past three years under section 501.711.
   f. A list of the names and business addresses of its current directors and officers.
   g. Its most recent biennial report delivered to the secretary of state under section 501.713.

3. An interest holder may inspect and copy the records described in subsection 2 only if:
   a. The interest holder’s demand is made in good faith and for a proper purpose.
   b. The interest holder describes with reasonable particularity the interest holder’s purpose and the records the interest holder desires to inspect.
   c. The records are directly connected with the interest holder’s purpose.

4. The right of inspection granted by this section shall not be abolished or limited by a cooperative’s articles of association or bylaws.

5. This section does not affect either of the following:
   a. The right of a member to obtain information under section 501.304 or the right of an interest holder to obtain information, if the interest holder is in litigation with the cooperative, to the same extent as any other litigant.
   b. The power of a court, independently of this chapter, to compel the production of cooperative records for examination.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §45, 69; 99 Acts, ch 96, §43

501.703 Scope of inspection right.

1. An interest holder’s agent or attorney has the same inspection and copying rights as the interest holder the agent or attorney represents.

2. The right to copy records under section 501.702 includes, if reasonable, the right to receive copies made by photographic, xerographic, or other technological means.

3. The cooperative may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and material, for copies of any documents provided to the interest holder. The charge shall not exceed the estimated cost of production or reproduction of the records.

4. The cooperative may comply with an interest holder’s demand to inspect the record of interest holders under section 501.702, subsection 2, paragraph “c”, by providing the interest holder with a list of its interest holders that was compiled no earlier than the date of the interest holder’s demand.

501.704 Court-ordered inspection.

1. If a cooperative does not allow an interest holder who complies with section 501.702, subsection 1, to inspect and copy any records required by that subsection to be available for inspection, the district court of the county where the cooperative’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the cooperative’s expense upon application of the interest holder.
2. If a cooperative does not within a reasonable time allow an interest holder to inspect and copy any other records, the interest holder who complies with section 501.702, subsections 2 and 3, may apply to the district court in the county where the cooperative’s principal office is, or if not in this state, its registered office is located for an order to permit inspection and copying of the records demanded. The court shall dispose of an application under this subsection on an expedited basis.

3. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the cooperative to pay the interest holder’s costs, including reasonable counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order unless the cooperative proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the interest holder to inspect the records demanded.

4. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the demanding interest holder.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §47, 69

501.705 through 501.710 Reserved.

PART 2
REPORTS

501.711 Financial statements for interest holders.
A cooperative shall prepare annual financial statements, which may be consolidated or combined statements of the cooperative and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and an income statement for that year. Upon written request from an interest holder, a cooperative, at its expense, shall furnish to that interest holder the financial statements requested. If the annual financial statements are reported upon by a public accountant, the report must accompany the financial statements.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §48, 69

501.712 Other reports to interest holders.
1. If a cooperative indemnifies or advances expenses to a director under sections 501.412 through 501.415 in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the cooperative, the cooperative shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the members with or before the notice of the next members’ meeting.

2. If a cooperative issues or authorizes the issuance of interests for promissory notes or for promises to render services in the future, the cooperative shall report in writing to the members the number of interests authorized or issued, and the consideration received by the cooperative, with or before the notice of the next members’ meeting.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §49, 69

501.713 Biennial report for secretary of state.
1. Each cooperative authorized to transact business in this state shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a biennial report that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the cooperative.
   b. The address of its registered office and the name of its registered agent at that office in this state, together with the consent of any new registered agent.
   c. The address of its principal office.
   d. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.

2. Information in the biennial report must be current as of the first day of January of the year in which the report is due. The report shall be executed on behalf of the cooperative and signed as provided in section 501.105 or by any other person authorized by the board of directors of the cooperative.

3. The first biennial report shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first even-numbered year following the calendar year in which a cooperative was organized. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following even-numbered calendar years. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state.

4. If a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section, the secretary of state shall notify the reporting cooperative in writing and return the report to the cooperative for correction.

5. The secretary of state may accept for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report, provided that the form contains the information required in section 501.106. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section but otherwise meets the requirements of section 501.106 for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent, effective as provided in section 501.105, before returning the biennial report to the cooperative as provided in this section. A statement of change of registered office or agent pursuant to this subsection shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

§501.801 Dissolution by organizers or initial directors.
A majority of the organizers or initial directors of a cooperative that has not issued interests or has not commenced business may dissolve the cooperative by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution that set forth all of the following:
1. The name of the cooperative.
2. The date of its organization.
3. Either of the following:
   a. That none of the cooperative’s interests have been issued.
   b. That the cooperative has not commenced business.
4. That no debt of the cooperative remains unpaid.
5. That the net assets of the cooperative remaining after winding up have been distributed in accordance with this chapter and the articles of association of the cooperative.
6. That a majority of the organizers or initial directors authorized the dissolution.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §51, 69

§501.802 Dissolution by board of directors and members.
1. A cooperative’s board of directors may propose dissolution for submission to the members.
2. For a proposal to dissolve to be adopted both of the following must apply:
   a. The board of directors must recommend dissolution to the members unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the members.
   b. The members entitled to vote must approve the proposal to dissolve as provided in subsection 5.
3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposal for dissolution on any basis.
4. The cooperative shall notify each member of a meeting to consider dissolution in accordance with section 501.302. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolving the cooperative.
5. Unless the articles of association or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or a vote by voting groups, the proposal to dissolve must be approved by a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast on that proposal in order to be adopted.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §52, 69

§501.803 Articles of dissolution.
1. At any time after dissolution is authorized, the cooperative may dissolve by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution setting forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the cooperative.
   b. The date dissolution was authorized.
   c. If dissolution was approved by the members, both of the following:
      (1) The number of votes entitled to be cast on the proposal to dissolve.
      (2) Either the total number of votes cast for and against dissolution or the total number of undisputed votes cast for dissolution and a statement that the number cast for dissolution was sufficient for approval.
2. A cooperative is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §53, 69

§501.804 Revocation of dissolution.
1. A cooperative may revoke its dissolution within one hundred twenty days of the effective date of the dissolution.
2. Revocation of dissolution must be authorized in the same manner as the dissolution was authorized unless that authorization permitted revocation by action of the board of directors alone, in which event the board of directors may revoke the dissolution without member action.
3. After the revocation of dissolution is authorized, the cooperative may revoke the dissolution by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of revocation of dissolution, together with a copy of its articles of dissolution, that set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the cooperative.
   b. The effective date of the dissolution that was revoked.
   c. The date that the revocation of dissolution was authorized.
   d. If the cooperative’s board of directors or organizers revoked the dissolution, a statement to that effect.
   e. If the cooperative’s board of directors revoked a dissolution authorized by the members, a statement that revocation was permitted by action by the board of directors alone pursuant to that authorization.
   f. If member action was required to revoke the dissolution, the information required by section 501.803, subsection 1, paragraph “c”.
4. Revocation of dissolution is effective upon the effective date of the articles of revocation of dissolution.
5. When the revocation of dissolution is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the ef-
Section 501.805 Effect of dissolution.
1. A dissolved cooperative continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that appropriate to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs, including any of the following:
   a. Collecting its assets.
   b. Disposing of its properties that will not be distributed in kind in accordance with this chapter and the cooperative's articles of association.
   c. Discharging or making provision for discharging its liabilities.
   d. Distributing its remaining property in accordance with this chapter and the cooperative's articles of association.
   e. Doing every other act necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs.
2. Dissolution of a cooperative does not do any of the following:
   a. Transfer title to the cooperative’s property.
   b. Prevent transfer of its interests, although the authorization to dissolve may provide for closing the cooperative’s interest transfer records.
   c. Subject its directors or officers to standards of conduct different from those prescribed in section 501.406.
   d. Change quorum or voting requirements for its board of directors or members; change provisions for selection, resignation, or removal of its directors or officers or both; or change provisions for amending its bylaws.
   e. Prevent commencement of a proceeding by or against the cooperative in its name.
   f. Abate or suspend a proceeding pending by or against the cooperative on the effective date of dissolution.
   g. Terminate the authority of the registered agent of the cooperative.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §54, 69

Section 501.806 Distribution of assets.
Upon the cooperative’s dissolution, the cooperative’s assets shall first be used to pay expenses necessary to carry out the dissolution and liquidation of assets, then be used to pay the cooperative’s obligations other than the payment of deferred patronage or interests issued as deferred patronage, and the remainder shall be paid in the manner set forth in the cooperative’s articles of association.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §55, 69

Section 501.807 Known claims against dissolved cooperative.
1. A dissolved cooperative may dispose of the known claims against it by following the procedure described in this section.
2. The dissolved cooperative shall notify its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after the effective date of the dissolution. The written notice must do all of the following:
   a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.
   b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.
   c. State the deadline, which shall not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved cooperative must receive the claim.
   d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.
3. A claim against the dissolved cooperative is barred if either of the following occur:
   a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 2 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved cooperative by the deadline.
   b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved cooperative does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.
4. For purposes of this section, “claim” does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.
98 Acts, ch 1152, §56, 69

Section 501.808 Unknown claims against dissolved cooperative.
1. A dissolved cooperative may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the cooperative present them in accordance with the notice.
2. The notice must meet all of the following requirements:
   a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved cooperative’s principal office or, if not in this state, its registered office is or was last located.
   b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.
   c. State that a claim against the cooperative will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within five years after the publication of the notice.
   d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.
3. If the dissolved cooperative publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved cooperative within five years after the publication date of the newspaper notice:
   a. A claimant who did not receive written notice under section 501.807.
   b. A claimant whose claim was timely sent to the dissolved cooperative but not acted on.
   c. A claimant whose claim is contingent or based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.
4. A claim may be enforced under this section in either of the following ways:
a. Against the dissolved cooperative, to the extent of its undistributed assets.

b. If the assets have been distributed in liquidation, against an interest holder of the dissolved cooperative to the extent of the interest holder’s pro rata share of the claim or the cooperative assets distributed to the interest holder in liquidation, whichever is less, but an interest holder’s total liability for all claims under this section shall not exceed the total amount of assets distributed to the interest holder in liquidation.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §58, 69

501.809 and 501.810 Reserved.

PART 2

ADMINISTRATIVE DISSOLUTION

501.811 Grounds for administrative dissolution.
The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 501.812 to administratively dissolve a cooperative if any of the following apply:
1. The cooperative has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 501.713, within sixty days after it is due, or has not paid the filing fee as determined by the secretary of state, within sixty days after it is due.
2. The cooperative is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.
3. The cooperative does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.
4. The cooperative’s period of duration stated in its articles of association expires.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §59, 69; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §16

501.812 Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.
1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 501.811 for dissolving a cooperative, the secretary of state shall serve the cooperative with written notice of the secretary of state’s determination under section 501.106.
2. If the cooperative does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 501.106, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the cooperative by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the cooperative under section 501.106.

3. A cooperative administratively dissolved continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 501.805 and notify claimants under sections 501.807 and 501.808.
4. The administrative dissolution of a cooperative does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

5. The secretary of state’s administrative dissolution of a cooperative pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state the cooperative’s agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the cooperative was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the cooperative. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the cooperative as provided in section 501.106. This subsection does not preclude service on the cooperative’s registered agent, if any.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §60, 69

501.813 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.
1. A cooperative administratively dissolved under section 501.812 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:
   a. Recite the name of the cooperative at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.
   b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.
   c. State a name that satisfies the requirements of section 501.104.
   d. State the federal tax identification number of the cooperative.

2. a. The secretary of state shall refer the federal tax identification number contained in the application for reinstatement to the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall report to the secretary of state the tax status of the cooperative. If the department reports to the secretary of state that a filing delinquency or liability exists against the cooperative, the secretary of state shall not cancel the certificate of dissolution until the filing delinquency or liability is satisfied.
   b. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1, and that a delinquency or liability reported pursuant to paragraph "a” has been satisfied, and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state’s determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the cooperative under section 501.106. If the name of the cooperative as provided in subsection 1, paragraph “c”, is different than the name in subsection 1, paragraph “a”, the certificate of reinstatement shall constitute an amendment to the articles of association insofar as it pertains to the name.

3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §61, 69; 2003 Acts, ch 145, §286

501.814 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a cooperative’s application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the cooperative under section 501.106 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The cooperative may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The cooperative appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state’s certificate of dissolution, the cooperative’s application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state’s notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved cooperative or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §62, 69

501.815 through 501.820 Reserved.

PART 3

JUDICIAL DISSOLUTION

501.821 Grounds for judicial dissolution.

The district court may dissolve a cooperative in any of the following ways:

1. A proceeding by the attorney general to dissolve a cooperative lies in Polk county district court. Venue for a proceeding brought by any other party named in section 501.821 lies in the county where a cooperative’s principal office or, if not in this state, its registered office is or was last located.

2. It is not necessary to make interest holders parties to a proceeding to dissolve a cooperative unless relief is sought against them individually.

3. A court in a proceeding brought to dissolve a cooperative may issue injunctions, appoint a receiver or custodian pendente lite with all powers and duties the court directs, take other action required to preserve the cooperative’s assets wherever located, and carry on the business of the cooperative until a full hearing can be held.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §64, 69

501.823 Receivership or custodianship.

1. A court in a judicial proceeding brought to dissolve a cooperative may appoint one or more receivers to wind up and liquidate, or one or more custodians to manage, the business and affairs of the cooperative. The court shall hold a hearing, after notifying all parties to the proceeding and any interested persons designated by the court, before appointing a receiver or custodian. The court appointing a receiver or custodian has exclusive jurisdiction over the cooperative and all its property wherever located.

2. The court may appoint an individual or a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state as a receiver or custodian. The court may require the receiver or custodian to post bond, with or without sureties, in an amount the court directs.

3. The court shall describe the powers and duties of the receiver or custodian in its appointing order, which may be amended from time to time.
   a. Among other powers, the receiver may do any of the following:
      (1) Dispose of all or any part of the assets of the cooperative wherever located, at a public or private sale, if authorized by the court.
      (2) Sue and defend in the receiver's own name as receiver of the cooperative in all courts of this state.
   b. The custodian may exercise all of the powers of the cooperative, through or in place of its board of directors or officers, to the extent necessary to manage the affairs of the cooperative in the best interests of its interest holders and creditors.

4. The court during a receivership may redesignate the receiver a custodian, and during a custodianship may redesignate the custodian a receiver, if doing so is in the best interests of the cooperative, its interest holders, and creditors.

5. The court from time to time during the receivership or custodianship may order compensation paid and expense disbursements or reimbursements made to the receiver or custodian and the receiver's or custodian's counsel from the assets of the cooperative or proceeds from the sale of the assets.
   98 Acts, ch 1152, §65, 69

501.824 Decree of dissolution.

1. If after a hearing the court determines that one or more grounds for judicial dissolution described in section 501.821 exist, it may enter a decree dissolving the cooperative and specifying the effective date of the dissolution, and the clerk of the district court shall deliver a certified copy of the decree to the secretary of state, who shall file it.

2. After entering the decree of dissolution, the court shall direct the winding up and liquidation of the cooperative's business and affairs in accordance with section 501.805 and the notification of claimants in accordance with sections 501.807 and 501.808.
   98 Acts, ch 1152, §66, 69

501.825 through 501.830 Reserved.

PART 4

DEPOSIT OF ASSETS

501.831 Deposit with state treasurer.

Assets of a dissolved cooperative that should be transferred to a creditor, claimant, or interest holder of the cooperative who cannot be found or who is not competent to receive them shall be reduced to cash and deposited with the treasurer of state or other appropriate state official for safekeeping. When the creditor, claimant, or interest holder furnishes satisfactory proof of entitlement to the amount deposited, the treasurer of state or other appropriate state official shall pay the creditor, claimant, or interest holder or that person's representative the amount.

Article 1

General Provisions

502.101 Short title.

This chapter may be cited as the “Iowa Uniform Securities Act”.

[C91, 35, §581-c1; C39, §581.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.1; C77, 79, 81, §502.101]

502.102 Definitions.

In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Administrator” means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed pursuant to section 502.601.
2. “Agent” means an individual, other than a broker-dealer, who represents a broker-dealer in effecting or attempting to effect purchases or sales of securities or represents an issuer in effecting or attempting to effect purchases or sales of the issuer’s securities. But a partner, officer, or director of a broker-dealer or issuer, or an individual having a similar status or performing similar functions, is an agent only if the individual otherwise comes within the term. The term does not include an in-individual excluded by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

2A. “Agricultural cooperative association” means an entity which is structured and operated on a cooperative basis pursuant to 26 U.S.C. § 1381(a) and which meets the definitional requirement of an association as provided in 12 U.S.C. § 1141(j)(c) or 7 U.S.C. § 291, if the association is organized as any one of the following:

a. A farmers cooperative association as defined in section 10.1.

b. An association of persons organized pursuant to chapter 497 for purposes of conducting an agricultural or dairy business on a cooperative plan, as described in section 497.1.

c. A cooperative association organized pursuant to chapter 498 for purposes of conducting an agricultural, livestock, horticultural, or dairy business on a cooperative plan and acting as a cooperative selling agency, as described in section 498.2.

d. An agricultural association as defined in section 499.2 and organized pursuant to chapter 499.

e. A cooperative organized under chapter 501 which may acquire or otherwise obtain or lease agricultural land in this state as provided in section 501.103.

f. Any other entity which is organized on a cooperative basis under the laws of this state for the purpose of engaging in the activities of an agricultural association as defined in section 499.2.

3. “Bank” means any of the following:

a. A banking institution organized under the laws of the United States.

b. A member bank of the United States federal reserve system.

c. Any other banking institution, whether incorporated or not, doing business under the laws of a state or of the United States, a substantial portion of the business of which consists of receiving deposits or exercising fiduciary powers similar to those permitted to be exercised by national banks under the authority of the office of the comptroller of the currency of the United States pursuant to Pub. L. No. 87-722, § 1, 12 U.S.C. § 92a, and which is supervised and examined by a state or federal agency having supervision over banks, and which is not operated for the purpose of evading this chapter.

d. A receiver, conservator, or other liquidating agent of any institution or firm included in paragraph “a”, “b”, or “c”.

4. “Broker-dealer” means a person engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities for the account of others or for the person’s own account. The term does not include any of the following:

a. An agent.

b. An issuer.

c. A bank or savings institution if its activities as a broker-dealer are limited to those specified in section 3(a)(4)(B)(i) through (vi), section 3(a)(4)(B)(vii) if the offer and sale of private securities offerings are limited to nonconsumer transactions that are not primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, section 3(a)(4)(B)(viii) through (x), or section 3(a)(4)(B)(xi) if limited to unsolicited transactions all as provided in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78c(a)(4); in section 3(a)(5)(B), and 3(a)(5)(C) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78c(a)(4) and (5); or a bank that satisfies the conditions described in section 3(a)(4)(E) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78c(a)(4).

d. An international banking institution.

e. A person excluded by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

5. “Depository institution” means any of the following:

a. A bank.

b. A savings institution, trust company, credit union, or similar institution that is organized or chartered under the laws of a state or of the United States, authorized to receive deposits, and supervised and examined by an official or agency of a state or the United States if its deposits or share accounts are insured to the maximum amount authorized by statute by the federal deposit insurance corporation, the national credit union share insurance fund, or a successor authorized by federal law. The term does not include any of the following:

(1) An insurance company or other organization primarily engaged in the business of insurance.

(2) A Morris plan bank.

(3) An industrial loan company.

6. “Federal covered investment adviser” means a person registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

7. “Federal covered security” means a security that is, or upon completion of a transaction will be, a covered security under section 18(b) of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. § 77r(b), or rules or regulations adopted pursuant to that provision.

ARTICLE 2
EXEMPTIONS FROM REGISTRATION OF SECURITIES

§502.201 Exempt securities.

All of the following securities are exempt from the requirements of sections 502.301 through 502.306 and 502.504:

1. United States government and municipal securities. A security, including a revenue obligation or a separate security as defined in rule 131, 17 C.F.R. § 230.131, adopted by the securities and exchange commission under the Securities Act of 1933, issued, insured, or guaranteed by the United States; by a state; by a political subdivision of a state; by a public authority, agency, or instrumentality of one or more states; by a political subdivision of one or more states; or by a person controlled or supervised by and acting as an instrumentality of the United States under authority granted by the Congress; or a certificate of deposit for any of the foregoing.

2. Foreign government securities. A security issued, insured, or guaranteed by a foreign government with which the United States maintains diplomatic relations, or any of its political subdivisions, if the security is recognized as a valid obligation by the issuer, insurer, or guarantor.

3. Depository institution and international banking institution securities. A security issued by and representing or that will represent an interest in or a direct obligation of, or be guaranteed by any of the following:

   a. An international banking institution.

   b. A banking institution organized under the laws of the United States; a member bank of the United States federal reserve system; or a depository institution, a substantial portion of the business of which consists or will consist of receiving deposits or share accounts that are insured to the maximum amount authorized by statute by the federal deposit insurance corporation, the national credit union share insurance fund, or a successor authorized by federal law or exercising fiduciary powers that are similar to those permitted for national banks under the authority of the comptroller of the currency pursuant to Pub. L. No. 87-722, § 1, 12 U.S.C. § 92a.

   c. Any other depository institution, unless by rule or order the administrator proceeds under section 502.204.

4. Insurance company securities. A security issued by and representing an interest in, or a debt of, or insured or guaranteed by, an insurance company authorized to do business in this state.

5. Common carrier and public utility securities. A security issued or guaranteed by a railroad, other common carrier, public utility, or public utility holding company that is any of the following:

   a. Regulated in respect to its rates and charges by the United States or a state.

   b. Regulated in respect to the issuance or guarantee of the security by the United States, a state, Canada, or a Canadian province or territory.

   c. A public utility holding company registered under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 or a subsidiary of such a registered holding company within the meaning of that Act.

6. Certain options and rights. A federal covered security specified in section 18(b)(1) of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. § 77r(b)(1), or by rule adopted under that provision or a security listed or approved for listing on another securities market specified by rule under this chapter; a put or a call option contract; a warrant; a subscription-right or with respect to such securities; or an option or similar derivative security on a security or an index of securities or foreign currencies issued by a clearing agency registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and listed or designated for trading on a national securities exchange, a facility of a national securities exchange, or a facility of a national securities association registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or an offer or sale, of the underlying security in connection with the offer, sale, or exercise of an option or other security that was exempt when the option or other security was written or issued; or an option or a derivative security designated by the securities and exchange commission under section 9(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78i(b).

7. Nonprofit securities. A security issued by a person organized and operated exclusively for religious, educational, benevolent, fraternal, charitable, social, athletic, or reformatory purposes, or as a chamber of commerce, and not for pecuniary profit, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of a private stockholder or other person, or a security of a company that is excluded from the definition of an investment company under section 3(c)(10)(B) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80a-3(c)(10)(B); except that with respect to the offer or sale of a note, bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness issued by such a person, a rule may be adopted under this chapter limiting the availability of this exemption by classifying securities, persons, and transactions, imposing different requirements for different classes, specifying with respect to paragraph "b" the scope of the exemption and the grounds for denial or suspension, and requiring an issuer to do any of the following:

   a. File a notice specifying the material terms of the proposed offer or sale and copies of any proposed sales and advertising literature to be used and provide that the exemption becomes effective if the administrator does not disallow the exemption within the period established by the rule.

   b. File a request for exemption authorization for which a rule under this chapter may specify the scope of the exemption, the requirement of an offering statement, the filing of sales and advertising literature, the filing of consent to service of process complying with section 502.611, and grounds for denial or suspension of the exemption.

   c. Register under section 502.304.

8. Reserved.

9A. Cooperative associations. A stock or similar security, including a patronage refund certificate, issued by any of the following:

   a. A cooperative housing corporation described in paragraph 1 of subsection "b" of section 216 of the Internal Revenue Code, if its activities are limited to the ownership, leasing, management, or construction of residential properties for its members, and activities incidental thereto.

   b. A mutual or cooperative organization, including a cooperative association organized in good faith under and for any of the purposes enumerated in chapter 497, 498, 499, or 501, that deals in commodities or supplies goods or services in transactions primarily with and for the benefit of its members, if all of the following apply:

      (1) Such stock or similar security is part of a class issuable only to persons who deal in commodities with, or obtain goods or services from, the issuer.

      (2) Such stock or similar security is transferable only to the issuer or a successor in interest of the transferor who qualifies for membership in such mutual or cooperative organization.

      (3) No dividends other than patronage refunds are payable to holders of such stock or similar security except on a complete or partial liquidation.

9B. Agricultural cooperative associations. A security issued by an agricultural cooperative association, provided all of the following conditions are satisfied:

   a. A commission or remuneration must not be paid or provided either directly or indirectly for the sale, except as permitted by the administrator by rule or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of a commission or other remuneration.

   b. If the securities to be issued are notes or other evidences of indebtedness and are issued after July 1, 1991, the issuer must file with the administrator a written notice specifying the name of the issuer, the date of the issuer’s organization, the name of a contact person, a copy of the issuer’s current audited financial statement, the types of security or securities to be offered, and the class of persons to whom the offer will be made in accordance with such rules as prescribed by the administrator.

9C. Equipment trust certificates. An equipment trust certificate with respect to equipment leased or conditionally sold to a person, if any security issued by the person would be exempt under this section or would be a federal covered security under section 18(b)(1) of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. § 77r(b)(1).

The following transactions are exempt from the requirements of sections 502.301 through 502.306 and 502.504:

1. Isolated nonissuer transactions. An isolated nonissuer transaction, whether effected by or through a broker-dealer or not.

2. Nonissuer transactions in specified outstanding securities. A nonissuer transaction by or through a broker-dealer registered, or exempt from registration, under this chapter, and a resale transaction by a sponsor of a unit investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, provided that for either transaction, the security is of a class that has been outstanding in the hands of the public for at least ninety days, if, at the date of the transaction, all of the following apply:

a. The issuer of the security is engaged in business, the issuer is not in the organizational stage or in bankruptcy or receivership, and the issuer is not a blank check, blind pool, or shell company that has no specific business plan or purpose or has indicated that its primary business plan is to engage in a merger or combination of the business with, or an acquisition of, an unidentified person.

b. The security is sold at a price reasonably related to its current market price.

c. The security does not constitute the whole or part of an unsold allotment to, or a subscription or participation by, the broker-dealer as an underwriter of the security or a redistribution.

d. A nationally recognized securities manual or its electronic equivalent designated by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter or a record filed with the securities and exchange commission that is publicly available contains all of the following:

(1) A description of the business and operations of the issuer.

(2) The names of the issuer’s executive officers and the names of the issuer’s directors, if any.

(3) An audited balance sheet of the issuer as of a date within eighteen months before the date of the transaction or, in the case of a reorganization or merger when the parties to the reorganization or merger each had an audited balance sheet, and a pro forma balance sheet for the combined organization.

(4) An audited income statement for each of the issuer’s two immediately previous fiscal years or for the period of existence of the issuer, whichever is shorter, or, in the case of a reorganization or merger when each party to the reorganization or merger had audited income statements, and a pro forma income statement.

e. Any one of the following requirements is met:

(1) The issuer of the security has a class of equity securities listed on a national securities exchange registered under section 6 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or designated for trading on the national association of securities dealers automated quotation system.

(2) The issuer of the security is a unit investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

(3) The issuer of the security, including its predecessors, has been engaged in continuous business for at least three years.

(4) The issuer of the security has total assets of at least two million dollars based on an audited balance sheet as of a date within eighteen months before the date of the transaction or, in the case of a reorganization or merger when the parties to the reorganization or merger each had such an audited balance sheet, and a pro forma balance sheet for the combined organization.

3. Nonissuer transactions in specified foreign transactions. A nonissuer transaction by or through a broker-dealer registered or exempt from registration under this chapter in a security of a foreign issuer that is a margin security defined in regulations or rules adopted by the board of governors of the United States federal reserve system.
4. Nonissuer transactions in securities subject to securities exchange act reporting. A nonissuer transaction by or through a broker-dealer registered or exempt from registration under this chapter in an outstanding security if the guarantor of the security files reports with the securities and exchange commission under the reporting requirements of section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78m or 78o(d).

5. Nonissuer transactions in specified fixed income securities. A nonissuer transaction by or through a broker-dealer registered or exempt from registration under this chapter in a security if any of the following apply:
   a. It is rated at the time of the transaction by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization in one of its four highest rating categories.
   b. It has a fixed maturity or a fixed interest or dividend, if all of the following apply:
      1. A default has not occurred during the current fiscal year or within the three previous fiscal years or during the existence of the issuer and any predecessor if less than three fiscal years, in the payment of principal, interest, or dividends on the security.
      2. The issuer is engaged in business, is not in the organizational stage or in bankruptcy or receivership, and is not and has not been within the previous twelve months a blank check, blind pool, or shell company that has no specific business plan or purpose or has indicated that its primary business plan is to engage in a merger or combination of the business with, or an acquisition of, an unidentified person.

6. Unsolicited brokerage transactions. A nonissuer transaction by or through a broker-dealer registered or exempt from registration under this chapter effecting an unsolicited order or offer to purchase.

7. Nonissuer transaction by pledgees. A nonissuer transaction executed by a bona fide pledgee without the purpose of evading this chapter.

8. Nonissuer transactions with federal covered investment advisers. A nonissuer transaction by a federal covered investment adviser with investments under management in excess of one hundred million dollars acting in the exercise of discretion authority in a signed record for the account of others.

9. Specified exchange transactions. A transaction in a security, whether or not the security or transaction is otherwise exempt, in exchange for one or more bona fide outstanding securities, claims, or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash, if the terms and conditions of the issuance and exchange or the delivery and exchange and the fairness of the terms and conditions have been approved by the administrator after a hearing.

10. Underwriter transactions. A transaction between the issuer or other person on whose behalf the offering is made and an underwriter, or among underwriters.

11. Unit secured transactions. A transaction in a note, bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage or other security agreement if all of the following apply:
   a. The note, bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness is offered and sold with the mortgage or other security agreement as a unit.
   b. A general solicitation or general advertisement of the transaction is not made.
   c. A commission or other remuneration is not paid or given, directly or indirectly, to a person not registered under this chapter as a broker-dealer or as an agent.
   d. Bankruptcy, guardian, or conservator transactions. A transaction by an executor, administrator of an estate, sheriff, marshal, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian, or conservator.

12. Transactions with specified investors. A sale or offer to sell to any of the following:
   a. An institutional investor.
   b. A federal covered investment adviser.
   c. Any other person exempted by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

13. Transactions with specified investors. A sale or an offer to sell securities by or on behalf of an issuer, if the transaction is part of a single issue in which all of the following apply:
   a. Not more than thirty-five purchasers are present in this state during any twelve consecutive months, other than those designated in subsection 13.
   b. A general solicitation or general advertising is not made in connection with the offer to sell or sale of the securities.
   c. A commission or other remuneration is not paid or given, directly or indirectly, to a person other than a broker-dealer registered under this chapter or an agent registered under this chapter for soliciting a prospective purchaser in this state.
   d. The issuer reasonably believes that all the purchasers in this state, other than those designated in subsection 13, are purchasing for investment.

14. Limited offering transactions. A sale or an offer to sell securities by or on behalf of an issuer, if the transaction is part of a single issue in which all of the following apply:
   a. Not more than thirty-five purchasers are present in this state during any twelve consecutive months, other than those designated in subsection 13.

15. Transactions with existing security holders. A transaction under an offer to existing security holders of the issuer, including persons that at the date of the transaction are holders of convertible securities, options, or warrants, if a commission or other remuneration, other than a standby commission, is not paid or given, directly or indirectly, for soliciting a security holder in this state.
16. Offerings registered under this chapter and the Securities Act of 1933. An offer to sell, but not a sale, of a security not exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 if all of the following apply:
   a. A registration or offering statement or similar record as required under the Securities Act of 1933 has been filed, but is not effective, or the offer is made in compliance with rule 165 adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, 17 C.F.R. § 230.165.
   b. A stop order of which the offeror is aware has not been issued against the offeror by the administrator or the securities and exchange commission, and an audit, inspection, or proceeding that is public and that may culminate in a stop order is not known by the offeror to be pending.

17. Offerings when registration has been filed, but is not effective under this chapter and exempt from the Securities Act of 1933. An offer to sell, but not a sale, of a security exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 if all of the following apply:
   a. A registration statement has been filed under this chapter, but is not effective.
   b. A solicitation of interest is provided in a record to offerees in compliance with a rule adopted by the administrator under this chapter.
   c. A stop order of which the offeror is aware has not been issued by the administrator under this chapter and an audit, inspection, or proceeding that may culminate in a stop order is not known by the offeror to be pending.

18. Control transactions. A transaction involving the distribution of the securities of an issuer to the security holders of another person in connection with a merger, consolidation, exchange of securities, sale of assets, or other reorganization to which the issuer, or its parent or subsidiary and the other person, or its parent or subsidiary, are parties.

20. Out-of-state offers or sales. An offer or sale of a security to a person not a resident of this state and not present in this state if the offer or sale does not constitute a violation of the laws of the state or foreign jurisdiction in which the offeree or purchaser is present and is not part of an unlawful plan or scheme to evade this chapter.

21. Employee benefit plans. Employees' stock purchase, savings, option, profit-sharing, pension, or similar employees' benefit plan, including any securities, plan interests, and guarantees issued under a compensatory benefit plan or compensation contract, contained in a record, established by the issuer, its parents, its majority-owned subsidiaries, or the majority-owned subsidiaries of the issuer's parent for the participation of their employees including offers or sales of such securities to any of the following:
   a. Directors; general partners; trustees, if the issuer is a business trust; officers; consultants; and advisers.
   b. Family members who acquire such securities from those persons through gifts or domestic relations orders.
   c. Former employees, directors, general partners, trustees, officers, consultants, and advisers if those individuals were employed by or providing services to the issuer when the securities were offered.
   d. Insurance agents who are exclusive insurance agents of the issuer, or the issuer's subsidiaries or parents, or who derive more than fifty percent of their annual income from those organizations.

22. Specified dividends and tender offers and judicially recognized reorganizations. A transaction involving any of the following:
   a. A stock dividend or equivalent equity distribution, whether the corporation or other business organization distributing the dividend or equivalent equity distribution is the issuer or not, if nothing of value is given by stockholders or other equity holders for the dividend or equivalent equity distribution other than the surrender of a right to a cash or property dividend if each stockholder or other equity holder may elect to take the dividend or equivalent equity distribution in cash, property, or stock.
   b. An act incident to a judicially approved reorganization in which a security is issued in exchange for one or more outstanding securities, claims, or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash.
   c. The solicitation of tenders of securities by an offeror in a tender offer in compliance with rule 162 adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, 17 C.F.R. § 230.162.

23. Nonissuer transactions involving specified foreign issuer securities traded on designated security exchanges. A nonissuer transaction in an outstanding security by or through a broker-dealer registered or exempt from registration under this chapter, if the issuer is a reporting issuer in a foreign jurisdiction designated by this subsection or by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, has been subject to continuous reporting requirements in the foreign jurisdiction for not less than one hundred eighty days before the transaction; and the security is listed on the foreign jurisdiction's securities exchange that has been designated by this subsection or by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, or is a security of the same issuer that is of senior or substantially equal rank to the listed security or is a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to any of the foregoing. For purposes of this subsection, Canada, together with its provinces and territories, is a designated foreign jurisdiction and the Toronto stock exchange, inc., is a designated securities exchange. After an administrative hearing in compliance with chapter 17A, the administrator, by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, may revoke the designation of a securities exchange under this subsection, if the administrator finds that revocation is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors.

ARTICLE 3
REGISTRATION OF SECURITIES AND NOTICE FILING OF FEDERAL COVERED SECURITIES

502.301 Securities registration requirement.
It is unlawful for a person to offer or sell a security in this state unless one of the following applies:
1. The security is a federal covered security.
2. The security, transaction, or offer is exempted from registration under sections 502.201 through 502.203.
3. The security is registered under this chapter.
2004 amendment to this section takes effect January 1, 2005; 2004 Acts, ch 1161, §68
Section stricken and rewritten

502.302 Notice filing.
1. Required filing of records. With respect to a federal covered security, as defined in section 18(b)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. § 77r(b)(2), that is not otherwise exempt under sections 502.201 through 502.203, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require the filing of any or all of the following records:
   a. Before the initial offer of a federal covered security in this state, all records that are part of a federal registration statement filed with the securities and exchange commission under the Securities Act of 1933 and a consent to service of process complying with section 502.611 signed by the issuer.
   A person who is the issuer of a federal covered security under section 18(b)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 shall initially make a notice filing and annually renew a notice filing in this state for an indefinite amount or a fixed amount. The fixed amount must be for two hundred fifty thousand dollars. A notice filer shall pay a filing fee when the notice is filed. If the amount covered by the notice is indefinite, the notice filer shall pay a filing fee of one thousand dollars. If the amount covered by the notice is fixed, the notice filer shall pay a filing fee of two hundred fifty dollars, and all of the following shall apply:
   (1) The notice filer shall file a sales report with the administrator or pay an additional filing fee of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars within ninety days after the notice filing's annual renewal date. If the notice filer files a sales report with the administrator, the notice filer shall pay an additional filing fee of one-tenth of one percent of the amount of securities sold in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars. The additional filing fee must be paid within ninety days after the notice filing's annual renewal date.
   (2) The notice filing covering the additional securities shall be effective retroactively as of the effective date of the notice filing that is being amended.
   b. After the initial offer of the federal covered security in this state, all records that are part of an amendment to a federal registration statement filed with the securities and exchange commission under the Securities Act of 1933.
2. Notice filing effectiveness and renewal. A notice filing under subsection 1 is effective for one year commencing on the later of the notice filing or the effectiveness of the offering filed with the securities and exchange commission. On or before expiration, the issuer may renew a notice filing by filing a copy of those records filed by the issuer with the securities and exchange commission that are required by rule or order under this chapter to be filed and by paying the renewal fee required by subsection 1, paragraph “a.” A previously filed consent to service of process complying with section 502.611 may be incorporated by reference in a renewal. A renewed notice filing becomes effective upon the expiration of the filing being renewed.
3. Notice filings for federal covered securities under section 18(b)(4)(D). With respect to a secu-502.303 Securities registration by coordination.

1. Registration permitted.
   a. A security for which a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933 in connection with the same offering may be registered by coordination under this section.
   b. A proposed sale pursuant to the exemption contained in “Regulation A” as adopted under section 3(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 where such registration statement has not become effective or notification of proposed sale has not been qualified may be registered by coordination under this section.

2. Required records. A registration statement and accompanying records under this section must contain or be accompanied by all of the following records in addition to the information specified in section 502.305 and a consent to service of process complying with section 502.611:
   a. A copy of the latest form of prospectus filed under the Securities Act of 1933.
   b. A copy of the articles of incorporation and bylaws or their substantial equivalents currently in effect; a copy of any agreement with or among underwriters; a copy of any indenture or other instrument governing the issuance of the security to be registered; and a specimen, copy or description of the security that is required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.
   c. Copies of any other information or any other records filed by the issuer under the Securities Act of 1933 requested by the administrator.
   d. An undertaking to forward each amendment to the federal prospectus, other than an amendment that delays the effective date of the registration statement, promptly after it is filed with the securities and exchange commission.

3. Conditions for effectiveness of registration statement. A registration statement under this section becomes effective simultaneously with or subsequent to the federal registration statement when all the following conditions are satisfied:
   a. A stop order under subsection 4 or section 502.306 or issued by the securities and exchange commission is not in effect and a proceeding is not pending against the issuer under section 502.306.
   b. The registration statement has been on file for at least twenty days or a shorter period provided by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

4. Notice of federal registration statement effectiveness. The registrant shall promptly notify the administrator in a record of the date when the federal registration statement becomes effective and the content of any price amendment and shall promptly file a record containing the price amendment. If the notice is not timely received, the administrator may issue a stop order, without prior notice or hearing, retroactively denying effectiveness to the registration statement or suspending its effectiveness until in compliance with this section. The administrator shall promptly notify the registrant of an order by telegram, telephone, or electronic means and promptly confirm this notice by a record. If the registrant subsequently complies with the notice requirements of this section, the stop order is void as of the date of its issuance.

5. Effectiveness of registration statement. If the federal registration statement becomes effective before each of the conditions in this section is satisfied or is waived by the administrator, the registration statement is automatically effective under this chapter when all the conditions are satisfied or waived. If the registrant notifies the administrator of the date when the federal registration statement is expected to become effective, the administrator shall promptly notify the registrant by telegram, telephone, or electronic means and promptly confirm this notice by a record, indicating whether all the conditions are satisfied or waived and whether the administrator intends the institution of a proceeding under section 502.306. The notice by the administrator does not preclude the institution of such a proceeding.
502.304 Securities registration by qualification.

1. Registration permitted. A security may be registered by qualification under this section.

2. Required records. A registration statement under this section must contain the information or records specified in section 502.305, a consent to service of process complying with section 502.611, and, if required by rule adopted under this chapter, all of the following information or records:

a. With respect to the issuer and any significant subsidiary, its name, address, and form of organization; the state or foreign jurisdiction and date of its organization; the general character and location of its business; a description of its physical properties and equipment; and a statement of the general competitive conditions in the industry or business in which it is or will be engaged.

b. With respect to each director and officer of the issuer, and other person having a similar status or performing similar functions, the person's name, address, and principal occupation for the previous five years; the amount of securities of the issuer held by the person as of the thirtieth day before the filing of the registration statement; the amount of the securities covered by the registration statement to which the person has indicated an intention to subscribe; and a description of any material interest of the person in any material transaction with the issuer or any significant subsidiary effected within the previous three years or proposed to be effected.

c. With respect to persons covered by paragraph "b", the aggregate sum of the remuneration paid to those persons during the previous twelve months and estimated to be paid during the next twelve months, directly or indirectly, by the issuer, and all predecessors, parents, subsidiaries, and affiliates of the issuer.

d. With respect to a person owning of record or owning beneficially, if known, ten percent or more of the outstanding shares of any class of equity security of the issuer, the information specified in paragraph "b" other than the person's occupation.

e. With respect to a promoter, if the issuer was organized within the previous three years, the information or records specified in paragraph "b", any amount paid to the promoter within that period or intended to be paid to the promoter, and the consideration for the payment.

f. With respect to a person on whose behalf any part of the offering is to be made in a nonissuer distribution, the person's name and address; the amount of securities of the issuer held by the person as of the date of the filing of the registration statement; a description of any material interest of the person in any material transaction with the issuer or any significant subsidiary effected within the previous three years or proposed to be effected; and a statement of the reasons for making the offering.

g. The capitalization and long-term debt, on both a current and pro forma basis, of the issuer and any significant subsidiary, including a description of each security outstanding or being registered or otherwise offered, and a statement of the amount and kind of consideration, whether in the form of cash, physical assets, services, patents, goodwill, or anything else of value, for which the issuer or any subsidiary has issued its securities within the previous two years or is obligated to issue its securities.

h. The kind and amount of securities to be offered; the proposed offering price or the method by which it is to be computed; any variation at which a proportion of the offering is to be made to a person or class of persons other than the underwriters, with a specification of the person or class; the basis on which the offering is to be made if otherwise than for cash; the estimated aggregate underwriting and selling discounts or commissions and finders' fees, including separately cash, securities, contracts, or anything else of value, for which the underwriters or finders in connection with the offering or, if the selling discounts or commissions are variable, the basis of determining them and their maximum and minimum amounts; the estimated amounts of other selling expenses, including legal, engineering, and accounting charges; the name and address of each underwriter and each recipient of a finder's fee; a copy of any underwriting or selling group agreement under which the distribution is to be made or the proposed form of any such agreement whose terms have not yet been determined; and a description of the plan of distribution of any securities that are to be offered otherwise than through an underwriter.

i. The estimated monetary proceeds to be received by the issuer from the offering; the purposes for which the proceeds are to be used by the issuer; the estimated amount to be used for each purpose; the order or priority in which the proceeds will be used for the purposes stated; the amounts of any funds to be raised from other sources to achieve the purposes stated; the sources of the funds; and, if a part of the proceeds is to be used to acquire property, including goodwill, otherwise than in the ordinary course of business, the names and addresses of the vendors, the purchase price, the names of any persons that have received commissions in connection with the acquisition, and the amounts of the commissions and other expenses in connection with the acquisition, including the cost of borrowing money to finance the acquisition.

j. A description of any stock options or other security options outstanding, or to be created in connection with the offering, and the amount of those options held or to be held by each person required to be named in paragraph “b”, “d”, “e”, “f”, or “h” and by any person that holds or will hold ten percent or more of the aggregate of those options.

k. The dates of, parties to, and general effect concisely stated of each managerial or other material contract made or to be made otherwise than in the ordinary course of business to be performed in whole or in part at or after the filing of the registration statement or that was made within the previous two years, and a copy of the contract.

l. A description of any pending litigation, action, or proceeding to which the issuer is a party and that materially affects its business or assets, and any litigation, action, or proceeding known to be contemplated by governmental authorities.

m. A copy of any prospectus, pamphlet, circular, form letter, advertisement, or other sales literature intended as of the effective date to be used in connection with the offering and any solicitation of interest used in compliance with section 502.202, subsection 17, paragraph “b”.

n. A specimen or copy of the security being registered, unless the security is uncertificated; a copy of the issuer’s articles of incorporation and bylaws or their substantial equivalents, in effect; and a copy of any indenture or other instrument covering the security to be registered.

o. A signed or conformed copy of an opinion of counsel concerning the legality of the security being registered, with an English translation if it is in a language other than English, which states whether the security when sold will be validly issued, fully paid, and nonassessable and, if a debt security, a binding obligation of the issuer.

p. A signed or conformed copy of a consent of any accountant, engineer, appraiser, or other person whose profession gives authority for a statement made by the person, if the person is named as having prepared or certified a report or valuation, other than an official record, that is public, which is used in connection with the registration statement.

q. A balance sheet of the issuer as of a date within four months before the filing of the registration statement; a statement of income and a statement of cash flows for each of the three fiscal years preceding the date of the balance sheet and for any period between the close of the immediately previous fiscal year and the date of the balance sheet, or for the period of the issuer’s and any predecessor’s existence if less than three years; and, if any part of the proceeds of the offering is to be applied to the purchase of a business, the financial statements that would be required if that business were the registrant.

r. Any additional information or records required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

2A. Reports and examinations. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration by qualification, and at the expense of the applicant or registrant, that a report by an accountant, engineer, appraiser, or other professional person be filed. The administrator may also designate one or more employees of the securities bureau to make an examination of the business and records of an issuer of securities for which a registration statement has been filed by qualification, at the expense of the applicant or registrant.

3. Conditions for effectiveness of registration statement. A registration statement under this section becomes effective thirty days, or any shorter period provided by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, after the date the registration statement or the last amendment other than a price amendment is filed, if any of the following applies:

a. A stop order is not in effect and a proceeding is not pending under section 502.306.

b. The administrator has not issued an order under section 502.306 delaying effectiveness.

c. The applicant or registrant has not requested that effectiveness be delayed.

4. Delay of effectiveness of registration statement. The administrator may delay effectiveness once for not more than thirty days if the administrator determines the registration statement is not complete in all material respects and promptly notifies the applicant or registrant of that determination. The administrator may also delay effectiveness for a further period of not more than thirty days if the administrator determines that the delay is necessary or appropriate.

5. Prospectus distribution may be required. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require as a condition of registration under this section that a prospectus containing a specified part of the information or record specified in subsection 2 be sent or given to each person to whom an offer is made, before or concurrently, with the earliest of any of the following:

a. The first offer made in a record to the person otherwise than by means of a public advertisement, by or for the account of the issuer or another person on whose behalf the offering is being made or by an underwriter or broker-dealer that is offering part of an unsold allotment or subscription taken by the person as a participant in the distribution.

b. The confirmation of a sale made by or for the account of the person.

c. Payment pursuant to such a sale.

d. Delivery of the security pursuant to such a sale.

(5937, UNIFORM SECURITIES ACT (Blue Sky Law), §502.304)
502.304A Expedited registration by filing for small issuers.

1. Registration permitted. A security meeting the conditions set forth in this section may be registered by filing as provided in this section.

2. Conditions of the issuer. In order to register under this section, the issuer must meet all of the following conditions:
   a. The issuer must be a corporation, limited liability company, or partnership organized under the laws of one of the states or possessions of the United States which engages in or proposes to engage in a business other than petroleum exploration or production mining or other extractive industries.
   b. The securities must be offered and sold only on behalf of the issuer, and must not be used by any selling security holder to register securities for resale.

3. Conditions for effectiveness of registration — required records and fee. In order to register under this section, all of the following conditions must be satisfied:
   a. The offering price for common stock, the exercise price if the securities are options, warrants, or rights for common stock, or the conversion price if the securities are convertible into common stock must be equal to or greater than one dollar per share. The issuer must not split its common stock, or declare a stock dividend, for two years after effectiveness of the registration, except that in connection with a subsequent registered public offering, the issuer may upon application and consent of the administrator take such action.
   b. A commission, fee, or other remuneration shall not be paid or given, directly or indirectly, for the sale of the securities, except for a payment to a broker-dealer or agent registered under this chapter, or except for a payment as permitted by the administrator by rule or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of a commission, fee, or other remuneration.
   c. The issuer or a broker-dealer offering or selling the securities is not or would not be disqualified under rule 505, 17 C.F.R. § 230.505(2)(ii), adopted under the Securities Act of 1933.
   d. The aggregate offering price of the offering of securities by the issuer within or outside this state must not exceed one million dollars, less the aggregate offering price for all securities sold within twelve months before the start of, and during the offering of, the securities under rule 504, 17 C.F.R. § 230.504, in reliance on any exemption under section 3(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 or in violation of section 5(a) of that Act; provided, that if rule 504, 17 C.F.R. § 230.504, adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, is amended, that the administrator may by rule increase the limit under this paragraph to conform to amendments to federal law, including but not limited to modification in the amount of the aggregate offering price.
   e. An offering document meeting the disclosure requirements of rule 502(b)(2), 17 C.F.R. § 230.502(b)(2), adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, must be delivered to each purchaser in the state prior to the sale of the securities, unless the administrator by rule or order provides for disclosure different from that rule.
   f. The issuer must file with the administrator an application for registration and the offering document to be used in connection with the offer and sale of securities.
   g. The issuer must pay to the administrator a fee of one hundred dollars and is not required to pay the filing fee set forth in section 502.305, subsection 2.

4. Effectiveness of registration. Unless the administrator issues a stop order denying the effectiveness of the registration, as provided in section 502.306, the registration becomes effective on the fifth business day after the registration has been filed with the administrator, or earlier if the administrator permits a shorter time period between registration and effectiveness.

5. Agent registration. In connection with an offering registered under this section, a person may be registered as an agent of the issuer under section 502.402 by the filing of an application by the issuer with the administrator for the registration of the person as an agent of the issuer and the paying of a fee of ten dollars. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the registration of the agent shall be effective until withdrawn by the issuer or until the securities registered pursuant to the registration statement have all been sold, whichever occurs first. The registration of an agent shall become effective when ordered by the administrator or on the fifth business day after the agent's application has been filed with the administrator, whichever occurs first, and the administrator shall not impose further conditions upon the registration of the agent. However, the administrator may deny, revoke, suspend, or withdraw the registration of the agent at any time as provided in section 502.412. An agent registered solely pursuant to this section is entitled to sell only securities registered under this section.

6. Inapplicable issuers. This section is not applicable to any of the following issuers:
   a. An investment company, including a mutual fund.
   b. An issuer subject to the reporting requirements of section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
c. A direct participation program, unless otherwise permitted by the administrator by rule or order for good cause.

d. A blind pool or other offering for which the specific business or properties cannot now be described, unless the administrator determines that the blind pool is a community development, seed, or venture capital fund for which the administrator permits a waiver.

7. Limits on stop orders. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the administrator shall not deny effectiveness to or suspend or revoke the effectiveness of a registration under this section on the basis of section 502.306, subsection 1, paragraph “h”.

NEW section

502.305 Securities registration filings.
1. Who may file. A registration statement may be filed by the issuer, a person on whose behalf the offering is to be made, or a broker-dealer registered under this chapter.

2. Filing. Except as provided in subsection 10 and section 502.304A, subsection 3, paragraph “g”, a person who files a registration statement or a notice filing shall pay a filing fee of one-tenth of one percent of the proposed aggregate sales price of the securities to be offered to persons in this state pursuant to the registration statement or notice filing. However, except as provided in subsection 10, section 502.302, subsection 1, paragraph “a”, and section 502.304A, subsection 3, paragraph “g”, the annual filing fee shall not be less than fifty dollars or more than one thousand dollars. The administrator shall retain the filing fee even if the notice filing is withdrawn or the registration is withdrawn, denied, suspended, revoked, or abandoned.

3. Status of offering. A registration statement filed under section 502.303 or 502.304 must specify all of the following:

a. The amount of securities to be offered in this state.

b. The states in which a registration statement or similar record in connection with the offering has been or is to be filed.

c. Any adverse order, judgment, or decree issued in connection with the offering by a state securities regulator, the securities and exchange commission, or a court.

4. Incorporation by reference. A record filed under this chapter or its predecessor chapter within five years preceding the filing of a registration statement may be incorporated by reference in the registration statement to the extent that the record is currently accurate.

5. Nonissuer distribution. In the case of a nonissuer distribution, information or a record shall not be required under subsection 9 or section 502.304, unless it is known to the person filing the registration statement or to the person on whose behalf the distribution is to be made or unless it can be furnished by those persons without unreasonable effort or expense.

6. Escrow and impoundment. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require as a condition of registration that a security issued within the previous five years or to be issued to a promoter for a consideration substantially less than the public offering price or to a person for a consideration other than cash be deposited in escrow; and that the proceeds from the sale of the registered security in this state be impounded until the issuer receives a specified amount from the sale of the security either in this state or elsewhere. The conditions of any escrow or impoundment required under this subsection may be established by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, but the administrator shall not reject a depository institution solely because of its location in another state.

7. Form of subscription. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require as a condition of registration that a security registered under this chapter be sold only on a specified form of subscription or sale contract and that a signed or conformed copy of each contract be filed under this chapter or preserved for a period specified by the rule or order, which shall not be longer than five years.

8. Effective period. Except while a stop order is in effect under section 502.306, a registration statement is effective for one year after its effective date, or for any longer period designated in an order issued under this chapter during which the security is being offered or distributed in a nonexempted transaction by or for the account of the issuer or other person on whose behalf the offering is being made or by an underwriter or broker-dealer that is still offering part of an unsold allotment or subscription taken as a participant in the distribution. For the purposes of a nonissuer transaction, all outstanding securities of the same class identified in the registration statement as a security registered under this chapter are considered to be registered while the registration statement is effective. If any securities of the same class are outstanding, a registration statement shall not be withdrawn until one year after its effective date. A registration statement may be withdrawn only with the approval of the administrator.

9. Periodic reports. While a registration statement is effective, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require the person that filed the registration statement to file reports, not more often than quarterly, to keep the information or other record in the registration statement reasonably current and to disclose the progress of the offering.

10. Posteffective amendments. A registrant who sold securities to persons in this state in excess of the amount of securities registered in this state at the time of the sale may file an amendment to its registration statement to register the additional securities. All of the following requirements shall apply:

a. If a registrant proposes to sell securities to persons in this state pursuant to a registration statement that is currently effective in this state in an amount that exceeds the amount registered in this state at that time, the registrant must do all of the following:

(1) File an amendment to register the additional securities.
(2) Pay an additional filing fee in the same amount as specified in subsection 2 as though the amendment constitutes a separate issue.

b. If a registrant sold securities to persons in this state in excess of the amount registered in this state at that time, the registrant must do all of the following:

(1) File an amendment to register the additional securities.
(2) Pay an additional filing fee that is three times the amount specified in subsection 2 as though the amendment constitutes a separate issue.

The administrator may order the amendment effective retroactively as of the effective date of the registration statement that is being amended.

502.306 Denial, suspension, and revocation of securities registration.

1. Stop orders. The administrator may issue a stop order denying effectiveness to, or suspending or revoking the effectiveness of, a registration statement if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and that any of the following apply:

a. The registration statement as of its effective date or before the effective date in the case of an order denying effectiveness, an amendment under section 502.305, subsection 10, as of its effective date, or a report under section 502.305, subsection 9, is incomplete in a material respect or contains a statement that, in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, was false or misleading with respect to a material fact.

b. This chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter or a condition imposed under this chapter has been willfully violated, in connection with the offering, by the person filing the registration statement; by the issuer, a partner, officer, or director of the issuer or a person having a similar status or performing a similar function; a promoter of the issuer; or a person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by the issuer; but only if the person filing the registration statement is directly or indirectly controlled by or acting for one issuer; or by an underwriter.

c. The security registered or sought to be registered is the subject of a permanent or temporary injunction of a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative stop order or similar order issued under any federal, foreign, or state law other than this chapter applicable to the offering, but the administrator shall not institute a proceeding against an effective registration statement under this paragraph more than one year after the date of the order or injunction on which it is based, and the administrator shall not issue an order under this paragraph on the basis of an order or injunction issued under the securities act of another state unless the order or injunction was based on conduct that would constitute, as of the date of the order, a ground for a stop order under this section.

d. The issuer’s enterprise or method of business includes or would include activities that are unlawful where performed.

e. With respect to a security sought to be registered under section 502.303, there has been a failure to comply with the undertaking required by section 502.303, subsection 2, paragraph “d”.

f. The applicant or registrant has not paid the filing fee, but the administrator shall void the order if the deficiency is corrected.

g. The offering is subject to any of the following:

(1) Will work or tend to work a fraud upon purchasers or would so operate.

h. The financial condition of the issuer affects or would affect the soundness of the securities, except that applications for registration of securities by companies which are in the development stage shall not be denied based solely upon the financial condition of the company. For purposes of this rule, a “development stage company” is defined as a company which has been in existence for five years or less.

i. A person who is an issuer, correspondent, or applicant, as listed on the uniform application to register securities form known as “Form U-1”, has abandoned the registration statement. The administrator may enter an order pursuant to this paragraph if a notice of abandonment is sent to the last known address of each person, and the person fails to take corrective action within the time specified by the administrator. The notice of abandonment shall state the reasons for the administrator’s action, specify the corrective action required, and specify the time period for submitting a response. However, the time specified shall not be less than fifteen days.
2. Enforcement of subsection 1, paragraph “g”. To the extent practicable, the administrator by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter shall publish standards that provide notice of conduct that violates subsection 1, paragraph “g”.

3. Institution of stop order. The administrator shall not institute a stop order proceeding against an effective registration statement on the basis of conduct or a transaction known to the administrator when the registration statement became effective unless the proceeding is instituted within thirty days after the registration statement became effective.

4. Summary process. The administrator may summarily revoke, deny, postpone, or suspend the effectiveness of a registration statement pending final determination of an administrative proceeding. Upon the issuance of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify each person specified in subsection 5 that the order has been issued, the reasons for the revocation, denial, postponement, or suspension, and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a request in a record from the person the matter will be scheduled for a hearing. If a hearing is not requested and none is ordered by the administrator, within thirty days after the date of service of the order, the order becomes final. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing for each person subject to the order, may modify or vacate the order or extend the order until final determination.

5. Procedural requirements for stop order. A stop order shall not be issued under this section without all of the following:
   a. An appropriate notice to the applicant or registrant, the issuer, and the person on whose behalf the securities are to be or have been offered.
   b. An opportunity for hearing.
   c. Findings of fact and conclusions of law in a record in accordance with chapter 17A.

6. Modification or vacation of stop order. The administrator may modify or vacate a stop order issued under this section if the administrator finds that the conditions that caused its issuance have changed or that it is necessary or appropriate, according to rules prescribed by the administrator for the public interest and protection of investors, to be treated as an equity security.

502.307 Waiver and modification.

The administrator may waive or modify, in whole or in part, any or all of the requirements of sections 502.302, 502.303, and 502.304, subsection 2, or the requirement of any information or record in a registration statement or in a periodic report filed pursuant to section 502.305, subsection 9.

ARTICLE 3A
TAKEOVER PROVISIONS

502.321A Special definitions.

For the purposes of this article, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Associate” means a person acting jointly or in concert with another for the purpose of acquiring, holding or disposing of, or exercising any voting rights attached to the equity securities of a target company.

2. “Beneficial owner” includes, but is not limited to, any person who directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, understanding, or relationship, has or shares the power to vote or direct the voting of a security or has or shares the power to dispose of or otherwise direct the disposition of the security. A person is the beneficial owner of securities beneficially owned by any relative or spouse or relative of the spouse residing in the home of the person, any trust or estate in which the person owns ten percent or more of the total beneficial interest or serves as trustee or executor, any corporation or entity in which the person owns ten percent or more of the equity, and any affiliate or associate of the person.

3. “Beneficial ownership” includes, but is not limited to, the right, exercisable within sixty days, to acquire securities through the exercise of options, warrants, or rights or the conversion of convertible securities. The securities subject to these options, warrants, rights, or conversion privileges held by a person are outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of outstanding securities of the class owned by the person, but are not outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of the class owned by any other person.

4. “Equity security” means any stock or similar security and includes any of the following:
   a. Any security convertible, with or without consideration, into a stock or similar security.
   b. Any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase a stock or similar security.
   c. Any security carrying a warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase a stock or similar security.
   d. Any other security which the administrator deems to be of a similar nature and considers necessary or appropriate, according to rules prescribed by the administrator for the public interest and protection of investors, to be treated as an equity security.

5. “Offeree” means the beneficial owner, who is a resident of this state, of equity securities which an offeror offers to acquire in connection with a takeover offer.

6. “Offeror” means a person who makes or in any manner participates in making a takeover offer. It does not include a supervised financial institution or broker-dealer loaning funds to an offeror in the ordinary course of its business, or any supervised financial institution, broker-dealer, attorney, accountant, consultant, employee, or other person furnishing information or advice to or performing ministerial duties for an offeror, and who does not otherwise participate in the takeover offer.

7. “Principal place of business” means the executive office of a target company from which the officers, partners, or managers of the target company direct, control, and coordinate the activities of the target company.

8. a. “Takeover offer” means the offer to acquire any equity securities of a target company from a resident of this state pursuant to a tender offer or request or invitation for tenders, if after the acquisition of all securities acquired pursuant to the offer any of the following are true:

   (1) The offeror would be directly or indirectly a beneficial owner of more than ten percent of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company.

   (2) The beneficial ownership by the offeror of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company would be increased by more than five percent. However, this subparagraph does not apply if after the acquisition of all securities acquired pursuant to the offer, the offeror would not be directly or indirectly a beneficial owner of more than ten percent of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company.

   b. “Takeover offer” does not include any of the following:

      (1) An offer in connection with the acquisition of a security which, together with all other acquisitions by the offeror of securities of the same class of equity securities of the target company, would not result in the offeror having acquired more than two percent of this class of securities during the preceding twelve-month period.

      (2) An offer by the target company to acquire its own equity securities if such offer is subject to section 13(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

      (3) An offer in which the target company is an insurance company or insurance holding company subject to regulation by the commissioner of insurance, a financial institution subject to regulation by the superintendent of banking or the superintendent of savings and loan associations, or a public utility subject to regulation by the utilities division of the department of commerce.

9. “Target company” means an issuer of public-ly traded equity securities that has at least twenty percent of its equity securities beneficially held by residents of this state and has substantial assets in this state. For the purposes of this chapter, an equity security is publicly traded if a trading market exists for the security. A trading market exists if the security is traded on a national securities exchange, whether or not registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or on the over-the-counter market.

502.321B Registration requirements — hearing.

1. Takeover filing required. It is unlawful for a person to make a takeover offer or to acquire any equity securities pursuant to the offer unless the offer is valid under this article. A takeover offer is effective when the offeror files with the administrator a registration statement containing the information prescribed in subsection 6. Not later than the date of filing of the registration statement, the offeror shall deliver a copy of the registration statement by certified mail to the target company at its principal place of business and publicly disclose the material terms of the proposed offer. Public disclosure shall require, at a minimum, that a copy of the registration statement be supplied to all broker-dealers maintaining an office in this state currently quoting the security.

2. Registration statement filing. The registration statement shall be filed on forms prescribed by the administrator, and shall be accompanied by a consent by the offeror to service of process and filing fee specified in section 502.321G, and contain all of the following information:

   a. All information specified in subsection 6.

   b. Two copies of all solicitation materials intended to be used in the takeover offer, and in the form proposed to be published, sent, or delivered to offerees.

   c. Additional information as prescribed by the administrator by rule, pursuant to chapter 17A, prior to the making of the offer.

3. Registration not approval. Registration shall not be considered approval by the administrator, and any representation to the contrary is unlawful.

4. Suspension authorized. Within three calendar days of the date of filing of the registration statement, the administrator may, by order, summarily suspend the effectiveness of the takeover offer if the administrator determines that the registration does not contain all of the information specified in subsection 6 or that the takeover offer materials provided to offerees do not provide full disclosure to offerees of all material information concerning the takeover offer. The suspension shall remain in effect only until the determination following a hearing held pursuant to subsection 5.

5. Hearing procedures. A hearing shall be scheduled by the administrator for each suspension provided under this section. The hearing shall be held within ten calendar days of the date of the suspension. The administrator’s determination following the hearing shall be made within three calendar days after the hearing has been completed, but not more than sixteen days after the date of the suspension. However, the administrator may prescribe different time periods than those specified in this subsection by rule or order.

If, based upon the record of the hearing, the administrator finds that the registration statement fails to provide for full and fair disclosure of all material information concerning the offer, or that the takeover is in violation of any of the provisions of this article, the administrator shall permanently suspend the effectiveness of the takeover offer. The administrator may provide an opportunity for the offeror to correct disclosure and other deficiencies identified by the administrator and to reinstate the takeover offer by filing a new or amended registration statement pursuant to this section.

6. Required information. The form required to be filed by subsection 2, paragraph “a”, shall contain all of the following information:

a. The identity and background of all persons on whose behalf the acquisition of any equity security of the target company has been or is to be effected.

b. The source and amount of funds or other consideration used or to be used in acquiring any equity security including, if applicable, a statement describing any securities which are being offered in exchange for the equity securities of the target company. If any part of the acquisition price is or will be represented by borrowed funds or other consideration, the information shall also include a description of the material terms of any financing arrangements and the names of the parties from whom the funds were or are to be borrowed.

c. If the offeror is other than a natural person, information concerning its organization and operations, including all of the following:

   (1) The year, form, and jurisdiction of its organization.
   (2) A description of each class of equity security and long-term debt.
   (3) A description of the business conducted by the offeror and its subsidiaries and any material changes in the offeror or subsidiaries during the past three years.
   (4) A description of the location and character of the principal properties of the offeror and its subsidiaries.
   (5) A description of any pending and material legal or administrative proceedings in which the offeror or any of its affiliates is a party.
   (6) The names of all directors and executive officers of the offeror and their material business activities and affiliations during the past five years.
   (7) The financial statements of the offeror in a form and for periods of time as the administrator may prescribe by rule pursuant to section 17A.4, subsection 1.

d. If the offeror is a natural person, information concerning the offeror’s identity and background, including business activities and affiliations during the past five years and a description of any pending and material legal or administrative proceedings in which the offeror is a party.

e. If the purpose of the acquisition is to gain control of the target company, the material terms of any plans or proposals which the offeror has, upon gaining control, to do any of the following:

   (1) Liquidate the target company.
   (2) Sell its assets.
   (3) Effect its merger or consolidation.
   (4) Change the location of its principal place of business or of a material portion of its business activities.
   (5) Change its management or policies of employment.
   (6) Materially alter its relationship with suppliers or customers or the community in which it operates.
   (7) Make any other major changes in its business, corporate structure, management, or personnel.
   (8) Other information which would materially affect the shareholders’ evaluation of the acquisition.

f. The number of shares or units of any equity security of the target company owned beneficially by the offeror and any affiliate or associate of the offeror, together with the name and address of each affiliate or associate.

g. The material terms of any contract, arrangement, or understanding with any other person with respect to the equity securities of the target company by which the offeror has or will acquire any interest in additional equity securities of the target company, or is or will be obligated to transfer any interest in the equity securities to another.

h. Information required to be included in a tender offer statement pursuant to section 14(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules and regulations of the securities and exchange commission issued pursuant to the Act.

502.321D Fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative acts and practices prohibited.

An offeror, target company, affiliate or associate of an offeror or target company, or broker-dealer acting on behalf of an offeror or target company shall not engage in a fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative act or practice in connection with a takeover offer. For purposes of this section, a fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative act or practice includes, but is not limited to, any of the following:

1. The publication or use in connection with a takeover offer of a false statement of a material fact, or the omission of a material fact which renders the statements made misleading.

2. The purchase of any of the equity securities of an officer, director, or beneficial owner of five percent or more of the equity securities of the target company by the offeror or the target company for a consideration greater than that to be paid to other shareholders, unless the terms of the purchase are disclosed in a registration statement filed pursuant to section 502.321B.

3. The refusal by a target company to permit an offeror who is a shareholder of record to examine or copy its list of shareholders, pursuant to the applicable corporation statutes, for the purpose of making a takeover offer.

4. The refusal by a target company to mail any solicitation materials published by the offeror to its security holders with reasonable promptness after receipt from the offeror of the materials, together with the reasonable expenses of postage and handling.

5. The solicitation of any offeree for acceptance or rejection of a takeover offer, or acquisition of any equity security pursuant to a takeover offer, when the offer is suspended under section 502.321B, provided, however, that the target company may communicate during a suspension with its equity security holders to the extent required to respond to the takeover offer made pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

502.321E Limitations on offers and offerors.

1. Same terms required. A takeover offer shall contain substantially the same terms for shareholders residing within and outside this state.

2. Offeree withdrawal of securities. An offeror shall provide that any equity securities of a target company deposited or tendered pursuant to a takeover offer may be withdrawn by or on behalf of an offeree within seven days after the date the offer has become effective and after sixty days from the date the offer has become effective, or as otherwise determined by the administrator pursuant to a rule or order issued for the protection of the shareholders.

3. Pro rata acceptance. If an offeror makes a takeover offer for less than all the outstanding equity securities of any class and, within ten days after the offer has become effective and copies of the offer, or notice of any increase in the consideration offered, are first published or sent or given to equity security holders, the number of securities deposited or tendered pursuant to the offer is greater than the number of securities that the offeror has offered to accept and pay for, the securities shall be accepted pro rata, disregarding fractions, according to the number of securities deposited or tendered for each offeree.

4. Increased consideration. If an offeror varies the terms of a takeover offer before the offer's expiration date by increasing the consideration offered to equity security holders, the offeror shall pay the increased consideration for all equity securities accepted, whether the securities have been accepted by the offeror before or after the variation in the terms of the offer.

5. Proceedings — stop offers or acquisitions. An offeror shall not make a takeover offer or acquire any equity securities in this state pursuant to a takeover offer during the period of time that an administrator's proceeding alleging a violation of this chapter is pending against the offeror.

6. Proceedings — halt moving of target company assets. An offeror shall not acquire, remove, or exercise control, directly or indirectly, over any target company assets located in this state pursuant to a takeover offer during the period of time that an administrator's proceeding alleging a violation of this chapter is pending against the offeror.

7. Acquisitions subsequent to takeover purchases. An offeror shall not acquire from a resident of this state an equity security of any class of a target company at any time within two years following the last purchase of securities pursuant to a takeover offer with respect to that class, including, but not limited to, acquisitions made by purchase, exchange, merger, consolidation, partial or complete liquidation, redemption, reverse stock split, recapitalization, reorganization, or any other similar transaction, unless the holders of the equity securities are afforded, at the time of the acquisition, a reasonable opportunity to dispose of the securities to the offeror upon substantially equivalent terms as those provided in the earlier takeover offer.

§502.321F Administration — rules and orders.
1. Exemption authority. The administrator may by rule or order exempt from any provision of this article the following:
   a. A proposed takeover offer or a category or type of takeover offer which the administrator determines does not have the purpose or effect of changing or influencing the control of a target company.
   b. A proposed takeover offer for which the administrator determines that compliance with the sections is not necessary for the protection of the offerees.
   c. A person from the requirement of filing statements.
2. Conflicts with chapter 17A. In the event of a conflict between the provisions of chapter 17A and the provisions of this article, the provisions of this article shall prevail.

§502.321G Fees.
The administrator shall charge a nonrefundable filing fee of two hundred fifty dollars for a registration statement filed by an offeror.

If the target company is a public utility, public utility holding company, national banking association, bank holding company, or savings and loan association which is subject to regulation by a federal agency and the takeover of such company is subject to approval by the federal agency, this article does not apply.

§502.321I Application of securities law.
All of the provisions of this chapter which are not in conflict with this article apply to any takeover offer involving a target company.

ARTICLE 4
BROKER-DEALERS, AGENTS, INVESTMENT ADVISERS, INVESTMENT ADVISER REPRESENTATIVES, AND FEDERAL COVERED INVESTMENT ADVISERS

§502.401 Broker-dealer registration requirement and exemptions.
1. Registration requirement. It is unlawful for a person to transact business in this state as a broker-dealer unless the person is registered under this chapter as a broker-dealer or is exempt from registration as a broker-dealer under subsection 2 or 4.
2. Exemptions from registration. The following persons are exempt from the registration requirement of subsection 1:
   a. A broker-dealer without a place of business in this state if its only transactions effected in this state are with any of the following:
      1) The issuer of the securities involved in the transactions.
      2) A broker-dealer registered as a broker-dealer under this chapter or not required to be registered as a broker-dealer under this chapter.
      3) An institutional investor.
      4) A nonaffiliated federal covered investment adviser with investments under management in excess of one hundred million dollars acting for the account of others pursuant to discretionary authority in a signed record.
      5) A bona fide preexisting customer whose principal place of residence is not in this state and the broker-dealer is registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or not required to be registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is registered under the securities Act of the state in which the customer maintains a principal place of residence.
      6) A bona fide preexisting customer whose principal place of residence is in this state but was not present in this state when the customer relationship was established, if all of the following apply:
         a) The broker-dealer is registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or not required to be registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is registered under the securities laws of the state in which the customer relationship was established and where the customer had maintained a principal place of residence.
         b) Within forty-five days after the customer’s first transaction in this state, the broker-dealer files an application for registration as a broker-dealer in this state and a further transaction is not effected more than seventy-five days after the date on which the application is filed, or, if earlier, the date on which the administrator notifies the broker-dealer that the administrator has denied the application for registration or has stayed the pendency of the application for good cause.

(7) Not more than three customers in this state during the previous twelve months, in addition to those customers specified in this paragraph "a", if the broker-dealer is registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or not required to be registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is registered under the securities Act of the state in which the broker-dealer has its principal place of business.

(8) Any other person exempted by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

b. A person that deals solely in United States government securities and is supervised as a dealer in government securities by the board of governors of the federal reserve system, the comptroller of the currency, the federal deposit insurance corporation, or the office of thrift supervision.

3. Limits on employment or association. It is unlawful for a broker-dealer, or for an issuer engaged in offering, offering to purchase, purchasing, or selling securities in this state, directly or indirectly, to employ or associate with an individual to engage in an activity related to securities transactions in this state if the registration of the individual is suspended or revoked or the individual is barred from employment or association with a broker-dealer, an issuer, an investment adviser, or a federal covered investment adviser by an order of the administrator under this chapter, the securities and exchange commission, or a self-regulatory organization. A broker-dealer or issuer does not violate this subsection if the broker-dealer or issuer did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the suspension, revocation, or bar. Upon request from a broker-dealer or issuer and for good cause, an order under this chapter may modify or waive, in whole or in part, the application of the prohibitions of this subsection to the broker-dealer or issuer.

4. Foreign transactions. A rule adopted or orer issued under this chapter may permit any of the following:

a. A broker-dealer that is registered in Can-ad or other foreign jurisdiction and that does not have a place of business in this state to effect transactions in securities with or for, or attempt to effect the purchase or sale of any securities by, any of the following:

(1) An individual from Canada or other foreign jurisdiction who is temporarily present in this state and with whom the broker-dealer had a bona fide customer relationship before the individual entered the United States.

(2) An individual from Canada or other foreign jurisdiction who is present in this state and whose transactions are in a self-directed tax advantaged retirement plan of which the individual is the holder or contributor in that foreign jurisdiction.

(3) An individual who is present in this state, with whom the broker-dealer customer relationship arose while the individual was temporarily or permanently residing in Canada or the other for-gn jurisdiction.

b. An agent who represents a broker-dealer that is exempt under this subsection to effect transactions in securities or attempt to effect the purchase or sale of securities in this state as permitted for a broker-dealer described in paragraph
"a".

§502.402 Agent registration requirement and exemptions.

1. Registration requirement. It is unlawful for an individual to transact business in this state for an agent unless the individual is registered under this chapter as an agent or is exempt from registration as an agent under subsection 2.

2. Exemptions from registration. The following individuals are exempt from the registration requirement of subsection 1:

a. An individual who represents a broker-dealer in effecting transactions in this state limited to those described in section 15(h)(2) of the Se-§ 78(o)(2).

b. An individual who represents a broker-dealer that is exempt under section 502.401, subsection 2 or 4.

c. An individual who represents an issuer with respect to an offer or sale of the issuer’s own securities or those of the issuer’s parent or any of the issuer’s subsidiaries, and who is not compensated in connection with the individual’s participation by the payment of commissions or other remuneration based, directly or indirectly, on transactions in those securities.

d. An individual who represents an issuer and who effects transactions in the issuer’s securities exempted by section 502.202, other than section 502.202, subsection 11 or 14.

e. An individual who represents an issuer that effects transactions solely in federal covered securities of the issuer, but an individual who effects transactions in a federal covered security under section 18(b)(3) or 18(b)(4)(D) of the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. § 77r(b)(3) or 77r(b)(4)(D), is not exempt if the individual is compensated in connection with the agent’s participation by the payment of commissions or other remuneration based, directly or indirectly, on transactions in those securities.
f. An individual who represents a broker-dealer registered in this state under section 502.401, subsection 1, or exempt from registration under section 502.401, subsection 2, in the offer and sale of securities for an account of a nonaffiliated federal covered investment adviser with investments under management in excess of one hundred million dollars acting for the account of others pursuant to discretionary authority in a signed record.

g. An individual who represents an issuer in connection with the purchase of the issuer’s own securities.

h. An individual who represents an issuer and who restricts participation to performing clerical or ministerial acts.

i. Any other individual exempted by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

3. Registration effective only while employed or associated. The registration of an agent is effective only while the agent is employed by or associated with a broker-dealer registered under this chapter or an issuer that is offering, selling, or purchasing its securities in this state.

4. Limit on employment or association. It is unlawful for a broker-dealer, or an issuer engaged in offering, selling, or purchasing securities in this state, to employ or associate with an agent who transacts business in this state on behalf of broker-dealers or issuers unless the agent is registered under subsection 1 or exempt from registration under subsection 2.

5. Limit on affiliations. An individual shall not act as an agent for more than one broker-dealer or one issuer at a time, unless the broker-dealer or the issuer for which the agent acts is affiliated by direct or indirect common control or is authorized by rule or order under this chapter.

§502.403 Investment adviser registration requirement and exemptions.

1. Registration requirement. It is unlawful for a person to transact business in this state as an investment adviser unless the person is registered under this chapter as an investment adviser or is exempt from registration as an investment adviser under subsection 2.

2. Exemptions from registration. All of the following persons are exempt from the registration requirement of subsection 1:

a. A person without a place of business in this state that is registered under the securities Act of the state in which the person has its principal place of business if its only clients in this state are any of the following:

1. Federal covered investment advisers, investment advisers registered under this chapter, or broker-dealers registered under this chapter.
2. Institutional investors.
3. Bona fide preexisting clients whose principal places of residence are not in this state if the investment adviser is registered under the securities Act of the state in which the clients maintain principal places of residence.
4. Any other client exempted by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

b. A person without a place of business in this state if the person has had, during the preceding twelve months, not more than five clients that are resident in this state in addition to those specified under paragraph “a”.

c. Any other person exempted by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

3. Limits on employment or association. It is unlawful for an investment adviser, directly or indirectly, to employ or associate with an individual to engage in an activity related to investment advice in this state if the registration of the individual is suspended or revoked or the individual is barred from employment or association with an investment adviser, federal covered investment adviser, or broker-dealer by an order under this chapter, the securities and exchange commission, or a self-regulatory organization, unless the investment adviser did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the suspension, revocation, or bar. Upon request from the investment adviser and for good cause, the administrator, by order, may waive, in whole or in part, the application of the prohibitions of this subsection to the investment adviser.

4. Investment adviser representative registration required. It is unlawful for an investment adviser to employ or associate with an individual required to be registered under this chapter as an investment adviser representative who transacts business in this state on behalf of the investment adviser unless the individual is registered under section 502.404, subsection 1, or is exempt from registration under section 502.404, subsection 2.

§502.404 Investment adviser representative registration requirement and exemptions.

1. Registration requirement. It is unlawful for an individual to transact business in this state as an investment adviser representative unless the individual is registered under this chapter as an investment adviser representative or is exempt...
§502.404, UNIFORM SECURITIES ACT (Blue Sky Law) 5048

from registration as an investment adviser representative under subsection 2.

2. Exemptions from registration. All of the following individuals are exempt from the registration requirement of subsection 1:

a. An individual who is employed by or associated with an investment adviser that is exempt from registration under section 502.403, subsection 2, or a federal covered investment adviser that is excluded from the notice filing requirements of section 502.405.

b. Any other individual exempted by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

3. Registration effective only while employed or associated. The registration of an investment adviser representative is not effective while the investment adviser representative is not employed by or associated with an investment adviser registered under this chapter or a federal covered investment adviser that has made or is required to make a notice filing under section 502.405.

4. Limit on affiliations. An individual may transact business as an investment adviser representative for more than one investment adviser or federal covered investment adviser unless a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter prohibits or limits an individual from acting as an investment adviser representative for more than one investment adviser or federal covered investment adviser.

5. Limits on employment or association. It is unlawful for an individual acting as an investment adviser representative, directly or indirectly, to conduct business in this state on behalf of an investment adviser or federal covered investment adviser if the individual is an investment adviser representative if the registration of the individual as an investment adviser representative is suspended or revoked or the individual is barred from employment or association with an investment adviser or a federal covered investment adviser by an order under this chapter, the securities and exchange commission, or a self-regulatory organization. Upon request from a federal covered investment adviser and for good cause, the administrator, by order issued, may waive, in whole or in part, the application of the requirements of this subsection to the federal covered investment adviser.

6. Referral fees. An investment adviser registered under this chapter, a federal covered investment adviser that has filed a notice under section 502.405, or a broker-dealer registered under this chapter is not required to employ or associate with an individual as an investment adviser representative if the only compensation paid to the individual for a referral of investment advisory clients is paid to an investment adviser registered under this chapter, a federal covered investment adviser who has filed a notice under section 502.405, or a broker-dealer registered under this chapter with whom the individual is employed or associated as an investment adviser representative.

502.405 Federal covered investment adviser notice filing requirement.

1. Notice filing requirement. Except with respect to a federal covered investment adviser described in subsection 2, it is unlawful for a federal covered investment adviser to transact business in this state as a federal covered investment adviser unless the federal covered investment adviser complies with subsection 3.

2. Notice filing requirement not required. The following federal covered investment advisers are not required to comply with subsection 3:

a. A federal covered investment adviser without a place of business in this state if its only clients in this state are any of the following:

(1) Federal covered investment advisers, investment advisers registered under this chapter, and broker-dealers registered under this chapter.

(2) Institutional investors.

(3) Bona fide preexisting clients whose principal places of residence are not in this state.

(4) Other clients specified by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

b. A federal covered investment adviser without a place of business in this state if the person has had, during the preceding twelve months, not more than five clients that are resident in this state in addition to those specified under paragraph "a".

c. Any other person excluded by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

3. Notice filing procedure. A person acting as a federal covered investment adviser, not excluded under subsection 2, shall file a notice, a consent to service of process complying with section 502.611, and such records as have been filed with the securities and exchange commission under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter and pay the fees specified in section 502.410, subsection 5.

4. Effectiveness of filing. The notice under subsection 3 becomes effective upon its filing.

§502.406 Registration by broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, and investment adviser representative.

1. Application for initial registration. A person shall register as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative by filing an application and a consent to service of process complying with section 502.611, and paying the fee specified in section 502.410 and any reasonable fees charged by the designee of the administrator for processing the filing. The application must contain all of the following:
   a. The information or record required for the filing of a uniform application.
   b. Upon request by the administrator, any other financial or other information or record that the administrator determines is appropriate.

2. Amendment. If the information or record contained in an application filed under subsection 1 is or becomes inaccurate or incomplete in a material respect, the registrant shall promptly file a correcting amendment.

3. Effectiveness of registration. If an order is not in effect and a proceeding is not pending under section 502.412, registration becomes effective at noon on the forty-fifth day after a completed application is filed, unless the registration is denied. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may set an earlier effective date or may defer the effective date until noon on the forty-fifth day after the filing of any amendment completing the application.

4. Registration renewal. A registration is effective until midnight on December 31 of the year for which the application for registration is filed. Unless an order is in effect under section 502.412, a registration may be automatically renewed each year by filing such records as are required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, by paying the fee specified in section 502.410, and by paying costs charged by the designee of the administrator for processing the filings.

5. Additional conditions or waivers. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may impose such other conditions, not inconsistent with the National Securities Markets Improvement Act of 1996. An order issued under this chapter may waive, in whole or in part, specific requirements in connection with registration as are in the public interest and for the protection of investors.

§502.407 Succession and change in registration of broker-dealer or investment adviser.

1. Succession. A broker-dealer or investment adviser may succeed to the current registration of another broker-dealer or investment adviser or a notice filing of a federal covered investment adviser, and a federal covered investment adviser may succeed to the current registration of an investment adviser or notice filing of another federal covered investment adviser, by filing as a successor an application for registration pursuant to section 502.401 or 502.403 or a notice pursuant to section 502.405 for the unexpired portion of the current registration or notice filing.

2. Organizational change. A broker-dealer or investment adviser that changes its form of organization or state of incorporation or organization may continue its registration by filing an amendment to its registration if the change does not involve a material change in its financial condition or management. The amendment becomes effective when filed or on a date designated by the registrant in its filing. The new organization is a successor to the original registrant for the purposes of this chapter. If there is a material change in financial condition or management, the broker-dealer or investment adviser shall file a new application for registration. A predecessor registered under this chapter shall stop conducting its securities business other than winding down transactions and shall file for withdrawal of broker-dealer or investment adviser registration within forty-five days after filing its amendment to effect succession.

3. Name change. A broker-dealer or investment adviser that changes its name may continue its registration by filing an amendment to its registration. The amendment becomes effective when filed or on a date designated by the registrant.

4. Change of control. A change of control of a broker-dealer or investment adviser may be made in accordance with a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

§502.408 Termination of employment or association of agent and investment adviser representative and transfer of employment or association.

1. Notice of termination. If an agent regis-Withdrawal of temporary registration. The administrator may withdraw a temporary registration if there are or were grounds for discipline as specified in section 502.412 and the administrator does so within thirty days after the filing of the application. If the administrator does not withdraw the temporary registration within the thirty-day period, registration becomes automatically effective on the thirty-first day after filing.

4. Power to prevent registration. The administrator may prevent the effectiveness of a transfer of an agent or investment adviser representative under subsection 2, paragraph “a” or “b”, based on the public interest and the protection of investors.

5. Termination of registration or application for registration. If the administrator determines that a registrant or applicant for registration is no longer in existence or has ceased to act as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative, or is the subject of an adjudication of incapacity or is subject to the control of a committee, conservator, or guardian, or cannot reasonably be located, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require that the registration be canceled or terminated or the application denied. The administrator may reinstate a canceled or terminated registration, with or without hearing, and may make the registration retroactive.

502.409 Withdrawal of registration of broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, and investment adviser representative — cessation of business — abandoned filings.

1. Withdrawal of registration. Withdrawal of registration by a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative becomes effective sixty days after the filing of the application to withdraw or within any shorter period as provided by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter unless a revocation or suspension proceeding is pending when the application is filed. If a proceeding is pending, withdrawal becomes effective when and upon such conditions as required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter. The administrator may institute a revocation or suspension proceeding under section 502.412 within one year after the withdrawal became effective automatically and issue a revocation or suspension order as of the last date on which registration was effective if a proceeding is not pending.

2. Ceasing to do business and abandoned filings. If the administrator finds that any registrant or applicant for registration is no longer in existence or has ceased to do business as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative, or is subject to an adjudication of mental incompetence or to the control of a committee, conservator, or guardian, or cannot be located after search, the administrator may by order revoke the registration or application. If the administrator finds that the applicant for registration or registrant has abandoned the application or registration, the administrator may enter 502.410 Filing fees.

1. Broker-dealers. A person shall pay a fee of two hundred dollars when initially filing an application for registration as a broker-dealer and a fee of two hundred dollars when filing a renewal of registration as a broker-dealer. If the filing results in a denial or withdrawal, the administrator shall retain the fee.

2. Agents. The fee for an individual is thirty dollars when filing an application for registration as an agent, a fee of thirty dollars when filing a renewal of registration as an agent, and a fee of thirty dollars when filing for a change of registration as an agent. If the filing results in a denial or withdrawal, the administrator shall retain the fee.

3. Investment advisers. A person shall pay a fee of one hundred dollars when filing an application for registration as an investment adviser and a fee of one hundred dollars when filing a renewal of registration as an investment adviser. If the filing results in a denial or withdrawal, the administrator shall retain the fee.

4. Investment adviser representatives. The fee for an individual is thirty dollars when filing an application for registration as an investment adviser representative, a fee of thirty dollars when filing a renewal of registration as an investment adviser representative, and a fee of thirty dollars when filing for a change of registration as an investment adviser representative. If the filing results in a denial or withdrawal, the administrator shall retain the fee.

However, an investment adviser representative is not required to pay a filing fee if the investment adviser is a sole proprietorship or the substantial equivalent and the investment adviser representative is the same individual as the investment adviser.

5. Federal covered investment advisers. A federal covered investment adviser required to file a notice under section 502.405 shall pay an initial fee of one hundred dollars and an annual notice fee of one hundred dollars.

6. Payment. A person required to pay a filing or notice fee under this section may transmit the fee through or to a designee as a rule or order provides under this chapter.

502.411 Postregistration requirements.

1. Financial requirements. Subject to section 15(h) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78o(h), or section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80b-22, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may establish minimum financial requirements for broker-dealers registered or required to be registered under this chapter and investment advisers registered or required to be registered under this chapter.

2. Financial reports. Subject to section 15(h) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78o(h), or section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80b-22, a broker-dealer registered or required to be registered under this chapter and an investment adviser registered or required to be registered under this chapter shall file such financial reports as are required by a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter. If the information contained in a record filed under this subsection is or becomes inaccurate or incomplete in a material respect, the registrant shall promptly file a correcting amendment. The administrator may, by rule, assess a reasonable charge for the late filing of a financial report under this subsection.

   a. A broker-dealer registered or required to be registered under this chapter and an investment adviser registered or required to be registered under this chapter shall make and maintain the accounts, correspondence, memoranda, papers, books, and other records required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

   b. Broker-dealer records required to be maintained under paragraph “a” may be maintained in any form of data storage acceptable under section 17(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78q(a), if they are readily accessible to the administrator.

   c. Investment adviser records required to be maintained under paragraph “a” may be maintained in any form of data storage required by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

4. Audits or inspections. The records of a broker-dealer registered or required to be registered under this chapter and of an investment adviser registered or required to be registered under this chapter are subject to such reasonable periodic, special, or other audits or inspections by a representative of the administrator, within or without this state, as the administrator considers nec-essential or appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors. An audit or inspection may be made at any time and without prior notice. The administrator may copy, and remove for audit or inspection copies of, all records the administrator reasonably considers necessary or appropriate to conduct the audit or inspection. The administrator may assess a reasonable charge for conducting an audit or inspection under this subsection.

5. Custody and discretionary authority bond or insurance. Subject to section 15(h) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78o(h), or section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80b-22, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require a broker-dealer or investment adviser that has custody of or discretionary authority over funds or securities of a customer or client to obtain insurance or post a bond or other satisfactory form of security in an amount the administrator shall prescribe. The administrator may determine the requirements of the insurance, bond, or other satisfactory form of security. Insurance or a bond or other satisfactory form of security shall not be required of a broker-dealer registered under this chapter whose net capital exceeds, or of an investment adviser registered under this chapter whose minimum financial requirements exceed, the amounts required by rule or order under this chapter. The insurance, bond, or other satisfactory form of security must permit an action by a person to enforce any liability on the insurance, bond, or other satisfactory form of security if instituted within the time limitations in section 502.509, subsection 10, paragraph "b".

6. Requirements for custody. Subject to section 15(h) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. § 78o(h), or section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80b-22, an agent shall not have custody of funds or securities of a customer except under the supervision of a broker-dealer and an investment adviser representative shall not have custody of funds or securities of a client except under the supervision of an investment adviser or a federal covered investment adviser. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may prohibit, limit, or impose conditions on a broker-dealer regarding custody of funds or securities of a customer and on an investment adviser regarding custody of securities or funds of a client.

7. Investment adviser brochure rule. With respect to an investment adviser registered or required to be registered under this chapter, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require that information or other records be furnished or disseminated to clients or prospective clients in this state as necessary or appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and advisory clients.

8. Continuing education. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require an individual registered under section 502.402 or 502.404 to participate in a continuing education program approved by the securities and exchange commission and administered by a self-regulatory organization or, in the absence of such a program, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require continuing education for an individual registered under section 502.404.

502.412 Denial, revocation, suspension, withdrawal, restriction, condition, or limitation of registration.

1. Disciplinary conditions — applicants. If the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and subsection 4 authorizes the action, an order issued under this chapter may deny an application, or may condition or limit registration of an applicant to be a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative, and, if the applicant is a broker-dealer or investment adviser, of a partner, officer, director, or person having a similar status or performing similar functions, or a person directly or indirectly in control, of the broker-dealer or investment adviser.

2. Disciplinary conditions — registrants. If the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and subsection 4 authorizes the action, an order issued under this chapter may revoke, suspend, condition, or limit the registration of a registrant and, if the registrant is a broker-dealer or investment adviser, of a partner, officer, director, or person having a similar status or performing similar functions, or a person directly or indirectly in control, of the broker-dealer or investment adviser. However, the administrator shall not do any of the following:

a. Institute a revocation or suspension proceeding under this subsection based on an order issued under a law of another state that is reported to the administrator or a designee of the administrator more than one year after the date of the order on which it is based.

b. Under subsection 4, paragraph "e", subparagraph (1) or (2), issue an order on the basis of an order issued under the securities Act of another state unless the other order was based on conduct for which subsection 4 would authorize the action had the conduct occurred in this state.

3. Disciplinary penalties — registrants. If the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and subsection 4, paragraphs “a” through “f”, “h”, “i”, “j”, or “l”, and “m”, authorizes the action, an order under this chapter may suspend, impose a bar, or impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed a maximum of five thousand dollars for a single violation or five hundred thousand dollars for more than one violation, on a registrant, and, if the registrant is a broker-dealer or investment adviser, a partner, officer, director, or person having a similar status or performing similar functions, or a person directly or indirectly in control, of the broker-dealer or investment adviser.

4. Grounds for discipline. A person may be disciplined under subsections 1 through 3 if any of the following applies:

a. The person has filed an application for registration in this state under this chapter or the predecessor chapter within the previous ten years, which, as of the effective date of registration or as of any date after filing in the case of an order determining effectiveness, was incomplete in any material respect or contained a statement that, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, was false or misleading with respect to a material fact.

b. The person willfully violated or willfully failed to comply with this chapter or the predecessor chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter or the predecessor chapter within the previous ten years.

c. The person has been convicted of a felony or within the previous ten years has been convicted of a misdemeanor involving a security, a commodity future or option contract, or an aspect of a business involving securities, commodities, investments, franchises, insurance, banking, or finance.

d. The person is enjoined or restrained by a court of competent jurisdiction in an action instituted by the administrator under this chapter or the predecessor chapter, a state, the securities and exchange commission, or the United States from engaging in or continuing an act, practice, or course of business involving an aspect of a business involving securities, commodities, investments, franchises, insurance, banking, or finance.

e. The person is the subject of an order, issued after notice and opportunity for hearing, by any of the following:

1. The securities or other financial services regulator of a state or the securities and exchange commission or other federal agency denying, revoking, barring, or suspending registration as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, federal covered investment adviser, or investment adviser representative.

2. The securities regulator of a state or the securities and exchange commission or other federal agency, or a self-regulatory organization, suspending or expelling the registrant from membership in the self-regulatory organization.

3. A court adjudicating a United States postal service fraud order.

4. The insurance regulator of a state denying, suspending, or revoking registration as an insurance agent or insurance producer.

5. A depository institution regulator or financial services regulator suspending or barring the person from the depository institution or other financial services business.

f. The person is the subject of an adjudication or determination, after notice and opportunity for hearing, by the securities and exchange commission, the commodity futures trading commission, the federal trade commission, a federal depository institution regulator, or a depository institution, insurance, or other financial services regulator of a state that the person willfully violated the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or the Commodity Exchange Act, the securities or commodities law of a state, or a federal or state law under which a business involving investments, franchises, insurance, banking, or finance is regulated.

g. The person is insolvent, either because the person's liabilities exceed the person's assets or because the person cannot meet the person's obligations as they mature, but the administrator shall not enter an order against an applicant or registrant under this paragraph without a finding of insolvency as to the applicant or registrant.

h. The person refuses to allow or otherwise impedes the administrator from conducting an audit or inspection under section 502.411, subsection 4, or refuses access to a registrant's office to conduct an audit or inspection under section 502.411, subsection 4.

i. The person has failed to reasonably supervise an agent, investment adviser representative, or other individual, if the agent, investment adviser representative, or other individual was subject to the person's supervision and committed a violation of this chapter or the predecessor chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter or the predecessor chapter within the previous ten years.

j. The person has not paid the proper filing fee within thirty days after having been notified by the administrator of a deficiency, but the administrator shall vacate an order under this paragraph when the deficiency is corrected.

k. The person after notice and opportunity for a hearing has been found within the previous ten years to have done any of the following:

1. By a court of competent jurisdiction to have willfully violated the laws of a foreign jurisdiction under which the business of securities, commodities, investment, franchises, insurance, banking, or finance is regulated.

2. To have been the subject of an order of a securities regulator of a foreign jurisdiction denying, revoking, or suspending the right to engage in the business of securities as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, investment adviser representative, or similar person.

3. To have been suspended or expelled from membership by or participation in a securities exchange or securities association operating under the securities laws of a foreign jurisdiction.

1. The person is the subject of a cease and desist order issued by the securities and exchange commission or issued under the securities, commodities, investment, franchise, banking, finance, or insurance laws of a state.

m. The person has engaged in dishonest or unethical practices in the securities, commodities, investment, franchise, banking, finance, or insurance business within the previous ten years.

n. The person is not qualified on the basis of factors such as training, experience, and knowledge of the securities business. However, in the case of an application by an agent for a broker-dealer that is a member of a self-regulatory organization or by an individual for registration as an investment adviser representative, a denial order shall not be based on this paragraph if the individual has successfully completed all examinations required by subsection 5. The administrator may require an applicant for registration under section 502.402 or 502.404 who has not been registered in a state within the two years preceding the filing of an application in this state to successfully complete an examination.

5. Examinations. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require that an examination, including an examination developed or approved by an organization of securities regulators, be successfully completed by a class of individuals or all individuals. An order issued under this chapter may waive, in whole or in part, an examination as to an individual and a rule adopted under this chapter may waive, in whole or in part, an examination as to a class of individuals if the administrator determines that the examination is not necessary or appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors.

6. Summary process. The administrator may suspend or deny an application summarily; restrict, condition, limit, or suspend a registration; or censure, bar, or impose a civil penalty on a registrant before final determination of an administrative proceeding. Upon the issuance of an order, the administrator shall promptly notify each person subject to the order that the order has been issued, the reasons for the action, and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a request in a record from the person the matter will be scheduled for a hearing. If a hearing is not requested and none is ordered by the administrator within thirty days after the date of service of the order, the order becomes final by operation of law. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing to each person subject to the order, may modify or vacate the order or extend the order until final determination. Section 17A.18A is inapplicable to a summary order issued under this subsection.

7. Procedural requirements. An order issued shall not be issued under this section, except under subsection 6, without all of the following:

a. Provide appropriate notice to the applicant or registrant.

b. Opportunity for hearing.

c. Findings of fact and conclusions of law in a record in accordance with chapter 17A.

8. Control person liability. A person that controls, directly or indirectly, a person not in compliance with this section may be disciplined by order of the administrator under subsections 1 through 3 to the same extent as the noncomplying person, unless the controlling person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of conduct that is a ground for discipline under this section.

9. Limit on investigation or proceeding. The administrator shall not institute a proceeding under subsection 1, 2, or 3 based solely on material facts actually known by the administrator unless an investigation or the proceeding is instituted within one year after the administrator actually acquires knowledge of the material facts.

502.501A Prohibited transactions of broker-dealers and agents.

A broker-dealer or agent shall not effect a transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state by means of any manipulative, deceptive, or other fraudulent scheme, device, or contrivance, fictitious quotation, or in violation of this chapter. A broker-dealer or agent shall not recommend to a customer the purchase, sale, or exchange of a security without reasonable grounds to believe that the transaction or recommendation is suitable for the customer based upon reasonable inquiry concerning the customer's investment objectives, financial situation and needs, and other relevant information known by the broker-dealer.

502.502 Prohibited conduct in providing investment advice.
1. Fraud in providing investment advice. It is unlawful for a person that advises others for compensation, either directly or indirectly or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities or the advisability of investing in, purchasing, or selling securities or that, for compensation and as part of a regular business, issues or promulgates analyses or reports relating to securities to do any of the following:
a. Employ a device, scheme, or artifice to defraud another person.
b. Engage in an act, practice, or course of business that operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon another person.

2. Rules defining fraud. A rule adopted under this chapter may define an act, practice, or course of business of an investment adviser or an investment adviser representative, other than a supervised person of a federal covered investment adviser, as fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative, and prescribe means reasonably designed to prevent investment advisers and investment adviser representatives, other than supervised persons of a federal covered investment adviser, from engaging in acts, practices, and courses of business defined as fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative.

3. Rules specifying contents of advisory contract. A rule adopted under this chapter may specify the contents of an investment advisory contract entered into, extended, or renewed by an investment adviser.

502.503 Evidentiary burden.
1. Civil. In a civil action or administrative proceeding under this chapter, a person claiming an exemption, exception, preemption, or exclusion has the burden of proving the applicability of the claim.

502.504 Filing of sales and advertising literature.
1. Filing requirement. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may require the filing of a prospectus, pamphlet, circular, form letter, advertisement, sales literature, or other advertising record relating to a security or investment advice, addressed or intended for distribution to prospective investors, including clients or prospective clients of a person registered or required to be registered as an investment adviser under this chapter.

2. Excluded communications. This section does not apply to sales and advertising literature specified in subsection 1 which relates to a federal covered security, a federal covered investment adviser, or a security or transaction exempted by section 502.201, 502.202, or 502.203 except as required pursuant to section 502.201, subsection 7.

2A. Authority to prohibit false advertising. The administrator may by rule or order prohibit the publication, circulation, or use of any advertising deemed false or misleading.

§502.509 Civil liability.

2. Liability of seller to purchaser. A person is liable to the purchaser if the person sells a security in violation of section 502.301 or, by means of an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statement made, in light of the circumstances under which it is made, not misleading, the purchaser not knowing the untruth or omission and the seller not sustaining the burden of proof that the seller did not know and, in the exercise of reasonable care, could not have known of the untruth or omission. An action under this subsection is governed by the following:
   a. The purchaser may maintain an action to recover the consideration paid for the security, less the amount of any income received on the security, and interest at the legal rate from the date of the purchase, costs, and reasonable attorney fees determined by the court, upon the tender of the security, or for actual damages as provided in paragraph “c”.
   b. The tender referred to in paragraph “a” may be made any time before entry of judgment. Tender requires only notice in a record of ownership of the security and willingness to exchange the security for the amount specified. A purchaser that no longer owns the security may recover actual damages as provided in paragraph “c”.
   c. Actual damages in an action arising under this subsection are the amount that would be recoverable upon a tender less the value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it, and interest at the legal rate from the date of the purchase, costs, and reasonable attorney fees determined by the court.

3. Liability of purchaser to seller. A person is liable to the seller if the person buys a security by means of an untrue statement of a material fact or omission to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statement made, in light of the circumstances under which it is made, not misleading, the seller not knowing of the untruth or omission, and the purchaser not sustaining the burden of proof that the purchaser did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care, could not have known of the untruth or omission. An action under this subsection is governed by all of the following:

a. The seller may maintain an action to recover the security, and any income received on the security, costs, and reasonable attorney fees determined by the court, upon the tender of the purchase price, or for actual damages as provided in paragraph "c".

b. The tender referred to in paragraph "a" may be made any time before entry of judgment. Tender requires only notice in a record of the present ability to pay the amount tendered and willingness to take delivery of the security for the amount specified. If the purchaser no longer owns the security, the seller may recover actual damages as provided in paragraph "c".

c. Actual damages in an action arising under this subsection are the difference between the price at which the security was sold and the value the security would have had at the time of the sale in the absence of the purchaser’s conduct causing liability, and interest at the legal rate from the date of the sale of the security, costs, and reasonable attorney fees determined by the court.

4. Liability of unregistered broker-dealer and agent. A person acting as a broker-dealer or agent that sells or buys a security in violation of section 502.401, subsection 1, section 502.402, subsection 1, or section 502.506 is liable to the customer. The customer, if a purchaser, may maintain an action for recovery of actual damages as specified in subsection 2, paragraphs "a" through "c", or, if a seller, for a remedy as specified in subsection 3, paragraphs "a" through "c".

5. Liability of unregistered investment adviser and investment adviser representative. A person acting as an investment adviser or investment adviser representative that provides investment advice for compensation in violation of section 502.403, subsection 1, section 502.404, subsection 1, or section 502.506 is liable to the client. The client may maintain an action to recover the consideration paid for the advice, interest at the legal rate from the date of payment, costs, and reasonable attorney fees determined by the court and taxed as court costs.

6. Liability for investment advice. A person that receives directly or indirectly any consideration for providing investment advice to another person and that employs a device, scheme, or artifice to defraud the other person or engages in an act, practice, or course of business that operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit on the other person is liable to the other person. An action under this subsection is governed by all of the following:

a. The person defrauded may maintain an action to recover the consideration paid for the advice and the amount of any actual damages caused by the fraudulent conduct, interest at the legal rate from the date of the fraudulent conduct, costs, and reasonable attorney fees determined by the court, less the amount of any income received as a result of the fraudulent conduct.

b. This subsection does not apply to a broker-dealer or its agents if the investment advice provided is solely incidental to transacting business as a broker-dealer and no special compensation is received for the investment advice.

7. Joint and several liability. The following persons are liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as persons liable under subsections 2 through 6:

a. A person that directly or indirectly controls a person liable under subsections 2 through 6, unless the controlling person sustains the burden of proof that the person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of conduct by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

b. An individual who is a managing partner, executive officer, or director of a person liable under subsections 2 through 6, including an individual having a similar status or performing similar functions, unless the individual sustains the burden of proof that the individual did not know and, in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of conduct by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

c. An individual who is an employee of or associated with a person liable under subsections 2 through 6 or a person, whether an employee of such person or otherwise, who materially aids in the act or transaction constituting the violation, and who materially aids the conduct giving rise to the liability, unless the individual sustains the burden of proof that the individual did not know and, in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of conduct by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

d. A person that is a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative that materially aids the conduct giving rise to the liability under subsections 2 through 6, unless the person sustains the burden of proof that the person did not know and, in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of conduct by reason of which liability is alleged to exist.
8. Right of contribution. A person liable under this section has a right of contribution as in cases of contract against any other person liable under this section for the same conduct.

9. Survival of cause of action. A cause of action under this section survives the death of an individual who might have been a plaintiff or defendant.

10. Statute of limitations. A person shall not obtain relief under any of the following:

   a. Under subsection 2 for violation of section 502.301, or under subsection 4 or 5, unless the action is instituted within one year after the violation occurred.

   b. Under subsection 2, other than for violation of section 502.301, or under subsection 3 or 6, unless the action is instituted within the earlier of two years after discovery of the facts constituting the violation or five years after the violation.

11. No enforcement of violative contract. A person that has made, or has engaged in the performance of, a contract in violation of this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, or that has acquired a purported right under the contract with knowledge of conduct by reason of which its making or performance was in violation of this chapter, shall not base an action on the contract.

12. No contractual waiver. A condition, stipulation, or provision binding a person purchasing or selling a security or receiving investment advice to waive compliance with this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter is void.

13. Survival of other rights or remedies. The rights and remedies provided by this chapter are in addition to any other rights or remedies that may exist, but this chapter does not create a cause of action not specified in this section or section 502.411, subsection 5.

   13A. Informational filing with the administrator. A copy of any suit or arbitration action filed under this section shall be served upon the administrator within twenty days of the filing in the form and manner prescribed by the administrator by rule or order, provided that all of the following apply:

   a. The failure to comply with this provision shall not invalidate the action which is the subject of the suit.

   b. The suit or arbitration action has not been filed in a record with the central registration depository or the investment adviser registration depository.

   13B. Liability for takeover violations. Any person who violates section 502.321B shall be liable to the person selling the security to such violator, which seller may sue either at law or in equity to recover the security, costs, and reasonable attorney fees, plus any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received by the purchaser thereon, upon tender of the consideration received, or for damages if the purchaser no longer owns the security. Damages shall be the excess of the value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it, plus interest at the legal rate from the date of disposition, over the consideration paid for the security. Tender requires only notice of willingness to pay an amount specified in exchange for the security. Any notice may be given by service as in civil actions or by certified mail to the last known address of the person liable.

In addition to other remedies provided in this chapter, in a proceeding alleging a violation of article 3A, the court may provide that all shares acquired from a resident of this state in violation of any provision of this chapter or rule or order issued pursuant to this chapter be denied voting rights for one year after acquisition, that the shares be nontransferable on the books of the target company, or that during this one-year period the target company have the option to call the shares for redemption at the price at which the shares were acquired or at book value per share as of the last day of the fiscal quarter ended prior to the date of the call for redemption, which redemption shall occur on the date set in the call notice but not later than sixty days after the call notice is given.

502.510 Recision offers.

A purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice may not maintain an action under section 502.509 if all of the following apply:

1. The purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice receives in a record, before the action is instituted, any of the following:

   a. An offer stating the respect in which liability under section 502.509 may have arisen and fairly advising the purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice of that person's rights in connection with the offer, and any financial or other information necessary to correct all material misrepresentations or omissions in the information that was required by this chapter to be furnished to that person at the time of the purchase, sale, or investment advice.

   b. If the basis for relief under this section may have been a violation of section 502.509, subsection 2, an offer to repurchase the security for cash, payable on delivery of the security, equal to the consideration paid, and interest at the legal rate from the date of the purchase, less the amount of any income received on the security; or, if the purchaser no longer owns the security, an offer to pay the purchaser upon acceptance of the offer damages in an amount that would be recoverable upon a tender, less the value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it, and interest at the legal rate from the date the purchaser in cash equal to the damages computed in the manner provided in this subsection.

c. If the basis for relief under this section may have been a violation of section 502.509, subsection 3, an offer to tender the security, on payment by the seller of an amount equal to the purchase price paid, less income received on the security by the purchaser and interest at the legal rate from the date of the sale; or if the purchaser no longer owns the security, an offer to pay the seller upon acceptance of the offer, in cash, damages in the amount of the difference between the price at which the security was purchased and the value the security would have had at the time of the purchase in the absence of the purchaser's conduct that may have caused liability and interest at the legal rate of interest from the date of the sale.

d. If the basis for relief under this section may have been a violation of section 502.509, subsection 4; and if the customer is a purchaser, an offer to pay as specified in paragraph "b"; or, if the customer is a seller, an offer to tender or to pay as specified in paragraph "c".

e. If the basis for relief under this section may have been a violation of section 502.509, subsection 3, an offer to reimburse in cash the consideration paid for the advice and interest at the legal rate from the date of payment.

f. If the basis for relief under this section may have been a violation of section 502.509, subsection 6, an offer to reimburse in cash the consideration paid for the advice, the amount of any actual damages that may have been caused by the conduct, and interest at the legal rate from the date of the violation causing the loss.

2. The offer under subsection 1 states that it must be accepted by the purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice within thirty days after the date of its receipt by the purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice or any shorter period, of not less than three days, that the administrator, by order, specifies.

3. The offeror has the present ability to pay the amount offered or to tender the security under subsection 1.

4. The offer under subsection 1 is delivered to the purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice, or sent in a manner that ensures receipt by the purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice.

5. The purchaser, seller, or recipient of investment advice that accepts the offer under subsection 1 in a record within the period specified under subsection 2 is paid in accordance with the terms of the offer.

6. If the basis for relief under this section alleges a violation of section 502.509 which employed a device, scheme, or artifice to defraud, made an untrue statement of a material fact necessary in order to make the statement made, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, not misleading, or engaged in an act, practice, or course of business that operated or would operate as a fraud or deceit on another person, the offer is filed with the administrator ten business days before the offering and conforms in form and content with a rule prescribed by the administrator.

ADMINISTRATION AND JUDICIAL REVIEW

502.601 Administration.

1. Administration. This chapter shall be administered by the commissioner of insurance of this state. The administrator shall appoint a deputy administrator who shall be exempt from the merit system provisions of chapter 8A, subchapter IV. The deputy administrator is the principal operations officer of the securities bureau of the insurance division of the department of commerce. The deputy administrator is responsible to the administrator for the routine administration of this chapter and the management of the securities bureau. In the absence of the administrator, whether because of vacancy in the office, by reason of absence, physical disability, or other cause, the deputy administrator shall be the acting administrator and shall, for that period, have and exercise the authority conferred upon the administrator. The administrator may by order delegate to the deputy administrator any or all of the functions assigned to the administrator under this chapter. The administrator shall employ officers, attorneys, accountants, and other employees as needed for the administration of the chapter.

2. Unlawful use of records or information. It is unlawful for the administrator or an officer, employee, or designee of the administrator to use for personal benefit or the benefit of others records or other information obtained by or filed with the administrator that are not public under section 502.607, subsection 2. This chapter does not authorize the administrator or an officer, employee, or designee of the administrator to disclose the record or information, except in accordance with section 502.602, section 502.607, subsection 3, or section 502.608.

3. No privilege or exemption created or diminished. This chapter does not create or diminish a privilege or exemption that exists at common law, by statute or rule, or otherwise.

4. Investor education. The administrator may develop and implement investor education initiatives to inform the public about investing in securities, with particular emphasis on the prevention and detection of securities fraud. In developing and implementing these initiatives, the administrator may collaborate with public and nonprofit organizations with an interest in investor education.
502.602 Investigations and subpoenas.

1. Authority to investigate. The administrator may do any of the following:
   a. Conduct public or private investigations within or outside of this state which the administrator considers necessary or appropriate to determine whether a person has violated, is violating, or is about to violate this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter or in the adoption of rules and forms under this chapter.
   b. Require or permit a person to testify, file a statement, produce records, or other evidence compelled under this chapter on the ground that the required testimony, statement, record, or other evidence, directly or indirectly, may tend to incriminate the individual or subject the individual to a criminal fine, penalty, or forfeiture. If the individual refuses to testify, file a statement, or produce a record or other evidence on the basis of the individual’s privilege against self-incrimination, the administrator may apply to the district court to compel the testimony, the filing of the statement, the production of the record, or the giving of other evidence. The testimony, record, or other evidence compelled under such an order shall not be used, directly or indirectly, against the individual in a criminal case, except in a prosecution for perjury or contempt or otherwise failing to comply with the order.
   c. Notwithstanding section 502.607, subsection 2, publish a record concerning an action, proceeding, or an investigation under, or a violation of, this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter if the administrator determines it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors.
   d. Impose a civil penalty of an amount not to exceed twenty thousand dollars for a single violation or five hundred thousand dollars for more than one violation.
   e. Grant injunctive relief, including restricting or prohibiting the offer or sale of securities or the providing of investment advice.
   f. Impose a civil penalty of an amount not to exceed a maximum of five thousand dollars for a single violation or five hundred thousand dollars for more than one violation.
   g. Grant any other necessary or appropriate relief.

2. Administrator powers to investigate. For the purpose of an investigation under this chapter, the administrator or the administrator’s designated officer may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, seek compulsion of attendance, take evidence, require the filing of statements, and require the production of any records that the administrator considers relevant or material to the investigation, all of which may be enforced pursuant to chapter 17A.

3. Procedure and remedies for noncompliance. If a person does not appear or refuses to testify, file a statement, produce records, or otherwise does not obey a subpoena as required by the administrator under this chapter, the administrator may apply to district court or a court of another state to enforce compliance. The court may do any of the following:
   a. Hold the person in contempt.
   b. Order the person to appear before the administrator.
   c. Order the person to testify about the matter under investigation or in question.
   d. Order the production of records.
   e. Grant injunctive relief, including restricting or prohibiting the offer or sale of securities or the providing of investment advice.
   f. Impose a civil penalty of an amount not to exceed a maximum of five thousand dollars for a single violation or five hundred thousand dollars for more than one violation.
   g. Grant any other necessary or appropriate relief.

4. Application for relief. This section does not preclude a person from applying to district court or a court of another state for relief from a request to appear, testify, file a statement, produce records, or obey a subpoena.

5. Use immunity procedure. An individual is not excused from attending, testifying, filing a statement, producing a record or other evidence, or obeying a subpoena of the administrator under this chapter or in an action or proceeding instituted by the administrator under this chapter on the ground that the required testimony, statement, record, or other evidence, directly or indirectly, against self-incrimination, the administrator may apply to the district court to compel the testimony, the filing of the statement, the production of the record, or the giving of other evidence. The testimony, record, or other evidence compelled under such an order shall not be used, directly or indirectly, against the individual in a criminal case, except in a prosecution for perjury or contempt or otherwise failing to comply with the order.

6. Assistance to securities regulator of another state.
jurisdiction. At the request of the securities regulator of another state or a foreign jurisdiction, the administrator may provide assistance if the requesting regulator states that it is conducting an investigation to determine whether a person has violated, is violating, or is about to violate a law or rule of the other state or foreign jurisdiction relating to securities matters that the requesting regulator administers or enforces. The administrator may provide the assistance by using the authority to investigate and the powers conferred by this section as the administrator determines is necessary or appropriate. The assistance may be provided without regard to whether the conduct described in the request would also constitute a violation of this chapter or other law of this state if occurring in this state. In deciding whether to provide the assistance, the administrator may consider whether the requesting regulator is permitted and has agreed to provide assistance reciprocally within its state or foreign jurisdiction to the administrator on securities matters when requested, whether compliance with the request would violate or prejudice the public policy of this state, and the availability of resources and employees of the administrator to carry out the request for assistance.

§502.603 Civil enforcement.

1. Civil action instituted by administrator. If the administrator believes that a person has engaged, is engaging, or is about to engage in an act, practice, or course of business constituting a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter or that a person has materially aided, is materially aiding, or is about to materially aid an act, practice, or course of business constituting a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter, the administrator may maintain an action in the district court to enjoin the act, practice, or course of business or to take other action necessary or appropriate to comply with this chapter.

2. Relief available. In an action under this section and on a proper showing, the court may do any of the following:

a. Issue a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or declaratory judgment.

b. Order other appropriate or ancillary relief, which may include any of the following:

(1) Ordering an asset freeze, accounting, writ of attachment, writ of general or specific execution, and appointment of a receiver or conservator, that may be the administrator, for the defendant or the defendant’s assets.

(2) Ordering the administrator to take charge and control of a defendant’s property, including investment accounts and accounts in a depository institution, rents, and profits; to collect debts; and to acquire and dispose of property.

(3) Imposing a civil penalty not to exceed a maximum of five thousand dollars for a single violation or five hundred thousand dollars for more than one violation; an order of rescission, restitution, or disgorgement directed to a person that has engaged in an act, practice, or course of business constituting a violation of this chapter or the predecessor chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter or the predecessor chapter.

(4) Ordering the payment of prejudgment and postjudgment interest.

c. Order such other relief as the court considers appropriate.

3. No bond required. The administrator shall not be required to post a bond in an action or proceeding under this chapter.

4. Cooperation with other agencies.

a. Issue an order denying, suspending, revoking, or conditioning the exemptions for a broker-dealer under section 502.401, subsection 2, paragraph “a”, subparagraph (4) or (6), or an investment adviser under section 502.403, subsection 2, paragraph “a”, subparagraph (3).

b. Issue an order under section 502.204.

c. Issue an order under section 502.204.

d. Summary proceeding. An order under subsection 1 is effective on the date of issuance. Upon is-issuance of the order, the administrator shall promptly serve each person subject to the order with a copy of the order and a notice that the order has been entered. The order must include a statement of any civil penalty or costs of investigation the administrator will seek, a statement of the reasons for the order, and notice that, within fifteen days after receipt of a request in a record from the person, the matter will be scheduled for a hearing. If a person subject to the order does not request a hearing and none is ordered by the administrator within thirty days after the date of service of the order, the order, including the imposition of a civil penalty or requirement for payment of costs of investigation sought in the order, becomes final as to that person by operation of law. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing to each person subject to the order, may modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.

3. Procedure for final order. If a hearing is requested or ordered pursuant to subsection 2, a hearing must be held pursuant to chapter 17A. A final order shall not be issued unless the administrator makes findings of fact and conclusions of law in a record in accordance with chapter 17A. The final order may make final, vacate, or modify the order issued under subsection 1.

4. Civil penalty. In a final order under subsection 3, the administrator may impose a civil penalty up to an amount not to exceed a maximum of five thousand dollars for a single violation or five hundred thousand dollars for more than one violation.

5. Costs. In a final order, the administrator may charge the actual cost of an investigation or proceeding for a violation of this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

6. Filing of certified final order with court — effect of filing. If a petition for judicial review of a final order is not filed in accordance with section 502.609, the administrator may file a certified copy of the final order with the clerk of a court of competent jurisdiction. The order so filed has the same effect as a judgment of the court and may be recorded, enforced, or satisfied in the same manner as a judgment of the court.

7. Enforcement by court — further civil penalty. If a person does not comply with an order under this section, the administrator may petition a court of competent jurisdiction to enforce the order. The court shall not require the administrator to post a bond in an action or proceeding under this section. If the court finds, after service and opportunity for hearing, that the person was not in compliance with the order, the court may adjudge the person in civil contempt of the order. The court may impose a further civil penalty against the person for contempt in an amount not less than three thousand dollars but not greater than ten thousand dollars for each violation and may grant any other relief the court determines is just and proper in the circumstances.

502.604A Limited law enforcement authority.

The administrator or the administrator's designee, when carrying out the provisions of section 502.603 or 502.604, may develop, share, and receive information related to any law enforcement purpose, including any criminal investigation. The administrator or designee shall not have the authority to issue criminal subpoenas or make arrests. The administrator or designee shall not be considered a peace officer, including as provided in chapter 801.

502.605 Rules, forms, orders, interpretative opinions, and hearings.

1. Issuance and adoption of forms, orders, and rules. Pursuant to chapter 17A, the administrator may do any of the following:

a. Issue forms and orders and, after notice and comment, may adopt and amend rules necessary or appropriate to carry out this chapter and may repeal rules, including rules and forms governing registration statements, applications, notice filings, reports, and other records.

b. Define terms, whether or not used in this chapter, but those definitions shall not be inconsistent with this chapter.

c. Classify securities, persons, and transactions and adopt different requirements for different classes.

2. Findings and cooperation. Under this chapter, a rule or form shall not be adopted or amended, or an order issued or amended, unless the administrator finds that the rule, form, order, or amendment is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and is consistent with the purposes intended by this chapter. In adopting, amending, and repealing rules and forms, section 502.608 applies in order to achieve uniformity among the states and coordination with federal laws in the form and content of registration statements, applications, reports, and other records, including the adoption of uniform rules, forms, and procedures.

3. Financial statements. Subject to section 15(h) of the Securities Exchange Act and section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the administrator may require that a financial statement filed under this chapter be prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States and comply with other requirements specified by rule adopted or order issued under this chapter. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may establish any of the following:

   a. Subject to section 15(h) of the Securities Exchange Act and section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the form and content of financial statements required under this chapter.

   b. Whether unconsolidated financial statements must be filed.

   c. Whether required financial statements must be audited by an independent certified public accountant.

4. Interpretative opinions. The administrator may provide interpretative opinions or issue determinations that the administrator will not institute a proceeding or an action under this chapter against a specified person for engaging in a specified act, practice, or course of business if the determination is consistent with this chapter. A rule adopted or order issued under this chapter may establish a reasonable charge for interpretative opinions or determinations that the administrator will not institute an action or a proceeding under this chapter.

5. Effect of compliance. A penalty under this chapter shall not be imposed for, and liability does not arise from, conduct that is engaged in or omitted in good faith believing it conforms to a rule, form, or order of the administrator under this chapter.

6. Presumption for public hearings. A hearing in an administrative proceeding under this chapter must be conducted in public unless the administrator for good cause consistent with this chapter determines that the hearing will not be so conducted.

502.607 Public records — confidentiality.

1. Presumption of public records. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, records obtained by the administrator or filed under this chapter, including a record contained in or filed with a registration statement, application, notice filing, or report, are public records and are available for public examination.

2. Nonpublic records. Notwithstanding chapter 22, the following records are not public records and are not available for public examination under subsection 1:

   a. A record obtained by the administrator in connection with an audit or inspection under section 502.411, subsection 4, or an investigation under section 502.602.

   b. A part of a record filed in connection with a registration statement under sections 502.301 and 502.303 through 502.305 or a record under section 502.411, subsection 4, that contains trade secrets or confidential information if the person filing the registration statement or report has asserted a claim of confidentiality or privilege that is authorized by law.

   c. A record that is not required to be provided to the administrator or filed under this chapter and is provided to the administrator only on the condition that the record will not be subject to public examination or disclosure.

   d. A nonpublic record received from a person specified in section 502.608, subsection 1.
502.608 Uniformity and cooperation with other agencies.

1. Objective of uniformity. The administrator shall, in its discretion, cooperate, coordinate, consult, and, subject to section 502.607, share records and information with the securities regulator of another state, Canada, a Canadian province or territory, a foreign jurisdiction, the securities and exchange commission, the United States department of justice, the commodity futures trading commission, the federal trade commission, the securities investor protection corporation, a self-regulatory organization, a national or international organization of securities regulators, a federal or state banking and insurance regulator, and a governmental law enforcement agency to effectuate greater uniformity in securities matters among the federal government, self-regulatory organizations, states, and foreign governments.

2. Policies to consider. In cooperating, coordinating, consulting, and sharing records and information under this section and in acting by rule, order, or waiver under this chapter, the administrator shall, in its discretion, take into consideration in carrying out the public interest, all of the following general policies:
   a. Maximizing effectiveness of regulation for the protection of investors.
   b. Maximizing uniformity in federal and state regulatory standards.
   c. Minimizing burdens on the business of capital formation, without adversely affecting essentials of investor protection.

3. Subjects for cooperation. The cooperation, coordination, consultation, and sharing of records and information authorized by this section includes all of the following:
   a. Establishing or employing one or more designees as a central depository for registration and notice filings under this chapter and for records required or allowed to be maintained under this chapter.
   b. Developing and maintaining uniform forms.
   c. Conducting a joint examination or investigation.
   d. Holding a joint administrative hearing.
   e. Instituting and prosecuting a joint civil or administrative proceeding.
   f. Sharing and exchanging personnel.
   g. Coordinating registrations under sections 502.301 and 502.401 through 502.404 and exemptions under section 502.203.
   h. Sharing and exchanging records, subject to section 502.607.
   i. Formulating rules, statements of policy, guidelines, forms, and interpretative opinions and releases.
   j. Formulating common systems and procedures.
   k. Notifying the public of proposed rules, forms, statements of policy, and guidelines.
   l. Attending conferences and other meetings among securities regulators, which may include representatives of governmental and private sector organizations involved in capital formation, deemed necessary or appropriate to promote or achieve uniformity.
   m. Developing and maintaining a uniform exemption from registration for small issuers, and taking other steps to reduce the burden of raising investment capital by small businesses.

502.609 Judicial review of orders.

A final order issued by the administrator under this chapter is subject to judicial review in accordance with chapter 17A.
502.610 Jurisdiction.
1. Sales and offers to sell. Sections 502.301, 502.302, 502.401, subsection 1, 502.402, subsection 1, 502.403, subsection 1, 502.404, subsection 1, 502.501, 502.506, 502.509, and 502.510 do not apply to a person that sells or offers to sell a security unless the offer to sell or the sale is made in this state or the offer to purchase or the purchase is made and accepted in this state.

2. Purchases and offers to purchase. Sections 502.401, subsection 1, 502.402, subsection 1, 502.403, subsection 1, 502.404, subsection 1, 502.501, 502.506, 502.509, and 502.510 do not apply to a person that purchases or offers to purchase a security unless the offer to purchase or the purchase is made in this state or the offer to sell or the sale is made and accepted in this state.

3. Offers in this state. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell or to purchase a security is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, if any of the following apply to the offer:
   a. The offer originates from within this state.
   b. The offer is directed by the offeror to a place in this state and received at the place to which it is directed.

4. Acceptances in this state. For the purpose of this section, an offer to purchase or to sell is accepted in this state, whether or not neither party is then present in this state, if all of the following apply to the acceptance:
   a. The acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state and the offeree reasonably believes the offeror to be present in this state and the acceptance is received at the place in this state to which it is directed.
   b. The acceptance has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally or in a record, outside this state.

5. Publications, radio, television, or electronic communications. An offer to sell or to purchase is not made in this state when a publisher circulates or there is circulated on the publisher’s behalf in this state a bona fide newspaper or other publication of general, regular, and paid circulation that is not published in this state, or that is published in this state but has had more than two-thirds of its circulation outside this state during the previous twelve months or when a radio or television program or other electronic communication originating outside this state is received in this state. A radio or television program, or other electronic communication, is considered as having originated in this state if either the broadcast studio or the originating source of transmission is located in this state, unless any of the following apply:
   a. The program or communication is syndicated and distributed from outside this state for redistribution to the general public in this state.
   b. The program or communication is supplied by a radio, television, or other electronic network with the electronic signal originating from outside this state for redistribution to the general public in this state.
   c. The program or communication is an electronic communication that originates outside this state and is captured for redistribution to the general public in this state by a community antenna or cable, radio, cable television, or other electronic system.
   d. The program or communication consists of an electronic communication that originates in this state, but which is not intended for distribution to the general public in this state.

6. Investment advice and misrepresentations. Sections 502.403, subsection 1, 502.404, subsection 1, 502.405, subsection 1, 502.502, 502.505, and 502.506 apply to a person if the person engages in an act, practice, or course of business instrumental in effecting prohibited or actionable conduct in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state.

502.611 Service of process.
1. Signed consent to service of process. A consent to service of process required by this chapter must be signed and filed in the form required by a rule or order under this chapter. A consent appointing the administrator the person’s agent for service of process in a noncriminal action or proceeding against the person, or the person’s successor or personal representative under this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter after the consent is filed, has the same force and validity as if the service were made personally on the person filing the consent. A person that has filed a consent complying with this subsection in connection with a previous application for registration or notice filing need not file an additional consent.

2. Conduct constituting appointment of agent for service. If a person, including a nonresident of this state, engages in an act, practice, or course of business prohibited or made actionable by this chapter or a rule adopted or order issued under this chapter and the person has not filed a consent to service of process under subsection 1, the act, practice, or course of business constitutes the appointment of the administrator as the person’s agent for service of process in a noncriminal action or proceeding against the person or the person’s successor or personal representative.

3. Procedure for service of process. Service under subsection 1 or 2 may be made by providing a copy of the process to the office of the administrator, but it is not effective unless all of the following apply:
   a. The plaintiff, which may be the administrator, promptly sends notice of the service and a copy of the process, return receipt requested, to the defendant or respondent at the address set forth in the consent to service of process or, if a consent to service of process has not been filed, at the last known address, or takes other reasonable steps to give notice.
   b. The plaintiff files an affidavit of compliance with this subsection in the action or proceeding on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within the time that the court, or the administrator in a proceeding before the administrator, allows.
   4. Service in administrative proceedings or civil actions by administrator. Service pursuant to subsection 3 may be used in a proceeding before the administrator or by the administrator in a civil action in which the administrator is the moving party.
   5. Opportunity to defend. If process is served under subsection 3, the court, or the administrator in a proceeding before the administrator, shall order continuances as are necessary or appropriate to afford the defendant or respondent reasonable opportunity to defend.

502.612 Severability clause.
If any provision of this chapter or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of this chapter that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable.
2004 Acts, ch 1161, §62, 68 Section takes effect January 1, 2005; 2004 Acts, ch 1161, §68

ARTICLE 7
JOINT INVESTMENT TRUSTS

502.701 Public joint investment trusts.
1. A joint investment trust organized pursuant to chapter 28E for the purposes of joint investment of public funds is subject to the jurisdiction and authority of the administrator, including all requirements of this chapter, except the registration provisions of sections 502.301 and 502.321.
   2. The administrator may make examinations within or without the state, of the business and records of each joint investment trust, at the times and in the scope as the administrator determines. The administrator shall have the authority to contract for outside professional services in the conduct of examinations. The examinations may be made without prior notice to the joint investment trust or the trust’s investment advisor. The administrator may copy all records the administrator feels are necessary to conduct the examination. The expense reasonably attributable to the examination shall be paid by the joint investment trusts whose business is examined. For the purpose of avoiding unnecessary duplication of examinations, the administrator may cooperate with other regulatory authorities.

SUBCHAPTER I

502A.1 Definitions.

For purposes of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Administrator” means the administrator of the securities bureau of the insurance division of the department of commerce.

2. “Board of trade” means a person or group of persons engaged in buying or selling any commodity or receiving the same for sale on consignment, whether the person or group of persons is characterized as a board of trade, exchange, or other form of marketplace.

3. “CFTC rule” means a regulation or order of the commodity futures trading commission in effect on July 1, 1990, and all subsequent amendments, additions or other revisions to the regulation or order, unless the administrator, within ten days following the effective date of the amendment, addition, or revision, disallows the application to this chapter in whole or in part by rule or order.

4. “Commodity” means, except as otherwise specified by the administrator by rule or order: an agricultural, grain, or livestock product or by-product; a metal or mineral, including a precious metal; a gem or gemstone, whether characterized as precious, semiprecious or otherwise; a fuel, whether liquid, gaseous or otherwise; a foreign currency; and all other goods, articles, products, or items of any kind.

The term commodity does not include any of the following:

a. A numismatic coin whose fair market value is at least fifteen percent higher than the value of the metal it contains.

b. Real property or any timber, agricultural, or livestock product grown or raised on real property and offered or sold by the owner or lessee of such real property.

c. Any work of art offered or sold by art dealers, at public auction, or offered or sold through a private sale by the owner of the work of art.

5. “Commodity contract” means an account, agreement, or contract for the purchase or sale, primarily for speculation or investment purposes and not for use or consumption by the offeree or purchaser, of one or more commodities, whether for immediate or subsequent delivery or whether delivery is intended by the parties, and whether characterized as a cash contract, deferred shipment or deferred delivery contract, forward contract, futures contract, installment or margin contract, leverage contract, or otherwise. A commodity contract offered or sold, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, shall be presumed to be offered or sold for speculation or investment purposes. A commodity contract does not include a contract or agreement which requires, and under which the purchaser receives, within twenty-eight days from the payment in good funds of any portion of the purchase price, physical delivery of the total amount of each commodity to be purchased under the contract or agreement.

6. “Commodity Exchange Act” means the federal Commodity Exchange Act, as amended to July 1, 1990, codified at 7 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., and all subsequent amendments, additions, or other revisions to the Act, unless the administrator, within ten days following the effective date of the amendment, addition, or revision, disallows its application to this chapter in whole or in part by rule or order.

7. “Commodity futures trading commission” or “CFTC” means the independent regulatory agency established by the United States Congress to administer the Commodity Exchange Act.

8. “Commodity merchant” means any of the following as defined or described in the Commodity Exchange Act or by CFTC rule:

   a. A futures commission merchant.
   b. A commodity pool operator.
   c. A commodity trading adviser.
   d. An introducing broker.
   e. A leverage transaction merchant.
   f. An associated person of any of the persons listed in paragraphs “a” through “e”.
   g. A floor broker.
   h. Any other person, other than a futures association, required to register with the commodity futures trading commission.

9. “Commodity option” means an account, agreement, or contract giving a party to the account, agreement, or contract the right but not the obligation to purchase or sell one or more commodities or one or more commodity contracts, whether characterized as an option, privilege, indemnity, bid, offer, put, call, advance guaranty, decline guaranty or otherwise, but shall not include an option traded on a national securities exchange registered with the United States securities and exchange commission.

10. “Financial institution” means a bank, savings institution, or trust company organized under, or supervised pursuant to, the laws of the United States or of any state.

11. “Offer” includes every offer to sell, offer to purchase, or offer to enter into a commodity contract or commodity option.

12. “Person” means a person as defined in section 4.1, but does not include a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission or any clearinghouse of the CFTC or a national securities exchange registered with the securities and exchange commission, or any employee, officer, or director of a contract market, clearinghouse, or exchange acting solely in that capacity.

13. “Precious metal” means one or more of the following in either coin, bullion, or other form:

   a. Silver.
§502A.2 Unlawful commodity transactions.

Except as otherwise provided in section 502A.3 or 502A.4, a person shall not sell or purchase, or offer to sell or purchase, a commodity under a commodity contract, or under a commodity option, or offer to enter into, or enter into as seller or purchaser, a commodity contract or commodity option.

§90 Acts, ch 1169, §1

§502A.3 Exempt person transactions.

The prohibitions in section 502A.2 do not apply to a transaction in which any of the following persons, or any employee, officer, or director of a listed person acting solely in that capacity, is the purchaser or seller:

1. A person registered with the commodity futures trading commission as a futures commission merchant or as a leverage transaction merchant whose activities require such registration.
2. A person registered with the securities and exchange commission as a broker-dealer whose activities require such registration.
3. A person affiliated with, and whose obligations and liabilities under the transaction are guaranteed by, a person referred to in subsection 1 or 2.
4. A person who is a member of a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission, or any CFTC clearinghouse.
5. A financial institution.
6. A person registered under the laws of this state as a securities broker-dealer whose activities require such registration.

This exemption provided by this section does not apply to any transaction or activity which is prohibited by the Commodity Exchange Act or CFTC rule.

§90 Acts, ch 1169, §3

§502A.4 Exempt transactions.

1. Section 502A.2 does not apply to any of the following:
   a. An account, agreement, or transaction within the exclusive jurisdiction of the commodity futures trading commission as granted under the Commodity Exchange Act.
   b. A commodity contract, offered or sold by a qualified seller as defined in subsection 2, for the purchase of one or more precious metals which requires, and under which the purchaser receives, within twenty-eight days from the payment in good funds of any portion of the purchase price, physical delivery of the quantity of the precious metals purchased by the payment. For purposes of this paragraph, physical delivery shall be deemed to have occurred if both of the following conditions are satisfied:
      (1) Within twenty-eight days, the required quantity of precious metals purchased by the payment is delivered, whether in specifically segregated or fungible bulk form, into the possession of a depository, other than the seller, which is any of the following:
         (a) A financial institution.
         (b) A depository the warehouse receipts of which are recognized for delivery purposes for any commodity on a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission.
         (c) A storage facility licensed or regulated by the United States or any agency of the United States.
      (2) The depository or a qualified seller issues and the purchaser receives, a certificate, document of title, confirmation, or other instrument evidencing that the required quantity of precious metals has been delivered to the depository and is being and will continue to be held by the depository on the purchaser’s behalf, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, other than liens of the purchaser, tax liens, liens agreed to by the purchaser, or liens of the depository for fees and expenses, which have previously been disclosed to the purchaser.
   c. For the purposes of paragraph "b", a depository other than the seller shall not include a financial institution which makes loans to enable the borrower to finance the purchase of one or more precious metals if any of the following apply:
      (1) The financial institution knows that the seller arranged for a commission, brokerage, or referral fee for the extension of credit by the financial institution.
      (2) The financial institution is a person related to the seller, unless the relationship is remote or is not a factor in the transaction.
      (3) The seller guarantees the loan or otherwise assumes the risk of loss by the financial institution upon the loan.
      (4) The financial institution directly supplies the seller with the contract document used by the borrower to evidence the loan, and the seller has knowledge of the credit terms and participates in the preparation of the document.
      (5) The loan is conditioned upon the borrower’s purchase of the precious metals from a particular seller, but the financial institution’s payment of proceeds of the loan to the seller does not in itself establish that the loan was so conditioned.

(6) The financial institution otherwise knowingly participates with the seller in the sale. The fact that the financial institution takes a security interest in the precious metals sold or makes the proceeds of the loan payable to the seller does not in itself constitute knowing participation in the sale.

d. A commodity contract solely between persons engaged in producing, processing, using commercially or handling as merchants, the commodity which is the subject of the contract, or any by-product of the commodity.

e. A commodity contract under which the offeree or the purchaser is a person under section 502A.3, an insurance company, an investment company as defined in the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, or an employee pension and profit sharing or benefit plan other than a self-employed individual retirement plan, or individual retirement account.

2. For the purposes of subsection 1, paragraph "b", a qualified seller is a person who satisfies all of the following conditions:

a. Is a seller of precious metals and has a tangible net worth of at least five million dollars, or has an affiliate who has unconditionally guaranteed the obligations and liabilities of the seller and the affiliate has a tangible net worth of at least five million dollars.

b. Has stored precious metals with one or more depositories on behalf of customers for at least the previous three years.

c. Prior to any offer, files with the administrator a sworn notice of intent to act as a qualified seller under subsection 1, paragraph "b", and annually files a new notice. A notice of intent to act as a qualified seller must contain all of the following:

(1) The seller’s name and address, names of its directors, officers, controlling shareholders, partners, principals, and other controlling persons.

(2) The address of its principal place of business, state and date of incorporation or organization, and the name and address of seller’s registered agent in this state.

(3) A statement that the seller, or a person affiliated with the seller who has guaranteed the obligations and liabilities of the seller, has a tangible net worth of at least five million dollars.

(4) Depository information including all of the following:

(a) The name and address of the depository or depositories that the seller intends to use.

(b) The name and address of each and every depository where the seller has stored precious metals on behalf of customers for the previous three years.

(c) Independent verification from each and every depository named in subparagraph subdivision (b) that the seller has in fact stored precious metals on behalf of the seller’s customers for the previous three years and a statement of total deposits made during this period.

(5) Financial statements for the seller, or the person affiliated with the seller who has guaranteed the obligations and liabilities of the seller, for the past three years, audited by an independent certified public accountant, together with the accountant’s reports.

(6) A statement describing the details of all civil, criminal, or administrative proceedings currently pending or adversely resolved against the seller or its directors, officers, controlling shareholders, partners, principals, or other controlling persons during the past ten years including all of the following in subparagraph subdivisions (a) through (d), or if not applicable, subparagraph subdivision (e):

(a) Civil litigation and administrative proceedings involving securities or commodities violations, or fraud.

(b) Criminal proceedings.

(c) Denials, suspensions, or revocations of securities or commodities licenses, or registrations.

(d) Suspensions or expulsions from membership in, or associations with, self-regulatory organizations registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Commodities Exchange Act.

(e) A statement that there were no such proceedings.

d. Notifies the administrator within fifteen days of any material changes in the information provided in the notice of intent.

e. Annually furnishes to each purchaser for whom the seller is then storing precious metals, and to the administrator, a report by an independent certified public accountant of the accountant’s examination of the seller’s precious metals storage program.

3. The administrator may, upon request by the seller, waive any of the exempt transaction requirements of this section, conditionally or unconditionally.

4. The administrator may, by order, deny, suspend, revoke, or place limitations on the authority to engage in business as a qualified seller under subsection 1, paragraph "b" if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and that the person, the person’s officers, directors, partners, agents, servants or employees, a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, a person who directly or indirectly controls or is controlled by the seller, or any of them, the seller’s affiliates or subsidiaries meets any of the following conditions:

a. Has filed a notice of intention under subsection 2 with the administrator or the designee of the administrator which was incomplete in any material respect or contained any statement which was, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact.
§502A.4, COMMODITIES CODE

b. Has, within the last ten years, pled guilty or nolo contendere to, or been convicted of any crime indicating a lack of fitness to engage in the investment commodity business.

c. Has been permanently or temporarily enjoined by any court of competent jurisdiction from engaging in, or continuing, any conduct or practice which injunction indicates a lack of fitness to engage in the investment commodities business.

d. Is the subject of an order of the administrator denying, suspending, or revoking the person’s license as a securities broker-dealer, sales representative, or investment adviser.

e. Is the subject of any of the following orders which are currently effective and which were issued within the last five years:

(1) An order by the securities agency or administrator of another state, Canadian province or territory, the securities and exchange commission, or the commodity futures trading commission, entered after notice and opportunity for hearing, denying, suspending, or revoking the person’s registration as a futures commission merchant, commodity trading adviser, commodity pool operator, securities broker-dealer, sales representative, or investment adviser, or the substantial equivalent of those terms.

(2) Suspension or expulsion from membership in, or association with, a self-regulatory organization registered under the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the Commodity Exchange Act.

(3) A United States postal service fraud order.

(4) A cease and desist order entered after notice and opportunity of hearing by the administrator or the securities agency or administrator of any other state, Canadian province or territory, the United States securities and exchange commission, or the commodity futures trading commission.

(5) An order entered by the commodity futures trading commission denying, suspending, or revoking registration under the Commodity Exchange Act.

f. Has engaged in an unethical or dishonest act or practice in the investment commodities or securities business.

g. Has failed reasonably to supervise sales representatives or employees.

5. If the public interest or the protection of investors so requires, the administrator may, by order, summarily deny or suspend the exemption for a qualified seller. Upon the entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify the person claiming such status that an order has been entered and the reasons for the order and that within thirty days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set for hearing. Section 502A.20 applies with respect to all subsequent proceedings.

6. If the administrator finds that any applicant or qualified seller is no longer in existence or has ceased to do business or is subject to an adjudication of mental incompetence or to the control of a committee, conservator, or guardian, or cannot be located after reasonable search, the administrator may, by order, deny or revoke the exemption for a qualified seller.

7. The administrator may issue rules or orders prescribing the terms and conditions of all transactions and contracts covered by this chapter which are not within the exclusive jurisdiction of the commodity futures trading commission as granted by the Commodity Exchange Act, exempting and conditionally or unconditionally and otherwise implementing this chapter for the protection of purchasers and sellers of commodities.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §4

502A.5 Unlawful commodity activities.

1. A person shall not engage in a trade or business or otherwise act as a commodity merchant unless the person is either of the following:

a. Registered or temporarily licensed with the commodity futures trading commission for each activity constituting the person as a commodity merchant and the registration or temporary license has not expired, been suspended, or revoked.

b. Exempt from such registration by virtue of the Commodity Exchange Act or of a CFTC rule.

2. A board of trade shall not trade, or provide a place for the trading of, any commodity contract or commodity option required to be traded on or subject to the rules of a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission unless the board of trade has been so designated for the commodity contract or commodity option and the designation has not been vacated, suspended, or revoked.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §5

502A.6 Fraudulent conduct.

A person shall not directly or indirectly do any of the following in or in connection with the purchase or sale of, the offer to sell, the offer to purchase, the offer to enter into, or the entry into of, a commodity contract or commodity option subject to section 502A.2, 502A.3, 502A.4, subsection 1, paragraph “b”, or section 502A.4, subsection 1, paragraph “d”:

1. Cheat or defraud, or attempt to cheat or defraud, another person or employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud another person.

2. Make a false report or enter a false record.

3. Make an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

4. Engage in a transaction, act, practice, or course of business, including, without limitation, any form of advertising or solicitation, which oper-502A.7 Liability of principals, controlling persons, and others.
1. The act, omission, or failure of an official, agent, or other person acting for an individual, association, partnership, corporation, or trust within the scope of the person's employment or office shall be deemed the act, omission, or failure of the individual, association, partnership, corporation, or trust, as well as of the person.
2. A person who directly or indirectly controls another person liable under this chapter, a partner, officer, or director of the other person, a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, and an employee of such other person who materially aids in the violation, is liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as the other person, unless the person who is liable by virtue of this provision sustains the burden of proof that the person did not know, and in exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

502A.8 Securities laws unaffected.
This chapter does not impair, derogate, or otherwise affect the authority or powers of the administrator under chapter 502 or the application of any provision of chapter 502 to a person or transaction subject to that chapter.
90 Acts, ch 1169, §8

502A.9 Purpose.
This chapter may be construed and implemented to effectuate its general purpose to protect investors, to prevent and prosecute illegal and fraudulent schemes involving commodity contracts and to maximize coordination with federal and other states' laws and the administration and enforcement of those laws. This chapter is not intended to create any rights or remedies upon which actions may be brought by private persons against persons who violate this chapter.

SUBCHAPTER II

502A.11 Investigations.
1. The administrator may make investigations, within or without this state, as the administrator finds necessary or appropriate to do either or both of the following:
   a. Determine whether any person has violated, or is about to violate this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator.
   b. Aid in enforcement of this chapter.
2. The administrator may publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator.
3. For purposes of an investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or any officer or employee designated by rule or order, may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records which the administrator finds to be relevant or material to the inquiry.
   a. If a person does not give testimony or produce the documents required by the administrator or a designated employee pursuant to an administrative subpoena, the administrator or designated employee may apply for a court order compelling compliance with the subpoena or the giving of the required testimony.
   b. The request for order of compliance may be addressed to either of the following:
      (1) The Polk county district trial court or the district court where service may be obtained on the person refusing to testify or produce, if the person is within this state.
      (2) The appropriate court of the state having jurisdiction over the person refusing to testify or produce, if the person is outside this state.
90 Acts, ch 1169, §10

502A.12 Enforcement of chapter.
1. If the administrator believes, whether or not based upon an investigation conducted under section 502A.11, that a person has engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or a rule or order issued under this chapter, the administrator may do any or all of the following:
   a. Issue a cease and desist order.
   b. Issue an order imposing a civil penalty in amount which may not exceed ten thousand dollars for a single violation or one hundred thousand dollars for multiple violations in a single proceeding or a series of related proceedings.
   c. Initiate any of the actions specified in subsection 2.
2. The administrator may institute any or all of the following actions in the appropriate courts of this state, or in the appropriate courts of another state, in addition to any legal or equitable remedies otherwise available:
   a. A declaratory judgment.
   b. An action for a prohibitory or mandatory injunction to enjoin the violation and to ensure compliance with this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator.
c. An action for disgorgement.

d. An action for appointment of a receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant’s assets.

e. An action for restitution.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §11

502A.13 Power of court to grant relief.

1. a. Upon a proper showing by the administrator that a person has violated, or is about to violate, this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator, a court of competent jurisdiction may grant appropriate legal or equitable remedies.

b. Upon showing of violation of this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator, the court, in addition to traditional legal and equitable remedies, including temporary restraining orders, permanent or temporary prohibitory or mandatory injunctions, and writs of prohibition or mandamus, may grant any or all of the following special remedies:

(1) Imposition of a civil penalty in amount which may not exceed ten thousand dollars for any single violation or one hundred thousand dollars for multiple violations in a single proceeding or a series of related proceedings.

(2) Disgorgement.

(3) Declaratory judgment.

(4) Restitution to investors wishing restitution.

(5) Appointment of a receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant’s assets.

c. Appropriate remedies when the defendant is shown only about to violate this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator or securities or commodity act of the foreign state or a rule or order of the administrator or securities or commodity agency of the foreign state shall be limited to any or all of the following:

(1) A temporary restraining order.

(2) A temporary or permanent injunction.

(3) A writ of prohibition or mandamus.

(4) An order appointing a receiver, conservator, or ancillary receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant’s assets located in this state.

c. Appropriate remedies when the defendant is shown only about to violate the securities or commodity act of the foreign state or a rule or order of the administrator or securities or commodity agency of the foreign state shall be limited to any or all of the following:

(1) A temporary restraining order.

(2) A temporary or permanent injunction.

(3) A writ of prohibition or mandamus.

(4) An order appointing a receiver, conservator, or ancillary receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant’s assets located in this state.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §12

502A.14 Criminal penalties.

1. A person who willfully violates either of the following shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than twenty thousand dollars or be imprisoned not more than ten years, or both, for each violation.

a. This chapter.

b. A rule or order of the administrator under this chapter.

A person convicted of violating a rule or order under this chapter may be fined, but may not be imprisoned, if the person proves the person had no knowledge of the rule or order.

3. This chapter does not limit the power of the state to proceed against a person for conduct which constitutes a breach of duty, a crime, or a violation under common law, rule, or another statute. An action pursuant to this chapter is not an election of remedies, and an aggrieved person or the state retains any other common law or statutory causes of action which may exist against a person alleged to have violated this chapter or against a person convicted of such a violation.

502A.15 Administration of chapter.

1. This chapter shall be administered by the administrator of the securities bureau of the insurance division of the department of commerce.

2. The administrator or any employees of the administrator shall not use any information which is filed with or obtained by the administrator which is not public information for personal gain or benefit, and the administrator or any employees of the administrator shall not conduct any securities or commodity dealings based upon any such information, even though public, if there has not been a sufficient period of time for the securities or commodity markets to assimilate such information.

3. a. Except as provided in paragraph “b”, all information collected, assembled, or maintained by the administrator is public information and is available for the examination of the public as provided by chapter 22.

b. The following are exceptions to paragraph “a” and are confidential:

(1) Information obtained in an investigation pursuant to section 502A.11, unless published pursuant to section 502A.11, subsection 2.

(2) Information made confidential by chapter 22.

(3) Information obtained from federal agencies which cannot be disclosed under federal law.

c. The administrator in the administrator’s discretion may disclose any information made confidential under paragraph “b” to persons identified in section 502A.16, subsection 1.

d. This chapter does not create or derogate any privilege which exists at common law, by statute or otherwise when documentary or other evidence is sought under subpoena directed to the administrator or any employee of the administrator.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §14

502A.16 Cooperation with other agencies.

1. To encourage uniform application and interpretation of this chapter and securities regulation and enforcement in general, the administrator and the employees of the administrator may cooperate, including bearing the expense of the cooperation, with the securities agencies or administrator of another jurisdiction, Canadian province or territory or such other agencies administering this chapter, the commodity futures trading commission, the United States securities and exchange commission, any self-regulatory organization established under the Commodity Exchange Act or the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934, any national or international organization of commodities or securities officials or agencies, and any governmental law enforcement agency.

2. The cooperation authorized by subsection 1 shall include, but need not be limited to, any or all of the following:

a. Making joint examinations or investigations.

b. Holding joint administrative hearings.

c. Filing and prosecuting joint litigation.

d. Sharing and exchanging personnel.

e. Sharing and exchanging information and documents.

f. Formulating and adopting mutual regulations, statements of policy, guidelines, proposed statutory changes, and releases.

g. Issuing and enforcing subpoenas at the request of the agency administering this chapter in another jurisdiction, the securities agency of another jurisdiction, the commodity futures trading commission or the United States securities and exchange commission if the information sought would also be subject to lawful subpoena for conduct occurring in this state.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §15

502A.17 General authority to adopt rules, forms, and orders.

1. In addition to specific authority granted elsewhere in this chapter, the administrator may adopt rules and forms, pursuant to chapter 17A, and issue orders as are necessary to administer this chapter. Rules or forms to be adopted shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

a. Rules defining any terms, whether or not used in this chapter, insofar as the definitions are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

b. For the purpose of rules or forms, the administrator may classify commodities and commodity contracts, persons, and matters within the administrator’s jurisdiction.

2. Unless specifically provided in this chapter, a rule, form, or order shall not be adopted or issued unless the administrator finds that the action is both of the following:

a. Necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

b. Consistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy of this chapter.

3. All rules and forms of the administrator shall be published as provided in chapter 17A.

4. A provision of this chapter imposing any liability shall not apply to an act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with a rule or form adopted or order issued by the administrator, notwithstanding that the rule, order, or form may later be amended, or rescinded, or be determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §16

502A.18 Consent to service of process.

When a person, including a nonresident of this state, engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable by this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator, the conduct shall constitute the appointment of the administrator as the person’s attorney to receive service of any lawful process in a noncriminal proceeding against the person, a successor, or personal representative, which grows out of that conduct and which is brought under this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator with the same force and validity as if served personally.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §17
§502A.19  Chapter scope.
1. Sections 502A.2, 502A.5, and 502A.6 apply to a person who sells or offers to sell when either of the following occurs:
   a. An offer to sell is made in this state.
   b. An offer to buy is made and accepted in this state.
2. Sections 502A.2, 502A.5, and 502A.6 apply to a person who buys or offers to buy when either of the following occur:
   a. An offer to buy is made in this state.
   b. An offer to sell is made and accepted in this state.
3. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell or to buy is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when either of the following occurs:
   a. The offer originates from this state.
   b. The offer is directed by the offeror to this state and received at the place to which it is directed, or at any post office in this state in the case of a mailed offer.
4. For the purpose of this section, an offer to buy or to sell is accepted in this state when the acceptance satisfies both of the following conditions:
   a. The acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state.
   b. The acceptance has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally or in writing, outside this state; and acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when the offeree directs it to the offeror in this state, reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state and it is received at the place to which it is directed, or at any post office in this state in the case of a mailed acceptance.
5. An offer to sell or to buy is not made in this state when either of the following occurs:
   a. The publisher circulates or there is circulated on the publisher's behalf in this state any bona fide newspaper or other publication of general, regular, and paid circulation which is not published in this state, or which is published in this state but has had more than two-thirds of its circulation outside this state during the past twelve months.
   b. A radio or television program originating outside this state is received in this state.
   90 Acts, ch 1169, §18

§502A.20  Effect of pending judicial review.
The filing of a petition for judicial review pursuant to chapter 17A does not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the administrator's order, and the administrator may enforce or ask the court to enforce the order pending the outcome of the review proceedings.
   90 Acts, ch 1169, §19

§502A.21  Pleading exemptions.
It is not necessary for the state to plead the absence of an exemption under this chapter in a complaint, information, or indictment, or a writ or proceeding brought under this chapter. The burden of proof of a claimed exemption is upon the party claiming the exemption.
   90 Acts, ch 1169, §20

§502A.22  Affirmative defense.
It is an affirmative defense in a complaint, information, indictment, writ, or proceeding brought under this chapter alleging a violation of section 502A.2 based solely on the failure in an individual case to make physical delivery within the applicable time period under section 502A.1, subsection 5, or section 502A.4, subsection 1, paragraph "b" if both of the following apply:
1. Failure to make physical delivery was due solely to factors beyond the control of the seller, the seller's officers, directors, partners, agents, servants, or employees, every person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, every person who directly or indirectly controls or is controlled by the seller, or any of them, the seller's affiliates, subsidiaries, or successors.
2. Physical delivery was completed within a reasonable time under the applicable circumstances.

§ 504.101, Revised Iowa Nonprofit Corporation Act, §504.101

SUBCHAPTER I

PART 1

SHORT TITLE AND APPLICATIONS

504.101 Short title.
This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the “Revised Iowa Nonprofit Corporation Act”.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §1, 192

NEW section

504.102 Reservation of power to amend or repeal.
The general assembly has power to amend or repeal all or part of this chapter at any time and all domestic and foreign corporations subject to this chapter are governed by the amendment or repeal.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §2, 192

NEW section

504.103 through 504.110  Reserved.

PART 2

FILING DOCUMENTS

504.111  Filing requirements.
1. A document must satisfy the requirements of this section, and of any other section that adds to or varies these requirements, to be entitled to filing by the secretary of state.
2. This chapter must require or permit filing the document in the office of the secretary of state.
3. The document must contain the information required by this subchapter.  It may contain other information as well.
4. The document must be typewritten or printed.  If the document is electronically transmitted, it must be in a format that can be retrieved or reproduced in typewritten or printed form.
5. The document must be in the English language.  However, a corporate name need not be in English if written in English letters or Arabic or Roman numerals.  The certificate of existence required of foreign corporations need not be in English if accompanied by a reasonably authenticated English translation.
6. The document must be executed by one of the following:
   a. The presiding officer of the board of directors of a domestic or foreign corporation, its president, or by another of its officers.
   b. If directors have not been selected or the corporation has not been formed, by an incorporator.
   c. If the corporation is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or other court-appointed fiduciary, by that fiduciary.
7. The person executing a document shall sign it and state beneath or opposite the signature the person’s name and the capacity in which the person signs.  The document may contain a corporate seal, an attestation, an acknowledgment, or a verification.
8. If the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for a document under section 504.112, the document must be in or on the prescribed form.
9. The document must be delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing.  Delivery may be made by electronic transmission if and to the extent permitted by the secretary of state.  If it is filed in typewritten or printed form and not transmitted electronically, the secretary of state may require one exact or conformed copy to be delivered with the document, except as provided in sections 504.503 and 504.1509.
10. When the document is delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing, the correct filing fee, and any franchise tax, license fee, or penalty, shall be paid in a manner permitted by the secretary of state.
11. The secretary of state may adopt rules for the electronic filing of documents and the certification of electronically filed documents.
   The word “chapter” probably intended; corrective legislation is pending

NEW section

504.112  Forms.
1. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for an application for a certificate of existence, a foreign corporation’s application for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state, a foreign corporation’s application for a certificate of withdrawal, and the biennial report.  If the secretary of state so requires, use of these forms is mandatory.
2. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for other documents required or permitted to be filed by this chapter, but their use is not mandatory.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §4, 192

NEW section

504.113  Filing, service, and copying fees.
1. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees, as provided by the secretary of state, when the documents described in this subsection are delivered for filing:

   DOCUMENT FEE

   a. Articles of incorporation ................... $
   b. Application for use of indistinguishable name .................................. $ __
   c. Application for reserved name ........ $ __
   d. Notice of transfer of reserved name .... $ __
   e. Application for registered name ...... $ __
   f. Application for renewal of registered name ........................................ $ __

   l. Articles of merger .............................. $ __
   m. Articles of dissolution ...................... $ __
   n. Articles of revocation of dissolution $ __
§504.113, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

2. A document is corrected by doing both of the following:
   a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:
      (1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attaching a copy of the document to the articles.
      (2) Specify the inaccuracy or defect to be corrected.
      (3) Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.
   b. By delivering the articles of correction to the secretary of state for filing.

3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §7, 192

NEW section

504.116 Filing duty of secretary of state.

1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 504.111, the secretary of state shall file it.

2. The secretary of state files a document by recording the document as filed on the date and time of receipt. After filing a document, except as provided in sections 504.504, 504.1510, and 504.1613, the secretary of state shall deliver to the domestic or foreign corporation or its representative a copy of the document with an acknowledgment of the date and time of filing.

3. Upon refusing to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign corporation or its representative, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason or reasons for the refusal.

4. The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusal to file a document does not do any of the following:
   a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or in part.
   b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
   c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §8, 192

NEW section

504.117 Appeal from secretary of state's refusal to file document.

1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered for filing to the secretary of state's office, the domestic or foreign corporation may appeal the refusal to the district court in the county where the corporation's principal office, or if there is none in this state, its registered office, is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state’s explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §9, 192
NEW section

504.119 Certificate of existence.

1. Any person may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic or foreign corporation.

2. The certificate of existence shall set forth all of the following:
   a. The domestic corporation’s corporate name or the foreign corporation’s corporate name used in this state.
   b. That the domestic corporation is duly incorporated under the laws of this state, the date of its incorporation, and the period of its duration if less than perpetual; or that the foreign corporation is authorized to transact business in this state.
   c. That all fees have been paid.
   d. That its most recent biennial report required by section 504.1613 has been delivered to the secretary of state.
   e. That articles of dissolution have not been filed.
   f. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state that may be requested by the applicant.

3. Subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, a certificate of existence issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon as conclusive evidence that the domestic or foreign corporation is in good standing in this state.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §11, 192
NEW section

504.120 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense by signing a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §12, 192

NEW section

504.132 through 504.140 Reserved.

PART 4
DEFINITIONS

504.141 Chapter definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Approved by the members” or “approval by the members” means approved or ratified by the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes represented and voting at a duly held meeting at which a quorum is present, which affirmative votes also constitute a majority of the required quorum, or by a written ballot or written consent in conformity with this chapter or by the affirmative vote, written ballot, or written consent of such greater proportion, including the votes of all the members of any class, unit, or grouping as may be provided in the articles, bylaws, or this chapter for any specified member action.

2. “Articles of incorporation” or “articles” includes amended and restated articles of incorporation and articles of merger.

3. “Board” or “board of directors” means the board of directors of a corporation except that no person or group of persons are the board of directors because of powers delegated to that person or group pursuant to section 504.801.

4. “Bylaws” means the code or codes of rules other than the articles adopted pursuant to this chapter for the regulation or management of the affairs of a corporation irrespective of the name or names by which such rules are designated.

5. “Class” means a group of memberships which have the same rights with respect to voting, dissolution, redemption, and transfer. For purposes of this section, rights shall be considered the same if they are determined by a formula applied uniformly.

6. “Corporation” means a public benefit, mutual benefit, or religious corporation.

7. “Delegates” means those persons elected or appointed to vote in a representative assembly for the election of a director or directors or on other matters.

8. “Deliver” or “delivery” means any method of delivery used in conventional commercial practice, including delivery in person, by mail, commercial delivery, and electronic transmission.

9. “Directors” means individuals, designated in the articles or bylaws or elected by the incorporators, and their successors and individuals elected or appointed by any other name or title to act as members of the board.

10. “Distribution” means the payment of a dividend or any part of the income or profit of a corporation to its members, directors, or officers.

12. “Effective date of notice” is defined in section 504.142.

13. “Electronic transmission” or “electronically transmitted” means any process of communication not directly involving the physical transfer of paper that is suitable for the retention, retrieval, and reproduction of information by the recipient.

14. “Employee” does not include an officer or director of a corporation who is not otherwise employed by the corporation.

15. “Entity” includes a corporation and foreign corporation; business corporation and foreign business corporation; limited liability company and foreign limited liability company; profit and nonprofit unincorporated association; corporation sole; business trust, estate, partnership, trust, and two or more persons having a joint or common economic interest; and state, the United States, and foreign government.

17. “Foreign corporation” means a corporation organized under laws other than the laws of this state which would be a nonprofit corporation if formed under the laws of this state.

18. “Governmental subdivision” includes an authority, county, district, and municipality.

19. “Includes” denotes a partial definition.

20. “Individual” includes the estate of an incompetent individual.

21. “Means” denotes a complete definition.

22. “Member” means a person who on more than one occasion, pursuant to the provisions of a corporation’s articles or bylaws, has a right to vote for the election of a director or directors of a corporation, irrespective of how a member is defined in the articles or bylaws of the corporation. A person is not a member because of any of the following:
   a. The person’s rights as a delegate.
   b. The person’s rights to designate a director.
   c. The person’s rights as a director.

23. “Membership” refers to the rights and obligations a member or members have pursuant to a corporation’s articles, bylaws, and this chapter.

24. “Mutual benefit corporation” means a domestic or foreign corporation that is required to be a mutual benefit corporation pursuant to section 504.1705.

25. “Notice” is defined in section 504.142.

26. “Person” includes any individual or entity.

27. “Principal office” means the office in or out of this state so designated in the biennial report filed pursuant to section 504.1613 where the principal offices of a domestic or foreign corporation are located.

28. “Proceeding” includes a civil suit and criminal, administrative, or investigatory actions.

29. “Public benefit corporation” means a domestic or foreign corporation that is required to be a public benefit corporation pursuant to section 504.1705.

30. “Record date” means the date established under subchapter VI or VII on which a corporation determines the identity of its members for the purposes of this subchapter.

31. “Religious corporation” means a domestic or foreign corporation that engages in religious activity as one of the corporation’s principal purposes.

32. “Secretary” means the corporate officer to whom the board of directors has delegated responsibility under section 504.841, subsection 2, for custody of the minutes of the directors’ and members’ meetings and for authenticating the records of the corporation.

33. “Sign” or “signature” includes a manual, facsimile, confirmed, or electronic signature.

34. “State”, when referring to a part of the United States, includes a state and commonwealth and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, and a territory and insular possession and their agencies and governmental subdivisions of the United States.

35. “United States” includes a district, authority, bureau, commission, department, and any other agency of the United States.

36. “Vote” includes authorization by written ballot and written consent.

37. “Voting power” means the total number of votes entitled to be cast for the election of directors at the time the determination of voting power is made, excluding a vote that is contingent upon the happening of a condition or event that has not occurred at the time. When a class is entitled to vote as a class for directors, the determination of voting power of the class shall be based on the percentage of the number of directors the class is entitled to elect out of the total number of authorized directors.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §14, 192

*The word “chapter” probably intended; corrective legislation is pending written notice.

2. Subject to subsection 1, notice may be communicated in person, by mail, or other method of delivery; or by telephone, voice mail, or other electronic means. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication.

3. Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

4. Written notice by a domestic or foreign corporation to its member, if in a comprehensible form, is effective according to one of the following:
   a. Upon deposit in the United States mail, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed to the member’s address shown in the corporation’s current list of members.
   b. When electronically transmitted to the shareholder* in a manner authorized by the shareholder.*

5. Except as provided in subsection 4, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:
   a. When received.
   b. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, if mailed correctly addressed and with first-class postage affixed.
   c. On the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.
   d. Thirty days after its deposit in the United States mail, if mailed correctly addressed and with other than first-class, registered, or certified postage affixed.

6. Written notice is correctly addressed to a member of a domestic or foreign corporation if addressed to the member’s address shown in the corporation’s current list of members.

7. A written notice or report delivered as part of a newsletter, magazine, or other publication regularly sent to members shall constitute a written notice or report if addressed or delivered to the member’s address shown in the corporation’s current list of members, or in the case of members who are residents of the same household and who have the same address in the corporation’s current list of members, if addressed or delivered to one of such members, at the address appearing on the current list of members.

8. Written notice is correctly addressed to a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, other than in its capacity as a member, if addressed to its registered agent or to its secretary at its principal office shown in its most recent biennial report or, in the case of a foreign corporation that has not yet delivered an annual report, in its application for a certificate of authority.

9. If section 504.705, subsection 2, or any other provision of this chapter prescribes notice require-ments for particular circumstances, those requirements govern. If articles or bylaws prescribe notice requirements not inconsistent with this section or other provisions of this chapter, those requirements govern.

A biennial report probably intended; corrective legislation is pending

PART 5

JUDICIAL RELIEF

504.151 Judicial relief.

1. If for any reason it is impractical or impossible for a corporation to call or conduct a meeting of its members, delegates, or directors, or otherwise obtain their consent, in the manner prescribed by its articles, bylaws, or this chapter, then upon petition of a director, officer, delegate, member, or the attorney general, the district court may order that such a meeting be called or that a written ballot or other form of obtaining the vote of members, delegates, or directors be authorized, in such a manner as the court finds fair and equitable under the circumstances.

2. The court shall, in an order issued pursuant to this section, provide for a method of notice reasonably designed to give actual notice to all persons who would be entitled to notice of a meeting held pursuant to the articles, bylaws, and this chapter, whether or not the method results in actual notice to all such persons or conforms to the notice requirements that would otherwise apply. In a proceeding under this section, the court may determine who the members or directors are.

3. An order issued pursuant to this section may dispense with any requirement relating to the holding of or voting at meetings or obtaining votes, including any requirement as to quorums or as to the number or percentage of votes needed for approval, that would otherwise be imposed by the articles, bylaws, or this chapter.

4. Whenever practical, an order issued pursuant to this section shall limit the subject matter of meetings or other forms of consent authorized to items, including amendments to the articles or bylaws, the resolution of which will or may enable the corporation to continue managing its affairs without further resort to this section; provided, however, that an order under this section may also authorize the obtaining of whatever votes and approvals are necessary for the dissolution, merger, or sale of assets.

5. A meeting or other method of obtaining the vote of members, delegates, or directors conducted pursuant to an order issued under this section, and which complies with all the provisions of such order, is for all purposes a valid meeting or vote, as
§504.151, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

504.151 through 504.200  Reserved.

SUBCHAPTER II
ORGANIZATION

504.201  Incorporators.

One or more persons may act as the incorporator or incorporators of a corporation by delivering articles of incorporation to the secretary of state for filing.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §17, 192

NEW section

504.202  Articles of incorporation.

1. The articles of incorporation shall set forth all of the following:
   a. A corporate name for the corporation that satisfies the requirements of section 504.401.
   b. The address of the corporation’s initial registered office and the name of its initial registered agent at that office.
   c. The name and address of each incorporator.
   d. Whether the corporation will have members. A corporation incorporated prior to January 1, 2005, may state whether it will have members in either the articles of incorporation or in the corporate bylaws.
   e. For corporations incorporated after January 1, 2005, provisions not inconsistent with law regarding the distribution of assets on dissolution.
   f. Any provision that under this chapter is required or permitted to be set forth in the bylaws.
2. The articles of incorporation may set forth any of the following:
   a. The purpose for which the corporation is organized, which may be, either alone or in combination with other purposes, the transaction of any lawful activity.
   b. The names and addresses of the individuals who are to serve as the initial directors.
   c. Provisions not inconsistent with law regarding all of the following:
      (1) Managing and regulating the affairs of the corporation.
      (2) Defining, limiting, and regulating the powers of the corporation, its board of directors, and members, or any class of members.
      (3) The characteristics, qualifications, rights, limitations, and obligations attaching to each or any class of members.
      d. A provision eliminating or limiting the liability of a director to the corporation or its members for money damages for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director, except liability for any of the following:
         (1) The amount of a financial benefit received by a director to which the director is not entitled.
         (2) An intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or its members.
         (3) A violation of section 504.834.*
         (4) An intentional violation of criminal law.
   f. Any provision set forth in the articles of incorporation pursuant to this paragraph shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director for an act or omission that occurs prior to the date when the provision becomes effective. The absence of a provision eliminating or limiting the liability of a director pursuant to this paragraph shall not affect the applicability of section 504.901.
   e. A provision permitting or requiring a corporation to indemnify a director for liability, as defined in section 504.851, subsection 5, to a person for any action taken, or any failure to take any action, as a director except liability for any of the following:
      (1) Receipt of a financial benefit to which the person is not entitled.
      (2) Intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or its members.
      (3) A violation of section 504.834.*
      (4) Intentional violation of criminal law.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §18, 192

NEW section

504.203  Incorporation.

1. Unless a delayed effective date is specified, the corporate existence begins when the articles of incorporation are filed.
2. The secretary of state’s filing of the articles of incorporation is conclusive proof that the incorporators satisfied all conditions precedent to incorporation except in a proceeding by the state to cancel or revoke the incorporation or involuntarily dissolve the corporation.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §19, 192

NEW section

504.204  Liability for preincorporation transactions.

All persons purporting to act as or on behalf of a corporation, knowing there was no incorporation under this chapter, are jointly and severally liable for all liabilities created while so acting.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §20, 192

NEW section

504.205  Organization of corporation.

1. After incorporation:
   a. If initial directors are named in the articles of incorporation, the initial directors shall hold an organizational meeting, at the call of a majority of the directors, to complete the organization of the corporation by appointing officers, adopting bylaws, and carrying on any other business brought before the meeting.
b. If initial directors are not named in the articles, the incorporator or incorporators shall hold an organizational meeting at the call of a majority of the incorporators to do one of the following:
   (1) Elect directors and complete the organization of the corporation.
   (2) Elect a board of directors who shall complete the organization of the corporation.
2. Action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken by incorporators at an organizational meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action taken is evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken and signed by each incorporator.
3. An organizational meeting may be held in or out of this state in accordance with section 504.821.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §21, 192

504.206 Bylaws.
1. The incorporators or board of directors of a corporation shall adopt bylaws for the corporation.
2. The bylaws may contain any provision for regulating and managing the affairs of the corporation that is not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §22, 192

504.207 Emergency bylaws and powers.
1. Unless the articles provide otherwise, the directors of a corporation may adopt, amend, or repeal bylaws to be effective only in an emergency as described in subsection 4. The emergency bylaws, which are subject to amendment or repeal by the members, may provide special procedures necessary for managing the corporation during the emergency, including all of the following:
   a. How to call a meeting of the board.
   b. Quorum requirements for the meeting.
   c. Designation of additional or substitute directors.
2. All provisions of the regular bylaws consistent with the emergency bylaws remain effective during the emergency. The emergency bylaws are not effective after the emergency ends.
3. Corporate action taken in good faith in accordance with the emergency bylaws does both of the following:
   a. Binds the corporation.
   b. Shall not be used to impose liability on a corporate director, officer, employee, or agent.
4. An emergency exists for purposes of this section if a quorum of the corporation’s directors cannot readily be assembled because of some catastrophic event.

NAMES

504.401 Corporate name.

1. A corporate name shall not contain language stating or implying that the corporation is organized for a purpose other than that permitted by section 504.301 and its articles of incorporation.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, a corporate name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from:
   a. The corporate name of any other nonprofit or business corporation incorporated or authorized to do business in this state.
   b. A corporate name reserved or registered under section 490.402, 490.403, 504.402, or 504.403.^
   c. The fictitious name of a foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business in this state because its real name is unavailable.

3. A corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary of state’s records from one or more of the names described in subsection 2. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if either of the fol-
The other corporation consents to the use of the name in writing and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.

b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of a final judgment from a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant’s right to use the name applied for in this state.

c. The owner of a reserved corporate name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

d. A foreign corporation may register its corporate name, or its corporate name with any change required by section 504.1506, if the name is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from both of the following:

   a. The corporate name of a nonprofit or business corporation incorporated or authorized to do business in this state.

   b. A corporate name reserved under section 490.402, 490.403, or 504.402,* or registered under this section.

2. A foreign corporation shall register its corporate name, or its corporate name with any change required by section 504.1506, by delivering to the secretary of state an application that does both of the following:

   a. Sets forth its corporate name, or its corporate name with any change required by section 504.1506, the state or country and date of its incorporation, and a brief description of the nature of the activities in which it is engaged.

   b. Is accompanied by a certificate of existence, or a document of similar import, from the state or country of incorporation.

3. The name is registered for the applicant’s exclusive use upon the effective date of the application.

4. A foreign corporation whose registration is effective may renew it for successive years by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a renewal application which complies with the requirements of subsection 2, between October 1 and December 31 of the preceding year. The renewal application renews the registration for the following calendar year.

5. A foreign corporation whose registration is effective may thereafter qualify as a foreign corporation under that name or consent in writing to the use of that name by a corporation thereafter authorized to transact business in this state. The registration terminates when the domestic corporation is incorporated or the foreign corporation qualifies or consents to the qualification of another foreign corporation under the registered name.

504.402 Reserved name.

1. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a corporate name, including a fictitious name for a foreign corporation whose corporate name is not available by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. Upon finding that the corporate name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant’s exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty-day period.

2. The owner of a reserved corporate name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

504.403 Registered name.

1. A foreign corporation may register its corporate name, or its corporate name with any change required by section 504.1506, if the name is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from both of the following:

   a. The corporate name of a nonprofit or business corporation incorporated or authorized to do business in this state.

   b. A corporate name reserved under section 490.402, 490.403, or 504.402,* or registered under this section.

2. A foreign corporation shall register its corporate name, or its corporate name with any change required by section 504.1506, by delivering to the secretary of state an application that does both of the following:

   a. Sets forth its corporate name, or its corporate name with any change required by section 504.1506, the state or country and date of its incorporation, and a brief description of the nature of the activities in which it is engaged.

   b. Is accompanied by a certificate of existence, or a document of similar import, from the state or country of incorporation.

3. The name is registered for the applicant’s exclusive use upon the effective date of the application.

4. A foreign corporation whose registration is effective may renew it for successive years by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a renewal application which complies with the requirements of subsection 2, between October 1 and December 31 of the preceding year. The renewal application renews the registration for the following calendar year.

5. A foreign corporation whose registration is effective may thereafter qualify as a foreign corporation under that name or consent in writing to the use of that name by a corporation thereafter authorized to transact business in this state. The registration terminates when the domestic corporation is incorporated or the foreign corporation qualifies or consents to the qualification of another foreign corporation under the registered name.

504.404 through 504.500 Reserved.
§504.502 Change of registered office or registered agent.
1. A corporation may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
   b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the address of the new registered office.
   c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent’s written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the change.
   d. That after the change or changes are made, the addresses of its registered office and the office of its registered agent will be identical.
2. If the address of a registered agent’s business office is changed, the registered agent may change the address of the registered office of any corporation for which the registered agent is the registered agent by notifying the corporation in writing that the change has been made and by signing, either manually or in facsimile, and delivering to the secretary of state for filing, a statement that complies with the requirements of subsection 1 and recites that the corporation has been notified of the change.
3. If a registered agent changes the registered agent’s business address to another place, the registered agent may change the address of the registered office of any corporation for which the registered agent is the registered agent by notifying the corporation in writing of the change and by signing, either manually or in facsimile, and delivering to the secretary of state for filing, a statement that complies with the requirements of subsection 1 and recites that the corporation has been notified of the change.

§504.501, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

§504.503 Resignation of registered agent.
1. A registered agent may resign as registered agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing a signed original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that copies have been sent to the corporation, including the date the copies were sent.

PART 2
TYPES OF MEMBERSHIPS — MEMBERS’ RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS

504.611 Differences in rights and obligations of members.
All members shall have the same rights and obligations with respect to voting, dissolution, redemption, and transfer, unless the articles or bylaws establish classes of membership with different rights or obligations. All members shall have the same rights and obligations with respect to any other matters, except as set forth in or authorized by the articles or bylaws. A person that does not meet the qualifications for a member under section 504.141, subsection 22, and is identified as a member in the articles or bylaws of the corporation shall have only those rights set forth for such a member in the articles or bylaws of the corporation.
2004 Acts, ch 1049, §38, 192
NEW section

504.612 Transfers.
1. Except as set forth in or authorized by the articles or bylaws, a member of a mutual benefit corporation shall not transfer a membership or any right arising therefrom.
2. A member of a public benefit or religious corporation shall not transfer a membership or any right arising therefrom.
3. Where transfer rights have been provided, a restriction on them shall not be binding with respect to a member holding a membership issued prior to the adoption of the restriction unless the restriction is approved by the members and the affected member.

NEW section

504.614 Member's liability for dues, assessments, and fees.
A member may become liable to the corporation for dues, assessments, or fees. However, an article or bylaw provision or a resolution adopted by the board authorizing or imposing dues, assessments, or fees does not, of itself, create liability.
2004 Acts, ch 1049, §41, 192
NEW section

504.615 Creditor's action against member.
1. A proceeding shall not be brought by a creditor to reach the liability, if any, of a member to the corporation unless final judgment has been rendered in favor of the creditor against the corporation and execution has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part or unless such proceeding would be useless.
2. All creditors of the corporation, with or without reducing their claims to judgment, may intervene in any creditor’s proceeding brought under subsection 1 to reach and apply unpaid amounts due the corporation. Any or all members who owe amounts to the corporation may be joined in such proceeding.

PART 3
RESIGNATION AND TERMINATION

504.621 Resignation.
1. A member may resign at any time.
2. The resignation of a member does not relieve the member from any obligations the member may have to the corporation as a result of obligations incurred or commitments made prior to resignation.
2004 Acts, ch 1049, §43, 192
NEW section

504.622 Termination, expulsion, or suspension.
1. A member of a public benefit or mutual benefit corporation shall not be expelled or suspended, and a membership or memberships in such a corporation shall not be terminated or suspended except pursuant to a procedure which is fair and reasonable and is carried out in good faith.
2. A procedure is fair and reasonable when either of the following occurs:
   a. The articles or bylaws set forth a procedure which provides both of the following:
      (1) Not less than fifteen days’ prior written notice of the expulsion, suspension, or termination and the reasons therefor.
      (2) An opportunity for the member to be heard, orally or in writing, not less than five days before the effective date of the expulsion, suspension, or termination by a person or persons authorized to decide that the proposed expulsion, termination, or suspension not take place.
§504.622, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

b. The procedure requires consideration of all relevant facts and circumstances surrounding the expulsion, suspension, or termination by a person or persons authorized to make a decision regarding the proposed expulsion, termination, or suspension.

3. Any written notice given by mail pursuant to this section must be given by first class or certified mail sent to the last address of the member shown on the corporation’s records.

4. A proceeding challenging an expulsion, suspension, or termination, including a proceeding alleging defective notice, must be commenced within one year after the effective date of the expulsion, suspension, or termination.

5. A member who has been expelled or suspended may be liable to the corporation for dues, assessments, or fees as a result of obligations incurred or commitments made prior to expulsion or suspension.

PART 4
DERIVATIVE PROCEEDINGS

504.631 Derivative proceedings — definition.

In this part, unless the context otherwise requires, “derivative proceeding” means a civil suit in the right of a domestic corporation or, to the extent provided in section 504.638, in the right of a foreign corporation.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §46, 192
NEW section

504.632 Standing.

A derivative proceeding may be brought by any of the following persons:

1. A member or members of the corporation representing five percent or more of the voting power of the corporation or by fifty members, whichever is less.

2. A director of the corporation.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §47, 192
NEW section

504.633 Demand.

A derivative proceeding shall not be commenced until both of the following have occurred:

1. A written demand has been made upon the corporation to take suitable action.

2. Ninety days have expired from the date the demand was made, unless the member or director has earlier been notified that the demand has been rejected by the corporation or unless irreparable injury to the corporation would result by waiting for the expiration of the ninety-day period.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §48, 192
NEW section

504.634 Stay of proceedings.

If a corporation commences an inquiry into the allegations made in a demand or complaint, the court may stay any derivative proceeding for a period of time as the court deems appropriate.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §49, 192
NEW section

504.635 Dismissal.

1. A derivative proceeding shall be dismissed by the court on motion by the corporation if one of the groups specified in subsection 2 or 6 has determined in good faith after conducting a reasonable inquiry upon which its conclusions are based that the maintenance of the derivative proceeding is not in the best interests of the corporation. A corporation moving to dismiss on this basis shall submit in support of the motion a short and concise statement of the reasons for its determination.

2. Unless a panel is appointed pursuant to subsection 6, the determination in subsection 1 shall be made by one of the following:

a. A majority vote of independent directors present at a meeting of the board of directors if the independent directors constitute a quorum.

b. A majority vote of a committee consisting of two or more independent directors appointed by majority vote of independent directors present at a meeting of the board of directors, whether or not such independent directors constitute a quorum.

3. None of the following shall by itself cause a director to be considered not independent for purposes of this section:

a. The nomination or election of the director by persons who are defendants in the derivative proceeding or against whom action is demanded.

b. The naming of the director as a defendant in the derivative proceeding or as a person against whom action is demanded.

c. The approval by the director of the act being challenged in the derivative proceeding or demand if the act resulted in no personal benefit to the director.

4. If a derivative proceeding is commenced after a determination has been made rejecting a demand by a member or director, the complaint shall allege with particularity facts establishing one of the following:

a. That a majority of the board of directors did not consist of independent directors at the time the determination was made.

b. That the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met.

All discovery and other proceedings shall be stayed during the pendency of any motion to dismiss unless the court finds upon the motion of any party that particularized discovery is necessary to preserve evidence or prevent undue prejudice to that party.

5. If a majority of the board of directors does not consist of independent directors at the time the determination is made, the corporation shall have the burden of proving that the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met. If a majority of the board of directors consists of independent directors at the time the determination is made, the plaintiff shall have the burden of proving that the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met.

6. The court may appoint a panel of one or more independent persons upon motion by the corporation to make a determination whether the maintenance of the derivative proceeding is in the best interests of the corporation. In such case, the plaintiff shall have the burden of proving that the requirements of subsection 1 have not been met.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §50, 192

NEW section

504.636 Discontinuance or settlement.
A derivative proceeding shall not be discontinued or settled without the court's approval. If the court determines that a proposed discontinuance or settlement will substantially affect the interests of a corporation's member or class of members or director, the court shall direct that notice be given to the members or director affected.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §51, 192

NEW section

504.637 Payment of expenses.
On termination of a derivative proceeding, the court may do either of the following:

2. Order the plaintiff to pay any defendant's reasonable expenses, including attorney fees incurred in defending the proceeding, if it finds that the proceeding was commenced or maintained without reasonable cause or for an improper purpose.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §52, 192

NEW section

504.638 Applicability to foreign corporations.
In any derivative proceeding in the right of a foreign corporation, the matters covered by this part shall be governed by the laws of the jurisdiction of incorporation of the foreign corporation except that sections 504.634, 504.636, and 504.637 shall apply.

SUBCHAPTER VII

MEMBERS’ MEETINGS AND VOTING

PART 1

MEETINGS AND ACTION

WITHOUT MEETINGS

504.701 Annual and regular meetings.
1. A corporation with members shall hold a membership meeting annually at a time stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws.

2. A corporation with members may hold regular membership meetings at the times stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws.

3. Annual or regular membership meetings may be held in or out of this state at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If a place is not stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, annual and regular meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

4. At the annual meeting all of the following shall occur:
a. The president and chief financial officer shall report on the activities and financial condition of the corporation.

b. The members shall consider and act upon such other matters as may be raised consistent with the notice requirements of sections 504.705 and 504.713, subsection 4.

c. At regular meetings, the members shall consider and act upon such matters as may be raised consistent with the notice requirements of sections 504.705 and 504.713, subsection 4.

504.702 Special meeting.

1. A corporation with members shall hold a special meeting of members when either of the following occurs:

   a. At the call of its board or the person or persons authorized to do so by the corporation's articles or bylaws.

   b. Except as provided in the articles or bylaws of a religious corporation, if the holders of at least five percent of the voting power of any corporation sign, date, and deliver to any corporate officer one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose for which it is to be held. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, a written demand for a special meeting may be revoked by a writing to that effect received by the corporation prior to the receipt by the corporation of demands sufficient in number to require the holding of a special meeting.

   2. The close of business on the thirtieth day before delivery of the demand for a special meeting to any corporate officer is the record date for the purpose of determining whether the five percent requirement of subsection 1, paragraph "b", has been met.

   3. If a notice for a special meeting demanded under subsection 1, paragraph "b", is not given pursuant to section 504.705 within thirty days after the date the written demand or demands are delivered to a corporate officer, regardless of the requirements of subsection 4, a person signing the demand may set the time and place of the meeting and give notice pursuant to section 504.705.

   4. Special meetings of members may be held in or out of this state at a place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If a place is not stated or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, special meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

   5. Only those matters that are within the purpose described in the meeting notice required by section 504.705 may be considered at a special meeting of members.

   2004 Acts, ch 1049, §55, 192

NEW section

504.703 Court-ordered meeting.

1. The district court of the county where a corporation's principal office is located or, if none is located in this state, where its registered office is located, may summarily order a meeting to be held when any of the following occurs:

   a. On application of any member or other person entitled to participate in an annual or regular meeting of the corporation, if an annual meeting was not held within the earlier of six months after the end of the corporation's fiscal year or fifteen months after its last annual meeting.

   b. On application of any member or other person entitled to participate in a regular meeting of the corporation, if a regular meeting was not held within forty days after the date it was required to be held.

   c. On application of a member who signed a demand for a special meeting valid under section 504.702, or a person entitled to call a special meeting, if any of the following applies:

      (1) The notice of the special meeting was not given within thirty days after the date the demand was delivered to a corporate officer.

      (2) The special meeting was not held in accordance with the notice.

      2. The court may fix the time and place of the meeting, specify a record date for determining members entitled to notice of and to vote at the meeting, prescribe the form and content of the meeting notice, fix the quorum required for specific matters to be considered at the meeting or direct that the votes represented at the meeting constitute a quorum for action on those matters, and enter other orders necessary to accomplish the purpose of the meeting.

      3. If the court orders a meeting, it may also order the corporation to pay the member's costs, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred to obtain the order.

504.704 Action by written consent.

1. Unless limited or prohibited by the articles or bylaws of the corporation, action required or permitted by this subchapter to be approved by the members of a corporation may be approved without a meeting of members if the action is approved by members holding at least eighty percent of the voting power. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by those members representing at least eighty percent of the voting power, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. A written consent may be revoked by a writing to that effect received by the corporation prior to the receipt by the corporation of unrevoked written consents sufficient in number to take corporation action.

2. If not otherwise determined under section 504.703 or 504.707, the record date for determining members entitled to take action without a meeting is the first member signs the consent under subsection 1.

3. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document filed with the secretary of state.

4. Written notice of member approval pursuant to this section shall be given to all members who have not signed the written consent. If written notice is required, member approval pursuant to this section shall be effective ten days after such written notice is given.

504.705 Notice of meeting.

1. A corporation shall give notice consistent with its bylaws of meetings of members in a fair and reasonable manner.

2. Any notice which conforms to the requirements of subsection 3 is fair and reasonable, but other means of giving notice may also be fair and reasonable when all the circumstances are considered. However, notice of matters referred to in subsection 3, paragraph “b,” must be given as provided in subsection 3.

3. Notice is fair and reasonable if all of the following occur:

   a. The corporation notifies its members of the place, date, and time of each annual, regular, and special meeting of members not more than sixty days and not less than ten days, or if notice is mailed by other than first class or registered mail, not less than thirty days, before the date of the meeting.

   b. The notice of an annual or regular meeting includes a description of any matter or matters which must be considered for approval by the members under sections 504.833, 504.857, 504.1003, 504.1022, 504.1104, 504.1202, 504.1401, and 504.1402.

   c. The notice of a special meeting includes a description of the purpose for which the meeting is called.

4. Unless the bylaws require otherwise, if an annual, regular, or special meeting of members is adjourned to a different date, time, or place, notice need not be given of the new date, time, or place, if the new date, time, or place is announced at the meeting before adjournment. If a new record date for the adjourned meeting is or must be fixed under section 504.707, however, notice of the adjourned meeting must be given under this section to the members of record as of the new record date.

5. When giving notice of an annual, regular, or special meeting of members, a corporation shall give notice of a matter a member intends to raise at the meeting if requested in writing to do so by a person entitled to call a special meeting and if the request is received by the secretary or president of the corporation at least ten days before the corporation gives notice of the meeting.

504.706 Waiver of notice.

1. A member may waive any notice required by this subchapter, the articles, or bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. The waiver must be in writing, be signed by the member entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

2. A member’s attendance at a meeting does all of the following:

   a. Waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the member at the beginning of the meeting objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting.

   b. Waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose described in the meeting notice, unless the member objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

504.707 Record date — determining members entitled to notice and vote.

1. The bylaws of a corporation may fix or provide the manner of fixing a date as the record date for determining the members entitled to notice of a members’ meeting. If the bylaws do not fix or provide for fixing such a record date, the board may fix a future date as such a record date. If a record date is not fixed, members at the close of business on the business day preceding the day on which notice is given, or if notice is waived, at the close of business on the business day preceding the day on which the meeting is held, are entitled to notice of the meeting.

2. The bylaws of a corporation may fix or provide the manner of fixing a date as the record date for determining the members entitled to vote at a members’ meeting. If the bylaws do not fix or provide for fixing such a record date, the board may fix a future date as such a record date. If a record date is not fixed, members on the date of the meeting who are otherwise eligible to vote are entitled to vote at the meeting.

3. The bylaws may fix or provide the manner for determining a date as the record date for the purpose of determining the members entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any other lawful action. If the bylaws do not fix or provide for fixing such a record date, the board may fix in advance such a record date. If a record date is not fixed, members at the close of business on the day on which the board adopts the resolution relating thereto, or the sixtieth day prior to the date of such other action, whichever is later, are entitled to exercise such rights.
§504.707, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

4. A record date fixed under this section shall not be more than seventy days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of members occurs.

5. A determination of members entitled to notice of or to vote at a membership meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the board fixes a new date for determining the right to notice or the right to vote, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than seventy days after the record date for determining members entitled to notice of the original meeting.

504.708 Action by written ballot.

1. Unless prohibited or limited by the articles or bylaws, any action which may be taken at any annual, regular, or special meeting of members may be taken without a meeting if the corporation delivers a written ballot to every member entitled to vote on the matter.

2. A written ballot shall do both of the following:
   a. Set forth each proposed action.
   b. Provide an opportunity to vote for or against each proposed action.

3. Approval by written ballot pursuant to this section shall be valid only when the number of votes cast by ballot equals or exceeds the quorum required to be present at a meeting authorizing the action, and the number of approvals equals or exceeds the number of votes that would be required to approve the matter at a meeting at which the total number of votes cast was the same as the number of votes cast by ballot.

4. All solicitations for votes by written ballot shall do all of the following:
   a. Indicate the number of responses needed to meet the quorum requirements.
   b. State the percentage of approvals necessary to approve each matter other than election of directors.
   c. Specify the time by which a ballot must be received by the corporation in order to be counted.

5. Except as otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws, a written ballot shall not be revoked.

6. Unless prohibited by the articles or bylaws, a written ballot may be delivered and a vote may be cast on that ballot by electronic transmission. An electronic transmission of a written ballot shall contain or be accompanied by information indicating that a member, a member's agent, or a member's attorney authorized the electronic transmission of the ballot.

PART 2

VOTING

504.711 Members' list for meeting.

1. After fixing a record date for a notice of a meeting, a corporation shall prepare an alphabetical list of the names of all its members who are entitled to notice of the meeting. The list must show the address of each member and number of votes each member is entitled to cast at the meeting. The corporation shall prepare on a current basis through the time of the membership meeting a list of members, if any, who are entitled to vote at the meeting, but not entitled to notice of the meeting. This list shall be prepared on the same basis as and be part of the list of members.

2. Except as set forth in section 504.1602, subsection 6, the list of members must be available for inspection by any member for the purpose of communication with other members concerning the meeting, beginning two business days after notice is given of the meeting for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting, at the corporation's principal office or at a reasonable place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. Except as set forth in section 504.1602, subsection 6, a member, a member's agent, or a member's attorney is entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the limitations of section 504.1602, subsection 3, and section 504.1605, to copy the list, at a reasonable time and at the member's expense, during the period it is available for inspection.

3. Except as set forth in section 504.1602, subsection 6, a corporation shall make the list of members available at the meeting, and any member, a member's agent, or a member's attorney is entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment.

4. Except as set forth in section 504.1602, subsection 6, if a corporation refuses to allow a member, a member's agent, or a member's attorney to inspect the list of members before or at the meeting or copy the list as permitted by subsection 2, the district court of the county where a corporation's principal office is located or, if none is located in this state, where its registered office is located, on application of the member, may summarily order the inspection or copying of the membership list at the corporation's expense, may postpone the meeting for which the list was prepared until the inspection or copying is complete, and may order the corporation to pay the member’s costs, including reasonable attorney fees incurred to obtain the order.

5. Unless a written demand to inspect and copy a membership list has been made under subsection 2 prior to the membership meeting and a corporation improperly refuses to comply with the demand, refusal or failure to comply with this section does not affect the validity of action taken at the meeting.

6. The articles or bylaws of a religious corporation may limit or abolish the rights of a member under this section to inspect and copy any corporate record.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §64, 192

504.712 Voting entitlement generally.

1. The right of the members of a corporation, or any class or classes of members, to vote may be limited, enlarged, or denied to the extent specified in the articles of incorporation or, if the articles of incorporation so provide, by the bylaws. Unless so limited, enlarged, or denied, each member, regardless of class, shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of members.

2. Unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise, if a membership stands of record in the names of two or more persons, the persons’ acts with respect to voting shall have the following effect:
   a. If only one votes, such act binds all.
   b. If more than one votes, the vote shall be divided on a pro rata basis.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §63, 192

504.713 Quorum requirements.

1. Unless this subchapter* or the articles or bylaws of a corporation provide for a higher or lower quorum, ten percent of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter must be represented at a meeting of members to constitute a quorum on that matter.

2. A bylaw amendment to decrease the quorum for any member action may be approved by the members or, unless prohibited by the bylaws, by the board.

3. A bylaw amendment to increase the quorum required for any member action must be approved by the members.

4. Unless one-third or more of the voting power is present in person or by proxy, the only matters that may be voted upon at an annual or regular meeting of members are those matters that are described in the meeting notice.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §65, 192

504.714 Voting requirements.

1. Unless this subchapter* or the articles or bylaws of a corporation require a greater vote or voting by class, if a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the votes represented and voting, which affirmative votes also constitute a majority of the required quorum, is the act of the members.

2. A bylaw amendment to increase or decrease the vote required for any member action must be approved by the members.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §66, 192

504.715 Proxies.

1. Unless the articles or bylaws of a corporation prohibit or limit proxy voting, a member or the member’s agent or attorney in fact may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for the member by signing an appointment form or by an electronic transmission. An electronic transmission must contain or be accompanied by information from which it can be determined that the member, the member’s agent, or the member’s attorney in fact authorized the electronic transmission.

2. An appointment of a proxy is effective when a signed appointment form or an electronic transmission of an appointment form is received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes. An appointment is valid for eleven months unless a different period is expressly provided for in the appointment. However, a proxy shall not be valid for more than three years from its date of execution.

3. An appointment of a proxy is revocable by the member.

4. The death or incapacity of the member appointing a proxy does not affect the right of the corporation to accept the proxy’s authority unless notice of the death or incapacity is received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes before the proxy exercises authority under the appointment.

5. Appointment of a proxy is revoked by the person appointing the proxy if either of the following occurs:
   a. The person appointing the proxy attends any meeting and votes in person.
   b. The person appointing the proxy signs and delivers or sends through electronic transmission to the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate proxy votes either a writing or electronic transmission stating that the appointment of the proxy is revoked or a subsequent appointment form.

6. Subject to section 504.718 and any express limitation on the proxy’s authority appearing on the face of the appointment form, a corporation is entitled to accept the proxy’s vote or other action as that of the member making the appointment.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §67, 192

504.716 Cumulative voting for directors.

1. If the articles or bylaws of a corporation pro-provide for cumulative voting by members, members may so vote, by multiplying the number of votes the members are entitled to cast by the number of directors for whom they are entitled to vote, and casting the product for a single candidate or distributing the product among two or more candidates.

2. A director elected by cumulative voting may be removed by the members without cause if the requirements of section 504.808 are met unless the votes cast against removal, or not consenting in writing to such removal, would be sufficient to elect such director if voted cumulatively at an election at which the same total number of votes were cast or, if such action is taken by written ballot, all memberships entitled to vote were voted, and the entire number of directors authorized at the time of the director’s most recent election were then being elected.

3. Members shall not cumulatively vote if the directors and members are identical.

504.718 Corporation’s acceptance of votes.

1. If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment corresponds to the name of a member, the corporation if acting in good faith is entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the member.

2. If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment does not correspond to the record name of a member, the corporation if acting in good faith is nevertheless entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the member if any of the following is applicable:

a. The member is an entity and the name signed purports to be that of an officer or agent of the entity.

b. The name signed purports to be that of an attorney in fact of the member, and if the corporation requests, evidence acceptable to the corporation of the signatory’s authority to sign for the member has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.

c. Two or more persons hold the membership as cotenants or fiduciaries and the name signed purports to be the name of at least one of the coholders and the person signing appears to be acting on behalf of all the coholders.

d. In the case of a mutual benefit corporation:

(1) The name signed purports to be that of an administrator, executor, guardian, or conservator representing the member, and if the corporation requests, evidence of fiduciary status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.

(2) The name signed purports to be that of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the member, and if the corporation requests, evidence of this status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.

3. The corporation is entitled to reject a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment if the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes, acting in good faith, has reasonable basis for doubt about the validity of the signature on it or about the signatory’s authority to sign for the member.

4. The corporation and its officer or agent who accepts or rejects a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment in good faith and in accordance with the standards of this section are not liable in damages to the member for the consequences of the acceptance or rejection.

5. Corporate action based on the acceptance or rejection of a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment under this section is valid unless a court of competent jurisdiction determines otherwise.

§504.803 Number of directors.
1. The board of directors of a corporation must consist of one or more individuals, with the number specified in or fixed in accordance with the articles or bylaws.
2. The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to or in the manner prescribed in the articles or bylaws.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §74, 192

§504.804 Election, designation, and appointment of directors.
1. If the corporation has members, all the directors, except the initial directors, shall be elected at the first annual meeting of members, and at each annual meeting thereafter, unless the articles or bylaws provide some other time or method of election, or provide that some of the directors are appointed by some other person or designated.
2. If a corporation does not have members, all the directors, except the initial directors, shall be elected, appointed, or designated as provided in the articles or bylaws. If no method of designation or appointment is set forth in the articles or by-laws, the directors other than the initial directors shall be elected by the board.

§504.805 Terms of directors generally.
1. The articles or bylaws of a corporation must specify the terms of directors. Except for designated or appointed directors, and except as otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws, the terms of directors shall not exceed five years. In the absence of any term specified in the articles or bylaws, the term of each director shall be one year. Directors may be elected for successive terms.
2. A decrease in the number or term of directors does not shorten an incumbent director’s term.
3. Except as provided in the articles or bylaws, both of the following apply:
   a. The term of a director filling a vacancy in the office of a director elected by members expires at the next election of directors by members.
   b. The term of a director filling any other vacancy expires at the end of the unexpired term which such director is filling.
4. Despite the expiration of a director’s term, the director continues to serve until the director’s successor is elected, designated, or appointed, and qualifies, or until there is a decrease in the number of directors.

§504.807 Resignation of directors.
1. A director of a corporation may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the board of directors, its presiding officer, or the president or secretary.
2. A resignation is effective when the notice is effective unless the notice specifies a later effective date. If a resignation is made effective at a later date, the board may fill the pending vacancy before the effective date if the board provides that the successor does not take office until the effective date.

§504.808 Removal of directors elected by members or directors.
1. The members of a corporation may remove one or more directors elected by the members without cause.
§504.808, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

2. If a director is elected by a class, chapter, or other organizational unit or by region or other geographic grouping, the director may be removed only by the members of that class, chapter, unit, or grouping.

3. Except as provided in subsection 9, a director may be removed under subsection 1 or 2 only if the number of votes cast to remove the director would be sufficient to elect the director at a meeting to elect directors.

4. If cumulative voting is authorized, a director shall not be removed if the number of votes, or if the director was elected by a class, chapter, unit, or grouping of members, the number of votes of that class, chapter, unit, or grouping, sufficient to elect the director under cumulative voting is voted against the director's removal.

5. A director elected by members may be removed by the members only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing the director and the meeting notice must state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is the removal of the director.

6. For the purpose of computing whether a director is protected from removal under subsections 2 through 4, it should be assumed that the votes against removal are cast in an election for the number of directors of the group to which the director to be removed belonged on the date of that director's election.

7. An entire board of directors may be removed under subsections 1 through 5.

8. A director elected by the board may be removed without cause by the vote of two-thirds of the directors then in office or such greater number as is set forth in the articles or bylaws. However, a director elected by the board to fill the vacancy of a director elected by the members may be removed without cause by the members, but not by the board.

9. If at the beginning of a director's term on the board the articles or bylaws provide that a director may be removed for missing a specified number of board meetings, the board may remove the director for failing to attend the specified number of meetings. The director may be removed only if a majority of the directors then in office vote for the removal.

10. The articles or bylaws of a religious corporation may do both of the following:

   a. Limit the application of this section.
   b. Set forth the vote and procedures by which the board or any person may remove with or without cause a director elected by the members or the board.

   a. A director engaged in fraudulent conduct with respect to the corporation or its members, grossly abused the position of director, or intentionally inflicted harm on the corporation.
   b. Upon consideration of the director's course of conduct and the inadequacy of other available remedies, the court determines that removal is in the best interest of the corporation.

2. A member or a director who proceeds by or in the right of a corporation pursuant to subsection 1 shall comply with all of the requirements of section 504.631 and sections 504.633 through 504.638.

3. The court, in addition to removing a director, may bar the director from serving on the board for a period of time prescribed by the court.

4. This section does not limit the equitable powers of the court to order other relief that the court determines is appropriate.

1. Unless the articles or bylaws of a corporation provide otherwise, and except as provided in subsections 2 and 3, if a vacancy occurs on the board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, any of the following may occur:

   a. The members, if any, may fill the vacancy.

   b. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a class, chapter, or other organizational unit or by region or other geographic grouping, only members of the class, chapter, unit, or grouping are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy if it is filled by the members.

b. The board of directors may fill the vacancy.

c. If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office.

2. Unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise, if a vacant office was held by an appointed director, only the person who appointed the director may fill the vacancy.

3. If a vacant office was held by a designated director, the vacancy shall be filled as provided in the articles or bylaws. In the absence of an applicable article or bylaw provision, the vacancy shall be filled by the board.

4. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date by reason of a resignation effective at a later date under section 504.807, subsection 2, or otherwise, may be filled before the vacancy occurs, but the new director shall not take office until the vacancy occurs.

OF THE BOARD

504.821 Regular and special meetings.

1. If the time and place of a directors' meeting is fixed by the bylaws or the board, the meeting is a regular meeting. All other meetings are special meetings.

2. A board of directors may hold regular or special meetings in or out of this state.

3. Unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise, a board may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting by this means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

504.822 Action without meeting.

1. Except to the extent the articles or bylaws of a corporation require that action by the board of directors be taken at a meeting, action required or permitted by this subchapter* to be taken by the board of directors may be taken without a meeting if each director signs a consent describing the action to be taken and delivers it to the corporation.

2. Action taken under this section is the act of the board of directors when one or more consents signed by all the directors are delivered to the corporation. The consent may specify the time at which the action taken is to be effective. A director's consent may be withdrawn by revocation signed by the director and delivered to the corporation prior to the delivery to the corporation of unretracted written consents signed by all of the directors.

3. A consent signed under this section has the effect of action taken at a meeting of the board of directors and may be described as such in any document.

504.823 Call and notice of meetings.

1. Unless the articles or bylaws of a corporation, or subsection 3, provide otherwise, regular meetings of the board may be held without notice.

2. Unless the articles, bylaws, or subsection 3 provide otherwise, special meetings of the board must be preceded by at least two days' notice to each director of the date, time, and place, but not the purpose, of the meeting.

3. In corporations without members, any board action to remove a director or to approve a matter which would require approval by the members if the corporation had members shall not be valid unless each director is given at least seven days' written notice that the matter will be voted upon at a directors' meeting or unless notice is waived pursuant to section 504.824.

4. Unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise, the presiding officer of the board, the president, or twenty percent of the directors then in office may call and give notice of a meeting of the board.

NEW section

504.824 Waiver of notice.

1. A director may at any time waive any notice required by this subchapter, the articles, or bylaws. Except as provided in subsection 2, the waiver must be in writing, signed by the director entitled to the notice, and filed with the minutes or the corporate records.

2. A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice of the meeting unless the director, upon arriving at the meeting or prior to the vote on a matter not noticed in conformity with this subchapter, the articles, or bylaws, objects to lack of notice and does not thereafter vote for or assent to the objected-to action.

504.825 Quorum and voting.
1. Except as otherwise provided in this subchapter,* or the articles or bylaws of a corporation, a quorum of a board of directors consists of a majority of the directors in office immediately before a meeting begins. The articles or bylaws shall not authorize a quorum of fewer than one-third of the number of directors in office.
2. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the board unless this subchapter,* the articles, or bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

504.826 Committees of the board.
1. Unless prohibited or limited by the articles or bylaws of a corporation, the board of directors may create one or more committees of the board and appoint members of the board to serve on them. Each committee shall have two or more directors, who serve at the pleasure of the board.
2. The creation of a committee and appointment of members to it must be approved by the greater of either of the following:
   a. A majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken.
   b. The number of directors required by the articles or bylaws to take action under section 504.825.
3. Sections 504.821 through 504.825, which govern meetings, action without meetings, notice and waiver of notice, and quorum and voting requirements of the board, apply to committees of the board and their members as well.
4. To the extent specified by the board of directors or in the articles or bylaws, each committee of the board may exercise the board’s authority under section 504.801.
5. A committee of the board shall not, however, do any of the following:
   a. Authorize distributions.
   b. Approve or recommend to members dissolution, merger, or the sale, pledge, or transfer of all or substantially all of the corporation’s assets.
   c. Elect, appoint, or remove directors or fill vacancies on the board or on any of its committees.
   d. Adopt, amend, or repeal the articles or bylaws.
6. The creation of, delegation of authority to, or action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a director with the standards of conduct described in section 504.831.

PART 3
STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

504.831 General standards for directors.
1. Each member of the board of directors of a corporation, when discharging the duties of a director, shall act in conformity with all of the following:
   a. In good faith.
   b. In a manner the director reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation.
2. The members of the board of directors or a committee of the board, when becoming informed in connection with their decision-making functions, shall discharge their duties with the care that a person in a like position would reasonably believe appropriate under similar circumstances.
3. In discharging board or committee duties, a director who does not have knowledge that makes reliance unwarranted is entitled to rely on the performance by any of the persons specified in subsection 5, paragraph “a”, to whom the board may have delegated, formally or informally by course of conduct, the authority or duty to perform one or more of the board’s functions that are delegable under applicable law.
4. In discharging board or committee duties, a director is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the persons specified in subsection 5.
5. A director is entitled to rely, in accordance with subsection 3 or 4, on any of the following:
   a. One or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the director reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the functions performed or the information, opinions, reports, or statements provided by the officer or employee.
   b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters involving skills or expertise the director reasonably believes are either of the following:
      (1) Matters within the particular person’s professional or expert competence.
      (2) Matters as to which the particular person merits confidence.
   c. A committee of the board of which the director is not a member, as to matters within its jurisdiction, if the director reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.
   d. In the case of religious corporations, religious authorities and ministers, priests, rabbis, or other persons whose position or duties in the religious organization the director believes justify reliance and confidence and whom the director believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.

6. A director shall not be deemed to be a trustee with respect to the corporation or with respect to any property held or administered by the corporation, including without limit, property that may be subject to restrictions imposed by the donor or transferor of such property.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §90, 192

NEW section

504.832 Standards of liability for directors.

1. A director shall not be liable to the corporation or its members for any decision to take or not to take action, or any failure to take any action, as director, unless the party asserting liability in a proceeding establishes both of the following:

a. That section 504.901 or the protection afforded by section 504.831, if interposed as a bar to the proceeding by the director, does not preclude liability.

b. That the challenged conduct consisted or was the result of one of the following:

   (1) Action not in good faith.

   (2) A decision that satisfies one of the following:

      (a) That the director did not reasonably believe to be in the best interests of the corporation.

      (b) As to which the director was not informed to an extent the director reasonably believed appropriate in the circumstances.

      (3) A lack of objectivity due to the director’s familial, financial, or business relationship with, or lack of independence due to the director’s domination or control by, another person having a material interest in the challenged conduct which also meets both of the following criteria:

         (a) Which relationship or which domination or control could reasonably be expected to have affected the director’s judgment respecting the challenged conduct in a manner adverse to the corporation.

         (b) After a reasonable expectation to such effect has been established, the director shall not have established that the challenged conduct was reasonably believed by the director to be in the best interests of the corporation.

   (4) A sustained failure of the director to devote attention to ongoing oversight of the business and affairs of the corporation, or a failure to devote timely attention, by making, or causing to be made, appropriate inquiry, when particular facts and circumstances of significant concern materialize that would alert a reasonably attentive director to the need therefor.

   (5) Receipt of a financial benefit to which the director was not entitled or any other breach of the director’s duties to deal fairly with the corporation and its members that is actionable under applicable law.

2. a. A party seeking to hold a director liable for money damages shall also have the burden of establishing both of the following:

   (1) That harm to the corporation or its members has been suffered.

   (2) The harm suffered was proximately caused by the director’s challenged conduct.

b. A party seeking to hold a director liable for other money payment under a legal remedy, such as compensation for the unauthorized use of corporate assets, shall also have whatever burden of persuasion that may be called for to establish that the payment sought is appropriate in the circumstances.

c. A party seeking to hold a director liable for other money payment under an equitable remedy, such as profit recovery by or disgorgement to the corporation, shall also have whatever burden of persuasion that may be called for to establish that the equitable remedy sought is appropriate in the circumstances.

3. This section shall not do any of the following:

   a. In any instance where fairness is at issue, such as consideration of the fairness of a transaction to the corporation under section 504.833, alter the burden of proving the fact or lack of fairness otherwise applicable.

   b. Alter the fact or lack of liability of a director under another section of this chapter, such as the provisions governing the consequences of a transactional interest under section 504.833 or an unlawful distribution under section 504.835.

c. Affect any rights to which the corporation or a shareholder may be entitled under another statute of this state or the United States.

NEW section

504.833 Director conflict of interest.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the corporation in which a director of the corporation has a direct or indirect interest. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the corporation on the basis of the director’s interest in the transaction if the transaction was fair at the time it was entered into or is approved as provided in subsection 2.

2. A transaction in which a director of a mutual benefit corporation has a conflict of interest may be approved if either of the following occurs:

   a. The material facts of the transaction and the director’s interest were disclosed or known to the board of directors or a committee of the board and the board or committee of the board authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

   b. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest were disclosed or known to the members and they authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

3. For the purposes of this section, a director of the corporation has an indirect interest in a transaction under either of the following circumstances:
   a. If another entity in which the director has a material interest or in which the director is a general partner is a party to the transaction.
   b. If another entity of which the director is a director, officer, or trustee is a party to the transaction.

4. For purposes of subsection 2, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors on the board or on a committee of the board who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction, but a transaction shall not be authorized, approved, or ratified under this section by a single director. If a majority of the directors on the board who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the transaction, a quorum is present for the purpose of taking action under this section. The presence of, or a vote cast by, a director with a direct or indirect interest in the transaction does not affect the validity of any action taken under subsection 2, paragraph "a", if the transaction is otherwise approved as provided in subsection 2.

5. For purposes of subsection 2, paragraph "b", a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified by the members if it receives a majority of the votes entitled to be counted under this subsection. Votes cast by or voted under the control of a director who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction, and votes cast by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection 3, paragraph "a", shall not be counted in a vote of members to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under subsection 2, paragraph "b". The vote of these members, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this subchapter. A majority of the voting power, whether or not present, that is entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this subsection constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this section.

6. The articles, bylaws, or a resolution of the board may impose additional requirements on conflict of interest transactions.

504.834 Loans to or guarantees for directors and officers.

1. A corporation shall not lend money to or guarantee the obligation of a director or officer of the corporation.

2. The fact that a loan or guarantee is made in violation of this section does not affect the borrower's liability on the loan.

*NEW section

504.835 Liability for unlawful distributions.

1. Unless a director complies with the applicable standards of conduct described in section 504.831, a director who votes for or assents to a distribution made in violation of this subchapter* is personally liable to the corporation for the amount of the distribution that exceeds what could have been distributed without violating this subchapter.*

2. A director held liable for an unlawful distribution under subsection 1 is entitled to contribution from both of the following:
   a. Every other director who voted for or assented to the distribution without complying with the applicable standards of conduct described in section 504.831.
   b. Each person who received an unlawful distribution for the amount of the distribution whether or not the person receiving the distribution knew it was made in violation of this subchapter.*

OFFICERS

504.841 Required officers.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws of a corporation, a corporation shall have a president, a secretary, a treasurer, and such other officers as are appointed by the board. An officer may appoint one or more officers if authorized by the bylaws or the board of directors.

2. The bylaws or the board shall delegate to one of the officers responsibility for preparing minutes of the directors' and members' meetings and for authenticating records of the corporation.

3. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in a corporation.

*NEW section

504.842 Duties and authority of officers.

Each officer of a corporation has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the bylaws, the duties and authority prescribed in a resolution of the board or by direction of an officer authorized by the board to prescribe the duties and authority.
of other officers.

NEW section

504.843 Standards of conduct for officers.
1. An officer, when performing in such capacity, shall act in conformity with all of the following:
   a. In good faith.
   b. With the care that a person in a like position would reasonably exercise under similar circumstances.
   c. In a manner the officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation and its members, if any.
2. In discharging the officer’s duties, an officer who does not have knowledge that makes reliance unwarranted is entitled to rely on any of the following:
   a. The performance of properly delegated responsibilities by one or more employees of the corporation whom the officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in performing the responsibilities delegated.
   b. Information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, prepared or presented by one or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.
   c. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons retained by the corporation as to matters involving the skills or expertise the officer reasonably believes are within the person’s professional or expert competence, or as to which the particular person merits confidence.
   d. In the case of religious corporations, religious authorities and ministers, priests, rabbis, or other persons whose position or duties in the religious organization the officer believes justify reliance and confidence and whom the officer believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.
3. An officer shall not be liable as an officer to the corporation or its members for any decision to take or not to take action, or any failure to take any action, if the duties of the officer are performed in compliance with this section. Whether an officer who does not comply with this section shall have liability will depend in such instance on applicable law, including those principles of sections 504.832 and 504.901 that have relevance.

NEW section

504.844 Resignation and removal of officers.
1. An officer of a corporation may resign at any time by delivering notice to the corporation. A resignation is effective when the notice is effective unless the notice specifies a future effective time. If a resignation is made effective at a future time and the board or appointing officer accepts the future effective time, its board or appointing officer may fill the pending vacancy before the effective time if the board or appointing officer provides that the successor does not take office until the effective time.
2. An officer may be removed at any time with or without cause by any of the following:
   a. The board of directors.
   b. The officer who appointed such officer, unless the bylaws or the board of directors provide otherwise.
   c. Any other officer if authorized by the bylaws or the board of directors.
   d. In this section, “appointing officer” means the officer, including any successor to that officer, who appointed the officer resigning or being removed.

PART 5
INDEMNIFICATION

504.851 Definitions.
As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:
1. “Corporation” includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of a corporation in a merger.
§504.851, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT 5104

2. “Director” or “officer” means an individual who is or was a director or officer of a corporation or an individual who, while a director or officer of a corporation, is or was serving at the corporation’s request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic business or nonprofit corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity. A “director” or “officer” is considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the corporation’s request if the director’s or officer’s duties to the corporation also impose duties on, or otherwise involve services by, the director or officer to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan. “Director” or “officer” includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the estate or personal representative of a director or officer.

3. “Disinterested director” means a director who at the time of a vote referred to in section 504.854, subsection 3, or a vote or selection referred to in section 504.856, subsection 2 or 3, is not either of the following:

a. A party to the proceeding.

b. An individual having a familial, financial, professional, or employment relationship with the director whose indemnification or advance for expenses is the subject of the decision being made, which relationship would, in the circumstances, reasonably be expected to exert an influence on the director’s judgment when voting on the decision being made.

4. “Expenses” includes attorney fees.

5. “Liability” means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, or fine including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan, or reasonable expenses actually incurred with respect to a proceeding.

6. “Official capacity” means either of the following:

a. When used with respect to a director, the office of director in a corporation.

b. When used with respect to an officer, as contemplated in section 504.857, the office in a corporation held by the officer. “Official capacity” does not include service for any other foreign or domestic business or nonprofit corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other entity.

7. “Party” means an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

8. “Proceeding” means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigatory and whether formal or informal.

NEW section

504.852 Permissible indemnification. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a corporation may indemnify an individual who is a party to a proceeding because the individual is a director against liability incurred in the proceeding if all of the following apply:

a. The individual acted in good faith.

b. The individual reasonably believed either of the following:

(1) In the case of conduct in the individual’s official capacity, that the individual’s conduct was in the best interests of the corporation.

(2) In all other cases, that the individual’s conduct was at least not opposed to the best interests of the corporation.

c. In the case of any criminal proceeding, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe the individual’s conduct was unlawful.

d. The individual engaged in conduct for which broader indemnification has been made permissible or obligatory under a provision of the articles of incorporation as authorized by section 504.202, subsection 2, paragraph “e”.

2. A director’s conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan for a purpose the director reasonably believed to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan is conduct that satisfies the requirements of subsection 1, paragraph “b”, subparagraph (2).

3. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director did not meet the relevant standard of conduct described in this section.

4. Unless ordered by a court under section 504.855, subsection 1, paragraph “b”, a corporation shall not indemnify a director under this section under either of the following circumstances:

a. In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, except for reasonable expenses incurred in the relevant standard of conduct under subsection 1.

b. In connection with any proceeding with respect to conduct for which the director was adjudged liable on the basis that the director received a financial benefit to which the director was not entitled, whether or not involving action in the director’s official capacity.

NEW section
504.854 Advance for expenses.
1. A corporation may, before final disposition of a proceeding, advance funds to pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a director who is a party to a proceeding because the person is a director if the person delivers all of the following to the corporation:
   a. A written affirmation of the director's good faith belief that the director has met the relevant standard of conduct described in section 504.852 or that the proceeding involved conduct for which liability has been eliminated under a provision of the articles of incorporation as authorized by section 504.202, subsection 2, paragraph "d".
   b. The director's written undertaking to repay any funds advanced if the director is not entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 504.853 and it is ultimately determined under section 504.855 or 504.856 that the director has not met the relevant standard of conduct described in section 504.852.
2. The undertaking required by subsection 1, paragraph "b", must be an unlimited general obligation of the director but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to the financial ability of the director to make repayment.
3. Authorizations under this section shall be made according to one of the following:
   a. By the board of directors as follows:
      (1) If there are two or more disinterested directors, by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by such vote.
      (2) If there are fewer than two disinterested directors, by the vote necessary for action by the board in accordance with section 504.825, subsection 2, in which authorization directors who do not qualify as disinterested directors may participate.
   b. By the members, but the director, who at the time does not qualify as a disinterested director, shall not vote as a member or on behalf of a member.

NEW section

504.855 Court-ordered indemnification.
1. A director who is a party to a proceeding because the person is a director may apply for indemnification or an advance for expenses to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. After receipt of an application, and after giving any notice the court considers necessary, the court shall do one of the following:
   a. Order indemnification if the court determines that the director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 504.853.
   b. Order indemnification or advance for expenses if the court determines that the director is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses pursuant to a provision authorized by section 504.859, subsection 1.
   c. Order indemnification or advance for expenses if the court determines, in view of all the relevant circumstances, that it is fair and reasonable to do one of the following:
      (1) To indemnify the director.
      (2) To indemnify or advance expenses to the director, even if the director has not met the relevant standard of conduct set forth in section 504.852, subsection 1, failed to comply with section 504.854, or was adjudged liable in a proceeding referred to in section 504.852, subsection 4, paragraph "a" or "b", but if the director was adjudged so liable the director's indemnification shall be limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.
      (3) If the court determines that the director is entitled to indemnification under subsection 1, paragraph "a", or to indemnification or advance for expenses under subsection 1, paragraph "b", it shall also order the corporation to pay the director's reasonable expenses incurred in connection with obtaining court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses. If the court determines that the director is entitled to indemnification or advance for expenses under subsection 1, paragraph "c", it may also order the corporation to pay the director's reasonable expenses to obtain court-ordered indemnification or advance for expenses.

NEW section

504.856 Determination and authorization of indemnification.
1. A corporation shall not indemnify a director under section 504.852 unless authorized for a specific proceeding after a determination has been made that indemnification of the director is permissible because the director has met the standard of conduct set forth in section 504.852.
2. The determination shall be made by any of the following:
   a. If there are two or more disinterested directors, by the board of directors by a majority vote of all the disinterested directors, a majority of whom shall for such purpose constitute a quorum, or by a majority of the members of a committee of two or more disinterested directors appointed by such vote.
   b. By special legal counsel under one of the following circumstances:
      (1) Selected in the manner prescribed in paragraph "a".
      (2) If there are fewer than two disinterested directors, selected by the board in which selection directors who do not qualify as disinterested directors may participate.

504.857 Indemnification of officers.
1. A corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under this part to an officer of the corporation who is a party to a proceeding because the person is an officer, according to all of the following:
   a. To the same extent as to a director.
   b. If the person is an officer but not a director, to such further extent as may be provided by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, articles or resolutions of the board of directors, or contract, except for either of the following:
      1. Liability in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation other than for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.
      2. Liability arising out of conduct that constitutes any of the following:
         (a) Receipt by the officer of a financial benefit to which the officer is not entitled.
         (b) An intentional infliction of harm on the corporation or the shareholders.*
         (c) An intentional violation of criminal law.
   c. If the person is an officer but not a director, the proceedings of subsection 1, paragraph “b,” shall apply to an officer who is also a director if the basis on which the officer is made a party to a proceeding is an act or omission solely as an officer.

504.858 Exclusivity of part.

4. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to pay or reimburse expenses incurred by a director or an officer in connection with the director’s or officer’s appearance as a witness in a proceeding at a time when the director or officer is not a party.

5. This part does not limit a corporation’s power to indemnify, advance expenses to, or provide or maintain insurance on behalf of an employee or agent.

504.1002 Amendment by directors.
1. Unless the articles provide otherwise, a corporation’s board of directors may adopt one or more amendments to the corporation’s articles without member approval to do any of the following:
a. Extend the duration of the corporation if it was incorporated at a time when limited duration was required by law.
b. Delete the names and addresses of the initial directors.
c. Delete the name and address of the initial registered agent or registered office, if a statement of change is on file with the secretary of state.
d. Change the corporate name by substituting the word “corporation”, “incorporated”, “company”, “limited”, or the abbreviation “corp.”, “inc.”, “co.”, or “ltd.”, for a similar word or abbreviation in the name, or by adding, deleting, or changing a geographical attribution to the name.
e. Make any other change expressly permitted by this subchapter to be made by director action.

2. If a corporation has no members, its incorporators, until directors have been chosen, and thereafter its board of directors, may adopt one or more amendments to the corporation’s articles subject to any approval required pursuant to section 504.1031. The corporation shall provide notice of any meeting at which an amendment is to be voted upon. The notice shall be in accordance with section 504.823, subsection 3. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider a proposed amendment to the articles and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the amendment or state the general nature of the amendment. The amendment must be approved by a majority of the directors in office at the time the amendment is adopted.

504.1003 Amendment by directors and members.
1. Unless this chapter, the articles or bylaws of a corporation, the members acting pursuant to subsection 2, or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or voting by class, or unless the articles or bylaws impose other requirements, an amendment to the corporation’s articles must be approved by all of the following to be adopted:
a. The board if the corporation is a public benefit or religious corporation and the amendment does not relate to the number of directors, the composition of the board, the term of office of directors, or the method or way in which directors are elected or selected.
b. Except as provided in section 504.1002, subsection 1, by the members by two-thirds of the votes cast by the members or a majority of the members’ voting power that could be cast, whichever is less.
c. In writing by any person or persons whose approval is required by a provision of the articles authorized by section 504.1031.

2. The members may condition the adoption of an amendment on receipt of a higher percentage of affirmative votes or on any other basis.

3. If the board initiates an amendment to the articles or board approval is required by subsection 1 to adopt an amendment to the articles, the board may condition the amendment’s adoption on receipt of a higher percentage of affirmative votes or any other basis.

4. If the board or the members seek to have the amendment approved by the members at a membership meeting, the corporation shall give notice to its members of the proposed membership meeting in writing in accordance with section 504.705. The notice must state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed amendment and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the amendment.

5. If the board or the members seek to have the amendment approved by the members by written consent or written ballot, the material soliciting the approval shall contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the amendment.

504.1004 Class voting by members on amendments.

1. Unless the articles or bylaws of the corporation provide otherwise, the members of a class in a public benefit corporation are entitled to vote as a class on a proposed amendment to the articles if the amendment would change the rights of that class as to voting in a manner different than such amendment affects another class or members of another class.

2. Unless the articles or bylaws of the corporation provide otherwise, the members of a class in a mutual benefit corporation are entitled to vote as a class on a proposed amendment to the articles if the amendment would do any of the following:
   a. Affect the rights, privileges, preferences, restrictions, or conditions of that class as to voting, dissolution, redemption, or transfer of memberships in a manner different than such amendment would affect another class.
   b. Change the rights, privileges, preferences, restrictions, or conditions of that class as to voting, dissolution, redemption, or transfer by changing the rights, privileges, preferences, restrictions, or conditions of another class.
   c. Increase or decrease the number of memberships authorized for that class.
   d. Increase the number of memberships authorized for another class.
   e. Effect an exchange, reclassification, or termination of the memberships of that class.
   f. Authorize a new class of memberships.

3. The members of a class of a religious corporation are entitled to vote as a class on a proposed amendment to the articles only if a class vote is provided for in the articles or bylaws.

4. Unless the articles or bylaws of the corporation provide otherwise, if a class is to be divided into two or more classes as a result of an amendment to the articles of a public benefit or mutual benefit corporation, the amendment must be approved by the members of each class that would be created by the amendment.

5. Except as provided in the articles or bylaws of a religious corporation, if a class vote is required to approve an amendment to the articles of the corporation, the amendment must be approved by the members of the class by two-thirds of the votes cast by the class or a majority of the voting power of the class, whichever is less.

504.1005 Articles of amendment.

A corporation amending its articles shall deliver to the secretary of state articles of amendment setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The text of each amendment adopted.
3. The date of each amendment’s adoption.
4. If approval by members was not required, a statement to that effect and a statement that the amendment was approved by a sufficient vote of the board of directors or incorporators.
5. If approval by members was required, both of the following:
   a. The designation, number of memberships outstanding, number of votes entitled to be cast by each class entitled to vote separately on the amendment, and number of votes of each class indisputably voting on the amendment.
   b. Either the total number of votes cast for and against the amendment by each class entitled to vote separately on the amendment or the total number of undisputed votes cast for the amendment by each class and a statement that the number of votes cast for the amendment by each class was sufficient for approval by that class.
6. If approval of the amendment by some person or persons other than the members, the board, or the incorporators is required pursuant to section 504.1031, a statement that the approval was obtained.

504.1006 Restated articles of incorporation.

1. A corporation’s board of directors may restate the corporation’s articles of incorporation at any time with or without approval by members or any other person.
2. The restatement may include one or more amendments to the articles. If the restatement includes an amendment requiring approval by the members or any other person, it must be adopted as provided in section 504.1003.
3. If the restatement includes an amendment requiring approval by members, the board must submit the restatement to the members for their approval.
4. If the board seeks to have the restatement approved by the members at a membership meeting, the corporation shall notify each of its members of the proposed membership meeting in writing in accordance with section 504.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed restatement and must contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the restatement that identifies any amendments or other changes the restatement would make in the articles.

5. If the board seeks to have the restatement approved by the members by written ballot or written consent, the material soliciting the approval shall contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the restatement that identifies any amendments or other changes the restatement would make in the articles.

6. A restatement requiring approval by the members must be approved by the same vote as an amendment to articles under section 504.1003.

7. If the restatement includes an amendment requiring approval pursuant to section 504.1031, the board must submit the restatement for such approval.

8. A corporation restating its articles shall deliver to the secretary of state articles of restatement setting forth the name of the corporation and the text of the restated articles of incorporation together with a certificate setting forth all of the following:

   a. Whether the restatement contains an amendment to the articles requiring approval by the members or any other person other than the board of directors and, if it does not, that the board of directors adopted the restatement.

   b. If the restatement contains an amendment to the articles requiring approval by the members, the information required by section 504.1005.

   c. If the restatement contains an amendment to the articles requiring approval by a person whose approval is required pursuant to section 504.1031, a statement that such approval was obtained.

9. Duly adopted restated articles of incorporation supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments to the original articles.

10. The secretary of state may certify restated articles of incorporation as the articles of incorporation currently in effect without including the certificate information required by subsection 8.

504.1103 Action on plan by board, members, and third persons.

1. Unless this chapter, the articles, bylaws, or the board of directors or members acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or voting by class, or the articles or bylaws impose other requirements, a plan of merger for a corporation must be approved by all of the following to be adopted:
   a. The board.
   b. The members, if any, by two-thirds of the votes cast or a majority of the voting power, whichever is less.
   c. In writing by any person or persons whose approval is required by a provision of the articles authorized by section 504.1031 for an amendment to the articles or bylaws.

2. If the corporation does not have members, the merger must be approved by a majority of the directors in office at the time the merger is approved. In addition, the corporation shall provide notice of any directors’ meeting at which such approval is to be obtained in accordance with section 504.823, subsection 3. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed merger.

3. The board may condition its submission of the proposed merger, and the members may condition their approval of the merger, on receipt of a higher percentage of affirmative votes or on any other basis.

4. If the board seeks to have the plan approved by the members at a membership meeting, the corporation shall give notice to its members of the proposed membership meeting in accordance with section 504.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the plan of merger and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the plan. The copy or summary of the plan for members of the surviving corporation shall include any provision that, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws, would entitle members to vote on the provision. The copy or summary of the plan for members of the disappearing corporation shall include a copy or summary of the articles and bylaws which will be in effect immediately after the merger takes effect.

The copy or summary of the plan for members of the surviving corporation shall include any provision that, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws, would entitle members to vote on the provision. The copy or summary of the plan for members of the disappearing corporation shall include a copy or summary of the articles and bylaws which will be in effect immediately after the merger takes effect.

6. Voting by a class of members is required on a plan of merger if the plan contains a provision that, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws, would entitle the class of members to vote as a class on the proposed amendment under section 504.1004 or 504.1023. The plan must be approved by a class of members by two-thirds of the votes cast by the class or a majority of the voting power of the class, whichever is less.

7. After a merger is adopted, and at any time before articles of merger are filed, the planned merger may be abandoned subject to any contractual rights without further action by members or other persons who approved the plan in accordance with the procedure set forth in the plan of merger or, if none is set forth, in the manner determined by the board of directors.

c. In writing by any person or persons whose approval is required by a provision of the articles authorized by section 504.1031 for an amendment to the articles or bylaws.

3. If the corporation does not have members, the transaction must be approved by a vote of a majority of the directors in office at the time the transaction is approved. In addition, the corporation shall provide notice of any directors' meeting at which such approval is to be obtained in accordance with section 504.823, subsection 3. The notice shall also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, of the property or assets of the corporation and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of a description of the transaction.

4. The board may condition its submission of the proposed transaction, and the members may condition their approval of the transaction, on receipt of a higher percentage of affirmative votes or on any other basis.

5. If the corporation seeks to have the transaction approved by the members at a membership meeting, the corporation shall give notice to its members of the proposed membership meeting in accordance with section 504.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, of the property or assets of the corporation and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of a description of the transaction.

6. If the board is required to have the transaction approved by the members by written consent or written ballot, the material soliciting the approval shall contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of a description of the transaction.

7. After a sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of property is authorized, the transaction may be abandoned, subject to any contractual rights, without further action by the members or any other person who approved the transaction in accordance with the procedure set forth in the resolution proposing the transaction or, if none is set forth, in the manner determined by the board of directors.

504.1202 Authorized distributions.

1. A mutual benefit corporation may purchase its memberships if, after the purchase is completed, both of the following apply:
   a. The corporation will be able to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of its activities.
   b. The corporation's total assets will at least equal the sum of its total liabilities.

2. Corporations may make distributions upon dissolution in conformity with subchapter XIV.

504.1302 Authorized distributions.

1. A majority of the incorporators of a corporation that has no directors and no members or a majority of the directors of a corporation that has no members may, subject to any approval required by the articles or bylaws, dissolve the corporation by delivering articles of dissolution to the secretary of state.

2. The corporation shall give notice of any meeting at which dissolution will be approved. The notice must be in accordance with section 504.823, subsection 3. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolution of the corporation.

3. The incorporators or directors in approving dissolution shall adopt a plan of dissolution indicating to whom the assets owned or held by the corporation will be distributed after all creditors have been paid.

504.1401 Dissolution by incorporators or directors and third persons.

1. Unless this chapter, the articles, bylaws, or the board of directors or members acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or voting by class or the articles or bylaws impose other requirements, dissolution is authorized if it is approved by all of the following:
   a. The board.
   b. The members, if any, by two-thirds of the votes cast or a majority of the voting power, whichever is less.

c. In writing by any person or persons whose approval is required by a provision of the articles authorized by section 504.1031 for an amendment to the articles or bylaws.

2. If the corporation does not have members, dissolution must be approved by a vote of a majority of the directors in office at the time the transaction is approved. In addition, the corporation shall provide notice of any directors’ meeting at which such approval is to be obtained in accordance with section 504.823, subsection 3. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolution of the corporation and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the plan of dissolution.

3. The board may condition its submission of the proposed dissolution, and the members may condition their approval of the dissolution, on receipt of a higher percentage of affirmative votes or on any other basis.

4. If the board seeks to have dissolution approved by the members at a membership meeting, the corporation shall give notice to its members of the proposed membership meeting in accordance with section 504.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolving the corporation and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the plan of dissolution.

5. If the board seeks to have the dissolution approved by the members by written consent or written ballot, the material soliciting the approval shall contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the plan of dissolution.

6. The plan of dissolution shall indicate to whom the assets owned or held by the corporation will be distributed after all creditors have been paid.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §138, 192

504.1403 Articles of dissolution.

1. At any time after dissolution is authorized, a corporation may dissolve by delivering articles of dissolution to the secretary of state setting forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. The date dissolution was authorized.

c. A statement that dissolution was approved by a sufficient vote of the board.

d. If approval of members was not required, a statement to that effect and a statement that dissolution was approved by a sufficient vote of the board of directors or incorporators.

e. If approval by members was required, both of the following:

(1) The designation, number of memberships outstanding, number of votes entitled to be cast by each class entitled to vote separately on dissolution, and number of votes of each class indisputably voting on dissolution.

(2) Either the total number of votes cast for and against dissolution by each class entitled to vote separately on dissolution or the total number of undisputed votes cast for dissolution by each class and a statement that the number cast for dissolution by each class was sufficient for approval by that class.

f. If approval of dissolution by some person or persons other than the members, the board, or the incorporators is required pursuant to section 504.1402, subsection 1, paragraph “c”, a statement that the approval was obtained.

2. A corporation is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §139, 192

504.1404 Revocation of dissolution.

1. A corporation may revoke its dissolution within one hundred twenty days of its effective date.

2. Revocation of dissolution must be authorized in the same manner as the dissolution was authorized unless that authorization permitted revocation by action of the board of directors alone, in which event the board of directors may revoke the dissolution without action by the members or any other person.

3. After the revocation of dissolution is authorized, the corporation may revoke the dissolution by delivering to the secretary of state for filing, articles of revocation of dissolution, together with a copy of its articles of dissolution, that set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. The effective date of the dissolution that was revoked.

c. The date that the revocation of dissolution was authorized.

d. If the corporation’s board of directors or incorporators revoked the dissolution, a statement to that effect.

e. If the corporation’s board of directors revoked a dissolution authorized by the members alone or in conjunction with another person or persons, a statement that revocation was permitted by action of the board of directors alone pursuant to that authorization.

f. If member or third-person action was required to revoke the dissolution, the information required by section 504.1403, subsection 1, paragraphs “e” and “f”.

4. Revocation of dissolution is effective upon the effective date of the articles of revocation of dissolution.

5. When the revocation of dissolution is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the dissolution and the corporation
§504.1405 Effect of dissolution.
1. A dissolved corporation continues its corporate existence but shall not carry on any activities except those appropriate to wind up and liquidate its affairs, including all of the following:
   a. Preserving and protecting its assets and minimizing its liabilities.
   b. Discharging or making provision for discharging its liabilities and obligations.
   c. Disposing of its properties that will not be distributed in kind.
   d. Returning, transferring, or conveying assets held by the corporation upon a condition requiring return, transfer, or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution, in accordance with such condition.
   e. Transferring, subject to any contractual or legal requirements, its assets as provided in or authorized by its articles of incorporation or bylaws.
   f. If the corporation is a public benefit or religious corporation, and a provision has not been made in its articles or bylaws for distribution of assets on dissolution, transferring, subject to any contractual or legal requirement, its assets to one or more persons described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or if the dissolved corporation is not described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, to one or more public benefit or religious corporations.
   g. If the corporation is a mutual benefit corporation and a provision has not been made in its articles or bylaws for distribution of assets on dissolution, transferring its assets to its members or, if it has no members, those persons whom the corporation holds out as benefiting or serving.
   h. Doing every other act necessary to wind up and liquidate its assets and affairs.
2. Dissolution of a corporation does not do any of the following:
   a. Transfer title to the corporation’s property.
   b. Subject its directors or officers to standards of conduct different from those prescribed in subchapter VIII.
   c. Change quorum or voting requirements for its board or members; change provisions for selection, resignation, or removal of its directors or officers or both; or change provisions for amending its bylaws.
   d. Prevent commencement of a proceeding by or against the corporation in its corporate name.
   e. Abate or suspend a proceeding pending by or against the corporation on the effective date of dissolution.
   f. Terminate the authority of the registered agent.

§504.1406 Known claims against dissolved corporation.
1. A dissolved corporation may dispose of the known claims against it by following the procedure described in this section.
2. The dissolved corporation shall notify its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after the effective date of the dissolution. The written notice must do all of the following:
   a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.
   b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.
   c. State the deadline, which shall not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved corporation must receive the claim.
   d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.
3. A claim against the dissolved corporation is barred if either of the following occurs:
   a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 2 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved corporation by the deadline.
   b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved corporation does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.
4. For purposes of this section, “claim” does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

§504.1407 Unknown claims against dissolved corporation.
1. A dissolved corporation may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the corporation present them in accordance with the notice.
2. The notice must do all of the following:
   a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved corporation’s principal office is located or, if none is located in this state, where its registered office is or was last located.
   b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.
   c. State that a claim against the corporation will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within five years after publication of the notice.
3. If the dissolved corporation publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved corporation within five years after the publication date of the newspaper notice:
   a. A claimant who did not receive written notice under section 504.1406.

b. A claimant whose claim was timely sent to the dissolved corporation but not acted on.

c. A claimant whose claim is contingent or based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

4. A claim may be enforced under this section to the following extent, as applicable:

a. Against the dissolved corporation, to the extent of its undistributed assets.

b. If the assets have been distributed in liquidation, against any person, other than a creditor of the corporation, to whom the corporation distributed its property to the extent of the distributee's pro rata share of the claim or the corporate assets distributed to such person in liquidation, whichever is less, but the distributee's total liability for all claims under this section shall not exceed the total amount of assets distributed to the distributee.

PART 2

ADMINISTRATIVE DISSOLUTION

504.1421 Grounds for administrative dissolution.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 504.1422 to administratively dissolve a corporation if any of the following occurs:

1. The corporation does not deliver its biennial report to the secretary of state, in a form that meets the requirements of section 504.1613, within sixty days after the report is due.

2. The corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

3. The corporation does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.

4. The corporation’s period of duration, if any, stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §144, 192

NEW section

504.1422 Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.

1. Upon determining that one or more grounds exist under section 504.1421 for dissolving a corporation, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation with written notice of that determination under section 504.504.

2. If the corporation does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within at least sixty days after service of notice is perfected under section 504.504, the secretary of state may administratively dissolve the corporation by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate of dissolution and serve a copy on the corporation under section 504.504.

3. A corporation that is administratively dissolved continues its corporate existence but shall not carry on any activities except those necessary to wind up and liquidate its affairs pursuant to section 504.1405 and notify its claimants pursuant to sections 504.1406 and 504.1407.

4. The administrative dissolution of a corporation does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

5. The secretary of state’s administrative dissolution of a corporation pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state as the corporation’s agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the corporation was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the corporation as provided in section 504.504. This subsection does not preclude service on the corporation’s registered agent, if any.

NEW section

504.1423 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A corporation administratively dissolved under section 504.1422 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must state all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. That the ground or grounds for dissolution either did not exist or have been eliminated.

c. That the corporation’s name satisfies the requirements of section 504.401.

d. The federal tax identification number of the corporation.

2. a. The secretary of state shall refer the federal tax identification number contained in the application for reinstatement to the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall report to the secretary of state the tax status of the corporation. If the department reports to the secretary of state that a filing delinquency or liability exists against the corporation, the secretary of state shall not cancel the certificate of dissolution until the filing delinquency or liability is satisfied.

3. When reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution and the corporation shall resume carrying on its activities as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §146, 192

NEW section

504.1424 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.
1. The secretary of state, upon denying a corporation’s application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, shall serve the corporation under section 504.504 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.
2. The corporation may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within ninety days after service of the notice of denial is perfected by petitioning to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state’s certificate of dissolution, the corporation’s application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state’s notice of denial of reinstatement.
3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved corporation or may take other action the court considers appropriate.
4. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

JUDICIAL DISSOLUTION

504.1431 Grounds for judicial dissolution.
1. The district court may dissolve a corporation in any of the following ways:
   a. In a proceeding brought by the attorney general, if any of the following is established:
      1. The corporation obtained its articles of incorporation through fraud.
      2. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.
      b. Except as provided in the articles or bylaws of a religious corporation, in a proceeding brought by fifty members or members holding five percent of the voting power, whichever is less, or by a director or any person specified in the articles, if any of the following is established:
         1. The directors are deadlocked in the management of the corporate affairs, and the members, if any, are unable to break the deadlock.
         2. The directors or those in control of the corporation have acted, are acting, or will act in a manner that is illegal, oppressive, or fraudulent.
         3. The members are deadlocked in voting power and have failed, for a period that includes at least two consecutive annual meeting dates, to elect successors to directors whose terms have, or would otherwise have, expired.
         4. The corporate assets are being misapplied or wasted.
         c. In a proceeding brought by a creditor, if either of the following is established:
            1. The creditor’s claim has been reduced to judgment, the execution on the judgment is returned unsatisfied, and the corporation is insolvent.
            2. The corporation has admitted in writing that the creditor’s claim is due and owing and the corporation is insolvent.
            d. In a proceeding brought by the corporation to have its voluntary dissolution continued under court supervision.
         2. Prior to dissolving a corporation, the court shall consider whether:
            a. There are reasonable alternatives to dissolution.
            b. Dissolution is in the public interest, if the corporation is a public benefit corporation.
            c. Dissolution is the best way of protecting the interests of members, if the corporation is a mutual benefit corporation.

1. A court in a judicial proceeding brought to dissolve a public benefit or mutual benefit corporation may appoint one or more receivers to wind up and liquidate, or one or more custodians to manage, the affairs of the corporation. The court shall hold a hearing, after notifying all parties to the proceeding and any interested persons designated by the court, before appointing a receiver or custodian. The court appointing a receiver or custodian has exclusive jurisdiction over the corporation and all of its property wherever located.
2. The court may appoint an individual, or a domestic or foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business in this state, as a receiver or custodian. The court may require the receiver or custodian to post bond, with or without sureties, in an amount the court directs.
3. The court shall describe the powers and duties of the receiver or custodian in its appointing order, which may be amended, including the following:
   a. The receiver or custodian may dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation wherever located, at a public or private sale, if authorized by the court. However, the receiver’s or custodian’s power to dispose of the assets of the corporation is subject to any trust and other restrictions that would be applicable to the corporation. The receiver or custodian may sue and defend in the receiver’s or custodian’s name as receiver or custodian of the corporation, as applicable, in all courts of this state.
   b. The custodian may exercise all of the powers of the corporation, through or in place of its board of directors or officers, to the extent necessary to manage the affairs of the corporation in the best interests of its members and creditors.
4. The court during a receivership may redesignate the receiver a custodian, and during a custodianship may redesignate the custodian a receiver, if doing so is in the best interests of the corporation, its members, and creditors.
5. The court during the receivership or custodianship may order compensation paid and expense disbursements or reimbursements made to the receiver or custodian and to the receiver’s or custodian’s attorney from the assets of the corporation or proceeds from the sale of the assets.

SUBCHAPTER XV
FOREIGN CORPORATIONS
PART 1
CERTIFICATE OF AUTHORITY

504.1501 Authority to transact business required.
1. A foreign corporation shall not transact business in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority from the secretary of state.
2. The following activities, among others, do not constitute transacting business within the meaning of subsection 1:
§504.1501, REVISED IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

504.1502 Consequences of transacting business without authority.
1. A foreign corporation transacting business in this state without a certificate of authority shall not maintain a proceeding in any court in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority.
2. The successor to a foreign corporation that transacted business in this state without a certificate of authority and the assignee of a cause of action arising out of that business shall not maintain a proceeding on that cause of action in any court in this state until the foreign corporation or its successor obtains a certificate of authority.
3. A court may stay a proceeding commenced by a foreign corporation, its successor, or assignee until the court determines whether the foreign corporation or its successor requires a certificate of authority. If it so determines, the court may further stay the proceeding until the foreign corporation or its successor obtains the certificate.
4. A foreign corporation is liable for a civil penalty of an amount not to exceed a total of one thousand dollars if it transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority. The attorney general may collect all penalties due under this subsection.
5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2, the failure of a foreign corporation to obtain a certificate of authority does not impair the validity of its corporate acts or prevent it from defending any proceeding in this state.

504.1503 Application for certificate of authority.
1. A foreign corporation may apply for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by delivering an application to the secretary of state. The application must set forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the foreign corporation or, if its name is unavailable for use in this state, a corporate name that satisfies the requirements of section 504.1506.
   b. The name of the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.
   c. The date of incorporation and period of duration.
   d. The address of its principal office.
   e. The address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent at that office.
   f. The names and usual business or home addresses of its current directors and officers.
   g. Whether the foreign corporation has members.
2. The foreign corporation shall deliver the completed application to the secretary of state, and shall also deliver to the secretary of state a certificate of existence or a document of similar import duly authenticated by the secretary of state or other official having custody of corporate records in the state or country under whose law it is incorporated which is dated no earlier than ninety days prior to the date the application is filed with the secretary of state.

504.1504 Amended certificate of authority.
1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state shall obtain an amended certificate of authority from the secretary of state if it changes any of the following:
   a. Its corporate name.
   b. The period of its duration.
   c. The state or country of its incorporation.
2. The requirements of section 504.1503 for obtaining an original certificate of authority apply to obtaining an amended certificate under this section.

504.1505 Effect of certificate of authority.
1. A certificate of authority authorizes the foreign corporation to which it is issued to transact business in this state subject, however, to the right of the state to revoke the certificate as provided in this chapter.
2. A foreign corporation with a valid certificate of authority has the same rights and has the same privileges as and, except as otherwise provided by this chapter, is subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties, and liabilities now or later imposed on a domestic corporation of like character.

3. This chapter does not authorize this state to regulate the organization or internal affairs of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §157, 192

504.1506 Corporate name of foreign corporation.

1. If the corporate name of a foreign corporation does not satisfy the requirements of section 504.401, the foreign corporation, to obtain or maintain a certificate of authority to transact business in this state, may use a fictitious name to transact business in this state if the corporation’s real name is unavailable and it delivers to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, the corporate name of a foreign corporation, including a fictitious name, must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:
   a. The corporate name of a nonprofit or business corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.
   b. A corporate name reserved or registered under section 490.402 or 490.403 or section 504.402 or 504.403.*
   c. The fictitious name of another foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business in this state.

3. A foreign corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use in this state the name of another corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state that is not distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name applied for. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if either of the following applies:
   a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.
   b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant’s right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A foreign corporation may use in this state the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign business or nonprofit corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state and the foreign corporation has filed documentation satisfactory to the secretary of state of the occurrence of any of the following:

   a. The foreign corporation has merged with the other corporation.
   b. The foreign corporation has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.

5. If a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state changes its corporate name to one that does not satisfy the requirements of section 504.401, it shall not transact business in this state under the changed name until it adopts a name satisfying the requirements of section 504.401 and obtains an amended certificate of authority under section 504.1504.

504.1508 Change of registered office or registered agent of foreign corporation.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following that apply:
   a. The name of its registered office or registered agent.
   b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the address of its new registered office.
   c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of its new registered agent and the new agent’s written consent to the appointment, either on the statement or attached to it.
   d. That after the change or changes are made, the addresses of its registered office and the office of its registered agent will be identical.

2. If a registered agent changes the address of its business office, the agent may change the ad-
§504.1509 Resignation of registered agent of foreign corporation.

1. The registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign as agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the original statement of resignation. The statement of resignation may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued.

The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the corporation, including the date the copies were sent.

§504.1510 Service on foreign corporation.

1. The registered agent of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state is the corporation’s agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the foreign corporation.

2. A foreign corporation may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its application for a certificate of authority or in its most recent biennial report filed under section 504.1613 if any of the following conditions apply:

   a. The foreign corporation has no registered agent or its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served.
   b. The foreign corporation has withdrawn from transacting business in this state under section 504.1521.
   c. The foreign corporation has had its certificate of authority revoked under section 504.1532.

3. Service is perfected under subsection 2 at the earliest of any of the following:

   a. The date the foreign corporation receives the mail.
   b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the foreign corporation.
   c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

4. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a foreign corporation. A foreign corporation may also be served in any other manner permitted by law.

WITHDRAWAL

§504.1521 Withdrawal of foreign corporation.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state shall not withdraw from this state until it obtains a certificate of withdrawal from the secretary of state.

2. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may apply for a certificate of withdrawal by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application shall set forth all of the following:

   a. The name of the foreign corporation and the name of the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.
   b. That it is not transacting business in this state and that it surrenders its authority to transact business in this state.
   c. That it revokes the authority of its registered agent to accept service on its behalf and appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action arising during the time it was authorized to do business in this state.
   d. A mailing address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process served on the secretary of state under paragraph “c”.

3. After the withdrawal of the corporation is effective, service of process on the secretary of state under this section is service on the foreign corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the foreign corporation at the mailing address set

PART 3
REVOCA TION OF CERTIFICATE OF AUTHORITY

504.1531 Grounds for revocation.
1. The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 504.1532 to revoke the certificate of authority of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state if any of the following applies:
   a. The foreign corporation does not deliver the biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 504.1613 within sixty days after it is due.
   b. The foreign corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.
   c. The foreign corporation does not inform the secretary of state under section 504.1508 or 504.1509 that its registered agent or registered office has changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued within ninety days of the change, resignation, or discontinuance.
   d. An incorporator, director, officer, or agent of the foreign corporation signed a document that such person knew was false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.
   e. The secretary of state receives a duly authenticated certificate from the secretary of state or other official having custody of corporate records in the state or country under whose law the foreign corporation is incorporated, stating that it has been dissolved or disappeared as the result of a merger.
   2. The attorney general, upon determining that one or more grounds exist under section 504.1531, subsection 2, for revocation of a certificate of authority, shall request the secretary of state to serve, and the secretary of state shall serve, the foreign corporation with written notice of that determination under section 504.1510.
   3. If the foreign corporation does not correct each ground for revocation or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state or attorney general that each ground for revocation determined by the secretary of state or attorney general does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 504.1510, the secretary of state may revoke the foreign corporation's certificate of authority by signing a certificate of revocation that recites the ground or grounds for revocation and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the foreign corporation under section 504.1510.
   4. The authority of a foreign corporation to transact business in this state ceases on the date shown on the certificate revoking its certificate of authority.
   5. The secretary of state's revocation of a foreign corporation's certificate of authority appoints the secretary of state the foreign corporation's agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action that arose during the time the foreign corporation was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the foreign corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its most recent biennial report or in any subsequent communications received from the corporation stating the current mailing address of its principal office or, if none are on file, in its application for a certificate of authority.
   6. Revocation of a foreign corporation's certificate of authority does not terminate the authority of the registered agent of the corporation.

504.1533 Appeal from revocation.
1. A foreign corporation may appeal the secretary of state's revocation of its certificate of authority to the district court within thirty days after the service of the certificate of revocation is perfected under section 504.1510 by petitioning to set aside the revocation and attaching to the petition copies of its certificate of authority and the secretary of state's certificate of revocation.
2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the certificate of authority or may take any other action the court considers appropriate.

PART 1
RECORDS

504.1601 Corporate records.
1. A corporation shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of its members and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the members or directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by committees of the board of directors as authorized by section 504.826, subsection 4.
2. A corporation shall maintain appropriate accounting records.
3. A corporation or its agent shall maintain a record of its members in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all members, in alphabetical order by class, showing the number of votes each member is entitled to vote.
4. A corporation shall maintain its records in written form or in another form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time.
5. A corporation shall keep a copy of all of the following records:
a. Its articles or restated articles of incorporation and all amendments to them currently in effect.
b. Its bylaws or restated bylaws and all amendments to them currently in effect.
c. Resolutions adopted by its board of directors relating to the characteristics, qualifications, rights, limitations, and obligations of members or any class or category of members.
d. The minutes of all meetings of members and records of all actions approved by the members for the past three years.
e. All written communications to members generally within the past three years, including the financial statements furnished for the past three years under section 504.1611.
f. A list of the names and business or home addresses of its current directors and officers.
g. Its most recent biennial report delivered to the secretary of state under section 504.1613.

504.1602 Inspection of records by members.
1. Subject to subsection 5, a member is entitled to inspect and copy, at a reasonable time and location specified by the corporation, any of the records of the corporation described in section 504.1601, subsection 5, if the member gives the corporation written notice or a written demand at least five business days before the date on which the member wishes to inspect and copy.
2. Subject to subsections 5 and 6, a member is entitled to inspect and copy, at a reasonable time and reasonable location specified by the corporation, any of the following records of the corporation if the member meets the requirements of subsection 3 and gives the corporation written notice at least ten business days before the date on which the member wishes to inspect and copy:
a. Excerpts from any records required to be maintained under section 504.1601, subsection 1, to the extent not subject to inspection under subsection 1 of this section.
b. Accounting records of the corporation.
c. The membership list.
d. The board consents, if consent is required by section 504.1605.
3. A member may inspect and copy the records identified in subsection 2 only if all of the following apply:
a. The member’s demand is made in good faith and for a proper purpose.
b. The member describes with reasonable particularity the purpose of the demand and the records the member desires to inspect.
c. The records are directly connected to the purpose described.
d. The board consents, if consent is required by section 504.1605.
4. This section does not affect either of the following:
a. The right of a member to inspect records under section 504.711 or, if the member is in litigation with the corporation, to the same extent as any other litigant.
b. The power of a court, independently of this chapter, to compel the production of corporate records for examination.
5. The articles or bylaws of a religious corporation may limit or abolish the right of a member under this section to inspect and copy any corporate record.
6. A corporation may, within ten business days after receiving a demand for inspection of a membership list under section 504.711 or subsection 2 of this section, respond to the demand with a written proposal offering a reasonable alternative to the demand for inspection that will achieve the purpose of the demand without providing access to or a copy of the membership list. A proposal offering an alternative that reasonably and in a timely manner accomplishes a proper purpose identified in a demand for inspection shall be considered to offer a reasonable alternative. A proposal for a reasonable alternative that has been accepted by the person making the demand for inspection shall cease to be considered a reasonable alternative if the terms of the proposal are not carried out. by the corporation within a reasonable time after acceptance of the proposal. For the purposes of this subsection, a reasonable alternative may include, but is not limited to, a communication prepared by a member and mailed by the corporation at the expense of the member.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §168, 192

NEW section

504.1603 Scope of inspection right.
1. A member’s agent or attorney has the same inspection and copying rights as the member the agent or attorney represents.

2. The right to copy records under section 504.1602 includes, if reasonable, the right to receive copies made by photographic, xerographic, or other means.

3. The corporation may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and material, for copies of any documents provided to the member. The charge shall not exceed the estimated cost of production or reproduction of the records.

4. The corporation may comply with a member’s demand to inspect the record of members that was compiled no earlier than the date of the member’s demand.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §169, 192

504.1604 Court-ordered inspection.
1. If a corporation does not allow a member who complies with section 504.1602, subsection 1, to inspect and copy any records required by that subsection to be available for inspection, the district court in the county where the corporation’s principal office is located or, if none is located in this state, where its registered office is located, may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the corporation’s expense upon application of the member.

2. If a corporation does not within a reasonable time allow a member to inspect and copy any other records, or propose a reasonable alternative to such inspection and copying, the member who complies with section 504.1602, subsections 2 and 3, may apply to the district court in the county where the corporation’s principal office is located or, if none is located in this state, where its registered office is located, for an order to permit inspection and copying of the records demanded. The court shall dispose of an application under this subsection on an expedited basis.

3. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded or other relief deemed appropriate by the court, it shall also order the corporation to pay the member’s costs, including reasonable attorney fees incurred, to obtain the order unless the corporation proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the member to inspect the records demanded.

4. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded or other relief deemed appropriate by the court, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the demanding member.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §170, 192

504.1605 Limitations on use of corporate records.
Without consent of the board, no corporate record may be obtained or used by any person for any purpose unrelated to a member’s interest as a member. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, without the consent of the board, corporate records, including without limitation a membership list or any part thereof, shall not be used for any of the following:

1. To solicit money or property unless such money or property will be used solely to solicit the votes of the members in an election to be held by the corporation.

2. For any commercial purpose.

3. For sale to or purchase by any person.

4. For any purpose that is detrimental to the interests of the corporation.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §171, 192

504.1606 Inspection of records by directors.
1. A director of a corporation is entitled to inspect and copy the books, records, and documents of the corporation at any reasonable time to the extent reasonably related to the performance of the director’s duties as a director, including duties as a member of a committee, but not for any other purpose or in any manner that would violate any duty to the corporation.

2. The district court of the county where the corporation’s principal office, or if none in this state, its registered office, is located may order inspection and copying of the books, records, and documents at the corporation’s expense, upon application of a director who has been refused such inspection rights, unless the corporation establishes that the director is not entitled to such inspection rights. The court shall dispose of an application under this subsection on an expedited basis.

3. If an order is issued, the court may include provisions protecting the corporation from undue burden or expense and prohibiting the director from using information obtained upon exercise of the inspection rights in a manner that would violate a duty to the corporation, and may also order the corporation to reimburse the director for the director’s costs, including reasonable counsel fees, incurred in connection with the application.

REPORTS

504.1611 Financial statements for members.
1. Except as provided in the articles or bylaws of a religious corporation, a corporation upon written demand from a member shall furnish that member the corporation's latest annual financial statements, which may be consolidated or combined statements of the corporation and one or more of its subsidiaries or affiliates, as appropriate, that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and a statement of operations for that year.
2. If annual financial statements are reported upon by a public accountant, the accountant's report must accompany them.

504.1612 Report of indemnification to members.
If a corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director under section 504.852, 504.853, 504.854, or 504.855 in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the members with or before the notice of the next meeting of members.

2004 Acts, ch 1049, §174, 192 NEW section

504.1613 Biennial report for secretary of state.
1. Each domestic corporation, and each foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a biennial report on a form prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation and the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.
   b. The address of the corporation's principal office and the name of the corporation's registered agent at that office in this state, together with the consent of any new registered agent.
   c. The address of the corporation's registered office.
   d. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.
   e. Whether or not the corporation has members.
2. The information in the biennial report must be current on the date the biennial report is executed on behalf of the corporation.
3. The first biennial report shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first odd-numbered year following the calendar year in which a domestic corporation was incorporated or a foreign corporation was authorized to transact business. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following odd-numbered calendar years.
4. a. If a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section, the secretary of state shall promptly notify the reporting domestic or foreign corporation in writing and return the report to the corporation for correction.
   b. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state.
   c. For purposes of this section, each biennial report shall contain information related to the two-year period immediately preceding the calendar year in which the report is filed.
5. The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report, provided that the form contains the information required in section 504.502 or 504.503. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section but otherwise meets the requirements of section 504.502 or 504.503 for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent, effective as provided in section 504.114, before returning the biennial report to the corporation as provided in this section. A statement of change of registered office or agent pursuant to this subsection shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

SUBCHAPTER XVII
TRANSITION PROVISIONS

504.1701 Application to existing domestic corporations.
1. A domestic corporation that is incorporated under chapter 504A is subject to this chapter beginning on July 1, 2005.
2. Prior to July 1, 2005, only the following corporations are subject to the provisions of this chapter:
   a. A corporation formed on or after January 1, 2005.
   b. A corporation incorporated under chapter 504A that voluntarily elects to be subject to the provisions of this chapter in accordance with the procedures set forth in subsection 3.
3. A corporation incorporated under chapter 504A may voluntarily elect to be subject to the provisions of this chapter by doing all of the following:
   a. The corporation shall amend or restate its articles of incorporation to indicate that the corporation voluntarily elects to be subject to the provisions of this chapter.
   b. The corporation shall deliver a copy of the amended or restated articles of incorporation to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the office of the secretary of state.
4. After the amended or restated articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state all of the following shall occur:
   a. The corporation shall be subject to all provisions of this chapter.
   b. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate of filing of the corporation's amended or restated articles of incorporation indicating that the corporation has made a voluntary election to be subject to the provisions of this chapter and shall deliver the certificate to the corporation or to the corporation's representative.
   c. The secretary of state shall not file the amended or restated articles of incorporation of a corporation pursuant to this subsection unless at the time of filing the corporation is validly organized under the chapter and is organized for a purpose that is not for profit, commercial or industrial.
   d. The corporation shall amend or restate its articles of incorporation and file with the secretary of state any biennial reports that are required and paid all fees that are due in connection with such reports.
5. The voluntary election of a corporation to be subject to the provisions of this chapter that is made pursuant to this section does not affect any right accrued or established, or any liability or penalty incurred by the corporation pursuant to the chapter under which the corporation was organized prior to such voluntary election.

504.1704 Severability.
If any provision of this chapter or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter that can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of the chapter are severable.

504.1705 Public benefit, mutual benefit, and religious corporations.
For the purposes of this chapter, each domestic corporation shall be deemed a public benefit, mutual benefit, or religious corporation as follows:
1. A corporation designated by statute as a public benefit, mutual benefit, or religious corporation.
2. A corporation that does not come within subsection 1 but is organized primarily or exclusively for religious purposes is a religious corporation.
3. A corporation that does not come within subsection 1 or 2 but which is recognized as exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or any successor section, is a public benefit corporation.
4. A corporation that does not come within subsection 1, 2, or 3, but which is organized for a public or charitable purpose and which upon dissolution must distribute its assets to a public benefit corporation, the United States, a state, or a person recognized as exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, or any successor section, is a public benefit corporation.
5. A corporation that does not come within subsection 1, 2, 3, or 4 is a mutual benefit corporation.

504A.2 Definitions.
As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:
1. "Articles of incorporation" means the original or restated articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto, and includes articles of merger.
2. "Board of directors" means the person or group of persons vested with the management of the affairs of the corporation irrespective of the name by which such person or group is designated.
3. "Bylaws" means the code or codes of rules adopted for the regulation or management of the affairs of the corporation irrespective of the name or names by which such rules are designated.
4. "Corporation" or "domestic corporation" means a nonprofit corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter, except a foreign corporation.
5. "Foreign corporation" means a nonprofit corporation organized under laws other than the laws of this state.
6. "Insolvent" means inability of a corporation to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of its affairs.
7. "Member" means a person as herein defined having membership rights in a corporation in accordance with the provisions of its articles of incorporation or bylaws.
8. "Nonprofit corporation" means a corporation no part of the income or profit of which is distributable to its members, directors or officers except as provided in this chapter.
9. "Person" means an individual, a corporation (domestic or foreign, whether nonprofit or for profit), a partnership, an association, a trust or a fiduciary.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.2]

504A.3 Purposes.
Subject to the provisions of section 504A.100, subsection 1, corporations may be organized under this chapter for any lawful purpose or purposes not for pecuniary profit.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.3]

504A.4 General powers.
Each corporation, unless otherwise stated in its articles of incorporation, shall have power:
1. To have perpetual succession by its corporate name unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation.
2. To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name.
3. To have a corporate seal which may be altered at pleasure, and to use the same by causing it, or a facsimile thereof, to be impressed or affixed in any other manner reproduced.
4. To purchase, take, receive, lease, take by gift, devise or bequest, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, use and otherwise deal in and with real or personal property, or any interest therein, wherever situated.
5. To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, transfer and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.
6. To lend money to its employees other than its officers and directors, and otherwise assist its employees, officers and directors.
7. To purchase, take, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, employ, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and otherwise use and deal in and with, shares or other interests in, or obligations of, other domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or not for profit, associations, partnerships or individuals, or direct or indirect obligations of the United States, or of any other government, state, territory, governmental district or municipality or of any instrumentality thereof.

9. To lend money for its corporate purposes, invest and reinvest its funds, and take and hold real and personal property as security for the payment of funds so loaned or invested.

10. To conduct its affairs, carry on its operations, and have offices and exercise the powers granted by this chapter in any state, territory, district, or possession of the United States, or in any foreign country.

11. To elect or appoint officers and agents of the corporation who may be directors or members, and define their duties and fix their compensation, and to pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, and other incentive, insurance and welfare plans for any or all of its directors, officers and employees.

12. To make and alter bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for the administration and regulation of the affairs of the corporation.

13. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, to make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, scientific or educational purposes; and in time of war to make donations in aid of war activities.

14. A corporation operating under this chapter may indemnify any present or former director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer in the manner and in the instances authorized in sections 490.850 through 490.859.

15. To cease its corporate activities and surrender its corporate franchise.

16. To have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the corporation is organized.

§504A.5 Defense of ultra vires.

No act of a corporation and no conveyance or transfer of real or personal property to or by a corporation shall be invalid by reason of the fact that the corporation was without capacity or power to do such act or to make or receive such conveyance or transfer, but such lack of capacity or power may be asserted:

1. In a proceeding by a member or a director against the corporation to enjoin the doing or continuation of unauthorized acts, or the transfer of real or personal property by or to the corporation. If the unauthorized acts or transfers sought to be enjoined are being or are to be, performed pursuant to any contract to which the corporation is a party, the court may, if all of the parties to the contract are parties to the proceeding and if it deems the same to be equitable, set aside and enjoin the performance of such contract, and in so doing may allow to the corporation or the other parties to the contract, as the case may be, compensation for the loss or damage sustained by either of them which may result from the action of the court in setting aside and enjoining the performance of such contract, but anticipated profits to be derived from the performance of the contract shall not be awarded by the court as a loss or damage sustained.

2. In a proceeding by the corporation, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative or through members in a representative suit, against the incumbent or former officers or directors of the corporation for exceeding their authority.

3. In a proceeding by the attorney general, as provided in this chapter, to dissolve the corporation, or in a proceeding by the attorney general to enjoin the corporation from performing unauthorized acts, or in any other proceeding by the attorney general.

§504A.6 Corporate name.

1. A corporate name shall not contain language stating or implying that the corporation is organized for a purpose other than that permitted by its articles of incorporation.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, a corporate name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:

   a. The corporate name of a nonprofit corporation or business corporation incorporated or authorized to conduct affairs or do business in this state.

   b. A corporate name reserved under section 504A.4, or reserved or registered under the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490.

   c. The fictitious name of a foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state because its real name is unavailable.

3. A corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary’s records from one or more of the names described in subsection 2. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:

1. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.

2. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A corporation may use the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to conduct affairs or transact business in this state and the proposed user corporation meets one of the following conditions:
   a. Has merged with the other corporation.
   b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.
   c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a corporation or a foreign corporation uses a fictitious name in this state, it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

1. A corporation may change its registered office by filing in the office of the secretary of state an application to reserve a specified corporate name, executed by the applicant. If the secretary of state finds that such name is available for corporate use, the secretary shall reserve the same for the exclusive use of such applicant for a period of one hundred twenty days.

The right to the exclusive use of a specified corporate name so reserved may be assigned by filing in the office of the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the right to use the specified name.

2. A registered agent or agents who may be either an individual or individuals resident in this state, the business office of whom shall be identical with such registered office, or a domestic corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, or a foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, having an office identical with such registered office.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.8]

504A.9 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A corporation may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:
   a. The name of the corporation.
   b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

2. The statement shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office.

3. If a registered agent changes the agent's business address to another place within the same county, the agent may change the address of the registered office of any corporations of which that person is a registered agent by filing a statement as required in subsection 1 for each corporation, or a single statement for all corporations named in the statement, except that the statement need be signed only by the registered agent and need not be responsive to subsection 1, paragraph "c", but must recite that notification of such change has been mailed to each corporation named in the statement.

4. The change of address of registered office or the change of registered agent becomes effective upon the filing of such statement by the secretary of state.

5. A registered agent of a corporation may resign as such agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing an original statement of resignation. The statement of resignation may also include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if the registered office is not discontinued. The appointment of the agent terminates on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state. If the statement of §504A.10 Service of process on corporation.

The registered agent so appointed by a corporation shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served.

Whenever a corporation shall fail to appoint or maintain a registered agent in this state, or whenever its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the registered office, then the secretary of state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any such process, notice, or demand may be served. Service on the secretary of state of any such process, notice, or demand shall be made by delivering to and leaving with the secretary, the secretary's deputy, or with any person having charge of the corporation department of the secretary of state's office, duplicate copies of such process, notice or demand. In the event any such process, notice or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary shall immediately cause one of the copies thereof to be forwarded by registered or certified mail, addressed to the corporation at its registered office. No corporation served in accordance with the procedure provided for by this paragraph shall be in default until thirty days have elapsed following such service on the secretary of state.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices and demands served upon the secretary under this section, and shall record therein the time of such service and the secretary's action with reference thereto.

Nothing herein contained shall limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a corporation in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

504A.11 Members.

A corporation may have one or more classes of members or may have no members. If the corporation has one or more classes of members, the designation of such class or classes, the manner of election or appointment and the qualifications and rights of the members of each class shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. If the corporation has no members, that fact shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. A corporation may issue certificates evidencing membership therein.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.11]

504A.12 Bylaws.

The initial bylaws of a corporation shall be adopted by its board of directors. The power to alter, amend or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws shall be vested in the board of directors unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation. The bylaws may contain any provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of a corporation not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation.

The board of directors of any corporation may adopt emergency bylaws, subject to repeal or change by action of the members, which shall, notwithstanding any different provision elsewhere in this chapter or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, be operative during any emergency, in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation resulting from an attack on the United States or any nuclear or atomic disaster. The emergency bylaws may make any provision that may be practical and necessary for the circumstances of the emergency including provisions that:

1. A meeting of the board of directors may be called by any officer or director in such manner and under such conditions as shall be prescribed in the emergency bylaws;
2. The director or directors in attendance at the meeting, or any greater number fixed by the emergency bylaws, shall constitute a quorum; and
3. The officers or other persons designated on a list approved by the board of directors before the emergency, all in such order of priority and subject to such conditions and for such period of time (not longer than reasonably necessary after the termination of the emergency) as may be provided in the emergency bylaws or in the resolution approving the list, shall, to the extent required to provide a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors, be deemed directors for such meeting.

The board of directors, either before or during any such emergency, may provide, and from time to time modify, lines of succession in the event that during such an emergency any or all officers or agents of the corporation shall for any reason be rendered incapable of discharging their duties.

To the extent not inconsistent with any emergency bylaws so adopted, the bylaws of the corporation shall remain in effect during any such emergency and upon its termination the emergency bylaws shall cease to be operative.

Unless otherwise provided in emergency bylaws, notice of any meeting of the board of directors during any such emergency may be given only to such of the directors as it may be feasible to reach at the time and by such means as may be feasible at the time, including publication or radio.

To the extent required to constitute a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors during any such emergency, the officers of the corporation who are present shall, unless otherwise provided in emergency bylaws, be deemed, in order of rank and within the same rank in order of seniority, directors for such meeting.

No officer, director or employee acting in accordance with any emergency bylaws shall be liable except for willful misconduct. No officer, director or employee shall be liable for any action taken by that person in good faith in such an emergency in furtherance of the ordinary affairs of the corporation, even though not authorized by the bylaws then in effect.

504A.13 Meetings of members.

Meetings of members may be held at such places, either within or without this state, as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, or as may be fixed from time to time in accordance with the provisions thereof. In the absence of any such provision, all meetings shall be held at the registered office of the corporation.

An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Failure to hold the annual meeting at the designated time shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the corporation.

Special meetings of the members may be called by the president or by the board of directors. Special meetings of the members may also be called by such other officers or persons or number or proportion of members as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the number or proportion of members entitled to call a meeting, a special meeting of members may be called by members having one-twentieth of the votes entitled to be cast at such meeting.

504A.14 Notice of members' meetings.

Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, written notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered no less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each member entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member at the member's address as it appears on the records of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid.

504A.15 Voting.

The right of the members, or any class or classes of members, to vote may be limited, enlarged or denied to the extent specified in the articles of incorporation or, if the articles of incorporation so provide, by the bylaws. Unless so limited, enlarged or denied, each member, regardless of class, shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of members.

A member entitled to vote may vote in person or, unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, may vote by proxy executed in writing by the member or by the member's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. Where directors or officers are to be elected by members the bylaws may provide that such elections may be conducted by mail.

The articles of incorporation may provide that in all elections for directors every member entitled to vote shall have the right to cumulate the member's vote and to give one candidate a number of votes equal to the member's vote multiplied by the number of directors to be elected, or by distributing such votes on the same principle among any number of such candidates.

If a corporation has no members or its members have no right to vote, the directors shall have the sole voting power.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.15]

504A.16 Quorum.

The bylaws may provide the number or percentage of members entitled to vote represented in person or by proxy, or the number or percentage of votes represented in person or by proxy, which shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of members. In the absence of any such provision, members holding one-tenth of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter to be voted upon represented in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum. A majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter to be voted upon by the members present or represented by proxy at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be necessary for the adoption thereof unless a greater proportion is required by this §504A.17 Board of directors.
The affairs of a corporation shall be managed by a board of one or more directors. Directors need not be residents of this state or members of the corporation unless the articles of incorporation so require. The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may prescribe other qualifications for directors. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.17]

§504A.18 Number and election of directors.
The number of directors shall be fixed by the bylaws, except as to the number constituting the initial board of directors, which number shall be fixed by the articles of incorporation. The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the bylaws, unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment of the articles of incorporation. No decrease in number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent director. In the absence of a bylaw fixing the number of directors, the number shall be the same as that stated in the articles of incorporation.

The directors constituting the first board of directors shall be named in the articles of incorporation and shall hold office until the first annual election of directors or for such other period as may be specified in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Thereafter, directors shall be elected or appointed in a manner and for the terms provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the term of office, the term of office of a director shall be one year.

Directors may be divided into classes and the terms of office of the several classes need not be uniform. Each director shall hold office for the term for which he or she is elected or appointed and until the director’s successor has been elected or appointed and qualified.

A director may be removed from office pursuant to any procedure therefor provided in the articles of incorporation. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.18]

§504A.19 Vacancies.
Any vacancy occurring in the board of directors and any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws provide that a vacancy or directorship so created shall be filled in some other manner, in which case such provision shall control.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, a director so elected or appointed shall be elected or appointed for the unexpired term of the director’s predecessor in office or the full term of such new directorship. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.19]

§504A.20 Quorum of directors.
A majority of the number of directors fixed by the bylaws, or in the absence of a bylaw fixing the number of directors, then of the number stated in the articles of incorporation, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws; but in no event shall a quorum consist of less than one-third of the number of directors so fixed or stated. The act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors, unless the act of a greater number is required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.20]

§504A.21 Committees.
If the articles of incorporation or the bylaws so provide, the board of directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board of directors, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees each of which, to the extent provided in such resolution or in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws of the corporation, shall have and may exercise all the authority of the board of directors; but no such committee shall have the authority of the board of directors in reference to amending the articles of incorporation, adopting a plan of merger or consolidation, recommending to the members the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all or substantially all the property and assets of the corporation, recommending to the members a voluntary dissolution of the corporation or a revocation thereof, or amending the bylaws of the corporation. The designation of any such committee and the delegation thereof of authority shall not operate to relieve the board of directors, or any member thereof, of any responsibility imposed by law. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.21]

§504A.22 Place and notice of directors’ meetings.
Meetings of the board of directors, regular or special, may be held either within or without this state, and upon such notice as the bylaws may prescribe. Attendance of a director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting except where a director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the board of directors need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting unless required by the bylaws.

Unless otherwise restricted by the articles of incorporation or bylaws, members of the board of directors of any corporation, or any committee designated by the board of directors, may participate in a meeting of the board or committee by conference telephone or similar communications equipment. All persons participating in the meeting shall be able to hear each other, and participation in a meeting pursuant to this provision shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. Records of the meeting shall be kept as required in section 504A.25.

504A.23 Officers.
The officers of a corporation shall consist of a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and such other officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary, each of whom shall be elected or appointed at such time and in such manner and for such terms as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of any such provision, all officers shall be elected or appointed annually by the board of directors. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may provide that any one or more officers of the corporation shall be ex officio members of the board of directors.

The officers of a corporation may be designated by such additional titles as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.

504A.24 Removal of officers.
Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, any officers elected or appointed may be removed by the persons authorized to elect or appoint such officer whenever in their judgment the best interests of the corporation will be served thereby. The removal of an officer shall not be prejudicial to the contract rights, if any, of the officer so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

504A.25 Books and records.
Each corporation shall keep correct and complete books and records of account and shall keep minutes of the proceedings of its members, board of directors and committees having any of the authority of the board of directors; and shall keep at its registered office or principal office in this state a record of the names and addresses of its members entitled to vote. All books and records of a corporation may be inspected by any member, or the member’s agent or attorney, for any proper purpose at any reasonable time.

504A.25A Availability of certain information of nonprofit corporations and agencies.
A corporation organized pursuant to this chapter, or any other nonprofit agency, which receives federal or state funding, shall provide to any person, upon request, a list of the names of the members of the corporation’s or agency’s board of directors, and the salary of each officer and director’s fee of each director of the corporation or nonprofit agency.

504A.26 Shares of stock and dividends prohibited.
A corporation shall not have or issue shares of stock. No dividend shall be paid and no part of the income or profit of a corporation shall be distributed to its members, directors or officers. A corporation may pay compensation in a reasonable amount to its members, directors or officers for services rendered, may confer benefits upon its members in conformity with its purposes, and upon dissolution or final liquidation may make distributions to its members as permitted by this chapter, and no such payment, benefit or distribution shall be deemed to be a dividend or a distribution of income or profit.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.26]

504A.27 Loans to directors and officers prohibited.
No loans shall be made by a corporation to its directors or officers. Any director or officer who assents to or participates in the making of any such loan shall be liable to the corporation for the amount of such loan until the repayment thereof.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.27]

504A.28 Incorporators.
One or more persons as defined in this chapter having capacity to contract may act as incorporators of a corporation by signing and delivering to the secretary of state articles of incorporation for the corporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.28]

94 Acts, ch 1023, §66

504A.29 Articles of incorporation.
The articles of incorporation shall set forth:
1. The name of the corporation and the chapter of the Code or Iowa Acts under which incorporated.
2. The period of duration if for a limited period, but in the absence of any statement in the articles all corporations organized hereunder shall have perpetual duration.
3. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized.
4. Any provision not inconsistent with law, which the incorporators elect to set forth in the articles of incorporation for the regulation of the internal affairs of the corporation, including any provision for distribution of assets on dissolution or final liquidation.

5. The address of its initial registered office including street and number, if any, the name of the county in which the registered office is located, and the name of its initial registered agent or agents at such address.

6. The number of directors constituting the initial board of directors and the names and addresses of the persons who are to serve as the initial directors.

7. Any provision not inconsistent with law or the purposes for which the corporation is organized, which the incorporators elect to set forth; or any provision limiting any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

8. The date on which the corporate existence shall begin, which may be any date identified by year, month and day not more than ninety days in the future. In the absence of any statement in the articles as to date of beginning of corporate existence, such existence shall commence on the date on which the secretary of state issues the certificate of incorporation.

9. The name and address of each incorporator.

It shall not be necessary to set forth in the articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

Unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment to the articles of incorporation, a change in the number of directors made by amendment to the bylaws shall be controlling. In all other cases, whenever a provision of the articles of incorporation is inconsistent with a bylaw, the provision of the articles of incorporation shall be controlling.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.29]

2004 Acts, ch 1086, §83

Subsection 1 amended

504A.30 Filing and recording of articles of incorporation.

The articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office. The secretary of state upon the filing of such articles shall issue a certificate of incorporation and send the certificate to the corporation or its representative.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.30]

93 Acts, ch 109, §4

504A.31 Effect of issuance of certificate of incorporation.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation, the corporate existence shall begin unless the certificate in conformity with a provision in the articles provides that it shall begin on a stated day in the future in which event the corporate existence shall without further action by either the incorporators or the secretary of state begin on the day so stated. Such certificate of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence that all conditions precedent required to be performed by the incorporators have been complied with and that the corporation has been incorporated under this chapter except as against this state in a proceeding to cancel or revoke the certificate of incorporation or for involuntary dissolution of the corporation.

504A.32A Correcting filed documents.
1. A domestic or foreign corporation may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following requirements:
   a. The document contains an incorrect statement.
   b. The document was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:
   a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:
      (1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.
      (2) Specify the incorrect statement or manner in which the execution was defective.
      (3) Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.
   b. By delivering the articles of correction to the secretary of state for filing.

3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction, the articles of correction are effective when filed by the secretary of state.

504A.33 Organization meetings.

After the issuance of the certificate of incorporation an organization meeting of the board of directors named in the articles of incorporation may be held, either within or without this state, at the call of a majority of the incorporators, for the purpose of adopting bylaws, electing officers, if necessary, and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. The incorporators calling the meeting shall give at least three days' notice thereof by mail to each director so named, which notice shall state the time and place of the meeting.

A first meeting of the members may be held at the call of the directors, or a majority of them, upon at least three days' notice, for such purposes as shall be stated in the notice of the meeting.

504A.34 Right to amend articles of incorporation.

A corporation may amend its articles of incorpor-

504A.35 Procedure to amend articles of incorporation.

Amendments to the articles of incorporation shall be made in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, upon the written request of at least five percent of the members entitled to vote on amendments to articles of incorporation, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the amendment proposed by such members and directing that it be submitted to the next meeting of the members entitled to vote thereon held not less than ninety days after the date of the filing of the request of the members with the secretary of the corporation. Written notice setting forth the proposed amendment or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. The proposed amendment shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, an amendment shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Any number of amendments may be submitted and voted upon at any one meeting.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.35]

504A.36 Articles of amendment.

The articles of amendment shall be executed by the corporation and shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The amendment so adopted.
3. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the amendment was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such amendment received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such amendment was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.
§504A.36, IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

4. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the amendment was adopted, and a statement of the fact that such amendment received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

§504A.37 Filing of articles of amendment.
The articles of amendment shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office. The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of amendment shall issue a certificate of amendment and send the certificate to the corporation or its representative.

93 Acts, ch 109, §6

§504A.38 Effect of certificate of amendment.
Upon the issuance of the certificate of amendment by the secretary of state, the amendment shall become effective and the articles of incorporation shall be deemed to be amended accordingly.

No amendment shall affect any existing cause of action in favor of or against such corporation, or any pending action to which such corporation shall be a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members; and, in the event the corporate name shall be changed by amendment, no suit brought by or against such corporation under its former name shall abate for that reason.

§504A.39 Restated articles of incorporation.
A domestic corporation may at any time restate its articles of incorporation, which may be amended by such restatement, so long as its articles of incorporation as so restated contain only such provisions as might be lawfully contained in original articles of incorporation at the time of making such restatement, by the adoption of restated articles of incorporation, including any amendments to its articles of incorporation to be made thereby, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members having voting rights, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation to be made thereby and directing that such restated articles, including such amendment or amendments be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members having voting rights, which may be either an annual or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice setting forth the proposed restated articles or a summary of the provisions thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. If the restated articles include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, the notice shall separately set forth such amendment or amendments or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby.

3. The proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast, unless such restated articles include an amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby which, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made without restatement of the articles of incorporation, would entitle a class of members to vote as a class thereon, in which event the proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the members of each class entitled to vote thereon as a class, and of the total members entitled to vote thereon.

4. Where there are no members, or no members having voting rights, proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation to be made thereby shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon approval, restated articles of incorporation shall be executed by the corporation and shall set forth, as then stated in the corporation's articles of incorporation and, if the restated articles of incorporation include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, as so amended:

a. The name of the corporation;

b. If its duration is for a limited period, the date of expiration;

c. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized;

d. If the members are divided into classes, the designation of each class and a statement of the preferences, voting rights, if any, limitations and relative rights in respect of the members of each class;

e. Any other provisions, not inconsistent with law or the purposes which the corporation is authorized to pursue, which are to be set forth in articles of incorporation; except that it shall not be necessary to set forth in the restated articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter nor any statement with respect to the chapter of the Code or Iowa Acts under which the corporation was incorporated, its registered office, registered agent, directors, or incorporators, or the date on which its corporate existence began.

The restated articles of incorporation shall also set forth a statement that they correctly set forth the provisions of the articles of incorporation as amended and that they have been duly adopted as required by law.

The restated articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office.

The secretary of state upon filing the restated articles of incorporation shall issue a restated certificate of incorporation and send the same to the corporation or its representative.

Upon the issuance of the restated certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, the restated articles of incorporation, including any amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation made thereby, shall become effective and shall supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

Any two or more domestic corporations may merge into one of such corporations, pursuant to a plan of merger approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Each corporation shall adopt a plan of merger setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to merge, and the name of the corporation into which they propose to merge, which is hereinafter designated as the surviving corporation.
2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.
3. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation to be effected by such merger.
4. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

Any two or more domestic corporations may consolidate into a new corporation pursuant to a plan of consolidation approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Each such corporation shall adopt a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to consolidate, and the name of the new corporation into which they propose to consolidate, which is hereinafter designated as the new corporation.
2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.
3. With respect to the new corporation, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for corporations organized under this chapter.
4. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed consolidation as are deemed necessary or desirable.

A plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted by each domestic corporation in the following manner:

1. Where the members of any merging or consolidating corporation are entitled to vote thereon, a plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors of such corporation, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice setting forth the proposed plan or a summary thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote thereon at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. The proposed plan shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at each such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.
2. Where any merging or consolidating corporation has no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors of such corporation upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

After such approval, and at any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions thereof, if any, set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

Any two or more domestic corporations may consolidate into a new corporation pursuant to a plan of consolidation approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

A plan of consolidation shall be executed by each corporation in the following manner:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. Where the members of any merging or consolidating corporation are entitled to vote thereon, then as to each such corporation (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the plan was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such plan received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such amendment was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.
adopted and a statement of the fact that such plan received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office.

The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation and send the same to the surviving or new corporation as the case may be, or to its representative.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §17; 93 Acts, ch 109, §8

504A.44 Effect of merger or consolidation.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation by the secretary of state, the merger or consolidation shall be effected.

When such merger or consolidation has been effected:
1. The several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation, and, in the case of consolidation, shall be the new corporation provided for in the plan of consolidation.
2. The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new corporation, shall cease except as provided in subsection 5.
3. Such surviving or new corporation, if to exist under the laws of this state, shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under this chapter.
4. Such surviving or new corporation shall thereupon and thereafter possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, as well of a public as of a private nature, of each of the merging or consolidating corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, and all other choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the corporations so merged or consolidated, shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in such single corporation without further act or deed; and the title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in any of such corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of such merger or consolidation.
5. A devise, bequest, gift or grant contained in a will or other instrument, made before or after the merger or consolidation, to or for the benefit of any of the merging or consolidating corporations, shall inure to the benefit of the surviving or new corporation. So far as is necessary for that purpose, the existence of each merging or consolidating corporation shall be deemed to continue in and through the surviving or new corporation.
6. Such surviving or new corporation shall therefromforth be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations so merged or consolidated; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place, or such surviving or new corporation may be substituted in its place. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any such corporation shall be impaired by such merger or consolidation.
7. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent, if any, that changes in its articles of incorporation are stated in the plan of merger; and, in the case of consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation and which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this chapter shall be deemed to be the original articles of incorporation of the new corporation.

504A.45 Merger or consolidation of domestic and foreign corporations.

One or more foreign corporations and one or more domestic corporations may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, if such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each such foreign corporation is organized:
1. Each domestic corporation shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to the merger or consolidation, as the case may be, of domestic corporations and each foreign corporation shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.
2. If the surviving or new corporation, as the case may be, is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to qualification of foreign corporations if it is to conduct affairs in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:
   a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic corporation which is a party to such merger or consolidation; and
   b. An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any such proceeding.

The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations, if the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations except insofar as the laws of the other state provide otherwise.

At any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions therefor, if any, set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

[504A.46] Sale, lease, exchange, or mortgage of assets.

A sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any corporation for profit, domestic or foreign, as may be authorized in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of the corporation shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided by this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. At such meeting the members may authorize such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the consideration to be received by the corporation therefor. Such authorization shall require at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast. After such authorization by a vote of members, the board of directors, nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of assets, subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by members.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation shall be authorized upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation a mortgage or pledge of any or all property and assets of the corporation may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, as shall be authorized by its board of directors; and in such case no authorization or consent of the members shall be required.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.46]

504A.47 Voluntary dissolution.

A corporation may dissolve and wind up its affairs in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending that the corporation be dissolved, and directing that the question of such dissolution be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the advisability of dissolving the corporation, shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. A resolution to dissolve the corporation shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, the dissolution of the corporation shall be authorized at a meeting of the board of directors upon the adoption of a resolution to dissolve by the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon the adoption of such resolution by the members, or by the board of directors where there are no members or no members entitled to vote thereon, the corporation shall cease to conduct its affairs except insofar as may be necessary for the winding up thereof, shall immediately cause a notice of the proposed dissolution to be mailed to each known creditor of the corporation, and shall proceed to collect its assets and apply and distribute them as provided in this chapter.

504A.48 Distribution of assets.

The assets of a corporation in the process of dissolution shall be applied and distributed as follows:

1. All liabilities and obligations of the corporation shall be paid and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made therefor;

2. Assets held by the corporation upon condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution, shall be returned, transferred or conveyed in accordance with such requirements;

3. Assets received and held by the corporation subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational or similar purposes, but not held upon a condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance by reason of the dissolution, shall be transferred or conveyed to one or more domestic or foreign corporations, societies or organizations engaged in activities substantially similar to those of the dissolving corporation, pursuant to a plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter;

4. Other assets, if any, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the articles of incorporation or the bylaws to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws determine the distributive rights of members, or any class or classes of members, or provide for distribution to others;

5. Any remaining assets may be distributed to such persons, societies, organizations or domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or non-profit, as may be specified in a plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter.

504A.49 Plan of distribution.
A plan providing for the distribution of assets, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, may be adopted by a corporation in the process of dissolution and shall be adopted by a corporation for the purpose of authorizing any transfer or conveyance of assets for which this chapter requires a plan of distribution, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending a plan of distribution and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice setting forth the proposed plan of distribution or a summary thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. Such plan of distribution shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a resolution to revoke the voluntary dissolution proceedings shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon the adoption of such resolution by the members, or by the board of directors where there are no members or no members entitled to vote thereon, the corporation may thereupon again conduct its affairs.

504A.51 Articles of dissolution.
If voluntary dissolution proceedings have not been revoked, then when all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the corporation have been paid and discharged, or adequate provision has been made for them, and all of the remaining property and assets of the corporation have been transferred, conveyed, or distributed in accordance with this chapter, articles of dissolution shall be executed by the corporation. The articles of dissolution shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.

2. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the resolution to dissolve was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such resolution received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such resolution was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.

3. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the resolution to dissolve was adopted and a statement of the fact that such resolution received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.
§504A.52 Filing of articles of dissolution.
Such articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state’s office.
The secretary of state upon filing the articles of dissolution shall issue a certificate of dissolution, and send the same to the representative of the dissolved corporation.
Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution the existence of the corporation shall cease, except for the purpose of suits, other proceedings and appropriate corporate action by members, directors and officers as provided in this chapter.

93 Acts, ch 109, §9

§504A.53 Involuntary dissolution.
A corporation may be dissolved involuntarily by a decree of the district court in an action filed by the attorney general when any of the following are established:
1. The corporation has failed to file its biennial report within the time required by this chapter.
2. The corporation procured its articles of incorporation through fraud.
3. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.
4. The corporation has failed for ninety days to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state.
5. The corporation has failed for ninety days after change of its registered agent to file in the office of the secretary of state a statement of such change.

97 Acts, ch 171, §39

§504A.54 Notification to attorney general.
Repealed by 97 Acts, ch 171, § 49.

§504A.55 Venue and process.
Every action for the involuntary dissolution of a corporation shall be commenced by the attorney general in the district court of the county in which the registered office of the corporation is situated.
Original notice shall be served as in other civil actions.
If process is returned not found, the attorney general shall cause publication to be made as in other civil cases in some newspaper published in the county where the registered office of the corporation is situated, containing a notice of the pendency of such action, the title of the court, the title of the action, and the date on or after which default may be entered.
The attorney general may include in one notice and in one petition the names of any number of corporations against which actions are then pending in the same county.
The attorney general shall cause a copy of such notice to be mailed to the corporation at its registered office within ten days after the first publication thereof.
The certificate of the attorney general of the mailing of such notice shall be prima facie evidence thereof.
Such notice shall be published at least once each week for two successive weeks, and the first publication thereof may begin at any time after the original notice has been returned.
Unless a corporation shall have been served with original notice, no default shall be taken against it earlier than thirty days after the last publication of such notice.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.55]

§504A.56 Jurisdiction of court to liquidate assets and affairs of corporation.
Courts of equity shall have full power to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation:
1. In a suit by a member or director when it is established:
   a. That the directors are deadlocked in the management of the corporate affairs and that irreparable injury to the corporation is being suffered or is threatened by reason thereof, and either that the members are unable to break the deadlock or there are no members having voting rights; or
   b. That the acts of the directors or those in control of the corporation are illegal, oppressive or fraudulent; or
   c. That the members entitled to vote in the election of directors are deadlocked in voting power and have failed for at least two years to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired or would have expired upon the election of their successors; or
   d. That the corporate assets are being misapplied or wasted; or
   e. That the corporation is unable to carry out its purposes.
2. In an action by a creditor:
   a. When the claim of the creditor has been reduced to judgment and an execution thereon has been returned unsatisfied and it is established that the corporation is insolvent; or
   b. When the corporation has admitted in writing that the claim of the creditor is due and owing and it is established that the corporation is insolvent.

3. Upon application by a corporation to have its dissolution continued under the supervision of the court.

4. When an action has been filed by the attorney general to dissolve a corporation and it is established that liquidation of the affairs should precede the entry of a decree of dissolution.

Proceedings under this section shall be brought in the county in which the registered office or the principal office of the corporation is situated.

It shall not be necessary to make directors or members parties to any such suit or proceedings unless relief is sought against them personally.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.56]

§504A.57 Procedure in liquidation of corporation by court.

In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation the court shall have the power to issue injunctions, to appoint a receiver or receivers pendente lite, with such powers and duties as the court, from time to time, may direct, and to take such other proceedings as may be requisite to preserve the corporate assets wherever situated, and carry on the affairs of the corporation until a full hearing can be had.

After a hearing had upon such notice as the court may direct to be given to all parties to the proceedings and to any other parties in interest designated by the court, the court may appoint a liquidating receiver or receivers with authority to collect the assets of the corporation. Such liquidating receiver or receivers shall have authority, subject to the order of the court to sell, convey and dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation wherever situated, either at public or private sale. The order appointing such liquidating receiver or receivers shall state their powers and duties. Such powers and duties may be increased or diminished at any time during the proceedings.

The assets of the corporation or the proceeds resulting from a sale, conveyance, or other disposition thereof shall be applied and distributed as follows:

1. All costs and expenses of the court proceedings and all liabilities and obligations of the corporation shall be paid, satisfied and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made therefor;

2. Assets held by the corporation upon condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution or liquidation, shall be returned, transferred or conveyed in accordance with such requirements;

3. Assets received and held by the corporation subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational or similar purposes, but not held upon a condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance by reason of the dissolution or liquidation, shall be transferred or conveyed to one or more domestic or foreign corporations, societies or organizations engaged in activities substantially similar to those of the dissolving or liquidating corporation as the court may direct;

4. Other assets, if any, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws determine the distributive rights of members, or any class or classes of members, or provide for distribution to others;

5. Any remaining assets may be distributed to such persons, societies, organizations or domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or not for profit, specified in the plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter, or where no plan of distribution has been adopted, as the court may direct.

The court shall have power to allow, from time to time, as expenses of the liquidation compensation to the receiver or receivers and to attorneys in the proceedings, and to direct the payment thereof out of the assets of the corporation or the proceeds of any sale or disposition of such assets.

A receiver of a corporation appointed under the provisions of this section shall have authority to sue and defend in all courts in that person's own name as receiver of such corporation. The court appointing such receiver shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the corporation and its property, wherever situated.

§504A.58 Qualification of receivers.

A receiver shall in all cases be a citizen of the United States or a corporation for profit authorized to act as receiver, which corporation may be a domestic corporation or a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, and shall in all cases give such bond as the court may direct with such sureties as the court may require.

§504A.59 Filing of claims in liquidation proceedings.

In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation the court may require all creditors of the corporation to file with the clerk of the court or with the receiver, in such form as the court may prescribe, proofs under oath of their respective claims. If the court requires the filing of claims it shall fix a date, which shall be not less than four months from the date of the order, as the last day for the filing of claims, and shall prescribe the notice that shall be given to creditors and claimants of the date so fixed. Prior to the date so fixed, the court may extend the time for the filing of claims. Creditors and claimants failing to file proofs of claim on or before the date so fixed may be barred, by order of court, from participating in the distribution of the assets of the corporation. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.59]

504A.60 Discontinuance of liquidation proceedings.
The liquidation of the assets and affairs of a corporation may be discontinued at any time during the liquidation proceedings when it is established that cause for liquidation no longer exists. In such event the court shall dismiss the proceedings and direct the receiver to re-deliver to the corporation all its remaining property and assets. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.60]

504A.61 Decree of dissolution.
In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation, when the costs and expenses of such proceedings and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation shall have been paid and discharged and all of its remaining property and assets distributed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, or in case its property and assets are not sufficient to satisfy and discharge such costs, expenses, debts, and obligations, and all the property and assets have been applied so far as they will go to their payment, the court shall enter a decree dissolving the corporation, whereupon the existence of the corporation shall cease. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.61]

504A.62 Filing of decree of dissolution.
In case the court shall enter a decree dissolving a corporation, it shall be the duty of the clerk of such court to cause certified copies of the decree to be filed with and recorded by the secretary of state. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.62]

504A.63 Deposit with state treasurer.
1. Upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a corporation the portion of the assets distributable to any person who is known, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive such distributive portion, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person or persons responsible for the distribution in liquidation of the corporation's assets, shall be reduced to cash and deposited with the state treasurer, together with a statement giving the name of the person, if known, entitled to such fund, that person's last known address, the amount of that person's distributive portion, and such other information about such person as the state treasurer may reasonably require, whereupon the person or persons responsible for the distribution in liquidation of the corporation's assets shall be released and discharged from any further liability with respect to the funds so deposited. The state treasurer shall issue the treasurer of state's receipt for such fund and shall deposit same in a special account to be maintained by the treasurer.

504A.64 Survival of rights and remedies after dissolution or expiration.
The dissolution of a corporation or the expiration of its period of duration, shall not take away or impair any remedy available to or against such corporation, its directors, officers, or members, for any right or claim existing, or any liability incurred, prior to such dissolution or expiration, if action or other proceeding thereon is commenced within two years after the date of such dissolution or expiration. Any such action or proceeding by or against the corporation may be prosecuted or defended by the corporation in its corporate name. The members, directors and officers shall have power to take such corporate or other action as shall be appropriate to protect such remedy, right or claim. If the period of duration of a corporation has expired, it may amend its articles of incorporation at any time within five years after the date of such expiration so as to extend its period of duration.
A corporation which has been dissolved or the period of duration of which has expired by limitation or otherwise, may nevertheless continue to act for the purpose of conveying title to its property, real and personal, and otherwise winding up its affairs. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.64]

504A.64A Reincorporation. Repealed by 95 Acts, ch 188, §3.
§504A.65 Admission of foreign corporation.

No foreign corporation shall have the right to conduct affairs in this state until it shall have procured a certificate of authority so to do from the secretary of state. No foreign corporation shall be entitled to procure a certificate of authority under this chapter to conduct in this state any affairs which a corporation organized under this chapter is prohibited from conducting. A foreign corporation shall not be denied a certificate of authority by reason of the fact that the laws of the state or country under which such corporation is organized governing its organization and internal affairs differ from the laws of this state, and nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to authorize this state to regulate the organization or the internal affairs of such corporation.

Without excluding other activities which may not constitute conducting affairs in this state, a foreign corporation shall not be considered to be conducting affairs in this state, for the purposes of this chapter, by reason of carrying on in this state any one or more of the following activities:
1. Maintaining or defending any action or suit or any administrative or arbitration proceeding, or effecting the settlement thereof or the settlement of claims or disputes.
2. Holding meetings of its directors or members or carrying on other activities concerning its internal affairs.
4. Creating evidences of debt, mortgages or liens on real or personal property.
5. Securing or collecting debts due to it or enforcing any rights in property securing the same.
7. Conducting its affairs in interstate commerce.
8. Granting funds.
9. Distributing information to its members.
10. Conducting an isolated transaction completed within a period of thirty days and not in the course of a number of repeated transactions of like nature.

§504A.66 Powers of foreign corporation.

A foreign corporation which shall have received a certificate of authority under this chapter, shall, until a certificate of revocation or of withdrawal shall have been issued as provided in this chapter, enjoy the same, but no greater, rights and privileges as a domestic corporation organized for the purposes set forth in the application pursuant to which such certificate of authorization is issued; and, except as in this chapter otherwise provided, shall be subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties and liabilities now or hereafter imposed upon a domestic corporation of like character.

§504A.67 Name of a foreign corporation.

1. If the corporate name of a foreign corporation does not satisfy the requirements of section 504A.6, the foreign corporation, to obtain or maintain a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state, may use a fictitious name to transact business in this state if its real name is unavailable and it delivers to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.
2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, the corporate name, including a fictitious name, of a corporation must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:
   a. The corporate name of a nonprofit or business corporation incorporated or authorized to conduct affairs or to transact business in this state.
   b. A corporate name reserved under section 504A.7 or section 490.402, or registered under section 490.403.
   c. The fictitious name of another foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state.
3. A foreign corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use in this state the name of another corporation, incorporated or authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, that is not distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name applied for. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:
   a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.
   b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.
4. A foreign corporation may use in this state the name, including a fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign business or nonprofit corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state and the foreign corporation meets one of the following conditions:
   a. Has merged with the other corporation.
   b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.
   c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.
5. If a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state changes its corporate name to one that does not satisfy the requirements of section 504A.6, it shall not conduct affairs in this state under the changed name until it adopts a name satisfying the requirements of section 504A.6 and obtains an amended certificate of authority.

504A.68 Change of name by foreign corporation.
Whenever a foreign corporation which is authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall change its name to one under which a certificate of authority would not be granted to it on application therefor, the certificate of authority of such corporation shall be suspended and it shall not thereafter conduct any affairs in this state until it has changed its name to a name which is available to it under the laws of this state.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.68]

504A.69 Application for certificate of authority.
A foreign corporation, in order to procure a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state, shall make application therefor to the secretary of state, which application shall set forth:
1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. The date of incorporation and the period of duration of the corporation.
3. The address of the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
4. The address of the proposed registered office of the corporation in this state, and the name of its proposed registered agent or agents in this state at such address.
5. The purpose or purposes of the corporation which it proposes to pursue in conducting its affairs in this state.
6. The names and respective addresses of the directors and officers of the corporation.
7. Such additional information as may be necessary or appropriate in order to enable the secretary of state to determine whether such corporation is entitled to a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state.

The application shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed by the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 171, §4; 90 Acts, ch 1164, §19

504A.70 Filing of application for certificate of authority.
The application of the corporation for a certificate of authority, together with a certificate of good standing or existence, duly certified by the proper officer of the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated, shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office.

Upon the filing of the application the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state to which the secretary shall affix the application, and send the same to the corporation or its representative.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.70]
86 Acts, ch 1173, §10; 89 Acts, ch 171, §5

504A.71 Effect of certificate of authority.
Upon the issuance of a certificate of authority by the secretary of state, the corporation shall be authorized to conduct affairs in this state for those purposes set forth in its application, subject, however, to the right of this state to suspend or to revoke such authority as provided in this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.71]

504A.72 Registered office and registered agent of foreign corporation.
Each foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall have and continuously maintain in this state:
1. A registered office which may be, but need not be, the same as its principal office.
2. A registered agent or agents which may be either an individual resident in this state whose business office is identical with such registered office, or a domestic corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, or a foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, having an office identical with such registered office.

504A.73 Change of registered office or registered agent of foreign corporation.
A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state may change its registered office or change its registered agent or agents, or both office and agent or agents, upon filing in the office of the secretary of state a statement setting forth:
1. The name of the corporation.
2. The address of its then registered office.
3. If the address of its registered office be changed, the address to which the registered office is to be changed.
4. The name of its then registered agent or agents.
5. If its registered agent or agents are changed, the name of its successor registered agent or agents, and the new agent's or agents' written consent, either on the statement, or by attaching the agent's consent to the appointment.
6. That the address of its registered office and the address of the business office of its registered agent or agents, as changed, will be identical.

Such statement shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice president, and verified by that person, and delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such statement conforms to the provisions of this chapter, the secretary shall file such statement in the secretary of state's office, and upon such filing the change of address of the registered office, or the appointment of a new registered agent or agents, or both, as the case may be, shall become effective.

If a registered agent or agents change the agent's or agents' business address to another place within the same county, the agent or agents may change such address and the address of the registered office of any corporations of which that person is registered agent by filing a statement as required above for each corporation, or a single statement for all corporations named therein, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsection 5 above, and must recite that notification of such change has been mailed to each such corporation. Such statement executed and filed by a registered agent shall become effective upon the filing thereof in the manner as required above for statements executed by the foreign corporation.

Any registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign as such agent upon filing a written notice thereof, executed in duplicate, with the secretary of state, who shall forthwith mail a copy thereof to the corporation at its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated. The appointment of such agent shall terminate upon the expiration of thirty days after receipt of such notice by the secretary of state.

The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report pursuant to section 504A.83, provided that the form contains the information required in this section. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by section 504A.83 but otherwise meets the requirements of this section for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent before returning the biennial report to the corporation pursuant to section 504A.84. A statement of change of registered office or registered agent pursuant to this paragraph shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the secretary of state.

504A.73 Amendment to articles of incorporation of foreign corporations. Repealed by 86 Acts, ch 1173, § 20.

504A.74 Service of process on foreign corporation.

Each registered agent so appointed by a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served.

Whenever a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall fail to appoint or maintain a registered agent in this state, or whenever any such registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the registered office, or whenever the certificate of authority of a foreign corporation shall be suspended or revoked, then the secretary of state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any such process, notice or demand may be served. Service on the secretary of state of any such process, notice or demand shall be made by delivering to and leaving with the secretary, the secretary's deputy, or with any person having charge of the corporation department of the secretary of state's office, duplicate copies of such process, notice or demand. In the event any such process, notice or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary shall immediately cause one of such copies thereof to be forwarded by registered or certified mail, addressed to the corporation at its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated. Process, notice or demand served on the secretary of state upon a foreign corporation which has withdrawn from this state shall be mailed in the manner provided by this section to the corporation at the address set forth in its application for withdrawal. Any service so had on the secretary of state shall be returnable in not less than thirty days.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices and demands served upon the secretary under this section, and shall record therein the time of such service and the secretary's action with reference thereto.

Nothing herein contained shall limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice or demand, required or permitted by law to be served upon a corporation in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

504A.75 Amendment to articles of incorporation of foreign corporations. Repealed by 86 Acts, ch 1173, § 20.

504A.76 Merger of foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state. Repealed by 86 Acts, ch 1173, § 20.

504A.77 Amended certificate of authority.

A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall procure an amended certificate of authority in the event it changes its corporate name, or desires to pursue in this state other or additional purposes than those set forth in its prior application for a certificate of authority, by making application therefor to the secretary of state.
The requirements in respect to the form and contents of the application, the manner of its execution, the filing of the application with the secretary of state, the issuance of an amended certificate of authority and the effect thereof, shall be the same as in the case of an original application for a certificate of authority.

504A.79 Filing of application for withdrawal.
The application for withdrawal shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed by the corporation.

504A.80 Revocation of foreign corporation’s certificate of authority.
The certificate of authority of a foreign corporation to conduct affairs in this state may be revoked by the secretary of state upon the conditions prescribed in this section upon the occurrence of any of the following:

2. The corporation has failed to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state as required by this chapter.

3. The corporation has failed, after change of its registered office or registered agent, to file in the office of the secretary of state a statement of such change as required by this chapter.

4. A misrepresentation has been made of any material matter in any application, report, affidavit, or other document submitted by the corporation pursuant to this chapter.

A certificate of authority of a foreign corporation shall not be revoked by the secretary of state unless the secretary has given the corporation not less than sixty days’ notice by mail addressed to the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated, and the corporation fails prior to revocation to file the biennial report, or pay the fees or penalties, or file the required statement of change of registered agent or registered office, or correct the misrepresentation.

86 Acts, ch 1173, §11, 12; 97 Acts, ch 171, §42

504A.81 Issuance of certificate of revocation.
Upon revoking any such certificate of authority, the secretary of state shall:

1. Issue a certificate of revocation in duplicate.

2. File one of such duplicate originals in the secretary of state’s office.

3. Issue a certificate of withdrawal to which the secretary of state shall affix the other duplicate original.

The certificate of withdrawal, together with the duplicate original of the application for withdrawal affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the corporation or its representative. Upon the issuance of such certificate of withdrawal, the authority of the corporation to conduct affairs in this state shall cease.
revocation accompanied by one of such certificates.
Upon the issuance of such certificate of revocation, the authority of the corporation to conduct affairs in this state shall cease.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.81]

504A.82 Conducting affairs without certificate of authority.
No foreign corporation which is conducting affairs in this state without a certificate of authority shall be permitted to maintain any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state until such corporation shall have obtained a certificate of authority. Nor shall any action, suit or proceeding be maintained in any court of this state by any successor or assignee of such corporation on any right, claim or demand arising out of the conduct of affairs by such corporation in this state, until a certificate of authority shall have been obtained by such corporation or by a corporation which has acquired all or substantially all of its assets.
The failure of a foreign corporation to obtain a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state shall not impair the validity of any contract or act of such corporation, and shall not prevent such corporation from defending any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state.
A foreign corporation which conducts affairs in this state without a certificate of authority shall be liable to this state, for the years or parts thereof during which it conducted affairs in this state without a certificate of authority, in an amount equal to all fees which would have been imposed by this chapter upon such corporation had it duly applied for and received a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state as required by this chapter and thereafter filed all reports required by this chapter, plus all penalties imposed by this chapter for failure to pay such fees. The attorney general shall bring proceedings to recover all amounts due this state under the provisions of this section. If any foreign corporation shall conduct affairs in this state without a certificate of authority, it shall by conducting such affairs be deemed thereby to have appointed the secretary of state its attorney for service of process.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.82]

504A.83 Biennial report of domestic and foreign corporations.
Each domestic corporation, and each foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state, shall file, within the time prescribed by this chapter, a biennial report setting forth:
1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. The address of the registered office of the corporation in this state, and the name of its registered agent or agents in this state at such address, and, in the case of a foreign corporation, the address of its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
3. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.
The biennial report shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state, and the information contained in the report shall be given as of the date of the execution of the report. It shall be executed by the corporation by a representative duly authorized by the board of directors, or, if the corporation is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or assignee for benefit of creditors, it shall be executed or signed on behalf of the corporation by the receiver, trustee, or assignee.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.83]

504A.84 Filing of biennial report of domestic and foreign corporations.
The first biennial report of a domestic or foreign corporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first odd-numbered year following the calendar year in which a domestic corporation was incorporated or a foreign corporation was authorized to transact business. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following odd-numbered calendar years. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state. For purposes of this section, each biennial report shall contain information related to the two-year period immediately preceding the calendar year in which the report is filed.
The report shall be deemed filed within the required time if deposited in the United States mail with postage prepaid in a sealed envelope, properly addressed and postmarked on or prior to the thirty-first day of March of the year the report is due. If the secretary of state finds that the report conforms to the requirements of this chapter, the secretary shall file the report. If a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section, the secretary of state shall promptly notify the reporting domestic or foreign corporation in writing and return the report to the corporation for correction.

504A.85 Fees for filing documents and issuing certificates.
The secretary of state shall charge and collect for:
1. Filing articles of incorporation and issuing a certificate of incorporation, twenty dollars.
2. Filing statement of election to accept the chapter, five dollars.
3. Filing articles of amendment and issuing a certificate of amendment, ten dollars.
4. Filing restated articles of incorporation, twenty dollars.
5. Filing articles of merger or consolidation and issuing a certificate of merger or consolidation, twenty dollars.
6. Filing an application to reserve a corporate name, ten dollars.
7. Filing a notice of transfer of a reserved corporate name, ten dollars.
8. Filing articles of dissolution, five dollars.
9. Filing an application of a foreign corporation for a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state and issuing an amended certificate of authority, twenty-five dollars.
10. Filing an application of a foreign corporation for an amended certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state and issuing a certificate of authority, twenty-five dollars.
11. Filing an application for withdrawal of a foreign corporation and issuing a certificate of withdrawal, five dollars.
12. Filing any other statement or report, except a statement of change of registered office or registered agent, of a domestic or foreign corporation, five dollars.

504A.86 Miscellaneous charges.
The secretary of state shall charge and collect:
1. For furnishing a certified copy of any document, instrument, or paper relating to a corporation, one dollar per page and five dollars for the certificate and affixing the seal thereto; and for furnishing an uncertified copy, one dollar per page.
2. At the time of any service of process on the secretary of state as resident agent of a corporation, ten dollars, which amount may be recovered as taxable costs by the party to the suit or action causing such service to be made if such party prevails in the suit or action.
3. For a certificate of good standing, five dollars.
4. For a certificate of formation, twenty dollars.

504A.87 Grounds for administrative dissolution.
The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 504A.87A to administratively dissolve a corporation if any of the following apply:
1. The corporation does not pay within sixty days after they are due any franchise taxes or penalties imposed by this chapter or other law.
2. The corporation has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 504A.83, within sixty days after it is due.
3. The corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.
4. The corporation does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.
5. The corporation’s period of duration stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

504A.87A Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.
1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 504A.87 for dissolving a corporation the secretary of state shall serve the corporation by ordinary mail with written notice of the secretary of state’s determination.
2. If the corporation does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after the date of the notice, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the corporation by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the corporation.
3. A corporation administratively dissolved continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs and notify claimants.
4. The administrative dissolution of a corporation does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

504A.87B Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.
1. A corporation administratively dissolved under section 504A.87A may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:
   a. Recite the name of the corporation at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.
   b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution either did not exist or have been eliminated.
2. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1 and that the information is correct the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement.
§504A.89, IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

§504A.90, IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

1. If the secretary of state denies a corporation’s application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The corporation may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The corporation appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state’s certificate of dissolution, the corporation’s application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state’s notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved corporation or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court’s final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

§504A.91, IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

The secretary of state shall have the power and authority reasonably necessary to enable the secretary to administer this chapter efficiently and to perform the duties therein imposed upon the secretary.

§504A.92, IOWA NONPROFIT CORPORATION ACT

If the secretary of state shall fail to approve any articles of incorporation, amendment, merger, consolidation or dissolution, or any other document required by this chapter to be approved by the secretary of state before the same shall be filed in the secretary of state’s office, the secretary shall, within ten days after the delivery thereof to the secretary, give written notice of the secretary’s disapproval to the person or corporation, domestic or foreign, delivering the same, specifying the reasons therefor. Judicial review of the acts of the secretary of state may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, chapter 17A. Notwithstanding the terms of said Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county in which the registered office of such corporation is, or is proposed to be, situated by filing with the clerk of such court a petition setting forth a copy of the articles or other document sought to be filed and a copy of the written disapproval thereof by the secretary of state; whereupon the matter shall be tried de novo.
§504A.93 Certificates and certified copies to be received in evidence.

All certificates issued by the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and copies of all documents filed or recorded in the secretary of state’s office in accordance with the provisions of this chapter when certified by the secretary, shall be taken and received in all courts, public offices, and official bodies as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. A certificate by the secretary of state under the seal of the secretary of state’s office, as to the existence or nonexistence of the facts relating to corporations which would not appear from a certified copy of any of the foregoing documents or certificates shall be taken and received in all courts, public offices, and official bodies as prima facie evidence of the existence or nonexistence of the facts therein stated.

§504A.94 Forms to be furnished by secretary of state.

All reports required by this chapter to be filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be made on forms which shall be prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state. Forms for other documents to be filed in the office of the secretary of state may be furnished by the secretary of state on request therefor, but the use thereof, unless otherwise specifically prescribed in this chapter, shall not be mandatory.

§504A.95 Voting requirements.

Whenever, with respect to any action to be taken by the members or directors of a corporation, the articles of incorporation or bylaws require voting by classes of members or the vote or concurrence of a greater or lesser proportion of the directors or members or any class of members, the case may be, than required by this chapter with respect to such action, the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws, as the case may be, shall control.

§504A.96 Waiver of notice.

Whenever any notice is required to be given to any member or director of a corporation under the provisions of this chapter or under the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the corporation, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

§504A.97 Informal action by members or directors.

Any action required by this chapter to be taken at a meeting of the members or directors of a corporation, or any action which may be taken at a meeting of the members or directors or of a committee of directors, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the members entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof or all of the directors or all of the members of the committee of directors, as the case may be. Such consent shall have the same force and effect as a unanimous vote and may be stated as such in any articles or document filed with the secretary of state under this chapter. The provisions of this section shall be applicable whether or not this chapter requires that an action be taken by resolution.

§504A.98 Unauthorized assumption of corporate powers.

All persons who assume to act as a corporation without authority so to do shall be jointly and severally liable for all debts and liabilities incurred or arising as a result thereof.

§504A.99 Reservation of power.

The general assembly shall at all times have power to prescribe such regulations, provisions and limitations as it may deem advisable, which regulations, provisions and limitations shall be binding upon any and all corporations subject to the provisions of this chapter, and the general assembly shall have power to amend, repeal or modify this chapter at pleasure.

§504A.100 Application to existing corporations.

1. Except for this subsection, this chapter shall not apply to or affect corporations subject to the provisions of chapters 176, 497, 498, 499, or 512B. Such corporations shall continue to be governed by all laws of this state hereafter applicable thereto and as the same may hereafter be amended. This chapter shall not be construed as in derogation of or as a limitation on the powers to which such corporations may be entitled.

2. This chapter shall not apply to any domestic corporation heretofore organized or existing under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, nor, for a period of two years from and after July 4, 1965, to any foreign corporation holding a permit under the provisions of said chapter on the said date, unless such domestic or foreign corporation shall voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and shall comply with the procedure prescribed by the provisions of subsection 3 of this section.

3. Any domestic corporation organized or existing under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and thereby become subject to its provisions and, during the period of two years from and after the effective date of this chapter, any foreign corporation holding a permit under the provisions of said chapter on said date may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and thereby become subject to the provisions of this chapter. The procedure for electing to adopt the provisions of this chapter shall be as follows:

a. A resolution reciting that the corporation voluntarily adopts this chapter and designating the address of its initial registered office and the name of its registered agent or agents at that address and, if the name of the corporation does not comply with this chapter, amending the articles of incorporation of the corporation to change the name of the corporation to one complying with the requirements of this chapter, shall be adopted by the procedure prescribed by this chapter for the amendment of articles of incorporation. If the corporation has issued shares of stock, the resolution shall contain a statement of that fact including the number of shares authorized, the number issued and outstanding, and a statement that all issued and outstanding shares of stock have been delivered to the corporation to be canceled upon the adoption of this chapter by the corporation, or will be canceled upon receipt by the corporation, and that from and after the effective date of adoption the authority of the corporation to issue shares of stock is terminated. As to foreign corporations, a resolution shall be adopted by the board of directors, reciting that the corporation voluntarily adopts this chapter, and designating the address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent or agents at that address and, if the name of the corporation does not comply with this chapter, setting forth the name of the corporation with the changes which it elects to make in the name conforming to the requirements of this chapter for use in this state.

b. Upon adoption of the required resolution or resolutions, an instrument shall be executed by the corporation which shall set forth both of the following:

(1) The name of the corporation.
(2) Each such resolution adopted by the corporation and the date of its adoption.

3. Any domestic corporation which elects to adopt the provisions of this chapter by complying with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section may, at the same time, amend or restate its articles of incorporation by complying with the provisions of this chapter with respect to amending articles of incorporation or restating articles of incorporation, as the case may be.

5. The provisions of this chapter becoming applicable to any domestic or foreign corporation shall not affect any right accrued or established, or any liability or penalty incurred, under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, prior to the filing by the secretary of state in the secretary of state’s office of the instrument manifesting the election of such corporation to adopt the provisions of this chapter as provided in subsection 3 of this section.

6. Except for the exceptions and limitations of subsection 1 of this section, this chapter shall apply to: all domestic corporations organized after the date on which this chapter became effective; domestic corporations organized or existing under chapter 504, Code 1989, which voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and comply with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section; all foreign corporations conducting or seeking to conduct affairs within this state and not holding, July 4, 1965, a valid permit so to do; foreign corporations holding, on the date the chapter becomes effective, a valid permit under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, which, during the period of two years from and after said date, voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and comply with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section; and, upon the expiration of the period of two years from and after July 4, 1965, all foreign corporations holding such a permit on July 4, 1965.

7. Upon the expiration of a period of two years from and after the date on July 4, 1965, except for the exceptions and limitations of subsection 1 of this section, this chapter shall apply to every foreign corporation holding a valid permit to do business within this state or seeking to conduct affairs within this state. Every foreign corporation holding a valid permit to do business within this state on July 4, 1965, which has not meanwhile adopted this chapter by complying with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section, shall at the expiration of two years from and after said date be deemed to have elected to adopt this chapter by not voluntarily withdrawing from the state, and thereupon every such foreign corporation, subject to the limitations set forth in its certificate of authority, shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges applicable to foreign corporations procuring certificates of authority to conduct affairs in this state under this chapter, and shall be subject to all the limitations, restrictions, liabilities, and duties prescribed herein for foreign corporations procuring certificates of authority to conduct affairs in this state under this chapter.

8. Within eight months after this chapter becomes applicable to any foreign corporation pursuant to the provisions of subsection 7, the board of directors of such foreign corporation shall adopt a resolution designating the address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent or agents at such address and, if the name of the corporation does not comply with this chapter, setting forth the name of the corporation with the changes which the board elects to make to the name conforming to the requirements of this chapter for use in this state.

Upon adoption of the required resolution or resolutions, an instrument or instruments shall be executed by the foreign corporation by its president or a vice president and by its secretary or assistant secretary and verified by one of the officers signing such instrument, which shall set forth the name of the corporation, each resolution adopted as required by the provisions of this subsection, and the date of the adoption of each resolution. The instrument shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state’s office. Upon the filing of such instrument by a foreign corporation the secretary of state shall issue a certificate as to the filing of the instrument and deliver the certificate to the corporation or its representative. The secretary of state shall not file any biennial report of any foreign corporation subject to this subsection unless and until the corporation has fully complied with the provisions of this paragraph and, in such event, the foreign corporation is subject to the penalties prescribed in this chapter for failure to file the report within the time as provided in this chapter.

9. No corporation to which the provisions of this chapter apply shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989.

10. The provisions of sections 504A.96 and 504A.97 shall apply to any action required or permitted to be taken under this section.

11. Except as otherwise provided in this section, existing corporations shall continue to be governed by the laws of this state heretofore applicable thereto.

12. Corporations existing under chapter 504, Code 1989, shall be subject to this chapter on July 1, 1990, except that the corporations shall be subject to sections 504A.8 and 504A.83 on January 1, 1997. A corporate existence of a corporation that is not in compliance on the records of the secretary of state with sections 504A.8 and 504A.83 on June 30, 1997, is terminated, effective July 1, 1997. A corporation whose existence is terminated pursuant to this subsection may be reinstated. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the termination of its corporate existence as if such termination had never occurred.
504A.101 Personal liability.

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a director, officer, employee, or member of the corporation is not liable on the corporation’s debts nor obligations and a director, officer, member, or other volunteer is not personally liable in that capacity, for a claim based upon an act or omission of the person performed in the discharge of the person’s duties, except for a breach of the duty of loyalty to the corporation, for acts or omissions not in good faith, or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of the law, or for a transaction from which the person derives an improper personal benefit.

504A.102 Farm aid associations — termination and election to be governed under the Iowa nonprofit corporation Act or revised Iowa nonprofit corporation Act.

1. Termination. A corporation incorporated and governed under chapter 176 as an association organized under chapter 176 prior to July 1, 2005, that is not governed as a corporation under this chapter before January 1, 2005, or under chapter 504 on or after January 1, 2005, but prior to June 30, 2005, as provided in this section is terminated on July 1, 2005.

2. Election procedure. A corporation incorporated and governed under chapter 176 as an association organized under chapter 176 prior to July 1, 2005, may elect to be governed as a corporation under this chapter prior to January 1, 2005, or under chapter 504 on or after January 1, 2005, but prior to July 1, 2005. The association governed under chapter 176 shall be a corporation governed under this chapter or chapter 504 by complying with all of the following requirements:

a. The adoption of a resolution or resolutions at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office and of the members of the association in the same manner as provided in section 504A.35 or 504.1003. The resolution or resolutions shall recite that the association voluntarily elects to be governed as a corporation under this chapter. The resolution must designate the address of the association’s initial registered office and the name of the association’s registered agent at that office, if any.

b. The adoption of articles of incorporation in compliance with section 504A.29 or 504.202 at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office and of the members of the association in the same manner as provided in section 504A.35 or 504.1003. The articles of incorporation may be a restatement, substitution, or amendment of articles of incorporation adopted by the association pursuant to section 176.3. The articles of incorporation may be made part of the resolution or resolutions adopted by the association pursuant to paragraph “a” of this subsection.

c. Upon the adoption of a resolution or resolutions and articles of incorporation as provided in paragraphs “a” and “b” of this subsection, the president or vice president and secretary or an assistant secretary shall execute an instrument of verification. The instrument of verification shall certify all of the following:

(1) The association name as provided in the association’s articles of incorporation pursuant to section 176.3 and the new corporation’s corporate name, if different, as provided in section 504A.6 or 504.401.

(2) An identification of each resolution adopted under paragraph “a” of this subsection, including the date of each resolution’s adoption, and a recitation that each resolution and the articles of incorporation for the new corporation are filed with the office of secretary of state.

(3) The address of the new corporation’s registered office and the name of the new corporation’s registered agent as provided in section 504A.8 or 504.501.

d. All of the following shall be delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing and recording as provided in section 504A.30 or 504.111:

(1) Each resolution adopted pursuant to paragraph “a” of this subsection.

(2) The new corporation’s articles of incorporation adopted pursuant to paragraph “b” of this subsection.

(3) The instrument of verification that is executed pursuant to paragraph “c” of this subsection.

3. Certificate of incorporation. For an association electing to be governed under this chapter prior to January 1, 2005, upon filing of the resolution or resolutions, the articles of incorporation, and the instrument of verification as provided in subsection 2, the office of secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation and send the certificate to the corporation or its representative as provided in section 504A.30. For an association electing to be governed under chapter 504 on or after January 1, 2005, but prior to July 1, 2005, unless a delayed effective date is specified, the corporation existence begins when the articles of incorporation are filed as provided in section 504.203.

4. Liabilities and rights prior to the election. An association’s election to be governed as a corporation under this chapter or chapter 504...
does not affect any right accrued or established, or any liability or penalty incurred, under the provisions of chapter 176, prior to filing of the resolution or resolutions, articles of incorporation, and instrument of verification by the association as provided in subsection 2.

5. Repeal. This section is repealed on July 1, 2005.

CHAPTER 504B
NONPROFIT CORPORATIONS AND FEDERAL TAX LIABILITY

504B.1 Corporations applicable. This chapter shall apply to every corporation organized under chapter 504, Code 1989, or current chapter 504 or 504A, which corporation is deemed to be a private foundation as defined in section 509 of the Internal Revenue Code, which is incorporated in the state of Iowa after December 31, 1969, and as to any such corporation organized in this state before January 1, 1970, it shall apply only for its federal taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1972.

504B.2 Articles of incorporation — contents. The articles of incorporation of every such corporation shall be deemed to contain provisions forbidding the corporation to:

1. Engage in any act of self-dealing, as defined in section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4941(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

2. Retain any excess business holdings, as defined in section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4943(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

3. Make any investment which would jeopardize the carrying out of any of its exempt purposes, within the meaning of section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code, so as to give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4944(a) of the Internal Revenue Code; and

4. Make any taxable expenditures, as defined in section 4945(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4945(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

[C73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504B.2]

504B.3 Avoiding tax liability. The articles of incorporation of every such corporation shall be deemed to contain a provision requiring such corporation to distribute, for the purposes specified in its articles of incorporation, for each taxable year, amounts at least sufficient to avoid liability for the tax imposed by section 4942(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

[C73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504B.3]

504B.4 Construction. Nothing in this chapter shall impair the rights and powers of the courts or the attorney general of this state with respect to any corporation.

[C73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504B.4]

504B.5 Internal Revenue Code updated. All references to sections of the Internal Revenue Code shall mean the Code as amended to and including January 1, 1971.

[C73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504B.5]

504B.6 Certain powers not limited. Nothing in this chapter shall limit the power of any nonprofit corporation organized under chapter 504, Code 1989, or organized under current chapter 504 or 504A:

1. To at any time amend its articles of incorporation or other instrument governing such corporation by any amendment process allowable under the laws of this state to provide that some or all provisions of sections 504B.2 and 504B.3 shall have no application to such corporation, or
2. In the case of any such corporation formed after July 1, 1971, to include any specific provisions in its original articles of incorporation, which provide that some or all provisions of sections 504B.2 and 504B.3 shall have no application to such corporation.

CHAPTER 504C
NONPROFIT CORPORATIONS — HOUSING FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

504C.1 Housing — persons with physical disabilities.

1. For the purposes of this chapter, “physical disability” means a physical impairment that results in significant functional limitations in one or more areas of major life activity and in the need for specialized care, treatment, or training services of extended duration.

2. Individuals with physical disabilities may form nonprofit corporations pursuant to chapter 504 or 504A for the sole purpose of establishing homes for persons with disabilities which are intended to serve two to five residents who are members of the nonprofit corporation.

3. A nonprofit corporation formed under this section may do any of the following:
   a. Design, modify, or construct a specific housing facility to provide appropriate services and support to the residents of the specific housing facility. Local requirements shall not be more restrictive than the rules adopted for a family home, as defined in section 335.25 or 414.22, and the state building code requirements for single-family or multiple-family housing, as adopted pursuant to section 103A.7.
   b. Contract for or employ staff for personal attendant needs and for the management and operation of the housing facility.
   c. Purchase, modify, maintain, and operate transportation services for the use of the housing facility residents.

4. Residents of housing facilities established under this chapter shall be eligible to apply for or continue to receive funding provided through federal, state, and county funding sources, and assets of the members of the nonprofit corporation used in the establishment, management, and operation of the housing facility, including but not limited to provision of services to the residents of the facility, shall not be considered in determining a resident’s eligibility for funding provided through sources otherwise available to the resident.

505.1 Insurance division created.

An insurance division is created within the department of commerce to regulate and supervise the conducting of the business of insurance in the state. The commissioner of insurance is the chief executive officer of the division. As used in this subtitle and chapter 502, “division” means the insurance division.

[S13, §1683-r, -r1; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8604; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §505.1] 86 Acts, ch 1245, §745; 93 Acts, ch 60, §6; 94 Acts, ch 1023, §113

505.2 Appointment and term of commissioner.

The governor shall appoint subject to confirmation by the senate, a commissioner of insurance, who shall be selected solely with regard to qualifications and fitness to discharge the duties of this position, devote the entire time to such duties, and serve for four years beginning and ending as provided by section 69.19. The governor may remove the commissioner for malfeasance in office, or for any cause that renders the commissioner incapable, or unfit to discharge the duties of the office.

[S13, §1683-r; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8605; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §505.2] 86 Acts, ch 1245, §1989 Confirmation, see §2.32
§505.4, INSURANCE DIVISION

missioner for supervision whom the commissioner may appoint as supervisory or special deputy pursuant to chapter 507C and who shall perform such other duties as may be assigned by the commissioner. The deputy commissioner for supervision shall receive a salary to be determined by the commissioner. The deputy commissioner for supervision shall be exempt from the merit system provisions of chapter 8A, subchapter IV, under section 8A.412, subsection 17.

[S13, §1683-r2; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8608; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §505.4]
91 Acts, ch 26, §31; 2003 Acts, ch 145, §269

505.5 Expenses — salary.

The commissioner shall be entitled to reimbursement of actual necessary expenses in attending meetings of insurance commissioners of other states and in the performance of the duties of the office. The commissioner’s salary shall be as fixed by the general assembly.

[S13, §1683-r2; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8610; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §505.5]

505.6 Documents and records.

All books, records, files, documents, reports, and securities, and all papers of every kind and character relating to the business of insurance shall be delivered to, and filed or deposited with, the said commissioner of insurance.

[S13, §1683-r4; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8611; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §505.6]

505.7 Fees — expenses of division.

1. All fees and charges which are required by law to be paid by insurance companies, associations, and other regulated entities shall be payable to the commissioner of the insurance division of the department of commerce or department of revenue, as provided by law, whose duty it shall be to account for and pay over the same to the treasurer of state at the time and in the manner provided for law for deposit in the general fund of the state.

3. Forty percent of the nonexamination revenues payable to the division of insurance or the department of revenue in connection with the regulation of insurance companies or other entities subject to the regulatory jurisdiction of the division shall be subject to annual appropriation to the division for its operations and is also subject to expenditure under subsection 6.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, the insurance division may expend additional funds if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for statutory duties of the division and directly result from the statutory duties of the division. The amounts necessary to fund the excess division expenses shall be collected from additional fees and other moneys collected by the division. The division shall notify in writing the legislative services agency and the department of management when hiring additional personnel. The written notification shall include documentation that any additional expenditure related to such hiring will be totally reimbursed to the general fund, and shall also include the division’s justification for hiring such personnel. The division must obtain the approval of the department of management only if the number of additional personnel to be hired exceeds the number of full-time equivalent positions authorized by the general assembly.

5. The insurance division may transfer moneys between budgeted line items of its appropriation, but such transfers may not reduce moneys budgeted for examinations or professional services, including but not limited to actuarial and legal services.

6. The insurance division may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for insurance solvency oversight under the following conditions:

a. The division may exceed the line item budgets for examinations and professional services, provided that the division funds the increased expenditures through assessments or increased nonexamination revenues payable to the division under subsection 1 or otherwise. The amounts necessary to fund the excess expenses may be collected from additional fees and classes of entities which either cause or benefit from the expenditure or encumbrance.

b. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for line items other than examinations and professional services, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the expenses can be paid from nonexamination revenues payable to the division under subsection 1 or otherwise. Upon the approval of the director of the department of management the division may expend and encumber funds for the excess expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the excess expenses may be collected from those regulated entities or classes of entities which either cause or benefit from the expenditure or encumbrance.

The annual salaries of the deputy commissioner for supervision and the chief examiner appointed pursuant to section 507.5 shall be expenses of examination of insurance companies and shall be charged to insurance companies examined on a proportionate basis as provided by rule adopted by the commissioner. Insurance companies examined shall pay the proportion of the salaries of the deputy commissioner for supervision and the chief examiner charged to them as part of the costs of examination as provided in section 507.8.

7. The insurance division shall, by January 15 of each year, prepare estimates of projected receipts, refunds, and reimbursements to be generated by the examinations function of the division during the calendar year in which the report is due, and such receipts, refunds, and reimbursements shall be treated in the same manner as repayment receipts, as defined in section 8.2, subsection 8, and shall be available to the division to pay the expenses of the division’s examination function.

8. The commissioner may assess the costs of an audit or examination to a health insurance purchasing cooperative, in the same manner as provided for insurance companies under sections 507.7 through 507.9, and may establish by rule reasonable filing fees to fund the cost of regulatory oversight.

9. The commissioner may retain funds collected during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2003, pursuant to any settlement, enforcement action, or other legal action authorized under federal or state law for the purpose of reimbursing costs and expenses of the division.

Deposit of fees, §12.10

505.7A Civil penalties.

Unless specifically provided for in this subtitle, penalties imposed under this subtitle by order of the commissioner of insurance after hearing shall not exceed one thousand dollars for each act or violation of this subtitle, up to an aggregate of ten thousand dollars, unless the person knew or reasonably should have known the person was in violation of this subtitle, in which case the penalty shall not exceed five thousand dollars for each act or violation, up to an aggregate of fifty thousand dollars in any one six-month period.

2004 Acts, ch 1110, §5

NEW section

505.8 General powers and duties.

1. The commissioner of insurance shall be the head of the division, and shall have general control, supervision, and direction over all insurance business transacted in the state, and shall enforce all the laws of the state relating to such insurance.

2. The commissioner shall, subject to chapter 17A, establish, publish, and enforce rules not inconsistent with law for the enforcement of this subtitle and for the enforcement of the laws, the administration and supervision of which are imposed on the division, including rules to establish fees sufficient to administer the laws, where appropriate fees are not otherwise provided for in rule or statute.

3. The commissioner shall supervise all transactions relating to the organization, reorganization, liquidation, and dissolution of domestic insurance corporations, and all transactions leading up to the organization of such corporations.

4. The commissioner shall also supervise the sale in the state of all stock, certificates, or other evidences of interest, either by domestic or foreign insurance companies or organizations proposing to engage in any insurance business.

5. The commissioner shall supervise all health insurance purchasing cooperatives providing services or operating within the state and the organization of domestic cooperatives. The commissioner may admit nondomestic health insurance purchasing cooperatives under the same standards as domestic cooperatives.

6. a. Notwithstanding chapter 22, the commissioner shall keep confidential all information obtained in the course of an investigation and information submitted to the insurance division pursuant to chapters 514J and 515D.

b. The commissioner shall adopt rules protecting the privacy of information held by an insurer or an agent consistent with the federal Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, Pub. L. No. 106-102.

c. However, notwithstanding paragraphs “a” and “b”, if the commissioner determines that it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of the public, the commissioner may share information with other regulatory authorities or governmental agencies or may publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or a rule or order under this chapter. Such information may be redacted so that personally identifiable information is not made available.

d. The commissioner may adopt rules protecting the privacy of information submitted to the insurance division consistent with this section.

7. Notwithstanding chapter 22, the commissioner may keep confidential any social security number, residence address, and residence telephone number that is contained in a record filed as part of a licensing, registration, or filing process if disclosure is not required in the performance of any duty or is not otherwise required under law.

505.10 Expenses attending liquidation.
All expenses of supervision and liquidation shall be fixed by the commissioner of insurance, subject to approval by the court or a judge thereof, and shall, upon the commissioner’s order, be paid out of the funds of such company, association, or insurance carrier in the commissioner’s hands.

505.11 Refunds.
Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the commissioner of insurance that, because of error, mistake, or erroneous interpretation of statute, a foreign or domestic insurance corporation has paid to the state of Iowa taxes, fines, penalties, or license fees in excess of the amount legally chargeable against it, the commissioner of insurance shall have power to refund to such corporation any such excess by applying the amount of the excess payment toward the payment of taxes, fines, penalties, or license fees already due or which may become due, until such excess payments have been fully refunded.

505.13 Other insurance — annual report by the division.
The commissioner shall annually cause the preparation and printing of a report to be delivered to the governor. The report shall contain information from the statements required of insurance companies, other than life insurance companies, organized or doing business in the state. The reports shall be delivered on or before the first day of September each year.

505.13A Reserved.

505.14 Foreign insurers — reciprocal provisions.
When by the laws of any other state a premium or income or other taxes, or fees, fines, penalties, licenses, deposit requirements or other obligations, prohibitions or restrictions are imposed upon Iowa insurance companies actually doing business in the other state, or upon the agents of the Iowa companies, which in the aggregate are in excess of the aggregate of the taxes, fees, fines, penalties, licenses, deposit requirements or other obligations, prohibitions or restrictions directly imposed upon insurance companies of the other state under the statutes of this state, the same obligations, prohibitions or restrictions of whatever kind are in the same manner and for the same purpose imposed upon insurance companies of the other state doing business in Iowa. Insurance premium taxes paid which were not paid under protest shall not be refunded if the refund claim is based upon an alleged error or mistake of law or erroneous interpretation of statute regarding the validity or legality of this section under the laws or constitutions of the United States or this state. For the purpose of this section, an alien insurer is deemed domiciled in a state designated by it wherein it has (1) established its principal office or agency in the United States, or (2) maintains the largest amount of its assets held in trust or on deposit for the security of its policyholders or policyholders and creditors in the United States, or (3) in which it was admitted to do business in the United States. This section does not apply to ad valorem taxes on real or personal property or to personal income taxes.

505.15 Actuarial staff.
The commissioner may appoint a staff of actuaries as necessary to carry out the duties of the division. The actuarial staff shall:
1. Perform analyses of rate filings.
2. Perform audits of submitted loss data.
505.16 Applications for insurance — test restrictions — duties of commissioner.
1. A person engaged in the business of insurance shall not require a test of an individual in connection with an application for insurance for the presence of an antibody to the human immunodeficiency virus unless the individual provides a written release on a form approved by the insurance commissioner. The form shall include information regarding the purpose, content, use, and meaning of the test, disclosure of test results including information explaining the effect of releasing the information to a person engaged in the business of insurance, the purpose for which the test results may be used, and other information approved by the insurance commissioner. The form shall also authorize the person performing the test to provide the results of the test to the insurance company subject to rules of confidentiality, consistent with section 141A.9, approved by the insurance commissioner. As used in this section, "a person engaged in the business of insurance" includes hospital service corporations organized under chapter 514 and health maintenance organizations subject to chapter 514B.

2. The insurance commissioner shall approve rules for carrying out this section including rules relating to the preparation of information to be provided before and after a test and the protection of confidentiality of personal and medical records of insurance applicants and policyholders.

505.17 Confidential information.
Information, records, and documents utilized for the purpose of, or in the course of, investigation, regulation, or examination of an insurance company or insurance holding company, received by the division from some other governmental entity which treats such information, records, and documents as confidential, are confidential and shall not be disclosed by the division and are not subject to subpoena. Such information, records, and documents do not constitute a public record under chapter 22.

The disclosure of confidential information, administrative or judicial orders which contain confidential information, or information regarding other action of the division which is not a public record subject to disclosure, to other insurance and financial regulatory officials may be permitted by the commissioner provided that those officials are subject to, or agree to comply with, standards of confidentiality comparable to those imposed on the commissioner.

505.22 Certain religious organization activities exempt from regulation.
A religious organization which, through its publication to subscribers, solicits funds for the payment of medical expenses of other subscribers, shall not be considered to be engaging in the business of insurance for purposes of this chapter or any other provision of this title, and shall not be subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner of insurance, if all of the following apply:

1. The religious publication is provided by a nonprofit charitable organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.
2. Participation is limited to subscribers who are members of the same denomination or religion.
3. The publication is registered with the United States postal service and acts as an organizational clearinghouse for information between subscribers who have financial, physical, or medical needs, and subscribers who choose to assist with those needs, matching subscribers with the present ability to pay with subscribers with a present financial or medical need.
4. The organization, through its publication, provides for the payment for subscriber financial or medical needs through direct payments from one subscriber to another.
5. The organization, through its publication, suggests amounts to contribute that are voluntary among the subscribers, with no assumption of risk or promise to pay either among the subscribers or between the subscribers and the publication.

505.24 Sale of policy term information by consumer reporting agency.

1. For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires, “consumer reporting agency” means any person that for monetary fees, dues, or on a cooperative nonprofit basis regularly engages in whole or in part in the practice of assembling or evaluating consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing consumer reports to third parties and that uses any means or facility of interstate commerce for the purpose of preparing or furnishing consumer reports.
2. A consumer reporting agency shall not provide or sell data or lists that include any information that in whole or in part was submitted in conjunction with an insurance inquiry about a consumer’s credit information or a request for a credit report or insurance score. Information submitted in conjunction with an insurance inquiry about a consumer includes, but is not limited to, the expiration dates of an insurance policy or any other information that may identify time periods during which a consumer’s insurance may expire and the terms and conditions of the consumer’s insurance coverage.
3. The restrictions provided in subsection 2 do not apply to data or lists supplied by a consumer reporting agency to an insurance producer from whom information was received, the insurer on whose behalf such producer acted, or such insurer’s affiliates or holding companies.
4. This section shall not be construed to restrict any insurer from being able to obtain a claims history report or a motor vehicle report.

505A Interstate insurance product regulation compact.

The interstate insurance product regulation compact is hereby entered into and enacted into law with all jurisdictions legally joining therein, in the form substantially as follows:
ARTICLE I — PURPOSES

The purposes of this compact are, through means of joint and cooperative action among the compacting states:

1. To promote and protect the interest of consumers of individual and group annuity, life insurance, disability income and long-term care insurance products.

2. To develop uniform standards for insurance products covered under this compact.

3. To establish a central clearinghouse to receive and provide prompt review of insurance products covered under the compact and, in certain cases, advertisements related thereto, submitted by insurers authorized to do business in one or more compacting states.

4. To give appropriate regulatory approval to those product filings and advertisements satisfying the applicable uniform standard.

5. To improve coordination of regulatory resources and expertise between state insurance departments regarding the setting of uniform standards and review of insurance products covered under this compact.

6. To create the interstate insurance product regulation commission.

7. To perform these and such other related functions as may be consistent with the state regulation of the business of insurance.

ARTICLE II — DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this compact, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Advertisement” means any material designed to create public interest in a product, and induce the public to purchase, increase, modify, reinstate, borrow on, surrender, replace or retain a policy, as more specifically defined in the rules and operating procedures of the commission.

2. “Bylaws” means those bylaws established by the commission for its governance, or for directing or controlling the commission’s actions or conduct.

3. “Commission” means the interstate insurance product regulation commission established by this compact.

4. “Commissioner” means the chief insurance regulatory official of a state including, but not limited to, commissioner, superintendent, director, or administrator.

5. “Compacting state” means any state that has enacted this compact legislation and that has not withdrawn pursuant to article XIV, section 1, or been terminated pursuant to article XIV, section 2.

6. “Domiciliary state” means the state in which an insurer is incorporated or organized, or, in the case of an alien insurer, its state of entry.

7. “Insurer” means any entity licensed by a state to issue contracts of insurance for any of the lines of insurance covered by this compact.

8. “Member” means the person chosen by a compacting state as its representative to the commission, or the person’s designee.

9. “Noncompacting state” means any state which is not at the time a compacting state.

10. “Operating procedures” means any state or practice requirements of the commission, which shall have the force and effect of law in the compacting states.

11. “State” means any state, district, or territory of the United States of America.

12. “Third-party filer” means an entity that submits a product filing to the commission on behalf of an insurer.

13. “Uniform standard” means a standard adopted by the commission for a product line, pursuant to article VII, and shall include all of the product requirements in aggregate, provided that each uniform standard shall be construed, whether express or implied, to prohibit the use of any inconsistent, misleading, or ambiguous provisions in a product, and the form of the product made available to the public shall not be unfair, inequitable, or against public policy as determined by the commission.

ARTICLE III — ESTABLISHMENT OF THE COMMISSION AND VENUE

1. The compacting states hereby create and establish a joint public agency known as the interstate insurance product regulation commission. Pursuant to article IV, the commission has the power to develop uniform standards for product lines, receive and provide prompt review of products filed therewith, and give approval to those product filings satisfying applicable uniform standards, provided it is not intended for the commission to be the exclusive entity for receipt and review of insurance product filings. Nothing herein shall prohibit any insurer from filing its product in any state wherein the insurer is licensed to conduct the business of insurance, and any such filing shall be subject to the laws of the state where filed.
2. The commission is a body corporate and politic, and an instrumentality of the compacting state.

3. The commission is solely responsible for its liabilities except as otherwise specifically provided in this compact.

4. Venue is proper and judicial proceedings by or against the commission shall be brought solely and exclusively in a court of competent jurisdiction where the principal office of the commission is located.

ARTICLE IV — POWERS OF THE COMMISSION

The commission shall have the following powers:

1. To promulgate rules, pursuant to article VII, which shall have the force and effect of law and shall be binding in the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact.

2. To exercise its rulemaking authority and establish reasonable uniform standards for products covered under this compact, and advertisement related thereto, which shall have the force and effect of law and shall be binding in the compacting states, but only for those products filed with the commission, provided that a compacting state shall have the right to opt out of such uniform standard pursuant to article VII, to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact, and, provided further, that any uniform standard established by the commission for long-term care insurance products may provide the same or greater protections for consumers as, but shall not provide less than, those protections set forth in the national association of insurance commissioners’ long-term care insurance model act and long-term care insurance model regulation, respectively, adopted as of 2001. The commission shall consider whether any subsequent amendments to the long-term care insurance model act or long-term care insurance model regulation adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners require amending of the uniform standards established by the commission for long-term care insurance products.

3. To receive and review in an expeditious manner products filed with the commission, and rate filings for disability income and long-term care insurance products, and give approval of those products and rate filings that satisfy the applicable uniform standard, where such approval shall have the force and effect of law, and be binding on the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in the compact.

4. To receive and review in an expeditious manner advertisement relating to long-term care insurance products for which uniform standards have been adopted by the commission, and give approval to all advertisement that satisfies the applicable uniform standard. For any product covered under this compact, other than long-term care insurance products, the commission shall have the authority to require an insurer to submit all or any part of its advertisement with respect to that product for review or approval prior to use, if the commission determines that the nature of the product is such that an advertisement of the product could have the capacity or tendency to mislead the public. The actions of the commission as provided in this article shall have the force and effect of law and shall be binding in the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact.

5. To exercise its rulemaking authority and designate products and advertisement that may be subject to a self-certification process without the need for prior approval by the commission.

6. To promulgate operating procedures, pursuant to article VII, which shall be binding in the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact.

7. To bring and prosecute legal proceedings or actions in its name as the commission, provided that the standing of any state insurance department to sue or be sued under applicable law shall not be affected.

8. To issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence.

9. To establish and maintain offices.

10. To purchase and maintain insurance and bonds.

11. To borrow, accept, or contract for services of personnel, including, but not limited to, employees of a compacting state.

12. To hire employees, professionals, or specialists, and elect or appoint officers, and to fix their compensation, define their duties, and give them appropriate authority to carry out the purposes of this compact, and determine their qualifications, and to establish the commission’s personnel policies and programs relating to, among other things, conflicts of interest, rates of compensation, and qualifications of personnel.

13. To accept any and all appropriate donations and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services, and to receive, utilize, and dispose of the same, provided that at all times the commission shall strive to avoid any appearance of impropriety.

14. To lease, purchase, accept appropriate gifts or donations of, or otherwise to own, hold, improve, or use, any property, real, personal, or mixed, provided that at all times the commission shall strive to avoid any appearance of impropriety.

15. To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, abandon, or otherwise dispose of any property, real, personal, or mixed.

16. To remit filing fees to compacting states as may be set forth in the bylaws, rules, or operating procedures.
17. To enforce compliance by compacting states with rules, uniform standards, operating procedures, and bylaws.
18. To provide for dispute resolution among compacting states.
19. To advise compacting states on issues relating to insurers domiciled or doing business in noncompacting jurisdictions, consistent with the purposes of this compact.
20. To provide advice and training to those personnel in state insurance departments responsible for product review, and to be a resource for state insurance departments.
21. To establish a budget and make expenditures.
22. To borrow money.
23. To appoint committees, including advisory committees comprising members, state insurance regulators, state legislators or their representatives, insurance industry and consumer representatives, and such other interested persons as may be designated in the bylaws.
24. To provide and receive information from, and to cooperate with, law enforcement agencies.
25. To adopt and use a corporate seal.
26. To perform such other functions as may be necessary or appropriate to achieve the purposes of this compact consistent with the state regulation of the business of insurance.

ARTICLE V — ORGANIZATION OF THE COMMISSION

1. Membership, voting, and bylaws.
   a. Each compacting state shall have and be limited to one member. Each member shall be qualified to serve in that capacity pursuant to applicable law of the compacting state. Any member may be removed or suspended from office as provided by the law of the state from which the member is appointed. Any vacancy occurring in the commission shall be filled in accordance with the laws of the compacting state wherein the vacancy exists. Nothing herein shall be construed to affect the manner in which a compacting state determines the election or appointment and qualification of its own commissioner.
   b. Each member shall be entitled to one vote and shall have an opportunity to participate in the governance of the commission in accordance with the bylaws. Notwithstanding any provision here-to-in the contrary, no action of the commission with respect to the promulgation of a uniform standard shall be effective unless two-thirds of the members vote in favor thereof.
   c. The commission shall, by a majority of the members, prescribe bylaws to govern its conduct as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes, and exercise the powers, of the compact, including, but not limited to:

   (1) Establishing the fiscal year of the commission.
   (2) Providing reasonable procedures for appointing and electing members, as well as holding meetings, of the management committee.
   (3) Providing reasonable standards and procedures:
       (a) For the establishment and meetings of other committees.
       (b) Governing any general or specific delegation of any authority or function of the commission.
   (4) Providing reasonable procedures for calling and conducting meetings of the commission that consists of a majority of commission members ensuring reasonable advance notice of each such meeting, and providing for the right of citizens to attend each such meeting with enumerated exceptions designed to protect the public’s interest, the privacy of individuals, and insurers’ proprietary information, including trade secrets. The commission may meet in camera only after a majority of the entire membership votes to close a meeting en toto or in part. As soon as practicable, the commission shall make public:
       (a) A copy of the vote to close the meeting, revealing the vote of each member, with no proxy votes allowed.
       (b) Votes taken during such meeting.
   (5) Establishing the titles, duties, and authority, and reasonable procedures for the election of the officers of the commission.
   (6) Providing reasonable standards and procedures for the establishment of the personnel policies and programs of the commission. Notwithstanding any civil service or other similar laws of any compacting state, the bylaws shall exclusively govern the personnel policies and programs of the commission.
   (7) Providing a mechanism for winding up the operations of the commission and the equitable disposition of any surplus funds that may exist after the termination of this compact after the payment or reserving of all of its debts and obligations.
   (8) Promulgating a code of ethics to address permissible and prohibited activities of commission members and employees.
   d. The commission shall publish its bylaws in a convenient form and file a copy of the bylaws, along with any amendments, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the compacting states.

2. Management committee, officers, and personnel.
   a. A management committee comprising no more than fourteen members shall be established as follows:
      (1) One member from each of the six compacting states with the largest premium volume for individual and group annuities, life, disability income, and long-term care insurance products, deor other significant matter as may be provided in the bylaws, the management committee shall consult with and report to the legislative committee.

b. The commission shall establish two advisory committees, one of which shall comprise consumer representatives independent of the insurance industry, and the other comprising insurance industry representatives.

c. The commission may establish additional advisory committees as its bylaws may provide for the carrying out of its functions.

4. Corporate records of the commission. The commission shall maintain its corporate books and records in accordance with the bylaws.

5. Qualified immunity, defense, and indemnification.

a. The members, officers, executive director, employees, and representatives of the commission shall be immune from suit and liability, either personally or in their official capacity, for any claim for damage to, or loss of, property, personal injury, or other civil liability caused by or arising out of any actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred, or that the person against whom the claim is made had a reasonable basis for believing occurred, within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to protect any such person from suit or liability for any damage, loss, injury, or liability caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of that person.

b. The commission shall defend any member, officer, executive director, employee, or representative of the commission in any civil action seeking to impose liability arising out of any actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, or that the person against whom the claim is made had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit the person from retaining the person’s own counsel; and, provided further, that the actual or alleged act, error, or omission did not result from the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of that person.

c. The commission shall indemnify and hold harmless any member, officer, executive director, employee, or representative of the commission for the amount of any settlement or judgment obtained against that person arising out of any actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, or that such person had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that the actual or alleged act, error, or omission did not result from the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of that person.
ARTICLE VI — MEETINGS AND ACTS OF THE COMMISSION

1. The commission shall meet and take such actions as are consistent with the provisions of this compact and the bylaws.

2. Each member of the commission shall have the right and power to cast a vote in the event a quorum exists. A member shall vote in person or by such other means as provided in the bylaws. The bylaws may provide for members’ participation in meetings by telephone or other means of communication.

3. The commission shall meet at least once during each calendar year. Additional meetings shall be held as set forth in the bylaws.

ARTICLE VII — RULES AND OPERATING PROCEDURES — RULEMAKING FUNCTIONS OF THE COMMISSION AND OPTING OUT OF UNIFORM STANDARDS

1. Rulemaking authority. The commission shall promulgate reasonable rules, including uniform standards and operating procedures, in order to effectively and efficiently achieve the purposes of this compact. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event the commission exercises its rulemaking authority in a manner that is beyond the scope of the purposes of this compact, or the powers granted hereunder, such an action by the commission shall be invalid and have no force and effect.

2. Rulemaking procedure. Rules and operating procedures shall be made pursuant to a rulemaking process that conforms to the model state administrative procedure act of 1981 as amended, as may be appropriate to the operations of the commission. Before the commission adopts a uniform standard, the commission shall give written notice to the relevant state legislative committee or committees in each compacting state responsible for insurance issues of its intention to adopt the uniform standard. The commission, in adopting a uniform standard, shall consider fully all submitted materials and issue a concise explanation of its decision.

3. Effective date and opt out of a uniform standard. A uniform standard shall become effective ninety days after its promulgation by the commission or such later date as the commission may determine, provided, however, that a compacting state may opt out of a uniform standard as provided in this article. “Opt out” means any action by a compacting state to decline to adopt or participate in a promulgated uniform standard. All other rules and operating procedures, and amendments thereto, shall become effective as of the date specified in each rule, operating procedure, or amendment.

4. Opt-out procedure. A compacting state may opt out of a uniform standard, either by legislation or regulation duly promulgated by the insurance department under the compacting state’s administrative procedure act. If a compacting state elects to opt out of a uniform standard by regulation, it must do all of the following:

   a. Give written notice to the commission no later than ten business days after the uniform standard is promulgated, or at the time the state becomes a compacting state.

   b. Find that the uniform standard does not provide reasonable protections to the citizens of the state, given the conditions in the state.

The commissioner shall make specific findings of fact and conclusions of law, based on a preponderance of the evidence, detailing the conditions in the state which warrant a departure from the uniform standard and determining that the uniform standard would not reasonably protect the citizens of the state. The commissioner must consider and balance the following factors and find that the conditions in the state and needs of the citizens of the state outweigh both of the following:

   (1) The intent of the legislature to participate in, and the benefits of, an interstate agreement to establish national uniform consumer protections for the products subject to this compact.

   (2) The presumption that a uniform standard adopted by the commission provides reasonable protections to consumers of the relevant product.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a compacting state may, at the time of its enactment of this compact, prospectively opt out of all uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products by expressly providing for such opt out in the enacted compact, and such an opt out shall not be treated as a material variance in the offer or acceptance of any state to participate in this compact.

Such an opt out shall be effective at the time of enactment of this compact by the compacting state and shall apply to all existing uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products and those subsequently promulgated.

5. Effect of opt out. If a compacting state elects to opt out of a uniform standard, the uniform standard shall remain applicable in the compacting state electing to opt out until such time the opt-out legislation is enacted into law or the regulation opting out becomes effective.

Once the opt out of a uniform standard by a compacting state becomes effective, as provided under the laws of that state, the uniform standard shall have no further force and effect in that state unless and until the legislation or regulation implementing the opt out is repealed or otherwise becomes ineffective under the laws of the state. If a compacting state opts out of a uniform standard after the uniform standard has been made effective in that state, the opt out shall have the same prospective effect as provided under article XIV for withdrawals.
ARTICLE VIII — COMMISSION RECORDS AND ENFORCEMENT

1. The commission shall promulgate rules establishing conditions and procedures for public inspection and copying of its information and official records, except such information and records involving the privacy of individuals and insurers' trade secrets. The commission may promulgate additional rules under which it may make available to federal and state agencies, including law enforcement agencies, records, and information otherwise exempt from disclosure, and may enter into agreements with such agencies to receive or exchange information or records subject to nondisclosure and confidentiality provisions.

2. Except as to privileged records, data, and information, the laws of any compacting state pertaining to confidentiality or nondisclosure shall not relieve any compacting state commissioner of the duty to disclose any relevant records, data, or information to the commission, provided that disclosure to the commission shall not be deemed to waive or otherwise affect any confidentiality requirement, and further provided that, except as otherwise expressly provided in this compact, the commission shall not be subject to the compacting state's laws pertaining to confidentiality and nondisclosure with respect to records, data, and information in its possession. Confidential information of the commission shall remain confidential after such information is provided to any commissioner.

3. The commission shall monitor compacting states for compliance with duly adopted bylaws, rules, including uniform standards, and operating procedures. The commission shall notify any noncomplying compacting state in writing of its noncompliance with commission bylaws, rules, or operating procedures. If a noncomplying compacting state fails to remedy its noncompliance within the time specified in the notice of noncompliance, the compacting state shall be deemed to be in default as set forth in article XIV.

4. The commissioner of any state in which an insurer is authorized to do business, or is conducting the business of insurance, shall continue to exercise the commissioner's authority to oversee the market regulation of the activities of the insurer in accordance with the provisions of the state's law. The commissioner's enforcement of compliance with the compact is governed by the following provisions:

a. With respect to the commissioner's market regulation of a product or advertisement that is approved or certified to the commission, the content of the product or advertisement shall not constitute a violation of the provisions, standards, or requirements of this compact except upon a final order of the commission, issued at the request of a commissioner after prior notice to the insurer and an opportunity for hearing before the commission.

b. Before a commissioner may bring an action for violation of any provision, standard, or requirement of this compact relating to the content of an advertisement not approved or certified to the commission, the commission, or an authorized commission officer or employee, must authorize the action. However, authorization pursuant to this paragraph does not require notice to the insurer, opportunity for hearing, or disclosure of requests for authorization or records of the commission's action on such requests.

5. Stay of uniform standard. If a compacting state has formally initiated the process of opting out of a uniform standard by regulation, and while the regulatory opt out is pending, the compacting state may petition the commission, at least fifteen days before the effective date of the uniform standard, to stay the effectiveness of the uniform standard in that state. The commission may grant a stay if it determines the regulatory opt out is being pursued in a reasonable manner and there is a likelihood of success. If a stay is granted or extended by the commission, the stay or extension thereof may postpone the effective date by up to ninety days, unless affirmatively extended by the commission, provided a stay may not be permitted to remain in effect for more than one year unless the compacting state can show extraordinary circumstances which warrant a continuance of the stay, including, but not limited to, the existence of a legal challenge which prevents the compacting state from opting out. A stay may be terminated by the commission upon notice that the rulemaking process has been terminated.

6. Not later than thirty days after a rule or operating procedure is adopted, any person may file a petition for judicial review of the rule or operating procedure, provided that the filing of such a petition shall not stay or otherwise prevent the rule or operating procedure from becoming effective unless the court finds that the petitioner has a substantial likelihood of success. The court shall give deference to the actions of the commission consistent with applicable law and shall not find the rule or operating procedure to be unlawful if the rule or operating procedure represents a reasonable exercise of the commission's authority.

ARTICLE IX — DISPUTE RESOLUTION

The commission shall attempt, upon the request of a member, to resolve any disputes or other issues which are subject to this compact and which may arise between two or more compacting states, or between compacting states and noncompacting states, and the commission shall promulgate an operating procedure providing for resolution of such disputes.
ARTICLE X — PRODUCT FILING AND APPROVAL

1. Insurers and third-party filers seeking to have a product approved by the commission shall file the product with, and pay applicable filing fees to, the commission. Nothing in this compact shall be construed to restrict or otherwise prevent an insurer from filing its product with the insurance department in any state wherein the insurer is licensed to conduct the business of insurance, and such filing shall be subject to the laws of the states where filed.

2. The commission shall establish appropriate filing and review processes and procedures pursuant to commission rules and operating procedures. Notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, the commission shall promulgate rules to establish conditions and procedures under which the commission will provide public access to product filing information. In establishing such rules, the commission shall consider the interests of the public in having access to such information, as well as protection of personal medical and financial information and trade secrets, that may be contained in a product filing or supporting information.

3. Any product approved by the commission may be sold or otherwise issued in those compacting states in which the insurer is legally authorized to do business.

ARTICLE XI — REVIEW OF COMMISSION DECISIONS REGARDING FILINGS

1. Not later than thirty days after the commission has given notice of a disapproved product or advertisement filed with the commission, the insurer or third-party filer whose filing was disapproved may appeal the determination to a review panel appointed by the commission. The commission shall adopt rules to establish procedures for appointing such review panels and provide for notice and hearing. An allegation that the commission, in disapproving a product or advertisement filed with the commission, acted arbitrarily, capriciously, or in a manner that is an abuse of discretion or otherwise not in accordance with the law, is subject to judicial review in accordance with article III, section 4.

2. The commission shall have authority to monitor, review, and reconsider products and advertisements subsequent to their filing or approval upon a finding that the product does not meet the relevant uniform standard. Where appropriate, the commission may withdraw or modify its approval after proper notice and hearing, subject to the appeal process in section 1.

ARTICLE XII — FINANCE

1. The commission shall pay or provide for the payment of the reasonable expenses of its establishment and organization. To fund the cost of its initial operations, the commission may accept contributions and other forms of funding from the national association of insurance commissioners, compacting states, and other sources. Contributions and other forms of funding from other sources shall be of such a nature that the independence of the commission concerning the performance of its duties shall not be compromised.

2. The commission shall collect a filing fee from each insurer and third-party filer filing a product with the commission to cover the cost of the operations and activities of the commission and its staff in a total amount sufficient to cover the commission's annual budget.

3. The commission's budget for a fiscal year shall not be approved until it has been subject to notice and comment as set forth in article VII.

4. The commission shall be exempt from all taxation in and by the compacting states.

5. The commission shall not pledge the credit of any compacting state, except by and with the appropriate legal authority of that compacting state.

6. The commission shall keep complete and accurate accounts of all its internal receipts, including grants and donations, and disbursements of all funds under its control. The internal financial accounts of the commission shall be subject to the accounting procedures established under its bylaws. The financial accounts and reports, including the system of internal controls and procedures of the commission, shall be audited annually by an independent certified public accountant. Upon the determination of the commission, but no less frequently than every three years, the review of the independent auditor shall include a management and performance audit of the commission. The commission shall make an annual report to the governor and legislature of the compacting states, which shall include a report of the independent audit. The commission's internal accounts shall not be confidential and such materials may be shared with the commissioner of any compacting state upon request; provided, however, that any work papers related to any internal or independent audit and any information regarding the privacy of the individuals and insurers' proprietary information, including trade secrets, shall remain confidential.

7. A compacting state shall not have any claim to or ownership of any property held by or vested in the commission or to any commission funds held pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE XIII — COMPACTING STATES, EFFECTIVE DATE, AND AMENDMENT

1. Any state is eligible to become a compacting state.

2. This compact shall become effective and binding upon legislative enactment of this compact into law by two compacting states, provided... the commission shall become effective for purposes of adopting uniform standards for reviewing, and giving approval or disapproval of, products filed with the commission that satisfy applicable uniform standards only after twenty-six states are compacting states or, alternatively, by states representing greater than forty percent of the premium volume for life insurance, annuity, disability income, and long-term care insurance products, based on records of the national association of insurance commissioners for the prior year. Thereafter, it shall become effective and binding as to any other compacting state upon enactment of this compact into law by that state.

3. Amendments to this compact may be proposed by the commission for enactment by the compacting states. An amendment shall not become effective and binding upon the commission and the compacting states unless and until all compacting states enact the amendment into law.

ARTICLE XIV — WITHDRAWAL, DEFAULT, AND TERMINATION

1. Withdrawal.
   a. Once effective, this compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each and every compacting state, provided that a compacting state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute specifically repealing the statute which enacted the compact into law.
   b. The effective date of withdrawal is the effective date of the repealing statute. However, the withdrawal shall not apply to any product filings approved or self-certified, or any advertisement of such products, on the date the repealing statute becomes effective, except by mutual agreement of the commission and the withdrawing state unless the approval is rescinded by the withdrawing state as provided in paragraph “e”.
   c. The commissioner of the withdrawing state shall immediately notify the management committee in writing upon the introduction of legislation repealing this compact in the withdrawing state.
   d. The commission shall notify the other compacting states of the introduction of such legislation within ten days after its receipt of notice.
   e. The withdrawing state is responsible for all obligations, duties, and liabilities incurred through the effective date of withdrawal, including any obligations, the performance of which extend beyond the effective date of withdrawal, except to the extent those obligations may have been released or relinquished by mutual agreement of the commission and the withdrawing state. The commission’s approval of products and advertisement prior to the effective date of withdrawal shall continue to be effective and be given full force and effect in the withdrawing state, unless formally rescinded by the withdrawing state in the same manner as provided by the laws of the withdrawing state for the prospective disapproval of products or advertisement previously approved under state law.
   f. Reinstatement following withdrawal of any compacting state shall occur upon the effective date of the withdrawing state reenacting the compact.

2. Default.
   a. If the commission determines that any compacting state has at any time defaulted in the performance of any of its obligations or responsibilities under this compact, the bylaws or duly promulgated rules or operating procedures, then, after notice and hearing as set forth in the bylaws, all rights, privileges, and benefits conferred by this compact on the defaulting state shall be suspended from the effective date of default as fixed by the commission. The grounds for default include, but are not limited to, failure of a compacting state to perform its obligations or responsibilities, and any other grounds designated in commission rules. The commission shall immediately notify the defaulting state in writing of the defaulting state’s suspension, pending a cure of the default. The commission shall stipulate the conditions and the time period within which the defaulting state must cure its default. If the defaulting state fails to cure the default within the time period specified by the commission, the defaulting state shall be terminated from this compact and all rights, privileges, and benefits conferred by this compact shall be terminated from the effective date of termination.
   b. Product approvals by the commission or product self-certifications, or any advertisement in connection with such product, that are in force on the effective date of termination shall remain in force in the defaulting state in the same manner as if the defaulting state had withdrawn voluntarily pursuant to section 1.
   c. Reinstatement following termination of any compacting state requires a reenactment of this compact.

3. Dissolution of compact.
   a. This compact dissolves effective upon the date of the withdrawal or default of the compacting state which reduces membership in this compact to one compacting state.
   b. Upon the dissolution of this compact, this compact becomes null and void and shall be of no further force or effect, and the business and affairs of the commission shall be wound up and any surplus funds shall be distributed in accordance with the bylaws.

ARTICLE XV — SEVERABILITY AND CONSTRUCTION

1. The provisions of this compact shall be severable, and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision is deemed unenforceable, the remaining provisions of this compact shall be enforceable.

2. The provisions of this compact shall be liber-
1. Other laws.
   a. Nothing herein prevents the enforcement of any other law of a compacting state, except as provided in paragraph “b”.
   b. For any product approved or certified to the commission, the rules, uniform standards, and any other requirements of the commission shall constitute the exclusive provisions applicable to the content, approval, and certification of such products. For advertisement that is subject to the commission’s authority, any rule, uniform standard, or other requirement of the commission which governs the content of the advertisement shall constitute the exclusive provision that a commissioner may apply to the content of the advertisement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, action taken by the commission shall not abrogate or restrict:
      1. The access of any person to state courts.
      2. Remedies available under state law related to breach of contract, tort, general consumer protection laws, or general consumer protection regulations that apply to the sale or advertisement of the product or other laws not specifically directed to the content of the product.
      3. State law relating to the construction of insurance contracts.
      4. The authority of the attorney general of the state, including but not limited to maintaining any actions or proceedings, as authorized by law.
   c. All insurance products filed with individual states shall be subject to the laws of those states.

2. Binding effect of this compact.
   a. All lawful actions of the commission, including all rules and operating procedures adopted by the commission, are binding upon the compacting states.
   b. All agreements between the commission and the compacting states are binding in accordance with their terms.
   c. Upon the request of a party to a conflict over the meaning or interpretation of commission actions, and upon a majority vote of the compacting states, the commission may issue advisory opinions regarding the meaning or interpretation in dispute.
   d. In the event any provision of this compact exceeds the constitutional limits imposed on the legislature of any compacting state, the obligations, duties, powers, or jurisdiction sought to be conferred by that provision upon the commission shall be ineffective as to that compacting state, and those obligations, duties, powers, or jurisdiction shall remain in the compacting state and shall be exercised by the agency thereof to which those obligations, duties, powers, or jurisdiction are delegated by law in effect at the time this compact becomes effective.

CHAPTER 506

DOMESTIC INSURANCE COMPANIES

506.1 Rules — limitations.

The commissioner of insurance shall promulgate such reasonable rules and regulations as the commissioner deems necessary to assure the proper operation of newly organized insurance companies but in no event shall the commissioner:

1. Require that more than twenty percent of the original capital and surplus of a stock corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter be invested by the organizers; or

2. Restrict the alienation of securities issued to organizers for a period of more than:
§506.1, DOMESTIC INSURANCE COMPANIES

a. Five years, or
b. Until the operation of the insurance company produces earned surplus for two successive years.
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.1]

§506.2 Sale of securities restricted.
Neither the securities in a domestic insurance company, nor securities in a holding company, one of the purposes of which is to organize, purchase, or otherwise acquire control of a domestic insurance company, nor membership in an association in process of organization shall be sold or solicited until such company or association, and the promoters thereof, shall have first complied with all of the statutory provisions regulating the organization of such companies and associations, and also have secured from the commissioner of insurance a certificate indicating full compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

§506.3 Certificate of compliance.
Before the commissioner of insurance shall issue such certificate of compliance, the commissioner shall first be satisfied with the general plan of such organization and the character of the advertising to be used; the commissioner shall also see that all rules and regulations promulgated under this chapter have been complied with and fix the time within which such organization shall be completed; the commissioner shall also prescribe the method of keeping books and accounts of insurance companies and those of fiscal agents of corporations subject to the provisions of this chapter.
[S13, §1683-r3; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8617; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.2; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.3]

§506.4 Maximum promotion expense allowed.
The maximum promotion expense which may be incurred shall in no case exceed fifteen percent of the sale price of said stock, and no portion of such amount shall be used in the payment of salaries for officers and directors before the issuance, by the commissioner of insurance, of authority to transact an insurance business. Any amount paid to the company for stock above the par value of the stock shall constitute a contributed surplus but no dividends shall be paid by the company except from the earned profits arising from their business, which shall not include contributed capital or contributed surplus.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8618; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.3; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.4]

§506.5 Regulation by commissioner.
The commissioner of insurance shall have power to regulate all other matters in connection with the organization of such domestic corporations, and the sale of stock or the issuing of certificates by all insurance corporations within the state, to the end that fraud may be prevented in the organization of such companies and the sale of their stocks and securities.
[S13, §1683-r3; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8619; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.4; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.5]

§506.6 Promoters restricted.
No company shall enter into any contract with any promoter, officer, director, or agent of the company or any other person to pay the person's expenses or to pay the person any commission or any compensation for the person's services in promoting or organizing such company, or in selling its stock in excess of the amount authorized in section 506.4; nor shall it contract with any such person to pay the person any part of the premiums arising from the insurance it has written or may write as compensation, directly or indirectly, for aiding in the promotion or for aiding or effecting any consolidation of such company with any other company, without the approval of the commissioner of insurance.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8620; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.4; §506.5; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.6]

§506.8 Liability to stockholders.
Any person, association, or corporation who sells or aids in selling or causes to be sold any stock, certificate of membership, or evidence of interest in any such corporation or association, in violation of law, shall be personally liable to any person to whom the person, association or certificate of membership or evidence of interest, in an amount equal to the price paid therefor by such person with legal interest, and suit to recover the same may be brought by such purchasers, jointly or severally, in any court of competent jurisdiction.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8622; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.7; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.8]

§506.9 Judicial review.
Judicial review of the acts of commissioner of insurance may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, chapter 17A.
[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8623; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.8; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.9]

Code chapter reference added

§506.10 Sale of stock as inducement to insurance.
No insurance company shall issue in this state, or permit its agents, officers, or employees to issue in this state its own stock, agency company stock or other stock or securities, or any special or advisory board or other contract of any kind promising returns and profits as an inducement to insurance.

No insurance company shall be authorized to do business in this state which issues or permits its agents, officers, or employees to issue in this state or in any other state or territory, agency company stock or other stock or securities, or any special advisory board or other contract of any kind promising returns and profits as an inducement to insurance.

No corporation or stock company, acting as an agent of an insurance company, or any of its agents, officers, or employees, shall be permitted to agree to sell, offer to sell, or give or offer to give, directly or indirectly, in any manner whatsoever, any share of stock, securities, bonds, or agreement of any form or nature, promising returns and profits as an inducement to insurance, or in connection therewith.

Nothing herein contained shall impair or affect in any manner any such contracts issued or made as an inducement to insurance prior to the enactment of this section, or prevent the payment of the dividends or returns therein stipulated to be paid.

It shall be the duty of the commissioner upon being satisfied that any insurance company, or any agent thereof, has violated any of the provisions of this section, to revoke the certificate of authority of the company or agent so offending.

[C24, 27, 31, 39, §8624; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §506.9; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.10]

506.11 Securities law applicable.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to exempt any corporation from the requirements of chapter 502.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §506.11]

506.12 Principal executive office.

An insurance company incorporated under the laws of this state for the purpose of engaging in the business of insurance shall maintain a principal executive office in this state unless otherwise allowed by the commissioner of insurance. The location of the principal executive office in this state of an insurance company incorporated under chapter 490 shall be identified in the insurance company's articles of incorporation.

507.1 Purpose — definitions.

The purpose of this chapter is to provide an effective and efficient system for examining the activities, operations, financial condition, and affairs of all persons transacting the business of insurance in this state and all persons otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner. The chapter is intended to enable the commissioner to adopt a flexible system of examinations which directs resources as deemed appropriate and necessary for the administration of the insurance and insurance-related laws of this state.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. “Commissioner” means the commissioner of insurance of this state.

b. “Company” means any person engaging in or proposing or attempting to engage in any transaction or kind of insurance or surety business and any person or group of persons who may otherwise be subject to the administrative, regulatory, or taxing authority of the commissioner.

c. “Division” means the division of insurance of the department of commerce.
§507.1, EXAMINATION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES

- d. “Examiner” means any individual or firm authorized by the commissioner to conduct an examination pursuant to this chapter.
- e. “Insurer” includes all companies or associations organized under chapter 508, 511, 512A, 512B, 514, 514B, 515, 515C, or 518A, associations subject to chapters 518 and 520, and companies or associations admitted or seeking to be admitted to this state under any of those chapters.
- f. “Person” means any individual, aggregation of individuals, trust, association, partnership, or corporation or an affiliate of any of these.

§507.2 Authority, scope, and scheduling of examinations.

1. The commissioner or any of the commissioner’s examiners may conduct an examination under this chapter of any company as often as the commissioner deems appropriate, but at a minimum, shall conduct an examination of any domestic insurer licensed in this state no less than once every five years. In scheduling and determining the nature, scope, and frequency of the examinations, the commissioner shall consider such matters as the results of financial statement analyses and ratios, changes in management or ownership, actuarial opinions, reports of independent certified public accountants, and other criteria as set forth in the examiners’ handbook adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners and in effect when the commissioner exercises discretion under this section.

2. For purposes of completing an examination of any company pursuant to this chapter, the commissioner may examine or investigate any person, or the business of any person, so far as the examination or investigation is, in the sole discretion of the commissioner, necessary or material to the examination of the company.

3. In lieu of an examination under this chapter of any foreign or alien insurer licensed in this state, the commissioner may accept an examination so far as it is in their power to do so. The refusal of any company, by its officers, directors, employees, or agents, to submit to examinations or to comply with any reasonable written request of the examiners is grounds for suspension or revocation of, or nonrenewal of, any license or authority held by the company to engage in the business of insurance or other business subject to the commissioner’s jurisdiction. Should a company decline or refuse to submit to an examination as provided in this chapter, the commissioner shall immediately revoke its certificate of authority, and if the company is organized under the laws of this state, the commissioner shall report the commissioner’s action to the attorney general, who shall immediately apply to the district court for the appointment of a receiver to administer the final affairs of the company.

4. When making an examination under this chapter, the commissioner may retain attorneys, appraisers, independent actuaries, independent certified public accountants, or other professionals and specialists as examiners, the reasonable cost of which shall be borne by the company which is the subject of the examination.

5. This chapter does not limit the commissioner’s authority to terminate or suspend any examination in order to pursue other legal or regulatory action pursuant to the insurance laws of this state. Findings of fact and conclusions made pursuant to any examination are deemed to be prima facie evidence in any legal or regulatory action.

- §507.3 Conduct of examinations.

1. Upon determining that an examination should be conducted, the commissioner or the commissioner’s designee may appoint one or more examiners to perform the examination and instruct them as to the scope of the examination. In conducting the examination, the examiner shall observe those guidelines and procedures set forth in the examiners’ handbook adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners. The commissioner may also employ other guidelines as the commissioner deems appropriate.

2. A company or person from whom information is sought and its officers, directors, and agents shall provide to the examiners appointed under subsection 1, timely, convenient, and free access at all reasonable hours at its offices to all books, records, accounts, papers, documents, and any or all computer or other recordings relating to the property, assets, business, and affairs of the company being examined. The officers, directors, employees, and agents of the company or person shall facilitate the examination and aid in the examination so far as it is in their power to do so. The refusal of any company, by its officers, directors, employees, or agents, to submit to examinations or to comply with any reasonable written request of the examiners is grounds for suspension or revocation of, or nonrenewal of, any license or authority held by the company to engage in the business of insurance or other business subject to the commissioner’s jurisdiction. Should a company decline or refuse to submit to an examination as provided in this chapter, the commissioner shall immediately revoke its certificate of authority, and if the company is organized under the laws of this state, the commissioner shall report the commissioner’s action to the attorney general, who shall immediately apply to the district court for the appointment of a receiver to administer the final affairs of the company.

3. The commissioner or any of the commissioner’s examiners may issue subpoenas, administer oaths, and examine under oath any person as to any matter pertinent to the examination. Upon the failure or refusal of any person to obey a subpoena, the commissioner may petition a court of competent jurisdiction, and upon proper showing, the court may enter an order compelling the witness to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence. Failure to obey the court order is punishable as contempt of court.

4. When making an examination under this chapter, the commissioner may retain attorneys, appraisers, independent actuaries, independent certified public accountants, or other professionals and specialists as examiners, the reasonable cost of which shall be borne by the company which is the subject of the examination.

5. This chapter does not limit the commissioner’s authority to terminate or suspend any examination in order to pursue other legal or regulatory action pursuant to the insurance laws of this state. Findings of fact and conclusions made pursuant to any examination are deemed to be prima facie evidence in any legal or regulatory action.
507.4 Examiners — salaries.
The commissioner of insurance is hereby authorized to appoint insurance examiners, at least one of whom shall be an experienced actuary, and at least one of whom shall be an experienced and competent fire insurance accountant, and who, while conducting examinations, shall possess all the powers conferred upon the commissioner of insurance for such purposes. The entire time of the examiners shall be under the control of the said commissioner, and shall be employed as the commissioner may direct.

The said commissioner may, when in the commissioner’s judgment it is advisable, appoint assistants to aid in making examinations. Said examiners shall be compensated on the basis of the normal work week of the insurance division at a salary to be fixed by the commissioner subject, however, to the provisions of section 505.14. Said compensation shall be paid from appropriations for such purposes upon certification of the commissioner, which shall be reimbursed as provided in sections 507.8 and 507.9.

[S13, §1821-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8628; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §507.4]

507.5 Chief examiner.
The commissioner may appoint a chief examiner who shall supervise insurance company examinations and perform such other duties as may be assigned by the commissioner. The chief examiner shall receive a salary to be fixed by the commissioner. The chief examiner shall be exempt from the merit system provisions of chapter 8A, subchapter IV, under section 8A.412, subsection 17.

507.6 Conflict of interest.
1. An examiner shall not be appointed by the commissioner if the examiner, either directly or indirectly, has a conflict of interest or is affiliated with the management of or owns a pecuniary interest in any person subject to examination under this chapter. This section shall not be construed to automatically preclude an examiner from being any of the following:

a. A policyholder or claimant under an insurance policy.

b. A grantor of a mortgage or similar instrument on the examiner’s residence to a regulated entity if done under customary terms and in the ordinary course of business.

c. An investment owner in shares of regulated diversified investment companies.

d. A settlor or beneficiary of a blind trust into which any otherwise impermissible holdings have been placed.

2. Notwithstanding the requirements of subsection 1, the commissioner may retain from time to time, on an individual basis, qualified actuaries, certified public accountants, or other similar individuals who are independently practicing their professions, even though the persons may from time to time be similarly employed or retained by persons subject to examination under this chapter. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8630; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §507.6]

507.7 Expenses.
Said examiners and assistants and the said commissioner shall receive actual and necessary traveling, hotel, and other expenses while engaged in conducting examinations away from their respective places of residence.

[S13, §1821-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8631; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §507.7]

507.8 Payment by company.
The commissioner shall upon the completion of an examination, or at such regular intervals prior to completion as the commissioner determines, prepare an account of the costs incurred in performing and preparing the report of such examinations which shall be charged to and paid by the companies examined, and upon failure or refusal of any company examined to pay such bill or bills, the same may be recovered in an action brought in the name of the state, and the commissioner may also revoke the certificate of authority of such company to transact business within this state.

[S13, §1821-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8632; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §507.8]

88 Acts, ch 1112, §302

507.9 Fees — accounting.
All fees collected under the provisions of this chapter shall be paid to the commissioner of insurance and shall be turned into the state treasury. [S13, §1821-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8633; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §507.9]

Deposit of fees, §12.10

507.10 Examination reports.
1. General description. All examination reports shall be comprised only of facts appearing upon the books, records, or other documents of the company, its agents, or other persons examined, or as ascertained from the testimony of its officers or agents or other persons examined concerning its affairs, and such conclusions and recommendations as the examiners find reasonably warranted from the facts.

2. Filing of examination report. No later than sixty days following completion of the examination, the examiner in charge shall file with the division a verified written report of examination. Upon receipt of the verified report and after administrative review, the division shall transmit the report to the company examined, together with a notice which shall afford the company examined a reasonable opportunity of not more than thirty days to make a written submission or rebuttal with respect to any matters contained in the examination report.

3. Adoption of report on examination. Within twenty days of the end of the period allowed for the receipt of written submissions or rebuttals, the commissioner shall fully consider and review the report, together with any written submissions or rebuttals and any relevant portions of the examiner’s work papers and enter an order which does one of the following:

a. Adopts the examination report as filed or with modification or corrections. If the examination report reveals that the company is operating in violation of any law or a rule or prior order of the commissioner, the commissioner may order the company to take any action the commissioner considers necessary and appropriate to cure the violation.

b. Rejects the examination report with directions to the examiners to reopen the examination for purposes of obtaining additional data, documentation, or information, and refiling pursuant to subsection 1 above.

c. Calls for an investigatory hearing with no less than twenty days’ notice to the company for purposes of obtaining additional documentation, data, information, and testimony.

4. Orders and procedures.

a. All orders entered pursuant to subsection 3, paragraph “a”, shall be accompanied by findings and conclusions resulting from the commissioner’s consideration and review of the examination report, relevant examiner work papers, and any written submissions or rebuttals. Any such order is a final administrative decision and may be appealed pursuant to chapter 17A, and shall be served upon the company by certified mail, together with a copy of the adopted examination report. Within thirty days of the issuance of the adopted report, the company shall file affidavits executed by each of its directors stating under oath that they have received a copy of the adopted report and related orders.

b. Any hearing conducted under subsection 3, paragraph “c”, by the commissioner or an authorized representative, shall be conducted as a non-adversarial, confidential, investigatory proceeding as necessary for the resolution of any inconsistencies, discrepancies, or disputed issues apparent upon the face of the filed examination report or indicated as a result of the commissioner’s review of relevant work papers or by the written submission or rebuttal of the company. Within twenty days of the conclusion of any such hearing, the commissioner shall enter an order pursuant to subsection 3, paragraph “a”.

(1) The commissioner shall not appoint an examiner as an authorized representative to conduct the hearing. The hearing shall proceed expeditiously with discovery by the company limited to the examiner’s work papers which tend to substantiate any assertions set forth in any written submission or rebuttal. The commissioner or a representative acting on the commissioner’s behalf may issue subpoenas for the attendance of any witnesses or the production of any documents deemed relevant to the investigation whether under the control of the division of insurance, the company, or other persons. The documents produced shall be included in the record and testimony taken by the commissioner or a representative acting on the commissioner’s behalf shall be under oath and preserved for the record.

This section does not require the division of insurance to disclose any information or records which would indicate or show the existence of any investigation or activity of a criminal or juvenile justice agency.

(2) The hearing shall proceed with the commissioner or the commissioner’s representative posing questions to the persons subpoenaed. Thereafter the company and the division may present testimony relevant to the investigation. Cross-examination shall be conducted only by the commissioner or the commissioner’s representative. The company and the division shall be permitted to make closing statements and may be represented by counsel.

5. Publication and use.

a. Upon the adoption of the preliminary examination report under subsection 3, paragraph “a”, the commissioner shall hold the content of the final examination report as private and confidential information not subject to disclosure and it is not a public record under chapter 22, for a period of twenty days except to the extent provided in subsection 2. After the twenty-day period has elapsed, the commissioner may open the final report for public inspection so long as no court of competent jurisdiction has stayed its publication.

b. The commissioner is not prevented from disclosing the content of an examination report, preliminary examination report or results, or any matter relating to the report, to an insurance department of any other state or country, or to law enforcement officials of this or any other state or an agency of the federal government at any time, so long as such agency or office receiving the report, or matters relating to the report, agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality of the report or such matters in a manner consistent with this chapter.

c. If the commissioner determines that regulatory action is appropriate as a result of any examination, the commissioner may initiate any proceeding or action as provided by law.
§507.11 Procedure against nonlife companies. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 26, § 61.

§507.12 Procedure against life companies. In case of companies organized under the provisions of chapter 508, the officers shall proceed as provided in sections 508.18 and 508.19.

§507.14 Confidential documents — exceptions. A preliminary report of an examination of a domestic or foreign insurer, and all notes, work papers, or other documents related to an examination of an insurer are not public records under chapter 22 except when sought by the insurer to whom they relate, an insurance regulator of another state, or the national association of insurance commissioners, and shall be privileged and confidential in any judicial or administrative proceeding except any of the following:

1. An action commenced by the commissioner under chapter 507C.
2. An administrative proceeding brought by the insurance division under chapter 17A.
3. A judicial review proceeding under chapter 17A brought by an insurer to whom the records relate.
4. An action or proceeding which arises out of the criminal provisions of the laws of this state or the United States.
5. An action brought in a shareholders’ derivative suit against an insurer.
6. An action brought to recover moneys or to recover upon an indemnity bond for embezzlement, misappropriation, or misuse of insurer funds.
