The Capitol Building

The capitol building stands as a symbol of the state, and the center of its government, on an eminence east of the Des Moines River. Its golden dome, visible from the far reaches of the valley, surmounts a dignified structure of modified Renaissance architecture, typical of the style of the 1870's and 1880's, when it was built.

Broad lawns and great stone steps sweep down westward from the capitol toward the river and the Des Moines business district. Lawns, with flower beds, trees, shrubs and monuments, extend to the south, and parking lots and auxiliary buildings to the east and north. The entire area of capitol grounds includes 93 acres.

The capitol houses the offices of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general and secretary of agriculture, the chambers of the supreme court, the state senate and house of representatives, and the law library. Other offices of state government are found also in the capitol, and in the state office building, the state historical building and other buildings on and adjacent to the capitol grounds and in downtown Des Moines.

The corner stone of the capitol was laid Sept. 29, 1873, and the building was dedicated in 1884. Construction was brought to a close in 1886. The cost was $2,875,594.59. Expenditures were increased to a total of $3,296,256 by repairs, restoration and redecorating following a fire in the north wing Jan. 4, 1904.

The exterior of the building is entirely of stone, with elaborate columns and handsomely designed cornices and capitals. The substructure is of dark Iowa stone topped by a heavy course of vari-colored granite cut from glacial boulders gathered from the Iowa prairies. The superstructure, or main part of the building, is of buff colored sandstone from quarries alorg the Mississippi River in Missouri.

The capitol is 364 feet long, north and south, by 247 feet wide. The dome, rising 275 feet above the ground floor, is overlaid with 22 carat gold.

Center of State Government

The government of Iowa centers in the venerable, golden-domed capitol, which presides over a constellation of 12 other buildings on its park-like 93 acres, and eight buildings or quarters which the state owns or leases in downtown Des Moines. Planned in 1870, the capitol was designed to house all the state's activities, but they have overflowed into one building after another as the state has grown and its functions have multiplied. Although the capitol no longer houses all the government, it still is the center of administration, of legislation and of judicial interpretation.

Here come the committees from communities, the lobbyists to see the legislators, the litigants and lawyers to contest appealed cases. Here also come the sight-seeing delegations, men and women, and throngs of school children. Especially during legislative sessions the children come, marshaled by their teachers, to parade up the grand staircase, look at the murals, gaze into the dome, sit in the legislative galleries, maybe even to be introduced to the legislature or to meet the governor.

There were 418 persons employed in the capitol when the Iowa State Capitol Planning Commission made a survey. But when the legislature is in session there are also 158 legislators and their 158 secretaries and a staff of some 60 legislative clerks and assistants. And visitors throng the corridors at a rate of 500 to 2,300 a day during legislative sessions. Capitol visitors in 1962 numbered 75,000. Focal point of activity, aside from the legislative halls, is the cafeteria in the ground floor corridor, where hundreds have a meal or a lunch or at least a cold drink, in the course of the day. And serious business is discussed.

Rivaling the capitol for historic interest is the state historical building, where library resources and museum exhibits abound and guided tours are conducted. First in volume of employment is the state office building, with some 1,347 persons employed. State employees in other buildings in Des Moines aside from the capitol numbered 820 when the planning commission survey was made.

How Site Was Selected And Capitol Was Built

Location of the capitol on its commanding site resulted from a series of decisions that began almost with statehood. The new state quickly recognized that the capital should be farther west than Iowa City, and the First General Assembly in 1846 authorized a commission to select a location. Amidst rivalries a Jasper County selection was made, and then rejected. In 1854, the Fifth General Assembly decreed a location "within two miles of the Raccoon forks of the Des Moines River." The exact spot was chosen when Willson Alexander Scott gave the state 9½ acres where the capitol now stands.

A group of Des Moines citizens built a temporary capitol (which was later bought by the state), near where the soldiers' and sailors' monument now stands. In 1857 Governor Grimes proclaimed Des Moines to be the capital city, and state papers and functions were transported thither. The temporary capitol was in use for 30 years, until destroyed by fire, but in the meantime the permanent capitol was being planned and built.

The General Assembly in 1870 established a capitol commission to employ an architect, choose a plan for a building, not to cost more than $1,500,000, and to proceed with the work, but only by using funds available without increasing the tax rate.

New this year in the galaxy of buildings surrounding the capitol is the administration building of the Employment Security Commission, shown under construction in the left foreground. This is at East Ninth Street and Grand Avenue. Beyond the capitol in the middle background is the state office building, and at the far right is the Amos Hiatt building.

The board employed Edward Clark, architect of the capitol extension at Washington, to aid in selecting plans and modifying them to keep the cost within the limits of appropriations. The board also instituted tests to ascertain whether Iowa stone could be found suitable for building. John C. Cochrane and A. H. Piquenard were designated as architects, and a corner stone was laid Nov. 23, 1871. A smaller, fulltime commission was appointed in 1872. Much of the original stone had deteriorated through waterlogging and severe weather, and had to be replaced, and the cornerstone was relaid Sept. 29, 1873.

Although the building, as planned, could not be constructed for $1,500,000, the Cochrane & Piquenard design was retained and modifications were undertaken. Mr. Cochrane resigned in 1872 but Mr. Piquenard continued until his death in 1876. He was succeeded by two of his assistants, M. E. Bell and W. F. Hackney. Mr. Bell resigned in 1883 to become supervising architect for the treasury department in Washington, and Mr. Hackney continued until completion of the building.

Successive legislatures made appropriations and the commission built within the limits of the funds appropriated. The building was dedicated in January, 1884, when the general assembly was in session. The governor's and other offices were occupied in 1885. The supreme court room was dedicated in 1886.

The building commission made its final report June 29, 1886. The cost had totaled $2,873,294.59. The audit showed only $3.77 unaccounted for in the 15 years. The commission bemoaned that it could not have had another $30,000 to finish the frescoes and build the south and west steps.

In 1902, in order to modernize and repair the building, a third capitol commission was created. While work proceeded, a disastrous fire in the north wing, Jan. 4, 1904, ruined the house chamber and damaged other offices. The commission restored the building, purchased paintings and mosaics, and redecorated almost all the interior. The original decorations are still in the senate. These expenditures raised the total cost of the capitol to $3,296,256.

Design of Capitol And Its Appearance

The architectural design of the capitol, rectangular in form, with great windows and high ceilings, follows the traditional pattern of the nineteenth century planning for public buildings, a modified and refined Renalssance style which gives the impression of strength and dignity combined with utility.

The commanding feature is the central towering dome. This is constructed of steel and stone and covered with 22 carat gold. The original cost of the gold leafing, in 1927, was $16,500, but the estimated cost for its renewal is $80,000. The dome is surrounded by a lookout lantern that may be reached by long and winding stairs, and it terminates in a finial that is 275 feet above the ground floor. The rotunda beneath the dome is 67 feet in diameter. Four smaller domes of simple design rise from the four corners of the capitol. The pediment over the front entrance discloses a fine piece of allegorical sculpture.

Stone for the basement was quarried in Johnson County, Iowa; granite came from Iowa boulders; stone of the main structure from St. Genevieve and Carroll counties, Missouri; steps, columns and other parts from Anamosa, Iowa; Cleveland, Ohio; Sauk Rapids, Minn.; Lamont and Joliet, Ill. Imported and domestic marble of 29 kinds was used in the interior; and the wood used was nearly all from Iowa forests of walnut, cherry, catalpa, butternut and oak.

As is so often the case with public buildings, visitors are likely to enter on the ground floor. Although the majestic approach is up the long hill and stone steps from the west, the convenient entrance is from the parking lots on the east. The ground floor corridors are busy with cafeteria service, and in the busy season this area is thronged. Here visiting groups may stop at the custodian's office to obtain information and to inquire about guide service. There are information desks also on the upper floors.

The beauty, dignity and arrangement of the interior become apparent as the visitor stands under the dome on the first floor. Broad, lofty corridors extend west, north and south. Walls are highly decorated. The prevailing tones are brown and tan, with brighter colors in the decorations. The grand staircase is to the east. Suites opening from the south corridor are those of the governor, auditor of state, treasurer of state and the executive council. The supreme court and secretary of agriculture are to the north, the secretary of state to the west and the attorney general to the east.

The grand staircase ascends to a landing and divides north and south to bring visitors to the floor above, where the house of representatives is on the north, the senate on the south and the law library on the west.

The senate hall is 58 feet long, 91 feet wide and 41.9 feet in height. It is finished in marble, white oak and scagliola, and is furnished in mahogany. The figures in the ceiling represent Industry, Law, Agriculture, Peace, History and Commerce.

The hall of the house of representatives is 74 by 91.4 feet, and 47.9 feet in height. It is finished in marble, scagliola and black walnut.

The law library is 108.4 feet long, 52.6 feet wide and 44.9 feet high. It is furnished in ash and chestnut and beautifully wainscoted in marble.

The Mural "Westward" And Other Decoration

Extending full width of the east wall over the staircase is the great mural painting, "Westward," an idealized representation of the coming of the people who made Iowa. This was completed as part of the 1904 decoration. Edwin H. Blashfield, the artist, wrote of it:

"The main idea of the picture is a symbolical presentation of the Pioneers led by the spirits of Civilization and Enlightenment to the conquest by cultivation of the Great West. Considered pictorially the canvas shows a prairie schooner drawn by oxen across the prairie. The family ride upon the wagon or walk at its side. Behind them and seen through the growth of stalks at the right come crowding the other pioneers and later men. In the air and before the wagon are floating four female figures; one holds the shield with the arms of the State of Iowa upon it; one holds a book symbolizing enlightenment; two others carry a basket and scatter the seeds which are symbolical of the change from wilderness to plowed fields and gardens that shall come over the prairie. Behind the wagon and also floating in the air, two female figures hold respectively a model of a stationary steam engine and of an electric dynamo to suggest the forces which come with the later men. In the right hand corner of the picture melons, pumpkins, etc., among which stand a farmer and a girl, suggest that here is the fringe of cultivation and the beginning of the prairie. At the left a buffalo skull rather emphasizes this suggestion."

On the upper floor level above the "Westward" painting are six mosaics in six arched panels depicting Defense, Charities, the Executive, the Legislative, the Judiciary, and Education. These were made in Venice from small pieces of colored stone, according to designs by Frederick Dielman of New York, who also designed the mosaic panels Law and History in the Congressional Library.

Twelve statues, high within the rotunda, beginning north of the library door, represent History, Science, Law, Fame, Art, Industry, Peace, Commerce, Agriculture, Victory, Truth and Justice.

Eight lunettes, or half-moon-shaped paintings, surrounding the rotunda are the work of Kenyon Cox, famous American artist. They are entitled: Hunting, Herding, Agriculture, the Forge, Commerce, Education, Science, Art. They are allegorical and indicate the progress of civilization.

At the top of the staircase on the south wall is a painting of a basket of corn by Floyd V. Brackney, a native of Marshall County. This picture was the center of the Iowa exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco.

The battle flags carried by the Iowa regiments in various wars are preserved in niches on the main floor—Civil War 36; Spanish-American War 13; First World War 26. In the west hall is a plaque done by Nellie V. Walker in commemoration of the work of Iowa women in the fight for civic and political equality. In the south hall is a 26-foot photographic enlargement, showing the grand review of the 168th Infantry on the capitol grounds following their return from France in 1919.

A lofty banner, stretched high under the vault of the dome, is a G. A. R. emblem, painted by Joseph Czizek on the occasion of a Des Moines convention of the Grand Army of the Republic, and retained as a permanent decoration by order of Governor Kendall in 1922.

Above the grand stairway, facing the large "Westward," are quotations. On the south side is one by Patrick Henry: "No free government or the blessings of Liberty can be preserved to any people but by a firm adherence to Justice, Moderation, Temperance, Frugality and Virtue and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles."

On the north side is one by G. W. Curtis: "Courageous confidence in the intelligence of the community is the sure sign of leadership and success."

Underneath it is one by Solon: "The ideal state—that in which an injury done to the least of its citizens is an injury done to all."

To the west is a quotation from William Pitt: "Where law ends tyranny begins."

Around the rotunda on the frieze above the columns is the famous Abraham Lincoln quotation: "That government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

The Governor's Office Has Its Own History

On Jan. 1, 1885, Governor Buren R. Sherman became the first occupant of the present offices of the Governor of Iowa, following dedication of the state capitol building the year before. Much of the decoration and original furnishings of that day still are preserved in the four-room suite. The large, ornate mahogany table in the center of the reception room is an example. The frescoed ceilings were painted on the wet plaster more than 75 years ago.

The governor's private office was moved from the center room to the west office by Governor Albert B. Cummins in 1902. The governor's desk, in front of a large French glass mirror, also was installed at that time and has been used by all successive chief executives of Iowa. Governor

Nathan Kendall (1921-1925) provided the solid, straight-back chairs for visitors.

The grandfather clock in the governor's private office dates from about 1750 and once was owned by the prominent Iowa author Emerson Hough of Newton (1857-1923). The tall clock in the office of the executive secretary is the original master clock controlling other clocks in the law library, supreme court, and legislative chambers. Operated by air, the clock must be wound once a week.

The offices are 23 feet 9 inches from floor to ceiling. The window hangings are of a fine, plush material. Lamps in the inner office are of pewter. Prisms of cut Czechoslovakian crystal decorate the chandelier in the reception room. The woodwork was carved in cherry and mahogany by skilled German craftsmen. The hearths and wainscoting are of fine domestic and imported marble. Paintings in the offices are the works of Iowa artists.

Striking Monuments On Capitol Grounds

The most striking monument on the capitol grounds is the granite shaft rising 145 feet, erected to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the Civil War. The heroic bronze figure "Victory" is predominant, while at the base there are four groups representing different branches of the military or naval service, and numerous historical plaques and medallion portraits of typical soldiers. The original design was by Harriet A. Ketcham and work was commenced in 1894. A small and appropriate memorial to Christopher Columbus, erected by Iowa citizens of Italian ancestry, stands nearby.

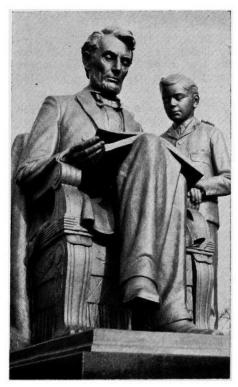

General Grenville Dodge erected a monument honoring Iowa's longtime Senator William B. Allison. This is an allegorical design of heroic dimensions, depicting civic duties in the public service, and it is encompassed by a flower bed.

West of the capitol is an impressive bronze statuary group depicting the Pioneer. The cannon and mortar on the grounds are of Civil War days. The grave of Willson A. Scott, one of those who gave the state the capitol grounds, is near where he lived and is appropriately marked. A bronze cannon taken in the Spanish-American War and the head-piece of the Battleship Iowa are near the historical building. A granite block dedicated to the soldiers of the Spanish-American War also stands on the plaza east of the capitol.

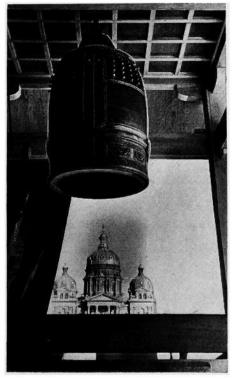

In 1950, the fine record of Iowa citizens in war bond drives was rewarded with the presentation of a replica of the Liberty Bell, and it is properly stationed just across the street west of the state office building. Boy Scouts presented a replica in miniature of the Statue of Liberty and it is erected between Grand Avenue and the parking area east of the capitol building. A stone erected by the W. R. C. in honor of Crocker Post No. 12, Department of Iowa, was set in 1944.

Iowa's memorial to Abraham Lincoln, a statue by Fred M. and Mabel L. Torrey, depicting the Civil War president and his son Tad, was dedicated in 1961. This was commissioned by Friends of Lincoln, Inc. It is on the west approach to the capitol.

A Japanese temple bell and bell house, presented to the state of Iowa by the prefecture of Yamanashi in Japan, stand on an eminence on the south edge of the capitol grounds. They express appreciation for a gift of purebred breeding hogs and corn sent to Yamanashi after the typhoon of 1959. Dedication was in 1962.

State Offices Overflow Into 20 Other Buildings

Originally the whole state government was housed in the capitol, but departments through the years have outgrown it, one by one or in groups, until now there are 14 state-owned buildings on or adjacent to the capitol grounds, one state-owned building in downtown Des Moines, and seven downtown buildings in which space is leased.

First major building to be added to the capitol group was the state historical building, planned originally in 1896 to house the Aldrich historical collection, but now the home of the state historical department and of a variety of library and museum functions. Known as the Historical Memorial and Art Building, it is 260 by 110 feet in size, built at the turn of the century and enlarged by an addition in 1908.

The limited area of the capitol grounds became a major political issue, and the Thirty-fifth General Assembly in 1913 set up a tax to raise $3,000,000 to purchase lots, buildings and residences to clear the way for expansion to 93¼ acres. The land was landscaped, drives were put in and a system of lighting was installed to enhance the beauty of the capitol.

The six-story-and-basement office building, 120 by 246 feet in size, was started with an appropriation by the Forty-ninth General Assembly of $1,650,000, available July 1, 1941. First department to move in was social welfare, Sept. 1, 1951, and occupancy was completed when the department of public instruction moved, April 24, 1952. Total cost of the building was $4,935,892.45. A tunnel from the new office building to the state house was completed early in 1953 at a cost of $92,841.71.

The International Harvester Building, on the southwest corner of the state house grounds, was bought in 1945. Total cost including remodeling of its five floors was $541,972.

The Amos Hiatt school building, southeast on the grounds, was remodeled for use of the commerce commission. An old school building on the northwest corner of the grounds was razed. The former home for governors north of the capitol was fitted for training of disabled persons.

Purchase of the old Y.M.C.A. building at Fourth Street and Keosauqua Way for $300,000 was authorized by the Fifty-eighth General Assembly in 1959.

Construction of a building for the employment security commission was authorized by the Fifty-ninth General Assembly in 1961, with an authorized expenditure of $1,500,000, toward which the federal government is contributing $1,200,000. The site is at East Ninth Street and Grand Avenue, across from the capitol. Completion of construction was scheduled for the fall of 1963.

Locations of state departments are given in the list on page 22, which would be longer if all offices within departments were named. The telephone directory of state departments has 250 listings.

Proposals for Future Buildings and Grounds

Proposals for the future development of the capitol and its grounds were presented to the Fifty-ninth General Assembly in 1961 by the Iowa State Capitol Planning Commission. The planning commission pointed out: that the number of state employees would increase by about 20 per cent in the next 20 years; that present quarters already are overcrowded; that several of the buildings are in such states of disrepair or inappropriate structure or location that they should be removed; that additional parking space must be provided; that the beauty and dignity of the capitol grounds should be preserved and enhanced. Accordingly the commission proposed:

Purchase of additional property and expansion of the capitol grounds east to East Fourteenth Street, north to the alley between Grand Avenue and Des Moines Street, and south to the railroad tracks.

Construction of the Employment Security Building.

Construction of a library building and conversion of the state historical building into a modern museum building.

Construction of a new agricultural building to bring together all agricultural agencies now housed in the capitol and in the agricultural laboratory building.

Construction of a small new office building to accommodate non-agricultural departments to be removed from the agricultural laboratory building (Harvester Building) and the Amos Hiatt Building, both of which would be taken down.

Removal of the vocational rehabilitation training facility from the capitol grounds to a site adjacent to one of the hospitals.

Removal of the highway patrol and civil defense offices to the edge of the city.

Construction of a new heating plant and maintenance facilities in a location less detrimental to the appearance of the grounds.

Architect's sketch of Employment Security Commission building.

Suggested incidentally also was the possibility that a small downtown office building be erected if a survey should show that certain departments could best function by remaining in locations in the Des Moines business district.

The Government of Iowa

The government of the State of Iowa is based upon a constitution adopted by the people and upon statute laws enacted from time to time by the general assembly.

Iowa has always used the separation of powers doctrine, dividing the governmental authority into its legislative, executive and judicial components. Iowa has had two state constitutions, the first approved in 1846, the second in 1857. Only eight states are now using constitutions adopted prior to the Iowa constitution of 1857. The present constitution has been amended in 28 respects.

The Iowa constitution's "Bill of Rights," Article I, is one of the best sections of the state constitution. It has been used as a reference guide for the model state constitution written by the National Municipal League and by the framers of the 1948 New Jersey constitution.

The Electorate—All men and women who have lived in Iowa for six months, in the county in which they claim residence for 60 days, and in the precinct 10 days, are entitled to vote if they are citizens of the United States 21 years of age or over. Persons convicted of infamous crimes and those declared idiotic or insane are, however, disfranchised. The right of women to vote in Iowa is based upon the nineteenth amendment to the United States constitution.

Election Days—The regular elections for national, state, district and county officers are held on the Tuesday following the first Monday of November of the even-numbered years. Candidates, with a few exceptions, are nominated at the primary election held on the first Monday in June preceding the general election. Provision is also made for nominations by petition or convention. Political parties must use the primary for nominating candidates, but in case no candidate receives the necessary 35 per cent at the primary, a convention may nominate.

The regular election date for municipal officers is the first Tuesday following the first Monday of November of the odd-numbered years. If a municipal primary election is necessary it is held on the second Tuesday prior to the regular municipal election.

Legislative Department

General Assembly—The legislative authority of the State of Iowa is vested by the constitution in a general assembly which consists of a senate and a house of representatives. The terms of both senators and representatives begin on the first day of January following their election. Regular sessions are held biennially, commencing on the second Monday of January of the odd-numbered years. Special sessions of the general assembly may be called by the proclamation of the governor.

House of Representatives—The house of representatives consists of 108 members, elected for two years. Each of the 99 counties is entitled to one representative and each of the nine counties having the largest population elects an additional representative. Any person who has resided in the state for one year and has the qualifications of a voter is eligible for election as a representative. Women were admitted to the general assembly by an amendment of the state constitution adopted in 1926.

The house of representatives elects a speaker and other officers. Each house makes its own rules of procedure.

Senate—The senate consists of 50 members, elected by districts for a term of four years. A senatorial district contains from one to three counties, and elects one senator. According to the constitution, approximately one-half the senators are to be elected at each alternate biennial election. Senators must be 25 years of age and have the other qualifications required of representatives. Members of both houses of the Iowa general assembly are paid $30 for each day that they are in session. The speaker and lieutenant governor are paid $60 per diem.

Executive Department

Elective Officers—The constitution of Iowa makes provisions for a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state and attorney general, who are elected for terms of two years at the regular biennial elections in the even-numbered years. In addition, the general assembly has made provision for a secretary of agriculture, elected for two years. A board of commerce commissioners of three members, formerly elective, became appointive by the governor in 1963. A superintendent of public instruction is chosen by a state board of public instruction, consisting of one member from each congressional district in Iowa and one appointed at large by the governor.

Governor—The supreme executive power of the state is vested in the governor. It is his duty to see that the laws are enforced, to supervise the official business of the state, to make recommendations to the general assembly, and to appoint various officers and boards. Most major appointments are subject to confirmation by the senate. He has the power to call special sessions of the legislature and veto acts passed by the general assembly, but a majority of two-thirds of each house may pass a bill over his veto. To qualify as governor, a person must have been a citizen of the United States and a resident of the state for at least two years and must be 30 years of age or over at the date of election.

Lieutenant Governor.—The lieutenant governor, who must possess the same qualifications as the governor, succeeds the governor in case of his death, resignation or disability. His chief function is to act as president of the senate.

Appointive Officers—In addition to the elected executive officers mentioned, there are a number of appointive officers, including the comptroller, the superintendent of banking, the insurance commissioner, the labor commissioner, the adjutant general, the commissioner of public health, the industrial commissioner and commissioner of public safety, all appointed by the governor, usually with the approval of the senate. The governor also appoints the members of a number of administrative boards, including the commerce commission, the state board of regents, the board of control of state institutions, the state tax commission, the board of parole, the state board of conservation, the liquor control commission, the state highway commission and the unemployment compensation commission.

Executive Council—The executive council is an ex-officio board made up of the governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and secretary of agriculture.

State Printing Board—The state printing board has three ex-officio members—the secretary of state, auditor and attorney general—and two members appointed by the governor. The board appoints the superintendent of printing.

Judicial Department

The judicial department of the State of Iowa is vested by the constitution in a supreme court, district court and inferior courts as the general assembly shall provide.

Supreme Court—The supreme court consists of nine justices, who, until amendment of the constitution in 1962, were elected officers, with terms of six years. Vacancies now occurring are filled by appointment by the governor, from lists of nominees provided by the state judicial commission. The term is at least eight years, after approval by referendum of the voters at a judicial election. The justices name one of their number as chief justice, and he serves in that capacity until the expiration of his term. The supreme court appoints a reporter of the supreme court who is also the code editor, a supreme court statistician, and a clerk.

Attorney General—The constitution also provides for an attorney general who is elected at the regular blennial election for a term of two years. He represents the state in legal matters, gives advice to state officers, and has, in addition, certain administrative functions.

Judicial Districts—The State of Iowa is divided by law into 21 judicial districts, composed of from one to nine counties. Each district has from two to eight judges. Judges were elective officers until amendment of the constitution in 1962 made them appointive by the governor from lists of nominees provided by district judicial nominating commissions. Retention in office is subject to subsequent approval at a judicial election.

There are now 75 district judges in the state. One of the district judges presides over the district court sessions in each county. A county attorney and a clerk of the court are elected by the voters in each county.

Inferior Courts—The general assembly has provided also for inferior courts. Each township is authorized to elect two justices of the peace who hear cases involving minor offenses and hold preliminary hearings on more serious charges. Municipal courts, superior courts, police courts and mayors' courts are authorized in cities and towns under various restrictions. Municipal courts are optional in cities having a population of 5,000 or more and superior courts in cities with 4,000 or over. Both municipal and superior court judges are elected for four-year terms.

Municipal Courts—If a city of the first class has neither a municipal nor a superior court, the council shall appoint a police judge in commission governed and city manager cities and may provide for the election or appointment of a police judge in such cities under the general law. In all municipalities having none of these special courts, the mayor acts as the police judge.

Jury Trials—Jury trials are the rule for serious cases, but under certain conditions may be waived or denied. Petit juries consist of 12 persons who must be "electors," except in some courts of restricted jurisdiction where the number of jurors may be six persons.

Local Government

County Officials—The State of Iowa is divided into 99 counties, the boundaries of which may not be changed unless the change is approved by the voters of each county concerned. A board of supervisors consisting of three, five or seven members is the chief administrative agency in the county. They appoint a county engineer, county home steward, medical examiner, county welfare director and other administrative officials. In addition, an auditor, who is the clerk of the board of supervisors, a sheriff, county attorney, recorder, treasurer, and clerk of the district court are elected by the voters, the terms being four years except for the county attorney, who is elected for two years.

A county superintendent of schools is chosen every three years by a county board of education. The county assessor is chosen by the board of supervisors, county board of education and the mayors of the various towns in the county, for a term of six years. They likewise fix his salary.

Local Functions—The Iowa county is a quasi-political corporation which collects municipal, school, county and state taxes, enforces state laws, has charge of poor relief and certain other welfare activities, and shares with the state highway commission the management of the roads and bridges in the county.

Townships, which in earlier days were effective units of local government within the counties, have lost almost all of their functions, except for the election of justices of the peace, in which many townships default.

City Government—The laws of Iowa also authorize the incorporation of cities and towns. These municipalities derive their authority from the general assembly and have only the powers specifically granted to them. Four cities and towns are governed by special charters¹ granted before the adoption of the present constitution which forbids such acts of incorporation. Four cities have the commission form of government²; six have adopted the city manager plan by popular election³; and 11 others have a city manager by ordinance⁴. Members of the commission are elected by the voters. The city manager in cities adopting that plan by a popular vote is appointed by the council.

Municipal Classes—All other municipalities are under the general law. Municipalities are classified according to population into cities having over 15,000 population; cities having from 2,000 to 15,000 population; and towns having less than 2,000 population. In 920 municipalities, the government is by the mayor-council system, in which the mayor and members of the council are elected by the voters for two-year or four-year terms.

City Councils—The council is the policy-making body in municipal government and it is also the chief administrative agency in the mayor-council cities. The mayor presides over the council, although he is not a member, and has the power to veto acts of the council subject to a two-thirds majority vote over his veto. He supervises municipal activities and in cities and towns which do not have a municipal, superior or police court, he serves as police judge. He also appoints certain officers, including the marshal or chief of police, the city health officer, and members of the police and fire board, and other officials that the council may direct him to appoint. The city solicitor and clerk, and in some cases the engineer and members of the zoning board of adjustment are chosen by the council.

Taxation

Tax Sources—Taxation is probably the most important governmental power. The present state tax system of Iowa is a multiple tax system based largely on sales, personal income and corporation taxes. There are also taxes on inheritance, gasoline, cigarettes, beer and chain stores. The property tax is the primary source of revenue for local government in Iowa.

Tax Levies—Property is assessed by the county assessors with some aid from the state tax commission. Assessments are subject to revision by local boards and by the state tax commission. Various mill levies for state, county, school and municipal purposes are computed by the county auditor on the assessed valuation. Tax money is paid to the county treasurer, who distributes it to the proper fund. Levies for county, school or municipal purposes are, in most cases, limited by state law. In larger cities, city assessors function in addition to the county assessors.

Tax Assessments. Chapter 427, 1962 Code of Iowa, contains provisions as to property taxable and property exempt from taxation. Section 427.13 provides that all property not specifically exempted by statute is taxable.

Personal property shall be listed and assessed each year in the name of the owner thereof on the first day of January; real estate shall be listed and valued in 1933 and every four years thereafter. (Sec. 428.4) 1965 is a regular real estate assessment year.

In each year in which real estate is not listed, all new buildings erected since the last previous assessment must be listed, and the valuation added to the valuation of the real estate on which the buildings are situated. (Sec. 428.4)

The statutes of Iowa require all property subject to taxation to be valued at its actual value, and to be assessed at sixty (60) per cent of such actual value.

There are 120 duly appointed, qualified and acting assessors in the state of Iowa, of whom 99 are county assessors and 21 are city assessors. All city and county assessors must qualify for the position by examination conducted by the state tax commission and by an examining board, and are appointed by the conference board of the city or county, as the case may be. The term of office of an assessor shall be for six (6) years.

*Sessions of Boards of Review. The city and county boards of review shall be in session from May 1 to May 31, both inclusive, each year and shall hold as many meetings as are necessary to discharge their duties. Such boards shall hold meetings in quarters provided by the board of supervisors. The assessor shall be clerk of the board of review.

The board of review shall have the power to equalize assessments by raising or lowering the individual assessments of real property, including new buildings, personal property or moneys and credits made by the assessor. It shall also add to the assessment rolls any taxable property which has been omitted by the assessor.

Any property owner or aggrieved taxpayer who is dissatisfied with his assessment may file a protest against such assessment with the board of review on or after May 1 to and including May 20, of the year of assessment. Said protest shall be in writing and signed by the one protesting or by his duly authorized agent. Taxpayer may have an oral hearing thereon if request therefor in writing is made at the time of filing the protest. Such protest must be confined to one (1) or more of the grounds specified in the statute. (Sec. 441.37)

Homestead Tax Credit Law. Every home owner in the state of Iowa, who resides upon his homestead six months out of the year and fulfills the other requirements of the law, is entitled to a homestead tax credit upon his taxes.

The amount of credit to which he is entitled depends upon the value of his homestead and the millage rate of credit allowed by the Iowa state tax commission.

No home owner can receive a credit upon his taxes upon any value in excess of $2,500 and the Iowa State Tax Commission cannot refund in excess of 25 mills upon such valuation. In other words, no home owner can receive in excess of $62.50 refund.

Under this law, a home owner is:

- (1) One who holds fee simple title to the homestead.
- (2) A person occupying a homestead as a surviving spouse.
- (3) A person occupying property under contract of purchase where it can be shown that not less than ten per cent of the purchase price named in the contract has been paid and that such contract has been made a matter of record in the office of the county recorder.

- (4) A person occupying a homestead under devise or by operation of inheritance laws.
- (5) A person occupying the homestead under a deed which conveys a divided interest where the divided interest is shared only by persons related or formerly related to each other by blood, marriage or adoption. (Sec. 425.11)

Under this homestead tax credit law, a dwelling house is defined as any building which is occupied wholly or in part by the owner as a home.

In rural districts it cannot exceed 40 acres and in cities and towns, if its assessed valuation is less than twenty-five hundred dollars, the land area may be enlarged until its assessed valuation reaches that amount.

A homestead may contain one or more contiguous lots or tracts of ground with buildings upon it, used in good faith as a homestead.

Home owners desiring to avail themselves of the benefits of this law must file application for such tax credit with the assessor each year between Jan. 1 and up to and including July 1. This application is for taxes payable in the succeeding year.

Budgets Prepared and Submitted

Preparation—All taxing districts except townships must at least twenty days prior to Aug. 15 of each year prepare a budget of anticipated expenditures and estimated amount to be raised by taxation by funds. Rural schools post budget estimate ten days before dates of hearing. Other taxing districts subject to the budget law publish their budgets in a newspaper.

Certification—After hearing and decision of local board, budgets are certified to the county auditor not later than Aug. 15. (Sec. 24.17)

Submitted to State Comptroller—As soon as taxes are certified by each local board and have been computed by the county auditor he shall forward a copy of each budget, together with a summary of all budgets, to the state comptroller.

County Budget—On or before Jan. 31 of each year, each county is required to appropriate in detail anticipated expenditures for every office or department for each and every purpose for which expenditures are authorized or demanded. The budget in detail must be completed and adopted by Dec. 31 of the preceding year. This procedure is appropriating in detail the budget certified in August by funds.

State—On or before Sept. 1, next prior to each biennial legislative session, all departments and establishments of the government shall transmit to the state comptroller estimates of their expenditure requirements for each fiscal year of the ensuing biennium.

The comptroller shall prepare and file in his office, on or before the first day of December of each even-numbered year, a state budget report.

Not later than Feb. 1 of the year of each biennial legislative session, the governor shall transmit to the legislature a document to be known as a budget, setting forth his financial program for each of the fiscal years of the ensuing biennium.

Levies. The board of supervisors fixes the county tax levies at the September meeting. School corporations make their levies and certify them to the office of the county auditor on or before the fifteenth day of August. Cities and towns also certify their tax levies within the same time. Township trustees make, and the clerks certify, the township levies within the same time.

The State Tax Commission fixes the rates necessary to meet the amount required for any state levy authorized by the comptroller or treasurer.

All taxes are due and payable Jan. 1 of each year. The first installment of taxes becomes delinquent April 1 and a penalty of three-fourths of one per cent per month attaches. The second installment of taxes becomes delinquent Oct. 1 and a penalty of three-fourths of one per cent per month attaches. (Sec. 445.39)

Tax sales are held on the first Monday in December of each year. Prior to tax sales, an advertising fee of 60 cents attaches for each description and, in case of sale, $1.00 is added for each tax sale certificate. (Sec. 446.10 and 446.29)

Redemption. For redemption from tax sale, four per cent penalty is added to the sum paid by the purchaser at tax sale and all subsequent taxes paid by him under sale. Also six per cent interest is added from time of payment until time of redemption, together with 25 cents for redemption certificate.

Tax sales run three years before purchaser is entitled to a tax deed.

Taxes a Lien on Real Estate. Taxes due from any person upon personal property are a lien upon any or all real estate owned or afterwards acquired by such persons for a period of 10 years from Dec. 31 of the year in which levied. As against the purchaser, taxes are a lien against real estate on and after Dec. 31 of the year in which they were assessed and levied.

Military Exemptions. The following should receive the attention of soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses who have participated in the several wars in which this country has engaged, subsequent to and including the war with Mexico, who are entitled to exemptions from taxes. The exemptions are as follows:

$3,000 assessed value to any soldier, sailor or marine of the Mexican or Civil War.

$1,800 assessed value to any soldier, sailor, marine or nurse of the war with Spain, Indian wars, Chinese relief or Philippine insurrection.

$750 assessed value to any serviceman or woman of World War I.

$500 assessed value to any serviceman or woman of World War II.

$500 assessed value to any serviceman or woman during the Korean war, from June 27, 1950 to July 27, 1953.

The property, to the same extent, of the wife of any such soldier, sailor, marine or nurse, where they are living together and he has not otherwise received the benefits above provided; also the property to the same extent of the widow, remaining unmarried, where they were living together at the time of the death of such person; and the property to the same extent of the widowed mother, remaining unmarried, of any such soldier, sailor, marine or nurse where the said widowed mother is, or was at the time of the death of the soldier, sailor, marine, or nurse, dependent upon such person for support and he has not otherwise received the benefits above provided; also the property to the same extent of a minor child or children of any such deceased soldier, sailor, marine or nurse.

The above exemptions may be made from any property owned by the claimant and said claim for exemption, if filed on or before July 1 of any year and allowed by the board of supervisors, shall be effective to secure an exemption only for the year in which such exemption is filed.*

Designation of the property upon which the claimant desires to claim the exemption is to be made by July 1 of the year and if no designation is made, the exemption shall apply to the homestead, if any.

The law also requires that the person claiming any of the above exemptions must be a resident of and domiciled in the state of Iowa.

Soldiers in actual military service are permitted to retain their homestead rights even though they are not for the period of their service residents of or domiciled in Iowa.

*Provided, notwithstanding the filing of the claim on or before July 1 of any year, the claimant shall be the legal or equitable owner of the property upon which exemption is claimed, on the first day of July of the year in which said exemption is claimed.

Election of State Officials

Each two years in Iowa, the people elect their governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state, secretary of agriculture and attorney general.

retary of agriculture and attorney general.

State commerce commissioners were elective officials until 1959 when the 58th General Assembly enacted legislation providing for their appointment by the governor, beginning in 1963. The superintendent of public instruction is named by the State Board of Public Instruction.

Justices of the supreme court and judges of the district court are appointed by the governor from lists of nominees presented by judicial nominating commissions. This system of appointing judges was provided by an amendment to the state constitution approved by the people at an election in 1962.

Members of the senate are elected for four years; house members for two years.

Terms of County Officers

Elected county officers are the clerk of courts, auditor and sheriff, elected in 1960 for four-year terms; the treasurer and recorder, elected in 1962 for four-year terms; the county attorney, elected in 1962 for a two-year term; and the county supervisors, elected for three-year terms which overlap. Elections are held in even-numbered years.

Election of Federal Officials

Federal elections occur each four years, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, in 1964, 1968, and so on. The constitution provides that the only elected federal officials are the president, vice-president, U. S. senators and U. S. representatives. All other officers are appointive—practically all by the president. U. S. senators serve a term of six years; house members serve terms of two years, being elected in even-numbered years.

Iowa Congressional Districts

The seven representatives from Iowa who were elected to the Eighty-eighth Congress in 1962 were elected from seven congressional districts which were established by act (S.F. 480) of the Fifty-ninth General Assembly which convened Jan. 9, 1961.

Redistricting was required because the 1960 census revealed that Iowa's representation in the house would have to be reduced by one. The seven districts determined by the general assembly have populations as follows: first, 403,048; second, 442,406; third, 403,442; fourth, 366,119; fifth, 391,489; sixth, 397,877; seventh, 353,156. The districts are as shown below:

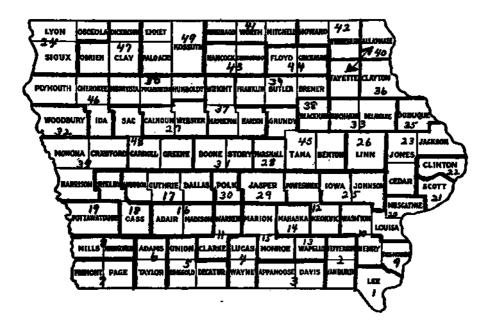

Redistricting May 3, 1961. Iowa population 2,757,537.

Spiral stairway facilitates access to 150,000 volumes of law library.

Iowa Senatorial Districts

Twenty-nine senators in the Sixtieth General Assembly, serving the last half of four-year terms, or completing unexpired terms, represent districts as they existed before the state was redistricted by the Fifty-ninth General Assembly in 1961. Twenty-one senators represent "new" districts created by the Act of 1961. Also, for the period of the transition, seven counties were attached temporarily to "old" districts for the 1963 session. Thus, for a proper understanding of senate assignments for the Sixtieth General Assembly, maps of both the "old" and the "new" districts are required, as shown herewith.

The Sixtieth General Assembly

The Sixtieth General Assembly legalized the sale of liquor by the drink. It submitted to the voters, in an election set for December 3, 1963, a plan to reapportion seats in the legislature.

And finally, devoting more time to it than to anything else, the Sixtieth General Assembly thoroughly explored the tax problem. But there was no action, except a one-cent increase in the cigaret tax, and a 10 per cent tax on liquor by the drink.

The Sixtieth General Assembly held the longest session in Iowa history, 125 days. And it approved the largest budget, $206,368,774 a year for each year of the biennium. Yet the budget was $23.6 million short of the $230 million recommended by the governor. And this in turn was a $38 million reduction from the total expressed requirements of the state agencies and departments.

The Sixtieth General Assembly convened Jan. 14, 1963, and adjourned May 18. The gavels fell May 23. Cost of the session was $1,107,600.

Bills introduced numbered 1,088, of which 377 were passed. The governor vetoed four, and the legislature passed one over his veto.

Republicans were in control. There were 38 Republicans and 12 Democrats in the senate; 79 Republicans and 29 Democrats in the house.

Of the 158 legislators in the two houses, 57 were farmers or farm managers, including livestock operators, in addition to 18 who combined farming with some form of business, and one farmer-veterinarian, one farmer-justice of the peace and two farmer-educators, making a total of 79 in farming. Businessmen numbered 55, including the 18 farmer-businessmen and 36 who were in real estate, insurance, banking, contracting, manufacturing or auctioneering, and one lawyer-merchant. There were 21 lawyers, including the lawyer-merchant. An additional 17 were in a wide range of miscellaneous occupations. Thirteen were retired or semi-retired, including five not listed in any other category. Of the five women in the legislature, one was a farmer, one a banker, one a retired home economist, and two were homemakers.

The youngest legislator was 24 years old, and the oldest, 75. Median age was 54. There were 11 in their 70's, 39 in their 60's, 45 in their 50's, 39 in their 40's, 22 in their 30's, and two in their 20's.

Quick Action on Reapportionment

The legislature's action on reapportionment was prompt and vigorous. It passed Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 without amendment, the house giving final approval Feb. 6 by a vote of 77 to 28. This action submitted to the voters, at an election Dec. 3, 1963, the so-called Shaff plan, that had been adopted by the Fifty-ninth General Assembly in 1961.

This constitutional amendment, if adopted, would place the lower house on a so-called area basis, and the senate on a population basis. House membership would be reduced from 108 to 99, one to a county. Senate membership would be increased from 50 to 58, allowing populous counties to have more than one senator and even permitting division of counties if necessary for better districting.

Liquor by the Drink Legalized

The legislature moved steadily and methodically toward legalizing the sale of liquor by the drink. The senate passed the so-called home rule liquor control bill, Senate File 437, April 10, with no votes to spare, 26 to 24. The house amended it in various important ways, and passed the amended bill, 68 to 40, May 3. The senate concurred in all amendments and passed the bill, 27 to 23, May 9.

The law legalizes the issuance of licenses to sell liquor by the drink. Licensees must get the approval of municipal councils or county supervisors, who have the right to decide how many, if any, licenses they will approve. Applicants have the right to appeal to the liquor commission and to district court. Local authorities may submit licensing proposals to public referenda. Local option elections to make a county dry may be initiated by voters, on petition, at minimum intervals of four years. License fees range from $100 to $1,000 a year. Liquor license holders must also have beer permits. A club operated for profit is not eligible for a license. Licensees pay a 10 per cent tax on gross receipts.

License holders must buy their liquor from the state liquor stores. The state stores continue to sell bottled goods to individual consumers as heretofore, except that, by Senate File 179, the legislature abolished the permit book requirement.

Responsibility for liquor law enforcement is centralized in an enforcement division established under the Liquor Control Commission. But the statute stipulates that local peace officers share in enforcement responsibility. The long-discussed implied consent bill was included in the law by house amendment. This decrees that a person in receiving a driver's license thereby consents to tests of his body substances for evidence of intoxication if arrested on charges of drunken driving. Dram shop owners and employees are held liable for actual and exemplary damages for injurious acts of patrons who become intoxicated.

Taxation Problem Unsolved

Taxation was a thoroughly studied and unsolved problem, so far as the Sixtieth General Assembly was concerned. The urgency for expanding the tax base, while at the same time providing property tax relief, was thoroughly appreciated from the start, by both houses of the legislature and by both political parties. Yet, on the final vote, in the last hours of the 125th day of the prolonged session, neither result had been achieved. The problem was just too complicated, and the conflicting interests were too diverse.

Except for two incidentals, the existing tax structure was left unchanged. A cent a pack was added to the cigaret tax. And a 10 per cent tax was imposed on sales of liquor by the drink. The added cigaret tax revenue, expected to amount to $3,000,000, was earmarked for regents' institutions. The drink tax was estimated at $6,000,000.

Committees in both houses began preparing tax bills when the session opened. Individual legislators also were interested, and by the midsession recess 90 bills on various aspects of taxation had been introduced in the two houses.

April 9 an omnibus tax bill, House File 550, was brought out on the house floor. In a month of conferences and debates, some 70 amendments were introduced, and the bill became so unwieldy that the house suddenly dropped it and on April 18 sent the senate an entirely new bill (under the same number) which would have raised an estimated $45 million a year mainly from a 3 per cent sales tax and a cigaret tax increase, and would not have earmarked the proceeds for specified purposes.

But irreconcilable differences had crystallized around such proposals as the 3 per cent sales tax, a withholding tax on income from investments, increase of the corporation tax, the earmarking of large revenues for property tax relief, the amounts to be devoted to agricultural and school aid, along with many other proposed changes in the tax structure. The senate discarded the house bill and sent back a new one. The house responded with amendments which the senate refused to accept. The house insisted, voting 92 to 0, and a conference committee was appointed. And on Saturday afternoon, May 18, the 125th day of the session, the senate rejected the conference committee report, and the two houses adjourned sine die.

Annual Budget $206.3 Million

The legislature completed a series of decisions based largely on committee hearings, which appropriated funds for operating the various state agencies for the ensuing biennium. Thus emerged a state budget of $206.3 million a year, the largest in the state's history, yet almost a hold-the-line figure as compared with agency requests and even with the governor's recommendations. An analysis of these figures, as prepared in the state comptroller's office, will be found on page 101.

Important Laws Enacted

In other important enactments, the Sixtieth General Assembly:

Made the Iowa Commerce Commission responsible for regulating public utilities.

Increased workmen's compensation and unemployment benefits.

Enacted legislation to eradicate bovine and swine brucellosis.

Eased the restrictions on home rule for cities.

Appropriated funds to implement Iowa's participation in the Kerr-Mills medical care program for the aged.

Passed a new probate code.

Implemented a new system of selection and tenure of judges, as called for by amendment of the constitution.

Voted substantial increases in appropriations for institutions of higher education.

Increased benefits under the Iowa public employment retirement system.

Approved a fair employment practices act, barring discrimination by unions and employers.

Ratified an amendment to the United States constitution to prohibit the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting.

Permitted local governments to invest idle funds.

Passed laws to assist industrial development in Iowa.

Established access rights of property owners along highways. This act was vetoed by the governor, and a moderated bill was passed.

Proposals that Did Not Win

The Sixtleth General Assembly did not:

Vote to hold annual sessions.

Increase funds for aid to dependent children.

Vote to regulate billboards on the interstate highway system.

Abolish capital punishment.

Provide for equalization of property assessments between counties.

Reorganize the state department of public instruction or curb its powers.

Lower the voting age to 18.

Give elected state officials four-year terms.

Regulate dairy marketing practices.

Solve the Iowa-Nebraska boundary problem.

Increase unemployment compensation benefits, while reducing the number of persons covered by the law.

Establish a state safety council to make rules for safe working conditions.

Shoeman, Atlantic; Representatives John Camp, Bryant; Keith H. Dunton, Thornburg; Floyd P. Edgington, Vice-Chairman, Sheffield; Casey Loss, Secretary, Algona; Marvin W. Smith, Paullina.

This committee, often referred to as The Interim Committee, acts under authority of sections 2.41, 2.42, 2.43 and 2.44, Code of Iowa, 1962. The committee gathers information relative to budget matters for the purpose of aiding the legislature to properly appropriate money for the functions of the government, and reports its findings to the legislature.

It is the duty of the committee to approve the expenditure of capital improvement funds appropriated by the legislature, if it finds the expenditure of said funds in the best interest of the state. The committee has charge of a general contingent fund, from which it can authorize expenditures for emergencies that may arise during the interim between legislative sessions. Committee members also visit all state owned institutions once each year.

LEGISLATIVE FISCAL DIRECTOR

(Director appointed by the Budget and Financial Control Committee)

This legislative service agency was established by the 59th General Assembly in 1961, and has been in operation since Jan. 1, 1962.

Responsibilities of the legislative fiscal director are the making of a continuous review of state expenditures, revenues and analyses of budgets, to make recommendations to the general assembly concerning the state's budget and revenue of the departments, boards, commissions and agencies of the state.

The agency attends the biennial budget hearings and furnishes information and acts in an advisory capacity to the committees on appropriations, tax revision, and ways and means of the general assembly.

LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH BUREAU

(Director Appointed by the Legislative Research Committee)

The Iowa Legislative Research Bureau, a fact-finding service agency for the Iowa General Assembly, was established by the general assembly in 1955 and has been in operation since December of that year.

The Research Bureau conducts legislative research and reference work and drafts bills for legislators. Bureau policies are established by the six-member Legislative Research Committee.

REYHONS, A. E. (Gene), Des Moines Director of the Research Bureau

Born Sept. 2, 1930, Linn County, Iowa. Educated and graduated from Lisbon Public Schools. Attended State College of Iowa and graduated from State University of Iowa (B.A., 1956; M.A., 1960). Served in the United States Air Force, 1950-1954. Employed with the Legislative Research Bureau since September, 1959. Appointed bureau director, November, 1961.

Through a professionally trained staff, the Research Bureau conducts major research studies at the request of the general assembly, either house of the general assembly, legislative committees, or five-member groups of legislators. Research study reports are distributed to all members of the legislature. The Research Committee and Research Bureau are prohibited by statute from making recommendations in the reports.

The 58th General Assembly provided that joint legislative advisory committees may be appointed to assist the Research Bureau on any interim research study. Advisory committees report their findings to the next succeeding session of the general assembly.

STATE CAPITOL PLANNING COMMISSION

Senators John L. Campbell, Oskaloosa; J. Louis Fisher, Osceola; Representatives Charles E. Grassley, New Hartford; William E. Darrington, Persia; Mrs. Louise Noun, Des Moines; Amos B. Emery, Des Moines; Raymond D. Crites, Cedar Rapids; Rex McMahill, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Frank N. Bunker, architect, State Board of Control. Des Moines.

The State Capitol Planning Commission was established by the Fiftyeighth General Assembly in 1959 and is composed of legislators, residents of the state appointed by the governor, the superintendent of the State Department of Buildings and Grounds, and the architect employed by the State Board of Control. The commission's purpose is to advise on location and architecture of buildings and on other aspects of the development of Iowa's state capitol grounds. Commission members have been provided with funds by the Sixtieth General Assembly for planning future expansion and development of the state house grounds. A report of the commission's findings is to be submitted to the Sixty-first General Assembly.

Judges hitherto have been elected by popular vote for terms of six years. But by amendment of the constitution in 1962, effective in 1963, future judgeships became appointive by the governor, from lists of nominees supplied by a judicial nominating commission. An appointed judge is subject to a confirming popular vote one year after appointment. After a term of eight years he may declare his candidacy for another term.

Judges elect one of their number as chief justice and he holds this office until expiration of his term.

The supreme court has general appellate jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases. There is no intermediate appellate court. The supreme court has authority to supervise the inferior courts, to prescribe the procedure in matters brought before it and the rules for admission of attorneys to the practice. It also has the power to prescribe rules of civil procedure, and any rules prescribed by the supreme court and reported to the legislature become law unless vetoed by the legislature.

The District Court of Iowa

The district court is the court of general jurisdiction in Iowa in civil and criminal cases and in probate matters. The state is divided into 21 judicial districts, each composed of from one to nine counties. Each district has from two to eight judges. Court holds four or more terms a year in each county seat, and all judges in the district take their turns in each county. District court schedules for the biennium are published in a pamphlet compiled and distributed by the secretary of state, and obtainable from his office. This pamphlet contains also the names of judges, clerks, sheriffs and court reporters.

SUPERIOR COURT

The Iowa statutes provide that any city of 4,000 population, or over, may establish a superior court. It replaces the police court or mayor's court. There is at present one such court located in Keokuk. The judges are elected for terms of four years and receive an annual salary, which is paid quarterly, the first two quarters being paid from the city treasury and the last two quarters from the county treasury in the county in which court is located.

The judges appoint shorthand reporters, whose compensation is fixed by order of the court for the time actually employed.

The officers of the Superior Court in Iowa are as follows:

JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT
KeokukRalph B. CLERK OF THE SUPERIOR COURT	Smith
Keokuk
REPORTER OF THE SUPERIOR COURT	mams

MUNICIPAL COURT

Any city, having a population of 5,000 or more, as shown by the last preceding United States census, may establish a municipal court. All civil townships in which said city or any part thereof is located shall constitute the municipal court district and its jurisdiction is co-extensive with the territorial limits of the county in which the court is located.

When a muncipal court is established, all police courts, mayors' courts, justice of the peace courts and superior courts within the municipal court district are automatically abolished.

The officials of the municipal courts in the 13 Iowa cities which have these jurisdictions are as follows:

POLICE, MAYORS' AND JUSTICE COURTS

Police courts are found in all cities of 15,000 or more population, wherein there is no municipal or superior court. These are courts of record and are supposed to be always open for business. Police courts may be established in cities smaller than 15,000 if so provided by municipal ordinance. Police judges are appointed by the city council unless municipal ordinance provides that they shall be elected.

Mayors' courts are found in all cities and towns under 15,000 in population which do not have a municipal or superior court. The only qualification for the office is being elected to serve as mayor.

The Iowa Code provides for the election of two justices of the peace for each township except in townships where there is a municipal court. But of some 3,000 possible justices in the state, actually there are fewer than 500, because there have been no candidates for the vacancies. The jurisdiction of a justice of the peace is county-wide. A justice can act in place of a mayor, police judge or judge of a municipal or superior court if such judge is absent or unable to act. Justices of the peace are elected for two years. The only qualifications for the office are that the justice be a resident of the township and that he post bond.

JUDICIAL NOMINATING COMMISSIONS

Commissions to make nominations to fill vacancies in judgeships were selected in the spring and summer of 1963 under terms of the constitutional amendment adopted in 1962, as implemented by Senate File 402 of the Sixtleth General Assembly. Half the commissioners are elected by members of the bar, half are appointed by the governor, and the chairman is the senior judge in the jurisdiction concerned. Vacancies in judgeships are filled by appointment by the governor, who selects from among nominees designated by the nominating commission.

Elective Executive Departments

GOVERNOR

HAROLD E. HUGHES, Ida Grove

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

Term ends January, 1965

Dwight E. Jensen, Executive Assistant, Des Moines Kirk Boyd, Administrative Assistant, Iowa City Leslie A. Holland, Administrative Assistant, Des Moines

The supreme executive power of the state is vested in the Governor, whose term of office is two years.

No person is eligible for the governorship who has not been a citizen of the United States and resident of this state two years next preceding the election, and attained the age of 30 years at the time of said election.

When any office, from any cause, becomes vacant, and no mode is provided by the constitution and laws for filling such vacancy, the governor has power to fill such vacancy.

He appoints all principal officers of the state not elected by the people, and certain officers connected with the state government, by and with the consent of the senate.

In addition, the governor has the following responsibilities as chief executive.

The governor is responsible for taking final action on all laws enacted by the general assembly. He may approve, by signing, a bill passed by both houses or disapprove, by veto, or he may allow a bill to become law without his signature.

Also, the governor may call an extra session of the assembly when he feels the necessity of such action; may order adjournment of the legislature if the members cannot reach agreement when to adjourn; and must report to the legislature the financial condition of the state and his recommendation for any appropriate action concerning the financial status.

The governor has the task of granting or denying executive elemency in the form of restoration of voting rights, commutation of sentences, pardons, and remission of fines and forfeitures.

The specific duties also include being commander-in-chief of the military forces of the state, chairman of the executive council, issuing notary public commissions, issuing land patents, and granting or denying extradition whenever there is a request for a fugitive from justice.

The governor has many obligations as the chief executive to the people of Iowa in addition to the specific statutory duties. These obligations consist of meeting different groups or individuals, to discuss their problems which in some way have effect upon the government; conferring with Iowa's national delegation to coordinate national situations which might affect Iowa; answering approximately 100 letters daily from the electorate; and endeavoring to meet all visitors who wish to come and visit the state capitol and the governor's office.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

WILLIAM L. MOOTY, Grundy Center Term ends January, 1965

Ruth Mosher, Secretary, Des Moines

The lieutenant governor is elected for a term of two years and is required to have the same qualifications, as to age and residence, as the governor.

In case of the death, impeachment, resignation, removal from office, or other disability of the governor, the powers and duties of that office devolve upon the lieutenant governor, as acting governor.

The lieutenant governor is president of the senate, but can vote only when the senate is equally divided. In case of his death or other disability incapacitating him from discharging the duties of his office, the same devolve upon the president pro tempore of the senate.

He receives the same mileage and expense allowances as a member and double the compensation of a senator. He maintains an office at the capitol building only during the meetings of the general assembly.

SECRETARY OF STATE

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)
MELVIN D. SYNHORST, Orange City
Term expires January 2, 1965

Neal Pierce, Lucas County, Deputy.

Luella B. Stone, Polk County, Secretary.

Berry O. Burt, Dallas County, Director, Corporation Section.

Clarice M. Hayes, Chief Clerk, State Law Land Office.

Blanch I. Ballard, Chief Clerk, Corporation Department.

The office of secretary of state is established by the constitution of Iowa. Its principal departments are the land office, the division of corporations and trademarks, and the general or custodial office.

Through his general office the secretary of state serves as custodian of original and official documents of the state, including the constitution, the original statutes of Iowa, authenticated journals of the general assembly, administrative rules and regulations, election records, bonds of various elective and appointive officials, and a record of incorporated cities and towns.

The state land office maintains a record of original patents issued by the state and a history of the acquisition or disposition of land by the state.

The corporate division issues certificates of incorporation to Iowa corporations for pecuniary profit, corporations not for pecuniary profit, and cooperative associations. Foreign corporations which transact business in Iowa are required to secure certificates of authority from the secretary of state. Trademarks, labels, and forms of advertising, may be filed in the office of secretary of state for protective registration.

The secretary of state is ex-officio chairman of the Iowa Real Estate Commission, is an ex-officio member of the State Executive Council, the State Board of Health, the State Printing Board, the State Permit Board and the Employment Agency Commission.

AUDITOR OF STATE

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

CHET B. AKERS, Ottumwa

Ray Yenter, Iowa City, Deputy State Auditor Aletha Sayler, Des Moines, Secretary

The auditor of state is a constitutional official and at least once each year makes full settlement between the state and all state officers and departments and all persons receiving or expending state funds, and makes a complete audit of the books, records and accounts of every department of state. These departments include the office of the governor, the executive council, state comptroller, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general, supreme court, superintendent of printing, adjutant general, state board of control and all institutions under its control, department of health, board of regents and all institutions under its control, department of public instruction, department of agriculture, highway commission, liquor commission, state fair board, state tax commission (including sales, income and chain-store tax divisions), commerce commissions, banking department, insurance department, conservation commissions, state relief associations, and all other departments, boards and commissions.

The auditor of state also has charge of the municipal finance department, the county accounting department, the fiscal affairs of all political subdivisions, including schools and school districts and building and loan associations. He appoints the county examiners, the municipal and school examiners, and the examiners of building and loan associations, examining their reports, conferring and discussing with said examiners the affairs of the counties, cities, etc., as disclosed by the reports, advising, suggesting and recommending such changes in policy as he deems expedient. No building and loan association can transact business in the state without a certificate of authority from the auditor of state.

All offices of the 99 counties are examined annually, as well as all cities and townships of municipal corporations with a population of 2,000 or more and school districts with a population of 5,000 or more, but in cities, towns and school districts, the audits are optional with the governing bodies and are made upon request.

For the purpose of examining, auditing and checking, the various departments of the state may be classified roughly into three groups, viz.: all those departments, boards and commissions located in or adjacent to the state house; the state highway commission and the institutions under control of the board of control and the board of regents; counties, cities, towns and schools.

The auditor of state submits annual and biennial reports to the governor. The annual reports are on municipal finances, and the biennial reports on the operations of the auditor's office and on the state and county, and building and loan affairs, are as narrative and statistical as the auditor deems necessary. The audit reports contain schedules, exhibits, comparative figures, etc.

Ex officio, the auditor of state is a member of the executive council, printing board, geological board, bonus boards and department of health.

TREASURER OF STATE

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

M. L. ABRAHAMSON, Boone County Term expires Jan. 2, 1965

Charles R. Dayton, Washington County, Deputy.

Mabel Saunders, Polk County, Secretary to Treasurer.

Charles D. Baker, Polk County, Director, Accounts and Finance.

John E. Jacklin, Polk County, Accountant.

The treasurer of state is a constitutional official. The public revenues of the state are received and disbursed by the treasury department. A record is maintained to show the sources of all income, the funds to which such incomes apply, the dates received, and the amounts received. Disbursements are made only upon warrants issued as certified by the state comptroller. A record is kept of each warrant paid, as well as the date of issuance, date of payments, to whom paid and against which fund such warrant is drawn.

When remittance of state revenue is made by bank draft, check or money order, such items are deposited for collection in a bank or banks in the state, which have previously been duly designated and approved as depositories for state funds.

The treasurer of state also handles funds diverted under the public fund deposit guarantee acts of the Forty-first General Assembly, reimbursing losses of public funds which may be sustained on deposits in banks placed in receivership for liquidation.

The treasurer of state is ex-officio treasurer and custodian of the unemployment compensation fund and ex-officio member of the State Board of Health, also, member of the board of trustees and custodian of funds of the Public Safety Peace Officers Retirement System, and member of the State Board of Appeal, World War I Soldiers Bonus Board. The state treasurer serves as treasurer of the Iowa Centennial Memorial Foundation.

The treasurer of state shall maintain in the state treasury a cash balance sufficient to pay the anticipated expenditures by the Highway Commission for the ensuing month. When necessary to restore the cash balance in the state treasury, he shall draw against the motor vehicle funds collected by the treasurers of each county of the state in proportion to the amounts in their possession, a sum sufficient in the aggregate to restore said cash balance. Such drafts shall be honored by the treasurer of each county upon presentation.

Acts of the 45th General Assembly Extraordinary Session provide for the refund of the license fee paid when gasoline is not used on the public highways.

Acts of the 55th General Assembly require the treasurer of state to collect from distributors a license fee of 6c per gallon on all gasoline used in the state of Iowa except when used in federal and state owned

The 53rd General Assembly created a road use tax fund embracing the following: all net proceeds of registration fees of motor vehicles; all net proceeds of motor vehicle fuel tax or license fees; the compensation tax on motor vehicle certified carriers; all revenues derived from use tax on motor vehicles, trailers, equipment and accessories for same; 10 per cent of net sales tax revenues and any other funds by law credited to the road use tax fund. The fund is distributed monthly as follows: to primary road 47 per cent; to secondary road construction fund 30 per cent; to farm-to-market road fund 10 per cent and to the street construction fund of cities and towns on a population basis 13 per cent.

All accounts are audited daily by the auditor of state.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

(Office located on main floor of Capitol Building)

EVAN HULTMAN, Waterloo Term expires Jan. 2, 1965

Solicitor General: Wilbur N. Bump, Polk County.

First Assistant Attorney General: Oscar Strauss, Polk County.

Assistant Attorneys General: John H. Allen, Warren County; Frank D. Bianco, Polk County; Bruce M. Snell, Jr., Ida County; Brice C. Oakley, Clinton County; George J. Knoke, Pottawattamie County; William J. Yost, Polk County.

Special Assistant Attorneys General: for State Tax Commission, George Murray, Polk County; for State Highway Commission, C. J. Lyman, Story County; for Social Welfare, Theodore W. Rehmann, Jr., Polk County,

The constitution provides that there shall be an attorney general whose term of office shall be two years. As the chief legal officer of the state, the attorney general appears for the state in all actions to which the state is a party, or where the state may be an interested party when in his judgment the interest of the state requires or when he is requested to appear by the governor, the executive council or the general assembly. The attorney general prosecutes and defends all cases for the state before the Iowa supreme court.

A major responsibility of the attorney general is the rendering of opinions on questions of law when he is requested to do so by a member of the general assembly or by a state officer. Formal opinions are published every two years in the "Report of the Attorney General" which is submitted to the governor and which also contains a report on the condition of the office and the other business handled. The greater bulk of legal opinions rendered by the attorney general and his staff, however, are "advisory" letter opinions which are not published in this biennial report.

The attorney general is the supervisor of the 99 county attorneys, in which capacity he gives counsel and assistance to them regarding problems that arise in the course of their official duties.

All contracts, drafts, forms and writings required for use by the state are prepared by the attorney general. He is also, an ex-officio member of the State Printing Board.

As the ex-officio chairman of the Board of Law Examiners, he is in charge of preparing, giving and grading of the state bar examinations for the admission to the practice of law in Iowa.

Paul, Field Representative, Iowa Swine Association Al Hagen, General Manager, Iowa Dairy Industry Commission

The Iowa Department of Agriculture was established by the Fortieth General Assembly in 1923, consolidating several state divisions into one department. The object of the department is to encourage, promote and advance the interests of agriculture, including horticulture, livestock industry, dairying, cheese making, poultry raising, beekeeping, production of wool, production of domesticated fur-bearing animals, and other kindred and allied industries; to promote and devise methods of conducting said industries with a view to increasing production and facilitating an adequate distribution of the same at the least cost to the producer; to administer efficiently and impartially the inspection service of the state as is now or may be hereafter placed under its supervision.

The following organizational chart gives an insight into the scope of duties under the administration of the State Department of Agriculture.

The secretary of agriculture is charged with the responsibility of carrying out the objects for which the department was created; establishing and maintaining such divisions in the department as are necessary; consolidating the inspection service in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture; maintaining a weather division, a statistical division and a market news service; causing to be inspected all food establishments, including poultry and poultry products, all dairy and dairy products, restaurants, hotels, lockers, cold storage plants, scales, animal health and intrastate and interstate shipment of livestock.

Every Iowa citizen is in frequent contact with the services performed by the Iowa Department of Agriculture, which affects his life in many ways. It is a regulatory and service agency charged with executing laws designed to provide protection and service to producers, processors, distributors and consumers of agricultural products. Wholesomeness of food and drink, health of animals, the purity and germination of seed, the proper labeling of feed and fertilizer, the accuracy of the devices which measure anything purchased or sold by weight, volume or numerical count and innumerable other phases of daily life are part of the responsibilities of the Iowa Department of Agriculture.

Contour stripcropping is not only a beautiful sight but is an effective way of preventing soil and water loss. This northeastern Iowa farmer is doing his share in conserving his soil for use of future generations.

COMMISSION FOR THE BLIND

Main Office, Rehabilitation Center and Library located at Fourth and Keosauqua, Des Moines

DISTRICT OFFICES

730 Higley Building, Cedar Rapids 603 Black's Building, Waterloo

Commission members are appointed by the governor for three year terms and confirmed by the Iowa senate.

Director, KENNETH JERNIGAN, Polk County, Des Moines.

MRS. ALVIN H. KIRSNER, Polk County, Des Moines; term expires June 30, 1966.

WILLIAM WIMER, Polk County, Des Moines; term expires June 30, 1965.

DR. A. R. WINTER, Chickasaw County, Fredericksburg; term expires June 30, 1964.

W. C. HAHLE, Bremer County, Sumner; term begins July 1, 1964 and expires June 30, 1967.

The Commission for the Blind, created in 1926, offers services to the blind in Iowa in order that they may receive the necessary training and opportunity to become independent, competitive citizens. There are several departments of the commission through which such help is given.

At the rehabilitation center in Des Moines blind adults are given instruction in the skills of blindness. Courses for students include Braille, travel, home management (cooking, cleaning, shopping and sewing), shop work with regular industrial machinery, typing and personal grooming. There are also other courses in attitudes and techniques that bring to the student a true understanding of blindness—that it need not mean helplessness and is, in fact, no more than a physical nuisance if training and opportunity are available. It is important to the blind person (especially the newly blind) to learn that blind persons are actually working as full time, regular electricians, machinists, farmers, lawyers, scientists, teachers, salesmen, etc. For those who are unable to attend the center, the home teaching department gives such instruction.

JERNIGAN, Kenneth Director, Commission for the Blind

Born in 1926. Received elementary and high school education at Tennessee State School for the Blind at Nashville. B. S., 1948, Tennessee Polytechnic Institute; M. A., 1949, George Peabody College for Teachers. Recipient of Captain Charles W. Browne Award, given annually by the American Foundation for the Blind to most outstanding blind student in nation, 1949. Year of additional graduate work at School for Blind, 1949-53. While in Tennessee ran furniture business and was also in the insurance business for a time. On staff of California Orientation Center for Blind in administrative and public relations capacity, 1953-58. Has been totally blind since birth. Appointed director of the Iowa Commission for the Blind, March, 1958. Received Newell Perry Award, given annually by National Federation of the Blind to person deemed to have made greatest contribution to the welfare of the blind, 1959.

KIRSNER, Mrs. Alvin H., Polk County Member, Commission for the Blind

Mrs. Alvin H. Kirsner was born in Minneapolis, Minn., educated in the Minneapolis public schools and the University of Minnesota. Moved to Des Moines in 1940. Has been a certified Braille transcriber since 1942, through work with the Temple B'Nai Jeshurun Sisterhood. As chairman of this group's Braille committee, she has both transcribed and taught Braille. Member, board of governors of Jewish Welfare Federation. The mother of three sons, James, Richard and Lawrence. Active in various charitable organizations. Appointed by Governor Loveless in 1957, for a two-year term; reappointed in 1959. Appointed by Governor Hughes for a three-year term in 1963.

WIMER, William S., Polk County Member, Commission for the Blind

Born in 1930. Received elementary and high school education in Des Moines public school system. Graduated from Drake Law School, 1953. Has been engaged in the general practice in Des Moines, Iowa, since that time. Partner in the law firm of Stewart, Miller, Wimer, Brennan & Joyce. Lecturer in pharmacy law, Drake University, since 1957. Member Polk County, Iowa State and American Bar Associations. Member of executive committee of the Polk County Bar Association. Captain J.A.G.C., U.S.A.R. Married and has three daughters. Appointed by Governor Hughes in 1963 for a two-year term.

When a blind person has acquired proficiency in the skills of blindness, the vocational rehabilitation department offers him specific training in a vocational skill. The blind person is then helped in finding and obtaining employment.

The library for the blind distributes, as does a public library, reading material to the blind of the state. This material is in the form of Braille books and magazines, recorded books and magazines on talking book records, and taped material. It also distributes talking book machines on which the records may be played. Library service is available to any blind person over five. Homework units are established in the homes of some blind persons, and products produced are marketed throughout the state.

The commission serves as a central source of supply for a great variety of specialized products, tools, and aids useful to the blind, children as well as adults. Braille watches and clocks; Braille writing devices; Braille paper; specialized rulers and other measuring devices which can be read by touch; canes of all types; cooking utensils with specially marked dials; standard playing cards with Braille markings added; other games such as chess, checkers, bingo, and scrabble (with special markings as needed); Braille thermometers and barometers; specially marked volt meters and similar electrical measuring devices; specially marked insulin syringes for blind diabetics; and Braille cookbooks are samples of the items stocked. These items are made available to the blind of the state at the commission's cost, or they are provided without cost when the blind person is unable to pay, when there is a clearly demonstrated need for the product, and when the resources of the commission will permit. The commission also assists blind persons to procure at cost certain needed nonspecialized items such as tape recorders, tape, and headphones for talking book machines. Again, there are instances in which these items are provided without charge when there is need and when resources will permit.

A number of blind children do not attend the Iowa Braille and Sight Saving School at Vinton but are enrolled in regular public schools throughout the state. Upon request the commission works with the division of special education of the Department of Public Instruction to procure books and specialized material for these children and to provide counseling and guidance.

WINTER, A. R., D. C., N. D., Chickasaw County Member, Commission for the Blind

Born in 1915 in Chickasaw County, Iowa. Lost sight in 1929 and was graduated from the Iowa Braille and Sight Saving School. National College of Chiropractic, Chicago, Ill., D. C., 1937; N. D., 1938. Has practiced chiropractic in South Dakota and, since 1942, in Fredericksburg, Iowa. Member of Lions International; board of directors, First State Bank of Fredericksburg; Commercial Club, Fredericksburg. Appointed by Governor Erbe 1962. Reappointed by Governor Hughes 1963 to term expiring June 30, 1964.

HAHLE, W. C., Bremer County Member, Commission for the Blind

Born 1904, in Illinois. Moved to Iowa, 1913. Graduated from Iowa Braille and Sight Saving School at Vinton in 1925. Attended Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, 1927-29; transferred to State University of Iowa. Received B.A. degree from State University of Iowa in 1931 and J.D. degree in 1933. Has practiced law in Sumner, Iowa, from 1933 to present. Presently attorney for the city of Sumner; county attorney for Bremer County for three consecutive two-year terms beginning January 1943. Married and has one son. Has been blind since childhood. Appointed by Governor Loveless in 1958 and again in 1960, for two-year terms. Appointed by Governor Hughes in 1963 for a term beginning July 1, 1964 and ending June 30, 1967.

A register of the blind in Iowa showing cause of blindness, age, and other statistical information valuable in program evaluation and planning, is maintained by the commission. There are an estimated 5,500 blind people in Iowa. About 1,600 use the library services; about 250 each year use the vocational rehabilitation program; about 600 people receive instruction through the home teachers; and about 150 are involved in homework production.

SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Appointed by the Executive Council
(Office located on Ground Floor of Capitol Building)
REX McMAHILL, Des Moines, Superintendent

McMAHILL, Rex, Des Moines Superintendent

Born in Bedford, Iowa April 30, 1923 to Earl and Nellie McMahill. Graduated in 1942 from Gravity High School. Married Marton Hayes, May 31, 1945. One child, Randy, 16. Served 1942 through 1947 in U. S. Navy, World War II. Owner of Chevrolet-Buick agency in Gladbrook 1952-1961. Appointed state car dispatcher July 16, 1961. Appointed assistant secretary to the Executive Council Jan. 16, 1962. Appointed superintendent of buildings and grounds March 1, 1962. President Gladbrook Improvement Corporation 1957-1961, director of Gladbrook Commercial Club 1954-1960. Member Grace Methodist Church, Des Moines; American Legion, Elks Club, Masonic Bodies Olivet Lodge No. 436, Scottish Rite Bodies, ZaGa-Zig Temple, Order of Eastern Star of Iowa.

The superintendent of buildings and grounds of the state of Iowa, under the direction of the governor, is authorized to provide, furnish and pay for public utilities, service, heat, maintenance, minor repairs and equipment in operating and maintaining the official residence of the governor of Iowa, located at 2900 Grand Avenue, Des Moines.

It is also the duty of the superintendent, except as otherwise provided by law, to have charge of, preserve and adequately protect the state capitol and grounds, and all other state grounds and buildings at the seat of government and all property connected therewith or used therein or thereon; to see that all parts and apartments of said buildings are properly ventilated and kept clean and in order; to see that all visitors at proper hours are properly escorted over said grounds and through said buildings, free of expense; to have at all times charge of and supervision over the police, janitors, and other employees of this department in and about the capitol and other state buildings at the seat of government; to institute in the name of the state, and with advice and consent of the attorney general, civil and criminal proceedings against any person for injury or threatened injury to any public property under his control; and to keep plans and surveys of the public grounds, buildings and underground constructions at the seat of government; to perform all duties required by law or order of the Executive Council.

The present staff consists of 123 regular employees. In addition to a janitorial group of 57, there are nine elevator operators, 11 firemen and engineers, 19 watchmen, four electricians, three gardeners, one mason, two plumbers, five painters, four garage drivers and mechanics, one guide, one storekeeper, two information clerks, one bookkeeper, one secretary and two assistant superintendents. The Buildings and Grounds Department, with its handful of artificers, in addition to maintaining the grounds, gives attention to alterations, repairs, replacements and general maintenance of all buildings on the capitol grounds of nearly 100 acres.

Many visitors trek to this seat of government each day of the year. The increase in number of visitors seems to indicate a growing interest in the affairs of state, as well as a desire to enjoy the beauty of the capitol buildings and grounds. The guest book for 1962 listed more than 75,000 visitors. The first four months of 1963 forecast an all-time record attendance. During the legislative session, the number of daily visitors varied from 500 to 2,300. In the past year there were guests from each of the 50 states and 37 foreign countries. In addition, several hundred foreign student exchange visitors spent a day at the capitol in 1961 and again in 1962.

STATE CAR DISPATCHER

H. E. MONTGOMERY, Marion, State Car Dispatcher East Seventh and Court Avenue, Des Moines

Authority to assign all state-owned motor vehicles to state officers and employees, and state offices, departments, bureaus and commissions was vested in the governor by the Forty-eighth General Assembly, effective July 1, 1939. A state car dispatcher was appointed, and all cars were placed under control of this department. In 1941 the Forty-ninth General Assembly provided also for maintenance of all cars and trucks by the state car dispatcher. The costs of maintenance, plus administrative costs and depreciation, for each motor vehicle, are charged back to each department. Rules and regulations for this procedure were approved by the executive council. The car dispatcher department maintains a record of miles driven, cost per mile of each unit, and the overall operation cost.

In 1963 this department had 864 cars and 405 trucks, a total of 1.269 units.

The car dispatcher's office receives requests from the various departments desiring new units and with the approval of the executive council holds lettings, and purchases the new vehicles and sells the old vehicles by sealed bids. This office also approves and supervises all repairs to state vehicles and assists in settling insurance claims.

A complete stock of tires, batteries, anti-freeze, spark plugs and points for state vehicles is maintained at the state garage.

The car dispatcher's office operates under the jurisdiction of the governor's office. The state car dispatcher was appointed by the governor for an indefinite term and has a staff of 10, including office and garage personnel.

COMMISSION ON UNIFORM STATE LAWS

Appointed by the Governor. Term four years, all ending June 30, 1964.

MASON LADD, Iowa City.

EDWARD A. McDERMOTT, Dubuque.

INGALLS SWISHER, Iowa City.

Authorized under chapter 5, Code 1962. The law makes it the duty of each said commissioner to attend the meeting of the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws, or to arrange for the attendance of at least one of their number at such national conference; to promote uniformity in state laws upon all subjects where uniformity may be deemed desirable and practicable.

IOWA STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

(Office located in building at East Twelfth and Court Avenue)

BERNARD J. MARTIN, Commissioner, Polk County, Democrat; term expires June 30, 1969.

FRANK B. MEANS, Commissioner, Crawford County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1965.

WALDO F. WHEELER, Commissioner, Polk County, Democrat; term expires June 30, 1967.

The Fifty-eighth General Assembly provided that "the terms of the presently elected commerce commissioners . . . are hereby extended through June 30, 1963. Within sixty (60) days after the convening of the regular session of the general assembly in 1963, the governor shall appoint, with the approval of two thirds (%) of the senate in executive session, successors for the Commerce Commission. One shall be appointed for a term beginning July 1, 1963, and ending June 30, 1965, one for a term beginning July 1, 1963, and ending June 30, 1967, and one for a term beginning July 1, 1963, and ending June 30, 1969." It further provided that "the Iowa State Commerce Commission shall be composed of three (3) members, not more than two (2) of whom shall be from the same political party, and each commissioner appointed in or after 1965 shall serve for six (6) years from July 1 of the year of his appointment."

The Sixtieth General Assembly provided that the Iowa State Commerce Commission shall regulate the rates and services of public utilities which furnish gas, electricity, water and communication services to the public for compensation.

In 1878, the Seventeenth General Assembly created a board of railroad commissioners consisting of three members to be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the executive council. In 1888, the Twenty-second General Assembly passed a law making the commissioners elective. In 1937, the Forty-seventh General Assembly, by House File 133, changed the name from "board of railroad commissioners" to "Iowa State Commerce Commission."

The powers and duties of the Iowa State Commerce Commission, in addition to the regulation of public utilities, are: to generally supervise all railroads in the state, both steam and electric, except street railroads; to inquire into any neglect or violation of the laws of the state by any railroad corporation doing business therein; to make examinations and inspections of the physical condition, conduct and management of such railroads and report their conditions to said companies; to stop and prevent railroad companies, under certain circumstances, from running or passing their trains over unsafe bridges; to adjudge changes in station houses, rolling stock and rates of fare; to pass on necessity for spur tracks to be constructed and maintained not exceeding three miles in length to an existing industry under terms and conditions approved by the commission as set out by law; to make reasonable rules for the crossing of steam and interurban railways and to require, when necessary, interlocking switches at railroad crossings; to make report on the first Monday in December in each year to the governor of its doings for the preceding year, accompanied by appropriate suggestions and recommendations; to receive, tabulate and report upon the annual reports filed with it by railroad companies; to examine any of the books, papers or documents of any such corporation; to examine under oath employees of such corporation; to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses; to make and fix maximum schedules of freight rates for such corporations, such schedules to be deemed reasonable until disapproved; to examine into rates in force, upon complaint that the rate charged by a railroad company, or that the maximum rates fixed by the commission are unreasonably high or discriminating, and to fix the rate again, which must not be higher than any rate established by law, such decision of the commission being prima facie evidence that the rate so made is a reasonable maximum rate; to bring suits to enforce its orders; to inquire into the management of the business of such carriers and to obtain from them full and complete information necessary to enable the commissioners to carry out the objects of the law; to hear, investigate and determine all complaints alleging unreasonable rates, unjust discrimination, undue preference, violation of the long and short haul clause, or other infractions of the commission law, and make proper orders thereupon; to establish joint through rates, upon application, over two or more connecting lines; and to have the same authority over express companies as the act confers concerning railroads.

Before a railroad company may appropriate coal, coke or oil received for shipment, it must first secure the written consent of the Commerce Commission.

Before any railroad company may condemn lands for additional depot grounds, or for straightening or relocating track, the permission of the commission must be obtained. Interlocking switches may be placed at grade railroad crossings or draw bridges, thus obviating the necessity of stopping trains before passing over such grade crossings or draw bridges, but before the interlocking switch may be used consent of the commission must be obtained.

The Thirty-fifth General Assembly, 1913, gave to the commission the power to grant to individuals or corporations "engaged in the manufacture, sale or distribution for sale of electric current for light, power or heating purposes, the right within the state, except in cities and towns, to erect and maintain poles, whres, towers, fixtures and other necessary construction for the purpose of conducting electricity for lighting, power and heating purposes, over, along and across any public lands, highways or streams or the land of any person or persons, and to acquire the necessary interests in real estate therefor." It also provided that transmission lines proceeding under the provisions of the law should be subject to "such reasonable regulations as the commission may from time to time prescribe."

The commission is directed by an act of the Thirty-ninth General Assembly, 1921, to "undertake and carry forward such investigation and preparation as shall be necessary to properly represent the interests of the state in connection with the valuation of the property of common carriers now being conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission."

An act of the Forty-sixth General Assembly, 1935, amended by the Forty-eighth General Assembly, 1939, provides that the operators of grain elevators must be licensed in order to receive grain for storage. It also makes provisions for using warehouse receipts issued by the warehouseman on his own products and on the products of others as collateral for financing loans. The act also provides for storage of other agricultural products, and products principally consumed on farms, in warehouses of types different from that of grain elevators which cover such products as wool, canned goods, sugar, seed, commercial feed, etc. Warehousemen must furnish approved bond to cover their operations.

The Fortieth General Assembly, 1923, conferred on the commission the power to issue certificates authorizing motor carriers to operate over the public highways of the state, upon a showing that the proposed service would promote "the public convenience" and authorized the board to prescribe rules and regulations for the operation of motor vekicles used by such carriers "for the protection and safety of the public." The Forty-first General Assembly, 1925, revised the laws on the subject, but left their administration with the railroad commission.

The Forty-third General Assembly, 1929, provided for the supervision or regulation by the commission of persons operating motor trucks principally used for public transportation of freight for compensation, not operating over regular routes nor between fixed termini.

The Forty-fourth General Assembly, 1931, provided that pipe lines shall be subject to regulation by the board under a permit issued by the board.

The Fifty-third General Assembly, 1949, provided for the supervision or regulation by the commission of persons operating motor trucks used for transportation of freight for compensation under contract.

The Fifty-seventh General Assembly, 1957, provided that persons engaged in transportation for compensation of liquid products in bulk upon any highway in this state should be required to obtain from the commission a certificate declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation.

The Fifty-eighth General Assembly, 1959, created a highway grade crossing safety fund, which the commission was empowered to administer. On application, the commission will consider the need and benefits accruing to the railroad and governmental unit, as to public use, and after a hearing is held the commission will determine the allocation of costs between interested parties, the balance to be paid from the highway grade crossing fund. Provided, however, no part of the fund may be used in connection with the improvement or construction of a federal aid highway.

Commerce Counsel

The Thirty-fourth General Assembly, 1911, created the office of commerce counsel, to be appointed by the Iowa State Commerce Commission for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by the senate. The law provides that the counsel may appoint assistants, subject to the approval of the commissioners.

The duties of the office briefly are as follows: to be legal advisor of the Iowa State Commerce Commission; to investigate and present matters with reference to intrastate rates, and prosecute same before the Iowa State Commerce Commission or before any court to which same may be taken; to investigate on his own motion, or at request of the State Commerce Commission, all matters involving interstate rates in which the people of Iowa are interested or affected, and present same to the Interstate Commerce Commission and prosecute to final determination; to act as attorney and counsel for and represent the Iowa State Commerce Commission in all courts of this state or the United States, in which the validity of any order of the State Commerce Commission is in issue; to institute and prosecute in any of the courts any and all suits necessary for proper enforcement of any rule or order of the said Iowa State Commerce Commission or make defense therein wherever said rule or order may be questioned or involved.

BOARD OF CONTROL OF STATE INSTITUTIONS

(Office located on sixth floor, State Office Building)

Members

Term: Six years. Appointed by the Governor.

JIM O. HENRY, Pottawattamie County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1965.

CARROLL L. PRICE, Marion County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1967.

CORBIN CRAWFORD, Washington County, Democrat; interim appointment.

M. J. BROWN, Administrative Assistant to the Board of Control.

Organization

The Board of Control of State Institutions was created under the provisions of Chapter 118, laws of the Twenty-seventh General Assembly, which, with the amendments thereto, clothes the board with full power to manage, control and govern the institutions under its jurisdiction subject only to the limitations contained in the act. Created on April 6, 1898, the board took full control of the institutions as provided by statute on July 1, 1898.

The Board of Control of State Institutions, comprised of three members appointed by the governor, with senate approval, for six-year terms, appoints three professional directors as follows:

The Director of Mental Health: James O. Cromwell, M.D., who is in charge of: The four mental health institutes located at Cherokee, Clarinda, Independence, and Mt. Pleasant; and the two schools and hospital for mentally retarded and epileptics at Glenwood and Woodward.

The Director of Correctional Institutions: Benjamin F. Baer, in charge of adult correctional institutions at Ft. Madison, Anamosa, and Rockwell City; and two juvenile correctional institutions at Eldora and Mitchell-ville.

The Director of Child Welfare: Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer, in charge of the two homes for children located at Davenport and Toledo.

Iowa Mental Institutions

Iowa's six mental institutions are administered by the state board of control under the direction of James O. Cromwell, M.D., appointed by the board as director of mental health.

Four institutions for the care and treatment of the mentally ill are as follows, with the superintendent as chief of the institution.

Cherokee Mental Health Institute: Willard C. Brinegar, M.D., Superintendent. The fourth mental health institution to be founded in Iowa, was opened Aug. 18, 1902, for the care and treatment of the mentally ill and inebriates. Now a modern psychiatric hospital, it has a fully accredited three-year training program for psychiatric residents, and provides both in-patient and out-patient treatment and care services.

Clarinda Mental Health Institute: Karl A. Catlin, M.D., Superintendent. The third mental health institution to be founded in Iowa, was opened in 1888, receiving 222 male patients as transfers from the Mount Pleasant and Independence institutions. Now a modern psychiatric hospital for the care and treatment of the mentally ill and inebriates, it operates under The Clarinda Plan, or the geographical unit system.

Independence Mental Health Institute: Selig M. Korson, M.D., Superintendent. The second mental health institution to be founded in Iowa, was opened May 1, 1873, for the care of the mentally ill and inebriates. Now a modern psychiatric hospital, it has a fully accredited three-year residency training program in psychiatry, and a nursing affiliate program for the training of psychiatric nurses. It is one of the four mental hospitals in the United States which has an approved residential program in pastoral psychiatry. Has an accredited children's unit of 50 beds for the care and treatment of emotionally disturbed and mentally ill children.

Mt. Pleasant Mental Health Institute: Wayne B. Brown, M.D., Superintendent. The first mental health institution to be founded in Iowa, admitted its first patient in February, 1861. This institution is the second oldest west of the Mississippi River. Much new construction has replaced the original buildings and the institution is now a modern psychiatric hospital for the treatment and care of the mentally ill and inebriates. An affiliate program for the training of psychiatric nurses has been established. Both in-patient and out-patient services are available.

Schools-Hospital for the Retarded

Glenwood State School: Leonard W. Lavis, Acting Superintendent. This institution, operated for the care, treatment, training and habilitation of the mentally retarded, is located on the site of the western branch of the Iowa Soldiers Orphans Home, which opened in 1866 and operated until 1874, when the children were transferred to the Iowa Soldiers Orphans Home in Davenport. The first mentally retarded patients were admitted in 1876 to the institution then known as an asylum for feeble minded children. Great forward strides have been made in the past few years in the upgrading of the institution until today it is known as a modern treatment, care, training and habilitation facility for the mentally retarded.

Woodward State Hospital and School: William C. Wildberger, M.D., Superintendent. This institution admitted its first patient in 1917. An institution for the care, treatment, training and habilitation of the mentally retarded and epileptic, it places emphasis on a therapeutic environment and dynamic improvement of patients physically, mentally, emotionally, and educationally, so that movement back to the community and family living can be effected.

Iowa Children's Homes

Iowa's two homes for neglected and dependent children, located at Davenport and Toledo, are administered by the state board of control, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer, who is appointed by the board of control as director of child welfare. The two institutions are in direct charge of superintendents as follows:

The Iowa Annie Wittenmyer Home: James F. Holmes, Superintendent. This institution admitted its first charges in July, 1864. The cottage type of living arrangement prevails. Education provided includes pre-school through the ninth grade. Students in the senior high school grades attend the Davenport High School. Vocational training and education are also provided. Under the supervision of social workers, children are placed in adoptive, boarding, and own homes. Since its founding, a total of 11,580 children have been cared for in the institution.

The State Juvenile Home, Toledo: Jesse M. Lamm, Ed. D., Superintendent. This home was founded Sept. 1, 1920, for the care of neglected and dependent children. Since that time, a total of 3,570 boys and girls have been cared for in the home. Academic and vocational education are provided. Junior and senior high school students attend the Toledo public high school. Children are placed in adoptive, boarding, and own homes, under the supervision of field social workers. Older children are also placed on jobs to enable them to become self-supporting.

Field Social Workers: Eleven field social workers are employed in the division of child welfare. Investigations are made for placement of children in adoptive, boarding, and own homes, and supervision continues after such placement.

Iowa Correctional Institutions

Iowa's adult and juvenile correctional institutions are administered by the state board of control under the direction of Benjamin F. Baer, appointed by the board as director of correctional institutions. The three adult and two juvenile schools, under direct supervision of superintendents and wardens are as follows:

Adult Correctional Institutions

The Women's Reformatory, Rockwell City: Mrs. Elda M. Kyles, Superintendent. Opening in 1918, the reformatory received its first 22 women inmates by transfer from the men's reformatory at Anamosa. The women's section of the men's reformatory had been established in 1900 and was known as the Iowa Industrial Reformatory for Females. Upon founding the new institution for female offenders, the name was changed to The Women's Reformatory. Females over the age of 18 and married females under the age of 18, who are convicted in the district court of offenses punishable in excess of 30 days, are received. Many short-term offenders are sent to the reformatory instead of being detained in county jails. The institution maintains a program of academic and vocational education with a view to rehabilitation of the offender.

The State Penitentiary, Fort Madison: John Bennett, Warden. The state penitentiary was established in 1839, the year after Iowa became a territory, and seven years before it became a state. First offenders over the age of 30 and all recidivists are received on court order. The institution has achieved high ranking in correctional fields as a result of advances made in recent years. Outbreaks have been few and escapes infrequent. Selected men are permitted to work on prison farms away from the enclosure. Some are permitted to work in other state institutions where they live on the honor system.

As far as possible, all inmates are assigned to work in industries or in various sections of the prison. A special classification committee interviews all new admissions with a view to assigning them to the most suitable industry for which they show aptitude and preference. Rehabilitation is strongly stressed in all activities. Radio headphones are installed in each cell and programs are furnished from central control. Athletics includes baseball, kittenball, tennis, boxing, wrestling, horseshoe pitching, football, and basketball. A good library is well patronized, and cinema and television are available at certain times. Training in industrial shops includes: furniture making, brush and broom, textile, garment, dry cleaning, shoe, book restoration, and braille book work. Extensive farming is carried on at the institution and at other prison farms.

The Men's Reformatory, Anamosa: Ray Purcell, Warden. The men's reformatory was founded in 1872, the first prisoner being admitted in May 1873. Commitment is by court order, and first offenders under the age of 31 years are received. A maximum security hospital is maintained, receiving patients from the general population, and from other board of control institutions. Some of these patients are not classified as criminal, but are transferred for maximum security. With a total acreage of 1,536, the reformatory is operating under the farm conservation program, and a large herd of beef cattle is maintained. Modern machinery is making possible the expansion of industries. Inmate recreation includes athletics, library, moving pictures, radio, television, and hobbies. Parole work is supervised by the board of parole in Des Moines.

An accredited psychiatrist is in charge of the psychiatric unit to provide diagnosis, care and treatment of the mentally ill population. His staff includes a registered male nurse, psychologist, and social worker. The industries section operates as a part of the rehabilitation in-training programs and includes: Furniture manufacture and repair for tax supported governmental bodies, textiles, book binding, shoe manufacture, shoe repair, tailoring, printing, the manufacture of license plates, tire recapping, canning, and the making of road signs.

Juvenile Correctional Institutions

Training School for Girls, Mitchellville: Mrs. Marie L. Carter, Superintendent. A bill to establish the school was passed by the legislature and signed by the governor in 1868. The law provided for receiving both boys and girls in the institution, but it was decided to receive only boys until they could be moved to the new training school for boys being constructed at Eldora. The institution receives delinquent and incorrigible girls between the ages of 10 and 18 upon commitment from the district, superior, juvenile, and municipal courts. Transfers from other state institutions under the administration of the board of control may also be made.

The first girls were received in 1880. Care includes maintenance, academic, vocational, and religious training. In brief, all the care provided by a home and school, plus medical, dental, and psychological services. Recreation includes: Playground, dramatics, vocational and instrumental music, parties, picnics, movies, dances, roller skating, games, radio, television, record playing, school programs, occasional outside talent programs, and occasional excursions off campus. Academic instruction includes ungraded through the twelfth grades. Vocational training includes domestic sciences and cosmetology.

Training School for Boys, Eldora: Anthony Travisono, Superintendent. This institution was founded Oct. 4, 1868, and receives incorrigible and delinquent boys on commitment or admission by court order. Care provided includes maintenance, clothing, medical, dental, surgical, phychological and sociological testing and counselling. Education includes regular grade school through high school, and vocational education. Work details include: tailoring, mending room, auto mechanics, body and fender, machine shop, plumbing, dairy, carpentry, painting, laundry, power house, florist, wood working, fireman, farming, and gardening. Recreation is also provided and includes athletics, motion pictures, glee club, choir, individual instrumental instruction, swimming pool, home life, interscholastic high school competition.

Juvenile Parole Supervision: Parole agents function administratively under the direction of correctional institutions, with direct case work under a supervisor of field services.

Mitchellville: Five parole agents provide release placement and parole supervision for the girls leaving Mitchellville.

Eldora: Nine parole agents provide release placement and parole supervision for the boys leaving Eldora.

Iowa Soldiers Home

Iowa Soldiers Home, Marshalltown: Ward M. Loftus, Commandant. The Board of Control manages the Iowa Soldiers Home at Marshalltown, with the commandant in direct administrative capacity. Founded in 1887, the home receives discharged United States soldiers, sailors, marines, and feminine members of the armed forces who served in any of its wars, as well as wives or widows of veterans. The method of admission: An affidavit is signed by two members of the soldiers' relief commission in the applicant's home county, stating that such applicant is a resident of that county, and has been a resident of the State of Iowa for three years or more immediately preceding the date of application; that the applicant is unable to earn a livelihood; and that his income is less than $1,200 per year, exclusive of pensions, compensation and war risk insurance payments. The care provided is domiciliary and nursing. Recreation includes: movies every week from September to June in the chapel and hospital, billiards and pool, card rooms in all buildings, cribbage tournaments, croquet, horseshoes, band concerts in summer, parties by various veterans' organizations and auxiliaries during the year, television sets in every building. Residents are permitted to fish in the Iowa River.

Registered engineer, active in American Society of Agricultural Engineers and Iowa Engineering Society. Member National Society Professional Engineers, American Industrial Development Council; Research Committee of Iowa College-Community Research Center, American Legion and Methodist Church. Received Iowa Engineering Society's outstanding service Anson Marston Award, 1962, and elected to Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, 1963. Past divisional director Mississippi Valley Association and past president, Iowa Council Community Improvement.

the function of the commission to maintain continued recognition of Iowa's greatness in agriculture, to aid in the development of its rapidly growing industrial economy, and to promote its assets in the field of recreation and travel.

Iowa's position as a leader in agriculture is widely acknowledged; the products of its fertile soil will remain one of the mainstays of the state's economy. Meanwhile, its industrial assets—productive labor force, governmental climate, natural resources, central location, utilities and transportation facilities—have become widely recognized throughout the nation as being conducive to the profitable operation of manufacturing facilities. New legislation, such as municipal revenue bond and statewide development authority financing, open port warehousing and comprehensive regional planning, has been designed to assist the industrial development of the state.

Operation of the commission is divided into four areas—research, development, planning and public relations.

Records of Iowa's accomplishments in agriculture and assessments of its assets in industrial development, together with evaluation of changing conditions which affect Iowa's economic future, are maintained by the commission through its division of research. Special studies in particular fields are also conducted by the division.

The development division devotes itself to assisting manufacturing firms already located in Iowa, attracting new industries to the state, and to aiding and representing Iowa communities which seek to diversify their economy through the addition of manufacturing operations. The division works closely with chambers of commerce and local development groups to create a favorable industrial climate. Close liaison is maintained at the executive level with manufacturing firms throughout the nation, with management consulting firms and with all organizations interested in industrial development.

The responsibility for creating favorable public opinion for Iowa, recognition of its accomplishments in agriculture and industry, and for developing an awareness in the nation of Iowa's cultural, social and economic advantages lies with the public relations division. The commission uses all available media—newspapers, magazines, radio, television, periodicals and business publications—to get the story of Iowa across to the public. A national advertising program designed to tell the advantages of an Iowa location to industry is also the responsibility of the division. In the field of travel promotion, the division publishes travel guides and provides information on the state's attractions for educational publications, private enterprise periodicals and special publications. The division also lends its cooperation to other state agencies in preparing publications for distribution to the general public. Requests for information of various types about Iowa number approximately 100,000 annually.

Through its division of planning, the Development Commission administers the federal planning assistance program, assists communities and counties in setting out comprehensive programs for their future growth, and aids industrial firms or communities in developing specific plant sites. The planning program covers land use, road use, community facilities, public improvements, zoning and subdivision regulation, among other items.

Because of Iowa's agricultural heritage and the tremendous resources gained from the fertile land, the commission is also involved in a program of study centered on greater utilization in industry of agricultural products. It participates, too, in a pilot federal program of rendering aid to inventors with marketable ideas or products.

In all of its endeavors, the commission seeks closer liaison between industry and agriculture, greater promotion of industrial use of agricultural products, and greater knowledge of developments in all fields which could favorably affect the economic welfare of the state.

ROBERT O. WYNNE, Secretary

GEORGE W. MOORE, Chief, Iowa State Employment Service

Under Chapter 96, Code of Iowa, the Iowa Employment Security Commission administers a program designed to promote security against unemployment. This program includes both an unemployment insurance service and employment service to Iowans.

Unemployment insurance is a form of insurance paid for wholly by Iowa employers to protect their employees against the hardships of unemployment. The employment security law levies a tax upon employers of four or more workers in commercial and industrial employment areas. This tax accumulates in a trust fund and is paid to eligible unemployed workers for a maximum of 26 weeks in a 12-month period. When a worker meets all the eligibility requirements and no suitable work is available, he is paid weekly benefits based upon his earnings and family status. During 1963 fiscal year, Iowa unemployment insurance benefit payments totaled $11,676,185. The trust fund balance at the close of the 1963 fiscal year was $103,281,000.

In Iowa each employer is rated on his actual experience and if his employment record is stable, his contribution rate may be lower than the standard rate. This "experience or merit rating" provides another strong incentive to provide steady work and avoid layoffs. Almost one-half of all covered employers in the last several years have not been required to pay any state contribution tax because they have stabilized their employment.

The Iowa State Employment Service, established by legislative action in 1915, was put under the administrative control of the Iowa Employment Security Commission in 1936. The 34 offices, located in key Iowa cities, provide a complete manpower service to Iowa residents. Staffed by career professionals, these offices are part of a federal-state system of 1800 public employment service offices.

Placement service, job counseling, and aptitude and proficiency testing are available to all workers. Labor market information is gathered, analyzed and disseminated. Special service is offered to veterans, older workers, youth and the handicapped. The Iowa State Employment Service works with other agencies and organizations in solving the employment problems of workers, employers and the community. During the 1962 fiscal year, 130,704 job placements were made.

Under terms of an agreement with the U. S. Department of Labor, the commission administers the unemployment insurance program for ex-servicemen and for federal civilian employees.

The Iowa Employment Security Commission is responsible for the administration of the Iowa Public Employees Retirement System, Chapter 97B, Code of Iowa. Employees and employers each contribute  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent of the employee's salary up to \$4,800 for the program. Some 80,000 persons employed by the state, cities, counties and school districts take part in the program.

This commission, established by the office of the governor, is intended to help protect civil rights in Iowa against racial discrimination, especially by helping to implement the anti-discrimination law passed by the Sixtieth General Assembly. The commission will investigate alleged violations of the law and, if possible, mediate complaints. Problems involving labor unions, business and units of government may be included.

The commission will also study the problem of discrimination in housing, study methods by which education can be used to eradicate discrimination, recommend possible legislation in the field of human rights to the Sixty-first General Assembly, and co-ordinate the work of state and local government bodies in this field.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

Geological Board ex officio

HAROLD E. HUGHES, Governor.

CHET B. AKERS, Auditor of State.

VIRGIL M. HANCHER, President, State University of Iowa.

JAMES H. HILTON, President, Iowa State University.

JAMES W. KERCHEVAL, President, Iowa Academy of Science.

H. GARLAND HERSHEY, Director and State Geologist, Iowa City, appointed by the geological board to serve during the pleasure of the board.

HERSHEY, H. Garland, Johnson County Chairman, Jowa Natural Resources Council

Born in Lancaster County, Penn., Oct. 1, 1905. Attended the Johns Hopkins University, receiving A.B. and Ph.D. in Geology. Since 1936 has been a member of the staff of the Iowa Geological Survey and in 1947 was appointed director and state geologist. Married Erna M. Eybs in 1931. Two children, H. Garland, Jr., and Timothy Joseph. Fellow of the Geological Society of America, fellow of Iowa Academy of Science, member of Society of Economic Geologists, American Geophysical Union, Iowa Engineering Society, American Association of State Geologists, Society of Sigma Xi, vice president of National Water Conservation Conference, member of Midwestern States Flood Control Conference, consultant to Presidential Advisory Committee on Water Resources Policy (1954-55), chairman, Interstate Conference on Water Problems, vice president National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

It is the duty of the Geological Survey to collect, interpret, and report information on basic geologic features of the state. This includes information concerning the quality and quantity of surface and underground water supplies, coal, gypsum, sand and gravel, ceramic clay and shale, limestone and dolomite, raw materials for the manufacture of cement, ore deposits, and other mineral resources. Studies are continuing on the oil and gas possibilities in Iowa, particularly in the southwestern portion of the state, and the geological sections of the oil and gas law are being administered. Geological studies of dam sites are made on some of the flood control and recreational prospects of federal and state agencies, and reports on the mineral resources of such reservoir areas are frequently prepared.

The Survey is the repository for all basic geologic data obtained in the state.

Collection and dissemination of data on water wells, water levels, stream flow and sediment loads, lake levels, and other hydraulic data are accomplished in cooperation with the Water Resources Division of the U. S. Geological Survey. Topographic mapping of the state, by quadrangles approximately 60 square miles in area, is being conducted in cooperation with the Topographic Division of the U. S. Geological Survey.

As a part of the result of its work, the Survey has published 38 volumes of annual reports and accompanying scientific papers. These publications include special reports and maps covering the geology and mineral production of all but six of the 99 counties, as well as special reports on mineral production of all sorts. There are also three technical papers on Iowa coal and eight water-supply bulletins. Geological and mineral resources maps of the state have been prepared. Other summaries of specialized geological studies have been published in geological periodicals. These published reports, together with the large file of unpublished data obtained during more than half a century of continued study, serve as a reliable basis for up-to-the-minute reports to federal. state and municipal agencies and to private concerns and individuals who request and need the available information on water supply and other mineral resources of Iowa. Information, advice and direct assistance in the increasing development of large water supplies are freely given to the limit of funds and personnel.

Mrs. Grace M. West, Director, Division of Cosmetology.

Darwin O. Vipond, Executive Secretary, Division of Licensure.

Under the direction of the commissioner of public health, the State Department of Health works with individuals and organizations throughout the state to improve the health of all Iowa citizens.

The division of preventable diseases works with the prevention of diseases that are transmitted to people either from other persons or from animals. Since Iowa is an agricultural state and the problem of diseases transmissible from animals is great, a special section has been set up in this division to work with diseases such as rabies, brucellosis, leptospirosis and other animal diseases. This section is headed by a public health veterinarian. During the last few years influenza and infectious hepatitis problems have commanded much of the interest of the division. Poliomyelitis immunization, both with the Salk and the new Sabin vaccine, is receiving much attention throughout the entire state.

Laboratory services for the diagnosis and control of disease are available to Iowa medical personnel, hospitals, laboratories and health organizations through the hygienic laboratory at Iowa City.

The programs of the division of tuberculosis control are chiefly those of follow-up work of known cases of tuberculosis to make certain that they receive proper care and that their contacts are examined, and if necessary, brought to treatment. The division is also definitely interested in tuberculin testing and x-ray programs directed toward examination of groups of people to find new cases of tuberculosis. In the past six months the three mobile x-ray units of the division have taken about 35,000 miniature x-ray films, and about 1600 films of 14x17 size, uncovering 365 probable cases of tuberculosis.

The division of venereal disease control, under the direction of the division of preventable diseases, conducts a program of contact tracing and case finding. A registry of all persons known to have had a venereal disease is kept to provide data for tracing new cases. These cases are reported from medical sources throughout the state. During the past year approximately 1050 cases of syphilis and 1400 cases of gonorrhea were reported.

The functions of the division of finance and personnel are: preparation and submission of budgets, appropriation requests, expenditure requests, expenditure reports, requests for funds, quarterly allotments, as required by the state and by federal agencies; planning and maintenance of accounts, ledgers, financial statements, auditing, and other fiscal procedures; preparation of payrolls and maintenance of payroll records; preparation and submission of quarterly and annual reports of payroll deductions, F.I.C.A., withholding taxes, bond purchases, and hospital insurance; keeping of personnel records, attendance and leave records, service ratings, and other employee data; establishing and obtaining merit system certifications, personnel action forms and other employee records; processing, auditing, and transmitting warrants, for all claims and vouchers for travel expense, drugs, equipment, supplies, and all other operating expenses of the department.

An educational program conducted by the division of cancer control promotes early diagnosis, prevention and treatment of cancer. The division gives financial assistance to tumor clinics located throughout the state.

The division of maternal and child health seeks means to better the health and reduce the death rates of mothers and their children. Its educational programs are extended statewide to practicing physicians, nurses, hospital staffs, parents and children, by means of post-graduate courses, in-service training, direct teaching of various school classes, local workshops, parent classes, school health programs, and postgraduate training. The division provides consultation for local maternal and child health programs and co-operates with health workers in other fields.

As the population grows older, the greater incidence of heart and chronic diseases gets more attention from the Health Department. A division of gerontology, heart and chronic diseases promotes better facilities for the rehabilitation of our senior citizens. This division is active in the development of programs to prevent chronic disease insofar as possible, to reduce deaths and disability resulting from chronic disease, to promote activities for chronic disease control in such fields as professional and public education, applied research and continuity of care, and to promote community service applicable to chronic disease control.

The division of hospital services is responsible for the administration of the "Hospital and Medical Survey and Construction Program," hospital licensure, nursing home licensure, custodial home licensure, and nursing home improvement program. Division personnel inspect annually and license 175 hospitals, 425 nursing homes, and 400 custodial homes. Since the inception of the Hill-Burton program the division has allocated $31 million in federal grants-in-aid to 122 hospitals and related health facilities projects in local communities. Through their administrative responsibility for this program, division personnel have assisted in the planning and maintained constant surveillance over the construction and equipping of approximately $100 million worth of medical facilities construction in the state. The nursing home improvement program is an effort to improve the quality of care rendered patients in nursing homes through education and technical guidance of nursing home operators, administrators and staff.

The division of public health engineering administers a program of environmental sanitation. It inspects and provides general supervision over 723 public water supplies and 428 sewage and waste disposal systems throughout the state. It also inspects public swimming pools and advises the owners on proper operation. Plans and specifications for new construction are reviewed to determine that the project will accomplish its purpose and that public health hazards will not exist. It enforces the state stream and lake pollution law which requires permits for the disposal of sewage and industrial wastes, and authorizes the issuing of orders for cleanup of existing pollution. It administers the mobile home park law which requires licenses for all parks with two or more trailers and permits for new installations. It provides general supervision over administration of the housing law and publishes the state plumbing code for local enforcement. It advises local boards of health on methods of preventing insanitary conditions and makes inspections of such conditions on request of the boards or on petition of citizens of the state. It inspects Grade A milk supplies and certifies the quality to the State Department of Agriculture. It advises manufacturing and other industries on the control of toxic gases, dusts and fumes that may cause occupational diseases.

The division of public health nursing recruits, trains, places and guides public health nurses. It also evaluates public health nursing services. At present 520 public health and industrial nurses are employed in the state. Plans and policies relating to nursing programs in the various divisions of the Health Department are made with the assistance of this division.

That the nutritional well-being of our citizens may be maintained and improved when necessary, a staff of three well-trained dieticians in nutrition service work closely with the public health nurses and the food service personnel in the small hospitals and nursing and custodial homes in a program of education and service. Many educational materials are prepared to strengthen this program, including the Simplified Diet

Manual which has been well received by physicians, nurses and dieticians throughout the country.

The division of vital statistics is charged with the registration, collection, preservation and certification of records of birth, death, fetal death, marriage and divorce and activities related to those records and functions, and the tabulation, analysis and publication of statistical data. The division receives approximately 125,000 records each year and issues about 100,000 copies of records each year. The record files of the division contain upward to 7 million certificates dating back to 1880.

The division of barbering, with its own State Board of Barber Examiners, authorizes the issuance of approximately 4,250 barber practitioner licenses and 2,125 barber shop licenses annually. Sanitary inspections of all barber shops and barber schools in the state are made at least three times each year by three field inspectors. Assignment of apprentices, preservation of records and supervision of the inspection staff is administered by the division director.

The division of cosmetology, with its examining board of three members, examines and licenses approximately 1,200 applicants annually. Some 14,000 licenses are renewed each year. More than 3,800 shops are now operating in Iowa and approximately 6,000 cosmetologists are actively employed. We now have 24 schools of cosmetology in Iowa. Schools and shops are periodically checked by inspectors working with this division, averaging some 4,000 inspections per year.

The division of licensure receives and processes applications for examination by the boards of examiners in podiatry, dentistry, dental hygiene, funeral directing and embalming, and optometry. It issues licenses to the aforementioned as well as in medicine, osteopathy, chiropractic and to mobile home parks. A permanent register and individual record is maintained of approximately 30.000 individuals licensed by the Department of Health through this division.

The division of dental hygiene promotes a dental health education program for use in Iowa schools. The program is in its 35th year of continuous activity. In the school year 1961-62 all rural schools in 84 of Iowa's 99 counties, plus 641 towns and 161 parochial schools participated in the program. There were 325,976 children participating in this program. The division promotes fluoridation of Iowa water supplies, dental care programs and dental health education through close cooperation with the Iowa Dental Association and its members.

The division of health education works to provide Iowans with public health information, using weekly radio programs and spot announcements, health movies, pamphlets and news releases, exhibits, talks and television interviews by staff members of the Department of Health. The division also sponsors annually several health conferences and educational workshops.

History and Development of State Highway Commission

The law creating a State Highway Commission in Iowa was adopted by the general assembly in 1904. That law stated that Iowa State College should act as a state highway commission. Acting under this law, the State Board of Education appointed Dean Anson Marston of the engineering division, and Dean Charles F. Curtis of the agricultural department of Iowa State College as the directors of the commission. Thomas H. MacDonald was appointed by the directors as secretary and engineer for the commission. The duties of the commission at that time were to make investigations and studies of highway conditions and to advise local authorities with respect to highway improvements.

This organization continued until 1913, when the Thirty-fifth General Assembly passed an act creating a State Highway Commission of three members and separated the commission from Iowa State College. The commission was composed of the dean of engineering and one member appointed from each political party.

In 1927 the general assembly passed an act, which now appears as chapter 307 of the Code of 1962, creating a State Highway Commission of five members, all to be appointed by the governor, not more than three of whom could be from the same political party.

The law of 1927 placed the primary road system under the direct control and supervision of the State Highway Commission. Thomas H. Mac-

E. F. Koch was appointed chief engineer in October, 1952, upon the retirement of Mr. White.

When Mr. Koch resigned on March 31, 1954, John G. Butter was named chief engineer. He served until his retirement, Feb. 1, 1960, when L. M. Clauson was appointed chief engineer.

Organization of State Highway Commission

In August, 1959, the highway commission adopted a new organization plan. Under this plan, put into operation on Feb. 1, 1960, the functions, duties, and personnel of the commission were centralized under three divisions. These divisions are engineering, planning and services, each headed by an engineer.

An outline of the organization of the Highway Commission showing

Outline of State Highway Commission Work

The commission is charged with all matters pertaining to the expenditure of state and federal funds for the improvement and maintenance of primary highways, including interstate. It must conduct the affairs of the organization, interpret and apply the directives set forth by the statutes, make policy, control and direct, through the office of the chief engineer, the activities and duties of the highway commission staff.

The Highway Commission's duties are five-fold:

First: Plan, design, build and maintain all primary roads.

Second: Mark and sign primary roads for safe operation.

Third: Cooperate with county authorities in approving plans and contracts for secondary road construction.

Fourth: Approve budgets for secondary roads.

Fifth: Provide engineering assistance to other state departments.

Commission meetings are held every two weeks at the main office headquarters in Ames. Commission members transact necessary business and the chief engineer, as secretary, keeps official minutes, which are preserved as public records. All business meetings are conducted under the "open door policy."

The commission is responsible for all construction and maintenance work on the primary road system. It conducts surveys, prepares plans and specifications, purchases right of way, lets contracts and supervises the construction work. It has charge of the expenditure of all federal aid road funds allotted to the State of Iowa. After the road is built, it must be maintained year-round throughout its existence.

The highway commission employs uniformed officers to enforce laws with reference to size, weight, registration and load of vehicles operated on the primary highways of Iowa. Their duties and functions are entirely apart from those of the Iowa highway patrol, a division of the Department of Public Safety.

In addition to the commission's duties of full control over the operation of primary roads, the statutes impose the duties of joint control with the 99 county boards of supervisors over the construction of the farm to market road system. Statutes provide for the cooperation with the boards of supervisors for joint control of the farm to market fund, because federal law requires that the secondary federal aid fund be administered by the state. All farm to market programs and projects are initiated by the various boards of supervisors for work in their respective counties. The highway commission has no authority to originate these programs or projects, but action by the counties is subject to commission approval.

Location of farm to market projects, preparing necessary plans and supervising construction is the responsibility of each county, subject to approval of the commission.

Iowa law also requires the commission to approve secondary road budgets, construction programs, and contracts for construction of roads and bridges when the cost of the work is estimated to be $5,000 or more. The commission must also furnish standards of design for roads and bridges, and advise secondary road officials on special road problems.

Further assistance to the counties is furnished through inspection service for materials, and conducting instructional schools for secondary road officials.

The 58th General Assembly of Iowa required the highway commission to provide for construction and maintenance of all state park roads, and institutional roads, stipulating that the cost would be paid from the primary road fund. On June 30, 1962, these roads totaled 230 miles. Expenditures for their maintenance for fiscal 1961-62 was $139,153.71.

The State Historical Department was organized in 1892 by Charles Aldrich. The State Historical Building was erected in 1898, with an addition in 1908. The department was reorganized in 1939 as the Iowa State Department of History and Archives.

The chief purpose of the department is the preservation of Iowa history from earliest geological time through the days of the Indians, the coming of the pioneers, to the present; to bring this history to life and make it available to the people of Iowa.

Following its founding, the Iowa Historical Department quickly became an important part of the educational and cultural activities of the state. From a small beginning the department has grown until it now overflows the original building and the addition. The Kasson Memorial Building, a block away, was purchased to serve as a workshop for the archivist and provide storage for the state archives.

Here is a unique and unrivaled institution in which all Iowa takes pride; its people visit both individually and in groups for conducted tours; its doors are open every day of the year. Here the people of the state can see how the Iowa of today arose from the Iowa of yesterday; how the land, mines, quarries, rocks, and minerals came to be; how the Indian lived before the coming of the white man; how the pioneer changed the face of the land and the way of life. Here too are many sources of reference on Iowa history, ranging from newspapers to manuscripts, including books and census records. Here are the state archives, readily available to officials of the state and to serious students of Iowa history.

In the museum is a wide range of exhibits. Displayed are tools, utensils and implements used by Iowa pioneers to conquer the wilderness. There is a collection tracing the history of pioneer transportation, including horse-drawn vehicles and early automobiles, pioneer agricultural implements and many household articles from the time of the very earliest settlers. There is a fine collection of Kentucky rifles, both flintlock and percussion, as well as many other early firearms. The extensive G.A.R. collection, including portraits of all past commanders, is now housed in the Historical Museum.

Indian history of Iowa is traced from the time of the mound builders, to modern times; many ancient Indian artifacts are on display along with an unusually fine collection of modern Indian materials including bead work, canoes, and wickiup.

Iowa's geology is represented by rock samples and fossils from every formation of the state, covering a billion years of geologic time. There is an outstanding exhibit of fossil crinoids from LeGrand, an area known throughout the world for the fine specimens which have come from it.

Many study collections are of interest and use to the citizens of the state—a large collection of maps of Iowa and of the country as a whole; an extensive collection of Iowa wildlife, many of which are record specimens; specimens of mounted birds and animals, some of which were common in pioneer days but are gone from the state today; the beautiful and elaborate silver service of the Battleship Iowa; a collection of photographs of people and places of historic interest, many of them the only pictures available. In addition many thousands of items are catalogued and stored for future display, and the collection is constantly growing.

In connection with the museum, the department maintains guided tour service for school groups, approximately 1,500 annually, covering all phases of history and natural history, and at all levels, from kindergarten through college; each group is given a special tour, depending on the age of the students and the subject they are studying. The museum serves as an "identification bureau" for all manner of objects of natural and historic interest which citizens, teachers, and students bring in.

The department has a large collection of autograph letters and papers of authors, explorers and statesmen, including several letters signed by Abraham Lincoln. On this foundation has been built the manuscript division, used for research by historians from all over North America.

On the shelves of the Historical Library are approximately 50,000 books by Iowa authors or about Iowa, Iowa state and county histories, family records and references for research in genealogy.

The census department is used in establishing records of birth and genealogy and in many cases can supply the only records of birth and residence available to many citizens.

The newspaper division receives all the leading daily and weekly newspapers in the state, adding them to a systematic collection which dates back to the very earliest newspapers published in Iowa. These publications are an invaluable source for the historian and the growing file of present day papers is part of the department's work of recording history day by day. All current newspapers are now preserved in permanent form on microfilm.

Portraits of many outstanding Iowans hang in the portrait gallery. A war history division contains many manuscripts, reports, official publications, enlistment records and other materials pertaining to Iowa's participation in six great wars.

The Annals of Iowa, a historical magazine issued quarterly, contains interpretive studies and articles on the history of the state.

The Iowa public archives comprise more than 35 million items beginning with the territorial government, all catalogued, so as to be readily available when needed by state officials or for historical research.

The department also has jurisdiction over all monuments and mementos on the statehouse grounds.

All these divisions of the department contribute to realization of its objectives to preserve the history of the state of Iowa and make it readily available to the citizens of the state.

Appointed by the Governor—Gregory Brunk, Des Moines; James I. Dolliver, Spirit Lake; William R. Ferguson, Glidden; Mrs. Margaret J. Hinderman, Washington; William C. Jarnagin, Storm Lake; Eugene Garbee, Fayette; Mrs. Anna Lomas, Red Oak; William B. Poinsett III, Dubuque; Mrs. Helen Vanderburg, Shell Rock.

Organized in February, 1857, the society's purposes are to preserve the history of Iowa and further its dissemination among the people of the state, almost 8,000 of whom are members of the society.

In fulfillment of these purposes a permanent program of activities has been gradually developed and put into execution. This includes (1) the discovery, collection and preservation of materials of Iowa history; (2) research in the field of Iowa history; (3) publication of the materials of Iowa history; (4) dissemination of the materials of Iowa history through public depositories and members. The society publishes a monthly magazine, The Palimpsest, and a quarterly magazine, the Iowa Journal of History. In addition, it issues numerous books on the political, social, economic and religious history of Iowa. It has published seven volumes on the Messages and Proclamations of the Governors of Iowa, six volumes in the Applied History Series dealing with the state, county and local government. Among the better known books are Mrs. Shambaugh's Amana That Was and Amana That Is, Gingerich's The Mennonites in Iowa, Swisher's Iowa-Land of Many Mills, Petersen's Steamboating on the Upper Mississippi and Iowa—The Rivers of Her Valleys, Richman's Ioway to Iowa, and Cole's Iowa Through the Years and I Remember, I Remember. Books recently published include Galland's Iowa Emigrant (reprint), Ross's Iowa Agriculture, Petersen's Iowa History Reference Guide, Scholl's Arnewood—The Story of an Iowa Dairyman, Nollen's Grinnell College, Younger's John A. Kasson, Sage's William Boyd Allison, Newhall's A Glimpse of Iowa in 1846 (reprint), Ross's Jonathan Prentiss Dolliver, and Petersen's The Pageant of the Press (1962).

The library of the society now includes about 109,000 titles. It also contains over 10,000 volumes of newspapers. In addition, hundreds of volumes of Iowa newspapers are preserved on microfilm.

President, Central Regional Conference, and Director of Executive Committee, International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions. Author, Rights of Action for Prenatal Injuries, 3 Drake Law Review 72.

The Workmen's Compensation Law was enacted by the Thirty-fifth General Assembly in 1913. The industrial commissioner administers this law. Iowa was one of the first states to provide benefits for injuries and occupational diseases sustained by industrial workers. Injuries resulting in death, permanent disability or temporary disability must be reported to the commissioner. If the injured worker and employer agree on compensation a memorandum thereof is approved by the commissioner. If an agreement cannot be reached, either the employee or employer may request an arbitration hearing before a deputy commissioner in the county where the injury occurred. Arbitration decisions are reviewed by the commissioner and may be appealed to a district court or the supreme court. Settlement agreements or awards may be reopened for three years after the last payment if the injured employee has a change of condition.

The industrial commissioner also investigates and settles workmen's compensation claims by all state employees and peace officers, and pursues subrogation recovery from persons who negligently injured them.

The industrial commissioner is a member of the Employment Agency License Commission and the State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Member of Roman Catholic Church, Iowa State Bar Association, American Bar Association, Dubuque County Bar Association, Knights of Columbus, Elks Club, Dubuque Press and Radio Club, Northeast Iowa Peace Officers Association, and American Legion; member of Governor's Commission on Human Relations 1957-1959. Married Virginia McCann of Dubuque, Iowa, in September, 1948. Six children, two sons and four daughters. Served in Army Air Force during World War II, attached to 20th Air Corps in Mariana Islands, December, 1942 to February, 1946. Chairman, Zone Four, National Association of Insurance Commissioners; chairman, subcommittee of Life Committee of NAIC; member of Accident and Health, Blanks, Examinations, Life, and Rates and Rating Organization Committees of NAIC; chairman of Laws and Legislation Committee of NAIC, member executive committee of NAIC,

The office of commissioner of insurance, as the executive head of the Insurance Department of Iowa, was created by chapter 146, of the laws of the Thirty-fifth General Assembly (1913) and the first commissioner took office July 1, 1914. Previous to that time, the supervision of insurance had been under the direction of the auditor of state.

The commissioner of insurance has general control, supervision, and direction over all insurance business transacted in the state, and is charged with the responsibility of enforcing the laws of the state relating to insurance.

Under the law, all securities in which the reserves of Iowa life insurance companies are invested are required to be deposited with the commissioner and complete records are kept showing each item on deposit at all times. The amount of approved securities representing these and other incidental deposits in the hands of the commissioner on Dec. 31, 1962, was $2,401,909,537.36.

The commissioner supervises all transactions relating to the organization, reorganization, liquidation and dissolution of domestic insurance corporations. He supervises the sale in the state of all stock or other evidences of interest either by domestic or foreign insurance companies. He is the statutory receiver in the event of liquidation of any Iowa insurance company.

All foreign companies, as well as all local companies, must, before engaging in the insurance business in this state, obtain a certificate of authority from the commissioner of insurance. These certificates expire annually on April 1, and action is taken on their renewals after analysis of complete financial statements filed covering the condition of the company as of the previous year end. All insurance agents must likewise obtain individual licenses to solicit business. In 1962 there were 961 insurance companies authorized to do business in the state, and approximately 100,000 individual agents' licenses were issued.

A state statute requires insurance companies to file rates with the insurance commissioner for approval, and a rating division has been set up with the insurance department to handle rate filings together with supporting statistical information. There are approximately 1,200 filings per month.

The commissioner conducts examinations of all domestic insurance organizations every three years. He may also make an examination of any foreign insurance company authorized or seeking to be authorized to do business within the state. All policy forms used by any company within the state are required to be approved by the department.

Securities Department

The Iowa securities law is administered by the commissioner of insurance. Chapter 502 of the Code of Iowa empowers the commissioner to regulate the sale of securities within the state of Iowa and provides for the licensing of securities salesmen and dealers.

The volume of business handled by the securities division has nearly doubled in the past two years.

The commissioner also has jurisdiction over the sale of stock on the installment plan and sale of memberships or certificates of membership entitling the holder thereof to purchase merchandise, materials or services on a discount or cost-plus basis.

BUREAU OF LABOR

(Office located on fourth floor Office and Laboratory Building)

Commissioner appointed by the Governor.

Term two years. Expires June 30, 1965.

PARKINS, Burton Dale, Urbandale Democrat Commissioner of Labor

Dale Parkins of Urbandale, Iowa, was appointed by Governor Harold Hughes for two year term beginning July 1, 1963. At the time of Mr. Parkins' appointment he was chairman of the bargaining committee for Local 991 of the United Automobile Workers, a union which represents the workers of the Ford Implement plant, 1700 Aurora Street, Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Parkins had served in this capacity since 1951. He served on the executive council of the State Federation of Labor from 1958-1960. Mr. Parkins was one of two children, and was born in Winterset, Iowa, June 11, 1924. He was graduated from Winterset High School in 1942. He married Shirley Ann Greenwood from Winterset. They have two children, a son Thomas and a daughter Susan. Mr. Parkins is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Van Meter, Iowa.

The office of labor commissioner was created by the Twentieth General Assembly in 1884.

Under the provisions of law, the commissioner is a member of the private employment agency commission. The commissioner is executive secretary of the employment agency commission. He is also secretary of the Iowa Apprenticeship Council by executive order of the governor some 25 years ago.

The bureau is responsible for the enforcement of laws relating to health and safety, child labor, passenger and freight elevators, installation and inspection of steam boilers, generators and superheaters, private employment agencies, arbitration and conciliation, and industrial accidents for reinspection and statistical purposes.

Eight factory inspectors devote full time to inspection of factories, mills, work shops, theatres, buildings, public buildings, passenger and freight elevators, private employment agencies and general employment conditions. The law requires that one of the inspectors shall be a woman who shall give special attention to places employing women and children. The chief boiler inspector for the state works under the commissioner and is responsible for the inspection of all boilers over 15 pounds pressure.

Since July of 1949 the bureau has dropped its publication "Iowa Employment Survey" because of the duplication with the report of the Iowa Employment Security Commission. However, the bureau undertook to publish reports on child labor, apprenticeship registration, construction activity, and Iowa work injuries. At this time quarterly statistical reports are being published and distributed throughout the state to aid both labor and management.

The bureau recognizes the need for a broader survey and hopes that in the near future it will be able to furnish more extensive and pertinent information.

THE STATE LIBRARIES

A board of trustees, composed of the governor, the state superintendent of public instruction and a member of the supreme court, controls the state law library and the state medical library. The law library is located in the state house, the other in the Historical building.

STATE LAW LIBRARY

(Second Floor, Capitol Building)

The Iowa state law library, with its collection of upwards of 150,000 volumes, is one of the largest and most complete law libraries in the United States.

In addition to providing legal reference facilities for the Iowa supreme court judges, attorney general and other state officials, it is used as well by attorneys and the general public.

The Fifty-sixth General Assembly established the Iowa State Traveling Library Board of Trustees consisting of five members, who are appointed by the governor. No member of the board shall be a practicing librarian; three members may be chosen from a list submitted by the Iowa Library Association; and one member may be from a list submitted by the superintendent of public instruction. Members are appointed for terms of five years.

The functions and duties of the Iowa State Traveling Library are those spelled out in the Iowa Code 303.16-303.23 for a General State Library. The role of a general state library is research, the supplying of books and audio-visual materials and consultant service to all state officials and state employees, state organizations, state mental, correctional, and welfare institutions, individuals without public library service and the 450 public libraries in Iowa.

As the Reference Shelf of Iowa the Iowa State Traveling Library supplies materials from its 290,000 plus book, phonodisc and film collection or borrows materials on inter-library loans from other libraries in this country and abroad. As the keystone to public library development, the library implements the federal, state and local cooperative library plan for the 450 public libraries now sharing in a six-year $1,000,000 plus book and consultant service development program.

During the last biennium the Iowa State Traveling Library continued to grow in resources of books and staff. It gave better service to state departments, public libraries, organizations and individuals. The extension services out in the state were strengthened by setting up the first scholarship returnee in Spencer as the northwestern state library field representative. Field representatives work in the east out of Cedar Falls, the northeast out of Decorah, the north central out of Mason City, the middlewest out of Jefferson and the northwest out of Spencer. The continuing program of statewide library extension and improvement of local libraries is permitted by the use of federal funds made available on a matching basis.

The Iowa Merit System Council has been in operation since Jan. 1, 1940. The Federal Social Security Act, as amended in 1939, required each of the several states to employ personnel on the basis of merit, in order to qualify for federal funds. The Merit System Council serves as the central personnel office, and in cooperation with the participating agencies establishes a system of personnel administration based on merit principles and scientific methods governing the appointment, promotion, transfer, lay-off, removal, discipline and welfare of its civil employees. The Merit System Council is composed of three members, appointed

The Merit System Council is composed of three members, appointed by the governor upon recommendation of the agencies. The regulations require that the members shall be public-spirited persons of recognized standing, of known interest in the improvement of public administration and the impartial selection of efficient government personnel. No member of the council shall have held political office or have been an officer in a political organization during the year preceding his appointment, nor shall he hold such office during his term.

It is the duty of the council to establish general policies for the administration of merit examinations and office procedures, to hear personnel appeals, to review the classification and compensation plans, and to advise with the state agencies on their revisions, to make recommendations to the agencies relative to their internal personnel practices to assure conformity with the regulations, to approve the budget to be submitted to the agencies covering costs of merit system activities, and to promote public understanding of the purposes, policies, and practices of the merit system.

It is also the duty of the council to appoint a merit system director, with the approval of the agencies, to advise with him in formulating procedures, and to inspect and review his activities for the purpose of assuring conformity with the regulations. The director is charged with the responsibility of developing and putting into continuous effect policies and procedures which are based on the principles requisite to merit system administration. These involve the recruitment of qualified candidates for possible public employment; the preparation, administration, and scoring of examinations; the preparation, custody, and maintenance of registers of eligibles; certification of the eligible list to the agencles as vacancies occur; maintenance of complete personnel records including appointments, salary advancements, promotions, and terminations; and auditing the payrolls to insure compliance with the regulations in all personnel actions.

Approximately 2,000 employees are covered under the system. Each employee must meet the minimum requirements, as defined in the job specification for the position he is holding, pass a practical written examination for the class, be selected from among the top three individuals available on the register, normally begin employment at the first step of the range established for the class, and serve a six months probationary period. Service of permanent employees may be terminated only for specific cause, and they have the right to appeal to the council in case they are of the opinion that any agency action has been unfair or dis-

DEPARTMENT OF MINES AND MINERALS

(Office located on first floor of Amos Hiatt Building)

The Department of Mines and Minerals consists of the State Mine Inspector and a State Mining Board of five members.

CECIL WILKINSON, Knoxville, Operator Representative.

NELS GRANQUIST, Des Moines, Miner Representative.

ANDREW E. ERSKINE, Ottumwa, Miner Representative.

The Department of Mines and Minerals was created by the Fifty-eighth General Assembly and has for its purposes the following:

1. To supervise and enforce the mining laws of the state.

2. To acquire and diffuse information concerning the nature, causes and prevention of mine accidents.

3. To make inquiries into the economic conditions affecting the mining, utilization and marketing of the minerals of the state.

4. To make available to all interested parties information relative to the production of coal and other minerals within the state.

Primary duty of the mine inspector is the inspection of all coal and gypsum mines in the state for safe operation as set forth in the mining laws of the state. The work of the inspector includes a complete examination of each mine, safety devices for mine workers, adequate ventilation, escape ways, blasting practices, electricity and precautions against fire and other dangers. Such examination must be made as often as time will permit but at least once every six months.

The State Mining Board, in addition to its other duties in the department, is required to give examinations to candidates for mine inspector, enacted by the Fifty-third General Assembly. The act, contained in Chapter 455A, Code of Iowa, declared it to be the policy of the state to correlate and vest the powers of the state in a single agency, the Iowa Natural Resources Council, with the duty and authority to establish and enforce an appropriate comprehensive, state-wide plan for control of water and for the protection of surface and underground waters of the state.

The Fifty-seventh General Assembly passed an act for the conservation and control of water resources as an amendment to Chapter 455A, confirming the fact that all waters within the state, both surface and underground, belong to the people of the state and declaring them subject to regulated use for beneficial purposes. This act became law on May 16, 1957. It is believed to be the first comprehensive water rights law to become effective in the 31 eastern states. The enactment of this law enlarged the scope of the responsibilities of the resources council and called for the employment of a water commissioner and deputies to administer the provisions of the law.

The resources council is composed of nine members who are electors of the State of Iowa and appointed for six-year terms by the governor and confirmed by the senate. The director of the council serves as the executive officer and has charge of the work under the direction and orders of the council.

The functions and duties of the resources council include the establishment of a comprehensive state-wide program for the conservation, development and use of the waters of the state. It has been designated as the agency with which the federal government agencies carry on relations for cooperation in cases involving investigations and studies for works or improvements for navigation and flood control affecting the state. The resources council also acts as a coordinating agency for flood control and water resources projects initiated on the local or state level.

In accordance with the law, the resources council receives, reviews, and determines the issuance of approval or disapproval of orders for the erection of any structure, dam obstruction, deposit or excavation in or on any floodway and has the power to abate as a nuisance any of the foregoing which adversely affect flood control. It may also establish council floodways which are deemed reasonably required to carry and discharge the flood flows of a stream.

The water rights law establishes a permit system for regulated uses of water and assigns to the council the additional responsibility of adopting policies, rules, and regulations for administration of the program.

The law provides for the diversion, storage, or withdrawal of water from any natural watercourse, underground basin or watercourse, drainage ditch or settling basin for any regulated use upon compliance with the provisions of the law. Except for a few non-regulated uses, any use of 5,000 gallons or more a day is subject to regulation. Permits may be granted for any period of time not exceeding 10 years, and must be reviewed before they may be extended by the resources council. Priority is given only to the use of water for ordinary household purposes, for poultry, livestock, and domestic animals. The resources council is authorized to determine and establish an average minimum flow for a given point on a watercourse and may issue permits for beneficial use of water provided that the average minimum flow is preserved.

SISTER MARY BRIGID, R.N., Davenport; term expires June 30, 1966. VERA M. SAGE, R.N., Des Moines; Executive Director. RUTH BINDER, R.N., Des Moines; Assistant Executive Director.

The Board of Nursing was made a department separate from the State Department of Health by action of the Forty-sixth General Assembly. The board gives examinations and issues licenses to two classifications of nurses: 1. registered nurse; 2. licensed practical nurse. Examinations are held semi-annually in Des Moines. The Nurse Practice Act is mandatory for any individual performing nursing services in either classification for compensation. The titles "R.N." and "L.P.N." are protected by statute. Details concerning licensure fees may be had on application.

Through the executive director the board keeps records pertaining to the licensing of nurses in the state, receives all applications for licensure, collects all fees and issues all licenses.

It is the duty of the board to enforce laws governing the practice of nursing in this state.

Since 1907, when the first regulatory measure affecting the practice of professional nursing in Iowa was enacted 35,689 registered nurses have been licensed. At the close of the 1963 fiscal year 23,304 registered nurses had renewed their licenses.

Since 1949, when regulatory measures were enacted pertaining to the practice of practical nurses, 3,215 individuals have qualified to use the title licensed practical nurse in Iowa. At the close of the 1963 fiscal year 2,503 licensed practical nurses had renewed their licenses. The board sets minimum standards for 24 schools of professional nursing and 14 schools of practical nursing.

Appointed commissioner of public safety by Governor Hughes July 1, 1963.

levels of government within Iowa. Today, the State Department of Public Safety includes the following divisions:

Division of Highway Safety Patrol

T. R. MIKESCH, Polk County, Colonel.

The Iowa highway safety patrol was created by the Forty-sixth General Assembly (1935) and brought to its present strength of 300 uniformed members by the Fifty-eighth General Assembly (1959).

The duties of the highway patrol are to enforce all motor vehicle laws, to exercise general police powers (with restrictions stated in Chapter 80, Code of Iowa, 1962); to investigate serious traffic accidents occurring on the highways; to conduct hearings in connection with the suspension of operators' and chauffeurs' licenses; to conduct examinations and issue drivers' licenses; to promote highway safety through its own programs and to give lectures and demonstrations, show films and disseminate safety material to all interested groups and organizations; to maintain a film library and exchange service; and to stock safety material from official and private sources.

Division of Criminal Investigation

TILLMAN A. THOMPSON, Wright County, Chief.

The criminal investigation division is a service organization to which county and municipal enforcement agencies may come for assistance in difficult criminal investigations. The division also is responsible for certain matters relating to the internal security of the State of Iowa. In addition, the division is called upon to investigate matters involved in the functioning of state government, and to co-operate with elective and appointive officials in such investigations. The division is not, however, a local policing unit.

The division is divided into an investigative section, an identification section, and a technical laboratory. The investigative section assigns special agents to work with local peace officers who have requested assistance in special criminal cases. The identification section is a storehouse of information, including fingerprints, criminal records, photographs and other information necessary to effective criminal law enforcement. The technical laboratory is a modern crime laboratory which includes the scientific equipment and the technicians necessary to criminal investigation and crime prevention.

Division of Radio Communications

BOYD F. PORTER, Polk County, Director.

This division is responsible for providing radio communications for the Iowa highway safety patrol, the criminal investigation division, and other state agencies. Services and facilities of this division, through the police radio network, also are available to all county and municipal enforcement agencies, to state and federal offices of civil defense, and for interstate police communication.

The division operates on a 24-hour daily basis through nine police radio stations located at Atlantic, Belmond, Cedar Falls, Cedar Rapids, Denison, Des Moines, Fairfield, Maquoketa, Storm Lake, and through automatic repeater stations at Burlington, Cresco, Glenwood, Lake Park, McGregor, Merrill, Moorhead, New Market and Van Wert.

Division of Fire Protection and Investigation

ROLAND J. STRAUP, Marion County, Fire Marshal.

The duties of this division are to enforce all state laws relating to arson, to investigate causes of fires, and to promote fire safety and prevention through education. The division is charged with enforcing all laws, and rules and regulations of the State Department of Public Safety, relating to the transportation, storage and handling of flammable liquids, liquefied petroleum gas, and explosives. In addition, this division is responsible for enforcement of laws and regulations pertaining to fire safety, equipment, design and exit in buildings where the public congregates.

Division of Motor Vehicle Registration

JOHN F. CARLSON, Pocahontas County, Director.

This division has direct jurisdiction over the licensing and titling of motor vehicles, official vehicles, and nonresident vehicles, and also over the issuing of licenses to itinerant merchants. The division maintains complete records of all motor vehicle licenses and titles issued and of revenue collected. With certain exceptions, all revenue collected from issuance of motor vehicle registrations and titles goes to the state's road use tax fund.

Division of Motor Vehicle Dealers' License

D. H. DAY, Polk County, Director.

It is the responsibility of this division to prevent fraud in the sale of motor vehicles at retail in Iowa, and to prevent irresponsible persons from engaging in the retail sale of motor vehicles. In addition, the division administers the dealers' disclosure law. All expenses of this division are paid out of a fund which accrues from the licensing and transfers of licenses of motor vehicle dealers.

Division of Financial and Safety Responsibility and Operators' and Chauffeurs' License

JAMES L. FETTERS, Warren County, Director.

Administration of the financial and safety responsibility law and driver improvement and control are responsibilities of this division. The division maintains cumulative records of accidents and convictions of traffic law violations on all licensed drivers. On the basis of these records, court recommendations or other evidence, it is the duty of this division to re-examine or interview drivers, issue warning letters or probationary agreements, or to suspend or revoke drivers' licenses. A research and statistics section of this division collects and analyzes accident and enforcement information for guidance of the various public safety programs that are within the responsibility of the safety department.

BOARD OF VOTING MACHINE COMMISSIONERS

E. S. McMILLIN, Auditor of Wapello County; term expires Feb. 3, 1964. JOE H. LANE, Auditor of Clinton County; term expires Feb. 3, 1964.

This board passes on the capacity of voting machines to perform satisfactorily. Approval of this board is required before a new type of machine can be adopted.

WATCHMAKERS' BOARD

LLOYD A. HAMBLETON, Fort Dodge; term expires June 30, 1965.

LEO E. LANGLEY, Williamsburg; term expires June 30, 1965.

JAMES R. WILLIAMS, Storm Lake; term expires June 30, 1964.

GERALD DOUGAN, Waterloo; term expires June 30, 1966.

KENNETH WOLDRUFF, Griswold; term expires June 30, 1966.

RAY A. WILEY, Des Moines, Executive Secretary, 507 Flynn Building.

The Fifty-first General Assembly created a Watchmakers' Board to register all persons or firms engaged in watchmaking or repair. Members of the board are paid $10 per day during sessions of the board, with maximum compensation of $300 a year. They are required by law to meet at least once every six months.

IOWA REAL ESTATE COMMISSION

(Office located on ground floor Capitol Building) ROBERT E. ECKMAN, Des Moines, Director

ECKMAN, Robert E. Polk County Director Iowa Real Estate Commission

Born Oct. 22, 1909, son of August R. and Rhoda A. Eckman. Educated in Des Moines public schools, graduated from North High School. Married Lillie B. Butcher of Des Moines, 1941. Father of a daughter, Marilyn, age 13. Member of National Guard, 1927, and called to active duty with the 34th Infantry Division February, 1941. Served overseas in WWII from April, 1942 to June, 1945. Taken prisoner by Germans in Tunisia, North Africa, Feb. 17, 1943. Liberated by American forces at Moosburg, Germany, April 28. 1945. Retired from active duty as lieutenant colonel, October, 1954.

MELVIN D. SYNHORST, Secretary of State and Chairman. GEORGE L. TOWNE, Des Moines; term ending June 30, 1965. ALTON H. SANDERS, Charles City; term ending June 30, 1965. STEPHEN G. DARLING, Iowa City; term ending June 30, 1967. GERY M. MARTIN, Sioux City; term ending June 30, 1967.

The first real estate license law was enacted by the 43rd General Assembly and became effective Jan. 1, 1930. The law was administered by the secretary of state, who was designated as real estate commissioner. This law was amended and revised by the 51st General Assembly to provide, among other things, that as of January 1, 1946, the law would be administered by a five-member commission composed of the secretary of state as chairman and four additional members appointed by the governor with the approval of the senate.

During the past 17 years it has been the administrative policy of the Real Estate Department to correct most of the evils in the real estate brokerage business which had developed over many years of uncontrolled practice. This has resulted in elevating the real estate business to a professional status and has tended to encourage men and women in all walks of life to enter this business where income is based on intelligence, initiative and hard work.

While the present law requires a rather complete and comprehensive written examination for all applicants it has not tended to deter or discourage the many people who are endeavoring to get into this business. The examinations are held once a month at a specific time and place set by the commission.

The fees for a broker's and salesman's examination are $10.00 and $5.00 respectively. The same amount is charged each year for renewal of the license, which expires on Dec. 31 of the year of issuance.

The department prepares and distributes free to the citizens of Iowa a Real Estate Primer which is a basis for the qualifying examination and which has been accepted and used as a textbook by many high schools, colleges and universities in Iowa and many other states. This primer and the educational institutes held over the state each year have contributed materially in reducing law violations to a minimum and have facilitated the economical and efficient operation of the department.

The department is also charged with the responsibility of regulating and investigating the business conduct of all real estate licensees in their relationship with the public, and holds hearings on formal complaints which contain evidence which would indicate a violation of the law.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WELFARE

(Office located on fourth floor, State Office Building)

Appointed by Governor; term six years.

LAWRENCE PUTNEY, Tama County, Republican, Chairman; term expires June 30, 1967.

MARSHALL C. JEWELL, Monona County, Republican; term expires June 30, 1965.

MRS. IRENE M. SMITH, Wapello County, Democrat; term expires June 30, 1969.

R. H. WHITLATCH, Marion County, Secretary.

The Board of Social Welfare is vested with the authority to administer state and federal funds appropriated by the federal social security law and the Iowa legislature for old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children, aid to disabled, emergency relief, and child welfare services.

Medical assistance for the aged (M.A.A.) was approved for the state, with an appropriation of $2,000,000, effective July, 1963.

Under the terms of the law, county boards of social welfare, also bipartisan, are appointed annually by the county boards of supervisors. The county welfare boards receive applications for assistance from needy aged, children, blind, and disabled in the various counties and make recommendations for assistance grants. The county boards also cooperate with the state board in giving protective services to children.

The State Board of Social Welfare is required to cooperate with the federal government, according to the provisions of the federal social security law, in making reports to the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare regarding the administration of public assistance and child welfare services. The state board is also responsible for the licensing of all child placing and child care agencies and institutions in the state, with the exception of those under the jurisdiction of the Board of Control.

Public Welfare Programs of Assistance and Service

State-wide monthly aid to needy persons in Iowa is provided under the programs of old-age assistance, aid to blind, aid to dependent children, and aid to disabled. The State Department of Social Welfare also administers, through its 99 county offices, the remedial blind program, and child welfare services. It also supervises the distribution of food, made available through the United States Department of Agriculture, to the needy people of the state.

Through the public assistance programs, cash payments are provided on a need basis to individuals meeting specific eligibility requirements. These recipients also receive various health services, with payments made directly to vendors on their behalf.

As of July 1, 1962, there were 30,910 recipients of old age assistance, 1,330 aid to blind, 510 remedial blind only recipients, 9,747 families including 36,870 individuals receiving aid to dependent children benefits, and 813 aid to disabled recipients. For the 12 months ending June 30, 1962, the cost of assistance payments to recipients was $50,605,036.23; this included payments for health services paid directly to vendors on behalf of recipients. Of this total, approximately 61.45 percent was paid from federal funds, 31.83 percent from state funds, and 6.72 percent from county funds.

In addition to regular assistance payments, the state provided funeral expenses for old age assistance recipients totalling $285,832.87. The state and counties shared equally the $3,211.75 approved for burial of children of aid to dependent children families. Funeral expenses for aid to blind recipients totalled $5,472.16, of which the state paid three-fourths and the counties one-fourth. Aid to disabled funeral expenses totalled $2,107.86, with the state and counties sharing equally in the costs.

The remedial blind program, costing $94,510.79 for the year, provided medical and hospital services to needy individuals of all ages requiring specialized treatment to restore vision or prevent blindness. The state pays three-fourths and the counties one-fourth of the total costs.

Effective July 4, 1959, an act of the legislature placed in the hands of the department responsibility for providing general relief to Indians living in settlements within the state, and made an appropriation of state funds for this purpose.

GREAT SEAL OF THE UNITED STATES

The Great Seal of the United States, adopted by Congress June 20, 1782, carries on its obverse side the Coat of Arms of the United States. The stripes on the shield represent the states; the blue above represents Congress. In its talons the eagle grasps an olive branch and a cluster of arrows—the Congressional power to make peace or war. The constellation of thirteen stars above denotes a new Nation in the world.

The reverse of the seal shows a pyramid, to signify "strength and duration," while the eye over it and the motto, Annuit Coeptis (He has favored our beginning), allude to "the many signal interpositions of Providence in favor of the American cause." The Roman numerals give the year of Independence; the motto, Novus Ordo Sectorum (a new order of the ages), signifies the beginning of the new American era.

The national motto, E Pluribus Unum, was first suggested on August 10, 1776, by a congressional committee, consisting of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson.

If you are curious to see these seals and shield, look at a one dollar bill.

Information on State Fair

For over 100 years, the Iowa State Fair has been gaining steadily in size, prestige and public service. Today, it is nationally recognized as America's greatest agricultural and livestock fair. Situated in the heart of the world's wealthiest agricultural empire, it is the focal point each year for exhibitors of the finest livestock and farm products. In attendance, too, it stands in the front rank of the great educational and entertainment expositions on the North American continent.

The Iowa State Fair, the original "State Fair" of a best-selling novel and of two hit motion pictures, is held in Des Moines each year. It runs for 10 days in late August.

The livestock show, largest of its kind in America, attracts over 8,000 of the finest farm animals from 20 leading agricultural states. The 4-H and F.F.A. shows, state-wide congresses of farm young people's organizations and their livestock and projects, add to the fame of the fair. In 1962 a building was designated specifically for Iowa industry. The Iowa industry exhibits were very successful for a first showing, and the several Iowa industries and chambers of commerce who exhibited were of the opinion that the increased emphasis on Iowa industry should be continued. Other major educational features include the corn and small grain show, farm machinery exposition, flower and garden show, art salon, photographic salon, school exposition, women's exposition, harness and saddle horse show, culinary and needlework departments, and the fish and game exhibit.

From the huge State Fair grandstand, one of the finest amphitheaters in the nation, fairgoers witness a varied series of spectacles and events, including national championship auto races, midwest circuit horse races, thrill day stunts, musical extravaganzas, fireworks and circus acts.

The first and second Iowa State Fairs were held in Fairfield, Iowa, in 1854 and 1855. From 1856 to 1879, the State Fair moved from city to city. It was held in Muscatine in 1856 and 1857; Oskaloosa, 1858 and 1859; Iowa City, 1860 and 1861; Dubuque, 1862 and 1863; Burlington, 1864-1866; Clinton, 1867 and 1868; Keokuk, 1869, 1870, 1874 and 1875; and Cedar Rapids, 1871, 1873 and 1876-1878.

In 1879 the State Fair moved to Des Moines to stay. In 1884 the legislature appropriated $50,000 to purchase a state fairgrounds, on condition that the city of Des Moines raise an equal amount for buildings and facilities. The city concurred, and Iowa thus became the second state in the northwest to acquire a permanent site for its fair.

In 1923 the general assembly changed the former method of fair administration by providing for an Iowa department of agriculture and a state fair board, and giving this board the duty of managing the fair and the custody of the fairgrounds. Under this law, the fair board comprises one director from each congressional district. These directors together with the president and vice-president of the fair, are elected at the annual midwinter session of the state agricultural convention. Immediately after that convention, the state fair board elects its secretary and its treasurer.

All operating expense, maintenance and other costs of the fair are paid out of fair receipts, except where the legislature may deem it advisable to make a special appropriation for such purposes. The law provides that the state will not be liable for any expenses or liabilities incurred by the fair.

Since 1902 the legislature has appropriated $1,130,500 for the construction of permanent buildings on the fairgrounds, purchase of additional land and for necessary improvements. In recent years, however, the State Fair has used only its own revenues for these purposes. Altogether, since 1902, the fair itself has expended $3,883,869 for maintenance and improvements from actual profits of the fair. One major building project financed by fair funds is the fireproof 4-H Girls' dormitory, which was formally opened and presented to the Girls 4-H Club for their use at the 1950 Iowa State Fair. Another is the Radio and Television Center providing studies for programs originating on the grounds as well as established programs featuring well known announcers and entertainers. This building was built and in use in 1956. Premiums, amounting to over $190,000 a year, are also provided by the fair for winners in exhibits and contests.

How the State Fair has grown during over 100 years of progress can best be shown by comparing statistics on the first fair of 1854 with the average figures for the 1961 and 1962 fairs:

In addition to these duties, the commission administers the individual and corporation income tax, sales and use tax, chain store tax, cigarette tax, beer and inheritance taxes, and many other minor activities.

The total collection of taxes received by the Tax Commission for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962 aggregated $153,048,022.

In addition to duties in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes, the commission also administers the provisions of the Homestead Credit Act, under which more than $29,244,782 annually is now being credited upon the real estate and personal property taxes of persons entitled to homestead grants.

The Tax Commission also administers the Military Service Tax Credit Act under which local taxing bodies are reimbursed more than $2,251,773 annually for losses incurred through the exemption of property owned by persons who have been in military service.

The Tax Commission has supervision of local property assessments. It is in charge of the general direction of county and city assessors under the law enacted by the Fifty-second General Assembly.

(See Code of Iowa 1962, Chapter 421, Section 421.17 for additional powers and duties of the State Tax Commission.)

STATE HOUSE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

(Located on ground floor, State Office Building)

Mrs. Dorothy Dennis, Chief Telephone Operator

Working under the executive council, this department handles local and long distance calls for the capitol building, state office building, historical building, old Amos Hiatt building and office and laboratory building.

Among the hundreds of calls answered daily are inquiries concerning various functions of departments, personnel, hours of operation and so forth. During legislative sessions and time for filing income tax returns a very heavy increase is noted in both local and long distance calls.

IOWA STATE BOARD OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

The statute establishing a Department of Public Instruction under the direction of a State Board was enacted by the Fifty-fifth General Assembly. The law provides for the election of members of the State Board and prescribes their powers and duties.

Eight members are elected by representatives of local and county school boards from districts which shall be conterminous with the eight congressional districts as they existed on Jan. 1, 1953, plus one board member who is appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. The term of each is for six years.

The State Board of Public Instruction is a policy-making board made up of lay people. The State Board has the same relationship at the state level as a county board of education has to a county school system and a local board of education has to a local school district.

IOWA STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

(Office on fifth floor of State Office Building)

Iowa law provides for the State Board of Public Instruction to appoint the superintendent of public instruction, assistant superintendents, and such other staff members and employees as necessary. The powers and duties of the superintendents and staff members are also prescribed by law.

The state superintendent has responsibility for the over-all co-ordination of the work of the department.

The assistant superintendent for administration and assistant superintendent for instruction are responsible to the state superintendent. Each assistant superintendent has jurisdiction over a number of divisions which are responsible to the state superintendent through the appropriate assistant superintendent.

The division of research and publications is responsible to the state superintendent and the two assistant superintendents. The division of vocational rehabilitation is directly responsible to the state superintendent.

The Department of Public Instruction is made up of 12 divisions as follows:

STATE SUPERINTENDENT, PAUL F. JOHNSTON.

Instructional Research and Publications, Arthur C. Anderson, Director.

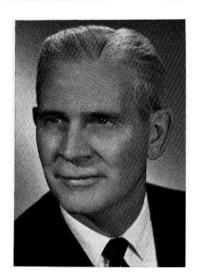

Vocational Rehabilitation, Merill E. Hunt, Director.

Supervision, Paul E. Wallace, Director.

Vocational Education, B. H. Graeber, Director.

The functions of the Iowa State Department of Public Instruction are classified into three major categories: leadership, service, and regulatory. Educational leadership constitutes the major responsibility and is included in each of these categories. Consultative services are available upon request and without charge to public school administrators and lay people regarding educational problems.

Functions of the 12 divisions of the department are described as follows:

Research and Publications

The division of research and publications was organized in 1955 to collect data on school facts and to coordinate the research activities of agencies concerned with research in education. A central file on research information is maintained. The division also coordinates all news releases and supervises the preparation of publications.

Vocational Rehabilitation

Vocational rehabilitation is a public service offered to help develop and conserve the working usefulness of disabled men and women to the extent that they may become gainfully employed. Any Iowa resident of employable age who has a disability that prevents satisfactory employment (except aged or helpless persons requiring custodial care, or blind persons being assisted by the Iowa Commission for the Blind) may apply. Persons with disabilities resulting from birth, disease, accident, or emotional causes may be eligible.

Services, provided free, include medical diagnosis and vocational evaluation; vocational guidance and planning; job training, and placement on a job.

Administration and Finance

The division of administration and finance is primarily a service division in administration, finance, school district reorganization, and school plant facilities.

The division endeavors to provide leadership in the development of better financial practices in the expenditure and reporting of school moneys. School district reorganization is a continuing challenge which gives the department an opportunity to assist county and local boards and lay groups in their study of the school districts. The division has provided much consultative service in the planning of school sites and building programs.

During the period from 1954-1955 to 1962-1963 the total number of school districts of all types was reduced from 4,417 to 1,231, or 3,186; the number of districts maintaining approved four-year high schools from 819 to 469, or 350; the number of one-room rural schools from 3,261 to 132, or 3,129.

Administration and finance is responsible for the distribution of the following state aids: general, supplemental, transportation, handicapped children, vocational, mining camp and emergency.

Data Processing

The division of data processing is responsible for machine processing of data gathered from schools by the State Department of Public Instruction. This involves collecting information on reporting forms from school districts, processing data from these forms, and providing statistical analyses of the data. This division also provides machine processing services to other divisions of the State Department. This includes machine processing of teacher certificates, determining surplus property and surplus commodity distribution, and distribution of state and federal aid to school districts. Consultative services in the area of data processing are also provided to local school districts.

School Lunch

The State Department of Public Instruction operates under a contract with the U. S. Department of Agriculture which covers the general administrative procedures of the lunch program. The division of school lunch in the state department in turn negotiates a similar agreement with each approved public school district. Since 1946, the number of Iowa schools participating in the school lunch program has increased from 735 to 1,334.

Surplus Property

The State Agency for Surplus Property accepts federal surplus property for distribution on an equitable basis to all tax-supported and tax-exempt schools, colleges, public health institutions and civil defense units within the state.

The agency is self-supporting. Each participant pays a nominal charge. Whenever surplus property is received in sufficient quantities (three or four thousand units of a particular item) a statewide bulletin is mailed. A centralized warehouse is maintained at the Iowa State Fairgrounds in Des Moines. Approximately 65 per cent of the schools and colleges in Iowa have participated during the biennium.

Transportation

The Department of Public Instruction, under the provision of Chapter 285, Code of Iowa, is responsible for general supervision of public school transportation. The division of transportation has continued to place major emphasis upon the health and safety of children and the efficient and economical operation of equipment.

All school buses, and private cars used as buses, are inspected annually by personnel of the division of transportation with the assistance of the Iowa Highway Safety Patrol.

Veterans' Education and Training:

The Department of Public Instruction is designated by the governor as the Iowa State Approval Agency for the training of veterans under the provisions of Title 38, United States Code. The program provides vocational readjustment and restoration of educational opportunities to service men and women whose educational or vocational plans were interrupted by service in the armed forces.

The veterans' education and training division is responsible for inspection and supervision of industrial establishments and educational institutions offering courses and training to veterans under federal laws.

Advanced Education and Instructional Services:

The division of advanced education and instructional services is comprised of the six sections: community colleges and continuing education, curriculum services, guidance services, teacher education and certification, civil defense, adult education and audio-visual services and educational television.

The community colleges section maintains contact with and renders service to the public junior colleges of the state. Annual visits are made to these institutions to offer consultative services and to evaluate them in terms of the approval standards established. Workshops and other types of meetings for administrators and teachers in these two-year institutions are held each year. The continuing education program is concerned with coordination of the educational services offered by the public school districts to citizens of all ages. It seeks the services of the personnel and the use of the facilities of public schools and colleges, and it fosters active cooperation of the schools and the many public and private community agencies concerned with continuing or adult education.

The curriculum services section assumes leadership in the preparation and distribution of guides on both the elementary and secondary school levels. Although the development of these handbooks is directed by members of the State Department, the planning and writing is done cooperatively by selected teachers and administrators from colleges and school systems in the state. Thus, these guides are likely to reflect the thinking of highly qualified persons who are currently working directly with the children in Iowa classrooms. This section seeks to improve the curriculums of the local school systems. In addition to the preparation and distribution of handbooks, work is done with local schools in cooperation with the division of supervision, to help them develop their own curriculums.

The guidance services section has the responsibility of providing leadership and service in the development, initiation, expansion, and evaluation of programs of guidance for school pupils. The activities of the section cover information, consultation, and research. This section also supervises the Iowa Plan of Title V-A of the National Defense Education Act entitled, "Guidance, Counseling, and Testing; Identification and Encouragement of Able Students."

The teacher education and certification section exercises leadership in the improvement of programs of preparation for teachers. It carries out the rules and regulations governing the approval of college and university programs of teacher education and the certification and approval of school personnel for the public schools of the state.

The State Board of Public Instruction establishes rules, as provided by law, for the approval of teacher education programs in colleges and for the certification of teachers. County superintendents are required to enforce the state law requiring that each teacher have a proper certificate.

The classes of certificates issued are: permanent professional, valid for lifetime; professional, valid for ten-year term; pre-professional, valid for six-year term (available for original issuance only to teachers of trade and industrial classes); substitute, valid for six-year term; and temporary, valid for one-year term. Each class of certificate is endorsed for the specific type of service which the holder is authorized to perform in the public schools.

Bulletin No. 32, "Certification and Approval of School Personnel," available without charge, gives additional information.

The civil defense adult education section operates in cooperation with the Department of Defense, U. S. Office of Education and state Office of Civil Defense to train teachers to lead adult groups which participate in civil defense classes in Iowa communities.

The audio-visual services and educational television section coordinates the rapidly developing use of new instructional materials including educational television.

Special Education:

grandchildren.

The division of special education was created by an act of the Iowa legislature to promote, direct and supervise special education for handicapped children in the public schools. This original act (Chapter 281, Iowa Code) also defines "handicapped children" as those under 21 years of age who, by reason of physical defect, emotional maladjustment or mental retardation, cannot attend regular public school classes or profit sufficiently from ordinary instructional methods.

Consultative services from this division are available upon request, without charge.

Supervision:

It is the policy of the State Department of Public Instruction to maintain constant contact with local school districts through periodic visitations. These visitations provide opportunities to help persons in individual districts see their local school situations in relation to other districts throughout the state and in relation to desirable standards and trends as revealed by research.

It is the policy of the Department of Public Instruction to visit each high school district at least once every school year. Following the visitation a written evaluation is mailed to each superintendent, school board member, school board secretary and appropriate county superintendent.

Vocational Education:

The division of vocational education promotes, develops, and supervises vocational programs for which state and federal monies are available to aid local schools. These programs consist of agricultural, distributive education, home economics education, practical nurses training, trade and industrial education, and area vocational programs.

Vocational programs are conducted by local boards of education in cooperation with the State Board of Public Instruction. All programs must meet the standards of the Iowa State Plan for Vocational Education. The State Plan is developed by the state and approved by the Federal Office of Education, Division of Vocational Education, and conforms with the provisions of the Smith-Hughes and George-Barden Acts of Congress.

"The division of vocational education makes provision for the training of teachers for each service of vocational education. The three tax supported institutions of Iowa are designated for the training of vocational teachers. Iowa State University, Ames, trains teachers in the fields of agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial education, and guidance. The State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, provides training for distributive education, home economics, and the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, offers a teacher-training program for practical nurses training and guidance."

Federal and state funds are made available for each year to aid local schools to finance vocational programs. These funds are used to reimburse approved local programs.

IOWA'S PUBLIC COMMUNITY OR JUNIOR COLLEGE SYSTEM

The first public community or junior college in Iowa was organized as a department of the public schools of Mason City, and began operations in September, 1918. It was established without legal sanction, as there was no law on the statute books at the time authorizing the organization of junior colleges as a part of the public school system.

The first law authorizing the establishment of public junior colleges was enacted in 1927 by the Forty-second General Assembly. In recent years, as these colleges have extended their services more and more into the areas of terminal, technical and adult education, they have come to be looked upon as community institutions. Hence, in 1959 the Fifty-eighth General Assembly amended the law to provide that these institutions could be designated as community colleges.

In 1949 the Fifty-third General Assembly first established a system of state aid of 25 cents per day of attendance for each junior college student carrying 12 or more semester hours of college work. In 1957 the Fifty-seventh General Assembly increased this amount to one dollar per day. State aid was increased by the Fifty-ninth General Assembly to $1.50 per day for non-resident students.

Burlington Junior College was organized in 1920. From then on, the movement spread rapidly, until by 1930 thirty towns in Iowa had organized junior colleges as a part of their public school systems. The junior college movement in Iowa reached its crest in 1927, during which year nine were added to the list. After 1930, no more junior colleges were added until 1946, when Clinton Junior College was organized. Keokuk Community College followed in 1953.

The names and dates of the organization of Iowa Public Junior Colleges are as follows:

To be considered comprehensive in function, a community college should encompass the following areas:

Academic: Each community or junior college should provide the first two years of senior college work for the students who plan a transfer to a senior college after completion of two years in community or junior college. This training should be broad enough to include the first two year requirements in the liberal arts, scientific, engineering, and professional fields.

Vocational-Technical: A complete education should be given those who will finish their period of formal education in the community or junior college. This curriculum commonly referred to as terminal education should be designed to achieve occupational competence, civic competence, and personal adequacy.

Continuing Adult Education: Every community or junior college should co-operate with other educational institutions in providing instruction to meet the needs of adults living in the community. The program of training should include cultural and vocational education.

Guidance, Counseling, Testing: Another important function of public community or junior colleges is that of furnishing an adequate testing and guidance program for students enrolled in the institution. Such a program will help the students identify their interests and aptitudes and shall enable them to plan an educational program in keeping with these abilities.

IOWA BRAILLE AND SIGHT-SAVING SCHOOL Vinton

Lee A. Iverson, Superintendent

The Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School was opened at Iowa City on April 5, 1853. Nine years later (August, 1862) the school was moved to its present location at Vinton.

The Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School is an educational institution which offers complete educational opportunity to visually handicapped boys and girls from the kindergarten through the high school.

The curriculum parallels that found in the best public schools for the fully sighted.

In addition to academic subjects, special emphasis is placed on music, industrial arts and physical education. After satisfactorily completing the four-year high school course, students may enter colleges and universities. The records of those who have done so have been excellent.

Supported by appropriations made by the State Legislature, the school is governed by the State Board of Regents. No charges are made for room, board, laundry, tuition and educational supplies. School is in session for a nine months' period.

In September, 1943, a sight-saving department was established to meet the needs of pupils with partial vision. Students in this department study large-type print instead of Braille and do their school work in classrooms especially equipped with excellent lighting, special desks, green chalk boards and other materials designed for this purpose.

The purpose of the Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School is to prepare its boys and girls to take a contributory place in life. In addition to the regular academic course of study, pupils may enroll in industrial arts, music, home economics and physical education. Parties, dances, swimming, wrestling, band, chorus, track, 4-H Clubs, and skating are a few of the extra activities.

The annual enrollment is about 165 students.

Council Bluffs

Lloyd E. Berg, Superintendent

The Iowa School for the Deaf was founded in 1855, and was first located at Iowa City and then moved to Council Bluffs in 1870. In 1902, fire destroyed the main building, which housed the executive quarters and dormitories for pupils. A substantial fire-proof structure now stands in its place, where sufficient room is provided for 375 pupils.

The school represents a capital investment for the state of $2,000,000 and occupies 200 acres, with twelve fine buildings and beautiful grounds. There is a separate building to accommodate 75 of the youngest pupils. The school affords an education for children of the state too deaf to make progress in the hearing schools. The entrance age is five years and students are required to remain in school until 19 years of age unless excused for good cause. The work embraces 13 years, with training largely through writing, speech, lip-reading and through the use of hearing aids where possible. The course of study provides a strong elementary education, together with substantial vocational training. The philosophy of the school is to bring the child with impaired hearing as near to normal as possible. Pupils of the school become skilled workmen, and graduates, with remarkably few exceptions, are self-supporting, useful citizens of the state. Among the vocations taught are baking, shoe repairing, book-binding, printing, cabinet-making and upholstering. Instruction in rhythm is also given, and a well-rounded course in almost everything which will make life more pleasant for those bereft of their hearing.

STATE SANATORIUM

Oakdale

William M. Spear, M.D., F.A.C.P., Superintendent and Medical Director.

Milo D. Wynn, Business Manager and Secretary.

Wayne Lacina, B.Sc., Treasurer, Accountant.

Edna Dooley, B.Sc., R.Ph., Pharmacist.

J. D. Whisenand, D.D.S., Dentist.

Mildred Shaffer, R.N. Superintendent of Nurses.

Grace Robbie, B.A., Dietitian.

Lois A. Gatton, B.A., Director of Social Service.

Betty L. Lacina, B.A., O.T.R., Director of Occupational Therapy.

Helen V. Courtney, R.R.L., Medical Record Librarian.

Irene Stephenson, R.T., Chief X-Ray Technician.

James O'Connor, Jr., B.A., MT (ASCP), Medical Technologist.

Lucy Schoenfelder, Librarian.

From its establishment at Oakdale in 1908 until 1947 the State Sanatorium was supervised by the State Board of Control. In the latter year the 52nd General Assembly transferred the sanatorium to the supervision of the State Board of Regents. The proximity of the university hospitals and the college of medicine of the university to Oakdale and the importance of their services to the sanatorium influenced this decision.

The function of the State Sanatorium is to provide: 1) diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis and its complications; 2) treatment which includes rest, a well balanced diet, medical therapy and thoracic surgery and a period of graduated exercise before discharge, and 3) after-care of the discharged patient to discover any reactivation of the disease and insure permanent arrest.

Patients are admitted to Oakdale on certification by attending physicians, cost for their care being charged to the counties where they reside.

Recognizing that the tuberculosis patient needs help in adjustments and in pleasantly disposing of his time while his disease is undergoing arrest, the sanatorium employs two registered occupational therapists to teach crafts to ambulatory patients and on the wards as well.

Since in most cases the patients cannot return to their former employment, a rehabilitation program is conducted to assist them in preparing for less strenuous vocations. Rehabilitation service is provided by the State Rehabilitation Division, with a resident counselor training patients while they are still under treatment, helping them locate suitable employment, and further assisting them in the period following their discharge from the sanatorium.

The sanatorium occupies approximately 550 acres, six miles northwest of Iowa City. Approximately 400 acres of this area is in farm lands.

The sanatorium has an average of 225 resident patients and treats as many as 5,000 outpatients a year.

State University of Iowa

Iowa City

From the very beginning, the people of Iowa have demonstrated a pioneering vision of the role higher education can play in the welfare of mankind. The state had scarcely embarked upon its historical existence, when the First General Assembly adopted an act which created the State University of Iowa.

President Virgil M. Hancher

The date was February 25, 1847. Since then, the state and its university have grown up together, developing a wealth of mutual relationships which have vitally affected the course of Iowa life.

Teaching, research, and service have provided the means by which the university has translated its philosophical goals into practical realities. Through classroom teaching, the collective wisdom of mankind has been transmitted to generations of students; through research, new areas of knowledge have been explored; and through service, the benefits of knowledge, both old and new, have been passed on to the citizen in such forms as better health, better laws, and a richer life.

Throughout its history, the university has maintained an educational program of the highest integrity as the base for all its activities and the foundation upon which a superstructure of professional, semi-professional, and graduate education has been erected. The university is a member of the Association of American Universities, an organization composed of 41 of the outstanding institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada.

In many phases of higher education, SUI has been a recognized leader. It was one of the first state universities to admit women students on an equal basis with men. It was an early leader in the general education movement, with its broad emphasis on the liberal arts. It pioneered in the idea that a novel, poem, or painting could be as worthy of an advanced degree as even the most scholarly thesis. The SUI School of Religion, a unique experiment in inter-faith cooperation, was one of the first such departments founded at a tax-supported public university, and to this day is the only such school to grant the Ph.D. in religion.

Teaching and research functions have been carefully integrated to achieve the greatest efficiency in the teaching and learning processes. Balanced living, with proper attention to pleasant housing, maintenance of good health, and recreation, cultural, and religious activities, has been provided.

The University Today

Today the State University of Iowa is marking the end of one important era in its history and stands at the threshold of another. During this biennium SUI's President Virgil M. Hancher will retire from office and thus conclude nearly a quarter-century of service to the university, the state, and higher education everywhere. Awaiting the university in the next few years is a sharp rise in enrollments, coming after a decade of steady gains.

During President Hancher's tenure SUI has made great strides and has seen many changes. In this current period marked by the inevitable encroachment of the world at large on the world of Iowa, the university has become an important architect of the state's growing spirit and outlook. The university service agencies established in recent years reflect this positive evolution: the bureau of business and economic research, the bureau of labor and management, the institute of public affairs, the agricultural law center, the institute of agricultural medicine, and others are strongly oriented to the Iowa scene.

National and international recognition have come to the university for some of the outstanding research carried on within its departments. The College of Medicine, to mention one example, has been instrumental in research on such diverse problems as the nervous disorder known as "Parkinson's Disease" and the tropical disease, Schistosomiasis. The accomplishments of SUI physicists in satellite instrumentation and space radiation research are well known. In recent years, the university has further consolidated its position as one of the major test scoring and reporting centers of the world with the addition of powerful computer facilities and the development of special high-speed test scoring machines. In association with the university, the American College Testing Program was begun, providing a nation-wide program of college entrance examinations for high school seniors.

As society has grown progressively more complex, so the university has grown in its efforts to remain relevant to changing times and changing needs. Today the university is organized into ten colleges, four schools, and several bureaus and institutes related to one or more of the colleges. In response to Iowa's health needs, the university offers the facilities of its medical center, which embraces four hospital units—the university general hospital, children's hospital, psychopathic hospital, and hospital school for severely handicapped children—and the state bacteriological laboratory.

Since 1940, research grants to SUI have multiplied five times. In total volume of annual accounting transactions, the university has grown from an eight million dollar enterprise in 1940 to a near 50 million dollar enterprise today.

While the university is justifiably proud of those achievements of its faculty which have drawn international notice and praise, it is mindful of the fact that the search for new knowledge is seldom spectacular in itself and only occasionally will public attention be drawn to the hundreds of university researchers who quietly seek to add to man's store of useful information, or the hundreds of dedicated teachers who daily seek to make the challenge of learning a classroom reality. These activities comprise the core of university life and provide the ultimate measure of an institution's worth.

Enrollment

The university's growth has proceeded apace with the general upward trend of college enrollment. The enrollment of 1,542 different campus students of college grade in 1900-01 rose to 9,283 in 1940-41, 40 years later.

During World War II, in 1943-44, the total enrollment of college grade students went down to a low of 4,891. Then came the overwhelming influx of veteran students. Just four years later, 1948-49, the total enrollment had risen to 13,354 for the year. This pattern is comparable to the experience of other large universities.

The enrollments in higher educational institutions fell away sharply beginning in 1950, due to the decline in the World War II veterans' enrollment of about 40 per cent from the post-war peak and because of the Korean conflict.

However, since 1953 the enrollment at the university has increased steadily and in the fall of 1962 an all-time high for one semester of 12,114 students was reached. Barring a major depression or war, enrollments are expected to continue to rise through the years for which predictions can now be made. A conservative estimate places the university's enrollment at 18,500 by the fall of 1970. The forecasts are based on the increased birth rate of the 1940's and 1950's and the fact that a greater percentage of college-age persons in the population now attend college.

Following is the annual record of enrollment at the State University of Iowa since 1940:

Year	Enrollment November 1	June to June on Campus of College Grade	All Types, Including Correspondence and Ex- cluding Conferences and Short Courses
1940-1941	6,667	9,283	10,820

The total of 12,114 students enrolled in the first semester of 1962-63 was distributed among the university's colleges as follows: business administration, 401; dentistry, 261; engineering, 515; graduate, 2,721; law, 350; liberal arts, 6,853; medicine, 441; nursing, 414; pharmacy, 158.

The university usually enrolls from 21 to 23 per cent of the four-year college enrollment in the State of Iowa, and grants about 30 per cent of all the degrees granted by Iowa colleges. The university is a partner with the four-year colleges and junior colleges of Iowa in the field of general education.

Beyond that level the university provides the professional and specialized programs which offer opportunities for further study at an advanced level for graduates of junior colleges and four-year colleges, as well as for her own students.

Public Service

Service to the state stems naturally from the university's teaching and research functions. In addition to the variety of help and service provided by SUI's colleges and departments in the course of carrying out their day-to-day work, the university has established specialized teaching and research units.

Some of the principal SUI service units are: the university hospitals, psychopathic hospital, the hospital school for severely handicapped children, the state bacteriological laboratory and other affiliated organizations in the medical field; the institute of child behavior and development; the extension division with its bureaus of audio-visual instruction and correspondence study; the bureau of business and economic research; the bureau of labor and management; the news and information service; the institute of hydraulic research; the institute of public affairs; the Iowa center for continuation study; the institute of gerontology; the institute of agricultural medicine; and the Iowa urban community research center.

Courses of Study

A minimum of four academic years of study is required for a bacca-laureate degree from the College of Liberal Arts with its affiliated schools, and the same time is required for a bachelor's degree from the College of Business Administration. Engineering requires a minimum of four and one-half years and Pharmacy requires five, including one pre-pharmacy year.

Six years of study at the minimum, two in pre-professional and four in professional study, are required for a degree from the College of Dentistry. Law requires three and one-half years beyond the three years of liberal arts, while at least seven years are necessary, three in premedical and four in medical study, for the degree of Doctor of Medicine. A four-year course in nursing leads to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing. A one-year course for practical nurses is offered by the College of Nursing. Graduate work in nursing is available through the Graduate College and the College of Nursing.

Advanced degrees from the Graduate College are earned under approved programs of study and research, with a minimum of one year required for a master's degree and three years at the graduate level for the doctorate.

The various courses of study and the fields of specialization and the degrees conferred upon graduation are as follows:

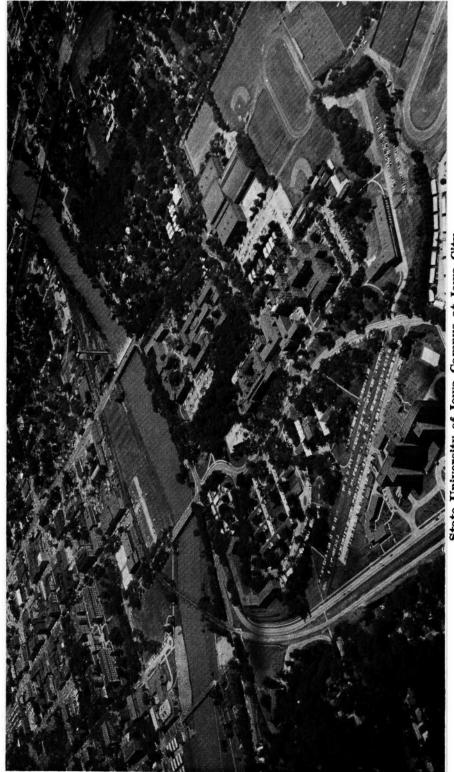

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION-Accounting, economics, labor and management, marketing, office management and business education, and general business majors lead to the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration. Graduate work through the Ph.D. is offered.

DENTISTRY—Four-year course, in addition to two years of pre-dental study in the College of Liberal Arts, leading to the degree Doctor of Dental Surgery. Graduate work leading to the degree of master of science from the Graduate College is available in several specialties. A course for the training of women in dental hygiene is offered.

EDUCATION-Courses for the professional preparation of undergraduate level teachers are integrated with the curricula of the Colleges of Liberal Arts and Business Administration and lead to degrees in those colleges. Graduate programs for teachers, principals, supervisors, superintendents, directors of student teaching, and research and teaching positions in higher education lead to the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in the Graduate College.

ENGINEERING—Chemical, civil, electrical, industrial and management. and mechanical engineering leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in the designated curriculum. The bachelor's degree is typically attained in five years. In each curriculum certain specialized options may be elected: for example, aeronautical, hydraulic, sanitary, or structural. Considerable emphasis is placed on graduate work leading to the Master of Science and Ph.D. degrees in sanitary engineering and mechanics and hydraulics, as well as in the primary branches: chemical, civil, electrical, industrial and management, and mechanical.

LIBERAL ARTS—Actuarial science, American civilization, art, astronomy, biochemistry, botany, chemistry, child welfare, Chinese, classics, comparative literature, economics, education, English, European literature and thought, geography, geology, German, Greek, history, home economics, hygiene, journalism, Latin, library education, mathematics, medical technology, microbiology, museum training, music, occupational therapy, oriental studies, philosophy, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, religion, romance languages (French, Spanish, Italian), Russian, social science, social work, sociology and anthropology, speech and dramatic art, speech pathology and audiology, and zoology leading to the degree Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Fine Arts or to advanced degrees through the Doctor of Philosophy.

Specialized courses in departments of botany, chemistry, general science, geography, physical education for men, physical education for women, psychology, sociology and anthropology, speech pathology and audiology, and zoology lead to the degree Bachelor of Science.

Students who select courses to prepare for dentistry, law, and medicine may study pre-professional subjects in the College of Liberal Arts for the required number of years and then enter the professional college. If all specific requirements for the bachelor's degree are included in the pre-professional program and the first year of professional study is completed successfully, the student may receive a bachelor's degree from the College of Liberal Arts, since the college will give credit for one year of professional work in lieu of the fourth year necessary for a bachelor's degree.

SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS—Combines departments of art, music, and dramatic art. Students enroll in the College of Liberal Arts or the Graduate College and may be candidates for one of the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Master of Arts, Master of Fine Arts, or Doctor of Philosophy.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM—Offers study sequences through the College of Liberal Arts in community journalism, editorial journalism, radiotelevision journalism, advertising, magazine journalism, pictorial journalism, high school journalism teaching, and public relations. Offers a certificate of journalism on the basis of scholarship and concentration in the field, and programs for the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in mass communications.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION—In cooperation with the College of Liberal Arts offers a field of concentration leading to Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. It is inter-faith in nature and Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant professorships are maintained by the respective faiths.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK—Offers a two-year graduate curriculum as preparation for social work. Some undergraduate subjects recommended as preparation for professional training are given.

LAW—Three and one-half academic year course, in addition to three years of pre-law study in the College of Liberal Arts, leading to the degree LL.B. or J.D.

MEDICINE—Four-year course, in addition to at least three years of pre-medical study in the College of Liberal Arts, leading to the degree Doctor of Medicine. The College of Medicine offers postgraduate work leading to advanced degrees in the Graduate College. Special training is also offered in physical therapy and occupational therapy. At frequent intervals each year, the College of Medicine also offers postgraduate conferences designed to provide new and refresher information for practitioners in the State of Iowa

NURSING—The degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing is offered at the conclusion of the four-year program, of which the first year is completed in the College of Liberal Arts. Work is offered through the Graduate College toward the Master's degree in Nursing. A one-year course for practical nurses is offered.

PHARMACY—Five-year course, leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy, including unique training in hospital pharmacy. Advanced work through the Ph.D. is also offered.

GRADUATE—Opportunity for study at the graduate level is available in all fields listed above at this time. It is also available in the fields of child welfare, hospital and health administration, and nuclear science and technology. Such study leads to the degrees Master of Arts, Master of Business Education, Master of Fine Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy.

CORRESPONDENCE STUDY—Courses at the college level are offered in many of the departments through the extension division for students who cannot be in residence but wish to prepare themselves for more effective work in their respective occupations, or who wish to continue work toward degrees while out of residence.

The Campus

Old Capitol, traditional symbol of the State University of Iowa, stands in the center of SUI's 1,336 acres. This building, beautiful in its pioneer simplicity, was the last capitol of the Iowa Territory and the first capitol of the State of Iowa. A total of 113 buildings and facilities on the campus comprise a physical plant valued today at approximately $80,330,000. As of June 30, 1962, tax funds had provided 47 per cent of the building construction costs, gifts had provided 15 per cent, and earnings from self-liquidating facilities had provided 38 per cent.

Following substantial appropriations for capital improvements by the Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth Iowa General Assemblies, a number of construction projects got under way at the university. The Fifty-eighth General Assembly appropriated $6,190,000 for building purposes, and the Fifty-ninth appropriated $10,180,000. At the close of 1962, buildings which had recently been completed included the Law Center, Emotionally Disturbed Children's Facilities, Library Addition, Chemistry Addition, Pharmacy Building, and Psychopathic Hospital Addition. Buildings in progress included the Accelerator Building, Engineering Addition, Chemistry Auditorium Addition, Minimal Care Unit and Medical Research Wing at University Hospitals, Mentally Retarded Children's Center, and the Water Treatment Plant. Buildings in the planning stage included the Physics and Mathematics Building, Business Administration Building, and the Zoology Addition. Budgets for these projects totaled more than $17,500,000, including nearly $3,500,000 in matching grants from federal and other sources.

In addition, utility projects, remodeling and a number of repair, replacement, and alterations projects have been carried out or are in progress.

Two major buildings which do not involve state funds were also in the construction stage, and a third was being planned. Burge Hall addition, a women's residence hall, will provide dormitory facilities for 474 women students and is budgeted for $1,840,000. A three-unit addition to the Iowa Memorial Union, along with an adjacent parking ramp, will provide newer and larger kitchen and dining facilities, new facilities for student activities, and a 110-room guest house available for the use of visiting parents and friends of SUI students, returning alumni, visiting dignitaries, and participants in short courses, conferences and workshops. This facility is budgeted at $4.2 million. In the planning stage is a 10-story addition to Currier Hall, women's dormitory, with a budget of $2.5 million and facilities for 563 students.

In anticipation of the university's continuing building needs, the Sixtieth Iowa General Assembly has provided nearly $7.5 million for capital improvements in the 1963-65 biennium. Allocations for new construction projects include: $640,000 for an addition to University Library; $2 million for a General Classroom and Faculty Office Building; $750,000 for a Psychology Addition; $750,000 for a Speech Pathology Building, and $600,000 for an addition to the Art Building. Federal matching grants are expected for the psychology and speech pathology projects, bringing the value of these facilities to approximately $1.5 million each. Private gifts of some $500,000 are expected to boost the Art Building fund to $1.1 million.

Art Program Brings Fame

In this modern technological age, research in the sciences attracts attention from the public at large. While the State University of Iowa maintains strong programs of scientific research and teaching, it has not done so at the neglect of other equally important areas of human life, such as the arts and the humanities. As a division of SUI's School of Fine Arts, the department of art is an excellent example of the university's influence on the developing cultural life of Iowa.

From modest beginnings in the early days, art instruction has grown steadily. Today, SUI possesses an art department which is one of the leaders in the United States. In recent years, it has ranked at or near the top among American universities in the number of students enrolled in its graduate art program. It pioneered in combining courses in art history and appreciation with studio work, and brought in leading professional artists and sculptors as teachers. Breaking with the traditional academic practice, the university does not insist that these men and women possess academic degrees, only that they demonstrate professional excellence. And the university was one of the first to accept creative art for a thesis in granting advanced degrees.

As a result of these progressive policies, the university's department of art offers a dynamic program which has had a wide inflence in art education throughout the country. Such recognized artists as Grant Wood, Fletcher Martin, Emil Ganso, Jean Charlot, Donald Mattison, Lucille Blanche, Humbert Albrizio, James Lechay, Stuart Edie, Eugene Ludins, Byron Burford, and many others have been regular members of the SUI art faculty. Under the leadership of Mauricio Lasansky, whose work in intaglio is internationally known, the university has become a recognized center of print-making in the United States.

The excellence of this studio program is matched by the department's equally strong offerings in art history and criticism. Seven art historians, including Dr. Frank Seiberling, head of the department of art, compose one of the large scholarly staffs currently assembled in the university art field. A few examples of recent faculty activities illustrate the range of work undertaken by these scholars. Associate Professor Chu Tsing Li, a specialist in oriental art who has published numerous articles in his field, has been awarded a grant from the American Council of Learned Societies, under highly competitive conditions, for a year of study in the Far East. This grant follows a previous award from the Ford Foundation under which he spent a year at Harvard and Princeton. Associate Professor Wallace Tomasini has completed a large, one-volume study of the pre-national Visigothic coins, which for the first time applies to the dating of ancient coins the methods of stylistic analysis. Associate Professor Charles D. Cuttler was recently honored with the assignment of contributing a volume to the Corpus of 15th and 16th Century Flemish Painting, under the editorship of Dr. Paul Cormans of Brussels, Belgium. A new member of the staff, Associate Professor Robert Alexander, is the department's architectural historian. He specializes in 19th century American architecture and also teaches in the modern field. Dr. Alexander has published a number of articles on Maximilian Godefroy, an architect active around Baltimore in the early 19th century.

In recognition that SUI is a center of proven support for the arts and of proven success in this field, a valuable private collection has been offered to the university contingent upon enlarged gallery facilities. The collection, owned by Owen and Leone Elliott of Cedar Rapids, includes works of such noted artists as Picasso, Braque, Matisse, Gauguin,

Presently, the department maintains excellent teaching facilities, including a large, well-equipped sculpture studio, three painting studios, a large ceramics plant, design studios, and other facilities. There is an art library containing more than 18,000 volumes, a central exhibition gallery, an auditorium, a lecture and a seminar room. As teaching and learning aids, the department has about 60,000 slides on file.

Iowa State University of Science and Technology

The recent observance of the centennial year of the founding of the land-grant college system provided an opportunity to review the origins and purposes of the land-grant colleges and universities and to look ahead to the new challenges they will have to meet.

President J. H. Hilton

Iowa was the first state to accept the provisions of the Morrill Act, signed into law by President Abraham Lincoln on July 2, 1862. The Morrill Act provided for federal lands to be sold in each state for endowment of colleges that would broaden educational opportunity for the nation's youth by offering studies in agriculture and the mechanic arts in addition to the sciences and classical studies. Iowa applied the Morrill Act to its proposed State Agricultural College and Model Farm—now Iowa State University.

The land-grant institutions were founded to meet the practical needs of a frontier society for education in agriculture and industry. During the first 100 years, the functions of the land-grant schools changed and expanded as the needs of society changed and expanded.

Iowa State is proud of the contributions it made to the first century of land-grant history. It was the first to admit women from the beginning. It was a pioneer in home economics and today has the largest program in this area to be found anywhere in the world.

Iowa State has the oldest school of veterinary medicine in existence at a state institution. In engineering Iowa State was the first (with Illinois) to organize its research into an engineering experiment station, and it developed one of the large and fine engineering schools of the nation—maintaining the largest undergraduate enrollment of any engineering college west of the Mississippi River.

Iowa State took the lead in teaching and research in agriculture. It developed the pattern of extension service in agriculture and home economics now used throughout the nation. It began early to work with farm youth in the program that later became the 4-H.

In science it achieved wide fame in the physical and biological sciences. During World War II, Iowa State scientists solved some key problems in the production of uranium for defense uses. After the war the United States Atomic Energy Commission located a major laboratory on the campus as a part of the Iowa State Institute for Atomic Research.

Iowa State's programs in technical journalism, agricultural engineering, dairy industry and forestry were educational innovations. In more recent years the statistical laboratory, WOI radio and television stations and the biomedical electronics program were founded in the pioneering tradition.

In part through the contributions of the land-grant institutions, America has built the greatest agricultural and industrial complex of any nation in the world. Today these institutions are large, multipurpose institutions providing services to society never dreamed of a century ago. And the challenges facing them grow increasingly complex and vast.

The task of educational institutions is greatly influenced at present by three forces: ever-expanding enrollments, the explosion of knowledge and international problems.

Each enrollment period at Iowa State is now bringing a record number of students to the campus. In the fall of 1961, enrollment was 10,413, the highest since 1948 when World War II veterans contributed to a record student body. In the fall of 1962, another high was established when 10.887 students enrolled.

Projection of enrollment trends indicates that record numbers will seek to enroll at Iowa State for some years to come.

This has required additional staff and buildings to accommodate the enlarging student body. Even more important is the challenge of providing students with an education adequate for the exceptional demands of the modern world. Great reservoirs of knowledge are being developed at a fantastic rate. This explosion of knowledge, largely in the field of science and technology which is the core of Iowa State's programs, requires that institutions make this new information available to their students. To do so, Iowa State continually updates its course offerings, dropping many old areas of training and moving into these new areas of knowledge.

Developments in transportation and communications, the emergence of new nations, and the political, social and economic forces now at work have thrust Americans into international affairs as never before. More and more students come from foreign lands to study at Iowa State, more Iowa State students undertake careers of an international nature, and the university is called upon with increasing frequency to supply staff members for educational and developmental projects in other countries.

Iowa State is making a maximum effort to fulfill its responsibilities in each of these areas—increasing enrollment, explosion of knowledge and international matters.

During 1962 and 1963 it has been engaged in the most extensive building and campus improvement program in history. Among the projects recently completed or in progress are the following:

A 40-room Classroom Building, incorporating the newest methods of instruction techniques and equipment in a modern languages laboratory, developmental reading laboratory, and classrooms equipped with closed-circuit television.

An Instrumentation Research Laboratory for the biomedical electronics program that combines biological and electronics knowledge to improve instruments for measuring biological changes and utilizing engineering techniques in studying life processes.

A Food Preservation and Sanitation Laboratory for the study of improved methods of food preservation, sanitation and processing.

Quarters for a Computer Center, including a new high-speed IBM 7074-1401 computer and all other computational facilities of the university.

An Engineering Building to house nuclear engineering, chemical engineering and engineering science programs.

A Men's Physical Education Building that will provide accommodation particularly for Iowa State's extensive intramural athletic program.

A Communications Building for radio and television activities.

A Veterinary Isolation Building for the study of animal diseases at the Veterinary Medical Research Institute,

A new Agronomy and Agricultural Engineering Research Farm.

Additions to the existing buildings that provide shops for industrial education classes, and classrooms and laboratories for the child development and elementary education program.

An Animal Industries Building to be used for animal science, poultry science and dairy science.

A Research Reactor Facility of the Ames Laboratory, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, which will greatly enhance research and graduate programs.

An extensive addition to the Chemistry Building.

An addition to Helser Hall, men's residence hall, and a Graduate residence hall.

A substantial portion of this program was accomplished without the use of state funds.

To keep pace with the times, many changes have been effected in course offerings and content. A Department of Metallurgy has been established, offering both undergraduate and graduate programs. The Child Development Department now prepares students for certification as elementary teachers in Iowa to relieve the state's critical shortage of grade-school teachers. Summer school offerings have been expanded to accommodate large numbers of students who wish to accelerate their education or undertake special work in the summer months.

The honors program, which provides an opportunity for the outstanding student to pursue an individualized study program, continues to attract the superior student in increasing numbers. The international service program has been broadened to better prepare students for careers of an international nature.

Iowa State's involvement in international education was increased with the establishment of technical assistance programs in Peru and Uruguay. The College of Agriculture is providing agricultural specialists to these countries under contract with the Agency for International Development. The program of the College of Home Economics with Baroda University in India, sponsored by the Ford Foundation, continues. It was begun in 1960 to strengthen home economics teaching and research in India.

The international nature of much of today's education in no way diminishes the university's service to the state.

Iowa State's staff and facilities were factors in the location of the AEC's Ames Laboratory and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Animal Disease Laboratory in Ames. Similarly, the university's resources in the sciences, engineering and statistics are attractive to research-oriented industries.

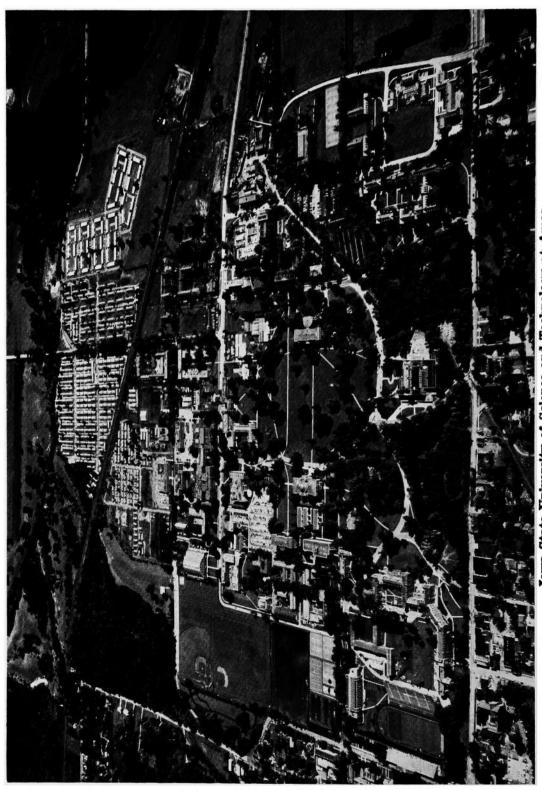

The Technical Institute, which since its founding in 1960 has produced much-needed technicians in construction, electrical and mechanical fields, began a program in chemical industries technology in 1963. All the institute curricula are two-year programs, designed to produce men with the technical skills needed by industry.

The Engineering Experiment Station has recently established affiliate research programs in solid-state electronics and in electric power. Under these programs industry will provide financial support for research at Iowa State and will benefit directly from the results.

The Center for Agricultural and Economic Adjustment and the Cooperative Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics perform important services in Iowa's rapidly changing economic and social structures. Engineering Extension is finding additional responsibilities in the development of the industrial activity of the state.

The university continues to serve Iowa in the three areas of resident undergraduate and graduate instruction, research and statewide service.

The following curricula, leading to the degree Bachelor of Science, are now offered:

AGRICULTURE—Agricultural business (with options in farm management, marketing management, agricultural economics, public service and administration), agricultural education, agricultural engineering, agricultural journalism, agronomy (with options in production and technology, science, industry), animal science (with options in production, science, industry), dairy science (with options in production, science, industry), dairy industry (with options in technology, science, business), entomology, farm operation, fish and wildlife management, food technology (with options in science, business), forestry (with options in forest management, forest products), horticulture, industrial education (with options in teaching, industry), landscape architecture (with option in urban planning), plant pathology, poultry science (with options in production, science, industry), rural sociology.

ENGINEERING—Aerospace engineering, agricultural engineering, ceramic engineering, chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering, engineering operations, engineering science, industrial engineering, mechanical engineering.

HOME ECONOMICS—Applied art (with majors in general applied art and crafts, art education, advertising design, interior design), child development (with major in child development and related science), child development—elementary education, food and nutrition (with majors in community nutrition, dietetics, food science, food and nutrition and related science), home economics education, home economics for general education, home economics journalism, home management, household equipment, institution management (with majors in college food and housing administration, school food service, restaurant management), textiles and clothing (with majors in merchandising, clothing, textiles, textiles and clothing design, textiles and clothing and related science), physical education for women.

SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES—Bacteriology, biochemistry, biophysics, botany, chemistry, distributed studies, economics, English and speech, genetics, geology, government, history, industrial administration, mathematics, metallurgy, modern languages, naval science, physical education for men, physical education for women, physics, psychology, sociology, statistics, science journalism, zoology. (Also special programs in preparation for human medicine and preparation for veterinary medicine.)

In addition, the university offers studies leading to the degrees Bachelor of Architecture and Bachelor of Architectural Engineering (five-year programs) and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (six-year program), and offers graduate courses leading to the degrees of Master of Science, Master of Vocational Education, Master of Engineering, Master of Landscape Architecture, and Doctor of Philosophy.

Research Program

Research at the university is organized within six units, each of which has a responsibility in a particular area:

THE IOWA AGRICULTURAL AND HOME ECONOMICS EXPERIMENT STATION conducts research on the campus at Ames and at farms near Ames and Ankeny, as well as in outlying farms and experimental plots in major soil areas of the state.

THE IOWA ENGINEERING EXPERIMENT STATION has as its objectives to foster and develop the industries of Iowa through engineering research, to aid in the development of raw materials and natural resources of the state, to increase utilization of agricultural by-products, and to aid in the solution of engineering problems for industry and for the state and local government.

THE INDUSTRIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH INSTITUTE provides fundamental facts and principles which underlie the successful solution of agricultural and industrial problems of Iowa.

THE INSTITUTE FOR ATOMIC RESEARCH includes the Ames Laboratory of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, where basic research is conducted in the field of nuclear energy.

THE STATISTICAL LABORATORY is a cooperative project with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, and has developed techniques of great assistance to modern research.

THE VETERINARY MEDICAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE works on problems of controlling or eradicating disease in food-producing animals.

Extension Services

THE COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE IN AGRICULTURE AND HOME ECONOMICS is part of a nationwide extension service operating through the United States Department of Agriculture. In addition to 420 professional extension workers, nearly 50,000 volunteers each year assist in carrying extension activities to every county in Iowa. In a single year information from the Extension Service results in changed practices on more than 100,000 Iowa farms and 150,000 homes. Recent years have brought increasing educational activities with nonfarm firms and organizations, particularly those which provide services to Iowa farmers and those which process the farm products of the state.

ENGINEERING EXTENSION operates in the fields of public service, industry, technology and engineering. It conducts vocational-educational training for persons in semitechnical or technical positions for which an engineering degree is not required. It carries on professional education for engineers, executives and supervisory personnel of industry. It gives specific advisory and information assistance to Iowa industries, municipalities, associations and citizens.

In addition, the university maintains public services such as its radio and television stations, which devote large portions of their programming to education and public service features, and its largely self-supporting seed testing laboratory and soil testing laboratory.

A further public service is provided by the 100 or more special short courses and conferences held on campus each year.

Institute for Atomic Research

The unusual services of Iowa State scientists, and especially of Dr. F. H. Spedding, in World War II led to the creation of the Institute for Atomic Research, which operates the Ames Laboratory of the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

The institute and the laboratory currently employ approximately 800 persons on the campus of the university. Facilities for operations have been erected at a cost of more than $15 million with most of the funds coming from the Atomic Energy Commission. Dr. Spedding serves as director of the institute and of the laboratory.

Although a new era in science began in 1939 with discovery of nuclear fission, it was not until the advent of World War II that an all-out effort in the development of atomic energy was begun by the federal government as part of the national defense effort.

Early in 1942 the plutonium project was established at the University of Chicago. Dr. Spedding was invited to set up and direct the chemical program which would be needed to accompany the program in physics. Dividing his time between Ames and Chicago, Dr. Spedding enlisted the aid of colleagues on campus in setting up a small laboratory at Iowa State. The laboratory at Ames was to carry the bulk of the metallurgical research and would also conduct fundamental studies of certain phases of the chemistry of plutonium and other materials of importance in the development of machines for the release of atomic energy.

The most pressing of many problems facing the group was the preparation of large amounts of pure uranium metal. At this time metallic uranium was a laboratory curiosity costing about a thousand dollars a pound.

The problems of preparation of the pure metal and of melting and casting it were solved by Dr. Spedding and his Ames group. An old campus building served as a production plant to help supply the much-needed uranium for reactors at Chicago, Ill., Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash.

During a very crucial period of the war, the major uranium metal needs of the American atomic effort depended upon metal processing at Ames. More than 2 million pounds were produced.

This pilot project also served to demonstrate the then little-understood process of producing uranium metal. Trips to the laboratory were frequent, and the engineers who came left with vital information on plant design—information unobtainable elsewhere. The Ames process supplanted all others, which even at their cheapest point were 20 times more expensive.

Other research developments at Ames played highly important if somewhat less spectacular roles in the national defense program.

Following the war, the Institute for Atomic Research was formally organized in 1947 and the Ames Laboratory of the AEC officially located on the Iowa State campus.

Since then significant contributions to the fields of chemistry, physics, metallurgy, and engineering have continued to come from the laboratories of the institute.

Many of these have been in the development of new materials for the atomic energy program and determination of the properties of these materials. Processes for obtaining a number of metals generally known as the "rare earths" have been devised. These processes have been developed to the point where they have been turned over to industry. Research on the rare earths has resulted in important basic information on the thermodynamic, magnetic and electrical properties of the metals and their salts.

A large number of other research projects, including large-scale production of thorium and yttrium, have been completed.

Iowa State has conferred the Ph.D. degree on more than 350 students who have received research experience at the institute as part of their graduate study. The university has granted upward of 325 M.S. degrees for which research requirements have been met through institute programs. Many of these scientists now hold important positions at other atomic research laboratories.

A new $4.6 million research reactor was completed and put into operation during 1963. This addition to the Ames Laboratory is about two miles from the campus.

State College of Iowa

(Formerly Iowa State Teachers College)

Cedar Falls

The State of Iowa maintains at Cedar Falls an institution of higher education whose primary responsibility is the preparation of teachers and other educational personnel for schools, colleges, and universities, and the provision of consultative and other services, including experimentation with instructional content, method and materials, for the improvement of the educational program of the state.

The Fifty-Ninth General Assembly authorized the college at Cedar Falls, effective July 5, 1961, to broaden its function by offering "programs of instruction in the liberal and vocational arts and such other educational programs as the State Board of Regents may from time to time approve." The same General Assembly also approved the changing of the name of the institution to State College of Iowa as of July 5, 1961.

The institution had its origin in an act of the Sixteenth General Assembly creating the Iowa State Normal School; instruction began on Sept. 6, 1876. In 1904 the institution was authorized to offer a four-year curriculum and the bachelor's degree. In 1909 the name of the institution was changed to the Iowa State Teachers College. In 1952 the State Board of Education (now the State Board of Regents) approved a graduate curriculum leading to a Master of Arts in Education degree, and in 1960, the Board of Regents authorized the addition of a second year of graduate work leading to a Specialist in Education (Ed.S.) degree.

The enrollment of 4,570 students during the fall semester of 1962 represents an increase of 950 students in the last two years and an equally large increase is expected in 1963 and 1964. Ordinarily, 30 per cent to 35 per cent of the undergraduate students plan to become elementary teachers; 50 per cent to 55 per cent, secondary teachers; 10 per cent specialists in such areas as teachers of art or music and school librarians; only 5 per cent to 8 per cent plan for careers other than in the field of education. Enrollment of graduate students amounts to 4 per cent to 6 per cent of the total enrollment during the academic year but increases to approximately 35 per cent during the summer session. From 80 per cent to 85 per cent of each year's teacher-education graduates begin to teach within a short time after graduation; the vast majority teach in Iowa public schools.

The State College of Iowa is primarily a residential college; nearly one-half of the men students and five-sixths of the women live on campus. Although there are fraternities and sororities, these organizations are not permitted to maintain houses. Extra-curricular activities of both the recreational and educational types are available at all seasons of the year.

Undergraduate Education

Most of the students plan to become teachers, and for these the college offers three curricula: elementary teaching (kindergarten through grade six), junior high school teaching (grades seven, eight and nine), high school and special area teaching in the following fields: art, business education, English, foreign languages (French, Spanish, German, and Latin), home economics, industrial arts, mathematics, music, physical education (for both men and women), physical science, biological science, safety education, social science, speech and speech correction, and school librarianship.

Each undergraduate curriculum for the education of teachers has three parts: (a) the general education program, designed to improve the student as a person and as a citizen; (b) work in areas of specialization, designed to give depth of understanding in one or more subject-matter areas necessary for success as a teacher, and (c) the professional education program designed to assist the prospective teacher in developing knowledge of the teaching-learning process, of the school as a social institution, and of materials and methods of instruction, as well as skill in actual teaching in the public schools.

The general education program consists of a common core of courses, amounting to approximately three-eighths of the four-year program with work in social science, science and mathematics, the humanities, and communication skills.

The professional education program, amounting to about one-sixth of the four-year program for prospective high school teachers and about one-fourth for those who plan to teach at the elementary or junior high school level, provides for study and practical experiences in the art of teaching and in the understanding of children and the modern school.

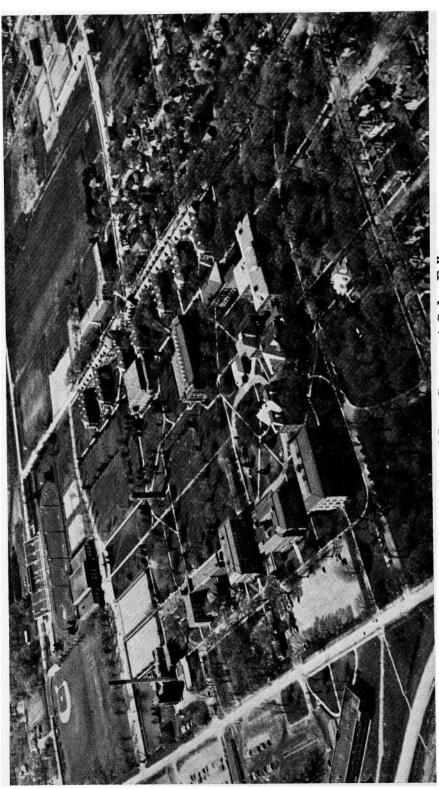

The college maintains the Malcolm Price Laboratory School primarily to provide opportunities for students to observe children in classroom situations and to see how good teachers handle specific teaching problems. The laboratory school enrolls some 800 students of the Cedar Falls community school system.

A curriculum laboratory containing instructional materials from all over the nation, as well as audio-visual aids, is widely used by students and teachers. A very limited number of students do their student teaching in the laboratory school. Most student teaching is done in affiliated public schools—Waterloo, Mason City, Fort Dodge, Newton, Charles City, and the Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School at Vinton.

The work in the area of specialization seeks to provide the depth in one or more fields deemed necessary for teaching in this subject at a specified level.

Undergraduate degree programs for those students who are not interested in teaching are available in the same general fields as for high school teachers: art, business, English, Spanish, French, German, physical science, biological science, mathematics, industrial arts, home economics, music, history, geography and social science, speech and physical education. The non-teaching curricula require the same general education program as the teaching curricula and a few additional courses to give greater academic breadth. Many of the non-teaching curricula require evidence of proficiency in a foreign language; specific course requirements in the area of specialization are frequently somewhat different from those required in teacher preparation programs.

(2) Graduate Education

Since 1952, the college has offered graduate work leading to the Master of Arts in Education degree. Curricula are available for elementary teachers and for secondary teachers of art, business education, English, mathematics, music, industrial arts, speech, science, and social science, and for such school administrative positions as superintendent, principal, supervisor and counselor.

Beginning with the summer of 1960, a second year of graduate work leading to the Specialist in Education degree has been offered. The following curricula have been approved by the State Board of Regents: school superintendents, high school and elementary principals and supervisors, and guidance and counseling.

(3) In-Service Education

The college feels that it has a definite responsibility to assist school administrators and teachers throughout the state with instructional and administrative problems. To do this, many conferences are held on the campus each year; some thirty pamphlets, monographs, and books have been published and are distributed at cost; staff members serve as consultants at workshops and conferences; by radio and television a dozen programs are broadcast each week; and extension classes and correspondence study are made available to teachers in service. The college owns and operates an FM-radio station, the equipment for which was purchased from funds donated by alumni and friends of the college. The FM station is on the air four hours a day, five days a week.

Most significant is the program of consultant services to the schools of the state. Under this program, staff members are relieved of their regular departmental duties for a semester and are scheduled to visit schools which have asked for assistance. In addition to the aid given to the school system, this program provides an excellent opportunity for members of the college staff to keep in touch with the public schools.

Private Colleges and Universities

In addition to its three state institutions of higher learning, Iowa has a group of privately endowed colleges and universities which are material factors in making this state stand first in literacy and intelligence. There are few places in Iowa more than 40 to 50 miles distant from some institution of higher learning well fitted by curriculum and faculty to teach those things which lead to the higher and better life and provide the education that makes for culture and higher citizenship.

Private colleges of Iowa which offer four-year courses, or more, beyond high school, are the following, arranged alphabetically:

Briar Cliff College, Sioux City

Briar Cliff College, founded in 1930 and conducted by the Sisters of St. Francis of the Holy Family, Dubuque, is a fully accredited four-year Catholic liberal arts college for women. The campus covers 70 acres. With an enrollment approximating 625, this small college of distinction offers programs leading to B.A., B.S., and B.M. degrees with provision for advanced placement for especially well prepared freshmen and special guidance for gifted students. Sister Mary Jordan Dahm, O.S.F., is president.

Buena Vista College, Storm Lake

Buena Vista is a four-year, co-educational liberal arts college related to the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. It is a fully accredited member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Having a faculty and administration numbering 65 and a full-time student body of 660 with an evening and part-time enrollment of about 225 persons, the college offers majors and minors in biology, business administration, chemistry, elementary education, foreign languages, general science, English, health and physical education, history, mathematics, music, physics, religion and philosophy, social science, sociology, and speech. Minors also are offered in art and economics plus preparatory work for those seeking careers in medical technology and in secretarial science. The campus contains eight major buildings.

Antedated by an academy at Calliope and Fort Dodge, the college at Storm Lake was organized July 8, 1891, by a committee representing the Presbyteries of Fort Dodge and Sioux City. At its next meeting, the Synod of Iowa unanimously adopted Buena Vista College as its own. President since Feb. 1, 1961, is the Rev. Wendell Q. Halverson, D.D. Registrar is Mrs. Ardelle E. Bruns.

Central College, Pella

Central College, at Pella, was opened in 1853 as a Baptist institution. In 1916, the sponsorship was transferred to the Reformed Church in America. Accredited by the North Central Association and the Association of American Colleges, this four-year Christian liberal arts college now has 620 students from 21 states and eight foreign countries, representing 21 religious denominations. A faculty of 41 offers major work in art, biology, botany, chemistry, dramatics, economics and business administration, English, French, German, geography, history, home economics, Latin, mathematics, music, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, philosophy, sociology, speech and zoology, plus background courses in religion, social service, education (elementary and secondary), law, engineering and government service. A new library was dedicated in 1957 and an addition to the women's dormitory and a new dining hall were built during 1958. Two chemistry laboratories, an electronic learning center, book store and FM radio station were added in 1960 and 1961. A $339,000 men's dormitory was completed in the fall of 1962. President, Arend D. Lubber. Registrar, Mrs. Wilma Rempe.

Clarke College, Dubuque

Known formerly as Mount St. Joseph College, Clarke was renamed in 1929 to honor the foundress of the Sisters of Charity, B.V.M., who administer the college and who staff it with the assistance of sisters of other orders, priests, lay men and lay women. It is a college for women, with a faculty student ratio of 1-14. On its 70-acre campus on the bluffs of the Mississippi River, Clarke has eight large buildings. The 920 students come from 28 states and 14 foreign countries.

Fully accredited, Clarke holds membership in the American Association of University Women and in the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education. It offers majors in art, biology, chemistry, economics, English, French, history, home economics, Latin, mathematics, music, psychology, sociology, Spanish, speech and drama, and it prepares students for teaching.

Under Clarke's junior year abroad plan, students enroll at the University of Vienna, University of Madrid, or the University of Paris. Sister Mary Benedict, B.V.M., is president, and Sister Mary Francine, B.V.M., is registrar.

Coe College, Cedar Rapids

Coe College was founded in 1851 by the Rev. Williston Jones, who opened a school in his home for 16 young scholars. When incorporated in 1881, the college had acquired its present site as a gift from Daniel Coe. Leander Clark and Western Colleges were merged in 1919. Coeducational, and related to the Presbyterian Church, Coe is a liberal arts college, with faculty members selected from leading universities. On a foundation in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences, majors are offered in some twenty fields.

Coe has a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, belongs to the Associated Colleges of the Midwest, its chemistry department is accredited by the American Chemical Society. Its teacher education program is recognized by the state. Full-time enrollment is approximately 800, with an evening college of 350. Modern techniques of teaching include a language laboratory, independent study, and honors work.

Cornell College, Mount Vernon

Cornell College, Mount Vernon, founded in 1853, is a coeducational, liberal arts college with an enrollment of 825 students. Cornell has a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and six other national honor societies. An honors program and advanced standing for students of superior ability are recent additions to the college program. Although the college is related to the Methodist Church, it is non-sectarian in student body and staff. The campus consists of 29 buildings on a wooded hilltop.

The student-faculty ratio is 11 to 1, and over half the faculty have their doctorates. The college provides an opportunity to study in 22 different fields. Admission is selective, and the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Board is required of all applicants. A scholarship, grant-in-aid, and work program is provided for worthy students in need of financial assistance, and a generous loan program is available.

Drake University, Des Moines

Drake University was founded in Des Moines in 1881 by a group of civic leaders, educators, ministers and laymen of the Christian Church.

Drake was named after Governor Francis Marion Drake of Centerville. Drake is an independent, non-tax-supported university consisting of ten colleges: liberal arts, business administration, education, fine arts, pharmacy, journalism, law, Divinity, university (evening study) and the graduate division. The university grants eight undergraduate degrees, eight graduate degrees and two professional degrees. Drake has been on the approved list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools since that association was established in 1913. Special events at Drake each year include the famous Drake Relays; "The Messiah," which Drake has presented for more than 70 consecutive years; and numerous concerts, lectures, recitals, plays, and conferences. The campus is situated in northwest Des Moines. Twelve buildings of prize-winning contemporary design have been added to the campus since 1949. Dr. Henry G. Harmon has been president since 1941.

University of Dubuque, Dubuque

The University of Dubuque, now in its second century, was founded in 1852 by Adrian Van Vliet as a theological school. It now consists of both a college of liberal arts and a theological seminary. The college is one of 47 and the seminary one of seven such institutions in the United States affiliated with the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. Both are fully accredited institutions with separate student bodies sharing the same campus with separate facilities and separate faculties.

President of the university is Dr. Gaylord M. Couchman. Dr. Calvin Schnucker is dean of the seminary and Dr. Paul C. Davis is dean of the college of liberal arts. Prof. William Rozeboom serves as college registrar and Miss Margaret Saum as seminary registrar. The college enrollment is about 625 and the seminary regularly enrolls some 160 students.

The university attracts students from 20 foreign nations and from all parts of the United States. The seminary is nationally known for its pioneering efforts in town and country ministry.

Graceland College, Lamoni

Graceland College was founded in 1895 by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. From the beginning the college was intended to be a nonsectarian school where young people could receive a good education, coupled with standards of high Christian ideals. George N. Briggs became president in 1915 and the institution became an accredited junior college. In April of 1960, Graceland was accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as a baccalaureate degree granting institution. Curriculums are offered leading to a B.A. degree with majors in English, history, social studies, religion, mathematics, biological science, physical science, premedicine, medical technology, elementary education, physical education, business administration, business education and executive secretarial. An Associate in Arts degree is awarded to those completing two years. The 1962-63 student body of 888 represented 40 states and nine foreign nations. Oliver Houston is registrar, and Dr. Harvey H. Grice, president.

Grinnell College, Grinnell

Grinnell College was founded in 1846, the same year that Iowa became a state. Established as Iowa College at Davenport by the "Iowa Band" of young Congregational ministers, the college moved to Grinnell in 1859 to merge with Grinnell University, which had been founded in 1856. The two continued as Iowa College until 1909, when the present name was adopted.

Grinnell is a privately endowed, residential, coeducational liberal arts college. Its 1,175 students come from 42 states and several foreign countries; and the faculty numbers more than 100, of whom more than two-thirds hold the Ph.D. degree or its equivalent. Since 1955, the college has been headed by Dr. Howard R. Bowen, its seventh president. While emphasis is strongly placed on liberal arts, the curriculum provides preprofessional preparation for medicine, dentistry, law, engineering, theology, business, government service and teaching. On its 90-acre campus the college has more than 30 buildings, including a $1,200,000 library opened in 1959 and a $1,500,000 fine arts center opened in 1961.

Iowa Weslevan College, Mount Pleasant

Iowa Wesleyan College was first organized as the Mount Pleasant Literary Institute in 1842 and reorganized the following year as the Mount Pleasant Collegiate Institute. The college is the oldest degree-granting institution west of the Mississippi River, having a continuous history from the time it was founded. The college is Methodist Churchrelated. The name was changed to Iowa Wesleyan University in 1855, and to Iowa Wesleyan College in 1911.

Emphasis is on the liberal arts. Among principal offerings are music, science, religion, language, psychology and education. A Student Union and a Women's Residence Hall have recently been constructed, and a $1,250,000 Hall of Science was dedicated in 1961. Iowa Wesleyan is a coeducational liberal arts college with 697 full-time students and an additional 262 part-time and special students. The faculty numbers 46, of whom 40 per cent have earned Ph.D.s. Dr. John W. Henderson is president, and Harold A. Renwick, registrar.

The college has one of the largest private libraries in the state, over 126,000 volumes. Iowa's oldest college, Loras has an enrollment of 1,380 students.

A fully accredited liberal arts college, Loras has an instructional staff of 44 priests and 58 laymen. Majors are offered in 24 fields, and preprofessional programs in five. On the 50-acre campus are 13 buildings. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Dorance V. Foley is president, and Gerard B. Noonan is in charge of admissions.

Luther College, Decorah

Luther College, at Decorah, was founded in 1861 as a college for men, and became coeducational in 1936. It is a college of the American Lutheran Church. The historical record of Norwegian pioneers in Iowa and elsewhere in the United States is preserved in notable collections in Koren Library and in the Norwegian-American Historical Museum maintained by the college.

Marycrest College, Davenport

Marycrest College, founded 1939, is a fully accredited four-year liberal arts college for women, conducted by the Sisters of the Humility of Mary. Over 1,200 full-time and part-time students represent all regions of the United States and 17 foreign countries. Liberal arts courses, professional and pre-professional training are offered, including a four-year bachelor's degree program in nursing. Scholarships and college placement service are available. Close faculty-student association prevails, with coordinating seminars. The social calendar and co-curricular activities are coordinated with nearby St. Ambrose College for men.

Morningside College, Sioux City

Morningside College is a church-related liberal arts college founded by the Methodist Church in 1894 on the present campus which had been established as the University of the Northwest in 1889. In 1914, Charles City College was merged with Morningside and moved to Sioux City. Facilities include eleven buildings on a 23 acre suburban campus serving 1,237 students and 69 faculty members. The college is Christian in purpose and welcomes students of all denominations. Morningside enjoys highest accreditation and retains its essential character as a liberal arts college while offering professional training in business administration, teaching, and music. A wider range of pre-professional training is offered in such fields as engineering, law, medicine, nursing, and theology. President J. Richard Palmer has implemented a "Twelve Year Blueprint for Morningside College," now in its fifth year, to further strengthen the college in every area.

Mount Mercy College, Cedar Rapids

Mount Mercy College, a senior college for women, is conducted by the Sisters of Mercy at Cedar Rapids. It is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and is recognized by the Iowa State Department of Education for teacher certification at both the elementary and secondary levels. It is approved by the Council on Education of the American Medical Association for medical technology graduates. Its campus is located in a residential section of northeast Cedar Rapids, six minutes from the heart of the city. Mount Mercy confers the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees. Major fields of study are biology, business, English, French, history, home economics, mathematics, medical technology, music education, social science, social service, and Spanish. With the exception of medical technology, social science and social service, minors are offered in the above fields and in art, chemistry, elementary education, secondary education, music, philosophy, sociology, and speech-drama. President, Sister Mary Agnes, R.S.M.; registrar, Sister Mary Eleanor, R.S.M.

Northwestern College, Orange City

Founded as an academy by the Reformed Church in America in 1882, Northwestern developed into a fully accredited junior college in 1928. Since 1957, a program for a four-year bachelor's degree in teacher training at the elementary and secondary levels has been developed. Northwestern's adult education activities include evening school and summer school programs. As a church-related college, Northwestern stresses a Christian education in all curricular and co-curricular activities. Students during recent years come from a wide geographical area including several foreign nations. In the last few years several new buildings have been constructed on the expanding 35-acre campus.

College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery, Des Moines

The College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery, established in 1898, offers a four-year curriculum leading to the degree Doctor of Osteopathy. It is accredited by the bureau of professional education of the American Osteopathic Association. With the student body numbering 282, there were 65 graduates in 1962. Three years of college training are required for admission; a large proportion of students admitted are college graduates. Facilities include a five-story administrative and instructional building, a four-story clinical building and a three-story clinic hospital. Merlyn McLaughlin, Ph.D., is president.

Parsons College, Fairfield

Under the recent presidency of Millard G. Roberts, Parsons College has received recognition as the fastest-growing college in Mid-America.

During the summer of 1960, Parsons adopted the Trimester Plan, allowing teachers a semester's credit in a full college curriculum. Seventy-two per cent of its full-time faculty hold the earned doctorate.

The college was incorporated in 1875, after the estate of Lewis B. Parsons, a successful merchant of New York state, had provided an endowment of 3,560 acres. For 88 years, Parsons College has continued to offer a liberal arts education of high quality. Recently Parsons was ranked in 77th place as to the number of its graduates now listed in "Who's Who in America." The Presbyterian related school had an enrollment of 2,230 in the Fall Trimester of 1962.

PRIVATE JUNIOR COLLEGES IN IOWA

History of Iowa

By William J. Petersen

Superintendent, The State Historical Society of Iowa and Professor of Iowa History at the State University of Iowa

Long before the coming of the white man the ancestors of the Indian roamed the land that is now Iowa. Frequently referred to as Mound Builders, these shadowy inhabitants are best commemorated in the Effigy Mound National Park above McGregor. Dr. Charles R. Keyes, who served for 30 years as state archaeologist, identified at least six different prehistoric cultures—the Algonkian, Hopewell, Oneota, Mill Creek, Effigy Mound, and Glenwood. The Algonkian culture was found over nine-tenths of Iowa, while the other five were more localized—the Hopewell, Oneota, and Mound Builders being largely in eastern Iowa, the Glenwood in southwest Iowa and the Mill Creek in northwest Iowa. Evidence of their presence in Iowa is recorded in village sites, cave and rock shelters, shell heaps, mounds, cemeteries, trails, spirit places, rock carvings and paintings, stone dams or fish traps, flint and hematite quarries, boulder effigies, caches, workshops, and enclosures.

The Indian who roamed Iowa in historic times knew little or nothing about these ancient people. Almost a score of tribes belonging to three different linguistic stocks have been associated with the Iowa country since the advent of the white man. The Ioways, Winnebago, Osage, Oto, Missouri, Omaha, Ponca, Sisseton, and Wahpeton were tribes belonging to the Dakota or Siouan Linguistic Stock or Family. They are commonly referred to as Plains Indians. Their bitter enemies were the Woodland or canoe people—members of the Sauk, Fox, Mascoutin, Illinois, Chippewa (Ojibway), Miami, Ottawa, and Potowatomi tribes. These were members of the Algonquian Linguistic Stock or Family. The Iroquoian stock is only remotely associated with Iowa, being mainly responsible for driving other tribes from the Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana area west of the Mississippi into Iowa.

The French in Iowa

The written history of Iowa begins on June 17, 1673, when Joliet and Marquette and their five rugged voyageurs paddled out of the Wisconsin River and into the Mississippi opposite present-day McGregor. Eight days later, on June 25, Joliet and Marquette met the Illinois Indians near the mouth of the Iowa River. It was the first meeting between the white man and the Indians on Iowa soil.

The French lost no time in exploring the vast wilderness drained by the Mississippi and its tributaries. In 1680 LaSalle sent an expedition under Michel Aco to discover the headwaters of the Mississippi. Aco and his two companions, Father Hennepin and Antoine Auguel, were captured by the Sioux Indians above the mouth of the Wisconsin River but were later released and fled down the Mississippi. Another Frenchman, Nicholas Perrot, taught the Miami Indians how to mine lead in the Galena-Dubuque area and hunted buffalo with them in Iowa. Perrot was the first white man to meet and describe the Ioway Indians. Lahontan and LeSueur left records of their exploits, and William DesLisle drew an amazingly accurate map of Louisiana in 1718 showing the first river-to-river road across Iowa from the mouth of the Wisconsin to the Big Sioux River. DesLisle located Ioway Indian villages on Lake Okoboji and the Big Sioux. The expedition of Joseph Des Noyelles with 80 French soldiers and their Indian allies against the Sauk and Fox Indians ended in a pitched battle at the Raccoon Fork of the Des Moines on April 19, 1785.

Spain in Iowa . . .

The Spanish Period covers a scant four decades from 1762 to 1800. Jonathan Carver and Peter Pond, two Connecticut Yankees who visited northeast Iowa in 1766 and 1773 respectively, were the first to appear during the Spanish regime. Jean Marie Cardinal mined lead in the Dubuque area during the Revolutionary War and actually lost his life in the defense of St. Louis. Thereafter, Spain assumed control and made three land grants in Iowa—to Julien Dubuque in 1796, to Louis Honore Tesson in 1799, and to Basil Giard in 1800. Dubuque was the only permanent settler in the Spanish Period, living at the mouth of Catfish Creek from 1788 until his death in 1810.

Louisiana Purchase

In 1800 Spain retroceded the land west of the Mississippi to France. Napoleon in turn sold it to Jefferson in 1803. One hundred and thirty years had passed under French and Spanish rule since the discovery of Iowa by Joliet and Marquette, but a scant score of names are remembered in history. On March 26, 1804, Congress provided for the government of the newly acquired territory by dividing it into two separate jurisdictions—the Territory of Orleans and the District of Louisiana. The Iowa country formed a part of the District of Louisiana, which was placed under the jurisdiction of the Governor and Judges of the Territory of Indiana. In 1805 Iowa became a part of the Territory of Louisiana, in 1812 it was a part of Missouri Territory, and in 1821, when Missouri was admitted into the Union, Iowa was left unorganized territory without government of any kind.

Exploration of the Iowa country promptly followed the Louisiana Purchase. Lewis and Clark ascended the Missouri in 1804, requiring 33 days to pass along the western border of Iowa. Sergeant Charles Floyd, the only man to die on this expedition, was buried on the present site of Sioux City. In 1805 Pike ascended the Upper Mississippi, recommending the present site of Burlington and the bluff below McGregor as suitable locations for military posts. Other notable Americans explored Iowaland: Stephen H. Long, Henry R. Schoolcraft, and Stephen Watts Kearny were outstanding military men. Manuel Lisa was a Missouri River fur trader, while George Catlin spent eight years painting pictures of Indians on the Upper Mississippi and Missouri frontier. Caleb Atwater, G. C. Beltrami, Nicollet, Father DeSmet, Marryat, Murray, and Fredrika Bremer left eye-witness accounts of Iowaland more than a century ago. As a result of Kearny's Dragoon expedition of 1835, Lieutenant Albert Miller Lea wrote his Notes on the Wisconsin Territory: Particularly with Reference to the Iowa District or Black Hawk Purchase. Published in Philadelphia in 1836, this was the first book dealing specifically with Iowa. In the years that followed, John Plumbe, Jr., Isaac Galland, John B. Newhall and a dozen others published books that focused the attention of millions on Iowa.

Forts in Iowa . . .

The presence of the Indian and the fur trader led to the establishment of forts in the Iowa country. Fort Madison, the first American fort in Iowa, was erected in 1808 and evacuated and burned in 1813. Fort Edwards, located opposite the mouth of the Des Moines River, was erected in 1815. Fort Armstrong was erected on Rock Island in 1816, and Fort Crawford at Prairie du Chien the same year. Fort Des Moines No. 1 was built on the present site of Montrose by Colonel Kearny in 1834. Fort Atkinson, Fort Dodge, Fort Des Moines No. 2, Fort Sanford, and Fort Crogan are other military establishments associated with early Iowa history.

The Western Engineer made the first steamboat voyage up the Missouri as far as present-day Council Bluffs in 1819, while the Virginia ascended the Mississippi to Fort Snelling in 1823. Ten years later, on June 1, 1833, permanent settlement began in Iowa. Iowa was attached to Michigan Territory for purposes of government in 1834, and formed a part of the newly-created Wisconsin Territory in 1836. The first federal census showed 10,531 inhabitants in the Black Hawk Purchase that year.

Iowa As a Territory

On July 4, 1838, the Territory of Iowa was born, with Robert Lucas serving as first governor. The territory was named by Albert M. Lea in 1836 from the Iowa River, which derived its title from the Ioway Indians. Twenty-two counties containing 23,242 inhabitants had been established west of the Mississippi in the Black Hawk Purchase and other Indian cessions in 1838. Between 1833 and 1838, churches were founded, schools, academies, and seminaries established, newspapers published, and a bank opened. The first public surveys were begun in 1837, and two land offices established the following year at Burlington and Dubuque.

Statehood!

Scarcely had the Territory of Iowa been established when a clamor arose for statehood. In 1844 a constitution was adopted featuring low salaries, limited indebtedness and restrictions on banks and corporations. Congress refused to accept the boundaries requested by the people in 1844, and they in turn rejected those proposed by Congress. A new constitution with the present-day boundaries (embracing 56,147 square miles) was adopted in 1846. Iowa was admitted into the Union as the first free state in the Louisiana Purchase on Dec. 28, 1846.

Politics . . .

Democrats dominated state politics between 1846 and 1854. Ansel Briggs was elected first governor, and A. C. Dodge and George W. Jones were named United States senators. A steady flow of northern immigrants during the 1850's, coupled with the successful campaign of dynamic James W. Grimes in 1854, swept the Whigs into office. Two years later Grimes founded the Republican Party in Iowa. Subsequently Dodge and Jones were defeated, the Constitution of 1857 was adopted, and the capital moved from Iowa City to Des Moines. Ralph P. Lowe became the first Republican governor in 1858. Only five Democrats-Horace Boies (1890-94), Clyde Herring (1933-1937), Nelson Kraschel (1937-1939), Herschel Loveless (1957-1961), and Harold E. Hughes (1963-)—have served as governors in the intervening one hundred years that were marked largely by Republican chief executives.

The names of many Iowans are written boldly in the annals of the Republican party. James W. Grimes, James Harlan, Samuel J. Kirkwood, William Boyd Allison, Jonathan P. Dolliver, and Albert B. Cummins achieved high distinction in their day. Allison served 36 years in the United States Senate. Among the Representatives the names of C. C. Dowell, Gilbert N. Haugen, J. A. T. Hull, William P. Hepburn, and David B. Henderson loom large. In addition to these legislators, Iowans have achieved high rank in the councils of the nation: 15 have served in presidents' cabinets, Henry A. Wallace was elected vice president, and Herbert Hoover gained the presidency.

Although Republicans dominated state politics, there have been occasional revolts. These revolts have come mainly from the tillers of the soil. Iowa is an agricultural state. Farmers drew up the constitution of 1846, formed the first agricultural societies in 1852, held the first state fair in 1854, founded an agricultural college in 1858, and established in 1877 a society that grew into the Iowa state dairy association. When hard times came, however, thousands of Iowa farmers deserted the Republican party to support third-party movements. James B. Weaver was twice nominated for the presidency and the Granger and Populist movements won strong support.

Iowa and War

The settlement of Iowa grew out of the Black Hawk War. Iowa men fought gallantly in the Mexican War. Such place names as Buena Vista, Butler, Cerro Gordo, Guthrie, Hardin, Mills, Palo Alto, Ringgold, and Taylor commemorate famous men and battles.

Iowa furnished almost 80,000 men in the Civil War. Her troops were especially prominent in such battles as Wilson's Creek, Pea Ridge, Shiloh, Iuka, Corinth, the siege of Vicksburg, the capture of Fort Donelson, and Sherman's march to the sea. Over 12,000 Iowa men were killed, 9,000 wounded, and another 10,000 discharged because of ill-health.

Iowa men served with equal distinction in the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict. Veterans from these wars have played an important role in state and local politics. At its peak, the G.A.R. counted 20,324 members, whereas the American Legion numbered over 44,000 members before World War II.

Transportation—Communication

Steamboats plied the Upper Mississippi and the Missouri before the opening of white settlement in 1833. In 1848 the telegraph reached Iowa; in 1854 the first railroad reached the Mississippi opposite Davenport; in 1856 the first bridge spanned the Father of Waters between Rock Island and Davenport. The North Western was the first railroad to reach Council Bluffs, the first bridge to span the Missouri was built at that point. Railroad mileage reached its peak in 1914 with over 10,000 miles of track in Iowa.

Telephone construction in Iowa began about 1878. Today almost every farm in Iowa can boast a telephone. The introduction of the automobile around the opening of the 20th century was followed by actual horseless carriage manufacture in Iowa.

Religion and Education

The first church in Iowa was erected by the Methodists at Dubuque in 1834. By 1838 the Baptists, Congregationalists, Quakers, Presbyterians, and Roman Catholics had established churches. Inspired Christian leaders are associated with the Iowa story, many notable names being associated with the numerous academies, seminaries, and colleges that dotted the state during the 19th century. Iowa Wesleyan College, established in 1842, is the oldest collegiate institution in Iowa, and Grinnell College is the second oldest college. A score of other denominational schools supported by church-going citizens who have often expressed their faith in the temperance movement and moral crusades, attest Iowa's claim to the title of "Corn and Bible Commonwealth." In addition to denominational colleges, the State University of Iowa at Iowa City, Iowa State University at Ames, the State College of Iowa at Cedar Falls, and 16 public junior colleges afford Iowa children an opportunity to receive collegiate training.

Iowa's richest asset over the years has been its crop of fine children. These have grown and achieved fame as artists and actors, baseball players and billiard players, musicians and novelists, architects and industrialists, preachers and poets, statesmen, scientists and scholars. Whether serving in their home town, their state, in the nation, or in some far-flung corner of the world, these sons and daughters of Iowa demonstrate by their actions and accomplishments the truth of Sidney Foster's toast to his native state in 1886: "In all that is good, Iowa affords the best."

The Song of Iowa.

Air: "Der Tannenbaum." * (My Maryland.)

- 8 And she has maids whose laughing eyes,
  Iowa, O! Iowa,
  To him who loves were Paradise,
  Iowa, O! Iowa.
  O! happiest fate that e'er was known,
  Such eyes to shine for one alone,
  To call such beauty all his own.
  Iowa, O! Iowa.
- 4 Go read the story of thy past,
  Iowa, OI Iowa.
  What glorious deeds, what fame thou hast!
  Iowa, O! Iowa.
  So long as time's great cycle runs,
  Or nations weep their fallen ones,
  Thou'lt not forget thy patriot sons,
  Iowa, OI Iowa.

*"Der Tannenbaum," the old sir to which this song is sung, was a popular German Students song as early as 1819. It had been a Volks song long before that, even. During our Civil War, the Southerners adapted it to the song "My Maryland."

Major S. H. M. Byers, in his day the "poet laureate" of Iowa, wrote the words set to music for this official song for the Hawkeye State.

IOWA'S FLAG SONG

By act of the joint session of the General Assembly of Iowa on March 24, 1949, the Iowa Flag poem, written by E. O. Osborn of Knoxville, and the music written by Esther May Clark of Oskaloosa, were officially adopted as the Iowa Flag Song, in honor of the Iowa flag, designed by Mrs. Dixle Cornell Gebhart of Knoxville.

GREAT SEAL OF IOWA . . . was adopted in 1847, by act of the First General Assembly. It is retained in the custody of and under the control of the governor.

IOWA STATE BANNER

On March 29, 1921, the Thirty-ninth General Assembly adopted a resolution designating a design for a flag to be known as the "State Banner."

The banner was designed by the Iowa Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and consists of three vertical stripes of blue, white and red, with the blue stripe nearest the staff and the white stripe in the center depicting a spreading eagle bearing in its beak blue streamers on which is inscribed in white letters the state motto, "Our liberties we prize and our rights we will maintain." The word "Iowa" in red letters is just below the streamers.

WILD ROSE, STATE FLOWER OF IOWA... was officially designated as the flower of the state by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly in extraordinary session. The resolution was adopted May 7, 1897.

EASTERN GOLDFINCH, STATE BIRD OF IOWA... adopted by the Forty-fifth General Assembly, by a concurrent resolution March 22, 1933. It is often called a wild canary.

The Indians in Iowa

The Mesquakie Indians who are residents and voters in Iowa number around 500. Iowa was for many years the cherished home of their ancestors and friends.

They own, as a tribe or family, 3,600 acres of land in the Iowa River valley in Tama County. This is their collective farm, bought by them with their own money, managed and cultivated by them, on which they live, where they study and have their religious services. The State of Iowa many years ago by law gave them authority to own tribal land and property and the title is held in trust for them. They pay taxes and those qualified are voters.

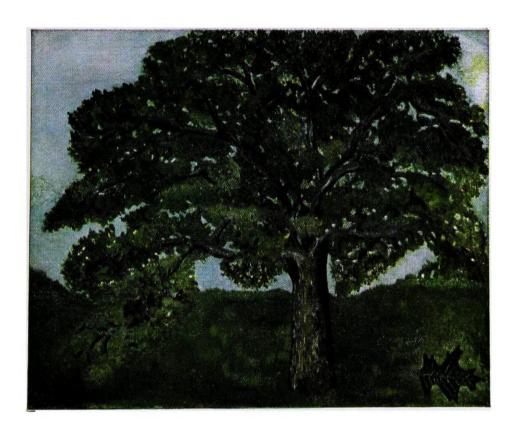

They have a genuine democratic government for themselves, elect a council of managers, and the council has a chief or president. They have a school and all of the younger people can write the English language. Some of the older ones have never learned other than their own language, which is used by all of them.

The Mesquakie tribe is of the Algonquin family. They formerly lived on the Atlantic coast, then moved westward through New York and Canada and in Wisconsin in the early fur trading days, they formed a federation with their kinsmen, the Sacs, or Saukies. The Mesquakies were called by the traders Reynards or Foxes and their name means the "people of the red earth." A century ago they lived in several camps along the Mississippi River, then moved into the Des Moines valley, followed the agency and army to Raccoon forks, and departed from Des Moines when Iowa was admitted as a state.

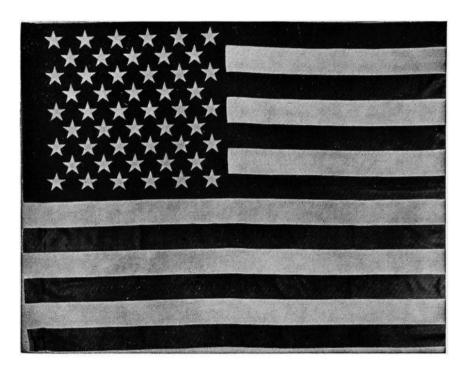

Some of the Mesquakies so loved their homes in Iowa that they gave up their government payments and returned from their southwestern reservations. The state gave them permission to live in Iowa as a tribe, and with money received in settlement with the government they bought their present lands.

On their Tama County farm they live in comfortable houses and dress, in the main, as their white neighbors. Formerly the head men resisted efforts at educating the young, but now they go to school and are apt scholars. They keep their wickiups, not to live in, but for their visits and ceremonies. They also have one large tribal hall in which they hold their religious ceremonies regularly, several services each week, conducted in their own language by their own leaders and preserving their own forms of worship.

They are quite skillful in various industries—weaving, basket making, bead work and in leather. One-third of the land is cultivated but the remainder is largely rough pasture land. The tribe has a tractor, but uses horses for farm work. They raise cattle, hogs and chickens.

"THE OAK," OFFICIAL STATE TREE for the State of Iowa, was so designated by a resolution of March 13, 1961, adopted by the Fifty-ninth General Assembly.

The Flag of the United States

On June 14, 1777, the Second Continental Congress adopted a resolution that brought into being the U.S. Flag: "Resolved, That the Flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

The action of the Continental Congress came almost a year after the Declaration of Independence. The Flag with thirteen stripes and thirteen stars continued to be used as the national emblem until Congress passed the following act, which President Washington signed:

"That from and after the first of May, 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field."

This action was necessitated by the admission of the States of Vermont and Kentucky to the Union. The flag of 1795 had the stars arranged in three rows of five each instead of in a circle, and served for 23 years.

With the admission of more new states, however, it became apparent that the 1795 flag would have to be further modified; hence in 1818 a law was passed by Congress providing:

"That from and after the fourth day of July next, the flag of the United States be thirteen horizontal stripes, alternate red and white; that the union have twenty stars, white in a blue field.

"That on the admission of every new state into the Union, one star be added to the union of the flag; and that such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July next succeeding such admission."

Iowa was admitted to the union as the 29th state.

Alaska made the 49th star, and Hawaii, admitted in 1959, added the 50th, July 4, 1960.

The Stars and the States

The stars in the flag represent the states in order of their admissions.

United States Flag Etiquette

When the flag is draped down, the blue field always must be at the left. * * * The flag must never be used as a drape, nor as background for some ornament. * * * The correct shield does not have any stars—just a plain blue field at the top, and seven white and six red stripes.

The Pledge of Allegiance

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a Republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its Flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

(The creed was written by William Tyler Page, Clerk of the U. S. House of Representatives, in 1917. It was accepted by the House of Representatives April 3, 1918.)

. . . The Gettysburg Address

The text on the opposite page was copied from the bronze plaque in the rotunda of the Iowa State Capitol. The address was delivered by President Abraham Lincoln at the Gettysburg Cemetery grounds on November 19, 1863. After the President had delivered his short address, he turned to Marshall Lamon, who had presented him less than five minutes before, and said, "Lamon, that speech won't scour. It is a flat failure."

There are five known copies in President Lincoln's handwriting of the Gettysburg address. The original and second drafts were given by the President to his secretary, John Hay. On April 11, 1916, they were presented to the Government by Colonel Hay's three children.

That Lincoln wrote the address on a rough bit of paper on the way to Gettysburg is an exploded but persistent legend. Actually, the first sheet of the first draft was written in Washington, on Executive Mansion stationery. The corrections and the second page were written in lead pencil, probably at Judge Wills' house in Gettysburg, the night of the 18th.

The second draft, believed to be the reading copy at the dedication ceremony, is assumed to have been written on the 19th, between breakfast and the start to the cemetery. There are changes from the first version, slight matters of punctuation, or a single word—a "that nation" and a "this nation" for "the nation", "consecrated" for "hallowed," "but" for "while," and the like. Lincoln's eye evidently strayed in copying, for "We have come" of the first version was changed to "We are met," then crossed out and the original form restored above it. The first important change is "those who here gave their lives" instead of "those who died here." The sentence, "This we may, in all propriety do," became "It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. The entire beginning of the first draft's third paragraph is rephrased. Instead of "It is rather for us, the living, we here be dedicated to the great task remaining before us" ["we here be dedicated" had been corrected in pencil above the scratched-out "to stand here"] Lincoln added a parallel sentence: "It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they have, thus far, so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us-".-Data from Library of Congress.

A final addition in the fourth line from the last of the address was made after the word "nation." The two words are "under God." This final form was placed in the rotunda of the State House by the Department of Iowa, Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, February 12, 1927.

. . . The Lincoln Plaque

 $\Lambda$  plaque hangs in the rotunda of the capitol which includes the complete Gettysburg address. Below is pictured a portion of the plaque, together with the text of the historical address as it appears on the plaque. Further details on opposite page.

Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war, we have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

The Birth of Americanism

In 1620 the Pilgrims, persecuted for conscience's sake, "braved the tempests of the vast and furious ocean and the terrors lurking in the American wilderness" to plant their State of Freedom. Even before landing they set up their government by a written Compact; the first charter of a government of the people, by the people and for the people known to history. In the cabin of the Mayflower humanity recovered its rights.

The Compact

11th, Old Style, Nov. 21st, New Style, 1620.

"In the name of God, amen. We whose names are underwritten, the loyall subjects of our dread soveraigne Lord, King James, by the grace of God, of Great Britaine, Franc and Ireland king, defender of the faith &c, haveing undertaken for the glorie of God, and advancemente of the Christian faith, and honour of our king and countrie, a voyage to plant the first colonie in the northerne parts of Virginia, doe by these presents solemuly and mutually in the presence of God, and one of another, covenant and combine ourselves togeather into a civill body politick, for our better ordering and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid; and by vertue hearof to enacte, constitute and frame such just and equall lawes, ordinances, acts, constitutions and offices, from time to time, as shall be thought most meete and convenient for the general good of the colonie, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names at Cap-Codd the 11 of November, in the year of the raigne of our soveraigne lord, King James of England, Franc and Ireland the eighteenth, and of Scotland the fifty-fourth. This venerable document, the first American State paper.

Thus these men became the First Americans. They believed that God created all men equal; therefore, without other precedent; they made all men equal before the Law. Here was the birth of constitutional liberty, foreshadowing our Declaration of Independence and our American Constitution, which guarantees Freedom to all of us today. Tremendous suffering was endured as they grappled with the great unknown. Half their number perished in the struggle of that first terrible Winter. Under cover of darkness, the fast dwindling Company laid their dead; levelling the earth above them lest the Indians should learn how many were the graves.

"History records no nobler venture for Faith and Freedom than that of this Pilgrim band. In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and cold, they laid the foundation of a State wherein every man, through countiess ages, should have liberty to worship God in his own way, in perpetuating and spreading, throughout the World, the lofty Ideals of our Republic."

The "Mayflower" started with ninety-eight passengers; one was born on the voyage, and four joined them from the ship. Forty-one men signed the "Compact." There were twelve other men, twenty-two women, twenty boys, and eight girls in the company. In December, six died; in January, eight; in February, seventeen; in March, thirteen; making forty-four. Forty-eight are believed to have left descendants.

Iowa Veterans' Organizations

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC

The Grand Army of the Republic was a patriotic and fraternal organization of the Union survivors of the military and naval forces of the Civil War who served between April 12, 1861, and April 9, 1865.

Iowa was one of the first states of the Union to attempt organization of the Grand Army of the Republic, receiving as a department its first charter on July 12, 1866. Its permanent organization dates from Jan. 23, 1879.

There were over 519 posts chartered in Iowa. Membership stood at its peak in 1890 when 52,013 veterans held membership.

Six veterans of the Civil War served as governors of Iowa: Colonel William M. Stone of Knoxville, 1864-1868; Colonel Samuel Merrill of McGregor, 1868-1872; Colonel Cyrus C. Carpenter of Fort Dodge, 1872-1876; Captain Joshua G. Newbold of Mount Pleasant, 1877-1878; Captain Buren R. Sherman of Vinton, 1882-1886; Lieutenant Colonel Francis M. Drake of Centerville, 1896-1898.

To the Grand Army of the Republic goes the credit for having instituted Memorial Day, with all the tender and reverent patriotism which that occasion always reveals, and for having kept alive, in history and story, the brave deeds performed upon the battlefields by many a gallant soldier. To them goes the credit of having preserved the Union at a critical period in its history. Their average age when they fought the war was nineteen.

Nate E. Kendall, former governor of Iowa, was principal speaker at the dedication of the Iowa monument on the battlefield of Shiloh. He eulogized the veterans of that sanguine conflict, when he said: "No soldiery ever entered a field with such noble purpose, and none ever emerged with a record of such glorious accomplishment. When our beloved flag was insulted, when our territorial integrity was threatened, when our national life was imperiled, they promptly responded to the appeal of President Lincoln, and cheerfully embraced self-immolation to secure the perpetuity of the government of the people, by the people and for the people, and to render positive the certainty that the government, after being baptized in the sacred blood of the Revolutionary fathers, should not disappear from the earth, but that it, under God, should have everlasting life.

"And over the graves of the fallen dead the spring has cast its tender violets, the summer its gorgeous field of flowers, the autumn its golden withered leaves, the winter its blanket of snow. All is forgiven, all is forgotten except the glorious results of the combat in which our soldiers were engaged.

"The United States of America! The immortal principles of justice and equity which underlie it! The incomparable benefits which it secures to its citizenship. The inestimable sacrifices which have been suffered to maintain it! It is our home, our country, our beloved government, bequeathed to us forever by the venerated fathers, the most invaluable inheritance ever bestowed upon the sons of men."

The Iowa Department lost its last member in the death on Sept. 20, 1949, of James P. Martin of Sutherland. Thus the last Iowa member of that long line of the Grand Army of the Republic answered "taps" and bivouacked on the eternal camping grounds.

The 55th General Assembly dismantled the G.A.R. room in the capitol and stored the records with the History and Archives department.

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR

The United Spanish War Veterans came into existence because of the desire to carry on the comradeship that came from their associations in the service with the only 100 per cent volunteer army the world has ever known.

In this organization, the Iowa Department is one of 52 departments and maintains its headquarters in the laboratory building at East Seventh Street and Court Avenue. Mail, however, should be sent to the capitol, from where it will be delivered. At the headquarters offices are kept the records of the organization and personnel. Plans are made for the annual encampment, and service is given in claims for pensions for widows and the orphans of deceased veterans. H. L. Hackthorn of Des Moines is state adjutant.

The men who served in Iowa's four regiments of infantry and the two batteries of light artillery numbered 5,696; there were two killed in action, 38 wounded and 163 died of disease.

Out of the war came men who later served their state and national governments in high positions—Dan Turner, Corning, governor, 1931-1933; Joe Hanley, Muscatine, later lieutenant governor of New York state; Lloyd Thurston, Osceola, member of the state legislature, and the U. S. Congress, national commander-in-chief, 1954-1955, United Spanish War Veterans; Horace M. Havner, national commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans 1947-1948.

The leaders of the American Army in World War I were all veterans of this war. Among them were such men as Matthew A. Tinley, Council Bluffs, colonel of the famous Iowa Regiment, the 168th Infantry, and all of the field officers of that regiment.

The war was the only one fought by an army of this country where the returns were greater than the total cost of the war.

IOWA IN WORLD WAR I

(April 6, 1917, to Nov. 11, 1918)

The total number of men registered in Iowa for service, and possible service, during World War I, was 523,478. This grand total was divided as follows:

Class of June 5, 1917, aged 21 to 31, both inclusive217,914	Ė
Class of June-August, 1918, age 21 21,671	-
Class of Sept. 12, 1918, ages 18 to 45, not previously registered	ļ
Total523,478	,

The total number of officers, men and women from Iowa in World War I service is placed at 114,213, divided as follows:

In the army, 96,726 enlisted men, 4,975 officers, 611 nurses.

In the marines, 1,044 enlisted men, 30 officers.

In the navy, 10,211 enlisted men, 525 officers, 40 nurses, 42 yeomen. Cadets at West Point, 20.

These Iowa soldiers came from every walk of life. The adjutant general reported to the government that, of the men drafted in Iowa, 51.7 per cent were farmers and farm laborers.

IOWA IN WORLD WAR II.

(Dec. 7, 1941, to Sept. 2, 1945)

The total number of men in Iowa registered under the selective training and service act of 1940, as amended, was 882,542, divided as follows:

IOWA IN KOREAN WAR

(Iowa dates, June 27, 1950, to July 27, 1953)

THE AMERICAN LEGION IN IOWA

The American Legion was born in Paris, March 15, 1919. The Legion was launched formally at St. Louis, May 8, 1919, by World War veterans from nearly every state in the Union, who had been selected by temporary secretaries named at the request of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who acted under instructions from the Paris caucus.

The first Iowa state convention was held in Des Moines, Sept. 4, 1919. The first national convention of delegates from the newly organized state departments was held in Minneapolis on Armistice Day, 1919.

ters of Legionnaires was organized in 1921.

Hanford MacNider established the IOWA LEGIONNAIRE, with Frank Miles as editor on March 4, 1921. He was succeeded as editor on April 1, 1946, by A. F. Faber.

*Total persons registered upon attaining the age of 18 years on and after Dec. 11, 1942, up to and including March 31, 1947

The Department of Iowa headquarters is located at Argonne Armory, East First and Des Moines Streets, Des Moines. There are nine districts in Iowa with 658 local posts and an approximate annual membership of 100,000,

The Iowa Department has been the winner of the James A. Drain national community service trophy for the past 25 consecutive years. Iowa has been in the national American Legion's Big Ten Department for 19 years, since 1934.

The Iowa Department stresses the national programs of Americanism, national security, child welfare and rehabilitation, in addition to many youth programs to develop good citizenship.

Iowa has contributed leadership to the national organization by having had two outstanding national commanders, General Hanford MacNider of Mason City, and J. Ray Murphy, formerly of Ida Grove.

The Iowa Department has provided three national chaplains for The American Legion: Msgr. Edward Smith, Sioux City; Msgr. Pat N. McDermott, Atlantic; and Father Albert J. Hoffmann, Dubuque.

Two Iowans have served as national vice-commanders: G. M. Brown, Whiting, and V. J. Maxheim, Clinton.

THE DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS IN IOWA

The Disabled American Veterans, commonly known as the D. A. V., was organized nationally in 1920 by groups of disabled veterans then undergoing vocational training courses, and chartered by Congress in 1932, to render service to, for and by disabled veterans. The D. A. V. has ever since its inception, been the spokesman for the disabled war veterans of America, in Congress and before its various committees as well as before the Veterans Administration and its local regional offices and facilities.

During 1920 and 1921 the first three chapters of the Iowa department were organized in the vocational training centers at Des Moines, Iowa City and Ames. The department of Iowa D. A. V. held its first state convention in 1922 at Iowa City.

The Disabled American Veterans in Iowa have grown to 32 chapters and over 3,000 members. The national service officer in Iowa is Buford L. Phillips, located at 603-604 Federal Building, Fourth and Walnut, Des Moines. The state headquarters are in Des Moines. The address is P. O. Box 793 and the adjutant and business manager is Buford L. Phillips.

AMERICAN VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II

The American Veterans of World War II, commonly known as the AMVETS, were organized nationally in September, 1944, at Kansas City, Mo. The AMVETS were granted a national charter by an act of Congress and President Truman signed the measure on July 23, 1947. AMVETS is the only nationally chartered World War II veterans' organization.

AMVETS got their start in Iowa at Atlantic in 1944, and were incorporated as the Iowa Department of AMVETS on May 2, 1945. The first state convention was held in Des Moines in 1947. AMVETS were recognized as a nationally chartered World War II veterans' organization by the Iowa legislature in March, 1949, and entered as such in the Iowa Code.

The AMVETS principles are (1) to promote world peace, (2) to perpetuate the American way of life, (3) to help the veteran help himself.

The AMVETS have a national and state auxiliary comprised of the wives, mothers and sisters of World War II veterans.

The Iowa Department headquarters are located in Des Moines at 1655 Harding Road, with Ralph J. Rossignuolo as executive director. Currently the Iowa Department has 70 AMVET posts covering all parts of Iowa, and is the third largest AMVET department in the nation.

Ed Corry, formerly of Des Moines, now of Chicago, a past state commander, was national commander. Ed Gallagher of Waterloo, past state commander, was president of the AMVETS National Service Foundation for several terms. Herbert Bennett of Fort Dodge, also a past state commander, served as president of the AMVETS National Convention Corporation for several terms. Charles Scherrer of Dubuque, also a former state commander, is a member of the AMVETS National Personnel Committee. Duane Torner of Waterloo, also a past state commander, is the national executive committeeman from Iowa. Lee Larson of Havelock is the 1963-1964 state commander.

Iowa AMVETS assemble in convention each year to elect new officers. The fiscal year begins in September and ends in August. Any person who served actively in the armed forces any length of time between Sept. 16, 1940, and Jan. 31, 1955, when cessation of hostilities was formally proclaimed, is eligible to become a member.

IOWA VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Iowa, was granted its charter by the national organization on May 28, 1921. Its objects are fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational; to preserve and strengthen comradeship among its members and to assist worthy comrades; to perpetuate the memory and history of its dead, and to assist their widows and orphans; to maintain true allegiance to the government of the United States and fidelity to its constitution and laws. V. F. W. is composed only of American men who have served honorably in the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard of the United States, in hostile waters or on foreign soil during any foreign war, insurrection, or expedition.

Veterans of Foreign Wars has a Ladies Auxiliary of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters, and a fraternal order consisting of the Military Order of Cooties of V. F. W. members.

The Department of Iowa, consisting of approximately 200 posts, has its headquarters at 3601 Beaver Avenue, Des Moines 10.

Origins and Naming of Iowa Counties

(Of the two dates given for each county, the first is the date of establishment, when the county was put on the map; the second is when county government was organized. While population was sparse, an unorganized county might be attached to a neighboring organized county for purposes of administration. As settlement moved west, the legislature established 50 so-called "paper counties" in 1851, completing the theoretical roster of 99 counties, but in many of them it was a matter of years before county governments were organized. In some instances, the dates are significant of changes in county names or boundaries.)

Mileages from Des Moines to County Seats With County Serial Numbers

These mileages have been compiled by the Iowa State Highway Commission with routings over the Interstate System where applicable. Mileage is based on the most direct primary route. The starting point in the City of Des Moines is the State Capitol. Termini in the county seats are the major intersections of the primary roads or the centers of towns where there are no primary road intersections.

TREND TOWARD URBANIZATION OF IOWA'S POPULATION

Iowa's population is now 53 per cent urban, as is shown in the first line of the table below. The change from 1950 to 1960 is also shown. To carry the comparison back to 1940, it is necessary to note that the census bureau made a change to classify people living in certain densely populated urban-fringe areas as urban, even though they were not within incorporated limits. This change, in 1950, transferred 21,505 Iowa persons from rural to urban classification. The effect on percentages is small but makes necessary two sets of figures. The minus sign (—) indicates a decrease.

CIVILIAN POPULATION ESTIMATES AS OF JULY 1, 1962

For Counties and for Cities of 10,000 or More Inhabitants State Total 2,781,400, Total for Cities 1,087,650

The Division of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health published these figures May 2, 1963, as an estimate of population in 1962. The figures given for July 1, between the censal enumerations, are estimates, not counts. Estimates are subject to error, and the unknown relative error is assumed to be greater for smaller than for larger population groups. A local variation of Census Method II was used to develop the estimates. Method II, introduced by the U. S. Bureau of Census, utilizes as components: population counts of a prior census, cumulative counts of births and deaths, estimates of net civilian migration developed from indices of school enrollment, and estimates of net loss to the armed forces. The summation of the component values is an estimate of the total resident civilian population of a county or the state.

A primary characteristic of Method II is that an estimate for any par-

A primary characteristic of Method II is that an estimate for any particular date is essentially independent of those developed for other dates, and is primarily related to the period from censal date to estimate date. Each estimate is not directly related to a preceding estimate. However, local estimates for any one year can be expected to have some common relationship to that for the state. With certain exceptions, it was assumed that cities changed in population at a rate proportional to the associated county indices for the 1950-1960 period.

LEGISLATIVE OFFICERS FOR THE TERRITORY OF IOWA

Before Iowa was admitted as a state in 1846, the Senate of the territory was called the Legislative Council. The presiding officer was known as the President of the Council. Iowa's constitution, approved by a vote of the people in 1857, created the office of Lieutenant Governor and named him as the ex officio President of the Senate.

The 1838, 1839 and 1840 sessions were held at the territorial capital

The 1838, 1839 and 1840 sessions were held at the territorial capital at Burlington. The 1841 through 1845 sessions were held at Iowa City. In 1855 the 5th General Assembly voted to change the location of the capital to Des Moines.

Presidential Electors

Meeting at the governor's office Monday, Dec. 19, 1960, the following presidential electors cast the state's vote for Richard M. Nixon:

Mrs. Mabel Tracey, Manchester; Charles L. Elson, Leon; Mrs. Virginia Bedell, Spirit Lake; George O. Hurley, Shelby; D. W. Harper, Creston; L. G. Stevens, Northwood; Grace Cairns, Davenport; Harold McKinley, St. Ansgar; Louis Kimer, Indianola; and Albert Habhab, Fort Dodge.

Besides the honor, electors received $5 each and 5 cents per mile for travel to and from the capitol.

County Officials of Iowa for 1963-1964

(Number indicates the alphabetical order of the name of the county.)

TERMS OF COUNTY OFFICERS—In each county, except where unexpired terms were to be filled, the auditor, clerk of court and sheriff were elected in 1960 to serve for four years. The treasurer and recorder were elected in 1962, to serve for four years. The county attorney is elected for two years, as stipulated by the state constitution. The superintendent of schools is appointed by the county board of education for three years. The county engineer is appointed by the board of supervisors for not to exceed three years. County assessors (and city assessors in the larger cities) are appointed by conference boards representing the taxing bodies, for six-year terms. The medical examiner is appointed for two years by the board of supervisors. County supervisors are elected for overlapping terms, which in the past have been for three years but which in future will be for four years, by action of the Sixtieth General Assembly.

Congressional Districts Since 1847

Iowa's first two congressmen, who took their seats December 29, 1846, were elected from the state at large. Two congressional districts were created February 22, 1847, and the state continued with two districts through eight sessions, a period of 16 years. There was a redistricting in 1848.

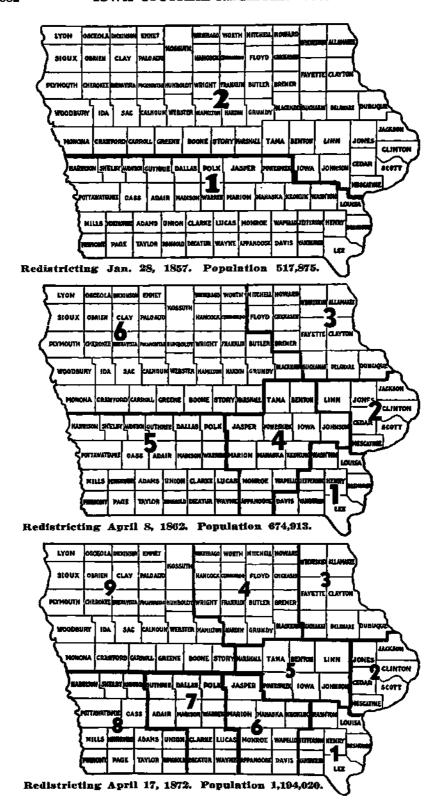

Redistricting of 1862, taking effect in 1863, gave Iowa six congressmen for 10 years. Then redistricting of 1872 provided for nine congressmen for 10 years.

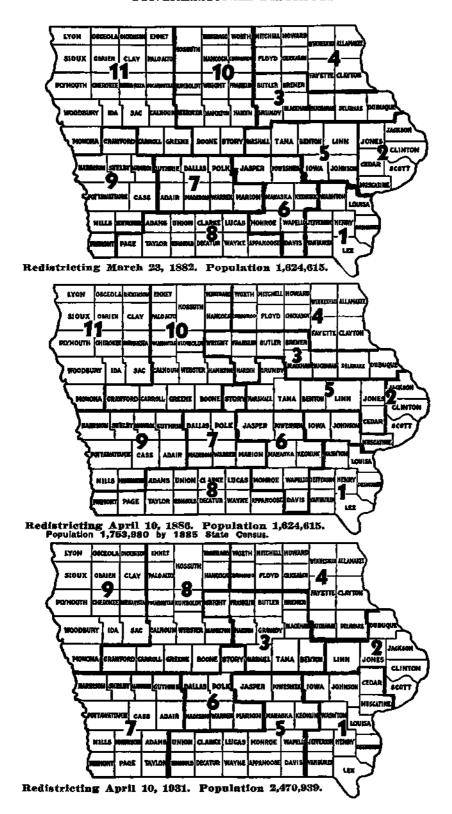

Iowa had 11 congressmen for 50 years, through the 48th to the 72nd congresses, 1883 to 1933, under redistrictings of 1882 and 1886. The number then dropped to nine for 10 years, 1933 to 1943, and to eight for 20 years, 1943 to 1963.

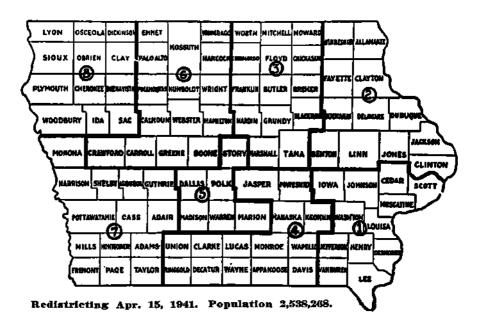

Each of Iowa's seven congressmen, beginning in 1963, represents an average of 393,934 constituents. Constituency in 1847 was 51,194.

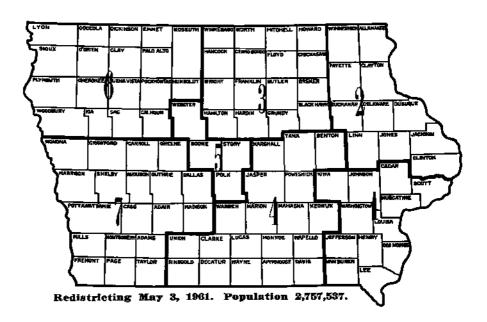

Populations given under the first three maps are state census figures of 1846, 1847 and 1856. The acts of 1848 and 1857 were not based on census requirements, since Iowa had two congressmen until 1862. Congressmen seated in 1846 were elected from the state at large. The districting of 1847 was based on the August vote on adoption of the constitution. The 1848 act merely shifted Poweshiek County and had little apparent significance. The 1857 act, transferring three counties, equalized population and had Republican political advantages. All other redistrictings, except in 1886, were necessitated by federal census returns. The 1836 redistricting was based on the 1880 federal census, but state maps displayed the 1885 state census figures. Purposes of the 1886 act were avowedly political.

Iowa Statehood Centennial Commemorative Half Dollar

IOWA CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL FOUNDATION

The sale of memorial half dollars in Iowa's Centennial Year, 1947, brought the state $188,000. This fund is administered by the Iowa Centennial Memorial Commission, and has grown to $200,000. The commission is authorized to spend the income from the fund for awards and scholarships, amounting to about $4,000 yearly. This amount provides for 17 to 20 scholarships each year.

In 1951 the Iowa Award was created and presented to ex-President Herbert Hoover, and in 1956 to Jay N. Darling. More than 100 scholarships to Iowa colleges and universities have been granted.

Membership of the commission includes all former governors, four citizen members, and several state officials who serve ex officio. The commission was set up in 1949 by Governor Robert D. Blue. Members include the governor, who is chairman; president of the state board of regents, secretary; state treasurer, treasurer; and attorney general, attorney.

Citizen members are Mrs. Mary Humeston, Albia; Mrs. Helen Mitchell, Mason City; Ralph Evans, Davenport; and John M. Henry, Des Moines.

Constitution of the State of Iowa

Introduction

Iowa was organized as a separate Territory by an act of Congress approved on June 12, 1838, but it was not until 1844 that steps were taken to secure admission into the Union. A constitutional convention met at Iowa City in October, 1844. The Constitution drafted by this convention was twice submitted to the voters of the Territory of Iowa and twice rejected by them, largely because of dissatisfaction with the boundaries of the proposed State.

A second constitutional convention met at Iowa City in May, 1846. The Constitution drafted by this convention was ratified by a majority of 456 votes at an election held on August 3, 1846, and Iowa was admitted as a State on December 28, 1846.

The Constitution of 1846, however, contained a number of provisions which were found to be unsatisfactory in practice. One of these was the prohibition of banking institutions. As a result of this dissatisfaction, the legislature in 1855 provided for an election on the question of calling a convention to revise or amend the Constitution of 1846. The vote was 32,390 for a convention and 14,162 against a convention. Delegates were elected on November 4, 1856, and the convention met at Iowa City on January 19, 1857.

The delegates drafted a new Constitution which was submitted to the people at an election held on August 3, 1857, and ratified by a vote of 40,311 to 38,681. This Constitution went into effect by proclamation of the governor on September 3, 1857.

The Constitution of 1857 has, since that time, remained the fundamental law of the State of Iowa; but it has been amended a number of times.

The Constitution<sup>1</sup>

WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF IOWA, grateful to the Supreme Being for the blessings hitherto enjoyed, and feeling our dependence on Him for a continuation of those blessings, do ordain and establish a free and independent government, by the name of the STATE OF IOWA, the boundaries whereof shall be as follows:

Beginning in the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River, at a point due East of the middle of the mouth of the main channel of the Des Moines River, thence up the middle of the main channel of the said Des Moines River, to a point on said river where the Northern boundary line of the State of Missouri—as established by the constitution of that State—adopted June 12th, 1820—crosses the said middle of the main channel of the said Des Moines River; thence Westwardly along the said Northern boundary line of the State of Missouri, as established at the time aforesaid, until an extension of said line intersects the middle of main channel of the Missouri River; thence up the middle of the main channel of the said Missouri River to a point opposite the middle of the main channel of the Big Sioux River, according to Nicollett's Map; thence up the main channel of the said Big Sioux River, according to the said map, until it is intersected by the parallel of forty three degrees and thirty minutes North latitude; thence East along said parallel of forty three degrees and thirty minutes until said parallel intersects the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River; thence down the middle of the main channel of said Mississippi River to the place of beginning.

Article I.

Bill of Rights.

Section 1. All men are, by nature, free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights—among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness.

Sec. 2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people, and they have the right, at all times, to alter or reform the same, whenever the public good may require it.

The text of the Constitution was taken directly from the original manuscript copy preserved in the office of the Secretary of State. Compiled, edited, and documented by Benjamin F. Shambaugh and Ruth A. Gallaher, of the State Historical Society of Iowa. All words, phrases, and sections which have been eliminated from the Constitution or rendered inoperative by amendment appear in italic. Material added to the Constitution by amendment is enclosed within brackets. Besides being indicated in their proper place in the text, the amendments are also printed in full chronological order following the Constitution.

- Sec. 3. The General Assembly shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; nor shall any person be compelled to attend any place of worship, pay tithes, taxes, or other rates for building or repairing places of worship, or the maintenance of any minister, or ministry.
- Sec. 4. No religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office, or public trust, and no person shall be deprived of any of his rights, privileges, or capacities, or disqualified from the performance of any of his public or private duties, or rendered incompetent to give evidence in any court of law or equity, in consequence of his opinions on the subject of religion; and any party to any judicial proceeding shall have the right to use as a witness, or take the testimony of, any other person not disqualified on account of interest, who may be cognizant of any fact material to the case; and parties to suits may be witnesses, as provided by law.
- Sec. 5. Any citizen of this State who may hereafter be engaged, either directly, or indirectly, in a duel, either as principal, or accessory before the fact, shall forever be disqualified from holding any office under the Constitution and laws of this State.
- Sec. 6. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation; the General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen, or class of citizens, privileges or immunities, which, upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens.
- Sec. 7. Every person may speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right. No law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech, or of the press. In all prosecutions or indictments for libel, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury, and if it appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous was true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted.
- Sec. 8. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable seizures and searches shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but on probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons and things to be seized.
- Sec. 9. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate; but the General Assembly may authorize trial by a jury of a less number than twelve men in inferior courts; but no person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.
- Sec. 10. In all criminal prosecutions, and in cases involving the life, or liberty of an individual the accused shall have a right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury; to be informed of the accusation against him, to have a copy of same when demanded; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for his witnesses; and, to have the assistance of counsel.
- Sec. 11. All offences less than felony and in which the punishment does not exceed a fine of one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for thirty days, shall be tried summarily before a Justice of the Peace, or other officer authorized by law, on information under oath, without indictment, or the intervention of a grand jury, saving to the defendant the right of appeal; and no person shall be held to answer for any higher criminal offence, unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury2 except in cases arising in the army, or navy, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger.
- Sec. 12. No person shall after acquittal, be tried for the same offence. All persons shall, before conviction, be bailable, by sufficient sureties, except for capital offences where the proof is evident, or the presumption great.
- Sec. 13. The writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, or refused when application is made as required by law, unless in case of rebellion, or invasion the public safety may require it.
- Sec. 14. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power. No standing army shall be kept up by the State in time of peace; and in time of war, no appropriation for a standing army shall be for a longer time than two years.
- Sec. 15. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war except in the manner prescribed by law.
- Sec. 16. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the evidence of two witnesses to the same overt act, or confession in open Court.

Sec. 17. Excessive bail shall not be required; excessive fines shall not be imposed, and cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted.

Sec. 18. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation first being made, or secured to be made to the owner thereof, as soon as the damages shall be assessed by a jury, who shall not take into consideration any advantages that may result to said owner on account of the improvement for which it is taken.

[The general assembly, however, may pass laws permitting the owners of lands to construct drains, ditches, and levees for agricultural, sanitary or mining purposes across the lands of others, and provide for the organization of drainage districts, vest the proper authorities with power to construct and maintain levees, drains and ditches and to keep in repair all drains, ditches, and levees heretofore constructed under the laws of the state, by special assessments upon the property benefited thereby. The General Assembly may provide by law for the condemnation of such real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and maintenance of such drains, ditches and levees, and prescribe the method of making such condemnation.]3

Sec. 19. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any civil action, on mesne or final process, unless in case of fraud; and no person shall be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace.

Sec. 20. The people have the right freely to assemble together to counsel for the common good; to make known their opinions to their representatives and to petition for a redress of grievances.

Sec. 21. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall ever be passed.

Sec. 22. Foreigners who are, or may hereafter become residents of this State, shall enjoy the same rights in respect to the possession, enjoyment and descent of property, as native born citizens.

Sec. 23. There shall be no slavery in this State; nor shall there be involuntary servitude, unless for the punishment of crime.

Sec. 24. No lease or grant of agricultural lands, reserving any rent, or service of any kind, shall be valid for a longer period than twenty years.

Sec. 25. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others, retained by the people.

[Sec. 26. No person shall manufacture for sale, or sell, or keep for sale, as a beverage any intoxicating liquors whatever, including ale, wine and beer. The general assembly shall by law prescribe regulations for the enforcement of the prohibition herein contained, and shall thereby provide suitable penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.]4

Article II.

Right of Suffrage.

Section 1. Every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty one years, who shall have been a resident of this State six months next preceding the election, and of the County in which he claims his vote sixty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or hereafter may be authorized by law.

Sec. 2. Electors shall in all cases except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest on the days of election, during their attendance at such election, going to and returning therefrom.

Sec. 3. No elector shall be obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, except in time of war, or public danger.

Sec. 4. No person in the military, naval, or marine service of the United States shall be considered a resident of this State by being stationed in any garrison, barrack, or military or naval place, or station within this State.

Sec. 5. No idiot, or insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, shall be entitled to the privilege of an elector.

3The material between the brackets was added by an amendment adopted in 1908.

4This amendment was proposed by the General Assembly in 1880; readopted in 1882; ratified at a special election held on June 27, 1882; and certified adopted on June 28, 1882. On April 21, 1883, the Supreme Court of Iowa, in deciding Kochler and Lange v. Hill, held that, owing to certain irregularities, the amendment had not been legally submitted to the voters and hence was not a part of the Constitution—60 Iowa 543.

5The word "white" was eliminated by an amendment adopted in 1868.

6The word "male" remains in this section of the State Constitution, but it was rendered inoperative by the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, adopted in 1920. The General Assembly of Iowa ratified the Nineteenth Amendment on July 2, 1919.

July 2, 1919.

Sec. 6. All elections by the people shall be by hallot.

[The general election for state, district county and township officers shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November.]?

[Sec. 7. The general election for state, district, county and township officers in the year 1916 shall be held in the same month and on the same day as that fixed by the laws of the United States for the election of presidential electors, or of president and vice-president of the United States; and thereafter such election shall be held at such time as the general assembly may by law provide.18

Article III

Of the Distribution of Powers

Section 1. The powers of the government of Iowa shall be divided into three separate departments-the Legislative, the Executive, and the Judicial: and no person charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any function appertaining to either of the others, except in cases hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

Legislative Department.

- Section 1. The Legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives; and the style of every law shall be. "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa."
- Sec. 2. The sessions of the General Assembly shall be biennial, and shall commence on the second Monday in January next ensuing the election of its members; unless the Governor of the State shall, in the meantime, convene the General Assembly by proclamation.
- Sec. 3. The members of the House of Representatives shall be chosen every second year, by the qualified electors of their respective districts, on the second Tuesday in October, except the years of the Presidential election, when the election shall be on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November; and their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next after their election, and continue two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified.
- Sec. 4. No person shall be a member of the House of Representatives who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years, be a free white10 male11 citizen of the United States, and shall have been an inhabitant of this State one year next preceding his election, and at the time of his election shall have had an actual residence of sixty days in the County, or District he may have been chosen to represent.
- Sec. 5. Senators shall be chosen for the term of four years, at the same time and place as Representatives; they shall be twenty-five years of age, and possess the qualifications of Representatives as to residence and citizenship.
- Sec. 6. The number of Senators shall not be less than one third, nor more than one half the representative body; and shall be so classified by lot, that one class, being as nearly one half as possible, shall be elected every two years. When the number of Senators is increased, they shall be annexed by lot to one or the other of the two classes, so as to keep them as nearly equal in numbers as practicable.
- Sec. 7. Each house shall choose its own officers, and judge of the qualification, election, and return of its own members. A contested election shall be determined in such manner as shall be directed by law.
- A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to transact business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.
- Sec. 9. Each house shall sit upon its own adjournments, keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same; determine its rules of proceedings, punish members for disorderly behavior, and, with the consent of two thirds, expel a member, but not a second time for the same offense; and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the General Assembly of a free and independent State.

- Sec. 10. Every member of the General Assembly shall have the liberty to dissent from, or protest against any act or resolution which he may think injurious to the public, or an individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered on the journals; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house, on any question, shall, at the desire of any two members present, be entered on the journals.
- Sec. 11. Senators and Representatives, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same.
- Sec. 12. When vacancies occur in either house, the Governor, or the person exercising the functions of Governor, shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.
- Sec. 13. The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions as, in the opinion of the house, may require secrecy.
- Sec. 14. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which they may be sitting.
- Sec. 15. Bills may originate in either house, and may be amended, altered, or rejected by the other; and every bill having passed both houses, shall be signed by the Speaker and President of their respective houses.
- Sec. 16. Every bill which shall have passed the General Assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the same upon their journal, and proceed to re-consider it; if, after such re-consideration, it again pass both houses, by yeas and nays, by a majority of two thirds of the members of each house, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within three days after it shall have been presented to him, Sunday excepted, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly, by adjournment, prevent such return. Any bill submitted to the Governor for his approval during the last three days of a session of the General Assembly, shall be deposited by him in the office of the Secretary of State, within thirty days after the adjournment, with his approval, if approved by him, and with his objection, if he disapproves thereof.
- Sec. 17. No bill shall be passed unless by the assent of a majority of all the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly, and the question upon the final passage shall be taken immediately upon its last reading, and the year and nays entered on the journal.
- Sec. 18. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be attached to and published with the laws, at every regular session of the General Assembly.
- Sec. 19. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, and all impeachments shall be tried by the Senate. When sitting for that purpose, the senators shall be upon oath or affirmation; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members present.
- Sec. 20. The Governor, Judges of the Supreme and District Courts, and other State officers, shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor or malfeasance in office; but judgment in such cases shall extend only to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit, under this State; but the party convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, and punishment, according to law. All other civil officers shall be tried for misdemeanors and malfeasance in office, in such manner as the General Assembly may provide.
- Sec. 21. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office of profit under this State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such term, except such offices as may be filled by elections by the people.
- Sec. 22. No person holding any lucrative office under the United States, or this State, or any other power, shall be eligible to hold a seat in the General Assembly: but offices in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary, or the office of justice of the peace, or postmaster whose compensation does not exceed one hundred dollars per annum, or notary public, shall not be deemed lucrative.

- Sec. 23. No person who may hereafter be a collector or holder of public monies, shall have a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or be eligible to hold any office of trust or profit in this State, until he shall have accounted for and paid into the treasury all sums for which he may be liable.
- Sec. 24. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law.
- Sec. 25. Each member of the first General Assembly under this Constitution, shall receive three dollars per diem while in session; and the further sum of three dollars for every twenty miles traveled, in going to and returning from the place where such session is held, by the nearest traveled route; after which they shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by law; but no General Assembly shall have power to increase the compensation of its own members. And when convened in extra session they shall receive the same mileage and per diem compensation, as fixed by law for the regular session, and none other.
- Sec. 26. No law of the General Assembly, passed at a regular session, of a public nature, shall take effect until the fourth day of July next after the passage thereof. Laws passed at a special session, shall take effect ninety days after the adjournment of the General Assembly by which they were passed. If the General Assembly shall deem any law of immediate importance, they may provide that the same shall take effect by publication in newspapers in the State.
  - Sec. 27. No divorce shall be granted by the General Assembly.
- Sec. 28. No lottery shall be authorized by this State; nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed.
- Sec. 29. Every act shall embrace but one subject, and matters properly connected therewith; which subject shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title.
- Sec. 30. The General Assembly shall not pass local or special laws in the following cases:
- For the assessment and collection of taxes for State, County, or road purposes;
- For laying out, opening, and working roads or highways;
- For changing the names of persons;
- For the incorporation of cities and towns;
- For vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys, or public squares;
- For locating or changing county seats.

In all the cases above enumerated, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general, and of uniform operation throughout the State; and no law changing the boundary lines of any county shall have effect until upon being submitted to the people of the counties affected by the change, at a general election, it shall be approved by a majority of the votes in each county, cast for and against it.

- Sec. 31. No extra compensation shall be made to any officer, public agent, or contractor, after the service shall have been rendered, or the contract entered into; nor, shall any money be paid on any claim, the subject matter of which shall not have been provided for by pre-existing laws, and no public money or property shall be appropriated for local, or private purposes, unless such appropriation, compensation, or claim, be allowed by two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly.
- Sec. 32. Members of the General Assembly shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I do solemnly swear, or affirm, (as the case may be,) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of Senator, (or Representative, as the case may be,) according to the best of my ability." And members of the General Assembly are hereby empowered to administer to each other the said oath or affirmation.
- Sec. 33. The General Assembly shall, in the years One thousand eight hundred and fifty nine, One thousand eight hundred and sixty three, One thousand eight hundred and sixty five, One thousand eight hundred and sixty seven, One thousand eight hundred and sixty nine, and One thousand eight hundred and seventy five, and every ten years thereafter, cause an enumeration to be made of all white12 inhabitants of the State.18

<sup>12</sup>The word "white" was stricken from this section by an amendment adopted in 1868. 13Section 33 was repealed by an amendment adopted in 1936.

- Sec. 34. The number of senators shall, at the next session following each period of making such enumeration, and the next session following each United States census, be fixed by law, and apportioned among the several counties, according to the number of white14 inhabitants in each.15
- [Sec. 34. The Senate shall be composed of fifty members to be elected from the several senatorial districts, established by law and at the next session of the general assembly held following the taking of the state and national census, they shall be apportioned among the several counties or districts of the state, according to population as shown by the last preceding census (, but no county shall be entitled to more than one (1) senator.) 16]17
- The Senate shall not consist of more than fifty members, nor the Sec. 35. House of Representatives of more than one hundred; and they shall be apportioned among the several counties and representative districts of the State, according to the number of white18 inhabitants in each, upon ratios to be fixed by law; but no representative district shall contain more than four organized counties, and each district shall be entitled to at least one representative. Every county and district which shall have a number of inhabitants equal to one-half of the ratio fixed by law, shall be entitled to one representative; and any one county containing in addition to the ratio fixed by law, one half of that number, or more, shall be entitled to one additional representative. No floating district shall hereafter be formed.15
- [Sec. 35. The house of representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and eight members. The ratio of representation shall be determined by dividing the whole number of the population of the state as shown by the last preceding state or national census, by the whole number of counties then existing or organized, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative, but each county having a population in excess of the ratio number, as herein provided of three fifths or more of such ratio number shall be entitled to one additional representative, but said addition shall extend only to the nine counties having the greatest population.]17
- Sec. 36. At its first session under this Constitution, and at every subsequent regular session, the General Assembly shall fix the ratio of representation, and also form into representative districts those counties which will not be entitled singly to a representative.15
- The general assembly shall, at the first regular session held fol-[Sec. 36. lowing the adoption of this amendment, and at each succeeding regular session held next after the taking of such census, fix the ratio of representation, and apportion the additional representatives, as hereinbefore required.]17
- Sec. 37. When a congressional, senatorial, or representative district shall be composed of two or more counties, it shall not be entirely separated by any county belonging to another district; and no county shall be divided in forming a congressional, senatorial, or representative district.
- Sec. 38. In all elections by the General Assembly, the members thereof shall vote viva voce and the votes shall be entered on the journal.

- Sec. 4. The persons respectively having the highest number of votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be declared duly elected; but in case two or more persons shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for either office, the General Assembly shall, by joint vote, forthwith proceed to elect one of said persons Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, as the case may be. [If, upon the completion of the canvass of votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor by the General Assembly, it shall appear that the person who received the highest number of votes for Governor has since died, resigned, is unable to qualify, fails to qualify, or for any other reason is unable to assume the duties of the office of Governor for the ensuing term, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the person who received the highest number of votes for Lieutenant Governor until the disability is removed and, upon inauguration, he shall assume the powers and duties of Governor.]<sup>19</sup>
- Sec. 5. Contested elections for Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, shall be determined by the General Assembly in such manner as may be prescribed by law.
- Sec. 6. No person shall be eligible to the office of Governor, or Lieutenant Governor, who shall not have been a citizen of the United States, and a resident of the State, two years next preceding the election, and attained the age of thirty years at the time of said election.
- Sec. 7. The Governor shall be commander in chief of the militia, the army, and navy of this State.
- Sec. S. He shall transact all executive business with the officers of government, civil and military, and may require information in writing from the officers of the executive department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.
  - Sec. 9. He shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed.
- Sec. 10. When any office shall, from any cause, become vacant, and no mode is provided by the Constitution and laws for filling such vacancy, the Governor shall have power to fill such vacancy, by granting a commission, which shall expire at the end of the next session of the General Assembly, or at the next election by the people.
- Sec. 11. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the General Assembly by proclamation, and shall state to both Houses, when assembled, the purpose for which they shall have been convened.
- Sec. 12. He shall communicate, by message, to the General Assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the State, and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient.
- Sec. 13. In case of disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, the Governor shall have power to adjourn the General Assembly to such time as he may think proper; but no such adjournment shall be beyond the time fixed for the regular meeting of the next General Assembly.
- Sec. 14. No person shall, while holding any office under the authority of the United States, or this State, execute the office of Governor, or Lieutenant Governor except as hereinafter expressly provided.
- Sec. 15. The official term of the Governor, and Lieutenant Governor, shall commence on the second Monday of January next after their election, and continue for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The Lieutenant Governor, while acting as Governor, shall receive the same pay as provided for Governor; and while presiding in the Senate, shall receive as compensation therefor, the same mileage and double the per diem pay provided for a Senator, and none other.
- Sec. 16. The Governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law. Upon conviction for treason, he shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence until the case shall be reported to the General Assembly at its next meeting, when the General Assembly shall either grant a pardon, commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. He shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and shall report to the General Assembly, at its next meeting, each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon granted, and the reason therefor; and also all persons in whose favor remission of fines and forfeiture shall have been made, and the several amounts remitted.

If the Governor fails for thirty days to make the appointment, it shall be made from such nominees by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. 128

[Sec. 16. There shall be a State Judicial Nominating Commission. Such commission shall make nominations to fill vacancies in the Supreme Court. Until July 4, 1973, and thereafter unless otherwise provided by law, the State Judicial Nominating Commission shall be composed and selected as follows: There shall be not less than three nor more than eight appointive members, as provided by law, and an equal number of elective members on such Commission, all of whom shall be electors of the state. The appointive members shall be appointed by the Governor subject to confirmation by the Senate. The elective members shall be elected by the resident members of the bar of the state. The judge of the Supreme Court who is senior in length of service on said Court, other than the Chief Justice, shall also be a member of such Commission and shall be its chairman.

[There shall be a District Judicial Nominating Commission in each judicial district of the state. Such commissions shall make nominations to fill vacancies in the District Court within their respective districts. Until July 4, 1973, and thereafter unless otherwise provided by law, District Judicial Nominating Commissions shall be composed and selected as follows: There shall be not less than three nor more than six appointive members, as provided by law, and an equal number of elective members on each such commission, all of whom shall be electors of the district. The appointive members shall be appointed by the Governor. The elective members shall be elected by the resident members of the bar of the district. The district judge of such district who is senior in length of service shall also be a member of such commission and shall be its chairman.

[Due consideration shall be given to area representation in the appointment and election of Judicial Nominating Commission members. Appointive and elective members of Judicial Nominating Commissions shall serve for six years, shall be ineligible for a second six year term on the same commission, shall hold no office of profit of the United States or of the state during their terms, shall be chosen without reference to political affiliation, and shall have such other qualifications as may be prescribed by law. As near as may be, the terms of one-third of such members shall expire every two years.]<sup>28</sup>

[Sec. 17. Members of all courts shall have such tenure in office as may be fixed by law, but terms of Supreme Court Judges shall be not less than eight years and terms of District Court Judges shall be not less than six years. Judges shall serve for one year after appointment and until the first day of January following the next judicial election after the expiration of such year. They shall at such judicial election stand for retention in office on a separate ballot which shall submit the question of whether such judge shall be retained in office for the tenure prescribed for such office and when such tenure is a term of years, on their request, they shall, at the judicial election next before the end of each term, stand again for retention on such ballot. Present Supreme Court and District Court Judges, at the expiration of their respective terms, may be retained in office in like manner for the tenure prescribed for such office. The General Assembly shall prescribe the time for holding judicial elections.]<sup>28</sup>

[Sec. 18. Judges of the Supreme Court and District Court shall receive salaries from the state, shall be members of the bar of the state and shall have such other qualifications as may be prescribed by law. Judges of the Supreme Court and District Court shall be ineligible to any other office of the state while serving on said court and for two years thereafter, except that District Judges shall be eligible to the office of Supreme Court Judge. Other judicial officers shall be selected in such manner and shall have such tenure, compensation and other qualifications as may be fixed by law. The General Assembly shall prescribe mandatory retirement for Judges of the Supreme Court and District Court at a specified age, and shall provide for adequate retirement compensation. Retired judges may be subject to special assignment to temporary judicial duties by the Supreme Court, as provided by law.]<sup>28</sup>

[The grand jury may consist of any number of members not less than five, nor more than fifteen, as the general assembly may by law provide, or the general assembly may provide for holding persons to answer for any criminal offense without the intervention of a grand jury.]<sup>29</sup>

Militia.

- Section 1. The militia of this State shall be composed of all able-bodied white 80 male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty five years, except such as are or may hereafter be exempt by the laws of the United States, or of this State, and shall be armed, equipped, and trained, as the General Assembly may provide by law.
- Sec. 2. No person or persons conscientiously scrupulous of bearing arms shall be compelled to do military duty in time of peace; provided, that such person or persons shall pay an equivalent for such exemption in the same manner as other citizens.
- Sec. 3. All commissioned officers of the militia, (staff officers excepted,) shall be elected by the persons liable to perform military duty, and shall be commissioned by the Governor.

Article VII.

State Debts.

- Section 1. The credit of the State shall not, in any manner, be given or loaned to, or in aid of, any individual, association, or corporation; and the State shall never assume, or become responsible for, the debts or liabilities of any individual, association, or corporation, unless incurred in time of war for the benefit of the State.
- Sec. 2. The State may contract debts to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debts, direct and contingent, whether contracted by virtue of one or more acts of the General Assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and the money arising from the creation of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever
- Sec. 3. All losses to the permanent, School, or University fund of this State, which shall have been occasioned by the defalcation, mismanagement or fraud of the agents or officers controlling and managing the same, shall be audited by the proper authorities of the State. The amount so audited shall be a permanent funded debt against the State, in favor of the respective fund, sustaining the loss, upon which not less than six per cent. annual interest shall be paid. The amount of liability so created shall not be counted as a part of the indebtedness authorized by the second section of this article.
- Sec. 4. In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the State may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the State in war; but the money arising from the debts so contracted shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.
- Sec. 5. Except the debts hereinbefore specified in this article, no debt shall be hereafter contracted by, or on behalf of this State, unless such debt shall be authorized by some law for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt, within twenty years from the time of the contracting thereof; but no such law shall take effect until at a general election it shall have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money raised by authority of such law, shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated, or to the payment of the debt created thereby; and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each County, if one is published therein, throughout the State, for three months preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people.

Sec. 6. The Legislature may, at any time, after the approval of such law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may, at any time, forbid the contracting of any further debt, or liability, under such law; but the tax imposed by such law, in proportion to the debt or liability, which may have been contracted in pursuance thereof, shall remain in force and be irrepealable, and be annually collected, until the principal and interest are full paid.

Sec. 7. Every law which imposes, continues, or revives a tax, shall distinctly state the tax, and the object to which it is to be applied; and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

[Sec. 8. All motor vehicle registration fees and all licenses and excise taxes on motor vehicle fuel, except cost of administration, shall be used exclusively for the construction, maintenance and supervision of the public highways exclusively within the state or for the payment of bonds issued or to be issued for the construction of such public highways and the payment of interest on such bonds.]31

Article VIII.

Corporations.

- Section 1. No corporation shall be created by special laws; but the General Assembly shall provide, by general laws, for the organization of all corporations hereafter to be created, except as hereinafter provided.
- Sec. 2. The property of all corporations for pecuniary profit, shall be subject to taxation, the same as that of individuals.
- Sec. 3. The State shall not become a stockholder in any corporation, nor shall it assume or pay the debt or liability of any corporation, unless incurred in time of war for the benefit of the State.
- Sec. 4. No political or municipal corporation shall become a stockholder in any banking corporation, directly or indirectly.
- Sec. 5. No act of the General Assembly, authorizing or creating corporations or associations with banking powers, nor amendments thereto shall take effect, or in any manner be in force, until the same shall have been submitted, separately, to the people, at a general or special election, as provided by law, to be held not less than three months after the passage of the act, and shall have been approved by a majority of all the electors voting for and against it at such election.
- Sec. 6. Subject to the provisions of the foregoing section, the General Assembly may also provide for the establishment of a State Bank with branches.
- Sec. 7. If a State Bank be established, it shall be founded on an actual specie basis, and the branches shall be mutually responsible for each other's liabilities upon all notes, bills, and other issues intended for circulation as money.
- Sec. 8. If a general Banking law shall be enacted, it shall provide for the registry and countersigning, by an officer of State, of all bills, or paper credit designed to circulate as money, and require security to the full amount thereof, to be deposited with the State Treasurer, in United States stocks, or in interest paying stocks of States in good credit and standing, to be rated at ten per cent. below their average value in the City of New York, for the thirty days next preceding their deposit; and in case of a depreciation of any portion of said stocks, to the amount of ten per cent. on the dollar, the bank or banks owning such stock shall be required to make up said deficiency by depositing additional stocks: and said law shall also provide for the recording of the names of all stockholders in such corporations, the amount of stock held by each, the time of any transfer, and to whom.
- Sec. 9. Every stockholder in a banking corporation or institution shall be individually responsible and liable to its creditors, over and above the amount of stock by him or her held, to an amount equal to his or her respective shares so held for all of its liabilities, accruing while he or she remains such stockholder.
- Sec. 10. In case of the insolvency of any banking institution, the bill-holders shall have a preference over its other creditors.
- Sec. 11. The suspension of specie payment by banking institutions shall never be permitted or sanctioned.

Sec. 12. Subject to the provisions of this article, the General Assembly shall have power to amend or repeal all laws for the organization or creation of corporations, or granting of special or exclusive privileges or immunities, by a vote of two thirds of each branch of the General Assembly; and no exclusive privileges, except as in this article provided, shall ever be granted.

Article IX.

Education and School Lands. 1st. Education.

Section 1. The educational interest of the State, including Common Schools and other educational institutions, shall be under the management of a Board of Education, 32 which shall consist of the Lieutenant Governor, who shall be the presiding officer of the Board, and have the casting vote in case of a tie, and one member to be elected from each judicial district in the State.

Sec. 2. No person shall be eligible as a member of said Board who shall not have attained the age of twenty five years, and shall have been one year a citizen of the State.

- Sec. 3. One member of said Board shall be chosen by the qualified electors of each district, and shall hold the office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. After the first election under this Constitution, the Board shall be divided, as nearly as practicable, into two equal classes, and the seats of the first class shall be excated after the expiration of two years; and one half of the Board shall be chosen every two years thereafter.
- Sec. 4. The first session of the Board of Education shall be held at the Seat of Government, on the first Monday of December, after their election; after which the General Assembly may fix the time and place of meeting.
- Sec. 5. The session of the Board shall be limited to twenty days, and but one session shall be held in any one year, except upon extraordinary occasions, when, upon the recommendation of two thirds of the Board, the Governor may order a special session.
- Sec. 6. The Board of Education shall appoint a Secretary, who shall be the executive officer of the Board, and perform such duties as may be imposed upon him by the Board, and the laws of the State. They shall keep a journal of their proceedings, which shall be published and distributed in the same manner as the journals of the General Assembly.
- Sec. 7. All rules and regulations made by the Board shall be published and distributed to the several Counties, Townships, and School Districts, as may be provided for by the Board, and when so made, published and distributed, they shall have the force and effect of law.
- Sec. 8. The Board of Education shall have full power and authority to legislate and make all needful rules and regulations in relation to Common Schools, and other educational institutions, that are instituted, to receive aid from the School or University fund of this State: but all acts, rules, and regulations of said Board may be altered, amended or repealed by the General Assembly; and when so altered, amended or repealed they shall not be re-enacted by the Board of Education.
- Sec. 9. The Governor of the State shall be, Ex OFFICIO, a member of said Board.
- Sec. 10. The Board shall have no power to levy taxes, or make appropriations of money. Their contingent expenses shall be provided for by the General Assembly.
- Sec. 11. The State University shall be established at one place without branches at any other place, and the University fund shall be applied to that Institution and no other.
- Sec. 12. The Board of Education shall provide for the education of all the youths of the State, through a system of Common Schools, and such schools shall be organized and kept in each school district at least three months in each year. Any district failing, for two successive years, to organize and keep up a school as aforesaid may be deprived of their portion of the school fund.
- Sec. 13. The members of the Board of Education shall each receive the same per diem during the time of their session, and mileage going to and returning therefrom, as members of the General Assembly.

Sec. 14. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but no rule, regulation, or law, for the government of Common Schools or other educational institutions, shall pass without the concurrence of a majority of all the members of the Board, which shall be expressed by the yeas and nays on the final passage. The style of all acts of the Board shall be, "Be it enacted by the Board of Education of the State of Iowa."

Sec. 15. At any time after the year One thousand eight hundred and sixty three, the General Assembly shall have power to abolish or re-organize said Board of Education, and provide for the educational interest of the State in any other manner that to them shall seem best and proper.

2nd. School Funds and School Lands.

Section 1. The educational and school funds and lands, shall be under the control and management of the General Assembly of this State.

Sec. 2. The University lands, and the proceeds thereof, and all monies belonging to said fund shall be a permanent fund for the sole use of the State University. The interest arising from the same shall be annually appropriated for the support and benefit of said University.

Sec. 3. The General Assembly shall encourage, by all suitable means, the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral, and agricultural improvement. The proceeds of all lands that have been, or hereafter may be, granted by the United States to this State, for the support of schools, which may have been, or shall hereafter be sold, or disposed of, and the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to the new States, under an act of Congress, distributing the proceeds of the public lands among the several States of the Union, approved in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty one, and all estates of deceased persons who may have died without leaving a will or heir, and also such per cent. as has been or may hereafter be granted by Congress, on the sale of lands in this State, shall be, and remain a perpetual fund. the interest of which, together with all rents of the unsold lands, and such other means as the General Assembly may provide, shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of Common Schools throughout the State.

Sec. 4. The money which may have been or shall be paid by persons as an equivalent for exemption from military duty, and the clear proceeds of all fines collected in the several Counties for any breach of the penal laws, shall be exclusively applied, in the several Counties in which such money is paid, or fine collected, among the several school districts of said Counties, in proportion to the number of youths subject to enumeration in such districts, to the support of Common Schools, or the establishment of libraries, as the Board of Educa-

Sec. 5. The General Assembly shall take measures for the protection, improvement, or other disposition of such lands as have been, or may hereafter be reserved, or granted by the United States, or any person or persons, to this State, for the use of the University, and the funds accruing from the rents or sale of such lands, or from any other source for the purpose aforesaid, shall be, and remain, a permanent fund, the interest of which shall be applied to the support of said University, for the promotion of literature, the arts and sciences, as may be authorized by the terms of such grant. And it shall be the duty of the General Assembly as soon as may be, to provide effectual means for the improvement and permanent security of the funds of said University.

Sec. 6. The financial agents of the school funds shall be the same, that by law, receive and control the State and county revenue for other civil purposes, under such regulations as may be provided by law.

Sec. 7. The money subject to the support and maintenance of common schools shall be distributed to the districts in proportion to the number of youths, between the ages of five and twenty-one years, in such manner as may be provided by the General Assembly.

Article X.

Amendments to the Constitution.

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either House of the General Assembly; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendment shall be entered on their journals, with the year and nays taken thereon, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election, and shall be published, as provided by law, for three months previous to the time of making such choice; and if, in the General Assembly so next chosen as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to, by a majority of all the members elected to each House, then it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people, in such manner, and at such time as the General Assembly shall provide; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, by a majority of the electors qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly, voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution of this State.

Sec. 2. If two or more amendments shall be submitted at the same time, they shall be submitted in such manner that the electors shall vote for or against each of such amendments separately.

Sec. 3. At the general election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and in each tenth year thereafter, and also at such times as the General Assembly may, by law, provide, the question, "Shall there be a Convention to revise the Constitution, and amend the same?" shall be decided by the electors qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly; and in case a majority of the electors so qualified, voting at such election, for and against such proposition, shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly, at its next session, shall provide by law for the election of delegates to such Convention.

Article XI.

Miscellaneous.

- Section 1. The jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace shall extend to all civil cases, (except cases in chancery, and cases where the question of title to real estate may arise,) where the amount in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars, and by the consent of parties may be extended to any amount not exceeding three hundred dollars.
- Sec. 2. No new County shall be hereafter created containing less than four hundred and thirty two square miles; nor shall the territory of any organized county be reduced below that area; except the County of Worth, and the counties west of it along the Northern boundary of this State, may be organized without additional territory.
- Sec. 3. No county, or other political or municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, in the aggregate, exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property within such county or corporation—to be ascertained by the last State and county tax lists, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.
- Sec. 4. The boundaries of the State may be enlarged, with the consent of Congress and the General Assembly.
- Sec. 5. Every person elected or appointed to any office, shall, before entering upon the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, and of this State, and also an oath of office.
- Sec. 6. In all cases of elections to fill vacancies in office occurring before the expiration of a full term, the person so elected shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term; and all persons appointed to fill vacancies in office, shall hold until the next general election, and until their successors are elected and unalified.
- Sec. 7. The General Assembly shall not locate any of the public lands, which have been, or may be granted by Congress to this State, and the location of which may be given to the General Assembly, upon lands actually settled, without the consent of the occupant. The extent of the claim of such occupant, so exempted, shall not exceed three hundred and twenty acres.
- so exempted, shall not exceed three hundred and twenty acres.

  Sec. S. The seat of Government is hereby permanently established, as now fixed by law at the City of Des Moines, in the County of Polk; and the State University, at Iowa City, in the County of Johnson.

Article XII.

Schedule.

Section 1. This Constitution shall be the supreme law of the State, and any law inconsistent therewith, shall be void. The General Assembly shall pass all laws necessary to carry this Constitution into effect.

Sec. 2. All laws now in force and not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall remain in force until they shall expire or be repealed.

Sec. 3. All indictments, prosecutions, suits, pleas, plaints, process, and other proceedings pending in any of the courts, shall be prosecuted to final judgment and execution; and all appeals, writs of error, certiorari, and injunctions, shall be carried on in the several courts, in the same manner as now provided by law; and all offences, misdemeanors, and crimes that may have been committed before the taking effect of this Constitution, shall be subject to indictment, trial and punishment, in the same manner as they would have been, had not this Constitution been made.

- Sec. 4. All fines, penalties, or forfeitures due, or to become due, or accruing to the State, or to any County therein, or to the school fund, shall inure to the State, county, or school fund, in the manner prescribed by law.
- Sec. 5. All bonds executed to the State, or to any officer in his official capacity, shall remain in force and inure to the use of those concerned.
- Sec. 6. The first election under this Constitution shall be held on the second Tuesday in October, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, at which time the electors of the State shall elect the Governor and Lleutenant Governor. There shall also be elected at such election, the successors of such State Senators as were elected at the August election, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, and members of the House of Representatives, who shall be elected in accordance with the act of apportionment, enacted at the session of the General Assembly which commenced on the first Monday of December One thousand eight hundred and fifty six.
- Sec. 7. The first election for Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, Attorney General, District Judges, Members of the Board of Education, District Attorneys, members of Congress, and such State officers as shall be elected at the April election, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, (except the Superintendent of Public Instruction,) and such county officers as were elected at the August election, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty six, except Prosecuting Attorneys, shall be held on the second Tuesday of October, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight: PROVIDED, That the time for which any District Judge or other State or County officer elected at the April election in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, shall not extend beyond the time fixed for filling like offices at the October election in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.
- Sec. 8. The first election for Judges of the Supreme Court, and such County officers as shall be elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty seven, shall be held on the second Tuesday of October, in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty nine.
- Sec. 9. The first regular session of the General Assembly shall be held in the year One thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, commencing on the second Monday of January of said year.
- Sec. 10. Senators elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, shall continue in office until the second Tuesday of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty nine, at which time their successors shall be elected as may be prescribed by law.
- Sec. 11. Every person elected by popular vote, by a vote of the General Assembly, or who may hold office by executive appointment, which office is continued by this Constitution, and every person who shall be so elected or appointed, to any such office, before taking effect of this Constitution, (except as in this Constitution otherwise provided,) shall continue in office until the term for which such person has been or may be elected or appointed shall expire; but no such person shall continue in office after the taking effect of this Constitution, for a longer period than the term of such office, in this Constitution prescribed.
- Sec. 12. The General Assembly, at the first session under this Constitution, shall district the State into eleven Judicial Districts, for District Court purposes; and shall also provide for the apportionment of the members of the General Assembly, in accordance with the provisions of this Constitution.
- Sec. 12. This Constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the State at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, in the several election districts in this State. The ballots at such election shall be written or printed as follows: Those in favor of the Constitution, "New Constitution—Yes." Those against the Constitution, "New Constitution—No." The election shall be conducted in the same manner as the general elections of the State, and the poll-books shall be returned and canvassed as provided in the twenty-fifth chapter of the code, and abstracts shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State, which abstracts shall be canvassed in the manner provided for the canvass of State officers. And if it shall appear that a majority of all the votes cast at such election for and against this Constitution are in favor of the same, the Governor shall immediately issue his proclamation stating that fact, and such Constitution shall be the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and shall take effect from and after the publication of said proclamation.

Sec. 14. At the same election that this Constitution is submitted to the people for its adoption or rejection, a proposition to amend the same by striking out the word "white" from the article on the Right of Suffrage, shall be separately submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection in the manner following—Namely: A separate ballot may be given by every person having a right to vote at said election, to be deposited in a separate box; and those given for the adoption of such proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word "White' be stricken out of the Article on the Right of Suffrage? Yes." And those given against the proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word "White' be stricken out of the Article on the Right of Suffrage? No." And if at said election the number of ballots cast in favor of said proposition shall be equal to a majority of those cast for and against this Constitution, then said word "White" shall be stricken from said Article and be no part thereof.85

Sec. 15. Until otherwise directed by law, the County of Mills shall be in and a part of the sixth Judicial District of this State.

[Sec. 16. The first general election after the adoption of this amendment shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and general elections shall be held biennially thereafter. In the year one thousand nine hundred and six there shall be elected a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state, attorney general, two judges of the supreme court, the successors of the judges of the district court whose terms of office expire on December 31st, one thousand nine hundred and six, state senators who would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, and members of the house of representatives. The terms of office of the judges of the supreme court which would otherwise expire on December 31st, in odd numbered years, and all other elective state, county and township officers whose terms of office would otherwise expire in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and members of the general assembly whose successors would otherwise be chosen at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The terms of offices of senators whose successors would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The general assembly shall make such changes in the law governing the time of election and term of office of all other elective officers as shall be necessary to make the time of their election and term of office conform to this amendment, and shall provide which of the judges of the supreme court shall serve as chief justice. The general assembly shall meet in regular session on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and also on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven, and biennially thereafter.]34

Amendment of 188287

Add as section 26 to article I of said constitution the following: Section 26. No person shall manufacture for sale, or sell, or keep for sale, as a beverage any intoxicating liquors whatever, including ale, wine and beer. The general assembly shall by law prescribe regulations for the enforcement of the prohibition herein contained, and shall thereby provide suitable penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.

Amendments of 1884<sup>38</sup>

Amendment 1. The general election for state, district county and township officers shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November.

Amendment 2. At any regular session of the general assembly, the state may be divided into the necessary judicial districts for district court purposes, or the said districts may be reorganized and the number of the districts and the judges of said courts increased or diminished; but no reorganization of the districts or diminution of the judges shall have the effect of removing a judge from office. Amendment 3. The grand jury may consist of any number of members not

vide, or the general assembly may provide for holding persons to answer for any criminal offense without the intervention of a grand jury.

Amendment 4. That section 13 of article 5 of the constitution be stricken therefrom, and the following adopted as such section. SECTION 13. The qualified electors of each county shall, at the general election in the year 1886, and every two years thereafter elect a county attorney, who shall be a resident of the county for which he is elected, and shall hold his office for two years, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

Amendments of 1904<sup>30</sup>

Add as section 16, to Article XII of the constitution, the following:

SECTION 16. The first general election after the adoption of this amendment shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and general elections shall be held biennially thereafter. In the year one thousand nine hundred and six there shall be elected a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state, attorney general, two judges of the supreme court, the successors of the judges of the district court whose terms of office expire on December 31st, one thousand nine hundred and six, state senators who would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, and members of the house of representatives. The terms of office of the judges of the supreme court which would otherwise expire on December 31st, in odd numbered years, and all other elective state, county and township officers whose terms of office would otherwise expire in January in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and members of the general assembly whose successors would otherwise be chosen at the general election in the year one thousand nine hundred and five, are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The terms of offices of senators whose successors would otherwise be chosen in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven are hereby extended one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The general assembly shall make such changes in the law governing the time of election and term of office of all other elective officers as shall be necessary to make the time of their election and terms of office conform to this amendment, and shall provide which of the judges of the supreme court shall serve as chief justice. The general assembly shall meet in regular session on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, and also on the second Monday in January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and seven, and biennially thereafter.

That sections thirty-four (34), thirty-five (35) and thirty-six (36) of article three (3) of the constitution of the state of Iowa, be repealed and the following be adopted in lieu thereof:

SEC. 34 The senate shall be composed of fifty members to be elected from the several senatorial districts, established by law and at the next session of the general assembly held following the taking of the state and national census, they shall be apportioned among the several counties or districts of the state, according to population as shown by the last preceding census.

SEC. 35. The house of representatives shall consist of not more than one hundred and eight members. The ratio of representation shall be determined by dividing the whole number of the population of the state as shown by the last preceding state or national census, by the whole number of counties then existing or organized, but each county shall constitute one representative district and be entitled to one representative, but each county having a population in excess of the ratio number, as herein provided of three fifths or more of such ratio number shall be entitled to one additional representative, but said addition shall extend only to the nine counties having the greatest population.

SEC. 36. The general assembly shall, at the first regular session held following the adoption of this amendment, and at each succeeding regular session held next after the taking of such census, fix the ratio of representation, and apportion the additional representatives, as hereinbefore required.

Amendment of 1908<sup>40</sup>

That there be added to section eighteen (18) of article one (1) of the constitution of the state of Iowa, the following:

"The general assembly, however, may pass laws permitting the owners of lands to construct drains, ditches, and levees for agricultural, sanitary or mining purposes across the lands of others, and provide for the organization of drainage districts, vest the proper authorities with power to construct and maintain levees, drains and ditches and to keep in repair all drains, ditches, and levees heretofore constructed under the laws of the state, by special assessments upon the property benefited thereby. The General Assembly may provide by law for the condemnation of such real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and maintenance of such drains, ditches and levees, and prescribe the method of making such condemnation."

Amendment of 1916<sup>41</sup>

To repeal section seven (7) of article two (2) of the constitution of Iowa and to adopt in lieu thereof the following. to wit:

Amendment of 196247

Article Five (V) is amended in the following manner:

- 1. Section four (4) is amended by striking from lines eight (8) and nine (9) of such section the words, "exercise a supervisory" and inserting in lieu thereof the words, "shall exercise a supervisory and administrative."
  - 2. Sections three (3), five (5), nine (9) and eleven (11) are repealed.
  - 3. The following sections are added thereto:

"Section 15. Vacancies in the Supreme Court and District Court shall be filled by appointment by the Governor from lists of nominees submitted by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. Three nominees shall be submitted for each Supreme Court vacancy, and two nominees shall be submitted for each District Court vacancy. If the Governor fails for thirty days to make the appointment, it shall be made from such nominees by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

"Section 16. There shall be a State Judicial Nominating Commission. Such commission shall make nominations to fill vacancies in the Supreme Court. Until July 4, 1973, and thereafter unless otherwise provided by law, the State Judicial Nominating Commission shall be composed and selected as follows: There shall be not less than three nor more than eight appointive members, as provided by law, and an equal number of elective members on such Commission, all of whom shall be electors of the state. The appointive members shall be appointed by the Governor subject to confirmation by the Senate. The elective members shall be elected by the resident members of the bar of the state. The judge of the Supreme Court who is senior in length of service on said court, other than the Chief Justice, shall also be a member of such Commission and shall be its chairman.

"There shall be a District Judicial Nominating Commission in each judicial district of the state. Such commissions shall make nominations to fill vacancies in the District Court within their respective districts. Until July 4, 1973, and thereafter unless otherwise provided by law, District Judicial Nominating Commissions shall be composed and selected as follows: There shall be not less than three nor more than six appointive members, as provided by law, and an equal number of elective members on each such commission, all of whom shall be electors of the district. The appointive members shall be appointed by the Governor. The elective members shall be elected by the resident members of the bar of the district. The district judge of such district who is senior in length of service shall also be a member of such commission and shall be its chairman.

Judges of the Supreme Court and District Court shall receive salaries from the state, shall be members of the bar of the state and shall have such other qualifications as may be prescribed by law. Judges of the Supreme Court and District Court shall be ineligible to any other office of the state while serving on said court and for two years thereafter, except that District Judges shall be eligible to the office of Supreme Court Judge. Other judicial officers shall be selected in such manner and shall have such tenure, compensation and other qualification as may be fixed by law. The General Assembly shall prescribe mandatory retirement for Judges of the Supreme Court and District Court at a specified age and shall provide for adequate retirement compensation. Retired judges shall be subject to special assignment to temporary judicial duties by the Supreme Court, as provided by law."

The Declaration of Independence

The Unanimous Declaration of the Thirteen United States of America

WHEN in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.-We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness .-That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.-Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an and usurpations, an inaving in united suppose that it is a submitted to a candid world.—He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden to the submitted and pressing importance. his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them .-He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.-He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the meantime exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.—He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands—He has obstructed the Administration of Linking by refusing of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.—He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies, without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:-For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:-For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offenses:—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:—For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever:—He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our Brittish brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.--

WE, THEREFORE, the REPRESENTATIVES of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.—And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

The Senate shall chuse their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the Concurrence of two thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor. Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

Section 4. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations, except as to the Places of chusing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every Year, and such Meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different Day.

[The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3rd day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.]

Section 5. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.

Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behaviour, and, with the Concurrence of two thirds, expel a Member.

Each House shall keep a Journal of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such Parts as may in their Judgment require Secrecy; and the Yeas and Nays of the Members of either House on any question shall, at the Desire of one fifth of those Present, be entered on the Journal.

Neither House, during the Session of Congress, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

Section 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a Compensation for their Services, to be ascertained by Law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall in all Cases, except Treason, Felony and Breach of the Peace, be privileged from Arrest during their Attendance at the Session of their respective Houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any Speech or Debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other Place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the Time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil Office under the Authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the Emoluments whereof shall have been encreased during such time; and no Person holding any Office under the United States, shall be a Member of either House during his Continuance in Office.

Section 7. All Bills for raising Revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments as on other Bills.

Every Bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate, shall, before it become a Law, be presented to the President of the United States; If he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his Objections to that House in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the Objections at large on their Journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such Reconsideration two thirds of that House shall agree to pass the Bill, it shall be sent, together with the Objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two thirds of that House, it shall become a Law. But in all such Cases the Votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and Nays, and the Names of the Persons voting for and against the Bill shall be entered on the Journal of each House respectively. If any Bill shall not be returned by the President within ten Days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the Same shall be a Law, in like Manner as if he had signed it, unless the Congress by their Adjournment prevent its Return in which Case it shall not be a Law.

Every Order, Resolution, or Vote to which the Concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of Adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the Same shall take Effect, shall be approved by him, or being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the Rules and Limitations prescribed in the Case of a Bill.

Section 8. The Congress shall have Power To lay and collect Taxes, Dutles, Imposts and Excises, to pay the Debts and provide for the common Defence and general Welfare of the United States; but all Dutles, Imposts and Excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow Money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian Tribes;

To establish an uniform Rule of Naturalization, and uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcles throughout the United States;

To coin Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures;

To provide for the Punishment of counterfeiting the Securities and current Coin of the United States;

To establish Post Offices and post Roads;

To promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts, by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Discoveries;

To constitute Tribunals inferior to the supreme Court;

To define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offences against the Law of Nations;

To declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water;

To raise and support Armies, but no Appropriation of Money to that Use shall be for a longer Term than two Years;

To provide and maintain a Navy;

To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces;

To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the Laws of the Union, suppress Insurrections and repel Invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the Militia, and for governing such Part of them as may be employed in the Service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively, the Appointment of the Officers, and the Authority of training the Militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of Congress, become the Seat of Government of the United States, and to exercise like Authority over all Places purchased by the Consent of the Legislature of the State in which the Same shall be, for the Erection of Forts, Magazines, Arsenals, dock Yards, and other needful Buildings;—And

To make all Laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers, and all other Powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof.

Section 9. The Migration or Importation of such Persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit, shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the Year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a Tax or duty may be imposed on such Importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each Person.

The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.

No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.

No Capitation, or other direct, Tax shall be laid, unless in Proportion to the Census or Enumeration herein before directed to be taken.

(The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.]<sup>8</sup>

No Tax or Duty shall be laid on Articles exported from any State.

No Preference shall be given by any Regulation of Commerce or Revenue to the Ports of one State over those of another: nor shall Vessels bound to, or from, one State, be obliged to enter, clear, or pay Duties in another.

No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Exenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

and Exenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.

No Title of Nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no Person holding any Office of Profit or Trust under them, shall, without the Consent of the Congress, accept of any present, Emolument, Office, or Title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince or foreign State.

Section 10. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bills of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.

No State shall, without the Consent of the Congress, lay any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing it's Inspection Laws: and the net Produce of all Duties and Imposts, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Controul of the Congress.

No State shall, without the Consent of Congress, lay any Duty of Tonnage, keep Troops, or Ships of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not admit of delay.

[All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the Jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.]9

Article II.

Section 1. The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, be elected as follows: Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a Number of Electors, equal to the whole Number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress: but no Senator or Representative, or Person holding an office of Trust or Profit under the United States, shall be appointed an Elector.

The Electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by Ballot for two Persons, of whom one at least shall not be an Inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a List of all the Persons voted for, and of the Number of Votes for each; which List they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the Seat of Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the Presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the Certificates, and the Votes shall then be counted. The Person having the greatest Number of Votes shall be the President, if such Number be a Majority of the whole Number of Electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such Majority, and have an equal Number of Votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately chuse by Ballot one of them for President; and if no Person have a Majority, then from the five highest on the List the said House shall in like Manner chuse the President. But in chusing the President, the Votes shall be taken by States, the Representation from each State having one Vote; a quorum for this Purpose shall consist of a Member or Members from two thirds of the States, and a Majority of all the States shall be necessary to a Choice. In every Case, after the Choice of the President, the Person having the greatest Number of Votes of the Electors shall be the Vice President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal Votes, the Senate shall chuse from them by Ballot the Vice President.10

[The Electors shall meet in their respective states, and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice President, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit scaled to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate; The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates and the votes shall then be counted;-The person having the greatest number of votes for President, shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest number not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose, immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states, and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President.11 The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-president, shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of Electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice President of the United States. 112

The Congress may determine the Time of chusing the Electors, and the Day on which they shall give their Votes; which Day shall be the same throughout the United States.

[The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3d day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.

[If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, the Vice President elect shall have failed to qualified:

and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.

[The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.]<sup>12</sup>

No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.<sup>14</sup>

In Case of the Removal of the President from Office, or of his Death, Resignation, or Inability to discharge the Powers and Duties of the said Office, the Same shall devolve on the Vice President, and the Congress may by Law provide for the Case of Removal, Death, Resignation or Inability, both of the President and Vice President, declaring what Officer shall then act as President, and such Officer shall act accordingly, until the Disability be removed, or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated Times, receive for his Services, a Compensation, which shall neither be encreased nor diminished during the Period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that Period any other Emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enter on the Execution of his Office, he shall taken the following Oath or Affirmation:—"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Section 2. The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, when called into the actual Service of the United States; he may require the Opinion, in writing, of the principal Officer in each of the executive Departments, upon any Subject relating to the Duties of their respective Offices, and he shall have Power to grant Reprieves and Pardons for Offences against the United States, except in Cases of Impeachment.

He shall have Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, shall appoint Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, Judges of the supreme Court, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by Law: but the Congress may by Law vest the Appointment of such inferior Officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the Courts of Law, or in the Heads of Departments.

The President shall have Power to fill up all Vacancies that may happen during the Recess of the Senate, by granting Commissions which shall expire at the End of their next Session.

Section 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their Consideration such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may, on extraordinary Occasions, convene both Houses, or either of them, and in Case of Disagreement between them, with Respect to the Time of Adjournment, he may adjourn them to such Time as he shall think proper; he shall receive Ambassadors and other public Ministers; he shall take Care that the Laws be faithfully executed, and shall Commission all the Officers of the United States.

Section 4. The President, Vice President and all civil Officers of the United States, shall be removed from Office on Impeachment for, and Conviction of, Treason, Bribery, or other high Crimes and Misdemeanors.

<sup>18</sup>The three paragraphs within the brackets were added by Sections 1, 3, and 4 of Amendment XX.

Article III.

Section 1. The judicial Power of the United States, shall be vested in one supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behavior, and shall, at stated Times, receive for their Services, a Compensation, which shall not be diminished during their Continuance in Office.

Section 2. The judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties made, or which shall be made, under their Authority;—to all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls;—to all Cases of admiralty and maritime Jurisdiction;—to Controversies to which the United States shall be a Party;—to Controversies between two or more States;—between a State and Citizens of another State;—between Citizens of different States;—between Citizens of the same State claiming Lands under Grants of different States, and between a State, or the Citizens thereof, and foreign States, Citizens or Subjects.

[The Judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by Citizens of another State, or by Citizens or Subjects of any foreign State.]15

In all Cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction. In all the other Cases before mentioned, the supreme Court shall have appellate Jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such Exceptions, and under such Regulations as the Congress shall make.

The Trial of all Crimes, except in Cases of Impeachment, shall be by Jury; and such Trial shall be held in the State where the said Crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the Trial shall be at such Place or Places as the Congress may by Law have directed.

Section 8. Treason against the United States, shall consist only in Levying War against them, or in adhering to their Enemies, giving them Aid and Comfort. No person shall be convicted of Treason unless on the Testimony of two Witnesses to the same overt Act, or on Confession in open Court.

The Congress shall have Power to declare the Punishment of Treason, but no Attainder of Treason shall work Corruption of Blood, or Forfeiture except during the Life of the Person attainted.

Article IV.

Section 1. Full Faith and Credit shall be given in each State to the public Acts, Records, and judicial Proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general Laws prescribe the Manner in which such Acts, Records and Proceedings shall be proved, and the Effect thereof.

Section 2. The Citizens of each State shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of Citizens in the several States.

A Person charged in any State with Treason, Felony, or other Crime, who shall flee from Justice, and be found in another State, shall on Demand of the executive Authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having Jurisdiction of the Crime.

No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due.16

Section 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the Junction of two or more States, or Parts of States, without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Section 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence.

15This is Amendment XI.

Article V.

The Congress, whenever two thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution, or, on the Application of the Legislature of two thirds of the several States, shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments, which, in either Case, shall be valid to all Intents and Purposes, as Part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Legislatures of three fourths of the several States, or by Conventions in three fourths thereof, as the one or the other Mode of Ratification may be proposed by the Congress; Provided that no Amendment which may be made prior to the Year One thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any Manner affect the first and fourth Clauses in the Ninth Section of the first Article; and that no State, without its Consent, shall be deprived of it's equal Suffrage in the Senate.

Article VI.

All Debts contracted and Engagements entered into, before the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution, as under the Confederation.

[The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.]17

This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation. to support this Constitution; but no religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to any Office or public Trust under the United States.

Article VII.

The Ratification of the Convention of nine States, shall be sufficient for the Establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the Same.

<sup>25</sup> Amendment AII was proposed by Congress on December 12, 1803, and on September 25, 1804, the Secretary of State proclaimed it to have been duly ratified. The amendment superseded the third paragraph of the first section of Article II. The words in italics were rendered inoperative when Amendment XX changed the date of inauguration.

21Amendment XIII, the first of the three Civil War amendments, was proposed by Congress on February 1, 1865, and its ratification was proclaimed by the Secretary of State on December 18, 1865.

of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath, as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House remove such disability.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Section 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.<sup>22</sup>

Article XV.

Section 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Section 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.<sup>23</sup>

Article XVI.

The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.<sup>24</sup>

Article XVII.

The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any State in the Senate, the executive authority of such State shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies: Provided, That the legislature of any State may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any Senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.<sup>25</sup>

Article XVIII.

Section 1. After one year from the ratification of this article the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

State proclaimed its ratification on March 30, 1870.

24Amendment XVI, in effect an exception to the fourth paragraph of Section 9 of Article I, was proposed by Congress on July 12, 1909, and proclaimed duly ratified on February 25, 1913.

25 Amendment XVII was proposed by Congress on May 16, 1912, and proclaimed duly ratified on May 31, 1912. It is a substitute for the first two paragraphs in Section 3 of Article I.

<sup>23</sup>Amendment XV was proposed by Congress on February 27, 1869, and the Secretary of Section 2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.26

Article XIX.

The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.27

Article XX.

- Section 1. The terms of the President and Vice President shall end at noon on the 20th day of January, and the terms of Senators and Representatives at noon on the 3rd day of January, of the years in which such terms would have ended if this article had not been ratified; and the terms of their successors shall then begin.
- Section 2. The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall begin at noon on the 3rd day of January, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.
- If, at the time fixed for the beginning of the term of the President, the President elect shall have died, the Vice President elect shall become President. If a President shall not have been chosen before the time fixed for the beginning of his term, or if the President elect shall have failed to qualify, then the Vice President elect shall act as President until a President shall have qualified; and the Congress may by law provide for the case wherein neither a President elect nor a Vice President elect shall have qualified, declaring who shall then act as President, or the manner in which one who is to act shall be selected, and such person shall act accordingly until a President or Vice President shall have qualified.
- Section 4. The Congress may by law provide for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the House of Representatives may choose a President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them, and for the case of the death of any of the persons from whom the Senate may choose a Vice President whenever the right of choice shall have devolved upon them.
- Section 5. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect on the 15th day of October following the ratification of this article.
- Section 6. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission.28

Article XXI.

- Section 1. The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.
- Section 2. The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited.
- Section 8. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by convention in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.29 not to the State Legislatures.

<sup>26</sup>Amendment XVIII was proposed by Congress on December 17, 1917, and proclaimed duly ratified on January 29, 1919. It was repealed by Amendment XXI, adopted in 1932.

27Amendment XIX was proposed by Congress on June 5, 1919, and proclaimed duly ratified on August 26, 1920. It is, in effect, an addition to the fifteenth Amendment.

28Amendment XX was proposed by Congress on March 2, 1932, and was proclaimed duly ratified on February 6, 1933. It superseded provisions in Section 4 of Article I and Section 1 of Article II.

29Amendment XXI was proposed by Congress on February 20, 1933, and proclaimed duly ratified on December 5, 1933. It was submitted for ratification by convention and not to the State Legislatures.

Article XXII.

Section 1. No person shall be elected to the office of the President more than twice, and no person who has held the office of President, or acted as President, for more than two years of a term to which some other person was elected President shall be elected to the office of the President more than once. But this Article shall not apply to any person holding the office of President when this Article was proposed by the Congress, and shall not prevent any person who may be holding the office of President, or acting as President, during the term within which this Article becomes operative from holding the office of President or acting as President during the remainder of such term.

Section 2. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission to the States by the Congress.<sup>30</sup>

<sup>30</sup>Amendment XXII was proposed by Congress on March 4, 1947, and proclaimed duly ratified on March 1, 1951. It is in effect an addition to Article II of the Constitution.

IOWA'S CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

To serve in defense of one's country is the ultimate affirmation of citizenship. In all of our national wars, Iowans have served with valor, accepting without question the hardships of battle and the dangers, but never have Iowans served with greater dedication to our national principles than in the war between the north and the south which was fought to maintain the fundamental precepts of our country's founding.

It is therefore appropriate that during the centennial commemoration of the Civil War, Iowans should give mature thought to that war's significance in the shaping of our lives and ponder the contribution of those men and women who "gave the last full measure of devotion" that our form of government might survive.

One hundred years ago more than seventy-five thousand Iowans died that our democratic institutions might endure. The most profound recognition of that sacrifice that we can accord this centennial commemoration is to solemnly dedicate our lives to a continuing protection of the institutions for which these men died, and to bring to our problems today, the same loyal dedication which they brought to the overwhelming task which confronted them.

To further this objective, the Sixtieth General Assembly directed that a digest of Iowa during the years of 1861 to 1865 be prepared by the Iowa Civil War Centennial Commission and included in the Iowa Official Register.

Senator JOSEPH B. FLATT, Chairman

Iowa in the Civil War

By Edith Wasson McElroy, Executive Secretary

IOWA CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

Iowa had not yet celebrated its fifteenth year of statehood when the Civil War began. The state's population centered along the Mississippi River and across the southern and central areas of the state.

Maj. Gen. Samuel R. Curtis

In the census of 1860, one county (Osceola) did not report a single inhabitant. O'Brien listed eight. Of a total population of 675,000, 116,000 men were subject to military duty. Percentagewise, Iowa contributed more men to the Civil War military services than did any other state, north or south. More than 75,000 volunteers were sent to the armed forces, over one-sixth of whom were in their graves before Appomattox.

Forty-eight infantry regiments, nine cavalry regiments, and four batteries of artillery were organized during the four years of fighting. Almost one-half the eligible male population in Iowa bore arms, a record that has never been exceeded in any war since.

Iowa had four major generals, Dodge, Curtis, Steele, Herron, and a long list of

prominence following the war.

Our troops fought at Wilson's Creek in Missouri, Pea Ridge in Arkansas, Forts Henry and Donelson, Shiloh, Chattanooga, Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge and Rossville Gap. They were at Vicksburg, Iuka and Corinth. They were with the Army of the Potomac in Virginia and fought under Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley. They were buried at Andersonville. They marched on General Banks' ill-starred expedition to the Red River. They marched and countermarched, skirmished and fought across every southern state.

Twenty-seven Iowans won the Congressional Medal of Honor, first awarded in the Civil War.

Few Iowa soldiers were native born. They came from Pennsylvania and New England, New York, Ohio and Indiana. Small southern farmers unable to compete with the great slaveholders followed the Mississippi River to Iowa and their sons wore the Union blue. Many soldiers were immigrants from foreign lands. Scarcely a state or a nation but was represented on Iowa's Civil War roster.

Iowa's First War Governor

Samuel Kirkwood came to Iowa in 1854. The son of a Maryland farmer, he lived in a log cabin pre-dating the Revolution until he was ten years old. He was then sent to Washington to school. When he was twenty years old, the family moved west, traveling by covered wagon to Ohio. In 1856 Kirkwood was a delegate to the convention which organized the new Republican party in Iowa and from that time on his name was prominent in party circles.

Difficulties beyond those confronting any other Iowa governor awaited Kirkwood when he journeyed in an old Concord stage, wallowing through snowdrifts to Iowa's new capitol. Des Moines in 1860 was a shabby frontier town of less than 3,000 inhabitants. The new statehouse was more than a mile from hotels, with streets little more than wagon tracks through the swampy river bottom leading up to it. The new governor had no aides, no staff, not even a private secretary. Typewriters were unknown. With the help of friends who volunteered their services, Kirkwood answered by hand the voluminous correspondence that came to his desk.

When the tidal wave of war rolled over the state, Kirkwood was faced with providing equipment and supplies for the thousands of volunteers who poured into the crude camps. In May, 1861, the general assembly voted $800,000 worth of bonds, a tremendous sum for those days. Selling the bonds was not so easy. The state was in debt. Taxes were delinquent. The people were impoverished by the debacle of the late fifties. To buy guns, the governor pledged his personal resources. With no guarantee of repayment, the state's banks came to his aid. Private citizens loaned thousands of dollars. Railroads carried soldiers without cost. Farmers gave food. The communities uniformed their companies. Democrats forgetting party animosities joined with Republicans in advancing the Union cause. Southern sympathizers were silent. Newspapers wrote of little else than the war. Ministers preached that to serve the Lord was to serve the state. And by the thousands Iowa's young men volunteered.

When Governor Kirkwood visited President-elect Lincoln in Springfield and told him, "Iowa will not be frightened into abandoning its principles," he spoke truly. Iowa was excited by the unhappy state of the Union, but would never consent to its dissolution. Dissenters existed but they were an impotent minority.

On President Lincoln's first call for volunteers, the state's quota of ten companies was mustered six days before the official date. The second call was filled so promptly that the Second Regiment preceded the First into the field by a day. The Mississippi River was the great throughway to the south down which Iowa's troops moved by river packet. Naturally the first camps sprang up along its banks. Communications throughout the state were slow and centralization of training centers was imperative. From three to five days were required for a letter to reach Des Moines from Keokuk. Papers of the Burlington Hawk-Eye were carried from Eddyville to Des Moines, a distance of 75 miles, by "pony express."

Volunteers were abundant, but not guns. April 29, 1861, Kirkwood wrote to the secretary of war in Washington: "For God's sake send us arms. I ask for nothing but arms and ammunition—we have the men to use them. Three regiments are waiting and five thousand guns are required at once." Meanwhile the men drilled with brooms. At Shiloh, Old Spring house at Camp Harlan. Soldiers' initials whittled in its stone walls are plainly visible.

I owa regiments marched from river boat to battlefield to load their guns for the first time under enemy fire.

The first camps were bleak and crude, with little thought of sanitation or physical comfort. As the war dragged on, some camps took on permanence with rude buildings of rough boards. Other camps were rows of tents, which vanished when the troops marched to bloom out, again when a new contingent arrived.

Military Organization

The regiment was the unit of command, its colonel named by the governor. Despite the political overtone, the average ability of officers was high. Mistakes in their selection were made, but in the field the unfit officer soon disappeared. A certificate of sobriety was required by the governor from all elected officers; even so, drunkenness as well as incompetency occurred. Permitting the men to elect their officers was not always successful from a military viewpoint. It did have one noteworthy advantage; the elected officer had the respect and liking of his men, important in the civilian army. Few field or staff officers had previous military experience. The Civil War officer learned his trade on the march and on the battlefield. The majority of the officers, high and low, were community and state leaders before the war. They were sincere and honest men fighting for a cause in which they believed.

As was that of the governor, the adjutant general's office was overwhelmed. Soon after Bull Run, Kirkwood appointed Nathaniel B. Baker to the post. Baker was no tyro in executive matters. A graduate of Harvard, he studied law in the office of Franklin Pierce. In New Hampshire, his native state, he served as a journalist, clerk of the court, member of the legislature, twice speaker of the house, and finally governor.

Kirkwood and Baker were a strong team. Both men were high level executives with deep concern for Iowa's troops. Arbitrary rules, mistreatment, arrogance, brought quick and vigorous attention from the governor and adjutant general. So efficient was Baker's conduct of his office, that it was cited by the War Department as the ideal for that of adjutant general.

Internal Dissension

While as a state Iowa stood staunchly by the Union, it had its internal dissension. Many Iowans had a southern background and accepted slavery and a state's right to secede. The Peace (Copperheads as they were often called) Democrats as differentiated from the War Democrats who supported the war effort, and the Knights of the Golden Circle worked against the state and national administrations' program. The Knights opposed the draft, encouraged desertion, discouraged volunteering. Organized in every township in the state, they were said to number 42,000 in all. Refugee Confederate soldiers and paid agents fomented the disaffection. The so-called Mahoney wing of the Democratic Party was in outspoken opposition. With so many Union supporters at the front, this boring from within became an increasing danger.

In South English, Peace Democrats paraded through the town challenging townspeople gathered in a Republican convention. A shot was fired which led to others. Tally, their leader, was killed. Rumors flashed that several thousand armed men were readying an attack on the town.

Governor Kirkwood ordered eleven companies of Home Guard to the scene and hurried there himself. Faced with armed resistance, the Tally enthusiasts lost their thirst for revenge and disbanded.

While history records no Civil War battle on Iowa soil, invasion from slave-owning Missouri was a constant threat, as were the warlike Sioux to the northwest. Log stockades to protect the women and children were built from Chain of Lakes in Emmet County to Sioux City. The legislature authorized the formation of the Border Brigade which brought further security to the scattered settlers.

News of the Union defeat at Bull Run brought rejoicing to Missouri secessionists, and new fear of an invasion to Iowa's southern border counties. Citizens slept with guns at hand and Governor Kirkwood authorized the organizing of militia in southeastern Iowa.

When word came on Sunday, Aug. 4, 1861, that a Confederate band, the number varying from 500 to 1,500, was approaching Athens, Missouri, across the Des Moines River from Croton, Capt. David Moore with Belknap's Rifles and Capt. Sample's cavalry (on foot) set out from Keokuk to meet the enemy. Detachments from the Fifth and Sixth Infantry in camp at Burlington, as many as could be armed, arrived too late. The battle was over and the enemy in retreat. As the rebels were mounted, a forced march into Missouri was unable to overtake them. Two landmarks of that day still stand—the Benning House on the Missouri side of the river, its wall punctured by a cannon ball, and the Sprouse House on the Iowa side where the wounded were cared for.

In southwestern Iowa, the first companies to reach the rendezvous of the Fourth Iowa Regiment were hurried from Council Bluffs under Colonel Dodge to repel a threatened Confederate invasion in that area.

The final raid into Iowa was by Missouri guerillas in 1864. A dozen young men rode boldly into Davis County, robbing, murdering and looting. Bloomfield's county fair was in progress and a posse quickly formed. Under Col. James Weaver they rode out only to find the raiders had fled across the border.

The Underground Railroad

Iowa had many stations on the underground railroad, an organization of men and women, many of them Quakers, who actively assisted runaway slaves to reach Canada and freedom.

Many of these stations still stand. In barns, houses, cellars, devoted men and women found a few hours of security and rest for the fleeing Negroes. One of the best known is Salem in Henry County. Its settlers were predominantly Quakers who at risk of life and property befriended the black men. Armed Missourians with baying bloodhounds often rode close on the escaping slaves. Irate slave owners threatened to shoot or hang those helping the Negroes, and to burn their buildings.

Ruel Daggs, a fire-eating Missouri planter, lost many slaves by the Salem route and was particularly violent in his threats. Once he had a cannon planted in front of the Lewelling Stone House where he claimed his slaves were hidden. Another time he roared into town with a small army proposing to destroy the village. The unperturbed Quakers refused to be scared. Later Daggs brought suit against Elihu Frazer and eighteen others for $10,000 for the part they played in the loss of his "chattels." He valued his men slaves at $2,000 each; women at $1,000 each and children at $500 each. The number lost totaled $9,000, so he added $1,000 to pay for help hired to replace the missing slaves. He had, he set forth, "casually lost possession" of his slaves and traced them to Salem where the defendants helped them to escape. He won a jury verdict on Sept. 19, 1850, but the records do not show its nature.

John Brown, the noted abolitionist, had many friends in the underground and was often in Iowa. After his Kansas battles, he fled to the Quakers in this state. While these men of peace did not condone Brown's shedding of blood, they agreed with his anti-slavery stand.

In Tabor, West Liberty and Springdale, the old warrior was a frequent visitor. To Grinnell, Des Moines and other towns he came less frequently. Tabor, nearest underground station to the south, was settled by Ohio abolitionists, and in the late fifties its square was often crowded with covered wagons loaded with immigrants bound for Kansas. Many of these men and women were abolitionists, and around the campfires discussions of slavery raged far into the night.

In Tabor, John Brown drilled his followers for the fighting ahead and stored arms and ammunition. To Tabor came the sick and wounded from his Kansas battles. The dauntless old man himself sought the peace and quiet of Iowa firesides to rest and brood and talk with his friends.

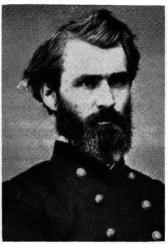

The stately old stone Lewelling House still stands in Salem and is open to the public. In its kitchen, furnished as in Civil War days, the stone steps into the cellar which slaves followed to their hiding place, may be seen.

Iowa's Second War Governor

William Milo Stone was born in New York state and moved to Ohio at the age of six. His formal education consisted of two winters in a country school. He read law in James Matthews' law office in Coshocton, Ohio, with whom he practiced until he moved to Iowa and established himself at Knoxville. There he purchased the Knoxville Journal.

When Fort Sumter was fired on, Stone held the office of district judge. When word of the attack came, he raised a company in Knoxville of which he was elected captain. A few weeks later he received his majority. At Blue Mills he was wounded and at Shiloh taken prisoner.

After three months' captivity he was chosen one of three Federal officers paroled by the Confederates to arrange an exchange of prisoners. The mission was unsuccessful and Stone returned to Richmond and surrendered to the Confederate authorities. So pleased was Jefferson Davis with his conduct that he sent him back to make another try. This time the mission was accomplished, at least a general exchange followed.

His experiences gave Stone much publicity and on his return to Knoxville after his liberation, he was made colonel of the Twenty-second Iowa Infantry. During this service he was wounded at Vicksburg and again returned home. While recuperating he was nominated as governor on the Republican ticket to succeed Kirkwood, who declined to run for a third term, and resigning his commission, Stone made the campaign which elected him.

A slender, erect, handsome man, he possessed unlimited self-confidence and tremendous industry. His military service popularized him with the soldiers.

Iowa's Graybeards

By special authority of the War Department, the 37th Iowa Volunteer Infantry was made up of men beyond military age. Their average age was 57; more than one hundred were in their 60's; a number were 70; at least one man was past 80.

The Graybeards served as prison and provost guards, relieving younger men for active duty. For a time they guarded supply trains. Passing through guerilla territory, one train was attacked. Four men were wounded, of whom two died. When riding atop swaying trains proved too strenuous for their aging bodies, the men were returned to prison guard duty.

After Lee's surrender, the weary Graybeards asked to go home. In recommending their discharge General Willich pointed out they had given some 1,300 sons and grandsons to the Union Blues.

On May 24, 1865, the regiment was mustered out at Davenport. It was the only regiment of men beyond the army's age limit to serve in the Civil War. The regiment had a high reputation as prison guards, being more humane than was common in that day.

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL COMMISSION

Senator Joseph B. Flatt, Winterset, Chairman; Edith Wasson McElroy, Des Moines, Executive Secretary; Willard D. Archie, Shenandoah; Mrs. Glenn E. Greene, Des Moines; Miss Amy Noll, Des Moines; Ralph Evans, Davenport; Hon. Elmer F. Lange, Sac City; Clyde H. Doolittle, Des Moines; Senator Eugene M. Hill, Newton; Dr. William J. Petersen, Iowa City; Dr. William D. Houlette, Des Moines; Hon. A. L. Mensing, Lowden.

This special committee with members from the Iowa senate and house, members appointed by the governor and one from the State Department of History and Archives, was set up by the Fifty-eighth General Assembly.

The commission's program has been one of commemoration of the Civil War in cooperation with the National Civil War Centennial Commission and other state commissions. To further this objective, a committee has been formed in each county in the state. Through publicity, local, regional and statewide conferences, and a series of publications, the commission has brought Iowans an awareness of the state's part in the conflict. Three general publications were planned: a 16-page brochure, Iowa Will Long Remember the Civil War; a 104-page booklet, The Undying Procession, and a text on the sixties for use in the schools. Particular effort is being made to preserve Civil War mementos and manuscripts and to seek out hitherto undiscovered materials.

The commission will continue until adjournment of the Sixty-first General Assembly in 1965.
