JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Calendar Day - First Session Day

Hall of the House of Representatives
Des Moines, Iowa, Monday, January 8, 2024

Pursuant to chapter two (2), section two point one (2.1), Code of Iowa, the House of Representatives of the Ninetieth General Assembly of Iowa, 2024 Regular Session, convened at 10:06 a.m., Monday, January 8, 2024.

The House was called to order by the Honorable Pat Grassley, Speaker of the House.

Prayer was offered by Reagan Grassley. She is the daughter of Speaker Grassley.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Reagan, Indee and Chance Grassley. They are the children of Speaker Grassley.

The Journal of Tuesday, July 11, 2023, was approved.

Speaker Grassley requested a moment of silence to honor the victims, families and community members affected by the tragic shooting at Perry High School on January 4, 2024.

The members of the House rose and stood in a moment of silence.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR

Jeneary of Plymouth moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Governor that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communication that she may desire to transmit.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Jeneary of Plymouth, Chair; Sherman of Iowa and Srinivas of Polk.

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE SENATE

Bossman of Woodbury moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify the Senate that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communication that the Senate may desire to transmit.

The motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Bossman of Woodbury, Chair; Henderson of Woodbury and Zabner of Johnson.

IMMEDIATE MESSAGES

Windschitl of Harrison asked and received unanimous consent that the following resolutions be immediately messaged to the Senate: House Concurrent Resolutions 101, 102 and 103.

Speaker Grassley offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GRASSLEY

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Iowa House. Welcome back to the chamber for the 2024 Legislative Session.

Thank you for continuing to trust me with the honor of serving as Speaker of the House.

Majority Leader Windschitl – we’ve accomplished a lot together as leaders of this caucus. Let’s keep this good thing rolling.

Minority Leader Konfrst – I have a great deal of respect for you and the way you lead your caucus. I look forward to another session working with you toward solutions that benefit the state we all love.

I hope, like me, all of you enjoyed your time back home in your district. Between constituent meetings, the farm and my family, I was certainly kept busy.

I’ll tell ya - two teenage girls sure keeps me on my toes. But sometimes it’s my 9-year-old Chance that tests me most, and I think that’s probably because he’s a whole lot like my dad.

The first day back always carries an air of excitement. It’s great to see many of you again for the first time in a long time and get caught up on how we spent our interim. If you try and talk to me about yields, I’ll quickly change the subject to something else maybe like my daughter’s state championship volleyball team.

But all that time spent in the combine during the interim leaves me with plenty of time to think about the upcoming session. Some of my best ideas have come during the hours spent in the field, thinking about the input I hear from my constituents and all the members who share what they’re hearing across the state.

I don’t know if any of you have heard, but Iowa House Republicans represent all 99 of Iowa’s 99 counties. So we feel we have a good pulse on the concerns and priorities of Iowans as we set our agenda for this session.

Iowans have come to know our caucus as leaders that will be responsible with their tax money and defenders of their freedom. That will continue to be the case for as long as Iowans elect us as the majority party. In addition to those core tenants, we are embarking on a bold agenda for the 2024 Legislative Session guided by four themes we’ve heard about from Iowans.

When we released our list of priorities in December, one of our main themes was making sure Iowa is a safe place to live and raise a family. Unfortunately, the tragic shooting at Perry High school just four days ago has reinforced that this is more urgent than ever.

For all of us, the loss of life in Perry is top of mind as we begin session. People choose Iowa because our state is viewed as safe. So when we see these senseless acts of violence in our own home state, in our own schools, it shakes us to our core. In Iowa, every parent should be able to send their kids to school and trust that they will return home safe. Our caucus talks a lot about keeping students safe. This means many things. It means investing in school security. It means prioritizing school resource officers. It means protecting children’s mental health. It means teaching resilience over victimhood. And it means ridding our classrooms and school libraries of inappropriate content.

I can't wrap my head around how this issue of sexually explicit material in schools got so convoluted. I am still shocked that we actually have people willing to fight this hard to keep pornographic material in our schools. What is the educational value of oral sex scenes in a school library book? Have we lost our minds?

Last session, we passed a simple solution to protect Iowa's students from inappropriate material. It should've been an easy policy for schools to implement. But instead, some chose to politicize this issue. And if we need to pass additional legislation this year to protect our kids from this over-sexualization, we will.

Outside of our schools, we will continue to differentiate ourselves from our neighbors to the north and to the east and their soft-on-crime policies. We've seen smash and grab mobs take over cities, not just on the coasts, but here in the Midwest. We've seen people turn their backs on law enforcement and act as though they are the enemy. Not here in Iowa.

We will prioritize a safe and secure Iowa with policies that get repeat offenders off the street. We'll ensure the state is doing all it can to support law enforcement recruitment efforts and protections for these brave men and women.

Our second theme is ensuring Iowa's Strong Economy.

Bidenomics has hit Iowans' pocketbooks hard. House Republicans want to deliver relief that Iowans can feel as soon as possible. If you've come to know anything about our caucus' tax proposals, you know it will be sustainable. This session, we'll look at speeding up our previously passed tax cuts as quickly as we can.

Our counterparts in Minnesota's Capitol building are making Iowa an even more appealing place to be able to support your family or run a business.

This session, we'll explore policies that further incentivize businesses currently stuck in states like Minnesota – who takes their policy cues from California – by the way, which do we like better, Minneformia or Calisota? – to bring their businesses and employees here to Iowa where they will have the freedom to thrive.

This session we will also focus on keeping government transparent and efficient. Last year, we consolidated our state government, making it more efficient and cost-effective. We can't stop there. Iowans expect a transparent government that works for them.

Government agencies must make their tools and information easy to access and easy to understand.

Staffing shortages continue to put tremendous pressure on our nursing homes and hospitals. We need to pursue policies that help these critical industries ensure they can provide quality, consistent care at a reasonable cost to the Iowa taxpayers.

And finally, circling back to education. Our fourth and final theme is improving education outcomes for Iowa students. By many national rankings, Iowa's K-12 Education system is slipping amongst its peers. We need to work with educators to ensure we are doing all we can to reverse that trend.

This session, we'll dive into Iowa's K-12 education standards to ensure they are setting our students and teachers up for success.

We have heard from so many teachers, who have to deal with so many distractions and behavioral issues, that they can't spend enough time actually teaching their students. We want those teachers – who too often feel like no one has their back – to know that we hear you.

One of our focuses this session is empowering teachers and getting them the disciplinary tools and compensation they deserve.

Beyond K-12, it's time for us to have a comprehensive review of our higher education system and ensure taxpayer dollars are going toward preparing our workforce, particularly in high-demand fields.

It'll be a busy year. Much of what I just walked through may not be easy. But our caucus prides itself on our track record of delivering on the promises we make to Iowans. And we must continue to fulfill our commitments to the voters. I know this group is ready to get the job done.

Alright – That's enough from me. Let's get to work.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR

Jeneary of Plymouth, Chair of the committee to notify the Governor that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communication she might desire to transmit, reported that the committee had performed its duty.

The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE SENATE

Bossman of Woodbury, Chair of the committee to notify the Senate that the House was duly organized and ready to receive any communication that the Senate might desire to transmit, reported that the committee had performed its duty.

The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

Minority Leader Konfrst offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER KONFRST

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and good morning ladies and gentleman of the House. It's lovely to see you all again, typically we get a little more time but it's good to see you.

I'm really grateful for the opportunity. I first want to thank my family for their patience. Leaders work a lot during family time. I also want to thank my caucus for your dedication and commitment to true service to the people of Iowa and your willingness to keep fighting even against long odds. It means a lot to your constituents and to me.

Today, we are starting session under a cloud. The shooting in Perry has shaken us to our core. We are scared. Parents are scared to take their kids to school. We are scared to be in the Capitol and we are scared to be in public places. It's simply time to do something.

My hope this session, after hearing the Speaker's commitment to doing something about this, is that we can actually do something because people at the end of this session should feel safer taking their kids to school in the morning than they do today.

That's our job, let's work together to get something done. We don't know all the details about what happened in Perry, but we do know this: we have to do something. It's not enough just to move on. Ahmir deserves better, and so do all our kids.

As we look forward to this session, we've also been traveling this state and talking to voters. A word I would use to describe so many Iowans is frustrated. I've got to tell you friends, they don't like any of us. They're sick of politics and sick of politicians. They want us to accomplish something that serves everyone, not just the special interests and not just base voters. That is what we are here to push for this year.

Iowans are also telling us that they are frustrated with partisanship and with the fact that we can't come together to work together. So I would like to open this session with the conciliatory note: let's work together. Let's find a way to get things done together. Last session when Leader Windschitl and I sat down at a table and talked about a policy, I got tears in my eyes because that is what we are here to do. To work together to put the people of Iowa over the politics of this place.

We work every day to put people over politics. You know we have our agenda. We are going to defend reproductive freedom. We are going to defend public education. We are going to fight to legalize marijuana and we are going to continue to work to lower the costs for Iowa families. Iowa House Democrats firmly believe that a tax bill is not the only thing keeping families from feeling comfortable when they are doing their kitchen table budget.

There are a lot of things we can do and they are not partisan. So how about this year, the fact that Democrats introduce a bill doesn't mean it is a bad idea automatically out of the gate. I get how it works here. I know what the realities are, but Iowans don't and they expect us to do better. Even if we have a good idea, I will give it to you. You can run it and it will be yours.

What matters most is that we build policies that Iowans will recognize and will have better lives because of. We are here to serve Iowans. We are not here to serve the people that give us checks. We are not here to serve the people who stand in the lobby and try to tell us what to do. We are here to serve Iowans. I hope we can do that together.

This session, let me tell you this. I enjoy working with Leader Windschitl. I enjoy working with Speaker Grassley and I enjoy working with so many of you. Instead of going to our corners all the time, let's take some time to come together. Let's take some time to not just have a bipartisanship vote on the board but draft bipartisanship policies that include the input of 36 people in this chamber.

We can do better than we are doing for Iowans and then we can all go back and say to Iowans: "We put people over politics." We came together to get something done and your lives will be different in May because of the work we do in January, February, and March. Let's work together and say to the special interests that you have had your turn. It is now Iowans' turn to feel we are representing them wholly and well.

At the end of the day, let's keep our focus on people and leave politics at the door.

Thank you very much.

Remarks were given by Majority Leader Windschitl.
