Southwest Regents Resource Center

Background

The Board of Regents universities participate in three independent graduate study centers around the State to make a variety of graduate programs and educational resources available regionally to Iowans. The three centers are:

- Southwest Resource Center in Council Bluffs.
- Northwest Resource Center in Sioux City.
- Quad Cities Graduate Center in Rock Island, Illinois.

At the Southwest Center in Council Bluffs, the three State universities partner with the region's community colleges to provide increased access for area residents to graduate and undergraduate education, as well as other university resources.

Funding

Since FY 2018, the Board of Regents has received a single annual appropriation of $272,000 to fund all three resource centers at the Board's discretion.
