MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

A committee from the Senate announced that the Senate was duly organized and ready to receive any communications from the House.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Clark of Linn presented the name of Hon. Arch W. McFarlane of Black Hawk as candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives, preceding such nomination with the following remarks:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House:

The first important duty before us is the selection of one of our number to preside over the deliberations of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly.

In doing this it is perhaps fitting and proper to pause for a moment and consider the work that is before us and the qualifications necessary for our presiding officer.

We are today confronted by a situation probably unparalleled in the history of this state and nation. With bountiful crops and every indication of apparent prosperity the producer is unable to realize from the fruit of his labor the cost of its production, while with a scarcity of manufactured articles resulting from the wastage of warfare, millions of working men are looking for work and unable to find it.

We have emerged from the war, with its lofty ideals of service and sacrifice, into an atmosphere of greed and desire for material gain, whose noisome influence still retards the return of prosperity. While many European nations, torn by the lust and carnage of war, and with millions of their peoples slowly dying with hunger, appeal to us for succor, and threaten if we do not aid to engulf us with them in a universal cataclysm on anarchy and ruin.

It is not surprising that such a situation has produced a financial, industrial and social unrest, that is threatening the integrity of republican institutions. While this Legislature is able to remedy few of the conditions that have caused this unrest, the people of Iowa do expect that we will do everything we can to stabilize, and nothing that will further unsettle economic, social and industrial conditions.

Our nation's first martyred president, that most far-seeing mind and noblest spirit that ever guided the destinies of any nation, once said that the true sphere and purpose of government should be to see "that every citizen gets an unfettered start and a fair chance in the race of life."

Mindful of the oath we have taken, it should be our purpose in the laws enacted here, that with the help of a Divine Providence, every boy and every girl who breathes the air of Iowa's prairies may be given an unfettered start, and that in the battle of life every citizen may have a fair chance; that no class or trade or occupation shall be given an undue advantage over any other; that the weak may be protected from the tyranny of the strong; that the poor may be protected from the avarice of otherwise unbridled wealth; that the burdens of government may be justly distributed:—if we succeed in this, contentment and happiness and prosperity will be within the reach of all.

Besides the usual work of a general assembly and the many measures of importance and emergency arising from the unusual conditions now surrounding us, we have been assigned the task that comes before the Legislature of Iowa but once in every quarter of a century—that of revising and codifying the statutes of the State. The increase in volume of statute law makes this task greater than ever before. It is a work that must be done with care and deliberation, regardless of the labor and sacrifice of time that it may require. And if we do it well, as I know we shall, the work of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly will be noteworthy in the history of the State.

As our presiding officer we must choose one with an ability commensurate with the magnitude of the task before us. In making this choice we are making no experiment for we have among us one who has stood the test and has demonstrated his ability and fairness in all that pertains to the office of speaker. For those of us who served under him in the Thirty-eighth General Assembly can assure you who for the first time come to this Chamber, that in the appointment of committees he will exercise that fairness and judgment that will permit each member to give to his constituents and to the state the very best there is in him. In this and in all his rulings from the chair he will decide with fairness and impartiality and without fear or hope of future favor, and so far as lies within the power of a presiding officer he will see that no factional spirit arises to embitter or hamper our work and deliberations here.

His record has been such that we are according him an honor that has come to but two men in the history of the state, that of presiding over two General Assemblies.

I need not tell you that Arch W. McFarlane is today the friend of every member here, and I am sure that that friendship will continue to grow stronger until the time when his gavel falls to announce the termination of our labor. The harmony that prevails today is auspicious of the success of his administration and of the good feeling that should exist among the members of this House during the weeks and months of work and association that are before us.

Mr. Speaker, I esteem it an honor, as it is also a pleasure, at this time to nominate Arch W. McFarlane, of Black Hawk County, as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly.

Powers of Crawford received recognition from the chair and made the following remarks:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the House—

I desire to briefly endorse the sentiment which has been so well expressed by the gentleman from Linn, and in what I have to say I want it understood that I am speaking, not for myself alone, but for all those who occupy seats in what has traditionally come to be known as the "Cherokee Strip." And as I use that term "Cherokee Strip" today it occurs to me that the person responsible for that title must have been something of a prophet, because this strip, as it becomes narrower, seems to be going through somewhat the same process of change as the original "Cherokee Strip" and history seems to be in danger of repeating itself. There is one marked difference, however, I am sure. If I remember my history correctly, the original "Cherokee," when their reservation was invaded and their boundaries forced back, organized scalping parties to go out and do all the mischief they could. I want to assure the members of this House that such a spirit will find no lodgment here. On the contrary, those in this section of the House will join wholeheartedly with the members on the other side in trying to find a correct solution of the many difficult problems that will come before this body.

As we stand here at the beginning of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly and contemplate the immensity of the task which confronts us, not only at this regular session but at the special session which every one seems to think must be held, we are impressed, I am sure, with the thought that there will be place for factionalism or partisanship and that the successful performance of the task before us will call for the united and harmonious efforts of the entire membership of the House. In our approach to the problems before us, the attitude of all should be that of citizens of Iowa, representatives of the people of Iowa, striving to solve the complex problems that come before us, and to maintain the standing of Iowa as one of the great commonwealths among the sisterhood of states.

And we will make a good start this morning if we elect Arch W. McFarlane of Black Hawk county as speaker of this House. Those of us who were here in the Thirty-eighth General Assembly know that he possesses in a remarkable degree the qualities most necessary in a successful presiding officer. A Speaker's greatest temptation is to use the power of his position to control legislation and thereby to become something of an autocrat. But Arch W. McFarlane has demonstrated as Speaker of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly that he is too big a man to yield to that temptation. Those of us who were here in the Thirty-eighth General Assembly know that he won the admiration of all by his fairness and impartiality in exercising the power of his office. He was always anxious that every member of the House be given a fair chance and equal opportunity to present any matter in which he was interested. I am sure if elected Speaker he will merit the trust and confidence of every member of the House.

I take real pleasure in seconding the nomination of Arch W. McFarlane of Black Hawk county as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly and I move, Mr. Chairman, that the nomination be made unanimous.

Motion prevailed and Hon. Arch W. McFarlane was declared unanimously elected Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly.

LeValley of Franklin moved that a committee of two be named to escort the Speaker to the chair. Motion prevailed and the following committee was named: LeValley of Franklin and O'Donnell of Dubuque.

Mr. McFarlane was escorted to the speaker's station and, upon being sworn and assuming the chair, made the following remarks:
Gentlemen of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

I am indeed very grateful to you for so kindly bestowing upon me an honor which I realize is a little out of the ordinary, having been given to but two other gentlemen in the history of this State, and I appreciate very much the confidence that you have bestowed upon me. I am very mindful of the fact that the gentleman from Linn has said some very complimentary things in regard to my ability and I assure you that I shall try to follow out what he has said, in order that you may not be disappointed. I wish to take this opportunity to thank the members of the minority party for seconding my nomination and wish to assure them that they will have the same consideration as due the members of the majority party.

As your presiding officer it is my intention as I said to you two years ago, to preside and preside only. I shall not try to influence legislation in any way. I do not believe that a presiding officer should use his influence along those lines but should let legislation take its natural course. You realize that my troubles have now commenced. I am now referring to my committee appointments, but I shall endeavor, and I believe that I will be successful, to try to please at least ninety per cent of the members of this body. I shall try to please one hundred per cent but I know that that will be impossible. However, as to the committee appointments, no one has a preference; each man will be considered and I believe that ninety per cent or at least a majority will be satisfied with the committee appointments that they receive.

It is not my intention to start the Legislature off with a long speech, and I am sure that the members will profit by my short remarks during their various arguments from day to day, but I really have not the oratorical ability to thank the members for the honor and the trust that they have given me but I assure you that I will endeavor to do that which I think is right for the interest of all concerned. I thank you.

Speaker McFarlane in the chair.

JOINT CODE REVISION COMMITTEE REPORT

To the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

At an informal conference held at the Savery Hotel in the city of Des Moines, November 16, 1920, attended by seventy-eight members-elect of the House and thirty-seven members-elect of the Senate a committee of six members from each house was named to consider the problem presented by the subject of Code Revision in its relation to the forthcoming session of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly, and to report and recommend to the General Assembly, at the opening of the session, a plan of procedure.

The members of the joint committee so named are as follows:

From the Senate:

Edward M. Smith, Winterset.

Herbert I. Foskett, Shenandoah.

Chester W. Whitmore, Ottumwa.

Perry C. Holdoegel, Rockwell City.

Charles M. Dutcher, Iowa City.

Walter W. Anderson, Scranton.

From the House:

W. C. Edson, Storm Lake.

E. A. Larson, Red Oak.

C. F. Clark, Cedar Rapids.

J. B. Weaver, Des Moines.

George B. Perkins, Sac City.

John A. Storey, Indianola.

The said joint committee herewith presents its report, to-wit:

The committee held four sessions and spent several weeks in the consideration of the subject. The members of the committee made a careful study of the experience of the Fourteenth General Assembly in connection with the code of 1873 and of the Twenty-sixth General Assembly in the enactment of the code of 1897, both of which attempted to act on code revision and do the regular work at the regular session, and failed. At the meeting of the committee held December 9th, various persons who were members of the Twenty-sixth General Assembly were summoned to appear before the committee, in the light of their previous experience. These opinions were obtained and submitted to the committee.

Some idea of the complexity of the problem presented may be inferred from the following: The Code Commission has presented 253 bills containing 5,000 sections. Two-thirds of these embody existing laws stated in a new form. Twelve hundred sections are noted as modifying existing law. More than 500 sections are admittedly new law. These commission bills were prepared all to be acted upon at the extra session, and many of them are interlocked so that the passage of one would be ineffective without the passage of some other bill or bills. It was expected that they would go into effect all at one time so as to complement and supplement each other.

Again the commission prepared for consideration of the Legislature the compiled code, containing 9,589 sections, and purporting to contain all the existing statute law of the state. It is imperative that the Legislature verify this compilation so as to be sure the sections do in fact embrace all existing law without material change. Again, there are usually introduced from the floor at each session, about 600 bills in each House.

The members of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly are confronted with the problem of scrutinizing every portion of the 253 Code Commission bills, verifying their reproduction of existing law, studying the effect of the modifications recommended, and the wisdom of the new law proposed, and at the same time consider the bills arising from the floor, and endeavor to harmonize them all with the Code Commission bills. This scrutiny is imperative and presents an overwhelming task. At the same time it devolves on the members to keep in mind whether the bills which they are thus scrutinizing are interlocked with other Code Commission bills which they are not at that time considering.

It was found that the Fourteenth General Assembly struggled with the problems from early in January to April 17th, and gave it up as impossible, and that the Twenty-sixth General Assembly worked until April 11th with like result, both assemblies finding it necessary to have an extra session to complete the work with that safety and care which is indispensable in dealing with the great bulk of the law of the state.

After full consideration by the committee it was unanimously agreed, and in this all the members of the Code Commission concur, that it is impracticable to complete code revision at the regular session, in the manner in which it should be done. It is recommended, however, that the General Assembly do such of the work as is possible, make every effort for the reduction of the number of bills coming from the floor by fixing the limit of February 15th for the introduction of bills other than appropriation bills and committee bills, and that on the latter date such of the code bills be brought onto the calendar for passage as it is believed may be passed without peril to those which may not be reached. Every step toward revision accomplished at the present session lessens by that much the burdens of a special session.

It is hardly necessary to state that the one hundred and fifteen members of the assembly who attended the conference of November 16th, as well as those who attended the various hearings on this subject, did so entirely at their own expense of time and money, and without expectation of reimbursement.

It is felt that the General Assembly desires to do at the coming session all that is possible in the work of code revision, but is thoroughly impressed with the difficulties involved, as well as the great responsibility. The committee presents herewith a concurrent resolution, the terms of which embody the unanimous recommendation of the committee, and urges its prompt adoption. We may state that these recommendations are unanimously concurred in by the members of the Code Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

GOVERNOR'S BIENNIAL MESSAGE.

Members of the Senate and House of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

By constitutional provision, there is a mandate to the Chief Executive of the State on this occasion to direct his remarks to the subject—"The Condition of the State."

By virtue of the place which I have occupied during the past four eventful years I feel that I am somewhat informed on this subject.

In addressing you, a coordinate branch of the government, at this time, I realize and understand the tasks that lie just before you, and also how important your work will be to the future development of the State and to all her people.

Further, I am mindful that personally I pass now from this stage of activity. Henceforth I am citizen and not servant. Fourteen years ago this January I first became a member of the Iowa House of Representatives. Since that time there has been no moment that I have not held some office of trust for the people of the State. These years have been a pleasure and growth to me, and at times I venture the hope that the State may have benefited. This I know, there has been honest purpose to serve and a priceless heritage is ours, which coming in the early forties of our lives gives ample opportunity for yet further service in the ranks.

The State and Nation just now are in a period of reconstruction, following the great world war. Iowa and her people should not be discouraged. In truth, we ought to be very optimistic. I know that of late there has been much singing of the song of discontent, and even in some quarters they sing the song of hate. All this is wrong. The call of the hour is for the grace of good cheer, hope and confidence in our fellow creatures. Opportunity for real living and achievement was never brighter for our people than at this hour.

Iowa is not poor in money, nor are her people in the grip of poverty. There is more wealth now in the State than ever before, and this wealth is, and will increase continually. The moral tone of the people and educational advantages are at their zenith in the State's history. This is the hour for confidence, the extension of the helping hand and a word of good cheer.

The State does not need more government. Rather, it can get along with much less government at the top. It is quite apparent there is need for both the State and Federal powers to realize that localized government is most wholesome, and that the machinery, as first constructed, should be utilized and coordinated to present day conditions and needs.

My views of the tasks which lie before you as legislators in relation to "the condition of the State" can be summarized as follows:

First—Completion of the work of code revision.

Second—Make provision for the Constitutional Convention.

Third—Make the necessary appropriations.

Fourth—Provide an educational program.

Fifth—Make provision to utilize long standing local government agencies and decrease State machinery wherever there is duplication.

Sixth—Assist and encourage the development of State industries, both old and new.

Seventh—Provide for better marketing facilities for the products of the farm.

Eighth—Provide for better transportation facilities for the products of the State to the markets of the world.

Ninth—Provide means for more uniform distribution of labor.

Tenth—Provide for adequate home building and means for families to acquire ownership of their homes.

Eleventh—Make provision to remove whatever industrial handicap the soldier and sailor of the late war was placed under, because of his service to the country.

Twelfth—Revise tax laws so as to increase revenues and more equitably distribute the burdens thereunder.

CODE REVISION.

About 90 per cent of the work of every regular legislative session is code revision. Your task at this time is increased somewhat. However, I am of the opinion that code revision in the regular session will not be insurmountable if you divide the work into say three parts:

First—Appropriations.

Second—New legislative matter.

Third—Code revision.

Appropriations naturally are separate and distinct from the other work and have always been so considered and treated. New legislation should confine itself to subjects upon which the State has not previously spoken in the form of statute. Under code revision opportunity will be offered for all those who desire to propose amendments to the existing or suggested laws. By proceeding first and at once with the substantive law, in which there is, or should be little change proposed, the whole task can be performed with comparative ease. If, on the other hand, you proceed now with the regular session work, as is the custom, amending the laws very largely, the work of the Code Commission will fall for naught, and much of the expense incurred will be wasted. The work of the Code Commission has been quite thorough and ought to assist in expediting the work that is laid before you.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Section 3 of Article 10 of the Constitution of the State provides for the submitting of the question of a Convention to revise or amend the Constitution once every ten years, to the electorate. Such submission was had at the last general election. A majority of the votes cast on the subject was in favor of the holding of the Convention.

This General Assembly is, therefore, charged with the duty of providing ways and means for an election by the people, of such delegate convention. Ample time should be had, after the law for the selection of the delegates is effective, to give the people opportunity to acquaint themselves with the work that will confront the delegates to this Convention.

FEDERAL ACT.

On the third day of September, 1920, I accepted on behalf of the State the Federal Act providing for industrial rehabilitation in the following manner:

"To the Federal Board for Vocational Education, Washington, D. C.:

Since the Legislature of this State does not meet in regular session before December 31st, I, W. L. Harding, Governor of the State of Iowa, in accordance with the authority vested in me by the Federal Act providing for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry or otherwise, and their return to civil employment, approved June 2, 1920, do hereby accept all the provisions of the said Federal Act for the State of Iowa and do hereby—

1. Empower and direct the State Board of Vocational Education to cooperate as provided in the said Federal Act with the Federal Board for Vocational Education in the administration of the provisions of the said Federal Act.

2. Direct, in order that the State may take advantage of the Federal funds available from the Federal Act, that a plan for cooperation in carrying out the provisions of the Federal Act be formulated between the State Board for Vocational Education and the State Workmen's Compensation Board, the said plan to be effective when approved by me.

3. Authorize, in so far as the legal power rests in me the State Board for Vocational Education to use State funds or other funds available for vocational rehabilitation in matching Federal funds available to the State of Iowa.

4. I hereby appoint as custodian for said Federal appropriations the State Treasurer who shall receive and provide for the proper custody and disbursement of all money paid to the State from the said Federal appropriations.

Dated at Des Moines, Iowa, this third day of September, 1920."

This is a matter which comes before you for further action.

PARDONS, COMMUTATIONS AND REMISSION OF FINES

It is a constitutional provision that I report to you every case of reprieve, commutation and pardon granted and all remissions of fines and forfeitures. Such report is herewith presented, and in a summary way is as follows:

I have referred to the Board of Parole nineteen applications in life cases for investigation and recommendation. In ten cases the Board of Parole recommended commutation of sentence, in seven cases the recommendation was against clemency; all of these recommendations were approved; one recommendation for commutation of sentence was disapproved and one case was withdrawn by the applicant. Prior to 1919 I referred one application for pardon to the Board, in which commutation was recommended and granted in 1919.

I have granted pardons in five cases, in which the sentence was imprisonment in the County jail. I have granted sixty-three suspensions of sentence, on recommendation of the Board of Parole and upon recommendation of the proper County officials, twenty-one from County jails.

I have restored to citizenship twenty-four paroled men, and upon recommendation of the Board of Parole, four hundred sixty-two. There were also fourteen commutations of sentence upon recommendation of the Board of Parole. I have remitted fines in thirteen cases.

I am submitting herewith and by this reference making a part hereof, a report relative to the improvements which have been made and the future improvements which are proposed in order to build the capitol grounds extension.

Also I am submitting herewith and by this reference making a part hereof, a report of the Temple of Justice committee, which committee was provided for by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly.

TAXATION.

From an examination of the budget report, which is required by statute to be filed, and which is herto attached and made a part of this Biennial Message, you will find that the askings are very much in excess of what has been appropriated in the years gone by. The largest askings come from our State Educational institutions.

The increase, which the Board of Education asks for the succeeding biennial period is $6,133,097.00. At first this seems to be a staggering amount, and it is large. However, education is worth all its costs, and it is a prime duty of the State to furnish adequate facilities to take care of all who may knock at the door for admission.

The Board of Education of the State and the heads of these educational institutions are conservative men, who have a profound interest in the future of the State, and I can assure you that these askings have not come in a haphazard way, but have been the result of careful and earnest study.

On February 10, 1917, as Governor of the State, I submitted a special message to the then Thirty-eighth General Assembly. At that time I called attention to the state of the Treasury. It showed that there was cash on hand January 1, 1917, in the amount of $116,247.00 and that the revenues available up to June 30, 1917, including this cash, were $4,239,447.00.

This report also showed that there had already been appropriated by former legislatures, subject to warrant for the same six months' period, the sum of $5,724,958.00. This left a deficit, June 30, 1917, of $1,486,511.00. On December 1, 1920, there was on hand in the Treasury of the State $7,590,704.24. Of this amount $4,251,784.52 belonged to the road fund. There was, therefore, on December 1, 1920, in the general fund of the State Treasury, $3,338,919.72.

On December 1, 1920, the books of the Auditor and Treasurer showed that there had been appropriated and subject to warrant, from that period up to July 1, 1921, the sum of $14,710,088.89.

It also was disclosed by their records that the money on hand December 1, 1920, and the receipts that will be available, amount to $15,056,254.24, the receipts having been estimated below what, in all probability, will be available to the State Treasury before July 1, 1921. This leaves a balance of $346,165.35 in the State Treasury July 1, 1921, that has not been appropriated.

In other words, on July 1, 1917, shortly after the United States entered into the war, the Treasury showed a deficit of $1,486,511.00 and on July 1, 1921, will show a balance of $346,165.35.

This means that during this four year period, we have paid a deficit and accumulated a balance totaling $1,832,676.35.

Also, there are three funds in the schedule hereto attached, which have been appropriated but which will not be used, amounting to $715,000.00. They are:

Military	$650,000.00
Provisional contingent	$ 40,000.00
Retrenchment and Reform Committee.....	$ 25,000.00

With this fund added to the deficit, which was in the Treasury July 1, 1917, and the balance that will be on hand July 1, 1921, there is a total amount of $2,547,676.00. This amount represents what has been made up and saved during the past three years out of the general levy and taxes that have been collected for all State purposes.

The Legislature in 1917 authorized a One Million Dollar appropriation. This was made available for various war purposes. Of this amount, $56,000.00 was set aside for secret service work, and $25,000.00 for aid to returned soldiers. $309,563.11 of this Million Dollar fund was expended, as by the statute provided, for support, transportation, physical examination, etc., of the men furnished by the State of Iowa to the Federal government. This amount should be paid back to the State by the Federal government. The bill has been filed with the War Department. This leaves a balance in cash of $609,186.22, that was credited to the Temple of Justice fund, as by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly provided.

I am attaching hereto and making a part of this Message the report of the State Accountant, showing the receipts and disbursements for the period from December 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921.

The information which has been disclosed makes it possible to meet the growing demands and needs of the State in a wholesome way, without increasing the levy above what it has been made during the past three years.

This statement is based upon the belief that the prices the State is required to pay for its commodities, the same as individuals, will be reduced and the further fact that the State will receive added revenues from other sources, which are available, and that there can be savings made in some of the Departments.

REVISION OF TAX LAWS.

The government is supported through taxation. These taxes should be spread equally among all the people. Certain tax changes, in my judgment, would be beneficial in reaching the desired result.

In my last Biennial Message I recommended the following:

"Under the present arrangement the Executive Council sits as an equalizing board. They are clothed with authority now to equalize between Counties, but cannot equalize as between individuals.

"I suggest that you consider the advisability of widening the scope of the power of the Executive Council, as a board of equalization, so that they may have power to equalize as between individuals.

"I further suggest, that you consider the advisability of making the County Auditor also the County Assessor and placing this officer, as such assessor, under the Executive Council when acting as a board of equalization, authorizing conference of all these County Assessors with the Executive Council once each year. With the Executive Council having added power, the Auditor as County Assessor with power over the township assessor, it would be possible to bring about greater equality in taxation matters."

I recommend that the State adopt the policy of a direct inheritance tax, as a further means of equalization—this tax to be on amounts, say of $25,000.00 and over, the tax being graduated as the amount increases.

I recommend that personal property taxes be abolished and an income tax be levied on incomes of over $4,000.00—this tax to be graduated as the income increases.

I further recommend that under fair safeguards, vacant, idle, real property should be more heavily impressed by the assessor, for the burden all such property imposes in retarding commercial progress.

GASOLINE INSPECTION.

The neighbor States about us require that gasoline before being sold in the State be tested. Such is not the case in Iowa. For this, it is reported to me, that there is dumped into our State and sold a large amount of this product that is inferior.

I recommend, therefore, that you make it the duty of the Oil Inspector to inspect gasoline. A small charge can be made for this work to the distributor. The people of the State will be benefited in a better grade of gasoline.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The Thirty-eighth General Assembly appropriated for the purchase of land and industries under the management of the Board of Control, for the biennial period, $160,000.00 for the Men's Reformatory at Anamosa, and $75,000.00 for the State Penitentiary at Fort Madison. Of these amounts appropriated $158,142.08 was expended for farm land and live stock at the Men's Reformatory, and $60,239.50 for land at the State Penitentiary.

There is a crying need for more land at several of the institutions under the management of the Board of Control. The land which the State owns at these institutions, which totals eleven thousand, eight hundred twenty-nine acres, and valued at $3,350,725.00, is all producing revenue for the State.

The State owns eight hundred acres that was purchased near Clive for the purpose of a custodial farm. This farm has not been developed as it was originally intended, and I, therefore, recommend that you authorize that this land be sold and the money used to purchase other lands near our penal institutions. It is not economical or satisfactory to try to transport inmates from either the Reformatory or Penitentiary to this farm and attempt to operate the same.

I want to recommend that the State be liberal in the purchase of farm lands adjacent to these various institutions, for in so doing you increase the holdings of the State, and at the same time make it possible for these institutions to be self-supporting.

The farms of the State, under the management of the Board of Control, earned during the last biennial period $351,324.66. The total amount of products from the farms, orchards and gardens since the last biennial report is:

Farm products	$ 602,975.79
Poultry yards	18,070.16
Live stock	217,463.05
Dressed meat	117,535.45
Garden products	137,143.47
Orchards and miscellaneous	110,184.73
	Total
	$1,253,372.65

This represents a profit to the State, after all expenses have been cared for, of $351,324.66, or approximately a return of $30.00 per acre for the biennium. Besides this profit in money, it furnishes wholesome employment for these people, which, after all, is the best return which the State can receive.

The State has at these institutions two commercial industries—the chair and furniture industry, located at the State Penitentiary, and the cooperage industry at the Men's Reformatory, both of which during this biennial period have been great revenue producers for the State.

The chair industry has turned out 163,604 chairs and the net sales were $777,491.22. This industry has earned in profits and reserves, since the last report and for the biennial period, $375,777.24, which represents over 246 per cent of the invested capital. The chair factory provided employment for over two hundred prisoners. They received for their services, in addition to the cost of their maintenance, $38,134.32. These wages earned are placed to the individual credit of the prisoner in a local savings bank, to be paid to them upon their release or sent to dependent relatives upon satisfactory proof.

At the cooperage industry, the sales for the biennial period were $334,652.93. The profits and reserves earned during the period were $62,818.16. From forty to forty-five prisoners are required for this work. They received in wages $8,001.84.

The total net profits from these various State institutions amount to $789,920.06. The average increase of the principal commodities purchased for the various State Institutions for the biennial period ending June 30, 1920, as compared with the biennial period ending June 30, 1918, is 52 per cent. Freight rates since June 25, 1918, have increased 68 per cent.

From these percentages of increase, it, therefore, behooves the State to produce the largest possible amount on the farms adjacent to these institutions, for in doing so freight charges are eliminated, as well as the increased cost that is attached to commodities, and with these facts in mind, it seems but good business for the State to provide amply with land, so that the management can conduct these institutions in an economic way.

TRANSPORTATION.

Under the present economic status of our State, adequate transportation facilities are an absolute necessity, if we are to be as prosperous as our resources and location warrant. During the past year and a half, millions of dollars have been lost by the producers of Iowa, due to the fact that we have had inadequate transportation facilities. There are two phases to this question of transportation that ought to receive the attention of this legislature.

First, you should see to it that the rights of the State, in reference to control over intra-state rail transportation, are not taken away.

Second, you should make an appropriation to the Railroad Commission, or some other authority within the State, with power to spend money within and without the State, to develop natural waterway transportation to the ocean.

The Great Lakes and St. Lawrence and the Mississippi River should both be opened for water navigation to the ocean. At the present time some of the sister States are making appropriation for the purpose of assisting in a program for the proper development by the United States and Canada of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway.

This project, engineers estimate, will cost in the neighborhood of three hundred million dollars, one-half of this expense to be borne by the United States government. This water transportation will reduce the freight charge on Iowa products to the Atlantic seaboard and foreign markets from nine cents to fourteen cents per hundredweight, and at the same time afford the Iowa producer ability to compete on an equal freight basis for the market which rightfully belongs to him in this and foreign countries.

I therefore recommend that this legislature appropriate at least $10,000.00 a year for the next biennium to the Railroad Commission, or some other authority, said money to be used to assist in developing water transportation, which will save the people of the State on out-going and in-coming freight millions of dollars every year. This matter will be presented to you in more detail during the session.

HIGHWAYS.

Heretofore the Legislature has at each session been confronted with the difficult problem of revising the road laws and reorganizing the highway work in order to provide for the very rapidly increasing highway traffic occasioned by the motor vehicle. This problem has now been solved. Iowa now has road laws second to no other State in the Union. These laws are elastic enough to provide for the construction in any County of that type of road necessary to meet the traffic conditions in that County.

Under these laws, roads ranging all the way from well graded and drained earth roads to the higher type pavements can and are being built. Ample means are provided for financing the construction of roads in any County at as rapid a rate as the economic conditions will permit. Thus, in those portions of the State where roads have not been built to finished grade, the law authorizes constructing the roads to finished grade, providing the necessary drainage and the elimination of danger at railroad crossings. In those portions of the State where gravel is readily available and where traffic is such that a gravel surfacing would constitute a substantial improvement, the law authorizes the construction of gravel surfaces. In those portions of the State which desire to proceed with the construction of pavement on the primary system, the law authorizes such work to proceed and provides a ready means of financing.

We have now been operating under the primary road law for two years. Due to the extremely difficult conditions following the war, it has not been possible to proceed with construction work as rapidly as some may have desired, or as the finances available would permit. This period has, however, been used to good advantage, in that a large amount of preliminary work has been accomplished.

A primary road system consisting of 6500 miles has been designated and established, connecting every County Seat and every important market center of the State. Definite projects have been outlined for the improvement of 3380 miles, or approximately 50 per cent of this system.

Twenty-seven Counties have voted, authorizing the Board of Supervisors to proceed with the hard surfacing of the primary road system. Thirteen Counties have authorized the issuance of bonds, amounting to approximately $18,500,000. The results in these Counties demonstrate the wisdom of the Legislature in providing a law under the terms of which any County that wishes to do so, can proceed with hard surfacing its primary road system, and can issue bonds for the financing of the work as rapidly as construction can be accomplished.

Detailed surveys have been made for the improvement of 2600 miles, or forty per cent of the primary system. Construction contracts have been let for the improvement of 1,100 miles, or one-sixth of the system. The amount involved in these contracts is $12,600,000.

During 1920, the following work was constructed:

Paving	47 miles
Graveling	110 miles
Constructing to finished grade.....	410 miles

All Federal Aid funds have been obligated as rapidly as they became available, by signed project agreements between the Secretary of Agriculture and the Highway Commission. Up to December 1, 1920, $6,293,839.98 of Federal money had been so obligated, which is over one million dollars more than the amount, which must be obligated by July 1, 1921, in order to prevent such funds from reverting to the government. There is not the slightest chance that Iowa will lose any road funds allotted to her by the Federal Government.

Conditions now are such that the State should go ahead confidently with its program of road construction. Industrial conditions are undergoing a readjustment. Many plants have shut down and thousands of men are out of employment. It will take industry some time to adjust itself to the new conditions. In the meantime, the State should proceed with its road improvement as rapidly as possible. This work is financed. The funds are available to carry it forward without straining our credit and without further inflation. By proceeding with the work at this time, employment will be offered to a large number of men now idle, and the general condition of the State will be benefited.

The most important highway legislation that can be undertaken by this General Assembly, is that relating to the elimination of danger at railroad crossings. Almost every day the press carries a notice of some new railroad crossing accident at which the lives of one or more people have been snuffed out. Unless some means is found to speed up the elimination of danger at railroad crossings, tens of thousands of people will be killed at the railroad grade crossing before there is any material reduction in the number of grade crossings on our highways. In legislation of this nature, provision should be made for a fair and equitable distribution of the cost of the improvements, between the public and the railroad company.

The experience of two years operation under the primary road law indicates that a few changes or amendments should be made. The bonds authorized have a maximum interest rate of five per cent. Under the financial conditions of the past two years, these bonds could not be sold at face value, and it was illegal to sell them at less. It was suggested that the maximum interest rate be increased to six per cent, leaving it to the good judgment of the Board of Supervisors to fix the interest rate at less than that amount, if, under the financial conditions existing at the time the bonds are offered for sale, they can be sold at a lower interest rate.

Due to the fact that in a majority of the Counties the work being done on the primary road system consists of building the roads to finished grade, there will for the next several years be a surplus in the primary road fund. It is suggested that the laws be changed so that this surplus may be made available for expenditure through the purchase by the State of primary road bonds issued by any County. These bonds can later be placed on the market where the funds are required to meet the current expenses for road work. It is possible in this way to finance the bonds that will be offered for sale during the next few years without the creation of a floating bonded indebtedness. The State will get five per cent interest on such bonds, while only two per cent interest is received for funds on deposit.

Under the present law, the support fund of the Commission consists of two and one-half per cent of the motor license fees. The support fund of the Motor Vehicle Department consists of three and one-half per cent of the motor license fees. It has developed that the support fund of the Motor Vehicle Department is in excess of the requirement, and the support fund of the Highway Commission is not sufficient to meet its requirements with the vastly increased amount of work that must be done. It is suggested that these percentages be reversed.

The law requires that contractors give a surety bond for one hundred per cent of the amount of their contracts. Under these requirements, it will cost the State from $150,000.00 to $300,000.00 annually for such contract bonds. The interest of the State and of the various Counties can be amply protected at much less expense.

More ample provisions should be made for financing the bridge and culvert work on the primary road system. Under the present law, this work is payable by the counties from the county bridge funds. In building portions of the primary system to finished grade, the bridge and culvert work is quite expensive, often running considerably in excess of the cost of the grading and drainage work. As a general rule, it is not possible for the Counties to finance this work from current funds, the result being that they must issue bonds. This would not be a hardship were it not due to the fact that a number of the Counties have already reached their limit of bonded indebtedness.

The statute provides that a County cannot go in debt in excess of one and one-fourth per cent of its assessed valuation. Under the primary road law, it is provided that any County may incur an indebtedness through the issuance of bonds for road work, up to three per cent of its assessed valuation. It is recommended that the Counties be authorized to incur an indebtedness for bridge and culvert work on the primary road system up to three per cent of their assessed valuation. Such a provision would release the annual county bridge funds for the ordinary bridge and culvert work on the county and township road systems, and would at the same time permit the grading and draining of the primary system to proceed without interruption.

The primary road system, as now constituted, does not extend within the limits of a city. Within a town, any road or street which is an extension of the primary road system, may be hard surfaced, under the primary road law. It is suggested that this provision be extended to apply to extensions of the primary road system through the outlying districts of cities. It is often impractical for a city or town to finance the construction of a pavement in outlying portions of the municipality where property values will not stand the assessment. Such roads invariably carry very heavy traffic, the result being that they are usually in bad condition. This suggestion for the hard surfacing of extensions of the primary road system in the outlying districts of cities will provide a means for relieving a difficult situation.

I have been in quite close contact with the Highway Commission and their efficient corps of Engineers and helpers, in the many difficult problems they have had to meet during the past two years. The work has been well and carefully performed. Under the system, as now arranged, the State will get good honest roads at reasonable cost.

One of the prime duties of government is to see to it that advantages and opportunities are available in largest possible measure to its citizens. If we, as a State, are to keep pace industrially with our sister States, it becomes our obligation to develop constantly already existing industries and be on the alert for new ones.

The State's primary industry is farming. From this source we produce original wealth, and so long as this is the fact, we hold the key of prosperity.

We must keep in mind, however, that we cannot afford to allow the soil to be robbed of its fertility. In this connection let me remind you, the State as a whole is vitally interested, and I am persuaded that the time has arrived when the land tenancy problems should be considered by the legislature of the State.

Improvement of live stock should be fostered and helped, for this industry is truly correlated to that of farming. New manufacturing industries should be encouraged in the State, for I believe the ideal situation is to have the factory alongside the farm. Every unnecessary hauling of freight, is an economic waste and must be paid for either by the producer or consumer.

The canning industry has been neglected as one of the industries of the State, and is capable of great revenue to our people.

Geologists of standing, inform me that there are possibilities of oil in certain localities in the State. Nebraska has offered a bonus to the one who discovers a commercial well. I suggest that you give this matter attention.

MARKETING

The place of importance in our industrial and economic life occupied by the farmer, is well known and generally conceded. Unstable and fluctuating prices for farm products are not only harmful to the farmer, but to all the people of the country.

If we, somehow, can stabilize farm product prices and assure the farmer that he can have a market, where the law of supply and demand will be in operation all the time, we will have accomplished a permanent advancement for the country.

The first requirement, as I view the matter, in the solution of the marketing problem of the country, is definite information about supply and demand. So far Iowa has done little or nothing along this line. We ought to know more about where there is demand for our products; when this demand is at its height, and how best to get the products to this market. This information ought to be gathered by the State and disseminated among the people.

Second, there ought to be a marketing bureau, whose business it would be to find new markets and assist in bringing the producer and consumer closer together.

Third, the law of the State ought to be amended to allow and regulate cooperative marketing by the producers.

I feel that there are grave national problems awaiting solution, depending very largely upon what is done to maintain and increase the efficient production of our farmers, and to distribute these products so that the farmer will be assured, without too much hazard, of a reasonable profit.

This nation is young in years, but even so, considerably more than a majority of the people live in cities and towns. In the eastern part of the United States, there are literally thousands of abandoned farms. These farms have been worn out and discarded.

This nation can ill afford to get in a situation where it will not produce enough food for the people within the country, nor can it afford to get to the place where it will not have a surplus for export trade.

At the present time, manufacturing is being done largely in the east. The farmers of foreign countries are closer in freight charges to our market, than are the people of Iowa. The Iowa farmer sells independent and alone in competition with those who are thoroughly organized.

Under this condition the State, as well as the individual, suffers. Iowa cannot afford to allow her agricultural interests to go down, or even to decrease.

You, as legislators, can afford to spend time and study on this great problem of production, marketing and distribution, and at least, you should make a start toward solution.

LABOR DISTRIBUTION

Iowa is not only the greatest agricultural State in the Union but is fast assuming magnificent proportions in manufactures. During 1914 the output of our factories amounted to three hundred ten millions of dollars; for the year 1919, these products exceeded seven hundred millions of dollars. While a part of this value of production increase can undoubtedly be attributed to general price changes, however, that there was a most remarkable actual increase, is proven by the number of persons employed in production. This average number of persons so employed increased by approximately 17,000 for the same period.

It is well known that employment in Agriculture is seasonable, but it is not so generally recognized that nearly all lines of manufacture have their busy and dull seasons, thus bringing a continual change in the number of persons employed. This means that while during practically the entire year a number of employees are engaged regularly, a considerable number must drift from job to job, according to the class of industry. For instance, for 1919 fifty-five canning and preserving plants employed 409 persons during February and 5,341 in September. Ninety-five brick and clay plants had 937 employees in January, and 2,796 in September. Six hundred thirty printing plants employed 700 more persons in December than in January. The Confectioners employed 400 more persons in September, October and November than in January and February. Thirteen food preparation plants employed over 4,000 persons during January, September and October, but only 2,740 during March. Three thousand two hundred and six manufacturing establishments of all kinds report 55,080 persons employed in actual production during their week of smallest employment, and 100,048 during their week of largest employment, showing a drift for all reasons, and of which seasonable employment is by far the largest, of 43.8 per cent of the maximum employment. This drift is about 5 per cent greater than the average year, the difference being undoubtedly due to readjustments, both of industry and of wage earners following the war.

In this drifting, the worker must hunt for the next job, while an employer in need of this particular skill, is hunting for someone to fill the job. This means economic loss to both employer and employee and means to the State a lessened production.

Not all loss can be avoided but by a proper functioning on the part of the State, in a well organized employment service, there can be a direction and distribution of labor that will eliminate the greater part of it. No private agency can ever succeed. Employers' agencies must always be more or less restricted to their own needs. Trade Union agencies are restricted to the needs of their own membership, while the fee agency is benefited by frequent changes of employees from job to job, which in the end cultivates drifting habits of workers rather than regularity of service—the goal of State welfare. Nor can they ever be an effective inter-community exchange that will direct a surplus of labor from locality to locality, or industry to industry, according to needs and requirements.

What the State can do in this work, is made plain by the record of the State Free Employment Bureau, which directed for the biennial period, July 1, 1918, to July 1, 1920, a total of 157,109 men and women to jobs and of which 120,405 were actually placed. That this number is not wholly due to the activities during the war, is indicated by the figures for the last year of 49,001 directed and 35,561 placed.

That this class of service reaches all needs, is shown by the farm placements, which were 25.1 per cent of all actual placements, while at the same time it has rendered service to practically every industry and vocation of the State.

If this service is to continue, some definite provisions must be made. At the close of the war, fourteen offices were in operation under a co-operative arrangement with the United States Free Employment Service. The State's end of the finances were driven from the regular statutory provision designating one chief clerk and the regular provisions for printing and incidental expenses, as provided for other State Departments.

In addition, under the recommendations of the State Council of Defense, practically $19,000.00 was used out of the war emergency funds, placed at the disposal of the Governor. In addition, the Thirty-eighth General Assembly appropriated $6,000.00 to continue the State's end of the expense until July 1, 1919. No provision having been made for the continuance of this service by the State, beyond July 1st, except the employment of a chief clerk with incidental expenses, and the appropriations of the United States Employment Service having dropped to a minimum, all of the employment service was at that date centered in the Des Moines State office, with several cities of the State cooperating through organizations of employers and employees, who were not willing to permit the service to cease.

These arrangements continued in some of the localities until the early part of the year, 1920, when there was no apparent relief coming from either the State or Federal government. In consequence of which, all of the offices were discontinued, except the one at Des Moines, which is now being maintained by the chief clerk of the employment service, one placement officer furnished through the Governor's office, and two women placement officers provided for by the United States Employment Service, the Federal Department furnishing the major part of office supplies and franking privilege, the State providing the telephone service.

Under this arrangement, as an indication of the further value of the service, from July 1, 1920, to January 1, 1921, 1,479 men on a monthly basis were actually placed on farms; 2,592 harvest hands, corn huskers and like labor were placed. In addition to this, forty-eight boys were placed, making a total placement on the farms of the State, since July 1st, of men and boys of 4,119, this being approximately 50 per cent of the business of the office for the period.

With proper provisions for a systematic organization of this service, the work that has been done is only a minimum of what can be accomplished in the interest of every element of society in Iowa. Just at this time, there is a considerable surplus of labor, but as international monetary exchange improves and all of our industrial interests come to a reasonable, normal basis, there must inevitably be a great shortage of labor. This shortage cannot be avoided because there has been permanently withdrawn from the productive industries of the world, some twenty to twenty-five million people.

Besides, the conditions as indicated from all reports from continental countries, is that millions of the children growing up, because of famine and disease, incident to the war, can never grow into fully developed men and women either mentally or physically, thus meaning less productive power on their part.

Under these circumstances, every ounce of available labor should be used. There should be no opportunity for loss because of a willing man being compelled to spend time in the hunting of a job, nor an employer having a job being compelled to wait until someone appears for it. Nor should either of these factors in industry be compelled to pay a tribute to any source for a service of such vital importance to the State in maintaining its industries at the peak of production.

This Bureau, properly functioning, even with some assistance that may within the next several years be secured through the Federal service under any form of cooperative arrangement, will require from the State a sum equal to at least $25,000.00 for salaries, rentals and other incidental expenses.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Article 4, Section 9, of the Constitution of the State, provides—"The Governor shall take care that the laws of the State are faithfully executed."

It is proper that this power be vested in the Governor, for it was originally intended that he be the Chief Executive of the State. Further, by the Constitution he is made the Commander-in-chief of the army and navy. He has granted to him the power to call in every Peace Officer and to deputize citizens when necessity demands.

During these past years, we have wandered far from the Constitution, and if its provisions have not been violated, they have been ignored.

There has been an effort made to transfer the constitutional provision—"to see to it that the laws are faithfully executed"—from the office of Governor to that of Attorney-General. The net result of this effort has been chaos and failure. The "lawyer" for the State has been converted into a detective, and at great expense to the taxpayers.

I say this without disparagement to any individual, but suggest that the State is an area too large for one man to successfully cover.

I suggest that we take invoice of law-enforcing machinery, now and for a long time past existing in this State, and see if this cannot be co-ordinated and used by the State as the Constitution contemplated and provides.

In every County within our State, there is a sheriff elected by the people and Deputies, one or more, appointed, the duties of which are well defined by the statute. Cities of certain size have police officers, towns have one or more marshals, and the townships have constables.

Crime is well and thoroughly organized. There is a certain class of men, who keep their existence through crime and consorting with criminals. The business of these men is to steal, plunder and murder. They know their kind and are acquainted with the abode of each other. They have a language of their own, and secret means of communication. Theirs is a close corporation and for private gain.

Law enforcement is largely an incident pursued with vigor only when crime becomes rampant. The State has no adequate organization, nor has it made provisions for any. Each of the officers named herein is left unto himself, and in his isolated place, works as best he can in his small way. Through no fault of his own, he is bounded and limited to a certain territory. He has no connection with his neighbor officer, nor authority, nor responsibility. His adversary, the criminal, possesses a high powered machine, capable of great speed, but the officer must overcome space with only the fittings with which nature equipped him.

The average citizen has come to believe that violation of law is little of his concern, unless, perchance, his own property or life is endangered, and then he is sorely peeved because the handicapped, isolated, underpaid officer has not been able to successfully cope with organized, cunning high trained criminals.

With the advent of the automobile as a means of travel on the highways and with great speed, the work of the police in the city, in regulating the traffic, has been more than doubled.

The auto, owned in great numbers by the citizens of the State, and the great difficulty of identification, has furnished a new and profitable field for the thief. Unquenched thirsts of citizens, though contrary to the Constitution and the statutes, and the scarcity of certain beverages, has made bootlegging very profitable.

All these and more changes have come in these last few years, and been laid as a task to the Peace Officer, so that his work has been greatly increased.

Is it any wonder then, that without additional help and unorganized, there should be a lagging in efficiency? The remedy, I suggest, grows out of the experiences of the past four years as your Chief Executive. Your Governor has been limited by statutes and handicapped by divided authority. However, a sufficient showing has been made, which points the way to greater success.

With but few State men cooperating with local officials, some $740,000.00 past due auto license fees were collected for the State during the past year, in a very short time. With two men and cooperation with local officers, some hundreds of stolen cars have been recovered, and seventeen men sent to the penitentiaries to serve sentences. With three or four men and cooperation with the local officers and the Bankers Association, some forty bank burglars have been sent, or are on the way, to the penitentiary to serve time.

I, therefore, submit that to accomplish law enforcement and eliminate crime, you do the following things:

1st. Authorize the Governor, with the force already provided, to create a State photograph and finger print system.

2d. Authorize and make it the duty of every Sheriff and Chief of Police in the State to "mug" and finger print every criminal of certain class or type that is arrested.

3d. Provide for the State to furnish copies of these, with proper information for identification, to every Sheriff and Chief of Police in the State.

4th. Authorize the Governor, with the force under him, to organize and coordinate all the Peace Officers of the State into a unit, to battle against crime and criminals.

5th. Authorize the Governor, at his discretion, to extend the authority of any or all Peace Officers to any of the limits within the State.

6th. Authorize the Governor to mobilize these officers in crime emergencies.

7th. Extend the authority of the Governor in the offering of rewards, and permit Peace Officers to receive rewards.

8th. Specifically authorize the Governor to organize local voluntary vigilant committees to cooperate with local officials—first, to prevent crime, and second, to catch criminals.

9th. Add a license fee of, say $1.00 per car throughout the State, three-fourths of this amount to go to cities where the car owner resides, and the balance to go into a State fund to regulate traffic and capture auto thieves.

This plan, if followed, will spur the local officers to action in an effective way; will create an efficient organization; will make it more difficult for criminals to escape; will lessen crime; will arouse local interest, and with all, will be a great money saver to the people.

HOME FINANCING

There is, in the books somewhere, an ancient axiom—"A man's home is his castle."

The latest statistics inform us that only forty per cent of the families of America own their own castle (home). Sixty per cent of the families of this new country, carved out of a wilderness covered with virgin timber, are scarcely more permanently domiciled than the Arab of old.

We spend billions for armies and navies to frighten and beat back foreign foes. We requisition equal billions to dredge rivers and harbors; build public highways and public buildings, but it seems there is no dollar available to the humble citizens, male and female, who mate in response to nature's call within their breast, to build a home and reproduce their kind.

The sacred institutions of America will never go down to defeat from an outside foe, but unless some legislative body in this country arouses from its lethargy, to the importance of the family being anchored in its own home, there is possibility of an internal foe with power to haul down the flag.

I have written in former messages on this housing subject quite fully, and by this reference, make these former statements a part of this message.

Many schemes are being proposed to take care of the general housing shortage that exists at this time. Some suggest exemption from taxation for a period of years as a means to encourage the building of homes. This, in my judgment, falls far short of the purpose to be desired, and at best is only a makeshift.

As I view the matter, the thing to be desired is to encourage and actually help families to own their own homes.

The gap the average family in the State is unable to bridge, is between the modest amount they can accumulate and what can be carried by a first mortgage. Or in other words, the amount that is represented by the second mortgage.

What the State could well afford to do, is to make certain funds available for this purpose—say, a small percentage of savings bank deposits and insurance company reserves. Other securities, the investment over which the State has placed restrictions, will, no doubt, suggest themselves to your minds.

The State could, to the great advantage of all the people, create a fund by a millage tax to be loaned for this purpose, or the credit of the State could be used and bonds sold, and the whole matter be made self supporting.

If you say this requires a Constitutional amendment, then I say, propose an amendment to the Constitution and submit it to a vote of the people.

It is estimated by those in a position to know, that there is a shortage of from 35,000 to 50,000 homes in the State. This means that at least that number of families are poorly housed, crowded in dark, unsanitary places, and further, paying exorbitant rents.

The State is paying much of this in prisons or jails, or asylums, or hospital expense. More of the bill is paid in depleted man power, and still more in depleted motherhood efficiency.

After the harm occurs, the State pays in money the part of the bill that can be settled in dollars, and the balance the State pays in retarded progress.

“The condition of the State” is such that this problem should find solution at your hands at this time. Every time you encourage a family to proceed toward owning a home, you have increased the wealth of the State; increased the income of the State; stabilized the people of the State, and written an insurance policy for the security of the flag.

The home is one of the four cornerstones on which our government was founded. If the home dwelling is owned by the family occupying it, it will be defended. Your duty and opportunity is to preserve to America this cornerstone.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

The largest, the most important, the most potential public institution in the State is that of education. The attitude which the men and women of the State, ten and fifteen years from this date, are going to assume toward life, is being shaped very largely today by the twenty-five thousand and more teachers in the public schools. We no longer boast in this State that education is free. It is the law now that education is compulsory.

Recently there has been throughout the nation a great awakening on the subject of education for the masses. In this awakening, Iowa now leads all the States of the Union. This leadership is due largely to men and women in the teaching profession in the State, who, although underpaid, have dedicated their lives to the cause of the State and nation. Iowa's school situation is approximately as follows:

Enrollment in colleges.....	15,644
High Schools	63,217
Rural Schools	194,854
Grade Schools	271,854
Total.....	545,569

The population of the State, according to the last census, is 2,403,630. School population is estimated at five to twenty-one, so that the school population of the State is 683,188. 80% of the school population of the State is enrolled in some educational institution. Of this 80% of the school population, 2% is enrolled in colleges, 9% in High Schools, 29% in rural schools, and 40% in grade schools. 23% of the total population of the State is enrolled in some one of the schools of the State. The best conception of an educated person today, is one whose mind is trained to enjoy and appreciate the best things of life, whose hands are trained to do some useful labor well, whose body is symmetrically developed, whose heart is attuned to the noblest impulses and whose patriotism is grounded on the fundamentals of our form of government.

The Iowa educational program should strive to bring this standard to every citizen of the State.

The first and most vital factor in an educational system, is a trained teacher. Janitors, buildings, grounds and equipment are necessary, but without the teacher, there can be no school and no education. There is, and will be, a shortage of trained teachers for the rural schools, unless you, as legislators, make provision.

You ought to provide for at least three normal schools in the State, and limit them to the training of teachers for the rural schools. One such school would help, if it shall be your judgment that three at one time is too large an undertaking. This legislature, in my judgment, ought not to adjourn without launching this program for the State.

Makeshifts for this prime necessity for trained teachers for the rural schools would be to develop junior colleges in centers and encourage them to offer special teacher's training courses for rural teachers, and further, to encourage the teacher training departments in colleges that already have departments of education. Additional helps to remedy the teacher shortage will be:

Adequate compensation for the teacher and County Superintendent.

Make teaching a profession.

Encourage and authorize the district, wherever possible, to provide housing for the teacher.

Hire the teacher for a twelve months' period and pay them accordingly.

Permit and encourage the hiring of the teacher for a period longer than one year.

And further, it should be the law of the State, that whoever teaches in school or college, of whatever kind or character, be certificated, and that before any person can teach within the confines of the State, that they be an American citizen.

There is room for economy in school construction in the State. Last year there was voted, one consolidated High School for each day of the school year. For this there were millions of dollars spent. A State architect, trained in modern school construction, could save thousands of dollars and produce more efficient buildings.

The Department of Education has been a powerful factor in the wonderful advancement that has been made by the State educationally. The present incumbent of the office and his predecessor are nationally recognized leaders. The Department of Education has been handicapped in the past by small appropriations. I plead with you to provide help and means so that the Department can lead for all the nation. It means much to a State to be able to boast the least illiteracy in the country and to be known as leader in education.

Permit me to suggest that economy and efficiency will be brought into play, by making it possible for the Superintendent of Public Instruction to co-ordinate the local School Board activities of the State by conference in district meetings. Commercial bodies recognize the advantage of conference—why not then convene School Boards so that they may get a larger view and have touch with the outside world?

I submit to you that in your dealing with public education, in your capacity as legislators, you touch more vitally the future of the State and the happiness and contentment of the people, than in any other single way. The competition for leadership among the States is keen. However, we have the men and women and the means to maintain our honorable place and you are to say whether or not this place is to be maintained.

The National Educational Association has chosen Iowa as their place of meeting for July this year. This is a big undertaking for the teachers of the State. I suggest that you make an appropriation of $25,000.00 to assist in this work.

SOLDIER'S RELIEF

In my last Biennial Message, I called the attention of the legislature to the returned soldier and sailor, and recommended that—"Primarily, the State should see to it that the returned men, so far as it is humanly possible, re-enter the activities of life without handicap because of the war. By this I mean, he should be reinstated in society, equipped to take the place he would have occupied, had he not been called to the colors."

I desire now to reiterate this recommendation. These soldiers and sailors went freely. They fought, they won, and saved the cause of civilization. As a citizen of Iowa, I am indebted to these men, and I want a chance, through the State, to pay. Money will not pay the debt, but it will, in a measure, remove the handicap these men were placed under in the economic world. The "stay at homes" made millions out of the war, and out of these profits they should make division with those who risked their all.

It is an honor debt, and you legislators are the arbiters. If you feel that you should not meet this question, in this capacity, at least pass it on to the people for vote.

STATE PARKS

No State can be great or permanent, that does not give heed to the play of its people. No State can long endure, that does not cultivate in its people a love for nature in plant, tree, rock, stream, and all the great outdoors.

Our people throughout the State, are alive with interest and enthusiasm for the establishment of parks, so that they can play about and worship at nature's shrine.

The policy has been established to create these parks throughout the State. Already much progress has been made. I urge upon you, that this policy be continued and supported by liberal appropriations.

GOVERNMENT ECONOMY

Of late there has been much loose talk about changes in the administration of the State government. Agents, with a patent cure-all, appear in the State, at least biennially, with a new scheme, or schemes, to build over the State and practically run the government without either cost or friction. The only thing lacking usually with this type of "doctor" is votes enough to get into office.

It would be idle to say that there could not be improvement in the condition of the State's business, for in fact, there is scarcely an administration that does not bring about improvement somewhere.

Let me remind you, however, that during all the history of this State, the best men in the State in all lines have devoted their time, their energy, their ability and their patriotic devotion to building the system and form of government we now have. If you will look back over the list of the men who have served Iowa, you will find a galaxy of names of which every son and daughter of the State can well be proud.

This government is the result of the earnest study and devotion of the best citizens that the people could find in the various communities to elect to office. Men, who are big enough and good enough to gain the confidence of the electorate and be chosen to office, do not, as a rule, figure all of government from the standpoint of seeing how few dollars they can possibly collect and spend. They, rather, are actuated by a desire to make government efficient, and at the same time convenient for those whom it serves.

The financial problems of the government are not dissimilar to those of the household. Most of us have had some experience with our own reforms in household economy. Who of you has not listened, with rising enthusiasm, to the boarding house spinster or bachelor, glowingly lecture on the budget system for the home affairs? Put into actual practice what you save by not buying wool, is more than exceeded by what you buy in cotton.

If in due humility a confession can be made, permit me to say, that four years ago, when I came into this place, I was confident that great saving could be accomplished by changes and consolidations in Departments, and I purposed then to do that very thing.

I have been in close contact almost daily with every Department in and for the State government, and I say to you frankly now many changes could be made; much re-arranging can be done, but if the activities that are being carried on are to be continued and as efficient as now, you will find that the savings from all the changes will be but negligible.

True, there are some overlappings in the activities, but when the real facts are understood, you will do as have your predecessors, continue the work.

I do not advocate that you create more positions or commissions, for I am persuaded that there are few, if any new activities, that the State can enter wherein there is not already a government agency that can be utilized.

For illustration, there is the activity to be performed by the so-called "Industrial Court." If you should decide to adopt this as a State policy, you can, with great saving to the State, use the already established and long standing courts.

The thing I do wish to emphasize, is that this government, which you find here and the various agencies thereof, did not accidentally happen. They are the product of brain, and character, and patriotism, equal with that which you bring to the service of the State.

Always there are those, who while seeking office, slur the employees of the State and make the charge that they loaf on the job and fatten off the public. I shall not discuss this matter further than to suggest that if you have doubt of the work performed by the State employees, you first make careful investigation, as I have, and second, that you visit the homes or places of abode of these same employees and see if you find evidence of opulence.

You will ascertain, as you tarry here and become acquainted, that the men and women who do the work and keep the wheels of government going, are ordinary, honest, conscientious folks, always on the lookout for the best interests of the State.

I grant you that there may be in some of our sister States, need for change, but let me remind you that when these sister States have made all their changes, they will not have reduced in comparison with Iowa, for they but attempt what we did years ago when the Board of Control, the Executive Council and Board of Education were adopted. Through these three Departments, most of the State's taxes are expended, and they are expended in an economical and businesslike way.

Changes will be made by this Legislature. You will make some reductions—you will make some additions. The sum total of it all will be, when you have finished, that a little progress will be made, and you will have discovered that what is, in government in Iowa, is the result of the best brain and the best heart that Iowa has been able to produce.

CONCLUSION

In closing let me make acknowledgment of confidence bestowed by a gracious and good people.

These legislative halls and every office and corridor in this building, are filled with echoing memories that will sweeten as the years come and go.

The electorate of this great State permitted me to occupy the highest office in their gift, during the stirring and dramatic hours of the world's greatest conflict in bloody warfare. The matchless record of this State, in service and leadership, is a monument, more enduring than granite or bronze.

I crave only that hereon, in humble place, somewhere among the names of those who rendered service, my name may be carved.

I am submitting herewith, and by this reference making a part hereof, a report relative to the improvements which have been made, and the future improvements which are proposed in order to complete the capitol grounds extension.

"All of the pavement, with the exception of one or two small patches now under contract, and that on two boundary streets, East 12th street and East 13th street, has been completed. All of the grounds, with the exception of approximately eight acres, have been graded, finished to the landscape architect's plans, prepared, and sodded or planted to permanent lawn.

Concrete curbing and pavement sidewalks, either concrete or penetration macadam, have been completed on all of the grounds north of Court avenue, with the exception of those along Grand avenue. These improvements on Grand avenue have been delayed by the construction of the heating tunnel.

Electroliers and an underground system of conduits and cables have been installed on all of the main streets and drives within the capitol extension zone with the exception of Court avenue and Grand avenue, which are now lighted by the city of Des Moines.

A water system for watering the lawn, trees and shrubs connecting with the city water mains, has been installed on practically the entire grounds.

Provision has been made on the areas which are permanently graded. for both surface and underground drainage. This drainage connects with the city sewer system.

Ten hundred forty-four trees and seventy-eight hundred square yards of shrub beds have been planted on the grounds. Wherever it was possible, the trees which existed on the original grounds were saved or transplanted, but the greater portion of these trees have been furnished by Iowa nurserymen, shipped to Des Moines and planted by experienced men.

A new heating tunnel, eight feet in width by nine and one-half feet in height has been constructed from the location of the proposed new power plant to the old heating tunnel, which connects the present power plant with the capitol building. In this new tunnel, provision has been made for connection with present and future buildings. The construction of the tunnel is one of the largest and most important features of the entire development. Provision has been made for carrying conduit and pipe lines along the roof of this structure, leaving ample room for the transportation of freight and express through the tunnel to the various buildings.

I believe that provision should be made for the completion of the above mentioned improvements as rapidly as possible. It is vitally important that the grading be completed and the planting continued, since it requires years for the lawn, trees and other plant life to become properly established. It is also essential that suitable walks be provided along the streets leading to the various points of interest on the grounds. In this connection, it will be necessary to construct several sets of steps on the terraces to connect existing walks.

At the present time Grand avenue, through the capitol grounds, is not sufficiently illuminated. Provision should be made by the state for the proper lighting of this street as well as for the area south of Court avenue.

In 1919 a site adjacent to the railroad was purchased for the proposed new power plant, general and detailed plans for the building prepared, and the greater part of the excavating for the foundations completed. In making the excavation, we encountered a vein of good coal, varying in depth from three to six feet, and from this source we have furnished the power plant with the greater portion of fuel since last April.

The plans for this building contemplate the construction of a large storage house in connection with the plant. At the present time, all supplies must be delivered either to the capitol building, to be unpacked in the corridors, or to the present storage house, which is inadequate to meet present needs. In addition to this, every pound of coal used must be transported from the tracks to the plant, which is not equipped to handle the heating and lighting of any additional buildings, or to provide for the storage of a sufficient quantity of coal.

I therefore recommend that an appropriation be made for the construction of this building.

In the development of the grounds, we have adhered as closely as possible to the original Masqueray plan. However, at the direction of the executive council, we have prepared a plan, showing their ideas as to the future development of these grounds. Upon the advice of their landscape architect and engineer, and their four years' experience in the past development of the original plan, the executive council suggests that in case of future development, this plan be considered. Among other things that this plan contemplates is the construction of a greenhouse, a suitable governor's mansion, a re-design of the original capitol grounds to conform with the new, the purchase of some additional property, and a revision in the design at the south end of the grounds, due to the enormous slide which took place at this point during the past year.

This slide progressed to such a point as to block traffic on the Ft. Dodge, Des Moines & Southern Railroad, in spite of the fact that this company had for several days been operating a ditcher at this point in an effort to keep the track open. At the direction of the executive council, a conference of engineers was called to determine, if possible, the course of the slide, and to make recommendations to provide relief. It was the opinion of this conference that the slide was caused by the collection of water on an impervious clay or shale until a sufficient quantity had collected to thoroughly saturate the overlying material and lubricate the surface of this impervious material sufficiently for sliding to take place. This conference recommended the immediate removal of the sliding earth and the council proceeded in accordance with their recommendations, a copy of which is on file with the secretary of the executive council.

Due to the fact that there has been such an enormous increase in both the price of material and labor within the past two years, the remaining funds will not be sufficient to complete the development as originally planned. If the cost of the tunnel, the excavation at the power plant, and the excavation to relieve the condition of the above mentioned slide, had not been paid out of the capitol extension funds, we would have been in position to very nearly complete the improvements contemplated, with the original appropriation, in spite of the increased cost. Plans and estimates for the completion of these improvements are on file in this office, and I believe that further appropriations should be made to continue the development.

Some of the improvements on the grounds have been completed to such an extent that the state is now confronted with the question of adequate maintenance. Not only will the electric and water system require attention, but the lawn, the trees, shrubs and flowers will demand constant care. This work, together with the proper policing of the grounds, will require a permanent force of men. In this connection, I believe that since the duties of the custodian are so greatly different from those of the adjutant general, it would be advisable to separate the two.

I wish to recommend that the present duties of the custodian be transferred to the executive council, authorizing them to employ a superintendent of grounds and buildings, whose duties would include not only those of the present custodian, but also the maintenance of the completed work on the extended grounds."

REPORT OF THE TEMPLE OF JUSTICE COMMITTEE

To the Members of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

The temple of justice committee herewith submits the following report:

The temple of justice committee created by chapter 349, laws of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, first met soon after the legislature adjourned and before the law creating the commission went into effect. This meeting was without expense to the state and was held for the purpose of being ready to go on with the work as soon as the law went into effect creating the commission.

The committee was called together by Chief Justice Ladd on July 9, 1919, in the consultation room of the supreme court. The committee was composed of the following members: Chief Justice Ladd, Governor W. L. Harding, Secretary of State W. C. Ramsay, Auditor of State F. S. Shaw, Treasurer of State E. H. Hoyt, Senators W. G. Haskell and Clem F. Kimball and Representatives A. O. Hauge and W. F. Moore. Mr. W. C. Ramsay was appointed permanent secretary of the committee.

The matter of the selection of architects for the erection of the temple of justice was first taken up. Chief Justice Ladd explained his interviews and correspondence with various architects and the committee then decided to select a board of architects consisting of five architects or firms of architects. A canvass of the ballots cast disclosed the following selections:

Temple and Burrows, Davenport, Iowa.

Boyd and Moore, Des Moines, Iowa.

Wm. L. Steele, Sioux City, Iowa.

Proudfoot, Bird & Rawson, Des Moines, Iowa.

W. J. Brown, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Power to select the chief architect remained with the committee.

The chairman was instructed to notify the various architects of their selection, and a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Harding, Hoyt and Ramsay, was appointed to confer with these architects to make the preliminary arrangements.

All of the state house officials and the various departments that under the law are in the future to be housed in the temple of justice were called before the committee and their needs presented as to room in the new building. A full report of the needs of each department and officers was given the board of architects somewhat modified as recommended.

On July 17, 1919, the sub-committee named above met in the governor's rooms to confer with the board of architects. The general plan or program was presented to the architects by Governor Harding.

Mr. W. J. Brown reported that the several firms of architects had agreed to recommend that Temple & Burrows be designated to prepare plans and specifications and that the remaining four firms act as associate architects. Mr. Rawson of the firm of Proudfoot, Bird & Rawson stated that the architects had agreed upon a division of the remuneration and recommended that such remuneration be 6% of the cost of the building. The sub-committee then adjourned.

The next meeting of the whole committee was held on September 3, 1919, at which time the report of the sub-committee was received and placed on file.

The question of the selection of the architect in chief was then taken up. A misunderstanding had grown up among the firms of architects that they had authority to choose the architects in chief from among their number and had taken action in accordance with this belief, as shown by the minutes of the sub-committee above referred to. It was again moved by the committee that the selection of the architect in chief was of such importance that it should not be delegated and that selection should be made by the committee as a whole. This motion was carried unanimously and the committee then proceeded to the selection of the architect in chief. The result of the balloting disclosed the selection of the firm of Proudfoot, Bird & Rawson of Des Moines, Iowa.

A committee composed of Messrs. Ladd, Haskell and Moore was named to confer with the Des Moines architects.

The manner of payment of expenses incurred by members of the committee was discussed and a finance and audit committee, consisting of Messrs. Shaw, Hoyt and Hauge, was appointed to pass upon all bills and if authorized by the full committee and approved by this committee of three then said bills to be turned over to the regular auditing committee of the state and paid as other expenditures of the state. At a later meeting the expense of out of town members was included in the bills authorized and allowed by the full committee.

The next meeting of the committee was held on October 8, 1919. A committee consisting of Messrs. Kimball and Moore was appointed to confer with the attorney general for the purpose of drafting a contract for the architectural work on the temple of justice, same to be submitted to the whole committee for approval.

The committee decided to have a conference with the various architects severally on the proposition of paying 4% on the cost of construction to the chief architect and $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% to each of the associate architects. Mr. Burrows and Mr. Steele were then called and the above proposition was then submitted to them. They withdrew and, after a conference, submitted a counter proposition providing for a flat fee to each of the consulting firms of \$5,000.00 or, if the fee remained 5% of the cost of construction, then the division of fees as originally agreed to by the architects, be as follows: 2-3 of the total fee to the chief architect and 1-3 to be divided equally among the four consulting firms. After this counter proposal was received it was agreed that Steele and Burrows enter into a conference with the other architects to ascertain if a satisfactory agreement could be reached. They were unable to do this and the counter proposal was rejected.

The committee then agreed that the architects in chief should be allowed for their work as architects in chief and as superintendent of construction the sum of 4% on the actual cost of the building and that each of the consulting architects should receive $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% of the actual cost of the building, and the chairman and secretary of the committee were authorized to execute, in accordance with this agreement, the contracts with the various architects.

Senator Kimball, from the committee appointed to confer with the attorney general upon a contract for the architectural work, submitted a tentative draft of such contract, which was discussed, section by section, and approved, subject to minor corrections by the chairman and the attorney general.

Mr. Proudfoot stated that he contemplated a trip east to inspect public buildings relative to exterior and interior finishing and different styles of architecture, and requested as many members of the committee to accompany him as possible. The suggestion of the architect in chief was approved.

The next meeting was held on January 8, 1920, Messrs. Kimball, Hauge and Hoyt, who had accompanied Mr. Proudfoot on his trip, made a detailed verbal report of this trip, and the various types of public buildings they had inspected.

Messrs. Proudfoot and Rawson were then called and reported that the architects had had a meeting on January 5th and several recommendations on the part of the architects were submitted as follows:

(1) That the site assigned to the building be enlarged in order to give the building a proper architectural setting.

(2) That the building be located to front west, with the east and west axis on the east and west axis of the capitol, the front of the building to be approximately 90 feet from the east line of 12th street, leaving approximately 450 feet between the two buildings.

(3) If the above recommendations be adopted, that a sketch known as No. 5, submitted herewith, be adopted as the provisional plan for the building, subject to necessary revision from time to time.

(4) That the first contract for construction provide for enclosing the building only, and that bids be taken for the exterior done in marble, granite and Bedford stone, the architects' preference for materials being in the order named.

Recommendations 1 and 2 were taken up and Messrs. Moore and Kimball were appointed to draw up a resolution relative to the adoption of same.

Recommendation 3 was adopted and blue print No. 5 was accepted as the provisional plan for the building, subject to necessary revision from time to time.

Recommendation 4 was also adopted.

Mr. Kimball, from the committee appointed to draw up a resolution relative to recommendations 1 and 2, presented a resolution in form similar to one that had already been adopted by the executive council, in substance briefly as follows:

Whereas, Section 1400-t2, supplement to the code, 1913, contemplated the erection of two buildings on the ground between Grand avenue on the north, 13th street on the east, Walnut street on the south and 12th street on the west; and chapter 349, laws of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, contemplates the building of a temple of justice to take the place of the two buildings above referred to, the exact location of which was not designated in this chapter; and

Whereas, The ground designated for the supreme court building and the office building is required for the temple of justice provided for by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly; and

Whereas, There is no specific designation existing in the plans adopted by the Thirty-fifth General Assembly for such a building as is provided for by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly; and

Whereas, The location suggested for the supreme court building is not adequate in size for the temple of justice provided for by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly; and

Whereas, the architects have recommended the utilization of these two sites; therefore,

Resolved, That recommendations (1) and (2) of the architects relative to the location of the proposed building on this site be adopted.

The blue prints submitted by the architects were taken up for further discussion and it was decided to alter the light courts, making them 38 feet wide instead of 46 feet, thus adding 8 feet to the stacks.

A committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Harding, Hoyt, Ramsay and Shaw, with authority to employ O. W. Crowley as secretary of this committee and to render services as construction engineer.

This committee was also instructed to request the executive council to provide a room for the use of the temple of justice committee.

Payment of the expenses of the members of the committee who made the trip to the East was authorized.

The next meeting was held on March 30, 1920. The following members of the firms of architects appeared before the committee: Harry D. Rawson, S. J. Temple, B. B. Boyd and W. J. Brown. They presented a sketch of the proposed building, showing the west frontage. The general architectural design as presented was approved.

Drawings of the stacks for the library were then presented and informally discussed.

The architects were then informed that it was the wish of the committee that they proceed with the plans as directed and that they prepare plans for the finishing of the building, reporting the same to the whole committee within 60 days.

The next meeting was held on June 14, 1920. Messrs. Proudfoot and Boyd presented the completed plans, also a plaster miniature model of the proposed building. Objection was made by Senator Haskell to the entrance on the east side. A general discussion of the plans followed.

Mr. Proudfoot was then asked to present sketches illustrating the different ideas of the committee, but that he present, to be attached to this miniature model, what he and the other architects thought to be the practical design.

The tentative plans and the design, as illustrated by the miniature, except the matter of the east entrance, were approved.

The next meeting was held on July 14, 1920. Messrs. Proudfoot and Rawson presented the miniature model, with alterations in the east entrance as per the suggestions made at the last meeting. The plan for the east entrance was adopted. It was then moved that the plans as presented by the architects and as having been adopted heretofore by virtue of the tentative approval of the main structure and then by the approval of the east entrance, be adopted as the plans for the temple of justice. The motion was carried.

A resolution was then adopted calling for bids on the work so far as outlined. A committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Ladd, Hoyt and Hauge, with authority to proceed, in conjunction with the architects, in the securing of bids. The advertising for bids to be taken care of by the architects.

The next meeting was held on September 29, 1920, in the office of the treasurer of state. Bids submitted on the proposed building were opened and read. Bids were received for all or a part of the items covered in the advertisement for bids from the following:

Charles Weitz' Sons, Des Moines, Iowa.
Arthur H. Neumann & Co., Des Moines, Iowa.
W. F. Kucharo & Co., Des Moines, Iowa.
J. E. Tusant & Son Co., Des Moines, Iowa.
John A. Benson Construction Co., Des Moines, Iowa.
Garmer-Stiles Co., Des Moines, Iowa.
J. A. McDonald Construction Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
Woodbury Granite Co., Bethel, Vt.
J. D. Sargent Granite Co., Mt. Airy, N. C.
Des Moines Marble & Mantel Co., Des Moines, Iowa.
The John Swenson Granite Co., Concord, N. H.
John Clark Co., Rockville, Minn.
Vermont Marble Co., Proctor, Vt.
Ingalls Stone Co., Bedford, Ind.
The Consolidated Stone Co., Bedford, Ind.
Backman Sheet Metal Works, Des Moines, Iowa.
Des Moines Sheet Metal Co., Des Moines, Iowa.

On October 6, 1920, the committee reconvened in adjourned session.

Representatives of the various firms which had submitted bids were called before the committee to explain their bids or to display samples of stone from their quarries.

The committee adopted a resolution providing that it was the opinion of the committee that the temple of justice should be constructed of Mt. Airy granite from foundation work to the base line of the superstructure, and Vermont marble be used for the superstructure of the building.

Owing to the rising cost of building construction, which steadily advanced from the time the appropriation was made until the peak of high prices was reached in 1920, your committee has deferred letting contracts for construction hoping that without seriously delaying progress the contracts for construction might be let on a falling market. The advance in building cost from January, 1919, to the peak in 1920, was about 60%.

From the bids submitted it was found that the temple of justice could not be built of the materials adopted by the committee or of any suitable materials, within the appropriations for the purpose evidently contemplated by the legislature, and a resolution was adopted providing that all bids be rejected and that a committee be appointed to co-operate with the architects and present to the next General Assembly the proposition that the building shall be constructed of Mt. Airy granite base, and Vermont marble superstructure on the plans as prepared and adopted, and that additional appropriation sufficient to complete the building according to the plans and specifications be requested from the next General Assembly.

A sub-committee consisting of Senator Haskell, chairman, Mr. Hauge and Mr. Ramsay was appointed to co-operate with the architects and present these matters to the Thirty-ninth General Assembly.

A detailed statement of expenditures by the committee is hereto appended.

Respectfully submitted,

IOWA STATE BUDGET

Governor Harding also presented to the General Assembly, as a part of his message, the following budget and statement:

Herewith I submit budget report as provided by Chapter 9, Title II, Supplemental Supplement to the Code. This chapter provides (1) that every officer, board, commission or committee having charge of any department or institution or undertaking, which receive an annual appropriation of money from the Treasury of the State, shall biennially submit to the Governor statement showing in detail the amount appropriated for the current biennial period, estimates of the amounts required for the ensuing biennial period with an explanation of the reason for any increased appropriation, and all receipts and expenditures for the current biennial period tabulated; (2) that the Governor, on the date fixed by law for presenting to the General Assembly his message shall, at the same time, submit the budget.

The tables herein have been made as concise as possible with a view to giving the main facts regarding the finances, transactions and needs of all the different departments of the state government.

The columns of appropriations for the biennial period gives the amounts available for each department for each specific purpose as provided in the Code or by the Thirty-seventh General Assembly for the biennium ending June 30, 1921. The authority for each appropriation is indicated.

The next column gives the expenditures actually made for each department, divided as to specific purposes, so far as possible, for the first year of the biennial period under this appropriation. The succeeding column gives that which will be expended or which is available for use in the second year of the period. Where there has been expenditure and where further expenditures are possible, but no specific sum indicated as an appropriation, it is because of a continuing or indefinite appropriation dependent entirely on the needs of the department for this particular item.

Under the head of estimated expenditures is given two columns in which is set forth the estimate of the department or office or board as to that which is needed or will be used or should be made available for the specific items indicated for the biennial period which the Thirty-ninth General Assembly will provide for. It will be borne in mind that these estimates are from the heads of departments made to the Governor or recommended to the legislature. They are given to indicate what the department estimates as actually necessary for the work to be done.

It will be noted that the statement of appropriations and expenditures given by these departments does not in all cases correspond to the books of the State Auditor or State Treasurer, but the discrepancies are of minor importance and indicate only a difference in keeping the accounts.

The increase in compensation indicated for the Adjutant General and the Assistant Adjutant General is felt to be justified, not only because of the great increase in the volume of work, and additional responsibility placed on this department, but also by the fact that living expenses have increased beyond the compensation allowed, and for which no consideration has been given in the past two years.

The increase in compensation indicated for the Q. M. and U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer cannot be considered as an increase, but it is so indicated as to comply with the provisions of the Iowa Code in reference to a State employee drawing two salaries. This officer is to be paid by the State only such part of the salary asked as is not paid by the Federal Government, but he cannot draw over $2,700 from the State.

Department estimates for next biennium are not entered in reference to general office employees, owing to the fact that they come under and are paid from the regular appropriation for the support of the National Guard, and consequently should be under the direct control of the Governor as Commander-in-Chief, thus permitting the employment of efficient help as needed by the department to keep pace with the increase of troops organized under the requirements of Federal law.

The placing the National Guard under the provisions of Chapter 272, Laws of the 38th G. A., creates a condition which makes impossible the efficient administration and conduct of this department, in that the employment of sufficient and efficient help is curtailed and cannot keep pace with the increase of troops organized under the requirements of the Federal law. It is recommended that this department be restored to its original status provided, for in the Military Code of Iowa.

The items of expenses include all activities of the Adjutant General's Department, including the salary of the Adjutant General, Assistant Adjutant General and Record Clerk, which in the past has not been paid from the regular appropriation for the support of the National Guard.

Note.—The appropriation of $20,000 for the biennial period ending June 30, 1921, was an estimate, its only basis being similar but not so extensive work for the old Iowa War Roster Commission, which compiled similar records of the Civil, Spanish-American war, etc. There has been delay in the work, caused by the failure of the Adjutant General of the Army to deliver individual soldier records promptly as directed by the Congress. Attention is invited to the expenditure for moving pictures of Iowa soldiers, directed by Chapter 331, Acts of the 38th G. A., the second largest item, and printing of form cards, the third largest item, which have been completed and will not have to be met again. The Commission will have on hand June 30, 1921, about $5,000.

During the past two years this department has experienced many difficulties in securing and retaining competent and efficient employees. This is due to the fact that other departments in the State House and business houses in the city have been paying from $25 to $30 a month more for persons doing clerical work and stenographers than we are allowed to pay under the present wage schedule for this department. We feel that we should, at least, be allowed to pay our employees salaries equal to those paid elsewhere for the same services.

BOARD OF PAROLE.

Secretary's salary -----	Code S. 5718-a25 Ch. 272-38G. A. S. 5718-a25	$ 5,400.00	$ 2,700.00	$ 2,700.00	$ 2,700	$ 2,700

		$ 5,400.00	$ 27,759.32	$ 2,700.00	$ 32,700	$ 32,700

Included in the total of expenses of assistants is the allowance of $200 per annum made by the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform as additional compensation to the File Clerk, whose salary is $1,300. The important duty performed by that assistant merits a salary of $1,800 per annum, and our estimate covers that increase. An additional parole agent is needed to keep proper supervision of men on parole, and the increase in estimate above made is to cover that necessary expenditure also.

The office of custodian has been filled by the Adjutant General, but it is not a satisfactory arrangement from the standpoint of efficiency. His regular duties as Adjutant General have increased to such an extent it is impossible for him to give the time and attention to proper supervision of the State property, so essential for its care and maintenance. It is recommended that a custodian be provided for as indicated hereon, or the administration of this department be transferred to the Executive Council. The assistant carpenter, painter and additional yard men are absolutely necessary to care for the great amount of work necessary to the maintenance of the buildings and grounds.

I have found it difficult to retain competent persons in the different departments of this office at the salary provided. The personnel of my force has entirely changed since the Thirty-eighth General Assembly adjourned. Better wages are paid in other employment. The work of this office is largely technical and it is a loss to the State to have frequent changes.

The 38th General Assembly allowed us an appropriation of $38,000, which, at that time, the former Chief Oil Inspector, Mr. J. P. Risley, thought would be adequate to meet our expenses. This sum has proven insufficient for our needs as will be shown by the following statement:

Net receipts, year 1919-20.....	$57,389.95
Expenses, year 1919-20.....	42,839.85
Net balance	$14,550.10
Total appropriation, 38th G. A.....	$38,000.00
Total expense, year 1919-20.....	42,839.85
Deficit at end of year.....	$ 4,839.85

On March 9, 1920, we petitioned the Retrenchment and Reform Committee for (a) a blanket increase in salaries of $25 per month each; (b) the employment of a stenographer at $100 per month; (c) an emergency increased appropriation of $4,000.

On March 16, 1920, the Retrenchment and Reform Committee by resolution of even date granted our petition.

Under the statement as herein made the showing of our biennial report and the following arguments and reasons advanced, we earnestly petition your recommendation to the coming legislature for—

- (a) An emergency appropriation of $17,000.
- (b) An annual appropriation of $55,000.

WHY INCREASED SALARIES WERE REQUESTED. Our business has increased to such large proportions within the past year that it necessitates our men employing all their time in the discharge of their duties, and in many instances their time is crowded, to the utmost, and we are having a great deal of difficulty to keep good men on the force on account of the wages being inadequate to meet the high cost of living. Since the organization of the Oil Inspection Department, there has been no increase in the salaries of the inspectors, and, as we have been at all times a self-sustaining department, we feel justified in asking your support and an increased appropriation.

The Legislative body has been laboring under the impression that the inspectors of this department, being old soldiers with pensions, were receiving ample compensation from the state, but we are now at a place wherein approximately half our men are young soldiers of the World War who rely upon their salaries as their only means of support. In view of the fact that these inspectors are placed in positions of honor and trust (each furnishing a bond of $5,000), we think they are entitled to wages equivalent to those in less responsible positions who are employed by the State of Iowa.

Owing to the growth of our department, we were compelled to ask for additional help in the office. Our clerk, for the past five years, has had to assume the entire detail work of the office and perform the duties of file clerk, stenographer, clerk and bookkeeper, which is far too strenuous for any one person. You will readily see the necessity of this additional help.

*Owing to a deputy not having qualified, $152.86 in salary was unpaid.

†Fees are paid to chiefs of fire departments, mayors and township clerks for reporting fires, and to township clerks mileage is paid.

The balance remaining in "general" appropriation must be charged off at end of fiscal year. The balance therein June 30, 1920, was $1.77.

The "contingent" fund balance is not charged off until end of biennial year but the balance in this fund June 30, 1920, was $238.48.

In presenting my estimate for appropriation for the next biennial period I desire to call your attention to the needs of this department.

In the first place the salaries are inadequate for the services rendered.

The fire marshal not only has charge of the office but does both investigation and inspection work in order to keep the work up.

My deputy has had more than seven years of experience and is a valuable asset to the office.

The first assistant is a man of many years' experience as an investigator.

The second assistant is not only an experienced man as an electrician but as an investigator and inspector.

My secretary is a most capable person and does all of the book work and stenographic work, and is capable of earning more than the amount asked for.

As a matter of fact, the efficiency of the entire office force is one hundred per cent and they should be paid a reasonable salary for the services rendered.

It is also necessary to increase the amount for traveling expense and subsistence in order to keep the men in the field making inspections in addition to the investigation of suspicious fires.

The contingent fund asked for is very small for the purposes intended.

The mileage of ten cents per mile, one way, for township clerks is entirely too small. This should be increased to at least ten cents per mile for every mile actually traveled in investigating rural fires, and from the complaints received from the township clerks there will no doubt be an effort made to have the mileage fee increased, which, if allowed, will increase the mileage fees about $350 per year.

It is furthermore requested that in all cases the head of the department shall not be obliged to pay the high salary to new help, but shall place such help on a graduated scale commensurate with ability and length of service, making the salaries asked for as a maximum and the salaries now effective as a minimum.

The records of this office will show for themselves that we are doing more work with less expense than any other state in the Union.

During the past year we have had to have help a number of times from the Retrenchment and Reform Committee. We found it impossible to replace those who left at the salary which we were permitted to pay.

The number of Consolidated Schools has almost doubled during the past year, and it makes it very necessary to have more funds in order to be of any benefit whatever to these schools.

The State Aid for Standard Schools will be consumed at the end of the present year. The estimate for the Mining Camp Schools has been made after a conference with both the operators and the union organization.

I suggest the following: State School Architect, Psychologist and Health Supervisor, Statistician and Editor. Last year we spent several millions for new buildings, and thousands of dollars might have been saved for the State, had there been someone who could help make plans for the work.

I most heartily recommend an appropriation of $50,000 to cover the administration of the office. I can see no reason why the details of expense should be fixed in this office any more than they are in any of the state institutions.

This budget does not include the budget for vocational education.

*Expended in year 1919.

†Expended in year 1920.

During the year 1919 there was paid out of the appropriation for incidental expenses of the Supreme Court, under the direction of the Chief Justice, $1,044.85, and out of such appropriation there has been paid in 1920 up to this time, $673.55. This leaves $526.45 yet available.

Many of the law books made use of by the judges are out of repair and need repairing, and an additional amount should be appropriated to enable the court to have these valuable books put in order. For this reason we are recommending that the appropriation for incidental expenses be increased to $2,000 per annum, or $4,000 for the next biennial period. Of course, any part of this appropriation not economically used will revert to the treasurer.

The bailiff's salary was but $1,500 per year during the two years last past. This should be increased to at least $1,800 or $2,000 per annum. The stenographers for the judges were not all paid $125 a month during the entire year of 1919, but have been paid that amount during the latter part of 1919 and in 1920. The appropriation for such stenographers should continue as heretofore, that is, for the seven clerks $10,500 a year, at the lowest, and the legislature might well increase the allowance to $150 per month and leave the increase of salary optional to the judges. This would make $12,600 per annum.

*The additional $300,000 asked for was decided on at a conference of the Commission of Animal Health, live stock raisers and the officials of cities and towns who are interested in the eradication of tuberculosis in the State of Iowa, due to the fact that the present appropriation of $100,000 is inadequate to carry on the work as rapidly as the citizens demand. At the present time we are compelled to slow up in the work on account of shortage of funds. In taking over the office of State Veterinarian July 1, 1920, I was confronted with these conditions; there were unpaid claims by owners who had animals condemned and slaughtered on account of being affected with tuberculosis amounting to $29,736.32, also bills of assistant state veterinarians for per diem and expense amounting to $3,077.57 together with minor accounts amounting to $535.18, all of which should have been paid out of the appropriation for the fiscal year 1919-1920, making a total of $33,349.07. This amount naturally reduced the appropriation for the fiscal year 1920-1921.

APPROPRIATIONS.—(a) General Maintenance Fund. The support fund of the Highway Commission as provided in Section 45, Chapter 237, Acts of the 38th General Assembly, consists of 2½ % of the licenses collected for registering motor vehicles with the provision that the unexpended balance remaining at the end of the biennial period shall be placed to the credit of the Primary Road Fund and shall be prorated among the several counties as are other moneys accruing to said fund.

The following is a statement showing the income from the above-named source during the past four years, the receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1920, being set out by months. In noting these amounts it should be born in mind that the percentage of license fees set aside for the maintenance of the Highway Commission prior to January 1, 1920, was 5 % and that after said date the amount so set aside was 2½ %.

(b) Federal Aid Engineering Fund. Section 42, Chapter 237, Acts of the 38th General Assembly, charges the State Highway Commission with carrying out the provisions of said act and provides for defraying the expense of such service, as follows:

The Treasurer of State is directed to set aside from the Primary Road Fund (motor vehicle licenses) such sum as the Highway Commission shall estimate is needed to defray the cost of preparing plans and specifications for federal aid road projects during the ensuing year. The sum thus set aside shall be known as the Federal Aid Engineering Fund.

The Highway Commission shall pay the expense of preparing such plans and specifications from its regular Maintenance Fund, but at the end of each month an itemized statement of such expenses shall be filed with the Auditor of State who shall draw a warrant transferring the amount of said statement from the Federal Aid Engineering Fund to the general Maintenance Fund of the Highway Commission.

Estimated Requirements for Biennial Period 1921-1923.

A detailed estimate of expenditures for the next biennial period is attached hereto. This statement shows separately the expense attached to the administering of the duties of the State Highway Commission under the provisions of Section 1571-m32 S. S. and that attached to the administering of the Federal Aid Law as provided in Chapter 249, Acts of the 38th General Assembly, and Chapter 237, Acts of the 38th General Assembly.

As the progress of road construction outlined for the next several years is greater than that which has been handled during the last year, some increase in the estimated cost of carrying on the work has been shown.

The State Board of Control and State Board of Education submitted the following reports:

DES MOINES, IOWA, JANUARY 11, 1921.

To the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

Complying with the provisions of Section 5, Chapter 366, Session Laws of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, "Disposition of Property, Etc.," owned by the state and known as the State Hospital for Inebriates, located at Knoxville, Iowa, the State Board of Education and the Board of Control of State Institutions met in joint conference and, after mature deliberation and discussion of the subject, decided that the buildings of said state institution and the land upon which same are erected be leased to the United States Public Health Service to be used by the federal government as a hospital for the care and treatment of soldiers of the world war.

Thereupon the Board of Control of State Institutions entered into a lease with the United States Public Health Service, said lease running to July 1, 1924. We ask that said lease be confirmed by your Honorable Body.

Since entering into the before-mentioned contract the United States government has expressed a desire to purchase the property.

We recommend that the State Executive Council be authorized to sell said lands and buildings, and that the monies derived from such sale be placed to the credit of the general fund of the state.

Respectfully submitted,

GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Members of the Senate and House of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

It is impossible for me adequately to acknowledge my indebtedness to the generous people of Iowa for the great distinction they have conferred upon me. I am profoundly impressed by the tremendous obligations which I assume at this hour, and in all humility of spirit I look for light and leading to the great Governor of the Universe.

I cannot be indifferent to the fact that I am inducted to this station after a political contest of unexampled asperity, in which personal antagonism and partisan rancor were acutely aroused. This was regrettable, of course, but a tranquil philosophy enables one to forgive the aim and to forget the wound. As I undertake the exacting labors of this exalted office not a single sentiment of animosity actuates me toward anybody who may have assailed me in the campaign just concluded. Is it not permissible, therefore, that I invite those who have opposed me to unite with those who have sustained me in magnanimous rivalry to fortify the welfare of our beloved commonwealth, to whose fortunes we are all so devotedly attached? Iowa is a grand State, and deserves to be grandly governed. Her citizenship is the most enlightened, the most patriotic, the most progressive, beneath the stars and stripes. It is fairly entitled to every blessing that can be attained through the manifold agencies of organized society. I enter upon the weighty responsibilities of the Governorship without pledge or promise of any description to any individual or group of individuals upon any subject whatsoever. I confess allegiance only to my solemn covenant with the whole electorate to render in return for the preferment bestowed upon me the uttermost that in me lies toward an honest, efficient and economical administration of their affairs. I know where attention will be focused in the months immediately to come, and I expect to be subjected to a high degree of accountability. I shall abide the severest scrutiny of my public conduct, for I shall be merely the temporary servant of the sovereign people, amenable to them for every official act. I shall accept with hospitality always their advice and counsel, for I am deeply persuaded that no man has been sufficiently endowed by the Creator to perform alone the difficult duties of this position. Therefore, the Executive office will, while I occupy it, belong to the men and women of Iowa, irrespective of race, creed or color. With an assured reliance upon the beneficent favor of Almighty God, I invoke the helpful co-operation of my fellow citizens.

It is not the legitimate function of an inaugural address, as I conceive its true character, to indicate a definite legislative program to be pursued by the General Assembly. Without offending the occasion, however, I may present some general observations, to be followed later by specific recommendations as their propriety may be manifest.

This Legislature has inherited from its predecessor the revision of the code—a task of immense magnitude and incalculable importance which cannot longer be deferred. The way to revise the code is to revise it, as expeditiously as may be, with a maximum of care, at a minimum of cost. The work cannot be unduly hurried, but it should be entered upon at as early a date as practicable, and prosecuted with all possible diligence to its early consummation. It is doubtful if it can be entirely accomplished within the limits usually assigned to a regular session, but such progress may be made that a subsequent session, if necessary to complete it, will be of comparatively brief duration. When it is remembered that there is involved not merely the verification of the compiled code with its 9,589 sections, but a most searching inspection of every phrase embodied in the 253 bills submitted by the code commission, the labor entailed upon you may be partially appreciated. The procedure now in contemplation has been formulated by your committee after the maturest deliberation by those best qualified to consider the subject, and I believe it is the most feasible one that can be adopted in the circumstances.

You as the General Assembly and I as the Executive will grievously disappoint the just expectations of the State if we fail to institute the most rigid economy in all expenditures of every character. The people are staggering under burdens almost too oppressive for them to support, and while they are compelled to practice a judicious frugality themselves, they are in no mood to tolerate a prodigal extravagance in those they have selected to represent them. The period of our convening is a critical one, in which retrenchment rather than expansion must be our unvarying policy. We have not yet entirely sobered from the intoxication engendered by the war, during which feverish time we became accustomed to calculate in billions, and it is humiliating to condescend to compute in thousands. We shall be solicited for appropriations aggregating a stupendous total and every asking must be sharply investigated. Concerning each appropriation requested at our hands certain fundamental tests may well be applied: (1) Is it necessary that it be granted at all? (2) Is it necessary that it be granted to this extent? And (3) Is it necessary that it be granted now? If, without impairment of the public interest, it can be denied altogether, or diminished in amount, or postponed to a more prosperous season, the alternative should be embraced as the case may be. We are the disbursers of the funds of the State, and it has no revenues whatever except those extracted directly or indirectly from the pockets of the taxpayers. We must not allow the current levy to be increased while the cost of everything the people have to buy remains abnormal, and the price of everything they have to sell continues to decline. We are the trustees of a sacred trust, and we owe it to the voters whose agents we are to transact the business to which they have commissioned us as carefully and as prudently as we would transact our own.

I believe that some reforms can be initiated whereby the expenses of government may be materially reduced, and I intend to suggest one or two topics for consideration.

I start with the various boards, bureaus and commissions which have been created by law, and in respect of them I have to say that in my judgment they are altogether more numerous than is warranted by good administration. They have been created from time to time as in recent years the activities of the State have multiplied, and because those activities have not been properly systematized and co-ordinated. The result, as might have been apprehended, is overlapping of duties, duplication of powers, confusion of authority, and the waste which unavoidably accompanies such disorder. My study of conditions has confirmed me in the opinion that some of these agencies could be suitably consolidated with others, and thereby a saving effected of several hundred thousand dollars annually. I enjoin upon the General Assembly a thorough and complete analysis, either by itself or through a competent committee, of the State's revenues and disbursements; of the departmental organization now existing; and of all matters incident to the fiscal management of the commonwealth, to the end that a more improved business system may be introduced into the administration of our financial affairs. In the meantime I offer the following for your earnest reflection:

1. The reorganization of the Board of Agriculture and the enlargement of its functions to include those now exercised by:

The Iowa State Poultry Association
The Horticultural Society
The Weather and Crop Service
The State Apiarist
The Commission of Animal Health
The State Entomologist

The State Dairy Association
The Beef Cattle Breeders' Association
The State Veterinarian
The Corn and Small Grain Producers' Association.

2. The reorganization of the State Board of Health and the enlargement of its functions to include those now exercised by:

The State Food and Dairy Commission
The Commission of Pharmacy
The State Oil Inspector
The State Board of Dental Examiners
The State Mine Inspectors
The State Board of Optometry Examiners
The State Fire Marshal
The State Boat Inspectors

3. The reorganization of the State Library and the enlargement of its functions to include those now exercised by:

The State Historical Department
The State Library
The Library Commission
The Bureau of Public Archives
The Academy of Sciences
The State Conservation Commission

4. The reorganization of the Board of Control and the enlargement of its functions to include those now exercised by:

The Board of Parole.

5. The revision of chapter I, title XXXIV of the compiled code in such fashion that the designation of special officers as authorized by section 9055 and 9059 shall be made exclusively by the attorney general, upon whom is devolved the primary duty of law enforcement.

It is altogether probable that some of the consolidations I have indicated may not be the most desirable that can be achieved, and that others more feasible may be devised. I dismiss the discussion with the reminder that on April 25, 1914, the committee on retrenchment and reform filed with the secretary of State a "consolidated report on the investigation of existing procedure incident to the transaction of the business of the State." It is an elaborate treatise with somewhat extended recommendations and it is available for examination by the Legislature. The subject is one of infinite complexity, but we must grapple with it fearlessly and without delay. It is incumbent upon us to answer the imperative demand for a scientific systematization of the business of the State, for a reduction in the number of those managing its activities, and for a curtailment of the expenses incident to its operations.

I advert next to the legislative department itself. From my observation and experience in the past I am perfectly convinced that as compared to previous General Assemblies, at least thirty-five thousand dollars can be saved at this session if it shall be determined to engage only such assistants to attend upon the Senate and House as are absolutely essential to their efficient operation. The situation respecting the matter is thoroughly understood, and the mischief inherent in it cannot be extenuated. At the hazard of incurring the displeasure of some who hope through your indulgence to arrange comfortable connections with the treasury, I venture the assertion that the employment of a sizable army of superfluous committee clerks, stenographers, messengers, and janitors, is a scandalous squandering of the public money which should not be further countenanced. This appeal may be ridiculed in some quarters as attacking an abuse negligible because insignificant, but I know that the consistent application of sensible business principles to the machinery of legislation will encounter the unqualified sanction of the folks at home. The ancient motto was: "He serves his party best, who serves his country best." The instant maxim is: "He serves his State best, who saves her people most."

The law authorizing the exemption of property from taxation is, in my opinion, too liberal in its provisions, and in many instances operates to relieve from the expenses of government those best able to bear them. A searching examination of the subject should be instituted at once, to the end that all shall be required fairly to contribute to the burdens imposed upon the entire community. An illustration of the inequity which now exists may be discovered in the statute which recites:

"That in determining the assessed value of bank stock the amount of obligations issued by the United States Government . . . actually owned by a bank or trust company, shall be deducted."

This exemption has been the subject of general discussion throughout the State during the past year, and its injustice is almost uniformly conceded. I believe it to be entirely indefensible in morals, and I trust that its repeal may be speedily effected by the General Assembly. In this connection I submit that if any property heretofore liable to taxation is to be allowed immunity from assessment, the modest dwelling house of the man of limited resources should be favored as an encouragement to the more universal ownership of family homesteads in the State. While I am on this subject I may say that our laws governing the levy and collection of taxes are archaic and unworkable. They ought to be rewritten and modernized, and one forward step in that direction would be to declare all property assessable at its actual value. The revision should be radical enough and far reaching enough that equality of the sacrifice involved in the payment of taxes may be reasonably approximated.

The present law governing corporations organized for pecuniary profit should be visited with drastic amendments. The past three years in Iowa have witnessed a saturnalia of stock jobbery which has plundered the people and disgraced the State. It perplexes the ordinary imagination to comprehend the magnitude of the spoliation which has been brazenly practiced upon unsuspecting investors. The vast sums which have been enticed from confiding citizens through various schemes represented to supply an industrial necessity and guaranteed to produce fabulous dividends, are appalling. In some instances the corporations fostered were conceived for legitimate purposes under reputable management, and almost without exception they have succeeded. But more often they were concocted not to establish industries or to benefit stockholders, but to enrich the conscienceless promotor who frequently divided the loot with some local abettor who furnished respectability for the vicious enterprise. By the enactment of the Peterson law we were a pioneer in prohibiting the issuance of stock except for cash or its equivalent; but expert cunning is ever ingenious and as we omitted to appoint a maximum amount which might be absorbed in promotion outlay, our State has become a rendezvous for every crooked exploiter in the Mississippi Valley. In any remedial legislation which may be contemplated the difficulty will be to abolish the fraudulent traffic of the professional swindler without interfering with untrammelled opportunity for meritorious development. I believe we can accomplish substantial reform by extending our statute to cover domestic as well as foreign corporations, and by

- (1) Requiring every corporation and individual stock salesman to procure a license from the secretary of State.
- (2) Exacting an ample bond from corporation and salesman alike, to be available to any injured party for civil recoupment.
- (3) Denouncing false representations as a felony, punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary.
- (4) Providing that every note taken for stock or bonds shall recite the fact plainly on its face.
- (5) Limiting to a settled per cent the amount that may be diverted to expense of promotion.

Other expedient amendments will doubtless occur to you as the territory to be examined is thoughtfully surveyed.

The authority now enjoyed by the insurance department over organizations nominally under its jurisdiction is so limited as to be almost farcical. It may approve the articles of incorporation of insurance societies when they have been certified by the attorney general as formally prepared, but thereafter it has no further control over the company until after its stock is negotiated, its assets converted into securities for deposit, and application made for the statutory license to transact business. This supervision is wholly incompetent. The powers of the department should be augmented to constitute complete authority over the company from its inception throughout its entire career: with discretion to restrict promotion expenses, condemn improper promotion literature, and exclude companies from the State unless organized and conducted in compliance with its regulations. The whole field of insurance law should be closely explored, and such changes made as will more completely protect the people of the State both in investment and in indemnity.

The act of congress of June 2, 1920, providing for the rehabilitation of persons disabled in productive industry, their return to civil employment, and allotting federal funds in amounts equal to those appropriated for the purpose by the respective States, should have our immediate attention. No phase of vocational education is more directly occupied with the conservation of social and individual welfare. Vocational rehabilitation embraces all the ideals of vocational education in general, which are summarized in the one word "efficiency." Some definite action toward the rehabilitation of injured persons has been entered upon in twenty-four States, and seventeen have already availed of the legislation enacted by Congress. My predecessor has accepted the law provisionally, as contemplated in the act, and the State board of vocational education has proceeded properly to the preliminaries necessary to avail of the money tendered by the government for the fiscal period of 1920-1921. Everything has been done that can be done without your action. The money has been certified to the State for this very admirable educational work, and we ought to make it possible to begin the retraining at once of the unfortunates who are to be benefited. Society, through the instrumentality of the State, must make every possible provision for those of its individual members who are handicapped by disability, in order that they may be readjusted to another occupation in which they may be self-respecting and self-supporting citizens rather than the recipients of public or private charity. Such provision for the re-education of injured persons is the most economical form of industrial insurance, and withal so humanitarian in its nature as to evoke the approval of the best conscience of the age. I recommend the subject as one worthy your early action.

The condition of agriculture, our dominant industry and the fountain from which flows our surest prosperity, is at this time a matter of genuine anxiety. We deservedly rank as the leading food-producing state in the Union, the average value of our farm land is greater than elsewhere, and we have a smaller percentage that is unillable. Here is resident the highest type of rural citizenship, and here is evinced the finest sort of rustic life. The intelligence of our farmers, the relatively large farm units, the use of labor-saving machinery, the richness of our soil, and the unfailing sunshine and rainfall, all enable us to obtain prodigious crops both per man and per acre. We are to be felicitated upon these enviable advantages which are peculiar to us over less favored sections of the country. Notwithstanding all this, our farmers in common with those of the Nation are distressed by economic conditions which, if not corrected, will entail widespread agricultural depression from which our industrial and commercial interests cannot hope to escape. Practically all our crops are retailing now at prices far below the actual cost of production. In the case of corn, our staple cereal, the record is that the production cost last year was ninety-five cents per bushel, while the selling price is now fifty-five cents per bushel. As a consequence, many of our farmers, especially those who rented on a basis of land and crop values prevailing a year ago, are in financial extremities, and not a few of them are confronted with the total loss of their patient accumulations. What can be done to alleviate their unfortunate predicament is a matter for the most earnest consideration. The disagreeable truth must be frankly recognized that their deplorable plight is largely due to the sweep of world-wide forces that are independent of any decree of ours. But we must not ignore the fact that the situation is serious, that our principal industry is jeopardized, and that enlightened self-interest bespeaks our utmost effort to avert the calamity which threatens. The future of our agriculture must be placed upon a securer foundation, so that our people may not again be imperiled by a recurrence of the adverse conditions which now prostrate their occupation.

More than one-half of our land is now cultivated by tenants. The increase in tenancy always has been co-incident with the increase in land values, and it is attended by certain evils which react detrimentally both upon the producing and the consuming public. I believe we should order a most careful inquiry into the tenancy problem with a view of contriving some system which, while doing justice both to landlord and lessee, will conserve insofar as possible the virgin fertility of the soil. Intimately connected with this subject is the proposal for personal credit for tenant farmers. A considerable proportion of them are unable to utilize the most approved methods of grain and live-stock farming because of insufficient working capital. Whether the State should endeavor to provide aid for their relief is open to grave doubt, especially at the present time. But the enactment of such legislation as may be necessary to permit them to form credit associations of their own would be wise as well as useful, and both parties are committed to such action. The unquestioned right of farmers to co-operate for collective bargaining and marketing should be not only freely and promptly granted, but encouraged to its fullest development. It is understood that many co-operative associations in the State have been arbitrarily hampered in securing sites and trackage for elevators, warehouses and stockyards. I believe that common carriers should be required, under proper safeguards, to furnish all such requisites when fair remuneration therefor is proffered.

There will be vigorous insistence for the unconditional abandonment of the State-wide primary. I think it should be denied. The present statute was enacted to rectify abuses which disfigured the caucus system it superseded, and to invest the individual voter with enhanced power in the selection of all his party candidates. The departure was excellent in theory, but experience has disclosed that it is not entirely satisfactory in practice. The criticism most urgently interposed against its retention is that as to many positions to be filled the electors cannot familiarize themselves with the respective qualifications of all those who aspire to nomination, and that particularly with regard to the secondary offices they are compelled to choose almost without information. That there is some validity in this complaint cannot be controverted, but the objection may be readily obviated by transferring these offices to a convention composed of delegates chosen at the legalized primary. In another respect I believe the law could be improved by requiring a change of party affiliation to be announced at least six months antecedent to the primary. I trust we are all in accord that such modifications should be adopted as will remove the defects which have become apparent, and at the same time secure to the citizen unshackled opportunity to register his personal choice. The principle of the primary should not be surrendered, but the law should be so amended as to render less difficult and more effective the expression of the popular will.

Our election laws, both primary and general, should fix a reasonable limitation upon the amount of money any candidate may expend in the pursuit of a public office. Congress has provided that a congressional expenditure may not exceed the salary of the office for one year, and this standard might well be accepted as a just criterion in Iowa.

As I have remarked, the physical resources of Iowa are inexhaustible, and they prefigure a material prosperity unparalleled in any similar area in the world. In agriculture, in manufacturing, in mining, we have in profusion all the elementary sources of incomputable wealth. But our boys and girls are the most valuable asset of the commonwealth, and their intellectual training as well as moral discipline is the paramount solicitude of our people. In this behalf we have done something in the past, we are doing much in the present, we must do more in the future. Our schools are unequalled anywhere the country round, and the ascendancy they now exemplify must never be forfeited by niggardly parsimony where their vital interests are concerned. Their equipment must be so ample that the best facilities will be furnished, and the salaries must be so adjusted that teaching will become a profitable profession. If we apprehend that the modern methods of instruction are too progressive, perhaps it may be retorted that our prejudices are too reactionary. We must not become so conservative that we decline to look at the new moon out of reverence for the old. We had good schools forty years ago—we have better schools now. We are proud of the educational institutions of Iowa, and we rejoice exceedingly at the flattering results which they annually exhibit at the expiration of each recurring year; we applaud the unselfish consecration of those who so capably administer them; and we celebrate their surpassing service in that wide diffusion of intelligence which enables Iowa to outrank all other states in the literacy of her population. We know that if our schools should be obliterated for a single cycle, happiness would disappear within our borders, and our superb civilization would revert to savage barbarism. From the kindergarten to the university we venerate them all as the last and best bulwarks of our republican democracy, and from the isolated desk in the rural community all along the luminous avenue to the highest seat of classic learning they must be supported with a generosity which shall vindicate their primacy unchallenged. "Of all that is good, Iowa affords the best."

In the colossal war which but yesterday convulsed a continent, 105,000 of the bravest and best of our gallant boys were enrolled. They enlisted from every city, town and hamlet throughout the State, and every profession, business and avocation was represented in the grand army of freedom. The struggle into which they were precipitated was the most enormous in all recorded history. We engaged reluctantly, and only when it was demonstrated that our engagement was indispensable if the civilization of the centuries was to be preserved. The monstrous carnival of criminal outlawry which had paralyzed an impotent world for three years had to be stopped. They went "over there," and it stopped. The adventure was no holiday escapade, but they finished it famously, for they battled for the elimination of despotisms, and the establishment of democracies; for the extirpation of monarchs, and the enfranchisement of men. Let it never be forgotten now and henceforth throughout all the oncoming time that they who went, and not we who stayed, won the war; they by the hard article of deathless deeds, and not we by soft argument of easy speech. Of course all of us contributed the full measure of our meager abilities, but they met the major danger, and they wrought the supreme decision; met and wrought with muscles of iron and nerves of steel and hearts of pure gold. Without regard to nationality, without respect to religion, without reference to politics, they went forth to war for us, to war for humanity, to war for all the near and distant generations of the future. They left all, chanced all, in the holiest crusade ever chronicled in the annals of mankind, and they did not furl their flags nor sheathe their swords nor stack their guns until the malignant menace of medieval militarism was utterly eradicated from the earth. And then having rescued the world from the thralldom of tyranny which impeded they modestly discarded the uniform they had rendered immortal and quietly resumed the employments of civil citizenship. Heaven bless them every one, now and evermore! They may be depended upon to safeguard in peace what they wrested from war. Listen, if you please, to the noble and enduring aspirations which animate their hearts, as revealed by their own expression:

"To uphold and defend the constitution of the United States; to maintain law and order; to perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to combat the autocracy of the classes and of the masses; to promote peace and good will on earth; to transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy."

Those incomparable postulates command the unqualified endorsement of every patriotic American, and in my opinion they will live in the literature of liberty with the Gettysburg Address and the Second Inaugural. Dedicated as these heroic men are to this sublime program, I venture the prophecy that in the distracted time to come they will be an impregnable barrier against all of the insidious forces of communism, anarchy and bolshevism which may challenge the permanency of our national institutions. How shall we requite their inestimable service? We cannot hope that whatever we may do will even partially liquidate our immeasurable debt to them, but surely it is obligatory upon a grateful people to restore, insofar as is humanly possible, every returned veteran to the favorable status he relinquished when he was summoned to the colors. The least we can do is to compensate him by bonus or otherwise for the economic disadvantages he suffered by reason of his enlistment. The privilege is one primarily belonging to the general government, but congress has accomplished no progress in that direction. Other states are in advance of Iowa in the discharge of this peremptory duty, and we must not be derelict in embarking upon its performance. I commend the subject to the early and sympathetic consideration of the General Assembly.

I earnestly hope that among the earliest measures transmitted to me for approval will be one completely removing any discrimination that may at present encumber the statute against the unrestricted exercise by women of every prerogative now enjoyed by men. A new and notable epoch has opened, and he is without prevision indeed who is unable or unwilling to perceive its salutary significance. The nineteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States has been ratified, and we are all to be fervently congratulated upon the transcendent reform which is thus realized. Justice long delayed has been tardily awarded, and the women of America have been finally admitted to equal suffrage rights with men. From the beginning of authentic history they have ornamented the home, vitalized the school, and sanctified the church. We entertain implicit confidence that their refining influence exerted at the primary, the caucus, and the convention, will elevate our politics to a loftier level than any it has heretofore attained: and where is the skeptic who can doubt that the feminine conscience supplementing the masculine judgment will accelerate the triumph of every righteous cause. We welcome our sisters not only to unembarrassed fellowship in party organization, but to unabridged participation in public affairs. Beyond all peradventure their enthusiasm, their fidelity, and their idealism, will impart a stimulating incitement toward better and higher and purer government. In the administration which is inaugurated today the unrivaled women of Iowa will be accorded abundant recognition by appointment to positions of importance and responsibility.

We are here to serve all the people—the white and the black, the high and the low, the rich and the poor, the strong and the weak, the great and the humble, the renowned and the obscure—all that mighty multitude which is the constituency of a commonwealth. They are the State which is the object of our undivided affection.

“You ask what land we love the best?

Iowa, 'tis Iowa.

The fairest land in all the west,

Iowa, 'tis Iowa.”

Minutes of the joint convention read and approved.

Whitmore of Wapello moved that the joint session be now dissolved. Motion prevailed.

REPORT OF THE RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM COMMITTEE

The following report was submitted by the retrenchment and reform committee:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

Your committee on retrenchment and reform beg leave to submit the following report:

Pursuant to the report of this committee to the Thirty-eighth General Assembly your committee prepared a bill along the line of the recommendations in regard to the collateral inheritance tax law, and requiring administration of estates or some judicial proceeding to exempt them from administration, but the legislature did not enact the same into law.

Your committee also prepared an automobile license tax law, involving principles referred to in the former report of this committee, but the bill was not introduced by this committee as the members failed to agree upon the same, but was presented by the ways and means committee of the Senate and passed by the Senate. It was not agreed to by the House, and was much changed by the conference committee, so that there was left out of the law, four important provisions as formerly recommended by this committee.

1. Permanent license plates.
2. License tax payable in one year from the time of first registration, instead of making the license tax on all cars due and payable at the same time.
3. The transmission of the funds from the counties where paid to the state treasury, resulting in an immense deposit of state money in Des Moines banks instead of the banks of the respective counties.
4. The use of the tax warrant to follow up the collection of unpaid taxes.

The committee has refused to authorize your chairman to make any recommendation in the matter of the automobile tax law, as no action has been taken by your committee since the beginning of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly on this important matter.

Your committee held many meetings during the session of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly and has held meetings on the 13th and 14th of June and the 23d, 24th and 25th of June; on the 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th of July; on the 16th and 17th of December, all in the year 1919, and held meetings on March 16th and 17th, April 15th and 16th, June 25th, October 7th in the year 1920, and its last meeting on January 8, 1921.

The committee had a long hearing on the Panama-Pacific International Exposition investigation, which necessitated some of the numerous meetings in 1919 and it had two appeals from the superintendent of banking, in which hearing before the committee was granted, which occupied the attention of the committee at some of the other meetings above reported. The increase of salaries and wages paid in all industrial and business lines, attracted many of the employees of the state into other lines of employment and made it impossible for the heads of departments to retain the necessary state employees in their departments, and made it absolutely necessary for this committee to change the compensation from time to time, or seriously handicap the work of the state in its various departments, particularly at the state house. The adjustment of salaries and compensaion of employees took a great deal of the time of the committee and the members of the committee gave it their very careful attention and endeavored to handle the matter in a business-like way for the best interests of the state and with a view to saving as much as possible.

A detailed report of all expenditures made on order of your committee, including the amounts paid to the various members for their expense in attending committee meetings, is attached hereto and marked Appendix A.

Pursuant to the recommendation made by your committee at the last General Assembly that the retrenchment and reform committee prepare a budget of all salaries for officers and employees of the state excepting the institutions under the board of control and the board of education, your committee obtained a report from all the officers of the state and their departments, so as to prepare the budget as recommended. It also thoroughly examined the reports of the various departments to the executive council, as checked by the state accountant, and returned them to the accountant with its recommendations. A new committee, however, was appointed in the Senate, known as departmental affairs. This committee, with a similar committee in the House, conferred together and took over the work of preparing the budget of salaries recommended by the retrenchment and reform committee. These two committees were not joint committees and had no experience, except as its membership was on other committees, in dealing with the salary situation, and had nothing to do with the previous fixing of salaries, or of the consideration of the relative salaries, that matter having come under the work of this committee. The two committees, thus working together, were not a joint committee and were not intended to be a permanent body, as is provided by statute for this committee and the two committees could not know of the needs with respect to salaries that was derived from the experience of his committee. This committee was, therefore, called upon to make many changes in adjusting the various salaries and found many discrepancies in the salaries as fixed.

It is provided by law, that the retrenchment and reform committee shall report to the General Assembly a joint resolution, fixing the number of employees and the salary of each for the several offices, boards, commissions and departments for the ensuing biennial period, and rec-commend such appropriations and legislation as shall promote public interest and an efficient and economical administration of the affairs of the state.

The committee on departmental affairs, in violation of this statute, took over this work and prepared Senate File 541, which is chapter 272 of the acts of the 38th General Assembly. The chairman of your committee, not desiring to have any conflict in the work in the General Assembly, and finding that the other committee were taking over the work of this committee, did not interfere with the same, but handed in his resignation as chairman of the committee on retrenchment and reform to the lieutenant governor, which was not accepted and your chairman continued with the committee and acquiesced in the work of the other committees.

The present chairman of your committee has finished his term of office in the Senate and is not further personally interested but here unqualifiedly expresses his opinion that in the matter of reporting the act and resolution fixing the number of employees and the salary of each, should be left to the continuous joint committee of the legislature, some of the members of which are continued from one session to another of the legislature, and this committee being the only standing joint committee of the legislature provided by statute, it is the committee that should handle this matter and the law should not continue to be violated by allowing other committees to prepare this salary budget.

At the last meeting of this committee, held on the 8th of January, 1921, the following resolution was adopted:

That it is the sense of this committee that the salaries of all janitors, clerks and employees of every department of the state of Iowa, including the motor vehicle department, the banking department, the insurance department, the state highway commission, excepting the state educational institutions and those institutions under the board of control, be fixed by the same body, and that this suggestion be contained in the report of this committee and be in the form of a recommendation by this committee.

In a former report of this committee found on page 150 of the Senate Journal of January 22d, this committee recommended that all salaries of all state officials and employees at the state house at Des Moines, and including all employees residing or working elsewhere, but directly under the department of the state at Des Moines, be presented by the retrenchment and reform committee in a budget at each session of the legislature and the legislature by resolution, fix the salaries for the succeeding biennium.

The committee again makes the recommendation contained in its former report and as expressed in the resolution above referred to.

Under the provisions of chapter 236 of the acts of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly this committee was appointed as an appellate body to which appeals from the action of the superintendent of banking on applications for certificate of authority to do banking business might be taken. Two such appeals were entertained by your committee. One of these was taken on the petition of A. R. Crowley, for the organization of the Farmers' and Merchants' Savings Bank of Unionville, Iowa, and hearing had on the 14th and 23d days of June, 1919, and the decision of the superintendent of banking, denying the authority, was sustained.

The other appeal was taken on the petition of John Greteman for the establishment of the Citizens State Bank of West Union, Iowa, and hearing was had thereon on the 16th day of March and the decision of the superintendent of banking, denying the application, was reversed.

Your committee reported to the last General Assembly its action in regard to the investigations of the acts of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition commission and set forth in appendix "A," a resolution adopted by the committee, recommending that the state executive council further investigate the accounts of the commission and make an accounting and report of the funds drawn and expended by said commission, so far as the same had not been fully audited. A copy of that resolution was also transmitted to the executive council. On the 7th of April, 1919, Senator Pitt called the attention of the Senate to certain charges made by the Iowa Homestead, regarding the accounts of the commission and acts of its secretary, which communication appears on page 660 of the journal of the Senate for April 7, 1919. A special committee of the Senate was appointed to examine into the charges and make report. On the 19th day of April, 1919, the committee reported and the report of the committee was adopted, referring all matters connected with the investigation of the expenditure of funds by the Panama-Pacific Exposition back to this committee.

On the 16th of April, 1919, a concurrent resolution was offered in the House, which appears on page 2041 of the Journal and which was adopted by both houses of the General Assembly. This concurrent resolution directed this committee to publicly investigate the entire acts of the Panama-Pacific Exposition commission and all charges connected therewith and make a public report within ninety days after the passage of the resolution.

Pursuant to said concurrent resolution and direction of the Senate, your committee on the 13th of June, 1919, arranged for a public hearing, as directed in the said resolution. Mr. James M. Pierce of the Iowa Homestead was subpoenaed, together with all persons demanded by him or by the Exposition commissioners, or Mr. Woodworth Clum, who could testify with reference to the matters to be investigated. Sessions were held on June 13th and 14th and adjournment was taken to June 23d, and sessions of the committee continued on June 23d, 24th, 25th and 26th. Adjournment again was taken until July 8, 1919, and the sessions continued on July 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th, 1919. Opportunity was duly given to all persons to be present at the said hearing, which was held in the state house. The investigation was conducted as a trial in court, the members of the committee hearing the testimony. Each side was represented by attorneys and all material and relevant testimony presented by either side, was taken. The full proceedings were reported and appear in the minutes of the meetings of this committee on file in the office of the secretary of state. On the 11th of July, at the close of the hearing, your committee made a public finding, a copy of which finding is hereto attached and marked appendix "B."

Your committee was authorized by a resolution introduced by Representative Miller of Boone, on March 31st, as appears on page 1478 of the Journal of the House, to make an investigation of the plan of maintenance and operation of a state printing plant for the production of printing for state purposes, and to report to the next General Assembly their findings and such information and recommendations as will show the advisability of erection of a state printing plant for Iowa.

Pursuant to the said resolution, the chairman of this committee appointed a sub-committee, composed of Messrs. T. P. Harrington, chairman, and Douglas Rogers, and Senators J. M. Wilson and H. C. White. The sub-committee met on November 8, 1920, and took evidence of numerous persons, including the state document editor and his assistant, the secretary of state and heads of some of leading printing and binding plants in the city of Des Moines. This evidence was duly reported and with the exhibits is on file in the office of the secretary of state. Two members of the sub-committee, Senators Wilson and White, also visited the state of Kansas and made a thorough investigation of the work being done by that state in the operation of their state printing plant and made a detailed report of their findings to the sub-committee. The sub-committee made its detailed report to the committee on retrenchment and reform, and this committee adopted a resolution, ordering a report to the General Assembly, embodying the findings contained in the report of the sub-committee.

Your committee, in regard to the matter of a state printing plant, therefore, hereby makes the following recommendations:

FIRST—The printing of the state is not being done in such a way that the total cost can be correctly computed, for the reason that a great deal of the printing is being done independently by various boards and institutions, which work is not being audited by the printing board and, therefore, is not included within the gross amount paid for state printing as shown by the official reports; that small printing plants are being operated at the reformatory at Anamosa and at the state industrial school at Eldora; and at some of the other institutions, particularly some of the educational institutions are having the printing done out of their several funds, which is not being audited by the state printing board.

SECOND—The printing, which passes through the hands of the state printing board, and which includes the larger volume of the state printing for the year 1919 and for a few years prior thereto, was costing approximately $75,000.00 per year, exclusive of stock, and a fair estimate of the total amount of printing and binding for the state and all its institutions is $140,000.00 per annum. For the printing of 1920 the printing board found that it was impossible to award contracts within the maximum provided by law and as shown by the statement of the officials in charge, the bids for such work ranged from 25% to 35% above the maximum provided by law and for that reason very little of the printing for the year 1920 has been in fact done, while for the printing of 1919 the contracts for the work ranged from 10% to 15% below the maximum fixed by law.

THIRD—We have investigated the question as to whether or not it would be feasible to establish a printing plant at one of the state institutions and we have reached the conclusion that this would not be feasible for the following reasons:

1. The major portion of the printing must necessarily come from the capitol at Des Moines and there would be an inconvenience and delay in shipping matter to any of the state institutions and having the same returned and this would be especially inconvenient during the Legislative session and other times when work must be done promptly.

2. The only institution where it has been thought such a plant might be established would be one of the penal institutions and we have reached the conclusion that competent labor cannot be found at such an institution and we are therefore, dismissing from our calculations the thought of establishing such a plant at any of the state institutions, and if a plant were established, it should be at the city of Des Moines, located conveniently to the capitol.

3. As to the advisability of establishing a state printing plant as suggested we wish to submit the following:

From the best authority we can find, it would cost approximately $175,000.00 to purchase and install the necessary machinery and equipment to do the work, basing our estimate on the maximum amount of work that the plant would be called upon to do, including printing and binding, exclusive of the cost of building. If the plant were to be established in a separate building then the cost of such building would have to be added. The committee has considered possible the installing of such a plant in the basement of the capitol building, if such space is eventually vacated upon the completion of the new temple of justice, or the establishment of the printing plant in the basement of the new building. If the latter plan was to be followed, then the plans for the new building would have to be adopted with reference to the installation of such a plant. In any event, it would take from twenty-five to thirty-five skilled workmen, continuously employed, to operate the plant.

The experience of the operation of a state owned plant in the state of Kansas shows a saving in the cost of doing the printing; in that state, however, the elementary school books are published by the state and it is in evidence that about 40% is saved on the cost of these books.

It is therefore the recommendation of the committee:

1. That unless the state is to enter upon the publication and sale or distribution of the school books for the schools of the state, it would not be practicable, under present conditions, to establish and equip a printing plant for the state printing and binding alone. As to the wisdom of this state engaging in the printing and sale or distribution of the school books for the schools of the state, this committee has not yet had opportunity or time to make such an investigation as would justify us in making a specific recommendation. We have, however, investigated that work in other states to such an extent as to lead us to the conclusion that it should receive further investigation and serious consideration by such an agency as the Legislature might direct.

2. It is our judgment further, that the committee charged with the supervision of the erection of the temple of justice should investigate the practicability of establishing a state printing and binding plant in the basement of the proposed temple of justice.

3. It is the opinion of this sub-committee, that a large amount of useless printing is being done by the state of Iowa at the present time and it is our judgment the Legislature should take such steps as are necessary to eliminate a large part of this useless printing.

The detailed report of the sub-committee upon which the foregoing recommendations are made is on file with the secretary of state.

Respectfully submitted,

CLEM F. KIMBALL,
Chairman, Retrenchment and Reform Committee.

APPENDIX "B"

To the Executive Council of the State of Iowa:

Gentlemen: The committee on retrenchment and reform, of the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, was authorized by House concurrent resolution, passed and adopted on the 16th day of April, 1919, as appears in Senate Journal, page 2040, to publicly investigate the entire acts of the Iowa Commission to the Panama Pacific International Exposition, its expenditures and all charges connected therewith and make a public report and audit of said acts and expenditures to your honorable body within ninety days from and after the passage of said resolution.

Pursuant to said resolution the said committee did meet at Des Moines, Iowa, at the State House, on the 13th day of June, A. D., 1919, and continued said hearing from time to time and finished said investigation on the 11th day of July, 1919; that pursuant to the summons and request of this committee the said exposition commission appeared in person by its president, W. W. Marsh, its secretary, Woodworth Clum, Ralph Bolton, Emmet Tinley and other members of said commission appearing from time to time before this committee and also appeared by council Emmet Tinley, Judge James W. Bollinger, and Benjamin F. Swisher; that J. M. Pierece and Austin Haines of the Iowa Homestead also appeared in person before this committee and also by their counsel Robert Haines; that at the request of the said parties represented before the committee, and at the request of the committee, a large number of witnesses were called to testify relative to matters under investigation pursuant to the said resolution; that all witnesses requested by any of the said parties appearing before the committee, were called, together with all witnesses requested by any member of the committee; that testimony was taken for a period covering seven days and the matter was fully argued before said committee by the said parties present and represented.

That, in addition to the taking of said testimony the said committee did employ two competent persons to make an independent examination of the report of the said commission and of the vouchers on file in the office of the secretary of the executive council, together with such other vouchers as could be procured, and did require said accountants to make a report of the following matters:

1. Showing the amount of all funds used to reimburse the guarantee fund created by said exposition commission before the appropriation to aid the exposition was made.
2. A statement of all expenditures for which no proper vouchers are now on file with the secretary of the executive council.
3. Also a statement giving in detail the expenditures for all purposes by said commission out of the $75,000.00 appropriated by the 36th General Assembly.
4. Also to procure and produce all the vouchers from whatever source obtainable for such expenditures.
5. To indicate to the committee such expenditures itemized as aforesaid for which there were no proper vouchers on file with the secretary of the executive council or otherwise obtainable; that the report of said accountants was made a part of the record as exhibit No. 48 and is filed with other exhibits in this investigation.

And after full, fair and complete public investigation of all of the matters submitted to the committee, we make the following findings and recommendations:

That in April, 1914, at the suggestion of the Greater Iowa Association, Governor George W. Clarke appointed a commission consisting of the following members: W. W. Marsh, Waterloo; G. Watson French, Davenport; C. F. Curtiss, Ames; T. D. Steen, West Liberty; W. G. Haskell, Cedar Rapids; George Haw, Ottumwa; George Wilson, Sr., Clinton; C. D. Cass, Waterloo; T. A. Black, Sioux City; Emmet Tinley, Council Bluffs, and Ralph Bolton, Des Moines; said commission to be known as the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission with full power to conduct an exhibit for the state of Iowa at said exposition; that the said commission did raise, by a guaranty subscription, voluntarily made by various citizens of the state, the sum of about $106,000.00 for the use of said commission in participating in said exposition; that such fund is known as the guaranty fund of said commission. That said commission organized with W. W. Marsh as president and Woodworth Clum as secretary, E. W. Miller as treasurer; that said commission proceeded to carry out the purpose for which they were appointed and did prepare to take exhibits to said exposition; that they erected, at a suitable place on the exposition grounds, a substantial building, known as the Iowa Building, at a cost of approximately $32,000.00 and did expend up to the 17th day of February, 1915, about $40,000.00 out of said guaranty fund for the purposes of said exposition; that said money expended from said guaranty fund was used for said building, furnishings, historical exhibits, salaries of employees and general expenses connected with said exhibit.

That on the 17th day of February, 1915, the 36th General Assembly passed and adopted chapter six of the laws of the 36th General Assembly appropriating $75,000.00 for the purpose of aiding the said commission in conducting said exhibit; that said appropriation of $75,000.00 was divided into fixed amounts for the various purposes set forth in the act and that said act confirmed the appointment of said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission as appointed by the governor in April, 1914.

That the commission continued to prepare and conduct an exhibit for the state of Iowa at said exposition; that the members of said commission all served without compensation and some of them expended large sums of money out of their own private funds in the furtherance of the objects of the exposition; that as a result of said exhibit, out of two hundred and eighty-nine exhibitors at the said exposition from Iowa, two hundred eighty-four prize medals were awarded to citizens of the state, which award of prizes was never hitherto equalled by exhibitors of the state of Iowa at any international exposition.

That the said appropriation was issued to the commission in installments of $15,000.00 until the total amount of $60,000.00 was drawn. A report of the expenditures from the $15,000.00 allowance was made to the executive council before the next allowance was made; that the last $15,000.00 of the total appropriation of $75,000.00 was never drawn or asked for by the commission; that sometime in January of 1917 the commission made its fifth and last report to the executive council; that said report showed a total amount of $60,000.00 drawn from the treasury of Iowa and the sum of $379.35 received from the sale of property used in making said exhibit and of the said sum drawn from the treasury, together with the proceeds of the sale of said property, the commission returned to the state of Iowa the sum of $2256.64; that when said appropriation was made available the exhibit conducted by said commission was in process of installation and a considerable amount had been expended for the object of said appropriation out of the said guaranty fund; that the said commission paid out of the proper funds of said appropriation, a total sum of $5753.31 reimbursing the guaranty fund for the amount thus expended; that among the amounts reimbursed from the appropriation to the said guaranty fund was a salary item to Woodworth Clum amounting to $1562.54, together with salaries for other employees.

That the said commission made a full, detailed and itemized report of all expenditures made by it, pursuant to the provision of the act, but that the act nowhere provides for other vouchers than said reports; that in the examination of every item of all said reports of said commission, your committee finds that there are now lacking proper vouchers for sums aggregating $4087.81; that the said items making up said total sum are contained in the five reports of the commission; that of said unvouched items $3405.96 are contained in the first four reports; that the said first four reports were successively presented to the executive council and that the successive installments of the said appropriation were issued upon the filing of said reports; that your committee finds that at the time the said reports were embodied in the state expense report of 1916, the items of said reports were all supported by proper vouchers. That sometime in January, 1917, the commission filed with the executive council its fifth and last itemized report provided for in the act making the appropriation; that in said fifth report there were items aggregating $681.85 for which, at this time, the committee finds no proper vouchers on file, but that at the time of the filing of said report or subsequent thereto, proper vouchers were filed covering all of said items.

That in the filing of the said fifth report, there was some irregularity, the filing mark not having been made upon the same and no record of the filing having been made in the office of the secretary of the executive council, that by reason of said irregularity, misapprehension was occasioned as to whether said commission had ever made complete report of its expenditures and it was out of this irregularity and misapprehension that most of this controversy has arisen.

That the office of the secretary of the executive council was negligent in not keeping the reports and vouchers filed by the said commission and in auditing said accounts; also in not showing all of said reports to those who inquired for them and had a right to see them.

That on or about the 20th day of January, 1915, Woodworth Clum acting as secretary of the Panama-Pacific Exposition commission, made a contract with one R. E. Bales, by the terms of which the said R. E. Bales was to receive $1.00 per day and furnish to the Clinton Advertiser a daily letter; that the said Woodworth Clum, in the making of said contract, acted under the authority given him by the executive committee of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission. We find that said contract was afterwards ratified by the commission and the expenditure thereunder approved; and that the said R. E. Bales was paid from the fund of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission the sum of $45.00 from the amount appropriated by the state for such commission. That the said item of $45.00 so paid to the said R. E. Bales, was duly approved by the executive council of the state of Iowa. Such contract and expenditure thereunder, in the judgment of some members of this committee, should not have been made or incurred, but in view of all the evidence in the case, including the facts that said expenditure was ratified by the commission in good faith and afterwards approved by the executive council, we feel that this expenditure should not be disapproved.

A Remington typewriter was purchased by said commission soon after its appointment in June 1914, for which the sum of $100.00 was paid, which typewriter was new and not second hand, and was purchased through one B. G. Oates manager of the Clinton Advertiser but that the same was at once turned over to said commission and it paid for the same out of the guaranty fund and after the appropriation was made it reimbursed the guaranty funds out of state funds. Such typewriter was in use in the Clinton office of the commission until the office was removed to Davenport and is now in the possession of the secretary of said commission at Davenport, Iowa.

That there is in the possession of the secretary of the commission a filing case which was purchased out of state funds.

As to the charge that Woodworth Clum paid to himself out of the state fund, $1562.54 as salary for seven months prior to the time that the bill was passed making the appropriation, we find that Woodworth Clum, as secretary, was paid a salary from the time of the appointment of the commission until after the exposition closed; that for seven months of said period, his salary was paid out of the guaranty fund in regular monthly installments as the same came due; that he was not paid the seven months' salary out of the appropriation made by the state, but that after the appropriation was made, certain expenditures made from the guaranty fund were reimbursed out of the appropriation and these expenditures covered seven months' salary of Woodworth Clum above referred to.

The evidence fails to sustain the charge that the secretary of the commission paid himself a salary out of the fund of the state, while lobbying for the enactment of the appropriation bill.

The evidence does not sustain the charge that the Iowa commission to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition has failed to comply with the law, requiring it to make full, detailed and itemized accounts of the state fund it handled.

We find that no money was received by the Iowa commission from the sale of concessions or that there were any other sources of income to the commission, and that the said commission had accounted for all of the property purchased with the money appropriated by the state, except a typewriter and a filing case hereinbefore referred to, which the commission assured this committee it has in its possession and is ready and willing to return to the state.

That all expenditures of said funds made by the commission were made in good faith and there was no misappropriation or misuse of any of the funds appropriated by the legislature of the state.

The commission should be charged with the sum of $60,000.00 drawn out of said appropriation, $181.00 from sale of exhibits; $198.35 from the sale of furniture, making a total of $60,379.35 and should be credited with the following amounts: Expenditures itemized in the five reports filed by the commission, $58,122.71; cash returned to the treasury February 8, 1917, $2256.64, making a total of $60,379.35; that when the typewriter and filing case herein above mentioned are returned to the state the final report of the commission should be approved.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMITTEE ON RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM.
By CLEM F. KIMBALL, Chairman.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, The Hon. Whereas, His record as a man, a legislator and public official, was national in its scope, and

Whereas, It is fitting that we should recognize in some fitting manner the passing of so distinguished a citizen, therefore

Be It Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to draft suitable resolutions commemorating his life and service to the state and nation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Gordon of Emmet offered the following concurrent resolution:

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

Whereas, The recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Illinois Rate Case interprets the Esch-Cummins Act as giving them complete authority over the railways, the entire field of transportation, the traffic itself and all the instrumentalities and means of carrying it on;

Whereas, It means that the laws of the states and their officers are defied and that the Interstate Commerce Commission has assumed exclusive authority over the railways;

Whereas, Wheat, corn, live stock and all farm products are being marketed at a heavy loss to the farmers;

Whereas, The freight and passenger rates are already burdensome to the producers and consumers, with the likelihood that the railroads will ask for further increase in rates; with no consideration apparently having been given in the recent raise in rates as to the low cost of construction and operation in the prairie states; with no completed valuation of the railways or as to the fact that the railways in these states have not millions of dollars invested in depots or terminals, we consider it unwise to confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the greatest power ever given to a body of men in peace times. Now therefore

Be It Resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, That we call upon Congress to so amend the Transportation Act and in such plain language that the authority of the states over railways in their respective territories will be maintained without an opportunity for misinterpretation.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to each of our Senators and each member of the House of Representatives from Iowa in the United States Congress.

Laid over under rule No. 34.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

The following message was received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER—I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has refused to adopt the recommendations of the conference committee on Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, fixing the compensation of employees of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly.

L. W. AINSWORTH, Secretary.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Santee of Black Hawk moved that a new conference committee for Senate joint resolution No. 1 be appointed by the chair.

Motion prevailed, and Mr. Speaker appointed as a conference committee on the part of the House for Senate joint resolution No. 1, Santee of Black Hawk, Garber of Adair, Lake of Woodbury and Narey of Dickinson.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF MR. SPEAKER RELATIVE TO HOUSE
STANDING COMMITTEES

Larson of Montgomery asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following recommendations of Mr. Speaker, relative to standing committees of the House, printed in the Journal:

To the Members of the House of Representatives, Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

GENTLEMEN—The present House is organized under existing rules, but having in mind always the best interests of this great commonwealth, allow me to present to you for your consideration a recommendation along the lines of future guidance for presiding officers of this body at later sessions.

Having had the experience of selecting two lists of committees for two separate organizations of the Iowa House of Representatives, I deem it my duty to call attention to the excess and overlapping of committees, as well as to the extra large membership of the essential ones.

I am giving to you this suggestion as I think it a matter of importance and would recommend, if you think necessary, the adoption of some plan similar to the following, to-wit:

That the following committees be eliminated:

Domestic Manufactures.
Public Charities.

That the following committees be placed under one head, to be called the Board of Control:

Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' Home.
Institute for the Feeble-Minded.
Industrial Schools.
Hospital for the Insane.
Penitentiaries.
Juvenile Home.

That Building and Loan be eliminated and all bills pertaining thereto be referred to Committee on Banks and Banking.

That the following committees be placed under Elections:

Congressional Districts.

Judicial Districts.

Senatorial Districts.

Representative Districts.

Combine Engrossed Bills and Enrolled Bills under the head of Enrolled Bills.

That Horticulture be eliminated and all bills pertaining thereto be referred to Agriculture.

That the following be placed under State Educational Institutions:

Agricultural College.

State University.

Normal Schools.

School for the Deaf.

College for the Blind.

That the following committees be eliminated and bills pertaining thereto be referred to Judiciary Committee:

Land Titles.

Private Corporations.

Public Accounting.

That Public Lands and Buildings be combined with Public Libraries, under the head of Public Lands and Buildings.

Combine the committees on Telephones, and Telegraph and Express, under the head of Telephones, Telegraph and Express.

As to the size of the various committees, I recommend that a limit be put thereon, in order that business may be expedited and, in my opinion, be of more value to the state; and, with the above eliminations and combinations, the standing committees of the House would be as follows, with the limit of membership placed thereon as follows:

Agriculture	Not to exceed 35
Appropriations	Not to exceed 35
Animal Industry	Not to exceed 15
Banks and Banking.....	Not to exceed 25
Board of Control.....	Not to exceed 15

REPORT OF JOINT CODE REVISION COMMITTEE

Weaver of Polk, vice-chairman of the joint code revision committee, submitted the following report:

To the Honorable President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives:

The joint code revision committee, pursuant to the concurrent resolution heretofore adopted, have had under consideration the verification of the compiled code and the allotment of portions thereof to the standing committees of each House for verification, and beg leave to present the following report and recommendation, to wit:

In the progress of work assigned to your committee, it became necessary to consider not only the matter of the division of the work, but to go in detail into the question of how the important and involved matter of the verification could be accomplished with greatest safety and reasonable dispatch.

Conference was had with the code editor, Mr. Whitney, careful examination made of the tables of corresponding sections, and full discussion had of the detail involved.

As a result, your committee is convinced that the work can only be effectively done by committees of not exceeding seven members, whose membership does not overlap and who can work together until the part allotted to each committee has been finished. In our opinion, therefore, any attempt to do this work through the medium of the standing committees with their overlapping membership would prove wholly impracticable.

Your committee, by unanimous action, hereby recommends the following:

PLAN OF PROCEDURE FOR VERIFICATION OF THE COMPILED CODE

1st. That eight special committees be named by the presiding officer in each house. In the House each committee will have seven members, and in the Senate there will be six committees of six members each and two of seven members. Said committees in each house will be designated by numbers one to eight respectively.

2d. That the code of 1897 by titles, (including the corresponding portions of the supplement of 1913, the supplemental supplement of 1915 and the laws of the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth General Assemblies), be allotted for verification among said special committees, as follows:

HOUSE COMPILED CODE COMMITTEES

House committee number 1—titles I, III and VI.

House committee number 2—chapters 1 to 10 inclusive, in title V.

House committee number 3—title VII and chapters 11 to 14 inclusive, of title V.

House committee number 4—titles IX and XI.

House committee number 5—title XIII.

House committee number 6—titles XV and XVII.

House committee number 7—titles XIX and XXI.

House committee number 8—titles XXIII and XXV.

SENATE COMPILED CODE COMMITTEES

Senate committee number 1—titles II, IV, VIII.

Senate committee number 2—title X.

Senate committee number 3—chapters 1 to 6 of title XII.

Senate committee number 4—chapters 7 to 21 of title XII.

Senate committee number 5—titles XIV and XVI.

Senate committee number 6—title XVIII.

Senate committee number 7—titles XX and XXII.

Senate committee number 8—titles XXIV and XXVI.

3d. That said committees proceed promptly with the comparison of existing law as contained in the code, code supplements, and laws of the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth General Assemblies with the compiled code, preserving a careful record of any variations or omissions and that each committee make report to the revision committee as the work is completed.

4th. That every member of each committee be asked to thoroughly familiarize himself with the tables of corresponding sections contained in the compiled code and with the explanatory statement which will be prepared by the committee, with the assistance of the code editor, and a copy delivered to each member of the several committees. This statement will, if carefully studied, aid greatly in facilitating the work of comparison.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. M. DUTCHER, Chairman

J. B. WEAVER,

Vice Chairman.

On motion of Doolittle of Delaware the House adjourned.

ADDRESS ON WILLIAM MCKINLEY

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House:

Every nation and every people have their anniversary days in memory of those whose deeds have been chronicled on the pages of history. It is but just and right that a grateful people should pause for a moment from their busy avocations of life and pay a tribute of respect to the memory of their great men in order that the present generation may learn from their lives the great lessons of patriotism that they have displayed. It is but fit and proper that this body should pause in its deliberation and consider for a mement the memory of a great life that has contributed to the honor and glory of this great nation and people.

Today is the anniversary of the birth of one of America's greatest statesmen and patriots. One whose life not only displayed love of country seldom equalled, but statesmanship unexcelled in the annals of our history and love of mankind that has placed his name among the great humanitarians of the world. William McKinley was born in Niles, Ohio, on the 29th day of January, 1843. Coming from humble parentage he was reared amid simple surroundings and in an environment that tended to develop those sturdy characteristics which in after life he displayed in such a wondrous manner. In his boyhood days he early imbibed, at the feet of his beloved mother, those lessons of patriotism that have ever come from the patriotic hearts of the motherhood of this land of ours. When a boy scarcely more than seventeen years of age, he enlisted in his country's service, and went forth among the gallant sons of the north-land to defend the honor, the integrity, yea, the very life of the nation. On the blood-stained fields of Virginia he attested his unflinching valor as a soldier, and by acts of bravery and heroism, he rose from the ranks of a private to the commander of his company, and led that company on many a battlefield to victory.

I cannot pause to call your attention to the patriotism that has come from the humble homes of America. In every hour of trial, whenever America has needed a son to fight her battles and defend her against her foes, from the humble homes of the land such as the McKinley home, her sons have poured forth and offered their lives, if need be, to preserve the boon of liberty and hand it down to succeeding generations as untrammelled and as unfettered as it was bequeathed to them by their sires. It is on this patriotism and on this devotion that our land depends in the present hour, to solve the difficult questions that lie before her.

I was not only upon the battle fields that McKinley achieved success, but in all fields of endeavor that he entered, he exhibited the same devotion to duty, the same unflinching courage and the same high-minded ideals which had hitherto made his conspicuous among his fellowmen. After being honorably discharged in the summer of 1865 he turned his attention to gaining an education and fitting himself for the private walks of life. Entering upon the duties of life, his earnest zeal for the cause he espoused, his sturdy honesty and his strict integrity attracted the notice of his fellow men. He entered the arena of politics and was chosen by the republicans of his congressional district to represent them in congress. Here he became a student of economic questions and soon came to be considered an expert on tariff matters, and became the head of the committee which gave to this country what was termed the McKinley tariff law. In the estimation of competent critics, this was the most progressive and most comprehensive tariff measure that has ever emanated from any congress. Soon after its enactment, the industries of this country emerged from the depression and financial stagnation in which they had been struggling, into an era of prosperity seldom seen in this land. Following this measure by the enactment of the congressional apportionment bill of the Ohio legislature, he was taken from his old district, and placed in a district that had an adverse majority of more than six thousand. With unflinching courage, and persuasive argument, backed by the stern logic of facts, he went forth among the people and all but wrested victory from a rock-ribbed democratic constituency, being defeated by a paltry three hundred votes.

During this spectacular campaign for congress, he had attracted the notice of the American people, and while defeated for congress, it made his president of this nation, for he was nominated by the republicans in the St. Louis convention in 1896. He swept the country and was victorious in one of the most heated and hotly contested campaigns that this nation ever saw. As president, his wise leadership, his sagacious statesmanship led the country out of one of the greatest financial depressions and periods of business stagnation that America has ever seen.

When the Spanish misrule of the island of Cuba attracted the notice of the world, and the people of that fair isle lay crushed, bruised and broken under the iron heel of despotism, his heart went out to them in their struggle for liberty. He sought peaceful means to accomplish this purpose. He was not for war, and in conversation with Senator Dolliver shortly after the blowing up of the Maine when the clamor of the country was for war, he said that he had seen enough of war. If the country would only give him a chance, he believed he could bring about a peaceful solution of the question. The war came, and all know with what patient courage he went to work to bring about a victorious result. His heart bled for the suffering brought on by the war, and went out in sympathy to the boys in the camps and on the field of battle who were suffering in behalf of their country. His wisdom and his statesmanship brought about a successful closing of the war, and the magnanimity that this country extended to a beaten foe, stands as a marvel in the eyes of the nations of the world.

In closing, it is but fit and proper to call your attention to the scene when the light of this great man went out at the hands of an assassin's bullet, and he was ushered into the great realm beyond. If in life he was great, in death he was Godlike. Lifting his head from the arms of a friend, where it was reclining, and seeing the crowd and policemen jostling and pounding his cowardly assassin, although he was almost in the agonies of death, he pleaded with them not to harm the man. His gentle spirit and loving heart could not bear to see his mortal enemy suffer even from the just indignation of the people. The world has seen the light of many a great man go out at the cruel hands of a fellow man, but the only scene akin to that which took place in Buffalo on that tragic day, was the scene enacted on Mount Calvary almost 1900 years ago, when the life of the greatest man that ever trod this earth, that great Teacher and Lover of mankind, the immortal Son of God, went out at the hands of a cruel and unrelenting mob. In that hour of agony and death, His last thought, His last entreaty to His Father was "Forgive them. They know not what they do."

History tells us that when Socrates, the great Grecian philosopher, sage and thinker, was condemned to drink a cup of hemlock poison because of his great thought that man was destined to see life in a realm beyond, and as the weeping executioner presented the cup, he took it and blessed the hand that gave it. Calmly drinking it, his life went out in search of that eternal truth beyond. Socrates died like a sage and philosopher; but the death of McKinley was more, for it was of the highest type of christian manhood, and akin to that of the Son of God.

On motion of Becker of Clayton the House adjourned until 10:30 a. m. Monday.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following communication was received from the governor:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

A situation has arisen recently in Iowa which demands immediate consideration. From private correspondence, personal conversation and newspaper expression, I am altogether convinced that a vast majority of the electors of the State earnestly desire the appointment of a woman to the Board of Control. Under existing law that desire may be completely defeated by a minority of one branch of the legislature acting under the secrecy of executive session. It is obvious that a condition is thus created which challenges the elementary right of the people to enforce their sovereign will in their own General Assembly. I recommend, therefore, that section 2727-a1, supplement to the code, 1913 (C. C. 1852) be amended by inserting between the words "party" and "and" in the fifth line thereof the following:

"nor of the same sex."

In the same connection I venture to submit that the people are entitled to know how the agents they have commissioned to represent them vote on every matter connected with their agency. I recommend, therefore, that the section above referred to be further amended by striking from the sixteenth line thereof the words "in executive session."

I further recommend that legislation be enacted, subjecting the receipts and expenditures of the board of control and of the board of education to the same system of audit and accounting which is now applied to the other departments of the state government.

Respectfully submitted,

N. E. KENDALL, Governor.

Referred to committee on board of control.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

The following messages were received from the Senate:

MR. SPEAKER—I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has passed the following joint resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate joint resolution No. 3, a joint resolution providing for a joint committee to make personal investigation of the financial needs of the state educational institutions.

L. W. AINSWORTH, Secretary.

Also:

MR. SPEAKER—I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Concurrent resolution calling upon congress to amend the transportation act with reference to intra-state traffic rates.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Whereas, the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Illinois rate case interprets the Esch-Cummins Act as giving them complete authority over the railways, the entire field of transportation, the traffic itself and all the instrumentalities and means of carrying it on; and whereas, it means that the law of the states and their officers are defied and that the Interstate Commerce Commission has assumed exclusive authority over the railways;

And Whereas, wheat, corn, live stock and all farm products are being marketed at a heavy loss to the farmer;

And Whereas, the freight and passenger rates are already burdensome to the producers and consumers, with the likelihood that the railroads will ask for further increase in rates, with no consideration apparently having been given in the recent raise in rates as to the low cost of construction and operation in the prairie states, with no completed valuation of the railways or as to the fact that the railways in these states have not millions invested in depots and terminals, we consider it unwise to confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the greatest power ever given to a body of men in peace times;

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly, That we call upon congress to so amend the transportation act and in such plain language that the authority of the states over intra-state traffic in their respective territories will be maintained without an opportunity for misinterpretation; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each United States senator and congressman from Iowa.

Laid over under rule 34.

Also:

MR. SPEAKER—I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate has passed the following concurrent resolution in which the concurrence of the House is asked:

Senate concurrent resolution calling for certain information from the Highway Commission of the state of Iowa.

L. W. AINSWORTH, Secretary.

Concurrent resolution calling for certain information from the highway commission of the state of Iowa:

Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That for the purpose of acquiring detail tabulated information which is not available either in the treasurer of state's office or the auditor of state's office, the Thirty-ninth General Assembly request that the state highway commission furnish the following information:

1. A tabulated statement showing the total amount of motor vehicle funds apportioned to each county of the state of Iowa for the period of date January 1, 1919 and January 1, 1920 inclusive and period of date 1920 to January 1, 1921.

2. A tabulated statement covering the periods as above stated showing the amounts of federal aid each county would be entitled to under federal aid road building appropriation acts.

3. A tabulated statement covering the same period showing the amounts of above funds expended by each county, if any.

4. A tabulated statement covering the above period showing the amounts remaining from both federal aid road building appropriation acts and motor vehicle apportionments after the deduction of amounts properly chargeable to said counties against said funds paid in behalf of said counties by warrants issued by the auditor of state and paid by the treasurer of state.

5. A tabulated statement covering the above period showing the amount, if any, any county or counties has expended in excess of the amount properly credited to said county or counties.

6. An explicit statement showing the manner in which the accounts are kept by the highway commission by which they are able to determine at all times the exact condition of the fund as derived from the two sources above enumerated as between the individual counties of the state.

7. The above information being deemed of grave importance and immediate necessity shall be furnished forthwith.

Laid over under rule 34.

Also:

Also providing for additional election clerks and the qualifications, and for two (2) ballot boxes in such precincts, and prescribing the manner of procedure in such precincts and the manner of qualifying of said officers and providing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act, beg leave to report they have had the same under consideration and have instructed me to report the same back to the House with the recommendation that the same be amended as follows, and when so amended the bill do pass:

Strike out all after the enacting clause of said bill and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 1. In all election precincts in Iowa where it is expected there will be two hundred (200) or more votes cast at the next ensuing general, primary or municipal election, the board of supervisors, or proper authorities of cities as now provided by law, may appoint three (3) additional judges and two (2) additional clerks to be known as the election counting board. Each of such appointees shall be of good moral character, well informed, able to read, write and speak the English language, shall be a voter in the election precinct in which he is to serve and entitled to vote therein.

Sec. 2. The judges and clerks of election as provided in existing law shall be known as the receiving board and it shall be their duty to supervise the casting of ballots at said election, and the judges and clerks provided for in section one (1) of this act shall be known as the counting board. The counting board shall be chosen from the two (2) political parties casting the highest number of votes at the last general election. Not more than two (2) judges nor more than one (1) clerk shall belong to the same political organization, provided that two (2) of such judges shall be chosen from the political party casting the highest number of votes at the last preceding general election. The receiving board shall perform all the functions of judges and clerks of election as now provided by law except as to counting and certifying the vote as by this act provided.

Sec. 3. The counting board shall proceed to their respective voting places to which they have been appointed at one o'clock, P. M., on election day, and shall take charge of the ballot box containing the ballots already cast in that precinct. It shall retire to a partitioned space or room provided for that purpose and there proceed to count and tabulate the ballots as it shall find them deposited in the ballot box. The receiving board shall continue to receive the votes of electors in the other box provided, until such time as the counting board shall have finished counting and tabulating the ballots cast in the first ballot box. The two boards shall then exchange the first box for the second box and so continue until they have counted and tabulated all the votes cast on that election day. When the hour arrives for closing the polls, the receiving board shall certify to all matters pertaining to casting of ballots and shall then assemble the property, supplies and other articles of election entrusted to its supervision and place them in the care of the counting board for such disposition as provided by law. The duties of the receiving board shall then cease.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors, or proper authorities in cities, to provide the judges of election with such ballot boxes and other election supplies as may be required, to be furnished in duplicate to accomplish the purpose of this act.

Sec. 5. Whenever the counting board receives from the receiving board the ballot box they shall also be furnished a statement from the receiving board giving the number of votes as shown by the poll books up to that time, which shall equal the number of votes in the ballot box. The counting board shall on opening the ballot box first count the ballots therein. If the number of ballots found in the ballot box exceeds the number as shown by the statement received from the receiving board the counting judges shall proceed to examine the official endorsement of said ballots, and, if any ballots are found that do not bear proper official endorsement, said ballots shall be kept separate and a record of such ballots shall be made and returned under the head of excess ballots. The counting board shall then proceed to count the ballots as now provided by law.

Sec. 6. The space or room occupied by the counting board shall be policed in such manner as to prevent any person, or persons, from gaining information regarding the progress of the count before the polls are closed.

Sec. 7. All judges and clerks shall take an oath as now provided in existing law for judges of election and in addition to such oath the counting board shall take the following oath:

'I.....do swear (or affirm) that I will duly attend to the ensuing election during the continuance thereof as a member of the counting board; that I will not, prior to the closing of the polls, communicate in any manner, directly or indirectly, by word or sign, the progress of the counting, nor the result so far as ascertained, nor any information whatsoever in relation thereto; that I will make and return a perfect return of the said election, and will in all things truly, impartially and faithfully perform my duty respecting the same to the best of my judgment and ability; that I am not directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager on the result of this election.'

This oath shall be administered by the clerk of the receiving board who is hereby empowered to administer such oath.

Sec. 8. Any judge or clerk violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be liable to a fine of not to exceed five hundred ($500.00) dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six (6) months. Any person so convicted shall be disfranchised for five years thereafter.

Sec. 9. No person, or persons, shall be admitted into the space or room where such ballots are being counted until the polls are closed except the counting board.

Sec. 10. Boards of supervisors, or proper authorities of cities as provided by law, shall provide suitable places for the counting of ballots, but when it becomes necessary to remove the ballot box from one room to another, or from one building to another, and at all times when they are in possession of the counting board, they shall be under constant observation of at least two counting judges.

Sec. 11. When the precinct includes a town, or a part thereof, together with territory outside the limits of such town, the township trustees shall prepare a separate ballot box to receive the vote for township assessor, which shall be on separate ballots, and only the ballots of persons living outside the limits of such town shall be placed in said ballot box.

Sec. 12. This act does not apply where voting machines are used.

Sec. 13. Compensation for counting judges and clerks shall be the same as now provided by law for clerks and judges of election.

Sec. 14. This act shall apply to all general, municipal and primary elections, but shall not apply to school elections or town elections.

Sec. 15. The counting board shall certify to all matters pertaining to the canvass and counting of votes. The said counting board shall also return poll books and ballots to the county auditor as now provided by law.

Sec. 16. This act is amendatory of existing law and all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed insofar as they conflict herewith.

Sec. 2. Not more than two of such additional judges and one of such additional clerks shall be of the same political party.

Sec. 3. Such additional judges and clerks shall enter upon their duties at the hour when the polls are declared closed. Their compensation shall be at the same rate per hour as is provided for judges and clerks of election.

Sec. 4. After comparing the number of ballots cast with the number of persons voting, as shown by the poll lists, the judges shall divide the ballots, and each group of judges and clerks shall proceed to canvass a portion of the same. When the canvass has been completed, the additional judges and clerks shall report the result of their portion of the canvass, which report shall be incorporated in the return provided by law. They shall then sign the return in conjunction with the other judges and clerks.

Sec. 5. The county auditor shall prepare and furnish to each precinct, where additional judges and clerks are appointed, two additional poll books, having a sufficient number of printed pages to contain a tally list for each of the candidates whose names appear on the ballot.

OBSERVANCE OF LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

A short program was carried out commemorating the birth, life and service of Abraham Lincoln.

On motion of Rankin of Lee the remarks of Weaver of Polk and the benediction offered by Vance of Madison were ordered printed in the journal.

ADDRESS BY MR. WEAVER

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House:

I would not be satisfied, and I am sure you would not, to have this one hundred twelfth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln pass without formal recognition by the House.

We may well give a few moments to a consideration of his career. Probably no personality in the history of the nation has, or will have, so profound an appeal to the hearts of the people as does the personality of this great man.

His memory and the inspiration of his career are a priceless heritage of the nation. We can see him today in memory as the barefoot boy in the backwoods of Kentucky. A little later we see him in the log-house home in the woods of Indiana, his bed in the morning covered with snow sifted through the roof of the cabin, and we remember that sad day in the boy's life when he sat beside the rude coffin that held the body of his mother.

We see him a little later on the prairies of Illinois, a rugged young giant "railsplitter." We remember his trips down the Mississippi as flat boatman, and how when he saw human beings offered for sale on the slave block in New Orleans he said: "If I ever have a chance to hit that thing I will hit it hard." We recall how he grew in power and influence until the day when he stood the champion of freedom and union in the Douglas debates. We never will forget how when charged by Douglas with favoring "social equality" between the whites and blacks he gave that conclusive answer: "The negro may not be my equal in mental or physical equipment but in the right to eat the bread which his own hands earn, without the consent of any other person, he is my equal and Judge Douglas' equal and the equal of any living man." Then followed his election to the presidency and his appeal to the heart of the South. "We are not enemies. We must not be enemies. The mystic chords of memory stretching from every patriot grave to every heart and hearthstone in this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union when touched as surely they will be by the better angels of our nature." The appeal was in vain and then followed Donelson, Shiloh, Corinth, Vicksburg, Antietam, The Wilderness, Gettysburg, Atlanta, and finally under the leadership of Lincoln and Grant, thank God, there came Appomattox and the dawn of peace.

Let us also remember today another significant fact in the life of Lincoln. Lee surrendered on April 9, '65. On the eleventh a meeting was called in Washington at which Lincoln was asked to speak. He came, and to the surprise and disappointment of the crowd there was no note of triumph over the South. Instead, his address dealt entirely with the steps already being taken in Louisiana for reconstruction. Gentlemen, this is the measure of a great man, namely; that in the moment of triumph he could think first of all of the needs of the days just ahead. He knew that no triumph was ever worth while that did not come freighted with its equal responsibility.

A few days later the fatal blow of the assassin fell and that great soul that had carried the burden of the nation's sorrow through four long years passed to "that well known rendezvous, Eternity."

I remember very well when the news was first received at my home of Lincoln's death, and I was sitting, a child of four years, in a neighborhood prayer meeting which was being held at my father's home. A neighbor thrust his head in at the door and announced: "Lincoln has been assassinated." I remember the look upon the faces of those present, and the excitement of the moment. I know now they were thinking that perhaps the great struggle must be all fought over again.

Walt Whitman knew Lincoln personally, and was his friend. He was living at Camden, New Jersey, when late one afternoon he received the news of Lincoln's assassination. Out of that experience he wrote the immortal lines "When lilacs last in the dooryard bloomed and the great star sank in the western sky, I mourned and yet shall mourn with every returning spring. Oh ever returning spring, trinity sure to me you bring: Lilacs blooming perennial, drooping star in the western sky, and thoughts of him I loved."

The life of Lincoln, his humble origin, his pioneer development, the marvelous breadth of his sympathy, his firm determination, his clear vision, his tragic death, form the greatest epic in all the history of the nation.

Robert Ingersoll, referring to Lincoln, has well said: "He is the sweetest memory of our world."

At the conclusion of his remarks, Weaver of Polk made the following motion:

MR. SPEAKER—I move that the House stand while the chief clerk reads that immortal address delivered at Gettysburg, which must forever remain a profound appeal to the patriotism of every American worthy of the name.

Motion prevailed.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address was then read by Chief Clerk Gustafson.

BENEDICTION BY MR. VANCE

Mr. Vance read the following poem as a benediction:

"Yes, we're boys, always playing with tongue or with pen,
And I sometimes have asked—Shall we ever be men?
Shall we always be youthful, and laughing and gay,
Till the last dear companion drops smiling away?

Then here's to our boyhood, its gold and its gray!
The stars of its winter, the dews of its May!
And when we have done with our life-lasting toys,
Dear Father, take care of Thy children, THE BOYS!"

REPORT OF STATE BOARD OF CONSERVATION

Sterling of Hamilton asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following report from the state board of conservation printed in the journal:

The board of conservation was created by the Thirty-seventh General Assembly, and the park act amended by the Thirty-eighth General Assembly. The law provides that the curator of the state historical department shall be a member and three other members designated by the executive council. Present members: Hon. J. F. Ford, Fort Dodge; E. R. Harlan, curator, historical department, Des Moines, secretary; Hon. Joseph Kelso, Bellevue; L. H. Pammel, Ames, chairman.

The law provides that the state board of conservation, by and with the written consent of the executive council, is authorized to establish public parks in any county of the state, upon the shores of lakes, streams, or other waters of the state, by reason of their scenic beauty, historic, scientific and recreational interest.

The board, thus created, met in Des Moines on December 27, 1918. It has had some twenty meetings since. The board prepared a report known as Iowa parks for the Thirty-eighth General Assembly, but it was not published until the spring of 1920. The board has made a broad survey of the state, investigating some 150 acres, including the lakes, and has on file in the secretary's office in Des Moines, a brief and full report of all areas investigated and complete minutes of its transactions. Members of the board have made numerous addresses upon request of local communities. It has in this way, secured the hearty co-operation of various communities and has many offers in the way of donations of some $250,000, from the following communities and individuals: The starred areas are now a part of the park system of Iowa. Those marked with two stars transactions not quite completed.

*Lacey, Keosauqua State Park, $6,400; *Van Buren county, Farmington $7,500; *Hardin county, Lepley Park $2,000; *Oakland Mills, Henry County $4,000; *Webster county, Dolliver Park $12,500; Wild Cat Den, Muscatine county $5,700; *Theodore F. Clark Park, Tama county $6,500; Beaman Park, Grundy county $5,000; *Carlisle, Warren county $9,000; *Ledges, Boone county $16,500; *Eldora, Pine Creek, Hardin county $28,000; Peterson, Clay county $8,000; Clear Lake, Cerro Gordo county $10,000; Pilot Knob, Winnebago county $13,000; *Fort Atkinson, Winneshiek county $2,000; *Anamosa, Jones county $21,000; Oakland, Pottawattamie county $4,000; Palisades, Linn county $13,000; Hamburg, Fremont county; Lost Island Lake, Palo Alto county $1,000; Twin Lakes, Calhoun county $1,000; Wall Lake, Wright county $2,500; Waverly, Bremer county $4,000; Idlewild, Hardin county $4,000; Roosevelt Park, Floyd county $6,000.

Contributions have also been promised from Fort Defiance, Estherville; Rice Lake, Winnebago county; Sioux City; Devil's Backbone, Madison county; Perry, Spring Creek, Dallas county; Starr's Cave, Burlington; Hepburn Park, Clarinda; Islands near Cedar Falls; *Pilot Rock, Cherokee county; Yellow River area, Allamakee county; Pine Grove, Water-ville; Ice Cave, Decorah; Cedar Bluffs, Mahaska county; Monkey Mountain, Wapello county; New Oregon and Vernon Springs, Hardin county; Rock Rapids, Lyon county; Pisgah, Harrison county; Moorehead Caves and Natural Bridge, Jackson county; Atlantic, Cass county; Swiss Hollow, Dubuque, Dubuque county; Big Boulder, Floyd county.

The method of procedure of the state board of conservation is to receive petitions for a state park. (More than 150 of these petitions are now on file.) An investigation is ordered as to its suitability for park purposes, scientific, recreational and historic value. A report is made to the board. When favorable, the recommendation is sent to the executive council for their approval. The actual buying has been done by a committee of the executive council, and a member of the board, Mr. Ford. All items authorized by the board are audited by Mr. Kelso.

The conservation board feels gratified at the responsive action of the different communities. Some 20,000 people have been addressed by members of the board on the subjects of state parks. The responsive sentiment is fine. People are willing to help, and they realize that recreation is an important matter for good citizenship. It is safe to estimate that 1,500,000 people visited our state parks and proposed state parks during the last summer and that each person spent an average of three hours in a park, or 4,500,000 recreational hours, figured at a low price of 20 cents per hour, makes the value of recreation that the state furnished its citizens at $500,000 certainly a good investment for its citizens and future citizens.

The state owns the water in some seventy odd lakes, and there is considerable land within the meandered line. There are many problems, such as the protection of the banks as at Storm Lake and other lakes, the filling up with silt to be considered. Hunters pay a license fee and the state should be interested enough to provide that the hunters have the privilege of hunting on these lakes, without trespassing. Access to the lakes by the common folk should be possible, without trespassing. What is true of the lakes is true in general of all recreational places in Iowa. There must be free access to recreational places.

It is hoped to make many of these state parks sanctuaries of wild life and memorial parks, to commemorate the veterans of the Civil and the late Great war. The board also hopes to make use of large trees for memorial purposes, and to mark historic spots commemorating the growth of our state. The board also feels that it is in the acquisition phase at this time.

The state board of conservation has given this park matter much time, serving without pay, and it hopes that it may come to you the honorable members of the legislature with a good account of its stewardship. It has tried to do its work well and for all time to come, so that future generations may look with pride to the foresight and wisdom of a generous commonwealth.

PARK AREAS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The state board of conservation has under consideration the areas listed below. The created parks are included in this list. A report of the action of the board in each case with a brief and fuller account of the scientific, historical and recreational features will be found on file in the office of the secretary, E. R. Harlan. This is submitted by the chairman of the board.

The contributions in cash from different localities bring the average cost per acre at $50.00, making the actual cost at .06 2-3 cents per person of the population of the state.

The state board of conservation has at all times had the hearty co-operation of the different state agencies in carrying on its work. In this connection we wish particularly to mention the fish and game department and the state geological survey.

SPECIAL ORDER MADE

On request of Elliott of Scott, unanimous consent having been obtained, Senate File No. 306 was made a special order for Tuesday, February 22nd, at 11:00 o'clock a. m.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

MR. SPEAKER—I desire to make the following explanation of my vote on the amendments to Senate File No. 280:

While I know that any vote that requires an explanation or for which one is made is generally looked upon with disfavor if not actual suspicion, yet I cannot refrain from presenting the following; which is the real and with me the conscientious grounds upon which I cast my vote upon the amendments and the bill as a whole of the so-called bond interest raising measure: I voted for the Weaver amendment because, while against the bill as a whole and in favor of the McClune amendment, I was impressed with the plea of the gentlemen who represent Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Waterloo and other large cities, who strongly and, I thought, reasonably, asked for the privilege of permitting these larger cities to sell six per cent bonds in order to remedy, as they stated, the deplorable school conditions. I thought if the bill passed with the McClune amendment the Weaver amendment would give its supporters relief and yet, in no way affect injuriously the rest of the state. If in this I was mistaken, which it looks a little like I may have been, it was an error of the head and not of the heart. I voted for the McClune amendment because I thought if the bill passed, I wanted its provisions incorporated in the same.

I voted against the bill as a whole because, while I realized there were many instances where particularly school conditions were inadequate and unfavorable and needed help, yet I thought a temporary measure should be enacted to meet the emergency of the times and that would afford the relief needed in instances where school property had been destroyed or was already under construction but without means to complete, or where funds were needed for maintenance or absolutely required in order to operate and continue the school; but should not be available for at the present time, starting any new and expensive operations or projects, believing as I do, that the present high rate of interest will soon be something of the past and that the cost of building and operating will also in the near future be very greatly reduced, and thereby result in a great savings to those who are able and disposed to patiently wait, and wisely postpone all not absolutely necessary construction or improvements. I think that this very action on their part would greatly promote and help bring about the very things so much desired and needed.

Respectfully submitted,

NELS PETERSON.

On motion of Larson of Montgomery the House adjourned until 9:00 a. m., Saturday.

Senate concurrent resolution relative to erection of monuments in the Vicksburg National Military Park.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Whereas, the United States Congress, by act H. R. 17645, approved September 8, 1916, granted an appropriation for the national memorial reunion and peace jubilee of the Union and Confederate Civil War veterans, held in Vicksburg National Military Park October, 1917, of which said appropriation an unexpended surplus remained which was by act H. R. 5227, approved July 11, 1919, reappropriated to be used in the erection of a memorial archway at the intersection of Clay street, extended, in the city of Vicksburg, within the bounds of Vicksburg National Military park, in commemoration of the participators and defenders in the siege of Vicksburg fortifications, who sacrificed their lives there; and, especially, memorializing the remarkable success and sacred incidents of that reunion and peace jubilee of October, 1917, and

Whereas, the said archway is now completed in imperishable granite on its chosen site, though without any knowledge of prearranged plans that, if carried out, will seriously militate against the sacred purposes of the arch. The rich perspective of surrounding vistas emphasizes the simplicity with hallowed dignity of honor; and patriotism sanctifies the purposes of the reunion of the Union and Confederate Civil War veterans. To maintain this standard, no other monuments, statues, or portrait tablets should be permitted within a certain radius that may in any way obstruct or detract from the free and open perspective of this arch.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the secretary of war of the United States be and is hereby requested to grant no privileges to erect any monuments, statues or portrait tablets within a radius of two hundred feet of the National Memorial Arch now standing at the intersection of Clay street of the city of Vicksburg, Mississippi, within the boundary of the Vicksburg National Military Park.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker of the House announced that, as Speaker of the House, he had signed in the presence of the House, the following bills:

House File No. 353.

House File No. 360.

House File No. 334.

Senate File No. 339.

CONSIDERATION OF SPECIAL ORDER NO. 2

Special order No. 2, Senate File No. 306, a bill for an act to regulate the practice of chiropractic and to provide for the examination and license of chiropractors and to provide for the appointment and maintenance of a board of examiners, with report of committee without recommendation was taken up and considered.

Smith of Clinton offered the following substitute amendment:

Amend Senate File No. 306 as follows:

By striking all following the enacting clause by striking the title and by substituting the following:

A bill for an act to regulate the practice of drugless healing, and drugless healing and surgery, to provide for the examination and licensing of applicants to practice the same in the state of Iowa, fixing fines and penalties for violation of any of its provisions and repealing chapter seventeen-a (17-a) supplement to the code 1913, (c. c. chapter 7) and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

Whereas, There has been presented in this session of the legislature, a bill—Senate File No. 306—to regulate and license the practice of chiropractic in Iowa, which provides for an examining board consisting entirely of members of that system of practice; and

Whereas, Another bill, House File No. 380, to repeal the present existing law regulating the practice of osteopathy in Iowa, and also to provide for another examining board to consist entirely of members of that system of practice; and

Whereas, there are other systems of practice, which from time to time will knock at Iowa's door for a license to practice, who will also ask for separate examining boards; and

Whereas, In the past, in providing for the examination, for licensing physicians and surgeons to practice in Iowa, the three systems of medical practice were combined in one examining board, which for many years has been very satisfactory; and

Whereas, Osteopathy, Chiropractic and other systems or methods of practice which treat human ailments, diseases, injuries and deformities, without the internal use of drugs or medicines and without operative major surgery, come under one designation, that of drugless healers; and

Whereas, It being in line with Governor Kendall's recommended policy of economy, by restricting the formation of boards and commissions, when not lessening efficiency; and

Whereas, By combining, provisions for regulating and licensing all systems or methods of drugless healing in one law, both economy and efficiency would result and everything sought in the bills in question, would be accomplished; now therefore,

Section 1. Drugless healing is hereby defined as the art of treating human ailments, diseases, injuries or deformities, by any system or method without the internal use of drugs or medicine and without the practice of operative major surgery.

Sec. 2. Osteopaths, now licensed to practice in the state of Iowa, and chiropractors, asking for this right, and hereby designated as drugless healers.

Sec. 3. A committee to examine applicants for a certificate or license to practice drugless healing in the State of Iowa shall be formed, the members of which shall be appointed by the Governor, except as herein otherwise provided. The committee shall consist of three (3) drugless healers, of good moral character, not more than two (2) of whom shall follow the same system or method of practice, who have been engaged in active practice in the State of Iowa for three (3) or more, years prior to the passage of this act, and who are graduates of a college or school, recognized by the Iowa State Association of the system or method of practice of which the proposed appointee is a graduate, as being of good standing; one physician and surgeon, registered and engaged in active practice in the State of Iowa and the Secretary of the State Board of Health. These members shall be appointed within sixty (60) days after the passage of this act, and their terms of office shall commence, and they shall assume their duties the day following the expiration of that time. Their first terms of office shall be two for one year, one for two years and one for three years, and thereafter for three years. Vacancies to be filled by the Governor, but the number of drugless healers shall neither be increased or diminished by any appointment to fill vacancies.

Sec. 4. No member of the faculty or person in any way connected with any college or school teaching drugless healing, or of a medical school or college, shall be eligible to appointment on this committee.

Sec. 5. The examining committee shall organize at its first meeting by electing one of its members president, but the secretary of the State Board of Health shall act as its secretary.

Sec. 6. The examining committee shall meet in regular session annually on the first Tuesday following July 4th, and at such other times, in special session, as may be deemed necessary, in the office of the State Board of Health, at the Capitol.

Sec. 7. Each member of the examining committee, except the secretary, shall receive for his services, out of a fund created by the payment of fees by applicants for examination reciprocity, and itinerant licenses, the sum of eight (8) dollars per day and all necessary traveling and incidental expenses, when performing their duties as members of said examining committee for drugless healers, but the secretary shall only receive his necessary expense incurred for service that cannot be performed at the office of the State Board of Health at the Capitol. The necessary postage, stationery, printing and other contingent office expenses incurred under this act shall be paid from said fund. Any balance remaining in said fund at the end of each fiscal year shall be turned over to the general fund of the state, to become a part of the general fund for the use of the state. All expenses incurred under this act shall be itemized, verified and audited and a warrant drawn therefor on this fund in the same manner as other expenses of the State Board of Health.

Sec. 8. No person shall practice osteopathy, chiropractic, or any system or method of drugless healing, or any system or method of drugless healing and surgery without a license so to do.

Sec. 9. No person shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, hereafter be licensed to practice osteopathy, chiropractic or any system or method of drugless healing, or any system or method of drugless healing and surgery, unless he shall pass a satisfactory examination conducted by an examining committee provided for in this act, except, that graduates of legally incorporated schools or colleges teaching osteopathy, chiropractic or any system or method of drugless healing, recognized by the state association of such system or methods of practice as being in good standing, who have been in active practice for three (3) or more years prior to the passage of this act, and are reputable and recognized successful practitioners in their respective communities, shall upon application, and the payment of the required fee of ten (10) dollars, be issued a license to practice drugless healing without examination, provided application is made on or before July 1, 1921.

For the practice of osteopathy, chiropractic, of any system or method of drugless healing with surgery, the same requirements shall apply with the additional requirements that the school or college of which the applicant is a graduate shall include in its curriculum of study a thorough and comprehensive course in surgery.

Sec. 12. The standard of preliminary education is hereby fixed as follows:

That the applicant for admission to such college or school teaching any system or method of drugless healing, has satisfactorily completed an approved course of study in an accredited high school or other equivalent school, having a course of study requiring an attendance through four years, or that the applicant present a certificate of having passed a satisfactory written examination in the studies embraced in the curriculum of such a high school, before any county school superintendent in Iowa.

Sec. 13. In the subject of theory and practice, the applicant shall be examined in accordance with the theory and practice taught by the school or college of which the applicant is a graduate, in materia medica and therapeutics he shall be examined in poisons and their antidotes, antiseptics and anaesthetic, and in surgery

Sec. 17. Each person entitled to a license under the reciprocal provisions of this act, shall pay to the state board of health for such license, the same fees charged by the state endorsing the application of an Iowa drugless healer, applying under like conditions for registration or license in such country, state, territory or province, but in no case less than twenty-five (25) dollars, or more than fifty (50) dollars.

By striking out all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Section 1. That in pursuance to the mandate of the voters of the state of Iowa, given at the general election in November, nineteen hundred twenty, a convention to revise and amend the constitution is hereby called to assemble on the second Monday in May, nineteen hundred twenty-three at twelve o'clock, noon, in the House Chamber of the capitol building in the city of Des Moines.

Sec. 2. The number of delegates to said convention shall correspond to the number of representatives in the General Assembly, according to the apportionment at the time of the election of said delegates, and each representative district then existing shall constitute a district for the election of such delegate or delegates.

Sec. 3. Delegates shall be residents of the districts from which elected and shall possess the same qualifications as state representatives, excepting only that sex shall not disqualify any one from being such delegate. Vacancies after election shall be filled by the governor, or the person exercising the powers of governor, by appointment of some qualified person residing in the district in which the vacancy occurs. Vacancies on the ballot after nomination, but before election, shall be filled by the governor, or by the person exercising the powers of governor, and the name of the person so nominated shall be printed on the ballot with the other nominees.

Sec. 4. Candidates for delegates to such convention shall be nominated at the regular state and county primary election to be held in nineteen hundred twenty-two and no other names shall be placed on the ballot at the general election except those selected in the manner herein prescribed. Any citizen having the qualifications herein prescribed and desiring to be a candidate and residing in the district he desires to represent, shall file, or cause to be filed, with the secretary of state at least forty days before the date of said primary a petition signed by at least two per cent of the voters in said district, as determined by the total vote cast for governor in said district at the last preceding election. Said petition shall be similar in form, so far as applicable, to that required for candidates for state representatives in the regular primaries, excepting that no party shall be referred to therein and no party qualifications required.

The secretary of state shall prepare blank petitions, which shall be sent to any citizen on demand.

The names of persons so petitioned for shall be certified to the county auditor in the same time and manner as in the case of state representatives, and shall be printed on a separate official ballot as herein provided.

A separate ballot shall be prepared by the county auditors with the names alternated by precincts in the usual manner for the nomination of such candidates for delegates to said convention and the same shall be substantially in the following form:

(Place a cross in the square preceding the names of the parties you favor as candidates)

Which ballots shall be certified in the usual manner by the county auditor and have the usual blanks for certificate by the judges of election. Each person qualified to vote in said primary shall be entitled to vote for two persons in a district where one delegate is to be elected and for four persons in a district where two delegates are to be elected, and the returns shall be canvassed by the board of supervisors at the same time as that for other officers voted for at said primaries, and an abstract of such canvass certified to the secretary of state and said abstract returns shall be canvassed by the executive council at the same time and in the same manner as other returns and they shall certify the two persons receiving the highest number of votes in districts entitled to one delegate as the nominees for said districts and the four persons receiving the highest number of votes in districts entitled to two delegates as the nominees in such districts. Results of such canvass shall be certified to the respective county auditors in the same time and in the same manner as other officers and said county auditors shall prepare a separate ballot for the general election with the names of such nominees thereon in substantially the same form, so far as applicable, as the primary ballot herein referred to, no reference being made to party therein.

The vote on such ballots at the general election shall be canvassed in the same manner and by the same officers as those for state representatives and the results certified in the same manner to the secretary of state, who shall issue certificate of election to the person having the highest number of votes in districts entitled to one delegate, and to the two persons having the highest number of votes in districts entitled to two delegates.

Sec. 5. The laws then in force in reference to primary and general elections so far as applicable shall apply to the nomination and election of such delegates. The delegates shall be chosen at the regular election in nineteen hundred twenty-two, and all votes cast for delegates at such election shall be tabulated, returned and canvassed in the manner then provided by the law for the tabulation, return and canvass of votes cast in elections for state representatives so far as they be applicable. Election contests for membership in the convention shall be heard and determined by the convention.

Sec. 6. Each delegate before entering upon his duties shall take an oath to support the constitution of the United States and the state of Iowa, and to discharge faithfully his duties as a member of the convention. In going to and returning from the convention and during the sessions thereof the delegates shall, in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of peace, be privileged from arrest; and they shall not be questioned in any other place for any speech or debate in the convention.

Sec. 7. Each delegate shall receive for his services the sum of ten dollars ($10.00) per day for each day said convention is in session, not however, to exceed fifteen hundred dollars ($1500.00) for the entire services rendered. Said per diem shall be paid, one half at the expiration of thirty days from the opening of said convention, and the balance at final adjournment. They shall be entitled to the same mileage now allowed by law for state representatives. The pay and mileage allowed to each delegate shall be certified to by the president of the convention and entered in the journal, and the warrants shall be issued therefor in the usual manner.

Sec. 8. A majority of the delegates elected shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The convention shall choose its own officers, determine the rules of its proceedings, and judge of the qualifications, election and returns of its members, and shall have power to appoint such officers, employees, and assistants as it may deem necessary and fix their compensation. The governor, or in his absence, the lieutenant governor, shall call the convention to order at its opening session and shall preside over it until temporary or permanent officers shall have been chosen by the delegates.

Sec. 9. A complete record of the proceedings of the convention, not including speeches in debates, shall be kept, and the journal containing the same filed with the secretary of state. The revision or alteration or amendments to the constitution, agreed to and adopted by the convention shall be recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

Sec. 10. The revision of or amendments to the constitution adopted by the convention shall be submitted to the qualified voters of this state for ratification or rejection in such form and at such times as the convention may prescribe, not earlier, however, than sixty days after adjournment of the convention. No such revision, alteration, or amendments shall take effect unless approved by a majority of the voters voting at such election. The convention shall fix the day or days upon which such revision, alteration or amendments shall become effective.

Sec. 11. All laws applicable to general elections then in force and not inconsistent with this act or the directions of said convention shall be applicable to such convention held to ratify or reject the recommendations of said convention, and the convention shall prescribe the notices to be given thereof and the style or form of ballot to be used thereat and all such directions shall be carried out by the officials then required to look after and carry out the provisions in reference to elections. All laws in force governing elections and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or with powers exercised under the terms thereof, shall apply to and govern elections held under the terms hereof.

Sec. 12. The convention shall have power to punish, by imprisonment, any person, not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the convention, by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence. But no such imprisonment shall extend beyond twenty-four hours at any time, unless such person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous behavior. Commitments for disorderly or contemptuous behavior in the presence of the convention shall be made in the manner now prescribed by law for the commitment of persons guilty of disrespect to the General Assembly.

Sec. 13. It shall be the duty of all public officers to furnish the convention with any and all statements, papers, books, records and public documents that the convention shall require. The convention, and its committees, shall have the same power to compel the attendance of witnesses, or the production of papers, books, records and public documents, as is now exercised by the General Assembly.

Sec. 14. It shall be the duty of the law librarian of this state to collect and compile such information and data as he may deem necessary and convenient for the use of the delegates to said convention and to have the same ready for their inspection and use thirty days prior to the time the convention meets. He shall also transmit to such delegates such information and data and such other like matter as they may call for and as he may be able to obtain between the time of their election and the assembling of said convention.

Sec. 15. The convention shall provide for the preparation and issuance, after their deliberations have been completed, of an address to the people of this state setting out in full the alterations, revisions and amendments which they recommend and fully explaining the same and their reasons for such revisions and arrange for its publication and distribution.

Sec. 16. Sufficient sums are hereby appropriated from the state treasury to pay the salaries and expenses provided in this act, the same to be paid upon proper certified statement from the presiding officer and the secretary of said convention. Such certified statements shall be directed to the state auditor, who is authorized and directed to issue warrants upon the state treasury in accordance therewith and the state treasurer is authorized and directed to pay such warrants from funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Also by amending the title to read as follows:

Whereas, definite announcement has been made of the selection of Hon. Henry C. Wallace of Iowa as secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President-elect Warren G. Harding;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That we recognize in agriculture the fundamental industry of the nation upon which rests the prosperity and contentment of the entire people and that as such the cause of agriculture demands in the cabinet a man who possesses both the requisite special knowledge and training and absolute and proved fidelity to the great cause which he represents.

That effective agriculture has become a science highly organized and having its vital connection with the whole range of the nation's activities and that it is a source of pride to the people of Iowa that for the last quarter of a century the portfolio of agriculture has been held by an Iowan, with one exception covering a period of about seven years.

That we hereby express our absolute confidence in our distinguished fellow citizen Henry C. Wallace, and his unusual fitness for the great post now assigned him. We congratulate him and the state on this continuance of Iowa's noted relation to the department and we congratulate the nation, and especially all within its borders who till the soil, upon this most fitting appointment.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER FILED

I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate File No. 410 passed the House.

J. S. GARBER,

I second the motion.

H. B. MORGAN,

On motion of Shores of Bremer, the following remarks made by Peterson of Henry in opposition to the Senate amendments to House File No. 340 were ordered printed in the journal:

REMARKS OF PETERSON OF HENRY

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE—In regard to this little bill which as far as the state as a whole is concerned is very small and of rather insignificant importance, but yet in those localities where hedges are grown and used for fences, is certainly in many instances of considerable consequence; as in cases where there is unfriendliness or contention between adjoining land owners, as well as where there is carelessness or neglect on the part of one neighbor in a matter where another is also very much interested and concerned.

Now this so-called hedge bill as it went from this House to the Senate was, I think, a very good measure and one that while doing a great service of good to the one party, worked no hardship or injury to any other. In fact, if lived up to, would be of benefit and profit to all. But as it now is, after having been amended in the Senate, is of no value to any one. In fact, will simply cause more contention and difficulty between effected parties, while in no way giving any power of relief to an imposed on and injured person. In fact it is like a fatally crippled horse, that is so badly used up that it is of no value; and yet the owner hates to kill the poor thing.

And would say that I would much rather that this first-born baby bill of mine would have been killed outright in the Senate than mutilated as it is. The bill as it was passed in the House provided that hedge fences between adjoining land owners should be trimmed twice a year, namely June and September. As it came from the Senate, it is changed to say that they shall be trimmed once a year and with no time specified. Now this in reality is no improvement over the present law which only requires that such hedges shall be trimmed once in two years. For under this amended bill, a contentious land and hedge owner, and that is the one who the original measure was intended to get at, can literally comply with the law if this amended bill becomes such, by his trimming his hedge in the early part of one year and then leaving it go until late in the following year.

Now this little bill of mine which, as it passed the House, I claim close parentage and am not ashamed of. As it came back from the Senate, I should very much hate to admit an even distant relationship to it, and would say that it has had quite a little history already for a thing so small. For, as you that were here when it was first presented on this floor, remember, it was the cause of me being called to order for injecting politics into legislation and was said to contain a joker.

And while it was so promptly passed by you kind members of the House, then after being in the Senate a while, a friendly member of the same came to me and said that I had better come over there and look after my kid as it had been referred to an unfriendly sub-committee, composed of one member that wanted it killed outright, another that wanted to cripple it and a third that didn't care a d...g... what became of the little country pumpkin. And so I went over there with considerable fear and nervousness to see the sub-committee members. But, who by the way I found to be the most friendly and pleasant appearing gentlemen and not as I had feared, a set of pirates, bent only on destruction and death, and I soon succeeded in winning their friendship for my little rural measure and through their kind influence, it was recommended out for passage by the agricultural committee, of which fact one of the members very kindly came to my desk and advised me. This information was of course very agreeable to me and upon which I then rested with perfect satisfaction and assurance that my little pet bill was headed for a successful termination.

But lo and behold! this hope and expectation was ruthlessly shattered when the chairman of the agricultural committee of the Senate came to me and told me what the Senate had finally done. Then it was that I began to think that legislative processes were real and earnest, and that death and destruction were often their real goal and it called to my memory a story about a company of men who being together decided that each should give a definition on the question of "What is life?" and that whoever gave the best answer should receive a prize. But when all the rest had given in their replies, one refused to do so, saying that being without an education he could not compete in any such contest. But being told that in accordance with the agreement he must do so, to which he replied that if there was no escape, he would simply state that his experience and observation was that life was just one damn thing after another. He got the prize.

Now I will close my remarks by stating that the present law is all right where there is no unfriendliness or deliberate negligence on the part of adjoining land owners who have hedge partition fences. And that the bill as passed by this House in no way interferes with the perfect freedom of neighbors to do as they please with their hedge fences as long as it mutually is agreeable to each.

But as the amended bill was received from the Senate, practically gives no help or relief to such as are by virtue of all fairness entitled to the same. I am opposed to the House concurring in the same and if there are no questions or objections, will move that we refuse to concur.

Laid over under rule 34.

Edson of Buena Vista offered the following concurrent resolution:

(1) Whereas it is at this time, on the reconvening of the Legislature after the March first recess, apparent that a special session of the Legislature will be necessary for the work of code revision.

(2) And whereas the great magnitude of the work of the Legislature in revising the code is now apparent to the members of both Houses of the Assembly, including within its scope approximately ten thousand (10,000) sections of law in the compiled code, and the two hundred and fifty-three (253) code commission bills in addition to such bills as will be offered by members on the floor at the special session.

(3) And whereas the work of the special session can be materially hastened by providing for the organization of the work in advance.

(4) And whereas it is the desire of the members of this Assembly that the work of the special session be completed as soon as possible.

Therefore, be it Resolved by the members of the House the Senate concurring:

(1) That it is necessary and advisable that a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of revising and codifying all laws of the state be called by the Governor as soon as possible after the adjournment of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly. The said special session to be called not later than August 1, 1921.

(2) That to avoid all unnecessary delay that the present organization of the House and Senate be continued so far as possible as the organization for the work of the special session.

(3) That all the officers of the House and Senate as now constituted and appointed be the officers of the said House and Senate so far as it may be possible to procure their services for the special session and for the same compensation as that provided for in the session of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

(4) That all the standing committees of the House and Senate be the standing committees for the special session with the same organization and the same chairmanships as provided for in the Thirty-ninth General Assembly:

(5) That all of the code commission bills, two hundred and fifty-three (253) in number, and any other bills dealing with code revision that are introduced in the Thirty-ninth General Assembly, and that cannot be passed upon at such assembly, be prior to adjournment assigned to the regular standing committees of the House and Senate as may be designated by the code revision committee, and all of such bills shall by the chairman of the said standing committees be assigned to subcommittees, prior to adjournment, the report of the said subcommittees to be made on said bills to the standing committee immediately on the reconvening of the special session.

(6) That in order to provide for the appointment of employees for the special session a committee of five (5) be named by the president of the Senate, and a committee of five (5) be named by the Speaker of the House to give examinations or otherwise investigate the qualifications of committee clerks and recommend the appointment of not to exceed thirty (30) such clerks in the Senate and thirty (30) in the House for the work of the special session, the number of said committee clerks to be increased or diminished as the work may require after the commencing of the special session. The said committee shall also be empowered to nominate and recommend for appointment in each House not to exceed four (4) doorkeepers, and not to exceed two (2) janitors together with such number of pages as in the opinion of the said committee shall be necessary for the efficient work of each body. Said committee may make nominations of such other employees as in their opinion shall be necessary for the efficient accomplishment of the work of the special session.

(7) Be It Further Resolved That the joint code revision committee be authorized to arrange with the code commission or the code editors and such other persons or employees as may be necessary, for the printing and publishing of the laws of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly and the co-ordinating of the acts therein contained with the two hundred fifty-three (253) code commission bills, and that the said code revision committee be authorized to make such additional arrangements for the work of the special session as may be necessary for the most efficient and speedy completion of the work of said session.

(8) Be It Further Resolved, That the work of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly be hastened to an early conclusion, and that prior to convening of the special session the members make preparation for the work thereof, in order that this assembly may, at as early a date as possible, give to the people a complete revision and codification of all the statutes, logically and scientifically arranged for public use in the state of Iowa.

Edson of Buena Vista asked to have the concurrent resolution relative to special session referred to the committee on code revision.

Kime of Webster moved that all resolutions relative to a special session be referred to the committee on code revision.

The Speaker ruled that inasmuch as rule 34 provides that all resolutions shall lay over for the day, the motion of Kime of Webster was out of order.

The resolution of Edson of Buena Vista was laid over under rule 34.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DEPARTMENTAL AFFAIRS

Gilmore of Clay, from the committee on departmental affairs, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER—The undersigned members, being a majority of your committee on departmental affairs, beg leave to say that they have had under investigation, the department of public instruction.

We find:

(1) That the superintendent of public instruction, P. E. McClenahan, has charged and collected from the county institute fund of certain counties in Iowa, as shown by the record in the hearing, a fee of fifty dollars ($50) for giving a lecture or lectures to the teachers attending the county institute in such counties.

(2) That the said P. E. McClenahan acknowledges that he has made such charge and collected such fees in the total sum of five hundred seventy-five dollars ($575.00) since he took his office.

(3) That on, or about, the month of April, 1920, Attorney General H. M. Havner and his assistant, R. C. Kendrick, orally advised Mr. McClenahan that it was illegal for him to make such charges for lectures at teachers' institutes, and advised him to discontinue the practice.

(4) That Mr. McClenahan, notwithstanding the advice of the attorney general, thereafter, in at least two instances, received pay from the county institute funds, in the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) in one case and $25.00 in the other, for the giving of his lectures to the teachers attending such county institutes.

(5) That Mr. McClenahan has at all times heretofore, claimed and now claims, that he has a legal right to make such charges for his services in giving lectures to teachers at county institutes.

(6) That Attorney General Havner appeared before your committee and testified that he had advised the superintendent of public instruction that it was illegal for him to charge or collect such fees, and Attorney General B. J. Gibson issued a written opinion since the commencement of this investigation to the effect that the making of such charges and the collecting of such fees by the superintendent of public instruction was illegal and contrary to the provisions of the statute.

Conclusions:

(1) In view of the foregoing facts and under the record as it now stands the undersigned members of your committee are of the opinion that the making of a charge or collecting of a fee by the superintendent of public instruction from the county institute funds, or public funds, for his lectures before the teachers of county institutes, is in fact illegal, unauthorized and contrary to the express provisions of the statute.

(2) We are also of the opinion that by reason of the conduct of the superintendent of public instruction in making such charges or receiving such fees, and continuing the practice after he was advised of its illegality by the attorney general, that he is no longer able to command the respect and confidence of educators and teachers, or of the people of the state of Iowa, in carrying out the duties of his office, and his continuance in office will not be for the best interest of the department of education.

MINORITY REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON DEPARTMENTAL AFFAIRS

Santee of Black Hawk, from the committee on departmental affairs, submitted the following report:

MR. SPEAKER—The undersigned members, being a minority of your committee on departmental affairs, beg leave to dissent from the opinion of the majority as expressed in their report, and submit herewith a minority report and move that the minority report herewith submitted be substituted for the majority report:

In the hearing before the committee on departmental affairs, the minority beg leave to say that they have had the department of public instruction under investigation and report, as follows:

1st. A certain school supply salesman, living in Des Moines, had had some controversy with the superintendent in which the superintendent refused to permit him to use his office or the influence of the same in selling school supplies. This was admitted by both parties. This certain salesman exhibited photographic copies of warrants drawn in favor of the superintendent for lectures given in various counties and attempted to show correspondence between himself, the superintendent and the school supply house to vindicate his position. He also submitted an anonymous letter, a copy of which was printed in the Des Moines Register of February 11, 1921. Other witnesses were examined by the committee but claimed to have nothing but rumors in the way of evidence.

The superintendent being called to the witness stand admitted having charged for lectures and claimed in justification of the same that it had been a precedent established in the office for as far back as the year 1892. Other witnesses were called and books shown verifying his evidence. The attorney in his office, Mr. Hemminger, was also examined and claimed that it was legal for Mr. McClenahan to make such charges for his lectures.

Findings:

Your committee finds that the superintendent received a total in two years of $575.00 for giving lectures; that in some cases, where there was a controversy, he did not collect for his lectures; that on or about the month of April, 1920, in a conversation with the attorney general, he was advised by the attorney general to discontinue collecting for his lectures, which he did; afterward two county warrants, having an aggregate amount of $75.00, were sent to him which he accepted.

Conclusion:

Your committee finds; first, that the charges were of a political and personal character, excepting as to the funds collected; second, that the collection of funds mentioned are a matter of record and should be a matter for the courts to decide as to whether the precedent followed was legal or illegal, and not a duty of the committee.

C. B. SANTEE,
WM. BECKER.

Ordered passed on file.

OPINION OF GARBER OF FLOYD

Garber of Floyd filed the following opinion:

MR. SPEAKER—I agree with the findings of the majority of the committee as to the statement of facts in the case but do not agree with the opinions of the majority as expressed in their conclusions. In my judgment the legality of the state superintendent accepting pay for lectures before institutes is a matter to be determined by the courts.

J. S. GARBER.

REMARKS OF WEAVER OF POLK

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE—I wish to speak briefly in support of this important measure.

I am of that great company of men born too late to share in the heroic service of the boys in blue and yet too early to serve in the ranks of the men who enlisted in the world war.

Born in 1861, the son of a Second Iowa veteran, my whole life has been lived in the patriotic atmosphere that is largely the reflection and product of the service and presence of the veterans of the Civil War.

That service cannot be measured in dollars and cents nor the value to the life of the nation in the last fifty years of the men who came home in '64 and '65. They have been everywhere centers of patriotic zeal and have richly repaid in their steadying influence all the recognition and appreciation, material and otherwise, that have been accorded them.

Now a new company of American youth comes upon the scene to take the place of the fast receding ranks of the boys in blue. Not all of them reached European soil, but all were ready. They made the offer of "the last full measure of devotion" and the service and sacrifices of those who reached the front are but the symbol of what all would have rendered had opportunity offered.

I am glad the bill is so drawn as to include all enlisted men. All were taken from the accustomed paths of their life, made to resign opportunities all about them, and all met with material losses. The provisions of this bill amount to a modest recognition of their sacrifices and are an expression of the state's consciousness of a debt she can never repay.

It is a pleasure to note that the bill includes nurses who served abroad on land or sea. This is no more than just to those brave Iowa women who ministered to the wounded and sat beside the bedside of dying Iowa boys.

And, too, I am not willing to help create a situation where a hundred thousand Iowa men shall for a half century be able to point to other states that have granted such recognition and draw a comparison unfavorable to Iowa. In every state where a referendum has been taken the result has been favorable, and under our constitution a referendum is compulsory. It is for the people to determine the issue, and I predict a favorable result.

The great spiritual fact about our participation in the world war is that our nation sought no inch of foreign soil nor any material advantage. This youthful giant of the nations, America, saw in God's wondrous gifts to her but the measure of her duty and responsibility to civilization, and in her love for mankind, her gifts for a world's need, her willingness for sacrifice, there has come to the stars and stripes a new splendor that is imperishable.

There is time for but one specific reference. German money and intrigue had in 1918 undermined the moral fibre and the fighting power of one hundred seventy-five million Russians. Following this came the transfer of the millions of soldiers of the Central powers to the western front. Then followed the drives in Picardy, in Flanders, and finally down across the Marne. Everywhere victorious, the thunder of German cannon was heard throughout Paris and the allies were falling back. Then something happened. Straight into the brazen face of the enemy flushed with victory, Foch threw like a thunderbolt the might of the smiling, singing, free sons of these United States. Chateau Thierry and Cantigny, the Argonne and all the rest are names that will stir America for a thousand years. And at San Mihiel, that promontory that had stood out in the allied line for four years our men matched the immortal cry of the French at Verdun: "They shall not pass," with their own victorious shout: "It shall not stand."

There thus began that retreat that was not to end until the pean of victory for justice and freedom rang in the corridors of all the world.

In the days ahead we wish these Iowa soldiers to be one with us, in contented spirit and in labor for the common good. We need their patriotic fervor, their sense of common service, their ties of comradeship, their recollections of immortal deeds done in the old world for the honor of the state and the preservation of civilization.

They should, and I feel sure will be, as were their fathers and grandfathers before them, the central steadying influence as we tread the path that reaches into the unknown—the half century just ahead of us. I unreservedly urge the passage of the bill.

REMARKS OF MAYNE OF PALO ALTO

MR. SPEAKER AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE—I deem it a great pleasure to stand before this body of men in advocacy of the measure now pending before you for your consideration. I not only deem it a pleasure but an honor as well, for I recognize in this measure an opportunity of demonstrating to the men who were in the late war that their efforts, their patriotism and their sacrifices in behalf of the honor, integrity and perpetuity of this nation have not yet been forgotten but are still fresh in the hearts and thoughts of the people.

In a free nation like ours, whose defense rests not in large standing armies but in the willingness of her sons to go forth and bare their breasts to the battle storm in defense of the sacred rights of that nation, it is essential for the future preservation of that nation to give to such sons not only a due mead of praise, but so far as possible, equalize to some extent the material sacrifices that they have made. Thus, future sons of America may know that their country stands ready and willing to shield them and their families to some extent from the pecuniary disadvantages they may have incurred by reason of their loyalty to free institutions and their land. I think I know somewhat of the sacrifices that these men have made and I want to say right here, that it makes such sacrifices doubly hard when one knows that the loved ones he leaves behind are inadequately prepared to meet the stern vicissitudes of life that war is always sure to bring.

This measure, now before this body, does not adequately recompense these men for what they have done for this nation and this people, but it will, in some degree, mitigate the hardships of the present conditions of life and give them to understand that the people of the state of Iowa have not forgotten that they left home friends all behind and went forward in defense of their country. I give this measure unqualified support and I know that I voice the sentiments of those men who went forward and gave their services to this nation in the Spanish American war. These men do know somewhat of the stern necessities of war and I know that their hearts go out in sympathy to the boys of the late war and all of their influence will be for this just and somewhat equitable measure if it is placed before the people of this state for their approval. I am not authorized to speak for those noble men of the great war of 1861, the Grand Army of the Republic, but I think I know their sentiment in regard to this matter and they too, stamp their approval upon this measure.

Gentlemen of the House, this measure is a just one and does in a way express the appreciation of this body and of the people of this state for these who so nobly came forward in the defense of this nation in the recent great world crisis.

REMARKS OF YENTER OF JOHNSON

MR. SPEAKER, AND GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE—In presenting the soldiers bonus bill, House File No. 401, the substitute for which is found on page 821 of the House journal, I do not desire to take much of your time. This bill has been carefully drawn, after considerable study and investigation on the part of the legislative committee of the American Legion and your military committee and I might state at this time that realizing the magnitude and importance of this legislation that this bill has been given as careful and painstaking work by the military committee as any bill ever presented to a committee for its consideration. The opinions and ideas of many not only of members of the House and Senate but the opinions and ideas of many representative citizens of the state of Iowa have been considered.

This bill has been drawn to conform with the opinion and advice of many of our citizens who are well qualified to express opinion on the matter in hand. The advice and approval of expert attorneys has been had as to the constitutionality of this bill in its present form. Speaking from a purely personal standpoint, perhaps certain provisions of this bill do not entirely meet with my approval, but I wish to make this point clear, the measure before you for consideration is the product of a great deal of study and investigation and meets with the approval of a great majority of people. The measure as now presented includes as its beneficiaries, all who served honorably, male or female in the military or naval forces of the United States, between the dates of April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918 and limits the total amount to be paid to any one person to $350.00, except those who did civilian work and received civilian pay for same, and those whose only service was in The Students Army Training Corps. In behalf of the S. A. T. C., I wish to state that there is no spirit of discrimination nor desire to exclude. They were all or nearly all under the draft age until the second registration, and were sent to our best schools, for example, Ames and the state university of Iowa, where they pursued a regular course of study, being subject to military discipline in a mild form only, and being clothed and rationed by the United States government, and drawing the same pay as he who was actually in the army, also they drew the same amount of additional compensation at the time of their discharge as did the men who were in actual service. Far be it from me to try to belittle their service. I am most firmly convinced that at least 99 per cent of those boys were honest and sincere in their desire to serve, but, gentlemen, we who have carefully considered this important measure, and I want to state to you that this feature of the bill was carefully considered and a great deal of public opinion solicited, do not believe they are entitled to the benefits of this act. It is my opinion that if they were included that the bill would be materially weakened. We cannot forget that they are already better paid than the cootie-covered, mud-bespattered veteran of the front line trenches.

An additional bonus fund, of not to exceed $2,000,000 to be constituted from any unexpended balance of the $22,000,000 fund which will be created if this bill is passed, for the benefit of persons designated as beneficiaries under this act who are suffering from disability, is provided for. This fund to be administered by the board created by this act. If there is any part of the fund contemplated in excess of $2,000,000, after all approved claims are paid, this excess is to be applied to the payment of the debt herein created.

It is anticipated by the authors of this bill that the $22,000,000 fund provided for, will be sufficient to pay all claims, and leave a good working balance for the care of disabled and suffering beneficiaries of this act. The limitation provided and the application of the surplus heretofore referred to, is merely a safeguard for the state of Iowa to make impossible a top-heavy fund for which we anticipate no use. I do not anticipate as large a balance as the amount provided for in this bill.

As you all know, this bill has aroused as much or more interest than any measure pending before this assembly. The people of the state of Iowa are for it.

Much could be said but gentlemen, I do not want to spend more time. You have all considered this matter and are ready to vote.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the rules be suspended and that the bill be read the third time and placed on its passage.

On motion of Lockin of Cherokee the House adjourned until 10:00 a. m., Monday.
