World Food Prize

Purpose and History

The World Food Prize is an international award recognizing the achievements of individuals who have advanced human development by improving the quality, quantity, or availability of food in the world. The World Food Prize recognizes contributions in any field involved in the world food supply, such as food and agriculture, science and technology, manufacturing, marketing, nutrition, economics, poverty alleviation, political leadership, and the social sciences.

The World Food Prize emphasizes the importance of a nutritious and sustainable food supply for all. By honoring persons who have worked successfully toward this goal, the World Food Prize calls attention to what has been done to improve global food security and what can be accomplished in the future.

Dr. Norman E. Borlaug, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1970 for his work in world agriculture, envisioned a prize that would honor those who have made significant and measurable contributions to improving the world's food supply. Beyond recognizing these persons for their personal accomplishments, Borlaug saw the World Food Prize as a means of establishing role models who would inspire others. His vision was realized when the World Food Prize was created in 1986. Laureates have been recognized from countries around the world.

The World Food Prize Youth Institute was established in 1994 by the World Food Prize Foundation. The primary goal of the Institute is to increase awareness of the World Food Prize mission among Iowa youth. Through an application process, students and their mentor teachers (one student/teacher team per high school) are selected to attend the annual three-day Youth Institute in October. These attendees represent a cross-section of the State, including large and small urban and rural communities.

Funding — State General Fund

Iowa Code section 15.368\(1\) makes an annual General Fund standing appropriation of $1.0 million to the World Food Prize beginning with FY 2010. The World Food Prize received a $1.0 million appropriation for FY 2009. The General Assembly, until FY 2018, annually appropriated approximately $1.0 million from a combination of two sources: the General Fund and the Rebuild Iowa Infrastructure Fund (RIIF). The total appropriation for FY 2018 was $700,000 before decreasing in FY 2020 to $375,000 from the General Fund with no RIIF appropriation.

The funds are used for administration and support of the World Food Prize and for the Borlaug/Ruan Scholar Program. None of the moneys received from governmental sources are used to fund the World Food Prize award given to the recipient of the World Food Prize. Governmental funds are also not used to pay for food or beverages at any of the social functions held as part of any World Food Prize event. No State funds are used for capital projects.
